DAVIS HELD ONLY AN HONORARY POST

ground that there was no proof that the letters actually had been made and on two others on the ground that their receipt was acknowledged to reserve ruling until redirect by persons other than Davis.

The government asked the court's permission to the introduction of the letters, Margiotti said: "We would like to have the government volumes of the Moose Magazine explain its purpose in offering these."

"I'll explain right now," said Treadwell. "Just a minute," Margiotti stopped him, "I would prefer to discuss this out of the presence of the jury."

A conference was called before the judge's bench out of the jury's hearing. The defense allowed nine of the letters without objection. Those to which they demurred had been acknowledged by John Melke, former secretary to Davis.

After the conference before the bench the questioning of Stewart was resumed by Margiotti. "Mr. Stewart, to whom are you responsible for the publication of the Moose Magazine?" he asked.

"To the executive committee," he replied, naming its members. "Are you responsible in any way to Mr. Davis?"

"No." "Why do you write those letters to Mr. Davis?" "I report to the executive committee through Mr. Davis. It was an established custom before I became editor."

He said he was not required to follow advice from Davis, but that he would. "Merely Honorary" "Isn't it a fact that Mr. Davis' position as director general is merely honorary?"

"I would take it as such." "I report to the executive committee through Mr. Davis. It was an established custom before I became editor."

At one point Stewart launched into a lengthy statement on Davis' relation to the lodge. "He subscribed to a clipping service, encouraged members to come to his office and kept wholly in touch with the affairs of the order," Margiotti cut him off.

"You are making your statement too long," he said. "Name An Inspiration" Stewart was asked if Davis' name was used with authority in the magazine. He replied that he did not have authority to use the name, but added:

"Mr. Davis' name is and always has been an inspiration to any Moose."

Margiotti drew from Stewart's assertion that during the past three years, because of political activity, Davis has paid little attention to the Moose Magazine or Loyal Order of Moose.

Stewart admitted that he wrote half of all the editorials in the Moose magazine which were signed by Davis.

Margiotti asked: "Isn't it a fact that in the past three years Mr. Davis has actually written no articles for the magazine?"

"I would say it is a fact," he said. He testified that John Melke wrote some of the editorials appearing under Davis' "byline." He said Davis' name was used to lend color among Moose readers, to give the editorial "standing."

Margiotti asked Stewart if he drew material for the "Davis" editorials from speeches made by the Senator or from newspaper reports of his speeches.

"Unquestionably, to a degree," he answered. Treadwell resumed cross-examination: "Mr. Stewart you said you were responsible to the executive committee."

"Yes." "It's a member of the executive committee told you to do something you would do it?"

"Perhaps." "What do you mean 'perhaps'?" "I would use my judgment."

"Mr. Davis was a member of the executive committee wasn't he?" "No."

"Well if the by-laws said he was a member would you still say that he was not?" "I presume he may be an ex-officio member."

"Well is he a member?" "Not a Member" "To the best of my knowledge he is not."

"I would say it is a fact that Mr. Davis' position as director general is merely honorary?" "An that is as true as anything you have said this morning?"

When the government attempted to question Stewart on his testimony before the Grand Jury the defense objected.

"I feel we have the right to show that this witness is unfriendly to the government," said Treadwell. "The court was inclined to sustain the objection because Stewart was not a defense witness."

Treadwell outlined the specific questions he wished to ask and the court allowed a transcript of the Grand Jury proceeding to be marked for evidence. The prosecutor turned away from this line of questioning, however, and led Stewart back over the statements of his cross-examination.

Stewart asserted he had "very seldom, if ever" made any oral reports to Davis on the contents of the magazine. A short recess was ordered at this point.

Treadwell resumed redirect examination of Stewart after the recess. The witness said he recollected that Davis made specific suggestions for changes in the Moose Magazine during the past three years.

Treadwell then read a letter from Davis dated March 24, 1930, in which Davis said that the paper used for the magazine was not up to standard. "The letter instructed Stewart to see that the paper contract was fulfilled."

Running At A Loss Another letter dated April 2, 1930, instructed Stewart: "Do not emphasize that Mooseheart has been running at a loss for a number of years." A letter dated July 19 "hoped" that Stewart would play up the mid-winter conference. Another of July 29 instructed him to print part of Davis' Fourth of July speech.

"Now," said the prosecutor, "that's four instances in 1930 alone in which Davis gave specific instructions in connection with the magazine. Doesn't that help your recollection?"

Stewart replied that he didn't remember every instance. "Stewart acknowledged to Treadwell that "some" of the editorials signed by Davis, but written by him, were submitted to Davis before they were published.

Presenting six more letters from Davis, Treadwell said: "So we now have twelve instances in which Senator Davis made suggestions for the magazine?" "Yes," Stewart agreed.

Stewart was excused from the stand at 11:35 a. m. (E. S. T.) and the government called Perry A. Shanor, dictator of the New York Lodge, No. 15, of the Moose.

Shanor said he also was one of the governors of the Supreme Lodge. Also, he said, he formerly was a member of the Supreme Forum of the Supreme Lodge.

