DEATH TAKES JUDGE ARNOTT IN THE SOUTH

Hemorrhages Induced By Ulcers Cause Sudden Passing of Well Known Local and Hartford Attorney.

Judge Alexander Arnott, for 12 years judge of the Town Court of Manchester and a former representative of this town in the General Assembly, died late yesterday afternoon at the Mount Park hospital, St. Petersburg, Florida, following a violent attack of hemorrhages induced by duodenal ulcers. Judge Arnott had been confined in the hospital since Saturday night. His death was sudden and entirely unexpected. News of his passing reached Manchester early this morning and his host of friends here and in Hartford where he practiced law were shocked.

Lived in Florida
For several years Judge Arnott

Judge Alexander Arnott

and his wife, who was Miss Frances Carrier, have been spending their winters at their home, 520 Highland street, St. Petersburg. Of late years he had been an ardent golfer and he enjoyed the balmy weather on the west coast of Florida. He was always among the first to leave here as the winter approached and among the last to return. Although he loved Manchester and knew this town as home he was a lover of Florida and looked forward happily each year to his sojourn there.

Self-Made Man
In every sense of the word Judge Arnott was a self-made man. He worked his way through school and college and strove hard to establish himself as an attorney-at-law. Even while attending high school here he worked part time at the Cheney mills in order to earn his livelihood. At Trinity College and at Yale Law School he worked to earn every penny that put him through those institutions. He open-

CHEMIST ISOLATES ELUSIVE VITAMIN

Young University Professor Identifies Vitamin C Long Sought By the Chemists.

Pittsburgh, April 5.—(AP)—Isolation and identification of Vitamin C—accomplishments long sought by research scientists—has been announced by a young University of Pittsburgh professor of chemistry. Dr. C. G. King made first mention of the results of his work yesterday, but was reluctant to go into detail in view of explanation to be given before the American Society of Biological Chemists at Philadelphia April 28-30.

Dr. King worked for five years in the study and from lemon juice concentrated the vitamin which has long been known to be plentiful in oranges, lemons, tomatoes, potatoes and certain other fruits and vegetables. Lack of the substance in human diet is shown to cause scurvy.

Fed to Guinea Pigs
The young professor fed the substance he identifies as Vitamin C to guinea pigs and excluded other foods known to contain the element. The animals did not develop scurvy. Dr. King said the importance of his discovery is "that it is one more step in understanding the chemical reactions which characterize normal processes of living tissues."

He said the vitamin has a relationship to malnutrition in children but that work has not advanced far enough to know how much. Dr. King, who is 35, was assisted by W. A. Waugh and Joseph L. Svirby, graduate students at Pitt. He also worked at Columbia University and Cambridge University in England. He is a graduate of Washington State college.

TEN YEAR CHESS MATCH RESULTS ONLY IN DRAW.

Slough, England, April 5.—(AP)—Commented more than ten years ago, a game of chess between H. Kaye and John Garside of this Yorkshire village has ended in a draw.

As fellow members of a local chess club they arranged to play by correspondence when Kaye moved to Australia. The first move was made in November, 1921 and the game proceeded at the rate of four moves a year. Garside, announcing the result, said: "We never lost interest, but perhaps we are not sorry it has ended."

G. O. P. CONVENTION TOMORROW EVENING

State Parley At Hartford; Delegates All For Hoover; No Contests Expected.

Hartford, April 5.—(AP)—Nineteen delegates favorable to the re-nomination of President Hoover at the Chicago convention in June are expected to be elected without a contest at the Republican State convention which opens in Foot Guard hall here tomorrow night.

Ten of the delegates will be elected from the five Congressional districts at meetings Thursday, and the remaining nine will be named by convention as delegates at large. Today district leaders were preparing the slates for their respective delegates and alternates with assurances that the proceedings would be entirely harmonious.

Bingham Speaker
The convention will be opened at 8 p. m. tomorrow by State Chairman J. Henry Roraback who will introduce U. S. Senator Hiram Bingham, keynote and temporary chairman. Before the opening, however, the State Central Committee will meet at 3 p. m. to pass on the temporary slate of delegates.

The Thursday session will begin at 9:30 with caucuses of the Senatorial districts which have not already selected their representatives to the State Central Committee. Following reports from the committee, the convention will elect nine delegates at large and nine alternates after which a recess will be declared.

CAPONE CANDIDATES IN EVERY DISTRICT

Chicago Gang Leader Trying To Swing Chicago Elec- tion, Court Hears.

Chicago, April 5.—(AP)—"Scarface" Al Capone is in jail but the city that breathed with relief when Capone's 11 years' sentence was pronounced, once more finds itself fevered political strife as bitter as it ever was during the gang lord's heyday.

The figure of the overlord of crime, it is charged, has risen from within the walls of Cook county jail where he is confined to blight the hope of a peaceful primary election a week from today with terrorism and violence as of yore.

A special Grand Jury investigation was ordered yesterday by Judge M. Feinberg, himself a candidate for the Republican nomination for state attorney, to determine to what extent if any Capone and his hoodlums are employing terrorist tactics to force unfavorable candidates to withdraw and control the primary.

Capone Candidates
And from a prominent civic worker, President Fred W. Sargent, of the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad, came a statement that Capone "has a candidate for ward committeeman in the primary in every ward of Chicago."

Capone derives his power, he asserted, from revenues that ten thousand saloons and one thousand gambling houses bring in. Candidates for ward committees have withdrawn hurriedly in recent days and told of being threatened. A precinct captain who refused to stop working for a certain candidate was shot to death last Sunday and others have been beaten or fired upon.

Two hundred and fifty Chicago policemen were detailed to maintain order in suburban Cicero, where a bitter campaign between Republicans and Democrats closed with a municipal election today. They were admonished by Detective Chief Showmaker "not to let any one steal the polls from under your nose."

It was the first time Chicago police guarded the suburb since 1924 when a squad of city officers killed Frank Capone, brother of Al, in a running gun fight.

TREASURY BALANCE
Washington, April 5.—(AP)—Treasury receipts for April were $3,092,538.94; expenditures, $31,739.87; balance, $21,538,603.18. Customs duties for two days of April were $1,625,088.72.

PLAN BONDING TO WIPE OUT FLOATING DEBT

Civic Leaders In Conference With Selectmen Agree Re- funding Measure Is Best Solution.

A bond issue of $250,000 to refund the floating indebtedness of the Town of Manchester and drastic reductions in municipal expenses were recommended to balance the budget and aid the town's financial condition at a meeting of the Board of Selectmen with leading citizens and heads of town departments at the Municipal Building last night.

Pledge Cooperation
These suggestions were made early in the two and one-half hour discussion and were endorsed by practically every speaker. It is expected that the Selectmen will immediately call a special town meeting to vote on authorization of the bond issue. All of about thirty speakers were unanimous in their realization of the situation and the necessity for remedies and all pledged their co-operation with any measure taken to relieve the condition.

How Accumulated
According to figures advanced by Town Treasurer George H. Waddell, the $235,000 floating indebtedness of the town has accumulated since 1922, representing uncollected taxes, the cost of running the town pending collection of taxes and the necessity of borrowing money at the end of the fiscal year. He stressed the need to refund the floating indebtedness and to refund the floating indebtedness and to refund the floating indebtedness.

Board's Problem
In opening the meeting, Chairman Thomas J. Rogers said that much misinformation has been broadcast relative to the financial condition of Manchester. He said that the town is in remarkably fine condition and pointed out that it has borrowed only three per cent of the Grand List, whereas five per cent is allowed by law. He stated that three problems have confronted the Board for some time, namely the amount of uncollected taxes, the floating indebtedness of the town and the adjustment of expenses to meet the income.

Rogers's Suggestions
Mr. Rogers said that he did not believe anything could be done about the uncollected taxes but suggested a bond issue to run not more than ten years or less than five years in order to refund the floating indebtedness. He suggested reductions of budget items, including salary decreases as a means of meeting the third problem.

Plan School Cut
Howell Cheney, chairman of the Ninth School District and High School committees, announced that these two groups are planning twenty per cent reductions in expenses, including a fifteen per cent reduction in salaries, adding that the Recreation Centers and the South Manchester library. Mr. Cheney declared that the reduction would entail serious sacrifices but that "the town must

MURDERS HIS WIFE THEN KILLS SELF

New Canaan Fraternal and Church Leader Had Been Ill Several Years.

New Canaan, April 5.—(AP)—Nethona Silliman, hardware merchant and one of the community leaders in fraternal and church circles shot and killed his wife who has been confined to her bed for four years and then committed suicide early today.

Silliman had been in ill health for several years. Mrs. Silliman estimates that these committees and members of the family believed, had not awakened when he entered her bedroom, locked the door, shot her through the head with a small gauge shotgun and then discharged a second charge through his own breast.

Active In Church Work
His hardware firm was considered one of the largest in Fairfield county outside of Bridgeport. He was for 20 years superintendent of the Congregational church school, a post he resigned last Sunday and was secretary and past-worship master of his Odd Fellows lodge and clerk of the Congregational church. He had been active in Y. M. C. A. work throughout this area.

They leave a son, Roger Silliman, and daughter Miss Ruth Silliman, a teacher in the junior high school here. One sister, Miss Carolina Silliman is a missionary in Syria. Officials said Silliman rose earlier than usual this morning and walked to his store, a short distance where he obtained the weapon, returned to the house and went directly to his wife's room.

Woman Added to Yacht Marcon's Crew

The unexplained addition of a woman to the crew of the yacht Marcon contributed new mystery to the report that the boat is ready to sail from Norfolk, Va., to meet the kidnapers of the Lindbergh baby at sea. Here are the members of the crew, left to right: Mate M. G. Mason; Mrs. Jack Frost, the new member, seen here in nurse's uniform; Jack Frost, steward; and George Williams, engineer. The yacht is owned by Col. Charles H. Consovo, Baltimore hotel owner.

DECLARES COL. FAWCETT REFUSES TO COME BACK

Brazilian Says He Saw Englishman In 1927 and That He Was Not a Prisoner of Indians In the Jungles.

Washington, April 5.—(AP)—Telmo Araujo, who believes he saw Col. P. H. Fawcett, "lost" English explorer, in the Brazilian jungle about 1927, today said the colonel may be a voluntary exile from civilization.

A meeting in the jungle with an Englishman who said he was "lost" in the jungle was described by Araujo, son of a Brazilian rubber exporter and now a resident of Washington.

The region where he says he met the mysterious white man is near that in which Stephen Rattin, a Swiss trader, recently reported missing and camped at the head of a tributary of the latter, known as the River of St. John. One day, after the expedition had been in the region about two years, Araujo became lost while traveling alone.

"One afternoon I was walking through the jungle," he said, "when I saw a white man coming toward me. When he saw me he stood still and waited for me to approach. He was about 50 years old, of medium height, blond, touch of gray in his hair, with blue eyes and a long beard such as all white men grow in the jungle. His khaki shorts were tattered, his shirt falling to pieces, and on his feet were native rubber shoes."

"I went up to him and asked him who he was and if he were lost. 'I am an Englishman,' he said, 'and I am not lost.' 'Lived With Indians 'I asked him whether there was a town nearby where he lived. He told me he lived with Indians at a place about ten days away from that spot, but he would not tell me what Indians or in what direction his camp lay. 'I said to him, 'Don't you want ever to go back to your home?' and he said, 'never. I hate that life.' 'I looked straight at him and said: 'Are you Col. Fawcett?' 'Never mind about that,' he re-

Odorless Gasoline Next On Chemists' Program

Chapel Hill, N. C., April 5.—(AP)—Most of the "smell" has been extracted from gasoline in a chemistry laboratory at the University of North Carolina. These extracts are rated as the world's worst smell, "rotten eggs intensified 100 per cent."

The scientific object is not to enable smart filling stations to offer perfumed gas, but to rid motor fuel of one of its dangerously corrosive elements, the sulphur. This sulphur is the big smell. They leave a son, Roger Silliman, and daughter Miss Ruth Silliman, a teacher in the junior high school here. One sister, Miss Carolina Silliman is a missionary in Syria. Officials said Silliman rose earlier than usual this morning and walked to his store, a short distance where he obtained the weapon, returned to the house and went directly to his wife's room.

FEDERAL AGENTS MAKING SURVEYS OF SPEAKEASIES

Sixty of Them Now Working In New York City Prepar- ing To Close Them All, Director Declares.

New York, April 5.—(AP)—Sixty Federal prohibition agents, acting under Director Amos W. W. Woodcock and Assistant Administrator Martin O. Hanson, today began compilation of a "prohibition directory" in Manhattan, Brooklyn and the Bronx.

Each agent was provided with a sectional map covering from ten to twenty blocks and instructed to carefully comb the section to make an itemized report on each speakeasy, liquor-serving restaurant, cordial shop and night club.

The agents were told to certify on the basis of their own knowledge or "sound information" the location of each resort, whether it is a peep-hole or open-door establishment, a large or small business, and details of its patronage.

Make No Raids
The men also were instructed to make no raids, arrests or seizures for the present. Woodcock was in the city to personally direct the work.

After Washington is in possession of enough evidence to invade New York's speakeasies, the agents were told, they will be closed whether they number 10,000 or 30,000, and each investigator was given to understand that the will be held accountable if a later checkup shows that he failed to report all details of the section to which he was assigned.

Lower Manhattan was expected to be covered within a short time, after which the agents planned to invade the northern section of the island, then the Bronx and Brooklyn and possibly Queens and Richmond.

HITLER ORGANIZED GREAT SPY SYSTEM

German Leader Had Most Extensive Organization In Every Part of Nation.

Berlin, April 5.—(AP)—Karl Severing, minister of the interior who ordered the dramatic raid last month on meeting-places of Adolf Hitler's National Socialist Party, announced today that documents seized in those raids indicated the "Nazis" had one of the most extensive espionage systems he ever had seen.

One party order issued by the intelligence service in February, he said, directed the espionage branch "must extend to every activity of friendly or sympathizing organizations; to the activities of the state and all its organs, especially the police and the army."

The material confiscated, said the minister, included many confidential government documents which could not have fallen into the hands of the Nazis except by violation of the oath of office on the part of those to whom the documents originally were entrusted.

Order No. 45
There was, for instance, "Order No. 45" which Dr. Severing said had been found at Essen. It dealt with information on the police, school teachers, the clergy, the railway service, bus services and the activities of Free Masons and Jews.

Many times, the minister said, secret Communist orders were circulated among subordinate leaders of the Nazis with instructions that they be used as object lessons. Handbills written on the Communist model were circulated among the police, inciting them to disobedience. Among the services especially spied upon, said Dr. Severing, were airmen, the telegraph and telephone systems and the radio stations.

A secret order said to have been found at Weisbaden outlined plans for the establishment of a communication service by means of courier, carrier pigeon, dogs and light signals. This was to have been inaugurated immediately after Hitler was elected President and thereafter also were to have been shortwave radio outfits by which Nazi groups in outlying sections of the country could be warned of the approach of the police.

