PAWCATUCK BANK CLOSES ITS DOORS

Run On Bank in Recent Weeks Was One of the Causes For Closing.

Pawcatuck, Conn., July 13.—(AP)—The Connecticut State Banking Department at request of the directors, today took over the Pawcatuck Bank and Trust Company in the town of Stonington. It was closed to depositors and a statement said the institution probably would be liquidated.

The bank was organized in 1921. Its last statement to the State Bank Department in December showed it had deposits of about $522,850. There had been a run on the bank in recent weeks due, it was thought at the time to uneasiness of some depositors following the death two weeks ago of Henry A. Stahl, the vice president and of Loren McLearn, assistant cashier, a short time before.

The request of the directors to the banking department was a precautionary measure. It was understood that when the bank was closed for business its deposits were about $485,000 belonging to 2100 depositors.

H. Gordon Baldwin, deputy bank commissioner took charge of the institution. No action has been taken toward a temporary receivership.

The president is Elias B. Hinckley, the secretary Frank H. Wilcox and the treasurer F. M. Robertson. The State register and manual of 1931 says the bank was capitalized at $25,000 and at that time the surplus was $28,000, undivided profits $16,728, the commercial deposits $122,836, and the savings deposits $446,794.

ABIE WAGNER SLAIN
New York, July 13.—(AP)—The Sun said today it learned that Abie Wagner, supposed to have been sought in the Lindbergh kidnaping investigation, was slain two months ago, his body encased in a barrel of cement and finally sunk in the East river.

He was murdered, the paper said, as the result of a gangland double-cross.

Although Wagner and Harry Fletcher, Detroit purple gangster, were mentioned often in bulletins issued by the New Jersey police during the search for the Lindbergh baby, the Sun charged, neither was wanted, the police merely using their names as a smokescreen to detract attention from other phases of the investigation.

SEAPLANE CRASHES

BRAZIL'S REVOLUTION REPORTED SPREADING
Sao Paulo, Brazil, July 13.—(AP)—There were indications today that the rebellion against the Brazilian government which has centered for four days around the wealthiest of the southern cities was spreading into a nation-wide uprising.

Among these was a declaration from Pedro de Toledo, who became head of the revolutionary government in Sao Paulo province yesterday following his resignation as Federal governor, that the states of Rio Grande do Sul and Minas Geraes also had announced their adhesion to the movement. The new chief emphasized that the revolt had no other purpose than the resignation of the provisional government of President Getulio Vargas and the substitution of a constitutional regime.

The rebel forces claimed successes in the field. Their headquarters announced the vanquishing of their forces captured a munitions factory at Piquete.

Thirty thousand men are now ready to fight, another communiqué said and six states are behind the revolt.

DECISION RESERVED
New York, July 13.—(AP) The United States Circuit Court of Appeals reserved decision today on the appeal of Patrick McGovern, contractor, from a 90-day contempt of court sentence imposed upon him by Federal Judge John M. Woolsey.

McGovern was sentenced following the attempt to question him before the Grand Jury on the disposition of $80,000 paid to him by checks by Patrick McGovern, Inc., of which he is 90 per cent owner.

Attorneys for McGovern argued that the United States district attorney exceeded his powers in attempting to examine him.

SAFE IS STOLEN
New Haven, July 13.—(AP)—Burglars early today carried a 300-pound safe containing $25 from the office of the Crucible Steel Company. Marks on the floor indicated it was rolled to the door and then loaded on a truck.

The Democratic convention has cleared up at least one point. There's no longer any doubt as to what the governor of North Carolina said.

LIBBY HOLMAN ARRIVES AT HOME OF HER SISTER

relatives clustered about her, she replied by auto to the home of a sister in suburban Wyoming, while a small crowd of curious waited vainly at the downtown station.

Blindly at first, then more headedly, her sister and brother denied knowledge of her whereabouts. Finally it was admitted that the widow of Smith Reynolds, slain to-hisco hair, was at her sister's little home.

"Boys," said Alfred Holman, Jr., 31, her brother, "it's no use. There'll be no pictures or statements."

Though there was no suggestion as to the plans of the Holman family, the supposition prevailed that Libby would remain in Wyoming a few days, then go elsewhere, perhaps to the mountains, to seek recovery from the shock and strain of her husband's death from a bullet wound a week ago, and the long, close interrogation that followed.

It was a crushed and fearful Libby that reached home today. There was no smiling and bowing to those who had seen her grow in precocious youth, and seen her professional debut on the stage. Instead, there was just a glimpse of a heavily cloaked girl, face covered, head lowered, as her lawyer-father had looked, who carried her from the steps of the railway car to an automobile across the rural station platform, and then a quick succession of relatives—mother, brother, sister—scurrying from the train to car.

Leave Reynolds' Estate
Libby and her family left Winston-Salem last night, deserting the Reynolds estate, scene of the fatal shooting of her husband of three months.

They left behind a coroner's jury verdict "death at the hands of a person or persons unknown."

As they neared home the virtual frankness that they had displayed in North Carolina gave way to secrecy. None had anything to say and against the open boarding of the train at Winston-Salem, there was the sudden escape from prying eyes at Clare. Their train had no stop scheduled there—none, in fact, until the heart of Cincinnati.

Fullman attendants said the Holman family had spent a quiet night, that there were no incidents out of the ordinary.

MYSTERY DEEPENS.
Winston Salem, N. C., July 13.—(AP)—The mystery of Smith Reynolds' death by a gunshot wound one week ago, deepened rather than cleared by a coroner's inquest, today wrapped itself closely about the efforts of Forsyth county authorities to solve the most sensational problem they have ever faced.

Sheriff Truman Scott, the chief investigating officer, let it be known he was seeking to ascertain the truth in regard to various points about which there was conflict of testimony in the hearing by the coroner's jury. The jury attributed the young tobacco heir's death to "a person or persons unknown to the jury."

From a member of the jury, W. T. Alsip, came information that a major factor in the returning of the so-called "open verdict" was testimony that the foreign-made pistol with which the 30-year-old youth was shot was not found until four hours after the shooting although the Reynolds estate might watchman had searched through the scene in the neighborhood.

Found Near Door.
The pistol was found near the door between the bedroom of Mrs. Libby Holman Reynolds, former Broadway blues singer, and the sleeping porch on the second floor of Reynolds, the pistol Reynolds family home.

It was on this porch that Smith dropped with a pistol bullet through his brain at 1 a. m. last Wednesday, a few minutes after the breaking up of a gay birthday party at which, witnesses testified, there was considerable drinking of corn whiskey and home brew.

Officers were reticent in discussing the case, but they said only two explanations were possible, the night watchman overlooked the gun although its location was not hidden or the weapon was placed there later by some person yet unidentified.

MILLIONS IN DAMAGE BY SOUTHERN FLOODS
Charleston, W. Va., July 13.—(AP)—Belted organizations pushed into the mud-covered valleys of the Paint and Armstrong Creeks today to add more than 1,000 persons left without shelter, food or pure drinking water by Monday's flood.

Eight bodies were taken from the valley by the waters, which are reported to be upwards of $2,500,000 has been done to property.

Typhoid fever threatens almost the entire flood area with walls partially filled with mud and creeks in even worse shape.

There is nothing left on Paint Creek, Captain Harry Cooper, who led mud-plastered state troopers into the area, said. "These poor people had scarcely anything in the first place and now what they had is lost. They have no way on earth to replace it. They must be cared for by public agencies the rest of the summer."

Gardens on which whole families depended for food were wiped out, Cooper said. Their chickens, hogs, cows and other livestock were drowned.

"We traveled for 18 miles and found one horse, one mule and one cow alive."

BRITISH ATHLETES SAID
London, July 13.—(AP)—The British, Belgian and Hungarian Olympic teams sailed today on the Empress of Britain for Quebec and the tenth Olympic games at Los Angeles.

They are due at Quebec July 18 from where they will proceed to Toronto for a few days of practice, then on to Los Angeles via Chicago.

Lord David Burghley, Olympic 400-meter hurdle champion, headed the British delegation which included G. G. Easby, chief coach, and a threat of Ben Eastman and Bill Carr in the 400-meter run; T. Hampson, crack half-mile, and three other Empire track and field champions.

The athletes are on the same ship with the British, South African, Indian and Southern Rhodesian delegates to the imperial conference, which prompted Lord Burghley to remark: "They will do well at Ottawa—so will we at Los Angeles."

PET SHOW HELD THIS AFTERNOON

Howard Janicke's Crow Most Unusual—Angora Cat Most Attractive.

The annual pet show held at the West Side grounds this afternoon was attended by a large crowd of people. Awards for the most unusual pet was given to Howard Janicke's 11 Bank street for a pet crow.

Other prize winners judged this afternoon were: most attractive pet, George Hunt of 131 Pine street, a large gray Angora cat; largest number of pets entered in the show, Russell Clifford of 18 Short street (14 white rats).

A small Mexican turtle entered by Edna Dowd of 23 Lila street, received a prize.

The show judges were: Mrs. Gladys Wilkinson, Hamilton Metcalf and Ralph Russell.

"STEALS" ACCORDEON TO PREVENT ITS THEFT
Valuable Instrument Disappears After Wedding Party; Traced Through Three Cities.

The disappearance of a handmade $500 piano-accordeon from the home of Brunig Scopanski of 29 Kerry street during a wedding reception last night was the cause of a search in three different cities for the missing instrument.

The reception was in honor of Scopanski and his wife, formerly Miss Bernice Gray of Jewett City, who were married Monday in that city. During the evening, Mrs. Scopanski took her hand badly and had to go to the Memorial hospital for treatment. Her husband, who owns a store in Middletown, took the instrument last night when he left for work early in the morning.

Others at the party did not know of his act and consequently believed it had been stolen. Local police were notified and there followed a search here and then in Jewett City and finally in Middletown where the piano-accordeon was found in the possession of its owner who said he did not want to risk leaving it at home while his wife was at the hospital.

ABOUT TOWN

Lieutenant William Maroon of the Manchester Police Department picked up a minor near Edgerton street carrying a loaded revolver this morning. The youngster was sitting at a table with his hands spread to come across. The weapon and ammunition were taken away and the boy was given a warning.

Mr. and Mrs. Felix McEvitt and son, Joseph, have rented a cottage at Coventry lake and are spending the month of July there.

Mrs. James E. McVough, Mrs. Edward Quish and Mrs. George Old, representing the auxiliary unit of Dilworth-Cornell Post American Legion, visited the Soldiers' home at Rocky Hill Monday afternoon, taking with them a supply of home made cakes and cookies made by the members, candy, nuts, magazines and other items, to be distributed to the veterans, most of whom are partially disabled.

