J. S. Investment of About 500 Millions Threatened If Adverse Action Is Taken At Conference.

Ottawa, Ont., July 27.—(AP)—The future of more than 100 American branch plants in Canada, representing an investment of about $500,000,000, was in the balance today as an Imperial trade conference committee took up the question of "Empire content."

"Empire content" is the percentage of Empire materials or labor which an article must contain to qualify for Customs entry under Empire preferential tariff rates.

At present, with certain exceptions in individual instances, the standard of Empire content now is 50 percent in Canada and New Zealand, 75 percent in Australia and 25 percent in the Irish Free State, the United Kingdom and South Africa.

American interest in the subject is keen. It is not high enough to prevent American manufacturers sending parts to Canada assembling them in a Canadian branch factory and shipping the finished product to Great Britain under British preferential rates. And if the British rate of 25 percent were increased to the Canadian rate of 50 percent, they have pointed out, Canadian labor would benefit in proportion.

CHENEYS SEEK 3-4 MILLION FOR WATER SYSTEM

Town Would Also Have To Assume $500,000 Bond Issue, Bringing Total Cost To Town To $1,333,850.

A representative group from Cheney Brothers headed by Ward Cheney, president, Frank Cheney, Jr. and Howell Cheney appeared before the full Board of Selectmen last night at a special meeting of that body and gave the first public figures on the proposed purchase of the South Manchester Water Company and the South Manchester Sanitary and Sewer District, which is now being investigated by the Selectmen.

Four Conditions
Cheney Brothers in their sale proposal laid before the Selectmen four main conditions which must be met if the sale is to be consummated. First, the sale must be made as of October 1, 1932, the total cost of the Water and Sewer companies to be $1,333,000 including the following costs:

Cheney Brothers' equity in the Water Company of $370,810 and in the Sewer Company of $263,040 totaling $633,850. To this sum would be added $500,000 of bonds that the town would assume, making the grand total $1,333,850.

Other Stipulations
The sales proposal made by Cheney Brothers included besides the required date of sale and the price, certain other stipulations as follows: That "no charge be made by Cheney Brothers for the trunk line sewers, and no assessments to be laid by the town, against property owners of users of trunk line sewers to abutting property owners, and then only on the basis of six inch sewers; and further, as a partial offset to the transfer of the trunk line sewers without charge to the town, the town is to assume the obligation of the Sewer Company, the Water Company and Cheney Brothers to take away all waste water from Rogers Paper Mills without expense to the owners."

"The town to assume the expense of operation and maintenance of the

WORK ON HIGHWAYS CREATES MANY JOBS

Estimated That 250,000 Will Get 30 Hours Weekly For Eleven Months.

Chicago, July 27.—(AP)—The $12,000,000 Federal appropriation to aid states in highway construction is expected to furnish 250,000 men with 30 hours work each week for eleven months.

This was revealed in a National survey which indicated that highway construction would be tripled in many states by the Federal appropriations. The states must match them in order to benefit by the government's action.

Relief workers throughout the country generally said they were enthusiastic over the plan, particularly because of the provision for a 30-hour week. This, they pointed out, would provide jobs for more men over a longer period of time.

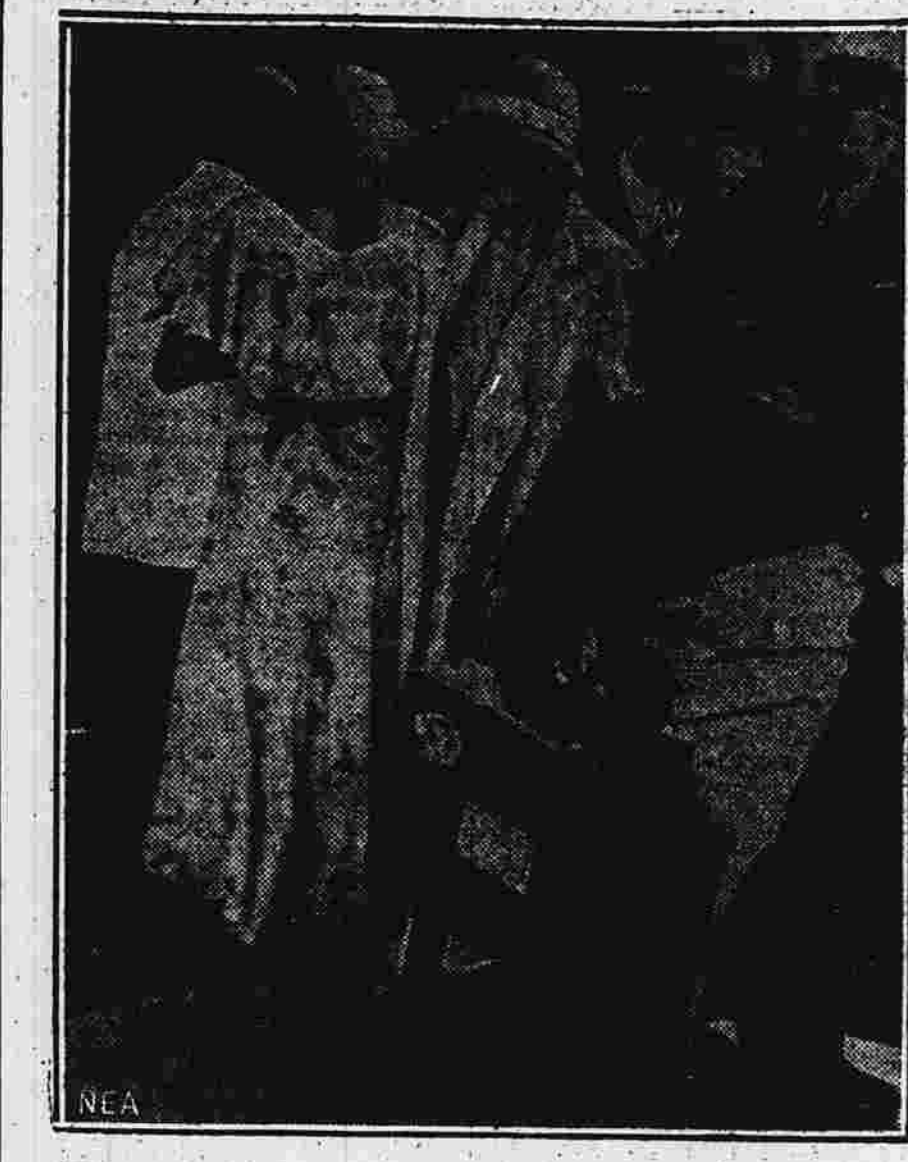

Some estimates
Definite estimates were made by highway officials in 18 states on the number of additional men who

Odd Story of Revenge As Reason for a Murder

San Jose, Calif., July 27.—(AP)—A strange story of revenge which led a 20-year-old youth to kill his aunt and attempt to slay his uncle, a wealthy Manila importer and exporter, to avenge a wrong done his father, was told by San Jose authorities today.

The youth, George Douglas Templeton, Jr., University of California student, authorities said, confessed in Oakland, Calif., where he was arrested early today.

This may be one of the last pictures to be taken of the glamorous Greta Garbo in this country. For as you see her here, center, the screen star was arriving in New York to catch a boat for Sweden. And there are many who believe she never will return to American films.

BIG DEMAND FOR GOLD CAUSE OF DEPRESSION

Cornell Professor Claims Over-Production Had Nothing To Do With It; Suggests Many Remedies.

Amherst, Mass., July 27.—(AP)—A world demand for gold and not over-production, greater efficiency, extravagance, prohibition, or our form of government, Professor G. F. Warren of Cornell University said today is the cause of the present economic depression.

Lack of a general understanding of the cause of the depression, Professor Warren said in a home and farm week address at Massachusetts State college, is the primary reason why nothing has been done to cure it.

Two avenues of procedure to meet the situation were open, Professor Warren said. Completion of the process of deflation to the new gold value, or a raising of the price level to a level to which business is adjusted.

"If we wish to proceed with deflation," said Professor Warren, "we should recognize what it means and take all of our steps in that direction rather than attempt to refloat employment and deflation by another. The Glass bill just passed giving the circular privilege to certain bonds is mildly refloatatory. The tax on bank checks and increase in postage rates are deflationary measures.

Loans to Banks
"The lending of money to banks or railroads is of value if we are to refloat so that equities will be improved. It accomplishes little if we wish to pursue the deflationary course."

"The completion of the process of deflation will result in endless hardships," Professor Warren said, "but when the debt liquidation is completed, the nation can again be prosperous."

"For a number of years while this process is being completed," he said, "there must be continuous unemployment and vast sums of public money be spent to prevent starvation and riots. It is foolish to talk of reducing public expenditures during such a period because the charity expenses will more than offset any business savings made by curtailing government services."

Odd Story of Revenge As Reason for a Murder

San Jose, Calif., July 27.—(AP)—The Olympic games and former business partner of Templeton's father, lay dangerously wounded in a Palo Alto hospital where a blood transfusion was ordered.

The desire for revenge, the confession related, hinged on the five-year litigation between Babcock and Templeton, Sr., formerly partner in Babcock and Templeton, Manila importing and exporting firm of which Babcock is now president.

G. W. WHEELER, FORMER CHIEF JUSTICE, DIES

Taken Ill Suddenly Last Evening With Attack of Heart Trouble—Had Been Chief Justice For 10 Years.

Bridgeport, July 27.—(AP)—George Wakeman Wheeler, who retired as chief justice of Connecticut, December 1, 1920, died of heart disease at his home today. His son, Macy, his daughter, Helen Lucy Wheeler, and his physician, Dr. Pyle, were at the bedside.

Justice Wheeler seemingly had been in his usual health while at the court house yesterday. Last evening he was taken ill. The cause of death was given as stoppage of the coronary artery. Wheeler had been constant in his labors at the court house, having been referred in an aviation suit.

He was born December 1, 1860, in Woodville, Miss. When he was four years old his parents moved to Hackensack, N. J., where his father became judge of the Court of Common Pleas for Bergen county. He was graduated from Yale college in 1881 and from the law school in 1883.

