MONEY TRANSFERS NOT THE MAYOR'S

Walker's Lawyer Tries To Prove That Money Belonged To Missing Accountant Sherwood.

Executive Chamber, Albany, N. Y., Aug. 19.—(AP)—Samuel Seabury, counsel to the Hofstadter committee, charged to Mayor Walker large transfers of money from the accounts of Russell T. Sherwood, missing accountant, on July 21, the mayor's attorney, argued today "without any evidence whatsoever."

Curtin continued today his contention began yesterday that Governor Roosevelt should dismiss the counter charges against the mayor. At 12:30 (Eastern Standard Time) the hearing recessed for an hour. The executive hearing, now in its seventh day, will recess tonight over Saturday and be resumed on Monday. During the interim, Mr. Roosevelt will make the final speech of his campaign for the presidency at Columbus, Ohio, tomorrow. Court procedure begun by Mr. Walker yesterday to return the government from removing him was postponed until Monday when it was attempted to halt the hearing. Curtin has summoned W. Kingsland Macy, Republican state chairman, and other prominent Republican leaders to testify as his lawyer's witnesses. The Democrats repeatedly have demanded that an investigation be a political move to bedevil what they claim was "President Hoover's failure to meet the economic emergency."

"There is not the slightest proof," said Curtin, "any of this money being loaned to Mayor Walker. It is a matter of fact, not a matter of law, that the money should have been accounted for the money that went into those (the Sherwood) accounts."

PAUL BLACK PRESENT
Executive Chamber, Albany, N. Y., Aug. 19.—(AP)—Paul Black, mayor's counsel, John J. Curtin, mayor's lawyer, and Samuel Seabury, counsel to the Hofstadter committee, were present at the hearing on the executive chamber before 11 a. m. (Eastern Standard Time) for the continuation of the hearing before Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt on removal charges. Paul Black, newspaper publisher, also was present as the governor arrived, and the hearing convened. Black established the missing money account from which the mayor has testified he received $246,000 profit.

Resuming his argument for dismissal yesterday's sessions, Curtin took up number 10, involving the mayor's business relations with the missing accountant, Russell T. Sherwood. Samuel Seabury, counsel to the Hofstadter legislative committee, has charged that Sherwood was Walker's fiscal agent, handled in 5 1/2-year stock transactions totaling nearly $1,000,000. Curtin's argument for dismissing the Sherwood conclusion was based on a contention that Mayor Walker's dealings with Sherwood had nothing to do with his fiscal agency. "There is no evidence whatsoever," Curtin said, "that the money deposited in the Sherwood accounts did in fact belong to the mayor."

LODGE LOTTERIES ARE UNDER PROBE

High Officials of Moose and Eagles Indicted — Raised Funds for Jobs.

New York, Aug. 19.—(AP)—The indictment of Senator James J. Davis of Pennsylvania, and other charges of participating in far-flung fraternal lotteries stirred interest in lodge circles throughout the nation today as the accused men denied any wrong doing. There was no indication of when the trial will be held although Senator Davis, in a statement read at Washington, called for a speedy one.

"I am sure these charges will prove false," he said. James J. Conroy, Jr., attorney of Conrad H. Mann, another of the indicted men, said he was convinced there has been no violation of the law so far as the Fraternal Order of Eagles and its officers are concerned. Mann, a prominent business man, is accused of heading the law connection with a lottery conducted under auspices of the Eagles, of which he is a national official. Head of Moose, Davis, former secretary of labor, is alleged to have played a part in lottery as director general of the (Continued on Page Nine)

SMALL U. S. BANKS MOSTLY ASSISTED

Secretary Mills Denies That Great City Banks Got Most of Federal Loans.

Providence, R. I., Aug. 19.—(AP)—The Reconstruction Corporation Secretary Mills denied today that the $1,219,000,000 of 4,947 institutions including 4,190 banks and trust companies from February 21 to July 21.