He said he entered into an organization arrangement with Senator Davis in 1918, and a later arrangement in 1919 by which he received money for organization work through Fred W. Jones.

Charles H. Tuttle, chief of defense counsel, objected, but was overruled, on all of the questions relating to the organization arrangement. Shanor acknowledged that he signed a contract with Theodore Miller and Bernard McGuire, alleged promoters of the lottery relating to the 1930 charity ball.

Attempts to question him on the contract were blocked because it antedated the conspiracy charged in the indictment against Davis.

Through Shanore the government introduced and identified the alleged lottery tickets or the charity ball. Shanor testified that he received a book of tickets.

"The tickets for your lodge were the same for all except that the name of your lodge and the date of your ball were printed in?" asked Treadwell. "Yes," replied Shanor. Court recessed at 11:55 a. m. (E. S. T.) until 1:00 p. m. (E. S. T.) for lunch.

The afternoon session got under way promptly. The testimony of Shanor was interrupted so that the government might place Matthew Fichette of Clyde, N. Y., on the stand.

Treadwell explained that because of illness in Fichette's family it was imperative that he testify immediately and return home. Fichette identified alleged lottery tickets received by him in 1931. He said he was a member of Clyde Lodge No. 1675.

He said he received the tickets by express from New York. "When did you hear about the 1931 charity ball?" Treadwell asked.

"When Vincent Johnson called me up." Tuttle objected to this line, but the prosecutor told the court that he would show Johnson to be a salesman for the propagation department of the Moose.

Fichette said Johnson addressed the lodge to urge the charity ball, saying that officers of the Moose were backing it, including the director-general.

"So we agreed to put it on," he said. "Did you sign a contract with Johnson?" asked the prosecutor. "Yes."

One of Archie Hayes' Trotters Captured On Main Street By Jacob Wunglas This Morning.

A well groomed horse with muscle developments indicating he was a high strung creature, came trotting down Main street at 9:15 this morning. No harness was attached except a bridle. As the horse approached Park street, Jacob Wunglas ran out into the road and caught the runaway.

A few minutes later Archie Hayes arrived and took possession of the animal, which was one of the horses that Mr. Hayes has had on the race track this year. The horse was not traveling fast when caught. The animal nevertheless attracted much attention for a few minutes. The trouble was caused when the halter slipped out of the hand of the man who was leading the horse back to the stables on Farnall place.

George Pilgras, New York Yankee hurler, already has doubled his seven victories of 1931 when he was handicapped by an operation for appendicitis.

"Nature in the Raw is seldom MILD"

OUTLAW OF THE JUNGLE

"Nature in the Raw"—as portrayed by the great animal painter, Paul Bransom... inspired by the leopard's fierce fighting power and relentless hunt for prey which makes him the terror of every beast of the African jungle.

—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes

They are not present in Luckies... the mildest cigarette you ever smoked

WB buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

"It's toasted"
That package of mild Luckies

"If a man write a bitter book, preach a bitter sermon, or make a bitter man's-trap than his neighbor, he is build his house in the woods; the world will make a better path to his door." —RALPH WALDO EMERSON.

LET US KEEP TAB
Governor Roosevelt, who a few weeks ago was willing enough to attack the Hoover policy of having the Reconstruction Finance Corporation come to the relief of the railroads, now points with something almost like pride to the workings of that policy, as indicating how right he is in his contention that the government must get "back of the railroads."

That, by the way, is something of a family trait; the famous Teddy became famous as much through his willingness to grab some other fellow's idea and ballyhoo it as something brand new as through the development of new ideas of his own.

GOOSE AND GANDER
When the Shanghai Chinese last winter boycotted Japanese goods, to the effect of the Japanese military invasion of last February and March, there was a marked tendency on the part of a good many Americans of the international type, and on the part of some few newspapers and high-brow magazines, to assume that the Japanese were to some extent justified in using force to break the boycott.

WATERWAYS PLAN CALLED WASTEFUL

Billions Spent For Benefit To Foreign Country Says Speaker.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 20.—(AP)—William J. Flynn, vice chairman of the Albany Port District Commission, in an address for delivery today before the New York State Waterways Association, said neither cheap electricity nor economical transportation could be expected from the St. Lawrence river.

Flynn's address opened direct discussion of the St. Lawrence power and canalization project, which the waterways body is fighting.

Flynn said the St. Lawrence proposal called for the expenditure of hundreds of millions, possibly billions of dollars for a seaway 90 percent of whose channel and whose terminal lay within a foreign country. He said the St. Lawrence would provide a seaway for seven months a year at the longest and that during this period it would work hardship on the railroads which were expected to furnish transportation the rest of the time. It could best be outlined, he said, in this way.

Outlines Project

"Private capital will be required to build and maintain facilities to take care of traffic from the Great Lakes and the northwest for five months of the year, while public funds will be provided to take this traffic and commerce out of our country and into a foreign route for the other seven months of the year our private capital to remain idle during this open season. No railroad company can afford to maintain roadbed, rolling stock and terminal equipment to provide peak operation for a five months period and remain idle or nearly so for the remaining seven months."

