

SENATE VOTES INCREASED TAX ON TELEGRAMS

Telephone Rates Also In- creased But Greater Exemptions Are Allowed — Tax On Rubber Is Considered.

Washington, May 2.—(AP)—Increased telephone and telegraph tax rates were voted today by the Senate finance committee in modifying the House revenue measure. The committee accepted a motion by Senator Bingham (R., Conn.), exempting all telephone and telegraph messages of less than fifty cents.

The rate was made ten cents on messages between fifty cents and a dollar; 15 cents on messages between $1 and $2, and 20 cents on messages of more than $2.

The House provided rates of five cents on messages between 30 and 50 cents and ten cents on all messages over 50 cents.

Import Tax On Rubber
An import tax on rubber was seriously considered today by the committee. Senator Reed (R., Pa.), indicated he would move for the rubber import duty. Prospect of Democratic support was in sight on the ground the proposal was purely a revenue raising one rather than a tariff, since no rubber is grown in this country.

A duty of five cents a pound was estimated by Senator Watson (R., Ind.). The Senate committee cut the rate on leased wires from ten per cent to five per cent and all exemptions for newspapers and radio broadcasting were removed.

The bill runs from July 1, 1932, after enactment of the bill until July 1, 1934. The committee was almost unanimous in removing the exemptions voted by the House for newspapers. Senator Bingham (R., Conn.), alone voted against removal of the exemption.

The exact language of the new telephone and telegraph provision was not available immediately as the committee continued in work in executive session. It was understood, however, that the leased wire rate of five per cent would apply to all telephone and telegraph leased wires.

The general ten per cent admission tax in the House bill was approved and the exemption dropped down to include all tickets of 45 cents and over.

The House had the exemption at 45 cents and it was contended in the committee that movie theaters would be able to avoid the levy by dropping the rate to 45 cents. So, the exemption was dropped a penny.

College Events
The committee did vote to exempt admissions to all collegiate and scholastic events. An attempt by Senator Reed (R., Pa.), to exempt baseball admissions was defeated.

Another boost in the tax on brewers' wort from ten cents a gallon to 15 cents was ordered. The House

ACCIDENTS CAUSE TWO STATE DEATHS

Body of Man, Long Missing, Found and Another Dies On Train Here.

By Associated Press.
Two lives were lost through accident over the week-end in Connecticut. In addition the body of a man missing since April 3 was discovered and a railroad conductor died of natural causes in the caboose of his train.

John Fahey, 10-years-old son of a man unemployed for two years, was killed near the Capitol Avenue underpass in Hartford Saturday night by a northbound New Haven railroad train. The train crew did not know of the accident until arrival in Springfield when they found portions of the boy's body on the front of the engine.

Killed By Auto
Carlton Bechstedt, 18, of Bristol, was fatally injured in Thomaston when his auto struck a telephone pole. He died shortly afterward in Bristol hospital. Miss Gail Kurtz, 18, of Cheshire, one of his companions, received a fractured pelvis.

Atom Is Shattered By English Savants

London, May 2.—(AP)—Two young scientists of Cambridge University were hailed today as having achieved a great goal—physicists have sought to reach for years—they have broken the atom.

In announcing details of what he called "a discovery of great scientific importance," Lord Rutherford, noted scientist, said Dr. J. D. Cockcroft and E. T. S. Walton accomplished the feat after several years of work with apparatus erected under his supervision.

Dr. Cockcroft said he and his colleague bombarded hydrogen atoms with a voltage of 1,000,000 and that under the bombardment the hydrogen atoms began to break up into helium, a still rarer gas. The helium atoms, he said, came out of the bombardment with energies of 100 to 150 times those of the particles fired into them.

Only one particle broke up however for every 10,000,000 particles used to bombard it, he said. Dr. Cockcroft, the elder of the two experimenters is only 34.

Optimistic scientists long have hoped to split the atom, some contending that when this feat was accomplished a boundless source of energy would be available.

"It is difficult to say to what this discovery may lead," Lord Rutherford said. "Up to the present the experiments have not yielded anything which will be of immediate commercial value."

"I have seen it stated that this discovery would make possible the production of an immense accumulation of added electrical energy for commercial purposes. But we cannot claim that for our experiments up to the present because for every particle of energy we get it requires millions of particles to make it effective."

SELECTING A CHAIRMAN FOR DEMOCRATIC PARLEY

Hartford, May 2.—(AP)—Democratic leaders today anxiously awaited the selection of a permanent chairman of the Democratic State convention by the committee of five acting as advisory council to State Chairman David A. Wilson. The committee, representing the state central committee, met with Mr. Wilson at his office here at 1 p. m. and announcement of their decision was expected late this afternoon.

The Smith and Roosevelt factions as well as the New Guard and Old Guard leaders are concerned over action the committee may take. They considered a permanent chairman as the key man in the forthcoming contest for delegates to the National convention.

Four of the five members of the advisory committee are decidedly New Guards. They are Alton T. Miner, New London; Mrs. Nellie Mc-

JOIE RAY STARTS RACE WITH DEATH

Forced To Give Up Dance Marathon When He Hears Daughter Is Dying.

New York, May 2.—(AP)—Little Joie Ray ran today a Marathon with death—witness little chance to win.

Once the premier of America, a lad who stepped into the books with a brave 4:12, a versatile athlete of clinders, of the arena, of Canadian snows and, lately, the Marathon dance, Ray dropped from the latter contest early today and started for Chicago.

A telegram told him that his ten-year-old daughter, Rosalie, was dying. He of her illness came as a cruel climax to months of tough luck that has hung at his heels, like some determined rival of the track he could not shake off.

Dancing a Month
Ray has been grinding his way around a Marathon dance floor for four weeks. He wanted the prize money that will go to the couple or the individual who outlasts all others in the wearying round of tepid chore.

He was the favorite. But the bad breaks began early. His original partner quit the contest to marry. For hours he carried on alone. Then he acquired another partner. She collapsed under the punishing test.

John kept on. He had raced grueling miles against the crack trackmen of the land—and won. He had trotted the body-wracking Marathon. He had raced across the snows on snowshoes in contests that challenged the endurance of greater physiques than his. He had stood in the ring and exchanged blows with professional boxers.

Has $70 Medals
To say he was not a great athlete is to ignore the 800 medals and trophies he treasures.

But the trophies may go soon. Joie said he would sell his medals to raise money for the effort to save his daughter's life.

There isn't much sentiment at a Marathon dance hall. They go to see steep-robed bodies fall and weary dancers collapse under the long strain.

Oddly enough, when the announcement was made early today that Ray was quitting to go to his daughter's bedside, many spectators wept.

GEORGE WASHINGTON IS "INAUGURATED" AGAIN —IN SHADOW OF MODERN SKYSCRAPERS

Cockaded hats and powdered wigs mingled inconspicuously with silk topers and swallow-tail coats as New York bridged the gap of 143 years to re-enact the inauguration of George Washington. Towering skyscrapers formed a strangely contrasting background, as the photo upper left shows, when the oath-taking ceremonies were staged in a replica of Federal Hall, in Bryant Park.

PREPARE RETRIAL IN MASSIE CASE

Honolulu, May 2.—(AP)—With a definite promise Mrs. Thalia Massie will testify against the remaining four men accused of assaulting her, prosecuting officials today were to lay final plans for retrial of the case.

Representatives of the attorney general and the public prosecutor were expected to determine a date for trial—probably within two weeks. They also were to decide whether Prosecutor John C. Kelley, who obtained a manslaughter conviction last Friday for Mrs. Massie's husband, her mother Mrs. Granville Fortescue and two sailors for lynch in the young woman's fifth alleged attacker, shall handle the territory's case.

The four accused of assaulting Mrs. Massie last September are Horace Ida, Japanese; Henry Chang, Chinese; David Takai, Japanese; and Ben Ahakeulo, Hawaiian. Their first trial last November ended with the jury deadlocked.

Whether Kelley would conduct the prosecution has been a subject of speculation. Two incidents at the murder trial are regarded as being against his leading the prosecution. One was his tilt with Mrs. Massie when she was under cross examination as a defense witness. Mrs. Massie tore up a paper allegedly containing a written admission of a rift between her and her husband.

"Thank you, Mrs. Massie," Kelley said in anger. "At last you have shown yourself in your true colors. Later, while the jury was deliberating."

Police Use Itch Powder To Break Up Nude Parade

Nelson, B. C., May 2.—(AP)—British Columbia police used itch powder and short lengths of garden hose as weapons yesterday when they encountered 200 Doukhobors on parade at Thrums, 10 miles from Nelson. Authorities arrested 117 men and women.

The Doukhobors, many of whom were nude, fought back savagely. They turned several streams of water on the officers.

The police sprang clear of the water and sprayed the powder on the exposed bodies of the men and women, finally herding them into an orchard where they were held until trucks arrived to bring them here.

The prisoners consisted of 33 women and 84 men. They will be arraigned during the week. Persons guilty of parading in the nude are liable to three years' imprisonment.

PRESIDENT SENDS HIS MESSAGE TO PEACE SOCIETIES

KIDNAPED IN TEXAS, FOUND IN BUFFALO.

Naked Man On Highway Tells Police He Was Thrown Out of An Auto.

Buffalo, N. Y., May 2.—(AP)—A man who said he was Pedro Salinas, 25, of San Antonio, Texas, was found in a nude condition, walking along a Buffalo highway near here early today. Turned over to police, he said he had been kidnaped in San Antonio and robbed of nearly $6,000.

He was taken to a hospital, where physicians said he was suffering from exposure. Police began a search for three men in a sedan. Salinas told police he won $6,000 in a Mexican lottery three weeks ago. He gave part of the money to his wife and kept the rest.

Harried From Auto
The kidnapers continually demanded that he wire his wife for more money, Salinas said, and the final demand was made a few miles outside of Buffalo this morning. When he refused the men stripped him and threw him out of the car. He said he had been riding along the highway for about two hours when found.

Salinas said the men carried three sets of license plates in their car. He did not know their names but said they referred to Buffalo as their destination from the outset of the trip.

KIDNAPED APRIL 6
San Antonio, Texas, May 2.—(AP)—Pedro Salinas, found in Buffalo, N. Y., today was kidnaped April 6 after he had been called from his home here to a downtown address by a mysterious telephone message, his wife told police.

Mrs. Salinas drove her husband down town in the car and waited several hours, becoming alarmed when he failed to return. She notified police.

Last September 2 Salinas was kidnaped as he drove his car into his garage. After being beaten and robbed, he was left beside a road ten miles from the city.

BOARD OF PARDONS LISTENS TO APPEALS

Hartford, May 2.—(AP)—Louis N. Leopold, former Waterbury furniture dealer, sentenced to life imprisonment for second degree murder in 1928 as result of an incendiary fire, appealed for freedom today before the Board of Pardons at the State Prison in Wethersfield. He protested innocence of the crime of causing the fire in which two children lost their lives, and criticized the "inconsistency" of the jury which convicted him of murder, pointing out that he was found not guilty of "wilful" burning of the building.

Dr. J. F. Barton, member of the State Prison Sunday School Teachers' Association, pleaded for parole of John G. Bogardus, convicted of second degree murder in New London in 1909. Frank Falbo, 46, sentenced to seven to twelve years for manslaughter in Middletown in 1927, said he is convinced that he has reformed.

Denying guilt and claiming he was unable to give a proper account of himself at the time because he had been drinking, Charles Williams, 25, negro, serving three and one-half to seven years for robbery in New London two years ago, appeared in his own behalf. Nine of those who filed petitions withdrew them before the hearing. Four petitioners were denied hearings because they are not eligible for parole.

17 HOMES BURN
St. Felicien, Que., May 2.—(AP)—Fire fanned by a brisk wind destroyed seventeen homes and stores here before volunteer fire fighters brought the flames under control early today.

The fire started in a barber shop and spread through the frame buildings in the neighborhood. Early estimates placed the loss at $300,000.

TREASURY BALANCE
Washington, May 2.—(AP)—Treasury receipts for April 29 were $2,902,824.94; expenditures 18,982,375.75; balance $312,859,538.74. Customs duties for 29 days of April were $20,746,689.71.

Declares That Justice Is the Safest Cornerstone On Which To Build Social Organization — Impartial Justice Offers Mankind Its Most Certain Escape From Arbitrary Power, He Asserts.

Washington, May 2.—(AP)—Justice was described today by President Hoover as "the safest cornerstone upon which peoples may erect the entire social organization."

The Chief Executive made this statement in a message to the American Conference on Institutions for the Establishment of International Justice, which met here today at the call of the American Peace Society.

"The only assurance," President Hoover said, "of the equal protection of all in the enjoyment of their rights is justice; and, with justice assured, nations would have little to fear for their safety or their peace."

Earlier, Frederick H. Payne, assistant secretary of war, told the conference that "permanent harm" to America's defense structure would result if it were further reduced.

President Hoover, in his message read to the assembly, said: "It is highly gratifying that the American Peace Society has invited you, as friends of international order, to confer this week in Washington on questions relating to the further establishment of international justice."

"From the beginnings of history, humans beings have turned to justice as the safeguard of the inalienable rights to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. Impartial justice has offered mankind its most certain escape from arbitrary power."

Justice is also the safest cornerstone upon which peoples may erect the entire social organization. Now that nations have to function with more and more regard for the views and interests of one another, a constant attention to the processes of justice is vitally necessary.

"Experience proves that in every civilized people there is an abiding faith in fair play—a common honesty, in the possibility of lessening reasons for irritation and complication: A devotion to elevated purposes of right, to laws and to impartial courts.

"The only assurance of the equal protection of all in the enjoyment of their rights is justice; and, with justice assured, nations would have little to fear for their safety or their peace."

