SUSPECT IN LINDY CASE IS ARRESTED IN SPAIN

Man Who Says He Is An American Seems To Know Much About Kidnaping, Police Declare.

Seville, Spain, Oct. 26.—(AP)—At the request of the American vice consul police today detained a man who gave his name as Jean Saul and arranged to send him to Madrid for questioning in connection with the kidnaping of the Lindbergh baby.

He was apprehended after the American consulate had received an anonymous note from two American sailors who said they had talked with Saul in a saloon here and that "he seemed to know entirely too much about the Lindbergh kidnaping."

The vice consul asked the police to investigate and it was discovered that Saul's identification papers were incomplete. Police also said he made contradictory statements about his nationality, his business and other questions, declaring that he would tell nothing more "until I can face the American police where I can expect fairness."

Not An American

At the consulate it was said that Saul speaks English with a marked accent and it is suspected, therefore, that he is not an American. The name he gave the police, they said, probably is an alias.

Detectives who questioned him said he had admitted that he knew something about the kidnaping and the distribution of the $50,000 ransom paid for the child's return. The American vice consul attended the preliminary inquiry, but announced afterward that he had withdrawn from the case and left it entirely in the hands of the police, although he will forward a complete report to the Embassy at Madrid.

Discover Letter

This morning police said they had found an unfinished letter among Saul's belongings. It read:

"Dear Bill—I'm afraid I've talked too much, but I hope I haven't compromised myself. You know how I am when I am drinking."

Police said Saul told them that friends in the French Consulate at New York had helped him to obtain a French passport which he burned when he entered Spain so that the friends would not be compromised. Tags on his baggage showed that he had been in Genoa, Nice, Toulouse and Barcelona. Labels of New York clothing houses were on his suits. Apparently the only money he had was 600 pesetas—about $48.

FOREIGN NATIONS WHITTLING RATES Wall Street Watching Inter- est Cuts and Wondering If U. S. Will Follow Suit.

New York, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Wall street bankers are watching with considerable interest the successful efforts of foreign nations to cut down their heavy annual interest charges on their internal debts, and are pondering when the United States government may again accomplish the same thing.

Although interest rates on short term bonds in this country are now at, or near, their lowest levels in history, and the United States Treasury has been able to borrow short term money at record low levels, there has been little opportunity in the past two years for this country to refund its huge bonded debt at lower interest charges. This has been due, bankers state, in an important degree to the fact that the National budget has been out of balance, requiring heavy short term borrowing by the government to meet current expenses.

Funding Operations

In the past year, several huge funding operations have been completed in other countries, and plans for additional conversions of high interest into low interest bearing debt are under contemplation.

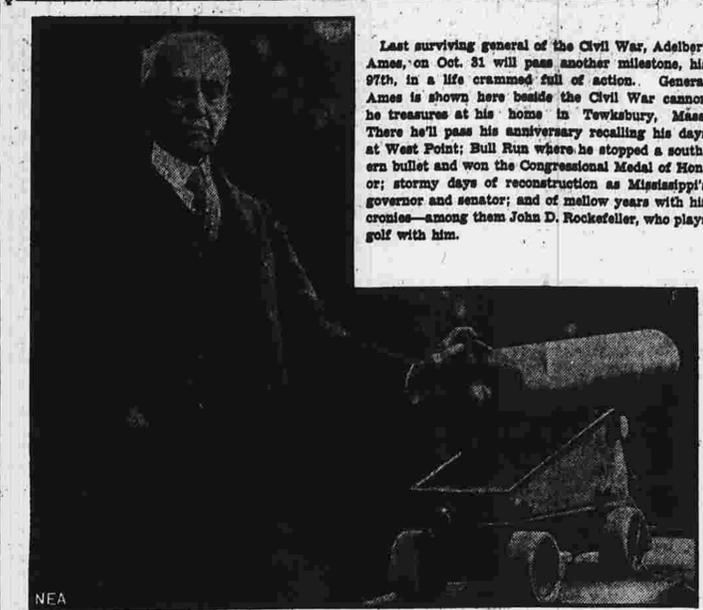

The British government inaugurated its large conversion program last year when it converted 1,200,000,000 pounds of maturing 5 per cent war loan bonds into 3-1/2 per cent bonds, effecting a saving in annual interest charges of $28,800,000 pounds. Computed on the basis of present prices for sterling in the foreign exchange market, this saving is equivalent to about $95,000,000 annually. But actually the saving would be more nearly equal to $140,000,000, figured at par of exchange, because in making the payment within its own country, the British treasury does not need to concern itself about foreign exchange valuations. Regardless of the discount at which the pound now sells in the foreign exchange market, the pound is still a pound in England.

Big Saving

More recently, England exchanged 140,000,000 pounds of maturing 4-1/2 per cent notes for a like amount of new notes bearing 2 per cent interest coupons. The yearly saving on this exchange would be $60,000,000 pounds, or equivalent to about $12,000,000 at present exchange rates, or nearly $17,000,000 computed at par for sterling exchange.

Other nations which have similarly scaled down their fixed interest bearing charges include France and the Dominion of Canada. Italy and Australia are planning similar moves.

SALUTE!— Civil War's Last Living General.

Last surviving general of the Civil War, Adelbert Ames, on Oct. 31 will pass another milestone, his 97th, in a life crammed full of action. General Ames is shown here beside the Civil War cannon he treasures at his home in Tewksbury, Mass. There he'll pass his anniversary recalling his days at West Point; Bull Run where he stopped a southern bullet and won the Congressional Medal of Honor; stormy days of reconstruction as Mississippi's governor and senator; and of mellow years with his cronies—among them John D. Rockefeller, who plays golf with him.

GOV. ROOSEVELT TELLS WORKERS VICTORY LOOMS

Back in New York After Southern Trip He Visits National Headquarters For First Time.

New York, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democratic candidate for the presidency, told some 500 workers at his National headquarters today that the 1932 Democratic campaign was "the most practical, worthwhile" one in the whole history of campaigning.

"We'll have a great big party a ter Nov. 3," he said, and the workers cheered.

It was Gov. Roosevelt's first visit to the headquarters of the Democratic National committee and he went there shortly after arriving in the city from his southern campaign tour. He was introduced to the workers by National Chairman James A. Farley as "the next President."

Nice Family Party

"This is a nice family party," the governor responded. "We have had a splendid trip and we're not through yet. This is just a brief word of thanks. There'll be more than that later."

"There has never been a National headquarters run so efficiently. In all the history of campaigning this is the most practical, worthwhile campaign. It's a record, and it's been the cheapest campaign for the American people."

The governor said that his hat had lost half its lining on the southern trip and that his voice was a little "ragged" but that "everything else is all right."

Claims 48 States

"Jim Farley is right," he said. "We're not only looking to 36 states but to 48. We'll have a great big party after Nov. 8."

After addressing the workers the governor held a brief press conference in which he expressed confidence of Democratic victory.

"I am convinced," he said, "that the tide was set many weeks ago for the Democratic ticket and is continuing to flow that way and will continue until the polls close on Nov. 8."

The governor said he had arrived at this conclusion during his first campaign tour to the west coast, and that this conviction had been confirmed during his southern trip.

Worried Over Crash

One of his first acts at headquarters was to telephone Rochester to ask for the men hurt yesterday when a truck collided with two cars in the campaign party of Lieutenant Gov. Herbert H. Lehman, who is running to succeed Roosevelt as governor.

Roosevelt said he only had three definite engagements at this time for further campaign speeches, one in Boston Monday, one in Brooklyn on Nov. 4 and one in Madison Square Garden on Nov. 5.

He indicated, however, that he intended to make other speeches in New England in connection with his Boston engagement but said there was nothing definite to announce as to dates and places.

Asked about the speech two days ago by former Governor Alfred E. Smith, Roosevelt replied that he had not read the speech and so could not comment on it.

BRIEF ADDRESSES TO FEATURE TRIPS OF THE PRESIDENT

INCOME TAX RUMOR DENIED BY CROSS Governor Says He Never Planned Such a Tax For This State.

Hartford, Oct. 26.—(AP)—An exchange of correspondence between Stuart Clement of Yale and Governor Cross made public today revealed the latter's opposition to a State income tax.

Prof. Clement of the faculty of the department of personnel study wrote Governor Cross that many normal Republican voters who had supported him two years ago were not going to vote for his re-election because they had been informed he planned to initiate a State income tax.

"For the life of me, I do not understand how there could be originated the rumor that I want to impose an income tax upon the citizens of Connecticut," wrote Governor Cross.

Opposed To It

"Neither in my addresses or in my private conversation have I ever advocated a state income tax.

"As the experience of the Federal government has shown, an income tax is the most uncertain of all forms of taxation. One of the best things in the tax structure of Connecticut is that we have no income tax to top the Federal income tax. I trust this policy may be continued."

In his letter to the governor, Prof. Clement said he had written a friend in Greenwich who told him he would like to vote for Dr. Cross but he said he had had "information" that the governor planned to recommend a State income tax. In view of this, Prof. Clement asked the governor for a declaration of his attitude, and an exchange of letters followed.

Short Talks To Be Given En Route To and From In- dianapolis and On His Way To New York City Next Week—Consider- able Part of His Time Up To Election To Be Spent In Railroad Travel.

Washington, Oct. 26.—(AP)—President Hoover arranged today to make a number of brief talks en route to and returning from his fourth major political speech in the mid-west, to be delivered in Indianapolis Friday night.

Abandoning his desk in the executive offices, he decided on this program in the Lincoln study of the White House, where he sequestered himself much of the day at work on the addresses.

Mr. Hoover today also gave thought to brief speeches he will deliver in Philadelphia, Del., next Monday, while en route to lengthy speeches in Newark, N. J., during the same afternoon and another in New York that night.

Plans for his eastern campaign trip have not been completed, nor has he settled upon his schedule after Monday. Indications have been given, however, that he plans to spend a considerable part of his time up to election in railroad travel.

His First Trip

With Mrs. Hoover, the President will leave the National capital Thursday night at 11 p. m., for Indianapolis.

Stops of five minutes each will be made on Friday in Parkersburg, W. Va., at 8:25 a. m., Athens, Ohio, at 9:19 a. m., Chillicothe at 10:37 a. m., and two stops in Cincinnati, the first at Winton Place at 12:02 p. m. Another stop in the Ohio city will be made at Stone street at 1:15 p. m.

Arriving in Hamilton, Ohio, at 2:12 p. m., Eastern Standard Time, the President will encounter a change in time, so that after a five minute stop he will leave at 1:17 p. m., Central Standard Time. After five minute halts at Connersville, Ind., at 2:19 p. m., and Rushville, Ind., at 2:51 p. m., the presidential special train will arrive in Indianapolis about 4 o'clock. It is to depart again at 10:30 that evening, soon after Mr. Hoover concludes his address.

Return Journey

A brief halt will be made at Parkersburg, W. Va., for operating changes at 7:05 a. m., Saturday, Eastern Standard Time. Further platform appearances scheduled at Clarksville, W. Va., at 8:05 a. m., Grafton, W. Va., at 9:55 a. m., Piedmont, W. Va., at 12:10 a. m., Keyser, W. Va., at 12:23 p. m., and Martinsburg, W. Va., at 2:15 p. m.

Mr. Hoover will reach Washington again at 4 o'clock that afternoon.

Tentative plans for the Chief Executive's swing along the eastern seaboard call for him to leave Washington early Monday, with morning stops at Philadelphia, and possibly Chester, Pa., before continuing on to Newark.

There he will speak in the city's big arena, before going by automobile into New York City during the afternoon. He now plans to reach Manhattan well before supper time, and will hold conferences and rest before delivering his Madison Square Garden speech that night.

Washington, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Immediate cash payment of the soldiers bonus, the enactment of legislation granting pensions to widows and orphans of World War veterans and preservation of disability allowances were recommended to President Hoover today by the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The appeal conveying actions taken at the 33rd National encampment of the organization in Sacramento, California, last September, was taken to the White House by Admiral Robert E. Coontz, U. S. N., retired, new commander-in-chief of the organization.

It opposed cancellation of foreign debts, urged more strict enforcement of laws directing civil service preference for veterans, and said recommendations later would be made for improving veteran rehabilitation and hospitalization. It said in part:

"The 33rd National Encampment, respectfully urges your utmost consideration of pending legislation that would grant to the widows and orphans of World War veterans pension benefits on an equal basis with the widows and orphans of veterans of our previous wars and campaigns. There are approximately 70,000 widows and 105,000 orphans of World War veterans who are not receiving compensation or assistance in any form from the Federal government.

CAMPAIGNS SPEEDING UP AS HOME STRETCH NEARS

State's Political Leaders Mass Their Largest Ora- torical Guns For Final Drive—Cross To Speak.

By Associated Press

The tempo of the political campaign quickened in Connecticut today as leaders amassed their biggest oratorical guns for the drive toward their final objective—victory at the elections less than two weeks away.

Three gubernatorial candidates joined an army of speakers last night in carrying the political banners of their respective parties in to nearly every section of the state.

