JAPANESE BUDGET UNUSUALLY LARGE

Cabinet Approves 447 Million Yen Mostly To Be Used By Army and Navy In Manchuria.

Tokyo, Nov. 25.—(AP)—The largest national budget in the history of Japan—2,280,000,000 yen ($467,800,000)—was approved by the Cabinet today in the face of persistent warnings from influential financial interests.

The 1934-35 day, swollen by the extraordinary demands of the army and the navy chiefly in connection with Manchuria, involves a deficit for the year beginning April 1, 1934, of 897,000,000 yen ($179,400,000), for which bonds must be issued.

Before the announcement of the new budget, the Japanese Chamber of Commerce declared the government's policy of dependence upon bond issues was increasing the national debt greatly and threatening currency inflation and further decline of the yen, leading toward something like Germany's post-war collapse.

Senzo Goh was speaking at a dinner of the Chamber of Commerce attended by General Sadao Araki, minister of war, and other Cabinet members.

According to the vernacular press General Araki replied "only after conditions on the neighboring continent had been established should economic questions be given primary consideration. In this connection General Araki recently said: 'The economic and financial foundations of Japan will not be weakened by a temporary outlay of one billion yen ($200,000,000) or more which the army may require for an emergency.'

Total Bond Issue
The new budget as it is expected to be presented to Parliament on December 24 estimates revenue at 1,842,000,000 yen ($368,400,000). Financial experts gave the opinion today that the total bond issues for the 1934-35 fiscal year will probably exceed one billion yen, making the two year's increase in the national debt exceed that involved in the Russo-Japanese war, which was 1,500,000,000 yen ($300,000,000).

Despite the prospective deficit the Minister of Finance Koriyoshi Takahashi, refused to increase taxation insisting upon reliance solely on borrowing.

The budget for next year exceeds the present year's record expenditure, which, it is estimated, will reach 1,943,000,000 yen ($388,600,000) requiring deficit of 1,000,000,000 yen ($200,000,000) before the books are closed on March 31, 1935.

Army Appropriation
The army appropriation for the next fiscal year is 448,000,000 yen ($89,600,000) and the navy appropriation 379,000,000 yen ($75,800,000). These were considerably under the original demands of more than 500,000,000 yen ($100,000,000) for each of the services, but far in excess of the appropriations for the fiscal year of 1930-31, the last normal year.

In that year the Army appropriation

COAST GUARDS SEIZE BIG LIQUOR CACHE 1,500 Cases Worth $75,000 Found On Beach—Four Autos Are Seized.

Truro, Mass., Nov. 25.—(AP)—Liquor valued at about $75,000 in 1,500 cases, was seized along with four automobiles on the beach here today by Coast Guardsmen. Nine hundred cases were found on the beach and about 600 more on property nearby. Four men were arrested as the Guardsmen swooped down on a group of about 30.

A Coast Guard patrolman came upon the group on a lonely section of the Long Neck beach known as the Long Neck Beach. The place is deserted except for a small group of cottages. He notified his station and a squad of Guardsmen hurried to the scene. As they charged the group the run runners scattered into the sand dunes and nearby woods.

The men caught said they were James Warner and Lewin Arnold of Boston, Morris Glass of 126 Market street, New Bedford and John Tama of 85 East 111th street, New York City.

Special Wagon

The Guardsmen found most of the liquor piled on the beach and two sedans at the foot of the beach. The beach wagon was equipped with special tires designed to prevent the vehicles from sinking into the soft sand.

One hundred cases were found piled alongside of the cottage of Mrs. William Walker of Boston, the Guardsman said. The men questioned the little community, who said he was a nephew of Mrs. Walker and was employed by her to take care of the several cottages which she owned. The Guardsmen then went into the Walker cottage, they said, and found about 400 cases, piled there. They searched for other cottages in the vicinity.

UNION TO BATTLE BEER RACKETEERS

Leader Says There Are Now 65,000 Members Who Will Keep Out Gangsters.

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 25.—(AP)—Edward Fiore of Buffalo, president of the Hotel and Restaurant Employees and Beverage Dispensers' International Alliance, today said Chicago gangdom would be beaten if beer is legalized.

Fiore said he knew of no attempts to seize control now being made.

"Headquarters of the alliance are in Cincinnati, and the Union has 65,000 members in the United States," he said, "we have about 300 bartender members in Chicago, and they have nothing to do with racketeering. We have a special representative there to keep out illegal racketeering elements."

"We have been very careful to keep our organization on an honest business basis, and to keep out so-called racketeers. To permit control of our organization by racketeers in Chicago would hurt all over the United States. Our union could not stand for that."

Food Department

The convention rejected a proposal that a food department, association of union leaders with food preparation and handling, be formed within the federation. The organization now has its unions classified under divisions of metal workers, building trades, railroads, and label makers.

Efforts of women to obtain a seat in the convention for their federation of trade union auxiliaries lost when the convention referred their petition to the executive council, for action next year if that group so recommends.

The resolution proposing unionization of chain store workers "is both national and local chain store have for the past several years been monopolizing all territories from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from Canada to the Gulf of Mexico," and that "investigation has disclosed that lack of organization within the ranks of chain store workers has in all sections worked hardship on unorganized workers. A x x Local unions have been disorganized and discriminated against."

"These chain store companies," it continued "both nationally and in number of units, operated have shown remarkable growth at the expense of the people of the United States, and it is our thought that the present economic depression, in due part to consolidation, amalgamations, and the creation of some mammoth organizations of chain store companies now operating in the United States."

SEEK TWO HERE FOR ATTACK ON VERNON YOUTH

Stripped of Clothes and Beaten Unconscious, Young Man Is Left in Cold—Suspect Manchester Pair.

State police are investigating a report that Morris Sullivan, 21, of Dobsonville, was assaulted and left unaided near a wooded thicket beside the Talcottville pond at 11 o'clock last night. Sullivan regained consciousness shortly before 4 o'clock and wandered to a nearby house where he was given hot drinks and clothing. The case was at first believed to have been a holdup but further investigation has led police to believe that the guilty persons were associates of Fredman, Two Manchester men are said to be sought by police in connection with the case.

Father Tells Police

The first tip received by the state police came from the young man's father, Patrick J. Sullivan, who informed them that his son had been beaten up in a holdup and left without clothing in an open field for several hours. The youth's first story was that he left a Rockville bound bus at the Talcottville bridge and started to walk home. He said that three men approached him, one having a gun, and that they led him down the ravine driveway between the home of Frederick Thomas and the pond where they took all of his clothing and beat him into unconsciousness.

Shielding Someone

Further questioning led police to believe that Sullivan was shielding somebody. Finally, according to the young man's father, Morris admitted that he was with two Manchester men before the alleged holdup. State Policemen Thomas Hunt and Donald Crossman are working on the case and arrests may be made before many more hours. The reluctance of young Sullivan to tell a straightforward story has somewhat frustrated police officers.

Then Friday, December 1, Morris admitted that he was with two Manchester men before the alleged holdup. State Policemen Thomas Hunt and Donald Crossman are working on the case and arrests may be made before many more hours. The reluctance of young Sullivan to tell a straightforward story has somewhat frustrated police officers.

Stripped Naked

One thing is certain, Sullivan came to the home of William Smith in Dobsonville about quarter of four this morning stark naked and frozen. He said he could not talk much at first. He was helped to a couch and covered with blankets after which hot coffee was given him. Then he told of three men attacking him and taking about $2 in change. His face and body were scratched and bruised in several places and his toes were badly frozen. It was feared that amputation might be necessary, but the doctor said this morning that he thought this could be avoided.

TRAP EX-CONVICT IN A FARMHOUSE

Sought Since Last May When He Attempted To Kill Auto Salesman.

Littleton, N. H., Nov. 25.—(AP)—Esra (Lannie) Witham, 29, of Bowdoinham, Me., sought by Maine State authorities since last May, was taken into custody by a posse at a farmhouse here at 6 a. m. today.

Witham was wanted for attempted murder, highway robbery and violating the terms of his parole from the Maine state prison. The state of Maine had offered a reward for his capture.

The arrest was made by Sheriff Albert Henderson of Esra, Me., and Deputy Sheriff Van H. Gardner of Littleton, after a struggle lasting almost ten minutes in the bedroom where Witham was trapped.

On May 16, the police charge, Witham posed as a prospective automobile buyer and was given a demonstration by Irving Beach, a salesman at Brunswick, Me. Beach drove to the outskirts of the city where he was set upon by his passenger and terribly beaten. The salesman was believed dead by his assailant who buried him beneath a pile of brush off the highway and then fled in the automobile.

Maine officials trailed Witham, they said, to Boston and then to Montreal, where the automobile was found abandoned. Within the past few days they located him here. He has been working for John Harris at a farmhouse for a month. His cell-mates surrounded the house yesterday and Henderson and Gardner went into the house. They surprised Witham in bed but he jumped up, grabbed a wrench and attacked them. For ten minutes the trio struggled before the officers got the handcuffs on Witham. Even then he struck Henderson a blow on the head which almost made the sheriff unconscious.

Witham was returned to the Maine state prison immediately.

