SENATE SPEEDS UP REVENUE MEASURES

In Mood For Action, Members Rush Through Item After Item In An Effort To Balance the Budget.

Washington, May 26.—(AP)—The Senate restored the ten per cent tax on cosmetics and toilet articles to the revenue bill today in a drive to add new funds to the budget balancing legislation.

Within a few minutes after finance committee recommended restoration of a batch of excise levies carried by the House bill but not in the compromise Senate measure, the Senate began carrying out the program.

The cosmetics and toilet preparations levy was put back in the bill without even a record vote. This added $20,000,000 in revenue to the bill.

The changes approved by the committee were estimated to produce $50,000,000 of revenue.

The Senate was in a mood for action and in a determination to raise taxes.

Tax On Jewelry

Quickly the ten per cent jewelry tax was restored to the revenue bill. Exemptions of tooth paste and dentifrice voted by the committee on the toilet article tax were shouted down by the Senate.

It also refused to accept committee recommendation to exempt sterling silver from the jewelry tax.

So fast was the Senate working that leaders on both sides of aisles finally asked for order to find out what was happening.

Another $5,000,000 was added as the Senate restored the House tax of five per cent on mechanical refrigerators.

Previously, an annual use tax on pleasure boats over 26 feet in length was agreed upon by the committee.

It would start at $10 for craft over 26 feet, increasing to a maximum of $300 for vessels over 200 feet.

The committee recommendation to exempt jewelry selling for less than $100 was also rejected.

NEED MORE WHEAT FOR NEXT WINTER

Red Cross Head Tells President 40 Million Bushels Must Be Provided.

Washington, May 26.—(AP)—President Hoover was told today by John Barton Payne, Chairman of the Red Cross, that 40,000,000 more bushels of wheat would be necessary to feed the needy next winter.

Payne went to the White House at about the same time Speaker Garner was talking newspaper men the $2,100,000 relief program he outlined last week would be ready for introduction tomorrow and that government officials would appear before the ways and means committee next week to give their views on it.

The Red Cross chairman said the 40,000,000 bushels of Farm Board wheat supplied his organization several months ago would be enough for relief purposes this summer. A proposal to make another similar amount available already has been introduced in the House.

Needs Information
Garner said he had deferred introduction of his relief measure until the census bureau could supply information regarding some of the building projects it would propose.

Secretary Mills, Charles G. Dawes, president of the Reconstruction Corporation, and representatives of President Hoover are expected to testify on the program.

Meanwhile, Representative Crisp, of Georgia, acting chairman of the ways and means committee, told newspapermen after a conference at the White House he had informed the President he believed "some form of relief program" must be adopted before Congress adjourns.

Crisp believed there was hope of a compromise between the relief program suggested by the President and those from various Democratic sources. He declined to say, however, what form he believed the compromise might take.

AUTO STRIKES CHILD

Torrington, May 26.—(AP)—Douglas Mallette, aged 4-1-3 years, only son of Loret and Mrs. Ennis B. Mallette, is in a critical condition at the family home with a fractured skull and fractures of one leg and one arm as the result of having been hit by an automobile driven by John J. Leach in front of the Mallette home today. The boy's father is well known in Connecticut aviation circles, having been an aviator in the 112d Observation Squadron, 3d Division Aviation, C. N. G.

NATION'S EDITORS MEET PRESIDENT

Pledge Themselves To Help In Improving Conditions Throughout the Country.

Washington, May 26.—(AP)—Backed by pledges of aid from leaders of the American press, President Hoover today looked more hopefully toward a speedy untangling of the congressional knots that have delayed budget balancing legislation.

The pledges came voluntarily from numerous members of 89 leading newspaper publishers gathered last night in the President's study for a conference which lasted until after midnight. Apparently there was no concerted program of action submitted or agreed to, but from some conferees came conflicting reports as to what had taken place.

Disagree On Sales Tax

The sales tax caused some of these disagreeing reports. In one quarter the discussion was interpreted as meaning the President considered the general sales tax not only not dead, but available now to clear away the delays in Congress over balancing next year's budget.

But other conferees denied this strongly. They said that a reported shift of sentiment toward the sales tax among those House members who helped him, had been cited by the President merely as an illustration of rapid changes which the country has undergone, pointing inferentially to the need for a stronger led public opinion.

Otherwise Silent

Mr. Hoover, these publishers said, did not commit himself for the sales tax as did he sound out the editors on the issue. Beyond this, the newspapermen were reticent to discuss the meeting.

The newspapermen spoke of conditions in their own communities and suggested means of bettering them. In some instances, Mr. Hoover, in turn, explained in detail difficulties which now face Congress and the administration. He, too, suggested means of alleviating conditions.

Earlier, the publishers gathered at meetings of their own. At a dinner tendered by Colonel Frank Knox, publisher of the Chicago Daily News, definite suggestions were made for rallying the press of the nation behind a drive for a speedy cleanup of pending legislation.

From various administration leaders today came views that little hope could be held for a revival of the sales tax.

BEER FOR REVENUE GETS DEATH BLOW

No Chance of Passing This Session of Congress; Senate Against It.

Washington, May 26.—(AP)—The beer for revenue idea has taken its death blow, for this session of Congress at least.

This insistently advocated project—to legalize beer containing 2.75 per cent alcohol as well as the nation's coffers without imposing the severe taxes—came again before the Senate yesterday and it was voted down 55 to 28.

The proposal came up this time as an amendment by Senator Bingham (R., Conn.), to substitute a two cents a pint tax on beer for all the excise levies in the billion dollar revenue bill. A few votes were gained by beer advocates above last week's Senate vote, on an attempt to use beer for financing a public construction bond issue. Separated from the latter controverted question, the new vote was regarded by Senators on both sides as the last word.

Senators on both sides as the last word.

Women Hurt in Crush To Attend Spicy Trial

London, May 26.—(AP)—Several young women were injured today while attempting to push their way into Church House, Westminster, where the Rev. H. F. Davidson, 62-year-old rector of St. Giles, is being tried on charges of immorality.

Sensational testimony during the last few days resulted in a large crowd of aspirant spectators when court resumed this morning.

After a struggle in which several girls were painfully crushed, police got control and locked the doors of Church House. They looked out hundreds of persons.

CAMERA STUDIES OF WALKER ON STAND

"Remember, I'm still the Mayor of New York!"

"No, I don't remember what I have said at a meeting two weeks ago."

"I insist that counsel not testify in this way and put the answer up to me!"

SAYS U. S. MUST BUY FROM SOVIET RUSSIA

Head of Amtorg Tells Business Men Present Conditions Are Too One Sided To Have Trade Continued.

Cleveland, May 26.—(AP)—The United States must buy as well as sell if it wants to enjoy a profitable business with Soviet Russia, prominent Cleveland business men were told last night, in an address by Peter A. Bogdanov, chairman of the Amtorg Trading Corporation.

"It is obvious that trade cannot be one-sided affair," Bogdanov said in the principal speech at a dinner given by the Export Club of the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce.

Russia spent $85,000,000 in the United States in 1929, $114,000,000 in 1930 and $104,000,000 in 1931, Bogdanov said, and then compared these figures to American imports from Russia, amounting to only $13,000,000 in the latter year.

Col. Hugh L. Cooper, American designer of the world's largest hydro-electric plant at Dneprostroy, Russia, shared speaking honors with Bogdanov.

MAIL PLANE SAFE; SO'S CALL A HOAX

Fliers Arrive At Boston and Say Their Radio Was Not Working.

Boston, May 26.—(AP)—Wireless stations along the New England coast listened through the night for a repetition of the S O S calls that sent Coast Guard craft scurrying to the aid of the steamship Europe's mail plane while the German fliers sped toward Boston without knowledge of the search.

The plane arrived at the Boston Airport at 5:40 p. m., E. S. T., yesterday and the pilots professed ignorance of the S O S calls. A shortage of fuel brought the plane down. She was to be flown to New York today.

Coast Guard Acts
The Coast Guard destroyers McCord, Shaw and Uphur were ordered to sea to search for the plane when the calls were received yesterday, remained at sea in the belief that one ship may have sent the call for aid. Radio officials of the Department of Commerce meanwhile conducted an investigation to determine whether a hoax had been perpetrated.

Lieut. Blankenberg, pilot of the Europe's plane, and Lieut. Karl Kirchoff, radio operator and copilot, said their radio was out of order and that they heard no calls.

The plane was catapulted from the Europe's deck carrying several sacks of mail, and headed for New York. The distress calls, heard at the Castle Island Airway radio station about two hours later bore no call letter.

Inside, spicy testimony, started yesterday, was continued.

