Washington, Nov. 2.—(AP)—Voting precincts in nearly every city, town and village in the United States will be the converging points next Tuesday for the greatest army of qualified voters in the Nation's history—about 47,000,000.

A survey by the Associated Press, just completed, places the total number of persons eligible to take part in next week's balloting at 46,965,200, an increase of four and a half million over the previous record in 1928 and over ten million more than the actual vote cast in the Hoover-Smith contest of that year.

How many of the qualifiers will actually exercise their voting privilege is a matter of conjecture. Some election experts believe the stay-at-home vote, normally about 15 per cent, will be greater this year.

SAYS TARIFF BILL DESTROYED TRADE

Newton D. Baker Tells Brooklyn Audience Also That Roosevelt Will Be Elected.

New York, Nov. 2.—(AP)—Newton D. Baker, secretary of war during the Wilson administration, told a Democratic rally in Brooklyn last night that the Republican administration, through the Smoot-Hawley tariff, had "prostrated and practically destroyed American industry."

Speaking over a nation-wide radio network and in the presence of a crowd of more than 4,000 persons, the Ohioan said that "a condition of economic war throughout the world has existed" ever since the bill first was discussed in the Senate.

"That war," said Mr. Baker, "was declared by the Republican Party against the rest of mankind."

He denied that the Hoover regime has proposed any constructive answer to the present economic situation and added:

"The things which Mr. Hoover in his speeches night after night counts as unparalleled achievements and proposals, unprecedented proposals, are almost without exception the use of the credit of the Federal government to lend money to somebody to help him over the length of these bad times."

Mr. Baker predicted the election of Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt and John N. Garner and defended the vice-presidential candidate against attacks which he said had been leveled against him by the opposition.

"For a long period of years," he said, "Mr. Garner has been one of the most upright and useful members of the House of Representatives and a real leader there."

Mr. Baker was introduced to his audience by Herbert Bayard Swope, one of the advisors of Alfred E. Smith in the 1928 campaign.

"CENTRAL" GETS LOAN

Washington, Nov. 2.—(AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission today authorized a "work loan" of $2,500,000 by the Reconstruction Corporation to the New York Central Railroad Company.

The money will be used to repair 10,000 steel box cars at an average estimated cost of $150 each and 3,000 automobile box cars at an average of $300 each.

The loan is estimated to provide work for 2,500 men for seven or eight months.

The company was authorized, if it wishes, to reduce the number of box cars to be repaired to 7,500, to eliminate the automobile box cars and to substitute 4,000 hopper cars and 1,000 stock cars. Another alternative allowed is that the company may repair passenger and freight locomotives at an estimated cost of $9,000 per locomotive. This latter alternative would supply employment to about 1,200 men for four or five months.

ROCKVILLE

ROOSEVELT TWICE FAILS CROWD IN ROCKVILLE

Many Gather At 2 and At 6 O'Clock But Are Disappointed of Seeing Candidate.

A large crowd gathered in the center of the city on Tuesday afternoon awaiting the arrival of Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, who was scheduled to be here at 2:30 p. m. The school children were excused and flags were displayed in his honor. The crowd was disappointed, however, as he did not arrive. At 3 o'clock word was received here that there was a delay in the governor's plans between Boston and Worcester, Mass. Mayor Albert E. Waite, former Mayor George Forster, chairman of the Democratic Town Committee, George E. Dunn, and Maurice Spurling went to the Ellington-Rockville town line about 2 o'clock to greet the governor and his party.

After hearing of the delay the crowd dispersed until later in the evening, gathering again about 6 o'clock, but word was received that the governor would be unable to stop here.

SCHOOL APPRAISAL BEGINS NEXT WEEK

Big Job In Preparation For Equalization Tax To Be Done By Bliss & Cole.

The School Appraisal Board consisting of Wells A. Strickland, chairman of the Board of Selectmen, Thomas Lewis, chairman of the Board of Assessors and Harold Alvord, a member of the Board of Education, met representatives of Bliss & Cole, expert appraisers of Hartford, yesterday afternoon and made plans for the appraisal of Manchester's schools and municipal buildings.

Other Properties to be Valued. The appraisal, to be made for the purpose of levying an equalization tax in connection with the merging of the former nine school districts under consolidation, will begin next week. POLICE COURT

Vincent Ingles, a tailor of 78 Birch street, pleaded guilty this morning in the Manchester Police Court to the charge of keeping liquor with intent to sell. He was caught in the act of selling a pint of liquor for one dollar by Officer David Galligan. The man admitted that he had sold the stuff but claimed that he was out of work with a wife and four children to support. He bought the liquor in Hartford, paying $4 for a gallon and distributed here for a dollar a pint. Ingles asked for leniency as he had no money with which to pay a fine. It was the first time he ever was in a police court. Judge Raymond A. Johnson believed the man was telling the truth and imposed a fine of $100 and remitted $50 of the fine. A good friend of the man paid the bill which amounted to $58.82.

BIG FALL, UNHURT. Bridgeport, Nov. 2.—(AP)—Steve Shubert "can take it" Steve, who is 22, fell three stories from a roof that he was mending at 589 Pembroke street this morning about 10 o'clock and got to his feet smiling. However, he was taken to Bridgeport hospital for observation.

ITALIANS ARE TOLD CAMPAIGN'S ISSUES

Republican Rally Addressed By Judge Johnson and Prominent Italian Citizens.

More than a hundred persons attended a Republican Rally held at the Nathan Hale school last night by the Italian-American Republican club. Addresses were given in both Italian and English. The speakers were introduced by Aldo Pagani. The principal speaker was Judge Raymond A. Johnson of Manchester. Other speakers were Michelangelo Russo of Middletown, Antonio Pisani of New Haven and George H. Waddell, clerk of the Board of Selectmen here and Town Treasurer. Judge Johnson's main point was the tariff question. He praised highly the Republican protective tariff which protects American industry against the inroads of cheaper foreign goods. He flayed the Democratic competitive tariff platform which he said places the industry of the country in competition with foreign nations that can produce goods below the American market price.

Judge Johnson praised the State Republican ticket headed by John H. Trumbull for governor, Hiram Bingham for United States Senator and Col. Clarence W. Seymour for Congressman. All are tried and experienced men, he said, and worthy of support. Democratic leaders and their principles came in for criticism. The financial condition of the state of Connecticut was also praised by the speaker who said that this sound foundation was built during the term of Mr. Trumbull as governor. Connecticut is said to be the only state in the union that is actually out of debt. Judge Johnson closed with a plea for a straight Republican ticket.

Mr. Waddell in a brief address made a plea for the return of Hoover to the White House. Russo praised the administration of Hoover and Pisani spoke on the financial condition of the country and the importance of a protective tariff.

