

NANKING'S CABINET RESIGNS EN MASSE

Government Crisis Follows Failure To Induce Chinese Premier To Withdraw His Resignation.

Shanghai, Aug. 9.—(AP)—The entire Cabinet of the Nanking government resigned this afternoon.

Members of the Cabinet in Shanghai sent a joint telegram to Nanking announcing their decision.

This crisis which upset the government resulted from failure of efforts to induce Wang Ching-wei to withdraw his resignation as premier.

Wang, president of the Executive Yuan and as such virtual prime minister, resigned on Saturday.

That in itself was a dramatic and unexpected development. He stepped out because of his dissatisfaction with the "passive policy" of the northern military authorities with respect to Manchuria.

More Complications To make matters still more complicated, word from Nanking said the government had received a telegram from Chiang Kai-shek, former president and now virtually commander in chief of the Army and Navy, in which he threatened to resign unless Wang Ching-wei reconsidered and consented to remain as premier.

Chiang Kai-shek, the young Peiping war lord, who submitted his resignation yesterday as a result of Wang's criticism, was reported today to be determined to relinquish his authority.

T. V. Soong, minister of finance, issued a statement shortly before the Cabinet's resignation was announced, asserting that the present political crisis should not be regarded as proof of China's governmental instability.

"This grave crisis which has resulted in the resignation of Wang Ching-wei is to be wondered at," he said, "and should not be held against China as if her government were unstable, particularly when it is recalled that Japan, that successful aggressor nation, assassinated two of her premiers, her minister of finance, and her minister of finance."

WALKER ASKS TRIAL INSTEAD OF HEARING

To Go Up To Albany To Fight For Political Life — Submits New Brief.

New York, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Mayor Walker—"Himmy" to the seven million—is going up to the Hudson to Albany Thursday to fight for his political life.

Governor Roosevelt, against whose nomination for the Presidency Mayor Walker voted at Chicago to the last, will be his judge.

The final official word before the hearing begins was before the governor today—a brief sur-rebuttal filed by the mayor last night. It assails the attack upon him by Samuel Seabury as "blatant hypocrisy."

Seabury, once an anti-Tammany candidate for governor, a jurist and more recently the chief counsel to the legislative committee out of whose investigation have grown the charges against the mayor, had no comment today upon the mayor's latest brief.

Voluntarily "conclusions" and charges are on file with governor Roosevelt. They attack Walker's behavior over a period of years as mayor of New York and call upon the governor to remove him from office.

National Significance In essence, the Mayor Walker case is a local affair. It has been given national political significance, however, by the mayor's wide personal popularity and by the Tammany ties that bind it to the National political picture.

The mayor, in his sur-rebuttal made mention of Tammany though not by name. He referred to it as "the political organization of which I am a member."

Everything Denied The mayor's latest brief was short, compared with his 27,000 word original answer to the charges. It concluded with the statement that "each and every charge of Seabury 'insofar as it may reflect upon any alleged misfeasance' is denied."

Washington, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Reapportionment by House representation has resulted in a possible Republican gain of 22 votes in the new Electoral College. This big shift in the voting strength of 32 states may have unusual bearing on the outcome of approaching presidential election.

Should this eventuate, the election result might be thrown into dispute when the House and Senate convene on the second Wednesday of next February to poll the electoral college votes. They number 531, representing 435 House and 96 Senate seats.

MARKET FIGHTS PROFIT TAKING IN ITS UPTURN

Prices Churn About In Wide Range—Gains of $1 To $3 Made Early By Some Leaders Are Lost Later.

New York, Aug. 9.—(AP)—The Stock Market made frequent changes of trend today, but still tried, with indifferent success, to fight off profit-taking and short selling. Prices churned about nervously and in a wide range, although trading became dull on the reactions, increasing in volume with each rally.

Extreme gains of $1 to $3 or more by Consolidated Gas, American Telephone, Allied Chemical, Air Reduction, Santa Fe, Union Pacific, Pennsylvania, Electric Power & Light, American Can and U. S. Steel were more than lost. U. S. Steel Common was much less buoyant, even at its best, than in recent markets.

MRS. REYNOLDS OUT UNDER $25,000 BAIL Former Torch Singer Leaves Her Hotel At 2 A. M. For Parts Unknown.

New York, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Elizabeth Reynolds, the former torch singer, was released from her hotel under $25,000 bail today.

The fire, caused by a short circuit in a power cable, started before 8:30 a. m. Eastern Standard Time. Subway traffic was halted completely for a time between Broadway and the Bronx but after a short delay west side subway trains were started again on power from a separate power house.

Many passengers complained that after the fire was known and power was being restored, the subway continued to accept fares, and start trains from stations. Many of these trains were finally halted between stations and the passengers had to walk along the ties to get back to the street.

After the power was cut off many passengers complained that the turnbuckle doors on the subway continued to accept fares, and start trains from stations. Many of these trains were finally halted between stations and the passengers had to walk along the ties to get back to the street.

After the hearing her father and brother, Alfred Holman, Jr., brought her to the hotel here, a distance of seven miles. Miss Holman herself issued a brief statement through her attorneys in which she asked to be left alone.

Solicitor Carlisle Higgins who consented to bail for both Walker and Libby refused to say when he would call the case for trial but told reporters he would not be present September 5, the date on which the special term will open if the formal petition for it is granted.

STILL AMONG MISSING REIDVILLE, N. C., Aug. 9.—(AP)—Eight hours after she had made another spectacular dash into seclusion, the whereabouts of Libby Holman, torch-singer widow of Smith Reynolds, tobacco heir, was as much of a mystery as ever today.

A "fade-out" as dramatic as any in her theatrical career again reappeared Libby from the public gaze to which she returned yesterday for the few hours of swift activity necessary to obtain her freedom under bond on a charge of killing her millipaire husband a month ago.

SUSPECT IS HELD

Greenfield, Ind., Aug. 9.—(AP)—A youth giving his name as James Oden Walder was held in jail here today on a charge of automobile theft pending investigation of his possible connection with the slaying of E. M. King, St. Louis automobile salesman.

Walder gave his age as twenty years and said his home was in St. Louis.

Officers said he admitted the car was stolen from a St. Louis salesman who had been demonstrating it. Walder drove the car into Greenfield last night. He was taken into custody this morning when he attempted to sell it.

Officers said Walder at first told them the car belonged to his sister in St. Louis. Later he said the car was taken from a salesman. The speedometer of the car, an eight cylinder sports roadster, registered less than 500 miles.

While local officers were communicating with St. Louis police the youth attempted to escape.

POLICE CHECK UP ON LINDY MONEY

Canadian Nurse Said She Received It In a West Virginia Bank

Halifax, N. S., Aug. 9.—(AP)—Three twenty-dollar bills, two tens and two fives, were definitely identified by police today as bearing the $50,000 hit on Lindy, a Canadian nurse who was kidnapped in the Lindbergh kidnaping case.

Police said they did not know whether the plate numbers, a small series in the right hand corner of the bills, corresponded to those on the $50,000 bills covered by a cemetery hedge in the Bronx, by Dr. John F. Condon on April 2, a month and a day after the Lindbergh baby was kidnaped.

The bills were deposited by Miss Carrie Anderson, a nurse of Hampton, Va., at the Bank of Nova Scotia at Albert, N. B., last week. Bank officials turned them over to the Royal Canadian Mounted Police at Moncton.

Officials there wired their information to Ottawa Sunday night. Yesterday afternoon General McErieh, head of the Mounted Police, said he was investigating.

A statement attributed to police at Moncton that plate numbers of the bills differed from those on the ransom money was refuted today when it was admitted the figures were not available for checking.

Miss Anderson was in Moncton today. She said she had obtained the $90 which was all the American money she had, from a bank in Hampton, Va.

KNOWS MISS ANDERSON

Hampton, Va., Aug. 9.—(AP)—Officials of the Bank of Hampton said today that they had no way of knowing whether or not they handled bills reported as being found in Canada bearing numbers similar to those on the Lindbergh ransom money.

Informing that Miss Carrie L. Anderson had attempted to exchange the bills in Canada and said she received them from the bank here, Capt. W. H. Darling, executive vice president, said he had been furnished with a list of the ransom bills but that it was impossible for the bank to keep an accurate check on all bills taken in deposit.

Captain F. W. Darling, president of the bank, said he knew Miss Anderson, who is supervisor of the Elizabeth City County Visiting Nurses Association. She has been employed in the county for fifteen years but is a Canadian by birth and went there for her vacation this year.

CLERGYMAN INDICTED

Muskogee, Okla., Aug. 9.—(AP)—The Rev. S. A. Berrie was indicted today on a charge of first degree murder in connection with the death of his first wife.

The indictment was returned after a day and a half of Grand Jury investigation into the alleged poisoning of the first Mrs. Berrie on last March 21, which was followed in less than two months by the minister's marriage to Ida Berrie, 19-year-old Sunday school teacher in his church.

The 53-year-old clergyman had been in jail since Saturday night. His wife, to whom he allegedly poisoned love poems before the first Mrs. Berrie died, was not held, officers saying they believed she was "a victim of circumstances."

LATEST STOCKS

New York, Aug. 9.—(AP)—The bull campaign in the Stock Market found the least responsive today, and while prices were given a sharp boost occasionally, advances were not well maintained.

Trading continued in large volume, but substantially under yesterday's advance in the morning falling and the list generally balked at proceeding yesterday's highs. By early afternoon, a number of issues were a point or two under yesterday's close. A sell-off at the opening of the market was checked.

Extreme gains of 2 to 3 points were registered around 11 noon in such issues as American Telephone, American Water Works, North American, Public Service of New Jersey, Stone and Webster, American Power and Light, American Can, Allied Chemical, Safeway Stores, Coca Cola, and others. This advance was substantially reduced, however, as U. S. Steel Common and Eastman reacted to show losses after about 2 points during the early afternoon.

Several commission houses had felt that a substantial technical reaction was overdue, as a natural sequence to the sharp upturn as that of the past month. Bear traders continued to play for a reaction, and met with a little more success, after their futile and costly efforts of the past fortnight. Some important financial interests were said to have felt the market was going ahead to rapid recovery, and to have started to put in selling orders in the hope of keeping the market more orderly. Buying, however, surpassed expectations, and the effort was being made, as these interests found themselves losing their long position.

A morning setback in wheat tended to take some of the edge off the bullish enthusiasm. This may have been in part due to indications that the plan proposed by Eugene Meyer to let the Federal Reserve buy government securities to finance the government's program for the reconstruction of Europe, was apparently directed toward cotton and some other lines, at the start at least, rather than wheat. Bear silver joined the move in connection with the sharp advance of a cent and one-half in silver.

Some important quarters in Wall street turned definitely to the view that one of the next major steps in financial leaders for economic rehabilitation, envisaged better commercial relations with Russia. Such a step, it was felt, had important potentialities for manufacturers of machinery.

An announcement before the end of the week on the plan to set up a fund, perhaps as much as $100,000,000, to help manufacturers with raw material purchases was predicted in some important banking quarters. Railroad executives also meet this week to consider the plan of borrowing from the Reconstruction Corp. To renovate equipment. A number of rail executives felt that the plan had definite limitations, in view of the great surplus of equipment with freight movement at current levels.

ROOSEVELT QUESTIONED ON DEBT ADJUSTMENTS

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 9.—(AP)—Governor Roosevelt was questioned today by a delegation of women on his attitude toward disarmament, tariff reduction, debt adjustment and recognition of the Democratic nominee. The group, which was headed by Mrs. Gerard Swope and Mrs. John Jay White, represented the National League of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom. They interviewed President Hoover two weeks ago. He referred them to a committee appointed to study the call upon the Democratic nominee, the woman will interrogate Norman Thomas, the Socialist candidate. The views of the candidates then will be circulated to the members of the League.