Forms Partnership
Then he formed a partnership in Bridgeport with his classmate, Howard J. Curtis, who later went on the bench. The partnership lasted ten years when Wheeler was appointed to the Superior Court and Curtis to the Common Pleas bench.

Judge Wheeler also went into politics and at the age of 30 was regarded as one of the Democratic leaders in the state. In 1892 when Governor Lusk B. Morris took office he declined to be executive secretary. It was in that year, after making an effort to obtain a judgeship appointment for a friend, he was appointed to the Superior Court by Governor Morris.

During the war Justice Wheeler served as a member of the State Council of Defense, as chairman of the war bureau in Bridgeport, and in other capacities. He was credited with having a large part in the breaking up of a threatened strike in a Bridgeport arms factory.

He attained popularity among residents of Italian birth and descent because of his interest in people of that race. This was recognized by the Italian government which in 1920 decorated him. In the same year Yale University conferred on Justice Wheeler the honorary degree of Doctor of Law.

DEFIANCE IS SOUNDED IN GERMAN'S ADDRESS

Strapped to Desks, 69 Cadets Drowned

Kiel, Germany, July 27.—(AP)—A group of buoys bobbed on the surface of Kiel Bay today over the spot where 69 German naval cadets were drowned yesterday, when the old three-masted, wind-jammer Niobe, used as a training vessel, went down in a squall.

The 69 youths were strapped to their desks in the school between decks when the vessel sank in a twinkling in 11 fathoms of water. Only six of those below decks at the time were able to save themselves as the hurricane plunged. Thirty-seven were saved, including the captain, his lieutenant, 17 of the crew and 18 cadets. They were rescued by the steamer Theresia Russ, which was nearby.

Was War Prize
The Niobe was a war prize. Originally she was a four-master and was reconducted for a training ship in one of the first moves to re-establish a German navy under the limits imposed by the post war treaties. For two years she was commanded by Count Felix Von Luckner, dubbed "The Sea Devil" by the Allies for his exploits during the war.

Third Catastrophe
The catastrophe is the third of its kind to overtake the Navy. The school ship Amazone sank off the coast of Holland November 14, 1881, and 145 were lost, and the Gneisenau which was rammed near Malta, December 16, 1890, with a loss of 40 drowned.

Captain Mueller of the rescue steamer reported to port authorities today how he had rescued the 37 men foundering in the sea after the Niobe keeled over.

Two planes from here last night after several hours' flying over the territory as far as the Danish coast, but saw no trace of the Niobe, or any more survivors.

General Von Schleicher Says If Germany Is Not Grant- ed Equality and Released From Post War Treaties She Must Arrange For Own Security By Organiz- ing Her Armed Forces.

Berlin, July 27.—(AP)—The voice of General Kurt Von Schleicher, veteran of the Kaiser's army, breaker of wild horses and power behind the throne of the Von Papen government, was out in the open in the Reichstag election campaign today with a note of defiance for the world.

In a radio address last night he served virtual notice on the world powers that unless Germany is granted equality and released from the limitations of the post-war treaties she will proceed to establish her own security by a reorganization of her armed forces.

Security for Germany, he said, could only be attained by the other powers scaling down their armaments to Germany's level, or by reorganizing—not increasing—Germany's own defenses.

A foreign office spokesman explained today what the general meant by reorganization.

"The provisions of the Versailles Treaty concerning munition factories," he said, "make it obligatory to operate those factories uneconomically, and that results in waste of army funds. General Von Schleicher wants to achieve better results by more economical operation. That is what he means by reorganization."

"In addition to that Germany can increase her security by permitting proper physical development of her youth, even without direct military training by putting young men in a position to help ward off the attack of a powerful opponent on what has been up to now an almost defenseless people."

No Storm Troops
He said the government had no intention of absorbing Adolf Hitler's storm troops into the army. The qualifications which determine the selection of the storm troopers, he said, are quite different from those of the Army.

Regarding the alternative of reductions of armaments of other powers to Germany's level, he said: "There aren't many who believe that military disarmament is the only government possible in one supported by the broadest majority of the people."

Not Military Man
"I am, less a military man," he said, "than many ministers who, professing Democracy, abuse their faith in bayonets. So say the Junkers (landed aristocrats) and the general overthrew the previous Cabinet is an errant lie."

Persons closely in touch with political affairs said that Sunday's election would result in a majority in the Reichstag either for the Rightist supporters of Von Papen, including Hitler's Nazis or the coalition of Socialists and Centerists which ran the government under Dr. Heinrich Brüning.

Pressure was being exerted on the Rightist leaders to eliminate this possibility by outlawing the Communist Party, thus preventing its support from going to the other side. But it was pointed out that such action probably would result only in an enormous increase in the vote of the Socialist opposition.

A score of powerful orators, headed by Adolf Hitler, released a flood of oratory throughout the country for the Nazis, the Nationalists, and the middle parties.

Former Chancellor Heinrich Brüning, far from yielding subserviently to the Rightist wave which swept him out of office, has been acclaimed by tens of thousands at his meetings in his home state of Westphalia.

POLICE UNEARTH PLOT TO START BANK RUNS

Radical Groups Went From City and Used Telephones To Worry Big Depositors; Documents Seized.

Pontiac, Mich., July 27.—(AP)—State police unmasked today for the arrest of George Rowland, on a charge that he acted as the Detroit agent of a radical group which planned a social revolution by the circulation of rumors attacking a number of large banks in the country. The officers said that a raid on Rowland's hotel room here yesterday revealed the ramifications of the plot.

Capt. Ira H. Marmon of the state police said that letters and diagrams seized in the raid established that Rowland had directed the circulation of rumors against banks in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Michigan and that he had been instrumental in attacks against the First National bank here.

After Rowland's room was entered the documents seized, Capt. Marmon gave orders for the arrest of the man but he did not return to the hotel. Marmon believes he was warned by a confederate and fled.

Marmon said the letters showed Rowland was one of several regional directors of attacks against banks and that a number of sub-directors were working under his direction in the middle west, particularly in Chicago and Cleveland.

Telephone conversations from Rowland's hotel room, which were tapped by detectives, Marmon said, showed the method of operation of the ring. Agents of the bureau, going into a New York city, secured the names of prominent business men from the city directory, called them by telephone and warned them that the banks in which their money was deposited was in an unsound condition.

Some of the calls were made from pay stations, the state police captain said, so they could not be traced. The receipt of a number of such calls were reported to the officers by men to whom they were made.

The names of firms and individuals having large accounts in the First National bank here were found in lists seized in the raid on Rowland's room.

SCOTSMAN CLAIMS WENDEL FORTUNE

Says He Is Son of Multi- Millionaire—His Story Sounds Like a Novel.

New York, July 27.—(AP)—Council for the estate of the late Ellis V. Von Wendel, multi-millionaire Fifth avenue resident, today launched an attack on the claim of Thomas Patrick Morris, 53-year-old Scotsman, that he was the son of John Gottlieb Wendel and entitled to a share in the Wendel fortune.

Morris testified in Surrogate's Court yesterday in his claim of relationship to the Wendels and introduced in evidence an old novel, within the covers of which is written a purported will bequeathing John Gottlieb's estate to Morris and reciting the alleged facts of Wendel's life.

The man, whose identity was not disclosed by the company, has not been arrested, although the police department has been called into the case.

He is now cooperating with us and the insurance company in order to determine the details of the defalcation."

Russian Who Killed French President Pleads That He Wants To Die.

Paris, July 27.—(AP)—Paul Gorguloff, whose hysterical outbursts have been frequent during his trial for the assassination of President Paul Doumer, screamed again today that he wanted to die on the guillotine.

His attorney asked that the court permit the jury to decide on the defendant's sanity. The prosecution objected, asserting that the jury should determine only two questions—whether Gorguloff killed the president and whether the crime was premeditated.

It was then that the Russian leaped to his feet. "Take my life!" he cried, "lay me on the guillotine! The French government has killed my ideal and my party. I am a living corpse. I do not want to live!"

The defendant's Swiss wife testified that Gorguloff was a good husband and that until a few days before the assassination was perfectly normal. Then he seemed queer and had strange mannerisms.

The prosecution called a Russian publisher and a Berlin printer who testified that Gorguloff's memoirs were so incoherent that they were not worth publishing.

FARMBOARDS SCORED BY KANSAS WIDOW

Operator of 4,500 Acre Farm Says Farmers Are All Against Federal Board

Kansas City, July 27.—(AP)—A militant Kansas widow, who bore a heavy arm to prove she is a real "dirt farmer," told the Kansas House committee today the only thing that would help the farmers of her state "is to kick the devil out of the Farm Board."

The witness, Mrs. Ida Watkins of Sublette, early in her testimony, sought to impress members of the committee investigating government competition with private business, they were listening to the words of the actual operator of a 4,800 acre wheat farm.

She rolled up a sleeve of her black dress, disclosing a bicep, muscular arm.

"Gentlemen, if you don't think I'm a wheat shoveler, look at this arm, or ask any man in my county," she challenged.

Called Wheat Queen Having thus qualified herself as a witness, Mrs. Watkins sometimes called the "wheat queen" launched a vigorous attack on the Agricultural Marketing Act and the Farm Board.

Asked by M. W. Borders, Sr., attorney who is conducting the examinations of many witnesses, how she drew the line in cooperative marketing she replied:

"At the doggone, damnable government interference in our affairs and our business, I want the members of this committee to understand that the Farm Board is not from the wishes of the Kansas farmers. The only thing that will help these farmers is to kick the devil out of the Farm Board."

Mrs. Watkins asserted that 98 per cent of the farmers of the state are against the Farm Board.

"The other 2 percent," she said, "don't know the board's rottenness or they also would condemn it."

NEW BRITAIN MAYOR DISCHARGES CRITICS

New Britain, July 27.—(AP)—Declaring that the unfavorable report which they and representatives of local manufacturers made yesterday regarding the city's unemployment relief system constituted a "vicious and unintelligent" attack upon his administration, Mayor George A. Quigley today notified Joseph E. Stone, William J. Farley and Leonard E. Morse that he had removed them from the board of finance and taxation. Their report, he said, was likely to "create serious resentment" in the municipal government.

