

TRADE CLIMAX IN CHINA AS SILVER DROPS

Business Virtually At a Standstill As Dollar Value Falls To 22 Cents — No Cargoes Going To Orient.

Shanghai, Jan. 9.—(AP)—The withering effect of the long series of declines in the price of silver brought about another trade climax in China today as Mexican dollars were quoted at 22.12 gold cents, a new low record.

The effect was apparent on every phase of commercial life, since silver long has been used as the principal medium of exchange.

On Gold Basis

With few exceptions, importers said it was almost impossible to find local buyers capable of supplying enough silver to meet prices now quoted, which are now exclusively on a gold basis.

This, according to the importers, has resulted in a virtual stoppage of the movement of cargoes to China.

Many Chinese buyers under signed obligations have refused to accept purchases, pleading the declining price of silver has made them unable to handle the goods except at heavy losses.

Importers in such cases have been forced to cancel the contracts.

A survey of exporters indicated they were in the same predicament as the importers.

One Bright View

The Chinese took one bright view of the situation in noting that the large amount of silver dollars brought to the banks here as the result of unsettled political conditions in the interior were being poured into local industrial channels, thereby hurrying developments which otherwise would require years.

Some Chinese foresee quick industrial independence as a result of this trend, but importers of foreign goods believe it foreshadows still greater difficulties in the transaction of business in China.

Merchants pointed out that silver's instability, with quotations changing almost hourly, made trade impossible.

Stabilization of the quotation at almost any figure, they said, would make it possible to consummate contracts.

Shipping interests said cargoes leaving and arriving had been greatly curtailed and passenger traffic also had been affected.

The oil business in China slipped to 45 per cent of normal.

DRUG STORE WHISKEY BOOTLEGGERS' DRINK

Sioux City, Ia., Jan. 9.—(AP)—To mailmen who promenade during their days off restaurant waiters who go out to eat and ferry-men whose diversion is sailing, add a certain bootlegger, or whom one of the 2,500 points of whiskey apportioned in 1930 by physicians here was prescribed.

INCOME OF RUSSIA EXCEEDS EXPENSES

Financial Report Shows That There Is Now Reserve of a Billion and a Half Rubles

Moscow, Jan. 9.—(AP)—Soviet Russia's current income is in excess of operating expenses, Gregory Grinko, commissar of finance reported to the central executive committee of the Communist Party today and the state has been able to establish a reserve of a billion and a half rubles. The ruble is nominally worth fifty cents.

"Our 1931 financial program," he said, "not only does not contemplate the issue of any paper money, a matter about which our enemies abroad are so fond of talking, but on the contrary we can see our income surpassing our expenses."

Reports abroad of a financial crisis in the Soviet Republic were laughable, he said, asserting that "bourgeois observers" are unable to understand "conditions of Soviet economy under which distribution of material resources is conducted through an organized centralized system."

No Inflation

"How can you speak of inflation," he demanded, "when prices of manufactured articles for the overwhelming majority of the consuming masses remain practically unchanged?"

The 1931 financial program, he continued, contemplates an income of $1,750,000,000 rubles and expenditures of 30,200,000,000. About 42 per cent of the total income will be derived from such socialist organizations as the Soviet industries and

TELLS OF BRIBES GIVEN TO RAIDER

Hotel Man Says He Paid Boston Policeman From $50 To $100 Each Month.

Boston, Jan. 9.—(AP)—John F. Sullivan, former proprietor of a liquor-selling hotel, today concluded his direct testimony at the trial of Oliver B. Garrett, one-time police liquor raider, by reaffirming that he had paid Garrett, graft.

The opening of the third day of the trial of Garrett on extortion charges and of Garrett's wife and Miss Lillian V. Hatch on charges of conspiracy to extort brought about the conclusion of the examination of Sullivan by Assistant District Attorney Frederick T. Doyle.

Answering nine questions by Doyle, the former proprietor of the Hotel Ritz repeated that between February, 1924, and September, 1928, he had paid monthly sums of $50 to $100 to the defendants.

Paid Mrs. Garrett
Payments were made, he said, usually on the first of the month. He said he paid Garrett six times, Mrs. Garrett three times and Miss Hatch, friend of the Garrett's who had been installed as check-room concessionaire, the remainder of the period.

Cross-examination of Sullivan was begun by Herbert F. Callahan, counsel for Garrett, who asked the man whose hotel later was padlocked as a liquor nuisance, just when his company was established and when the hotel was opened.

After obtaining from Sullivan the information that it was in 1923, he drew the admission that he was somewhat uncertain as to the dates.

TREASURY BALANCE

Washington, Jan. 9.—(AP)—Treasury receipts for January 7 were $5,013,943.24; expenditures, $10,226,332.19; balance, $268,400,529.90.

George Chesebrough, proprietor, an ice dealer was instantly killed in Westport last night when struck by a hit-and-run driver on the Boston Post road at the Southport town line.

There were no witnesses to the accident, although a crowd of girls, seeking aid for their car, stalled near the place where Chesebrough's body was found, reported hearing a thud, as of a machine striking a body, as a light truck passed. The truck driver then returned and aided them, they said, and finally drove off without giving a clue to his identity.

Police broadcast a description of the car.

Robert Dolan, of Darien, was almost instantly killed when struck behind the ear with a puck during a hockey game yesterday.

Dolan, goal keeper, continued play for a few moments and collapsed on the ice.

AGREE ON MUSCLE SHOALS PROPOSAL

OUR NEXT GENERATION WILL SOLVE PROBLEMS

President Says After That We Can Move Swiftly; Only Children of New Gen- eration Can Better Things.

President Hoover believes the new generation has visualized—children properly born, trained, educated and healthy—will begin ten years hence.

"We can move swiftly after that."

The President so observed in an interview with a writer for Cosmopolitan magazine, amplifying the assertion made before the recent child health conference that with such a generation "a thousand other problems of government would vanish."

"How can you speak of inflation," he demanded, "when prices of manufactured articles for the overwhelming majority of the consuming masses remain practically unchanged?"

The 1931 financial program, he continued, contemplates an income of $1,750,000,000 rubles and expenditures of 30,200,000,000. About 42 per cent of the total income will be derived from such socialist organizations as the Soviet industries and

DEAD ONE MONTH FOUND IN GARAGE

Neighbor Made Trips Daily To Same Building and Never Noticed Man.

Hamden, Conn., Jan. 9.—(AP)—Behind the drawn curtains of his automobile, the body of Edmund J. Young, 60, was found today in his two car garage. A verdict of suicide was given by the medical examiner who said Young had died of carbon monoxide poisoning about four weeks ago.

The man who lived alone was reported missing only today. A search quickly resulted in the finding of the body.

Because of the drawn curtains, another motorist who used the same garage had made almost daily trips to the building without discovering the body.

Young's wife died shortly before his disappearance.

BRITISH M. P. Brave Man, Walks Into Lions' Cage

Glasgow, Scotland, Jan. 9.—(AP)—In breathless excitement a large crowd last night watched John Clark, Labor M. P., from Maryhill division, Glasgow, enter a menagerie cage in which were two lions and tigers and remain several minutes there with the animals.

The beasts evinced a great aversion to his presence, snarling and threatening to spring, but refraining from attack. He first entered with a trainer but subsequently went in alone, and walked to and fro in the cage with the creatures, swayed between anger and fear, finally allowed him to leave unscathed.

Clark's stunt is part of a campaign he is conducting against a bill in Parliament which he contends would put a stop to performances of wild animals, thus depriving hundreds of men of work. It was his object to show that animals may be trained without cruelty.

HALL REPORTS INCREASE IN GENERAL FUND

Over Two Million and Half Increase In Balance At End of Year Before—De- tails of State's Condition.

Hartford, Jan. 9.—(AP)—The balance on hand in the general fund of the State of Connecticut on January 1 of this year was $10,357,811.82 according to the monthly statement submitted to Governor Wilbur L. Cross today by Edward F. Hall, state commissioner of finance and control.

This is an increase of $2,789,974.22 over the January 1, 1930 total of $7,567,837.60.

Receipts in the general fund during December were $1,271,700.83, an increase of $728,662.64 over December, 1929 and for the period from July 1, 1930 to December 31, $18,281,778.44, an increase of $1,709,374.50 over the corresponding period in 1929.

Expenditures for December 1930 were $1,815,998.74, an increase of $55,615.28 over December, 1929.

The increase in expenditures for Capitol improvements in December 1930 was $99,102.78 above $298,506.08 for the same month in 1929.

In the highway fund the balance January 1 was $820,831.69, $992,498.28 less than the $1,613,329.93 for the same date in 1930. Receipts for December 1930, amounted to $3,285,248.90, compared to $3,063,967.33 in 1929, an increase of $221,281.57.

Receipts in this fund from July 1 to December 31, 1930, were $7,803,516.78, an increase of $381,508.87. Expenditures for December 1930 were $1,288,870.04, compared to $1,760,378.46 in December, 1929, a decrease of $471,508.42.

The balance in the general and highway funds are actual balances of the cash on hand at the beginning of the year, money borrowed by the highway department being returned during December.

The decrease in the highway fund is mainly due to the effort to keep men at work in the construction of state highways.

NEGROES INVOLVED IN CLARK RULING

Fifteenth Amendment Was Adopted In the Same Way As the 18th They Say.

Washington, Jan. 9.—(AP)—Permission to intervene in the Supreme Court's hearing on the validity of the Eighteenth Amendment was asked today by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Argument upon the decision of Federal Judge Clark in New Jersey that the Eighteenth Amendment was adopted in an unconstitutional manner has been set by the court for January 21.

Counsel for the association, in asking leave to file a brief, stated "the negro citizens of this country have an important stake" in recent decision of Judge Clark.

The contention they contended that "if it is true that the Eighteenth Amendment was not constitutionally adopted because the surrender of state powers to the Federal government could only be accomplished by action of state conventions, then it might similarly be argued that the Thirteenth, Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments were unconstitutional."

The Thirteenth Amendment abolishing slavery, the Fourteenth requiring due process of law on the part of state and imposing a penalty upon such states as failed to recognize the rights of the negroes, and the Fifteenth Amendment, which guaranteed the right to vote, were adopted in the same manner as the 18th Amendment.

THREATEN LOCK-OUT OF 200,000 WEAVERS

Mill Owners in England Say They Will Close Up Janu- ary 17.

Manchester, Eng., Jan. 9.—(AP)—The central committee of the Cotton Spinners and Manufacturers Association today advised affiliated members to close their mills on Saturday, Jan. 17 unless a labor dispute with weavers has been settled by the meantime. If carried into effect the recommendation would mean the lockout of 200,000 workers.

Reason for Trouble
The textile industry has been in difficulties for weeks because of the weavers' refusal to accept the mill owners' demand that each man now operating four looms take over twice that number. The owners have offered an increase in pay amounting to about $10 a week, but the weavers contended that the system would throw many men out of work.

Five thousand weavers went on strike last week in nine mills at Burnley when the owners insisted upon installing the new system, and since then it had been feared that the strike might extend throughout the industry. Conferences looking toward a settlement have been fruitless.

LIBERIA WARNED TO FREE SLAVES

Our State Department Applies Vigorous Pressure Upon the Negro Republic.

Washington, Jan. 9.—(AP)—Vigorous diplomatic pressure is being brought to bear by the State Department on Liberia in its measures to insist that the negro republic abolish slavery.

Contrary to the first indications that America's demands for slavery abolition had ceased with its sharp memorandum to Liberia early in December, it was disclosed today that the State Department has made two subsequent demands for action.

On December 5, the Liberian government replied to the American government thanking it for the friendly tenor of its memorandum, which was communicated to the Liberian Legislature together with the resignations of President King and Vice President Yancy, against

VATICAN PLEASED WITH NEWSPAPERS

Pope's Message Used At Length By Numerous Jour- nals All Over the Nation.

Vatican City, Jan. 9.—(AP)—Vatican authorities are highly gratified at the wide distribution of the Pope's encyclical throughout the United States and Canada. Monsignor Pizzardo, papal under-secretary of state, told the Associated Press this evening.

The evidence of widespread interest in the Pontiff's pronouncement and the fact that his message was carried at such great length by newspapers across the sea is a source of deep contentment to the holy father.

Used In Full
Monsignor Pizzardo, who is the second ranking officer in the papal diplomatic service, was particularly pleased that two important newspapers in New York went to the trouble and expense of reproducing the encyclical in full and that nine other newspapers published textual abstracts of the message to the extent of 8,000 words.

Others in the Vatican entourage characterized transmission of the encyclical as the greatest and fastest dissemination ever given a papal utterance.

They were pleased also with the favorable impression the document seems to have produced in Italy, where the Pontiff's stand against birth control and divorce coincides with Premier Mussolini's own social doctrines.

GETS SIX MONTHS.
Danbury, Jan. 9.—(AP)—Edwin P. Michel, 36, of Brooklyn, N. Y., who was released under $2,500 bail following a fatal accident to Edward A. Say of Waterbury, which occurred on the steep hill between Redding Ridge and Redding Center on July 13 last, when Michel lost control of the car in which Say was riding, crashed through a fence demolishing the automobile, pleaded guilty to driving while intoxicated before Judge J. M. Iyas in the Traffic Court here today. He was sentenced to six months in the Danbury jail and costs. Michel is connected with the National Industrial Conference Board in New York City.

RECALLS 50,000 WORKERS
Detroit, Jan. 9.—(AP)—Additional employees of the Ford Motor Company, laid off December 18, will be recalled to work at various plants of the company in the Detroit area next Monday. An official of the company today estimated the number to be recalled at between 50,000 and 70,000. Six thousand five hundred men returned to work last Monday.

