

BRITAIN ABROGATES PACT WITH RUSSIA

Tariff Agreement Reached Recently in Canada-Stands In Way of Commercial Treaty With the Soviets.

London, Oct. 18.—(AP)—J. H. Thomas, secretary for Dominions, announced in the House of Commons today that Great Britain has abrogated its commercial treaty with Soviet Russia.

Under Article 21 of the tariff agreement reached at the recent Ottawa Imperial conference, he said, renunciation of the temporary commercial agreement with Russia was made necessary.

This agreement was signed in April, 1930. It gave Russia the privileges of most-favored-nation treatment and therefore, Mr. Thomas explained, it stands in the way of trade prohibitions which might be necessitated by the obligations undertaken at Ottawa.

The Russian charge d'affaires here that Great Britain is serving six months notice of abrogation in accordance with the pact, the Soviet authorities were informed that Great Britain is still anxious to increase its trade with Russia and is ready to enter discussions with that object in view at the earliest possible time.

Article 21 of the Ottawa agreement, to which Mr. Thomas referred, stipulates that the whole arrangement with the dominions is based on the express condition that if either party "is satisfied that any preferences granted on any particular class of commodities are likely to be frustrated by reason of maintenance of prices for such commodities through state action on the part of a foreign country," that government will exercise the powers it has "to prohibit the entry from such foreign country on such commodities for such time as may be necessary to maintain the preferences" granted.

Canada and Australia were particularly concerned during the negotiations at Ottawa that the British government should adopt effective means to prevent resumption of Russian dumping on the wheat market.

It was suggested at the time that abrogation of the British agreement with Russia might be necessary to make the Ottawa agreement effective.

The government benches cheered when Mr. Thomas declared today that the government, having undertaken an obligation to give preferences within the British Commonwealth, must take all steps necessary to see that "no country shall frustrate this obligation by dumping swamped goods in Great Britain."

DEMOCRATS SCORE FORD'S STATEMENT

Auto Magnate Asks His Employees To Help To Re-Elect the President.

Detroit, Oct. 18.—(AP)—The statement issued yesterday by the Ford Motor Company to its employees throughout the country advocating the re-election of President Hoover brought outspoken criticism today from several Michigan Democratic leaders.

The statement said that President Hoover's "efforts to start the country back to work are beginning to show results," and added that "we are convinced that any break in his program would hurt industry and employment."

William A. Comstock, Democratic candidate for governor, speaking at Alpena last night, said "Henry Ford has not always co-operated so well with the Republican Party." He referred to a recent address at Detroit by Secretary Ogden Mills, "Mr. Mills," he said, "told his audience the same thing the Republicans have been telling you for two years, that prosperity was only 60 days away. And on that very same day Ford put through his third wage cut."

"Coercion At Its Worst"

Alfred Debo, chairman of the Democratic state central committee, termed the statement "coercion at its worst, a demagogic partisan appeal."

Horatio J. Abbott, of Ann Arbor, Democratic National committee member, referred to the statement as "an attempt to influence or coerce employees into voting the Republican ticket. It worked well when the men were employed, but will be absolutely futile now. Of the nearly 100,000 former Ford employees, many of whom were taken from the farms only to be turned out into the cold world, but very few are at present employed by that company or any other company."

The Ford statement disclaimed any attempt to "control any man's vote."

ROOSEVELT OFF ON JOURNEY TO SOUTH, MIDWEST

To Be Gone Eight Days and To Travel Through 17 States—Party of 60 On His Special Train.

Paris, Oct. 18.—(AP)—Abbe Patrick Flynn, Franco-Irish pastor of the famous Church of the Madeleine, and well-known to many American visitors to Paris, was consecrated Bishop of Nevers today at Notre Dame Cathedral.

The new bishop served as "dough-boy" in the French army during the World War. His elevation to the bishopric follows that of Cardinals Binet and Liénart, respectively Archbishop of Besancon and Bishop of Lille, who also wore the horizontal uniforms of soldiers during the war.

Bishop Flynn shed his black cassock for the uniform on August 2, 1914, serving first as a buck private stretcher bearer and in the following year as chaplain of the 33rd French Division in the trenches.

Mission To Ireland

He was taken out of the lines to accompany three French bishops on a war-time mission to Ireland, the land of his forbears, shortly afterwards.

