

WALL ST. 'VICTIMS' TELL EXPERIENCES

Two Women Testify Before Senate Committee — One Says Exchange Condone Frauds Committed.

Washington, June 23.—(AP)—In the role of "victims" of Stock Market operations, two women today buried savage criticism at the New York Exchange and private dealers in testimony before the Senate banking committee.

Testifying in the committee's Stock Market investigation, Miss Grace van Brunt, 33, of Highland, N. Y., said the New York Exchange condones a fraud when committed by prominent brokers.

Earlier, Miss Ann Gushue, a Cheyenne, Wyo., bank employee, said she had been sold Continental shares at 83 although it had never brought more than 78 on the Exchange and now is selling for little or nothing.

WOMAN TESTIFIES Washington, June 23.—(AP)—Miss Ann Gushue works in a bank in Cheyenne, Wyo., testified in the Senate Stock Market investigation today that in 1929 she sold Continental shares at 83, although it never brought more than 78 on the Exchange and now is selling for little or nothing.

She told her story as the Senate banking committee turned its attention to what were described as "victims" of market operations. A woman of less than middle age, Miss Gushue testified in a low but clear voice in answer to questions from Senator Carey (R., Wyo.).

In her testimony, Miss Gushue, who said she works in the Stock Growers National Bank of Cheyenne, said she bought 12 shares of stock in Continental shares, a Cleveland investment company, from the Denver Office and Company at 70 in 1929 and 23 shares at 83 in April and June, 1929.

She said she had understood it never was sold on the Exchange at more than 78 but Senator Carey said he thought it had brought 78. "It was sold at a very high price," she said.

"They were not, in my judgment. Had I seen the portfolio at the time I would not have purchased the stock."

5,000 TO ATTEND 3 CONVENTIONS HERE THIS WEEK

Moose, Masonic Veterans and Luther League Sessions To Be Held During Friday, Saturday, Sunday.

Unless inclement weather prevails, more than 5,000 visitors will come to Manchester tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday to attend the three conventions that will be held here over the week-end—the annual state convention and field day of the Loyal Order of Moose, the 62nd annual reunion of the Masonic Veterans Association of Connecticut, and the 16th annual convention of the New England Conference Luther League.

The year 1932 will go down in local history as the "convention year." Manchester has already been host to four conventions this year, those of the young people of the Church of the Nazarene, the young people of the Salvation Army, the East Central Pomona Grange and the State Department of Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War.

Manchester will be decked in holiday attire this week-end in honor of the three conventions to be held here. Local merchants have been requested to display American flags along Main street tomorrow and Saturday.

Moose Gathering The Moose convention will open tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Masonic Temple, with business sessions of both the men's and women's lodges. In the evening a banquet will be held at the Masonic Temple with Willard B. Rogers as toastmaster.

Discussions will be held here since the Centennial, marching to the Golf grounds on East Center street where the field day events will be held.

The Masonic Veterans will gather at the Masonic Temple for a business session at 11 o'clock Saturday morning. They will dine at one o'clock and hear Grand Master Sherman.

Discussions will be held here since the Centennial, marching to the Golf grounds on East Center street where the field day events will be held.

GENERALS PREPARE FOR BATTLE

The program on which the battle for the Democratic nomination for president will be fought was being mapped by party leaders in their Chicago headquarters, Congress hotel, when this picture was taken. Seated, left to right, are Ewing LaFollette, executive secretary of the convention arrangements committee (on arm of chair); Joubert Shouse, chairman of the national committee, and Colonel Arthur O'Brien of Washington, D. C., treasurer of the Democratic Minute Men Victory Fund Committee. Standing, left to right—L. F. Bonfroy of Quincy, Ill., vice chairman of the victory fund committee, and Walter B. VON PAPEN PROPOSES FRANCO-GERMAN PACT

Military Alliance Would Meet French Demand For Security Before Disarmament, He Declares.

(Copyright, 1932 By AP) Bern, Switzerland, June 23.—(AP)—Chancellor Franz von Papen of Germany today proposed privately a military alliance between France and Germany as a means of meeting France's demand for security before disarmament.

Such an alliance which would bring the lion and the lamb lying down together in the field of European military affairs, would, he said, be the best way of solving the problems which face the disarmament conference as a result of the French fear of invasion and their security plea.

Speaking English with a pronounced American accent, von Papen said he was unable to understand the French security plea, but intended to do everything in his power to foster collaboration between the two countries.

Economic Program It was he who prepared the memorandum on economic collaboration presented yesterday to Prime Minister MacDonald of Great Britain by Baron von Neurath, German foreign minister. The memorandum proposed a five year consultative economic pact.

He summarized the reasons why Germany insists she can make no more reparations payments and suggested that all the countries at the conference here agree for five years.

Discussions will be held here since the Centennial, marching to the Golf grounds on East Center street where the field day events will be held.

EUROPE'S REACTION TO HOOVER'S PLEA

France Thinks It Political Move—Germany Praises It; England Is Lukewarm.

(By Associated Press.) Newspapers and officials in the principal European countries today generally greeted President Hoover's plea for general disarmament with mixed reactions.

The French papers, however, almost universally condemned it as "demagogic" and as an electioneering move.

The widely read Petit Parisien of Paris said it had been submitted last February "together with the French constructive plan, it would have elicited only applause, but today it appears as a piece of extreme demagoguery and an electoral maneuver."

President Hoover might be forgiven for addressing "an electoral manifesto to Europe," Le Matin of Paris, said, "but he can hardly be forgiven for forgetting that an international conference is held to."

Germany, however, praised the move. The Vossische Zeitung of Berlin said it was a "bold and courageous step."

England's reaction was lukewarm. The Times of London said it was "a bold and courageous step."

NEW VOICE IS RAISED AGAINST ROOSEVELT

Optimistic Attitude As to Hoover's Plan

Washington, June 23.—(AP)—An optimistic attitude prevailed today as President Hoover and his chief aide, Secretary Stimson, conferred at the White House on the far-reaching suggestion that one-third of the world's arms be tossed into the discard.

As he left the executive mansion, Stimson expressed satisfaction with the early reception given the proposed $15,000,000,000 armament slashing plan. The French government, reported in early press dispatches as cold to the suggestion, was said by the secretary of state as "apparently warming up to it."

Stimson said it was to be expected the French press would be open in its opposition to the Hoover suggestion, and, in fact, had opposed general proposals for such slashes even before the President consolidated them.

The secretary of state expressed no dissatisfaction over the manner in which other governments had reacted to the plan.

Meanwhile, President Hoover received scores of congratulations upon his latest move in international leadership. Many of the messages pouring into the executive mansion were read by him personally.

Senator Capper, an early morning caller, said he had expressed his personal approval to Mr. Hoover.

"His plan is very fine, very practical," the Kansas Republican said. "I believe it will bring concrete results at Geneva and certainly will have a gratifying appeal to the people of this country."

Discussions will be held here since the Centennial, marching to the Golf grounds on East Center street where the field day events will be held.

Gov. Murray of Oklahoma, On Arrival At Chicago, Says New Yorker Will Never Get the Nomination; Smith Predicts Choice Will Not Be Made On the First Ballot.

Chicago, June 23.—(AP)—A new voice was raised against the nomination of Franklin D. Roosevelt today as the forces of the New York governor took charge of the resolutions committee and sought to make economic issues instead of prohibition the dominant campaign theme.

While an eager ear was turned toward Tammany to learn to what candidate the bulk of New York's 94 votes would be thrown, two more presidential candidates came to town—Governor William H. Murray of Oklahoma and former Senator James A. Reed of Missouri.

Murray said the presidential nominee would not be Roosevelt. A little later, Alfred E. Smith, the vigorous campaigner of 1928, told newspapermen he did not believe a candidate would be named on the first ballot.

He is one of the strongest opponents of Roosevelt. Gilbert H. Hitchcock, the Roosevelt picked tentative chairman of the resolutions committee, said as he opened its first session that the prohibition issue should be met, but that the platform should emphasize economic issues.

MURRAY'S PREDICTION Chicago, June 23.—(AP)—Governor William A. Murray came out of the southwest today with a prediction that Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York would not win the Democratic presidential nomination.

"The Oklahoma governor, who holds the delegates of his home state and 988 from South Dakota, arrived to find supporters of Roosevelt pinning their hopes on an early nomination upon whether Tammany chooses to support Roosevelt with the big block of New York votes."

"Who do you think the nominee will be?" the Oklahoma governor was asked as he stepped from the railroad train.

"You can guess as well as I can," he said, "but his name won't be Roosevelt."

CHILE ACUNA DEAD; STOOLED PIGEON ACE

Once Guarded By 15 Sleuths To Protect Life, He Passes In Hospital.

New York, June 23.—(AP)—"Chile" Acuna, the stool pigeon who was guarded almost as carefully as a president, is dead.

His passing was not unexpected, but the manner of it was a surprise. Instead of the violent demise 15 "blue-ribbon" policemen were assigned to prevent, he expired peacefully last night in Brooklyn Eye and Ear Hospital.

He had been in a coma after an operation for a brain tumor.

A swarthy young man of unabashed demagoguery, Acuna burst into notoriety in 1930 by telling how detectives hired him to "get the goods" on defenseless and sometimes innocent women.

His revelations helped reform the handling of vice cases here. Under a ruling by police heads, the shadowy figure of the "unknown man" was eliminated from such cases. The court records, was the stool pigeon or "come-on" who would mysteriously vanish during the police raid and turn up later to collect his stipend from the detectives.

Acuna appeared apparently out of nowhere to testify in the Appellate Court's inquiry conducted by Isidore J. Kresel and by Samuel Seabury, who later went on to inquire into the whole city government. He said he helped "frame" many women, dozens of them innocent, and deliver them up to be molested by hoodlums working in cahoots with crooked policemen.

ARREST THREE HERE FOR STEALING AUTO

Bay State Youths Caught By Patrolman Griffin — Had Taken Stafford Car.

Three youths who gave their names as Edward Logan, 17, of Boston, Edward King, 17, of 47 Littlefield avenue, Boston, and Joseph Andrews, 19, of 185 Weston avenue, Lynn, Mass., were held for court, July 2 in default of bonds of $1,000 each as a result of an arrest made last night at 11:55 by Officer Raymond Griffin near the Flats Filling Station on Tolland Turnpike.

King, the driver of what later proved to be a stolen car, was held on a charge of driving a motor vehicle without a license.

Officer Griffin was patrolling Tolland Turnpike at midnight last night when he was attracted to a car stopped near the Flats Filling station. He approaching the driver and finding that he had no license, brought the trio to the police station.

BIRTHS AND DEATHS DECREASE IN STATE

Marriages Also Drop Off In First Four Months of Year, The Statistics.

(Copyright, 1932 By AP) Hartford, June 23.—(AP)—The world-wide depression has hit Connecticut not only financially, but seemingly in the department of vital statistics. At least the records in the State Department of Health disclose that not only have marriages and births fallen off in the first four months of the year, but death also. Thus the clergy, physicians and undertakers realize the seriousness of the depression.

Some Statistics With a total of 7,524 births recorded in the State for the first four months of the year, the birth rate per 1,000 population is 13.8, which is not greatly higher than the death rate of 11.4. In the first four months of 1931 there were 8,503 births and in 1930, 9,233, the birth rate last year being 15.4 and in the lowest year, 1929, 8,286 deaths in the first four months this year, the rate being 11.4, as compared with 6,401 deaths and a rate of 11.8 in 1931 and 6,739 deaths and a rate of 12.6 in 1930. The death rate in April was 10.4, which is the lowest for April in the last six years.

