SPRING COSTUMES TO BE SILK, WOOL

The Former Especially Popular Among Paris Designers; Coat Styles Vary.

Paris, Feb. 11.—(AP)—Spring costumes may be silk or wool, plain or trimmed, but a large percentage of the time they will be suits.

A white shantung ensemble is sponsored by Lanvin, as well as many ensemble coats in three quarter and seven eighths length.

Coats have many kinds of treatment. Elbow sleeved coats worn with long sleeved dresses, coats with dolman sleeves, coats with draped collars are among the throng.

Vionnet features coats with straight closings and small collars, and often combines a darker coat with a lighter dress.

Silver Chinese buttons are among Lanvin's trimmings, and also wide silver belts for both afternoon and evening.

White gardenias are employed by Molyneux and by Vionnet.

Light From Some Stars Reach Here After Millions Of Years. Pasadena, Cal., Feb. 11.—(AP)—When the sun develops a new spot, astronomers at Mount Wilson ob-

It is fashed to them by light, traveling 186,284 miles a second. If some cataclysmic disaster should happen to Pluto, the recently discovered and most distant planet, the watchers at the observatory, a branch of the Carnegie Institution of Washington, could learn about it in a half to three quarters of an hour.

They can keep well posted on events in the solar system, of which the earth, sun and planets are a part. But a swifter means of communication must be discovered if current happenings among the stars of our "island universe" and of their other star systems farther out in space.

Light travels six million million miles a year and radio messages can go as faster, even if someone were found in the other universes to send them. Alpha Centauri, the nearest star in the earth's universe, is four and one-third light years away and as astronomers peer farther into space they find themselves, in effect, looking back into the ages of the mammoths and dinosaurs.

Light is the messenger that carries the news of the universe. It is the only thing that can travel faster than light. It is the only thing that can travel through space without being stopped or delayed.

WAR GAME NEAR END

Honolulu, Feb. 11.—(AP)—A climax in the war game in which possession of the Hawaiian islands is at stake was expected today, as United States Navy forces of the United States are the combatants.

The islands are being defended by a "Blue" force which is attacking "Blue" force seeks to dislodge, by landing troops and capturing "Black" defenses. Three days remain for this task. If by Sunday the "Blue" force is still at sea, "Black" will have won the war.

BARCLAY WINS OUT BY CARD READING

Knew What Opponents Held By Deduction; How He Played His Hand. New York, Feb. 11.—(AP)—One of the bridge master's greatest thrills, whatever the result of a hand, is the correct deduction immediately after the dummy is down of the number of cards of each suit held by partners and opponents.

West led the five of spades. It was obvious that West had the four and two of spades in the dummy and the three in his own hand. It was clear to him therefore that West had four spades, since if West had a five card suit he would have led from that.

South bid one no trump, his partner two and South then went to three, which became the contract. West and East did not bid. West led the four highest of his best suit. Barclay noted the four and two of spades in the dummy and the three in his own hand. It was clear to him therefore that West had four spades, since if West had a five card suit he would have led from that.

BANGS BACK AGAIN, HAIRDRESSERS SAY

Chicago, Feb. 11.—(AP)—The spring robin red breast will see the bang back in favor as a style for the feminine crowning glory.

Not the formal square Dutch cut bang, nor that tufted effect worn by Victorian fashion plates, but a light, soft, slightly undulating bang that will break the monotony of foreheads long bared to the elements.

This information came from Paris by way of the inner office of the Illinois Hair-Dressers' Association, where President Max Hofer studied topknot style forecasts. However, it was stressed, the hair is dressed back from the forehead, as well as neck.

New Hair Styles An ultra-advanced hair style, he described, is one with ringlet curls outlining the haircut on the cheeks and forehead, as well as neck. The hair, when dressed to be thoroughly correct according to 1932 notions, should not come below the neck line. However, in cases where a shorter bob is more becoming, it is smarter for that particular individual. But the extra-trendy long bob is out.

The new bob is characterized by only a slight part. In some instances there is no part. The new millinery has in most cases changed the part from the right to the left side. Middle parting is, as always, smart for the few it especially becomes.