Time Now To Save

Flynn said this was no time to spend money on "foreign" projects, that development of the all-American route across New York state not only would open what he called the shortest and cheapest route from the Great Lakes to the sea, but would give employment to many Americans in need of jobs.

He said the northwest had been deluded by estimates of cheap grain rates to Europe, ocean vessels, he told the convention, would not be able to compete for lake transportation because the lake steamers were built much more cheaply and the ocean carriers could not be expected to go beyond Montreal. That meant, he said, that grain would still have to be trans-shipped.

He proposed that Canada develop the St. Lawrence route and the United States deepen and widen the New York barge canal so that full use could be made of its possibilities.

CHANGE DEPARTMENTS AT WATKINS' STORE

Alterations Following Big Sale Include New Bedding Department On First Floor.

Alterations and improvements are going ahead rapidly at Watkins Brothers since the close of their recent $175,000 disposal sale. Persons who have visited the local store lately have been enthusiastic in their comment on the improvements.

Bedding which was formerly shown on the second floor along with the bedroom furniture, is now displayed in the section formerly devoted to radios and electrical appliances on the main floor. The new bedding shop is a model of attractiveness, each mattress being shown on a twin size poster bed, complete with bedspread, with furniture, lamps and accessories used to dress up the department.

Having each mattress shown on a separate bed, makes it simple for customers to choose, and with three nationally known lines, Simmons, Burton-Dixie and Red Cross, a wide selection is possible.

BIG CHURCH MERGER

London, Sept. 20.—(AP)—The United Methodist church, largest Protestant organization in the world, was created this afternoon at Albert Hall by a ceremony which attracted 10,000 representatives from many nations to witness the union of the three branches of the church.

The Duke of York, representing the King, welcomed the delegates.

"This union of Methodist churches marks the opening of a new era in the life of one of the greatest spiritual forces of the modern world," he said. "Indeed, I doubt if there is any movement which had made more rapid strides since its inception in the eighteenth century than has Methodism."

"Today's ceremony is historic. The Duchess of York and I join in the prayers and good wishes of the King. May you go on from strength to strength in the service of Christ until the victory over evil is won."

VERNON GRANGE FAIR SATURDAY, OCTOBER 1

Annual Event To Continue Through Saturday Afternoon and Evening.

The annual fair of Vernon Grange, one of the biggest events of the organization of the season, will be held on Saturday afternoon and evening, October 1, at Grange hall, Vernon Center. The committee in charge of the various booths, supper, dance, and other features are working hard to make the event a complete success. There will be a program of athletic sports for the young people, as well as the older folks.

Prizes will be awarded for the 4-H club exhibits which will be held in a large tent outside the hall, which will be of great interest to the people of the community. A free entertainment program is being planned by the committee later in the afternoon. A supper will be served from 6 until 8 o'clock.

At 8 p. m., dancing will feature in the auditorium of Grange Hall. Many members from surrounding Granges will be in attendance. Cash door prizes will be given and Buckminster's Orchestra will furnish music.

Contest in Election

For the first time in many years there will be a contest at the town election to be held in October for the membership on the Board of Education of the town of Vernon. Three candidates are elected each year for a three year term. In recent years the Republicans have nominated two candidates and the Democrats only one. In that way there has been no contest. This year the Republicans have nominated Sherwood C. Cummings and Miss Marion Butler. Mr. Cummings has served several terms, while Miss Butler has served one term. The Democrats have renominated Arthur T. Blaisell, who has been on the board for many years, have also nominated Dr. T. F. O'Loughlin, a former member of the board.

Vernon Grange Active

At the regular meeting of Vernon Grange held in Grange Hall at Vernon Center on Friday night more than one hundred members were present. The program was presented by the various 4-H clubs of Vernon, with Miss Elizabeth Grover in charge. There was a social hour and refreshments. Guests were present from Shelton Grange. Mrs. Ina S. Goldspink gave a most interesting talk on the Juvenile Grange. The committee for the month of October was announced as follows:

by the Master, William Johnson; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Newmarker, Mr. and Mrs. George R. On Friday afternoon, the young man, accompanied by Miss Mariette Fitch of this city is expected to give a recital at the summer home of Miss Miriam Underwood at Tolland before a large group of people. On Sunday they appeared in concert at Ellington.

Union Church Activities

Next Sunday will be Rally Day at Union Congregational church and it is expected a large number of members will participate for the morning service. Special exercises will be held by the children. Bibles and certificates of promotion will be distributed. This is one of the most important services of the church year and at this time all children and members gather to commence the winter activities. Most all have now returned from vacations and are ready to start the activities of the season. Many of the organizations are planning special events this month as follows:

The annual Cradle Roll party of Union Congregational church will be held in the church dining rooms on Saturday afternoon of this week. The money was raised by Mrs. Lester Martin.

A change in the constitution and by-laws of the organization has been made necessary by the change in the date of the fiscal year. A vote was taken to this effect at the last regular meeting.

