

NAUGATUCK USES TELEPHONE MOST, FIGURES REVEAL

"Talkiest" Town Outstrips Major Centers of Population, Making 176 Calls Per Station Per Month.

Which is the "talkiest" town in Connecticut? Or, to be more exact, which of Connecticut's eighty-five exchanges in the Southern New England Telephone Company's system makes the greatest use of its telephones?

One might immediately suspect that the greatest use of telephones would be made in the large cities like Hartford, New Haven, Bridgeport or Waterbury, but such is not the case. The honor goes to the town of Naugatuck, population 14,000, in the center of the Naugatuck Valley.

More calls, exclusive of toll calls, are made per telephone in the Naugatuck exchange than in any other of the first twenty largest. Local calls in Naugatuck are made at the rate of 176.71 per telephone per month.

Hartford and New Haven are next in line with monthly rates per telephone of 149.55 and 143.24 calls respectively. Then come Danbury with 128.97 and Bridgeport with 127.60. The swing then goes back to the Naugatuck Valley's manufacturing centers where Waterbury is sixth with 124.90 calls per telephone per month and where the Derby exchange follows closely with 124.03 calls. Manufacturing apparently plays a small part in making the telephone wires hum, for next on the list are New Britain with 122.66 and Stamford with 118.82 calls per telephone per month.

Other exchanges among the first twenty largest in the state have the following rates: New London, 115.80; Norwalk, 111.41; Meriden, 110.88; Norwich, 109.49; Torrington, 102.90; Middletown, 101.25; Putnam, 100.16; Manchester, 98.51; Bristol, 97.69; Williamamit, 96.89; Milford, 93.57.

All of the above figures are based upon counts of telephone calls, taken at the switchboards in the various exchanges from time to time during the first six months of 1932 for the purpose of determining the trend in telephone use and of furnishing figures which telephone engineers will use in planning future expansions. Telephone improvements must be planned from three to five years ahead of the time that they will actually be necessary and the call in determining what increased facilities will be needed in each exchange.

The average number of calls per telephone per month for the entire Southern New England Telephone Company system for the first half of the year was 125.32, Naugatuck, Hartford, New Haven, Danbury, Bridgeport and some of the smaller exchanges having been above this average. Naugatuck, Hartford and New Haven were likewise above the average of 138.94 calls per telephone per month for the entire Bell Telephone System, covering the whole country. The latter figure is based upon counts made during the first quarter of the year.

DENY ENGAGEMENT

Los Angeles, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Although Harold F. McCormick, wealthy Chicagoan, would neither deny nor affirm a report he is engaged to Mrs. Rhoda Tanner Doubleday of New York, Mrs. Doubleday today described it as "quite incorrect."

"There is absolutely no foundation for such a report," she said. "Mr. McCormick and I have been friends for years, and I am also friendly with other members of the family. But any intimation of engagement or prospective marriage is absurd."

Mrs. Doubleday attended the opening of the Olympic games with McCormick.

INQUEST CALLED OFF

North Andover, Mass., Aug. 3.—(AP)—Judge C. J. Mahoney of the North Andover Police Court today called off a scheduled inquest into the death of Patrolman Richard L. Morrissey of the Lawrence Police Department. Gus Sonnenberg, heavyweight wrestler yesterday was freed of a charge of manslaughter in Lawrence District Court in connection with the case but was sentenced to serve three months for dangerous driving and was fined $100 for drunken driving.

Patrolman Morrissey was killed two weeks ago in a collision in which Sonnenberg's car was involved.

WARRANT IS ISSUED FOR MACRI ARREST

Stamford Man, Who Received Broken Jaw, Files Complaint With Prosecutor Hathaway.

Anthony Savino, Stamford man, who was punched in the jaw by Benjamin Macri of 201 Spruce street, has filed a complaint with Prosecuting Attorney C. F. Hathaway and a warrant for the arrest of Macri has been issued. Macri, according to the X-ray pictures, landed a heavy blow as the upper part of Savino's jaw bone was found broken.

WALKER SERIOUSLY HURT

Bridgeport, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Ernest Tripaner, 23, of Claremont, N. H., was struck by an automobile and seriously injured early today while walking along the Post road in Southport, in the direction of New York.

Hurled to one side of the road, Tripaner was injured internally, received concussion of the brain and cuts and bruises of the head and body. Fairfield police took the injured man to St. Vincent's hospital here.

Fairfield police later arrested William F. Fowler of Ramsey road, Great Neck, L. I., as driver of the car that struck Tripaner. Fowler was charged with reckless driving, driving a car with faulty brakes and driving without an operator's license. He was released in $100 bond.

ROCKVILLE

MOTORBOAT OPERATOR IS HELD BLAMELESS

Coroner's Finding Says Cause In Which Victim Rode Was Heavily Loaded

Coroner John H. Yeomans has filed his finding in the death of Carl LeConche, late of Hartford, who was drowned at Crystal Lake on July 10. The finding follows:

Carl LeConche, late of 33 East-view street, Hartford, Conn., was drowned in Crystal Lake on Sunday, July 10th, 1932. LeConche was one of a party of six which left Hartford Sunday afternoon for an outing at Crystal Lake, where one of the party (David Bierponch) had a cottage.

About 8:30 p. m. LeConche, Abraham Weinberg, Rose Libbin and Ann Bronstein started for a ride in Bierponch's canoe. There was a stiff breeze blowing across the lake at the time and the water was rather choppy. When the canoe was near the middle of the lake opposite Rau's Pavilion, two motorboats came up the lake from the south end. One of these boats, which it appears was operated by Henry Halliday of Hartford, made a V turn at the north end of the lake to swing around. In making this turn, he encircled the canoe. The waves from Halliday's boat, together with the waves caused by the wind, came over the side of the canoe and caused it to tip over.

LeConche immediately started to swim towards the shore, and the other three occupants clung to the overturned canoe. Boats came out from Rau's and one of them passed LeConche, who was apparently swimming without difficulty. Soon after this boat passed him, LeConche went down. Harriet-Les of Oakwood avenue, West Hartford, who was in the boat which had passed LeConche, immediately dove overboard in an effort to rescue the swimmer. She was unable to rescue him, however, and he sank in about 45 feet of water. The body was recovered the following day.

I find that said death was caused by accidental drowning, and that drowning resulted from the overturning of the canoe as above described.

There is nothing to indicate, however, that the motorboat came close to the canoe, or that the former was being operated in a reckless manner. The position of the canoe was such that it was from both sides at once, and this, together with the natural waves, and the fact that the canoe was heavily loaded, caused it to tip over.

I therefore find that said death was not caused by the criminal act of any person or persons.

Dated at Andover, Connecticut, this 29th day of July, 1932.

JOHN H. YEOMANS,
Coroner.

Streets Given Names

At a meeting of the Vernon Civic Betterment Association held at the Dobsonville schoolhouse on Monday night names were given to the various streets in that section. A map of the section under consideration was shown on a blackboard and suggested names were placed where the committee had planned. Each street was voted on individually.

The macadam road from Talcottville to the branch railroad tracks near Vernon Center will be known as Dobson street. From Lovrin's farm across to Dobsonville and on past the old Astor's mills to the main line railroad crossing will be known as Dobson street. From the other side of the crossing past the Sacred Heart church up to Willeke's store and as far as the railroad underpass will be known as Church street. From the railroad crossing past C. G. Tyler's and the other side of the church and past Louis Barton's, Theodore Nelson's past the four corners at J. Seigel's and past William Grady's to the Manchester town line is Washington street.

The road leading from Main street in the vicinity of the Wetstone place down past the old Phoenix mill, extending under the railroad pass, past the schoolhouse straight up to the Manchester Town line will be Phoenix street. A road from Phoenix street running parallel with the main line railroad east from Gilbert Warren's and on past Jacob Kakan's place is named Warren avenue in honor of Mr. Warren's father, who was a veteran in the Civil War.

Another short road running from Phoenix street past George LaChappelle's is Maple street. The road from Dobson street past W. J. Stephens' and on beyond the Tillaglast place to Phoenix street is Birch road. The road from Phoenix street to Tankroosville Lake Park, where some fifteen or twenty houses have been built in the past seven years is known as Tankroosville road.

