DISCUSS WAR DEBTS, IS BORAH'S DEMAND

Says Economic Parley Will Be a Failure Unless Most Important Issues Are Debated By Nations.

Minneapolis, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Senator William E. Borah says he believes the government's insistence on barring reparations and war debts from the proposed international economic conference will be certain to retard world recovery from its business slump.

Recently, the chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee declared for opening up every question the ancestry of which goes back to the World War. The Senator spoke at the University of Minnesota last night.

Borah likened elimination of the two questions with presentation of a "Hamletless Hamlet," and then outlined the terms of a trade proposal cancelling all debts owing the United States in return for a permanent policy of disarmament by European nations.

Striking at limitation of conference subject matter, Borah said existing international problems cannot be solved "by piecemeal work."

For Firm Position

"I cannot agree that the United States should be in part of the time and out part of the time," he said. "I prefer seeing the United States take a firm position and then go boldly forth to its task."

"The conference should include a study of the gold standard. What is it that has put it in part of the time and out part of the time? It is reparations and debts."

"I will be glad to take part and see the United States take part in any world conference on these vital questions and will trust the representatives of our country to protect its interests from start to finish," the Senator said.

Odd Conference

"But now it is said that we must have an economic conference but not discuss war debts and reparations. How would you like to attend a playing of Hamlet with Hamlet left out? I cannot see a nation of employment except through solution of the great problems arising out of the war."

Senator Borah called attention to figures he said had been given. He said that Europe has more than 4,500,000 men in its standing armies. Replying to a question, he said that

LAMONT QUITS COMMERCE DEPT., CHAPIN NAMED

Detroit Motor Car Magnate Intends To Sell His Optimism To America In His New Position.

Washington, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Roy D. Chapin, of Detroit, a business man undaunted by trade barriers and cheered by recent developments, is going to take over the huge task that is trying harder than ever to help American manufacturers to sell their goods. Next week he will succeed Secretary of Commerce Robert Patterson Lamont, whose resignation President Hoover accepted with "regret" because he felt the Cabinet member ought to be allowed to go to work for himself.

When the Hudson Motor Car magnate takes over the helm he will find aides who have much the same optimistic opinion—and who are ready to go on with any sales campaign he proposes.

Mr. Hoover said Lamont recently had occupied his post, at a "great sacrifice."

Exactly what Mr. Lamont's future plans are or what he intends to do was not announced. He was out of town when the President accepted his resignation.

"DEPRESSION AT END"

Detroit, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Roy D. Chapin, always primarily a salesman and always an optimist, intends to sell his optimism to America in his new position as secretary of commerce.

Mr. Chapin, on his return here from Washington, where he accepted the appointment to the Cabinet yesterday, declared that there is no doubt that the "depression has run its course" and that "the job now is to get the country on its feet."

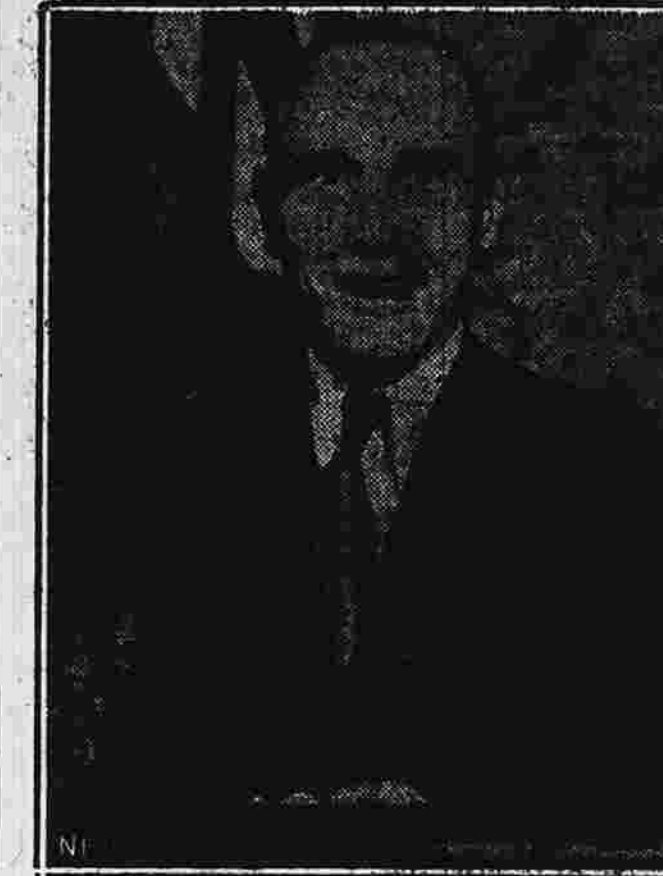

While giving no details as to his program in the National administration, Mr. Chapin made it plain that he will work toward bringing about an improvement in commodity and general prices which will make business profitable.

Uplifts His Come

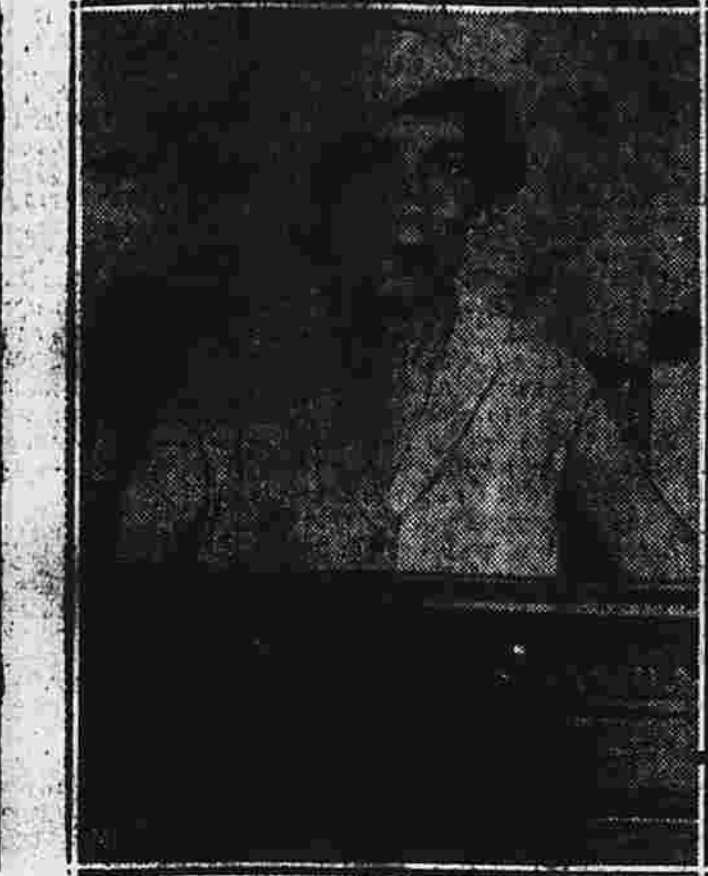

"There can be little dispute that today there is a general feeling of optimism in the air," he said. "It appears that the depression has run its course, and the upturn has come. There is no doubt that the United States has a large volume of buying power lying unused, held back by public caution. Buyers have been afraid to spend their money. The job is to unleash the buying power."

"The President told me that he felt enough power has been given the administration and its subdivi-

GOV. ROOSEVELT'S PLAN TO REGULATE UTILITIES

Makes Four Specific Recommendations — Publicity Must Be Given To All Dealings, He Declares.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt outlined informally today the broad general principles which will serve as guide posts in forming his recommendations for the regulation of the Nation's public utility industry.

The Democratic nominee for president, busily engaged in affairs of state—among them the delicate question of deciding on the Walker ouster case—declined to be formally quoted, but went into the utility question at considerable length. He said he would set forth specific recommendations in a reasonably early campaign speech. He remarked that his principles today are unchanging "from those of my first inauguration."

FOUR CONVICTS KILLED AFTER FLEEING PRISON

Approve Peace Plans But Mobilize Troops

(By Associated Press)

Bolivia and Paraguay gave their approval today to international moves for peaceful settlement of the Chaco controversy, but they were prepared for war.

Dispatches from Paríco, Argentina, a town on the Bolivian border, quoted a Bolivian commander as saying 11,000 troops would be in the Chaco in the next few days. Bolivia now has 6,000 men there he asserted.

In La Paz it was said the government would raise serious objections to several clauses of the note sent by the United States and 18 South American nations yesterday, in which a warning was given that any territorial gains made by armed force would not be recognized.

Paraguay informed the League of Nations it was willing to arbitrate, and Bolivia in its note to the League said it "did not decline" offers of a peaceful settlement.

The Chaco itself was reported quiet.

Three Wounded in Battle With Officers—Prisoners Killed, Trusty Serving As Guard At Prison Camp, Injury Another and Escape On Border Later To Be Surrounded In Woods.

Tucker Prison Farm, Ark., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Four convicts were killed and three wounded in a daring break from a prison camp stockade and a subsequent gun battle between the fugitives and officers today.

Seven convicts, one of whom killed a trusty serving as a guard at the stockade here were surrounded by officers in a wood 25 miles from the prison.

Trusty Blamed

R. G. Jones, a trusty who was blamed by authorities for organizing the fight and killing Elsie Howell, the trusty serving as a guard, was one of those wounded. Jones was also blamed for wounding Cecil Allen, another trusty serving as a guard.

Howell, a crack rifle shot, was shot to death when he resisted attempts of the escaping convicts to take his rifle.

Seized the Guns

They seized what guns and ammunition they could carry and dismantled all other firearms at the camp before fleeing on horse.

Allen was struck over the head with a gun and slightly wounded when he sought to kill the escapee.

Early reports from the officers who took part in the gun fight did not state which convicts were killed.

PRICES AS SKYROCKETS ON THE STOCK MARKET

Traders Rush To Ride With Most Vigorous Rallies In Months—Ticker Falls Behind Trades This Morning.

New York, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Prices skyrocketed in a seething stock market today as traders tumbled over themselves to ride with one of the most vigorous rallies in months.

After a strong opening, leading issues lost their gains but fresh buying was supplied in large volume and quotations again raced upward, establishing net advances of $3 to $4 or more in pivotal issues. American Telephone soared to within a few cents of par, $100, closely followed by Standard Oil, the United Chemical, Union Pacific, American Cdn., J. I. Case, U. S. Steel, Santa Fe and others.

