

MRS. DU BOIS' BODY FOUND IN CELLAR

Quick Double Climax To Bay State Mystery Case—Gay Parties Held In Rooms Above Concrete Crypt.

Plymouth, Mass., Sept. 17.—(AP)—The search for Mrs. Charles Du Bois has ended in a cellar crypt which was built, police suspect, at a time when the graying housewife was still alive and grieving over her husband's affection for "that other woman."

Mrs. Charles Du Bois

terday with the discovery of the slain woman's body only a few hours after his husband, 80-year-old jeweler from Tuckahoe, N. Y., committed suicide. He had shot himself with a bullet of the same calibre that took his wife's life.

Du Bois, against whom police had brought a murder warrant in vain because they had no "corpus delicti," killed himself in a Quincy rooming house.

Suspicion Aroused Immediately Assistant District Attorney John V. Sullivan rushed ten men with pickaxes to the Du Bois summer cottage near Great Herring Pond, with orders to demolish it if necessary in the search.

A few blows of a sledge laid open the funeral vault, a strong concrete

AID HOME OWNERS, BANKS ARE ASKED

Editor Requests Financiers To Take More Interest In Applicants For Loans.

Swampscott, Mass., Sept. 17.—(AP)—Frank P. Bennett, editor of the United States Investor, urges the home-buyer to stay within his means.

In a speech before the Mutual Savings Bankers annual conference, Bennett said: "Most of us have been witnesses, during the last year or more, of some sad consequences of attempts on the part of clerks or working men to keep the homes they were trying to buy."

THREE CONVENTIONS ON CALENDAR TODAY

State Independents and Major Parties To Pick Candidates—Those Mentioned.

New Haven, Sept. 17.—(AP)—The state convention of the Independent Republican Party, and four Congressional conventions were on the political calendar today.

Nominees for U. S. Senator, governor and state officers were to be selected by the Independent Republicans at New Haven.

In the same city both the Republican and Democratic Third District Congressional conventions prepared to convene, while the Fourth District Democrats planned to meet in Bridgeport and the Fifth District Democratic delegates gathered in Torrington.

In spite of the protest of Republican presidential electors, whom the Independents have expressed their intention of supporting against printing their names on the Independent Republican ticket, the insurgents indicated they would go ahead with their plans.

The Hoover electors, the Rev. Ralph H. White, of New Haven, said, "will undoubtedly be nominated on the Independent Republican ticket."

Prof. Albert Levitt of Redding, foe of the regular Republicans and one of the organizers of the Independent Republican Party, is expected to receive the Senatorial nomination.

Six candidates are in the field for the Republican nomination. T. A. D. Jones, former Yale football coach, now a local coal dealer, is expected to win the nomination.

Independent party leaders, supported by organized prohibition forces have expressed their intention of specifically opposing the election of U. S. Senator Bingham because of his anti-prohibition activities.

Maloney for Congress The instruction of the 61 delegates from New Haven to the Democratic Third Congressional District convention last night to support Mayor Francis T. Maloney of Meriden was believed to have insured his nomination for Congressman.

Kansas State's Attorney Moves To Dissolve Ten Units; Claims Overcharges

Topeka, Kas., Sept. 17.—(AP)—Court proceedings seeking dissolution of and appointment of receivers for ten Cities Service company subsidiary gas distributing units operating in Kansas were promised today by Roland Boynton, state's attorney general.

LEVITT SEEKS HOHENTHAL, JR. FOR HIS TICKET

Asks Local Assessor To Run For State Senate—Bases Qualifications On Whether Or Not He is "Dry."

One of Manchester's well known citizens, and a member of the Board of Assessors, Emil L. G. Hohenthal, Jr., was asked yesterday by Prof. Albert Levitt, chairman of the Independent Republican committee to become a candidate on that ticket in the coming election for State Senator from the Fourth District.

Asked if "Dry" Levitt made the fact of Hohenthal's selection as a possible candidate for State Senator known and asked the question: "You are dry, are you not?" Hohenthal told Levitt he favored modification. Hohenthal told the leader of the Independent group further that his time would be taken up, due to the assembly of the Board of Assessors soon, and that time would not permit him to consider any candidacy.

Father's Record Mr. Hohenthal referred him to his brother, Lester L. Hohenthal but Levitt did not proceed further in interesting members of the Hohenthal family in offices of the Independent Party. It is assumed that the call for representation on the "dry" independent roster came to Assessor Hohenthal as a result of the record in "dry" activities conducted over a period of many years by his father, the late Emil L. G. Hohenthal, Sr.

SPEAKER'S MOTHER IS SERIOUSLY ILL

Garner To Use Plane To Reach Bedside—Has Cancelled All Engagements.

The Democratic vice presidential candidate left by train but planned to make connections with an airplane over the southern route to reach his destination as soon as possible.

Arrived late last night of his aged mother's condition, Garner reached a decision to make the trip without notifying his closest friends. He left his hotel at 3 a. m., alone, and boarded a train. He told the hotel manager he would probably take a plane sometime today.

Mother 81 Years Old His mother is 81 years old and physicians last reported her recovery was doubtful.

Only yesterday Garner told friends he regretted he had been unable to visit his mother recently. The original Garner home was on Blossom Prairie, near Detroit in Red River county, bordering Southern Oklahoma.

Garner arrived here yesterday to discuss plans for participation in the presidential campaign and had planned to go to New York to confer with James A. Farley, chairman of the Democratic National committee. He left a note to his secretary, Harry Sexton, explaining that he planned to remain with his mother indefinitely.

Should the Bonus Be Paid Now?

Robert E. Coontz

YES! Writes Admiral Coontz Who Sees Wide Benefits.

I believe that World War adjusted service certificates—or the so-called bonus—should be paid immediately, in view of the fact that this can be accomplished by ways and means already proposed in Congress, without increasing the present deficit in the federal treasury.

Moreover, the distribution of nearly two billion dollars in cash, through veteran channels is the only practical solution that has yet been offered for the immediate relief of present economic conditions.

NO! Says Admiral Byrd Who Says It's Unfair to Nation.

In 1924, over a veto by the President of the United States a Bill was passed known as the Adjusted Compensation Act, popularly called the bonus, providing for the payment of certain additional compensation to the men who wore the uniform of the United States during the World War.

This legislation provided that a basic service credit of $1 a day for each day's service in the United States, and $1.25 a day for each day's service overseas be set up. To

Treasurer Nutt Reports To President That Goal of Million and a Half Is Now In Sight—Garner Speaks.

Washington, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Fresh expressions of Speaker John N. Garner's confidence in November Democratic victory today found its Republican opponent, Vice President Curtis opening his campaign for reelection in Pennsylvania.

Curtis traveled to Fogelsville to make his 1932 speech for the Hoover-Curtis ticket, preparatory to making the stump next week. He told friends he would discuss the agricultural and tariff problems.

Speaker Garner who is doing a little speaking himself gave out a statement in which he said: "The administration's assumption of credit for all relief measures passed by the last Congress is amazing."

Garner's statement was given out yesterday at his Capitol office. On the other end of Pennsylvania avenue, meanwhile, President Hoover conferred with a number of political callers, but the White House declined to say whether Mr. Hoover will go beyond the previously agreed total of three campaign speeches.

Contributions Increase One of the President's visitors was Joseph R. Nutt, treasurer of Republican National Committee. Nutt said that the Democratic victory in Maine has increased campaign contributions to a point where the goal of $1,600,000 was in sight.

"I told the President I felt pretty good over the Maine elections, anyhow," Nutt told newspaper men. "As I interpret it people want to maintain the present administration and are coming forward with their money to help."

Another White House caller was Senator Hastings of Delaware, assistant manager of the Eastern campaign. He said, with a smile, "I was glad to see Senator Borah has entered the campaign" referring to a statement by the Idahoan against cashing the soldiers' bonus.

Borah's Reply This report that he had entered the campaign on President Hoover's behalf brought from Borah at his Idaho home the reply: "I knew Senator Hastings had a great many accomplishments but I didn't know he was a humorist."

Garner's statement said that "Republican leaders throughout the country are in a state of panic." "There is plain evidence here in Washington," he said, "that this condition of extreme uncertainty and apprehension over the outcome of the election in November extends to the White House itself."

KAYE DON MARRIES GREENWICH HEIRESS

British Speed Wizard, However, Sails For Europe Alone—Bride To Follow.

New York, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Kaye Don, English speed wizard of motorboat and automobile racing fame, sailed for Europe today—no longer the "perpetual bachelor" he liked to call himself. Last night Mr. and Mrs. Leonard J. Martin of Greenwich, Conn., socially prominent, disclosed that Don and their daughter, Alison, were married in Greenwich, Friday morning.

"Of course we're married but we wanted to keep it secret," said the bride, as she sat at a farewell dinner with her husband last night. A few hours later Don sailed on the Olympic. Mrs. Don will follow him next week, and they will spend their honeymoon on Lake Como.

Parents Wealthy The bride's father, formerly of England, has lived here several years. After the World War he built a fortune by buying the surplus airplane line of the British government, consisting of 45,000, 000 yards and through an advertising campaign, resold it within a short time.

Don, who started as a school boy bicycle rider has many speed records to his credit. He came to this country to race Gar Wood for the Harlow trophy at Detroit but Wood won the first heat and Don was unable to finish the second because of trouble with his boat.

STRETCHERBEARERS NOT BAYONETTED

But Rumor Gets Citizens So Excited That They Demand a Bombing Reprisal.

La Paz, Bolivia, Sept. 17.—(AP)—An aerial bombardment of Asuncion, the capital of Paraguay, was demanded today by crowds of people here after reports said Paraguayan troops were bayoneting Red Cross stretcher bearers in the battle at Fort Bouqueron in the Chaco.

The battle entered its ninth day today and officials said the Bolivian flag still was flying. The Bolivian defenders of the fort, a high official said, numbered about 2,000 and they were faced by between 8,000 and 10,000 Paraguayans, soldiers and civilians, armed with all kinds of weapons.

Asuncion, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Reports from Formosa today said the Paraguayan cavalry had broken the Bolivian line near Fort Acre in the Chaco region, where a bitter battle was in progress for the ninth consecutive day.

Other reports said the Bolivians attempted twice during the night to break the Paraguayan blockade at Fort Bouqueron without success and they added the Bolivians now had been entirely surrounded by the Paraguayan forces.

Reports from La Paz the Paraguayans were bayoneting Red Cross stretcher bearers and wounded soldiers of the enemy were regarded by officials here as an invention intended to justify a Bolivian aerial bombing attack on Asuncion which, they said, was planned some time ago.