The real Irish orange lilies used last evening as part of the decorations for the entertainment of Washington L. O. L. in celebration of the twelfth of July, were grown by Mrs. David Carson of Ridge street. After they had served their purpose they were sent to Isaac Jackson of West Middle Turnpike, a member of the lodge who is ill.

The final pre-school clinic will be held tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock at the clinic building of the Memorial hospital. Mothers of children entering school for the first time in September are urged to bring them for a health examination at this time.

Doris Turkington, Dorothy Jensen and Wilbur Brown have returned from St. Paul's School at Concord, N. H., where they have been attending a young people's conference.

The drawing for the $250 cash prizes given away by the Loyal Order of Moose in connection with their annual field day which was held here June 26th, will take place this evening at the State theater. Through the courtesy of manager Campbell the committee has decided to hold the drawing at this place so that disinterested persons can be the judges and supervise the awarding of the prizes which total sixteen in number.

NOTED ACTOR ESCAPES FROM BURNING HOUSE
New York, July 13.—(AP)—Robert Mantell, Jr., like his famous father a Shakespearean actor, and others narrowly escaped with their lives today as flames partially destroyed a four-story brownstone building on 52nd street.

Mantell made the most spectacular escape. Facing smoke and flame in the hallway after he roused from his sleep on the top floor, the actor tossed his luggage out the window, onto the roof of the next building, and then risked a four-story fall to hoist himself to safety by grabbing the ledge of the other building.

Eddie Carr, a veteran vaudeville performer, also found escape through a hall barred. He climbed, he said, out a window, worked his way along a ledge to another window and leaped across a 6-foot hole which had been burned on the third floor landing, and then made his way to the street through dense smoke.

GETS SIXTY DAYS
Hartford, July 13.—(AP)—Elmer E. Brackett of Biddeford, Maine, pleaded guilty before Judge Edwin Thomas, in the United States District Court, this afternoon, to impersonating a Federal officer in Naugatuck in Sept. 1930, and was given a sentence of 60 days in the Hartford county jail.

Brackett was brought to Connecticut by a United States marshal, after he had completed a year's sentence in the Maine men's reformatory for stealing a car.

On Sept. 25, 1930, he represented himself as a postoffice inspector to a Naugatuck girl who cashed a check for $15 for him. The check was later found to be fraudulent.

SLEUTHS PROMOTED
New York, July 13.—(AP)—Promotion to first grade detective of Detective Harold Moore and Thomas Riggs for their part in the killing of Edward (Fats) McCarthy and the capture of two of his alleged confederates in Albany, was announced today by Police Commissioner Edward P. Mulrooney.

"PIGGERY," LANDMARK IN VERNON, BURNED

Barn and Sheds On Main Road To Rockville Destroyed By Flames At Noon Today.

Rockville, July 13.—"The Pigery," an old landmark in the Town of Vernon, on the main road to this city, went up in smoke this noon. The barn and other sheds have been standing there for nearly half a century but the present owner, Joseph Olander, decided his time to turn it into a "pigery" rather than raising "porkers."

He lives across the road and he was informed that the pigery was in flames by a passing motorist. Mr. Olander notified Chief George Milne of Rockville and he and Assistant Chief William Conroy responded with the Hockanum chemical truck.

When they reached the fire it was too late to save the barn. Mr. Olander was assisted in removing a few farm tools. His horse and wagon were out on the street at the time. The fire was of unknown origin.

COLUMBIA
Miss Eluid Hawkins of Brookings, who is visiting at the home of Mrs. Natchez spent Monday night at the home of her friend, Mrs. Florence Badge. Miss Hawkins, who is a niece of the late Samuel B. West, spent some time in Columbia as a girl, and is taking much pleasure in visiting all her old friends.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Tucker spent the week-end in Easthampton, Mass., at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Rogers Hayden.

Miss Hattie Stockfield, Mrs. Jennie Hunt, Clayton Hunt, Jr., and David Hunt spent part of Tuesday in Hartford.

Miss Lila Sealey is attending summer school in New Haven. Mr. Sealey, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sealey of Chestnut Hill, has taught school in Groton for the past five years.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Higley and twin daughters Doris and Dorothy had spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. Nettie Cole. Little Ethel Higley is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Cole, and will remain a few days longer.

The annual Missionary Tea was held Tuesday afternoon at the chapel, with a good attendance of ladies. The speaker was Mrs. August of West Hartford, a former missionary for ten years to the Philippine Islands. Mrs. Auger gave a very interesting talk, illustrated by photos, and different articles used and worn by the natives.

Auger was dressed in native costume, which was made of a thin material embroidered with wool in darning stitches. She stated that the style of costume remained about the same, the only change being in the pattern of the embroidered design from year to year. During the meeting Mrs. Margaret Woodward and Miss Flora Wheeler sang "Follow the Glean" accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Ruth Jacobs. Sandwiches, cake, and iced Russian tea were served after the meeting. A food sale held on the lawn was well patronized and the proceeds will go towards the ladies' Missionary appropriation.

CHAPELIN NOT SO RICH
Los Angeles, July 13.—(AP)—Charlie Chaplin, who made his money by making people laugh, fails to see anything funny in the county tax assessor's office announcement he is the film colony's richest man as measured in terms of taxable property.

The film comedian has asked for a recount, claiming his taxable property set by the assessor at $6,987,570, is a bit excessive. He claims his securities now have a value of but $1,657,316. A hearing will be held Thursday.

KIWANIS KIDDIES E. J. HOLL'S GUESTS

Go To Beautiful Bolton Lake Estate This Afternoon For An Outing.

The Kewanee club's guests at its kiddies camp in Hebron were taken on an excursion today to Edward J. Holl's beautiful estate on Bolton Lake. At two o'clock this afternoon two trucks furnished by C. R. Burr and W. W. Robertson transported the 40 or more boys from Hebron to Bolton for an afternoon of swimming, boating and general fun at the Holl place.

The boys were eagerly looking forward to the trip at this morning and with promises of a perfect day they were all set for a fine time.

Later this afternoon the youngsters will be served hot frankfurters and coffee by their host, Edward J. Holl, The Manchester Dairy Ice Cream Company sent out enough ice cream to make the boys cry "Enough" and further added to their popularity with the youngsters by promising to furnish cream twice a week.

This evening the boys will return to the camp at Hebron where they have been acclimating themselves to the routine of camp life. Director Helge Pearson reports all the boys in good health and believes the group this year is enjoying the vacation even better than those of previous years.

SAILORS AS SMUGGLERS
Washington, July 13.—(AP)—L. F. Savage, a Portsmouth, Va., merchant, charged today at a House hearing that Navy transports and battleships are being used for smuggling into this country.

He and T. P. King, another merchant at the Virginia city, appeared before the committee investigating government competition with private enterprise. They represented a group of merchants operating in the vicinity of the Norfolk Navy Yard.

Savage said he was informed by a Navy yeoman that the postmaster of a battleship, home from a midshipman's practice cruise to Europe, had demanded and collected a $5,000 fee for the handling of a large batch of contraband goods.

PATIENT KILLS DOCTOR
Washington, July 13.—(AP)—Dr. Victor A. Almon, medical officer of the Mount Alto veterans' hospital, was shot through the heart and instantly killed today by Frank Castell, former patient in the psychiatric ward.

Castell fired the shot apparently without warning after entering the physician's office at the hospital. He had awaiting the arrival of another physician in an adjoining hallway. Ordinarily Castell, but he offered no resistance.

He refused to give a reason for the shooting, or answer questions by police.

ORANGEMEN HERE OBSERVE THE 12TH Big Program Presented in Orange Hall Last Night; Parade Precedes It.

Washington Loyal Orange Lodge, No. 117, celebrated the anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne in Orange hall last night, July 12. The proceedings started with a street parade by the Manchester Pipe band and the Center Flute band. Approximately 400 members, their families and friends gathered in the hall, which was appropriately decorated with streamers of orange and purple crepe paper, festooned from the corners to the center. The American flag, the Union Jack and a picture of William of Orange were also used at the head of the hall. Real orange lilies, the bulbs of which were brought from Ireland, blossomed for the first time this year for the twelfth celebration. They were placed in a basket and created much interest.

The program opened with the singing of "America." The address of welcome by Worthy Master David Morrison followed. George Tomlinson, chairman of the committee, was master of ceremonies, and James McCullough was the announcer for numbers given over the home broadcasting system.

Among those who contributed to the evening's entertainment were the Center Flute and Manchester Pipe bands, each playing two selections. Appropriate songs were sung by John Pratt, Ernest Vennard, E. J. McAdam, David Collins, James McCaughey, David Morrison, Thomas Stratton. A bagpipe duet was played by J. Stevenson and George Hamilton. William Forbes and David Morrison played an accordion and flute duet.

The Daughters of Liberty presented two laughable sketches, "Schooldays" and "Li and Ann and Li." Mrs. Annie Johnston gave a monologue and Rev. James Stuart Nell, rector of St. Mary's Episcopal church, and a member of the lodge, made a speech. Every number of the program was applauded. Dancing, games and light refreshments followed.

Others on the committee besides Mr. Tomlinson were James McCaughey, David Neville, Joseph Binks, William and Thomas Stratton, John Hughes, Henry Tedford, John Herron, William Douglas, William Turkington, James McCaughey, Mrs. Georgina Tomlinson, Mrs. David Carson and Mrs. Annie Donnelly.

HERRIOT TELLS OF NEW ACCORD WITH BRITAIN

commercial treaty, the accord is in no sense special or exclusive. Sir John said he already had given copies of the agreement to representatives of Germany, Italy and Belgium and invited those governments to associate themselves with his declaration.

"I want to be particularly clear on disarmament," he said. "We have already announced our intention of cooperating with the United States at Geneva and I am going back there now to help work out the principles of President Hoover's proposals."

The suggestion to other governments, he said, was that they adhere to the rule that "we shall endeavor to promote political accord in Europe by open, friendly discussion on all points of difference; by seeking a solution at the disarmament conference which shall be beneficial and equitable to all, and by co-operating in preparations for the all-important world economic conference to take place this autumn in connection with which we hope to have the advantage of American assistance."

Coffee imports of the United States last year totaled more than 1,741,636,000 pounds.

ST. MARGARET'S CIRCLE DEDICATES FLAG POLE

Annual Outing Held in Hillside Last Night Features Raising of Flag.

St. Margaret's Circle, Daughters of Isabella, held its annual outing last evening at the home of Mrs. William Fogarty of Hillsideville. The program began with the dedication of a new flag pole, erected on the hill by her son, John Fogarty, commemorating the Washington Bicentennial. Supper followed, after which games were played outdoors until dark when the party adjourned to the house for cards.

