SAYS UNITY ONLY CAN CURE ECONOMIC WOES

Concerted Action of a United People Essential, L. A. Ramsdell Tells Kiwanis Club.

"Nothing less than the concerted efforts of a united people can translate the unhappy and disorganized America of today into the steady, progressive, co-operative commonwealth of tomorrow," declared L. A. Ramsdell, secretary of the Hartford Community Chest, at the noonday meeting of the Kiwanis Club at the Country Club this noon.

Almost as necessary, however, as the provision of adequate material relief is the more extensive development of measures to provide relief through artificial creation of employment. Man does not live by bread alone. The great majority of American workmen want work; they do not want to be supported in idleness.

Human nature, as everybody knows, is compounded of two ingredients. The original disposition with which we are born, and the social environment in which we grow up and live.

At the present moment, our minds are preoccupied of course, with the tremendous relief problem which confronts us.

BODY WRITING TO JAIL

Constable Fles Deal and May Get Freedom of the Entire County and More.

Judge John Connel, Jr., of the Hartford County Superior Court, on Saturday granted to Salvatore Reale, plaintiff in the celebrated case of Reale vs. Duffy, a writ for the defendant, Constable James Duffy of Manchester, setting for the confinement of Duffy in the Hartford County Jail a writ for the payment of the judgment of $1500 given to Reale by a Superior Court jury some months ago.

Constable Duffy, however, will not go to jail at once if at all. He appeared before the court today and filed a bond under which he will be granted the freedom of the "jail limits" usually understood to be the boundary lines of the city of Hartford. This afternoon further steps were being taken by Duffy and his counsel with a view to having this dedication of Duffy to the Hartford County Jail or to other places, outside the county, as his duties as a constable might call him to.

As the plaintiff must pay the bond of a body writ prisoner in jail at the rate of $5 a week, Constable Duffy is technically though not actually in jail at Reale's debt. It is understood that Reale will be required to pay to the county $5 a week for the actual presence of Duffy as a State street boarder.

CHARGE HIGH ST. MAN WITH SETTING FIRES

Anton Anton's Case Is Put Over Until Tomorrow—Also Charged As Drunkard

The case of Anton Anton, 47, arrested on Friday night for arson, was heard late Saturday morning in the Rockville Police Court, and was postponed by Judge John E. Flisk until August 30. He was released under $100 bonds.

Anton was arrested in connection with a fire which damaged a building at 21 High street, owned by him, on Sunday morning, August 14. Fire Chief George E. Milne and the police found fire burning in three different places in the building, from which came a strong odor of kerosene. The state police entered the case and Anton was arrested last week by State Police Constable Thomas Hunt of the Stafford Springs Barracks, who found enough evidence to cause his arrest.

Anton formerly conducted a grocery store in the building, and it was later used by Stanley Kule as a manse. It was empty at the time of the fire. Other buildings close by were endangered as this is a thickly populated area. On Saturday additional charges of intoxication and being a common drunkard were placed against Anton.

Grocery Store Entered

The grocery store of Iole Bronowitz at 99 Grand Avenue was entered on Friday night and the burglar must have been frightened off in some manner as his hat was found by the owner the next day when he opened his place of business. Some of the stock was missing and the store was in a disturbed condition. Entrance was gained through a rear window. Police Captain Stephen J. Tobin was notified and he reports that nine cartons of cigarettes and two boxes of tobacco were among the missing articles. SUING MATCH CO.

New York, Aug. 29.—(AP)—Suits against eight American directors of the International Match Company asking an accounting of $200,000,000 allegedly lost through negligence and the recovery of $35,000,000 allegedly lost through the illegal payment of dividends out of capital, was begun today.

Federal bankruptcy referee Oscar W. Eichen signed the summons and complaint prepared for the plaintiff, the Irving Trust Company, trustee of the late Ivar Kreuger's defunct match company.

The eight directors named in the papers are Percy A. Rockefeller, Donald Durant, Francis L. Higginson, Henry G. Havemeyer, Frederick W. Allen, Samuel F. Pryor, Adrian H. Larikin and John McHugh.

DIRECTOR ROOP STARTS IN SLASHING ESTIMATES

Washington, Aug. 29.—(AP)—Director J. Clayton Roop of the Budget Bureau today was told how much money each Federal department head wants for operating expenses next year—and immediately started on his job of slashing estimates.

This task will take the months between now and late when hearings on the first of the annual supply bills for the 1934 fiscal year will begin before the House Appropriations committee.

Cutting costs still was considered the slogan in government expenditures, though President Hoover has not publicly issued to his Cabinet officers specific instructions for slashing, as he did last year.

Results of the Budget Bureau's work will not become known until the President sends Congress his annual budget message. This year's original budget was $3,942,754,614 or $52,271,920 less than for the 1932 fiscal year. Congress slashed it by another $100,000,000 but $1,000,000,000 was added by the economic rehabilitation program and veteran outlays.

TUNNEY HURRIES BACK TO KEEP APPOINTMENT

Bridgport, Aug. 29.—(AP)—Gene Tunney is hurrying back from Europe to keep two political appointments for the Democratic Party.

The following cablegram was received yesterday from the former world heavyweight boxing champion by the committee arranging the testimonial dinner next Saturday for Archibald McNeil, National committeeman:

"Decided sail tomorrow. Mrs. Tunney much better. Her mother here now. Could not think of missing dinner or disappointing Maine people."

Tunney is scheduled to make his first political speech outside of Connecticut, at a Maine gathering. His wife was recently operated on for an ear infection.

The testimonial dinner for McNeil will be attended by Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, who will make his first public appearance in Connecticut since his nomination.

RACING DRIVERS KILLED

Woodbridge, N. J., Aug. 29.—(AP)—A collision in the second five-mile qualifying heat of the season's first racing program on the renovated Woodbridge speedway cost Frankie Farmer, nationally known automobile racer, and Bill Neapolitan, of Philadelphia, their lives yesterday.

The accident occurred on the fourth lap as Farmer tried to pass Neapolitan on a bank. Neapolitan's car turned over and his chest was crushed. Farmer suffered a compound fracture of the skull. They were taken to Parth Amboy hospital and pronounced dead.

Eight thousand fans witnessed the accident, the second major accident in fourteen months for Farmer. In June, 1931 he was injured at Langhorne, near Philadelphia.

The feature event was won by Bryan Saulspugh, of Philadelphia, who roared round the twenty-five miles in 26 minutes, 4 seconds. Ken Fowler, of Clifton was second, and Malcolm Foxe, of Westville, third.

DIPLOMATS CONFER

St. Helier, Island of Jersey, Aug. 29.—(AP)—Premier Herriot, Camille Chautemps, French minister of the interior, and Sir Herbert Samuel, the British home secretary, are together on this channel island but they assert their presence is without political significance of any kind.

It appeared likely, however, that they would discuss informally matters of common interest. Today they were the guests of the governor of the channel islands; tomorrow M. Herriot will be host at luncheon, and on Wednesday the three will visit the house where Victor Hugo lived and wrote. Premier Herriot returns to Paris on Thursday.

COTTON MEN ATTEMPT TO SET PRICES

New York, Aug. 29.—(AP)—The cotton men in this country may be transformed into a prosperous bunch if the price of the world's principal agricultural product continues to mount.

There are some 3,000,000 cotton farmers and their families in the United States who, after a long period of depression, are beginning to sit up and take notice of new shoes, clothes and other necessities they had almost forgotten.