The report made by a special investigating committee, condemned the relief work as inefficient, hampered by politics, and "not even intelligent." It recommended radical changes in the "city" system in use here for the relief work.

The mayor today said he would not ask welfare board members for their resignations.

Quigley's action today followed an executive session of the finance board yesterday at which he defended relief work against its critics. He denied charges of political interference.

BOY SCOUT A HERO

Berlin, July 27.—(AP)—Clark Burwell, 14-year-old Boy Scout, saved two younger boys from drowning in Brick Pond, East Berlin, yesterday. The boys, Louis and Henry Pomanelli, aged about 10 and 8 respectively, slipped into the pond without being noticed by anyone but Clark, who missed them, dove in and dragged one after the other from the bottom to safety on shore. One lad was unconscious and the other partly so, but Clark aided in reviving both.

ELY AND NOMINEE HOLD CONFERENCE

Effort Being Made To Promote Harmony In Bay State For Campaign.

Albany, N. Y., July 27.—(AP)—Governor Joseph B. Ely of Massachusetts, staunch adherent to the cause of Alfred E. Smith in the Democratic National convention battle, arrived in Albany at midday today and immediately went into conference with Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, the presidential nominee. Governor Ely motored directly to the executive mansion from his home in Westfield, Mass., accompanied by his bodyguard and chauffeur.

The Massachusetts executive was asked if he cared to say anything regarding reports that his visit was for the sole purpose of eradicating the friction between the forces of Roosevelt and Smith.

"That," Ely said smilingly, "would be impolite for me to say now before I have talked with Governor Roosevelt."

"Do you expect the people over in Massachusetts to be for Roosevelt?" Governor Ely was asked.

"Part of them" was the governor's brief answer.

The parley was arranged a week ago in Massachusetts by James A. Farley, Governor Roosevelt's campaign manager and National party chairman. It was the first hint of any change in the hostile demeanor of the Smith wing to Governor Roosevelt, an attitude that found its inception months ago, grew to bitter proportions in the Chicago convention and lurked in the background after the collapse of the "Stop Roosevelt" movement and the nomination of the New York governor.

An old friend and political adviser of Mr. Roosevelt set down to the luncheon-conference table with the two governors, Samuel L. Rosenman, Mr. Rosenman, named a Bureau Court Justice last spring by Mr. Roosevelt, was closely allied with the campaign which elected the governor for two terms and instrumental in laying the groundwork for his presidential nomination.

Details of the proposed fight were given confirmation by Captain David G. Dedrick, of Groton, uncle of the famous aviator.

Nearly every other state in the Union reported that employment would be increased substantially. Definite estimates could not be made until checkups are made of the state money to be spent for labor and material.

Officials in various states said that in addition to the thousands employed on the highways, other men would benefit by the work of manufacturing the machinery and material for the road construction program.

POLITICAL SIGNIFICANCE

Washington, July 27.—(AP)—The action of President Hoover in turning over control of the Reconstruction Corporation directorate to Democrats, by the appointment to head yesterday of Adlai Pomerene, of Ohio, was being weighed for political significance today in the Capital.

Word from Cleveland was that the former senator would not take his post until next week. Meanwhile, although keeping their opinions to themselves in general for the present, legislators at the Capitol contemplated whether the move would have a reflex in the presidential campaign.

Relief loans and other new activities of the corporation will await the arrival of Pomerene and the naming of a seventh director.

Corporation officials said that courtesy to the new directors would dictate such a course and that it was thought wise to have the full membership present when policies and details of carrying out the relief act are adopted.

ing the war period, most of the world stopped using gold as money. This reduced its value and as a result the supply in this country increased 117 per cent from 1914 to 1928.

The return of nations of the world to the gold basis with a "frantic demand for gold," Professor Warren said, so enhanced its value that over-building and an unjustified rise in stock values resulted.

Suggests a Cure

"If we wish to cure the situation rather than let deflation take its course," Professor Warren said, "there are many ways of increasing the currency. If we are to adopt any one of these, we must be prepared, if necessary, to suspend gold payments for a time, as it is very probable that any means which would go far enough to restore prosperity might cause gold withdrawal before the situation is corrected."

Pointing out that most of the Continental countries have reduced the weight of gold in the monetary units and thus increased the price of gold, Professor Warren said: "If all the world returns to a gold basis, it is probable that we will have to raise the price of gold to correspond with the excessive demand for it, or continue to have business distress for many years. To attempt to adjust the entire business and gold structure to the present value of gold is a more serious business undertaking than this country has ever attempted. It has proved too much for most of the world."

gram for the financial rehabilitation of the country" to be put into effect if and when he takes office.
 Comes from pretty close to home, doesn't it? Pretty good authority. Good enough assurance on these two subjects to suit plenty of folks. And yet the amiable governor isn't, after all, committed to a thing. Jimmy is a man, if a young one—his own boss; Franklin D. isn't any more to be held responsible for the fulfillment of Jimmy's promises than the man in the moon. Jimmy could go down into Manhattan and promise that Jimmy Walker will be made secretary of the treasury "when Roosevelt is elected," and make it sound real—and then F. D. could be as shocked as you pleased, if the proper time should ever arrive, at any suggestion that the promise be kept.
 It's a brand new political situation and pretty sure to produce some interesting developments. But Jimmy will have to be, after all, about as artful a dodger as his father if he is to avoid all the rocks with which the path of this experiment would seem to be strewn.

ROUGH ON EATS
 With five Nassau county police officers under indictment for first degree manslaughter, penalty 20 years or less, in the "third degree" killing of a bandit, and eight other officers indicted for second degree assault, with a possible five year penalty, in the maltreatment of the bandit's three companions in the beating and robbery of a policeman's mother, the underworld is agog with expectancy. It is hoping for the conviction and long imprisonment of all these police officers. So are a very great many respectable people.
 Not very many of the latter and probably none at all of the former have much thought to waste on the sufferings of the elderly woman, put to torture by the subsequent victims of the police because the thieves fancied that she somewhere had hidden money other than the $4 they had taken from her. It is quite overlooked that the woman was a reputable citizen living, as she had every right to expect, under the protection of the law and that the assault on her was unprovoked, deliberately criminal and brutal in the last degree; while on the other hand the victims of the police outrage were filthy rats whose crime was enough to make any decent person lose his head in dealing with them.
 Doubtless the indignation so widely expressed over the rough handling of the four gangsters by the Nassau police is based on sound moral grounds; police officers have no legal or other right to manhandle their prisoners. It is impossible to justify their abuse of these wretched brutes on any basis that would hold water. Just the same the man who died of his injuries got no more than he deserved and those who survived their mistreatment got a great deal less, and it is impossible not to feel considerable sympathy with the policemen who, in sheer indignation at the crime and the sneering callousness of the criminals, gave them a dose of their own medicine.
 Also, we can be as piously shocked as we please at this affair, but it is shrewdly to be suspected that if there is one spot within a hundred miles of Broadway and Forty-second street that gangsters, bandits, gunmen and human rats generally are likely to avoid for a long time to come that spot is Mineola and its contiguous Nassau county territory.

HOOPER STRATEGY
 It happens that the appointment of Alton Pomerene, noted Ohio statesman and lawyer, to be chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation is not only economically wise but disconcerting and confusing to President Hoover's political enemies. Even Speaker Garner, with all his malevolent partisanship, will be somewhat at a loss to find, in the selection of the Ohio Democrat, anything to carp at.
 In naming former Senator Pomerene for this highly important post Mr. Hoover has played a trump card. The appointment, besides being peculiarly fitting in itself, insures that a majority of the membership of the great reconstruction body will be of the opposition party—a fact that can hardly fail to silence the volume of criticism of the board's every act otherwise inevitable between now and election were it possible for the Democrats to misrepresent it as a mere tool of the administration. Perhaps Mr. Hoover did not have this aspect of the matter in mind when he hit upon Mr. Pomerene as successor to Eugene Meyer, but if he did not then his sense of duty chanced to direct him into as clever a bit of political strategy as has been witnessed in many a day.
 Alton Pomerene is no nominal Democrat. He is one of the big men of the party as well as one of the country's foremost lawyers.

2-CYLINDER NOMINEE
 Governor Roosevelt is the first Presidential candidate in more than a lifetime, at least, to have a son old enough and articulate enough to be as useful on the stump in his father's support as Jimmy Roosevelt is turning out to be.
 Jimmy gives indications of being a unique figure in the campaign. He is the handiest kind of a convenience for a candidate when the candidate is a bit of a dodger. It's really a wonder that politicians haven't heretofore figured on the desirability of selecting Presidential candidates possessing talkative sons. It's really as good as having two nominees, one to campaign white in white territory and one to campaign black in black territory. Altogether a whole of an idea.
 At a Democratic breakfast near Worcester, in the dripping wet state of Massachusetts, Monday, Jimmy made the first announcement that "the Democratic President," immediately after inauguration next March, would call a special session of Congress to modify the Volstead act as an economic measure providing employment.
 Also Jimmy let it be known that Governor Roosevelt has been "working for the last few days" to be able to smear at the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, or impugn its intelligence or integrity, now that its chairman is to be one of their own leading lights and its control in the hands of Democrats. Mr. Hoover, for the purposes of this campaign, has taken the R. F. C. out of politics—an achievement of the utmost importance.

JOHN Q. TILSON
 The determination of Representative John Q. Tilson of the Third Connecticut Congressional District not to run for re-election this fall comes as a surprise, at least to those who live outside his constituency, but it is, after all, logical enough.
 Mr. Tilson has done an immense amount of work for his state and his party during his long Congressional career and it has always been done intelligently and well. It cannot be said, however, that his services have met with quite as complete appreciation, or at all events with the full evidence of such appreciation, as might well have been the case.
 It is not unnatural, then, that this loyal and conscientious servant of his country has come to feel that he has fulfilled his public duty and is entitled to devote the remainder of his life to the pursuit of happiness and the security of his family.
 If the Third District succeeds in finding another representative even reasonably approaching Colonel Tilson in ability, industry and conscientiousness, to be his successor, it will be fortunate.