Mrs. Mildred Scott Olmstead of Pennsylvania told Mr. Roosevelt the League was disappointed with the Democratic platform declaration on world disarmament and a rearrangement of war debts. She added "we are looking to you to elucidate in your campaign both statements and omissions of the platform."

The governor promised to make his position clear during his drive for the presidency. He told the women that "certainly nations should have the same moral relations with each other as have individuals."

The trouble has been, he continued, "that nations took the letter and not the spirit of treaties. The time has come when treaties should be interpreted by spirit."

Governor Roosevelt has as luncheon guests former Governor Harry F. Byrd, of Virginia, Col. Henry Breckenridge of New York and Washington, assistant secretary of war in the first Wilson administration, and Frank C. Walker, treasurer of the Democratic National committee.

FACTIONS FIGHT AGAIN

New Haven, Aug. 9.—(AP)—The New Haven Register says the Democratic conference here yesterday was without result, a "peace protocol" is as far off as ever, and the committee was appointed to talk over with Governor Cross the possible makeup of the state ticket.

"By this action" said the Register "the factional fight has been reopened over the question of recognizing the old Guard as they are, and the whole question is put directly up to Governor Cross. It will be for the governor to decide if there is to be peace in the party. If the governor fails to patch up things and give the Old Guard all they are demanding, the ultimatum will be from the Old Guard that the governor and his New Guard following must assume the responsibility of winning the election for the Democrats next fall."

Later he was sentenced to a hold-up of the Federal House of Delegates for four months. They already had been imprisoned for two months pending trial, as they had been unable to furnish bail.

LAWYER IS SENTENCED

New York, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Hyman Eisenberg, 27, a lawyer, was sentenced today by Federal Judge John M. Woolsey to a term of two years in the Federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga., on a conviction of possessing and passing eleven forged money order blanks stolen from a Roxbury, Mass., sub-station post-office.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Rosenblum told the court that the blanks were stolen in a hold-up of the postal sub-station and that subsequently two of the men who had participated in the hold-up were killed in a battle with Boston police and postoffice inspectors.

Eisenberg, 38, of New York, who pleaded guilty to possessing stolen money order blanks before Eisenberg's trial began and aided the government, also were sentenced. Radus was sent to the Atlanta penitentiary and Chapman to the Federal House of Detention for four months. They already had been imprisoned for two months pending trial, as they had been unable to furnish bail.

SNAKE GETS GOATS GOAT, BUT BUTE BUMBONS HELD

The characteristic biting qualities of a goat may be defense enough for Billy or Nanny some of the time but evidently the snake family hasn't heard of it.

A goat was tied to a tree in Fuller Place at the north and yesterday. Passerby noted the goat butting around and keeping as far away from the tree as possible. An investigation disclosed a snake coiled at the foot of the tree hissing away at the goat. A nearby tick dispatched the snake and allayed the goat's fears.

agreement to maintain the home and pay off a mortgage.

The Gregorays were married in March of 1918 and had two sons.

Details of Case

In July, 1924, it is set forth by Mrs. Gregory, they entered an agreement for joint occupancy of a home on Arleigh road at Great Neck, and was agreed she would manage the home, and that the husband should buy it in her name. He was to pay the upkeep and retire the mortgage, she contends.

When the agreement was made, the woman's husband was a member of the brokerage firm of Baudette, Gregory and Laidlow, of New York, with which firm Mrs. Gregory says, she had $25,000 of her own money on deposit, subject to the control of her husband.

Borrowed Her Funds

When the property was bought at Great Neck, she contends, he was short of money and it was agreed he would borrow from her funds.

He did this, she says, and the property was bought in her name. Then, she contends, he failed to make return of her money used in the purchase of the Great Neck place. He also failed to pay for maintenance of the place due to such failure, she sets forth, she was forced to sell the property at a loss of $37,775.88. Mrs. Gregory died May 22, 1931 at Stamford. She files a claim to cover her loss on the Great Neck property due to a sale and the claim was not allowed.

Washington, Aug. 9.—(AP)—The new billion dollar tax bill contributed to increased collections from miscellaneous internal revenue during the first days of August to $4,992,677 more than the same period last year.

Total receipts from this source, the Treasury announced today, amounted to $16,740,839. Receipts from the new tax bill were reflected only in collections for the last nine days of August.

Income taxes collected were $1,800,000 less than for the same period last year. Custom receipts were $4,172,000 less.

Meanwhile, the government's deficit rose on August 6 to $316,433. The government collected from all sources $110,745,047 and spent $427,181,868 during the six days.

National banks have been taking advantage of the Glass-Steagall amendment to the home loan bank law permitting them to issue notes on the basis of government bonds bearing not more than 3 1/2 per cent interest as security.

Since July 30, National bank notes outstanding have increased $6,179,655 to $789,057,078 while the circulation has increased $5,724,517 to $724,937,668.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 9.

NEW SLUMS FOR OLD
 One of the so-called relief measures vaguely under consideration in various cities throughout the country is the rebuilding of slum districts with "model" tenements; it being usually hoped that somehow or other the enterprise will be financed by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. New York is talking about what to do with $45,000,000 of that kind of money.
 Even Hartford is dallying with the idea of boosting the building business by some such method.

All such adventures are predicated on the supposition that presently we are going to return to just about the same old processes of civilization that were in operation prior to 1929—on as large or larger populations in the great cities and industrial centers, on the permanence of a "tenement house class," on a continuation of the old relationships. There is, as a matter of fact, no guarantee at all that there will ever be a return to pre-depression conditions in this application or any other.

Even before the collapse of the prosperity boom Manhattan had begun to lose population. Nobody has any idea whether New York City, twenty years hence, will have twice as many inhabitants or only half as many as it now has. Hartford may have half a million people a dozen years from now; on the other hand she may have seventy-five thousand.
 There is nothing whatever to go on. Save this: That the industries which better than any others in the United States have withstood the crash of general business are the little owner-managed factories of rural New England, located in communities where living is cheap and where business can be carried out at a fraction of the overhead costs of the big industrial centers.

Whenever and however we get out of our present slump it is to be suspected that the growth of our major communities is about done for a long time to come. That industry will—because it will have to—drift away from them and scatter itself throughout the country where opportunity for economy and efficiency are infinitely greater than in congested centers where life is abnormal and unhealthy and ground rents and taxes ruinously pile up production costs.

Why should America build new slums for old—a little cleaner, a little less offensive, a little less crowded perhaps but still human beehives and frames for a drab and standardized existence—when it may very well be in the cards that soon she will be engaged in a great industrial trek away from centralized saturation and into places like Manchester or smaller, where the workers have real homes and there are no slums to replace?

"SURVEY" WORTH WHILE
 For some time now there has been a tendency on the part of sensible people to become faintly ill at the mere sound of the word "survey" as applied to a business, industrial or social condition, while the speaker who mentions charts, graphs or statistical tables and escapes from the service club luncheon without a Wack eye is fortunate.

Nevertheless a great book of such charts, graphs and tables, portraying the result of a very big survey indeed, may prove of incalculable usefulness when it is published a year or so hence. It is being prepared by technicians of Columbia University and will deal with the industrial and agricultural development of the United States for the century from 1880 to 1980. Conceivably it may provide the nation with the first adequate fund of information as to the road we have been traveling that has ever been made available. And it may enable us to steer a safe course in the future by enlightening us, for the first time, as to our meanderings and inevitable effects (traceable to known causes. It may do in short, what a Department of Commerce might have done long ago if there had ever been any conception of the proper purpose of a Department of Commerce.

The survey proposes to show, in the case of no less than 3,000 leading and industrial products, the changes in the costs of production, not in money but in human energy as measured in man-hours, through the application of improved machinery and manufacturing methods.
 For example, one of the charts already completed shows that it took 1,301 man-hours to build an automobile in 1904, 303 man-hours in 1919 and only 92 man-hours in 1930, or one-fourteenth as much as 26 years earlier.

Armed with the array of facts which this completed survey promises, the economic thinker will be able to check his theories in a way now altogether impossible, for he will be dealing with ascertained facts instead of the merest speculation. Here then is one modern idea about to be rescued from sheer illiness and made to serve a magnifcent purpose.

ALL RIGHT, TAKE IT
 Senator Cohen of Georgia and W.
 A. Julian, Democratic national committeeman from Ohio, are men of courage, if not of that discretion which is the better part of valor.
 After a Democratic strategy parley at New York yesterday they announced that the upturn in the stock market and the rise in commodity prices were due largely to a conviction throughout the country that a change in administration is impending and that Governor Roosevelt is to be the next President.

That would be all very well if the election were only a few days off.
 But twelve weeks must pass before that momentous occasion and in the meantime it is inevitable that the obviously overstimulated bull market will collapse, because the very rapidity of the recent securities movement is proof of its lack of healthy foundation. And when the inevitable setback comes these joyous Democratic claimants will find it difficult indeed to retreat from their claim that the coming "Roosevelt victory" is responsible for the condition of business.

For that matter the Democrats are welcome to responsibility for the vagaries of Wall street if they wish to assume it, so long as they have the sand to take the vinegar with the honey. Political claims based on the maneuvers of stock speculators are poor things to depend on in a campaign like this and in a time like the present.

As for the slight improvement in commodity prices and the signs of returning industrial activity, the country knows very well that whatever gains there are have resulted directly from the herculean efforts of President Hoover in bringing about release of frozen credit.
 Those efforts have been carried on in full view of the country for almost three years. That they are now beginning to produce effects is something that anybody can understand. That the effects will slowly but steadily grow is the belief of sober minded people. That prospects of a "Democratic victory" have caused them is a preposterous pretense.

IN 2 ARMIES AT ONCE
 An astonishing misconception of the political and ethical principles underlying the primary election laws of this state attaches to the notion of the Independent Republican party's leaders that they have an inalienable right to continued membership in the Republican party. The assertion of some of them that they will contest the authority of the Republican party to exclude them from its caucuses and primaries is amazing, for it might quite as well be made by Democrats or Socialists or any other political group completely dissociated from the Republican party.

In all probability the Levitt-Dry party will never attempt anything so foolish as a resort to the courts.
 But why they should either expect or desire to retain their legal rights as Republicans, after they have openly committed themselves to war upon the Republican party, it is impossible for the ordinary person to understand.

It might be entirely possible for a voter to ally himself with a political movement not favored by a majority of his party and still maintain his right to membership in the party so long as his faction expected to operate within the party. But when that movement, whatever it may be, extends itself to the point of adopting a party title and making nominations under its own label, then it is clear as daylight that its members have no more justification in asking admission to the councils of the Republican party or any voice

BEHIND THE SCENES IN Washington
 "SHRINKING VIOLET" BLOOM-BOMPS IN RECORD

By BODNEY DUTCHER
 NEA Service Writer

Washington.—Just as Congressman Sol Bloom, the shrinking violet of the George Washington Centennial Commission, was being given up or lost, he was discovered romping through the Congressional Record.

Nobody has been hearing much about Sol since Congress cut his 1932 budget for the commission from $400,000 to $200,000 and because of the contrast with his previous gigantic effort of ballyhoo-although perhaps that isn't exactly the word—that Sol had broken down under the strain and had been tucked away for a couple of years of rest.

Busy as a Beaver
 But Sol blooms forth in all his glory in the final appendix of the Congressional Record, on which $150,000 had been spent since Congress adjourned so that members might get their little after-thoughts in at government expense.

Of 56 speeches in the last appendix, aside from the innumerable little tributes to departed members, eleven are speeches of Sol's about George Washington.

It appears that Sol has been working feverishly at the commission's big headquarters and one thing that he saw to was that more than a score of his Washington speeches were printed so that copies might be bought cheap from the government printer and mailed out to an avaricious public.