Secretary Mills made the figures public today in an address at the annual meeting of the Stratton College of Business Administration here. He denied the corporation had helped only the great city banks and other large institutions, and described the efforts to revive business. Mills said the corporation had advanced $200,000,000 to 43 small banks and trust companies. Of that sum, $90,000,000 went to aid in the reorganization or liquidation of 346 closed banks.

Other Loans
He added that $200,000,000 was loaned to 541 building and loan associations; $67,000,000 to 75 insurance companies; $51,000,000 to 68 mortgage loan companies; $37,000,000 to 10 agricultural credit corporations; $20,000,000 to 14 investment credit corporations; nearly a million dollars to five joint stock land banks; $28,000,000 to eight Federal land banks; $406,000, to 43 small banks and $400,000,000 to 43 small banks and receivers.

"Of the $1,219,000,000 authorized," Mills said, "287,000,000 had actually been disbursed on July 30 of this year. The balance of $932,000,000 is available for disbursement."

Reports Unfavorable
"It has been said that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation benefits only the great city banks and other large institutions," Mills continued. "The contrary is true. The great majority of banks which have been helped are in small towns. Specifically, 70 per cent of the banks which have been helped are in towns of less than 25,000 population."

LEGION TO WATCH ECONOMY LEAGUE

Commander Breslin Says Hoover's Like Dark Cloud Over Ex-Service Men.

Waterbury, Aug. 19.—(AP)—A close watch over the activities of the National Economy League, an organization pledged to work for reduction of governmental expenditures, was urged today by Department Commander James E. Breslin in his annual report to the state convention of the American Legion. The league, headed by Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, Polar explorer, was subjected to criticism during the Massachusetts Legion convention last week on the ground that it was inimical to benefits granted for veterans.

"This organization," Breslin said, "is like a dark cloud hovering over the ex-service men, and we must be prepared to fight back when the storm breaks in order to protect the just compensation that the disabled veterans are entitled to."

Bride Bids Goodspeed to "British Lindy" on Round Trip Sea Flight

He had some trans-Atlantic flying to do, so J. A. He was en route to Ireland, from where he took off on an attempted round trip flight to New York.

He was en route to Ireland, from where he took off on an attempted round trip flight to New York.

It was in this small, swift plane, capable of a 138-mile-an-hour speed that James A. Mollison, the "British Lindyberg," took off from Portsmouth, England, on his attempt to make a round trip to New York. The silver-gray plane, with "The Heart's Content" and small Union Jacks painted on each side, carried fuel for many hours flying.

OLD GUARD LOSES GRIP ON STATE'S DEMOCRATS

Observers See Drift of Delegates To Other Faction: See Contest Between Longan and Prof. Ayers.

Lines of battle within the coming Democratic state convention, were drawn in Democratic caucus held throughout the State last night. A general survey published in reports of increased industrial and construction activity today expressed opinions that the Spring New Guard obtained on the party organization in the State. He dominance, at the National convention in Chicago, had resulted in a drift of members, heretofore supporters of the Old Guard into the ranks of the contesting faction.

The question of a nominee for governor was not an issue as it had been agreed by both sides that Governor Cross will be renominated at state point on September 2. The makeup of the ticket as to eight officers was not defined by caucus results. Each faction has set to prepare its list.

For United States Ayers, the contest probably will be between Congressman Augustine Longan of Hartford, supported by Professor J. Spellacy and his followers and Senator Harry Morgan Ayers of Columbia University, who lives in Westport. The New Guard will support the latter. For congressman-at-large the field apparently will be between Judge Martin E. Corneley of Newburgh, starting out with 61 delegates in the second district, and Congressman William L. Tierney of Greenwich will be named again in the Fourth District and even without an opponent in night Bridgeport promised him 49 votes. Judge Martin E. Corneley of Newburgh, who ran for Congress in the Fifth District two years ago, has a number of delegates in the 12th district although Winchester, an Old Guard stronghold, refused to abstain to 23 to pledge its delegation. On the other hand Salisbury in Littlefield county will give its votes to Corneley.

