CHINA NOW SEEKS PACT WITH SOVIET

Japan Reports Russia Has Been Approached With a View To Resuming Diplomatic Relations.

Tokyo, Nov. 4.—(AP)—The Japanese foreign office disclosed today that it had definite reports that China had approached Soviet Russia with a view to resuming diplomatic relations.

The Soviet government replied, the foreign office said, that W. W. Yen, the Chinese delegate at Geneva, recently had proposed resumption of relations to Maxim Litvinoff, the Soviet delegate there.

The Soviet officials informed the Japanese charge that Mr. Yen had made this proposal on the basis of the treaty of Peking signed in 1924 adjusting affairs between Russia and China.

At the same time it was indicated that Tokyo is anxious regarding reports of the possibility of resumption of Sino-Russian relations, ruptured in 1927 when China expelled the Soviet representative.

Japan Worrying This is a section of the Japanese press advocating sympathetic consideration of a non-aggression pact, but officials are carefully concealing any enthusiasm, and categorically deny any negotiations along that line.

Sabao Arald, minister of war, told the Associated Press today that "neither a non-aggression pact nor

TARIFF LEADING ELECTION ISSUE CHENEY INSISTS

Local Authority Maintains That Protection of Industry Dominant Factor In Campaign.

In a statement given to The Herald today Horace B. Cheney, director of Cheney Brothers, and outstanding authority on tariff schedules, insists that despite other factors that have been brought to the fore during the present Presidential campaign, the tariff still remains the dominant issue.

Town's Interests Mr. Cheney thoroughly believes that the industrial interests of Manchester are centered upon a protective tariff. His statement, prepared for The Herald, emphasizes the necessity of New England electing Republicans who will fight and work for a protective tariff. It follows:

"Again the Tariff Becomes a Dominant Issue." This is the heading of a full page statement in the New York Times for Sunday, October 16th and there is little doubt as to the correctness of the statement. I do not think that the issue is a very welcome one to the Democrats. As a matter of fact it is the most important economic fact in the public life of the United States and the one which affects the lives and fortunes of more people than all the other issues put together.

Can't Be Coerced "As is usually the case, the Democratic speakers are shouting out 'Coercion' whenever any manufacturer opens his mouth with relation to the subject of the protection of his employees and employees. They, of course, know that such a fact is silly and impossible because when a voter stands alone in the voting booth, only he and his conscience know what he does and it is impossible for anybody to coerce him in any degree.

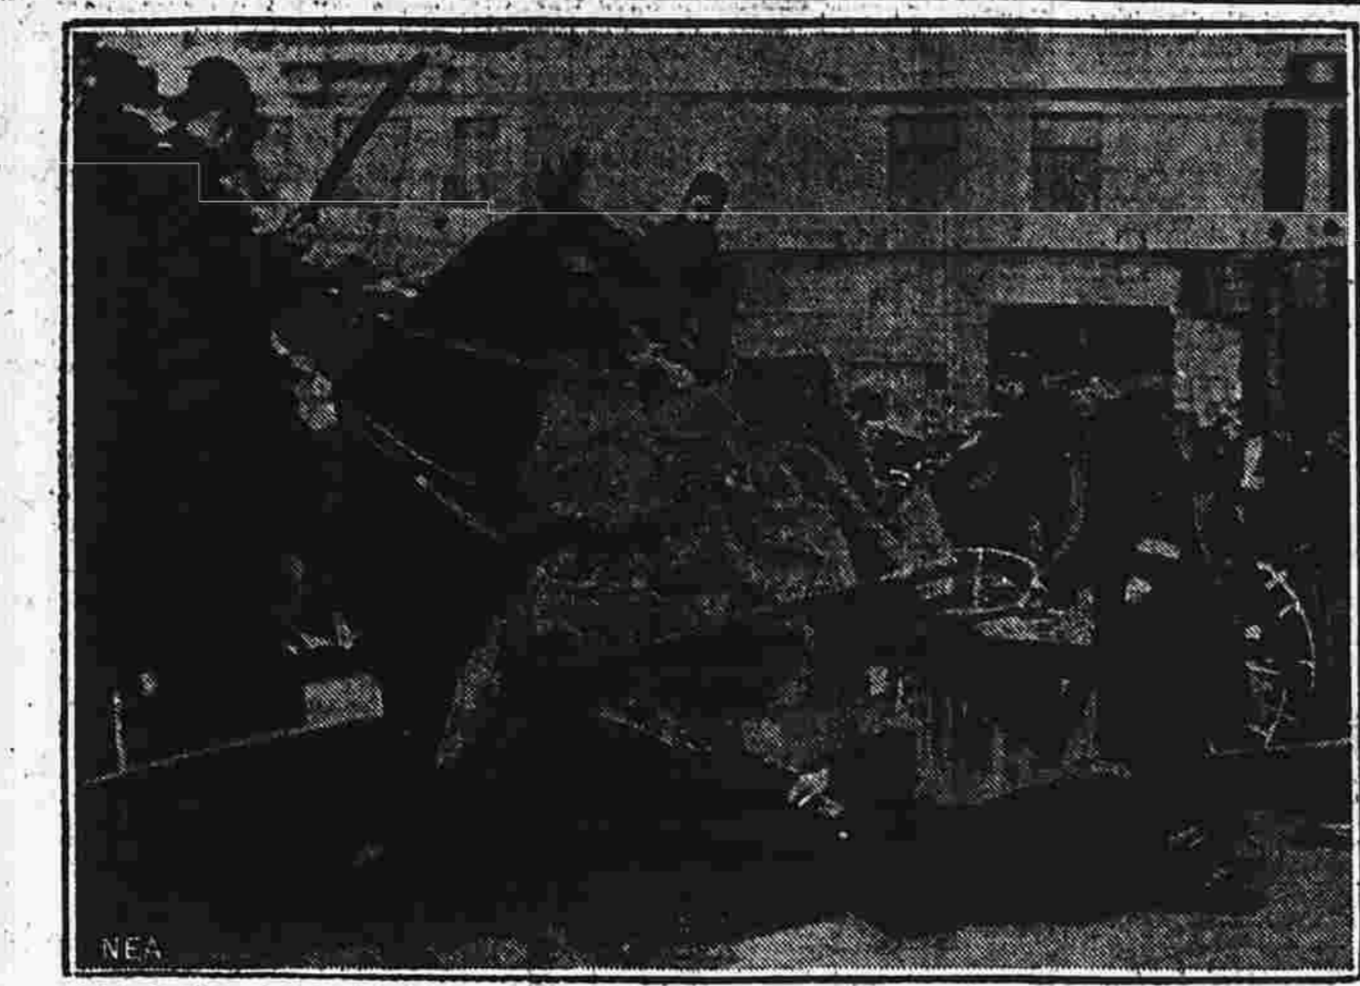

"On the other hand, those people who are in any degree responsible for the destinies and well-being of other individuals have a special public duty to tell those people to the best of their ability what the forces are which control the industries from which they receive their support.

"This town is particularly dependent for its existence upon the tariff. Do not let anybody be deceived in the belief that the local representatives, regardless of party, vote for the interests of their localities. Democratic representatives have, do and will vote on this subject in accordance with the dictates of their party, which have been and will be at variance with the interests of this locality.

No Free Trade "Let us review a few pertinent facts in the relation to this subject. There is not and never has been any such thing as a free trade country. England has been most frequently quoted as being the representative of this school. Yet England raises the same percentage of its total revenue as the United States from the tariff. Moreover, since the last

CLUBS FELL HDYE PARK AGITATORS

What had begun as an orderly assembly of 2000 English "hunger marchers", reinforced by some 20,000 London unemployed, suddenly flared into violent rioting when club-swinging police charged a group of trouble-makers. Bricks were thrown, windows smashed and vehicles overturned as the fighting spread through the busy shopping section around Hyde Park. The picture, taken during the heat of the excitement, shows a fallen demonstrator holding his head after being struck by a policeman. Others, visible in the background behind the street barricade, are rushing to escape the officers' charge.

TUNNEY DENIED RIGHT TO VOTE AT ELECTION

Former Boxing Champion Failed To Register In Time — Superior Court Hands Down Decision.

Bridgeport, Nov. 4.—(AP)—James J. Tunney, former world heavyweight champion, now residing in Stamford, was today denied the right to vote in a decision handed down by Judge Frank P. McBrody in the Superior Court here.

"The decision, in part, follows: 'In the prayer of this complaint the relator prays that John T. Hamrah, Anthony Geromino and William F. Joyce, as Selectmen of said town of Stamford, and you, the said George R. Close, as town clerk of said town of Stamford, x x x at the meeting to be held by you on Monday, November 7, 1933, between the hours of 9 a. m. and 5 p. m. you examine the qualifications of the said James J. Tunney to be and as an elector of said town of Stamford, and that you admit him to the elector's vote if he shall then be qualified by you as provided by law, shall have a session to examine the qualifications of electors and admit to the elector's vote those who shall be found qualified, but no person on the first list shall be admitted to be made' will meet after said Saturday and on or before the day of said electors' meeting, they shall meet on the day before said meeting for the purpose of admitting said persons, and no other purpose."

"It is alleged by the relator in his complaint, that his qualification of age, and his qualification of residence did mature on or before said Saturday of the third week before said electors' meeting.

"The court is asked to require and enjoin the respondents to act otherwise than in accord with the strict statutory requirements.

HOOVER STATES ISSUES ARE SAME IN '32 AS '64

Over 30,000 Acclaim Hoover at Gary, Ind.

On Board Presidential Special En Route Gary, Ind., Nov. 4.—(AP)—President Hoover campaigned through Indiana into Illinois today on his way to the coast after being severely pushed and jostled by an enthusiastic crowd at Gary, where he left his train for a brief speech.

Welcomed at Gary by Senator James E. Watson of Indiana and Raymond S. Springer, Republican nominee for governor of Indiana and a crowd estimated by Republican leaders at 20,000, the President made his first speech of the day there, after conversing with earlier crowds along the way and before continuing to major addresses at Springfield, Ill., this afternoon and St. Louis tonight.

Mexico City, Nov. 4.—(AP)—The discovery of a marble-stepped ancient tomb, the doors of which hide vast Indian treasures, comparable to those exposed in January of this year, was officially disclosed at Oaxaca today by the noted Mexican archaeologist, Dr. Alfonso Caso.

The new find by Caso and his associates was regarded as of such importance that Federal troops were sent to famous Monte Alban, where the tomb was found, to guard it and aid the scientist in his work.

Valuable Discovery The excavator said the external appearance led him to believe the discovery was as valuable, or more so, than the famous Mexican tomb he found on Monte Alban last January. The scientific world hailed that discovery as the greatest in American archaeology and comparable to the Tut-Ankh-Amen discoveries in Egypt a few years ago.

Hartford, Nov. 4.—(AP)—After he eluded the police more than five hours following the shooting of his sweetheart during a quarrel, Alfonso Collins, 32, negro, surrendered himself to the authorities at 3 a. m. today.

Critical Condition It was reported at the City hospital that the woman was in a critical condition and was not expected to recover. Mrs. Williams left the home of Collins in Windsor street early Thursday morning and went to the home of Ann Wilcox at 6 Donald street. Collins learned of her whereabouts last night and went to the Donald street house where the shooting occurred.

Last night Gene Tunney, former world heavyweight boxing champion, pleaded the cause of the Democratic Party in Bridgeport while in the same city Charles F. Coe, novelist and criminologist, urged the retention of the Republican administration.

The gubernatorial candidates of the two major parties also kept their campaign rolling along today in Bridgeport and Stratford and his Republican opponent, former Governor John H. Trumbull, with a speech in Middletown.

ANCIENT TOMB MAY HIDE VAST INDIAN TREASURE

Important Discovery Made In Mexico By Noted Archaeologist—May Rank With King Tut Find.

President Draws Analogy Between Civil War Campaign and That of Today, In Springfield, Ill., Address — "Same Alternatives Are Before the People" He Declares.

Abroad Presidential Special En Route West, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Making a dramatic appeal for the support of the American people, President Hoover today in a speech prepared for delivery this afternoon at Springfield, Ill., where Abraham Lincoln is buried, drew what he called an "analogy" between the issues in this campaign and those when the Civil War President was re-elected.