It revolved about a photograph of the elderly rector with a young girl, the prosecution indicated, was nude except for somewhat insufficient draping with a shawl.

Repeatedly and heatedly Mr. Davidson denied knowing that, aside from the shawl, the girl was naked. He said he thought she wore a bathing suit, explaining that the picture had been designed to advertise bathing suits. He was bombarded by prosecution questions, the general purpose of which was to break down his denial.

RIOTS ARE RAGING IN GERMAN CITIES

Hunger Marchers Loot Stores and 15 Wounded By Police Revolvers.

Berlin, May 26.—(AP)—The bloody disorders in the Prussian Diet yesterday were followed today by news of riots in three German cities.

In Hamburg, where thousands of hunger marchers battled the police last night, disorders were resumed today when a crowd of Communists and jobless men began plundering a grocery store. Police using their pistols wounded fifteen of the men. One policeman was injured.

Hours after the outbreak the authorities were busy putting down smaller demonstrations in various parts of the city.

One policeman was injured and 22 men were arrested in an unem-

FLIERS DISCUSS FREEDOM OF AIR

Stage: All Night Battle In Rome On Problem; America's Views.

Rome, May 26.—(AP)—The first World Congress of transoceanic fliers ended early today after an all night battle in which there was a sharp national division over "freedom of the air," with a view to free competition in trans-Atlantic commercial aviation routes.

The lineup in the battle was France and Spain against the field, including the fliers, from the United States, Great Britain, Italy and Germany. The fliers, led by a vote in General Balbo of Italy and Wolfgang Von Gronau of Germany demanding that all governments leave their airports open to trans-Atlantic flying as they leave their airports.

Other Clashes
The French and Spanish delegations refrained from voting. The battle on the floor of the congress was marked by bitter clashes between General Balbo and Diedoone Costa, the French flier.

Costa objected to the resolution as "political." He was vigorously supported by Lott Iglesias of Spain.

Harold Gatty, American round-the-world flier, supported the resolution saying that "an American company is now securing a monopoly on the northern air route, by way of Greenland."

There was hint that the fierce argument was based on French and Italian competition for control of a future air line from Europe to South America when Costa mentioned the Azores in this connection. Costa and Balbo shook hands when the meeting ended.

The aviators agreed their next meeting will be held in New York.

Pershing Calls Dry Law Basis of Racketeering

Paris, May 26.—(AP)—General John J. Pershing declared today that prohibition in the United States is the basis of racketeering and that it never would have been adopted if the masses of the people had voted on it.

The general made these assertions in a pungently-phrased speech before the American Club at a luncheon given in his honor. He avoided rears of approval from his auditors.

Vigorously attacking what he described as conditions of lawlessness in the United States, the general blamed them on the bootleggers and racketeers of the American people themselves. He declared that the laws permitted such evils as big-

STATE ATTY. NOONE IS CRITICALLY ILL

Suffers Paralytic Shock and Relatives Are Called To His Bedside.

Rockville, May 26.—Thomas F. Noone, state's attorney of Tolland county for the past sixteen years, is critically ill at the Rockville City hospital. His condition is such that his brother, John Noone, of New York City, remains constantly at his bedside.

Since Monday
Mr. Noone, who is 56 years of age, was taken ill Monday at the Rockville hospital, where he has lived since the death of his mother several years ago. His illness was not considered serious but he was removed to the hospital yesterday. Last night he suffered a paralytic shock on the left side and deep concern is felt over his condition.

Democratic Delegate
Attorney Noone was recently named delegate at large to the national Democratic convention at Chicago next month.

SILVER QUESTION TO BE VOTED UPON

Senator Wheeler and Others Money Problem.

Washington, May 26.—(AP)—Senator Wheeler (D., Mont.), served notice on the Senate today that he would demand a vote before Congress adjourns on his bill for the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 with gold.

He urged his bill during debate on an amendment to the tax bill to exclude silver from taxation. That amendment lost 43 to 30.

Sensors from the silver producing states led by Senator Thomas (R., Idaho), said the tax would further depress silver and would "drive a nail in the coffin of silver."

Senator Connally (D., Texas), said the tax would have little effect on the price of silver. It is at a ten per cent rate.

Senator Wheeler agreed with Connally and pointed out that Chairman Smoot of the finance committee, who was opposing the silver tax, had not obtained action in his committee on the silver monetization bill.

MANIAC KILLS CHILD

Cleveland, May 26.—(AP)—A maniac brandishing a knife attacked three small girls as they were on their way to school today, killed one and probably fatally injured the others.

The dead girl was Rose Marie Parker, 8 years old. The injured were Lena De Santis, 12 and Elaine Macchia, 8. Threats of all of them were cut.

The man who police said was Jake Gordon, 40, was overpowered by Patrolman Charles Mischem after a terrific struggle.

The attack was witnessed by scores of pedestrians and motorists on their way to work.

The man pounced on the first girl without warning and plunged a knife into her, then attacked the others.

TRASURY BALANCE
Washington, May 26.—(AP)—Treasury receipts for May 24 were $3,188,679.18; expenditures $5,922,135.63; balance $442,879,895.04. Customs duties for 24 days of May were $14,376,899.28.

MAYOR DESCRIBES NEW INVESTMENTS

Tells Committee He Made $10,000 In One Transaction and $26,000 In Another Without Putting Up Any Money—This Besides the $246,000 Made On the Paul Block Investment—Whole Morning Session Filled With Fireworks As Democrats Clash With Republicans—Mayor, Angry, Shouts "It Looks As If Somebody Were After My Life."

New York, May 26.—(AP)—Angrily charging his examination before the Hofstadter legislative committee was a preliminary to seeking his removal from office, Mayor James J. Walker today continued his recital of "countless kindnesses" shown him as mayor of the country's Metropolis.

Today's session, the second at which the mayor has occupied the witness chair, began with pleasantries and an exchange of courtesies between Walker and Samuel Seabury, chief counsel of the committee which for 14 months has been delving into the city's affairs.

But acrimony soon burst out and the mayor gave way to the angriest outburst yet witnessed in the chamber which has been the scene of countless shouted exchanges.

After His Life
"I'm here as a witness," the mayor exclaimed after saying he recognized the antagonistic attitude of Seabury, "but it begins to look as though somebody were after my life."

"It is apparent to me that this is just an examination before a trial that it is ridiculous to fasten charges with the governor asking for my removal."

Seabury became just as angry as the mayor and denounced the latter's statement as "a cheap political stump speech."

The session began with renewed reference to a joint brokerage account the mayor testified yesterday he had with Paul Block, publisher. The mayor put nothing into the account, but he took more than $246,000 out of it.

"What do you think was the reason for Mr. Block opening the account?" Seabury asked.

"I would prefer you ask Mr. Block," the mayor replied, launching then into praise of Block, long his close friend, and adding that he had been the recipient of countless other kindnesses.

Other Investments
He said he had participated in no other joint accounts—"not that I can remember."

Mayor Walker acknowledged, however, that he profited $10,000 on an investment made for Elmond O'Brien, a man not previously mentioned in the investigation.

And he told of a dinner in Atlantic City where he was told a pool in Coaden oil stock which it would cost him nothing to enter. "Because the stock had gone up," since the pool was opened. Later he was in pool with Coaden and he was given $38,000 in bonds.

The whole morning session was filled with fireworks, Democratic members of the committee shouting at the mayor and demanding that if Walker should be re-elected by the great, popular vote ever known, and one minority member shouting that Seabury had been appointed counsel of the committee by the Republican state chairman before the committee was formed.

The mayor himself seemed ever ready to start an argument or join one and at one point halted his testimony to stare at the counsel table at which he said someone was sneering at him.

"You're very sensitive today," remarked Seabury.

In his testimony about the Coaden stock pool Mayor Walker said the dinner at which the pool first was mentioned was attended by J. A. Sisto, a banker heavily interested in one of New York's large taxicab companies, his participation.

Voted the Bill
"If there is any innuendo that Sisto tried to bribe me," the mayor said, "I want to say that after the bonds were delivered, an ordinance was passed to increase the tax on retail tax x x x I voted it x x x the people (the tax concern Sisto was interested in) at that time had 1,000 taxicabs on the streets of New York. If I had passed that bill the Farnham company would have produced $1,000,000 in one year."

COUNTLESS KINDNESSES MAYOR WALKER HAS HAD

By Associated Press
"I've had countless kindnesses," Mayor Walker testified today to the Hofstadter legislative committee.

Among specifications given the committee yesterday and today were:

$246,652 from a joint brokerage account with Paul Block, for which the mayor put up no money.

$10,000 profit on an investment made on the mayor's behalf by Elmond O'Brien.

