Serious Situation Faces Manchester—School Consolidation Up Again—To Sell Whiton Securities.

That Manchester is facing one of the most serious situations in her history was the expression of the Board of Selectmen in last night's meeting.

The Board of Selectmen discussed at length the school consolidation plan at last night's meeting following the reading by Wells A. Strickland, secretary of the Board, of a letter from the Taxpayers' League advocating a reduction of one-fourth the Education budget.

The communication from the Taxpayers' League recommended a reduction of $100,000 from the Education budget to be effected through a recommended cut in the salaries of teachers and supervisory force on a scale of from 15 to 25 per cent, depending upon the salary received.

Drop One Executive It was also recommended that the elimination of one Superintendent of Schools in the town in the general plan of the Taxpayers' League to reduce school costs. No action was taken by the Selectmen on the communication but discussion ensued regarding the possibility of school consolidation.

Bowers, Williams Oppose Selectmen Frank V. Williams and Sherwood G. Bowers, members of the Taxpayers' League, were outspoken against school consolidation in the discussion.

Chairman Rayburn and the witnesses agreed that in some instances railroads and other businesses as well—22 per cent of the stock might be enough for control.

Has One Man But Pelley reiterated his denial of what he saw as an implication that the Pennsylvania railroad is telling the New Haven and the Boston and Maine what to do about everything.

BAKED IN OVEN FOR TEN MONTHS

Man Badly Burned Is Being Brought Back To Health In Odd Way.

Memphis, March 16.—(AP)—Jack Doty is being baked to health in heat of 103 degrees 10 months after doctors feared he had been burned fatally.

His back was seared to the bone and his right leg parched in an automobile accident last May 3. Physicians despaired for his life but nevertheless ordered a roasting cure.

An electric oven with a constant heat of 103 degrees was assembled at his home here, and Doty was placed inside on stomach. Only his head, arms and shoulders were free.

He lies in the same position day after day and bakes. The temperature, doctors explained, draws the impurities from his burned body and promotes growth of new under-skin.

Doty, whose initials are L. J., is 23 now and cheerful.

Man Is Cheerful "They told me at first that a guy is a 'dead soldier' if more than a third of his body is burned," Doty said. "Well I just want to show 'em they don't know what they're talking about."

He hopes to get out of "this thing" within three months and return to a hospital for a grafting of new skin.

PENNSY INFLUENCE DENIED BY PELLEY

"New Haven" Head Says His Road Is Not Controlled By Atterbury.

Washington, March 16.—(AP)—A denial that the Pennsylvania railroad and the Pennrod Corporation control the actions of New England carriers was made today before the House commerce committee by J. J. Pelley, president of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad.

He referred to testimony by Lawrence Wilder, who represented the city of Boston in support of the pending Rayburn bill to place railroad holding companies under the jurisdiction of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Pelley said Wilder testified that "the Boston and Maine is not permitted to solicit business in connection with the New Haven but the New Haven is permitted to solicit anywhere."

"This is not true," Pelley asserted. He quoted Wilder as having said the "foreign ownership of New England railroads through holding companies had a 'gas' in 'gas' in executives of the railroads."

"I want to say most emphatically that there is no implication of truth in this statement so far as the New Haven is concerned and I believe it is not true of the Boston and Maine," Pelley testified.

"I know I'm not gagged about anything," he said. Pelley asserted the Pennrod Corporation owned 7.27 per cent of the stock of the New Haven and the Pennsylvania 15 per cent. The next largest stockholder, he said, had 20,000 shares, controlling about one per cent of the votes.

Chairman Rayburn and the witnesses agreed that in some instances railroads and other businesses as well—22 per cent of the stock might be enough for control.

George Ogden, vice president in New England of the Pennsylvania railroad, denied another statement by Wilder. He quoted Wilder as having testified that Ogden, discussing the proposed four-party consolidation plan, said it had been made perfectly clear "that the Pennsylvania intended to be 'dominant' in New England."

"I regret the necessity of denying it, but that statement is absolutely false," Ogden testified.

He also objected to Wilder's assertion that W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania, had said he had no interest in developing traffic from the port of Boston.

Display windows will be lighted tonight to give the townspeople an opportunity to view the latest creations in merchandise for the spring and summer. Stores will be open until 9 o'clock tomorrow night and Saturday night and sales will be carried on as usual. Display windows will also be lighted on Friday evening. A number of the larger stores have planned to present fashion shows and in some souvenirs will be given. Spring Opening is especially timely this year, what with the first day of Spring on Monday and Easter the following Sunday.

KIDNAPER GETS LIFE; MERCY PLEAS IGNORED

Court Says It Is Most Heartless Crime and Is Becoming Too Prevalent in Nation—Prisoner Silent.

Warren, O., March 16.—(AP)—Declaring kidnaping is "one of the most cruel and heartless crimes and is becoming 'all too prevalent,'" Common Pleas Judge Lynn R. Griffith today sentenced Dowell Hargraves, 31, to life imprisonment for the abduction of 11-year-old James DeJute, Jr.

The judge, who heard the case without a jury at the request of the defense, found Hargraves guilty of kidnaping with intent to extort money. Under Ohio law, conviction on such a charge in case the victim is under 12 years carries a maximum sentence of life. Defense pleas for a recommendation of mercy, which would have reduced the penalty to 10 to 30 years, were ignored.

"The crime of kidnaping is one of the most cruel and heartless in the calendar," Judge Griffith said in his verdict. "It strikes a blow at the tenderest and most sacred affections of human blood, and is usually resorted to for revenge or extortion."

Death Punishment "By the Jewish and civil law, kidnaping was punishable with death and by common law with fine, imprisonment and pillory."

"Kidnaping is an offense that is becoming all too prevalent in its appearances throughout our land in the recent months."

"Where the crime is proven in all its elements, punishment should be meted out by the courts of justice and the punishment should be exemplary."

No Mercy The court then found Hargraves guilty and added: "There being no extenuating or mitigating circumstances to warrant the court in making the recommendation of mercy, the same is withheld."

Before delivering his opinion, Judge Griffith asked Hargraves if he wished to reveal the name of a third man believed to have been connected with the kidnaping. Hargraves said he had "nothing to say."

Hargraves' failure to take the stand in his own defense also was pointed out by the judge.

S. F. Mango, defense attorney, said he was undecided whether to appeal.

Hargraves was the first of two men to be tried for the kidnaping. The trial ended yesterday with Mango arguing that the state had failed to prove intent to extort.

GAS KILLS SIX IN ONE FAMILY; OTHERS FELLE

Woman Finds Her Home Filled With Fumes—Runs To House Opposite and Finds All Residents Dead.

Newburgh, N. Y., March 16.—(AP)—A family of six persons were killed by gas as they slept in their home at New Windsor, N. Y., near here, early today.

In another house across the street a father and his three sons were overcome by the fumes and were reported in serious condition.

The source of the escaping gas was not immediately determined. All mains in New Windsor were shut off when the tragedy became known.

The Dead John Lucas, 60, the father. Mrs. Helen Lucas, 58, the mother. Mrs. Mary Sitkiewicz, 33, a daughter. Jeanette Lucas, 21, a daughter. Lois Sitkiewicz, 11, and Irene Sitkiewicz, 9, granddaughters of the Lucas couple.

Others Overcome The four others might also have died had not Mrs. Charles Weygant, mother of the boys, returned home early today after an all night vigil with her sick mother, to find her own home filled with gas and her husband and sons unconscious. She immediately threw open all windows in the house.

The husband, Charles Weygant, and the three sons were revived by firemen.

Noticing that illuminating gas fumes lingered about the neighborhood, Mrs. Weygant wondered if gas could be in other homes nearby. She noticed that windows in the Lucas house were closed. She ran across the street, succeeded in entering the Lucas house and found all members of the family in bed. Her efforts to rouse them failed, and physicians who arrived later found them dead.

New gas mains were laid in the village last fall, and it was thought one of these might have failed.

STRAWN, BRUENING HOLD CONFERENCE

American Financier Says German Chancellor Is Well Versed In World Affairs.

Berlin, March 16.—(AP)—Elias Strawn, president of the International Chamber of Commerce, spent an hour today with Chancellor Heinrich Brüning.

Afterwards he expressed himself as greatly impressed by the chancellor's personality and grasp of affairs. "I have rarely met anyone so conversant with world affairs as the German chancellor," he said.

He expressed himself as rather optimistic over the possibility of European statesmen getting together. "My hope is they will come to an accord after the Prussian and French elections are over," he said, "and before they meet formally at Lausanne."

Commercial Friends Speaking at a luncheon given in his honor by the German group of the International Chamber and the Berlin Chamber of Commerce, he paid tribute to German-American commercial friendships.

"We always know when you visit us," he said, "or when we come here and grasp your hands in cordial greetings that our hearts are in them. There is every selfish reason why friendly relations should obtain between Germany and America. For many years Germany was our second best customer. She is now our first. We hope that with the revival of the world's business position."

The main body of his address was devoted to reading his statement on reparations and inter-governmental debts made at the meeting of the International Chamber at Paris March 1.

TREASURY BALANCE Washington, March 16.—(AP)—Treasury receipts for March 14 were $9,720,854.21; expenditures $18,986,751.35; balance, $265,492,542.82. Customs duties for 14 days of March were $10,275,867.17.

U. S. Joins Other Powers In a Protest to Liberia

Washington, March 16.—(AP)—The United States has joined with Great Britain and other European powers in another protest against slavery conditions in Liberia. Upon the recommendation of the League of Nations commission to make inquiry into the existence of forced labor, of which Samuel Reber, Jr., is the American member, strong representations were made to Liberia on March 7 by the State Department against the persecution of Liberian witnesses who testified before the commission. This is the second protest the American State Department has made to Liberia, and it is withold-

Senator Bingham Makes Public Replies of Governors To Telegrams Asking Information On Present Conditions—Estimates Six Million Jobless; To Oppose Democratic Highway Bill.

Washington, March 16.—(AP)—Senator Bingham (R., Conn.), brought a bundle of telegrams from governors of most of the states in to the Senate today to bolster an attack upon the $132,500,000 Democratic highway construction bill.

One of the telegrams—that of Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania—said starvation was widespread in his state. The others reported conditions of various seriousness but that local and state agencies had thus far been able to cope with the situation.

Bingham said the reports received in response to telegrams he had sent out indicated 6,000,000 were a fair estimate of the number of jobless instead of the 10,000,000 figure that has been mentioned in the Senate by some of his colleagues.

"Where is this money going to come from?" asked Bingham, referring to the proposed highway appropriation.

"We are today spending $8,000,000 a day more than we are receiving and this bill would add another million dollars a day to this deficit for the next nine months. Who is going to pay the bill?"

"Bingham's amendment that would distribute the area and highway needs on the basis of population rather than on the ground that the relief that would be offered in the more thickly populated industrial states where he contended it is needed most. He said, however, he would oppose the bill even if his amendment were adopted."

Taking issue with Bingham, Senator Bratton (D., N. C.) said there are at least 10,000,000 people unemployed in this country.

"A man convinced against his will is of the same opinion still," quoted Bingham smilingly.

"The senator from Connecticut is noted for that characteristic as much as anyone in this body," Bratton returned.

Continuing, Bingham said the bill as it stands would place an unfair share of the burden on the ten states that pay the biggest income tax while not giving them a proportionate share in the benefits.

Senator Odie (R., Nev.), chairman of the roads committee and an advocate of the bill, interrupted Bingham to say that the roads of his state are "used principally by the people of the whole United States."

Senator Bingham replied that this is proposed not as a regular highway bill but as a relief measure and asserted Nevada's unemployed would receive $412 per capita under it.

He said Nevada's unemployment was reported at 2,800 while the state would get $1,578,015 under the bill. The highway bill is not up for consideration at present and no action on it was taken.

DISTRESS STATISTICS Washington, March 16.—(AP)—Senator Bingham (R., Conn.) said today that of 43 replies received from telegrams sent to the governors of the states asking statistics on distress and unemployment only one—that of Governor Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania—stated that starvation exists.

The number of unemployed in the country was estimated by Bingham, on the basis of his returns, at 6,000,000. He explained that he telegraphed all the governors on the day after the House passed the Democratic emergency unemployment highway construction bill to determine the facts in the face of statements he said had been made on the Senate floor that 10,000,000 are unemployed and millions are starving. He expects to use the material in opposing the highways bill which has yet to pass the Senate.

Bingham has proposed an amendment for distributing highway funds on the basis of population, but even if this should be adopted he would vote against the bill, saying the cost is too great.

OBITUARY DEATHS

JOHN CONLON DEAD; MILK DEALER HERE

Lobar Pneumonia Takes Popular Young Business Man Early Today.

John Conlon, of 24 Trotter street, widely known local milk dealer, died early this morning at his home, following a few days illness of lobar pneumonia. He was thirty-five years old and is survived by his wife, Florence (Armstrong) Conlon; an eight years old son, Albert; his father, David Conlon, of Hartford; and three half-brothers, Charles of Pennsylvania and David and James of Hartford.

His son, Albert, is recovering from a fracture at the base of the skull, suffered last month when he fall from the roof of a garage. His brother-in-law, Robert Armstrong, who lives next door, lies seriously ill with pneumonia. Neither will be able to attend the funeral, which will be held Friday afternoon.

Leg Amputated Mr. Conlon was taken ill Thursday night of last week with chills and lobar pneumonia developed. His general health has not been of the best for the last six months, due to a leg amputation at the Memorial hospital two years ago. At that time the leg was amputated at the knee. Previous to this he had been under the observation of Hartford and New York specialists. Six months ago he began to have a re-occurrence of the old trouble in the stump of the amputation. He had been advised three weeks ago to stay off his feet but due to the pressure of business and his determination to carry on, he kept going until stricken with pneumonia.

Held Out No Hope Little hope was held out for his recovery from the start, owing to the severity of his illness and the infection of his leg. Monday evening, Mr. Conlon was examined by a Hartford specialist who gave no hope of recovery. As a last resort, he was given a blood transfusion last night but this only relieved his condition temporarily and he died at 5:45 o'clock this morning.

Former Silk Weaver John Conlon was born in Manchester thirty-five years ago, the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Conlon. He was employed at Cheney Brothers as a weaver for nearly seven years and then entered the milk business by opening the Central Dairy, located at the rear of his home. In his ten years as a milk dealer, Mr. Conlon made a host of friends throughout Manchester through his genial personality.

Overseas Veteran During the war he served for two years with the Medical Corps, 76th Division, and was also with the Army of Occupation on the Rhine in Germany. He was a member of the Washington Orange Lodge, the Chamber of Commerce, the Connecticut Milk Producers' Association, and was affiliated with the South Methodist church.

Funeral Friday The funeral will be held Friday afternoon at the home, Rev. Robert A. Colpitts of the South Methodist church will officiate. Burial will be in the East cemetery.

