

STATE LEGION NAMES BRONKE AN EXECUTIVE

Manchester's Adjutant Wins Honor At Waterbury, Mrs. Broome District Head; Bonus Payment Beaten.

Past record achievements of Dilworth-Cornell Post No. 102, of this town were duly recognized by the State Department of the American Legion assembled yesterday in Waterbury when Victor Bronke, adjutant of the local post, was elected to the post of Department Executive Committee member for a term of two years.

Mrs. Broome Elected. Mrs. Thomas Broome, president of Dilworth-Cornell Post Auxiliary was also unanimously elected president of the Hartford District Council, Legion Auxiliary. Members of the local auxiliary were elected to the honor given the Manchester organization and also the acquisition of the two cups Thursday, one for excellence in Americanization work and one for Aid activities.

At the convention yesterday Dr. H. E. T. Heston, of West Hartford, commander of the Hayes-Valhalla Post, was elected commander of the Hartford District Council, by a vote of 45-36. The Manchester delegates supported Dr. Tiesing in his campaign for office in the District Council.

Bonus Defeated. The convention voted for outright repeal of the 18th Amendment and defeated the immediate bonus issue, voting for payment of the remainder of the adjustment certificates "as soon as practicable."

Parade. A large delegation of Legionnaires will motor to Waterbury to march in the convention parade this afternoon. The Dilworth-Cornell Post, Fire, Drum and Bugle Corps will compete for honors in the parade which will start at 2:30 p. m. The Manchester Pipe Band will also march in the parade division, just ahead of the 5th District (New London County). The Manchester post will be placed in the 1st District, fourth in line of veterans between Fairfield and Litchfield County divisions.

Vienna, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Dr. Johann Schorer, 58, twice chancellor of Austria and the man who shook Europe last year with his plan for an Austro-German customs union, dropped dead last night at the sanatorium near Gutenbrunn. He began life as a policeman. Born in Perg, Upper Austria, in 1874, the son of a postoffice employe, he studied law at the University of Vienna and after graduation, entered the police service. He became chief of police immediately after the World War and so reorganized the department that it became the government's mainstay during that most critical period.

VOLCANOS IN OIL WELL FOR ARGENTINE VILLAGES (AP)—The Chilean volcano eruptions seemingly shook an oil field out of the front yard of this west Argentine village. After the people got the volcanic ash out of their eyes, Emilio Mesa noticed a blue haze over outlying fields and found fire smoldering in a hole. Out of it he dug what appeared to be tar, and further investigations show probable petroleum resources in a section hitherto unexplored for oil.

PRESIDENT-ELECT IS DISQUALIFIED Congress in Ecuador Rules That Neptali, Bonifaz Cannot Hold the Office.

Quito, Ecuador, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Neptali Bonifaz, president-elect of Ecuador, was declared ineligible to hold that office by Congress today.

Bonifaz was elected president last October, but his four year term was not scheduled to begin until Sept. 1 this year. Since the election there have been numerous demonstrations against him. Less than a week ago one man was killed and several were injured in a riot at Quito.

Last night a special commission of Congress asked the president-elect to renounce the office, but he refused. Bonifaz was the winner in a close election against Larrea Njon and Idefonso Mendon.

NEWS CONFIRMED Guayaquil, Ecuador, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Word from Quito today said that Neptali Bonifaz, president-elect of Ecuador, to hold office as head of the government.

The Congressional resolution said: "The Congress deposes Neptali Bonifaz, who obtained a majority of votes in the presidential election, does not meet the conditions required by the Constitution to hold the office of president of the Republic."

Senor Bonifaz was born in Quito while his father was secretary of the Peruvian legation. His opponents charge that he has been considered a Peruvian all his life and therefore should not be permitted to hold the office of president.

New Comedy Written For — Laurette Taylor Being Given This Evening.

Miss Helen Estes of the Manchester High school faculty has a small part in the new play, "Finales," by E. E. Larson, the first performance of which will be given this evening at the Berkshire Playhouse in Stockbridge.

Several local people have visited the playhouse this week and enjoyed the production which depicts the life and career of a great opera star. The scene of the play is Southern California and the director, F. C. Beckwith of this town, explained to the local people the construction of Spanish tile effects, balconies, realistic looking palm trees and many other things in the stage setting, all constructed in the "red barn."

The Wednesday and Saturday matinees are proving popular with drama lovers who live at a considerable distance from Stockbridge. The past two weeks two parties, in all more than 20 people motored from Albany, N. Y. Twice this season groups from the Community Playhouse of this town have made trips to the Berkshire theater to see the plays they contemplate producing here the coming season.

HOW'S SHE MITTIN' By JAMES F. DONAHUE NEA Service Writer

Many of us can't understand why anything should be wrong with our cars when we seem to be extremely careful in driving, never speed the motor or strain it unduly on hills or in traffic.

In fact—and here's the whole thing in a nutshell—many motorists contend that they are extremely cautious in their driving. They never go over the city speed limit, they take the time and keep to the right. They would rather slow up and stop for a changing light than beat it over the crossing.

While this method of driving is commendable in some instances, it causes almost as much harm than speeding in sports. Running the motor too slowly in high doesn't help in the least. It's a strain for the motor isn't cut out.

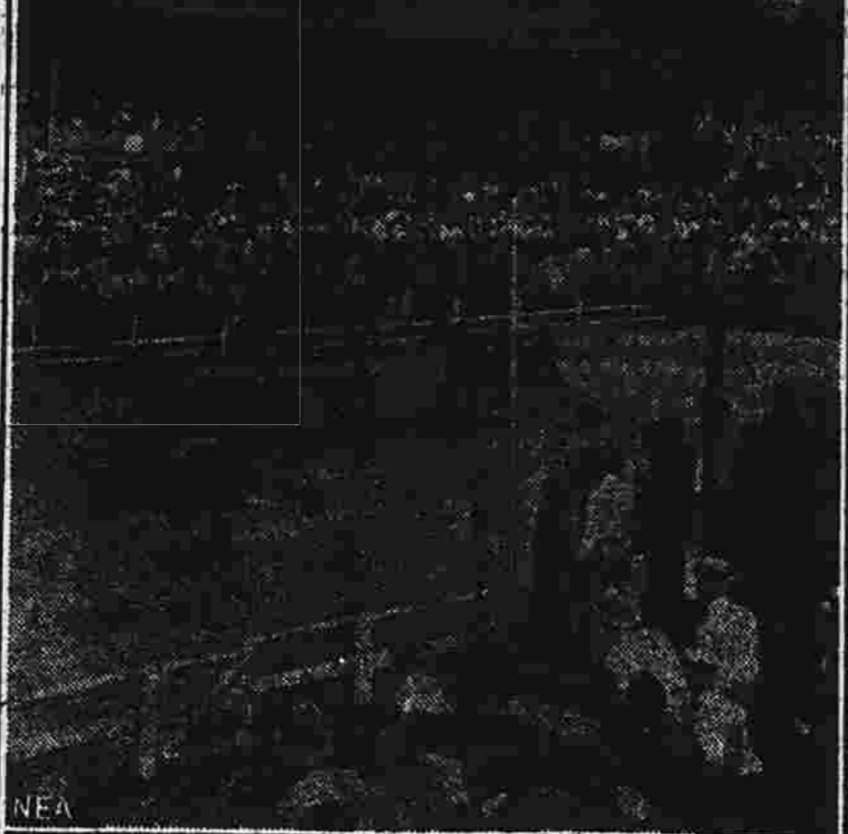

Idling the motor, as the gear pedal is shoved in and the car goes sliding along slowly to a stop, is another practice more harmful than it is good. Idling falls to burn all the gas that goes into the cylinders. The result is that some of it finds its way through the piston clearance into the crankcase and causes oil dilution.

Oil dilution, in turn, affects proper lubrication and ends in scored cylinders. A man who rolls slowly along the road, at a safe and steady pace, is apt to become careless at the wheel. He becomes less attentive to his driving, lolls back in his seat and enjoys the scenery, as though he were in a Pullman chair.

Moderate drivers, those who keep alert at the wheel, also keep up a steady but good pace on the high road. Thirty to 35 miles an hour, within the legal limit, should be maintained for efficient driving. The slow driver usually finds himself riding the clutch—another harmful practice. Slipping the clutch plates the slightest bit causes them to run smooth, squeak and lose their effective grip. That means installing new clutch plates.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

THE TENT OF MEETING

Text: Ex. 28:1-16 The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Aug. 21. By Wm. E. Gilroy, D. D., Editor of The Congregationalist

One cannot read the story of Moses and of his prophetic influence upon and leadership of Israel without realizing the profound place that the sense of holiness and the spirit of worship had in his own life and in his guidance of the people.

The history of our cathedrals and churches traces back to the tent, or tabernacle, in the wilderness. This tent, or tabernacle, was the symbol of the presence of the Divine. It was a tent because it must move with those who were moving, and if the fact that it was outside of the camp seems to suggest a sort of false symbolism in the aloofness of the place of worship from daily life, we must remember that just the opposite was the case as the people in their situation had no abiding place.

They were moving to a promised land, and the place of the tabernacle, outside of the camp, suggested that their highest interests were in their movement forward. When the people became established in the promised land, they built a permanent house of worship, and it became the center and symbol of their whole life.

And this is the symbolism of the church today. Churches are not, and ought not to be, outside of the realm of our daily lives, and yet in a sense they represent something above these daily lives or beyond these daily lives, toward which we are striving in faith.

If we were to complete the symbolism, we should find it in a picture in the Book of Revelations of the City of God in which there was no temple, but in which the city itself had become the temple and in which men and all their activities and interests were living their worship.

We are here in this world as pilgrims. Neither in our personal lives have we attained the ideal society in which the will of God is fully performed. As long as this is true the symbolism of the tabernacle will apply to our church.

One of the facts upon which we should lay great stress in this lesson is the reality of communion with the Divine. We are apt in the reading of all such passages as to give materialistic interpretation to the expressions, which is not necessary, and which is perhaps foreign to oriental imagery. But the fact remains that deeply rooted in the life of Moses himself was his personal communion with the Divine.

He was living in the conscious belief that he had been called by the Most High to perform a great service—a service from which, in fact, he had shrunk, feeling his own weakness and inadequacy. But in which he had fully accepted it with him as his strength and his presence of the Most High was support. The experience that he had found himself, he believed was possible for the whole people.

It was a great ideal, and one that we cannot contemplate too deeply or too seriously—this idea of a nation subject to the will of God, led by the divine spirit, and progressing in the realization of divine plans.

We may think that we have advanced far beyond the primitive religion of Moses and those of his day, but the great elemental factors of religion are found here.

Our conceptions of God may enlarge, but the methods of approach to God and the reality of devotion to him in worship and service do not change. They become only larger and more effective as the vision of the divine grade deepens in reality.

Speaking Face To Face With God

BY GEORGE HENRY DOLE

International Sunday School Lesson Text, Aug. 21. "The Lord spoke unto Moses face to face, as a man speaketh unto his friend."—Ex. 28:11.

The Lord wants to speak to us, the very deed, we call into action the power of the Lord within us, and thus we are conjoined to Him; for then He operates in and through us. To speak to the Lord is fully to acknowledge the truth and see that it should and will be done. One speaks to the Lord face to face when he removes all of self from between him and the Lord by fully accepting and living what the Lord taught in his holy Word.

Why does winter come? Measured in miles the sun is nearer in winter than in summer. Winter comes because the earth turns its face from the sun. The shadows lengthen and darkness deepens as the earth turns away. When the earth turns its face to the sun, then comes greater light, summer, flowers and fruits. Paul tells us that all things visible are clearly seen by the things that are made. Nature is the parable of the spirit. As we speak to the Lord face to face by acknowledging and doing what He teaches, as we face the truth, light from Him will expel our darkness, banish coldness and bring the soul the charms of its summer vitality.

BUILDING MAKES SLIGHT GAIN IN MONTH OF JULY

N. H. Road Survey Shows Upward Trend As Compared With June—Increases In Thirteen Communities.

Building permits issued by cities and towns in Connecticut during the month of July increased slightly in value over those issued in June, according to the monthly survey taken by the Freight Traffic Department of the New Haven Railroad among twenty-five communities along its lines. Among those twenty-five communities, the July gain amounted to $364,329.

Thirteen of the cities and towns reported upon shared in this increased building activity. They were Danbury, Greenwich, Hamden, Hartford, New Britain, New Haven, New London, Stamford, Stratford, Wallingford, Waterbury, West Hartford and Wethersfield.