In New London Governor W. L. Cross, campaigning for re-election asserted state employees and factory workers were being intimidated.

"I denounce this attempt to terrorize secretaries, clerks, stenographers, typists and other State employees with the slogan 'Play safe for your job!'" he said.

Trumbull's Pledge

His Republican opponent, former Governor John H. Trumbull, pledged in New Haven himself "to help chart the course of our ship of state during the trying months ahead" and led "Connecticut's striking record of debt payment" under State Treasurer Roy C. Wilcox, Republican nominee for lieutenant-governor.

A third gubernatorial candidate, Albert Levitt of the Independent Republican party, criticized the prohibition stand of Senator Hiram Bingham and urged support for the Independent ticket so Connecticut might be "rightfully returned to the citizens." He spoke at Meriden where

New York, Oct. 26.—(AP)—The report of a sub-committee of the Wickersham commission dealing with the Billings-Mooney bombing case was published today with an introduction in which Senator Burton K. ## PREDICTS EUROPE WILL GO FASCIST

Il Duce Declares Within Ten Years This Will Come About—Cheers Greet Him

Milan, Italy, Oct. 26.—(AP)—A prediction by Premier Benito Mussolini that all Europe will go Fascist within the next ten years echoed through Italy today as Il Duce's own Fascist state approached within two days the anniversary of its first decade.

And before the end of a century, the strong man of Italy told his hearers here last night, Italy is destined once more to lead civilization as she did under the Caesars.

Cheers such as even Mussolini has seldom heard welcomed the leader here from Turin last night, as he ordered a march to power and world fame.

The Premier appeared in Fascist's customary black. He stood on a high rostrum before the cathedral with a searchlight playing on his features.

"Should the day come when it is necessary," Mussolini told the peace and tranquility, but I am also anxious for new battles and fresh combats." He did not say whether armed conflict was meant or the Fascist spirit of combat in life.

The Premier said his thoughts were advancing always straight ahead with courage and determination, sure of their future.

The Premier gave hope to political exiles abroad in referring to possible amnesty to them on the anniversary of Friday. He scorned their opposition, however.

"Amnesty will be no sign of weakness but of strength," he said. "I am thinking merely of the misery of the families of the prisoners."

The Premier told his audience he had destroyed the "theme of the anti-Fascists" who had pictured Turin to him as an example of hope.

PAROLED CONVICT MURDERS ANOTHER

Freed On One Slaying Charge He Kills Woman Who Be- friended Him.

Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 26.—(AP)—An ex-convict, paroled from one murder conviction, confessed to Prosecutor Donald J. Hoskins early today, the slaying of a second victim, Mrs. Daniel J. Bonzo, 44, wife of the chief record clerk at Ohio Penitentiary.

Mrs. Bonzo, beaten to death at her home here yesterday, had befriended the former convict, John Downing, 44, his confession as related to Hoskins said. "She's been like a mother to me. I don't know why I did it."

Downing was paroled from the Penitentiary October 6 last year after serving about seven years of a life term for the slaying of Mrs. Aileen Williams, 38, of Cincinnati, in 1928.

Downing pleaded guilty to first degree murder when arraigned in Police Court and was bound over to the Grand Jury.

Downing entered the court room flanked by a police guard.

He got about, but said nothing.

Asked if he desired to plead, Downing replied "guilty."

The speed with which the case moved after the body was found, Downing's arrest and subsequent statement led officials to believe quick action would be taken to dispose of his case.

Arrested less than five hours from the time the body of Mrs. Bonzo was found in the basement of her home yesterday, Downing signed the confession, Hoskins said, "was confronted with a pistol stolen from the

BERRIE NOW FACES LIFE IMPRISONMENT

Former Clergyman Convicted of Murder On First Ballot To Be Sentenced Monday.

Muskogee, Okla., Oct. 26.—(AP)—The Rev. S. A. Berrie today faced life imprisonment for the poison death of his first wife.

Convicted of murder by a jury late yesterday, the untried 52-year-old hymn writer looked down at his 19-year-old bride of five months and smiled. Eyes brimming with tears, he tried to smile back. Later she went with him to the jail cell he has occupied since early August. His attorneys said they would ask a new trial.

Sentence Monday

District Judge W. J. Crump announced he would pronounce formal sentence next Monday.

Jesse Doyle, former constable, who was foreman of the jury, said the jurors agreed on Berrie's guilt on the first ballot and argued whether to make the penalty death in the electric chair or life imprisonment during the remainder of their deliberations.

The conviction was based upon circumstantial evidence that Berrie poisoned his 50-year-old wife, Mrs. Fannie Berrie, last March, in order to pursue his romance with Ida Mae Bright whom he married May 17.

SMITH ASSISTING G. O. P. SAYS BORAH

Says Recent Speech Most Ef- fective Yet Made For the President.

Nampa, Idaho, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Senator William E. Borah, in an address here said "one of the most effective speeches yet made in this campaign for Mr. Hoover was made Monday night by the distinguished ex-governor of New York, Mr. Smith."

Asserting that many sincere men and women had been in doubt in the campaign because of the attitude of the two parties on the prohibition question, Borah said last night there could be no doubt after Smith's speech.

"What a great leader of a great party says that decent people have no place in the Democratic Party," Borah asserted, "let's take him at his word."

There is room for honest differences of opinion as to what to do with the Eighteenth Amendment, Borah added, "but when he calls those men and women cranks, bigots, hypocrites and intellectual crooks—the millions of sincere and patriotic men and women who would control the liquor traffic—he leaves no doubt where respectable people of the United States ought to go."

MACDONALD FAVORS REVISION OF DOLE

Britain's Premier Would Study System Further; Army Nears London.

London, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Reconsideration of some phases of the National government's dole system came as a promise from Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald today as two thousand members of a Nationally recruited "hunger army" moved within a stone's throw of London.

It is the "means test" in the dole which has brought much of the rising tide of discontent which has culminated recently in protest riots and now the march on London.

The prime minister spoke yesterday on a motion of censure against the government's dole policy introduced in the House of Commons by the Labor opposition. The motion was defeated 462 to 55.

Mr. MacDonald defended the government's policy and declared the "means test" which is given to determine the means of a dole applicant to subsist normally, cannot be abolished.

But some questions, the premier said, would be reconsidered. These might include the items of pensions and savings.

Moving Into City

The dozen or more groups of unemployed marchers who have been trudging and riding what possible means of transport, reached outlying suburbs last night, and were moving closer in today toward Hyde Park, their goal.

As far as could be ascertained no provisions have been made by leaders of the march for food and accommodations. This would indicate this vital need would become a public responsibility on existing agencies.

Last night the London County Council promised to "deal with the situation" provided accommodations were not otherwise provided. The proposal to receive a deputation of the marchers, Ishbel Macdonald, daughter of the prime minister, who is councillor, voted with the rejectors.

ROOSEVELT CALLED TRICKY CAMPAIGNER

Secretary Hyde Describes Him As Evasive and Insin- cere in Los Angeles Talk.

Los Angeles, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Arthur M. Hyde in a political address today accused the Democratic National campaign of attempting to "smear" President Hoover and described the political efforts of Franklin D. Roosevelt as "tricky, evasive and insincere."

In an appearance before a Republican luncheon here the secretary said the tide of public opinion has turned to the President. He accused the Democrats of "frantic sawing" and asserted their presidential nominee has "become filled with panic."

"It is a shame the Democrats failed to recognize the need for maintaining public morale during the last three years when they were spending $3,000,000 to smear Hoover," the secretary said, "a smearing campaign which they maintained with unparalleled fury and insincerity not only at a time when we must all have courage" (quoting Gov. Roosevelt) but during long months when even morale intelligence must have known that smearing the President of the United States meant deeper distress for the people."

Reputation Confirmed

"It is a pity that Roosevelt, himself, during the now waning honeymoon period of his candidacy, didn't

GOES HOME WITH FORTUNE BUT HE IS IN A COFFIN

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 26.—(AP)—Venerable Chin Wey was homeward bound today, journeying not to a comfortable old age as he had planned but to sleep forever among his honored ancestors. Through 20 years of waiting on white men's tables, Chin Wey had accumulated his share of world possessions—cash, more than $7,000 that had been deposited in a Canton bank. "Very soon," he told Chinese associates last summer, "I shall be reunited to Li Si and Chin Han in my native village of Chang Yung." Li Si, his wife, and Chin Han, his son, he had not seen since leaving to make his fortune 20 years ago. Soon cymbals will clash and firecrackers will pop in old Chang Yung over the remains of Chin Wey. For last August 12, he died of a throat infection after his spare frame had been weakened by injuries suffered when he was hit by an automobile. Yesterday, the woman driver of the car settled in an American court for $1,000 and Chin Ho Ming, administrator of Chin Wey's estate at last released the body for burial in China. He would not permit its removal sooner for fear of losing the "evidence" in his case against the woman. The body left here last night for Seattle to be shipped to Canton and a somber homeward. With Chin Wey's $8,000, his wife and son, now 26, may live in comfort.

STATUE OF LODGE UNVEILED IN HUB

Bay State Pays Tribute To One of Its Most Distinguished Statesmen.

Boston, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Massachusetts today paid tribute to one of its most distinguished statesmen with the unveiling on the east lawn of the State House of a life sized statue of the late U. S. Senator Henry Cabot Lodge.

Senator Lodge served in Congress from 1887 until 1893 in the House and from 1893 until his death in 1924, in the Senate. In 1918 Senator Lodge was elected Republican leader of the Upper House a post he held until his death. In this capacity he held a place of influence on the conduct of world war affairs.

Walsh Makes Speech Addresses extolling Senator Lodge were delivered at the exercises by U. S. Senator David I. Walsh, Democrat, who served in the Senate with him and who was one of his closest friends, Governor Joseph B. Ely and others.

George Cabot Lodge of Beverly, young great grandson of Senator Lodge, unveiled the statue which was formally presented to the State by Chester I. Campbell of the executive council and accepted in behalf of the State by Governor Ely.

GIRLS' BOWLING LEAGUE LICKED BY DEPRESSION

Cheney Employees Decide Not To Have Their Usual League This Season Because of Times.

Unemployment has had a telling effect on the Cheney Brothers Girls Athletic Association and forced a curtailment of their activities. It was stated today by Miss Ruth Hanson, president of that organization. "So many of the girls are either out of work or only employed on a short time basis that we've simply had to cut out some of the features of past years," Miss Hanson said. The association was formed in 1922 and one of the biggest activities was a bowling league every winter. For the first time since the organization was formed, there will be no league this year.

There are about 150 to 175 girls enrolled in the association and their activities will consist chiefly of hikes, hot dog roasts, or things of a like nature that do not call for much of an expenditure.

OBITUARY

FUNERALS

Mrs. Emma Trebbe The funeral of Mrs. Emma Trebbe of 345 West Center street was held at 8:30 this morning at the home and 9 o'clock at St. James' church. Rev. P. Cyril Higgins of Hartford was celebrant. Rev. W. P. Reddy deacon, and Rev. P. F. Killeen sub-deacon. Rev. James P. Timmins, formerly of Manchester, now of Hartford, was in the sanctuary.

The singers were Mrs. Maude Foley, Mrs. John Buckley, Mrs. Margaret Sullivan. When the body was borne into the church Organist Packard played Chopin's funeral march. The Gregorian mass was sung by the choir. At the elevation Mrs. Sullivan sang De Rees Ave Maria, and at the offertory a little Latin hymn, De Profundis. At the close of the service Mr. Packard played Handel's Largo.

The bearers were: Charles F. Trebbe, Frederick W. Trebbe, Leon E. Trebbe, sons of Mrs. Trebbe. George Merkle, Stanley Straugh and John P. Doyle. Rev. W. P. Reddy read the committal service at the grave in St. James' cemetery.

Alberta Weir The funeral of Alberta Weir, 14 months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adelbert C. Weir of Highland Park was held yesterday afternoon at Watkins Brothers with Rev. Watson Woodruff, Center Congregational church pastor, officiating. Burial was in the East cemetery.

Mrs. Margaret Burdell Funeral services for Mrs. Margaret Burdell of Deming street who died at the Memorial hospital Monday, were held from her late home this morning at 8 o'clock and from Holy Trinity church, Hartford at 9 o'clock. Rev. Albert Ambrose officiated and the bearers were Alexander Kiskokowsky, Peter Ambrose, Vincent Strimke, George Petruskas, James Baltrukomis, Anthony Birietta. Burial was in Mount St. Benedict's cemetery, Hartford.

IN BANKRUPTCY Bridgeport, Oct. 26.—(AP)—A petition in bankruptcy was filed here today against the W. F. Trimper Hat Company of Danbury. The creditor petitioners are the Hatters Fur Exchange of New York with a claim of $60,000; the Chapel Donor Corporation of New Jersey with a claim of $171,057; and Beatrice Greenfield of New York with claim of $175.