IN NEW YORK
 New York, July 26.—The third business man goes to the seashore this summer. There, for considerably less than the $6.00 per seat he once paid for "one of the sides," he may observe innumerable stunts who need no Zigfield to glorify them. Nature best fit to it by many years.
 Broadway has abandoned its most mentioned customer at a time when he is caught between the depression and the deep blue sea. There are no undraped chorists, save those known to the burlesque world as "strippers." Nor can the big street remember when some White, some Carroll, some Ziggy, some anonymous fellow had no summer reveries to offer.
 The four music show hits to survive the market and the humidity are as polite as a wog on his first visit. "The Cat and the 'Tiddie," oldest of the season's crop, offers music, song and pleasantly light love. "Show Boat" offers costumes of Civil War vintage plus super-class; "Of Thee I Sing" offers national travesty with love elevated to a campaign issue; "Face the Music" offers at the political intrigues in New York and the economic conditions.
 Meanwhile Carroll is rumored wandering about, frequently in the company of a widow who may turn out to be an "angel." Zigfield has been seriously ill and White has been trying to make up his mind what to do next.
 "Pros" for Chop:
 Taking a hint from the hungry Village artists who sold their painted wares in Washington square, Broadway now peddles the stage props used by excellent actors. The money thus received goes to the Actors' Dinner Club, which seeks to feed the jobless performer.
 The other day, at such a sale, I noted the red-stained handkerchief used by Walter Hampden in the last act of "Cyrano." If I learned, as I recall, played Rozanne. There, was the cigar case that Dan Frohman used in many a scene. The key to a room in "Grand Hotel" had been sent in by Sam Jaffe, the original Kringelein.

 Or, to continue, a belt worn by Paul Whiteman in the days before he became an almost perfect 48; a make-up mirror used by Dorothy Stickney in her first hit; a sketch of a stage scene from the pen of Alfred Lunt when he played "Carpenter"; a cape, once worn by E. H. Sothern.
 Many of the actors for whom the sale was held had, ironically enough, appeared in plays where the props were used.

 London, July 27.—(AP)—A "mystery" shipment of 254,000 in gold (currently about $1,800,000) left Plymouth for New York today aboard the steamer Lafayette and the news caused much surprise on the London bullion market.
 It was pointed out on the market that any transaction for sale of British gold at New York under the present exchange relation would represent a loss and therefore it was assumed this shipment represented a private account.
 Bankers said they were equally in the dark and agreed it must represent a private transaction, possibly gold from India re-shipped from London.

CAPITOL BONUS DEMONSTRATION REMINDS DUTCHER OF DEM CONVENTION
 By RODNEY DUTCHER
 NEA Service Writer.

Washington.—It was a beautiful, balmy night and the more you watched those strange goings-on in front of the United States Capitol the balmyer everything seemed to be.
 You drove up to the Hill this night to see the hundreds of ex-soldiers, broke and demanding the cash bonus, who were camping at the Capitol as a method of protest and propaganda.
 What happened later was so unlike anything that had ever happened before in that spot that your correspondent took quite a few notes. Here are some of them:
 A Picnic Without Food
 Vets won't be permitted to sleep on the grounds again. . . . Band plays the Pilgrim's Chorus. . . . Boys and girls holding hands on the grass; kids with velocipedes. It's a picnic, but no food in sight. The Capitol on some of the bonus bread and some coffee for dinner.
 Most veterans are beyond the plaza, on sidewalk, on the wall and on the grass behind. . . . There go the cops, just a few, telling everybody to get off the grass. It's tough on some of the bonus boys who have dropped off to sleep. The cops slap them gently on the back and say: "I'm sorry, pal. We're all men. We're all ex-service men ourselves. We have to do this. Sorry, Buddy!"

"Keep Moving, Pal"
 The men are instructed by their leaders, since they can't sit or lie down on the sidewalk, to march slowly all night. They move reluctantly from the grass, over the wall and the 500 or 600 of them are soon mingled with a crowd four times as large. . . . An airplane roars overhead, underneath a round, white "X."
 The cops say, monotonously over and over again, "Keep moving! Keep moving!" . . . Comes what is perhaps the most interesting demonstration of just "milling around" of all time. The crowd merely circulates among itself. Everybody inches, shuffles, walks wicker-shins or wiggles.
 Eventually, somehow, almost the entire mob, good-natured but hoping something will happen, advances to the foot of the tall House steps. . . .

The Strain Tells
 They begin to fall out and pile up on the steps. . . . Ten or 15 minutes and every time a kick off the steps, gently, again. . . . Lights on the dome go off well after midnight. Relative darkness. . . . The crowd is eased slowly from the grounds by police wedges. . . . Marchers drop out in greater numbers, piling on the grass next the Capitol and on the steps.
 Cops are reasonable; they don't move them for half an hour. . . . Eventually some allow themselves to be led off for some sleep, promising them to return and relieve the others so the march will never stop.
 It reminded you of the awful all-night session at the Democratic national convention, but no one except the bonus marchers themselves had any idea that their hardships would be crowned by attainment of their aims.

Grass Is Soaked
 The lawn sprinklers suddenly go on full blast, soaking every inch of grass where vets had expected to sleep. . . . Vets start a chain gang march directly at the foot of the steps, each with hands on shoulder of the man just ahead. . . . Some sing rascally most of the old army songs.
 Again the crowd presses to the foot of the steps and again it moves. . . . Every time a kick off the women scream. . . . Hundreds of women here. . . . Some of the marchers limp. Others are obviously disabled. One both lumps and shakes. Soon he has a fit and the ambulance comes for him. Another day a fit every time a chain gang march directly at the foot of the steps, each with hands on shoulder of the man just ahead. . . . Some sing rascally most of the old army songs.

CAPITOL BONUS DEMONSTRATION REMINDS DUTCHER OF DEM CONVENTION
 By RODNEY DUTCHER
 NEA Service Writer.

Washington.—It was a beautiful, balmy night and the more you watched those strange goings-on in front of the United States Capitol the balmyer everything seemed to be.
 You drove up to the Hill this night to see the hundreds of ex-soldiers, broke and demanding the cash bonus, who were camping at the Capitol as a method of protest and propaganda.
 What happened later was so unlike anything that had ever happened before in that spot that your correspondent took quite a few notes. Here are some of them:
 A Picnic Without Food
 Vets won't be permitted to sleep on the grounds again. . . . Band plays the Pilgrim's Chorus. . . . Boys and girls holding hands on the grass; kids with velocipedes. It's a picnic, but no food in sight. The Capitol on some of the bonus bread and some coffee for dinner.
 Most veterans are beyond the plaza, on sidewalk, on the wall and on the grass behind. . . . There go the cops, just a few, telling everybody to get off the grass. THE ADVANTAGES OF SUNLIGHT
 Even in prehistoric times the importance of the sun was realized for one of the most primitive religions of human beings was sun worship, which was based on the life-giving forces of the sun.
 Within recent times we have come to realize that the sun is the source of every form of energy that our complicated civilization has learned to use, and the force we eat is really the carriers of the sun's energy. Sunlight has a very interesting effect upon certain of our foods, which after being acted upon by the sunlight, are stimulating to the growth of children, but without the action of sunlight do not have this effect. It is also due to the action of the sun that plants are able to take up the crude minerals of the earth and turn them into organic food substances, which are suitable for the use of higher forms of animal life.
 Sunbathing has today become somewhat of a fad, which is a good thing, and greatly preferable to the fad of pale aesthetic complexion, which was the vogue a generation or two ago.
 It is a good plan taking sunbaths, either in the nude or in a bathing suit, to keep always in mind the fact that an overdose of the sun's rays is always injurious. I find that the majority of people suffer from the mistaken belief that if a little sunbathing is good, a great deal will be better. Unfortunately, most people are unable to take sunbaths daily, and when vacation time comes once a year, they are apt to overdo at first, before the skin becomes sufficiently tanned to protect itself.
 Extreme sunbaths are as dangerous as any other kind of burn, as the pores of the skin become so swollen and injured that proper circulation of poisons cannot take place. This may have a disastrous effect upon the kidneys. A similar action is given sunburns affects the body in a proportionate manner. Even a slight sunburn is injurious as long as it lasts.
 It should be remembered that the tanning of the skin is in itself of no benefit, except that one may stay longer in the sun without becoming sunburned after a certain time.

or pigmentation which occurs in the skin as a protection against too much sunlight.
 The best plan is to time your sunbaths so that you obtain an increased tan each time, over a number of days, rather than try to become tanned through the effects of one or two sunbaths. Gradually increase the time of treatment as your skin darkens. Those with very light complexions must be very careful at first.
 To obtain benefit from sunlight remember that the sun's rays must without obstruction. Even though the entire body is not exposed while in the sun, the skin's surface in the amount of clothing or even glass. Heating the body with sunlight through clothing is of no more benefit than heating from a stove.
 One must be careful while taking sunbaths on foggy or cloudy days, since the ultra-violet rays may penetrate through the clouds and cause sunburn without heating the skin enough to be noticeable.
QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
 Wholewheat Bread for Children
 Question: Mr. C. A. says: "My wife is always buying wholewheat bread for the children. They would rather eat white but she says the wholewheat bread is better for their teeth and bones. I think it doesn't make any difference which they eat. Who is right?"
 Answer: The children will thrive better on the wholewheat bread with the bran action unless they are even in it. After the children become used to the real wholewheat bread, they will prefer it to white. Recently two groups of children were tested. One group eating the white bread and the other being given wholewheat bread in their diet. The children with the bran had better teeth.
 Food From Garden
 Question: Mrs. E. T. asks: "Many of the folks around here raise vegetables in their gardens, and wonder if it would be all right to use them in the same way as the ones that are raised in the garden."
 Answer: Such a question is a little out of the ordinary. It is not a matter of temperature, but of the quality of the soil. If the soil is rich and the vegetables are well cared for, they will be just as good as those raised in the garden. In fact, they will be better, as they will be fresher and more nutritious.

Beating the Patient

As we see it, another need of this country is for more physical culture who prescribe rest, and fewer who recommend more exercise.—Bright Side Up.