Just Plugging Away
 The commission has been plugging along in its quiet way, even if half of its 135 employees did have to be released when appropriations were cut and although most of the rest must go by Sept. 1.

It boasts that "a thousand letters a day" are coming in from feverish citizens who want material to help them observe the big bicentennial.

Sol and his associates are especially pleased by reports from many public-spirited citizens that the bicentennial has kept people "sane and patriotic" and that it has "staved off the wave of bohevoism."
 One of the principal but unannounced ideas of the celebration was that it would be a counter-irritant to the "Red menace" and Sol points proudly to the fact that there have been mighty few riots in the country when you consider how things are.

Sol Almost Left Out
 It wasn't Sol's fault that a lot of people here yelled "Ouch!" when they saw all those speeches reprinted in the Record. Sol's idea was to ease them in, one by one, over a period of weeks. But a jam developed somewhere during the flow and it was necessary to scramble at the last moment to get them all in at once before it was too late.
 Even so, they only got in a fifth of the speeches Sol has made.

But the words were good enough, even if Sol didn't write them, to preserve for posterity and now you can get, free or at least very cheap, his orations on George the garden-maker, George as described by Sol under the cherry trees, and so on.

Sample quotation for prospective customers: "As I stand here in the presence of this distinguished company to express the inspiring thought that 'come to me, I can in memory, retrace the years to the fairland of my childhood. My heart responds to this scene as the most bewitching abode of elfin beauty ever unrolled before human eyes."

RACER SERIOUSLY HURT
 Montreal, Aug. 9.—(AP)—"Babe" Bergeron, Montreal speedboat racer, thrown from his boat during a race Sunday, was in hospital today suffering from a fractured skull. His condition is critical.

Bergeron came to grief while negotiating a turn in a free-for-all event at Verdun motor boat club's annual regatta. His head was hit by the propeller.

in its determinations than a German officer would have had in demanding to be admitted to a French war council in 1917. They are members of an opposition party.
 How they can possibly expect to live in both camps at once is incomprehensible. That they should seek to do so indicates a serious ignorance of the fact that an election is a serious contest and not child's play.

THE STORY BEHIND
 A reporter or rewrite man on the New York Times wrote for yesterday's paper a fine little story about the amazing run of mackerel that set all Staten Island and the mainland shores of the inner harbor agog last week and on Sunday showed no signs of diminishing. It was a good, readable story, but toward the end it said this: "The average catch was from seven to ten quarters of a pound to a pound and a half."

All right, all right! But any time a seven inch mackerel weighs three quarters of a pound, or one quarter of a pound, there's a better story in it than the one the Times man wrote. Because that mackerel had been filled full of shot, like Mark Twain's frog; or he's round like a baseball, or something has happened to intensify the law of gravitation.
 What the wondering world awaits, in this matter, is the story behind the story.

PRE-DISPOSING CAUSES OF TUBERCULOSIS

As explained in yesterday's article, I am convinced that the bacillus of tuberculosis would have very little or no effect upon a healthy human being and, before the disease of tuberculosis can develop, there must
 be certain underlying causes. This conclusion has come to me as the result of diagnosis, studying, and
 supervising thousands of cases of the disease in every stage.

The one who is susceptible to
 tuberculosis of the lungs is born
 with a limited diaphragmatic action
 and, if this is discovered early in life, suitable breathing exercises
 will entirely correct this dangerous defect and a normal condition can
 be developed. The X-ray examination will disclose an almost immov-ible diaphragm. The diaphragm is a large flat muscle separating the
 organs of the chest from those of
 the diaphragm. It is the main muscle used in breathing and accomplishes this act by contracting
 and relaxing and in this way draws
 the air into the lungs and tracing
 and relaxing and in this way draws
 the air into the lungs, and in so doing with a kind of bellows action.
 The one who wishes to avoid tuberculosis should practice breathing
 exercises. When inhaling, it is not important to attempt to enlarge the upper chest but rather one should concentrate on expanding the lower part of the chest to the greatest extent possible and on exhaling empty
 the lungs by contracting the lower ribs and making the waist as small
 as possible. These exercises are ben-efitful chiefly in preventing the development of tuberculosis. When,
 however, the disease has progressed
 to any great extent and in this way
 the lungs will only break down the
 tender tissues, facilitate the spread of the bacillus, and retard the healing processes.

The developments of tuberculosis
 in the lungs and other parts of the body is always preceded by enervation.
 Tuberculosis is one of the diseases that never develops until this enervation is present and is never
 cured until the bodily strength is brought back to normal. The causes of enervation are always found in bad habits that waste energy. These may be either bad physical habits or bad mental ones. The overeating of even good food may be a potent
 cause of enervation. Physical excesses of all kinds tend to lower the
 physical resistance and waste valuable energy. Late hours, dancing
 most of the night, cooling off too quickly after exercising, swimming
 too long, playing too many sets of
 tennis, or any other injudicious
 waste of the vital force will be a factor in the development of conditions favoring the disease.

Of equal importance are destructive actions which may be said to be
 of a mental or emotional nature. A mistake is made of working too
 many hours at brain work and thus using too much energy through the
 mental processes, energy which is needed by the physical body to digest
 and assimilate food. One who has tuberculosis or is threatened
 with it should honestly try to conserve his mental energy and should
 make the mistake of being critical
 of others or allowing himself
 angry outbursts of temper, or
 worst of all, pitying himself.

Dietetic errors create soil for the growth of tuberculosis. The use of excessive amounts of refined carbohydrate foods undoubtedly furnishes
 a medium in which the bacillus of tuberculosis. The blood becomes starved for oxygen and the metabolism seriously interfered with. The weak patient, who is fearful of developing this dreaded disease, is often unwisely urged to eat as much as possible of the pre-digested indulgences that they will provide
 energy and build up his system.
 Many people are naturally thin and
 break down their resistance by trying to gain weight by stuffing themselves with quantities of rich foods.
 In some cases a slight gain in weight
 will be noticed in the beginning but

 be certain underlying causes. This
 supervising thousands of cases of
 the disease in every stage.

 life, suitable breathing exercises
 defect and a normal condition can
 be developed. The X-ray examination will disclose an almost immov-
 ible diaphragm. The diaphragm is a large flat muscle separating the
 organs of the chest from those of
 the diaphragm. It is the main
 muscle used in breathing and ac-
 complishes this act by contracting
 and relaxing and in this way draws
 and relaxing and in this way draws
 the air into the lungs, and in so doing with a kind of bellows action.
 The one who wishes to avoid tubercu-
 important to attempt to enlarge the
 concentrate on expanding the lower
 part of the chest to the greatest ex-
 efitful chiefly in preventing the development of tuberculosis. When,
 however, the disease has progressed
 to any great extent and in this way
 tender tissues, facilitate the spread of the bacillus, and retard the healing
 processes.

 in the lungs and other parts of the
 body is always preceded by enervation.
 Tuberculosis is one of the diseases that never develops until this
 cured until the bodily strength is
 of enervation are always found in
 bad habits that waste energy. These
 bad mental ones. The overeating of
 even good food may be a potent
 cause of enervation. Physical excesses of all kinds tend to lower the
 physical resistance and waste valuable
 energy. Late hours, dancing
 most of the night, cooling off too
 too long, playing too many sets of
 tennis, or any other injudicious
 waste of the vital force will be a factor in the development of conditions favoring the disease.

Of equal importance are destruc-
 mental processes, energy which is
 tuberculosis or is threatened
 with it should honestly try to con-
 serve his mental energy and should
 make the mistake of being critical
 angry outbursts of temper, or
 worst of all, pitying himself.

 growth of tuberculosis. The use of
 excessive amounts of refined carbo-
 hydrate foods undoubtedly furnishes
 tuberculosis. The blood becomes
 starved for oxygen and the metabolism seriously interfered with. The
 weak patient, who is fearful of developing this dreaded disease, is
 as possible of the pre-digested in-
 dulgences that they will provide
 energy and build up his system.
 Many people are naturally thin and
 break down their resistance by trying to gain weight by stuffing themselves with quantities of rich foods.
 In some cases a slight gain in weight
 will be noticed in the beginning but

There's a Ralph Morgan, as it comes to the like-father-like-

Frantic Figures
 More than a slight dose of confusion is being analyzed by Broadway since the amusement tax was slapped on by way of helping the government to balance its budget.

Thanks to the depression, a ticket seller now must be something of a back to Broadway. . . .
 In war times, the added percentage was directly collected by the government. Now the box office gals and boys have to worry about it. . . .

 going positively nuts. For in-

 $2.50 for a $4 ticket. Yet the tax is on a $4 ticket. So 40 cents is

NEGRO AS GUEST OF THE PRESIDENT
 Is Member of Notification Committee Which Will Meet For Ceremony.

Washington, Aug. 9.—(AP)—All members of the Hoover notification committee, including Charles Isaacs of Natchez, Miss., a negro, have been invited to a buffet luncheon at the White House next Thursday.

The luncheon has been planned as a prelude to ceremonies Thursday night at which President Hoover formally will be notified of his re-nomination by the Republican National convention.

Invitations have been sent to all members of the notification committee, officers and members of the Republican National Committee and members of the District of Columbia reception committee.

Mississippi Delegate
 Isaacs has been designated as the Mississippi member of the notification committee. He also was a delegate to the Republican convention.

It was explained informally at the White House that the invitation was purely routine. Isaacs having been included along with the other members of the notification committee.
 The last time a negro has been a White House guest was on June 13, 1928. At that time Mrs. Hoover entertained Mrs. Oscar Depriest, wife of the Illinois negro representative at a tea given to women of the Congressional club. About 40 women were present.

TO CONTEST PRIMARY
 Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 9.—(AP)— Legal advisers of Lewis S. Pope met here today to consider the question of contesting last Thursday's Democratic primary, unofficial returns from which gave the gubernatorial nomination to State Treasurer Hill McAllister by an approximate 10,000 margin over Pope.

Alleged heavy voting of negroes in Shelby county (Memphis), where McAllister received a plurality of almost 80,000 over Pope was one of the matters under consideration.

Before balloting the state primary board adopted a resolution de-clarating that if local primary officers in Shelby or any other county of the state permit the negroes to be herded and voted by the thousands of the primary, then, in event of a contest, the board would "deem this to be prima facie evidence of fraud," and throw out such votes.

Whether Pope will bring a formal contest, or merely protest alleged frauds before the primary board when it meets here August 24 to certify the nominees has not been announced.

 (Too Sleepy)
 Question: Miss Miriam T. writes:
 "I just don't feel good unless I get at least twelve hours sleep. What is wrong with me?"

Answer: If you require twelve hours sleep every night, it is probable that some of the following conditions are present. You are constituted, you eat too much heavy food which makes you loggy, you waste a great deal of your nervous energy, you may have present in your body some pus pocket, or you may have some glandular deficiency. Another potent cause of constant tiredness is doing work which you do not like as you dread the day and try to escape from reality in sleep. My article on Sleep & Daily Care would be of interest to you. Send for it, adding a large, self-addressed envelope and a three-cent stamp.

(Blue Lips) Question: C writes: "My lips are a bluish color. Is it a fact that bluish lips indicate heart trouble?
 I am 41 years old."

Answer: A change in the color of your lips is usually an indication of some heart derangement or anemia.
 The best way for you to find out your condition, is to have some physician listen to your heart. This is far better than guessing about it.
 If you do have any kind of heart trouble, you can surely help yourself to improve by following specific instructions suited to your disorder.
 First, have the diagnosis, and then write to me again.

WHEAT INSTEAD OF CASH
 Moose Jaw, Sask., Aug. 9.—(AP)— Farmer customers are taking advantage of an offer by E. A. Whittaker, district merchant, and member for Moose Jaw county in the Provincial House, to accept wheat in payment of debts, and allow $1 per bushel regardless of the market value.