The President said that in 1864, with the country in deep gloom and the Democrats demanding a change of leadership at Washington, the Nation declined emphatically to turn aside to untried policies and experimental leaders and re-elected Lincoln.

"The same alternatives are before the country today that lay before it in the momentous campaign of nearly three quarters of a century ago," he said. "The choice that the American people made in 1864 was made on November 8, the choice they are called to make in 1933 will be made on Nov. 8. My fellow citizens, can we doubt what the choice will be?"

Turn in the tide of the Civil War was made at Gettysburg. The turn in the tide in this crisis was made in the year 1912 and just as after Gettysburg long months of continual battle were required to bring about the saving of the Union, in the same manner we must continue the fight today to recover our prosperity and to preserve the social and political principles for which Abraham Lincoln stood.

In his speech prepared for delivery in the heart of Illinois agricultural area, the Chief Executive reiterated the 12 policies he enumerated in his Dec. 1932 speech, month ago today, for the relief of agriculture, and commented on Franklin D. Roosevelt's "apparent reactions" to them.

Roosevelt's Program "The Democratic candidate has developed one of the greatest mysteries of this whole campaign in his proposal for relief to agriculture," Mr. Hoover said. "He has not been willing to state the method by which he proposes to secure the advance of agricultural prices, and has stated with great care six methods by which he can escape from any demand that he make good on his mysterious proposal.

Economic Conflict "We are assembled here today in the midst of a gigantic economic conflict," President Hoover continued. "For the last three years we have been beset by forces that threatened our economic structure as truly as the forces unleashed in the war between the states threatened the structure of the Republic.

Here at Springfield, with its historic associations, it is appropriate to review briefly the events of the earlier struggle and to consider some of the similarities to the situation of the last three years.

INSULL ARRESTED AT ATHENS HOTEL

Power Magnate Will Be Held For Extradition To U. S.; In Ill Health.

Athens, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Samuel Insull, former public utilities official of Chicago, was arrested in his hotel today at the request of the American authorities for extradition to answer an indictment arising from the collapse of the Midwest Utilities Company.

At police headquarters his lawyer explained that Mr. Insull is suffering from heart trouble, and asked that if it were necessary to detain him he be taken to a hospital.

The winter recreation schedule at the trade school started this week with swimming classes on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from 4 to 5.

SEES SHORT WEEK AS JOBLESS HELP

Col. C. W. Seymour Favors Spreading Work—Speaks To Swedish Republicans.

More than 125 persons attended the rally of the Swedish-American Republican Club at Orange hall last night and heard Colonel Clarence W. Seymour, Republican candidate for Congress from the First District, advocate a five-day working week and a six-hour working day as a solution of labor troubles by the equitable distribution of the employment needs of the country. The other speakers were Franz Carlson, former prosecuting attorney of Hartford; Thomas J. Rogers and William J. Thornton, local candidates for the state Legislature on the Republican ticket.

No Definite Stand
The speaker also attacked his opponent, Herman Koppelman. He said that he had read the speeches and views of Governor Roosevelt, "and for the life of me I cannot see where he stands, like my opponent in this campaign." He said that Koppelman had presented only one consistent plan, that involving the railroad situation. And that, he said, has already been prepared by railroad men and approved by President Hoover.

He accused his opponent of changing his views to meet the situation in the locality in which he spoke.

Colonel Seymour lauded the state Republican ticket from Trumbull down, saying that it represented a list of "fine, able, worthy citizens." He pointed out that it was necessary for New England to send Republicans to Congress, as the southern and western states have brought about Democratic control through the seniority rule. He also spoke of the Republican stand for high tariff as a protection for the people of the country and said that even though a Democratic candidate should profess similar opinion on the tariff his vote would be useless because of the Democratic unit system in Washington. He stressed particularly the Republicans' attempts to maintain a high tariff on tobacco in order that Connecticut farmers might have means of livelihood.

Job For Every Man
The speaker said that the rapid improvement of labor saving machines in this machine age has increased the feasibility of the five-day working week and six-hour working day. He said that if elected he would work to create legislation in this direction in an attempt to bring about some plan that will mean a job for every man at all times.

In closing, he urged every voter to vote on the prohibition repeal referendum, but above all, to go to the polls and vote next Tuesday. Mr. Carlson outlined plans for the perfection of racial political clubs and urged his audience to vote for Colonel Seymour, as he "will represent the county as every right thinking person in the district would wish."

Thomas J. Rogers was the first speaker and said that he and William J. Thornton had been conducting a quiet campaign and had not made any promises they did not intend to fulfill. He denied as a canard the story that they would seek to eliminate town meetings. Stress Loyalty
Mr. Thornton stressed the importance of remaining loyal to the Republican party, and said that he and Mr. Rogers were "loyal Republicans."

Ernest Kjellson presided at the meeting and introduced the speakers. It was announced that another meeting would be held in January, when it is expected the organization will have nearly every Swedish-American in town as a member.

Jack Sanson, formerly manager at the State Theater, is in charge of Warner Brothers' theatrical employees' monthly entertainment and dance tomorrow night at the Lyric ball room, Hartford. Buddy Borst's orchestra of this town has been engaged to play. William Fallon, proprietor of Castle Farm having released the players for tomorrow evening.

DRIVER ABSOLVED IN COVENTRY DEATH

Coroner John H. Yeomans Doesn't Hold Young Gillette Criminally Responsible For Act.

Warren I. Gillette 19, of Silver street, South Coventry, was cleared of responsibility in the death of his grandmother, Mrs. Emma Case, 69, of South Coventry, killed in an automobile accident, October 20 at the foot of the Twin Hills, North Coventry, when the automobile driven by Gillette skidded into a heavy sedan owned by Carlos Ruggles of Springfield, Mass. The decision was given in the case today by Coroner John H. Yeomans of Tolland county.

Coroner Yeomans said that there was no evidence indicating a criminal act or carelessness on Gillette's part when his automobile skidded on the wet road and struck the Massachusetts car in a rear-end collision. Gillette, he said, tried to pass a car ahead of him and in turning back into the traffic lane, applied his brakes too sharply or turned too quickly when he saw the Ruggles car approaching. The evidence presented indicated that Otto Shank, driver of the Ruggles car had used rare judgment and skill in his efforts to avoid an accident.

Ruggles and his housekeeper, Mrs. Margaret Smith were patients at the Manchester Memorial hospital for several days and were treated for cuts and bruises sustained in the accident.

Unconscious
Everybody has habits they're not conscious of. For example, catch yourself the next time you start to put on your stockings. The vast majority of people always put the left stocking on first. And the left shoe, too.

Preserver
An excellent trick for keeping the exposed left side of the collar intact, when outdoors, is a little device—a smart New York woman originated. She bought a short length of veiling, and tied it around her small hat so that it lit just above the eyes and slanted down on the left side covering the hair.

Coat Ties
To keep the underneath part of your coat in place, it isn't necessary to tie a knot, which bulks when the coat is buttoned. Take a piece of ribbon or folded silk and sew one end at the inside of the side seam. Put on a snap or hook and eye, the two parts about three inches apart so that, when snapped, they form a loop. The ribbon or silk is passed through a loop on the opposite front of the coat, and snapped. This arrangement gives you a flat closing.

Hale's popular Leisure jig-saw puzzles come in a wide assortment, constantly renewed, so you can always rent new puzzles. Fans can also buy picture puzzles of 180 to more than 300 pieces for 25c. A new one appears weekly at Hale's Stationery Department.

Embroidered Ankles
Another Victorian fashion—this time in hose—is revived. Brand new for Southern wear is embroidered hosiery. Usually there is a quaint formalized pattern across the instep, running up the shin. They are attractive in light tones, with pastel embroidery. This type of hose, in a sort of lisle, hand embroidered, decorated the ankles of Victorian ladies.

Color Variety
It is smart this year to match your shoes to your coat color, and your hat to your frock. For example, if your coat is brown and your dress hunter's green, you wear brown shoes and a hunter's green hat. The new vogue for gray suggests a refreshing combination: Gray coat with gray shoes and brilliant red frock and hat.

NO ABSENTEE VOTING IN THIS STATE YET

Town Clerk Turkington Has Had Many Inquiries Regarding the Possibility—No Law Yet.

Town Clerk Samuel J. Turkington has had several inquiries during the past few days regarding the possibility of absentee voting. Connecticut has no absentee voting law at the present time. Part of the state has voted on the adoption of a law for this purpose. It is expected that the next session of the general assembly will provide means for absentee voting.

It is expected that a large number of voters will fail to heed the vote on the question of repeal of the 18th Amendment which is listed on the ballot on the upper left hand side of the levers above the Democratic column. The Republican column this year, due to the administration of a Democratic Governor is in the second row, followed by the Socialist, Socialist Labor, Communist and Independent Republican.

ELECTRIC EMPLOYEES USE "REC" TONIGHT

First of Socials To Be Held At West Side Building—Plan For Other Such Nights.

The first of many socials to be held in the West Side Recreation building during the winter season is scheduled for this evening when the Manchester Electric Company's various departments will participate in bowling, cards and dancing.

Director Frank C. Busch said today that he hopes that all of the various groups in town which have been invited to use the Rec during the winter season will take advantage of the opportunity. The list includes church night, fraternity night, ex-service men's night, merchants' night, firemen's night and insurance night.

It is the desire of the Recreation Centers to cooperate with any group or organization wishing to make use of the building's facilities. The only open night comes on Friday and arrangements can be made through Director Busch for the use of either the East or West Side Rec on that evening.

ABOUT TOWN

The members of the Improved Order of Red Men are requested to attend the set-back series at the Red Men's club beginning this evening at 8 o'clock and continuing every Friday evening until Dec. 23. Grand prizes will be turkeys.

Women of the Moose and the men of the L. O. M. held their fourth and final set-back last night at the Home club on Brainard place. Grand prizes for the series were won by Miss Mary Gleason and Paul Cervini. Mr. Cervini also won first prize for the men last night and Mrs. John Gleason for the women. Second awards fell to Mrs. James McVeigh and Leon Clark and the consolation prizes to Miss Margaret Dean and Michae. Dillon. Crullers and sweet cider were served at the close of the games. It was announced that a new series under the same plan will begin Thursday evening of next week.

Frank Wilson of Foster street has purchased a house with several acres of land on Wetherill street.

A son was born Friday to Mr. and Mrs. William Dalton at the Hartford Hospital. Mr. Dalton is the proprietor of the Dalton Radio Shop on North Main street and lives in East Hartford.

The executive committee of the Emergency Employment Association, Inc. will meet at 5 o'clock this afternoon at the office of F. A. Verplanck. Plans will be discussed for the financing of unemployment relief this winter.

Officers of the Manchester Improvement Association have received word that the state highway department is to make several improvements on North Main street and Oakland street and that the work is to be started at once. A representative of the highway department was in town this morning making a survey of some of the sections that are to be given consideration.

The first killing frost of the winter season did not come until last night which is unusually late in the season. The frost was also a particularly severe one. The temperature was down in the low twenties last night. Water froze nearly a half inch in some places.

The Manchester Emergency Employment Association has received a total of 492 registrations for jobs in the Municipal building today after eight days effort in trying to provide a list from which to select emergency jobs from citizens and the town departments. Of the total registered 115 are new applicants. An increase in the number of emergency jobs provided those on the list is being recorded each day.

The next meeting of the Automotive Division of the Chamber of Commerce will be held at Castle Farm in Oakland, Wednesday evening, November 9. A roast chicken dinner will be served. All men engaged in the automotive line in Manchester, over seventy in all, have been invited to attend this meeting.

The Permanent Armistice Day Committee will meet this evening in the Army and Navy Club to complete the preparation of plans for the holiday observance. The route of the Armistice Day parade will be approved and the parade marshal, Captain R. B. Hathaway will select his aides.

TO DESCRIBE TRAINING SCHOOL'S EXPERIMENTS

Miss Mabel A. Matthews of Mansfield To Speak At South Methodist Church.