For three months prior to the inventory shutdown the plants had been operating on a three-day a week basis. No change from this schedule has been announced.

The normal payroll of the Ford Company at the resumption of the work is approximately 85,000 workers.

MOTION DENIED
Wolcott, Jan. 9.—(AP)—Motion for discharge of Grand Juror Oscar Todd and Constables John Fulgham and Julius Cowles, the first two on charges of blackmail and Cowles on a counter charge of breach of the peace in connection with alleged extortion from a convicted bootlegger, was denied by Justice Graham Hitchcock at the resumption of the trial this morning after a week's recess.

The motion, made by Defense Counsel Thomas F. McCarthy, after the state rested upon the completion of testimony started eight weeks ago, was argued by Special Prosecutor F. J. Pielak.

Wife Kidnaps Infant To Bring Back Husband

New York, Jan. 9.—(AP)—Lacking child of her own, Mrs. Agnes Schron, 19 years old and a wife of three years, kidnaped a six-week-old baby girl in an effort to regain her husband's affection.

So she told police yesterday when they traced the missing daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rotundo to her father's home and arrested her on a charge of abduction. Mrs. Schron took the infant Tuesday posing as a Salvation Army relief worker.

"Please don't arrest me," she said, "I didn't do the baby any harm, I love babies and can't have any of my own."

The baby was found sleeping soundly in a new outfit of clothes and a new crib, bought especially for her. She was returned unharmed to her parents.

Mrs. Schron and her husband had been separated for some time, the wife said, because of her childlessness. Thinking to effect a reconciliation, she summoned him after the kidnaping and presented the child as her own.

PERIOD OF DROUGHT IS NOT YET OVER

Weather Bureau Reports Rain Shortage Continues In Parts of United States.

Washington, Jan. 9.—(AP)—It took the midnight hour of New Years officially to end the record-breaking drought of 1930, for in reality it is not over yet.

The Weather Bureau compiling its preliminary figures for rainfall during last year, today found that drought records of all time had been broken in 20 states while a number of others were saved only by downpours late in the year which made up the summer shortage.

The rain shortage continues, the bureau reported, in the area bounded by the Appalachian Mountains on the east, the Ohio river on the south and the Mississippi to the west.

Maryland, Delaware and the District of Columbia were the driest sections, getting only 56 per cent of normal rainfall.

Virginia and West Virginia were next with 59 per cent and Kentucky third with 60 per cent. Other states in which new dry records were created for the year included the six New England states considered as a group, with 83 per cent. Lynchburg, Va., was the driest city with 49 per cent of normal.

TAKE EVERY PRECAUTION AS SCARLET FEVER LOOMS

Two High School Students Have Disease So Entire School Membership Is Examined.

The entire student body of Manchester High School numbering more than 600 boys and girls was subjected to throat examinations today when it became known that two of the students were ill with scarlet fever.

Dr. N. A. Burr, Ninth District physician, was authority for the statement that the situation was not a serious one. In fact, he stated that the district had been remarkably free of any contagious disease for almost a year, or, since last spring to be exact.

THREE MEN KILLED IN AIRPLANE RACE

Machine Crashes As It Rounds Pylon At Miami; Victims Identified.

Miami, Jan. 9.—(AP)—Three men, tentatively identified by their meet officials as James Riddell, 23, Chicago; Bob Smalley, Chicago, and Harry A. Ware, also of Chicago, were killed instantly and an unidentified man was critically injured in an airplane accident at the All-American air meet here today.

The pylon at which the wreck was reported is away from the Municipal Field, although it marks one corner of the triangular race course. Judges said no race was in progress at the time.

Radio reports received at the judges' stand from the operator at the pylon, said the plane that crashed was a biplane monoplane. The operator reported he took one body from the plane; that one man, with his face disfigured beyond recognition, was dead, and that another man had a leg off and his face cut so his identity could not be immediately identified.

The operator reported the plane rounded the pylon at high speed with the motor missing and that it made a forced landing seventy feet from the pylon in soft muck ground. The operator's report of the forced landing corrected an earlier report that the accident was a collision.

REV. McDERMOTT DIES. Newark, Jan. 9.—(AP)—The Very Rev. Henry J. McDermott, C. S. Superior-general of Ferndale, seminary of the Holy Ghost Fathers here, today succumbed to a heart attack.

The deceased was 66 years of age. He was born and educated in Ireland and ordained in Paris in 1891. He would have been 40 years a priest on February 20.

Father McDermott held a professorship and at one time was prefect of discipline at Duquesne University, Pittsburgh, Pa. He was also assistant director of St. Joseph's House in Philadelphia.

PLUMBER'S JOB CHANGES AS HOUSES IMPROVE

Calls To Thaw Out Pipes Are Few and Far Between These Days—Heat the Cause.

John Wells, one of the best known plumbers in Manchester and in point of service probably the oldest, took occasion this morning to remark about the weather conditions of today and the effect they have upon the service of a plumber compared with that of years past.

In the early days of his work as a plumber and for several years afterwards, a cold spell such as was experienced this morning would mean that the service of a plumber would be in great demand and they would be carried from place to place in wagons trying to meet the demands for their services in thawing out frozen water pipes.

Such calls are seldom received these days. He gives as his opinion for the change the installation of furnaces which is the rule rather than the exception today while in past years there was only the "parlor" stove that was set up at the approach of cold weather.

There was also an old method of building a house with about half of the house with a cellar and the other part a blind cellar. The pipes would be laid on the ground under this section of the house and the cold spell would do the rest. No such houses are being built in this section now.

Mr. and Mrs. Christopher McNeill of Rockville announce the marriage of their daughter Edna, to Henry Grezel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Grezel of this town. The ceremony was performed on July 21 of last year in Tarrytown, N. Y.

PUTTING 9 INCH ICE AT SPERRY'S, BOLTON. L. T. Wood has started cutting on the pond owned by him along Camp Meeting Woods road in Bolton, known as Sperry's. The ice is about nine inches thick. Such ice as is cut is being used for immediate delivery after the snow has been cleaned off at the storehouse on Bliss street. The cold snap of the last two days gives prospects of getting further ice and it is being marketed on the pond today and the snow being scraped off to allow for further freezing. The motor driven ice cutter will be set to work cutting the ice and the float way cut to the shores just as soon as possible.

POLICE SHAKEUP. New York, Jan. 9.—(AP)—The first shakedown in the uniformed branch of the Police Department since Edward P. Mulrooney became police commissioner was ordered today. LATEST STOCKS. New York, Jan. 9.—(AP)—Ralls again were used to keep the bull movement rolling in today's Stock Market.

The list showed considerable unreluctance for a time, with liquidation of the chemicals and profit-taking in steels threatening to carry the list lower. Professional efforts to bid up the motors soon stiffened the market, however, and considerable buoyancy developed after midday, as the carrier issues were marked up sharply. It was largely a market of special moves, nevertheless.

Such rallies as Chicago and Northwestern, Lehigh Valley, Colorado and Southern and Rock Island were sent up five or more. Jersey Central, a lightly traded issue, sold at 22 1/2, up 31 points, gaining 8 to 4.

The Freshman class of Manchester High school has presented the institution with a valuable color reproduction of the famous painting entitled, "The Santa Fe Trail" at its assembly in the main building yesterday afternoon. The picture which is valued at $50 will be hung in the Franklin or junior high school building; the definite room to be decided by mark of merit. In the meantime it will be passed from room to room so that all of the students may enjoy its art. The picture is nearly three feet by five feet in size.

In connection with its presentation yesterday, the Freshmen students presented a tableau depicting the covered wagon encampment which the picture shows against a background of the Grand Canyon nature. Scene paintings in the background aided the five students who took the part of the characters about the prairie train. Anita Passantelli told the story of the artist's life and Sarah Potts related the narrative of the picture itself.

The market was encouraged by the remark of Paul Warburg, made in his annual report as chairman of the Manhattan Company, particularly his statement that prices of many securities have fallen as unreasonably low, as they were unjustifiably high in 1929. Mr. Warburg gave the financial community something to think about, however, in a severe attack of irresponsibility and inflationist tactics in banking and finance, and his assertion that high prices are dangerous, that it is safer to build prosperity on the lowest practicable level.

There was no basis in the day's news for the marking up of railroad shares. In fact, General W. V. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania, put a damper on the enthusiasm generated by the eastern consolidation agreement. He said unification could not take effect for four or five years. He also said that railroad earnings would not recover sharply until about six months after recovery in other lines of business. Despite day to day news developments, however, some interests evidently felt that rail shares were still unduly depressed.

The heaviness of Allied Chemical is attributed to the break in soda ash prices, but since Allied, through its subsidiary, the Solvay Company, is the largest producer of soda ash in the industry, it is in a dominant position in the market and one optimistic explanation of the price drop was that Allied may have wished to stimulate consumption and keep its plants busy.

The oil issues were helped by declaration of a 25 cent quarterly dividend by Barnsdall, which previously had paid 50 cents as complete omission of the payment had been expected in some quarters. The company also stated that it felt much had been done toward betterment in the industry, which would be reflected in future earnings. Copper shares were sluggish in the face of a cut of 1/4 of a cent in the metal price by copper exporters.

Credit conditions were stationary, with call loans at 1 per cent in the outside market. The weekly Federal Reserve statements showed $125,000,000 in reserve credit had been withdrawn with the passage of end demands. San Francisco followed St. Louis and Cleveland cutting its re-discount rate to 3 per cent.

LIBERIA WARNED TO FREE SLAVES. (Continued From Page 1.) whom slavery charges were made in the American Note.

Three days later the state department again formally told Liberia that it had not met by some measures it had taken, the recommendations of the commission which had just completed an investigation of slavery conditions.

On December 24, Liberia replied pointing out certain other measures which had been taken. The American government sharply replied that the actions of the Liberian government to meet recommendations did not meet the situation.

Three days ago Liberia replied to the effect that it accepted in principle the commission's recommendations. This the American government replied that this statement did not represent a satisfactory solution.

ABOUT TOWN

Miss Marion Robertson was the speaker at an assembly held this afternoon at the Hollister school. Her subject was her recent trip to Australia and the talk was very interesting.

For the past three days the express trains that run on the High-Land division between New York and Boston have not been using the services of a brakeman. The method of air coupling and the installation of other devices does not make necessary the use of as many brakemen as formerly, but until this week a brakeman was used on the passenger trains. The baggageman on the train is now looked upon to assist the conductor in some cases where extra service is necessary.

Mrs. William Perrett of 62 Russell street entertained her class of young women at the Nazarene church, and four invited guests at her home last evening. Miss Ethel Hewitt gave an amusing reading and played a piano duet with Miss Nan Rankin. A pleasant social evening was spent and a buffet luncheon was served by the hostess.

The annual meeting of the Center Congregational church which was tentatively set for January 14, has been postponed to Wednesday evening, January 21.

Loomis, first; George Potterson, second, and Fred Werner, third. Doughnuts, cheese and coffee were served at the social which followed.

Mrs. John Allison will be chairman of the hostesses. Mrs. Charles Hollister, rehabilitation chairman, requested that all members who have finished knitting squares for the Afghan, to return them at Monday's meeting.

Nineteen tables were filled with players at the whist given last evening in Odd Fellows hall by Sunset, Rebekah and King David lodges. The winners of first prizes were Miss Alice Wilson and David Hadden; second, Marjorie Kirke and Andrew Swanson, and consolation, Mrs. Emma McLachlan and Irving Wickham. At the close of the game sandwiches, home made cakes and coffee were served and dancing followed. Another whist-dance was announced for Thursday evening of next week and this will be the final one of the present series.

A steady, gradual and yet marked improvement in the case of Norman Hohenhalt, of Roosevelt street, who has had sleeping sickness for more than two months, has led the attending physician to hope for the boy's ultimate complete recovery. It was learned today, Norman was in a critical condition for a long time but now it is felt that there is at least no immediate danger. He is able to take nourishment.

NEED TRAFFIC CONTROL ON GIR SIDEWALKS

School children disregard Right of Way, 'Tis Argued, and Inconvenience Others.

Complaints have been registered with the Herald regarding the way school children congest the Main street sidewalks at the lower end of the business section, especially during the noon hour. Often they come hurrying home for lunch, four, five, and six abreast, literally sweeping all before them. Pedestrians bound in a southerly direction find it almost useless to keep to the extreme right hand side of the walks close to the curb. The boys and girls, even when not four or five abreast seem to invariably prefer the left hand side of the sidewalk, thus making it decidedly uncomfortable for persons bound in the opposite direction.

OLD CASTLE BURNS

Salzburg, Austria, Jan. 9.—(AP)—Werfen Castle, one of the most imposing sights of its kind in Austria, was virtually destroyed today by a fire which broke out in the library. Priceless paintings, tapestries, first editions, manuscripts and the valuable furniture were destroyed. The famous bell in Werfen tower was saved and the walls of the right and left wings remain standing. The old castle was built on a great rock 400 feet high in the year 1077 and at one time was used as a state prison. It is now the property of the Archduke Eugene.

CAMPBELL IS SILENT ON STEEL MERGER PLAN

Youngstown, O., Jan. 9.—(AP)—James A. Campbell, chairman of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company, returning today from New York, declined to discuss a conference which he had yesterday with Eugene G. Grace, president of Bethlehem Steel Corporation presumably concerning the future of merger negotiations between the two companies. Mr. Campbell said that Newton D. Baker, chief of counsel for the companies in the injunction suit recently decided against the merger, had conferred with Bethlehem and Sheet and Tube lawyers before sailing on a Mediterranean trip yesterday, but the Sheet and Tube chairman said he was not present and did not know the trend of the discussion. Financial circles here speculated today on the rise in Republic Steel Corporation stock yesterday coincident with the presence in New York of Campbell, Grace, and Cyrus S. Eaton of Cleveland, promoter of Republic and the chief force behind the suit which blocked the Bethlehem-Youngstown merger.

