Noted Flier Puts Out Blaze Quickly—His Wife In Cockpit of Ship, Is Not Ex- cited—Not Much Damage.

Baltimore, Dec. 19.—(AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's plane caught fire at Logan Field today as he was about to leave for New York with Mrs. Lindbergh, but he extinguished the flames unaided.

Mrs. Lindbergh, the former Anne Morrow, was in the cockpit as oil or gasoline on an exhaust pipe caught fire, apparently from back fire. Colonel Lindbergh seized a hand fire extinguisher and put out the flames almost immediately.

Was In Cockpit

Mrs. Lindbergh did not leave the cockpit, as she was reassured the danger was past almost as soon as it appeared.

The plane was taken in charge of mechanics for an examination and it was said it would be ready for the flight later today.

Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh were overnight guests at the home of Dr. William H. Wilmer, eye specialist at Johns Hopkins hospital. They flew here from Washington, and visited the clinic named for Dr. Wilmer and Goucher College.

FIVE MEN KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Auto Crashes Into Abutment and Turns Over Several Times—Sixth Man Hurt.

Lewisburg, Pa., Dec. 19.—(AP)—Five young men were killed and a sixth injured early today when their automobile crashed into a ten-foot abutment of a Reading railroad under-bridge on the Susquehanna trail, near here.

The dead were:
Wheeler Watson, son of Federal Judge Albert L. Watson, of Scranton; Wilbur Gair and his brother, Hiram, of Watertown; William Rohn, a salesman, of Canton, Ohio, and Robert Wilson, of Watertown.

The sixth man, Paul Aunkst, Watertown, suffered possible internal injuries. His condition was reported not serious.

The accident occurred when Watson's large touring car was crowded off the road by another automobile traveling in the same direction. After striking the abutment the car careened across the road, struck the other side of the tunnel and turned over several times.

DANVILLE IS QUIET

Danville, Va., Dec. 19.—(AP)—The textile strike area around the Riverside and Dan river cotton mills was quiet today with the usual routine followed—union pickets on duty as non-union workers entered the mills and police and National Guardsmen patrolling.

MYSTERY MURDER

Spokane, Wash., Dec. 19.—(AP)—A mystery confronted police today in the slaying of Henry G. Anderson, 53, a pharmacist, by two young men who escaped.

PANTLESS COP NABS BURGLAR

Mislaus Trousers So Has to Go Outside Home in Pajamas to Arrest Thief.

Rochester, N. Y., Dec. 19.—(AP)—The desk sergeant at the Joseph avenue station languidly lifted the receiver.

"This is Officer Chudzinski," came a voice. "Can you send someone right over. There's a burglar trying to get in my house and I seem to have mislaid my pants."

When the rescue squad arrived they found Chudzinski in pajamas, seated in the kitchen with a handcuffed prisoner.

"Pants or no pants," said Chudzinski, "I thought I'd better grab this bird. He wasn't having much luck getting in and I was afraid he'd give up and beat it."

The novice burglar captured after a short chase said it was his first try and gave his name as Charles Pilato, 23. He was charged with vagrancy.

NEGRO CONFESSES HE KILLED WOMAN

Ex-Convict Tells How He Beat Teacher To Death With Club; Fear Lynching.

Maryville, Mo., Dec. 19.—(AP)—Declared by county authorities to having confessed slaying 19 year old Velma Colter, rural school teacher, Raymond Gunn, 30, negro ex-convict was held at St. Joseph, Mo., today.

The negro was arrested yesterday while hunting. After hours of questioning the suspect, County Attorney Paul R. Jones announced Gunn had confessed.

Killed With Club

The prosecutor said Gunn related how he had met the young teacher at the door of her school room and followed her inside, where she fled screaming. She fought viciously as he attempted to force her into a room.

Gunn then rushed at her with a club and beat her about the head, the prosecutor said. Teeth marks were found on her neck.

THINK 9 DROWNED AS LAUNCH UPSETS

Brothers Try To Rescue Party But Fail—Five Women Among the Victims.

San Francisco, Dec. 19.—(AP)—Caught in a strong outgoing tide, at least six persons, and possibly nine, were believed to have drowned today when a launch capsized in Tomales bay, 30 miles north of here yesterday.

Orburn Gray and Grant Gray, brothers, who waged a hard fight to rescue the party, said the launch apparently had become disabled and its occupants frightened as the craft drifted toward the open sea.

The Grays went to the rescue in a small boat with an outboard motor. They got a line to the launch but said one of the women on the larger craft, instead of making it fast, jumped overboard. They hauled her in with the line.

Boat Capsizes

A second woman then was hauled toward the little boat but it capsized as she attempted to climb aboard. At the same time a huge wave struck the launch and overturned it.

The Grays said they had counted five women and one man struggling in the water after both boats upset. The rescue workers said they saw two women go down and saw the capsized launch drifting to sea with three women clinging to it. None was identified.

Relatively reported nine members of two families missing from the little fishing village of Marshall, not far from where the boats capsized.

When Court Freed Lindsey

With a reprimand that "as a well-cultured man" he "ought to have known better," former Judge Ben B. Lindsey was freed in West Side Court, New York, of a charge of interrupting a sermon by Bishop William T. Manning in the Cathedral of St. John the Divine. Shown above in the foreground during the court hearing are, left to right: Charles D. Tuttle, attorney for Bishop Manning; Assistant District Attorney McDermott; Lindsey; and Arthur Garfield Hays, attorney for Lindsey. Ambiguity in the complaint caused the dismissal of the case.

"RIDICULE AMERICANS, THEY LIKE IT", SHAW

"I Have Called Them 90 Per Cent Idiots and They Sim- ply Adore Me," Declares Noted Writer In Interview.

New York, Dec. 19.—(AP)—The New York Times today prints the following from London:

A New York Times correspondent asked George Bernard Shaw for his opinion of Sinclair Lewis' address at Stockholm, in which the Nobel prize winner attacked present literary standards in America. This is Mr. Shaw's reply as delivered in his own handwriting.

"I am an unqualified judge, Mr. Sinclair Lewis has said just the right thing in the right way to the Swedish Academy, and at his own countrymen. They will not resent it. They expect to be flattered; but far from being grateful to their flatterers, they accept the tribute as a matter of course, just as they accept the cleaning of their boots at a hotel.

Four Roadways

The bridge as planned will be of concrete and steel with a four lane roadway of granite block construction and two sidewalks each six feet wide. The main span will be 854 feet long between abutments. On the Hartford side an approach 1500 feet long will be necessary, while the East Hartford side will require an approach 7500 feet long, terminating in a sweeping "Y."

WORKING TO SEND CAPONE TO CHAIR

Chicago Judge Says Gang Leader Deserves To Die; Is Seeking Evidence.

Chicago, Dec. 19.—(AP)—Judge John H. Lyle today was quoted as saying efforts would be made to send Alphonse Capone, gang chief, to the electric chair in connection with the slaying of two men.