WAS MISS MILLETTE DIRECTOR'S WIDOW?

Lawyers For "Mystery Woman" File Petitions To Make Claim On His Estate.

Sacramento, Calif., Sept. 17.—The "presumption" that Dorothy Millette was legally the widow of Paul Bern, self slain film executive, despite his marriage to Jean Harlow, platinum haired screen star, was the basis of a public administrator's petition on file here today to protect possible claimants to the Millette estate.

Public Administrator Herman Koch petitioned for letters of administration in Miss Millette's estate, explaining he did so to protect her relatives and to pave the way for a possible claim to a share in Bern's estate.

Relatives Unknown. He added, however, he did not know whether any relatives survived the Auburn haired woman who was once known as "Mrs. Paul Bern," or whether she had any legitimate claim to Bern's estate.

Consider Petition. Meanwhile Koch explained he filed his petition entirely as a duty of his office. The courts will consider the petition September 26, and grant letters of administration either to Koch or some qualified relative of Miss Millette, if one is found.

The courts also will decide whether Miss Millette is survived by any relatives and whether they have a legal claim to a share of the Bern estate.

This poor woman before her death had a legal claim on Bern, Koch said, and if her estate is entitled to a share of the property left by him I am going to see that the estate gets it. I am acting on the belief that she was legally married to Bern and that there is no record of a divorce.

Attributed To Maine On September 17, covering the activities of the market on the preceding day, another Stock Exchange firm said: "The uncertainties caused by the Maine election were sufficient to accelerate the recent downward movement into a very serious reaction."

Committee Calls For Copies of Telegrams That May Have Caused Price Reductions; Action Believed To Be For Purpose of Stopping Use of Stock Market For Political Propaganda Purposes.

New York, Sept. 17.—Determined to avoid market forecasts and analyses of a political nature, the New York Stock Exchange has requested its member firms to file with it all telegraphic communications sent or received by them dealing in any way with political topics between Sept. 12 and Sept. 15, inclusive.

The fact that during the period stipulated market observers were paying a great deal of attention to the Maine election indicates that the Exchange desires to determine how extensively its members advised clients either to keep out of the market until after the election or to sell securities on the news of the Democratic victory. The market was weak following the election.

All member firms are obliged to keep all telegraphic communications sent or received for at least two weeks, so it is not thought that the Exchange has any difficulty in obtaining the wires, which were requested by noon yesterday. No request was made for market letters, inasmuch as these are automatically filed with the Exchange immediately after they are sent.

The Exchange's Notice The notice sent by the Exchange follows: "The committee on business conduct now requests all New York City members to send by noon tomorrow, Sept. 18, 1932, all telegraphic communications dealing in any way with topics of a political nature sent or received by them between Sept. 12 and 15, 1932, inclusive. Out-of-town members are to submit the same information by Monday, Sept. 19, 1932. A reply is desired from every recipient of this communication."

"Members having out-of-town correspondents are requested to transmit the contents of this circular to their correspondents promptly by wire."

The attitude of the Stock Exchange, it was understood yesterday, is principally that it wishes to let its members know it does not approve of digressions into the field of politics in their attempts to explain the market to clients. It is considered highly unlikely that any firm will be censured for such action in the past. The Exchange feels that in a Presidential contest which promises to be as close and as bitter as the present one, and at a time as unsettled economically as the present, its standard by which members are judged should be an attitude of strict impartiality.

Look For Propaganda As a result of the survey, furthermore, the Exchange will be able to learn whether there was any concerted effort to circulate propaganda for the express purpose of depressing the market, although it is believed that the market letters and telegrams sent out at the time of the Maine election were for the most part a spontaneous effort to explain simply a market decline which, many experts had agreed, was to have been expected anyway for technical reasons.

While no clue is available as to what was contained in the telegrams sent out by various members during the period under observation, there were many market letters referring to the Maine election as the cause of the market break.

On September 12, the day of the election, one letter said: "A Democratic victory would come as a complete surprise and such a development might be expected to lead to a sharply lower opening and a continuation of irregularity for some time to come."

Another said: "The apparent abandonment of the Republican standard by Maine results in the first complete selling climax since the abandonment of the gold standard by Great Britain."

An example of the brokerage thought which considered the market ready for a decline, and believed the election result was merely an added force to push it in another direction to customers, which says: "The reactionary tendencies which we've developed last week were of course accelerated by the results of the Maine election."

SAYS ROOSEVELT UNABLE TO AID U. S. FARMERS

Sec. Jahncke States Candidate Pledges Himself To Do What Nobody On Earth Can Accomplish.

McClure, Pa., Sept. 17.—(AP)—Discussing Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt's farm relief proposals, Ernest Lee Jahncke, assistant secretary of the Navy, said in a campaign address today that the Democratic presidential nominee "has pledged himself to fulfill what no one on earth could fulfill."

The other day in Topeka, Kansas," Jahncke said, "he told the farm belt that he was going to cure all the ailments of agriculture. He said that he must have a plan which will do this and that the other thing. The governor has promised agriculture everything it could conceivably hope for. He has pledged himself to fulfill what no one on earth could fulfill."

Provided No Plan "He said, 'the plan must provide.' And he enumerated the blessings and benefits which the plan must provide."

WHO'S WHO IN MANCHESTER AND VICINITY

INTRODUCING THE LIVE PROGRESSIVE FIRMS AND PEOPLE THAT MAKE UP THE INTERESTS OF MANCHESTER AND VICINITY.

BY WILLIAM AND LUCILLE WOODS. EXCLUSIVE STAFF SPECIAL FEATURE WRITERS.

THE CHARACTER AND DISPOSITION of a person is easily judged by the way his or her home is furnished. If the home is artistically furnished, in both style of furniture and arrangement, you can rest assured that the owner is a person of refinement and good taste. In order to have the home furnished in a way that is appealing not only to yourself but to others, and have them wonder in silent admiration where you purchased the combination, one must go to a store that has the right kind of goods to suit one's individual taste. The firm we have in mind here, is The G. E. Keith Furniture Company, 1115 Main street. If you cannot obtain anything and everything that you require in furniture or accessories there, you can look elsewhere. Their modern stock consists of suites for any room, rare pieces of distinction, a wonderful selection of beds, lamps, rugs, carpets, and dozens of other items, far too numerous to mention. This firm was started by G. E. Keith and has faithfully served the Manchester public for over a quarter of a century. Mr. Keith started his business career on a farm where he worked hard for $6.00 a month and his board. He first saw the light of day at Vernon, Conn., and has always lived and worked in this locality. He is active in politics being a member of the Board of Selectmen and for a period was assistant postmaster in Manchester. He is now ably assisted in the business by his two sons, Warren I Keith, and Everett T. Keith. Phone 4159 and ask—How many years has this firm been serving the people of Manchester?

GOV. ELECT BRANN VISITS NEW YORK

Says Vote in Maine Indicated That the Voters There Desired a Change.

New York, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Governor-elect Louis J. Brann, of Maine, came to New York today to confer with leaders in Governor Roosevelt's presidential campaign. Brann called his election last Monday "a distinct shock to Maine," and said that the vote in his state indicated a desire for a change that he believed prevailed all over the country. "The Republicans who came into Maine to speak," he said, "made the endorsement of President Hoover the issue. That was true of Secretary of the Treasury Mills and of Senator Moses. That was the only appeal they made, so we say the Maine election is a repudiation not only of the Roosevelt administration but of the state administration as well." Brann was met by Robert Jackson, chairman of the Democratic Speakers' Bureau, and conferred with him and other leaders at headquarters about the part he will take in the presidential campaign. Brann already has two speeches scheduled. One at Newark, N. J., this afternoon and another on Monday at the Eastern States Exposition at Springfield, Mass. Plans for his further participation in the presidential campaign were not ready for an announcement, although Jackson said the governor-elect will be called upon for a number of speeches in New England. Major Issues "The major issue in Maine," Brann said, "was the economic situation, coupled to some extent with prohibition." The women took a great interest in the Maine election, Brann said. Asked about the effectiveness of Gene Tunney, retired heavyweight champion who spoke during the campaign, Brann replied: "Gene Tunney is the most effective campaigner in America." While the governor-elect said that the Maine vote expressed, among other things, a desire for a change in prohibition, he hesitated to discuss the drinking habits of Maine people, and said most of the bootleggers who operate in the state come from other states. "Most of the people in Maine are poor and they don't buy spring water or soda pop," Brann said.

HALE TREE PLANTED BY WEST HARTFORD West Hartford, Sept. 17.—(AP)—A group of about 50 people gathered today at the residence of George Washington bi-centennial with a parade and tree planting ceremonies. Governor Wilbur L. Cross, accompanied by his staff was the guest of honor. He was to speak at 3 p. m. in the William Thompson Sedgwick school following the parade. Tonight he will attend the Colonial military ball at the Hall High school. The program opened with the planting and dedication of a white oak tree from the birthplace of Nathan Hale. Shortly after this function, five planes of the 484 Aviation Division were to give an exhibition of formation flying. A community meeting tomorrow night will close the celebration which opened last night with the presentation of an historical pageant.

RACCOONS FOR HUNTERS Milan, O., Sept. 17.—(AP)—Ohio today took formal possession of its new 25-acre raccoon ranch, called the largest of its kind in the world. The first unit of the ranch, which will be operated from hunters' homes, came to the state with a capacity for 750 animals. Eventually the ranch will accommodate 3,000 breeding animals, which will produce from 8,000 to 12,000 young each year. The baby coons will be distributed throughout the 88 counties.

Who's Who Honor Roll In Manchester And Its Vicinity The following names of the progressive, wide-awake business people appearing in this list will be sent to the Library of Congress at Washington, D. C., and there remain for the next forty-two years from the date of last publication. There it comprises a splendid record of recognized achievements in the annals of this "Town of Friendly Folks," known commonly as Manchester and vicinity.

Tuesday's Spotlight Shows That: N. Marlow opened his department store in Manchester 21 years ago. John I. Olson of 699 Main Street has completed the painting on the Town, Hall, the Center Church, the Masonic Temple and the Centennial Apartments. The Wilcox Dress Shop, 507 Main Street, operated by Mr. and Mrs. Kronick features fall gowns at $8, $9, $10 and $16.75. The Park Hill Flower Shop will supply you a beautifully made bouquet for $1.50.

ABOUT TOWN

The local Luther League of the Concordia Lutheran church will be hosts to the Torrington League in a 500 day program this afternoon at the West Side grounds.

