RULING ON NEWSPAPER EXPECTED ON MONDAY

Hartford, May 24.—(AP)—A decision is expected Monday in the action brought by the Bridgeport Herald seeking to enjoin Torrington officials from preventing the sale of the paper in that city.

Federal Judge Edwin S. Thomas took the case under advisement yesterday and ordered attorneys for both sides to file briefs by Friday. The court indicated a decision might be handed down Monday.

The Herald, a weekly newspaper, seeks to have temporary injunction which it obtained recently made permanent. Its counsel contended that an order issued by Prosecutor Thomas F. Wall and Mayor Ernest Novey prohibiting sale of the paper hampered freedom of the press and violated constitutional rights.

Publication by the Herald of an aged libelous story about an unidentified girl caused the Torrington officials to ban the papers from Torrington news-stands.

MARKET TRADING FALLS STEADILY

But 557,000 Shares Change Hands Yesterday, Lowest Since 1924.

New York, May 24.—(AP)—The huge stock brokerage machinery of Wall street is currently filling the demand for securities about as efficiently as a steam shovel might fill wheel barrows.

While the volume of trading has shrunk to proportions with which Wall street has not been familiar since 1924, brokers extensive branch office and private wire systems are maintained in skeleton form in the hope the public once again may take a fancy to stocks and bonds.

Brokers acknowledge that such developments as the airing of the pool manipulations of the boom period, and the almost unbelievable deceptions of Kreuger, may have a chilling effect on public enthusiasm for securities for some time yet.

They insist securities distribution is bound to revive, probably in a saner and more ordered form.

Many brokers are staking much cold cash on that opinion, or hope, whichever it may be. It is no secret that the overhead costs of some of the large commission houses are carrying them painfully into red figures. In usually well informed quarters it has been estimated that some of these organizations are running behind around $40,000 a month, on their recent volume of business.

The average volume of trading on the Stock Exchange for the past fortnight has been substantially less than a million shares a day. The new high speed stock ticker which was finally completed in 1930 was equipped to handle 8,000,000 share days. In 1929 brokers were talking of five million share days as normal.

Yesterday's volume dwindled to the lowest for 1932, at 557,280 shares. This also was the lowest for a full five hour session, with one exception, since 1924.

DO YOU INHALE?

A frank discussion at last on a subject that has long been "taboo"

"The sleeping dogs lie!" So said the cigarette trade when first we raised the subject of inhaling. But dodging an important issue is not Lucky Strike's policy.

Do you inhale? That question is vitally important... for every smoker inhales—knowingly or unknowingly. Every smoker inhales in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette. And the difference between a pack of cheap cigarettes that you smoke to pass the time and a pack of Lucky Strike cigarettes that you smoke to enjoy is the difference between a pack of cheap cigarettes that you smoke to pass the time and a pack of Lucky Strike cigarettes that you smoke to enjoy.

vital question! For Luchter being you the protection you want... Luchter's famous purifying process removes certain impurities concealed in every tobacco leaf. Luchter's and that process. Only Luchter's brand!

So, whether you inhale knowingly or unknowingly, inhale Luchter's brand!

It's basic.

TEXAS JACK GARNER

Ex-Cowboy Now Out To Rope Presidency; Congress' Chief Still Prefers Simple Life

SON OF TEXAS PIONEERS, HIS MOTHER TAUGHT HIM TO READ

STUDIED LAW WHILE COWBOY.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Here is the first of two articles analyzing the life and record of Speaker Garner as part of the series prepared by staff writers for The Herald and NEA Service. The series sketches the "big three" in the contest for the Democratic party's presidential nomination. Two articles on Al Smith will follow.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer.
(Copyright 1932, by NEA Service)

Washington, May 23.—For the first time in many years, a man from the South has been taken seriously as a presidential possibility.

Speaker John N. Garner, a forceful and able, plain but shrewd son of the Texas prairies, is battering at the political axiom which says that neither major party will nominate a southerner.

He's a remarkable man and remains a powerful personality despite whatever prestige he has lost since the House refused to accept his leadership on the tax and economy bills. He would make a more colorful candidate and might prove more popular than any other candidate the Democrats are likely to choose.