The market had to buck intermittent profit-taking but volume was maintained at a high level and the tape at times fell considerably behind transfers on the floor of the Stock Exchange.

The market continued to boll into the afternoon. Volume to noon approximated 3,000,000 shares, the largest turnover for two hours since the season of Saturday, February 13, when about 2,800,000 shares changed hands.

Reaches Par

American Telephone finally reached par selling at that level for the first time since May 11, while U. S.

FLIER PROPOSED SUICIDE TO CLARKE

Miami, Fla., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Mrs. Jessie M. Keith-Miller testified today at the murder trial of Captain W. N. Lancaster that she proposed suicide to Eason Clarke, her fiancé, only a few hours before he was found fatally shot in her home.

Her statement was contradictory to her testimony of yesterday when she said she and Clarke discussed mutual suicide several nights before the shooting but did not mention the subject again.

Her suicide suggestion was made, she said, when Clarke told her, after a conversation with Lancaster, her former fiancé, about his proposed marriage.

She quoted Clarke as saying: "I can't stand it any longer, I'm going crazy."

Awaited Divorce

They had agreed she said in conversation earlier in the evening that it would be necessary to postpone her wedding to Clarke until after Clarke's divorce decree became final.

Under examination by James M. Carson, chief of defense counsel, she described as "highly peculiar" Lancaster's attitude toward her and Clarke when the British flier came hurriedly to Miami from St. Louis on learning Clarke had succeeded him in her affections.

Women in great number in the court room crowd leaned forward eagerly to hear the testimony of the diminutive aviatrix. Extra seats were placed in the room to accommodate the crowd, but many failed to gain admission.

Mrs. Keith-Miller elaborated on cross examination on her earlier testimony regarding the arrest of Lancaster from St. Louis the day before the shooting and the quarrel of the two men over her at the dinner table that night.

"After Bill went up to his room, he read his mail and then I sat down stairs talking," she continued.

"We were dependent about our marriage plans and the whole situation. Then I made a faint suggestion. I said 'I wish we could get it all'."

Locked Her Door

Then she told of Lancaster and Clarke retiring to their room and she went to her room in compliance with a request from Clarke, she said she locked her door.

"I went to my room and got into bed. Clarke came to my door and asked me to get out of Johnston. There was still some grumbling, but for the most part the attitude of the man has undergone a decided change."

The departing parties formed in the room at Camp McClintock and reached the jail through a narrow passage through winding streets.

FARM BOARD ACTS TO KEEP UP PRICES

Durham, N. H., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Carl Williams of the Federal Farm Board today said the board, engaged in the stabilization of the cotton market, expected to dispose of 800,000 bales of cotton during the coming fiscal year with the same absence of price disturbance that marked its sale of wheat.

Mr. Williams said the Federal Farm Board is confident it will stabilize cotton prices on the way to a satisfactory conclusion.

He said the board had reduced its holdings of wheat from 287,000,000 bushels to less than 26,000,000 bushels, "without a ripple" in the markets of the world.

"The same procedure" he said "will come into being with cotton this fiscal year with a little disturbance as was the case with wheat."

Aim of Board

Washington, Aug. 4.—(AP)—The farm board is attempting to dispose of the cotton held by the Cotton Stabilization Corporation in the largest extent possible, without upsetting prices.

The corporation controls 1,300,000 bales, of which 800,000 is to be turned over to the Commerce department in cloth for the navy. It is planned to sell 600,000 bales before next August, leaving 150,000 on hand at that time.

The board hopes that much of the 650,000 bales will be sold through the Reconstruction Corporation as provided by Congress in the relief bill.

PHYSICIAN SCORES NON-SERVICE AID

Says 75 P. C. of Veterans in Hospitals Were Not Injured in War.

Kansas City, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Representatives of the medical profession attacked government hospitalization for war veterans suffering non-service disabilities before the Shannon House committee today.

"It is difficult for physicians to reconcile a wartime resolve to support every form of assistance to soldiers who were sick or injured, with the present demand for free professional care of disease or injury that never originated nor depended upon any war service," Dr. E. H. Skinner of Kansas City testified.

"Why should they receive medical and surgical care for anything," he asked. "They pay all other expenses of life. Why penalize the medical profession with this free care?"

"Why not provide free groceries, free homes, free automobiles? This is unfair competition with the peaceful pursuit of the private practice of medicine."

A Million Rightly

Dr. Skinner, representing the Jackson County Medical Society, pointed out there are nearly 4,000,000 veterans eligible for hospital care which the veterans' administration provides whether "back" or "front" service is shown.

Legislation which has thrown upon the public a tremendous burden of taxation was charged by the witness to "vote seeking politicians."

Quitting From Service

Dr. Skinner from figures compiled by the National Economy League, Dr. Skinner testified that 75 per cent of veterans under hospital care by the government in 1931 suffered disabilities which did not arise from any service. HALF the hospitalized veterans are receiving non-service disabilities appropriation of one million dollars.

Mr. Darrow is 75.

WETS AND DRIES WONDER WHAT PRESIDENT WILL SAY ON PROHIBITION.

Washington, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Organized wets and dries look for President Hoover's acceptance speech a week hence to complete the evidence needed for their 1933 campaign plan to repeal the 1919 agreement to run again largely will conclude the Republican course outlined by the Chicago platform—just as Democratic repeal and modification promises have been elaborated by Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt.

With first drafts of Mr. Hoover's speech completed, and closely guarded—some contend he will confine his remarks to an acknowledgment of the Republican plank which declares for submission of repeal in a way intended to prevent the return of the saloon and retain Federal control of the liquor traffic.

Others hold the President will discuss the issue at length, defining in detail his own views on the prohibition problem.

But from one outstanding prohibition leader today—Dr. Edwin C. Dinwiddie, executive secretary of the prohibition board of strategy, came the remark:

"Some of us don't think it will change the picture much."

Dinwiddie did not elaborate this statement, but he already has said he personally will support the President.

MILITIA RESCUES BESIEGED MINERS

Union Pickets Flee As National Guards With Machine Guns Reach Scene.

Terre Haute, Ind., Aug. 4.—(AP)—The strike of the Dixie Bee coal mine was raised by the armed forces of the state of Indiana today, and 65 besieged miners were freed.

A union picket line, whose sniping held the "non-union men prisoners for two days, faded into the night as 800 National Guardsmen, heavily armed, marched to the mine.

Four wounded miners, without medical attention since Tuesday afternoon, when they fought a pitched battle with the pickets, were brought to a Terre Haute hospital.

The picket line, its strength variously estimated at from 500 to 2,000 men, departed as a detachment of 250 Guardsmen rushed to the mine at midnight to prevent the strike.

One of the workmen was struck by four bullets.

In Nick of Time

The non-union workmen said they believed arrival of six National Guard planes late yesterday saved their lives. Pickets appeared to be preparing to burn the mine, they said, when the first plane swooped over the battle line.

The planes were the advance guard of the infantry companies ordered here by Governor Harry G. Leslie after repeated requests from Sheriff Joe Dreher, whose force of deputies was helpless to combat the well-armed picket line.

Scared the Picket

After an order to bomb the picket positions with tear gas was countermanded soon after it was issued last night, the pilots maintained constant patrol over the area.

The surveillance, the besieged miners believed, covered the pickets and ended the bloodiest fight in recent Indiana mine labor disputes.

Not a picket was to be found when the 800 Guardsmen arrived at the mine this morning. They searched surrounding thickets for any lurking snipers, then took positions protecting the mine property.

Wounded Cared For

The wounded who were brought to Terre Haute were Gerald Gault, 38, Sullivan, shot twice in the right leg and twice in the right hand; John Fullman, 31, Terre Haute, bullet wound in the right side; Elmer Bedwell, 26, Sullivan, shot in the left arm; and Glenn Bradman, 31, Sullivan.

STATE COPS HUNT FOR AUTO BANDITS

One Caught But Other Escapes After Gun Battle With Thomaston Police.

Torrington, Aug. 4.—(AP)—City and State police today continued their search for Charles Krawchalski, 26, who with Frank Gallitello, 26, engaged in a gun battle with Police Officer James E. Ryan of Thomaston in Northfield last night when Ryan pursued them after they had stolen an automobile belonging to the Rev. Otto Seldenstuecker, pastor of St. Paul's German Lutheran church here. Gallitello was arrested when the stolen machine was abandoned in Northfield but Krawchalski escaped into the woods.

In City Court here this morning Gallitello was charged with theft of an automobile and possession of a dangerous weapon. He was fined $500 bonds and his case continued until Friday. He has admitted that Krawchalski was his companion in last night's escapade, according to the police.

News Is Flashing

Immediately after Gallitello and Krawchalski took the car from the Seldenstuecker garage, Torrington police were notified and flashed the news to police of surrounding towns. Officer Ryan spotted the car in Thomaston and gave chase. One of the pair opened fire on the policeman, who returned the shots. After a thrilling chase the pair abandoned the machine. Gallitello was soon captured but his companion escaped.

Krawchalski may have taken another car shortly after abandoning the Seldenstuecker auto. Mrs. Russell Andrews of Litchfield reported today that her car, a popular make sedan, license No. MEK 510, was stolen about midnight last night. It is possible that Krawchalski made his way through the woods from Northfield to the Litchfield road and took the Andrews machine.

BONUS MARCHERS QUIT JOHNSTOWN

Trains Carry Away Tattered Veterans To States West and Southwest.

Johnstown, Pa., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Shouting "goodbye" and "so long," a second trainload of bonus marchers left today in an "evacuation special" for the west and southwest.

About 1,000 men and a few women and children marched in ragged lines from the aqueduct camp on the outskirts of Johnstown to Fernald yards of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, where the special train was made up.

The first train, with several hundred on board, left last night for Illinois and the west coast.

Railroad officials are speeding preparations to evacuate the others at the camp and they expect the demobilization to be about 75 per cent completed by nightfall.

Are Good Natured

The veterans seemed good-natured and willing to get out of Johnstown. There was still some grumbling, but for the most part the attitude of the men has undergone a decided change.

The departing parties formed in the room at Camp McClintock and reached the jail through a narrow passage through winding streets.

HITLER, VON PAPAN WILL CLASH SOON

German Chancellor Determined To Stop Further Rioting Started By Nazis.