"If it is possible to do so," said Judge Lyle, who issued a vagrancy warrant for Capone several months or more ago. "He deserves to die. He has no right to live."

Speaking before the Chicago Safety Council the judge mentioned Capone's name in connection with the killing in 1920 of "Big Jim" Colosimo, reputed "vice-lord," and also in connection with the death of another man whose name he did not reveal. The Herald and Examiner, however, said the state's attorney's office was scrutinizing the files of the case of Joseph Howard, slain May 8, 1924, with the idea of making it the basis of a murder charge.

The Herald and Examiner added that assistant state's attorney Harry Ditchburn reported he would act, if the investigation appears to justify such action.

Howard whom the newspaper described as a member of the gang organization of Johnny Torrio, was killed in a saloon.

Capone was questioned, the Herald and Examiner said, by Assistant State Attorney McSwiggan who was assassinated two years later.

Direct Statement

Hindu Leader Wants Britain To Tell Why It Refuses a Dominion Status.

INDIANS DEMAND DIRECT STATEMENT

Hindu Leader Wants Britain To Tell Why It Refuses a Dominion Status.

London, Dec. 19.—(AP)—An extremely important development in connection with the Indian round table conference occurred today when Dr. S. J. Moonje, leader of the powerful orthodox Hindus, went to Prime Minister MacDonald with an appeal for a government declaration granting India's demands for dominion status.

The round table committee negotiations, he indicated, are degenerating into a vicious circle of demands and counter-demands over the Hindu-Muslim problem. Observers believe the conference is moving toward a crisis over this issue.

The conference with Dr. Moonje was one of a series MacDonald has had with the leading Indian delegates to get their points of view on the critical minorities problem which is causing the round table more concern than any other issue "it has tackled to date."

MURPHY DRUG STORE FRONT IS ALTERED

Modern Design Incorporated in Alterations—Gives Fine Up To Date Appearance.

Edward J. Murphy, owner of the drug store on Depot Square is today receiving many compliments on the completion of the alterations in his store which entailed an entire new front of advanced modern pattern, which completely changes the exterior and interior lines of the store.

The change was effected by building outward to the building line, squaring out the corner at the North Main street side and building back into the store for window depth, thus giving the store three large display windows which are effectively lighted at night by a new type of battery lighting.

The store front is of antique tapestry brick foundation with copper casements and trim, the cornice of wood painted to match and the window casements are fitted with a new type of ventilator sash which permits a constant changing circulation of fresh air into the windows as well as preventing the accumulation of frost.

The present change completes a modernizing plan of the owner which has carried over a period of three years during which time the interior of the store has been completely modernized thus giving the north end a drug store modern in equipment, appearance and service.

This particular store is the oldest drug store in Manchester in continuous operation having opened for business soon after the close of the Civil War and has been located at its present address for forty-one years. Due to the difficulty of displaying merchandise during the alterations and the accumulation of holiday merchandise the owner has decided to conduct a Christmas stock reducing sale the details of which are outlined in the Herald of today and also in tomorrow's edition.

400 MECHANICS STRIKE

Paterson, N. J., Dec. 19.—(AP.)—Four hundred mechanics engaged in the manufacture of aircraft motors failed to appear today at their benches in the plant of the Wright Aeronautical Company. The International Machinists' Union said the walkout, which came at a time when government orders would keep the men busy for two years, was in protest against the bonus and group incentive systems. E. M. Gordon, treasurer of the company, said he "knew no legitimate reason for the strike." The strikers also object to a 10 percent wage cut effective Nov. 1. The United States labor department failed in a conciliatory effort.

HEARSE IN CRASH

Bridgeport, Dec. 19.—(AP.)—An automobile crash here this morning injured three men, wrecked an automobile and a new funeral hearse and delayed the funeral of Mrs. Jennie Mandell Dubord nearly an hour. Taken to a hospital it was found Del Genodice was the only one seriously injured, suffering from a broken rib, a possible fractured skull and a strained back. The hearse was unoccupied at the time of the accident.

INDIAN LANDS ACT IS UNCONSTITUTIONAL

Shelby, N. C., Dec. 19.—(AP.)—Federal Judge E. Yates Webb today ruled unconstitutional the Congressional Act of 1924 exempting Indian lands from taxation.

Judge Webb's ruling was made in dissolving a restraining order secured by the United States government to prevent Swain county, North Carolina, from taxing 32,000 acres of such lands.

The ruling would only affect lands owned by Indians in the 13 original states of the Union and then only such lands as the states had never ceded to the United States government.

He based his opinion upon the earliest history of America and the right of the white man to hold lands "because of discovery and conquest."

Judge Webb said the lands first came into the possession of England by the powers given John Cabot for entering and possessing. The same charter powers, he said, were later given Sir Humphrey Gilbert and Sir Walter Raleigh.

In the Colonies' treaty with Great Britain after the Revolutionary war, he pointed out, the lands were relinquished to the territorial rights of the United States, the rights of the soil passing definitely to the states.

The articles of confederation of 1777, he said, were careful not to give Congress the power of infringing upon anything within the limits of the states. North Carolina ceded the rights to the territory for the creation of Tennessee, he added, but never ceded any rights to the lands occupied by the Indians.

HERO OF WORLD WAR IS GIVEN HIS PAROLE

Montgomery, Ala., Dec. 19.—(AP.)—Sam Keith, convicted slayer, who escaped prison to join the Army, fought overseas in the World War and returned as a captain, is going home to Carrabelle, Florida, with a parole in his pocket.

He was convicted of the slaying in Alabama in 1912 and drew a sentence of 25 years imprisonment. He escaped in 1917, and enlisted in the Army as a private. Distinguished service at the front brought him promotion from the ranks to a captaincy.

After the war he went to Carrabelle, went into business and married. Fellow townsmen held him in high regard.

In the summer of 1928 he was recognized as an escaped convict and was returned to the Alabama prison.

Governor Bibb Graves issued the parole today.

Keith always maintained he was innocent in the slaying. He claimed the man was shot by his own pistol which had dropped on the floor.

SCREEN STAR STRICKEN WITH APPENDICITIS

Honolulu, Dec. 19.—(AP.)—Janet Gaynor, motion picture star, entered the surgery room of the Queen's hospital here at 7:30 a. m. today (1 p. m. E. S. T.) to undergo an operation for appendicitis. She had not emerged from the room forty minutes later but the head nurse said the operation was successful.

The actress' physician said last night he expected no complications and believed his patient would be able to leave the hospital in about ten days.

Miss Gaynor became ill Tuesday. Her mother accompanied her to the hospital last night.

Lydel Peck, husband of Miss Gaynor, has booked passage on the President Pierce, leaving San Francisco for Honolulu tomorrow.

GETS SIX MONTHS

Stamford, Dec. 19.—(AP.)—Eugene Bailey, 34, negro, of 10 East 110th street, New York, was sent to jail for six months by Judge Abraham Wolfsey in Stamford City Court this morning, when Bailey entered a plea of guilty to charges of evading responsibility.