LOSES HIS OFFICE Darien, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Ralph E. Case, Republican, of Tokeneke, a suburb here, was almost a town official. He was elected by 996 votes in the recent town elections here, but failed to return from a trip to Europe in time to be sworn in as a voter. Under the law, no non-voter can hold a town office. Thus the Planning and Zoning Commission will have to get a new member somewhere.

STUDENT HIT BY CAR AS SHE CROSSES ROAD

While crossing Forest street at 12:45 this afternoon, Miss Katherine Wilson of 96 Pine street was struck by a car driven by George Smith of 412 Main street nearly opposite the Army and Navy club. Smith took Miss Wilson to the Manchester Memorial hospital where it was found that she had suffered slight abrasions on the right leg.

Miss Wilson was walking from her home to High school and suddenly ran in front of Smith's car which she had not noticed approaching. Although the victim was practically uninjured the glass in the right side of the windshield was shattered by the impact. Smith took Miss Wilson to the hospital and reported the accident at the police station.

BAGS 22 POUND 'COON, BIGGEST THIS SEASON

Roger W. Williams of 71 Cedar street is in possession of a 22-pound 'coon which was treed by his dog a few nights ago in Bolton. Stretched from the tip of his tail to the end of his front paws, the 'coon stands about hip-high. It is the biggest reported killed this season.

Williams' dog is understood to have earned his own coat in pelts the first season he was bought. Last Thursday night Williams and Frank Robinson bagged three 'coons. John (Dusty) May was with Williams when the 22-pound 'coon was caught.

DIES AT THE WHEEL

Danielson, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Louis A. Brown, 62, of South Danville, N. H., suffered a heart attack at the wheel of his automobile and died as the uncontrolled car crashed into a telephone pole. Miss Rosina Fosberg, 35, of North Grovesnor-dale, riding with him, was taken to the Day Kimball hospital in Putnam for treatment of a cut over the right eye.

Brown was a salesman for an Amsterdam, N. Y., company.

FEDERAL RAID

Bridgeport, Oct. 26.—(AP)—United States immigration inspectors from New York co-operating with the local police, unexpectedly swooped down early today on Bridgeport places alleged to be the hide-outs of persons living illegally in this country and at one resort arrested seven men and at two other places two more. The nine men were taken immediately to New York where they are to be arraigned before immigration authorities to show cause why they should not be deported.

The smallest fog particles have been measured at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. It was found that 26,000 of them could be placed on the head of a pin.

ABOUT TOWN

The first series of the Masonic club bridge tournament was concluded Monday night with Thomas Weir and Edward Noren winning the series prize. There were 15 tables in play Monday night and for the evening's play George Hunt and John Ritchie won first prize and John McLoughlin and Samuel Robson won second prize. The door prize went to Eekel Buckland. Another series of five sittings will start next Monday night.

Mrs. Ethel Nevus of School street was pleasantly surprised at her home last night on the occasion of her birthday. About a dozen of her girl friends came to help her celebrate and brought with them individual gifts as well as two birthday cakes, one with candles and the other bearing her name. The time was pleasantly spent with music, games and dancing.

A meeting of the proposed German-American Republican club for the purposes of organizing will be held in the Lincoln School tonight at 8 o'clock.

The next meeting of the Board of Education will be held at 8 o'clock Monday evening. At that time the board will continue to discuss the school budget situation.

Manchester and New Britain High schools will renew basketball relations this winter for the first time in many years. The two schools stopped playing each other following a rumpus which followed a game here.

Mrs. William Turkington of Orchard street and Miss Gertrude Phillips of Hamlin street entertained the members of their Sunday School classes of the Nazarene church at the home of Mrs. Turkington Monday night. Games were played during the evening and refreshments of cake, cookies, candy were served.

The Howitzer company held their regular monthly drill and inspection last evening in the armory followed by a supper in the basement dining hall.

HOSPITAL NOTES

George Fitzgerald of 111 Holl street, Mrs. Viola Crawford of 328 East Center street and Mrs. Clara Edmondson of North Coventry were discharged from the hospital yesterday.

A daughter was born at the hospital today to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brown of 2 Lockwood street. Mrs. Rose Myers and infant son of Ellington Road, East Hartford, were discharged today.

DETECTIVE'S FUNERAL

New Haven, Oct. 26.—(AP)—A huge crowd including police officers, city officials and others attended the funeral services today of Detective Joseph P. Sullivan who was fatally injured trying to arrest two alleged automobile thieves.

Services were held in St. Mary's church, where the Rev. J. B. Logan celebrated high requiem mass. Burial took place in St. Lawrence cemetery.

Mayor John W. Murphy, Police Chief Philip T. Smith of New Haven and Chief W. G. Doherty of the Hamden police were among those who attended.

ITALIAN REPUBLICANS HOLD RALLY TUESDAY

Prominent Speakers Coming—Discount Statements of Bar to Saying He Is Not Authorized.

The Italian-American Republican club will hold a rally in the Spanish Hall school at eight o'clock Tuesday night, November 1. Two well known speakers will address the gathering in Italian and the committee who will outline the campaign issues. It is pointed out that while these rallies are sponsored for the Italian colony in Manchester they are open to the public.

The committee in a meeting last night was unanimous in denouncing the recent accusation made by a local Democrat that Republicans "let down" the Italian candidate for Selectman at the last Primary here. They pointed out that Joseph Pero got a fine vote, more than half of which came from outside the Italian colony in Manchester. They asserted that Baro had expressed opinions that were his own but not representative of Italian people of Manchester. The committee asked The Herald to explain that no one individual is authorized to speak for the Italian-Americans in Manchester.

ORANGEMEN TO WORK DEGREE SATURDAY

The Royal Arch Purple Master's degree will be worked at the regular meeting of Washington Loyal Orange Lodge, No. 117, at Orange Hall Saturday night, preceded by a supper at 8:45 o'clock. A dozen candidates will be initiated and the work will be done by the degree team from Linton Lodge of Everett, Mass.

David Morrison, worthy master, has appointed Archie Haugh, past master, to be in charge of exemplifying the degree. Some time ago, the local degree team appeared at Everett and made a distinct hit and the officers desire that the team re-enact its work at this meeting Saturday evening.

Guests are expected from lodges throughout southern New England.

Milk
The only real excuse any Age has for existing is to produce a few men that are ahead of it.—Don Marquis.

You get real home-made bakery at the Home Bakery, 84 Church street. They will please delicious cookies, pumpkin pie and made-to-order cakes for Halloween. Phone 5288.

Desserts
Fresh figs or fresh persimmons make grand desserts when served with heavy cream. Since they make a fairly substantial dessert, they should end a light meal, rather than a heavy one.

High school girls: Just right for your Halloween parties are Rubino's dresses at $2.95 and $3.89.

Sophisticated
Crispled and crepe satins, the latter as shiny as patent leather, didn't stop at gaining popularity for evening gowns, but now appear in hats of the turban type for restaurant, afternoon, and theater wear. They are supposed to give the wearer a very sophisticated look, so if you crave a worldly appearance, there's one way of achieving it.

Every mother knows how warm chinchilla coats are—and how well they wear. Steiger's in Hartford have the regulation all-wool chinchilla coats with bare to match for $3.98. Sizes two to six years. Second floor.

Perfume Pendant
A pendant hung on a 32-inch maraschino chain has hollow lockets with a puff inside onto which is poured perfume. The perfume diffuses its scent through openings in the maraschino.

Jewelry departments are a study in contrasts now, with Victorian designs by the side of very modern pieces. It all depends on the costume you wear.

An Electric Floor Polisher, for rent at Pinehurst Grocery to use with Johnson's Wax, leaves floors glossy and clean.

Risotto
To make "Ham Risotto" you need:
1 cup diced cooked ham
2 cups boiled rice
2 cups canned or fresh tomato
1 cup broth (any kind)
1-2 cup green pepper, finely minced
1 teaspoon grated onion.
Cook green pepper in broth five minutes. Add tomato, onion and cooked rice. Bring to a boil and add diced ham. Stir to mix. Reduce heat, moist, but not watery, so if there is much liquid reduce it with a few minutes of cooking. Season with a dash of Worcestershire, salt, pepper and paprika. Place a piece of butter on each serving.

At the Ideal Bakery, 246 North Main street, you can select breads, cakes, pies, cookies for every meal.

For Carpets
Rug cushions, made to go under your scatter rugs or under a whole floor covering, give longer life to carpets and the additional depth makes walking on them more pleasant.

The W. G. Glenny Company will install an Automatic Heat Controller for your furnace. This device saves an enormous amount of coal, keeps the house evenly heated so that you have a constant temperature, and saves you a lot of trouble in tending the furnace. The cost is about $25.00 or less. Phone 4149.

Only Human
"You can always get the truth out of an American statesman after he has turned seventy, or given up all hope of the presidency."—Anonymous.

Your clothes are washed in fresh, clean water when you send them to the New Model Laundry. Materials which harm goods are never used. That is why you get the full life out of clothes regularly laundered at the New Model. Phone 8072 to have the delivery call for your next batch.

Looking Ahead
As you go about the stores doing your shopping now, it's a good idea to keep Christmas in mind. Only eight weeks after this one! Keeping your eyes open to the good values available now will save you some last-minute headaches.

One of your own snapshots will make a distinctive Christmas card. The Elite Studio, 985 Main street, prints them attractively. Ten cards with envelopes are $1.00.

Chance To Be Silly
Halloween offers an opportunity to have a party a little different from the usual bridge parties that we all get tired of once in a while. At a Halloween party, all can act as silly as they please and have a grand time. Decorations and the typical Halloween fare are inexpensive. Your guests will be more than satisfied with apples, candy, sandwiches, cider, pumpkin pie and coffee.

Farr's Cider Mill
Open Mondays and Thursdays
Sweet Cider $5 Barrel
Maiden Cider $1.25 Barrel

The Halloween windows of the Dewey-Richman Company, Main street, are an inspiration to have a Halloween party, with: Tallies, place cards, lamp shades, crepe paper, stickers, even ghosts.

For Silver
A pinch of salt in the water in which you wash silver will preserve the luster of the silver. A piece of camphor in the silver drawer has the same effect.

We consider this a "find" in slippers: Pure silk, adjustable straps, hand-repelled hems, $1.95 at Rubino's.

Brushing
Of course everybody knows that brushing the hair with a stiff-bristled brush every night stimulates blood circulation, cleans and shines the hair. However, in the case of those who have somewhat oily hair, brushing often seems to increase the production of oil and make the hair appear very oily. If this is the case, sprinkle orris root on the hair while brushing. It will absorb the oil.

For Halloween, you might treat the family or the "gang" to dinner or late evening refreshments from a specially planned menu at the Coffee Shop, 983 Main street.

Smokerettes
A certain writer says that women light a cigarette like a torch, hold it like a bomb and blow through it like a bean-shooter. Right?

THREE BEETHOVEN CONCERTS IN MONTH

To Sing Sunday, Nov. 6 At Church Here and Will Give Charity Concert Nov. 7.

The Beethoven Glee Club will fill three concert engagements in one week next month, starting Sunday, November 6, when the singers will appear at the Confirmation Reunion at the Emanuel Lutheran church. On Monday evening, November 7, the club will sing at a charity concert at the High school, sponsored by the Educational club.

On Thursday evening, November 10, the Beethoven will sing at the Bushnell Memorial on a program sponsored by the Swedish Relief society of Hartford. The Wennerberg Chorus of New Britain will also sing, and numerous musical artists have been engaged to appear.

JOBLESS BUREAU OPENS TOMORROW

To Register Unemployed At Municipal Building—Face Hard Problem.

The machinery of the Manchester Emergency Employment Association will start operations again tomorrow it was stated last night by President Frank Cheney, Jr., at a meeting of the Board of Selectmen and the Association. Everything is in readiness for the resumption of the office in the Municipal building except printing new cards for registration purposes. Work will begin at 9 a. m. tomorrow.

$50,000 Insufficient
Charity Commissioner George H. Waddell outlined the need of co-operation of the Board of Selectmen and the Association again this year, stating that "there is no indication that conditions are any better, if anything, worse than last winter." In his opinion the $50,000 appropriated at the last town meeting would not be sufficient to carry through the winter and gave as his opinion that a program for securing voluntary subscriptions weekly from those employed would be difficult to initiate, due to reductions in salaries and curtailed employment. It was reported by Mr. Waddell that there are between 600 and 600 unemployed people, the majority of whom have had no work since the Association closed its office last year. With the $50,000 appropriation as a basis on which to work, he said, together with any subscriptions that the Association may secure, the Association could be of material service through its offices by registering the town's unemployed as done last year.

Extra Work
Highway, storm sewer and other town work in excess of that furnished regularly to town employees will be given to those certified by the association in proportion to their needs as was done last year. The two departments will be operated separately, the association furnishing the extra labor required and the town the money from the various appropriations.

It was suggested that extra work could be done graveling roads, cutting brush and other necessary work in connection with the town highways. The appropriations for the departments from which the extra work will be supplied are: highways, $40,000; parks, $9,500; storm sewers, $13,500.

In conclusion the charity commissioner urged a closer cooperation and coordination between the charity department to the end that more effective work and a greater humanitarian effort be pursued for the benefit of the greatest number of unemployed.