Berlin, Aug. 4.—(AP)—The prospect of a serious break between Chancellor von Papen's government and Adolf Hitler, National Socialist leader over the recent bloody riots in Germany was intimated in the Rightist press today.

This was coupled with evidence that Hitler was spreading his organizational efforts into other European countries and planning a powerful Nordic European alliance.

The ultra-Rightist Boersen-Zeitung led the government victory.

As a result of Hitler's international negotiations Nazi parties, fashioned after his, have been founded already in Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Holland.

His Program

Reports of his enemies indicate the Nazis are laying the foundation of a future foreign policy intended to result in a bloc of racially related nations to pursue a common policy against the Slav and Latin nations.

A Dutch National Socialist Workers Party has been founded in Holland. It is anti-Semitic and has plans directed against international capitalism, trusts and department stores.

Alfred Hungerburg's Nationalist newspaper Lokal Anzeiger, generally well informed on Nazi affairs said Hitler was willing to change governmental responsibility to a new Cabinet but will make his demands high.

RICHARDS KILLED BY A POLICEMAN

Convict Who Broke From "Escape Proof" Jail Was Too Slow On Draw.

New York, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Ralph Richards, the convict whose nimble wrists gave police plenty of grief, lost his life today because he made a false move.

He reached for his hip pocket as Patrolman Rowan Kelly ordered him out of an automobile last night to answer for a $12 robbery. Kelly shot him in the stomach, and he died early today.

Richards, a half brother of Vincent Richards, tennis star, reached the high point of his picturesque career July 16 when he led three other convicts to liberty from Eastview penitentiary. He thwarted the "escape-proof" lock-up mechanism by inserting a leather strip in the lock on his cell so that it would not close but would register as closed on a central indicator.

Long Police Record

He had a long police record, ranging from grand larceny charges to alleged dry law violation, but he escaped prison until he got a year for fighting with a state policeman at Croton in 1928. His end came after Richard Greh of Eighth avenue ran to Policemen Kelly and complained three men had just robbed his apartment of $12, and were fleeing in a car. The policeman caught up with the car as it stopped at a red light.

Richards' companions said they were George Gregory and Anthony Scallie. Richards, defiant to the last, said before he died that he was from Marquette and lived in "a bazaar" at Coney Island.

TREASURY BALANCE

SEEK MAN HIGH UP IN BEER RUNNING CASE

Hartford, Aug. 4. — (AP) — The state attorney's office is seeking the man "higher up" in connection with the arrest of a New Haven youth on a charge of illegal transportation of beer last week. Peter Gunn, 26, of 35 Fair street, New Haven was held as the operator of a truck loaded with about $1,000 worth of allegedly "good" beer after Policeman John J. FUTURES OFF HORSE'S LEG

Frederickton, N. B., Aug. 4. — (AP) — Mrs. Mary Brenau, of Bluebell, thought a neighbor was cutting and hauling more than his share of wood as stipulated in their agreement. She took an axe, walked to the neighbor's horse, and severed its left hind leg. The horse died. The neighbor took action. Mrs. Ganesu has started serving a term of two months in Telkell at Grand Falls.

HILLSTOWN

The harvesting of tobacco has been started in this section. There seems to be a fair crop, though the storms in some sections did slight damage. The damage was not as bad as pictured by some newspapers. It looks as though there would be the best crop harvested in some time.

G ROUTS ITS ENEMY IN MIMIC OFFENSIVE

Local Soldiers Take "Prisoners" in Problem Worked Out North of Niantic Yesterday.

Camp Cross, Niantic, Aug. 4. — (Special) — Company G worked an offensive problem yesterday north of Niantic, and the company, as part of an assault battalion, routed the enemy and captured many prisoners. The men took hold of the problem very well and conducted themselves like seasoned soldiers.

William Fraiser and Raymond Smith were camp visitors Tuesday. Initiation of Company G recruits has not taken place as yet, but will undoubtedly in the near future. The new men are wondering just what is to take place and are anxious to have the order over to relieve them of their worries.

Private C. E. Vennart has not been able to soldier since he arrived in camp due to a carbuncle. The instant he received of the regimental surgeon is helping him greatly. No doubt he will be able to take his place in the company soon.

A few of the men are suffering from foot blisters. It is expected that this trouble will soon disappear when they learn to take care of their feet after hiking.

Private Joseph Kolkojed has been appointed the Captain's orderly and is proving an excellent choice.

At 7:15 today the company rolled packs and left Niantic on an overnight marcher in the vicinity of Stone's Ranch. The company will bivouac at the ranch and will return to Camp Cross on Friday.

Marcel Jobert of Manchester and Paul Maurice of Baltic were camp visitors yesterday.

The Howitzer Company held their initiation of recruits Tuesday evening. The boys were seated in an electric chair and were given the "third degree" previous to a shock. Practically the entire battalion witnessed the Howitzer ceremony.

FASTER MAIL SERVICE

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 4. — (AP) — Possibilities of even greater rapidity in the transportation of trans-Atlantic mails than the record established yesterday formed the subject of comment today among delegates of the Irish Free State to the Imperial conference here. A postal agreement embracing Canada, the Free State and Great Britain was regarded as one of the possibilities of the future.

Twelve hours could be chipped off the three days and 32 hours record between London and Montreal, making the postal service practically a matter of three days and a half, if arrangements could be made to fly the mails between London and Coburg and providing that steamship would resume calling at that southern Irish port.

"This would be a great step forward for all concerned," a member of the delegation said today. "It would certainly facilitate business between London and Montreal, and the United Kingdom, and it would also mean a great deal for trade between Canada and Ireland."

Derby, Aug. 4. — (AP) — Damage estimated at thousands of dollars was caused today when fire burned the interior of the Veteran's Memorial Home, a stone structure with slate roof, located at the corner of Atwater and Seymour avenues. Two New York tourists who were driving the Seymour avenue about 11:15 o'clock today, forenoon noticed smoke coming from the building. They notified a pedestrian who turned in a double alarm.

Three fire companies responded to the call and their arrival found volumes of smoke pouring from the main entrance. Hartford, as a Fred Kelly entered the building and succeeded in saving the equipment of the American Legion Drum Corps but at their other property and that of the organizations who have their headquarters at the Memorial Home was destroyed by smoke and water.

The cause of the fire was unknown.

GUARDS CELEBRATE

New London, Aug. 4. — (AP) — The 124th birthday of the Coast Guard was celebrated here today amid a spirit of festivity and splendor.

Coast Guard and Navy craft, the latter vessels located at the Submarine Base, were gaily bedecked in flags and pennants and everywhere along the waterfront a holiday scene prevailed.

Captain Robert B. Adams, engineer in chief of the Coast Guard, represented Admiral Harry G. Hamble, commander of the service, who was unable to attend the celebration.

Following a program of boat racing, Captain Adams awarded cash prizes to the destroyer Conyngham for the greatest improvement in engineering for the year and the gunner's trophy and cash prizes to the destroyer Shaw for excellence in gunnery.

BRIDE IS DYING

Greenwich, Aug. 4. — (AP) — Mrs. Mary Reperio, 20, a bride of two months, was stabbed in the left side today allegedly by her husband, Peter Reperio.

At Greenwich hospital her condition was described as serious. He was held on a charge of assault in $500 bond.

ABOUT TOWN

Autobombers owned by Charles Schaub, former restaurant keeper in Manchester, and Victor Piquard of 333 Oak street, figured in an accident at the intersection of Main and Birch streets at 2:30 this afternoon.

Mr. Schaub was driving a south side Main street and was making a left hand turn into Birch street as the automobile driven by Piquard, headed north, came along. The Schaub car had nearly cleared the corner when it was struck on the rear left fender, landing the fender and possibly springing an axle. Piquard's car suffered a twisted axle and the loss of a tire. The accident was investigated by Patrolman Martin. Both cars were without passengers other than the drivers and they were uninjured.

One of the largest classes for motor vehicle operator examination was on hand at the police station this morning. Examination started at 9 o'clock when several applicants still waiting for examination at 2:30 this afternoon.

ACCUSES CHINESE CHIEF OF BACKING BANDITS

Tokyo, Aug. 4. — (AP) — Chang Hsiao-Liang, Chinese war Lord, was accused in a statement issued by the war office today of instigating the recent wave of banditry in south Manchuria.

"Chang Hsiao-Liang continues fomenting these plots and disorders," said the statement, "grave consequences may develop resulting in the ruin of Chang's faction. The present situation in south Manchuria, where soldier bandits are rampant, closely resembles the situation west of the Liao river last autumn."

The last sentence was accepted as a reference to conditions which preceded the Japanese offensive ending the capture of Chinchow.

The statement charged Chang Hsiao-Liang with organizing anti-Japanese volunteers, supplying them with funds, and sending his own officers to lead the volunteers against the Japanese.

Two Japanese cruisers and several destroyers are lying off Yingkow, and the army is concentrating aircraft for use against the guerrillas. Already the planes have bombed several bandit camps and the naval craft have fired on camps inland from Yingkow.

ROCKY HILL PURCHASE IS CALLED A RACKET

Bridgeport, Aug. 4. — (AP) — Branding the purchase of the site Rocky Hill, near Hartford, as a "racket," Colonel Henry J. Sealey asserted in a statement today he had received assurances from Governor W. L. Cross that if any soldiers home was built on the site of the United States government would provide the money for it and that the governor was convinced that Legislature would "go slow" on any project for the state to provide the money.

Colonel Sealey, past adjutant general of the G. A. R., present chairman of the executive committee of the Connecticut department of the G. A. R. quoted the late ex-Chief Justice George W. W. Wether's calling the Rocky Hill site a "white elephant" that ought to be converted into a state park to be known as "White Elephant Park."

"When additional soldiers' homes are needed," said Colonel Sealey, "Rhode Island and Connecticut are well built. There and it is up to the people of Connecticut to curb the Rocky Hill racket. I want to assure the leaders of the Republican Party that we have put together an organization on the state of Connecticut that will see to it that every voter in Connecticut knows all of the facts in the case."

CLAIMS CONNECTICUT FOR GOV. ROOSEVELT

New York, Aug. 4. — (AP) — Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., back from New England where he interviewed 125 newspaper editors and publishers, said today his survey indicated Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt would carry four New England states this fall.