The sentence was relished by Bailey, who was in dread fear of being returned to New York where, he claimed, he will be imprisoned for life under the Baumes Law if convicted of theft of an automobile. The charge of evading responsibility was to be dropped against him if he returned to New York voluntarily, but he refused to waive extradition when a New York detective came here for him.

He was arrested when he fled after slight accident which could have been settled amicably if he had stopped instead of driving away.

A warrant for his return to New York at the expiration of his sentence will be lodged against him at the county jail.

HEAVY SNOW IN SOUTH

Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 19.—(AP.)—The south's heaviest snow of the season which reached a depth of 30 inches in North Carolina was being erased today by the combined efforts of public agencies, householders and a feeble sun.

Two deaths were traced indirectly to the cold flurry. A heart attack was fatal to George Wilson in Durham, N. C., as he struggled in the snow to get a group of children to school. An automobile skidded on a white blanketed highway near Cheriton, Va., and killed Mrs. Mary Anne Birch.

Snow laden roofs of six buildings in North Carolina collapsed, but there were no casualties. Heavy snow falls caused the closing of schools in Patrick county, Virginia, and in Rutherfordton and Forest City, N. C. The unemployed in Roanoke, Va., manned snow shovels. The icy film penetrated as far south as Macon, Ga.

STATE DEPT. STUDIES REVOLT IN GUATEMALA

Washington, Dec. 19.—(AP.)—For the fourth time within a few months the State Department was confronted today with the prospect of recognizing a Latin-American regime set up by force of arms. Officials were studying today whether the new Guatemalan government could be considered the ruling faction in that country.

Following the overthrow of the administrations in Bolivia, Peru, Argentina and Brazil, the Guatemalan coup de'at added another lively chapter to the hectic history of Latin-American politics for 1930.

Besides these successful movements, the State Department has had to give close attention to the political unrest in Cuba, an abortive revolt in Chile and student demonstrations in Ecuador.

Officials expressed belief the Central American powers in considering the new Guatemalan regime would adhere to terms of their treaty of 1923. The United States was not a party to it, but as to recognition of Central American administrations set up by revolts, has usually adhered to its spirit.

DAROLS BY CHORUS OF 80 AND NEW SYMPHONIC WORK BY KREINS IN "TRAVELERS HOUR"

The Yuletide spirit will pervade "The Travelers Hour" from Station WTIC at 10:05 o'clock tonight, when a chorus of 80 mixed voices will assist a concert orchestra in the presentation of a program consisting of music appropriate to the season. Christian Kreins, musical director of the Connecticut station will conduct both the chorus and the instrumental groups, which together will number 125 performers. The Travelers Choral Club will offer a number of Christmas carols, featuring several that have existed in the folk music of European nations for hundreds of years and hitherto have never been broadcast. The carols will be prefaced by remarks by William B. Bailey, former member of the Yale University faculty who is now economist of The Travelers Companies in Hartford.

The piece of resistance of the orchestral portion of the program will be the premiere of a new symphonic fantasy by Christian Kreins. It is a musicalized version of the beloved Christmas poem, "The Night Before Christmas." Although a New York music publishing house has contracted for its publication, tonight's performance will be its first presentation.

N. B. C. May Add Germany and Japan To Its Broadcast Christmas Day.

New York, Dec. 19.—(AP)—Radio is concentrating on plans for Christmas.
Among other things it was announced today that arrangement has been made by N. B. C. to bring Christmas Day features from three countries—England, Germany and Japan. Details have not been completed but the programs are to include Yuletide entertainment of a type familiar to the originating countries.
Otherwise two Christmas features have been added to the list. One is to be a Christmas Eve party lasting two hours on the WEAf stations starting at 11 p. m. It will include John B. Kennedy as master of ceremonies and Nathan Shilkert as musical supervisor.
The WEAf chain is to broadcast a talk by Arthur Hyde, secretary of agriculture at 2 p. m. Dec. 24.
A program something like the radio entertainment of years past, when there were no set rules to follow, is to open on WBAC and 67 stations the night of Jan. 5. It will headline Russell Pratt, Ransom Sherman and Joe Rudolph, stars of

BORAH FAVORS LOAN TO RED GOVERNMENT

New York, Dec. 19.—(AP)—A government loan to Soviet Russia or an export guarantee to American business men in order to develop Russian trade in this country, is favored by Senator William E. Borah, chairman of the foreign relations committee.
In a letter to Miles M. Sherover, New York exporter, Senator Borah says such measures would help to finance Soviet purchases here and serve to hold Soviet trade.

"I think the greatest undeveloped market in the world awaits us if we are bold enough to seize it," Senator Borah writes. "If we do not do something of this kind, we will continue to be in trouble in this country."
"But, of course, I have very little hope of its being entertained where it ought to be entertained. We will be lucky if they do not destroy what trade we have with Russia."

THE CLARK RULING

It is generally regarded as improbable that the ruling of Federal Judge Clark of New Jersey that the Eighteenth amendment had never been constitutionally ratified will be sustained by the United States Supreme Court, where a decision is to be sought with all possible celerity. Even those leaders of the wet forces who are most bitterly opposed to the amendment and who are anxious for its repeal are only in a very few cases in the least enthusiastic over the chances of Judge Clark's opinion receiving confirmation.

As able an opponent of prohibition as the New York World takes the following view of the situation: There are two ways of ratifying a constitutional amendment, by the action of the Legislatures of three-fourths of the states or by the action of constitutional conventions in three-fourths of the states. Congress has the power to decide which of the two modes is to be employed in the case of any particular amendment. In the case of the Eighteenth it specified that the amendment should be inoperative until it had been ratified by the legislatures of the several states. It was ratified by three-fourths of the legislatures. Therefore it is hopeless to attack its legality on that ground.

This argument is logical. But we doubt whether it exhausts all the possibilities in the case. Congress might have adopted a resolution submitting to the legislatures of the states an amendment to the federal constitution commanding that within the territorial limits of the United States there shall hereafter be twenty hours of daylight and four hours of darkness in every day. And the legislatures of three-fourths of the states might have ratified that amendment. Could the legality of the amendment then be called in question on the ground that it had never been properly passed on by the people? Yet it is highly probable that if the Daylight amendment were attacked on the ground that it never had been approved by the people and never could have been approved by the people, the Supreme Court would very seriously consider an alleged unfitness of the legislatures to speak for the populations of the states and it is entirely within the bounds of reason to imagine that the court would rule that the amendment was of no effect. In some way it would be absolutely necessary to get rid of such an amendment and the claim that the legislatures could not possibly have represented the people when they ratified it would seem to be as good as another for the purpose of invalidating it.

Experience has proven that the Eighteenth Amendment is as impossible of enforcement as an amendment altering the hours of daylight and darkness. It is predicated on an impossibility. It is one of the oldest of legal axioms that the law, to be good law, cannot demand the impossible.