"If in your special commissions and in your general conference, you can help to promote institutions for the establishment of a more adequate and more effective international justice, you will earn high praise."

"I greet you most cordially and I wish for you success and the abiding satisfaction which inevitably come from all unselfish effort in behalf of our common country and our common humanity."

AL CAPONE LOSES
HIGH-COURT PLEA
Denied Review of His Case; Means He Will Start At Once For Federal Prison.

Washington, May 2.—(AP)—Al Capone today was denied a review by the Supreme Court of his conviction for evading income taxes.

The ruling meant that America's most notorious gangster had lost his last legal chance of escaping his 11-year sentence.

"Scarface Al" is now in jail in Chicago. Confined there since sentence by Judge James H. Wilkerson, he probably will be sent to a Federal prison in a few days.

No Reason Given
As is customary, the court did not give its reasons for refusing to open the case. It previously had refused to interfere with sentences imposed on Ralph Capone, Al's brother, and other members of the Capone gang convicted for failure to pay income taxes.

Capone was indicted on June 5, 1931, on charges of evading his 1928, 1929 and 1927 Federal income taxes.

In addition to his 11-year sentence, he was fined $50,000. The penalties were confirmed by the Seventh Circuit Court of Appeals.

UNFOLDS JOB PLAN BEFORE KIWANIANS

Major Henry Perkins of Hartford Describes Rochester System Today.

Major Henry Perkins was the guest speaker at the meeting of the Manchester Kiwanis club, which was held at noon today at the Y. M. C. A. Major Perkins told of the work that had been accomplished in Rochester, N. Y., to beat the depression. He said the plan met with the hearty approval of the late George Eastman of that city who volunteered to underwrite it. It was launched by about 400 citizens of Rochester who guaranteed two million dollars worth of work. Instead they created six million within 90 days, and although it was work that might have been deferred for a year or more, it was justified. The idea was that instead of putting off painting, alterations, heating or new building jobs to get the thing started right six million put million men to work. President Hoover gave a thousand dollars toward the Rochester plan and a dozen to fifteen other men stood back of it.

Mr. Perkins called attention to the movement under way in greater Hartford where they are trying to create two million dollars' worth of jobs. He said the residents of West Hartford and other sections are taking hold of it in great shape.

Guests at today's meeting were Harold J. Toward of Waterville, Me., former lieutenant governor of Kansas who is visiting William A. Knofia; also Charles Rumpf of Darien, lieutenant governor in this district, who met with the directors for a short conference after the meeting.

The luncheon today was put on by the Memorial Hospital Linen auxiliary for the benefit of the linen fund.

The attendance prize furnished by Arvid Gustafson was won by R. LaMotte Russell.

DEATHS

Thomas Noble
Thomas Noble, who for many years lived on Wadsworth street, died suddenly Saturday noon at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Howard L. Grant, at 83 North Elm street. He had complained of heart burn during the morning and died a few minutes after retiring for sleep at noon.

Mr. Noble, a native of Ireland and a resident of Manchester for nearly thirty years, was 73 years old and well known in Manchester. He hadn't worked of late years and last January underwent a leg amputation at the Manchester Memorial hospital when gangrene developed from a foot infection.

Before retiring from Cheney Brothers on a pension, he was employed in the finishing department on the velvet department at Cheney Brothers. He was a member of the South Methodist Episcopal church. In addition to Mrs. Grant, he is survived by another daughter and three sons, Mrs. F. Sinnamon of Springfield, Mass., Thomas C. Noble of Ontario, who arrived in Manchester this morning, Alexander of Manchester and John of East-hampton. His wife died four years ago.

The funeral will be held at 2:30 tomorrow afternoon at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Robert A. Coppola officiating. Burial will be in the East cemetery.

Lawrence L. Huntley
Lawrence L. Huntley, 46, of Dobsonville, died at the Memorial hospital here early this morning following a year's illness. He was admitted to the hospital early in February. A machinist by trade, Huntley had managed a small general store at the center of Dobsonville until last fall.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Veronica Huntley, his mother, Mrs. Nellie Norris, both of Dobsonville, two sisters, Mrs. Frank Shea of Williamstown and Mrs. L. L. Bowen of Danielson, and a brother, Charles of Bristol. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the W. P. Quish funeral parlors, 225 Main street. Rev. F. P. Bachelor of Talcottville will officiate and burial will be in the Vernon Center cemetery.

Raymond Strickland
Raymond, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Strickland of Andover died at 10:30 a. m. Sunday at the Manchester Memorial hospital with typhoid fever. The survivors are the parents and one brother, Myron, Jr.

August L. Lashinski
The funeral of August L. Lashinski, 429 Center street was held at his home yesterday afternoon followed by services at the Evangelical Lutheran Zion church. Rev. H. P. R. Stochin officiated. The bearers were Herman Hill, William Hill, Arthur Bronkie, Emil Bronkie, Charles Bronkie and Charles Server. Burial was in the East cemetery.

WEDDINGS
Cleveland, May 2.—(AP)—Legal action which it sustained would deprive all Ohio justices of the peace of their judicial power and perhaps invalidate tens of thousands of wedding ceremonies was filed in the Court of Appeals today.

The action was brought by Attorney T. L. Bishop in the form of a writ of prohibition to prevent Justice William J. Zoul of Shaker Heights from adjusting a suit filed by Dr. Roy C. Eddy to collect $68 from William L. Winklamer.

Bishop asserted that all Ohio justices are without jurisdiction and have no legal authority to hear lawsuits or in any way to act in a judicial capacity. His claim was based on the fact that the office of justice of the peace was abolished by an amendment to the constitution of Ohio which became effective January 1, 1928.

BANDITS FRUSTRATED
Medford, Mass., May 2.—(AP)—Three bandits, forced to obtain store collection automobile into the curb at a street intersection today opened fire from pistols on the driver and fled without taking $10,000 that was in the collection machine.

WOODS FIRE THREATENS PARKER STREET HOUSE

Manchester Fire Department Extinguishes Blaze After It Breaks Out Second Time.

A threatening forest fire was extinguished at midnight Sunday with the aid of the Manchester Fire Department chemical truck. The fire started at the foot of a hill just beyond Parker street across the road from the Colonial Board plant. It threatened a house, formerly the Charles Andrus place, and had started sweeping west towards the Burr Nursery property before checked. When the firemen went to the scene of the blaze earlier in the evening they were told it was out. They were called two hours later when the blaze broke out again.

INJUNCTION STOPS AUCTION OF STORE

Big Creditor Decides To Try To Get Money Back On Equipment In Another Way.

The scheduled auction of the equipment of the former South Manchester Candy Kitchen of which Perry Ambulos was proprietor, was stopped by injunction proceedings brought by a New Haven creditor. The New Haven firm stood to lose the largest amount of any of the creditors and sought an injunction to stop the auction with the thought in mind of using the equipment either here or elsewhere in order to get a bigger return on the investment. The large electric sign that was suspended over the entrance has been removed in the care of John E. Dwyer, trustee in the bankrupt estate.

AL CAPONE LOSES HIGH COURT PLEA

In his plea for a review, Capone argued that the indictment against him was defective because it was worded in general terms which did not give him sufficient information to prepare his defense.

His lawyers also raised a number of other technical points. The court in reply argued that the indictment was good and that the conviction should stand.

NO PAY FOR TEACHERS

Berlin, May 2.—(AP)—Teachers in the local schools received no pay checks due for the month of May today as a result of a decision of town officials to wait for money due on taxes to flow into the town treasury before releasing the payroll. There is no money in the treasury with which to pay the monthly school salaries and town officials say that they wish to avoid borrowing further in order to escape heavy interest charges. The alternative to further borrowing is to wait for the collection of property taxes due on May 1.

An agreement with a New Britain banking house assured money for the teachers until May 1, but the arrangement lapsed with the coming due of taxes. It is believed that this is the first time in history of the long established town that school teachers have been forced to miss their monthly pay checks.

GOV. MURRAY TO SPEAK

Hudson, N. Y., May 2.—(AP)—Governor W. H. (Alfalfa) Bill Murray of Oklahoma will invade the territory of his rival for the Democratic presidential nomination, Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York this month.

The Oklahoma executive will attend the Hudson Valley Blossom Festival at Hudson on May 20 and will deliver an address that afternoon.

Charles John Stevenson of Germantown, head of the Hudson Valley Blossom festival, received from Governor Murray today a telegram accepting an invitation to attend and speak. Governor Joseph B. Ely of Massachusetts will be a speaker on the same day and Governor Roosevelt will address the festival crowds on May 21.

ECONOMIST OPPOSES NEW MONEY ISSUE

It Would Mean Too Great a Demand On Gold Reserves, He Declares.

Washington, May 2.—(AP)—John Janney, chairman of the executive board of the American Society of Practical Economists, today opposed a $2,000,000,000 new money issue to cash the soldiers' bonus.

Before the House ways and means committee, Janney endorsed the testimony given against the bonus payments by Eugene Meyer, governor of the Federal Reserve Board.

"Whether or not the veterans are worthy of this help," Janney said, "and whether or not Congress wants to extend this help, Congress cannot do this thing."

He was testifying against the Patman bill to issue new currency to redeem the bonus certificates due in 1945.

"If we issue these notes," Janney continued, "we will agree to pay the bearer on demand $2,000,000,000 in gold. There would be this much additional demand on the gold we have."

Janney said the 40 per cent gold reserve requirement was a minimum which could not be approached at times when gold prices were highly fluctuating.

ABOUT TOWN

John Stone of Center street has returned from Florida where he spent the winter.

The regular meeting of Manchester Lodge No. 1477 Loyal Order of Moose will be held tonight at eight o'clock in the Manchester Hotel. Club members are requested to attend.

Joseph Hubbard is engaged today repairing the five sections of roadway which were dug up during the winter for breaks in the water line. Three sections are in North Main street between Depot Square and North street and the other two on Oakland and Main street. The work is being done for the Manchester Water Company.

The regular monthly devotional service of the St. Mary's Girls' society will be held tonight at 7:30 in the church. All members of the junior choir are asked to attend.

DRAWN HER SAVINGS FROM BANK STOLEN

Miss Hilda Glammann Loses $175 From Cedar Chest—Bank Book Also Taken.

Fearful of the safety of her hard earned savings Miss Hilda Glammann of Bissell street drew $175 from the local savings bank some months ago and hid it in a cedar chest in her bedroom. Deciding to deposit it again Miss Glammann opened the chest only to discover that the money and her bankbook had disappeared. She believes it has been stolen and so reported to police who are now investigating. Miss Glammann, an employe of Cheney Brothers cravat department, says that she recalls seeing the cash disappear from the chest. She had no occasion to look for it until last Friday when she discovered the loss. No trace of the money had been found today.

SMITH TO REMAIN

Washington, May 2.—(AP)—The Senate lost its fight today when the President today when the Supreme court declared Chairman George Otis Smith of the Federal Power Commission was entitled to hold that office.

The court, in an opinion by Justice Brandeis, held the Senate was without authority to recall the nomination of Smith after it had advised the President of his confirmation and Smith had taken the oath of office.

When the President refused to return the nomination the Senate went through the formality of reconsidering and rejecting the nomination.

Alaska, with an area only twice the size of Texas, has 16,132 miles of shore line while the entire United States has only 12,877.

ANOTHER SUIT DEVELOPS FROM BREAUULT ACCIDENT

Schuts Truck Involved So Owners Sue Mrs. Jones Who Was Also Involved.

The awarding of $13,100 to young Wilfred Breault who lost his foot in an automobile accident at Main and Bigelow streets on November 30 did not conclude the hearings in that case. Charles and Michael Schuts of Vernon, owners of one of the trucks involved in the accident, have instituted a suit against Mrs. Katherine C. Jones of this town whose car was also involved. The Schuts interests seek damages from Mrs. Jones since their truck was badly smashed in the accident. The suit was brought in Tolland County.

CHENEY PROPERTY SALE RUMOR IS UNFOUNDED

Local Firm Has No Property For Sale Or For Lease—Wild Rumor Spreads Here Today.

The Herald telephones were kept busy today answering inquiries about an advertisement that was supposed to have appeared in a New York newspaper offering certain Cheney properties for sale or for lease. The advertisement was not authorized. Cheney Brothers brought the information that no such advertisement had been authorized. Cheney Brothers has no properties for sale or for lease, it was stated. The rumor possibly started from the fact that a local woman employe of Cheney Brothers has offered a shore cottage for rent through the columns of a New York newspaper.

WELDON SALON INSTALLS NEW SCALP TREATMENT

Mrs. Bernice Juul of the Weldon Beauty Salon, Hotel Sheridan Building, never accepts a new method or a new machine until it has proved its worth. A new corrective for scalp conditions has been perfected and the Weldon Beauty Salon has installed a new Arnold Scalp Steamer with medications for falling hair, dandruff, oily hair, and a re-conditioner for dry hair.

The Arnold Medications are hermetically sealed and the complete contents of one of these tubes is used with each treatment. Arnold Steam treatments restore the soft, natural lustre of hair and greatly improve the conditions of the scalp. These treatments also revitalize the hair and prolong the life of a permanent wave.

The price of this marvelous treatment is no more than a regular scalp treatment (one dollar), or six treatments for five dollars. Mrs. Juul is pleased to be able to install this added service at no extra cost to her clientele.

TOWN IMPROVING ITS WORST ROAD STRETCHES

Oiling Several Highways—Hartford Road Job is Now Nearly Completed.

The town highway department has been busy during the past week oiling several stretches of bad road. Adams street was oiled from Hillard to the new state road; Hillard street west to the state road at Gammons corner; Hartford road from Bridge street to Bidwell street and Bissell street is being scarified.

The town highway department will complete the Eldridge street oiling job and will lay another coating of oil on Hartford road. Altogether $400 gallons of oil has been sprayed on the latter highway with approximately 2,400 gallons of a second coating yet to be laid.