The regular meeting of the association will be held in September when plans for other improvements will be discussed.

Suit Filed Tuesday

Suit for $5,000 has been entered against the Savings Bank of Rockville by Mrs. Orrie E. Odum of Hartford. She claims she was injured in a fall in tenement property owned by the bank in Hartford, which is a six-tenement block with common stairway on 172 Bellevue street, Hartford. It is the contention of the plaintiff that she fell down the stairs from the second to the first floor and was injured because the hall was dark and unlighted. She alleges that as a result of the fall she received numerous contusions and a bruise in the region of the spine and is unable to walk. She also claims to have pains in the chest and headache.

Horsey M. A. Norman of Hartford is counsel for Mrs. Odum. The suit was served on the bank on Tuesday. The bank is covered by insurance for such an accident.

Malicious Information

The Tolland Street Company of the Tolland Fire Department in a communication sent out on Tuesday stated it would like to have Edward Wochomurka refrain from creating the impression and representing himself as chief of the department until he is duly elected at the annual meeting by the majority of the members of the department.

The Tolland Street Company has had a few inquiries as to what exists in the department and they wish to enlighten those who are interested. The secretary, Mr. Duell, states that at the annual meeting of the Tolland Fire Department held on the first Friday in April, 1931, Mr. Wochomurka was elected chief of the department by the slim majority of three votes. After the election the minority of the members in the meeting announcing that they had formed a company of their own calling it the Tolland Truck Company. A few days before the annual meeting in 1932 the resignation of Mr. Wochomurka was received.

The members then elected Emil VonDeck to act as chief at the annual meeting at which none of the other faction was present. The Street Company still maintains there is but one chief, VonDeck.

District Legion Meeting

There will be a meeting of the Fourth District, American Legion, and its Auxiliary, on Sunday afternoon at the summer home of East State Commander Edward L. Newmarker, at Crystal Lake. About 500 members from Windham and Tolland counties will be present. There will be a joint meeting of the two organizations followed by separate meetings. Plans for the annual state convention to be held in Waterbury will be discussed as this is the last meeting before that time.

Following the meetings there will be a picnic at which time hamburg sandwiches will be roasted and other food served. The local post and unit will be in charge. There will also be a program of boating and bathing. Members of the local unit are asked to donate cakes. The meeting is called at 8 o'clock.

City Hospital Report

The following is a report of the work done at the Rockville City hospital during the month of July: Number of patients in hospital on July 1, 1932, 8; number admitted during month, 21; number of outpatients, 11; total treated, 40; discharged, 30; deaths, 0; X-rays, 8; accidents, 14; births, 4; operations, 14; largest number treated, 15; smallest number treated, 8; daily average, patients, 12.

Funeral of Mrs. LaChappelle

The funeral of Mrs. Rose LaChappelle McCarthy who died at her home in Vernon suddenly on Friday was held from the Sacred Heart church at Vernon on Monday morning at 9 o'clock. Mass was said by Rev. Father Killien of Manchester and burial was in St. Bernard's cemetery, Rockville.

Mrs. McCarthy suffered an attack ##### of heart trouble on Friday morning. She had not been in the best of health for some time. She was born in Canada but had lived in Vernon and Manchester since she was a young girl. She leaves a daughter, Mrs. James Donahue; a grandson, Harold Haffron; a sister, Mrs. Mary Williams and a brother, Elm J. LaChappelle.

Dog Killed

The first accident on the new highway at the west end of the city occurred this week when a dog owned by William MacDonald of Union street was struck and killed by a Vernon young man. After striking the dog the young man found the owner and assisted in giving first aid trying to save the dog's life, but it died later.

Notes

Arthur M. Millard has returned to his duties in New Haven after spending a few days with his aunt, Miss Sadie Millard of Brooklyn street.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kuhnly have returned to their home on Talcott avenue after spending a few days in Niantic where they attended the ##### funeral of a niece, Mrs. Herbert Usher.

Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Robinson and daughter Dorothy are enjoying a vacation at Lake Mashapaug. Mrs. Margaret Coville of High street is confined to her home by illness.

Miss Anna McGuane of Cottage street is visiting her brother Rev. James J. McGuane of Norwich.

REBELS DEFEATED

Rio de Janeiro, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Federal troops operating against the rebels of Sao Paulo have made important advances in the Mantiqueira mountain sector, the government announced today, and are now in position for a drive against Quilua, a Sao Paulo stronghold.

General Monteiro, commander-in-chief of the Federal force, posted a citation of his troops in the Rio Grandense area today for their courage in the capture of Sao Jose do Barreiros. He announced that munitions factories turning out supplies for the rebels in Sao Paulo will be confiscated.

Queer Twists In Day's News

New York—Mrs. Peter McCaferly saw a picture in the paper of Max Schmeling's arrival in Berlin, and she cried out: "That's my brother whom I haven't see for 24 years!" But she didn't mean Schmeling, the box-fighter. She referred to a man standing beside him.

Chicago—Grand Opera at variety prices, with a two dollar top and with the high priced artists getting a share of the receipts in lieu of big salaries of other years, is contemplated in Chicago. The plan would put Grand Opera on a "pay-your-own-way" basis.

Washington—Consider the Eskimo and his toothache. The Smithsonian Institution found that among 38 Eskimos who lived solely on fish, seal, walrus, birds and whalemeat, there wasn't a decay in a month. At Nones, where the Eskimos eat white man's food, the institution found nine out of ten Eskimo mouths housed decayed teeth.

Chicago—Anna Kriochik outsmarted the holdup men—Oh! Yes? When they demanded the valuables of herself and her escort, seated in a parked car, she tucked her diamond ring under the seat cushion. That fooled the holdup men. Then the robbers put Miss Kriochik and her escort out and drove away with the car. That fooled Mrs. Kriochik.

Las Vegas National Park, Calif.—The butterflies are blocking traffic out here. Millions of orange winged Sulfurs swarm here, obscuring the view of motorists and blanketing their radiators.

Boston—Charles John Piccollewic is now Charles J. Peck. He told the court it was difficult for him to spell the name and just as difficult to spell. The court agreed.

Dover, Del.—If anyone knows where the Delaware's largest tree is, please notify the state forester,

Maryland, he complains, has his eye on it and Pennsylvania has its famous hemlock near Lancaster and he thinks Delaware ought to get well-minded and find a big tree of its own.

New York—Alfred Jensen was arrested for impersonating an officer because he had told a motorist he was a "cop." The court discharged him. "There is nothing in law," the court held, "that would indicate that a 'cop' means an officer."

FETTERLOES LOSES CHANCE

New York, Aug. 3.—(AP)—An injured elbow has threatened Billy Fetterloes out of his chance at the light-weight championship now held by Tony Canzoneri.

Their match, scheduled for next Monday night at Madison Square Garden bowl, was indefinitely postponed when Fetterloes announced he slipped a bone in his left elbow during training. Physicians said he would have to rest at least six weeks.

TO DRAFT NEW BILL

Hartford, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Members of the state central committee will be asked to offer suggestions for a new set of rules for the Democratic party in the state.

A subcommittee of the central committee named to draft new rules voted at a preliminary meeting yesterday to make no recommendations until the suggestions have been received. At a later meeting the subcommittee will draft the new set of rules to be submitted to the state central committee.

The meeting, held in the office of State chairman David A. Wilson, was attended, in addition to Wilson, by Thomas J. Kelly of Norwich, Mrs. Nora Harris of New Haven, Philo C. Cathous of Bridgeport and Mrs. Ida Thomas of New Britain.

From the campaign speaker, it is already apparent that the nation is certainly going to be saved from something awful in November.

MINERS BESIEGED BY UNION WORKERS

Sixty Men In Mine Battle With Pickets Who Surround the Mine Shaft.

Terre Haute, Ind., Aug. 3.—(AP) The siege of the Dixie Bee mine in southern Vigo county was continued today with desultory firing.

Sixty non-union workmen hemmed in by a ring of union pickets exchanged bursts of fire at day-break and then the attackers and defenders settled down to cautious sniping tactics.

The siege began late yesterday. One picket has been killed and four wounded. Four defenders of the mine have been wounded. The latter are still at the shaft without medical attention. Pickets last night turned back ambulances sent to bring out the wounded miners.