Marriages Decrease The comparative decrease in the number of marriages was quite marked. There were but 2,288 marriages recorded in the first four months in 1932 as compared with 2,392 in 1931 and 2,606 in 1930, the rate dropping from 4.8 in 1930 to 4.4 last year and 4.1 this year.

During April there were 59 still births reported, and of these 41 were males and 18 females, to give the very high sex ratio of 227 males for 100 females. In March this sex ratio was 168 males for 100 females and in February 210 males to 100 females.

The indication is that the sex ratio for males is to be very high for 1932.

BOMBS EXPLODED IN 3 PLAYHOUSES

Hartford Theater Suffers Most Damage—Two Persons Are Badly Burned.

Hartford, June 23.—(AP)—Police of Connecticut, Rhode Island and Massachusetts are uniting today in a search for the persons who exploded acid "bombs" in theaters in Hartford, Providence and Worcester last night when three persons were injured and several women fainted.

Prompt action by the theater staffs prevented panics.

The theaters are owned by the Harry K. Arthur Corporation, which recently acquired them from the Fox-Poll interests, and for several weeks a strike has been in progress. Mr. Arthur was in Worcester when the explosion occurred there.

PRINCE OF WALES IS 38 YEARS OLD

Still World's Most Eligible Bachelor—Leaves Behind a Very Busy Year.

London, June 23.—(AP)—Albert Edward, Prince of Wales, celebrated his 38th birthday today, still the world's most eligible bachelor.

In contrast with recent birthdays when his schedule of work and engagements have been followed as usual, he decided to take a day off today and read the thousands of congratulatory messages from all corners of the world.

It was a busy year he left behind him when he awoke this morning to realize he was 38.

During it he has taken up motorboating, made a hole in one, been badly shaken up in an automobile accident, become a book collector, taken up cycling, led the world in the wearing of berets, lost two barns on his Canadian ranch by fire, suffered several days' illness from a chill and got a new dog to replace his superannuated one.

He also became a football fan, wore a spotted tie that was much copied in London, decided to become a gymnastic instructor for his two young nephews, admitted he was not much adverse to publicity and opened the new Shakespeare Memorial theater at Stratford on Avon.

A London restaurant chef disclosed he is fond of tripe and onions. The Prince announced he doesn't like strangers to follow him on golf courses. He expressed sympathy for the unemployed and pleaded for bettering of conditions in the British industrial districts.

$2,000,000 BLAZE IN QUINCY, MASS.

Once Largest Destroyer Building Plant In World, Is Destroyed By a Fire.

Quincy, Mass., June 23.—(AP)—The great Victory plant, once one of the largest destroyer building plants in the world, and recently used as a yacht storage basin, today lay in ruins—swept by a $2,000,000 fire.

Three firemen were injured and three other persons narrowly escaped injury during the blaze that burned for four hours last night and destroyed, beside the plant, yachts valued at $500,000 which were stored there.

The fire started from an unknown cause at the shore end of a long wooden pier adjoining the plant's huge glass enclosed building shed. Wind drove the flames into the shed itself, where they found fodder

CANDLE SALES IN CHURCHES FORBIDDEN BY THE VATICAN

Rome, June 23.—(AP)—The sale of candles in churches of the diocese of Rome, for burning before altars, is forbidden by a decree issued today by the Pope's vicar general, Cardinal Marchetti Selvaggiani. It becomes effective July 1.

The decree, which abolishes a long-established practice in the church, is part of a series of reforms to be put into effect by the vicar general. Since the diocese of Rome is the mother diocese of the church, it was expected the rule would be applied elsewhere.

"One mass well heard, one communion well received, will obtain more heavenly graces than thousands of candles lighted every day," the cardinal said. He added that the practice of using the candles in the present way "can easily take on the appearance of superstition."

The use of candles before the altars, in accordance with the custom, is not changed by the decree, but they must be bought elsewhere. Other decrees by the cardinal ordered better care of tabernacles and forbade the use of artificial flowers and the photographing of sacred functions in the churches.

ECONOMIC ISSUES NOT PROHIBITION

Hitchcock Says Democrats Should Emphasize That in Their Platform.

Chicago, June 28.—(AP)—Gilbert H. Hitchcock, the Roosevelt chairman of the Democratic resolutions committee, declared today for a party platform emphasizing economic issues rather than prohibition.

Hitchcock voiced the views of other spokesmen of Governor Roosevelt of New York as the Democratic platform making committee met for the first time.

"We will have to meet the prohibition issue," said Hitchcock, "because of what the Republicans did, but I do not consider it a party issue. Personally I voted against the 18th Amendment as a member of the Senate but I am not what would be called a repealist."

Prohibition plank "I imagine the platform will provide a direct statement on prohibition, probably calling for the submission of a repeal amendment, but I do not think all members of the party should be bound or pledged to the policy of repeal."

"We have a real issue with the Republicans on the economic crisis confronting the nation. I would remind the Republicans that they complained 12 years ago of Democratic inflation and that the subsequent deflation in Republican rule is the cause of our trouble today," Hitchcock continued.

"Of course we must have some inflation in controlled form—the very thing which is being attempted now and for which the Democrats were condemned for doing 12 years ago."

Put Tariff Back "I would put the tariff back to where it was under the Underwood bill of 1913."

Hitchcock, former Democratic Senator from Nebraska, was selected last night by the Roosevelt forces as chairman of the resolutions committee. He expressed his views today to newspapermen prior to opening the first session of the committee.

All of the Roosevelt leaders here are emphasizing the economic issues and demanding that the party base its campaign on these rather than on prohibition.

DECISION NEXT MONTH ON BRIDGEPORT HERALD

Hartford, June 28.—(AP)—A decision on a motion to dismiss temporary restraining order preventing Thomas F. Wall, Torrington prosecutor, from interfering with the sale and distribution of the Bridgeport Herald in that city would not be forthcoming until the middle of July, Judge Edwin S. Thomas of U. S. District Court, who heard the arguments on the motion last month, stated today.

A heavy court docket has prevented him from considering the legality of the motion, he said, but long as it involved an injunction action he would give the matter preference over other cases.

Three Torrington city officials, Prosecutor Wall, Mayor Ernest E. Novey and Chief of Police William E. Nevin were named defendants in a threatened to ban the sale of the $5,000 equity action when they paper within the city limits. A temporary injunction was obtained by the Bridgeport Herald.

destroy the economic system of this country back in 1920."

"If the convention is going to nominate Traylor it should reverse the ticket and make it a Mellon-Traylor ticket, adopt the Republican platform and go home secure in the belief that the Democratic Party would be defeated," he added.

Hague Laughs In another quarter of the city Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City, floor manager for former Governor Alfred E. Smith, was laughing at a report that Smith and Roosevelt had agreed upon Owen D. Young as the Presidential nominee in the event of a convention deadlock.

Hague, a vice chairman of the National committee, expected to confer with Smith this morning.

He said the New Jersey delegation would unanimously support Joetta Shouse for the permanent chairmanship.

William J. Egan, Newark director of public safety, and New Jersey member of the resolutions committee, said he would urge the committee to adopt a plank embodying Smith's wet stand.

James A. Reed, of Missouri, one of the outstanding contenders against Smith for the 1928 nomination, also reached the convention spot today with Missouri's 38 votes.

Accompanied by Mrs. Reed, the former Senator went immediately to his headquarters at the Congress hotel. He promised a statement later in the day.

At his regular press conference Smith was asked about what he thought of the big Roosevelt map at headquarters which shows 691 votes instructed, pledged and claimed for the New York governor. The states favorable to Roosevelt are painted in red, the others in different colors.

Idea Was Stolen "As an exhibit it looks good," Smith said. "The idea was stolen from the Anti-Saloon League. Wayne B. Wheeler fixed up a map like that and painted in the dry states as blue and the wet states as red and used it to impress the State Legislatures."

Smith added the Roosevelt map showed more territory than population.

He said there was a contest in Michigan at the state election should be put on that state until the contest was settled.

"According to that map there are only two or three little places that are not for Roosevelt. Those little places are really big places. They have a lot of population."

"I didn't see Pennsylvania on there. What color is that? What is my color—brown?"

More Than That "I informed that he was credited with about 30 Pennsylvania delegates. The governor said that there will have to be more than that."

Asked if he had seen James A. Farley, manager for Governor Roosevelt, Smith said they had met on an elevator in the Congress hotel.

"Have you called Gov. Roosevelt since you came here?"

"I know that number well. It hasn't called me yet."

Informed that William G. McAdoo had expressed a desire to talk to him, Smith said: "I'm not adverse to it."

Not on the First "Does it look like a first ballot nomination to you?" he was asked.

"Not to me."

"How far do you think it will go?"

"No living person can answer that."

Smith was asked if there had been any progress in the stop Roosevelt movement.

"They are not reporting to me. I haven't seen any of the candidates here in Chicago."

"How many delegates do you expect from New York?"

"The correct answer to that is, 'I don't know.'"

"Have you received any encouragement since your arrival in Chicago?"

"Well, I don't think I have any more delegates than when I came because I haven't seen any of the delegations."

"Smith was asked again if he would support the party nominee and replied:

"We have a big job ahead of us and we might as well lay that question on the shelf."

"Does that inter here is any doubt in your mind about whether you will support the nominee?"

"You can take that any way you want," the governor replied.

"How about the vice presidential nomination?"

"As far as that office is concerned I refer you to the musical comedy 'Of This I Sing.'"

"How about the published report that you and Roosevelt have agreed to throw your support to Owen D. Young in the event of a deadlock?"

"I'm not here to compromise. I'm here to nominate myself. I'm not here to talk about anyone else."

SPANIARD LEADS GOLF TOURNAMENT

Fresh Meadow Country Club, Flushing, N. Y., June 28.—(AP)—Olin Dutra, younger of the two Spanish brothers from the Los Angeles district, went one stroke under par today to lead in the first round of the United States Open golf championship. His card was 38-38-69.

The husky Californian negotiated the last nine holes in two under par, after dropping a single stroke to perfect 69 on the outward leg. He narrowly missed putting for birdies on the 16th and 18th, after firing beautiful approaches to the greens.

Dutra replaced Leo Diegel as the early pace-setter. Leo led the early finishers with a 73.

Sarazen Shoots 74 Gene Sarazen of the British Open King, and Bill Burke, the defending American champion finished together in Dutra's and Diegel's wake, Sarazen with a good 74 and Burke with a somewhat shaky 75.

Each of the champions missed chances to gain a lead in the first round. Sarazen's six on the 15th was costly. He and Sarazen both bagged birdies on the 17th but Gene then approached short and took a five on the par-four home hole.

Diegel wielded his heavy niblick to the 18th green and missed a putt of trap dead on the pin, on the third and eighteenth. He also hit a mashie iron out of the sand on the first hole, carrying nearly 150 yards to the cup. He lost a good chance to equal par by barely missing three short putts.

Jose Jurado, Argentine ace, lost a great chance to move into the lead by shooting into the rough on the home coming journey, losing several strokes, and winding up with 88-74 to put him a stroke behind Diegel.

The South American's fine all-around play attracted a real contender in his first bid for the United States crown.

Grant Carden 80 Connecticut's three amateurs who qualified in the National Open were all ten or more strokes above par. Charles C. Claire of New Haven was lowest with a 40-40-80.

Robert M. Grant of Hartford second with 42-41-83 and Jack Williams of New Haven third, with 46-40-89.

Two of the prime favorites, George Von Elm, last year's runner-up and MacDonald Smith, just back from finishing second to Sarazen in the British Open, shot away most of their chances with poor starts. Von Elm finished with 34-41-79 and Smith with 40-40-80.