ROOSEVELT IS HOME AFTER STORMY TRIP

Traveled Over 700 Miles In New England—Forced To Change His Schedule.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 2.—(AP)—Governor Roosevelt today prepared for the final bid of his presidential campaign with a week-end of speech-making in New York City. He returned to the capital last night after a whirlwind three days motor trip through all of the New England states. He said he was "assured" that all of the New England states would be Democratic this fall, adding that the demonstrations at Worcester and Springfield, Mass., Providence and Woonsocket, R. I., and Hartford, Conn., yesterday "convinced" him the Yankee states would break precedent by all going Democratic.

For most of the 11 hours that the Democratic presidential hope was on the road yesterday, rain poured on the long motorcade. The inclement weather provided Worcester, Mass., with one of the most spectacular demonstrations on the Roosevelt campaign. Thousands stood in the rain along the streets of the industrial city or crowded in Salem Square to see and cheer Roosevelt in his course across the city, a hand led the way, sloshing through the downpour.

Providence crowds also ignored the rain and at Hartford a gathering of five thousand welcomed Roosevelt although he was three hours late into the Connecticut city. Near Campaign's Close

When his car slipped out of the murky Berkshire hills toward ten o'clock last night and crossed the Massachusetts-New York state line west of Pittsfield, the record of the Roosevelt campaign away from home was closed.

On Thursday Mr. Roosevelt will go down to New York for a speech that night at the Metropolitan Opera House. On Friday and Saturday nights will come the historic rallies at the Brooklyn Academy of Music and Madison Square Garden in New York.

Since he stepped into an airplane here July 2 for his acceptance speech at Chicago, Mr. Roosevelt has traveled more than 17,000 miles. He has been in 37 of the 48 states, several of them two or three times. A last minute change in plans brought the governor back to Albany instead of his home at Hyde Park where he had previously planned to go from Connecticut.

While the party halted at Canaan, Conn., where coffee was served Roosevelt in his car, the governor sent a message to the executive mansion advising of his changed plans and asking for supper at 10:30 p. m. His daughter, Mrs. Curtis B. Dall, was riding with him.

While a band blared on a hotel porch, the candidate's car slipped away. The rain had stopped, making driving easier, and the caravan broke up.

Flying northward, the Roosevelt car left Connecticut behind, crossed the southwest corner of Massachusetts and within an hour was at the executive mansion.

A crowd gathered near Pittsfield did not see Roosevelt go by, and his car also was missed by a state trooper waiting to escort him to the New York state line high up on the summit of Lebanon mountain.

Atlanta—The two cars collided at a street intersection—as cars will. From one alighted C. L. Brownlee, registering annoyance. From the other came D. E. Kersh, likewise warring behind the collar.

"It was your fault," said Mr. Brownlee without equivocation. "It was yours" retorted Mr. Kersh.

The thing was getting somewhat out of hand when the business instinct of Brownlee who is a salesman for a dairy, came to the fore. The argument turned forthwith from cars to cows and in a jiffy it was all settled. Mr. Kersh will start taking milk from Mr. Brownlee's dairy this morning and Mr. Brownlee will not sue Mr. Kersh.

CLAIMS DEMOCRATS ARE "DAY DREAMING"

Former Governor Trumbull Accuses Opposition of Making Too Many Promises.

Unionville, Nov. 2.—That the people of Connecticut are interested in action and efficiency in government—not promises—and that less "day dreaming" by candidates is desirable, were declarations made here last night at a Republican rally by former Governor John H. Trumbull, nominee for re-election.

"This is the open season for promises—big and little," the former governor said. "The poor public these days is required to listen to a great deal of 'day-dreaming' by candidates for public office, some of whom have vivid imaginations and who have no trouble in promising the voters anything and everything that the candidate believes will influence them in his behalf. My personal opinion of such promises is that they are hardly worth the paper they are written on. It is the most empty business in the world, to bring this matter to your attention merely to give emphasis to the fact that in these troubled times, when stable government is struggling every day to ward off vicious efforts to undermine its very foundations, a candidate does himself or his party no favor by bland and child-like promises."

"I don't believe that the old-fashioned, hard-headed people of this state are interested in such tactics. We are interested in action—not words—and for that reason I am content to rest the case of the Republican party upon a record of performance. We will promise the voters of Connecticut one thing only, and that is a sincere and a whole-hearted effort to deal with each day's problems in a calm, business-like manner. We will see that every dollar contributed to the state treasury through taxes and fees finds its way into a useful public purpose consistent with sound government.

"Now it would be a simple matter for me to tour around this state for the balance of this campaign with an armful of promises—one for the farmer, one for the merchant, another for the manufacturer, another for the laborer, one more for the women voters, and a few miscellaneous ones, labeled to whom they may concern. The taxpayers of this state, however, know that 'promises to pay' or any other kind of wild promises were never our stock in trade. It was performance without brass band or trumpets which we adhered to. We propose to continue in that work. The record of construction of new institutions and expansion of those already existing, which improvements have given facilities for the relief of hundreds of additional suffering people, bear testimony, I believe, to the efficiency of the Republican party's administration of this state's affairs."

"In conclusion, let me give you this warning: Beware of the political promise. He has much to offer. He hardly ever expects to pay."

So FEW ASHES with this money-saving fuel!

3 EASY RULES for Using Koppers Connecticut Coke

1 Shake less—Because Koppers Connecticut Coke is all fuel, and burns down to fine ashes that drop through the grate with very little shaking. Once a day is often enough to shake—less frequently in mild weather.

2 Use less draft—Because Koppers Connecticut Coke is High Test Fuel, it burns evenly without forcing the fire and wasting heat up the chimney. It responds at once to closing as well as to opening of dampers.

3 Fill the fire pot—heating full—You can do this without danger of smothering the fire. Koppers Connecticut Coke is lighter than coal and burns most economically and effectively when you keep a deep fire.

Since father has been using Koppers Connecticut Coke the youngsters can handle a week's ashes. This little pail holds them all. That's because there's so much more heat-giving carbon in Koppers Connecticut Coke that it leaves mighty little waste.

And because Koppers Connecticut Coke gives you more heat per ton you use less tons. And the price per ton is less. So you save money in two ways.

Right now five times as many of your neighbors use Koppers Connecticut Coke as used it four years ago. Why not start at once to enjoy the better heat, the saving in work and money that has delighted increasing thousands each season?

Phone now—Call us, or your own fuel dealer, and order some Koppers Connecticut Coke, or ask any questions you please.

