PRICE THREE CENTS

REACH ACCORD ON WAR DEBTS AT LAUSANNE

Germany Must Pay 750 Mil- lions To Clear Up Repara- tions—Touching Scenes As Agreement Is Reached.

Lausanne, Switzerland, July 8.—(AP)—France and Germany have reached a complete agreement on the issues under discussion at the debts and reparations conference, it was officially announced this afternoon.

Under the agreement Germany's final reparations payment is fixed at a nominal three billion gold marks (about $750,000,000). Bonds for that amount will be issued at a price of ninety when Germany's credit permits to the agreement declares that reparations are finally ended and that a new effort in relations among nations is commenced on the basis of reciprocal confidence.

Announcement that an accord had been reached was made while Premier Herriot of France was holding a final conference with Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain in the latter's chamber.

The finishing touches to the text of the accord will be made late today.

The German bond issue will be withheld for at least three years.

A sinking fund
The sinking fund is fixed at one per cent. The bonds will mature in 37 years.

If the bond issue is not floated within 15 years, the whole issue is cancelled.

The "war guilt" controversy which is so irritating to Germany, is not mentioned nor is the Versailles Treaty named, but the agreement implies that the post-war reparations chapter is relegated to history.

A resolution asking the United States to attend a world economic conference, where the Lausanne convention would be viewed in "a universal perspective" is expected to be adopted tomorrow.

The United States government recently announced its willingness to attend a world economic conference, but vetoed several plans which would have linked that conference with the Lausanne reparations conference.

Mr. MacDonald and Mr. Herriot were the two most pleased among the statesmen here over the agreement.

The French premier was the center of a touching scene in the lobby of the Hotel de Ville when he embraced two pretty girls and shouted: "C'est Fait! C'est Fait!" (It is done).

As the statesmen emerged from their meeting, Chancellor von Papen, who was walking beside Mr. Herriot, departed without comment.

Aids World Recovery
The dramatic agreement obviously lifted a heavy burden from the shoulders of the delegates, few of whom did not believe the accord was a real step towards world recovery.

NATION INHABITED 20,000 YEARS AGO

Scientists To Follow Clues Recently Unearthed in the Middle West.

Washington, July 8.—(AP)—Two possible new clues to the mystery of how long man has lived in North America were made public today by the Smithsonian Institution.

One lies in the ruins of a real "lost civilization" of the middle west, whose people raised crops on the prairies before the days of the buffalo hunting Indians. The other is the reported discovery of a flint arrow buried under a bone of a mammoth. A Smithsonian expedition led by Dr. William D. Strong already is following up both clues.

30,000 Years Old
If the arrow was buried at the same time as the mammoth's bones, it would indicate man lived here perhaps twenty thousand years ago. Dr. Strong reports the bones were so disarranged however that the find is not certain evidence of that. Location of the find was not made public.

The mystery of the "lost civilization," is heightened by the fact that its creators were seen once by white men just before they disappeared. This was in 1541 when Coronado's expedition of Spaniards penetrated far into the west.

Lived in Cities
Near the Missouri River they found peaceful people who lived in substantial towns and raised crops. They never had seen a horse. The towns were built on the high bluffs along the river and surrounded by earthen walls.

After the Spaniards left something happened to this civilization and it disappeared. When the Lewis and Clark Expedition visited the region less than 800 years later the towns were gone.

OVER 60 FEARED LOST AS FRENCH SUBMARINE SINKS

More than 60 persons were feared to have been lost when the new French submarine Promethee sank off Cherbourg, France. This is a picture of the Vengeur, a sister-ship of the Promethee, which resembles the foundered under-sea vessel in practically all respects. The Promethee, one of the fleet of large cruiser-type submarines now being built by the French government, is an armored speed craft 302 feet long and capable of a speed of nineteen knots.

MURDERER OF WIFE PAYS THE PENALTY

Second Man in History of Vermont To Die In the Electric Chair.

Windsor, Vt., July 8.—(AP)—Bert A. Stacy was electrocuted at the Vermont state prison, shortly before midnight (E. S. T.) last night for the slaying of his wife in a Berlin barn April 18, 1931.

He was pronounced dead at 11:31 p. m., E. S. T., and to the last proffered his innocence. Stacy was entirely composed as he was led to the chair at 11:27 and maintained his composure as guards adjusted the straps. The current was applied at 11:28 and he was pronounced dead three minutes later.

Stacy's last words "I trust in God" were spoken to the prison chaplain, Rev. Dr. William Forkell, just before he was taken from his chair.

BRITISH MINISTER IS FOUND GUILTY

Rev. H. F. Davidson Charged With Improper Conduct At Sensational Trial.

London, July 8.—(AP)—The Rev. H. F. Davidson, grey-haired rector of Stiffkey, was found guilty today on several of the charges of improper conduct with young women which he faced at the recent sensational church trial here on an accusation of immorality.

F. K. North, chancellor of the Diocese of Norwich, who presided at the trial, handed down the decision. The clergyman with his daughter "Paddy" and his son Nugent, were present in the court when the verdict was rendered. His wife was not there.

The sentence will be pronounced later by the rector of Norwich and it was indicated the rector may appeal.

He had denied all the charges in his picturesque defense at the trial, declaring he came to London from his country parish to do uplift work among unfortunate girls, hundreds of whom he said he helped.

Discredited Stories
This statement of the rector's, the chancellor said in his decision was a "tissue of absurdities" and the rector an absolutely discredited witness upon whom no reliance could be placed.

The charges of which the rector was found guilty included immoral conduct with Rose Ellis, a good looking girl he picked up one night in notorious Leicester Square and made his secretary.

The chancellor said he did not believe Miss Ellis ever was the rector's secretary in any real sense and added there had been immoral conduct on many occasions.

Another charge against the rector was having molested three girls whose names were given by the chancellor.

The verdict was no sooner read than the rector became the first man out of the courtroom. He left on the run, pausing only long enough to say: "I'm not the least surprised. I expected this from the first."

DEMOCRATS ASK GARNER TO MODIFY HIS DEMANDS

To Urge Speaker To Break Deadlock With President Over Relief Bill — No Agreement At Parley.

Washington, July 8.—(AP)—State Democrats today decided to attempt to get Speaker Garner to modify his demands on the unemployment relief bill which have caused a deadlock with President Hoover.

No decision was reached by the Democrats on whether they would support the conference report pending a conference with Garner, who has insisted upon including a provision for loans to individuals.

Much dissatisfaction was expressed by many of those in the conference with Garner's refusal to yield on this point and before taking final action, the conference decided to attempt to get Garner to modify his stand.

Action Postponed
Action on the relief bill conference report, scheduled for today in the Senate, was postponed until tomorrow to allow the Democrats to decide upon their program. The report was approved yesterday by the House.

A subcommittee of three Senators was appointed to meet with Speaker Garner and the House conferees on the relief bill in an attempt to work out a compromise.

Those selected were Senator Robinson, the Democratic leader, and Senators Buckley, of Ohio, and Wagner, of New York. All three were members of the special Democratic committee which drew up the bill approved by the Senate.

NEXT OCEAN FLIGHT TO END IN GREECE

Roger Q. Williams To Start Within Month On a Hop To Athens.

New York, July 8.—(AP)—Roger Q. Williams announced today he would take off from Floyd Bennett Airfield within the next three days in an attempt to fly non-stop to Athens, Greece.

The flight, he said, would be for the twofold purpose of establishing a distance record and promoting international trade. In this connection he planned to visit the principal capitals of Europe before returning to the United States in the plane by way of Ireland.

He said he would fly to Rome, in which he made a one-stop flight in 1927, with the name changed to "International Trader." He announced he would have a companion and probably two or three passengers.

He planned to drop mail at Rome on the way to Athens.

BLIND MEN FIGHT FOR WOMAN'S LOVE

One Is Killed, Other In Jail; A New Side To the "Eter- nal Triangle."

Chicago, July 8.—(AP)—Out of the kingdom of the blind today came a story of love and death.

It was the old story of the eternal triangle. But it was new because it came from the realm of the sightless.

As the Warren avenue police told it, two blind men—friends because they plied the same profession of begging pennies on the streets—fell in love with the same woman.

The woman, Mrs. Richard Roberts, blind in one eye married a man who is 57 and who can see very dimly from one eye. He is in jail—accused of killing his totally blind friend, Harry Gruber, 35. Roberts denied the accusation.

The Police Theory
Gruber died of a fractured skull. Exactly how he died may never be known but this is the story as it was pieced together by the police after they talked to Mrs. R. Roberts for the younger man. They followed a long period of search by taking his wife to the man he believed was taking her to a lodging house.

Roberts commanded his wife to leave. She refused.

Tuesday Roberts returned. His wife said she saw him in Gruber's room, when the controls of their plane ceased to work properly.

Neither of the fliers was seriously hurt, the reports reaching here said, but the plane was wrecked and they abandoned the flight.

They escaped with slight bruises and were planning to come on to Moscow by train.

The report said they were forced down about 4 a. m. yesterday morning, eight hours after they left Berlin. In that time they had apparently covered more than half the 800 miles between Berlin and Moscow.

Borisov is considerably south of the most direct air line between the two cities, however, and the opinion here was that they were drawn out of their course by the improperly functioning controls.

Near Russian Border
Minsk is near the Polish-Russian border.

It was evident that they would not continue the flight, for with the plane wrecked and the flight already more than 24 hours behind the record of Post and Gatty the prospect of beating the latter's time was completely wiped out.

The news that they had landed served to allay the grave fears for their safety which had arisen here. When the second twenty-four hours after their take-off from Berlin began last night and approached the 36-hour mark without word today, even those who kept in mind the slowness of communication in some of the areas where they might have landed, began to doubt.

About to Search
The Bureau of Aviation had considered the possibility of sending out an aerial searching party to try to locate the fliers but it decided it was useless to do so until there was (Continued on Page Twelve)

BELIEVE ALL ARE DEAD IN SUNKEN SUBMARINE

Blast Caused Disaster Sub Expert Believes

Westfield, N. J., July 8.—(AP)—Commander Edward Ellsberg, U. S. N., Retired, who was awarded the distinguished service medal and promoted by special Act of Congress for his work in raising the American submarines S-41 and S-51 said today that, as far as could be ascertained from the meager facts, the most probable cause of the sinking of the Promethee was an internal explosion.

"The scarcity of facts," he said, "makes me hesitate at this point to give a definite opinion as to the cause of the accident or the possibility of the crew being saved."

"But considering the circumstances—that is a submarine operating on the surface with her hatches open and her commander and others on deck and showing no intention of submerging—the most probable cause of sinking is an internal explosion."

"All submarines give off an odorless gas, hydrogen, when charging batteries, and this gas when mixed even in small proportions, with air forms an extremely powerful explosive mixture, which might be ignited from a number of causes inside the boat."

Hull Damaged
"The resulting explosion might easily have so damaged the hull as to sink the submarine immediately. In our own Navy there have been two cases of such hydrogen explosions wrecking the boats and killing a large number of men."

It is hardly probable, Commander Ellsberg added, "that any other ordinary accident to which submarines are liable would have resulted in damage enough to sink the boat. These are principally caused by carelessness in opening the Kingston valves for torpedo tube doors," he said.