As president he would carry a greater degree of warm personal appeal to masses of people than any White House occupant since the time of Theodore Roosevelt. Thirty years in Congress have wrought no outer change in this horsey-handed, homespun, frontier-type fighter who came here from the cow town of Uvalde, Texas, with a brief background of law practice and legislative experience but with the aroma of cattle herds still fresh in his clothes.

He has developed into a master politician, a keen and resourceful leader who at least falls no shorter of the idealistic conceptions of statesmanship than do most other men who attain large political power.

But he has remained unspoiled. The influences of Washington society have touched him no more than other so-called temptations that beset a member of Congress. His rough-and-ready speech, his plain and often wrinkled clothes, his simple habits of life have never altered.

No one ever saw Jack Garner wearing a high hat, in the slang sense, or putting on any dog. The acquired pomposity of the self-alleged statesman is utterly lacking in him. He is as democratic a public official as I have ever met and mixes with his fundamental conservatism a human, honest sympathy for that well known character known variously as the common man, the forgotten man and the under-dog. He is kind and friendly, despite a hot temper which he has never bothered to subdue.

He is 63 years old now, white-haired, red-faced, blue-eyed, shaggy-browed, beak-nosed and hard-bitten. His height is about medium. Usually he radiates zest and humor, along with other qualities which integrate his gift for making friends and his skill in handling people.

You think, when you meet Garner, that you're going to get a square deal from him. And you always do. But if you play against him at poker, you're likely to lose your shirt.

Garner is a man of crisp, direct speech, which off the rostrum is likely to be embellished with lusty profanity. His language is picturesque and expressive, especially when it comes blurted out in the direction of the White House. No one could be more plain-spoken or more obviously sincere in what he says.

His decisions are usually quick and they are sound often enough to give him an excellent reputation for clear thinking. You can't credit him with a brilliant intellect or an unusually broad perspective, but his mind is alert and far above average.

He is especially skillful at penetrating bunk, at grasping essentials and making them plain. Although he is contemptuous of political bunk and seldom perpetrates it himself, he is not, however, above laying on the old bohem when it seems likely to be effective.

He was born in a log house at a little place called Blossom Prairie in northeastern Texas. His father was a former Confederate soldier and a farmer, who had pioneered into the "back woods" and was having a hard time making a living out of the soil.

Jack's early surroundings were

Here's a striking new sketch of Speaker John N. Garner, with illustrations of phases in his colorful career.

He was a baseball writer for the New York Evening World for 26 years and also wrote magazine articles and a baseball play in which Christy Mathewson was the central figure. He recently completed a book on the career of John McGraw, manager of the New York Giants, who was one of his closest friends.

speaker likes to hunt, fish and camp out. Mrs. Garner makes him a capable secretary. She has insisted on staying on the job. The speaker likes that and Mrs. Garner, an amiable, straight-thinking woman, is beloved by the office staff. She is beloved by the office staff. She is beloved by the office staff.

Along with her secretarial duties, which have increased enormously since Jack became speaker, she watches the health of Jack Garner and the other boys in the office. They have one son, Tully, who is married and lives in Uvalde.

Next: Jack Garner as speaker of the House. His chances of nomination. His position on issues in the 1932 presidential race.

PRIEST REACHES TOP OF VOLCANO

With Two Companions Climbs Mt. Shishaldin in Alaska.

False Pass, Alaska, May 24.—(AP)—An ascent of Mount Shishaldin, an active volcano, by Father Bernard R. Hubbard, Santa Clara University professor, and two companions was described by the "glacier priest" as the "hardest mountain climbing he had ever tackled."

Returning here after a climb which many Alaskans had declared to be extremely difficult or impossible, Father Hubbard said great hardships had been overcome. The ascent to the summit of the 9,400 foot cone was made a week ago, with 21 hours elapsing before the return to the base camp. The cone, in violent eruption in February, still was emitting ashes and lava, Father Hubbard said. Accompanying him were Kenneth Christman and George Peterson, student companions. Another student, Jack Morton, was forced to return before the top was reached.