OCTOBER STORMS DIDN'T FILL ALL RESERVOIRS

Although the extraordinarily heavy rains which have swept Connecticut during the latter part of October have given rise to the general impression that water supply reservoirs and surface water in general has been replenished after the dry months of the spring and summer, such is not the case in all localities, a survey among water supply public utilities today revealed.

The precipitation in October, according to the United States Weather Bureau tabulations, amounted to 5.51 inches, which is 1.85 inches above the normal rainfall for that month. While this is a considerable amount of rain for one month, it followed up an exceedingly dry summer which placed the ground water supply in an exceedingly low state. In fact, more wells and springs went dry during the past summer than ever before in recent history.

This exceptional dryness in the ground water supply, particularly in the springs which feed the tributary streams of the public supplies, has resulted in a condition that prevented the heavy rains of the past month from starting the flow of the streams except briefly. In at least one locality, the report was obtained that ninety per cent of the month's precipitation stayed in the ground instead of running off and seeping into the reservoirs and their tributaries.

PROWLER IS ARRESTED

London, Nov. 2.—(AP)—What was believed to be an attempt to do violence to Prime Minister MacDonald or to rob his home was revealed in a case in Hampstead Police Court today.

Ivan Seruva, described as a British subject, was arraigned on a charge of loitering. He was arrested, the police said, in the garden of Mr. MacDonald's house, at 3 a. m. Mr. MacDonald rarely uses his lodge at Frognal, near Hampstead, while Parliament is in session, preferring to remain in his official residence at No. 10 Downing Street. He was believed to have been at Frognal last night, however, during the disturbance in Whitehall. Seruva is a well dressed, thick-set youth, who speaks English with a foreign accent. He was carrying bricks under his arms when the police found him.

The prisoner said he had just entered the garden for a look around. He did not resist arrest.

NEW AIR SERVICE

Chicago, Nov. 2.—(AP)—An additional air passenger service connecting the Atlantic and Pacific coasts was started today by United Air Lines and Western Air Express. Leaving New York at midnight, passengers will arrive in Chicago the next morning and in principal west coast cities early the next morning, the announcement said. Planes from the west will depart shortly before midnight, arrive in Chicago the next night and New York the following mornings.

STEAMER REFLAGGED

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Nov. 2.—(AP)—The steamer Maritana, of the Buckeye Steamship lines, was released from St. Helena Shoal, west of St. Ignace today, after 300 tons of her cargo of stone had been jettisoned.

The Maritana which grounded in a snow storm yesterday, was undamaged and proceeded to Duluth.

ALL HOOVER'S ACTIONS CALLED CONSTRUCTIVE

Washington, Nov. 2.—(AP)—An assertion that President Hoover's actions had been "constructive, coherent and well directed to cushion the effects of the devastating depression we have suffered" was Secretary Mills' answer to a Democratic campaign address by Senator Carter Glass of Virginia last night.

Going before a microphone a few minutes after Glass finished a speech in behalf of Governor Roosevelt's candidacy, Mills said Glass had disparaged the efforts of President Hoover to maintain the wage scale and ignored the fact that for the first time in the history of depression wages were not reduced "until after the cost of living had come down and after dividends had been passed."

Quoting Senator Glass as attributing the "great depression" entirely to speculation in stocks and the sale of foreign securities in this country, Mills said: "If anyone cares to ignore the World War, the destructions and dislocations that it caused, and all the social, political and economic developments which followed, and is satisfied with the thought that the calamity that has engulfed the entire world since 1929 is due solely to speculation in securities in the United States, that man would be deaf to any argument that I could advance."

MORE WORK CREATED

Kohler, Wis., Nov. 2.—(AP)—Working schedules of all employees in the factory of the Kohler Company today were increased one day a week, Herbert V. Kohler, executive vice president, said.

The increased schedule will prevail through the winter and is in accordance with a suggestion at an industrial rehabilitation conference at Milwaukee recently that industries give more work during winter months. "It has been the policy of the Kohler organization not to lay off workmen in a depression, although this policy has necessitated a heavy loss," Kohler said.

GIRL BEATS BANDIT

New York, Nov. 2.—(AP)—It's a little game: Miss Eve Corry, 24, vs. Robbers. The score stands 1 to 1. Three months ago a robber walked into Miss Corry's office in Brooklyn (she works for a dentist) and hit her on the head with the butt of a gun. He took $40 in gold that was destined for theft.

Today another robber walked in, stuck a gun against Miss Corry's side and demanded the available gold supply. Miss Corry led him into another room. She bent down to the gold cabinet. To the robber's surprise, she came up suddenly with a hammer in her hand. With it she struck him on the hand then on the head. He ran, howling.

Police arrived. "Score's even," said Miss Corry succinctly.

McGehean today reserved decision in the suit for $500,000 brought as a result of the financial misadventures of Charles Delos Waggoner, former Telluride, Colo., banker in 1929. The suit was brought by the National City Bank and five other New York financial institutions against the Central Hanover Bank and Trust Company.

DEPRESSION COLLEGE

Port Royal, Va., Nov. 2.—(AP)—"Depression College," scheduled to open on November 1, to students who would pay a minimum tuition and assist with chores around the school while faculty members taught for their board and lodging, today had two professors but no students.

Dr. A. C. Hill, Jr., former professor of economics at Springfield college and promoter of the depression college plan, arrived this morning to join Dr. Morris, Cincinnati educator who arrived yesterday, but no students were immediately on hand.

Several local buildings had been obtained by Dr. Hill, whose plan called for a faculty of twenty and maximum of 100 students.

ANTHRAX DEATH DUE TO SHAVING BRUSH

First Case in Connecticut Since Post War Period Attributed To Discarded Lather Brush. Although recent improvements in the processes of manufacturing shaving brushes appear to have limited the danger of infection from brushes, there is danger in the use of old brushes which have been once discarded and upon being found again are put into use, the State Department of Health stated today in reporting the first anthrax infection and death attributed to that source since the immediately post-war period.

In the present case the anthrax infection was due to an old brush, the victim having found it and used it in place of his newer shaving brush which upon discovery of the older one he had given to his son. This was late in August and early in September an anthrax lesion appeared on the man's chin. The health department first learned of the case after the patient was taken to talk and there was no opportunity for investigating until after his death.

Laboratory examination of the brush showed that it contained anthrax germs of a virulent type. The question arises whether or not the brush might have been contaminated by the lesion, but it was definitely established that the deceased had not used the brush after the lesion developed, so that infection of the deceased by the brush seemed certain. Anthrax spores are known to live many years when protected from too much sunlight and other germ destroyers.