"Since it is reported that the hatches were open," he said, "and it is usual for submarines running on the surface to have all interior doors open it is extremely likely that the boat was flooded from end to end when she went under and that the men inside had slight chance of closing any of the doors or of sealing themselves up in an undamaged compartment."

"It is probable therefore that the entire crew inside the boat were drowned immediately. If however, any of the men in a section remote from the damaged part of the submarine could close off the doors to their compartment, it is hoped exists that anything can be done for them from the surface."

Cherbourg, France, July 8.—(AP)—Police received an erroneous report this afternoon that Lieutenant Amaury du Meulil, commander of the submarine Promethee which sank yesterday, had committed suicide. It was quickly denied.

Cherbourg, France, July 8.—(AP)—Salvage vessels hovering above the spot where the submarine Promethee went down yesterday reported air bubbles on the surface this afternoon.

They also found the Promethee's telephone buoy but there was no sound at the other end of the wire. The submarine, with more than 60 men aboard, lay in 245 feet of water, seven miles north of Cape Levi.

It is a bad spot, with treacherous currents and an uneven bottom. The prevailing impression among those that raising her would be an almost impossible task.

Call Salvage Ship
Nevertheless the first thing the authorities did this morning when the hull was located was to call for help from the Italian salvage vessel Argo II which left Cherbourg immediately.

One of the seven men who were saved told a story this morning which, if it was accurate, indicated some of the men in the ship might have been drowned very quickly.

This man was on the deck when the Promethee sank. There was a hissing noise which brought the captain up from below in a hurry, he said.

Apparently the captain saw at a glance that his ship was in danger, for he ordered all hands below and all doors shut quickly.

"Four doors were kicked shut," said the sailor, "but there was another open to the officers' compartment. I saw one of the men try to close it but it jammed and the ship went out from under our feet and we were swept into the water. It looked to me as though the sea would go through that door with nothing to stop it."

SEVEN MEN SAVED
Cherbourg, France, July 8.—(AP)—The French Navy, refusing to give up hope for the sixty-six men, who went down with its new submarine Promethee near here yesterday, decided today to call for help from Italian salvage vessels.

The Maritime Prefecture sent a radio message to the captain of the Italian salvage ship D'Ataglia, sister ship of the Argo II which recently raised the 10,000-ton gold from the hold of the mink steamer Egypt asking if it could aid in salvage of the Promethee. The ship was only a short distance away.

The necessity for pinning hopes for a rescue on deep sea diving gear was all the more apparent when it was discovered that the hull of the Promethee lies in nearer 180 than 150 feet of the stormy channel floor.

Officials of the Maritime Prefecture said they were still unable to form any definite opinion as to the cause of the sinking. They said they knew nothing of reports that the ship sank by an explosion, but a trawler which crossed the spot reported a large spot of oil over the place soon after the ship went down.

The seven survivors knew nothing of an explosion they said. All they could say was they were on deck at the time and felt the submarine sink under them.

Commander Du Meulil said he was not able to explain the accident.

"I heard a noise on the deck," he said, "and thinking a man was aboard, I sprang up the ladder. I was dumfounded to see the deck awash and as I climbed out the hatch I felt the ship sink under me and I was thrown into the sea. It is impossible to explain how it happened."

Strong currents made salvage operations difficult. The spot is nearly opposite the place where the British Navy lobbed last January for days in a fruitless effort to rescue the crew of the submarine H-4 when it sank on a mission to France.

Two Years Old
The submarine has been in service only two years. It had not been working well and a number of civilian experts were about yesterday when it set out to make a diving test.

DAVILA REPLACES CABINET MEMBERS

Santiago, Chile, July 8.—(AP)—Carlos G. Davila, who became acting-president of Chile yesterday when two members of his governing Junta resigned, today swore in a reorganized Cabinet and announced the Junta was at an end.

This development followed an all-night conference with former President Carlos Ibanez, recently returned from exile in Argentina. A number of outstanding political leaders participated in the discussion.

It had been expected that Ibanez would be a member of the government, but apparently Senator Davila is determined to operate for the present without him.

New members of the Cabinet are: Pedro Lagos—War; Francisco Nieto—Navy; Eusebio Penavillalon—Lands; Juan Rossetti—Justice. The rest of the Cabinet remains unchanged.

CANNON NOT IMPRESSED

Ashville, N. C., July 8.—(AP)—Bishop James Cannon, J., militant dry enroute to attend a meeting of the Board of Temperance and Social Service of the Southern Methodist Church, appeared little impressed by the nomination of William D. Ann Dvorak, who rose rapidly to stardom, is the latest to break with the studio. James Cagney, red-haired actor and portrayer of "hard-boiled" roles, quit recently.

As in Cagney's case, the matter of salary entered into Miss Dvorak's sudden departure yesterday for New York via the Panama Canal. She said she would sail from New York to Europe with her husband, Leslie Fenton, to visit his parents in London.

Miss Dvorak was selected from a chorus a year ago by Howard Hughes to play in "Scarface." She was reported to have received a salary of $250 weekly, and when Hughes sold her contract to Warner Brothers-First National, it was said she received no increase in salary although she had been given stellar roles.

At the time of her departure, Miss Dvorak was to be loaned by Warner Brothers to Samuel Goldwyn to co-star with Ronald Colman.

KILLS CHILD, SELF
New York, July 8.—(AP)—Despite the pleas of a crowd of frantic neighbors Mrs. Helen Pabon, 31, stood on the window sill of her fifth floor Bronx apartment, hurled her five-year-old daughter to the courtyard below and then jumped.

The woman was dead when neighbors reached her. The child died in a hospital.

COMPROMISE TICKET

Norwalk, July 8.—(AP)—Frank Lowson of Washington, D. C., chairman of the platform Committee of the Farm-Labor Party, who is in Norwalk recuperating from an illness, has communicated with Senator William E. Borah and Colonel Frank E. Webb, presidential nominee of the new Liberty Party, urging the formation of a compromise dry group with Borah and Webb as the presidential and vice presidential nominees.

Mr. Lowson, a personal friend of Representative W. B. Upshaw, standard bearer of the Prohibition Party, has written to Mr. Upshaw asking that he support the compromise ticket.

In the platform of the compromise party Mr. Lowson would have but two issues: Enforcement of the 18th Amendment, with a constitutional amendment preventing a popular referendum on any subject, and the removal of the control of the banking and currency system from the hands of foreign international bankers.

ANN DVORAK QUILTS

Hollywood, July 8.—(AP)—For the second time within recent weeks, revolt has struck the ranks of film stars of Warner Brothers-First National studios.

Ann Dvorak, who rose rapidly to stardom, is the latest to break with the studio. James Cagney, red-haired actor and portrayer of "hard-boiled" roles, quit recently.

As in Cagney's case, the matter of salary entered into Miss Dvorak's sudden departure yesterday for New York via the Panama Canal. She said she would sail from New York to Europe with her husband, Leslie Fenton, to visit his parents in London.

Miss Dvorak was selected from a chorus a year ago by Howard Hughes to play in "Scarface." At the time of her departure, Miss Dvorak was to be loaned by Warner Brothers to Samuel Goldwyn to co-star with Ronald Colman.

Lally, for over a quarter of a century connected with the Connecticut Humane Society, but for the past ten years employed by the Hartford Courant, died at St. Francis hospital, Hartford, last night. HELD FRUIT AUCTIONS FOR NEW HAVEN GROWERS

Robert M. Reid and Son Conducted Sales There All During Last Month.

Robert M. Reid and son have returned to Manchester. During the month of June they had charge of the auctions that were held in New Haven by the fruit growers association in that vicinity. The auctions that they conducted were on strawberries and in the thirty days during the month they conducted twenty-eight auctions and disposed of 8,000 crates of strawberries. The growers would bring in their strawberries and the auction was conducted on condition that not less than ten crates be purchased at the highest price offered. This also meant that the buyer had the right to take as many over ten crates as he wanted. It brought to the market buyers from wholesale houses as well as chain store buyers and was the first auction of this kind conducted by the growers around New Haven.

CLUSTER INN POPULAR WITH LOCAL DANCERS

A large number of Manchester people are regular dance patrons at Cluster Inn, Mago Point, Waterford on the Niantic River. The reason is the popularity of the place coupled with the fact that Bill Innes's band is playing there. Innes is a Hartford man and his orchestra played during the winter months at a night club in Hartford. Lanky Crawford, popular trap drummer, is with Innes's band. Hugh McCaull of 218 West Center street this town is in charge of the catering at Cluster Inn and he assures all his Manchester friends of the best of service at the Inn. Special steak dinners are offered at a very reasonable price. This week an Hawaiian singer is featured with the orchestra.

DEMPSEY WANTS TO MEET SHARKEY

San Francisco, July 8—(AP)—Jack Dempsey says he wants to fight Jack Sharkey, world's heavyweight boxing champion.

But the former champion, after expressing the wish for a 15-round title bout, in an interview last night, added the time was not ripe for such a fight, with boxing at a low ebb.

Dempsey recalled knocking out the Boston sailor in the seventh round of a fight in 1927, and said he believed his same tactics would be successful again.

"If there's one man I can beat it's Jack Sharkey," said Dempsey. "I have looked at the Sharkey-Schmeling pictures and think Sharkey has slowed up considerably since I fought him. Furthermore, he's the type of fighter I think I can beat. He comes in on you, and is particularly susceptible to a body attack."

ROBBED LOCAL WOMEN, LOCATED IN ALBANY

New Haven Man To Be Arrested and Returned To Tolland County—Now Serving Sentence.

State Police from the Stafford Barracks will be in Albany tomorrow to greet Cedric Roth of New Haven, age 30, who is wanted for the theft of money to the amount of about $80 from pocketbooks owned by Mrs. Irene King and Miss Lillian Young of Manchester, taken from their automobile while in Union on May 24.

The money that was stolen was nearly all recovered and Roth was being taken from Union to the Stafford Springs barracks to be held for a hearing the next day when he made his escape. In the investigation that followed it was learned that Roth had a state prison record having served a term of ten years for burglary in New Haven. In the investigation it was learned that he had been picked up in Albany and was serving a ten day sentence for petty theft.

His term will expire tomorrow and when the gates open to him there he will be met by a state policeman from the Stafford barracks and brought back to Union and will go to trial there for his act of taking the money from the Manchester women and will also be called upon to answer to the charge of being a fugitive from justice.

WAGE CUT IN DOUBT

Hartford, July 8—(AP)—The sub-committee of the State Board of Finance and Control is still considering the problem of deducting something from the salaries of State employees, the meeting Thursday afternoon having no definite results. The committee is said to have battled away at the problem all afternoon and was no closer to a solution at the conclusion of the meeting than at the start of the session.

No date has been set for the next meeting of the committee, but it is very evident there will be no report for the board of finance and control next week, and whatever action is taken by the committee will have no bearing on the August 1 payment of salaries which will be for July services. Whatever decision the committee makes it now seems quite likely there will be a minimum, but one of the big problems is the determination of that minimum.

AWARDED GOLD STAR

Hightstown, N. J., July 8—(AP)—Edward L. Pratt, of Great Barrington, Mass., has been awarded the Gold Star, highest award for scholarship at Peddie Institute during the past academic year, Headmaster Roger W. Swetland announced today.