Vanderbilt announced the result of his survey at Democratic National headquarters where he came to report on his investigation, undertaken voluntarily in the interests of Governor Roosevelt and with the knowledge of Roosevelt campaign leaders.

"From the information given me," he said, "I say Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island and New Hampshire will all go Democratic. It looks as though he had a fifty-fifty chance in Vermont, and he might even carry Maine."

The support of Governor Joseph B. Ely of Massachusetts is helping Governor Roosevelt a lot of course.

Vanderbilt will leave for Washington tonight. Later in the week he will embark on a similar trip through the middlewest, interviewing newspaper editors and publishers.

RASKOB ON VISIT TO GOV. ROOSEVELT

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 4. — (AP) — John J. Raskob, former chairman of the Democratic National committee, Vincent Astor and George Roosevelt, a shipping executive, had luncheon today with Governor Roosevelt, the Democratic presidential candidate.

"I won't talk politics," Raskob observed when asked, "Have you ever personally congratulated Roosevelt on his nomination?"

The former party chief brushed by reporters and camera men who met him at the station. He quickly entered an official car, refusing to permit photographers to make a picture.

"I'm out of the picture now," was Raskob's answer to the camera men.

The governor's luncheon guests were met by Guernsey Cross, secretary to Mr. Roosevelt.

It was understood that Roosevelt talked party finances with both Raskob and Astor. Astor was a supporter of former Governor Smith in 1928 and a contributor to the campaign fund.

RECONSTRUCTION CORP. TO REBUILD

Washington, Aug. 4. — (AP) — The Reconstruction Corporation today refused to extend any destination of relief aid to Pennsylvania at this time.

Governor Pinchot and other state officials had requested a loan of $10,000,000 and said they would ask later for another $10,000,000.

Chairman Pomeroy in a brief statement said the Reconstruction Corporation had contributed one-tenth of the total income of the Federal government, amounting in round numbers to $275,000,000.

"It is our belief," said a statement by Pomeroy, "that no project showing we should extend some relief to the state of Pennsylvania, but it must be borne in mind that we have funds entrusted to our board which are to be expended not in lieu of state or local relief but to supplement thereto if, when, and as necessary."

"After a full hearing we feel persuaded that the Legislature of Pennsylvania and its several political subdivisions have not done their full duty with respect to furnishing funds for relief purposes."

"We shall defer action with regard to relief for Pennsylvania until we know what the Legislature will do for the relief of its own people."

Nayatt, R. I., Aug. 4. — (AP) — Bobby Grant, youthful Connecticut amateur golf champion, was leading Dan Aherm, Williamsport stylist, 4 up at the end of 18 holes in their 96-hole final match for the New England amateur golf championship at the Rhode Island Country Club's 18-hole.

Grant going around in 74, was brilliant on the greens, requiring only 29 putts for the 18 holes. He had seven one-putt greens, the longest being a 30-foot one for a birdie 4 at the long eighth. Aherm had only 30 putts himself, but the numerous traps caused him no end of difficulty over the testing layout.

For example in yesterday's two matches Aherm twice gawrered eagle 8's on the long eighth. Today he one-putted for a 5 and Grant went ahead. Aherm at the sixth, and remained in front for the remainder of the first half of the journey.

The cards for the morning round:

Aherm: Out—485 484 448-52	Grant: Out—485 485 424-50

LATEST STOCKS

New York, Aug. 4. — (AP) — The bull market in stocks rolled up further impressive advances in the stock market today, before the pressure of profit taking became great enough to bring a substantial setback.

Price averages at the peak of the rally advanced an appreciation in quoted values since the lows of a few weeks ago of about 50 percent, unprecedented in recent market history for a like period of time, so that profit taking was not surprising.

Extreme gains of 2 to 6 points in many issues were about out in half, as the list slipped off after the middle of the day.

Allied Chemical shot up about 6 points, then lost about half. A 4-point rise carried American Telephone across par, or about 20 points above the year's low, but it slipped off a couple of points from the top. U. S. Steel lost most of its extreme gains of more than 2 standard of N. J. rose 3 points to 33 1/2, the highest price of 1932, before the afternoon sell off. Miscellaneous issues up 2 or 3 points at the top included Santa Fe, Union Pacific, Dupont, Frig., and Wm. Wrigley Works.

International Harvester, American Can, American Tobacco, Eastman, Westinghouse Electric, and others.

The sweeping advance in shares since early July has surpassed even the expectations of the bulls, and has occasioned many a faint hope, fostered by efforts of the bears to fight the rise. Many skeptical traders, reading second quarter earnings statements showing many prominent corporations running far into the red, were unable to foresee anything in the way of a sustained rally, regarding the market's technical position. What took them off guard more than anything else, apparently, was the steady demand for American stocks which came from abroad, after the Lausanne agreement, and the end of the red upon America's monetary gold stock. The market, however, has been pushed up by successive waves of short covering, almost from the start. Brokers' loan figures, nevertheless, have indicated a substantial amount of good buying for cash.

The recent phase of the advance have been helped by growing bullishness on commodities, notably wheat. A number of miscellaneous staples have been creeping higher. Today saw good gains in such items as rubber, lead, and in the Chicago market, butter and eggs. Copper was a little firmer, quoted 5 cent higher at 5 1/2 cents a pound in the domestic market, which of course is still far below the average production costs. Petroleum and gasoline constitute one line that has returned to a level permitting producers and refiners to show profits once more, which has been a notable fact of Standard Oil Co. and some other leading oil shares have been able to register new high prices for the year.

Around its peak levels of today, the market had recovered roughly half of its extreme loss in the fact phase of liquidation of the March-June period. Previous rebounds in the bear market have been halted at about this level on the way back, so chart readers will anxiously watch the trend over the next week or two to see if this recovery will be different.

"After a full hearing we feel persuaded that the Legislature of Pennsylvania and its several political subdivisions have not done their full duty with respect to furnishing funds for relief purposes."

"We shall defer action with regard to relief for Pennsylvania until we know what the Legislature will do for the relief of its own people."

RECONSTRUCTION CORP. TO REBUILD

Washington, Aug. 4. — (AP) — The Reconstruction Corporation today refused to extend any destination of relief aid to Pennsylvania at this time.

Governor Pinchot and other state officials had requested a loan of $10,000,000 and said they would ask later for another $10,000,000.

Chairman Pomeroy in a brief statement said the Reconstruction Corporation had contributed one-tenth of the total income of the Federal government, amounting in round numbers to $275,000,000.

"It is our belief," said a statement by Pomeroy, "that no project showing we should extend some relief to the state of Pennsylvania, but it must be borne in mind that we have funds entrusted to our board which are to be expended not in lieu of state or local relief but to supplement thereto if, when, and as necessary."

plans to bring about a distinct improvement in conditions in the country.

President's Work He asked me to come to Washington and be a part of his organization endeavoring to utilize the facilities that have been placed at his disposal to bring back commodity prices and help raise the price level generally. I feel if that occurs, buying will start, confidence will return throughout the land and we will be on the road to better days.

While other planners in the automobile industry devoted much attention to mass production, Mr. Chapin always has emphasized the necessity of mass distribution, with full use made of the nation's buying power.

Mr. Chapin said he will return to Washington next week, but will await Secretary Lamont's convenience in relieving him.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 4.

"SUCCESS"

Some agitator or other having said something about some movement or other to "take the government away from the moneyed powers, by legal means and return it to the common people," a citizen writing in the New York Times quite reasonably asks for a definition, in this sense, of "the common people."

With his general argument we have no present concern. What interests us is the writer's assumption that the agitator probably meant "the unsuccessful as against the successful."

CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE

PEACHES.

The peach is one of the finest of the stone fruits, but it is a great nuisance to men that the peach does not keep as well as the apple. It is also not so easily raised because the tender blossoms do not stand the freezing to which they are often subjected, even in the temperate zones. The peach is a native of warm countries, having probably originated in Persia.

PEACHES.

There are over five hundred varieties of peaches in America but in general there are two kinds of peaches, the free stone in which the pulp readily separates from the stone, and the cling stone in which the pulp adheres to the stone. The commercial canner uses mostly the free stone peach which is peeled and pitted before canning. Varying amounts of sugar are added, according to the grade of peach and its own natural sugar content. The difference in the grades of canned peaches depends almost wholly upon the amount of sugar which is added. The highest priced canned peaches being large and perfectly formed, while the cheaper grades are from equally as wholesome fruit but either smaller, oddly shaped, or so well ripened that the shape is not easily retained during the canning process. The richest flavored canned peaches are those which are very ripe and turn practically into a sauce while being canned. These are sold to bakers to be used in pies. The more expensive canned peaches are perfectly formed and put up in as high as 40 per cent solution of cane syrup.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

(Detached Knees) Question: Miss C. E. writes: "My knees are very much deformed. I have taken the matter up with an orthopedic surgeon and he told me that if my legs were placed in a plaster cast for three months he could straighten them at least fifty per cent. As I am nineteen years old, I am kind of doubtful as to whether my bones could be reset. However, my condition is causing me much unhappiness, and your opinion would be appreciated."

EARTH OVER FORTY?

American scientists are in Finland, where the geological formations lend themselves particularly well to the subject, endeavoring to get a more accurate idea than any hitherto formed of the actual age of the earth. They expect to be able to convince themselves, if nobody else, that Lord Kelvin's estimated 27,000,000 years as the elapsed time of the sphere's duration is too small by three or four times and that the live oaks are therefore entitled to as long whiskers as they can support.

R. E. AND MOTORS

One of the most baffling puzzles confronting the country in its efforts at economic rehabilitation is the problem of the railroads. Constituting the backbone of the transportation system and recognized in every quarter as a vital element in the nation's scheme of production and distribution, the railroads have been in trouble for years, since long before the collapse of the prosperity bubble. There has been no government administration in a long time that did not in some way recognize the necessity of return in the railroad situation to the end of insuring the solvency and the serviceability of the country's transport.

utterly and completely useless and it is hopeless to try to do anything with or for him. If the world is actually superannuated its only chance, it would seem, would lie in nobody finding it out.

STILL CHARGING UP

Almost any one might be expected to conclude that the United States had taken a sufficient financial trimming in its European war experiences, what with the huge sums of money we paid for the privilege of saving the allies from defeat to say nothing of several billions in loans to them that we are never going to see again. Not so certain British Navy officers, have already received a grant of $20,000 for the use of their inventions but they would like some more, say $2 a mine for each of the 125,000 put down by the American Navy.