CRITICALLY BURNED

Boston, Nov. 2.—(AP)—One man was critically burned and scores were driven from a Back Bay apartment house early today after a gas explosion had filled the building with fumes. Daniel Burke, 33, of 133 Peterboro street, was taken to the City hospital suffering from first, second and third degree burns. Little hope was held for his recovery. Burke was burned by a small fire that followed a gas explosion. His sister, Alice, was also taken to the hospital. Her injuries were not serious.

Tenants in the building were driven to the street by the fumes that filled the apartments after the explosion.

QUOTATIONS

The peace of the far east must be based on an entire reconstituting of Manchukuo, Japan, the Soviet Union and China. Because of this we are greatly disappointed with the Lytton report, because we fear that China will be misled by it into trusting the Japanese-Manchukuo entente. Cross-Blending WHAT IS IT...and how does it improve cigarette taste? YOU'VE heard how fruit of one variety has been crossed with fruit of another to produce a new and more pleasing flavor. The loganberry, for example, is a cross between the raspberry and the blackberry. Chesterfield's Cross-Blend gets the same result—better taste—by a different method. It welds together the different kinds of several varieties of tobacco. Many types of Bright tobacco, a great many types of Burley tobacco, and numerous grades of Turkish tobacco are all merged into one—Chesterfield tobacco. This welding or Cross-Blending goes beyond ordinary blending or mixing tobaccos together. It actually makes every kind of tobacco in Chesterfield partake of the qualities of every other type. It's the Cross-Blending of fine Turkish and Domestic tobaccos that gives Chesterfields a distinctive, better taste. They are milder. They have a flavor and aroma which, we believe, you will like. THEATERS

PARSONS, HARTFORD

Cornelia Ott's Skinner On Monday next Cornelia Ott Skinner, gifted solo-actress and daughter of the dean of the American stage, Ott Skinner, will begin a two days' engagement at Parsons, Hartford in "The Empress Eugenie," her second solo-drama, hailed in London this summer as an achievement with which nothing else can quite compare. In this colorful dramatic sequence, Miss Skinner presents in quick and climatic succession, the chief stages in the life of Eugenie, that beautiful commoner who became an Empress through a love-marriage with Napoleon III, only to have husband, son, palaces, all that she loved, taken from her.

Utilizing the same technique she employed in her first work of this kind, "The Wives of Henry VIII," Miss Skinner creates upon the stage in her own person, a populous and moving drama of the Second Empire. "The Empress Eugenie," comes to Hartford prior to Miss Skinner's first appearance in the new solo drama on Broadway. Through her Hartford engagement, the gifted monologist will appear also in two performances of "The Wives of Henry VIII."

AT THE STATE

"One Way Passage" William Powell and Kay Francis in "One Way Passage" is the feature attraction at the State tonight and Thursday. The future of Kay Francis and William Powell as a star combination has been definitely settled by the conspicuous success of their latest picture, "One Way Passage," which has enjoyed wherever it has been shown. No stranger or more fascinating romance has ever been pictured than the one mirrored in "One Way Passage." Both Miss Francis and Powell agree that the picture offers them the finest roles of their careers up to date. Laid entirely on an ocean liner crossing the Pacific from Hong Kong to San Francisco—with execution awaiting the man at the end of the voyage—the drama is easily one of the most unusual to be enacted on the screen for many months. The hearty reception accorded the picture by audiences and critics everywhere has determined Warner Bros. to co-star these two favorites in several important productions following "One Way Passage." Andy Clyde in the roaring comedy "Boudoir Butler," a flash act entitled, "Tip Tap Toe," a Ted Husing Sport Siant and the latest screen news round out an extremely entertaining program. Another of the popular "Country Store Nights" will be observed tonight. Many valuable prizes consisting of provisions used in every home, will be given away free. Everyone attending tonight's performance has an equal chance of winning one of the prizes.

Charles Farrell and Joan Bennett in "Wild Girl," and Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy in "Pack Up Your Troubles" make up the double feature program that will be shown Friday and Saturday. "Wild Girl" is an adaptation of Bret Hart's famous story "Selomy Jane's Kiss." It is an unusually interesting story, laid in the great outdoors. Ralph Bellamy, Eugene Pallette and Irving Pichel are the leading supporting roles. "Pack Up Your Troubles" presents Laurel and Hardy in their second feature length comedy. It is the fastest, funniest and most hilarious fun opus ever attempted by the popular team of comedians. As a pair of misfit doughboys, they supply enough comedy to fill two ordinary pictures.

Loretta Young and Eric Linden in "Life Begins" will head the bill for three days starting Sunday night.

Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 2.—(AP)—Four persons, including a woman and a 12-year-old boy lost their lives on the first day of Pennsylvania's small game hunting season.

Norman Kraus, 18, of Summit Hill, died early today from wounds inflicted accidentally by a hunting companion yesterday.

Frank Miller of Lemoyne died from a heart attack attributed to the exertion and excitement of hunting.

Jack Hirst, 12, of Near Bethlehem, was killed when he stepped in front of his father's shot gun just as the latter pulled the trigger.

Mrs. Daniel Kushner of Lancaster died from wounds suffered while cleaning her husband's gun in preparation for his hunting trip.

OUT FOR HOOVER

Chicago, Nov. 2.—(AP)—Mrs. Carrie Chapman-Catt, woman suffrage leader, in a statement issued today by the Republican National committee, urged the reelection of President Hoover as a safeguard against another depression.

Mrs. Catt attributed the present depression to the World War with its destruction of billions of dollars in property and effort.

President Hoover's disarmament program, as presented at the Geneva conference, she said, would save the taxpayers, if adopted, billions of dollars, thus removing what she described as a chief cause of depression.

Campaign Sayings

By Associated Press.

Senator George W. Norris: "The question is, will the American people longer confide their destinies to the hands of one who never yet has made a promise or a prophecy which has been fulfilled?"

Senator Arthur Capper: "This is not the time to turn over the entire administrative government of the United States to new and inexperienced hands."

H. C. Hansbrough, former North Dakota Senator: "What has the present administration to conceal that has caused its unusual exhibition of frenzy during the last two weeks of the campaign?"

Senator L. J. Dickinson: "... in attacking this tariff it can only be construed that the Democrats are making a direct fight on farm protection."

Senator Carter Glass: "... President Hoover has converted the Treasury at Washington into a National pawnshop and infected the central government with the fatal germ of financial Socialism."

Secretary Ogden Mills: "I have to disagree with most of the Senator's (Mr. Glass's) premises and all of his conclusions."

Senator Hiram Johnson: "The fact is that the President was utterly unable to understand American psychology or the American people."

Vice President Curtis: "The Democratic tariff scheme will not protect a single farm or a single factory or a single workman or a single American mine."

Representative Henry B. Steagall, Alabama: "Practically the only liberty left to millions of Americans under Mr. Hoover's four years in the presidency is the liberty of starving."

Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley: "Without the Republican tariff, industry and labor would have been brought down to the level of countries where complete financial collapse has taken place."

Newton D. Baker: "The greatest danger that faces the U. S. at this moment is Mr. Hoover's sudden and violent conversion to the Hawley-Smoot tariff."

Secretary Arthur M. Hyde: "History proves that while we can have depression under protection, we have never had prosperity without a protective tariff."

Col. Henry Breckinridge: "The American people fear nothing so much as the prospect of having four more years of the present Republican leadership."

Secretary Lyman Wilbur: "Our people can see about them the evidence of the bold genius who put those beams of support under our tottering financial and economic structure, hit by a world-wide hurricane, and which kept it from collapse."

Norman Thomas said the conduct of the two major parties in the campaign "is in itself proof of the breakdown in morale and intelligence of the whole capitalist system."

GEORGIA CUTS EXPENSES

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 1.—(AP)—The State of Georgia got out the pruning knife today and trimmed its expenditures to fit the economic trends of the times.

A reduction of 14 per cent in all appropriations was ordered by the budget bureau headed by Governor Richard B. Russell, Jr.

The bureau said indicated revenue amounted to only 86 per cent of the amounts already appropriated for the fiscal year.

Antidote
Thinking this should be a "sensible" Christmas? Scenic gifts, and all that sort of thing. We disagree. We think the thing to do is concentrate on the frivolous and gay. There's no thrill in getting something you have to have anyway. It's the unnecessary "extras" that make Christmas. This Christmas more than ever, everybody needs to be as frivolous as possible.

A heat regulator installed on your furnace means that you burn less coal and always have even temperature. It means less work for the furnace man too! The W. G. Glenn Co. installs excellent regulators for about $25.00 or less. Phone 4149.

Piquant Snack
For Sunday night supper, slices of toast, spread with a cheese mixture and heated under the grill until the cheese is melted and browned, make a tasty bite. The cheese mixture is made by cutting up American cheese, adding one egg and a tablespoonful or two of heavy cream. Beat up the mixture well. Toast the bread slightly before you spread on the mixture.

Examination
Talking the other day with a student who is studying for a Ph. D. at Yale and facing oral examination, we asked what kind of questions the professors were likely to ask. "Well," the student answered, "I've been doing a little investigating so I know just what they'll ask. They won't mention any subject they think I could possibly know anything about. And if they should get on a subject I'm familiar with, they'll switch to something else the minute they find out."

ROOSEVELT BREAKS MANCHESTER DATE

committee arrived from Rockville having left the party after it had turned off the Springfield road. On reaching Rockville he learned that the motorcade had turned west at Wapping, eliminating Rockville and Manchester from the schedule. The party started to turn east at Wapping with the intention of completing the original schedule, and at that point Governor Roosevelt declared against any side trips and the cars turned east towards Hartford which was reached at 6:10.

Good Natured
The Manchester crowd was good natured after two disappointments and the Center, which was solid with people at 6 o'clock was almost deserted again at 7 o'clock. Perhaps the most disappointed person in the crowd was Dr. Dolan who had planned the visit of his party's candidate to Manchester.

Traffic Problem
From 5 until 6:30 o'clock seven policemen under the direction of Captain Herman Schaefer worked hard to keep the area on Main street opposite the Lincoln school open for the expected guests. Officer Joseph Pratico in the police car and Officer Raymond Griffin on the police motorcycle caused through the traffic lane continuously from 5 until 6 o'clock keeping the street open for traffic.

PLAN NEW CONSTITUTION FOR CONGREGATIONALISTS

Torrington, Nov. 2.—(AP)—A new state organization of the Congregational churches of Connecticut, which is expected to be more efficient than the present one and more like those in other states, will be organized if the proposed new constitution is adopted in 1933. A draft of a new constitution presented at the state convention at Centerbury yesterday here yesterday by the Rev. John M. Phillips of Torrington.

DEMOCRATS RAP "BOSS" G. O. P.

Bowers, Koppelman and Others Criticize Republican Policies.

Sherwood G. Bowers, campaigning for Representative on the Democratic ticket after being defeated for the Republican nomination, headed a list of six speakers at the Democratic rally at the High school auditorium last night. The other speakers were Harold W. Garrity, Bowers' running mate; Herman F. Koppelman, candidate for Congress; Joseph A. Tane, state labor commissioner, and two members of the Yale Flying Squadron.

Speakers' Attack
Bowers, the third speaker on the program, was introduced by Garrity as "a man beloved by the townspeople for his courage." Bowers said that although he was a registered Republican and did not desire to knock his party, that there were many things which met with his disapproval. He attacked Senator Hiram Bingham as "a political opportunist, trying to ride to re-election on a beer barrel." President Hoover for his stand on public utility and the labor commission, outlined the conditions found in Connecticut. He said that the sweat shops had been forced into this state by the labor laws of New York. He praised Roosevelt and Alfred Smith for their vigorous stand against such shops and said that if Governor Cross is re-elected similar laws will be advocated in this state.

Calls Self Heretic
"I am regarded as a heretic and political heathen," he said, "for running on the Democratic platform." Bowers went on to say that his father and uncle were staunch Republicans but "kicked over the traces once in a while." Augustine Lonergan, he said, was esteemed by his father, who was always a silent supporter of the Democratic cause. He then compared Lonergan and Bingham and said the odds were in Lonergan's favor.

Political friends of Bowers' father, the late H. O. Bowers, and his uncle, the late Senator Arthur E. Bowers, say that the present Selection party and a certain element of the political loyalty of his own family. Both the senior Bowers brothers were strong party politicians believing in never deserting their party ranks, they maintain. The late Senator Bowers was a staunch supporter of J. Henry Roraback, the present Republican state leader, and he and his brother believed wholeheartedly in the principles of strong machine government. The late Judge Bowers was not so much in favor of Congressman Lonergan as he was opposed to E. Hart Penn, then Lonergan's opponent. Penn had been partly responsible for the removal of Judge Bowers from the local bench and this caused resentment among Judge Bowers' loyal friends.

Bowers sketched briefly the attempts to reduce the town budget, advocating wage cuts and reduced time for municipal employees. "I do not advocate the cutting of wages," he said, "as a principle. I believe that the more wages earned the better. But when conditions are stagnant a reduction must be made."

Criticizes Roraback
He attacked Roraback as the power behind the public utilities commission, pointing out that Roraback blocked Governor Cross in his appointments to the commission. He said that Roraback was once a lobbyist and fixer for the N. Y., N. H. and H. railroad, in the state legislature, that now controls the Republican party and a certain element of the Democratic party.

