

RASKOB FIGURES IN MARKET POOL

With Others Over Four Millions Were Made In a Week in Radio Stock; J. P. Tumulty Also In It.

Washington, May 19.—(AP)—How John J. Raskob and other prominent persons profited $4,924,078 from a week's pool operations on new radio stock in March, 1929, was related today in the Senate's investigation of the stock market.

Those listed by William A. Gray, counsel for the inquiry, as having culled handsome returns along with the chairman of the Democratic National committee, included: Percy A. Rockefeller, Charles M. Schwab, Walter P. Chrysler, Mrs. M. J. Mehan, H. B. Swope, David Sarnoff, W. C. Durant, T. F. Mara, J. A. Stillman, Fred J. Fisher, F. J. Fisher, William A. Fisher, A. J. Fisher, E. F. Fisher and Charles T. Fisher.

Testimony also was introduced that persons who put up no money for the pool shared in the returns, among them J. P. Tumulty, secretary to the late President Wilson, and Eddie Dowling the actor.

Called Gambling Senator Glass, (D., Va.), called it the same "as gambling at a card table with a card up the sleeve."

The pool operated through three firms, Mehan and Co., W. E. Huton and Block Maloney and Co. In the seven days, Gray said, 1,492,484 shares were bought for $141,424,328. He described the radio stock movement as having gone from 77% on March 5 to a high of 100% on March 16. The pool began the twelfth and closed out between March 15 and 16. Raskob was held as having put up $1,000,000 and profited $221,000, while Schwab invested $200,000 and made $55,000.

HEARING OPENS Washington, May 19.—(AP)—A radio pool in 1929 which netted the operators a $800,000 profit was the immediate objective today in the Senate banking committee's investigation of the New York stock market. JEALOUSY MOTIVE FOR LINDY MURDER

That Is Opinion of Robert T. Hurley, Former Head of Our State Police.

Hartford, May 19.—(AP)—Jealousy and not desire for financial reward prompted the kidnaping of the Lindbergh baby is the opinion of Robert T. Hurley former commissioner of state police, for a quarter of a century identified with the state police department and for years regarded as the state's foremost sleuth.

"A woman harboring an insane jealousy of Col. Lindbergh was behind the kidnaping of the baby in my opinion," stated Mr. Hurley in expressing his views on the situation. Continuing Mr. Hurley declared the woman responsible for the crime was possibly one Col. Lindbergh had never seen, and "perhaps never heard of" jealousy was the motive for the kidnaping just the same," he reasons.

No Hope for Reward Mr. Hurley scouted the theory that hope for financial reward prompted the kidnaping. He points to the fact that before any effort was made to obtain a reward, the baby had been murdered, and quite naturally it would have been impossible for those seeking the reward to have been in a position to return the child to its parents. "The demands for the reward were made, in Mr. Hurley's opinion, just as soon as it became apparent the Lindberghs were in a frame of mind to pay a large sum for the return of their child, and were quite ready to deal directly with the supposed kidnapers with this in view.

While Mr. Hurley believes the man who obtained the $50,000 from Col. Lindbergh should be apprehended and punished for the act, he is of the opinion they had nothing to do with the kidnaping of the child. "Find the woman who planned the kidnaping because of her jealousy of Col. Lindbergh and from her it will be possible to discover who murdered the baby," declared the former chief of the Connecticut state police department.

SUED FOR $10,000 IN SQUATRITO'S DEATH

Truck Owner's Property Attached in Action Brought By Father of Athlete.

Attorney Frank L. Vecchiola of Meriden representing Rosario Squatrito, who was named administrator of the estate of Dominic Squatrito, this morning passed to Constable James W. Foley writs to attach in the amount of $10,000 the property of John Manning of Lebanon in a suit for that amount, returnable to the June term of the Superior Court of Hartford County, based on the killing of Dominic Squatrito, son of Rosario, in an automobile accident in Bolton recently.

Mr. Foley at 8:30 this morning attached the truck owned by Manning and now in a garage in Manchester for repairs and then went to Lebanon, in New London County, where attachments were placed on other trucks and automobiles and on the dairy farm of Manning.

The writ sets up a general complaint, a description of the accident and tells of the injuries that young Squatrito suffered and alleges: "Negligence, carelessness, wantonness and recklessness."

"That at said time and place the said Francis King was operating his motor truck in a careless, reckless and negligent manner, having regard to the width of the highway, the fact that it was not in good highway slipperiness; and other conditions then and there present; and was operating said motor truck at a high rate of speed in view of said conditions so as to endanger the life, limb and property of other users on said highway; and at a greater rate of speed than was reasonable, proper or safe because of the aforesaid conditions. And said defendant and his agent negligently, carelessly, wantonly and recklessly failed to have his motor truck under control, and negligently failed to stop his motor truck before it came in contact with the automobile operated by and deceased and said defendant and his agent was negligent in operating said truck with defective brakes; and with a defective steering apparatus; and with a windshield which was not in good working order; and with a windshield which was cracked and covered so that the vision was obscured; and defendant and his agent violated the rules of the road in not keeping to the right hand side; and negligently drove and operated said motor truck so that it crossed over from the right side of the left side of the highway and ran into and against the automobile operated by the deceased.

FORECASTS FAILURE
OF GENEVA PARLEY Italian Senator Declares Nations Cannot Agree On Disarmaments Now.

Rome, May 19.—(AP)—Forecasting the failure or only partial success of the Geneva disarmament conference, Marquis Ferdinand del Carretto told the Senate today that it was prudent "to prepare to resume the race in armaments."

"Skirmishes during recent discussions on the question of so-called qualitative disarmament and the attitude of France on the naval program presented in her Parliament make us believe that hoped-for reduction in armaments must still collide with strong obstacles," the Senator said.

Italy's Desire "Italy's desire to reach a happy conclusion are now universally recognized but because it is necessary to look for the failure or partial success of the Geneva conference it is prudent to prepare ourselves and not neglect studies of new types of ships which may be essential."

The Senator traced Italy's efforts to achieve naval disarmament and expressed the hope that the Geneva conference would be successful. "It is prudent to expect a different outcome," he concluded, "and to prepare to resume the race in disarmaments."

The qualitative scheme of disarmament presented at Geneva calls for reductions in specific classes of weapons. Its principal proponents have been the United States and Great Britain. The leading opposition program has come from France, which presented a plan for an international police force to be contributed to by all nations and supervised by the League.

Stamford, May 19.—(AP)—Samuel B. Childs of 930 Pearl street, Denver, Colo., a first year medical student at Yale University, is in the Stamford hospital, paralyzed below the shoulders, an injury received early today when he fell from a stone wall while walking with some friends in the woods near Turnof river. It is believed that Childs' neck was fractured in the fall. X-ray pictures taken after his admission to the hospital, not having been fully developed to show the extent of the injury.

Childs had been riding in an automobile with two other Yale students, Jack Huntington, Jr., and J. R. Walker, and two girls, Rhoda Buchanan of Darien, and Frances Amundson of Noroton, when they decided to go for a walk along the banks of the Rippowam river, Childs falling off the wall and landing on his head and shoulders, when he became separated from the rest of the party.

John H. Curtis and Family

"I was apparently brought back to my senses when my wife told me how the children missed me," said John H. Curtis (inset), the Norfolk, Va., boat-builder, in confessing to New Jersey authorities that all his "negotiations" with the supposed kidnapers of the Lindbergh baby were a hoax. This picture shows Mrs. Curtis and their two children, Constance and John Hughes Curtis, Jr., in their Norfolk home.

SCHWAB IS OPTIMISTIC OVER TRADE CONDITIONS

Steel Magnate Also Declares That Credit Jams Must Be Broken Before Real Revival Will Start.

New York, May 19.—(AP)—Charles M. Schwab today reaffirmed his optimism for the future but asserted that costs of government must be reduced and existing credit jams broken before business could revive.

In his semi-annual presidential address to the American Iron and Steel Institute Mr. Schwab, chairman of Bethlehem Steel Corporation, said "a most important" prerequisite for the restoration of public confidence was "the demonstration by Federal and local governments that they can and will live within their incomes under stress of necessity."

"The Federal budget must be balanced in order to protect our national credit," he said "and in view of the vastly depleted ability of the public to pay, it must be balanced by reducing the measure of reduced expenditures."

Has House In Order The steel industry, he declared, has put its own house in order and the Federal reserve system is doing its part. "But above all, the Federal government which is the heart of our National structure, must balance its budget and restore confidence there. From there, confidence, which is the

DR. J. R. MAGEE ELECTED BISHOP BY METHODISTS

District Superintendent of Seattle, Wash., Area Is Chosen On 17th Ballot; To Be Consecrated Sunday.

Atlantic City, N. J., May 19.—(AP)—Dr. Junius Ralph Magee, district superintendent of the Seattle, Wash., area, was elected bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church today by the General Conference on the 17th ballot.

Magee received 561 votes, 25 more than the two-thirds majority necessary for election. As soon as the election was announced he was escorted from the floor of the conference to the platform where the Board of Bishops sits, by Bishop William F. Anderson of Boston, who ordained him to the ministry, and Bishop Titus Lowe, of Portland, Ore., the bishop of the area in which he has been serving.

Consecrated Sunday Bishop Magee will probably be formally consecrated on Sunday. Dr. Magee was ordained in 1907 after receiving his education at Iowa State Teachers College.

His first pastorate was in Sioux City, Iowa, and subsequently he served churches in Massachusetts and Washington. During the World War he was director of religious work in the Y. M. C. A. at Camp Devens, Mass., and in the Boston district. He has been district superintendent at Seattle since 1929. Dr. Magee was born in Maquoketa, Iowa, June 8, 1880. He is married and has two children.

PASTOR ACCUSED OF KISSING MANY English Cleric Embraced Innumerable Women But Only Habit, Says Counsel.

London, May 19.—(AP)—The Rev. H. F. Davidson, 63, "did indeed kiss innumerable women," his counsel assured a consistory court today, but there was nothing about this habit to which a body could object.

The minister is accused of having been guilty of immorality while vicar of Stiffkey—which is pronounced Stiffkey.