Tomekichi Miyamoto, Japanese star, with a ten on the fifth hole, finished with an 82. Walter Hagen, also blew a chance to overtake Diegel in the final round, finishing with 88-38-77, putting him in the same bracket as Burke.

The scores registered by the first and supposedly stronger half of the big field soared like balloons, more than doubling the forty being 80 or above. The early range was 73 to 89.

TOWNS WIPED OUT BY A TIDAL WAVE

Mexico City, June 28.—(AP)—Mexican relief agencies were concentrating today on the task of alleviating the sufferings of thousands of people in towns along the west coast which were virtually wiped out yesterday by a tidal wave that took a toll of upwards of two score lives.

A complete check of the casualties was not possible today because of the disorganized condition of the territory.

Governor Salvadore Sucedo of the state of Colima said the death toll of Cuyutlan, a resort town, had passed forty with additional persons missing and more than 100 injured. The wave was preceded by earthquake shocks.

A relief train evacuated 1400 persons from the town. Two brief and minor earthquakes preceded the heavy tumbler which ushered in the wave and served to rouse the inhabitants, many of whom fled to the beach for safety. There the tidal wave that followed, trapped them.

PHILLIPS ARRIVES FOR CHICAGO MEET

Former Stamford Mayor Loses His New Panama Hat in the Windy City.

By W. J. G. MYERS

Chicago, June 28.—(AP)—Alfred N. Phillips, Jr., former Stamford mayor arrived here today to join the forces which will work for Alfred E. Smith's nomination at the Democratic National Convention next week.

Another of Connecticut's group Archibald McNeill, of Bridgeport was expected during the day. He is on the committee on arrangements and plans to attend a meeting tomorrow of the national committee of which he is a member.

Phillips apparently clinched the title of the champion hat loser shortly after arriving at his hotel here. Just before leaving to report to the Smith headquarters he discovered he had mislaid his Panama. He made a futile search for it and then went out to buy another. His party's state convention cost him two hats.

Homers S. Cummings, Phillips' fellow townsman but a supporter of Franklin D. Roosevelt continued his activities in behalf of the New York governor's candidacy.

Cummings, former National chairman came here yesterday and at once launched on a series of conferences with party leaders to discuss convention strategy.

William E. Thome, former Waterbury mayor has also joined the party arriving from Connecticut and today sat with the resolutions committee.

Phillips was busy during the morning handling the crowds in Smith headquarters. He described himself as only a buck private in the Smith campaign.

ROCKVILLE

WON'T BE THE GOAT, DECLARES THE MAYOR

Neither He Nor Council To Blame For Consequences of City Meeting's 9 Mill Vote.

Mayor A. E. Waite at a meeting of the City Council on Tuesday night stated that the city cannot conduct its business for the year on a 9-mill tax as was voted recently at an adjourned city meeting. He has called a conference of the Council for Monday evening to deal with the problem created.

Mayor Waite said he would like to have the members of the council, together with Superintendent of Works George B. Milne and City Treasurer Parley E. Leonard meet with him Monday evening. He said the action of the council meeting was an ill advised blow. At best, he said, there will be a deficit of about $20,000. The mayor says he does not propose to be made a goat of. He says $18,000 was voluntarily contributed out of the budget and he considers that an achievement. The City Council, says the mayor, does not propose to take the blame but will place it where it belongs.

The 9-mill tax, which was opposed by the council, was voted at an adjourned city meeting, the motion being made by James R. Quinn. It was voted at the council meeting to place the German cannon offered the city by the Veterans of Foreign Wars on Fox Hill. Charles Brendel, commander of the local post, stated that this was not satisfactory to the members who wished it placed in the park and that the offer may be withdrawn.

The ordinance committee was asked to bring in an ordinance prohibiting carnivals coming into the city, and the committee will report an ordinance at a future meeting regulating the pay of city election officials.

Two permits were granted, one to Mary Zira for an addition to chicken house on Fox Hill and the other to J. Kingman for a garage on King street.

High School Graduation
Graduation exercises of the Rockville High school were held in the Sykes auditorium last night. The largest class in the school's history was graduated. The program presented was one of the best in years. The procession of graduates was a picture. Every girl was dressed in white and wore a corsage bouquet in the gift of Mr. Kosty, of the Kesty perennial gardens.

Rev. K. O. Klette, pastor of the First Lutheran church opened the program with prayer. This was followed by the singing of "Dear Land of Home" by the "Educational and Social Life" and "Washington, the Peacemaker," were given by the salutatorian, Miss Helen Skollanik, and Truman Read. Another essay, "Washington the Man" by the valedictorian, Miss Celia Winkur, was delivered. "To the Country" the catholic song by the graduating class, followed by a vocal solo by Miss Ora Morin.

The address to the graduates was delivered by Robert C. Demming, supervisor of adult education of the State Board of Education. He stressed the point that "public education is not for personal and selfish economic gain, although success is mightily desired for all, but for citizenship that will be of value to the town and state, a spiritual not a mechanical citizenship, one that recognizes its responsibilities and obligations to the community and state."

The diplomas were conferred to the graduates by Dr. John E. Flaherty. The awarding of prizes were made as follows by Principal Philip M. Howe: Renaissance Poetry Medal for Science and Mathematics, Herman Brauer; Charles Ellsworth Memorial Award, Wilbur Clechowski; Girls' Club prize, Anna Devlin.

The program closed with benediction by Rev. K. O. Klette.

Compositions on Washington were read by Rose Stone, James Devlin, Concetta Cordalio, Theodore Metcalf, Warren Francis and Emory Phelps.

A silent picture, "Washington, His Life and Times," was a feature of the graduation program, which was in keeping with the bicentennial of the birth of our first president.

The American Legion school awards were presented by Past Commander Thomas C. Shea of Stanley Doboss Post to Miss Rose Stone, Richard Dawkins and Harriet Rice.

Superintendent H. O. Clough presented the diplomas to the graduates and advised them to continue with their studies.

WARNS GOLD RUSHERS
Seward, Alaska, June 23.—(AP)—Following reports of extremely rich gold findings in the Naku district, 70 miles west of here, came a warning today against prospectors going into the district without ample food supplies.

Thomas Babcock, who made the strike, said: "Prospectors had better come grubstaked for the summer, at least, and be prepared to leave in the winter unless they have supplies."

He held out no hopes for increased employment because of the strike, and attempted to discourage any northward trek of unemployed from the states.

Meanwhile, several hundred miles to the east, interest centered in unconfirmed reports of rich placer gold finds in the Liard river district of southern British Columbia. Many prospectors were reported waiting at Atlin and Carcross, B. C., to go into the country. The Detroit gold hunters' expedition, led by men led by Thomas Mitchell, was still at Atlin, keeping its plans secret.

DO YOU INHALE?

Millions say
we hit the "nail on the head"
when we asked this question!

O KAY AMERICA! . . . you wanted the facts and we've given them to you—even though the truth has shocked the cigarette trade! Inhaling is the very core of all cigarette discussion.

For we all inhale—knowingly or unknowingly . . . every smoker breathes in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette.

Do you inhale? Let other cigarettes keep an embarrassed silence if they will!

Lucky Strike can openly raise the issue. Luckies assure you the protection you want . . . because certain impurities concealed in even the finest, mildest tobacco leaves are removed by that famous purifying process. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!

THURSDAY, JUNE 23.

CHICAGO'S SHAME
 Closing one's eyes to the tragic side of the picture painted before the Senate Banking and Currency Committee by Mayor Cermak of Chicago, the spectacle of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to keep its school teachers, firemen and other city employees from starving is one of the most shameful and disheartening ever presented by a community in this or any other country.

The plight of Chicago has, as a matter of fact, very little indeed to do with the nation-wide business slump or with the universal problem of unemployment. It is an enormously rich community. Its expenditures for the jobless and the poor,
 large as they have been in volume,
 would constitute no problem had there been no special embarrassment if the city had not already been sunk to its eyes in waste, mismanagement and indifference to countless warnings.

The rottenness of all possible rotten politics under the corrupt administration of Big Bill Thompson, tolerated for years by the people of Chicago, resulted in a tax assessment so outrageous in its favoritism that taxpayers revolted and appealed to the courts. For nearly five years there has been nothing like adequate payment of taxes. Literally hundreds of millions are in default.

And there has been no genuine effort to reform conditions other than unjust assessment of real-estate, at which tax payers are in revolt. It has been ruled by a competent court that no less than fifteen billion dollars in personality is never assessed at all—and yet there has been no honest effort to levy on this wealth.

But even its taxation woes might have been tidied over if the city had manifested any real realization of its duty and made a serious attempt at economy. But the swarms of office holders of Chicago, like those of so many other large communities, fought like cornered cats against any cuts in their easily earned pay.
 The school teachers, if it can be believed, belong to a trade union and assume to fix their wage scale like plasterers, glass workers and other monopolist workers organized to exact the last possible cent—they would stand for no reduction, not they. Now Mayor Cermak with tears tells the Senate committee that some of these teachers are "sleeping in the parks" because they have had no pay for months. Not many, we fancy. Besides, it is summer in Chicago and a park at night is an excellent place to reflect on the virtues of trade unionism for school teachers and other public employes.

There is money enough in Chicago to meet every legitimate requirement of the city quite as well as the requirements of other cities are being met. And there is no slightest doubt that it could be got at without difficulty if the city government, especially including Cermak the Pitsoes, were to set itself with honest resolution to the task of municipal reform.

If the federal laws should be changed in order to make Chicago
 the ward of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation there isn't a town or city of any size in the United States that could not with equal justice demand that the national treasury be tapped to pay the munici-pality's debts.

MR. HOOVER'S PROGRAM
 Though President Hoover resolutely refused to bracket his ambitious disarmament program with an offer to consider the question of debt revision should his program be adopted, it is hardly possible to avoid the conclusion that he now sees the two problems as twins—or at least as closely akin. The President's statement that he would not risk "heading the dignity" of the powers by linking his arms proposal with an intimation on the subject of debts is in itself a diplomatic employment of terms worthy of the best of the international strategists; but it implies

 at least half a promise.

That something of this sort had been intimated at Geneva by the American government's representatives makes the President's choice of this particular time for the exploitation of a program the more significant.

There is more reason today than there ever was to believe that the administration in the United States is prepared to consent to debt revision, perhaps even cancellation, provided the European states will guarantee to use the money for rehabilitation instead of squandering it on dangerous and war provoking armaments.

If that is a correct interpretation of Washington's attitude it can be claimed that a long step has been taken in a forward direction. It is not, however, at all certain that this direction is exactly the direction of arms reduction according to the Hoover formula.

Of course there isn't the slightest likelihood that the formula, or anything very much like it, will ever be adopted. It is, as a matter of fact, full of holes. The proposal to end aerial bombing attacks by total prohibition of that kind of warfare is naive. The limitation of submarines to 35,000 tons is extremely unlikely to be entertained for so long as a moment by France, which has become converted to a defensive naval policy founded almost exclusively on this type of ship. Even the plausible idea of restricting land armaments largely to the defensive branches will be regarded askance by those strategists of the Foch school who are firmly convinced that there is no such defence as a timely offensive. And the soldier is not to be denied a voice in the settlement of such a problem as this.

Perhaps the most useful part of the President's disarmament proposal lies in its unexpressed intimation that there is a slight softening in Washington sentiment on the subject of debts.

A BUIINOUS POLICY
 If President Hoover vetoes the $300,000,000 bond issue, measure adopted yesterday by the Senate for the financing of public works he can cite, with considerable effect in support of his action, the wage situation of the Hartford postoffice job.