Meanwhile representatives of the non-union workers were at the State Capitol in Indianapolis seeking a conference with Gov. Harry C. Leslie. They left here hoping to persuade the governor that National Guard troops are needed to bring about a cessation of hostilities between the pickets and the group at the mine. Two specific requests for troops sent by Joseph Dreher, Vigo county sheriff, have been ignored by the governor.

An airplane reconnaissance of the Dixie Bee shaft made this morning by Orville Lanct, secretary-treasurer of the corporation operating the shaft, disclosed that the mine buildings were still intact. The pickets have prevented any outsiders from approaching the shaft. The pickets directed their fire at the besieged mine from a corn field about a quarter of a mile from the shaft and from a railroad embankment.

Most of the non-union men apparently were concentrated in the mine tipples, while others were posted about smaller buildings near the pit mouth.

There was no means of communication with the beleaguered men. Telephone lines to the mine had been cut.

The pickets guarded all approaches to the mine.

"Unless you have a union card you'd better stay away from here," was the warning to a spectator who visited the pickets.

"TIMMY" KEPT BUSY TRANSPORTING KIDS

Holloran At Usual Occupation Carrying Youngsters To Globe Hollow To Take Swim.

Daily, including Sunday, at 1 o'clock Undertaker T. P. Holloran drives his sedan from his garage on Center street, pulls alongside of the curb and waits. It is only necessary to wait for a few minutes before there is a crowd of boys and girls in the sedan and the first trip is made to the Globe Hollow swimming pool.

With this number "detained" he again returns home where there is sure to be a second gathering and turning around he makes another trip to Globe Hollow with youthful swimmers and beginners. It generally requires three trips to take care of those who enjoy the ride to the swimming pool and his high record for one day is 32 children transported between his home and Globe Hollow. It is only scheduled as a one way trip, but often there is provision made for several on their way back if he just happens to driver over to the pool or has no funeral to take care of.

COCHET PLANNING INVASION OF U. S.

Paris, Aug. 3.—(AP) The newspaper Soir today said Henri Cochet, France's ranking tennis player, planned to compete in the United States championships at Forest Hills in September in the hopes of meeting Ellsworth Vines, Jr., American champion, and avenging the defeat he suffered at Vines' hands in the Davis Cup matches.

New York, Aug. 3.—(AP) Henri Cochet has been considering for some time the possibility of leading a French tennis team on a tour of the United States, Mexico, and South America this summer and fall.

Under the tentative plans announced last November, he would play in the Nationals at Forest Hills September 3-10, go on to the west coast, then to Mexico and South America.

The United States Lawn Tennis Association has not received his entry nor that of any other French players for the Nationals as yet.

The United States Davis Cup team of Ellsworth Vines, Jr., William Richardson, John Van Ryn, Frank Shields and Bernon S. Prentice, non-playing captain, sailed today from Cherbourg on the liner Olympic, the U. S. L. T. A. was informed.

Also on the Olympic was an English team of Henry W. (Bunny) Nicol, Fred Perry, J. S. Olliv and Edward R. Avery, coming to the United States to play in the Nationals.

SPECIAL STAMP ISSUES AID POSTAL BUSINESS

Events To Be Commemorated By Stamps and Cachet To Sall On New Steamship "Manhattan."

In order to stimulate business in the postal department the second assistant postmaster at Washington has, through the Postal Bulletin, notified all postmasters of certain plans arranged for the selling of stamps that will be given a special postmark and will be used by many stamp collectors and those wishing to have stamps of certain dates and those commemorating important events in the history of the United States.

On August 8 the "Manhattan," the largest steamship ever built in the United States will start from New York on its first trip to Queenstown, England. Arrangements have been made to provide a special cachet for such mail. The usual amount of stamps will be required as for all foreign ports as at present, but the feature that is being advanced is to make it possible for a person to address a letter to himself in this country, send it to New York so as to reach there before August 6 and addressed to the steamship "Manhattan," New York, N. Y., not later than Friday. This will be placed in the special cachet and will make the round trip to and from America to England, stamped aboard ship and on the return, will be sent back to the person who has mailed it, if so required. It is possible for a person to send not exceeding 12 of these letters addressed to one person.

Similar conditions are arranged for the opening of a new air mail service between Boston, Providence and New York. Providence coming into the new service on Saturday and such envelopes must be in the hands of the Providence, R. I., postmaster by August 8.

In commemoration of the George Washington celebration there's provision made for a new canceling stamp to be used on all mail leaving New York on August 7. It is necessary that all such letters be ready by August 6 in the New York headquarters. The letters will be mailed from a new branch known as the Federal Hall postoffice. To see that such mail is received there and sent out with the special stamps letters enclosing the mail to be sent out must be mailed to the George Washington Bicentennial Commission, Federal Hall, Bryant Park, New York, N. Y. They will be kept in the office until August 7 when the cancellation stamp will be applied and the mail sent to the different addresses named.

Different dates when events of importance will be observed have been selected by the postoffice department that will continue up to November 25, which will mark the occasion of the return to New York of George Washington after the British troops withdrew from the United States.

Paris police have the largest collection of criminal fingerprints in the world.

FURTHER CONSOLIDATION ACTS AWAIT OCTOBER

Superintendent F. A. Verplanck Says Present Arrangements Satisfactory Until Then.

F. A. Verplanck, who has been selected as the superintendent of all public schools in Manchester under the school consolidation plan, is back from his vacation. Mr. Verplanck said this morning that just at present he is making time concerning the outgoing schools. The management of the schools outside of the Ninth District is being taken care of by the different committees under the supervision of the town school board. He as superintendent was empowered to engage teachers for the coming year and this has been done. There has been no indication, as yet, that any of the teachers' contracts last June are not to return, although it is not unusual to have a late notice arrive each year when so many teachers are concerned showing a desire to be released. There will be no objection raised to such requests this year.

As soon as the final turnover of the schools to the town is perfected, which will be in October, he will give more attention to details, but in the meantime feels that the arrangements already made will provide for the work up to that time.

Mowder
We know of a young man, about three, who offered to keep the lawn cut if Dad would buy him a lawn mower that he saw downtown for $20. The family mower was really too big for him, but the one he wanted was "this big," he said, demonstrating with both hands moving back and forth like an accordion. He got the lawn mowed.

Mr. William Rubinow of Rubinow's who, with his assistants, has just returned from a buying trip to New York, announces that their annual August Clearance Sale, which starts tomorrow morning, will include new dresses for wear now and in early fall.

A Last Line
There will be no waist-line in the clothes this fall. The waist-line will be forgotten. There will be a ribe instead. Clothes will fasten in tight around the ribs, the higher the zipper, and will flow out beneath. Most of the dresses are fashioned so they fit loosely, instead of snugly as in the past, around the hips.

The Weldon Beauty Salon (Hotel Sheridan) have that amazing new liquefying cleansing cream for sale. This is a "three-in-one" cream and it's priced $1.25.

Missing Ways
To make parsley quickly, roll the parsley up in a firm ball, and cut it into bits with scissors kept especially for food.

In summer women prefer a perspiration-proof and water-proof powder such as Faith Avery's delicately scented LaBera, sold by Mrs. Aida Pettican of the New French Beauty Shoppe, Johnson Block. The price is 50c.

Felton
A man who strongly suspected that his wheelbarrow had been stolen advertised for it this way: "If the person who borrowed my wheelbarrow will come back, I will give him the side-board also, as they are no use to me now." This is a true story and it's also true that he got the wheelbarrow back.

Many Manchester people have used the New Model Laundry services for a long time and have found perfect satisfaction. This up-to-date laundry will solve the problem for you too. Call 8072 and learn their reasonable charges.

Getting the Best
Now that we're eating corn again... when you buy, pick ears that are filled out right to the end, with grains that are soft and milky. In buying squash, whatever kind, pick the young and tender ones. You should be able to cut the skin of summer squash with your thumbnail; if you can't, it's too tough.

The new way of printing snapshots introduced by Mr. Pasternack of the Elite Studio, 283 Main street, is getting more and more popular. He puts borders on them, prints them on a larger size paper, and charges less than you usually pay for pictures printed the ordinary way.