LINDY NOT AT HOME

Hopewell, N. J., May 2.—(AP)—Reports were current here today that Col. Charles A. Lindbergh was not at his home in Sourland mountain and that he has been absent for several days. The reports could not be confirmed.

TO GET MEMORIAL

Washington, May 2.—(AP)—The House agreed today to let Stennington, Conn., use Stonington Point as a memorial to the men who defended it in a three-day bombardment from British warships in August, 1814.

It passed and sent to the Senate the Freeman bill, under which the secretary of commerce would be allowed to give to Stennington a quit claim deed to the land which is to be used for the memorial.

UNEMPLOYED ARMY MARCHES ON BOSTON

Approximately 500 Unemployed Demonstrators Accompanied by Several Thousands of Sympathizers and Curious Bostonians Marched to the Heavily Guarded State House Today.

Scores of Boston and State police and state house guards about the capitol building prepared for any emergency. The marchers, who had come over the road from several sections of the state held a mass meeting on the Boston Common before a delegation of nine of their number was escorted into the State House.

Their Demands
The delegation conferred with President Gaspar C. Bacon of the State Senate. They asked that a special session of the Legislature be called to hear the complaints of the marchers. Bacon pointed out that such action would have to be taken by Governor Ely and one of the spokesmen said this would be done.

One of the delegation exhibited resolutions which he said would be given Governor Ely. The resolutions asked unemployment insurance at the expense of the employers and state government; unemployment insurance to full wages to be paid by taxing the rich and administered by the workers themselves; immediate relief at the rate of $15 a week to be paid pending the passage of the unemployment legislation; a state construction program to include the tearing down of all "slum dwellings" and replacing them with "decent homes" to be rented at low cost and entirely free to unemployed.

EXPLAINS TO POLICE REASON FOR PAY CUT

Commissioner Rogers Says General Decrease Or Discharge of Some Members Was Necessary.

Willard B. Rogers, chairman of the Police commission, addressed the local force at headquarters Saturday evening explaining the reason the recent 15 per cent wage cut in the department was necessary. Mr. Rogers emphasized the fact that the Board of Selectmen had asked the commission to cut wages 10 per cent nearly a year ago. At that time it was hoped conditions would improve and the decrease would not be necessary. However since times have not improved it has been necessary for the commission to make a more drastic cut in order to remain within the budget.

At Saturday night's meeting of the Police commission, Herman Moske, a popular officer and an efficient member of the force. The motorcycle patrol for the summer was started today. Patrolman Raymond Griffin takes the day trick and Patrolman Moske night duty.

Commissioner Rogers made it plain in his talk to the policemen that the board had its choice between a decrease in pay for the whole department or the suspension from employment entirely of some members of the force. The former plan was adopted so that no one or two men would be drastically affected.

JUDGE HARNEY GUEST OF LOCAL KNIGHTS

Addresses Campbell Council Members At Communion Breakfast Yesterday.

The second annual Communion Breakfast of Campbell Council, Knights of Columbus, was held yesterday morning at St. James' hall on Park street following the attendance of the members—127 in number—at a Holy Communion service at the 8:30 mass in St. James' church. The breakfast was presided over by Rev. Father W. P. Rely. Edward J. Murphy acted as toastmaster and after introductory greetings from Grand Knight William J. Shea, introduced two members of the Council who have been in its affairs for more than 30 years—Daniel J. Ward of Marble street and Patrick H. Dougherty of Dougherty street.

Both spoke in a reminiscent vein and were tendered a reception at the close of the breakfast. A toast was offered to the health of another member, Jeremiah Maber, who has served a like term of membership but who was unable to attend on account of illness. The speaker of the morning was Judge William A. Harney of Hartford, a Past Grand Knight of Hartford Council who spoke on "The Ideals of the Knights of Columbus." His address being splendidly delivered and listened to with much pleasure by the members.

DR. ARTERS RE-ELECTED

Atlantic City, N. J., May 2.—(AP)—Rev. Dr. John M. Arters of Bangor, Me., was unanimously re-elected secretary of the quadrennial general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church at its opening session today.

Dr. Arters was an assistant secretary of the quadrennial conference from 1916 to 1928, when he was first elected secretary to succeed Bishop Wade on his elevation to the bishopric.

INTEREST ON TAXES STARTS TOMORROW

Expect Largest Payments To Be Made Before Tonight; Big Crowd At Office.

Today is the final date for tax payments without incurring interest charges, and the town of Manchester stands to receive its largest payments this afternoon and this evening. At 2 o'clock the line at the tax collector's window again extended to the south door of the Municipal building and the parking space on Center street immediately in front of the building was at a premium.

Manchester's largest taxpayers are expected tonight to pay close to $265,000 with the largest single payment, Cheney brothers totaling $227,953.88. Next in order comes the Orford Soap Company with $18,790.82; Case Brothers with $4,483.15 and the Rogers Paper Company, $5,940.96.

Manchester's largest individual taxpayer this year, as for several years is Edward J. Holl who this year pays a bill of $6,835.72.

WELDON SALON INSTALLS NEW SCALP TREATMENT

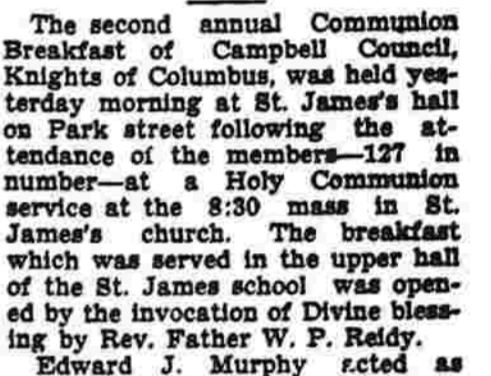

Mrs. Bernice Juul of the Weldon Beauty Salon, Hotel Sheridan Building, never accepts a new method or a new machine until it has proved its worth. A new corrective for scalp conditions has been perfected and the Weldon Beauty Salon has installed a new Arnold Scalp Steamer with medications for falling hair, dandruff, oily hair, and a re-conditioner for dry hair.

The Arnold Medications are hermetically sealed and the complete contents of one of these tubes is used with each treatment. Arnold Steam treatments restore the soft, natural lustre of hair and greatly improve the conditions of the scalp. These treatments also revitalize the hair and prolong the life of a permanent wave.

The price of this marvelous treatment is no more than a regular scalp treatment (one dollar), or six treatments for five dollars. Mrs. Juul is pleased to be able to install this added service at no extra cost to her clientele.

IT'S PRESIDENTIAL YEAR Franklin D. Roosevelt Political Headliners

Franklin D. Roosevelt: Born into an atmosphere of ships and sailing, Jan. 30, 1882, at Hyde Park, N. Y. . . . Father was wealthy rail executive. . . . At 3, Franklin went on ocean trip. . . . He studied law, learned to sail a boat, and was taught thrift by his father, who gave him sums of money and required him to account for every penny.

In his youth Roosevelt traveled in Europe on a bicycle. . . . Attended school at Naumburg, Germany. . . . At 14 he learned navigation cruising his own 21-foot knockabout. . . . Attended Groton Academy, Groton, Harvard at 18. . . . Rowed on freshman crew, played freshman football. . . . Interested in political economy. . . . He was a robust, spirited and independent student.

In 1904 Theodore Roosevelt, distant cousin of Franklin, was elected President. Franklin married Ann Eleanor Roosevelt, also a cousin, in 1907, and President Roosevelt gave the bride, his niece, away. . . . Started practice of law, but politics was constant temptation. . . . In 1910 entered state Senate race as Democrat and won in rock-ribbed Republican district.

Roosevelt campaigned for Woodrow Wilson in 1912. . . . He became assistant secretary of navy at $1,000 a year, and was in charge of the 1920 second nomination of Al Smith for Democratic nomination for presidency at San Francisco convention. . . . Became vice presidential candidate but lost. . . . Had infantile paralysis in 1921 and at 38 was paralyzed from hips down.

For the next seven years Roosevelt was diligently at the task of healing his body. In 1924, however, he was in the limelight when he tried in vain again to nominate Al Smith. MAY DAY SERVICE WELL ATTENDED

Religious Mass Meeting Fills South Methodist Church Yesterday.

Despite the heavy rainstorm yesterday afternoon, the South Methodist Church was well filled for the May Day "Red, White and Blue" service sponsored by the Salvation Army in an effort to combat any tendency, here, of Communistic activity. The meeting was conceived by Ensign George D. Williams of the local Corps, based on the success of the Mass Meeting last winter, in which the Salvation Army Training College Band and various musical organizations of this town took part.

No "Red Menace" Chairman Willard B. Rogers welcomed Colonel Fletcher Agnew, of New York, one of the Army's distinguished leaders, to Manchester, and spoke briefly of the situation here. Mr. Rogers said that Manchester had no "Red" menace and never had any in this "the cleanest town from coast to coast and from Maine south." The Commissioner introduced Colonel Agnew as the "biggest little man in the Army" and spoke of the excellent relations existing between the Salvation Army and official Manchester.

Colonel Agnew took for his subject, "Help" and reviewed the work done during the past year in New York City in aiding the unemployed, feeding and supplying them with work insofar as possible. Colonel Agnew reviewed the work of the Army from the day that William Booth left the Methodist church in England and preached in East End, London from a soap box. Conditions were then very much the same as today in the world's largest city, and the Founder soon learned that something more than preaching was needed to improve the living conditions of the workingman.

General Booth The speaker told of the great interest taken in mankind by General Booth, and spoke of his efforts in founding homes for wayward girls; homes for the aged and hospitals for the sick. The movement was founded on the principle that every one "able to help themselves" were encouraged to so work in their own interests.

Speaking of the Army's relief work in New York City during the past year, Colonel Agnew said that $900,000 had been expended in aiding the unfortunate, and that $1,000,000 will have been spent during the middle of May. In one building alone, Colonel Agnew said the Army had been housing and feeding 2,200 men and said that homes for women had been maintained during the past year.

During the past year $51,000,000 had been spent in New York by various relief agencies and about May 15, 20,000 men will be turned out by the city and left to their own ends after having had three days' work each week at $5 a day. Stating that it was useless to "trust in men alone," the speaker said he was convinced that the country needs to "look to God for help," and that every citizen should do all possible to "uphold the President and his Cabinet in the present crisis by prayer."

Speaker, Impressive Colonel Agnew is a little man, but his earnest appeal to the Manchester audience left a distinct impression. In close touch with the situation in the country's largest city, Colonel Agnew said that relief agencies everywhere helped to the utmost, the situation would be simplified.

Chairman Rogers told Colonel Agnew of the work being done to aid local unemployed and urged a continued effort to augment the fund of $10,000 for next winter. Speaking of crime conditions in other parts of the United States, Mr. Rogers said that if other cities had officials of the caliber of Hugh M. Alcorn, this state's statistics there would be less criminal tendencies. Mr. Rogers urged the use of the Army, Navy and Marine Corps as his solution of the crime wave, "fighting the lawless in their own right" and a wholesale deportation of those convicted of crime. In this manner, said Mr. Rogers, the country would be rid of troublesome criminals.

Concert The Swedish-American Bell Orchestra of Chicago gave two groups of selections and Miss Marie Rasmussen, violinist, was very pleasing in two groups of excellent numbers. The quality of the entertainment was far above the average, the density and grace of the bell ringers in their rendition of the classics, American melodies and hymns, was of high order, and the surety of tone and technique of Miss Rasmussen's offerings were laudable. The Salvation Army Band under the direction of Bandmaster David Addy played a group of American Melodies by Bandmaster Broughton. Organist Archibald Sessions played an inspirational prelude. In the evening the orchestra presented another fine concert on the bells and musical glasses and Colonel Agnew brought the message.

STABILIZE DOLLAR, DEMOCRATS' PLAN

Washington, May 2.—(AP)—House Democratic leaders plan to throw their full weight behind an effort to pass today the Gold-sborough bill under which the Federal Reserve Board and Treasury could use $9,000,000,000 to stabilize the dollar.

Sponsors of the measure have been assured they would have an opportunity to suspend the rules and pass the bill, which is opposed by Eugene Meyer, governor of the Federal Reserve Board.

Under this procedure 40 minutes of debate would be allowed on amendments which would be permitted. The bill would charge the Treasury and Reserve system with the duty of establishing the purchasing power of the dollar at the average level it had between 1921 and 1922.

NOTED HORSEMAN DIES

Cleveland, May 2.—(AP)—H. K. Devereaux, well-known Cleveland horseman and turfman, died this morning at Thomarville, Ga., according to word received here.

Mr. Devereaux was a former president of the Grand Circuit Racing association, and prominent in Cleveland harness racing.

From 1900 to 1925, Devereaux was the country's outstanding figure in Grand Circuit racing. He introduced many innovations and was largely responsible for the return of the "big line" to its present popularity.

In recent years he had been in virtual retirement because of ill health. He sponsored the "Devereaux Plan" for stiffening harness racing competition. Under his plan runners dominating their class would be given an additional handicap and pushed into a faster class.

DREAM COMES TRUE

Maitland, N. S., May 2.—(AP)—Mrs. Ralph Fowlow, wife of the Anglican rector here, dreamed the other night that she would suddenly in a smoke-filled room. The dwelling's interior and furnishings were destroyed by the flames.

Mrs. Fowlow was uninjured. Tests with butterflies prove that color, and not the odor of flowers attracts them.

MAN COMMITS SUICIDE WITH HIGH EXPLOSIVE

Chilmark, Mass., May 2.—(AP)—The remnants of a body believed to have been that of Vladimir V. Messer, missing from New York since July 28, 1931, were found today.

Police men who found the body and Medical Examiner P. C. Cosgrove, believed Messer had blown himself up with a high explosive and dry cell batteries.

