

JAPANESE PROPOSE OWN NAVAL PLANS

Will Present Its Own Plan To Geneva — Details of Plan Are Kept Secret For the Time Being.

By GLENN BARR (Copyright 1932 by A. P.) Tokyo, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Japan has decided to propose her own plan for reduction of naval armaments to the disarmament conference at Geneva, a high official told the Associated Press today. The Japanese plan, it was understood, will neither accept nor reject the American and British schemes for cuts in naval strength but will offer a distinctly Japanese suggestion. The details of the plan, even an idea of its general character, are being held in the strictest secrecy for the time being. The Associated Press was informed however, that the scheme embraces all the naval categories and will be complete enough to stand alongside the Hoover and Baldwin proposals. (President Hoover's general outlay of a nearly one-third general cut in armaments. This envisaged reduction by one-third of all battleships—both tonnage and number—under the Anglo-American-Japanese naval treaty. Great Britain's last disarmament plan involves placing the Washington London naval treaties establishing ratios between Great Britain, the United States and Japan at about 10-10-6 respectively, in a world treaty.)

Cabinet Approves The Japanese proposal which it was understood the naval ministry had already drafted, was given at a session today. Immediately afterward the plans were cabled to the Japanese delegation at Geneva. Previous statements of naval leaders have shown that the Japanese consider offensive war craft, these include: First, aircraft carriers, which it has been previously and officially proposed be drastically curtailed and informally proposed to be abolished. Second, capital ships, of which reductions in the size of gun calibers is favored. Japan has opposed further reduction of what are considered defensive weapons, first submarines and second cruisers and destroyers. This first item involved disagreement with the American and British contentions. It is further understood the proposals for naval limitation. The Japanese army, deeply involved in Manchuria, was represented as being disinclined either to agree to the sweeping cuts proposed by President Hoover, or to offer alternatives. The foreign office said Japanese representatives at Geneva were fully empowered to deal with the suggestion that the present year's naval holiday be extended for four months. It was believed the delegation will accept without further reference to Tokyo. The Associated Press informant declined to suggest any points wherein the Japanese naval reduction scheme differs from American or British proposals, but the general trend of Japanese naval policy is well enough known to indicate possible fundamental disagreements that are likely to further complicate the work of the disarmament conference.

JERSEY ACCLAIMS RETURN OF SMITH

Newark, N. J., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Jubilant rang in the Democratic camp today over the wild-open-armed welcome that the State's Democrats gave their idol "the happy warrior" when he came back last night to Jersey to sound his first major call for the election of Roosevelt and Garner. One man died of a heart attack and sixty were injured in a jamming crush of cheering humanity. Inside the army a throng estimated by police at 20,000 heard and saw Al Smith. Outside an army before his arrival. Police Commissioner Edward Reilly estimated sixty thousand persons choked the streets which later became the triumphal pathway of the 1928 Democratic candidate. Criticizing President Hoover "as the dry leader of the United States" Smith devoted much of his speech to ridiculing the Republicans on prohibition. Attacks Donovan Smith attacked Col. W. J. SENATOR PREDICTS BEER RETURN SOON

Reed of Pennsylvania Also Calls Roosevelt a Greenhorn Pilot.

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 25.—(AP)—David A. Reed, senior United States Senator from Pennsylvania, speaking at a Republican rally here last night, appealed to Erie county voters not "to turn the ship of state over to a greenhorn or a pilot" and presented President Hoover as one to whom the tide of public support is flowing in a volume that augurs a possible "steamship." Senator Reed attacked Governor Roosevelt, the Democratic presidential nominee, from half a dozen directions, answering the charges flung at the White House occupant by the challenger and vigorously defending the President's conduct and record. "The speaker paused in the early portion of his onslaught upon Governor Roosevelt to throw the meeting into an uproar of applause with a wine and beer prophecy that "within six months it will be possible, I believe, to buy the milder alcoholic beverages without paying tribute to the criminal class." He prefaced this forecast with the declaration that: "No doubt we will see the Volstead act modified in the next Congress by concurrent action of the two parties both determined to end the era of crime grown up under this too drastic law."

Senator Reed assailed Governor Roosevelt on his "paradoxical espousal" of the cause of the forgotten man, denounced the Rooseveltian stand for a competitive tariff, lauded the Democratic standard bearer for "his unworthy, sneering assaults" upon President Hoover, called attention to the state banks crashes and "scandalous conditions" in Metropolitan finance circles under Roosevelt's government, and charged the Democratic standard bearer for "his intention to preserve the soundness of American currency and promote governmental economy in every possible way." The speaker closed his address with a warning to voters of this region to install Colonel William J. Donovan in the executive chair at Albany.

CAROL AND HELEN MAY BURY QUARREL

Rumors Persist in Rumania That a Reconciliation Is Near At Hand.

Bucharest, Rumania, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The persistent rumors of reconciliation between King Carol and former Queen Helen of Rumania today overshadowed the latest possible fundamental disagreements that are likely to further complicate the work of the disarmament conference. Despite all denials, the populace, especially the farmers with whom Princess Helen is very popular, still believe peace between her and Carol is just around the corner. They were more than ever convinced of this by the mystery and excitement of the former Queen's unannounced arrival in the capital yesterday. The Princess was apparently uninterested, however, in what was going on outside the palace, her residence, and had no other desire at the moment than to make her son happy on his birthday. Birthday Celebration Since early morning, she has been reported preparing the birthday table for the lad, expected from the royal residence at Sinaia during the forenoon. In Princess Helen's living room was a table with a circle of 11 burning candles with a twelfth larger candle in the middle indicating that the Prince was entering his twelfth year. There was also a large birthday cake and various presents brought from London. King Carol, it was understood, would not come to the Princess' residence for the birthday party, and a statement from the Cabinet said the boy's birthday would not be observed officially until his saint's day November 18. This was said to have been decided on to permit Helen to give a private party. BISHOP, LOCKED OUT, FORCED HIS WAY INTO CHURCH TO HOLD THESE SERVICES

Forcing his way into All Souls' Protestant Episcopal Church in New York with the aid of a locksmith, Bishop William T. Manning conducted the regular Sunday morning service despite threats of the vestry to prosecute him for trespass. The photo shows the Bishop, surrounded by scaffolding, preaching his sermon which strongly upheld the decision of the church's rector, the Rev. Rollin Dodd, to admit Negroes to the services on an equal basis with white parishioners. Because seven of the eleven vestrymen had broken with the rector on this question, he had been relieved of his key and the church closed for repairs.

HIGH COURT UPHOLDS HINDENBURG'S ACTIONS

Political Leaders In Germany Are Bewildered By Verdict Because It Seems To Contradict Itself.

Leipzig, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The Supreme Court today sustained President von Hindenburg's removal of the Prussian government from office on July 30 and his temporary appointment of Chancellor Franz von Papen as commissioner for that state with the power to name substitute Prussian officials. President von Hindenburg emergency decree for the re-establishment of security and order in Prussia is compatible with the Federal Constitution, Chief Justice Erwin Bumke announced. It was permissible, the ruling said, for the Federal government to take from the deposed Prussian ministry its right to represent Prussia in the Reichstag or the Reichsrat or in dealings with the Prussian State Council, or other German states. Political Germany appeared to be bewildered over the verdict of the court. What stumped political leaders was the two-edged nature of the verdict. Puzzling Verdict It was noted that the court held the temporary taking over of the

BIG RUM SEIZURE BY BOSTON POLICE

5,000 Gallons of Alcohol Found On a Truck and In a House.

Boston, Oct. 25.—(AP)—A truck bearing police said, 4,000 gallons of alcohol, was seized in the Back Bay today and, an hour later, additional information supplied by the police raided a vacant house on Beacon street and found 1,000 gallons more. The truck, the police said, was under the name of the Shaw Express Company of Springfield. The driver described himself as Ray Spencer, 37, (617 Greenwood street) New York City. He told police he knew nothing of the contents of the truckload which he said he had been hired in New York City to drive. Liquor Hijacked Today's seizure occurred not far from a large warehouse bound from which a load of liquor allegedly was hijacked last week. The hijackers' emissary, dispatched to negotiate terms with the owner of the liquor was seized by the latter, police afterward learned, and not released until the liquor had been returned at a much lower figure than originally demanded. Police made today's capture as the result of a tip which enabled them to post several cars in the vicinity shortly before the liquor truck was due to pass. The vacant house in which the 1,000 gallons later were found was an imposing three-story brick structure in a fashionable neighborhood. Spencer told officers he had been instructed to leave his load in the back yard.

URGE PAY CUTS AGAIN TO KEEP SCHOOL OPEN

Keeney Street Residents Ask Further Reductions Rather Than Have Fifth District Building Closed.

Residents of the Fifth or Keeney district last night made a strong plea before the Board of Education requesting that the Keeney street school be kept open instead of closed as the board had planned in its effort to meet the decreased school budget voted at the recent town meeting. No decision was announced, the question being taken under further consideration. Three Proposals With Edward H. Keeney and H. Olin Grant as leading spokesmen for the disgruntled faction aided by Sherwood G. Bowers and Frank V. Williams, members of the Taxpayers' League, three alternatives were offered as a means of keeping the Keeney street school open. They were: (1) eliminate the kindergarten from all public schools in town; (2) eliminate one teacher from Keeney, Bunce and South Main instead of three from Keeney; (3) reduce the salaries of all teachers sufficient to equal the saving to be made by closing the Keeney street school. It was very apparent that many of the district's residents are very much dissatisfied with the intended closing of their school. Several threatened to move out of Manchester if such action is taken. About 40 persons were present among whom were nearly a score of women. The hearing was in a school room opposite Supt. F. A. Verplanck's office in the High school building. The Board of Education was not present to defend itself but to listen to reasons why it should not carry out its plans to close the school. Chairman Howell Cheney explained. The only sharp clash came when a selectman Thomas J. Rogart when the Board of Education took exception to a statement by Bowers but this was short-lived when the chair said Bowers out of order when he sought to reply. Question Saving Bowers had stated that the $92,000 reduction made in the school budget was prior to consolidation which was supposed to save an additional $20,000. Selectman Rogers emphatically declared that the joint school board prepared its 1932-33 budget after consolidation had been voted and that this included the $92,000 decrease. When Bowers attempted to reply he was informed that the meeting was for residents of the Fifth School District. During their talks, Bowers and Williams both went on record as opposed to closing the Keeney street school. They preferred a further reduction in the salaries of all of the teachers in the school system to make it unnecessary to eliminate any teachers. It was pointed out by a member of the board that this would mean a still larger saving of about 15 per cent from earnings.

ROOSEVELT'S VOICE TROUBLES FRIENDS

Candidate Speaks With Difficulty While Train Is On Way To Baltimore.

Aboard Roosevelt Special Enroute to Baltimore, Oct. 25.—(AP)—His voice so hoarse that he spoke with difficulty, Governor Roosevelt today made his first appearance at the campaign in North Carolina, greeting big crowds that gathered along the route of his special train. The governor was not yet up when the train reached Hamlet and his son, James Roosevelt and Robert Reynolds, North Carolina's Democratic Senatorial nominee, addressed the crowd in his stead. At Southern Pines, the governor appeared on the platform. Conspicuous in the crowd was a sign which read "Friends of Roosevelt and Repeal." "About the only thing I lost down in Georgia is my voice," said the governor, smiling broadly. "I am confident of the result on November 8 and even more confident of the result in the state of North Carolina." "That brought another big cheer and yells of 'You're right, Roosevelt.'" For Hoover in '28 North Carolina was one of the states which broke from the "Solid South" to go for Hoover in 1928. Members of the governor's party expressed themselves as concerned about his voice. They made plans to spare it as much as possible by having him cut short his remarks at the various stops scheduled in North Carolina and Virginia during the day. Hope was expressed that with care the hoarseness would not be severe enough to handicap him greatly in delivering the last big speech of this campaign at Baltimore tonight. Two More Weeks At Sanford, Mr. Roosevelt spoke briefly concerning the administration of Governor Gardner. Referring to his voice, he said, "I haven't lost all of that yet, it's good for another two weeks and there's only two weeks more to go." By the time Raleigh was reached, most of North Carolina's Democratic leaders had boarded the governor's special, some of them to ride on with him through the state of Virginia. Governor Gardner and Reynolds had met him in Atlanta. Former Governor Angus W. McLean came on at Hamlet and at Sanford there

After Body Is Removed They Steal Truck But Are Caught By Police.

Mount Holly, N. J., Oct. 25.—(AP)—A murder blended today with what looked like a bold attempt at hijacking, to give state police a baffling puzzle. A wrecking car, speeding from the Tax Wrecking Company in Trenton in response to a mysterious call for a tow, found a truck standing on the state highway near Bordentown, late last night. At the wheel, sitting bolt upright with rigid hands on the wheel, was a dead man. A bullet had drilled his forehead. The wrecking car driver, Harry Ervin, stopped a passing automobile, bundled the body into it, and took it to a Bordentown hospital. Truck Is Stolen While he was gone, several Bordentown young men told police, three men approached the truck, believed to contain a driver, hopped the wrecking car to it and sped away. The young man gave the alarm, and Trooper Speed of the Columbus station set off in pursuit. He caught up with the wrecking car five miles away, drew his gun, forced the three men to stop, and took them to Mount Holly police station where they were being questioned early today. Police were told the slain man was Charles Feiler of 1864 Park Avenue, Camden, but investigation disclosed no such address. The names of the three under questioning were not given out. The truck was listed in the name of Richard Townsley of Bridgeton, but no one by that name was found.

PRESIDENT PLANS FOR NEXT SPEECH IN INDIANAPOLIS

Indiana's State Republican Chairman Announces That Chief Executive Will Make An Address On Friday Evening — Newark and New York City Next Monday.