Pratt received also the Wyckoff honor prize at commencement as the senior, who was adjudged to possess in the highest degree ability, character and attainment.

Another first honor winner was Robert H. Fuller, of Suffield, Conn., commencement orator for the 1932 class, athlete and member of the House committee.

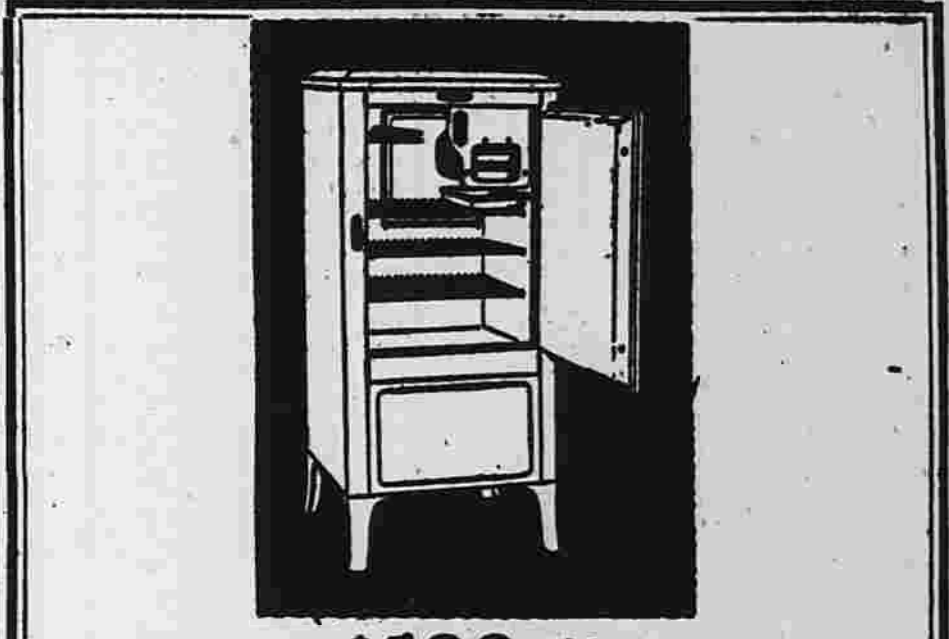

BOOZE FOUND ON LINER

New York, July 8—(AP)—Four hundred bottles of assorted liquor, valued by Customs officials at $2,000, were seized aboard the White Star liner Majestic after a two-day search, Customs officials disclosed today.

The seizure was made last night. The liquor was found behind mirrors and panels in the third-class cabins.

While no arrests were made it was said at the Custom House that the line, which has been a careful observer of the Customs law in seeing that liquor supplies were placed under seal before the ships reached an American port, faces a fine of $2,000, the value of the seized contraband.

Just what prompted the inspectors to make such a careful scrutiny of the paneling and mirrors of the ship was not made clear. Customs officials expressed the belief that some members of the crew had secreted the liquor aboard.

FIRE-CRACKER VICTIM IMPROVED, GOES HOME

William, Son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hackett Poisoned When Wound Becomes Infected.

William Hackett, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hackett of North Main street, Buckland, has returned home after being at the Manchester Memorial hospital. The boy was handling some fire crackers on July 4 and one exploded in his hand. The wound became infected and a serum was injected which seemed to have a rapid reaction and the poison spread through the forearm. Another serum was injected above the elbow that reacted against the poison and after two days at the hospital he was able to return home, the danger overcome.

ROOSEVELT SEEKS VOTES OF FARMERS

May Make Tour of Middle West At Start of His Campaign.

Albany, N. Y., July 8.—(AP)—The all important question as to when and where Governor Roosevelt will speak to the farmers of the middle west may be one of the first decisions of the Democratic nominee.

The governor was to confer here today with Arthur Mullen of Nebraska, Roosevelt floor manager at the Chicago convention.

One of the foundation stones on which Democratic hopes are built is the belief that the party can win the farmers away from the Republican Party and it is known that Democratic leaders consider the governor's projected midwestern trip as one of the most important he will make.

Party Finances
The conference with Mullen is the first of a number on campaign matters which will keep Roosevelt busy at Hyde Park and at New York city through Sunday.

The matter of party finances will take much of his time with selection of the treasurer of the national committee and chairman of the finance committee, the first steps toward efforts to fill the campaign chest.

Next week Roosevelt will be vacationing off shore along the New England coast with his boys.

He will go to sea immediately after his week-end of political conferences.

Last night Albany county Democratic organization, powerful opponent of the nominee in the State organization during the last year, lined up its followers, pledged support in a huge demonstration and promised to roll up the vote for the governor over given any candidate for the presidency in the city and county.

Albany leaders were for Governor Smith to the last at Chicago.

WET WOMEN TO BACK DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE

New York, July 8.—(AP)—After voting to support Franklin D. Roosevelt for president, the National executive committee of the Women's organization for National Prohibition Reform drove ahead today to create Roosevelt committees "in every state."

Mrs. Charles H. Sabin, the Republican leader of the organization, said:

"Citizens' Roosevelt-for-President committees will be started in every state. We are going to make a concentrated drive for members in the South."

The women wet leaders, whose organization claims a million members with divisions in 42 states, thrashed out their views in an all-day meeting yesterday at the home of Mrs. Edward S. Moore in Roslyn, Long Island. Of the 60 women present, 29 were described as Republicans.

The vote including proxies and mail ballots, stood 61 to 19 on the two paragraphs of the resolution dealing with the support of the

FRIDAY, JULY 8.

MAN FROM SHROPSHIRE

We are entitled to Walter Lippmann for a concise analysis of the reparations-debts situation at Lausanne which presents the problem in the clearest possible light. The tentative agreement reached there, which of course must be submitted to the various peoples concerned, is that Germany should not be asked to pay anything for at least three years; that the total of her payments thereafter would exceed by very little just two of the sixty-odd payments provided for under the Young plan; that even this comparatively small final payment of reparations should not fall due until Germany's credit had become good enough so that she could sell the necessary bonds. The total of Germany's future payment would be the total of interest and amortization on a $750,000,000 bond issue, or about a billion dollars, which the German tax payers could pay off at the rate of $100,000,000 a year for ten years. Under the Young plan Germany was supposed to pay five times as much for thirty-six years and nearly four times as much for another twenty years.

It will be seen that Germany's European war creditors have agreed to what comes pretty close to cancellation. And as Lippmann points out, whether their populations accept such a settlement or not, it will be impossible ever again to demand from Germany more than what the creditor conferees have agreed is fair. That means that, save for the almost negligible final settlement sum, German reparations are permanently and definitely written off.

The effect of this, of course, is that instead of meeting their own debt payments to the United States as in the past out of the sums they were receiving from Germany, the European peoples will have to pay us out of their own money if they pay at all. Whence arises anew the question of whether we shall keep on insisting on what is our ethical as well as our legal due or whether we in turn shall scale down the war debts to the point of virtual cancellation; whether we shall do what the European nations are doing and for the same reason. France and Italy and Britain are not agreeing to let Germany off because of any legal or ethical flaw in her claims against her, nor out of maudlin sympathy. They are letting her off in the interest of restoration of world credits and world trade, so that they themselves may benefit. If we should let off our war debtors it would have to be for the same reason—because we had decided that it was better to forgive a debt and keep a customer than to sacrifice decades of good will and good business for the sake of a fanatical insistence on our rights—and become a veritable Man from Shropshire.

Dickens never drew a more tragic figure than his Man from Shropshire, wasting the years of his life in the mud and dust of the Court of Chancery, demanding and demanding again that which was his unquestionable right—and never receiving it; and being disregarded and friendless and uninteresting and useless to himself or his fellows.

We shall never get those war debt rights of ours. Shall we let the fact poison our relations with a world which will soon forget all about the justice of our claim and come to think of us merely as a scolding nuisance—shall we become the international Man from Shropshire?

MRS. SABIN'S "MILSON"

Announcement that the Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform will support the Democratic national candidates with the women" would be of the greatest significance if it could be accepted at its face value. It cannot, however, be valued at par.

Neither Mrs. Charles H. Sabin, excellent politician as she is, nor the executive committee of the Women's Organization is in any position to deliver the votes of the members of the association, who are scattered all over the country and who had not been polled in advance of the committee's decision to back Roosevelt. The value of the announcement is comparable to one that conceivably might be made by Mrs. Ella A. Boole pledging the votes of the 600,000 members of the W. C. T. U. to that funny little horse of a man W. D. Uphaw of Georgia whom the Prohibitionists yesterday nominated for the Presidency.

Really, only a small proportion of W. C. T. U. members will, in all probability, vote the Prohibition ticket next November; the votes of most of them will go to the Republican party in the North and to the Democratic party in the South. And there is considerably less reason for a woman vote to abandon her natural party affiliation than for a W. C. T. U. voter to do so. In the case of the latter a vote for Uphaw will be the only recourse if she considers liquor to be the dominant issue of the times. In the case of the former she would be shifting allegiance over a matter of a split hair. Not a great many voters of either sex are liable to do that.

The Republican liquor plank, declaring as it does for resubmission of the Eighteenth amendment, constitutes full compliance with the demand of the wets that the country be allowed to free itself from the moral, social and economic burden of federal prohibition. That is exactly what the Women's Organization for Prohibition Reform was organized to bring about. If Mrs. Sabin imagines that the Republican members of her organization are going to follow her and her executive committee in a blind bolt away from the party to which they are naturally attached, and which has declared itself in favor of the very purpose for which the women wets leagued themselves together, she is deluding herself. They will not do it because there is no slightest reason why they should.

Moreover, Mrs. Sabin and her committee have weakened their position more than a little by taking this action in advance of Mr. Hoover's speech of acceptance. They do not know, cannot know, what his attitude toward prohibition will be in the light of the Chicago platform. They have taken a shot in the dark—and missed.

DEMOCRATIC RULES

During the Democratic convention it was reported from the convention hall that the rules committee, after long controversy, had decided to report a rule continuing in effect the historic two-thirds condition upon nominations, but for the 1932 convention alone; thereafter it was to be abrogated. Whether or not that rule was ever reported with the future proviso contained within it we have never been able to learn. But whether or no it is difficult to see how such a proceeding could be of much effect.

A political party is not a constitutional body, governed by a written instrument of inflexible authority though subject to formal amendment. Each succeeding party convention is a law unto itself. It can and does make its own rules. It is impossible for one convention to bind the succeeding one. So that even if the future majority rule was ever adopted, which seems problematical, it could be disregarded as well as not in 1936.

It would seem, however, that the sooner the Democratic party took some step toward complete disavowal of the two-thirds rule in 1936—through some such means as a sort of round-robin renunciation of the historic system by all state central committees—the more likelihood there would be of its conventions being freed from the risks of deadlock and jobbery or deals resulting from threats of them.

While they were about it they might, too, get rid of their unit rule system under which it is entirely possible for a minority candidate to poll more votes in a convention than a majority candidate.

Of course, it's none of our business. But we do love peace.