Other merchants of the district are lining up similar plans. Mr.
 Whittaker says they are not accepting wheat but will take fifty cents on the dollar in payment of back debts.

UNCLE SAM'S
NEW TAXES
 WHERE THEY HIT YOU
 —AND HOW!

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the 12th of 20 daily articles explaining the new federal taxes.

By ROBERT TALLEY
 NEA Service Writer

You can't send a telegram of congratulation to the proud father of a new-born son or telegraph flowers to the funeral of a deceased friend without paying a tax to the government under the new 1932 federal tax law.

Life or death, Uncle Sam gets his communications tax which is scheduled to provide $22,500,000 this year in new revenue as part of the program for balancing the budget.

The tax on all telegrams is five per cent of the amount 2-1-2 cents on a 50-cent message, 3 cents on a $1 message, etc.

Nor can you escape the tax by using the long-distance telephone, for there's a levy on that, too, when the toll is more than 50 cents.

The tax on telephone conversations costing more than 50 cents and less than $1 is 10 cents; 15 cents when the charge is $1 or more and less than $2; 20 cents on each conversation of $2 or over.

On cable and radio messages the tax is 10 cents on each message.

All such taxes must be paid by the person who pays for the service.
 That means if somebody sends you a "collect" telegram or "reverses" the charges on a long-distance telephone call, you must foot the tax bill.

There is also a five per cent tax on the amount paid for leased wires or special circuits, such as used by brokers.

Exempt from the tax are services and facilities used by newspapers, press associations for the collection or dissemination of news by the public press, and those used by the federal, state, city and county governments for official business. Also exempt are services given accredited diplomatic representatives of foreign governments.

You can either pay the tax when you send the telegram or make the long-distance call, or it will be added to your bill at the end of the month.

MILL STRIKE ENDS
 Highpoint, N. C., Aug. 9.—(AP)— Highpoint's industrial areas hummed in unison for the first time in nearly a month today as the last of 4,000 textile and hosiery strikers went back to work.

Approximately 1,200 workers at the Adams-Mills full fashioned hosiery mill and the Highland cotton mill went back after a wage settlement effected Friday.

The trouble began with a strike of some 400 employees of eight hosiery mills, and spread in five days to every industry in the city.

AUTO VICTIM
 New Haven, Aug. 9.—(AP)— Philip Ewiksky believed to have been struck by an automobile in Stamford, died today at Yale hospital. He had been in the city for 40 years, was past 80, and was the order of Scottish clans.
 The body will be sent to New Haven later today.

REPORT 3,000 MISSING

Harbin, Manchuria, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Approximately 3,000 persons were reported missing today as a result of floods in the Sungari river valley.

A number of large river towns, including Sanshin, were flooded and must be virtually reconstructed before they will be habitable again.

The southern branch of the Chinese Eastern railway, Harbin's most important link with the outside world, was destroyed south of Shuangcheng and it will take a month to restore it.

Two-thirds of Harbin was flooded and the flood waters were coursing through the Kitaskata, the city's main street. To allay popular uneasiness the commander of the Japanese garrison here issued a proclamation saying he was determined to maintain order and would do his utmost to relieve the suffering.

MAY DEPORT MALONE

Toronto, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Immigration officials headed by J. C. Mitchell, inspector at Toronto, today examined Daniel Malone, to determine his status with regard to deportation. Malone, charged with vagrancy, is confined to the Toronto jail.

Arrested here Friday Malone was held in connection with a rumored plot to assassinate Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, secretary for the dominions, now in Ottawa with the British delegation to the imperial economic conference.

His detention has caused a furore in Toronto civic and police circles. Mayor W. J. Stewart, following a telephone conversation with Chief Constable D. C. Draper yesterday, called an emergency meeting of the Toronto police commission for tomorrow to inquire into the circumstances of the case.

MRS. MCCORMICK ILL

Chicago, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Apprehension over the condition of Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, Gold Coast social leader and patron of the arts, has been expressed by sources close to the only daughter of the senior John D. Rockefeller.

Her physicians said yesterday her condition had taken a turn for the worse but denied it was critical. Her illness, which was of several weeks standing, was ascribed to general run-down condition and worry.

Mrs. McCormick recently retired from her Gold Coast mansion and took quarters in an exclusive hotel. The move was attributed to depletion of finances. She was an extensive operator in real estate.

A woman may be able to keep her house alone, but she always seems to need another woman to help her keep a secret.

MISSING TREASURER GIVES HIMSELF UP

Hartford, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Samuel Davis, 74, former treasurer of the Connecticut Hebrew Protection Association, Hartford, walked into the police station this morning just before court convened and surrendered to the authorities who want him on a charge of embezzling $7,800 from the loan society. He was bound over under $1,000 bonds to the September term of the Criminal Superior Court.

Missing from his home at 111 Oakland Terrace since June 5, the aged official who is well known in the city, was in California with relatives when the society complained to police ten days ago and a warrant was issued. Investigators were unable to locate him. Late yesterday Davis arrived back in Hartford alone after a rail trip from the coast, having started of his own accord last Friday, soon after learning of the charges.

"I'll tell my story to State's Attorney Alcorn" he said, following the brief routine appearance in police court before Judge Richard T. Steele. His side of the affair, it has been intimated by counsel, Berns J. Akerman, will implicate several other persons.

STUDENTS OVERDUE

Paris, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Along the coasts of France and England a watch was kept today for five Princeton University students who are two weeks overdue on a trip from Gloucester, Mass., in a ketch.

Williamson Hall, Jr., of New York, who disappeared yesterday that the young yachtsmen were behind schedule, left this afternoon for London. He said the students had enough food to last them two more weeks.

ROCKVILLE

LEGION 4TH DISTRICT TO SUPPORT TREADWELL

Crystal Lake Meeting Votes, To Back Danbury Man As State Commander.

Delegates at the meeting of the Fourth District, American Legion, held at the summer home of Edward L. Newmarker at Crystal Lake on Sunday, made it known that the district would support Joseph Treadwell of Danbury for State Commander at the state convention to be held at Waterbury this month. There will be 38 delegates from this district.

Mr. Treadwell was the largest membership gather in the state last year, having increased the membership in his post 200 per cent. He is now senior vice-commander of the state department and chairman of the employment committee of the Legion.

Edward A. Zimmerman, chairman of the membership committee of the district, urged the delegates to the state convention to hold together and make this district solid as it had been in the past.

Because the Fourth District has obtained the highest average membership, it will lead the parade at the state Legion convention. The district auxiliary will be second in their group.

There were about 200 members present at the meeting on Sunday. District Commander Abraham I. Sussman of Willimantic opened the joint meeting and then the posts and units met separately. Members were present from Moosup, Putnam, East Woodstock, Ellington, Coventry, Mansfield, Stafford Springs, Rockville, Willimantic, North Grovesford, Tampton, Hebron and Danielson.

The meeting voted approval and support at the convention of a resolution submitted by Charles S. Cook of Willimantic asking that steps be taken in Connecticut to make it necessary for all American Legion bands entering the competition at the convention each year to be made up entirely of Legion members. He suggests in his resolution that one man from each American Legion band in this state be made a member of the state committee to meet and draw up a set of rules and regulations.

Charles Eats o. Hathaway-Miller Post resigned his office of historian and is succeeded by Professor Andre Schenkire of South Coventry and Mansfield Posts, who is a history instructor at Connecticut Agricultural College.

Edward A. Zimmerman was appointed a member of the Memorial committee to fill the unexpired term of Joseph Morrison of Willimantic, now deceased.

Mrs. Florence Erbe, state rehabilitation chairman, reported that 11,000 cartons of cigarettes had been given out during the year to veterans at Newington hospital by various units. On August 15 the new recreation room at this hospital will be dedicated.

Grace To Picnic Vernon Grange will hold its annual picnic on Saturday afternoon and evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Simpkins of the Ogden Corner section. There is to be a luncheon and the program will include sports and games of all kinds. A feature of the afternoon will be a baseball game between the men and women. It is expected there will be over two hundred people present.

The committee in charge includes Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. George Ewing, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Skinner and Mr. and Mrs. George Simpkins.

Club Gardens Scored At the last meeting of the 4-H Flower Club of which Mrs. Ethel Worcester is leader, held at the home of Miss Dorothy Lee, gardens were inspected. They were scored by Mrs. Ruby Loverin and Mrs. Thomas Nell. The garden of Miss Della Worcester scored first, the garden of Dorothy Lee second and the garden of Miss Florence Keasby third. The children in the Ogden Corner section are taking much interest in the club and have some especially fine gardens.

Injured While Visiting Mrs. Harriet Barber Hayes of Ellington, who was visiting her niece, Miss Grace Curtis Munster of Wallham, Mass., at her summer home at Greenwood Lake, Attleboro, Mass., injured her hip badly in a fall last week. She was removed by ambulance to the Sturdy Memorial Hospital where X-rays were taken and it was found the hip bone was broken. Mrs. Hayes is reported to be resting comfortably. SAYS DEMOCRATS WILL SWEEP SOUTH

Former Governor Byrd of Virginia Talks of Roosevelt's Chances In South.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 9.—(AP)—Former Governor Harry E. Byrd, of Virginia, here today for a luncheon engagement with Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, predicted the Democratic ticket will sweep the South by more than normal majorities and will carry the so-called border states of West Virginia, Tennessee and Kentucky.

Mr. Byrd, who is vice-chairman of the Democratic National committee, gave out a statement which in part follows: "The Democratic ticket will sweep the South by more than normal majorities. We will carry the so-called border states of West Virginia, Tennessee and Kentucky.

"In the South we are vitally interested in the improvement of agriculture. During four years of Hoover we have seen the price of basic commodities decline to the lowest point in the history of recorded prices. The markets for our surplus products have been destroyed by the administration's yielding to the demands of particular selfish interests to make many tariff duties prohibitive."

Farm Board Failed The effort of Mr. Hoover to raise prices by artificial buying through the Farm Board failed, as must every effort to do which acts in direct contradiction of the inescapable operation of economic laws. "The record of Governor Roosevelt in New York state of constructive and sound achievement for the advancement of agriculture has given added strength to the Democratic ticket in all agricultural sections."

He understands the farmer's problem. He is one of the few men in public life who has advocated a sound solution of the farmer's problems. "He believes not in artificial panaceas but in fundamental changes which will bring back to more than half our population engaged in agriculture the prosperity which must be the first step towards the economic recovery of the country. I predict as the campaign progresses we will hear more and more of Roosevelt's plans for agricultural rehabilitation."

"BONUS ARMY" VET SELLING FLAGS HERE

Gets Permission To Peddle Souvenirs On Street — Was In Five Major Battles.

A World War veteran, a member of the "bonus army" and a resident of Hartford, was given permission to sell small flags on Manchester streets this morning by Chief of Police Samuel G. Gordon. The veteran presented his discharge to the Chief of Police, showing him to have taken part in five major battles on the western front. He was wounded twice and is a member of the Disabled American Veterans. He served in the 104th Regiment, Yankee Division, overseas.

The Hartford veteran left Washington before the United States troops took charge of the situation but he said that previous to the attack conditions in the bonus camp were very bad, veterans and their families being without proper clothing and bedding. He said that the reports of Communist activities in the bonus camps were without foundation, veterans being antagonistic to that type of workers. "I'm trying to pick up a few dollars here today for the wife and my six-months-old baby," he said, as he took up a position nearby a Main street store entrance.

for LOVE or MONEY

BEGIN HERE TODAY
MONA MORAN, receptionist in a Wall Street law office, is in love with BARRY TOWNSEND, rich socially prominent. She met Barry through STEVE SAOCARELLI, her childhood sweetheart, who returns to New York after three years' absence. Steve has been in South America where, largely by chance, he has become associated with Barry, owner of a diamond mine long believed worthless. Together they have made the mine pay and are now business partners. Steve owns a huge diamond called "The Empress of Peru." LOTTIE CARR, fashion model, joins Mona, Barry and Steve on several dinner and dancing engagements.