Quite evidently through the intervention of the Labor department, the building trades unions have succeeded in compelling the contractors to recognize the arbitrary wage schedule of the unions as indicating the "prevailing wage" for each class of labor. The result is that laborers who have been receiving 40 cents an hour must now be paid 82 1-2 cents an hour. Masons get $11 a day.
 Electricians, plumbers and steamfitters $9.50; painters $8.50 and carpenters $8.

Now everybody knows that the prevailing rate of actual wages in the building trades throughout the country is the rate of the dole,
 whatever that rate may be locally;
 for it is very doubtful that the building trade mechanics and laborers have averaged to earn ten cents a day each for the last two years unless they worked at something outside their own trades. There has been practically no building. What's more there never will be any more building to amount to anything, at private charge, so long as the cost of construction, through the maintenance of an artificial and ludi-crously impossible wage scale, is twice as much as the actual mer-chantable value of the completed edifice.

Yet the government, through its Labor department, does its best to encourage the ruinous action that the proper wage rate on a new building is two or three times as much as the value produced by the worker. Thereby it is making private building absolutely impossible.
 And how the country is to return to a stable business condition without restoring the building business's activity it is not easy to see.

BORAH'S "SOLUTION"
 Senator Borah has been calling into question the sincerity of the leaders of the Republican party in their proposal to re-submit the Eighteenth amendment to the people. Now it is in order to call into question the honesty of the Senator from Idaho. Pretending to have given deep consideration to the problem of changing the prohibitory system without bringing about the return of the saloon, he presents, if you please, this solution: "That the Eighteenth amendment be retained until there have been elected a sufficient number of members of Congress pledged to submit the amendment to the states to bring about such a proceeding.
 If this, by any chance, is supposed to be funny, it is a very flat joke.

 If it is supposed to be accepted as in the slightest degree an answer to the harassing question of prohibition reform it indicates, on the part of Mr. Borah, an ignorance of American public opinion little less than astounding. Who on earth does he expect will believe that he is proposing anything but the retention of the present wretched state of affairs for an indefinite period?

So long as Senator Borah, representing a state whose total vote in 1928 was less than 100,000, has an equal voice in any Senate action on prohibition with Senator Wagner, representing a state where twenty-five times as many people voted as in Idaho, it will require something more than isolated local applications of influence to bring about a change in the prohibition situation. It will require action by parties. Both major parties are going to be committed to the principle of re-submission this year. So we are bound to get the desired result. We wouldn't get it in a century if one fanatic in Idaho were permitted to outweigh twenty-five liberals in New York or four in Connecticut.

The Political Follies of '32

By RODNEY DUTCHER

Washington — The funny old
 two-thirds rule may be the issue in a hot fight once again at the Democratic national convention.

If it is ever definitely busted by a convention it probably will be dead for all time. But attempts to get rid of it have been made off and on during the last hundred years, never with success, and the chances are that the rule is going to endure.

The forces of Governor Roosevelt, it appears, are preparing to try to abolish the rule in case their candidate finds himself stuck somewhere between a majority convention vote and the two-thirds required to nominate, held from further progress by the opposition of Al Smith, the anti-Roosevelt state leader, and the stubborn favorite sons.

Majority Can Abrogate
 The idea is that although it requires a two-thirds vote to nominate the party candidate, a majority vote can abrogate the thing. Because the rule is imbedded so deeply in party procedure and because all Democratic candidates have been nominated under it, any open declaration for abolishing it at this time would be regarded as a confession of weakness by the Roosevelt leaders.

Actually, they hope to force their way across the line by the sheer weight of the majority which they anticipate on the first ballot.

The attempt to end the rule would be only a measure of desperation designed to save Roosevelt from sharing the fates of Champ Clark and Martin Van Buren, the only two men who ever had a convention majority without being nominated.

MORE ABOUT SEASONINGS

Horseradish is one of the least harmful of the condiments. It is a native of Europe, but is cultivated on both sides of the Atlantic. It tends to stimulate the secretion of both salivary and gastric juices. It is generally grated and served with meat and oysters. It contains some anti-scorbutic vitamins and large amounts of potassium and bromine.
 Catnip is a combination of hema-toes and various spices and vinegar reduced to a paste of about the consistency of thick cream. It is useful in flavoring protein foods, but should never be used with starches,
 such as potatoes, macaroni or bread.
 Red pepper is made with grinding small hot peppers which contain an irritating substance called capsaicin.
 It is extensively used in Italy, Spain and Mexico.

Pepper is made from a different plant than the cayenne pepper. The pepper berries contain alkaloids, piperin and oleoresin, and a volatile
 oil which causes the pungency.
 Cinnamon is derived from an oil extracted from cinnamon bark. It is produced principally in Sumatra,
 Java, and the warmer parts of Asia.
 The Arabs for many centuries maintained control of the cinnamon market and kept secret its source from the outside world. The Arabs invented tales to keep away inquisitive traders among which was the story of the cinnamon being guarded by ferocious winged serpents.

Vanilla is the most popular of all flavorings, since at least three times as much is served as of any other extract. The vanilla is interesting in that it is the fruit of an orchid—a type of plant which grows by attaching itself to the bark of a tree. The vanilla bean, although having a pod about eight inches long, is in no way related to the ordinary bean. Most of the vanilla beans are cultivated in Mexico, Tahiti, Java, West Indies, Fiji and Central America. It was probably first used by the Aztecs, who used vanilla in flavoring chocolate. Some vanilla may be allowed to those who are in good health for the flavoring of various foods. Since the vanilla loses its flavor with heat, if used in anything that is heated on the stove, add the vanilla last, after removing from the fire.

Pistachio is a flavor frequently used in the preparations of ice creams and candy, which is made from a small reddish nut with a green meat, with a delicate subtle flavor. The natural color of the nut is a very light green, and in most cases is prepared with an over-abundance of color. A very good imitation of pistachio can be made by mixing ex-

 10 feet and its tiny gasoline tank carried one pint.

LIGHTS FOR JUMPERS

Burbank, Cal.—A belt of lights for use by parachute jumpers at night has been tried out successfully at the local airport. The lights were used to prove the theory of Royce Station, veteran transport pilot, that an object falls faster at night than in the day time. Observer's checks seemed to verify his contention, but there is a possibility of error in observation.

 BY JAMES F. DONAHUE

The average automobile driver of today speeds along with little thought of the work the engine and other moving parts are doing, and of the possibility of overloading
 these parts.

The modern high-speed engine,
 turning over on an average of 3200 revolutions a minute, houses within itself a force so great that it is beyond the understanding of most drivers.

In the engine the crankshaft bearings are subjected to quite a bit of this force. These bearings connect the rods to the shaft and have to transmit the whole power of the engine in addition to rotating at a terrific speed. The bearings are safeguarded by a thin film of oil, and any lack of lubrication is sure to send the temperature of these bearings past the danger point if a car is driven at a high rate of speed for any length of time.

ROOSEVELT RELIES ON N. Y. DELEGATES

Thinks They Will Be Solid Behind Him—Missouri Also Said To Favor Him.

Albany, N. Y., June 23.—(AP)—The forces behind Governor Roosevelt are reported to be relying upon virtually a solid New York delegation, Missouri and a large slice of Illinois to rush the New York executive's name to the top of the ticket at next week's Democratic convention.

While James A. Farley, co-ordinator of the Roosevelt supporters, for a year has expressed confidence that Roosevelt would be nominated for the presidency on the first ballot, others in the governor's camp look for the band wagon to start at the end of the second roll call or the beginning of the third. Farley's figures give Roosevelt 686 votes now. It is believed here that the huge New York delegation of 94 votes will split two, maybe three or four ways on the first ballot, and that it will swing into line for Roosevelt on the second or third roll call. Missouri's 36 will go to former Senator James A. Reed on the first ballot and Illinois likewise will give Senator James Hamilton Lewis 58 on the first call.

Roosevelt's Friend
Tom Prendergast of Kansas City, the Missouri leader, is considered a friend of Roosevelt and the governor's forces hope he will turn the delegation to Roosevelt after the first ballot. A month ago at Warm Springs, Ga., Tom Donovan, the Illinois state chairman, said Downstate delegates, constituting a few more than half of the total, after a "complimentary vote or two" for Lewis would join the Roosevelt parade. At that time it was said Anton J. Cermak, Chicago mayor and Cook county leader, with an eye to duplicating Roger Sullivan's feat at Baltimore in 1912, might fancy the role of "president maker," and at the opportune time come out for Roosevelt. Sullivan's maneuver nominated Woodrow Wilson. Mayor James J. Walker himself eliminated his fate as a decisive factor in the convention when he said yesterday that he would answer ouster charges when he returned from Chicago. Roosevelt yesterday asked him to reply to allegations that he was unfit to serve as mayor. A decision on that Tammany issue will not come until weeks after the convention adjourns. How many of his home state delegates Roosevelt will get on the first ballot still is a mystery and may continue as such until the state caucus next Sunday afternoon at the Drake hotel in Chicago.

COMPARE HOSPITAL COST TO HOTEL FEE

Not In Competition But the Patient Gets More For Money In Former.

Much has been said about the cost of sickness and of major operations in hospitals, yet few persons know just what is given for the money paid at the expiration of, say, a three weeks stay in such institutions.

Hotel Cost.
A person may go to a hotel and pay anywhere from $4.00 to $8.00 a day, according to his ability to pay, and for that sum receives a room with bath, without meals or medical service should he become ill. In contrast, let the same person report at the hospital for a major operation.

Upon entering the hospital he is assigned to a room at a cost, let us say, of $6.00 a day. The doctor wishes him to have an X-ray taken to determine certain facts before operation. Also he wishes laboratory tests taken to better acquaint him with the case before the operation is performed.

All Trained.
The day arrives for the operation. He is prepared for this ordeal by skillful graduate nurses and is taken to the operating room where he is operated on by a skilled surgeon and his assistants. He is given an anesthetic by an anesthetist who has been specially trained for this important and serious type of work. The operating room nurses are graduates of accredited schools, and have had special training in operating room work. They assist the surgeons in a quiet, efficient manner. The operation performed, the patient is returned to his room and is now in the hands of the nurse, who, with the doctor's aid, will make him as comfortable as possible during the remainder of his stay and until convalescence comes.

Food.
For the first 48 hours he is given nothing to eat, save liquid nourishment. After that time he is allowed a soft diet until the period of abdominal discomfort is past. Then, if everything is favorable, he is given a regular diet. He is much happier when he can have this diet. His food is prepared by a skillful chef, under the direction of a qualified dietitian. The trays are daintily set up with pretty dishes, and the food is most attractive and tasty.

He has a daily bath and alcohol rub and has many other treatments and medications given him by a graduate nurse. Finally he is ready to leave the institution. Let us analyze his bill and see what he has paid for:

Room and nursing service at $6.00 a day ..... $42.00
X-ray ..... 15.00
Operating room and anesthetic ..... 17.50
Laboratory fee ..... 5.00

$79.50
The total of $79.50 for the first week and a total of $42.00 each for the second and third weeks. In all, $163.50 for a stay of 21 days at the hospital. Included in his room rent are nursing care, drugs and food.

Low Hourly Rate.
He has paid at the rate of a trifle less than 32 1-2 cents an hour for room, nursing care, operating room, anesthetic, food, the use of the best type of hospital equipment, laboratory service, X-ray service, drugs and medications. He has been put in shape to carry on in health again, and all for less than 32 1-2 cents an hour, whereas if he took his car to a garage he would pay at the rate of $1.00 per hour for the services of a second-rate mechanic.

Now let us see what it would cost this same man were he to spend 21 days in a first class hotel. He would pay, let us presume, $6.00 a day for room and bath. He must have three meals a day and we will set these meals very low, at say 50 cents a meal. Most hotels will not serve a breakfast for that—but let us continue.