MANIAC MURDERS SIX AND WOUNDS ELEVEN

Tells the Police He Had Been Robbed of His Savings and That Made Him Insane.

Seattle, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Armed with two seven inch knives he slashed from a native More boy, Julian Marzullo, a crazed Filipino peddler his eyes and wounded 11 other persons in a mad rampage.

Then Friday, December 1, Morris admitted that he was with two Manchester men before the alleged holdup. State Policemen Thomas Hunt and Donald Crossman are working on the case and arrests may be made before many more hours. The reluctance of young Sullivan to tell a straightforward story has somewhat frustrated police officers.

PRINCE OF SWEDEN BRINGS BRIDE HOME

Throughs Cheer Royal Couple As They Reach Copenhagen After Honeymoon.

Stockholm, Nov. 25.—(AP)—A Swedish prince brought a German princess home to Sweden as his bride today, like many a prince before him and Stockholm celebrated the occasion by providing a flag-waving band, waving their hands and cheering the bride and groom and thousands of cheering grown-ups and school children.

Riding a four-horse carriage with the top down Prince Gustav Adolf and Princess Sibylla were escorted through the streets of the city in traditional state giving Sweden its first glimpse of the blonde princess who may some day be queen of her new country.

PROTOPLASM IS CALLED COPY OF MILKY WAY SOLAR SYSTEM

Cleveland, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Protoplasm, the very stuff of which man and the plants and animals about him are made, was described today by Dr. George W. Cole, Cleveland scientist, as a "structural copy" in miniature of the stars in the sky.

"We may say that protoplasm is a Milky Way consisting of solar systems infinitely diminutive, each created in its own image by the sun's radiation," he told members of the Central Association of Science and Mathematics Teachers at their 32nd annual convention opening today.

The full meaning of the concept is conveyed in this statement: "Infinitely small 'hot points' given the name 'protoglobules' by Dr. Cole, literally shine like suns in protoplasm with temperatures of from 5,000 to 2,000 degrees centigrade. Without exaggeration the concept may be taken to mean, in the mind of the scientist, that the stars, that within the very flesh of man burn

EXPECT HOUSE TO PASS BEER BILL JAN. 1ST

Speaker Garner Gives Out This Statement To Press; Hearings On Measure To Begin On Dec. 7.

Washington, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Speaker John N. Garner today expressed to newspapermen "the hope and belief that the House will pass a beer bill by January 1."

Hearings before the House ways and means committee begin December 7 and are expected to take five days.

Democratic leaders plan to bring the measure to the floor for immediate action.

When a beer measure is being prepared for introduction by Chairman Culler of the ways and means committee the day Congress convenes, December 8.

Sponsors of the measure hope it will be non-partisan and that Republican beer advocates will support it.

Not For Beer

Hastings said, however, he would not support wine and beer legislation.

The Senator said he would vote "for the necessary resolutions to submit an amendment for repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment to the people of the various states."

"I can not get the kind of amendment that I prefer," he said, "I shall vote to submit a resolution that would repeal entirely."

Do As They Please

"As the bill is planned now it will not contain any provision for the sale of light wines. Representatives from wine producing or consuming states however, are planning to organize a wine bloc to insist upon the legalization of light wines."

Synagogue leaders plan a test on the Eighteenth Amendment after the House passes on the beer bill.

NOTORIOUS CROOK HELD IN LONDON

Eddie Guern, Who Escaped From Devil's Island, Is Arrested.

New York, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Trail of Eddie Guern, international criminal, who had been on the run for years, was traced to a crooked path running from spectacular mistakes down to petty pilfering.

Old and broken in body, the man who once amazed the world by escaping from Devil's Island, was sentenced yesterday, cablegrams said, to a year in a London jail for purpose matching.

Guern is 72, his health is spindly. He once was the talk of two continents. A wily crook of the nineties, before racketeering was born, he learned his "business" in Chicago, becoming an expert crookman.

Infatuation for a woman called "Chicago May" Churchill, a girl whose name was written as large on detective newspapers as his own, led Guern to his first large batch of grief. He followed her to New York and then to Europe, where French police arrested him in 1901.

A French court sent him to Devil's Island, the penal colony in French Guiana, for taking $50,000 from the American Express Company in Paris.

Made His Escape
Four years he served in that stinging place of horrors before escaping.

FOREIGN DEBTORS PLAN TO PAY U. S. IN OWN CURRENCY

SENATE TO DISCUSS INDEPENDENCE BILL

Smoot Predicts Filipino Measure Will Be Passed At Short Session.

Washington, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Chairman Smoot of the Senate finance committee today predicted a Philippine independence bill would be passed early in the short session of Congress.

The issue, long one of dispute, is slated to be taken up by the Senate December 8, three days after it convenes.

The Hare bill passed last session by the House by an overwhelming majority will be the basis for the bill, but many features of the Hare-Cutting measure pending in the Senate are expected to be brought forward as amendments, if the entire Senate bill is not offered as a substitute.

The Hare bill would grant full independence to the islands in about eight years.

Import Limitations

Meanwhile, both measures lay down import limitations on sugar, copra, coconut oil and other commodities competing with American products and levy duties on all amounts above specified amounts, gradually until the islands were ready, economically as well as politically to govern themselves.

Asked if he would support independence, Senator Smoot said: "I think I will vote for it."

MAY OFFER SMITH. PHILIPPINE POST

President of Senate In Favor of Former Governor If Roosevelt Is Dismissed.

Manila, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Manuel Quezon, veteran president of the Philippine Senate, was reported in political circles here today to favor the appointment of Alfred D. Smith, former governor of New York, as successor general of the islands if Theodore Roosevelt is not retained.

Quezon, however, kept his own counsel while awaiting developments to determine whether to urge that the United States to urge his preference on President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt, a distant cousin of the governor-general.

The rumor of Quezon's attitude toward Smith, which was unconfirmed, was part of general speculation in the Philippines on political developments, along with reports the Senator plans to urge retention of Theodore Roosevelt, with whom he co-operated closely during the recent legislative session.

His Health Poor
Quezon, whose health is poor, is vacationing in Baguio while waiting a decision of whether a special session of the Legislature shall be held this winter and developments on independence bills in Congress.

The Senate president named Senator Benjamin Aquino as his successor to the States to act in his stead.

The Smith rumor was strengthened by the general belief in political circles here that his retention and political importance would make him particularly sympathetic toward the Philippines.

CONGRESSIONAL LEADERS FAVOR HOOPER PLAN WHICH PROVIDES FOR PAYMENT IN DOLLARS NO MATTER HOW MUCH FOREIGN EXCHANGE FLUCTUATES.

Washington, Nov. 25.—(AP)—With the chance offered them by President Hoover, some foreign debtors, denied suspension of December 10 payments, likely will move to pay those installments in their own currency.

Generally, Congressional leaders who opposed a new moratorium or creation of an agency to re-examine the debt question were inclined to favor payment in native currency and probably will support the proposal in Congress if any debtor applies.

Foreign exchange is a complicated affair, but the payments really become simple matters of transfer of credits when all is said and done. No gold or goods cross the ocean. As present the former is scarce and there is just too much of the latter.

This is the way it would work under Mr. Hoover's plan:

England, for instance, owes $99,000,000 as her December payment. At normal par, $9,900,000 English pounds will buy $99,000,000 in dollar credits. And an English pound is worth $100,000,000, guaranteeing that when those pounds are cashed into dollars, they would equal $99,000,000.

But the present exchange rate, with a surplus of pound credits and a scarcity of dollar credits, would require $100,000,000 to get the same $99,000,000.

Therefore the American plan would allow England to deposit her 20,000,000 pounds and convert them into dollars, always with the guarantee that America would get the $99,000,000 regardless of how many pounds it took.

TO DEFER PAYMENT

Brussels, Belgium, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Newspaper reports that the Belgian Cabinet had yielded to the monetary pressure of the $125,000,000 December installment on the debt to the United States were denied today by Foreign Minister Hymans.

No decision has been reached, he said, and the government is still considering the recent declaration of President Hoover and Governor Roosevelt.

The newspaper Libre Belgique had said that the majority of the present ministers had decided in principle to defer the payment and that what was very glad to see that President Hoover recognized that our request for a fresh discussion on the difficult debt subject is a reasonable one and that he is apparently not adverse to some means whereby, it may once more be the subject of conversations." Mr. Chamberlain said.

TAKES HER TIME

Birmingham, Eng., Nov. 25.—(AP)—Merrill Lynch, chamberlain of the exchequer, today advised England to avoid adopting "any hasty attitude" on the answer of the United States to Britain's plea for reconsideration of the debt question.

"It is very glad to see that President Hoover recognizes that our request for a fresh discussion on the difficult debt subject is a reasonable one and that he is apparently not adverse to some means whereby, it may once more be the subject of conversations." Mr. Chamberlain said.

NOTES PREPARED

Washington, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Notes in reply to Becho-Borjesson and Polish representations on war debts were being prepared at the State Department today while those already sent Belgium, France and England were expected to be made public for publication in tomorrow morning newspapers.

Word was that the communications sent countries asking a moratorium extension and reconsideration of the debt settlements were lengthy, but there was no indication as to what they said.