$28,100 from a pool in Coaden oil. The mayor put up no money. He received bonds from J. A. Sisto, banker.

post box but said he did not hold the box jointly with Sherwood. He said the box was taken temporarily in his name to keep some papers at a Walker client while the mayor's will was practicing lawyer.

ANOTHER TRIP TO CROTON
New York, May 26.—(AP)—Two long lines of bucoats extending from the courtroom to the street formed today an hour and a half before the hour set for Mayor James J. Walker to take the stand again in defense of his administration before the Hofstadter legislative committee.

There were more than twice as many police on duty today to handle the crowd as there were yesterday when between 600 and 800 persons in the courtroom, which was built to accommodate 300, frequently broke into the proceedings with cheers, hisses and boos.

"I would prefer you ask Mr. Block," the mayor replied, launching then into praise of Block, long his close friend, and adding that he had been the recipient of countless other kindnesses.

Other Investments
He said he had participated in no other joint accounts—"not that I can remember."

BAND MAY REFUSE TO GIVE CONCERTS

Salvationists Do Not Enthusiasm Over Plan To Play At the North End.

The decision of the Chamber of Commerce to sponsor the community band concerts for the third successive year, voted at the all-membership meeting of the Chamber at the State Trade school last night, may meet with the opposition of the Salvation Army Band. It was learned today, should the Chamber persist in its desire to hold the concerts at both the north and south end of town.

Gave Them Free
The Salvation Army Band has gladly donated its services, free of charge, during the past two years for a series of from eight to twelve concerts, presented weekly through the summer months. However, certain circumstances have arisen in the past year which may cause the band to look upon a similar course with disapproval this year, according to members who are authorized to speak.

One of the principal reasons why the band may not donate its services this year is to be found in the location of the concerts. In view of the fact that Center Park is centrally located, members of the band feel that all the concerts should be given there. Should the Chamber committee, which will be appointed by President William Hales, agree to this, it is expected that the band will again donate its services.

Objects To Motion
At last night's meeting, a motion to hold all the concerts in Center Park was withdrawn after E. J. Murphy of the north end had voiced strenuous objections to the motion, on the grounds that the band is a novelty to the residents of the north end and that they very much appreciate the music presented by the band.

Members of the band pointed out today that the crowds which attended the concerts at the north end last year were small, that the location was inconvenient, and that residents of the west side and Manchester Green are entitled to the concerts as the north end. It was stated that persons living on the west side as far as to Center Park as the people at the north end.

Another point on which the band may refuse to contribute its services at all has been brought up by its members. The Salvation Army Band has contributed its services, free of charge, time and again but when special occasions arise, the town has gone elsewhere to secure music for which payment is made. An outstanding example, the members point out, was the occasion of the visit of the Lord Mayor of Manchester, England, in the latter part of last October, when the 189th Regimental Band of Hartford was hired to play.

It is an expense to conduct an organization of the type of the Salvation Army Band, which is regarded as one of the finest in this section of the country, and the members feel that an occasional concert, where the band is paid for its services, would assist considerably in defraying this expense. The band feels that its willingness to play without compensation at the times when special occasions arise.

To Sponsor Concert
At last night's meeting, the Chamber members voted to sponsor the band concert and to appoint a committee to make arrangements, the committee being limited to an expenditure of $20. This committee has not yet been appointed and the Salvation Army Band has not yet been approached so it is possible that the differences may be ironed out before the middle of June, when the concerts are scheduled to begin.

The members also voted in favor of a half-day outing this year instead of the customary all-day outing, held in other years on Merchants Day, the third Wednesday in July. The president was authorized to appoint a committee on arrangements which will include the date. The outing will be held at some place in this vicinity.

Fine Supper
The Trade school entertained the members of the Chamber royally, starting with a splendid roast beef supper, topped off with strawberry short cake. The feast was prepared by Harry Kitching, a member of the faculty. During the dinner, the Trade School orchestra, under the leadership of William J. Hanna, presented a fine musical program.

Other members of the faculty also contributed to the interesting program. William Higgins delivered several humorous monologues, and Paul Volquardson sang several solos, accompanied by George Huntington Byles, organist of the South Methodist church. John Richardson, director of the school, welcomed the Chamber and invited the members to visit the school at any time.

Roosevelt Returns
New York, May 26.—(AP)—Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt returned to New York this morning from a vacation spent at his cottage at Warm Springs, Georgia. The governor was met at the Pennsylvania railroad station by his wife and daughter and James A. Farley, Democratic state chairman. He drove directly home and planned to spend his next two days at home.

South Bend, Ind., May 26.—(AP)—The Rev. Charles L. O'Donnell, C.S.C., president of Notre Dame University, announced today that Owen D. Young of New York would receive an honorary Doctor of Law degree at the commencement exercises June 5. Mr. Young will also deliver the commencement address.

BROKER PUNISHED BY STOCK MARKET

Bear Trader Suspended For a Year — Officials Plan Tightening of the Rules.

New York, May 26.—(AP)—The New York Stock Exchange took its most drastic action today against a member for bear activity thus far in the 24-year decline.

Daniel Manning McKeon, a private floor trader, was suspended for one year, under provisions of the constitution forbidding the offering of stock in a manner designed to demoralize the market.

The announcement said that although McKeon's offers "were not accepted and did not cause a decline in prices," he was found guilty of the charges by the governing committee.

The Exchange began an exhaustive check up on short sellers a year ago and from time to time has tightened up its regulations of that practice, but McKeon was the first seller to be punished.

NO MORE GUESSWORK ABOUT LUBRICATION

A new system of motor car lubrication, one that eliminates guesswork, has been announced by James E. MacDonald of the Texaco station at Main and High streets.

The system, known as "Texaco Certified Lubrication," includes a complete line of Texaco oils and greases specially developed for automobile lubrication, together with a system of checking employee work on the road.

Talks With Amy Johnson, of Great Britain — Honored By Aero Club.

London, May 26.—(AP)—Amy Johnson, Great Britain's noted air woman and Mrs. Amelia Earhart Putnam, America's woman transatlantic flier, met today for the first time.

Miss Johnson, accompanied by her fiancé, J. A. Mollinson, famous British long distance flier, went to the American Embassy at Prince's Gate to see Mrs. Putnam.

Miss Johnson, who has flown in record time from England to Australia alone, paid the visit at Mrs. Putnam's expressed wish. She had been visiting at the home of Mollinson's parents in Scotland and flew down to London for the occasion.

Mollinson, in view of the projected trans-Atlantic flight which he plans to make soon, asked Mrs. Putnam a number of questions about flying conditions over the ocean, especially regarding the formation of ice on the wings.

Mrs. Putnam asked whether Miss Johnson would make the flight with Mollinson, but the couple replied they could not say definitely.

MOVIE STAR'S KIN DIVORCE WITNESS

William S. Hart's Sister Tells Court Her Daughter Never Took a Drink.

Bridgeport, May 26.—(AP)—Mrs. Frances Victoria Bierck, of Westport, sister of William S. Hart, the movie star, declared in angry tones today from the witness stand she never had seen her daughter drink at habeas corpus proceedings brought by the daughter, Mrs. Beatrice Hogewoning, against her "tulip king" husband, Abram Hogewoning, to obtain custody of the two Hogewoning children.

Mrs. Bierck, who had custody of the children when Hogewoning is alleged to have abducted them from her home in Westport more than a week ago, gave her testimony as to the sobriety of the children's mother in response to a question by Attorney Harry Silverstone.

In her testimony before Judge Baldwin of the Superior Court today, Mrs. Bierck told of her brother, William S. Hart, the star of movie westerns. She said she is 63 years old, and has two sisters.

There was a dispute between Attorney Silverstone and Irsael Cohen counsel for the tulip importer, concerning testimony of character witnesses for Mrs. Hogewoning.

To Call Witnesses.
Attorney Silverstone said that he would rest his case after Mrs. Bierck's testimony, but that later he would introduce witnesses in rebuttal to testify that Mrs. Hogewoning is a fit person to be guardian of her children.

Attorney Cohen objected to this, contending character witnesses were part of the case in chief and should be placed on the stand before Hogewoning's defense is started.

Mrs. Bierck testified that she was born in Montgomery, Ill., 63 years ago. Her maiden name was Frances Victoria Hart and that she had a brother, W. S. Hart, a movie star and two sisters, one of her sisters, Mary Ellen Hart, now in California, owns property in Westport, formerly the home of her brother. She said that her mother died in Westport after a residence there of 20 years.

She was married in 1887 to Albert B. Bierck who died six years ago. Her husband was a railroad executive and had been with the Baltimore & Ohio, the Northern Pacific, the Long Island for 28 years and for eight years as general comptroller and vice president of the Reading Railroad.