Trained For War
Dr. Severing said the police also found lists of the Nazis who are able to handle machine guns and army pistols and to drive tanks. He said an order found at Magdeburg directed all local Nazi branches also were to have been in order by March 7, ready to proceed wherever they might be sent. Every member of the Nazi "storm troops" was to be equipped with the so-called iron ration, consisting of one tin of meat.

HOOVER EXPLAINS ECONOMY PLAN TO BALANCE BUDGET

DEMOCRATS NAME BARKLEY, KEYNOTER

Supporter of Gov. Roosevelt Picked To Make Address At National Convention.

Chicago, April 5.—(AP)—A supporter of Gov. F. D. Roosevelt of New York—Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky—has been named to sound the keynote for the Democrats when they meet here June 27 to select their presidential candidate. Senator Barkley who but recently withdrew as a possible "favorite son" presidential candidate to support the Roosevelt campaign was selected as the party's National convention temporary chairman yesterday by the Democratic arrangements committee. J. J. Shouse was recommended for the permanent chairmanship. Shouse, who is chairman of the party's executive committee was regarded as the candidate of the anti-Roosevelt faction for keynoter.

Washington, April 5.—(AP)—A man whose political philosophy has been formed by life-long study and seasoned by 20 years "on the hill" will be the 1932 keynote speaker of the Democratic Party.

He is Senator Alben W. Barkley, of Kentucky, who was still in his teens when he began winning gold medals in oratory and debate by showing the qualities that will be drawn on in the coming convention. Affirming his belief in the people,

COUNTRY BETRAYED, CAPPER DECLARES

Kansas Senator Claims Bank- ers Are Making Money From Federal Loans.

Washington, April 5.—(AP)—A charge that Congress has been "deceived" and the country "betrayed" by "powerful banking interests working through the Reconstruction Finance Corporation" was made today by Senator Capper (R., Kan.).

In a radio speech, Capper said the $12,800,000 loan to the Missouri Pacific railroad was "unjustified, contrary to public policy, and a moral violation of the terms of the act."

He tempered his criticism, however, by saying the corporation had "done some great work" through helping credit conditions. In the Missouri Pacific case, he said the corporation "had reached into the Treasury" and given to Morgan and Company, Kuhn, Loeb and Company, and the Guaranty Trust Company dollars worth at least 80 per cent more in purchasing power than the dollars they had loaned to the railroad in the first place.

Capper said he hoped the Couzens bill to transfer jurisdiction over railroad loans to the Interstate Commerce Commission would be approved. Turning to other emergency legislation, Capper said the Glass-Steagall banking bill was being used by the big financial institutions to "protect their own position."

The big bankers, he said, "are taking Treasury money to pay off their own obligations, and still hoarding their own deposits."

Answers Congressional At- tack By Stating That With- out Joint Action There Is No Other Way To Reduce Expenditures—Tells of Ways That Federal Ex- penses May Be Cut 200 Millions.

Washington, April 5.—(AP)—Answering congressional attacks upon his economy suggestions, President Hoover said today that without the creation of a joint Congressional-administration committee to consider the question, he could "see no way by which there can be a maximum reduction in expenditures."

Only a short while before, Speaker Garner had told newspapermen that if the President sent to the Capitol specific suggestions for cutting federal cash outlays, the House would approve them and do it quickly.

Mr. Hoover, at his semi-weekly press conference, outlined "three general directions" in which he believes Federal expenses may be reduced by as much as $200,000,000 in an effort to balance the budget in conjunction with the new tax bill.

No Action Taken
Referring to one of these, re-organization and consolidation of government functions, he asserted he had recommended such a step seven distinct times but that "the action recommended has not been taken."

The other two directions were direct reduction of appropriations and alteration of existing laws to reduce present unnecessary functions. In the Senate, Chairman Jones of the appropriations committee introduced legislation to carry out the presidential suggestion for a commission to study the question.

Speaker Garner, in guaranteeing House action on specific administration proposals, said "if Mr. Hoover has nothing to recommend, that is a different matter and it is mighty late in the session for him to try to get anything done through a commission."

The Jones resolution was referred to committee where it seems destined to rest a while in view of Democratic disinclination to the move.

Senator Jones would have the commission report on a National economy program within 30 days. The commission would be composed of nine members, three to be named by the President, three by the vice-president and three by the Senate and three by the Speaker to represent the House.

The Jones proposal was read to the Senate and sent to the committee on executive expenditures without comment.

President Criticized
After the submission of his special message yesterday, the President was criticized in the Senate by Democratic leaders as "shirking responsibility" in the matter of suggesting specific reductions.

"Today he asserted that too many Congressional committees and too great a number of departments were concerned to secure unanimity of action without the appointment of a central group."

"What I asked for in my message yesterday was organized, non-partisan cooperation by all forces to reduce government expenses in the National emergency which insistently demands relief for the taxpayer."

"There are three general directions in which expenses can be reduced: 'First: The direct reduction of appropriations within the authority of existing laws creating and specifying various activities of the government.'"

"Second: There are a large number of expenditures within the bureau and departments which cannot be reduced without a change in the laws so that the executive or the appropriate committees can reduce such expenditures."

AIR OF OPTIMISM IN LINDBERGH HOME

Colonel Made Two Flights in Three Days On Secret Mis- sions—Keeps Silent.

Hopewell, N. J., April 5.—(AP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh who won his fame in the air, is using that same element in an attempt to get back his stolen baby.

Optimism permeates the white house on Sourland Mountain as the head of the household comes and goes on mysterious airplane journeys.

Twice in three days he has soared away, apparently seeking a yacht off the Massachusetts coast. The trips are believed to have some unexplained connection with rumors that ransom negotiations are being carried on with kidnapers who took Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr., 21 months old from his crib, March 1.

Taking a personal hand in the hunt he has appeared for freedom from questioning about his movements.

"Colonel Lindbergh feels that under existing circumstances he should be privileged to move without the incumberance of either checkup or accounting" said a police statement.

Driving his own car the flying colonel slipped into his estate last night after his second airplane journey. About 3:30 p. m. yesterday he and his closest friend, Colonel Henry Breckinridge, climbed over a back fence at Newark Airport and sped away in a borrowed plane capable of 180 miles an hour.

Late in the afternoon a plane identified by its number as the craft carrying Lindbergh was seen cruising over Martha's Vineyard Island. It was in this vicinity also that Colonel Lindbergh was reported seen flying Sunday, with three other men.

When Lindbergh and Breckinridge started their flight yesterday, they carried a suitcase and a blanket. Many speculations arose as to the reason for this but none was verified.

Dr. John Grier Hibben, president of Princeton University who called at the Lindbergh home, said with his wife said an "air of optimism" prevailed. Mrs. Hibben said Mrs. Lindbergh was bearing up well.

John Hughes Curtis, one of three Norfolk, Va., intermediaries who believe they have established contact with the kidnapers, was away from his home on another mysterious journey that has lasted since Saturday. There were reports, however, that he also had headed for Martha's Vineyard.

NORFOLK REPORTS

Norfolk, Va., April 5.—(AP)—Mrs. John Hughes Curtis, wife of one of Norfolk men serving as negotiators for the return of the stolen Lindbergh baby, returned to Norfolk today after a week's absence and refused to say whether or not her trip had been made in connection with the negotiations.

Mrs. Curtis would not discuss the matter until her husband, now away on a mysterious mission in connection with the case, returned to the city. She said she expected his return within the next twenty-four hours.

"I simply went visiting," Mrs. Curtis said. When asked where she had been and if her trip was in the interest of the negotiations, she replied:

"I prefer to say nothing about it until Mr. Curtis returns."

Her husband was away on a trip which the negotiators have announced was in the interests of the Lindbergh case.

Mrs. Curtis left on her trip a few hours after the Very Rev. Dean H. Dobson-Peacock, another intermediary, returned from a visit to the home of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh.

Admiral Burrage, the spokesman for the three, at the request of reporters gave a formal statement today saying that no information could be given out at this time.

The statement follows:

"I have just let Dean Peacock's home realizing that the press and the public are extremely anxious for some authentic word yet at this time nothing can be given that might hamper the negotiations. The negotiators need the public and the press' consideration in the work they are trying to accomplish."

Civil Action in Bolton Tragedy Postponed — Andover Pair Guilty of Misconduct.

Only one case was disposed of in Tolland County superior court which convened for the April term in Rockville this morning. Edward C. Johnson and Mabel H. Samuel of Andover were charged with a statutory offense. He was sent to jail for four months and the woman given a year's suspended sentence to the state farm for women.

The Kingsbury-O'Looney civil suit was continued indefinitely at the defense counsel's request so that he might obtain other witnesses. Edward O'Looney is alleged to have been the driver who knocked down and killed Hannah Amelia Kingsbury, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Kingsbury of Coventry, several months ago. O'Looney is serving a year in jail following criminal prosecution in this case.

The suit of Charles Blinn of Vernon vs. John Katsawski of Manchester, involving an automobile accident in Taletown last fall, was continued until April 12. Judge Ernest C. Simpson of New Haven presided.

HOSPITAL NOTES

A son was born at the hospital today to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gaytor of 280 Hilliard street.

Edmund Scranton of 307 Spruce street and Mrs. Benjamin Johnson and infant son of 193 Lydall street were discharged today.

Richard Grimley, World War veteran of 174 Cooper street who has been at the hospital for the past three weeks with a stomach ailment was discharged yesterday.

Mrs. George Parks and infant son of East Hartford were discharged yesterday.

Mayor Gets First Ride in New Ford

The first person to ride in the new V-8 Ford was Thomas J. Rogers who is chairman of the Board of Selectmen. He is shown here about to enter the De Luxe sedan with John Q. Cragin, Ford Motor Company representative at his right. Manager Thomas E. Donahue of the Manchester Motor Sales extended the courtesy. Standing in the rear at the left is Michael J. McDonnell, a salesman at Manchester Motor Sales.

MAYOR FIRST TO RIDE IN NEW FORD HERE

1932 Model Makes Its Man- chester Debut in Town This Morning For Short Stay.

The new V-8 cylinder Ford made its Manchester debut today and Mayor Thomas J. Rogers, chairman of the Board of Selectmen, was honored by being selected as its first passenger.

The latest edition of the Ford is being exhibited by the Manchester Motor Sales Inc., on Main street and the sample car will remain here tonight and all day and evening tomorrow. It was brought to town this morning by John Q. Cragin, representative of the Ford Motor Company from the Summer-ville, Mass., assembly plant. The Ford on display here is the De Luxe sedan, four-door type.

Quite a number of persons gathered at the Municipal building at the center this morning to view the car when Mayor Rogers was given his ride.

The Ford sedan will be on show at the Manchester Motor Sales until 10 o'clock tomorrow. The first batch of the new cars for delivery is expected to start arriving in two or three weeks. Orders are being taken now.

Some of the features of the new Ford are as follows: It is larger, roomy, fast, powerful and alert. It is capable of 75 miles per hour as its engine develops 65 horsepower. Most of its modern streamline design are offered.

The new Ford has a longer wheel base and its motor, body and shackles are runner mounted. Another feature is the synchronized silent gear shift and silent second gear.

FLAMES THREATEN LINDBERGH'S HOME

Police, Reporters and Cam- eramen Help Firemen and Colonel To Put Out Fire.

Hopewell, N. J., April 5.—(AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh fought side by side with more than 50 firemen, neighbors, police and newspaper reporters and cameramen today to beat out a brush fire that came dangerously near his home.

Fanned by a strong wind, the fire which started about three-quarters of a mile west of the Lindbergh estate, burned its way into the Lindbergh grounds and after traveling about a mile and a half attacked a pile of brush close to the Lindbergh house.

Two calls for aid were sent out from the Lindbergh home to the Hopewell volunteer fire department. Newspaper reporters and cameramen joined the volunteer firemen and armed with branches from spruce and fir trees attempted to beat back the flames.

The fire gradually forced them back toward the Lindbergh home and state police, detectives and Col. Lindbergh himself, hatless and clad in a blue suit, joined the fire fighters. The colonel worked with an axe and a branch from a spruce tree.

When the police recognized some newspapermen in the group of firemen joined the volunteer firemen and armed with branches from spruce and fir trees attempted to beat back the flames.

"If they want to help, let them," the colonel added.

A few minutes later the police protested when some cameramen appeared, but Col. Lindbergh told the police to let them take some pictures. The colonel added, however, remained out of range of the cameras.

U. S. MUST SEE SAND SAMPLES, DELAYS P. O.

Holdup At Start of Operations Caused By Cautious Methods of Department.

Besides a post office, Manchester seems to be in line for a liberal education in the ways and manner of federal government performance before the new building at the Center is finished.

It appears that the first halt in the building operations after the speedy digging of the excavation was caused by a demand from Washington that there be submitted to the supervising architect's office samples of the sand to be used in the mortar and cement entering into the construction.

Such samples have now been forwarded and after one or more of them has been approved and the contractors notified of the fact, it is expected that operations will be resumed. No government inspector has yet showed up but announcement is made that such an official will appear within a very few days after the sand is O. K'd.

Incidentally Pieretti Bros., of Centerbrook, the contractors, have a wide reputation for exceptional honesty and skill in the matter of cement and recently they had a good deal of trouble trying to blast out some sidewalks laid by that firm some years ago, when it became necessary to change the layout of a street. The cement was like adamant. Still and all, and in spite of the inspector, the sand samples have to go to Washington.

TORRINGTON BANKER GETS PRISON TERM

Torrington, April 5.—(AP)—John H. Seaton, former president of the Torrington National Bank, pleaded guilty before Judge Edwin C. Dickenson in the Superior Court at Litchfield today to a charge of forgery and was sentenced to State Prison for not less than one nor more than four years. He was taken to prison this afternoon.

Seaton was accused of having forged the name of Mrs. Mary Workman to a note for $15,000 which he deposited with the Winsted Savings Bank, giving 75 shares of Torrington National Bank stock owned by Mrs. Workman as security.

No defense was offered at the session of the court today and after the state's attorney, Walter Holcomb, had briefly outlined the case, recommending "a reasonable minimum sentence and a substantial maximum sentence" Attorney Thomas J. Wall, counsel for the accused, pleaded for leniency, pointing out that his client already had been punished far beyond the power of any court to punish him. Seaton he said, realized that he owed a debt to society and was willing to meet it. He expressed the hope, however, that a jail sentence might be imposed in preference to a sentence to State Prison.

Seaton took the sentence without displaying emotion.

DEATHS

A. C. Miller

Arthur Charles Miller of 266 North Main street died at Manchester Memorial hospital Sunday after a week's illness with pneumonia. Mr. Miller was born in Hartford 48 years ago, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Miller. He was employed by H. W. Hollister, a building mover.

Mr. Miller leaves his wife, Sarah A., his parents and a brother and sister.

The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the funeral rooms of Mark Holmes, which will be open this evening for the convenience of friends. Rev. M. S. Stocking of the North Methodist church will conduct the services and burial will be in Eastford.