Mrs. Minnie Littlejohn Mrs. Minnie Littlejohn, 88, died at her home on Cottage street in Cambridge, Mass., Saturday night following a short illness. She leaves a brother and sister in England and a cousin, Mrs. Ellen L. Beckus, of South Manchester, also a cousin, William Hall, of East Hartford, and several nieces and nephews. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at Holloran's funeral parlors with Rev. J. Stuart Neill officiating and burial will be in the East cemetery.

FUNERALS

Jason M. Chapman The funeral of Jason M. Chapman, of 41 Summer street, was held this afternoon at his home with Rev. Marvin S. Stocking officiating and the Odd Fellows having charge of the ceremony.

Captain of Police Herman O. Schendel, former noble grand of King David Lodge when Mr. Chapman was vice-grand, presided as acting noble grand at the funeral service with William McKinney as chaplain.

BIG ATTENDANCE AT BALL ASSURED

Committees Expect Number Will Exceed Previous K. of C. Events.

Only two weeks remain before the annual ball of Campbell Council, Knights of Columbus, will be held at the State Armory and present indications point to the largest attendance in the history of this social event. The various committees in charge of the ball are bending every effort to make it one that will long be remembered.

Wilfred Messier as chairman of the ball committee has made arrangements for a most efficient checking service and ladies will be provided with every possible comfort, including the aid of attendants in the rest room. Urbano Osano has been engaged to cater and supper will be served in the basement of the Armory.

The outstanding feature of the ball will be Fred LeJeune and his Levitan orchestra, an eleven piece aggregation that is known from coast to coast. This band plays on the trans-Atlantic liner, Leviathan from April to October and is now making a tour of the New England states. It is being brought here at tremendous expense. The ticket committee reports that the sale of tickets has been very good to date and the attendance is expected to exceed that of last year.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

On account of a pressure of work at high school, Principal Quimby was unable to go to Bristol this afternoon but he commissioned Coach Thomas F. Kelley to represent the C. C. I. L. Coach Kelley presented the basketball trophy to Principal Henry Cottle and congratulated the Bristol team on its record of ten straight victories without a defeat in the league schedule. This is the second time that Bristol has won the silver statue of the basketball player which was offered by the East Hartford Trust Company three years ago for competition to be held permanently by the school first winning it three times. The Bristol players were also given their letters by Coach Thomas Monahan who called this one of the best teams he has ever coached.

Competition continued this afternoon in the interschool series for boys. The teams are playing for possession of the silver cup presented last year by the Dilworth-Cornell Foot, American Legion. This afternoon the freshman team which won on Monday from the sophomores, plays the winning junior team while the sophomores play the seniors.

Competition is of the round-robin order, each team playing every other team once. Sturgeon will referee the games.

Action was taken on payments of rents by the town to landlords housing charity applicants, the Selectmen voting to cut rent payments approximately 20 per cent beginning April 1. Payments of rent alone this year are expected to reach $10,000 and the reduction voted by the Selectmen last night will effect a saving of approximately $1,400.

The Board of Selectmen voted to dispose of certain securities of the construction of the Whiton Memorial Library.

East Center street and Foster street was submitted to the Board of Selectmen last night by Edward J. Holl and Samuel Richmond, interested parties. A hearing on the application was voted for the next meeting of the board.

Would Build Block In the application presented last night Mr. Holl and Richmond seek to build a business block to the street line of both Foster and East Center streets. The hearing will be public. Town Engineer J. Frank Bowen informed the Selectmen that the present street building line extends as far as East Center street as Summit street and Madison street on the south.

Flour Allotment The offer of the local chapter of the American Red Cross to turn over to the town the matter of applying for flour under the National Red Cross emergency relief program was tabled until more information on the plan of distribution has been obtained from nearby cities. Itemized bills of groceries obtained through the charity department seldom includes flour, it was stated by Chairman George H. Waddell, most of those receiving aid purchasing bread instead. The possibility of a central baking plant was not permissible under the Red Cross program of distribution except in cities of 25,000 and over. Manchester is approximately 3,000 less than the stipulated population referred to in the letter of the National Red Cross.

An application for a gasoline filling station on Oakland street granted by Chester E. Brunner was granted by the Board. The hearing to consider the acceptance by the town of Strong street for which application had been made by Arthur A. Knoke was postponed due to the necessity of the filing of deeds by abutters which will add greater width to the road and will eliminate irregularities in the contour of the roadway.

To Out Events Action was taken on payments of rents by the town to landlords housing charity applicants, the Selectmen voting to cut rent payments approximately 20 per cent beginning April 1. Payments of rent alone this year are expected to reach $10,000 and the reduction voted by the Selectmen last night will effect a saving of approximately $1,400.

The Board of Selectmen voted to dispose of certain securities of the construction of the Whiton Memorial Library.

NOT ENOUGH EVIDENCE

Gibraltar, March 16.—(AP)—A coroner's jury, resuming its investigation of the death last month of Elizabeth Barrett Cook, 20-year-old Boston girl, decided today there was not sufficient evidence to determine the cause of her death.

A. G. Holborow, a chemist, testified that he had found traces of a narcotic drug, but he was unable to say that it had caused the young woman's death. Smaller quantities than he found have caused death in some cases, however, he testified.

Elizabeth Barrett Cook died aboard the steamer Chinese Prince and when an autopsy revealed no trace to poison her death was ascribed to pneumonia. During the investigation it was disclosed that she had received a message announcing the death of her fiance in Boston. The young man was not dead but the identity of the person who sent the message has not been disclosed.

TO START ROAD SOON

Bridgeport, March 16.—(AP)—State Highway Commissioner John A. McDonald told the Association of Municipal Officials of Fairfield county last night that construction of the Merritt Highway will begin soon at both the Stratford and Greenwich ends. The 23 officials gave the commissioner a round of applause.

Estimates on the cost of construction of various sections will be made public at Hartford within a few days. The commissioner also said work laid out will go a long way toward ending unemployment among laborers in the county towns.

LEGION CARD PARTY

Warden Charles Griffith and Deputy John Jensen At Southington Meeting.

Manchester has two representatives at the annual convention of Connecticut Forest Fire Wardens at Southington today. They are Warden Charles Griffith and Deputy Warden John Jensen. The session convened at the Grange hall in Southington.

All fire wardens and their deputies east of the Housatonic and Naugatuck rivers were invited to attend. The bulletin stated that during the past year less area was burned but there were more fires. Plans for further reduction both in area and land involved and number of fires were to be discussed today.

The principal feature following the lunch served this noon will be a

$10,000 BLAZE

Torrington, March 16.—(AP)—Damage estimated at close to $10,000 was caused by fire early today in a store and tenement block on Main street owned by Emma B. Mallette. The stores which suffered loss were the First National Grocery, George Brothers, fruit store, Jankowski drug store, the Royal Shoe Repair Company and the Florida Studio. The origin of the fire, which started in the cellar under the fruit store, has not been determined.

PETITION REQUESTS CLOSING OF "RECS"

Asks That Two Ninth District Buildings Be Used For School Purposes.

A group of Ninth district taxpayers will tonight present a petition to Howell Cheney, chairman of the Ninth District Committee, asking that a special district meeting be called to consider closing the Recreation Centers for other than school uses.

Would Cut Cost In petitioning for the closing of the Recreation Centers, the School Street Center and the West Side building, the signers maintain that the cost of maintenance is too high.

The petition being passed around for signers reads as follows: "Mr. Howell Cheney, Chairman Ninth School Dist. So. Manchester, Conn.

"We, the undersigned voters of the Ninth School district, do hereby petition your school committee to call a special meeting of the Ninth School District to see if the voters of said district will take action on the following resolution:

"1. That the East Side Recreation Center and the West Side Recreation Building be used exclusively for school purposes and that these buildings be closed each school day at 5 p. m. when not used for any of the high school athletic activities.

LESS DISTRESS

Farmington, March 16.—(AP)—James W. Hook, chairman of the state commission on unemployment told a group of accountants here last night it was his opinion, based on observation and figures, that distress among the unemployed had been less this winter than it was last winter.

NO BULLET FIRED

Berlin, March 16.—(AP)—The moderate excitement aroused yesterday by reports that some one had fired upon a train in which Adolph Hitler was returning from Weimar subsided today when it was determined the "bullet" which broke a window in the train was a stone thrown by some boys playing along the track.

ROCKVILLE

First of unknown origin destroyed a five-acre tobacco shed on the farm of Steven Gerick on South street last night about 10:15. There was no tobacco in the shed but it contained about a ton of corn and some hay. The loss is estimated at more than $2,000.

The fire was first seen by one of the Gerick children. The Pitton truck of the Rockville Fire Department, with Assistant Chief William Conrady, responded, but as there was no water supply little could be done.

The firemen worked for about an hour fighting a grass and brush fire which had caught from the barn. They succeeded in keeping the fire from spreading to adjoining buildings.

Resigns From Council Alderman Ernest M. Ide, Republican, tendered his resignation to the City Council Tuesday night. He has been a city father for the past four years. Pressure of business and personal reasons prompted Mr. Ide to resign.

Municipalities League Although plans for an organization of a Tolland County branch of the Municipalities League of Connecticut were discussed at a meeting of the League held at the Rockville House on Tuesday, nothing definite was done.

Annual Meeting The annual meeting of the Ladies' Aid society of the Rockville Methodist church will be held in the vestry on Friday afternoon. Officers for the ensuing year will be elected. A members' supper will follow the meeting.

Advisory Appointments Lebbeus E. Bissell of this city and Ray I. Longly of Storrs received the appointments for Tolland County on the Advisory Council of the Connecticut State Board of Fisheries and Game. Two from each county were appointed.

Birthday Supper The birthday supper to be held at the Union congregational church on Friday night promises to be a novel event. Robert Gregus is chairman in charge and the Mothers' club will serve the supper.

There was considerable discussion at the meeting as to the matter of taxation. The president spoke at length and said that plans had been discussed for calling a special session of the legislature to act on taxation. He said some way to relieve municipalities must be found.

consideration and if deemed advisable would take them before the legislature. With a state-wide organization there would be considerable weight behind each of these measures.

Dinner was served at the Rockville House previous to the meeting. Howard C. West, local ice dealer, completed harvesting his summer supply of ice at sundown last evening. The cold spell of the past few days enabled him to get in the usual crop.

Mr. West said that although there is no ice of any thickness along the edges of Snipic lake the ice at the island is eight and nine inches thick. This was floated down to the ice-house. His man also completed filling the Brooklyn street house and the private house on the William Maxwell estate on Union street.

District Fire Warden Tolland District Fire Warden Charles S. Hurlburt has given out a list of district fire wardens who can be called upon at any time.

Chimney Fire Tuesday The Hockanum truck of the Rockville Fire Department, with Chief George B. Milne in charge, responded to a chimney fire at the property of Howard West on Brooklyn street. It was stubborn but was extinguished by the firemen with no damage to the home.

Tokyo, March 16.—(AP)—Premier Taisho Inukai temporarily assumed the portfolio of home minister. In his Cabinet today following the resignation of Home Minister Tokugoro Nakahaski yesterday.

The appointment of Kiseburo Suzuki, minister of justice to the Home minister's post, which was forecast yesterday was blocked by opposition in the cabinet.

The assumption of the portfolio by the premier was intended to prevent smouldering antagonisms within the Seiyukai Party from breaking out into actual conflict, at least until the special session of Parliament which is soon to open closes, on March 25.

In political circles the consensus was, however, that the matter was merely postponed. A re-shuffling of the Cabinet was considered likely to follow the short parliamentary session, with possibility of renewal of the movement for a national Cabinet, including the strongest leaders of all parties, to lead the Empire through a critical period in domestic and international affairs.

FAWCETT SEEN

Rio de Janeiro, March 16.—(AP)—Arthur Abbott, British consul general at Sao Paulo said today that a man reported to him that he had seen Col. P. H. Fawcett, British explorer who disappeared in the jungles seven years ago, but that investigations he is carrying on have not yet confirmed the story. Col. Fawcett disappeared while searching for a lost civilization in the jungle.

There have been many reports since then that he was seen, but General Candido Rondon, head of the Brazilian Indian Service said several years ago, after an investigation of his own, that he was convinced the explorer was dead.

FAMOUS HOTEL CLOSES

Vienna, March 16.—(AP)—The historic Sacher hotel and restaurant, once center of the life of the aristocracy of Austria and Hungary, and familiar to thousands of tourists, has filed a petition for receivership.

World depression, poverty at the restaurant's former wealthy patrons and the death two years ago of Mrs. Sacher who herself made the restaurant a Vienna institution, were given as reasons for the petition. The business will be continued under the same name, however.

NO EXTRA CHARGE FOR TWO IN BERTH

Interstate Commerce Commission Rules Against Pullman Company Plan.

Washington, March 16—(AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission today ruled that the Pullman company cannot make an extra charge when two persons occupy the same berth.

The Pullman company last October proposed to add 20 per cent to the charge if a second passenger, 12 years old or over, occupied a berth.

The Arizona Corporation Commission, the Travelers Protective Association of America, the Paramount Public Corporation and Fanchon and Marco, Inc., protested.

The commission held that such an increase would result, among other things in an increase in rates accruing to the carriers because of the collection by the railroads of a surcharge of one-half the Pullman fares. It rules the Pullman fare and the surcharge question should be considered separately.

"The burden is on respondents to justify the increased sleeping car fares," said the commission. "The only respondent which has attempted to justify the proposed increases, the Pullman company, has no beneficial interest in the surcharges. Here the evidence is confined to an attempt to justify only the sleeping car fares."

"No evidence was introduced to justify the increased surcharges and such increases are not proposed by or in the name of the carriers to which they will accrue as do the great bulk of the sleeping car traffic which is conducted by the Pullman company."

"The present surcharges were initiated at a time when transportation conditions were abnormal and we cannot say that any increase therein in the light of present conditions is justified. The proposed tariffs are submitted as a unit and it is not for us to disentangle them."

The commission directed that an order be entered cancelling the proposed tariffs and discontinuing the proceeding.

Commissioner Mahaffie wrote a dissenting opinion in which he was joined by Commissioners Meyer, McManamy and Brainerd.

NEW BUICK PRICES INCREASING SALES

Volume Advanced As Low Cost Attracts Thousands As Buyers.

Thousands of new car buyers are taking advantage of the opportunity for Buick ownership offered by the low-priced Series 32-50 models of the 1932 Buick line of eight, according to sales reports obtained from the factory by James M. Shearer, local Buick dealer.

With the total volume of sales of this series advancing steadily as spring approaches, one model alone, the five-passenger 32-57 sedan that is a feature of this series, increased fifty per cent in the number of retail deliveries for the second ten-day sales period of February compared with the first ten days.