DOHERTY SUITS

Henry L. Doherty's lawsuits against the Kansas City Star are not made any more convincing by the size of the damages they allege. As a matter of fact their principal effect is to make the suttler look a little silly.

Because the Star had been conducting a campaign to oust Mr. Doherty's Cities Service Company to sell gas at lower rates in Man-charges which Doherty affects to believe were libelous and injurious to his business he and his company had already sued the Star for a dozen million dollars. Now, when the Star undisturbed by the mere size of the claim, has kept on with its campaign, he brings a new batch of suits alleging damage to a total of forty-two millions, making altogether fifty-four millions that Doherty is asking the courts to award him at the Star's expense.

This is beginning to sound a good deal like one of those small boy arguments—"bet ye a thousand million trillion dollars my father kin lick your father."

RETAIL "TAXES"

Collectors of Internal revenue are issuing warnings to the public purporting to retail customers on guard against dealers who may attempt to collect from them the new federal taxes on articles subject to the manufacturers' excise tax. It would seem improbable that there would be any such retailers—we feel very confident that there are none of that breed in Manchester—but as to some places, you never can tell.

It is pointed out that any retailer who did try to seek his customer by demanding the amount of the tax would be courting serious trouble. Under the law he would be guilty of a misdemeanor and would be liable to a fine of $1,000 and to imprisonment for a year.

The excise taxes are paid by the manufacturer. If they are passed along it must be in the form of an increased price on the taxed article. There must be no pretence that the dealer is collecting a tax for transmission to the United States government, because the government has already received its excise tax before the article finds its way into the hands of the retailer.

QUOTATIONS

The fact that the United States is far away from Europe makes it impatient. The proposal (Hoover's disarmament plan) must be placed in its proper perspective. The plan would carry us far in large scale reductions, but France believes it must be considered in relation with the organization of international security. Joseph Paul-Boncour, French delegate to Geneva.

There is something ridiculous about a woman who writes—Dorothy Parker, writer.

A politician has to stand for a lot in times like these.—Mayor James J. Walker of New York.

A Thought

(Cholecystitis and Appendicitis)
 Question: B. M. asks: "Can cholecystitis and chronic appendicitis be cured without an operation?"
 Answer: Most cases of cholecystitis and appendicitis can be cured without an operation. The first thing for you to do is to improve the functioning of your intestines. The colitis, which precedes appendicitis must be eliminated. When this has been accomplished, any inflammation which may exist in the gall bladder or liver usually disappears.

ATHLETE'S FOOT.

With the coming of the summer season one should guard against the infection commonly called Athlete's Foot. This disease is contagious and is usually picked up by walking around barefoot in public pools, showers, locker rooms and gymnasiums. Athlete's Foot is more often found in the leisure classes who frequent such places than among the poor. Protect yourself this summer by always wearing some form of foot covering, such as rubber shoes, while swimming or taking a shower in a public bath-house. This disease is picked up most readily by warm, bare, moist feet.

Athlete's Foot at one time had a rapid spread, but is now somewhat checked, due to the increased vigilance of those in charge of public pools where it is most likely to occur and every effort is made to prevent bathers from this danger. However, it is extremely difficult to wipe out, and as long as any possibility of infection remains it would suggest that you wear foot covering.

If you have contracted Athlete's Foot, I would advise you to use a great deal of care lest you infect others in your family or in your group of associates.

Athlete's Foot is nothing else but Ringworm of the feet. Often those who have it do not know the name of their trouble. It is caused by a microscopic vegetable parasite, or fungus.

Athlete's Foot begins as a itching spot between the toes. The skin turns red, scales and cracks, peels off and then blisters form. The toes develop small ulcers under them, which appear red or inflamed and have white borders; and a peculiar itching or burning is present which grows worse during summer heat or after any exercise which increases the perspiration of the foot. The trouble usually begins quickly and gradually becomes worse unless checked. The soles of the feet or the toes may also be affected. More men than women suffer from Athlete's Foot.

During the warm weather, the wearing of heavy shoes clogs up the skin of the feet, causing excessive perspiration to form between the toes and undoubtedly lowers the resistance of the skin, causing a predisposition of Athlete's Foot. By changing the hose daily, washing the foot often, and wearing suitable summer shoes, the resistance of the skin may be increased. The treatment for Athlete's Foot consists principally in using some antiseptic solution to kill the parasites. Ultraviolet light treatments will also kill all parasites on the surface, and this same effect may be obtained through sun-bathing the feet for a long time.

The feet should be exposed on all sides for about an hour in the summer sun, the patient keeping other portions of the body covered part of the time so as to prevent sunburn.

In curing the itching toes you must persevere until the condition is absolutely cleared up, for, if one spot is left unhealed, it will cause the rest of the toes to become infected over again. If you have been wearing woolen golf hose while the infection was present, you may often re-infect your ties by wearing them again, since wool cannot be boiled thoroughly.

SLAVES HEART OUT SO HE CAN LEARN TO PAINT

"Beauty Lies Beyond Hell" is Moving Story of a Young Artist.

Ordinarily, when you find a novelist going stream-of-consciousness on you, you are quite safe in shutting him off and going out to a movie. However, in the novel "Beauty Lies Beyond Hell," by Howard W. Roper, this rule fails to apply. The book has a tortured, irritating style, but there's a solid nourishment in it.

It is a story about a city lad in his middle teens. He wants to be an artist, and so he has to go to an art school. He is an orphan and he has no money, so he has to slave away at a series of poorly-paid odd jobs to put himself through school.

The story covers just one year in his life, and it leaves him in much the same situation as he occupied when the story began; but somehow, simple as it is, it tells you something—tells you something about the disinheritance, and their struggle for a little bit more than daily bread, and the tantalizing dream that comes to them, and the pathetic ways in which they try to make them come true.

This lad works—in a dance hall, in a chemical factory, in a store. He meets girls, loves them, loses them; they move away, or they fall ill and die, or better men come along and take them away. And all the time he keeps his eye on his great ambition, and tries to fight through to the beauty which he has glimpsed.

It makes a moving story. You'll find it a bit hard to read, maybe, but it's worth the effort. Mr. Roper is sincere and he understands things. It is published by Ray Long and Richard R. Smith, and costs $2.

Thomas Jefferson wrote his own epitaph. It reads: "Here lies Thomas Jefferson, who was the Declaration of Independence, of the statute for religious freedom in Virginia, and founder of the University of Virginia."

Question: Mrs. Selma L. inquirer:
 "Is it all right to use the leaves as well as the stalks of rhubarb? Also would the leaves make good greens like spinach?"

Answer: Rhubarb contains some oxalic acid and so much is concentrated in the leaves that poisoning has been known to result when the leaves were used as greens. Consequently, I would not advise their use. The stalk has only a moderate amount of oxalic acid—not enough to be harmful in most cases.

(Cream of Tartar)

Question: F. Q. asks: "What medicinal values has cream of tartar? Is it of any value as a blood cleanser?"

Answer: It is true that cream of tartar is often considered a blood cleanser, but why take anything of such doubtful value when it is possible through fasting and dieting to make your blood 100% clean? Did you read the articles I recently wrote about a Cleansing Diet? If not, I will be glad to send you these articles called The Spring Elimination Diet Course in return for a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

The Political Follies of '32

By RODNEY DUTCHER

Chicago—The position of permanent chairman at a national political convention, which will provide the first floor fight between the forces of Governor Roosevelt and Al Smith at the Democratic meeting, is one of dignity, conspicuousness and importance.

"Hard-boiled Earl" Spell demonstrated as much when he ably filled the job for the Republicans. Either Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana and Democratic Executive Chairman Joseph Shouse, Roosevelt and Smith choose respectively, probably will have a much more exciting time presiding over the Democrats. Their battle will probably usher in the convention.

Although the temporary chairman delivers the party's keynote speech and the keynote speech is theoretically the convention's prize gem of partisan oratory, it is quite possible for the permanent chairman to take the honors away from the keynote when he subsequently delivers his own speech before business really begins.

Many thought Spell would be chosen as speaker of the convention, but his presence was superior; he gave the Democrats a terrible lesson, which was what the delegates wanted to hear.

After the Roosevelt faction had supported Shouse for permanent chairman in a deal which closed on Senator Barkley of Kentucky for keynote, they learned that he was working on a speech which he refused to submit to the governor and his men. Realizing Shouse's anti-Roosevelt leanings, they were particularly indignant by that fact when they declared war on him and announced their support of Walsh.

Keeping the convention and gathering in order is another job of the chairman in which either Shouse or Walsh can do as well as anyone. Such an effect as impressive Prudden manner with a gravel in his hand.

So on Spell, who showed it when wets sitting out of his hand. Recognition of delegates who wait the floor occasionally because of enormous importance. It did in 1912, when Chairman Ollie James recognized William Jennings Bryan, perhaps improperly in the middle of a roll call so Bryan could announce and explain his breaking of instructions for Champ Clark after Tammany had suddenly given Clark the big New York vote. Bryan thus was allowed to step in against what might well have been a stampede to Clark on that ballot.

A permanent chairman can hardly suppress a majority, but he can be ruthless with a minority. The effectiveness of his power of recognition or non-recognition was seen when Spell refused to recognize ex-Senator Francis of Maryland, who wanted to withdraw his candidacy in favor of Coolidge.

Spell was technically correct, do doubt, but there was a man trying to stampede the convention and even though his chances were slim in any event he was dragged away and never had a chance, thanks to the permanent chairman.

In a bitter, difficult convention, disputes break out among delegates which require rulings from the chair. Walsh, though he acquiesced himself well, had a terrible time of it at Madison Square Garden in 1924, what with resolutions, gaveling and innumerable

He had to pass on various attempts to attack the unit rule, cases in which individual delegates wanted to vote their own choice as against the choice of majorities of their delegations. He had to decide such points as whether the two-thirds and other rules could be by two-thirds or only a majority vote and whether a motion would be in order to adjourn the convention to Kansas City. At all times Walsh upheld the unit rule if it had been imposed on delegating by stage conventions.

When eight Missouri delegates, who were voting under that rule for McCoo, demanded to be recorded as not voting, Walsh recorded as not voting. Walsh insisted that their votes be counted for McCoo. They must be so voted, he said, even if absent.

Something happened in the Canal Zone delegation of six which might easily occur in a large state delegation. Instructed to vote for McCoo as long as he had a chance, the delegation was divided three to three for McCoo and three for Smith.

Then he hunted with others on the platform, reviewed himself and reported that a majority had been secured. This was the last of the convention, and the vote was counted. The vote was counted, and the delegates were counted.

LADY MOUNTBATTEN WINS LIBEL SUIT

Many Prominent Society Folk At Trial In London; Newspaper Loses Suit.

London, July 8.—(AP)—Lady Louis Mountbatten emerged victor today from a libel action against the Odhams Press Ltd., publishers of "The People," Sunday newspaper, when the defendants apologized and paid all her costs and expenses.

Lady Mountbatten was said to have refused to accept heavy damages which the paper was willing to pay.

Many prominent society people occupied seats in the courtroom when the case was called but Lady Mountbatten's attorneys announced at once that the action had been settled.

She and her husband rushed back to England unexpectedly yesterday from a long vacation in Malta where they entertained former King Alfonso XIII of Spain.