Furthermore it is competent to question whether the people in any state are not more qualified to judge of what is possible or impossible in the ordering of human conduct than for their legislature to determine that question. If the Eighteenth amendment constituted a problem which the people as a whole were alone qualified to solve, then there arises a question whether Congress had any right to specify that legislatures rather than constitutional conventions should pass upon the question of ratification; whether the very nature of the proposed amendment did not require its being passed on by the people through conventions.

Judge Clark's opinion, it seems to us, is at least as lucid and logical as its reasoning and the opinions of that opinion so frequently expressed which grant it but slight chance of survival in the Supreme Court. There have been occasions when the Supreme Court of the United States departed from purely legalistic lines of reasoning and made highly important decisions along the lines of sheer intelligence. Who knows but that it might do something of that kind in the present instance?

VERY FINE BRIDGE
 Five million dollars is a great deal of money. Whether the expenditure of such a sum is necessary in order to get through traffic across the Connecticut river at Hartford with reasonable celerity and safety is a question that calls for the closest examination.

To what extent the proposed new bridge at Silver Lane is a state necessity and to what extent it is a convenience for the benefit of the city of Hartford is a matter which is not, in all probability, exactly ascertainable. But that it is at least as important to Hartford as to the state there can be little question. And unless that municipality bears a proper share in the cost of the enterprise there are likely to be, throughout the state, mutterings that may conceivably grow into a storm.

That a bridge at the point under contemplation is a very real need is not to be disputed. That a five million dollar bridge is needed there may or not be susceptible of proof. It is impossible to avoid the thought that if the bridge in question were to be built as part of a business plant by a private corporation, say one like the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad or the Connecticut Company, even though it were required to carry the same traffic elements that must now be provided for, no such sum would be spent on it as five million dollars. In such case it would be likely to be constructed with an eye to economy and utility and perhaps half the sum now being considered would be found ample.

The result of the November election, viewed geographically, ought to suggest to leaders of legislation in Connecticut that there is, in the southern part of the state, a decided tendency to revolt against the tendencies of recent years. Unless it is the deliberate choice of those leaders to foster that spirit of antagonism in other parts of the state it might be very wise to go slowly and carefully in making the city of Hartford appear to be a petted favorite of the politicians at the expense of her Cinderella sisters. Also it is liable to occur to the many dirt road advocates in the incoming General Assembly that the price of this Hartford bridge, as now apparently established, is just about half of that of their entire program for the construction of many thousand miles of usable roads in the rural sections.

We cannot get away from the apprehension that there is trouble ahead in the proposition to build a five million dollar bridge at Hartford almost entirely or even largely at state expense.

McKELLAR
 Senator McKellar of Tennessee is misplaced. He should be an alderman from a tough ward in a tough town. That is about his gait. From a tough alderman from a tough ward in a tough town it is expected that he will accuse every respectable member of the municipal government of being a thief and a grafter and a crook. That's the way that pothouse politicians in such neighborhoods make their reputations and retain the votes of their constituents. Nobody expects from them anything like decency or truthfulness. The more reckless and the more vindictive their assaults on the characters of responsible and respectable officials the louder the cheers down the back alleys and in the speakeasies.

McKellar's dirty insinuations that President Hoover never properly accounted for the $100,000,000 European food relief fund of 1919 would do high credit to the dirtiest, most dishonorable and contemptible of political heels to be found in the slums. But it is the kind of thing that might have been looked for from a member of Congress who proposed to relieve the industrial distress by handing over $80,000 of government funds to every one of Tennessee's ninety-five counties, most of which are populated by a handful of hillbillies.

WAR AND DEPRESSION
 When Mr. Hoover the other day scolded Congress for "playing politics with human misery" and announced that his relief program was as far as it was possible for the government to go without raising taxes and thereby making a bad matter worse, this newspaper went so far as to suggest that Congressmen or others had a right to believe that the relief of unemployment was perhaps a matter of greater importance than the size of the income tax rate. We did not realize how feeble was our protest until we read an editorial article in the Outlook—and now we frankly wish we had spoken in louder tones and used words of greater emphasis.

The gist of the Outlook's article is that both the administration and Congress are paltering with the problem of depression in a way that they would never think of paltering with the problem of war, while the problem of depression calls for just as much energy and just as broad a viewpoint and just as much lavishness as the problem of war. That instead of fiddle-faddling with sums like $150,000,000 to be expended on works already authorized by Congress or to be spent by the Farm Board—perhaps in maintaining cotton or wheat prices—Congress should appropriate a billion dollars and turn it over to an unemployment board comparable to the War Industries Board, composed of men of like stature, brains and power. "Taxes or prosperity have nothing to do with it. Emergency deficits can be funded so that they are paid off in times of prosperity ahead." And so forth.

That's the idea! Fear of taxes didn't prevent our going into a war in which we spent twenty-six billion dollars. Yet fear of taxes to result from the expenditure of more than a quarter of a billion dollars, much of it routine, is paralyzing the government when more actual human suffering threatens than that war could ever have brought to us.

IN NEW YORK

New York, Dec. 19.—Our own Who's Who and What's What and What Isn't: For several weeks, New York has been entertaining a young man by the name of Richard Cromwell, aged 20. That wasn't always his name. Not so many months ago he was Richard Radabaugh and over night he found himself a cinema idol and a high-priced star, for he had stepped into the role of "Tollable David," first played by Richard Barthelmess in the days of the silent screen.

The tale went that Barthelmess, having done so fine a job in the silent version, hesitated to attempt a duplication lest it fell short. The tale also went round that upon the night the lad found himself in the big leagues, Cromwell was called upon to make a radio broadcast. His mother had been working. And elated by his success, so the story goes, young Cromwell walked to the "mike" and, knowing his mother would be listening in, began: "Mother, I want you to know you can tell that job to go to hell." But radio stations object to the word "hell," and all similar outbursts, and deleted it.

Be all this as it may, Cromwell's chance as a film star grew from the accident of his being related to Howard Chandler Christy, the famous artist. As such, he studied art and centered his attention on the film colony. One of the new movie theaters accepted a mural. Then he began to make masks of certain stars. This brought him into intimate contact with the Hollywood colony, but it caused no aspirations to become an actor. However, the boy had been an avid reader of Joseph Hergesheimer's writings. One of his favorites was Hergesheimer's "Tollable David." He had read it again and again. And when the word went around that the casting office was looking about for someone to play the "talking" role, he felt himself well equipped for understanding the character. But there was plenty of competition. The casting director had been flooded with prospects, and calls had been sent out for many others. John Blystone, the director, gave him the chance. And that was that.

Now the scene flashes back to New York. The film was scheduled to open at the Mayfair, newest of the RKO theaters. The domos decided that since Cromwell was quite unknown it would be well to ship him to the big city for a personal appearance. So it opened with the usual lights and fanfare, and the next morning the critics were divided in their reactions. Generally speaking, the press reception had been good.

Orders went out that the lad had to be "built." He was sent to Kansas City for the next important opening and, in preparation for this event, the best haberdashers in the city were put to work on him. He was one of those lads who had gone about without a hat. Now he found himself with a dozen changes of headgear.