Two weeks ago a bundle of clothes, from which all identification marks were removed, was found along with a bill fold on which had been printed "V. V. Messer." New York police volunteered the information that Messer was missing and had once made a statement that if he ever committed suicide he would do it in such a manner his body would never be found.

Boys found a part of a body yesterday and State policeman Richard Cleary and Chief E. J. Flaherty of the Tisbury police led a party of searchers today. They found parts of the body scattered over a 100 yard area and they found the remains of four dry cell batteries.

Last summer Vannart seriously injured himself when he punctured his neck and body several times with an ice pick.

TYPHOON KILLS 22

Manila, May 2.—(AP)—At least 22 persons were killed by the typhoon which swept Sulu in the southern Philippine island last Friday. Governor Spiller of the province reported today to General Theodore Roosevelt.

Many districts had not yet reported, he said. Five Army airplanes left Manila to survey the damage. A Red Cross unit was dispatched by steamer with medical aid and relief supplies.

Only three buildings escaped damage in the historic town of Jolo, principal city of Sulu island, advices said. One steamer was wrecked and another driven ashore. It was the first serious typhoon in that section since 1904.

MAN'S BODY FOUND

Westport, May 2.—(AP)—The body of Samuel Vannart, 68, of Compo Road, was found this morning in the Saugatuck river and was pulled ashore by the police. Vannart left his home some time ago, saying he would never be seen alive again.

CARDINAL HAYES SCORES N. Y. BURLESQUE SHOWS

New York, May 2.—(AP)—A letter from Cardinal Hayes, Catholic archbishop of the Diocese of New York, branding two burlesque theaters on 42nd street "breeders of vice," was admitted into evidence today before License Commissioner James F. Geraghty in a hearing which will determine whether or not the theaters are to be relicensed.

The cardinal said he spoke in the name of one million citizens. Defense attorneys for the theaters began introducing evidence to combat the contention of 42nd street property owners that the theaters injured the "moral tone" of the district and depreciated values.

George M. Stoll, second vice-president of the Chase National Bank in charge of the Times Square branch, testified the bank's business was not affected by the presence of the theaters.

COMMITTS SUICIDE

Deep River, May 2.—(AP)—John Finkelday, 55, was found dead in his garage yesterday of carbon monoxide poisoning. The medical examiner pronounced the case suicide. Finkelday had been a manufacturer here since his removal from New Britain five years ago.

Electric Housekeeping-- Easy Housekeeping

ELECTRICITY today is doing hard housework for thousands on thousands of women—the jobs that used to require much time and physical strength.

Are YOU trying to do housework manually because, perhaps, you feel that electricity costs too much? Do you realize that the more current you use, the lower the average price becomes? We are selling on our Partial Domestic Rate ten kilowatt hours for 40c; twenty for 80c; thirty for $1.20 and forty for $1.60.

And do you realize how little electricity modern equipment uses? One kilowatt-hour will operate a vacuum cleaner for 6 hours; or ten 50 watt lamps for 2 hours; or a sewing machine for 20 hours; or a washer for 4 hours; or a cooker—high heat—for 1 2-3 hours; or an iron for 1 2-3 hours.

When appliances require so little current and dollars go so far in buying electricity, it doesn't cost much to do your housework in the modern manner, ELECTRICALLY.

EX-PRESIDENT LANDS A DOZEN BIG TROUT

Hartford, May 2.—(AP)—Calvin Coolidge caught about a dozen big trout and several little ones that he threw back at former U. S. Senator George F. McLean's wild life preserve in Granby this morning, after he drove down from Northampton with Mrs. Coolidge for a day's fishing and to give news and movie photographers a "holiday."

Mr. Coolidge, having been persuaded by Senator McLean that it was time he was photographed actually catching a fish, did everything the eight cameras men asked him to, including walking out into the pond, hooking what he said "looked like a big one" and landing it as the cameras clicked behind him. The largest catch weighed, according to an estimate by Amos George, Senator McLean's warden, two and a half pounds and nothing much under a pound was kept.

AGAINST DEFENSE CUTS

Washington, May 2.—(AP)—The opinion that "permanent harm" would come to America's defense structure if it was further reduced was expressed today by Frederick S. Payne, assistant secretary of war, in an address to the American conference on the institutions for the establishment of international justice.

He cited statistics to show that current military activities of the army cost only six or seven per cent of total Federal expenditures. He added: "The best available figures show that for like purposes Italy spends 25 per cent, France 17 per cent, and Japan 15 per cent."

FIND GIRL STOWAWAY

New York, May 2.—(AP)—The liner Ile de France, which arrived recently with a bogus Russian grand duke as a stowaway, was on its return voyage to France today, this time with a woman stowaway on board.

The French line officers received a wireless from the ship saying that 17 year old Ada de Smitt had been discovered on board. The message came as the girl's father, an unemployed diamond cutter, was in the line's offices enquiring if any word had been received of his daughter, whom he had not seen since she went to see a friend off on the liner Saturday.

On its last westward journey the Ile de France had as stowaway Harry Gerguson, alias Michael Romanoff, who slept in a dog kennel and mingled with first class passengers several days before his deception was discovered. He has been ordered returned to France, not having been able to prove his American citizenship.

HEAD HUNTERS SEE THEIR FIRST AIRPLANE

New York, May 2.—(AP)—The head-hunting Dakays of Borneo were so intrigued at the sight of their first airplane that they wanted to know whether it laid eggs.

Richard Halliburton, of Memphis, who is on a leisurely flight around the world, told the story to associates in New York today in a cable from Manila.

The Tennessee flier's message said he had arrived at Manila at the end of a 40,000 mile flight and had spent three weeks in Borneo with his plane, the "Flying Carpet," visiting the head hunting Dakays, who never had seen an airplane.

"Took the chief flying in native undress, except for goggles," the cablegram said, "apparently big event in Dakays' history. War boats were filled with warriors who came 100 miles to see the chief fly. Trans-America asked if airplane laid eggs."

Halliburton, who is accompanied by Moy Stephens, Jr., of Los Angeles, said he planned to sail May 7 aboard the liner Franconia, Moinsky, arriving in San Francisco May 31.

HAD VALID EXCUSE

Torrington, May 2.—(AP)—"My brother broke his leg stepping from an automobile and I had to take him to a cobbler's shop to have it repaired," was the excuse given by a Torrington High school sophomore when he arrived tardy for school, it was learned today. Investigation by Principal Frank M. Jeffrey disclosed that the soph's brother has a wooden leg.

COVENTRY

"Mystery Island," the three-act comedy which Sunset Rebekah Lodge presented in Odd Fellows hall, Manchester, last month, will be repeated tomorrow evening in Grange hall here, under auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society.

The Rebekah players have received many compliments on this play, which was directed by Miss Emily Klemm, and produced under the chairmanship of Miss Edith Walsh. Mrs. Henry Lowd of Manchester, formerly of Coventry, plays the part of the maid, Tillie, and does it in her usual clever way. The other parts are of similar importance and are played by Miss Martha Klemm, Mrs. Mimmie Smith, Miss Ruth Morter, Miss Lillian Reardon, Miss Evaline Pentland and Mrs. Mildred Harrison. Leon Holmes was the hired man who is heard but not seen.

MONDAY, MAY 2

"SOAKING" PROPAGANDA
 One agile bit of propaganda which has been highly successful so far during the frantic struggle to get the nation's fiscal affairs into balance is the warning against "soaking the rich" which was broadcasted in huge volume as soon as it became evident that federal taxes would have to be very largely increased.

"You will paralyze business," it was argued, "by driving capital into tax exempt securities and discouraging the conduct of enterprises." So it was promptly decided, even among the rank and file, that it wouldn't do to "soak" the high-bracket income tax payer.

The result is that in its present form the tax bill lets the very rich American off with a total income tax which is just a small fraction of the amount paid by his British cousin of equal income. Nobody is coming out of the tax mill with so few scratches on his hide, or such slight ones, as the individual of great wealth.

The professional and small business man of moderate income is to take a pretty fair licking. The ordinary salaried person is going to have to pay every penny that he can afford. The one object of tender solicitude so far has been the man who best of all can afford to contribute.

We have never yet seen it explained how the very wealthy are going to "take their money out of business and invest it in exempt securities." Where are the securities to come from? Where are they now? Probably nine-tenths of all such securities are at this very moment in the possession of this little group of very rich people. At all events they are owned by somebody.
 The volume of them is not to be increased merely because a few persons would like to have all their wealth relieved of taxation. Tax-exempt securities are not to be considered out of the air. There would be no more of them in existence, if we were to "soak" the rich three or four times as hard as they are now soaked in the surtaxes, than there are now. This bogey of the flight of wealth into "tax-exempts" has been strangely successful for such a silly thing.

As for the discouragement of high taxes to new enterprises, that is a rather stuffed scarecrow. If a rich man is making ten millions a year in profit he is going to fold up his tent, retire from civilization and go live on a desert island because the government decides to take five of the ten millions away from him—or even a still greater part, as it does in Britain? Or is he going to keep on plugging for that five or four or three millions that he can still get and keep?

This subject is one of those which is bound to make the passage of the tax bill by the Senate a long drawn out affair even after the committee gets through with it.
 There will be, beyond doubt, a very serious effort to do some real "soaking" of the rich when the measure gets onto the Senate floor.

HUEY'S PURPOSE
 Huey Long, that political product of the Deep South which could not possibly have originated in any other part of the country, made a typical gesture in the Senate on Friday which may easily be interpreted as indicating the possibility of one more very active contender for the Democratic Presidential nomination. By far the most picturesque of the candidates so far is Alalfa Bill Murray. But if Huey Long should appear as a claimant for the nomination Murray would become commonplace and conservative by comparison.

Senator Long began his show by offering a resolution instructing the Finance Committee to model the tax bill so as to prevent anyone from receiving a yearly income of more than a million dollars a year or an inheritance above five million.

When the Democratic Senate leader, Robinson of Arkansas, repudiated
 the Long resolution Huey made perhaps the most impassioned and demagogic speech that has been heard in the Senate Chamber in two decades. He waved his arms, whirled about like a windmill, shouted denunciations of the rich, accused his party of taking orders from multimillionaires like Baruch, and wound up by resigning all his committee appointments, shouting that the Senate Democrats must set up a new leadership in place of Robinson's.

Blatherskite Long does not blather without a reason. He never did, even during his noisy career as governor of Louisiana. His spectacular Senate play was not without a purpose. He perhaps thinks that the Democratic party at this time could be swept off its feet by a sufficiently violent demagogue. Than Huey, as he demonstrated Friday, none could be more violent or more of the mob leader. Like enough he thinks he sees a chance to stampee the "down-trodden" into putting him in the White House.
 Believe it or not.

DEMOCRATIC GLOOM
 Old Man Gloom has emerged from the smoulder of the Democratic primaries of last week and is now sitting heavily on the shoulders of some of the faithful who, until quite recently, had been counting the chickens of an easy victory in this state next fall. Listen to the sorrows of that sound party organ the New Haven Journal Courier:

The democratic leaders have plainly thrown caution as well as compromise to the winds; against the protestations of the Governor, their titular leader, they are indulguing the luxury of intra-party feuding with little consideration of its very possible consequences.
 Driven by self-confidence, they have felt their chances are too good to be menaced by a little thing like intestinal war. They have advanced far on the road to that party disruption which historically leads to republican victories and the local and state outcome merely emphasizes that they intend to pursue it to the bitter end. The only prophecy unbiased friends of the party will risk at this moment is that the end may be bitter indeed.

All true. And all very sad, from that point of view which for many years has been the point of view of our New Haven contemporary. That is the point of view from which one beholds the Democratic party as the party of Jefferson and Jackson, the party of the plain people who are the backbone, etc.
 It is a romantic and an historical point of view. But it has nothing to do with actuality.

It is hard for the old time hickory Democrats to realize it, but it is a good deal more than a generation since there really was a Democratic party in Connecticut. There have been several utterly antagonistic and sharply contrasting groups which for some utterly inexplicable reason have persisted in speaking of themselves and thinking of themselves as belonging to the same political party, but which never did and never could mix any more successfully than oil and water.

The Democratic party in this state never gets anywhere because it lacks every element of unity and cohesion and common purpose out of which a political party must be built.
 It has spilled the beans, of course.
 It was sure to spill the beans. There is no reason why the Journal Courier should be shocked or disappointed.
 So old and experienced a newspaper should have foreseen the inevitable.
 It should not have permitted itself to expect the Democrats to act like a party. They never do. It takes an optimism to be found only in extreme youth, extraordinary health and vast inexperience to imagine that they ever will.

THE DEBT SITUATION
 The recent declaration by Germany's finance minister, Herr Dietrich, that Germany will not pay any more reparations, would have caused an infinite sensation if it had been made two years ago. Now, although it ranks as an important international utterance, it occasions no surprise whatever.

It has been fairly clear for a good many months that the reparations cow has been milked dry. You cannot get blood out of a turnip, no matter how hard you try.
 Sooner or later, of course, the whole problem will be dumped in the lap of Uncle Sam. By autumn we shall have a pretty clear idea of just what this German refusal to pay reparations is going to mean to us;
 and the horrid suspicion grows growing that in the end Uncle Sam will be found holding a capacious, wide-mouthed and totally empty bag.

THE FARM'S ADVANTAGE
 The farmer may be having a hard time these days, but the state of Michigan last year had more applications for homestead land than it had had in several years previous.

 Most of the applicants were jobless factory hands, who jumped at the chance of getting a bit of farm land, tax-free for five years, on which they could raise food for their families. State officials admit that most of these homesteaders will probably return to the factories as soon as good times come back, letting their homesteads revert to the state; meanwhile, however, the
 "back to the farm" movement is popular.