17 REBELS KILLED

Washington, May 26.—(AP)—The killing of 17 Nicaraguan insurgents in two combats yesterday with a Nicaraguan Federal patrol commanded by an American Marine was reported to the Navy today by Lieutenant Colonel Calvin B. Matthews, commanding the Nicaraguan National Guard detachment.

The patrol was commanded by Corporal Earl T. Gray, of Indianapolis, Ind., a lieutenant in the Nicaraguan Guard.

Matthews reported no serious casualties were sustained by the guards.

COLORED JAZZ KING AT SANDY BEACH

Fletcher Henderson, styled the Colored King of Jazz, is booked to appear at Sandy Beach Ballroom

Miss New York

on Saturday, May 26. For eight consecutive years Henderson's boys blew their sax and tooted their horns at the Roseland Ballroom,

New York, while the dance lovers of the Metropolis who patronize this popular ballroom-wiggled and squirmed to their peppy, soul-stirring reprints. That's a record that no other colored orchestra has ever been able to equal—eight years on Broadway and in one spot. For two seasons he held forth at Connie's Inn in Harlem, and he did pack them in.

May 29 and May 30, the famous Broadway stars, the American Beauties Revue, makes its bow at the Sandy Beach Pavilion, and will no-doubt be well received in its entirety as they left an excellent impression last season, with their wonderful dancing and entertainment features. They come here under the personal management of Stanley H. Willis, the lad who has made it possible to exhibit this famous group of beauty contest winners. They will sing, they will dance and a Personality Contest making the selection of Mr. and Miss Personality will be conducted at the ball room on both nights.

The Flotilla Orchestra of 12 pieces will play for dancing both Sunday and Monday evenings in connection with the big Beauty Revue.

HIS TRAP WORKED

Pittsburgh, May 26.—(AP)—Abe Scherr, a drugist now known his burglar trap works.

After thieves had removed 96 pints of prescription liquor, Scherr set a device which released tear gas when the shelf was touched.

Yesterday a clerk leaned on the shelf while talking to his employer. He and Scherr dashed to the street, tears streaming down their faces.

IMMIGRATION TANGLE

New Haven, May 26.—(AP)—Immigration restrictions may force Dr. John J. Nugent to return to New Haven from his honeymoon in Nassau, Bahamas Islands, without his bride.

Mrs. Nugent, a British subject, has been refused permission to leave Nassau, her former home city, on the ground that the British quota is filled. She and Dr. Nugent flew to the Bahamas Islands following their wedding last month in Miami, Fla.

Friends of the couple have appealed to U. S. Senator Eirgan Bingham for aid. Meanwhile, Dr. Nugent, a chiropractor and assistant clerk in the City Court, has indicated he will return to New Haven pending the solution of the immigration tangle.

JOBLESS AID BILL IS NOW IN SENATE

Senator Wagner Would Spend Over Two Billions For Relief.

Washington, May 26.—(AP)—A $2,300,000,000 Democratic bill for unemployment relief and revival of industry was laid today before the Senate with the approval of the combined Democratic steering and policy committees.

The bill was introduced by Senator Wagner (D. N. Y.), on behalf of the five Democratic Senators who drafted it. He took issue with President Hoover's objections to a bond issue for public works, telling the Senate "there is no merit in the President's criticism that public works provide but transitory employment, surely transitory employment is better than none."

"Furthermore, Federal public works do not differ in that respect from local toll bridges and tunnels which are agreed to by the President."

Other members of the subcommittee that drafted it were Senators Robinson, of Arkansas; Walsh, of Montana; Pittman, of Nevada, and Buckley, of Ohio.

Wagner said the bill offered "a conservative program of legislation as the severity of the present emergency will permit," and added: "We cannot overlook the fact that, according to the Department of Labor there are in 123 cities, holding less than one-third of the national population, more than 700,000 families who are living on charity."

QUOTATIONS

There is general realization that something must be done before Congress adjourns; that the need next winter will be urgent.

—Senator Joe Robinson of Arkansas.

The holding corporation and all the mixup of inter-company relationships, if allowed to exist at all, ought to be brought into broad daylight.

—William Z. Ripley, Harvard economist.

Certainly 120,000,000 free people, after 12 years of experience with the greatest social experiment ever tried on such a large body of people, are entitled to be heard directly.

—John J. Raskob, chairman, Democratic National Committee.

Girls who wear mannish clothes in imitation of Garbo and Dietrich are revolting.

—Betty Davis, film actress.

BOOTLEGGEE KILLED

Davenport, Iowa, May 26.—(AP)—Nick J. Coin, 60, known to the police as a bootlegger, was slain by two unidentified men who opened fire with shotguns as their car passed him on a street corner near his home early today.

Half a dozen slugs struck Coin in the head. He had drawn a loaded pistol but was killed before he could fire.

Coin had been accused of "squealing" on his associates at a recent liquor conspiracy trial.

FLAG DAY OBSERVANCE IS SET FOR JUNE 14

Hartford, May 26.—(AP)—Governor W. L. Cross, in a proclamation made public today, designated Friday, June 14, for the observance of Flag Day. The proclamation is as follows:

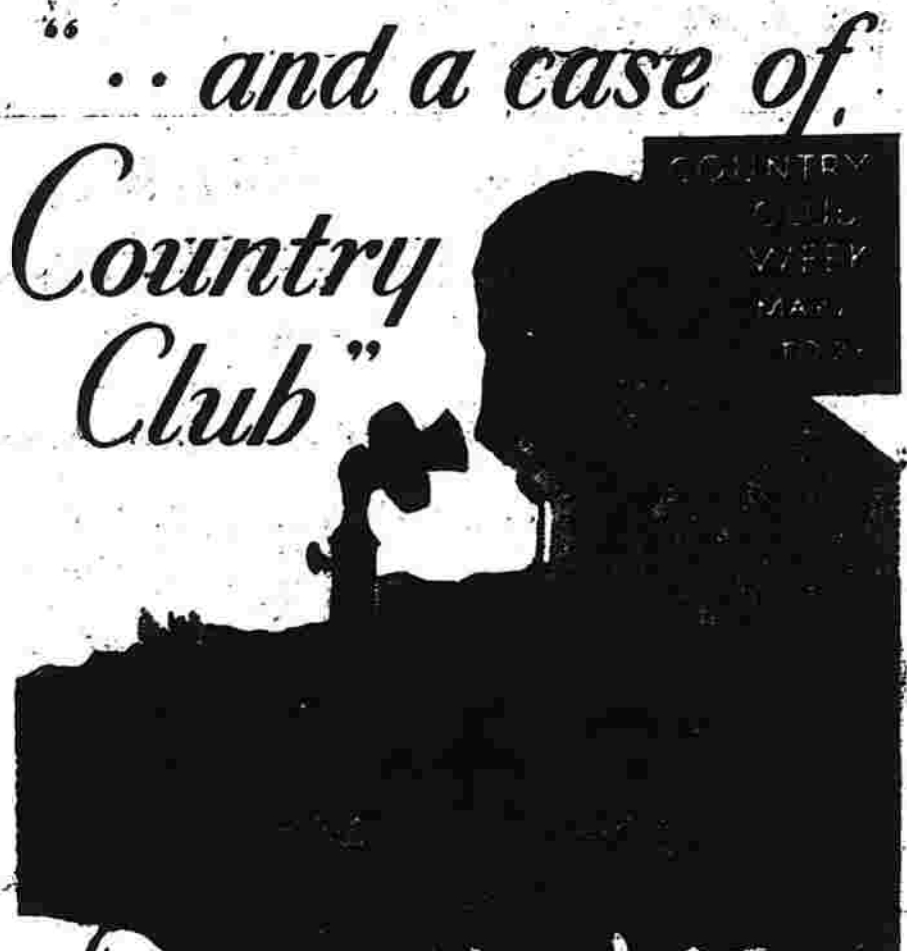

"Among our National holidays, Flag Day stands out alone and unique as the one that typifies the whole of the National being. The Fourth of July is the anniversary of the Nation's birth. Memorial Day is sacred to the memory of those who gave their lives that the Nation might live. With faith undimmed in the permanence of our country, its safety and security, and with an abiding confidence in the social justice for which the flag stands, and in accordance with the statute, I designate Tuesday, the 14th day of June next, as Flag Day. For over a century, and a half, the flag has been a living symbol to which in these days of stress and strain we must dedicate ourselves anew in confident hope of peace, plenty, and contentment.

"One flag, one land, one heart, one hand,
"One nation evermore!"