When the United States declared war in 1917, Father Flynn became a member of the French high command in France and remained there a year. He has never neglected to celebrate American holidays in his magnificent church, Memorial Day, the Fourth of July and Thanksgiving. Until his death, the late Ambassador Myron T. Herrick, always occupied a seat in the choir stalls on these occasions.

MISSOURI SHERIFF SPOILS LION HUNT

Kills Animals Marooned On Island Before the Real Hunters Arrive.

Commerce, Mo., Oct. 18.—(AP)—Deputy Sheriff Tom Hotchkiss, who killed two young lionesses marooned on a small island in the Mississippi river with a sub-machine gun admitted he didn't get much "kick" out of the shooting.

"Bunks," Hotchkiss said, "it wasn't any trouble at all to shoot 'em. No more than pottin' a squirrel on the limb of a cottonwood. If this is lion hunting, then I'll stick to 'possums and coons, where a man can have some excitement."

Hotchkiss yesterday ended the long-planned "safari" of Denver M. Wright, St. Louis manufacturer, by killing the animals which Wright had released on a "towhead" island, near here.

Hotchkiss went to the island secretly in a motorboat, killed the lions by firing two shots at each of them, then moved the carcasses. Later Wright and his hunting party, which had left the island to give the two jungle beasts time to accustom themselves to their new freedom, returned and began beating the bush for the quarry. But they found no trace of the lions.

Nonplussed, Wright and the other hunters returned to Commerce. There they learned that Hotchkiss had killed the beasts an hour and a half after they had been released from the cage in which they were transported "safely" to the island.

Wright protested angrily, but Hotchkiss contended he had done his official duty because the lions were a "menace to the peace and safety of the livestock and people of southeast Missouri."

Returns Library Book After Nearly 30 Years

Boston, Oct. 18.—(AP)—The Boston public library prepared for a rush of business as the "monstrous" amount of books returned to it today. Director Milton E. Lord conceived the idea of a week's moratorium. He had requested that all books kept at home because of overdue fines or because they had been "inadvertently borrowed" be brought back. No questions would be asked, he said, and those on the library's black list would have their borrowing cards returned.

Yesterday—the first day—was a huge success. More than 800 missing books were returned, 6,000 borrowers' cards were restored and approximately $35,000 in fines were cancelled. Library officials estimated that 25,000 children alone stormed the main building and its 38 branch libraries.

Probably the most remarkable case in the first days of the return of a copy of "The Naval History of the United States," which had been missing for 29 years.

The middle-aged gentleman who returned it said the cancellation week had brought him a welcome opportunity to return the volume.

"I don't know whether I borrowed it myself or whether it was taken out by a friend," he said. "But I am glad to return it."

NAB BANK ROBBERS, RECOVER THE LOOT

Quick Work of Bay State Police—Four Men Arrested Few Hours After Hold-Up.

Stoughton, Mass., Oct. 18.—(AP)—A few hours after the Mechanics Co-Operative Bank of Taunton was robbed of $7,700, the entire sum was recovered today and four young men were arrested.

The prisoners said they were James Hill of Stoughton, 23, and James R. Van, 21; William Harvey, 21, and Joseph Murphy, 21, all of Boston. All four were arrested at Hill's home by Taunton, Stoughton and state police. They found Harvey and Moran in the cellar and Murphy under a couch. Hill answered the door and attempted to bar the entrance of the officers on the ground they had no search warrants. A money was discovered concealed in various parts of the dwelling.

Hill's wife and two children were asleep when the arrests were made. Taunton officers said they would take the prisoners back to their city for arraignment later in the day.

The Taunton bank was held up by four young men who at pistol point forced two bank employees to turn over the day's receipts.

PLOT TO BLOW UP BARRACKS OF N. G.

Soldiers Overhear Men Planning To Dynamite Temporary Quarters.

Taylorville, Ill., Oct. 18.—(AP)—A reputed plot to bomb the temporary barracks of Illinois National Guardsmen on duty in strife-torn Christian county was being investigated today by officers of the 180th Infantry.

Capt. Harry L. Bolan, regimental intelligence officer, said a signed statement had been obtained in which the informant declared he had overheard two men say plans for the bombing had been perfected.