Los Angeles, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Strong winds, reaching a velocity estimated at 50 miles an hour, in some spots, were blamed today for the death of a boy, thousands of dollars in property damage and indirectly led to the death of men engaged in a search for two hikers who escaped from a brush fire which periled their lives. Felix Moreno, 10, Ontario, received fatal injuries when he was swept from a sidewalk by a gust of wind into the path of an automobile. Charles White, 40, Arcadia, engaged in a search for P. R. Lundy, Jr., Monrovia banker, and Lloyd Nelson, Arcadia school teacher, was killed in a 30-foot fall to the bottom of a canyon on the slopes of Monrovia peak. Nelson and Lundy were sought when they failed to return from an ascent of the rugged mountain on which they started Sunday. Nelson was found in a dangerous place by the wind and for a time it was feared the hikers might have been caught in their own fire. In four other districts brush fires were swept on by the winds. A church, six residences and garages in Los Angeles were damaged. Several garages and a repair shop in Ontario were demolished. Automobile traffic was brought to a standstill at times by huge dust clouds which swept through the San Gabriel pass. Property damage also was reported in Glendale and the La Crescenta valley north of Glendale, where the loss was placed at several thousand dollars. Walnuts in the Santa Ana orchards were blown from trees. Telephone lines were crippled in many sections and hundreds of billboards and signs were blown down.

Three Persons Killed, Much Property Loss — Brush Fires Raging.

Indiana's State Republican Chairman Announces That Chief Executive Will Make An Address On Friday Evening — Newark and New York City Next Monday. During the morning he received no visitors other than the five members of his official family who met with him in their regular Cabinet session. He devoted himself to speech writing and governmental business, and cancelled his scheduled press conference for the 12th time in succession. No announcement of completed campaign plans is expected. Instead, it was said in informed quarters to be likely that the Chief Executive intends to determine where the situation is hottest at the moment and shape his plans accordingly on short notice. Returning from his swing into the Midwest, climaxed by his Detroit speech Saturday, the President laid tentative plans for a trip to Indianapolis and possibly to Chicago before delivering his next announced addresses in Newark and New York next Monday. Although authoritative sources confirmed these tentative arrangements, no announcement has been made. The President so prepared for the proposed trip into the Midwest that it could be postponed until later if the preparation of his New York speech requires too much time. Unofficial Reports Unofficial reports continued in circulation that Mr. Hoover might make a trans-continental trip during the last week of the campaign, but such a trip has not been decided upon. Mr. Hoover spent a brief time at work in the Lincoln study of the White House this morning before reaching his desk in the executive offices. Harry New, former postmaster general, who has been campaigning for the President in Indiana, was a White House caller but found Mr. Hoover engaged. Some of the President's Cabinet officers were out of the capital, most of them on speaking tours. The five who attended the Cabinet session were Secretaries Stimson, Adams, Attorney General Mitchell and Secretaries Chapin and Doak.

DR. KNAPP IS SUED FOR INJURIES TO BOY

Manchester Physician Defendant in $10,000 Action After Automobile Accident.

As the result of an automobile accident on the Silver Lane road in East Hartford on the evening of April 29, 1932, Robert P. Knapp, M. D., of Manchester is made defendant in a suit of $10,000 brought by William Forbes through his father, Donald L. Forbes, Silver Lane, East Hartford.

In the writ, which has been returned to the town clerk's office because of a real estate attachment, it is set up that on the evening of April 29, at 4:35, the plaintiff, age 5 years, was on the north side of the street opposite No. 260 Silver Lane, started to cross the road. He was in the center of the road when struck by Dr. Knapp's car and thrown a distance of twenty feet, the car being driven westerly at the time.

After setting up the claim that the doctor was driving at a reckless rate of speed and declaring that the brakes of his car were not in the best working order, the complaint declares that the boy suffered contusions on the forehead, jaw and head, cuts and contusions on his knees and ankles and a broken collar bone, resulting in a permanent injury to the plaintiff's body which the plaintiff is told is of a permanent nature.

The plaintiff is represented by Henry Schwolsky of Hartford and is returnable before the November term of the Superior Court of Hartford County.

HEART SUFFERERS ARE OFFERED HOPE

Specialist Says They Can Live Out Full Span of Life If Careful.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 25.—(AP)—

Patients suffering from valvular diseases of the heart frequently can live out a full span of life, declared Dr. Llewellyn F. Barker, professor emeritus of medicine of Johns Hopkins University, in conducting a clinic here today.

USE OF INHALES

Discussing pulmonary tuberculosis which is sometimes associated with a profound nervous state and loss of weight, Dr. Barker told the assembled physicians that if the patient is given inhales half an hour before meals, the results are a sharp gain in weight which lessens the nervousness and increases the resistance against tuberculosis. He also outlined a treatment for the after effects of sleeping sickness.

SUGGEST SURGERY

"While one waits to see if the X-ray will be effective," he said, "surgery can have the patient well and back to work."

MUCH OF DR. LAHEY'S TALK HAD TO DO WITH GASTRIC ULCERS.

He said that out of 172 cases only two had turned into cancer.

DISCUSSING THE RELATIVE VALUE OF SURGERY VERSUS MEDICAL TREATMENT IN ULCERS, DR. LAHEY SAID A SURVEY SHOWED THAT OF THOSE PATIENTS WHO HAD SUFFERED ONE HEMORRHAGE, 26 PER CENT FELL UNDER MEDICAL TREATMENT.

Of patients who had suffered two hemorrhages, 88 per cent failed. The conclusion, he said, was that patients who have bleeding ulcers will require surgery.

REPUBLICANS LIST IMPORTANT RALLIES

Biggest in This Section Is At Hartford October 29; Mills To Be Speaker.

With the approach of the final two weeks of the campaign in Connecticut, the Republican State Central Committee at Hartford today issued a schedule outlining a list of important rallies of statewide interest already scheduled for the balance of the campaign.

The schedule shows that: On Tuesday night, October 25, Newton W. Gilbert, former acting governor-general of the Philippines, and former lieutenant-governor of Indiana, will speak at a Stamford rally.

On October 28, former Congressman William S. Bennett of New York will speak at Georgetown in Wilton. He will also address a Wallingford rally on November 1.

On October 29, at Bushnell Memorial Hall, Hartford, Secretary of the Treasury C. G. Mills, whose address on behalf of President Hoover have made his appearance second only to the President in the present campaign, will be heard.

On October 31 at Willimantic, Congressman Donald B. Partridge of Maine will speak. He will also give an address in Winsted on November 3.

On November 2 at New London, Henry Herrick Bond, former assistant secretary of the treasury, and now a partner in law with Colonel William J. Donovan, republican nominee for governor of New York, will be heard.

On November 4 at Stamford, Charles Evans Hughes, Jr., former solicitor general of the United States, and son of Chief Justice Hughes, will speak at Stamford.

On November 4 at Bridgeport, former National Commander of the American Legion Edward E. Spafford of New York will speak.

On November 4 at New Haven, U. S. Ambassador to France Walter E. Edge will be heard, on the same platform with U. S. Senator Hiram Bingham. This is expected to prove to be New Haven's major rally of the campaign.

On November 4 at Norwalk, Major General James G. Harbord, chief of staff under General Pershing in France, and chairman of the board of the Radio Corporation of America, will address a large Fairfield county rally.

On November 4 at Hartford, holder of many foreign decorations for his World War service, is also holder of an honorary degree from Trinity College, Hartford.

Another rally on November 4 will bring to New Britain Judge J. Myette of the Common Pleas Court of Rhode Island, one of the outstanding French-American citizens in the country.

On November 6 at Stamford, an Italian gathering will be addressed by Raymond S. Ferretti, Italian editor of New York City. On the same program will be Judge Francis A. Pallotti, former secretary of the state, and John A. Danaher of Hartford, nominee for that office.

Radio Broadcasts The Republican State Central Committee also called attention yesterday to the following radio broadcasts scheduled for the next few days:

Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, governor general of the Philippines, will speak in behalf of President Hoover from Manila over the NBC red network on Thursday evening, October 27, from 8 to 8:30 o'clock.

Senator Charles L. McNary of Oregon, co-author of the McNary-Haugen farm legislation, will speak Friday evening, October 28, from 10 to 10:30 o'clock, over the same network.

OH, THAT'S DIFFERENT Donaldville, Ga., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Authorities stopped a heavy truck and trailer rolling through Georgia without a Georgia license to see if its weight conformed with the state motor vehicle regulations.

Inspector M. D. Dickerson, Jr., told the driver the truck and trailer would have to be weighed without their cargoes. It was all right with the driver. There were two lions, two monkeys and a gorilla in the vehicles.

Now the inspector would like to know who was expected to hold the cargoes while the weighing took place.

ROCKVILLE

WELFARE ASSN. FACES BIG JOB THIS WINTER

Money in Any Amount, No Matter How Small, Will Be Welcome For Relief Work.

The Rockville Welfare Association is making an urgent appeal for money, clothing, food and shoes for the needy of the city and town. Announcement was made today that the organization is at the end of its funds, and with the winter coming there is a great demand for further relief.

Charles H. Allen has tendered his resignation as treasurer of the organization as his plans will take him from the city. After November 1, Kenneth White, assistant treasurer of the Savings Bank of Rockville, will take up this office.

During the winter of 1930-31 there was an expenditure of $800 on the part of the association, which was done by Miss Katherine McCarthy of the Visiting Nurse Association, now Mrs. Herbert Regan. Last year with the response of the Maxwell family, Herbert J. Regan, employee of the Rockville Telephone Company and others, the sum of $5,548.09 was raised to carry on the work.

A new welfare committee was formed and Mrs. Lebeus was appointed its head. She had many willing helpers the past year. But so much money was required that much more is now needed to help the poor during the coming winter.

The committee asks for $3,000 this year and any donation, no matter how small, will be gladly received.

Raymond C. Morris, 40, of Ellington, died at the Springfield hospital on Sunday from injuries received in an automobile accident in Enfield on September 2. Mr. Morris was visiting in that place and was driving in the center of the town, when his car was struck by a Greyhound bus. He was taken to the Springfield hospital.

He was born in Ellington, June 13, 1892, and had resided there all his life, with the exception of nine years spent in Virginia. He was the son of Joseph C. Morris and Bertha Chapman Morris.

Mr. Morris had charge of the mail truck between Rockville and Ellington and was caretaker of the Hall Memorial Library at Ellington. He leaves his mother, Mrs. Bertha Morris of Ellington and a brother, Roland, of Enfield.

The funeral was largely attended from the Ellington Congregational church this afternoon at 2:30. Rev. John T. Nichols, pastor, officiated. Interment was in the family plot in the Ellington cemetery.

Miss Mary Czerna of Village street and Anthony Zuraw of Mountain street were married at St. Joseph's Polish Catholic church on Monday at 9 a. m. Rev. Sigismund Woronicki, pastor, performed the ceremony. The wedding march from "Lohengrin" was played by the organist, Stanley Kalanski, as the bride party entered the church, and the "Midsummer Night's Dream" by Mendelssohn, was played for the recessional.

The bridesmaids were Miss Josephine Czerna, sister of the bride, Miss Frances Dorpeat of Chapeau, Mass., and Miss Evelyn Cherkasov of this city. The best man was Anthony Dobosz, and the ushers, Joseph Koski and Joseph Marzenowski of Rockville.

The bride wore white satin, and veil which fell from her face, and was trimmed with pearls and orange blossoms. She carried a shower of bridal roses and lilies of the valley.

The bridesmaids wore blue, pink and orange silk, with bandeaus to match and carried roses.

A wedding breakfast and reception were held at the home of the groom's brother, Frank Zuraw of South street.

Large Number In Jail With two more men sent to Tolland County Jail in Tolland on Monday, there are now 25 prisoners at the jail, 22 men and 3 women. This statement was made by Jailer Esten Clough. This is the largest number since the early spring.

Mr. Clough expects more as the cold weather sets in as many men are looking for a place to spend the winter months. There are several trusted men at the jail.

Marriage Announcement Announcement has been made of the marriage on Friday, October 21, at South Windham of Miss Vera Barrett, daughter of Mrs. Mary L. Morse of South Windham, to Theodore R. Mitchell. The bride was formerly secretary of the extension service at the Connecticut Agricultural College. Mr. Mitchell is an employee of the Hockanum Mills Company of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell will reside at 269 East Main street, this city.

MEXICAN BORDER PATROL POST GREET'S SEYMOUR

Colonel Clarence W. Seymour was called upon to make a few remarks at the smoker given by the Thomas W. Carter Post No. 1 Mexican Border Patrol at the State Armory in Hartford last evening. He complimented the members upon the fine work they had done in organizing such a splendid post and paid compliments to the Commander, "Jake" Walsh. He told the members that under the capable and enthusiastic leadership of Commander Walsh and the other officers, the post would grow to be a tremendous factor for the wellbeing of those ex-service men who participated in the campaign on the Mexican Border.

Colonel Seymour remarked on the Colonel Seymour, as an ex-service man, told them it he was sent to Washington, he would always have the best interests of the veteran at heart, bearing in mind the wellbeing of the taxpayer as a whole. Colonel Seymour remarked on the number of ex-service men who had been chosen to fill the various nominations of the Republican Ticket in Connecticut, this year, and remarked that he thought he was the only one of the group, however, who was a veteran of the Mexican Border.

WOMEN'S CLUBS CONVENTION IN DANIELSON FRIDAY

State Federation Holds Fall Meeting As Guests of Killingly Woman's Club.

The Connecticut State Federation of Women's Clubs will hold its fall meeting on Thursday at Danielson, guests of the Killingly Woman's club. The program will begin at 10:30 with an invocation by Rev. Harding W. Gayford, pastor of the Westfield Congregational church.

The club collect will be led by Mrs. George H. Stoughton of Hartford, past president. Mrs. Robert F. Gadd, state president and Mrs. Lucy B. Wilson, first vice president, both of Hartford will preside.

Mrs. Eric V. Johnson, president of the Killingly Woman's club will greet the delegates. The morning session will be given over to Federation activities, with reports on the general federation Biennial at Seattle by Miss Grace E. Barnum of Bethel and on the New England Conference at Whitefield, N. H. by Mrs. D. L. Brockett of Suffield. Miss Emily Louise Plumley of Glenbrook will report on the national department of citizenship of which she is chairman.

Departmental reports will be given by Mrs. Louis H. Dresler of New Haven on American Citizenship; Miss Edith Mason of Storrs on American home; Miss Grace E. Barnum of Bethel on education; Mrs. Edward B. Hunn of New Haven on fine arts; Miss Mary R. Woodruff of New Haven on international relations; Mrs. Harry Lyman of New Preston on junior clubs; Mrs. Herbert F. Fisher of Hartford on legislation; Mrs. William J. Slaton of Waterbury on publicity and Mrs. George W. Perry of Hartford on public welfare.