TO EXECUTE REBELS

Rangoon, Burma, May 26.—(AP)—Seventy rebels were sentenced to death today at Thayetmyo and 22 others were ordered deported for life. The sentences followed a drive by the government to clean up districts in which there have been political disturbances.

The rebels belonged to the Kama group under the leadership of Saya Nyan, who surrendered last December.

"I ONLY REGRET THAT I HAVE BUT ONE LIFE TO LOSE FOR MY COUNTRY"

WHEN Nathan Hale on the scaffold uttered those brave words, what was the condition of the country? ☆ It had entered upon a life and death struggle for its independence. Before that struggle was over, its soldiers were "barefoot and almost naked." Its currency was so desperately inflated that a pair of shoes cost $100, a bushel of corn $40, a pound of tea $90, a barrel of flour $1,575. ☆ There were many "wise" people who predicted that the bankrupt colonies would never win. History has forgotten the names of those wise people. ☆ But history remembers Nathan Hale and George Washington and John Adams and Benjamin Franklin, and the others who never ceased to battle and to hope. ☆ Let us honor their memory on Memorial Day. Let us motor to the spots which their sacrifice made sacred. Let us renew our courage by the memory of their struggle, so much more desperate than ours can ever be. Let us be worthy of the country for which they gave their all.

THURSDAY, MAY 26.

SWEATSHOPS

State Labor Commissioner Tene has discovered that there are many scores of sweatshops in Connecticut employing hundreds of workers at extremely low wages. Governor Cross is of the opinion that "something will have to be done" about it.

It would be interesting to know just what.

So far as shown the Connecticut sweatshops conform to the law. To be sure there is no great amount of law—merely statutory provisions for cleanliness, proper ventilation and so forth in such tenement house quarters as are used in the manufacture of the kind of commodities they make in sweatshops. There are no proper regulations as to the number of employes per cubic air content, as in the New York law; not, as there very well might be, any absolute prohibition of the carrying on of manufacturing enterprises, employing other than members of the owner's family, in any tenement house.

But even if we adopt such laws it is extremely doubtful if we shall get very far in raising the standards of the sweatshop workers.

The whole question, when all is said and done, figures down to a matter of regulating wages. If the state of Connecticut should adopt and enforce a minimum wage law it would unquestionably put an end to the sweatshop evil. But if the state did not dare to pass such a law in the days of "prosperity" how much likelihood of its passage is there now? And what guarantee would there be that such a law would not do a great deal more harm than good?

If it is legal for a manufacturer or contractor to make shirts or aprons or artificial flowers in Connecticut and if it is legal for him to hire his help as cheaply as he can get it, then it is to be taken as a certainty that men and women and girls and boys will be hired for this kind of work as cheaply as they will consent to labor.

And if the contractors or manufacturers were driven out of the tenement houses they would surely crowd their machines into the smallest and cheapest spaces that the law will allow and would still pay their workers no more than they did before.

The sordid and heartless business of the sweatshops is a fruit of unemployment. It is made possible by economic distress. It is potentialized by the fact that the people who work in the sweatshops can get no other jobs. They take what they can get in preference to starving or going on the dole.

Governor Cross is no more distressed than the rest of us about the intrusion of the sweat-shop into Connecticut industry. He seems to have little more idea than the rest of us what to do about it. We have not seen him quoted as recommending or even considering a minimum wage law. If there is any other way of preventing employers from paying wages that are not even an apology for real wages, when they are the kind of employers who will pay that kind of wages, we do not know what it is. Neither, we feel sure, does the governor.

BORAH'S "SINCERITY"

For a good many years after Senator Borah came upon the scene out of the sheep ranges of Idaho there was never any question about his unusual ability but a very great deal about his sincerity. "If that man Borah is sincere he's a great statesman," was the qualified opinion expressed thousands of times throughout the country. In more recent years much less has been heard about the Idahoan's sincerity. Borah seems to have convinced the com-wonder at his unexpectedness has become chronic.

The latest Borah rumor is that he may join with a group of ultra drys, even to the extent of staging a bolt from the party, in bitter opposition to any moistening of the 1928 position of the Republican national platform.

Yesterday Senator Bingham, in debate on his amendment to the tax bill proposing a tax on 2.75 per cent beer, made a complete monkey of the mighty Borah, who took the floor to quash the Connecticut man but met a veritable David and was thoroughly beaten.

Now Borah is not thus to be beaten when he is at his best or anywhere near his best. He cannot be flustered and he cannot be left speechless with an empty grin on his face, when his heart is in his cause.

Wherefore the old question again pops up, "Is Borah sincere in this dryness, so suddenly become militant?" From the exhibition Bingham made of him it is reasonable to conclude that there is considerable doubt about it.

A COMMON ERROR

The back-to-the-farm idea meets, at every turn, the following argument, in this case embodied in a letter written by a New York state woman farmer to the New York Times:

One reads everywhere that the solution of the coming winter's unemployment is to get this jobless army onto the land, where it will be partly self supporting. There are probably enough abandoned farms in America to take every single unemployed victim, his wife and offspring; but in the name of mercy and common sense let us hope that such a hegira will not come to pass.

If farmers brought up on the land make such a mess of things as is happening today in our circles, then the largely city bred unemployed, no matter how diligent, simply would lose double the doles it takes to support them in your cruel breadlines.

The trouble with this view, almost universally held by the farmers of the country, is that it enormously underestimates the ability of not only thousands but millions of city dwellers to take care of themselves on the land, because it overlooks the other fact that these thousands and millions are quite fresh from the land where until recently they were accustomed to maintain themselves under much greater difficulties than any American farmer now alive ever imagined. By far the greater part of European immigration to this country in this century has been peasant-class immigration. It did not go onto the land because the industries, including bootlegging, offered greater rewards. But there are countless numbers in the cities who could prosper where our old stock native farmers go bankrupt, for obvious and very real reasons.

Not all of them are unemployed. But if the natural agriculturalists were weeded out of the industrial jobs and moved to the farms, making room in the industries for the real town dweller unable to live on the land, it would certainly solve a lot of problems. How to do it we don't know. But we do know that because a man has been earning a living in a city is no proof that he isn't a born and trained farmer.

COLVIN

People who have wondered at the extraordinary language employed by David Leigh Colvin, chairman of the Prohibition National Committee, in describing the members of the Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform, perhaps fail to take into consideration his bringing up. It may be remembered that Colvin said the women, "like the drunkards whom their program will produce, would take pennies off the eyes of the dead for the sake of legalizing booze."

Of course, when you analyze that sentence it doesn't mean very much; but its intention to be insulting and defamatory is obvious enough. At all events it filled Mrs. Charles Sabin, national chairman of the women's organization, with amazement that a "gentleman" should so express himself. Mrs. Sabin's experience with the Colvin brand obviously is too limited or she would never thought of linking that person and the word "gentleman."

Colvin was born in Ohio and had a great misfortune. His parents sent him to a very curious place to obtain his preparation for life. There is in Harrison, Tenn., an institution that calls itself the American University—in his "Who's Who" sketch Colvin calls it the "American Temperance University"—where they train the sons of ignorant cracker and middle west parents in the profession of fundamentalist holiness and prohibition job holding. That's where Colvin got his knowledge of mankind and mankind's civilization.

When he emerged from the high cultural machinery of that manufactory of blinks and charades he en-counting John Barleycorn. He has never done a tap of work in his life or earned his living for a minute in any other capacity than that of a professional prohibition agitator.

Mrs. Sabin did the witch doctor too much honor by expecting him to understand the quality or even the nature of her rebuke.

"FRA DIAVOLO"

All that the Hofstadter Committee hearing yesterday, when Mayor Walker was on the stand, was an orchestra and the hitting strains of "Fra Diavolo" as an obligato to the pat and trenchant lines of Mayor Jimmy. Perhaps a beribboned steeple hat, a sash with a long knife stuck through it as trimmings to Jimmy's Broadway costume might have added an artistic if somewhat superfluous touch, but the scene did really need the proper musical accompaniment to the bandit-hero worship of the audience.

He cheered Jimmy and booted Judge Seabury with all the fervor of a chorus of villagers rendering homage to its favorite outlaw and razzing the notary.

Jimmy admitted—more correctly he proudly announced—that through a broker's account for which he put up not a nickel he cleaned up almost a quarter of a million dollars in two years of his mayoralty; and the crowd was as delighted with what it heard as though it had been handed the money itself.

"At-a-boy, Jimmy!" was the burden of the song of that part of New York's populace that managed to jam itself into the committee room.

Of course there were many, many times as many New Yorkers outside the committee room as inside it. But the folks who got into the room were the kind who get into the offices, into the politics, into the conduct of affairs; who establish the standards and the morale of the city.

The rest, because they are a lot of fish, don't count.