This model, which is the lowest priced Buick sedan since the days of four cylinders, is penetrating a new sales field and bringing Buick ownership to a large class of buyers who heretofore wanted a Buick but hesitated for economic reasons, it is explained.

"This Buick '37' sedan is a sturdy, 3,500-pound car, with ample adult roominess and built to Buick's high standards of quality," says Mr. Shearer. "The 1932 model has been increased in size, power, beauty of appearance and economy, as well as being lowered in price. The wheelbase has been lengthened, the five-passenger body is two inches longer and the eight-cylinder Buick valve-in-head engine has been increased to 82½ horsepower with high compression, which the owner can have at no additional cost.

Wizard, control, an exclusive Buick feature, brings unsurpassed driving ease to the '37'. It combines the automatic clutch, silent-second Synchro-Mesh transmission, and free wheeling. The automatic clutch makes it possible to shift to any speed without using the clutch pedal. The new Synchro-Mesh transmission with silent second gives feather-light shifting and acceleration up to forty miles per hour before shifting into high. The free wheeling is instantaneous and entirely foot-controlled, requiring no pushing or pulling of hand levers.

"Dual carburetion, the Buick engine oil temperature regulator, insulated fuel system and the many other 1932 Buick advancements are presented in this sedan. It also has the famous torque tube drive that gives Buick its train-like steadiness.

"The new body by Fisher for the '37' is a counterpart of those for the more expensive models, with smartly sloping windshield, dual horns, slim radiator shell, hood doors and single-bar bumpers. The roomy interior offers fine upholstery and appointments, including the new instrument panel grouping all instruments directly under the driver's eye at the left, with a capacious compartment in the right side of the panel."

"I like the simple sincerity of Chesterfield's advertising. Have you noticed it? There's no extravagance in the claims. Just everyday facts about the fine tobaccos they select and the painstaking way they develop the flavor and aroma.

"I've never smoked a milder cigarette! And I never tire of the flavor... a fine natural tobacco taste. They burn evenly, too. Either they're rolled more carefully... or the paper's better. I feel the greatest confidence in Chesterfields. They satisfy me!"

PLAYING POLITICS
 Publisher William J. Pape of Waterbury, chairman, and Attorney
 Albert Levitt of Redding, secretary of the Connecticut State Committee of Progressive Republicans, are to meet Governor Cross next Monday
 if the good governor does not in the meantime forget the appointment—in the expectation of presenting to the chief executive of the state "overwhelming proof" of the need of a special session of the Legislature.

Mr. Pape and Professor Levitt have quite an ambitious program of reforms that they think ought to be attended to right off; some folks might deem it was a bit comprehensive to be disposed of in a single legislative session, and a special one at that; including as it does a wholesale revamping of the banking laws, measures to reform the city courts out of politics, a reconstruction of the tax structure of the state, the setting up of moratorium on mortgages, rents and electric light bills and a variety of other admirable purposes, including,
 we gather, the elimination of the Republican state "machine." The latter a consummation devoutly to be wished by all good Progressives
 as well as by all good Democrats.

There are some subjects in the list which not a few persons may consider of sufficient urgency to really call for a special session, such as the proposal to relieve the plight of the cities and towns by having the state finance unemployment relief through a graduated income tax bearing heavily in the higher brackets, and the proposed moratorium on mortgages and rentals,
 with compensating relief of landlords from taxation. But there is not the slightest probability that the governor will call a special session, for reasons of his own. Those reasons, through any reasonable interpretation of his own words, are entirely political.

The governor delights in frequent repetitions of the assertion that at the last session of the Legislature
 he strove mightily—may we not add nobly, beautifully, angelically?
 —to have the tax structure recti-fied, but was defeated in his purpose by wicked partisanship. That is going to be the governor's fourteen inch gun in his campaign for re-election. Does anyone suppose he is going to risk the spiking of that gun by calling a special session and giving the Republican majority a chance to meet the situation that has developed in the last year? If so he doesn't know the amiable governor.

There is an old saying that when an old boy starts sowing late in life
 the wild oats he didn't sow as a boy, look out for fireworks and the barn roof a-blast. When Uncle Wilbur began sowing his political wild oats he proved to be some zipper—as evidenced by his two major judicial appointments. Play politics? By gosh and Plutarch, there's no holding him!

MOVIE CENSORSHIP
 Dr. Fred Eastman of the Chicago Theological Seminary, engaged in the always refreshing job of panning
 the movies, at a meeting of the Congregational Club at Hartford last night, quoted a statement that "a study of 400 films during 1931
 shows that 290 contain murders" and that "it is hard to point out ten pictures released during the whole year that do not contain adultery, divorce or violence." Dr. Eastman wants a film censorship.

Without an exhaustive knowledge of Shakespeare one may reasonably wonder whether an analysis of the works of the Bard of Avon would show a smaller or larger percentage than the movies of plays dealing with murder, adultery, divorce and violence. And one may, without irreverence, inquire as to what proportion of the chapters of the Old Testament would withstand the kind of censorship Dr. Eastman proposes to inflict upon the cinema.

The assailable morality of the screen became slightly wearying
 in view of the fact that they never,
 by any chance, attack the real dirt
 of the films, which is almost exclusively confined to the vaudeville and comedy "shorts," many of which fairly reek with the rottenest kind of degenerate suggestiveness which no American director would think of tolerating in a feature production.

Here is a department of Filmdom that definitely does need cleaning up, and which easily could be cleaned up if the purists would lead a concerted and sane public protest against it. Feature pictures, on the whole, are probably as good as the age and as good as the people who look at them, and possibly as decent as the theatre has ever been in any age or any country. But we could do very nicely without the introduction before average audiences of nasty filth in the form of "shorts"
 that belong by rights in the lowest type of burlesque houses where dirt-minded semi-idots go to wallow.

BEGGEBY
 One who employs the New York
 address but who evidently possesses rather intimate Tennessee associations, writes to the New York Herald Tribune quoting the Knoxville Times in a description of the woeful poverty of some of the beneficiaries of relief work bestowed in that state.

We are told of men working half time for the Knox County Highway department for 20 cents an hour in the bitterest of winter weather with no socks, no soles to their shoes, thin clothing; of one who made his lunch from the parings of the sweet potato that had constituted his breakfast; of some working in ice cold ditch water, barefoot;
 of a whole group of them breaking down and crying from the agony of cold and hunger.

The New York correspondent suggests that Herald-Tribune readers contribute to the relief of these sufferers in the Tennessee hills.

Now Tennessee is not one of our richest states and New York is. But New York has hundreds of jobless where Tennessee has one. And if human beings are living and striving in the extreme of destitution described by the Knoxville paper, in Tennessee, and if Tennessee is depending on the purses of residents of some other state to improve their condition, then Tennessee, it will seem to many fairly charitable people, ought to be thoroughly ashamed of herself.

So long as there are men in Tennessee who own two pairs of shoes or two suits of clothes or two overcoats and yet tolerate the spectacle of their own citizens undergoing the tortures of such poverty as is here depicted, so long will Tennessee stand condemned as unfeeling and heartless in the eyes of the country.
 When the Knoxville paper can truthfully tell the world that there are no two-overcoat men and no
 two-suit men left within the state to share their possessions with the suffering, then all America will stand ready to divide what it has with its stricken sister.

Until such time why should not Tennessee, like any Northern state, take care of her own?

WITHOUT AUTHORITY
 Coming out as a redhot champion of Governor Cross for Vice President, Mr. Spellacy is meticulously careful to make it clear that he is not acting as a spokesman for the governor. "I have never discussed
 the Presidency or the Vice-Presidency with him," says the former Democratic National commit-man.

One may well believe that. There are possibly more experienced and more perspicacious politicians in the world than Governor Cross, but it must be quite clear that, if he really does yearn for the Vice-Presidential nomination, he would prefer his advocate to be almost anyone else.

Perhaps Mr. Spellacy is not the only Democrat who would like to see the worthy governor's ambitions diverted from the governorship to the Vice-Presidency, but there could hardly be another whose advocacy would cause the gubernatorial nostrils to so obviously smell a rat.

And he must realize that a Spellacy urging of his candidacy would be bound to arouse instant suspicions throughout the party.

The governor can hardly afford to have the impression go out that he is willing to be used as a catpaw
 in defeating the Roosevelt movement in Connecticut—which nine out of ten observers will interpret the Cross boom as meaning. If it were seriously intended to get Cross into second place on the national ticket of course he would have to be given the Connecticut delegation's vote as candidate for President—and that would diah the Roosevelt program so far as this state is concerned. If the governor wants to continue to play around in the politics of this state he cannot well permit himself to become mixed up in maneuvers like that—since there are at least a thousand persons less unlikely than himself to become a Vice-Presidential candidate.

Yeah—we may quite well accept
 Mr. Spellacy's statement that the governor didn't sit him on.

A BUMP
 Governor Harry Flood Byrd, Virginia governor who would love to be the Democratic Presidential nominee, but won't, has a publicity machine at work. It is sending out broadcast a folder containing "Some Public Utterances of Harry Flood Byrd." Whoever arranged that folder should have known better than to let these two captioned paragraphs "bump" at the top of the first and second columns, respectively:

Taxation.—A great judge has said that the power to tax is the power to destroy; and taxes levied in the name of progress may be increased until industry and agriculture languish under their oppression.

Road Building.—I hope that public opinion will sustain the policy of completing as quickly as possible the main arteries of travel giving, of course, due consideration to all other roads.

In other words, progress may prove ruinously costly but let us hope that we shall continue in the way of the most expensive sort of progress. The editor of the folder ought to have kept the two branches of that straddle at least a short column apart.

IN NEW YORK

The Admirable Jenner
 New York, March 16.—When George Arliss' newest picture, "The Man Who Played God," was flashed upon the nation's screens
 recently there were those who noticed an interesting parallel between scenario and reality.

In the film story is a fine and loyal bond between master and valet. In Arliss' own life there is Arliss and there is the ever-faithful Jenner.

For 20 years, the valet has served the actor and from the Hollywood lots have come many tales of the watchful care exerted by the servant. He is a veritable nurse-maid, admonishing the veteran player when he works too hard; getting him to work on time; telling him when it's quitting time and insisting that work shall be stopped for the old English custom of afternoon tea.

A Matter of Note
 But one of the most unusual bits of chatter going about New York concerns Toscanini, the great Italian symphonic director—perhaps the greatest in the world.

It is generally known in musical circles that Toscanini conducts without music. Each program is a proud matter of memory with this genius. After the unpleasant experience with Mussolini while in his own business and Toscanini returned and took up the baton in Carnegie Hall. He had many worries and some slight attacks of illness.

In the course of one of his last
 New York concerts, so goes the tale, the director forgot to note
 one note out of a half hour score.
 Yet so upset was he that he determined upon the rest that he is now taking.

Versatilities
 They say that Mrs. Jeritza will be induced to sing in light opera when Lubitsch gets around to playing the role of director . . .
 And Flo Ziegfeld has sold himself to radio time, arranging the program and insuring the appearance of various Ziegfeld stars . . . Ellis-as Landi, who has become known to movie going audiences as a charming film actress, had two novels to her credit before leaving London and will soon become known to readers for her first work in America, "A House For Sale" . . .

"We Won't Go Home . . ."
 "All-Night-Life" is returning to Broadway . . . The new place, which will stay open until the sun comes over the skyline, in the El Garron and will have both South American tango and American jazz bands . . . Billy Bryant, who came to town as a legendary show-boat figure of the Ohio and Mississippi river and in a night club and in the same show, at the Club Richman, is that wise cracking effeminate master-of-ceremonies, Jean Malin
 . . . Yes, Broadway makes strange floor-show fellows . . .

Interesting Folks
 . . . Not so long ago, we reported rarely to be seen about the Broadway with which his name is associated . . . And now I hear that Cohan will pass up the Great White Way when he brings out his next show, "Confidential Service"
 . . . Instead of the usual big street display, he'll take it on the road and if it survives, Cohan will not appear in the New York production . . . Or so it is said . . .

The Harry Losses, comes from Dayton, O., and was never viewed on Broadway until a recent Sunday eve . . .

That Algonquin "round-table"
 party of celebs, having swung back into a night club and in the next show, "Confidential Service"
 a music-revue . . . I hear that Deems Taylor is getting up some of the music and that Robert Benchley and Dorothy Parker are among the sketch contributors . . .
 GILBERT SWAN.

Just after roads shows began leaving New York for the hinterlands, the price of eggs went up.

A Good Stunt If She Does It!

Washington Letter

By RODNEY DUTCHER
 NEA Service Writer

Washington—Your correspondent has just had the privilege of meeting one of Speaker Jack Garner's old fellow townsmen from Texas, John F. Robinson, who used to be sheriff of Val Verde county.

Robinson was born in Uvalde
 and was there when Garner came,
 in his early twenties, to practice
 law. The ex-sheriff is a jolly, nervy, tanned little Texan bubbling over with enthusiasm for his old pal, and when he left the speaker's office headed south he was promising to stop in Houston and San Antonio to make sure the boys and girls there are on their toes in the big boom for Garner for president.

Says Garner has "It"
 "It was back in '93 or '94 when Jack Garner came," he reminded.
 "After that you'd never see that fellow on the street or anywhere that he didn't have a crowd around him."

"He always had that little thing you call 'it.' It was recognized that he tended strictly to his own business and let the other fellows do likewise. But he loved to play poker and billiards and have a good time all-around. He was a good talker and there was not a man in Uvalde county who didn't like him."

He was famous as a poker player. He and I went wild over billiards for awhile, and whenever you got ahead he'd want to keep on, tenacious, until he got the edge again.

Just Another Cow Town
 "Uvalde was a cow town of about 2000, with many swell, big cow ranches around it. It was predominantly cow country, and still is.
 There were only four or five saloons
 in Uvalde, but they were all popular. Everybody used to drink hard liquor in those days. Not much beer.
 But I never saw Jack full."

He was very decided in his likes and dislikes. Always quick to say yes or no, and no quibbling.
 That's the idea about John.
 When you go to him and ask him
 a favor and he says 'yes,' you can just walk off and forget it and know it's going to be done.

All 777 for Garner
 "The Big Bend country is strong as garlic for Garner. My town of Marfa turned in 777 votes for a straw vote in El Paso the other day, and every one of the 777
 was for Garner for president."

Uvalde "had" the reputation of a killing town," according to Robinson, but that was before Garner's time. Nearly all disputes were settled with guns. Even in the Garner period, however, there were shooting scrapes. "The last one was between Mark Hemphill and Ben and Henry Patterson in Joe Doughey's saloon," Robinson recalled. "I forgot what it was about. Hemphill got behind the bar and put a couple of old water cruet on top of a shield and cruet on behind them."

"The Patterson boys didn't hit him, but shot the cruetis plenty.
 As they were leaving through the door Hemphill shot Ben right in the seat of the pants."