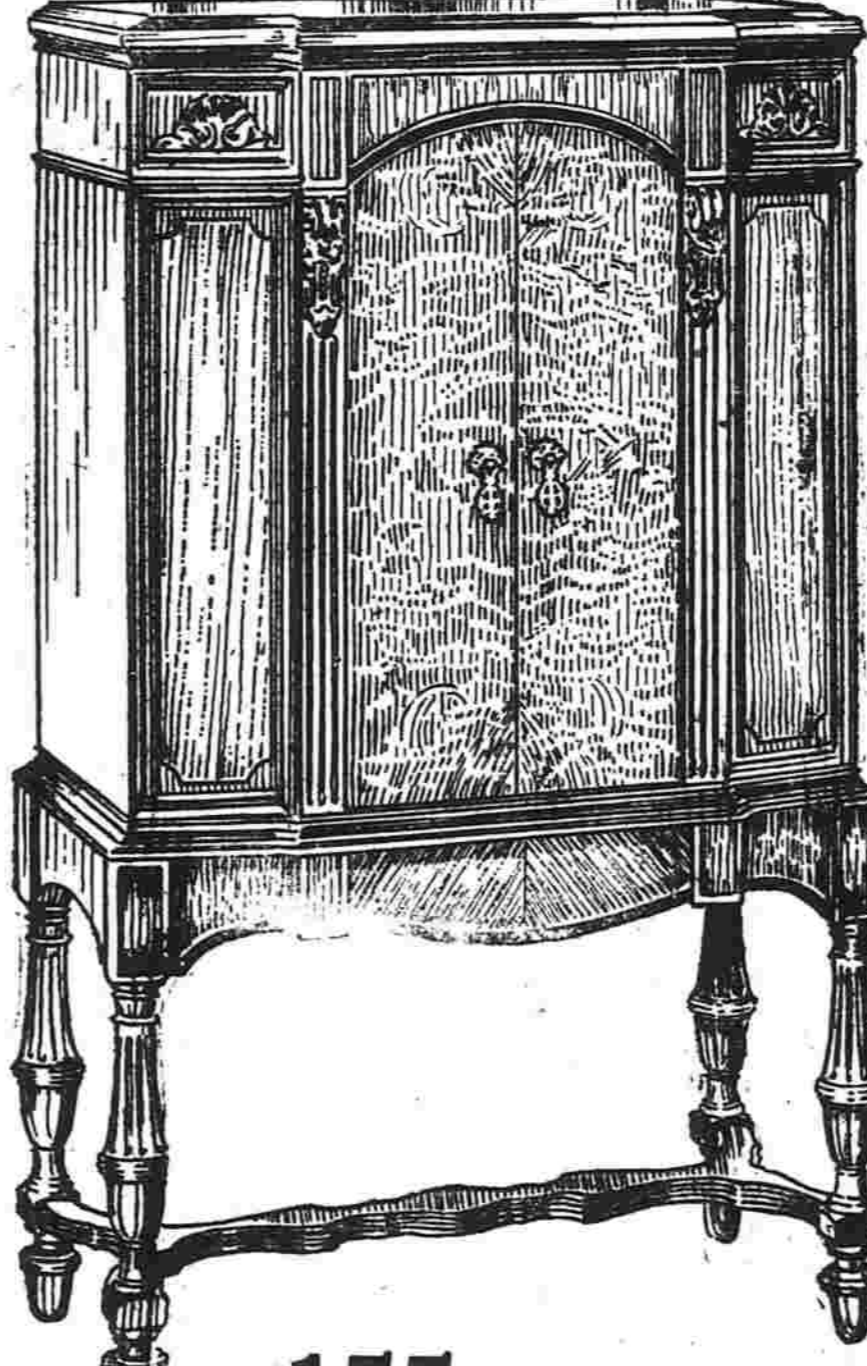

PRINCESS' FUNERAL

London, Jan. 9.—(AP)—The body of Louise, princess royal, lay today before the altar in Albert Memorial chapel, preparatory to funeral Saturday. The motor hearse was delayed 90 minutes bringing the body from Windsor to London last night because of the fog. The removal was without ceremony. The court returned to London today from Sandringham so that King George, Queen Mary and other members of the royal family may attend the funeral. The Queen and the Duchess were dressed entirely in black and the King and his two sons wore long, black overcoats. The earliest forms of cards were called "sheet dice" and began to appear, according to one authority, as early as the seventh century.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
(Sponge Baths)

Question: G. H. writes: "I am an old man in my 81st year. I am not able to take a bath any more. When I get into the bathtub I have no strength in my limbs to lift myself out. Also, when I lie down in bed the dead pain comes into my knees and keeps me awake. Is there any cure for me?"

Answer: It is seldom necessary to get into a tub to take a good bath. The best way is to use a wet towel and rub the body all over, using soap if it seems necessary, but soap is usually not required unless you are doing some work which makes the body dirty from the outside. Sponge or shower baths are by far the best kind of baths for any one to take at any age.

(Bone-building Foods)
Question: R. J. K. asks: "Will you please give me a list of bone-building foods, and will they actually assist in the growth of bone in children?"

Answer: The organic minerals out of which bones are made can be best secured from the following foods: Spinach, lettuce, cabbage, Swiss chard, turnips, asparagus, tomatoes, celery, cucumbers, but greens, figs, lemons, oranges, milk and egg yolk.

(Green Beans and Macaroni)
Question: C. V. asks: "Is there any reason why green beans and macaroni should not be eaten together?"

Answer: Green beans and macaroni make an excellent combination.

(Nervous Breakdown)
Question: L. O. asks: "What is the best known remedy for a nervous breakdown?"

Answer: The first thing to do is to find the cause of what you call a nervous breakdown. As soon as this cause is removed your breakdown will be broken up, and you will not know where it has disappeared.

LONE BANDIT HOLDS UP

JUDGE, CHIEF AND COP

Pittsburgh, Jan. 9.—(AP)—A lone bandit early today held up a Millvale squire's office, robbed a state highway patrolman, a chief of police and a justice of the peace of their guns and money and escaped.

Corporal Larry Moore of the Pennsylvania highway patrol, Chief of Police Phil Mitchell and Justice of the Peace Eugene Mehrich sat chatting in Mehrich's office, when the door flew open and the trio found themselves facing a leering bandit with two guns poised for action.

Smiling at the uniformed highway patrolman, the intruder ordered him to place his money and gun on a chair near the door. Moore complied, as did Mitchell and Mehrich in turn.

Pocketing one gun, the bandit scooped up his loot with his free hand, then waving a cheery good-by to his victims he vanished through the door.

HUT FOR LEGISLATORS

Topeka, Jan. 8.—(AP)—A resolution calling for construction of a log cabin dormitory on the State House grounds to provide living quarters for members of the Kansas Legislature in keeping with their $3 a day "generous allowance" has been prepared for introduction in the House of Representatives.

Representative Caldwell Davis, Democrat of Bourbon county, a brother of Jonathan M. Davis, former governor, is the sponsor.

The log cabin would be provided with wooden bunks and supplied with "fresh, clean straw twice weekly," and tallow candles which could be burned until 9 p. m.

In five elections the voters have rejected constitutional amendments calling for increases in the pay of the Kansas lawmakers.

TO PROTECT WHALES

Washington.—The wholesale slaughter of whales for commercial purposes which is killing off this huge animal will cease if a bill presented to the League of Nations is passed, according to a report from the U. S. Department of State. It is hoped that by instituting a partially "closed" season on whales, similar to that instituted by the United on seals, the number of the former will greatly increase in the next few years.

Los Angeles firemen who were defeated by North Dakota University, 14 to 9, in a post-season football game recently have probably been licked worse by flames.

WATERBURY CHARTER

The city of Waterbury, poor thing! is in the throes of new charter agitation. It is a terrible thing to have to go through, a sort of political major surgical operation, for it is not only painful but risky.

According to all reports Waterbury needs the operation badly, being afflicted with gangrenous affection of the innards. May she come out of it healed and whole. But such well wishing is clouded, as cheery well wishes in hospitals so often are, by sombre reflections upon what has happened in certain other cases we all know about.

It isn't often, to be sure, that a municipality dies under the operating knife, but there have been some instances where the cure turned out to be about as bad as the disease. Some of the bright new charters have proven to be something less than no improvement at all.

It is proposed to create a council of five to nine members in place of the board of aldermen, one member of which shall be called the mayor but shall have no executive power, and a city manager selected by the council to be the high boss of the city. The only officials elected by the people would be the council and these must be chosen without political party designation.

The details of the charter seem to have been carefully worked out—but we wait with eager interest to see a municipal council possessing legislative powers that will be content to hire a city manager and then sit back and either take orders from him or refrain from interfering with him.

The important things is not to count the unemployed," says Chairman Wood of the Hoover Committee on Unemployment, "but to do something for them. The main thing is to get the man a job. Relief is secondary. If the man has a job he can take care of himself." At the same time Mr. Wood guessed that the number of the jobless was between four and five million and guessed again that there would be no improvement before spring.

Obviously Mr. Wood is no Moses to lead us out of the wilderness. We seem, for that matter, to be suffering from a complete shortage of Moseses. The only people doing anything effective to hurl back the depression are the manufacturers who are calling back their hands in a fine sporting hope of being able to sell the things the men will make.

Who in Washington has gone to work seriously to find out: How much of America's farm products is there a chance of selling, anywhere in the world, in the next two years?

How many automobiles is there a chance of selling, anywhere in the world, in the next two years? How much structural steel, lumber, cement, hardware, machinery, textiles is there a chance of selling, anywhere in the world, in the next two years?

LAW EXAMINATIONS

Joseph A. Higgins of Hartford, a law student who was denied permission to take the Connecticut State Bar examination because of an unfavorable report of the committee on admissions of the Hartford County Bar Association, is conducting a fight for the repeal of the present laws governing bar admissions and for the establishment of a State Law Examining Board along regulatory lines similar to the existing legislation in regard to the healing arts and the medical profession.

If young Mr. Higgins prepared his own petition to the General Assembly it will strike those who may have read it that, whatever it is to be, it should be his personal character—which appears to have been the issue between him and the bar committee—he has the makings of an excellent lawyer so far as capacity for argument is concerned. We have read a good many briefs and listened to a good deal of learned legal discussion, but we don't remember having encountered a more skillfully prepared argument than the one he offers in favor of a reform in the method of making new lawyers in Connecticut.

The barest gist of it is that while the law up to 1890 reposed in the judges of the Superior Court not only the power to admit persons to the practice of law but also the duty of establishing rules relative to the admission, qualifications, practice and removal of attorneys, that control, with the tacit consent of the judges, was usurped by the bar associations until 1890, when a new law loosely delegated the determination of fitness to those bodies. That the proceedings of the bar associations in passing upon the fitness of candidates violate the original purpose of the law and the constitutional rights of applicants. That instead of the qualifications of the candidate for examination being passed on by the courts or even by the Bar Associations, they are determined by committees of two lawyers, without notice or hearing and without opportunity to present evidence in refutation of allegations or slanders that may have come to the ears of the committee. That reports of such committees are made in public, and that however libelous and untrue they may be they become matters of record and are privileged so that the aggrieved candidate has no redress.

On the face of it Mr. Higgins makes out an excellent case against the present system, for there is little sympathy in this country with ex parte legal proceedings. No criminal is ever denied the right to be heard in his own defence. Also it is easily conceivable that a candidate for admission to the bar might be victimized if the committee on his case had private and personal reasons for wishing him excluded.

On the other hand Mr. Higgins would seem to be not only up against the excessive conservatism of the legal profession but under the necessity of meeting a deep prejudice on the part of the public against the admission of any more lawyers than are being made under the present system; particularly against any greater liberality than we have been accustomed to in the matter of character.

We have no idea how far Mr. Higgins and his friends will be able to go toward the objective of placing the practice of law and the practice of medicine on the same level, but considering the potentialities for mischief of either doctor or lawyer when the individual is of the wrong sort, there would appear no obvious reason why they shouldn't fall within the same category.

THE LARGER VIEW

"The important things is not to count the unemployed," says Chairman Wood of the Hoover Committee on Unemployment, "but to do something for them. The main thing is to get the man a job. Relief is secondary. If the man has a job he can take care of himself." At the same time Mr. Wood guessed that the number of the jobless was between four and five million and guessed again that there would be no improvement before spring.

Obviously Mr. Wood is no Moses to lead us out of the wilderness. We seem, for that matter, to be suffering from a complete shortage of Moseses. The only people doing anything effective to hurl back the depression are the manufacturers who are calling back their hands in a fine sporting hope of being able to sell the things the men will make.

method of financing, during the period of renewed production and in advance of collections, those industries whose working capital has become impaired and which do not dare take chances?

If there is no prospect of striking a balance between normal production and consumption of industrial product, what is to be done with the marginal element of permanently unemployed?

Can technological unemployment be cured by scrapping labor saving machinery, and if so is there any way of doing it?

Can the marginal unemployed be made self sustaining on the land without destroying the markets of the present agricultural class?

If so, how can they be placed on the land and brought to the point of self sustenance?

Mr. Legge has had much excellent luck in disarming his critics by calling them liars or telling them to go to hell, sometimes in those exact words and sometimes not, that some of the mere politicians have been surprised that no one ever tried it before. Nevertheless, there is also a feeling that Mr. Legge may not be able to get away with it forever, especially in the farm situation, even though through no fault of his—fails to improve.