IN NEW YORK

Shadows Behind Spotlights

New York, May 26.—All-too-true true stories... Stay-at-home husbands usually become mythical figures in a Broadway world that allows a mocking spotlight to attain hypnotic powers. Thousands have been drawn to it, mistaking this impersonal light for the moon.

Well—at any rate—William Scott, quiet-mannered aviation fan and son of a rich Pittsburgh lumberman, has shied away from the limelight. Rarely is he to be found "going places." Whereas, his dark-haired, dark-eyed bride, Lillian Roth, being a stage and screen personality, might have been observed occupying a single table at the stags and snags about "My man, I loved him so."

About a year ago Broadway viewed this marriage as one of the more charming little romances. Lillian had made her way from obscurity into bright light. When she finally had achieved vaudeville, her fiancé was identified as a certain Herbert Boothinsky. One night, as she was about to go on a message came back-stage to Lillian. Her fiancé, strikes suddenly, had died. Lillian went on the stage and sang about "My man, I loved him so."

 "Why Not Eat Health?"

HEATING, FRYING, FIRELESS COOKING TEMPERATURE

Stewing meat differs from boiling in that it permits the juices to pass into the water, and, since the juices and soup with the meat, none of the nutrient is lost. The best temperature for stewing meat ranges from 140 to 170 degrees Fahr. It is best to allow the pan to simmer only instead of boil. Very little water should be used in stewing, and the saucepan should be covered.

 (Facial Rejuvenation)

Question: Sylvia asks: "Do you approve of facial rejuvenation without surgery, same consisting of electric and electrolytic treatment and lotions? Would you consider this treatment permanent or would they have to be continued? The skin under my eyes is loose and lines are forming."

Answer: There are many kinds of facial treatments which are beneficial in producing a better tone of the skin and muscles of the face. No treatment of this kind can have a permanent effect, but must be continued on and on through life, if it is ever necessary to start it.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

CONGRESS "SCARED" INTO TALKING OF RELIEF AGAIN.

By Rodney Dutcher

Washington—The sudden, almost last-minute attention accorded federal unemployment relief by Democrats and administration forces is to be explained in about the same way as nearly everything else that anyone does in Washington.

Broadly speaking, nothing much has been accomplished around here in the last year or so unless the accomplishments were heard into it. Federal funds running out, the unemployment has brought about the moratorium, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, the general rush of politicians into the wet camp and most of the spectacular things that have happened on the floor of Congress.

Spotted out, but the seasonal upturn failed to develop this year. Wasting of the large cities, he showed that complete unemployment in the building trades now ranged from 85 per cent here to 75 per cent in New York, 73 in Philadelphia, 80 in New York, 89 in Birmingham and so on. April unemployment increased over that of March by 13, 14 and 20 per cent in home cities. One Mr. McGrady said, with indication of an immediate future upswing; the federation expected next winter would be "much worse."

Local unions meet in 35,000 centers once each fortnight or month. McGrady said, "and it is safe to say that 70 per cent of the time of these meetings is taken up denouncing those who could and will not give relief."

"We want bread and butter through work, but if we are not going to get it through work the American people are going to get it anyhow, and they have pretty nearly reached the end of their patience."

"I have drawn the curtains to show what the conservative working man in the country are thinking of behind closed doors, in their meeting halls, and in every one of these meeting halls there is a very good representation of soldiers in the late war, and they feel more bitterly about it than the rest of the members. In 17 states, in recent weeks, I have addressed men and tens of thousands of hungry men and women, and I want to know why this condition is allowed to go on."

"As far as I am concerned personally I am not going to come any more before this Congress to beg for relief. We, too, have had our patience and we might as well let the other fellow handle it and be responsible for what is going to happen, because something is going to happen."

BOLTON

Memorial exercises will be held at the Center cemetery Sunday at 3 o'clock, D. S. T., and at the same cemetery at 3 o'clock, D. S. T. The post from Manchester will take charge and people are urged to help in carrying out the ritual exercises.

A surprise May social party was given to Miss Annie Bolger at the North parish at the home of Mrs. Lillian Bolger Monday.

Reginald W. Bolger and Miss Bolger O. Bolger of New York have moved here. They have the address 110 North Main Street.

Leaders Lose Patience

"The leaders of the great union movement in this country have lost their patience after coming down here repeatedly to appeal to committees to do something to stop millions of our people from starving only to be met with utter indifference on the part of the committees."

CLUB TO SPONSOR DENTAL HYGIENE

Educational Members Vote To Continue Service In Manchester Schools.

The Educational Club at its annual meeting held yesterday afternoon in the library of the Barnard school voted to sponsor the work of two dental hygienists in the schools of Manchester. The sum of $500 was voted to be used as salaries from September 7, 1932 to February 1, 1933 in order that the dental work may be continued in the schools.

Elect Officers The following officers were re-elected for a term of one year: Mrs. Lillian Bowers, president; Miss Dorothy Cheney, vice-president; Mrs. James Irvine, treasurer; Miss Anna McGuire, secretary. The term of Mrs. McGuire's term as secretary continues during the coming year.

A revision of the constitution of the club was made and adopted. Under the new constitution, the following committee chairmen were elected: Mrs. William Thomas, child welfare; Miss Catherine McGuire, program; Miss Hulda Butler, press; Miss Elizabeth Krapowicz, membership; and Mrs. Fred Carpenter, Christmas seals.

The offices of chairmen of the finance and constitution revision committees were left vacant to be considered by the board of directors for later action.

Welfare Work During the past year, considerable welfare work for the children of Manchester has been financed by the Educational club. The following amounts have been expended: (a)—$1100 for food and service to Open Air School in the Eighth District.

(b)—$325 for milk divided among the Lincoln, Washington, Hollister street schools and the Nathan Hale Kindergarten.

(c)—$300 for food for the Nutrition Class of the Nathan Hale school.

(d)—$64 to the chest clinic of the Memorial hospital.

(e)—$125 for dental extractions in the Ninth District.

(f)—$30 for filling of teeth of the Nathan Hale Nutrition class.

(g)—$25 for dental work in charge of Mrs. Miner.

(h)—$175 for correction of eyes, and removal of tonsils in charge of Miss Ferderber and Miss Baldwin, and correction of teeth in charge of Mrs. Miner.

The girls' dramatic club of the eighth grade entertained the ladies with a delightful colonial play called "Little Lady Dresden." Refreshments made from Martha Washington's recipe were served by young ladies in colonial costume. The library and lunch room were tastefully decorated in keeping with the Washington Bicentennial year.

THREE KILLED IN RIOT Bombay, India, May 26.—(AP)—Three persons were killed and nine severely injured in a mill workers riot in the northern section of Bombay today. Knife wounds were responsible for most of the casualties.

CENTER SPRINGS PARK GREATLY IMPROVED

Work Emergency Employment Group Did Show To Best Advantage In Summer.

During the first half of this year the Park Department has made many changes in Center Springs Park. A park drive has been constructed, a shelter house built for skaters, and a large playground cleared for use of the children living north of Center street.

Deadwood throughout the entire park system has been removed.

The work has been done in the main by employees of the Emergency Employment Association during the late winter and early spring.

The skating shelter was constructed from lumber given by Cheney Brothers secured by the raising of the Open Air School near the South Methodist church. Approximately $1,000 was spent on this project by the town, and the new building, constructed of Bolton stone and wood with two floors, will be used during the summer months by Boy and Girl Scouts and next winter by the local skaters.

The park drive, designed for the park system by Architect Desmond traverses the entire length of the south side of the park. The entrance is at the foot of Trotter street and the exit near Newman street on Valley street. Play areas have been cleared at the east and west ends of the drive. Automobiles will not be allowed in the park except in the parking spaces.

Last year a parking space was constructed at a point close to the skating shelter on Hemlock street large enough to accommodate several hundred cars. Mountain laurel has been planted in the park, some of which will bloom this year.

It has been noted that the park drive has been used for a short-cut by those walking from the area near Middle Turnpike to lower Center street.

PIRATES PRACTICE The Pirates manager requests every member to be present at practice tomorrow in preparation for Saturday's game.

SHOULD BE TRUE TO LIFE IN SCHOOLS

Trade School Executive Addresses Chamber of Commerce Last Night.

"Schools should give the youth of today experiences compatible with those to be found in every-day life," declared Herman S. Hall, state supervisor of industrial and vocational guidance, at the final all-membership meeting of the Chamber of Commerce at the State Trade school last night.

"I look on education," he said, "as an economic aspect of social service. In the state trade schools we discover what youth is best qualified to do and give him the training to do it, with the result that the youth is better off to himself and to the community. Vocational guidance is a part of the condition necessary to make a community economically sound."