Knows Sheep Raiders
 Garner became a judge and moved into politics. Robinson was elected sheriff of the next county, Val Verde, which had "lots of hard sheep and goat thieves." Robinson broke the gang up after eight hard years—"I trailed them until I knew their habits better than they did."

"About eight Mexicans sent word from the Mexican end of Del Rio (county seat) that they didn't have guts enough to come and get them. I got four fellows and went. The Mexicans were wanting for every crime in the cat-egorry. It was pitch dark and they

HEALTH-DIET ADVICE
 By Dr. Frank McCoy
 "The Best Way to Health"

STAMMERING AND SELF-CONSCIOUSNESS

According to popular opinion,
 those who stammer are pitied for being stupid, but, as a rule, most stammerers are very sensitive and,
 as they think faster than they can talk, become confused. He feels as if Stammering has been known for centuries; we find accounts of it among the early Egyptians. Many famous men had to overcome stammering, among them Moses, Washington, and Demosthenes. Strange treatments have been devised, such as blistering the tongue with hot oil or running hot needles into it.

The symptoms of stammering are well-known; the speaker appears anxious and distressed, makes sudden stops and may repeat certain letters or words. He feels as if though his breath were cut off, his tongue locked, and his throat jammed. The daily humiliation of this trouble affects the whole emotional experience. The sufferer probably can talk as well as anyone else, but in the presence of a crowd or in an ever-present nightmare of failure when trying to talk to others often builds up an inferiority complex which may make him more or less of a misfit all his life.

Usually there is a period when the patient can talk as well as anyone else. Exactly what causes the stammer to first appear is difficult to state. Some believe that the reason is that the stammerer has a very quick mind and can think faster than he can talk. There is probably some truth in this, as most stammerers are excitable, clever,
 and intelligent.

Psychological Causes
 I believe that the cause of stammering is nearly always psychological. It is due to a nervousness which usually begins during perfectly normal. As a result, the speaker forms the habit of stammering in certain social situations when he is self-conscious. This way of considering the subject of stammering is very modern, but if you will think over what you know about stammering, I believe you will come to the conclusion that it is the right way and that the stammerer's trouble is more in his mind than in his organs of speech, these organs usually being found perfectly normal.

(Sinusoidal Machine)
 Question: Mr. Gregory H. inquires: "Where can I purchase a sinusoidal machine?"
 Answer: The Sinusoidal Electrical Machines can be purchased at most any surgical supply house. However, I do not advise them for private use as it should be administered in a doctor's office under the supervision of someone who thoroughly understands their use.

(Aluminum Ware Not Poisonous)
 Question: Mrs. J. D. asks: "Is there any truth in the reports that foods cooked in aluminum are poisoned?"
 Answer: I do not believe there is any truth in the recently reported statements about injury from aluminum ware. I continue to use this kind of cooking utensil and recommend it to all of my patients.

Fear of Failure
 Probably the stammerer falls
 most frequently in those social situations where he has found some past experience he is most likely to have difficulty in speaking. Talking in the middle of the street,
 shooting, shoulder to shoulder.
 We stood there, too. There wasn't any place to hide behind, anyway.
 We killed one and four others died from their wounds. Three got away. Those Mexicans must have been drunk—their aim was so bad."

These are prosaic days, even in Texas, and Robinson is now head of the Marfa chamber of commerce. He was up here to persuade the War Department not to abandon Fort D. A. Russell in Marfa, which means a lot to the town.

After winning he went around thanking officials and others who had helped him. "and unheeded of gesture which caused several to faint from shock."

RINGWORM AND KINDRED DISEASES CALL FOR SANITARY PRECAUTIONS
 By DR. MORRIS FISHBAIN
 Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

One of the most common complaints and one which is becoming exceedingly widespread in this country is infection of the human skin with an organism called the trichophyton and also the epidermophyton, a vegetable parasite commonly called a ringworm.

The word "tricho" means hair and the word "epidermo" means skin. A similar condition sometimes affects chickens, horses, cows, dogs, rabbits and other domestic animals. The mange of the dog is a disease of this character.

The condition was called ringworm because in many instances it appears on the skin as a ring.
 However, the appearance is not always ringlike, and the parasite that causes the eruption is not a worm.

Strangely there are many varieties of these parasites and they pick certain parts of the body as their special habitat. One ringworm gets between the toes and is associated with the formation of soft corns; another ringworm is found most frequently in the armpits and another on the inside of the thighs; some ringworms prefer the scalp and others localize on the hands and feet.

The condition called barber's itch is frequently due to infection
 with a parasite of this character,
 as are also the common conditions called athlete's foot and similar appellations.

It is hard to advise people as to how to be certain to avoid these conditions. They are so widespread that it is practically impossible to make sure that contact with the parasites will not occur.

Among common causes of infection of the feet is walking barefoot over infected rugs, carpets, floors of gymnasiums and locker rooms, runways of swimming pools and other places where a considerable number of people walk barefoot.

Practically all of us use our hands for many tasks daily, including the gentle custom of handshaking and it is quite impossible to wash the hands following every human contact.
 Most of us depend on those who unfortunately there are vast numbers of people among us who have no sense of community responsibility and who are quite careless about disseminating infected material from their bodies.

In many instances ringworm may be obliterated by the use of liniments of iodine, mercuriochrome, sulphur ointments, salicylic acid ointments and solutions and all sorts of antiseptic substances, but there are also many cases in which the infection is so

PROBE COST $750,000
 Albany, N. Y., March 16.—(AP)— Governor Roosevelt has signed the Republican bill giving the New York City Investigative Committee $350,- 000 additional to continue work another year.

In announcing he had signed the bill the governor said "I trust the heavy expenditure in this case will be justified by concrete suggestions for the permanent improvement of the structure of local government in the city of New York and in other municipalities in the state."

The appropriation brings the cost of the investigation to $750,000.
 The governor repeated what he has said many times in connection with the investigation into the Tammany administration of New York.
 That if the Legislature felt it was necessary to investigate, it had the right to do so, and that the executive should not interfere in its business by disapproving of the appropriations.

The Democratic minority in the State Legislature fought the investigation as a political move.

MANCHESTER'S SPRING OPENING MARCH 17, 18, 19

Spring Styles Are Ready at the Lowest Prices in Decades

BLUE skies...signs of new grass...a flash of color as the first robin wings by...soon the whole world will be throwing off its drab, gloomy winter cloak for the new, refreshing, rejuvenating colors of spring. Early as it may seem, Manchester merchants are all ready to assist you in shortening the winter's stay!

The new styles...the new colorings for spring are ready for your inspection...priced so low that decades have passed since new Spring finery required so small an investment. Selections are large and varied. Prices are as low and in many cases lower than elsewhere. Qualities are of the same high Standard for which Manchester is famous. And the merchants are anxious and ready to serve your every need and desire. The ample parking spaces of our shopping districts add to the pleasure of a visit.

1932's gala three-day Spring Opening will make it possible for everyone to inspect the new styles. Show windows will be brightly lighted all three nights...and stores open Thursday and Saturday evenings until 9 o'clock.

Manchester Chamber of Commerce

SPRING OPENINGS STRESS LOW PRICES

Three Day Showing of New Merchandise Begins in Stores Here Tomorrow, Fresh Stock, High Quality and 1932 Prices Outstanding Features.

Tomorrow, Friday and Saturday in the form of the annual Spring Opening event that heralds the rapid approach of the Spring and Easter season. Nature makes it her masterpiece; fashion finds in it inspiration for her highest creative art. Spring is near now. Come and find it in all of our stores and shops. See a new array of styles as delightful and refreshing as the glad season itself. It's time to fix up and feel gay—to put on new clothes, and new smiles.

Low Priced But Stylish
A restricted budget can't cramp anyone's style this spring. The designers evidently sensed our current needs, for they have given us a liberal selection of smart new styles that can be developed in medium and low price ranges without a sacrifice of quality.

The outstanding business event of the year comes to Manchester to-

New Spring styles are, fundamentally, studies in fabric and line. Detail is reduced to barest essentials and elaborateness is as obsolete as the late lamented Eugenie hat. The science of simplicity and the art of elimination make moderate price possible without cheapening materials or skimping on workmanship.

Read the Advs.

Today's issue of the Herald carries a special supplement with advertisements by practically all local merchants, who have rearranged their stores and freshened up and restocked with the latest merchandise at the new low prices. The Spring Opening this year will be carried out in a similar way to that of last year. Stores will be open tomorrow night until 9 o'clock, until 8 o'clock on Friday night and until 9 o'clock on Saturday night.

Display windows will be lighted tonight and again on Friday evening so that the townspeople will be given ample opportunity to inspect the new spring merchandise on these two evenings as well as on Thursday and Saturday evenings.

Committee

The committee in charge of the event consists of William Rubinow, chairman; Julius Fradin, Thomas Brennan, Warren Keith, Mrs. Mar-garat Shea, Miss Ethel Anderson, Arthur Hultman, William Kronick, R. K. Anderson, L. N. Heebner, Herbert Swanson and Leo Thorp.

Spring apparel is characterized by a sturdy, practical look and individual garments manifest adaptation to many-occasion wear. But these garments are by no means the dull, drab affairs their sensible features might indicate. In the contrary, they lend themselves to plenty of lively variation and their marked trend toward simplicity brings welcome relief from recently stressed "empire" and period themes.

Some scientists explain kleptomania as the result of parents restraining their children from things they want.

SMART MEN'S TOGGERY SHOWN AT GLENNEY'S

Up-to-the-Minute Styles in Men's and Young Men's Wear—Low Prices Feature.

The men's furnishings store of Christopher Glenney features a complete line of the newest fabrics in topcoats, suits and hats. It was pointed out that while the values are much lower priced than a year ago, the workmanship and quality of the garments is much better than heretofore.

Some of the most attractive prices may be found in the shoe department where a full stock of sport and dress shoes are to be found including the Florsheim, Bostonian, Mansfield and Freeman makes. Shirts and neckwear in the latest patterns are on display as well as a long line of young men's sweaters. The values are exceptionally good for such low prices.

AT FRADIN'S

Patrons of Fradin's Apparel Shop who have for years relied on this shop to provide the best of quality and style in their wearing apparel needs will again welcome the opportunity of obtaining the newest modes now on display for Spring Opening. J. Fradin has left no stone unturned to make your visit most pleasant and worth while, for when this store prepares for Spring Opening their efforts extend to the leading style and fashion markets in the country through their unusual New York buying connections.

In speaking of the New Spring Apparel, Mr. Fradin said that while garments are of a higher grade in material and workmanship this season, the prices are considerably lower than in years. The new coats interestingly furred or sleekly tailored include many popular military models, this being the influence of the bicentennial year. The collars are the most interesting feature being completely detachable or in many instances making itself conspicuous by its absence. The suits are so gay and smart they will do wonders for one's wardrobe. With several attractive blouses, it offers any number of outfits. Prints, plain crepes, lace, flowers, checks, dots, stripes and plaids are the fashion features of the new dresses and at the new prices no woman can afford NOT to have one.

There are no "musts" about the new Easter Hat—the only rule is to be individual. Flowers, ribbons, hats, brims and turbans are all represented this season in novel and most attractive ideas.

AT THE SMART SHOP

Chic Spring millinery will be featured in the popular Smart Shop during the days of the Spring Opening. Rough straws in the new Indian Bead, Corsair Blue, peanut, straws, flower and feather trimmed in sailor effect in all sizes will be displayed.

Print dresses in the new pastel shades including Baby Blue, beige, and Sunday night dresses and party dresses in the many new and attractive Spring colors, rightly priced, are all ready for the critical shopper.

The Smart Shop has combed the New York fashion centers for their stock for Manchester's Spring Opening and report the greatest values ever to be presented. A cordial invitation is extended by the Smart Shop to the many friends made during the past year to view this attractive display during the days of the Spring Opening.

AT RUBINOW'S

Spring Fashions from New York will be displayed in the newly remodeled Rubinow store during the Spring Opening. All last week Mr. Rubinow and the store buyers called the Metropolitan market for latest fashions in style and quality and every garment in the new store is fresh from the fashions center of the United States, clean, riotous in coloring and ready for your inspection.

Nothing further need be said of this well-known store which has been the standard of style and quality for many years in Manchester. This year, more than any other previous one, customers will find the greatest values in style, workmanship and quality that have ever been shown in Manchester.

It will be a pleasure this year to shop in this new, sweet and clean store. Everything possible has been done for the convenience of the customers of this centrally located store and the seasonal styles will be shown to advantage in Manchester at Rubinow's as never before. New lighting, new dressing booths and the busy atmosphere of the store will lend a note of the new season to the selective shopper.

AT ELECTRIC COMPANY

The Manchester Electric Company is making no preparations for spring opening this year. No campaign of any sort is to be attempted. However, the store will have on display its usual excellent showing of new models in electric ranges and refrigeration with a full line of all such appliances.

AT DONNELLY'S

When Milady has finished the purchase of her Easter and Spring outfits she would do well to turn her footsteps in the direction of Donnelly's Jewelry store at the Center, where she will find the latest in costume jewelry, so necessary to complete the ensemble. Then too, Donnelly's has a most interesting variety of jewelry, including many styles of Orlendorf, Elgin, Waltham and Hamilton watches. The thrifty housewife will find a new Westclox electrical kitchen clock at a nominal price that is a marvel of beauty and accuracy, besides a full line of Westclox, Seth Thomas and Session clocks. And the business men cannot go wrong if he carries a Conklin or Waterman fountain pen, which is also to be had at Donnelly's.

AT MILIKOWSKI'S

No Easter outfit is complete without out the final touch that flowers bring and Milikowski, the florist, will provide that essential part of the costume. Whatever your need may be, a corsage such as only Milikowski's can create, a beautiful bouquet of flowers, or a flowering plant for the home, you will find it at this florist shop in the Hotel Sheridan building. With the advent of spring, blooming bulb stock, including tulips, hyacinths and daffodils again hold sway, and Milikowski's are featuring the latter during Spring Opening.

AT HULTMAN'S

The A. L. Hultman men's clothing store carries the same quality of fine merchandise for which it has earned its standing in the community. The prices are the lowest in years but the quality maintains its usual high standard. This store carries a complete line of men's clothing, furnishings, hats and shoes; also a similar line for boys and children in the special department in the basement. The A. L. Hultman store features such nationally advertised lines of merchandise as Eagle shirts, Allen-A underwear, Interwoven hose, Congress sport sweaters, Temple ties, Arch hats, Saxon-weave suits, Knit-Text topcoats, Michael Sterns clothes; Pied-Piper and Kreider-Crevelling shoes for boys and children as well as Knit-Grip two-knicker suits for boys, and Hickok belts and buckles. The Hultman store also has the exclusive distribution of Bass footwear in Manchester.