The Auxiliary has offered its services to keep in repair the American flag which flies in Central Park and will await word from the city government in regard to the offer.

Election of officers will take place at the next meeting on October 28. There will be a social hour and the following committee will be in charge: Mrs. William Plunder, Miss Emma Batz, Mrs. Cechowald, Mrs. Lottie Blonstein, Mrs. Anna Kynoch, Mrs. Vernon Sloan, Mrs. William Gayton, Mrs. William Poehnhart, Mrs. Max Rothe.

NEW YORK ACTRESS COMMITS SUICIDE

"Peg" Entwistle, Penniless Following Failure To Make Good, Leaps To Death.

Hollywood, Sept. 20.—(AP)—It might be a different story if Lillian Millicent "Peg" Entwistle, once a well known New York actress, had been a success in Hollywood. There would be high floral offerings, crowds begging for admittance to the funeral parlors and celebrities of the screen present to pay their last respects.

But Peg Entwistle was not a success. Police listed her today as a suicide at the age of 24 years.

In the small undertaking parlor where the body lay there were not many flowers, and only a few friends were expected to attend the final rites.

Some time during the week-end, Miss Entwistle had climbed to the highest spot in the Hollywood hills and leaped to her death from the top of a high electrical sign.

Miss Entwistle, after success in New York where she was a Theater Guild actress, came to Hollywood last April. She had supported Billie Burke, widow of Florence Ziegfeld, in a stage play here and seemed assured of success in a film career. But disappointment followed disappointment, and penniless, she ended her life.

Success In Canning

Is Assured With An ELECTRIC RANGE

Canning is successful if the article canned "keeps"—has a properly cooked appearance and a natural flavor and odor. You can accomplish this and make all your canning successful when you do it in an electric range. Temperature control is invaluable in oven canning. Proper temperature can be carefully regulated and controlled in an Electric Range.

Preserves, jams and marmalades prepared in the electric oven are of a superior quality—plump, tender fruit in a heavy syrup with full natural flavor—made possible by slowly heating the fruit which draws enough juice to melt the sugar, making a heavy syrup and by using a low temperature for evaporating without damage of burning the sugar.

RAPS FARM BOARD

Says Its Plan of Fighting Markets Puts Down Prices On Farm Products.

French Lick, Ind., Sept. 20.—(AP)—Peter B. Carey, president of the Chicago Board of Trade, assailed the Farm Board and its chairman, James C. Stone, in a prepared address today before the annual convention of the Grain and Feed Dealers' National Association. He declared that continuation of the Farm Board, or its equivalent will bring "a farm peasantry, politically controlled and subjected to all the wrongs suffered by the toilers in the lands of eastern Europe." Charging that Chairman Stone is "a trouble maker," Carey said "any fair minded taxpayer would feel that Mr. Stone should be removed from the government payroll and publicly reprimanded for his misconduct as an agitator and an exploiter of agriculture at a time when the exchanges and all other lines of business are cooperating with the government and doing their utmost to lift the country out of the most disastrous depression in history."

OUTLAWS, OFFICERS KILLED IN BATTLE

Woman's Death Makes Sixth Since Saturday In Attempt To Catch Four Convicts.

Muskogee, Okla., Sept. 20.—(AP)—The slaying of a woman by highwaymen two weeks ago has caused five more deaths—two officers and three alleged outlaws—in the sparsely settled hill country of eastern Oklahoma. Webster Reese, a deputy sheriff, and Bud McClain, who officers said drive the car in which were men suspected of the slaying of Mrs. Susie Sharp, were killed at dawn Saturday. Sunday's encounter between officers and men suspected not only of the slaying of the woman but also of Reese, brought death to Andrew McGinnis, a special deputy sheriff, and to Ky Carlisle and Troy Love, escaped convicts.

New Principle of Home Heating

The efficiency and economy of oil burning that has prevailed in giant industrial installations is now available for even the smallest domestic furnace through the development of a new automatic oil burner for the home by the research department of the Petroleum Heat and Power Company. This will result in the saving of millions of dollars in heating costs to the home owners of America.

Missing Link Discovered By Savant in Greenland

New York, Sept. 20.—(AP)—A new chapter in evolution is seen by scientists here today if the four-legged "missing link" fossil fishes found by Dr. Laugel Koch in Greenland prove to be as ancient as he is reported to estimate. From Copenhagen he reported last night finding thousands of Stegocephali, creatures with frog-like heads and lizard-like bodies. He was quoted as estimating their origin in Devonian times, or about 300,000,000 years ago. Stegocephali have been found all over the world, all of them evidences of evolution slowly changing a fish into a land-crawling creature, but only one in all the thousands previously found had been traced back definitely as far as Devonian time.

BUTLER OUTLINES LIQUOR CONTROL ACT

Educator Would Fashion It After Quebec Law; Favor Traffic Liquor Authority.

