RED ARMY IS READY TO FIGHT ENEMIES

Commander Tells Soldiers He Sees Flashes of War On Manchuria Border.

Moscow, May 5—(AP)—Moscow newspapers today published a May Day speech made by General Vasily Constantynovich Buescher, commander of the Red Army at Khabarovsk, in which he warned that while Soviet Russia desires peace, she stands ready to defend her borders against any foe.

The publication of General Buescher's speech was coincident with charges that the Japanese had inspired Russian "White Guard" demonstrations in Manchuria as a prelude to seizing the Chinese Eastern railway, of which Russia is co-owner with China.

A dispatch from Khabarovsk said Soviet employees of the Chinese Eastern at Harbin had been arrested and added an investigation of the dynamiting of a bridge over the Sungari river established it was provoked by "certain Japanese military circles who aimed at aggravating relations between the Soviet government and the new Manchurian and Japanese governments."

ASKS STRONG NAVY TO CONTINUE PEACE

Senator Hale Declares It Is Needed To Keep the Nation Out of War.

Washington, May 5—(AP)—A navy "strong enough to keep us out of war" was demanded in the Senate today by Chairman Hale of the naval committee.

Opening the battle for his bill to authorize building the American fleet up to treaty limits, Hale scoffed at arguments that reduced armament lessens the danger of war, and said passage of the bill would "strengthen the hands" of the American delegates to the Geneva disarmament conference.

Denying existing treaties protect the United States from war, Hale called attention to "that he called the 'melancholy spectacle' in the Far East."

Treaties Failed "The treaties in which we have placed such implicit confidence," he said, "have utterly failed of immediate effect, and with their prestige damaged may not be relied upon with any degree of safety as a guarantee against future war."

Hale directed a warning at Japan that this country's agreement not to strengthen naval fortifications in the Pacific was based upon treaties guaranteeing the territorial integrity of China and the "open door" policy.

Takes the Lead This country, said Hale, has taken the lead in disarmament since the Washington conference in 1922, but the net result has been that "we ourselves are now far weaker relatively as compared with the other powers than we were."

"That we should not keep up our navy at least to the treaty ratios, in these difficult and hazardous times is inconceivable," he continued. "We must be strong enough to keep out of war, and that is precisely what we shall not be if we keep up our present policy of allowing our navy to deteriorate."

Industry . . . must adopt preventive measures. If it fails, then the government will step in and either compel action by the industry or adopt remedies of its own.

As an essential to company spirit, its property must be kept in good condition.

Honolulu, May 5—(AP)—Economic and business leaders of nations bordering the Pacific had been warned today that high tariffs may compel many countries to close their doors to all foreign trade except for raw materials.

The warning was issued by K. Seko, representative of the Japan Economic Federation of Tokyo, at yesterday's joint convention of the National and Pacific foreign trade councils.

A doctor was diagnosing the complaint of a woman. "You've got acute appendicitis," he said at last.

Queer Twists In Day's News

Portland, Ore.—Two youths went into thievery on a shoe string, so to speak, and the results were dire. Charles Sutton and Stanley B. Bobber got 90 days for the theft of 148 pairs of shoe laces.

Kansas City—Here's the answer to the schoolboy's lament: "What good is soap?" Dr. Paul A. O'Leary, who is head of the skin department of the Mayo clinic and therefore ought to know, says there are 640 kinds of skin disease and soap is the best treatment for 500 of them.

Chicago—Oh, well, a fellow can't be lucky always. Charlie Patamnik made a hole in one. He stepped forward to receive his friends' congratulations, and tripped. A broken wrist resulted.

New York—A sparrow can't go about her business without a lot of attention from New Yorkers. Because a bird picked Broadway near Times Square as a likely place for a rest, police reserves were called to disperse gaping throngs.