Yet at the very time when the government is coming to the relief of the roads with huge loans it is also contributing to the building of more and better highways so that the automobile competition for the business of the railroads may become more and more acute.

UNCLE SAM'S NEW TAXES

WHERE THEY HIT YOU —AND HOW!

PING-PONG TO POLO—U. S. HAS TAX FOR SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

Editor's Note: This is the ninth of 20 daily articles explaining the new federal taxes.

By ROBERT TALLEY
NEA Service Writer
(Copyright 1932, By NEA Service)

If you play golf, tennis, baseball, football, checkers, chess, billiards, polo or even shoot dice, there's a tax in it for Uncle Sam.

Likewise, it's all the same if you prefer to go canoeing or fishing, shoot with bow and arrow, box with a heavyweight or play ping-pong.

For on sporting goods of every sort (except those used in games by children, and those that constitute playground and gymnasium equipment) there is a 10 per cent federal tax under the new revenue bill designed to balance the federal budget. Experts estimate it will yield $5,000,000.

This, like many others, is a tax placed on the sale price of the manufacturer or importer. In most cases, it is passed along to the consumer—the retail price being quietly raised to cover the tax. In other cases, the tax is appended to the retail price as such. In certain small items it is absorbed by the dealer.

Thus, when a golfer buys a new 75-cent ball to replace the one he has lost in the tall grass, Uncle Sam gets a tax equal to 10 per cent of the manufacturer's sale price, though the retailer may collect 7-1/2 cents. Likewise, on a 50-cent tennis ball.

The 10 per cent tax extends to sporting goods and equipment of almost every kind—from canoe paddles to football shoes. Even dice and roulette wheels are specifically mentioned in the new law, but playing cards are exempt since they bear a stamp tax already.

Wearing apparel of general use which also can be used in sports and games are not taxable unless sold as part of a uniform. Among such articles are bathing suits, sweaters, trunks, plain rubber-soled shoes, hose, etc. For example, a plain bathing suit is not subject to tax; but if it bears a team or club emblem it is classed as a uniform and taxed.

Part of the estimated $5,000,000 yield from sporting goods is to come from cameras. The latter are taxed at 10 per cent. There is no tax on films. Movie cameras come under the tax, but movie projectors are exempt.

NEXT: Charitable entertainments, benefit games, etc.

QUOTATIONS

The Republicans have won only through organization and the bunk that Republicanism is synonymous with prosperity. Let's organize now and start from scratch. They (the Republicans) will fall before they reach the tape.

R. E. AND MOTORS

One of the most baffling puzzles confronting the country in its efforts at economic rehabilitation is the problem of the railroads. Constituting the backbone of the transportation system and recognized in every quarter as a vital element in the nation's scheme of production and distribution, the railroads have been in trouble for years, since long before the collapse of the prosperity bubble. There has been no government administration in a long time that did not in some way recognize the necessity of return in the railroad situation to the end of insuring the solvency and the serviceability of the country's transport.

PEACHES.

The peach is one of the finest of the stone fruits, but it is a great nuisance to men that the peach does not keep as well as the apple. It is also not so easily raised because the tender blossoms do not stand the freezing to which they are often subjected, even in the temperate zones. The peach is a native of warm countries, having probably originated in Persia.

There are over five hundred varieties of peaches in America but in general there are two kinds of peaches, the free stone in which the pulp readily separates from the stone, and the cling stone in which the pulp adheres to the stone. The commercial canner uses mostly the free stone peach which is peeled and pitted before canning. Varying amounts of sugar are added, according to the grade of peach and its own natural sugar content. The difference in the grades of canned peaches depends almost wholly upon the amount of sugar which is added. The highest priced canned peaches being large and perfectly formed, while the cheaper grades are from equally as wholesome fruit but either smaller, oddly shaped, or so well ripened that the shape is not easily retained during the canning process. The richest flavored canned peaches are those which are very ripe and turn practically into a sauce while being canned. These are sold to bakers to be used in pies. The more expensive canned peaches are perfectly formed and put up in as high as 40 per cent solution of cane syrup.

(Detached Knees) Question: Miss C. E. writes: "My knees are very much deformed. I have taken the matter up with an orthopedic surgeon and he told me that if my legs were placed in a plaster cast for three months he could straighten them at least fifty per cent. As I am nineteen years old, I am kind of doubtful as to whether my bones could be reset. However, my condition is causing me much unhappiness, and your opinion would be appreciated."

DO YOU KNOW THAT—

Canada produces 88 per cent of the world's supply of asbestos. Sediment so discolors the Amazon river that its waters can be detected for more than 200 miles out at sea. The sediment runs the course of the river, and the waters are clear only in the tributary streams.

EARTH OVER FORTY?

American scientists are in Finland, where the geological formations lend themselves particularly well to the subject, endeavoring to get a more accurate idea than any hitherto formed of the actual age of the earth. They expect to be able to convince themselves, if nobody else, that Lord Kelvin's estimated 27,000,000 years as the elapsed time of the sphere's duration is too small by three or four times and that the live oaks are therefore entitled to as long whiskers as they can support.

MARVELOUS MANHATTAN

By WILLIAM GAINES

New York—Downtown Manhattan is sparsely spotted with frame houses, survivors of perhaps a century ago, shabby veterans in the ranks of identical brick.

Most of them are three-story, flat-roofed boxes, without distinction except the tawny touch of age upon their boards. Most of them, too, stand on corners, in blocks where the rest of the structures carry out the uniform line of an age of brick.

Casual inquiries beg: Little information about the history of the frame houses, from their present occupants of the neighbors. Whether the informant has been around only a few weeks or twenty years, the answer is the same: "The houses have just 'been there,' as they are, seldom getting so much as a new coat of paint.

They were built to stand against time, even though they were made of wood.

There is the box at the corner of Seventh and Twenty-ninth street, for example. Now there is a printing shop on the ground floor and there are roomers on the two upper stories. The proprietor heard, somewhere, that the building is 84 years old.

Louis Schrag has been leading the real estate in the neighborhood since twenty-third street was laid out in the days of the city's infancy. He thinks it must be nearer 100 years old.

A block south on Seventh avenue, between the two, the ground is cleared for a gigantic structural steel building development.

But the most interesting thing about all these houses is not their age. It is their sameness. Not them on the east side of the west side, they are duplicate three-story, flat-roofed boxes.

All of which rather weakens the charge, against contemporary city builders—the familiar charge, that they have neglected to give sufficient individuality to the general run of their steel and concrete edifices.

What does a typical Chinatown store window display look like? Well, here's one. Truss of the lot these varieties—Jasmine, Lant, So, Gum, Jam, Co Lung and Soy, Oka, Oan of fried chicken. A variety of small ivory carvings, elaborate neckties and suits. Ditto, things in beds. And countless Chinese.

It may surprise you to learn that the Chinese buy their stockings, as well as the tourists.

Sleepy-town continues: The financial crisis of the west coast has not been as deep as it was in the west coast. What did you expect? It was the west coast that was in a bad way. It was the west coast that was in a bad way. It was the west coast that was in a bad way.

The unhalting confidence of the west coast part of the country is somewhat surprising. It is somewhat surprising that the west coast part of the country is somewhat surprising.

FARMERS MAY GET FINANCIAL AID

Those In This State Should Apply At Land Bank Situated In Springfield.

Hartford, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Connecticut farmers who might desire financial assistance from the United States Department of Agriculture under the relief act to aid them in crop production, should apply at the Springfield Land Bank situated in Springfield.

Originally the crop loans were to be supplied, if granted, by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. C. W. Warburton, director of extension work of the agricultural department in a letter to Mr. Long-eman said farmers in this area having planted their crops, they might have little or no interest in the setting up of a credit corporation.

The agencies created by Congress in addition to local ones were explained by Warburton. In brief the Relief Act authorized setting up of an agricultural credit corporation in each land bank district. The R. F. C. set one up in the Springfield district its funds would be available to Connecticut farmers.

SUNSTROKE CARE REQUIRES AMPLE COLD WATER USE

Dept. of Health Describes Symptoms and First Aid in Summer Time Emergencies.

Caution against overindulgence in strenuous exercise on very hot days, especially by those unaccustomed to it, and advice as to proper emergency treatment in cases of sunstroke which are likely to develop when that caution is not observed were expounded by Sarah R. Addison, director of the Bureau of Public Health Nursing of the State Department of Health, in the department's weekly broadcast last night.

During the dialogue of the broadcast it was explained that Mr. Smithson, paternal head of the department's "Smithson Family" after two hours of baseball beneath a broiling sun had collapsed from sunstroke. He was unconscious, his face red, the pupils of his eyes large and his skin very hot and dry with no perspiration (the symptoms of sunstroke as compared with those of heat exhaustion).

Miss Addison, enacting the role of a public health nurse, happened by the picnic grounds just as Smithson, senior, collapsed. She immediately ordered him taken to the cool shade of a nearby tree, had a doctor called and while awaiting his arrival continually bathed his head, hands and arms with ice water. She prohibited the use of alcoholics, suggested as a reviver by a bystander. Her treatment was that typical first aid in such cases. Her patient revived shortly and was turned over to the physician for further care.

The current monthly bulletin of the department explains the symptoms and first aid treatment for heat exhaustion as compared with those of sunstroke as follows: "Heat exhaustion... is evidenced by the patient's becoming greatly depressed and weak but not usually unconscious. The face is pale and covered with clammy sweat. Although this condition is not as dangerous as sunstroke, a doctor should be called. Cold applications should not be used, but every means should be taken to keep the body warm. Stimulants may be given."

SEEK SUNKEN TREASURE

Brunell, Aug. 4.—(AP)—The 18th anniversary of the invasion of Belgium territory by the German army at the beginning of the World War was celebrated throughout Belgium today.

Queer Twists In Day's News

Boston, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Mayor James M. Curley of Boston will carry the Roosevelt banner through the mid-west, north-west, and along the Pacific coast.

Los Angeles—A doctor put Mrs. K. McCain, suffering from cancer, on a plane at Shreveport, La., bound for Los Angeles. When she lifted her from the plane here she smiled and said: "The doctor said I'd never make it—but I'll outlive him yet."