This is proving of extreme interest to financiers, manufacturers and merchants who envision a turn of the buying tide if, and when, the hard pressed planters are able to cash in on the growing value of their crops.

Last June cotton prices hovered around their all-time lows. Since then the commodity has advanced some 30 cents a bale, an increase that the ordinary farmer could hardly credit.

At present prices, the approximate total value of the cotton crop in the United States for this year and of the carry over for last year, has increased nearly $500,000,000 from the year's bottom figures.

FIVE WORKERS KILLED

Livermore, Calif., Aug. 29.—(AP)—The cost in lives of the Hetchy project, San Francisco's new water supply system, mounted as rescue crews struggled through mud and rock which trapped five workers in the coast range tunnel last night.

Four bodies recovered early today brought the project toll to 93 lives. There was little hope the missing worker would be found alive.

The bodies were not immediately identified. The five caught in the cavern, were all miners and muckers from San Francisco. They were members of a crew of sixteen which was engaged in removing timbers, preparatory to lining the 28 1/2-mile tunnel with concrete.

Survivors said the quintet had just removed one of the timbers as there came an ominous roar and the walls and roof of the tunnel collapsed.

Jurors said that toward the end of the long session they had voted 11 to 1 for acquittal for Detectives Leslie W. Fessall and Harry Zander, and 7 to 5 for conviction of Deputy Chief Frank J. Tappen on a charge of assault.

HOLD FINAL SERVICE AT CAMP MEETING

Large Gathering At Willimantic Yesterday For Annual "Big Sunday."

The closing Sabbath of Willimantic Campmeeting was fine weather-wise and otherwise, after Saturday evening's heavy shower, which laid the dust, and brought a cooler temperature. The auditorium seats beneath the trees held nearly a thousand listeners to the fine sermon of the pastor of Methewson St. M. S. church, Providence Rev. W. Earl Ladden, D. D.

The morning service at 10:30 began with a solo, "Whispering Hopes" by Manchester's popular young cornetist, Chester Shields. Rev. W. D. Hamilton of Willimantic, offered prayer. Dr. Ladden read the third chapter of the first epistle of St. John. A vocal solo was rendered by Mrs. Florence Cashman. An offertory the large chorus choir rendered an anthem under the direction of Howard Pierce, with Rev. L. Theron French as soloist.

"Now and Evermore" was the text, and the benediction was Dr. Ladden's theme. The benediction is not something to pronounce, but something to receive said he. The most precious things are those we receive. We have lost the art of receiving. The best knowledge comes not by research, but by response.

"The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ." This cannot be pronounced. It must be received. Paul said I am different from what I was by the grace of God. We need not go away from this service as we came. We should go away saved and cleansed by the grace of God. We receive also in the benediction "the love of God." There are some things we receive from the love of God showing we belong to His family. We receive, too, "the fellowship of the Holy Ghost." Of a certain musician it was said he was mastered by Bach, so the Holy Spirit enables us to be mastered by Christ.

NEW CONSTRUCTION ONLY TO BE FINANCED
Washington, Aug. 29.—(AP)—The Reconstruction Corporation today prescribed the rules under which it will make loans to states, municipalities and private corporations, for financing self-liquidating construction projects.

"New construction only is to be financed" it said in a pamphlet distributed to its loan agencies and Chambers of Commerce.

"No loans may be made to re-finance or refund the financing of projects already constructed, as that would not be created employment."

Advances will be made by the corporation out of the $1,500,000,000 increase in funds provided by the relief act. No project to be paid for through taxation is eligible for a loan. Liquidations must be met through tolls, fees, rents or other charges.

To Create Jobs
To insure the maximum employment, borrowers must agree in writing to limit the hours of workmen not holding executive or administrative positions to 30 hours a week and agree not to use convict labor. Preference also is to be given ex-service men.

Each applicant for a self-liquidating loan must supply full information on the project. An advisory board of five engineers will assist in passing on construction loans.

COX OPENS CAMPAIGN
Pittsburgh, Aug. 29.—(AP)—The Rev. James R. Cox, presidential nominee of the Jobless Party opened his speaking tour of the nation today with appearances scheduled in East Liverpool, Lisbon, Salem and Youngstown, O.

He plans to go to California during the campaign but will return by plane to Pittsburgh every week-end to conduct sabbath services at old St. Patrick's Catholic church where he is pastor.

In an address yesterday before a large crowd at Coxtown, a community established for unemployed men, Father Cox charged President Hoover with failing to care for the needy. He also accused charity organizations with using 80 percent of the money given them for financing collections.

PINCHOT NOT TO RUN
Milford, Pa., Aug. 29.—(AP)—Governor Gifford Pinchot, of Pennsylvania, said today he would not run for United States Senator in opposition to James J. Davis.

The governor's statement was in answer to speculation on the part of political observers regarding what he would do after his demand last week that Davis be asked to withdraw as a candidate for re-election.

"I have no intention whatever of running for United States Senator against Jim Davis," Pinchot said. "I undertook to do certain things for the state of Pennsylvania and I am pledged to the people who elected me to carry out that undertaking."

"My job is at Harrisburg and that is where I shall stay."

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

Preparations are being made at the High School for taking care of the largest enrollment in the history of the institution. A few changes have been effected, made necessary by the increase of the enrollment and the further necessity of operating with a smaller staff of teachers in the face of this increase.

Perhaps the most significant which will affect both students and teachers is the adjusting of school hours. High school will open this year at 8:15 a. m., the first bell being rung at 8:30. For the remainder of the morning the classes will be 45 minutes in length as against 45 minutes in previous years. The passage time of four minutes between recitations is designed to give ample time to students who must go back and forth between buildings. There is an increasingly larger number of students who will have to attend classes in both buildings. The customary 10 minutes recess in the middle of the forenoon will be abandoned, although there will be a slightly longer intermission between the second and third periods.

The morning session will close at 11:55. School will commence in the afternoon at 1:10 with a warning bell at 1. On three days a week, Monday, Tuesday and Friday, school will be dismissed at 1:10, each of the afternoon periods being one hour in length. Wednesday and Thursday the afternoon session will be divided into three periods to permit assemblies and other extra curricular activities. On these days the afternoon periods will be approximately 45 minutes in length, students being dismissed at 3:27. On Wednesday at 1:10 p. m. the Franklin building will hold assembly while the main building will have time for club meetings, etc. On Thursday the reverse of that program, with the customary "big assembly" at 2:35 p. m., will be held. For two years now the size of the school has been such that it has been impossible to have all of the enrollment together for the school assemblies.

The explanation given by the school authorities for extending the length of the periods is based upon the fact that divisions will be much larger than in previous years thus requiring a longer amount of time in any subject.

It will be noticed that the seventh period which has always before been used as a home-room period or general activities period has been abandoned save on Wednesday and Thursday. It is planned on these days the seventh period will be used in the Franklin building as a home-room program period and in the main building as a period for Somanhis staff, Sock and Buskin, French club, Debating, Musical clubs, etc., to meet.

As it was necessary to have more home rooms the library has been moved over to the Recreation building where the town library will be in a very short time. Thus Room 24 on the second floor of the main building has been filled with fifty seats and desks and seniors will be assigned to it, the room becoming a home room under the supervision of Edson M. Bailey. Mr. Bailey's bookkeeping classes will recite here and at other times it will be used as an additional study hall.

School authorities are not ready to make public their plans for the continuation of the work in music which has been conducted under the supervision of Miss E. Marion Dorward for the past eight years. It is understood, however, that the Glee clubs, band and orchestra will continue to function.