R. F. Levy told the court in behalf of Mr. Davidson that the rector was "a troublesome bodybuilder." "He kisses his landlady, he kisses his landlady's daughter, he kisses the maid, he kisses all sort of people," Counsel Levy said. "But it is not in a sensual way. It is a kiss on the cheek or the forehead."

Nothing Impugner The counsel said that while Mr. Davidson had had associations with hundreds of young women they always were laudable and not improper associations. He urged that the only direct evidence of immorality came from one witness, Barbara Harris, and he protested against the atmosphere of prejudice which he accused the prosecution of having created.

The charges against Mr. Davidson were made by the bishop of Norwich. They are being heard by a Consistory Court sitting at Church House, Westminster, and at the conclusion of the case a report will be made to the bishop.

BAN ON FISHING

August, Maine, May 19.—(AP)—Because of the seriousness of the forest fire situation Governor Gardner today proclaimed a suspension of the open season on fishing everywhere in Maine, except from boats on ponds, lakes, rivers or thoroughfares, and prohibited smoking and building of fires out of doors in the woods.

On Reparations M. Herriot declared himself for the Paul-Boncour doctrine, which is: 1. Maintain European solidarity; 2. Permit no rupture in the equilibrium between credits and debts at the expense of the French taxpayer.

Although receptive to the suggestion of armament reductions, the Radical-Socialist leader strongly approved the plan presented at the Geneva conference by Andre Tardieu. This plan calls for international security through an international police force to be supervised by the League of Nations.

Some Paris commentators deduced from this that Herriot would make arms reductions dependent upon acceptance at Geneva of the French plan.

TREASURY BALANCE

Washington, May 19.—(AP)—Treasury receipts for May 17 were: $2,964,222.24; expenditures $11,590,287.65; balance $499,310,466.79. Customs duties for 17 days of May were $9,294,265.05.

CURTIS NOT INVOLVED IN LINDY KIDNAPING

Underworld Assisted In Lindbergh Search

New York, May 19.—(AP)—The World Telegram says Morris Romer, appointed by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh to negotiate with the underworld for the return of the Lindbergh baby, told an amazing story today of the underworld search.

Earl Sparling, who wrote the article, says Romer told him hostilities were forgotten and every organized mob and gang in the country cooperated.

"The first thing I did," Sparling quotes Romer as saying, "was to go to all the mob leaders and ask them to help. Every one of them did. They started off by suspecting every one who was missing from the usual places. That includes lawyers and fugitives from justice and the other fellows who were hiding out because they thought they were on the spot in some feud. Every one of them was hunted up and questioned."

"And all of them were willing to help. Some of them were taking their lives in their hands to come out of hiding."

Romer is quoted as saying one thing the gangs were able to do for Col. Lindbergh was to "keep out the chiselers," opportunists who sought to obtain a ransom for a child they did not have. The gangs dealt with such men in summary fashion, he said.

Received By Trenton Police Ten Days After Child Had Been Kidnaped—Told To Follow Telephone Lines.

Newark, N. J., May 19.—(AP)—The Newark Evening News said today that 10 days after the kidnaping of the Lindbergh baby Chief of Police William Walter of Trenton received an anonymous letter directing police to "follow the Lindbergh telephone wires" and the baby and "the three other men" would be found.

The body of the kidnaped Lindbergh baby was found a week ago today close to the main road from Hopewell to Princeton. Along the road ran special wires laid by police conducting the investigation from the Lindbergh garage.

HERRIOT SUGGESTS
NEW FRENCH POLICY National Security, Arbitration and Disarmament, Principal Points.

Paris, May 19.—(AP)—Edouard Herriot, who probably will direct the new French government either as premier or foreign minister, gave an inkling of the external policy he will pursue by a statement by Senator Joseph Paul-Boncour that France's program remains national security, arbitration and disarmament, in the order named.

M. Herriot endorsed the Paul-Boncour suggestion that France study the question of making some reduction in armaments as a step toward disarmament, thereby showing the sincerity of the French attitude toward Germany.

The statement of M. Herriot, leader of the powerful Radical-Socialist party which made great gains in the last Chamber of Deputies elections, was of considerable importance because, even if he does not become the premier, he is expected to wield more influence than any other member of the new Cabinet. In the event he does not head the ministry he probably will take the foreign affairs portfolio.

On Reparations M. Herriot declared himself for the Paul-Boncour doctrine, which is: 1. Maintain European solidarity; 2. Permit no rupture in the equilibrium between credits and debts at the expense of the French taxpayer.

Although receptive to the suggestion of armament reductions, the Radical-Socialist leader strongly approved the plan presented at the Geneva conference by Andre Tardieu. This plan calls for international security through an international police force to be supervised by the League of Nations.

Police Exonerate Him From Suspicion As To Knowledge of the Actual Stealing of the Child—To Question Dean Peacock About Deposit of $25,000 of the Colonel's Money.

Hopewell, N. J., May 19.—(AP)—John H. Curtis, jailed Lindbergh hoaxer, today was exonerated of any connection with the actual kidnaping of the Lindbergh baby or collection of ransom, as New Jersey officials pressed plans for the questioning of his companion, the Rev. H. Dobson-Peacock at Norfolk, Va.

The clergyman, revealed yesterday as having flown to Hopewell on March 28 to request Col. Lindbergh to deposit $25,000 in a Norfolk bank as "earnest money" in connection with alleged negotiations with the kidnapers, declined to come to Hopewell, but said he would give all information to the police at Norfolk.

Governor A. Harry Moore of New Jersey immediately announced he favored "sending someone to Norfolk to see what he has to say" and indicated that a representative probably would be named by Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, superintendent of state police. Col. Schwarzkopf said he was "very anxious" to confront Curtis and Peacock.

Strange Information At the same time it was learned that 10 days after the kidnaping an anonymous letter was received by Chief of Police William Walter of Trenton directing that if the Lindbergh telephone wires was followed the baby and "the three other men" would be found.

It was recalled that special wires laid by police from the Lindbergh garage ran along the main road between Hopewell and Princeton, near which the body of the Lindbergh baby was found a week ago today.

Chief Walter was quoted as holding the theory that the letter might have been written by one of four men who kidnaped the baby. He forwarded it to police at Hopewell, it was stated, but heard nothing further from them.

No Connection The exonerated Curtis came in the morning bulletin from Col. Schwarzkopf. This related there was "nothing that would in any way link Curtis with the actual kidnaping of the Lindbergh baby and the collection of the ransom money."

This statement was made about an investigation of Curtis' whereabouts the night the baby was kidnaped and the night of April 2 when Dr. John F. Condon, "Jarfie," pushed $50,000 through a hedge in a Bronx consistory court in New York.

Col. Schwarzkopf mentioned that Dr. Condon had been "most cooperative with police" and had offered to come to Hopewell or go anywhere else with the investigators.

BRUCE SILENT Princeton, N. J., May 19.—(AP)—Edwin B. Bruce, friend of John Hughes Curtis who frequently appeared on the scene during the Lindbergh baby negotiations which Curtis has confessed were a fake, left for his home in Elmira, N. Y., today.

Before he departed, he remarked to a clerk in the hotel where he and Mrs. Bruce have been staying: "While this kind of business makes me feel sick, I am glad I was able to be of some assistance to Colonel Lindbergh himself."

He did not expand the statement. To reporters he said: "I have no statement to make at this time—nor shall I ever have any statement to make. I am like Adam Burrage in that respect."

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce left by automobile, and expected to reach Elmira tonight.

DISCUSS PEACOCK Trenton, N. J., May 19.—(AP)—A conference was called at the State House this afternoon to consider the possibility that Rev. E. H. Dobson-Peacock of Norfolk committed some crime or misdemeanor in connection with the request of $25,000 "earnest money" from Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

Rev. Dobson-Peacock, who was associated with John H. Curtis, had offered to deposit $25,000 in a Norfolk bank as "earnest money" in connection with alleged negotiations with the kidnapers, declined to come to Hopewell for the questioning of his companion, the Rev. H. Dobson-Peacock at Norfolk, Va.

He was quoted as saying "I am glad I was able to be of some assistance to Colonel Lindbergh himself."

KIDNAPERS ON TRIAL

Chicago, May 19.—(AP)—Two of the four men charged with kidnaping Dr. Mac Gecht and his wife, Georgia, pleaded guilty today as testimony was about to be given in their trial. They were William Thomas and John Pinger. Assistant State's Attorney C. Wayland Brooks said the state would recommend life imprisonment and indicated the two would testify against the two other defendants, former Assistant State's Attorney Ward C. Swallow and Edward Fineman. Judge Phillip Sullivan denied a defense motion for a mistrial and said he would inform the jury that Pinger and Thomas no longer were on trial before it.

Dr. and Mrs. Gecht were driving in Chicago, the night of December 10, 1931, when their car was halted by a gang riding in two automobiles. The couple was driven to a house in the southern section of the city. The kidnapers first demanded $50,000 and gradually reduced their demands to $5,000. Mrs. Gecht finally was released after paying $2,000.

Mrs. Asther, a German born baby, in Hollywood, are believed ended. Representative Englebright of California, a close friend of the actor, whose deportation by Federal authorities had been ordered, said today he had been notified Asther had been granted a visa and could re-enter the country under the preferred immigration quota basis and that he could make application for American citizenship. Asther was compelled to leave the country because of expiration of his visitor's permit. He has been living in Mexico.

ABOUT TOWN

The formal notice of the plan to extend credit to users of electric light current furnished by the Manchester Electric Company, was distributed to consumers yesterday and today. The plan had previously been issued through the press. The periods covered, it is explained, are for the bills for the months of June, July and August.

John H. C. Longdike, of 33 Maple street, who was referred to in yesterday's Herald as having been reported in a deputy sheriff's return on a jury panel, as no longer a resident of Manchester, objects to being described as a non-resident. Mr. Longdike explains that it just happened that the deputy sheriff made three calls on his home, in the process of checking up his jury list, during a temporary absence from town of Mr. Longdike who had been called away by the death of a relative. Mr. Longdike says he met the sheriff on the day of his return home, when the latter told him that on the day previous the board of selectmen had completed the jury check he had that morning reported him as having departed and no longer eligible for jury duty.

The Community Restaurant at 143 North Main street, owned by Alfred and Sheehan, today changed hands, George Gibson, who has long been employed in the restaurant business in Manchester, having assumed the management of the place.