BOARD TO TRIM SCHOOL COSTS

Manchester's Board of Education met this morning to consider what can be done here to make school expenses meet the decreased budget general economic conditions demand. The members of the board were in hearty accord that expenses should be cut and voted to trim expenses to meet the amount that will be available under the present taxation conditions. In order to do this the board deferred budgeting its expenses until Tuesday May 3 at which time it will be possible to judge the percentage of tax collection will be.

Approximately 20 per cent decreases will be made throughout the budget, it was estimated by Chairman Edward J. Murphy. This will effect everybody under the schools system in the town it was stated. At the same time it was stated that by deferring the budgeting it may be possible to affect still further decreases if such are absolutely necessary.

Another suggestion made was that certain subjects considered essential to a good modern education can be temporarily eliminated until such time as they can be afforded again. It was voted that hereafter the pay for substitute teachers will be $5 per day. Previously the substitute received the salary of the teacher whose room she took. The number of days absence allowed for sickness in the year was cut from 10 days to 5 days. In this item alone it is estimated the town will save from $300 to $400.

The members gave their approval to a survey of the teaching situation so that wherever it is deemed wise married teachers who have husbands employed can be removed to make way for some single teacher who needs the employment. The idea is to spread the jobs among the teachers as judiciously as possible. A general round table discussion of school expenses was held and it is believed that the May 3 meeting will affect some wise decreases in the expenses of the schools.

BUCKLAND CHILDREN IN COLONIAL PLAYLET

Give "George Washington" Under Auspices of Buckland Parent-Teacher Association.

"George Washington, a playlet was presented by third grade children at the monthly meeting of the Buckland Parent-Teacher Association last evening. Ralph Stone represented George Washington, Otter Mochie, Martin Washington; Margaret Webb, Betty Washington; Walter Armstrong, Lawrence Washington. The children were in colonial costume. Doris Cole played a piano solo and dialogue followed by C. Mochie and Walter Armstrong, entitled "Points of View."

The guest speaker was Miss Beatrice Hall, nutrition director with the Connecticut Dairy and Food Council. She described how to have a nourishing table on as low a budget as ten dollars a week. Meat on such an allowance would have to be confined chiefly to soups and stews, she explained. Miss Hall showed a number of health pictures and her talk proved most enlightening.

The regular Monday evening set-back and dance which would ordinarily take place on April 11, will be omitted as the people of the district are working on a similar affair for April 25 for the benefit of Boy Scouts of Troop 7.

LATEST STOCKS

New York, April 5.—(AP)—For the fifth successive session the Stock Market stubbornly persisted in its penetration of new low territory for recent years ago.

Rather than providing any sustained forward impetus, yesterday's late covering movement appeared merely to have weakened the market's technical position, and prices dropped rather precipitantly under comparatively light selling pressure. The market steadied a little after announcement of the Santa Fe dividend, but failed to develop much recuperative power.

Santa Fe tumbled 7 3/4 points to 53 3/4, the lowest since 1901, then rebounded more than 2. Union Pacific and Norfolk and Western skidded 6 and 7 points, before meeting support. American Telephone approximated its bear market low with a 3-point drop. Rails and utilities were again the notably weak groups, with People's Gas a soft spot in the latter, tumbling more than 8 points. Losses of 2 to 4 points appeared in such issues as U. S. Steel, American Can, American Tobacco, Allied Chemical, Dupont, Consolidated Gas, Standard Gas, American Water Works, North American and New York Central. Losses of a point or so were numerous.

Brokerage comment remained gloomy. In fact, gloom has grown so deep in Wall Street that at least one group of investment trusts has started to do a little cautious buying, on the theory that pessimism has reached an unjustified extreme which would eventually necessitate a reaction.

Santa Fe's ordering of a quarterly dividend of $1, after paying $1.50 three months ago, and $2.50 previously, was not unexpected. The management announced, however, that further payments would depend upon improved earnings. In common with the majority of carriers, this company scarcely covered its fixed charges in the first two months of the year. Advance estimates of the weekly freight car loadings registered, to appear tomorrow, indicated a substantial reduction, cancelling much of the improvement of the preceding two weeks.

The weekly consolidated condition statement of Federal Reserve member banks in leading cities was mildly encouraging in that it showed banks were continuing to invest securities other than U. S. government's once more. Investments of this character increased $25,000,000 for the week, the largest gain in some time. Commercial loans, however, continued to shrink, largely reflecting the small demand for commercial credit. A gain of $98,000,000 in demand deposits apparently reflected in part the piling up of funds in preparation for the month-end settlements.

ONE POUND BABY BOY EXPECTED TO SURVIVE

Kansas City, April 5.—(AP)—A cardboard carton warmed by hot water bags cradles a one-pound baby boy born here yesterday to a young couple.

The child was pronounced normal, except in size, by the attending physician, who has high hopes the infant will live.

The doctor said the young son of Mr. and Mrs. William St. John was undernourished.

The father is a strapping youth of 18 and the mother is 17.

The baby wasn't expected for 2 1/2 months. No crib was ready, so the present the baby's odd little cries issue from a coffee carton at the St. John home. The tiny arms are just about as big as his father's forefinger. He is just about 14 inches long.

"The chief thing," the doctor remarked, "is his vitality. He's a bit undernourished and weak. But I see no reason why he shouldn't pull through. It's been done before. Most babies of that weight die in two or three hours. This baby has been living longer than usual in such cases."

The boy had his first drink of water from an eye-dropper.

CIRCUIT COURT HOLDS BLOCK BOOKING FAIR

New York, April 5.—(AP)—The United States Circuit Court of Appeals today upheld the practice of block-booking, a system by which motion picture exhibitors are required to lease films in a group in order to get one desired film.

The Federal Trade Commission sought to stop the practice and the struggle between it and the motion picture producers and distributors has been of long standing.

The opinion held that the block-booking practice had no shown "effective or destructive injury to first-run houses" and that the evidence submitted "indicated a state of fair competition in the industry."

The matter was before the Appellate Court in connection with an order issued by the trade commission directing the Paramount Corporation, Adolph Zukor and Jesse L. Lasky to "cease and desist from practices found to constitute unfair methods of competition in violation of the Federal Trade Commission

BLAMES ARCH CRIMINAL

Torrington, April 5.—(AP)—That an "arch criminal" was back of a series of burglaries in which legions made by the public defender, J. Clinton "Craback" in the Superior Court at Litchfield today when Edmund Ciechoski and John Donovan were arraigned for breaking into a house in Plymouth. The "arch criminal" was alleged to have turned state's evidence and who had not been brought before the court, received all the profits from the burglaries according to the public defender, Donovan and Ciechoski were released under suspended execution of sentences to six months in jail.

Philip Margraf, 34, of Winsted, arrested on a statutory charge involving a five-year-old girl, was sentenced to five years on another case.

Dominick Marcianno, 21, who stole $300 from his employer in Torrington and fled to North Carolina, was returned to the State Reformatory from which he had been released last October on parole.

CROSS ANSWERS CHARGE

Hartford, April 5.—(AP)—Governor Cross has not charged the cities of the state with countenancing graft in the administration of their affairs, he stated today. The governor had been quoted as telling a delegation "Independent Republicans" who suggested the calling of a special session of the General Assembly as a relief from the present economic situation.

"What I did say," declared the governor today, "was that the cities of the state should first reduce their expenditures to the minimum before seeking aid from the state, and I also added laughingly that if there was any graft in the cities and any inefficiency on the part of state officials, it should be sought out and weeded out."

The governor explained today that he has no knowledge of any graft in the management of the affairs of the cities of the state, and such reference as he made to the possibility of graft was solely in a humorous vein.

A shrewd business man Judge Arnott had capitalized considerably on property dealings in Hartford.

As a young popular Alexander Arnott was popular. He played football and baseball well and was captain of his high school football team.

Alexander Arnott was born in Belfast, Ireland, on September 12, 1875. His stay in Ireland was brief since his parents, the late William A. Arnott and Margaret Hasty (Drake) Arnott, decided to come to South Manchester.

Very soon after beginning law practice here in 1902, he entered politics and that fall was elected to the General Assembly. He was one of the youngest men ever to represent the town in the House of Representatives.

For a few years Judge Arnott served as town counsel under the late Captain Arthur Keeney.

In addition to his wife Judge Arnott's mother survives him. She has been making her home at 125 East Center street here, but recently was visiting in Greenwich.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete. The remains will be brought to Watkins Brothers here and the time of the service must await the arrival of Mrs. Arnott from the South.

The prizes for contest number one are as follows: First prize, a full set of twelve books, nicely bound, known as "America."

Essay contest number two is on the following subject: "To what particular cause and effect, and why does it seem in this day there is a greater appreciation for Washington as the Founder, the Defender and savior of the Republic than ever before?"

Prizes are as follows: First prize, gold medal; second prize, solid silver medal; third prize, solid bronze medal. Medals will be contributed by the Robbins Company of Attleboro, Mass., and will be properly engraved before being forwarded to the prize winners.

HOOPER EXPLAINS HIS ECONOMY PLAN

ments' heads have appeared before many different committees in Congress in the last months, and have pointed out a multitude of directions which could be condensed by these duties, but most of them require repeal or amendment of the laws which compel expenditures.

"Seven departments alone have been pointed out over 85 such directions. A careful consideration of these committees and which offer a possibility of very large reductions. There are still other areas which could not doubt be developed.

Hooper said that the plan is not a mere diffusion of effort seemingly makes effective progress on important items possible.

"What have asked for is not a commission but merely that the Senate and the House should each designate representatives to sit down with representatives from the administration and endeavor to draft a comprehensive, general, national economy bill covering the second and third areas of possible reduction in expenditures.

cut the measure to fit the cloth." He stated that the schools have never been extravagant as all expenditures have been carefully watched.

Practical People William C. Cheney, chairman of the Park Commission, pledged the cooperation of his department, saying that he believed a large part of the park work could be taken care of through the appropriation for unemployment.

Town Strong Clifford R. Burr, a member of the Police Commission, also pledged the cooperation of his department and said he believed it was time for the town to put its house in order.

Money Tight R. LaMotte Russell of the Manchester Trust company spoke of the difficulty of borrowing money throughout the country and reported that the financial condition of the town.

Old Fashioned W. W. Robertson charged the town with attempting to conduct its affairs in an old fashioned manner.

School Consolidation Two advocates of school consolidation as an economic measure also spoke at the meeting, being C. Elmore Watkins and Judge William S. Hyde.

Change Fiscal Year William E. Buckley of the High School committee expressed his disfavor of a flat reduction of salaries, saying that decreases should be made according to income or on a sliding basis.

Cites Milwaukee Mathias Spies, representing the Taxpayers League, said that it was too early to start on the questions of funding indebtedness and balancing the budget as the amount of taxes that will be collected this year cannot be ascertained at the present time.

Treasurer's Statement Town Treasurer Waddell said that $787,000 would have to be paid out by the town toward the end of the year to meet past obligations.

Other Speakers Others who spoke at the meeting were: Dr. D. C. Y. Moore, Judge Raymond A. Johnson, John Hyde, William J. Shea, Mrs. Andrew Healy, Mrs. Lillian Bowers, Rev. Watson Woodruff, Judge Thomas Ferguson, Robert Reid, Thomas Lewis, E. J. Murphy and Selectmen George E. Keith, Wells A. Strickland, Frank Williams, Sherwood Bowers, William J. Thornton, and W. G. Glenny.

RIVER FLOOD CHECKED

Springfield, April 5.—(AP)—Cold weather of yesterday and last night, when the temperature dropped well below the freezing point, has checked the rise of the Connecticut river which late last week appeared headed for flood conditions, and power engineers today predicted, that lacking heavy rains, there should be a normal run of despite the depth of a snow bank in the hills. The head of water on the dam at Holyoke today was 6.20 feet.

BIG PLANTERS ADOPT OPPOSITE POLICIES

Hackett Will Raise No Shade Grown, Hartmans To Plant No Broadleaf At All.

John Hackett of Buckland, who last year grew 125 acres of shade grown tobacco and no broadleaf, is to exactly reverse his policy this year. No shade grown tobacco at all will be raised on the various farms and plantation of Hackett Brothers, but Mr. Hackett proposes to raise 250 acres of broadleaf. This is due to the existing surplus of shade grown tobacco left over from last year and the low market price offered.

The newly organized Hartman Tobacco Company, of which Maurice Hartman is now the head, and which has absorbed the Connecticut Sumatra Company, is to reverse the other way around. On the Buckland and Windsor plantations of this company last year was grown mostly broadleaf. This year the company is going into shade grown and expects to plant about 100 acres of this kind of tobacco and no broadleaf.

Information indicates that the broadleaf crop will be 33 per cent less and the shade crop 25 per cent less this season.

Spring is just around the corner, says the weather man. From all this cold weather, you might think it was around the same corner as Prosperity.

FRYING PAN LOOMS FOR KIWANIS SHOW

Indications Are That Plenty of Local Folks and Things Will Get Gay Grilling.

Rehearsals are being held daily for the sixth annual Kiwanis Minstrel Show which will be presented at the High School Auditorium, Tuesday evening, April 12, for the benefit of the Kiwanis Kiddies Camp at Hebron. Much original humor has been written into the show and many local institutions, political and otherwise, will be taken for a ride.

The show has been named the "Dark Town Minstrel" and will feature a chorus and six end men. The chorus will be attired in evening dress and the end men in fireman's uniforms.

The electrical decorations will be erected by L. N. Heebner of the Manchester Electric Company and the art department of the High school, under Miss Harriet Condon. Fifty posters created by students have been distributed about town and they will have a "prop house" in the big scene of the show.

MOOSE ELECTION

John F. Limerick has been again elected Dictator of Manchester Lodge, No. 1477, Loyal Order of Moose, in this his fourth consecutive term in this office. The election of officers was held last night, Paul Cervini was elected to fill the unexpired term of secretary to replace Joseph Chicoine, who resigned. The other officers of the past year were re-elected for the ensuing year.

The lodge will take in the formal opening exercises of the new home of Hartford Lodge, No. 723, next Sunday afternoon, attending in a body. Executive officers of the state field day committee will arrange for transportation.

DECLARES COL. FAWCETT REFUSES TO COME BACK

"I am not going back," he declared. "I am not going back." He carried no gun but was armed with a belt knife.

"Returning to Manaus, I told my story, and everyone there said the native rumors exactly agreed with it; that the Indians believed Fawcett never wanted to reach home again."

Fawcett disappeared in the Matto Grosso region, a vast unexplored jungle area of Brazil, seven years ago. It was generally believed he was lost in the jungle or killed by Indians.

FIND ALL-BRAN HAS TWICE THE USABLE IRON IN LIVER

Also Furnishes "Bulk" and Vitamin B to Overcome Common Constipation

Liver is known as a good source of iron for the blood. Now, new tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN contains twice as much blood-building iron as an equal amount by weight of beef liver.

But more important still, laboratory experiments show ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines and Vitamin B to tone the intestinal tract.