This touches on the one great advantage that the farmer has over the city worker. Times may be vil-lainously hard and money may be scarce; but he can at least feed himself and his family, while the jobless man in the city has to depend on charity for every bite. Being broke on a farm is several degrees better than being broke in the city.

RUBBER-TIRED RAIL CAR
 The rubber-tired, gasoline-powered railway car that was tried out recently on a railroad in the middle west may eventually be the instrument with which the railroads will wage a successful fight against the bus.

This car, devised in France and now being produced in the United States, is admirably designed to compete with the bus. It can carry 30 passengers, can attain a speed of 55 miles an hour and has an operating cost of only 15 cents a mile—as compared with 25 cents for the bus.

Railroad officials who inspected it expressed keen interest. It is quite possible that a lot of the local passenger traffic lost to the motor bus in recent years might be regained with some such car as this. You are apt to hear a good deal more about it in the next few years.

IN NEW YORK

Let Us Be Gay!
 New York, May 2.—Here it is,
 fellows, right from the old sartorial feed box; you'll have to have the blues to be gay this summer!

Yes sir—royal blue and oxford blue, slate and pattern blue, with touches of buckthorn green, willow, berry red, corn, raspberry, copper and cannibal brown. The fashion makers are determined that we put on a bright front. In other words the Park Avenue and Fifth Avenue
 men's shops are going to show anti-gloom clothes.

It may have been a mild winter,
 but they're looking for a white summer. And you should see those passel suspenders to match the white!
 And those blouses, a la Riviera....
 Tra la and again, tra la!

Sailing, Sailing!
 Flash of new paint and the scatch of scrapers at work on hulls and decks are spring signs along the rivers and bays, as the "be for the sea" season nears. A few hardy boat fans have already spread their white sails.

But there's bitter news for rich
 Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan. His Corsair, reckoned the most elegant and high-powered yacht, is to be rivalled, and mayhap eclipsed, by that of Mrs. Cadwalader, of the Philadelphia Cadwaladers. Hers, the Savarona, is a mere 7000 horsepower affair.

Aboard, I am told, are such tri-ans as a pipe organ, gold doorknobs
 and a black Egyptian bathroom.
 The Corsair carries a crew of 58,
 and they have staterooms—if you please—not bunks or berths. The wage of Captain Porter is said to be $12,000.

And just to show you what can be tossed to that old devil sea, the 181-foot J. A. MacDonald tub has a laundry list for "whites" and such of $500 a month alone. Table service cost of the Manville ark, the Es-maro, has been estimated at $10,000
 a season. Mrs. Cadwalader's china, silver and such was a mere $26,000
 item.

Rough life, these sailortalk lead!
 Reverting to Types!
 Of all the adventures and swashbucklers I have encountered, Count von Luckner, Felix Reisenberg and Rafael de Nogales, soldier of fortune, seemed more closely hew to type. Each might have stepped from a movie casting director's office.

On the other hand, Lowell
 Thomas appears to have been born in a dinner jacket, yet his Arabian adventures alone have filled a couple of books: William Beebe has tickled his neck at the sea bottom often, but in a softspoken, gentle fellow; Richard Byrd would have made a grand matinee idol, movie hero or collar ad gent; Bill Leeds looks pretty much like the millionaire playboy that he is, but he's been hero of a dozen hazardous exploits; Jimmy Cagney, established as one of the screen's toughest characters, is modest and quiet and slightly shy; Richard Halliburton could pass as a tailor's model.

Speaking of Cagney reminds me that, while being rediscovered by old fellow Manhattanites, he occupied a dais of honor at the Friars' the other night. Which amused him, for not so many years ago he had been a call boy in the very banquet room.

A red-headed product of reman-dar streets, Cagney rallies now, shortly after arriving in Hollywood,
 two of the Yiddish moguls decided to talk behind his back and so spoke in the good old East Side lingo. Jimmy all but floored them by coming right back in the same tongue, having picked up quite a vocabulary on the sidewalks of N. Y.

Health and Diet Advice
 By DR. FRANK MCOUT

EYE TROUBLE AND POOR DIGESTION

A cataract of the eye, inducing blindness, may be caused by chronic digestive trouble says Dr. Russell E. Simpson of Pasadena, Calif., in reporting the results of 13 years of study. He also states that a large percentage of eye diseases can now be traced to auto-intoxication and faulty diet.

We are familiar with the dentists telling us our tooth troubles are due to poor diet and now the ophthalmologists are learning that poor eyesight is likewise the result of wrong diet and self-poisoning.

We all know that the eyes are delicate organs, responding quickly to any upset in the digestion; for example large amounts of bile clogging the system as in biliousness will cause spots to dance before the eyes. One with indigestion will frequently find the eyes temporarily affected, leading to blurring, or to objects turning black. It is only reasonable to suppose that, when toxic poisons are circulating in the blood, these poisons will harm the eyes.

THE EYES AND DIGESTION
 Those suffering from digestive derangements commonly note some disturbance of vision such as blurring, heavy feeling, upon reading, or watching a moving picture, or the scenery while driving, or the eyes may simply feel tired and weak and there may be present a frequent desire to close them. All of the above symptoms indicate that you are not treating your eyes right and should make a change for the better.

Where eye trouble exists, it may in turn cause other conditions.
 For example, eye strain is the main cause of a special type of headache, and car sickness may arise from this source. Nausea and vomiting may suddenly disappear after the vision is corrected.
 Those suffering from nervousness should be particularly sure that their eyes do not need attention.
 In fact, eye trouble must be avoided by those wishing to build up their health and it may frequently be necessary to wear glasses to avoid unnecessary effort in using the eyes.

Other causes of eye trouble beside the digestive factor may be:
 Outright over-work of the eyes by those who drive the eyes all day
 at close work and then abuse them by reading, drawing, or sewing late at night. Or eye trouble may be caused by some defect in the structure of the eye itself, which would only be corrected by suitable glasses. Another cause of poor vision is a lack of tone in the muscles which move the eyes.

The best time to increase eye strength is when you first notice
 your vision is not as good as it used to be. If you begin early enough, there are several things you can do to improve your eye sight.

HOME TREATMENT
 A good plan is to diet properly in order to keep the digestive system in good order; this will overcome the faulty diet and auto-intoxication which are found to be important causes of eye diseases by Dr. Simpson. There are also eye exercises which one can do each day to bring a better circulation of blood to the eyes and to strengthen the muscles. It is always advisable to have the eyes examined to see if you need glasses. Resting the eyes during the day by closing them or gently placing the palms over them often gives relief from that strained feeling. You should also plan to rest your eyes over the weekend by a trip to the country where you can hike and let the eyes rest on outdoor scenery and far vistas as a change from close work. Colored glasses during the summer remove sun glare and save the eyes. When the eyes are very tired, lie down and place cool, wet compresses over them for ten minutes to refresh them.

I have a number of eye articles which I will be pleased to send you. Write to me in care of this newspaper, enclosing one large,
 self-addressed envelope and a loose
 two-cent stamp for each article desired.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
 (Ear Noises)
 Question: Miss Ruth C. writes:
 "Have had whistling noises in my head for over one year, following a severe illness. Frequently get a tired feeling in the heart.
 Would it be injurious for me to work in a place where the air is filled with gold dust which is printed on labels? My lungs are not any too strong. I am 24 years old."
 Answer: If you will write me again, giving me your full name and address, I will be glad to send you my article on ear noises, together with fasting and dieting instructions. The breathing of the air filled with gold bronze can certainly not be healthful, especially if the lungs are affected, but I do not believe this would cause your ear noises.

(Reducing Fat Arms)
 Question: Mr. H. writes: "Can you tell me why most of my weight goes to my arms? I am 5 feet 4 1/2 inches tall and weigh 180 pounds.
 My arms are enormous. Do you think it is my glands that do not work right? I will be glad to get your opinion on it."
 Answer: Glandular deficiency sometimes causes fatty deposits in localized areas; however, you are a great deal overweight and probably not only in your arms. I would advise you to take the fasting and

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

THE STRANGE FLIGHT OF AL SMITH—HE'S OUT!
 BY RODNEY DUTCHER
 NEA Service Writer

Washington—it's a sad thing that has happened to Al Smith.
 Al probably can't prevent the nomination of Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt over him. But even if he should give the "stop Roosevelt" movement the stimulus it so badly needs for success, Smith's position will hardly be any happier.

Old Al, the erstwhile hero of the multitudes, has lost power, prestige and popularity in his party. He is fighting desperately for what he has left. But when the voters and politicians choose delegates to the Democratic presidential convention they usually forget about Al.

And, whether or not Al really years sorely for that nomination, he must get over every day at the way in which the party is letting him down.

Al To Be Ousted
 Al is not only sore, but obviously contemptuous. He sees the nomination going to a man for whom he has small liking and apparently little respect. The man is not as big a man as Al is. He appears to have none of Al's fire, strength or courage. And the man apparently is going to oust Al as the party's leader simply by virtue of possessing the job in which Al originally put him.
 Roosevelt may have done Al a great favor to run for governor in 1928 so as to strengthen the national ticket in New York and it may have been hard to persuade him. But he did a far greater favor for himself and Smith really made him governor of New York.

Now here is Roosevelt, the probable nominee, about to run in a year when most Democrats are convinced that nearly any Democrat could win. If Smith, after his brave fight in 1928 against great odds, feels that he should again be the party choice in 1932, with a chance to win, no one can blame him.

The "No-More-Smith" idea
 But it's another sad fact that Roosevelt could never have attained his present pre-convention strength had it not been for a widespread desire in the party not to nominate Smith again this year.

Democrats through the south and west, and to some extent the east, determined to head off any 1932 Smith movement and easily became sold on Roosevelt as the strongest other candidate in sight. Their compelling idea was to pick a man who would win and such a man,
 most of them felt, wouldn't be Smith.

As much as the "no-more-Smith" idea was influenced almost entirely by Al's religion, the situation becomes more depressing than ever toward the Smith standpoint.

Everybody wants to know how far Smith, following his attack at the Jefferson Day dinner, will go with his campaign against Roosevelt. He still has a real personal following, although it has dwindled more than anyone expected it would.

 And in combination with the eastern anti-Roosevelt leaders he may be able to cause considerable trouble before and during the convention.

Many of his old supporters are accusing him of a "dog-in-the-manger" attitude, however, and the boys and girls who want harmony at all costs are either distressed or angry at his tactics.

If, assuming Roosevelt's nomination, Al carries his enmity into the campaign he probably will experience the saddest period of his life. From a politician's standpoint —and Al is a politician—he would become a mere obstructionist, a deserter from the party which survived him, a man with a heart full of bitterness whose only success could lie in the defeat of his own comrades and the re-election of the Hoover whom he gave his best toward licking four years ago. The spectacle, in fact, is hard to imagine.

On the other hand, if Roosevelt is elected, Smith will become just another Democrat—not even a cabinet member.

It is easy to sympathize with Democrats who would like a stronger, more impressive candidate than Roosevelt and who feel that the party has better men. Even among the pro-Roosevelt politicians who were here recently, there seemed a surprising lack of personal warmth toward the governor and quite a bit of evidence that many Roosevelt delegations would not tick with him through much fire or water. But they're committed to him now. They think they can win with him. They they're not disposed to listen

The people can't say the newspapers aren't giving them plenty of warnings. They print storm forecasts, stock market lists and radio programs.

No wonder the rubber industry is staying busy. Just think of the il-lings number of rubber checks.

MAINE GROUP TO VISIT STATES EXPOSITION

Will Be Guests of Springfield Show Sept. 18-4 H Club Leaders To Be Selected.

Springfield, Mass., May 2.—Based upon high records of achievement in 4-H club work, 140 Maine boys and girls representing every county of the Pine Tree State will attend the Eastern States Exposition here from Sept. 18 to 24 inclusive as guests of the Eastern States Exposition management and the Maine boys and girls has been an Exposition feature since 1926 and $5000 has been set aside by the State Chamber of Commerce to finance the training expedition this year.

Selection is made upon a basis of 4-H club achievement in agricultural and home making work over a 12 months period providing those eligible are still carrying on their project activities on Sept. 1 of this year. Winners of this capital 4-H club prize will be named by State Leader Lester H. Shibles of the College of Agriculture extension service.

At the Exposition the members of the Maine State camp will participate in the Exposition activities and will also be benefited by a series of lectures, educational tours and training courses under the guidance of agricultural and home making experts.

Queer Twists In Day's News

East London, South Africa.—Monkeys and baboons refuse to get into step in the march of progress. Farmers are growing bananas and pineapples and the animals once made their homes. So the simians devastate the crops and, to emphasize their displeasure, stone passing motorists.

Boise, Idaho.—Bandmaster George Fieberty believes "dried fish" music is cured by music just as "war blues" were. To prove it he will lead his musicians through Boise's busiest streets every Saturday during marketing time.

Spokane, Wash.—I want a couple of trees, says Walter Hansen, of Butte, Mont., to a shrubbery dealer here. He'll get just what he ordered: two spruce trees, 30 feet tall, and weighing three tons apiece. Kendalia, N. Y.—If there ever in an "oldest" family contest, Charlie J. Baldrige won. The posts around his garden were put in 113 years ago by his grandfather. They're still in good condition, too.

Gdynia, Poland.—The Polish tariff does not say anything about mummy, so an Egyptian mummy, destined for a Warsaw museum, was admitted as "dried fish." Customs officials figured that since the mummy was "dried flesh" the classification was suitable.

South Colton, N. Y.—An Indian arrow grew up in a tree believed by woodmen to be 172 years old. The arrow was found in the trunk 28 feet above the ground. It was imbedded there more than a century ago.

HOOVER BACK TO WORK

Washington, May 2.—(AP)—A brief two days devoid of state cares sent President Hoover back to his desk today a rested and invigorated man.