The first real comeback in kind which the chairman has had from anyone is the retool of Mr. John A. Simpson of Oklahoma, the new president of the Farmers Union which claims 500,000 members.

Mr. Legge directed the expression "unmitigated liar" at Mr. Simpson and Mr. Simpson has come down on Mr. Legge with both feet, not only tossing a few bushels of raspberries at Mr. Legge but also proposing an investigation to determine whether there is more truth and merit in Mr. Legge or Mr. Simpson. It seems that Mr. Simpson is turning out to be a hard-boiled guy himself and there is a widespread hope of interesting developments if he keeps right after Mr. Legge's scalp.

Legge Defied Committee

Mr. Legge got off to a flying start here when, after President Hoover drafted him from his $100,000-a-year International Harvester job, he told the senators of the agricultural committee—in effect—that if they didn't like him they could go to the devil and he would go back to Chicago. That just about flabbergasted the senators, so accustomed to appointees anxious for confirmation.

Since that time Mr. Legge has shown more than a willingness to fight all comers. He kicked up a great fuss in the Senate when he said farm relief couldn't come through legislation, bringing another retort from Governor Roosevelt.

He has engaged in a long, defiant combat with the organized grain and stock raisers in a brick and mortar fight with those who charged he had injured prohibition by lending money to growers of wine grapes. Had minor arguments with producers' organizations which didn't fall in with the Farm Board's theories and recently intimated that certain Farm Board critics in the Senate were full of cheap "hot air."

"Regulated" Prices

The Legge-Simpson clash centers on the rather startling charge that Mr. Legge admitted to the Senate agricultural committee in secret session that the Farm Board was deliberately holding down the price of wheat and cotton. Senator Thomas, a committee member, told Simpson that Legge had testified the board had stopped the decline of wheat at 69 cents and stopped its rise at 73.

Simpson offers to prove that Legge said he wanted the price of wheat kept low so it would be fed to hogs instead of corn, and that cotton prices should be kept at present levels for the benefit of textile mills. That's the sort of thing that made Legge say anyone who said it was an "unmitigated liar."

You may have acquired some slight experience in shouting and belittling at underlings while you were head of the Harvester Trust," Simpson yelled. "But I have driven mules and called hogs to the feed trough."

Legge, he said, couldn't get away with dragging discussion of issues into the "gutter" or lower the argument to "the level of a bar-room brawl." Legge was also accused of trying to "strut like a two-cent Mussolini," and Simpson demanded to know whether Legge would welcome an investigation of Farm Board marketing activities or "attempt to cover up with bark, belows and shouts."

There is some sentiment for such an investigation and more about it probably will be heard from the caucus Mr. Simpson. Senator Caraway says that Legge told the agricultural committee the exact opposite of what he told the appropriations committee, but no senator is supposed to disclose publicly what is said at a committee's executive sessions, and it appears that no stenographic notes were taken. So when Legge actually said is likely to remain a matter of argument.

The question whether the Farm Board has done agriculture any good remains a matter of argument. Simpson says it has done agriculture much harm. Knowing Simpson's characteristics and Legge's, Washington looks forward to a thriller's arrival here and a really thrilling spectacle when those two actually start after each other.

Washington Letter

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

Washington—Chairman Alexander Legge of the Federal Farm Board has built up for himself an unquestioned reputation as the hardest-boiled guy among important government officials and it has been widely wondered whether he wouldn't eventually qualify as the hardest-boiled guy in the United States.

Mr. Legge has had much excellent luck in disarming his critics by calling them liars or telling them to go to hell, sometimes in those exact words and sometimes not, that some of the mere politicians have been surprised that no one ever tried it before. Nevertheless, there is also a feeling that Mr. Legge may not be able to get away with it forever, especially in the farm situation, even though through no fault of his—fails to improve.

ANTIDOTES FOR COMMON POISONS
Many people accidentally swallow poisons while mistaking them for medicines or harmless preparations. If a person swallows a poison it is always important to act quickly, for often a few minutes delay may mean the loss of life. Great care should be exercised in keeping all poisonous substances in such a way that they cannot be easily obtained or mistaken for non-injurious substances. It is a good plan to keep all supplies of ant. rat, or plant sprays or poisons under lock and key and out of reach of small children. Never put bottles of poisons in a medicine cabinet, and it is also a good plan to label the bottles "POISON" conspicuously and stick pins in the cork so that even in the dark one will be warned.

Vomiting should be induced in some and not in other poisons, so you should first try to find out the name of the poison, but if you cannot find out, the safest plan is to induce vomiting and immediately send for help from a doctor or hospital. Here are some of the more common poisons and their antidotes: Arsenic and Paris Green: Cause vomiting quickly, then give olive oil, butter or sweet milk, and cause vomiting again. Follow with more milk, then give iron rust mixed with water. Follow this with magnesia and later castor oil and sweet spirits of nitre in water.

Lead: Immediately give plenty of epsom salts, using two tablespoonfuls in a glass of water. Also, use castor oil or eggs and milk.

Blue vitriol or Copper: Use milk of magnesia or soapy water or give lime water or chalk and water. Follow with sweet milk, or give eggs, soapy water or flour mixed with water.

Iodine: Mix raw cornstarch or flour with water and make the patient drink as much as possible.

Mercury: Give soap and water, flour and water, or raw eggs or milk. Five minutes later be sure to cause vomiting. This is very important, as the mercury may be absorbed in the intestinal tract and cause poisoning. After vomiting give more eggs or milk.

Lye: Use vinegar, castor oil, lemon juice or milk.

Carbolic Acid: Use olive oil or raw eggs followed by large dose of epsom or glauber salts. Flour and water may be used, or diluted alcohol, epsom salts, milk or sweet oil, and do not make the patient vomit.

Alcohol: Give large quantities of very strong black sweetened coffee.

Fee. Cause vomiting and keep the body warm.

Ammonia: Use diluted vinegar or acetic acid or lemon juice.

Hydrochloric, Muratic, Oxalic, Acetic, Sulphuric Acids: Give weak alkaline drinks promptly. Ammonia in water, 1 tablespoonful to a half pint of water or baking soda, lime, chalk and water, or magnesia. Do not make the patient vomit. Make the patient drink some of these liquids every two minutes.

Phosphorus: Give magnesia in water or potash permanganate 1 2-1000 solution. Do not give oils or fats. Follow with strong tea.

Strychnine: Cause vomiting with mustard and water, and give large quantities of strong tea.

Nitrate of Silver: Give large swallows of salt water followed by milk and vomiting.

Frusic Acid: Give peroxid of hydrogen internally, or kitchen soap or soda. This is a very deadly poison, and the antidote must be given immediately.

You will notice that in these antidotes I have given the most ordinary antidote, you are likely to find at home. In each case you should call a doctor or hospital and have them bring the medicinal antidote as soon as possible. It is a good plan to keep this article, as you may some day need it in a hurry.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
(Heart Trouble)
Question: M. J. writes: "I have been in bed four months with heart trouble, my meals seem to make so much gas, which increases the heart palpitation. Does diet affect the heart?"
Answer: The cause of most heart trouble is an excess accumulation of gas pressing against the heart. This is caused by eating wrong combinations of food, which combinations produce fermentation in the stomach and intestines; also, by eating such foods as dried beans, onions, garlic, cabbage, etc., which always produce a large amount of flatulence.

(English Walnuts)
Question: H. H. asks: "Will you please state whether English walnuts contain carbohydrates? Are they harmful to the kidneys? Do they combine with raw apples, and if so, would that make a balanced lunch? How many should one eat at a time?"
Answer: Most all nuts contain some form of carbohydrate, and English walnuts have about 13 per cent. They have no special effect upon the kidneys, nor are they harmful. They combine well with raw apples and this makes a very good lunch. Two ounces of the nut meats are enough to use for any one meal.

(Herpes)
Question: R. C. asks: "What is the cause of a skin disease called 'Herpes'? How can it be cured?"
Answer: Herpes can be cured through removing the systemic cause which is a form of acidosis. Send for my special Cleansing Diet Course, for which there is no charge. Enclose a large self-addressed stamped envelope with your request.

THE HIGH ROAD
A new Alpine road, a section of the Alpine Highway, is being constructed in Austria and will be one of the highest in the world. It will be about 30 miles long and about 2250 feet above sea level. It is expected to be completed in three years.

HUB MAYOR'S SON DIES SUDDENLY

James M. Curley, Jr., Passes Away Following An Opera- tion—But 23 Years Old.

Boston, Jan. 9.—(AP)—James Michael Curley, Jr., 23, eldest son of the mayor of Boston, died at the City hospital early today after an emergency operation on his gall bladder.

He complained of severe pains last night, and early today was ordered to the City hospital for an emergency operation. A stone was removed from his gall bladder and shortly after the operation had been performed the patient was reported "in fine shape." A change for the worse set in suddenly and unexpectedly and he died shortly after 5 a. m.

Not at Bedside

The mayor and his eldest daughter, Mary, went to the hospital with James, Jr., and stayed near the operating room until the operation was announced "successful." On being assured that the boy was all right they returned to their Jamaica Plain home and were notified of his death by telephone.

The boy inherited the father's gift of oratory. He was a senior at the Harvard Law School and was actively identified with Democratic political campaigns. The mayor has often been called "The Silver-Tongued Orator" and the boy bid fair to take the title for himself within a short time. He had the rich, resonant voice of his father and, despite his youth, was a much sought speaker.

He was born July 25, 1907 in the Roxbury district of the city. The Curley home was in Ward 17, the scene of the mayor's first entrance into politics.

Debating Honors

He attended Notre Dame Academy and was graduated from the Boston Latin School with honors in 1924. While at the Latin school he gained his first honors as a debater. He was also business manager of the school paper and a letterman in football, being forced from the game because of a fractured collarbone.

He entered Boston College on his graduation from the Latin School and was graduated from there in 1928 with the distinction of having attained an average not lower than "B" in all his studies for the four years. He was president of the Fulton Debating Society of Boston College and was the president of his class in his senior year. He entered Harvard Law School on his graduation from college and would have completed his studies at Harvard this year.

Last summer, shortly after the death of his mother, he and two brothers, Leo and Paul, made a tour of Europe. They were granted an audience with Pope Pius XI.

He attended a number of citizen's military training camps and was one of the popular citizen soldiers at Camp Devens a few years ago.

His death was the second in May of Curley's family within a year. Mrs. Curley died in June last year after a long illness.

ACTS AS DICTATOR

Berlin, Jan. 9.—(AP)—Acting under Article 43—the so-called dictator clause—of the German constitution, President von Hindenburg today intervened in a coal dispute which threatened to tie up the Ruhr mines, signing an emergency decree vesting the government's arbiter with wider powers.

It was expected the dispute would be ended by tomorrow with a compromise providing for a six per cent cut in miners' wages. The mine owners have demanded an eight per cent reduction and the miners offered to accept a four per cent cut.

Concrete building blocks coated with a weather-proof surface have been invented in Germany.

ROCKVILLE

Milne Heads Men's Union

The Thirty Second Annual Banquet of the Men's Union of Union Congregational church was held in the church dining rooms on Wednesday evening. The dinner was served by the Ladies Aid society and consisted of roast turkey, mashed potatoes, dressing, mashed squash, brown gravy, rolls, pickles, pie, coffee and sweet cider. A special permit was granted the members which included Whoopee; while eating; No speed nor capacity limit; Overtime parking to assure satisfaction and Eat and be Merry. The invocation was given by Rev. George S. Brookes, who also acted as toastmaster of the evening. Songs were sung with A. E. Waite as cheer leader.

The program opened with remarks by the president, William A. Schaefer, who introduced Rev. George S. Brookes as toastmaster. Then things commenced to hum. The good natured pastor kept things lively and wittily and humorously introduced each number on the program.

The secretary and treasurer's reports were read, which showed the Men's Union had done excellent work during the past year. This was followed by selections by The Banjo Boys of Hartford.

The nominating committee consisting of Frances S. Nettleton, David A. Sykes and Clarence W. Cady made a report and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, George B. Milne; vice-president, Charles E. Leonard; treasurer, Louis Newman; secretary, Herbert Cockayne. The executive committee includes the newly elected officers and David Sykes, Frederick J. Cooley, Charles Leonard, A. LeRoy Martin, Philip M. Howe and Francis S. Nettleton. At the close of the election of officers, the Church School Orchestra rendered selections.

An added feature was a surprise for Mayor A. E. Waite, who has given much of his time and musical talent for the benefit of the Men's Union. He was presented with a musical stand and baton, the presentation being made by the president, William Schaefer in a brief manner, followed by more music from the Banjo Boys of Hartford.

The address of the evening was given by Rev. Harold A. Clemens of Hartford, who had as his subject "Divine Aggression" which was most interesting.

The banquet and annual meeting of the Men's Union came to a successful close about 10:30, all congratulating the committee for the success of the big event.

Friendly Class Social

The Friendly Class of Union Congregational church held its January meeting and social in the chapel of the church on Wednesday night. The meeting was called to order by the newly elected president, Mrs. Gertrude Kingston. The following committees were announced for the ensuing year: Lookout committee, Mrs. Gregus, Mrs. Richard Blankenberg, Mrs. George S. Brookes and Mrs. Bertha Schaefer; Welcome committee, Mrs. Arthur Davis, James R. Quinn and Luther H. Fuller; Calendar committee, Miss Minnie Tennstedt; Press correspondent, George Herzog; Flower committee, Mrs. Hattie Kingston, Rev. George S. Brookes, Mrs. Bertha Pteschke, Miss Flora Snyder and Mrs. Elizabeth Kuhly; Associate and Honorary Membership committee, Mrs. Emma Lisk, Miss Margaret Schmogro and Mrs. Mary Kingston. Mrs. Bernard Woodley has been named chairman of the February committee.