Guardsmen were sent into Christian county a month ago when two buildings were damaged by bombs, supposed to be the result of the controversy between the Progressive Miners of America and the United Mine Workers of America over a reduction in the wage scale.

Numerous clashes.

Since that time the soldiers have had numerous clashes with members of the Progressive miners who have sought to prevent members of the rival organization from working the large coalfields with which the county is dotted. Several shooting affrays, one of them resulting in the death of a striking miner, have taken place.

Miners identified with the Progressive movement were said by Capt. Bolan to be extremely bitter against the guardsmen. So far no arrests have been made, he said, in connection with the reported plot to bomb the barracks.

He refused to make public the names of the men alleged to be involved in the reported plot.

MISSISSIPPI REDISTRICTING ACT IS UPHeld

U. S. Supreme Court Reverses Decision of Three Judge Federal Court; Act of 1911 Not In Force.

Washington, Oct. 18.—(AP)—Mississippi's Redistricting Act was upheld today by the Supreme Court. The action was taken by reversing the decision of a three-judge Federal Court in the state which ruled that the Congressional redistricting law was invalid.

In an opinion handed down by Chief Justice Hughes, the court held the 1911 Act of Congress regulating Congressional redistricting, by requiring the districts to be compact and contiguous, and "containing as nearly as practicable an equal number of inhabitants," was no longer in force.

The decision was one of the most important to come from the court in years. Seemingly all members of the court were of the opinion that the Act of 1911, in which Congress prescribed how districts should be made, was dead.

A challenge to the Tennessee law on the grounds that it violated the 1911 law is pending before the court now.

BROKER KILLS HIMSELF

New York, Oct. 18.—(AP)—While his lawyer was in court today on the postponement of his trial on an indictment charging grand larceny, William H. Johnston, 55-year-old blind broker, shot and killed himself in his hotel room.

Johnston and Allen Brainin, an accountant, were indicted on charges of stealing $25,000 from Fred W. Mark, a contractor of 6,000 Westchester avenue, Philadelphia.

Mark alleged he invested the money with the defendants and they had misrepresented a promise that they would make an advance payment to engage in manufacture of automobile tire inner tubes.

Johnston was arrested last March and released in $15,000 bail. Brainin was committed to the Tombs in default of similar bail.

The trial was on the calendar today but counsel for Johnston sought and obtained postponement until October 25. When the lawyer left court to inform his client of the success of his application he discovered that Johnston had killed himself.

SPEAKER SCORES WET PROPAGANDA Mrs. Welles Says Legalized Beer Has Nothing To Do With Prosperity.

Stamford, Oct. 18.—(AP)—Charging that there was no more untrue statement in all the wet propaganda than that legalizing beer will bring back prosperity, Mrs. Mary E. Welles, of Hartford, state president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union urged the 87th annual convention of that order, in session today and tomorrow at the First Presbyterian church here to support the Independent Republican ticket which was pledged to aid the dry cause.

"Let not the line break where anyone stands in the election of these men," she said. "Taking up the argument that beer would bring back prosperity, Mrs. Welles said: 'A dollar spent for beer by men making automobiles, shoes, radios and other things means a dollar less spent for automobiles, shoes, radios and other things.'"

"Millions of dollars are today being used toward breaking down the 18th Amendment and bringing back legalized beer. These millions are coming from just one source, from a group of wealthy people and corporations who hope to shift the financial burden of the supporting this government on to the back of the poor man by the device of pretending to give him beer and then tax him for it."

Mrs. Welles summed the keynote for the convention when she said: "After another year of stress and strain, the W. C. T. U. holds that alcoholic liquor is an evil that has no place in the habits of men or in society. We steadfastly insist that National prohibition represents the logical method of dealing with intoxicating drink in America. The 18th Amendment should be retained and re-enforced by the education of public sentiment."

The speaker said that they were opposed to any proposal to again submit the matter to the people and argued that dry strategy outfit wet strategy.

Boston, Oct. 18.—(AP)—The Supreme Court today held the Mississippi state officials had no right to sue to stop the redistribution of territory and the division of the population as evenly as practicable. Ordinarily the Supreme Court hands down opinions only on Monday but Mississippi state officials had asked that the case be decided before Oct. 22 to allow time for preparations for the Nov. 8 election.