—Spring Opening—

AT BENSON'S

The latest models of the American Bosch radio have been received at Benson's Radio Shop in the Hotel Sheridan building and will go on display for the first time during Spring Opening, and a new seven tube Bosch that sells at an unusually low price will be featured. Benson's are also celebrating their first anniversary at this time and offer everything in the line of radio necessities. The shop carries a complete line of radio parts and accessories, and has an up-to-date line of equipment for prompt and efficient repair service on all makes of radios.

AT SYMINGTON'S

Symington's for Men is almost a slogan in Manchester. Fashions for men have for years been centered here, and for the season just opening Symington's has stocked the latest and most attractive in men's clothing and men's furnishings. Symington's has a wide range in the popular new Spring neckwear, shirts, and accessories for the well-dressed man or youth. Symington's is synonymous with Youth for here Manchester's young men find the latest styles, rightly priced and with quality and workmanship assured.

AT McLELLAN'S

McClellan's store which sells popular priced articles ranging from kitchen-ware to under ware, is featuring "New Chick Things for Easter in 1932 Low Prices." In addition to the usual line of new spring values, this store is also featuring a number of Super-Values and Head-Liners. The Millinery Department has an unusually attractive display of ladies' and children's headwear.

AT MRS. ELLIOTT'S

Mrs. Elliott's Shop on Main street is filled with delightful new things for Easter, cute little jackets for the baby in fresh Spring colors, embroidery lunch sets, and a large assortment of art objects for the home. Hemstitching is the predominant service of this popular store; and the many choice articles of wearing apparel done to suit the most discriminating tastes will be remembered long after the seasonal parade of fashions. Hand work is so valued.

—Spring Opening—

AT OLSON'S

The many townspeople who take pride in their homes as well as their personal appearance, will not forget to stop at John J. Olson's store in the Johnson Block during Spring Opening. Here will be found the latest designs in wall paper that will be sold at a drastic reduction in price for the rest of the week. Olson's are also featuring a new line of Du Lux white paint, a recent sensational discovery that can be used on practically all kinds of outside work. The store carries a complete line of painter's supplies at all times.

AT JOHNSON & LITTLE'S

In the spring a housewife's fancy seriously turns to thoughts of refrigeration and at Johnson and Little she will find the latest and most advanced type of electrical refrigerator, this firm being agents for the Ice-O-Matic. This machine is beautiful in design and economical in operation and above all it provides you with the finest refrigeration obtainable today. All perishable food is kept fresh for a long period of time in the Ice-O-Matic and the cost is low enough to make it advisable to inspect this machine at once, during the three days of Spring Opening.

AT WILLIAMS'

The fastidious male will find all the answers to his clothing problems at the store of George H. Williams, Inc., in the Johnson Block, and will be especially delighted with one item in particular. For at Williams' suits are made to measure at a price that is within the reach of every purse. The store also features tailor made topcoats and a complete line of men's accessories.

AT LADIES' SHOP

Everything for the well dressed woman and miss will be found this season in the stock of the Ladies Shop. Dresses, hosiery, lingerie frocks, and the season's new straws in many popular colors. Millinery of a type suited to the season's most critical shopper will be found in the stock of the Ladies Shop. Prices within the range of the smallest budget prevail also.

DESCRIBES TOWN'S HEALTH SERVICE

Miss Dorothy Buttle Speaks To League of Women Voters Here Yesterday.

Miss Dorothy Buttle, of the public health nursing service, was the speaker at the meeting of the Manchester League of Women Voters yesterday afternoon at the Center Church house. Miss Buttle has been engaged in this work in town for the past five years. She is devoted to it and from training and personality is thoroughly equipped for such a profession. After graduating from the Philadelphia General hospital, where she took the regular nurse's training course, she pursued post graduate work in public health nursing at Simmons College. She spent considerable time abroad and while there was engaged in child hygiene work in the Baltic states. Before coming to Manchester she had wide experience in Philadelphia, Boston and New Bedford, Mass.

Miss Buttle explained to the new voters that public health nursing is a new branch of the work of the Memorial hospital. Visiting or district nursing, she said, had been carried on all through the Christian era by deaconesses, nuns and sisters who consecrated their lives to the service.

District nursing as we know it today, said Miss Buttle, was first started in 1859 by William Rathbone of Liverpool, England, who was connected with an insurance company. His sympathy for the alling in the homes of the poor which he visited, led him to employ a nurse to care for them, one whose services had been of great value in his own family. At the end of the first month she was ready to give everywhere. Rathbone, however, persuaded her to continue for another month, and the work came to the attention of the renowned nurse, Florence Nightingale. It spread through England and in 1877 the movement was taken up in New York City under the Women's Board of the City Mission. From one nurse who was employed to care for the members of their own families visiting nurses' associations sprang up all over the country.

It was soon realized that going into the home and taking care of the sick was not enough. It was necessary to instruct them in healthful living, sanitation and kindred subjects. In 1901 because of an epidemic of skin disease, the Henry street settlement in New York placed one nurse in the schools, which was the beginning of school nursing. To be effective it was seen that a great deal of health education would be necessary and Dr. Osler sent a nurse from the clinic to instruct the people in homes where there was tuberculosis, in the effort to prevent others from becoming affected. Child Hygiene was another branch of the work and whereas in 1880 the death rate from preventable causes was 233 per thousand babies, in 1923 it was reduced to 66.

While school nursing is still being carried on as a specialized work, it was found too expensive to carry on the various branches by different nurses, and the generalized public health nursing of modern times now obtains. One nurse takes care of the health needs of a family, instead of two or three and resulting confusion. It was found that the same nurse going into a home was much more welcome and they were more likely to call on that nurse when cases of illness occurred and to look upon her as a friend in need.

Through the public health nursing performed by some of the big industrial insurance companies, it is possible now to ascertain exactly how much a visiting nurse's time is worth. In most towns the fee is placed at one dollar. People who can afford to pay like to do so. It isn't a charity, but practically on the same basis as a semi-private or ward patient in the hospital. Like the latter it is by no means self-supporting. The hospital in any community is the logical health center and it was decided to work from the local hospital instead of as formerly, when Cheney Brothers, the insurance companies and several other branches were maintaining separate nurses.

HARTFORD COUNTY'S TEACHERS TO CONVENE

Annual Meeting To Be Held In Bushnell Memorial Hall On May 18.

The annual meeting of the Hartford County Teachers' Association will be held at the Bushnell Memorial Hall on Wednesday, May 18, at 4 o'clock. Dr. Wallace W. Atwood, president of Clark University, will speak on "Geography and International Relations." A banquet will be held at the Hotel Bond at 6:30 o'clock in the evening, at which Cameron Beck, personnel director of the New York Stock Exchange, will be the speaker. The present officers of the Association are: Wilson Greer of Wethersfield, president; Rose J. Watley of West Hartford, vice president; Elizabeth Leghorn of New Britain; secretary; Elbert C. Weaver of Hartford, treasurer; and Clarence P. Quimby of South Manchester, auditor.

CHENEY GIRLS' A. A. RENAMES MISS HANSON

Annual Meeting of Association Held Last Night In Cheney Hall.

Miss Ruth Hanson was re-elected president at the annual meeting of Cheney Brothers Girls' Athletic Association held last evening in Cheney hall and attended by more than fifty of the members. Miss Martha Kismann was elected recording secretary and Miss Emily Kismann was continued as treasurer and executive secretary, a position she has held for several years.

Clifford Cheney presented the prizes for the winners in the bowling teams and made a short speech in appreciation of the invitation to be present at these affairs. He regretted Mrs. Cheney's inability to be present and remarked that they both enjoyed the hikes which are always a part of the association's summer program. The program consisted of group singing, a short and humorous sketch, "There's One Born Every Minute," by Miss Minnie Marks and Miss Emily Kismann; solos by Miss Eva Armstrong, tap dances by Clara Jackmore, another sketch, "Dr. Cut-Up" by Miss Jackmore and Miss Evelyn Geddis. A luncheon of salad, rolls, apple pie and coffee was served by Lily Thornfeldt and her committee. Scores and records for the year will be carried on tomorrow's sports page.

AIMÉE IS ILL
Los Angeles, March 16.—(AP)—

Mrs. Aimée Semple McPherson Hutton, evangelist, was given a blood transfusion today at the Monte Sano hospital in Glendale. Dr. C. Mackenzie Jones said her condition was "fair."

Mrs. Hutton, the physician said, never recovered fully from a nervous breakdown she suffered more than one year ago. He said she would remain in the hospital a few days for proper rest and food. Lester J. Hays, an assistant Y. M. C. A. secretary, was the donor of the blood.

LOSES 500 CHICKS IN TRUCK TIP-OVER

Poultry Scattered About Scenery In Talcottville Early This Morning.

Nearly 500 out of a flock of about 2,000 chickens are either dead or missing as a result of an odd automobile accident at Talcottville early this morning when a truck in which they were being carried overturned at a road intersection. Leonard Silver of 1 Vale street, Chelsea, Mass., driver of the truck formerly owned by the Manchester Live Poultry Company of Oak street, said neither he nor Philip Cohen of Malden, Mass., owner of the truck, were injured. He estimated that 350 chickens were killed outright and that at least another hundred escaped. Some of the 1,500 saved are hurt so badly they may die and others with broken legs will have to be killed for market. The chickens were in crates loaded high on the truck, about 20 in each. Silver says that a coupe crowded him off the road, causing the body of the truck to tip over onto the hard pavement at 8:30 a. m. The crates were thrown right and left. Some of them were broken open and the chickens scattered as fast as legs and wings could carry them into the fields. The load included Rhode Island Reds and Barred Rocks.

HUGE SPRING STOCK AT THE WARD STORE

Garden Implements Vie With Modish Clothing Wares In Customers' Attention.

In anticipation of Spring Opening week the local Montgomery Ward store has outdone itself in securing the very latest fashions and creations in spring coats, dresses, millinery and everything to clothe Milady. Fortunately the buying power of Montgomery Ward's has again made it possible to offer merchandise of highest quality at prices that are within reach of the smallest income.

Garden Tools
As spring approaches we think of flowers and things necessary to complete the garden equipment, and at Ward's no more complete line of garden seeds, tools, lawn mowers, hose can be seen in town. They wait your inspection.

Now is the time to paint your home in connection with the "give a job program" being urged throughout the length and breadth of the United States. In Ward's you will find one of the best assortments of paints, varnishes and redecorating material to be found anywhere. Mr. Roth, manager of the basement has in stock everything for the needs of the spring painter.

Auto Needs
Spring, again, means an inspection of your car that will convey you to your favorite spots this summer. Your tires need replacing, and regardless of your car needs, we have everything or will get anything in our big catalogue for you if it is not on hand at the moment you call.

Washers
When will you ever be in a better position to take advantage of the Windsor Washing Machine than now? Its extremely low price and the guarantee for 10 years of honest service makes this one of the big spring surprises on the floors of Manchester's popular store.

Furniture
Linoleum, rugs, refrigerators, both electric and regular as well as one of the most complete furniture departments in Manchester under the able supervision of Assistant Manager John Shea awaits your close inspection.

Radio
Airline Super-Heterodyne radios have set the country talking about their tone quality par-excellence, distance getting power and the extremely low price. If you are contemplating buying that radio this spring don't fail to stop at Ward's first. You will not make a mistake.

Shoes
During the past two weeks Montgomery Ward's shoe department have expanded their stock and now carry a complete line of women's, men's, growing girls and children's shoes of highest quality at prices far below competition.

Hosiery
If you have not yet decided where to buy the hosiery of style and durability, mark this: We have received the most outstanding values we have ever offered in all the new shades to go with your Easter ensemble.

Edward O. Stearns, manager of the Montgomery Ward store has made a determined effort to secure the greatest spring values in women's wear, millinery, hosiery, shoes and everything for the season that he has ever offered and he cordially welcomes you to the spacious store for your minute inspection during the Spring Opening.

DAME FASHION'S LATEST DISPLAYED BY WILROSE

Complete New Stock of Gowns For Milady At Popular Dress Shop—New Shades.

In the few years since the Wilrose Dress Shop in the Hotel Sheridan Building opened, the store has established a clientele that includes the smartest dressed women in Manchester because it features the best merchandise obtainable at reasonable prices. The entire stock at the Wilrose store is personally purchased by Mrs. Rose Kronick in the fashion marts of New York City.

In her frequent trips to the metropolis, Mrs. Kronick has secured much interesting information in regard to the new spring styles, and the suits, coats and dresses on display at the store are the last word in merchandise for the coming spring and summer. Navy for early spring meets with enthusiasm in jacket costumes, one piece dresses, and youthful frocks with bolero-like jackets that are really bodices.

Costumes vary from one piece frocks to three piece suits variously styled and also insistent on striped effects. Jackets and boleros in stripes appear frequently. Blended colorings such as tones of blue with light gray, or "poppy glow" which has a clear orange cast with egg-shell, are featured in the sweaters, while skirts are frequently in monotone.

According to Mrs. Kronick, sportswear of both active and spectator character, follows the general trend of the season with new brief jackets, high built skirts and novelty fabrics, and adopts the tailored gigoilo style as a major silhouette theme. This severe effect is frequently softened by the use of scarfs, capes and graceful blouse treatments.

Wilrose also carries a complete line of women's accessories, including peasant type blouses in various colors and the pearl mesh hosiery in the season's smartest shades.

AT DUNHILL'S

With practically an entire new stock of spring merchandise, Dunhill's in the Johnson Block has much to offer the thrifty and discerning shopper during the Spring Opening event. The store is now under the management of Sidney Mehrman, who has been connected with one of the largest stores in the company's chain at Springfield. Mr. Mehrman offers the public the highest quality merchandise at the lowest possible prices. His stock includes women's dresses and coats and men's suits and topcoats, with accessories in both lines. In order to contact with the townspeople, the new manager will give a free gift to every customer during the three days of the Spring Opening.

HEADS KREUGER CO.

Stockholm, March 16.—(AP)—Ernst Lyberg, former minister of finance, has been appointed as representative of the government in the administration of the Kreuger and Toll companies during the period of moratorium granted as a result of Ivar Kreuger's death. He has been head of the Swedish liquor monopoly since 1928.

—Spring Opening—

WASHINGTON ERA
WATKINS' MOTIF

Bi-Centennial Influence Seen
In Display of Colonial Furniture.

The George Washington Bicentennial shows its influence in furniture fashions for Spring as displayed at Watkins Brothers during Spring Opening days. Although Early English designs and French Provincial pieces are in evidence and deservingly popular the old designs of Washington's time, together with those which immediately preceded and followed his lifetime, are in the majority.

Bicentennial Influence
Georgian and Federal pieces have been reproduced in greater numbers than ever this year, due to the Bicentennial, and the interest in such lower prices on this classic furniture. Chippendale, Sheraton and Hepplewhite pieces and groups reflect the days of the early Republic and are charmingly fitted to our American homes. Earlier Queen Anne designs and later Duncan Phyfe styles are also to be favored this spring.

