

SENATE CHANGES HOUSE TAX BILL

Drastic Moves Made To Secure New Revenue To Balance Budget—Exemption On Checks Eliminated.

Washington, May 4.—(AP)—In drastic moves for new revenue, the Senate finance committee voted far-reaching changes today in the House tax bill.

The July 1, 1934, limitation given by the House to the life of the multitudinous new excise levies, was removed and the rates made permanent.

The five dollar exemption previously voted by the committee for the two cents tax on bank checks was eliminated, adding more than $35,000,000 to the measure.

A flat four cents levy on bond transfers, applicable to each $100 of face value, was agreed upon. The tax is expected to produce $10,000,000.

DISPUTE RESUMED

Washington, May 4.—(AP)—Revival of the dispute over the import taxes that have been intermittently in and out of the new revenue bill appeared imminent today when the finance committee resumed its work on the measure.

The duties were thrown out by the last change of sentiment of the committee.

Senator Jones (R., Wash.), told newspapermen as he went to the committee room he expected to get lumber import taxes written into the bill today.

The Washington Senator is sponsor of several amendments to put in port levies on logs, shingles and pulp wood.

Jones said he thought the import levies on coal, oil and copper, stricken from the bill by the committee, "would have a chance" to be put back in.

The committee also is studying the revenue producing possibilities of duties on rubber, coffee, tea and cocoa.

The finance committee first disposed of the sales tax by agreeing upon a flat rate of four cents a share.

The committee struck out of the House bill the tax of 1/4 of 1 per cent on loans of stocks which was aimed at curbing short selling.

The argument was advanced that the tax on stock loans amounted to triple taxation of the stock dealers.

Estimates on the amount of money to be raised by the bond levy varied. The four cents tax is applicable to each $100 value of the bonds.

Bond Bootlegging
Senator Reed argued that most bond transfers were outside the regular market and that the tax would merely penalize those sold on the

CONFIDENCE MARKET NEEDED BY NATION

Advertising Writers Told They Can Create One By Informing Public.

New York, May 4.—(AP)—Lieut. Gov. Herbert H. Lehman told the Advertising Club of New York today that the advertising profession can perform one of its greatest services to the country by creating a market of confidence to replace "the psychology of fear."

"You have the ability and the means to lay facts intelligently before people," he said.

"Ballyhoo is out of place at this time. It would serve only to aggravate the situation, but the making known of facts and the spreading of an understanding of conditions, is a task of major importance in accomplishing a solution of this problem."

He expressed the opinion that the tariff "should, and can, to a substantial degree," be taken out of politics, that it must be a "reasonable gift and fact" proposition and give foreign nations a reasonably fair opportunity for barter and exchange.

Credit Expansion
A moderate expansion of national credit at this time "appears to me to be much desired" the lieutenant governor said, and he added his belief that a moderate inflation, properly controlled, would benefit the country. He saw as inevitable retrenchment in cost of government, but warned that it must come as a result of intelligent planning and study, which he believed would give receipts from existing taxes which have proven to be disappointing, and suggested an entirely practicable revision of the Volstead Act to make legal the sale of beer and light wines, which he believed would "unquestionably bring in a tremendous excise tax."

PASS ECONOMY BILL THROUGH THE HOUSE

But Measure In Such a Shape It Will Help Little To Balance the Budget.

Washington, May 4.—(AP)—Virtually useless as an aid to budget balancing, the Economy bill was thrown through the House today, a mere shadow of the $210,000,000 measure originally drafted.

It was passed and sent to the Senate easily enough last night, carrying $42,800,000 of savings, but only after the insurgent majority had withstood on nine successive roll calls the desperate efforts of regular leaders to force reinstatement of big economies previously voted down.

The final outlook for the bill was uncertain. The Senate, busy with the tax bill and other legislation had so far given the measure scant attention but, being attached to the legislative appropriation bill it is sure to get action.

What it Accomplishes
All the bill accomplishes in its present shape is:

- Authorize President Hoover to reorganize government agencies subject to Congressional approval and create a public works administration to concentrate all but military and rivers and harbors work; disband or reduce the Philippine scouts and reorganize the shipping board to save $2,500,000.
- Suspend all overtime pay, automatic promotions and salary raises and retire all supernumerary government employees, reduce traveling allowances of railway mail clerks and Congressmen and curtail the transportation of enlisted men of the Army and Navy.
- Salaries Slash
Cut by 11 percent all government salaries above $2,500 exemption and prevent retire military and

CARLTON COON DIES; ORCHESTRA LEADER

Started First Radio Club In History—Met His Partner During the World War.

Chicago, April 4.—(AP)—Death came today to Carlton Coon, 33, who ended a 13 year partnership with Joe Sanders in the famous Coon-Sanders orchestra—a partnership born of a music store meeting of two World War soldiers and never broken in a rapid climb to national radio and vaudeville fame.

Coon died this morning in Henrotin hospital of blood poisoning caused by an abscess in the jaw which developed mysteriously last month while he was directing the orchestra jointly with Sanders in a Loop hotel.

Meantime, in keeping with all traditions of the show world, his friend and associate, Sanders, announced the orchestra would continue with its engagement here under the name of Coon-Sanders.

"Coonie would want it that way," he said.

Meet In Store
In December, 1918, after the Armistice was signed, two soldiers home on Christmas furlough visited a Kansas City music store. Capt. Carlton Coon of the commissary department at Jefferson barracks, St. Louis, tinkled away at the piano and sang and the sergeant, Joe Sanders from Camp Bowie, Fort Worth, Tex., joined him. They had never met before. A lasting friendship was born.

After their discharge, they struck a partnership in a small band that played at clubs and private parties. Came radio and the Coon-Sanders band became the Kansas City Nighthawks.

First Radio Club
There was the first radio club in history and when chain broadcasts began, the Nighthawks played their first chain program over the NBC Network from Chicago in 1929.

At the hour Coon died, the orchestra, which sometime ago dropped the name of Nighthawks, was playing a snappy dance number "Jig Time," in a hotel ballroom here. Sanders was directing. He dropped his baton and hurried to the hospital.

The widow, and Coon's mother, Mrs. Henrietta Johnson, were at the bedside. Coon was the father of four children.

The Coon-Sanders orchestra was distinguished especially for its rendition of negro spirituals and the singing of Coon and Sanders. Coon, a tenor, in addition was an expert drummer and twirled the drumsticks whenever Sanders wielded the baton. He also wrote several songs, among them "Hi Diddle Diddle," in which Hal Reid collaborated.

THOMPSON, OUT OF PRISON, BACK IN MANCHESTER

Lifer, Sure of Job, Is Keen About Baseball; Affected By Goodbyes After 17 Wethersfield Years.

At 9:40 this morning the brown door of Wethersfield prison opened and closed. In that moment Marshall S. Thompson of Manchester, pardoned "lifer," passed from detention to liberty after nearly seventeen years behind the Wethersfield walls. With firm, athletic step the Manchester man passed into Warden Reed's office for the customary goodby and instructions. It was the first time that he had ever been outside of the brown steel door in his 16 years, seven months and four days of prison life.

"Marsh" Thompson, as he is familiarly known to many local residents, was not alone the only "lifer" to be released this morning. The semi-annual Board of Pardons had met to consider 41 applications for pardons and acted favorably on only two, those of Thompson and John G. Bogardus, 42, New London. This morning Bogardus passed through the prison gates after spending 23 years as an inmate. He was admitted Feb. 9, 1916 for a life term.

Bogardus and Thompson had had to wait a while in the prison corridor waiting for papers to arrive from Hartford officially confirming the pardon. Friends of many years standing within the prison walls congratulated the pardoned men and wished them success on the "outside." Guard Walter Donaghy of Manchester has been in close contact with Thompson for the past three years, during which time the latter was prison mail orderly, was plainly affected by the parting, as was Thompson.

Had Nervous Night
"Marsh" admitted to a Herald reporter while waiting for his final papers that he did not sleep well last night. He will remember his last meal of "shortcake," which was served last night at the prison mess hall. As he gazed into the cell-block from the corridor, he seemed to see the faces of the men he had no word for a while.

"It will be hard to leave these walls," he said at length. "Of the 700-odd men there I can tell you 200 of their first names." His eyes wandered to the long flagstone wall leading to Wethersfield avenue, and back again to some familiar face who smiled beyond the ribbons of steel.

The minutes of waiting passed slowly for the two men. "I am glad John got his pardon," said Marshall. "I would have been afraid if he had been turned down this time."