On Saturday, May 28, the formal dedication of the Lithuanian hall on Colway street will be observed. The grading has been completed and a new wire fence constructed around the property. On May 28 the members of the organization will gather for a dinner that is to be served by a program of entertainment, and dancing will follow.

High officers of the Modern Woodmen of America will be guests tonight of the local camp. The meeting will be held in Tinker hall at 5 o'clock. The purpose of the visit of these officers is to stimulate interest in the New England Encampment to be held at Rocky Point in Rhode Island, July 17 to 20.

Another Boston excursion is to run on Saturday of this week, the round fare from Manchester being $2.75. The schedule allows for the leaving of the trains from Manchester in the afternoon or 4:30 and can be made from Boston on Saturday at 8:15 in the morning or at 4:15 in the afternoon.

The brick work that is being laid at the Federal building at the Center has reached a height that now appears above the ground level. The bricklayers are working in different gangs and each section is advanced to about the same height each day. With the brick work above the surface a better idea of the size of the building is given.

Complaints have been made to police that persons have been overhauling the dump near the corner of Broad street and West Middle Turnpike. A dump has been maintained at this point by the owner of the property and after refuse has been deposited the waste has been covered up with soil. The objection has been that people having no business on the property have dug over the refuse and have left it in an unsightly condition. A warning has been issued to all persons and any caught on the property will be prosecuted.

R. La Motte Russell, treasurer of the Manchester Savings Bank, is in New York today and tomorrow, attending the 12th annual national convention of mutual savings banks, which is being held at the Waldorf-Astoria. He expects to return Saturday.

W. W. Robertson, manager of the Orford Soap Company, is in Montreal, Canada, on business for the company.

A horse sled wagon sled off the bank near the dump in front of the armory this afternoon and the wagon tipped over on top of the horse. The police dog owned by Ray Paris gave the alarm and the driver was hauled out from under the wagon. The shafts of the wagon were broken.

The three firms participating were assumed that Thomas Bragg, James McConnochie, and Edward O'Brien would be questioned on operations of the pool. The committee also has information from which it expects to develop the existence of a General Asphalt pool, a Chrysler pool and an Anascondo Copper pool. Other cases which will be developed first will include the Goldman Sachs Trading Corporation, Indian Motor Cycles and General Foods.

McConnochie and O'Brien are partners of M. J. Meehan, specialist in radio, whose wife participated in another pool previously described to the committee. Bragg, who has testified before, participated in that pool with Meehan's wife and told of several other pool operations. The hearing was delayed a while to allow Gray to finish his preparations.

The hearing also was delayed by failure of witnesses to appear on time, and committeemen showed impatience. The spectators on hand were fewer than at previous sessions. As the hearing finally got going, Gray said he was going to present a picture of a pool run in new radio stock from March 12 to 20, 1929, and "show who was in the pool, the aggregate transaction list, profits and endeavor to ascertain from the witnesses some things that require explanation.

"One of these involved the payment of $20,000 to people who were not participants," he added; and that began examination of Thomas Bragg. This was the pool which was in the record a circular sent out by Meehan and Company, March 7, 1929, announcing formation of the syndicate. This was the pool which would not exceed 1,000,000 shares on the long or short side of the market. Profits of the managers, the circular announced, would be 10 per cent of the net profits.

This was the pool which would not exceed 1,000,000 shares on the long or short side of the market. Profits of the managers, the circular announced, would be 10 per cent of the net profits.

Relating to the list of those in the pool dealing through the firm of Hutton, Gray named Mrs. Bragg, as putting up $300,000 and making a profit of $116,684.

Percy A. Rockefeller was named as putting up $75,000 with a profit of $29,000. J. A. Stillman was listed as making a profit of $29,000.

Bragg, Bernard E. Smith and Percy A. Rockefeller were named as having a joint account. The pool was operated through the firm of M. J. Meehan and Company and W. E. Hutton and Company, said Bragg adding "the actual buying and selling was through Meehan and Company."

"You got 10 per cent of the profits with Mr. Ellsworth?" asked Gray. "Yes."

Bragg said he was familiar only with those in the pool through W. E. Hutton and Company. Gray said the pool was organized March 7, 1929, and was closed out March 20, 1929, but its actual operation was between March 12 and 20; and "during those seven days they bought 1,493,400 shares for which they paid $141,424,328."

Gray said $10,000 was paid to J. P. Tummity, secretary to the late P. J. Wilson, who was not in the pool. "Why was that paid?" he asked Bragg. "I don't know," Bragg replied.

MISS LUNDBERG

Miss Barbara Lundberg, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. G. A. F. Lundberg, is shown in the costume she will wear in the Central Church Juniors program Saturday.

W. E. Hutton and Block Maloney and Company. Plain Gambling "This was the same as gambling at a card table with a card up the sleeve, wasn't it?" Senator Glass, (D. Va.) asked. "I don't know," Bragg replied. "The fellow at the card table had a better chance," Gray replied. Several persons other than Tummity, who were not participants, were said by Gray to have received money from the pool. He named Eddie Dowling, the actor, as having received $10,000. Bragg said he could not explain why it was paid. Gray said $15,000 was paid to I. E. Lambert. "Isn't he an employe of Radio Corporation?" Gray asked. "I don't know," Bragg replied. Gray said he was informed Lambert was general counsel for Victor Radio.

Participants in the pool who did not put up any money were each listed for a block of stock for which Gray said they were responsible. Gray said Meehan and Company made a profit of $580,000, not including interest. Called next, James McConnochie, a partner of Meehan and Company, said he was formerly a special agent at the Fort of New York under the Treasury. He denied knowledge about the money paid to non-participants in the pool.

"One of them was F. J. Field, a worker for your company?" Gray said. "Why did you give him a gift of $10,000?" "I have no knowledge, but he was a valued client as well as employe. The only person who could tell you is Mr. Meehan and as you know, he is a very sick man. He called for Europe the other night."

"When did he call?" Gray asked. "Last night," McConnochie replied, as members of the committee laughed. "He called because he was sick?" Chairman Norbeck asked. "His doctors, three of the leading physicians in New York, advised him to," McConnochie replied. "Were these doctor members of the pool?" Senator Brookhart (R. Iowa) asked.

Gray interposed he had seen Meehan two weeks ago and "there was no question, but that he was not a well man." The counsel said he had attempted to subpoena Meehan in a sanatorium later, but found he had left there.

"This is the first information I had that he was well enough to sail for Europe," Gray added.

MYSTERY PACKAGES

New York, May 19.—(AP)—Two mysterious packages which Russell T. Sherwood, missing agent of Mayor James J. Walker, placed in the custody department of the Bank of Manhattan Trust Co. Feb. 25, 1931, were the subject of inquiry by the Hofstadter legislative committee today.

Frederick C. Harris, secretary of the Manhattan company, was the first witness questioned by the Manhattan club committee. Harris was the holder of a power of attorney of a safe deposit box held jointly by the mayor and Sherwood in the Chase Safe Deposit Company.

Harris said he had known Sherwood since January 1930, when Sherwood became an employe of the Bank of Manhattan Trust Company, but that he had not seen him since August last year. He denied that he personally had received the two packages from Sherwood and said his recollection was that Sherwood asked him if the bank had a safe keeping department and later delivered the two packages to the head of that department.

A photostatic copy of the receipt given to Sherwood in reference to the packages was placed in evidence. It stated that "two sealed envelopes, contents unknown," were placed in the custody division of the bank Feb. 25, 1931.

SEIZE RUM VESSEL AFTER LONG PURSUIT

New London, May 19—(AP)—Sensational action in which two Coast Guard patrol boats from Section Base 4, here, and the speedboat Bernadine of Newark, N. J., an alleged rum runner, had part was climaxed this morning at four o'clock by the seizure of the speed boat, ashore on Shagwong Point, Long Island, with one of its three powerful engines still running and sacks of bottled liquor stowed on the beach and in the waters near the stranded vessel.

The seizure was made after a seventy mile chase, during which the Coast Guard said the Bernadine sought frantically to escape the pursuing patrol craft in the Atlantic Ocean and in Block Island Sound. The crew of the speed boat jumped ashore at Shagwong Point, which is near the extreme eastern end of Long Island and escaped the vessel's pursuer. Harry Manchester as master. His address was unknown to the Coast Guard. Two hundred and twenty-eight sacks of liquor were found near the Bernadine and these were loaded on the speed boat. The Bernadine was then hoisted and brought to this port where it was being held today pending completion of arrangements for surrender to customs authorities in New York.

The sixteen W. B. A. guards wore their new costumes of cotton mesh in pastel shades, one squad in orchid, another in green, one in yellow and one in peach with white revers; collars. The four junior color bearers wore sailor suits. The local officers and guards exemplified the memorial service during the forenoon and the class initiation in the afternoon. During the evening, refreshments were served, including a huge birthday cake baked especially for the occasion, and card playing was enjoyed until a late hour.

REDS REACH AMOY

Peiping, China, May 19—(AP)—Amoy dispatches said today the Communist army had occupied Shihma, twelve miles from the city. The Communists recently received 6,000 reinforcements, according to foreign official advices, and have started setting river craft with the intention of attacking Amoy. Foreigners in the International Settlement on Kulungso island opposite the city of Amoy fear the island will be overrun by Chinese if the attack develops. The belief here is that foreign naval forces now at Amoy can handle any trouble.

MISS SLADE RELEASED

Bombay, May 19—(AP)—Miss Madeline Slade who was released Tuesday night at the expiration of her sentence for participating in Nationalist activities started immediately from Veroval jail to see Matama Gandhi but was refused permission to visit him. Today she was in Poona. Her sentence was three months imprisonment.

DOCTOR OPPOSES BIRTH CONTROL

Former Head of Medical Association Says the Plan is Harmful.

Washington, May 19—(AP)—While advocates of birth control were taking advantage of the first opportunity since 1915 to present their views before a House committee, the Senate judiciary committee today heard strenuous opposition. Testifying on the Hatfield bill to permit dissemination of contraceptive information by physicians, Dr. William Gerry Morgan, past president of the American Medical Association said the legislation was dangerous, that all contraceptive methods have "more or less harmful effect," and that there is no foundation for the charge that doctors are handicapped in dispensing advice to mothers suffering from physical infirmity.