In view of developments growing out of the recent conferences on the subject between President Hoover, President-elect Roosevelt and Congressional leaders it was regarded as a certainty that they would reject the proposal to suspend the December 10 payments on this country.

The Czechoslovakian minister inquired today of Undersecretary Castle about the reply to the Czechoslovak note and was told that it would be sent tomorrow. Czechoslovakia's debt is $200,000,000.

TREASURY BALANCE

Washington, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Treasury receipts for November 25 were $3,330,400.49; expenditures $3,294,305.97; balance $36,094,444.52. Customs duties for 25 days of November were $12,500,000.

PRESIDENT ELECT IS RESTING TODAY

Warm Springs, Ga., Nov. 25.—(AP)—Franklin D. Roosevelt settled down today to a period of rest before tackling the job of working out with Democratic Congressional leaders the program they will support in Congress.

Lawrence, Mass., Nov. 25.—(AP)—The Lawrence Chamber of Commerce today issued a statement in which it took exception to a published statement attributed to Lady Astor in Boston yesterday, in which the visiting parliamentarian was quoted as criticizing labor conditions in the Lawrence textile mills. HOLY CROSS PLAYS ROUGH Providence, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Charges of unsportsmanlike conduct by the Crusader players in the recent Brown-Holy Cross football game made in the current issue of the Brown Jug, undergraduate humorist publication, today were denied in a telegram sent to President Fox of Holy Cross by President Henry Barbour of Brown. The campus publication, in a short copyrighted article, accused the Crusader team of mauling their Brown opponents and demanded the severance of gridiron relations between the two colleges. President Barbour wired President Fox that the allegations in no way represented the sentiment of the administration, athletic management, players or students at Brown.

CHINESE MASSACRED BY JAPANESE TROOPS

Shanghai, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Japanese troops were accused in a Chinese foreign office communique today of the massacre recently of 2,700 Chinese villagers in northern Manchuria.

VILLAGERS ORDERED TO ASSEMBLE AND THEN MACHINE GUNS TURNED ON THEM

The mass killing followed, the troops using machine guns to mow down the mass of screaming villagers, the communique said, adding that Japanese soldiers were given the land the villagers had owned. The announcement said the villagers were taken to the ditch with the explanation that they were suspected of harboring and co-operating with volunteer Chinese troops and that the Japanese promised a reward if the suspects were found innocent, then sent troops into the towns to investigate.

GERMANY UNABLE TO PICK CABINET

Berlin, Nov. 25.—(AP)—President von Hindenburg was informed today that creation of a coalition Cabinet is impossible, and it appeared certain that another "presidential" government responsible only to the chief executive must be appointed.

HINDENBURG INFORMED THAT A COALITION IS IMPOSSIBLE AT PRESENT

There was a possibility that the president would make no further move to appoint a successor to Franz von Papen whose resignation precipitated this crisis, until the return from Geneva of Foreign Minister von Neurath. Hitler smiled wearily as he left the conference with Dr. Kaas this afternoon.

Thanksgiving Day Tragedy In Rockville Averted By Quick Action of Father.

Special to The Herald.
Rockville, Nov. 24.—A Thanksgiving Day tragedy was narrowly averted at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Robbins of East Main street, yesterday afternoon, when their three-year-old daughter, June, fell from the rear veranda into the paper mill pond. The cries of her five-year-old brother attracted the father, who leaped into the water and brought the girl to safety.
The Robbins home is situated at the edge of the pond, and is known as the Wagner place. Just how the mishap occurred is not known, although it was said that the child is subject to fainting spells and probably toppled off the porch into the water. She was far out from shore when the father reached the scene. He immediately jumped in, fully clothed, his quick action saving the girl's life. A considerable amount of water filled her lungs but it is thought that she will recover, unless pneumonia sets in. Mr. Robbins suffered from the shock of the icy water and was overcome for nearly three hours.

Hartford, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Four candidates are in the field for appointment as clerk of the Democratic State Senate, it was learned today. Two are from Hartford county and one each from New Haven and Fairfield counties.
The Hartford county candidates are said to be Attorney Vincent W. Dennis of this city and Mayor Joseph P. Dutton of Bristol. Francis J. Conti, local lawyer, is being mentioned for the assistant clerkship. Mr. Dennis was a state Senator and was defeated at the last election for judge of probate by Judge Walter H. Clark, incumbent.
Senator David Goldstein, of Bridgeport, and Senator R. J. Devlin, of New Haven, are also reported to be backing candidates for the clerkship.

Miss Hood found economic conditions not much improved there, but she says that the Britishers never tasted the war-time luxury the Americans enjoyed and for that reason do not seem so depressed now. Government regulations make it impossible for one not a citizen of Great Britain to get work there. Miss Hood formerly conducted the Shopping News column for The Herald.

A "stop" sign was placed on Buckland street which is expected will do away with possible trouble in the future.

FEAR THREE DROWNED

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 25.—(AP)—Lack of any news of their rescue has resulted in the opinion here that the crew of the fishing smack Rappahannock was drowned when the craft capsized off Smith's point near the mouth of the Potomac on Tuesday.

Reports filed at Norfolk division headquarters of the Coast Guard show that the overturned smack was picked up by a patrol and not far away a small boat was discovered entangled with fish stakes. It is believed that if the crew had escaped some word would have been received from them by now.
Names of the missing men, believed to be three in number are not known here.
The Morris Fishery Company of Reedville operated the craft.

DANGER SEASON IN DRIVING HERE

Statistics Show That 50 Persons Will Be Killed By Autos Next Few Weeks.

Fifty persons will be killed in Connecticut during the next few weeks because motorists and pedestrians are doing those things which are dangerous, experience statistics show, a bulletin of the Department of Motor Vehicles today says. It is apparent that motorists are driving at speeds too great for the conditions at this time of year when visibility is poor, when pedestrians are more upon the road in times of dusk and darkness, when driving conditions are generally less favorable. It seems reasonable to say that operators are driving in the fall and winter days on the summer plan; that pedestrians, too, are exhibiting only summer caution in their walking on the highways.

Must Be Cautious

There are six weeks remaining, one holiday, one holiday eve and 27 days on which operating conditions may be sub-normal with respect to both traction of tires on pavement and visibility because of earlier darkness, fogs and rain. Man abroad, in car or foot, must be unusually cautious if he is to be among the survivors on New Year's Day. In the last five weeks of 1931 there were 75 fatalities; 240 in the last five years for the same period. Although the number of deaths occurring this year has been fewer than in last year, a decrease of 56 up to November 21, in the past five weeks there were 56 fatalities including 57 pedestrians.

Only the exercise of extreme vigilance on the part of those who walk and those who ride, a caution that is not being shown at the present, will prevent the slaughter which is in prospect. Complaints tend to show that automobiles with improper lights are increased in number at this time on the state roads. There are more cars being operated with but one headlight and without tail-lights than ever.

1931 Highest

Automobile deaths, so-called, in Connecticut or 1931, reached the highest total in state history, 482, but already this year there have been 347 fatalities; 172 pedestrians and 175 occupants. Signs point to a death total smaller this year than last, but with fatal accidents increasing as they have in the past several weeks despite a decrease in gasoline consumption and a smaller registration total and thus an indicated reduction in mileage traveled on state highways, it is not unlikely that deaths in the closing weeks of the year will more nearly approach the average reported for those weeks last year.

THEATERS

AT PARSONS', HARTFORD

"Shuffle Along"

Flournoy Miller, Noble Sissle, Eubie Blake and Moreland Mantan are four of the outstanding names in the colored theatrical world. They will head the cast of the new edition of "Shuffle Along of 1932" which comes to the Parsons Theater, Hartford, beginning Monday, November 23rd, with the usual Wednesday matinee, for three days only.

This is the largest musical comedy on the road this season, and among those supporting these four stars, are such Broadway favorites as Edith Wilson, Lavalda Carter, Vivienne Baber, Clarence Robinson, George Jones and a host of others, including Will Vodrey's famous choir singers of over 30 voices and a dancing chorus, which for sensational and fast dancing cannot be equaled.

Flournoy Miller has written an entire new book for "Shuffle Along of 1932" and he has been ably assisted by those two well known composers, Noble Sissle and Eubie Blake. The musical numbers being over 20 in number, are said to be the best efforts offered by these two clever men.

The dance numbers were staged by Charles Davis and Addison Carey, two of the best known colored dance directors in the country, they having staged most of the numbers for that well known night club, "Connie's Inn." One of the extraordinary features of "Shuffle Along" will be the first appearance in any musical play of Noble Sissle's famous Park Central Hotel orchestra. They having entertained the guests there for more than a year and a half.

The original "Shuffle Along" was the first colored musical play to reach Broadway, where it played for over two years, and the new edition is said to surpass the original production in dancin', singing, comedy and splendor.

FORTUNE FOR JOBLESS MAN

Hartford, Nov. 25. — (AP) — Thanksgiving day brought news of a $375 court judgment to one unemployed resident of the shelter for homeless men.

Major Fred Malpass, in charge of the shelter did not make the name of the recipient public, but said the case grew out of an old automobile accident damage suit which had been all but forgotten. Detectives had been trying to reach him for some time.