The plaintiff's attorney informed the court that although it was unusual he wanted to read into the record the libelous article on which the action was based.

"I'll do that," he said, "so that its full enormity may be known and every fact in this case plainly stated so that the world may know that these four rumors have been brought out of the region of hints into the light of publicity."

Then he read the following clipping from the newspaper: "Famous Hostess Exiled. Society Shaken by Terrible Scandal."

"I am able to reveal today the sequel to a scandal which has shaken society to its very depths. It concerns one of the leading hostesses in the country, a woman highly connected and immensely rich."

"Her associations with a colored man became so marked that they were the talk of the west end. Then one day the couple were caught in compromising circumstances."

"The sequel is that the society woman has been given a hint to clear out of England with a couple of years to let the affair blow over, and the hint comes from a quarter which cannot be ignored."

The lord chief justice impounded a copy of the publication containing the libel, after pointing out that some libels were criminal offenses.

Lord Louis sat with Lady Mountbatten during the proceedings. He is a second cousin of King George.

The attorney stated that inasmuch as Lord Mountbatten had been attached as naval officer with the Mediterranean fleet with headquarters at Malta in August, 1931, it was only natural that his wife and their children should join him there.

John S. Polson of 97 Pleasant street was installed president of Scandia Lodge, No. 23, Order of Vasa, at the regular meeting of the lodge in Orange Hall last night.

Others installed were: Herbert Johnson, vice president; Elmer Thoren, chaplain; Elmore Anderson, master of ceremonies; Carl T. Johnson, assistant master of ceremonies; Miss Fridborg Thoren, inner guard; and Mrs. Ellen Modcan, outer guard.

Refreshments were served following the meeting.

NOT THE HUMORIST

Oklahoma City, July 8.—(AP)—Will Rogers, schoolmaster, will know after July 26 how much of his vote for Congressman-at-Large in the state primary was cast because he bore the name of Oklahoma's internationally known cowboy-humorist.

Holding an imposing lead in the race, but not a majority, Rogers faces in a run-off election Mrs. Mabel Bassett, who says she will win the Democratic nomination by telling the voters her opponent, is not "Oklahoma's famous character, but another fellow, a school teacher."

Led by Senator Elmer Thomas, who polled nearly twice as many votes as his closest Democratic opponent, the Oklahoma Congressional delegation remained in the running for re-election although Thomas and Representatives F. B. Swank, Tom D. McKeown, J. V. McClintic and W. W. Hastings faced run-off duels.

THEATERS AT THE STATE

Two Features The current program at the State presents Jack Oakie and Richard Arlen in the amusingly thrilling air story "Sky Brides," and Joan Bennett and Ben Lyon in "Week Ends Only."

Oakie and Arlen have not been together in a picture since they made the memorably "Touchdown," last fall. It was their first appearance together in a picture and so insistant has been the demand that they co-star in another, that Paramount has now responded to the demand of the fans by presenting them in "Sky Brides."

It is a worthy successor to "Touchdown." The story is somewhat of a departure from the usual air picture, inasmuch as it is not a war picture. The story centers around stunt flyers in an air circus which is being put on the country.

Laughs and thrills crowd on each other heels throughout. Jack Oakie has his own inimitable way of getting laughs and in "Sky Brides" he extracts plenty. Richard Arlen as the ace stunt flyer who loses his nerve after a crackup in which his aerial is killed, has a role that provides the serious moments of the picture.

Virginia Bruce, a beautiful blonde, supplies the romance in a big way. Little Robert Coogan plays an important part in the unfolding of the plot, and as usual, he attracts plenty of attention.

"Week Ends Only" is ideal warm weather entertainment. Light and breezy, it is just the thing to enjoy when the weather is such one does not care to concentrate too hard. Joan Bennett is seen as the young society girl who experiences a reversal upon the death of her father. Penniless, she accepts a job as a week-end entertainer. It is her duty to act as hostess at elaborate week-end parties given by the so-called "400."

Her experiences in her new job provide a story with her new zip and one that will be relished by all kinds of movie audiences. Ben Lyon has the leading male role, and he has seldom appeared to better advantage.

Few stars have had such a rapid rise on the screen as James Cagney. Each of his pictures has scored a greater triumph than the preceding one. Now he comes out with "Winner Take All," a mile-a-minute laugh riot, and it will be shown at the State for three days starting Sunday night.

COUNTRY CLUB SODA CO. OFFERING FINE PRIZES

Boys and girls all over Western New England who excel at any athletic event are making their plans to enter the contest to be held in connection with the big fourth annual outing sponsored by the Country Club Soda Company on July 13 at Riverside Park near Springfield.

With $100 in gold as prizes for the winners of the various events, there is plenty of incentive to compete. While the entire arrangement of the program is not yet definitely determined, it is certain there will be races of various types for both boys and girls, classed according to ages so that every one will compete against others approximately equal size and experience.

Dr. Alfred Glickman who is heading the corps of Red Cross nurses present for the occasion, will be on hand during the races to guard against any accident or injuries. Any boy or girl wanting full details can get them from Herman Katz, Secretary of the Country Club Soda Company, under whose general supervision the whole outing is being conducted.

The athletic program is only a part of the day's series of events, which include entertainment by several bands and drum corps, a vaudeville show, free rides on the C.R. trolley, the Aeroplanes Swing, and free use of the big swimming pool so popular with the patrons of Riverside Park.

Another feature will be a mammoth treasure hunt, open to everybody, with appropriate prizes. Country Club Day also marks the closing of a $200.00 bottle cap contest which has been engaging the interest of many boys and girls from this section.

In addition to the 37 cash prizes, 28 cases of Country Club beverages will be distributed among those presenting the largest number of Country Club bottle caps on that day.

Must Stop Yanks Soon Or Concede Them Title

Tigers Down Them Yesterday 8-5 In 10 Innings But New Yorkers Still Have Big Lead.

By Associated Press

The events of the next fortnight should tell pretty definitely whether the Yanks are to continue their headlong flight toward the championship of the American League or be challenged by one or more of their rivals.

The second place Tigers put on a routing today to capture their opener with the leaders 8 to 5 in 10 innings. They jumped on Lefty Gomez, who appeared in a relief role for three runs in the ninth to knot the score and then routed the Castilian in the 10th with three more. Jonathan Stone, Tiger outfielder knocked in two runs in each of the big innings. Gomez walked four batters in the fatal 10th.

GEMS WIN AGAIN, TOP SPORT CENTERS

Supples, Wallett, Dowd Figure In Scoring As Team Scores 4-1 Victory.

Manchester baseball players again occupied the limelight last night as the Gems won their third straight game in the Hartford Twilight League at Colt's Park defeating the Sport Centers 4 to 1. A crowd of 2,000 witnessed the contest.

In the absence of Lefty St. John who is in Pennsylvania, Bobby Smith, member of the local high school team, played centerfield. Tommy Supples, captain of the Gems, again led the attack for his team. His triple in the fourth caused the first run of the game for the Gems to tie the score.

McCLUSKEY TELLS ABOUT EASTMAN'S DEFEAT BY CARR

Says Easterner Deserved Victory; Writes About His Own Two Mile Run Last Saturday.

Joe McCluskey in a letter to the Herald sports editor states that the West Coast was greatly disturbed by the unexpected and sensational victory of Carr over Eastman in the 440 yard dash at the ICAA meet last Saturday at Berkeley. Eastman had been considered unbeatable.

He writes in part, "These western authorities and high moguls are greatly upset over Eastman's failure to win the 440. It was a fine race with the Pennsylvaniaian the cleverest and better man. However, they say Eastman got no breaks, was jostled and misjudged his race and they blamed the eastern runners for conspiring to beat their star athlete."

"They were so used to Eastman winning that they could not imagine him being beaten. It was really pathetic the way the California papers read the day after the race. Eastman officials, starter and timers were raised, yet when the results are compared with the electrical apparatus, the timers' work was near perfect. The sprints were so slow that they blamed the timers who clocked Wycoff, another West Coast sensation, in 9.9. Yet the electrical timer had 9.88 which makes the human timers accurate."

"The University of Southern California ran away with the team prize and they surely have some wonderful athletes. Personally, I think they have the best group of track athletes of any college institution in the world. Perfect training conditions aid them. It rains very little here during the summer and a moderate temperature prevails most of the time."

This letter from McCluskey was written last Monday which was the day before he won his semi-final steppechase race at Berkeley. The letter deals with his victory in the two mile defense of his Intercollegiate title. Joe is now at Palo Alto training for the finals of the steppechase. A newspaper dispatch today said that Frank Nordell of N. Y. U., who placed second to McCluskey in the semi-final steppechase at Berkeley hopes to gain permission to compete in the 1,500 meters instead of the steppechase finals but this has not been approved by the authorities yet.

In his two mile run, McCluskey states that the track was so hard that his spikes rarely sunk into the cinders and as a result his legs became very tired. "I got away to a good start and my competitors were content to let me set the pace. I was timed by quarters as follows: .66, 2.15, 3.28, 4.40, 5.52, 7.02, 8.11 and 9.22 1-8. The electrical apparatus caught me in 9.22 4-100. Two stop-watches had 9.23 and two others had 9.22 1-5. The electrical machine's time tied the record but the stop-watches were given the preference."

EASTERN LEAGUE TO STICK IT OUT

New York, July 5.—(AP)—Although a final decision is not expected this week, it was forecast today that the Eastern Baseball League would complete its season without a change in membership.

HE MADE MEL SHEPPARD LIKE IT

Mel Sheppard calls the most remarkable Olympic performance he ever saw Ted Meredith's victory over him in the 800 meters in 1912. Sheppard gave the best he had, he writes in an article for The Herald, but Meredith, who is shown at the left above, came crashing past him at the tape. Sheppard is pictured at the top, leading the pack half way around the track and, below, Meredith, who is at the left, is shown nosing him out. Sheppard is in the center and Davenport, another American, at the right—the three athletes finishing within a whisker of a three-way tie.

Meredith's Victory Is Mel's Greatest Thrill

EDITOR'S NOTE: "Peerless Mel" Sheppard, star of the 1908 and 1912 Olympics, has written a series of 18 articles for The Herald on Olympic heroes of other years and the United States prospects for 1932. This is the third of the series, and describes the greatest Olympic performance Sheppard ever saw.

By MELVIN W. SHEPPARD

Former American Middle Distance Star and Olympic Winner (Copyright 1932, by NEA Service)

I was asked the other day to name the greatest Olympic performance I ever had seen. That's a difficult assignment. There have been many great performances.

It would be difficult to name a greater one than Ray Barbuti's 400-meter victory at Amsterdam in 1928. Pasvo Nurmi's race to win the 10,000-meters in Amsterdam was a masterpiece. There was the dramatic finish of Johnny Hayes, my teammate, in the marathon at London in 1908, and after gritty Dorando had fallen and had been helped by the track-side spectators.

But I think I can say that the greatest Olympic thrill I've ever had—and I should say that it comes close to being the greatest Olympic performance, as well—came in the 800-meter race at Stockholm in 1912 when Ted Meredith, then a schoolboy from Mercersburg Academy, was the winner.