Ready To Cooperate
Frank Cheney, Jr., said that the Manchester Emergency Employment Association had held two meetings, the last meeting being for the purpose of electing officers. President Cheney said that it was the consensus of the Association that they were an "unemployment body, rather than a charity organization whose object is to furnish jobs." The association was ready to cooperate along lines similar to those followed last year, he said with a small amount in the treasury to start operations. It is expected that the office will be opened tomorrow.

The office of the association will be located in the north end of the Municipal building as last year. It was proposed at the meeting that in the event that the charity department needs larger quarters, that the town engineering department could be moved temporarily and the charity department take over the vacated quarters.

Delinquent Taxpayers
The Selectmen received several complaints against their action at the last regular meeting approving the payment of delinquent taxes from pay given to taxpayers from the charity account. The Board at that meeting voted to make exceptions only in special cases. The Board voted last night to direct the clerk to make exceptions from the original order upon his judgment, after reviewing the case and to insist upon a percentage of the draft being turned over to the tax collector.

Now that Jimmy Walker is back home, he can become a candidate for Forgotten Man.

Three Stylish New Bedroom Suites—your choice

$82.50

In buying new bedroom suites for Fall, we have sought particularly for moderate priced suites that would have style appeal and worthy construction. Many new numbers have been arriving and it's a revelation to see what a splendid selection is now here.

Just for example, we are offering these three entirely different groups—each of them an outstanding success—all at the same popular price of $82.50.

Suite No. 1—

A Walnut suite on plain lines with a rich simplicity that is bound to appeal to many thoughtful buyers. The pieces are quite large and roomy. The walnut veneer is finished in a warm medium tone of brown. Sturdy, graceful design, without any fussy decorations.

Suite No. 2—

Another walnut suite, of somewhat different type. Not quite so large in size, a little more refined in character, and with more details of ornament—such as nicely shaped mouldings, fluted posts, dainty rosettes, etc. A dressy suite—not at all overdressed—with figured burled walnut finished a little on the dark side of brown.

Suite No. 3—

A mahogany suite of modified colonial type that is a real gem. Has a poster bed of beautiful design, a large dresser and pretty vanity table. The plain richness of the red mahogany is nicely set off by delicately fluted posts and rails, graceful turnings and appropriate fittings.

SPECIAL NO. 1

Plain poster bed in maple, mahogany or walnut with flat spring and all white cotton mattress. Very practical for children's use.

$17.50 Complete

SPECIAL NO. 2

Attractive pineapple top posters in choice of finishes, delicately reeded posts and rails, with reinforced spring and innerspring mattress.

$26.50 Complete

SPECIAL NO. 3

Solid mahogany poster bed, with beautifully carved posts and figured panels—Simmons special double coil spring and Simmons innerspring mattress.

POSTER BEDS

only in mahogany, walnut or maple—good heavy construction and excellent finish—Only ..... $8.95

TWIN STUDIO DIVAN

HIGH SCHOOL HEADS OF DISTRICT HERE

Meriden, West Hartford, East Hartford, Bristol and Middletown Represented.

All the principals in the C. C. I. L. assembly Principals Ray Walker of Meriden, Ray W. Harriman of West Hartford, Bernard F. Ross of East Hartford, Henry E. Cottle of Bristol, and Fred W. Shearer of Middletown, were guests of Principal C. P. Quimby at the High school yesterday. Arriving at about ten o'clock in the morning, they spent the entire day visiting the local High school and finding out "How we do it in Manchester."

The morning was spent in visiting the classes and inspecting the physical plant of the school. At noon they had luncheon served by the senior class in cooking, under the direction of Miss Helen Smith and with Miss Freda Roth acting as hostess. In the afternoon the group reassembled in Mr. Quimby's office where they stayed until five o'clock inspecting the records and various other parts of the administrative machinery.

Debating
The most important business done by the group consisted of adopting the question for league debate and agreeing upon the date of March 24 for the triangular debate. The winners of the two schools winning the triangular debate will meet Monday evening March 27 to contest for the league championship oak plaque. The question to be discussed is the same which will undoubtedly be accepted at the State Headmaster's meeting in New Haven on Friday. Resolved: That at least one-half of the revenue to be used for state and local expenditures should be derived from sources other than tangible property.

Manchester will defend the affirmative of the question at home against the team from Middletown high school while the negative team will go to Meriden to meet the affirmative team there. East Hartford, West Hartford, and Bristol will comprise the teams in the other triangle, meeting on the same eve-

ing. The three "A" triangle will continue the competition for the H. Wales Line cup on which Manchester has two legs, Middletown, two, and Meriden one.

Doctors at Games
Another action taken by the principals was the agreement that the home school would attempt to have a physician on hand at all athletic games. The schools in the league have had the misfortune to suffer two injuries. One of these was a broken collar bone which was the result of a mishap in the Manchester-Bristol game and the other is a broken leg in West Hartford which was the result of the game between Bristol and West Hartford. Aside from this, however, it seems that the season has been better than usual from minor injuries and the principals were rather strong in their denials of the article which appeared in all the newspapers yesterday, indicating that high school injuries had increased.

Economics
Considerable time was spent in discussing the various economies which schools are practicing during this era, to quote one of the principals, of "depression schools." Music and art courses have suffered in most schools while all schools have increased their teaching loads. It was interesting to note that Manchester high school with 40 teachers, including the teaching principal and three half-time household arts teachers, for 1255 pupils, had a considerably heavier average load than the other schools in the league.

Teachers' salaries have been reduced in all the schools this year and average to date a 13 per cent cut for all the schools in the league. The use of the P. G.'s in doing many jobs to assist the teachers in Bristol and Meriden high schools will be reported upon in the next meeting of the league which will be held during December.

Principal Walker has invited the principals in the league to spend a visitation day at the Meriden high school on Tuesday, December 13th. At the conclusion the men made some comments in observation of the day. It is probably one of the first meetings of its kind in the State and may be the beginning of an interesting practice which will be helpful to all concerned.

Now the fish are learning that all is not gold that glitters. For an Arkansas doctor who painted his minnows with merochrome to make them look like gold fish scored a record catch. Base deceiver!

ROCKVILLE

ELKS' GRAND OFFICERS GUESTS ON THURSDAY

District Deputy Callahan of Norwich To Be In Charge of Inspection Tomorrow Night

Rockville Lodge of Elks is to hold a big event at the Elks' Home on Thursday night when the grand officers will come here to inspect the lodge. The inspection will be in charge of District Deputy Felix Callahan of Norwich, the official representative of the Grand Exalted Ruler, who will be accompanied by his suite. A large number of lodges from surrounding cities and towns are planning to be present.

Previous to the meeting there will be a dinner for the officers at the Rockville Home. At 8 o'clock a lodge of sorrow for Thomas F. Noone, former State's Attorney, will be held. The eulogy will be given by Past Exalted Ruler Harry C. Smith.

Exalted Ruler Edward L. Newmark will preside at the meeting. The committee in charge of the event includes Frank Rizzy, Louis E. Chapman, Clarence McCarthy, Raymond E. Hunt and Vincent Finley.

High School Election
The Rockville High school will have an election this year for the pupils. On November 8 each pupil will cast his vote, a regular ballot, and after the first period the entire school will meet in the auditorium and receive results. Each room is a precinct and each party in the precinct elects one member to represent them on a general party committee which is to arrange for rally speeches, distribution of printed matter and in general working just as a regular party committee would act. There are three parties, with the following committees: Democrats, Robert Byrnes, Stanley Kunkel, Charles Christopher, Curtis Trischman, Howard Barton, Louis Patrio, Grace Vanderman, William Bokis, Katherine Hambach, Leon Roavazino, Edward Zahner, Gertrude Murphy, John Mack, Edwin Dyjack, Emily Kufersmidt, James Wright; Republican, Donald Mc-

Wed Thirty-seven Years
The Epworth League of the Rockville M. E. church were surprised on Sunday when arriving at the cottage of Dr. and Mrs. Wright. W. Bean of Tolland for a sunset service to learn that this was the 37th anniversary of their marriage. Congratulations were in order and before leaving, the members, thirty in number, formed a circle around the couple singing the Epworth League Song. Rev. Robert S. Moore, former pastor of the Rockville M. E. church, now retired, and of Providence, R. I., was present and gave a most interesting address.

Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Bean, now of Stafford Springs, with a summer home in Tolland, resided in Rockville for many years.

Fayette Lodge Celebration
Fayette Lodge, A. F. and A. M., held a Washington class initiation in Masonic hall last evening in observance of the bi-centennial of the birth of the first president, George Washington. The Master, Mason Degree was exemplified on a large class of candidates. The officers of local lodge were assisted by Worshipful Master, Roy A. Warner of St. John's Lodge, Hartford. Past Master John C. Conklin of Washington Lodge of Windsor, Luther C. Skinner, Charles H. Leonard and Alexander McKenna of the local lodge.

As Washington was a member of the Masonic Order, the members thought it most fitting to celebrate in his honor. There were remarks by the visiting officers, followed by a smoker and refreshments.

Meeting Monday
The annual meeting of the Rockville Chapter, American Red Cross will be held at the Rockville High school on Monday afternoon at 8 o'clock. Officers for the ensuing year will be elected and plans made for welfare work during the coming winter. Parley E. Leonard is chairman.

Ask to Work Out Taxes
The selectmen of the town of Tolland have called a special town meeting for Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock for the purpose of what action will be taken in permitting property owners to work out their unpaid taxes on the town roads. This is to apply only to taxes laid on the Grand list of 1931, or previous years. Many of the property owners have expressed the desire to work out their taxes on the town roads. A petition has been started and the special meeting will result.

Whist Postponed
The whist to be held by Vernon Grange at Grange hall, Vernon Center, has been postponed from Thursday evening, October 27, to Friday evening, Oct. 28. It is hoped all those planning to attend will note the change in date.

To Form Club
A meeting of the citizens of German birth, members of the Republican party, met in the Superior Court rooms on Monday night for the purpose of forming an organization of a Republican German club in this city. Another meeting will be held next Tuesday night, at which time officers will be elected. John Yost is the present chairman.

Deaths Last Night
Mrs. Robert Holbrook of Newton Center is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis T. Maxwell of Maxwell Court.

Rev. Robert Moore of Providence, R. I., has been spending several days as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Kroymann of Union street.

Mrs. Francis T. Maxwell of Maxwell Court and Miss Marion Butler of Park street, attended the luncheon of Mayflower Association held at the Hartford Club today.

DECLARES NATION FEARS ROOSEVELT

Secretary Mills Says Candidate's Unsound Policy and Lack of Program is the Cause — Scores Democratic House — Holds That Nation's Recovery Will Be Menaced If Democrats Win.

Ogden L. Mills

Cincinnati, Ohio, Oct. 24—The following is the text of speech delivered by the Honorable Ogden L. Mills, Secretary of the Treasury, here last evening.

The Democratic candidate for the Presidency in his recent speeches has complained heatedly of the fear which many people have as to the effect which his election would have on the course of the economic recovery, which seems at the present time to be within reach. The candidate should not blame others for this state of fear. His party and he, himself, are largely responsible for its existence.

The country cannot forget that we have but recently emerged from a financial and credit panic which threatened nation-wide disaster. It cannot forget that, with the wave of fear which swept the Nation and the wide-spread loss of confidence, the qualities most needed in government were courage, stability and steadfast adherence to sound principles. It cannot forget that the bulwarks that had to be maintained at all cost were an unshakable national credit and a sound currency. It cannot forget that the Administration typified the very standards that were needed, while the record made by the Democratic House of Representatives would have wrecked the national credit and undermined the integrity of our currency.

All of these events are much too recent not to be vital elements in the issues of this campaign. For if the measures which passed the Democratic House of Representatives last winter should become law this coming winter, they would wreck all hope of recovery.

The country knows it. Mr. Roosevelt should know it. And yet he complains of the existence of fears which he himself could have in large measure allayed if he had been willing to grapple with the real issues of this campaign and tell the country where he actually stands. This he has consistently refused to do.

With election only two weeks off, no one knows whether he approves or disapproves of the measure providing for the issuance of greenbacks which passed the House of Representatives, the Democrats voting three to one in its favor. No one knows whether he approves or disapproves of the huge program of uneconomic public works expenditures that would wreck all hope of a balanced budget, which passed the House of Representatives with the Democrats voting 194 to 10 in its favor. No one knows whether he approves or disapproves of the measure which instructs the Secretary of the Treasury and the Federal Reserve Board to manipulate prices.

No one knows whether he approves or disapproves of the Steagall Bill to guarantee bank deposits. No one knows whether he approves or disapproves of his running-mate's measure to put the Federal Government into the commercial banking business. Even after his Pittsburgh speech, no one knows whether he approves or disapproves of the payment of the adjusted service certificates at their face value before maturity, with an additional cost to the taxpayer over and above that provided for in the Adjusted Service Compensation Act of over two billion dollars. After having dodged that question for three months, when finally public opinion compelled him to say something, he spoke not so as to meet the issue, but so as to side-step it.