Meanwhile a handsome suite in New York had been engaged for him. Arrangements for photographs and interviews had been made. When he got back, the youth of 20 was a bit dazed by all the goings on. And one of his first requests was to be allowed to see Brooklyn Bridge and a pent house. He got around to that later. But first he was pictured selling apples on street corners and handing out wearing apparel to the unemployed. Then he had to blow the whistle for the opening of a hockey game at the Garden.

And now that it's all over, he'll tell you that one of the very uncomfortable moments was getting into evening dress with a starched collar, for he had never before been able to afford one. Probably he is still dazed as to what it is all about—but they have to learn sooner or later when fame begins to haunt their footsteps.

GILBERT SWAN.
 "The wets," says a paragrapher, "are bent on making prohibition an ex-act science." Judging from some of the stuff around lately, it would be nearer correct to say "extract science."

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK MCOY

EATING FOR YOUR HEALTH'S SAKE

Most housewives consider three viewpoints in selecting food for the family. First of all they usually consider the necessity for choosing food which the different members of the family will like, buying and preparing those foods which have an agreeable taste. I can see no objection to this unless one makes the mistake of making this selection such an important factor that many unwholesome foods are constantly used because of their agreeable flavor.

The housewife always desires to give the family a large enough quantity of food to fill them up so that they will feel comfortably stuffed and even sleepy and lazy after a meal. Many cooks consider that this is very important and many cooks become proud of the fact that everyone eating at their table remarks about the food being so good that they have eaten until ready to burst. I am sure that anyone who has been well stuffed has definitely injured his health and digestion every time he does so.

The average housewife also selects food with an eye to getting it at as low a price as possible. To summarize these points the housewife picks out reasonably priced food which will fill up well and taste good at the same time.

A New Viewpoint I believe it is well for those of my readers who are seriously studying their food problems to add or substitute some of the following points in selecting their food.

First of all, food should be chosen because it is of the right quality to build bone, blood, nerve and other tissues. To do this, one must study food chemistry and understand the relative value in the body of proteins, organic salts and vitamins, starches, sugars, etc. One must understand that proteins and the organic salts found in the leafy green vegetables are the most important foods which can be used in the body in building cell structure. They must understand that the carbohydrates are of the least importance, and that their use should always be reduced to the very minimum necessity.

In considering the problem of amount of food to be used it is well to know that most dietitians are agreed that everyone eats too much of all foods. It has been variously estimated that we need only a third to a half of the amount of food most people are accustomed to using. Each one must study his own requirements very carefully in this regard.

Foods should always be selected which combine harmoniously together and bad mixtures should be avoided.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Question: P. A. asks: "Can you give me a diet and treatment for children suffering from prairie itch? I have tried Lysol baths and soda baths and various other remedies, but it doesn't seem to yield to treatment. The itching is worse at night. A rash all over the body and a slight rash on the head."

Answer: Prairie itch is a name for various itching eruptions frequently seen among farmers and lumbermen. It is probably due to an effort of the skin to eliminate toxic substances as a result of wrong food combinations, and the itching is made more severe by the presence of dust or coarse underclothing. The reason you have not had success with the Lysol baths, etc., is because you have not corrected the internal condition responsible for the trouble. You must be especially careful to avoid the use of any acid fruit with starch, such as strawberry jam bread or potatoes, oranges and oatmeal, etc. If the children are placed on an exclusive acid fruit diet for a few days, using nothing but oranges or apples, and using a large enema at night followed by a diet such as is outlined in my newspaper articles, I feel sure they will be benefited. You should also see that they have a cold shower or sponge bath morning and evening. After drying the skin, a little olive oil may be rubbed in.

(One Side Larger than Other)

Question: P. J. K. writes: "One side of my body seems larger than the other. What would cause this, and what can I do about it?"

Answer: Exact measurements will usually show that one side of the body is larger than the other. This may be caused by some nerve affection. There is another theory believed in by some that sleeping on one side makes the body larger on the side nearest the bed. In any case, the cure would be through taking well balanced exercises and doing everything to help the circulation.

ADMITS SHE LURED BUCKLEY TO DEATH

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 19.—(AP)—A burlesque actress who admitted, according to police, that her was the voice which called Gerald E. Buckley, to his death, is to tell the 22 man-Wayne county Grand Jury her story today if her condition permits.

The actress is Margaret Owen, 22, who has been in the psychopathic ward of the receiving hospital since Nov. 29 when she claimed she had been given poisoned whiskey to prevent her from testifying in another murder case. Police said yesterday she had been prompted by a man whose identity has not been revealed to call the radio announcer by telephone and invite him to a party to celebrate the recall of Mayor Chas. Bowles. She said Buckley was to meet her in the lobby of the La Salle Hotel.

As Buckley was sitting in the lobby early July 23, two hours after he had announced the recall of Mayor Bowles, three men entered and fired 11 shots into his body. Miss Owen, according to police, said the same man who had prompted her to call Buckley, 25 minutes before he was shot, insisted she should not keep the appointment and that she did not go to the hotel. Police have refused to say whether this man is in custody.

By RODNEY DUTCHER

Washington.—This is an attempt to analyze the results of the three wet-dry referenda held in the November election of Illinois, Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

The attempt has become possible with the recent compilation of complete figures by the secretary of state of Illinois. Scientific determination of the relative importance of various factors which cause a given election result is impossible—except for partisans. But those referenda, dealing only with the specific issue, presumably are more accurate barometers of popular sentiment than the majorities of wet or dry candidates which obviously were affected by other issues.

Illinois voted on three propositions. It cast 1,054,000 votes for repeal of the 18th amendment and 551,000 against; 968,000 for modification of the Volstead act and 506,000 against; 1,060,000 for repeal of the state enforcement act and 523,000 against.

On the basis of those figures alone it may be suggested that in Illinois there is a distinct wet-dry cleavage between those who favor repeal and those who want to keep both the federal amendment and the Volstead act intact. There may be 45,000 dries who would favor modification but not repeal, but repeal got 86,000 more votes than modification. On both ends the extremists appear to have been far more numerous than the middle-ground or modification group.

Many Ignored Referenda You can do whatever you like with the fact that the total Illinois vote was 2,532,000, or 725,000 fewer than the largest total vote on any of the wet-dry propositions. There is always a large group of voters which ignore referenda and vote only on candidates. There must also have been many in Illinois who voted on only one or two of the three wet-dry questions. Now, compare the 1930 Illinois referendum with those of 1922 and 1926. In 1922 the state voted 1,165,242 for light wines and beer to 512,111 against. In 1926 there was a vote of 840,000 in favor of permitting states to fix legal alcoholic content of beverages and 556,000 against.