New York—Arthur Sullivan, 9, was knocked off his bicycle, but didn't hurt himself much. His grandmother, Mrs. Clara Mendel, was watching. She died of shock at the sight.

MOVE TO BOLSTER COMMODITY PRICES

New York, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Wall Street was filled with rumor and conjecture today over reports of schemes to bolster commodity prices. These rumors have caused some excitement in speculative quarters, in view of the sweeping rise in the Stock Market. Nevertheless, a considerable element in the financial district views efforts to influence commodity prices with some skepticism.

One report was that the Young committee of industrialists and bankers was working on a plan, in co-operation with the Reconstruction Finance Corp., to establish a huge credit, possibly $50,000,000, to encourage manufacturers to stock up on raw materials at current low prices.

The report was also actively disseminated that a large speculative pool was being formed in the wheat market, to be managed by a prominent Chicago operator. Copper producers were still said to be considering a markup of the domestic price from the current level of 5 1/4 cents a pound, to possibly 7 cents.

NEW JAPANESE ENVOYS

San Francisco, Aug. 4.—(AP)—The Chronicle today said semi-official dispatches from Tokyo to Japanese business leaders here indicated Jotaro Yamamoto, former president of the South Manchurian railway, is slated to succeed Kazuomi Debuschi as ambassador to the United States.

Such an appointment, the paper said, would be the second time in 28 years Japan had broken tradition by selecting a man outside the ranks of professional diplomacy to fill an ambassadorship.

FINALLY GETS CHANCE

Hollywood, Calif., Aug. 4.—(AP)—For two years Lorenda Laycock, 18, worked as a "stand in" for well known actresses at Warner Brothers-First National studio.

A "stand in" takes the place of the star when a set is being lighted and the cameras focused.

Although Miss Laycock served for Ruth Chatterton, Dorothy Mackall, Barbara Stanwyck, Joan Blondell and others, she was unnoticed by executives. Then the other day Darryl Zanuck, production chief, happened to see her for the first time in the studio café, where she had gone for luncheon with a friend.

CURLEY TO TAKE STUMP FOR ROOSEVELT IN WEST

Boston, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Mayor James M. Curley of Boston will carry the Roosevelt banner through the mid-west, north-west, and along the Pacific coast.

He announced his assignment last night on his return from a conference with Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt and James A. Farley, Democratic campaign manager.

"I will probably have to do a lot of flying," Curley said, "to make all the stops."

His speaking schedule includes addresses at Chicago, Milwaukee, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Denver, Salt Lake City, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Seattle, Portland, Oregon, Tacoma, Butte, Cheyenne, and possibly some points in the Dakotas.

The Boston mayor will be in Portland, Oregon, during the national convention of the American Legion, where he is to receive a gold medal in honor of a past convention city.

Curley expected to begin his trip about the first of September meeting Cornelius Vanderbilt IV, in Los Angeles and planning up with him for the remainder of the tour.

He planned to draw up his schedule next week and submit it to Farley for approval.

In answer to queries over rumors that Governor Joseph E. Bay had asked Curley to keep off the stump, the mayor said he had not asked Curley to keep off the stump.

ARREST COMMUNISTS

White Plains, N. Y., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Six persons, including an 18-year-old girl, who, police claim, is one of the leaders, were arrested by police here last night when they broke up an alleged Communist meeting.

Fifty police battled with 100 unemployed men and women, after Chief William Miller refused to allow a street demonstration without a permit.

VETS BREAK CAMP

Waterbury, Md., Aug. 4.—(AP)—The four-day-old "Camp Veterans" was deserted today with only a few tent poles, some of numerous camp fires and a newly cut road remaining on the site of the B. E. F.

With the aid of members of the Maryland State police, the 48 men and women campers moved out late yesterday, some returning to their homes in various parts of the United States and others accepting shelter in nearby communities.

Captain Edward McK. Johnson, in charge of the State police detail, told the campers the camp was to be abandoned.

"Which way are you going?" he asked. "Well, home, I think."

The State police aided the veterans and their families to pack, furnished gasoline for the cars, and sent them on their way. One policeman remained on guard.

BONUS MARCHER HURT

Bris, Pa., Aug. 4.—(AP)—A man named Potter, of 23 Griffin street, Keans, N. H., believed to be a member of the Johnston bonus army, was seriously injured today when he fell from a train. His head, arm and body were hurt.

NEW ITALIAN ENVOY

Rome, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Augusto Rusco, who has served twice in the Italian Embassy at Washington, is expected to become ambassador to the United States in the general diplomatic reshuffle which Premier Mussolini is making. The present ambassador is Nobile Giacomo de Martino.

In 1910 Signor Rusco occupied a relatively minor post in the Tuscan navy and in 1923 he was counselor. Now he is chief adviser to the government on reparations, disarmament and naval limitation with the title of director-general of affairs concerning the League of Nations.

MISSOURI TO ELECT WET U. S. SENATOR

St. Louis, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Missouri will elect a wet United States Senator next November.

Both Bennett C. Clark, who won the Democratic nomination, and Henry W. Klof, selected by the Republicans in Tuesday's primary, are outspoken opponents of prohibition.

Clark, son of the late Champ Clark, Speaker of the House, maintained a plurality of 40,000 or more over his nearest opponent, Charles M. Howell. Clark is a war veteran, was one of the founders of the American Legion at the Paris caucus in 1919. He was making a bid for his first elective public office.

Charles M. Hay, endorsed by the Anti-Saloon League, was running third for Senator in the Democratic race. In his campaign he promised to vote for re submission.

Kiel, former mayor of St. Louis, who advocates immediate modification of the Volstead Act to permit the making of beer, won the Republican Senate nomination by a landslide over his nearest contestant, former Congressman Dewey J. Short. Kiel's total from 2,928 precincts out of 4,195 was 135,502 votes, or 40,979 less than had been received by Clark.

Clark's total from the same number of precincts was 176,481.

USED CAR BUYERS GRAB BARGAINS DESPITE RAIN

Despite very poor weather last night the big used car sale at Schaller's Garage started off in fine shape with a record number of sales. An unexpectedly large number of people were present to look over the cars. Mr. Schaller expressed himself as very well pleased and expects to be very busy the remainder of the week.

$1,000 IN GEMS EXPOSED

Hartford, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Jewelry valued at approximately $1,000 was taken from the display window of Ray Hayes, Inc., Jeweler, 81 Ansonia street early this morning. Police man Morris Feinberg discovered the break which had been accomplished by smashing the window with a brick.

Detective Sergeant John D. McSwegan was of the opinion it was not a one man job and had been done by professionalists. A description of the articles stolen was broadcast. The loss is covered by insurance.

K. K. CAMP GIRLS DEFY LAKE RAIN

Would They Deter Outing At Ho's For Storm? Not Much—Camp Near Close.

Once again Mr. Old Man Weather tried to force postponement of the outing at Lake Ho, the Kiwanis Kiddies Camp, but the forty-four girl campers refused to take the steady downpour seriously and unobtrusively spent an enjoyable afternoon at the lake yesterday.

The weather was perfect on the two afternoons spent at Bolton Lake by boy campers but the elements conspired against the girls and it rained both last week and this week on the day set. Nevertheless, the girls were highly enthusiastic as the boys and they romped hither and yonder the spacious property.

At first it was decided to postpone the outing but the girls raised a chorus of objections which were heeded. Their heads and spirits are as high as gables and the rain, swimming in the big feature of these outings. After it was over the girls rushed pell mell to the cottage, drawn by tempting orders of food.

EMPLOYMENT AGENCIES ARE WARNED BY STATE

Hartford, Aug. 4.—(AP)—The State Department of Labor has under consideration a notice to be sent to proprietors of private employment agencies in the state cautioning them against the practice of accepting registration fees from applicants for employment, in anticipation of employment.

It is stated at the labor department today that about 60 complaints had been received from individuals out of employment who had paid registration fees to employment agencies in hopes of obtaining employment, and in many instances these fees were returned to the applicants after long delay and only after considerable pressure was brought to bear on the agencies. In some instances, the department reports, delays of more than six months have been encountered before these registration fees are returned.

It is the contention of the labor department that registration fees are to be paid to employment agencies only when a definite situation is offered, an application, and that if the applicant is unsuccessful in landing the situation, the fee is returned forthwith. If however the offered position was accepted, the fee is held by the agency.

There are now about forty private employment agencies in the state and the records of the State Labor Department disclose that the number is rapidly decreasing each year.

DOG USES CHUTE

St. Catharines, Ont., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Cal, four year old silver grey police dog of Harold Brooker, Niagara Falls, Ont., upheld all traditions of faithful dogdom today when he followed his master from the wing of an airplane in the first dog parachute jump down here. Cal wore a separate "chute" and made a four point landing only a few feet away from Brooker.

GRAF HOPE CANCELLED

Friedrichshafen, Germany, Aug. 4.—(AP)—The Graf Zeppelin's last flight this summer to Pernambuco, Brazil, scheduled for August 15, has been cancelled on account of the disturbances in South America.

DE VALERA REQUESTS BIG EMERGENCY FUND

Dublin, Aug. 4.—(AP)—President de Valera introduced in the Dail today an emergency request for £2,000,000 which he would use to aid the Free State's commerce and industry.

He gave no indication in his speech where he expected the money to come from, nor did he give details of how it would be spent. He said the government wanted enough money to cover all possible emergencies.

The effect of the British tariff on Free State imports has been to dislocate trade connections to some extent, he explained, and the government is searching for new markets and possibly may have to establish a new industrial base.

Former President Cosgrave said the £2,000,000 would not compensate the Free State agricultural industry for the loss it was going to sustain.

The President's request, he said, "is the beginning of Communism in the Free State, but apparently that is the price Mr. De Valera has to pay for the support of the Labor Party."

SEEK AID FOR STATE

Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Armed with facts and figures on the unemployment situation in Pennsylvania, Governor Pinchot, three members of his Cabinet and six members of the legislature left for Washington today to request speedy action by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation on the governor's request for a $45,000,000 loan for relief in the state.

Maybe it's just a coincidence, but all the Latin-American revolutions seem to come after a bond issue has been sold in the United States.

SEARCH ABANDONED

Bridgeport, Aug. 4.—(AP)—An intensive search of two days police have virtually abandoned any hope of trapping the driver of George Butler, gasoline driver in the Bronx 8th district.