There were no indications in the Second District as to the candidate for the Congressional nomination, although former state Senator William C. Fox has been mentioned for this place. In the Third District, in the Third District it has been (Continued on Page Twelve)

GAG RULE VOTE SPITS UP DEMS AS CAUCUS ENDS

Old Guard Peeved As Unit Control Is Put Over — Dr. Dolan Injects Religious Issue in Address.

Manchester Democrats in attendance at the party caucus held at the Armory the afternoon and evening of last night spent an hour waiting for the meeting to get under way. Judging from the minutes presented and the ensuing general harmony which characterized the conference was a success. The caucus was held in the room below. Judging from the minutes presented and the ensuing general harmony which characterized the conference was a success.

Dr. Dolan's New Guard forces won the complete support of the majority of the places on all delegations and as the meeting was about to adjourn putting into effect the resolution that the unit rule be in force in all delegations votes. This last move was the straw that broke the camel's back as far as the Old Guard was concerned. They obtained their agreement to accept a compromise that gave them representation on all rule put across, robbing them of any delegates. The majority expressing their opinions of the manner in which they had been treated.

The caucus was convened Monday night by an address by Dr. Dolan in which he charged that a widespread feeling of discontent existed among the Republicans. He indicated that the Republicans were "giving up" and that they were "giving up" on their principles. He stated that the Republicans were "giving up" on their principles and that they were "giving up" on their principles.

The small hall on the second floor of the Manchester Fire department headquarters was filled as the caucus opened. It being necessary for reports of the caucus to be made to the hall and every one in the hall was interested in the proceedings of the caucus. The caucus opened with an apology for the late start. Dr. Dolan, chairman of the caucus, wanted to be fair to all concerned and to the members of the caucus. He stated that the caucus was a success and that the members of the caucus were satisfied with the results.

Pennfield Ridge, N. H., Aug. 19.—(AP)—Capt. J. A. Mollison, the first man to make a solo flight westward across the North Atlantic, landed just outside this village at 11:45 a. m. E. S. T. today, too tired to go any farther. He had flown more than 20,000 miles, had pushed his plane, "The Heart's Content," stripped down so that it was little more than a flying gas tank, across nearly 3,000 miles of ocean through weather that was none too good.

He had plenty of fuel and but for his own weariness might have gone on to New York, he said. When he got this far, however, and saw through a broad meadow below him his drooping car in a perfect landing. It was small village.

Pennfield Ridge is a village of more than 300 population. It has many telephones and cars, but Capt. Mollison was the only one there reporting his landing a few minutes after he was down. Farmers and fishermen crowded out from the village to the field and from the field to the railroad station. They had seen him coming and had been waiting for his arrival. They were glad to see him and were glad to see him.

DISPUTES FEATURE LEGION'S PARLEY

Breslin's Appointments Opposed and Verbal Battle Then Rages For 2 Hours.

Waterbury, Aug. 19.—(AP)—The committee appointments of Department Commander James E. Breslin were opposed today by the opening guns of the battle brewing at the state convention of the American Legion. Opposition to the commander's appointments was voiced immediately upon the opening of Breslin's session. For two hours thereafter supporters for both sides waged a fiery verbal battle, resorting to every parliamentary possibility. The battle concluded when an amendment to a previous motion by former Department Commander W. S. Alexander of Meriden in which Alexander urged mediation in the matter of the appointments was defeated on a roll call 189 to 190. Commander Breslin then stated his own motion, that the appointments be appointed with one member each of the seven department districts carried.

FLIGHT TO NORWAY AGAIN POSTPONED

Barré, Vt., Aug. 18.—(AP)—Clyde A. Lee of Oshkosh, Wis., has postponed for at least 24 hours the start of his projected flight to Oslo, Norway. Reports of fog off Newfoundland land caused him to postpone the start.

It had originally planned to take off from the Montpelier-Barre Airport for Harbor Grace, N. F., on the first leg to the flight.

There was some doubt concerning the identity of his co-pilot, Julius Robertson of Muskegon, Mich., originally scheduled to accompany Lee, who was reported to have withdrawn and to have been replaced by John Bookhon of Brooklyn, N. Y. Lee, however, said the position was still open to Robertson if he wished it.