"I suppose you went the rounds last night—shaking hands with the boys," suggested the reporter.

"No, I ducked it," replied Marshall. "In the course of my mail delivery I went into one shop for just a minute. It was 20 minutes before I got out."

It was easy to see that saying goodbye to old friends in prison is just as difficult as outside. And Marshall Thompson had no enemies among inmates or officials.

Was Model Prisoner
During his nearly 17 years in Wethersfield prison Thompson has been a model prisoner. He entered the prison in the prime of young manhood and worked hard to convince his superiors that he meant to make amends for his terrible youthful lapse. He was often entrusted with responsible work. He played the trombone for eight years in the prison band and played every position on the prison baseball team.

"All-around athlete, he also played basketball, handball, and football," he had been limited by the conservative attitude of "production-minded" executives and by the fact that many business men do not know how to find out what the people want. He said conferences of this kind helped solve business men's problems. He said that many business men want to spend too much money.

Winthrop L. Carter, president of the Nashua Gunmetal and Coated Paper Company, Nashua, N. H., said that the experience shows that "the products which catch the popular fancy will sell regardless of general business conditions."

WORLD IS FAR BEHIND RESEARCH ENGINEERS

New England Council Told Leadership Needed To Show How To Distribute Products Quickly.

Boston, May 4.—(AP)—Leadership that will show how to distribute products so quickly and so equitably that the standard of living of all the people will be increased is the need of "this mechanized world," James W. Hook, Chairman of the Industrial committee of the New England Council, said today. He presided at the council's conference on the development and marketing of new products.

Addressing nearly 200 New England executives, Hook said "the world in general is far behind the research engineer. He has shown it how to live on a higher plane."

"What is really needed in this mechanized world is a new and vigorous school of thought that will teach us how to live with lower and lower costs and greater and greater production, a leadership that will show us how to distribute the things that are produced so quickly and so equitably that the standard of living of all the people will be increased."

To Help Jobless
Professor Robert F. Elder of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology told the conference that "new and better products are a direct factor in relieving unemployment, since they increase the intensity of consumer wants and thus stimulate spending."

Elder said that although new products were profitable, the general adoption of new products programs had been limited by the conservative attitude of "production-minded" executives and by the fact that many business men do not know how to find out what the people want. He said conferences of this kind helped solve business men's problems. He said that many business men want to spend too much money.

Spareribs and $129 Cash Mixed Up in Court Trial

New York, May 4.—(AP)—It was the night of April 28 and Betty Steele, negress, had a yen for spareribs.

To the butcher shop of Edward Glickman she went. The butcher's helper whacked two bits' worth of ribs, put them in a paper bag, got his two-bits and the transaction was over.

What the helper did not know was that the bag he used was the very one his boss had chosen to hide $129 in. At least, that's the story now.

Of course Mr. Glickman was upset. For two-bits' worth of spareribs he should lose $129? He had some sharp words for his helper, but who wouldn't?

Time went on. Glickman learned the identity of his expensive customer and had the woman arrested.

In court yesterday Betty Steele pooh-poohed the idea that there was money in them that spareribs ribs.

"Your honor," she said, "I bought me spareribs and I gotten me spareribs. The gen'man put them ribs in a sack and I brungen 'em home and we's consumed 'em yassah. I never seed no money in that bag, no s'ib, and there weren't no money in it that bag."

"If they'da been money in the bag, them ribs would have been a fatted, 'cause they's germs on money, from what I hears, and there sho' weren't no germs on them ribs, which tasted pow-ful neat. I see got a real taste for currency, and them ribs ate just like two bits and no mo' no s'ib."

She was held under bond for further hearing.

HARTFORD MAN MURDERS WIFE; LONG TRIANGLE

Bank Porter Tells Police He Also Tried To Kill His Rival and Attempted Suicide Before Surrendering.

Hartford, May 4.—(AP)—Adolphus Gittens, 34 of 5 Brook street, employed as a porter in the Safe Deposit Department of the First National bank here, surrendered himself to the police at 3:45 this morning, five hours after his wife had been killed.

Before his wife was shot Gittens, it is alleged by the police, had attempted to kill Henry Green, 30 of 151 Brook street, whom he called his rival. Following Mrs. Gittens' violent death last night, the accused also attempted to kill himself by taking poison. He became very ill and decided to give himself up to the police when the poison failed to work. Green is employed as a porter at the Dime Savings Bank.

Tells Story to Police
Gittens related in detail the story of the alleged infidelity of his wife, Estria, and her repeated refusals to end her affair with Green for the sake of their four children, three daughters and one son, ranging in ages from five to thirteen. Green is also married and has one child.

Both Gittens and Green were subjected to long questioning by County Detective Edward J. Hickey and Captain Andrew J. Williams and Detective Sergeant Charles F. Daley and Michael D'Onofrio, of the local police department.

Gittens was arraigned before Judge William M. Harney in Police Court and was held on a charge of murder without bail. Green was arrested as a material witness and held on a technical charge of breach of the peace.

On recommendation of Prosecuting Attorney Daniel Flynn, call was fixed at $2,500 in Green's case.

Struggle for Gun
"We began slipping each other during an argument," Gittens told the police. Suddenly my wife, who was dressed in a bathrobe produced the gun. We struggled for possession of it. I am not sure whether she pressed the trigger or I did. I was in a haze.

When the second shot was fired Mrs. Gittens had slumped back on the couch, the husband related. He covered the body with a blanket and let the house, going to a garage where his automobile was parked. Poison which he had purchased yesterday was in the car. Gittens told police that he had intended to go to Green's home during the day and sprinkle the poison on Green's food which was in an ice-chest in a hallway of his home. For some unaccountable reason, he stated, he had not done this. He took the poison

OLD GUARD GROUPS TO MEET TONIGHT

To Formulate Plans How To Control State Convention On May 16 and 17.

Control of the Democratic State convention at Hartford May 16 and 17 through the convention machinery will be sought in plans to be formulated tonight by party leaders who favor former Gov. Alfred E. Smith for president. The meeting will be held at the Union League Club in New Haven. Just who will be there is not definitely known.

Battle lines have been drawn closer by the Smith, or Old Guard group since the selection, as temporary chairman of the convention, William C. Fox of New London by the arrangements committee of the State committee, and the announcement of the Roosevelt-McNeil or New Guard group that he would be sought for permanent chairman.

It was expected that the list of convention delegates will be scrutinized by the meeting tonight, and from it obtained an approximate idea of the strength of the contending factions in the 36 senatorial districts. It is out of these conventions that the machinery of the state convention is created by party rules.

Routine Business
Each district convention selects an honorary vice president and secretary, a member each of the committee on permanent organization rules and credentials. Each convention selects a state committeeman whose name goes to the state convention for ratification. In most conventions the action of the district conventions is accepted in a routine way. In Democratic convention it is quite the rule to have contests develop in district conventions which are held while the state convention recesses. At the coming convention there may be many contests. The outcome depends upon factional strength. At this stage of the controversy there is interest in the

GARNER IS LEADING GOV. ROOSEVELT BY OVER 33,000 VOTES

Three Quarters of Precincts In—Smith Runs 47,000 Behind Leader In California Primary—Result Called Significant By Democratic Leaders—May Stop Roosevelt-Smith Factional Fight.

(By Associated Press)
With three-fourths of the precincts in, Speaker John N. Garner of Texas today held the commanding lead of 33,000 votes over Franklin D. Roosevelt in California's three-way Democratic presidential primary battle.

Alfred S. Smith was running 47,000 behind Garner, with the vote from 7,722 out of 10,271 precincts standing as follows:

- Garner, 165,852.
- Roosevelt, 152,083.
- Smith, 113,322.

Should the remaining precincts hold up the Texan's lead and give him victory, which his forces were claiming, Garner will have serious impediment to the chances of Roosevelt for the presidential nomination. He also will have taken himself out of the favor of the Texas class, as Texas has promised him her 48. With California's 44, he would have a block of 90 convention votes.

Wins In Alabama
Roosevelt, who appears to have captured Alabama's 34 votes in yesterday's primary, now has 313 and claimed votes with at least 100 promised him from New York and Pennsylvania. A total of 770 are needed to win the nomination.

Conservative Republicans appeared to have won another north-west victory in South Dakota where an unstructured delegation of 11 friendly to President Hoover was maintaining a good lead over a faction pledged to "Progressive."

With these 11 and California's 44, the latter won without opposition. The President today boasted his pledged and claimed convention votes to 738 as Rhode Island instructed eight for him. Only 578 are required to nominate for the Republicans.