Miss Florence Strickland represents in this locality the Beauty Counselors Company, which was organized to extend personally into the homes a better knowledge of skin care—a knowledge which a Beauty Counselor is carefully trained to adapt to the individual requirements of each type of skin. Fortunately, there is no charge for this valuable service, since Beauty Counselors Cosmetics are sold by trained Beauty Counselors—not through stores. Call Manchester 5988 for an appointment.

Unwrinkling Wrinkles

It is a fact that face and neck wrinkles can be prevented, to a considerable extent, or lessened if you already have them, if you give your skin the right kind of care. A beauty expert drew for us the other day a diagram of the various lines how wrinkles burrow their way in when there is not enough oil to feed the layer of fat which lies under the surface skin. That's the reason for skin food creams which lubricate the skin and help to build up the layer of fat. You know how you can improve the appearance of leather that has become cracked and dry. You rub an oily polish into your shoe leather and it becomes shiny and flexible and the cracks seem almost to disappear. Something like this happens when you put an oil cream into a dry skin. It stands to reason that exposure in the sun and wind, and constant washing of the skin removes the natural oils, and if the little oil-producing sacs can't renew the oil fast enough, we can help them along with external applications.

For fish meals, Pinehurst Grocery has a wide variety to choose from, offering just about everything in the fish line. Their fresh live or boiled lobsters are delicious and very reasonably priced, and also their fresh clams. You can depend upon Pinehurst's high quality standards.

For baked mackerel have the mackerel split, and place it skin down in a baking pan. A sheet of cooking parchment under the fish makes it easier to handle. Pour a little melted butter over the fish, and sprinkle it with salt and pepper. Bake in a moderate oven for 25 to 30 minutes. Garnish with parsley, and serve with lemon.

MISS GUSTAFSON GIVEN A SURPRISE SHOWER

To Become Bride of Robert Doellner Here Saturday Afternoon—Party At Sister-in-Law's Home.

Miss Gertrude A. Gustafson of Hockmattack street was the guest of honor at a surprise miscellaneous shower given last evening by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Arvid Gustafson, at her home on Coburn Road. Twenty relatives and friends were present, all from Manchester, with the exception of Mrs. Dora Hanson of Chicago, Ill., aunt of the prospective bride, who has arrived for the wedding.

Mrs. Gustafson's decorative color scheme was pink and green. Cut flowers in both the living and dining rooms were in these colors, also an umbrella of crepe paper suspended in the living room, containing small packages, with pink and green streamers leading to larger gifts.

A buffet lunch was served. A large wedding cake decorated in the prevailing colors as well as a miniature bride and bridesmaid adorned the dining room table. Miss Gustafson was showered with a choice collection of gifts in linen, pottery, glassware, also a boudoir lamp.

Robert Doellner, to whom Miss Gustafson is to be married Saturday afternoon at a lawn wedding at her home, played several violin selections.

MAY BE DANCER'S BODY
Niagara Falls, N. Y., July 27.—(AP)—The body of a man taken from the Niagara river at Lewiston today is at an undertaking establishment awaiting identification. Authorities think the body may be that of Nikolai Semenov, Cleveland, noted Russian dancer, who was reported to have gone over the Horseshoe Falls on July 6.

The body taken from the river is that of a man five feet and seven inches tall, weighing about 170 pounds and more than 60 years old.

Before leaving on a vacation, it is a good idea to take down the curtains and collect all bed-spreads, bureau and table scarfs and send them to the New Model Laundry. They'll be fresh for use when you come back.

Rise of the Pyjama
Have you noticed how the pyjama style has gone onward and onward the last two summers? First, the brave ones adopted them for the beach. Then everybody did. Then, it became the convenient thing to dress the youngsters in pyjamas for all day, in cities as well as in the country. Now women wear them instead of house-dresses; young girls wear them down-town. And recently we saw a picture of Pauline Starke, movie actress, walking down a Chicago boulevard, wearing what looked exactly like men's white duck trousers.

Rubbin'g's offer: Sun-tan-back dresses, pique and handkerchief lawn, solid shades and prints. They look marvelous at $1.00.

Time To Re-Furbish
It won't be long before you'll be getting out the fur coats and fur scarfs, so if you did not have them mended or remodelled before putting them in cold storage, you'll might have the work done now, before the fall rush starts.

Pearl butterfly pendants and brooches at $1.00 and 75c are inexpensive novelties at Dewey-Richman.

Gold-Mine
Just how a nation guards its gold supply is vividly told by Stefan Zweig in an article on the gold vault of the Bank of France. It seems almost unbelievable, his statement that the steel walls of this vault (sunk seven stories underground) are so thick that no bomb made could dent their cold surfaces.

In this amazing vault, besides the section where the gold lies idle, are all kinds of paper securities, and also room where all the art-treasures of France can be safely hidden in case of a war that might rage overhead. The vault has its own separate sources of electric power and water, and in it are kept 30 days' store of food, so that the Bank of France can continue operations seven stories underground during a fire or war that might sweep Paris clean of other structures.

Why not have your beauty work done in surroundings that are comfortable, cool, light and cheerful, and at a price that is appreciated by the women of means as well as by those who must economize. . . visit Mary Elizabeth's Beauty Nook, Dial 5011.

And then there is the man who told his friend he'd like to see him shoe-less, because then he'd know he was on his feet again.

CLAIMS MOTH EQUIPPED WITH ITS OWN RADIO

Stamford, July 27.—(AP)—That the lowly moth is equipped with a radio of its own, which has been probably operating for centuries is the remarkable claim of Whitman Bailey of New Canaan, naturalist and artist, and son of the late President William Whitman Bailey, professor of botany at Brown University. Mr. Bailey has one of the best collections of butterflies and moths in the east, numbering more than 2,000 specimens.

The story of the experiment and the remarkable results, is best told in Mr. Bailey's own language: "I believe," he told the Stamford Advocate, "from my recent experiments with other large night flying moths, that they, without doubt, have the power of communication from one another through the use of their antennae. In other words, each moth has a radio set all its own and can send a message from a distance of several miles.

"The other evening, while I was in New Canaan I obtained from the silken cocoon of the huge ceceropia moth, a female of that species. Placing her in a wooden box, with a netting over the top, she was left outside on the side porch for about half an hour. During that period of time, she had of the prospective winners. The first two arrived on the spot within ten minutes, the next five at the end of twenty minutes and at the close of the half hour, I could look upon a jolly party."

REAL FIREMAN
Middletown, July 27.—(AP)—Thomas Eastwood is a Middletown volunteer fireman but he is not content to put out blazes. He discovers them.

Eastwood saw the farm-dwelling of Albert Peterson ablaze early today. He aroused the family and then formed a bucket brigade which prevented the spread of flames until the Durham and Middletown fire departments arrived.

All Youngsters in Town Invited To Be Guests of West Side This Evening.

Potterton and Krah will install an amplifying system so that all may hear the music and singing. Fred Werner will be at the piano and "a good time will be had by all."

SINKS ARTESIAN WELL TO HELP COOL MILK

Straughan, Local Dealer, Gets Good Flow At 48 Degrees Temperature — Is 150 Feet Deep.

W. K. Straughan of 315 East Center street, a local milk dealer, has had installed at his milk station a well 150 feet deep that is producing between 28 and 30 gallons of water a minute at a temperature just at present of 48 degrees, which is the chief object in having the well installed.

Since starting in the milk business Mr. Straughan has been using water from the South Manchester Water Company. The temperature of pipe water at this time of the year is about 74 degrees which requires more personal attention than that of the well water. The well is coming from the private supply at the temperature that the well is now giving. The first cost of the installation has offset the saving that might be made in water for several years but the desired result of keeping the water at an even temperature has been secured.

ARBUCKLE TO RETURN TO MOVING PICTURES

New York, July 27.—(AP)—Roscoe C. "Fatty" Arbuckle is returning to pictures.

Warner brothers today announced that it was signing the one time film comedian for a comedy—a two or three reeler to be made in Virginia Rappe, film actress in San Francisco, although he directed many films. Recently he has been touring the east in vaudeville.

At the time of his disappearance from the films, Paramount Pictures Corporation announced that films featuring Arbuckle and costing $800,000 had permanently been scrapped.

Recently Warner brothers released an old fashioned news reel in which Arbuckle appeared. Officials said that applause that greeted the former film player, together with the fact that there are few comedians of his type in pictures today, led to negotiations for the new film. It was indicated that no protests were expected from the motion picture field.

QUEER DEVELOPMENTS IN MONKS' CASE

San Diego, Calif., July 27.—(AP)—"Surprising developments" were foreseen today by Deputy District Attorney John Holt to take place at the preliminary hearing tomorrow of Allan Bradford Monks, Boston heir, his wife and her uncle, Wiley Lee Watson, all three of whom are charged with issuing a fictitious check.

Monks, suffering from a mysterious ailment, was arrested last week in Long Beach. He was unable to talk.

Holt revealed he had sent strands of Monks' hair to the county chemist for analysis to determine whether he had been submitted to a long course of poisoning.

At the time of his arrest, Monks was being kept in seclusion by George Otuska, Japanese guard employed by Mrs. Monks. Otuska is held as a material witness.

Monks, members of a prominent Boston family, was reported to have an income of $1,000 monthly which was deposited in a Boston bank. Payment of the allowance was stopped by his family when checks signed by Mrs. Monks were drawn against the account. This fact also led to the arrest of the trio.

The family of Monks instituted a search for him nearly two years ago, but it was only when Long Beach police found him in a locked room in Long Beach that his whereabouts became known.

Monks was born in Germany, but has been in New York 34 years. He began tattooing under the old laborious hand method. When he was a night watchman he worked on sailors' eyes, just for the practice.

Sir Hubert Wilkins, British explorer, is said to have designed another submarine for travel under the ice.

Wagner stands high in the art of skin painting. Back in 1904, when it was almost unheard of for a sailor to put to sea without the emerald on his chest and Little Egypt on his biceps, he patented electrical needle devices and a current control machine to make their use practicable.