Detailed plans for the use of the library for the High school students during study hours will not be announced until the work of moving the Town Library has been completed. In previous years large numbers of students study periods in the library doing reference work. The reference books will be temporarily available through the teachers of the various departments.

Girls who are taking sewing will find that their quarters have been changed to the east side of the School street Recreation building but on the same floor and distributed almost the same way as before. Other adjustments within the High school include the changing somewhat of home rooms. Miss Avis Walsh, head of the English department, will occupy Room 31 on the third floor and the room which has previously been used as music room will afford a small place for the Somanhis editorial room. Room 31 will be a Senior home room as well as Rooms 28, 24 and 25.

Miss Selah Richmond will hold her classes in Room 28 and Miss Jeanne Low will move her French classes over to Room 19, thus vacating Room 11, which will be used for stenography and will be a home room for Miss Corinne Davis.

Philip S. Emery will have Room 3 as a home room and conduct his classes in the biological room. Besides Miss E. Marion Dorward other teachers who will not return in the fall are Elizabeth Lee, teacher of history; Elsie M. Emery, teacher of natural science and general science; James L. Higgins, teacher of bookkeeping and other commercial subjects and Arnold Jenkins, teacher of economics, English and debating. The name of the person who is to take Mr. Higgins' place will probably be announced this week.

MAYOR'S BROTHER DIES
Saratoga Lake, N. Y., Aug. 29.—(AP)—George F. Walker, 47, brother of Mayor James J. Walker of New York City, died in a private sanatorium here early this morning.

Walker, apparently much better after his brother, the mayor, had hurried from his outer hearing in Albany for a visit with him, had suffered a relapse early last week.

Mrs. Walker and their two daughters, Helen and Dorothy, were at the bedside when he died.

He had been a tuberculosis patient here for about two months. Funeral details have not been arranged.

SCHOOLS DISAPPEARING

Hartford, Aug. 29.—(AP)—Connecticut's little red school houses, which are actually white, are disappearing at a rate of between twenty-five and fifty a year, the state board of education discloses in figures given out today. Last year the number of these one-room schools, in less populated sections, which were eliminated under the consolidation program was thirty-one, leaving a total of 406 in operation in 1932-1933. Thirty-one more were closed in 1933.

More than thirty one are disappearing this year, according to a board although exact figures will not be tabulated until after school term begins. Impetus is given the movement to get children out of the one-room schools into consolidated institutions in the towns through the elementary transportation grant planned by the last legislature and made effective last year.

True Love Triangles—6

Famed Blond Beauty Of Movies Accused By Society Wife As "Love Pirate"

EDITORS NOTE: This is the last of a series of six daily stories detailing glamorous romances that have marked true love triangles of 1933, a subject made timely by the three-cornered Libby Holman-Smith Reynolds-"AB" Walker tragedy in North Carolina.

The woman who was hailed a few years ago as "the most beautiful blond in the movies" today stands accused as a "love pirate," faced by a suit for $100,000 by the wife of the man whose affections she is alleged to have stolen.

Whether Claire Windsor, film star whose graceful beauty once captivated millions of moviegoers, must pay this price to Mrs. Marian Y. Read for the love lost of her husband, Alfred C. Read, Jr., is a question that now pending before the courts at Oakland, Calif., where Mrs. Read's alienation suit is on file. Moreover, Mrs. Read hates the woman who has been revived by the Libby Holman-Smith Reynolds-"AB" Walker drama in North Carolina.

Claire Windsor's famous beauty—hair like golden sunshine, eyes of deep blue, and features like those of a Dresden china doll—had been pretty well forgotten until last March when Mrs. Read filed her $100,000 suit. Then those whose memory goes back to the days of the silent films remembered Miss Windsor for her successful roles in such bygone pictures as "Fools First," "Brothers Under the Skin," "Captain Lash" and "Midstream." They remembered, too, that she had been the wife of Bert Lytell, that she and Lytell had eloped to Mexico in 1925 and that about a couple of years later the union had come to the parting of the ways, as so many movie marriages do.

When Claire had faded out of the picture into the forgotten limbo of ex-stars.

Suddenly Claire Windsor's name came back into vogue. She was playing in Al Johnson's "Wonder Bar" at San Francisco when officers served on her the papers in Mrs. Read's $100,000 suit, which charged that the famous blond beauty stole the affections of Mr. Read, prominent stock broker and attorney at the University of California.

Mrs. Read charged that her husband was "constantly in the company" of Miss Windsor when he was in Los Angeles, "supposedly on business." She declared the actress had pursued "a course of conduct calculated to seduce" him. Almost simultaneously, she filed the divorce suit naming Miss Windsor as co-respondent.

"Why, the very idea!" exclaimed Claire. "I never lured any man away from his wife and never expect to. Of course, I was introduced to him by Louis Epstein, Al Johnson's manager, but I don't know why all this fuss should be made over my knowing him. Honestly, I don't know what it is all about; it has me flabbergasted or floundered, or something like that."

Very audaciously, Mrs. Read obtained letters that Claire had written to her husband and pictures showing them in friendly poses. She submitted the pictures as proof of her contentions.

And so, in July, when Claire Windsor was called upon to make a deposition under oath, it is said she admitted she "had loved" Mr. Read, but denied alienating his affections.

Roy Hudson, attorney for Mrs. Read, said that Claire admitted writing the letters and quoted her as having said in the deposition: "Yes, I wrote those letters. I was very fond of Mr. Read. Then, in fact, you might say I loved him. But I had no idea it was coming between him and his wife. I had no desire to break up anybody's home. I thought Mr. Read and his wife had separated, and he led me to believe that."

Whereupon Mrs. Read commented: "Miss Windsor has admitted just exactly what I have said in my suit."

Midway between the filing of the suit and Claire's deposition came an exciting episode.

In May, Mrs. Read had her husband arrested on a charge that he had kidnaped her at the point of a gun. She told Oakland police that he had abducted her from the home of friends and, with several accomplices, driven her to a lonely spot in a forest 30 miles away. She said she obtained the car keys and escaped when her husband fell asleep beside the road.

One report had it that a reconciliation was the purpose of the alleged kidnaping. Another report had it that Read was trying to effect the return of letters written to him by Miss Windsor which, it was said, he had previously turned over to his wife in an attempted reconciliation and upon her promise that she would drop her suit.

Principals in this triangle are shown here. The picture of Read and Miss Windsor is one which Read said she gave his wife "in good faith" when it was proposed that she drop her $100,000 suit against the actress.

Viola Cronk—the Topeka school girl who found fame in Hollywood after a brief residence in Seattle and changed her name to Claire Windsor—has known romance before.

When still in her teens she was married to William Bowles, whom she divorced in 1920, and by whom she has a son, Billie Bowles, born in 1919.

In 1925, she married Bert Lytell soon after the latter's divorce from Evelyn Vaughan. That romance wilted in 1927 when, it is said, Bert found it necessary to spend a lot of time on the road in vaudeville appearances. Rumor also linked her name with that of Buddy Rovers in his girl-love days, and only a few years ago, with the young multimillionaire, Philip Plant, who was once the husband of Constance Bennett.

In 1930 Claire was aboard Plant's yacht when it was sunk in a collision off Stamford, Conn., and was rescued from the sea.

Today the former movie queen is as beautiful as ever. She is five feet six inches in height; her weight still remains at 125 pounds or thereabouts, her deep blue eyes are as luminous as before and her famous blond tresses are still her crowning glory.

Mr. Read has been accused by his wife of a lot of things—but nobody has accused him of being a poor judge of beauty.