He returned to the White House late yesterday evening from a short week-end at his Virginia mountain camp, devoted mainly to out-witting wily trout. Mr. Hoover's flies and fishing skill fooled a round score—the bag limit—before he put away his rod.

After that he looked over the cabins of his summer refuge, unseen since last fall, and tramped the trails through the budding forest. A driving rain kept him and his guests clustered about a roaring log fire part of yesterday but evening this time was devoted to leisurely chat, for all work was left behind at the White House.

The rain washed out a section of the road from camp and a long but safe detour was necessary.

NEW LINDBERGH MELODY

Hollywood, Calif., May 2.—(AP)—Helen Kellers' poem, "The Valiant," dedicated to Col. Charles Lindbergh and written in 1927 when he made his flight to Paris, has been set to music by Maury Madison, composer and newspaperman, visiting here from New York.

The same lines inspired a sculptor to model a plaque, now in the Lindbergh museum at St. Louis. "The Valiant," Madison said, will be sung by radio from New York May 27, fifth anniversary of the Lindbergh flight.

PREMIER'S CONDITION

London, May 2.—(AP)—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald was ordered by his physicians today, after a two hour examination of his eyes, to take a three-hour rest each day if possible.

After the examination the prime minister had a long conference with Stanley Baldwin, Conservative leader, and planned to attend the meeting of the House of Commons this afternoon.

Latest figures of the U. S. Department of Commerce show the population of the world to be about 1,992,850,000.

Grand Chief, members of Damon Temple and out of town guests. The committee in charge follows: Mrs. Ella Lehmitt, Mrs. Lydia Tennstedt, Mrs. Louise Blair, Mrs. Frieda Scholten, Mrs. Hannah Davis, Mrs. Emma Brooks, Mrs. Rose Joyce.

The meeting will be called to order at 8 o'clock in Castle Hall, followed by an entertainment program. There will be remarks by the Grand Chief and other guests. All those planning to attend the supper are asked to telephone Mrs. Emma Brooks of Nye street before the end of this week. There will be a charge of thirty-five cents for the members, and no charge for those attending from out-of-town. Tickets, if it is the wish of the committee that a large number of the members turn out on the night of May 9 to greet the Grand Chief.

Rockville Police Court. The Rockville police are out to enforce the new regulations that require all automobiles entering Union and East Main streets from side streets to stop. Two more motorists were brought into the City Court on Saturday morning for not obeying the law.

Lolo Flicin, 24, of Stafford Springs and Henry Farra, 34, of West Willington were arrested the past week by Officer Merrill Cedor. In court Saturday Judge John E. Fisk nolleed the charges against both men on the payment of $2 costs.

Mrs. Wilhelmina Kuhnly. Mrs. Wilhelmina Kuhnly, 82, widow of Edward A. Kuhnly, died at her home at 17 Talcott avenue on Saturday following a short illness. She was born in Germany, but had resided in Rockville most of her life. She held an interest in the Kuhnly Heating and Plumbing Company, in which her husband was part owner before his death.

Mrs. Kuhnly was a member of Union Congregational Church, Friendly Class and Ladies Aid Society connected with the church, also Hope Chapter, O. E. S. She leaves two sons, Edward Kuhnly of East Hartford and Albert Kuhnly of this city; a daughter, Mrs. Bertha Fiel of Bridgeport, and a granddaughter, Miss Myrtle Kuhnly of Rockville.

The funeral of Mrs. Kuhnly will be held from her home at 17 Talcott avenue on Tuesday afternoon at 2:30. Rev. George S. Brookes, pastor, will officiate. Burial will take place in Grove Hill cemetery.

Mrs. Charles B. Reed. Mrs. Rosa E. Reed, wife of Charles B. Reed of 134 Grove street, died at her home late Saturday night following an illness of two weeks. Death was due to heart trouble. She was born in Ellington, April 25, 1856, and had resided in Ellington and Rockville all her life.

Mrs. Reed was a member of the Rockville Methodist church and the Ladies Aid Society connected with the church. Hope Chapter, O. E. S., and Vernon Grange. She was very active in church work and will be greatly missed. She was loved by all who knew her and the news of her death is being received with genuine regret.

Besides her husband Mrs. Reed leaves one daughter, Mrs. J. S. Brown of Manchester; two sons, Edwin D. Reed of Glastonbury and Elmer Reed of Northampton, Mass.; two sisters, Mrs. Emma Kellam of Shoshone Beach and Mrs. Coraella Wilcox of Bristol; one brother, Calvin D. Pinney of Newington Junction.

The funeral will be held from the Reed home on Grove street on Tuesday afternoon at 2:30. Rev. C. E. Johnson, pastor of the Rockville Methodist church, will officiate. Burial will be in Grove Hill cemetery.

Class Admitted to Union Church. A most impressive service was held at Union Congregational church on Sunday morning at 10:30 when fourteen candidates were taken into membership. A splendid address was given by the pastor, Rev. George S. Brookes. Mrs. Fred Gehring of Mile Hill, Tolland, and Mrs. Edward L. MEXICAN SALOONKEEPERS PROTEST HIGH LICENSE

Mexico City, May 2.—(AP)—Saloon and liquor store dealers here have organized hastily to attempt to convince the treasury department that the government's new high liquor license taxes are "ruinous" and should be modified.

In resolutions drawn up for presentation today to Alberto J. Pani, secretary of the treasury, dealers of the federal district said they would be forced to close.

The measure which went into effect yesterday, strikes hard at all liquor selling, but is especially severe on saloons and liquor stores along the United States border and in the federal district.

The measure places a tax of 1,000 pesos (about $385) monthly on first class saloons within 100 kilometers of the United States boundary. Second class stores will pay 600 pesos (about $200) monthly. Much of the liquor sold along the border is bought by American tourists.

While some border saloon keepers have announced they will close, it was considered probable others will attempt to stay open, meanwhile protesting the taxation.

BIGAMY CHARGE

White Plains, N. Y., May 2.—(AP)—District Attorney Frank Coyne was in possession today of an affidavit charging that Theodore Stewart, 37, committed bigamy when he married Olive Borden, the actress.

The affidavit was made by Pearl Marie Haworth, beauty shop proprietor of Buffalo, who said she married Stewart in March, 1919. She attached a marriage certificate to the affidavit.

District Attorney Coyne also has a marriage license which shows that Stewart and Miss Borden were married on March 28, 1921, the ceremony being performed by Justice of the Peace Infirid C. Allen at Harrison, N. Y.

The actress, who is separated from Stewart, has instructed her attorney to seek an annulment.

SOCIALISTS' CANDIDATES

New York, May 2.—(AP)—Vernon L. Reynolds of New York and J. W. Aiken of Boston are the Socialist Labor Party's candidates for president and vice-president.

They were nominated at the National convention of the party here yesterday. Reynolds, an advertising man, said:

"We are standing on the verge of a revolution. When that historic occurrence is over we shall witness the Socialist's Commonwealth of Emancipated Labor."

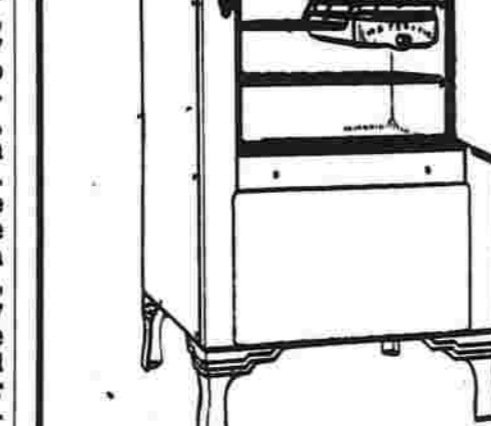

The party platform says: "Capitalism has grown into an all-devouring monster that must be destroyed if humanity is to live."

JOSEPH MIGAUULT DIES

Sherbrooke, Que., May 1.—(AP)—Joseph O'Collaghan, Mignault, brother of Hon. F. B. Mignault of Montreal, former justice of the Supreme Court of Canada, died at his home here tonight after a long illness.

He was born in Worcester, Mass., in 1832, son of the late Dr. Pierre Basil Mignault and the late Catherine O'Collaghan Mignault. He was a member of the Canadian Society of Civil Engineers and was at one time consulting engineer of the Dominion Department of Public Works.

SOCIALISTS' CANDIDATES

New York, May 2.—(AP)—Vernon L. Reynolds of New York and J. W. Aiken of Boston are the Socialist Labor Party's candidates for president and vice-president.

They were nominated at the National convention of the party here yesterday. Reynolds, an advertising man, said:

"We are standing on the verge of a revolution. When that historic occurrence is over we shall witness the Socialist's Commonwealth of Emancipated Labor."

The party platform says: "Capitalism has grown into an all-devouring monster that must be destroyed if humanity is to live."

JOSEPH MIGAUULT DIES

Sherbrooke, Que., May 1.—(AP)—Joseph O'Collaghan, Mignault, brother of Hon. F. B. Mignault of Montreal, former justice of the Supreme Court of Canada, died at his home here tonight after a long illness.

He was born in Worcester, Mass., in 1832, son of the late Dr. Pierre Basil Mignault and the late Catherine O'Collaghan Mignault. He was a member of the Canadian Society of Civil Engineers and was at one time consulting engineer of the Dominion Department of Public Works.

PRESBYTERIANS DODGE BIRTH CONTROL ISSUE

Philadelphia, May 2.—(AP)—The Presbyterian church has decided against the qualified approval of birth control contained in its "marriage commission" report which aroused heated controversy in the denomination last year.

Rejection of that much-discussed report is revealed with the issuance of the "Blue Book" containing all proposals that are to come before the General Assembly in Denver late this month.

A special committee of elders and ministers, appointed to study the report, titled "Marriage, Divorce and Remarriage," has replaced it with a chapter on the "Solemnization of Marriage."

The original report, an extensive document prepared by a commission of educators, ministers, physicians and women after several years of study, had approved the qualified use of contraceptives by married persons "in fidelity to the highest spiritual ideals of the Christian home."

The substitute proposal covers only two pages in the "Blue Book" and holds that marriage is an institution ordained of God but not a sacrament. There is no mention of birth control.

WILL NOT ACCEPT CUT

New York, May 2.—(AP)—A chorus of protests greeted Benjamin Gigli today because of his sole refusal to join other stars in accepting a salary reduction at the Metropolitan Opera Company.

Thirty-two members of the company criticized what they called the tenor's "lack of co-operation and esprit de corps" in a letter to General Manager Gatti-Casazza. They charged Gigli "during the current season profited from the sacrifice we have made to keep the Metropolitan going and is again trying to get his full salary at the expense of all of us who are reducing our respective salaries."

The signatures on the letters included those of Ross Ponselle, Lily Pons, Lucrezia Bori, Giovanni Martinelli and Tullio Serafin. Gatti-Casazza denied yesterday that Maria Jeritsch has refused to accept a salary cut. Although she has not yet signed a contract, he said he expects her to do so in Europe this summer.

MOOSE AT NEW BRITAIN FOR BOOSTER SESSION

Thirty Members of Manchester Lodge Go To Hardware City For Meeting Yesterday.

The most interesting booster meeting held in the interest of the coming state convention and field day of the Loyal Order of Moose was held in New Britain yesterday afternoon under the auspices of New Britain Lodge No. 183.

The business meeting opened with an address of welcome by Dictator Thomas D. Donlan of New Britain Lodge.

George A. Quigley, mayor of New Britain was the principal speaker of the afternoon. In his remarks Mayor Quigley explained the possibility for fraternal organizations such as the Loyal Order of Moose to help carry the country through the crisis which it is now in and that their teachings will give a better understanding of all mankind.

Frank A. Montie, chairman of the state field day committee from Manchester Lodge spoke for his committee, explaining the progress which they have made telling of the facilities which Manchester has for the holding of a convention and caring for the thousands of visitors that are expected here on those two days.

Joseph Chiochio, secretary of the Manchester field day committee also spoke on the activities of the Manchester committee in preparing for the greatest convention and field day which the order has ever held in this state.

Other members who spoke were, Mrs. John Welch, of Middletown, Past President John Lee of Wallingford, Vice-president John Welch of Middletown, Past Dictator Shelton of Bristol, Mrs. Anna Johnson, president of the state association of the Women of the Moose, Mrs. Agnes Maguire of Wallingford, Past State President Dahl of Waterbury, Herderson James T. Manee of Hartford Legion and Secretary James O'Brien of New Britain Lodge.

St. Regent Mrs. Hazel Snow represented the Manchester Chapter on the speakers' program.

The entertainment which followed the business session consisted of the following, Peggy Stevens in a song and dance number, Ery Joe in a dance specialty, Jim Manning the man who makes the ukulele talk, John Kiniry, Irish tenor who sang a number of favorite songs as well as several request numbers, New Murphy, New Britain nightingale, Joe Columbo, magician, Silvia Love fast tap dancer, Fred Johnson accordion solo and Princess La Rose and her Hawaiian Trio, James O'Brien assisted at the piano.

Following the entertainment a roast lamb supper was served to the visitors, after which dancing was enjoyed until a late hour.

Yesterday's meeting was the tenth which has been held in various sections of the state in the interest of the convention and field day which will be held in Manchester Friday and Saturday June 24-25 under the auspices of Manchester Lodge.

From the interest shown at these meetings this annual event of the Loyal Order of Moose will be the most interesting time which the town has seen in a number of years. A parade will take place Saturday afternoon with about two thousand members in line and between fifteen and twenty bands furnishing music.

The field day activities will be held on the Old Golf grounds.

SELECTING A CHAIRMAN FOR DEMOCRATIC PARLEY

Crann, New Britain; John M. Hefferman of Torrington, and Mrs. Rose Russell of Norwalk. The fifth member, Senator Joseph H. Lawlor, of Waterbury, is claimed by the Old Guard.