New Haven topped the July list with permits valued at $90,562, while Greenwich and Hartford were second and third respectively.

As compared with July, 1931, this year's seventh month building total of the twenty-five communities was lower by nearly two million dollars and not a single one of these cities and towns recorded an increase over its permit valuation of that month last year.

TUNNEYS IN PARIS Paris, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Mrs. Gene Tunney, who arrived here this week with her husband, the former heavyweight champion, suffering from ear trouble, was reported to have been taken to a minor operation performed yesterday at the American hospital.

It was said she would be out of the hospital in a day or two.

COAL SILOS KEEP PRODUCT CLEAN

This Factor Has Won Much Business For Manchester Grain and Coal Co.

The Manchester Grain and Coal Co., located on Apel Place, under the capable management of Albert Heller has steadily grown so that today it rates as one of the leading concerns in its line in Manchester. Mr. Heller found that the people of Manchester wanted only the best quality of grain and coal at prices that were comparable with the charges for the same commodity at other places of business. Therefore after a thorough search of the market he found that Philadelphia and Reading Anthracite obtained from the Mahonay mines had a greater heating capacity than other coals and burned to a fine ash.

Today this coal is handled exclusively by them and allows the host of users who have proved for themselves by actual use that the famous Philadelphia and Reading coal is superior to a great many others.

Clean Coal This fine coal is kept under cover in silos, as shown in the accompanying picture, protected from rain and snow. New screens have been installed this year and every order before being delivered is thoroughly screened to remove any dust or fine coal from your order. Clean, quality coal has within the two years more than doubled the business in this department for the Manchester Grain and Coal Co.

The warehouse and office, a picture of which is shown in the Manchester Grain and Coal advertisement in this issue of The Herald is largely ample enough to carry the carrying of a complete line of grain, feeds and seed as well as light hardware for farm use. Purina, Eshelman and Delaware Mill have long been established as leaders in fine quality chow, grains and feed. These quality brands are obtainable at the Manchester Grain and Coal at all times at the lowest market price.

Willard Advice Mr. Heller is at all times ready to be of service to his customers and suggestions made by him in regard to feeding stock have often proved of inestimable value. Heating the home at a reduced cost is possible sometimes by the use of a different grade of coal. Mr. Heller readily can be of service to you in this way. The Manchester Grain and Coal Company invites your inspection and the opportunity to be of service to the people of Manchester.

TO DEVELOP ENGINE

Washington, Aug. 20.—(AP)—The Navy's research in high speed airplanes was said today by Rear Admiral W. A. Moffett, chief of the Bureau of Aeronautics, to be looking toward development of an engine equal to any in the world.

Speaking at the annual convention of the National Aeronautics Association, formerly of the Navy, he said that the money, to have a motor of 2,000 horsepower in two years.

"Under a $225,000 appropriation, we have been conducting high speed research," he said, "and it is only a question of money to develop a motor equal to those developed abroad for racing planes. Our military planes compare with any in the world."

A resolution was adopted by the convention to send word to Prof. Auguste Piccard and his assistant, Max Coyne, balloonist, who reached New Britain on Wednesday, to interest them for their efforts in the interest of aeronautical science.

NEED 5,000 SIGNATURES

Hartford, Aug. 20.—(AP)—The first applications to place the name of the Independent Republican Party of Connecticut on the ballot in the state election next November have been received by the secretary of state. This vanguard consists of 98 voters in Madison and two voters in Shelton.

As September 8 is the deadline for applications the largest expected petition, headed by Prof. Albert Levitt of Redding probably will not come in for two or three weeks. The office of the secretary of state says about 5,000 names are necessary to place the party on the ballot.

The Rev. A. B. Patten is included in the petition from Madison, and two lists of Madison Independents are headed respectively by the names of Eugene L. Richards and Frank A. Scott. From Shelton comes an application containing only the names of Oscar Smith and Catherine M. Smith, both of 931 Howe avenue.

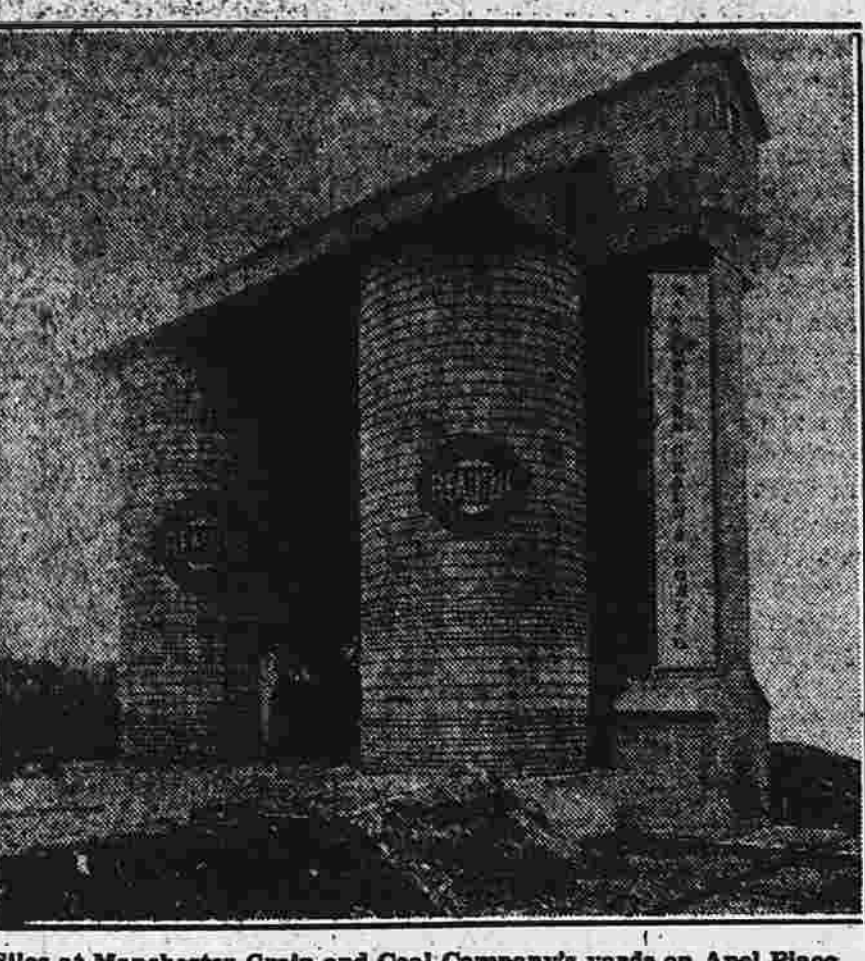

WOULD DISSOLVE FIRM

Danbury, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Papers were served today in an action brought by Ralph A. Griffing and Florence B. Griffing against Frederick B. Dalton in connection with a dissolution of partnership of the Danbury News Publishing Company, which owns and publishes the Danbury News and the Danbury Evening News.

Mr. Dalton is owner of a one-half interest in the company and the plaintiffs each own a one-quarter interest. The complaint sets forth that the partnership has been dissolved by the plaintiffs and that the parties have been unable to agree upon the division of the property of the partnership. The appointment of a receiver of the partnership, with power to dispose of the properties and divide them between the parties is asked for.

The action is returnable to the September term of the Superior Court.

ROCKVILLE

NEW DEVELOPMENTS IN STILL CASE LIKELY

Case of Cardille Men Is To Be Revised, Perhaps Go To Federal Court.

On Monday morning the case of Louis Cardillo, 46, and his son Paul 20, who were arrested some weeks ago after the finding of a large still on their property, will again be called in the Rockville Police Court, after several continuances. It was announced after the last appearance that the case would be heard at the September term of the Tolland County Superior Court. At that time Stanley Redens, who resides on the adjoining property was taken into custody by the Federal authorities. It is not known whether the state's case will be taken over by the Federal authorities or not.

Two Federal agents have been working almost continuously on the case since the still was found, hoping to find men "higher up." New developments are expected on Monday.

The "New Guard" of the Democratic party had no opposition in naming temporary officers and putting through its slate of delegates to the various conventions at a Democratic caucus Thursday evening. The delegates to the Senatorial convention are pledged to Congressman Augustus Lomenger of the convention formerly of this city, for the United States Senate. Those to the state convention go pledged to support Wilbur L. Cross for re-nomination as governor.

Resolutions were presented for the support of these candidates by former Mayor George Forster and Lewis H. Chapman.

Mrs. Forster called the caucus to order. Edward Jackson was named chairman of the meeting and Gerard Rock was elected secretary. The following delegates submitted had no opposition:

State convention: Nicholas Ashe, Thomas O'Loughlin, John Doyle, Lawrence McCarthy, Lawrence Monahan, Charles Connors and John Reg.

Congressional convention: Arthur Stein, Edward Jackson, Raphael Monahan, Arthur Morin, William Finley, William Palusko and Russell Finley.

Probate convention: Mrs. Thomas O'Loughlin, Mrs. Irene Morin, John Reg. Francis Leonard, Michael O'Connell, Ernest Young, John McKenna.

The name of Thomas Kernan appeared on the original Senatorial list. He refused to serve and John Schwartz was elected in his place. Any delegate who cannot attend the convention can select his own alternate, according to a vote taken on the matter.

The matter of raising funds for the coming campaign was discussed and a committee of nine members was named to plan a series of whists.

Girl Struck by Auto June Bowers, 9-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bowers of Vernon avenue, was struck by an automobile driven by Rev. C. E. Johnson on Thursday morning on Union street opposite the home of Rev. George S. Brooks. Mr. Johnson took the little girl to the office of Dr. E. H. Metcalf where she was treated for knee and ankle injuries. The youngster is said to have run from behind a truck into the path of Mr. Johnson's car. It is thought she was struck by the fender after being struck by a car as far as the sidewalk; it is believed there were no bones broken.

Elks' Clambake Rockville Lodge of Elks will hold its annual clambake on Sunday at Liederstaf Grove on West River. Lunch will be served from 11 to 12 and dinner at 1:30 p. m. The committee consists of Frank Rigzy, chairman; Lewis H. Chapman, Clarence J. McCarthy, Raymond E. Hunt, Charles Wilkie, of Rockville; Arthur Roberts, of Wallingford; Springs; J. Kargus, of Windsor Locks; George Betts, of South Manchester; Carl Herrold, of North Manchester; and William Reeves, of Broad Brook.

PLAYERS RETURN

Chicago, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Chas. J. Jamieson, one of Cleveland's best ball throwers, today was placed on the voluntarily retired list by Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis.

The veteran right-hander of the Indians, used almost exclusively this season as a pinch hitter, has since from absence from the team and asked to be retired for the rest of the season. It was doubtful whether he ever would return to the game as a player.

Bob Burke of the Washington Senators, who pitched a no-run, no-hit game last year against Boston, also was placed on the voluntarily retired list. Burke was released on option to Chattanooga but came back ill and asked to be retired for the year.

Outfielder Robert Worthington of the Boston Braves, out with a broken leg, was the third major league player to be given voluntary retirement by the commissioner.

A bill proposed in Pennsylvania would restrict the size and load of trucks. This helping both the taxpayer and motorist to get ahead, we suppose.

SOME OF THE HELL
 When General Sherman said that war is hell he only said the half of it. War is hell in its own right; then, after it is over, it raises hell. Whether it raises a little hell or a big one depends altogether on whether it is a little or a big war. The World War was the biggest, therefore it raised the most hell.

One of the most hellish of the effects is this bitter controversy over the soldiers' bonus. And about the worst phase of the bonus problem lies in the fact that there is so much to be said for as well as by both sides to the dispute.

There is no question that nineteenth of the men who entered the United States military service for the World War did so in a marvelous spirit of self-forgetfulness. There is no question about the splendor of their conduct while the war lasted. It detracts nothing from the wonderful record of the American soldier and sailor in the World War that they were in the best cared for, best found, best clothed and best-living fighting force the world has ever seen.

Neither is there any question that, on the whole, their sacrifices and their labors cost them plenty—compared with the material profits reaped by the stay-at-homes. When they got back and found the extent to which the war had been exploited by profiteers ranging all the way from ship-yard laborers to millionaire contractors, they were sore. And who can blame them? Their own pockets were practically empty while conscientious objectors and draft dodgers had bank accounts, new homes and automobiles. The fighting man had got—in these material things—the worst of it. They developed a mild grouch.