New Haven, Conn.—Mayor John W. Murphy, fire fan, buys his own gold badges, thank you. The fire commissioner offered to get him one so he could be in the front row at every blaze, but he said there was no need for the city to spend the cash, "I get it myself. Anyway," he said, "I wanted something to take away with him as remembrance."

Winston-Salem, N. C.—"It wouldn't do Uncle Sam any harm to have a wife," said Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, Congresswoman from Florida, to the North Carolina Federation of Women's Clubs in urging greater participation by women in the affairs of community and nation.

New Albany, Ind.—The letter a local woman wrote yesterday wasn't addressed to the Fire Department, but it brought five companies, sirens screaming, to her aid.

Wilmington, Del., May 5—(AP)—Threats that their eight year old daughter, Hilda, would be kidnapped again and held for ransom have been received by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brodsky, police said today.

SENSE AND NONSENSE

WIRE THE GRADUATE

1. Congratulations on your graduation. It was a great surprise to me.

2. News of your graduation just received. Wire confirmation.

3. Father and I have just seen your name in the list of graduates. We can hardly believe it.

4. Family has just heard of your graduation. You could have knocked us over with a feather.

5. Pleased beyond words to hear of your graduation. Was it political influence or faculty carelessness?

6. Accept our congratulations on your completing your college course. It is truly astonishing.

James A. Chapin is the proud father of triplets, two sons and a daughter, born to Mrs. T. M. McRay, wife of Thomas McRay. All are reported doing fine. —Item from The Uhrichville, Ohio, Evening Chronicle.

ALL EXCEPT, POSSIBLY, MR. THOMAS McRAY.

Movie Queen Flo—Why do you look so down-hearted, dear?

Movie Queen Jo—My lawyer just advised me that owing to the general depression I had better use my old husband another season.

THE SAME OLD STORY

"My grandpa notes the world's worn cogs
And says we're going to the dogs;
His grandad in a house of logs
Swore things were going to the dogs;
His dad among the Flemish bogs
Vowed things were going to the dogs;
The caveman in his queer skin togs
Said things were going to the dogs.
But this is what I wish to state—
The dogs have had an awful wait!"

BOSS—Well, what did Two-Gun Smith say when you told him I wouldn't pay tribute to a racketeer?

CLERK—He said if he didn't have the money within an hour he'd blow up the store.

BOSS—Here, hurry over with this money and tell him I can't afford to have the place blown up until I pay off the mortgage.

It takes the present day Jones, to get down to cases—"vanity," "cigarette" and "divorce."

Johnny giggled when the teacher read the story of a man who swam a river three times before breakfast. The Teacher—You do not doubt that a trained swimmer could do that, do you, Johnny?

Johnny—No, sir, but I wonder why he didn't make it four times and get back to the side where his clothes were.

A scientist says that mankind is of vegetable origin. Obviously, men descend from monkeys, monkeys from trees. . . . In our opinion the biggest chump is the fellow who shakes the plum tree while others gather the fruit. . . . Nowadays England expects every man to do his duty, and pay it too. . . . One wife out of every three is the ideal helpmate, we are informed. But how many of us can afford three wives? . . . Our idea of an ideal marriage is one where the husband is treasurer and the wife is a treasure. . . . A man's ideal wife is one in whose society he can spend a whole evening and not notice it. It may not be polite to stand around with your hands in your pockets, but they had better be there than in somebody else's pockets. . . . A man who falls in love with himself never has any rivals. . . . People with lots of pepper in their make-up are the salt of the earth. . . . The strength of a building is in its frame; the strength of a salesman is in his frame of mind.

Vacation is a Short Period During Which the College Student Wears No Collars or Pants Except His Own.

Lady Speaker—Now, is there any man in the audience who would let his wife be slandered and say nothing? If so, stand up.

Lady Speaker (glaring at him)—Do you mean to say you would let your wife be slandered and say nothing?

Meek Little Man (apologizing)—Oh, I'm sorry, I thought you said slandered.