Holland Scores 19 Points As Guards Win, 36 to 28

Whistle Solo Taboo In Oldtimers' Game

Personal Contact Permissible; Old Alhambra Series Is Recalled; Dillon's "Shirt-Tail Chase" Grows More Fabulous.

Don't be surprised if the modern 40-minute whistle solo is missing from the charity basketball program at the state armory here Saturday night when the Manchester and New Britain oldtimers don their non-rat uniform. In ye olden days, basketball included much more personal contact than it does today and fouls were consequently sometimes almost a rarity.

The preliminary game between the National Guards and 'outh Wilmington will be an appropriate contrast to the Manchester-New Britain contest insofar as fouls are concerned. In the first game there will undoubtedly be many fouls called while in the Oldtimers get-together, the referee's whistle will probably be conspicuous through its silence.

As a result of the permissible personal contact years ago, closer guarding was possible and the final scores were usually much smaller than they are today. For instances there was the game that Company G beat south Manchester High 3-2 and also the game between Company G and the Alhambra of East Hartford which Manchester won by scores of 7-9, 26-3 and 12-9. Other games were similarly close.

It was in the final game of the G-Alhambra series at the state armory at 8 o'clock tonight at which time all the whistles and uniforms will be mobilized in an effort to fit the youths of yesteryears. Buttons will be moved wherever necessary and sewed on tightly to prevent popping off due to mid-section pressure.

Knight Ferris of Oak street, former Company A star back in 1907, will be seen in togs Saturday night. John H. Crockett, former M. H. S. and Company G star from 1909 to 1914, has also heard of the game in New York City and has wired that he will be here to join with his old teammates.

Dave McCollum, Army and Navy Club steward, is reorganizing his "Royalazers" who in years gone by were the ruin of many a team to visit here. New Britain will be the target for his crew Saturday night but if the Manchester boys don't get hot he says he may turn his guns on both teams.

All in all, it looks like a great old night at the armory, one that anyone would be foolish to miss. And judging from the comment about town, few basketball lovers of the present or past decade are going to be absent.

SONJA HENIE WINS OLYMPIC CONTEST

Lake Placid, N. Y., Feb. 11.—(AP)—Sonja Henie, 20 year old blonde from far away Norway, still is the world's foremost woman figure skater.

Before the first "sell out" crowd the third winter Olympics has attracted, the petite Sonja turned in a dazzling performance last night to gain once again the title of Olympic champion, the world's title she has held for the last five years. Spinning through the breath-taking double jump "corkscrew" top pique and "rabbit" jump, unruffled and a perfect sample of suberlative poise, the youthful Sonja brought to its feet a crowd that packed the big arena.

Her supreme balance at all times, her charm and the ease with which she carried through the most difficult feats won the whole crowd, as well as the Olympic judges to her. Second honors were given to Fritz Burger, Austrian champion who also was splendid, but marred an otherwise perfect performance by faltering near the end, so her hand touched the ice at the conclusion of one of her turns. Baribel Vinson of Boston was third.

HOOKS AND SLIDES

Essay on Skiing

Ski-Jumping isn't much different from driving an automobile at 300 miles an hour. It's just about as easy. Barney Oldfield says all the driver of a car that could make such speed would have to do would be to "hold her on the line." In jumping with those slippery slats fastened to your feet, you only make about 100 miles an hour—and all you have to do is to hold the old anatomy "on the line," and be ready to spring a little when you light.

Let's see, the distance from home plate to first base is 90 feet. Alf Engen, holder of a professional record, "yumps" all the way from 200 feet to 246 feet. Imagine the three bases used on a ball diamond stretched out on a line. Engen would be able to jump for nearly a three-base hit.

Compared to skyscrapers, such jumps as Engen's would amount to leaps the length of a 20 to 25-story building. Suppose you were in an elevator at the top of a 25-story building. Suddenly they jerked the floor out from under you. Would your feet feel red?

Let's not send any marines to Shanghai until we see how this international argument comes out at Lake Placid.

Just Lean and Bend

The other day at Lake Placid, Caspar Oimen of the United States the take-off, and when the ground comes up to meet you (after dropping the length of a skyscraper, mind you), just bend the knee to absorb the force of the impact.