The popularity of these period reproductions was displayed recently at Watkins Brothers when that store exhibited a fine loan collection of 18th Century antiques in conjunction with their enlarged showing of reproductions which was visited by hundreds of people.

Blue, in upholstery and drapery fabrics, is the color which is being introduced this spring, especially when combined with mulberry, egg plant or rust. New shades of brown are an interesting innovation in fabrics while green and rust combinations remain in popularity.

Pilgrim Types
Colonial maple furniture, including the early Pilgrim types which dates considerably earlier than the Georgian styles, remains the favorite of many for bedroom, dining room and living room and is particularly adapted to informal homes. The Watkins collection of these pieces will also be found augmented for the Spring Opening.

Always of interest at Watkins' Spring Openings is the first vic-ing of "The Cottage" their group of furnished rooms. In keeping with the trends of a suite of rooms has been furnished with Georgian and earlier Colonial furniture.

The living room is purely Georgian this year and introduces the use of a full size davenport and a love seat to match, both these pieces being covered in plain gold and used against plain green painted walls and a rug which repre-

duces the richness of a fine Oriental. Toile-de-Ray, a lustrous new fabric, is used for window draperies, having a cream background with a floral design in green and egg plant. These colors are repeated in wing chairs used at the fireside and at a window, and for contrast two chairs, one at the desk, are covered in rose.

The Dining Room
The dining room displays a beautiful Georgian lining suite of mahogany and satinwood against walls of cream, dado of green, and a plain egg plant rug. Cor-du-ray, another new drapery fabric having a rich silky finish is used at the windows, the particular pattern selected for this room having a green background and a classical design worked out in rich gold and brown, the gold coloring being repeated in the seats of the fine Hepplewhite dining chairs.

One of the bedrooms this season is furnished in early Colonial maple with a graceful canopied bed, chest of drawers and dressing table displayed against a self-patterned peach wallpaper and reproductions of hooked rugs. "Evangeline" is the name of a new glazed chintz used at the windows, this new design being worked out in rose-rust squares alternating with cream, and patterned with toile figures.

The front room is furnished as a boy's room and is an interesting treatment and one that will offer suggestions to those who seek to get away from the ordinary. Against a quaint toile wallpaper of French influence in green, brown and rose-henna on a cream background, are shown a studio couch in plain green, a desk and other appropriate pieces for a room of this type which combines a bedroom and study. Hooked rugs are used here again, while the draperies are plain brown glazed chintz piped with a green and garnet edging.

Other Model Rooms
Although a trip to "The Cottage" will in itself repay a visit to Watkins Brothers during the Spring Opening, there are seven other model rooms to be inspected. On the top floor, three rooms are given over to popular priced dining room, living room and bedroom, showing how the Bicentennial has influenced popular priced furniture. A Sheraton dining room in mahogany, a living room using modern Lawson sofa and matching chair with Colonial furniture, and a distinctive Colonial mahogany bedroom group featuring a smart little chest-on-chest and a ladderback bed, comprise this group. A large Pilgrim kitchen-living room is also to be found on this floor, furnished with Colonial maple furniture.

On the second floor one of the model rooms is given over to the display of one of the modern bedroom ensembles in walnut which is a striking example of the value to be had in fine furniture this year, while in another of the rooms is exhibited an interesting dining room grouping of Queen Anne origin. The third and last room on this floor shows a fine mahogany dining room group against a Georgian background. Of particular interest is the fact that the set and dining chairs use in this exhibit are authentic reproductions of those now in use in Mt. Vernon. Watkins' furniture fashions for spring, with their surprisingly low prices, will prove of interest to every visitor to Manchester's Spring Opening.

Dogs, like humans, have two sets of teeth.
Japanese are not supposed ever to look down on their Emperor. For this reason, when that dignitary rides along a street, police go ahead of him and order all window shutters of upper floors closed.

NEW MODES, LOW COSTS ARE FEATURED AT HALE'S

Style Show Each Afternoon; Local Girls To Act As Models — Manufacturers' and Packers' Sale In Connection.

The predominant note of Spring at Hale's—the keynote of one of the most significantly important revelations made by Manchester's largest and well-known department store—is expressed in these few weighty words: Fitting New Styles to Reduced Budgets.

Many months of study and search through the archives of all good merchandising annals; weeks of comparisons, hours of busy detail work, unknown to the average person, has resulted in the above completely successful accomplishment in the Hale Department store. With Spring just around the corner the last item of the big undertaking is complete. The last sally into the Metropolitan marts of trade has been made by Hale's corps of 16 buyers, and the motto of the achievement might easily be pinned to every wall of the store:

Fitting New Styles to Reduced Budgets

Hale's, always foremost in style and quality of merchandise, found shortly after Christmas that the whole scheme of merchandising must be changed in the few short months until Spring, when the new world of things, blossoms, birds and flowers come again to greet a harassed Manchester.

The maintenance of a certain standard of business over a period of approximately 40 years made the job of balancing the type, quality and assortment of merchandise to be presented at the 1932 Spring opening, one very difficult indeed. But the large and qualified corps of willing co-workers strove along lines outlined by Manager Frank H. Anderson and the result speaks for itself.

Comparisons

Today, Hale's presents to their customers certain comparisons of values, ranging over the past seven years that are without parallel in the store's history.

Take the year 1925 for example: featured prominently in Hale's advertising of Tuesday, March 24, 1925 we find the following price comparisons. Dresses for the Spring Sale advertised on that date ranged from $9.95 to $29.95. Now note the comparison. The highest priced dress in the J. W. Hale Co. today is $8.95 with others ranging downward as low as $2.95.

Keep Quality

Quality has been steadily maintained or improved in spite of the fact that prices have been reduced from two-thirds to three-fourths from the scale of 1925-26-27.

At that same time suits were advertised up to $59.50 in 1925. The same suits today are $16.50, coats that sold at $89.95 are priced today at $29.95. These are values that fairly cry out for the popular recognition of Manchester townspeople.

On April 6, 1925 Hale's advertised hats as high as $10. The 1932 limit of hats is $3.95.

Millinery

Millinery priced at $3.95 today includes the latest in brown and black rough straws, beret types, flower, feather and ribbon trimmed. Also the new Corsair Blue, the season's popular shade. Accessories priced as high as $3.50 in 1925 dropped in seven years to $1.95 and $1.00. Hosiery selling at $1.85 seven years ago are priced today at 64 cents or 2 pair for $1.25. Neckwear formerly $1.98 and 99 cents is now at a flat 50 cents. Scarfs at $1.98 are at 50 cents today. These values represent well over two-thirds less in less than ten years.

New Atmosphere

The whole atmosphere of the Hale Department store has changed in the process of fitting styles to the Manchester budget, shrunk to a limit unthought of four years ago.

The store is sweet and clean after spring cleaning; 50 assorted palms, and the absence of elaborate music lends an air of practicability, rather than effect. Styling the store to fit the Manchester pocketbook has been a thorough process and has affected every department.

Models

To properly initiate the 1932 idea, six adult and three junior models will display the latest fashions Thursday, Friday and Saturday afternoons at 3 o'clock. Miss Ethel Anderson advertising manager and stylist at Hale's will lecture each afternoon and will be in direct charge of the Fashion Show.

In conjunction with Hale's Spring Opening, this will also be Manufacturers and Packers annual demonstration week in the Self-Serve.

The February figures of the Self-Serve for February shows that 21-

419 customers traded in the Self-Serve Grocery. In addition 12,664 customers were registered in the Health Market, a combined total of over 34,000 customers in the shortest month of the year, over 6,000 more than the corresponding month of 1931.

These figures certainly show that Hale's Self-Serve slogan "It Pays to Wait on Yourself" is more impressive each year and for a good reason. This ever popular market, containing over 2,000 grocery items, nearly 40 items of fresh vegetables, accredited brands of groceries, will hold open home in co-operation with Manufacturers and Packers this week-end.

Those Taking Part

Manufacturers and Packers co-operating in the annual Hale's Self-Serve and Health Market demonstration are as follows: General Foods, Hellman's Blue Ribbon Mayonnaise, Washburn Crosby Co., Gold Medal pancake and biscuit flour; Grote and Wiegler, of Hartford, wholesale sausage manufacturer, home-made sausage meat.

H. J. Heinz Corp. beans, soups, spaghetti; Williams and Carlton, spices and extracts; Salada Tea Co., teas; Austin Nichols Co. "Sunbeam" brand products; Roth Packing company; "Black Hawk" brand products; Beech Nut products, coffee and tomato juice, Silver Lane Pickle Co., pickles and relishes. Good Luck Goods Co., desserts; Dillon and Douglas representing the Beatrice Creamery, Meadow Gold Butter; Atlantic Biscuit company, cookies and crackers.

The ordinary Saturday business of the Hale Self-Serve runs into interesting figures. Each Saturday 6,000 loaves of bread are sold, 1,500 grapefruit of one size, 600 bunches of Iceberg lettuce, 1,000 stalks of celery and on several occasions two tons of hams have passed over the counters into the baskets of Hale's customers.

Fashion Show

At Hale's Fashion Show to be held tomorrow Friday and Saturday afternoons on the second floor of the store the following models will display new spring fashions beginning at 3 p. m., each afternoon:

Virginia Lowell, Susan Allen, Ida Cowles, Mrs. John Erickson, Mrs. Eleanor Wilson, Theodora Maxwell; Baby and Girls' shop models: Ruth Lautenback, Robert Finnegan, Mary Jane Durkin.

NO EMBARRASSMENT

Fort Worth, Tex.—Two policemen at Seventh and Main streets had an embarrassing situation to handle, but the fellow who created it wasn't moved a bit. He calmly stopped in the middle of the intersection and offered his trousers. The officers rushed him behind some building until they had him clothed again. Police said he was a mental case.

RE-ARRANGE KEITH'S STORE FOR OPENING

All Floors In Popular Furniture House Have Been Remodeled For Display.

The Keith Furniture Co. has recently completed an almost total rearrangement of their display floors, and will have ready for the Spring Opening an exceptionally fine new line of furniture in a most attractive arrangement. The main floor of the store is given over entirely to a display of new living room types with upholstered pieces in a great profusion of styles and new cover patterns. There are dozens of new suites and ensembles, together with a profusion of odd chairs, occasional tables, lamps, and other living room pieces which offer a splendid selection of up-to-date living room equipment.

Bedroom Display
The entire second floor of the store has now been given over to a complete showing of bedroom suites and bedding, with plenty of room allowed for proper display in this busy section.

The third floor has a splendid display of dining room suites set off in attractive fashion. Here too will be found the fiber furniture and sun porch equipment, and a display of baby carriages, cribs, and juvenile furniture.

The basement display covers kitchen equipment including a very complete line of ranges in all the modern finishes, a complete line of new breakfast suites, refrigerators, etc. Here too is a showing of Colonial maple dinette pieces, and a complete line of dinner sets in up-to-date patterns has been given a special display on racks along the wall.

Show Windows
The three show windows have been splendidly dressed for the occasion depicting a living room, bedroom, and kitchen group in the latest mode. The window displays alone are well worth a trip down the street, but the Spring Opening tour will not be complete without a thorough inspection of this furniture store from top to bottom.

THE EVIDENCE

The dime-a-dance girl

BU JOAN CLAYTON

BEGIN HERE TODAY

ELLEN ROSSITER, beautiful 30-year-old, falls in love with LARRY BARROWGATE, an artist whom she met at Dreamland where Ellen works as a dance hall hostess. Larry is engaged to ELIZABETH BOWES, a debutante, but he shows attentions to Ellen until his fiancée returns from Europe.

Believing Larry is lost to her, Ellen agrees to marry STEVEN BARCLAY, 37 years old and wealthy, who has paid hospital expenses for her brother, MIKE, injured in a street accident. Ellen knows such a marriage will provide for her mother, MOLLY ROSSITER, and make it possible for her sister, MYRA, to marry BERT ARMSTEAD.

Barclay has been married and divorced. Scandal accompanied his divorce from LEDA GRAYSON, dancer, and, fearing this talk may be revived, he and Ellen agree to keep their marriage secret until they sail for Europe. Barclay wants to settle a fortune on Ellen but she persuades him to wait until after the ceremony. Barclay's lawyer, SYMES, regards Ellen as a gold-digger.

In a double marriage in a small Connecticut town Barclay and Ellen agree to marry. They depart and almost immediately Syms arrives, demanding to see Barclay. No one knows where the couple have gone.

Barclay and Ellen drive to Barclay's Long Island home. The girl reads in a newspaper that Larry's engagement to Elizabeth Bowes is broken. She is terrified to be alone with Barclay, suggests they go to a supper club to dance. They return late and Barclay leaves his bride, saying he will return.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXXVII

Ellen walked through the bedroom and out on the balcony. She looked down toward the ground, pale in the starlight, and thought that if she jumped she would be dead.

Then, because she was afraid, she ran inside. She did not want to die. She wanted to live and knew that in spite of everything she hoped Larry would come to her tonight instead of Steven.

She got up and took off her dancing frock. It fell to the floor and she left it there, shining in a pool of light. She dropped off her chemise and stood naked in the splendid room. Her body was hard and beautiful and glowed with tawny lights and with strange undertones of green like the green sometimes seen on canvas.

She stood silent a moment and thought how strange a thing and how terrible a thing was desire. No matter how much she might long to be his master she must remain its servant. She still wanted Larry and felt in her knowledge a kind of cold despair.

In a passion of fear she ran to the bed, seized her pajamas and jerked them on.

She heard a knock at the door. "Just a minute," she called out. Ellen slipped her feet into mules, wrapped the flowing negligee about her so that her throat was hidden and her arms and even her bare feet. Only her enormous, terrified eyes seemed visible.

"It's Steven," she heard through the door.

The knob turned slowly and the door opened. Steven stepped into the room. As he entered he was thinking that Ellen was a child, that she must be frightened and that he must treat her gently. When he saw her wrapped in the rosy robe, her hair a golden aureole, all his preconceived plans went down before her beauty.

It seemed to him that he saw her for the first time and that he was not an old man with a heart that was an old crock, but, instead, that this beautiful woman who was his wife had by some magic made him young. All that he could remember was that she was his wife and that he had come to claim her love.

She raised her arms almost as if to fend him off but the rosy robe fell away at the shoulders so that he saw the flesh beneath and was filled with desire. She was in his arms. Her body arched back in a spasm of terror and the robe slid away and to the floor as his kisses fell upon her throat and shoulders.

She was thinking that this would kill her and that if she screamed no one would hear. This man was not Steven Barclay at all. He was swung her to his arms and carried her across the room to the golden bed. She felt his body pressed against hers and knew that she was fainting. She thought she heard a scream and then a soft bump just as dark fog seemed to fill the room, blotting out the rosy lights.