Colonel and Mrs. Joseph Atkinson of Boston are guests of Mrs. Rachel Hopper of 128 Center street. They will have charge of the Salvation Army services Sunday.

The Daughters of Italy will have an outing tomorrow at the clubhouse of the Sons of Italy on Keeney street, of which they have generously granted them the privileges for the day. The Daughters may invite members of their families, each group providing their own luncheon. It is planned to leave for the clubhouse at 10:00 a. m. or soon after. Members who desire transportation should get in touch with Mrs. Mary Della Fera of 16 Cottage street between 8 and 10 a. m. or telephone her, 5247.

Joseph Petrakis, 19, of Wapping received serious first degree burns in a gasoline explosion on September 4 and who has been in the critical line at Manchester Memorial Hospital since, is showing some improvement.

Another of the popular dances sponsored by the Sons of Italy will be held at the clubhouse on Keeney street tonight, with dancing from 9 o'clock to 1 o'clock. The Georgian orchestra will again furnish the music. These dances have been very well patronized in the past and large attendance is looked for tonight.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Frachey of 99 Birch street announce the marriage of their daughter, Teresa, to Arthur Madonna of 18 Essex street. The ceremony was performed Thursday evening by Justice of the Peace Morris Pasternack.

A meeting of Anderson-Shea Post, V. F. W., was held by Commander George Murphy for Friday night, September 23, in the State Armory, at which meeting nominations for post officers for the year will be made.

Karl Holm of 199 Cooper Hill street, employed as a helper on the Clinton and Essex street line of the Connecticut and Hartford Electric Light and Power Company was injured Thursday when a large stone fell on his foot, inflicting one of his toes so seriously that amputation was necessary at the Manchester Memorial hospital today.

Three men sat at pinocle in the dressing room of a vaudeville theater. They were, respectively, a blackface, a dancer and a clown. The clown's name was William Harrison Dempsy. He jumped up, as usual, with the old zeal he always showed for newspapers. At his side was Floyd Fitzsimmons, promoter and Jack's friend of his fighting days. Between hands, the ex-mauler freely discussed the back-busting business. He was about to bring news of a new fight when a knock came. "Men," was his reply, "some men like Tex and some fighters who are willing to get in there and give the people a run for their money." "A czar?" asked your correspondent. "No, I wouldn't say a czar. But some men or men big enough to control the racket by their personalities and strength of character. Somebody the fans felt would give them a square shake." Doing His Stuff It was almost time for his act. Out on the stage pictures from some of his great fights were being run. Dempsy walked nervously back to forth in the wings. He did a little shadow-boxing. The act consisted of a few cracks William Harrison Dempsy made with a stooge sports writer from a rural newspaper. The jokes were only fair. There was a jovial reference to the long count that the audience had seen at another encounter directed at Jack Sharkey that was applauded. Some slapstick was provided by Dempsy giving the stooge a playful slap on the back that almost floored the man.

And so back to the pinocle game and the entertainment for more visitors. They still crowded the doors to see the Old Mauler, and shake his hand. Much of the attraction of Dempsy's personality is built upon friendships the old boy refuses to forget. Many of them are expensive joyrides. Dempsy is one of the most "touched" men in the life. Down and out characters he used to know "in the days when" continually are coming to him for aid. Meeting the Girls Then, also among his visitors are the ladies. In almost every city, Jack and his stooge would be the only one who can give them an audience and answer their questions. "Most of the girls I talk to," said Jack, "want me to fight again." "Would he?" "Well, let's not go into that right now," was his parting word.

ANOTHER EARTHQUAKE. Wellington, N. Z., Sept. 17.—(AP)—Another heavy earthquake was felt today in the Hawkes Bay district, but no serious damage was reported. Yesterday's shock, in which there was no loss of life, caused damage estimated at about $250,000.

HOLLYWOOD GOSSIP

INTIMATE GLIMPSES AND INSIDE STUFF ON THE MOVIE COLONY

Gary's Car Still Fancies 'Em Hollywood, Sept. 17.—Strling along the boulevard; Gary Cooper being chauffeured in his big yellow and green car... but takes at least a block in which to turn that car around... it attracts plenty of attention, though... Irene Dunne a block behind... driving her own little car... Ken McKenna and Kay Francis going into one of those small theaters where they show a double feature. Life around the old Montmartre again... it went under the auctioneer's gavel the other day... soon is to be opened again... but under a different management... well, it was a great place once... and like all other great things in Hollywood, toppled from its pedestal... Anita Page and Mary Carlisle gaining at a display of fall hats... Ruth Chatterton and her new husband... ready to start work again... wonder if the fans will like him as well as Ruth's leading man now that he also is her husband?

Joan Slippers Joan Marsh still wearing her favorite toeless slippers which really are no slippers at all... Mary Brian just home from her second personal appearance tour... and looking like a million dollars... you'd have a hard time finding slippers better than hers... she's home she may strike right out again... this time for London to make a picture... a fully a dozen school kids heading toward the beach on a contraption which once was an automobile. Traffic piling up behind an actor... don't know who he is... but he's wearing make-up, so he must be an actor... probably on his way home from his first job... she's supposed to make a picture if the studio ever can find a story which satisfies her... Lee Tracy going into a brokerage office... Sally Blane apparently waiting for someone.

Harry Langdon's Back The Boulevard is a funny place affording a regular parade of stars some days... and being absolutely empty on others... Harry Langdon looking the part of a fashion boy... who regularly aren't nearly as considerate... Bebe Daniels and Ben Lyon coming out of a music store... wonder if Bebe is getting ready to try out some new songs for their personal person... she's supposed to make a picture if the studio ever can find a story which satisfies her... Lee Tracy going into a brokerage office... Sally Blane apparently waiting for someone.

NEED MILITARY AID Sioux City, Ia., Sept. 17.—(AP)—New pleas for military aid to handle the farm strike situation were heard today as striking farmers strengthened their picket lines to bottle Sioux City. With more pickets patrolling the highway last night than at any time in the last few weeks, Sheriff John A. Davenport of Woodbury county described the situation as being "far beyond the control" of local officers. Requests to ask Governor Dan Furrer for help from the National Guard came from Sioux City business men who have complained that the picketing has had a detrimental effect on trade. The governor recently refused the sheriff's request for troops, saying negotiations were pending which he hoped would end the picketing. The nature of the negotiations have not been disclosed.

HE GOT THE SHOCK Detroit, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Arthur E. Gordon spoke sternly to Milton Atkins, 25 of Van Dyke, Mich., before him on a larceny charge. "What you need," the judge said, "is a god shock." I doubt that probation would do you any good. Atkins startled the courtroom with a sharp yell and a frenzied leap backward. He had touched an imperfect insulated light wire. Judge Gordon released and granted him probation.

COMMUNICATIONS CUT Montreal, Sept. 17.—(AP)—The maritime provinces were out of communication from the rest of Canada by a violent wind storm that swept part of New Brunswick and Maine today. Telephone and telegraph wires were reported down and service completely disrupted east of Edmundston, N. E. Reports of the storm altering through to Montreal were meagre but it was reported there were several washouts with trains held up and highway block-

EXCHANGE IS SUED FOR 21 MILLIONS

Brokers Claim Violation of Anti-Trust Act—Officers of Market Defendants.

New York, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Suits for $21,000,000 were instituted today against the New York Stock Exchange, its president, its treasurer, and 40 members of its governing committee. The suit, which was filed by F. J. Simons and Co., brokers and stock sales promoters, charged violation of the Sherman and Clayton Anti-Trust Act. The amount asked was triple the amount of alleged actual and punitive damages. The complaint named the Exchange, its president, Richard Whitney, both as an official of the Exchange and individually; its treasurer, Warren E. Nash; and the members of the governing committee. The plaintiff charges that through resolution of the governing committee the defendants in effect established a boycott on a selected portfolio in which the plaintiff corporation had devised advertised amounts of stock throughout the country. Demand is made in the suit for three times the alleged $4,000,000 actual damages sustained as a result of the boycott and three times $3,000,000 of punitive damages. Costs, disbursements and attorneys' fees are also asked. The complaint declares that the plaintiff corporation, which is not a member of the New York Stock Exchange, conducted part of its business through the agency of stock Exchange members. The suit was filed in Federal Court by David Podel, as counsel for the plaintiff.

WORLD SERIES COSEUPS By this time, Ben Chapman's parents surely are convinced that their son, who came to them Christmas Day of 1908, took a wise step when he accepted professional baseball. If any doubt remains, it will be erased when a part of the young Yankee outfielder's slice of the world series melon finds its way into their bank account at an early October date. But the Chappans once had other plans for Ben. They sent him through high school and prepared him for college, where he was to study law, medicine or some business. "I did go to college—about two weeks," says Ben. "I entered Purdue and quit after two weeks of it. The next spring I went south with the Yankees." That was in 1925. Ben was a kid of 19. The Yankees optioned him to Asheville, in the Sally League, where he played 147 games at shortstop, batted .336 and stole 30 bases. In 1929 he was optioned to St. Paul in the American Association, where he played 168 games at the third base, again batted .336 and pilfered 26 sacks. The Yankees kept him in 1930, using him at second and third bases in 138 games. He made a batting average of .316, but stole only 14 bases.

When Joe McCarthy took the Yankee management in 1931, he quickly saw a spectacular career for the outfielder. The change was made—and so was Ben. He played 149 games, batted .315 and stole 61 bases, the best base-stealing performance in either league in many years. Besides this, he proved his right to the title of baseball's fastest runner in a series of informal races. A semi-pro manager in Birmingham started Chapman on his professional baseball career. Ben was playing high school ball when the manager saw him play and offered him a summer job with his club. The youth, still thinking seriously of college studies, refused the semi-pro manager's offer. That individual immediately told a Yankee scout about Ben. The haulroll of Colonel Jake Rupert, Yankee owner, has a way of changing a fellow's mind.

UDET MAY BE LOST Berlin, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Fear that Ernst Udet, famous German war ace who aided in the search for the Hutchinson family off the Greenland coast early this week, may himself be lost was expressed here today. A dispatch received from a motion picture exhibition at Godhavn, Greenland, said that Udet, who is in Greenland with an expedition, had not been heard from for three days.

MILLS TO CONTINUE Montreal, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Colonel R. R. McCormick, publisher of the Chicago Tribune, said today that the pulp wood mills controlled by his company in Quebec will continue to operate on a full time schedule. He has just returned from an inspection of the properties.