The committee met after a week-end of tempestuous developments when piled up fuel for a heated fight at the state convention here May 16 and 17. The convention will be held in New Britain yesterday afternoon under the auspices of New Britain Lodge No. 183.

The possibility of a contest for New Haven's 6 delegates appeared Saturday night when Alexander Winnick, attorney, proponent of the Roosevelt-McNevill faction, and member of the slate defeated by the town organization at the city convention Thursday announced he planned to call a meeting of the defeated slate to prepare to battle before the credentials committee for recommitment.

The group will meet in Winnick's office tonight to prepare their slate. In a statement Winnick charged Town Chairman David J. McCoy, supporter of Alfred E. Smith for the presidency and David E. Fitzgerald for National committeeman and the town organization which elected their slate of state convention dates with a series of irregularities.

Following the convention a group of New Haven supporters of Smith Board of Aldermen of that city, as National committeewoman. Prior to that time Mrs. Welch had met little opposition for that post.

Other members who spoke were, Mrs. John Welch, of Middletown, Past President John Lee of Wallingford, Vice-president John Welch of Middletown, Past Dictator Shelton of Bristol, Mrs. Anna Johnson, president of the state association of the Women of the Moose, Mrs. Agnes Maguire of Wallingford, Past State President Dahl of Waterbury, Herderson James T. Tank That Will Fly, Float, Go 100 Miles An Hour Is Sought By European Nation, Says Inventor

Lندن, ن. ج. — (AP) — A foreign nation, says J. Walter Christie, has offered him $850,000 for the new "flying tank" he is completing, supplementing the cash offer with the statement: "If we can't buy it, we'll steal it."

Christie, the white haired inventor whose name has been practically synonymous with the development of war tanks, disclosed that the offer was made by a representative of a European power.

The $850,000 price is the sum of two offers, Christie said. The first, one of $150,000, offered in the nature of a binder was made soon after work on the machine began.

No agreement was reached during that first discussion. Recently, however, with the tank nearing completion, the representative returned to Christie's laboratory to increase the offer a half-million.

Christie hasn't decided whether the third meeting will mean an agreement. He was approached once before by the same government, he said, for the rights to one of his earlier tanks, a type which is now in use in the United States Army.

On that occasion, he told the negotiator that if the war department at Washington was not interested in the tank, he might have first call on it for his government.

Christie's new tank is made light to do the same thing with his new "flying tank," but he is not certain that he will.

Discussing the foreign offer, Christie cited three other New Jersey inventors — Joseph Holland, Hudson Maxim, and Col. Isaac Lewis, all of whom he knew. He pointed out that all three had to go abroad with their inventions before their native country gave them recognition.

As yet there have been no offers for the tank or official inquiries for the United States war department. The machine, Christie says, is capable of a road speed of 110 miles per hour, and rough terrain speed of 70 miles an hour.

An armored tank that its inventor says will speed 110 miles an hour on the road, travel 70 miles an hour on rough ground and be carried through the air by a plane is being built by J. Walter Christie at London, N. J. Christie, shown standing beside the tank looking over the plans, says a foreign nation has offered him $850,000 for the machine. DISCOVERS SISTER AFTER 22 YEARS

ident Paul von Hindenburg of Germany and the heiress to one half of a $500,000 estate left by an argonaut of the California gold rush of 1849.

A letter from Seawell, August Auerwald of Riverside City, Calif., whom she had not heard for 22 years, brought the news to Mrs. Meehl, who is the wife of Fred E. Meehl, manager of a linen supply company. It was read to her over the telephone by Al Little, investigator of the country clerk's office to whom it had been forwarded by the State Health Department at Springfield. The letter was the fourteenth Auerwald had written to find his sister.

Tells Life Story The letter said that Mrs. Meehl, formerly Clarissa Bena Auerwald, was placed in an orphanage in Los Angeles 22 years ago when she was seven years old. Accompanying the missive was a newspaper clipping which told of the estate left to the brother and sister by their maternal grandmother, whose husband was a Forty-Niner. It also said that Auerwald's mother met and married in 1900 a young German newspaperman, who was a nephew of von Hindenburg and a member of the Prussian secret police.

Clarissa was born in Germany and Seawell was born two years later in California. She was placed in the orphanage following her parents' death. Seawell was reared by the Salvation Army of Los Angeles. All the information he had when he started his search was that his sister had left the orphanage in 1922 and had come to Chicago.

ating, Mrs. Massie refused to accept a friendly gesture made by him. Kelly has declined to comment.

Will Testify The question of whether Mrs. Massie would testify at the retrial was settled yesterday when Robert Bell of New York, her uncle, announced she would. Deputy Attorney General Harold Kay said new evidence had been found and the territory would have an "infinitely stronger" case than when the first trial was held.

The disorders which both naval and civilian authorities thought might follow Friday's manslaughter verdict have not occurred. But commercial reprisals have started. The service people have begun buying exclusively from the Army and Navy commissaries, while a group of white women has declared a boycott on the firms employing members of the jury.

Meanwhile the four convicted defendants of the murder trial were described by Bell as "bearing up under it wonderfully well."

Clarence Darrow, veteran leader of defense counsel has regained some of his spirit. The next defense move in the manslaughter case, said Montgomery Win, assistant defense counsel, will come Friday when motion for a new trial will be filed after sentence is passed.

Street Juggles St. Louis Line-up, Benching Bottomley, and Hallahan Subdues Chicago 7 To 1; Senators Beat Yanks.

By the Associated Press.

An altered lineup and a typical pitching performance by Wild Bill Hallahan, has given the world champion St. Louis Cardinals their first victory in four games and snapped the Chicago Cubs' winning streak at seven in a row.

Gabby Street, annoyed by an outfit that had succeeded in winning only five games out of its first 15, benched First Baseman Jim Bottomley yesterday, shifted Jimmy Collins to that post and inserted Ray Blades into the outfield.

This lineup stopped the Cubs without trouble 7 to 1 but the credit perhaps rests chiefly on Hallahan's shoulders. The "Wild One" passed ten men but allowed only three singles. The Cubs' defeat automatically sent the idle Boston Braves into first place.

In the only other National League struggle of the day the Cincinnati Reds defeated Pittsburgh 7 to 5 after the Pirates had gained a 5 to 0 lead. The Washington Senators gained the American League lead by beating the New York Yankees 4 to 2 as Lloyd Brown outpitched Charley Ruffing in a great duel.

West Ferrell won his fifth game in a row as Cleveland pounded out an 11 to 1 victory over the Chicago White Sox. Right-hander Irving Hadley made his first start for the St. Louis Browns, struck out 11 men and beat the Detroit Tigers 4 to 3.

RACING

Chicago, May 2.—(AP)—Racing opens in Illinois today and from now until October 31 the sport will continue at the five major tracks in the Chicago metropolitan area. The season opens at Aurora for an 18-day meeting.

The University of Wisconsin basketball team played to 48,000 paid admissions in its 11 home games of the 1932 season, averaging better than 4,000 a game despite a below-standard team.

Yale Crew Is Favored In Blackwell Regatta

New York, May 2.—(AP)—The major rowing event of the week will bring together Yale, Columbia and Pennsylvania in the Blackwell Regatta at Philadelphia next Saturday. On the same day dual engagements between Syracuse and Navy on the one hand and Mass. Tech and Princeton on the other will be held at Annapolis and Princeton respectively.

The fourth test is a brush between Harvard and M. I. T. at Cambridge tomorrow. This regatta was to have been held last Saturday but weather conditions forced a postponement.

Do You Remember?

One Year Ago Today—The Brooklyn Robins, playing before 23,316 persons, a record crowd at Ebbets Field, won a 4 to 3 thriller from the New York Giants when Fresco Thompson walked, stole second and came all the way home on a ground ball hit to Bill Terry in the 7th inning.

Five Years Ago Today—Tommy Loughran of Philadelphia, outpointed W. L. (Young) Stribling, Georgia light heavyweight title contender, in seven of 10 rounds to win the decision before 20,000 persons at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn.

Ten Years Ago Today—The Faunonok Handicap, three-quarter mile feature of Jamaica's opening day card, was won by Tryster, four-year-old from Harry Payne Whitney's stables. Tryster set a new track record of 1:11 2/5 to earn the major share of the $6000 purse.

More than 500 farm boys will play on baseball teams in leagues sponsored by the Illinois farm bureau this summer.

He Hits 'Em For Him-Selph

Hot summer months frequently will see these early blooming baseball flowers, but for the month of April, at least, the White Sox earn first prize with Carey Selph, third baseman. Rookie Selph, photographed above as he tripped in a recent White Sox-Browns game, has been pacing the batting attack of Lew Fonseca's revived cellar champs. Selph is 29, a well-seasoned player with experience gained in the St. Louis Cardinals' Houston farm, and didn't want to leave his insurance business in Houston to come into the big leagues.

TOP FLIGHT NOT DERBY FAVORITE

May Not Even Start Following Defeat At Jamaica Last Saturday.

Louisville, May 2.—(AP)—Fickle fortune has conspired to prevent a thoroughbred beaten in his only start of the year, as the favorite to win the 1932 Kentucky derby at Churchill Downs Saturday.

Mrs. L. G. Kaufman's Tick On, which ran second to Spring Stakes at Havre De Grace last week, was the beneficiary of the hard luck which overtook two leading contenders Saturday and is now a 3 to 1 future book favorite to capture the historic $50,000 added stake.

C. V. Whitney's Top Flight, former future book favorite, was well being eliminated from the derby picture when the crack filly finished a badly beaten fourth in the Wood Memorial at Jamaica Saturday.

With Top Flight listed as an unlikely starter, Tick On became the choice of the East to capture the blue ribbon event.

Local Sport Chatter

Nino Boggini, former Manchester High school catcher, is on the varsity squad at New York University. He starred with the N. Y. U. freshmen last year but is not yet playing a regular berth on the varsity.

LEVINSKY MAY MEET DEMPSEY FOR $50,000

Chicago, April 2.—(AP)—King Levinisky today heard rumblings from Reno, Nev., that he would be offered $50,000 for a ten-round battle with Jack Dempsey there on July 24.

The offer will come from a big gambler, "Leaping Lena" Levy, manager of her big brother, the Kingfish.

"And, Oh, he is such a big gambler," quoted Lena. "I can't tell you his name now but he certainly is a big gambler."

BOWLING LOCAL FAIR WIN MATCH

Mae Sherman and Dominic Beletti won the five game pinfall match by 48 pins. Mae Sherman had pinfall of 503 and Beletti 603. Middletown are not satisfied so they have arranged another match.

LEONARD FIGHTS AGAIN TONIGHT WITH GARAFOLA

New York, May 2.—(AP)—Bouts in New York and Minneapolis tonight open a mediocre boxing schedule for this week.

At New York, Benny Leonard makes one more start in his comeback campaign, boxing Willie Garafola in a ten-rounder at the St. Nicholas Arena.

At Minneapolis a featherweight struggle between Eddie Shea, Chicago, and Johnny Datto, Cleveland, took the card.

The outstanding match on the card pits Jackie Fields, welterweight champion, against Henry (Young) Firpo of Louisville, in a 10-round non-title bout at Louisville, Friday night, Derby eve.

Clouts Third Homer Against Penn State

LEO LERMOND

Leo Lermont has been thinking a lot lately about the Olympic games in Los Angeles this summer. Awake or asleep, he can't get the picture of himself winning the 5000-meter run out of his mind.

Lermont confidently expects to win something for Uncle Sam this year. He placed fourth in the 5000-meter run at Amsterdam in 1928, finishing behind Willie Ritola, Paavo Nurmi and Edwin Wide. Ritola, Nurmi and Wide obviously have passed their primes in races of that length. But Lermont is only 25, and running better than ever.

Holder of the national one-mile and two-mile titles, Lermont is the first since Ray to own both titles in the same year.

LUPINIEN'S BATTING

| Team | AB. | R. | H. |
|------------------|------|----|----|
| Penn | 5 | 0 | 1 |
| Columbia | 5 | 1 | 1 |
| Maine | 5 | 2 | 3 |
| Boston U. | 6 | 3 | 4 |
| Syracuse | 5 | 2 | 2 |
| Penn State | 4 | 2 | 1 |
| Batting average: | .500 | | |

Reports that Major League scouts are keeping a close watch on the playing of Al Lupien of Manchester, captain of the Harvard baseball team, have gained circulation frequently during the past few weeks.

It is Lupien's sensational batting that has attracted the most attention, especially his ability to hit for extra bases. In the six games played to date, including Saturday's 5 to 0 triumph over Penn State, the Harvard captain is batting an even 500.

Lupien has clouted either three or four home runs and about the same number of triples, doubles and singles in the 12 safe blows he has registered in 24 trips at bat.

Scouts Another Honor

Against Penn State Saturday, the former Manchester High school outfielder, bagged another home run. He whaled two out of the park against Boston University recently. In addition he has scored ten runs. He was batting at a .500 clip prior to Saturday's game.

Harvard lost its first two games to Pennsylvania 2 to 0 and Columbia 4 to 3 but has not been defeated since, taking the measure of Maine 11 to 2, Boston University 29 to 3, Syracuse 4 to 0 and Penn State 5 to 0. Next Saturday Harvard gets a chance to square accounts with Pennsylvania.

The young Harvard captain is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Lupien of 38 Peter street. His father is a Harvard graduate. He took part in athletics while at Harvard.

Al is playing rightfield for Harvard. He starred with the Harvard Freshman nine before making the varsity. In addition to his varsity Yale games, Harvard also plays a special dedication game with Trinity in Hartford which will give Manchester fans an opportunity to watch Lupien in action.