The winners in bridge were: Mrs. Minnie Carrington, first; Mrs. Sarah Healey, second and Mrs. Rose Gruesner, third. In whist Miss Nellie Smith won first prize, Mrs. Mary Brown, second and Mrs. Mary Stamer, third.

NOTIFICATION DATE

Washington, July 18.—(AP)—Representative Snell, permanent chairman of the Republican National convention, expects to formally notify President Hoover of his nomination sometime between August 5 and 10.

He said today a definite date had not been finally agreed upon, but thought it would fall within this period.

The New York Representative said present plans call for notification ceremonies at the White House on the grounds if during the day, or inside if at night.

ABOUT TOWN

Members of the American Legion auxiliary will have a garden party tomorrow evening at the home of Mrs. Volmar Thorsfield, 97 Cambridge street. The business session postponed for two weeks will be held at 7 p. m. sharp.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Noel, of 33 Turner street, have had as their recent guests, Mrs. Noel's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cashman of Haverhill, Mass.

The volunteer choir of the North Methodist church will have an outing tomorrow at the cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Cox at Andover Lake. The church music committee is sponsoring the affair.

Mrs. Albert W. Harrison and two sons of Myrtle street have left for Grove Beach where they will spend the remainder of the season.

Troop 5 Boy Scouts will meet this evening at 7:15 at Emmanuel Lutheran church.

Miss Mary Moriarty, Miss Aleda Drudging, Miss Louise Drudging of Philadelphia, and Miss Betty Underwood of Waban, Mass., are visiting Mrs. Elizabeth M. Phelan of Church street.

Director John Echnalian said today that the present enrollment at the Trade School is about 200 students.

Mrs. Fred T. Elish, Jr. got quite a golf thrill the other day when she scored a birdie on the fourteenth hole of the Country Club course. A long putt turned the trick.

leaped to his feet to declare a point of order.

The speaker finally quieted the turmoil by explaining that the president did not mean personal dishonesty.

Meanwhile, from London the British government announced that the special Irish import duties would become effective Monday, levying a 20 per cent ad valorem tax on livestock, poultry, game, butter, eggs, cream, bacon and pork; the principal Free State exports to Great Britain.

The duties are intended to reimburse Britain for the $11,000,000 in Irish land annuities which De Valera has refused to pay.

"CUT RATE" FESTIVAL IN COVENTRY JULY 20

Fragment Society To Serve Supper, Present Play and Conduct Fancy Work Sale.

Coventry Fragment Society members are making elaborate preparations for their "Cut Rate Festival" Wednesday, July 20 on the church grounds at North Coventry. There will be something going on every minute from 8 in the afternoon to 9 in the evening, standard time. An historical pageant will be presented in the afternoon out of doors. This will be free to all, as well as the band concert to precede and follow the supper from 4:30 to 7:30. In the evening a drama entitled, "The Price of Justice," will be given in the Chapel Hall by local talent.

Booths erected on the grounds will be presided over by members of the Fragment society who will offer for sale at cut prices handkerchiefs, many of which have been donated by former Coventry residents living elsewhere, others decorated in various ways by the members, handmade gift articles and aprons. There will also be a fortune teller for the benefit of those who would lift the veil of the future and refreshment booths where ice cream, candy, frankfurter sandwiches and cold drinks may be had at cut prices. The mystery feature for the children will be in the form of a huge snow ball.

Mrs. A. L. Reed is chairman of the supper committee, and Manchester people who have frequently enjoyed meals served under her supervision know what to expect. If they would like to reserve tables in advance they may do so by telephoning her.

NEW PEACE GARDEN

Dunsmith, N. D., July 18.—(AP)—Two Nations will clasp hands on the International boundary tomorrow to commemorate the long friendship of their peoples.

From the United States and Canada, officials will gather to dedicate the International Peace Garden site in the Turtle Mountains north of here.

The peace garden will cover three thousand acres located in both countries. A $5,000,000 fund is planned for it. Subscriptions of from five to ten cents will be asked of Canadian and American school children.

SHOPPING NEWS

"It takes the tact and diplomacy of a minister extraordinary, the patience of a Job, the blindness of a bat and the surly and optimism of a press agent to enable a woman to make a success of matrimony." - Dorothy Dix.

This morning we picked out this special value at Rubinvon's: Rayon panties and bloomers, some in mesh waives, at three for $1.00 for the Mid-Summer Sale.

"My prayer to God is a very short one: 'Oh, Lord, make my mistakes very ridiculous!'" - said Voltaire.

By all means take a look around Keith's Furniture Store (opposite Manchester High school) during the big Summer Sale this week. Even very new merchandise is drastically reduced, and some of the sale stock is priced at a fraction of its value for clearance. We noticed especially the summer furniture, some pieces reduced 50 per cent, including gliders, porch and lawn chairs, porch shades and beach umbrellas. Ice refrigerators are also being sold at 50 per cent reduction, and they're extraordinary values.

Car Coolness
Fabric covers for your car upholstery make riding cooler, if the upholstery is the plush type.

Films left for development up to 9 a. m. at the Murphy Drug Company store will be available at 4:30 p. m. the same day.

Coming Back?
It looks as though you will be able to get out that old evening gown and give it a little more wear very shortly. Several women, noticed at a recent performance at the Paris Opera, wore wraps that were frankly just big wrap-around shawls. The first time this fashion has been seen in a long while.

There is a certain satisfaction in getting your milk, cream and other dairy products from an establishment as well known and reliable as the Bryant & Chapman Dairy. Always up-to-date in methods, and serving you with an extensive delivery system which reaches the shore resorts, this Dairy brings to you only the purest of foods. It helps you to guard your family's health. Call Manchester 7697 to place your order.

Fruits in Season
The markets now have a quantity of deliciously plump and finely flavored cherries and plums, and it's a good time to buy them.

Your laundry will come back guiltless of rips, tears, lost buttons, etc., if you send it to the New Model Laundry (Dial 8072) where the clothes are sorted before being washed and are handled carefully at every step. Ask about the very reasonable prices.

Eau de Cologne
A dash of Eau de Cologne on face, neck and arms after a bath is about as cooling as anything we know of during hot weather.

The individual booths at the Weldon Beauty Salon insure complete privacy while having your hair tinted with the reliable Irecto Noxol Method. Dial 5009 for an appointment.

Dash Improves
A dash of sugar will make plain mayonnaise much more exciting. In the same way, cucumbers added to potato salad make it more palatable.

Something for Everything
It is convenient to remember that milk removes ink stains; cigarette ashes remove rings left by wet glasses on furniture; ammonia will clean diamonds; and tooth paste takes the black coating off silver jewelry. That's all we can think of right now.

The Murphy Drug Company of Depot Square, Manchester's Pioneer Pharmacy, plans to run a 10c sale for the week-end. Watch for it.

In the Right Order
Milk sauce is creamier and smoother if the butter and flour are mixed on the stove before the milk is added.

And, while we think of it, cakes are much lighter if the baking powder is added as the last thing before the cake is slipped into the oven. Be sure that the batter isn't too stiff.

Buy your greeting cards for Birthdays and other occasions at the Murphy Drug Co., Depot Square.

Man's Recipe
We had just as soon collect recipes from men as from women. Men are usually fussy and produce pretty good ideas. Here's a paste that goes good on salines and it's a man's recipe: Mash the contents of one can of sardines with a fork; add about two teaspoons of mustard and about the same of mayonnaise. Season with lemon juice to taste.

A special all this week at Pinehurst Grocery is Royal Searle's fruit salad at 38c each, 3 jars for 95c. Usually 37c, it includes diced pears, peaches, cherries, pineapple and white grapes. Delicious for fruit cup, too.

Typical New England
Manchester is a great town for hollyhocks and ramblers roses. It reminds us of Provincetown on the tip of the Cape, where every little hut has hollyhocks growing along its sides, almost as high as the tiny house itself, which you approach as often as not under a home-made arch burdened with ramblers. Add to the ramblers and the hollyhocks a glimpse of old wooden piers, miscellaneous craft with an occasional battleship and lots of blue sea, and you have a pretty good picture of Provincetown.

Girls' dainty cotton dance and party dresses, some trimmed in organdy, are reduced to $2.50 for Rubinvon's Mid-Summer Sale.

Safe Swimming
People do lots of foolish things during the swimming season. It's pretty hard to tell grown-ups what they shouldn't do; and yet there are certainly few swimmers who can confidently go far beyond their depth alone. Children should never be allowed to swim where there isn't an instructor or guard to watch them. They'll be just as happy if you provide a place where there is protection. As a reporter, we can remember following the Medical Examiner to more than one beach tragedy scene which might have been avoided.

To bring out the real beauty of your best snapshots, the Murphy Drug Company, Depot Square, will enlarge them to 8" x 10", color and frame them for $1.35.

SHOOTING CASE HERE IS SOLVED

Stamford Man Wounded in Miss Cheney's Garden As He Grabs Rifle.

Asbury or Brook Tanburri, of Stamford, who yesterday told Meriden police he had been shot here, had a sweetheart in Manchester, but the wound was not self-inflicted because of a grievance the man had with the local woman.

Tanburri came here Monday to see his girl friend. He had a "date" to meet her at Main and Charter Oak street. The woman kept the engagement but when she was talking with Tanburri she noticed he acted peculiarly. She advised him to return to his home and then left him. Tanburri wandered about and finally reached the garden at the rear of Miss Mary Cheney's home.

In the garden were two boys shooting frogs along the stream that runs through the property. Tanburri walked up to the boys and told them he could show them how to shoot. When he grabbed the rifle it discharged, the bullet going through his left forearm.

Andrew Johnson, of 51 Clinton street, gardener for Miss Mary Cheney, saw the man later and noticed that his arm was bleeding. He told him to go to a doctor and have attention given to the wound.

Tanburri then went to Dr. D. M. Caldwell's office for treatment and shortly afterwards left town. Stamford authorities said the man was known to them and advised that the incident is being done here about the case.

LANGER TO SELL RANGE OIL BURNERS

Richard Langer, formerly with Edward Hess, has entered the range oil burner business under the name of the Home Pride Oil Burner Co. For the present the Home Pride Oil Burner Co., is selling retail at wholesale prices.

REDS BEHIND PROGRAM

Moscow, July 13.—(AP)—Soviet Russia has wound up the spring sowing campaign with nearly one million acres less than last year under cultivation. The total is nearly 15,000,000 acres below the program.

Official figures place the total area sown on July 1 at 241,690,500 acres as compared with 242,580,500 last year and 265,875,000 planned. Failure to come up to expectations was attributed largely to the poor showing of the Ukraine where a bad drought last year caused great loss of crops and seed.