SITUATION CLEARED UP JACKSON, MISS., Oct. 18.—(AP)—Mississippi's muddled Congressional election situation, which has kept the electorate and officials guessing for weeks, appears to have been clarified today with the United States Supreme Court ruling upholding the state's new Congressional redistricting act.

NEW ENGLAND A GREAT MARKET, SAYS ROGERS

Manchester Man Tells N. E. Council Buying Power of This Region Surpasses That of Other Sections; People's Abounding Faith a Major Asset.

Speaking at today's meeting of the Associated Advertising Clubs of New England at the Hotel Kimball in Springfield, Willard B. Rogers, advertising director of the Bond Hotels at Hartford, Conn., and a member of the executive committee of the New England Council, said in part:

"Faith in New England, my subject this morning, may sound a bit elementary to you students of psychology. We will dispense here with differences of opinion regarding the importance of Faith in the area in which we work by agreeing, as I believe you will, that Faith is the biggest contributing factor to any success and that an area which is without Faith in itself cannot enjoy economic success without which our sales stimulus appeals, through advertising, promises to be about as productive of results as would a sales campaign for refrigerators in Alaska.

Comparisons
"Someone has said comparisons are odious. But, I venture into forbidden territory only to show that here in New England there is an unsurpassed market, the conclusion of which is that our success or failure in our chosen profession is pretty much up to us.

"New England with but 2 per cent of the area of the United States boasts of 6.65 per cent of the population providing for you more than eight million prospects and with 7.66 per cent of the total retail sales, proves that we have successful retailers.

"Again, as against our 2 per cent area, we have 7.97 per cent of the wealth or $28,289,000,000, which shows that the New England standard of living is the highest. New England has 8.4 per cent of the income of the country. It has 13.6 per cent of the bank deposits. It has 17.5 per cent of the savings showing a reserve buying power of almost five billion dollars.

"In New England 96 per cent of the children are in school while the average for the country is 90 per cent. Again in New England we have 94.6 per cent of our homes wired for electricity, as against 68.2 per cent in the country. Fifty-one per cent of New England homes are equipped with telephones while the average in the country is but 58 per cent, and 53.8 per cent of New England homes boast of radios while the average for the country is 40.3 per cent.

"New England with 7.91 per cent of the country's life insurance shows a per capita of $763, as against $535 for the rest of the country. In New England 51.3 per cent of our population is listed as gainful workers while the average for the country is 49.5 per cent. The annual retail purchases per family in New England are $1,899.57 while the figure for the country is $1,470.83.

"In 1931 the per capita sale of life insurance in New England was $72 while for the rest of the country it was $59 and during the first eleven months of 1932, New Englanders bought $685,768,000 worth of life insurance or 8.1 per cent of the country's total sales.

Bank Failures
"During the first eight months of this year there were but eleven bank failures in the six New England states as against a total number of 1,037 in other words, New England with 13.6 per cent of the country's total resources suffered only 1 per cent of the bank failures.

"Shifting this for a moment, from a question of buying power it is interesting to note again that insurance statistics show that we of New England live longer by 4 per cent than the folks in the rest of the country, and let me say right here that despite what one of our California friends jocularly said in regard to this figure, it is not true that life in New England only seems longer, for there is greater wholesome happiness in New England than anywhere else in the world.

"For the above data I am indebted to the New England Council, in which I have the honor to be a Connecticut director and a member of the executive committee. The New England Council has never for a minute posed as a panacea of all business ailments. The Council is but a clearing house for facts and the best business thoughts conceived by its business leaders, a study of which must result in a new and a greater faith in New England."

Essentials
"Only Faith, an unswerving Faith comparable with the Faith which actuated the founders of this nation, has spurred New England on to the uppermost pinnacle of leadership in practically every undertaking that makes for real happiness—the greatest of all goals.

"Forget for the moment the figures I have just submitted and let us throw the spot-light upon those essentials to sectional, state or community happiness. Our chu ches, and never fail to give just credit to our religious institutions, regardless of creed, for maintaining in New England a morale exceeded nowhere are as a group second to none in the world. Educationally,

New England leads any other section industrially, with all the shipyards, layoffs, receiverships and such, we have more than held our own. Recreationally, we are blasing a trail which has attracted the attention of every section of the country. We have hundreds of miles of ocean frontage, lakes, mountains, mountains and hills, camps galore to which now come the boys and girls from far-away cities for the health and vigor our climate offers, a net-work of improved highways, by which we may travel to these rendezvous of happiness, running into the thousands of miles and reaching every corner of our six states. Agriculturally, with all our trouble in stabilizing milk prices and some other branches we have made great strides and the outlook is bright.