DEVENIS IN LIMELIGHT

Cambridge, Mass., May 2.—Harvard shut out Penn State, 5 to 0, Saturday afternoon, Charles Devenis holding the Nittany Lions to four hits. Against the Lions' left-hander, Dan Meade, Harvard made fifteen hits, including two triples and two home runs.

Not a Harvard outfielder had a fly ball to catch, as Devenis fanned thirteen men. Ten hits only having been made against Devenis in the thirty-four innings he has pitched this year, and he has struck out forty-eight in his four games.

The home runs today were made by Captain Lupien and John Sheldon. Sheldon also made a triple, as did Harry Wood, but the latter was caught, at third on the old hidden ball trick. Sheldon, catcher, played first base today for Harvard and probably will be a fixture.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

Bill Hallahan, Cards—Held Cubs to three singles, fanned five and won 7 to 1.

Red Lucas, Reds—Held Pirates to nine hits, collected two hits, drove in one run and scored two.

Irving Hadley, Browns—Struck out 11 men, allowed nine hits and beat Tigers 4 to 3.

Lloyd Brown, Senators—Outpitched Charley Ruffing and beat Yanks 4 to 2, allowing seven hits.

And Along Came Ruth!

Between Columbia will visit Cornell Wednesday and Penn will play Dartmouth at Hanover Friday. Contending teams thus are involved in five of the six engagements. As a result of New Wheeler's 4 to 3 win over Johnny Powinda and the 3 to 4 defeat they handed the Penn nine at New Haven last Saturday, Yale enters the crucial week a strong position for the title.

The strength of Wheeler's pitching against the Penn ace solves Coach Joe Wood's problem of finding a sharpshooter for the second half of the Dartmouth doubleheader. John Froaca's lame elbow should be all right in time to permit him to take care of the other game. The victory over Penn would send Yale into its Dartmouth series with a record of three games won and one lost.

Picturesque Monarch Of Iraq Is Character From Arabian Nights

THIS NUBIAN SLAVES BEAR LEGENDARY SILVER SWORDS

BY MILTON BRONNER
NEA European Bureau Manager

Surrounded by black Nubian slaves armed with silver swords, and accompanied by the leopard which he keeps as his favorite household pet, King Feisal of Iraq is like a page out of the Arabian Nights.

Here is King Feisal of Iraq, with his pet leopard at his feet. Feisal is successor to the once-mighty caliphs of Bagdad and sits his throne.

When the Turks finally abandoned the conflict against the Allies, it was generally believed that the territory north of the British lines was to remain in Turkey's hands.

That illusion was soon shattered, however, when British troops occupied the Mosul region. They explained that it was necessary to the proposed stat of Iraq, as a natural defense for Bagdad and as the natural granary for the country. As a matter of fact, the Mosul oil field was too valuable a prize to leave, and Great Britain grabbed it while the grabbing was good.

When the diplomatic battles at Versailles and Geneva were over, the embryonic state of Iraq was turned into a British mandate and the Turkish protests had been still by a promise of royalties on all the oil taken from the field for 25 years.

So Bagdad, with its quaint, narrow streets and romantic minarets, is likely to become one of the great oil cities of the world.

Early this year Feisal was made a real king by the League of Nations, on petition of the British government, which was tired of having to pay for Feisal's black Nubian slaves with their silver swords.

Feisal himself, however, has not allowed the oil to interfere with the coffee drinking in the quiet gardens of his palace, or with the chanting of Arab poetry to the croonings of his favorite flute.

The King of Iraq usually dresses in the storied fashion of the great caliphs who ruled Bagdad when it was the seat of the world's greatest power and one of the centers of civilization.

His long, silken robes, his golden dagger inlaid with precious stones, his piercing eyes and his black beard which stands out even more vividly because of the pallor of his face, all fit well the description which a movie magnate might make of the ancient caliphs.

He likes to sail down the ancient Tigris before the rising sun to the music of the pleasure barges which still traverse the historic river.

But even Feisal is beginning to adopt western ways, and ideas. If he is really in a hurry, he uses a motorboat.

And the honking of the horn on his American-bull car sometimes disturbs the peace of streets on which camels from caravans from the east brought the wonders of the world for Bagdad to buy.

Nevertheless, Feisal still remains one of the world's most picturesque monarchs, and it will take more than the proposed $40,000,000 oil pipe line to Syria and Palestine to change him.

A FEW CENTS

spent each week for a good fire insurance policy may save you many hundreds of dollars. Are you risking the loss of all your household goods when you can insure them for $1500 at less than one cent a day.

Think it over.

The Tinymites were quite surprised and peevish when they realized that they had one more passenger than when they started out. The skinny who had stowed away said, "Well, I guess I'm here to stay. We're far away from land and I know you won't toss me out."

"You are a messenger bird, I know. You want to take me? I won't go!" Then the Tinymites he said, "That bird will speak my play."

HOLLYWOOD GOSSIP

INTIMATE GLIMPSES AND INSIDE STUFF ON THE MOVIE COLONY

BY DAN THOMAS

Connie As An Extra
Hollywood.—For the first time in her life Constantine Bennett is having to fight for screen honors.

This young lady who has talked about weekly salary checks running into five figures without batting an eyelash now finds herself in the position of an extra girl. But she still rides to the studio in her sleek black limousine because her role as an extra girl merely is a part of her characterization in "The Truth About Hollywood."

In her new film, Connie starts out as a waitress and works her way through extra parts and small bits to film stardom. It's her first taste of being an extra too, since she started in this business at the top.

Charles and His Maid
Charles Butterworth tells this one on himself. A girl of short acquaintance was quite persistent in her efforts to attach herself to him, as girls sometimes are in Hollywood.

One day she invited him to get home for dinner. He declined so she immediately invited herself to his home. "But this is the maid's day out," Butterworth told her.

"Then I'll prepare your dinner," the girl cooed.

"Well, you see, I always take the maid out," Charley finally said in desperation.

It's Still a Good Story
An agent who has a fine story mind was talking to a studio executive about making a kidnaping picture. The producer said he would be interested if the story was entirely different than the Lindbergh case.

The agent then started to outline an idea. Right in the middle of his story he was stopped by the producer who said, "I have an original by a well-known writer on my desk now and the plots are identical."

"That's strange," replied the agent. "The story I am outlining is 'Ransom of Red Gulch,' by O. Henry and it's fully copyrighted."

Why Don't You Move
Donald Cook recently moved into a very secluded house—at the suggestion of his neighbors. You see, Don plays an accordion and sometimes chooses rather late hours for this pastime. Those in the neighborhood who didn't snore loudly enough to drown out the accordion objected and suggested to Don that he move. He did—into a house where he has no neighbors.

There should be some limit to realism. A few days ago a director requested a drunk for a scene in the picture. Two hours later his assistant returned dragging the fellow by the arm. And was he drunk! Well, the assistant poured a whole quart of gin into him.

At last, after many years of waiting, Harold Lloyd is going to Europe. He plans to leave shortly after the Olympic games to gather first-hand knowledge on the advisability of filming part of his next picture over there. Well, that's a pretty good excuse for the trip, Harold.

SENSE AND NONSENSE

Lines to the Apple Blossom
So daintily misty and fragrant,
Bejeweled by sun after rain;
With fairyland pink petals vagrant,
The apple trees now bloom again.
You'd never suspect they were mean things,
Or that they could ever bring woe;
But they turn into hard little green things
That bother our dear Willie so.

At the graduating time of the year
the average son and daughter resented at least one of the names that father and mother foisted on them when they were helpless babies.

HOW TO END THE DEPRES-SION—The personal one, we mean;
for if we end the personal depression
there won't be any other kind.
Here is the good medicine, prescribed by The Office Cat himself:

1. The chances were even that you would be born a girl. You won.
2. The chances were against your living to be 21. You won.
3. The chances that you would be born a boy and live to be 21, were 1 to 6. You won.
4. The chances that you would be born somewhere else than in the United States were roughly 15 to 1. You won.
5. The chances that you would be born an American, a boy, and live to be 21, were, therefore, only 1 to 80. You won.
6. Out of the 12 depressions this country has suffered in 75 years, you escaped all but one or two (consult your age).
7. The pain and suffering of this one you have escaped entirely or 90 per cent, we'll say.
8. You learned more lessons in the last two years than you learned in 13 or 16 years; and you learned them not too late.
9. Prices in securities, real estate, possessions generally, are down; even John D. Rockefeller isn't worth half what he was worth in August, 1929. Good levels will return, for him and for you.
10. So, having won practically every chance the world gives its children, just conquer the present indisposition to simple diet, sunlight, kindness to other people, and as much mental composure as you can manage. Out of every depression we have ever had, came a boom.

Teacher—What do you know of Margaret of Anjou?
Buddy—She was very fat.
Teacher—What authority have you to say that?
Buddy—Well, the book says that among Henry's stoutest supporters was Margaret of Anjou.

Wise or Otherwise
Offensive wives make defensive husbands.
It's the worse kind of luck when you have the kind.
Everybody knows that a busy-body has a nose for scandal.
Women will find heaven awfully dull if they have to wear the same style of robe all the time.

The idea that the good die young hasn't helped much in increasing the morality of the age... In the olden days clothes could stand up by themselves even when they were clean... If exercise reduces fat, why do so many women have double chins?... If one is born every minute, there will always be a group that thinks Europe will eventually pay up... Our idea of an appropriate gift for a bride's shower is a cake of soap.

Ossifier—Call a Cop
We've been to different states,
And here let us explain
You'd have to feed us poison
Before we'd go "ptomains."

Meteors are known to flash through the air at more than 100 miles a second.

OPEN FORUM

To the Editor of The Herald:
 Prof. A. A. Stagg, known everywhere as the director of physical education at the University of Chicago, and his classmate of Yale '88, were present at dinner where liquor was offered them. After both had refused it, Prof. Stagg said to his intimate friend, that "he had observed that the abstainers in his college class were the ones who had come through the years strong and vigorous. The heavy drinkers of his college days, many of them able, promising youths, had not survived."

JOHNSON, LITTLE GET POST OFFICE CONTRACT

Change Made and Hartford Man Assigns Plumbing Job To Local Firm.

Under a change of contract, Michael C. Beckanston, plumbing and heating contractor of 24 Albany avenue, Hartford has been awarded the plumbing and heating work in the new U. S. Postoffice at the Center. He in turn has sub-let the plumbing work to Johnson and Little, plumbing and heating contractors of 13 Chestnut street. They have already started work connecting up sewer and water lines with the mains and are now extending those lines in the basement that must be completed along with other sub-structure work.

MOVE BOOKS TODAY TO NEW LIBRARY

Public Library Volumes Being Removed From Robertson School To New Building.

Work was begun this morning moving the 6,000 volumes from the old library in the Robertson school to the Wilton Memorial Library. The remainder of usable books were all indexed and catalogued and will be placed on the shelves in the new library to form the nucleus for what is expected to be one of the most modern libraries in the state. The books are expected to be in place by May 10 the official opening date.

CHENEYS DEMOLISHING THREE MORE STRUCTURES

Hartford Housewrecking Co. Taking Down Grain Store, Charter Oak St. Block and Railroad Trestle.

The Hartford Housewrecking Company is engaged in the work of razing three different structures in Manchester, all owned by Cheney Brothers. One is the grain and feed store recently occupied by Smith Brothers on Center street near the railroad trestle. Another is the brick building at 23 Charter Oak street and the third is the Cheney coal trestle adjacent to the South Manchester Railroad near the Manchester Lumber Company. The lumber in all of them is to be sold. The Charter Oak structure is constructed of brick and is the site of the former Larson saloon.

CALLS COP "LIAR" IN COURT, JAILED

William Kaminsky Gets 10 Day Sentence For Contempt—Other Cases Heard.

Opinions were held about officers of the law but William Kaminsky of Buckland Alley learned this morning that it's wiser to keep them to yourself, especially while in court. Kaminsky was before Judge Raymond A. Johnson today charged with intoxication. He didn't like Sergeant John McGinn's testimony and let the court know that he considered the officer a liar with a couple of profanity. Judge Johnson immediately sentenced Kaminsky to 10 days in jail in contempt of court. He also fined the young man $15 and costs for intoxication.

JOHN-SUPP CASE

Frederick T. Shea of Hartford was before Judge Johnson this morning on complaint of his former wife Mrs. Helen Shea of Windsor charged with support of his two children. The Sheas were divorced at the time the husband was ordered to pay $18 a week towards the support of his two children. He has failed to do so according to the charge and Mrs. Shea has sought his arrest since July 8, 1931. The husband was represented in court today by Attorney William J. Shea but it was held the local court had no jurisdiction in the case. There being no evidence otherwise the case was nolle. Mrs. Shea immediately took steps to have Shea arrested in Hartford.

BIG BARN IS BURNED IN OAKLAND SECTION

Deming Street Structure Destroyed Last Night—Rabbits and Auto Parts Are Lost.

Fire believed to have been caused by spontaneous combustion, destroyed a large barn on Deming street in Oakland at 8:30 last night. Two rabbits were burned to death but more than a score were rescued. The barn, formerly owned by N. T. Pulifer, founder of the Oakland paper mill, is now the property of Morris Sullivan, Jr., of Mass., former manager of the American Writing Paper Company. The barn contained a large quantity of hay which had been stored there for a number of years.

Automobile parts junked by the Depot Square garage were also stored there. The rabbits are owned by the Mitchell family on Deming street. Quick action freed all but two large ones. The Manchester Fire Department responded on a still alarm and saved nearby buildings with the use of chemicals but the barn burned rapidly fed by the hay.

The blaze could be seen for miles and attracted hundreds of autoists.

Manchester Camp No. 2640, Royal Neighbors, will meet this evening at 7:45 for its regular business session with Mrs. Margaret Griffin of Hilliard street.