Thus, in five votes, dry strength has ranged between 506,000 and 556,000 and wet strength between 1,054,000—assuming the 1930 repeal vote to be more indicative than the 1930 modification vote—and 1,165,000. But whereas the vote against 18th amendment repeal this year was virtually as large as the high dry vote of 1926, the largest wet vote in 1930 was 100,000 less than the wet vote of 1922. And the anti-light wines and beer vote of 1922 was not appreciably smaller than the anti-modification vote of 1930.

Shows Little Change Whatever these comparisons prove, if anything, they do not appear to indicate any tremendous growth of wet sentiment or any great weakening of dry sentiment. There seems more nourishment in the idea that wet voters were more willing to vote for wet candidates regardless of party lines, for wet Democratic Senator-elect Lewis defeated moist Republican Mrs. McCormick by something like 1,400,000 to 700,000 while the independent dry candidate had less than 200,000. Although Illinois had voted wet before, she had always been glad to elect dry Republicans.

Comparison is easier in the Massachusetts vote to repeal the "Baby Volstead" state enforcement act—642,000 to 367,000. In 1924 the Bay State voted for that act by 454,000 to 446,000, so a very important change of sentiment in the six-year period appears to have been signified. The dry vote fell off by 87,000 and the wet vote gained nearly 200,000.

Largest Vote in 1928 Massachusetts had voted 427,000 to 323,000 against putting the 18th amendment into effect there in 1922 and in 1928 cast her largest wet-dry vote—707,000 asking state senators to call on Congress to repeal the 18th amendment and 422,000 against, with 310,000 voters casting no ballot on the question.

Wet Democratic Senator-elect Marcus Coolidge beat the dry Republican Butler in Massachusetts this year by about 670,000 to 599,000. The total wet vote was almost as large as the Coolidge vote, but the Butler vote was far ahead of the dry vote, with the referendum vote somewhere around 200,000 less than the senatorial vote.

Rhode Island voted 172,000 to 49,000 against retention of the 18th amendment—about 7 to 2 wet, compared with 2 to 1 in Illinois and rather less than 2 to 1 in Massachusetts. It was Rhode Island's first referendum and both her senatorial candidates were wet.

MICHELSON'S BIRTH On Dec. 19, 1852, Albert Michelson, eminent American physicist, famed for determining the speed of light, was born in Strelna, Germany. Michelson came to this country as a youth and was educated in the public schools of San Francisco. He entered the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis and upon graduation became instructor of physics and chemistry there. He later taught at the Case School of Applied Science, Cleveland, O., Clark University, Worcester, Mass., and the University of Chicago.

It was while he was in Cleveland that he devised an apparatus for measuring distances by means of the length of light-waves. He later determined with great accuracy the speed at which light travels. During the World War, Michelson devoted his entire time to new devices for naval use. His range finder, for example, was adopted as part of the equipment of the U. S. Navy. In 1920 he achieved the distinction of being the first ever to give the approximate accurate size of a star when he demonstrated, by means of light interference that the diameter of Betelgeuse was 260,000,000 miles. Michelson was awarded the Nobel prize for physics in 1907.

COACH MOONAN HAS FINE RECORD

Started Playing With North End Team In 1914 — Is Loyal To That Section.

George Moonan, coach of the Majors, Manchester's 1930 football champions, is a native of Manchester and has been a great booster for football in his native town for the past 16 years. He started in the game with the old Majors of 1914 and was connected with that team until it broke up in 1918 because of the World War. Then in 1919 the Eagles were formed and George Moonan donned the old uniform and cleats. He was seen in action with this team until 1923. In 1924 the Cloverleaf team was organized, and Moonan was chosen as their coach. When the going was tough the coach jumped in to the game to inspire confidence in his teammates. While he was in there, the boys played heads-up football.

The Shamrocks
In 1925 Moonan gathered some of the old Majors team together and formed a road team called the Shamrocks. The Cloverleaves played at home Sundays and the Shamrocks went on the road, playing some of the best teams in the state. The Cloverleaves played until 1927 at which time they lost the championship to the South End.

The Majors' coach left town in 1927, making his home in Danielson, Conn., where an opportunity was presented to learn the woolen business. He worked there for a time and was offered a better position in Somersworth, N. H., which he accepted.

In 1928 he was offered a position as foreman in the woolen mills in Clinton, Mass., as a wool finisher. While in Clinton he formed the All-Clinton eleven. Meanwhile, in Manchester in 1928 the new Majors were being organized under the leadership of Jerry Fay. In 1929 the Majors still retained the old name and the team was coached by Jack Dwyer who had coached the Cubs to victory in 1927. Moonan's one ambition has been to bring back to the north end of Manchester the championship which has been in the south end for the past few years. 1930 saw his ambition fulfilled.

Traveled Many Miles
Moonan has traveled the 250 miles from Clinton, Mass., and back some times twice and three times each week for the past 15 weeks to be on the field for the Majors' practice periods.

After 16 years of football as player and coach George is ready to call it quits, and will pass the job along to some one else.

APPLES FOR JOBLESS

Hartford, Dec. 19.—(AP.)—Discussion of the apple situation with regard to the unemployed and reasons why the price per barrel to the vendors should be advanced fifty cents formed a topic for considerable discussion at the meeting this morning of the Connecticut Fomological Society meeting here today.

Louis W. Varni of Glastonbury who is acting as buying agent and handling the deliveries to the vendors said the expense of calling on growers, bringing the apples to Hartford, and then delivering them to the vendors costs the fifty cents difference which he collects from the unemployed.

Murder at Bridge

author of
"THE BLACK PIGEON"
"THE AVENGING PARROT"
"MURDER BACKSTAIRS"

BEGIN HERE TODAY
SPECIAL INVESTIGATOR DUNDEE, having dinner with PENNY CRAIN the Sunday after JUANITA SELIM is murdered at bridge, tells her the latest findings: Suspicion centers heaviest on RALPH HAMMOND, in love with Nita, who came to Nita's house the morning of the murder to estimate the cost of remodeling the attic and found in the attic bed-room traces of DEXTER SPRAGUE's occupancy there.
POLLY BEALE, calling for Nita, finds her gone, and seeing the state Ralph is in, telephones Nita and breaks the luncheon engagement and forces Ralph to have lunch with her and his brother CLIVE. Dundee suspects that Ralph shot Nita with a gun and Maxim silencer he stole that afternoon from JUDGE MARSHALL, Nita's landlord, to whom she paid no rent, and then ran away.