"It is the aim of the state trade schools to produce good citizens, who will be self-supporting in the parent of an industrial trade. Although they have not succeeded, all worthwhile schools are making an attempt to produce good citizens. But when the prime purpose of education is training for life why should the schools give experiences that are not compatible with those to be found in life outside of the schools?"

Vocational Training The speaker said that he was gratified to find so many representative people interested in vocational education. "No educational system is worth anything unless the responsible people of the community are interested in education. People engaged in education are inclined to drift away from realities, after dealing largely in the intangible, and they are therefore in need of constructive criticism. I believe $1,000 was spent on this project by the town, and the new building, constructed of Bolton stone and wood with two floors, will be used during the summer months by Boy and Girl Scouts and next winter by the local skaters."

The speaker pointed out that Manchester pays twenty per cent of the cost of the trade school, the State Board of Education paying about eight per cent. "It would be a severe handicap," he said, "to deny youth between the ages of 15 and 20 years the training of a Trade school."

"The people as taxpayers are bound to have an interest in the schools. This interest is welcomed, especially constructive criticism," he said, in concluding his talk. Mr. Hall and John Echmalin, director of the local school, answered many questions in a half-hour discussion period which followed the main address.

CHILDREN OF MARY IN SNAPPY MINSTREL

Over 700 See Fine Show At High School Last Night—The Program.

An appreciative gathering of over 700 people witnessed the presentation of the minstrel by the Children of Mary for the benefit of St. James's church last night in High school hall. Snappy song numbers and specialty acts and monologues enlivened the program. Following the show dancing was enjoyed with music by McKay's orchestra.

The program: Opening number, "Steppin' High," entire chorus; song, "River Stay Away From My Door," L. Eren assisted by the K. of C. sextette; dance, "Raggy Ann," Ursula Segerdahl; comic song, "Barnacle Bill," C. Washburn; song, "Hello, Sweetheart, Hello," Claire Brennan assisted by chorus; accordion solo, Stanley Mach; tap dance, Tommy Crockett; song, "Tell Me While We're Dancing," C. Fraher; harmonica solo, Andrew Jondreau; monologue, "Matrimony," Muriel Williams; comic song, "Rhymes," L. Eren and M. Cordara; finale, "Spring is Here Again" and "Good Night Sweetheart" by entire chorus.

Washington, May 26.—(AP)—Indications administration circles are looking with more favor on parts of the Garner $2,000,000,000 relief plan reached the House today as the Speaker began checking over the legislative draft of his program.

The Texas Democrat probably will defer for a day the introduction of the measure in order to go over details with legislative drafting experts.

Either Acting Chairman Crisp of the ways and means committee or Representative Rainey, of Illinois, the Democratic leader, will introduce the measure tomorrow.

Garner's proposal to increase from $2,000,000,000 to $3,000,000,000 the Reconstruction Corporation's capital for loans to states and political sub-divisions for productive projects is understood to have met the approval of Charles G. Dawes, president of the corporation.

The Texas advocates removal of restrictions on the corporation in order that it may use its own discretion in making loans.

Meanwhile, Garner is understood to be desirous of awaiting further reaction to his proposition. Hearings are to be held on the program by the ways and means committee and probably will be concluded next week with House action the week following.

Representative Thurston (R., Ia.) in a statement today said when the Garner proposal to extend the powers of the corporation is reached in the House he "will offer an amendment to authorize this governmental agency to loan one-third of the interest which has matured."

CENTER CHURCH YOUNG PEOPLE TO ENTERTAIN

Plays, Refreshments and Dancing To Be On Program Tomorrow Evening.

A varied program of entertainment, followed by refreshments and dancing will be given in the social hall of the Center church house tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock by the young people's choir, the Cye club and Inasmuch Circle of Kings Daughters. Mrs. Hazel Hughes McComb is coaching the cast who will present the play, "The Willow Plate" in the old-time Chinese manner. Those who will take part include Esther Pickles, Harold McIntosh, Hallett Stiles, Priscilla Pillsbury, John Lloyd, Robert Alexander, Jack Bellamy, Edward Turkington, Florence McNeill and Ru's Runder. The play which occupies about three quarters of an hour was written by Miss Florence Ryserson and Collins Clement. Chinese costumes and stage settings will provide the proper atmosphere. Priscilla Pillsbury and Hallett Stiles will play leading parts.

The other play, "Three Pills in a Bottle," directed by Miss Nettie Miller, is a favorite for amateur production and is by the pen of Rachel Lyman Field. Billy Waldron has perhaps the heaviest part. The others will be played by Bernice Livingston, Herbert Gilman, Mary Alice Andrews, Catherine Wilson, Clifford Braithwaite, Jean Woodruff, Dorothy Bellnap. Piano music will be furnished by Miss Mildred Sutherland and Miss Lucille Brown. Miss Helen Viertel and Donald Clulow will play the violin.

GARNER NOT TO RUN AT CHICAGO PARLEY

Washington, May 26.—(AP)—Speaker Garner still has no intention of throwing his hat into the presidential ring and is on record as hoping for a Democratic National convention "harmonious in every respect."

In three brief letters to Joseph H. Leib, of South Bend, Ind., all written since the Garner victory in the California primary, Mr. Garner has reiterated his previous declarations, but has added no further statement respecting his candidacy.

As given to the Associated Press by Mr. Leib, these letters say: On May 7: "I am, of course, averse of the movement that has been inaugurated by my friends in Texas and elsewhere, but I have no connection therewith. The duties and responsibilities of the speakership require all my time and thought and I would be doing an injustice to the country and myself if I permitted anything to distract my attention from these duties."

On May 13: "I am taking no part in any pre-convention campaigns and, like yourself, I am very hopeful that the convention will be harmonious in every respect."

On May 17: "I have no intention of throwing my hat into the ring," followed by a reiteration that he is giving his entire time and thought to the duties of the speakership."

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of two articles on Speaker Jack Garner as a presidential possibility, part of a series of six on "The Big Three in the Democratic Race."

By RODNEY DUTCHER N.E.A. Service Writer Washington, May 26.—Speaker Jack Garner's presidential hopes developed with a sudden rush, aided by a generally high opinion of his leadership in the House.

from the standpoint of his boom, suffered worst of all. Partly because he had an impossible job and partly because he failed to display his qualities of leadership at a time when that was generally expected of him.

It seems unlikely that the Democrats will nominate him in Chicago, even if Roosevelt is pushed out of the picture. But he may yet regain some of his apparent former strength.

The speaker's name is not expected to figure in any more primaries. Most state primary laws insist on some declaration from anyone who enters and Garner has refused to consent to anything but a completely passive attitude.

Ever since the 1930 election it had been common opinion that this session of the House would be chaotic. After Garner had jumped the preliminary hurdles and the House began to function smoothly, most of the high party measures sponsored by the administration, loud cheers came from all sides and Garner was hailed as something of a super-measure.

Other measures have been accelerated under Garner's leadership, creating a praiseworthy picture which accentuates the sad effect of the sales tax and economy blotches. Garner, of course, was unquestionably responsible for the Ways and Means Committee's decision to bring the sales tax proposal before the House.

ing lest the country collapse or something. Garner has been promoting a purely Democratic program the chief features of which, aside from the tariff measure and the Philippines independence bill which he shot through in a rush, are the Goldborough price stabilization bill and the Steagall bill for guaranteeing bank deposits.

His general position on various current issues may be summarized as follows: PROHIBITION: Voted against Eighteenth Amendment. Voted for all enforcement measures.

UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF: Opposed to "dole." Favors federal assistance, if any, through appropriations for highways and public works. Supported the voting of 40,000,000 bushels of Farm Board wheat for the unemployed.

WAR DEBTS: Opposes cancellation and caused House Democrats to take on the moratorium resolution. The declaration that Congress opposed any cancellation, reduction or favorable consideration of such a policy at any time.

Shamrocks Victorious Over Bon Ami 3-2

Y. M. C. A. Twilight League Game Goes Extra Inning; Errors Account For Two of Winner's Runs; Walleck-Godek in Pitchers' Duel.

The Shamrocks scored out the Bon Ami 3 to 2 in a very well played Y.M.C.A. twilight league baseball game at the north end playgrounds last night. It was a pitchers' duel between Jack Godek and "Woody" Walleck with the latter having a slight edge.

Each team scored in the first and there were no more runs until the seventh when the Bon Ami team repeated. For Bon Ami in the seventh, Carter doubled and scored on F. Thompson's single. For the Shamrocks Brownell singled, stole second and scored on Spencer's grounder.

TRADE DEFEATED AT WINDSOR LOCKS

Loses 9 To 3; Winners Take Advantage of Misplays by Manchester Team.