Miss Mabel A. Matthews, a superintendent of the Mansfield Training School, will speak at the South Methodist church, Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. The members of the Mothers' Club and the Cosmopolitan Club have been invited to attend. Miss Matthews will speak on the work of the institution. She organized the work of the special class in Beverly, Mass., and was the first trained worker at the Walter E. Fernald School at Waverly, Mass. She organized the social service department there. Miss Matthews has been in Connecticut a little over seven years. She was formerly a teacher in Providence, R. I.

DEATHS

Miss Della D. Murphy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Murphy of 148 Birch Mountain road, died at 8:30 this morning after two months' illness with a complication of illnesses. She was a clerk in the cravat department at Cheney Brothers.

Miss Murphy is survived by her parents, six sisters, Mary V. Catherine A., Anna M., Elizabeth H., Rose G., and Josephine; and three brothers, Thomas, Jr., Francis and Joseph, all of town.

The funeral will be held at 8:30 Monday morning at the home and at St. James' church at 9 o'clock. Burial will be in St. James' cemetery.

Charles Way of Gilead and Miss Dorothy Sinnamon of Highland Park were discharged yesterday.

A daughter was born yesterday to Mr. and Mrs. William Crozier of 40 Church street, and a daughter was born today to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Murdock of 66 Gardner street.

Albert Palmer of 553 Parker street was discharged today.

SECOND SALE BRINGS 3 TIMES FIRST SUM

Proceeds of Candy Kitchen's Effects Over $1,000 Against $330 in Sale Not Approved.

The stock and fixtures of the South Manchester Candy Kitchen, the sale of which two weeks ago for $380 was disapproved by the referee in bankruptcy, were auctioned according to schedule yesterday. Not included in the sale at auction was the establishment's ice cream machine, which in the former sale had brought only $150, because the machine had since been sold at private sale on the authority of the referee for $600. The other effects, which in the earlier sale had been sold for $180, yesterday were divided into smaller lots and brought in the aggregate more than twice as much as before. While the total proceeds of the sales was not announced, Auctioneer Robert M. Reid said this morning that they would exceed $1,000.

There were bidders present from Sterling, New Haven, Bristol, Colchester, Hartford and East Hartford, besides a number of local buyers. The usual group of "regulars" customarily seen at commercial auctions in this part of the state, who form a combination and then have one person do the bidding, was notably absent.

HOSPITAL NOTES

What is Cross Blending?
an Art might explain it this way...
"Let's say you're painting clouds. You've got your primary colors here on the palette. But you haven't the clouds until you blend certain colors into the special tone you want."
"This is very much what happens in making a good cigarette. And I gather that what Chesterfield means by Cross-Blending is what an artist does with colors. Their Domestic and Turkish tobaccos—many varieties of each—are the primary colors. They blend and cross-blend these tobaccos until they get the special tone they want—in other words, the Chesterfield flavor."
"And just as each color you use acts on the others to change and enrich them, so each Chesterfield tobacco partakes of the fine qualities of every other."
"You 'meld' different kinds to get a better kind. That's Cross-Blending!"

Final Returns Show Roosevelt Holding the Lead in 41 States In The Literary Digest Balloting

Digest Concedes Roosevelt May Carry Five More States; Democratic Candidate 3 To 2 Ahead—Over 3,000,000 Ballots Tabulated.

Roosevelt leads in forty-one States with a total popular vote of approximately 3 to 2 over Hoover in the final returns of The Literary Digest's nation-wide poll, which is said to represent the largest number of votes in any Presidential poll ever conducted, according to to-morrow's issue of the magazine.

A grand total of 3,064,497 ballots were returned and tabulated. Of these 1,716,789, or 55.99 per cent are for Roosevelt, 1,160,389, or 37.53 per cent voted for Hoover and 148,079, or 4.84 per cent registered their sentiments for Thomas.

Hoover shows a slight gain from the 37.33 per cent of the total vote which he had in the semifinal returns and the 37.19 per cent for him in the quarter-final returns, which latter tabulation was the first to contain balloting from all forty-eight States.

The final vote gives Hoover a lead in the seven States of Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut and New Jersey.

Roosevelt leads his Republican rival in all of the other forty-one States.

A diversion of the vote by an Electoral College apportionment would give Roosevelt 474 votes to Hoover's 87.

The Literary Digest editorially concedes the possibility that Roosevelt may carry five of the States in which Hoover leads in the final tabulation. It is stated that in the 1928 poll Rhode Island and Massachusetts but were carried by Smith in the election.

An analysis of the present vote, it is shown, reveals that ballots have not been voted in adequate quantity by Democratic voters in these States.

The Literary Digest points out also that the same situation obtains in Connecticut, New Hampshire and New Jersey, where the declared Republicans voting in the poll outnumbered the declared Democrats considerably in excess of the actual relative party-strength in these States, and the magazine, therefore, notes the possibility that Roosevelt may carry them.

In no State showing a Roosevelt lead is the possibility of a switch mentioned although it is pointed out that the vote in New York, Kansas, Colorado and Delaware are close.

The Literary Digest editorializes that although there are many political claims that Pennsylvania will vote Republican, no such forecast can be deduced from the poll returns from the Keystone State.

The race continues very close in Delaware, where Roosevelt has a plurality of 128 votes out of a total of 5,209 cast in the State. His lead was 175 votes a week ago and 202 two weeks ago.

In an analysis of "how the same voters voted in 1928" Roosevelt is shown obtaining 37.19 per cent of his strength from former Republicans and 47.95 per cent from Democrats of four years ago. Hoover is shown obtaining 80.57 per cent of his strength from those who voted for him at the last quadrennial election and 6.15 per cent from Democratic voters of that year.

Roosevelt is indicated having a clear majority in thirty-nine States over all six Presidential candidates represented in the poll.

happen again in 1932. We have polled the two States in exactly the same way that we polled them four years ago. A study of the returns, in relation to the official vote of 1928, and also to the ballot declarations of how the same voters voted in 1928, convinces us that in those States our ballots have somehow failed to come back in adequate quantity from large bodies of Democratic voters.

"For these reasons we consider that Massachusetts and Rhode Island may be expected to appear in the Roosevelt column on election night.

"It is further possible that Connecticut, New Hampshire, and New Jersey, which also give evidence of having masses of 'silent' Democratic voters—'silent' as far as straw polls are concerned—will also follow up their tents and steal away to the Roosevelt column.

"And then, of course, there's another side to the picture. There are some close States in the Roosevelt column, and in these last days of the campaign the Hoover forces are making prodigious efforts to win them over, while the Roosevelt forces are making equally prodigious efforts to hold them. So are Kansas, Colorado, Delaware. The Republicans profess great confidence that they will win some important States by their whirlwind campaign of recent weeks, and they expect especially, they say to carry Pennsylvania, in spite of the Digest poll.

"However, as this goes to press with the final returns, we know of no reason why the poll should go very far astray in the figures and percentages from Pennsylvania.

The final returns of the 1928 Literary Digest poll forecast that Hoover would win forty-two States including the Democratic strongholds of Virginia, North Carolina, Florida and Texas. In this poll the only States The Literary Digest failed to forecast correctly were Massachusetts and Rhode Island, which were carried by Smith contrary to the poll figures.

A comparison of the official 1928 vote and the 1928 Literary Digest poll vote, showed the magazine's referendum to be over 95 per cent correct in its prediction of both the popular vote and the electoral college vote.

OVER 3,000 RED-CROSS CHAPTERS IN CAMPAIGN

Activities of This Past Year Confined Largely To Unemployment Relief.

The annual Roll Call of the American Red Cross announced for November 11 to 24, will find more than 3,000 chapters seeking memberships for support of regular and emergency activities through 1933.

At local Red Cross headquarters the chapter chairman Miss Marjorie Cheney, summed up National Red Cross activities during the past year as follows:

"To prevent suffering in this period of unemployment and general economic depression, the Red Cross made widespread distribution of wheat, flour, clothing, medicine and other supplies. More than 2,200 chapters have participated in community unemployment relief programs. Constructive measures for combating hardship in drought areas resulted in the distribution of garden seed to 600,000 farmers in 1931, and 315,000 additional packets of garden seed were distributed in the spring of 1932.

"The work for war veterans and their families multiplied, owing to economic stringency and to changes and liberalization in veterans' legislation. Nursing and health activities were broadened and intensified to meet the sudden emergencies of natural disasters and to cope with incipient disease threatened by malnutrition. First aid and life saving continued as the National evangelists of safety on land, water and highways; the accepted leader in teaching accident-prevention.

"The Junior-Red-Cross, with 6,775,000 members in the schools, was stimulated to increased achievements in service to less fortunate children, to community enterprises, to veterans in hospitals, and the general alleviation of distress everywhere. Fifty-one years as the official National relief agency, with experience in more than 1,000 disasters in the United States, the American Red Cross finds itself in 1933 carrying the largest peace-time loan in the history of humanitarian organizations. Volunteers, trained and directed by a nucleus of professional men and women, carry forward the comprehensive program of the Red Cross. This program puts into effect the mandates of the Congressional Charter, the principal ones of which are:

"To furnish volunteer aid to the sick and wounded of armies in time of war.

"To perform all the duties devolved upon a national society by each nation which has acceded to the treaty of Geneva.

"To act in matters of voluntary relief and in accord with the military and naval authorities as a medium of communication between the people of the United States of America and their army and navy.

"To continue and carry on a system of national and international relief in time of peace and to apply the same in mitigating the sufferings caused by pestilence, famine, fire, floods and other great national calamities, and to devise and carry on measures for preventing the same."

Memberships are designated as follows: Annual, $1; contributing, $5; sustaining, $10; and supporting, $25. Fifty cents of each fee for national and international work. The rest is for local services.

3 EASY RULES for Using Koppers Connecticut Coke

- 1 Shake less—Because Koppers Connecticut Coke is all fuel, and burns down to fine ashes that drop through the grate with very little shaking. Once a day is often enough to shake—less frequently in mild weather.
- 2 Use less draft—Because Koppers Connecticut Coke is High Test Fuel, it burns evenly without forcing the fire and wasting heat up the chimney. It responds at once to closing as well as to opening of dampers.
- 3 Fill the fire pot heaping full—You can do this without danger of smothering the fire. Koppers Connecticut Coke is lighter than coal and burns most economically and effectively when you keep a deep fire.

These 3 rules mean less work and less attention. Your Koppers Connecticut Coke fire requires less work in firing and in taking out ashes, burns perfectly and provides a steady warmth for less cost.

The family is FREE FROM COLDS since they changed to this LOWER-PRICED FUEL

HALF the time some member of his family had a cold, after the furnace was started. He bought the highest-priced fuel. He tugged at shakers and lugged heavy ash cans. He worked, but the furnace didn't seem to.

Then he changed to Koppers Connecticut Coke, the High Test Fuel that costs less per ton. Right away his furnace went to work without any extra attention—less in fact. It gave him more heat, steadier heat too, the kind that comes up quick at a flip of the damper, but banks down quietly at night or in mild spells of weather.

That's the kind of heat that your family wants. It's yours by making the same smart change to Koppers Connecticut Coke. Of course the comfort of the family comes first, but you'll certainly be pleased to be through for all time with heavy ash cans. Koppers Connecticut Coke has two-thirds less ashes. A week's ashes from an average home will go in a little pail about a foot high.

Because this High Test Fuel has less ashes and gives more heat you use fewer tons. Each ton costs less. So besides better heat and less work, you will save money.

Get started right away on enjoying these advantages. Call us and order Koppers Connecticut Coke. Your fuel dealer has it too.

China Now Seeks Pact With Soviet (Continued From Page One) ultimate disposal of the Chinese Eastern railway have been officially discussed.

CHINA NOW SEEKS PACT WITH SOVIET

The fact is, the minister said, "we have been officially approached in these connections."

"We have never considered," he added, "that there was any chance of a clash between Japan and Russia. We know that recent rumors to the effect that the Soviet helped to instigate General Su Ping-Wen's rebellion in northwest Manchukuo, were entirely baseless."

Complicated Situation "The Su Ping-Wen revolt was the result of complicated circumstances, inexplicable unless the characters and tactics of the Chinese militarists in the history of the affected region are thoroughly understood."