How much better than raking pills and drugs—so often habit-forming. Just eat two tablespoonfuls of ALL-BRAN daily for most types of constipation. It is not habit-forming. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

PICK SIX JURORS FOR MASSIE TRIAL

Youthful State Lawyer Wins Legal Skirmish With the Veteran Darrow.

Honolulu, April 5.—(AP)—An early legal skirmish in the trial of the Kahahawai murder case was lost to a youthful assistant prosecutor by Clarence Darrow, noted criminal lawyer, during the task of selecting a jury from panels composed of a medley of races.

Shortly before this court fight, the 74-year old Chicagoan also lost a point to John C. Kelley, newly appointed public prosecutor, when the court ruled that whether Joseph Kahahawai was innocent or guilty of an assault upon Mrs. Thalia Massie had no bearing on the case.

Massie is Nervous Nearby, Lieut. Thomas H. Massie bit his lips as he watched Darrow carefully sift the minds of the jurors.

Darrow's persistence in questioning veniremen had early aroused the ire of Ulrich. The assistant prosecutor shouted angrily "The defense council is putting words in the juror's mouth" when the gray-haired leader of the defense continued, despite objections, in his effort to show Henry Beckley, Hawaiian, already had formed an opinion.

The lodge will take in the formal opening exercises of the new home of Hartford Lodge, No. 723, next Sunday afternoon, attending in a body. Executive officers of the state field day committee will arrange for transportation.

The officers for the coming year are: Dictator, John F. Limerick; vice-dictator, William E. Egan; prelate, Charles A. Irons; treasurer, William D. Warrack; secretary, Harry C. Cervini; trustees, Paul Quish, Patsy Ansell and David J. Dickson.

after Hitler's expected victory in the first presidential election last month was discovered by the police at Wiesbaden, Dr. Severing said. They found documents outlining a general plan of military mobilization, occupation of the gas, water and electricity works, seizure of the street railways and lists of officials and civil servants who were to be removed from office.

BANKER DIES

Bridgeport, April 5.—(AP)—Charles Jenkinson, 47, a banker of Stamford and New York died early today at Bridgeport Hospital and the body will be taken to his home, North Stamford avenue, Stamford, for services there at 10 a. m. Saturday and half an hour later at the First Methodist Episcopal church of Stamford. The Rev. Albert Hall Marion will officiate. Burial will be at Riverside cemetery, Providence, R. I.

Mr. Jenkinson is survived by his widow, Mrs. Beatrice M. Jenkinson who is a daughter of a former governor of Georgia.

HOTEL BURNS

Bellows Falls, Vt., April 5.—(AP)—Fire, shortly after midnight did damage of $175,000 to a four-story brick block occupied by the Hotel Windham. Thirty-four guests were awakened by Clifford E. Patterson, manager of the hotel who discovered the fire. They had ample time to leave the building in safety and most of them saved their belongings. The cause of the fire was unknown.

TUESDAY, APRIL 5.

BOND ISSUE

In the fiscal situation in which Manchester finds itself, with an accumulation of floating debt on its hands, there is always the temptation to follow the course of the individual who, harassed by many unliquidated bills, at length negotiated a loan big enough to cover them all and, as he signed the note, breathed a great sigh of relief and exclaimed: "Thank God, those infernal bills are paid!"—and then went happily on his way, living, as before, a little beyond his means.

Unquestionably the proposal made at last night's meeting of department heads and citizens with an accumulation of floating debt on its hands, there is always the temptation to follow the course of the individual who, harassed by many unliquidated bills, at length negotiated a loan big enough to cover them all and, as he signed the note, breathed a great sigh of relief and exclaimed: "Thank God, those infernal bills are paid!"—and then went happily on his way, living, as before, a little beyond his means.

at the very foot of the Indian ocean, hundreds of miles beyond the Cape of Good Hope and on the edge of the Antarctic ice fields, which the sailors called Hurd's but the books call Heard.
 Marooned at this tremendous distance from their fellows, with not the remotest chance of rescue except by the thousandth chance of some other wandering ship happening to stumble into the same corner of the universe, borne down by the grisly loneliness and unpeppering monotony of their lot, battling cold and endless gales, those unbeatable beings carried on and carried on. And then rescue came and what about it? Nothing at all about it. Just a paragraph or two in the home town paper.
 When one thinks of the immense furor over the Byrd expedition, with its thousand and one safeguards and comforts, its hundreds of printed columns and its strident ballyhoo, and then thinks of such stories as this of the Trinity's crew, one wonders. And wonders.

GET NAMES IN PRINT

One of the multiple items of federal expenditure that go to make up the total budget for which we are about to be taxed in thirty or forty new directions is the printing of the Congressional Record.

In the Record for April 1 appears this item of information among the proceedings of the Senate:
 Mr. Barkley. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to have printed in the record and appropriately referred two communications in the nature of petitions from Kentucky with reference to the prohibition law.

RICH MAN'S BURDEN

Revelations concerning the rather extensive use of so-called radium waters, following the death of Eben M. Byers, well known golfer and society man, carry a somewhat ironic quality with them. Just as old-fashioned gout was supposed to be a rich man's disorder because it was usually induced by the drinking of a great deal of expensive port, so the privilege of being destroyed by radium poison through the absorption of these "waters" has been confined to a class of people who felt that they could afford to buy a very exclusive remedy at a very high price. There is very little doubt that in some cases the user was prompted to take the treatment by the intriguing fact that its presumably active ingredient was the most costly substance in the world. Perhaps some of the biters at this fancy bait went broke just in time to save them from the fatal effects of having more money than they could wisely use.

JUDGE ARNOTT

It is a very sad message that brings today the news of the sudden death of Judge Alexander Arnett in Florida. A product of Manchester's schools and workshops, a development of his own bright intellect and worthy ambition, an honor to the legal profession, he was the type of man that a community loves for his own innate friendliness and warmth of heart. His unexpected death comes like the sudden going out of a kindly light and will leave many of us, here in Manchester, a little bewildered as well as shocked.

IN NEW YORK

NOTES ON THE WEASEL BUSINESS

What'll You Have?
 New York, April 5.—It has been breezed about for many a year that you can find just about anything you might wish, however old or unique, in New York.
 Instance, suppose you wanted a weasel! What would you want a weasel for? You'd be surprised! To get rid of mice and rats, of course. In lower New York there is a firm that has been renting out weasels these many years. A weasel is what you don't happen to know it, it is a natural enemy of any rodent. All you have to do is turn one of the long, contortile animals loose in a building and the weasel will go down drain pipes and through rat holes until the last pest has been conquered.
 One merely goes into the store and rents many weasels at so much per night. Then the weasel keeper goes to the top floor of a building with a little cage, lets loose his hunters and then waits downstairs until they've gone through the buildings and call it a night. In case one of the animals fails to show up, there's a way of detecting its whereabouts. A tiny bell is attached and the sleuthing is merely a matter of keeping an ear open.
 The weasels have all been trained to return, and this in itself is quite a job. But since this strange business has been going on for some 25 years or more, there's quite a family now.

BUCK-PASSING

Speaker Garner says that "If the President will send up here a message telling us what he has in mind we will pass the bills. We already have the machinery set up and greased, so it won't be much trouble to do the thing he wants done—if he would just let us know what that is."
 This in reply to the President's special economy measure asking for a joint commission composed of members of the Senate, House and the executive branch of the government, to evolve a plan or reorganization so as to save $200,000,000 or more to help balance the budget.

Flowers For Rent

In Eighth street, near Washington Square (Greenwich Village) there's a little basement flower shop where plants are purchased not for weddings, funerals, birthdays and such—but for commercial artists.
 Rarely are they sold. They are rented. The shop-keeper leased some years ago that artists in the Village zone go sleuthing about for certain flowers to be used in still life paintings or sketches. The artist rarely wanted to keep them for long, so the plants are rented out by the day and collected afterward, to be used all over again. All the store-keeper has to do is learn the artist's tastes and keep the plants growing.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON WITH RODNEY DUTCHEE

By RODNEY DUTCHEE
 NEA Service Writer

Washington.—Day by day in every way, the pretense that there is any fundamental difference between the two major parties becomes funnier and funnier.
 As a Democrat the difference and he will quote you the increase in unemployment and bank failures and the decreases in foreign trade, car loadings, commodity prices, federal revenue, stock prices and pig iron production during the Hoover administration.
 As a Republican and he, beating his breast, will point to the glorious achievements of Herbert Hoover, explaining how, if any other man had been at the helm to steer the Ship of State, the crash would have been complete and savage hordes of Bolsheviks would be overrunning the land, burning down the White House, trampling on the tracks and uprooting all the other grand old American institutions.

Other "Differences"

In case you are so ungrateful as to be satisfied with such explanations, you may, if you persist, extract further illumination.
 Any Democrat, if pressed, will hark back to the days of Thomas Jefferson and Alexander Hamilton. Citing the records of those two statesmen, he will invoke the shade of Jefferson to demonstrate that the Democrats are the party of the people and will probe by the past performances of Mr. Hamilton that the Republicans are the party of special privilege and big corporate interests.
 Any Republican will assert that the really fundamental cleavage between the parties is to be found in the fact that Abraham Lincoln split rails, served as president during the Civil War, freed the slaves and died a martyr.
 By way of invidious comparison,

upper Forties, there's a gent who invents and manufactures all sorts of stage slap-stick instruments. FATTY ARBUCKLE ENGAGED

Hollywood, April 5.—(AP)—The engagement to Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle, former film comedian, and Addie McPhail, screen actress, is announced.
 They plan to marry "as soon as it is legally possible." Mrs. McPhail's divorce from Lindsay McPhail, songwriter, becomes final June 12. Arbuckle's former wife, Doris Deane, recently married Elmer S. Hartz, banker of Beverly Hills.

SAVES 500 BIRDS

Denver, Colo.—Some bird society ought to reward Nick Perschelt, who lives on a ranch near Welby. During a recent cold snap 500 blue-birds were caught without protection. Nick came upon these birds prostrate with cold. He gathered them up, placed them in a barrel in his warm barn and, when the weather warmed up, liberated them one by one. All survived the near-freezing.

A BOOK A DAY FINDS YOUTH IS STILL FLAMING

"The Aspirin Age" Traces a Girl's Wild Doings on the Edge of the Underworld
 Tony Huston was one of the star performers at the ritzy New York finishing school. She got along all right until, playing hockey one day, she renewed an acquaintance with a romantic-looking civil engineer whom she had met on a ranch. From that point on it was just too bad.
 Tony did manage to graduate, but she started kicking up her heels immediately thereafter. Her best chum married a gangster, Tony herself lost her head, heart and reputation to the civil engineer, her guardian disowned her, she spent several days in a home for fallen women, the tabloids featured her when she tried to commit suicide, and she finally decided to go on the stage.
 This is just a hint of what is contained in "The Aspirin Age," a gasty and rather startling novel by Tiah Devitt.
 Flaming youth, apparently, hasn't cooled off a bit, and the young buds in the finishing schools nourish strange and alarming ideas. If this author has described things correctly, the world just isn't safe for girls—or with them; I'm not sure which.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

(Facial Rejuvenation)
 Question: Lula asks: "Will you kindly tell me what you think of facial rejuvenation without surgery? This treatment consists of sunlight and violet ray, also lotion. The skin under the eyes is very loose and flabby and wrinkles are forming. Also, do you think these treatments will be kept up or are they permanent?"
 Answer: Treatments with the ultra-violet ray, skin lotions, hot and cold applications and massage are all helpful in bringing about a good circulation to the skin and assist in rejuvenating the facial muscles and tissues. It may be necessary to take some of these treatments occasionally, and it is worth while if you can afford them. Although beauty goes deeper than the skin, most people are happier if their skin is easy to look at. Don't forget that in achieving beauty a great deal can be done through developing internal cleanliness, principally through diet and colon hygiene.

(Preventing Tuberculosis)

Question: Mr. Leo T. asks: "If a man has tuberculosis, please tell me how the tubercle can avoid contracting it."
 Answer: It is, of course, possible for the wife to contract tuberculosis from her husband, but this does not frequently occur and is not likely to take place if she guards her health carefully and avoids becoming over-tired. It is definitely claimed that tuberculosis cannot be contracted by

RACKETEER FREED

New York, April 5.—(AP)—Owney Madden, called a Broadway racket boss, has beaten a drive to put him back in Sing Sing, but the state plans an appeal.
 Supreme Court Justice Lewis yesterday upheld a writ of habeas corpus for Madden, released from prison years ago after serving a term for manslaughter. He held Madden was not a pariah violator. The judge hit the state's plea that common gossip branded Madden as a beer racketeer. He said it was an attempt to "convict him under color of law for wrongs which cannot be brought home to him by competent evidence."

Gearing Production Wheels To Stable Population Gives Farm And Industry Problem

Washington.—(AP)—A rapidly declining birth-rate may be of scant concern now to the average producer or consumer struggling to keep out of the red but it has become a real problem for several economists.
 With over-production already diagnosed as a world malady, something must be done within the next quarter of a century, these economists assert, to gear agricultural and industrial production to a prospectively stable or declining population.
 In northwestern Europe, where most of our agricultural exports and a large share of the industrial exports go, as well as in the United States, the birth-rate has been declining for 30 years.
 It is clear, says Dr. Oliver E. Baker, economist of the department of agriculture, that American farmers cannot depend on continuous expansion of the northern European market.
 In addition to a declining birth-rate, agricultural technique is advancing in northern Europe as it is in North America, Dr. Baker says. In northwestern Europe the acre-yields of some of the crops are twice as high as in the United States.
 Likewise it is apparent that economists say, that the market in Europe for American manufactures cannot be greatly increased. Industrial technique also is advancing there, and post-war American opportunities are lessening as the continental nations become more and more committed to the policy of fostering and protecting domestic industries.
 Intensification of this nationalistic spirit and the desire for security with respect to the food supply has brought a wave of tariff enactments and other trade restriction measures.
 Dr. Robert R. Kuczynski, of the Brookings Institution, whose survey of the falling birth-rate in northwestern Europe shows "that these populations are doomed to die out unless fertility rises," says there is not a single industry in the United States that does not operate on the assumption of an increasing population.
 Consequently a stable or declining population, Dr. Kuczynski says, will severely hit any American industry that falls to adjust its production and distribution to meet such a situation.
 While science may create new consumer demands like that of the automobile, he believes that business in the United States will have to accommodate itself to a more or less stabilized consumption as elsewhere, notably France, have done.

Interest In Detroit Air Show Focused On Aerial 'Leviathan'

Detroit.—(AP)—As in the motor world, so in the aviation world, the dominating question of early 1932 is "What has Ford got?"
 The national aircraft show, to be held April 2-10 in Detroit, will bring an answer to the flying fraternity in the form of a new aerial leviathan.
 For three years Ford has been engaged in the development of a monster transport plane, for the most part shrouding the product in secrecy. Little will be known until the show opens, but it is understood that a multi-motored ship capable of carrying more passengers than any other American plane will be introduced.
 Further, it has been learned that the ship will be provided with berths for use by night travelers. As far back as a year ago, the plane was understood to be under development as a 38-place vehicle—but changes may have been made since that time. This plane will add significance to the air transport theme of the 1932 show which, more than ever will be dedicated to selling the idea of increased use of aviation by the public for passenger travel, mail and express.