In 21 days his meals alone will cost $51.50, and this, added to his room-rent will total $157.50 or $6.00 less than his stay at the hospital for the same period of time. Hospitals have never set up in competition with hotels, but if they ever seriously considered doing so, it is likely they would succeed.

There is an object lesson in the above story of the hospital, any hospital, but the Manchester Memorial hospital in particular, in which it shows the fine management and benefits given at low cost and the quality of care and treatment given, when you need it. The hospital is the most necessary, the most important business in the community.

NEW COMET DISCOVERED
Wellington, New Zealand, June 23.—(AP)—The government astronomer said today he had discovered a new comet in the tenth magnitude in the southern sky.

"COUNTRY CLUB" OUTING FEATURES FALCON BAND

Treasure Hunt Also To Be On Program At Riverside Park On July 13.

An added entertainment feature for the fourth annual outing for children of Springfield and the Connecticut Valley sponsored by the Country Club Soda Company will be the Polish Falcon Band of Chicopee, which will entertain with selections, marches and drills. Fred Syltack, who is believed to be the smallest drum major in the world, will lead the drum corps.

Herman A. Katz, secretary of the company also announced that special arrangements had been made with the Springfield Street Railway Company for excursion rates to Riverside Park on July 13, the day on which the outing will be held. The company has agreed to furnish special cars starting from Vernon Street. The special tickets may be secured from the operators of the cars.

A feature that will attract much attention is the treasure hunt and the hunt for the "Mysterious Mr. Country Club." Other features of entertainment will include an amateur vaudeville show which will be arranged by the Springfield Newspapers, exhibitions by a clown band and musical selections by the Gingers Boys, a well-known radio broadcasting group.

HIS MONEY'S WORTH
"It's scandalous to charge us $10 for towing the car only three or four miles," protested the motorist's wife.

"Never mind, dear," replied hubby, "he's earning it; I've got my brakes on."—Answers.

MARLBOROUGH

The Good Will Boys of the Good Will Club of Hartford are spending some time at their camp in this place. Local schools closed Friday for the summer vacation. Recent rains have helped the hay crop which would have been very tight, but for the timely rains.

Mrs. Ruth Coffyn and Mrs. Sarah Bligh have been recent callers in Middletown. The North School has been closed and the pupils of the North district will be transported to the Center and Northwest districts. The pupils in the four lower grades will attend the Center school and the four upper grade pupils will attend the Northwest school.

The monthly Union Tri-County Christian Endeavor meeting will be held at Westchester Sunday evening.

Mrs. Annie L. Blaisell of Manchester, who has spent the past two years in Florida and her son, Harry Blaisell, and visited relatives here the first of the week.

Miss Millicent Barnes, of New Britain, a former teacher here, has been a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. Allen Bligh.

Miss Fanny A. Bligh closed her school in Glastonbury on Friday and is at her home in this place.

A court in New York recently ruled that a postage stamp 75 years old was worth more than $7,000. But that doesn't mean that we would hate to pay three cents for a new one!

Cost Her $4.25 To Reduce 65 Pounds

"Worth It," Miss Bates Says.

If you're young and fat read what Miss Bates of Beach, Iowa, has to say about Kruschen Salts—if you are middle age or old Kruschen shows you the way to lose fat the SAFE way.

"I took one bottle of Kruschen Salts a month for five months. It amounted to $4.25 and I reduced 65 lbs. but it was worth it. Imagine just 22 years and weighing what I did. I could not enjoy myself as other girls did. I could not get the clothes I wanted. I think it is wonderful the results Kruschen Salts give."

To lose fat the safe, sane way—take one-half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning—eat less fatty meats, potatoes and sweets—a jar that costs but a small sum lasts 4 weeks. Get it at J. H. Quinn & Co., South Manchester—or any drugstore in the world—but be sure for your health's sake to ask for and get Kruschen Salts. It's the little daily dose that does it.—Advt.

fresh GAS PACKS POWER

••• GET

GULF

Gulf gets it to you fresh

Only FRESH gas packs full power. Because, as gasoline stays in storage, it deteriorates. The lighter parts—volatile parts that make possible easy starting—float slowly away.

As gas grows stale, too, a physical change occurs. So the longer gas is stored, the more power elements it loses—the weaker it gets. Even slightly stale gas can't give you all the power you pay for.

And the staler gas gets, the stickier it gets—the more apt it is to foul your motor. The anti-knock value decreases, too!

Long has the problem of gasoline deterioration troubled the entire petroleum industry. Gulf has long sought ways to overcome it—and now announces a system that assures you of getting FRESH, FULL-POWERED gasoline. Here's how...

Gulf makes the best gasoline that can be produced—and takes out of that gas certain elements called unsaturated hydrocarbons, which have been found to cause early deterioration. Hence, Gulf gas stays FRESH longer.

Next, Gulf gives that FRESH-MADE gas no chance to get stale—it rushes it to you in a hurry.

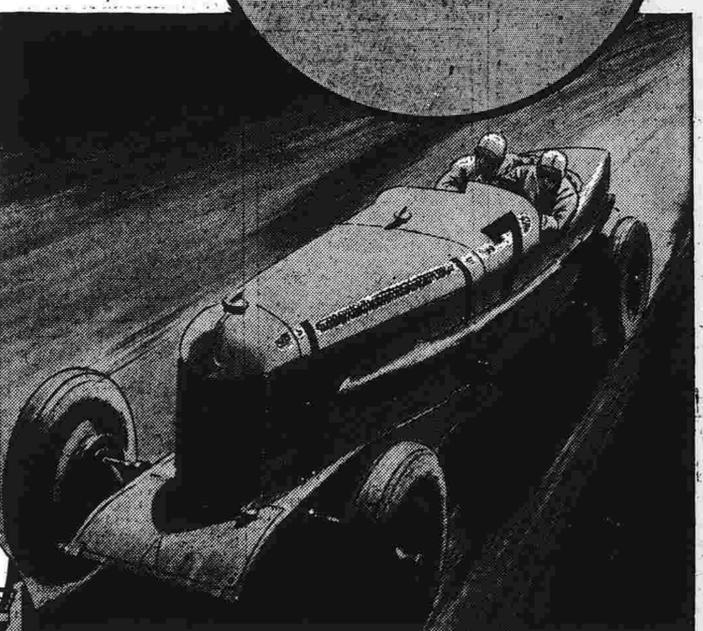

To do this, Gulf has located its huge refineries in many sections of the country

Every day an endless stream of trucks speed to Gulf filling stations carrying FRESH-MADE gasoline.

—so that each of its 45,000 Gulf filling stations is close to a source of FRESH gas. Fast trucks speed FRESH gas to Gulf pumps every day.

TWO BIG SILK FIRMS ARE PLANNING MERGER

New London, June 23.—(AP)—Plans for the merging of the Corticelli Silk Company, New London's largest industry, by the Belding Hemlinway Company, for 25 years the chief competitor of the Corticelli company, are outlined in a letter sent to all stockholders of the Corticelli Company notifying them that action on the matter will be taken at a special meeting at 12:30 o'clock next Wednesday.

The proposal by the Belding Hemlinway Company to purchase the Corticelli Silk Company contains the provision that the necessary papers be signed before July 1, 1932. The primary reason given by President J. P. T. Armstrong for advising the sale of the Corticelli company is the continually decreasing volume of sales, the increase in the intensity of the depression and the feeling that unless conditions change in the near future the business will not be able to get back on its feet and might possibly be forced into liquidation.

TWO SCHOOL DISTRICT MEETINGS CALLED

Fourth's Session Tomorrow Night and Buckland Will Meet On Monday Night.

The annual meeting of the Seventh, or Buckland School District, will be held on Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the school hall. The call for the meeting provides for the reading of reports of the officers, election of officers of the district and the transaction of any other business to come before the meeting. No provision is made for the laying of any tax.

The financial condition of the Buckland School is about the best in town. Their debt is small and the equity in their property is over ten times the amount of their debt. The residents of the district and the district officers are of the opinion that they will not be called upon to lay an extra tax in the equalization plan, but will be entitled to a credit.

In the official call for the annual meeting of the Fourth, or South District, the date is given as Friday, June 25, which is not correct. June 25 this year comes on Saturday. The date was intended to be Friday, June 24, and the meeting will be held tomorrow night. This district also plans to lay no tax at the meeting, but will hear reports and elect officers. There's but little money owed in back taxes in this district each year, the amount of unpaid taxes in the past not exceeding $30 in the year.

EXCHANGE FORBIDS PACKAGE SELLING

Board of Governors Rules That Bunching Up Securities Will Not Be Tolerated.

New York, June 23.—(AP)—The New York Stock Exchange today forbade its members to engage in a newly developed method of selling securities in "packages."

Except for a few exceptions, which would be subject to individual approval by the exchange, its board of governors ruled that in general new practice imposes too great a cost upon investors.

The new "package" plan of marketing securities consists of placing the shares of 15 to 25 companies in a single unit, or parcel, which is then sold to the public. Because prices of stocks are now at the lowest levels in a decade, or longer, these parcels can be offered publicly at comparatively low prices.

In its criticism of the system, the exchange held that the cost to the purchaser had been "loaded" too heavily with various brokerage costs, including round lot and odd lot commissions, transfer taxes and a seller's profit.

Its objections. The exchange listed four principal objections to the plan. It held that "the minimum charge for services to the purchaser is out of proportion to the worth of the securities," stating that in some cases the total cost exceeded 50 percent of the actual market value of the stocks in the parcel.

The widely known political writer, Fernand in the Nationalist Echo de Paris, said:

"President Hoover seeks to impress the multitude by an elementary measure which the simplest can understand."

L'Oeuvre, organ of the Left in Paris, said since no revision of debts was mentioned, "we are asked to make positive concessions in exchange for hypothetical advantages."

German newspapers, however, lauded the proposal as courageous and hailed it as the most significant international step since the declaration of the one year moratorium on reparations and debt payments last summer.

"It is the most powerful contribution to peace and welfare since the war," the Industrialist Allgemeine Zeitung, said.

INJURED BOY, SICK GIRL, GET DIPLOMAS IN 8TH

Robert Campbell Speaks On Crutches, Alice Redonis Given Diploma At The Hospital.

Robert Campbell, president of the Class of 1932, Eighth District schools of Manchester, presented the address of welcome this afternoon in the Hollister street school auditorium facing 100 of his classmates on crutches.

Alice Redonis, 15, another member of the class, was presented with her diploma at the Manchester Memorial hospital this afternoon following the exercises at the Hollister street school. Alice is seriously sick at the hospital, and Miss Redonis' mother, Mrs. W. J. Murphy, chairman of the Board of Education made the presentation at her hospital bedside.

The exercises consisted of a group of memory readings by members of the class, including "Washington Under the Old Elm," a sketch, "The First Singing of the Star Spangled Banner," a reading, "The Origin of Our Flag," and readings and selections by the school ensemble.

Blue and white were the class colors and the girls in white skirts and the boys with white shirts, blue ties and white trousers made a most attractive appearance. The hall was filled to overflowing with parents and friends of the large graduating class.

patrons had been questioned and held in the police station it was reported from the State Police barracks in Stafford Springs that a Pontiac coach bearing Connecticut markers P. E. 448 had been stolen from the home of John Wages, Stafford, at 11:15 p. m. The car which Officer Griffin stopped on Tolland Turnpike proved to be the one stolen in Stafford.

A further development of the case came as a result of finding an emergency gasoline measure in the rear section of the car. At 6 o'clock this morning Samuel Gittin, proprietor of Gittin's Service Station, Dobsonville, reported to the State Police that two pumps had been forced at his service station and a quantity of gasoline taken, also an emergency filling can.