McDuffie's Comment
Representative McDuffie of Alabama, the Democratic whip, a Garner supporter, had this to say on the California returns:

"Mr. Garner has never been a party to the stop-Roosevelt movement and whatever happens at the National convention in Chicago, I hope the meeting will not be long drawn out and that a short platform will be adopted."

Speaker Garner maintained his silence about the nomination when asked by newspapermen for comment on the returns from California, but he did say:

"The most interesting thing to me is the large Democratic vote. I understand it was the largest on record in California. I think it most significant."

Senator Connally, (D., Tex.), in a statement said "Garner's victory in California is significant and encouraging."

"The factional fight between Smith and Roosevelt is making Garner stronger every day. The party can unite on Garner and elect him."

FINERATE GIVEN FOR TOWN'S BONDS

New Refunding Issue of $310,000 Will Average 4.66 P. C.—Boosts Credit.

Manchester's excellent credit rating proved a big asset to the town when bids on the $310,000 refunding bond issue were opened at the Manchester Trust Company this afternoon. The award was made to the G. L. Austin Company of Hartford and Darby and Company of New York who offered $311,867.10 for the 4 3/4 per cent issue in a joint bid. This averages a cost to the town of 4.66 per cent, an unusually good bonus considering the difficulty municipalities have encountered recently in raising funds.

Takes Up Indebtedness
Bids were opened by Town Treasurer George H. Waddell in the presence of Selectmen W. George Glenny, Wells A. Strickland, Thomas J. Rogers and Sherwood G. Bowers. The issue sold today covers the floating indebtedness of the town previous to the October meeting of the town last year. It does not increase the town's indebtedness, but rather gathers Manchester's outstanding debts into one issue.

One of the factors in securing such a good price for the town's bonds is the fact that Manchester is not bonded to within three per cent of the limit allowed by law. Another factor is that taxes here have been collected to within a few per cent of the total each year. It is possible also that the fact that 70 per cent of this year's taxes were collected on due date aided somewhat. Last year a little over 93 per cent of the total tax was collected.

AL CAPONE NOW ON WAY TO THE FEDERAL PRISON

Heavily Guarded, Gang Chief Starts Serving Eleven Year Sentence—Is Much Depressed On Trip.

On Board Capone Train, at Danville, Ill., En Route to Atlanta, May 4.—(AP)—Al Capone, disillusioned and dejected gang chief, approached Federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga., today with the assertion he was "through with the rackets."

Tonight he will start serving an eleven year sentence for evading income taxes. Giving up hope at last, Capone said there was "nothing to do but make the best of it."

As his train cut down of the southland, the gangster jested and kept up a rapid fire conversation with guards, but did not try to hide his disappointment.

"How would you feel if you had eleven years staring you in the face?" he parried when newspapermen questioned him.

Although his long exile had been expected to rob him of his rule over Chicago's underworld, it was still money in them that spareribs ribs that was taken to prison.

Stations Guarded
For every stop from Chicago to Atlanta provisions were made for local police or railroad detectives to watch the train from the outside, as nine guards kept vigil inside his car. United States Marshal H. C. W. Laubenthal took charge of the party which with the assertion his main object in life right now was to get Capone off his hands.

It was not a special car bearing Capone to prison but it amounted almost to that since it was occupied only by Capone, one other prisoner, the guards and newspapermen.

With time off for good behavior

Miami, Fla., May 4.—(AP)—Captain W. N. Lancaster, British flier framed his own defense in the county jail today and admitted his part in the case was such that the Dade Grand Jury may indict him for murder of Haden Clarke, writer and fiancée of his flying partner, Mrs. J. M. Keith-Miller.

"I should like to act as my own attorney if I am brought to trial," Lancaster said, "I know that is not possible but I know I can convince 12 reasonable men that I am innocent of shooting that boy."

VETERANS IN DISPUTE
Norwalk, May 4.—(AP)—The American Legion petitioning the City Council last night for a free lease of city property for the purpose of erecting a home, declared that they would share the home with the United Spanish War Veterans but that they would have absolutely nothing to do with the

SEN. BINGHAM FLOODED WITH MAIL ABOUT TAXES
Senator Hiram Bingham, as a member of the Senate finance committee at Washington, is receiving so many letters and telegrams concerning the revenue bill of 1932 that he finds it impossible to answer all of them. So he has had the following notice printed in the Congressional Record:

"I wish to state for the benefit of several thousand correspondents that so many letters have been pouring into my office in regard to the tax bill it is physically impossible to answer or acknowledge them in any way. I want this to be a public statement so that they may not feel they are being discriminated against or treated with discourtesy. Many of the letters are important, long, and come from distinguished people, very important people."

The senator has been sitting from morning until evening with the finance committee engaged in rewriting the revenue bill, and often his office assistants are at work over typewriters long after darkness has fallen, trying to keep pace with a portion of the senator's mail.

THOMPSON, OUT OF PRISON, BACK IN MANCHESTER

innocently asked. He watched them with interest as the car entered traffic.

"You were in prison during the World War," asked the reporter. "You were in your impressions of those days?"

"I wanted to get out," he replied. "I would have done anything to get out and enlist for duty overseas. I was over there the year 1918 and I was in the trenches. One of the things that caused the Manchester man some worry was the type of reception by the people of his home town. 'Folks are glad you are coming home, Marsh,' said his sister who has missed but six trips to prison on her visiting day in 17 years.

That seemed to help a lot. Right Hand Drive "I thought the wheel was on the right," remarked Marshall. "Now I see it is on the left." "The feeling of it is right," he explained and the "floating power" was demonstrated. It was all a revelation to the home-comer.

Waved Adieus When the car backed out of the prison parking space Marshall waved a final greeting from the office windows. Marshall Thompson waved in return. When his sister Cora opened the window on her side, Marshall did likewise. The car rolled up into the prison drive. The speedometer showed 22 miles per hour. "Thompson gasped.

"Good bye Wethersfield," exclaimed Thompson, looking back through the rear window of the car. What seemed to impress Marshall most on the way to Manchester, the many cars, the number of filling stations, stop signal lights and the apparent utter recklessness of people crossing the streets in Hartford's downtown district through which he was driven.

"I don't see how you can dodge between the cars," he said. I suppose you learn after awhile. And the pedestrians! Fatal Freedom "You know," said Thompson reflectively after a silence. "I saw seven 'rifers' go out of Wethersfield while I was there. All of them did stretches from 17 to 27 years. They got out and went right to work. In less than a year each of them was dead."

"I don't intend to do that—start work at once—pot 'til I get my feet under me, acclimated. I won't make that mistake. I want to walk and ride and see things first. However, I am deeply grateful that Mr. Robertson has agreed to give me work."

He seemed grateful for every little favor, this returning, reformed man, aged but a little during his period of confinement when he shook hands with the reporter, it was a strong grip expressive of deep feeling for the pleasant trip, both clubs, all of which were enthusiastically received. Numerous enclosures were responded to, and credit for the concert is due as much to Mrs. Merrifield and Mr. Maxwell who arranged it as to the performers themselves. A liberal collection was received and after necessary expenses are settled for books, concerts, the balance will be devoted to charitable work here and in Willimantic.

SALESMAN GUILTY OF THEFT OF RING
Willis H. Barker of East Granby Given 15 Days in Jail For Misdemeanor.

Willis H. Barker, 24, of East Granby, employed as a house-to-house canvasser for an extract concern, was found guilty of the theft of a diamond ring from Mrs. Catherine Rowse of Henry and North Elm streets when his case was presented in court this morning.

Barker was defended by Attorney William J. Shea who put up a strong plea for his client on the grounds that all evidence presented was highly circumstantial.

On April 27, Barker visited the tenement house at Henry and North Elm streets and came to the apartment of Mrs. Rowse. Rowse was asleep on the porch and did not hear him at the door. The door was ajar and Barker walked in.

Mrs. Rowse's sister-in-law Mrs. John Howard, had come into the house through a back entrance. She saw the shadow of a person in Mrs. Rowse's bedroom and she called out thinking it was Mrs. Rowse herself. Then Barker charged according to Mrs. Howard. Barker said he was looking for the lady of the house when Mrs. Howard questioned him as to his right in the apartment.

When Barker left the house it was discovered that a bureau drawer in the bedroom was open. The ring had been in a small purse in the drawer and upon investigation it was found the ring had disappeared. Mrs. Howard called her husband who came from his work and searched the neighborhood for Barker. Howard picked up Patrolman John Cavagnaro and they toured around the section looking for house-to-house salesmen. They could not locate the man they wanted, but were able to trace him through a salaried he gave at a neighbor's house.