The decline of tattooing is one thing that isn't laid to the depression, that is, by Prof. Wagner. He attributes it rather to the changing public taste; a change that has gone so far as to topple the tattooed man (and woman) from the throne as a public attraction.

Wagner's own brother, whom he artistically decorated from head to foot, was one of those tattooed men who traveled with the big circuses. Wagner's brother is still tattooed; but, alas, he was a victim of public fickleness. Finally, said Mr. Wagner, "he had to go to work."

Consider the sad plight of the tattooed man. Once his was a high salaried attraction in the side shows and resorts. But today: "He's lucky to get $15 or $20 a week. There aren't many jobs for her."

Wagner has decorated his share of the side show folk. Photographs of his masterpieces are proudly displayed on the walls of his cubby-hole studio.

There is also provision made for a separate sewage disposal plant for the school, calling for two septic tanks. The water that will be used in the school will be from the regular water supply.

The building will be two stories with a basement. In the basement will be located the auditorium which is a room 78x45 feet with a stage 17x25 feet, two dressing rooms and a moving picture projection booth. There is also a cafeteria, a kitchen, a girls' room and a boys' room, the boilers, a storage room for chairs, locker rooms and shower baths for both boys and girls, also toilets for boys and girls.

The building proper will be of brick with lime and granite trim, with a slate roof. The four class rooms on the first floor are each 33x22 and in addition to these rooms there are provided teachers' rooms, two storage rooms and toilets. On the second floor there are also four class rooms, a library and a health room, in addition to boys and girls toilets. The foundation is to be of concrete and brick partitions separate the different rooms. The stairways are of iron, which makes it about as fire-proof as possible without sprinkler systems.

EAST, MIDDLEWEST, POLITICAL FIELDS

Democrats Believe South and West Are For Roosevelt From Outset.

Washington, July 27.—(AP)—The east and midwest, it seemed certain today will get the brunt of the political campaigning.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democratic presidential nominee likely will begin his drive next month with a speech at a middle western city and probably just a few days after President Hoover agrees on August 11 to accept the Republican nomination.

The Roosevelt plans, although tentative, were made known by his party chairman, James A. Farley, after talks with Congressional Democratic leaders.

He did obtain a general agreement from the conferees to stand on the party platform—prohibition repeal plank and all.

Concentrate in East. The Democrats seemed willing to accept concentration on the east and midwest, a majority agreeing that it would be beneficial for Roosevelt to confine his speeches to that region.

Farley's explanation of these suggestions was that the solid south and most of the west assuredly are Democratic from the outset.

Other party leaders hope despite Republican counter efforts, to gain much support in New York, New Jersey, and Massachusetts, for instance by the time election day rolls around.

What campaigning Speaker Garner will do, Farley said, remains to be decided after the vice presidential candidate talks with Roosevelt within the next two weeks.

UNCLE SAM'S NEW TAXES WHERE THEY HIT YOU —AND HOW!

TOURING HELPS YOUR UNCLE SAM TAKES MOTORISTS FOR RIDE

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of 20 daily articles explaining the new Federal taxes.

By ROBERT TALLEY NEA Service Writer. (Copyright 1932, by NEA Service.)

If you are an average motorist—that is, if you drive about 10,000 miles a year in an average car and get 15 miles to the gallon—you are now paying in a year's time approximately $6.75 in Federal gasoline tax and 75 cents in Federal tax on lubricating oil, or a total of $7.50 more. That's almost enough to take the joy out of joy-rides.

Such is part of Uncle Sam's plan to balance his budget by collecting a tax of $150,000,000 on gasoline at 1 cent a gallon and a tax of $35,000,000 on lubricating oil at the rate of 4 cents a gallon.

Whenever you drive into a service station and say to the attendant: "Give me 10 gallons of gas and a quart of oil," you are paying 11 cents into the Federal treasury at Washington. When you change oil (presuming your motor holds six quarts) the Federal tax thereon is 6 cents. A greasing job costs nothing extra, since grease is tax free.

Since the taxes on gasoline and lubricating oil are manufacturers' taxes, Uncle Sam collects them from the producer, refiner or importer. The latter, however, passes them on down the line to the motorist.

If the one-cent Federal gasoline tax had been in effect in Lindbergh's flight from New York to Paris in 1926, Lindy would have had to pay Uncle Sam $4.51 since he bought 451 gallons for his trip.

The Federal gasoline tax is in addition to the various state gasoline taxes, which in some cases is as high as 6 cents a gallon. Such state's gasoline taxes cost the nation's motorists about $500,000,000 a year, according to the latest available figures. To this total, the $150,000,000 Federal gasoline tax must now be added.

There is also a 1 per cent tax on the transportation of oil by pipe line, expected to yield $8,000,000.

There is also a new tariff rate on imported oil at 1-2 cent a gallon. This new import tariff also includes coal and coke at 10 cents per 100 pounds, lumber at $3 per 1,000 feet and copper at 4 cents a pound. Total revenues from such tariffs is estimated at $8,500,000.

New U. S. Embassy Rises On Historic Site In Paris

By MINOTT SAUNDERS NEA Service Writer.

Paris, July 27.—French architecture and American building genius is being pleasantly combined in the erection on a historic site overlooking the Place de la Concorde of the United States foreign service home. It will stand as a monument in Paris to Franco-American friendship and co-operation.

The great steel girders now forming the skeleton of the building are very American in style and construction. The interior of the building will be American, with all the practical office facilities known at home. But the face of the building, in character and stone, will conform faithfully with the plans for the famous square as drawn up by Ange Jacques Gabriel, architect for Louis XV.

In this scheme there are four units, facing the square. They are the headquarters of the Ministry of Marine; the Hotel Crillon, with the Automobile Club and the Guaranty Trust Company in the same structure; the old Rothschild mansion, formerly the home of the Talleyrands, and the American building, following in architecture the lines of the Rothschild building.

The new American business headquarters will be one of the finest foreign diplomatic structures in Europe. It is the realization of the dream of the late ambassador, Myron T. Herrick, and made possible by the Porter bill, granting $10,000,000 for the erection of new foreign service structures abroad.

The site is historic from pre-revolutionary days. The American building at the corner of the Avenue Gabriel and the rue Boissy-d'Anglais, will look from the outside just like its predecessor there, the mansion of Grimon de la Reyniere, built in 1789.

The new building, of French stone similar to that used in its neighbor housing the Hotel Crillon, will be only five stories high, but there will be two extra floors below street level, with a storeroom and garage.

The consulate-general will occupy the ground floor, with clerical offices on the mezzanine. The chancellery of the Embassy is to be housed on the floor above, with offices for the ambassador and diplomatic staff. The fourth floor will contain offices of the commercial and treasury attaches, and the naval and military attaches will be located on the top. Work was started last year and will be completed, according to plans, in a few days.

This grouping of government offices, in such a central location, will be a great help to Americans visiting and living in Paris. At present the various offices are scattered, causing confusion and inconvenience.

The laying of the cornerstone of the building was to have been a gala occasion, attended by the president of the Republic and high government officials, but the assassination of President Doumer and the period of mourning made necessary a very simple ceremony, presided over by Ambassador Walter E. Edge, and attended by General John J. Pershing.

"From every sentimental point of view," said the ambassador, "this building will symbolize the close association and the friendship which has united France and the United States during a century and a half of mutual effort and effective contribution to the welfare of the world. It is our earnest hope that the structure will stand down the ages as a monument to our common ties. It is our wish that it will remain a reminder of the responsibilities which France and the United States share in the face of civilization."

A sealed copper box placed in the cornerstone contains a copy of Edge's talk, a brief history of the acquisition of the building site, American newspapers and other mementoes.

Legend Makes Sacred Heart Church a French Shrine

By NEA Service.

The church which, according to legend, controls the peace of France, is "Sacred Heart" Church of the Sacred Heart. Set high up on top of Montmartre, Mount of the Martyrs, its glistening white walls can be seen farther than the lofty steel expanse of Eiffel Tower.

This is an interesting story behind the edifice. Back in the seventeenth century a nun, Marguerite-Marie, in the monastery of Paray-le-Monial, reported that she had a vision of Christ in which He told her He wished a church dedicated to His heart erected in Paris.

The story was told all over the country until it reached Louis XVI. The king laughed at the vision, putting it to naught. A short time after he was killed in the French Revolution. On his death the nun's story was revived and a concerted effort to collect funds and build the church was made. But again the project failed.

STATE'S BUSINESS SOMEWHAT BETTER

Big Decrease in Failures During June — Postal Receipts On the Increase.

Hartford, July 27.—The June business barometer registered somewhat higher than did May's on the economic factors of postal receipts, bank debts, electricity and cotton consumption, life insurance sales, and the number and value of automobiles sales. There was also a substantial decrease noted both in the number of bankruptcies and their total liabilities as reported in the business survey issued regularly each month by the Connecticut chamber of commerce in co-operation with the local chamber in each of the sixteen largest communities in the state.

A 27.2 percent average increase in postal receipts in the reporting communities for June over May was recorded, the June total of $22,646, however, was 14.39 percent lower than the $26,262 total reported in June, 1931. Bank debts for the month totaled $202,001,029, an increase of 2 percent over May and a decrease of 22.8 percent from the total of $261,282,517 in June a year ago. Total savings on deposit at the close of June were six-tenths of one percent less than in May and total bank clearings for June were but six-one-hundredths of one percent less than the May total, there being savings on deposit on June 30 in the 18 reporting centers totaling $490,800,814 and on May 31, $498,774,385; while in the total bank clearings were: June, $27,889,214; May, $27,745,913; and June of last year, $22,387,851.

The number of active telephone stations in sixteen cities was $39,204, 1.45 percent less than the May total of 242,784, and 5.23 percent less than the June, 1931 total of 252,571. On the average there was an increase of 1.87 percent in electricity consumption over May although the 60,392,276 kw h consumed in June was 7.6 percent less than the total for June, 1931. The total cubic feet of gas consumed in June was 754,179,500; May, 769,508,200; and June a year ago, 808,824,800, the rate of decrease being 1.9 percent from May and 6.7 percent from June, 1931.