FORMER LOCAL COUPLE GIVEN SURPRISE PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. George May Who Will Be 25 Years Married Sunday Are Honored.

Mr. and Mrs. George May of Washington street, Hartford, formerly of Manchester, were surprised last evening at their home by a party of 15 of their local friends, who called for a pre-celebration of their silver wedding which occurs this coming Sunday. The guests presented them with several articles in sterling silver, and also provided the essentials for a buffet lunch.

Mr. May is engineer of the Hartford County Court building. Mr. and Mrs. May have one son, Kenneth.

CHAMBER GOLFERS MUST QUALIFY THIS WEEK

Low 32 Will Be Entered In Tournament—Play Will Be On Handicap Basis.

Harry Benson, chairman of the committee arranging the annual Chamber of Commerce golf tournament at the Country Club, said today that all planning to compete must play their qualifying rounds this week.

Non-members of the club will only have to pay a fifty cents greens fee for each round. The low 32 scorers in the qualifying round will be selected for the match play that is to follow. Play will be based on a handicap basis. Billy Martin, club pro, will arrange the handicaps.

SOMEBODY SHOULD READ NEW POSTAL RATES AGAIN

Somebody should report at the postoffice for instructions regarding the new "budget" tax on postage. Boys who like to hunt through the rubbish in rear of stores on Main street report finding many two-cent stamps in good condition.

One boy picked up a sheet of a dozen of the old issue stamps yesterday. The "stickum" was good and the stamps were fresh and unsoiled. Evidently someone needs a little coaching in the matter of new postal rates.

MISS BENNET'S HOME DAMAGED BY BOLT

School Supervisor's Summer Home At Dennis On the Cape Struck By Lightning Monday.

Word has been received here that the summer home of Miss Elizabeth Bennet located at Dennis, Mass., on Cape Cod was struck by lightning Monday during a storm that swept the cape. Miss Bennet who is supervisor of grammar schools at the south end was not injured, the report stated, but her home was somewhat damaged. The chimney was knocked over and some slight damage was done to the ceiling and to the second floor. There was no fire and the damage will be repaired shortly. Miss Bennet and some guests were seated in the living room when the bolt struck, none of the occupants of the house being stunned by the lightning.

DEMOCRATIC WOMEN'S OUTING ON TUESDAY

State Federation To Be Guests Sunday At Mrs. Fannie Dixon Welch's In Columbia.

The Connecticut Federation of Democratic Women's clubs will hold a garden party Tuesday, July 19, at "Noyd", the home of State Committeewoman Mrs. Fannie Dixon Welch at Columbia lake. The hours are from 1 to 5 p. m., and a program of swimming, games and bridge is in course of preparation. An old-fashioned country auction with Mrs. George Robertson of South Coventry as the auctioneer will be another source of amusement.

Mrs. Harry Rylander, president of the Manchester branch, has a supply of tickets and those wishing to go from this town should communicate with her, whether members of the club or not.

NICOL TRIO A HIT AT BAND CONCERT

Over 2,000 Hear Fine Program Last Night In the Center Park.

More than 2,000 persons turned out in Center Park last night to listen to the second of a series of band concerts being given by the Salvation Army band under the sponsorship of the Manchester Chamber of Commerce. The program, starting at 8 and lasting until 10:30, included about fifteen numbers, including several by the Nicol trio which were especially well received.

The trio consisted of Adjutant and Mrs. Alex Nicol and their son Alex Nicol, Jr. As a trio they played the cornet, piano accordion and chimes. Mrs. Nicol was given hearty applause for her rendition of "Aloha Oe" she played this as a duet playing the melody on the chimes with her right hand and the bass accompaniment on the accordion with her left hand.

One of the numbers given by the trio was a spirited march entitled, "Alabama." Another was "Tighty Like a Rose." The Nicol trio interspersed their offerings in the program of eight numbers given by the Salvation Army band. The latter's program was published in The Herald Monday. Bandmaster David Adey announced that the Nicol family, who came to Hartford from New York City, will be members of the local army while in this section.

J. Rhey Braithwaite was the reception committee chairman in charge of last night's arrangements. At the initial band concert two weeks ago, E. J. McCabe served in this capacity. Fred J. Donnell will be in charge next week.

It's the Cigarette that's Milder and Tastes Better!

That's why more and more Smokers are changing to Chesterfield every day

WHEN you are smoking a lot of cigarettes every day, you naturally want a mild cigarette, and smokers try Chesterfields and find out that they are milder and taste better.

Then smokers tell other smokers—"one smoker telling another"—that they find that although they smoke a great many Chesterfields during the day, they never tire of them; and that they have found out that Chesterfield is a milder cigarette, that it is a cigarette that tastes better, that it is a cigarette with a most pleasing aroma.

Some time ago, in a Chesterfield advertisement, there was a statement, "A $90,000,000 Reason," and this means that the larger part of $90,000,000 is invested in the right kind of ripe, mild Domestic and Turkish tobaccos to make sure that Chesterfields are milder and taste better.

May we ask you to try them?

DENTISTS GIVE SERVICE TO NEEDY HERE FREE

Two of Profession Locally Have Offered To Do Emergency Work Without Charge.

According to Miss Jessie M. Reynolds, local social service worker, two Manchester dentists have been most generous during the economic crisis in giving free dental care to those who were badly in need of attention but could not pay for the work. These dentists, obviously, did not care to have their names made known. As noted in The Herald Monday the physicians and surgeons who are members of the Manchester Medical Association have given their services to local needy over a six months period to an amount estimated to be nearly $5,000. Miss Reynolds said it would be impossible to estimate the value of the work the two local dentists have done. Cases recommended by her have been promptly and efficiently handled by these two dentists, Miss Reynolds said.

REPUBLICANS IN OHIO DEMAND WET PLANK

Columbus, O., July 13.—(AP)—Prohibition was uppermost in the minds of Republican Party leaders of Ohio today as they prepared the final touches for the state platform convention Thursday and Friday. Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley, who will address the convention, is expected to answer the acceptance speech of Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democratic presidential nominee, on behalf of the Hoover administration. Leaders are not agreed what the state platform will contain on the wet and dry question. Some believe it should adopt the wording of the National Republican platform, providing resubmission of the 18th Amendment, with an additional statement for reconstruction of constitutional and statutory prohibition in the state. However, several of the state candidates and some of the delegates from Cleveland and Cincinnati have indicated a desire to pledge Ohio Republicans to support the repeal of the 18th Amendment and state prohibition. Secretary Hurley will speak Thursday night at the second session of the convention. His address will be carried on a nationwide radio network.

FAMOUS LOG IS NOW RAPIDAN FOOT BRIDGE

Washington, July 13.—(AP)—Nature and the Marines have made a footbridge of the famous Rapidan log where a President talked to a prime minister. The story came out at the tea table when Mrs. Hoover was hostess on the Rapidan to a group of women. Guests at the Hoove mountain retreat, it was said, were constantly querying what log President Hoover sat upon to talk with Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald about disarmament—conversations much publicized in the early days of Rapidan. Several logs had been so honored but the question became so persistent that Mrs. Hoover put it to the President and he recalled one particular log. When he went to point it out a spring freshet had placed it squarely across the Rapidan! When the Marines noted that people were crossing on it, they put up a rope railing to help them along.

PURSE SNATCHER BACK IN UNION FOR TRIAL

Man Who Escaped From State Police When Last Caught, Arrested In Albany.

Charles Roth, 30, of West Haven, who escaped from the State Police at Union while being taken to the Stafford Barracks on May 24, was caught in Albany, N. Y., and arrested there and given a ten day sentence for theft. His term expired there Monday and immediately he was taken into custody by Lieutenant Harmon and Officer Crossman of the Stafford Barracks to face the charges of Union of theft and two counts of breaking and entering cottages. Roth was arrested at Union, May 24, where he is alleged to have taken pocketbooks containing $84 from an automobile. Most of the money was recovered. It is alleged at the time that Roth made a confession that he had broken locks of the door of an automobile belonging to a Manchester woman and entered the auto stealing the purse containing the money. He has served 12 years of his 30 years in prison.

Boys Given Own Version John DeCarli and Lester Seifert of Ellington were the two young men who struck a valuable dog owned by John Girardin and others on West Road Monday evening. It was thought at first the young men did not try to find the owner of the dog but according to a report made by officials on Tuesday the boys got out after their car had struck the dog and were unable to find it in the darkness. They reported the incident at the Kuperschmid home. They claim they were blinded by headlights of an approaching car and did not see the animal until it was too late. The dog was found suffering in a cornfield the next day and was killed to put it out of misery.

To Practice Law Donald C. Fisk, nephew of Judge John E. Fisk of this city, and who resides at the home of the latter, is to open an office in this city in the near future. The young man was one of the successful candidates among 44 who passed the Connecticut Bar Association. Donald C. Fisk is a graduate of the Stafford High School, Dean Academy, Tuft's College and Yale Law School. His father and mother died within a year of each other and he has made his home with Judge and Mrs. John E. Fisk for the past eight years.

In his last year at Yale the young man got much valuable practical experience as a member of the Legal Aid Bureau of New Haven, where worthy clients are given free legal service. While at school Mr. Fisk received many honors.

Celebrates 75th Anniversary The Rockville Turn Verein members and their wives enjoyed an outing at the cottage of Leopold Krause at Crystal Lake on Sunday, this being the 75th anniversary of the organization. A sign "Welcome Turners" decorated with the American flag and flowers, dated 1857-1932 was erected at the entrance to the grounds. A meeting was held at 10:30 o'clock and Bruno Barthold was made an honorary member. At noon a chicken dinner was served. John Bonan of this city catering. Morris Kimmittzer acted as toastmaster and gave a talk on the history of the Rockville Turn Verein. After dinner there was a program of sports and a prize pinochle contest was held.

Leopold Krause at whose home the celebration was held has been a member of the organization for the past 51 years. The committee in charge of the event includes Morris Kimmittzer, Otto Doss and Ludwig Fritsche.

Captain Home From Ireland Police Captain Stephen J. Tobin and his brother William Tobin of this city arrived home on Monday night from a trip to Ireland. They report a very pleasant voyage both ways. The trip over was on the S. S. Britannic and they returned on the S. S. Adriatic. On arriving in Ireland they spent one day in Queenstown and two days in Cork. At the latter place they met Father McSweney, a cousin of Timothy Long of Hartford. In company with Father McSweney they visited much surrounding country including Blarney Castle and the Blarney stone. They also went to the All-World Exposition at Cork. From there the two brothers went to Dublin where they visited the Eucharistic Congress. Then they made their headquarters at Lisman, near Currah Kidare, the famous race course. They motored nearly every day to the race course and enjoyed some fine races. The brothers traveled to practically all parts of Ireland during their five weeks' stay.