"We are hoping and trying to restore peace and order west of the Kiangnan mountains by pacific means. However, if the Chinese leaders concerned fail to show sincerity towards us we may be compelled to resort to drastic measures, the nature of which must be concealed as a military secret."

It was officially stated that Yosuke Matsuoka, who will defend Japan when the League of Nations considers the Lytton report this month, is visiting Moscow without any power to negotiate any of the Russo-Japanese issues.

When he left recently it was understood he would merely ascertain the Soviet attitude on points to be brought up in Geneva. Officialdom and press, however, are closely following reports of his informal conversations with Soviet leaders.

A soviet ambassador was placed in Peking in 1924, under a treaty which established relations between China and Russia for the first time since the Russian revolution.

In 1927, however, factional differences in China led to a raid of the Soviet Embassy in Peking and relations were severed.

COMMITTEE TO PONDER SCHOOL BOARD SAVINGS

Board of Education Approves Special Committee — Arranges For Armistice Observance.

At a meeting of the Verpon Board of Education in the office of Superintendent of Schools on Wednesday evening it was voted that there be an observance of Armistice Day in the schools on the afternoon of the day before and that day be a holiday.

Mr. Clough reported that the attendance of the schools have been very good thus far this year, that only one case of illness of a teacher had occurred since the beginning of the year, and that for only a half day. He recommended in his report that Armistice Day be a holiday in the schools this year.

It was voted that the building and supplies committee pass on all requisitions for the supplies of any size and that no purchase by janitors or others be made without authorization in writing or in some way that would definitely fix responsibility for the purchase.

The school nurse reported that the physicians had been on duty three days the past month testing pupils as to physical condition, that testing eyesight had largely occupied their attention, and that various organizations had responded to the need of milk so that the undernourished children would be taken care of this year as usual.

The matter of saving in expenditures was left for a study with a committee of four members who will report at a near future date.

that more than 300 tombs will be found on the sides of the great "White mountain" just outside Oaxaca. Only a dozen tombs have been opened, and Dr. Caso said his latest work indicates many large and important shrines, he sealed as they were left centuries ago.

Some of the tombs showed signs of vandalism, mostly attributed to the gold-hungry conquistadores, but the scientist is of opinion that the luxurious vegetation and soil deposits of years hid most of the valuable stone sepulchres from these adventures.

NERVOUS WOMEN Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

"I am so nervous it seems as though I should die." "My nerves are all on edge." "I wish I were dead." . . . How often have we heard these expressions from nervous women who have become so tired and run-down that her nerves seem to be on the verge of breaking.

No woman should allow herself to drift into this condition if she can help herself. She should give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. For nearly sixty years women have taken this wonderful tonic to give them renewed strength and vigor.

Out of every 100 women who report to us say that they are benefited by this medicine. Buy a bottle from your drug-gist today . . . and watch the results.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 4.

MONEY CONFERENCE
 When this campaign is out of the way and the country has awakened to the realization that whoever is President there are things to be done, the people as well as the press and the statesmen may begin to give some thought to the world economic and monetary conference for which international committees are now preparing and which will probably be held early next spring.

It is a strange thing but apparently true that, with all the immense material progress that has been made in the world in the last century, the incredible enlargement of the agencies of production and distribution and of our knowledge of many arts and sciences, with relation to one prime essential of an ordered civilization the world is still stumbling blindfold in very nearly complete darkness—the science of exchange. If we knew no more about chemistry and no more about mechanics than we do about the real significance and possibilities of money we should not be able to tell the difference between water and cast iron nor how to build a wall by putting one stone on top of another.

For generations we have been going ahead with improvement after improvement in the physical attributes of life, with additions to our fund of general knowledge, with the cultivation of the arts and with an incredible stimulation of mechanical invention—and ludicrously trying to finance it all on a system scarcely an inch removed from the wampum of the red Indian or the flint mallet which was likely enough the common denominator of the stone age. We are, in almost every other respect—possibly with the exception of ethics and morals—ages ahead of our own money; this country and every other country.

It is only through such mediums as the forthcoming monetary conference that we shall ever get even a start toward a scientific solution of the problem of a stable international currency; and until we get a reasonably stable international currency we shall all continue to be bedeviled and harassed and frustrated in our efforts to establish stable prices, the fixed value of a debt or any sort of security in business, internal or international.

Within the agenda of the forthcoming monetary conference lie the germs, in all probability, of more real benefit to the human race than in all the peace parleys and get-togethers of all sorts that have been held since the World War—a hundred times over. Whether those germs will be warmed into even the beginnings of life depends on the degree in which the participants realize the importance of their job.

POLITICAL HATEDE

At all events, acrimonious as this Presidential campaign of ours has been and as full of malice, envy and all uncharitableness, we haven't reached the point of political hatred that they have in Germany. Over there the argument of reliance appears to be a two-by-four, a knife or a gun. A group of Nazis stick up some bills. A group of Communists don't like the stuff printed on the bills. So they shoot at the Nazis and the Hamburg police pick up an even dozen of the Hitlerites off the pavement and take them to hospital to have the bullets picked out.

That's the kind of thing that happens when folks let their political prejudices become an obsession. Yet the Germans have the earned reputation of being among the most amiable of folks—or had, until they followed lead leadership into the frightfulness of the great war. Perhaps there is no more guarantee for Americans than for Germans that they will never take to killing each other over political differences. At all events it's much safer to keep

LET US VOTE FOR OURSELVES

After Sunday, the last of the big guns of the campaign having been fired tomorrow night and the American people having devoted their day of rest very largely to quiet consideration of all that has been said during these many hectic weeks, there will probably be not enough votes changed in the entire country to affect the result in a single election precinct if they were all polled in the same place.

It has been, on the whole an unpleasant campaign, an unsatisfactory one. At a time when the people of the country, worn and weary with almost three years of privation, uncertainty and dread for the future, were longing for a leadership that would point the way clear and straight to some reasonable measure of security, their longing has not been gratified. Violently has Mr. Roosevelt attacked Mr. Hoover's record. Violently has Mr. Hoover assailed the sincerity and validity of Mr. Roosevelt's assertions. But it is the cold fact that neither of the candidates has fed the voters of the country upon any satisfying meat; neither has presented a program over which the ordinary citizen can feel his heart uplifted or can develop any real enthusiasm.

The disheartening thing about the situation is that neither the Republicans nor the Democrats can successfully refute the charges of the other side. When the Democrats accuse Mr. Hoover of having been slow to realize the significance of the crash of 1929 the accusation cannot be controverted. When they charge up to him and his aides the unquestionably bad guessing of the Treasury Department on the 1930-31 deficits they charge them with something of which they cannot acquit themselves.

On the other hand when Mr. Hoover, belatedly coming into virile action, declares that Mr. Roosevelt seeks the Presidency without offering any constructive program whatever he tells the simple truth. Thousands of Democrats last spring subscribed completely to the estimate of Roosevelt's equipment proffered by one of the ablest commentators in his party, to the effect that "Mr. Roosevelt is an amiable gentleman who, without the slightest qualification for the office, would very much like to be President."

There are far stronger men in the Democratic party than Mr. Roosevelt. There are, it is wholly possible, stronger men in the Republican party than Mr. Hoover. It would have been better for the country, no doubt, if both parties had chosen other candidates. But the choice lies between these two men, or, rather, between their parties. And unless the people of Connecticut are wholly blind to their own necessities they must make their decision in favor of President Hoover. For this all important reason:

It makes not a shred of difference whether the theory of a protective tariff is fundamentally right or wrong; so long as the United States remains on the gold standard and only one other important nation in the world is on that standard in any real sense, the only possible protection for Connecticut industries against a devastating flood of competing products, paid for with cheap money, lies in high and higher tariffs. Even Great Britain, now that sterling is so cheapened in our money, is not only threatening to capture much of the world trade that has been ours but may be expected to join with Germany, Japan, Czechoslovakia and other industrial nations in a ruthless bombardment of our markets with cheap-money products against which our only conceivable protection must be a tariff high enough to be effective no matter how high that may prove to be.

The only alternative to this would be our own abandonment of the gold standard—and Mr. Roosevelt is completely committed against any such remedy, just as completely as Mr. Hoover despite the imaginings of Mr. Mills to the contrary. There is no more chance of a party dominated by the Vincent Astors, the Duponts, the John J. Raskobs, the Baruches, the Carter Glasses and the Owen D. Youngs adopting this alternative than there is of Mr. Hoover himself advocating it. And yet what we have to face, in the event of a Democratic victory next week, is an immediate raid on the industrial tariffs that are now the sole hope and safeguard of New England and Connecticut, made in the interest of the free trade South and the agricultural West.

There is every indication that the next House of Representatives and perhaps the next Senate will be Democratic in complexion. If they are, the only hope of the Connecticut industries for adequate tariff protection will rest upon the veto power of President Hoover. That will be all that will stand between our factories and the competition of cheap-money Europe and Asia.

The men and women of Manchester who want to vote for the protection of their jobs and the restoration of Manchester's industrial prosperity must realize that in this very critical period there is far more need than ever before of the stiffest kind of tariff safeguarding due to the difference in foreign exchange. And that their only hope of that safeguarding lies in the re-election of President Hoover next Tuesday.

With either party in power the country will have to feel its way back to normal conditions. But in Connecticut our problem is to keep what we have, to hang on, until things work themselves out. The Democratic South doesn't care what becomes of us; neither do the farmers of the grain-belt. They would vote our factories closed tomorrow if it were to their own advantage, or if they thought it was. We must fight for ourselves, vote for ourselves, vote for the saving application of the protective tariff principle—and for its only champion in this contest, Herbert Hoover.

your head and preserve your sense of humor than to let political passion run away with you. There's no telling how far or how fast that sort of thing may go, once it is out of hand.

INDEREFS IN POLL

An election poll taken among the pupils of Bulkeley High School at Hartford discloses, out of a total vote of 1,956, twenty-four votes for the Levitt state ticket. That is about 1.2 per cent. Inasmuch as a high school poll is almost certain to reflect the political faiths of the families of the pupils it is possible that such a percentage may prove to be not far from the actual proportion of the Inderep strength on election day.

The total vote of Connecticut four years ago was about 550,000; it will probably be little more this year. At the Bulkeley percentage that would mean that the Inderep strength would be about 6,600 votes. Some six thousand signatures were obtained for the Levitt nomination petitions. Such indications as there are in this poll point to the belief, entertained at the time of the nominations, that the petitioners represented the potential voting strength of the Levitt group.

It is a guess that the returns on election night will show that the numerical possibilities of such a party are limited to those who get it up.

Behind the Scenes in WASHINGTON

Washington.—There is no voting in the District of Columbia, but there are about 50,000 persons who can vote in their home states, and that always causes plenty of local excitement at election time.

Republican and Democratic groups here are hoisting signs and listening to campaign speeches and sometimes a candidate for some office in the outside world comes and makes a speech for the few absentee voters here that will be cast for or against him.

The eligible voters are showing a deeper interest in the privilege than they ever did before and the local Democratic central committee and the National Capital Republican club are all steamed up about it, claiming everything and expanding the facilities with which they seek to corral every possible ballot for Roosevelt or Hoover. Scores of partisan volunteers are making sure that everyone knows his or her franchise rights.

The Republicans would seem to have an edge in the fact that their candidate works here and has been working here, in one job or another, for many years. Hoover has made his acceptance and other speeches here whereas Roosevelt merely passed through on his way to Baltimore. Norman Thomas, the Socialist candidate, appeared this year as he did in 1928.

There is no very good way to guess which way the District would go if it had votes in the electoral college, unless you want to go by the straw votes. The Literary Digest has had Roosevelt in a proportionately stronger position against Roosevelt in its District of Columbia poll than he has been running in the country as a whole. Recent returns gave Roosevelt 4,764 and Hoover 3,577.

Although Washington's vote, most of which is cast by mail, isn't going to affect the result of any presidential

IN NEW YORK

From Hollywood They Come
 New York, Nov. 4.—The big town's favorite "visiting firemen" are the array of Hollywood stars who invariably arrive at this season of year for vacation "rests."