Mona's brother, BUD, becomes involved with gangsters who plan to steal the big diamond. Steve suspects this, traps Bud, and when he confesses helps him escape to South America where he is given a job at the mine.

Some time later Barry invites Mona, Lottie and Steve to spend Sunday at his uncle's palatial country home. They make the trip in Steve's roadster. While the girls are taking off their wraps Lottie confides that Barry has told her he is in love with Mona.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XVIII

Mona whirled, powder puff in hand. "At Barry's?" she asked. "You went to tea with Barry at Barry's?"

"Yes."
 "But I didn't know—I mean you didn't!"

Lottie nodded shamelessly. "And a very good tea it was too. Barry wanted to talk to me, silly!" She went on in a different tone. "We couldn't stand very well on the street corner! You see it happened this way. My name is in the telephone book. Barry told me it took him an hour to find my last name and then he had to call the shop."

How he remembered even the first is a mystery to me! He generally calls me 'Hey, you! Haven't you noticed?' Well, he asked me to tea, said he couldn't make it dinner because of another engagement.

"I met him at 8:30 the night before Barry wanted to know if he had been burning in between you and Steve. Said Steve would hand you over even if the day had been set for the wedding if he thought Barry loved you because that's the way Steve is. Anything Barry wants Steve hands over."

"Barry has done a lot for Steve too," Mona said uneasily. "Yes, and he's dying to do a lot for you. Listen! I told him on my honor that you only cared for Steve in a sisterly way. I said it was the same with Steve. Pals in school days and all that."

Lottie's eyes grew softly reminiscent of that tea hour when Barry had blurted out 'I love for Mona. Well,' she concluded, 'I guess I'd better leave some of this for him when he comes. First it's quite an earful, let me add! I'm sure you go down stairs now. I'm starved!'

"Arm in arm, the two girls went down the broad staircase. Barry met them below.
 "Thought you had disappeared permanently!" he said. "Let's go! Breakfast is waiting."

He led the way past the drawing room, past his uncle's library, to the dining room. A fire crackled on the hearth, licking the birch logs with which Mason, now and then, replenished it. Barry was absent, but Barry explained that he would see her at dinner. Mason served the delicate viands cooked by Jean, his wife.

There was orange juice, cereal with thick cream, an oyster omelette with delicate curls of bacon, muffins and coffee.

Steve ate as though he enjoyed the food and Mona observed how at home he seemed in Barry's environment. Barry frequently tossed tidbits to the dog, a left hand dangling to caress a velvet ear.
 "Want to have a look at the grounds?" he asked as they rose.

Unathletic save on the dance floor, Lottie vetoed the walk. "You two run along," she urged with a sly wink at Steve. "I have something I haven't told Steve about."
 "Go ahead," Steve said. "I've something I've been wanting to tell Lottie ever since I met her. But his smile was for Mona."

Barry found a beret and huge sweater for Mona and presently they set off. Half a dozen dogs greeted them excitedly. They appeared on the lawn. Mona and Barry stood for a moment, the crisp air filling their lungs.
 "Great stuff!" cried Barry, breathing deeply.

"And yet," Mona pointed out, "you're leaving it."
 "Oh, yes! My business, you see, isn't here."
 They set out briskly on the road leading toward the stables.

"You must rough it at the mines," Mona said.
 Barry shook his head. "No, you don't rough it. I shouldn't say." Mona spread her hands to indicate Twilands at one motion. "This is luxury! Surely!"

Barry nodded. "Luxury. And idleness and, more or less dissension! Maybe I've told you my uncle and I can't get on very well. They seem to want to mend the situation. I've very nearly stopped trying. Twilands is, in a way, half mine, you see. It's my home. I couldn't pass up Twilands."
 He paused uncertainly. "Of course I have my own but it's tied up so my uncle can really supervise the spending of every dime. At the mines I am someone. The whole place belongs to us. We have a huge

Remembering

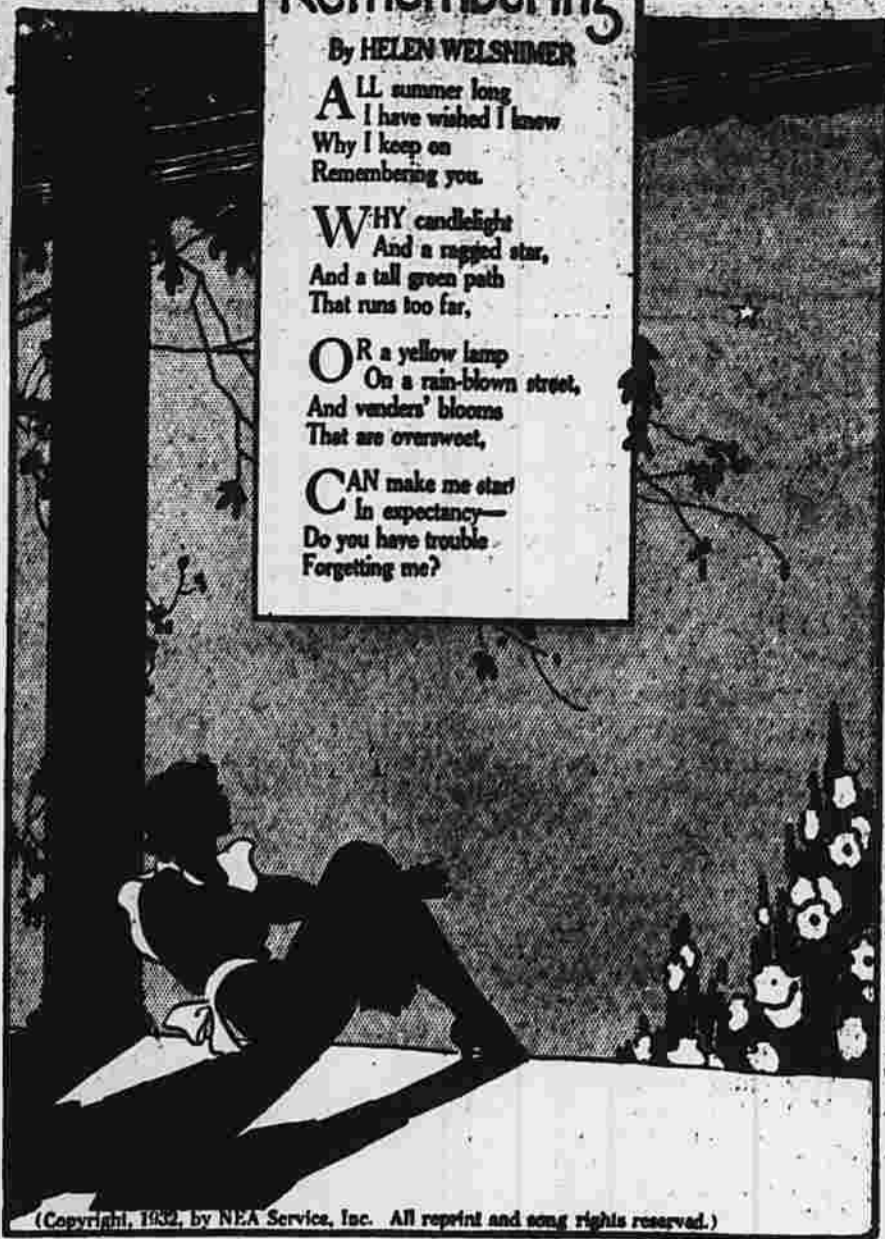

By HELEN WELSHIMER

All summer long I have wished I knew why I keep on remembering you.

WHY candlelight and a ragged star, and a tall green path that runs too far.

OR a yellow lamp on a rain-blown street, and vanden's blooms that are overweet.

CAN make me start in expectancy—do you have trouble forgetting me?

house—you should see those houses in the tropics! High, wide and handsome. Latticed to let the air in and not a pane of glass in the whole building. We dine on the veranda, watching the fireflies in the dark. We have books—not too many, because the insects destroy the bindings. They feast on bookbinders' glue, it seems. We have huge beds like Kink What's-his-name died in, with netting draped over the sides. I shouldn't say we rough it. There's a golf club near enough for convenience. And we have our island. We go there occasionally for holidays.

"They walked a few moments and then Barry continued, 'You can buy a linen suit down there for 80 cents—'"

"Help!" Mona exclaimed, laughing. "I see I was wrong! You don't rough it at all! Remember, I live on wicked, costly Third Avenue!"

The dogs came tumbling out to meet them. The valley, smoke-filled, stretched out invitingly. Lacy trees waved their tender branches.

Mona and Barry strolled across the golf course toward a clump of maples.
 "I want to show you my little camp," Barry said. "I had it built when I was in college. We damped the stream and when there was skating I used to have parties there."

A half mile farther the camp, a small affair at the water's edge, came into view. There was a wide veranda piled with chairs tipped against the storms. The door was locked and above it, on a high shelf, was a white chalk line. Barry raised on tiptoe, drew his hand along the line and found the key.

"Careful of the rug there," he called as he swung the door open. Too late! Mona had not seen the carpet rolled at her feet. She tripped and stumbled. Barry caught her.
 "Great Scott, you aren't hurt?"

"I raised her in his arms, a fragile burden, and swung her into the room."
 On her feet once more, breathless, Mona stood laughing. Barry regarded her seriously. "That's an old-fashioned custom, isn't it? I've heard it somewhere. Swinging one's bride over the sill!"

Mona felt frozen in her tracks. Strangely, Barry avoided her eyes and went to explore the living room of the camp. He knelt at the fireplace and nodded with approval when he saw that a fire had been laid. Without speaking, Mona followed him slowly.

The room was cold and chilly. The rugs had been rolled and were standing on the walls; the chairs dusty and old but comfortable. There were camp beds, denim covered and pillowed. A wide buffet at one end and beyond a kitchen well stocked with staples and canned goods.

Barry, busy at the closet now, was taking rapid stock of the supply. "Do you think it would be fun to have supper down here?" he asked.

Lina Basquette failed twice during her act with Jack Dempsey out on the coast, according to news dispatches. But some of the boys are saying it should have been spelled "teinted."

PURIFYING YOURSELF

by Alicia Hart BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

LOVELY HAIR NEEDS CONSTANT CARE
 When you throw your gloves in the beauty bag, the hair that does the throwing must be properly cared for. Your hair may be perfect but if your hands are rough or calloused or scuffed nobody will consider it attractive.

Don't be the type of person who puts on her gloves with a sigh of relief because they will conceal blemishes. Rather, rejoice when you have an occasion to remove them. If your hands have stains, lemon juice is an effective whitener. Use it faithfully. But the lemon on its leave-it-on-for-a-little-while. The lemon has a tendency to whiten the flesh as well.

If your hands have gone far too rough, rub cold cream, or special hand cream, on them at night. Massage them. Make sure that the cream is penetrating. Then put on a pair of old soft gloves. The aid they will give you is surprising.

Fingert For Stains
 If cigarette stains have made your hands unlovely, rub powdered pumice, or a pumice, on the spots. Don't be discouraged. Repeat the process day after day. Afterwhile the offending spots will give up and fade out of the picture. Don't be too rough! Firmness will look after itself.

If your veins are too pronounced, be especially careful to keep your hands in a position in which the palms will be turned upward when you are sitting. The blood rushes away from the hands, and they relax. Knotted blue lines are never attractive.

Rubber gloves may seem uncomfortable when you first start to wear them for the performance of household duties, but you will discover that a hand in a glove is worth two that meet the soapy dishwasher directly.

Keep a hand lotion in the kitchen and use it as you think about it. It should be used after every time you wash your hands. Practically all of the improvements were maintained at a constant level once they were established. Even though this study has lasted for a year, it is not yet possible to estimate finally the actual value of the quinine in this disease. Nevertheless, the use of the product has been encouraging.