"On the last 3,000 feet of the ascent," Father Hubbard said, "I found the hardest going of any mountain climbing I have ever tackled."

"We were over an hour making the last hundred feet to the summit, from which billowing clouds of escaping smoke and gases poured forth."

"The loose clinders were lying at a 50 or 60 degree angle and would give way, and we would slide back. Even ice picks would not take hold. Finally, crawling and scrambling, we reached the edge."

TO FORCE FARMERS TO DESTROY STALKS

New Haven, May 24.—(AP)—Officials at the Connecticut Agricultural Experiment Station here took notice today of a prosecution in Southington town court yesterday of a farmer who had destroyed corn stalks on his land in which had been found traces of the European corn borer.

Those working on borer control measures said the present is the critical period in the fight against the pest as eggs are hatching and the moths soon will be flying. The cold spring has retarded development of the eggs and the issuance of moths.

In the Southington area the survey was made in the winter and where the pest was found in stacks of corn stalks an order was given that these should be destroyed. In one case at Southington a woman who owned land was told to have her tenant burn the stalks, and as the latter did not do so the prosecutor's office was called into the case.

PROHIBITION PLANK WORRIES LEADERS

Noted Drys On Committees That Will Write the Party Platforms.

Washington, May 24.—(AP)—A prospective show-down on prohibition at this session may offer the testing ground of embryo prohibition planks for the National political platforms.

Senate eyes are turned just now on the judiciary subcommittee considering prohibition measures.

Senator Johnson (R., Calif.), called on the Senate to meet the issue of prohibition at this session.

Some move by Senator Borah (R., Idaho), the prohibition champion and a member of the judiciary subcommittee about to report on the prohibition proposition is being awaited.

It was Borah who wrote the rigid dry enforcement plank of the 1925 Republican convention and there is reason to believe he again has approached to help draft the prohibition plank this year.

With Borah on the judiciary subcommittee and Senators Walsh, Montana, and Dill of Washington, two Democrat prohibitionists, who are expected to take part in their party's National convention next month as supporters of Governor Roosevelt of New York.

Senator Bains (R., Wis.), is chairman of the subcommittee. He and Senator Robert (R., Rhode Island), the other member, are both opponents of National prohibition.

The Senate meanwhile, faces another test presented by Senator Bingham (R., Conn.), on 275 cent beer as a substitute for the excise tax on the revenue bill.

The House again and finally yesterday refused to consider legislation of 275 cent beer by a vote of 228 to 169, but anti-prohibitionists who forced the ballot got largely what they expected—a record vote for use in the November elections.

THINK WESTERN CROOKS OPERATED IN BOSTON

Boston, May 24.—(AP)—Two of the three men who allegedly held up and robbed the Brotherhood bank of Kansas City on April 19 were sought today by Boston police in connection with an attempted robbery at the Harvard-Commonwealth branch of the National Shawmut Bank of Boston.

The men were Tony Bonacion and Charles Cherrito, who police said, answered descriptions of those wanted by Kansas City police, after the Boston police said they received a telegram from Kansas City police last night saying the men sought here answered the descriptions of the men wanted in the latter city.

The robbery at the National Shawmut branch was frustrated by Andrew C. Bain, assistant manager of the branch, who signalled a teller to press the burglar alarm.

Two shots were fired as the gang, assembled outside the building, the robbers made no attempt to reach the money cage after the bell was set off but ran out of the building and got away in a waiting automobile.

Bridgeport, May 24.—(AP)—Mrs. Anna Adelman, 37, of Dickerman street, New Haven, was taken to a hospital today with a lacerated scalp suffered when she was struck by a pail hurled allegedly by her brother-in-law, Morris Adelman.

Adelman was arrested on a charge of simple assault. He is accused of throwing the pail during an argument when Mrs. Adelman came to his store to collect some money.

FRANCE ASKS SENATOR TO-STATE POSITION

Washington, May 24.—(AP)—Joseph I. France, former Maryland Senator and a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, has formally called upon President Hoover to admit the Marylander has 231 pledged delegates to the party's National convention.