Try This Friday
Ever have salmon and macaroni timbales? Here's how:
1 cup milk
1 cup stale bread crumbs
1 lb. can salmon
2 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons heavy cream or undiluted evaporated milk
2 eggs
Cooked macaroni
Salt, pepper

Cook milk and bread crumbs together in double boiler for 10 minutes. Add salmon, freed from bones and skin and run through food chopper. Add butter, cream or evaporated milk, and slightly beaten eggs. Season with salt and pepper. Line greased timbale molds or custard cups with cooked macaroni by colling it around sides of mold. Fill molds with salmon mixture, and place in dish of water. Bake in moderate oven 25 to 30 minutes. Serve with well seasoned white sauce.

Federal authorities today moved to take over the prosecution of kidnapping charges against the two youths arrested here yesterday as they attempted to force their victims to draw ransom money from a Richmond bank.

Acting under the new Federal kidnapping laws, enacted after the Lindbergh kidnapping, United States Commissioner W. H. Hardin, of Beckley, W. Va., issued warrants for the young men.

Meanwhile the two boys who gave their names as Jack Liggett, 25, Charleston, W. Va., and William Craft, alias Paul Whittington, 21, of Wheeling, W. Va., were being held by local authorities on charges of attempted robbery with a deadly weapon and extortion, lodged against them when they admitted to police that they forced Georgia N. Davis, 65 year old Richmond and Lewisburg, W. Va., capitalist, and his companion, R. K. Robertson, to ride from Lewisburg to Richmond for $10,000 ransom, later compromised at $7,500.

WATERS ADVISE VETS TO GO HOME

Says New National Camp Cannot Be Established On Maryland Site.

Washington, Aug. 3.—(AP)—The weary and unwanted E. R. F. is figuring out how far it is to home. Routed from the District of Columbia, barred from Maryland and Virginia, received with scant welcome in Pennsylvania, many of the bedraggled bonus seekers decided the only thing to do was what their commander ordered—go back where they came from and establish 48 battlefronts instead of one.

Walter W. Waters, leader of the Bonusers conceded in a statement early today that a new National camp could not be established. He held the formation of tent cities in each of the 48 states to house veterans from that state only would do more good.

Some veterans at the Maryland camp, half way between Washington and Baltimore could not wait for daybreak to get off the ground. Governor Ritchie said they could not occupy anyhow. Representatives at Johnstown promised to carry out orders evacuating all but Pennsylvania from that camp.

Waters' surrender followed an unsuccessful effort to convince Ritchie the veterans did have a right to use their land in Maryland. The proposed homeward trek also saw fits written to one of the startling incidents last week—the fatal shooting of two veterans by policemen.

A coroner's jury found Police-George Sigmund and Miles Zeameson "in defense" shot William J. Hunka of Chicago and Eric Carlson of Oakland, California. Buried at Arlington. Hunka was buried yesterday in Arlington National Cemetery. Carlson may go there too.

A further Grand Jury investigation of the whole affair—particularly to see if Communists and radicals incited the fighting—drew new testimony today. Meanwhile, Havana Mayor Modesto de Céspedes held until it could be determined whether he is deportable. Fourteen other men arrested with him in the roundup of radicals were released but escorted to the District of Columbia line.

The Red Cross showed it considered the capital's part in the episode just about ended. It closed up an office from which it had given assistance to 23 families including 43 adults and 30 children.

NEED BIRD SANCTUARIES

Silver Bay, N. Y., Aug. 3.—(AP)—Dr. T. Gilbert Pearson, member of the Federal Advisory Board for the Protection of Migratory Birds, appealed today to "private philanthropy" to provide more sanctuaries where birds may increase their numbers under adequate protection.

"There are many men in America," Dr. Pearson told the annual Silver Bay Vacation Conference, "who have enjoyed shooting during the greater part of their lives and who also have accumulated large fortunes. To such men I appeal to repay to the nation, in the form of living birds, the sport which they have enjoyed."

The speaker, who is president of the National Association of Audubon Societies said the Federal and state governments were unable financially to give birds better protection. He warned that the wild fowl situation may soon reach a "critical stage."

DBY OFFICIALS

Barre, Vermont, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Nine members of the Prohibition National Committee will constitute the executive committee of the Prohibition Party in its attempt to elect William D. Uphaw of Georgia president and Frank S. Rogers of Illinois, vice president, Harley W. Klidder of Barre, secretary of National committee, announced today.

The executive body will consist of the officers of the National committee and four members at large.

STOLE CHIEF'S MILK
Saskatoon, Sask., Aug. 3.—(AP)—If one must steal, it is better not to steal it from the police chief's doorstep. William Sheridan, no home, realizes this now as he starts a 30-day stretch. Sheridan took two bottles of milk from the door of the home of Chief Constable William Donald. The chief got a description of him from neighbors, spotted him on the street and nabbed him.

WRECKAGE DISCOVERED
Windsor, Ont., Aug. 3.—(AP)—Police today were in possession of wreckage of a boat in which five young men were thought to have lost their lives in 1929. The wreckage, found on the south shore of Stony Island, contained 29 cases of beer. Bodies of five young men were washed ashore April 4, 1929, several weeks after a violent gale.

Banker Is Missing

New York, Aug. 3.—(AP)—The Missing Persons Bureau of the Police Department announced that it had searched in vain for Russell H. Lucas, retired banker last seen on July 14 in Saugatuck, Conn. Lucas, who for many years was connected with the Bankers Trust Company here, retired last spring due to ill health and spent some time at the sanitarium of Dr. Ernest Russell at New Haven, Conn. Recently he had been staying with a family named Johnstone at Far Mills, N. J., and then went for a visit of several weeks to the home of the Lauren Arnolds at Saugatuck.

Banker Is Missing

Hartford, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Judge Richard T. Steele, in Police Court this morning ordered the release of John W. Seamon, 61, of Cleveland, Ohio, for forgery. He was arrested in Hartford more than a year ago by Detective Sergeant Thomas J. Hickey on charges of obtaining money under false pretenses at several local stores. The accused was bound over to the Superior Court and was sentenced to jail for one year. In the meantime it was learned that he was a fugitive from justice in Ohio and when he was discharged from jail today he was rearrested and held for the police of Columbus. Seamon agreed to waive extradition proceedings and he started on his return journey to Ohio this afternoon.

for LOVE or MONEY by CORLEY

BEGIN HERE TODAY MONA MORAN, receptionist in a Wall Street law office, goes with her childhood sweetheart, STEVE SAOCARELLI, to a popular supper resort, the Halcyon Club. Mona supports her invalid father, mother, little sister, KITTY, and ne'er-do-well brother, BUD. Steve has been mysteriously absent for three years. He has returned, well dressed and prosperous. With no thought of impropriety, he has ordered a gown and wrap sent to Mona which, after much indecision, she wears.

As the office that day Mona has met BARRY TOWNSEND, rich and socially prominent, but refused his invitation to dine with him. Bud Moran comes to the Halcyon Club to see BUD HARKINS, the proprietor, who has underworld connections. Mona sees her brother and fears he is associating with gangsters. Steve quiets her fears. LOTTIE CARR, fashion model, dismisses her escort and joins Mona and Steve. Steve's business partner arrives. He proves to be Barry Townsend. Barry tells Mona how Steve years before had befriended him, how together they were called for South America and have been operating a diamond mine that Townsend inheres.

After Mona and her friends leave the supper club Harkins tells his lieutenant that Steve has a huge diamond, known as "The Empress of Peru," which the gangsters plan to steal. Mona, Lottie, Steve and Barry go about together frequently. One evening when they are all at Steve's apartment Harkins tells Bud to go there and say Mona's mother is ill. Harkins plans to get the diamond that night. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XIII It was, as Steve put it, "a man's sized supper." Steve had completed "a deal," he explained rather vaguely, and was in the height of good spirits. Barry had just returned from Twilands, the family estate, where he had attempted without much success to persuade his uncle to aid in financing the dredging machinery for the mine.

"Maybe we won't need your uncle's help," Steve announced. "I'm morrow we may be all set. Who can tell?" This possibility did not seem to please Barry. "But what am I doing?" he complained. "Not a thing!" Plainly he was disgusted until Steve pointed out that after all Barry had proved the business and that things were coming along as well as they could be expected. By the time the two girls had arrived Barry's good nature was restored.