The accident occurred in Boston three years ago.

MULROONEY SEES POPE

Vatican City, Nov. 25. — (AP) — Police Commissioner Mulrooney of New York and his family were received today by Pope Pius. Monsignor Bredin, vice-rector of the American college, presented them.

The pontiff imparted his blessing upon the commissioner, his family and all those associated with him in his activities.

ROCKVILLE

136 JAILED IN YEAR IN TOLLAND BASTILE

Seven Women, 20 Male Minors Among Year's Crop of Prisoners in County Institution.

According to a report of the County Commissioners 136 persons were committed to the Tolland County Jail during the fiscal year 1932. Of this number 129 were men and seven women. Of those sentenced 110 men and all the women were over 21 years of age, 10 being minors. The commonest offense for which the accused were committed was drunkenness, 40 being committed on that charge. Six were jailed as common drunkards; 14 for house breaking; 11 for breach of the peace; 18 for resisting officers; 15 for violation of the liquor laws; eight for misconduct.

There were twelve more imprisoned this year than last year.

Thanksgiving Day

Thanksgiving Day was quietly observed in Rockville, with services in the morning at the First Lutheran Trinity, St. Bernard's and St. Joseph's churches. Stores and other places of business, mills and schools were closed all day. There were many family reunions.

There were special dinners at the various institutions in the town. At the County Home the children enjoyed chicken raised by the Home Poultry Club, with candy and other good things sent by friends. Eight patients enjoyed a special turkey menu at the Rockville City hospital. At the Town Farm, Mr. and Mrs. Delos Rich served a chicken dinner. Nineteen men and three women are at this institution. Roast pork and vegetables were served to the twenty-five guests at Tolland County Jail.

Golden Wedding

On Wednesday next, Mr. and Mrs. John Hickton of Butcher road will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary at their home, holding open house during the afternoon and evening. They were married in Tolland and have resided there and in Rockville most of their lives.

Mr. Hickton is 78 years of age and was born in Scitico, while Mrs. Hickton, who is 70, was born in Westfield, Mass. Mr. Hickton has been employed for the past year at Grove Hill cemetery, but previously conducted a farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Hickton have four children, Mrs. A. J. Costello, Harry Hickton and Mrs. Frank Mehr of this city, and Mrs. Laura Floto of Hartford. They also have thirteen grandchildren.

Friends of the couple are invited to the Hickton home on Wednesday.

Declines Nomination

O. P. Morin of Nye street, who was nominated by the Democratic Party as its candidate for alderman in the Fourth Ward at the recent Democratic Caucus, has withdrawn and Samuel Lehotsky has been named in his place. George Scheerer, Republican, present alderman in this ward, was named by his party again at the Republican caucus.

Named "Acting Sergeant"

Peter Dorygiewic, a regular of the Police Department, has been named acting sergeant, and will be in charge of the night force. He was appointed as a supernumerary officer by Mayor Joseph Crist ten years ago and named a regular during Mayor Foster's term as mayor. As the city charter does not make provision for a sergeant the appointment is as "acting sergeant." An attempt will be made to change the city charter so that such an appointment can be made.

Truck Overturned

A truck owned by the Meriden Bakery overturned and caught fire at Leonard's Corner. There were three men in the truck and they were able to extinguish the flames. None of them was injured. According to one of the men another car broke out in front of them and a sudden braking caused the car to overturn.

Charles Leonard, who lives at the corner was putting in a call for the fire department when a report came that the fire was extinguished. The men proceeded on their way to Meriden without leaving their names.

Dalley-Costello

Miss Frances Costello, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony J. Costello of Mountain street, and Raymond Dalley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Dalley of Salspic street, were married today at 9 a. m. at the rectory of St. Bernard's church. Rev. George T. Siamot officiated.

The attendants were Miss Madeline Dalley, sister of the groom and James Galavin. The bride wore blue silk and hat and carried white roses. The bridesmaid wore gray silk and carried pink flowers. Her hat matched the gown.

A wedding dinner followed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Costello on Mountain street, only immediate members of the family being present.

Mr. and Mrs. Dalley will live on Lawrence street after their return from a wedding trip.

Children Help Welfare

The children of the Northeast and Maple street schools and the Seventh Grade of the East school gave a large number of vegetables and other provisions to the Rockville Welfare Association on Wednesday which were distributed among the needy of the city. There were three small trucks full.

Notes

Miss Natalie Ide, a student at Connecticut College for Women, is at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Ide of Talcottville for the holidays.

Kenneth Brookes, a student at Yale, is home for the holiday recess. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Chapman of Manchester were guests or relatives in Rockville Thursday.

These dull winter days are made a lot duller now by the early arrival of the postman with the daily consignments of bills.

SCREEN STAR ILL

Hollywood, Calif., Nov. 25. — (AP) — Edwina Booth, blonde motion picture actress who played in "Evident Harm," the picture of life in the African jungles, is seriously ill, the victim of a complication of tropical disorders that kept her from pursuing her film career and that for a time puzzled medical specialists. Only a few of her friends knew until today that she had been confined to the home of her mother for the last seven months.

Mrs. Josephine Woodruff, mother of the actress, said her daughter is the victim of the rays of the equatorial sun and of poisonous insects of the jungles where finally she made scenes for the jungle story.

Only once during the seven months has Miss Booth been able to leave her bed and then she suffered a relapse, Mrs. Woodruff said.

"We didn't want anyone to know of her illness for fear it might hurt her future," the mother said. "We are more hopeful now for she appears to show improvement lately."

COON WAITS FOR HUNTER TO GO HOME FOR A GUN

Freed During Night Mr. Bacon Comes Out As Hills Party Comes Along, Then Gets Shot.

Not every coon is as accommodating as the one John Moore of 280 Parker street shot yesterday in Balke in broad daylight. Mr. and Mrs. Moore and a party of friends were at the family cottage in Balke for the holiday and after the dinner the party went into the woods for a walk.

They came upon a small tree with a large squirrel nest in the topmost branches. John shook the tree and out popped—not a squirrel—but a large coon. The women in the party stood guard at the foot of the tree while John ran a mile and a half to the cottage for a gun. Mr. Coon stayed put in the tree top and was brought down with one shot a half hour later. John is planning a "coon" dinner with his 15-pound prize.

It is unusual that a coon is found in a tree in broad daylight, but it is thought that the coon had been hunted during the night and driven up the tree by dogs late in the morning, far from his burrow, and had intended to stay up the tree until nightfall.

Air routes operated over the British Empire now cover 22,817 miles.

"I'm a 30-mile-an-hour driver... but I want the 100-mile-an-hour oil!"

MAYBE YOU SAY, "Thirty miles-an-hour is fast enough for me. I don't speed and probably never will!"

Yet the oil you use should be the 100-mile-an-hour motor oil—GULF SUPREME! Why? Because the oil that is good at 100 miles an hour is a far better, safer oil at any speed—high or low!

It is better able to conquer engine heat! Better able to halt wear! Better able to forestall repairs and cut lubrication bills!

Gulf Supreme has proved its ability to take super-punishment! Proved it in two of the most grueling tests an oil could get...

In a great testing laboratory, Gulf Supreme successfully lubricated a roaring motor under nearly twice the heat of the normal speeding engine for 14 solid hours!

And on August 8, 1932, it amazed racing drivers by out-performing specially-made "racing oils" on the famous Indianapolis Speedway! Under Official AAA Supervision, it lubricated a thundering Duesenberg racer for a non-stop one-hour run—at an average speed greater than 100 miles-an-hour! A speed which frequently reached nearly two miles a minute!

WARNING!

... OIL that isn't good at high speeds, isn't good enough at ANY speed!

Take this advice... Switch to Gulf Supreme! Prove its ability to take super-punishment—to out-repair and lubrication costs—in your motor!

How Manchester Aids Its Unemployed

(Note—This is the first of a series of articles written by E. J. McCabe, Secretary of the Emergency Employment Association for the purpose of informing the people of Manchester more thoroughly as to the purposes, policies and aims of the Emergency Employment Association.)

Start Second Year
The Manchester Emergency Employment Association is now commencing its second year of bringing the greatest amount of relief to those in need through unemployment and is governed by a Board of Directors, consisting of 10 members, who give a great deal of their time to the necessary work, none of whom receive any remuneration for their services and neither do they expect any compensation.

These ten men, namely, Frank Cheney, Jr., President; F. A. Varian, Vice President; J. J. McCabe, Secretary; E. J. Holl, W. J. Shea, J. E. Rand, James Irvine, Aaron Cook, W. C. Cheney, and Arthur A. Knotha, have endeavored to formulate plans that are fair and which will not only bring relief to our fellow-citizens who are unemployed but a plan that will also help those who are being assisted to keep their self-respect. The unemployed who are assisted through this Association are not asking or receiving charity. They are given employment and they earn each dollar they receive. It is true that if they were not helped in this way they would probably be compelled to ask for charity and the Members of the Board of the Emergency Employment Association feel it is much to the interest of this community that those who have been good citizens and real assets to the community in the past, but who are now temporarily in need, be given work and thus allowed to honestly and honorably earn sufficient to provide the necessities of life for the members of their families and themselves.