In an open letter to the Chief Executive, France asked: "If you had lost in the Presidential preference primary in Maryland, as you have lost by defeat or your failure to file as a candidate in the other states having presidential primary laws, would you have claimed the delegates as you are now claiming, if reports are correct, the delegates from North Dakota, Illinois, Nebraska, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, West Virginia, and Oregon."

France charged he was "caught off guard" by Mr. Hoover's late filing of his candidacy in the Maryland primary, but asked if the President conceded the 231 delegates "which I won over you as I concede you the 19 votes from Maryland."

The former Maryland Senator called upon the President to "state to the American people where you stand upon the Eighteenth Amendment, a most pressing problem of government," adding: "I believe the people of these United States will not let to the presidency, at this critical time, any man who lacks the candor and the courage to state boldly where he stands upon this vital concern to the American people."

France also attacked the foreign policy of the President and asserted a belief that "the nation will repudiate you at the first opportunity."

Most of Baker's speech before the committee dealt with the party's next national platform. The most important requisite, he said, is that the platform should be "short enough to be memorized by a man such as our memory," and that it be "bold, truthful, constructive, and addressed to the evils from which the country is now suffering."

"When that sort of a platform is written, you won't need to bother much about the candidate who is to carry it," Baker said. "We'll all be carrying banners."

NINE DRINKS ENOUGH TO SPOIL EVIDENCE

Chicago, May 24.—(AP)—Federal Judge George A. Carpenter has ruled that a prohibition agent who admits taking nine drinks of liquor which he himself describes as intoxicating, is in no position to testify at a later date regarding his purchases.

The ruling was given yesterday in a case against Benjamin Tiffany of Aurora. Agents John Schafer and George R. Whitlock, who said they had purchased drinks from Tiffany, were criticized. Judge Carpenter recalled that Schafer and Whitlock had admitted they had "three or four drinks" before that in another place.

"This," said the court, "would put a normal man in a doubtful mental state. I don't care how preliminary the defendant may be. The preponderance of evidence is not with the government."

Disposition of the case was postponed until June 17, when the court was informed that Lester Allen, alleged owner of the place where Tiffany was employed, had been held for the Grand Jury.

SMITH IS PRAISED BY OWEN YOUNG

Politicians Wonder What Is Behind Remarks Made in Cleveland.

Cleveland, May 24.—(AP)—Political leaders here discussed today the possible significance of praise given Al Smith, former Democratic presidential candidate, in a speech by Newton D. Baker, considered a possible 1932 choice for the party's nomination.

"Al Smith was fifty times as big as the platform they stood him on," Baker said last night as he addressed a meeting of the party's county central committee, which re-elected the former secretary of war as chairman.

Although Baker has repeatedly declared he is not a candidate for the presidential nomination, many prominent Democrats have said he is either their first or compromise choice for the honor.

Seizing upon Baker's reference to Smith, various political observers held that the words were likely to win favor with friends of the former New York governor, without drawing any enmity from the present New York executive, Franklin D. Roosevelt, now leading Smith by a wide margin in the contests for delegates.

Such a result of his praise for Smith would do Baker no harm, the observers pointed out, should he be offered as the compromise candidate at the convention.

Most of Baker's speech before the committee dealt with the party's next national platform. The most important requisite, he said, is that the platform should be "short enough to be memorized by a man such as our memory," and that it be "bold, truthful, constructive, and addressed to the evils from which the country is now suffering."

"When that sort of a platform is written, you won't need to bother much about the candidate who is to carry it," Baker said. "We'll all be carrying banners."

TOWN TERRORIZED

Lovington, Ill., May 24.—(AP)—Five bank robbers headed toward town today for "two hours' early today. They kidnaped the telephone watchman, wrecked the telephone exchange, forced the cashier of Hardward State bank to open the bank safe, and escaped with the loot, $400 in money.

WHY RISK ALL

Fires come without much warning. Are you willing to risk losing your investment in your furniture? Your home? When a few cents each day will buy a good fire insurance policy. Remember we cannot insure your goods after the fire starts.