Just where, how and when they get their "rests" no one seems to know. But the Shearers, Tashmans, Joan Crawford's et al storm the Fifth Avenue shops and leave good movie coin behind. They appear at the night spots and become decorative celebrities for the masses, in a variety of ways. They land "tone" and "class" to first nights and cabarets. They grab liners for London, Paris and gray points. They help the chatter columns and they are stormed by free lancers from the fan magazine.

They like shows, and, even though these attractions may be flopping about, Hollywood moguls buy them. Just the other night Norma Shearer dropped in on a piece, "London You Wednesday," a musical comedy, to introduce. They land "tone" and "class" to first nights and cabarets. CARBON MONOXID POISONING

In spite of the fact that many warnings have been issued about carbon monoxide poisoning by various boards of health, there are many accidental deaths caused by this product of incomplete combustion especially during the winter months due to the increased use of artificial heating devices. Unfortunately, the average person has no method for determining the presence of this gas in the air. He may have heard that it is colorless, odorless and tasteless, and even deadly mixtures of this gas with air are not readily detectable. Low concentrations of this gas, although not deadly, may have cumulative effects. The first symptoms are usually a slight tight feeling across the forehead, drowsiness, sore eyes, yawning, poor circulation and dizziness. The headache may be severe if one is exposed to even a small amount of carbon monoxide over a long period.

Practically any commonly used fuel will develop carbon monoxide if there is an incomplete oxidation of the fuel. The two most common sources of poisoning at present are artificial gas and charcoal. The first symptoms are usually a slight tight feeling across the forehead, drowsiness, sore eyes, yawning, poor circulation and dizziness. The headache may be severe if one is exposed to even a small amount of carbon monoxide over a long period.

Now--a SILENT GLOW Range Oil Burner

for only $22.50
 Installing Extra

WHY experiment with an unknown, inferior range oil burner when you can buy the pioneer burner of the country at such a small cost? Here is a burner, backed by years of oil burner experience, as low in price and lower in many cases, than unknown, untested "assembled" burners.

The SILENT GLOW has already been tested and approved by 125,000 American homemakers. Such satisfaction could only be insured by a product high in quality. These American housewives have demonstrated that the SILENT GLOW is a practical, lasting and economical range oil burner to use. No burning out or breaking of parts after a few months' use... for each burner is absolutely guaranteed by the Silent Glow Corporation, as well as Watkins Brothers.

Before another day passes, choose one of the new SILENT GLOWS at Watkins (There are three models ranging from $22.50 to $65.00) and begin to enjoy the convenience and economy of oil heat.

PARAGUAYAN WAR REACHES CAPITAL

Society Women Engaged in Quarrel Over Conflict in the Chaco Jungles.

Washington, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Bolivia's war with Paraguay in the Chaco jungles has its repercussions over Washington bridge tables. Before it is over, it may divide feminist circles into groups at odds over the far away territory row. In the center of the discussion is an American woman from Portland, Oregon, Mme. Luis Abelli, the former Crystal Hyland and wife of the former Bolivian minister here. Mme. Abelli has been invited to speak at the next Sunday meeting of the National Woman's Party, which is affiliated with the Inter-American Commission of Women, of which Miss Doris Stevens is chairman. She intends to talk about Bolivia's boundary dispute. Last week Mme. Abelli openly expressed her views on the quarrel by telling a group of Maryland clubwomen that Paraguayan aggression had transformed Bolivia into a "nation of martyrs." She concluded her speech by taking up a collection, which netted $100 for the Bolivian

Red Cross, and by inviting the women to her suburban home here to sew bandages. The Other Angle But one of the members of the Inter-American Commission of Women here is Mme. Fabie Ysafran, wife of the Paraguayan charge d'affaires. She addressed the National Woman's Party last year on the subject of "Paraguayan" but confined herself to generalities. Mme. Ysafran is frankly annoyed by the prospect that Mme. Abelli may use the commission as a platform for an address against Paraguay. Friends are urging Mme. Ysafran to protest. So far her annoyance has failed to deter Mme. Abelli, who in addition has just accepted an invitation to address clubwomen of Baltimore on November 15, on the same subject. After that she hopes to take to the radio with the campaign which she is making at the instance of the Society of Women Patriots of Bolivia. ADVENTURE CALLS El Paso, Tex.—The call of adventure is still strong says Tracy Richardson, famous soldier of fortune. When asked if he had any projects in mind he said: "You never can tell, I may jump off at any minute." As a machine gunner under Carranza, Villa, and numerous Central American revolutionists he earned from $100 to $250 a day. He headed several peaceful surveying expeditions into Central America and was arrested in Texas charged with using the mails to defraud. Richardson says he's innocent.

CLERGYMAN ISSUES 10 POINT PROGRAM

Baptist Pastor Designs One To Solve the Problems of Courtship, Marriage.

Columbus, O., Nov. 4.—(AP)—Politicians aren't the only ones with "ten-point programs." The latest, comes from the Rev. Ralph E. Stewart, Columbus Baptist pastor, and is designed to solve most of the problems of courtship and marriage. Presented in a sermon, the pastor's program recommends: 1.—Don't believe that old say that love is blind. It is not. 2.—Don't contract for paint and powder in the parlor. It used to be kiss and make up; now it's kiss the make-up. 3.—Don't go in for drygoods. Fine feathers don't always make fine birds and fashionable clothing often bewilders a love-lorn youth. 4.—Don't make the mistake of thinking that your love affair is different from that of many who have been wrecked on the seas of matrimony. It's only different when you use common sense. 5.—Don't practice deception on the girl you profess to love and expect to marry. Be true and live true, it will lessen chances for trouble and keep you out of divorce court. 6.—Don't be suspicious. Distrust and lack of confidence are venomous vipers. 7.—Don't be discourteous. You can usually tell husband and wife, for he walks about four feet ahead of her going down the sidewalk. 8.—Don't make promises you cannot keep. Lovers' promises are estimated at 100 per cent. 9.—Don't build air castles. Build a cottage instead. Don't live with in-laws. 10.—Don't crowd God out. Women are more religious than men, so don't refuse to go to church with her.

Deaths Last Night

Stanford University, Cal.—Tom Shaw Oldroyd, 80, university geologist. Danville, Ill.—William H. Parker, 84, said to be the oldest survivor of any Indians Civil War regiment. BERRIE GETS LIFE Muskogee, Okla., Nov. 4.—(AP)—While the Rev. S. A. Berrie awaited his murder trial was "framed-up from beginning to end," Judge W. J. Crump today overruled his motion for a new trial and formally sentenced the 52-year-old preacher to a life term in prison for the poisoning of his first wife.

HIRAM BINGHAM

Re-Elect Bingham!

THE important business of the United States Senate is done in committees. United States Senator Hiram Bingham is today a member of six important committees: Chairman of the Territories Committee; member of the powerful Finance and Appropriations Committees, which supervise tax revisions, tariff making and all money bills; member of the Committee on Commerce, the Committee on Rules, and the Joint Congressional Committee on the Library.

MEMBERSHIP on the Finance Committee is vital to Connecticut. Without a representative on that committee, an industrial state is powerless in the matter of tariff laws. With Senator Bingham out of the Senate, Connecticut would, for the first time in many years, have no representative on that committee. What would that mean to the industrial future of the State? How would it affect the person who now has a job, or the person who hopes to get a job soon?

A LEADER in aviation in the country, Senator Bingham is serving his fifth term as president of National Aeronautic Association. He has been Chairman of the Joint Congressional Committee on Aerial Coast Defense, and the Joint Airport Commission. He was author of the Air Commerce Act of 1926, now referred to as "The cornerstone in the progress of American commercial aviation."

HE is an acknowledged leader in the fight against paternalism, bureaucracy and centralization of control in Washington. He has long been a staunch advocate of state's right.

SENATOR BINGHAM'S fight for repeal of the 18th Amendment is well known. Voluntarily he accepted the leadership in the repeal movement with all the criticism that went with it. During the last session of Congress, Senator Hatfield of West Virginia, outstanding dry leader, stood in the Senate and declared:

"I WISH to say in behalf of Senator Bingham that his record here is typical of a great American who has uppermost in his mind, in his vote, and in his influence, the support of industries, also the support of labor, with the thought, no doubt, that he stands for a wage that is worthy of the toiler."

HE recognizes all appeals from Connecticut. It was he who pleaded with Senator Thomas of Oklahoma to abandon a filibuster just before adjournment a year ago to permit passage of the hospitalization bill carrying funds for the new recreation buildings and quarters at the Newington Veterans' Hospital. Otherwise the appropriation would have been lost. Many other like instances could be cited.

OGDEN L. MILLS, Secretary of the Treasury, said: "My close contact with the Finance Committee of the Senate enables me to testify to the devotion of Senator Bingham to the interests of Connecticut and to his stalwart support of the President. Neither the state nor the nation can afford to lose him. Send him back. Make sure of that."

FORMER Senator George P. McLean aptly epitomized the characteristics of Senator Bingham when he wrote to a friend—

Canzoneri Defends Title Against Petrolle Tonight

Lightweight Champ Is Favorite But Torrid Battle Is Expected In 15 Round Go; Fight Will Not Be Broadcast.

New York, Nov. 4.—(AP)—The course of the lightweight and welterweight divisions, Billy Petrolle, gets his reward in the shape of a 15 round battle with Tony Canzoneri for the world lightweight championship in Madison Square Garden tonight.

Canzoneri completed his training scaling 133 pounds after his final workout. Petrolle likewise expected to tip the beam at no more than 134 1/2 pounds before the New York State Athletic Commission today.

Petrolle, frankly laughs at critics who think making the weight will weaken him. "I'm too old a hand at this game to leave my fight in the gym, whatever the weight" he said.

Apparently headed for the fight scrap heap four years ago, Billy started a comeback campaign two years ago by outpointing Canzoneri at Chicago.

Petrolle, a most aggressive battler, forcing the pace all the way, and a deadly puncher, especially with his left hand.

Canzoneri likewise has been virtually invincible since he knocked out Al Singer in one round to win the lightweight title.

The main bout is scheduled for 9:30 or 10 p. m. It will not be broadcast.

CARNERA IN TUSSE AT BOSTON TONIGHT

Boston, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Primo Carnera, bested by Jimmy Maloney in his first fight appearance in Boston two years ago, tonight will attempt to uphold popular opinion by blasting Leo Kennedy, recent California heavyweight importation, but of the arena ring.

Included on the supporting card were two eight-round bouts which pitted Obie Walker, Miami heavyweight, against Frankie Simms, Boston, and Walter Cobb, Kansas City, with Tiger Henderson of Westery, R. I.

YALE GRIDDERS HIT STRIDE IN PRACTICE

SUTHERLAND LAUDS TEAM'S FINE PLAY

Pitt Coach Calls Heller's Performance Against Notre Dame "Matchless."

By Dr. J. B. "Jock" Sutherland Football Coach, University of Pittsburgh

It is always possible to get a football team up for one game during the year. We were up for the Notre Dame contest.

The boys came up gradually all week and by Friday night I was certain that we were ready. The lack of confidence in the team, which to all appearances was general, was not shared by members of the squad.

It was really surprising, despite the many factors tending to bring the players to a fighting pitch, that they did rise to the occasion, for only one member of the starting lineup had started against Notre Dame last year.

I don't believe that any real analysis of Pitt's 12-0 victory can be made without paying tribute to the matchless play of Heller last Saturday. His great defensive play saved us time after time, and his blocking was all that could be desired.

It was a vicious battle throughout, and seldom have I seen two teams fight on such equal terms throughout a game. We were put in a hole right at the start and were kept there for over three-quarters of the ball game, but super-line play and raw courage kept Notre Dame's really great team from scoring.

The breaks, which had not been exactly our way during the game, suddenly shifted in the fourth period when Bobby Hogan got off that great punt from behind his own goal line, a kick which Jackwich had no reason to expect would be so good.

That gave us our chance, and I believe that the manner in which Pitt took the ball game into its own hands was a fine tribute to its stamina, for it had been fighting an uphill battle against a heavier line all during the game.