Then the politicians got to work at them, played on the facts and added to them, stirred up their sense of outraged justice—and the adjusted compensation act was the result. It was not, we are all well aware now, a wise manner of disposing of the matter. But the goose was hanging high, business was booming and the country had a universal millionaire complex.

Then came the crash. Hundreds of thousands of veterans, jobless and broke, could not get their minds away from their conviction that the government owed them money. It might not be due but it was a debt, they figured, and the debtor could find ways of paying if he would.

But the country, too, was in a hole. The government had squandered enormous amounts of money—a tremendous lot of it on post-war services for these very veterans but also a tremendous lot on other things in no wise connected with the war. Any number of perfectly honest and intelligent people, including a great many members of Congress, were convinced that to pay off the bonus all at once, far in advance of its due-date, would bring about the worst kind of a financial collapse.

Try and make the bonus seekers believe that! They regard all such argument as a "stall." They see the government and Congress wasting money right and left on a hundred perfectly useless services. They listen to senators squandering their time at the rate of thousands of dollars a day making windy speeches to get themselves re-elected and other thousands of dollars on the printing and distribution of those speeches at public expense. They hear railroad presidents objecting to having government loans thrust upon them. They come to the conclusion that money can be found for any and every purpose but the discharge of what they have convinced themselves is their just debt.

There never should have been any adjusted compensation act with payments set far in the future. There never should have developed any idea that because a man fights for his country the country must forever after be his milch cow. But then, there never should have been any war profiteering, nor any lavish squandering of public funds nor any multiplication of office holders, nor any Farm Board nor any treasury looting of any kind.

Two wrongs don't make a right; neither do twenty. But when such an organization as the National Economy League centers nineteenth of its driving power on the bonus seekers and has very little to say or do about any other form of government extravagance except veterans' relief measures, it is difficult not to feel considerable sympathy with the men who somehow or other have conceived the notion that the country they saved is playing them for suckers.

COURT GOVERNMENT
 When the depression has been all ironed out, when our economic hodge-podge has been overhauled and converted into a going machine, when there is a job for almost everybody and the affairs of everyday life have settled down to a norm, when the Noble Experiment has taken its place with the things that are past and beer and booze no longer monopolize the thoughts of a nation; when, in short, the country has gotten back its wind and its nervous equilibrium—then, some day, it is reasonably sure that it will take the necessary time to figure out what to do about its courts.

One of the things to do is quite obvious. It is necessary to see to it that no cheap little political judge shall have either the real or the imagined power to forbid the governor of a great state from proceeding, with full sanction of the spirit of his state's laws, to protect the people of one of its municipalities from exploitation and looting by unprincipled office holders.

Nothing could be more ridiculously inconsistent with any kind of effectual government than the assumption that the head of a sovereign state can be halted in the performance of a vital duty by the mere autocratic command of any one of a swarm of county judges and dragged before that minor functionary to explain why he shouldn't be permanently estopped from continuing to do his duty.

It would seem wholly improbable that the restraining order against Governor Roosevelt, brought in behalf of Mayor Walker for the purpose of stopping the latter's trial, will be of any legal effect. But that such an attempt should be made shows an arrogance and affront on the part of the court, that should be made forever impossible.

It is, however, a logical enough outgrowth of a system under which the courts, for generations, have more and more usurped powers of government with which they have no proper concern.

Here in Connecticut we have little comprehension of the extent to which government by courts has supplanted the machinery erected by the people of many of the states for the management of their own affairs. There has probably been less abuse of the injunction and other mandatory writs, in this commonwealth, than in any other in the country. But throughout the land as a whole there is far too much of interference with the process of law by the very institutions created to support it.

When the nation gets around to it—and it surely will in the course of years—it is going to become a matter of history that once upon a time there was such a thing as government by injunction. But no more.

UNPLEASANT "FASHION"
 It was an extraordinary adventure that befell those two army aviators who, after overcoming a fire in their own seaplanes and alighting on Long Island Sound, narrowly escaped being burned to death in another blaze that broke out on a power boat that had come to their rescue and which had no remotest connection with the fire in the plane.

The telegraph circuit calls our attention to the circumstance that a "fashion" in accident seems to be developing; that they appear to be taking on a serial form. "You'll notice," he points out, "that plenty of times it isn't the original accident that does the real mischief, but a subsequent one growing out of it."

When you come to think of it, there's more than a little to this idea. It's a frequent experience in connection with automobile fatalities. A car has a slight accident. While its occupants are trying to get going again along comes some speedster and crashes into the car or its party. One or more persons are killed.

In other words, when a small mishap occurs then of all times is the time to be on guard against a big one. The little one is only, like enough, the detonating charge that sets off the blast.

Just the same we can't see any good reason why the survivors of a seaplane fire should refuse to get into a rescuing power boat just because the boat, too, contains gasoline. In the first place it would seem to us that the first fire rated classification as a major affair in its own right and not as a mere curtain raiser. In the second place we can't figure out any logic or philosophy to such a "fashion" in accidents on the open sea.

Just the same, the headlines of the last two years or so would seem to justify the superstition, or whatever it may be, of the follow-up accident.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN Washington
PARTY PRESS AGENTS SWAMP WRITERS WITH CAMPAIGN PROPAGANDA
 By RODNEY DUTCHER
 NEA Service Writer

Washington.—All the Washington correspondents are reminded that a presidential campaign is in progress because the mimeographs of the publicity machine of the Republican and Democratic parties are limbering up and increasing production with such accelerated gusto.

We are all aware of it anyway, of course, but any old worm likes to turn over on its back and rest for a moment occasionally, forgetting the immediate exigencies and trying to pretend that this is just an ordinary summer in which no more than the customary amount of effort and cerebration, if any, is necessary.

As Chairman Jim Farley of the Democratic National Committee well says: "The opening of a campaign such as we are about entering is always a period of more or less confusion of thought, as well as of action."

Applies Both Ways
 Very profound observation, that! It applies to the correspondents as well as to the politicians. But not to the party press agents, who work well in and week out, wading in with ever-increasing vigor after the party conventions.

And those are the fellows who keep the messenger boys pouring into each correspondent's office, carrying the opening of a campaign such as we are about entering is always a period of more or less confusion of thought, as well as of action."

It must be admitted that most Washington correspondents religiously make use of this mimeographed material, solemnly quoting it as something of more or less importance.

It's Still Baloney!
 But, as Al Smith would say, no matter how you slice it, it's still baloney. Most of it is the sort of baloney that any self-respecting pickpocket would promptly toss to the chipmunks and the woodchucks. Some of it might actually provide political nourishment for an intelligent, fact-craving voter if he first took one statement and compared it with the statement which is always bound to follow from the other party's publicity machine.

Occasionally there is a really rare morsel—a political press agent, after telegraphing or telephoning one of his party's statements to ask if the statement may be issued under his name, hurls a harpoon straight into a tender spot.

The fact is that these ex-newspapermen who have become political press agents are doing splendid jobs considering the material with which they have to work.

They were once high-grade newspapermen and they find it hard to live it down. But they are now working for men whose sole business it is to deceive and misrepresent in order to retain or obtain political office for themselves or others with whom their interests are linked.

HEALTH--DIET ADVICE

Questions in regard to Health and Diet will be Answered by Dr. McCoy who can be addressed in care of this Paper. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for Reply.

 A pilot should not enter the air, especially with passengers, without feeling that his nervous equilibrium is unimpaired, his muscles feeling fit, and he should feel in a general state of well being, unhampered by a lack of sleep, fatigue of any sort, worry, or temperamental trouble.

In considering the causes of accidental death, it has been found that such a simple thing as a few nights' loss of sleep is a big factor in whether the aviator is going to crash or land safely. A temporary illness in the air, which might be unimportant on the ground, such as a sudden blinding headache, a bilious attack, or a feeling of staleness, may be quite serious when the flier's life depends on the control of his ship.

Even such things as a casual disturbance of the eyes, a sudden ringing in the ears, or an abnormality of the sense of motion may affect him suddenly just when his piloting needs his most careful attention.

Pilots just recovering from any acute disease had better stay on the ground. Also it has been found that several flyers using certain headache remedies were better soon after using this drug. Feelings of nausea and dizziness and vomiting are not uncommon among flyers. At least one per cent of them will show a previous history of having been ill on ships, trains, merry-go-rounds or street cars. This tendency to vomit can be overcome in most cases by the proper diet. One of the foremost aces which America produced during the war vomited continually during his training time. He overcame this in actual combat work.

Sometimes a flyer, particularly an inexperienced one, may become acutely ill by having his morals lowered by seeing other ships on fire or other flyers crash. This is especially true if he should pass and see two accidents on the same day. Fright may also cause a flyer to freeze to the control, which will be followed by faintness, nausea and sometimes violent shaking.

In taking off into the higher altitudes, the flyer may become especially cold, and as he comes down his heart beats quickly and tries to force his blood through his cold veins which causes him to feel very sick, almost in agony. He returns very faint, totally exhausted. The excessively high altitudes have a tendency to affect his judgment in landing.

These things can all be guarded against, and the largest companies, employing passenger-carrying aeroplanes take special precautions to prevent these accidents so that there is very little danger when flying with experienced pilots. It is said, in fact, that there are fewer deaths in proportion to those who ride in aeroplanes than in those who ride in automobiles. This is because of the careful health examination given the pilots before they are permitted a license.