The apartment, charming and attractive, met with even Lottie's rather "rat approval." "Motion picture stuff!" was Steve's dismissal of the surroundings. The living room might almost have been planned for a skating rink. There was a fireplace, huge comfortable chairs by the tables, ash trays. The floor was covered with expensive rugs and in every corner there were attractive lamps, graceful bronzes, books. Lottie picked up the lovely mandarin's coat from the grand piano, enfolding her sinuous body in its richly embroidered satin and paraded the floor.

Mona noted with pride that in such surroundings Steve was perfectly at home. The young men displayed various treasures which they had brought from South America. Moran laid the table before the fire. On the velvet divan, Mona smiled and meditated while Lottie conversed. Steve and Barry listened, now and then interjecting bursts of amused laughter. Presently the table was whisked away and coffee served in front of the dancing flames. Barry and Steve lit Turkish cigarettes brought from the American Virgin Islands. They spoke again of the Empress of Peru—that mammoth diamond found by Steve in the mine.

"It's one of the largest ever found in South America," Barry explained. "It's Steve's, of course, though he always speaks of it as 'ours.' He picked it up just as you might pick up a golf ball. It's worth a fortune. It still only a working man but your friend here has made his pile." "Our pile," Steve said shortly. It was plain to be seen he was not enjoying this turn of the conversation.

"Yours," returned Barry evenly. It developed that the stone had been picked up on land decided to Steve by Barry during their first year at the mine in lieu of cash payment of salary. That made the Empress Steve's. "It must be wonderful to dig diamonds right out of the ground," Lottie said dreamily.

Steve rose, carelessly thrust aside a tapestry, twirled the knob of a safe and drew out a thin string of glittering stones which he held for a moment against his palm.

It was a chain of diamonds. The girl gasped in delight. Steve fitted the chain about Mona's neck and she rose too, cupping her hands in front of her as though she expected the precious string to break.

Before the mirror she twisted and turned, murmuring excitedly, "This is the nearest I've ever been to a diamond necklace!" "Oh, Steve collected these for you, Mona," Barry told her. "Every week or so he'd add another. Used to carry them around in a little chamois bag and every so often he'd count them."

Mona looked at Steve who stood near her, silent. The necklace, catching the lights, shone no more brightly than Mona's eyes. Steve nodded. "Yes, they're yours, Mona."

She flushed, started to speak and her eyes met Lottie's. Steve fitted the chain about her neck and she rose too, cupping her hands in front of her as though she expected the precious string to break.

"They're perfectly beautiful. Thank you, Steve, for thinking of me but of course you know I can't." Lottie looked on in bewilderment. A diamond necklace and Mona was passing it up like that! "Call it a birthday present," Steve entreated. "It's past my birthday."

How could Mona refuse Steve anything when he smiled that way, Lottie wondered. "Past your birthday? Re smart then and have a bob-cut!" But he took her neck, slowly returned to the safe, and tossed the glittering handful into its allotted group. Then he closed the door and came back to the embarrassed group.

"You're a fool, Mona!" Lottie observed, shortly. "You're a darling, Mona," Barry said shortly. But he too knew that Steve had been inexpressibly hurt by the refusal to accept his gift. Throughout three tense, hard years of labor Steve had been spurred on by the thought of the gift that some day he could lay at Mona's feet. He had called her Min then and what a picture of the girl he had painted!

Barry found himself wishing Mona could have accepted the jewels while at the same time he understood it was impossible. "Show us the Empress, Steve," Mona said to hide her confusion. Steve's face lighted. He raised his eyes and for a moment looked thoughtfully.

"I'd love to see a fortune rolled up in one stone the size of a peanut," Lottie sighed. Steve said nothing and Barry put in briskly, "There aren't many like this one! Steve keeps it right here in this apartment." "Risky, isn't it?" Mona asked quietly.

"Risky? Sure. What isn't risky nowadays? It seems," Steve's voice became suddenly bitter, "that it's even riskier to offer a gift to an old friend. If it hadn't been for you, Mona, those diamonds would never have been mined. I wouldn't have finished the job without you to think about."

"Save the necklace for a wedding present!" Barry suggested hastily. "Maybe she'll wear it then." "Will you, Mona?" "Something in Steve's voice frightened the girl," she answered. "I will. If only you don't stipulate whom I shall marry when the time comes."

"I'll leave that to you," Steve said gravely. "But about the Empress," Harry reminded. "Even I don't know where he keeps that." "The Empress? Oh, yes," Steve straightened. "Tell you what I did with it. Remember, I know a thing or two about crooks. There was a man in the old gang named Bridgie Hayden. He was a 'dip'—used to steal jewels right from the necks of women who came into the supper club. Time after time police would be called in but no one could ever find the diamonds on Bridgie. He'd sit there drinking ginger ale and maybe eating a sandwich before a bowl of cracked ice. The table would be cleared right under the eyes of the police and there were the jewels, hidden in the bowl of ice!

"Is the Empress to be found among the sardines and maraschinos?" Lottie asked. Steve smiled and shook his head. "Not exactly. I put it in the top left tray of the refrigerator."

"The refrigerator?" Even Barry gasped in amazement. Barry had not guessed Steve's hiding place. "Yes, I bent the tray so Morgan couldn't take it out very easily and would be sure to use the lower one when he needed ice cubes. The Empress is as secure there as it would be locked in a safe!"

"Oh, Steve—you didn't! Worth a fortune and you left it waiting to be snatched by somebody's finger ale!" "Wait," Steve said mysteriously. He rose, twirled the dial of the radio and strains of dance music floated into the softly lighted room.

Steve and Lottie whirled into a dance while Mona and Barry sat watching. The dance ended and the four had a few hands of bridge. The game was going merrily when the telephone rang. Steve answered to return with a serious face.

He looked at Mona sympathetically. "It's for you," he said seriously. "Bud's downstairs and wants you to come home. He has a cab waiting. Said he'd rather Barry and I didn't come along."

Mona's face had drained of color as she arose. "I'll go with you," Lottie said, disappearing into the region where they had left their coats. She was back with Mona's wraps before the other girl had gathered herself together sufficiently to speak.

"Don't worry," Barry begged as he helped Mona into her coat. Bud appeared then at the door of the apartment. "It's nothing really," he said. "Max just left bad and wanted you home. I'll get a doctor if you say so. I don't think it's anything serious, though."

The three stood waiting for the elevator. "Mona," Steve said, "I'm sorry Bud thinks we shouldn't go with you. Telephone us, will you, when you get home? We'll be here." He paused uncertainly and then added, "Or wait—we're due at the club. It's waiting there if you don't hear from us."

Mona agreed. The elevator arrived and the anxious little group dispersed. "The club?" Barry asked in a puzzled tone. "Are we going there?"

For answer Steve shook his head mysteriously and showed Barry into the apartment. "Do you think I'd have let that girl go home alone if I thought her mother was really ill?"

Rapidly he examined the outer door of the apartment. A flicker of annoyance passed over his face. "Then you said that—?" Barry began.

Steve nodded. "Exactly!" He pointed to the door. "Mona took an impression of the lock while he was waiting. He'll be back because he thinks we're going out. Are you game for a little reception party?" "They're coming for the Empress, Steve?" Steve nodded. "They are! But don't worry about that. Looking around Steve rubbed his hands together. "Now," he chuckled, "we'll show Mr. Buck Harkins we're ready for him!"

Voices, to be lovely, must be full and vibrant, with color. They must not be shrill. Entirely too many of them sound like whistle-blowing for New Year's Eve. They must not be flat. Many of them are like food that hasn't been seasoned. They should not be thin.

MUSCLE TREMORS. SLOW SPEECH, SYMPTOMS OF NERVE DISEASE

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of two articles by Dr. Fishbein on the nervous diseases known as multiple sclerosis. The second will be printed tomorrow.

By DR. MORRIS FISHB EIN, Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

One of the most extraordinary diseases that attack the nervous system of mankind is a condition called multiple sclerosis in which there occur areas of degeneration in the central nervous system, as a result of which the patients develop tremors, slow speech, twitching of the eyes and difficulty in motion due to excessive tone or activity in the muscles because of lack of nerve control.