State's Attorney Improved State's Attorney Thomas F. Noone, who suffered a paralytic shock about eight weeks ago and who has been confined to the Rockville City hospital since that time, suffered a relapse the past week. It was reported by his physician, Dr. H. H. Fishery today that his condition was somewhat improved and he was more cheerful.

4-H Club Card Party Plans are complete for the bridge and club party to be given under the auspices of the Hitch-in-Time 4-H Club of this city. Playing will commence at 2:30 and will be held in the Ladies of Columbus Hall in the Prescott Block. There will be prizes and refreshments.

Meeting Tonight The American Legion Auxiliary will hold an important meeting tonight in G. A. R. Hall. Mrs. Alice Backofen, president, will preside. Plans will be discussed for the annual outing to be held at the Brigham cottage at Crystal Lake, with Mrs. George Brigham and Miss Lucile Brigham, both members, as hostesses. The delegates and alternates to the convention to be held in Waterbury will also be discussed for the summer activities.

Run on Stamps There was a "run" on one cent stamps at the local Post Office the past week, more than 15,000 being sold while the average sale a month is about 1000. When the supply got down to 400 Postmaster George E. Dickinson went to Manchester and got 10,000 from the office there. He ordered more from Washington and 50,000 arrived. The one-cent stamps are purchased by persons and businesses having stocks of two cent stamps.

Notes Mr. and Mrs. Elmer F. Hartenstein, of Stafford Springs, are rejoicing over the birth of a son, born Tuesday, July 13. The new arrival is a grandson of ex-Mayor and Mrs. Frederick G. Hartenstein of this city. Mrs. Hartenstein was formerly Miss Roberts Caddy, of Stafford Springs.

Miss Ella Kemble of High street, and Miss Mary Barber of Grove street are enjoying this week at Clinton, Mass. Mrs. Florence Krause has returned from Pittsfield, Mass., where she has been visiting her father who was injured by an automobile several weeks ago. He is slowly improving.

Private Harold McLaughlin of Fort Adams, Newport, R. I. has returned to his duties after spending several days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry McLaughlin of Prospect street.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Weinstein of Summit, N. J., are the guests of Mr.

and Mrs. C. C. Weston of South street. A daughter was born July 6 at the Rockville City hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Guy Hudson of Village street.

AN IRISH JOKE "What's that you're putting in your shirt pocket?" asked Murphy. "Dynamite," whispered Donovan. "I'm waiting for Casey. Every time he meets me he slips me on the chest and breaks my pipe. Next time he does it he'll blow his hand off."—Tit-Bits.

The Story of Twelve Dry Years

Prohibition At The Crossroads

Bootleg Liquor Industry Becomes "Big Business" And Gangs Rise To Riches As Nation Goes Dry

CHAPTERS IN THE RISE OF GANGSTERS AND LIQUOR RUNNERS that followed the advent of federal prohibition are pictured here. Upper left is Al Capone, who rose to riches in Chicago on a tide of illicit booze. The other pictures show confiscated gangster boot being destroyed by federal agents, liquor seized from rum runners and Chicago detectives re-enacting the famous St. Valentine's Day massacre in which seven gangsters were lined up before a firing squad and murdered by rivals.

Editor's Note: This is the second of four stories on the history of prohibition, made especially timely by the recent action of the Republican and Democratic national conventions.

BY BRUCE CATTON NEA Service Writer.

States that had had prohibition acts of their own knew about the words "bootlegger" and "speakeasy" long before 1920; but it was not until after Jan. 16 of that year, when the 18th amendment went into effect, that the words passed into the vocabulary of the country as a whole.

The illegal liquor industry seems to have got under way with no loss of time. The federal prohibition enforcement service made its first raids on Jan. 17, seizing two stills in Detroit and two in Hammond, Ind. In the first six months of that year the government seized 9533 stills.

Nevertheless, the era of the amendment began with the prohibitionists supremely confident that the law would be made effective without too much trouble.

The first prohibition commissioner was John F. Kramer of Ohio, a lawyer and former legislator. He took over his new job announcing that "the law will be obeyed... and where it is not obeyed it will be enforced," adding that his men would see to it that liquor was neither made, sold nor transported "on the surface of the earth or under the earth or in the air."

Then Came Deluge A few glances at the calendar may be interesting.

Before the amendment had been in effect a month a customs officer was complaining to Congress that a veritable flood of booze was being smuggled in over the borders, and demanded an appropriation of $2,000,000 to help choke it off.

On Feb. 19, 1920, two prohibition agents were arrested for selling out to bootleggers.

Before spring had come, federal agents had found that certain doctors were selling medicinal whiskey without waiting for doctors' permits.

By May, federal agents in New York were complaining that the New York police didn't help them enforce the law.

By early summer the federal district attorney in Chicago revealed that the federal court there was congested with prohibition cases, with more than 500 such cases awaiting trial.

All of these announcements were to be duplicated many times during the coming years. Meanwhile, the illegal liquor industry was getting its feet on the ground.

LIQUOR TAXES AND ENFORCEMENT COST.

The U. S. Bureau of Internal Revenue in the fiscal year 1918—the year prior to the ratification of the prohibition amendment—collected in liquor taxes of various kinds the sum of $443,839,544.98.

This does not include state and local taxes. The federal budget estimate for the U. S. Prohibition Bureau, salaries and expenses, for the fiscal year 1932-33 amounts to $11,389,500.

This does not include state and local enforcement costs.

negotiated treaties with such foreign governments as Great Britain, France, Germany, Italy and Holland by which its revenue cutters were permitted to stop and search suspected liquor boats anywhere within one hour's sailing distance of the coast.

This proved much more effective, and rum row lost a lot of its prominence. Nevertheless, in 1925 General Lincoln C. Andrews, prohibition commissioner, told the Senate that only about 5 per cent of the smuggled liquor was actually being seized.

Industrial alcohol also was provided.

ing a problem. Certain plants had permits to make alcohol for industrial uses, and it soon became evident that a lot of this was finding its way into various beverages. The government tried various formulas to make this unpalatable, but the bootleggers had their chemists, too, and they were able to counteract practically all of these formulas.

The near-beer plants—or, more strictly speaking, some of the near-

As the first decade of prohibition passed the illegal liquor trade grew more systematized. Different localities developed their own sources of supply. Smuggling became less important in the general scheme of things, especially since Canada lightened up on the laws which govern exports of liquor from the Dominion.

The government's efforts to cope with the traffic changed, too. General Andrews, plain-spoken and industrious, was the first to present a really comprehensive enforcement program—in 1926; and although Congress failed to give him the legislative changes he had asked for, it did, in that year, vote to put prohibition agents under civil service, to separate the Prohibition Bureau from the Internal Revenue Department, to increase the Prohibition Bureau's appropriations and to build new boats for the Coast Guard.

Both were released from the Detective Bureau last night after witnesses in the killing of George (Red) Barker, labor terrorist, failed to identify them.

Mongovern earlier in the day had won dismissal of a charge of carrying concealed weapons. Judge Harry Fisher ordered suppression of the evidence, two pistols, as the police had no search warrants to enter a safety deposit box in which they had been kept.

Both Moran and Mongovern maintained they were out of the racket and living peacefully in Lake county.

Nowhere else did the gangs ever become as notorious as in Chicago. But every large city had them, and still has them; and every large city has known its "beer wars," in which the leaders of a rich and flourish-

At first the beer-running and whiskey distributing business fell into the hands of fairly small neighborhood gangs. But organizers were not wanting, and three or four Chicago had been divided into two parts, each provided with its booze—and all the other unlawful pleasures it desired—by a powerful gang.

The North Side was in the hands of a group of plug-uglies captained by a tough youngster named Dion O'Banion. The South Side was controlled by Johnny Torrio's gang, of which a young scar-faced Sicilian named Al Capone was chief lieutenant.

The fight seemed to be about over by the end of 1930, with Al Capone practically supreme and most of his opponents occupying garish coffins in various cemeteries. A year later, however, the federal government struck at the gangs through the income tax law, and today Capone is serving time in Alcatraz prison while Chicago hears ominous rumors that the lesser gang leaders are shortly to begin a new war, or series of wars, for control of the absent monarch's kingdom.

SPRECKELS TO MARRY NEW YORK DIVORCEE

San Francisco, July 13.—(AP)—Marriage plans of Adolph B. Spreckels, a youthful heir to the Spreckels sugar fortune, and Mrs. Lois Quantan Clark de Ruyter, of New York City, were the gossip of San Francisco society today.

The couple signed a marriage application here yesterday to the surprise of most of the Spreckels family. Alexander de Bretteville, uncle of the youth and the only member of his family who apparently wasn't surprised, said the couple had long been friends. Spreckels' mother, Mrs. Alma de Bretteville Spreckels, is traveling in Europe.

Neither of the principals was available for statements. Mrs. de Ruyter, daughter of Lewis Chatham Clark, New York banker, was divorced from John Louis de Ruyter, member of an old Knickerbocker family, in Reno five weeks ago.

Both Spreckels and Mrs. de Ruyter gave their ages as 21.

COMMUNISTS RIOT

St. Louis, July 18.—(AP)—Public gatherings of Communists in St. Louis were under police ban today following rioting at the City Hall yesterday in which four men were wounded by bullets fired by police and more than a score injured by clubs, bricks and other missiles that were hurled through the air.

The disturbance started after a crowd of about 3,000 unemployed persons attempted to storm City Hall to demand relief.

NOTED AUTHOR DIES

London, July 18.—(AP)—Thursley Fergus Hume, noted detective story writer, died today of a heart attack.

He wrote 130 novels in his prolific career. The "Mystery of the Hanson Cab" was one of the best sellers among detective fiction of all time but when he wrote it he was unknown and he sold the copyright for $50 (normally about $250).

"BUGS" MORAN FREED

Chicago, July 18.—(AP)—George (Bugs) Moran, one-time rival of Al Capone and Leo Mongovern, his erstwhile principal lieutenant, were at liberty today to resume their self-proclaimed roles of "country gentlemen."

Both were released from the Detective Bureau last night after witnesses in the killing of George (Red) Barker, labor terrorist, failed to identify them.

Mongovern earlier in the day had won dismissal of a charge of carrying concealed weapons. Judge Harry Fisher ordered suppression of the evidence, two pistols, as the police had no search warrants to enter a safety deposit box in which they had been kept.