It was, at least, the closest Olympic race I ever have run, and the winning time of 1:51 9-10 established a new record, improving the mark of 1:52 4-5 which I had established at London four years earlier.

There have been many varying versions of the way this race was run. I'd like to set down here what happened, as I remember it.

STURGEON TWIRLS ECHOES INTO LEAD

Allows Crescents Only Five Hits In West Side League Contest; Score 5-2.

"Bingo" Sturgeon let down the Crescents with five hits at the West Side Play grounds last night and the Echoes won 5 to 2 decision, putting them in first place in the West Side League.

Billy Newbauer was on the mound for the Crescents, but although the Echoes nipped him for nine hits, only two of their five runs were earned, the other three runs coming when the wideawake Echoes took advantage of the misplays of their opponents. The Crescents were especially guilty with men on bases, but that doesn't detract from the fact that Sturgeon pitched a very good ball game and was very effective in the pinches.

The Echoes scored one run in the first. Bycholski was safe when Dowd dropped the third strike. He stole second and went to third on a pass ball and scored when Pitt booted Hadden's grounder. The Crescents tied the score in the second, Pitt was safe on Gvensky's error, Boyce doubled over McCann's head scoring Pitt. The Echoes scored two more in the fourth on two hits and a couple of errors, and got one in the fifth and another in the seventh to make the total five. While the Crescents were unable to get more runs off the slants of Sturgeon.

SANDE WILL RIDE IN FRENCH RACES

New York, July 5.—(AP)—Earl Sande who rose to fame on some of America's greatest thoroughbreds is packing his kit for an invasion of the French turf.

WRESTLERS SEEK OLYMPIC BERTHS

Columbus, Ohio, July 5.—(AP)—Sixty-nine wrestlers from a field of 112 will start today on the third round of competition for places on the American team in the tenth Olympiad at Los Angeles.

Fourteen of the original qualifiers failed to put in an appearance for the finals and yesterday 29 were eliminated from further competition by having five or more "black marks" chalked up against them in first and second round.

Columbia Grads Meet Golden Bears and Elis Face Penn. A. C. in Semi-Finals Today; Harvard Beaten Two Feet By Columbia.

Worcester, Mass., July 5.—(AP)—With five of the contesting crews eliminated the American Olympic tryouts today entered the semi-final stage with the favored University of California eight opposing the Columbia graduates and the Penn. A. C. encountering a hard fighting Yale eight.

The Golden Bears and the Yale crewmen from Philadelphia who won the national eight oared championship last Saturday and have been undefeated in their last 24 starts were highly regarded to prevail in today's semi-finals over the two thousand mile course on Lake Quinsigamond.

Columbia which rowed out a hard battling Harvard eight by a scant two feet has been conceded only the slightest of chances against the University of California's undefeated aggregation which qualified for today's action by leading the Princeton Rowing Club by one and a half lengths.

In the lower half of the draw the highly favored Penn. A. C. which made a remarkable showing yesterday while defeating Syracuse by two and a half lengths will engage the Elis.

Ed Leader's Yale eight more than made up for its New London failure against Harvard by leading the sturdy Washington crew by a half length and the California junior varsity by 3 1-2 lengths in the fourth and last of the trial heats.

California and Yale are of strong contenders to this sort of Olympic competition. The Golden Bears swept the U. S. A. to victory in the 1928 Olympics at Amsterdam and the Elis carried the torch four years before in the international games at Paris.

LEGION VS. V. R. W.

DENY A FUSION

Chicago, July 8.—(AP)—The Socialist Party repudiated today reports of a fusion with the Liberty Party formed this week in Kansas City.

Clarence Senior, national campaign manager, said: "The presentation of Norman Thomas' name as a candidate for President on the Liberty party ticket was unauthorized. The Socialist Party was not represented at the Kansas City conference. The reported inclusion of the Socialists in the fusion is therefore false."

Saying he spoke for Thomas, the Socialist candidate for President, Senior added: "While the Socialist Party welcomes all forward looking citizens to rally around its candidates and its platform, we can see no use in fostering the growth of 'fly-by-night' liberty parties or any other of the 26 varieties of third parties which have come out of the ground in the last few months."

G. O. P. LEADERS MEET

New York, July 8.—(AP)—Everett Sanders, chairman of the Republican National committee, arrived today from Chicago accompanied by J. R. Nutt, National treasurer, and immediately began a series of conferences with New York Republican leaders.

Sanders talked with W. Kingsland Macy, state chairman, at the headquarters of the state committee and later left with Macy and William Ziegler, treasurer of the state committee, to go to the office of Jeremiah Milbank, who was treasurer of the eastern campaign in 1928.

Others who were expected to join the conference at Milbank's office were J. Henry Roraback, Republican National committeeman from Connecticut, and Daniel E. Pomeroy National committeeman from New Jersey.

Sanders said no decision had been reached as yet on the opening of eastern headquarters in New York. He expects to leave tonight or tomorrow morning for Washington and will return to Chicago early next week.

POST OFFICE DELAYS NOW BELIEVED OVER

A large force of masons are now at work on the walls of the new Federal building. Five window frames have been set in place on the main street side of the building, and the limestone belting has been set around the entire structure.

The front entrance to the post office is 30 feet wide and consists of two sections of steps, four steps to the section. The platforms are five feet wide and the platform at the entrance is six and one-quarter feet in width. The steps are of New Hampshire granite and the belting is limestone.

The slaying occurred in the home of Mrs. Harriet M. Staffers with whom both lived. Mrs. Staffers told police she left the two, both highly intoxicated, quarreling violently in her kitchen. Returning later she found Anthony lying on the floor and Anderson missing.

LEAP YEAR BRIDE

by Laura Lou BROOKMAN

BEGIN HERE TODAY
CHEERY DIXON, nearly 19-year-old daughter of wealthy parents, falls in love with DAN PHILLIPS, newspaper reporter. She quarrels with her father about Dan and then, taking advantage of Leap Year, asks Dan to marry her. They are married and move into a cheap apartment. Cherry's struggles with housework are discouraging. DIXIE SHANNON, movie critic of the News, is friendly with Cherry. She meets handsome MAX FEARSON, also of the News.

After several weeks Cherry's mother becomes seriously ill. The girl is called home and there is a reconciliation with her parents but pride will not allow her to accept financial aid from them. When Mrs. Dixon is stronger she and her husband leave for several months at the seashore.

Cherry and Dan are invited to a swimming party at a nearby resort. Dan is delayed and Cherry starts with Fearson. A storm overtakes them and while they are waiting for it to pass he tells her he loves her. They finally reach home but after that Cherry avoids Fearson.

BRENDA VAIL, magazine writer, comes to Wellington. Dan meets her and she asks him to collaborate with her on a play. Dan spends most of his evenings at Miss Vail's apartment working on the play. Cherry dislikes Brenda. She begs off from a dinner invitation, telling Dan to go without her.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XXXIX
 Cherry stood looking out at the wet street. The rain had begun early in the morning, a steady down-pour that threatened to continue throughout the night. It had rained every day of the week so far. October apparently was trying to masquerade as April, but the wind was colder and the days were growing shorter. Now at 5:30 dawn was gathering and in half an hour the street would be in darkness.

A slight noise attracted the girl's attention. Cherry's exclamation was only half annoyed. Pinky, the kitten, had just pushed the basket of socks and darning supplies to the edge of the window seat. It had fallen and the frightened kitten was in the midst of the deluge.

"Pinky!" the girl cried. "I told you to leave those spoons alone! Aren't you ashamed?"

The sentence went unfinished. There was a knock at the door and Cherry hurried to open it.

Dixie Shannon stood in the hallway in dripping raincoat, galoshes and limp felt hat. "Look at me!" she moaned. "My permanent's ruined! I had it put in only a week ago. Did you ever see such a sight? I couldn't get a taxi and I had to wait hours for a car. I'm simply soaking!"

"You certainly are!" Cherry agreed. "Come in and get that wet coat off."

Dixie struggled with the clumsy galoshes. "Might as well have left these at home," she grumbled. "Holes in both heels. Oh—what a day this has been! What a day!"

Cherry took the wet raincoat and spread it over a chair. Raindrops trickled in little streams from Dixie's hat. The brown hair that had been waved "permanently" a week before was indeed a sorry sight. At one side of her face it hung down longer than the other and was almost straight. The part that had been protected from the moisture frizzed outlandishly.

Dixie caught a glimpse of herself in the mirror and squealed in dismay. "What'll I do?" she exclaimed. "I look like a Hottentot!"

"Better get into dry clothes," Cherry suggested. "I'll see if I can set that wave for you if you want me to."

"You lamb! Will you really?"

"Yes, but you'll have to take a hot bath first and put on something warm. Otherwise you'll have pneumonia!"

Dixie reached for her coat and hat. "I'll be right back," she promised. Almost at the door she stopped. "But I forgot—Dan will be coming—"

"He's having dinner down town tonight," Cherry told her. "Slip into a bathrobe, Dixie, and come down and eat with me. Everything's ready and I was dreading the meal alone."

"Give me 10 minutes and I'll be here with bells on!"

It was a little more than that before Dixie returned. She pushed the door open, raised her tip-titting nose and sniffed appreciatingly. "Food!" Dixie announced. "And such food!"

The table had been drawn out and places laid for two. The odors of baked pork chops and vegetables and muffins mingled appetizingly. Cherry was pouring water into amber tumblers.

"Everything's ready," she announced.

"And does it look good? Cherry, you're a genius that what you are. I've never heard of anyone who could learn to cook the way you have in such a short time. Here I've been struggling with a frying pan for years—and what does it get me?"

Dixie wore a green and white striped bathrobe that apparently had shrunk. She wore floppy blue satin mules on her feet and black lace hose. Her bobbed hair, partly dry now, looked more than ever like the exaggerated coils of a 1918 Island princess.

Cherry glanced at her and laugh-think of this Brenda Vail?" she asked. "Do you like her?"

Cherry hesitated. "Dan says she's awfully clever," she said slowly. "Yes, of course, but what do you think of her?"

"I don't think I know her well enough to say. I've only met her a few times."

"Dan sees her rather often, he?"

"Why, of course. They've been working together for weeks."

"She's—rather unusual looking, don't you think?" Dixie persisted. "Not pretty exactly but the type a lot of me fall for. That red hair and the way she dresses. I've only seen her at a distance but I've heard them talking about her at the office. There aren't many wives who would be willing to let their husbands spend evening after evening with a vamp like that."

"Dixie, you don't mean to suggest—"

"Heavens forbid! I don't mean to suggest a thing in the world. Of course I know Dan isn't the sort to play around with anyone else—even if it were harmless. I wouldn't say a thing like that for the world!"

The denial was a shade too vehement, and Dixie's smile a trifle forced but Cherry did not seem to notice this. She looked across at the other girl. Cherry's face had suddenly become serious.

"If anybody would dare to say things like that I hope you'll tell them it's not true," she said earnestly. "Dan wouldn't—he couldn't do anything except play fair. He knows I understand about Miss Vail. Dan admires her because of her ability and of course he's grateful for all the help she's given him."

"Of course, lamb! I know that's all there is to it. Nobody's been talking about your Dan and I was a dumbbell to suggest it. Matter of fact, I only meant Dan's exceptional because he is so level-headed. There now—is everything all right?"