BOOKKEEPER KIDNAPED New York, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Two robbers escaped with a $7,000 payroll today after kidnaping its custodian, Joseph Kolb, 33-year-old bookkeeper for Kartiganer and Company, women's hat makers, in his own automobile. The robbers finally left Kolb bound and gagged on the roof of a building in East Fourth street. Bill Killefer will manage the St. Louis Browns for three years, ending, killing the rumor that he might be succeeded by Rogers Hornsby in 1933.

OBITUARY FUNERALS

Mrs. Catherine Farrell Largely attended funeral services were held this morning for Mrs. Catherine Farrell, 78, time student of the north end. Prayers were said at the home of her daughter, Mrs. James Duffy of Henry street at 2:30, with a service at 9 o'clock at St. Bridget's church. Rev. C. T. McCaskey the pastor celebrated the requiem mass. As the body was borne into the church Arthur Keating sang "Lead Kindly Light." At the elevation Mrs. Margaret Shea sang "O Salutaris." During the mass Arthur Keating sang "Beautiful Land of High." The hearse was Michael J. Coughlin, John B. Coughlin, John Wilson, William J. Conrow, John Robinson and William J. Shea. Burial was in St. Bridget's cemetery.

PROFESSOR IS FREED OF TRAFFIC CHARGE Milford, Sept. 17.—(AP)—A Yale graduate pleaded in behalf of Harvard professor in Town Court today and won dismissal of a traffic violation charge. Professor Manley Hudson of the Harvard Law school was before Judge Robert C. Stoddard accused of driving on the wrong side of the road. "This is a case of an absent-minded professor who really talked himself into being arrested," said Prosecutor Omar Platt of the 11th class of 1929. "Then I'll coil the case," replied the judge, also a Yale man. Hudson, when arrested Thursday, told officers he had just returned from England where he had been driving on the left side and that he was not accustomed to the change.

OPENING STOCKS New York, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Rails steamed up early in the early trading in today's Stock Market, pulling much of the list after them. During the first half hour, gains of 1 to 2 points appeared in such issues as Union Pacific, Santa Fe, New York Central, Baltimore and Ohio, Atlantic Coast Line, Southern Railway, New Haven, Lehigh and Lackawanna. Similar gains appeared in corn products, Westinghouse, Case, United Aircraft, U. S. Steel and others. The weekly trade reviews were encouraging, noting definite improvement in lighter lines of manufacture, which in some cases have carried manufacturing activity to the best levels of the year. They also stressed the recent gains reported in steel and railway traffic reports.

RAILROADS, TOPIC OF NEXT ADDRESS

Salt Lake City, Utah, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Checking off the eighth of the state's he has crossed on his presidential campaign to the west, Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt left behind Wyoming with its cheering crowds and reached Salt Lake City where tonight he will advance proposals for relieving the Nation's railroad situation. Mr. Roosevelt arrived at Salt Lake City, one of the important railroad centers of the west, about midnight last night. He will remain here Saturday and Sunday. Tomorrow night his special train will head north for the Pacific northwest. Most of today was given over to conferences with delegations from Utah, Montana, Wyoming and Nevada. At noon Mr. Roosevelt had scheduled an appearance at a Chamber of Commerce luncheon. In Tabernacle Mr. Roosevelt's railroad speech will be delivered in the famous Mormon tabernacle at 7:15 p. m., mountain standard time. The speech, it is understood, will take up 45 minutes. It is understood Mr. Roosevelt among other things, will ask for a broadening of the powers of the I. C. C. to include jurisdiction over bus, truck and airplane service. Mr. Roosevelt made seven appearances as his train passed through the sage brush prairie and swung around broad topped mountains. At Cheyenne he left his train to address a crowd and go for a motor trip through the Wyoming capital and to Fort Warren and the Veteran's hospital near the city.

TWO MEN ARE KILLED BY GAS EXPLOSION Miami, Ariz., Sept. 17.—(AP)—Two men were killed, three others were injured seriously, and authorities today were investigating reports a woman was missing as the result of a terrific explosion and fire that destroyed the Texas Oil Company storage plant and the offices of the Union Oil Company agent here. Two charred bodies removed from the ruins were identified as those of I. P. Fraiser, former secretary of state and more recently district agent for the Texas Company, and Ralph Hawes, an employee. Investigators were informed the woman was seen in the office transacting home business with Fraiser shortly before the fire. Gasoline being unloaded from a tank car was believed to have been ignited by sparks from an electric pump.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSONS

FAITH AND COURAGE

Sept. 17th-19, 26-28.
The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Sept. 15.
By Wm. E. Gilroy, D. D.
Editor of The Congregationalist

It Moses believed in the Lord's call of himself and the Lord's leadership of his people, he believed, none the less, in human agency and in the need of doing everything humbly possible to make secure his mission and the goal of attainment for his people.

Hence, instead of marching boldly into the Promised Land, trusting to providence to sustain him, he took the precautionary measure of spying out the land, discovering the problem before him and the conditions that might make for success.

The results, however, were not entirely satisfactory, for the varied judgment with which men estimate even practical situations was manifested in a divided verdict of the spies as they returned. The majority report was unfavorable, emphasizing the difficulties of conquest in the strength of the enemy and the wealth and resources of their country.

Only two of the 12 spies gave a favorable answer, and these took the view that the children of Israel should go at once and possess the land, and that they were well able to conquer it. Caleb was the chief spokesman for this report based upon hope and faith, and Joshua was his associate in urging the people to go forward.

What was the difference between the viewpoints and vision of the 10 and the two, occasioning such divergent reports? They were all agreed, apparently, about the desirableness of the country. It was a land flowing with milk and honey. But there was a very different way of appreciating and estimating the human elements.

The 10 spies who advised against attack were impressed with the size and power of the inhabitants, and at the same time they apparently were ready to underestimate the strength and capacity of the Israelites. Caleb and Joshua, however, were not appalled by the size of the Canaanites. They knew that power is not all a matter of size, but that it is also a matter of spirit and courage. They did not estimate things merely on a basis of numbers and apparent resources.

It is not easy to put ourselves back into an ancient day and enter very heartily into the spirit of a conflict involving the driving of certain people from their country and homes that other people might occupy them. There is a favor of might making right about the militaristic side of the matter, and there is no particular need that we should stress the lesson from that angle.

The real lessons lie deeper and are found in the symbolism of the conflicting views of the two camps. Almost entirely on materialistic considerations and superficial observation, the other based upon deeper considerations of courage and boldness in action.

The saying that "God is on the side of the great battalions" is attributed to Napoleon; but Napoleon himself lived to see the overthrow of the military strength in which he trusted. It is interesting, also, to remember that the overwhelming defeat of Napoleon at Waterloo was occasioned partially through the riding of the flower of his army into a great ditch, which careful reconnaissance of the ground of battle might have prevented.

Small things have often made for great defeats and great victories. Caleb and Joshua apparently took that fully into account, and they had deep confidence in small things called "faith" and "courage."

THE UNDEFEATABLE

BY GEORGE HENRY DOLE
International Sunday School Lesson Text, Sept. 19th.
"The Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid?"—Ps. 37:1.

Wreckage, ruin, all about us. Hopes crushed, life's battles lost. Surprising numbers taking their lives, thinking thus to find relief from the remorse of disappointments. Unimaginable must be the agonizing thought-processes gone through in bringing one to the desperation wherein he takes the plunge into the hereafter. There was wrong thought in the beginning. A slight divergence at the beginning may increase until reason fails.

There are some who bear afflictions unto victory. The more they are afflicted, the more they increase in determination and effort; while under like circumstances, others fall. There is within the reach of every one of us the power that saves to the uttermost. That all-saving power is the truth that enables one to see the enemies of our peace in their true light. We may think that evil is limited to doing injury to another, or some wrong external act. There are evils of a more interior nature, scarcely recognized as evils, though they are most deadly. Discontent, worry, fear, morbidity and despondency are radically evil. They arise in the halls. They are from the infectious miasma that ascends like poisonous vapors, and comes into our minds. Repeatedly the Word warns us not to let such enter, but to disperse them with faith and joy. We can know their origin. They are not the attributes of the Divine. They are not qualities in God nor can they be in His Love. They come upon one who withers himself from the Lord and His sustaining truth, just as winter follows the retreating sun. The greatest evils arise in the individual heart and mind. Let us not be afraid of ourselves, but look to the Lord.

He who lives in the truth that the Lord taught is undefeatable, for he knows that whatever comes, if rightly taken, promotes his eternal happiness, and increases his strength through faithful endurance. He knows that the Lord maketh the clouds His chariot, and that by afflictions met with faith and courage, the Lord will come all the closer. He is strengthened and cheered by the knowledge that no evil can touch the soul of one who makes the Lord his habitation.

Be undefeatable. You can laugh at the thoughts that lead to depression. They are all ridiculous illusions. Cast out all unlovely feelings as the sphere of hell. Refuse to let the principles of darkness cross your threshold. Keep the mind in the light and the heart in peace. The omnipotent powers of heaven environ. Let them come in. In the degree that one does this, he is undefeatable.

CHURCHES

SOUTH METHODIST CHURCH

Rev. R. A. Colpitts, Minister.

"Plenteousness" will be the subject of the pastor's sermon at the South Methodist church tomorrow morning at the 10:40 service. During the worship period in addition to the several organ numbers the chorus under the direction of Mr. Byles will render the following selections, Pico-casual, "Glorious things of thee are spoken"; Anthem, "Adoramus Te"; by Palestrina; Overture, "Amen"; "Ye humble souls, that seek the Lord"; by Chambers.

The church school whose attendance last Sunday included many new students will open promptly at 9:30 with trained superintendents directing each department.

The Epworth League at 8 o'clock will be conducted by the president, Raymond Mercer.

The nursery under the direction of Miss Anna Black will care for little people while the parents attend the 10:40 service.

ROCKVILLE

INTERESTING SUIT ON HEALTH POLICY HERE

Company Pleads Lack of Notice For Failure To Pay a Nervous Collapse Claim.

A case to come before the Tolland County Superior Court next week is the suit of Oswald Eckhardt of West street against the Massachusetts Bonding Company of Boston. Mr. Eckhardt alleges that he carried a policy of health insurance with the defendant company for several years, paying the premium annually. Early in 1931, he alleges, he suffered a nervous breakdown with complications, which prevented him from attending to his business and confined him to his home for a year. He contends he gave notice of his condition to the company through its agent, but the company failed to furnish him with the proper forms of proofs of loss to fill out and file. It further refused payment on the policy.

The insurance company alleges that its policy provides that written proofs of loss must be filed within thirty days of the beginning of illness and that this condition was not complied with. Several points of insurance law will be raised at the trial. The plaintiff is asking $1,000 damages. Attorney Edward J. Jackson represents Mr. Eckhardt, while Morris Falk appears for the defendant.