Doctors Against It "And God forbid that they should desire to offer it to any others," he added. Morgan said he did not believe the medical profession as a whole favored any such legislation, observing that the medical association only last week refused to endorse this or any other legislation for the same purpose. Dr. John A. Ryan, economist and social worker, said "advocacy of birth prevention as a remedy for poverty diverts attention from measures of economic and social justice. The propaganda for birth prevention... helps to continue a cruel injustice to the working classes."

She Reduced 38 Pounds The Safe Way

"I have been taking Kruschen Salts for 4 months and I think they are wonderful. I am 32 years old and 5 ft. 2 in. tall. I was very fat. I weighed 165 lbs. and now I weigh 127 lbs. and feel fine. If I let up taking the Salts one morning I feel laxy and heavy," Mrs. Florence Loftus, Boston.

This is just one of hundreds of letters we get every month. Kruschen not only causes you to lose fat but while you are losing it you gain in health—in vivaciousness—you lose fat where fat is most prominent and at the same time keep stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels functioning naturally.

J. H. Quinn & Co., South Manchester, or any druggists in the world will sell you a jar of Kruschen for a trifling sum—take one-half teaspoonful in a glass of hot water every morning—go light on fatty meats, potatoes and sweets. But for your health's sake demand and get Kruschen Salts—imitations are numerous. It's the little daily dose that does it.—Adv.

STOCKS IN POLICE TO STOP UNLAWFUL

Single Headlight A Police This Should Be Banned, Commissioner Declares.

Aggressive action to curb the operation of motor vehicles with one headlight in service and of commercial motor vehicles with defective reflectors is suggested by Commissioner of Motor Vehicles Robins B. Stoeckel in a request for co-operation made by him today to police departments about the state. In making his suggestions to the police, Mr. Stoeckel has started a new series of messages to the police departments to be sent directly over the teletype. "There are many complaints about the danger of the one-light car a number of protests because of the existing belief that no discipline is being administered for the offense," Commissioner Stoeckel says. "If this is true, then the message may in short time grow far beyond its present proportions and become even more annoying and dangerous. Where the same car is driven at night after with one light and without any attempt at correction, it seems as though discipline should follow. I believe that a system of warnings conducted by the individual police forces will effect a marked improvement in this situation."

ROOSEVELT GAINS THIRTY-TWO VOTES

Is Now Within Reaching Distance of Nomination; Yesterday's Results.

By Associated Press. Thirty-two more votes picked up yesterday by Franklin D. Roosevelt in South Carolina, Vermont and the District of Columbia, placed the leading contender for the Democratic presidential nomination within reaching distance of a majority in the party convention.

He had today 428 votes exclusive of 100 from New York and Pennsylvania which, while disputed, his managers expect him to receive. Tomorrow and Saturday forty more delegates will be chosen in Tennessee, Oregon and Nevada, with prospects he may get them all.

President Hoover's walkway candidacy gathered 28 more delegates yesterday from Alabama and Vermont, taking him to within six votes of the Republican nominating mark on pledged votes alone, excluding hundreds of uncommitted but friendly delegates.

Against Prohibition. Two states in the party conventions yesterday acted on prohibition. Vermont Republicans sought resubmission before the year's end. Vermont Democrats declared for repeal, with light wines and beer in the meantime.

So far Democratic groups of a dozen states have spoken for repeal or resubmission in some form: New York, Iowa, Maine, Minnesota, Washington, Michigan, Illinois, North Dakota, Rhode Island, Wyoming, Montana and Vermont.

Five have lined up for enforcement or have a wet plan: Georgia, Missouri, Nebraska, Kansas and South Carolina. Seven states avoided all mention: Kentucky, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Arizona, New Mexico and Connecticut.

Six Republican groups have called for repeal or resubmission, ten have taken the dry side or have defeated wet plans and 17 have made no mention of prohibition.

McCLUSKEY LEAVES FOR COAST JUNE 19. Fordham Star Will Be One of 215 To Entrain At New York For California Trials.

New York, May 19.—(AP)—Two hundred and fifteen athletes of 39 eastern colleges will leave New York June 19 for the 56th annual intercollegiate track and field championships at Berkeley, Calif., July 1 and 2.

Final details for the trip were announced today by the I. A. A. A., which is holding the meet in the far west for the first time since the organization of the association in 1876.

The three host universities, California, Stanford and Southern California, will defray the major portion of the expenses of the trip, the eastern colleges paying only an average of the expenses of their teams for the meet held in alternate years at Philadelphia and Cambridge.

The intercollegiate will serve as semi-final tryouts for the Olympic games, the first three men in each event qualifying for the final Olympic tryouts at Palo Alto July 15-16. The remainder of the competitors will either stay over for the Olympics at their own expense or return home.

Joseph F. McCluskey of Manchester is included in the group which entrains June 19. He will be home early next month for his final vacation before the Olympics and will run a farewell exhibition race here at that time.

ROCKVILLE

Legion Post Stanley Dohms Post will take part in the Memorial Day exercises and parade to both cemeteries on May 30 and will furnish a string band and a color guard.

Rules in the Flag Essay contest have been sent to the schools and the closing day for the essays to be sent in is June 2. The essay will be read by the winner at the Flag Day exercises to be held by the Rockville Lodge of Elks on Flag Day.

On Sunday, May 29, the Legion post will attend the patriotic service at the Rockville Methodist church in a body.

Dohms Post now has a membership of 349 members, the quota being 275. If the membership brought up to 251, a delegation of five will be named to attend the annual state convention in August.

The members cordially greeted Commander Harry Lebehevsky, who presided at the meeting. He has been ill for some time but is gradually regaining his health.

At a meeting of the Post on Tuesday evening a protest was made against not having the flag displayed each day on the flag pole in Central park. Commander Harry Lebehevsky appointed a committee to communicate this action to the City Council at its meeting next Tuesday night. The city, in cutting expenses, decided to display the flag only on holidays and special occasions. Patriotic organizations are opposing this decision.

The Legion has entered the Junior Baseball League and the opening game will be announced at a future date. It was also announced at the meeting that 19 more young men of Tolland County have sent in applications to attend the C. M. T. C. which opens in July.

The steam shovel is at work at the western section of the bridge and it is expected the work will be finished early in June.

Buses from Broad Brook, Ellington, will make a detour over the Orchard street route, up Union street to the center.

CONFISCATES TAXICABS. Madrid, May 19.—(AP)—Public Safety Director Casares today started confiscating taxicabs, trucks and auto buses throughout Spain for the purpose of breaking up the motor transportation strike called yesterday. The strike has affected the entire nation with the exception of Catalonia, Navarre and the Basque provinces.

The confiscated vehicles will be turned over to workmen's societies and to army units which will put them in use.

Several cities reported that strikers were slashing automobile tires when they found vehicles in the streets. At Santiago de Compostela guards frustrated an attempt to bomb principal roadways.

Norfolk Shipbuilder Says Stories of Lindbergh Negotiations False

I never knew such people that I meant to Colonel Lindbergh and that were creatures of distorted mind, with the exception of Marie Truesdale, who had no connection with the crime.

I exceedingly regret that I caused Colonel Lindbergh and others any inconvenience and wish it were in my power to correct my wrong.

In justice to my wife and two children I trust that it is in the power of Colonel Lindbergh to forgive the inconvenience, wrong and injustice I did him in his time of grief.

This statement has been brought about by the realization of the wrong I have done.

Witness. John Hughes Curtis

After nearly 20 hours questioning by Trenton, N. J., police, John H. Curtis, Norfolk shipbuilder and society man, sat down and wrote a confession, according to questioners, of which the concluding words and signature are reproduced above. Curtis had made many trips to sea, Colonel Lindbergh accompanying him on the last one. During this final expedition the Lindbergh baby was found slain.

Dr. Compton believes the find will support the hypothesis that they are photons, such as light and X-rays rather than electrons. It will also support the theory that they are not generated in the local astronomical complexes—the solar system and the Milky Way—but result from atomic disturbances in the unknown regions millions of light years away.

WORLD WIDE PROBE OF RAYS TO START. Chicago, May 19.—(AP)—A world-wide investigation to determine the nature and source of cosmic rays is about to begin.

Dr. Arthur H. Compton, professor of physics at the University of Chicago will leave Friday for Hawaii, where he will use a cosmic ray meter on the Mauna Kea. From Hawaii he will proceed to Auckland, New Zealand, where tests will be made on Mount Cook. Mt. Kosciuszko in Australia will be the next objective. Dr. Compton will also make tests on Mt. Chico in Panama, Huancayo, Peru, and finally at Mexico City.

Three other cooperating parties will report to Dr. Compton at the end of the summer. One will take measurements on the volcano Lamin in Patagonia and at Punta Arenas in Chile, a second, in charge of Prof. S. N. Naude of the University of Cape Town, will report from South Africa. In India, Prof. J. N. Bhasde of Punjab University, Lahore, will go to Mt. Munga Purbat in Kashmir, third highest peak in the world, and attempt to make tests at altitudes ranging as high as 20,000 feet.

If the rays are found to be equal at all the widely-dispersed stations, REKED NOT A CANDIDATE. Waterbury, Conn., May 19.—(AP)—State Senator Lewis R. Reed has announced that because of pressure of his banking duties he will not seek re-election as Senator from the 16th District.

Senator Reed, vice president of the Citizens and Manufacturers' National Bank was chairman of the committee on banks during the last General Assembly. With Lester E. Shippee, then bank commissioner, he was credited with sponsoring considerable legislation which drastically changed the banking and investment laws of the state.

It also adopted a resolution requesting the school board to rescind its recent action in dropping two teachers without stating publicly the reason for doing this.

DO YOU INHALE?

...wonder why cigarette advertising generally avoids this question?

ONE of the mysteries in cigarette advertising has been the apparent feat of the word "inhale." It seems rather foolish—for surely inhales—whether they realize it or not... every smoker breathes in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette.

Think, then, how important it is to be certain that your cigarette smoke is pure and clean—no poisons that you inhale remain immediately. Do you inhale? Lucky Strike has the answer.