She came to consciousness crying hysterically. Then she realized that Steven had fallen to the floor and that that was the sound she had heard. She saw him lying, white and quiet, beside the bed. Ellen frightened and sick with horror, flung herself to the floor beside him, calling out his name again and again.

He did not answer.

She thought, "He is my husband and I've killed him." She knelt shivering by his side and tried to feel his pulse and did not know whether or not she felt a flutter. But when she laid her hand upon his heart, she was sure she discerned a muffled beat.

Ellen ran to the telephone and gasped out to the operator that she wanted a physician.

She was back at Steven's side again. She remembered that it must be his heart but she did not know what to do. She remembered that when drowning people were being resuscitated they must be kept warm, and tore the coverlet from the bed and draped it around his cold, rigid body. She tried to get Steven into the bed, but his weight resisted all her efforts.

All the time she was thinking, "He is my husband and he's dying. He'll never know that I'd rather die instead."

She was weeping, pleading that he should hear her when the telephone rang shatteringly. Like a train in a trance Ellen answered. It was Syms calling Steven. She told him Steven was dying. She heard him say he would send doctors and come at once. For the first time she saw that her pajamas were torn. She remembered too that she must locate Fergus and get him to help her.

She could find no bell. Ellen wrapped the rosy negligee around her and started across the cold waxed floors in her bare feet. Hardly out of the door she felt a great fear that she would return to find Steven dead and ran back to his side. She cried out again, begging him to forgive her. She told him that if he died she, too, would die. But he did not answer.

She thought she heard someone moving in the hall and was filled with cold horror. Someone knocked. Ellen opened the door and Fergus entered. He had heard the telephone.

He helped her get Steven on the bed. All the time he was staring at her as if to wrest some news from her. His staccato voice expressed sympathy but when she felt those cold eyes on her she knew he lied. There was malice about the man.

"Would madame like to rest until the doctor comes?" he asked.

"How can I rest?" she cried and seated herself in the chair beside the bed. She was trembling.

Just then they heard an automobile horn. Ellen ran to the window and saw the flash of headlights. After a wait that seemed endless the doctor came into the room. In the grip of nightmare Ellen answered his questions and saw him pour something down Steven's throat. Vertigo swept over her but she sat quietly, lest the brisk, efficient man at the bedside should send her away. He had said there was a chance Steven would regain consciousness, so she sat watching, watching the closed eyelids. They did not flicker and Steven's breathing barely stirred the sheet that covered him.

Presently Ellen was sent to wait in the living room beyond. Dr. Westcott told her with professional kindness to lie down but she could not lie down. She could only wait.

Another doctor arrived. Syms crying. She heard cars sweep up the driveway and heard the frantic, persistent ringing of the telephone. She heard doors open and shut but she was cut away from the activity and barred from Steven's side. She could only wait.

After a while a nurse rustled into the living room, snapped on the lights and told Ellen to be in readiness for a call. She urged Ellen to drink an ammonia solution but the girl would not nor would she lie down. She sat, pale and still, her hands clasped, her eyes filled with useless, burning tears. She prayed over and over that she might once again speak to Steven and look into his kind, brown eyes.

The slow hours dragged on toward morning. Syms, haggard and unshaven, came to tell her what they were doing in the room beyond, came to tell her something else as well but she pleaded so frantically to be allowed to return to Steven that he kept silent, wondering, as he looked into her white, still face, if he had not been wrong after all. Presently he went away.

Ellen walked up and down the room and tried to think of Steven dead. The whispers, the alarmed eyes, the quick movements in the room beyond, even her own heart told her that Steven was dying.

The nurse entered again.

"What time is it?" Ellen asked dully.

"Half past five."

Ellen saw that dawn was breaking. He thought that soon it would be noon and then night and then noon again. She would not stop even if Steven died while she waited outside his room. Why wouldn't they let her go to him? She was his wife. She had a right to be at his side. But had she? Ellen covered her face with her hands.

The nurse went away again. The room was very quiet.

Scents of the dawn drifted in from the garden, scents of flowers and grasses. Ellen heard the chirp of awakening birds and somewhere a dog barked.

She thought of home and felt a desperate nostalgia. She wanted to be with those who loved her, to be again in the shabby apartment on Pine street. Everyone was making it plain that she had no place here with her husband.

Ellen knelt by the window and rested her head on the sill. She sobbed out her grief and misery and Syms found her there when she came to tell her that Steven was regaining consciousness. Very gently he told her that she was to go to him.

YOUR CHILDREN

by Olive Roberts Barton
BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

—Kindness to Grand-Parents—
"You must always be kind to grandma, Bobby."

"Why?" Bobby's invariable question to everything.

"Because she is old and because she does so many things for you. Besides, she loves you."

"Well, I am kind!"

"Yes, I know you are. But just go up to her two or three times a day and put your arms around her and smile and say, 'You're a great grandma. You're as nice as mother.'"

Bobby thought a minute. "But she's not as nice as you are. You are pretty. And she doesn't laugh. Anyway, I'll be nice."

"That's a good boy! You see, Bobby," his mother hesitated, "if anyone were to hurt my feelings or be rude to me or make me feel lonely sometimes, would you like it?"

Her son flamed up instantly. "You bet not, I'd—I'd hammer the tar out of him."

"That is the way I feel about my mother, you see," she smiled. "I cannot bear to have her feel any way but just happy. I cannot stand to have anyone hurt her feelings—not even my own little boy."

"Do you love her that much?" he asked in surprise. "Why I heard you tell her yesterday that she didn't know what she was talking about or something like that, and just a little while ago you said— you said, 'Oh, don't keep harping on that mother! She must feel bad about that, don't you think?'"

An Attempted Explanation
She colored a little. "Yes, I know, dear. I get nervous and upset sometimes and say things that I shouldn't. But she doesn't mind it quite as much from me because you see I'm her little girl. Besides we're great friends and we say things to each other sometimes that we don't quite mean. I don't mean to hurt her and I think she knows it, because I do love her."

"Then why don't she know that about me too? When I say and do things why doesn't she think, 'Oh, it's just Bob and he doesn't really mean it. He's just a boy and he's my friend, too?'"

Bobby's mother thought a minute. This was a problem. There was a difference and she knew it, but she couldn't quite grasp it. Then a divine inspiration descended. She knew precisely now.

"This will be hard for you to understand, dear, but try if you can. Few people are very sensitive and they are afraid. They are afraid they have lost the power to make other people love them and that is a terrible thing. I believe that grandmothers are hungrier for the love of their grandchildren than they are for the love of their own children. And they so often don't get it. Can you make it out—that I'm saying?"

Bob regarded her seriously. "Yes. I know now why she cries sometimes in her room. She thinks she does count, and that I don't care—she's just trying to get used to it. Goodness! I'll go right up and kiss her and tell her I love her. I guess I do, honestly, and just forgot about it."

His mother looked after him. "I don't think I knew myself," she thought, "until this very minute. Old people are afraid—afraid they don't count! And they are too proud to let us guess. How cruel!"

Tempting Trays

Don't ask sick folks what they want to eat, when the doctor tells them gladly that they now can have anything. Just fix each tray as attractively as possible, with a little flower for adults and some trick toy for children. Fresh strawberries, new asparagus, endive instead of lettuce, and ice cream in the shape of flowers all add lure to food when one has little appetite. One slice of crisp broiled bacon can help creamed sweetbreads. Grilled tomatoes are much prettier than just cold sliced ones. All of these touches give appetite and are worth putting thought into.

DRIVE RIGHT IN

Miami, Fla.—C. C. Peters was expecting visiting friends in his store, but he was unprepared to handle an unheralded and unwelcome customer. It came in the form of a car driven by Tom Wentz. His car threw a wheel in front of the store. Wentz explained, and the first thing he knew he was getting out of the driver's seat in front of the soda fountain, after having crashed through the front of the market.

A BOOK A DAY

BY BRUCE CATTON
SEES HUGE COST IN WAR ON JAPS

If you have been wondering lately just what would happen if Uncle Sam should actually go to war with Japan, I suggest that you read "The Great Pacific War," by Hector Bywater. This book, first published in 1925, is being reissued by the Houghton Mifflin Co., whose officials apparently have seen something in the papers about the current mixup in the Far East.

Mr. Bywater writes a history of an imaginary war between Japan and the United States, and his book is a pretty good summary of unbiased expert opinion about the way such a war should go.

In the beginning, the war is all Japan's. The Panama Canal is wrecked by explosives and a good part of the U. S. fleet is temporarily immobilized in the Atlantic. The Japanese battle fleet invades weak American cruiser flotilla there, and destroys it. Then the Japanese start mopping up.

Such outlying islands as Guam are quickly swallowed. As soon as the only U. S. naval force in the Orient is destroyed, the Japanese send an expeditionary force to the Philippines. Ignoring the powerful seaward defenses of Manila, they effect a landing on the other side of the island, march overland and soon capture the city, seizing the rest of the archipelago in short order.

Thus, by the time the war is six months old, Japan has complete mastery of the eastern Pacific and can fight a defensive war thenceforward. The United States finally takes the offensive and ultimately gains the victory; but it is an exceedingly expensive process, and—as Mr. Bywater does not fail to point out—the nation is no better off after it has won the war than it was before it started.

You'll find "The Great Pacific War" both interesting and instructive. It sells at $2.50 a copy.

GLORIFYING YOURSELF

by Alicia Hart
BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

When a strain comes, as it so often does in every single day of a busy life, you literally "take it in the neck."

That is to say, those muscles at the back of your neck grow tense, almost rigid. This stops the flow of blood up into your head, strains your eyes and tenses your social muscles. You show it in your face, but you take it in the neck!

Learn to relax your neck. That is the secret of a lot of poise you meet. A woman who can take five minutes off and relax all of those muscles has power for beauty within her grasp.

If your neck is perfectly relaxed, you can stand up, bend your head over, take your right hand and push your head up by pushing your forehead, and when you take your hand away, your head will just bob down onto your chest again and swing like a pendulum in smaller and smaller arcs until it comes to rest.

Only about one woman in a thousand has this perfectly relaxed neck. Dancers know how to do it. Few others do.

One of the best ways to relax your neck is to lie prone upon the floor and work out your spine by wriggling it along the floor, this way and that, the way a cat does. Then straighten it all out, by pushing yourself up out of your hips. Next do the exercise that throws your feet up over your head to touch the floor.

These exercises relax the whole spine. It is impossible to relax the top of the spine without affecting the whole spine.

In addition to this, massage your neck muscles well. Get someone else to do it, if you have influence or money! That's the easiest way to start.

Once your neck muscles are relaxed, just roll your head around on your neck, this way and that, to keep it easy. There is a wonderfully restful feeling which creeps over you when your neck is relaxed. Once you know it, you will strive to keep it.

DAYLIGHT SAVING PASSED

On March 16, 1918, American troops on the Toul sector of the western front repulsed a heavy German raid.

More than 1,000 German shock troops were used in the raid, and American reports intimated that severe losses had been inflicted by machine gun fire.

The Daylight Saving Bill, providing that all clocks should be turned back one hour beginning March 31, was passed by Congress and went to President Wilson for his signature.

It was estimated that passage of the bill would save $40,000,000 in electric light and power.

Concentration of more than 100 German divisions in 200,000 France was reported. Allied officials made no secret of the fact that the decisive battle of the war might begin within 10 days.

M. H. S. Entered In Track Meet

Coach Wigren Announces List of Entries For Scholastic Affair To Be Held In Middletown Saturday Afternoon.

Manchester High will enter a team in the second indoor track and field meet conducted by the Connecticut Interscholastic Athletic Conference Saturday afternoon at Wesleyan University in Middletown. Coach Charles L. Wigren will have athletes competing in nine events. In the 50 yard dash he will have Wittmann, Squatrito and Smith; in the 100 yard run, Burns and Simon; in the 200 yard run, Lengel and Diana; in the shot put, Squatrito; and in the high jump, O'Leary and Lane; in the running broad, O'Leary and Smith.

The Manchester relay team will be selected from Wittmann, Squatrito, Smith, Brown, Judd, Smyth and Fraser for the 700 yard event and in the 1,400 yard relay will have Rowell, Carey, Shedd, Brown, Leavitt and Fraser from which to select.

ENTRY LIST
Middletown, March 16.—Complete entry-lists for the second annual Connecticut Interscholastic indoor track championships to be held here Saturday show a total of 17 schools, representing all sections of the state, among the participants. They will send 150 men to compete in the races and field events which are to be held in Wesleyan's new Alumni Athletic Building beginning at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

While Hillhouse High of New Haven tops the list of entering teams with 27 men competing, two Hartford schools, Bulkeley and Hartford High, are close seconds with 23 and 24 entries, respectively. Other schools trail along with outfits ranging in size from 20 down to Danbury's one entrant.

Added interest in the coming interscholastics has been created by the presentation of a handsome silver plaque, to be known as the Atwell trophy, to the winning team in this year's meet and in those of future years. Donated by R. J. Atwell, local jeweler, the plaque is mounted upon dark wood, and is supported by two figures representing Victory. It will be suitably engraved with the name of the winning team which will hold the trophy until within about two weeks of the championships of the following year. The plaque will be on display in the show-window of the Atwell jewelry shop during the latter part of the week.

The winner of Saturday's championship will be decided by the point system, with four places counting five, three, two, and one points respectively.

Schools taking part are: Lewis, of Southington; Roger Ludlow of Fairfield; Bristol, Bulkeley of Hartford; Hartford Public High; Danbury; Robert Fitch of Groton; Manchester; Hillhouse of New Haven; Stratford; Warren Harding of Bridgeport; Central of Bridgeport; Woodrow Wilson of Middletown; Windham; Woodbury, Middletown; and West Haven.

Several of the Hillhouse squad, under Coach F. B. Tuttle, and of West Haven, under Coach Finnegan, were practicing in the cage here this afternoon.

TOWN SERIES BITS

The Rec Five held a practice session at the state armory last night and all members were present except Jim Cotter whose mother is said to be seriously ill. It is not yet certain that Cotter will positively be able to play in the deciding game of the town series.

It cannot, it will be a serious blow to the Rec's chances after the great game he put up last week. Johnny Boyle was at the center position throughout last night's workout. He is not in the best of shape owing to a back injury suffered in the last game when he fell heavily to the floor in blocking a shot by Holland. This play was one of the gems of the evening. Leaping high in the air, Boyle smashed the shot cleanly but in doing so, lost his balance and hit the floor solidly.

Howard Turkington, the Guard's center who is yet to show his best in the series, is reported to be "hitting the hay" early every night this week in contrast to last. He was the high scorer on the Guards when the team entered the series but has scored only one field goal in two games.