"Add these briefly referred to assets to our abounding New England Faith and you, my advertising friends, have before you a word picture of the section to which you are and will continue to make your sales appeal through advertising.

"Now let us look at the other side of your job. I recently served as chairman of the publicity committee for Hartford Days—two great days for the mercantile and other businesses of Hartford. But, while the advertising staffs of two of the greatest newspapers in the country, The Hartford Times and The Hartford Courant, and the advertising managers of the various stores put over a job which attracted country-wide attention, the results, great as they were, fell short of the goal the almost perfect advertising and publicizing merited.

"I mean by that that the investigation which I personally made showed that but two of the largest stores in Hartford were entitled to a complete success. The personnel of these stores was alert to the nth degree. The personnel tied in with the advertising by urging their relatives and friends to patronize their stores. For days, the several hundred women who work and derive their livelihood from the stores were working shoulder to shoulder with the stores' Hartford Days advertising and the general publicity to make the day a success. But, alas, in some of the stores there was so much ill feeling between employee and employer that all of the advertising, the greatest exponents of our art could have released, could not have turned the trick.

Faith
"Faith means more than confidence in the area in which we work. Faith means more than building an attractive store, stocking it with the latest in style, manning it with the required number of clerks. Faith means, if carried out, the kind of viewpoint upon life that causes employer and employee to work together. Faith in New England alone is nebulous. In the companies with which I am connected I want Faith on the part of ourselves in our employees and conversely Faith on the part of our employees in us. Then I want the employees to have Faith in the merchandise they sell. To sum it up, I want a loyalty on the part of every employee which makes of that employee a salesman of either service or merchandise. There is not room in this commercial age of the survival of the fittest for order-takers—yet some company heads are so short-sighted that they believe that they personally are the magnet which draws folks to their store and that the mechanics of making a sale can really be handled by an indifferent order-taker.

"I suggest that you go back to your respective pieces of business and before releasing another line of advertising ascertain if your establishment is "fit to be advertised." Sell your company executives the viewpoint that the preparation of an attention-arresting ad and then its publication in the right media is just about one-tenth of the job.

"Neither are newspapers on trial though many are prone to blame them when a poorly planned and executed merchandising campaign fails.

Advertiser
"Advertising has never failed. Advertising is not on trial. Other inexperienced so-called merchandisers attempt to alibi their failures by blaming the advertising man. It is about time the failures were placed where they belong. Ours is a profession—one of the most potent professions in the world. Accept the challenge the next time it comes to your advertising department and let your associate executives know that they too play an important part in the dissemination of the kind of publicity that pays. Without knowing that you are working under the right conditions you cannot have Faith either in your section, in your job or in yourself."

TOBACCO FARMER IS OUT FOR "CY" SEYMOUR

Doesn't Like Kopplemann's Idea of Framing a Tobacco Policy After the Election.

Editor of Manchester Herald:— I read in The Hartford Courant last Saturday morning about Mr. Kopplemann, Democratic opponent of Cy Seymour for Congress, talking to the tobacco farmers. He said, "One of the most important reasons for their present plight lies in the importation of tobacco from the penal labor colonies of Sumatra and Java. Then, Kopplemann goes on to say, "If elected to Congress, I promise you that I shall sit down with the tobacco farmer and seek to arrive at a policy whereby the interests of the tobacco farmers, as well as those of the importers, will be protected."

I have been growing tobacco for many years and I am not interested in somebody going down to Washington to protect importers who have been trying to take our local tobacco markets away by bringing in this cheap tobacco from Java and Sumatra, which is raised with cheap indentured labor.

Cy Seymour has probably forgotten more about tobacco than Mr. Kopplemann will ever know. Can you imagine Cy Seymour saying that after he is elected, he will sit down with the tobacco raisers or tobacco farmers and try to work out something to help them? Cy Seymour has been in touch with the tobacco growers for years. They know him personally and they have faith in his ability, and they are going to vote for Cy because they know he knows what we want before he is elected, and that he has their interests at heart all the time.