The average case of multiple sclerosis lives from five to 10 years. The shortest period of time between the onset of the disease and death was six weeks, but there was one case in which a patient lived 33 years.

There is no record of complete spontaneous cure or cure by any treatment yet devised. Because occasionally symptoms improve without any treatment, it is difficult to evaluate the usefulness of any new measure.

Multiple sclerosis is a typical example of some of the extraordinary serious diseases that may attack the nervous system of man and bring about death. The field for research in the diagnosis, the cause and methods of control of these diseases is even yet exceedingly great.

Diagnosis at the earliest possible moment is important, not because much can be done for multiple sclerosis, but because relief might be given if some of the other diseases which resemble multiple sclerosis happen to be responsible for the symptoms.

Thus the presence of a definite infection in the central nervous system or tumor of the brain may be determined by scientific medical methods. Moreover, there are certain cases of hysteria in which there is no actual destruction of tissue present, in which mental treatment may be of value; yet these cases of hysteria may resemble multiple sclerosis.

Recently investigators in the Neurological Institute in New York have been studying the effect of quinine on such cases. The use of the quinine was based on the chemical changes that take place in the tissue in this disease.

It is believed that in the course of multiple sclerosis a portion of the tissue of the nervous system, called myelin, is acted on and disintegrated by some toxic agent. When the myelin disintegrates, scattering occurs from a removal of the broken-down products by the white cells of the blood.

The New York investigators believe that the giving of quinine might act against such toxic agents. They, therefore, administered it in 16 well established cases of multiple sclerosis, in which there were present many of the symptoms that have been mentioned. In three cases there was slight regression of the symptoms in the beginning of treatment.

The effects of the treatment were studied symptom by symptom, and it was found that 40 symptoms, most of them of short duration, improved, whereas 33 symptoms which had remained stationary for a long time did not improve.

Practically all of the improvements were maintained at a constant level once they were established. Even though this study has lasted for a year, it is not yet possible to estimate finally the actual value of the quinine in this disease. Nevertheless, the use of the product has been encouraging.

Recently investigators in the Neurological Institute in New York have been studying the effect of quinine on such cases. The use of the quinine was based on the chemical changes that take place in the tissue in this disease.

It is believed that in the course of multiple sclerosis a portion of the tissue of the nervous system, called myelin, is acted on and disintegrated by some toxic agent. When the myelin disintegrates, scattering occurs from a removal of the broken-down products by the white cells of the blood.

LAUNDRY AND UTILITY BAGS FOR 'MISS 1932'S' HOPE CHEST

The modern girl of 1932, sophisticated yet so feminine, will be delighted with the Hansel and Gretel utility bags made by her own hands. Upon swooping around in the art needlework departments and gift shops in New York, I saw the latest crop of debutantes busily making them.

The two utility bags illustrated here are not only decorative for your closet, but they are very useful for hiding away handkerchiefs and socks. The roomy skirt and trouser bags are made of red and blue checked gingham. Colorful percale, chintz, and felt complete the gray outfit of this cut Dutch suit. Bright flowers were used for the simple embroidery and yellow for the trim on the wig. The set of two can be bought containing everything necessary to complete them, including the stamped bodies and tinted faces, for about $1.00.

The girls I saw making them seemed to have drifted back to the days when they were dressing their dolls, but they appeared to be deriving an even greater kick out of making them for their "hope chests."

The laundry bags with the adorable dogs are one of the other accessories which every bride will want to have. The one shown above can be purchased in practically every department store or art needlework shop, ready-made, at a cream price, finished with a double draw string. The design is tinted for simple touches of embroidery. This one can be bought wrapped in an envelope containing everything necessary to complete the bag, and you can buy it for about $1.00.

If you are really handy and happen to have unbleached muslin or cream cloth, there isn't any reason in the world why you can't make the complete bag yourself and trace the design on it.

what is sauce for the goose is also sauce for the gander; and presently the lady is doing some experimenting on her own hook, and liking it. In the end, Mr. Evans has all of this tie the marriage together on a much more secure basis. I think he wrenches his story just a trifle to reach the desired conclusion; you can hear the creak of the tiller, toward the end, as he puts his helm hard over to make port; but he does provide an intelligent discussion of the problem, and his story is interesting enough to hold your attention to the end, even if the nobility displayed by all hands as they vouch eternal fidelity in the final chapter, is a little cloying.

"The Marriage Rite" is published by Alfred H. King, Inc., and sells for $2.

transparent varieties are good both for cooking and eating. It always is economical to buy apples in quantity, rather than in pound lots, and, as a portable, portable fruit, and, can be used so many ways that there is little danger of becoming tired of them before they are spoiled.

When you make apple sauce, remember the rule of adding sugar to fruit AFTER the fruit is cooked. Less sugar is required to sweeten the sauce and the flavor is much more delicate. If you have not carefully trimmed out all bruised apples before cooking, the sauce should be rubbed through a colander as the bruised flesh of the apple becomes hard and tough after cooking. Also be sure that every particle of core is cut out, especially if children are to eat the sauce.

BONUS MARCHERS IN CITY
 Utica, N. Y., Aug. 8.—(AP)—Dr. wards of 300 tanned veterans of the Bonus Expeditionary Force, many of whom arrived early today from Johnston, Pa., assembled in City Hall plaza at 10 a. m. today to ask Mayor Walker for work.

It was not known what time the mayor would arrive at City Hall and when, half an hour after they assembled, the police ordered the veterans to keep moving, they decided to disperse and meet later in the day at Astor hall, 62 East 4th street, to appoint a committee to call on the mayor.

MRS. KEATON DIVORCED
 Los Angeles, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Mrs. Natalie Talmadge Keaton obtained a divorce today from Joseph Francis (Butter) Keaton, film comedian, after testifying he neglected her. The testimony was corroborated by her sister, Constance Talmadge Netcher, former film star.

Low U-Back
 Many irascible desserts have apples as their basis. Simple yellow apples to prepare, they are as healthful as they are popular.

Nearly all salads, fruit, vegetable or meat, find apples an appealing addition.

Baked or steamed apples are one of the first solid foods a baby eats and these same baked apples will be relished by the older for breakfast with sugar and cream.

The varieties of apples are legion and the way the fruit is to be used determines, of course, the variety wanted. For the convenience of marketing, they are usually divided into two classes—cooking apples and eating apples.

Apples for pie or sauce should be tart and well flavored and of a fine texture. This insures quick cooking and delicious flavor. Those wanted for baking should be perfectly formed, firm and of good size. If they are too delicately grained, they will fall apart while baking and be unattractive for serving.

Eating apples should be well flavored and juicy. Astrakhan apples, which are one of the very best varieties of early apples for cooking and jelly making, are a bit tart for eating. The old-fashioned harvest apple and yellow

NEW—AND BETTER—ON CHILD CARE

How many mothers are watching radio announcements of child talks this summer?

There have been so many good ones that I hope not a word of them has been wasted. Yet some women will turn on an orchestra concert the moment an address is begun.

This is a mistake. Some of the finest addresses ever made in this country have been broadcast. What is the difference if you are sitting in a dollar seat somewhere or in your own living-room at home? Prejudice of this kind will never get us anywhere.

There is always something to learn. No matter how many books we may have read on the care and happiness of children, how many lectures we may have attended, or how much experience we may have had, there is ever some new and helpful point to be added to our store.

I know of no other field of science in which a new finding is so quickly and generously passed along as in this one of child care. Ideas change in regard to babies—not so much that older theories are wrong, but that new ones are often better.

Need Best Advice
 Why set our faces against it? Why take the attitude that we know enough?

After all, the doctor to whom we depend for advice on diet and health cannot be with us every hour of the day. Countless matters come up in which a mother must use her own judgment. Sometimes that judgment is good, sometimes not. It is necessary to have some source of usable information about matters that we cannot possibly know ourselves, unless we have learned by experience.

Experience may be of benefit to the third or fourth child, but it means much guesswork with the first two. How we keep an open mind and inform ourselves whenever we may.

Fortunately not many women feel that they do not need to be told. The fact that the free lectures of certain child-care societies recently drew audiences of 500 women speaks for itself. This advice of mine therefore is not to the many—they do not need it—but to the few.

If you go to lectures or listen to one over the radio, it is well to keep a pencil and pad on your lap to take quick notes for reference.

POSTURE IS IMPORTANT TO HEALTH
 Do you remember, as I do, the great number of children who used to go around with shoulders hunched? When a child was "round shouldered" a general name given to stooping. It was whistled off to a doctor who usually advised a puppet. What good these puppets were I do not know. I was constantly threatened with one because I would not, could not, stand upright. But to my great relief, it never materialized. I was in constant terror of having to go absent in a sling.

When I look about at the children of today, I am perpetually amazed at their straight backs, heads set beautifully on arrow-line bodies, chin up and hips in. Not all children, of course, but enough to show that the posture of the race is improving.

Less Illness Today
 It may be attributed to several reasons. There is less serious illness, for one thing. I attribute my own weakness at least partially to an almost mortal case of typhoid fever when I was 6. There is little typhoid now. And as for diphtheria and scarlet fever, they go cod-liver oil in babyhood. There exists little of the rigidity that nearly all children used to have.

I have before me as I write a diagram of right and wrong posture. In the wrong one the head is forward, the neck line, aslant, the spine deeply curved, in at the waistline. The stomach protrudes, the legs are slightly flexed. Every bone in the frame is out of place.

In the correct position the head is straight up, the neckline vertical, the back curves normal, the legs straight and the knees back where they belong. The hips are drawn in, and that throws the vertebrae of the spine and the pelvic bones where they belong.

Such a position of the bones gives every muscle a chance to function without straining. This is the most important part of all.

A healthy child with good bones will stand that way naturally. If he is out of shape it is a result of illness, wrong feeding, or neglect.

Remembering a child will do some good, but it is not enough. He needs something more, a general tonic up, fresh air and sun, plenty of sleep, sufficient nourishing food, and happiness. Nervous children are a result of poor physical condition and poor posture.

We can almost tell at a glance whether our children are structurally perfect.

DR. HINEHART HOME
 New York, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Dr. Stessley H. Hinehart, in residence here for more than 10 years, is to collapse at a summer camp at Lake Minnie lake in the Adirondacks, where he is to be removed to his home in Washington tonight in a special ambulance. The New York Central railroad was assumed today to have abandoned Hinehart, author of "The Hinehart Home."

At the hospital it was reported that Hinehart was in a critical condition, but that the prognosis was good.

Dr. Hinehart's wife, Mrs. Hinehart, had been in the hospital for a few weeks before her

DETAILS OF ERROR IN McCLUSKEY RACE

Official Explains Cause of Running Extra Lap; Joe May Meet Evanson Again This Week In Two Mile Event.

Joe McCluskey, Manchester's most famous athlete and America's greatest steeplechaser, may have an opportunity to avenge in some measure his defeat by Tom Evanson of Great Britain in the 3,000-meter steeplechase final last Sunday afternoon, the seventh day of the Olympic games. Evanson beat McCluskey after a heart-breaking struggle in the last few yards of the extra lap of 400 meters.

McCluskey will leave Los Angeles for San Francisco Wednesday evening, where he will compete in the British Empire Games. It is possible that he may run in a special two mile steeplechase against Evanson. Many admirers of McCluskey believe that he would have finished in second place had not the extra lap been run.

Here's the Explanation
 Just who was responsible for the error, which has caused a furore of argument and debate? The man who raised the wrong numeral at the start of the race was Herbert D. Gish, athletic director at the University of Nebraska in Lincoln. A full explanation of the mistake was made following the race. It seems that Roy Davis of Chicago is the official lap scorer and that Davis went to the swimming stadium to officiate there.