Many Angles To Problem
There are many angles of this problem that must be considered if the plan is to be workable and fair to all. The Association is also mindful of those citizens who are still employed and on whom the burden falls to provide the funds to carry on this "crusted work." There are too many phases of this program of the Emergency Employment Association to even attempt to explain all in one article and we are therefore, through the courtesy of the Manchester Evening Herald, going to try to outline the plans and policies of the Association to the Town's people through a series of articles for the next several days, dealing with one phase of the program each day.

The Manchester Emergency Employment Association came into existence in the fall of 1931 through the invitation of the Board of Selectmen, after an open meeting of the town's people, to which were invited representatives of all organizations and agencies interested in the problem of the unemployed. This problem had been carefully studied during the previous year, namely, the fall and winter of 1930, by a joint committee instituted through the initiative of the Chamber of Commerce, which committee had representation from the Kiwanis Club, Lions Club, Board of Selectmen as well as the Chamber of Commerce. Those men who had served on this original committee had learned from their experiences and were in a position to recommend certain plans at the citizens' meeting called by the Board of Selectmen in the fall of 1931, which they did. Had Practical Program

This was the beginning of the Manchester Emergency Employment Association which carried on a practical program last winter, giving employment to several hundred men and women with a total expenditure for such employment of $92,000.00.

Several of the Members of the Board of Directors of the Association who served last winter were re-elected and although from a personal standpoint they would probably have preferred being relieved of the burden and duties of such an important task, they gladly agreed to serve again, realizing their fellow citizens needed their help.

The Association has been incorporated and is operating in an efficient business-like way. The corporation carries compensation insurance for the protection of those giving employment.

Books are kept by the Treasurer, showing all income and expenditures in fact the whole business is highly systematic although not burdensome and as this is the people's organization, the Board of Directors feel that our policies and plans should be thoroughly known and we therefore have had the assistance of the Herald will take an interest by reading the succeeding articles which will go somewhat into detail concerning the system of registration, why certain information is asked, the method of classification, job assignment, the requisitioning of labor by subscribers in return for their donations, etc.

Next: Registration of Unemployed.

REV. SMITH RETURNS TO MISSION WORK

Talcoville Church's Missionary, Who Has Been In China 31 Years, On Way Back

Boston, Nov. 23.—Rev. Edward H. Smith of Norwich, Conn., for 31 years in China, is sailing back to his work under the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions next Saturday, November 26. Mr. and Mrs. Smith have been stationed at Foochow and Ingai, China, where Mr. Smith has been engaged in educational and general evangelistic work.

Military conditions have often forced Mr. Smith to leave his school in Ingai; clashes between Chinese armies, tigers, terrific thunderstorms and bandits have all failed to drive Mr. Smith from his station for any length of time. He has been particularly successful in training boys, and many of them, known as "Red Smith's boys," now hold positions of leadership and influence in the national government.

A Connecticut Yankee born in Franklin, Mr. Smith went to Massachusetts for his college training (Amherst, 1888) and back to Connecticut for his seminary work (Hartford Seminary, 1901).

The Smiths are supported in their work by the following Congregational churches: The First Churches of Hanover and Talcoville, Conn., the Central Church of Attleboro, Mass., the Union and Winslow Churches of Taunton, and the First Churches of Fall River, New Bedford and Norton, Mass.

Queer Twists In Day's News

Pittsburgh—People think he is only a negro bootblack.

In the grey shadows of the city-county building where he works, only a few who look down at his bent grey head as he shines their shoes, know that this is the Rev. William Tibbs.

By his shoe-shining, he makes it possible for 200 poor of his race to hear the gospel—"free," says Tibbs. Each morning and evening he dons his frock coat and preaches to his flock.

The familiar figure was missed today by hundreds of office workers. Tibbs has received a call to the pastorate of the Mt. Zion Baptist church at Laurel, Miss.

A year ago four detectives went to Laurel to bring back four negro murder suspects and while there met a deacon of the Mt. Zion church. The deacon complained of the congregation's difficulties in finding a pastor. The detectives told him about Tibbs. So the bootblack-pastor heads south tomorrow.

QUARANTINE ON DOGS EXTENDS TO JANUARY 6

Last One Discovered In October—Local Owners Comply Readily With Regulations.

The quarantine on dogs in the town of Manchester will not be removed by the Commissioner of Domestic Animals until January 6 it was learned yesterday, due to the discovery of a rabies infected animal early in October.

The first case of rabies was found late in April and the local Board of Health placed a temporary ban on dogs, the State taking over the management of the quarantine shortly afterward. The statutes called for a three months' quarantine on dogs unless an outbreak occurred within that time, which would necessitate a further extension of the quarantine, three months in advance of the last outbreak.

Altogether, seven rabid dogs have been killed, according to Dog Warden Raymond Robinson, the last coming in October, extending the quarantine to Jan. 6. Local dog owners have, complied with the quarantine in a good spirit, very few dogs having been found roaming at large.

An English runner recently won a race while suffering from a toothache. Perhaps he was on his way to the dentist.

She wanted a warmer house— she got it by using this money-saving fuel

EVERY winter they had trouble heating their house properly. Her husband bought the costliest fuel. He thought that the more he spent for fuel the better heat he would get. But he still did not get the steady, even heat he wanted.

But now it's different. She took the advice of a friend and ordered Koppers Coke made at our own modern plant. The first day or two her husband shook the fire too much, because it did not seem possible that there could be so few ashes. Then he caught on to the idea. Just a little jiggle of the grates once a day—less often in mild weather—kept a clean, steady fire. And at the end of a whole week he had only a little pail of ashes about a foot high.

That's the same experience you will have when you change to the High Test Fuel. You will discover that you will have better heat, with less work and for less money.

The small amount of ashes, which makes furnace tending so much easier, and saves work, is due to the extra heat-giving carbon in every pound of Koppers Connecticut Coke.

That in turn means that you burn fewer tons to get the same amount of heat. The price per ton is lower, too. So you save money that will pay for weekly trips to the movies or other small luxuries that make things pleasanter—and you're helping to keep local men employed.

Better heat, less work, less cost—is it any wonder that five times as many people burn Koppers Connecticut Coke as did four years ago? Join these satisfied thousands. Call us or your fuel dealer and order this better fuel that costs less.

3 EASY RULES for Using Koppers Connecticut Coke

1 Shake less—Because Koppers Connecticut Coke is all fuel, and burns down to fine ashes that drop through the grate with very little shaking. Once a day is often enough to shake—less frequently in mild weather.

2 Use less draft—Because Koppers Connecticut Coke is High Test Fuel, it burns evenly without forcing the fire and wasting heat up the chimney. It responds at once to closing as well as to opening of dampers.

3 Fill the fire pot heaping full—You can do this without danger of smothering the fire. Koppers Connecticut Coke is lighter than coal and burns most economically and effectively when you keep a deep fire.

These 3 rules mean less work and less attention. Your Koppers Connecticut Coke fire requires less work in firing and in taking out ashes, burns perfectly and provides a steady warmth for less cost.

MR. COOLIDGE'S TURN

We have heard from the President and the President-elect on the subject of foreign debts and they are in substantial agreement that the debtor nations are entitled to a hearing on the subject of their ability to pay. Now, in view of all the circumstances, it might not be a bad time to hear from the only living ex-President, who in the calmly contemplative shades of Northampton in the last few months may possibly have discovered reason for a less dogmatic opinion on this subject than he once held.

The noisily vocal mob of Congressmen and Senators who are rushing into print with strident protests against any reconsideration of debt settlements do little more than to paraphrase Mr. Coolidge's historic dictum—"They hired the money, didn't they? Well, they'll have to pay it." And it is highly probable that that terse and snappy comeback has done more to stiffen the backbone of the non-compromisers than all the considered argument that has ever been applied to the subject. Mr. Coolidge still enjoys an incredible reputation for hard headed common sense. Those who take the "pay-up" attitude feel that they have ample justification in the Coolidge maxim.

But it is a good while since Mr. Coolidge made his famous pronouncement on the war debts. Much water has flowed under the bridges since then. It is very much to be doubted if the problem looks as simple to the Sage of Northampton today as it did at the time of his solution of it. It must long ago have dawned on him, as it has on many other Americans, that there is a lot of difference between this international debt problem and the problem of a Vermont farmer who has "hired" a sum of money from the bank and who, obviously, will "have to pay it" or undergo the traditional penalties of foreclosure. It is all very simple, this matter of the farmer, the bank and the sheriff. The matter of international debts, on the contrary is enormously complicated. It is the time of times for Mr. Coolidge to publicly admit that his famous dictum is no longer adequate and to warn his many admirers against the unwarranted conclusion that it covered all the ground that must be covered today.

We are on the point of demanding that Great Britain pay us, on December 16, an installment of something less than a hundred million dollars. Such a payment in gold would inevitably depress sterling exchange very considerably. We are already suffering from the fact that sterling, while it is the par of the British Commonwealth and of about half the world, is at a serious discount in United States currency. People cannot buy of us whose money is discredited here but good elsewhere and at home. They can, however, undersell us in our own market, for the reason that they can buy a dollar's worth of material and labor for what equals, in gold, about 65 cents. That's about the extent of our present disadvantage in the matter of exchange. If we compel the payment of this installment it will certainly become greater. It will not take us long to lose every dollar of that hundred million in "continued stagnation of business. And after it is gone we shall still be continuing to lose.