The first phase of ski-jumping is like chuffing the chute. The second phase differs from the chute in that instead of water on which you skim along, there is only snow under your skis upon which to ride. In ski jumping you find that just about when, in the course of your jump, you might be expected to hit the ground, there is no ground there—they have figured that all out in advance and have taken the ground away. So all you have to do is to wait until the ground does decide to come up and meet you—which is relatively soon, since you are breezing along at about 100 miles an hour.

Judging from the Olympic unpleasantness, the disarmament conference ought to do something about skates.

Nice Gentle Grade

The getting of place is pitched to meet your fall, and gently graded so you and Mother Earth melt toward each other until you merge. At the point where the merger occurs, please remember about the knees action. All you have to do is slide one ski forward and bend one knee almost to the sky.

But how do you keep your balance, after lighting on snow with its forward movement; long with something better than express train speed? Oh, yes, we do most forget that—all you have to do is to pipe. Just light your old Jimmy sway and sway, sway, sway. If you have brought lunch along, you might try a ham sandwich or something until your waxed slates decide to stop.

Merely Lift the Heels

Of course not all skiing is jumping. There's cross-country skiing, for instance, up hill and down dale, with a "hey and a ho and a hey nonny nonny!" and all that. All you have to do to learn all about this is to read up a little, and practice.

Just pop into the library and the secret is yours. Here is what the encyclopedia says about it: "On level ground the ski glide evenly over the snow without being lifted from it, the heels being raised with each forward movement; long gliding steps can be taken without undue fatigue, the runner having a stick about four or five feet long in each hand to assist progression; these sticks have a spiked end, about seven inches above which a metal disc is fastened to prevent the stick sinking into the snow. Downhill progression attains great velocity . . ." and so on and so forth. There's nothing to it, after all.

Consider the sad case of Salvatore Ruggirello if you don't think education is a great thing—especially for a left hand.

They are talking of a bout between Ernie Schaff and Max Schmeling. But Jack Sharkey is one of Schaff's managers—and Max will have to lick him first.

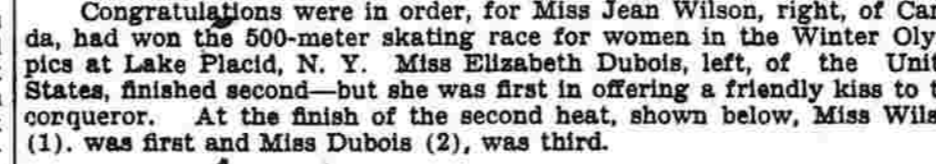

INGRAHAMS PLAY HERE ON TUESDAY

The Rec has only one game scheduled for this week, that being with the Ingrahams of Bristol in Bristol on Saturday evening. A return game will be played in Manchester next Tuesday evening. The Ingrahams have cleaned up quite a bit this season, their most prominent victories being over the St. Mary's and the local Guards.

MY DEAR—a MAR-velous Race!

Congratulations were in order, for Miss Jean Wilson, right, of Canada, had won the 500-meter skating race for women in the Winter Olympics at Lake Placid, N. Y. Miss Elizabeth Dubois, left, of the United States, finished second—but she was first in offering a friendly kiss to the conqueror. At the finish of the second heat, shown below, Miss Wilson (1) was first and Miss Dubois (2), was third.

The Dempsy-Gibbons fight gave me a thrill, not because of the fight itself, but because of the intense hostility of the crowd toward Dempsy and Kearns. There was electricity in the air and had Dempsy stopped Tommy there might have been trouble.

TRADE SCHOOL WINS IN MERIDEN, 25 to 23

Superior Foul Shooting Proves Deciding Factor; Talk of Series With High School to Be Played at End of Season.

Manchester Trade had a close call from defeat yesterday afternoon at Meriden when it won 25 to 23 thriller from the Meriden Trade team which had trounced 42 to 19 here earlier in the season.

Manchester has now won ten out of the eleven games it has played. Its next game will be with Middletown Trade here next week Friday. Jolly was the scoring ace for Manchester yesterday but the rest all co-operated well. Both teams scored 11 field goals but Manchester won by virtue of better foul shooting.

There is a possibility that Manchester Trade and Manchester High schools may meet in a series at the end of the season now that Manchester is definitely out of the running for the Yale tournament.