Ring Worth $50 Louis Jaffe, local jeweler, said the stolen ring was worth $50 or more. Barker's story to Lieutenant William Barron and Chief Samuel Gordon did not tally with what he told on the witness stand today, they testified. Barker maintained that he had not been in the bedroom and had not entered the kitchen to talk with Mrs. Howard. Herbert Griffin and William Nicholson, farmers of East Granby, testified they knew Barker to be honest since he had worked for them and had handled money for them.

Attorney Shea insisted that the evidence was too circumstantial to warrant a conviction. Judge John H. Howard's story was too straightforward and convincing and therefore found Barker guilty. A jail sentence of 15 days was imposed with costs amounting to $31.02. Barker took no appeal.

PLECTRAL CONCERT GIVEN LAST NIGHT
Social Hall of South Methodist Church Filled For Cecelian-Merrifield Program.

The social hall of the South Methodist church was well filled last night for the concert given jointly by the Manchester Plectral Orchestra and the Cecelian club. The program was arranged by Mrs. A. N. Merrifield and Thomas Maxwell, directors of the clubs, in observation of National Music week. A similar program will be given at the Baptist church in Willimantic Friday evening. Leading musicians and composers throughout the country are in sympathy with this movement to foster a taste for good music.

The orchestra occupied the stage and made an attractive appearance, the women wearing colorful gowns and the colored floodlights adding to the effect. The Cecelian club members were attired in their new vestments and sat in a group at the head of the hall. Miss Lillian Butt was their pianist for the evening, and Mrs. Merrifield played the piano accompaniments required by the plectral players. Rev. Ernest A. Legg presided and gave a short address on the value of music, particularly in church work.

The program consisted of a variety of solo and ensemble numbers by both clubs, all of which were enthusiastically received. Numerous enclosures were responded to, and credit for the concert is due as much to Mrs. Merrifield and Mr. Maxwell who arranged it as to the performers themselves. A liberal collection was received and after necessary expenses are settled for books, concerts, the balance will be devoted to charitable work here and in Willimantic.

GIRL GUARDS GIVE PARTY FOR THEIR MOTHERS
Salvation Army Group Gives Fine Camp Program at Citadel Last Night.

Girl Guards of the Salvation Army held a mother and daughter party last night at the citadel. The hall was tastefully decorated in pink and green. The program which was speedily arranged consisted for the most part of camp stunts and camp songs. To make it more realistic the lights were extinguished and the guards gathered around a campfire, and sandwiches, cake and punch were served.

Mrs. Ensign Housberger then presented badges earned by several of the girls. Chaplain Elizabeth Bulla spoke on the "Spiritual Side of Guarding" and the assistant leader, Bessie Johnston, on the "Practical Side," and Patrol Leader Ellen Lyons on the "Social Side of Guarding." The large number of mothers and daughters present thoroughly enjoyed the program, which ended with the singing of "Taps."

O'LEARY AWARDED WESLEYAN PRIZE

Prominent High School Student Wins An Olin Scholarship, Herald Hears.

Although formal announcement is not expected for a few days, it was learned today from what is considered an authoritative source, that James O'Leary, prominent Manchester High school scholar and athlete, has been awarded a four-year Olin scholarship at Wesleyan.

President of Class

O'Leary is also prominent socially in Manchester High, being president of the senior class in addition to serving on the student council and in other school organizations. In addition to all of these qualifications, Jimmy, as he is best known, is unusually popular with all of the students.

James O'Leary

University in Middletown and will enroll there next September following his graduation from the local school next month.

O'Leary's award came for excellence in studies. He recently took the competitive examinations at Wesleyan and was selected as one of the six with the highest percentage. Although O'Leary is also a versatile athlete, this had no bearing in his winning the Olin scholarship. Announcement of the scholarship winners is expected to be made by Wesleyan at the end of the week. Efforts to verify the news of O'Leary's success at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James H. O'Leary, of 22 Cottage street, today met with a reference to Wesleyan authorities. However, it was learned elsewhere that the student has been notified of his scholarship award.

O'Leary holds the distinction of being the highest ranking male student in Manchester High school from which he will graduate in June. He is one of the fifteen honor students, a rare distinction for a boy who has been so prominent in athletics. He has taken part in football, baseball, basketball, tennis and track and is recognized as the best all-around scholar and athlete in the local school. He has captained teams in all three major sports and is likely to gain further prominence along athletic lines while at Wesleyan.

GRADY LOSES SUIT IN SUPERIOR COURT

Bought $10,000 Damages From Town of Vernon After Truck Crashed Off Bridge.

Judge Ernest Simpson today rendered a decision in Tolland County Superior Court in favor of the defendant in the suit for $10,000 brought against the Town of Vernon by William Grady of Vernon. The suit was heard during the April term of the Court and sought damages for injuries which Grady received when the truck which he was driving crashed into the Dobsonville bridge and plunged into the river on March 21, 1931.

Although the Town of Vernon may not, under the statutes of the state, have provided sufficient railing at the bridge, Judge Simpson in his decision finds other contributing causes in favor of the defendant, namely that the connecting rod to the steering wheel of the truck was broken and that the brakes were in defective condition. He finds, because of the condition of the truck, that it was negligent to so operate it and that this negligence was the cause of the plaintiff's injuries. Judge Simpson cited the failure of the railing to hold as one of the contributing causes of the mishap. His finding on the railing was reversed.

BAD MONTH FOR FIRES PAST, CHIEF RELIEVED

March and April Gave Local Firemen Plenty To Do — 31 Calls Last Month.

With the two worst months of the early summer season past, Chief Albert C. Foy of the South Manchester Fire Department, looks forward to a breathing spell for the four units of the department. March and April invariably produce the most fires of the year and 1932 has been no exception.

The total for March was 24 and today Chief Foy announced the April total as 31. Most of these were woods, brush or grass fires. The April total was divided between six box alarms and 25 still alarms. There were no fires of any consequence during the month of April, Chief Foy stated. Already there have been two in May, the latest being a grass fire at Wetherell and Server streets this noon. No. 1's truck responded.

PRAISES HOSPITAL

Editor, Manchester Evening Herald: We recently heard that the Manchester Memorial hospital was about to conduct its annual campaign for funds, and feel that we would like to send a brief testimonial, if you will grant us the space in your valued paper.

A few weeks ago our brother, Arthur C. Miller, developed pneumonia, and was admitted to the Memorial hospital. Despite the best of medical skill and nursing, he succumbed to the disease. We visited him during his illness and knew that everything humanly possible was being done for him, and we want to add these words of praise and appreciation for the kindness of the staff, house physician and nurses. You may well be proud of such a hospital.

DEMOCRATS ACCEPT LONG RESIGNATION

Louisiana Senator Is Now On No Committees—Leaders Name Successors.

Washington, May 4.—(AP)—Huey Long's resignation from Senate committees in a one man revolt against the leadership of Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, was accepted today by the Democratic steering committee.

The vacancies caused by Long's resignation were filled by the committee, leaving the Louisiana a "man without a committee."

Long's resignation was made last week when he arose in the Senate to attack Robinson's party leadership.

Robinson immediately challenged the insurgent Senator to a contest over party leadership and offered to call a conference of Democrats to consider selection of a new party chieftain any time Long wanted him to.

The Announcement
Robinson announced the action of the steering committee today in the following words:

"By order of the steering committee the resignation of Mr. Long from committee assignments is to be accepted."

The recommendations of the steering committee must be approved by the Senate.

Long's committee assignments were distributed as follows:

Commerce, Senator Caraway, of Arkansas; Navy, Senator Morrison, of North Carolina; Manufactures, Senator Cohen, of Georgia; Inter-oceanic Canals, Senator Hawes, of Missouri.

The committee also assigned Senator Bailey, of North Carolina, to the vacancy left on the military affairs committee by the death of Senator Harris, of Georgia.

Senator George, of Georgia, was assigned to the vacancy on the steering committee which decides party policies.

WOODSTOCK ALUMNI MEET HERE SATURDAY

James McCaw, Jr., is in charge of the program which will include gymnasium games, camp songs and moving pictures. Plans for Camp Woodstock during the coming summer season will also be discussed and formulated. The Alumni group is also planning a special pre-season trip to Camp Woodstock.

The season at Camp Woodstock which is located in Woodstock Valley in Windham County on Black Pond, will begin July 6 and end August 19. The first group of boys have the camp from July 6 to 20 and the second from July 20 to August 3 and the girls from Aug. 3 to August 19. The camp for boys will be divided into three units.