All three were arraigned in town court this morning and were held in default of bonds of $1,000 each for court Saturday, July 2. The boys appeared in court in their undershirts and new khaki trousers, one having an old overcoat which he said he found in the Stafford barn.

At the Gittin Service station, where the trio stopped shortly after the station was reported at 11 p. m., they sprang two locks on a gasoline pump, sheared the gears on the crank-handle and then, being unable to pump any gasoline, went along to the next pump and unlocked the discharge valve after taking off the outside lock of the pump. Damage to the two pumps was reported by the proprietor to be $20.

John Wages of Stafford, the owner of the stolen car, who lives on an outlying road in an isolated section of the town, reported at the State Police barracks shortly after the theft and told the officer in charge that he had just gone to bed shortly after 10:30 when he heard voices in the yard. He said there were two "Feds" and a man in a suit and hat, and when he reached the barn he found one of them gone. He thought at first that it was a joke being played on him by friends, but reported the matter to the police.

It is expected that an investigation will be conducted in an effort to learn if the boys escaped from some institution in this vicinity. The fact that they were scantily clothed leads police to believe that they may possibly have escaped from such an institution. The trio will be turned over to the State Police following the investigation and disposal of the charge against them in the local court. Lieut. William Barron took fingerprints and photographs of the man this morning and this information will probably be sent out to determine if they have been wanted for previous escapades.

Court Cases. William F. Shaw of 474 East Middle Turnpike paid $100 costs for driving an automobile under the influence of intoxicating liquor June 18. Mario Tomassetti of Meriden, arrested last Tuesday morning at 1:30 on Center street by Sergeant Johnson for driving a car, got off with paying of costs. Tomassetti told the court that he had just bought the car a few weeks ago, and had driven 300 miles when stopped by the police officer. He said that his brakes had been released but were out of adjustment due to use on the long trip.

North Manchester Lodge No. 835 combined with the Manchester Lodge No. 1477 in 1928 and at that time Mr. Limerick became a member of the present lodge No. 1477. He has been elected to fill several offices in the order, having been elected to the position of state president in 1918 and after retiring, as state president, was elected to the office of state presi-

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

HOW H. S. FACULTY WILL SPEND SUMMER

Most of the Teachers Will Study For Further Degrees Or Will Travel To Improve Their Educations.

The High school halls are deserted and the buildings have been turned over to Arvid F. Gustafson and his crew of janitors. A number of books have been collected from the various rooms this morning and the customary renovations will soon begin. There are to be some changes and physical improvements in order to accommodate the increased enrollment promised for next fall. Teachers expected that the present school library on the second floor will be made into another classroom and the typewriting rooms will be enlarged, at least with more equipment.

The offices of the superintendent and the principal will be open for the next two weeks and the principal's office will then handle school matters pertaining to the high school until the principal's office opens again in August. A few of the teachers were around this morning but for the most part they have already begun their summer vacation plans. More than half of the faculty will study or travel in connection with their teaching for next year. There will be no additions to the present teaching staff when school opens in September.

What Teachers Will Do. Dwight Perry, teacher of mathematics in the Freshman building, started this morning to drive to the Pacific coast. He will spend most of the summer with his parents in Sacramento. Besides doing some touring in the southern part of California, he will go to the Olympic games.

A number of teachers are planning to continue their professional studies. Miss Jeanne Low, teacher of French in the main building will sail for England the latter part of this week, going directly to London and will sail tomorrow. The greater part of the summer she will include a trip to Paris to see her friends there. Her decision to go abroad was made to late to secure accommodations on the Holland-American line with the Misses Avis Walsh, Helen Page, and Seth Richmond, who will sail tomorrow. The three latter will study at Oxford and Cambridge and visit the places about which they will teach in literature classes next year. Miss Page, in addition, hopes to include a trip to Rome.

Henry Farr, teacher of Ancient History, will continue his studies in Harvard and Vice-Principal Arthur Illing expects to complete his work for his master's degree at Boston University.

Edson Bailey, director of vocational guidance, will spend much of his time completing his master's degree in the field of guidance for the University of Vermont. Mr. Bailey has already completed his resident study for his graduate degree.

Nathan B. Gatchel will attend the Yale Summer school in New Haven doing work in the field of English composition and literature.

Miss Helen Estes will go to Stockbridge, Mass., where she will join the class in dramatics at the summer school conducted by Francis Cowles Strickland. Miss Estes, who is coach of the dramatic club and teacher of English, will leave next week.

Charles Turner, teacher of science and Freshmen mathematics will join the 16th regiment U. S. A. Cavalry at Fort Ethan Allen for their summer encampment. Mr. Turner is an officer in this regiment.

James L. Higgins left this noon for Indian Head, Georgetown, Me., where he will spend the next month with his parents at their summer cottage.

Charles L. Wigren, coach of track and teacher of mathematics and Miss Mary McGuire, Miss Mary L. Burke, and Philip B. Emery will be in their local homes and expect to do some summer tutoring.

Chester L. Robinson with Mrs. Robinson and Billy plans to go to Mr. Robinson's home in Warren, Main. Miss Corrine Davis will go to her home in Gloucester, Mass.

ALUMNI OF YALE LEAVE FOR HOMES

President Angell Says College Budget Has Been Cut By $200,000.

New Haven, June 23.—(AP)—Yale Alumni returned to their homes today from the university's 231st commencement exercises with the assurance of President James Rowland Angell that every effort would be made to keep university expenses within the limits of its reduced income.

Angell addressed the alumni at a luncheon yesterday after he had conferred honorary degrees on ten distinguished men.

Loss of income from investments, he said, caused the university to cut its last budget by about $200,000 or more than ten percent.

He told the alumni further reductions would be made in the budget for the next academic year.

Angell reported that gifts and bequests for endowment actually received during the year totaled nearly $4,000,000, including a gift of $682,500 for the Divinity school from John D. Rockefeller Jr., and a bequest of $1,071,574 from Chauncey M. Depew.

Newton D. Baker, who received an honorary degree told the alumni the country needed a leader "to mobilize the character and intellect of America in the public service of the country."

Parley to Decide Committeeman If Neither Roosevelt Nor Smith Is Nominated, Wynne May Get Position.

Hartford, June 23.—(AP)—On the outcome of the Democratic presidential contest will depend the choice of the party's Connecticut National committee man.

Gov. W. L. Cross who has been requested by the state convention to advise the National delegates on selection is expected to make no recommendation until after the Chicago meeting has chosen the standard bearer for the campaign.

The name of Kenneth Wynne, the governor's executive secretary has been mentioned frequently as a compromise choice for the committee post, particularly if neither F. D. Roosevelt nor Alfred E. Smith should win the presidential nomination.

In case of a Roosevelt victory the chance of Archibald McNeil for another term would be enhanced, even though the state convention refused to endorse him for the position.

A Smith victory might be expected to place David E. Fitzgerald, former New Haven mayor and McNeil's opponent, as the favored candidate.

Wynne emphasized that he would make no decision on his own availability until after convention.

"I am not an aspirant nor a candidate," he said "but I would be glad to accept if I thought it desirable and if the move was in the direction of reasonable harmony for the party."

TYPHOID CARRIER MAY INFECT FIFTY

Health Department Never Ends Search For Germ Among Handlers of Food.

The fact that a single "typhoid carrier" without realizing it may infect as many as fifty other persons with the disease in a comparatively short space of time was declared by Friend Lee Mickie, director of the laboratory of the State Department of Health, in the department's weekly broadcast today, to be reason for the department's never ending search.

In a prepared dialogue with D. Evelyn West of the laboratory staff, Mr. Mickie described a "typhoid carrier" as a person who continues to carry in the body the germs that cause typhoid after recovering from it. He has developed enough immunity so he is not affected by these germs, but continues to discharge them occasionally and thus menaces the health of those about him.

Mr. Mickie cited the case of the famous "Typhoid Mary," a cook who had caused fifty cases of the disease and several deaths in families by whom she was employed in the course of five years' time.

After she was discovered as a carrier, she was placed in a detention hospital from which she was paroled after three years. She broke parole and disappeared, later to be traced by an outbreak of twenty-five cases of typhoid in a maternity hospital where she was employed as a cook.

Fortunately, Mr. Mickie stated, there are reliable methods for discovering the existence of typhoid germs in a person's body and the State Laboratory is constantly searching for carriers. Because of impossibility of examining everyone, certain groups of food handlers in the milk and oyster industries and occasionally cooks and waiters in public eating places are selected. Specimens are sent to the laboratory periodically by the physician retained to examine employees or by the local health officer.

About one person in every thousand has been discovered to be a "typhoid carrier." During the past few years, the laboratory in its limited field of examinations, limited by lack of available funds, has discovered at least five of these carriers. While this number may appear small, the carriers have all been isolated from food handling and any possibility of a repetition of the case of "Typhoid Mary" has been eliminated.

Dial Twisters

A left and a right, a left and another right—no thanks, we'll stick to radio work; it's healthier from our point of view. All the battles were not fought in New York Tuesday night. Most of them took place in front of several million radio sets throughout the country and old man static put up a stubborn fight.

In the majority of cases he also won an unpopular decision and like most other victors he promises the losers a return engagement in the near future. What we need is a new white-hot hope to put this up-start static on his back.

Charles Francis Coe, who has quite a reputation as a writer of gangster and fight stories, garnered some added laurels in the way he conducted the broadcast of the fight. The chances were excellent for comparing his and McNamee's qualities insofar as they pertain to interesting sports announcing. His spontaneous grasp of situations as they arose coupled with his command of the proper phrases to fit made the perky of the scarp mighty interesting.

Amos and Andy requested at least a month's vacation to rest after their long siege of daily broadcasts. They claim that they would be more popular than ever on their return but the sponsors can't see it that way and consequently will continue on. Reports are such that their fan mail has dropped to such an extent it is doubtful if they will last to the end of the year. Of course they may work into a series of interesting situations that will make them top-notchers again.

Political pressure was brought to bear in WEAL's case and an extension of three months has been allowed in which time NBC and WEAL must prove the practicalness of synchronization.

WOMEN LEADERS REACH CHICAGO

To Do a Lot of Handshaking Before the Democratic Parley Begins.

Chicago, June 23.—(AP)—Three young Roosevelt rooters, one of whom campaigned spectacularly for Al Smith-for-governor twelve years ago, today joined a gallery of presidents' kin curiously aligned along headquarters-row of the Democratic convention.

Anna Roosevelt Dahl, daughter of the present New York governor, arrived last night with her brother, James, and his wife. They came "just for the fun of it" and incidentally to run errands and do whatever handshaking might help the leading candidate for president.

The first thing that Anna heard was that Emily Smith Warner, daughter of Al, is entering the Al Smith for president camp probably tomorrow.

"Oh, fine," she exclaimed. "Won't it be nice to see her—we did a lot of campaigning together in 1924, you know."

In another hotel William G. McAdoo explained that his 17-year-old daughter, granddaughter of the late Democratic President, "is just a spectator." But Mr. McAdoo naturally affirmed that both his daughter and his wife, President Wilson's daughter, would do some handshaking on behalf of John Garner for president.

Woodrow Wilson's widow will be here, too, occupying a non-factional place of honor.

Mrs. Alfred E. Smith, traditionalist in her role of wife, stayed close by her husband.

"Of course he would be a fine President," she said. "And why shouldn't I say so when everybody is saying it?"

Meantime James Roosevelt had to see Al Smith.

James is covering the convention for a Boston newspaper and his first assignment was an interview with his father's opponent.