I was very pleased with the way our defense handled its assignments during the day. It was a different sort of defense than our players had used before, but Miller Mungas and Izzy Weinstein, our key men, held up their end of it in a manner surprising for two 20-year old sophomores.

I was anxious during the first half, when our defense was mixed up for a while, but the boys straightened things out themselves, and grew stronger as the game went on.

The center of the Notre Dame line appeared to be the strongest, and as usual, Mike Koken caused us all sorts of trouble. He is a real football player.

Five Years Ago Today—Bruce Caldwell, Yale star football player, was declared ineligible, due to two games he had played at Brown as a freshman.

Ten Years Ago Today—C. A. Lohman of Cleveland, and H. G. Phillips, Yorktown, went into the final of the Pinchurst, N. C. golf tournament. President W. F. Baker of the Philadelphia Nationals, announced he had approached Hugo Benzke with an offer to manage the Phils.

Programs at University of Iowa home games feature stories of former games with the day's opponent, written by captains of the teams of the former years.

Mines Are Laid For Another Series of Football Explosions, But Chronic Pickers Not Discouraged.

New York, Nov. 4.—(AP)—The mines are laid for another series of explosions right in the face of football "dopesters" who bemoan the recovery from the shocks of last week's startling results.

Critics—There may be a cooled dynamite here, but there's hardly any alternative but to pick Pitt in view of the Panther's magnificent win over Notre Dame. Penn is undefeated and probably hasn't shown its full hand yet.

Holy Cross-Brown—Another duel of undefeated teams with Brown, conqueror of both Yale and Harvard, the popular choice.

Army-Harvard—A thoroughly rested army squad will be highly favored over Harvard, disappointing in its last two games.

Navy-Columbia—The Lions have bowled over all opposition so far and Navy doesn't seem to pack the stuff necessary to stop them.

Colgate-Mississippi College—Colgate, one of the east's finest eleven's should win this without particular trouble.

Fordham-St. Mary's—The galloping Gaels from the far west are undefeated and will start as favorites over Fordham, although they've been hard hit by injuries and illness.

N. Y. U.-Georgia—A clash of two well beaten teams with Georgia showing enough improvement lately to be given a slight edge.

Syracuse-Oglethorpe—This looks like a triumph for the Orange in view of Oglethorpe's defeats by Duquesne and Marquette.

Penn State-Swanee—Two weak eleven's with Penn State boasting the more dangerous attack and therefore favored.

Bucknell-Western Maryland—This may be the spot for Western Maryland's first defeat despite Bucknell's unimpressive record.

Boston College-Villanova—Of all the games on the program this one seems most likely to end in a tie. If there is any edge at all, it seems to belong to Villanova.

Williams-Westleyan—Williams showed great improvement against Union last week but Wesleyan will be a slight favorite.

Princeton-Lehigh—The Tigers should have a chance to ease up in this one.

Dartmouth-New Hampshire—A "breather" for the Indians from Hanover.

REC NOTES

The Rec basketball teams, both the boys' and girls', have had some large squads trying for the teams. Among the girls who tried out was Elizabeth Washkiewicz, who is a Rec veteran.

The boys' team is rapidly rounding into shape for their opening night's game which is Thanksgiving night, this being only a few more weeks away.

Another practice for the team will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The boys' swimming classes held on Saturday mornings from 9:30 to 10:15 for beginners, 10:15 to 11:00 for intermediates, 11:00 to 11:45 for juniors.

The Saturday night basketball league that is now being formed for the East Side Recreation building is for independent outside teams as a group or team, all players must be bona fide members of the Recreation Centers.

HOOKS AND SLIDES

Along to Kansas about his fishing worm defense. Coach Anderson could combat this either by ordering all the worms out of the field, or he might tell his players to take pains not to step on the slippery little creatures.

Punts—Passes

Annapolis—If the work of the "Columbia" team, composed of many scrubs, gives any indication of what will happen Saturday when the Midshipmen meet Columbia, the game will wind up in a scoreless tie.

Providence—It was six years ago that Brown had its famous team of "Iron men" but Bob Chase, quarterback who weighs only 162 pounds, is carrying on the tradition.

Hanover—The injuries which will keep Ross Morton and Sammy Fishman, regular Dartmouth backs out of the New Hampshire game have opened new opportunities for George Stangle and Walter Crandall.

How About Worms? Anderson then ordered the members of the squad to read no papers on the eve of the game with Kansas University, at Lawrence, Kan. There might be some bad old beer stories in the Kansas city newspapers.

Anderson also had better go down and take a look at the playing field at Lawrence before the game. At Pitt, I noticed, before the game, that the rain of Saturday morning had brought up many large and juicy fishing worms. These worms, no doubt, were trained by Dr. Sutherland to get under the feet of the Notre Dame players and slow them up.

Maybe Sutherland has sent word

BOILERMAKERS USE "DOUBLE-THREATS" TO BATTER RIVALS

Purdue Has Trio of Players Who Pass and Run; Annoy Opponents Plenty.

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 4.—(AP)—Nowhere in Purdue's brilliant array of hard-hitting backs can be found one of the always desirable "triple-threat" types, but three of them are distinct "double-threats", and they probably annoy opponents more than one man of three-way talents could.

While Purdue's punting is left strictly up to Paul Moss, star end, and its drop-kicking done almost exclusively by Quarterback Paul Parsonson, three of her backs are almost uniformly talented as forward pass throwers.

Fred Hecker, star left half of last year, was the original pass thrower when the current season started, but in recent games his understudy, Sophomore Jim Carter, and Duane Purvis, sophomore right half have shared the pitching duties with him.

All three are powerful runners as well as accurate passers, and the threat that any of this trio either may pass or run at any time satisfies Boiler-maker rooters.

JUST AN OLD CUSTOM: Wrestling has flourished as the oldest sport in the world from the time of Milo of Croton, historic figure of the Greeks, who held them all in the year 511 B. C.

WEST SIDES GAME: The West Sides football team will play at Westensfield tomorrow afternoon. The team will leave the West Side Rec at 1 o'clock and every player is requested to be on hand promptly at that time.

WHITNEY TO SEEK 3RD STRAIGHT WIN

His Horses Have Won Juvenile Event Twice; Is Favorite To Repeat.

Baltimore, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney, owner of two winners of the Pimlico Futurity will attempt his third consecutive victory in the $40,000 added event for juveniles at the Pimlico Track here tomorrow.

Equipoise, his great four-year old campaigner, of this year won the race in 1930 and his Top Flight won last year in the record time of 1 minute 44 4-5 seconds.

Whitney has a pair this year which rank among the favorites. They are the Darb which won the Kentucky Jockey Club stakes last Saturday, and Catarwaul which has been running up with the best of the juveniles. The Darb in time trials yesterday was clocked at 1:43 2-5 for the mile and Catarwaul in 1:44 4-5 for the same distance.

More than 2,000 youngsters are eligible for the Pimlico Futurity but only 27 of them were regarded today as probable starters. Unlike the race in former years with one hour generally heading the list of favorites, the event seemed wide open.

Besides the Whitney pair, the probable starters included: Reapid, Kerry Patch, Dynamite, Sarada, Wave On, Barn Swallow and Bold Lover, and the Wheatley Stable's Inuit and Notebook.

Harriers Meet Norwich Free Academy On Local Course; Soccer Squad At West Hartford To Break League Tie.

Two of Manchester High school's outstanding athletic machines take the field this afternoon, the cross-country team meeting Norwich Free Academy on the local course, and the soccer team playing West Hartford at Hartford. Both teams will be striving desperately for victories, as the Norwich harriers scored a decisive win last year, and a tie exists in the C. C. I. L. Soccer League.

Coch Pate Wigren has a fine team of runners, who have scored several triumphs this year, through the star runner of the track squad, and Packard, a freshman, are the mainstays of the team. In view of its victory last year, the visitors are expected to repeat today.

The soccer team goes to West Hartford in the hopes of breaking the tie that exists for first place. West Hartford and Manchester have both won two games in League competition and today's battle will give the victor possession of first place.

Tomorrow afternoon, Coach Tom Kelley sends his football eleven against Guilsey High of Hartford at Mt. Nebo in the next to the last game of the season.

The new Walnut Hill golf course at Dallas is said to have the largest putting greens and tees of any links in Texas.

war, England has abandoned her theory in relation to the subject and has become a protective tariff country. Moreover, she is making an offensive and defensive alliance with all her colonies through the means of the Ottawa Conference to still further develop the tariff as an instrument in promoting her home manufactures. The United States does not raise a larger percentage of its revenue from the tariff than is the case with a large proportion of the European countries including France and Germany. Two-thirds of all of the imports into the United States are entirely free of duty. The Democrats are shouting that the Hawley-Smoot tariff is iniquitous and the highest tariff in existence. As a matter of fact the actual duties per unit of product collected by it are the lowest of any tariff in fifty years, chiefly because a large proportion of the governments of the world have gone off the gold standard and their depreciated currencies frequently result in the collection of less than half of the duty which was intended as a protection to industry.

"The economists have told us that depreciated currencies immediately result in corresponding increases in prices of the commodities within the country. As a matter of fact, this has not been the result. Statistical reports show that while English currency has depreciated 30 per cent from the 100 base, prices are exactly where they were before England went off the gold standard. Japan, our chief competitor, went off the gold standard in December 1931, since which time its currency has depreciated 50 percent and its general price commodity level is slightly lower than it was at the start. Its silk prices are very much lower than they were when she was on the gold standard.

Commodity Prices Fall

"In Canada commodity prices have fallen almost as rapidly as the foreign exchange in none of the countries which have changed their currency values, which include our chief competitors, has the claim of the economists been substantiated and price levels raised to correspond.

"In an inquiry made last spring to the Tariff Commission in relation to velvet, wages and hours of labor in the textile industries were examined with greater detail than ever before and are issued in a report prepared by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the United States Department of Labor and printed by the Silk Association of America. There is a table showing the comparative textile wages of all the chief textile countries of the world compiled by A. Roscher from the report of the 18th International Textile Workers Congress of Berlin in August 1931, which is the workers own reports of their earnings for different occupations in the principal countries of Europe.

"This report indicates that the chief competitive country in velvet is Germany, and that the hourly wages of weavers in Germany were at that time 15.1 cents per hour. At the same time weavers in the United States were receiving 7.7 cents per hour—an average of all the velvet manufacturers in the United States at that time. Rates of pay in both Germany and the United States since that time have been reduced about 10 percent which would indicate at the present time an average wage per hour in the United States of about 69 cents and in Germany about 13.4 cents. All wages in the United States on an hourly rate are five times as much as they are in Germany. In France the wages are practically the same as they are in Germany being reported as 15.7 cents per hour. In Italy the corresponding level was 13.1 cents per hour; in Czechoslovakia, 13.4 cents per hour.

Imports Increase

"From information available to the Silk Association of America, the depreciated currency of China and Japan has resulted in an exchange valuation 50 per cent less than nominal, on which basis the average wages paid in the silk industry in those countries for weavers to date will be about 8 cents per hour for Japan and for China about 5 cents per hour. Japanese and Chinese imports into the United States since the depreciation of their currency have been steadily rising. Increased imports in silk manufactures whether they come from Europe, Japan or China mean decreased potential work in that industry in the United States.

"In Meriden the manufacturers have placed in the windows in one of the stores on a public street, a display of all the principal products of Meriden with the wages paid in Meriden and those in the country producing the competing article, and with the price of the article offered for import and the cost of producing it in the United States. One instance of these would be sufficient. Vacuum bottles cost Meriden 83 cents, Germany 12 1/4 cents and Japan 1-2 cents. Comparative wages indicate a wage rate in Meriden of 50 cents per hour in the silverware trade and in Japan 7 cents per hour.

"These bear out and compare practically with the rates of pay in the silk industry in the same countries. In comparison with these wages remember that the duty on silk goods coming from Japan is nominally 55 percent and this duty, owing to a 50 percent depreciation in currency, is reduced to approximately 27 percent. Incidentally imports from Japan have been steadily increasing in recent months as currency has depreciated.