Democratic Caucus
The Democrats of Ellington held a caucus in the town hall on Thursday night, without a contest. John S. Jackson presided at the meeting and Joseph Girardini acted as clerk.

The following officers were nominated: Assessor, Alfred J. Willis; Board of Relief, Francis A. Minor; first selectman, Bernard A. Kelly; second selectman, George B. Hathaway; auditor, Joseph B. Girardini; grand jurors, Charles A. Daley, Louis Lavitt, Hugh Fitzpatrick; collector of taxes, Joseph A. Eckels; constables, John B. Girardini, Henry Campbell, William J. Hetzler, Jr., Claude E. Dimock; registrar of voters, William J. Eckhardt; board of education, Mary W. Hathaway and Edward Huebner, sr.; library director, Bernard A. Kelly.

Mrs. Lisette M. Carroll, 74, of 28 North Whitney street, Hartford, formerly of Rockville, died at the Hartford hospital on Thursday night following a long illness. She was born in East Longmeadow, Mass., the daughter of Abraham and Katherine Laubscher, April 6, 1858. She resided in Rockville for 65 years, moving to Hartford six years ago.

Mrs. Carroll leaves a daughter, Miss Lillian Carroll, of Hartford, the late Mrs. George M. Carroll of Searsdale, N. Y., and Robert Everett Carroll of West Hartford, and a sister, Mrs. Frank Austin of Springfield.

Start funeral services will be held at 71 Farmington avenue, Hartford, this afternoon at 2 o'clock with Rev. Fletcher Parker, pastor of the Emanuel Congregational church of Hartford, officiating. A service held at Lucia Memorial Chapel at Grove Hill, Rockville at 3 p. m. will be conducted by Rev. George S. Brooks. Burial will be in Grove Hill cemetery.

Memorial Building Repaired
The repairs to the Memorial building have been completed by stepladders of the Cornell Construction Company of Providence, R. I. The repair work has been under way for a month and the side walk in front of the Town Hall has been closed to traffic. The brick work was in such a condition that rain water seeped down into the main hall and superior court room. The walls have been badly damaged. The side walk was repaired and many bricks in the upper part of the building replaced.

Garden Club Meets
The monthly meeting of the Rockville Community Garden club was held in the Police Court room, Memorial building, on Thursday evening. Reports were given by various committees in connection with the recent flower show.

A nominating committee consisting of Harry Bartley, Mrs. Francis Burke, L. H. Fuller, Ernest Ide and Mrs. Frank Dowd was appointed to bring in the names of a list of officers to be elected at the next meeting. Mrs. Peter Hillow and Mrs. John Flak were appointed an auditing committee for the coming year.

Mrs. Laura Judson of Tolland invited the club to her home on Saturday afternoon. There will be a hearty lunch at 5 o'clock. The home is next to the post office in Tolland.

HERE is a rare opportunity to get the best possible allowance on your old range and replace it with a new Glenwood at the lowest possible cost. This Glenwood "2 in 1" Combination Range brings you a complete coal section with the added convenience of modern gas cooking. It has one oven, heated by both gas and coal. The economy of this feature is obvious. In cold weather when the range is being used for heat, cooking can be done at no extra cost, with the added facilities of gas for extra capacity and faster cooking when you need it. In warm weather the coal fire need not be used because the oven can be heated with gas. Yet this range occupies less space than the ordinary one fuel range. You'll regret it if you let this saving opportunity slip by. Come in today!

GIVE YOUR SCISSORS THIS DAILY EXERCISE!
Madam! Do you know that it's clever to be a clipper? Here's a habit you can readily cultivate, and you'll find many of your best friends following it.
To become a clipper at one clip, so to speak, just see that the shears are handy when you sit down to read your newspaper. As you spot an advertisement of something that interests you... especially some item that you want to examine when you're shopping next time... clip out the notice and take it with you.
The merchants who advertise with us are glad to have you ask for specific merchandise. And sometimes it's helpful to refer to the advertisement when you're right in the store.
At all events, a clipping pinned to your shopping list helps you to remember this particular errand. It simplifies and shortens a shopping-trip so much to know what you want and where to get it!

The program has been arranged by the officers and an interesting time is in store for those who are present. It is expected that Colonel Joseph Campbell, and his assistant administrator, Martin O. Hanson. Prohibition agents said some of the pieces had sold the liquor for thirty cents a pint and in addition had permitted purchases to spend the night in the place.

MRS. DU BOIS' BODY FOUND IN CELLAR

Found in Cellar

Defectives say they learned from a Mrs. Gilott, wife of a New York Jeweler, that Mrs. Du Bois had been written before her death. She had written Mrs. Gilott, complaining her husband was acting queerly, spending nearly all his time in the cellar, where he would "dig for days and lapsing into strange silence when he came up." She wrote also, police were told, that Du Bois, only one year younger than his wife but much more youthful in demeanor, apparently no longer loved her and that he was "like a crazy man over that other woman." Mrs. Du Bois was released last Monday police questioned Miss Grace Atwood of Middletown, blonde and youthful daughter of a wealthy manufacturer. They said she told them she had been friendly with Du Bois. He had informed her, she said, that his wife was killed in an automobile accident in Montreal. Authorities absolved Miss Atwood of any knowledge of the slaying. Lawrence Frasier, former chauffeur for the Du Bois family, was questioned. He told police he assisted Du Bois in laying a concrete layer in the cellar, but he said Du Bois informed him it was a foundation for a pump and washing machine. Sullivan said the tomb itself was built in the cellar.

GEN. O'NEIL RESPONSIBLE FOR ERROR AT LEGION

Portland, Ore., Sept. 17.—(AP)—Responsibility for placing Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley's statement on "bonus marchers in Washington" before American Legion delegates at their recent convention here, had been accepted today by General Joseph P. O'Neil, retired. The convention had censured the War Department in a resolution the impression being it was responsible for delivery of the statements were in envelopes bearing the War Department frank. In an interview last night General O'Neil expressed indignation that his action as served as a boomerang against his friend, Secretary Hurley, and the department. He said the statements were mimeographed at his own expense, and a clerk had erroneously placed them in War Department envelopes bearing the name of the War Department. He said the statements were not distributed to the delegates at the Legion convention. General O'Neil said, "Neither did Pat Hurley."

STATE COMMUNITIES STAGE PAGEANT TODAY

Ansonia, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Four communities in the Naugatuck Valley—Ansonia, Derby, Shelton and Georgetown—united today to honor George Washington at a bicentennial celebration. Assistant Secretary of War F. W. Payne was to fly from Washington to deliver the principal address and present purple heart medals and Major Ernest E. Novey of Torrington, a lieutenant-colonel in the National Guard, military units, 18 floats and members of all veterans organizations in the valley were to participate in a parade from the reviewing stand was stationed at the Ansonia City Hall. Visiting units in the parade included the Second Company Governor's Foot Guard, two Bridgeport units of the Naval Militia and Veterans Drum Corps from Milford, Stratford and West Haven. A one-horse show built for Governor Jonathan Trumbull in 1760 and "Old Jumbo," one of the first steam propelled fire engines built, also were in the parade. The fire engine was bought recently from the city of Hartford by James Swan Seymour manufacturer.

GULLEY'S ORCHARD HIGHLY EFFICIENT

Avery Street Farm Equipped With Modern Apparatus For Best Production.

One of the most thriving fruit farms in this section of the state is located in the town of South Windsor and is known as Pine Knob Orchards, owned by Roy Gulley and Son. On its extensive acres are raised the finest of fruits, mainly apples and peaches, that are placed on sale in the finest markets in the metropolis. Modern Facilities Pine Knob Orchards is equipped with the most modern up to date facilities available for sorting, packing and shipping its products. Outstanding of these is the Cutler fruit grader, a machine that provides the most accurate method of sizing and sorting the fruit. It is the only machine of its kind in this section, if not in the state. The machine is about thirty feet long. Apples are emptied onto a roller at one end and this roller carries the apples along to a weblike belt, turning the fruit round and round on the journey to avoid bruising. Imperfect fruit is picked out and returned on another belt. After the fruit drops to the smelting table, the web, it is carried along and automatically dropped into compartments according to its size. There are five of these compartments on each side of the machine, each holding a different size of fruit. It grades fruit down to one-eighth of an inch. The machine is capable of packing 600 boxes a day, averaging 117 apples to the box. The Gulleys ship between twenty and twenty-five tons of apples weekly to New York and New Jersey markets. Apples are sold mostly in New York and peaches mostly in New Jersey, large sales being made to such famous shore resorts as Atlantic City and Ashbury Park. The Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York City is a regular customer for peaches at Pine Knob orchards. At present, Mr. Gulley is selecting his choicest apples of the McIntosh variety, which he will enter in competition at the World Fair at Chicago. Over 5,000 Trees The Pine Knob orchards consist of more than fifty acres, with over 5,000 apple trees and 2,000 peach trees. Twenty-eight persons are employed in picking and shipping the fruit. Eighty-five varieties of apples are raised for many years are for commercial purposes, including the Macintosh, Baldwin, Fall Pippin, Wealthy, Gravenstein and Wagner. Mr. Gulley has been in the fruit business practically all his life. His father was professor of agriculture at Storrs for many years. Before that he ran a fruit ranch in Southern California and a farm in Dearborn, Mich. The latter forms the nucleus of Henry Ford's model farm.

COONTZ ANSWERS BONUS QUESTION

This plan gives due consideration to the economic welfare of the people as a whole and not simply the veteran as a class.

Immediate cash payment will create a purchasing power that is now lacking. It will permit distribution of nearly two billion dollars in cash among the working classes residing in every nook and corner of the country. These funds will be turned promptly into every channel of trade, through the payment of debts and the purchase of necessities. Currency Expansion This theory of "currency expansion" recognized by Congress and the administration as vital to reconstruction, will restore economic conditions. It will shake loose the hoarding of those who are keeping their money in safety deposit vaults and in tax exempt bonds because of the uncertainty of business conditions. Commodity prices will automatically increase and with business and industry assured of a decent profit, further wage reductions should be unnecessary. We know that the means proposed for the raising of the necessary funds are sound because Congress already has adopted the same methods for other appropriations of cash payment. When Congress enacted the adjusted service certificate law in 1924, America publicly acknowledged this obligation to World War veterans. Existing economic conditions and widespread unemployment wholly justify the demands of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States for immediate cash payment. Faced to Borrow More than two million veterans have been forced to borrow the 50 per cent loan value of their certificates. The compound interest, being charged on these loans against the veterans will virtually consume the balance that is due if payment is deferred until 1945. When Congress passed this law in 1924 it was never intended that any deductions should be made from the face value of these certificates. Thus far the government has endeavored to extend relief to every strata of our economic structure, with the exception of the individual wage earner. Despite the tremendous distribution of government funds to banks, railroads, and industry in general, economic recovery will be retarded as long as the government continues to ignore the plight of the individual citizen.