Bookhon, he added, was ready to make the flight if Robertson finally decided to withdraw.

"The Boston weather bureau," Lee said, "advised me not to take off today because Newfoundland was fogged in."

Lee Oshkosh, after said he had decided not to carry radio equipment at the particular type he considered carrying had given him trouble in the past. It also constituted a fire hazard, he said.

SPORT WORLD LOSES ANOTHER OLD STAR

George "Candy" Lanchance of 1903 Red Sox Team Passes At 63.

Waterbury, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Baseball has lost another of its old timers—George "Candy" Lanchance, first baseman on the 1903 world champion Boston Red Sox team. The veteran player, who began his professional career as a catcher with the Portland, Maine club of the old New England League in 1891, died last night at the age of 63 years after a year's illness.

Lanchance, converted from a catcher into first baseman by late Charles Bennett, owner of the Red Sox in 1902 and closed his baseball career with him in 1904. During the two years with the team, he helped the Red Sox beat the Pittsburgh Pirates in six out of eight games in the World Series, which in 1904 sided the club against another league champion.

Candy donned a baseball uniform for the first time in 1900 when he appeared in a benefit game at the Hub City between players of all Boston teams of his day. In recent years he had been employed as a watchman in a Waterbury factory.

GAG RULE VOTE SPLITS UP DEMS AS CAUCUS ENDS

Mr. Delano Roosevelt for president. He said that through united effort there was a good chance of carrying Manchester for Governor Cross and the whole state. He said that he wanted to explain his own support of Roosevelt. He insisted that he had not given support to the Roosevelt candidate until after Alfred E. Smith had announced that he was not a candidate for any office.

WARREN SPOT FOR SMITH

Dr. Dolan said that Alfred E. Smith was the candidate he would have warmly supported. He said that he had a warm spot in his heart for Smith and that Dr. Dolan stated that it was his heart that acted and that he had done his best.

WORK TO BE DONE

Continuing Dr. Dolan reminded his listeners that there is a great deal to be done. He argued that a whipping campaign against Roosevelt will be of little avail. He said that the Democrats were passing around that Roosevelt is not a friend of Catholics in New England. "We Catholics must not believe that because Franklin D. Roosevelt is a friend of Catholics he is a Catholic," Dr. Dolan insisted. "He is a successful politician," he said.

WEEK IN THE LAGOON

Insisting that the Democrats had passed it around that Roosevelt is a well man, Dr. Dolan stated that the candidate recently passed a successful insurance examination. He asserted that it would be better to have a man weak in the legs but strong in the head in the White House than one strong in the legs but weak in the head. Referring again to the whipping campaign, he charged was in progress. Dr. Dolan urged those Catholics to remember that the last Democratic nomination, Woodrow Wilson, aided by former Governor Glynn, of New York really brought about the Irish Free State. Concluding with the remark that he believed Roosevelt a healthier man than Hoover, Dr. Dolan then closed the naming of a clerk.

CLERK NOT VOTER

Mrs. Sarah Healy was mentioned but she declined. Then Miss Mary Deanechender was nominated. C. S. McCallie, Mrs. Deanechender was prepared with a stenographic notebook but it was called to the attention of the caucus that Mrs. Deanechender is not yet a voter. She continued as secretary with Mrs. Harry Elyard being named clerk of the caucus.

COMMITTEE CONSISTING OF

C. S. McCallie, John Spillane, Mrs. Richard G. Rich, Joseph Moriarty, and James Duffy was named to retire and bring in nominations as delegates to the three conventions. They conferred but a short time bringing in the following list:

DELEGATES

State Convention: Dr. E. G. Dolan, Andrew J. Healy, C. S. McCallie, Joseph Moriarty, Joseph Doyle, Edward J. Murphy, John Shea, Mrs. Mary Deanechender, Mrs. Rossie Trumbo, and Mrs. Mary Branick.