James Lavin of Chicago, Ill., was the guest on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schrier of West street. Burpee Woman's Relief Corps will meet Wednesday night in G. A. R. hall. Following the meeting there will be a birthday social. The Neighborhood Club of Vernon will meet with Mrs. Lewis Skinner of the Ogden Corner school on Thursday afternoon at 2:30. St. Helen's Society will hold a public whist in St. Joseph's school hall on Thursday night. Austria has abolished all books in favor of war.

TOO MUCH WATER IN COTTON BALES

British Spinners Claim They Are Losing Millions Yearly Because of It.

Manchester, England—April 5.—(AP)—Too much water is blamed in some quarters here as one of the factors responsible for the decreased import and use of American cotton in recent years by British spinners. The moisture content in various cottons received has become a matter of great importance in cotton circles and at a special conference of the International Federation of Master Cotton Spinners' Associations recently in London was the chief topic of a closed session. For some time scientific, but unofficial tests have been conducted in research laboratories, in spinning mills and at ports of entry, both in Britain and on the Continent. The problem came to a climax first in the Egyptian market. As far back as last September a resolution was adopted making 8 1/2 per cent the standard degree of humidity which cotton should contain. Tolerance of four-tenths of one per cent up or down from the standard was the limit permitted. Over 9 Per Cent Conclusions tabled at the London conference, it is reported here, indicated that American cotton had been received by spinners with a moisture content in excess of 9 per cent. For many years British spinners accepted a level of moisture content of 8 per cent on the gross bale weight as the maximum. During spinning this evaporates, due to high temperatures in the mills. In the first seven months of this season, 740,209 bales of American cotton were imported into Great Britain, while the total import of all types of cotton reached around 1,443,809. Calculated on average prices, the spinners contend that they are losing more than £1,000,000 (currently about $3,700,000) a year by paying for water in place of raw cotton. Since the formation of the Lancashire Cotton Corporation and certain other combine groups, all are attempting to control raw material purchases and the subject of excess moisture is being investigated. The trouble is believed to be the effect on the growth of midlews from cotton held too long in stock, rather than the deliberate introduction of excess moisture. JOEL M. NICHOLS HEADS NORTH END IMPROVERS New Organization Will Ask Chamber Group To Back Branch Post Office. Captain Joel M. Nichols was selected as president of the Manchester Improvement Association at its organization meeting last night at the center house, Main and Hilliard street. His name was presented by Matthew Merz, who was at first nominated, but withdrew. Edward J. Murphy acted as chairman of the meeting. A set of by-laws, following the by-laws of the Improvement Association of several years ago, which were drawn by the late Charles I. Balch, was adopted. Clarence Wilson was selected as vice-president and the other officers are: Secretary, Karl Keller; treasurer, Matthew Merz; executive committee, Charles Burr, Michael Coughlin, William Robertson, Scott Simon, Aldo Pagani, E. J. Murphy and William Foulds, Jr. The dues for the organization members were fixed at $1 and the organization has for its purpose the betterment of the north section of Manchester. The matter of retaining a post office at the north end was discussed and on recommendation of E. J. Murphy it was decided not to raise a committee in the Improvement Association but to ask the post office committee of the Chamber of Commerce to take the matter to Washington. Mr. Murphy told the meeting that he had been assured by the members of that body that they would gladly act in an effort to secure proper mail facilities at the north end, such as was given in East Hartford and West Hartford, both of these offices, he pointed out, coming under the direction of the postmaster at Hartford. The meeting voted to empower the chair to name members of the organization to meet the post office committee of the Chamber of Commerce. The matter of the change in the bus route through Hilliardville was brought to the attention of the meeting as was also the matter of crowding of the croststown and Manchester Green buses. The president was authorized to name a committee to investigate these two matters. It will report back to another meeting to be held in two weeks. TO TEACH CARPET WORK Under the personal supervision of Director J. G. Echmanian the Manchester State Trade school will start an extension textile course in carpet making for selective employees at the Bigelow-Sanford Company plant in Thompsonville next fall. The idea is to provide a thorough course in the fundamental principles of carpet making. This will include a study of classification of fibers, kinds of wool used in carpet making, raa manufacturing process, theory of carpet weaving and a thorough study of the various kinds of rugs and carpets on the market today.

CHIMES CLUB RAIDED New York, April 5.—(AP)—Federal prohibition agents raiding the Chimes Club last night departed from their usual perfunctory procedure to fingerprint the employees. Moreover, the agents announced that eight persons arrested were to be taken before the New York City police lineup. The raiding party was led by Special Agent Kennedy, assigned from Washington. Fingerprinting was taken along and used after more than 50 couples had been sent away from the club. Neither the fingerprinting nor the decision to take the suspects before the police lineup were explained. Agent Kennedy was not successful in an attempt at a third unusual proceeding. He wanted to hold the suspects without bail. The raid was made under the section of the Revenue Act which permits the government to dismantle. TRIBUTE TO SOUSA Cleveland, April 5.—(AP)—A dramatic tribute to the late John Philip Sousa was given here last night when 5,000 members of the Music Supervisors National Conference stood while a 600-piece band played his immortal "Stars and Stripes Forever." An added touch was given the tribute by the leadership of Capt. Taylor Branson, Sousa's successor as director of the United States Marine Band at Washington. Students from 50 Ohio high schools comprised the special conference band which made the Cleveland public auditorium reverberate with music.

FISH AND GAME CLUB PROTESTS SHELLS TAX

Opposition to House Resolution, No. 10694, was expressed last week by the members of the Manchester Fish and Game Club and telegrams protesting the proposed tax of one cent per shell were sent Senators Frederic C. Walcott and Hiram Bingham. The telegrams, backed by membership of the local sporting club of over 600 stated that the bill would bring a hardship on club members and would be detrimental to the state's industries connected with the manufacture of firearms and ammunition. The bill proposes to tax shells to assist in the propagation of migratory birds, large numbers of which died last year as a result of the drought. KILLED BY AUTO Erie, Pa., April 5.—(AP)—Mrs. Josephine Trembley, 56, of Holyoke, Mass., was killed yesterday when struck by an automobile as she stepped from a trolley. Helen R. Chase, who have been visiting friends in Waterbury, accompanied him. Adam Backus of Wapping has been very ill at his home with kidney.

THEATERS AT THE STATE

"Alias the Doctor" Richard Barthelmess in "Alias the Doctor" completes a three day engagement at the State today. Barthelmess has an excellent cast in his support, headed by Marian Marsh who has the leading feminine role. The new program Wednesday and Thursday brings Will Rogers in his latest production, "Business and Pleasure." As usual the droll humorist holds the center of the picture, and his inimitable style of comedy will keep any audience in stitches of laughter. Rogers is seen as a keen razor blade salesman from the center belt. He lands in Arabia and his efforts to interest the natives of that country in the new mode of shaving provide a setting for one of the funniest screen comedies seen in some time. Business bends him badly, but pleasure breaks him wide open. Don't miss this opus of fun. Hank Keene, the celebrated radio star, and his Connecticut Hill Billies, will be seen at the State in broadcast on Wednesday and Thursday, afternoon and evening, as an extra added attraction. Mr. Keene and his band of music purveyors started their broadcasting career about two years ago, and almost instantly became one of the radio's greatest favorites. This organization holds the distinction of having received the greatest amount of fan mail of any of the artists that ever broadcast from station WTIC. Local fans may now have an opportunity of seeing Hank and his entire group of entertainers in person. The stage setting depicts the interior of a broadcasting station, and Hank puts on a program just exactly as those that are sent over the ether waves nightly. He even has a broadcasting equipment on the stage and several of the numbers are sent to the audience over the microphones. Local radio amateurs have an opportunity to receive an audition during Hank's engagement at the State. Those wishing an audition will have a chance to go on the stage with Hank and his band, direct the audience. The audience will select the best performer each night and the winner will have an opportunity to appear with Hank and his boys during an actual broadcast from station WTIC. Those who wish to take part in the audition may do so by presenting themselves at the State on Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock and making arrangements for the broadcasting will be made at that time. Mr. Keene announces that he will present a souvenir picture of the Hill Billies to all attending the Wednesday and Thursday matinee. FIVE FIREMEN HURT Stamford, April 5.—(AP)—Five firemen were injured, one seriously when an engine on which they were riding to a small fire here early this morning, sidwiped a telephone pole as the driver tried to avert a collision at an intersection. The intersection is governed by a traffic light, which it is admitted by the driver of the fire truck to have been set against the fire apparatus at the time of the accident. The most seriously injured of the firemen is Thomas Meahan of No. 2 Company, who was hurled 15 feet through the closed door of a store and sustained a fractured skull and internal injuries. He is not expected to live. SILK MILLS BUSY Willimantic, April 5.—(AP)—Several of the manufacturing plants here are increasing their working schedules indicative of an increasing demand for goods. The silk and velvet mills are making the quickest response to seasonal demands.

COOK ELECTRICALLY

and save time for other things The electric range is one of the greatest time savers that electrical service brings to the farm home. It turns itself on and off, automatically, at exactly the time you have set. You needn't spend a minute in watching it—a wonderful saving of time for other things. Its automatic temperature control does away with all the old uncertainty of baking and roasting. Canning work is greatly simplified and a real pleasure—with an electric range. Think about it in terms of economy—economy of labor and time and cost. A salesman will be glad to call and give you the details without obligation!

COLUMBIA

The Young Married Women's Club met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Robert Cobb. Mrs. Irving Lohr went to New York Thursday on business. She made the trip in her car, accompanied by Mrs. Hise, who has been spending a month with Mrs. Lohr. Relatives in town have received word of the death of Mrs. Gelon Russell in Rockyford, Col. Mr. Randall himself is suffering from a gunshot wound. While rabbit hunting his gun accidentally went off, wounding him in the heel. Mr. and Mrs. Chester Winsor, Miss Helen Winsor, and Lauriston Winsor of Johnston, R. I., spent part of Sunday at the home of Mrs. Winsor's sister, Mrs. Clayton Hunt. Mr. and Mrs. George Pinckney, and Mr. and Mrs. Duxbury of New Haven called Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. Pinckney's sister, Mrs. Howard Rice. Miss Anne Dix returned Saturday afternoon after a week spent in Montclair, N. J., at the home of her sister, Mrs. Newton Fallor. She was accompanied by her little niece, Betty and Dorothy Fallor, who will spend a week in Columbia. Next Wednesday evening will be Neighbors' Night at the local Grange, and Hebron and Andover Granges will be present and furnish the program. Next Wednesday there will be an all day meeting of East Central Pomona Grange held with the Manchester Grange. It is expected that some of the Pomona members of the local Grange will attend this session. The three-act play, "Fickle Fortune," given recently by the Columbia Athletic Association in the Town Hall here, will be repeated in Lebanon on April 13 under the auspices of the Lebanon ball team. The annual meeting of the Columbia Burying Ground Association was held at Yeomans hall April 2. The following officers were elected: President, E. P. Lyman; vice-president, William M. Wolf; secretary and treasurer, C. F. Hunt; finance

CONGRESS STUDIES REPORT ON HAWAII

Washington, April 5.—(AP)—Congress scanned closely today the recommendations of Assistant Attorney General Seth W. Richardson for correcting law enforcement conditions in Hawaii, which he termed an invitation to the commission of crime.

Richardson's report on crime and law enforcement on the islands was submitted to the Senate yesterday, just as the Fortescue case which inspired the request for his investigation, was coming to trial in Honolulu.

The justice official advocated assumption of closer responsibility for law and order by the Federal government through placing appointment of high officials in the hands of the President, increasing the power of the Hawaii governor (a presidential appointee) to remove officials under him; and reorganizing the court system.

Senator Bingham (R., Conn.), chairman of the Senate insular affairs committee, introduced seven bills to carry out the recommendations praised the report, but said he did not agree with all the conclusions.

In the House, Chairman Sumners of the Judiciary committee disapproved tentatively of the recommendations on the theory that any capacity of a people for self government should be encouraged.

NEW THRIFT PROGRAM Halifax, N. S., April 5.—(AP)—Designed to promote thrift and create a source of credit among farmers, fishermen and other groups, a bill to provide for the organization, operation and supervision of cooperative savings and credit unions was introduced in the Nova Scotia Legislature last night by Premier Harrison.

Separate unions would be created throughout the province, under the management of a board of directors, a credit committee having supervisory control over all loans to members and a supervisory committee having power to conduct audits. Membership in the unions would include the farmers and such others as might be elected, who subscribed for a share and paid the initial installment. Credit of the union organization would be limited to groups having a common bond of occupation or association or within a well-defined neighborhood, capital to consist of payments and subscriptions of the several members, and loans to be limited to members.

GARDEN DISPLAYS CREATE INTEREST

Hartford, April 5.—(AP)—Members of Garden clubs throughout the State have been watching with interest the judging of displays in the garden clubs section of the National Flower and Garden Show now in progress here. The feature exhibit which was a formal arrangement against a wall, with drip fountain, was staged by the Connecticut Valley Garden club of Hartford.

HOOVER TO VETO PHILIPPINE BILL

House Votes To Free Islands But Stimson Sees Peril In Action.

Washington, April 5.—(AP)—A veto apparently waits at the White House of legislation to grant independence to the Philippines. By an astonishing margin, 300 to 47, the House Bill under which independence would come after eight or ten years passed the House yesterday. Later this session this bill or a substitute for it will be taken up in the Senate, with fair chances of passage.

The House action followed reading of a letter from Secretary Stimson which turning loose the islands was condemned strongly. It preceded a jaunt: "just giving President Hoover something else to veto" uttered by Secretary Hurley.

COMES AS SURPRISE Manila, P. I., April 5.—(AP)—Filipinos were slightly taken back today by their first decisive victory in the thirty years long fight for independence—passage of the Hare Bill by the U. S. House of Representatives. They had though expected jubilation and some forecast a similar victory in the U. S. Senate.

Manuel Quezon, president of the Philippine Senate cabled congratulations to Filipino leaders of the fight in Washington.

Coupled with jubilation over the forward stride toward a grant of future independence, was the soberness with which Filipinos received Secretary of State Stimson's letter pointing to the international implications involved.

Dangerous Position Sheltered for centuries by some powerful nation the islanders failed to realize their vulnerable position until it was brought home by the neighbors of the recent Sino-Japanese fighting.

A member of the Filipino Legislature who is one of the chief political figures of the islands was jubilant over the news of passage of the Hare bill, but cautioned in predicting a speedy action of the Senate and the President.

John R. Wilson, secretary of the American Chamber of Commerce, said he did not believe the independence legislation would be completed at the present session of Congress.

The Manila Daily Bulletin, chief American paper and an opponent of immediate Philippine independence, declared that "the vote was primarily for the American independence of American freedom from competition with duty free Philippine products and Filipino labor. It was a depression vote cast by an added house on the eve of a general election when the whole country is harassed to desperation."