MUST CUT EXPENSES

Washington, July 13.—(AP)—Despite a personal plea today by Secretary Stimson, it appears the American delegates to the Geneva arms conference will have to live on $5 a day or pay the difference out of their own pockets.

Stimson called on Representative McDuffie, (D., Ala.), chairman of the House economy committee. He sought House approval of a resolution already passed by the Senate to permit Geneva delegates to receive $10 a day. The 90-day limitation on living expenses was provided in the National Security Act.

McDuffie was opposed to repealing the controversial economy law this session and said a majority of the economy committee members felt as he did.

BREEN RESIGNS AS REGISTRAR

Has Been Incumbent of Democratic Party Here For Past Five Years.

Louis T. Breen, registrar of voters in the Democratic party here for the past five years, has resigned his position...

The office of registrar of voters is an elective one and is filled annually at the town election.

Although the job requires considerable time, the work can be spread through the year so that not too many duties come at one time.

SAYS DAIRYMEN'S LEAGUE CRUSHES INDEPENDENTS

New York, July 13.—(AP)—State Senator S. J. Wojtkiwski, Democrat of Buffalo, caused a stir at the first hearing of the New York joint legislative committee investigating the milk industry today by charging that the Dairymen's League Cooperative Association was a monopoly.

He charged the league with violating the Sherman law, which is a state law similar to the Sherman anti-trust law.

The committee was appointed by the last legislature to look into the state milk industry.

Southampton, England, July 13.—(AP)—Stanley Baldwin, sailing with five other members of the British Cabinet today for the imperial conference at Ottawa, expressed the hope that that meeting will be another step towards the revival of world trade.

Sailing with him were Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer; Walter Runciman, president of the Board of Trade; Sir John Gilmour, minister of agriculture; Sir Philip Cunliffe-Lister, secretary for colonies; and Lord Halifax, minister for war.

HOME LOAN BILL READY FOR PARLEY

Couzens (R., Mich.) that the Senate approved Under the bill, the paper would be eligible for discount offered by an institution, could apply for a loan if unable to obtain mortgage money from any other source or organization.

Interest rates and regulations for each bank would be in the hands of reserve banks following land bank and reserve bank systems.

Types of paper prohibited by the bill as collateral for loans are: Mortgages running more than 15 years to maturity.

General supervision of the system would be under a home loan board in Washington, with three members, each to serve four years, with an annual salary of $10,000, except that it would be only $9,000 during the fiscal year 1933.

Funds to supply the capital to get the banks started would come from the Reconstruction Corporation.

REVOLT IN ECUADOR

Guayaquil, Ecuador, July 13.—(AP)—Several army officers attached to the garrison at Loja were arrested there today when the government learned of preparations for a military rebellion.

They were informed by a soldier who came in from the garrison that the rebellion was expected to be aided by military elements in other cities, were preparing to proclaim Colonel Luis Larrea Alba dictator of Ecuador.

The colonel, a former president, was installed at the head of the government in August, 1931, but he was overthrown two months later. In November of that year there was an unsuccessful movement to re-instate him. Since then he has been relatively inactive in politics.

HINTS AT MURDER

Greenwich, July 13.—(AP)—Nicholas Cambareri, 32, was found shot to death early today at a lonely spot on the old Boston Post road and Medical Examiner Clarke after an autopsy expressed the belief he had been slain. He had been hit over the head, Clarke said, and shot twice. Police started a search in an effort to locate the bullets.

Although authorities were reticent in discussing a possible motive for the slaying, the opinion was stressed that he might have been killed in connection with liquor disputes.

Mrs. Cambareri who survives with three children, says she does not know who made a telephone call to her husband before he was shot.

LATEST STOCKS

New York, July 13.—(AP)—The Stock Market showed signs of working out of its narrow trading range of the past fortnight on the upside today.

The list was hesitant in the early morning, but managed to make good way in the middle of the day, with trading quickening a little on the advance.

Continued firmness of bonds, and a better tone in the principal commodities, tended to help the movement in shares.

Some of the sugar and packing shares continued to forge ahead, but specialties came forward to provide leadership. Buying started in the American and Foreign Power preferred shares, which got up a point or more, and soon gains of 1 to 2 appeared in such issues as public service of N. J. Consolidated Gas, Peoples' Gas, Pacific Lighting, American Telephone, American Tobacco, U. S. Steel Preferred, Corn Products, American Can, Continental Can, Corn Products, Case, Union Pacific, Woolworth, Santa Fe, Greyhound, McCleesport, Proctor and Gamble, National Biscuit, and others.

Some of the preferred stocks made wider gains. In the early sag, Auburn dropped more than 4, but recovered later.

The upturn appeared to reflect a lifting of selling pressure, but not as anything, although some observers have been insisting of late that signs of good accumulation have appeared in spots.

There was an inclination on the part of some professionals to take to the long side of the market, in anticipation of an early adjournment of Congress, in view of the apparent determination of the legislature to expedite a relief measure applicable to the president.

Adverse earnings and dividend news seemed to have been well digested in advance. Continental Can managed to go ahead, despite cutting of the quarterly payment to 50 cents from 62 1/2, and Proctor and Gamble was not adversely affected by reduction of its quarterly disbursement to 50 cents from 60. The early slump in Auburn was in response to its second quarter statement showing a deficit of $151,987, the stock went under 50, after touching 60 earlier this week, but traders felt that a reaction had probably been inevitable, after an advance as rapid as its recent upswing. Woolworth directors ordered the regular dividend of 60 cents.

Second quarter earnings statements will shortly be appearing in some volume, and Wall Street is now wondering how the market will take some of these reports, which are bound to provide some unpleasant reading. Optimists are inclined to the opinion that the extremely low level of corporate earnings has been well digested, although there are many skeptics who wonder how the market can make much progress against such news, particularly in view of the fact that a number of third quarter statements, reflecting the summer lull, are likely to be worse than those for the second quarter.

Among the midweek statistics, the electric power consumption re-

Some who received replied insisting that dry forces should unite in a "Third Party."

STATE REGULATIONS REDUCE BILLBOARDS

Tax, Restriction On Distance From Highway, Commissioner's Power the Cause.

The success of Connecticut in reducing the number of roadside advertising signs has attracted wide attention. This is one phase of the state's effort to preserve and enhance the natural scenic magnificence with which the state is endowed.

Previously there has been complaint of the effectiveness of the tax in improving the highway environment by the cleaning up of the junk yards. This bulletin deals with that other and kindred movement, which is protecting the scenery for residents and non-resident visitors for all time, the abolishment of the so-called billboard, he adds.

The Legislature provided the machinery for attention to this matter, its law relating to advertising signs being drawn in a manner to have a three-fold bearing upon the problem. The advertising sign, to be legally erected if it contains more than three square feet of space, must be licensed by the Department of State Police and pay a tax at the rate of three cents a square foot.

In addition to these there is an interpretation of existing laws which seems to make it possible, through the State Police Department, on complaint of any citizen or of any department of the state, to other organization, to cause the removal of any sign which makes a dangerous hazard on account of motor vehicle operation.

What becomes important for more successful operation in the face of increasing highway speeds is that each mentality be directed further ahead of the car, in other words to enable operators to drive further ahead than was essential formerly. Consequently there must be nothing whatever to interfere with the sight line, nothing from behind which an unexpected object may appear to cause difficulties and accidents.

The question as to whether an advertising sign ever interferes with the operation of a car by distracting the attention of the operator is still in abeyance but correction of a number of cases has been made on this basis. The most comprehensive law and one that is being gradually taken advantage of is that which provides for towns a right to determine by ordinance where such signs may be erected. Under this authority towns have a wide scope for limiting signs.

Gas Station Signs

The whole result of the effort and especially the effort of the department through its inspectors to secure the checking up and abolition of a multiplicity of signs around gas stations has brought commendable results.

Connecticut is more beautiful than ever. When all the junkyards and signs have gone, the highway traveling with its many little wayside parks and stopping places, its

TELEPHONE SERVICE SPREADS TO SOUTH

New Radio System Links Connecticut With Central and South American Countries.

Radio telephone service from Connecticut and other parts of the United States will be extended to half a dozen Central and South American Republics bordering on the Caribbean Sea by the end of this year, according to plans of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, it was announced by the Southern New England Telephone Company today. Furnishing the service will necessitate the establishing of a new radio station at Hialeah, Fla., near Miami. Equipment for the station has been ordered.

Among the new countries to be reached by the service is Panama, including the Canal Zone. The latter will be the second outlying possession to be connected with the United States by radio telephone, as service with Hawaii was opened last December. Other Central American Republics included in the scope of the service will be Honduras, Nicaragua and Costa Rica. The South American countries to be connected are Colombia and Venezuela. The Bahama Islands will also be reached through the new station.

The proposed services in operation, the United States will have direct telephone connection with nearly all the countries and islands bordering on what was formerly known as the Spanish Main, as wire service already reaches Cuba and Mexico, and radio telephone service was extended to Bermuda late last year. The additions will bring the total foreign countries within telephone reach of the United States to forty-five.

Through arrangements with the Tropical Radio Telegraph Company, land and buildings owned by that company near Hialeah will be used to house the equipment which the American Telephone and Telegraph Company is installing for the new station. Due to the requirements of direction, location and distances,

"Miss Lyon is a splendid girl and certainly we are good friends," said Bannister.

Miss Lyon offered the following comment: "Yes, we are very good friends and I can truthfully deny that we are engaged."

Bannister plans to remain a year in England, fulfilling a stage contract.

REDUCED WEEK-END FARES ON RAILROAD

"New Haven" Announces New Rates From Station To Station On Its Own Line.

In an effort to stimulate travel by train, the New Haven railroad, effective Friday, July 15, is putting into effect reduced week-end fares for round-trips from any station on the railroad to any other station on the line, and is also inaugurating new one-day reduced round-trip fares to New York City from all points from Williamstown west, from New London west, from Springfield south, from Windsor south, and from Canaan south.

On the going trip the new week-end tickets will be good from 12 o'clock noon Friday up until midnight Saturday, and for the return trip they will be good either Sunday or Monday, and in a few cases up until 4:00 a. m. on Tuesday.

The one-day reduced trip tickets to New York will be good only on the day of purchase and up until 11:00 o'clock the following morning.

Both the new week-end tickets and the one-day tickets for New York may be used in either coaches or Pullman cars on any regular trains with the exception of the Yankee Clipper, the Hickerbocker, and the Merchants Limited.