He appointed Gish in his place, although high Olympic officials said that he had no power to appoint a substitute and should have remained on his job. Gish and two other officials based their calculations on the fact that the track is 400 meters long. This is true of the actual track but the steeplechase course runs outside of the regular track at the ends of the stadium and is approximately fifty meters longer. They figured that the 3,000 meters necessitated seven and one-half laps around the course, just as the 2,000-meter steeplechase would require five and one-half laps.

McCluskey is only twenty years of age. He will be twenty-four when the 11th Olympic games open at Berlin, Germany. By then he will have the maturity, experience and confidence necessary to triumph. By then he should be able to succeed in the 11th Olympic games open at Berlin, Germany. By then he will have the maturity, experience and confidence necessary to triumph. Some of the Married Men have taken advantage of the postponement and have been out limbering up their arms and sharpening their batting eyes and a good game is assured all who attend.

HORSESHOE MATCH

Horace Chambers and Rupert Lindsay of the Valley Street Horseshoe Club defeated Hugo Benson and Samuel Wilson of the West Side in a special seven game match, 4 to 3. The losers tossed the most rings, 130 to 110, but when leading 3 to 2, dropped the next two games.

The scores were: 46-50, 50-47, 49-50, 50-20, 50-37, 40-50 and 10-50. Rings were made as follows: Benson, 57; Wilson, 73; Lindsay, 56, and Chambers, 46.

A special match between Chambers and Wilson was won by Chambers, 3 to 2, the winner getting 41 rings to 34 for Wilson. The scores were: 50-42, 26-80 and 16-50.

TEN FEATURE BOUTS SANDY BEACH TONIGHT

In the Ten Feature Bouts Matchmaker Groch has arranged for the Sandy Beach Arena at Crystal Lake the pick of amateur boxers will again compete. Tonight in the feature bout Jimmy Francimore of Thompsonville will be given a chance to avenge the score Jackie Horner of Broad Brook has on him by a decision in a hard fought battle a few weeks past. This rematch of Horner and Francimore should provide a real hard fight as both boys will be in there to win, both camps being in the twelve minutes they are in the squared arena.

In bringing together Young Griffo and Mike Murphy another bout that will be action throughout goes on the boards. Griffo, hailing from East Hampton, Murphy hailing from East Hampton, both southpaws with wins over the best featherweights in this state brings about a bout that for being evenly matched cannot be beat. When these two lads clash tonight there is bound to be a fight long to be remembered.

Jimmy Britt, the state flyweight champion, and who is a Rockvillian, meets the fast moving flyweight from Danison, Norman Leach. This is not the first meeting of these two boys. Leach lost a close contest to the champion at the indoor fights last fall. After campaigning down state for some time Leach is ready for another shot at the champ and is out to give him the fight of his career if not a beating.

Adolph Obricht, Manchester's up and coming featherweight, is down to battle a suitable opponent to be selected. Obricht, far from a first class boy, has a pleasing style and is gaining a rep with the fans due to his willingness to mix and fight.

BASEBALL

Tonight the Atlas and the Echoes will clash in the West Side League. Andy Fidler, who has been absent for the past two weeks, will be back on the mound for the Atlas with Johnny Hedlund going back to the plate. Bobby Sturgeon or Johnny Grendel will do the twirling for the Echoes with "Pete" Kletcha on the receiving end.

CREAM OF WORLD'S TENNIS STARS IN NATIONAL TOURNEY

Vines Defending Champ At Forest Hills; Cochet, Austin, Perry Among Foreign Invaders.

New York, Aug. 9.—(AP)—The close-clipped sod within the walls of Forest Hills stadium will feel the tramp of the finest international field assembled in several years during the 51st national tennis championships September 3rd to 10th.

Castworth Vines, Jr., the lanky California kid who defeated George Lott in last year's blazing final, will be there; so will Henri Cochet, the darling of Autuel and still ranked by most as the world's greatest tennis player; Henry Wilfred (Bunny) Austin, England's number one and his close British rival, Fred Perry; Marcel Bernard, best of the younger French crop, Jiro Satoh and T. Kuwabara, the latter champion of Japan, and the fine group of American youngsters—Frank X. Shields, Sidney S. Wood, Jr., Clifford Sutter, Kaitin Ghedini and the rest.

A Formidable Field
 It would not be surprising if Vines had rested uneasily under the American crown as he surveys that field. Cochet, of course, will be his hardest hurdle. The little Frenchman is dangerous at any time and has the added incentive of wanting to avenge the defeat he suffered at Vines' hands in the final match of Davis cup play.

It was his first defeat in five years' defense of the Davis cup and his friends say he felt it keenly. That was the final incident which led to his decision to make the American invasion this year, a trip long planned but almost abandoned. Whoever wins the title, he will have a hard row to hoe getting to the throne seat. On any given afternoon Shields, Wood, Ghedini, John Van Ryn, Wilmer Allison, Satoh, Kuwabara, Austin or Perry are very likely to beat whoever goes against them.

He'll Remember Shields
 Cochet probably still has memories of the tall, gangling 18-year-old who faced him across the net in the semi-finals of the 1928 play. Cochet by after power carried him to 8-6 in the second set before losing. That was Shields, at that time the most promising of the younger American players.

Vines has come along since to take number one rank, but some day Shields may be able to conquer that nervousness which ties up his muscles before every important match and seldom wears off until too late.

Kuwabara is a newcomer to the United States, but Satoh has played before, when Japan competed in the American zone of Davis cup play. Kuwabara is the present champion of Japan and had a better Davis cup record this year than his better known countryman.

Austin and Perry are both well known in the east. Perry going to the semi-finals of the nationals last year, where he lost to Vines. Austin is a stylist but without the physique to withstand a battering he must take from a Vines, a Lott or a Shields.

Ferry is potentially the more dangerous of the two but he has a bad fault of paying too much attention to the gallery and losing his poise at critical moments.

With the Olympics attracting the pick of world athletes in most other sports it seems appropriate that the United States this year also will entertain the pick of the world's tennis players. On to Forest Hills.

NO FINAL DECISION IN PAAVO NURMI CASE

Los Angeles, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Paavo Nurmi probably is through as an amateur outside of his native Finland, even though the International Amateur Athletic Federation has concluded its 1932 congress without officially stamping the famous Finn as a professional or acquiring the executive powers needed to rule him out of the amateur ranks.

Officials of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States, including Avery Brundage and Daniel J. Ferris, president and secretary, refused today to pass definitely on whether Nurmi would be permitted to engage in amateur competition in this country.

Although the Finn claimed a moral victory yesterday at the federation's congress, they failed to get any definite action clearing Nurmi of the charges of professionalism which caused rejection of his Olympic entry. The vote was so close over granting the executive council power to disbar an athlete or member nation, for rules violations, that the issue was put over until the 1934 congress in Stockholm.

The vote was 12 to 12 in favor of granting the powers with the United States casting the deciding vote. The proposition then was reconsidered and tabled by unanimous consent, at the suggestion of J. S. Edstrom of Sweden, the president.

Italian Wins 1500-Meter Run

A new Olympic record of 3 minutes 51.2 seconds in the final of the 1500-meter run was set by L. Beccali of Italy, who is shown above as he broke the tape. John Cornes of Great Britain, second and Phil Edwards, colored boy from Canada, third, are shown in the background.

SENATORS OWN MOST EFFECTIVE HURLER

Weaver Leads Both Leagues With 18 Wins, Five Defeats.

Walter Johnson perhaps has few rivals now of winning an American League pennant with his Washington Senators this year but at least he has uncovered the most effective pitching rookie in the circuit.

Monte M. Weaver, who quit school to cast his lot with baseball now leads both leagues in games won and lost with 18 wins and only five defeats. Weaver has beaten every club in the American League at least once. Of his five defeats three were handed him by St. Louis. He has not lost a game since June 14.

He needed all sorts of luck yesterday, however, to chalk up his 18th triumph at the expense of the Cleveland Indians 7 to 6. He was battered for 10 hits and was driven to cover in the eighth inning when the Indians rallied for two runs, within one of a tie.

The only other clubs in action, the St. Louis Cards and Phillies put in exactly five hours and seven minutes actual playing time as the Cards won two games 7-6 and 6-4 in 11 innings.

BLUEFIELDS SUFFER SEASON'S 1ST DEFEAT

The Bluefields journeyed to Middletown Sunday and met the Cubs A. C. of that place. The Bluefields met with their first defeat of the season, 6 to 3. Due to vacations and injuries the Bluefields' line-up was pretty well mixed up, literally and figuratively. In the 8th and again in the 9th the Bluefields were guilty of costly bores which accounted for at least three of Tuft's scores. These same teams will meet again on the Bluefields' diamond on Aug. 21 and the Bluefields say that the result will not be against them. An interesting thing was the use of a pollock to retrieve the baseball batted over the back stop.

The Bluefields would like to arrange for games with the various home companies or with the Green team. Address, The Bluefields, 55 Main street, Town.

GRIMM TO PILOT CUBS NEXT YEAR

Chicago, Aug. 9.—(AP)—As far as William L. Veck, president of the Chicago Cubs is concerned, Charley Grimm is not just a stopgap manager and will pilot the club next year.

"I think," Veck said, "that Grimm's showing with the ball club since he took charge warrants his retention as manager next season."

EXPERTS CRITICIZE U.S. G. A.'S WALKER CUP TEAM CHOICE

Believe Association Felt Sorry For British, Wanted To Make Battle Respectable Contest.

New York, Aug. 9.—If the United States loses the Walker Cup matches to the British team at Brookline, Mass., Sept. 1 and 2, the mail carrier who bears correspondence to the U. S. G. A. offices here is going to have a tough job for a while.

The naming of a team which ignored the golfing abilities of Johnny Goodner and Gus Moreland has given the experts cause for believing with alarm the approaching contest.

It has been pointed out that Harrison Johnston and Jess Weaver, who were chosen for the team have been unable to hold their own in active competition for several years. They were good Walker Cup golfers once, neither having been defeated in two matches apiece in the international competition. But golf chroniclers from Bangor to Lewistown agree that their day has passed.

GUSTA PITCHES NO HIT, NO RUN GAME

Blanks Colored Terriers of Hartford and Singles To Win Own Game.

The Sub-Alpine A. C. won a hotly contested game from the Colored Terriers of Hartford at Riverside Park last night.

A rally in the sixth inning by the Sub-Alpine netted two runs which were the only runs made in the whole game.

R. Sturgeon led off with a hit, followed by singles by Enrico and J. Gusta. Besides pitching a no hit, no run game Johnny Gusta won his own game by getting a hit in the last inning.

The Sub-Alpine will play the Irish Nites tonight at Charter Oak street. This game has attracted a lot of excitement since both teams play at Charter Oak field.

WEST BEATS EAST IN DEMONSTRATION GAME AT OLYMPICS

Place-Kick Clinches Victory, 7-6; All Scores Made in Last Period; Shaver Hero of Battle.

Los Angeles, Aug. 9.—(AP)—"Gus" Shaver of Southern California personally attended to matching victory for the Western "big three" eleven from an Eastern team last evening in a demonstration game of American college football, played under the flood lights of the Olympic stadium, with many of the sixty thousand spectators seeing their first contest. The final score was 7 to 6 in favor of the combined forces of U. S. C., California and Stanford, against the aggregation representing Yale, Harvard and Princeton, but the far western players gave a more superior exhibition of offensive football than the margin indicated. All the scoring was confined to the last period and the West's winning spurt came with only three minutes left to play and the East fighting desperately to hold its touchdown lead.