URGES SALARY CUTS Berlin, May 19.—(AP)—Sweeping salary cuts and the wholesale dismissal of officials considered non-essential was demanded today by Wilhelm Kube, National Socialist leader in the new Prussian Diet which will convene May 24. The Nazi leader asserted the "chief task ahead of the League is reorganization of justice in Prussia and cleaning the administration, the police and the schools of undesirable elements." The Nazis, he said, will demand the appointment of an investigating committee to look into what he called the miscarriage of justice in Prussia, especially in reference to trials of various members of Adolf Hitler's party.

LIONS REVUE WINS CROWD'S ACCLAIM Community Players Gather Fine Group of Entertainers For Milk Fund Benefit.

For two hours and more last evening the depression was forgotten by the several hundred men and women who attended the revue given at the Hollister street school for the benefit of the Lions' club milk fund for under-nourished children.

Ably Directed Last night's performance marked the third time this spring the Community Players have brought a full evening's amusement to lovers of the spoken drama, reflecting credit on their able director, Mrs. Joseph Handley, and winning laurels for themselves by their unusually competent acting.

Present Thomas Conran of the Lions club made a few opening remarks of welcome, and appreciation to all those who had freely given their time and talents for the cause. Fred Werner, music director for the revue, acted by three other musicians, added immeasurably to the enjoyment of the program by the music they furnished throughout the evening and for general dancing which followed.

Good Singing Carl Borst was in his element as master of ceremonies and contributed much to the fun of the evening by his fund of ready wit. Miss Arlyne Moriarty, Corwin Grant, Ben Radding and girls' chorus in "I'll Make a Happy Landing," began a varied program of 20 numbers that progressed swiftly and smoothly for two full hours.

Sketches The first sketch, "A Rehearsal for an Amateur Play," with Miss Elizabeth Jones in the role of the exasperated director, went over in a big way. The cast included members of the Players who have appeared in previous plays this spring.

Eight End Men Announcer Borst stated that the Kiwanis club at their spring minstrel had only four Ethiopians while the Lions club could boast of eight. The boys who took part in this blackface sketch, "Sleepy Time Down South," with Corwin Grant as the soloist, were Michael Savino and Patsy Burke who played on the harmonica, James August, Raymond Mers, Arthur and Lawrence Scranton, Harry Davis and Arthur Korch.

PLAN FISHING TRIP Hartford, Conn., May 19.—(AP)—Former Governor John H. Trumbull, Adm. General William F. Leach, State Commissioner of Finance Edward F. Hall, Captain Harry Generous and Comptroller Raymond Longley will leave Sunday night for ten days fishing at the Trumbull camp at Moose Head Lake, Canada.

radio announcer, who from his bed was directing the "Daily Doomsday," cleverly imitating voice and expressions the familiar morning announcer. Ben Radding appeared in another stirring number, "I Love a Parade," with the chorus girls in attractive military suits and caps of brown and orange. This was followed by Moriarty and the girls in colorful Oriental costumes in the "Japanese Sandman."

Of particular excellence was the adagio dancing of Cronin and Pearl. The latter, Everett Stephen Pearl, was born in Manchester and spent his early years in Hartford. The team is well known to night clubs and organizations throughout the state, and like all the other performers, gave their services last night, and again this evening to the Lions Club.

Other musical numbers included duets by Miss Moriarty and Corwin Grant and Mr. Radding and Mr. Grant, and the closing chorus "Happy Landings" by the Ensemble. General dancing followed the revue.

ANONYMOUS TIP TOLD WHERE BABY WAS FOUND

across the face of the letter, the police said, and forwarded it to the police at Hopewell. He never received any report as to investigation of the letter.

The News said Chief Walter favored the theory that the letter might have been written by one of four men who kidnaped the baby.

Text of Letter The text of the letter, as published in the News, follows:

"I am writing this letter from New York. I am going home to Canada. When I get to Buffalo I will mail it to you. That will give me more time to safely escape. I figured I'm in enough trouble. I got cold feet and the fellows know it. I promised not to squeal and they gave me money and I'm going home. 'Maybe I won't get caught.' We all thought we could make some easy money. We got a place near Elizabeth, N. J. and one of the fellows who is putting on weight and seem in better physical condition than when they started. Various skits are staged every day and night and the marathon is drawing capacity crowds.

Ories Too Much "The Linberg baby is taken very good care of and is feeling fine when I left the fellows, only it cries too much and the fellows are afraid somebody will hear it. Nobody will hurt it because they all like it. The baby has lots of toys and a small black dog. The fellows don't want no more ransom.

"They're all sorry and afraid. There's three more left now. We already stayed in this place eight weeks. I must soon catch the train. I love the Linberg kid. I don't want to see him hurt.

"I don't know where is the name of the street or the road but not far from Elizabeth, N. J. When we took the crib we rosd 55 minits and not very fast because somebody would see it.

"I quit the fellers because they don't agree. Follow the Linberg telephone wire and you will find the baby and the three fellers. The fellers were pretty nervous. 'If I did not like the baby I would not write this, but if you want the baby and the fellers you must keep this secret. These fellers have a radio and read plenty newspapers. If you catch the fellers and the baby will you let me go free.'

The letter was signed simply "Thank you" and bore no signature. It was printed with pencil. The paper was blue-lined and of a cheap grade. The letter was postmarked Buffalo, N. Y., March 10 at 6:30 a. m. The printing was similar to that on a postcard mailed from Newark a day or so after the kidnaping.

OOP STOPS RUNAWAYS New Haven, Conn., May 19.—(AP)—An automobile plus a patrolman's daring won a race today against a team of runaway horses. The horses, attached to a milk wagon, dashed wildly past Patrolman Lawrence McElillo of Hamden, as he sat in the machine. McElillo overtook the team after a mile's chase, pulled his machine a half block ahead of the animals and then clutched the dangling reins as the horses reached him where he was awaiting them in the center of the highway.

MARKET TIGHTENS UP SHORT SELLING RULE

New York, May 19.—(AP)—Reports current for several days that the New York Stock Exchange was tightening up its restrictions on short selling by requiring members to demand higher margins against short accounts were confirmed in authoritative quarters today.

While no formal announcement was made by the Exchange, it was learned that every member firm, handling speculative accounts, was advised by the business conduct committee that it must demand and maintain a margin of ten per cent a share on all short accounts regardless of price of the stock. Moreover, the members were ordered to compute such margin separately in the case of a customer having both a long and short position. Under this ruling an excess margin in a long account however, used as margin against a short position.

Interests close to the Exchange described the ruling as an "interpretation of the position taken by the Exchange on short selling last fall." In some broken-down however, the Exchange's pronouncement was regarded as a far more drastic move to discourage bear selling than any of the warnings and orders issued previously on this much discussed phase of Stock Exchange operations.

VETERANS' POPPY SALE OPENS TODAY

Quick Aid Fund Gets Poor Start As Concert Is Slimly Attended.

Though Manchester's World War organizations had combined to sponsor last night's benefit concert, instituting the annual poppy sale for the replenishment of depleted funds for the relief of veterans and their families...

Ensign George D. Williams, Corps Commander of the local Salvation Army, himself a veteran, not of the doughnut kitchens but of four major offensives, gave the annual Poppy Day message.

Our government has taken a deep interest in the significance of the annual Poppy Sale, said Ensign Williams. Poppy Days are the official days of testimonial to those who rendered their services in the World War.

Throughout the past year scores of disabled or unfortunate veterans have appealed to local relief agencies for assistance.

It is the duty of the relief fund chairman to make careful investigation of each request for aid.

As a result of experience he has learned to detect the worthy from the unworthy. In those cases where appeals were well grounded, the chairman have been able to provide care and assistance in the form of food and lodging or transportation to the nearest hospital for medical treatment if needed immediately. This service has been made possible through the poppy sale which begins in Manchester today.

THEATERS AT THE STATE

"The Amateur Daddy" Kay Francis in "Man Wanted," and H. E. Warner and Bette Davis in "The Menace," will be shown at the State for the last times tonight.

Warner Baxter and Marian Nixon in "The Amateur Daddy," and William Haines in "Are You Listening?" are the feature attractions that make the week end bill Friday and Saturday.

Not since "Daddy Long Legs" has such an excellent family picture as "The Amateur Daddy" been shown at the State.

The story is an adaptation of Mary Cram's popular novel, "Scotch Valley" and deftly combines drama with romance. The film has its moments of pathos but there is a delightful undercurrent of sparkling humor.

Ensign Williams declared that though he would not have missed the "big show" for a million dollars, no combination of principles could justify the breaking of mothers' hearts or the wholesale slaughter of innocent men.

I hope and pray that the United States will have to pay so much for the last war, that they will never anticipate the thought of another, said the officer.

AIR PATHS of GLORY

BY DEXTER TEED NEA Service Writer.

Fliers around German airports see him now frequently. He comes roaring over in a big plane, out of the night, through the storm or from clear skies. But he always arrives. They can depend on him.

He is a dependable man, a solid man, with his blocky body, his round Teutonic face, and his twinkling eyes.

Almost always there is a humorous smile playing around his mouth. Once Captain Herman Koehl flew to fame over the Atlantic. Now he flies the mail.

Huenefeld is gone. Out from Berlin is a grave. In it rests Baron Gunther von Huenefeld, who had been a jolly companion of Captain Herman and Col. James Fitzmaurice on that Atlantic flight.

Unlike many aviators, he died of natural causes, in bed. He is a dead hero and Capt. Koehl cherishes his memory.

Sometimes he goes out to his grave. For Koehl there is nobody to take the baron's place. That monocular eye of his and somewhat boyish grin are not to be forgotten.

They were cheering him that April 12, 1928, when the big plane "Bremen" took off for America.

That was a contrasting trio in that plane: von Huenefeld, an aristocrat; Fitzmaurice, an Irish soldier; Koehl, a middle class German. They were attempting something that had never been accomplished before — an east-west crossing.

Just Made It There was bad weather with storms and wind. They fought along, cheered by the baron's wit, Fitzmaurice's enthusiasm and Koehl's reliability.

when gallant Floyd Bennett, who had down to their relief, died of pneumonia contracted on the flight.

Back in Germany, they were the greatest heroes since the war. Koehl was acclaimed, with the others, but he was gradually forgotten by the public, and now he flies the mail for a living.