GOV. ELY EXPLAINS HIS SMITH STAND Also Tells State Democrats How Republican Tariff Hurts Industry.

Danbury, Aug. 29.—(AP)—Governor Joseph E. Ely of Massachusetts, has given Connecticut Democrats at least a hint as to why he supported Alfred E. Smith at the Democratic National Convention instead of Governor Roosevelt.

"I have told you that I am now supporting the Democratic National ticket of Roosevelt and Garner," Governor Ely said at a Democratic outing yesterday. "I have no doubt of the unselfish interest of either . . . My only doubt was—would we be able to prove . . . the blame attached to the Republican Party unless we had the man . . . who knows how to crystallize public opinion as only Governor A. E. Smith can."

The Bay State governor who placed Smith's name in nomination at Chicago, joined with Governor William C. Clegg of Connecticut in attacking the Republican economic policy and prohibition plan. Both pleaded for the election of a complete Democratic ticket in their states.

"The Republican policy," Governor Ely said, "has been one of tariffs and higher tariffs until . . . other countries have followed their example and have further dammed the even flow of trade. . . Please bear in mind that the Republican tariff has eliminated the Canadian market. . . Cuba is a prolific source of trade to the American manufacturer, but the Republican Party has destroyed that market."

"The prohibition plank in the Republican platform—written by the President or at least with his approval—is a political stunt. . . Referring to the liquor situation, Governor Clegg said the amendment proposed by President Hoover would result in complications and make resort to the courts necessary for interpretation. The Democratic platform, he said, was clearly and gracefully projected to State rights."

"CASEY OF BOSTON," CENSOR, QUILTS JOB Boston, Aug. 29.—(AP)—John M. Casey, of Boston, was on the road to retirement today after 28 years of service as the city's censor. During all the years he served as chief of the License Bureau he guided the tastes of Boston's theater-going public and became known to show folks as "the censor of Boston."

"During his long service Casey only stopped two shows, one a play and the other a moving picture. His judgment was such that show producers had called him to New York, Philadelphia and other cities to get his opinion on their productions. He had even gone to Hollywood on similar missions."

Scenes in many plays were changed or omitted upon Casey's suggestion and his explanation is this: "Boston does not like sex. Furthermore, Boston won't pay money to film. By discouraging the performances of questionable plays and pictures I save the producers from a financial loss."

He quits his job on November 1 at the age of 70 so he may accept the benefits of a pension.

"BIG TARRYTOWN FIRE" Tarrytown, N. Y., Aug. 29.—(AP)—Five persons were injured when fire swept through five frame buildings in Orchard street in the heart of the business section today, causing damage estimated at $100,000.

The buildings, in addition to housing business places, also contained apartment houses, and five families were rescued from the blaze by Policeman George Higie who discovered the fire.

Firemen brought the blaze under control after fighting it more than four hours and then discovered a still in an apartment occupied by Walter Soklany. Soklany was held under $500 bail for appearance in Federal Court. A barrel of mash was also found in the apartment.

The injured persons were Raymond O'Neil, of Irvington, and Martin Schaffner, Joseph Courch, Charles Johnson, and Wallace Brown, all firemen. They were treated at Tarrytown hospital and released.

TO STUDY ECLIPSE'S EFFECT ON RADIO General Electric Laboratories Arrange Apparatus To Note Intensities.

Schenectady, Aug. 29.—Although the total eclipse of the sun Wednesday afternoon will cast a shadow of but 100 miles over the northeastern part of the United States, there will be a radio eclipse over a much wider area and it is on this that scientists of the General Electric Company to concentrate their study like that.

Dr. E. W. Alexanderson, consulting engineer and one of the radio matters, is arranging special radio receiving apparatus to be installed at Fryburg, Maine, which is located in the center of the eclipse's path to measure the variation of intensities and other phenomena which may occur. The General Electric's shortwave station, W2XAW, which is licensed to operate on 16 different frequencies, will send out a constant 500-cycle note, sounding to the ear much like the whistle of a peanut cart, and it will be this so-called squeal which will be received and measured.

So that a permanent record may be made of variations in the sound, a carbon facsimile recorder, the development of C. J. Young and Dr. Alexanderson, will be operated. This is the same recorder that was used some time ago in receiving a perfect reproduction of the front page of a San Francisco newspaper across the country 40 minutes after it had left the printing press on the west coast. Believing that the effects of the so-called radio eclipse will occur before the regular eclipse of the sun, this recorder will be operated from 6 o'clock in the afternoon until 6 o'clock, whereas the regular eclipse starts at approximately 3:30 o'clock, reaches its maximum at 4:30 o'clock eastern daylight time, and will be all over at 5:30 o'clock. So that comparisons may be made with normal conditions, this shortwave transmitter and facsimile recorder will be operated during the same period of time two days preceding the eclipse and possibly the day following.

With Dr. Alexanderson observing any phenomena which may occur on the receiving end will be Dr. Irving Langmuir, associate director of the research laboratory of the General Electric Company. Dr. Langmuir also plans having his airplane available over in that region and during the period of totality will be in the air, taking motion pictures and making other observations. This will also afford him a better opportunity of observing the moon's shadow as it creeps across the earth and in case the sun should be covered by clouds in the sky he plans flying above them.

"There is a theory that particles from the sun create one of the ionized or conducting layers in the earth's upper atmosphere," Dr. Alexanderson explained. "What effect this may have on radio transmission we hope to observe. Our short wave transmitter here in Schenectady will be operated on a wave length which is believed best for daylight reception. We shall

BEGIN HERE TODAY
MONA TOWNSEND, married six months and widowed, inherits her husband's millions providing she does not rewed. Her marriage, arranged by Townsend's lawyer who was Mona's employer, was a strange affair, leaving her free at the end of a year to become her husband's wife in actuality or secure a divorce. Mona, in love with her husband's nephew, BARRY TOWNSEND, agreed to the marriage when she thought Barry was lost to her.

Barry is in South America where he and STEVE SACCARELLI are partners in a diamond mine. Mona's brother, BUD, works for them. LOTTIE CARR, fashion model, is Mona's closest friend. Mona feels Barry is entitled to a share of his uncle's fortune but there is no legal way for her to arrange this. She employs Lottie as her secretary and companion and they sail for South America. Mona hopes for a reconciliation with Barry and also to find some way to give him a share of the Townsend fortune.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

Chapter XXXV

There were 20 first-class passengers on the Miranda. The government official who had canceled the stateroom occupied by Mona and Lottie was represented by another official quartered in the second best stateroom. He was an attractive young chap who said modestly that he was "in the business of collecting tropical fish for a museum. The consul's nephew was returning to one of the French islands after what (so a steward confided) had been a fruitless search of New York for an earlier passenger with whom he had fallen in love. Two middle-aged women, seeking a home where the exchange would make their meager income adequate, were among the passengers. An enthusiastic auto salesman was en route to introduce a newly patented car to a stock of French perfume and fruit.