FLORA MILES, another suspect, who was in Nita's closet reading a note which she thinks is from her husband, couldn't have heard any whispers that passed between Ralph and Nita. Penny accuses Sprague of the murder, but the case is stronger against Ralph. LYDIA, the maid, who was horribly burned by Nita and to whom Nita left all her money, including a mysterious $10,000 which Dundee thinks is blackmail, is practically cleared of suspicion. The evidence against Ralph hasn't been made public yet, as the papers all carry CAPTAIN STEWART's theory that a New York gunman killed her. Penny goes to answer the telephone, and returns, horrified, and tells Dundee that Ralph has just called and he doesn't even know Nita is dead.

drawn face and sick eyes. But this boy...
Like his older brother, Clive, Ralph Hammond has dark-red, curling hair. But unlike his brother's, his eyes were a wide, candid hazel—the green iris thickly flecked with brown. A little shorter than Clive, a trifle more slender. But that which held the detective's eyes was something less tangible but at once more evident than superlative masculine good looks. It was a sort of shy joyousness and buoyancy, which flushed the tan of his cheeks, sang in his voice, made his eyes almost unbearably bright.

self. "Was it because she wasn't sure she was in love with you?" "You're making it awfully hard for me, honey," the boy protested, then admitted humbly. "Of course you want to know, and you should know. . . . No, she said all along, almost from the first, that she loved me more than I could love her, but that there were—reasons. . . . Two reasons, she always said, and once I asked her jealously if they were both men, but she looked so startled and then laughed so queerly that I didn't ask again. Then I thought it might be because I was younger than she was, though I can't believe she is more than 33 or so, and I'm 25, you know. And once I got cold-sick because I thought she might still be married, but she said her husband was married again, and I wasn't to ask questions or worry about him—" ressed a fist against his trembling mouth.

"You found that Dexter Sprague was staying there, was using the bedroom that used to be mine—didn't you?" Penny helped him at last, in desperation.

"How did you know?" The boy stared at the girl blankly for a moment.

Rudolph Regains World Billiards Championship

Noses Out Greenleaf In 125-120 Thriller

Brilliant Comeback Enables Chicago Player To Win Back Title He Took From Greenleaf In 1927 But Lost Past Two Years.

New York, Dec. 19.—(AP)—Once more the world's pocket billiards championship belongs to Erwin Rudolph, spectacular shot-maker from Chicago.

Rudolph staged a great uphill fight to upset the defending champion, Ralph Greenleaf of New York, in the final match of the championship tournament record with seven straight victories. Greenleaf was runner-up with five victories and two defeats.

The Chicagoan won the world's title once before beating Greenleaf here in January, 1927. Four months later, however, he was beaten by Tommy Houston and surrendered the crown. Under the present rules, he can hold the title for one year without being subject to challenge.

Rudolph was born in Cleveland and will celebrate his 36th birthday on December 30. Final standing of the 1930 tournament:

Player	W	L	Run
Erwin Rudolph, Chicago	7	0	67
Ralph Greenleaf, N. York	5	2	104
Cirofio Lauri, N. York	4	3	51
Frank Taberski, Schenctdy	4	3	46
Arthur Woods, N. York	3	4	63
Bennie Allen, Kan. City	3	4	35
Faequale Natale, Chicago	1	6	42
Thomas Boatman, Ford'd	1	6	30

TRAINING CAMP NAMED FOR MILLER HUGGINS

New York, Dec. 19.—(AP)—The New York Yankees are to have a constant reminder of their late manager, Miller Huggins, during their spring training season at St. Petersburg, Fla. Word was received yesterday that the park at which they will train, formerly known as Crescent Park has been renamed Miller Huggins Field.

The University of California at Los Angeles grid teams had not won a football game when Coach Bill Spaulding took over the coaching tasks six years ago.

SPORT SLANTS

ALAN GOULD ASSOCIATED PRESS, SPORTS EDITOR

Two of the biggest shifts in football have turned out pretty well-meaning the shift that sent Dr. Clarence Spears from Minnesota to Oregon as head coach and Capt. John J. McEwan from Oregon to Holy Cross in the same role.

Oregon had done very well under the former All-America center, but wanted to make a change. So did McEwan, who drove a good bargain in auctioning off the remaining year of his contract and returned to the East.

The captain celebrated by developing the best eleven Holy Cross has had in a half dozen years. Employing the Warner system, the Purple eleven plastered Harvard, 27 to 0, and beat its old rival, Boston College, for the first time since 1924.

On the Pacific Coast, meanwhile, Spears kept his Oregon team on a level with Washington State the championship race until the last big conference game. This resulted in an upset victory by Oregon State and Oregon then lost to St. Mary's by one point. Last year's team, under McEwan, lost only to Stanford and St. Mary's on the coast, but dropped a post-season encounter to Florida at Miami.

It has been a good year, too, for Maj. Ralph Irvine Sasse and West Point.

Sasse took over the portfolio from Burt Jones and performed the difficult task of completing changing the Army system of play. The installation of the Warner wingback style of attack proved so effective that the Cadets were undefeated until they ran into the Rough Riders of Notre Dame and suffered a one-point setback.

Pennsylvania, on the other hand, had a disappointing season under its new head coach, Ludlow Wray. The Quakers lacked consistency. They were defeated by Kansas and Georgia Tech handily but were put to rout by Wisconsin and Notre Dame, besides losing to Cornell for the first time in seven years.

Speaking of Cornell, the Big Red forces have enjoyed the most fruitful athletic year since the pre-war days when Pop Courtney coached championship crews. Al Sharpe turned out great football teams and Jack Mookley's track squads ruled the cinder-paths.

Under Jim Wray, the Ithacans returned to power on the seas, capturing the intercollegiate varsity race last year on Hudson, besides carrying off junior varsity honors and finishing second to Syracuse in the freshman crew contest.

Mookley's track and field outfit tied Pennsylvania for Eastern indoor honors and acquitted themselves creditably in the outdoor campaign.

This fall, the Ithacans dropped two close football decisions to Columbia and Dartmouth, but beat Princeton and closed the season with a long-sought victory over Penn at Franklin Field. The season is a success for Cornell, under any circumstances when Pennsylvania can be humbled in the Thanksgiving Day classic.

In the new crop of football talent developed by Gil Doble, Bert Viano gives every indication of measuring up to the standard of Barrett, Kaw and Pfann as a ball-carrier.

For sheer drive and ability to shed tacklers like a duck sheds water, Viano ranks with Savoldi of Notre Dame and Schwartz of Washington State.

RUMOR STILL STRONG ROCKNE WILL RESIGN

South Bend, Dec. 19.—(AP)—The big rumor and report boys around South Bend still persist in resigning Knute Rockne's job for him.

The latest gossip is that Rockne will retire as Notre Dame's football coach but will remain as athletic director. The boys have even lined up candidates as his successor, namely, Hank Anderson, present first assistant to Rockne; Harry Stuhldreher, quarterback of the "Four Horsemen" and now coach at Villanova; Jimmy Phelan, now head coach at the University of Washington and Eddie "Slip" Madigan, coach at St. Mary's College, California.

Only four members of the University of Southern California first football team will be lost by graduation.

Max Schmeling Agrees To A June Title Scrap

Berlin, Dec. 19.—(AP)—Max Schmeling, German boxer, said today that he had been traveling and had just received the ultimatum of the New York Boxing Commission that he accept the challenge of Jack Sharkey, of Boston, for a match in which his title of heavyweight champion will be at stake.

Schmeling said he immediately cabled a reply to the commission saying he had instructed his manager, Joe Jacobs, to take up the matter with them in New York.