Just to bring out what I say about Mr. Kopplemann's lack of knowledge about this situation, only a short time ago I saw in the paper where Mr. Kopplemann spoke to people in New Britain and he told them that the whole trouble over there, and why some of them were not working, was because the Republican tariff was too high and lost them their jobs. Now he goes up and down the Connecticut Valley trying to sell us an idea that the tariffs are too low and they have got to be raised higher. I wonder if Mr. Kopplemann thinks he can talk on one side of the river in favor of the lowering of the tariff and then thinks after he crosses the bridge to the other side, that the people there can be fooled into believing him when he says that the tariff, instead of being too high, is too low and should be raised.

Our old friend, Cy Seymour is the man we want and that we will work for to go to Congress, because he has been consistent.

A. R. HOLCOMBE, East Granby, Conn., Oct. 15, 1932.

MORE CAMPAIGN QUIPS

Why not a contest for the kiddies for the best sentence forming words out of the word REPUBLICAN? "Reasonable Earnest People, Uncertain, Believing Leadership Important, Cannot Alleviate Now."

Of course the above is a poor sample, but conveys the idea, after all it would not hurt the town, state, and country if it became a household word.

Now that Calvin has done his bit for Hoover, we wait for Alfred to do his bit for ELY, you thought I was going to say Roosevelt.

I thought for a time that Hoover and Roosevelt would revive that old song "Old Cal, Old Al, have left us all alone."

It will be possible now to find them in some theater looking at that new picture, "Life Begins."

Stealing pennies from poor boxes is now a lost art, potatoes from the poor farm is the latest.

It took Columbus seventy days to cross the ocean, that's a record compared to the amount of days that it will take Innull.

The nomination of Roosevelt will be another expense charged up to Hoover on November 9th.

Wonders of 1932. Wonder if Ruth will be traded this fall? Wonder who it was that ran against Hoover in '32.

Pat Harrison on the liquor question, says Hiram Bingham is an acrobat, nothing odd about that, pre-war days we called for a tumbler.

A new deal may be all right, but why change the deck? Can't understand what Mayor Rankin meant in his Wednesday address when he said that things had been done as they wished "down on "Temple street". It's still $100.00 and costs for first offenders.

A new drink in France for the morning after, the night before is called, "Desperation Cocktail." We are twelve years ahead of France in our drinks.
Shoe and leather manufacture ranks fourth in importance among all Belgian industries. With a new deal it will rank first over here.
Letters sent from the Independent Republican headquarters to voters read, "We are now operating on borrowed funds which must be repaid in the near future. We are with you eleven million strong."
Sheriff Tom, Rally will now sing that popular ballad, "Say it isn't so."

Signed
A FORGOTTEN MAN.

YOUNGMAN AND ELY DEBATE ISSUES

Boston, Oct. 18.—(AP)—Governor Joseph B. Ely, Democrat, and his Republican opponent for the gubernatorial office, Lieutenant Governor William S. Youngman, engaged in a "long distance debate" last night on the circumstances surrounding the disputed payment of $385,000 to the state to the Boston and Worcester Street Railway.

Youngman spoke from Boston and the governor spoke at Brockton, Attleboro and Taunton.

The lieutenant governor denied, in an early evening speech, that his meddling with the Legislature on the construction of the new Boston-Worcester turnpike had, as charged by Governor Ely, exposed the state to an $800,000 suit.

The governor later replied that Youngman's extended participation in politics has placed him in a position under which he has forgotten his legal training.

While Youngman charged the governor with failure to present an accurate picture of the financial phases of his administration, the governor stoutly defended his administration against charges of extravagance and waste.

Youngman made his address over the radio and at rallies in and about Boston. The governor replied to the lieutenant governor's charges in later speeches at Brockton, Attleboro and Taunton.

No raw tobaccos in Luckies —that's why they're so mild

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

COMMUNITY PLAYERS' PLAY A 3-WAY HIT

"It Pays To Advertise" Scored On Stage, In Silent Film and As a Talkie.

When an only son starts out to the father how to run his own business, there's bound to be fireworks! Such is the case in "It Pays To Advertise," the three-act comedy drama which the Community Players have chosen for their first vehicle of the current season.