Ernie Earns More

Sharkey confides that Ernie Schaff, who knocked Salvatore Ruggirello glass-eyed the other night, has earned more in the last fiscal year than Heavy-weight Champion Max Schmeling, and, as one of Schaff's managers, Mr. Sharkey was obliged to accept his share.

Yost Makes Suggestions For Improving Football

Ann Arbor, Mich., Feb. 11.—(AP)—An investigation conducted by Fielding H. Yost, athletic director at University of Michigan, has disclosed that of 43 deaths charged against football last fall only 22 actually resulted from the game.

Yost investigated each death and has submitted a report to E. K. Hall, chairman of the football rules committee for its meeting at Hanover, N. H., which opens Friday.

Of the 21 reported deaths which Mr. Yost believes should not be charged to football, two were caused by pneumonia, one by kidney disease, one by appendicitis, one by typhoid fever, six by infections and one by heart disease. One boy was injured while wrestling, another was struck by a truck. One boy was found alive and well and another who was reported dead was found never to have existed.

The 22 who died following actual participation were classified as seven college players, seven from high schools, and eight "sand lot" or unorganized players.

ALAN GOULD

The rush of the American Olympic winter forces, led by Dartmouth's flashy Jack Shea, is the tipoff on what is quite likely to happen all along the Olympic war fronts this year.

Uncle Sam's boys and girls, entrenched in their own back yards of competition, have a big advantage to start with, in conditions alone. On top of that, the invading talent is much less numerous, even though it includes most of the outstanding foreign stars.

Of course it won't be any run-away at Los Angeles. The Finnish brigade, led by Paavo Nurmi, Lauri Lehtinen and a few others, will attend to that, if the others don't. But the Americans, in full force and confident, will possess advantages that should mean a bigger share of track and field titles for the U. S. A. than in any Olympiad since 1904.

Thrill Man Dempsy

"Two of the most thrilling sporting events I have covered," wrote Larry Grill of the Phoenix (Ariz.) Gazette, in answer to our questionnaire, "were the Willard-Dempsey fight at Toledo and the Dempsy-Gibbons fight at Shelby. That first round at Toledo when the bell jammed and saved Willard from a knockout after Referee Ollie Peccord had counted him out was one of the most dramatic scenes in pugilistic history. (By the way, did you know that Peccord has retired after 43 years of refereeing?)

The Knights played an improved brand of basketball last night, inspired no doubt by the uncanly accuracy of Holland. He made all of the Guards' field goals the first half of the game and six of his eight foul tries. Caged five of his goal came in the first half, most of them off Captain "Red" Mazotas of the Knights.

The Guards now have beaten the K. of L. twice in as many games, turning them back a few weeks ago by one point, 26 to 25. Next week Wednesday the Guards entertain Babson Institute of Boston, Mass., and on Feb. 28, meet the Baltimore Orioles.

The Knights were guilty of fumbling the ball often and also of missing easy shots. It is evident also that there is a bit of dissent among the players. The night before, they were defeated in Waterbury. As a result, the large crowd which usually follows the Knights wherever they play, has decreased.

HURLEY EXCITED OVER SENATE BILL Calls Measure Cowardly and Refuses to Take It Back When Asked.

Washington, Feb. 11. (AP)—A sharp verbal clash between Secretary Hurley, of the War Department, and senatorial advocates of Philippine independence took place today when the secretary refused to be before the Senate and House as "Cowardly."

Not Personal. "Then you don't withdraw the word cowardly?" Hawes inquired. "No, I don't," said Hurley. "I know that Senator Cutting will understand that I mean no personal offense and I hope you understand it also."

There is not a line in the bill that justifies that opinion," Hawes exclaimed. Joining the heated argument, Senator King, (D., Utah) who also has introduced a bill for Philippine independence, said to Hurley:

JAPAN'S SKY-ROCKET RISE BY ROBERT TALLEY

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the last of six stories on "Japan's Sky-Rocket Rise." BY ROBERT TALLEY NEA Service Writer

What will you give the Emperor, the Lord of Heaven? So runs the first question of a Japanese school child's catechism.

Reverence for the emperor is ingrained in the cradle, grows throughout the years and makes death glorious when it promotes his cause. Wars are fought for the emperor. In the war with Russia, soldiers rushed to battle shouting his name.