"Read these facts carefully and then decide whether you wish to risk the interests of the town in the hands of people who promise to still further reduce the tariff protection as against the message of President Hoover to the Tariff Commission last week, asking them to make a study of the effect of depreciated currency upon the collection of duties under the tariff and suggestions as to what legislation should be enacted to offset the inroads occasioned by this cause.

"Any citizen of Manchester who does not see and vote to sustain the protection of its industry does not have the best interests of his own community at heart."

HIGH SCHOOL HONOR STUDENTS NAMED

List Bears 153 Names of Those Who Have Attained High Grades.

One hundred fifty-three students made the select list of those on the honor roll for the first marking period at High School according to the list as given out from the main office this noon. Pile Up At Post Office Here When C. O. D. Customers Learn What They're Like.

If a clothing concern in far off California keeps on sending suits of clothes by parcel post addressed C. O. D. to persons here, and if the persons keep on refusing to accept them and the packages keep piling up in the South Manchester Post Office the need of all the space in the new Federal building may be heavily emphasized before long.

It appears that some time ago a salesman for the California concern came here and took orders for suits of clothes on what appeared to be a very attractive basis. The concern, he said, was so anxious to get a footing in this territory that for the sake of the introduction would sell a limited number of its suits, worth $25, for just under $10 each. The suits were to be shipped C. O. D. parcels post and the customer was to have the privilege of examining them before paying. Sixteen or seventeen men ordered suits, none of them apparently realizing that nothing can be shipped by parcels post, C. O. D., subject to inspection. Uncle Sam doesn't run his express business that way.

Not such a Bargain

One suit arrived and when the customer couldn't examine it he paid the C. O. D. charges and accepted it anyhow. Looking the suit over he didn't think much of his bargain. He didn't regard it as a bargain at all. He expressed his opinion of the suit, the concern that made it and all its works. And it so happened that every one of the fifteen or sixteen other suit buyers, before their own suits arrived, heard about this pioneer's experience. Not one of them has accepted his suit. When the time limit arrives they will be shipped back to the California manufacturer. In the meantime each of the fifteen or sixteen is wondering how he can go about getting the $10 he paid to the salesman as a deposit. So the joke is not 100 per cent on the Californians.

INSULL ARRESTED AT ATHENS HOTEL

out of the hotel by the back way Mr. Insull seemed upset. After the brief proceedings at headquarters he appeared to be feeling better, but he declined to discuss his case for publication.

Y. M. C. A. Notes

The Lucas basketball team from the Wapping Y. M. C. A. played Joe's Service Station Y team last night at the local building. The score resulted in 31 to 23 in favor of our local boys.

Two new teams registered last night for the Y Basketball League, Merz's Filling Station under Ray Merz and another under Zigmund Gozds.

The Overseas Veterans of Foreign Wars will send a team to the Y. M. C. A. this afternoon at 5:15 for a game of volley ball with the Business Men's Gym Class of the Y. The tryouts for the first team of the Y basketball will take place Monday evening.

As a matter of fact the actual duties per unit of product collected by it are the lowest of any tariff in fifty years, chiefly because a large proportion of the governments of the world have gone off the gold standard and their depreciated currencies frequently result in the collection of less than half of the duty which was intended as a protection to industry.

"The economists have told us that depreciated currencies immediately result in corresponding increases in prices of the commodities within the country. As a matter of fact, this has not been the result. Statistical reports show that while English currency has depreciated 30 per cent from the 100 base, prices are exactly where they were before England went off the gold standard. Japan, our chief competitor, went off the gold standard in December 1931, since which time its currency has depreciated 50 percent and its general price commodity level is slightly lower than it was at the start. Its silk prices are very much lower than they were when she was on the gold standard.

Commodity Prices Fall

"In Canada commodity prices have fallen almost as rapidly as the foreign exchange in none of the countries which have changed their currency values, which include our chief competitors, has the claim of the economists been substantiated and price levels raised to correspond.

"In an inquiry made last spring to the Tariff Commission in relation to velvet, wages and hours of labor in the textile industries were examined with greater detail than ever before and are issued in a report prepared by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the United States Department of Labor and printed by the Silk Association of America. There is a table showing the comparative textile wages of all the chief textile countries of the world compiled by A. Roscher from the report of the 18th International Textile Workers Congress of Berlin in August 1931, which is the workers own reports of their earnings for different occupations in the principal countries of Europe.

"This report indicates that the chief competitive country in velvet is Germany, and that the hourly wages of weavers in Germany were at that time 15.1 cents per hour. At the same time weavers in the United States were receiving 7.7 cents per hour—an average of all the velvet manufacturers in the United States at that time. Rates of pay in both Germany and the United States since that time have been reduced about 10 percent which would indicate at the present time an average wage per hour in the United States of about 69 cents and in Germany about 13.4 cents. All wages in the United States on an hourly rate are five times as much as they are in Germany. In France the wages are practically the same as they are in Germany being reported as 15.7 cents per hour. In Italy the corresponding level was 13.1 cents per hour; in Czechoslovakia, 13.4 cents per hour.

TOLLAND

The Tolland Library Association will hold its regular meeting in the library rooms next Monday afternoon, Nov. 7, at 3:30 o'clock. Mrs. Wright B. Bean of Stafford Springs and Tolland will give a book review, "The South Pole" by Rold Amundsen, after the regular business meeting. Refreshments will be served at the social hour.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Tolland Federated church will serve their regular monthly supper Friday evening, Nov. 11 in the church dining rooms. The community is cordially invited to attend.

Miss Hope West entertained at her home at West Bridge last Saturday evening with a Halloween party. The home was decorated appropriately to the season. Luncheon was served and games and dancing were enjoyed.

Several small children enjoyed the evening of Halloween when carrying lighted pumpkins and using home-made musical instruments made calls on their older friends and was welcomed with candy, fruit and eatables for their innocent entertainment.

Walter Smith of Miami, Florida, has been spending a few days as guest of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Steele.

Tolland Grange was well represented with several of the members in attendance at the East Central Pomona meeting held with Andover Grange Wednesday evening.

The regular meeting of Tolland Grange was held Tuesday evening at the Federated church social rooms. The lecturers' hour was in charge of the Pioneer Past Masters' Association, when an interesting program was given by members from Manchester, Coventry and Enfield Granges. Wilbraham Grange was represented also.

A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward West of Snipic Lake recently when fourteen of their friends gathered and enjoyed a game supper. The house was decorated suitably for the Halloween season.

A novelty dance is to be given by the Hungarians of Tolland and vicinity at the Tolland Town Hall Saturday evening, November 19 at 7 o'clock. The music will be by a Gypsy stringed orchestra of Hartford. The special features include a Hungarian solo dance in native costume, also Helen Fasakas of Bridgeport, who is a contestant in the Hungarian Beauty Contest given by a Hungarian daily newspaper of New York. So far she has third place but the winner is not to be chosen until January. Everybody is welcome to this dance.

The all-day sewing meeting of the Union Missionary Society was held in the social rooms of the Federated church Thursday with a good attendance of those interested in the work.

BARRY GOING BACK
Newark, N. J., Nov. 4.—(AP)—

Arthur Barry, gem thief extraordinary, is due to go back behind the high walls of Auburn, N. Y., prison in a day or so to serve the rest of his robbery sentence, plus whatever term he gets for breaking out of the prison three years ago.

Barry, whose years of freedom ended October 22 when Newark and state police trapped him in his lonely Sussex county hideaway, will be arraigned this morning as a fugitive from justice. Then, if extradition papers arrive, he will be taken to Auburn.

The final effort of authorities to connect him with the Lindbergh kidnaping fell through Wednesday when Dr. John F. Condon, who gave some one $50,000 in ransom money, said he never had seen Barry.

ROOSEVELT, YOUNG PRESENT APPEALS

tutions of the great masses of our people.

"I am happy to say that Governor Roosevelt and the Democratic Party have not held up the spectre of what might happen by way of social disturbances if he, as the representative of the liberal party, might be elected."

He added: "But the President and his supporters have not hesitated to predict what would happen to securities and business if he were not elected."

Mr. Roosevelt, in a ringing voice that belied the rigors of the four months campaign, declared: "He (President Hoover) would have us sit like Micawber and wait for something to turn up. He hints that some great invention, hidden away as he puts it in the lockers of science, may appear over night and put ten million people to work."

"Many people have been saying this for a long time. They hope for some new equivalent of the automobile or electric power to pop out around the corner like magic."

"The American System"

"If," asserted Roosevelt, "the President will turn from his made-to-order statistics, which he so sadly misrepresents and misinterprets, will turn his eyes from his so-called

"backward and crippled countries" and turn to the great and stricken millions of Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Wisconsin, Illinois and the other great agricultural states; if he will cease his Utopian dreaming of inventions hidden in the lockers of science that are going to make us rich and turn to the true lessons of American history, he will know what the American system really is."

Mr. Roosevelt challenged President Hoover's assertion in New York last Monday that an acceptance of the Democratic cause would mean "that grass would grow in the streets of our cities" in these words: "No doubt seeking to extend the campaign of fear so foolishly and so wickedly put in motion, the President the other night referred to the fact that if the policies he so valiantly developed be not continued 'the grass would grow on the streets of the cities.' Well, the grass has little chance to grow. It would be trampled into the ground by the men who wander the streets in search of employment."

SHAW TO VISIT U. S.

London, Nov. 4.—(AP)—George Bernard Shaw, confirmed reports today that next year he may visit the United States.

"Next year," said Shaw, "I shall be on the high seas and perhaps in the neighborhood of the United States. I may even land for five minutes." He refused to disclose further details.

HOOVER STATES ISSUES IN '32 SAME AS IN '64

This fundamental fact was still obscured by the smoke of battle.

Lincoln Reminiscences

"Lincoln was renominated. But the country was profoundly disheartened. It felt it had made enormous sacrifices and made them in vain. The wave of discouragement that swept over the country in the summer of 1864 was so extreme that on August 23, Lincoln prepared his famous secret memorandum: 'This morning,' he wrote, 'as for some days past, it seems exceedingly probable that this administration will not be re-elected. Then it will be my duty to so co-operate with the president-elect as to save the Union between the election and the inauguration, so he will have secured his election on such ground that he cannot possibly save it afterwards.'

Five days later the Democratic National convention met at Chicago and declared in its platform 'as the sense of the American people, that after four years of failure to restore the Union by the experiment of war, justice, liberty and the public welfare demand that immediate efforts be made for a cessation of hostilities.'

"On that platform, with its appeal to discouragement, discontent and suffering, the Democratic convention nominated General George B. McClellan of New York for President."

Then Mr. Hoover told of the events leading up to the Union victory at Lincoln's re-election.

"I believe this brief outline of the progress of events in a crisis that confronted a previous generation may help us to adjust appreciation of what has happened in the years just past and what is happening today," he said.

Same Conditions

"In 1860 as in 1928, the country was unexpectedly faced with a great calamity. Then as now, the disruptive forces gathered strength and for a time their progress seemed irresistible. Then as now, the resources of the nation were mobilized and organized in a campaign that finally ended the initial retreat.

Then as now, the strategy of campaigns on many fronts produced their inevitable results. Then, as now, advances began to lead and there so coordinated as to lead to the final triumph. But then, as now, the Nation had undergone such a strain, it was reeling under so many blows, that even after the advance had begun many failed to realize what had happened.

"Today our opponents are declaring in their platform, in words strangely reminiscent of those used by their predecessors in Chicago 68 years ago, that the struggle of this administration against the depression has been a failure and that 'the only hope of improving present conditions'—I quote from the present Democratic platform—'lies in a drastic change in economic government policies.'

Change of Leadership

"So in 1864 the Democrats declared that 'after four years of failure to restore the Union by the experiment of war—again I am quoting from their platform—that immediate efforts be made for a cessation of hostilities.' ... So again today, as in 1864, in the midst of a great war they call for a change of leadership and of policies at Washington.

"In spite of the hardships, privations and other difficulties of the time, the nation in 1864 refused to be swerved from a course that had turned the retreat into an advance. It supported the policies whose value had been tested under the strain of the struggle.