BAER VS. SCHAAF FEATURE TONIGHT

California Heavyweight Makes His New York Debut Against Bostonian.

New York, Dec. 19.—A new heavyweight hope from the Far West will be tested in the ring of Madison Square Garden tonight when Max Baer, of Livermore, Calif., meets Ernie Schaaf, of Boston, in the scheduled ten-round main event.

The ballyhoo bells have been ringing merrily for the 200-pound Californian since he went into his training camp ten days ago at Gus Wilson's Orangeburg fight farm.

Baer came East with a record of twenty-seven bouts, twenty of which he won by knockouts. His list of victims is anything but a "Who's Who of Ring Immortals," including as it does such complaisant colleagues as K. O. Christner and Troy Fuenteb. Baer was beaten by Les Kennedy in ten rounds at Los Angeles last July and lost on fouls to Messrs. Tiny Abbott and Jack McCarthy.

In an effort to inflame public interest in Baer's pugilistic potentialities it was broadcast that Baer has forty studs of clothes, a diamond-studded chauffeur, a monogrammed limousine, two managers, a training tutor and a manner of talking about his talents in a way that makes Jack Sharkey and Art (For Art's Sake) Shires seem like deaf and dumb hermits in a Siberian cave in comparison.

Baer is nicely put together for a ring warrior. He has the triangle build of wide shoulders that promise hitting power and a slim waist in the Dempsey style. He naturally lacks experience at this stage of his rushed career and is reputed to be what is known technically as "a sucker for a left hook," a defect that he must overcome if he is to reach the heights.

Upland, Cal., Dec. 19.—(AP)—The turf digging duffer may become the heavy prize winner after all at the Red Hill Country Club.

The course is laid out on the former estate of Don Tiburcio where rumor says he once buried a rich treasure chest.

Not content with the usual golfing methods, players are using spades to remove the sod, the green keeper complains. A spade twosome reported the only treasure so far recovered—a bottle of pre-war whiskey.

Last Night's Fights

CASHIER MISSING

Derby, Dec. 19.—(AP.)—It was reported to the Derby police last night that Clarence Allen, 27, for the past five years cashier at the Derby freight station, has been missing since he left his office at four o'clock yesterday afternoon and that his wife has no clue to his whereabouts. No one has been found who has seen him since he left his work yesterday and a state-wide police search for him is being made at the request of his wife. James Enns, station agent, reports that examination of Allen's account shows no shortage and no reason for his disappearance has as yet been discovered.

FIRE DESTROYS TRUCK

Norwalk, Dec. 19.—(AP.)—An early morning fire here today destroyed a truck, with its load of assorted freight, bound for New York City, with a loss that may exceed $5,000. The big machine is owned by Oates Bros., Inc., of Shelton.

Peter Homick, the driver of the truck, was in a nearby lunchroom, when the fire was discovered by two policemen, who pulled in a general alarm. The blaze, a spectacular one, with flames enveloping the truck, is thought to have started in a lighting system, that was used for the headlights of the truck.

The fire was discovered at 7:30 a. m.

MICHELSON 78 TODAY; LEADING SCIENTIST

Pasadena, Cal., Dec. 19.—(AP.)—Dr. Albert A. Michelson, first American physicist to win the Nobel Prize and recipient of many other awards, both here and in Europe for scientific achievement is 78 years old today.

But birthday anniversaries do not interest him. In fact until friends reminded him of it yesterday, he had not given the day a thought. He is interested in completing his last experiment to determine the speed of light and in the approaching visit of Dr. Albert Einstein to California.

More than three years ago he used mirrors to flash light from mountain top to mountain top near here and found it traveled at the rate of 186,284 miles per second. Afterward an error was discovered, probably not more than a mile a second, other scientists say.

To check the error, he has had a large vacuum tube one mile long, built on a ranch near Santa Anna, California. Mirrors in the tube and at one end will reflect light, flashed in at the other end back and forth five times before the rays are "trapped" in a sighting and timing apparatus.

SLIVER IN LEG CAUSES SERIOUS INFECTION

Sherwood Anderson, Student At Boston School, Confined To Home Here After Accident.

Suffering from infection of a wound in his left leg, Sherwood Anderson, son of Albert Anderson of 361 Center street, and a student at the Bentley School of Accounting and Finance in Boston, arrived at his home yesterday and was immediately placed under the care of a local physician. The wound was caused by a sliver which entered his leg when Anderson fell on the floor during basketball practice with the school team.

Regarding the injury as slight he made a visit to the doctor imperative. The doctor advised Anderson to return home at once and give the wound constant care to forestall any serious consequences. It is expected that he will have to remain in bed for several days longer at least.
Mrs. Anna Risley motored up to Tilton, N. H., Wednesday and has returned with her son Wells, a senior at Tilton school for boys, who will remain here until January 5.

Heap into a large bowl and place in the ice box until ready to serve.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

(Glassy Eyes)
Question: Mrs. L. K. asks: "What is the cause of one's eyes becoming glassy, and what should be done to cure this in a person between thirty and forty years of age?"
Answer: You may be suffering from some form of thyroid derangement, such as exophthalmic goitre. This disorder is so named because it has the effect of making the eyes protrude and look glassy.

(Grapefruit Wholesome for Children)
Question: I. J. asks: "Is grapefruit too acid for a child of two and a half years? If not, how much should be given her? She enjoys it, and I would like to give it to her as often as she should have it."
Answer: Grapefruit is quite wholesome for your little girl if she enjoys it. It is best eaten by itself, and should never be combined with any starchy food such as breakfast cereals or bread.

(Laxatives)
Question: Anxious asks: "Will you please tell me what magnesium carbonate is? About three years ago I was told it was good for constipation and have been taking a bite of it every morning since that time. I seem to crave it—can't get along without it—and my mother tells me it dries up my blood. I would like your advice about it."
Answer: Magnesium carbonate is a mild aperient antacid. There is no serious harm from its use except that you are liable to neglect the removal of the real cause of your constipation which is either in wrong food or a protracted and knined condition of your intestines. It is unnecessary to become a slave to any drug laxative or medicinal preparation, but they are often temporary life-savers when you are trying to discover the bad habits or faulty functioning which is producing your disorder.

MURDER BRIDGE by ANNE AUSTIN

"The boy wanted to crumple as if from a new blow. I suppose it was common gossip that Nita and Sprague were lovers, and it was the only one she fooled."

"Did you want to kill her, Ralph?" Penny whispered hoarsely, touching one of his knotted fists with a trembling hand.

"Kill her? Good Lord, no," the boy answered, as if surprised at her persistence.

"I never realized before you had so much curiosity, honey," the boy grinned at her.

"No, I registered under my first two names-Ralph Edwards. And the clerk turned out to be a bootlegger."

"Well, when I woke up about 11 this morning I gave you my word I wasn't sick and headachy."

"I know you'd drunk enough to put me out for a week," Penny said.

"Yes, I'll marry you, Ralph! You may come in now, Mr. Dundee!"