Bowers hoped that these Democrats would break away and that the Democratic party would become a power by itself. If elected representative, he said, he would drive to serve the town in a creditable manner and attempt to bring the state under the rule of the people and not that of the "despotic Mr. Roraback."

Record of Waste
He cited the freedom of the state from debt, and said that the surplus in the treasury was attained in spite of the Republican party and not because of it. He said that an investigation of the party in Connecticut would show a "record of waste, privilege and patronage seldom found in any other state in the country."

The speaker outlined Hoover's stand on public utilities, saying that the President was satisfied with present conditions. Roosevelt, he said, is more liberal and stands squarely for increased government regulation of utilities. He cited the insult crash as proof of the need of a change.

Favors a Change
As his platform, Bowers advocated certain changes in the town charter, limiting of number of candidates in primaries, the automobile fines in local court should be averted to the town and not to the state, a change in charity arrangements that will make persons receiving charity work out of the amount of their relief. He said that towns and cities are at the end of their resources for aid of unemployed and that the "wonderful reserve of state money" should be used for unemployment relief.

He said that as a fairly good Republican at heart, every once in a while there's nothing to change, adding that he meant for a short time. He accused both Republicans and Democrats for using public offices to build up political machines. He pointed out that many voters are turning to the Social Party because they are tired of the old politics. It is time for both major parties to present something new, he said.

Garrity's Talk
The first speaker was Harold Garrity, who said that his opponents would accuse his election as the grounds that he is too young and inexperienced. Past experience, he said, is not necessarily running for

"AREN'T WE ALL" HAS UNUSUALLY FINE CAST

Rehearsals Well Along For Play To Be Given By Lions Club Next Wednesday.

In accordance with a special system of rehearsal in which the play is directed in scenes, various groups of the cast of the Community play "Aren't We All?" sponsored by the Lions, are meeting every night at 7:30 at the Rec.

A riotous three-act comedy farce, "Aren't We All?" will be presented in the High school auditorium next week Wednesday and Thursday evenings, November 9 and 10. The entire proceeds are to be devoted to the Milk Fund.

The scene of action is laid in a little town of Chestnut Corners, Vermont. The story is woven about the plot of two city slickers (Gunnar Johnson and Clarence Anderson) to steal the invention of a local boy, Dick Hathaway (Francis T. Sullivan) who is in love with Doris (Arlene C. Montary), daughter of Almya Perkins (Louis Smith) proprietor of the Hotel De Loox. However, Asthma Tartar (Mrs. Sam Kearns) saves the day—and the love affair—by turning on the invention, an automatic steno-grapher, to allow the crooks' conspiracy to be recorded.

Others in the cast are Tom Quish (Pat O'Toole), Karl Borst (Fercy Howells), Margaret Louise Handley (Lena Peters), Leon Holmes (Job Carter), Karl Keller (Elliott Thomas), and Reginald Wells (Bob Carter).

Several amusing skits are worked into the action of the play. "School Days" including Frances Conrow, Mark Holmes, Jake Greenberg, Harry Flavel, and Bob Tsak. "Good Morning, Judge!" Thomas Conran, Jack Dryer, Principal Clarence P. Quimby, Attorney Harold Garrity, Ray Bowers and Chester Mills.

The High school orchestra under the direction of Harold Turkington will furnish curtain-raising music. Miss Mildred Sutherland is pianist for the chorus selections and accompanies Mrs. Ernest Roy, soloist, for "Babies' Birthday Party."

All seats are reserved. They will be on sale or exchange beginning Tuesday, Nov. 2 at 9 a. m. at Sperry's Soda Shoppe at the Conran Miner's Drug Store and the Conran Shoppe at Depot Square.

BARRY NOT KNOWN BY DOCTOR CONDON

Jewel Thief, Says "Jafis", Was Not Man Who Got Ransom.

Newark, N. J., Nov. 2.—(AP)—Dr. John P. Condon, the "Jafis" of the Lindbergh kidnaping case, visited police headquarters today and failed to identify Arthur Barry, jewel thief, captured in Sussex county ten days ago.

Barry who has been held here on the possibility that he might have had some connection with the kidnaping, was placed in a lineup with several detectives. Dr. Condon looked at the men and said he knew none of them. When Barry was pointed out to him he said he had never seen him before.

"The man I gave the money to," said Dr. Condon, referring to the payment of the $50,000 ransom money outside a Bronx cemetery, "was much taller."

Not His Hands
He looked at Barry's hands. "Those are not his hands," he said. "I saw his hands as I handed him the money, and received a receipt which is now in Colonel Lindbergh's possession."

Barry looked relieved. "I want to thank you. You could have dropped a big lemon into my lap right now, and you didn't. I want to repeat again that I know nothing of the Lindbergh case."

The two men chatted for a few minutes. Dr. Condon asked Barry if he had a mother and if he ever thought of her. And just about this time Mrs. Anna Ethel Barry, wife of the prisoner walked in. She, too, spoke briefly with Dr. Condon, who waited a few minutes and then left.

PRESENT 12 BOUTS ON ROCKVILLE CARD

Sensational Fighting Expected Tonight; Pagani of This Town To Appear.

Tonight at the Town Hall in Rockville amateur boxing fans will be treated to a card of twelve bouts that for sensational fighting will have no equal.

The Jackie Horner-Joe Waynis bout which features the card will be one in which two of Connecticut's most punishing lightweights will mix.

With Jimmy Britt State flyweight champion stacking up against the only boy who has ever made him taste defeat, Joey Rosia of New Britain, this bout alone should steal the show for spicy give and takes.

Barney Fox of Windsor Locks will again tackle Willie Ward of Hartford present State heavyweight champion. These two big fellows staged a fight that was sensational at Capitol Park in Hartford this past summer and should give the fans a real run for their money tonight.

Kid Lockwood scrappy Broad Brook flyweight tackles Tony Pantello of Hartford in popular return bout. These two boys fought a hard fight to a draw at the last show here.

Even matches and good bouts is the slogan of Grosch who matches at the Rockville shows and fans present at the Arena bouts this past outdoor season are well aware of the action seen when the C. D. K. Club presents a show.

The admission prices have been reduced to meet the demands of all and a large turn out of fans are expected from surrounding towns and cities to witness this show of shows.

EAST HAS AN EVEN CHANCE IN GAMES ON THIS SATURDAY

Schedule Includes Seven Feature Duels That Involve Inter-sectional Elevens This Week-End.

New York, Nov. 2.—(AP)—There may be some balm for eastern football in this week's slate of inter-sectional games.

Of the seven feature duels involving invading far western, mid-western and southern elevens, the East confidently expects to win three and considers itself no worse than an even choice in three others.