Mrs. Fred L. Pigeon, chairman of education for the general federation will speak on "Safeguard Your Public Schools" and Leroy A. Ramsdell, secretary of the Council of Social Agencies in Hartford will speak on "America's Crisis."

The morning session will close with the report of Mrs. Ernest W. Nowell of Wallingford, editor of the Connecticut Club Courier, and that of Mrs. R. H. Gordon of Hartford on the national magazine.

Mrs. Gadd, Mrs. Harry R. Tarbox of Greenwich and Mrs. Brownell Gage of Suffield will preside at the afternoon session. Mrs. Harold B. Atwood will be the soloist with Mrs. S. H. Perry at the piano. A. R. Wellington, New England representative of the national recreation association, will speak on "Safeguard Our Youth" and Prof. William Orton of Smith College will talk on "Social Aspects of the Motion Picture."

Committee reports will be given by Mrs. Werner H. Hoffman of Cheshire on the Phipps Memorial Student Loan; Miss Mary J. Potter of Hartford on adult education; Mrs. Otis G. Bunnell of New Haven on conservation; Mrs. Dudley A. Galbreath of Hartford on correction; Mrs. Edwin T. Clowdy on national council of signatures; Mrs. John D. It has taken Governor Cross quite a while to discover, apparently much to his surprise, that the municipalities of this state are wasting a great deal of money on interest on moneys borrowed in anticipation of taxes.

Now that the governor has found out about the tax anticipation borrowings he is, unfortunately, convinced that nothing much can be done about them until another "survey" has been made, this time the subject of the inquest being the charters of all the municipalities that operate under such instruments.

This may be so, but it is rather to be doubted. There is nothing sacrosanct about municipal charters in this state. The Legislature, which is the creator of all such instruments, has plenty of power to do about anything it pleases with them, even to the point of abrogation.

It is a wretched practice that never ought to have been started and, having got started, ought to have been put an end to many years ago. You can fiddle with the problem all you like, it isn't going to be possible for any of these municipalities that have been discounting their tax bills at the banks to catch up with their debts without assessing themselves more than one year's taxes in one year.

With the price of corn down to within a fraction of the lowest figure since 1897, a Chicago dispatch says: "The use of corn as fuel promises to be relatively heavy in many sections of the belt this winter. Especially in sections that have a high freight rate to leading terminal markets."

The thought of burning food is likely to shock many persons, even when the proceeding is necessary to the health and well being of human beings. At the same time it need not be inferred that the use of corn as a fuel is altogether unprecedented or that it indicates a hopeless demoralization of American agriculture or a final breakdown of our system of production and distribution.

The use of corn as fuel on quite a large scale by the farmers themselves has been practiced at several different periods in the West. They burned a great deal of corn in the '90's and in the '70's that grain probably did as much to sustain life through several terrible winters in the prairie states, through its use in stoves, as through its translation into pork and into meal.

would not prefer feeding corn into her stoves to using the stuff from the strip mines of the Hawkeye State must be more lax than tidy. Still and all, the grain belt farmers don't burn corn unless they are hard up. It's one of the concrete evidences of impoverishment when they do.

JUST CAN'T DO IT. The mad enthusiasm of Alfred E. Smith for the Roosevelt-Garner ticket is as unrestrained and ebullient as that of a small boy for a dose of castor oil, and it received due expression in the "Happy Warrior's" Newark speech last night. The great Al is human—very human. Also he is naturally honest. Having become convinced that duty to his party required that he make some sort of a gesture of "regularity" in this campaign, he is going through the motions of approval of the team who, in conjunction with Smith's dearest enemy, Mr. McAdoo, and his next dearest enemy, Mr. Hearst, put up the job at Chicago that deprived Mr. Smith of all voice in the selection of the party's candidates.

We do Mr. Smith the justice of believing that he did the best he could, at Newark, for the Democratic cause. It is not fair to him to admit the suspicion that he lay down on the job. But it was a pallid joy indeed that the usually hard hitting fighter brought to this particular battle.

Only by holding close before his own eyes a picture of Herbert Hoover's lack of profound interest in the wet-and-dry question could Mr. Smith get up any ginger at all. The result was the curious spectacle of the real key-man in the Democratic campaign, at a moment when the country is absorbed in the mightiest controversy it has ever known over economic issues of enormous importance, turning back to a petty minor issue that, in the face of a hundred infinitely graver questions, has been almost completely forgotten.

Al Smith is to be respected for the measure of forgiveness which he has been able to force down his own throat. But it is perfectly obvious, from the Newark speech, that with the best of intentions he is going to be unable to accomplish anything of importance for the national Democratic ticket this year. With all the will in the world he cannot successfully pretend.

NOT THE WHOLE STORY. While the canvass conducted among Congressional candidates by the Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform seems to disclose an unquestionable drift toward the wet side it must be admitted that the report of the questionnaire sent out by the organization leaves the situation a little fogged. The organization reports with every show of glee that out of 607 Congressional candidates "who have replied" to the poll 583 are classified as wet and only 54 as dry. This might be big news if we knew how many candidates remain who have not replied at all. There are about 900 Congressional candidates in the two major parties, and if the poll had included only these, with almost 800 not replying at all, would be one thing. The same number, out of twelve or thirteen hundred, would not be quite so reassuring to those who hope for repeal action in the next Congress.

It would have added greatly to the interest of the report if the number of the candidates polled had been given. Five hundred and fifty-three wets out of 900 candidates all told, with almost 800 not replying at all, would be one thing. The same number, out of twelve or thirteen hundred, would not be quite so reassuring to those who hope for repeal action in the next Congress.

Perhaps, however, there will be some more answers yet from candidates who belatedly come to the conclusion that a man on a fence makes a shining mark for election day brickbats.

RIGHT ON THE JOB. There is one newspaper in Connecticut which is not to be diverted by any Presidential campaign, no matter how bitter, from an issue dearer to the soul of its town than any President or would-be President. The Danbury News does not forget, every once in a while, to roll up its sleeves and take a poke at the silly, distasteful, unhandsome, assinine, dangerously unhealthy and economically ruinous practice, indulged in by some men and boys, of going hatless outdoors.

In the News' view the "fad" is all those things and a few more, none of them nice. Self preservation is the first law of nature. Danbury is based on hats. If people were to go bareheaded altogether, that would spell the end of Danbury. If we lived in Danbury no doubt we should feel as severely on his subject as does the

FLOP CHAMPS. These athlete-splitters who have been introduced into this campaign as an "added attraction" are at least adding to the gaiety of nations. When Albie Booth came forth as a defender of Hoover and the Republican state ticket the Democrats scored by showing that, though 24 years old, Albie had never been made a voter. Now the score is tied by the fact that Gene Tunney, who led the way into the political lists, himself failed to qualify as an elector in Stamford and will be unable to vote for the Democratic ticket for which he has been orating. The Republican cheering section is enjoying its turn at the razzberry. Probably by the time another Presidential election rolls around both parties will have decided that the exploitation of champion prize fighters and football stars in political campaigns isn't such a hot idea.

"DAMN THE TORPEDOES!" One of the very few newspaper enterprises inaugurated in this country since the beginning of the depression is a new weekly just established at Holden, Mass., by Nason H. Arnold, lecturer, author of the "Rusty" books, and known in Manchester through his services during several summers as a vacation "reliant" editor on The Herald. Mr. Arnold's new paper is called the Holden District News and devotes itself to the local interests of Holden, Rutland and Princeton. Its first issue is smart in content and appearance and carries a satisfactory amount of advertising.

Mr. Arnold is a veteran newspaperman and a fluent, frequently humorous writer. Friends all over New England will join in wishing him all success.

IN NEW YORK. Glorious, Gish! New York, Oct. 25.—I wish I hadn't come across that phrase in Albert Bigelow Paine's book on "Life and Lillian Gish." The phrase reads: "Her face has often been likened to music, the strains of Debussy. . . ."

This sets me to wondering whether I've gone blind. You see, my seats at the opening nights of Theater Guild shows have, for some seasons, been just behind those occupied by Miss Lillian Gish and George Jean Nathan. I have found myself watching her more intently than the show; almost wishing I had a periscope, and some other time my vision has become so fixated that I have had to look away from the picture since the talkies came. I will recall a symbol of pursued girlhood, pitter-patter around any available property bush while the villain chanted: "Ah, my little girl—ah, my little girl—come here here here!"