Harvey Woodruff of Berlin will be senior counselor in the cadet class and Charles Laughton of New Britain will have charge of the junior camp and craft work while the senior work will be taken care of by W. Harold Petherbridge, secretary of the local YMCA, and Leonard J. Black of Southington.

This is for boys 12 years or older. Andrew Fiedler, also of Manchester, will have charge of the waterfront, giving instruction in swimming and life saving. Both Petherbridge and Black are examiners. Woodruff and Laughton were at camp in similar positions last summer and their return will be welcomed.

The Trustees have decided to continue the Girls Camp and have asked W. F. Tyler to represent them in its management. Mrs. Mary Crockett of Manchester will serve as Director and associated with her will be Miss Grace Klersted of Marlboro and Mrs. Eric Lind of Willimantic. Mrs. Crockett holds a B. A. Degree from Oberlin College. She taught for some years at Ohio Wesleyan and at Pelham New York High School. Mrs. Crockett is now serving as Recreational Director for women and girls at the newly opened Y. M. C. A. in Manchester. Miss Klersted is a graduate of Storrs College and is teaching in the Rockville High School and directing the physical education work for girls. "Lindy" is a graduate nurse and will again have charge of the Camp health program. With them will be associated a selected group of counselors who together with the campers will help work out a character forming program.

TRYING TO KILL SELF

Mineola, N. Y., May 4.—(AP)—Robert Koehler, 30, a plasterer, attempted to end his life today by bumping his head against the steel bars of his cell in the county jail as he was about to be taken into court for the second day of a new trial on manslaughter charges.

He was taken to Nassau hospital with a fractured skull. Physicians said he would recover. The trial was put over for a week.

Koehler was convicted of manslaughter after the death of a policeman in an auto accident last February 26. His auto struck a police car. The prosecutor obtained a new trial for Koehler after producing evidence that tended to show Koehler was not at fault but the prisoner became depressed yesterday after the policeman's widow collapsed in court.

CANTONESE GOVERNMENT OUSTS RIVAL LEADERS

Hongkong, May 4.—(AP)—A sensation has been caused at Canton by the sudden action of Chan Chai-Tang, Cantonese government leader, in dismissing Chang Wai-Chung and Chan Chak, commanders of the Cantonese Air Force and Navy, respectively, and the substitution of his own followers, it was reported here today.

The reports said the situation still was quiet there but a mutiny was feared. Several gunboats slipped away to coastal ports and others were assembled at Whampoa, where there is a marine regiment, the disposition of which was considered doubtful.

It appeared, it was said, that Chan Chai-Tang had no political party affiliations and was playing a lone hand. Chang Wai-Chung declared last year the air force would not be available for future civil wars. The Navy also established a separate base at Hainan Island.

Although semi-independent, the two forces were regarded as closely associated with the Sun Fo Party.

TWIST SEVERS ARTERY

New Haven, May 4.—(AP)—George Wade of North Haven, alleged to have twisted the arm of John Keyes in a quarrel March 14, was ordered held by Coroner Corrigan today for further investigation to Keyes' death. Keyes died in a hospital yesterday. The coroner said he was treated after Wade had twisted his arm, and was discharged from the hospital.

When the arm began to cause further trouble, he returned to the hospital where physicians found an artery had been severed.

SPOILING NEW GRIDIRON PRACTICING GOLF SHOTS

Some Person Digging Up Surface As Grass Is Sprouting—Will Punish Guilty Party.

The surface of the new football gridiron at Mt. Nebo recently constructed by the town of Manchester, is being damaged by persons using the field as a place to practice golf shots. The grass has just started sprouting and the golf clubs are spoiling the surface.

As a result town officials say that if the practice continues, arrests will be made and the guilty persons dealt with to the fullest extent of the law. It is hoped to have the field ready for use next fall. The baseball field, however, will not be ready for another year, as the grass infield must first be grown.

30 DAY POSTPONEMENT FOR BIGGER NAVY BILL

Washington, May 4.—(AP)—A thirty day postponement of consideration of the naval construction bill was proposed in the Senate today by Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, to await developments of the Geneva disarmament parley.

Robinson told the Senate he favored the Hale bill authorizing construction of the American Navy to the limits provided by the London treaty "unless the Geneva conference shall reach an agreement which shall make unnecessary that course."

"A delay until further developments of the Geneva conference could not impair in any sense the national defense," he contended.

Chairman Hale of the naval committee has pending a motion to take up the construction bill.

"Events have transpired at Geneva," conceded Robinson, who himself was a member of the American delegation to the 1930 London conference, "which show that the task of the conference is exceedingly difficult and may not result in signal success."

"Early in the present year an armaments truce was entered into by the leading nations participating in the Geneva conference. I do not assert that to proceed now with construction contemplated by this legislation constitutes a violation of the letter of that truce. It certainly might be construed as interfering with the spirit of that agreement."

WEDNESDAY, MAY 4.

that the expenses of government in the United States exceed several times over, the ability of the people to meet them. Yet nowhere is there any willingness to share in the consequences of retrenchment. Every individual on the public payroll, every recipient or potential recipient of war benefits, everybody with a public job or with something to sell to government, stands ready to fight to the last ditch against reduction in pay or price. Every government department or bureau seeks to shoulder off the retrenchment burden onto some other bureau or department.

And yet everybody knows that disunion and selfishness at such a time are as fatal as the same qualities would be in the face of a foreign invader. And in spite of it each individual sticks with all his stubborn strength to his salary or his graft or his "allowance" or whatever, preferring to go down with the ship, apparently, to doing his bit toward lighting it.

We are a good deal like a certain Turkish wrestler who, after a tour of the United States, was returning to Europe on a steamship which sank in a collision. He had a fortune in gold belted about his body and, rejecting all admonition to leave it behind, leaped into the sea. He was a powerful man and a swimmer, but he sank like lead.

Nearly every government department is resisting to the uttermost the efforts of Congress to reduce the supply bills. The Postoffice Department, instead of promising to do its best under a reduced appropriation, is practically threatening to wreck its service and dump thousands of employees onto the jobless lists. Hartford is raising a rumpus because the proposed revenue office merger may put something like 25 excess-baggage office holders out of their jobs. New London has been shrieking in agony over the prospect of losing some of its naval base sugar. And so it is in every quarter and in all directions.

Not very many of us realize what is meant by national bankruptcy. Perhaps the best example of what happens has been provided by Germany. There when they got hopelessly in debt and the situation couldn't be relieved by taxation, that would, of course, mean a similar reduction in the individual tax bill of each person; in which event the 9 per cent paid in penalty interest might be regarded as an excellent investment.

It is to be suspected that there are some Manchester taxpayers who have figured out the proposition in just that way.

There is another possible reason, too, for the preference for paying the penalty interest rather than shell out the cash at this time. That is the tremendous rate at which the American dollar has been growing in value in comparison with all other possessions. The rate of increase during the last year has been such, especially with relation to securities, as to greatly exceed the penalty rate of 9 per cent. It is fair to assume that there are persons of means here, as there are in every community, who are watching for the arrival of security prices at an irreducible bottom, figuring on using their reserve of cash on the biggest bargain day ever known. Such people will reckon that the money in hand may be worth many times the 9 per cent they will have to pay for hanging onto it.

Certainly the great shortage in tax collections is by no means all due to inability to pay but largely to a belief that it is better business not to pay at this time.

This, however, does not relieve the situation of the town government. The town faces a very difficult year. It is going to require a great deal of wisdom and probably not a little sacrifice to get through it. It certainly is no time at all for the commitment of the municipality to hard and fast salary contracts. None such should be entered into, with school teachers or anybody else.

PATRIOTS—SLACKERS

It is strange how the people of a nation can subordinate their personal well beings to the well being of their country in time of war and how completely incapable of doing the same thing they seem to be in time of peace, even though the need may be fully as great and the penalty for failure be quite as alarming as when a foreign enemy threatens.

The American people gave the world a marvelous demonstration of unity of spirit and self sacrifice in 1917 and 1918. There were so few slackers that they were as conspicuous as they were odious. Now, when we face the common enemy of economic demoralization, nobody is willing to sacrifice anything if he can possibly squeeze out of it. We are all slackers together. Yet actually there is just as much need of mutual helpfulness and of self-forgetfulness as there was fourteen years ago.

Everybody knows, by this time, roasting of meats, is not a major industry in the family—there would be plenty of time to attend to other means of moistening the fodder. It is, perhaps, just a little surprising that bottle caps are not included. But then, even under the American standard of living it takes some stretch of imagination to include tin disks with food, and this had to be strictly a food list.