LEAP YEAR BRIDE

By Laura Lou BROOKMAN

BEGIN HERE TODAY

CHERRY DIXON, pretty 18-year-old daughter of wealthy parents, marries DAN PHILLIPS, newspaper reporter, after a quarrel with her parents. It is a Leap Year marriage and Cherry does the proposing. She and Dan move into a cheap apartment and Cherry's first struggle with housework is discouraging. DIXIE SHANNON, movie critic of the News, is friendly. Cherry meets handsome MAX PEARSON, also of the News, who tries to make love to her. After several weeks Cherry's mother becomes seriously ill. The girl goes home and there is a reconciliation with her parents. Fride will not allow her to accept financial aid from them however. MR. and MRS. DIXON depart, seeking another climate to improve the mother's health.

BRENDA VAIL, magazine writer, comes to Wellington and Dan meets her. She asks him to collaborate in writing a play. Dan begins to spend most of his evenings at Miss Vail's apartment. On a night when Cherry is tired and nervous she and Dan quarrel. He goes to see Brenda who leads him to believe she is in love with him.

Days pass and the rift between Dan and Cherry widens. She asks him to meet her Saturday noon but Dan does not come. Max Pearson happens along and takes Cherry to lunch. She sees Dan with Brenda. When Dan arrives home his explanation only makes matters worse. He storms from the apartment and Cherry telephones to Max.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XLIII

Dan Phillips sighed heavily. He threw one arm upward, tugged at the covers and, with his eyes still closed, screwed his face into a frown.

For a few moments he lay quiet. Then the glare of bright sunshine was too much for him. Dan stirred, murmuring sleepily, "Cherry—time is it? Cherry—"

There was no answer. Sunlight continued to stream through the window and at last Dan opened his eyes. He raised himself to one elbow, scowled at the offending window blind that hung at a crooked angle midway of the upper pane, and let out a half-suppressed oath. The next minute he was sitting up, rubbing his head restfully.

Dan was alone in the room. It was Sunday, seven days after Cherry's departure. Dan's clothes festooned a nearby chair. There were scattered newspapers on the floor and the entire apartment looked out of order.

Phillips rubbed the offending forehead again. He rose to his feet, crossed to the window and pulled at the shade. He did it so sharply that the blind fell to the floor.

"Damn!" the young man ejaculated.

It took all of five minutes of annoyed and repeated efforts to get the window shade into place again. When it was done Phillips slumped into a big chair. The hands of the yellow alarm clock on the table pointed to 20 minutes after one o'clock.

His head was pounding. Should have had sense enough not to go out with the gang last night, he told himself. But then, he had had to do something. Brenda was busy with an engagement. He'd intended to join the cast game only for an hour or so and then come home to get some sleep. Instead—well, anyhow he felt rotten!

There should be aspirin in the medicine cabinet. Cherry always kept it.

Phillips checked himself and swore again. He had vowed he his head. Dan plodded on angrily, reached the corner just too late to catch a street car. He fumbled in his vest pocket, discovered he had no cigarettes but no matches.

"Damn everything! What a day!"

They stepped from the cab and Dan handed the driver a bill. Brenda Vail, half-turning, said, "Are you coming up?"

"Don't mind, do you?"

She smiled. "Of course not! Only you really mustn't stay so long as you did the last time, dear. I've letters to write."

"Let's see. Last night you had a mysterious engagement and tonight it's letters. Say, Brenda, you're not trying to get rid of me, are you?"

"Billy boy! How can you even say such things? Besides it's your fault if I've neglected my friends so long that they must all think me dead! You know that, don't you?"

She smiled and to the young man that smile seemed the utmost of devoted tenderness. They were in the building now. The elevator bore them upward, stopped, and a minute later they were entering Miss Vail's apartment.

She stood still, letting Dan remove the luxurious fur wrap from her shoulders. Then she moved to a mirror, touched her hair here and there, patting it into the outline she desired. A slender gold lipstick, from her purse and applied the paste critically.

Dan's head appeared in the mirror behind her. "You don't need that stuff," he told her. "You're beautiful without it!"

Compliments always pleased Brenda. She tilted her head backward, looking up at him and smiling through narrowed lashes.

"Do you really think so?" she asked coyly.

"Brenda, you know I do!" Suddenly his arms were around her. He would have kissed her but she eluded.

"Please, Dan!" she protested. "I've just finished my lips. You'll spoil them!"

"What of it?"

He caught her by the shoulders a trifle roughly, kissed her a dozen times. "Brenda," Dan whispered, "let's get away from this place! There's nothing to stop us now. Let's go tomorrow!"

She broke away from him. "But you must be mad!" Brenda exclaimed. "You know we can't do this!"

"Why not? You said you would—you said we'd go to New York—"

"After we've heard about the play—yes!" she explained patiently. "It would be ridiculous to leave before! You know the letter from my agent said prospects are hopeful. There's sure to be a definite answer almost any day now."

"Any day! You've said that a hundred times. I can't wait for 'any day' to come! I'm sick of this town and everything in it. I want to get away from here, Brenda. What difference does it make about the play? I'll get a job—I can find one!"

"But the play means so much!" she assured him. Brenda's lashes had narrowed again. "It's your job I'm thinking of, Dan," she told him. "You and your future. My dear, you do know that, don't you? We have to do what's best for you."

"Then come away with me!"

"What makes you so anxious to leave Wellington?"

"Why shouldn't I want to leave? I hate the town! There's all a lot of old ideas here. Besides it's the thing to do. If I get out of Cherry can start suit."

"Oh—Cherry! So you're thinking about her now?"

"Don't talk that way, Brenda. I have to think of Cherry, don't I. If you and I are to divorce me, I mean she'll have to divorce me. Of course it will take time but in the meanwhile I told you there are letters I must write. Real-

SMART HOME ENSEMBLE

Have you considered your home ensemble for summer wear? Here's a dainty. The one-piece apron can be slipped on and on in a moment. Dipping at the front, and does it give the figure a long slim line. And to make it! All you've to do is to attach the suspender straps, bind edges and sew the pockets in place.

A cool dainty in lovely flatter blue and white coloring made the dress. The trim was a cotton fabric with a linen dash in plain blue that toned with the dress. The apron repeated the plain blue cotton.

Style No. 2906 may be had in sizes 16 18 years, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 1/2. It has a bust 3 1/2 yards of 36-inch material for the dress with 1 1/2 yards of 36-inch material for the apron and trim.

Another delightful scheme is to make the dress of striped pique with the apron of a striped dimity in yellow, green and soft coral brown tones. Trim the dress with the striped material and use a cocoa brown leather belt.

Cotton in a dress with linen combines smartly for this ensemble. Printed dimity dress with plain dimity apron, tissue checked gingham with plain gingham and printed batiste with plain batiste are other excellent ideas you'll like immensely. A good-looking rig like this will lighten the kitchen chores.

BLACKSMITHS WANTED

Birmingham, Eng.—Despite the lurches of the automobile age, more blacksmiths than ever are in demand in England. The president of the Machine Tooling Association explains that since the auto's coming very few young men have taken up blacksmithing. This has resulted in a decline of the village smithy and consequently there is more than enough business for those now wielding the sledge.

HE'S JOHN HANCOCK

Columbus, O.—"Put your John Hancock right there," Carl Brock, marriage license clerk, told a father who came to aid his son, a minor, in getting a license. The man wrote "John Hancock" on the blank. "I beg your pardon," Brock said. "You misunderstood me. I meant for you to sign your name, there, not John Hancock." To this the father replied: "I did both. My name's John Hancock."

GLORIFYING YOURSELF

Hands Up for Beauty

If you desire a hand that anyone will want to hold, you must teach it a trick or two. If it can't offer any inducements, you might as well stick it in your pocket, and keep it there.

Hands have personality. They talk and sometimes they tell more about their owner than she wants told.

First of all, in grooming your hands, make sure that they are clean. Trepid water, a soft brush and a soap that knows how to enter the pores and remove the dust and grime that has lodged everywhere are necessary. Don't use a highly scented soap. Rise in some more warm water. Dry thoroughly.

Hand exercises, of course, consist of simply pretending that you are pulling on a pair of gloves and fitting them perfectly. Knuckles need special attention. Keep your soft. Don't let them jump out at people in a mad, red manner. Cream the ends of your fingers and work the skin toward the tips. Massage your fingers individually once a week. Make your hand limp. Take the other hand and use it as a lever to shake your fingers, one at a time.

Circulation is speeded up and circulation is necessary for a vibrant, wide-awake hand.

After removing your hands from water use a hand lotion. This will assist in correcting any tendency towards dryness and roughness.

Gloves, like stockings, must never be too small. Make sure that your hands have ample room. Tightness hinders circulation and circulation is vital to beauty. If you wear gloves for softening purposes after massaging, or for protection when your hands are in water, insist on a size that is large enough to let your fingers do as they please.

If you allow a few simple rules anyone who reads your palm will find beauty lines.

YOUR CHILDREN

Teaching Habits of Cleanliness

If we had never learned to wash our hands possibly we should not do so now. Washing our hands wouldn't mean anything.

Likewise if we had never seen a comb, or a tooth brush, such things would not be important to us now. We might try to ape better groomed people about us, but it would be apting. It would not be second nature to need things.

This is why we must begin very early to make "grooming" not only important but necessary to a child, as necessary that he will be unhappy unless he is clean and properly turned out.

There is a dispute about this in an advanced school of thought. Certain students of the deeper child psychology take the stand that it is unnatural for a child to bother about such "superimposed" things as clean clothes, and cleanliness. That such things forced on him inhibit his freedom and that any inhibition that smacks of the artificial or adult is undesirable.

I do not agree with this. That we do force too many artificial things on little children I do admit, far, far too many indeed. There is a time and an age for everything. When reason helps them to see "why" so and so is done, then it is usually time to introduce it.

But cleanliness is different. There is something about having clean hands, brushed hair, a clean body, and a clean mouth that is soothing and comfortable, beyond the fact that such things are hygienic and socially right.

I do not believe that conflicts are begun very often on this score and that, in any case, the training of personal habits is healthy.

Establish Cleanly Habits

For instance, for no reason on earth but to establish habit, I believe it to be wise to wash a baby's hands before he takes his bottles, so that by association of ideas he will remember always that messy time means clean hands first.

Also, after he has been to the bathroom, or on his nursery chair the same thing should be done and for the same reason, although his hands may have had nothing to do with the process of cleaning up or elimination.

Washing his face and brushing his hair and cleaning his little teeth with a bit of soft cheese-cloth or a soft brush will also become associated in time with a feeling of comfort and pride. So much so that when he is older and comes in smeared, hot and dirty, after a hard day he will not have to be ordered with threats and scolding and tears to clean himself up, but will go willingly and cheerfully as a matter of course to do these things for himself.