If the Vermont farmer's debt should somehow become complicated by some unexpected set of conditions so that it was going to cost the bank $2,000—maybe $20,000—to collect its $1,000 from him, there would be something to the question beside the bald fact that he had hired the money and therefore must pay it, would there not?

This is no matter of sentiment. It is a matter of business. This country has already lost, in this depression, ten times as much money as the total of all the war debts put together. But we still have a great deal to lose. It would be interesting and useful at this time to hear from Mr. Coolidge as to whether he thinks we ought to continue with our hard boiled debt policy. We don't believe he still thinks the way he did. He could exert a tremendous influence by saying so.

HOMER AND THE CABINET

Down Stamford way they cling lovingly to the notion that Homer Cummings, bright star of Fairfield County Democracy, may win to a place in the cabinet of the next President as attorney-general. The Stamford Advocate seems to be particularly serious, not to say strenuous, in boosting for the dignified Mr. Cummings as the new head of the Department of Justice after March 3. It dwells at length on his long and notable services to the Democratic party, his distinguished legal ability and so on.

All of which is interesting and might be more so if Connecticut were not one of the six states that remained loyal to President Hoover in the recent election, or even if Mr. Cummings had gone storming up and down the state for Roosevelt as in the days of his youth he did for Bryan in 1896—which he didn't.

And that is reminiscent of a story they used to tell down that way about Homer. It probably isn't true. However, in those days such things were not unknown.

Cummings, then a gangling strapping of charming personality and great fluency, had recently been taken into the law firm of Fessenden & Carter. Sam Fessenden, a power in the Republican party of the state and its potentate in Fairfield county had long before hooked up, candidly, with a Democratic law partner, Galen Carter. It was unnecessary, for law partnership purposes, for the young new partner to have any particular politics.

Then along came the Bryan nomination and the bolt of the Gold Democrats, who nominated a national ticket of their own. It looked as if this alignment of three parties might be permanent. According to the old and probably untrue tale the firm of Fessenden, Carter & Cummings faced a problem. To be, as always, represented in all live political parties it became necessary for the firm to have one of its members a Gold Democrat and one a Silver Democrat. The stalwart Fessenden's position as a wheel horse Republican of course was immutable. It remained for the Democratic Carter and the more or less unplaced youthful Cummings to whack up the divergent Democratic affiliations. So, the story rambles on, they drew straws—and Cummings got the Bryan straw. Whereupon he girded on his oratorical sword and sallied forth, preaching the gospel of free silver and roasting the Gold Democrats to a fine Thanksgiving turkey brown, from East Portchester to Thompson. Whether there is the remotest shadow of truth to this legend or not, the fact is that Homer put on the armor of a "regular" Democrat in that celebrated campaign and has remained an admired and conspicuous "regular" Democrat ever since.

Still and all it isn't easy to see how that ratifies him the attorney-generalship. If he had climbed into his political overalls and got out and helped switch about 4,000 Connecticut votes that Mr. Roosevelt didn't get, there might have been something to it. But you don't get cabinet jobs in 1932 for straws you perhaps pulled in 1896.

FREE STATE NIGHTMARE

Irish Free State extremist Republicans are talking about open armed conflict with Great Britain next year. A condition of war, they declare, will be precipitated not by themselves but by Britain, which, they profess to believe, will soon attempt to seize the Irish custom houses and levy duties on all imports by way of compensation for the land annuities which have been withheld by President De Valera. This, the extremist leaders say, will be resisted by force and war will result. All this is supposed to break loose before next spring.

These Irish leaders may know everything there is to be known about their own plans in case Britain should undertake forcible collection of the land annuities, but it will be difficult to convince the rest of the world that they have secret knowledge of any such British purpose—or that any such purpose exists. It is extremely improbable that there are six people in Great Britain who would favor the risking of a single human life, English or Irish, in an attempt to collect the land annuities. If the Irish Republicans wait for the British government to start a war upon them they probably face the longest period of peace their country has ever known.

However, there is a small proportion of Free States who will doubtless get a great emotional kick during the coming cold, grey-winter, in preparing desperately to resist the devouring Sasquatch.

RED TAPE

The New York Times is rather profoundly discouraged over the prospects of ever getting rid of that suffocating red tape which threatens to paralyze any and all efforts on the part of the federal government to get its construction relief program into effective operation. It believes the individual who can eliminate the bureaucratic delays that have been woven into the very fabric of Washington governmental operations.

Perhaps the individual has not yet appeared but the tool for his use is ready and waiting. It is the pen with which Presidents sign administrative mandates. When a department with 8,000 job holders jams and can no longer function let the President sign an order commanding the elimination of 7,900 of the jobs and with a bureau with 500 people in it loses its vitality let 480 of them be fired. Then, with a tenth of the swarm of parasite who now mill importantly about frightened into rustling to keep their jobs by doing effective work, we should get somewhere.

There is no unnecessary red tape in any undermanned organization. It is inevitably and invariably part and parcel of the presence of too many cooks.

A GOOD MAN'S MISTAKE

When Joseph E. Corrigan was chief magistrate of New York City's magistrate courts he gave out for publication one day a telegram from a New York assemblyman which reflected on methods of enforcement of the state's prohibition enforcement act adopted by the then police commissioner Richard E. Enright long since retired. Enright brought suit for libel against Corrigan, which he lost. Then Magistrate Corrigan tried to collect from the city $35,000 to cover costs and counsel fees. The city balked and Corrigan appealed to the courts. The Court of Claims decided that the municipality was not responsible, the contest between the magistrate and the police commissioner being a private matter. The Court of Appeals has now affirmed the finding of the Court of Claims.

Which goes to show that even a New York magistrate who has gained an enviable reputation for decency and for enmity to judicial grafting can develop a singularly mistaken idea about certain matters when his own pocket is concerned.

IN NEW YORK

New York, Nov. 25.—There is a prophecy going round that a lost generation is about to find itself again.

One hears of rummaging in old trunks and garrets for forgotten toupees, yellow spots, striped white vests, monacles and malacca sticks. The school of strut and of pose, hit violently over the head just after the war and supplanted by that far-famed "younger generation" of cut-ups, threatens a come back.

All such premises are based on the theory that Broadway is about to have the very hot-dog stands shaken out of it and sent back on a river of bear and wine to the gentler, wazy years which oldsters recall so fondly. And there are symptoms to bear up the oracles.

Broadway was fast becoming a bluish spot on the city's face. Even Broadwayites were becoming ashamed of it. The depression in human economics and spirits had redacted

ECZEMA IS CURABLE

Eczeema is more apt to prefer blondes than brunettes because the blonde skin is apt to be thin, dry, and sensitive. Although not generally realized, eczeema is the most common of any skin inflammation and is liable to affect all races, all ages and both sexes. It is frequently found in babies, also the aged; it is especially likely to appear in those suffering from rheumatism, nephritis and diabetes; it may affect almost the entire body or only a very small area, sometimes only the outer canal of the ear.

Eczeema is of many varieties and may be known by a number of names such as Tetter, Salt Rheum, and Weeping Eczeema. It is a chronic type of skin disorder but is not catching. Under ordinary treatment it is not easily cured and, if it disappears, frequently comes back again.

Eczeema might be called a catalytic inflammation of the skin. Some of the usual symptoms are the formation of crusts and dry scales and intense itching. The skin may be bright red and there may be small blisters which break out of which ooze a serous fluid which, when dry, will stiffen the clothing. Pus may be found in the blisters especially when eczeema is present in the scalp of children having head lice. The attack may be bad at times and then subside almost entirely. At the height of the itching the skin feels as though it were on fire and the patient finds a meager relief through scratching.

The above symptoms vary a great deal, sometimes two or more being present in one case at the same time. In the course of time the affected skin may thicken and harden and, if the eczeema is between the fingers or toes, it may cause the formation of deep cracks which refuse to heal.

I stated before, eczeema may appear on any part of the skin but it is commonly found on the following areas: the bends of the elbows, behind the knees, on the face, scalp, arms, legs, neck, arm pits and ears.

The important cause of eczeema appears to be a toxemia produced by wrong food combinations, overeating or highly stimulating foods. The skin irritation is caused if the excess toxin is eliminated from the body through the pores of the skin. Eczeema is most apt to occur when, in addition to the underlying cause, there is some irritation of the skin, on the nation's leading play place. Where insinuating screens had once hidden champagne parties stood fake auctioneers trying to rid themselves of useless and valueless jewelry. In one grand chorus, columnists and feature writers yodeled a dirge which gave Broadway to Coney Island.

Even the bright lights were less bright. Roof-tops, from which myriad signs had once glittered, bared steel skeletons of former glory to the night. Signs were torn from building signs. Only the huge announcements of movies saved the night.