Following there was a most enjoyable entertainment program including readings by Miss Constance Brookes and Mrs. Hattie Kingston; also piano selections by Mrs. Herbert Cockayne. Refreshments were served by the January committee: Mrs. Dora Preusse, Mrs. Fred Fryer, Mrs. Hattie Kingston, Mrs. Bertha Petschke, Mrs. Herbert Cockayne, Mrs. B. Weber and Mrs. Paul Weber.

There was only a decrease of $30

Don't Go To Extremes To End Constipation

When bad breath, or a coated tongue, biliousness, or headaches warn of constipation, don't take violent purgatives. There's no use when a candy Cascaret will stop the trouble in a jiffy; will cleanse your system pleasantly, and completely. The relief you get so promptly from Cascarets is lasting. Cascarets are made from cascara, a substance which medical authorities agree actually strengthens the bowel muscles.

So Cascarets are a blessing to old folks with weakened bowels; to children; to anyone in need of establishing regular bowel habits. Ten cents a box—all drug stores.—Adv.

OIL BURNER EXPLODES, INJURES GARAGE MAN

George Harbison of Maple Street Filling Station Burned About the Face and Hands.

George Harbison, proprietor of the Super-Service filling station, 9 Maple street was burned in a stove explosion at the service station on Maple street at 4:40 yesterday afternoon. Attempting to light a small-unit oil burner in the filling station office which had apparently gone out, the lighted taper ignited accumulated gases and a sheet of flame shot out burning Harbison about the eyes, head and hands.

The injured man attributed his escape from more serious injury to the fact that he was conversing with a man in the office at the time of the explosion and had his face partly turned away from stove at the time of the blast. Gloves and a sweater that Harbison was wearing at the time were burned.

First aid was given the injured man at Miner's drug store after which he was taken to his home in Hartford. W. George Harbison of Hartford and Charles A. Fretz of West Hartford took over the filling station on a lease from the Home Bank and Trust Co., Nov. 29 last.

SILVER PRICE DROPS

Shanghai, Jan. 9.—(AP)— Continued decline in the price of silver is causing uneasiness in government and business circles, observers fearing critical results unless efforts are made by western nations to "peg" the price.

Importers face the possibility that Chinese buyers will repudiate their orders because of declining silver, thereby embarrassing the government's foreign loan commitments by lack of revenue from imports.

London transfers this afternoon closed at 15 1-4 pence while New York quoted 30 7-8 cent per tael.

BAPTIE AND LAMB FOR ICE CARNIVAL

World Famous Fancy Skaters From New York Secured To Appear At Manchester's Annual Ice Carnival On February First.

The Center Springs Carnival committee in planning for the best winter carnival ever, has secured the country's premier skating attractions, Norval Baptie and Gladys Lamb of New York City for the headline act at the Center Springs Ice Carnival scheduled for Feb. 1.

Norval Baptie is one of the country's oldest active skaters, and although over 50 years of age formerly held many records in the United States. He is coming with Miss Lamb direct from Madison Square Garden, New York City where he is developing a new act in the Olympic ice games to be held at Lake Placid next winter.

Still Going Strong At 52 years, Norval Baptie, small, lithe, swarthy, with a few gray hairs at his temples is still leading the country's figure skating artists. Just 31 years ago last week Baptie shot across the ice of Lake Minnetonka, near Minneapolis, at a speed of 50 feet a second, the fastest pace ever officially recorded for any human being on his feet.

In that two-day meet in 1899, Baptie, then 21, was the world's champion speed skater. He attained a quarter of a mile in 28 and one-half seconds, a half mile in 1 and two-fifths minutes and the mile in 2 minutes and 8 seconds. This was a record almost twice as fast as Paavo Nurmi attained when he established a world's record for the mile.

Baptie never attained that speed again, although he continued to race until he was in his forties. He then turned his attention to figure skating, and with blonde Gladys Lamb, was engaged by New York's elite as instructors at the Garden Icy Club. Baptie and Lamb spent eight or nine hours a day on the Garden Icy Club in marvelous condition to display their wares on Center Springs Pond.

In 1928 in an unofficial race in Springfield, Mass. Norval Baptie at the age of 50 beat Everett MacGowan, world's champion speed skater of 1923, in a race. Baptie and Lamb, the stellar attraction for the winter ice carnival at Center Springs Park were the feature attractions at the ice carnival two years ago. One of the largest crowds ever to gather for any sporting event in Manchester watched these talented artists perform at that time. A friendship formed at that time with Frank "Woody" Walleit, resulted in a promise by Baptie and Miss Lamb to help out if possible in later years.

The carnival committee is in negotiations in securing the country's best in the way of skating attractions which will be augmented by other artists from various points in New England. This year's carnival bids fair to exceed in interest any in the history of Manchester.

WAYNE MUNN DIES IN SAN ANTONIO

San Antonio, Tex., Jan. 9.—(AP)—Wayne Munn, 35, former heavyweight wrestling champion, died early today in the base hospital Fort Sam Houston, from bright's disease.

Munn is survived by his widow, Edna W. Munn; three brothers, Mary Ann, three brothers, and a sister. The gigantic athlete, who gained fame in football at the University of Nebraska and later became recognized as world's heavyweight wrestling champion by defeating Ed "Strangler" Lewis at Kansas City in 1923, came to San Antonio for treatment about a year ago.

Munn refereed a few wrestling bouts, gave exhibitions on request and spoke before schools and clubs. His condition gradually failed and about ten days ago he became gravely ill.

OLYMPIC GAMES COLLEGE REWARD

Best Hockey Six To Be Selected To Compete In International Event.

By WILLIAM H. METCALFE Captain, University of Wisconsin Hockey Team

College hockey teams swinging into action this winter are aiming their shots at more than the meshes of a goal at a mere conference championship. America's entry in the Olympic hockey matches of 1932 will be chosen from those teams which show the best results in the present season.

With the international games scheduled for this country, all efforts are being made to muster a high-ranking, well-balanced team that will have the advantages of playing together for a season.

Hockey has long been a popular sport in such eastern schools as Dartmouth, Army, Yale and Harvard but only in recent years has it taken hold in the middle west and Pacific Coast regions. Consequently, eastern teams have had an edge over western schools but whether they will be able to maintain this supremacy is doubtful.

Marquette University lost but one series to an eastern foe last year and present indications are that they will be as good or better this winter. Leading the Hilltop sextet in Bill Schultz, stonewall goal tender and Wisconsin product. Strangely, not another member of the regular team is from that state.

One forward line composed of stellar sophomores is entirely Canadian; another has been transplanted from Hibbing, Minn. The Canadians, Wetlofer, McCann and Finklinger, although new to collegiate hockey, are long in experience in the penalty boxes during one winter's schedule. But Eddie finally reformed, as did other "bad men" of the hockey ranks. It's almost impossible anymore to get Shore or Babe Siebert or Red Dutton into a fight on the ice. They avoid the collisions whenever possible. However, all this may have been done because their respective features no longer will hold a doctor's stitches.

Two of hockey's pioneering professionals today occupy managerial roles in this country. One is Les Patrick, manager of the New York Rangers. Another is "Happy Harry" Holmes, owner and pilot of the Cleveland Indians.

Hockey and Patrick are synonymous in New York; he took it there, installed it in Madison Square Garden and as pilot increased its favor.

Michigan Tech. as the school is commonly known, has six lettermen led by Jack Kilpatrick, a Canadian. All-america selection. Unless miracles occur, Minnesota will find herself hopelessly outclassed this winter. The Gophers have but four veterans. These are Conway, Hollingsworth, Gould and Tilton and the latter may be lost through eligibility rules. Only Cavanaugh and Gibbs of the sophomores show promise and Coach Pond must break in a new goal tender from last season's second string.

As an Olympic prospect, Minnesota seems definitely out of the picture, but the other four teams have almost an equal chance of being chosen. From a pre-season point of view, Wisconsin and Marquette appear strongest, but Michigan and Michigan Tech will be near the top.

Canadian Cyclone, Called Hockey, Blows Across U. S.

A whirlwind sweeping down from Canada's frozen stretches several years ago struck the fancy of this country's thrill-seeking sport public. After 10 years of whirling gyrations and mile-a-minute speed, it has grown into the biggest professional sport of the winter season.

Oh yes — professional hockey is the whirlwind's name. It is played in six healthy professional circuits embracing the United States and Canada, and in dozens of amateur, Les Patrick collegiate and scholastic circles here and to the north.

Many things have happened in the development of the "sainny on your own side" game to a thriving hockey industry of more than $30,000,000 investment providing thrills annually for more than 3,000,000 paying fans. They made artificial ice first and then built indoor rinks. Then they started to tinker with the rules. Meanwhile, salaries of the professional players increased tenfold.

There was a time when Canadian mothers kept their youngsters at night by the mere mention of the name "Saskatchewan Eddie" Shore. Eddie was the "hockey man" of hockey, and carried that reputation to the Boston Bruins of the National League. Only a few seasons ago he got something like three hours of sleep in the penalty boxes during one winter's schedule.

But Eddie finally reformed, as did other "bad men" of the hockey ranks. It's almost impossible anymore to get Shore or Babe Siebert or Red Dutton into a fight on the ice. They avoid the collisions whenever possible. However, all this may have been done because their respective features no longer will hold a doctor's stitches.

Ban Johnson Has A Foot Operation
 St. Louis, Jan. 9.—(AP)—The departure of Ban Johnson, former president of the American League from St. Luke's hospital where he has been several months suffering from diabetes has been delayed by an operation. He went through the operation, performed early this week without the aid of an anesthetic. A bone was removed from his foot. When he is able to bear his weight on the foot, his commotion will head for Florida, via Excelsior Springs, Mo.

Bruins Is A Star Among Defense Men, drawing a season's salary of $12,000 or thereabouts. Clancy of Toronto, Johnson of the Rangers and Stewart and Cochrane of the Maroons belong in the group also. Roy Worters, N. Y. American's goalie, happens to be in a class with Mickey Cochrane as a backstop.

The game now needs American stars, Holmes believes. He reasons that it would be far more interesting to the fans if each team had one or two home-grown puck-chasers.

Says He Could Stand Another Pitcher But Adds "Who Couldn't?"; Figures Six Clubs Dangerous.

New York, Jan. 9.—(AP)—Switching from the National to the American League and from the differences in the hitting and pitching eccentricities of the stars of one major circuit to another, is the least of the worries ahead of Joe McCarthy, late of the Chicago Cubs and now head man with the N. Y. Yankees.

"Baseball is baseball in any league," says plump Joe, visiting his new domain for the first time since contracting to replace Bob Shawkey in the Yank pilot seat. "You can't get away from the figures. Some hit 'em and some don't and the figures never lie. When I came into the National League from Louisville five years ago everyone told me what to do—never to pitch to 'Irish' Meusel of the Giants for instance. They didn't need to worry and tell me that. All I had to do was look at the averages. He sure could knock in those runs. So there was a nice spot waiting for him on first base every time he came up with men on the other sacks. That's baseball in any league."

Gazing over the squad that comprises the Yankee team he has just seen in action since the glamorous days of the four game rout of the Pirates in the world series of 1927, McCarthy does not see where he is badly off at all. He would like another pitcher "but so would every other club in the league," he says. Deals with the St. Louis Browns and Boston Red Sox for another pitcher have fallen through.

YALE MAGAZINE AGAINST COACH

New Haven, Jan. 9.—(AP)—The Yale Alumni Weekly in an editorial published today urges abolition of paid football coaches except for freshman teams.

"In football," the editorial says, "a practicable plan would be to have the freshman year under a competent salaried coach attached to the university who would develop incoming material each year to go on later to the upper class, inter-house teams and into the varsity eleven."

"Such a plan, if right in its premises, would come as a result of the coming house development at Yale. And such a plan obviously could not be attempted by Yale alone. Amateur athletics needs to be matched against amateur athletics so that Yale's traditional rivals should join in."

ANOTHER PAPKE LOOMS IN RING

Billy Jr., Age 19, Weight 175; Ready To Take On His First Opponent.

Los Angeles, Jan. 9.—The name Billy Papke, outstanding 20 years ago in boxing and still famous, is about to rise and shine again. But this time it's Billy, Jr., who is carrying on the fighting tradition.

Billy, Jr., 19, weighing 175 pounds, has embarked on a career that appears, at the outset, destined to lead him to the top of the heavy-weight ranks. In the last few months he has had half a dozen professional fights. Four he won by knockouts. In one he broke a hand but still took the decision.

Three of the knockouts were in the first round. One knockout was given him gratis. In the third round of a scheduled four-round bout, young Billy's opponent could not continue. Jack Doyle, of the Olympic Club here, stopped the slaugther.

Billy, Jr., enters his occupation unlike a majority of the youngsters, he will not have to pay with a battered face or body to learn boxing. And he won't be "on his heels" — punched on the head — as many of his fellows are.

Billy, Sr., square-headed, solid and a smart boxer, saw in his son several years ago an almost identical build begin to develop. Father and son look alike and are alike in great many ways. Their basic for instance, are square-jawed and broad — hands that punch.

Five years ago young Billy began his preliminary training with Billy, Sr., as a hard-boiled trainer. Strict discipline has been the lot of Billy, Jr. He often wanted to cut loose in a good exciting brawl. But Billy, Sr., was too wise.

"He must know how to box first," said Pa Papke. "This is a business. Like any other business, the fellow who has the best training wins."

Billy, Jr., fought 16 amateur fights and lost none of them. Right now he could go 10 rounds and it wouldn't hurt him, his father believes. But he is being brought along slowly.