I do not believe in forcing children of any age to wear clothes they detest. It isn't worth it. They have their reasons and are entitled to them. We force ourselves into the picture, too much on the clothes question.

But keeping clean and neat, or at least going through the operation several times a day is different. If a child has always done it he always will do it. I am sure he won't set up any resentment toward society on this account.

A Thought

HEALTH

DON'T EXPECT MAGIC "SALVE" TO HEAL ULCERS OVERNIGHT

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

Ulcers on other regions of the body than the legs heal promptly unless the are due to cancer or to a constitutional venereal disease.

An ulcer of the leg, as is pointed out in a recent consideration of the subject by Dr. A. Dickson Wright, may persist for any period of time up to 50 years. The reason why ulcers of the leg are likely to be chronic is mechanical primarily.

Drainage of blood from the legs is slower than from the upper parts of the body, even under the best of circumstances. It is necessary, of course, for the blood to rise against the force of gravity.

Various factors help in this process. In the first place the veins have valves which are so arranged as to step the blood up gradually and hold it in the step-pling up process. The veins have a small amount of contractile power as contrasted with the arteries, but they do have some. As the human being walks, the muscles of the legs by their contractions, serve to force the blood upward. The elasticity of the skin and the suction created by the breathing help also.

Naturally, interference with any one of these factors may result in weakness of action. The valves may break down, the walls of the vessels may lose their contractile power and dilate. Failure to exercise may result in loss of the part that the leg muscles play.

As one grows older the skin loses its elasticity. Tumors in the abdomen, or pressure in the abdomen due to a growth of any kind, may interfere with the rate of the flow of blood.

Excess weight may interfere with circulatory action and also with exercise. The effects of such failure is to cause gradual swelling of the tissues due to the accumulation of fluid and finally to destruction of the tissue by failure to secure proper blood supply. Then when any injury to the skin occurs with slight infection, the tissues of the body are unable to take care of it satisfactorily. The ulcer persists and the patient despairs.

There are, however, many instances in which proper treatment will result in a cure of such cases even though they have persisted for a quarter of a century. There is no magic healing salve; nor is there any method of treatment that will cure an ulcer overnight. The condition is one that has persisted long because of the development of factors which must be overcome before the cure can be brought about.

Obviously, it is important to increase the circulation of the blood, to free the patient from pain, to permit him to get adequate sleep, to support the tissues with ban-

Joe McCluskey In Final Olympic Tryout Saturday

First, Second or Third Will Qualify For Team

Lermond, Manning and Manchester Boy Considered Likely To Represent United States In Olympic Games Steeplechase Next Month.

(Special to The Herald)

Palo Alto, Cal., July 13.—Although it is difficult to definitely forecast what will happen in the final track tryouts for the U. S. Olympic team here Friday and Saturday, there will be few surprises if the three Americans to qualify for the 3,000 meter steeplechase are Joe McCluskey of Fordham, Lt. George Lermond of New York City, and Harold Manning of Wichita, Kan.

There is even a possibility that they may finish in exactly this order although to go to such an extreme in a prediction is dangerous. On the time charts no other athletes are considered to have good chances of taking any of the three places which qualify for the U. S. team in this event. Other possibilities are F. E. Highly of the U. S. Naval Academy and W. A. Pritchard of Hamilton College.

Both Lermond and Manning have been credited with faster steeplechase time than McCluskey but the courses have not always included the official three foot hurdles. Also, McCluskey has never been defeated in a steeplechase race during his three years of competition. The McCluskeys, however, constitute the strongest steeplechase team that United States has ever possessed for an Olympic competition.

Their Best Times

George Lermond ran the steeplechase under the present conditions in 9:23.8 at Travers Island. In the Eastern tryouts he did 9:08.4, where the best Olympic time is 9:21.3. But he ran over 2 1/2-foot hurdles instead of 3-foot hurdles. Manning in the Midwest trials did 9:20.1. McCluskey, using the two-mile National indoor steeplechase (run, of course, without a water jump) lowered Eino Purje's record by nine seconds to 9:45.8. He won the Penn relays steeplechase at 3,000 meters in 9:25.8 and at the first hurdle, and without extending himself he won the intercollegiate trial in 9:38.5 over a poor layout. These are America's three leaders.

Little is known of foreign steeplechasers. But Finland which placed one-two-three with Loukola, Nurmi, and Anderson in 1928 will apparently be the nation to beat again at Los Angeles.

The steeplechase final tryouts will be held Saturday afternoon. The winner's time is expected to be down around 9:12. This would be considerably lower than the 9:21.3 which Loukola of Finland won the 1928 Olympic steeplechase. McCluskey reports that he is in fine shape and has picked up a little weight. He now tips the scales at the 143 pound mark. The standard height for the hurdles is three feet. There are 82 such obstacles and eight water jumps 14 feet in length to be negotiated during the steeplechase event. At Boston Lermond ran over lower hurdles which explains his seasonably low time. McCluskey figures he could have done about nine flat over a course of this type. He has beaten Lermond three times in four races but they have never met in a steeplechase.

Best At Berkeley

In his semi-final steeplechase triumph at Berkeley, McCluskey was not forced to exert himself even though two other athletes headed him during early laps. The finish saw the Fordham captain out in front almost 100 yards.

McCluskey ran his own race, so to speak, setting the pace he judged to be the proper one and disregarding the other runners. Russell Johnson of Bates College took a commanding lead early in the race but written under the strain of the long course and combined hurdles and water jumps to finish in fourth place ahead of Ferris of Stanford.

After Jellison faltered, Frank Nordell of N. Y. U. assumed the lead and remained in front until only two laps remained to be covered. Then McCluskey, who had been running a well-judged pace, quickened his steps and leaps to forge into the lead. Toward the end he made it a one-man race, the others being too far behind to be seriously considered.

TWO KNOCKOUTS AT CRYSTAL LAKE

Well Balanced Amateur Fight Program Holds Interest of Crowd.

The G. D. K. Club of Rockville staged a well balanced ten-bout amateur program at Crystal Lake last night and furnished the fans many opportunities to go with their pent-up feelings as they took occasion to cheer the performers in the ring.

Jackie Horner of Broad Brook and Jimmie Francimora were booked as the headliners, but down the line and among the other bouts were several that proved just as interesting and as good for every contestant.

There were two knock-outs, one being applied after eight seconds of fighting when Bert Troy of Tommie Regan's stable, Rockville, landed a right to the jaw and followed with a left to the opposite jaw in such rapid fire manner that his opponent, George Leptis, East Hampton, went down and was so cold that it was not necessary to do any counting.

Mike Murphy, the funny fighting Italian from East Hampton furnished amusement and action in his scheduled three-round go with Patrick Flak of Hartford. The first round was action from the sound of the bell to the finish and the second round was just underway when Sir Michael forced his man to the corner and applied so many hard blows that they carried Flak out and raised Mike's arm as winner.

Echoes Beat Pilots 8 To 1 in League Ball Game, Gvenaki Allows Only Four Hits.

The Echoes defeated the Pilots 8 to 1 at the Fourace last night and snapped off a sparkling triple play that caught the Pilots sleeping. "Hurry-up, Johnny" Gvenaki, who takes more than an adequate amount of time while working on the pitching slab, held the Pilots to four hits and one run while his teammates provided together eight runs on nine hits.

The Echoes scored four runs in the first inning on three hits, an error and a free ticket to first base. They grabbed two more in the second. Eycholski walked, Boggini singled and Hadden drove in to center field that Werner let go through his legs, scoring two runs.

RYKOSKI CONNECTS FOR A HOME RUN

The Y. M. C. A. boys team won their third straight game last night when they defeated Balon's All-Stars at the north and playgrounds, 10-1. The "Y" knocked Varrick, the All-Stars pitcher, out of the box in the third inning when 13 men came to bat. In that inning Rykoski, the first man up hit a home run into the brook in left field. Eycholski pitched a fine game for the winners only allowing one hit, while Swilka was best in the field for the losers handling six chances without an error.

SENSE AND NONSENSE

SUCCESS
Success is not measured by the dollars you made.
But by the fight you put up and the game you played.
It doesn't go to the strongest man. But to him who says, "I will, and I can."
You have to fight hard to win the game.
That's the only way to glory and fame.
And after you've done the best you can.
You can call yourself a successful man.

Wife—O dear, O dear. I dreamt that you had died.
Husband—Don't cry, dear. Why let a bad dream upset you so? I'm still with you.
Wife—Yes, I know, darling, but I was about to cash your insurance check when the alarm woke me and spoiled it all.

A bank of England director says that nowadays people have given up saving money. They have also given up wagging their tails, and for the same reason.

Gentleman (calling to chemist friend)—How is that last case of stuff I left to be analyzed?
Chemist—Besh! Shtuff I ever analyzed—whoopee!

Teacher (to boy who is misbehaving)—James, sit down in front.
James—I can't. I'm not made that way.

The majority of men will admit that it is useless to argue with a woman. Nevertheless they always see to it that she has to put up a bold fight to get the last word.

Caller—I want to see the boss.
Stenographer—What do you want to see him about?
Caller—About a job.
Stenographer—I'm sorry, but you can't see him, he's in an employment conference.

Pratt—He who laughs last laughs best.
Spy—Yeah, but he soon gets a reputation for being mighty dumb.

It will be nice when business really picks up. Then the members of one party can say that they did it, and the members of the other that they drove them to it.

Wife—Did you see those men staring at that fapper as she boarded the street car?
Husband—What men?

The habit of telling little white lies is due to a disease of the pituitary glands, we are told. And four out of every five seem to have it.

When You Borrow Trouble, You Always Pay a High Rate of Interest.

Kindly Disposed Lady—It must be very hard to be poor.
Needy Individual—Hard? I've always found it easy enough, ma'am.

We Used to Have to Go to the Butcher to Get Tripe and Now, We Get It Over the Radio—Lots of It.
MOTHER (telephoning from party)—Johnny, I hope you and Bobby are being good boys while I am away.
JOHNNY—Yes, we are. And mamma, we're having more fun. We let the bath tub run over, and we are playing Niagara Falls on the stairway.

TODAY IS THE WORLD WAR ANNIVERSARY

1,100,000 AMERICANS IN FRANCE

On July 18, 1918, General Peyton C. Barch announced in Washington that more than 1,100,000 American troops were in France and that more than 700,000 of them were fit for actual combat.

On the western front, French troops continued their "nibbling" tactics at the German lines and advances were reported in the Longport-Corcy area and in the Anthoull district southeast of Montdidier. Greek forces defeated their Bulgarian opponents again in the Balkan campaign and advanced across the Sturms river.

President Wilson was given the right to take over the telegraph lines in the United States for the duration of the war.