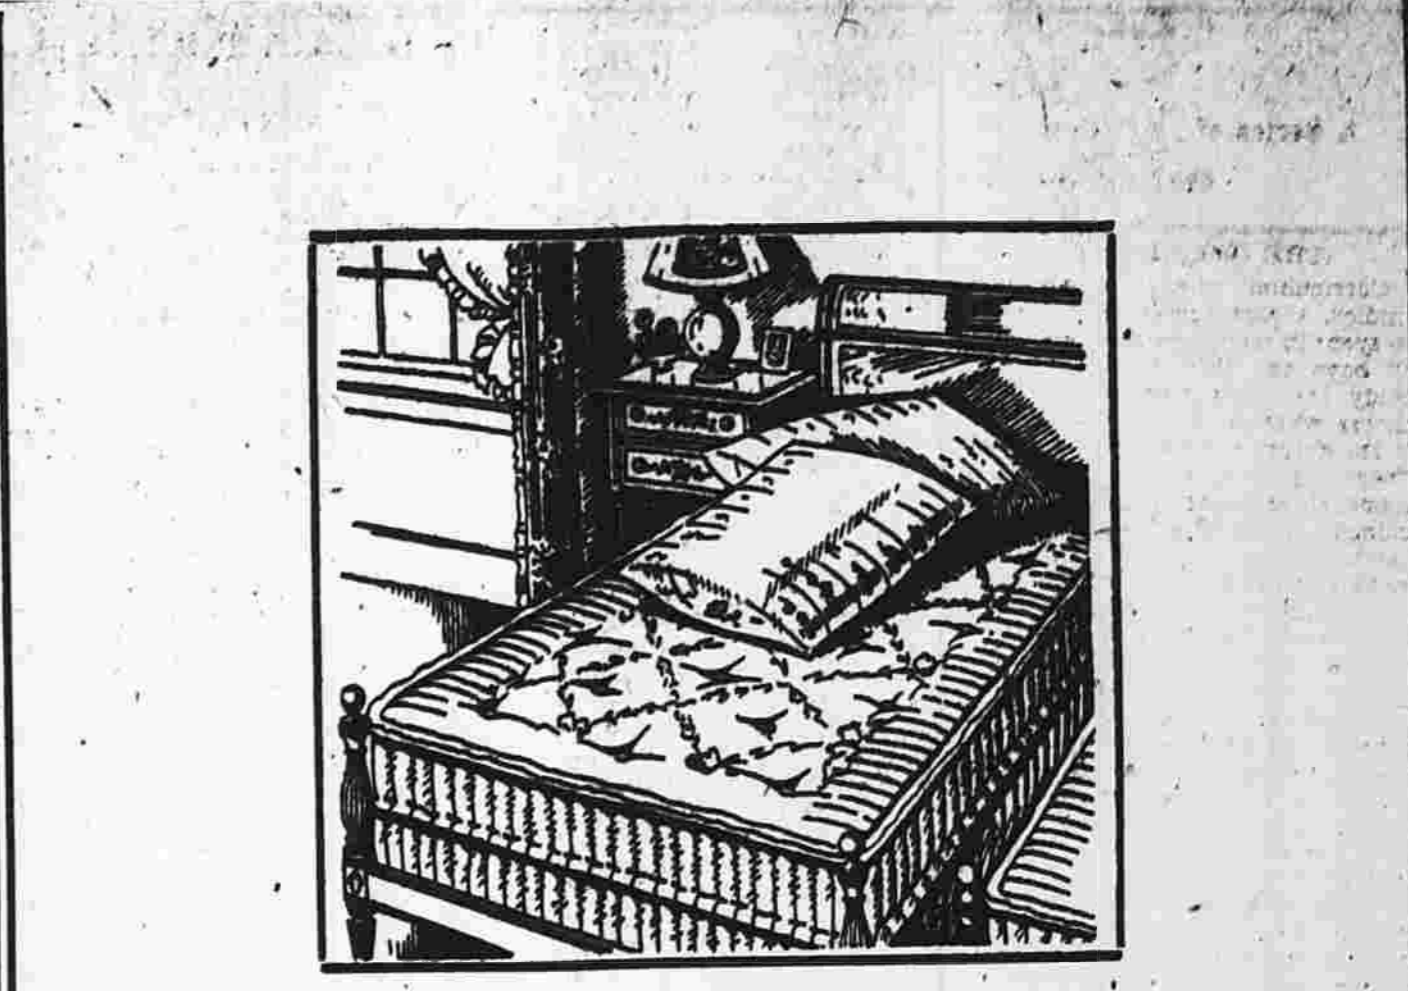

Within a few hours of the late election, the change was noted. Nationally famed brewing concerns began to buy up space against "Der Tag."

One appeared with a huge malt sign. The word "malt" has been so constructed as to change to "beer" in an hour's notice.

One has chimes attached which sound through the day at half-hourly intervals and bring complaints from those who sleep through the waking hours and wake through the sleeping hours.

Famed chefs, who have become lost in the shuffle of speakasles, find themselves in demand. Two places have been cabled to celebrate French cafes for chefs who are "to hold themselves in readiness." Corners that have sheltered orangeade stands and peanut shops are being leased.

Behind the Scenes in WASHINGTON

Close Political Fight May Show Weakness of Street Vote Decision on Winner

Washington.—There now seems to be a logical answer to the question: What's the use of holding an expensive election if newspapers and magazines are going to hold huge polls to determine the results in advance?

Answer: The polls are likely to go wrong whenever the contest is close.

The straw vote conducted by the Literary Digest did a splendid job in forecasting the unprecedentedly enormous trend to Roosevelt. Its indication that Roosevelt would have 474 electoral votes to Hoover's 87, whereas the count is actually 472 to 59, was about as close as anyone could wish.

The poll's indication of a popular vote victory for Roosevelt at the ratio of about three to two was also very close to the result.

The only complaint with its accuracy is the fact that it did not forecast a correct division of the states between the two candidates. But if the election had been so close as to hang on the electoral vote of Pennsylvania, on which the poll called the wrong turn, it would have indicated national victory for the wrong man. On the other hand, had the contest been close there might have been no question about Pennsylvania, which has always been heavily Republican in normal years.

There were also other states—New Jersey and two in New England—as to which the conductors of the Digest poll expressed uncertainty when they published the final returns, although the straw votes were giving them to Hoover.

Just why the Digest poll went haywire on Pennsylvania, giving it to Roosevelt by 4 to 3, still remains a mystery. The influence of the Vaux machine in the last days of the campaign may have partially changed the situation, but Roosevelt didn't run much better through the state than in boss-ruled Philadelphia—even though he ran better than any previous Democratic candidate.

The Hearst poll, incidentally, gave Pennsylvania to Hoover, but in general erred much more widely than the Digest's. The former sent postcards to telephone readers, while the latter gathered its votes from both telephone and automobile lists.

The objection that such lists do not touch enough of the poorer voters, who are more likely to vote against the party in power than more fortunate persons, apparently has little application in Pennsylvania as this year it presupposed a larger proportion for Roosevelt than the Digest gave him.

It may, however, be considered in relation to New Jersey, Massachusetts and Rhode Island, which went to Roosevelt despite adverse poll martinetries—especially large in Massachusetts.

The objection that last-minute developments and trends are not reflected by the poll may also be considered with regard to those three states, since Al Smith undoubtedly helped the Roosevelt ticket in that disaffected area during the final weeks.

Three points may be made as to the Digest poll's large exaggeration of the prospective Socialist vote:

1. Twenty million ballots were mailed and only 3,000,000 returned. Socialists are often of the crusading type and probably cast ballots in much larger proportion than other voters.
2. It is usually estimated that about 10 per cent of the Socialist vote is not counted.
3. The percentage of Socialist votes fell gradually during the poll's progress, indicating a steady reduction in the number of voters who at first couldn't accept either major party candidate and were intending to vote for Thomas. (Also, those who expected a larger Socialist vote than the poll indicated didn't realize that the number of automobile and telephone users among Socialists is larger than commonly appreciated.)

Except in 1916, there hasn't been a really close presidential election in this country for decades. Just as long as the Digest poll continues to predict large majorities it will be accepted as—in the words of Secretary of the Treasury Ogden Mills—"distastefully accurate."

Bank employees are not worrying about their vacations these days.

A Series of Articles Discussing Modern Methods of Training the Youth of Our Country.

THE CURRICULUM

Curriculum means a course of studies, a plan for all the years to be spent in school. In the high school all boys and girls do not have to study the same material but may choose what seems to be best suited to the ability and liking of each one. There are commonly found three branches of study, these being the college preparatory emphasizing Latin, Ancient History, considerable mathematics and modern languages; the commercial curriculum with bookkeeping for boys, stenography for girls, and with typewriting and general clerical training for both boys and girls; there is always a general curriculum to provide a means for granting a diploma to those who are either unable or unwilling to study the particular subjects offered in a special curriculum. In schools of sufficient size, on the other hand, the curriculum system requires that a pupil does not spend his time too narrowly. He must have a reasonable depth as well as breadth of learning. This plan makes a pupil accept and follow a course of study carefully thought out in advance by his experienced teacher.