Just Complaining
Nobody knows where he stands on the whole reconstruction program. It is true that at Wheeling last week he gave a backhanded endorsement to the creation of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, but complaining of the way that it had been managed.

Nobody knows where he stands on a relief program. He says he is determined that there shall be no starvation or destitution in the United States. So is every other right-thinking man. But the question that has been debated in the Congress is whether the Federal Government should enter directly into the field of private charity, or whether it should deal solely with the sovereign states, advancing the necessary funds to them so that they can take care of their own as provided for in the law enacted in the last session of the Congress.

As to this he is silent. Nobody knows how recovery is to be had under Governor Roosevelt's leadership, because during the entire course of the present campaign he has failed to outline any plan for dealing with the depression.

The Governor complains that some people fear his election as presenting an impediment to business recovery. Who has he to blame but himself? For how can the Nation struggling with the manifold problems of a great depression look forward with confidence to the leadership of a man who has consistently declined to take them into his confidence, and to let them know where he stands and what he purposes to do.

And these fears are necessarily accentuated by the fact that when on rare occasions the Democratic candidate has attempted to deal specifically with given problems, as he did last Wednesday evening in Pittsburgh where he discussed fiscal policies, to put it mildly, he makes it only too evident that he has not got a firm grip on the realities of the situation, or of the problems which confront us.

The Pittsburgh Speech
Let's examine the Pittsburgh speech. From the standpoint of the Treasury, of course, it requires no answer. It is absurd. But it is well worth analyzing, from the standpoint of the light it throws on the understanding, knowledge and judgment of a candidate for the Presidency.

In that speech the Democratic candidate undertook to give his version of recent financial history. According to him, the story runs as follows:
That the Federal Government,

mentally increased its expenditures during the post-war period; that there was terrible extravagance and waste, particularly from 1929 to 1930. That the Treasury failed to correctly appraise the situation in the fall of 1929 and 1930, and, as a result, large deficits were incurred; that the hidden news leaked out during the summer of 1931; that, as a consequence, foreign nations which had been forced off the gold standard by our withdrawing gold from them, now panic-stricken at the situation of our national credit, withdrew their balances from us; and the panic was on; that the Administration failed to tell the truth to the Congress and that, because of this, the present budget is unbalanced.

What are the facts?
First, Federal expenditures did not increase rapidly during the post-war period. When the Republicans took control of the Government in 1921, two and a half years after the War was over, Federal expenditures aggregated five and a half billion dollars. During the course of the next year they were reduced by approximately $1,700,000,000. From 1922 to 1930 they showed remarkable stability, increasing by about 4 per cent, or two-thirds of one per cent a year. In the meanwhile the National debt was being reduced at the rate of approximately $800,000,000 a year, naturally resulting in decreased debt service charges, for which the Administration is responsible for reduction of the debt is entitled to full credit. It represents a real saving.

Governor Roosevelt charges that the administrative costs of the Federal Government increased a billion dollars in four years. In order to obtain these figures he compares the fiscal year 1927, in which Federal expenditures reached their minimum, with the fiscal year 1931, a depression year, in which there was a number of emergency items.

Routine Expenditures
Now, I want you to note before giving you the items that fully account for these increases, that the Governor says that he wants "to compare routine government outlay of 1927 with that for 1931." Routine expenditures, mark you!

Yet here are some of the items that go to make up the increase by which he would indict President Hoover of extravagance: Public works and vessel construction was increased by approximately $308,000,000 to relieve unemployment; extraordinary and emergency aids to agriculture, including drought relief, accounted for about $244,000,000; there was an item of $112,000,000 resulting from falling off in the revenues of the postal department, due to the depression; and there were special payments amounting to $124,000,000 on account of the bonus and others veterans' items.

The Governor accuses the Administration "of concealing realities and abusing confidence." He bases these intemperate charges on the fact that in November, 1929, we failed to forecast the depth and extent of this depression; that in the fall of 1929 and of 1930 our estimates of revenue to be received over the period of a year beginning seven months after the estimates were submitted failed of realization by a substantial amount, and we did not recommend tax increases in 1929 and in 1930.

Roosevelt Did Not
I admit freely that in November, 1929, we did not foresee the extent and depth of this depression. Who did? Certainly not Governor Roosevelt, who continued in New York his course of reckless spending.

As a consequence we did not reckon on a drop in Federal revenue of a billion dollars from June, 1930, to July, 1931. In 1930 when the estimates were submitted there were indications of a business recovery. Such a recovery did take place. From December through April the volume of all industrial production rose steadily, showing an increase of 16 per cent. Then bad news from Europe began to come in, a crisis loomed up, recovery was smothered. But can the Treasury be accused of concealing and duplicity because in November it failed to foresee the European catastrophe of the following summer?

Not satisfied with making so unfair a charge in order to increase the margin of error in the two fiscal years which he combines, the Democratic candidate conceals the fact that deficit figures include such extraordinary items as an appropriation of half a billion dollars for the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, which came into being in February, 1930; $125,000,000 to increase the capital of the Federal Land Banks, appropriated in January, 1932, and a number of other emergency items of that character.

Was the Administration lacking in frankness and guilty of abuse of confidence because in December, 1930, it didn't foresee that it would be necessary in February, 1932, to create the emergency finance corporation with a capital of half a billion dollars, or that our revenues would be curtailed during the fiscal year 1932 by a debt moratorium designed in July, 1931, to save the world and the world from further disaster?

If anyone is guilty of abusing the confidence of the American people, it certainly is not the Administration.

It appears that the Democratic candidate would have imposed new taxes in December, 1929, at the very moment when the collapse in security values had taken place, when depression was setting in, and in the middle of a year which the Federal Government was about to close with a surplus of $184,000,000. There's financial statesmanship for you!

And with the recovery in sight in January, 1931, if he had been in charge, in spite of increasing production and the signs of economic revival, he says he would at once have interposed the obstacle of increased taxation.

Difficult Problem
Now, as a matter of fact, depressions of this kind give rise to the most difficult of fiscal problems. On the one hand, it is, of course, necessary to maintain the credit of the Government. On the other, it is clearly undesirable to impose additional burdens in the form of increased taxes at the very time when the people are least able to bear them and when they are bound to present a further drag on an already depressed economic life.

Therefore, governments which are very strong financially and whose credit position is thoroughly secure, follow the part of wisdom, if temporarily, at least, until the exact nature of the economic factors involved can be determined, refrain from imposing additional tax burdens.

During the course of the years of prosperity, owing to the wise financial policy insistently pursued by Secretary Mellon, we had set up what was in reality a reserve of three and a half billion dollars of public debt retired from surplus funds over and above legal requirements. In the balance and hope of promoting an early recovery we were justified in drawing on these reserve funds.

And now we come to the most extraordinary part of this extraordinary speech. The Democratic candidate would have the country believe that the panic which began in the summer of 1931 of disquieting revelations relating to our finances, and that the events in Europe during the spring, summer and early fall of 1931 were totally unrelated to it.

I agran quote from his Pittsburgh speech: "The foreign cause alibi is like ascribing measles to its spots rather than to its characteristic germs."

Yet every man with a rudimentary knowledge of the financial history of the last twelve months knows otherwise.

First the Austrian credit system gave way. Then Germany's credit structure collapsed and had for all practical purposes to be taken over by the Government. Then accounting to the strain of a tremendous withdrawal of funds, the world's banker, the very citadel of financial stability and strength fell. Great Britain suspended the operation of the gold standard. While the Governor does not deem this event of sufficient importance to mention, it rocked the world. It unsettled all exchanges. It drove eighteen other countries off the gold standard.

U. S. Attacked
As soon as the news was known, attacked by the same fear, these same forces of destruction attacked our country. Men and institutions, blinded by panic, had no confidence in anything but the actual possession of gold itself. Foreign balances and investments in this country were converted into gold and either re-marketed or exported. In the six weeks ending November 1st, we lost $769,000,000 in gold. Our own people began to lose their heads. Five hundred million dollars of currency went into hoards. Three hundred banks failed in September, 322 in October. The panic was on.

The Democratic candidate knows nothing of these stupendous events.

3 EASY RULES for using Koppers Connecticut Coke

1 Shake less—Because Koppers Connecticut Coke is all fuel and burns down to fine ashes that drop through the grate with very little shaking. Once a day is often enough to shake—less frequently in mild weather.

2 Use less draft—Because Koppers Connecticut Coke is High Test Fuel, it burns evenly without forcing the fire and wasting heat up the chimney. It responds at once to closing as well as to opening of dampers.

3 Fill the fire pot heaping full—You can do this without danger of smothering the fire. Koppers Connecticut Coke is lighter than coal and burns most economically and effectively when you keep a deep fire.

He uses HIGH TEST FUEL

...and pays less for it

HIS CAR ran better on high test fuel. So he decided his furnace would too. He changed to Koppers Connecticut Coke, the High Test Fuel, for every kind of home heating plant. Now his house is warmer, and in addition he is saving money and work.

Koppers Connecticut Coke is all fuel. It is almost pure carbon, and carbon is the heat-giving part of fuel. This abundance of carbon makes a Koppers Connecticut Coke fire quick starting. Just a little opening of the dampers, and it delivers heat to meet any sudden drop in temperature. Your furnace will do better if you change to the High Test Fuel—Koppers Connecticut Coke. You'll find also that the very thing that makes it a better fuel, makes it easier to use. There are two-thirds less ashes in Koppers Connecticut Coke, and once you start to use it you are through with heavy ash cans. Your coke fire will need only light shaking once a day, even less often in mild weather—in fact, far from requiring extra attention, it needs less.

A few days' use of Koppers Connecticut Coke will convince you that it would be a good buy if it cost more, but actually it costs less per ton—and you use fewer tons because of its extra heat. Better heat, less work, less expense—that's a combination you can't afford to miss. Order High Test Fuel now. Call us, or your own fuel dealer, and order Koppers Connecticut Coke for delivery at your convenience.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 26.

NO LAMP FOR HIS FEET

Mr. Roosevelt, in default of any clear cut idea as to what he would do to restore general business in this country and bring about a return of opportunity for the individual to earn a living, if he were elected President next month, has resorted to alliteration and Apocrypha. His speech at Baltimore was a sheer literary and rhetorical effort. He sought his effects in sound.

"I am waging a war in this campaign," he said, "a frontal attack, an onset, against the 'four horsemen' of the present Republican leadership—the horsemen of Destruction, Delay, Deceit, Despair."

He quoted from the Book of Revelation. He linked drama with opera.
 He rode the lists with his lance ribbons all a flutter. He put on a show.
 But he enlightened no inquiring mind in the slightest degree as to how he was going to put one more man at a loom or a lathe or save one farmer from having his mortgage foreclosed if he should become President.

There is absolutely no gainsaying
 the fact that from the beginning of this campaign, and before, there has been in this country an enormous amount of discontent. The people, rightly or wrongly, have been unsatisfied by the necessarily slow foundation-building that has been going on under the able leadership of Mr. Hoover. They were ripe to follow a new leadership. But they wanted a leadership that pointed a visible and concrete goal. They wanted a map, however crude and however lacking in authenticity, which would at least point a definite route to a definite objective. They wanted it drawn in straight lines.
 And they would have followed any leader, with cheers and high hopes,
 who would have told them: "This is the road; it leads to security at this point, at that point to jobs." It would have made little difference if it had been a trick map. They were ready to believe it true.

But Mr. Roosevelt is no cartographer. He splashes bright paint.
 He is a colorist, not a draughtsman.
 He has given the people, instead of a chart, daubs of vivid color. Amid those daubs the people can see no plan, no design, no straight line leading to better things.

Over and over again Governor
 Roosevelt has been asked to explain his subterfuge to reality—to explain to the people the processes whereby he expects to restore the people to their own. As at Baltimore he answers with pretty ambiguities.

The whole Roosevelt argument is summed up in the last few paragraphs of the Baltimore speech:
 "You have been deceived and confused. But the American people have learned how to know deceit by having met it. They will take care of that on November 8. They have lived too long and suffered too much to be frightened, to be intimidated by selfish and un-American employers and other mongers of fear. We shall conquer despair. We are facing new things. With confidence we accept the promise of a new deal."

In less than two weeks the people of this country must choose again a head of their government. That they would choose a new one, despite
 Mr. Hoover's tremendous reconstructive efforts, if the new one could convince them that he knew what he was trying to do, and how and why, is probable enough. But that they will choose one whose plan for the future consists wholly in iconoclastic criticism of events that are past is becoming impossible to believe.

It is becoming crystal clear that Mr. Roosevelt has no lamp for his own feet, let alone the feet of the multitude.

THE LEGION'S SIDE
 While as firmly convinced as ever that the present payment of the soldier's bonus would be the height of economic and social wisdom, we continue to be much impressed by an extended bulletin just issued by the national headquarters of the American Legion, defending the veterans and veteran relief legislation in general against the arguments of the National Economy League and the policy of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. It may be said in passing that the bulletin constitutes one of the ablest briefs we have ever read and that if either of the major political parties had the author of that paper, whoever he is, as its steersman in this campaign it would have victory

 within its grasp—without any particular consideration as to the party's real merits. It is a masterpiece of special pleading.