The seventh battle, a struggle in the South between St. Mary's and Fordham, is virtually conceded in advance to the far west. The Gales will bring to New York another powerful array, undefeated in five games.

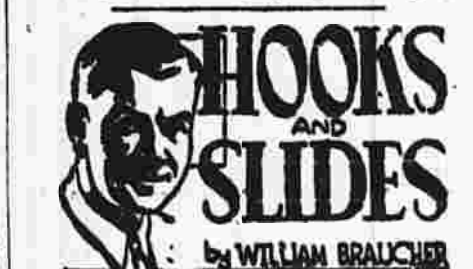

The second biggest inter-sectional duel on Saturday's schedule brings together N. Y. U. and Georgia at the Yankee Stadium. Despite N. Y. U.'s beatings by Colgate and Fordham, the Viets probably will be given an even chance against the Southerners.

Penn State's weak array likewise seems at least as good as Swannee, George Washington, victor over Yale last week looks like an even money proposition against North Dakota State.

Colgate, Syracuse and Temple all will start as prime favorites over their inter-sectional opponents, Mississippi College, Oglethorpe and Haskell respectively.

YALE RESUMES PRACTICE New Haven, Nov. 2.—(AP)—The Yale varsity football squad, idle since its 6-0 win over Dartmouth, was ready today to resume training for the "Big Three" games with Princeton and Harvard.

Coach Mal Stevens indicated that most of the work between now and the Ell's next game, that with Princeton, November 12, will be on fundamentals. Joe Crowley, regular right halfback, who suffered a wrenched arm in the Dartmouth game, left the university infirmary last night. He will rest until next Monday before rejoining the squad.

It must be recorded that Sidney Well, president of the Cincinnati Reds, is a game gentleman. With his team losing money, and the chance to appoint a playing manager, as several other major league clubs are doing, Well clings to his idea that a bench manager is the thing to have.

A playing manager practically dispenses with one salary, and since bench managers get pretty high pay, it is no small saving.

But hearken to Well: "I believe the bench manager is more likely to be a success than the playing manager. Unless a playing manager is an outstanding performer he is likely to have a tough time getting the proper results out of his players. The successful playing managers I can name offhand were Frank Chance, Fred Clarke, Tris Speaker, Stanley Harris, Fielder Jones and Bill Carrigan."

Unemployment Well has received dozens of applications from men who want to manage the Reds, which seems to be proof that there are still a great many people in the world willing to take a chance. Donie Bush, Dave Bancroft and Ed Roush are among the more likely candidates.

Several men who have been unable to find work in baseball for years bid for the Cincinnati job after it was learned that Dan Howley would not stay.

Playing Managers Clark Griffith is the latest to economize by appointment of a playing manager, Joe Cronin getting the nod and Mr. Griffith pocketing the $20,000 or $30,000 he would have paid for Walter Johnson's services.

Two years ago Rogers Hornsby was about the only playing manager in the majors. Now there are five, and all of them are infielders—Cronin, Bill Terry, Lew Fonseca, Marty McManus and Charlie Grimm.

Of these, perhaps the job that Bill Terry inherited from McGraw is the toughest. He is faced with the task of rebuilding a decaying ball club in a city where the Yankees are supreme. To restore the Giants to their old prestige, he must have a team with color, with some "big shots" in the lineup. The outlook for him is not pleasant.

Fonseca should have a good ball club next year, now that the White Sox have added Al Simmons to their roster and young Comiskey has announced that he is prepared to spend plenty of money to make the Pale Hose a championship threat.

Boston Job No Fancie The situation at Boston is not so hot. McManus knows that he has only a temporary assignment, and that if the team bogs down he will be packing up. Boston has no players and no money with which to buy any.

Cronin must carry lots of responsibility in his new role. The worries of managing may affect his playing considerably, especially if the team runs into the kind of bad luck it encountered when Johnson was boss. Grimm has his work cut out for him, too. He has to make Chicago fans forget all about that word "series." And that will be a full-time task.

SUTHERLAND PICKS: Southern California, Northwestern, Texas, Oklahoma and Tennessee-- Among Others

By DR. J. B. "JOCK" SUTHERLAND Football Coach University of Pittsburgh

(Copyright 1932, By NEA Service) Though we came out of the Notre Dame game with most of the players in good shape, I feel that Pitt faces in the University of Pennsylvania Saturday one of the season's hardest tests.

The undefeated team at Penn is the best they have had in years. The fact they have had Pitt men coaching at Penn will make it additionally harder for Penn to win. There may be a perceptible letdown on our part after the victory over Notre Dame.

Of course the team that beat Notre Dame should beat Penn, and if Pitt is the same that day, Pitt should win.

The outcome of other important contests for Saturday, Nov. 5, I believe will be: Columbia vs. Navy Columbia merely has to continue last Saturday's game where it left off, and the Navy will be beaten.

St. Mary's vs. Fordham Fordham may rally after last Saturday's disappointment against Boston College but I do not believe it will rally enough to beat the strong coast team.

Georgia vs. N. Y. U. Howard Cann will bring his play-ers into this game with the idea of wiping the Purdue affair off the slate, and New York may win.

Holy Cross vs. Brown The team that beat Yale and Harvard should beat Holy Cross.

Texas vs. Baylor The University of Texas is probably the best team in the South-western Conference, despite an early season loss to Centenary and should beat Baylor.

So. Methodist vs. Texas Aggies Schmidt's fast team should take the Aggies.

New Mexico vs. Loyola (Los. A.) A drubbing for New Mexico.

Missouri vs. Oklahoma Missouri simply doesn't seem to have it.

V. F. L. vs. Alabama Though V. F. L. is good this year Alabama showed enough in its conquest of Kentucky to take the Virginians.

Tulane vs. Georgia Tech My guess is Tulane though Georgia Tech has been showing improvement.

Tennessee vs. Mississippi Aggies Tennessee again seems to have one of those teams that refuses to be beaten.

Mississippi vs. Minnesota It seems beyond the realm of guesswork to say that Minnesota will win this one.

California vs. So. California The Trojans lost a valuable man in Mohler but seems to have enough other valuable men to beat California.

Washington vs. Stanford Stanford is due for a comeback after two successive losses and Washington probably will be the victim.

Oregon vs. Oregon State Coach Paul Schisler at Oregon State says if his team doesn't win this one he will quit. But Oregon seems to be too strong for the Staters.

Denver vs. Wyoming Denver showed itself to be a good team in its game with Temple, and seems to be better than Wyoming.

Indiana vs. Michigan Michigan has been unbeaten in five games and should defeat the team that was kicked by Chicago.

Ohio State vs. Northwestern This should be a close one, with Northwestern having the edge.