And then on Monday morning an emerald island appeared ahead. An emerald, set in silver, sands, floating on the sapphire sea. "I don't wonder the boys adore the tropics," Mona breathed. The Miranda docked at St. Thomas and the two girls went ashore to buy a stock of French perfume and fruit. The doctor drove them to the beach past Lindbergh's Bay where the aviator had made a "happy landing," where they swam in the sapphire water and sat on the silver beach while native boys scrambled the up trees for coconuts. Then they were off again just after luncheon. At St. Croix they did not dock but anchored far out in the harbor. Native police swarmed aboard, urging orders among the native boatmen who appeared to row the passengers ashore. "Imagine coming all this way to row ashore in a boat named 'Broadway,'" said Lottie in disgust. She and Mona hired "The Sea Bull" and were invited to tea by a passenger who had taken the boat at St. Thomas. They returned to the ship after dark. The boatmen sang—and charged double fare in lieu of sufficient applause. There was a slight breeze. The boat swayed up and down, its lantern rolling. The quartermaster helped them aboard. A little later dinner, now quantity tinged with tropical offerings, was served. St. Mitts, Nivis, Heat and more heat. Native women appeared displaying baskets of guavas for sale. Native boys put on diving exhibitions.

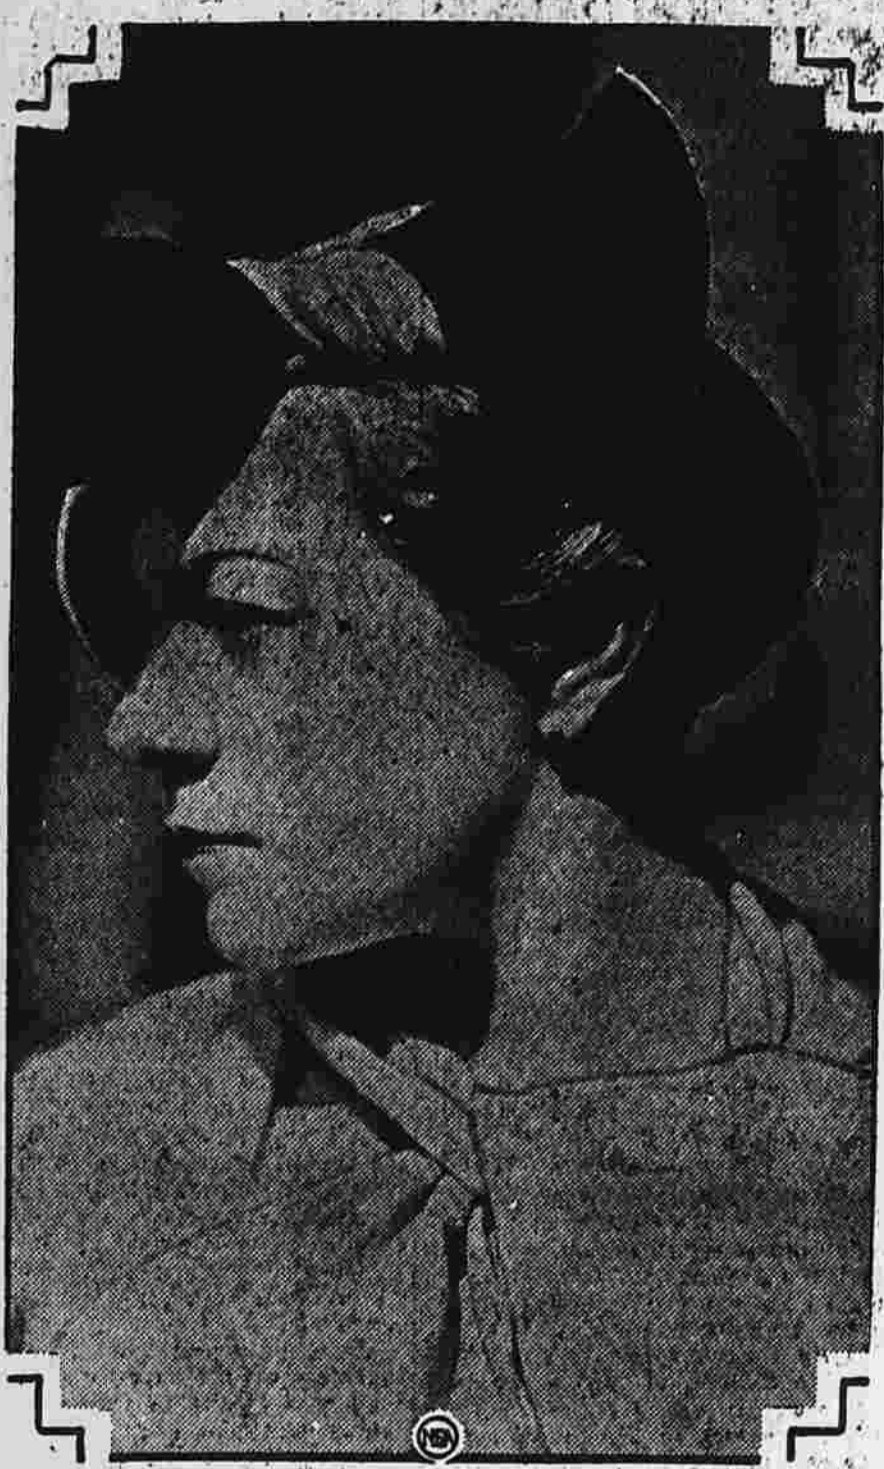

Mona's plan was to proceed to Trinidad and at Port of Spain to inquire for airplane accommodations to the mine. This, she remembered, was the method utilized by Steve and Barry. But, too, had made the trip via Trinidad. Guadalupe, Martinique, St. Lucia. And then came a bombshell. They were seated on deck after dinner, listening to the singing on the second cabin passengers. The steward was serving ices, cool drinks and sandwiches. The radio operator appeared with a message for Lottie which she read by the flickering light of a match held by the physician. "What do you think?" she exclaimed delightedly. "It's from Sallie! She says a cable and a letter have arrived from Steve!" "Tell her to send the letter," by air mail to Port of Spain, and relay the cable," the doctor suggested. "It may be something we should know," Mona added. "Steve hasn't written much before, has he, Lottie?" "He hasn't written at all. Maybe the cable is for my birthday."

She wired to Sallie to open and relay the cable and the answer came the next afternoon. It read: MISS LOTTIE CARR, S.S. MIRANDA AT SEA. STEVE SAYS THEY HAVE LEFT MINE TEMPORARILY. VACATIONING AT ISLAND. SALLIE. In reply Lottie sent a second message, reading: MISS LOTTIE CARR, S.S. MIRANDA AT SEA. WHICH ISLAND? TRY BLACKWELL'S. HOW SHOULD I KNOW WHICH ISLAND? SALLIE. "We can wire Bud," Mona suggested. She recalled that the boys had a holiday island in the Caribbean. There were literally hundreds of islands, scattered about. How could they find the right one? They radioed to Bud and received the answer just off Barbados. MRS. JOHN B. TOWNSEND, S.S. MIRANDA AT SEA. HOLIDAY ISLAND. But the captain has never heard of Holiday Island, though he had been making the cruise for 20 years. Nor had the first mate heard of it. Aspirin apparently had not heard of it for it was not mentioned in his manual. "I imagine," said the engineer, "that it's a new name." He was distressed at his inability to help the ladies. "I'll tell you," he said, brightening. "There's a man in Port of Spain who can tell you everything there is to know. I'll get in touch with him."

Port of Spain would be reached in the morning. Until then there was nothing for the girls to do but wait with as much patience as they could manage. Mona and Lottie both tried to conceal their restlessness. But they had not left Barbados and something was to occur there which changed their attitude, if not their plans.