There are several salient points of attack upon those forces of economy which center their attention on veteran legislation. In the first place it is contended that when the economy advocates talk about the burden of taxation they do not truthfully represent the proportions of the burden as between federal, state and local levies. If it is true that the cost of government in this country is fifteen billion dollars, as the Economy League contends, then the bulletin points out that state and local taxes must amount to four billions more than indicated by the economy groups' figures, because their own calculations show that federal taxes in 1930 were $3,468,000, 000, state taxes $1,780,000,000 and local taxes $5,018,000,000, a total of $10,266,000,000—and the discrepancy is certainly not to be found in the federal tax figures.

In the next place, according to the Legion's brief, the burden of taxation on the majority of the people is not much affected by veteran relief legislation because they do not,
 in any large way, pay federal taxes at all. Their burden is upon their property in the form of state and local imposts. It is the income tax payer who is hit hardest by the raising of revenue for veteran relief measures, and very especially the heavy income tax payers—a group which the Legion appears to believe can pretty well stand it. It is pointed out that in 1928 of the 4,070,000 persons who paid income taxes 99 per cent all put together paid only one-fifth of the income tax. The other four-fifths was paid by 43,000 persons with an average income of $150,000 each and after these had paid their average tax of $31,000 each had remaining $129,000 of his annual income, on an average. Incidentally it is pointed out that the total income of these heavy tax payers was $6,809,000,000, a sum greatly in excess of the national income.

It is evidently the purpose of the Legion to show that the only persons vitally interested, from the point of view of their own pockets, in reducing veteran expenditures are these 42,000 very big income tax payers. If its argument isn't completely convincing it must be admitted that it is extremely plausible.

But the most effective department of the Legion's thesis is that part of it which attacks a statement made by the national chairman of the Economy League, who said:
 "According to the present laws the cost of World War veterans alone will amount to twenty-one billion five hundred million by 1945—an amount equal to the cost of the war."

The Legion declares that it has never been able to obtain from the Veterans Administration the figures upon which this assertion is based, but it has been doing some accounting on its own to discover how they can be arrived at. The result, it must be said in all fairness, is rather astonishing. The Bulletin asserts that the twenty-one billion figure is reached by charging up to the matter of veteran support these items:

Adjusted compensation, which will be paid off by 1945 in any event;
 war risk insurance, which the veterans bought and paid for out of their pay while in the service; all hospitalization, past, present and future;
 the hundreds of millions spent shortly after the war in vocational rehabilitation of the disabled; death compensations, past, present and future, for men killed in action, dead of wounds or otherwise fatal war casualties; disability compensation;
 disability allowances to those whose disabilities are incurred after the war (one measure which the Legion disavows); the Veterans Administration overhead—which has to do with veterans and dependents of all wars;
 hundreds of millions paid to dependents during the war when the government matched dollar for dollar
 the compulsory allotments made by the soldiers.

In other words, a substantial part of the cost of the war itself, according to the Legion, is written into the account and charged up to veteran legislation. Which will strike most fair minded persons as not a very nice thing to do.

We do not believe that the demand for the immediate payment of the adjusted compensation certificates is justified; we do not believe they should be paid, certainly not as any matter of right; we do believe that very great reductions will have to be made in expenditures for veteran support. But we believe, too, that the Legion is justified in supporting the distinction between a bunch of the propaganda that has been issued in opposition to veteran relief, and that that propaganda has contained much of misrepresentation.

 Misrepresentation ought not to be necessary. Exposed, it will inevitably react against the interest of proper economy.

The public would be better convinced of the usefulness of the National Economy League if that organization were to interest itself in other and flagrant sources of government waste and not confine itself so exclusively to attacks on a single class of governmental extravagance.

BETTER LATE THAN NEVER

Delighted as we are to welcome belated converts to the cause of Hoover and the Republican party, and recalling that While the light holds out to burn
 The vilest sinner may return, we cannot refrain from extending to our Democratic good friends of the Hartford Times our heartfelt sympathy that their conversion should be thus thrust upon them by the command of the "big boss" without opportunity to taper off, so to speak.

It must be tough, when you are in the midst of a fine frenzy of laudation of your party and your candidate, and have been putting rocks in the snowballs you were throwing
 at the other fellow and his crowd, and have quite pardonably felt that you were doing your bit in a real scrap, to suddenly get orders from your commander in chief to about face and turn your guns and your snow clad rocks upon the flag you have been battling for, without even a brief armistice in which to do your swifthing.

Still and all, there is this by way of compensation. After the war is over the Times will be in the position of having been right—part of the time, anyhow—no matter which way
 the election goes or what its subsequent results. Which is a consolation denied to those who, being on the wrong side, stay there without the benefit of a conversion that comes better late than never.

Health and Diet Advice

By Dr. Frank McCoy

INFLUENZA MAY BE MORE PLENTIFUL THIS WINTER

We have not had a serious epidemic of influenza since the worldwide ravages of the "flu" in 1918 and 1919 although there have been sporadic cases or small epidemics since then in many parts of the world.
 Health authorities have been closely checking the number of cases of influenza and this disease has shown an increasing trend within the last few months so that precautions should be taken for preventing its spread into serious proportions this winter.

This disease is apt to occur at any time of the year, but for some reason, possibly a lessened amount of sunlight, people seem to be more susceptible to it during the winter months. Science has apparently discovered very little about preventing influenza, but I believe it is possible to avoid death and serious consequences from this disease through proper care in the early stages. I handled several hundred cases of influenza during the last epidemic by the methods which I am going to describe to you in tomorrow's article, with the remarkable result that not a death ensued among the patient's who were treated in this way, so that I would suggest that you keep these articles near you so that you will know what to do if a wave of "flu" occurs in your vicinity and if either you or any of your friends are attacked.

Influenza is also called La Grippe and Catarrhal Fever. This disease is very contagious and, if many cases occur in your community, it is wise to avoid overcrowded and heated rooms. It is important to obtain plenty of sleep so that you do not become tired. Influenza is characterized by many symptoms of a severe cold. The main danger lies in the fact that at the start of the attack it is difficult to tell whether the patient has a mild form which is not especially harmful or whether he has one of the serious forms which may be fatal. Influenza can be a dangerous disease. If neglected, it often leads to serious consequences.
 Often the heart is damaged due to the poison which circulates in the body during the disease. Sometimes influenza becomes complicated with pneumonia, a particularly bad complication. "Flu" is usually followed by extreme weakness and depression which lasts long after the attack is over. One attack does not prevent future attacks. In fact, the patient seems to be more susceptible.

There are three main forms with slightly different symptoms although all of them are characterized by abnormal weakness and exhaustion.
 The general symptoms follow an incubation period of two to four days, when the patient is suddenly ill with chills, aching joints, fever, headaches, nasal mucus, pain in throat, a grinding headache, pain in the eyes, chills, nervousness, depression and general malaise.

In the respiratory form there is a running at the nose, sore throat, tonsillitis, enlarged neck glands, and a hard cough which does not seem to raise anything, the cough being worse at night. In a few days the chest is tender, breathing difficult, and a thick mucus is raised by coughing. There is a rapid heart beat and a fever ranging from 100 to 105 degrees.

In the nervous form the "cold" symptoms may be absent but a headache is present together with pain and aching through the back and the nervous depletion is extreme.

In the digestive form in addition to the fever there may be intense nausea, vomiting, pain in the abdomen, and diarrhea.

(In tomorrow's article I will explain my methods of treating and preventing influenza.)

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

(Lag Burns)

Question: F. K. writes: "I am 60 years old and apparently in good health except that I am troubled with a burning sensation in my right leg from the hip to the knee. I do not sleep well. What do you think is the matter, and what is your suggestion?"

Answer: Your trouble is no doubt caused by some impingement of the nerves going from the lower spine to your leg, as only a certain area is affected. I would suggest that you take a treatment or two from a chiropractor or chiropactor. If your trouble is caused as I suggest, a treatment of two will relieve you.

(Hoop Combination)

Question: Mrs. Neve L. inquires:
 "Can potatoes, carrots or apparatus be used in place of spinach in your celery, tomato and spinach soup?
 May butter and cream be used with this soup?"

Answer: Carrots or apparatus could be used to replace the spinach in this soup, but I do not advise the use of potatoes because they do not combine well with tomatoes. Butter and cream may be used with the soup.

(Crossed Eyes)

Question: J. D. asks: "Would the sinusoidal current be helpful in the case of a three-year-old girl with crossed eyes? Could it be used at home?"

Answer: It is true that the sinusoidal current if properly administered is often helpful for strengthening the weak muscles, but this treatment should be given by an expert, and I would not advise you to try to use it at home. Consult an optometrist for treatment of the eye muscles.

(Desserts)

Question: Miss Lorena S. asks:
 "What desserts would combine with a meal of one starch and several green vegetables, cooked and raw?"

Answer: There are practically no desserts which combine well with starchy foods. Use gelatin and fruit desserts only with a protein meal, where no starch is used.

Also and also. If the "straight ticket" were only a guarantee!

Behind the Scenes in WASHINGTON

By ROBERT DUNCAN, NEA Service Writer

Washington—A Republican victory this year would at least have the effect of dissipating the popularity of straw votes.

Perhaps no one would ever bother again to conduct an unofficial presidential poll on a large scale.

The straw votes are all going hog-wild for Roosevelt, and a reversal at the polls would simply ruin all belief in an institution which has come to be regarded as a rather reliable barometer of public opinion and as reasonably certain to forecast the result of any given contest.

Considering the relative accuracy of the polls, as recognized by politicians and by students who have carefully weighed and tested them,
 it is impossible to ignore the Democratic majorities that are being rolled up in some of the supposedly rockbound Republican states.

If Hoover carries California, Pennsylvania and Iowa, for instance, he will merely be fulfilling what would have been the prediction of every so-called political observer two months ago. But he will be delivering a very black eye to the straw vote idea because those poll majorities for Roosevelt are extremely impressive.

Of course we only have the most recent figures to go on, but there is one very good reason to anticipate any marked change in the poll trend

 before election day.

The Literary Digest poll is the one nearly everybody is watching, but other important polls have also shown the Roosevelt trend.

In effect, the Literary Digest poll
 may be said to be somewhat weighted in favor of Republicans, which makes the results to date all the more surprising. There is a margin of error in the most accurate of polls, but small as that margin may be it has been accustomed to favor
 the Republicans in presidential polls.

In the case of the Digest poll this is usually attributed to the fact that the poll lists are made up principally from automobile lists and telephone directories. That fact previously has given the "prosperity party" the edge because many voters have neither phones nor cars. This year the proportion of anti-Hoover voters among that group will be unusually large.

Thus, if you can judge by the past performance of the poll, the Democratic majorities probably will be larger than this year's poll indicates.

Returns in the 1928 Literary Digest poll as compiled early in October indicated approximately the subsequent results of the election in about half the states then listed, but in the other states erred in favor of the Republicans and even gave Hoover the states which Smith had carried.

Smith was favored only 51 per cent of the vote polled in contrast to 65 per cent for Hoover. However, the election gave Smith 40 per cent and Hoover 59 per cent.

Returns this year, covering about the same number of states, the Democratic vote was approximately the same states, gave Hoover a little better than 40 per cent and Roosevelt slightly more than 50 per cent.
 The 1928 Digest poll gave Roosevelt 42 and Hoover 58. In the electoral vote cast approximately the same states, gave Hoover by about two to one votes, whereas they went for Smith by narrow margins. Pennsylvania went nearly three to one for Hoover in the poll and about two to one in the election.

Two to one majorities were also indicated for Hoover in Connecticut, Illinois, Indiana, New Hampshire and New Jersey, but the election majorities were much smaller. New York gave two to one for Hoover in the poll and only a narrow margin for him in the election.

SENTENCES CONFIRMED

Manila, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Sentences of 30 Communists, who staged a demonstration here last year in defiance of police, were affirmed today by the Philippine Supreme Court.

Twenty of the group, including Orlando Evangelista, leader of the Community Party in Manila, were banished from each of the various Philippine provinces for eight years.
 Several also were given prison
 terms. The American Civil Liberties Union aided in their defense in lower courts.

GROCCERS ENDORSE TOWN ORDER PLAN

Agree To Abide By Rules Set Up By Selectmen—Waddell Explains Procedure.

What at the beginning appeared to be an indication of unwillingness to cooperate in the grocery order plan formulated by the Board of Selectmen and the Charity Superintendent to care for needy families later resolved into an agreement by which 32 of the 47 grocers or their representatives present joined with the town officials in the scheme to be initiated Nov. 1. The meeting called to discuss the plan convened in the Municipal hearing room at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Wells A. Strickland, chairman of the Board of Selectmen, called the meeting to order and asked George H. Waddell, charity commissioner to give the assembled grocers an outline of the plan for a more efficient handling of the grocery orders for needy families.