JAPAN'S POSITION Tokyo, April 5.—(AP)—Possession of domination of the Philippines "would be as great a liability to Japan as it has been to the United States," a government spokesman said today, commenting on Secretary of State Stimson's suggestion that withdrawal of American sovereignty would result in the domination of the islands by some foreign power, "probably either China or Japan."

The spokesman expressed the belief that the Japanese government would willingly enter into a treaty with America perpetually guaranteeing the neutrality and independence of the islands in the event they gain their freedom.

The passage of the Hare independence bill in Congress yesterday surprised official quarters here, in which Philippine independence has been regarded merely as a possibility for the distant future.

158 CONTRACTORS BID ON HIGHWAY JOBS Hartford, April 5.—(AP)—One hundred and fifty-eight contractors, engineers and bondmen jammed the hall of the House in the Capitol yesterday afternoon to bid on eight small state highway department contracts. It was the largest crowd ever to attend a State bidding project.

The low bidders were: White Oak Excavating Company, Inc., New Britain, $18,988.86 for 5,943 feet water-bound macadam highway in Ashford.

OPEN FORUM DEFEND THE REC Editor, The Herald: Members of the town—choose whether you will be wise, long-viewed or short-sighted in your economy. For every act of folly is costly.

As members of the gym and swimming classes at the Rec we sincerely hope the townpeople will think the matter of closing the Rec over seriously before voting at the Town Meeting Wednesday night.

It is better that idle women stand and gloom meet gloom? Or is it wiser to leave open the Recreation Center where the unemployed and their families may come for amusement, where they can know activity that brings at least a measure of happiness and health, where there is good comradeship and cheer?

Next year ago today we were among the many who did not realize the advantages of the Recs that were ours for the taking. A year which has meant joy and pleasure for all who participated in any Rec activity.

Did you see the exhibition in Bliah's window about a month ago? Walk into the West Side Rec some Friday night and visit the Hand-craft class. Mothers especially enjoy this work.

ANNUAL CHAMBER DINNER TONIGHT

Highlight Is Address Here of U. S. Senator Hiram Bingham.

At 6:30 o'clock tonight, about 175 persons will gather at the Masonic Temple for the thirty-first annual banquet of the Chamber of Commerce, a banquet that will have as its principal speaker, U. S. Senator Hiram Bingham of Connecticut.

State Senator Robert J. Smith will be toastmaster and will introduce the various features of the program which will include selections by a quartet under the direction of G. Albert Pearson. Dinner will be served promptly at 6:30 o'clock, the main item of the menu being braised sirloin of beef. Osano will cater. It is planned to start the banquet at 8 o'clock with dancing from 10 o'clock until midnight to music furnished by Al Behrend and his orchestra.

E. J. Murphy, vice-president of the Chamber, is general chairman of the banquet.

Wall Street Briefs

New York, April 5.—There is a feeling of disappointment in investment circles that the recovery in bond prices starting last month had to be interrupted by tax legislation which was passed.

The Metropolitan transit district of Massachusetts will receive bids until April 8 for the purchase of $23,125,000 notes not less than $5,000 each.

Stockholders of the United Profit Sharing Company have approved a contract with D. A. Schulte, Inc., giving the latter a two-year option to purchase up to 50,000 shares of United Profit Sharing stock at one dollar a share.

Germany is unable to pay reparations Berlin, April 5.—(AP)—For the first time since the close of the World War the German budget for the fiscal year 1932-33, which is in the course of preparation, makes no provision for reparations payments, it was understood today.

The government is making an effort to balance national accounts at roughly 8,500,000 marks (about $2,040,000,000).

The budget will be discussed by the Reichstag in the middle of this month. The omission of reparations payments from the budget is in line with the declaration of Chancellor Heinrich Brüning that Germany is unable to pay them.

Chancellor Brüning sent a letter early this year to the British ambassador in which he stated that Germany no longer was able to pay reparations, and later this was supplemented with an explanation that it was not a case of not wanting to pay but that the Reich was without capacity to meet reparations payments.

PLANE EXPERT DIES Irvington, N. Y., April 5.—(AP)—Matthew Bacon Sellers, Jr., assistant Secretary of the Navy under Josephus Daniels in World War time, died at his home in Ardsley Park today. He was an outstanding authority on aeronautics and one of the sponsors of the naval air service.

He was 63 years old. Death came from a heart attack. He is survived by his widow, and two sons.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

New "Somniah's" Issued The third issue of Somniah's was circulated throughout the high school yesterday and although it was not as unique an issue as the preceding copy its flashy cover and clever short stories were very well done. The table of contents is as follows: "This Depression," G. Rich '32; "The Gray Marauder," Gerald Chappell, '32; "The Rimebecco" Dolores Trotter '33; "As Time Goes By," Florence Donohue '32; "A Miner's Life," A. Lenge '32; "The Wanted a God," Bella Silverstine '32; "The Growth of Education in Connecticut," Emily Palmer, '34; "The Charter Oak," Edwina Elliott, '32; "Carl Sandburg, Poet," '32. Book Reviews: "The Story of San Michele," Ruth Hale '32; "Indian Summer," Phyllis Kratchman '32; "A Legend in Her Hair," Emily Andrews '33; "Grand Hotel," Florence Donohue, '32. Following these reviews and short stories were athletic summaries, exchanges, "This 'N' That," jokes, cartoons, and advertisements.

The headings of the series were designed by members of the art department were the same in line and ink drawings which were used for the first issue of the year. In the "Exchange" column it was especially interesting to note the criticisms which other high school magazines have made about Somniah's.

The "Glen-Nor Crier" says: "In 'Somniah's' of South Manchester, Conn., we see a unique idea in the cartoon page. These cartoons are very original worked out by the local artists. Another decided addition to this magazine is a group of cleverly written interviews with famous people. Several poetry pages appear here also, quite adding the finishing touches to an extremely modern publication."

Managers and Asst. Elected At a meeting of the Student Council yesterday afternoon the following managers and assistant managers were elected for next year: Asst. Mgr. for soccer, Hallet Stiles and Fred England; Asst. Mgr. baseball, W. Smith and John Sullivan; Asst. Mgr. for track, Ted Owers, Clifford Trent and Arthur Eadie; Asst. Mgr. for football, R. Andisio and W. Dionne; Asst. Mgrs. for basketball, Collins Johnson and Eddie Rowe. The managers for basketball is to be Merrill Rubinow '33 and the manager for swimming will be Francis Della Fera, also of '33.

The Kiwanis Foster Awards. The Art classes have been working for the past week or so on posters advertising the annual Kiwanis Minstrel which is to be presented at the high school hall the twelfth of April.

The posters were all so cleverly done! Says Mrs. Quimby, "that the Kiwanis members had a hard time agreeing on any certain one. The majority, however preferred, Ambrose Pratt's which was the only one which really carried out the significance of the minstrel. The poster depicted two colored firemen spraying each other with water from the fire hose thus bringing out the significance of 'dark town firemen'. The following students, will, however, because of the judges having a hard time to decide on any one winner, be awarded tickets to see the show: Pearl Martin, Eddie Warner, Betty Quimby, Mildred Prentice, Kenneth Rogers, Doris Mohr, Ambrose Pratt, Eddie Fischer, Otis Kerr, Theodore Wright, Bessie Quinn, Eleanor Hobby, Jimmy Egan, Dorothy Gess, Eleanor Prentice, Paul Aceto and Charles Kascalauska.

A number of students of the English classes have made reservations for tickets in order that they may see the Shakespearean plays "Julius Caesar" and "Hamlet", which are to be presented at the Hartford public high school Wednesday of this week.

There is also to be a group, accompanied by Miss Eugenia Walsh, teacher of French, which will go to see a French play at the Rivoli Theater on Wednesday.

The rehearsals for the Sock and Buskin play "Bab" are reported as coming along splendidly. The scenery is to be new for this play and the production staff has been at work for about a week now. The publicity committee (Betty Quimby, Eleanor Davies) has seen that posters etc. have been tacked up around school and the business managers are carrying on by their sale of tickets, they report.

All in all it certainly looks as though the play would be a grand success and considering the work that is being put into it, it certainly should be.

BRITISH SELECT WALKER CUP TEAM

Torrance, Bookless, Burke, Crawley, Hartley Brothers Included.

St. Andrews, Scotland, April 5.—(AP)—The Royal and Ancient Club of St. Andrews today announced the makeup of the Walker Cup golf team which will invade the United States this year to play Francis Ouimet's American squad.

The team is headed by T. A. Torrance, who is expected to be named Captain, J. T. Bookless, John Burke, the Irish champion, Leonard Crawley, Lister Hartley, Rex Hartley, Eric McRivie, and J. A. Stout.

One of the surprises was the omission of Roger Wethered, former amateur champion, who had been mentioned as a probable captain of the team. E. Martin Smith, present amateur title holder also was not named.

The Walker Cup series was inaugurated in 1922 at the National Links, Long Island. It has been contested six times with the United States victorious in all of them. No place or date has been set for the matches this year and aside from the selection of Ouimet as captain the United States team has not been selected.

Five of the British team of eight are newcomers to Walker cup play, only Rex Hartley, Stout and Torrance having played on previous teams.

In experience the two teams will not be dissimilar as the United States squad probably will be composed largely of youngsters.

The last American squad, headed by Robert T. Jones, Jr., now retired, was composed of George Van Elm, the present "business manager," George Voigt, Harrison R. (Jimmy) Johnston, Dr. O. F. Willin, Donald Moe and Roland MacKenzie. It would be a surprise to see more than one or two of these, in addition to Ouimet, named for the American squad.

Among the American possibilities are Billy Howell, of Richmond, Va.; Gus McLand, of Dallas, Jack Westland, of Chicago, runner-up to Ouimet, Paul Jackson, of Kansas City, George T. Dunlap, Jr., and Maurice McCarthy, of New York. None of these has played on a Walker Cup team.

COACH'S FATHER DIES Plymouth, April 5.—(AP)—Peter Lawson, 77, father of Charles (Chick) Lawson, wrestling coach at Taft school, Watertown, former world professional flyweight wrestling champion, died last night of pneumonia. He was a native of Sweden, settled in Bridgeport in 1881 and afterward lived in Naugatuck.

TO PROBE COLLISION New London, April 5.—(AP)—A board of investigation from Section Base 4 of the Coast Guard will make a formal inquiry into the cause of the collision between the patrol boats CG-832 and CG-400, which collided Sunday night while pursuing a speedboat suspected of being a rum-runner near the Race of Long Island Sound off this port.

The Coast Guard 400 today was on the ways at the shipyard of the Electric Boat Company pending a survey of damages by Coast Guard officers. The stem of the 400 was smashed and planking forward was torn away so that the water-tight bulkhead showed.

The 832 was beached following the collision and was floated yesterday and a temporary patch placed. The engines were removed and will be overhauled while permanent repairs are made to the hull which was extensively damaged on the starboard side near the pilot house.

Today and TOMORROW THE BEAUTIFUL NEW FORD WILL BE DISPLAYED See It and Get Full Details at Our Showrooms. You will be pleased with the small payment terms. The service is prompt. The cost is reasonable. More and more native families daily express their preference for Personal Finance service. You will too, if you will just phone, write or call in person.

the MAN HUNTERS BY MABEL McELLIOTT

BEGIN HERE TODAY SUSAN CAREY, an orphan, lives with her AUNT JESSIE on Chicago's west side and studies stenography at a downtown business school. She goes to lunch one day with ROBERT DUNBAR, millionaire's son who is learning business methods at the same school. Dunbar is handsome and amusing and Susan likes him. BEN LAMPMAN, a moody young musician, takes her to the movies one night and quarrels with her. She resolves not to see him again. Seeking a job, Susan has an unpleasant experience with a would-be employer but is comforted when she confides her troubles to young Dunbar.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER VI There was no denying that Susan was in the black books of that autocrat, Mr. Claude Block. The owner and president of Chicago's "most modern school of business" had not deigned to notice the girl since she had the unfortunate afternoon when she had fainted in the unwelcome attentions of the loathsome manager of the Melo Iron Manufacturing Company. Susan felt decidedly aggrieved. It was certainly not fair of Mr. Block to behave as though she had fainted been hers. Decidedly it had not been Mr. Block who had accustomed, as he so often and tiresomely said, to having his pupils "stand and deliver." He chose to ignore the fact that Peterman had been the cause of what had happened. In his mind, Peterman was a prospective employer only. Mr. Block implied that the fault must have been Susan's.

So she sat, forlorn and ignored, while other less promising young women were dispatched to answer calls for stenographers. The day came, however, when Susan was the only logical candidate in the advanced class. Mr. Block, frowning intently, summoned her and said in a cold, remote voice, "Ernest Heath, the architect, wants a temporary secretary. Go over there and see what you can do."

His biting tone suggested that Susan could do nothing at all and she flushed at the implication. However, as she took the card bearing the address and turned to go, Mr. Block relented and called after her, "Good luck to you."

Susan, surprised, stammered her thanks and fled. She was relieved to find that the office she sought was on the twelfth floor of a new and shining building. The marble corridors and glittering elevators seemed to her fitting surroundings for the world of great affairs she hoped to enter. "Mr. Heath?" Her own voice sounded much too loud to Susan in the cubbyhole of the outer office. Her feet sank into the dove grey carpet. The walnut desk bore a blue blotter and smoke colored curtains hung at windows framing a view of the lake.

A spare, smartly dressed man of about 45 stood in the doorway of a large, brightly lighted room bearing the word "Private" on the door. He eyed Susan appraisingly and nodded. "Come in. Sit down. Hi, Peterson!" he called to someone unseen. "Bring a notebook and let Miss Carey—try her hand at dictation."

A colorless young man with a bookkeeper's green eyeshade disfiguring his brow came in and put down a book and some freshly sharpened pencils. Susan stiffened herself. The ordeal was about to begin. When Heath had finished rapping out in crisp phrases several highly technical paragraphs in which the words "studding" and "fenestration" recurred, Susan was shown to a typewriter, given paper and carbon sheets, and told to "go ahead."

She thought Mr. Heath rather terrifying but on the whole kindly, and then forgot about him entirely by during the absorbed 15 minutes in which she transcribed her difficult notes. She hoped no one was watching her as she destroyed one virgin sheet and began another. Looking up suddenly, she was annoyed to see the moody young man of the eye-shade gazing at her curiously from the high stool on which he perched behind a partition. Strangely enough, this surveillance put her on her mettle instead of making her more nervous and the second transcript of the letter seemed to her perfect. Modestly she braved the fastness of Mr. Heath's private office, and laid the sheet down before him. He read it once and then again without comment. Susan faltered, "It's all right, I hope."

Keen gray eyes surveyed her. A clipped voice said to her inanimate relief: "Seen to be. You'll do, I think. First girl we've had in here in a week who could spell."

Susan felt as though a crown had been bestowed upon her. She drew a long breath. Mr. Heath went on to ask her to be there at 9 tomorrow. Twenty a week was the salary and he didn't know of course infinitely more. Susan dimpled. "I won't be able to go with Rose tonight," she explained. "That's why I stopped. I have a million things to do at home, getting ready."