Illinois vs. Wisconsin Wisconsin on form.

Iowa vs. Nebraska Purdue vs. Chicago Purdue seems to get better week by week, and has more power and speed than Chicago.

Notre Dame vs. Kansas The South Bend team will be aroused because of the defeat at the hands of Pitt. Kansas is in for a bad afternoon.

Iowa State vs. Kansas Aggies The Kansas Aggies.

EAGLES TO PLAY ALL-WILLIMANTIC TEAM NEXT SUNDAY

Journey To Thread City For Game There; Opponents Have Many Stars, Including Meikle, Heller.

Sunday, the Eagles will journey to Willimantic to battle all-Willimantic. The latter team boasts many stars, outstanding of which are Tommy Meikle and Max Heller, former Major players.

Included in the lineup is Joe Canell, captain of the 1929 Windham High school team. The Willimantic team is very powerful and there should be plenty of action when these two teams meet. There was but one minor injury received in the last game and so the Eagles will be at full strength for this important clash. Coach Moske has decided that two full squads will make the trip. The Eagles will practice tonight at the Y. M. C. A. at 8:15.

PETROLLE HAS EASY TIME MAKING WEIGHT New York, Nov. 2.—(AP)—Apparently fistic observers were a trifle too previous with their fears that Billy Petrolle would have trouble getting down to the class limit for his 15-round lightweight title match against Tony Canzoneri in Madison Square Garden Friday night.

The Duluth veteran, who weighed around 142 pounds when he started training for his first "shot" at any title, tipped the beam at 136 1/2 pounds at the conclusion of his workout yesterday. He has two full days, plus the usual drying out process, to shave off the pound and a half which stands between him and the class limit of 135 pounds.

COAST SENTIMENT FOR 'POP' WARNER

Punts—Passes

By Associated Press

Evansville, Ill.—It's all very hard on the freshmen but the scrimmages against the yearlings, some of whom prove helpful to the scrubs. Northwestern's second team did better than the regulars against the frosh yesterday and as result, Chester Sutton, full back, and Roy Auguston, quarter, won part time jobs on the varsity for Saturday's game with Ohio State.

Cambridge—If Harvard players were superstitious they would have a hard time being optimistic about Saturday's game with Army. The tradition, backed by years of results, is that Harvard can't beat Army at Cambridge and the Cadets can't win at West Point.

Princeton, N. J.—Although next Saturday's opponent, Lehigh, is one of Princeton's oldest opponents and one which upset the Tigers last year, the Yale game comes first in the team's workouts this week. The Tigers started yesterday preparing new plays to use against the Ell November 12.

West Point, N. Y.—Army's regulars ought to be in good condition for the Harvard game Saturday but unless they learn it today they won't know much about how the Crimson attack works. The varsity hasn't had a hard workout since last Thursday, remaining out of Saturday's game with William and Mary, and their only defense drill was scheduled for today in the final workout before leaving for Cambridge.

Despite Two Straight Setbacks Fans Still Stick To Stanford's Famous Grid Coach.

Palo Alto, Calif., Nov. 2.—(AP)—Despite two straight setbacks to the Stanford University football team, the sentiment here is all for Coach Glenn "Pop" Warner.

The Cardinals dropped a game to the University of California at Los Angeles last Saturday 13 to 6, lost 13-0 to Southern California the week previous, but the general feeling is that the two games were lost by breaks against Stanford.

"We are for Warner, win, lose or draw," Alfred R. Masters, graduate manager said. "Stanford outcrimmed U. S. C. and U. C. L. A. and made more first downs. They were just tough games to lose."

Warner recently renewed an agreement to remain at Stanford five years. He is a member of the faculty and has no written contract and may sever his connections with the university at any time. Last year several eastern institutions were reported bidding for his services.

Stanford's schedule the remainder of the season includes a game with Washington Saturday and the annual "big game" with the University of California, November 19.

Coach Warner and his charges will leave shortly afterward for Pittsburgh where the Cardinals meet the University of Pittsburgh, conquerors of Notre Dame, on November 26.

WEATHER REPORT.
What is so rare as a day in June?
None that we can remember,
Excepting the thirty that went to make
That glorious November.

"Men are slaves" insisted a pretty girl in an Iowa newspaper advertisement, and everybody was ready to agree with her until it was found that she was merely talking about heavy clothes in the summer time.

THE POOR STIFF.
Coroner Ed Kraft said W. had become demented and died of natural causes after an autopsy was performed.—Evansville, Ind., Courier.

The teacher was giving a written examination in European geography. One question was:
"Why does the sun never set on the British flag?"

Robert wrote for the answer:
"Because they take it in at night."

SINGLE SHOTS. One nice thing about using a parachute. You will come down whether the thing opens or not. . . . There was a time when the music in the woods. . . . Every man finally learns that it is impossible to look like the picture in a clothing advertisement. . . . The only certainties are death and taxes, and unfortunately the taxes come first. . . . It's a poor executive who can't take a vacation without being missed. . . . Some people are so afraid to die that they never begin to live. . . . You can tell a civilized country—it is one where people kill the birds and then spend millions fighting insects. . . . Some men seem to make a specialty of posing as horrible examples. . . . Nothing's beautiful except food to a man who's hungry. . . . A youth refers to these openwork stockings the girls are wearing, as "landing nets". . . . Some people make change as though they hated to let go the money. . . . Probably the reason outdoor meals taste so good is that people get so hungry waiting for them. . . . Two things that stand in the way of enforcing the liquor laws are the boot-legs and the drinkers.

AND IN THE NECK, TOO: Psychiatrists say there is no such thing as pain. Then what is it that some folks give us?

"There is very little change in men's clothes this winter," said the cleaning and pressing establishment proprietor.

Prosecutor—Do you drink?
Witness—That's my business.
Prosecutor—Any other?

TIMELY WARNING TO THE GIRLS: There is not much chance to walk back home when out on a boat ride.

Caller—I'm the chap you paid to drown your cat and I'm sorry sir, but the check you gave me came back.

Home Owner—Well, My good fellow, so did the cat!

Many young girls 'round town who are the very picture of perfect health, owe it all to themselves. They are the ones who did the painting.

Housewife—Yes, I have an old pair of my husband's trousers, but I'm afraid they are too large around the waist for you.

Hungry Tramp—Well, couldn't yer give me dinner enough to make them fit me?

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS:

Jamerson—Look at those Siamese twins. It is silly to come to a dance fastened together like that.
Mrs. Jamerson—That is Mr. Duval and wife. It is the only way she would permit him to come.

MODERN ART: The best thing about modern furniture is that you can give the children a chest of tools and the furniture doesn't look a bit different.