Well, let it be hoped that every family can always have food as per accompanying invoice, forever and forever.

MR. CAPONE VEXED

The United States Supreme Court has offended Al Capone. It had better look out. It is supposed to be very bad luck to stir the ire of Scar Face Al. Those who do so theoretically find themselves on the spot, with machine gun slugs making patterns in their midriffs.

Scar Face is clean out of patience with the Supreme Court. He had, quite politely, asked it to tear up his conviction as an income tax dodger and release him from the nonsensical sentence of eleven years in a federal pen—who ever heard of a prince of crime like Al Capone staying in a common jail for any eleven years? And the court had the effrontery to refuse.

It is altogether outrageous and displays a sorry lack of appreciation of the major importance of Mr. Capone for the Supreme Court to decline to make the perfectly reasonable arrangement suggested by the prince, that he be asked to accept, nominally of course, a sentence of two and a half years.

All that Mr. Capone has ever done is to dodge his income tax for several years—a matter of a few hundred thousand dollars—and to murder or cause to be murdered a considerable number of roughnecks. Unless of course one cares to twit on facts, so to speak, and bring up such minor matters as a lifetime spent in peddling drugs and as a vice pander.

Mr. Capone is wealthy. Mr. Capone "could buy and sell" the richest member of the Supreme Court. He is a personage, whereas the Supreme Court is made up of mere "moutheepieces." The whole situation is impossible. No wonder Prince Al is out of sorts. No wonder, in fact, that he has quite lost his temper.

Perhaps the Supreme Court had better think it over.

IN NEW YORK

Not So White
 New York, May 4.—Dimmer grows the famous "linding glare along the 'gray white way.'"

But for the pretentious electric pyrotechnics of competing film palaces, the gradual disappearance of familiar blazing panoramas might have attracted startled attention.

Atop the roofs of 48th and Broadway, two huge frames have stood black against the night for many days. And gone completely are the fiery displays that glared from building fronts at 43rd street.

The latter signs had an odd story, by the way. One of these night adornments cove d one face of a building occupied by a hotel. Owners found they could get more money by renting the building's side than they could for the rental of adjacent rooms, darkened and shadowed by the vast signs. So the windows were boarded up and for many years there were dozens of hotel rooms going unoccupied. When the signs were taken down thousands of New Yorkers learned for the first time of the barred windows and the dust gathered interiors.

High Cost of Plugging
 It runs into money, incidentally, to plaster the night with the names of stage and screen stars. These players who finally get their monikers on the larger bright lights must have a status worth the cost. The Winter Garden, boasts the collection of biggest letters. For special events, each member of the alphabet stands 30 feet high in its stocking feet. Almost a thousand dollars is spent each time a sign is changed—and this often happens each week. Then there's the electric bill and the replacement of bulbs. Something like 400 are used to supply the necessary nightly glow.

A number of the bright light signs are equipped with trick attachments for unusual displays.

Washington.—After seeing a picture of Bishop Cannon leaning against a bar with his foot on the brass rail, nothing could have kept me away from the Prohibition Fair. No such thought stimulated a rush by the rest of the capital's populace, however, and it may be said so many things have been heard about Bishop Cannon in the last few years that a mere brass rail act is not calculated to excite general interest.

Anyway, the famous Virginia dry leader was only performing at a preview for photographers, so those few of us who were thus lured simply got fooled.

Too Early To Tell

It is early to predict whether that Prohibition Fair marked a turning point against the wet tide which has been rising so menacingly of late or whether it was merely a last despairing gesture of propaganda before the dry movement collapses into utter impotence.

Nevertheless, it left something to be desired from the standpoint of authenticity and effectiveness. The sights to be seen may have satisfied the dry ladies, but the lovely, ethereal Mrs. Pauline Sabin's wicked "wealthy wet women, who were here the week before and can tell one cocktail from another, know better.

The Prohibition Fair was sponsored by the National Woman's committee for Law Enforcement, which insists on meeting in Washington every year, presumably in the vague hope of getting someone here interested in the matter of law enforcement.

These ladies are the nice, kindly, home-making type which all men like, whereas Mrs. Sabin's "W. W. W.'s" are the nice, snappy, dressy, often handsome, sophisticated type which all men like.

Those Cocktail Parties

The dry ladies' conception of the "W. W. W.'s" was evidenced in a succession of roughly painted murals lining what they called "The Lawless Lane of Liquor." After passing a picture of a huge still in operation and another of a Coast Guard boat bombarding a defenseless rum boat in the full glare of its searchlight 30 feet ahead, you followed the likker into a picture called "Women's Cocktail Parties."

There sat five women in evening dress smoking cigars and drinking highballs. A maid was bringing five cocktails on a tray. One of the ladies had dropped a shoulder strap—shame on her!—and the artist had placed in the eyes of each a strange look of ecstasy hard to describe.

Mrs. Sabin doubtless would be furious at the charge that any of her "wicked, wealthy, wet women" ever served cocktails on top of highballs, but such evidences of degeneracy seemed natural enough to the dry ladies.

The artist also tried to make them believe that a "Men's High-ball Party" finds the men playing cards with two or three bottles on the floor beside each chair.

Fear Strategy?

Continuing in the role of art critic, one suggests that the imitation saloon—where Bishop Cannon posed—might have looked like a horrible example to dry, but would certainly inspire any practicing wet to redouble his bolters for repeal.

The bar was stocked with fancy bottles—Seagram's, Old Barbec, John Haig's Gold Label, Bobbie Burns and William Whitley's whisky, Booth's and Sacoos & Speed's old dry gin, Old Nick rum, St. Marco and the like. Most wets had forgotten the existence of such rare old brands, and it seemed poor strategy to remind them.

Nor should the swinging door of the saloon have opened onto two short, concealed steps going down. No saloonkeeper ever fooled his customers that way. And instead of a ship's picture over the bar, as the dry ladies had, he would have hung a nude.

Other Criticisms

The old slightly battered silver exhibited to prove the effects of drunken driving seemed somewhat underdone. Everyone has seen far worse wrecks. But the show had an educational value, even if the imitation speakery was smaller, drabber and less barricaded than the modern American speakery and even if the chairs and lounge in the "home that beer furnished" were more comfortable than those in the luxurious "home" that prohibition furnished.

Besides various charts and statistics, there was a photo of the old "New Half-Mile Track" saloon where Booth took his last drink before shooting Lincoln. That saloon, incidentally, thrived for years on the reputation thus acquired.

BROWN AS CANDIDATE

Wilton, Conn., May 4.—(AP)—The Norwalk Ministerial Association meeting in the Wilton Congregational church today, adopted a resolution expressing an opinion that Dr. Charles Reynolds Brown of Yale Divinity School should be a candidate for the United States Senate against Senator Hiram Bingham.

It was the consensus of the meeting that the church should take a stand in politics when politics become a matter of morals.

A county down in Missouri reports it has more autos than hogs. But that didn't include the road hogs.

THE TAX SITUATION

With less than 70 per cent of the town taxes collected on the final due date, and with a town budget based on the assumption that the total levy would be paid, Manchester is not only brought face to face with the most difficult fiscal situation she has ever had to do with, but it is a matter of speculation whether she is not being subjected to a new kind of pressure in the direction of economy.

It is highly probable that among the taxpayers who have failed to meet their assessments there is a considerable number who could, without especial inconvenience, pay their taxes but who have deferred doing so for prudential reasons. They are, of course, subject to a penalty assessment of 9 per cent annually on the amount of their tax bills, which eventually they will have to pay. If, however, the withholding of their taxes should bring about a situation where a reduction in the town budget of, say, fifteen or twenty per cent was forced, that would, of course, mean a similar reduction in the individual tax bill of each person; in which event the 9 per cent paid in penalty interest might be regarded as an excellent investment.

It is to be suspected that there are some Manchester taxpayers who have figured out the proposition in just that way.

There is another possible reason, too, for the preference for paying the penalty interest rather than shell out the cash at this time. That is the tremendous rate at which the American dollar has been growing in value in comparison with all other possessions. The rate of increase during the last year has been such, especially with relation to securities, as to greatly exceed the penalty rate of 9 per cent. It is fair to assume that there are persons of means here, as there are in every community, who are watching for the arrival of security prices at an irreducible bottom, figuring on using their reserve of cash on the biggest bargain day ever known. Such people will reckon that the money in hand may be worth many times the 9 per cent they will have to pay for hanging onto it.