They talked of other subjects. Cherry brought the dessert and poured the coffee. Afterward they washed and wiped the dishes together and put the room to rights. Then Dixie sat before the mirror while Cherry dampened the frizzled, unruly hair and combed it painstakingly into neat waves. It was almost an hour's work but when it was finished Dixie was enthusiastic.

"It looks better than when they set it at the shop!" she insisted. "Honestly, I don't know how I can thank you—"

"There's nothing to thank me for," Cherry told her. "I didn't have anything else to do and it's been fun."

A little later Dixie departed. In her own apartment she hung away the raincoat that was dry now and tucked the galoshes out of sight. Dixie stood before the mirror for a moment inspecting her carefully waved locks. She was thinking of the girl down stairs.

"There's no use to tell her," Dixie informed the image in the looking glass. "It's better for her not to know but just the same it's a dirty shame! I'd like to tell Dan Phillips what I think of him!"

It was evident from the black looks directed at the girl in the mirror that these remarks would not be complimentary. With a sigh Dixie turned away to pick up the mystery story she had begun the night before.

The way in which the good-looking amateur detective tracked down the perpetrator of the series of horrifying crimes was fascinating reading. Dixie did not put the book down until she had finished the last chapter. The hands of the tiny ivory alarm clock on the bedside table pointed to 20 minutes after 12. Dixie tossed the book aside then and switched out the rosehued light.

At the same time in the second floor apartment Dan Phillips yawned and discarded his vest.

"Say, Cherry," he asked, "what's become of that yarn I wrote about the taxicab driver? The one I called 'Night Life' Remember? I'd like to take it around for Brenda to have a look at."

Cherry's back was toward him. She did not turn as she answered. There was a pause, almost imperceptible, and then she said, "I'm sorry, Dan, but I destroyed it. I didn't mean to. It got in with some other papers and I didn't know until it was gone."

"You were a deliberate false hood. But of course Dan would never learn the truth!"

MEAN TO RETALIATE
 London, July 8.—(AP)—By a vote of 222 to 30 the House of Commons today passed on third reading a measure empowering the government to levy a duty up to 100 percent on all imports from the Irish Free State.

The bill was approved at the request of J. H. Thomas, secretary for the local young man who was in the British government renewed its offer to arbitrate the issue before a tribunal drawn from members of the British Commonwealth. This condition the Free State has refused since the beginning of the controversy.

Immediately after the Lower House had adopted the measure it was sent to the House of Lords for first reading.

WANTS MONEY RETURNED
HE GAVE TO CHURCH
 Beloit, Wis., July 8.—(AP)—If a man goes to church, puts a dollar in the contribution box, listens to the sermon and doesn't like it, can he get his money back?

E. R. Brannigan, majority leader of the City Council put a dollar on the contribution plate last Sunday. Then he listened.

Rev. H. A. Studebaker began to talk on "Civic Righteousness."

The more Brannigan listened the more firmly he became convinced that perhaps the minister was directing his remarks at himself and his political followers.

For several days he pondered. Then he sat down and wrote a little note to the pastor. It said:

"After hearing your oration: I decided it would be better for you not to be contaminated by any money coming from me."

He suggested he would like to have his crisp dollar bill returned.

"I have," said the minister, "no power to return Mr. Brannigan's dollar. It is now a part of the general church fund."

But the pastor notified the trustee of the request and it's up to them to say. Special action by the board is necessary.

Taft, brother of the late president and others.

This will be Attorney Bowers' second trip abroad. He plans to travel in England, Ireland, France, Germany, Austria and Italy among other places.

NOTED AUTHOR DIES
 Louisville, Ky., July 8.—(AP)—Young E. Allison, who at odd times in the practical business of running a trade journal found time to complete the verses of Stevenson's famous "Fifteen Men on a Dead Man's Chest," and to write librettos to several operas, is dead here at the age of 78.

He also wrote "The Delightful Vice," a volume dealing with novel reading; "Brother Francesco," a one-act tragedy which was produced in the Royal Opera House in Berlin, as well as a number of stories, essays and poems.

Mr. Allison founded "The Insurance Field," a nationally known trade journal, 33 years ago and after many years as its editor and president became chairman of its board. A position he held until the end.

He was stricken three weeks ago with a heart attack. Death came last night.

CADDY IS TRYING FOR GOLF RECORD
 Hartford, July 8.—(AP)—Fredrick L. Roraback, 16, a caddy at the Hartford Golf Club, completed his tenth round of nine holes at the West Hartford Golf Club this morning at 10:30 in his effort to establish a new marathon golf record.

Roraback is attempting to better the mark of 180 holes set by Don Hunter in Anderson, Ind., on July 30, 1929. Hunter completed 180 holes, said to be a record.

Roraback was to have played with Matthew Skidell, also of this city, but the latter's mother objected to her son competing in the marathon.

If Roraback can maintain his present pace until after 4:30 this afternoon, he will have a new record.

NEW LABOR RULING
 St. Paul, July 8.—(AP)—A man's right to labor in any occupation for which he is fit is valuable and should not be taken away or limited by injunction, the Minnesota Supreme Court ruled today.

Employed by the Standard Oil Company, Delvin Bertelsen resigned and went to work for a rival concern. Standard sought to enjoin him from taking the new job, claiming it had lost customers to its competitor by Bertelsen's shift.

The Supreme Court occurred in the Renville District Court's finding against the plaintiff.

WILLIAMS RE-ELECTED
 Hartford, July 8.—(AP)—The state public welfare commission met last night and re-elected Dr. George C. F. Williams as chairman and William W. T. Squires secretary. Dr. Williams was named head of the commission in 1920 and has now completed his twelfth year in the position.

CALLS DEMS SHALLOW

Editor of The Herald:

Mr. Packard's "counting chicken editorial" is symbolic of the shallowness of opinion among supporters of the Democratic faction. That Mr. Roosevelt's nomination was a gift from God, in the opinion of the writer, and your comments regarding the surety of a Republican victory show that you base your beliefs on logic and not intuition. The repeal of the 18th Amendment is insufficient remedy to reduce the gravity of today's depression. The Democrats seek subterfuge and have resorted to a very comprehensive ballyhoo on that issue. That Mr. Roosevelt is not equipped to handle the destiny of our country is not problematical. He lacks the courage, he lacks the mental ability, and has proven his profound desire for personal aggrandizement. That he has made preliminary preparation, in his acceptance speech bespeaks the overzealousness of the man's desire for that high office of President of the United States—an office which he does not have the slightest conception of. Mr. Roosevelt has pledged himself to the Democratic platform 100 per cent. But he has offered no tangible and concrete form for improvement, plaudits plentiful, which, no doubt would reduce the bread lines. Mr. Roosevelt has proven his lack of courage in the handling of the "Mayor Walker Affair." He has been presented a detailed and full report as to the abuses rampant in the administration of "Jimmy", but merely sets aside the matter with a gesture—afraid to incur the animosity of Tammany Hall. If there ever was a duty to perform it was the impeachment of the Mayor of

New York City. It is not conjecture that the issue will soon leave the limelight only to die a natural death. If Mr. Packard will delve more intelligently into the economic structure of our country, a more enlightening picture will be presented as to Mr. Roosevelt and the inability of his party to bring back prosperity. (Miss) DOROTHY BLATTNER, Springfield, Ohio.

MAYOR CERMAK ILL.

Chicago, July 8.—(AP)—Reassuring pronouncements from official quarters failed today to allay the rising concern of Chicago over the health of Mayor Anton Cermak. While he remained under observation at a hospital, the officials statement served only to fan speculation over reports his political allies considered his state of health so grave they were thinking of naming a acting successor.

LIQUOR TRANSPORTER IS HEAVILY FINED

New Britain Man Who Figured In Crash Here Must Pay $225 On Two Charges.

Charles Passinini of 110 Hartford Avenue, New Britain was fined $200 and costs for transporting intoxicating liquors and $25 and costs for failure to obey the "stop" sign regulation when his continued case was brought before Judge Raymond A. Johnson in police court here this morning. Passinini was the driver of an automobile which crashed into one driven by Miss Catherine Heron of Andover at Spruce and Blissett streets the afternoon of July 1. Following the accident Passinini hurried to the rear of a nearby house and emptied the contents of a five gallon can. It later developed the can had been filled with alcohol. Because of the inability of Passinini's attorney to be here the case was continued. Passinini pleaded guilty to the charges of passing a "stop" sign and transporting intoxicants. Attorney Samuel Rosenzweig asked that his client be given until July 22 to pay the fine. This was granted. In case Passinini cannot pay the fine by July 22 he will go to jail.

BOMB SINKS DESTROYER

Hongkong, China, July 8.—(AP)—The destroyer Feiyang was sunk by a Cantonese airplane which bombed Hoitow Wednesday. It was learned here today and twenty men were killed in the bomb attack. The report said the aviator who succeeded in bombing the ship received a reward of $20,000. (about $70,000) for crippling a major vessel. It was reported a peace agreement had been reached between the Cantonese government and the rebels but this was not confirmed.

REACH ACCORD ON WAR DEBTS AT LAUSANNE

A session to initiate the agreement was fixed for tonight, with a final meeting tomorrow, when Mr. MacDonald will deliver the closing speech and the French premier and the German chancellor will give their version of the accord.

The difficult negotiations since June 16 were concluded in the early morning hours, after which the negotiators settled the amount of bond.

Leon Fraser, American director of the Bank for International Settlements, drew up the legal machinery for issuance of the bond, in which the bank will play a predominant role.

The agreement reached at Lausanne to put an end to reparations by accepting three-quarters of a billion dollars from Germany as final payment, closes another chapter in the history of the World War.

The reparations debt, originally capitalized at $64,000,000,000 was admitted worth not more than $1,000,000,000 when the Lausanne conference began.

Long before that, however, the first reparations committee pared the total down from $64,000,000,000 to $11,500,000,000, but in 1922 Germany asked for a moratorium and out of that request came the Dawes committee.

In 1924 that committee scaled down the payments to $260,000,000 a year, but that was only a temporary solution and four years later the Young commission was formed to determine how much and how long Germany should have to pay.

"Final Settlement"

The Young Plan, called a "final settlement," subtracted another $6,000,000,000 from the total and accepted a system of spreading $30,500,000,000 over 60 years, all accounts to be settled by 1933.

But the Young commission, like everybody else, could not foresee the world economic crisis which brought the next major step in the form of President Hoover's moratorium postponing all inter-governmental debt payments for one year.

That year's respite ended on June 30 this year, but before then it became obvious that even that would not be enough. The result was the conference at Lausanne.

Meantime there was an interminable dispute between France and Germany as to how much actually had been paid in reparations. France said she and the other allies had received only $5,000,000,000. The German bookkeepers showed payments of $18,000,000,000. To complicate matters further, the United States asserted that only $1,800,000,000

STIMSON SILENT

Washington, July 8.—(AP)—Announcement of a complete Franco-German agreement at Lausanne on reparations and debts was received today at the State Department with interest but Secretary Stimson was silent on the two questions, which are held here to be separate and distinct.