New York, Sept. 20.—A State Liquor Traffic Authority to control the manufacture, transportation and sale of liquor, following the termination of prohibition, was proposed yesterday by Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, in an appeal to "public opinion throughout the length and breadth of the land." Dr. Butler would fashion the State Liquor Traffic Control Authority in accordance with the general provisions of the Province of Quebec Act. He would have it incorporated and its members appointed by the governor. He proposes that the state be divided into administrative districts continuous with either judicial or state senatorial districts and that each district have a central storage warehouse and a local administrative officer of high competence.

Highway Commissioner John A. Macdonald today announced plans for the second important step in the construction of the new Merritt Highway between Stratford and the New York State Line at Greenwich, the building of the bridge which will carry the auxiliary Post Road over the railroad tracks passing through the Stratford meadow.

At the same time, Commissioner Macdonald announced six other bridge and road building projects, the road improvement work totaling slightly more than eleven miles in all. The Merritt Highway bridge is to be built under Federal Aid, while the other jobs will be State Aid, combination State Aid and Town Aid. The Town Aid work will consist entirely of gravel surfacing.

Scaled bids on all of the seven projects will be received from contractors at the highway department headquarters in the State Office Building, Hartford, until 2:00 p. m. on Monday, September 26.

The new jobs as announced by Commissioner Macdonald today are as follows:

SMALL BOY IS KILLED WHEN STRIKERS BATTLE

South River, N. J., Sept. 20.—(AP)—Authorities here today in an investigation today of labor disorders in the needle industry here which resulted in the fatal shooting of a nine-year-old boy and injury to at least 10 other persons. Forty private detectives who clashed with a crowd of workers late yesterday were held in jail for questioning. They were taken to the jail shortly after midnight following the arrival of state troopers who dispersed a crowd of 3,000 that had held the private detectives and 13 policemen virtual captives in the Town Hall over six hours. Sheriff Barney Cannon said Prosecutor Douglas M. Hicks would question them about the fight and the shooting of Walter Rejek, who died in South Amboy hospital of a bullet wound. Arrival of the troopers climaxed a long siege between the rival forces. The outbreak began when workers apparently were angered by the presence of the detectives. The plant had opened yesterday morning, with the approval of leaders of the workers, after a strike called more than three weeks ago.

BLAST INJURES TWO

New Haven, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Two persons were injured at 8 a. m. today in an explosion which blew out the front and rear of a two story frame dwelling on Liberty street and shattered windows of nearby buildings. Adolph Vitale, 38, one of those injured, was arrested on a technical charge of idleness as police began an investigation to determine the cause of the explosion. Officials said they planned to search the cellar for a still after clearing the debris away. Sixteen persons fled the building as flames swept through it. Vitale and Mrs. Rose Benuti, 50, were treated at New Haven hospital for minor injuries. Patrolman Edward Carney was standing across the street when the explosion occurred. He summoned firemen and then aided occupants of the dwelling to the street.

TYPHOID SEASON AT HAND, WARNS DEPT. OF HEALTH

September and October Worst Months—Precaution Urged Despite Decline in Recent Years.

The typhoid season is on—at least statistical tables show that in Connecticut the greatest incidence of the disease occurs in September and October, the State Department of Health warned in its weekly bulletin today. Incidence tables by months since 1918 reveal that more cases were reported in September in 1918 and in 1920 than for the entire year in 1928, 1929 or 1931. With rare exception, the incidence of typhoid fever reaches its height in this state in August, September or October. The bulletin says: "While typhoid fever is much less prevalent than formerly, it is still worth while to bear in mind the necessity for precautionary measures. It is important to adopt procedures for preventing the spread of infection from any person who is even slightly ill. In a Connecticut town where there has been little or no typhoid fever in recent years, one member of a family recently contracted the disease and before a diagnosis could be made three other members of the family had become infected. This experience serves to illustrate the importance of precautionary measures to prevent contract infection. "Among other worth while precautionary measures may be men-

ROCKNE SIX SPONSORED AND GUARANTEED BY STUDEBAKER $585 INSTEAD OF LOSING MONEY WE MADE SALES! LAST month we made a startling offer. We agreed to pay $10 to anyone who would buy any other new car in the Rockne's price class within one week after taking out a Rockne for one hour's trial drive. Many said that our loss would be tremendous. Yet, although we've given hundreds of one hour demonstrations of the Rockne, we've had to pay out scarcely any $10 rewards! After driving the Rockne one hour very few have been willing to put their money into any other low-priced car. Why don't you do yourself the justice of trying the Rockne? It's an absolute sensation, this aerodynamic marvel of an automobile—this car that brought quality into the low-priced field. Every closed body wired for radio. WALTER A. EXPLAINS BALANCE NEEDED BY TRADE

Minneapolis Miller Opposes Newest Form of Farm Relief Recently Proposed.