Nine cities reporting payrolls for last month showed an average decrease of 9.4 percent from the preceding month, the totals being: June, $12,613,288; May, $13,928,107; and June of last year, $14,121,121 as compared with 8,074,699 in May—a decrease of 1.99 percent.

CAMP WOODSTOCK

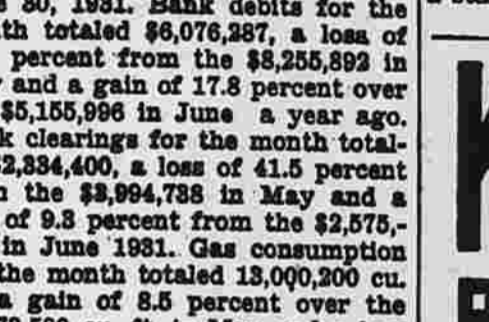

The boys of Camp Woodstock today started on the last week of their camping period. With swimming, hiking, fishing, boating, athletics of all kinds, making interesting things in the craft period—airplanes, belts, articles useful as well as ornamental from metal and wood—exploring the woods and the nature trail, the days have sped past. Swimming classes, conducted regularly each day have had many participants, and on Sunday before 200 parents and friends, the boys took part in varied swimming events. The youngest boy at camp, Michael Sudarsky of West Hartford, 7 years old, an all-round camper, recently passed his canoe test with flying colors by swimming the prescribed distance of one-half of the distance across the lake.

A comedy track meet was put on last Saturday. Tennis, volley ball and quilts have had their devotees, and baseball games between cabins have been popular. On Saturday the camp will be hosts to the Highland Park Community Club baseball team, who will meet the camp's husky leaders' team. In an airplane meet recently held the cascade, or younger boys, carried off the honors.

One of the major projects this summer is the completion of the chapel. Steps are being made out of field stone, a stone altar erected and in the background Gothic arches made of saplings grown on the camp property.

A "staterama" says that we must go back to 1912 habits. Judging from the jokes we hear over the radio, it would seem that at least a start has already been made.

TOLLAND FIRE CHIEF ARGUMENT UP AGAIN

Who Is He? What's His Name? And Who Put Out the Fire July 17 Question of Moment.

Who is chief of the Tolland Fire Department? This is the question confronting the people of Tolland at the present time.

An article appearing in the papers of July 19, 1932, reports a fire at a farm owned by Felix Kosicki at Tolland which occurred at 12:40 noon, Sunday, July 17th.

To substantiate this claim here is a copy of Mr. Wochomurka's personal resignation.

Tolland, Conn., March 24, 1932. Mr. John Duell, Secretary, Tolland, Conn.

I hereby tender my resignation as chief (Tolland Street Company). Effective at once.

(Signed) Edward Wochomurka.

There were 16 members of the Tolland Street Company present at the aforementioned fire, working under the supervision of Chief Von Deck, but we did not receive any credit in the article sent in to the press.

The Tolland Street Company, Tolland Fire Department.

Back of this action is dissension for a long period. The Tolland Fire Department was organized about five years ago and was known as the Tolland Street Company.

Chief Wochomurka was elected head of the department. An old Pierce Arrow automobile was stripped and made into a fire truck.

The Truck Company lays claim to the truck, although the other men respond and do what they can to help extinguish the fires.

The question is, Who is chief of the Tolland Fire Department?

The Ellington police are busy again. This time they are looking for a hit-and-run driver who one evening the past week struck and severely injured a cow on the Crystal Lake road a short distance east of the Rockville-Somers highway.

The arrest was made by Sergeant Richard Shea and Officer Cedor when he was causing a disturbance at his home on Monday night.

Funeral of Alexander Mitchell. Alexander Triand Mitchell, 68, president of the Cyril Johnson Woolen Company at Stafford Springs, well known by hundreds of local residents who were employed at his place of business, died Saturday afternoon at his home at "Pine Craig" following a brief illness.

San Francisco, July 27.—(AP)—The Shrine's pagentry of "National Optimism" swept today toward a second day climax which will weld matrimony and business in a "mardi gras of industry."

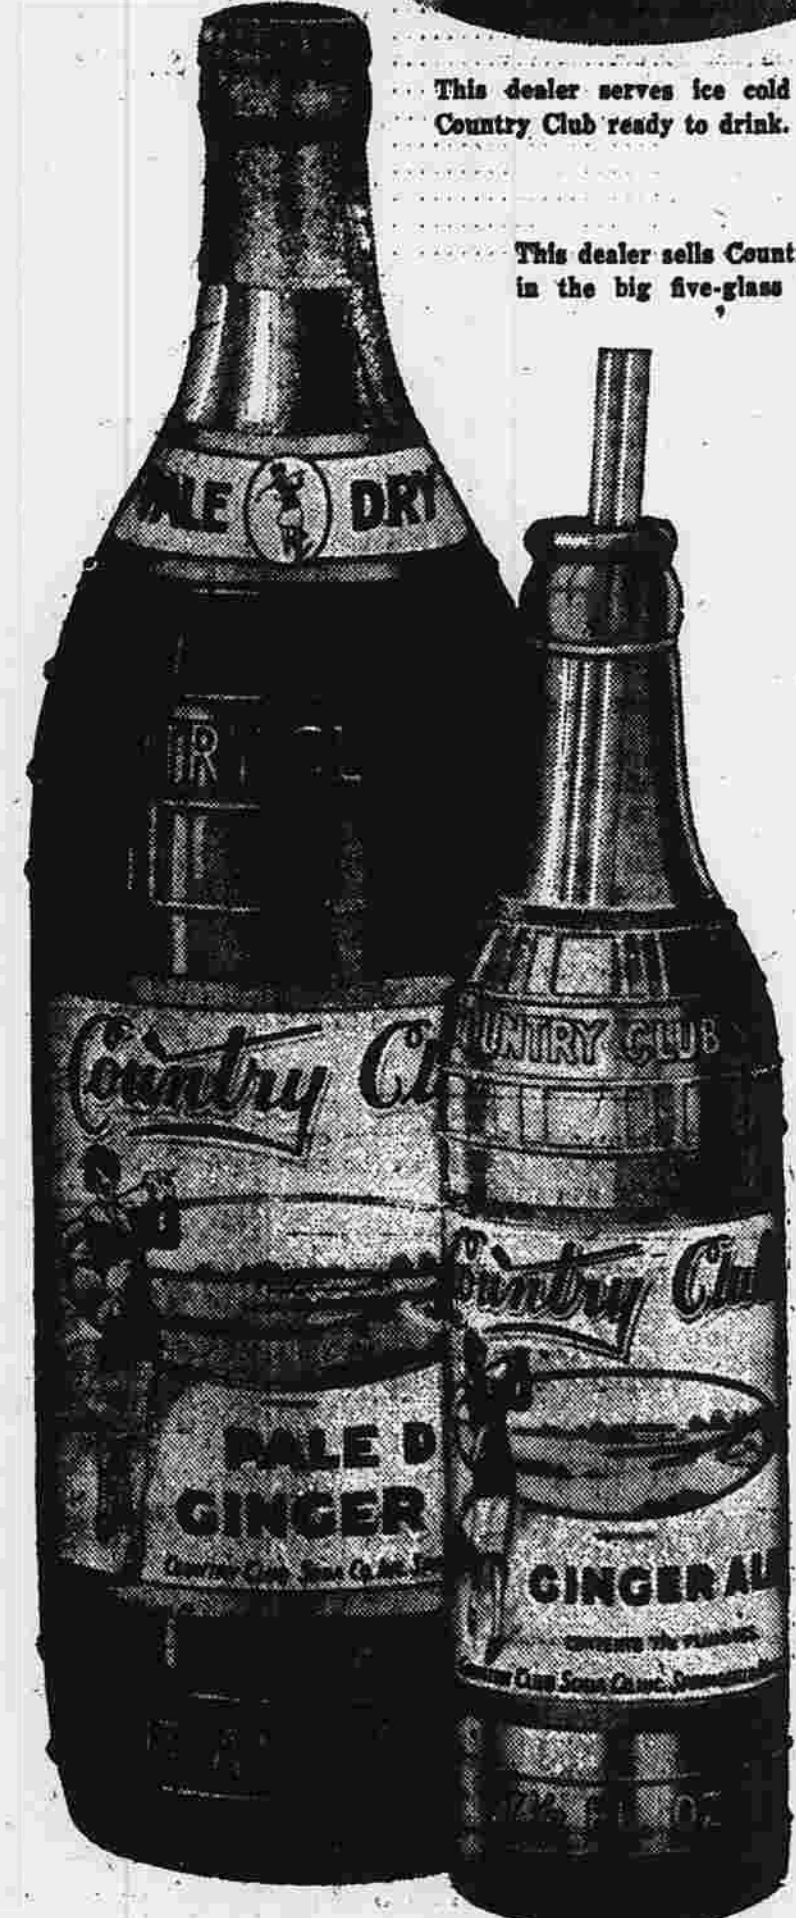

In the Mardi Gras tonight industries and civic life of San Francisco will be depicted for the masses of the mystic shrine in grotesque and educational floats and figures.

While the majority of the 500,000 visitors to the convention are devoting themselves to the practice of optimism, the imperial council will meet behind closed doors to conduct the more serious business of the three day convention.

Earl C. Mills, of Des Moines, Iowa, in accordance with custom, is to be selected for elevation from deputy imperial potentate to imperial potentate.

Country Club Dealers put Quality FIRST!

They deserve your patronage and respect

Outdoors ask for the Junior size

Why do some beverage dealers, confectioners, hotels and roadside stands sell Country Club and others not? The answer is easy. Country Club costs a little more to make than most other drinks.

For home use buy the big 5-glass bottles

Why do so many leading grocers and druggists sell Country Club Ginger Ale and Beverages in the famous big 5-glass bottles? Because they know that year in and year out Country Club is the one ginger ale that pleases everyone.

And so pure Country Club actually costs the conscientious dealer a little more. Yet thousands of dealers pay the extra half penny to give you and your children the best that money can buy.