CONGRESSIONAL CONVENTION

John Spillane, James Duffy, Mrs. W. J. Foley, John P. Limerick, Michael Sheehan, Mrs. Thomas Gannab, Felix Mosser, Mrs. J. M. Magrath and Edward J. Murphy.

PUBLIC NURSES' WORK STRESSED

New Manual Tells of Principles and Relationship to Profession.

Miss Rachel C. Colby, chairman of the Public Health Nursing section of the Connecticut State Nurses Association, is calling the attention of all persons interested in this subject to the new manual of Public Health Nursing which has just been published by the national organization. This manual discusses the principles of Public Health Nursing and its relationship to the medical profession and others who care for the sick. It discusses the organization and administration of Public Health Nursing agencies, as well as nursing procedure and technique. Of prime importance to many committees who have to select nurses to carry out Public Health Nursing programs in the communities is the statement of Minimum Qualifications for such personnel. These listed qualifications serve as a guide to people who must select nurses to fill Public Health Nursing positions and to all institutions which represent the minimum requirements for such good Public Health Nursing associations require from its staff members.

Minimum qualifications, which are stated to become effective in 1933, define standards for Public Health Nurses on a Staff Providing Well Qualified Supervision of Nurses Working Alone, i.e., Without Qualified Nurse Supervision; (3) "For Supervisors," (4) "For District Directors," (5) "For Directors."

The Public Health Nursing Organization in Connecticut calls attention particularly to those institutions for staff nurses, believing that visiting nurse associations, particular to be glad to know that they should expect when engaging new members of their staff. These qualifications follow:

1. For the Nurse on a staff providing well qualified nurse supervision.

A.—At least high school graduation or its educational equivalent as determined by the State Department of Education.

B.—Fundamental nursing education—namely, graduation from an accredited school for nurses connected with a general hospital having a daily average of 50 patients or more, curriculum should include practical experience in caring for men, women and children, instruction with theoretical and practical instruction in medical, surgical, obstetrical, and pediatric nursing. Such experience may be secured in one or more hospitals. It is highly desirable, in addition, that preference be given the public health nurse who has had training in communicable diseases (including tuberculosis and venereal disease), in infectious diseases and mental hygiene, and such specialties as disease of the eye, ear, nose and throat.

2. For the Nurse Working Alone, or as a post graduate course.

A. and H. as above.

C.—In addition, it is desirable that she have had at least six weeks' instruction in public health nursing, preferably in one of the recognized public health nursing courses and one year's experience under adequate supervision, or two years' experience under adequate supervision, or a public health nursing course endorsed by the National Organization for Public Health Nursing.

Occasional exceptions may be made for those not meeting this academic and fundamental nursing standard, but such nurses should have proved their ability before being appointed for positions where they work alone, and should be expected to meet requirements C.

It is of primary importance that every public health nurse have suitable personal qualifications.

RAISE LESS TOBACCO

Hartford, Aug. 19—(AP)—Production of broad leaf tobacco in the Connecticut valley is estimated at 40 per cent lower than last year by the New England crop survey service, Charles D. Lewis, Hartford county farm bureau agent, said today.

The estimated yield is the lowest since separate figures have been kept for broad leaf. Without considering hail damage, the crop is believed to total slightly more than 11,000,000 pounds.

Indianaopolis, Aug. 19—(AP)—A shorter or "flexible" working week is overwhelmingly favored by American Legion posts as a means of spreading work and increasing employment, incomplete returns of a poll of Legion posts showed today. Henry L. Stevens, Jr., National commander, announced that the first replies from the 10,000 posts showed a ratio of almost 7 to 1 favoring the proposal. He said 785 voted for the shorter week and 122 against it.

"Sentiment for the 'flexible' week Stevens reported, 'is not confined to any section or locality, and the farming districts are in favor of it as strongly as the industrial centers. Sentiment in the big cities is overwhelmingly in favor of it.'"