The charity commissioner told the grocers that the plan in use last year was very unsatisfactory, inasmuch as the charity office had no satisfactory check on the prices of staples given out, many articles were bought which the town was not justified in paying for, and resulted in excess clerical work entirely unjustified.

The plan as outlined by the charity commissioner involves the issuance of quotation blanks listing 66 items of staples, 12 of meats and fish, 13 of bulk merchandise, 7 liquids in bottles, 14 fresh fruits and vegetables; 5 dried fruits and vegetables; spices and extracts, (any kind); 8 canned specialties; four classes from 10 to 15 cents each and 3 classes of soaps and cleaners.

The quotation blanks issued to cooperating grocers will be turned in each week on Monday to the charity commissioner quoting prices on merchandise for the week. The blanks, the commissioner said, are for the purpose of an office check, and are in no sense a bid. All grocers not to substitute any article not on the list or any article on the list at a price greater than the maximum allowed.

Orders will be issued from the charity office to heads of needy families directing them to apply "to any grocer registered by the charity department of the town of Manchester." The quotation per person will be one dollar as in the past. Mr. Waddell said that the town is aiding 350 families at the present time.

Up To Grocers
Several grocers present at the meeting yesterday afternoon intimated that the charity superintendent had "directed" that application for grocery orders obtain their allotment of food from chain stores, which charge was rebuffed by the charity commissioner. It was the opinion of several that the quotation blanks prepared each week for the charity department would entail a loss of time and work to no purpose in answer to the charge that many of those receiving aid would continue to secure their orders from chain stores, the commissioner said that it was up to the grocers themselves to remedy this situation.

It was stated by one grocer that persons owing a grocery bill at an independent store would naturally have his order filled at a chain store, due to this fact.

The plan is expected to be in operation the first week of November. The charity department will know each week what the expenditure has been the previous week under the new system.

READY TO BATTLE FOR GRIZZLY BEARS

Hunter Delegate Charges Pulp Manufacturers Are Killing Off the Bears.

New York, Oct. 26.—(AP)—A one-man filibuster in favor of better conditions for grizzly bears had delegates to a wild life lovers' convention feeling rather ragged today.

Scenes tempestuous marked the manner in which John M. Holzworth went to bat for truss horrors at the annual meeting of the National Association of Audubon Societies.

Striding into the convention yesterday with 500 proxies under his arm, Holzworth, a lawyer and hunter, charged that the bears of Alaska were being sacrificed to the interests of a wood pulp colossus.

Cries of "throw him out" came from delegates, who expressed complete sympathy with bears, but said they objected to Holzworth's method of defending them.

Dancing up and down, Holzworth accused the chairman, Dr. Theodore C. Palmer, chief biologist of the Bureau of Biological Survey, of being in league with wood pulp interests.

He said the directors of the Audubon societies adopted a resolution last year calling for a sanctuary on Admiralty and Chicago islands, but had since abandoned the project. He asked why.

His question "Are you for the bears or for wood pulp?" he cried.

"I will read this resolution or die."

"I ask to have him removed," said one member.

"Who'll put me out?" shouted Mr. Holzworth, "come on, any three of you."

Dr. Frank A. Oastler, a director who lost a toe to a grizzly bear not long ago, arose and said with dignity:

"This is a respectable meeting and we want gentlemen at it."

The chairman smiling calmly, thumped his gavel and broke it.

"It is unfair," said L. Nichols, "to come here and bully us on a question we know nothing about. I don't want to be bullied and I don't intend to be bullied."

Mr. Nichols kept clapping his hands as Mr. Holzworth read his resolution.

resolution. It urged the societies to establish Admiralty island as a wild life sanctuary or National park and to support a Congressional inquiry into paper pulp concessions.

A substitute resolution, urging that the whole matter be studied by the board of directors was passed instead. Mr. Holzworth tore up his 500 proxies.

BODY IS IDENTIFIED

San Bernardino, Calif., Oct. 26.—(AP)—Sheriff's deputies said today the body of a woman found slain in the desert near Victorville has been identified definitely as that of Mrs. Ivemae Cerney, 21, of Los Angeles, and a search has begun for her husband, Gus.

The identification was established after Cerney's mother, Mrs. Myrtle Cassell, of San Bernardino, and his sister, Mrs. Floy Pickens, of Newark, Calif., had viewed the body.

The mother said her son had been missing since October 14, four days before the nude body of Mrs. Cerney was found by a miner. The skull had been crushed.

Mrs. Cassell, officers said, related that Mrs. Cerney had become of age last June and presumably inherited a considerable sum of money from the estate of her father. She married Cerney about two or three years ago.

Mrs. Cassell, in requesting a search for her son, expressed the fear he, too, might have been harmed.

GILEAD
The topic for the Christian Endeavor service Sunday evening was, "What attempts have been made to solve the liquor problem and with what results?" Mrs. Walter was the leader and Dr. Arthur Douglas of Hebron and Boston, Mass., gave a very interesting talk on the subject and from his experience as a doctor.

Mrs. Henrietta Moran of New London and other friends were callers at Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Lyman's Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gilbert and their daughter, Miss Helen, of Jamaica, L. I., spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Hart E. Buell.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Foote and their daughter, Marjorie, and son, Robert, spent Sunday at Storrs, it being "Dad's Day" at the college and their son Edward is a student there.

Dr. Walter D. Way of Westport, N. Y., spent the week-end at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Daniel Way. He visited his father and grandfather who are ill at the Manchester Memorial hospital. They are both gaining and we hope they will soon return home.

Mrs. E. H. Foote and Mrs. A. C. Foote joined in the Tolland county kitchen tour in Columbia and Hebron.

A Junior Christian Endeavor Society has been recently organized. They held their meetings at the church at 2:30 Sunday afternoons.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Buell visited relatives in Marlborough Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold C. Foote and their children visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Zelenicky in Berlin Sunday.

Local folks are working to make the children's supper and sale which are to be given Friday evening, the best ever.

What were these revelations? There were none. There was nothing hidden to be revealed. It is all a tale of highly imaginative fiction.

It was a matter of public record that he had closed the fiscal year which ended on June 30, 1931, with a deficit of approximately $900,000,000.

The charge that the Federal Government credit had become impaired is nonsense. On the contrary it stood high.

It is now probable that business recovery may not have proceeded far enough to bring in the full measure of additional revenue which our estimates called for this fiscal year.

It is in fact, the House of Representatives which actually passed the bill which authorized the printing and issuance of greenbacks.

As a matter of fact, the bills which actually passed the House of Representatives included both of these methods.

of the National government; second, putting the credit of the National government back on our private credit structure, and third, the freeing of the vast reserves of the Federal Reserve System so that they could be made fully effective in arresting the tide of deflation.

The alternative program, which was actually adopted and passed by the Democratic House of Representatives, consisted in resort to the pure inflation by the printing press, that is, the issuance of greenbacks, or fiat currency, or the more indirect way of bringing about direct inflation by the creation of huge governmental deficits, which cannot be financed except through this process.

As a matter of fact, the bills which actually passed the House of Representatives included both of these methods. The so-called Patman Bill provided for the printing and issuance of greenbacks.

The huge public building program, fostered by the speaker, was typical of the indirect method, while the bill which instructed the Secretary of the Treasury and the Federal Reserve Board to manipulate prices illustrated the underlying philosophy behind the whole program.

on call. If it be present there are other and valid reasons. In this case they are not far to seek. We need go no further than the records of the Democratic House of Representatives, the position and attitude of the man who control the Democratic Party, to whom Mr. Roosevelt owes his nomination, and the character of the campaign he is conducting.

If his position is misunderstood, the Governor is alone to blame, because he refused to define it with clarity. As one newspaper described his whole Western trip: "Everywhere he has sought to arouse discontent and let nature take its course."

Other friendly newspaper observers reported that he had failed to say anything.

Wave of Discontent If Governor Roosevelt is elected, he and the Democratic Congress that he will bring with him will be carried into office by a wave of discontent. The country knows this.

BAY STATE RAISES TARIFF QUESTIONS

Roosevelt Asked His Attitude On Problems Now Facing Massachusetts.

Boston, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Chairman Ames L. Taylor of the Massachusetts Republican State committee today challenged Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democratic presidential nominee, to make known his tariff program when he comes to Boston next Monday.

In an open letter to Governor Roosevelt, Chairman Taylor said: "In order to set the record straight I wish to ask you, in a spirit of frankness and fair play, just what your tariff attitude would be on matters of vital importance to the people of this state."

"Are you aware that Massachusetts industries employ 350,000 wage earners and that these wage earners support thousands of families—a total of approximately 2,500,000 persons—on pay checks from industries which cannot operate without tariff protection?"

"What is your attitude toward our $240,000,000 boot and shoe industry, x x x You stated in one of your speeches that the boot and shoe industry in 1928 received from the Republican tariff in effect, the highest subsidy in history? I am quoting from your own words."

"Did you know that the products of the boot and shoe industry were on the free list in 1928 and remained there until the Hawley-Smoot tariff was enacted?"

"x x x When you talk of lowering tariffs do you include the rubber products industry? If so, do you know that this state produces $75,000,000 worth of such goods annually and that our plants are facing economic destruction because five-cent-an-hour labor in Czechoslovakia and labor paid in scrip in Japan are now turning out rubber footwear that is dumped into our markets at as little as half the cost of production in Massachusetts?"

"What of the tens of thousands of wage earners whose existence depends on our $338,000,000 cotton goods industry, our $85,000,000 leather industry, our $93,000,000 paper industry, our $123,000,000 electrical machinery industry, our $75,000,000 clothing industry and the tens of thousands of others working in our other industries?"

"Do you intend to abandon them also?"

"Apparently you do, for you repeatedly insist you will lower the present tariff rates and presumably these industries face economic destruction. They are struggling along now, working their way out of the world-wide depression. They have in many cases, continued to operate at a loss to protect their employes."

"Without tariff they will not be able to do this and tens of thousands of mouths will be turned over to charity for food."

"x x x Tariff is the biggest issue facing Massachusetts today, and we are still waiting, after four months of patience, for some definite word from you."

LEHMAN IN ACCIDENT

Rochester, N. Y., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Luck and the skill of his driver saved Acting Governor Herbert H. Lehman from harm in an automobile accident which brought injury to two members of his gubernatorial campaign party.

An alleged intoxicated driver lost control of a heavy work truck last night as he met the long cavalcade of cars in the Lehman party. The truck swerved into the Democratic candidate's car, swung it wildly toward the ditch and then crashed into another automobile of the motorcade, tossing that car from the highway.

Albert Halloway, driver of the Lehman car, swung that machine from danger.

George A. Harder, secretary of the Democratic State committee, and John A. Halpin, Democratic member of the Senate, who were in the second automobile, were thrown from it as it rolled from the road. Both were injured.

A trooper escort to the party arrested the driver, William Tooley, of Waynesport, and arraigned him before a justice. He was ordered held on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

PEDDLER ASSAULTS WOMAN; FINED $50

Forced His Attention Upon Her She Testifies—He Appeals the Case.

Nathan Kramer, of 153 Capen street, Hartford, pleaded not guilty in town court this morning before Judge Raymond A. Johnson to charges of breach of the peace and assault on a Russell street woman shortly after 2 o'clock last Monday afternoon.

Kramer was found guilty on the charge of assault and fined $50 and costs with a 10-day jail sentence suspended.

The defendant appealed to Judge Johnson. Kramer testified that he was walking on the sidewalk on Russell street when he was accosted by a woman who was carrying a large basket.

Johnson sentenced Kramer to 10 days in the city jail, but suspended the sentence because of his previous good record.

BOY'S CLUB GRID RECORD IMPRESSIVE

Team That Will Meet Red Men Sunday Has Won Five Games This Year and Held Opponents Scoreless.

The Boys' Club of New London, the football team that will engage the Red Men A. C. at Mt. Nebo Sunday afternoon, has played six games this season, winning five and tying one, rolling up a total of eighty points to none for opponents. The team has beaten the Coast Guard Academy, 12 to 0, the U. S. S. Herndon, 12 to 0, the Boston Sub team, 13 to 0, the All-Burrows, 10 to 0, the New Britain Pawnees, 24 to 0. In the first game of the season, they were held to a scoreless tie by the Sons of Italy of Middletown.

H. S. BOOTERS TRIM GLASTONBURY HIGH

Avenge Previous Tie By Winning 3-0; All Goals Scored in First Half.

A strong Manchester High soccer team succeeded in turning back Glastonbury, 3 to 0, at the Charter Oak street field yesterday afternoon to avenge a previous 2-2 tie game. Manchester's next game will be against West Hartford Friday afternoon at Hartford, play starting at 2:30 o'clock.

Glastonbury kicked off and after 10 minutes of play Manchester was awarded a corner kick. Billy Gray took the kick and lofted the ball to the front of the goal where McCann headed the ball in for Manchester's first goal. There was no further scoring this period as the quarter ended with Manchester leading, 1 to 0.