The East after staying off three Western drives to its five yard line in the first three periods, broke the scoreless deadlock by gaining a touchdown early in the final quarter through the alertness of a Yale boy named Burton Strang. A dazzling 38 yard broken field run by Harold Eddie Mays just before the third quarter ended, put the East in scoring position for the first time. Big Ed Rotan of Yale tried a place-kick with the ball on the West's 27 yard line, but it was partly blocked and bounced off at a tangent, still on the playing field. As the startled Westerns fumbled the ball around their own five yard line, Strang came bounding through to pick it up and race across the goal line. Mays attempted dropkick for the extra point was blocked.

From their own 35 yard line after Rotan's kickoff the Westerners juggled the ball straight down the field, 65 yards in 15 plays with Shaver doing most of the work and finally diving over his right tackle for the touchdown on fourth down. Shaver's longest gain in this sequence of plays was 20 yards but he proved himself easily the slipperiest ball carrier on the field. The decisive point which clinched the West's victory was place-kicked by Ed Korman, of California, right halfback.

Most of the selections for this year's team found more than usual favor with the U. S. G. A.'s severest critics as far as geography is concerned. Four places were won by the metropolitan area—George Vogt, Maurice McCarthy, Sweetser and George Dunlap. Paul Outmet, captain, represents New England; Charley Seaver and Don Moe are from the Pacific region. Jimmy Johnston and Jack Westland are middle-westerners. Billy Howell is from Richmond, Va.

Of the 10 members, four are young men who face their first baptism in Walker Cup fire. They are Howell, Seaver, Westland and Dunlap. McCarthy was an alternate in 1928. Seaver's fine performance in 1930 at Merion probably earned him an appointment.

Young Don Moe certainly deserves his place. The sparkling 67 he shot to win a point for the United States in 1930 after he was seven down to J. A. Stout ranked with the memorable feats of the fairways.

NO. 2 MEETS GREEN IN GAME TONIGHT

Having met and defeated two of the South Manchester Fire Department's baseball teams, the Manchester Green nine will play Hose Company No. 2, tonight at 8:30 at Jarvis Grove. Vot and Cone will pitch for the Green and H. Mullin for the firemen. The Green has beaten Hose Companies 3 and 4.

The line-ups:
 Hose Co. No. 2: S. Bray, if; C. Anderson, cf; C. Chambers, rf; J. Gamba, 3b; H. Symington, ss; F. Finnegan, 2b; R. Smith, 1b; W. Humphord, c; H. Mullin, p; Sub: Dusty Mary; Bob May; Wm. Mack; R. Kismann; C. Joyce; L. Turkington

Green: Coner, p; Hutchinson, 3b; Borrello, c; Grandi, 2b; Lippincott, ss; Hubbard, rf; Finney, 1b; Viot, if; Phelps, cf; Hastings, cf; R. Jarvis, if.

Many partisan fans swarmed from the stands to participate in the hotly argued, but the only injury appeared to be badly ruffled feelings and disarrayed clothes.

The United States and Hungary are tied for first in the water polo with two victories each, with Germany and Japan tied. The American seven meets the Hungarians tomorrow after the 200 meter relay championship for men. The other events on the program are the 100 meter back stroke preliminaries for women.

Norman Kies, catcher, returned to Newark by the Atlantic Crocker, has been optioned to Scranton.

COURT MAY OUST DOWIE FROM HOME

Another Chapter Added To Queer History of Founder of Zion City.

Waukegan, Ill., Aug. 9.—(AP)—The shadow of an ouster proceeding hung today over Shiloh House, family home of the widow and son of the late Dr. John Alexander Dowie, founder of the Christian Apostolic Church of Zion.

Circuit Judge Ralph J. Dady yesterday gave the Rev. A. J. Gladstone Dowie, the son, until next Monday to show cause why he should not make payments on a mortgage on Shiloh House in near by Zion City, or be ousted. The order was issued after Theodore Goldsmith, a real estate dealer, told the court that he held a $10,000 mortgage on the place, but was unable to collect.

If an ouster is issued it will add another chapter to a long series of events, which included the spectacular rise of Wilbur Glenn Voliva, who came into complete control of the religious colony at Zion City in 1911.

Voliva, who professes to believe that the earth is flat, was the central figure in a court fight which developed in 1927 upon the death of the founder of the colony, with control of the church as the issue.

Voliva set up a tent on a farm near Zion City, and called for supporters. They came and were so numerous that within a short while Voliva was able to start buying up the village, and its property from the court. Various industries were set up to support the population. There were stores and shops of numerous kinds that paid from the start.

For twenty years Mrs. Dowie, the 77-year-old widow of the colony's founder, remained away from Zion City. Shiloh House, which was built by her husband, was sold in the meanwhile, but it was re-purchased a few years ago by her son, and for two years past he and his mother have occupied the place.

Voliva's tenet, have been widely publicized. They include an ordinance against smoking.

KIN OF THURLOW WEED DIES IN ROCHESTER

Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 9.—(AP)—Mrs. Emily Weed Hollister, grand-daughter of Thurlow Weed, noted statesman and diplomat of the Civil War era, died here today at the age of 75.

Her death followed by five weeks that of her husband, a prominent lumber dealer of this city.

Mrs. Hollister spent much of her life before her marriage with her grandfather and when his sight began to fail was his constant companion at affairs of state at home and abroad.

Her collection of letters and rare mementoes of Lincoln, Mr. Weed and other dignitaries of Europe and America of that epoch was considered noteworthy.

She was born in Albany in 1857 and went to live with her grandfather in New York at the age of 12. She graduated from St. Agnes Episcopal school in Albany in 1873.

Mrs. Hollister leaves three daughters, Elisabeth H. Frost Blair of Barrytown, well known writer of lyric poetry, Isabelle H. Tuttle of New Haven, wife of H. Emerson Tuttle, head of Davenport College of Yale University, and noted etcher, Harriet Weed Spencer of this city and five grandsons.

The funeral will be held Thursday and burial will be in Mount Hope cemetery here.

J. F. BURKE DIES; WAS G. O. P. COUNSEL

Burke and said from New York today for Europe but the trip was cancelled on Dr. Boone's advice.

Burke was born in Petroleum Center, Vananog county, Pa., October 21, 1867. He represented the United States in the Parliamentary Peace Conference in Brussels in 1906. While still at the University of Michigan, where he received a Bachelor of Laws degree, he organized and was president of the national-wide Republican College League which brought him to the attention of party leaders.

In 1922 he was chosen as the youngest secretary of the National committee. Later he was appointed to codify the United States Navigation laws and represented the Thirty-first Pennsylvania District in Congress, becoming Republican whip.

He also prepared the Constitution of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and was its first counsel at Washington.

Washington, Aug. 9.—(AP)—James Francis Burke, counsel for the Republican National committee, who died here last night, was praised today by President Hoover as "an indefatigable worker" who "labored for the country he loved up to the hour of his death."

The President, a friend of Burke's for many years, said in a statement: "I feel deeply the loss of James Francis Burke. He was an ardent supporter and a high official of the Republican Party."

In addition he was identified with a multitude of public movements not only in his own city but over the country. For many years he gave his time and service to matters of public interest in every direction in the public good.

"An indefatigable worker, he labored for the country he loved up to the hour of his death."

At the White House it was said Burke's body would be taken to his Pittsburgh home this afternoon.

President Hoover said funeral services would be held in Pittsburgh Friday, probably some time after 11 a. m. in order that many of the Republican high command taking part in the notification ceremonies for President Hoover Thursday night could be present.

TO HOLD BREWERY FOR BEER'S RETURN

Mr. Slade stated "that the creditors of the concern which was adjudicated bankrupt October 20, 1930, were a hundred per cent behind the proposition that Edward M. Rosenbald of Meriden, trustee of the bankrupt estate, held the property for a reasonable length of time."

Decision Reserved

Judge Edwin S. Thomas who heard the arguments reserved decision on the matter, but promised by Thursday that he would decide.

During the past three months, Mr. Slade told the court, several engineers representing interests from outside of Connecticut have inspected the plant and taken note of its possibilities. Morris M. Wilder of Meriden, attorney for the bank, said that from 30 to 35 engineers from Connecticut, New York and Chicago interests had visited the plant in Meriden.

The plant, which Mr. Wilder stated represented an investment of $300,000 and is now assessed by the city of Meriden at more than $100,000 value, has been idle for some time now, although it at one time was used for the manufacture of near-beer. Before the passage of the Volstead Act, the plant was used for the manufacture of beer and has a capacity of 800 barrels a day, it was said by Mr. Wilder.

ON SPEAKER'S PLATFORM

Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Three of Ohio's favorite son candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination at the Chicago convention will appear on the speaker's platform with Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt when the latter opens the party's National campaign here August 20.

Former Governor James M. Cox, the presidential nominee in 1920, has accepted an invitation to introduce Roosevelt, this year's standard-bearer. Cox will be presented by Senator Robert J. Bulkley, chairman of the state platform convention, and Governor George White will welcome Roosevelt to Ohio.

REACH NO ACCORD AT OTTAWA PARLEY

Canadian and British Delegations Cannot Agree On Trade Relations.

Ottawa, Aug. 9.—(AP)—A rift between the Canadian and British delegations over terms for trade agreements cast a shadow over the Imperial parley here today and sent the British into conference with the Australians.

Malcolm MacDonald son of the British Premier and press liaison officer for the delegation, issued an announcement last night however, emphasizing that the difference which had arisen were not such as to threaten a deadlock such as occurred in the previous conference at London in 1930.

From the beginning the negotiations between Canada and Great Britain have been the most important phase of the conference and the two delegations have made no secret of the fact they were out to drive the best bargain possible.

The British have had to consider the effect of Empire preferences on Britain's isolated position, the possible political consequences of arrangements which would cause higher food prices at home and also British trade relations with Russia, where there is a population of 200,000,000 to sell to compared with Canada's population of 10,000,000.

Canada also has had to keep in mind the

25,000 GERMANS TAKEN
 On Aug. 9, 1918, British troops on the Somme battlefield pressed forward more than five miles on a frontage of nearly 20 miles in a day of desperate attacks and counter-attacks.
 German resistance was stubborn in the extreme, and this fact helped account for the 25,000 prisoners taken in the two days of bitter fighting.
 German losses were enormous. Their troops on the Somme front were tired out from nearly four months of continuous fighting, and their reserves were not sufficient to plug in the huge gaps in their lines.

CONCERT FEATURES AMERICAN'S MUSIC Works of Salvation Army Band Leader To Be Played Here This Evening. The program for the sixth weekly concert by the Salvation Army Band in Center Park at 8 o'clock tonight will be unique, in that it will be devoted entirely to the works of one American composer, Staff Captain William Broughton, who for years was leader of the famous First Salvation Army band and is now in charge of the Chicago Staff Band. His arrangements, especially the American melodies, have been well received whenever played by the local band. Outstanding numbers on the program include "Songs of the Evangel," a medley of songs by Commander Evangeline Booth, arranged for bands by Staff Captain Broughton; two medleys of American melodies, a march "Carry On," which phrase was the official order to resume operations in the American Army and Navy during the war, being typically American. The program will close with an illuminated, realistic presentation of the "Star Spangled Banner," a number that is being given as a surprise feature. Refreshments will be served by the Manchester Dairy. The Chamber of Commerce will be represented by Harold West. The complete program will be as follows: March—"America." "Flowing River." "Songs of the Evangel." Festival March—"Bless Our Army." Medley—"American Melodies No. 1." March—"Purpose Firm." March—"All 'Round The World," featuring "Old Black Joe." "Songs of the Evangel." No. 2 similar to No. 1. March—"Auld Lang Syne." Medley—"American Melodies No. 2," a more lengthy and elaborate number than the previous arrangement. March—"Carry On." Realistic presentation of "The Star Spangled Banner."

Miss Elizabeth Keen, who has been spending a three weeks' vacation at her home on Benton street, and at Cornfield Point, has resumed her studies at the Middlesex Hospital Training School for Nurses, Middletown.