No announcement has been made by either manager as to whom will take the place of Clyde Waters as the assisting official to Danny Abern. The managers are known to be seeking Billy Coyne of Wallingford. Coyne is one of the best referees in the state.

Guard supporters claim their team is yet to show its best in the preliminary game Friday night, the attendance will probably not be as large as it was last week when about 1,400 jammed into the state armory, but close to a thousand are expected to watch the teams in their supreme effort of the season.

Lansing, Mich.—Pettit Ferraris, Lansing, stopped Chuck Wiggins, Indianapolis, 6. Fla.—Frankie Edgren, Cheyenne, Wyo., outpointed Sid Terris, Chapel Hill, N. C. 10.

In the other bouts Bob Michales of Worcester won over Young Angelo of Hartford; Billy Walsh of Springfield and Steve Pinkham showed plenty of steam and action, the winner being Pinkham. George Parker of Worcester was a better boxer than Ed. Banning of East Hampton and was awarded the decision. The bout between Tom Lynn of Worcester and Mike Murphy of East Hampton went to Lynn and was a good fight.

CARR, TUCKER SCORE VICTORIES

Large Crowd Sees Amateur Boxing Show At Rockville Last Night.

Manchester people in large numbers are attending the bi-weekly boxing cards that are being presented to the fight fans in Rockville and last night was no exception when ten three round bouts were staged. Two of these brought together Tommy Tucker of Rockville and Tom Sullivan of Worcester, in the semi-final and Jim Martin of Windsor Locks and John Mack of Worcester in the 140 class that gave plenty to the customers without taking into consideration the main go with Steve Carr of Rockville, 168 swapping mits with Jerry Varry, 154, of New Britain in a return bout of two weeks ago. All three were good bouts and were well worth the time and money spent, but in addition to these there were others that showed that the management is giving every effort to provide well balanced cards at each performance.

Carr was the winner over Varry in three fast rounds; Steve carrying the harder punch and landing more often and showed an improvement in his all around work over his former appearance.

Tucker, who was the idol of Rockville until he took too many licks waiting for a chance to get his big left swing in, boxed at 138 against Sullivan, 143, of Worcester and their exhibition was fast from the start. Tucker went down in the first round for a count of nine, but came back and fought hard to win the decision in what proved to be the best bout of the evening.

Martin and Mack, provided plenty of action. Both men had met before and each had a decision over the other, but after the three fast rounds Mack was given the decision, which was close, but approved by the fans. The James Britt and John Scott go ended in the first round when Britt was hit by Scott at the opening of the round and made several attempts to carry on, but was assisted to his corner by the referee.

Eddie Ellis of Rockville after taking a count of seven in the first, came back and fought an uphill fight from then on to pile up sufficient points to be given the decision.

Sonny Boy Kouksi of Meriden and Vic Price, 120 pounds, came together in a fast go that ended with a decision in favor of Vic, which was also a fast bout and there was a difference of opinion when the hand was held up, but Vic had fought the better fight and there were just as many that favored the referee's decision.

In the other bouts Bob Michales of Worcester won over Young Angelo of Hartford; Billy Walsh of Springfield and Steve Pinkham showed plenty of steam and action, the winner being Pinkham. George Parker of Worcester was a better boxer than Ed. Banning of East Hampton and was awarded the decision. The bout between Tom Lynn of Worcester and Mike Murphy of East Hampton went to Lynn and was a good fight.

Bender, Jones, Nikkel On All-Star Quintet

Hatkoff and McDowell Complete First Team In Eastern College Basketball Circuit; Third Year For Bender.

New York, March 16.—(AP)—Columbia places three men and Yale and Cornell each on the All-League team picked annually for the Associated Press by the six coaches of the Eastern Intercollegiate Basketball League.

Columbia's representatives are Capt. Lou Bender and Dave Jones at the guard posts and Owen McDowell at center. The forwards are Lou Hatkoff, of Cornell and Earl Nikkel of Yale.

Jones, named to the all league team for the second year in a row polled a maximum of 12 votes as did McDowell.

Bender, picked for the third straight season, collected 11 votes as one coach relegated him to the second team because of injuries which kept him out of one game and handicapped him in several others.

Hatkoff was given eight votes and Nikkel seven. Thus the first team polled an aggregate of fifty votes out of a possible sixty and there was hardly a fight for a single one of the five positions.

Between them these five scored a total of 428 points during the league season. Jones, the league's individual scoring champion led with 99 points followed by Nikkel with 83; Hatkoff 82; McDowell 81; Bender 73.

The selections were made on the basis of two points for first choice and one for second. Participating in the poll were Howard Ormer of Cornell; Lon Jourdet of Penn; Albert D. (Dolly) Stark of Dartmouth; Elmer Ripley of Yale; Al Wittmer of Princeton and Dan Meenen of Columbia.

The first and second team personnel with the number of votes cast for each follow:
First Team

Bruins Face Bitter Fight For Playoffs

Trail Detroit By Lone Point and Rest In Fourth Place In Hockey League; Americans Top Canadiens 5-2 In Upset.

New York, March 16.—(AP)—With a week to go in the regular National Hockey League season the fans finally are beginning to see some light as regards the participants in the Stanley Cup playoffs which follow. They may or may not be further enlightened tonight when the Detroit Falcons and Chicago Blackhawks, rivals for second place in the American division have their last battle of the season.

With the aid of a lot of strange hockey, one playoff post finally was settled last night and another race was cleared up a trifle, but the Boston Bruins climbed back into the third and hottest battle of them all.

The Montreal Maroons last night staged a remarkable scoring feat to win 4 to 3 over the New York Rangers and clinch third place in the Canadian division.

The Americans surprised almost everybody by whipping the Champion Montreal Canadiens 5 to 2 but they lost out in the playoff race. They remain seven points behind Montreal and have only three games to play.

The Bruins trounced the Toronto Leafs 6 to 2. The Leafs remained four points behind the Canadiens, division leaders but these points looked big with only four games left in which to make them up.

The victory put the Bruins only a point behind Detroit, third place team of the American division and three behind Chicago. One or the other of these teams should pull ahead again tonight. Chicago is favored because it is the home team.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 16.—(AP)—Henry Johnson, one of the New York Yankees best right-handers has returned to the training camp after several weeks absence due to an operation for appendicitis. Although he is recovering rapidly he won't throw a ball for at least another week.

Dial Twisters By W. J. DALTON Our theme today will consist of radio as applied to the automobile. The auto radio is to be popular during the coming season and a little about the present crop may be interesting.

The serial must receive special attention because of the fact that space is necessarily limited. There are two ways of installing a comparatively satisfactory antenna.

Tuning the set is done by means of a flexible cable which has one terminus attached to a gear and knob mounted in a suitable box which is fastened to the steering column of dashboard.

Interference from spark plugs and the generator must be suppressed to a minimum. This is done by attaching special resistors to each spark plug and by filtering the generator brushes by means of condensers.

The new tubes which I mentioned are more rugged in construction than the older types which eliminates most of the trouble that marred reception in the earlier models of automobile radios.

ANTI-CRIME PARLEY Washington, March 16 (AP) - President Hoover was informed today the National Crime Commission, seeking new methods of combating underworld activities, was planning a national anti-crime convention here either this spring or next fall.

J. Weston Allen of Boston, chairman of the commission, said the President expressed interest in such a convention.

Allen said prosecuting attorneys, police authorities and deans of law schools from all parts of the country should be invited and that all phases of crime and its prevention and prosecution would be considered.

GAS BUGGIES—Look in the Book Again.

DO NOT INSURE your furniture or your house or other goods if you are sure you will never have a fire. You might lose more money through one ordinary fire than you could save in a lifetime by trying to avoid paying a few cents a week for fire insurance protection.

STOP IT, SAMPSON! COME HERE... INSTANTLY.

EASY, MY FRIEND. HE'S IN A MINUTE.

NEVER CALL A DOG AWAY WHEN ANOTHER ONE STARTS GROWLING AT HIM. HE FEELS HE WILL APPEAR COURAGEOUS TO THE OTHER DOG IF HE LEAVES. LET HIM BLUFF AWHILE, AND THEN HE CAN RETREAT WITH DIGNITY.

QUICK, HE! RUN OUT AND CALL SAMPSON! HE'S GETTING INTO A FIGHT.

TUT TUT! HE'LL BE OKAY. YOU DON'T SAY! DOGS THAT ALL.

DO NOT INSURE your furniture or your house or other goods if you are sure you will never have a fire. You might lose more money through one ordinary fire than you could save in a lifetime by trying to avoid paying a few cents a week for fire insurance protection.

SENSE AND NONSENSE

Walter—Mr. Smith's left his umbrella again. I believe he'd lose his head if it were loose.
 Manager—I dare say you're right. I heard him say only yesterday he was going to Switzerland for his lungs.
 Genealogist—I've got a pretty distasteful job before me. Mrs. Newrich employed me to look up her family tree, and I've got to inform her that one of her relatives was electrocuted.
 Friend—Why worry about that? Just write that the man in question occupied the chair of applied electricity at one of our public institutions.
 Medical Examiner—I don't like your heart action. You've had some trouble with Angina Pectoris.
 Applicant (sheepishly) — You're partly right, doctor, only that ain't her name.
 Barber—Shall I cut her hair close?
 Co-ed—No, stand off as far as possible.

Ev'rybody seems to know it's a buyers' market except in the buyers. . . . A young couple were recently wedded up in a plane. Well, we've always heard marriages were made in heaven. . . . Most of the radio announcers would get along better if they would quit trying to convey the impression that they are pretty wise guys. . . . Speaking in haste is bad enough, but writing in haste is likely to be disastrous. . . . We've never been surprised to learn that a fool and his money are soon parted. What always bothered us was, where in the heck did he get it? . . . Sign on a South Carolina store: "Nothing sold here on Sunday—and darn little during the week."

A general and a Colonel were walking down the street. They met many privates, and each time the Colonel would salute he would mutter: "The same to you."
 The general's curiosity got the better of him and he asked: "Why do you always say that?"
 The Colonel asserted: "I was once a private and I know what they are thinking."
 He—It's very simple, my dear. We can go away together on a trial honeymoon and after a time if we find we've made a little mistake we can separate.
 She—Yes, but what will we do with the little mistake?
 Be like the youngsters who, when asked how he learned to skate so well, replied, "By getting up every time I fell down. . . . Tell me what a man thinks of a girl and I will tell you what he thinks of everything else in the world. . . . To a girl, love is a triumph and marriage a victory—but to a man, love is a defeat and marriage a surrender. . . . The interrogation point was designed from the shape of the human ear. It is futile to ask questions unless we lend an attentive ear to the answer. . . . Landlady: "Well, you can't die here—this is the living room."

Education used to be a hard old grind for four years, but now they've done away with that. They have colleges. . . . Some people are so original they can say things which everyone else has forgotten. . . . Some advertisements of summer cottages say they have radio. Other summer cottages boast of a rock garden. The two should be together and then you could throw the rock garden at the radio. . . . When a bathing suit has been "greatly reduced," it doesn't always mean that it's cheaper in price. . . . How many people are always unhappy, because their expectations were far beyond what life would justify?
 Willie—Pa, what is a neutral zone?
 Pa—The kitchen, when your mother is fussing over a hot stove!
 He—Would you scream if I kissed you, little girl?
 She—Little girls should be seen and not heard.
 Visitor—And what will you do, my dear little girl, when you are as big as your mother?
 Modern Child—Diet.

WEDDING FREE

Rome, O.—Lawrence Johnson is doing all he can to swell the ranks of the Benedictines. This 21-year-old justice of the peace, newly established here, has offered to marry couples for anything they can pay—"from nothing to just a little." Despite his tender age, Johnson is married and has two children—which probably accounts for his charitable outlook on couples willing to be married.

JOBLESS GENEROSITY

Seattle, Wash.—Mrs. Arthur W. Charles was seriously ill and doctors determined that only a blood transfusion would save her life. Her husband, looking frantically for a volunteer to give blood, was directed to the headquarters of jobless men. Four of these offered their blood. Henry McGraw was selected. Mrs. Charles is improving rapidly.

ABOUT TOWN

Mrs. Electa Loomis of 4 Oakland street, who has been seriously ill with bronchial pneumonia, is showing signs of improvement today and hope is held out for her recovery. Mrs. Loomis is approaching ninety years of age. She is attended by a day and night nurse.

At the meeting of Center Church men's League Sunday morning at 9:30, Dr. N. A. Burr will discuss "Immortality."

A St. Patrick's setback will be given by the Women of the Moose Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the Home Club on Brainard Place. Six prizes and a door prize, all in merchandise and donated by the members will be given and refreshments of sandwiches, cake and coffee served. The standing social committee will be in charge, Mrs. Joseph Chicoine, chairman, Mrs. Albert Yost, Mrs. Josephine Edmonds, Mrs. Frank Montie, Mrs. George Snow and Mrs. Henry Valliant. All players will be welcome.

The W. B. A. Guar. club will hold its monthly meeting Friday evening with Mrs. Grace Lathrop of Benton street. Every member is urged to attend as plans will be made for a floor drill to be presented at the convention in New Britain in May, also for a setback party by the Guard Club for the first Tuesday evening in April.

Smartest 1932 Fashions Styled To Fit Reduced Budgets

presented....

in a
On Living Models

Thursday March 17th      Friday March 18th      Saturday March 19th

3 to 3.45 Daily

Outlines of Chic
Spring 1932

Smart fashions are blue this spring—from light navy to soft copens, including the popular Corsair Blue... beige will be the choice of well-dressed women... black, of course, is always in good taste. The bi-centennial influence is shown in red, white and blue combinations. In the high shades bright green is smartest. White is still very chic combined with black.

Fashion has drawn a new silhouette... higher waists... higher necklines... broader shoulders, and straighter skirts. You'll like this new mode, for it is as wearable as it is smart and charming. Sleeves are still in the fashion spotlight. Jackets are still definitely "in."

Crepes and diagonal fabrics are used in new spring coats. Rough fabrics are smart for frocks. Sheer crepes are very new and one sees them in the smartest frocks.

Smart Coats $8.95 to $39.50
Spring Frocks $3.95 and $8.95
New Suits $8.95 to $16.75

A Smart Spring Frock will be given away each afternoon

Each afternoon a silk frock will be given away free. Simply fill in card before the show and drop in ballot box. Person is entitled to win one day only.

The smartest 1932 Spring Fashions styled to fit your new reduced budget will be presented in a fashion showing this week. It has always been the policy of The J. W. Hale Company to present each season the newest, most accepted fashions at popular prices. This year more than ever we have searched the New York market for the smartest fashions to fit new, reduced budgets. This is no year to say you will wear last spring's apparel. Everyone can afford these fashions at these new prices. You will be amazed at the styles and values which will be presented at our Fashion Show. Showing Thursday, Friday and Saturday afternoons from three to three-forty-five o'clock.

Six Living Models