His person is sacred. No ordinary commoner may touch him—not even his barber, his dentist or his tailor. The barber and dentist must wear silk gloves when working on him.

Though Japan has had a constitutional government and an elected diet (congress) since 1890, the emperor is still all-powerful. No czar of Russia ever had more power over his subjects than Hirohito has today.

He is commander-in-chief of both the army and the navy, he appoints the cabinet and chooses the emperor from one of three candidates elected by the municipal assembly.

The Japanese cabinet functions very much like President Hoover's cabinet, containing 12 ministers who are appointed by the emperor and are responsible to him alone.

ing of the brain) he was constituted Prince-Regent on Nov. 15, 1921. He succeeded his father upon the latter's death.

He was married to Princess Nagako Uni in January, 1924. Their first child was born the following December, and three others have since followed, one of whom died in extreme infancy.

hanging was substituted for beheading. The diet in session, looks very much like America's congress. Little time is wasted on debate, as the Japanese language does not lend itself to brilliant oratory.

The post-Perry cataclysm in which the empire's old order perished before the march of progress and from which a modern Japan arose with constitutional government, elected representatives and the public voting booth, altered the emperor's power but did little to weaken his prestige.

At the same time Ogden L. Mills will take the oath of secretary of the treasury and Arthur A. Ballantine will advance from assistant secretary to undersecretary, succeeding Mills.

The American system or trial by jury has been in effect only three years. Prior to that, the presiding judge heard the evidence and decided the accused's fate, even in capital crimes which in Japan are treason and murder.

Governors and sheriffs of prefectures are appointed by the government. Mayors are chosen by the emperor from one of three candidates elected by the municipal assembly.

George B. Lockwood, publisher of the Muncie press, an former secretary of the National Republican committee, was in a critical condition today after a heart attack he suffered last Sunday.

GAS BUGGIES—It Depends on Who's Wearing 'Em

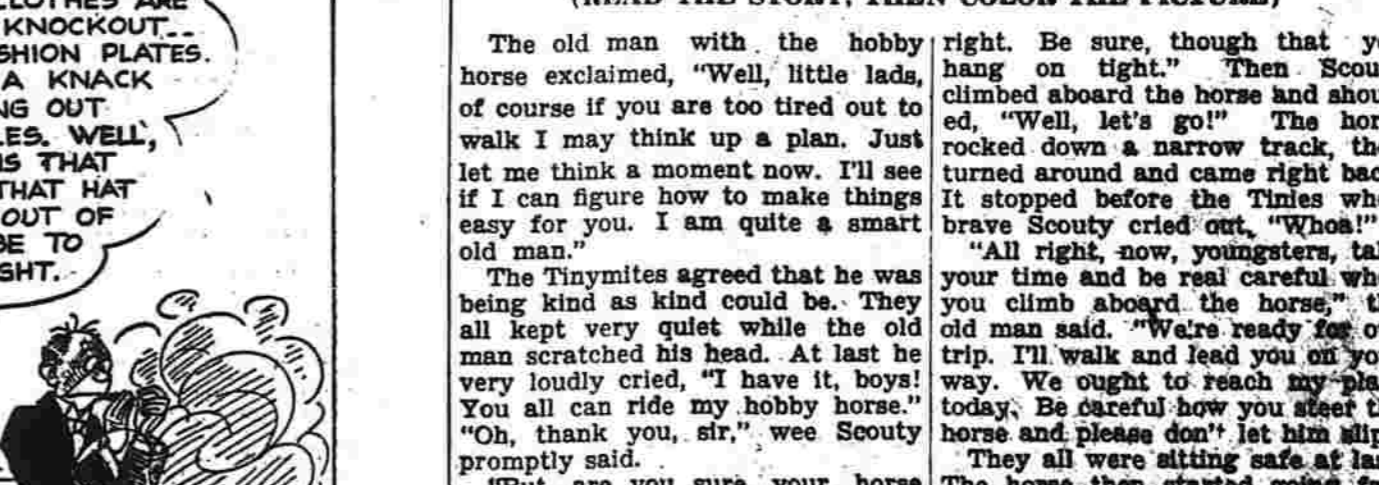

I'M INVITED TO ONE OF MY AUNT'S FRIENDS FOR DINNER TONIGHT. HOW DO I LOOK IN THIS GOWN?