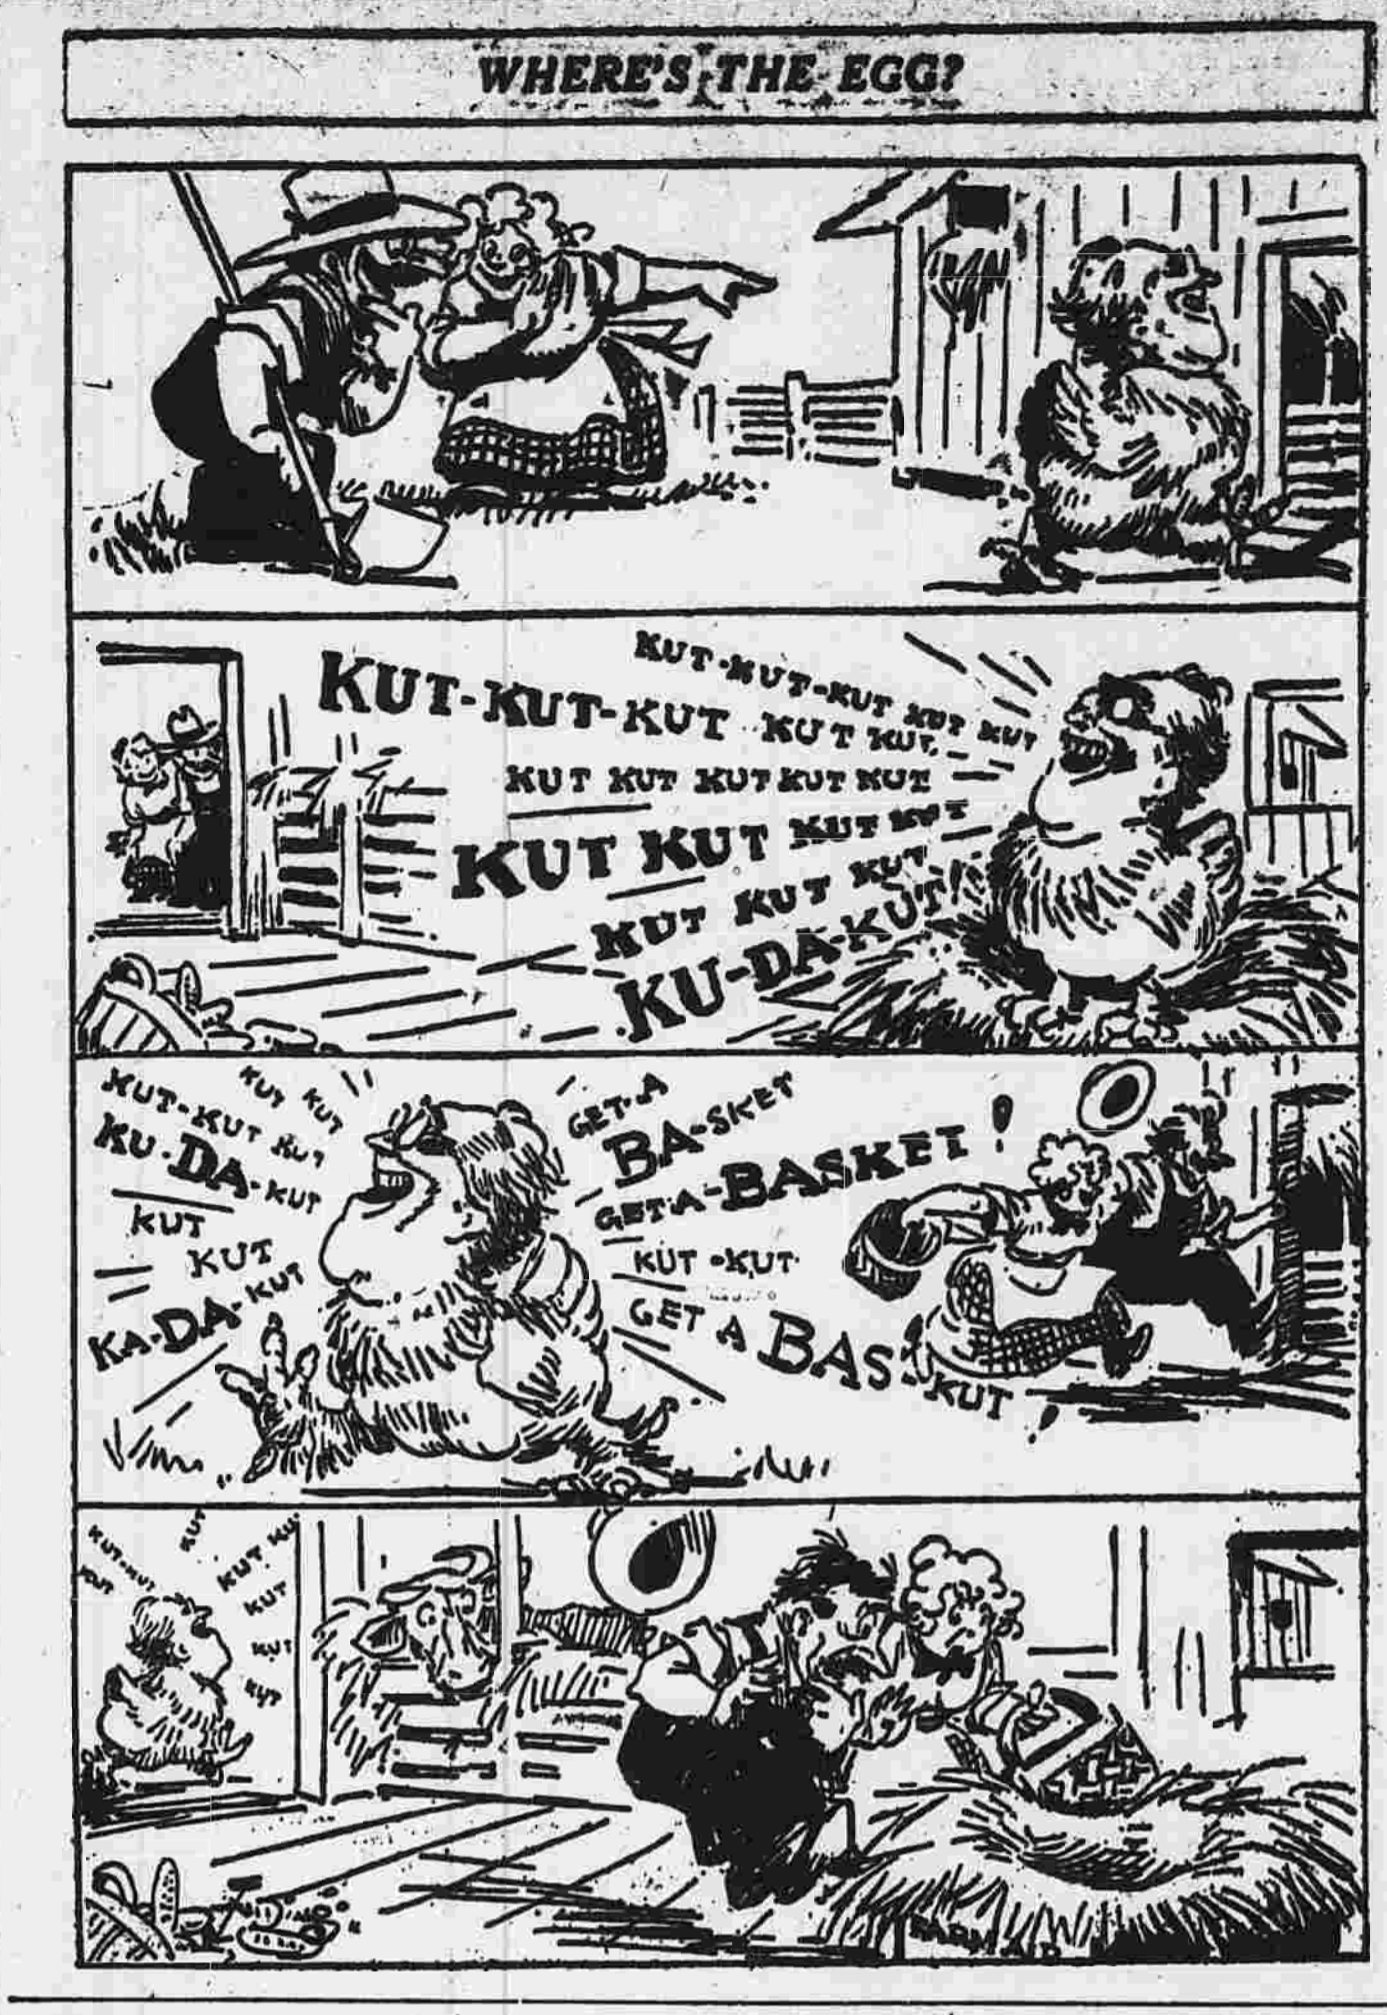

But whatever my own reactions—and in "Uncle Venya," I must admit a surrender to this young woman's plastic beauty—it's interesting to note the sudden effort to canonize the particular attractions of this film favorite of yesterday. What is one going to do when so devout a spokesman of the better myths as James Branch Cabell gushes forth with this: "Your beauty has been to me a robber that snipped my life of joy and sorrow."

Leaving that life, Mr. Cabell, to wander about clad in abstractions—thank heaven! And it seems to me, too, that a fig leaf of humor may have saved you from the police!

A Dream of Youth. Harry Hansen, the New York book critic, sums it all up by insisting that Miss Gish is "the embodiment of the middle-aged man's dream of youth eternal. She is the ideal of the boys of the old brigade."

At any rate, I guess I should ask Buck Crouse to change my seats before I come under the spell of what Joseph Hergeshimer refers to as "the fragrant April moon of man's hope."

You see, harvest moons have always been my favorite! Broadway—to Rome. Noted in passing: Helen Hayes' first introduction to the screen was as leading lady to Rin Tin Tin's predecessor, Jean, a trained police dog. Her mother took her to the old Vitaphone studio in Brooklyn and the kid got a chance. And if you don't think that when in Rome you dance as the Yanks do, let me tip you that Myrta Davis, the society band leader, has been given the assignment of leading a 150-piece band at the Muscolini ball in Rome next January. Also, it might surprise you to learn how many ex-noblemen are looking for any old sort of job. Will Oakland, the cafe man, decided that he would have a count, baron, earl or prince as his host at the Willows Club. More than 100 were standing in line after an ad had been placed in the paper. Another humdrum showed up, but they had left their credentials in the nearest post house.

HEALTH-DIET ADVICE BY DR. FRANK MCCOY

Questions in regard to Health and Diet will be Answered by Dr. McCoy who can be addressed in care of this Paper. Enclose stamped, self-addressed Envelope for Reply.

TREATMENT FOR CATARRHAL DEAFNESS. When the eustachian tubes leading to the middle ear from the throat become more and more filled with mucus, the passages may be entirely closed. A physician may be able to open these passages by treatment but the effects produced are at best temporary. The constitutional causes must be removed and the hearing restored.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. (Proper Ventilation Important) Question: Yola D. inquires: "What is the proper way to ventilate a room? It seems to me that without fresh air all the time a special diet would be of no use to the body."

(Wants to Be Six-Footer) Question: Alwyn F. asks: "If a person lies in bed an hour longer than usual each day, will he grow taller? If my father is 6 feet 6, and my mother 5 feet 2, can I possibly become a 6-footer? Does heredity make any difference in the height of a boy?"

(Sulphur and Molasses) Question: Mrs. Myrtle J. writes: "I would like you to advise me whether or not the old-fashioned remedy of sulphur and molasses is good for constipation and purifying the blood and if it is injurious in any way."

superior for cleansing the blood stream and can be considered a good natural tonic. (Fruit Juices) Question: Miss Joan O. asks: "Will you kindly inform me if it is all right to mix lemon and grapefruit juice? I use lemon juice in hot water every morning upon arising but I find it more palatable to mix the two."

Answers: The juices of oranges, grapefruit and lemons may be mixed, as they contain essentially the same elements. The principal acid contained in them is citric acid. No other fruits should be combined in this way.

(Receding Gums) Question: Roy T. asks: "What causes the gums to recede, and how may I help them?" Answer: Receding gums are caused by the effects of hyper-acidity of the stomach, and are also due to decomposition of food between the teeth, bacterial growth, and allowing the teeth to become coated with tartar. Go to a dentist and have your teeth scaled and the gums treated. At the same time, make the proper dietetic changes so as to overcome the over-acidity of the gastric juice.

A BOOK A DAY BY BRUCE CATTON ENGLISH SAILOR WINS SAMURAI'S TITLE IN JAPAN

"The Needle Watcher" is Novel of High Adventure in Island Kingdom. Three centuries ago the "mysterious east" was really mysterious. Men still believed that there was a northwest passage to Cathay, somewhere, and a man who ventured out from England could be sure of finding strange adventure and romantic danger once he had reached the China Sea.

It is against this background that Richard Blaker has written "The Needle Watcher," a novel dealing with the adventures of one Will Adams, English mariner, whose ship was cast on the coast of Japan in 1600 and who stayed there for the rest of his life to pursue a dream he could never quite catch up with.

Adams—dubbed the "needle watcher" because of his familiarity with the compass—somehow struck the fancy of Ieyasu, all-powerful Shogun of Japan, so Ieyasu, instead of crucifying him as he planned, took him into his service, made a two-sword nobleman, a Samurai, of him, and enabled him to marry a Japanese woman and found a nobleman's estate. The rest of the story tells how Adams did with his new life; how he clung to his old desire to find the northwest passage; how he refused to return to England, how he tried constantly to help the English merchants who came to Japan, and how, finally, he lost the Shogun's favor. And it makes a good story; a story made colorful by romance and adventure in a story-book land, a story which, in short, is as good a romantic-adventure novel as you will run across all fall. It is published by Doubleday, Doran & Co., and it sells at $2.50.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN Washington Smith's Classic Greeting to Governor Roosevelt May Be Just What Democrats Need By RODNEY DUTCHER NRA Service Writer Washington—A new and classic phrase has entered the cockeyed annals of American political history. "How are you, you old potato?" It has little in common with most of the others—"Run, Romanism and Rebellion," "He kept us out of War," "Tippecanoe and Tom," "Sixteen to One," "Burn This Letter," "Back to Normalcy," "Thou Shalt Not Steal," "Three Hundred and Twenty-nine," "Free Soil, Free Speech, Free Men and Free Trade." But there they are, the very words used by Al Smith as he publicly signalled his reconciliation with Governor Roosevelt in what seems to have been the most important "break" in this pregnant campaign. Now the Democrats can trade through New Jersey, New York and New England with a banner bearing no other insignia than a large, handsome potato, flaunting it before those brave, grim Irishmen whose loyalty to Al has led them to eschew the charming governor and threaten to deprive him of many very important electoral votes. Other politicians may juggle solely with the more ponderous and dignified phrases and issues of the campaign, but it takes Al Smith to toss in such homely items as beloney and potatoes. Somehow one cannot imagine Mr. Hoover calling Senator Borah "good old Idaho potato." Roosevelt's evening wouldn't have been spoiled in the slightest even if he had been called an old turnip, an old cabbage or an old egg plant. The big reunion of Al and Frank seemed to have been carefully planned by the political historians. There is a good chance that it will assume enormous importance. For it may be just what was needed to give the Democrats New York state, and New York state, with its 47 electoral votes, may easily prove to have been just what the Democrats need to carry the country. Various polls have indicated a very close race in New York and Democrats have believed that there wouldn't have been any question about it except for the resentment of Al's followers. Massachusetts and perhaps the rest of New England may be irretrievably lost to Roosevelt, but New Jersey is likely to vote the same ticket as New York, as it has in the last nine elections. It is well to remember that the two states have gone Republican in every two-party presidential contest of the last 40 years and that there is no assurance that they will now change, although the prospects are definitely brighter. The chances would seem to be that Al Smith and Franklin "Old Potato" Roosevelt, pulling together, can hold their own home state. They are the two smallest politicians of the period. They miss very few tricks and make hardly any breaks. They have a high-grade state ticket in Lieut.-Gov. Lehman and Senator Wagner. And each man has a remarkable record of victory in the Empire State, Smith through his successive elections as governor and Roosevelt in his success against the Hoover landslide of 1928 and his own plurality of 725,000 for governor in 1930. The big reconciliation act at the state convention seemed to have been timed exactly to offset the publicity on Hoover's highly important speech at Des Moines, reminiscent of Roosevelt's trick in casting Lieut. Walker hearings at the time of the Hoover acceptance speech. The anti-Hoover press took advantage of the "old potato" performance to subordinate the Des Moines speech. Good as the speech was, an encouraging as was the western venture to the president, Al and Frank put on a show to match it. If they are going to be needed out of the election it will require a brilliant piece of outsmarring.

SILENT GLOW $22.50 Now you can own a genuine Silent Glow for as little as $22.50! Here's a fine range oil burner, made and guaranteed by the Silent Glow Corp., pioneer range oil makers. Why experiment with an unknown make when the best costs no more? WATKINS MARVELOUS MANHATTAN By WILLIAM GAINES

New York—The delightful Goeta Ljungberg made an amusing feature story for the ship news reporters when she came back here for the abbreviated Metropolitan season. Asked if she were as tall as she looked—say, perhaps 5 feet, 10 or more—Miss Ljungberg staged a little scene for the boys right in the grand salon of the Deutschland. She kicked off her high heel slippers and insisted she be measured then and there, in her stocking feet. A steward brought a tape measure and said he found her to be only 5 feet 8. Mademoiselle (is that all right in Swedish?) said it should be a mere 5 and 7. You know how the salt air stretches those tape measures. Those who know her are not surprised when the lovely Ljungberg does something of the sort. They would have you know it isn't just a lighthearted bid for publicity. Mademoiselle is that way—impetuous, right out with things. Almost daring, in fact!

Sweden Scores Again. She's another one of those beauties from Sweden, the land that has flooded our screens with blond charmers. Greta Garbo is one of her idols. But temperamentally, Ljungberg is at the opposite pole from Garbo. The soprano is vivacious, full of fun and friendly with most everybody. She seems to share none of Garbo's Norse melancholia and is in nowise a mystery woman. Ljungberg is a dramatic soprano, in case you haven't heard. And the Metropolitan expects her to be highly popular as an ornamental as well as a talented singer. She is not such a wisp at Lily Pons, the brunet French girl, but she weighs under 150 and preserves an illusion when she sings the role of a girl heroine.

Ljungberg is especially well fitted for Wagner and loves his music and his stories. Her eyes are sky blue and her skin is the fresh, fair skin of the valkyries. Her figure would go well in a Broadway revue, and her only a general idea of what the appealing ring to her laugh. The music critics have told you enough about her singing voice. Strangely, she made her singing debut in the English language at the age of 8, and the song was only a general idea of what the song was all about. But she sang it for the queen of Sweden, who "Home Sweet Home." She had was so impressed she gathered the little Goeta in her royal embrace and kissed her. Now Ljungberg speaks our language very well, and her favorite out-stage songs are the popular products of our own Tin Pan Alley. "There—I've told you everything except how to pronounce her name."

People You Knew About. The father of Bernard M. Baruch, financier, was a field surgeon in the Confederate army. Thyra Samter Winslow's dog goes where she goes, it's one of those pretty little toy pooches. Recently resigned to resting in her arms, the pup is completely indifferent to all those who gather about at a party to ood over it. Another famous pup is Shanty, an Irish terrier belonging to Morgan Dennis, actor. Shanty has been the model for many of her best studies.

TODAY IS THE WORLD WAR ANNIVERSARY BELLEAU WOOD CLEARED On October 25, 1918, Americans cleared Belleau Wood of Germans and held Hill 360 in fierce fighting. British troops reached the Le Quesnoy-Valenciennes railway on a front of six miles while French attacked on the Sarre and the Aisne on a front of 40 miles, advancing at all points. British, French and Italian troops pushed their offensive on the Italian front, between the Brenna and Flave rivers, taking 3,000 prisoners. In Asia Minor, British forces on the Tigris reached Kerukuk and the mouth of the Lesser Zab. We haven't heard much about the Club since the world series ended. There's a chance they won't come out of the cellar before spring.