State and Fairfield police aided by volunteers began patrolling the district, located near the scene of the slaying, when reports were received a man had been seen acting strangely in the area. The search, undertaken at one time with an airplane, failed to produce any clues.

Police have worked on the theory that Butler, formerly of Hamden was shot to death by a soldier who had hired the taxi. To this one clue police have been unable to get any other information since Butler's body was found early Saturday morning.

Photographs were taken from the taxi, were described by county Detective William S. Keenan as so blurred as to be useless.

RUSSIA HAS MONOPOLY OF NEW ZEALAND TRADE

Ottawa, Aug. 4.—(AP)—The hand of Soviet Russia was seen at the imperial trade conference today as reaching forth to snatch New Zealand's market for oil from the United States.

It was reported that the Associated Motors Petroleum Company, of New Zealand, which heretofore has bought its gasoline, kerosene and lubricating oils from the United States and from the Netherlands Inc., has obtained an exclusive monopoly on the importation, distribution and sale of these products from Russia.

The Russian oil, the reports said is to be sold in New Zealand at about 5 cents less a gallon than the price now paid for United States oil.

Australia and Great Britain, it is understood has formed an agreement which would divert much of Australia's motor oil buying from the United States to Britain, in return for British preferences on fruits, butter, wines, grain and dairy products.

FATHER LOSES SUIT

Bridgeport, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Samuel Jones of Monroe is not entitled to damages against State Highway Commissioner, John A. Macdonald for the death of his son, Stanley, killed in a car accident through a highway fence, Judge John Rutus Booth decided today.

Stanley C. Jones was killed Nov. 24, 1928, while driving over the Bridgeport-Newtown highway in Trumbull. The father sued for $10,000 damages. The decision was filed today.

MRS. ALBERT BOOTH RESIGNS POSITION

Wife of Noted Yale Athlete Gives Up Job When Secret Leaks Out.

New Haven, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Mrs. Albert J. Booth, Jr., nee Noble, whose marriage to Yale's outstanding athlete at Branford, July 4 became known yesterday, resigned her secretarial position with the Southern New England Telephone Company today. She had been employed in the commercial department for several years.

Mrs. Booth said it had been her intention to give up her place later when her secret probably would have been leaked. Publication yesterday of the news of her quiet wedding to Albie at St. Mary's church in Branford led her to act today.

Mrs. Booth did not reveal to friends future plans. Her husband is at Los Angeles engaged in the making of a football film. He will return to Yale in the fall to complete his diploma. Owing to illness last winter he was unable to complete required work in June for his degree and diploma.

FAIR PLAY

Editor, The Herald:

"The Bridgeport Herald" is not a paper for sincere men and women who are generally interested in all aspects of fair play, upon these people rests that solemn responsibility and grave duty to bring in force that required resistance to gradually disorganize and do away with its publication.

There is a political organism which says that we are entitled to the rights and privileges as provided, and anything which is an obstacle in the path of righteousness is unwarranted. Why infringe upon a right which is established? It is not an impossible proposition that they will meet their WATN-LOC... and again I say it gives upon the right thinking editors to bring in play the full power of the law in thwarting further publication.

Yours truly,
JOHN S. MARTINSON.

Wall Street Briefs

New York, Aug. 4.—(AP)—The National City Bank has decided to avail itself of the new Federal Home Loan Bank Act and issue its own currency against United States government bonds carrying the circulation privilege, it was reported today in banking circles. The bank, it is understood, will issue its new currency at the rate of about $1,000,000 a week for an indefinite period. This is the second important National bank in New York to take advantage of the expanded circulation privilege, the Chase National having announced its intention of doing so last week.

Speyer & Company and J. Henry Schroder Banking Corporation, fiscal agents report that $1,700,000 of State of San Paulo 7 per cent coupon realization loan bonds have been drawn for redemption at par and will be paid on and after October 1.

LOVE OR MONEY

by CORLEY

EMERGENT TODAY

MONA MORAN, receptionist in a Wall Street law office, is surprised when her childhood sweetheart, STEVE SACOARELLI, returns to New York after three years' mysterious absence. Mona contributes largely to the support of her mother, invalid father, sister, KITTY, and ne'er-do-well brother, BUD.

Steve has been in South America where, largely by chance, he has become associated with BARNEY TOWNSEND, rich as a society promiscuous, who owns a diamond mine. Together they have made the mine, believed worthless, pay handsomely. Steve owns a huge diamond called "The Empress of Peru."

LOTTIE OARR, fashion model, joins Mona, Barry and Steve on several dinner and dancing engagements. Mona's brother, Bud, is under obligations to BUCK HARKINS, night club proprietor and gangster, who plots to steal the huge diamond.

Steve tells Mona and Lottie that he has hidden the diamond in his apartment. The four young people are there when Bud, following Harkins' orders, telephones that his mother is ill. He comes to Lottie's home. When the girls have gone Steve, suspecting trickery, prepares to meet the jewel thieves.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XIV

It was not long before Steve telephoned Mona. It was as he had surmised. Her mother, it appeared, was not ill. She had been asleep when they arrived. Mona was going to bed and Bud had escorted Lottie home.

"Mum!" said Steve musily. "Well, I'm glad your mother is all right. I'll call you tomorrow. Good-night."

As he put down the telephone he looked at Barry who was regarding him uncertainly.

"No, I don't think the girls were in on this," he said answering the unspoken question in Barry's eyes. "If that's what you want to know, somehow Harkins knew—or guessed—that we had the Empress here. Before Bud leaves Lottie they'll know where we had it."

"You think Lottie will tell them?" Barry demanded.

Steve shrugged. "She wouldn't mean to, but she couldn't keep from it. Before that cab was around the block she probably gave Mona a glance for not taking the necklace. That would lead straight to the refrigerator and the Empress! Wait, old chap, you'll see."

"Are you sure?"

Steve was changing to soft felt slippers and instructing Barry to do the same.

"Nothing is sure," he said, "except death and taxes—both of which I seem to have evaded thus far. However, right now we can't evade. If they're chumps enough to send Bud back here we have them in our pocket. If they think we're at the club they may send him. They'll realize that any fool can open an ice box."

Quickly Steve pushed two easy chairs well back into the room so that they were almost concealed from view. The two men sat down. They did not smoke lest the smell of freshly burning tobacco should apprise the expected visitor of their presence.

"Twelve o'clock. One. One-thirty—"

At length their vigil was rewarded. The outer door opened cautiously. A spot of light swam into the room, bobbing across the rugs with startling clarity.

Footsteps—wavering, then firmer. The circle of light picked out the divan, the paneled wall, hung on the swinging door which led to the butler's pantry.

dad. He goes over every so often by plane. They'll bump you sure, Steve."

Steve grinned. "Yeah? Boy, news is going to break tomorrow that'll make them forget everything!"

The three crept from the apartment down the service elevator to the basement, thence through to the apartment house directly adjoining. Carefully they emerged from that basement to the street. Bud's confederates were a block away, out of sight and around two corners.

In front of the drug store Barry's car was waiting. He tossed a bill to the mechanic, slid beneath the wheel, and Steve and Bud crowded in beside him. The car whirred and moved away, heading northward.

"Like a shot from a gun the car sped on toward Boston."

"Steve," said Barry as they darted out of Springfield after a long period of silence. "Is the Empress safe? Won't the rest of the mob—?"

"The rest of the mob will be chewing nails by nine o'clock tomorrow," Steve laughed. "Good Lord, I forgot to tell you. The Empress isn't in the refrigerator. It isn't even in the apartment!"

"But you said—"

"Right! I said it was in the refrigerator. So it was, Twain! But no longer. I sold the Empress yesterday."

"What?"

"I sold the Empress," Steve leaned over and thumped Barry on the back. "Got a very pretty price for her, too! Enough to finance the new machinery and set things going in a big way."

"But the Empress was yours. Steve. I can't take—"

Steve shrugged. "We've gone through all that before, old chap. The Empress was mine. Granted. I sold the darn thing. What use was it to me, except for money? If you like, I'll call your share of the expense a loan. It can be paid back any time. Our mine is going to have the finest equipment in South America."

"Steve, I can't do this!"

"Then I'll do it. It's our mine, isn't it? Then it was our Empress, our machinery. And Bud is our new employee. Let's see, kid, which department do you think you'd like best?"

MILITIA RESCUES BESIAGED MINERS

Terre Haute, who was struck in the right leg.

Indiana mines have been scenes of frequent disorders since expiration last March of the wage and working agreement between the Indiana coal operators and District 11, United Mine Workers of America. Repeated efforts to negotiate a new wage scale have failed.

An injunction was granted by Federal Judge Louis Fitzhugh several months ago to prevent interference with men employed at the Dixie Bee Mine. Nearly 200 men were arrested a few weeks ago for alleged violation of the order.

The troops on duty today at Terre Haute and at the Dixie Bee mine at Eminence, several miles south of there, included 820 men, 58 officers, and a medical detachment. Their armaments included 24 machine guns.

SUSPECTS BOUND OVER

Fairfield, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Henry Hennon, 32, and John Hart, 40, of New York, alleged to have cashed stolen travelers checks in six different places July 19, were bound over to the Superior Court on charges of obtaining money under false pretenses today when arraigned in Fairfield Town Court. Bond was set at $10,000 each.

Roosevelt's Scheme TO REGULATE UTILITIES

which he has followed in his duties as governor of New York state. Broadly, they may be outlined as follows:

1. The governor condemns as indefensible the financing methods employed by some large utility holding corporations which are now in financial difficulty but he draws a sharp distinction between those companies which are, as he feels, soundly financed and those which create top-heavy capitalizations.

2. The governor holds as a primary principle the belief that all utility companies whose securities are publicly owned must be compelled to make public detailed statements as to their earnings, their capitalizations, and the water-curtain which hides the holding companies with the operating companies. He contends that this general rule should be made to apply to all corporations which list their securities on public markets. Full publicity, he insists, should be furnished in all transactions of barter or trade which have a vital public interest. Horse trading, in his opinion, might be exempted, because it is so firmly rooted in American tradition, from this general rule.

3. Governor Roosevelt insists upon the right of government to own power sites and to produce electric power but does not envisage public ownership of all utilities. He explains that such a thought, which has been reported fairly widespread in Wall street circles, is a disapprobation. The governor's position on a national basis was described as unchanged from his hand in New York state government—namely, that the mere power of the state to produce electricity and to regulate the profits which privately owned companies might derive from the sale of this power at retail would serve to forestall the temptation of raising rates unduly high.