AFTER SLOW DRIVERS Hartford, June 23.—(AP)—A campaign against the habitual slow driver has been launched by State Police in co-operation with the motor vehicle department.

Many things happened during the day, although the most interesting was the funeral of "Freddie Sparrow." The bird was found dead on the roof of the car and Edna Franklin, chief mourner, saw to it that it had a proper funeral. He lay in state Sunday and later in the day was laid at rest under the spreading arms of a young maple tree, amidst the tears of the mourners. A tombstone was erected with this inscription: "Freddie Sparrow, Died June 19, 1932."

A nature walk, swimming and baseball helped the girls enjoy themselves, and at 6:30 they reached home, never to forget the week-end of June 18.

THEATERS AT THE STATE

"The Wet Parade" the current attraction at the State, with Lewis Stone, Dorothy Jordan, Neil Hamilton, Jimmie Durante and Walter Huston, will be shown for the last times today. A smashing double feature bill will be shown Friday and Saturday, consisting of Spencer Tracy, Ann Dvorak and William Boyd in Howard Hughes' "Sky Devils", and Elissa Landi in "The Woman in Room 13".

Laughs and thrills abound in "Sky Devils". For sheer entertainment value, this mile-a-minute comedy of fighting and flying is unquestionably tops them all. The story of "Sky Devils" is based on the adventures of three American flyers during the World War, played by Spencer Tracy, William Boyd and George Cooper, with abundant heart interest supplied by Ann Dvorak.

Thrilling comedy of the air. When you are not laughing uproariously, you are tense with excitement as the film unwinds on the screen at a breathless tempo. Here is one picture which is recommended for every person who patronizes pictures—it will be equally enjoyed by children and grown-ups.

"The Woman in Room 13" presents Elissa Landi in an emotional drama of unusual interest. It deals with the efforts of a merciless husband to ruin the career of his former wife as revenge for his wrecked political future. The plot provides many tense moments and affords Miss Landi plenty of opportunity for her dramatic talents.

Ralph Bellamy, Neil Hamilton and Myrna Loy have the leading supporting roles.

Chapter three of the unusually interesting serial story, "The Last of the Mohicans," will be shown on Saturday only.

LEAP YEAR BRIDE

BEGIN HERE TODAY

CHERRY DIXON, pretty 19-year-old daughter of wealthy parents, falls in love with DAN PHILLIPS...

CHAPTER XXVI

Cherry was on her feet now. The eager hope that had shone in her eye vanished as quickly as it had appeared.

Her father remained in the doorway. Not so much as a muscle seemed to change in that relentless face.

"Dr. Knowles?" Cherry began. "He's in the living room. We're to go there."

They went down the stairs. Cherry just a little ahead. She did not look at her father again.

There was a great bowl of roses on the table at the right. Cherry's mother had always kept flowers in that bowl, cutting and arranging them herself each morning.

Cherry rushed forward. "Oh, Dr. Knowles, tell me!" she cried. "I can't bear this waiting. I can't bear it! I've got to know!"

Dr. Knowles put an arm about the girl's shoulders. "There, there!" he said soothingly. "You promised me you'd be brave and have control of yourself. We're not discouraged. Not in the least. We're making the biggest fight we know how. You must help us!"

He had known Cherry almost since babyhood, had seen her through the attack of chickenpox which at 7, was her first illness.

The doctor nodded. "Mrs. Dixon has been resting," he said, "and rest is what she needs above all else. She slept for almost two hours this afternoon. She's awake now but we're hoping she'll drop off again before long."

He turned to Cherry. "Will you promise," he said firmly, "that if I tell you see your mother for a few moments you won't become hysterical? Will you promise to go in quietly and say just a word or two and then leave?"

"Oh, yes, doctor—I promise!" "Well, then," Dr. Knowles considered, "I think it might be a good idea. Nothing must happen that could disturb her. You understand that? If she should suddenly become aroused—worried—any slight emotional disturbance just now would be dangerous. On the other hand, I think she'd be pleased to know you're here. Well?"

"I'll do exactly as you say, doctor," Cherry said earnestly. "I'll be brave!"

The doctor looked across at the other man. "I think you'd better come too, Walter," he said quietly.

The three mounted the stairs and walked down the hall to Mrs. Dixon's room. A nurse—not the one Cherry had seen before—opened the door in answer to the doctor's light knock.

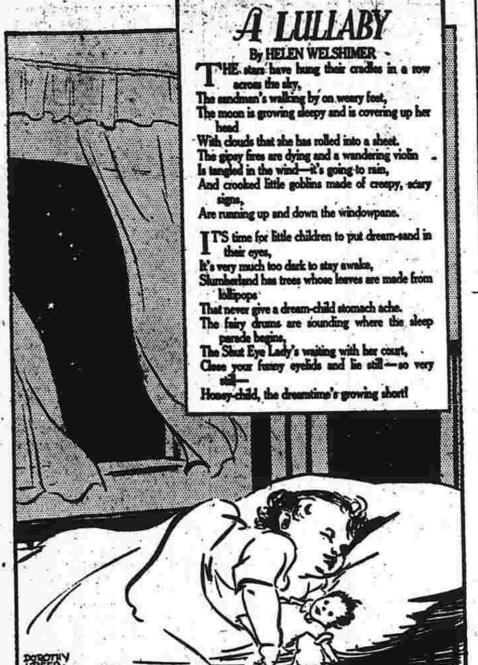

"She's awake," the nurse whispered and stepped back for them to enter.

A single lamp, heavily shaded, gave the only light in the room. The shades at the windows had been drawn and the furniture showed only an ink-black outline, casting black shadows. Against the op-

A LULLABY

By HELEN WELSHIMER

THE stars have hung their cradles in a row across the sky. The moon's walking by on wavy feet...

With clouds that she has rolled into a sheet. The spiky fire are dying and a wandering violin is tangled in the wind—it's going to rain...

It's time for little children to put dream-seed in their eyes. K's very much too dark to stay awake, Shush-hush has trees whose leaves are made from lullabies.

That never give a dream-child stomach ache. The fairy drums are sounding where the sleep is.

The Star Fairy's veiling with her court, Close your frisky eyelids and lie still—so very still—

Honey-child, the dreamer's growing short!

posite wall, just out of the lamp-light, was the great white bed.

The face on the pillow looked as colorless as the pillow slip. A tired face. Expressionless. The gray hair, drawn back severely, made the face seem old. One arm lay out over the covers.

It was Dr. Knowles who stepped forward. The tired eyes seemed to widen a trifle.

"Someone to see you," he said quietly. "I'm only going to let her stay a few moments. Cherry?"

The girl knelt at the bedside. Her two hands, so strong and young, clasped the mother's enfleeced one. "Mother! Oh, Mother!" Cherry breathed the words as though they were a prayer. Her head bowed down against the covers.

It was the barest whisper but both men heard it. The girl lifted her head. There were tears in her eyes but she was smiling.

"Oh, Mother, dear, you're going to get well now in a hurry! You must!" A transformation seemed to have come over the mother's face. "My little girl," she whispered. But she was not looking at Cherry. Her eyes had railed. They turned toward Walter Dixon, lingered pleadingly.

"Walter," she said slowly. The man bowed at the other side of the bed. He did not speak. Only the eyes and that seemed so grim and unrelenting a few minutes before were veiled by a thin mist.

There was a moment of silence. Then, as though summoning supernatural strength, the woman went on waveringly: "Walter—forgive—Cherry"

Dixon's hand slid over the coverlet. It found his wife's. Then the heavier, darker fingers clasped Cherry's. It was one of those electric moments when the stiffness seems alive with a thousand voices.

The man's words broke the spell. "It's all right, Alice," he said huskily. "Everything's going to be all right as soon as you're stronger."

The nurse's starched uniform rustled in the background. Dr. Knowles stepped forward.

"You'll have to say 'good-night' now, he said with professional firmness. "It's time for Mrs. Dixon to be resting."

For an instant Cherry's lips brushed her mother's hand. She clung to the fingers, then slowly released them. "Good-night, Mother," she said softly as she rose. "I'll be here in the morning."

Dixon did not speak again. The two men and the girl filed out of the room.

In the hall with the door closed behind them Dr. Knowles fumbled for his watch, found it and announced hurriedly, "Well, I'll have to be off. I'll telephone in an hour or two. Sleep is what she needs now. If she can get that it's a big gain. Good night, Cherry. Good night, Walter!"

The doctor's broad shoulders disappeared down the stairway. Cherry raised her eyes timidly to meet her father's. Suddenly the girl was in his arms, her face buried against his coat, and she was sobbing desperately.

He tried to quiet her. Cherry's shoulders rose and sank convulsively. "Don't!" Dixon said. "You mustn't cry this way. Your mother may hear you."

"It's—my—fault!" the girl moaned brokenly. "It's—my fault she's like this!"

Dixon's arm tightened about his daughter. "There's no use saying father's things," he told her heavily. "Or thinking them. We've all made mistakes."

LET COMMON SENSE REIGN AT PICNICS

You will be packing picnic lunches probably for the next few months. What are you going to put in those baskets? Sugar and spice and everything nice? Or will you include tasty wholesome food?

The old idea of picnics, and the nucleus of most lunches today consists of cake, pie, bananas, sandwiches and sweet drinks.

Taken one by one none of these is "tricky" as the saying goes, but taken in mass they are. Add to this list ice-cream cones of synthetic elements, boxes of patent goodies, peanuts, and the inevitable long drinks of ice-water, and what have you? One or more cases of fast-class summer complaint.

No one wants to take the joy out of life or delightful anticipation out of the picnic basket. But it is well to consider a few things before you pack.

First, the place where in the outing to be? In a quiet country spot or in a pleasure park? It makes a difference, you know, particularly if Johnny and Mary have fifty cents apiece to do as they please.

Lure of the Pop Stand The chances are they will "please" to load up at a pop stand with several varieties of toothsome refreshment and confections.

THE SHORT NAP Many Business Men Find That Few Minutes Sleep Will Refresh Them Amazingly

BY DR. MORRIS FISHER Editor, Journal of American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

Sleep is rest, no matter whether it is taken in large or small doses. But there are some workers who, due to long hours at the office, find it impossible to get adequate sleep at night.

Naps are regarded as childish by some people, but they are valuable periods of recuperation for others. These intervals of relaxation, small as they are, serve to rest the tired body and bring back to it some of the energy it has lost during the day.

Often at night, when going home from work on a street car, rapid transit or subway, you notice some man or woman peacefully slumbering. Automatically, before his or her head is reached, the slumberer will arouse and get off.

This little nap, probably not more than a few minutes, and more often less, is enough to pep up a person and drive away that feeling of exhaustion that bears one down after a day of toil.

Several stories are told of big business men and the ways they have of taking naps, or "siestas."

A New York captain of industry found he could refresh himself after lunch by a short "cat nap," but was at a loss to wake himself up. He solved the problem by holding a bunch of keys in his hand. As he dozed off his grip on the keys relaxed. Finally, after he had fallen sound asleep, the keys would fall, the resulting jangle awakening him.

The city editor of an afternoon newspaper used another system. He found a barber shop and picked out a barber who didn't do much talking. He went there every afternoon after lunch and got a shave. As the Book Describing Soviet Invasion of Latvia in 1919 is Banned But Existing. At the beginning of 1919 the city of Riga was a peaceful, more or less prosperous place to whose inhabitants the current tales of Bolshevik activities in Russia sounded unreal and fantastic.

But a Red army came sweeping west, the White army defending Latvia was routed and a Soviet commissar took over the government of Riga. And in a very few days Riga learned that the most fantastic things it had heard about the Bolsheviks could be eclipsed by the sober truth.