Billy, Jr., will put on a few pounds more — possibly reaching a peak at about 180. This is in his favor, the father believes. "A fighter at 180 pounds or thereabouts who knows how to handle his weight has proved much better than the heavier and slower fighters," he points out.

Can't Afford To Embark On Its Perilous Trip With A Single Defeat

Five Straight Out of Town Games Follow Tonight's Battle Here With Meriden So Victory Is Essential; Both Teams Undefeated.

LEAGUE STANDING

Team	Won	Lost
Meriden	1	0
Middletown	1	0
Bristol	1	1
West Hartford	0	2
East Hartford	0	3

Meriden at Manchester, East Hartford at Bristol, Middletown at West Hartford.

If Manchester can beat Meriden tonight, it will embark on its perilous five-game out-of-town cruise with four C. C. I. L. victories to its credit out of a possible ten and thus stand an excellent chance of at least tying for the 1930-31 pennant. A defeat tonight would seriously endanger those prospects.

The two schoolboy quintets clash at the State Armory surface here at 8:30, or immediately after the conclusion of the battle between the Junior Varsity contingents. Meriden is coming here with a stainless record, having won all three of its contests, Alumni, West Hartford and Bulkeley of Hartford. Only one of these was a league triumph.

Notwithstanding the brilliant victory over Bristol, and its clean slate to date which gives Manchester a commanding lead in the Central Connecticut Interscholastic League, the Clarke troupers are fully aware of the storms which may make their voyage very rough at times during the next five weeks.

Manchester High will turn out en masse this evening to pay tribute to the red and white for routing Bristol and at the same time to hold a sort of a farewell party in honor of their forthcoming five weeks' absence during which they will meet West Hartford, Middletown, Willimantic, Bristol and Meriden in succession after which they will return home, unscathed let us hope to take on West Hartford, Middletown, Rockville and Willimantic.

Obviously there is plenty of hard work to be done during the balance of January and the cold month of February. And so if Manchester can dispose of Meriden tonight, it will have a sufficiently firm grasp on first place to withstand one defeat without necessarily losing the championship. Bristol is lying in wait for Manchester's arrival and makes no denial of the fact that it thoroughly intends to snap the Manchester winning streak.

Manchester High will be a favorite to beat Meriden this evening yet

TAXES ON INSTALLMENT PLAN PROVES BIG AID

Those Who Must Pay Off Old Liens Find It Easier To Cut Them Down a Little At a Time.

Favorable comment was heard after the announcement in The Herald that the directors of the Eighth School and Utilities District were accepting part payments on liens in the treasury applying such payments against the old liens and in this way cutting down the interest cost.

It will also be more pleasing to many to know that the town is also engaged in a somewhat similar effort. Each year the tax collected in Manchester runs to an average of 94 to 96 per cent of the rate book.

The Selectmen a year ago turned over to Town Counsel William S. Hyde the existing tax liens with the intention of securing collections or taking the action, if necessary, of foreclosure upon the property as a tax runs against the property regardless of ownership.

Judge Hyde adopted a method of getting in touch with these people, making known the condition that existed and in many cases, arrangements were made where old taxes and liens might be paid in installments. As a result of this many can make their payments more easily.

Payments are made to Judge Hyde who renders monthly returns and since the closing of the town year on August 15, 1929, he has collected and turned over to the town treasurer and town tax collector over $10,000.

This is not intended as a permanent measure of collecting taxes in Manchester but one adopted only during the present depression as it has been found that in many cases owners of property paying for a home and finding their income curtailed are often in a much more difficult position than those who are not house owners.

For the present it is making additional work for the tax collector who is applying such amounts that he receives against the oldest of the town holds interest. This naturally entails some extra bookkeeping, but it is getting money in that might eventually have been lost to the town.

HELD IN HIGH BONDS ON BURGLARY CHARGE

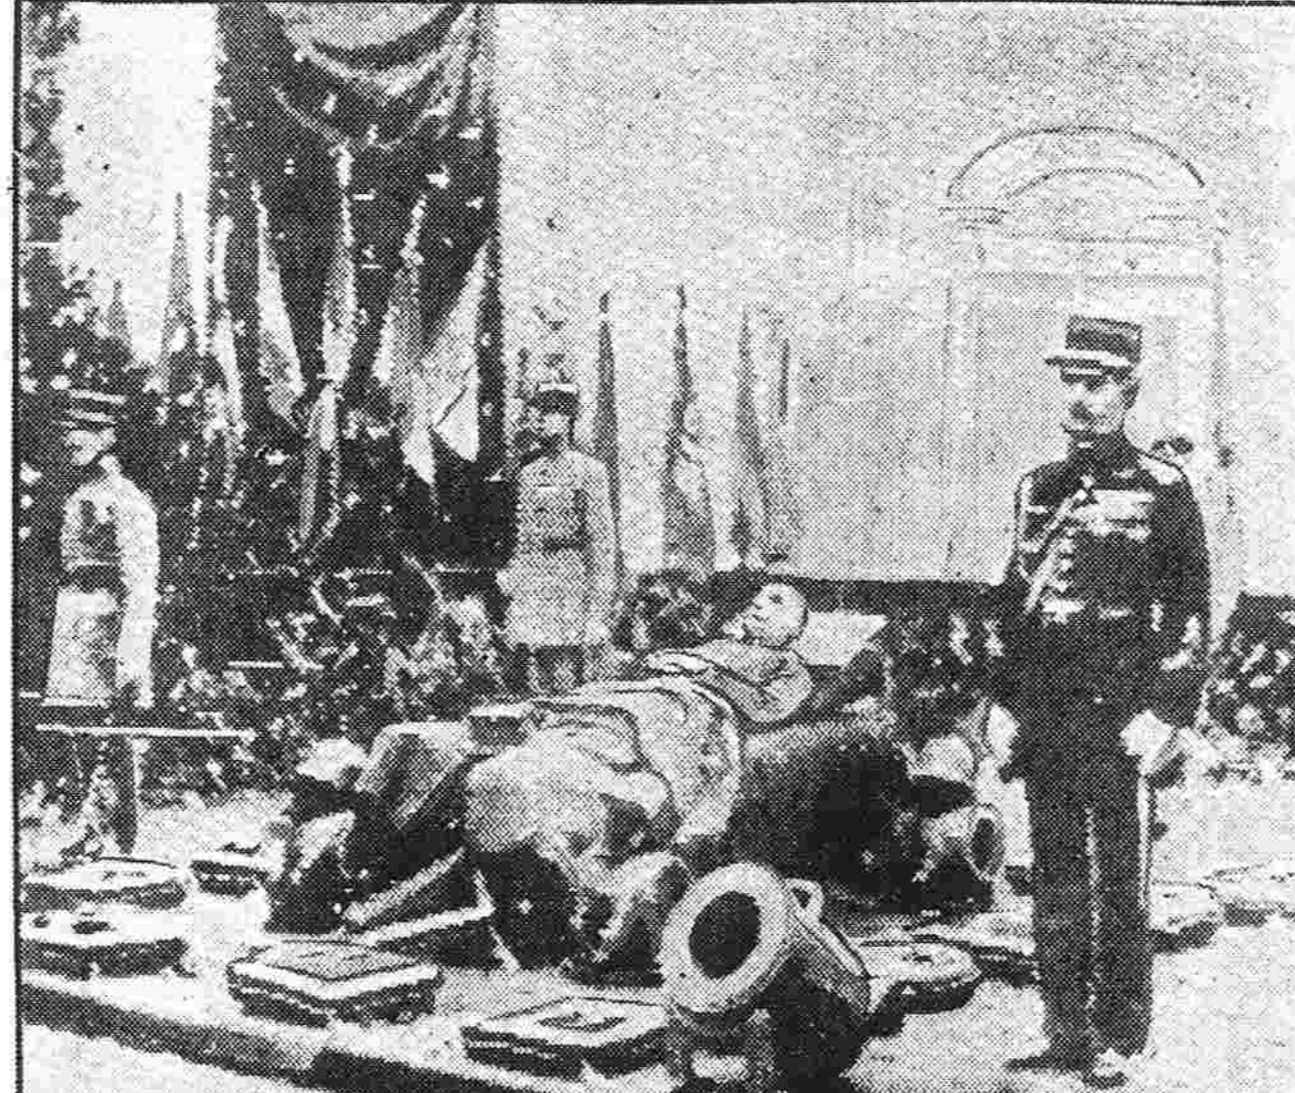

Greenwich, Jan. 9.—(AP)—Monte Rowe, 21, of Rock Mount, N. C., arrested last night with a companion after their automobile had been wrecked while pursued by police, was held in $7,500 bonds today when arraigned in town court on charges of attempted robbery and carrying concealed weapons. His case was continued until tomorrow.

Rowe's companion, William Highsmith, 23, also of Rocky Mount, was confined in a hospital with minor injuries suffered in the accident. He will probably be arraigned tomorrow.

Police surprised the men during an attempted holdup in the tailor shop of Gaston L. Pearl. The bandits escaped in their machine but two miles away the car left the highway and landed in a brook after crashing into a stone wall. Two revolvers and a blacksmith's hammer were found in the wreckage.

Rowe, police said, had served a two-year prison term in North Carolina.

BODY OF FRENCH WAR HERO LYING IN STATE

While all France paid tribute to the memory of Marshal Joseph Jacques Joffre, the people of Paris filed by thousands through the chapel of the Ecole Militaire to view the scene shown in this first picture to reach the United States. After the 78-year-old war hero had succumbed to his fifteen-day illness, the body was brought to the chapel where, as it lay in state, a constant guard of high French officers was maintained. This picture, transmitted across the ocean by cable, shows how a blue military cloak partly covered the body and how around the bed were arranged 20 cushions bearing the decorations Marshal Joffre won during his long career as a soldier.

The Eighth School District will send eight pupils from the district to the February class of the Manchester High school, this being the first year that such a class will enter the High school under the double graduation schedule that is to be followed from this year on.

From the Seventh District there will be one pupil to enter the class making a total of nine that will come from the outlying districts.

The pupils who are to enter have been given the necessary examination and tests and have been found well enough advanced to warrant their continuing further studies in the High school. They, with the pupils that will come from the Ninth District schools will make up what will be known as 1934 B class.

WOODCOCK TO RESUME TOUR OF INSPECTION

Washington, Jan. 9.—(AP)—Prohibition Administrator Woodcock is about to resume his travels, inspecting first hand the efforts of his dry agents and the conditions they are making.

Hurriedly recalled to the capital some weeks ago by President Hoover and Attorney General Mitchell just as he was about to sail for Honolulu, Woodcock has been helping steer the prohibition appropriation measures up to the floor of Congress.

As soon as money matters are settled, he said today, he plans to take up just where he left off, first visiting the Minnesota district and then the west coast before sailing for Hawaii.

The former Maryland attorney was enthusiastic about the progress his small army of dry agents have made since he became the Federal prohibition chief last July 1.

"The Prohibition Bureau has made great advances in efficiency, loyalty and esprit de corps," Woodcock asserted. "We have a better bureau than we had six months ago. And we are going to enforce this law decently or we won't enforce it."

Despite the refusal of Congress to appropriate $10,000 for publicity, Woodcock made clear today the bureau will continue publication of pamphlets and educational monographs designed to disseminate facts about prohibition.

Miss Betty Harvey Gets Five Dollars and Bronze Medal For Her Efforts.

At an Eighth District school assembly held a week ago Miss Betty Harvey was presented with a check for five dollars and a bronze medal awarded her as third prize in the last National Safety Essay Contest. The competition has become very keen in schools all over the country and it is a great honor to win even a third prize.

The prize was won last May, but in order to have it properly inscribed it was necessary to recheck the name of the pupil, school, grade and age and this resulted in the long delay between the time that the announcement of the prize having been won and the awarding of the medal and the money.

FILMLAND SCARED; IS ARMING ITSELF

Kidnaping and Robbery of Lita Grey Chaplin Believed To Be Challenge.

Hollywood, Calif., Jan. 9.—(AP)—Filmland is preparing itself for war—blank cartridges have been replaced by real ones in weapons backed up by hitherto synthetic warriors, as picture folk accept what they believe to be a challenge from the underworld.

The warlike atmosphere prevailing in this star spangled city is the result of the kidnaping and robbing in New York Wednesday night of Lita Grey Chaplin. Mrs. Chaplin was robbed of $140,000 in jewels.

The action of the kidnapers who robbed the former wife of Charlie Chaplin, with her escort Georges Carpentier former heavyweight boxer and now an actor, at the point of pistols, was regarded here today as a possible forerunner of future similar attempts on people of the films.

Robbery attempts made recently in Hollywood which resulted disastrously for the would-be holdup men, further strengthened the belief of film folk that the attractive field offered by them to gunmen had been recognized by the underworld.

Have Armed Guards
The chauffeurs of Janet Gaynor, Edmund Lowe, and Winfield Sheehan, film executive hold permits to carry arms, and armed guards patrol the estates of Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks, Gloria Swanson, Harold Lloyd and many others prominent in pictures.

Guards accompany the children of some of the film stars at all times. Watchmen protect the actors and their estates. Hollywood has taken on the complexion of an armed camp.

Thugs in recent robbery attempts on picture stars were bested when George O'Brien, portrayer of heroic roles, battered two men to the ground after disarming them, and

CLEVER SWINDLE FOILED

Fitchburg, Mass., Jan. 9.—(AP)—An incredulous and fast sprinting bank teller today collared Walter Meyers, alias Williams 30, of New York, said to be wanted in many cities on bad check charges. Meyers, police said while bare-five years, headed, entered the Safety Fund National bank and asked the teller, William S Young, to cash a check for $95.50 drawn on the account of a local store where Meyers said he worked. The teller became suspicious, and when he began asking questions, Meyers fled, police said, with the teller in hot pursuit. Young collared Meyers just as he reached his parked car some distance away. Meyers gave his address as the Lincoln hotel, New York City.