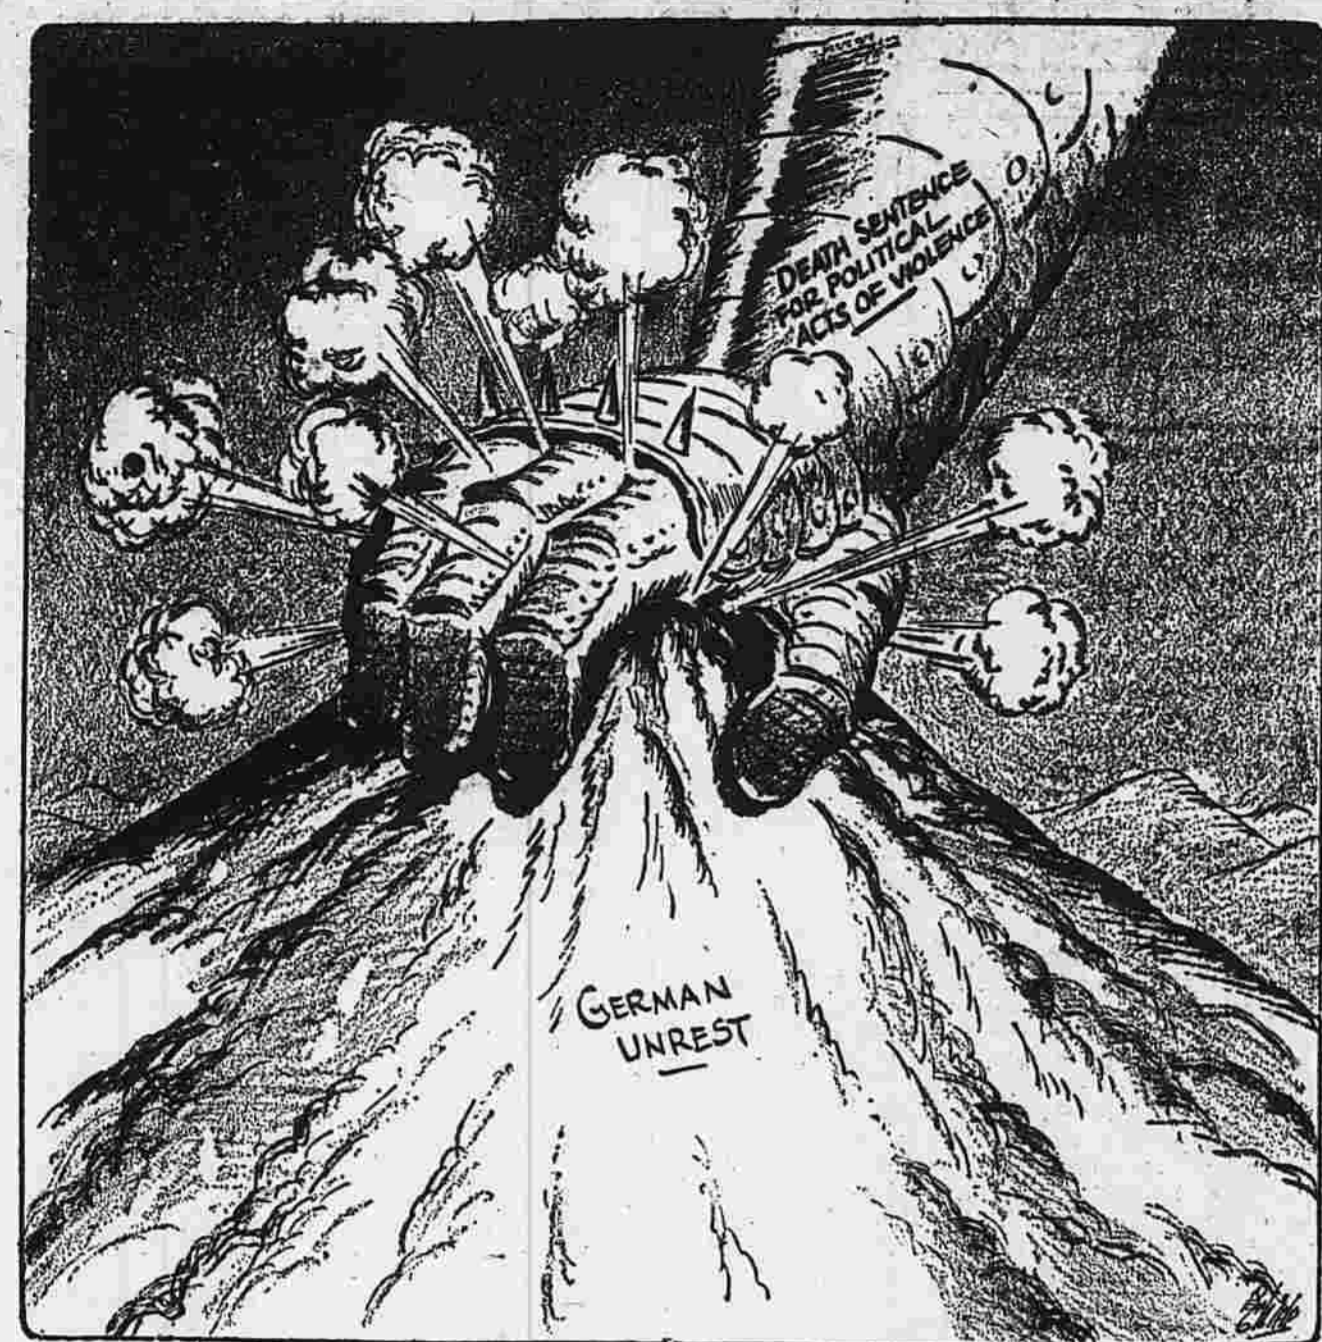

In flying, as in other fields of endeavor, health is the foundation of success.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

(Fractured Elbow)
 Question: M. E. W. asks: "Do you think that a fractured elbow can ever be set properly? I had a compound fracture of the left elbow about twelve years ago, and it wasn't set properly. The result is that my left arm is shorter than the right. Do you think it would be advisable to have it set over again?"

Answer: It is certainly possible to properly set a fractured elbow, but this is usually a hard joint to set and a physician cannot always be blamed when the arm grows shorter afterwards. I advise you to see a good bone specialist and get his opinion about the advisability of resetting the arm. If your arm is strong and you can use it fairly

IN NEW YORK

A Cubistic City
 New York, Aug. 20.—Something closely resembling the fantastic patterns of ultra-cubism may be found right here in Manhattan's upper Fifties.

There, in 56th Street, to be exact, the "Threefolders" dwell in a tiny colony that has little in common with the great city which crowds in on the obscure area. Money, which is plenty scarce elsewhere, plays small part in the affairs of the Threefolders. Barber is reduced to its least common denominator. A fellow who is engaged in some business dicker likely as not to pay off in soup, milk, vegetables and meat.

Homes and business concerns are opened without the use of coin of the realm. A comfortable sofa, radio and three years washing may serve as down payment—and frequently does!

It's the structures themselves, however, which first hit the eye of visitor or native. It appears that a certain Dr. Rudolph Steiner, who hails from Vienna, found that any right angle bothered his esthetic eye. So tables and chairs and building fronts are designed in the oddest of angles. Walls appear to lean outward or inward; weird angles protrude every which way. The total result is reminiscent of the "crazy house" ices at amusement parks.

Yet folk live there—and seemingly comfortably. Their threefold code is based on equality, industrial fraternity and spiritual freedom. Hence the little cult's moniker.

Sea-Going Gadgets
 The three latest sea giants to put into port go in for the last word in gadgets. With transatlantic prices sawed several ways, liners are packed again. Some say that a percentage of the travelers are foreigners going home to escape the depression.

But the tricks and devices to be found on the French Line's elegant liner, "Champlain," on the United States Line's queenly "Manhattan," and the Cunarder's regal "Georgic" hint at luxury amid swank rather than at tough times.

The Champlain, for instance, causes a person's Adam's apple to stick out so far? How can this be avoided?
 Answer: The Adam's apple seems to protrude more with those who do not have a good muscular development of the neck. This can be avoided through taking strenuous exercises, such as wrestlers take in preparing themselves for a contest.

(Dizzy in the Sun)
 Question: Bob asks: "Whenever I spend a morning in the sun I have a dull headache, feel dizzy and not myself. What would cause this?"
 Answer: You probably stay out in the sun too long without being used to it. Try cutting the time of exposure short, following it with a cool shower and I believe you will notice no bad after-effects. It may be "hat your eyes need attention."

Shoats a private deck upon which one can take Pido out for exercise. Pet purrs are now raised along by such Park Avenue and Fifth Avenues as still possess the Fifties.

By way of competition, the Manhattan presents a wire enclosed kennel on the sun deck for the sea-going dog. Each canine is furnished a de luxe dog house, with dog specialists on board in case of sea sickness, mange or fleas.

There is slip-proof rubber tiling for deck walkers; fresh water for showers or bathing; a full sized tennis court on the Manhattan's decks; French telephones in cabins—oh, well, you can still take firefighters if you don't like that sort of thing.

Voyage of Discovery
 Speaking of nautical matters reminds me that Max Miller, the San Diego Sun's ship news philosopher who gained fame with his charming and colorful series of essays, "Cover the Waterfront," has turned out to be the perfect visiting steerman in New York.

Miller filled in for Heywood Brown while that essayist was on his vacation. Arriving, Miller discovered that everyone wanted to show him the city from the high-est rooftops; showed him with letters on obvious sight-seeing trips, such as Fifth Avenue bus rides; tried to lure him to Harlem, rattled him through subways and rushed him through speakeasies.

Breaking away, the visitor discovered that on Sundays one could have New York to himself and that by going to the Hudson, a gorgeous sunset scene could be encountered. All of which, I am all too eager to pass on to others—urging that they cross the Washington Bridge as sunset and peer from a rock in Central Park at twilight. After that they'll like New York better.

BURNS CAUSE DEATH
 New Haven, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Burns suffered when he fell into a tub of scalding water Tuesday caused the death today of Valentino Parmieri, 22 months old. The child succumbed while hospital attendants worked with an inhalator in an effort to prolong life.

CAN YOU PASS THE
BUYER'S BLINDFOLD
TEST ? ? ?

CAN you make a list of the things which you need today, go out and buy them at the first store which you run across that handles them, and be sure that your shopping has been done both efficiently and economically?

If you can you have passed the blindfold test for buyers. But most women have discovered that efficient and economical buying can't be done the blindfold way.

And they have discovered that the best way to remove the blindfold is to peruse carefully the advertisements which appear in this paper to find out where the things they want are offered and what prices are being asked. They have found that buying on the basis of the shopping news offered in the advertisements in this paper saves them time, energy and money.

IF YOU HAVE BEEN BUYING blindfold
try the results when the blindfold is removed by looking through this paper today and making a list of the places and prices of the things you want.

for LOVE or MONEY by CORLEY

BEGIN HERE TODAY

MONA MORAN, recipient in a Wall Street law office, receives an amazing proposal of marriage.

Mona is in love with BARRY TOWNSEND, rich and socially prominent, who is the business partner of her old friend, STEVE SACARBELLI.

When Mona asks the name of the man who wishes to marry her she is told it is Barry Townsend. Not until the ceremony is about to be performed does she discover the bridegroom is young Barry's uncle.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXVIII

Mona looked across the table at her companion and reflected. Anything was better than that they should talk of themselves. With the feeling that they were approaching dangerous ground she had carefully led the conversation away from their affairs.

Surprisingly enough, she was finding the experience of lunching with her husband not disagreeable. He was entertaining, she admitted. Handsome even. It did not seem possible, or if possible at least not at all likely that this man should have stooped to punish his nephew by thwarting him in a marriage.

"I'll explain if I may," Mr. Townsend said as though he read her thoughts. "My name is Barry Townsend, as you know."

"But what are you doing to Barry?" Mona went on. "Everything that can hinder him in his work. Those two boys have made a success of that, you worked-out men. But that success has been Steve's, not Barry's! Everything can be traced to Steve! He found (she was going to say the Emperor but checked herself) the larger diamonds they sold to buy machinery. Steve controls the men more easily than Barry could. He has had more experience. I suppose, and understands them."

"I've never met Steve," Mr. Townsend commented idly. He sat very still.

"Whatever way you look at it this is Steve's enterprise. Barry doesn't count to get money to finance the new dredging machinery."

"New," remarked Mr. Townsend disinterestedly. "Those mines have been worked for years without machinery. South American mining is shallow. Nothing like the South African mines."

"You like Twilands with electricity, don't you?" asked Mona hotly. "You don't use candles simply because people did a few hundred years ago. Let Barry have his inheritance or the money you are keeping from him. Oh, I know what you've done. It's legal enough but legality and right don't necessarily go hand in hand!"

"You're wrong for a moment in silence. Mona's breast was heaving. Her face was flushed and her breath came in quick, short gasps. Suddenly she opened her purse and began repairing the damage of the tears that had come into her eyes."

"You mean, Mr. Townsend began to scold, "I've heard of it. Who hasn't? It's been in the newspapers. But you've bought it for me?"

"You've heard of it then?" He glanced at her sideways. "Of course I've heard of it. Who hasn't? It's been in the newspapers. But you've bought it for me?"

"The busy little manager welcomed them and, smiling, rose without words to swing open the huge safe velvet box. Two men stood on guard in the doorway. The Empress was not a bauble to be tossed about carelessly."

The little man opened the case and displayed the necklace. Mona, seeing him, wondered idly if anything in the world was more valuable than this necklace. She felt that she was denied her—could mean as much to her as this jewel meant to Mr. Wittington.

He laid the necklace gently in her hands. It seemed at once marvelous and pathetic. Her husband had given her the largest diamond available. He was dealing in superlatives just as a small boy selects the roughest apple for his sweetheart, the most delicate rose for his mother.

GROUSE SHOOTING A SOCIETY SPORT

Many Americans Now In Scotland; Horse-Racing At Saratoga

New York, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Grouse shooting in Scotland sunning on the Riviera, tennis playing at Newport and horse racing at Saratoga are among the diversions occupying Manhattanites before the close of the vacation season.

"Our first engagement of importance, really," her husband said, his eyes traveling along the thronged sidewalk as they cab threaded its way up Fifth Avenue. "I do hope, my dear, that you will enjoy it. Forgive me if you can for anything I may unwittingly have done. Think it over. It's either anything else, anywhere, all that you would like to have me do?"

Mona's cameo profile was clear cut against the shadows of the cab. "Are you sure you would do anything I asked?" she said softly, without looking at him.

"I would try," she said. "I might as well try. I'll ask you later." "Drive through the park," he ordered as they neared 59th street.

"Summer wanderers, summer absentees were returning. The new season at Saratoga has changed her mind and will spend the remainder of August at James before returning to her country home on Long Island.

Mrs. Graham Fair Vanderbilt will open her East Hampton, Long Island, home for a musicale and tea next Thursday afternoon for the benefit of the East Hampton Settlement House. Her or-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Adams Mayer, are spending the season with her.

Mrs. Harry Williams of New Orleans, the former Marguerite Clarke of silent movie fame, is guest of the Albert F. Jaekels at Southampton this week end.

William de Rham is flying about from one gay society affair to another these days. He flew from Southampton this week for the tennis tournament at Newport and yesterday he took the air route to Montreal for a short visit.

Frank Brown, Mrs. Julia Little, Horace Little, Mrs. Frank Spitzer and Mrs. Wm. Lyman motored to Crescent Beach Wednesday to call on Mrs. May Lyman Smith, who is caring for someone there.