The fixing of Germany's final reparations payment at approximately $750,000,000 reduces its obligations to less than one tenth of the total fixed under the Young Plan three years ago.

The gentlemen's agreement linking reparations with people's war debts was looked upon in some circles as patently opening the way for new appeals to the United States for a scaling down, if not actual cancellation of what is owed this nation.

When the Europeans submit their agreements individually to this government the United States will consider them. Until then Secretary Stimson has nothing to say about war debts.

The funded indebtedness of fifteen European nations to the United States exceeds $11,000,000,000. About 90 per cent is due from Great Britain, France and Italy.

GIRLERS FORCED DOWN, GIVE UP RECORD FLIGHT

Some means of determining more definitely where they might have come down.

Mattern and Griffin started their flight from Floyd Bennett field, the New York city municipal airport, at 4:01 a. m. Eastern Standard Time, Monday.

They flew through fog on the first leg of their journey and lost their way, passing about 150 miles north of their first objective, Harbor Grace, N. F. They finally arrived there, however, without having to land, but their celestial wanderings had so delayed them that they were far behind the Post-Gatty time.

They waited in Newfoundland merely long enough to fuel, however, and so picked up a little time on the famous aerial team of record holders and in a remarkable flight across the ocean travelled so fast that on reaching Berlin they were well ahead.

Post and Gatty had spent the night at Berlin on their flight but Mattern and Griffin pushed on again after fueling and thus started for Moscow some 11 hours in the lead.

That was the end of their good fortune, however. Their performance to that point had been so good that when they failed to arrive at Moscow it was very generally believed that they had decided to continue on to Omak because that was the first place after Berlin at which they had a fuel depot. Had they really done that in one hop they would have been a full day ahead of the Post-Gatty schedule and well on their way to smashing a new record.

The ocean hop of the proposed world flight was the fastest Atlantic crossing ever made and the first non-stop flight from North America to Berlin. In 1927 Clarence Chamberlain and Charles Levine flew to Germany, with Berlin as their objective, but they were forced to land before reaching the capital.

The Mattern and Griffin log runs as follows:

Tuesday:

4:01 a. m.—Left New York.

2:23 p. m.—Arrived Harbor Grace, 4 hours, 29 minutes behind Post and Gatty.

4:59 p. m.—Left Harbor Grace, 2 hours, 22 minutes behind.

Wednesday:

11:40 a. m.—Arrived Berlin, two hours and 55 minutes ahead.

3 p. m.—Left Berlin, 13 hours, 53 minutes ahead.

At this point the comparison ends, because Post and Gatty flew on from Berlin to Moscow and so around the world, whereas misfortune overtook Mattern and Griffin between the German and the Russian capitals.

When Mattern and Griffin landed in the Borlov peat bog their elapsed time since leaving New York was one day and 17 hours, about 19 hours ahead of the elapsed time of Post and Gatty when they passed this point on their way to Moscow.

The flying time was one day, 11 hours and 18 minutes, about an hour more than Post and Gatty had spent in the air at that stage of the journey.

The distance from New York to Borlov is about 4,500 miles. The average flying speed of Mattern and Griffin was approximately 130 miles an hour.

WIFE NOT WORRIED

Oklahoma City, July 8.—(AP)—"I'm proud of my boys' make a nice flight anyway," Mrs. Bennett Griffin told the Associated Press this morning when informed her husband and Jimmy Mattern had wrecked their plane near Borlov on their proposed round-the-world flight.

"I never was worried a bit," she added.

"I was just surprised when I heard the news," she declared. "Because just that minute I was sure they had left Omak on their way east."

"None of us were alarmed at any time."

The slayer's wife kept in telephone communication with Bennett's mother, Mrs. J. P. Griffin, in the early hours of the morning.

She was just as brave as she could be," she reported "and so were the others."

Three sisters, Donna, Ruby and Lucy Griffin, and a brother, Jeff Griffin, newspaper reporter, live with the mother here.

She explained the lack of apprehension by saying, "we hadn't time to hear from them."

PARTIES DIFFERENT IN THIS CAMPAIGN

plank unsatisfactory. Opinions differ as to the effect of the prohibitionists' decision to nominate a Georgia Democrat, W. D. Upshaw for President.

Greater interest attaches, however, to the ultimate decision of Senator Borah who declined the Prohibition Party nomination, with the suggestion that further conferences be awaited.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Mrs. Stacy and her six-year-old child by another marriage were left at the farm by Sweeney and his sister on the afternoon of the crime. On their return the Sweeneys found Mrs. Stacy lying mortally wounded on the barn floor. There were bullet wounds in her head and back. The child was found in bed in the house with a bullet wound in the lung.

Mrs. Stacy died on the way to a hospital but the child recovered. Washington county authorities got a sketchy account of the slaying from the little girl and later

Mary Enrico of 185 Eldridge street, Genevieve Clark of 33 Strong street and Mrs. Hattie L. Palmer of 547 Center street were discharged yesterday.

All clinic patients admitted yesterday for operations were discharged today.

Mrs. Mary H. Wolf of Bolton was discharged today.

*Turnip and tomato soufflé: To a cup and a half each of mashed turnips and tomatoes which have cooked down low until there is no excess amount of liquid, add a half cup of rich milk and the yolks of two eggs. Mix all together and fold in the beaten egg whites. Turn in to a shallow baking dish and sprinkle with Melba toast crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven for about thirty minutes. Add a generous lump of butter to each portion served.

sort of treatment would you advise for a hair lip and cleft palate, or is any treatment possible? My son was born with this condition and is now six years of age. I was wondering if it should be corrected while he is still young or should I wait until he grows up?

Answer: Such deformities should be corrected as soon as possible because the one who is affected is extremely sensitive about the condition and it may lead to unpleasant mental complexes. These troubles are caused by a failure of the parts to unite while the child is in the fetal stage. These conditions must be treated surgically. In children the hair lip can often be brought together and a scarcely noticeable scar remains. A soft palate may in the same way be drawn together. If the hard palate is affected, it may be necessary to wear a false plate inside the mouth so that the speech and swallowing are not affected.

LIME PLANT BURNS

Rockland, Me., July 5.—(AP)—One of the mills of the Rockland-Rockport Lime Company was destroyed by fire early today with a loss estimated at $175,000. Residents, awakened by the flames shortly before 4 a. m., said the fire had already gained great headway at that time. Other mills of the company were saved. The mill destroyed, a long, low building, housed valuable machinery used in making a high grade lime.

EAST SIDE LEAGUE

The Senators defeated the Pirates in a close game which was bitterly fought all the way. From the third inning on it developed into a pitchers' duel between Lovett and Cowie, the latter having the better of the argument. However, the Senators' victory was Catcher Otto Cook. This last displayed a powerful arm, and there was but one stolen base credited against him. Captain Lovett played a bang-up game for his team also, but his efforts went for naught. The next game will be between the Senators and Athletics Tuesday, July 12, at Charter Oak diamond.

HAWKS WIN

The Hawks avenged themselves for a recent defeat by noosing out the Blue Sox by the score of 11-9. The game which was played at the Mill lots was very exciting because of the change in the lead of the game every few innings.

Zwick and F. Phillips each got two hits out of four times at bat. Demussey and Magnuson led in hitting honors for the Blue Sox, the former hitting a homer and a single, the latter hitting a triple and two singles. Demussey made his circuit blow by making a hit which went over the left fielder's head and into some tall grass.

One of the Blue Sox players in sporting a black eye as the result of a fight during the game.

SENSE AND NONSENSE

Just a Bits O' Difference
This new generation
Is famed for its hustle,
While the one that has passed
Was known for its bustle.

A party at the Zoological Gardens
soon puzzled before a bird:
The First—It's a heagle.
The Second—It's not it's a howl.
Bystander—You are both wrong.
It's a hawk.

In explaining how you learn to play golf, a friend put it this way:
Of course the first six months you play pretty rotten golf. Then you keep on playing worse and worse."

Cub (to his fellow reporters, sighing)—Oh, why was I ever brought up to be a writer?
City Editor—You weren't.

Jennings—I'm a man of few words.
Hennifer—Well, you keep those few mighty busy.

The Ideal Marriage Is When Man
Finds a Beautiful Girl and a Good Housewife, Says a Philosopher. We Thought That Was Bigamy.

Small Boy—Pa, what did prehistoric monsters look like?
Father—I don't remember, son.
Ask your mother.

Haah! All the people expect of a President is that he be a combination of Moses, Demosthenes, Saint Paul and Santa Claus The farther you are from home the sur-er you are to run into the last person in the world you want to see.
A man is really never famous until he is interviewed on his birthday
. . . . Why is it every mother expects her son to turn out better than his father did? The same story told by two different persons is frequently two different stories Paying court to the beautiful dumb bell is like carrying around an empty bag
. . . . Every bride expects her husband to become a big man. But she usually is the one who gains the most weight A Doctor says the hardest work should be done just before breakfast. Such as getting up we suppose Ask me another: What is one thing that can always be counted on? Answer: Your fingers Great is Science: A combination hip flask and cigarette lighter has just been invented—the same liquid is used to fill both.
The hard part of religion to understand is why it makes people so mad at one another To reduce the cost of government, why not try to reduce the amount of government?

Wife—Women can get up stairs easily in the kind of dresses they wear now.
Husband—Get up stairs? I'll say they can.

At that Job got off pretty easily.
If it had happened today they would have yanked his teeth, appendix and tonsils and left him only his ashes.

A young married couple started out with the baby to buy a baby carriage. They purchased one, put the baby in it and started home.
Everybody smiled. They wondered why. Finally they noticed that the clerk omitted to remove the sign from the carriage, it read: "Our Own make."

Patient—Yes, I'm a model and the artist I pose for does painting,
etching and sculpturing.
Doctor—But of course he does some one particular thing better than anything else?
Patient—Oh, yes, but nevertheless he's pretty good at painting,
etching and sculpturing.

If People Would:
Whistle more and whine less,
Hustle more and holler less,
Work more and worry less,
Boost more and beef less,
Give more and grab less,
Dare more and not depress—
Business Would be a Blank Sight Better.

TODAY IS THE WORLD WAR ANNIVERSARY

TRANSPORT WHIPS SUBS
On July 8, 1918, a transport ship returning to the United States from France was attacked by eight German submarines in the Bay of Biscay. Outnumbered as the ship was, she succeeded in escaping the subs and in sinking one of them. An accompanying destroyer escort sank another.
French forces, strengthened by American reserves, and heartened by previous successes, staged a strong attack on the edge of the forest of Villers-Cotterets, and broke through the German lines on a front of about two miles.
Australians, too, had a successful

Mr. Freelove has opened a ticket agency in Manchester selling bus line tickets to all parts of the country through connections with various bus lines.

An instrumental quartet from the Salvation Army Band will provide the program of special music for the lawn service at the South Methodist church next Sunday evening at 7:30. Rev. Oliver W. Bell of Hazardville will be the speaker. These services are so timed that the closing period comes just at the twilight period. Chairs are placed on the lawn for the women who attend while the men and children are seated on the terrace which forms a natural amphitheater. The speaking and special music are from the beautiful stone pulpit installed at the building of the church as a memorial to the late Sherman A. Ellis who was at one time the Pastor of the church.