By FRANK BECK

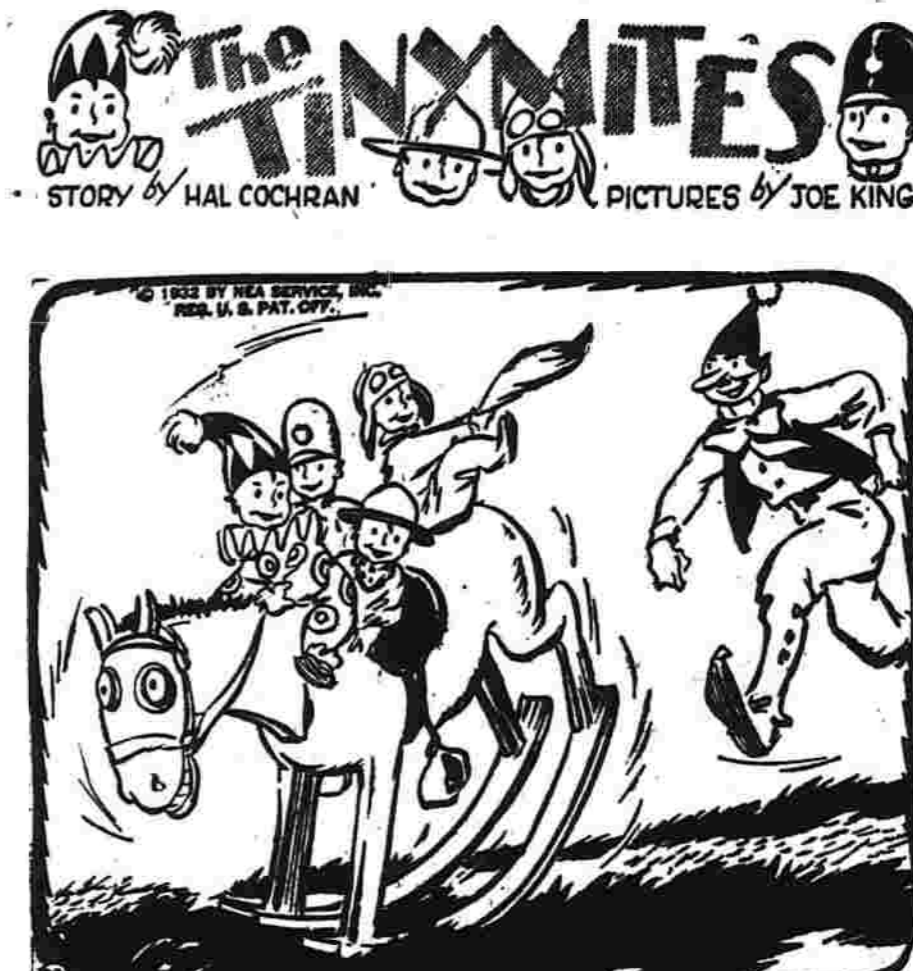

GOOD-BYE. DON'T WAIT UP FOR ME... DAME FASHION. I SALUTE THEE. I WISH I HAD YOUR KNACK OF PICKING OUT SNAPPY CLOTHES.

By FRANK BECK

THE OLD MAN WITH THE HOBBY horse exclaimed, "Well, little lady, of course if you are too tired out to walk I may think up a plan. Just let me think a moment now. I'll see if I can figure how to make things easy for you. I am quite a smart old man."

right. Be sure, though that you hang on tight." Then Scouty climbed aboard the horse and shouted, "Well, let's go!"

SENSE AND NONSENSE

"Them Was the Days"
Girls sometimes wore cotton stockings and high, laced boots (you were not supposed to know it). Spectacles and eye-glasses were not common. People generally kept their tonsils. It seemed necessary to control hatpins by legislation. Nobody in California thought of conversing with somebody in Europe. Children were not taught to swat the fly.

Would-be Employer—Have you any references?
Would-be-Employee—Sure, and he handed him the following letter: "To Whom It May Concern: John Jones worked for us one week and we are satisfied."