Certainly the great shortage in tax collections is by no means all due to inability to pay but largely to a belief that it is better business not to pay at this time.

This, however, does not relieve the situation of the town government. The town faces a very difficult year. It is going to require a great deal of wisdom and probably not a little sacrifice to get through it. It certainly is no time at all for the commitment of the municipality to hard and fast salary contracts. None such should be entered into, with school teachers or anybody else.

PATRIOTS—SLACKERS

It is strange how the people of a nation can subordinate their personal well beings to the well being of their country in time of war and how completely incapable of doing the same thing they seem to be in time of peace, even though the need may be fully as great and the penalty for failure be quite as alarming as when a foreign enemy threatens.

The American people gave the world a marvelous demonstration of unity of spirit and self sacrifice in 1917 and 1918. There were so few slackers that they were as conspicuous as they were odious. Now, when we face the common enemy of economic demoralization, nobody is willing to sacrifice anything if he can possibly squeeze out of it. We are all slackers together. Yet actually there is just as much need of mutual helpfulness and of self-forgetfulness as there was fourteen years ago.

Everybody knows, by this time,

HOW TO STRAIGHTEN YOUR SHOULDERS.

A round-shouldered person is like one in heavy chains, which bind his body in the bent-over shape. Only, instead of the chains of iron, they are chains of muscle, which hold the shoulders in the wrong position and almost lock them there. To throw off these factors and get the shoulders back where they are meant to be CAN BE DONE. The important factor in improving the shoulders is to use the exercises which develop the muscles that hold the back straight. Muscular improvement is all you have to pay any attention to in building better shoulders. Take enough exercise of the right kind to strengthen these muscles and your shoulders will begin to improve.

Those who are round shouldered have front muscles across the upper chest which are stronger than the muscles across the back and the result is that the front muscles, being stronger, pull the shoulders forward. Before you can expect to hold the shoulders back in that erect, attractive manner, you must increase the strength of the muscles of the upper back so that they balance the pull of those of the front.

In developing a splendid pair of shoulders you need no expensive equipment. You can do it with just your two arms and plenty of determination. A good plan is for you to strip to the waist and stand before a mirror. Now I want you to do this: move your right arm up over your head. You can now see for yourself that movements which raise the whole arm upward and backward will pull on the shoulder muscles. You are going to use these upward and backward movements to straighten your shoulders. You are now ready to start taking these exercises. You can make up some for yourself by watching closely in the mirror and using those movements which pull the shoulders back and take the question-mark shape out of your upper back.

An especially good exercise is to lie face downward on the floor and raise the head and shoulders backward. Take this exercise only a few times at first until the muscles become strong or you will have a very sore neck the next day.

In addition to the exercises which move the arm, one should take some deep breathing exercises several times a day. Watch yourself in the mirror and you will see that a deep breath expands the chest, pushes it up and throws the shoulders back. You are going to find that there is a close connection between a good strong shoulder and a good chest development. They are really two sides of the same question. Most of the movements which improve the shoulders also raise the chest. Women will find that these exercises not only improve the shoulders, but build up a firm bust. Men who try such exercises will gradually develop that deep, wide, rolling chest which bespeaks power, strength and endurance.

Men desiring to secure a faster shoulder development may move the whole arm while holding a weight in each hand or they may use the cable chest expanders. Swimming, tennis and wrestling are helpful in building good shoulders.

You can build up attractive shoulders if you will take these exercises several times each day, expecting and looking for good results. Once you have begun to gain the kind of shoulders you yourself admire you will be surprised at the joy and confidence which is yours. Don't delay. Today's your day for beginning the exercises for good looking shoulders.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Question: Mrs. Yvonne R. writes: "Will you please give me the recipe for making Mushrooms en Casserole which I saw in one of your menus?"

Answer: Here is the recipe for Mushrooms en Casserole: The mushrooms are to be first boiled in a small amount of water. When the water has nearly boiled off, mix in chopped spinach, string beans, or any other non-starchy vegetable desired. Put into casserole and sprinkle Melba toast crumbs over the top. Bake without cover.

(Not Likely Palate Out Off)

Question: W. S. W. writes: "A week ago my little granddaughter's tonsils and adenoids were taken out. In performing the operation the doctor cut off her palate. Will that affect her speech or digestion of food. Is there a chance for me to sue him?"

Answer: You probably mean that the doctor cut off the uvula or long fleshy projection hanging down at the back part of the soft palate. If this is the case, it would not affect the speech or digestion and there would be no ground for suit.

(Aluminumware Not Harmful)

Question: Mrs. S. R. writes: "I bought one of those pressure cookers some time ago, but have not used it recently because I heard aluminum was poisonous. Is this true?"

Answer: Cooking with a pressure cooker is one of the most excellent ways of preparing food and is superior to many of the older methods where the steam and flavors are allowed to escape. I have investigated the propaganda against aluminum cooking utensils, but I can find no evidence that there is anything injurious to aluminum cooking vessels. Continue to use them in my own household.

(Metallic Taste in Mouth)

Question: Miss H. writes: "Will you please tell me the cause of a peculiar metallic taste in my mouth, especially after eating fruit?"

Answer: Sometimes a metallic taste is noticed from the effect of acid fruits upon amalgam or silver fillings. A metallic taste may also be noticed if gold and silver fillings come in contact while chewing because of the mild electric current which is generated. Strange tastes in the mouth may be noticed in many nervous disorders and may have nothing to do with diet or the fillings of the teeth.

BELIEVED DEAD, SEEKS A SHARE OF FORTUNE

Cambridge, Mass., May 4.—(AP)—James Welsh of Boston, believed dead by relatives who had not heard from him for many years, has appeared before the Middlesex Probate Court seeking a share of the $17,000 estate of his sister, Miss Agnes Welsh, who died in Lowell in 1929.

Miss Welsh left no will and her estate has been divided among approximately 20 nieces and nephews. Welsh, through his counsel, has brought a petition for the revocation of the decree ordering distribution of the estate.

Welsh claimed that although he has been living in Boston all the time since his sister's death, he was not notified of his sister's death and knew nothing about the disposition of her estate. He said he did not learn of his sister's death until last February.

Welsh claims title to one-fourth of estate.

Ernest Flory of Lowell, a relative by marriage, who acted as administrator, said that all efforts to locate Welsh had been unsuccessful.

COLUMBIA

COLUMBIA TO VOTE ON BUYING LAKE SATURDAY

Town May Purchase Property From American Thread Co.—Is Big Asset To Town.

A special Town meeting is called for next Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock D. S. T. to decide if the town shall buy Columbia Lake. It is understood that the Lake is for sale by the American Thread Co. and in case the town doesn't buy it, there is a probability that other interests will purchase it for water power, thereby lowering the level of the Lake to such an extent as to seriously injure the value of the property around the lake.

The lake is 1855 and covers 281 acres of land. It is only within the last twenty years, however, that it has been developed as a summer resort, and at the present time there is practically no land for sale in the vicinity, there being cottages and camps on all sides. The population of the town is nearly doubled in the summer months, and aside from the large amount of tax paid by the summer people, the town contributes both socially and financially to the life of the town during their stay here.

Two years ago, due to the drought and drawing of the lake to a low level by the threat of the borderland, the lake was in some places some distance from the cottages, and the unsightly mud flats were an eyesore to all living near it. It is expected that the town meeting will be largely attended by those anxious to preserve the beauties of the lake by maintaining a high water level.

About 30 young people of the town attended a "Vacation Party" at the Parsonage last Wednesday evening. They played games, and were told that they were working for a college degree. The diploma was presented later in the form of paper napkins for use at lunch, which consisted of sandwiches, cookies, and grape juice. A very jolly evening was spent by all.

About 6 o'clock a small blizzard arrived, the sky growing very dark and the whirling snow flakes blotting out the landscape. Miss Lila Seesley, Mrs. Ruth Jacobs and Miss Flora Wheeler attended the Willimantic Community orchestra concert Friday evening. Henry Isham and daughter, Mrs. Ruth Jacobs have gone to Groton Long Point.

Mrs. Emily Little, who has spent the winter months in Willimantic, returned to her home on the Green Sunday for the summer. Mrs. May Randall of Hartford has come to her home in Columbia for the summer. Her sister, Mrs. Link, spent the week-end with her, returning to Hartford Monday, accompanied by Miss Jane Drosser, who has been spending the past ten days in Columbia.

E. P. Lyman is recovering from a sudden attack of illness. His daughter, Mrs. Helen Stoltefeldt of Manchester, will help to care for him for the next few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyndon Little and daughter Anne of Willimantic, and Mrs. Josephine Smith of Talcottville were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Lyman.