"By its election mandate it directed those to whom it had entrusted leadership, to go forward with the campaign strategy whose results already were in evidence. It declined emphatically to turn aside the untried policies and experimental leadership."

It's Thrifty to Buy at PINEHURST!

DIAL 4151

Friday nights, though Pinehurst's store is closed, the phone service is in operation until 8:30 o'clock. Orders sent in are gotten ready and started out so early Saturday morning that yours will be at your door by 8:00 o'clock, if you want it early.

We specialize on the accurate filling of phone orders, with a close check on every item, and special care that no phone order ever brings to the home one single inferior or second grade thing.

Lower Prices Good news.

It is good news that Conn. Turkey prices have been lowered. We have a limited number of 8 and 10 lb. Yellow Tag Turkeys (you know only the finest birds are graded under this tag) which will be 45c lb. tomorrow. This is the official Conn. State price for this grade.

When Mr. Miller of Coventry phoned that he could give us some TENDER, FRESH-KILLED NATIVE PULLETS TO SELL AT 38c a lb., we told him to bring in a large number for the weekend. These pullets can be used for roasting, frying or fricassee. We fix them, ready for the pan, anyway you say, and remember, the price is right for this quality—38c lb.

Lower Prices on Eastern Pork.

Pinehurst Pork is lower, and we offer CENTER PORK ROASTS of Eastern fresh Pork at 18c to 23c lb. Most stores advertise end roasts of pork, but while we can get these center cuts we know they give our customers a less wasteful, better value cut. If you want to serve Apple Sausage with your pork we have a very nice grade we are selling at 10c a can. Make your own from our Greening Apples which are priced at 5 lbs. 19c, 5lb large basket.

MARCHERS LEAVING LONDON FOR HOMES

Parliament Discusses Ways and Means To Help Jobs On Isles.

London, Nov. 4.-(AP)-Parliament got down to consideration of unemployment relief today as the main body of the "hunger marchers" whose arrival in London last week precipitated a series of riots.

George Lansbury, leader of the Labor Party, began the three-day debate in the House of Commons on a resolution that the house "views with concern the present volume of unemployment and will welcome all proper measures for dealing with it."

He expressed regret that the proposed world economic conference has not yet begun, and he urged that Great Britain go to it "not in a spirit of haggling but with a view to the end in mind."

He urged that Prime Minister MacDonald set up a "general staff" to deal with unemployment and trade.

"I am a Socialist," said Mr. Lansbury, "and I want to organize things my way, but organize them your own way so long as you organize it some way."

For this debate the House was in effect a council of state. Party lines disappeared temporarily and the members seemed inclined to pool their ideas on unemployment relief.

Sir Henry Betterson, Minister of labor, said Great Britain is holding her own in employment. Between September, 1918, and September, 1917, the total of unemployed decreased by a million, he said, and figures for the past twelve months indicate that employment was practically stationary.

On November 4, 1918, American troops captured Stenay in their advance on Sedan. A British offensive between the Scheldt and the Oise-Sambre canal took 10,000 prisoners and 200 guns.

Germany sent a note to the United States Bureau of Fisheries and Game planning raids on German cities, and announced that she had been limiting her bombing operations since October 1.

The United States formally recognized the Polish army as autonomous and an ally.

The great change and growth of the schools in the nineteenth century were due to this immense movement. Political revolutions, extension of the voting right, and the transfer of the educational system from the church to the state with the resultant change in the aims of education revolutionized society in this country.

But in such a complicated society as ours reading and writing are scarcely beginnings. In our world of political, social, economic, scientific, and vocational changes several years beyond the reading and writing stage of instruction are necessary if one is to have for himself and family more than the barest existence. And the matter is not one

EDUCATION

A Series of Articles Discussing Modern Methods of Training the Youth of Our Country.

Probably the greatest single force behind the school movement was the great increase of scientific knowledge. Scientific investigation took the place of tradition and guesswork, facts took the place of superstition and legend. And with the useful application of this knowledge toward human happiness and welfare, instead of toward metaphysical argument and learned hypothesis, science became an interest of everybody.

By 1850 chemistry, physics, and natural science had become well understood. Formerly facts had been merely gathered in a haphazard fashion, now they were being sought in logical order and interpreted and tried out in an attempt to accomplish desirable purposes.

Very profound medical and surgical discoveries had been completed and cleared away. Pasteur made his discovery of the germ theory. Lister began the use of antiseptics, and many diseases which all through history had visited the earth with periodic epidemics were controlled for the first time.

Knowledge was being increased by leaps and bounds and being scattered over the land by press and railroad and wires. Latin and Greek which had dominated the cultural world and which had been limited to the fortunate few were giving way to these fresh fields of information.

The working classes were the ones to feel the benefits most of all. Little children no longer needed to enter the mill at seven or eight years of age, medicine and hygiene became an ally of the working family, the common man was no longer a lost man. Governor Roosevelt's campaign slogan was even then becoming obsolete. Backyard interests were giving way to national and world points of view. Silas Marner and his time was no longer; people traveled, read, and thought in greater numbers than ever dreamed possible.

But in such a complicated society as ours reading and writing are scarcely beginnings. In our world of political, social, economic, scientific, and vocational changes several years beyond the reading and writing stage of instruction are necessary if one is to have for himself and family more than the barest existence. And the matter is not one

New York, Nov. 4.-(AP)-Confronting influences in trade were noted by the mercantile reviews today.

Bradstreet's Weekly said business this week had been "bombed by two persistent and destructive forces, namely, the approach of the election and the renewed decline in commodity prices."

The Germans blame their educational system for World War defeat and have made the most sweeping changes of any nation since the fighting ceased. Education has become a great national instrument to reach national ends which will raise the condition of all our people. At present education extends a challenge to those who are strong enough to accept it. Policies and purposes are needed more than ever. Older people are set in their ways by prejudice and cramped opinions, the youth of the nation are eager and willing to do things and there must be a far-seeing course planned for them to travel.

DIFFERENT VIEWS ON NATION'S TRADE

Approach of Election and Decline in Prices Has Bad Effect On Business.

New York, Nov. 4.-(AP)-Confronting influences in trade were noted by the mercantile reviews today.

Bradstreet's Weekly said business this week had been "bombed by two persistent and destructive forces, namely, the approach of the election and the renewed decline in commodity prices."

Nevertheless, Bradstreet's found some constructive items in the current position, one of them being the fact that bank failures were running about 4 per cent of the level prevailing in 1931.

Dun's said the undercurrent of revival was becoming "stronger each week" and that "increases which were believed to be merely seasonal now give evidence of being permanent achievements in a definite forward movement."

"While gains this week were not so spectacular as some of those recorded earlier in the season," said this review, "many of them were made so quietly that they were obscured by the haze of political developments which occupied the major interest. Progress now has become steady and more even, and despite the interruptions that have harassed it in some quarters, the general trend has acquired sufficient force to remove any of the lingering traces of skepticism."

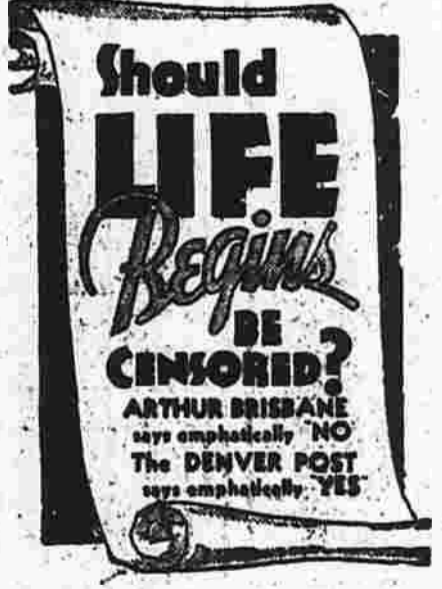

Italy's Armistice Day. Rome, Nov. 4.-(AP)-Italy today celebrated Armistice Day with prayer. Premier Mussolini, and Crown Prince Umberto attended mass in St. Mary of the Angels church where the Philharmonic Orchestra of Rome played.

In every city and town in the land masses were said by army chaplains and were attended by gatherings of ex-service men and families of the war-dead.

Italy observed Armistice Day one week before the other allies began her war against Austria ended seven days before the Armistice on the western front.

GEM THIEF CONFESSES New York, Nov. 4.-(AP)-The disappearance last July of jewelry valued at $1,500 from the home of Mrs. Paul M. Brown, of Deland Island, Darien, Conn., was solved, police said today, with the arrest of Mrs. Whitney Endt, 28, temporarily living at the Holiday Montclair, 49th street and Lexington avenue.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE) The fat old pig that Duncy rode grew tired out of such a load. It squealed a couple times and then ran right toward a fence. "Hey, don't go there," poor Duncy cried. "That's sure to spoil this dandy ride. I fear the other Tynymites will laugh at my expense."

GAS BUGGIES-It's Enough to Discourage Anybody

SENSE AND NONSENSE

Application has been made to convert a big distillery into a football stadium. This reverses the usual November process.

MY DOG AND I
Old pal, the years are slipping by, Our leaning shadows eastward fall, It won't be long till you and I Will hear and heed our Master's call; I don't know where we'll go from here, Or what we'll be or what we'll do, And I don't care—if only fate Will grant me just one friend like you.

Asked what was the best thing to do for mosquito bites, a doctor replied: "Well, personally, I scratch 'em."

Friend—Did you ever attend a school for stuttering?
Stutterer—N-n-no, I j-j-j-just p-p-p-picked it up.

MANY MEN ARE LIKE BOYS. THEY'LL WORK MUCH HARDER TO AMUSE THEMSELVES THAN THEY WILL TO MAKE MONEY. YOU KNOW 'EM, DON'T YOU?

Visitor—What nice buttons you are sewing on your little boy's suit. My husband once had some like that on his suit.
Minister's Wife—Yes, I got all my buttons out of the collection plate.

Stolen kisses may be sweetest, but a little enthusiastic cooperation, such as a local sheik, doesn't hurt anything.

Medlin—I hear that when Gerald Snyder was in the hospital he had to have two nurses night and day.
Herbin—Yes, his wife wouldn't trust him alone with just one.

WHEN YOU FOLLOW THE PATH OF LEAST RESISTANCE YOU MUST BE CONTENT TO ARRIVE LONG AFTER THE CROWD.

MODERN LOVE SONG
Believe me, if all those adhering young charms Which I view with admiring dismay, Are going to rub off on the shoulders and arms Of this suit which was just cleaned today, Then you will be adored with my usual zeal, My sweetheart, my loved one, my own, But I'll solemnly repress the emotions I feel, I'll love you, but leave me alone.

Minister to Convict No. 1897—Remember, my good man, stone walls do not a prison make, nor iron bars a cage.

No, 1897—Well, if they don't, I've been crazy for sitting here this long.

Sonny—Daddy, the dog has littered up the living room again.
Daddy—Break anything?
Sonny—Oh, no, but she has six puppies.

FAITH MAY BE ABLE TO MOVE MOUNTAINS, BUT IT DOESN'T HAVE MUCH EFFECT IN REMOVING DANDELIONS FROM THE LAWN.

At April 1st, 385 morning newspapers had 14,891,417 net paid circulation; 1,543 evening newspapers had paid circulation of 25,876,874. These figures are within one per cent of the net paid as of Summer, 1929.—Editor and Publisher, New York.

YOU SHOULDN'T EXPECT TO FLY ALL NIGHT WITH THE BATS AND THEN SAIL AROUND ALL DAY WITH THE MEADOW-LARKS.

Wife—I've invited one of my old sweethearts to dinner. Do you mind?
Husband—Mind! Heavens, No! I always love to associate with lucky people.

FAMOUS FOOTBALL PLAYS

GEORGIA TECH has a unique formation with an unbalanced line that has worked well for teams from that southern school. The diagram at left shows how the team lines up with the strong side to the right of the center, and a wingback flanking the right end on, as in this case, the left end who has moved over to the right side of the line. The quarterback stands with his back to the center. At the signal, the center snaps the ball to the quarter who received it between his legs. From this position he can either make a lateral pass behind the lines, or give the ball to a back for a smash into the line. Reverses and spinner plays are often worked from this formation.