A transatlantic flight to demonstrate the reliability of the airplane as a mail carrier. The flight was made last winter, still in New York, he predicted that the time will come when planes will fly to Europe and back in 24 hours.

He has been back to Ireland to obtain a license in that Irish vigor of his. Contact with many countries and cities have made well-groomed Fitzmaurice a cosmopolitan; a suave man, since the days he flew the Atlantic.

Way "Down Under" a pleasantly rugged man hops off to London or Cape Town with equal nonchalance. He made one of the greatest flights, but do you recall his name? See tomorrow's Herald for "Air Paths of Glory."

AMERICAN MISSIONARIES IN DANGER IN CHINA

Nanking, May 19.—(AP)—The safety of sixty Americans, mostly missionaries, was threatened today at Fengpu by 30,000 Chinese Communists overrunning Northern Anhwei province.

The Communists had surrounded a force of seven thousand Nationalist troops at Fengpu and threatened to cut the Tientsin-Fukow railway south of there, and block the arrival of reinforcements to aid the embattled government troops.

Reports from Americans at Fengpu said they doubted if the Communists would be able to capture the city, but apprehension was acute.

The Chinese government rushed troops to Fengpu last Monday at the request of the American legation.

Apparently it was this force which was reported surrounded by the greatly superior force of Communists.

The ability of the Nanking government to protect Fengpu or effectively to oppose the Communists was considered doubtful here because of alleged failure to pay the government army which was sent against the rebels.

THE MAN HUNTERS

BY MABEL McELLIOTT

BOB'S REPLY TODAY
SUSAN CAREY, 25 and beautiful, is in love with BOB DUMBAR, son of a millionaire, although she is engaged to ERNEST HEATH, her former employer. She believes Bob is engaged to DENISE ACKROYD, a society girl. REN LAMPFMAN, former admirer of Susan's, shoots at Heath and wounds himself. After his recovery Heath urges an early wedding. He arranges for Susan's aunt, who has been ill, to go south. JACK WARING advises Susan not to go through with the marriage stressing the difference in her age and Heath's. At a masked ball Susan meets Bob and has a quarrel with him. Denise is arrested for her part in the plot. Bob and Susan are to elope with him. Heath overhears.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XLIV
 This was the letter Heath had written Susan:

My dear: I hope you are going to understand what I am trying to say. It may seem at the eleventh hour an absurd gesture on my part. But after giving the matter a great deal of thought I have decided to do as you wish. I am asking you to marry me, feeling a certain certainty that the release will actually be yours. Susan dear, you are much too young for me. I knew it from the start, but I deluded myself into thinking we could surmount that obstacle. Now I have come to the conclusion it is too serious to be taken lightly. I am afraid I have been selfish through all this. I have been trying to recapture my own youth through your eyes, and that is neither natural nor fair.

I am hoping you will marry soon, someone of your own age or thereabouts. Be sure the man you choose is worthy of you. No, I take that back. Be sure you love him enough. Everything else will follow. I don't mean, my dear, to sound like a fatuous old dotard but perhaps you will forgive me for offering you all this advice.

There's another thing. It was on my account that you left gainful occupation. It may be difficult for you to find interesting and well paid work just now. For that reason I am asking you to accept in my name the arrangements I have made through my lawyer. A trust fund which will pay you a modest weekly income has been placed in your aunt's name. You see, I have been so sure that I have tied it up to refuse this that I have tied it up to refuse this. You can do nothing about it. It is, anyhow, a small favor to grant me.

You may explain this in any way you like to those who have known our plans. I am asking the day after tomorrow, when the news is out, that you should, believe me, I should not be acting as I am. I wish you, as always, the very best life has to offer. Ernest Heath.

Susan read the letter through again, dazed. Then she folded it mechanically and put beside her plate. Mrs. Milton hurried in.

"That coffee's cold, child," she said chidingly. "Let me get you a fresh cup."

Susan heard the words as in a dream. She sipped the steaming sensation it afforded her. She felt numb.

"What's the matter, child? Don't you feel well?"
 "Yes, perfectly. Only I've just remembered I have an errand to do." She slipped on her hat and coat and tore out of the house. There was a pay station at the corner drug store. She fumbled the pages of the telephone book and called a number.

"Is Mr. Dumbar in?"
 A shadow of disappointment flitted over her face. "No, thanks, no message. I'll call him later." Susan paused, irresolute, at the stand where the telephone directories were kept and rifled the pages again. There was a chance Bob might be at his father's office.

Again she was doomed to disappointment. Young Mr. Dumbar was not in, the operator said. She had no idea when he might be. He seldom came to the office on Saturdays. There was just a chance that madam might find him at the country club. Did madam know the number? If she would wait a minute it could be found for her. Susan held the receiver, the blood pulsing in her ears. After a long wait the operator's mechanical voice came back over the wire. Mr. Dumbar wouldn't be at the club today. The operator had just learned Mr. Dumbar was leaving on the Century for New York.

Susan thanked her and stumbled out of the booth. So he had meant what he said yesterday about leaving town. She had thought it the latest sort of threat. Bob had spoken recklessly about shipping on a tramp steamer for Central America. Oh, she must stop him before it was too late!

The huge clock in the corner testified to the fact it was 10 minutes past 10. Susan had not realized that breakfast had been so late. She flew back to the house.

"I'm going down town," she told Mrs. Milton. "I don't know when I'll be back."

"What time is it your aunt gets in?"
 "Tonight at eight." The girl laughed aloud. She had completely forgotten about Aunt Jessie. Well, that was all right. She would have the thing to do now was to catch Bob at the station. She changed her clothes and dressed with meticulous care. The fawn-colored suit hanging in the closet tempted her but she ignored it. Instead she put on her old blue coat with the beaver collar. It was a cold, damp day and the moisture brought out the waviness in her curly dark hair. She smiled at herself in the glass, not ill pleased at the reflection. She was shabby, it is true, but some how it didn't seem to matter. She was conscious of a deep surge of happiness within her.

She was dressed and ready with time to spare, but in spite of the fact she became horribly nervous as the trolley jerked and dawdled its way down town. What if he should change his plans and leave from another station? She paled at the thought. It was not quite 12 o'clock when Susan reached the station. All at once her errand seemed undignified and foolish. He might be traveling without her. She might not want to see her after their quarrel yesterday. Her face grew hot and her palms itchy.

The wait seemed interminable. The big station with its rows of wooden benches, its gloomy recesses, its excited, little group of foreigners, who had alighted from an eastern train and now stood, ill at ease and restless, waiting for tatty relatives. One of the women wore a yellow scarf tied around her graying hair, spy spy fashion.

Susan was interested in them for a few minutes but soon her nervousness was uppermost again. She had an almost overwhelming desire to run away. She had come on a fool's errand. With just being caught not being caught that Bob should not forgive her for things she had said the day before.

What was it he had said at parting? "You don't love me at all. You never have. I'm through with you!"

Of course he had been angry but what if he had really meant it? The girl shivered, and the woman wearing the scarf who had been envying and admiring the tall miss in the furred coat looked at her curiously.

Susan wandered out to the region of the train gates and strolled back and forth. The minutes lagged. It was cold and draughty here. Several well-dressed couples passed briskly with laden porters in their wake. A rakish looking man in a romantic, wide-brimmed hat swung round carrying a brief case. There was the bustle and subdued excitement attendant to the departure of the crack train.

Twelve—twenty. Twenty—twenty. Twenty—thirty. Susan's heart was like lead in her breast. She had lost him—she had lost him! Trainsmen began to shout orders. Last-minute stragglers hurried through the gates; impatient at the delay over tickets.

Her eyes sought the crowd. No tall young man in a dark topcoat. No fair head, or stern jawed profile in sight. The clock's hands crawled inexorably ahead. Then all at once she saw him. He was striding as rapidly as his long legs would carry him through the swinging doors. A liveried chauffeur was at his heels, a blue ticket in his fingers. The girl stood frozen, immobile.

Just as Bob Dumbar came abreast of the gate, intent on the business of getting his baggage, he heard a soft voice calling his name.

He raised his eyes in an intimidating glare.
 "Susan!"
 He was at her side. The chauffeur, respectfully interested, said:

"Shall I go on with these things, sir?"
 "No. What here," Bob rapped the words out at the second coach.

"The man who was punching tickets interposed swiftly. 'The lady may go through with you, sir, if you like.' But you'd better get aboard. There's only a minute left."

Bob took Susan's arm and swung her along beside him. "I thought you wouldn't go," she protested.

"Why not?" The words were like pellets of ice.
 "Something happened. I'm not going to marry Ernest after all."

"Hold your arms down at the second coach now and a white-coated, grinning porter was reaching for the bags. Up ahead the whistle sounded warningly and a bell began to clang.

"Never mind, Grimes," Bob shouted. "I'm not going."

"Where shall I put the luggage, sir?"
 "Anywhere you like!" Bob's arm was linked in Susan's.

GLORIFYING YOURSELF

GOING BICYCLING WITHOUT A BICYCLE

Getting the old system toned up for enjoying the summer? Morning exercises are indispensable.

Two excellent exercises for stirring up a sluggish digestive system are the bicycle exercise and the back kick.

To do the bicycle, you must lie flat on the floor. Don't do it until you have limbered up a little bit. Hold your arms down at your sides, stretch out flat on the floor, raise both legs in the air and begin to pedal as you would if you were actually riding a bicycle.

There are two types of bicycle exercises, the plain variety and the high bicycle. This latter is done by raising your body clear up from the floor, resting your weight on your shoulders, and it is anything but easy until you get your balance and get worked up to it. Set your feet on the floor, rest your weight on your shoulders, and it is anything but easy until you get your balance and get worked up to it. Set your feet on the floor, rest your weight on your shoulders, and it is anything but easy until you get your balance and get worked up to it.

Change legs after each kick, until you get limbered up properly. Then stand on one leg and kick back about five times in succession, seeing how much higher you can raise your foot each time. This is excellent for trimming the waistline, which no lady will mind this year.

GLOVE STRETCHERS

For little money you can buy glove frames to dry your suede or other gloves on. They keep their shape perfectly and they come off looking like new.

SWEETS AND APPLES

Next time you plan sweet potatoes, try slicing some green apples into the pan you candy your potatoes in. They give the potatoes a lovely taste and are excellent with pork.