To stimulate aviation in China, it is reported, the government will admit all imported airplane parts and accessories free of duty for the next

RECEIVER IS NAMED FOR KINGSTON & CO.

Hartford, Jan. 9.—(AP)—Over the opposition of counsel for Frederick E. Kingston, and his brother, Harold Kingston, and of Attorney Benjamin F. Slade, named Federal receiver of the brokerage firm of F. E. Kingston and Company and their behest, Judge Edwin C. Dickenson confirmed the appointment of the Phoenix State Bank and Trust Company as temporary receiver of the firm in Superior Court this morning. The action following a lawsuit, but at times bitter battle between attorneys for the various interests involved in the closing of the Kingston firm by Bank Commissioner Shippee about four weeks ago. Attorney Charles Welles Gross, counsel for the Phoenix bank, openly impugned the motives of Attorney Charles J. Martin, Kingston counsel, in alleging that the bank, as receiver, had been dissipating the assets of the brokerage firm. Judge Nathan A. Schatz, representing Donald A. Dunham, one of the Kingston partners, disclosed that the state banking department examiners found that the firm's assets, though frozen, are $400,000 in excess of liabilities, that the firm is solvent and does not require a Federal receiver to administer its affairs.

RED CROSS FEEDING FARMERS IN ARKANSAS

Little Rock, Ark., Jan. 9.—(AP)—Henry M. Baker, American Red Cross representative making a survey of the food shortage among farmers of Arkansas as a consequence of last summer's drought, said today the Red Cross expected to aid at least 50,000 families this month. He said that last month 20,617 families in the state were given succor that involved the expenditure of $51,346 from the local Red Cross fund and supplemental cash grants of $115,000 from National headquarters and the distribution of donated supplies valued at $45,625. Thus far, he added, the American Red Cross hams sent $304,530 to the state for relief work. He said he visited 76 families in Jefferson county. Seven per cent of the family heads were earning wages limited to $2 a day. Two families he visited had food enough to last through the winter; seven had enough for a week; two had a sufficiency for five days; eight enough for four days; seven for three days, and fifty families had no more than a day's supply.

INCOME OF RUSSIA EXCEEDS EXPENSES

(Continued From Page 1.) The collective state farms; 35 per cent from direct taxation; 12 per cent from voluntary contributions by the people through bond purchases, and 8 per cent from insurance organizations. Grinko estimated the total 1931 income of the people at 33,000,000,000 rubles, which is 18 per cent higher than in 1930. The government, he said, contemplates issues in 1931 totalling 1,400,000,000 rubles as against 770,000,000 in 1930. The total indebtedness of the government to the people on Jan. 1 was 1,500,000,000 rubles. Grinko said if the 1931 program is carried out the debt will be advanced to 2,800,000,000 by the end of this year. Soviet savings banks have 12,000,000 depositors, he said, but the deposits total only about 500,000,000 rubles. The government hopes to increase this total to 900,000,000 before the end of 1931. Of 30,200,000,000 rubles to be spent in 1931, he said, 21,000,000,000 will go toward financing "national economy" and 6,500,000,000 for education and "cultural requirements."

HOLD TWO SUSPECTS IN RACKET MURDER

Mamaroneck, N. Y., Jan. 9.—(AP)—Two men were under arrest today in connection with the slaying of Giovanni Volpi, a New York laundry worker, in the Harbor Heights section of Mamaroneck. Volpi's body was found on the sidewalk at Bryant Circle last night with six bullet wounds in the heart and head. Shortly afterwards, police arrested Alphonso Corrao and Joseph Covercori at the station waiting to board a train for New York. Police said Covercori had an empty revolver and that a second one from which several shots had been fired was found under the ticket agent's window. The prisoners said they had come here to visit a friend and were returning home. The discovery of a number of laundry checks in Volpi's pockets led police to believe the victim might have been a racketeer and that he was slain in professional jealousy. An automobile license made out to James Rutuello of Brooklyn, $20 in change and a cheap watch were not molested. Brooklyn police furnished information which indicated that Volpi might have been lured to his death by a woman. Mrs. Volpi, the widow, was quoted as saying that a blonde young woman came at his place of business yesterday and they left together for an unannounced destination.

TRADE CLIMAX IN CHINA AS SILVER DROPS

(Continued From Page 1.) cent under normal and many other lines of trade revealed similar recessions. Prices Go Up One of the effects of cheap silver was the increases in local prices, forcing buyers to seek low grade commodities. Interests possessing large amounts of silver are pouring it into real estate rather than holding it and see it continue to depreciate in value. Conversely, the prices of real property were appreciating. This latter tendency was markedly evident in Shanghai where building and land development was proceeding at a feverish pace. Shanghai has been experiencing a real estate boom unparalleled in its history. Another factor in the situation is the government's new tariff law which went into effect January 1, subjecting the great majority of imports to increased levies. If this tax is collected on a gold basis, the slump of silver in the opinion of both Chinese and foreigners will subject the country's trade structure to a strain which it likely will be unable to withstand. Meanwhile Washington dispatches saying the American Senate possibly would recommend that President Hoover inaugurate international negotiations for a silver loan to China were received enthusiastically in local business circles. The government remained silent, however.

OUR NEXT GENERATION WILL SOLVE PROBLEMS

(Continued From Page 1.) conditions of crime, especially the rate of increase among the young. Up To Children "This new generation of children, healthy, trained and mentally astute would go a long way toward solving all this. Most of our native criminal class are products of city slums. If the character and quality and health of these children were watched and nurtured, a criminal type of child would not develop. It would be difficult to overestimate what the single item of adequate playground facilities would mean in the bringing up of normal city children. "Ten years will see the start of this new generation. But I repeat, we must keep pounding and repeating the whole idea until it becomes as much of an accepted part of our national life and thought as, say, our national defense is. Why, today we think little of spending $700,000,000 annually on our two great arms of defense—and yet it is with difficulty that we vote a twentieth part of that sum toward national health and national education."

NEED VETS HOSPITAL

Washington, Jan. 9.—(AP)—The need of hospital facilities in South Carolina for care for negro as well as white veterans was placed today before the House veterans affairs subcommittee considering the $52,000,000 construction bill by Representative Edith Nourse Rogers, Republican, Massachusetts. Mrs. Rogers' bill covers a measure of Representative Fulmer, Democrat, South Carolina, asking a $1,000,000 hospital in that state. Morris Lumpkin, of Columbia, S. C., a member of the state legion hospitalization committee, told the committee that on January 7 there were 218 veterans awaiting hospitalization, and that soldiers now in institutions had to be "peddled out among other states." South Carolina has no veterans hospital. Suggested sales slogan for farmers over-stocked with wheat: "Say it with flour."

HOOVER DAM IS NAME AND NOT "BOULDER"

Washington, Jan. 9.—(AP)—Nearly every one refers to it as "Boulder Dam," and the bill calls it the "Boulder Canyon Project," yet the great dam to be built on the Colorado river between Arizona and Nevada is neither Boulder Dam nor is it in Boulder Canyon. Secretary Wilbur gave the name "Hoover dam" to the gigantic structure. It will be built in Black Canyon, 20 miles downstream from the originally chosen site in Boulder Canyon. In naming it, Wilbur said he acted on the precedent established by other secretaries of interior in naming the department's dams and in connection with this work. He will speak on his theories of co-operative agriculture and means of applying them in this country.

NEW SAFETY DEVICE

Akron, O., Jan. 9.—(AP)—After more than a year of research B. F. Goodrich Company engineers today completed installation of the first set of airplane ice-breaking overshoes. Actual tests are to be started from Cleveland and Akron airports when the dangerous ice forming weather conditions feared by mail pilots exist. The overshoes have been fitted to a National air transport plane which will be flown by Wesley L. Smith, chief engineer of N. A. T. while Russell S. Cooley, designer will conduct the experiments and acts as observer from the forward cockpit. The overshoes are rubber sheets containing inflation tubes. The sheets extend over the leading edge of the plane's wings. When inflated, experiments conducted here, indicate, these sheets will break the ice which gathers on the wing so that the force of the wind will tear it from the plane.

NEW PHILCO LINE SHOWN AT KEMP'S

The new Philco line of radios for 1931, is now being shown at Kemp's Inc., local Philco dealers. A number of new additions have been made to this popular line of radio, and foremost of all is the new 11 tube Superheterodyne set, in lowboy and highboy styles. This new remarkable set not only has 11 tubes, but also has tone control, automatic volume control, station recording dial, and screen grid balanced units. The value of the automatic volume control is inestimable, as it counteracts fading and enables the user to get full value out of the enormous power of these new Philcos. It also enables the user to tune in dozens of stations near and far without ever adjusting the manual volume control, and prevents ear-splitting blasts from powerful nearby stations. The Philco tone control gives the listener four shadings of tone quality; brilliant, bright, mellow and deep.

8 ALIENS ARRESTED

AS THEY LEAVE SHIP

New York, Jan. 9.—(AP)—Eight stowaways—a third of the passengers of the Belgian steamer Emile Franqui—and two ship stewards were held on Ellis island today in what immigration authorities said was a daring conspiracy to smuggle aliens into the country.

All smartly garbed, the stowaways—six Italian men, two women—strolled down the gangplank when the ship docked yesterday from Antwerp. Lashing toward a large automobile which had just drawn up at the end of the pier, the stowaways were intercepted and arrested. The car drove away.

John Steyne, chief steward, and Henri Slabbaert, second steward, were held for questioning. Officials said they were responsible for a daily inspection of the ship and that Slabbaert had been accused of taking water to the stowaways. They all occupied one cabin during the trip, it was said, and escaped detection chiefly by bringing their own food supply. Authorities said they believed the eight paid several thousand dollars in bribes to the crew after passport visas had been denied them. They will be deported.

Accident insurance policies are being dispensed by slot machines in Germany.

BLODGETT ADVISES

NO TAX INCREASE

State Official Says Home Owners Are Now Carrying Enough; His Statement

Hartford, Jan. 9.—Discussing the possibility of expansion of activities of the state government, Tax Commissioner William H. Blodgett makes the statement in his biennial report to the Governor and General Assembly, made public yesterday, that care should be taken to avoid tax increases on real estate. He also expresses the opinion that efforts to correct economic ills by increasing public expenditures are unwise. He calls for a reduction rather than an increase in such activity. "The home owner, the farmer and the manufacturer are carrying a disproportional and excessive share of the tax burden in Connecticut," he states.

Commissioner Blodgett says further: "When values of taxable property decrease, tax burdens increase, unless public expenditures be decreased to meet the situation thus created. I do not look with favor upon the plan of increasing public expenditures, which necessarily result in increasing tax burdens, in a period when real estate values and commodity prices are declining. The plan of attempting to correct industrial, agricultural and general economic ills by increasing expenditures of public money appears more likely to result in lasting difficulties than to bring about the results sought to be obtained. A reduction of public expenditures should be obtained if possible. They should not be increased during this or any other period of price deflation. The temptation to spend public money in accordance with established practices and customs and to carry on activities to which government is already committed, regardless of economic tendencies, is most difficult to overcome. Increases in expenditure of money to be obtained by the use of the taxing power for purposes other than to meet strict needs of government have no justification at any time.

The Tax Burden

"In any plans which may be entered upon for perfecting the activities to which the state is already committed, the assumption of new responsibilities calling for increased expenditures to be met by additional taxation, the greatest care should be exercised in order that there may be no increase or possibility of increase of the tax load borne by real estate. The main sources of productive wealth within the state, no more hindrance than is absolutely necessary to the business success of the farmer and manufacturer by the use of the taxing power is wise. Upon the success of the farmer and manufacturer the development of the state in large measure depends. The appearance of repression upon the main sources of productive wealth is of distinct disadvantage to other business enterprises of all kinds. The home owner, the farmer and the manufacturer are carrying a disproportional and excessive share of the tax burden of Connecticut. With respect to this subject there is general agreement among those most competent to express opinion.

There are well known inherent faults in the property tax. These cannot be entirely overcome. Aside from such frailties, there are difficulties in the application of any property tax law. Those frailties must be met with intelligent forbearance for this form of taxation is not soon to be replaced. No substitute for the property tax has been found. The difficulties mentioned can best be met by changing the property tax laws as may be required to meet the growing complexities of property ownership and for the purpose of giving application of the law to new types of property as the same from time to time comes into use in the state. Local machinery for administering these laws, though satisfactory in bygone days when Connecticut was a pastoral state, should be supplemented and strengthened as may be necessary from time to time, in order that property of every type may be brought to bear a proportional and just share of the general property tax burden.

Need Expert Aid

"If the property of public service companies of many kinds continues to be subject to local taxation, the states should be classified so that its situs for taxation purposes may be possible of certain determination. Agents of the state having special training and experience, possibly compensated jointly by the state and by the towns directly benefited, should be provided to assist the assessors in ascertaining the value of property of many kinds which present difficult problems for solution. Real estate which sells with more or less frequency in the markets, such as farms, certain types of commercial property in the city, building lots and houses of average value or less, is being generally assessed more equitably than in former years. Such is not the case with respect to large and specially constructed buildings of every kind or with respect to a vast amount of real personal property owned by manufacturers, merchants, public service and power companies of every sort and kind which is clearly subject to taxation. Innumerable problems in all sections of the state present themselves for solution to local assessors, which the most skilled in administering property tax laws cannot solve with perfect accuracy. This fact, however, offers no reason for failure to approach such difficulties painstakingly and in a manner which can be depended upon to reasonably spread the tax load among the taxpayers of the state. The attainment should be sought rather than to accept a flagrantly unjust distribution of the property tax load in the towns of the state."