The present figures, the Legion head asserted, represent comment in every state. The Legion has joined with the American Federation of Labor in sponsoring the shorter work week to combat unemployment. Commander Stevens cited statistics which he said "show that if the shorter working week were to be universally adopted today the more than 11,000,000 jobs would be nearly absorbed in the ranks of wage earners."

BIGAMIST IS ARRESTED

REBELS ARE DEFEATED

Boston, Aug. 19—(AP)—Arthur W. Potter, 26, a grocery store manager, today found himself confronted with the problem of proving to the police that he had not been married three times without divorcing his first two wives.

Potter was arrested in a Book Bay apartment early today. With him was Mrs. Anne (Jeffries) Potter, who the police say is his third wife. The arrest was made on complaint of Mrs. Mildred J. (Kennedy) Potter who claims she married at Greenwich, Conn., March 24, 1920, and was deserted six months later. She has a son two years old.

Potter said that when Potter was confronted by Mrs. Mildred Potter, he exclaimed: "Why that's not Cecilia." This led to further questioning, which, police said, disclosed that he had also married a Cecilia Wilkman at Staten Island, N. Y., in March 1925.

Mrs. Anne Potter told the police she married Potter in June, 1930 in Manhattan, N. H.

Potter was held on bigamy charges.

OLD GUARD LOSTS GRIP ON STATE'S DEMOCRATS

In many towns contests developed in the caucuses. In some delegates were instructed as to their Senatorial district conventions.

The stiffest fight between factions was in Stamford where former Mayor Alfred N. Phillips, Jr. was beaten out by John A. Walsh, New Guard leader, by 297 votes in a poll of nearly 8,000. In this also was seen a local victory for Representative Joseph P. Lawrence for the Senatorial district nomination as against Senator H. Allen Carter of Greenwich.

In Bristol Mayor Joseph F. Dutton was supported for secretary of state and the delegates instructed for Longeneck and Citron. For the first time a caucus list was used over protests of several including Dutton.

Middletown instructed its delegation for Peter J. Conneron of Hartford for state controller.

Norwich elected a New Guard delegation.

The Waterbury caucus was held without contest and the 38 votes will be cast as a unit by Mayor Frank Hayes of Old Guard leader.

In Prospect two caucuses were held and the result probably will be decided by the state committee in preparing the convention roll call.

Hartford was in Hartford.

The Hartford town convention was a model of harmonious action.

The 61 delegates were instructed for Longeneck for U. S. Senator and Conneron for comptroller and will convene at 10 o'clock at the State House on Monday.

The New Guard where efforts had been made to harmonize the party followers who, like the Republicans, have been stirred up over local matters, a delegation headed by Frank Mercer defeated one which backed up Miss Mary C. Couglin. The margin was 24. Afterwards Miss Couglin called on all to forget their differences and work for party success.

Bridgeport in endorsing the candidacy of Ayres for the U. S. Senator, 46 to 11, in the city convention heard several delegates protest on the ground that he did not support Alfred E. Smith for the presidency. This delegation will be under the unit rule.

Convention Tonight

No caucuses were held in New Haven as the town committee's tickets in each ward had been adopted and there was no reason for holding them. Mayor James H. Shantley who desired to be a candidate decided not to contest with the town committee, a course which would have cost $400 for the privilege of placing his ticket in the field. The city convention will be held tonight.

In Milford there was a renewal of the fight of the 14th District in the spring convention which Lawrence T. Gallagher, town chairman, was defeated for reelection to the State committee. Gallagher lost out and a motion prevailed calling upon the town committee to remove him as chairman.

At many various caucuses candidates for the State Senate were made known. The Stonington delegates were instructed to vote for George H. Foley in the 20th District. Groton instructed its delegates to the Senatorial convention to vote for C. H. Eliver in the 18th District.

The New Guard won in Windsor Locks. Its Senatorial convention delegates will vote for James E. Rabbett as well those of East Windsor. Both towns are in the 7th District.

Two Controversies

Bremlin devoted more than one-fourth of his report to a review of two controversies between him and the department executive committee. One centered on the question of whether non-residents of Newington were eligible for membership in Nurses' Post No. 129 of Newington and the other on eligibility of Kenneth F. Cramer of Waterbury to serve as National executive committee member.