Sea—I saw Mary at the beach.
Sparks—What sort of bathing suit was she wearing?
Sea—Don't know; she was reading a book and I couldn't see it.

Laugh!
Learn to laugh. A good laugh is better than medicine.
Learn to attend strictly to your own business.
Learn to tell a story. A well-told story is as welcome as a sunbeam in a sick room.

Learn to avoid ill-natured remarks and everything likely to create friction.
Learn the art of saying kind and encouraging things.
Learn to keep your troubles to yourself. The world is too busy to care for your ills and sorrows.

Learn to hide your aches and pains under a pleasant smile.
Learn to stop grumbling. If you cannot see any good in the world, keep the bad to yourself.

A weary-looking fellow who had opened all the doors for work happened to see a huge police advertisement, headed:

"Murder Wanted!"
"Well," he said, scratching his head, "it's better'n nothing, anyhow. I'm going in and ask for the job!"

The honeymoon is over when a husband realizes that his wife considers her company her most valued possession. Educators say the spelling of "night" is surely changing to "nite." This will be great for those who never could spell it anyway. . . . A Paradoxical Truth. A lot of the talkies are dumb. . . . Happy indeed is the person who can obtain pleasure from the simpler things of life. . . . Sometimes the quest of a daughter's hand leads to the bestowal of the father's foot. . . . The reason we sometimes suspect that riches do bring happiness is that we are dead sure poverty does not. . . . Constrain on Wall Street. Concentrate on Main Street. . . . The woman a bachelor remembers most tenderly is the one who made him happy—by letting him slip through her fingers. . . . Be careful when you set out to make somebody toe the mark—You may turn out to be the mark. . . . If it were not for man's faith in his fellow man there would be no such thing as the installment plan. . . . Paying, alimony, is like buying oats for a dead horse. . . . In the old days when we reached the hotel they put our luggage in the check room. Now they put it on ice.

Who loses money, loses much; Who loses friends, loses more; Who loses hopes, loses all.

Say It With Brevity. "When you've got a thing to say, say it, don't take half a day; life is short, a fleeting vapor; don't you fill the whole paper with a tale which, at a pinch, could be cornered in an inch. Boll her down until she simmers—polish her until she glimmers. When you've got a thing to say, say it, don't take half a day."

A minister went up to a library the other day and asked for "The Kentucky Cardinal." He demurred when the librarian began to look under "Religions."
"This cardinal was a bird," protested the minister.
"I'm not interested in his personal habits," said the librarian.

Bank Clerk—So you wish to open a joint account with your husband. What kind?
Mrs. Bright—Oh, just a deposit account for him—checking for me.

THE TRANSFORMATION

"Smith's sweetheart has a very dark past."
"You don't say?"
"Yes, she used to be a brunette."

ABOUT TOWN
The Ladies Sewing Circle of the Highland Park Community club held its annual meeting yesterday afternoon and the following officers were elected to serve for the coming year: president, Mrs. P. W. Taylor; vice president, Mrs. Walter Luetgens; secretary, Mrs. Ronald Hillman; treasurer, Mrs. J. N. Nichols. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. William Kelsh and Mrs. Charles Rohan.

Rev. Robert A. Colpitts, pastor of the South Methodist church, will speak at the meeting of the Young People's Branch at the church tonight at 7:30 on the subject of the "Government Control System of Canada." Friends will be welcome to come and hear this interesting talk.

Chapman Court, Order of Amaranth, will have a Washington party, Friday evening, February 19, following the regular meeting in the Masonic Temple. It is desired that as many as possible come in costume. Prizes will be given for the best costumes of the period. There will be old-fashioned dancing to music by Mrs. Ethel Montie, pianist and Mr. Pinney, violinist. Miss Minnie Schiebel and her committee will be in charge of refreshments which will be typically American. Mrs. Fredricka Spiess heads the committee in charge of the social. It is hoped a large number of the Amaranth members will attend the party, whether or not it is convenient for them to appear in costume.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of St. Mary's Episcopal church will be held tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. The guest speaker will be Miss Catherine Parker of Hartford, of the Church Mission of Help, who will tell of the work for wayward girls and unmarried mothers.