MOTHERS CLUB HEARS OF HABIT TRAINING

Members Meet At Sunset Ridge Club - Addressed By Dr. S. Harcourt Peppard. Despite the storm last evening, fifty of the members of the Manchester Mothers Club attended the supper and meeting at the Sunset Ridge Country Club, East Hartford. A delicious meal, featuring chicken patties, was served. The new president, Mrs. J. H. Smith, introduced the officers who served for the first time, and the guest speaker, Dr. S. Harcourt Peppard of Hartford, who gave a comprehensive talk on habit training of children. Dr. Peppard is connected with the state department of mental hygiene and much of the advice he gave was applicable. He stressed the importance of being normal with children rather than following fads of the moment. His address was both interesting and instructive. Another program that will appeal to the members, many of whom are mothers of young children is that scheduled for October 7, instead of 14, when the speaker will be an official family, with the humanist program that is being held on for crippled children at the Shrine hospital in Springfield. It has been voted to hold the regular meetings at the Center Church House this season, on the second Friday of the month. The date and circumstances prevent as in the case of the October meeting.

SEEK SLAYERS OF TWO

Gloucester, N. E., Sept. 17.—(AP)—Police set out to search today for the supposed slayer of William Bozok and his 18-year-old sweetheart, Joyce Roberts, who were found mortally wounded near Tablehead on September 6. The search was undertaken after a coroner's jury decided their deaths came at the hands of a person or persons unknown. A note found in the girl's purse said they had been secretly married and decided to kill themselves but its authenticity was questioned. No weapon was found at the scene of the slaying.

BYRD ANSWERS BONUS QUESTION

These veterans whose service credits exceeded $50, there was added 25 per cent and this amount was used as a premium to purchase for each such veteran a paid-up endowment policy maturing either upon the death of the veteran or at the end of twenty years.

Over a Veto In 1930, again over a Presidential veto, Congress enacted a law permitting holders of these certificates to borrow up to 50 per cent of the face value. Under this law up to June 30, 1932, according to their certificates, made by the government. They do not realize that such face value represents the amount of the bonus granted, plus 25 per cent, and that the total compounded annually at 4 per cent for twenty years in effect more than doubles the original credit for service. provides, but he totally and absolutely fails to provide the plan which is needed. "The Democratic platform reads, 'we advocate a competitive tariff for revenue.' "Speaking of this document, Governor Roosevelt says, (and quite rightly) 'I am for this platform 100 per cent.' "But in Tokpek he declared that he would give the farmer a benefit equivalent to a tariff. 'Witfully or not, what the governor has promised agriculture is that he will put the farmer's products upon the same tariff basis as were the aforementioned products six years ago—that is to say he will give them no protection at all.' "Jahncke said the campaign is "not a contest between the Republican and Democratic parties" but "a struggle between the Republican Party and depression."

"BACK STREET" TO OPEN GREATER SHOW PROGRAM

Big List of Hits Scheduled For Season At State Theater—Will Rogers Next Week.

The greater show season, in part of the program of Warner Brothers and the management of the State theater to bring to Manchester during the fall and winter the star productions produced by the leading companies of America. The influence of this policy can readily be seen in the pictures that are booked at the State for the coming week. For three days starting Sunday we will have Fannie Hurst's "Back Street" starring Irene Dunne and John Boles. This novel is undoubtedly one of the finest novels ever written and has been created into one of the greatest woman's picture ever produced. "Back Street" tells the story of a woman who considered no sacrifice too great to make in the name of love, and a man who gave freely of his love but at the same time retained his social position as a husband and father. The story covers a span of 30 years, and a said to give an especially affecting picture of the trials of two people whose love is outside the law, notwithstanding its sincerity and depth. Will Rogers creates something of a screen innovation in "Down the Road," his latest Fox Films vehicle, by combining for the first time his hilarious but significant views on the economic situation with a pure comedy story. As a result the picture, which opens next Wednesday and Thursday at the State theater, is said to be the most entertaining and humorous yet made. Irene Rich, Dorothy Jordan and Maky Kemp head the supporting cast. This new Will Rogers hit played to a capacity house in one of Hartford's popular theaters the other week. The last half of the week offers a two feature program, "Guilty As Hell" brings back together again those popular stars of "What Price Glory" and "The Cock-eyed World" Edmond Lowe and Victor McLaglen. On the same program Eric Linden and Richard Cromwell in "The Age of Innocence" a picture that will have its first showing in Connecticut at the State. These two pictures fit ideally on the same program as one is the he-man buckaroo smashing theme while the other is one of those rib-tickling light comedies, dealing with the problems confronting the youth of today. Now for a glance at the list of feature pictures already booked for appearance at the State a little later in the season: "The Stage Play," "Smiling Thru" with Norma Shearer. "Grand Hotel" with Greta Garbo and John and Lionel Barrymore. "The Blonde Venus" with Marlene Dietrich. "Movie Crazy" with Harold Lloyd. "A successful Calamity" with George Arliss. "White Lies" with Helen Hayes. "Rain" with Joan Crawford. "Mr. Robinson Crusoe" with Douglas Fairbanks. "The Kid From Spain" with Eddie Cantor. "The Craah" with Ruth Chatterton. "Cabin in the Cotton" with Dick Bartlesness. "Tiger Shark" with Edgar G. Robinson. "Rasputin" with John, Lionel and Ethel Barrymore. "Hold 'Em Jail" with Wheeler and Woolsey. "The Big Broadcast" with a cast that includes every popular star of the radio world. Other pictures worthy of mention are "Thirteen Women," "Farewell To Arms," "Bird of Paradise" and "Sign of the Cross." The management of the State also announces that for the next season greater movie season contracts have been signed that will bring to Manchester the latest news reels, cartoon comedies, technicolor shorts, flash acts and comedies. The State theater trusts that this new movie season will prove to the people of Manchester that it is the greatest desire of the management to give the theater goers of the town the best in entertainment.

HOSPITAL NOTES

PRE-SCHOOL CLINICS PROVE A GREAT HELP

Amazing record made in the Summer Round-Up—Many Defects Found. An astounding record of the health of our young children was revealed in the summer round-up of pre-school children which has just been completed. Early in the spring a record was obtained of those children who expected to enter school for the first time in September. Members of the Child Welfare committee, which is in charge of the examination by the family physician of clinic before school opened. Eleven special clinics were held in the various school districts for this purpose, as well as the usual Friday health conferences which are held every week for all children under school age. The physical examination was given by Doctors Boyd and Burr who have contributed generously of their time and enthusiasm to this work for many years. The purpose of the round-up was to encourage parents to have their children enter school in the best possible condition of health, entirely free from remedial handicaps, and with a 100 per cent chance for a successful school career. Results show that twice as many children were examined this year, but as in previous years, many were seen too late to enable them to be put in 100 per cent condition before entering school—many of these youngsters will be working under a definite handicap in their competition with other children of their age. The full report is as follows: Total number examined.....169 Total number defects.....253 Total number corrected.....239 Defects included teeth, ears (chiefly tonsils and adenoids) nutrition, posture, heart, lungs, hernia and others. Teeth constituted the greatest number of defects, showing the result of faulty nutrition and appalling ignorance and neglect as to the care of the child's first teeth. The dental clinic started a year ago for pre-school children has been a great boon in this respect, but as with other defects too much time is allowed to elapse so that the "Remedial" becomes largely an "Irremedial" defect. Twenty-one children have been inoculated against diphtheria and 141 vaccinated. Library patrons and members of the Recreation Center are due for a surprise when they find how satisfactorily the two units have been combined in the School street building. When the plans were first announced there was some lack of enthusiasm over the combination, but the alterations have completely separated the two activities. The work has been done without seriously interfering with or reducing the Recreation Center facilities. The Recreation Center may still be reached by both entrances on School street. The main entrance to the library will be on the same street but in the west end of the building where the auditorium was formerly located. At this point will be the principal stack room. The main reading room will be where the Recreation reading room formerly was, and in addition the office of the physical education department has been annexed. This leaves the Recreation Center with four rooms fronting on School street and one on the east end. These were formerly the women's reading room, the ping-pong room, the canteen room, small gymnasium and pocket billiards room. These will apply take care of Recreation special activities. The gymnasium and club rooms at the east end remain as before. Carpenters from Cheney Brothers are placing the book stacks in the rooms. The children's room is one of the most attractive features of the center along with the librarian's office, catalogue room and repair room. With the exception of these for the children's room, no books have been moved as yet. The new library quarters will probably be opened late next week possibly not until the following Monday.

LOCAL COLLETERS NEW ENGLAND OPEN

Martin, Anderson, Cheney, Jr., To Play With Country's Best Next Week.

Manchester golfers will be entertained in the Rockledge Open and the New England Open Championship tournament at Rockledge Country Club, West Hartford, next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Bill Martin, pro at the Manchester club, Ricky Anderson, his assistant, Jack Cheney, Jr., local amateur champion, and Alex Simpson, of Springfield, former local pro, are to be entered. This will be the biggest tournament ever staged in this state. Prizes will total over $1,600. Some of the best known professional golfers in the country will take part. Already the following have signed to play: Willie MacFarlane, Johnny Farrell, Bobby Cruikshank, T. Phil Perkins, Wild Bill McElhob, Billy Burke, Johnny Golden, Henry Gulci, Joe, Phil and Mike Turness, Tony Manerio, Clarence Clark, Craig Wood, Mike Brady, Bobby Grant and Dick Metz. The entrance of the local golfers in the tournament will naturally create considerable interest here. No doubt a large gallery will follow the players. Despite stormy weather seventy-five members attended the regular meeting of the Luther League of the Emanuel Lutheran church last night and heard an interesting and varied program, in charge of Miss Viola Larson. Carl T. Johnson of Hill street described his recent trip to Sweden, Fred Lavey contributed two piano solos and Mrs. Knut Erickson sang three vocal solos. The League was divided into two teams, captained by Miss Beatrice Johnson and Herman Johnson, which will hold a contest in the sale of Christmas cards. Miss Edith Johnson gave a report on the Hartford District convention and Miss Eva Johnson reported progress on the Confirmation Reunion to be held in November. In place of the next meeting, a straw ride will be held on Friday, September 30. Miss Faith Fallow and her social committee will be in charge. The Meriden Luther League will visit here on October 7.