JUST TIE THIS

Black and gray are forming an autumn partnership in fashion centers. Madame Valley, directrice and designer of the Maison Martiniel at Armand, has chosen a hat of black and gray velvet which she itself up with style by using a large bow, and is worn with a gray fallie dress, as a fall ensemble.

the auto really should buy a new car. Friday the air was warmer and the ship's officers appeared in white. Sunday it was still warmer. The clouds were fleecy and low hung. The turquoise sky seemed almost within reach if one could only stand tiptoe on the topmast. The waters, on which golden sea week floated, had turned to deep indigo. Men passengers appeared self-consciously in white linens and sports shoes. One islander wore a light helmet as he strolled the deck in middle of the day.

And then on Monday morning an emerald island appeared ahead. An emerald, set in silver, sands, floating on the sapphire sea. "I don't wonder the boys adore the tropics," Mona breathed. The Miranda docked at St. Thomas and the two girls went ashore to buy a stock of French perfume and fruit. The doctor drove them to the beach past Lindbergh's Bay where the aviator had made a "happy landing," where they swam in the sapphire water and sat on the silver beach while native boys scrambled the up trees for coconuts. Then they were off again just after luncheon. At St. Croix they did not dock but anchored far out in the harbor. Native police swarmed aboard, urging orders among the native boatmen who appeared to row the passengers ashore. "Imagine coming all this way to row ashore in a boat named 'Broadway,'" said Lottie in disgust. She and Mona hired "The Sea Bull" and were invited to tea by a passenger who had taken the boat at St. Thomas. They returned to the ship after dark. The boatmen sang—and charged double fare in lieu of sufficient applause. There was a slight breeze. The boat swayed up and down, its lantern rolling. The quartermaster helped them aboard. A little later dinner, now quantity tinged with tropical offerings, was served. St. Mitts, Nivis, Heat and more heat. Native women appeared displaying baskets of guavas for sale. YOUR CHILDREN

by Olive Roberts Barton

BY NEA SERVICE INC.

YOUNGSTERS SHOULD they seem more like people dressed differently, active, real. A book somewhere to pick up and read, regardless of book clubs, and advertised prizes. Why read only the talked about books? We should not merely read because we want to be thought up to the times.

And so—will you please let me suggest that you and the children on these cool evenings look up some of those "classics" that you have always wanted and that the children should read? Reading aloud is coming back into fashion. I think I have read Kipling's "Jungle Book" and "Just So Stories" four times. We all adore them. The other night we got out Carl Sandburg's "Rat-a-Tat-a-Tat" again. They are lovely. There was "Reilly" too, in a corner of the bookcase. Have you ever read "The Man in the Moon" to the children? We quote it continually.

Of course there are dozens of standard books, but I mention here the ones we love. They are never too simple or too young for all of us. "Alice" is perennial. Stevenson's "Garden of Verses" and his adventure books. "Tom the Water Baby" by Kingsley; "Honeybee" by Anatole France; the books of Beulah Marie Dix and Howard Pyle; all the fairy tales; " Heidi" and " Hans Brinker," of course. The mythologies of Europe are fascinating. Dickens' "Child History of England"—one of the best. Try to find a little volume of Rose Fyleman's poems about fairies, for the little people, and if you don't love them, all of you, I am much mistaken.

There are so many new books for children, so many grand ones. But do not forget the old stories and poems, I beg you.

SIR WALTER SCOTT: ANOTHER INFANTILE PARALYSIS VICTIM

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of two articles by Dr. Fishbein on the medical history of Sir Walter Scott, the British author.

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN, Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

In honor of the centenary of Sir Walter Scott the Edinburgh Medical Journal has made a special study of the medical history of this remarkable man. He was one of twelve children, the first six of whom all died in infancy. In this period in which he lived deaths among babies were frequent. Indeed the infant mortality rate was in many places as high as 400 per 1000, which means that two out of every five infants that were born died before they were one year of age. Today the rates vary from 50 to 100 per thousand.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

By SISTER MARY, NEA Service Writer

With September comes the end of visits and vacations and most families return to their normal routine. Menus must be planned that will be nourishing and satisfactory for the demands of work, not for play and guests.

Fresh vegetables and fruits should continue to hold first place in menus. They are at the height of their season and therefore inexpensive. Aside from this they are a most important factor in keeping both children and adults in good health and are essential in the daily diet. Canned vegetables can be substituted if fresh ones are not available, but vegetables, canned or fresh, must be included if a balanced diet is provided.

Menus simple in type and easy to prepare are best for growing children. However, such meals can be turned into quite satisfactory informal "company" dinners by the addition of one or two courses. A soup, a meat pie, timbales, hash or croquettes take care of the left-overs from a roast. A jellied salad in the middle of the week uses up odds and ends of fruits or vegetables. Bread pudding, browned crumpled pancakes, a "knock duck"—any of these dishes make excellent use of the week's accumulation of stale bread and crumbs.

This is the time of year when many fruits and vegetables can be bought very cheaply by the peck and half bushel. After calculating what will be needed for table use, the surplus can be canned or preserved for winter use. These quantity purchases usually cost very little more than the pound purchases made for one meal earlier in the season and effect a worth-while saving. The fall vegetables are not as delicate and perishable as the summer ones and can be stored for several days without damage or spoilage. Sweet corn is the one exception. It must be used as soon as possible after gathering.

Tomorrow's Menu. BREAKFAST: Flums, cereal, cream, crisp, broiled bacon, breadcrumb pancakes, milk, coffee. LUNCHEON: Baked vegetable hash, lettuce and egg sandwiches, peach cottage pudding, milk, tea. DINNER: Rolled flank of beef, ten-minute cabbage, banana and tomato salad, baking powder biscuits with grape conserve, apple tapioca pudding, milk, coffee.

COIFFURES MAY CHANGE WITH SEASONS
Every once in a while every woman looks into the mirror, sighs, and wishes that she could snap out of her present face and try another. Of course you have to keep the eyes and nose and mouth that nature gave you, but you don't have to follow the same trend, year after year, when it comes to a coiffure. It is possible to be daring one season, and demure the next. But make sure that your hair is aiding you by forming a proper frame for your face, no matter what note you are trying to strike.

Chosen for Classic Features
Miss Muriel R. Knoff, of Jersey City, N. J. was selected by Architect A. Giacomantonio, an artist, as his model in the sculpturing of a figure to decorate a thirteen-foot bronze statue that will top a granite shaft at Camp Dix, N. J. Miss Knoff was selected because of the perfection of her features that follow a purely classic outline.

An Accurate Novelist
To have written four detailed historical novels and have made only one mistake in dealing with past history, is the unusual record held by Maud Hart Lovelace, of Minnesota, whose book, "The Charming Sally," was published recently. Once she gave a character sideburns during a period that took place ten years before the Civil War, and later discovered that the term sideburns came in during the war, because General Burnside wore them.

ACES RALLY TO WIN TEN INNING BATTLE

Defeat West Sides, 2-1, In First Game of Town Series; Godek Fans 10, Hewitt, 4; Stavinsky's Single Breaks Tie.

In one of the best games played on the West Side diamond this year, the Aces managed to eke out a one run victory over the West Sides in the opening game of the town series yesterday afternoon. With the score tied at one-all at the end of the ninth inning, the Aces rallied in the extra frame to gain a 2 to 1 triumph.

In the tenth inning, Godek fled out to Mattson and then "Hook" Brennan got his fourth hit of the game and stole second. McConey walked. With two men on, "Stuffy" Stavinsky got a slashing single through second to score Brennan with the winning run.

The West Sides scored in their half of the fourth when Sendrowski singled and Hedlund sacrificed him to second, then Bycholsky dropped a pitched ball, Sedrowski going to third and on the play to third Bycholsky threw wild and Sendrowski scored. In the ninth, the West Sides made another attempt at scoring when Tierney singled and Holland sacrificed him to second and then Hewitt got a hit over second base and Tierney was thrown out at the plate by Plitt. "Chucky" Smith then struck out to end the inning.