Mrs. Milton clucked in sympathy, but when Susan rose to go she began to grumble a bit in good-natured fashion. "You girls, nowadays," she said. "I don't know what's got into you. When I was your age nothing on earth would have induced me to break date or pass up a bit of fun. Now you're all business women. If you please, and none of you are thinking about getting married at all. It isn't natural. Look at Rose! There's Terry Sullivan after her all the time to name the day. He has a good little business out in Oak Park. She could have a nice apartment and maybe a little car but will she? She will not, if you please, she must work up to the head of the department and get sent to Paris and I don't know what all!" Mrs. Milton sniffed.

"You're all alike," she finished plaintively. Susan patted her plump shoulder. "You don't really mind. You just like to grumble," she laughed. "You're as proud as you can be of the way Rose is getting on."

Mrs. Milton tried without success to keep up the pose of injured parent. Then her ready smile broke through. "That's true enough," she admitted. "But what I say is where does it all lead to? A woman's happiness with a home and babies of her own. You're a bit young and green to think about anything but that. She gave the word as sarcastic as intonation as her soft voice could afford. Susan giggled. She couldn't help it. Good-natured Mrs. Milton in a huff was just funny.

"You know, what's your practice?" Susan demanded, rising to go. "You wouldn't call that a social occasion, would you? No young men there to beau us around. Nobody but Mr. Higgins and he's played the organ at St. Thomas since 1901."

"What about that young man at that organ tonight, I'm telling you." Susan colored again. "I don't know what you mean," she said. Mrs. Milton permitted herself a knowing wink. "Why do you think Rose was so anxious to get you there?" she asked slyly. "I haven't the faintest idea," said Susan, tossing her head. "She said she needed another soprano, that was all."

"Run along, run along," clucked Mrs. Milton amiably, having produced the effect she desired and enjoying the crimson discomfiture of Susan's young face. "There'll be a disappointed young man at that organ tonight, I'm telling you."

Susan fled, her hostess' amiable mockery following her. "Why must it be someone she disliked who seemed interested in her?" Mrs. Milton permitted herself a knowing wink. "Why do you think Rose was so anxious to get you there?" she asked slyly. "I haven't the faintest idea," said Susan, tossing her head. "She said she needed another soprano, that was all."

U. S. LOSES LOTT FROM DAVIS CUP

Chicago Player Withdraws Owing To Pressure of Business; Severe Blow To U. S. Prospects.

Philadelphia, April 5.—(AP)—Press of personal affairs on a young Chicago business man may prove a severe blow to the United States in this year's Davis cup competition.

It probably will break up the Lott-Van Ryn combination which holds the Wimbledon doubles title and which won the Davis cup doubles against England last year.

George M. Lott made known his position yesterday in a telegram to the sports editor of a Philadelphia newspaper which said:

"I am retiring from Davis cup competition this year for business reasons."

With the ranking No. 2 player unavailable, Wilmer Allison appears to be the strongest candidate to support Van Ryn in the doubles.

The Davis cup selection committee is expected to announce late this week the names of the players who will represent this country on the challenging trail.

MAJOR LEAGUES ALMOST ON PAR

American Teams Have Won Only Few More Games Than National Clubs.

New York, April 5.—(AP)—Just stretch this spring training season for a few more weeks and the National League might pull up on even terms with the American in their inter-league series. From an impressive 650 two weeks ago, the American League's winning average against the National has shrunk to a modest .581 today based on 25 victories and 18 defeats in 43 games.

As a matter of fact had the world champion St. Louis Cards upheld their end of the National League might be in the lead. Of six contests with American League rivals the Cards won only the first.

Of the American League's 25 wins, the New York Yankees and Athletics have contributed nine each, Detroit has won four games and Boston, Washington and Cleveland one each.

The New York Giants with three wins and one defeat, and the Phillies with a record of four victories in six starts are the only National League clubs boasting an average of better than .500 against the junior circuit.

Against all major league opposition whether or not of inter or intra-league character, the Boston Red Sox and Washington Senators each have perfect records. That's not as impressive as it might sound however, for each has played only one game against a major league team. The real leaders are the New York Giants with 10 victories and four defeats.

In games of all descriptions major and minor league competition combined, Washington leads with 34 victories and one defeat. The Chicago White Sox and Cleveland Indians have won 12 and lost one each and the Boston Red Sox nine and one. The Giants lead the National League in this respect with 20 victories and eight defeats.

ROOT WILL HURL OPENER FOR CUBS

Fort Worth, Tex., April 5.—(AP)—Charlie Root will hurl the opener for the Cubs against Cincinnati April 12 with Leo "Gabby" Hartnett catching.

Manager Rogers Hornsby selected Root to start the campaign not only because he has held honor for several years but because he is in perfect condition.

The Cubs were in Fort Worth today to resume their series with Pittsburgh Pirates.

Do You Remember?

One Year Ago Today—Chuck Klein, Phillies baseball star, ended his holdout campaign in which he sought an $18,000 salary, by signing a three-year contract calling for $15,000 a season. Klein signed in Philadelphia, then quickly went to Newark where the Phillies were playing an exhibition, and got into the game as a pinch-hitter. He failed to hit.

Five Years Ago Today—George Voigt, 30-year-old Washington, D. C., amateur, won medalist golf championship at Pinehurst with a 67-68-135, which tied the course record made by Bobby Cruickshank.

Ten Years Ago Today—The executive committee of the U. S. G. A., meeting at Pine Valley Golf Club near Philadelphia, restored the stymie rule to golf and outlawed the use of steel-shafted clubs in all tournaments staged under U. S. G. A. auspices.

CENTURY MILSTEAD WINS AT WRESTLING

New Haven, April 5.—(AP)—Friends of Century Milstead, star football player for Yale a few years ago were elated today to hear of his victory in his first wrestling match which was held in Madison Square Garden last night. Milstead who weighed 210 lb. threw Antonio Peterson, 225 pounder from Denmark in 8 minutes, 27 seconds with a flying tackle.

CRISLER WATCHES TIGERS PRACTICE

New Grid Coach Gets First Glimpse of Princeton Squad; Frowns Over Size.

Princeton, N. J., April 5.—(AP)—The usually aloof Crisler looked on Fritz Crisler's face as he stood in the shadow of the Palmer Stadium and watched his Princeton football squad in uniform for the first time.

Fifty boys, large, small and medium were chasing footballs. Near Crisler stood his assistant coaches, "Ted" Wieman and Earl Martineau. There was not a man on the field in uniform to equal the size of the three brawny men who had come from Minnesota to do something radical about Princeton football.

"You can't expect the hefty and numbers that come out for football at Illinois or Minnesota," Crisler said, "but I think they are from a student body of ten or twelve thousand. Here there are only 2200 boys in the university, 600 of them freshmen."

But just the same it seemed as if Crisler on his first day of spring practice as Princeton's new head coach instinctively was looking for something that never did appear.

"It's smarter material anyway," Crisler declared. "It's better ground in fundamentals because of the higher calibre of the prep school football in the east. Of course we probably could use some big fellows next fall."

On the whole the new coach seemed as satisfied as could be expected with the squad one-tenth the numbers of candidates he could muster at Minnesota. But the spirit was high. Thirty more students are expected later in the spring.

MURRAY SEEKS TO SCALP THE BRAVES

Richmond, Va., April 5.—(AP)—The Boston Braves will feel right at home during their game with the Richmond club of the Eastern League today. It's a Manchester, N. H., boy, Bob Murray, who is running the affairs of the Richmond club and Murray is extremely anxious to put one over on his New England neighbors.

STANLEY CUP FINALS START THIS EVENING

Rangers and Maple Leafs Clash In New York In First of Five Game Series.

New York, April 5.—(AP)—The New York Rangers, National Hockey League champs, and the Toronto Maple Leafs open their series for the Stanley cup here tonight.

The cup will go to the team first winning three games in the five game series. All contests will be played to a decision with "sudden death" overtime in the event the rivals are tied at the end of the regulation three periods.

After the opening game the Rangers will take their second "home" game to Boston Thursday night since Madison Square Garden will not be available in perfect condition for the start, barring accidents. I'm not predicting any penalties but I'll admit the Giants of 1932 look good to me."

YALE OPENS SEASON TOMORROW AFTERNOON

New Haven, April 5.—(AP)—Yale will open its intercollegiate baseball season tomorrow against Columbia at 3 p. m. instead of 4 p. m., the Yale baseball management announced. John Broaca, is expected to start for Yale while Columbia will probably start Ray White.

MCGRAW SATISFIED WITH GIANTS' WORK

Carlin, Nev., April 5.—(AP)—Put down Manager John McGraw as well satisfied with his N. Y. Giants. "A whole" McGraw said as the team made it way eastward yesterday, "the Giants are in condition to open the season right now. If we get an even break from the weather from now on we will be in perfect condition for the start, barring accidents. I'm not predicting any penalties but I'll admit the Giants of 1932 look good to me."

Sexton and Eastman
Every day you pick up the paper to discover that another record has been cracked wide open. Perhaps the more remarkable among a half dozen recent performances were the feats of Leo Sexton of the New York A. C., and Ben Eastman, Stanford sprinter and middle distance man.

Sexton moved the 16-pound shot through the air 52 feet 8 3/4 inches. It was nearly two feet better than Ralph Rose's 51-foot mark which stood for 19 years. It was more than half a foot beyond John Kuck's unprecedented mark in the last Olympics, 52 feet and 11-16 inches. It was three inches better than the record of 52 feet 5 3/4 inches made by big Herman Brix of Los Angeles last year. And Sexton, in an exhibition toss, actually has made 54 feet.

High School Boys' Net Tourney in Bridgeport

The Connecticut Interscholastic championship also last year, is expected to invade Bridgeport with another strong combination of racquetmen this season.

Bridgeport High has a representative in the semi-final bracket, Barker playing spectacular tennis in the late rounds only to be eliminated by Wunder.

The girls' tennis championships will be played at Hartford May 26, 27 and 28, and in this tournament, too, all the leading schools are expected to enter teams. The dates for the tournaments were announced yesterday by Walter B. Spencer, president of the Connecticut Interscholastic Conference.

A formal statement issued by the Finnish Athletic Association last night criticized the federation for taking for what it terms constitutional action against Nurmi, but expressed willingness to investigate the great runner's standing.

Eleven Straight Strikes Made in Detroit Tourney

Detroit, April 5.—(AP)—Detroit's heavy guns will be brought into action tonight in the thirty-second annual American Bowling Congress tourney in order to place Michigan more prominently in the list of "Big Ten" leaders.

In yesterday's competition, John L. Winko, Columbus, Ohio, rolled 11 straight strikes. Only an odd number six pin which refused to fall in the final effort prevented Winko's making a perfect score of 300. A silver medal and a special prize of $299 rewarded his effort.

Winko was paired with S. Green in the doubles when the 29-year-old couple aggregated 1,221, a total which places them on the regular prize list. Jack Burke and Sam Murray of Chicago, scored 1,278 to tie for eighth place in the doubles. Burke's 585 placing him all events in that division.

NEW ENGLAND TOURNEY

There is a movement on foot to organize a New England tourney for the state of Massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island, with the winner representing these states in the National tournament, thus saving the expense of sending teams to the South.

It also claimed that during the past five years the National tournament has been held twice in Virginia and once each in Baltimore and Washington, and only once in the North. Such a move would be the death blow to the duck pin game in the South.

In the past five years the greatest number of teams taking part in a National tournament from New England held in the South was twenty-two teams, while at Waterbury alone the City of Washington sent a total of fifty teams to Baltimore and Richmond together sent close to twenty teams.

Forming a Northern tournament would not help the game if those in favor of such an organization will lock back at the number of teams which took part in the New England tourney, held at the Morgan alleys in this city a few years ago.

The prize money offered at the National tournament is taken from the entry fee taken in and with a smaller number of teams the prizes would be lower.

What would the A. B. C. tournament be today if they held sectional tournaments? The National Duck Pin Bowling Congress tournament is only five years old and with only a small section of the country taking part they have made a most remarkable tournament. The N. B. C. is showing a steady growth with an exception of this year that is caused by the deplorable fact that the state wide tourney has not been held in year due to the same condition.

In the recent National sweepstakes held at Williamsport thirty-two bowlers took part. Washington sent seven and Baltimore eight, a total of four Rhode Island sent one and Connecticut had sixteen. From the above the Southern bowlers did more than their share.

The outlook for the 1933 National tournament is very bright with the prospect of it being held in Hartford. What was the duck pin game here or in any other section of the country until it was organized in the South? In the coming tournament at the City of Waterbury that has held the National tournament is sending down only one team, Boston is sending down two teams, one of men and one of women. Lawrence and Tauntone each, Washington has entered a total of forty-eight teams.

In order to boom bowling it is better to begin at home and boost state tournaments instead of trying to freeze out an organization known as the N. B. C. who has done more for the duck pin game in five years than any other organization could do. Much credit for the wonderful growth of the duck pin game in this country should be given to George L. Iseman, Secretary of the N. B. C. and the men who are associated with him in making the game so popular. It has also been stated that all of the officers of the N. B. C. for the past five years have been men from the south with one exception.

From the above facts it is plain

FINNISH READY TO QUIZ NURMI

Will Investigate Charges Brought By International Federation.

Helsingfors, Finland, April 5.—(AP)—The Finnish Athletic Association is willing and ready to investigate the amateur status of Paavo Nurmi, although astonished at the International A. A. F.'s extraordinary if not offensive action in suspending the famous long distance runner.

A formal statement issued by the Finnish association last night criticized the federation for taking for what it terms constitutional action against Nurmi, but expressed willingness to investigate the great runner's standing.

Will Play Home Games On West Side Diamond

Local Sport Chatter

Believe it or not, the Guards and Rec haven't bothered to divvy up the $1,200 they took in during the recent tour series which was concluded several weeks ago.

By the way, the feat of the Downs in re-organizing and beating both the St. My's and Kevin Barry in Hartford doesn't speak so good for present-day basketball players. Begins to look as though the boys were a bit smarter a few seasons back.

The dawn of local baseball is near at hand. Manchester High will go out outdoors either today or tomorrow and Manchester Trade will open a week from Friday. Also, a meeting is scheduled for Friday night of this week at the Y. M. C. A. for the purpose of re-organizing the Community Twilight League.

Wonder if the Green, West Sides and Bon Ami will be represented with teams this season. They have been the leading semi-pro teams in the area for the past few years. The following items seem to indicate that the West Sides will be represented.

The West Side Club will hold its monthly meeting Thursday evening at the West Side Rec. Plans for the coming baseball season will be discussed.

The George Williams basketball team, winners of the West Side League held their victory banquet last Sunday afternoon at the home of Nick Angelo. Cliff Bissell acted as chef and served a real spaghetti and chicken dinner.

Frank Crowley To Coach Mechanics Again; Plan Series With High School; 19 Games Already Scheduled.