U. S. FISHERMEN ASK PROTECTION

Say They Cannot Meet Competition From Japan and Norway.

Washington, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Canned fish producers testified today at a Customs Bureau hearing, that unless they had prompt relief from fish product importations, their business would be wrecked.

They attributed dwindling business chiefly to competition from Japan and Norway.

F. A. Harding, Watertown, Mass., representing the Maine sardine industry, said its plight was serious and that 73 firms with 35 plants on the coast were threatened by sardines from Norway.

Norwegian sardines were sold in this country for $3.10 per case of 100 cans, he said, whereas it cost the Maine packers $3.95 per case for a similar grade which was now being sold under cost at $3.45.

He added that Norway sends 70 per cent of all sardine importations. In 1930, Harding testified, 287,000 cases of Norwegian sardines were imported while Maine's production was 1,300,000.

In 1931, the Norwegian production increased to 778,000 cases while the Maine production dropped to 833,000, and this year with the pack virtually finished, Norway had sent 908,000 cases to the United States while the Maine pack had dropped to 330,000 cases.

Harding and James Abernethy, of West Pembroke, Maine, said that with the plants closed the Maine municipalities were being forced to care for thousands of persons who could be given work if the Norwegian imports were stopped.

E. D. Clark, manager of the Association of Pacific Fisheries, Seattle, said Japanese packers were taking advantage of depreciated currency to flood this market with fish products which had been turned away from France and Great Britain by higher tariffs.

LATEST STOCKS

New York, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Stock traders all but suspended operations in today's market, awaiting the action of the U. S. Steel, as that company's preferred dividend after the close of the trading session.

The list moved narrowly in one of the duller sessions of the year, but developed a somewhat heavy tone as the session wore on. Prices stiffened a little in the first hour, but such scant gains as were recorded were quickly lost, and by early afternoon, several issues had slipped a point or more below yesterday's final prices.

Drug, Inc., was a weak feature, losing more than 3 points, and the biscuit stocks were again under pressure, both National Biscuit and Loose Wiles losing nearly 2 points.

Issues of a point or so included American Telephone, U. S. Steel, Common Stock, Allied Chemical, Reynolds, B. Case, United Aircraft, McKeesport and Corn Products. Most price changes, however, were limited to fractions.

Wall street was reconciled to an unsatisfactory quarterly earnings statement from U. S. Steel, as statisticians calculated that the rate of operations indicated another large deficit. Opinion as to probable action on the preferred dividend was decidedly mixed, but brokerage quarters were inclined to lean toward the view that the regular $7 dividend rate would be maintained, or that it would be cut to $5.

Selling of Drug, Inc., evidently deflected the possible re-organization of one of its principal subsidiaries, the Louis K. Liggett Co., should it be unable to get revisions of its leases for the more than 500 stores which it operates. The Liggett Co., Inc., was incorporated in Massachusetts yesterday, with the Louis K. Liggett Co. consenting to the use of its name. It was assumed in Wall street that this might be a successor to the present Liggett Co.

A slump in the wheat market was also a depressing factor in shares. Commodity price indices indicate that the trend has been downward for about six weeks, and it had been the improvement in commodities that provided one of the principal bullish arguments in stocks during the July to September rally.

HIGH COURT SUSTAINS HINDENBURG'S ACTIONS

Prussian ministry by the chancellor was justified, but decided at the same time that the deposed ministers were conceded the right to continue to represent Prussia officially.

Inquiries among the various party leaders brought the stock reply: "We must first study the verdict before announcing our position."

Government circles, however, hastened to assure the Associated Press they consider the verdict a complete victory for Chancellor von Papen.

On the other hand one retired minister of justice described the verdict as giving Prussia two governments.

In an opinion accompanying the verdict the court declared it retained to define the limits within which Article 48 of the Constitution, sometimes called the "Dictatorship clause," could be applied.

The court also declined to decide whether the Prussian government had failed to fulfill its duties, thereby necessitating intervention by the Federal authorities.

Government spokesmen regarded the verdict as a complete justification of the chancellor's course. Even the court's reservation regarding the right of the deposed ministers to represent the state does not affect the Federal government adversely.

All administrative and other measures taken by the Chancellor as commissioner for Prussia or by his appointees, the government representatives said, are unaffected by the court decision.

The court's opinion stated that individual charges by the Federal government of negligence by members of the Prussian Cabinet were not substantiated, especially the charge that the Prussian government had failed to oppose Communism with sufficient energy.

President Justified. The court found, however, that in view of the general political unrest at the time, President von Hindenburg was justified under the constitution to consider that the public safety was materially disturbed and to appoint a temporary Federal commissioner.

While recognizing the chancellor's right to remove Otto Braun, the premier, temporarily, the court intimated that it considered he had exceeded his competence in addressing a letter to Braun as "ausser dienst," which means ex, or retired.

"It is not permissible," the opinion stated, "to turn the whole state government over to a Federal commissioner and to remove the constitutionally appointed ministers from their places. The constitutionally appointed state government must remain as the organ of the state."

The court admits that this easily might lead to friction between the Federal commissioners and the regular ministers, but expresses the opinion that this does not justify "setting aside" the constitutional rights of states.

The opinion admonishes the Prussian Diet to put an end to the present situation by electing a regular government.

Premier Braun summoned his ministry for a meeting tomorrow morning.

The eleventh annual Navy Day program will be observed by the United States Submarine Base at New London Thursday and the public is welcome to attend. Two submarines will welcome visitors at the Submarine Base from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Every activity not of a secret or confidential nature will be open for inspection.

A submarine will make exhibition dives off Pier E several times during the afternoon. Divers will go down from "U. S. S. Albatross" at frequent intervals. No pictures will be permitted, cameras being checked at the entrance. There are many places and objects of interest which the Submarine Base personnel feel will be of particular public interest.

DEBT PARLEY DELAYED

Paris, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Discussion of foreign affairs, including debts owed to the United States, was postponed after the chamber of deputies resumed its sessions today and voted 500 to 78 for immediate debate on agricultural interpellations.

This action made the question of debts not likely to be reached until after the American elections are held.

It seems unlikely, therefore, that the Chamber will reach this issue until November 8. Meantime, there are 16 interpellations on the government's agricultural policies, chiefly concerned with the decline in the price of wheat and the plans the government has to combat speculation and to relieve the farmer. It is even possible that interpellations regarding disarmament will be taken up before the debts matter is reached.

Henry Ford Sued. Providence, R. I., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Henry Ford, Detroit auto manufacturer, is named as defendant in a $100,000 suit instituted in U. S. District Court here by Herbert K. Allard, of Cranston. Allard at one time was employed by Duttes Flint, Inc., former distributor of Ford's cars in this territory. The exact nature of the suit was not indicated in the writ, which says that the action is one of assumption. Abbott Phillips, local attorney, accepted service of the writ in behalf of Mr. Ford.

Officers Blamed. Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 25.—(AP)—The master and chief officer of the British freighter Bright Fan were held to be in default contributing to loss of their vessel on an iceberg in Hudson Strait, in the judgment of the court of inquiry handed down today.

The court held a proper lookout had not been maintained.

on the Republican "board of strategy" directing the 1928 campaign when Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt made a speech which Smith said aroused "bigotry and intolerance."

Smith claimed authorship of the Democratic repeal plank and assailed the Republican plank as holding out "a soup to the wets and a little hope to the drys."

Like a Home Coming. His return to the armory where he made a prohibition speech in 1928 bore the aspects of the homecoming of a hero. The crowd which jammed the cavernous hall with its burning draped rafters and its cries of brilliant spotlights cheered wildly.

On his way from the Holland Tunnel in Jersey City, thousands jammed the streets, welcoming Smith with horns and fireworks.

In the foggy stretch through the dark Passaic and Hackensack meadows, there was a reception for him. In Harrison, fire apparatus parked along the curb opened sirens to whip the cheers into a crescendo.

TO CALL GRAND JURY

New Haven, Oct. 25.—(AP)—A motion to convene the Grand Jury Friday to consider second degree indictments against the two men who drove the car in which Detective Joseph F. Sullivan was fatally injured, was entered by State Attorney Samuel E. Hoyt today, before Judge Arthur F. Ellis. Judge Ellis granted the motion.

The two are William Hunt and John Kelch, both of this city. Sullivan was fatally injured last Friday as he clung to the running board of a car, allegedly stolen, in which Hunt and Welch were attempting to escape when the car crashed into a "red machine and turned over on him."

He died Sunday.

NATIONAL BANK ROBBED

Ransom, Ill., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Seven bandits robbed the First National Bank here of between $1,500 and $2,000 today and escaped after temporarily kidnapping the president and the bookkeeper. Leo Gondolf, president and Miss Elma Thompson, cashier, were driven several miles from town in one of the two bandit automobiles and released unharmed.

Gondolf said five robbers entered the bank and two others remained in the cars outside. All carried pistols and were unmasked.

Officers found the trail and pursued the thieves for some distance. Both car licenses were traced to Chicago.

McGovern, whose firm last February sold $43,000,000 of contracts for sections of a city water tunnel from Yonkers to Brooklyn, was held in contempt of court and given the 60-day sentence in Federal Court June 3. It was charged he gave evasive answers in a Federal Grand Jury's investigation of labor racketeers.

McGOVERN MUST SERVE HIS 60 DAY SENTENCE

New York, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Chief Assistant U. S. Attorney Thomas E. Dewey said today that Patrick McGovern, head of the Contracting firm bearing his name, would be called upon to serve a 60-day sentence for contempt of court as soon as possible.

The United States Supreme Court yesterday refused to review McGovern's case. It was said at the Federal building today that ordinarily it requires about thirty days for a mandate from the U. S. Supreme Court to reach the District Court.

"We will ask that the mandate be sent down immediately," Dewey said, "and as soon as it arrives we will demand Mr. McGovern's surrender."

VON PAPAN LAUGHS AT MONARCHY IDEA

German Chancellor Says Nation Has Too Many Other Problems.

Berlin, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Chancellor Von Papen denied in a speech here today that the restoration of the monarchy in Germany is an issue in German politics.

"There has been a lot of talk about the restoration of the monarchy," he told a convention of German craftsmen. "The foreign press took this up and argued cleverly that such a move would bring a danger of unrest in Europe and that therefore it was necessary not only to loosen the fetters of Versailles, but to draw them tighter."

"I don't want to leave the slightest doubt that we don't concede the right of anybody abroad to judge what form of state is most suitable for Germany. That is for the German people alone to decide."

"But I have already emphasized and I reiterate repeat unmistakably: We have such a multitude of problems to solve that we are glad if we don't have in addition to worry about questions of the form of the state. That question is not an issue."

Economic Situation

As for the economic situation, said the chancellor, things already have taken a turn for the better.

"Common sense tells us that development is justified," he said, "improvement in the world economic situation has been continuing in recent weeks. The drop in prices for raw materials, from which the collapse of world economy emanated, has reached an end unless all signs mislead us."

"Through restricted production stores of a number of representative goods have been so diminished that their necessary replenishment must lead to reviving markets and increasing production."

Repairs in Factories

"Repairs in factories and houses no longer can be postponed, and this fact is an incentive to increased production. The liquidity of money in the international capital markets is greater than ever."

The economic policies of his own government, he said, have proved correct up to now.

"This applies especially to the central idea of first encouraging private initiative and strengthening the domestic market."

He urged that all sections of the German people support the government's economic program and he said that in the immediate future contracts will be let for public works involving 750,000,000 marks.

Answers Hitler

The chancellor took occasion to work in another reply to Adolf Hitler's attacks on his foreign policy.

"It is the climax of blind partisanship," he said, "if the leader of the Nationalist movement forges weapons from untrue statements for foreign countries against his own hard-fighting government."

"Even this stab in the back will not hinder us from continuing our straight course on behalf of Germany's rights."

The present government has cleared the way for the German state once more with the force of the National idea, and it is now engaged in the task of crowning this effort by drafting a new constitution."

Queer Twists In Day's News

Cambridge, Mass.—There's a senior at Harvard University with "a strong back and a weak mind" who has distributed circulars about Cambridge advertising himself as having "a strong back and a weak mind and a willingness to clean and polish automobiles at $4 the job."

Oklahoma City—Judge R. P. Hill believes life on a New Mexico ranch may rid Warren Nance, son of an Oklahoma city pastor, of proclivities he attributed to reading crime fiction. He gave Warren a suspended sentence of seven years for burglary after members of the father's congregation urged leniency, and directed the youth to remain on the ranch until further notice.

Chicago—As a sleeper, John Killian seems to be losing his reputation as Chicago's champion sleeper because he has been found snoozing in such places as an undertaker's coffin, railroad tracks and the scaffolding of a new building, he was arraigned for sleeping on a sidewalk.

"Such a place, such a place," said the judge. "It's much too prosaic. Case dismissed."

Pittsburgh—Pittsburgh's youngest hitch-hiker, Dick Hoffman, 2, was picked up two miles from home as he stood at the curb of a busy street, signaling with a little plumb thumb.

Detective Patrick R. Tulley led the wanderer to a police station shortly before a frantic mother phoned the desk sergeant.

"If there's a patch on the seat of his overalls, it's him," she said. Tulley turned Dick upside-down—the patch was there.

Danville, Ky.—The Nichols family apparently has a monopoly on the county clerkship of Boyle county. The office has been held by members of the family since the county was established 90 years ago. The present clerk is John B. Nichols, Jr., who has held the office 38 years. The first clerk was John B. Nichols, Sr., appointed in 1842 and succeeded by his son, R. S. Nichols.

Detroit—Miss Sarah M. James remained a voluntary prisoner today in Detroit's oldest hotel, the Franklin, of which she is part owner. The hotel was closed by the trust company which had been operating it because it was a losing venture.

Miss James, who refuses to leave and communicate with the outside world only by messages lowered to the street on a string, contends she could make the hotel pay her.

Cleveland—Nine football players at John Carroll University were in good shape today for a track meet, but not for football. Thieves stole their pants from a locker room.

Erle, Pa.—Workmen are dismantling the Niagara Commemorative Perry's historic flagship, preparatory to its reconstruction.