Manchester Trade School baseball team traveled to Windsor Locks yesterday and lost to Windsor Locks High school by a score of 9 to 3. The score was tied up to the fourth inning with a count of two all but in the fifth Windsor started a rally filling the bases. Coxy then cleaned the sacks with a triple and later scored, netting four runs.

WETHERED WON'T PLAY IN TOURNEY

Star British Woman Golfer Not Entered in Play at Saunton Tomorrow.

Saunton, North Devonshire, May 25.—(AP)—Saunton Sands, where Mrs. Glenna Collett Vere, Helen Hicks and other luminaries of America's golfing contingent will start play tomorrow in the 36-hole qualifying round of the British Women's Open golf championship, is one of the most isolated spots in golfdom.

Saunton isn't a town at all, just a few summer houses and a few permanent village folk. Its seven miles to Barnstaple and eight to where the America's are staying. The Saunton Golf Club is two miles from the railway station, but usually motor cars can be hired for the trip.

The course, a purely natural seaside links, is admirably suited for women as to length, 6693 yards. Par is 74. In the absence of Joyce Wethered, captain of the British team in last week's international matches and generally regarded as the best of all women golfers, America is conceded a great chance of producing a champion this time.

Fordham Wins 78-48 Joe McCluskey Takes Mile, Half-Mile, 2 Mile

New York, May 25.—Joe McCluskey and Johnny Janis, Fordham's pair of nominees for the outdoor intercollegiate in California in July, scored 34 points between them as the Maroon swept its dual track and field meet with City College, 78 to 48, yesterday afternoon at the Lewisohn Stadium. It was the first time in three years that the Maroon had been able to turn in a victory over the Lavender.

McCluskey, intercollegiate indoor and outdoor two-mile champion and holder of national indoor and outdoor two mile steplapchase titles, competed in his best since he broke the American 3,000-meter steplapchase record at the Penn Relays just a month ago. He took three first places—in the half-mile, mile and two-mile—winning the two longer races within twenty minutes. McCluskey was a place-winner in the indoor intercollegiate hurdles, scored 10 points, placing first in the 120-yard high hurdles, the 220-yard low hurdles and the pole vault and tying a teammate, Walter Grimalda, for first place in the high jump, where he turned in 5 feet 11 inches.

McGrath Scores 15 Points The Maroon used exactly ten men in compiling its overwhelming score, and five of them—Gerald McGrath, Grimalda and Ed Danowski, in addition to McCluskey and Janis, tallied enough points to win the meet. McGrath scored 15 on two first places, second and a tie for second;

GRIMES SHUTS OUT FORMER MATES 3-0

Proves He's Far From Being "Washed Up"; Braves Edge Brooklyn.

Burligh Grimes admitted from the witness chair three days ago that he was just about "washed up" as a big league pitcher, but he would never have gotten away with it had the St. Louis Cards been sitting in judgment.

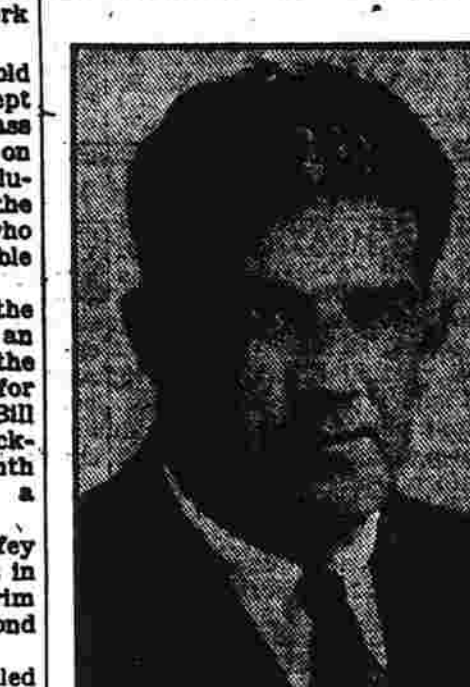

The Red Birds were ready to swear today the 32-year old spitballer still has plenty of jolts left in his aged right arm. Trolling for the Chicago Cubs, he set his old comrades down with seven scattered hits and shut them out 3 to 0.

It was Grimes fourth start for the Cubs and his third victory. The triumph enabled the Cubs to stay within eight per centage points of the pace-setting Braves. The defeat on the other hand nearly tumbled the Cards out of the first division leaving them a half game ahead of the fifth place New York Giants.

SENSE AND NONSENSE

Reverend:
When times was good an' I was gettin' my chest back every day, I spent my evenin's mostly sittin' 'round home, as I ought t' do.

Now times is hard, I'm only gettin' a few odd jobs to do; I spend my evenin's mostly sittin' 'round home, as I ought t' do.

Like it, and I'm here confoundin' it's more fun than a spree; Keep up, you old depression, and you'll make a man of me.

The London Spectator says that speaking about what's on your mind is the cause of longevity. Most women outlive their husbands.

Willie—Did Thomas A. Edison make the first talking machine, daddy?

Daddy—No, son. God made the first one but Edison made the first one that could be sold.

Husbands Don't Matter: If a married woman eats onions you can be pretty sure she's still in love with her husband.

Nothing dries quicker than the tears of a hypocrite.

A scientist says: "Kissing is the result of two sets of emotional cellular vibrations which attract each other and become mutually merged into a rich chord of one fact." A good many people have enjoyed kissing without knowing what it was all about.

Jim—Smother takes off his hat to nobody.

Sam—How does he get his hair cut?

A woman may be expert at picking a frock that won't fade, wear out or run, but apparently, is not always so lucky when she picks out a husband.

Remember the Scotchman who saved his Red Cross pin from one year to the next?

Old Lady—I can't if you to whom I gave a bottle of Elderberry Wine last week?

Hubb—Yes'm. I've come back to see if you'll sell me a case.

Spinach has come in for another blow from a doctor, who insists the good food for rabbits only. That, however, will not discourage thousands who reason that it tastes so bad it must be healthful.

BRAYS FROM THE JACKASS: A wise wife never quarrels with her husband until the next day.... The old men are looking so young these days that they all seem to die before their time.... People who are too old to learn have outlived their usefulness.... Just how far you get in life depends on whether your vehicle is the wisdom, the jawbone or the backbone.... A politician thinks of the next election, a statesman of the next generation.... It certainly would be a pity if women colleges had football teams and the girls had to give up smoking.... Unfortunately a girl doesn't seem to appreciate her husband until too late.... A lot of time is wasted trying to think up ways to save it.... Marriages are very much the same after the excitement wears off.... One plan to help the farmer would be to devise another egg-eating holiday like the Easter celebration.... A virgin forest is a place where the hand of man never set foot.

First New Bride—Do you still believe that the stork carries 'em?

Second Newy Wed—Oh, no, they come in airplanes now—an airplane means six—duplane means two—triplane means three.

First New Bride—Oh, dear me, I must hurry home.

Second Newy Wed—But why?

First New Bride—A Zeppelin just flew over my house.

Sweet Nellie—Kiss me like they do in the movies, honey dear.

Pamphletee Paul—All right; get ready to be swallowed.

Wife—Did Thomas A. Edison make the first talking machine, daddy?

Daddy—No, son. God made the first one but Edison made the first one that could be sold.

NEW WAY TO WATERPROOF ARMPITS

A touch or two of PERSTIK under the arms in the morning—and excessive perspiration is curbed for the rest of the day.

Just as anti-perspirant liquids did away with dress shields, so PERSTIK is now here to check under-arm perspiration even more efficiently.

PERSTIK is a pure white greaseless stick, in an attractive black-and-white enamel case that you'll be proud to carry in your purse.

PERSTIK healthfully reduces the perspiration excess by acting as a harmless astringent. Use it after shaving or after bathing—it won't irritate.

All department stores and druggists here are featuring PERSTIK. It is the talk of the town. To the fastidious woman there is NOTHING more important than the prevention of perspiration odor. PERSTIK does this most effectively... safely... economically.

Tear this out as a reminder to get a PERSTIK today. You'll never want to be without PERSTIK, once you own one.

Schools Hold Open House To Demonstrate How Their Work Is Done.

The Buckland School held open house last night for parents and the classes held regular sessions from 7 to 8 o'clock. As in the other schools in the Eighth and outlying districts, no regular school entertainment program was planned, the parents observing the children in the regular class work. Work done during the year was on display in the rooms and domestic-science and manual training projects were on display in the lunch room.

Last night the intermediate grades of the North School were in session and the primary grades of the Hollister street school demonstrated to parents work done during the past year.

Tonight the North School primary grades and the Hollister street mid-