Commissioner Blodgett points out that "assessment practices in all parts of the state have been greatly improved in recent years." Eighteen towns in 1928, he shows, and eighty-eight in 1929, revalued property for purposes of taxation. In the main part the purpose was to bring about a more equitable distribution of the tax burden among taxpayers, but, as a rule, grand lists of towns were increased.

Discussing the efforts of local tax collectors, Commissioner Blodgett says: "There has been a noticeable improvement in recent years with respect to collections and collection practices."

Interstate Rate

He declares further that "the urge upon taxpayers to pay promptly by increasing interest rates to twelve per cent after the first year of delinquency or after filing certificates of lien against real estate has had good results and has met with the approval of collectors and other town officials of the state, except in few municipalities. The present law requires payment of interest at the rate of nine per cent annum for the first six months in arrears, ten per cent annum for the second six months, and twelve per cent thereafter. These rates were put into effect only because experience had shown that a lesser penalty would not be effective. The statute provides a method whereby taxpayers who are poor and unable to pay their taxes for any extraordinary reason, on their own initiative, may be relieved from paying an interest rate whatever, though the communities are protected so that if taxpayers become able to pay within fifteen years, the principal of the tax annually levied may be collected within the discretion of the municipality."

Municipal Budgets

To promote sound financing by the towns of the state, Commissioner Blodgett believes that a simplified, uniform budget is desirable and "would result in curtailment of expenditures where extravagance and waste of public money has become a habit, and that a more uniform practice. The subject of public expenditures cannot be dissociated from taxation. Where waste and extravagance occur, the tax gatherer finds his way with powers of repression upon the happiness of the people, upon industry, and upon the development of the state. It would seem that fair and reasonable effort might be made to accomplish curtailment of waste, and sometimes, unfortunately, of positive and criminal misappropriation of public money in all municipalities using the state taxing power to take money from the people."

The great loss of revenue to towns and cities through the frailty of the present method of local taxation of automobiles is emphasized by Commissioner Blodgett in the following terms: "Several unsuccessful attempts have been made in recent years to correct the chaotic condition prevailing in all municipalities of the state with respect to the taxation of motor vehicles. It is reliably estimated that through failure of assessors to list all such vehicles and failure of tax collectors to collect from all that are listed, municipalities are annually losing $300,000. The usual difficulties are experienced in striving to obtain results in subjecting this class of property to a local tax as are experienced in attempting to tax locally other classes of movable property. These are too numerous to describe in detail and it is, therefore, only necessary to state that with few exceptions the assessors and tax collectors of the one hundred and sixty-nine towns are agreed that the present law is impossible of administration to the extent contemplated and desired. The tendency has been to remove this class of property from local tax lists by adding to a centrally placed registration bureau an equitable basis insuring payment from all owners of such property. A great loss of revenue is curtailed by this method, assessors and collectors are relieved of a vast amount of detail and owners of the property are treated alike. The question of local taxation of motor vehicles in Connecticut is of great importance to local government to warrant particular attention."

BRITAIN ADVOCATES

INDIAN WEST POINT

London, Jan. 9.—(AP)—Establishment of a national military school in India and "Indianization" of the Indian army are a part of the Labor government's Indian policy. J. H. Thomas, dominion minister, announced at the Indian roundtable conference today. A military school such as that which is proposed would correspond to America's West Point and England's Sandhurst. If recruiting of British officers for the Indian army stopped tomorrow, however, he said, it would take thirty-five years before all the British Indian Army's Indianization of the army would not be necessary, he said. "For an Indian government is achieved."

Mohammed Ali Jinnah, nationalist leader and president of the All-India Muslim League, belittled the Labor government's Indian policy. He pointed out that the Indianization of the army had been passed for twenty-five years but that at the present rate accomplishment of such a project would take centuries.

The dominion minister replied that he had made no "pious declaration" but that practical steps toward the realization of the army change would be taken as soon as the round table conference is over.

WHY CROSS WAS ELECTED

Bridgeport, Jan. 9.—(AP)—The significance of the placing of Governor W. L. Cross, a Democrat, at the head of the state government was explained by President John J. O'Rourke of the Board of Aldermen, to a district Democratic club last night. He said:

"It means the casting aside of Hamilton's philosophy that the government must be administered for the few and that the rank and file must be satisfied with the crumbs that fall from the table, and it means the realization that the only thing that matters is that the government must be administered for the people without regard to what they may be in their pockets, with equal advantages for all and special privileges to none."

WAPPING

NEW STATE MAP FROM ASSEMBLY

Hoyt Grant, Jr., 8-year-old grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Ward S. Grant, who formerly lived in Wapping, is ill at the Hartford hospital, with an abscess in his throat.

The Parent Teachers Association will hold a business meeting next Monday afternoon at the Wapping Central school hall, at half-past three o'clock. It is hoped that every member will endeavor to be present.

There was a meeting of the Fourth Quarterly Conference of the Methodist church of Wapping, which was held at the Federated church last Wednesday evening with Dr. Myron E. Genter, presiding. Reports were read and accepted. Walter Skinner was appointed as steward to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Franklin W. Foster. The three members of the committee of six were appointed as follows: Albert E. Stiles, Mrs. Marjorie Pierce and Walter N. Foster. Albert E. Stiles was appointed as delegate to attend the meeting of the New England Southern conference, which will be held at Providence next May. This meeting was the last meeting at which Dr. Genter will be present as district superintendent as he has served the six years limit as superintendent the first of next April. Mrs. Walter N. Foster was appointed as Communion steward and will have charge of the Communion service.

The Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor of Manchester will come to Wapping next Sunday evening and present the play entitled "Color Line." The meeting will be held at seven o'clock.

The Blue Triangle Club, or the Y. W. C. A. Girls held their regular meeting last Monday evening at their club rooms with a large attendance. Many plans were discussed. At their next meeting which will be held on Monday evening, January 19, they are to take up the course of pottery making.

Cards have been received from Mrs. Robert L. Safford saying that their son, Chilton Safford, who has had a major operation, is improving.

KISS AND MAKE UP

San Francisco, Jan. 9.—(AP)—What this country needs, says Superior Judge Thomas F. Graham, is a big increase in the number of domestic quarrels and a corresponding boom in reconciliations accompanied by conjugal kisses.

Having heard 23,400 divorce cases in his 30 years on the bench here, Judge Graham has reached some conclusions as to domestic ills, and the first of these is "go ahead and quarrel; then kiss and make up."

Judge Graham's crack of patching up slightly damaged matrimonial ships has won him the appellation of "The Great Reconciler."

STICKERS

A set of nine books was numbered from 1 to 9. When set on shelves, as shown above, the top numbers, when multiplied, equal the center number, 192. The lower numbers, however, do not multiply to 192. Can you rearrange the numbers so that both top and lower shelves will multiply to equal the number on the center shelf?

New models of radios are being sprung constantly, and, of course, like the automobile you wish to trade in on the new one. The old radio is worth just about as little in proportion. Stickler Solution

Here is one way to arrange books, numbered from 1 to 9, in such a way that the numbers on the top shelf and the numbers on the bottom shelf both multiply to equal the numbers on the middle shelf.

THE TINYMITES

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The log bridge now looked safe and sound. The Tinies scampered 'cross the ground and hopped aboard their travel truck. "We're set to go," they cried. "We hope the bridge will hold up right, or we will drop right out of sight. A thing like that would surely put a crimp in our fine ride."

The Travel Man said, "Aw, don't fret. I'm positive that we will get across quite safely. Natives always do their work correct. They never finish things halfway. You'll soon believe just what I say." And then the big truck crossed the bridge and not a thing was wrecked.

"Hey, wait a minute," Scouty cried. "Before we go on with our ride, I'm going to treat the natives to a tasty bite to eat. We have some sandwiches right here and they'll enjoy them, never fear." Of course the natives took the food and thought it was a treat.

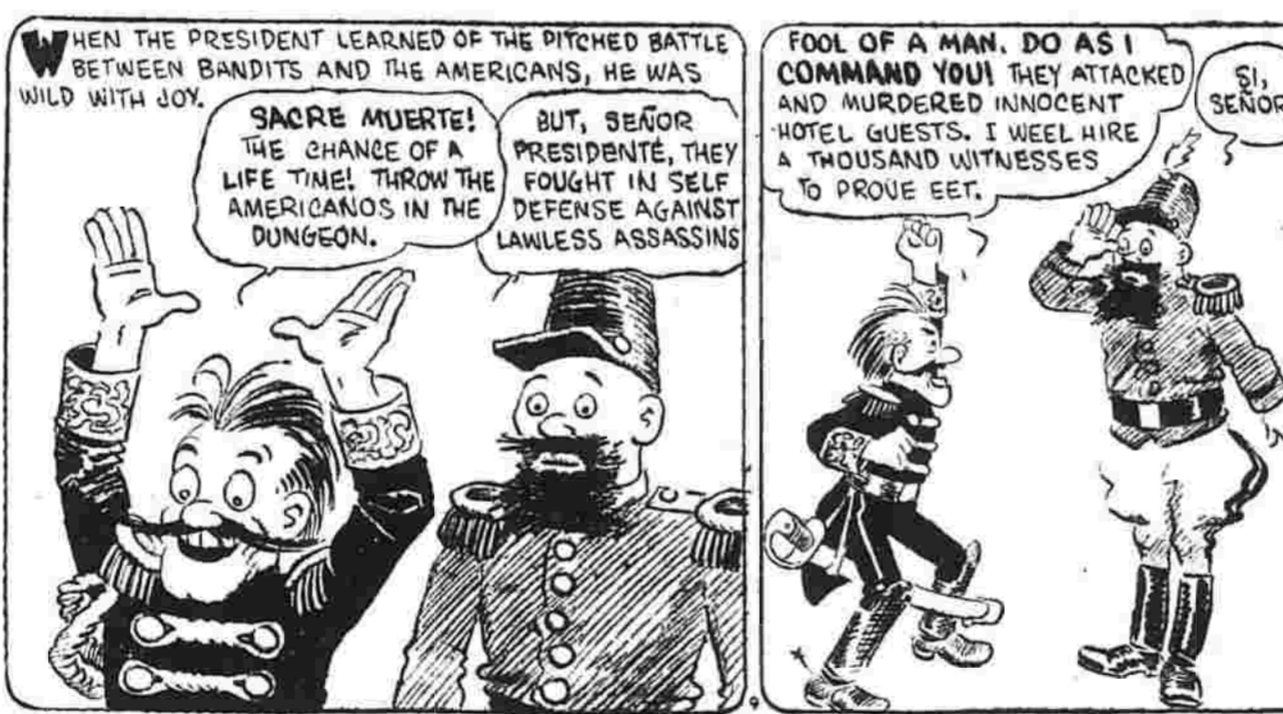

The truck then started with a snort. "The engine seems to think it's sport to backfire now and then," said one. "That scared me pretty bad. But we should never kick a bit. Our truck is working mighty fit. If anything real serious should happen, I would be sad."

Soon Copsy asked, "What town is next?" The Travel Man said, "I'm perplexed. I've lost my markings on our map. Just let me look some more." He shortly added, "Ah! It's found. I surely had to search around. Bukama is the next town and some more treats are in store."

They shortly reached some fine, tall grass and, gee, but it looked hard to pass. "We'll have to drive right through it," said the Travel Man. "I know of no road that goes round about, but we can make the trip, no doubt. I'll step upon the gas real hard to make the engine go."

(The Tinymites meet a witch doctor in the next story.)

ABOUT TOWN

There is considerable sickness about town, especially affecting the throat. Many cases of tonsillitis have been prevalent due to the rapid changes in weather conditions.

District Deputy Mrs. Ellen Carlson and staff of Manchester installed the officers of Norden Lodge, No. 1, Order of Vasa, of West Hartford last night. Initiation was also held and refreshments and dancing followed the ceremonies.

The Park Department has spotted three large trees, two ash and one elm, for removal on Hartford Road, near the junction of West street. With the widening and improvement of this artery, traffic is expected to be increased, necessitating the removal of these trees which are very close to the roadway.

A daughter was born Monday at the Memorial hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Muraski of Strickland street. Mrs. Muraski was formerly Miss Flora Thrall.

St. Mary's Ladies Guild at its annual meeting yesterday afternoon re-elected all its officers, as follows: president, Mrs. William Crawford; vice president, Mrs. Robert McKay; secretary, Mrs. James Harrison; treasurer, Mrs. Charlotte Gotberg; first directress, Mrs. Joseph Miller; second directress, Mrs. Christine Robinson. Reports were read and accepted, and taken altogether, showed that the Guild had enjoyed a most successful year. A social time followed the business and tea was served.

Second Congregational Ladies Aid society has elected as its new officers for 1931 the following: president, Mrs. Charles J. Strickland; vice president, Mrs. C. E. Wilson; secretary, Mrs. Millard Park; treasurer, Mrs. Karl Keller. Reports which were read and accepted at a meeting held at the Manchester Community club indicated a busy and prosperous year just past.

St. Mary's recently formed Woman's auxiliary will hold a food sale in the basement of Hale's store at 2 p. m., Saturday, January 24. Mrs. John Jenney, chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. John Robb, Mrs. Letting Caverly and Mrs. Mary Johnston.

Mrs. Bert Knight, chairman of the annual supper of Center Congregational church, has called a committee meeting at the church for Wednesday of next week at 3 o'clock.