Wood, discarded in the wrecking operations, will be turned over to the poor for fuel.

Graz, Austria—Firemen were not balked when they rushed to a blazing inn at Dornietten and found all the wells dry. They found many barrels of cider in the barn and saved the inn by pouring it on the flames. The innkeeper didn't know whether to smile or cry.

Brazil, Ind.—Dr. M. A. Freed, 75, Clay county's oldest practicing physician, read of the sudden death of a friend and commented it was "as easy way to die." A few minutes later, he suffered a fatal heart attack.

Milwaukee, Wis.—Looking into the future, Oscar Chapman, a merchant, sees milady smoking jeweled pipes. He says the women are getting the pipe habit and asks:

"Why not? Their grandmothers used to smoke 'em."

Oklahoma City—Armed with a butcher knife, Mrs. Virgil Mitchell captured a youthful burglar and marched him into custody of her husband, working at a nearby garage. The culprit escaped while Mitchell was questioning him.

Rockford, Ill.—The advice of Dr. Elbert Fretwell, of Columbia University, to teachers is: "Use more soap and less rouge and lipstick, and you will be easier to look at."

He was addressing female educators of Rockford.

Baltimore—The day after Andrew Clott left for a four months' visit to his pet cat, placed in the care of Clott's son, disappeared. Clott returned a few days ago and the next day the cat reappeared—with a well-fed appearance.

San Francisco—George Stocking, a barber, identified a woman fatally injured in an automobile accident as his wife; rode in the ambulance to an emergency hospital, and wept over the body. Then he went sadly home and found his wife, Mrs. Maud Stocking, waiting supper.

Chicago—That old jest about the marrow man not caring for his mother-in-law may not apply in the case of Ted Pawlowski. His wife, Lillian, charged in divorce court that her husband had eloped with her mother. The court withheld final action.

Tiffin, O.—Peter Eckert has a new fish story. He caught a two-pound bass and a 14-pound carp at the same time, with only one hook on the line. The bass took the hook and in trying to get away, wound the line around the carp's head. Eckert's companions endorsed his story.

KILLS PARENTS, SELF

Huntington, W. Va., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Samuel W. Patterson, a wealthy coal operator, and his wife and son, Thomas, 27, were found dead in their home today. A coroner's jury decided the youth shot his mother and father and then slashed his wrists.

Police, called by servants to the home in one of Huntington's exclusive residential districts, broke into Thomas' room.

FISH CHALLENGES F. D. ROOSEVELT

Congressman Wants To Know If Candidate Will Recognize Russia.

Washington, Oct. 25.—(AP)—After a conference with President Hoover today, at which he said the matter was discussed, Representative Fish of New York issued a statement challenging Franklin D. Roosevelt to "state without evasion and further delay" his stand on the recognition of Soviet Russia.

It quoted Roosevelt as having replied to inquiries that the could not "comply with your request to give you a definite statement as to my attitude on the recognition of Russia," since "as governor of New York I have had to give my attention for the last three years to state matters."

Fish said this statement was made by the Democratic nominee within the past two weeks.

"In view of the fact that Governor Roosevelt has been finally smoked out on the payment of the bonus," he went on, "at least to the extent of straddling and deceiving the veterans, are not the American people entitled to know whether he stands on the recognition of Soviet Russia, the sales tax, the oleo fat money, pork-barrel legislation, and tariff on sugar, oil, and lumber before they go to the polls on November 8 to elect a Chief Executive—the highest office in the gift of the people?"

After saying he was making a formal "challenge" to Roosevelt to state his stand upon such matters, Fish added:

"Most radicals in the country are in favor of the recognition of Soviet Russia, and in view of the charges made against Governor Roosevelt as being a radical, or being aligned with the radicals, the public has a right to know before election day his attitude on this issue, which involves free American labor, our economic life and principles of government."

HIGH COURT REFUSES TO REVIEW LEA CASE

Washington, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The Supreme Court refused today to review convictions of Luke Lea, Tennessee publisher, his son, Luke, Jr., and Wallace B. Davis, former Asheville, N. C., banker on charges of conspiring to misapply bank funds, and then adjuring until November 7 without acting on the Scottsboro case.

Davis and the two Leas were convicted of conspiring to misapply funds of the Central Bank and Trust Company, Asheville. The Supreme Court's action in effect upholds the convictions.

Although final arguments were completed two weeks ago, the court took no action in the Scottsboro case in which seven negroes had appealed death sentences imposed for assault on two white girls near Scottsboro, Alabama.

A two weeks recess will prevent action on the case until November 7, at the earliest.

The court today also set aside a refusal by a three-judge Federal Court to pass on the validity of the Kentucky gross sales tax law of 1930, and sustained the Pennsylvania Act imposing a tax of eight mills on the gross premiums received by stock life insurance companies.

UNEMPLOYED SAILORS MAKE KNOWN DEMANDS

Washington, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Eight representatives of the "Marine Workers Industrial Union" today deposited at the White House a list of relief demands, leaving with a verbal statement that "unless something is done we will organize and come back in thousands."

Theodore Joslin, one of President Hoover's secretaries, received the delegation in his office immediately adjoining that of Mr. Hoover.

Asked by George Mink, chairman of the union, what would be done with their demands, Joslin said he would give them to the Chief Executive and that they could expect a reply from him "soon."

The delegation asked payment of one dollar a day for all seamen unemployed a month or more, admission of unemployed seamen to marine hospitals, passage of the workers' employment insurance bill as outlined by the Communist party, recognition of Soviet Russia, and the use of laid up government vessels, such as the George Washington, as lodging places for unemployed seamen.

Mink estimated there were 80,000 unemployed seamen, 20,000 in New York alone.

KIDNAPERS HELD

Boston, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Three alleged kidnapers of Samuel Rutstein of Boston were held without bail today on charge of robbery after they had been indicted by a Suffolk county Grand Jury in a special session. It was the first time in the memory of witnesses at the court house that prisoners had been held without bail on a charge other than murder.

The defendants are Walter Addison, William Harmon and Max Schechter, alias Gould, who were arrested at a Hull cottage by policemen who rescued Rutstein October 16.

Under Massachusetts law, the maximum penalty for armed robbery is life imprisonment. Kidnaping does not carry such a severe penalty. The trio were indicted on charges of kidnaping and armed robbery of $26 from Rutstein.

Overnight A. P. News

Boston—State Department of Labor and Industries reports the combined "cost of living index" in Massachusetts for September decreased more than two and one half per cent from that of the previous month.

Northampton, Mass.—Joseph Kowalczyk of Springfield is killed and his son, Joseph, Jr., is injured as they on an auto trip with their brother, Cleveland Collins, taking back to their home Mr. and Mrs. Chester Collins, their aunt, and uncle, who have been visiting in Columbia and East Hartford.

Miss Anne Dix motored to Montclair, N. J., Friday to spend a few days at the home of her sister, Mrs. Norton Falloh. She was accompanied as far as New York by Miss Katherine Ink and Mrs. Mary Ink, who will stay there for a few days.

Rev. A. W. Mellinger had charge of the opening exercises Friday evening at the meeting of the Tolland County Conference of Religious Education. He was assisted by Mr. Clayton Hunt, Raymond Lyman, Mrs. Edith Inham and Mrs. Hunt.

The Selectmen and Town Clerk met at the Town Hall to make voters Saturday. Only two appeared to be made during the day. Last Saturday eight were made. Most of those on the "to be made" list were made voters previous to the Town election early in October.

The leader of the Christian Endeavor Society meeting Sunday evening was Hubert P. Collins. He had as his subject "What attempts have been made to solve the liquor problem, and with what results?"

The Ladies Aid society will hold its October meeting in the chapel on Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock, with the 1st directress, Miss Agnes Dix, as hostess.

CONFESSES MURDER

Fort Worth, Tex., Oct. 25.—(AP)—William Raymond Ryals, 23, pleaded guilty in Criminal District Court today to the slaying of A. G. MacGuerty, of Winchester, Mass., a newspaper circulation auditor.

Ryals will receive a 99-year sentence, it was announced by J. H. Letts, Houston, his attorney and former employer. An agreement on the sentence was reached between Letts and the district attorney's office.

The youth, formerly a stenographer for Letts, confessed he killed MacGuerty near Arlington, Tex., the night of Sept. 25 in a robbery and took the body to Galveston, burying it under a seaside cottage. Arrested a week later, he directed officers to the crime grave.

MOTOR VESSEL SAFE

Hamilton, Bermuda, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The 90-foot motor vessel Tanamakoon was safe in St. George's Harbor today after having been towed in on Saturday morning. She had motor trouble and was helpless forty miles off Bermuda until the rescue came.

MANY JOBS CREATED

New York, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Walter Teagle, National co-ordinator of the share-the-work-movement, told an organization meeting of Brooklyn business men interested in the movement today that the project had so far given jobs to 3,500,000 unemployed throughout the country.

COLUMBIA PROTECTS AMERICANS

Bay City, Mich., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Vice-President Charles Curtis told a campaign audience yesterday that a high tariff is the only way the American market can be kept for American producers.

"The Republican tariff," he said, "was passed with a view to placing agriculture on an equal basis with industry, and this it is doing. Under Republican tariffs, our export business has increased."

He referred to sugar beets as "the only real cash crop Michigan farmers have at present," and said that "under a Democratic tariff, this source of revenue would vanish."

The vice-president quoted from correspondence he said had been exchanged between Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, the Democratic Presidential candidate, and La Cesa Grande, a Cuban corporation.

The Cuban corporation, Mr. Curtis said, congratulated Governor Roosevelt on his nomination and said they were glad to "note his statement in which he declared confederacy and dishonest the duty of two cents per pound on Cuban sugar and that in his opinion this duty should be reduced to 20 per cent ad valorem."

In reply, he said, Governor Roosevelt wrote: "Thank you for your hearty congratulations. It gives me a great deal of pleasure to discover that my political ideals are understood and appreciated by my friends in neighboring countries."

The Hoover administration, the vice-president said, had done more work "than any administration in peace times."

COUPLE MURDERED

Gadsden, Ala., Oct. 25.—(AP)—The bodies of Miss Velma Geover, daughter of a Methodist minister, and Tom Russell, a married man and the father of three children, were found in a field near here today and close by lay a gun somebody used to shoot him in the chest and beat her to death.

Police believe they were "taken for a ride," slain on a nearby highway and dragged to the field.

The gun gave mute evidence of the killer's fury. Its stock was shattered, obviously as blows were rained upon Miss Geover's head and body. Russell was 40 years old and was employed as a salesman. Miss Geover was 20. Her father is Rev. W. L. Groover.

ANOTHER CRUISER

Washington, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The U. S. plans to begin construction of another cruiser next year.

Secretary Adams announced today bids for the ship which will be of the eight inch gun, ten thousand ton category.

Red Men Play Boy's Club Of New London Sunday

Book One of Biggest Attractions in State; Team Has Compiled An Impressive Record Over College and Pro Elevens.

The New London Boy's Club, one of the strongest and biggest attractions in the state, has been booked to oppose the Red Men A. C. at Mt. Nebo Sunday afternoon. This team has earned a reputation as one of the highest scoring teams in New England.

It was formerly known as the All-Coast Guard Bears, last year winning the President's Cup at Washington, D. C. The team consists of former college stars of New England. The list of teams it has beaten includes Seton Hall, Ryder College, Arnold College, Canisius and New River State College of West Virginia that played Holy Cross a few weeks ago.

The All-Burnsides were defeated by this team 19 to 0 and last Sunday, the New Britain Pawnees were given their worst defeat of the season, 24 to 0. The local manager believes he was fortunate in securing this team and says that it draws huge crowds wherever it appears. Coach Walter Harrison is much pleased over the showing of the Red Men last Sunday but expects more improvement with steady practice this week. Elmo Mantell and McLaughlin will be in the local line-up for the remainder of the season. "Shoe String" Foote may not appear because his job may bring him elsewhere, but a definite announcement will be made later in the week.

END MUCH NEEDED IN THE YALE LINE

Parker Is Shifted From Backfield To Eli's Weakest Spot.

New Haven, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Coach Mack Stevens again has gone to the backfield in the hope of finding a much needed end in time for Yale's football contest with the strong Dartmouth Indians.

Dud Parker, regular varsity quarterback and classy punter, has been shifted to right-end, regarded as the Eli's weakest spot. He is the second backfield man whom Stevens has attempted to convert into a wingman.

About two weeks ago, Felix Hughes, a fullback, was assigned to play left-end. The experiment worked out well, but Hughes was injured in the Brown game and will probably be out of the lineup for the rest of the season.

Parker worked out at his post yesterday with the second team during a scrimmage for the scrubs. His teammates were given the day off and were expected to get down to hard work today.

SHARKEY WILL FIGHT ONLY IN BOSTON RING

Is Determined To Defend Title In That City; Also To Pick Opponent.

Boston, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Champion Jack Sharkey threatens to give Max Baerling, his outstanding challenger, a taste of his own medicine and make him wait two years for a return bout.

When Sharkey defends his championship, Buckley told Carey, "It will be in a Boston ring and against an opponent of our selection."

Ten Years Ago Today — Pancho Villa, best Pancho Villa in an eight-pounder at Philadelphia. New York Giants bought pitcher Jack Bentley from the Baltimore Orioles.

RASSLE BY ROUNDS. JEREM LONDOS ASKS

Philadelphia, Oct. 25.—Wrestling matches should be held by rounds, instead of long-winded falls that completely play out the battling gladiators. Such is the opinion of Jim Londos, sometimes declared world's wrestling champion, and sometimes not. Jim, before a recent match here, declared: "What would boxers have to say if they were ordered to punch each other around for half an hour without a rest? "Give a wrestler a minute's intermission at intervals and you'll see plenty more action than you do now under present rules."

NEW HAVEN'S REPORT

Boston, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The September report of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad shows a substantial improvement in net income over recent months.

The improvement was due to better than seasonal movement of traffic, the road's report said. The report showed a net income after charges of $25,849 for September, compared with a deficit of $478,538 in August. For the nine months of 1932 gross revenues were $26,933,239, a decrease of $19,937,817 from the corresponding period of 1931.

SUTHERLAND VIEWS FOOTBALL SYSTEMS OF WARNER, ROCKNE

Famous Coach Analyzes Types of Play Used By Prominent Mentors; Is Hard To Choose the Best.