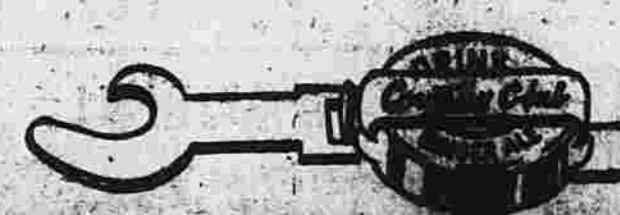

Country Club dealers deserve your patronage because they take pains to give you the utmost value that money can buy, regardless of profit to themselves.

- The price for the combined properties to be $833,000 and the Town to assume the Water Company's bonds of $500,000.

Up To Townspeople

Ward Cheney gave the Selectmen a concise and interesting review of the two companies and said that his company did not care to have the town assume the ownership of the utilities companies unless the townspeople thought it advisable and beneficial to the town's welfare to do so.

The Selectmen discussed the entire matter later in executive session, and it was voted to direct Chairman Rogers to select a committee to investigate the proposition and to report to them on their findings. The Board will at that time decide whether the matter should be brought into town meeting for a vote.

The committee will be faced, first of all, with the doubtful possibility of further bonding the town in the event acquisition of the utilities companies is approved. The town would be required to finance the purchase, if the plan should be approved in town meeting, to the extent of three quarters of a million dollars and in addition assume the present $500,000 bond issue.

Other Business

Thomas J. Lewis, chairman of the Board of Assessors, has been selected by that board as a member of the board of three designated to appraise the school properties for the consolidation qualification tax as required by statute. Thomas J. Rogers, chairman of the Board of Selectmen has been selected by the board. The Board of Education will complete the appraisal board when they select their candidate.

The committee will meet this week Friday, it is expected, for organization at which time a chairman and clerk will be named.

The Board of Selectmen authorized Town Treasurer George H. Waddell to pay $7,200 to Gilman and Marks, Hartford attorneys, agents for the F. W. Holding Company in payment for the seven foot strip of land south of the Woolworth building on Birch street, taken by the town in 1928 in anticipation of widening Birch street from Main to Spruce street.

Benefits and damages will be assessed against the property owners to pay the cost of the damages.

The figures and memorandum presented to the board last night by Cheney Brothers relative to the water system will be found in another column of today's Herald.

Joseph Dean, Director There, Reports On What 169 Scouts Are Doing This Summer.

Joseph Dean, Director of Camp Pioneer, reports that there are 161 Scouts in camp at present with 18 leaders, making a total of 169 youngsters enjoying the benefits of outdoor life. Last Sunday there were over 300 visitors at camp and the visitors were surprised at the interest shown by the four tribes in all camp activities.

The camp has been given a high health rating by Dr. Sexton of the Hartford hospital and after an inspection of the waterfront by Captain Bryant of the National Red Cross he said it was equal to the best camp in New England. The camp is now in the midst of the mid-summer program. Next week will be George Washington week with all Scouts engaging in activities in bench more than seventeen years, as an associate justice of the Supreme Court ten years and as chief justice more than ten years. The age limitation brought about his retirement and he then became a state referee.

Among the tributes paid to Chief Justice Wheeler when he retired was that he had done much to modernize court procedure.

When Wheeler took his place on the Superior Court bench a case involving the "fellow servant" defense came before him. He declared the interpretation given to that defense was wrong in that it left the employee nothing, and the employer everything. The case went to the higher court and he was reversed.

Out of that began the movement which eventuated in state's workmen's compensation law of 1920.

At a dinner in his honor in 1920, Wheeler said: "I began the life of the trial judge loving justice and longing to help hold true and high her sacred shield. I began the life of a trial judge devoted to the profession of the law, proud of its traditions and its achievements, glorying in its work."

Ideals of Youth

"I began believing in the ideals of my youth. Twenty-five years have gone. I see before me through all those years the bar of the entire state. I see its work. I know its life.

"Thank God, I may say in truth my ideals are undimmed, my faith unshaken, by admiration and my friendship for the lawyer of Connecticut fixed forever in the treasure house of my faith and love."

Justice Wheeler's first appointment as a judge came after he sought to have Governor Morris name James H. Olmstead of Stamford to the post. The latter had aided Wheeler in many contests and the opportunity had come to reciprocate.

The governor would not listen to Wheeler's pleas, and the latter told Clinton Davis, the party's state chairman, that Fairfield county ought to be recognized. Davis agreed and said it was no use to make the governor angry. "He wants a Fairfield county name," said

Davis. "Do you know whose name that is?"

Wheeler said he did not, and Davis said the governor wanted to appoint Wheeler. But the latter kept up his effort for Olmstead for three weeks when the candidate wrote to Wheeler and told him to take the governor's appointment.

Justice Wheeler was an Episcopalian. He was the nineteenth chief justice of the State.

Mrs. Wheeler died in August, 1920, while the justice and their family were visiting in Seattle, Washington.

Funeral services will be held from St. John's Episcopal church with Saturday fixed tentatively as the day. No hour has as yet been determined, as the rector, the Rev. Stephen Fish Sherman, is at Lake Placid.

The body was removed to the service rooms of Wilmot & West Inc., 884 Lafayette street where the body will lie in state Friday afternoon evening, when friends may view it. It will be taken Saturday morning to St. John's to await service. Burial will be in Mountain Grove cemetery.

JUSTICE AVERY SPEAKS

New London, July 27.—(AP)—Former Chief Justice Wheeler "was a faithful public servant, a great judge and a good man," Justice Christopher L. Avery of Groton said upon learning of the death of the well known jurist.

Judge Avery said he was too shocked at the news to say more at this time.

AN ABLE JUDGE

Norwalk, July 27.—(AP)—Judge John E. Light, a life-long friend of Judge Wheeler, and who served as Republican attorney general of the state from 1919 to 1925 while Judge Wheeler was on the Superior Court bench, this afternoon said: "Judge Wheeler was one of the ablest judges the state has ever had, and he was one of the most independent in thought. Judge Wheeler had a broad outlook on life and was keenly interested in his public duties."

NEWS CAUSES SHOCK

Hartford, July 27.—(AP)—Superior Court Judge Newell Jennings of Bristol said today: "The death of Judge Wheeler came as a great shock to me. His sympathetic interest and efficient help was always at the service of his many friends. His influence on Connecticut jurisprudence in these rapidly changing times will never be lost. His untimely death will be mourned by every one who knew him."

THINK ALL DEAD IN KOHLER PARTY

Labrador Indians Say Members of Expedition Had Little Food Left

St. John's, N. F., July 27.—(AP)—A wireless message received here today from Father Edward O'Brien, Roman Catholic missionary to the Labrador Indians, left little hope that the members of the missing Kohler-Connell party might still be alive.

The message, sent from Davis Inlet, Labrador, said that Indians had reported seeing the party at Eriandson lake last October. They then had little food, but were well equipped with guns and had plenty of ammunition. The Indian women repaired their clothing and made venison and made moccasins for them.

Father O'Brien said the Indians advised the party to take a route via Frank's brook as the easiest way to Volsey bay but Kohler insisted on following George's river.

The Indians reported that later in the season, while camped between Fraser river and Eriandson lake, they found tracks of the party which they interpreted as meaning the Kohler-Connell people were attempting to relocate their Indian friends.

Many Guns Heard

Many guns were heard by the Indians at the time but they thought they were hunters and paid no attention to them.

It was believed likely that one man died about this time as hunters later in the fall saw tracks of one man going inland, evidently lost from his companions. When a body was found in April the tracks of two men were traced in the moss along Kanatakameauokakak, brook in the direction of George's river.

The Catholic missionary said the Indians had picked up Kohler's eyeglasses, which Father O'Brien has. Father O'Brien also reported the Labrador Indians destitute in many places and much ice along the coast.

The oldest town in the world is said to be the ruins of Tepe Gwra, in northern Mesopotamia.

LIGHTS BIG FACTOR IN TRAFFIC SAFETY

In 1931, State Fined 294 Persons For Violating Auto Lighting Laws.
Twenty-five years ago on a single summer day 21 persons paid $5 each for "operating rubber-tired vehicles after dark without lanterns."

Conditions of traffic have changed radically in this quarter-century, says a bulletin of the Department of Motor Vehicles today. Where in 1907 there were but 7,895 motor vehicles registered in Connecticut, in 1931 there were 368,998 cars.

Legal lighting equipment on their cars resulted in the arrests of 323 motorists. There were 180 others arrested for parking without lights, 116 for failure to display a rear light, 78 for driving without lights at 25 for driving with but one headlight in service.

Quarer Twists In Day's News

Flagstaff, Ariz.-Billy John, a Navajo, will spend from 40 to 50 years in prison for wanting to "see what would happen" if he piled stones on the railroad track. It wasn't worth it. The train hit the stones, but no one was hurt and the train wasn't even wrecked.

BIDS ON SEVEN NEW ROAD JOBS CALLED MONDAY

Highway Department Adds 14 Miles of Surfacing and Bridge To 1932 Program.
Highway Commissioner John A. Macdonald today added to Connecticut's list of 1932 highway jobs seven new State, State Aid and Town Aid projects which include slightly more than fourteen miles of road improvement and the construction of a concrete slab bridge and its approaches.

Outstanding among the new projects is the paving with trap rock waterbound macadam of the Lake Road in the Town of Columbus, which job, although only 7,048 feet in length, will require about 20,000 cubic yards of earth, rock and trench excavation.

In making the announcement of these jobs, Commissioner Macdonald said that the employment of labor that "preference shall be given to citizens of the State of Connecticut by the contractor who is the successful bidder and who is awarded the contract for all roads, bridges and other structures for which bids are being called."

U. S. TROOPS CROSS OURCO

On July 27, 1918, American and French troops continued their rapid advance north of Chateau Thierry, making their total gain in this vicinity more than 10 miles. Defending German forces were strengthened by new regiments, but they were unable to stop the onslaught of the allied armies. Americans occupied Le Chateau and crossed the Ourcq near Fere-en-Tardenois. It was learned that seven American divisions, totaling nearly 200,000 men were in the battle on the Marne. The crossing of the Ourcq was made despite desperate resistance on the part of crack German guard divisions. Losses on both sides were heavy.