AT AN ABSOLUTE MINIMUM OF EXPENSE

(A Recent Survey by the Julius Mathews Special Agency of Boston shows The Herald's Local Advertising Rate to be over 30% LOWER than 29 Other New England Dailies of the Same Circulation.)

Member Of
The Audit Bureau of Circulations

This bare statement of fact may not mean a great deal at first reading to the average advertiser or reader but therein lies the greatest amount of business prestige any newspaper can command in the minds of space buyers today. Those who are acquainted with the workings of the Audit Bureau of Circulations know that CIRCULATION FIGURES ACCREDITED BY THIS BUREAU REPRESENT PAID SUBSCRIBERS. It is the Sterling Mark of integrity in circulation among newspapers today.

This is one of the important reasons why readers of the Herald find such a variety of national advertising copy presented to them, the same as is found in the metropolitan dailies because Space Buyers in cities throughout the country KNOW WHAT THEY ARE BUYING when they turn to their A. B. C. reports for circulation, for it is on this basis alone that advertising space is bought by national advertisers. Personal feelings do not enter into these deals. These buyers are out to purchase paid reader coverage.

Circulation books of papers belonging to the A. B. C. are audited four times a year "without fear or favor."

Member Of
The Associated Press

The Herald does not solicit advertising to appear in a low quality newspaper. It is serviced with a full news report of The Associated Press, a trunk line wire from New York and Boston running through its editorial rooms and a separate Morse wire giving complete state coverage and an auxiliary service to the trunk line. This news service is exactly the same as offered by some of New England's largest newspapers and is wider in scope than that received by any other newspaper in Connecticut of a circulation similar to The Herald's.

Thus the advertising of high quality merchandise has the advantage of appearing in a newspaper of high quality service at the lowest possible rates.

WALKER AT GIBRALTAR

Gibraltar, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Former Mayor Walker of New York arrived here today aboard the steamer Conte Grande accompanied by his secretary, George Collins. He looked well and seemed cheerful.

He told correspondents he was taking the trip for his health and that he expected to go back home at the first opportunity. During the first couple of days of the trip he didn't feel so well, he said, but now he is better and plans to stay for a short time at Naples.

"I'm not prepared to talk about politics," he said.

A Spanish bull which chased a matador out of the arena was rounded up and shot. Over here we would have simplified the process by having the judges award the decision to the matador.

FOURTEEN SHOWS ARE ON BROADWAY

But Producers Are Still Waiting For First Big Smash Hit of Season.

New York, Sept. 17.—(AP)—The new Broadway season is taking on life. Ticket brokers are still eagerly awaiting that first smash hit of fall, although several of the new arrivals report a "good call." Fourteen shows are now running, six of them musical.

Stars now working on Broadway are Madge Kennedy, Clifton Webb, Ruth Gordon, Taylor Holmes and Fred and Dorothy Stone. . . . "The Cat and the Fiddle" ends fifty weeks on Broadway and goes on tour within a fortnight. . . . William Harrison will have the leading part, in that Edgar Wallace melodrama, "The Case of the Frightened Lady."

Next week brings five new shows to Broadway beginning with "Lilly Turner," the title role going to Dorothy Hall, of Meadville, Pa. . . . Others are "The Budget," with Lynn Overman; "Belmont Varieties," a revue; "Triplets," and "Only the Young." . . . Clarence Dana has returned to London after visiting Katharine Cornell in the Bavarian Alps where they talked over that play about the Brontes which Miss Dana is writing.

Albertina Rasch sent five specialty dancers to London this week to appear in "Wild Violets." They are Marguerite Earle, of Cincinnati; Vida McLain, of Portland, Ore.; Noni Dale, of Washington, Ga.; Ruth Fischer, of Ogden, Utah; Josephine Roberts, of Columbus, O.; Inga Anderson, of Vancouver, B. C.; and Mabel Barry, of Minneapolis.

The Shuberts have decided not to bring "The Passing Show" to New York until they can provide it with a cast of new stars.

Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne began rehearsals yesterday for their limited road tour in "Reunion at Vienna."

Rachel Crothers will bring in her new comedy, "When Ladies Meet," next month. . . . The young friends of Hobart and Spring Byington are in the cast. . . . Gene Fowler and Ben Hecht have come in from their suburban estate to cast their new comedy, "The Great Magoo." Billy Rose is the producer.

Wall Street Briefs

New York, Sept. 17.—The American companies made unfavorable reports that eleven banks which had suspended payments reopened this week, a new high record for institutions resuming business in any week thus far this year. In the previous week six banks reopened. Banking suspensions continued at the low point set early this month, eleven banks closing their doors as compared with ten last week.

Standard Statistics Co. says thirty-one companies made unfavorable dividend changes in the past week, an increase of ten over a week ago. There were ten favorable revisions, including five "extras."

Twin City Rapid Transit Co. has notified the New York Stock Exchange of its intention to change the common stock from 220,000 shares of $100 par to a similar number of no par. The capital represented by the stock would be reduced from $22,000,000 to $11,000,000.

Associated Dry Goods Co. proposes to lower the number of authorized second preferred shares from 100,000 to 67,255, and to change the common stock from no par value to $1 par.

Local farmers are beginning their fall plowing.

Gibson Porter celebrated his twelfth birthday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Porter, Wednesday afternoon. About a dozen of his young friends were in present. Gibson has a baseball diamond of his own, which his father has made for him on the farm, and the young people started the afternoon's fun by playing a rousing game. Other games were played and the birthday spread was served, including sandwiches, cup cakes, ice cream, candy, marshmallows, a birthday cake with candles, and grape juice. To cap the climax all had their pictures taken at the home of Mrs. Merton W. Hills, Mrs. Chauncey E. Kinney, Mrs. Edward H. Raymond and Miss Victoria Hilding attended a meeting of the O. E. S. in Colchester, Wednesday evening. This was the first fall meeting of the order.

Deeds were recorded at the town clerk's office, September 13, of the sale of four lots at Amston Lake. The purchasers were: Lucy Bailey Pratt, Glastonbury; Gretta K. Dunn, New London; George H. Gurley, Willimantic; and A. Roland Carlson, Hartford.

At the last meeting of Colonel Henry Champion Chapter, D. A. R., in Colchester, attended by several Hebron officers and members, the gift of a sprigged china tea set, well over a hundred years old, and in complete shape, was made by Henry J. Bailey of Colchester, in memory of his late wife, Mrs. Lovina M. Bailey, a charter member of the chapter. A vote of thanks was given Mr. Bailey for the gift.

Queer Twists In Day's News

The Pas, Man.—Cree Indians are putting their snow shoes in shape for plenty of this winter. The official weather men of the tribe predict a lot of snow but an other-wise mild winter, with a late fall and early spring. They make their prediction annually and the Indians will tell you it always comes true.

Ellis, Kas.—An oiled road that from high in the air looks like a stream is death on ducks. Dozens have been found dead on it. Hunters say they descend expecting to alight on water and are killed by the impact.

Hartford, Conn.—In Connecticut many wives go out fishing while their husbands stay home to look after the house, says Gleason Allhouse, deputy fish and game warden. The reason is that men must pay $3.35 for a fishing license, while it costs a woman nothing. Housewives in considerable numbers thus are getting free fish for their families.

Lemontville, Ont.—Charlie, a Holstein bull, works like a horse. Jerry Sibley, farmer, is short one horse for a team, so he uses his bull to help with the plowing. He says his bull is as smart as a horse in following commands.

New York—Mrs. Michaela Bucchia says she has lived 105 years and a little thing like an automobile accident can't bother her. Knocked down by a motor car, she picked herself up, brushed herself off, and went about her business.

ANDOVER

The destruction of the Maple Terrace Inn by fire, late Thursday night, followed, it is now stated, several forcible entries upon the property in the four years since it was last occupied, in which a number of articles were stolen. The last tenant of the inn was Mr. Clarence Sudd of Hartford.

Mrs. Florence Platt, who lives near the burned inn, which stood on the Bolton-Andover road and was best known as the Frederick Case place, reports having seen a light in a second story window a short time before the fire was discovered. The light went out and the place was dark for a while before the flames were noticed.

Mrs. Platt sent out the alarm by phone and a Willimantic fire company responded but all that could be done was to save some outbuildings. The property is understood to have been partially insured.

LARGEBOND CONCESSION

Paris, Sept. 17.—(AP)—The largest loan conversion in the world has been providing for converting about $3,400,000,000 worth of French government bonds, was approved by the Chamber of Deputies today.

The vote on the measure, in the special session called for the purpose, was 540 to 48.

The new bonds will be issued at 4 1/2 per cent. Lucien Lamoureux, budget reporter, said reasonable success of the conversion plan would save the country about $2,000,000 a year. The bill will go to the Senate Sunday.

The new bonds will mature in 75 years. All present bondholders are to be given six days to convert their holdings or accept reimbursement.

Abraham was passing away, and around him the members of his family were grouped, and weeping and praying constantly. His lips were seen to move, and Rachel, his dutiful and loving wife, bent forward to catch his few last words.

Abraham (whispering faintly)—Rachel, is everybody present?

Rachel (sobbing)—Yes, dear. We are all here.

Abraham—Are you quite sure, Rachel? Is Moses here? and Reuben, and Rebecca, and Meyer, and Isadora and little Ikey?

Rachel (sobbing)—Yes, father, we are all here, all listening.

Abraham (moaning)—Just as I thought, (turning his face to the wall) I am not dead yet and already they have begun to neglect the store.

Dear Teacher—Kindly excuse Frederick's absence yesterday. He fell in the ditch and got his pants muddy. By doing the same you will greatly oblige his mother.

A teacher was annoyed by the actions of one of her pupils. So she sent for the boy's mother. Teachers do that, you know.

Teacher—Irving has been a very bad boy. He throws spitballs around the room.

Boy's Mother (glaring at her son)—Ha, spit balls you throw. (Then she slapped Irving).

Teacher—Furthermore, he teases the little girls.

Boy's Mother (slapping him again)—Ha, little girls you tease.

Teacher—And to cap the climax—

Boy's Mother (butting in)—Ha, climaxes your cap! (Then she socked poor Irving again, and an awful lik.)

ASK MEMORIAL DAY ALLOWANCE OF $500

Permanent Committee Decides It Will Need That Much For Observance.