By DR. JOHN B. "JOCK" SUTHERLAND

Football Coach, University of Pittsburgh (Copyright 1932, By NEA Service)

There are countless football systems, based upon various coaches' favorite formations. To say which is the most effective style of play is to provoke an argument that could go on and on forever.

We have been using the Warner system at Pitt, which is no more than natural because that's the system I played under when Warner was coaching at Pitt, and I know more about the teaching of it than any of the others.

Rockne and Warner, of course, started out in football with the same idea, to obtain speed, deception and power. The Warner system calls for an unbalanced line. By that I mean there are more players on one side of the center than on the other.

The Notre Dame system is operated with a balanced line, three men on each side of the center. The so-called Warner-Pitt system, wing-backs, which simply means that a back flanks an end.

The Notre Dame system places the backs in a sort of box formation behind the line. This box is not arranged according to right angles, but is irregularly shaped.

We have heard much about Big Three systems. The theory of the old Yale-Harvard-Princeton attack, which has been likened to Michigan's, consisted of kicking as frequently as possible and waiting for a break.

New coaches have come into the Big Three, with their own ideas, so it can hardly be said the system is unchangeable.

You often hear of the Howard Jones system. I think that would be harder to analyze on paper than perhaps any of the others. The reason is that Jones uses parts of several systems. His "squirrel cage huddle," as I believe it was called last year by the sports writers, resembled the action of a pinwheel, the players whirling into positions that varied according to the type of play.

Part of the Jones system is recognized as the Rockne system; part of it, the Warner system, but I think it is more accurate to say that his whole style of play is Jones, himself. Jones is like Haughton was at Harvard. He changes his pace.

The success of any system depends upon the players. They are the ones who can make or break any system devised by the human mind. After all, they are the ones who play!

OIL HEAD FINED

NOTRE DAME TEAM IS DIFFERENT THIS YEAR, BUT GOOD

Two Years Without Rockne Have Brought Changes But the Irish Horde Is Plenty Strong—And How!

By JIMMY DONAHUE
NEA Service Sports Writer

Two years without Rockne have brought about some changes in Notre Dame football. But the 1932 team is plenty good!

Its first three games of the year against Haskell, Drake and Carnegie Tech revealed the following:

The Irish horde has just as strong a scoring punch as any team the South Bend institution ever had.

There's a great deal more beef in the line and backfield, and Rockne's famous "watch charm" guards, the last and probably most famous of whom was little Bert Metzger, are replaced by big bruising fellers.

With a varsity roster that includes 106 players, 23 of whom are veteran lettermen, Coach Hunk Anderson can play chess, checkers or dominoes with his line and backfield, and not weaken it to any noticeable extent.

In the games against Haskell and Drake, the Irish ran up 185 points. True, the opposition was not the stiffest in the league, but any team that can run up a point a minute against those two teams is clicking letter perfect.

The summaries of these two games reveal the strength of the Irish so-called reserves. The report of the Haskell game showed:

"Touchdowns—Banias 3, Melnikovich (sub for Banias) 3, Hagan (sub for Melnikovich) 2, Lukats (sub for Koken), McGuire (sub for Lukats), Tobin (sub for Sheeketski)." That of the Drake game showed:

"Touchdowns—Banias 2, Melnikovich (sub for Banias), Brancheau (sub for Sheeketski), Kosky (sub for Varco), Lukats (sub for Rescher), Koken, Costello (sub for Brancheau), Laborne (sub for Koken)." When one guy gets a few touchdowns out of his system, Anderson gives another a chance at gambling o'er the sea.

The team this year, its second under Anderson, shows a tendency to wear from Rockne's penchant for light, fast men. Anderson may have his own ideas about what a football team should be. It remains, however, that his 1932 squad is a lot heavier than past Irish aggregations.

Two years ago little Bert Metzger, fighting weight 155, was the front page thriller of the squad. This year finds an entirely different type of guard playing on both sides of the center.

Anderson explains that the new rule, prohibiting ungentlemanly use of the hands, has made it necessary to replace the short and scrappy guards of yore with some big bruising hulks designed to resist the steam roller rushes at the center of the line by weight and power alone.

His two selections for this post are Norm Greeney, Cleveland, O. boy, and Jim Harris, Belleair, O. This is Greeney's third year with the squad. He weighs 190, and stands 6 feet 2 inches with his bare coticles on the ground. He plays on the right side of the line. Harris is not quite so heavy and tall as Greeney, but he is far from the "watch charm" type. He weighs 188, and is 5 feet 10 1/2.

Following is a tentative lineup showing the size of one of the several fronts Coach Anderson can place on the field:

Kosky, lg, weight 185, height 6 feet 3; Krause, lt, weight 212, height 6 feet 3; Harris, lg, weight 188, height 5 feet 10 1/2; Gorman, c, weight 190, height 6 feet 1; Greeney, rg, weight 190, height 6 feet 2; Kurth, rt, weight 204, height 6 feet 1 1/2; Host, re, weight 176, height 5 feet 11; Jaskwich, qb, weight 164, height 5 feet 11; Lukats, lb, weight 185, height 6 feet; Brancheau, rh, weight 185, height 5 feet 10 1/2; Th weight 185, height 5 feet 10 1/2; Melnikovich, rv, weight 180, height 6 feet.

The team averages about 187 pounds. Anderson has a great fleet of running backs this year. He also has a fine flock of blockers. But ever since Frank Caserio left the South Bend school of learning, the Irish have been standard at quarter.

This is Chuck Jaskwich's third year with the squad. His experience should entitle him to regular position as signal caller and field general. But his past performances leave much to be desired and, if he runs true to the form about this year, Anderson will probably delve into the middle of the pack and unearth another startling quarterback.

Perhaps this fellow will be little Laurie Vejar, who is starting his second year on the squad. The little fellow handled his charges well in the early games this year, and perhaps he'll develop into one of those luminaries that Notre Dame springs every year.

FOOTBALL IS SAFER AT COLLEGES UNDER REVISED GRID CODE

But High School and Sandlot Games Seem Hazardous As Ever; Eleven Fatalities So Far This Year.

By HERBERT W. BARKER

New York, Oct. 25.—(AP)—So far as the colleges are concerned the new football code apparently has accomplished its primary purpose of making the game safer for the players, but for the high school and sandlot games, football seems just about as hazardous as before.

Of the 11 fatalities so far reported attributable directly or indirectly to football only one death has occurred in college ranks where the new rules are strictly enforced. All the others came in high school and sandlot games, where supervision is not so strict.

The fifty fatalities charged to football last year led to a series of drastic changes in the rules during the winter, eliminating the "flying wedge" on kickoffs, flying blocks and tackles, "rabbit punches" on the necks of linemen and an overhauling of the specifications for equipment to make it safer.

With the season at the halfway mark, these rules seem to have eliminated many of the hazards of the game as it is played in the college under direct supervision. The only fatality in college ranks was that of Hugh Martin Williams, 18, a freshman at Loyola of the South, who died of internal injuries after being kicked in the abdomen during a practice drill against the varsity. Five high school players, two sandlot competitors, two lads competing in neighborhood games and an academy player in Honolulu also have been fatally injured since the season opened. Head injuries caused most of these deaths.

CORNELL TO TEST COLUMBIA'S POWER

Little's Team Has Romped Through Five Games But Battle Is Expected.

New York, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Little's Columbia football machine tangles with Cornell at Baker Field Saturday in the game that probably will decide whether or not the Ithacans shall finish the season undefeated and untied. At the start of the campaign, Little said Columbia's toughest game would be with Cornell and he has been getting ready for the Ithacans ever since.

On the basis of their records so far, Columbia would rule a heavy favorite, but Saturday's game promises more instance in which the figures fail to tell the whole story. Columbia has romped through five successive opponents and piled up 160 points in the process. Cornell on the other hand, was definitely unimpressive in the Niagara, Richmond and Princeton games after opening with a 7 to 0 rout of Buffalo. The Ithacans won the Niagara and Richmond contests but were held to a scoreless tie by Princeton.

Still another clash between eleven which have escaped both defeat and the will pit Catholic U's good little squad against Holy Cross. Catholic has one great back in Tommy Whelan, but the team hardly rates with Holy Cross even though the crusaders were unimpressive in their 6 to 0 victory over Rutgers last week.

JR. COURT LEAGUE RULES ANNOUNCED

Basketball Teams To Play Under Supervision of Recreation Centers.

The rules and regulations that will govern the Junior Basketball League recently formed locally with seven teams entered, were announced today and are as follows:

The tournament will be conducted under the direction of the Recreation Centers and, while the games will be properly supervised, the Recreation Centers assume no responsibility for any injuries received by players in any of the games or while in building.

All teams must file entry with Frank Busch at School Street Rec. All players must be under 17 years of age at the time of the starting of the tournament. Squad limited to ten players.

Names of all players on entered teams must be turned in at School Street Rec before start of tournament.

Only registered players will be allowed to play in the tournament. Using an unregistered player or one over 16 years will automatically cause the offending team to forfeit the game.

If the age of a player is questioned a school certificate of age must be shown by team manager to Rec officials and manager of complaining team.

Gunnar Johnson has been elected playing manager of the Herald teams. Managers desiring games on a home and home basis should communicate with him. The Herald has two teams, one team 16 years of age and under, and the other 17 years of age and under.

Punts—Passes

(By Associated Press)

New Haven—Mal Stevens' search for a good end still goes on. The Yale coach, in desperation, sent quarterback Dud Parker to right end on the team yesterday and plans to give him a thorough try-out at that position.

Hanover—Dartmouth's varsity football players can't get a break. They were given a holiday yesterday, but Hoffman, Trost, Downes, Hedges and several others are members of the student fee department and were called out to help battle a fire that destroyed a small dwelling in the northern section of the town.

West Point, N. Y.—The other anxiety of Head Coach Stone is the lack of capable reserve material on his Army football squad. He plans to spend most of his time this week with the second and third teams in the effort to develop a few more good replacements for the first team stars.

CROSS COUNTRY TITLE RACE
New Haven, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The New York, New Haven and Hartford Cross Country team, which was announced today, will meet the Princeton team at New Haven, Oct. 27.

BETTY GOW RETURNS

New York, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Miss Betty Gow, who was nursemaid for the slain Lindbergh baby, arrived from England today on the liner Caledonia and was immediately whisked away in an automobile bearing New Jersey plates.

MISS GOW waited on the pier while representatives of a travel agency rushed her baggage through Customs. She declined to say whether her destination was the home of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh at Hopewell, N. J., or the estate of Mrs. Dwight Morrow, mother of Mrs. Lindbergh, at Englewood, N. J.

MISS GOW sailed for England on the Mauretania last August and visited Scotland and England, passing part of the time with her parents, who reside in the outskirts of Glasgow. The car in which she was taken from the pier was reported to have come from the Morrow estate.

BERRIE JURY DEADLOCKED

Muskogee, Okla., Oct. 25.—(AP)—The jury deliberating a charge that Rev. S. A. Berrie murdered his first wife by poison apparently was deadlocked today.

Out since 4 p. m. yesterday, the jurors had given no indication an agreement was imminent. Judge W. J. Crump said he would discharge them if "a verdict is not reached by 4 p. m. today."

After a brisk walk this morning, the 12 men retired to their hotel suite. The defendant remained in jail.

SHOT WHILE HUNTING

Danbury, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Clair Hollister, of Waterbury, accidentally wounded while hunting in Newtown today. He is not yet out of danger but his recovery is expected unless unfavorable conditions develop.

HORNSBY IS BACK IN MAJOR LEAGUE

Former Manager of Chicago Cubs To Play With St. Louis Cardinals.

St. Louis, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Rogers Hornsby, who was dropped last summer as manager of the Chicago Cubs, will take the "come back trail" with the St. Louis Cardinals next year.

Announcement was made today that the "firebrand" of major baseball has signed a one-year contract as a player with the club which he plotted to a pennant and world championship in 1926.

"The Rajah" it was announced, will go to the Cardinal training camp next spring as a candidate for a regular job as second baseman, the position where he starred in his heyday. Sam Breadon, president of the Cardinals, said he was confident Hornsby would be able to play major league baseball and that he would be of material help to the St. Louis club in the 1933 pennant campaign.

It was Breadon who, when Hornsby was at the height of his fame, traded him to the New York Giants for Frank Frisch and Pitcher Jimmy Ring, although, as manager, Hornsby had piloted the Cardinals to the world championship in 1926.

And now Breadon thinks "the Rajah" deserves a chance to rehabilitate himself in the major league baseball world.

Salary terms of the contract were not announced. It was made known, however, that under its terms Hornsby will receive his unconditional release at the end of 1933 season, subject to the rules and regulations of the National League. Under these rules the Cards cannot give Hornsby his release if some other club in the league claims his services. But under the terms of his contract, if some club claims him, Hornsby will be able to sell his services to the highest bidder with the Cards to receive no profits.

Hornsby signed the contract with the Cardinals, and he was not considered a possible future manager of the Cards. He said he would present himself to Manager Charles E. Street and that he expected to be released if Street decided he was unable to help the club as a player.

"I feel like I'm coming back home, to get into the Cardinals organization again," Hornsby said, "and I want everyone to know how much I appreciate the chance offered me. It goes without saying that I'll hustle every minute for the Cards. I guess I have slowed up, naturally, as I have grown older, but whatever ability I have left I'll give to the club 100 percent."

Breadon, in announcing he had rehired the man he fired seven years ago, said: "I'm not taking the step for sentimental reasons. I really believe that Hornsby will help us."

When Hornsby goes to training camp as a candidate for second base he will be competing with Frank Frisch.

"If Hornsby wins the job" Breadon said "Frisch, of course, can be shifted to third base."

After being traded by the Cardinals to New York following the 1926 season, Hornsby remained with the Giants for one year, then went to Boston, where he succeeded Jack Slattey as manager of the Braves in mid-season of 1928, and at the close of the season was traded to the Chicago Cubs.

NEW LABOR PARTY HEAD

London, Oct. 25.—(AP)—George Lansbury, who was elected head of the Labor Party today succeeding Arthur Henderson, who resigned, moved a vote of censure in the House of Commons this afternoon against the National government.