Frank Northrup and son Vernon, and Mrs. Nellie Cole and son Everett, left early Thursday morning for West Swanes, N. H., where Old Home Day is being observed. This is Mrs. Cole's old home. From there they will go to Bel. Air, Vt., and then to New York State and home by way of Bear Mt. Bridge. They expect to be gone about a week.

Mr. and Mrs. William Wolf took a motor trip to Plymouth, Mass., Monday.

Work has already been started on the new road to be constructed from Holmes corner to the top of Utley Hill.

Mrs. Julia Little and son Horace Little spent the week end in New Haven at the home of Mrs. Little's brother, Frank Brown. Mr. and Mrs. Brown returned with them and are now guests at the home of Mrs. Little.

Mrs. Irving Lohr has had as a guest for the past ten days Miss Alice Turman of Fordham, N. Y. Miss Turman returned to her home Tuesday.

A band composed of young people from Columbia, Hebron, Gilead and Lebanon under the direction of Albert E. Lyman of Columbia, played on the Green for about an hour Saturday afternoon during the Ladies Aid Fair. The music was much enjoyed.

The annual Ladies Aid Fair and supper was held Thursday afternoon and evening in spite of the rain which started soon after the fair opened. A large crowd was present, over 500 being served supper, those present coming from Manchester, Hartford, Willimantic, Andover, Hebron, Liberty Hill, and other neighboring towns, as well as from the summer colony at the lake. The various booths were well patronized although the receipts were slightly below last year owing to the rain and the "depression" the ladies were well pleased with the results of their work.

Mrs. Donaghy and daughter of New Bedford are guests of Miss Lins Seelye at her home on Chestnut street. Mrs. Donaghy and her daughter were accompanied by Miss Seelye on trips to Europe and California in previous summers.

At the Democratic caucus held Thursday evening the following delegates were chosen to represent the party: State—Fannie Dizon Welch, Joseph W. Clarke. Alternate—George Champlin. Congressional—George Champlin, Raymond Clarke, Senatorial—Rowland Cobb, Raymond Squier, Wm. Mathieu, Bert Greene. Prohibitory—Rowland Cobb, Charles Frederick, Marshall Squier, Jos. N. Clarke. The delegates were unanimously chosen and the caucus was adjourned.

The Bulletin Board of Ex-Servicemen Organizations.

British War Veterans. There being little or no news of any interest from the Monks-Ypres Post this week, I will endeavor to make the Bulletin interesting by giving you a story taken from a British Legion Journal, and which I believe will be interesting to all ex-servicemen, both British and American. It is written by a British Tommy and is entitled: "To Go Out To-morrow"

A popular morning newspaper has been featuring special articles from those who have made their mark in the world of literature, setting forth their views and desires on the all-important question of longevity. It was natural, on the abstract points of this subject, opinions were to some extent divided, but those Goliaths of the pen were united on one fundamental—their desire for long life. "To live to be 100—or, if it was wished—even more."

The desire to live as long as possible is, I know, part and parcel of the make-up of every human being whose circumstances enable him or her to lead a normal existence, but a distinguished penman, but a humble workman, would willingly die tomorrow if the ruler of my destiny chose to apply the closure to my earthly sojourn quick, sharp, and sudden-like.

His life in which have gone have the cheer's full of misery for me and my kind, and today at 41 I am a by-product of industry without hope of ever securing a decent job with nothing to look forward to but long years of belt-tightening and intensified hardship, culminating in an inglorious exit within the four walls of a charitable institution. That's how I visualize the future. That's why I'm afraid to go on.

I've had a stiff scrap with adversity, and I'm licked clean and hard. I can't continue. The will to resist has gone. Yet we had an epic youth, we 40's. A youth brimful of gallant deeds and resolute accomplishments. The sickle took heavy toll from us, and the wooden cross multiplied in many lands, but we thought of the bright days which peace assuredly would herald and fought on to victory—and realization.

The regular monthly meeting of the Executive Committee of the G. S. P. of the State of New York, Monday night. All committeemen are requested to be present as matters of an important nature will be discussed.

Plans for registration of guests for the Portland, Oregon, National Convention are now at department headquarters. Those planning to make the trip and who desire guest badges, strip tickets and other supplies should have them immediately. Delegates and alternates to the convention do not register but are handled by the department. From inquiries made this office we know of two comrades of the Post who are planning to make the trip. We wish we could too.

Your delegates who attended the first two sessions of the convention are unanimous in their opinions that this year's session is the most interesting and important. Everyone seems to be very busy extending support for their candidates, and there is plenty of kidding. Although both candidates for the commandery have said that they have enough votes to win, we venture to predict that the contest will not be decided on the first ballot; as you know that it takes a two-thirds majority to win this office. Corporal Coyne Post No. 1 the sponsors of this year's convention should be commended for their splendid conduct of such a detailed affair. All plans have been carried through with thoroughness. Barring adverse weather for the parade the 1932 convention will close in grand style.

Legion is in Waterbury today

Monks-Ypres wishes to hold a good time and a good time. I will be there myself, so will tell you about it again tomorrow. I will tell you about it again tomorrow. I will tell you about it again tomorrow.

Anderson-Shea Post, V. F. W. Chairman Nelson Chesley announced that all veterans who are desirous of obtaining the Purple Heart decoration, may obtain same by signing the individual application blanks now in possession of the Post, from 8 to 5 in the office of the Assessors, in the Municipal building.

The War Department has announced that the applicant must sign his own application. All wounded men and those possessing citations are eligible. It is urgently requested that veterans make application as soon as possible.

It is unlikely that the post as a unit will attend the Legion parade in Waterbury today, although a large number of vets are planning to make the parade in a body as a matter of course. They are planning to bring home the cups, comrades.

The post extends its compliments to the Legion Auxiliary in winning the two cups Thursday for excellence in Americanization work and in support will be Donald MacDonnell, Charles Brown, Sally Boyle, Paul McGrath, and Charlotte Granville.

We hope that the type of program that Post 2046 will sponsor this year will make it eligible to receive the Oliver J. Trophy that is awarded annually by the National Americanization Committee of the V. F. W. for the most effective Americanization program conducted by an individual V. F. W. unit.

The Oliver Cup was won this year by Post 2002, Los Angeles, for the first time that this cup has gone to a unit west of the Rocky Mountains. This trophy has been won twice by three eastern posts and once by three other units also located in eastern states. It must be won three times, although not consecutively, before it is eliminated from competition.

Last year the post presented two framed facsimile of the two outstanding documents of the United States—the Constitution and the Declaration of Independence and Lincoln's Bixby Letter will be presented to the children of the South Manchester schools sometime this fall.

The V. F. W. baseball team has slowed up, for what reason we do not know. Several of the players have been working nights for the past two weeks. Maybe the gang is around the block, too old to gamble with the almighty dollar. No, well, we can book all the games you want with the rheumatic firmen if you'll only say the word. We ought, at least, to play a few more before the current rings down on outdoor sports. What's the word?

The service news is very scarce these days, and the post reporter would appreciate any items of news concerning the members of the post that can be sent in for the Saturday column. Please address mail to the Herald, ex-service column, and it will be included in the weekly notes.

ZIEGFELD FOLLIES TO BE CONTINUED

A. C. Blumenthal in Charge of Estate To Carry On Work of Founder.

New York, Aug. 20.—(AP)—The "Follies" are to be carried on, and they will retain the trademark of Ziegfeld. A. C. Blumenthal, wealthy real estate man and husband of Peggy Fears, is to produce them.

The new "Follies" will be housed in the former Earl Carroll theater, which proprietor Carroll to remark: "It surely is disconcerting that even the Estate of Ziegfeld must appropriate a theater I built to carry out my production ideas."

Carroll will install his new "Vandermere" in the former Hammerstein theater. Blumenthal has charge of the Ziegfeld Estate, and he is now managing the run of "Show Boat." Although he has not been a producer heretofore himself, his wife has become one of the stage's most active managers. She presented "Child of Manhattan" last season, and she has half a dozen new productions scheduled for this winter.

George Kaufman has "Here Today" in rehearsal, and he has been busy shuffling the cast into new positions. In the present line-up Ruth Gordon will have the lead and in support will be Donald MacDonnell, Charles Brown, Sally Boyle, Paul McGrath, and Charlotte Granville.

After a summer intermission, Heywood Brown has finally decided to produce a revue. Called "Tease Help Us," it will have John Boyle and Jay Gorney as authors. Brown, an actor who cannot be discouraged, will have a role, as was expected.

His first-stage role was seven years ago in a revue on the roof of the old Century theater. The revue ran about five nights. His most recent stage role was more fortunate. It was in "Shoot the Works," which he produced to relieve unemployment among actors. It ran all season.

The forthcoming show which has caused unusual comment on Broadway is Howard Dietz and the Schwartzes' new revue, "Flying Colors." It has Clifton Webb, Charles Butterworth, Tamra Geva, and Patsy Kelly in the cast. With the aid of a microphone in the lobby to announce arriving celebrities, the show will begin in Philadelphia Monday night, but there will be no microphone here.

A. H. Woods fires off his production on schedule next week when he begins rehearsal of "The Stork," an adaptation of a Hungarian comedy. Ron Alexander has the leading-male role.

Dial Twisters

Have you ever wondered why you can buy certain tubes for about 39 cents when practically all reputable manufacturers make theirs to sell for a dollar and more? There's a plain reason and you can take it for what it is worth to you. One of the largest—in fact it is the largest—manufacturer of radio equipment in the world has a plant in one of our Connecticut cities which is devoted exclusively to the fabricating of radio tubes. The average cost of each tube made in this plant is 8 cents; this includes all types of tubes costing at retail up to about seven dollars. Out of every hundred tubes made at least seventy-five are rejected after the stringent tests are imposed upon them. They are completed which leaves at the very most twenty-five out of the hundred upon which this maker feels confident of putting his trade name. The remaining seventy-five out of the hundred are put aside until the maker has accumulated tens of thousands of them; he then calls in some jobber and offers him the rejected stock at a few cents a piece; these tubes have no brand or name on them whatsoever. The jobber, as a general rule, calls out the best of his buy and places his own pet name on them which he sells at the same or under the standard price and the remaining tubes are sold under any number of different brands to independent dealers who can afford to sell them at bargain prices.

I do not mean to say that every tube sold today at a cheap price is a third or fourth grade product. Far be it from such under present economic conditions. Some dealers may have a stock of first grade tubes and find that he is short of cash to pay his bills. In this case he may run a perfectly legitimate sale to raise cash and under such conditions the public may buy perfectly first grade tubes far under the standard price. But it is the same as it has been ever since trading first began; people must know who they are dealing with and have confidence in what his pet dealer handles. There is a good product and there is a poor product and there is a good cheap product—take your pick. I can remember way back when I was in grammar school and one of our teachers told us something that I will never forget. She told us to never forget in buying things that the best is best. It is that to my mind, especially for radio tubes, radio service or shoe strings.

One complaint made by Mrs. Keaton was that Buster didn't keep his engagements. And just to prove her point, he didn't even show up for his divorce!

SMITH: It must be nice to own a cat. MILLER: I know it ought to be, but I've never enjoyed it. Either the cat is being repaired, or else I am.—Die Woche in Bild.

SWIMMERS IN TOWN TITLE MEET TODAY

Events Start At Globe Hollow At 2:30; Purchase Orders To Be Awarded Winners; List of Entrants.

Starting at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, the town swimming championship for 1932 will be decided at Globe Hollow, with a strong field of local swimmers determined to wrest the crown from the present title-holders, Eddie Litwinski and Miss Anne Aronson. Purchase orders valued at a total of $34 will be awarded the winners of the various events in all but the beginner's classes. Winners in this latter class will be awarded other prizes.

Medals have been awarded the winners in previous years, but this year it was felt that the award should consist of some necessity that would be more appreciated. As a result, purchase orders that will be accepted in exchange for merchandise by any local merchant, will be presented the victors.

The first three places in the boys' senior events will be given purchase orders for $5, $3 and $1 respectively; similar winners in the 14-16 years class will receive orders for $3, $2 and $1; in the 12-14 years class, $2, $1.25 and 50c; in the 10-12 years class, $1, 75c and 50c.

Winners of the first three places in the girls' senior events will be given purchase orders for $5, $3 and $1 respectively; place winners in the 13-15 years class will receive orders for $3, $2 and $1; in the 10-13 years class, $2, $1 and 50c.