HINTS FOR HOME GARDENERS

By Wm. R. BRATTIE
 Bureau of Plant Industry, U. S. Department of Agriculture

Peas and potatoes are two of the garden crops that can be planted very early in the spring. Peas can be planted early, because they withstand considerable cold, and potatoes can be planted early because they do not come up for three or four weeks after planting.

A rather severe frost will not hurt peas after they are up, but potatoes are rather easily killed. It is often possible to save the young potato plants from frost by covering them with a little soil, then after frost danger is past you can scratch the soil off the potatoes, or leave it and they will come through.

In the Gulf Coast region, peas are often planted on the tops of ridges, and are not covered more than an inch or so. In the north central sections, it is customary to plant peas on level ground just as soon as the ground can be worked in the spring and to cover them two or even three inches.

Shallow planting. It has been found that it isn't necessary to cover peas deeper than an inch and a half or two inches, the main thing being to cover the peas just deep enough so that they will find plenty of moisture.

Most gardeners prefer to make one planting of the variety of pea known as Alaska, then follow with one or two plantings of Thomas Laxton, Little Marvel, or, perhaps, the old-fashioned Telephone peas.

Other gardeners prefer to plant only the latter three varieties of peas. The main thing is to make two or three plantings in order to have peas over a fairly long period of time.

Irish Cabbler and Triumph, sometimes called Bliss Triumph or Red Triumph, are the leading varieties of early potatoes. Not such is to be gained by making more than one planting of early potatoes, except that sometimes the first planting may not come up well, or be caught by frost. In such a case it is desirable to have another planting coming along.

Yield Varies. One peck of seed of either of these varieties planted on good soil and well fertilized should yield anywhere from 2-1/2 to 5 bushels of potatoes and 8 bushels is not at all impossible.

As a rule, a fertilizer high in potash is used for growing potatoes. This fertilizer is usually applied at the rate of 12 to 14 pounds to 100 feet of row, and thoroughly mixed with the soil in the bottom of the furrow before the seed potatoes are dropped.

Don't plant your potatoes too deep, but the depth of covering will depend upon the character of your soil and its drainage. In Alabama, Louisiana, and Florida, for example, potatoes are sometimes planted on the tops of flat ridges the object being to keep them from being drowned out during heavy rains. On well drained land the potatoes should be planted in shallow furrows and covered with about three inches of fine soil.

WOMAN'S PLACE IN THE NEWS

WOMEN ARE MODEST!
 "Scant bathing suits do not mean that women lack modesty," says Dennis Lysaught, chief of police for Savannah Beach, the tidewater bathing center for Georgia and South Carolina.

Lysaught is serving his 22nd continuous year as a member of the force. Women were first patrolled the beach. "Short suits are just a matter of custom, and are sensible," he maintains. "Abbreviated skirts do not mean a corresponding shrinkage in modesty."

Vassar Marriages. In the graduating classes of Vassar College from 1912 to 1916, 72.6 percent of the girls have been married and they average 2.7 children each. This refutes, somewhat, the statements that fewer college graduates marry and have families than do girls who do not go to college.

Mrs. C. A. Clarke, golf champion of Hampstead, England, made a record shot of 270 yards in teeing at the thirteenth hole. She outdrove W. A. Murray, the British international, whom she competed against.

Who Said Depression? In the face of all the "bad-times talk," Nicole of Paris and New York, had an elderly woman customer in her hat shop last week who bought 40 hats. Five of them were elegant hats, one red, two different shades of gray and white, one all white, one white and black. The majority of them were straws and felts, with different types of brims, all strong colors that would go well with white hair. The customer was sailing for a year's trip around the world.

Depression Divorces. Trying to combat the government's emergency economy bill that rules that when husbands and wives are both hired by the government, one be conside red for dismissal, the National Woman's Party has a "depression divorce" plan. This would provide for such a couple to divorce each other for the duration of the depression, only.

Returned Ring. After being lost in a field near West Union, Iowa, for 47 years, Mrs. Charles Wolf's wedding ring was turned up during spring plowing this year, just in time for her golden wedding anniversary. The inscription inside the ring identified it.

Andre Behns, Boston hairdresser, goes on record as predicting a red-headed fad that will far outdo and outlast the platinum-blonde craze. He advocates red hair as a cheerful way of fighting depression. Moreover, any woman can be a red-head.

Against Gold Diggers. The National Divorce Reform League does not advocate abolishing all kinds of alimony. It is cut to fight "gold diggers," described as "scheming and childless young women who see in alimony a chance to live a life of ease and comfort."

YOUR CHILDREN

By Olive Roberts Davis

KEEP GERMS OUT OF THE PANTRY. One day about five years ago one of my girls complained of a headache. She was tired and could not eat. The pain in the back of her head, and neck increased. Instantly I sent for the doctor. I never feel with a pain like that, particularly when it comes suddenly out of a clear sky. She had been in perfect health.

He diagnosed it first as flu, but I had my doubts. I know flu and I know typhoid. It was typhoid. Yet how could it happen? There was nothing in our town. We had a sanitary, sunny house, there seemed to be absolutely no way that a germ could find its way to her. I felt disgraced. I had read somewhere that it is a disgrace to have typhoid fever these days, that it points directly to dirt or contaminated water or bad sewerage.

But we had it and what was the answer. We couldn't think of any picnic spots had gone to where she might have drunk out of an unsuspected spring or well. Our own water supply was excellent, the house as clean as soap and water could make it, spring cleaning was just over and nobody in the entire county seemed to be down with the disease.

YANKEES AND CUBS BASEBALL LEADERS

Senators' Relapse Is Biggest Surprise; Yanks Have Won 15 Consecutive Home Games; Meet Washington Today.

By Associated Press
Returns from the year's first inter-sectional strife were at hand today, and the only outstanding beneficiaries of the movement appeared to be the Chicago Cubs in the National League, the New York Yankees in the American and the railroads in general.

By sweeping all nine engagements with the invaders from the west, the Yankees had passed Washington and taken a fairly firm grip on first place. The Cubs, winning eight of twelve contests from the National League's eastern delegates, had overhauled the Boston Braves and likewise had entrenched themselves at the top.

Possibly the outstanding development of the week was Washington's failure to fatten its standing at the expense of the visiting western clubs. Losing their last four straight to St. Louis, the Senators wound up with no better than an even break in ten games, and found themselves a game and a half out of first place as they faced the Yanks in a somewhat crucial doubleheader at the stadium today.

The Yankees terminated their remarkable streak against the visiting team by losing out to Cleveland, 5 to 2, on the strength of Babe Ruth's smash in the tenth inning. In so doing, they became the first team in American League history to capture 15 straight games at home, the record book discloses. Washington, good for not more than two years more at third. Jimmy used to be more to take care of short or second, but he'll have to stay at third now. Mack tried him at second one day recently and found that it wouldn't do.

Max Bishop is another whose days are numbered. The brittle second baseman hasn't been able to play a full season since he came to the A's last year. He has been in the lineup for only two games since he was hit by a 300-foot ball. Fox and Cochrane, catcher Heving was hitting .583, but he had appeared in only five games, mostly as a pinch hitter.

"They act as if they're sure to win," said Bill, "but if you fight 'em you can beat 'em. They have won a lot of games by giving the appearance of not caring a whole lot because they are going to win anyway."

Clark Griffith, however, has another word for it. His word is Simmonds. And when Al begins to hit, the only "cracking up" the A's will undergo will be in regard to fences.

HOOKS AND SLIDES

By WILLIAM BRADLEY

The release of Joe Boley may be an omen. He is the first of the Athletics of the championship team of 1929-31 to get the gate. Is the old team cracking up? Remember Joe Dugan? Jumping Joe was the first of the great Yankee team to get the air. And since the release of Dugan, the Yankees have not won a pennant.

Boley put in his best years at Baltimore. He was a major league shortstop for eight years before he came to New York in 1927. The reason he stayed at Baltimore was that Jack Dunn put his own prices on every ball player he had, and never weakened. Boley was deemed too expensive.

He Sparkled Them
So Joe Boley was 29 years old when he got his first big league chance. He had passed the peak of his ability, but he still was a great shortstop. My memory of Boley goes back to the splendid defensive game he played in the world series of 1929 and 1930. He was so hot with the stick, but time after time he performed the impossible at shortstop.

Waiting for Al
The Athletics made a slow start this season, winning only 9 out of their first 21 games. During this period Al Simmons was hitting a puny .290. Until Eric McNair was inserted in the lineup at short, only good for not more than two years more at third. Jimmy used to be more to take care of short or second, but he'll have to stay at third now. Mack tried him at second one day recently and found that it wouldn't do.

When McNair was sent to short, the Athletics started to click again. There were flashes of the old championship form. The big three of the pitching staff began to function with their old effectiveness. The team definitely started on the upgrade. McNair seemed to be the man who turned the tide.

When Simmons begins to hit, the tide will be turned a bit more definitely. For unless Al hits, the A's can go nowhere.

Nonchalance—or What?
Bill Cissell of the Indians insists the Athletics fool the other teams by their nonchalance.
"They act as if they're sure to win," said Bill, "but if you fight 'em you can beat 'em. They have won a lot of games by giving the appearance of not caring a whole lot because they are going to win anyway."

TRADITION RULES AGAINST A KAYO

No Knockouts in Chicago Stadium This Season; Bat, Petrolle Ready.

Chicago, May 19.—(AP)—Billy Petrolle and Bat Battalino will have to chase a new Chicago Stadium tradition to score a knockout when they hammer blows at each other tomorrow night.

So far, this season, many of the best fights of the ring have been held in the Chicago Stadium punch bowl but not one has emerged with anything better than a decision. The closest approach to a knockout was Petrolle's crushing defeat of Young Stribling, but Stribling hung on.

Both Petrolle and Battalino wound up their training activities today with the usual predictions of victory. Petrolle ruled a heavy favorite because of his victory over the "Bat" in twelve rounds at New York.

CONDON RESTING FOR A FEW DAYS

"Jafsis" Looked Over Thousands of Pictures To Help Police in Lindy Case.

New York, May 19.—(AP)—From examining 1,900 Rogues Gallery photographs to lecturing to a class in pedagogy—it was all in a day for Dr. John F. Condon, aged educator, who a few weeks ago stepped out of sedate semi-retirement into the exciting role of "Jafsis" a key man in the Lindbergh kidnaping case.