The MacDonald government, he charged, has forfeited the confidence of the country "by failure to deal effectively with the economic situation and by imposition of the means test on unemployed receiving the dole, and by pursuit of an Empire policy opposed to restoration of world trade."

The condition of the mass of the British people, he said, is worse now than it was when the National government took office a year ago.

HARTFORD PRISONER HAS A LONG RECORD

Senator Hebert Declares They Will Not Carry a State in New England.

Hartford, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Arrested by Patrolman Hugh Haun, on suspicion early today, Edward Littlefield, 27, was later identified by a citizen as the man who attempted to steal a suit of clothes in an Asylum street store last week. Littlefield was next examined by Detective Sergeant Thomas F. Sullivan, fingerprint expert, who learned from his record that the accused had been arrested about 25 times in a half dozen states for theft, larceny and burglary and that he had spent most of his life during the past ten years or so behind the bars.

Prosecuting Attorney Louis B. Rosenfeld produced the police records in police court today. Littlefield is known to the police of Cleveland, Ohio, Albany, N. Y., Jersey City, N. J., Providence, R. I., Worcester, Springfield and Pittsfield in Mass., and in Waterbury and New Haven. He has several aliases.

Judge Richard T. Steele imposed a jail sentence of four months following a plea of guilty.

Charged with bigamy, James Edward Laroux, 29, was sentenced to jail for six months. Laroux was taken into custody by Detective Sergeant Peter B. Gavin this morning.

Laroux married Irene Evelyn Laosoff, in Springfield, Mass., during 1929. About a year ago he married Edith Sherry in this city. It was claimed he deserted his first wife.

A fine of $100 and costs was imposed in the case of Stanley Killian, 24, of Tariffville, charged with operating an automobile while he was under the influence of liquor.

FARMERS IN STATE TO RECEIVE CREDIT

Hartford, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Congressman Augustine Lonergan was notified last night by telegram that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation had approved the establishment of a regional agricultural credit corporation for the benefit of the northeastern states.

S. McLean Buckingham, commissioner of agriculture for Connecticut said the loan features of the regional corporation are drawn on broad lines "perhaps broader than we wish to operate in this state since they go far in the taking of risks."

Originally, the corporation was designed to help stock feeders who were unable to buy feed. But, apparently, the fund will cover a wider field and will help in marketing as well as other aspects of farming."

When it was discovered some months ago that the farm relief program of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation would not help Connecticut farmers, Mr. Lonergan sought a method of extending relief to this section. He kept in constant touch with Federal officials and was gratified to learn last night that his efforts had met with success.

IS UP TO CLERK

Milford, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Milford's Republican town clerk must decide which of two slates of Democratic nominations for the November election is legal.

Leaders of the two Democratic factions, unable to reach an agreement, placed the entire matter in the hands of Clerk H. E. Thomas, it was learned today. The secretary of state's office notified Thomas he must make a decision by November 3 to allow time for printing ballots.

The clerk said he would take no action until consulting attorneys.

SOLDIER KILLS SELF

New York, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The body of Private Charles E. Goodhart, a member of the ordnance department stationed at Fort Wadsworth, Staten Island, who committed suicide by shooting himself Sunday will be shipped today to the home of his brother, William, at 168 Sherfield avenue, New Haven, Conn.

Private Goodhart, who was about forty years old, was serving his second enlistment in the army.

PARTNERSHIP ENDS

London.—The world's two tallest mannequins, who have been partners in modeling for more than fifty years, have been split by matrimony. Both girls, more than six feet 2 inches tall, are beautiful. Ncrah Terry has become engaged and her partner, with little to hold her in England now, has accepted the offer of an American firm.

SHOTGUN AS CLUE

Gadsden, Ala., Oct. 25.—(AP)—A stolen shotgun today led officers to launch a widespread search for a negro highwayman as the slayer of Tom Russell, 50-year-old furniture salesman, and Miss Thelma Grover, 29-year-old daughter of a minister, whose bodies were found in an abandoned field near here.

The ownership of the shotgun, found near the bodies, was traced to W. D. Jones who had earlier reported its theft from his home. The search was concentrated at Birmingham, Ala., today where Russell's automobile was discovered. A "revenge" theory was abandoned by officers with the tracing of the ownership of the shotgun.

Russell was shot with a shotgun and his head beaten. Miss Grover's skull also was crushed. The stock of the single barreled shot gun found with their bodies was splintered. Officers said they believed Russell had been killed while parked on the highway and his body dragged into the field.

BOAT IS REFLAGGED

Seattle, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The U. S. Bureau of Fisheries received a wireless message from the fisheries boat Eider which grounded on Green Island in Hecate Strait near Prince Rupert, B. C., today saying she had floated off a reef and was proceeding under her own power to Ketchikan without taking any water. Earlier messages had indicated the boat, with a crew of seven aboard was badly damaged.

CLAIMS DEMOCRATS HAVE PIPE DREAMS

Senator Hebert Declares They Will Not Carry a State in New England.

New York, Oct. 25.—(AP)—United States Senator Felix Hebert, eastern director of the Republican National committee said today the Democrats are "pipe dreaming" when they talk of carrying Maine and other New England states in the November 8 election.

"I have just returned from a week-end swing across Massachusetts and other New England states" Hebert said in a statement released at his headquarters here, "and I am confident that President Hoover is going to win those states overwhelmingly."

"All reports to me were that the Democrats are pipe dreaming when they say they will carry Maine, that state, along with the others, is safely in the Republican column."

Discussing Republican prospects in other states, Hebert said:

"I have been asked if President Hoover's address in New York next Monday night will clinch this state for him. It is my firm belief that it not only will clinch New York, but that it also will clinch the whole country."

SENSE AND NONSENSE

Life's Lesson
To be serene amid a losing fight,
To meet with equal courage dark or light,
To hate all sham, and with persistent might
To do brave deeds as in a master's sight—
This is to learn life's lesson, reach the heights.

Rambling Thoughts—The average politician is willing to bury the hatchet—if the right neck is handy... The farmers may have had their troubles, but not many of them owned coal mines... A man never knows a woman till he marries her, then he's afraid to say no... A congressman is a person who makes a good fellow of himself by spending other people's money... Few persons take as much interest in their own business as their neighbors do... We would say that the chap with the hardest job these days is the bill collector... Another bad feature of the situation is the slump in gangster funerals... He is wise who says nothing when he has nothing to say... Success is doing what you want to do and making enough money to pay your bills.

The doctor smiled as he entered the sick room.
Doctor—You look much better today.
Patient—Yes, I followed the directions on your medicine bottle.

Doctor—What were they?
Patient—Keep the bottle tightly corked.

A cherished institution of the United States is the right of an accused to a trial by jury, before a just judge. But a gossip is accuser, judge and jury, and the victim has no chance for defense, but is condemned without hearing.

Patient—I want to see a doctor.
Doctor—This is where I practice.
Patient—Don't want no person to practice on me; I want a doctor to cure me.

It takes five masons, two plumbers and six carpenters, two weeks to build a home, but it only takes "the other woman" two minutes to wreck one.

Doctor—What is that frightful noise I've been hearing all day?
Nurse—The patient with sleeping sickness has started to snore.

A man who was thinking of seeking a divorce has changed his mind and will buy his wife an airplane. He says its cheaper than alimony.

Landlady—Do you like your best this rare, Miss Prim?
Boarder—Since you ask me, it is too rare—I would like it a little oftener.

THE GOOD OLD DAYS WERE THOSE WHEN THE GROCERY STORES SOLD GASOLINE. THEY DO NOT SELL THE GAS ANY MORE AND NOW THE FILLING STATIONS ARE SELLING GROCERIES.

FOLKA DOTS—Adam was the only male created equal, and what a mess he turned out to be... If the little jobs are done well, there are no big jobs... The price has now gone down on everything except politics... Sometimes the bigger a boy's heart, the more girls he tries to squeeze into it... Many who consider themselves leaders will follow a little white golf ball all day... Uncertainty is almost as disturbing as bad news... A "stitch in time" may reform a boy whose "ways need mending"... Some successes are made from the fine art of profiting by early mistakes... To travel hopefully is a better thing than to arrive... A man isn't licked until he begins to complain about the rules... Love is one-fourth L... Dull critics love to praise dull books... As a rule the smarter you become the less your head will swell.

The Hi-Y club will meet this evening at 8 o'clock at the Center Congregational church.

The Hustlers' group of the Wesleyan circle will meet Friday evening of this week at 7 o'clock at the home of Mrs. John Dowd, 118 East Center street. The business will be followed by making the candy for which this group has acquired quite a reputation. Mrs. Dowd will be assisted by Mrs. Robert Olson.

The Boys' club of Highland Park will hold the sixth and final setback in the present series this evening at the clubhouse. The grand prizes will be awarded at the sitting tonight and refreshments served.

The Rockville Emblems club will give a public bridge party tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 at the Ellis' home. Mrs. Max Smith of Rockville is general chairman. She will be assisted by the following Manchester members: Mrs. Wallace Robb, Mrs. Edward Stearns and Mrs. John Shea. Prizes will be awarded to the winners and refreshments served.

P. J. O'Leary is confined to his home by a severe attack of grip. The family is still at their summer home in Vernon.

The Junior Mission band of Emmanuel Lutheran church will have a Halloween Party in the church basement Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Games appropriate to the occasion will be played and refreshments served.

The Ladies Aid society of the South Methodist church will hold its annual rummage sale regularly at 9 a. m. The sale will be held in the State Theater building.

Mrs. Sherwood V. Ariel of Springfield, Mass., is spending ten days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Keeney of Delmont street.

FRANK CHENEY, JR., NEW HEAD OF RELIEF GROUP

F. A. Verplanck Becomes Vice-Chairman As Employment Association Reorganizes.

Frank Cheney, Jr., prominent member of the firm of Cheney Brothers, was elected chairman of the Manchester Emergency Employment Association late yesterday afternoon when this group met for re-organization as it prepares to begin its second year of charity work. Superintendent of Schools Fred A. Verplanck was named vice-chairman with Howard I. Taylor treasurer and Edward J. McCabe as secretary. Mr. Verplanck was chairman last year but announced prior to yesterday's meeting that he would not accept the position again if it were offered him because of the pressure of his other duties, increased through school consolidation. Dr. George Glenney resigned from the board because of business pressure and Aaron Cook was named to take his place.

THIS TRAVELING MAN TAKES A HOME ALONG

Mr. and Mrs. James Pucker of Chicago Tour Country On Business, Live in Trailer.

A coupe with a house-like trailer which includes many home conveniences constitutes the traveling abode of Mr. and Mrs. James Pucker of Chicago as they move about the country in connection with Mr. Pucker's business. The outfit attracted considerable attention as it was parked in front of the Herald office this morning.

Mrs. Pucker, a native of Portland, Me., told about the itinerant home while her husband was at the Montgomery Ward Company's store on business. "We are heading south," she said "and find it cheap and convenient to travel this way. Last year we stayed in hotels but I guess the depression has hit all of us. My husband's business calls for an extensive tour every ninety days or so on the move most of the time." Mr. Pucker is connected with Montgomery Ward Co. as an electrical supervisor.

The trailer contains two cots and has ample room for washing, cooking and eating. The outfit is provided with a radio. Mrs. Pucker said that at night they usually seek a public camping site.

PLOWS UP IRISH PENNY TWO CENTURIES OLD

Joseph Rienartz Has British Coin of 1723 That Turned Up Out of a Furrow.

A copper coin more than 200 years old was brought into The Herald office today by Joseph Rienartz of Cottage street, who said that he had unearthed it while plowing a field in Elliptown Saturday from 6:30 to 8. Miss Helen Carrier will be in charge of games, Miss Florence Benson and Ernest Irwin in charge of refreshments. All junior teachers are on the committee. Prizes will be awarded for the best costumes and a fortune teller will be on hand.

The date on the piece, which is slightly larger than the present American quarter, and a trifle smaller than the more recent British penny, is 1723. The bust on the face is that of George the Fourth. The inscription is in Latin, "Georgius Dei Gratia Rex." On the other side is another raised figure, so badly worn as to be almost unrecognizable. A single word is engraved on this side, "Hibernia."

Mr. Rienartz intends to consult a numismatist to discover the exact status of his find. The fact that the coin is 209 years old may make it of some value.

SEATS FOR CONN. G. O. P. AT HOOVER N. Y. MEETING

The Republican State Central Committee announces that a block of seats will be reserved for Connecticut Republicans desiring to attend the meeting next Monday, at Madison Square Garden, New York, when President Hoover makes his main Eastern campaign address. CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING IN PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Dunstone of Strong Street Are Felicitated.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Dunstone, of 24 Strong street, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary over the past week-end. On Sunday afternoon and evening twenty-five of their relatives, most of them from nearby cities and towns in Connecticut, gathered to congratulate the couple and wish them continued good health and happiness. At six o'clock a dainty supper was served at tables attractively decorated in deep yellow and gold. A pleasant evening followed with music and old-fashioned songs.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Dunstone and Miss Alice E. Dunstone of Yonkers, N. Y., son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dunstone, also Mr. and Mrs. Harold S. Howard and Janice of Danbury, N. H., younger daughter of the couple. Their elder son, W. H. Dunstone, Jr., is in the sugar business in Mexico, and unable to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunstone were the recipients of several beautiful and useful gifts, also a great many cards and telegrams from friends far and near.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunstone have recently moved to Manchester from Yonkers, N. Y., where they had resided for over forty years. Mr. Dunstone, previous to his retirement in June last, was a teacher in the Benjamin Franklin Junior High school of that city.

MANCHESTER NIGHT FOR VETS' HOSPITAL PLANNED

Legion and V. F. W. Posts Here Join in Arranging Program For the Near Future.

Plans for a "Manchester Night" at the United States Veterans' hospital to be held on a future date are being set by a committee from Dilworth-Cornell Post, American Legion and Anderson-Shea Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars. Several acts have been engaged for the entertainment and the committee is working to get several more before presenting the program to Major Thomas Bannigan, regional director of the Veterans' Bureau, for his approval.

The entertainment will be held in the new Recreation building at the hospital and will be of two hours' duration. The demand at present is for comedy acts and any such entertainers wishing to contribute their services for the program should get in touch with Everett Kennedy, 335 Center street, or Archie Kilpatrick, 16 Hazel street.