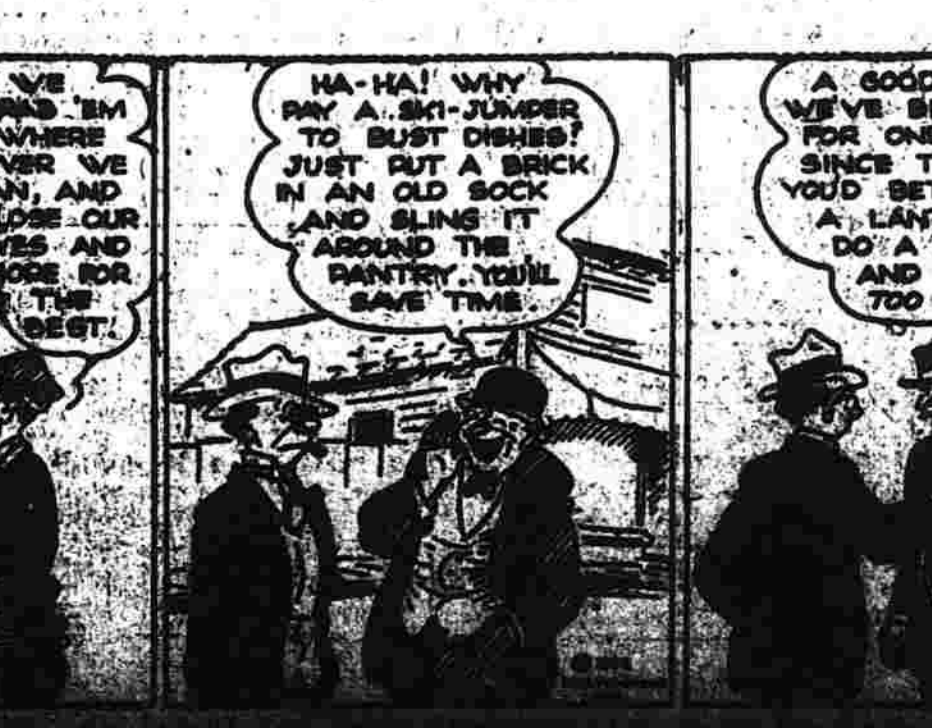

ROBERT J. SMITH, 1009 Main. Real Estate, Steamship Tickets.

By FRANK BECK. (READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

See Copsy knocked upon the door. He waited and then knocked some more. But still nobody answered. "This is just too bad," said he. "I know I won't be satisfied until I know who lives inside. You'd think that someone would be here. This really puzzles me." Then Scouty said, "Oh, let me try my luck at knocking. I'm sure I can shake more noise than you did. You knock was a gentle tap. Let folks know that we exist, the thing to do is use the fist. You'll always have more luck, lad, if you knock instead of rap." "Bang! Bang!" The knocking was real loud. A voice cried out, "No one's allowed. Please come again tomorrow. They want me and I can't go."

GAS BUGGIES—No Laughing Matter to Hem.

SENSE AND NONSENSE

BLESSED ARE THE POOR IN SALARY FOR THEY SHALL PAY NO INCOME TAX.

Harry—Has that dove-eyed Harris girl met his affinity yet?
Gerald—Yes; he's pigeon-toed.

Government Economy.

The senator rose with the praiseworthy aim
Of denouncing the party in power;
He said its extravagant ways were a shame,
He said so for more than an hour.
He said that the fisheries bureau had spent

Some eight thousand dollars
The taxpayers' dollars,
To have booklets sent
To goldfish purveyors
And tuna fish slayers
On how to pack fish in presentable layers.

And the record reprinted the senator's rage
At a cost of some $55 a page!

It is now rumored that an attempt was recently made to form a society to suppress jokes about the Scotch, but that it failed for want of financial support.

Doubts

I doubt
That tobacco is seriously harmful.
That materialism is a source of evil.
That science is detroning religion.
That any investment is absolutely safe.

That men and women will quit quarrelling.
That the business cycle will be eliminated.
That anything is more beautiful or wonderful than nature.
That in five years we will forget that there was a depression.