The commander charged William C. Murray of Hartford, department adjutant, with failure to co-operate with him during the year and reported by the Navigation controversy as an alleged example. He recommended the adjutant be selected by the convention rather than appointed by the executive committee.

"It is with regret," Bremlin said, "that I find it necessary to submit the following report on department headquarters. The department commander last year in his report stated in reference to department headquarters 'very little in the way of constructive ideas on behalf of the Legion emanated from it.' It is necessary for me to agree with last year's department commander.

"During the last year, I consider that the department adjutant rather than co-operating with your department commander has often acted to the contrary."

Bremlin charged the adjutant with refusing to send out to all posts a bulletin in which the commander declared unconstitutional and void a ruling by the department executive committee that only residents of Newington were eligible for membership in Nurses' Post 129.

"The duties of the department adjutant," he said, "are clearly set forth in the by-laws, and there is no provision which gives him the power to dictate to the department commander as to what bulletin the department commander may or may not send."

This is the second consecutive year wherein the department commander has considered it necessary to call to the attention of the department in his annual report deplorable conditions that exist at department headquarters. However as reported in last year's report, under the constitution, there is nothing that the department commander can do to rectify this situation.

"The office of the department adjutant is of great importance to the organization. Your department commander feels that for the good of the department a small group who may control your department executive should not have the power to appoint the department adjutant."

Bremlin reiterated his contention that Cramer's appointment as national executive committee member was unconstitutional since the latter was a member of the General Assembly. He charged the department executive committee with refusing Wapping Man Found Guilty In Rockville Court After Ogden Corner Accident.

Rockville, Aug. 18.—(Special)—Found guilty of failure to grant right of way, John Mason of Wapping was fined $5 and costs of $10.49 in Police Court this morning, as the result of an automobile accident at an intersection near the Luther Skinner place in the Ogden Corner section Wednesday afternoon.

Raymond H. Clark of Vernon Center was found guilty of speeding.

Clark and his brother, William Clark, Jr., were riding along the main road to the farm of Lewis Skinner when a car driven by Mason came out of a cow path and collided with his Chevrolet sedan. The car was thrown over a stone wall and was badly wrecked. Raymond Clark suffered two fractured ribs and bruises and William Clark was badly bruised about the face and body.

to abide by similar decisions given by national and department officers. The provisions of the constitution, Bremlin warned, must be protected "in order to keep the organization free of political control."

The commander expressed gratification with the increase of 1,600 in the department's membership during the year and with the recent campaign against unemployment.

"During this drive," he said, "over 20,000 men were employed throughout the state and over $2,000,000 was pledged by individuals for work to be done on their property and for the purchase of commodities from the merchants.

"The unemployed will need our assistance to even a greater extent during the coming year, and I recommend that this program be continued in order to assist those in distress."

The commander charged William C. Murray of Hartford, department adjutant, with failure to co-operate with him during the year and reported by the Navigation controversy as an alleged example. He recommended the adjutant be selected by the convention rather than appointed by the executive committee.

"It is with regret," Bremlin said, "that I find it necessary to submit the following report on department headquarters. The department commander last year in his report stated in reference to department headquarters 'very little in the way of constructive ideas on behalf of the Legion emanated from it.' It is necessary for me to agree with last year's department commander.

"During the last year, I consider that the department adjutant rather than co-operating with your department commander has often acted to the contrary."

Bremlin charged the adjutant with refusing to send out to all posts a bulletin in which the commander declared unconstitutional and void a ruling by the department executive committee that only residents of Newington were eligible for membership in Nurses' Post 129.

"The duties of the department adjutant," he said, "are clearly set forth in the by-laws, and there is no provision which gives him the power to dictate to the department commander as to what bulletin the department commander may or may not send."

This is the second consecutive year wherein the department commander has considered it necessary to call to the attention of the department in his annual report deplorable conditions that exist at department headquarters. However as reported in last year's report, under the constitution, there is nothing that the department commander can do to rectify this situation.