The Aces scored their first run in the last of the fourth when Stavinsky beat out a slow roller, and went to third on a wild pitch by Hewitt to score on Varrick's hit.

Both pitchers did well with Godek having the best of the argument, getting ten strikeouts and allowing eight hits, while Hewitt got four strikeouts and allowed 12 hits.

Both teams showed some classy fielding, the West Sides getting two double plays and throwing two men out at the plate.

Burkhardt was thrown out when he attempted to score an error at first base and Plitt was thrown out by Holland in the last of the ninth, when he tried to score from second on a hit by Bycholsky.

"Hook" Brennan had the best day at the plate, getting four out of four. Stavinsky, Plitt and Bycholsky each succeeded in getting two hits, while Hewitt, Hedlund and Sendrowski each got two pieces for the West Sides.

A good sized crowd watched the game and it is expected that due to the close score, there will be another good crowd next Sunday when these two teams meet again in the second game of the series. The box score:

PAGANI AGAIN ON SANDY BEACH CARD

Local Fighter Meets Hud Giffon Tomorrow Night; Other Bouts.

Raymond Pagani of Manchester who on last week's show at Sandy Beach Arena, Crystal Lake, turned in a great fight against Lockwood of Broad Brook. The decision after a hard fight, will be given another chance to show his ability when Matchmaker George Groch sends him against Hud Giffon of Norwich, Tuesday night. Giffon, a new face to the Arena fans, is rated a fast, sure-fire little fighter.

Walter Bartnicki of Norwich, who last week held the popular Young Leonard of Stafford to a draw at the Arena, will have a pleasing action over even at the Lakeside Arena, returns tomorrow night also to clash with the rugged Romeo Dube of Holyoke. Bartnicki is without a doubt one of the best amateur boxers ever brought to Crystal Lake.

Ralph Bargnani, a staminate of Bartnicki's and a sensational light-heavy club fighter, will make his appearance also, meeting Jimmy Shannon of Holyoke in another bout that should provide plenty of the old sockers. Bargnani holds wins over many of the state's leading light-heavies, recently defeating Jackie Horner of Broad Brook after three rounds of torrid fighting at a show in Norwich.

Jimmy Britt, the State Flyweight Champion, will return to the club after a short rest meeting Chic Arahomo of Holyoke. Those who have seen Britt in action know the gloves he can throw in one round.

The rest of the bouts that go to make up the Ten All Star Bout program will be crammed with the same action and thrills as seen at the Arena weekly, and all present at the Sandy Beach Arena, Crystal Lake, Tuesday night are in for another night of real fights with the fighting amateurs.

The first bout is scheduled to go on at 8:15 p. m.

GIBSON KEEPS HIS FAITH IN YOUTHFUL PIRATE INFELDERS

Bucs Pilot Refuses To Jerk Youngsters Despite Howling Fans; Line-Up To Remain For Season.

Pittsburgh, Aug. 29.—(AP)—Manager George Gibson is determined to make a winning ball club out of the Pittsburgh Pirates even if he drops into the second division doing it.

After an amazing spurt that carried the Bucs from last place to first in a few weeks, the team collapsed, and many are the reasons advanced for the blow-up.

Floyd Vaughan, youthful shortstop, has shouldered much of the blame.

In a big measure, it was Vaughan's spectacular work afield and his heavy and timely hitting that carried the team to the top of the National League.

Howl for Thevenow Howl for Thevenow have been heard almost daily at Forbes field. The veteran Tommy meanwhile has warmed the bench. Baseball men have protested that a call for Tommy to relieve the slipping youngster still might put the Pirates up there.

Gibson does not blame the fall of the Bucs to the failure of Vaughan, and Piet to stand the pace.

He points to the fact that left-hand pitchers have been poison to the club as a whole all year and that left-handers are being sent against the team four and five times a week.

Waners Lose Punch The Waner act has not been clicking of late, and Comorosky, while he played a brilliant game in the absence of the slower Dave Egan, was ranked in the hope of hitting a winning combination. But to date it hasn't worked.

That's the answer, says the skipper, and he insists he's going to play the schedule out with the lineup that was good enough to hold first place longer than any other club this season.

OLYMPIC VILLAGE IS DESERTED NOW

Last Team of Athletes Leave For Home—Cottages To Be Sold.

Los Angeles, Aug. 29.—(AP)—The Olympic village was to take its towns today.

At noon the New Zealand team of the Tenth Olympiad, one of the first to arrive, will depart for the land down under—the last stragglers of that army of almost 2,000 athletes, who a few short weeks ago, breathed life into the city of champions.

The Olympic village will be a strange bedfellow with the others of California's deserted villages. Virile manhood of the world gathered here for glory of the games. Gold attracted the world to the others.

The 500 cottages which houses world champions and near champions are being sold. Some are being transported to Japan, as monuments to the Japanese stars; others will go to Denmark, but most of them will be scattered along the beaches and through the mountain resorts of southern California for summer homes.

The rambling administration building, where people of half a hundred nations knunched shoulders and exchanged greetings in a multitude of tongues, has been transformed into a trading mart, where the bedding, chairs, tables and rugs used in the cottages are being exchanged for coin of the realm.

VINES, GLEDHILL BEAT VAN RYN AND ALLISON

Victory Gained In Straight Sets In Doubles Finals; Defending Champs Outclassed.

Brookline, Mass., Aug. 29.—(AP)—A Californian tennis tornado generated by the raucous of Ellsworth Vines-Keth Gledhill, wrecked the championship hopes of Wilmer Allison and Johnny Van Ryn, reputed to be the world's best team, in 59 minutes flat in the 51st national doubles final Saturday at Longwood.

Allison and Van Ryn labored under a terrific handicap as they set out to defend their titles against the west coast youngsters. Just a week ago, while they were still conquering over their notable Davis Cup triumph, they engaged the Californians for the Newport Casino titles and were soundly trounced in four sets.

Complete Beat They were slaughtered Saturday in straight sets, 6-4, 6-3, 6-2. Their rout was humiliating. Vines and Gledhill were expected to be out of form, for they had a terrific five set battle Friday against Henri Cochet and Marcel Bernard of France. They must thrive on work for they never were in better shape. Allison and Van Ryn qualified for the final on Thursday and, despite their long rest, were decidedly stale.

Vines and Gledhill piled up a total of 100 points to 76 as they slam-banged through the three sets. They put together 38 earned points to 21 and held their errors down to 12 against 24.

The defending champions were outclassed, even in their service games. They were broken seven times in the match. Van Ryn four and Allison three and were never in a position to return their opponents' delivery when it meant anything.

They shot their bolts in the 10th game of the opener. After building up a 40-10 lead against Vines' terrific service, they wilted as the lanky singles champion put over five consecutive points to pull out the set. This set-back discouraged them and in the following sets they were always hopelessly behind.

In the sweeps to the final round, Vines overcame two pairs of strong rivals. Vines and Gledhill defeated Jack Tidball and Elbert Lewis of Los Angeles, before their successful engagement with the French team and Allison and Van Ryn prevailed against Henry W. Perry of England, and as well as George Lott, a doubles champion for three straight years, and his new partner, Frank Shields of New York.