Other entries—Three races will be run in the 26 yard free style event for beginners who have reached the rank for the first time this year. They are as follows: Boys, No. 1, Robert Turkington, Johnnie Lautenback, Clifford Kanehl, Terrance McSweeney, George Mallon, Charles Packard and Harry O'Connor; No. 2, Paul Finkbeiner, Russell Duke, Gordon Bell, Edward Purphy, Milton Turkington, Michael Genetti and Morris Halladay; No. 3, Bobbie Gorman, Ernest McNeil, Thomas Elliott, Lawrence Costello, Howard Isip, Joseph Muldoon, Harry Leister and Albert Carlson.

The girls will race in a similar event as follows: No. 1, Lorraine Blanchard, Marguerite Busch, Doris Cole, Rose McSherry, Dorothy England and Mildred Turek; No. 2, May Pratt, Lorraine Delaney, Lillian Blanchard, Ethel Donahue, Florence Johnson and Virginia Thornton.

Entries in the other boys' classes are as follows: 10-12 years, Michael Ortell, Russell Swartz, Horace Russell, William Taylor, William Groot, Samuel Taggart, R. Davidson, Guerinio Agostini, Leo McSweeney, John Fickler, Douglas Swartz and Howard Mohr; 12-14 years, Douglas Gordon, William Pickles, Ray French, Tony Iuliano, Francis Leary, Jack Hoffman, Adrean Grot, Albert Kurlowitz, Orlando Ortell, Manuel Ostrowsky, Vito Agostini and Reginald Barnaby; 14-16 years, George Leary, Albert Starr, Francis Gardner, Edward Stecholz, Gerald Deusey, Herbert Wolfram, Clarence Lewis, Francis Edrrett, Wallace Pesck, George May, Ear, Chapman, George Frost, Norman Platt, Russell Stevenson, Robert Carney and Frank Invernizzi.

Entries in the other girls' classes are as follows: 10-13 years, Wanda Fisk, Mary Cordera, Harriet Muldoon, Mildred Aron, Rita Balmer, Edna Weil, Martha Mannis, Anna Civillo, Doris Wright, Margaret Oswald, Margaret Turek, Jean French, Anita Lewis and Jean French; 13-15 years, Esther Pickles, Mary Mahoney, Eleanor Keith, Margaret Haugh, Zeta Brennan, Mary Hoba, Virginia Whitehouse, Dorothy McKinney, Margaret Ubrich, Ruth Runde and Florence Lehman.

The Tufts A. C. of Middletown will play the Bluefields tomorrow afternoon at the McAfee tennis grounds at 2:30 o'clock. The Tufts team is the only one to score a win over the fast Bluefields team this year. Di Natali, of the Tufts outfit, as fine a southpaw pitcher as has been seen around these parts this year, will be in the box for the down-river outfit, and Kovis or Neubar will have the assignment for the Bluefields.

The Bluefields have won seven, tied one and lost one this season, the latest win being a 3-0 victory over Home Co. No. 1 with Parr and Vesco the Headquarters Co. battery and Lashinks and Snow the battery for the Bluefields.

Wallace Wade's coaching school at Middletown will have an enrollment of 112, a record for coaching schools in the southeast.

SUB-ALPINE BESTS IRISH NINE AGAIN

Wims Deciding Game of Series, 3-1; To Play Four Times Next Week.

With "Ringo" Sturgeon allowing only four hits, the Sub-Alpine A. C. won the third and deciding game of a series, with the Irish Nine, 3 to 1, last night. Previously, the Irish Nine had won the first game, 5 to 4, and the Sub-Alpine had taken the second, 3 to 2.

The first score of the game was a gift, Chadwick dropping a throw with two down and a man on third. The second and third scores, however, rode home on Sturgeon's smash to center.

The Sub-Alpine team has played four games this week, winning two, losing one and tying one. Two other games were booked but one was rained out and the other called at the end of the fourth because of darkness, with the Sub-Alpine leading 2 to 2.

Next week the Alpines will have a strenuous schedule, meeting the Colored Giants, East Hartford Red Sox, West Side All Stars and Bolton Young Timers. The score: Sub-Alpine (3) AB R H PO A E

VINES AND ALLISON IN NEWPORT FINALS

National Title Holder Also Pairs Up With Gledhill in Doubles Final.

Newport, R. I., Aug. 20.—(AP)—Ellsworth Vines, National tennis champion, today faced Wilmer Allison of Austin, Texas in the final play of the Newport Casino tennis tournament singles.

The semi-final doubles match between Allison and John Van Ryn of Philadelphia and Sidney Wood of New York and Lester Stoeffen of Los Angeles, which was halted by darkness yesterday, was scheduled for immediately after the singles. At the close of yesterday's play the Allison-Vyn combination had topped Wood and Stoeffen in two sets and were five-all in the third.

The winners of the incomplete doubles match were to meet Vines and his fellow Californian Keith Gledhill. Vines won his right to compete in the singles final by virtue of a hard earned win over Davey Jones of New York. Allison defeated Gregory Mangin of Newark, N. J., in yesterday's single, semi-finals.

Yesterday's Stars

By the Associated Press
Mule Haas and Tony Freitas, Athletics—Former's homer in sixth decided first game against Indians; latter pitched ninth consecutive victory in night cap.

TWENTY GRAND TO BATTLE EQUIPOISE IN GRUDGE FIGHT

Kings of Turf Will Meet in Saratoga Cup Race; Outcome Will Settle Old Score.

By WILLIAM BRAUCHER NEA Service Sports Editor

New York, Aug. 20.—This year's Battle of the Century will be staged between two horses who came back. And it will be a grudge fight.

When Twenty Grand and Equipoise race for the Saratoga Cup on the closing day of the Saratoga meeting, it will be more than a mere struggle for a prize.

Each of the horses broke down and had to be withdrawn from the entry lists. And each horse has returned to form.

Equipoise cracked under the strain of training for the Kentucky Derby last year. Twenty Grand went lame last spring and it was feared the 3-year-old champion of 1931 never would race again.

But both now are pronounced by their trainers "as fit as a fiddle."

In the Kentucky Jockey Club stakes of two years ago, the two put up a stirring battle. Twenty Grand won by a nose, setting a new juvenile record of 1:36 for the mile.

This year, Equipoise established at Arlington a new world record for the mile—1:34 3/5.

Equipoise might have been pardoned for not making just a little in Twenty Grand's direction after the race, and saying, "Well, maybe you can tie that!"

To which Mrs. Payne Witney's great winner might reply, "Just wait until I get you in the home stretch!"

MAJORS CRY "HELP" AND ROOKIES COME

Some Make Good and Some Don't; Clubs Fear Yanks Will Win Pennant.

By WILLIAM BRAUCHER NEA Service Sports Editor

New York, Aug. 20.—The melancholy days are here, the saddest of the year, when baseball clubs begin to fear the Yankees are about to win the American League pennant for 1932, so what?

Rebuilding and reinforcement are in order. In Boston, people can get a pass to the game only by promising to try out for the team. A flock of strange faces is blossoming out in Red Sox uniforms. Baseball writers in the press box have to ask who's at bat and who's the pitcher this evening.

Of the young pitchers working out with the Helpless Hose are Welch, Gallagher and Boerner. The last named young man just popped into the clubhouse one day and asked Manager Marty McManus if he happened to need a good pitcher.

The reply, of course, being yes, Master Boerner asked please for a suit. He got a suit and a trial—and seems to be good enough to stick around for at least the rest of the season.

Father Kelly's Baseballers Earn Way Into Pro Leagues

Bourbonnais, Ill., Aug. 20.—and later played several years in the American Association.

Jimmy Dalrymple, one of the best shortstops in Illinois collegiate circles, joined Reading after graduation. He's with Port Worth this season. Pat Sweeney went into the American Association via the Three-Eye League, while Iggy Waters, another first baseman who left St. Viator during the winter, seems headed for stardom with Decatur.

14 ENTRIES IN WOMEN'S SINGLES TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Byes Given Miss Washkewicz, Defending Champion, and Miss Heubner, Runner-Up Last Year; Play Starts Today.

Fourteen persons will compete in the women's singles tennis tournament, opening this afternoon. Because of the number entered, two byes were given, one to Miss Elizabeth Washkewicz, the defending champion, and the other to Miss Eleanor Heubner, runner-up last year.

The women's tournament will consist of the opening round, the final and final. Pairings were made last night and will send Doris Lamprecht against Mildred Sutherland, the winner to meet the titleholder. Other pairings are as follows: Grace Gaglio and Olga Weber, Gladys Lamprecht and Marion Mordan; Betty Quimby and Mrs. Robert Houghton, Anna Wilkie and Marie Tomlinson, Mary Antonio and Frances Oswald, the winner of the latter match to meet Miss Heubner.

Results of Men's Singles: Philip Mahoney defeated Clifford Smith in straight sets, 6-1 and 6-0, and will meet Thomas Hawley, Larry Paisley or George Elliott. Carl Johnson rallied after a poor start to trounce Mike Brozowski, 6-3, 6-1 and 6-2, and will meet the winner of the George Weiman-Herman Goodstein match. In the only other match played, James Britton won a hard fought battle from Aldo Gatti, 2-6, 7-5 and 6-4.

GRANT SEEMS HEADED FOR THIRD BIG TITLE

New Haven, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Bobby Grant of Waterfield seemed headed toward his third championship of the season today as he faced Robert Busby of Bridgeport in a semi-final match in the New Haven Country Club invitation golf tournament.

The youthful Waterfield star, Connecticut and New England amateur champion, defeated Charles Clare of Race Brook and John Fox of Bridgeport yesterday to enter the semi-finals. He beat both players two up.

The other semi-final brought A. F. Kammer, jr., defending champion, against Lou Ahern, Waterfield's rival. Kammer beat Dick Clark of Mill River 4 and 3 after the latter had eliminated the medalist, M. P. Warner of New Haven, 5 and 4 in a first round match. Busby advanced to the semi-finals at the expense of George Gamble of Race Brook whom he defeated 1 up.

The finals were scheduled for this afternoon.

BOY, 8, PROVES GOOD MARKSMAN—Belmont, Cal.—(AP)—Breaking 15 out of 25 birds at the Legion Gun club shoot, 8-year-old John Pesek, son of a wrestler by that name, created a sensation. The youngster used a 20 gauge gun at 16 yards.

FOXY PHANN—A GOOD SALESMAN CAN ALWAYS BRING ORDERS OUT OF CHAOS.

N. E. ARROWS-MANCHESTER GREEN—The North End Arrows will take on the fast stepping Manchester Green team on Jarvis lot tomorrow afternoon. The Arrows will line up against the Hubbsians as follows: "Butch" Carter, "Lanky" P. S. Golas, 1b; J. Jamroz, 2b; E. Balon, ss; McCurry, 3b; J. Mitchell, lf; Kroll, cf; Arakivry, rf.

SANDWICH HONORS TRACK STAB—Palo Alto, Cal.—(AP)—A big three-deck turkey sandwich is the latest luscious menu offered track fans hereabouts by a "shoppe" and it's named the "Bastman Special," in honor of Ben Bangs, Bastman, former star of Stanford university.

KLEIN'S BIG BAT IS OUTSLUGGING HIS CHIEF RIVAL

Phillies' Star Hitter Rounds Out Wonderful Record; Leads in Almost Every Department.

New York, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Chuck Klein, the Phillies' star slugger, rounded out his batting record this week in batting feats that left his Philadelphia rival, Jimmy Fox of the Athletics, almost out of the slugging picture.

A leader in nearly every one of the regularly recorded departments: slugging since early in the season Klein captured some of the laurels in the one department where he previously had displayed some weakness—two base hits—and after yesterday's games he led either first or second in every one of the National League's batting lists. He led in runs and hits in both circuits.

Klein's first place totals were 133 runs, 184 hits, 130 runs batted in, 35 home runs and 18 stolen bases. With 43 doubles he was seven behind the major league leader, Paul Waner of Pittsburgh, and 34 triples left him two behind Babe Herman of Cincinnati, who shared the major league lead with Buddy Myer of Washington.

In the batting averages, Chuck led a little further behind Lucey O'Doul of Brooklyn, who shot his mark up to .367, but he held the runner-up post for the majors with a .358 mark.

Fox still led both leagues in 43 homers and with 129 runs batted in. He also continued as the star American League swatter with four firsts and one second. But Jimmy slipped still further down in the averages with a two-point loss for the week. A third National League, Don Hurst of the Phillies, who had a .357 average was ahead of Fox's .354 mark.