French Lick, Ind., Sept. 20.—(AP)—Measures which he said would help maintain a balance between agriculture and industry were named here today by Sydney Anderson, Minneapolis miller, in opposing the voluntary domestic allotment plan, latest form of farm relief. Mr. Anderson was a speaker at the convention of the Grain and Feed Dealers National Association here. "If agriculture is producing more than can be sold and consumed at a fair return to agriculture, substantially equal to returns obtained for similar employment of capital and labor in industry, one or more of the following measures seems indicated," Mr. Anderson said. "First, reducing production to an amount which can be purchased and consumed at a profitable price. Second, expanding foreign markets. Third, increasing industrial purchasing power through increased wages and income. Fourth, continuance of the trend from the farms into industrial employment, thus decreasing the

SHOOTS WINSTED MAN FOR BEATING HIM UP

Torrington, Sept. 20.—(AP)—

Arthur Del Nero, 21, a Litchfield tree surgeon, is being held without bond at the county jail in Litchfield, and Paul Julian of Winsted, is being held at the Torrington lockup as a material witness, pending the outcome of the injuries received by John L. Sullivan, Winsted truckman, who is at the Charlotte Hungerford hospital here with a bullet wound in his abdomen as the result of a shooting which occurred last night on the Torrington-Litchfield road. The shooting is said to have followed a fight between Sullivan and Del Nero at the Del Nero home. Immediately after the shooting, Del Nero returned to Litchfield and notified his attorney, William M. Foord. He admitted the shooting and turned the gun over to the State police, officers said. He claimed that Sullivan beat him up last night and that he asked the Torrington police to intercept the truck and arrest Sullivan. Del Nero then started for Torrington, he said, and unexpectedly over-took the truck. He stopped and the argument was resumed in the road. Sullivan's condition was reported at the Charlotte Hungerford hospital today as fairly good.

After the operation hospital attendants reported that his condition "was good," although he remained in an unconscious condition. General Lejeune, superintendent of V. M. I. for the last three years and a former commandant of the United States Marine Corps, lost his balance and in falling struck his head against a pile of wood. He was accompanied at the time by Colonel William Couper, business executive of V. M. I. General Lejeune is 65 years of age.

SIX RULES CHANGES DEVISED TO MAKE FOOTBALL SAFER

(The accompanying article is the first in a series of seven explaining changes in the football rules. What effect they may have on the playing of the game and to what extent they will be visible to spectators also are discussed.)

BY CHESTER L. SMITH NEA Service Special Writer

Every change in the 1932 football rules was brought about by a desire to make the game safer for the players.

The season of 1931 had produced an unprecedented number of deaths and serious injuries. Despite the fact that an investigation proved that a very small percentage had occurred in games in which the participants were in good physical condition and well drilled in fundamental football.

The result of the committee's deliberation was the most drastic alteration in the code since football was taken out of the "mass play" era, more than two decades ago.

In brief, the rule changes are: 1—On a kick-off or free kick, five players of the receiving side must remain within five yards of their restraining line until the kick is actually made.

2—A player who has left the game may be sent back as a substitute at any time except in the same quarter in which he has been removed.

3—Protective equipment worn by a player must be padded on the outside. Hard knee and elbow pads are not allowed, soft knee pads are made compulsory.

4—When any part of a player carrying the ball, except his hands or feet, touches the ground, the ball automatically becomes dead.

5—The flying tackle and flying block are prohibited.

6—Players on defense are permitted to use only the palms of their hands above the shoulders of their opponents to ward or push them off in an attempt to get at the ball or the man with the ball.

Striking an opponent in any manner is banned.

About thirty interested fans and players were present at the meeting and the first practice session was to be held this afternoon, with the next session Thursday evening at 6 o'clock.

HOLLAND AND HYDE TO CLASH TONIGHT

Hartford's Best Favored To Eliminate Local Tennis Champ; Others Playing.

Jessie will meet Wiley at 4:30 o'clock, Bissell will play Swain at 5:30 o'clock and Holland will meet Hyde at 5:30 o'clock, all matches to be played at the Tumblebrook Country Club today.

Manchester tennis lovers await with keen interest the outcome of the Ty Holland-Hyde Hyde third annual Hartford county tennis tournament late this afternoon.

It was Hyde who came to Manchester and won the title in an exhibition match two years ago, winning easily in straight sets.

Incidentally Hyde is the only player who has been able to smash Holland's irritating lob with any degree of consistency.

And so Hyde is again favored to win tonight's match.

Paul Jesians plays Lee Wiley, another of Hartford's leading players, at the Tumble Brook Country Club late this afternoon.

BUSINESS PICK-UP HELPS ATLANTIC CITY

Better Sentiment Reflected in Increasing Arrivals At "World's Playground."

Improving sentiment and increased business activity through the East have already been evidenced at Atlantic City, "the World's Playground," in mounting arrivals at the hotels and more inquiries for rates and other information, according to A. C. Andrews, president of Colton Manor. Mr. Andrews states that the newest and most modern hotels, such as Colton Manor, offering the finest accommodations at rates that are in keeping with the times, have been first to feel the benefits of the business improvement.

Business approaching capacity has been noted at Colton Manor on numerous occasions during recent weeks, and Paul Aucher, manager, foresees a heavy fall and winter demand for accommodations. Many persons anticipating higher rates as business picks up and commodity costs continue to advance, are hastening to take advantage of a vacation in Atlantic City at the present moderate tariff, Mr. Aucher states.