There has been too great readiness to accept things as they are and too much hesitation by people with money to spend it for things they need. Many of those able to buy are fast realizing that the shabby suit and antiquated automobile in their cases are badges of stupidity rather than badges of honor.

WHO SAYS THE WORLD ISN'T FLAT RIGHT NOW?

Judge—You say you cannot get along with your husband. People must learn to bear and forbear. Did you ever try heaping coals of fire on his head?

Young Married Woman—No; I don't know as I ever did. But I've tried hot water.

Bertha—And they are keeping their engagement a secret, aren't they?

Mattie—Well, that's what they are telling everybody.

SPRING PANTS: Congress, as the horse trader might say, has its points and also its defects. Men who pretend their wives don't more lead the happiest lives. It isn't so bad for a man to be slow, if he just always sticks to a job until it is finished. A woman can almost do anything a man can, providing she has a hairpin handy. You can't bank on a "no account" husband. Men who fall in love with themselves need never fear rivals. The radio will never make the church a thing of the past. Not as long as women get new dresses and hats to wear.

Despite the efforts to find a substitute, elbow grease is still the essential oil of industry. Among the most sensitive things in the world are the fenders of a new automobile. Most governments, city, state and national, are for economy except expenses. When considering the matter of kissing, always remember that two heads are better than one.

Fashion Note: Women's shoes are to be more pointed. Husbands who play bridge are considering a violent protest.

Voice Over Phone—Hello, is this the Bridge Commission?
Office Called—Yes, what do you want?
Voice Over Phone—How many points do you get for a little slam?

A WOMAN'S MOUTH IS GENERALLY COMPARED TO A ROSEBUD, BUT A ROSEBUD IS USUALLY CLOSED.

YOURS TRULY

One of Levensky's customers was slow in paying. In desperation Levensky sent the following letter:

"Sir—Who bought a lot of goods from me and did not pay? You. Who didn't pay in six months? You. Who is a scoundrel, a thief and a liar?—Yours truly, Al Levensky.—Tit-Bits.

CHANGE ON DEMAND

THIEF: I'm despr'. Gimme $25 at once—or I shoot.

VICTIM: Well, I must trouble you for change. I've only got a $50 bill on me.—The Humorist.

STILL DOING GOOD

JOHNSON: My wife used to chase around from one tea to another. Now I've got her interested in golf, and she plays every afternoon.

JACKSON: But isn't that chasing around from one tee to another?—Answers.

Manchester Tent, No. 3, Knights of the Maccabees, will hold a public whist tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock in the Balch and Brown hall, Depot Square. The committee of arrangements includes William J. Burns, William Hamilton, Jr., George M. Bidwell, Leroy N. Chapman, and A. L. Brown. Only progressive whist will be played, with six prizes for the winners and refreshments. A door prize will also be given.

Memorial Temple, Pythian Sisters, will omit its regular meeting tonight as a number of the members plan to go to Thompsonville for the grand chief's visit. Memorial Temple will have its meeting Thursday night in Odd Fellows hall, at which time District Deputy Mrs. Sadie Nutland, of Rockville, will be present to make plans for the state convention to be held here in June. It is hoped that every member will be on hand Thursday night. The business will be followed by a social.

Virginia Armstrong, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Armstrong, of Buckland, celebrated her thirteenth birthday yesterday afternoon by giving a party for the Girl Scouts of Troop 7, and a few other schoolmates. The girls played games and enjoyed a buffet lunch in the dining room which was decorated with pink and white streamers. Virginia was remembered with a number of pretty gifts.

The Army and Navy club will hold its regular monthly meeting at the clubhouse Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

The Center Church young people's choir will have its regular rehearsal and monthly social this evening at the home of Glenn Richards of Haynes street.

Manchester Grange will hold its regular meeting tomorrow evening in Odd Fellows hall. Rev. Watson Woodruff, pastor of the Center Congregational church, will be the guest speaker, and the Grange Memorial service will be exemplified.

Temple Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, will hold its regular meeting tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock in the Masonic Temple. The memorial service will be exemplified.