The condition was first recognized as a definite disease around 1840, but although almost 100 years have passed, the cause of the disease has not yet been discovered and only lately is there beginning to be any hope whatever of a useful treatment.

It is not likely that heredity plays any part in the cause of the disease. It does not seem to strike girls more than boys or vice versa. The disease rarely begins before the 15th year of life or after the 40th year of life.

All sorts of possible contributing causes have been mentioned in the way of infections, metabolic poisons, emotional disturbances, poverty, bad hygiene and similar causes, but not one of these has been certainly incriminated. On several occasions organisms believed to be the specific cause have been isolated, but at present there exists no confirmation for any of these claims.

An "intention tremor" which is one of the specific signs of the disease is signified by an absence of any tremor when a limb is at rest, but the appearance of a fine tremor just as soon as any attempt is made to move the arm or leg, and an intensification of the tremor if the motion is continued.

A second sign of this disease is the side to side twitching of the eyes brought on by a tremor of the muscles of the eyes, and a third sign is a slow articulation of words with a tendency to hesitate in the beginning of words or syllable.

This gives to the speech a peculiar staccato-type. The sick person has no difficulty in finding words, as occurs in some other disorders, but he has difficulty in enunciating his words.

There are, of course, other diseases of the nervous system which resemble multiple sclerosis, one group of authorities having listed 20 different disturbances that resemble it.

YOUR CHILDREN Olive Roberts Barber

CODDLING OF CHILDREN IS A SOCIAL MENACE

A mother I know has talked for years about the time when her children can do things for themselves. The now her children range from 25 down to 15 and she works harder than ever.

I always have known it would be so. They were the most "demanding" little children I ever have seen. Nothing was sharp enough for them then, nor now.

They had but to express a wish, or suggest something they wanted. Right away their mother set about putting it through. Sometimes it was a party, sometimes new clothes when they did not need them.

This situation is common enough, too common, but it was more sharply accentuated in this family than any other that has ever come to my notice.

Motherhood the mother in every other way is a sensible woman and the father is a sensible man. He, by the way, is as foolish about humoring the children as their mother.

Father at Fault, Too The point of view of that whole family is that the children are the lords and the parents retainers. It does not seem to occur to any of them that it should be reversed.

The mother still looks to the future and sighs about the time they will be able to look after themselves. To her they are still babies.

They can scare up more parties in a week than most people do in a year. They get all the trips and all the clothes; even the car was bought for the boy, and it belonged to him. I actually have seen mother and dad in the rumble seat.

Now what do you think? You may not be interested in my family. What Mrs. Smith or Mrs. Jones do with their children may not break your heart. If a pair of parents want to make door-mats of themselves for their children it is, perhaps, none of our concern.

But look around. Count on your fingers the families you know like this one.

Don't you see what it does to a nation? When we have gotten thousands of such children who think the world owes them a living, the country is likely to go soft and rotten.

Only work, self-help, and determination to do for themselves make real men and women. Give me the self-made man, or the self-developed woman, every time.

We are heading that way now. In thought we are not adult as a class. Is it over-coddling? It looks like it.

A BOOK A DAY

BY BRUCE CATTON

LOVE WAS THE BIG ATTRACTION ON THIS CRUISE

In "Promenade Deck," Isabel Ross discusses the odd things that can happen to a group of people who are held together for five months by the fact that they all embarked together on a round-the-world cruise.

Mostly, she finds, they fall in love—usually with the wrong people. And since they can't get away from the people with whom they have fallen out of love, things are apt to get rather interesting.

She gets together a typical "luxury liner crowd," a young man just out of Princeton, a party little flapper, an explorer who has just eloped with the wife of a distinguished professor, a conceited lady on the lookout for excitement, a novelist who aims to sample the drink of every port in the world, a red-haired young female who can't hold her liquor, a prym little schoolma'am from the middle west, a deserted English wife—and so on, until she has a suitably hectic mixture. These she turns them loose and watches to see what happens.

What happens is plenty, and the telling of it there is a good deal of interest. The book is oddly uneven, for some reason; some stretches are flat and listless, with unreal people uttering stilted dialogue, and some are extremely moving and convincing. Some of the characters—notably the schoolma'am—are simply steel figures, wooden and inert; others are very well drawn.

All in all, "Promenade Deck" will fill in a couple of hours nicely. It is published by Harpers, and it will cost you $2.

JOHNSON CAPTURES GOLF CUP TOURNAMENT

Defeats Harry Megson 8 and 6 in Finals Last Night; Dr. D. C. Y. Moore Presents Winner With an Electric Percolator Set As Prize.

Charles Johnson, a Velvet department executive with Cheney Brothers, is the possessor today of Dr. D. C. Y. Moore's President's cup trophy from the Manchester Country Club, after winning the golf cup tournament by eliminating Harry Megson last night in the final, 8 and 6. Megson is an accountant with Steadman and Redfield, brokers, of Hartford, and lives in Glastonbury. Johnson continued to shoot the same steady golf that gave him a score of 15 on Monday in the second round of the final match. Megson improved his game somewhat but not sufficiently to stop Johnson, the match ending on the 12th green.

Johnson Up At Start

Johnson shot an 82, three strokes more than the evening previous while Megson hit a 94 clipping five strokes from his medal score of Monday night. Johnson started last night's round five up. He took the first three holes and lost the fourth through giving Megson a stroke. The fifth was halved, Megson took the sixth not needing the stroke. Johnson took the seventh and the eighth was halved. Megson succeeded in halving the ninth through use of his stroke on this hole and the turn back home was made with Johnson seven up.

Dermie On 11th

Megson took the tenth where he got another stroke but Johnson took the 11th easily making the match dormie. On the 12th Johnson took a par three while Megson took four giving Johnson the match, the tournament and the cup, 8 and 6. Both coasted in from the 12th to complete the 36 holes.

The President's Cup This Year Is a Handsome Electric Percolator Set

The trophy will be suitably engraved naming Johnson the match play handicap tournament champ of 1932.

Stiff Competition

Johnson had stiff competition in his bracket to get through to the final. In his first round he beat Dick McCormick 5 and 3. Then in the second round he faced Charlie Willett whom he defeated 3 and 1. His next opponent was Pete Turkington. He defeated Turkington 4 and 3. Then in the semifinals he met Harry Benson defeating him 4 and 3. In the final Megson, with a 24 handicap had to be given 12 strokes on each of the 18 hole rounds. That is difficult when it is considered that Megson had been hitting them in the middle of the 30's.

Megson Matches

Megson beat Albert Dewey in the first round, 6 and 5 and in the second round he defeated Dr. D. M. Caldwell, 8 and 7. His third round match was a tough one, since he had to beat Judge William S. Hyde. The extra strokes were too much for Judge Hyde, however, and Megson took him 3 and 2. In his semifinal match he met another tough customer in Paul Ballsper who won the cup tournament last year. Ballsper nearly spelled defeat for Megson the match going to the 17th green but Megson won 3 and 1. This put Megson in the final against Charlie Johnson.

Chamber Tourney

In the Chamber of Commerce tournament the second round was completed last night when Harold C. Alvord defeated Arthur A. Knoda, one up. The third round must be completed according to schedule by August 7. The matches in the third round will be as follows: Dr. Boyd vs. Harry Benson; Judge W. S. Hyde vs. John Echmalian; Harold C. Alvord vs. Leroy Slocumb; Fred J. Bessell vs. J. C. Cary.

PLAYGROUND NOTES

Three very hard fought games featured Team 4's victory over Team 3 in the West Side Senior Volley Ball League on Monday night. The first two games were 16 to 14 while in the last game Team 5 overcame a wide lead which had been made and defeated Team 3 in the last game 15 to 13. Team 6 has taken the lead in the league with nine straight victories and as a result every team in the league is looking for their scalp. Team 6 also took three straight from Team 2 by the scores of 15 to 2, 15 to 12 and 15 to 11. Next Friday night at 6:15 sharp Team 4 will play Team 8 while the second match brings together 7 and 1.

The Bucks defeated the Colts Tuesday afternoon in the West Side Juvenile League by the score of 13 to 12. Adams got three hits for the Bucks while D. Coleman and Heim each got three for the Colts. The Bucks to date lead the league with two straight victories but will play the Austins this Thursday and the Austins have all the confidence of knocking them out of first place.