The story concerns the efforts of an ambitious youth to put modern advertising into a large soap manufacturing company. The play enjoyed a record run on Broadway. Later Paramount Pictures purchased the screen rights and made it into a silent motion picture two years ago.

The seating capacity of the hall is limited. It was therefore decided to run a matinee for children including High School pupils.

EXPECT LARGE NUMBER AT CHAMBER MEETING

The Chamber of Commerce will hold its October all-membership meeting at the Country Club at 6:30 o'clock tonight and it is expected that a large number of members and others will attend to hear the address by Caleb M. Saville, chief engineer and manager of the Metropolitan Water Works of Hartford.

A broiled chicken dinner will be served by Cantana of the Coffee Shop, after which a short business meeting will be held followed by Mr. Saville's address. A discussion period will be held, also.

Mr. Saville will outline the benefits of privately and municipally owned water works, this subject being chosen because of the proposed purchase of Cheney Brother's South Manchester Water Company by the town. The Board of Selectmen have been invited to attend and will be present.

The Department statement advised people to notify the department or the police in case they should see any of these drivers operating motor vehicles.

FAST AMATEUR CARD, ROCKVILLE TONIGHT

Tonight at the Town hall in Rockville, a Ten All Star Bout Card will be offered to the amateur boxing fans by Matchmaker George Groesch again featuring the fastest and most action providing boys.

In the line-up of boys Groesch has selected for the ten bout card each bout in itself will be sensational for the fighting it will provide.

Broad Brook blonde noted for his pleasing club fighting style, clashes with Jim Conroy of Hartford, a boy who is as good at boxing as Hornet is at throwing punches. This bout should go far to give the fans a treat in a boxer meeting a fighter.

In the feature semi-final Groesch has secured a rematch that is sure to keep the most rabid fan on his toes howling from start to finish when Joe Sluts of Hartford again meets his toughest opponent in the form of Kid Forbes of Monson, Mass.

These two boys have met twice before in bouts claimed the best ever seen locally. Forbes was the victor in the first meeting and the second was declared a draw. Both boys will be out tonight to win and what fight is in store for all present when the gong calls them to action.

Kid Lockwood, the battling flyweight from Broad Brook, meets in Tony Pantello of Hartford, a tough little fellow willing to mix and fight with the best. Boots Brewster, the colored boy from Suffield, who was quite a sensation last summer, giving Steve Carr and Tommy Tucker their hardest fights, returns tonight at Rockville, meeting Jackie Williams of Monson, a hard nut to crack.

In a grudge fight, two Rockville boys will be seen, both have been amateurs for the past year and being of the same weight are out to see just who is who. This is a rare happening and the action a bout of this nature will bring it to be seen.

Teams are entered from Thompsonville, Hartford, Broad Brook, Willimantic and several Massachusetts cities.

The first bout will take to the ring at 8:30 and an evening of real entertainment is promised all attending this amateur boxing show.

BELFAST QUIET AGAIN

Belfast, Northern Ireland, Oct. 18.—(AP)—Conditions were so much improved since the unemployed riots of last week that authorities decided today to suspend the emergency curfew law.

Citizens will be allowed on the streets at late hours without restrictions for the first time since the riots began.

During a Police Court hearing of charges against youths arrested during the disturbances, a police inspector testified that the riots were a result of an organized uprising. He said thousands of unemployed in the Falls district made a simultaneous attack upon the police.

Requests new cabinet. Bucharest, Rumania, Oct. 18.—(AP)—King Carol today asked Dr. Iuliu Maniu, leader of the Rumanian Peasant party to form a government to succeed that of Premier Alexander Vaido-Voivod and Dr. Maniu asked for a few hours time to think it over.

It was generally expected, however, that he would accept the responsibility and possibly would include in the cabinet Nicholas Titulescu, who resigned recently as minister to Great Britain.

NORRIS CARRIES DRIVE INTO THE MIDDLEWEST

Philadelphia, Oct. 18.—(AP)—Senator George W. Norris carried his drive for Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt into the middlewest today after an opening speech in which he denounced party regularity and declared that without the "minister-influence of partisanship" President Hoover "has no chance of being re-elected."