Sunset Council, Degree of Pochontas, held a card party last night at the home of Mrs. Michael Fitzgerald of Pearl street. Prize winners were Mrs. Mary Giglio and James Uliano, first; Mrs. Bessie Farris and Armando Barico, second; Mrs. Gustave Anderson and Chasles Culotta, consolation. At the close of the games gingerbread with whipped cream and coffee were served. Another card social for the benefit of the lodge will be held Friday evening, June 3, at the home of Mrs. Bessie Farris of Birch street.

Men were at work this morning grading and planting shrubs and bushes along the south section, close to the buildings of the Whitson Memorial Library and the Y. M. C. A. The work was started near the west end of the library building. Rich soil is replacing the more sandy and lighter soil for the planting.

The brick work on the Federal building at the Center has so far advanced that it is now possible to judge the size and see the different departments that are to be used in the basement. Without further delays of any great importance, the work should be completed well before the first of next year, although the contract calls for not more than 360 working days.

Manchester is badly in need of rain. Lawns are starting to show the need of rain and the trees indicate by the way the leaves are turning and folding that they, too, need rain. On the larger lawns in town where special attention is always given the brown spots are showing. Pasture land is showing like effect and milk producers are starting to worry about feed for their stock.

S. A. SCHOOL TEACHERS PLAN FOR THEIR WORK
 With New Superintendent Harold Turkington They Lay Program—Honor Wm. Leggett.

Teachers and officers of the Salvation Army Sunday school met last evening for the purpose of making plans for the school with the new superintendent, Harold Turkington. William Leggett who has served the school as its superintendent for the past decade was also present. After the conference the gathering adjourned to the lower hall where games were played and ice cream and cake served. Ensign George Williams in a short speech expressed the appreciation of all for the faithful work of Mr. Leggett, and in behalf of the teachers and officers, presented to Mr. Leggett a handsome bridge lamp. He returned his thanks for the fine gift and the thoughtfulness of his friends in arranging the party in his honor.

PARENTS' DAYS IN SCHOOLS HERE
 Rooms in Districts 1-3 To Be Open For Parents' Inspection This Week.

Parents' Day will be observed in all the schools of the Eighth and outlying districts during the present week. In most of the schools the sessions will be held in the evening from 7 o'clock until 8 o'clock. At the Manchester Green and Highland Park schools they will occur this evening and at Buckland on Wednesday evening.

In the Eighth District, North School street, intermediate grades and the Hollister street primary grades will be session tomorrow evening, the North School street primary grades and the Hollister street middle and upper grades on Thursday evening. The South school session will also be on Thursday evening.

The Oakland and Keeney street schools will hold their sessions from 2 o'clock until 3 o'clock on Friday afternoon.

The main feature of all the programs in all the schools will be regular school room work. The more formal class exercises, however, will be interspersed with recitations, dramatization and singing. At the close of the sessions parents will be given opportunity to see the exhibits of written work and drawing. In all the larger schools exhibits of manual training and domestic science products will be shown. During the past five or six years since the exercises began to be held in the evening the number of visitors has increased enormously and each year several hundred parents and friends attend the special sessions. No formal invitations have been issued this year but a cordial invitation is extended to everybody to attend.

Mary Elizabeth offers a unique service to the bride and her attendants. The ladies will have their hair done at the Beauty Nook and for a very small extra charge an attendant will be at the home to make last minute touches and make up suggestions.

COVENTRY CHICK GROWERS SHIPS VIA MANCHESTER
 By Using Post Office Here He Gains Time En Route—May Send Out 40,000.
 Over 1,000 chicks were shipped by parcel post out of the Manchester post office this morning by a Coventry producer. The reason for shipment from the Manchester post office is that it takes less time on the road. By shipping in the morning the chicks are assured a warm place until just before train time and arrive at their destination early enough for an early delivery by either the R. F. D. or parcel post carrier. This gets the chicks into the hands of the buyers by noon of the day following their shipment. The weather has retarded the shipments, but the Coventry farmer plans to ship at least 40,000 chicks this season.