NANCY CARROLL QUILTS

PARAMOUNT COMPANY Screen Star Joins Ranks of Insurgents Because of a Disagreement.

Hollywood, Calif., May 4.—(AP)—The ranks of insurgent motion picture artists today included the red-haired Nancy Carroll. The nature of Miss Carroll's differences with Paramount studios was not disclosed, although she has been off salary from the studio for several weeks as a result of disagreements.

Miss Carroll is the latest of four film artists at odds with their employers. Marlene Dietrich, James Cagney and Josef von Sternberg previously announced severance of relations with their studios.

Von Sternberg, returning to Hollywood from New York last night, said he would never again direct a picture for Paramount. The director and Miss Dietrich were suspended by the studio for failure to produce a story which they considered "unsuitable."

Von Sternberg Through "I am quite positive I will not direct again for Paramount and that Miss Dietrich will not appear in another picture for the company," said von Sternberg.

Miss Dietrich met von Sternberg at the railroad station and left with him in his automobile. She refused to make a statement. Von Sternberg said he had several offers for his services, but that there are several legal aspects to be gone over before I will be able to accept any of them."

Cagney, star of Warner Brothers' First National studios, said he would leave for New York within the next few days, quitting his film work for the study of medicine. He wants more salary than the studio will pay.

Miss Carroll, in private life Mrs. Bolton Mallory, was reported enroute to Hollywood today from New York to confer with Paramount.

TREASURY DEFICIT

OVER TWO BILLION Chief Cause of Decline Slump In Income Tax Collections For Year.

Washington, May 4.—(AP)—A deficit of $2,334,105,142 confronts the government at the conclusion of ten months of the 1932 fiscal year.

The Treasury statement on the condition of its finances at the end of April, made public today, showed it had collected from all sources $1,685,666,535 and had spent $4,019,771,677.

The chief cause of the decline in government collections, which for the same period last year amounted to $2,566,750,518, was caused by a slump in income tax.

This form of the government's income in the ten months of the present year amounted to $878,805,905 compared with $1,535,928,202 in the same period last year.

Miscellaneous internal revenue fell off $50,000,000 to $490,759,151 while Customs receipts declined nearly $30,000,000 to $292,375,894. Meantime government expenditures were $663,000,000 greater than for the same period last year.

The Reconstruction Corporation to date has required $341,420,924 while the additional subscription to stocks of Federal land banks has amounted to $74,243,740. General expenditures of the government, which include the public works program, amounted to $2,125,159,919 as compared to $1,863,660,991 last year.

The public debt increased $90,000,000 in April, amounting to $18,596,890,430 at the end of the month. In the last year the gross debt has increased $1,941,000,000.

The naval appropriation has been cut $32,000,000. If that keeps up, think of the poor admirals. Their salaries may have to be fired with machine guns.

PLANES AID SCIENTISTS

Fairbanks, Alaska, May 4.—(AP)—Man's assault on the upper slopes of Mount McKinley, the continent's highest peak, to study cosmic rays in the interest of science, has been aided through the use of two airplanes.

With the planes, Pilots Joe Crosson and Jerry Jones reported on flying back here, three members of the Allen Carpe Expedition were safely landed on the icy surface of Muldrow Glacier, at an altitude of between 6,000 and 6,500 feet. In addition, 100 pounds of food supplies were dropped to Allen Carpe and Theodore Kovenwn two of the scientists who have climbed successfully to a height of more than 11,000 feet. The mountain is 20,300 feet high.

The landing on Muldrow Glacier followed a successful test flight there last week by Pilot Crosson, who found that with skills his plane could be set down safely.

The three members of the expedition who accompanied the pilot were E. P. Beckwith, Percy T. Olton, Jr., and Nicholas Spadeveckia, all New York engineers.

PICTURE INDUSTRY FACES A STRUGGLE

Over-Expansion During Prosperous Times Reason For Present Financial Loss

Hollywood, Cal., May 4.—(AP)—Hollywood today "dug in" to face a "three to five year struggle" which lies before the motion picture industry.

The screen will be lucky if it can adjust itself to new conditions within that time, Sidney R. Kent, new president of the Fox Film Corporation, last night told approximately 400 members of the industry at an all-industry conference sponsored by the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences.

"The industry is in a very serious condition," Mr. Kent declared. "The time has passed when in my opinion will be the most critical moment the industry has ever faced. Grosses are going down, and we haven't yet been able to cut expenses enough. We have got to strike a balance, on the work of executives and the work of stars and directors. The industry must live within its means. We must get down to brass tacks."

Adjusted Salaries
There must be a general concord on the matter of adjusted salaries, Kent emphasized. "The time has passed when the misfortune of one company is the good fortune of another and those who refuse to accept a 'cut in salary may find themselves holding contracts that are worthless because the company's making them may have passed into a receivership."

"In my opinion," he said, "a three to five-year struggle lies ahead of the industry. I too would like to see a complete recovery by August 1, but I am not so sure that would be best, for it is more important that the industry come back right than that it come back in three months with a half-cut."

Kent blamed over-expansion in prosperous years as a cause of the picture business' present difficulties, as well as problems arising from the introduction of sound into films, such as limitation of the market.

J. L. Warner of Warner Brothers-First National, corroborated Kent's statements.

The exhibitor's viewpoint was presented by M. C. Lightman, president of the Motion Picture Theater Owners of America, who declared for "fewer pictures but good ones." He advocated the closing of many theaters to solve the problem of over-seating, as well as the present need of the producers to meet the surplus theater demand for product with quantity rather than quality.

Many pictures have been superb, he said, but a public weary "of just sound, of wisecracks, of sophisticated vulgarity" wants above all else sincerity—"not necessarily brutal naturalism but not sentimental trash. It wants human stories told sincerely and artistically, directed by strong honest men who can feel and live the parts of all the characters and can thus inspire convincing interpretations."

SENSE AND NONSENSE

This is the sad time of the year when the high school graduates are hunting for a job and are beginning to realize that their learning does not seem to be fully appreciated.

The Lawn Mower
Go get the old lawn mower out, and polish off the rust; Put oil in all the little holes, and clean out all the dust, Do all you can to soften down That irritating click, And sharpen up the cutting knives— You'll need them pretty quick.

The emerald whiskers on your lawn will soon be getting long, The exercise of trimming them will make your muscles strong. So get the old lawn mower out— But make this gentle man: Don't ever try to cut your grass till after 7 a. m.

Doctor—But surely, my dear good man, you weren't so mad as to look for escaping gas with a match?
Patient—Well, doctor, it was a safety match.

The fields out in the country are turning nice and green. We get this information first hand from a man who took the time to climb to the top of a billboard, where he could see what was behind them.

Some Sense O' Humor
"My scrap with her was funny," said Pitt, "When she threw that ax I thought I'd split."

Conductor—Your fare.
Coy Flapper (blushing)—Thank you.

HAVE YOU LEARNED ALL THERE IS TO KNOW ABOUT YOUR JOB?

HASH: There still are a few girls who remind one of a talking doll, are squealed. . . . It's hard to laugh at your own expense when your bank account is exhausted. . . . Many statements sound untrue, incorrect or of small consequence due to the warped opinions of the listener. . . . Women lie about their age; men lie about their incomes. . . . A stitch in time may save nine, but it's just as well to not contract, the first stitch if possible. . . . Some people are making such thorough preparations for a rainy day that they can't enjoy today's sunshine. . . . Legislators are at a loss to know whether they should cut California into two states or let an earthquake do it. . . . Don't question your wife's judgment—look who she married. . . . Punishing the boy who tells the truth is putting a premium on falsehood. . . . It may be possible to live on love, but a square meal occasionally will help. . . . Two Brooklyn, N. Y. men traded wives and now each thinks the other is a swindler. . . . So live that you won't be scared to death when your wife tells you that you talk in your sleep. . . . By helping the fellow ahead to make a good showing or to get a better job is the best way to get his job. . . . not by making him look bad.

Reynolds and a husky cattleman from Texas. A little later the big Texan, ignoring the pursuer, hunted to realize the captain: Texan—Look here, skipper. What kind of a joker is this here head room clerk of yours? I can't travel in the same stateroom with that there Major Reynolds. I can't and won't. Far as that goes neither one of us likes the idea. Captain—What complaint have you? Do you object to an army officer for a traveling companion? Texan—Not generally, only this happens to be the Salvation Army. That there Major's other name is Henrietta.