"The office of the department adjutant is of great importance to the organization. Your department commander feels that for the good of the department a small group who may control your department executive should not have the power to appoint the department adjutant."

Bremlin reiterated his contention that Cramer's appointment as national executive committee member was unconstitutional since the latter was a member of the General Assembly. He charged the department executive committee with refusing known. The Stonington delegates were instructed to vote for George H. Foley in the 20th District. Groton instructed its delegates to the Senatorial convention to vote for C. H. Eliver in the 18th District.

The New Guard won in Windsor Locks. Its Senatorial convention delegates will vote for James E. Rabbett as well those of East Windsor. Both towns are in the 7th District.

Two Controversies

Bremlin devoted more than one-fourth of his report to a review of two controversies between him and the department executive committee. One centered on the question of whether non-residents of Newington were eligible for membership in Nurses' Post No. 129 of Newington and the other on eligibility of Kenneth F. Cramer of Waterbury to serve as National executive committee member.

BARBARA! LEAVE THAT PAPER ALONE! BARBARA! NO!

HEY! BRING IT BACK HERE!
GOOD HEAVENS! I'VE GOT ALL THE NEWS ABOUT YOU!

BARBARA! DEAR, WHY I HAVE IT PLEASE!
THANK YOU!

THEY MONKEY WHO PINCHED PUPPY SAID, "I'LL CLIMB IN AND WE'LL DRIVE AWAY. THE STATION LEFT FOR HERE AND I WON'T TAKE US LONG."

SENSE AND NONSENSE

Something ought to be done about it. It's getting so a wife can't step out for fear a new one will step in.

It takes two to make a quarrel, and, by the strangest coincidence, it also takes the number to get married.

A country doctor hired a farmer's daughter to help him with a case of German measles. The doctor quieted the patient at last and left some medicine, instructing the girl to give him a teaspoonful if he begins to sneeze again.

The next day the doctor called again and found the patient raving. When he asked the girl if she had given the patient any of the medicine, she said she had not, although he had been going on like that for several hours.

Doctor—But didn't I tell you to give it to him if he began to sneeze again?

Girl—But he didn't see any sneezes this time. All he saw was a flock of red, white and blue turkeys with straw hats on.

Harris—what does that young boy of yours do?

Ferry—He's a girl scout.

Harris—You mean a boy scout?

Ferry—No; he's always out scouting for girls.

HASH; digestible and otherwise: No married man can understand why every bachelor isn't a millionaire... Our European debtors may be more or less shy on gold, but there's no discounting their brass... When the average man says his home town has five thousand people he means it has from 1,800 to 2,000... The chief occupation of most modern girls seems to be "turning men's heads" in their direction... Maybe it isn't considered polite to break up a conversational conversation, but so ahead, anyway—they may be talking about you... The supply of good food seems just as abundant despite the scarcity of the lucky horseshoes... The polished he doesn't get any further than the kind that doesn't put on so many airs... Some folks think when they see a fellow carrying a cane he's either a cripple or a cad... Wives are seldom heard to applaud when a husband begins singing his own praises... One nice thing about people is that so many thousands are brave when no one is looking.

Elizabeth—Dorothy, those two men are staring right at us.

Dorothy—Well, Elizabeth, if they walk away, we can see them for breach of promise.

Definition of a successful man: One who makes more money than his wife can spend.

"You're WAST you eat!" is quite correct and logic here.

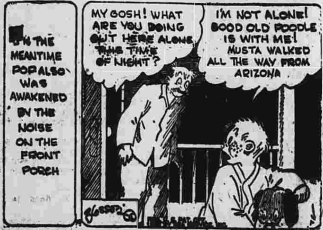

It tells the truth all right; but HOW you eat tells more.

Superintendent of Insane Asylum—Did you get those five men that escaped?

Guard—Five? We got eleven.

Magician—And now, ladies and gentlemen, the next is the most spectacular of all my repertoire, in the great and marvelous feat, I will discover that he is a man of make a human being dissolve into.