Manchester Trade school will play at least 19 baseball games during the coming season and possibly two others with Manchester High, it was announced today by Director J. G. Echemalian.

Frank J. Crowley will again coach the Mechanics. He had a successful season last year in this capacity and with a liberal supply of last year's talent it is probable he looks forward to a satisfactory campaign against other trade and high schools throughout the state.

The season will open next week Friday with a game in Glastonbury against Glastonbury High and the same two teams will open the local season here the following Wednesday. Manchester Trade will play its home games at the West Side playgrounds this year instead of at Mt. Nebo.

Mt. Nebo has been remodeled into an athletic field but the baseball diamond will not be ready for another season. It has been leveled off but a grass infield must be grown before the field is in a finished condition. The football field is expected to be ready in the fall.

So the Trade will alternate with the High school in the use of the West Side which means that this field will be used either for practice or for a game about every afternoon of the week. The Trade's schedule follows, all games to start at 3 p. m. unless otherwise specified:

Friday, April 15—Glastonbury High School at Glastonbury.

Wednesday, April 20—Glastonbury High School at Manchester.

Wednesday, April 27—Stafford High School at Stafford.

Friday, April 29—Hartford Trade School at Hartford.

Wednesday, May 4—American School for the Deaf at Hartford—3:30 p. m.

Friday, May 13—Enfield High School at Manchester—3:30 p. m.

Wednesday, May 18—Stafford High School at Manchester.

Wednesday, May 25—Windsor Locks High School at Windsor.

Friday, May 27—American School at Manchester.

Friday, June 3—Hartford Trade School at Manchester.

Wednesday, June 8—Torrington Trade School at Torrington.

Friday, June 10—Windsor Locks High School at Manchester.

Wednesday, June 15—New Britain Trade School at New Britain.

Friday, June 17—Torrington Trade School at Manchester.

Friday, June 22—New Britain Trade School at Manchester.

Friday, June 24—Torrington Trade School at Manchester.

ALAN GOULD ASSOCIATED PRESS SPORTS EDITOR

What, we asked, has been baseball's greatest outfield trio? Perhaps you would not agree with William Henry (Bill) Dineen of Syracuse, N. Y., on this subject but at least he has thoroughly good grounds for any opinion he cares to utter about baseball.

Way back in baseball's button shoe days, Bill was the ace right-hander of the Boston Red Sox staff. Connie Mack once told me that Bill ranked among the great pitchers any day, any year. He started with the Boston Braves in 1901, reached his greatest heights with the Red Sox from 1902 through 1906, and wound up his career with three years on the Browns' lot in St. Louis.

For years now Bill has been calling them in the American league. He has seen great ball players come and go. As well as anyone, then, Bill has a right to name the best he has seen. They, he says:

"Babe Ruth, Earle Combs, Bob Meusel."

This Game of GOLF

By O.B. KEELER

Remember that this column had to say a few weeks ago, concerning the advisability of keeping an eye on Sarazen, when the serious golf events of the summer season came on?

Gene went over to New Orleans the other day and played four rounds on the long and not too simple course of the Metairie Golf club for 69-76-77 for a total of 290, thereby adding to his list of 290, thereby adding to his list of 290, thereby adding to his list of 290.

Gene shot his sub-70 round first instead of last, in this tournament, which shows an ability to hold a lead as well as to flash into one at the wire—perhaps a harder job, by the way.

ATHLETICS-PHILS STAND ALL EVEN

Philadelphia, April 5.—(AP)—Standing even in their quest for the mythical city championship, the Athletics and Phillies interrupted their five-game baseball series today for games respectively at Princeton and Reading. The A's last played Princeton in 1925. The city series stands at one victory apiece but more than that, it stands at 12 runs each. The Phils beat the A's 8 to 4 at Shibe Park Saturday and the A's licked the Phils 8 to 4 at the Phillies' Park yesterday. In Florida the teams split a two-game series.

COONEY TO JOIN NEW HAVEN TEAM

New Haven, April 5.—(AP)—Jimmy Cooney, former major league infield star who was manager of the Buffalo International leaguers for the greater part of the last two seasons signed to play with the New Haven Bull Dogs. Manager Gene Martin announced. Close to 50 candidates reported for their initial workout yesterday.

DODGERS SEEKING A FIRST BASEMAN

Montgomery, Ala., April 5.—(AP)—Manager Max Carey of the Brooklyn Dodgers seems to have come to the conclusion that it will never do to weaken his infield in two spots by shifting Joe Stripp, a natural third baseman to first base in place of the ailing Ed Bissonette. Murray Howell is being tried there now but the chances are Carey will obtain an experienced guard for that position before Brooklyn faces Hartford at Macon, Ga., today.

Gollath Gets His
Fred Langreth, who won the national intercollegiate some years ago after playing for it several times, or so it seems to me, was around in a tie with Gullitah at 310, and when ever Fred appears I recall a funny coincidence of eight years ago, when the southern inter-collegiate championship was organized, and I covered the first tournament, at Knoxville.

Fred was, and is, a big, powerful golfer with a fine style, and he was easily the favorite. But he was beaten in the finals by Jack Crenshaw of Alabama, who weighed a little more than half what Lamprose, a football star at Tulane, weighed. And next year at East Lake, Atlanta, Fred again was the big favorite—and Jack's brother, Files, who weighed about 112 soaking wet, took him again.

Fred kept at it and finally won a southern inter-collegiate title, but I think it was after the Crenshaws had disappeared from the picture.

Right now he is in the midst of a great hitting streak and opposing pitchers are having a tough time getting him out, especially when men are on the bases. Ruth has driven in 11 runs in the Yankees' last three exhibition games.

BABE RUTH CUFFING PILL CONSISTENTLY

Louisville, April 5.—(AP)—Babe Ruth of the N. Y. Yankees is wedding a bat much lighter and somewhat shorter than the sticks he used to carry to the plate but the old punch is there just the same.

UNUSUAL FEATURES AT MOOSE SESSION

Limerick Family, Ardent Lodge Supporters, Represented by 3 Members.

Lack of space prevented a more detailed account in last night's Herald of the Loyal Order of Moose booster meeting in Wallingford Sunday afternoon, which was attended by members of the state field day committee from Manchester Chapter, No. 647, of the Moose, and from Manchester Lodge, No. 1477.

The meeting which was attended by about 250 was held in the Wallingford Town Hall and supper was served by the ladies' chapter from Wallingford to the gathering at 8:30 in the meeting hall of Wallingford lodge.

The next booster meeting will be held in Hartford next Sunday afternoon, April 10, at which time Hartford Lodge, No. 723, will formally open their new home at 135 Wetherfield avenue.

Another interesting feature of yesterday's meeting was the attendance of three members of one family, who are very active in Moose work throughout the state. John F. Limerick, Dictator of Manchester for New Haven Lodge, No. 290, and his sister, Mrs. Henry Quinn, of New Haven Chapter, No. 645. Mrs. Quinn and James Limerick are former residents of this town and are very much interested in doing everything possible to assure the success of this year's convention and field day, as it is being held under the auspices of the lodge of which their brother is now the Dictator. As related at this meeting the members of this family have always worked hard for the annual conventions and field days and they will join with every other member of the order to make this year's the greatest in the history of the order in this state as an honor due to Dictator Limerick under whose leadership Manchester Lodge has shown remarkable progress.

PREDICTS BONUS BILL'S PASSAGE

Capt. A. W. Simons Gives Assurance At Banquet of V. F. W. Last Night.

Over 125 members of Anderson-Shea Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars enjoyed the first annual banquet of the post last night in the Sub-Alpine clubhouse on Eldridge street. The vets sat down to a fine chicken dinner prepared by Comrades McCann and Skates and enjoyed a full evening's entertainment following the repast.

Captain Albert W. Simons, Past Department Commander of the State of Connecticut, Veterans of Foreign Wars, was the guest speaker of the evening. Captain Simons, a member of the National Legislative Committee of the V. F. W., spent last week in Washington, D. C., and brought the latest news of the proposed "bonus" legislation now pending before the House of Representatives.

"We, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, a great National body of veterans of all wars," began Captain Simons, "resent the implication that we are 'Treasury raiders.' We are just as patriotic today as we were when we fought shoulder to shoulder in the trenches of a foreign land. We are no more willing today to bring this country into a chaotic condition, financially or otherwise, than we were 14 years ago.

"The fact that we are asking for the payment of an honest debt that has been publicly confessed and acknowledged by the Congress of the United States to the veterans of the world was for services rendered, does not justify the calling of this body improper names. 'I have just returned from Washington where I spent the past week with the National Legislative Committee of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, of which body I have the honor to be a member. I bring good news to you tonight. If nothing happens to the contrary, between now and the first of the week when Representatives, it will be passed because it is a just measure.

"The progress of the administration has been against hoarding money. This bill will release at once over two billions of ex-service men's money, which will be distributed to every nook and corner of the United States and placed in the hands of consumers. Wheels of industry will commence to turn to supply demands from these consumers. The same arguments are being used today as were used before the passage of the initial 50 per cent payment of the bonus. At that time it was charged that the money would be squandered and spent, not to the best interests of the veteran, and that the country would go to Hell if it was paid. After the payment of the 50 per cent an investigation disclosed that less than seven per cent of the money loaned to them under the 50 per cent loan act was wasted. More than a million veterans who hold these certificates are unemployed and need the money to purchase the necessities of life for themselves, and for their families.

"This money was used for the rehabilitation of the veteran—for the payment of the veteran's debts to his butcher, baker, doctor and landlord and to buy clothes for himself and family—and the country hasn't gone to Hell yet.

Captain Simons said that large sums were being spent by the government for printing, patronage and other forms of excessive waste that gave little or no returns and cost the government many millions of dollars each year.

"This picture I have been giving you veterans is not the same as you will receive tomorrow night if you attend the Chamber of Commerce banquet, but I am confident that the rank and file of the country's legislators are planning to use common sense when House Bill No. 1 comes up for a vote and that the veterans will get their just dues." Captain Simons was accorded a fine hand for his remarks on the bonus question as he left to attend a meeting of the New London post.

Lee Here, Too Lieut. James E. Lee, senior vice commander of the State Department, V. F. W., asked the local post for support in the plan for building a Connecticut home at Eaton Rapids, Michigan, the National Home for veterans' widows and orphans. Lieut. Lee represented the State Department at last night's banquet and conveyed the well wishes of the State Commander who was unable to attend due to a conflicting engagement.

W. George Glenney of the town Board of Selectmen, a member of Anderson-Shea Post, complimented the veterans on the large turnout, and spoke briefly. Fred Mallin, Commander of Mont-Vpre Command, British War Veterans, and John L. Jenney also spoke. Bob Startzman and his troupe of entertainers and Joe Furey "Caucus" singer and banjoist and several acts by members of the post completed the evening's entertainment. The Committee Edward O. Stearns officiated as toastmaster and the banquet committee was composed of the following members: Frank Cervini, Arthur McCann, Edwin McCann, John Shea and Joseph Moriarty.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR CONVENTION APRIL 29

Will Be Held In Norwich—Expected That 400 From All Over State Will Attend.

The 36th State Christian Endeavor Convention will be held in Norwich Friday to Sunday, April 29 to May 1, inclusive.

It is expected that about 400 young people from the various Christian Endeavor societies about the state will be in attendance. The Local Committee are planning their entertainment while there. In addition, the three general sessions of the Convention will attract many church people from the vicinity of the convention city, so that the seating capacity of the Central Baptist Church, where the sessions will be held, will be taxed to capacity.

To many, interest centers on the session of Saturday night, April 30, when the speaker is to be Dr. Tehyi Hsieh, managing director of the Chinese Trade Bureau, Boston. Dr. Hsieh is much sought after as a speaker throughout the United States and Canada, and is an authority on conditions in the Far East. He has made a deep study of the internal affairs of China and of China's relations to the nations of the West. He has executed many important and responsible diplomatic missions for his country and has also achieved fame as a platform orator throughout North America.

A graduate of Cambridge University, Dr. Hsieh commands a wonderful flow of perfect English and thrills his audiences with his fiery addresses. He has been called by many "The Teddy Roosevelt of China."

On Sunday afternoon, May 1, the speaker will be Rev. Robbins Wolcott Barstow, D.D., president of the Hartford Theological Foundation. Dr. Barstow is the son of a Congregational pastor in whose heart and life Christian Endeavor played a great part, and in his turn, much interested in the youth of this state. He is to speak at the closing session of the Convention—the consecration session—and may be depended upon for a message which will be taken back by the delegates for interpretation into the work of their several churches.

The banquet of the Convention will be held Saturday evening, preceding the evening session, and conferences on the various lines of young people's work will be held Saturday afternoon and evening.

INSTALL DE MOLAY CHAPTER OFFICERS

William Davis Is Made Master Councillor—Fuller Gets Past Master's Jewel.

The recently elected officers of John Mather Chapter, Order of DeMolay, were installed last night at the Masonic Temple with Past Master Charles Morgan as installing Officer. The slate of officers is headed by William Davis as master councillor. A Past Master's jewel was presented to Bruce Fuller, who retired from the chair, the presentation being made by William "Dad" Walsh.

Reports of the committee in charge of the semi-formal dance, to be held at the Temple on April 16, were made and indicated that a good crowd would be present. The Chapter will also hold a "roll call" banquet at the Hotel Sheridan on April 27. More than fifty members and past members have already made reservations for the affair. A Washington Bi-Centennial committee, consisting of Past Master Fuller, chairman; Alex McBride, Charles Morgan, will arrange a special Washington program to be held in the near future.

The other officers installed last night were: David Chapman, senior councillor; Earl Russell, junior councillor; Walter Snow, senior deacon; William S. Fox, junior deacon; Sherwood Brown, senior steward; Ralph Chapman, junior steward; Wilbert Hasden, almoner; Raymond Dotchin, sentinel; Wilmore Peterson, standard bearer; Austin Johnson, chaplain; and Roger Marcham, marshal.

Y. M. C. A. Notes

An important gathering of all men members of the Y. M. C. A. will be held Friday night at which time Charles Burr will speak on a bicycle trip through Europe. G. Albert Pearson will furnish a male quartet which will render several numbers and he will lead in community songs. A discussion relative to reorganizing the Community Twilight League will take place at that time. This league is to be more extensive than last year.

FISH AND GAME CLUB MEETS TOMORROW

Important Gathering of Members To Be Held In Tinker Hall—To Talk Banquet.

The Manchester Fish and Game Club will hold an important business meeting tomorrow night in Tinker Hall. Important business in connection with the opening of the fishing season will be discussed and the new bill now before the House of Representatives to tax shells will also come up for a review by members.

It is expected that members will decide whether the annual banquet usually held in the spring will be held this year or cancelled. Free novelty fish rules for measuring the spring catch of trout will be distributed tonight by the P. T. Blish Company.

Keeney Pond, a club leased body of water on Keeney street, is expected to produce some fine trout this year as very few have been caught since it was taken over by the club. The pond has been stocked heavily for the past two seasons with adult trout.