George Popoff tells all about this in "The City of the Red Flag," which is an eye-witness account of what happened in Riga during the half dozen months that the Communists were in control. His book, naturally, is strongly biased; but most of his statements of fact seem to be pretty well buttressed by documentary evidence, and his story makes it clear that a "red terror" can be a fine imitation of hell on earth.

He shows how the Bolsheviks turned the bourgeoisie out of house and home and moved proletarian families into the vacated dwellings. He tells how all of Riga was rationed, with day laborers getting excellent food and the erstwhile upper classes getting nothing but watery soup. He describes the gunwomen who roamed the city to enforce the Soviet's orders. Murders, arbitrary imprisonments and wholesale executions and tortures are described over and over, and the book reaches an exciting climax in its description of the battle in which the Reds were finally driven out.

All in all, it makes interesting reading. The book is published by E. P. Dutton, and retails for $3.50.

Men love to hear of their power, but have an extreme distaste for being told their duty.—Burke.

STORK IN COURT Albuquerque, N. M.—The stork delivered two boys to police court here. But the stork wasn't the usual one that delivers children. It was an ornamental one used to decorate lawns, and it was stolen by two youths, who were hauled to court. It was found that the car with which they made off with the bird was equipped with stolen tires, gas and oil, headlights and other accessories.

GLORIFYING YOURSELF

TURN YOUR EYES UPON BEAUTY.

If you close your eyes to beauty, you may as well drop a veil over the rest of your face. For your mouth may make the merriest kind of a gay, red line, and your cheeks may be brown and rose and cream, blended into the newest complexion ensemble, but you won't take many votes in the charm ball.

First of all, your eyes must be healthy. No amount of eye make-up will banish the dull, listless appearance of eyes that haven't an inward light to make them shine. Make sure that you are getting the proper amount of rest. The nerves of your eyes need relaxation and the blood stream requires time to nourish them.

The eye-cup is an eye-saver when it comes to beauty. Plain water will rest your eyes. If you prefer to use your favorite approved beauty preparation, by all means do so. Pads, wrung out in cold water, moistened with your eye astringent, and placed on your eyes while you rest for a few minutes, will make them look at life from a more attractive viewpoint.

Eye baths should be taken several times a day. When your eyes are feeling too tired to find anything worth watching, get out your eye-cup and give them a clearer outlook on the summer show.

The summer sun and the brimless hats that are getting together so nicely, are hard on the eyes. Therefore, if you apply an eye cream, especially designed for the purpose, to the tissues under the eyes you will be rewarded. Apply the cream before you put on your makeup. Then remove it, when you get out your cosmetics. Enough of the cream remains to keep the tissues moistened.

It is surprising how much more your eyes will see if they make themselves worth rating a second glance.

Quotations The real fact is that New York municipalities are operating on a sounder basis than ever before.

In Washington, in state capitals, in cities and in counties we have often been careless in the methods we have used to create public betterments for our citizens.

Regarding reparations, France cannot permit those rights to be contested which are the outcome not only of treaties but of contractual agreements protected by the honor of the signatories.

It is much more difficult to make good law than a good Atlantic flight.

Bank deposits and other property will be perfectly safe.

Most cities are running deeper into debt, while many businesses are slowly emerging, an economist says. Maybe the bankers should be firm with the cities, too.

Rookies Make Fame In Major Leagues

Chicago, June 23.—The major league baseball season, despite of some unsolved problems, has been the Braves, Giants, Tigers, Reds and Cardinals, has definitely tagged a dozen or more rookies for future stardom. As the National League, the freshmen crop numbers at least six standout performers, possibly seven or eight. The American League boasts about the same number. Of the combined groups, five are pitchers who have been winning with regularity. The Yankees, setting the pace in the American have Johnny Allen, author of several well-pitched games. He participated in the string of 40 consecutive scoreless innings pitched by Yankee hurlers, Saltsgraver and Crossett, expensive infield pair, have yet to show their value to the Yanks. The latter has been the more dependable performer. Saltsgraver recently was optioned out to the Yankees' Newark farm. Monte Weaver, the ex-math teacher with Washington, has proved to be quite a pitcher. Weaver has been unusually effective against the Athletics.

Four young players have been prominent in the surprise party Detroit gave the American League this season, Harry Davis, who supplanted the veteran Alexander as first baseman, has been fielding like a star or a Judge. Gerald Walker, outfielder, has been among the league's leading hitters. Even as a pinch hitter and runner he has been a continual threat. Manager Bucky Harris also has been getting good reserve outfielding from Joyner White and some fine relief pitching for Isky Goldstein. But the prize of the season, apparently has been Carey Selph, Chicago third baseman. The jump from the Texas loop to major league baseball appears to have been easy for him. Selph has hit around the 300 mark all season. Ed Coleman, on the shelf for the rest of the season, proved a star outfielder in the A's lineup until he was disabled. And Bruce Campbell, breaking into the Browns' outfield, seems headed for stardom, at least in Manager Bill Killefer's opinion. Dan Bravos have Enoch Betts, Bob Brown and Bill Johnson, a shortstop. Urbanis arrived this season, is hitting very well and is holding up his end of the infield. Betts and Brown each won their first five starts, which ought to explain why the Braves have stayed up there. Fritz Knothe at third also has done well for the Braves. The Cubs have Lon Warneke, who surprised with his sensational pitching, and Billy Herman, who came through to fill manager Hornsby's place at second. Warneke's arrival was sudden, taking even his favorite admirers by surprise. Herman made a steady start and has been dependable ever since. He has covered twice the amount of ground Hornsby could have guarded, and has hit over .300. Stanley Hack, expensive third sacker, who wilted after a fine start, may be revived yet, even as Warneke suddenly mapped into form. The best Cardinal hitting this year has been supplied by Jimmy (Rip) Collins, first baseman or outfielder. Jimmy has hit over .300, has stayed among the home run leaders, and seems to fit nicely into the Cardinal infield or outfield. Len Konecne, outfielder, thus far hasn't paid a dividend on the $75,000 the Giants invested in him. Morrissey has done fine work for the Braves, fitting into the Reds' infield either at short or second. The Pirates have played three rookies in their regular lineup, all of them promising performers. Tony Piet has done well at second, batting over .260. Floyd Vaughan supplanted the veteran Thurston because of his capable fielding. He hasn't hit much. Dave Barber, outfielder, has hit near the .275 mark, but is expected to improve. Bill Swift also has given the Pirates a pair of mound victories. Van Lingle Mungo, expected to step into the Dazzy Vance shoes at Brooklyn, Dizzy Dean of the Cardinals and Hal Schumacher of the Giants have displayed flashes of great ability. Eventually, they should become consistent winners.

TWO LOCAL BOXERS WIN THEIR FIGHTS

Two Manchester boys, Adolph O'Bright and Art Kelley, pupils of Frank Busch, won their amateur fights at Crystal Lake last night. O'Bright in his first fight scored a technical knockout over Jerry Raale of Thompsonville in the first round. Kelley took a three-round decision from Tony Burke of Worcester.

SENSE AND NONSENSE

EPICUREAN MATRIMONY

1. That man must lead a happy life.
2. Who is directed by a wife?
3. Who's free from matrimonial chain?
4. Is sure to suffer for his pains.
5. Adam could find no solid peace.
6. Till he beheld a woman's face?
7. When Eve was given for a mate.
8. Adam was in a happy state.

But things aren't always what they seem. Now read alternate lines—that is, 1, 3, 2, 4; then, 5, 7, 6, 8.

One way to keep out of financial entanglements is to pay out one investment before making another one, and never mortgage what you have already paid for.

Cleveland—May I kiss you?
Christine—What do you think I'm waiting for, a street car?

MUSINGS OF A COLLEGE GRADUATE—Such fun, this job hunting! You know, being college, I never wear a hat. Yesterday I was standing in a bookshop waiting to be hired when a lady came in, picked up a book, and handed me two dollars. Today I'm going to loiter in a piano store.

Patient—Doctor, what's good for my wife's fallen arches?
Doctor—Rubber heels.
Patient—What'll I rub them with?

YELLOWJACKET STINGS: The success of every business rests finally on the integrity of the owners. . . . The retired farmer of a few years ago is now retiring to his farm. . . . A woman seldom knows what she wants, but she usually gets it. . . . Old grievances are always in danger of being renewed. . . . To get up, give up—especially those things which you don't need. . . . One reason politics make such strange bedfellows is because they like the same bunk. . . . No man is a failure who is enjoying life. Monkeys quickly tire of every plaything given them. And yet we say that men are related to them. . . . If a guest don't know when to leave, he doesn't know anything. . . . Many a young man who thinks he's a girl's intended is only her pretended. . . . Do not stop with being on the level. Be above the average. . . . Fun is like insurance; the older you get the more it costs you. . . . Girls never wear silk hose and one piece suits to show their prosperity. . . . It isn't what you start that counts, it's what you finish. . . . In the olden days the shingle was the board of education. . . . A good smile is always worth its face value. . . . In life it's GRIT. In Spinach it's terrible.

THE ADVERTISING MAN: Glorifying pink chemises, Eulogizing smelly cheeses, Deifying rubber tires, Sanctifying plumbers' pliers, Accolading rubber panties, Serenading flappers' scanties, Rhapsodizing hotel fixtures, Sermonizing on throat mixtures; Some call them the new town criers, Others call them cock-eyed liars.

It might be well to put some of these crooked bankers to work in the penitentiary coal mines. That would give them a chance to thaw out their frozen assets all right.

Doctor (examining pretty brunette)—You've got acute appendicitis.
Patient—Don't get fresh! I came here to be examined—not admitted.

YOU CAN GILD THE MEANEST JOB WITH A SMILE AND TARNISH THE GREATEST ONE WITH A FROWN.

Heavy Stranger (returning to the theater between the acts)—Did I tread on your toes as we went out?
Seated Man (grimly)—You did, sir.

Heavy Stranger (to wife)—That's right, Matilda, this is our place.

CLOTHES MAKE HER

MISTER: What is the matter with my new suit? The tailor says it is a perfect fit.
MISSSES: Huh, he might tell you that, but it looks more like a convolution to me.—Pathfinder.

KILLING THE GOOSE

"I see the jury acquitted the girl who killed her employer, on the grounds of insanity."
"Yes, and quite right, too. Anybody who kills an employer these days is certainly crazy."—Farm Journal.

DEPARTED GLORY

PATIENT: And who are you?
STRANGER: I am the new superintendent of this asylum.
PATIENT: Ah, you'll soon get over that. Why, I was Alexander the Great when I first came here.—Farm Journal.

NOT VERY MUCH

"Polly says she's got just the costume for the fancy dress ball."
"That means little or nothing."—Pathfinder.

Love Grows Cold as Perspiration Odor Reveals Lack of Interest in Personal Hygiene. The Sophisticated Woman Now Uses Perstik.

The glowing light of love and romance is often so cruelly dimmed by some little, needless incident! At 10, he was here. By eleven, he had gone. Even the most indifferent man is sensitive to perspiration odor, and even the woman who thinks she NEVER perspires DOES perspire under the arms.

Avoid the slightest risk of offending. Place yourself above reproach. Before you slip on your dress, ALWAYS apply a touch of Perstik beneath the arms.

Perstik is the cosmetic "fand" of the season—the first deodorant in stick form. Easy to apply, easy to carry.

Perstik is pure, white and greaseless. Endorsed for safety and effectiveness by Good Housekeeping Institute.

Get a Perstik this very day. We are now displaying Perstik in its smart black and white enamel case. Fastidious society women and beauty editors of leading magazines tells us that the use of Perstik is the height of sophistication—a vast improvement over messy creams, powders and liquids.