Upon changing goals, Manchester kicked off. The ball was dribbled up the field and centered to the goal by Gray. A brief struggle followed in which Scott got his toe on the ball and the score was 2 to 0. Glastonbury fought hard and pressed the play for a while but the ball was soon kicked to the other end of the field where Captain Kennedy captured it, dribbled up to the goal mouth and shot, making the score 3 to 0 as the half ended.

The four captains will meet at the club rooms Thursday night to draw the rules for the league.

CARPENTERS BEAT DRAFTSMEN AGAIN

Take Second Game of Series To Clinch Trade School Baseball Title.

In the deciding game of the play-off of the Trade School Inter-Department baseball series, the Carpenters Department slammed out a 7 to 0 victory over the Drafting Department to clinch the school championship with a second successive triumph. The game was played at the Charter Oak street field.

Farwell, pitching for the Carpenters, struck out ten men and allowed only one single. His teammates touched McCurry for ten hits before he was relieved in the fifth by Lennon.

The fourth inning proved very disastrous for the Draftsmen, as the Carpenters scored five runs and had the bases loaded most of the time. Scibek, Jarvis and Werner were the heavy hitters of the game.

TO INVESTIGATE PRO SPORTS AT COLUMBIA

New York, Oct. 26—(AP)—Investigation of charges of professionalism in athletics, particularly football at Columbia University, has been undertaken by a committee of seven appointed by Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of the university.

The committee will investigate particularly charges that members of the football squad were shown favoritism in obtaining employment and favoritism from the college faculty and that alumni scholarships were granted some football players in order to induce them to come to Columbia.

Lou Little, head coach who has developed a strong team in his short tenure of office, had no comment to make on the inquiry.

SUTHERLAND-PICKS WINNERS OF THIS WEEK'S GRID TILTS

Names Michigan, Northwestern, Purdue, Kansas, Stanford, Tennessee, Wash. State and Others.

By DR. J. E. "JOCK" SUTHERLAND
Football Coach, University of Pittsburgh.

(Copyright 1932, By NEA Service) Some strong inter-sectional games are on the calendar for Saturday, October 29. Among these are Princeton vs. Michigan, Purdue vs. New York U., Michigan State vs. Syracuse and Notre Dame vs. our own team at Pitt.

Pitt is facing what football critics are calling one of the greatest Notre Dame teams in years. It will be our test of strength—especially after the decisive beating the Notre Dames gave to Carnegie Tech last week.

Looking over the schedule, I pick the following winners: PRINCETON-MICHIGAN—This is an attractive inter-sectional game and a strongly improved Princeton outfit will play against what looks like the cream of the Western Conference. Michigan is my choice.

NAVY-PENN—Look for Penn to turn the tables of last year and beat Navy by one or two touchdowns.

UTAH AGGIES-UTAH-UTAH. WISCONSIN-OHIO STATE—I have a hunch that Ohio State will win its first conference contest from Wisconsin.

PURDUE-N. Y. U.—Purdue, any able leader in the conference, may take N. Y. U. over, but don't forget that N. Y. U. has a great team and they may surprise everyone. I favor Purdue.

NOTRE DAME-PITT—At present it seems unanimous in the opinion of those who have watched Notre Dame play that the present team is at least the equal of the great 1930 outfit. In that case it will be too powerful for Pittsburgh.

KANSAS AGGIES-NEBRASKA—I look for Nebraska to take the Kansas Aggie over by a safe margin. It seems to me that Nebraska should be even better this year than last, when it won the conference championship.

KANSAS-ST. LOUIS—Kansas is the decided favorite in this contest.

NORTHWESTERN-MINNESOTA—By the time of this game I believe Northwestern will hit its stride and should ease out a victory over Minnesota, but it will be a gruelling football contest with Minnesota fighting all the way.

CORNELL-COLUMBIA—A colorful, hard-fought game. In my opinion there is no difference in the relative strength of these teams. A hard one to pick, but Columbia might win.

FORDHAM-BOSTON COLLEGE—If Fordham runs true to form it should have little trouble beating Boston College.

DARTMOUTH-YALE—Both teams will likely play their best football in this game. I give a slight edge to Yale.

BROWN-HARVARD—It is hardly to be expected that Brown should beat both Yale and Harvard the same year, although Brown has a good team and will make Harvard work for every yard they get. However, I like Harvard and I think they will win.

WILLIAM AND MARY-ARMY—Army should be due for a letdown after hectic battles with Pitt and Yale on consecutive Saturdays, and the boys may not be at their best against William and Mary. I think they will have enough power to come through victorious.

COLORADO-COLORADO AGGIES—Colorado.
DUKE-TENNESSEE—Tennessee.
PENN STATE-COLGATE—Colgate, without a great deal of difficulty.

STANFORD-U. C. L. A.—U. C. L. A. is gaining strength yearly, and they are apparently a good team this year. They will give Stanford some trouble, but I look for Pop Warner's team to take them into camp.

NEVADA-CALIFORNIA—California should win.
FLORIDA-GEORGIA—Georgia should win.
ALABAMA-KENTUCKY—Kentucky apparently has another tough team, but Alabama should come out uppermost.

SOUTH CAROLINA-TULANE—I pick Tulane, but it's a guess.
M. U. TEXAS—I like Texas in this game.
OKLAHOMA-OKLAHOMA AGGIES—Oklahoma.
MICHIGAN STATE-SYRACUSE—Syracuse's green team will be hardy able to cope with Michigan State and the Michigan team should romp to a reasonably easy victory.

Eleanor Heubner Retains High School Tennis Title

Miss Eleanor Heubner, '33, defeated Miss Edith Brown, '34, in the finals of the girls' tennis tournament at the Cheney courts. Due to the fact that it grows dark very early it was necessary to play two out of three sets instead of the usual three out of five, therefore the scores were as follows: 6-0, 1-6, 6-3.

Four Deuce Games
The court was in excellent condition and the air was chilly the girls took longer than usual to "warm up." Miss Brown won the toss-up and chose service losing the first game which went to deuce at least ten times. It is interesting to note that there were only four deuce games in the entire match. In the first set "Ed" was playing the better game and as the score would indicate went at her opponent hammer and tongue. As this is the third or fourth time that the two girls have met they were both playing as well as they knew how. Miss Heubner because she wants to retain her title which she had held ever since she was a freshman in High school and Miss Brown because she was defeated in the finals of the spring tournament by Eleanor.

Miss Heubner is very well known about town as a "cracker-jack" at "the game. She has entered the town tournament a number of times last year going to the finals to meet Miss Elisabeth Washkewich, and this year to the semi-finals where she lost to Miss Muriel Tomlinson. She has been a member of the girls' tennis team and has entered the C. C. I. L. tournament for the past two years.

Play About Equal
So far as errors, placements and doubles were concerned there was very little difference. The girls played every point but using a chop stroke throughout. During the past year "Eddie" has abandoned her "Ty Holland" method of gripping the racket with two hands, and has mastered an excellent forehand drive. This she used almost entirely running around the balls which Miss Heubner drove down the left side of the court. Many of her returns in this manner were so weak that they barely cleared the net on the return and Miss Heubner, who was playing the net a considerably greater part of the time, smashed the ball down the right side of the court thus forcing errors on her opponent.

Recapitulation
Miss Heubner made 48 errors in all, 27 of which were "nets" and 21 "outs." She made 14 placements, served two aces and double-faulted three times. Miss Brown made 55 errors in all more than half of which were driven into the net. In the second set she was playing the best tennis offered by either of the girls throughout the entire match and scored 18 placements. She served one ace and four doubles.

Recreation Centers To Sponsor Basketball Five; Try-Outs At 8 P. M.

An attempt to organize a girls' basketball team will be made at the School Street Rec tonight, when try-outs will be held for the team at 8 o'clock. Any young woman in town is eligible to try for a place on the team. It has been several years since a girls' team played a regular season here, general preliminary games to the Rec Five.

The Rec Five candidates had a long drill last night with a scrimmage and run around the track to complete the evening. Practice will be held tomorrow night at 7 o'clock.

EASTERN FOOTBALL SEEMS DOOMED TO ANOTHER DRUBBING

Nine Schools Involved In Inter-sectional Games This Week, With West Favored To Win.

New York, Oct. 26—(AP)—Eastern football which suffered a series of smashing setbacks in last week's slate of inter-sectional games seems doomed to another drubbing this week. Of the nine eastern schools involved in inter-sectional contests this week, only Army will be favored and only George Washington and Manhattan are conceded an even chance of victory.

Army's opponent will be the strong Virginia conference eleven, William and Mary. George Washington faces Iowa of the Big Ten in a Friday night game and Washington and Manhattan faces Oglethorpe of Atlanta. In every one of the other six inter-sectional games scheduled Friday and Saturday the eastern representative will start a pronounced underdog. Pitt is conceded little or no chance of stopping Notre Dame's steamroller at Pittsburgh and Syracuse and N. Y. U. are cast in similar roles in their meetings with Michigan State, conqueror of Fordham, and Purdue, an undefeated member of the Big Ten.

The Princeton Tiger is a much more ferocious animal than he has been for several years but there are few if any who believe old Nassau can do much in the way of stopping Michigan, the Big Ten leader, at Ann Arbor.

Likewise, Marquette will be heavily favored over West Virginia and Detroit probably will add another eastern scalp in their Friday night meeting with Georgetown.

HAS CHANCE TO TIE FOR SECOND PLACE

Changes Made in Local Line-up After Last Week's Upset; Visitors Favored But Red and White May Spring a Surprise.

C. C. I. L. STANDING

	P	W	L	Pct.
Bristol	4	4	0	1.000
West Hartford	2	1	1	.500
Manchester	4	2	2	.500
Meriden	1	2	3	.333
Middletown	3	1	2	.333
East Hartford	4	1	3	.250

Manchester High School's 1932 football eleven will play its final Central Connecticut Intercollegiate League game tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at Mt. Nebo field, meeting West Hartford High, touted as one of the strongest teams in the League this year. A victory for the Red and White will give the local school a tie for second place, at least, while a defeat will relegate Manchester to fourth or fifth place.

Coach Thomas Kelley's charges have won two games and lost two in the League this season, losing what seemed like a firm hold on second place when East Hartford came through with a startling upset, winning 19 to 7. Manchester's other defeat was by Bristol, 6 to 0. Wins were scored over Middletown, 12 to 6, and Meriden, 26 to 13.

Last Final Punch
West Hartford lost its opening League encounter to Bristol, 12 to 7, then came back to trounce Meriden, 12 to 0. Those who have seen the West Siders in action say that the team starts with a rush but folds up in the closing periods. Foley, at fullback for the visitors, is said to be one of the best ball carrying backs in the state. On the strength of comparative scores and advance information, West Hartford is favored to avenge its second victory—but look what happened in the Manchester-East Hartford game last Friday!

Bristol has only one game left to play, that with Meriden, and seems virtually sure of the title with four games won to date. After Manchester, West Hartford has still to meet East Hartford and Middletown, but if Coach Kelley's team turns in a victory tomorrow, West Hartford can hope for nothing better than a second place tie.

Lineup is Changed
It is possible that either Middletown or Meriden, each with the games to play, will advance in the standing, provided either team wins both games. Middletown and Meriden have still to meet, which will eliminate one of them. Manchester is smarting under the decisive defeat of last week and may hand West Hartford quite a surprise.

A number of changes have been made in the local lineup after the East Hartford fiasco, and Coach Kelley has placed Ray Kozar, quarterback, at center. Treat, regular center, is out with a minor injury, suffered in the Meriden game. Kelley may also replace Radding, at guard, with Comber; Berger and McCormack, tackles, with Mistretta and Mildren.

The backfield will consist of Frazer, Judd, Sendrowski and Owens, the latter calling signals. Extensive practice sessions have been held this week and the team is determined to wipe out the memory of the last game with a clean-cut triumph over West Hartford.

A man bought a small sawmill and after he had paid for it, said to the former owner:
New Sawmill Owner—Friend, since you tell me you are going to leave here, I wish you'd give me a few pointers on how to make the mill pay.

Former Sawmill Owner (smiling)—Stranger, this here sawmill was left to me by grandma, and the patch where I got my timber from belonged to my first wife, so I didn't have to invest anything. My two boys cut the logs free of cost, and Pearl—she's my niece—toted 'em down here free of charge. Me and my third wife run the mill, so that part didn't cost no overhead. I worked this mill that way for two years and lost $9,000. Good luck to ye, stranger!

FAMOUS FOOTBALL PLAYS

The "Statue of Liberty" play! Now there was a play!

It sprang into fame under "Hurry Up" Yost's regime at Michigan, and although now-canceled, is occasionally used with considerable success.

It generally came from a punt formation. The center snapped the ball back to the man in punting position. Instead of punting, he faked a pass. As his arm drew back for the pass, an end or a halfback would circle around behind him, take the ball from his hand, and skirt the opposite end following interference of the three halfback men, if the carrier was an end, or two; if he was a halfback.

The man in punting position would then run behind the ball carrier to ward off tacklers from the rear.