Days like yesterday, however, have finally begun to tell on the tall, slightly stooped man of '78. New Jersey said today his doctor has ordered him to take a rest.

Dr. Condon appeared tired and irritable late yesterday afternoon on his return to his little house in the Bronx from Mt. Vernon, where he had studied the Rogues Gallery pictures, hunting for "John," the man to whom he said he turned over Colonel Lindbergh's $50,000.

After a brief rest, however, he was on his way by subway down to the Woolworth building, where he is lecturing to a course of extension lectures he has been giving for Fordham University.

Is Widely Known

Dr. Condon is widely known in the Bronx for two things—his long career as a high school principal and his interest in amateur athletics. His friends say he introduced into the New York public schools the forerunner of the present program of organized sports.

He retired about 30 years ago as a school principal. Since then he has served off and on as an extension lecturer for various colleges in and about New York.

For the last year he has been a guest lecturer in the department of education of Fordham University, lecturing to night classes on the place of vocational training in education. At Fordham today it was said he is regarded as an authority in that field.

He received the degree of Master of Arts from City college, New York, in 1922, and in 1924 the degree of Doctor of Pedagogy from New York University.

In his youth Dr. Condon was considered one of the finest amateur first basemen in New York. He was a track athlete, too, and a member of the Irish-American Athletic Club.

Organized Team

More than 40 years ago he organized the Lincoln Giants, still in existence, one of the oldest amateur baseball clubs in the country. He remained its director and manager until recently.

In recent years he has turned his love for sports into organizing "sand-lot" baseball teams among the boys of the Bronx and, after helping them to raise the money to buy uniforms, umpires and gear, he and "Al" Reich, one-time National amateur boxing champion who has served as his bodyguard and chauffeur in his travels on the Lindbergh case, became friends neighbors in the Bronx.

Dr. Condon is a fervent patriot. One night recently he came out on his porch to talk to reporters—having an American flag over his head.

SCHWAB OPTIMISTIC OVER TRADE CONDITIONS

Life-blood of trade, will be transfused into our retailers of finance—the banks—to re-establish the faith which is necessary to the flow of credit. God speed the day!

"I am still an optimist, even amid present conditions. I continue to have hope and belief in our future because I have lived so long and have seen our people work their way out of so many trying situations. In this country we have great resources and a great heritage. We are all of pioneer blood, whether recently or generations back. The pioneer spirit is daring, devoted and industrious. Such a combination cannot permanently be downed. Not fearing the future, ready to meet every issue, and determined to fight for what we believe, we are on the path toward equilibrium."

Reports on Steel

Unless there is improvement, a steel output of only 16 to 17 million tons, the smallest since 1908, is indicated for the industry this year. Mr. Schwab pointed out. The five leading companies in the first quarter this year failed to earn interest, depreciation and other charges by $25,000,000, and losses at this rate compel the most drastic readjustments in the relation of costs to income.

"We as taxpayers cannot afford to carry in our costs," he continued, "the burden of taxation that we could bear in the years, 1925 to 1930. The burden of local taxes under present conditions of business becomes self-evident when we realize that in some of the communities where our steel plants are located the local taxes total as high as 10 per cent of our cost of production."

Expenses Must Be Adjusted

"I appreciate the difficulties which beset our public officials. We, as taxpayers, have demanded these huge increases in budgets which, in the main, reflect a higher standard of living. The inescapable fact remains, nevertheless, that in the present emergency all governmental expenditures must be adjusted to the ability of the public to pay. Moreover, there is a considerable range of possible economies which can be put into effect, such as the elimination of unnecessary bureaus, greater efficiency in personnel, more efficient analysis of costs. The revenue of our more prosperous times no longer exists and government must cut according to its cloth."

Mr. Schwab said steel employers hoped the wage reductions would be compensated for by improved employment.

"In any labor policy the human considerations are basic. Industry was made for man, not man for industry. In the long run our present form of economic structure must provide employment, happiness and a decent standard of living for the population, or it will not survive."

Must Have Credit

The best the steel industry has been able to do so far is "slacken the process of disintegration."

"Given with firmer prices and these drastic cuts in our costs, we cannot continue indefinitely unless credit is put to work and the volume of our business is thereby increased," Mr. Schwab asserted.

Steel producers, he said, must look to Washington for aid in meeting competition from foreign "dumping."

"If our legislators are willing to see our wages driven down and kept down to the level of the poorest European populations in order to meet the lowered costs of foreign production," he added, "that is a responsibility which they should not assume without grave thought. There are indications that the responsible authorities are becoming alive to the situation; and I am hopeful that some real help may be forthcoming on this score."

LATEST STOCKS

New York, May 19.—(AP)—Merita continued to rule the Stock Market today, with prices maintaining a fairly good upturn.

Tobacco and utilities, along with a few miscellaneous issues, had a period of heaviness in the morning, but the list recovered substantially after midday. The market was sluggish, however, that price movements were not regarded as of much significance.

In the tobacco's American Tobacco "B", Liggett and Myers "B", and Lorillard lost a point or two, and failed to recover appreciably. In the utilities, North American, Consolidated Gas, Pacific Gas and Electric, and Consolidated Gas got down a point or so, then recovered partially. American Telephone, after losing a point, rallied to show a gain of like extent, and Standard of N. J. developed notable firmness, getting up more than a point. U. S. Steel, Pitts. and Johns Manville rallied nearly as much.

Charles M. Schwab's analysis of the steel situation before the American Iron and Steel Institute, in which he pointed out that the five leading companies fell about $25,000,000 short of earnings bond interest and other charges in the first quarter, was rather gloomy, but he pointed out that companies have substantial business on their books which await only the necessary financing. This led to the hope that once the credit expansion program of the Reserve System takes effect, this basic industry may be one of the first to reflect a more normal functioning of credit machinery.

Indications that the Reserve authorities may slow up their open market purchases of government securities for a time, while they concentrate on getting member banks to put the $250,000,000 of excess reserves to work which have already been piled up, were not regarded as favorable grounds for indicating any fundamental change in the program.

The sag in the tobacco's presumably reflected recent advance estimates indicating that the April cigarette figures will show a substantial decline from last year. Selling of the utilities also probably reflected yesterday's electric power consumption figures, which were off about 13 per cent from last year. Oils, however, continued under the favorable influence of better control of production, and hopes of success in the international conferences looking to prevention of dumping.

POLICE ADONIS HURT

New York, May 19.—(AP)—Patrolman George Wandling, once known as "the Adonis of the police force," was injured in a collision accident while riding to work in a taxicab today.

Before going home to nurse an injured hip and cut on his face and hand, however, he paused to arrest the driver of the five-ton truck which ran into the cab and the taxi driver, who had forgotten to take his chauffeur's license along with him today.

Wandling, who has been married twice—once to an opera singer—recently announced he was going to marry Mrs. Myrtle Eugenia Stella, whom he described as beautiful and worth $5,000,000.

NO! NO! SLOGAN TO MARK BELGIAN ROLE AT LAUSANNE

Brussels.—(AP)—The "No! No!" slogan of Philip Snowden, then British chancellor of the exchequer, at The Hague reparations meeting in 1920, may be resurrected by Emile Francqui for Belgium at Lausanne in June.

Snowden's explosive "No!" slogan proposed that England yield part of her reparations to ease central European burdens. Francqui's echoes will be heard on any suggestion for cuts of Belgian receipts from Germany.

Francqui will be accompanied by Jules Renkin, premier and Paul Hymans, foreign minister. But it is Francqui, former financial director of Belgium, who probably will speak the nation's mind.

Needs German Cash

He is certain to tell the conference that Belgium can not balance her budget without reparations payments.

Official quarters make no bones of their feeling that the limit of "one-sided concessions" has been reached. Yet feeling grows among the public, it would appear from press comment, that Germany has no intention of continuing payments under the Young plan.

Financier Is Cautious

Senator Despret, former head of the Banque de Bruxelles, drawing a contrast between "France's will to pay the war indemnity of 1871 and Germany's will not to pay," said:

"Rather than slash the German debt, Belgium ought to maintain her claims through half a century. To wipe out the reparations debt would be equivalent to submitting supinely to a moral failure."

The bishop was weary. This was the third class he had confirmed that Sunday. His attention began to wander. Placing his hands upon the shiny pate of the last candidate, he said: "I declare this stone to be well and truly laid."

A neighted man and his wife were inspecting an art exhibit. Neighted Man (striving vainly for a better view, angrily)—That's the ugliest portrait I've ever seen. His Wife—Come away, you fool. You're looking at yourself in the mirror.

Not so very long ago a traveler from the North stopped for the night at a dry land ranch in West Texas after a dusty and tiresome ride. He was hospitably received and began to discuss affairs in general. And what he wanted to know in particular was how that ranch was paying its way. So at last, he pointed blank asked the question of the host:

Traveler—How in the world do you make a go of things at all out here?
The Host (pointing to the hired man across the room)—Well, you see that fellow over there. Well, he works for me, and since I can't pay him, it is agreed that in two years time he gets the ranch for what I owe him. Then I go to work for him until I get it back.

GERMANS BOMB LONDON

On May 19, 1918, London was the victim of another air raid. Under cover of night, numerous German bombers flew over the city and released thousands of tons of explosives, killing 44 and injuring 179 persons. The Germans escaped with a loss of only five planes.

One of America's greatest war aces, Major Basil Kiberry, met his death while engaging an enemy plane above the German lines near Toul. The plane which downed him was later demolished by a French pilot.

Australian troops engaged German troops at Villers-sur-Ancres, and took the village with 380 prisoners and 20 machine guns, a German dispatch said.

Announcement that the sun's eclipses in August of this year will be of great interest in Connecticut. The most accurate interest in the phenomenon is about the total eclipse of a few years ago, visible in New England. The Herald was called on today to settle a dispute as to the time of that event. The eclipse of 1925, the only one remembered by the present generation, occurred on Saturday, January 24. It began, according to the New Haven records, at 9:12 a. m. and the period of totality was approximately two minutes. As Manchester is about 15 miles east of the New Haven meridian the actual time here may have been about one minute earlier.