The Permanent Memorial Day Committee at a special meeting held last night voted to submit a budget of $500 for the observance of the holiday for 1933. The secretary of the committee was directed to notify the Board of Selectmen of the action of the committee and Michael McDonnell, Legion delegate to the committee was asked to appear before the Board at the next meeting to explain the budgetary requirements.

War Relics Committee A committee consisting of one member from each organization represented on the committee was selected by Chairman Charles E. Warren to look into the matter of securing Civil War relics in town, the same to be assembled at one point for inclusion in a trophy cabinet to be placed in the Municipal building. It was reported that several Civil War material including muskets, sabers, guldons, bayonets, shells and other war material can be collected to make a fine exhibit.

The following delegates will have charge of the search for relics: Mrs. Maude Shearer, Wilbur Loveless, John Jensen, Nelson L'Heureux, Michael McDonnell, Harry Russell and Archie Kilpatrick. Michael McDonnell, a member of the Legion was voted admission to the committee in place of Harold Dougan, resigned. The resignation of Harold Dougan was accepted.

D. A. E. Included The application for representation in the committee filed by Oxford Parish Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was approved last night. The following members were voted in: Mrs. C. R. Burr, Mrs. Thomas Lewis, Mrs. Arthur Loomis, Mrs. Charles Sumner, Mrs. Frank Wolcott, Mrs. Louis Grant, Mrs. Herbert B. Robb. The total membership of the committee now stands at 68.

It was reported that the committee must buy 20 World War markers for graves of veterans having died during the past year. The meeting adjourned on the call of the chairman.

LOCAL FOLKS' BABY KIN GETS 'PEPPER' BASEBALL

Martin Leonard McAdams of Frankford, Pa., is grandson of Griswold Street Couple.

D. H. McAdams of Frankford, Pa., son of Mr. and Mrs. James McAdams of Griswold street, was thrust into the limelight recently when John Leonard (Pepper) Martin, hero of the 1931 World Series, paid a visit to his home for the purpose of presenting a namesake with a baseball autographed by every member of the world's champion team.

A baby was born to the McAdams last October 10, the final day of the World Series. Mr. and Mrs. McAdams could not agree on a name for the child until the father noticed glaring headlines about Martin in the newspapers.

"We will call him Leonard Martin and he will have a name he will be proud of all his life," he said.

And that was the reason why Martin Leonard McAdams had a distinguished visitor on Thursday, September 8. "Pepper" bounced the baby on his knee and it was a happy occasion for all concerned.

Mrs. H. D. Gates of 26 Lilac street is an aunt of the McAdams baby.

HEAVY STORM BREAKS TREES, ELECTRIC WIRES

Talcottville, Bolton and Sections of Manchester Without Current Due To Line Breaks.

Sections of three different towns were plunged into darkness for two hours last night due to limbs of trees breaking off and falling onto lines of the Manchester Electric Company during the heavy rain storm. The rain continued until after midnight.

There were breaks in two points, one on Middle Turnpike East near Manchester Green and the other on Tolland Turnpike near the Flats Filling station. These interruptions put all of Talcottville, Bolton, Manchester Green and Oakland into darkness from about 8 until 10 last night. Repair men went out from the Manchester Electric Company, trailed the wires until the breaks were located and then made the necessary repairs to restore service. No serious washouts were reported from the steady all-day rain although at times the rainfall was very intensive. It was accompanied by a brisk wind. Trains passing through Manchester traveled slower than usual as the engineers kept a close lookout for any washouts which might cause derailments.

TOWN NO WORSE THAN NATION IN CANDIDATES

Although 16 Sought Office As Selectmen There Are 11 Seeking Presidency.

Manchester had 16 candidates for the office of Selectmen this year. Seven were selected. There have been many expressions of disgust regarding the superfluity of material for political offices, locally, but just see what the Nation is doing!

Other years the voter was asked to choose between the two major candidates. The same number of leading candidates are before the people again this November—two—and how many more? Exactly nine. Here they are—all of them: Hoover, Republican; Roosevelt, Democratic; Thomas, Socialist; Reynolds, Socialist-Labor; Foster, Communist; Ushaw, Prohibitionist; Cox, Farmer-Labor; Webb, Liberty and Unity; Harvey, Liberty; Cox, Jobless Party; Irvine, People's Party.

Take your pick. Manchester was not doing so bad after all with her 16 candidates for "town fathers."

McCLUSKEY TO RETURN TO FORDHAM TOMORROW

Joseph P. McCluskey of Foster street leaves tomorrow for New York City where he will enter his senior year at Fordham University. He has been home here since August 23 when he returned from the Olympic games. His course at Fordham is in accounting.

Joe has high hopes of setting many more new records in athletics during the remainder of his college career. After graduation he will remain in training with the hope of being in even better form for the 1936 Olympics at Berlin, Germany, are held.

INSURANCE MEN PROVE TO BE GOOD FISHERMEN

Six of Them Get Between 125 and 150 Blackfish in Day Off Nantico.

Six Manchester men who sell life insurance as a livelihood are also versatile enough to be rated as good fishermen—or else they are mighty good story tellers. They claim to have caught between 125 and 150 blackfish in their latest deep sea adventure.

The group from the Prudential company included John O'Leary and John Penland, both assistant superintendents, William Keating, Alex Johnson, Fred Malin and Arthur McCann. They motored to Nantico last Sunday and took a 15 mile cruise out to Plum Island where they baited their hooks and started pulling 'em in.

McCann, spokesman for the group, said that they caught so many that they left several dozen for people at Nantico, fetching the remaining 76 home for personal use. Many of these were distributed among friends. Keating caught the prize fish, one weighing close to seven pounds.

McCANN TO TAKE EXAMS FOR N. Y. POLICE FORCE

Will Live With Brother, Francis, Who Is Member of Fire Department In Brooklyn.

Henry J. McCann, of 9 Cross street, may become a member of the New York Police Department. He plans to study for the work and take the necessary examination. McCann went to New York Thursday. Until he finishes training for police work, McCann plans to take advantage of whatever work presents itself. He will live with his brother, Francis, whose home is in Brooklyn. Francis served for several years as a policeman but now is a member of the fire department.

Henry McCann is a graduate of Manchester High and also attended Grove City College. He is a basketball, baseball and tennis player of considerable ability. He hopes to play basketball this winter in and around New York City.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

SEEK PART TIME WORK FOR STUDENTS IN HIGH

Several Have Already Signed For Assistance; Helped Over 100 Last Year.

The high school through the Department of Vocational Guidance is again ready to assist boys and girls in obtaining part time work. Twenty-nine girls and twenty boys have already registered as being desirous of obtaining such positions. The girls are willing to do such work as taking care of children, housework, waiting on tables or part-time office or store work. The boys will take care of lawns, rake leaves, wash cars, take care of furnaces, shovel snow or do part time office or store work.

Anyone who has such work to be done may secure a boy or girl to do it by calling the High School any school day before three o'clock. This employment service together with the efforts made to place the graduates can be of great value to employers. Instead of 100 odd assorted applicants for a single position, an employer through this service of the High School may interview a small number of applicants selected because they fit the specifications demanded by the job.

Every effort is being made by the high school authorities to make this employment service cooperate with other local unemployment relief agencies. Pupils who have registered from homes where neither father or mother are working are placed on a preferred list and will be given the first opportunity for work.

Last year this service was able to help 125 boys and girls to get work of some nature. Thursday and Friday during some of the study periods when large groups of students were not attending classes, pupils were sent to the assembly hall and there under the direction of Albert Pearson were given a voice test. The test lasted but a few minutes and consisted merely of singing first up the scale and then down. When finished the part which the student could sing the best was assigned to him. This test was given in order that the sopranos, altos, etc. will be seated in assembly together. This will not mean that the classes will be separated. The seniors will sit across the front as usual.

The first social hour for the students of the main building was held yesterday in the assembly hall. Couples danced to the radio and Victrola and although some of the records were not the very latest, they served their purpose.

Principal Quimby was the guest speaker at a meeting of the Grange in North Coventry Thursday. His topic was "Cooperation of Students and Parents." Superintendent Levi T. Garrison and twenty-two local teachers were among those present.

TOWN GETS NOTICE OF LIGHT RATE HEARING

Petition Of Taxpayers League To Be Heard By P. U. C. On September 26.

Formal notice of a hearing in the test case brought by the Taxpayer's League of this town against the Manchester Electric Company has been received by the Town Clerk. The certificate states that "in the matter of Mathias Spiess and others, alleging that the rates and charges of the Manchester Electric Company are unreasonable," the petition for a hearing before the Public Utilities Commission has been signed by other Manchester users of the Manchester Electric service.

The petition as drawn by the Taxpayer's League and which will have its preliminary hearing Monday, September 26 is as follows:
"We the undersigned patrons of the Manchester Electric Company respectfully petition that you order the Manchester Electric Company to reduce the rates which it charges us for electricity, and to change its rate schedule so as to cease making unreasonable discriminations between those of us who live in larger houses and those of us who live in smaller houses.

"The rates charged by the Manchester Electric Company are unreasonable. The charges made by the Manchester Electric Company are unreasonable. The rate structure maintained by the Manchester Electric Company is unreasonable.

"If you will set a date for a hearing on this matter we shall present such material facts as are known to us at that time.

"As all the pertinent facts are in the peculiar knowledge and possession of the Manchester Electric Company, we further petition that the Company be asked to justify its rates and rate structure, to bring in its books and accounts, and to have present at the hearing such of its officers and employees as may be competent and proper to explain its books, accounts, rates and rate structure."

The Public Utilities Commission held a preliminary hearing on June 2, for the purpose of assigning the petition for a formal hearing. The date was set for September 19, later being changed upon subsequent request to Monday, September 26, at 10 a. m.

The hearing will be held on the latter date in the office of the Public Utilities Commission, Room 506, State Office Building, 165 Capitol Avenue, Hartford. The notice of the hearing is signed by R. C. Schneider, Secretary of the Public Utilities Commission.

ADVERTISE IN THE HERALD—IT PAYS

What people are talking about these days

"Want a System?" HERE'S ONE!

"When Congress undertook to balance the national budget last summer, we all thought it was a pretty good move, didn't we?"

"Well, what's a good system for the government, I say, is a good system for the governed—for you and me.

"Figure up expenses. Figure up income. Then don't let yourself spend any more than you know is coming in. Most of us can just as well live within our income—and live just as well while we're doing it."

Carry this budget system a little further, and apply it to your estate plans for your family. Set up Trust Funds under your will. Then your heirs will receive regular income and be able to arrange their expenditures with certainty and peace of mind.