The Intercollegiate Indoor Playground League has already got out to a fine start. The Nutsies lead the league with straight victories over the East Side Hawks and the West Side Bears. In the game with the Hawks, Maloney caught a long fly in the last inning with one hand and the bases were full to save the game for his team. They easily overcame the West Side Bears by the score of 16 to 6.

SWEDISH PREACHER WRESTLING CHAMP

Wins Heavyweight Title At Olympics; Refuses Offers To Turn Professional.

Los Angeles, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Crowning of six new Olympic wrestling champions who will join the 1932 heavyweight titles, Johan Ritchoff, a Swedish preacher, was set for today in the wind-up of catch-as-catch-can matches.

Richthoff, a 6-foot 6-inch giant who spurned offers in New York to turn professional, won his second successive championship by defeating Nikolau Hirchi, Austria, and Jack Riley of Northwestern University.

Grapplers of the United States, Finland, France and Hungary held the best position in the same classes with America represented in all six divisions.

Jack van Beber, Los Angeles Athletic club welterweight and Peter Melringer, University of Kansas light-heavyweight were the chief hopes for raising of the Stars and Stripes.

DARKNESS ENDS GAME

After a shaky early inning start Pitcher Johnny Hedlund of the Atlas and Billy Hand of the Pilots engaged in a pitchers' battle which was called in the eighth inning with the score deadlocked 8-8. Hand was a trifle wild in the second inning and his teammates also seemed to go up in the air in this chucker as the Atlas scored three runs on three bingles and a couple of errors. The Pilots made amends for their mistakes in the third when "Pete" Hansen walked and Hand was safe on fielder's choice when they played Hansen at second. "Chuckie" Smith tripped to right field when Burke made a gallant bid for the ball but it slurred him. Espakka, Hewitt and Hansen hit in succession to score two more runs tying the game. The Atlas counted again in the sixth and seventh. In the sixth Bronkie doubled and scored on a fielder's choice. Brimley drove the other one home in the seventh when Burkhart was safe on an error by Karh. The Pilots chalked up two in the sixth. With the score tied the game was called on account of darkness in the eighth. Brimley played a nice game at second for the Atlas as did Charley Burke for the same team making a spectacular catch on Maloney's drive to right field.

PAGANI IS BEATEN IN ROCKVILLE SHOW

Leonard Wins Star Bout; Other Results.

A rather small man, with his cap set back on his head and smoking a cigar, looked on from the ringside at the Crystal Lake Stadium last night, turning now and then to a boy who sat at his left to make a remark or two while the main show of ten separate bouts was being presented to the 1,800 spectators. He seemed less concerned than most of the fans even though he was the father of Young Leonard, the Stafford Springs fighter, who was pitted against Romeo Duke of Holyoke in the main presentation of the evening. Many thought that Young Leonard was being set against a man of too much experience for a stadium clerk, but when the bell sounded closing the three acts, Leonard was in the ring in the center to lift the arm of Leonard, a winner of just another fight.

It was the closing performance of a ten card show, well matched and it brought to a close another one of those good cards that is staged weekly by the C. D. A. K. of Rockville at Crystal Lake.

Leonard weighed in at 142 and Duke at 147. Duke has been sent against some good men in the past and the way he handled himself the friends of the Stafford clerk feared that there might be an error and that it was going to be a bad night for the pride of Stafford. Instead of this Leonard proved the most clever in every department and for three rounds showed that he is even better than he has been rated.

No Real Koyser

There was no real knockouts, but two of the bouts did not go the limit as the rounds were so hot that on two occasions one man was not able to come out for the third round.

Young Griffio of East Hartford, 128, won from Peter Burke of Holyoke, 124, when he clipped Burke over the right eye and opened up a cut in the second which resulted in Burke being sent to his corner. Griffio being awarded the decision.

Mike Murphy, 121, of East Hampton met the same kind of fighter that he is himself, a slugger. It was a real lively fight for two rounds, but Mike had landed a heart blow in the first that was too much for Paul Andrews, 129, of Holyoke and Andrews did not return to the ball in the opening of the third, Mike getting the decision.

Roy Zauy, 127, of East Hartford and Eddie Oul, 122, of Holyoke, went three fast rounds to a draw.

Bob Stone, 145, of Ware and Peter Grasso, 144, of Hartford, traded three fast rounds to a draw. Young Grasso, 133, of Hartford, was given the decision over Lew Marco, 126, Hartford, in a close fight.

Charles Dean, 147, Ware, and Johnnie Pal, 146, Hartford, traveled three whirlwind rounds, Pal getting the decision.

Battling Frenchy of Rockville, fighting Jimmie Shannon of Holyoke, took a good lacing, Shannon winning by a wide margin.

Jimmie Britt, 108, Rockville and Ray Pagani, 113, Manchester slugger and punched for three rounds, but the Rockville boy had the better of the argument and won the gold watch.

Al Sattrub, 126, Rockville, took a real hot lacing from Sal Canasta, 140, Holyoke, one of the few lacing teams making a spectacular catch on Maloney's drive to right field.

BASEBALL

Nutsies Win
The Nutsies took the lead in the indoor baseball loop yesterday afternoon. They out-hit and out-played the West Side Bears, 19-6. The star for the Bears was Russell and for the Nutsies A. Raguskus, Smith, Quinn, Mahoney and Skendrian,ounding out 12 hits of their 39.

Oaks Beat Chestnuts

A fine pitcher's battle was the feature of the West Side Junior League Tuesday played between the Oaks and Chestnuts. Schuarts, on the mound for the Oaks, allowed but one hit while his mates were only able to gather three off J. May. The Oaks won the game, 4 to 2. Friday morning at 10 o'clock the Chestnuts meet the Maples.

British School Teacher Wins 800 Meters Event

Tolan and Metcalf Win Heats But Luti of Argentine and Jonath of Germany Run Same Distance In Faster Time—Another American Negro Wins Broad Jump Title.

By ALAN GOULD.

Los Angeles, Aug. 3.—(AP)—World athletics not only have "turned the corner" but galloped in full cry down the middle of the road on the basis of today's evidence that the greatest Olympic boom in history is now assured.

Within only three days 200,000 spectators have paid to witness the assorted thrills of this international sports carnival. With only three of the eight days of track and field competition completed new Olympic records have been set in 11 of 15 events, four of which have not been completed.

Americans no doubt would have liked to have had Ben Eastman in his best event, the 800 meters, when the Olympic finalists toed the mark for yesterday's dramatic final. It is doubtful however whether the Stanford star at his peak could have beaten long Tom Hampson, the British school teacher, who roared down the stretch to a new world record of 1:49.8 and a two-foot victory over Alex Wilson of Canada and Notre Dame.

Britain 1-2-3

It was 1-2-3 for the British Empire with Phil Edwards of Canada third, and 4-5-6 for the United States as Eddie Genung, Ned Turner and Charley Hornbostel in that order completed the half dozen in the scoring.

The rest of the record cracking story pointed the way today to a pair of dazzling championship battles, first in the 110 meter high hurdles and then in the 200 meter dash. There were six record paces in these two events alone yesterday.

Black Thunderbolts

Tolan and Metcalf, the two American negroes who are expected to fight it out again in the final, ran their quarter final heats each in 21.5 seconds for new Olympic marks, but Carlos Luti, Argentine sensation, and Arthur Jonath, the hustling German, came right back to click off winning races in 21.4 seconds each. Luti led the three Americans, George Simpson, and looked the part of a real contender. America's trio of high hurdling ace look ripe for a clean sweep as well as record smashing final. Two of them cracked the Olympic record of 14.4 seconds in yesterday's semifinals. Jack Kalar romped home in 14.5 seconds after which George Sailing led his team mate Percy Beard in 14.4, also tying the world record.

Fin Is Defeated

Ralph Hill, the Oregon boy, stamped himself a real threat in the five thousand meters by running away from Lauri Lehtinen, young Finnish favorite, in the trials. Hill's time of 14:59.6 was not so impressive as the Finn challenged on the last lap. All three Americans, including Dan Dean and Paul Rekers, qualified for the five thousand meters final, scheduled Friday.

The American negro's contribution to the rapidly mounting point score of the United States was emphasized again, when Edward Gordon of Iowa won the broad jump title with a leap of 28 feet, 3-4 inch.