Y BOWLING LEAGUE BEGINS PLAY OCT. 10

Eight Teams To Compose League—Seven Already Picked; Seven Men On Team.

The Manchester Y. M. C. A. bowling league will get under way on October 10 and will be composed of eight teams. There are at present seven teams entered known as the Bon Ami, Brunner's Market, Community Filling Station, Keller's Klothers, Shearer's Bulks, Gibson's Garage and Pinhurst. One more is to be added, to make the eight teams. It is proposed to get a schedule completed within the week after the eighth team has been selected.

There will be twenty-one weeks of playing, the games to be played on Monday and Wednesday evenings of each week. The captains of each team are to select seven men for their team and the seven members so selected shall not be allowed to play on any other team. The names selected by each team shall be considered members of the team making the first selection and by having seven members it is expected that at all games there will be the necessary five on hand to bowl.

The officers of the club are: Charles Brunner, president; Fred Harter, secretary and David Hamilton, treasurer.

FLIER WOULD WED MRS. KEITH-MILLER

Keith-Miller received one on the same warrant.

The marriage date, set for the "earliest possible moment" by Lancaster in his statement to Forrester, is contingent on the British pilot obtaining a divorce from a wife in England.

Captain Lancaster said he understood Mrs. Lancaster had applied for a divorce and that this may have been granted without his knowledge," Forrester said.

Mrs. Keith-Miller was not present when Lancaster told Forrester of his plans for the future with the woman with whom he flew from England to Australia five years ago.

Mrs. Keith-Miller, according to the Labor Department agent, is in New York disposing of her apartment and furniture there.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

FRESHMEN HOME ROOM ELECTIONS ARE HELD

Not To Have Separate Student Council in Franklin Building, It Is Decided.

Vice Principal Arthur Illing announced today that he intended to follow out his plan of last year in regard to a Student Council. In some previous years the chairman and secretary of each home room in the Franklin building made up a Student Council, separate from one at the main building. At these meetings they decided questions which were brought to their attention regarding the activities of their school. Last year, however, Mr. Illing abandoned this form of school government and called committee meetings at various intervals during the year according to what the business might cover. If it was about the attendance then the Attendance Committee from each home room met with him and so on. This plan was found to be much more satisfactory and will be continued this year.

As in the main building the Freshmen and Sophomores in the Franklin building discussed the qualifications and duties of each officer before the nominations took place. Interesting discussions on the question "Should one vote for himself? If so, why and if not why not?" took place in the various class rooms.

Following are the names of those students who will hold the responsibility for the positions of chairman, secretary and Somanhis agent for this year: Room 11, Chairman, Michael Huber; Somanhis agent, John Weiss. Room 12, Chairman, Harold Dumas; secretary, Leo Johnson; Somanhis agent, Joseph Donahue. Room 13, Chairman, Richard Simmons; secretary, Pearl Schenck; Somanhis agent, Walter Smith.

Room 14, Chairman, Andrew Fiedler; secretary, Russell Holmes; Somanhis agent, David Douglas.

Room 15, Chairman, Fred Delaney; secretary, Margaret Carlson; Somanhis agent, George Fischer. Room 16, Chairman, Gordon Weir; secretary, Doris Whitehouse; Somanhis agent, Roland Valliant.

Room 17, Chairman, Fred Hansen; secretary, Enes Johnson. Room 18, Chairman, Daniel Shea; secretary, Anna McNell; Somanhis agent, Alfred Pontcell.

Room 21, Chairman, Mary Alice Andrews; secretary, Madeline Bell; Somanhis agent, Julia Aceto.

Room 22, Chairman, Otto Cook; secretary, Helen Copeland; Somanhis agent, Robert Crocker.

Room 23, Chairman, Francis Gaspar; secretary, W. Humphrey; Somanhis agent, T. Hagenow.

Room 25, Chairman, Teddy Nelson; secretary, Bernice Marsh; Somanhis agent, James Mahoney.

Room 24, Chairman, Lillian Klinkhamer; secretary, Robert Janicki; Somanhis agent, Stanley Krajevski.

Room 25, Chairman, Prescilla Pillsbury; secretary, Faith Owens; Somanhis agent, Avis Palmer.

COLLINS DRIGGS' MUSIC REACHES 4 CONTINENTS

Fan Mail He Receives Indicates He Has Been Heard In Australia, Chile and Ireland.

Collins Driggs, popular Manchester organist who plays radio programs four days a week in addition to fulfilling a theater contract, gets plenty of fan mail each day and some of his programs have been heard in far off Australia. Mr. Driggs plays for half an hour three mornings and one evening over WTIC at Hartford. The farthest away that his programs have been heard may never be known, but among his fan mail are letters from Ireland, Chile and Australia showing that his playing has been heard in those countries.

The letters which come to the young Manchester organist are of a varied and interesting nature. Some merely are requests that he play certain musical numbers. Some ask all sorts of personal questions such as—"How old are you?" "What do you look like?" "Are you married or single?" and sundry other questions of a somewhat similar nature.