He 117 runs, however, still led his league and 160 hits left him ahead of the local slugger, Godeck or Sturgeon who do the hurdling for the locals with McCue or Peragoll hurdling for Glastonbury. The local team will leave at 1:30 o'clock.

Next Sunday the Aces will meet the West Siders in the first game of the town series at the West Side field at 3 o'clock.

The probable lineups: Glastonbury Demeter, rf; Fogelin, ss; Stavinaky, 1b; Macdonald, 1b; Burkhart, cf; Burdlo, 3b; Manfredi, cf; Thurs, 2b; Pagani, c. Aces McConkey, 3b; Boggin, 3b; Stavinaky, 1b; Macdonald, 1b; Burkhart, cf; Burdlo, 3b; Manfredi, cf; Thurs, 2b; Pagani, c.

THREE FAVORED IN LONG DISTANCE RUN

Agee, Demar and De Bruyn Seen Possible Winners of 26 Mile Race.

Washington, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Two fast-footed Americans and a sturdy German were favored as possible winners of today's National A. A. U. marathon championship sponsored by the Evening Star.

Forecasters as usual had looked over the 125 entries who will start from "historic" Mount Vernon, George Washington's home, at 2 p. m. on the 26 mile 385 yard run to the White House. They found as outstanding contenders Willie Agee of Baltimore, defending champion, Clarence Demar of Harrison, Md., and Paul De Bruyn, 24-year-old runner.

De Bruyn won the Boston marathon earlier this year; Demar, who combines school teaching and running, won the same event seven times.

The experts, however, did not overlook the possibilities. They were Jimmy Heiglan of Medford, Mass., who finished behind De Bruyn at Boston. There was John Semple, West Lynn, Mass., once Scot champion. There also was Percy Wyr from Canada, who weighs only 98 pounds. Many other marathoners were here for the race.

DODGERS ONLY TWO GAMES BEHIND CUBS

STRATTON LIMITS CARDS TO 2 HITS Move Into Second Place, Blanking Reds, 6-0; Pirates Drop To Third; Relief Hurler Aids Yanks.

Back in 1927 the New York Yanks won an American League pennant with the aid of the good right arm of one of the oldest legends among major league club ever brought up to the big show. Now that same rookie, in his middle thirties now, is furnishing material assistance as the Yanks drive toward another championship.

He is Willy Moore, relief hurler extraordinary. He was 30 years old when the Yanks first bought him but he proceeded to win 19 games and lost 7 in 1927, his labor restricted almost entirely to relief roles.

A few weeks ago the Yanks picked him up again from the Boston Red Sox and once more he is turning back rival batmen when the going gets toughest.

Moore saves game against the Detroit Tigers yesterday, his "lure" relief job in the last five days, and promptly saved the game for the Yanks. The Tigers had won the first battle 4-3, as Hoggett outpitched Ruffing and broke the Yanks' streak of ten successive victories, and the second game was tied up at 5-0 when Moore was sent in to hold the Tigers safe in the ninth. He did, and the Yanks proceeded to win the game for him in the last half of the same frame.

Tony Lazzeri's single driving in the winning run. Babe Ruth clouted his 35th home run.

The Philadelphia Athletics strengthened their hold on second place by whipping the Cleveland Indians in both ends of a double-header 9-7 and 3-2, in ten innings.

Washington's Senators also tripped the Chicago White Sox yesterday 4-3 and 3-1, aided by Sox fielders who made six errors.

Dodgers in Second Place In the National League the Brooklyn Dodgers moved into second place, two games behind the Chicago Cubs, by blanking the Cincinnati Reds, 6-1, behind Van Lint's six-hit pitching.

The Cubs dropped a 6-5 decision to the Boston Braves in the fourth game of a series in which every battle was decided by one run.

The New York Yankees were held to a 1-0 tie by the St. Louis Cardinals in a 5-1 decision over the Phillies in an 11-inning game, marked by excellent pitching both by Johnson and Ed Holley. Johnson allowed only nine hits and fanned eight.

Two base hits: H. McCann; sacrifice hits, Hadden, Boyce; double play, Johnson; errors, Johnson, Fiedler, Mikoliet; Ambrose; base on balls off Stratton; 1, Webber; 3, hit by pitcher Wogman, Maloney; struck out by, Stratton 9, Webber 4.

School Street Firemen Come From Behind To Win, 8-7 Last Night.

Hose and Ladder Co. No. 4, defeated Hose Co. No. 2, in a close and exciting game at Jarvis Grove last night. The boys from Educational Square were trailing 7 to 2 until the fifth, when Mullins weakened and four hits and a walk scored four runs.

The score going into the last of the seventh, No. 2, 7, No. 4, 6. Russell started the eighth with a hit to short, Fraser hit to center field, scoring the runner, and Sherman poled a long fly to Knotha which was misjudged and the winning tally crossed the plate.

Charley Rogers did well as assistant coach in the absence of Ed May who is at the Firemen's Convention in Pawcatuck.

well of Mount Vernon by Patricia Hurley, daughter of the secretary of war. O'Connor's speech

In a speech delivered before the chairman, Chairman D. O'Connor of the United States Shipping Board, said that "this latest and largest addition to the fleet, about to be given the name of the patriot who brought our freedom as a nation, will help us still further to achieve a greater measure of independence at sea."

"Future progress," he said, "depends entirely on the amount of patronage our ships receive from American citizens. I appeal to everyone listening to this broadcast today to stand squarely behind American Merchant Marine."

Carries 1,250 Passengers The new ship, 65 per cent completed, was named the Washington because of the bicentennial observance of the birth of the first President. It is of 30,000 gross tonnage, 705 feet long, with an 86-foot beam and a service speed of 20 knots. She will carry 1,250 passengers and has a general cargo capacity of 380,000 cubic feet. She will enter the transatlantic service early next year. She has 47,000 cubic feet capacity for refrigerated cargo.

The Manhattan and the Washington cost approximately $20,000,000. The Washington is the third large ship in our time to bear that name. The biggest is the George Washington, formerly of the United States Lines, which carried President Wilson to France when the peace treaty was signed after the World War. She is now tied up at Hoboken. The other Washington is the Old Dominion liner George Washington which plies between New York and Norfolk.

SEEK TO END STRIKE Sioux City, Ia., Aug. 26.-(AP)—A peace move was under way in the Midwest farmers produce strike today, following settlement of Sioux City's milk "war" but fears were expressed in some quarters that the situation might grow more serious despite this settlement.

Sloux City businessmen sought through Governor Turner to arrange an arbitration meeting so as to end the picketing of highways by farmers. Some of the leaders of the strikers expressed the opinion that trouble might break out if trucks carrying milk were allowed to pass through blockades with livestock or grain.

ITALY ENTERAINS PICCARD Desenzano, Italy, Aug. 26.-(AP)—Professor Auguste Piccard, twice conqueror of the stratosphere, was happy today.

Mme. Piccard arrived this morning, saying she was glad to see him looking so well after his adventure. General Italo Balbo, commander of the Italian air force, flew here in a plane today and will take Professor Piccard and his wife to Venice in a seaplane this afternoon. They will spend the night there and return tomorrow to go to the Vittoriano of Gabriele D'Annunzio, Italian poet and soldier, on Lake Garda. They expect to leave Italy Monday.

GEN. CHIANG NAMED Nanking, Aug. 26.-(AP)—General Chiang Kai-Shek was appointed today chairman of the military commission of 18 which will control affairs in North China under a new order of the National government.

The commission will function in place of Marshal Chang Hsiang-Liang, former Manchurian dictator who resigned last week after his policy toward Japan was criticized as "too passive" by Wang Ching-Wai, president of the Executive Yuan, who also resigned.

SCHOONER IS WRECKED Madison, Aug. 26.-(AP)—A schooner yacht owned by a man named Doane was driven on Hammonasset Beach today and pounded to pieces. Three persons aboard were rescued.

The yacht had been moored off East River where the owner lives and in the storm yesterday afternoon it dragged anchor and began to drift. A motor boat went out and took the yacht in tow to find another anchorage.

The heavy sea and wind with a tide which was rolling in heavily made the mooring tackle inadequate. The motorboat again took the schooner in tow and those aboard laid a course for Essex. When off Hammonasset Beach attempts were made to put sail on the craft but the three men aboard were unable to handle the canvas. The anchor was let down but it did not hold and today the craft broke up on the beach.

OPENING STOCKS New York, Aug. 26.-(AP)—The Stock Market sagged quietly in the early trading today, in continuance of the moderate sell-off yesterday, but the list stiffened toward the end of the first half hour.

Stocks losing 1 to nearly 2 points included Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, American Tobacco "B", Allied Chemical, Dupont, Westinghouse Electric, Consolidated Gas, American Telephone and Eastern Gas. These losses were reduced by fractions, however, after the first few minutes.

The conclusion of the Ottawa conference was one of the chief developments of interest to Wall Street, and while it appeared that American foreign trade might suffer somewhat, the results were probably not as adverse as expected some weeks ago. Steel and textiles appeared to be the items in our export trade which would feel the most adverse effects. Most of our trade, however, as reported for July, had already fallen to the lowest level since July of 1928.

Week-end business and trade surveys showed little change in basic conditions. The most encouraging aspect of recent business developments was probably the fact that the Standard Index figures for general business activity have shown little important change since the first of July.

Foreign exchanges were mixed at the opening. The pound, which recently fell, regained 5-18 of a point to 89.2 cents for cables transfers. Sterling cables opened 1-8 of a cent high, at $3.47 1/2.

power, he said, and peace with the president is "unthinkable." Queles, in the state of Rio de Janeiro, which has been the center of the month of fighting has been virtually leveled by artillery fire, the rebel representative added, and most of the inhabitants have moved out. It is important only as a way point toward the railway center, Cruzeiro, to the south.

MACY SUBPOENAED Syracuse, N. Y., Aug. 26.-(AP)—W. Kingland Macy, chairman of the State Republican committee, today was subpoenaed as a defense witness in the Walker inquiry before Governor Roosevelt. The paper was served at a hotel here as he was preparing to retire after conferring with central New York party leaders.

Mr. Macy said he would be in Albany Tuesday morning, as directed by the subpoena.

BINGHAM IN AUTOGYRO New York, Aug. 26.-(AP)—Senator Hiram Bingham took off from North Beach Airport at 7:50 o'clock (Eastern Standard Time) this morning in an autogyro to make campaign speeches in Waterbury, Norwalk and East Hartford, Conn.

James G. Ray of Philadelphia, noted for his perfect landings in restricted areas, is piloting the autogyro.

Lumbago means that the blood is poor, a doctor tells us. Or that the lawn needs mowing, we might add.

WAPPING There was a fire on the John Lathrop estate on the Ellington road, at Pleasant valley last Thursday evening, about 8 o'clock, which destroyed a barn and wagonshed and burned to death six horses, besides a large quantity of hay, two tractors, and tobacco which had recently been harvested. The water tower was partially destroyed also. They managed to get two of the horses out to safety. The damage was estimated to be about $8,000. The buildings were insured. The L. B. Haas Tobacco company was running the place. The East Hartford Fire company was called and two engines and thirty-five firemen were sent out, who did excellent work in saving the house and large garage. It was estimated that there were 2,000 automobiles attracted to the fire and Constable William Burnham directed the traffic. There were no accidents during the fire.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Graham, Jr., Miss Dorothy Stoddard, Mabel Graham and Earl Stoddard, all of Wapping will leave today for Point O' Woods where they will spend a two weeks' vacation.

Beatrice Johnson, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence W. Johnson is confined to her home with the whooping cough.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Collins and son Asher A. Collins motored to White Sands and spent a week last Sunday where they spent the week-end.

The Wapping Girls' Baseball team will spend the week-end at Black Point, at the cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar J. Stoughton.

Cards have been received from Rev. and Mrs. David Carter and Mrs. Mabel Bennett, saying they made the trip to their home in Durant, Okla., a distance of 1800 miles in the four days, going through New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington and other large cities.

Otto Melton of South Windsor is spending his vacation in Maine. Arthur L. Young of Ellington is the new supervisor of schools in South Windsor, succeeding Mrs. McLaughlin. Mr. Young who is superintendent of schools in Ellington, formerly had the school in Tolland but henceforth will have Ellington and South Windsor.

Edward P. Collins is building a new house for his own occupancy just north of his present home.