4. He regards as a step in the right direction the recently announced policy of the National Electric Light Association to confine its activities solely to the field of statistics and to remove itself from lobbying or propaganda. The utility companies, in the governor's opinion, would do well to keep religiously clear of politics.

Stricter Regulations

5. While the governor is committed to a policy of stricter regulation of the utility industry, he feels that his party's campaign will not impose hardships on the soundly directed companies, although it may direct considerable fire upon those companies whose financial transactions or obligations of excessive rates have aroused protests from consumers or investors.

6. A return of 7 to 8 per cent on its investment is held by the governor to be a reasonable expectation by any power company. Consequently, he holds to the view that his program of closer regulation,

Yesterday swept all four of the men's track and field finals conducted in the stadium. A crowd estimated at nearly 85,000, the greatest in track history, went wild.

The record turnout sent the total attendance for four days beyond 225,000 for the stadium alone. The crowd saw bespectacled little Eddie Tolan, American negro, sweep the 200 meters final, to become the first double Olympic sprint champion the United States has had in 20 years.

They volleyed cheers for their favorite feminine star "Babe" Didrikson of Texas who broke her second world record in as many events by racing over the eighty meter high hurdles in the stunning time of 11.8 seconds, to lead three American girl qualifiers of today's finals.

Handsome John Anderson, former Cornell University star finally beat Henri Laboure of Stanford, with a clean heave of 162 feet, 4 1/4 inches. Of the total of 13 flags that fluttered in honor of the Olympic medallists in these four events, 10 were the American emblem.

OHIOANS TO LEAD NINE BIG TEAMS THIS GRID SEASON

To Captain Nation's Most Powerful Elevens, Including Yale, Harvard and Navy.

Columbus, O., Aug. 4.—Ohio, famous for its presidents, may become almost as well known for its football captains.

When football warriors gather in stadia throughout the country this fall to prepare for the season's campaign, there will be nine Ohio boys at the head of as many of the nation's most powerful elevens.

Follows Townsend Hageman is the first end to pilot the Crimson since 1901 and only the fourth in history to be elected. He joins the select company of Bill Veckley, captain of the 1921 Princeton team, and Ludwig Pincura, pilot of Western Maryland, as Lorain's contribution to college football.

Local Sport Chatter

Well, Thomas Watson Stowe has reached California and all is well at Olympic Village, where Manchester's own Joe McCuskey is championing at the bit as the day of the 3,000-meter steeplechase finals approaches. According to Stowe, McCuskey is highly confident of winning the event. He can't conceive Finland sweeping his favorite event in such a convincing fashion as the California newspapermen predict.

California experts do not believe that McCuskey will place better than third in the finals which take place Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock, Pacific standard time. The west coast press continues to predict that Finland will finish one, two and possibly three, with McCuskey third or fourth.

However, it is the consensus of the present Herald sports department (all one of them) that McCuskey, in good condition, should finish second, with Volmar Iso-Hollo of Finland leading the local boy to the tape.

Ben Eastman and Bill Carr, the two best bets for the United States in the 400 meters, spend much of their time chatting together. They are the best of friends despite the fact that Carr's two victories over Eastman came unexpectedly and caused considerable newspaper publicity.

BRITON IS WINNER IN WALKING RACE AT THE OLYMPICS

Walks 31 Miles Under Five Hours; American Finishes Eighth In Grueling Test.

Los Angeles, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Thomas William Green, 39, of Great Britain, is Olympic walking champion. He won the title last night by finishing a 50,000-meter tramp over the pavements in Griffith park in 4 hours, 50 minutes and 10 seconds.

Never far behind the pace-setters, Green took the lead near the end of the 31 mile 122 yard grind to finish more than seven minutes ahead of Jaanis Dalnais, of Latvia, the second place winner, and nearly nine minutes ahead of the veteran Italian Isidoro and Joe expert, Ugo Frigerio, who was third.

EASTMAN AND CARR IN 400 METER DASH

But Rivalry Must Be Forgotten To Beat British Ace and Other Stars In Trials.

Los Angeles, Aug. 4.—(AP)—The much discussed 400 meter dash of the Tenth Olympiad will be open to further argument today after the world's greatest middle distance men rush through two preliminary trials.

While there has been a renewal of the question regarding the possibility of Bill Carr of Arkansas, Pennsylvania and way points, repeating his victories over Ben Eastman, the Californian, this has been submerged by fear that Great Britain would steal the show from the American entries.

Most observers believe Eastman and Carr will be forced to forget their own argument in the semi-finals and finals tomorrow to beat Lieut. Godfrey Lionel Rampling, British airplane pilot and foot path flyer.

The laughing hyena only sleeps once a month and only drinks once a year—Tell us what he's got to laugh about?

Charlie—Let's sit this one out; no one will be the wiser.
Dorothy—Oh, yes! You will.

One trouble seems to be that the people never fully realize the importance of saving money until times get so bad that there is no money to save.

Barber—Your head is sadly in need of a shampoo, sir.
Painter—Yes, and your house needs painting, but I don't nag you about it.

Englishman (proudly)—The sun never sets on the British Empire.
American Girl—How unfortunate. At home we have such lovely sunsets.

Professor—There are two periods in his life, madam, when a man doesn't understand women.
The Madam—Indeed! And when are they?
Professor—Before and after marriage.

The world grows older, and the only things we learn are new ways of making the same old mistakes.

Lawyers in the Court House have a way of calling each other everything they can think of, and then walking out arm in arm to lunch together.

Wife (during quarrel)—You're becoming absolutely unbearable. It will soon be impossible to live with you.
Husband (hopefully)—How soon?

Maid—The lady can't see you, she's taking a bath.
Agent—Oh, that's all right; I'm selling soap.

Dentist—Where is that aching tooth?
Theater Usher—Balcony first row to the right.

GERMANS RETREAT

On August 4, 1918, German troops were reported evacuating Albert, one of the cities taken during their first offensive in March. British and French forces were on the offensive on a wide front in the vicinity of Montdidier and reported important gains.

American and French forces operating in the Marne sector continued their great push forward, crossing the Vesle in many places and pushing through the lines prepared by German reserves to stop the allied advance.

On the Balkan front, the Austrian troops were again defeated and were forced to abandon the Pier-Barat line.

French official sources reported that 184 German planes had been brought down by French flyers in July.

ABOUT TOWN

David Chambers, contractor, engaged in remodeling the East Side recreation building for use as a library, yesterday ran up against a difficult problem in cutting away plaster walls. Expecting to find ordinary plaster, the foreman encountered a heavy type plaster construction into which strong wire reinforcement had been imbedded. The work, which ordinarily would have been completed in a day took three days.

C. E. Wilson, local nurseryman, has returned from a four weeks' vacation and business tour to Texas and the Pacific Coast. Mr. Wilson, who specializes in rose culture, made the trip by steamer to New Orleans and visited nurseries in Texas, California, Oregon and British Columbia. He was particularly impressed with the rose gardens in Vancouver and other places in that section.

MACRI GOES TO JAIL FOR JAWBREAKER ACT

Spruce Street Man Took Step-Daughter's Small Flance At Mean Disadvantage.

Ben Macri, 281 Spruce street, who slugged his step-daughter's fiance, Anthony Savrino, of Stamford, breaking his jaw, on Monday night and promptly skipped out, returned to face the music and was arrested yesterday. In Police Court this morning the music proved to be quite a long tune, thirty days. Ben will play it all through in Seymus street. Also an encore of some more days unless he pays the $13.75 in costs written into the score.

In court this morning Savrino, whose address has just ceased to be Manchester Memorial hospital, managed to make intelligible sounds enough to give his side of the story though his fractured jaw has permitted him only a liquid diet up to yet. He is, roughly speaking, about half the size of Macri, who is husky and packs a dirty wallop.

Anthony explained to the court that he came from Stamford to spend the week-end with Miss Lucille Macri, step-daughter of Ben, whom he hopes to marry. Ben was not delighted to have him there but there was no serious trouble until Monday evening when Macri learned that it was the plan to have Anthony stay another night. Then the house-papa went up in the air. He called Anthony some very un-nice names and said dreadful things about Lucille, finally ordering Savrino to get out a little quicker than in no time at all. "I said all right, I'll go if that's the way you feel about it," Anthony told the court. "Then when I was putting on a clean shirt, he socked me."

Lucille testified also that that's the way it happened. Macri, still unreconciled to the situation, took the stand. He admitted the socking but entared upon an exposition of the wickedness of Lucille in taking Macri's fifteen year old daughter out to dances till 2 o'clock in the morning. Judge Johnson took a hard look at the comparative prices of the two pieces of Macri and the coin handed Ben the three-cent piece.

Daughters of Liberty, O. L. No. 125, will go to New York again this year for their annual outing. The transportation committee desires to remind the members that two buses will leave at Orange Hall Saturday morning at 7 o'clock.

BI-CENTENNIAL TWO-BIT PIECES ARRIVE HERE

Bank Pays Out Shining New Washington Quarters; Coin Is a Handsome One.

George Washington clattered over the counter of the Manchester Trust Company a great many times today, riding on the shining new silver twenty-five cent pieces of the bi-centennial issue which made their first appearance here this morning.

The new quarter is a handsome coin. The plus-four of the angle on its face are of a more restrained cut than has been the case with some U. S. coins in the past, while the head of Washington on the reverse side is perhaps the finest example of coinage portraiture that the mint has ever produced.

K. OF C. PLAN WELCOME PARTY FOR McCLUSKEY

Knights Arranging For Honors For Olympic Contender, Win Or Lose In Finals.

Campbell Council, Knights of Columbus, at a special meeting last night at its clubrooms in the State Theater building, voted to accord a rousing "welcome-home" party to Joe McCluskey, Manchester's entry in the Olympics, who made such a fine showing Monday night in the qualifying 3000 meter steeplechase event, despite the fact that he had barely recovered from grip and tonsillitis.

Both "Little Joe" and his father, John McCluskey, who is in Los Angeles for the Olympics, are members of Campbell Council. His brother generally are hoping that the local boy will win in the finals Saturday.

William F. Quish was appointed chairman of the committee of arrangements for the welcoming of the "Fordham Flash."