With very few exceptions, Mr. Driggs arranges his own theater programs, though occasionally a syndicated program is purchased. This week he is featuring three old favorites, "The Little Old Church in the Valley," "The Voice in the Old Church Choir" and "In a Monastery Garden." As for radio programs, he says that he plays as many requests as possible and that as for the arrangement, people often seem to like the programs he feels may not be as good as others.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The airplane bird swooped here and there and had real fun up in the air. Brave Windy wasn't frightened 'cause he'd often flown around.

Thought he, I'll let out quite a hoop if this bird starts to loop-loop. I love that sort of stunt, if we stay high up off the ground.

It seemed the bird read Windy's mind. It promptly started out to find a real nice place to pull some stunts. Up, up the strange bird "rose."

And then it looped the loop real fast. As little white clouds whizzed right past, wee Windy shouted, "That was very clever, goodness knows."

"Do it again, I'm not afraid." Another loop was promptly made. While upside-down brave Windy saw the Times, far below.

Thought he, I wish they were with me. They'd be as thrilled as they could be. How much real fun I'm having; those wee lads will never know.

The bird then headed toward the earth and flew for all that it was worth. The speed took Windy's breath away and startled him a bit.

But, when he landed on the ground, the other Times gathered round and heard wee Windy shout "What fun! I'm surely feeling fit!"

Just then they saw a funny sight. The Times ran with all their might to meet some tiny elephants, hitched to a little cart.

"Chied, Copped," goodness knows, they're small! What is that they are trying to haul? They're working hard. Let's help them, or the beasts may fall apart.

And so the Times lent a hand. The soot man said, "Thanks, stand we're hauling the heavy place and taking 'em home!"

"The one big bag is quite enough to make the small beasts push and puff. You lads can have some fun with the mulehays too."

(The end of the story.)

GAS BUGGIES—Those Things WH Happen

SENSE AND NONSENSE

The Present Is Up to You
Forget the things that you have done.
Don't talk of what you mean to do; The past and future are really one. And the present is up to you.

Now is the time to be a man. And to carry your efforts thru. You can win success if anyone can. For the present is up to you.

Excuse It Please. If cream is an aid to beauty, then a lot of girls must be using butter milk.

Woman—And has your baby learned to talk yet?
Friend—My, yes! We're teaching him to keep quiet now.

Some old-fashioned mothers who remember their husband's first kisses now have daughters who can't even remember their first husband.

Mind Reader—Now I have finished your reading—$2 please.
Customer—Sorry, but if you had correctly read my mind when I came in you would have known I didn't have $2 with me today.

Asked about the shape of the world, little Tommy said to his teacher: "I don't know, but my dad said it was pretty flat these days."

Mother—Helen's young man has taken offence at something. Have you said anything to him?
Father—Not a word. I haven't seen him since I mailed him the last electric light bill.

Lots of people wish the government would stop telling them where the per capita circulation of money stands and just hand it out and let them do their own counting.

Things we'd like to know:
The Chorus of George White's Scandals—
How men who figure on being shot to the moon in a rocket plan to come back.

If race horses couldn't run just as well if their names seemed to make a little sense.

Whether all waiters are naturally bad writers, or if they study to become so illegible.

Voice on Telephone—Hello—is Boo there?
Harry P.—Boo who?
Voice on Telephone—Don't cry. Central must have given me the wrong number.

One can tell how long it required him to take his vacation by counting the milk bottles on the back porch.

Suitor—Won't you marry me? I'm earning plenty of money.
Betty Belle—Too bad you don't get it.

Judging from the number of divorces Reno grants, it must be located on the great divide.

Bachelor (dreamily)—Sometimes I yearn for the peace and comfort of married life.
Married Friend—Will, you have nothing on me.

We used to call it getting stuck in the mud, but now they call it beauty clay.

Mrs. Riley (to her husband)—Please match this piece of silk for me when you are down town today, dear. Will you?
Husband (shrewdly)—At the counter where the sweet little blonde works? The one with the soulful eyes.
Mrs. Riley (interrupting)—No. You're too tired to shop for me after your work is done, dear. On second thought I won't bother you.

Some young women toll not, neither do they spin, yet they can weave a spell around any man's heart.

WE THINK YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

Commodity Prices Have Begun To Climb

WE are not prophets... we lay no claim to the ability to see into the future. We are simply merchants and our job is to buy and sell at current market prices, operating as a distributing agent with the greatest efficiency and economy at our command. When commodity prices were dropping, we were quick to bring you the news. The upward trend is now sufficiently marked to justify our action in telling you what is happening. We shall not urge you to buy now on the basis that good merchandise will cost you more in the near future. We think it will... frankly, we do not know. We merely content ourselves with telling you that manufacturers and jobbers in many lines have already notified us of increased prices on merchandise for immediate delivery. If articles to replace the present stocks cost us more, the selling prices must certainly be increased to you correspondingly. We believe that our obligation to you requires this statement of conditions. We place the facts before you as simply as we can. Perhaps they will influence your action... only you have the right to judge.