The Olympic track and field championship is virtually all over but the shouting. The United States with eight events concluded has 81 points. Ireland is next with 20, while Canada has 19, Finland 16, Great Britain 13, Poland and Germany 10 each, Sweden 8 and Japan 7.

HORNSBY DEPOSED AS CUBS MANAGER

Rajah Dismissed Outright Last Night "In Best Interests of Club."

Chicago, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Baseball's most famous nomad, Rogers Hornsby, was on his way again today—deposed as manager of the Chicago Cubs. The announcement of Hornsby's dismissal came last night.

In making his announcement of Hornsby's going, William L. Veck, president of the club said, without elaboration:

"It was to the best interests of the club that Hornsby retire at this time."

Hornsby, manager of the Cubs since the last four days of the 1930 season when he replaced Joe McCarthy, will be succeeded by Charley Grimm, first baseman.

Hornsby's only comment before leaving the club at Philadelphia for his home at Robertson, Mo., was that Veck had wanted to make the move and "it's perfectly all right with me." His salary, said to be $40,000 annually will be paid to the end of his contract which expires December 31, 1932.

"Shoeless Joe" Jackson Back Again in Baseball

Greenville, S. C., Aug. 3.—(AP)—This bare feet and turned up the path outfielder Joe Jackson—old Shoeless Joe—is back in baseball.

The former Chicago White Sox star, who was banished from organized baseball following the 1919 World Series scandal in which he set several series records, is playing with semi-professional outfits in Georgia and South Carolina whenever he can find a berth.

In fair physical condition, although heavier and not so fast as in his prime days, Joe still has a keen batting eye at 48 and makes life miserable for the small-town hurlers.

Today he comes back to Greenville, where he started his professional career in 1909, to play with the "Spinners" against a picked crew from Newberry. Joe's a free lance player—he'll be clean-up man for any team that can give him the pay-off and he's still a drawing card.

Joe began his baseball activities with the Brandon Mills team here. He played a while with the Spinners, then Savannah, the Southern Association and finally the Majors. It was during his playing days in the Carolinas that he gained the name "Shoeless." Joe claimed the spiked shoes hurt his feet and he couldn't run in them. He played in around the bases.

After his departure from the White Sox Jackson operated a cleaning and greasing establishment in Savannah, Ga. Recently he sold this business and looked around for baseball jobs.

Jackson still has his famous old hat, Mack Sotay, which during his major league time was as widely known as was Bobby Jones' putter, Calamity Jane.

GREEN AND VETERANS WILL BATTLE FRIDAY

Unable to start the series with the Gold Star Post of Willimantic until the middle of the month, the V. F. W. baseball team will play a few practice games with local teams before the series with the Thread City vets opens.

Friday night will be the date and Jarvis field the scene of the first set-to. The Green will have Hutchinson, Lippincott, Borello, Grand, Conn, Hastings, Hubbard, Jarvis and Pinney and the V. F. W. will line up with Jones, Smith, Senti, Edgar, Cheney, Shields, Roth, McInnes, Anderson and Tedford. The game will start at 8:15 sharp.

SENSE AND NONSENSE

For Heaven's Sake, Don't Let Go!
Following is a letter received by a customer from his tailor:
Dear Sir: This is to let you know we are holding up your trousers waiting your confirmation. Yours truly, O. S. Co.

Theological Lecturer—Yes, my friends, some admire Moses who instituted the old law; some Paul, who spread the new. But after all, which character in the Bible has had the largest following?
Voice From the Rear—Ananias.

Boy—Daddy Dear, it says in this book that man should resemble a speck. I wonder what that means. Do you know, Daddy?
Daddy—Sure I do after having waded thru all of these bills. It means that you don't amount to much these days unless you own a couple of banks.

School Bow Howlers
The following are taken from the examination papers of school pupils:
The Tower of Babel was the place where King Solomon kept his wives. When you breathe you inspire, when you do not you expire.

A myth is a female myth. Ambiguity means having two wives living at the same time.

The earth makes a resolution every twenty-four hours. The zebra is like a horse only striped, and is chiefly used to illustrate the letter Z.

A metaphor is a thing you shout thru. A politician is a man who promises many things, but fails to keep his promises.

Judge—Haven't I seen you before somewhere?
Defendant—Surely, I taught your wife singing lessons.

Judge—Fifty years.
A man brags on everything he possesses. Fact is, he was proudly announcing today that he has the largest warts in town.

Proud Parent—How do I know that you are not marrying my daughter for my money?
Bold Suitor—We are both taking a risk. How do I know you won't fall in a year or so?

Hair dressers announce the return of the "rat." What do you think of that, Kitty?
Harold—Where is my fraternity pin?
Harriet—I have it on my chiffonier.

Harold—Your chiff—well, don't forget to take it off before you send it to the laundry.

And So Is He
Under the spreading chestnut tree
The village smithy sits
For he's been eating chestnuts
And they were full of worms.

Dealer—I can let you have this bedroom suite for half the catalog price.
Newlywed—And what do you sell the catalog for?

The monotonous ticking of a clock aroused the ire of a Kansan who had imbibed too freely of bootleg liquor.

So he pulled out his pocket and emptied it at the clock. Just another way to kill time.

Wife—Mother says she nearly died laughing over those stories you told her.
Hubby—Where is she? I'll tell her some funnier ones.

An intoxicated young man entered a restaurant on his way from a dance. Sitting down at a table he was quickly served by a friendly waiter who asked:
Waiter—Dance over?
Young Man—No. Walked over.

SINGING IN THE RAIN
London—St. John's Church, Great Clocton, is in a bad condition. The roof leaks so badly that when it rains the congregation must either leave and seek shelter or stay and get wet. The Rev. E. H. Shaw says he'll let church members bring umbrellas and raise them in church if they stay. So far no one has done it.

COMPLETE 1933 PLAN
Washington—The 1933 Federal Airways construction plan has been completed with the approval of the Aeronautical Branch, U. S. Chamber of Commerce, of routes for the Albany-Springfield-Boston airway, and for an 83-mile section south of St. Louis on the New Orleans-St. Louis route. This brings the total of Federal Airways to 19,500 miles. No plans are made for 1933, in accordance with the government's economy program.

LONG LIVED PLANE
Detroit—The useful life of airplanes has been prolonged of late years and one Ford tri-engine craft operating here has just completed 400,000 miles. The plane has been in service five and a half years and has carried more than 6,000,000 pounds of freight.

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS:
When everyone's watch is correct, good time is had by all.

CLEAN SWEEP TODAY AFTER NOON SALE

As one man remarked of Main street this morning: "It must be a Scandinavian custom—everybody is carrying a broom. Perhaps it is to drive away evil spirits."

The reason—Montgomery Ward & Company had a special sale on brooms this morning and over 300 of the familiar household aids were sold before noon.

The food given men of the Manchester units is an improvement over other years, due, no doubt, to the fine mess fund accumulated last winter from the National Guard basketball games and the reduction in cost of food over last year.

NEW EQUIPMENT AT TRADE SCHOOL

Director John G. Echnaman of the State Trade School reported today the acquisition of new textile testing equipment from the Middletown State School which now makes the local trade school one of the best equipped schools in the United States in this respect.

Included among the testing instruments now in use at the trade school are the following: single yarn tensile strength tester, cloth tensile strength tester, Emerson conditioning oven and a Bayer conditioning oven for use in enabling operators to determine the moisture content in any kind of fabric or fiber.

Other apparatus in addition to the new testers the school is supplied with other types of textile testing and weighing equipment such as new chemical testing silks and all kinds of yarn sising instruments.

By reason of this standard and complete line of textile machinery and equipment for manufacture and

40 ACRE TOBACCO FARM AUCTIONED FOR $2,475

The so-called Nevers farm in Wapping, recently owned by the Woodland Tobacco Company, and sold by a court order, was yesterday "knocked down" at an auction conducted by Robert M. Field and Son to John J. Dwarickis of Waterbury who bid $2,475 for the farm.

It was one of the lowest prices for a farm sold in Wapping in many years as there was a house, barn and tobacco shed in good condition and 40 acres of land that went with the sale.

It has been used as a tobacco farm.