The Independent Republican from Nebraska, predicting the election of the Democratic presidential nominee by "an outstanding" majority, prepared to discuss the labor question in Cleveland tonight. Mr. Norris launched his recently announced active campaign in behalf of the Roosevelt candidacy here last night before a crowd which cheered his characterization of the New York governor as a man "who stands for the rights of the common people as against the overwhelming domination of wealth and political power."

In his attack on party regularity, Senator Norris asserted that putting "party above country" means "in the end, the destruction of Democratic government."

"Mr. Hoover" he said "is the embodiment of that partisanship" and added that he feels the President cannot be re-elected except "by people who do not believe in him but who vote for him on account of party."

FATHER COX QUITS PRESIDENTIAL RACE

Pittsburgh, Oct. 18.—(AP)—Rev. James R. Cox today withdrew as the Jobless Party's presidential candidate and urged his followers to vote for Franklin D. Roosevelt, the Democratic standard bearer.

Father Cox, militant pastor of old St. Patrick's Catholic church, bitterly accused President Hoover for what he termed "neglect of means to relieve suffering among the unemployed in the last two years."

The ejection of the Bonus "Army" from Washington he called "barbarous" and added: "America must reject Herbert Hoover and all that he represents if she means to continue as a Democracy."

Hoover, Father Cox said in his statement of withdrawal, "stands for special privileges" and "has forgotten the 120,000,000 ordinary American citizens."

He said "the opportunity to help was presented to Mr. Hoover a thousand times, but never did he lift a hand nor raise a voice to relieve the suffering American people."

3 Easy Rules for Using the High Test Fuel

1 Shake less—Because Koppers Connecticut Coke is all fuel, and burns down to fine ashes that drop through the grate with very little shaking. Once a day is often enough to shake—less frequently in mild weather.

2 Use less draft—Because Koppers Connecticut Coke is High Test Fuel, it burns evenly without forcing the fire and wasting heat up the chimney. It responds at once to closing as well as to opening of dampers.

3 Fill the fire pot heaping full—You can do this without danger of smothering the fire. Koppers Connecticut Coke is lighter than coal and burns most economically and effectively when you keep a deep fire.

These 3 rules mean less work and less attention. Your Koppers Connecticut Coke fire requires less work in firing and in taking out ashes, banks perfectly and provides a steady warmth for less cost.

"And I save almost a dollar a week, too," he says proudly. There isn't any mystery about his story. SENSE AND NONSENSE

Officer—Say, Didn't you see the signal?
Pretty Miss— Yes, but I didn't see you.

One freezing night, the suburban policeman had emptied his little flask an hour previously. The cold increased, and he forsook his beat, wending his way homeward to get his overcoat. Throwing some gravel at the window, he roused his wife, asking her to throw his coat down to him. She did, also throwing him a kiss. Returning to his beat, he met a brother policeman on point of duty.
First Officer—Cold night, Bill, isn't it?
Second Officer (looking at the other's overcoat)—Ain't it? But, er—Jim, er—how long have you been a sergeant?

A girls eyes and hair used to get all the attention of poets and lovers. But then she left off her petticoats and began wearing short skirts.

When a young couple marries it is said they are too young to know their own mind but if they wait until they're old, folks remark that they thought they were old enough to know better.

Jack—What did your father say when first he saw you after you were born?
Jerry—He asked the doctor how many more there was in the litter.

A truthful woman, is one who doesn't lie about anything except her age, her weight, her bridge score, and her husband's salary.

Mrs. Lennon stated on the stand that her husband had abused and struck her while drinking and said that he grabbed her by the throat and bumped her head against the wall in an argument yesterday. Lennon, pleaded not guilty and was represented by Attorney William J. Shea.

CLEAN YOUR CHIMNEYS, FIRE CHIEF FOY URGES

Increased Use of Wood As Fuel Calls For Especial Care of Flues, He Says.

Chief Foy of the South Manchester fire department today issued a warning against the neglect of chimneys, especially in those cases where green firewood was used last winter or where it is liable to be used this season. Last year there was a marked increase in the use of wood for fuel and much of it was from recently felled trees. Green firewood, while excellent as fuel, causes much soot in chimneys and stovepipes and last winter the firemen were called to numberless chimney fires resulting from this cause.

Chief Foy urges the necessity of having chimneys cleaned at the outset of the season as a preventive of fire hazards.