The magic in Vines' racket, however, was short-lived for he and Helen Jacobs of Berkeley, Cal., the new women's singles champion, were decisively beaten by Sarah Palfrey, Brookline, and Parry in the mixed doubles final, 7-5, 6-3. This setback checked Miss Jacobs' drive for a grand slam. She also shares the women's national doubles titles with Miss Palfrey.

The United States and England divided the mixed titles for the second straight year. George Lott and Betty Nuthall captured the 1931 play.

J. D. E. and Arnold Jones of Providence, who have an unbreakable grip on the national father-son championships, won for the fifth consecutive year, and the seventh time in 10 years, against E. W. Burns, Jr., of New York, 6-3, 3-5, 6-2.

The same teams that clashed in the 1931 veterans' final were in action again today but the results were reversed. H. Jarvis Adams and Henry W. Bassford, New York, regaining the championships from Dr. William Jones and Henry W. C. Barga, New York, 8-6, 11-9, 6-2.

ENTRY LIST NOW OPEN FOR MEN'S NET DOUBLES

Tourney To Start Next Week; Names Must Be In By Friday; Holland Beats Markley In Singles, 6-0, 6-0.

For the first time in several years, a men's doubles tennis tournament will be held in Manchester, it was announced today. All players who desire to enter are requested to notify the sports department of The Herald not later than Friday. Pairings will be drawn by James Britton and announced Saturday in order that play may be started over the week-end.

This tourney should prove of interest to players who were eliminated early in the men's singles tourney. The list of singles entries show that many promising doubles teams can be selected. It is hoped that as many players as possible will team up for this important event.

Only one match was reported in the men's singles over the week-end. "T" Holland, defending champion, easily disposed of Eddie Markley, without dropping a game. The scores were 6-0, 6-0. Holland will meet Leoro Urbanetti in a semi-final match.

ASSOCIATION FANS PRAISE PFEFFER'S WORK AS ARBITER

Former Baseball Star Earns Rep As Minor League Umpire; Writers Tell How Good He Is.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 29.—(AP)—Old Jeff Pfeffer's days as a big league ball player are ended, but some day he may be back up there showing the boys how ball games should be run.

Old Jeff, now in his second year as an American Association umpire, is keeping players, managers and sports writers in line nicely and they even write pieces about how good he is.

One Louisville expert after viewing Jeff's work in a game which the locals lost, came right out and stated that Jeff was the best in the league.

Jeff, a giant in stature, has been around the association several years and put in several seasons tossing for Toledo. When his fast one became slow and his curves didn't curve enough, he got the umpiring job.

They write that Jeff just naturally knows how to umpire, but the opinion prevails that his huge size is no handicap in making combats like his decisions.

One of the best sights of the league is Old Jeff ludicrously trying to squeeze his six-foot, six-inch frame in behind the catcher to get some semblance of protection from foul tips and also to get a good squint at the plate.

BLUEFIELDS BATTER REVAMPED PIRATES

Trounce Hartford Team Again, 17-2; Open Series With Sub-Alpines Next Sunday.

The Bluefields played a return game with the South End Pirates of Hartford last Saturday. The Pirates had been revamped by an infusion of new blood from the Cities Service Legion team. The new combination did not seem much better than the old one and were beaten by a score of 17 to 2. The Bluefields had beaten the old Pirates 27 to 4 two weeks ago. A number of the Bluefields were unable to play and in the absence of "Jimmy" Foley, "Bill" Hand captained the team and accepted the responsibility with a perfect day at bat.

Next Sunday, September 4, the Bluefields begin a series with the Sub-Alpines. The game will start promptly at 1 o'clock on the Bluefields diamond on McKee street, to enable members of the Sub-Alpines to participate in the so-called Town Championship Series. The Bluefields feel that nominations for the candidates for championship were closed rather early.

The Bluefields are also arranging for a game with The Herald team, to be played as soon as a satisfactory date can be fixed.

The winning team consisted of Walter Holland, Benny Schuber, Martin Schindler, Helmar Gustafson, Robert Metzner, Walter Wilkinson and Fred Hansen.

The losing team consisted of John Falkowski, Dick Kerr, Charles Gustafson, Jason Chapman, Francis Mahoney and Dave McConey. The Gustafson brothers have issued a challenge to any brother team in town or elsewhere to a volley ball match.

After a young lawyer had talked nearly five hours to a jury that felt like lynching him, his opponent in the case, a grizzled old veteran of the legal cockpit, rose, smiled sweetly at the judge and the jury, and said:

Grizzled Old Lawyer—Your Honor, I will follow the example of my young friend who has just concluded, and I will submit the case without argument.

He—Libby, you say you won't let me kiss you. I'll bet a penny I can without touching you.
She—I'll bet.
He—Kissed her.
She—But you touched me!
He—I know it; here's your penny.
She—What other game do you play?

She—I wish we had done that, George! What a wonderful avenue of trees we would have had by now.

NOYON IS TAKEN

On Aug. 29, 1918, Allied forces in Picardy continued their victorious drive against the German troops, the French taking Noyon, the British, Espinasse, and the Americans, numerous villages.

The Germans were in full retreat along a front of more than 40 miles as the day ended.

Allied gains during the day's battle were regarded as the most important of any single day of the year. Prisoners captured showed plainly that German morale was breaking under the steady pounding of the Allied forces.

On the Atlantic seaboard, the fishing schooner Gloaming was sunk by a German submarine off the coast of Nova Scotia, and an additional fleet of destroyers was ordered to comb the region for submarines, which had been unusually active.

WOMAN JAILED FOR A SAVAGE ATTACK

Mrs. Kulpinsky Seriously Beats With Broomstick Woman Who Seeks Her Husband.

Mrs. Josephine Kulpinsky of 378 Adams street was fined $50 and costs and given a ten days' jail sentence by Judge Raymond A. Johnson in Police Court this morning, following conviction for assault on Mrs. Mary Fyvilisk, a neighbor. The arrest was made after Dr. Mortimer Moriarty had attended Mrs. Fyvilisk and, believing the case might turn out to be one of manslaughter, called in the police.

The assault upon Mrs. Fyvilisk was made when she went to the Kulpinsky home to call her husband. The Kulpinsky woman attacked Mrs. Fyvilisk with a broom stick inflicting severe scalp wounds and injuring her left arm and shoulder. Mrs. Fyvilisk is slight of build and Mrs. Kulpinsky is heavy. Mrs. Fyvilisk lost a large quantity of blood and was taken to the hospital for treatment.

Give No Explanation When the complaint reached the police station Saturday night Patrolman Michael Fitzgerald was detailed to the case. He questioned Mrs. Kulpinsky but could get little information from her. In court this morning she was non-committal. William Smith, a neighbor, testified that he saw Mrs. Kulpinsky pick up the broom when Mrs. Fyvilisk went to her home, but Smith said he didn't actually see her strike the victim. Jacob Roginsky said he saw the attack actually made. Mrs. Kulpinsky had nothing to say in her own defense. She had no money and when the fine and jail sentence were ordered by Judge Johnson she accepted both without a murmur. Papers were made out and she was taken immediately to the county jail to serve her term.

Other Cases There were two other court cases. A continuance was granted to Arthur Thompson of 811 East Middle Turnpike, charged with driving an automobile while under the influence of intoxicants. He was represented by Attorney William J. Shea and a bond of $100 for his appearance was furnished.

Frank Chetkovski who gave his address as R. F. D., No. 2, Rockville, was before the court charged with driving an automobile without a license. Checkers was slowed to go after paying the costs of the court when he said that he was pinching for his sister, who had injured her arm and who had the license to drive. Checkers previously had a license but did not renew it this year.