JOHN HARRIMAN WEDS MRS. MARGARET MORGAN New York, Aug. 26.-(AP)—Friends learned today of the marriage of John Harriman, son of the late John D. Harriman, and Mrs. Margaret Case Morgan, daughter of Frank Case, owner of the hotel Algonquin.

The ceremony was performed yesterday in the Court House in New London, Conn., by Judge Cornelius C. Costello of the Probate Court of Groton. The only witnesses were George Costello, brother of the judge, Charles Smith, Commissioner of Banks and Henry C. Brogan of Groton. The couple left immediately on a wedding trip.

The bride was formerly the wife of Gulon Morgan, broker. Their marriage was terminated by a divorce granted in Reno in 1923.

Harriman was married twice previously. His first wife, who was Alice Laidley, a ward of Howard Chandler Christy, died in Paris in 1924. His second wife was the former Mrs. Anna Foley De l'Aigle Munds, whom he married in 1927. A divorce ended that marriage.

The bridegroom is a nephew of Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt.

ROOSEVELT BROADCAST Columbus, O., Aug. 26.-(AP)—A nation-wide hook-up of twenty-three radio stations will broadcast the opening campaign address of Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt here this afternoon.

The hook-up will start functioning at 4 o'clock and continue until Governor Roosevelt has completed his address.

The stations: WJZ, New York; WBZ, Boston; WBA, Springfield, Mass.; WBAL, Baltimore; WHAM, Rochester; KDKA, Pittsburgh; WGAR, Cleveland; WJR, Detroit; WLS, Chicago; KWK, St. Louis; KWCR, Cedar Rapids, Ia.; WREN, Kansas City; WTMJ, Milwaukee; WIBA, Madison, Wis.; KSTP, Minneapolis; WEEB, Duluth; WDAF, Fargo, N. D.; KFO, San Francisco; KEX, Portland, Ore.; KJR, Seattle, Wash.; KGA, Spokane; WCAH, Columbus, O.

Queer Twists In Day's News

Kansas City—Charles Hirsch, 18, is glum, even though his airplane may have made a record non-stop flight. All he wants is the plane back. He worked 200 hours on his model craft and went out to race it against a playmate's. It soared up several hundred feet, and shot away with Charles chasing it over hill and dale, followed by sympathetic motorists. When last seen it was a speck headed for the stratosphere.

Seminole, Okla.—What price wedding is a question Country Clerk Kenneth C. Higdon can answer. He gave J. M. Harris, 29, and Leona Bellad, 19, a marriage license for $17.50—all the cash they had—plus a bushel of onions and ten pounds of green peppers.

Santa Claus, Ind.—Thieves with no respect for Santa Claus took $50 worth of goods from the general store of James Martin, postmaster of this celebrated town.

New York—Beer, beer everywhere, but three American college girls only elevated their noses. Louise Reisman and Mary Louise Hunter of Wellesley and Wells Hawkins of Bryn Mawr are back from a year in Munich, announcing they don't know what beer tastes like. They feebly bargained waters by asking for lemonade.

Cincinnati—Insects played hob with Cincinnati's new zoning ordinance. Mrs. Elizabeth Hills at the William Camp Ground Thursday.

Mrs. Lovina Hutchinson attended the fair and supper at Columbia Thursday afternoon. She was accompanied by her granddaughter, Miss Doris Hutchinson, of Manchester.

The Hebron Young Women's club held their meeting at the Gilead hall Thursday evening. It was to have been an outdoors meeting at Mrs. Arthur Keefer's but on account of the rain they changed their plans.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Buell plan to pass the week-end with their son, Deems L. Buell and family, in Berlin, N. Y.

REPORTERS ENTERTAINED Skyland, Va., Aug. 26.-(AP)—A vacationing President today had a friendly get-together with newspapermen who had accompanied him to his Blue Ridge mountain camp.

Mr. Hoover invited to lunch all the reporters and photographers who usually stay at a hotel several miles away from the Rapidan camp. The wives were invited too.

The President already was well acquainted with most of the news men. Several had been reporting his activities for months before the campaign began.

MERCHANTS WARNED Hartford, Aug. 26.-(AP)—Police Chief Garrett J. Farrell, president of the State Police Association, today warned the public that two imposters are visiting various parts of Connecticut and collecting funds for a "Police Year Book." They represent themselves as members of the association and interest business men in obtaining advertising space in the book. Chief Farrell stated that the association is not preparing a year book and that no person or persons have been authorized to solicit funds for any purpose. It is known that $15 was collected illegally from a Wilson man.

GILEAD

Mr. and Mrs. Merton Bennett of Ludlow, Mass., and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bennett and their children of Ithaca, N. Y., were visitors Wednesday and Thursday with Mrs. Emilly Ellis and Mrs. and Mrs. Asa Emilly Ellis and family, Wednesday, Mr. and Mrs. Asa W. Ellis entertained at dinner their guests, also their daughters and friends from Hartford, making a total of sixteen.

Mrs. William Lull and her daughters of Huntington street, South Manchester, were visitors Wednesday at Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Lyman's.

The women who attended the meeting of the Ladies Aid society at Mrs. Clayton Hill's last Wednesday were served a delicious supper under the maple. A dog roast was part of the menu.

Gypsies in an automobile bearing Ohio markers passed through here Tuesday. They made themselves quite at home at Mr. Ackerman's, helping themselves at whatever their hands rested on till discovered by the owners.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Foote, Mrs. C. C. Foote and her son visited Mrs. Elizabeth Hills at the William Camp Ground Thursday.

Mrs. Lovina Hutchinson attended the fair and supper at Columbia Thursday afternoon. She was accompanied by her granddaughter, Miss Doris Hutchinson, of Manchester.

The judge was sober as could be. He only said, "Well, mercy me! Why is this little lad in court? Has he done something wrong?" "I hate to fine a little boy. It certainly brings me no joy. Now, tell me all about it so the case can move along."

"The monkey cop stepped up and said, 'Your honor, I just used my head. The little lad was riding in a cart pulled by this monkey. They raced by me at breakneck speed and I just thought, that's all I need to have cause to arrest them. Why, I thought they'd go kapunk. I hopped into the cart and then the speeding started once again. This time it was the monkey's fault. In fact the lad was fine. He made the monkey slow right down, instead of racing through the town. The monkey obeyed the lad's remarks, but would not back to mine."

An old dandy visited a doctor and was given definite instructions as to what he should do. Shaking his head he went about to leave, when the doctor said:

Doctor—Here, Rastus, you forgot to pay me?
Rastus—Pay yo' fo' what, Boss?
Doctor—For my advice.
Rastus—No, mui! Ah ain't gwine to take it—and Rastus shuffled out.

Negro—Ah plead guilty and waive de hearing.
Judge—What do you mean by waive de hearing?
Negro—Ah means, Ah don't wanta hear no mo' 'bout it.

A young Negro in applying for a job as laborer recently in Durham, North Carolina, was being questioned regarding his father's death. The Negro admitted that his father's death was caused by a falling spade. Pressed for a further explanation, he said: "De ace dropped out ob his sleeves in a poker game."

TODAY IS THE WORLD WAR ANNIVERSARY

FRENCH BAG 8,000 PRISONERS

On Aug. 20, 1918, the Fourth French army under General Mangin smashed its way through German defenses on the Oise and took more than 8,000 prisoners in a day of fierce attacks and counter-attacks. The net French advance for the two days of fighting in the new drive averaged more than four miles on a 16-mile front. Many towns and villages were taken and retreating Germans suffered great losses from French artillery fire.

British forces continued their advance in the Merville section, pushing forward more than a mile.

Much of the ground gained by the Germans in their five great offensives in the spring and early summer had been regained by the allies since the start of their great counter-offensive on the Marne on July 18.

German morale was reported weakening noticeably.

ong, China, for twenty years until his death two years ago.

Mr. Friberg, with his mother, brother and sister, arrived in America in 1927, where he has pursued his collegiate and theological studies. As representative of the Foreign Missionary Society of Augustana College and Theological Seminary, the speaker is visiting some ninety churches in Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey and New England.

MCCUSKEY EXPECTED
HOME TUESDAY, AUG. 30

Committee To Meet Soon To Make Arrangements For Reception To Follow Return.

A meeting of the entire general committee in charge of the welcome home reception to Joe McCluskey, will be held in the Municipal Building at 8:30 o'clock Tuesday evening for the purpose of hearing reports from the four sub-committees, making arrangements for the parade, reception, banquet and finance.

It is expected that McCluskey will arrive home on Tuesday, August 30, and arrangements are being made with this date in mind. Each of the four sub-committees has been working hard to perfect their plans as soon as possible and a complete report is expected Tuesday night.

EAST SIDERS DANCE ON PLAYGROUND PAVE

Nearly a Thousand Look On As Boys Club Orchestra Plays For Evening Diversion.

Dancing on the concrete at the East Side playgrounds at the Nathan Hale school last night was enjoyed by a large number of persons and nearly one thousand others were on hand to watch the dancers. Music was furnished by the popular Boys' Club orchestra, organized by Director Lewis Lloyd.

In view of the fact that Director Lloyd will leave Manchester next month to assume a position in New York state, the orchestra held a meeting after the dance to discuss plans for the future. Miss Mildred Squatrito was elected treasurer and manager and rehearsals will be held under her direction.

LUTHER LEAGUE PICKS
CONVENTION DELEGATES

Miss Edith Johnson and Miss Ruth Benson To Go To Waterbury On September 3, 4 and 5.

Miss Edith Johnson and Miss Ruth Benson were elected delegates to the annual convention of the Hartford District Luther League, to be held at Waterbury, September 3, 4 and 5, at a meeting of the Luther League of the Emanuel Lutheran church last night. Ivar Scott was elected alternate.

The members voted to hold a confirmation reunion, Sunday, November 6, and the chairman was authorized to appoint a committee of five to handle the event. Herbert Johnson, Mitsal Berggren and Hilma Dahlman were named as a committee to arrange transportation for members planning to attend the convention at Waterbury. Rev. Knut E. Erickson, pastor of the local church, will be one of the convention speakers. Miss Ruth Johnson made a report on the bible camp at Lake Winnepesaukee, N. H., to which she was sent as delegate of the League.

Following the business session, a most interesting program was presented, in charge of Miss Esther M. Johnson. The feature of the program was sketching in charcoal by Leonard H. Johnson, who kept the members entertained with his rapid cartooning. The girls of the church choir sang "The Peasant's Wedding March" and "Can Hear My Saviour Calling."

Miss Faith Owers played two piano solos, "Dainty Miss" by Barnes and "Country Garden" by Grainger. David Hutchinson, accompanied by his sister, Miss Jessie Hutchinson, sang two solos, "Home On The Range," and "The Big Bass Viol." Refreshments were served after the program.

HOLD EX-CONVICT FOR LOCAL THEFT

Part of Montgomery Ward and Co. Shipment Found in Hartford Meadows.

Claims made by the Manchester store of Montgomery Ward for loss of goods in transit by freight led to the arrest last evening in Hartford of George W. Cooper, an ex-convict, on the charge of stealing a carton of leather gloves.

Yesterday morning a representative of the New Haven railroad came to Manchester and checked up with the Ward concern, learning that some gloves and some boys' trousers were missing, although they should have been in Manchester on Monday.

After investigation by the railroad authorities the Hartford police were called into the case yesterday afternoon. They were led to believe that George W. Cooper, who lived in a shack in the North Meadows, not far from the Windsor street freight yards, might be implicated. A search was started and after digging in the ground near his shack the police found the carton of gloves, still bearing the address of the Montgomery Ward store here.

Cooper was charged with the theft of the gloves and an effort is now being made to find the rest of the missing goods.

Cooper served part of a long term in State Prison for being implicated in a holdup of a trolley car in Hartford several years ago.

An average citizen states his own platform

"I'm Ready for the word 'GO!'"

"Can you picture a vigorous American content to sit, like the Hindu, half a lifetime under a tree, contemplating the affairs of the universe?"

"No, most of us in this country want to be up and doing. I can't prophesy when business will start up. But I do maintain that our people have boundless energy to produce, unquestioned ability to consume."

What can a Trust Institution do to help the "going?"

For one thing, we can urge men who have been going to make their wills, to make them.

We can show how present business and financial times have a bearing, not only upon the amount of money men plan to leave their families, but upon the way they leave it.

We offer our assistance to you in revising your future plans for your family—in the light of present conditions.