First Public High School
The first public high school was established in Boston in 1821. Up to that time public education was offered with a view to preparing boys for the ministry, medicine, and law. Latin, Greek, rhetoric, and moral lectures had been the main food offered. But the privately owned academies had catered to the wants of those not interested in college by offering new subjects. Benjamin Franklin's school, which is now the University of Pennsylvania, gave through many changes, offered special training in English literature and mathematics. Boston soon built a second school which is the present famous English High school. This, in turn, was followed by the Girls high school built in 1826. Instead of offering several courses in the same school, separate buildings were constructed with different courses of instruction. Until about 1875 the tendency was to separate the college and non-college preparatory groups into two categories and to separate the girls from the boys in the high schools. Our present composite high school with several curriculums was as yet unthought of.

New Subjects
But curriculum organization had to be dealt with at some time with the rapidly increasing number of high schools. New types of pupils were coming also. Colleges were increasing in numbers and each one seemed to have individual requirements to be met by certain high school study. Then too, new subjects, sciences and commerce, were being better thought of and were demanding a place on the curriculum. The high school was no longer limited to pupils from well-to-do English families; pupils from all kinds of families of all nationalities, with little or no interest in going to college made up the new enrollment. After the Civil War America was becoming an industrial and commercial nation. The great trusts, Standard Oil Company, American Tobacco Company, and the Union Pacific Railroad were being formed. Manual and technical instruction as well as commercial training was urgently needed. Finally, there was a growing feeling that in a country so richly endowed by nature as ours education was no longer a privilege but a right and necessity of all. The time had come to set our educational house in order.

Too Narrow Training
Education in America was a perpetual problem. The future plans of any pupil are so much subject to influences beyond the control of the school that it is unwise to train a young person up too narrowly in any field, no matter how wise and pertinent the choice may seem at present. Changing industrial needs, moving about from place to place, change in family circumstances, and unsteady choices are all causes of change of occupation and life interest. Industry in one town may demand a certain type of skilled work today, but tomorrow still another type will perhaps be required. Or the industry may become obsolete and disappear. Again, those specially trained may move to a locality where no use for their services can be found. The schools try to prevent shallow skimming of the surface but at the same time they try to keep training and breadth of choice as great as possible until the pupil must make his final decisions.

DECLINES APPOINTMENT

Boston, Nov. 25.—(AP)—George R. Nutter, former president of the Boston Bar Association, designated by Governor Ely as chairman of a committee of leading citizens named to consider revision of the state's liquor laws in anticipation of Federal repeal or revision of the 18th Amendment and the Volstead Law, today announced he would decline to serve. Nutter sent a letter to Governor Ely, the contents of which he declined to disclose until Ely had an opportunity to receive it. "I knew nothing about it until I saw the headlines," said Nutter, in discussing the appointment with newspapermen. "I will have nothing to do with it."

Nutter, a prominent attorney, was designated as chairman of a group of seven citizens including two women, which was to start an immediate study of the entire problem of bringing the state statutes into line with possible Federal liquor law modifications.

HOLIDAY QUIET IN MANCHESTER

Schedule of Church Services and Sports Events Runs Off Without Mishap.

A quiet Thanksgiving was observed in town yesterday, the day's observance opening with services in several churches in the early morning. No arrests were made during the day and Main street was practically deserted during the afternoon, after the annual, Rec five mile and High school races had been completed. No automobile accidents were reported.

Lot Of Traffic
A large number of homescoming parties were held in town, students in schools and colleges being home for the week end. During the early morning hours the traffic enroute to the Brown-Colgate game was very heavy, and the traveling was hazardous shortly before daylight, due to the freezing weather and wet pavement after an early morning shower.

A full sport program was in order yesterday. Following the races in the morning, a benefit soccer game between the Hartford and Manchester clubs was played at 1 o'clock on the Charter Oak grounds. Basketball opens. The annual opening of the basketball season was held last night with the Rec team opposing the Glastonbury and Rockville A. C. teams in a doubleheader in the Rec and the National Guard team playing the St. Mary's team of East Hartford at the Armory. Following the game a dance was held until midnight in the armory and dancing was enjoyed after the Rec games.

Manchester schools are closed for the remainder of the week, and yesterday many sandlot games of football were played while awaiting the big feast. The usual holiday crowd was in evidence at the theater in the evening. There were very few die-hard golfers at the Manchester Country club although the day was one suitable to outdoor activities.

Nearly families were well taken care of by church societies, clubs and other organizations, and altogether Thanksgiving was pleasantly and quietly observed.

BRIDGEPORT DIVORCES
Bridgeport, Nov. 25.—(AP)—For a year and a half although she lived in the same house with him, her husband refused to speak to her, Mrs. Charlotte Haggerty of Greenwich, testified before Judge John A. Cornell in Superior Court today in her plea for a divorce from Frank P. Haggerty, an undertaker of Greenwich and prominent in fraternal circles. She was granted a decree on grounds of cruelty.

Dorothy Vallancourt of Danbury, whose divorce hearing was held before Judge Ernest Simpson several weeks ago, was granted a decree from Albert F. Vallancourt of Los Angeles. They were married in 1920 and he deserted her in 1922, she said. It was ordered that if the two children who are in California with their father ever come within the jurisdiction they should be given into the custody of the mother.

HERBERT F. GUNNISON, BROOKLYN EDITOR, DEAD

New York, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Herbert F. Gunnison, former president and publisher of the Brooklyn Daily Eagle, died at his home in Brooklyn at 2 a. m. today after a lingering illness. He was 74 years old.

Gunnison was identified with Brooklyn journalism for more than half a century, most of the time with the Eagle. After being graduated from St. Lawrence University, Canton, N. Y., in 1880 he joined the staff of the Brooklyn Times and a year and half later became a reporter on the Eagle. He served as legislative reporter at Albany for three years and also was editor of the Eagle almanac for a number of years.

Then he transferred to the business office of the paper and 1898 became business manager, a position he held more than 20 years until he was appointed publisher. In 1924 after death of William W. Hester, Gunnison became president of the Eagle, the fourth head of the paper since it was founded in 1841. He remained at this post until 1929 when the ownership of the Eagle passed to Frank E. Cannon, who became president. Gunnison then became chairman of the board.

He was born in Halifax, N. S., the son of a Universalist minister. Gunnison was one of the organizers of the Newspaper Publishers Association and for two years was president of the Associated Press.

STUDY STATE'S BUDGET
Hartford, Nov. 25.—(AP)—The budget committee of the State Board of Finance and Control was in session at the Capitol today for further consideration of the budget to be submitted to the next General Assembly. The meeting of the committee was decided on at the board of Finance and Control on Wednesday, when it is understood considerable discussion was had relative to the financial situation confronting the state, which will develop a deficit of $7,614,843 if the present program is maintained.

No announcement was forthcoming as to the expectations of the budget committee in again taking up the problem of considering the requests made by the several departments and institutions, and in line with previous appropriations by the Legislature.

NEW NUMBERS COMPOSE PROGRAM AT MUSICAL

South Methodist Church Choir To Be Heard In Another of the Popular Sunday Night Concerts.

The regular monthly musical service at the South Methodist church, will be held on Sunday evening at 7:30. George Huntington Hayes, acting organist and director, has selected an interesting program of choral numbers and organ selections. The four choral numbers are new to these musicals.

They are as follows: 180th Psalm by Cesar Franck, "I looked and beheld a white cloud," by Healey Willan, "A Thanksgiving Day Ode," by R. H. Woodman, and "We Pray Thee Gracious Lord," by Philip James. Of these composers Healey Willan is well known as the vice-principal at the conservatory in Toronto. Philip James is one of the older school of well known American composers, and R. H. Woodman was for many years well known as one of the most outstanding organists in Brooklyn, N. Y. Cesar Franck is perhaps better known as a composer of organ compositions, and it will be of interest to hear a choral composition by this master.

For his offering Mr. Byle has chosen the well known "Choral" (Symphony II) by Louis Vierne, "Carillon," by Delmarter, and a charming number "Comes Autumn Time" by Leo Sowerby. A well balanced program is assured and the ability of this group will be exemplified.

NAME CHANGED
Bridgeport, Nov. 25.—(AP)—The petition of Mrs. Adeline Smith Runge of Greenwich for permission to change her name to Adeline Smith Husted was granted by Judge Frank P. McElroy in Superior Court today. Mrs. Runge and her former husband, Judge of Probate William E. Runge of Greenwich, were divorced in 1920. Both are prominent in Greenwich.

Y. M. C. A. Notes

The Senior Basketball League went to its second step last night with Joe's Filling Station taking the Cardinals to a downfall to the score of 84 to 48. This was followed by the Shamrocks showing that they were no shams about getting a shot at the goal. They trimmed the wings of the Eagles 57 to 36. This, however, was a very good showing for the Eagles as they had not been on the floor together before as a unit. No doubt they will be making a better showing as time goes on.

The Church League had two teams in the Y. Tuesday night, the North and the South Methodists. The south and boys showed that they came from the warmer clime as they played what might be called a bit warmer game and so took the honors of the evening and chalked up one more game on their way to the league's top.

The Business Men's class will meet as usual Friday afternoon at 5:15. The second series in the Junior Basketball League was played off Wednesday night, the North End boys playing against the Tigers. This game proved that the fierce Tiger can sometimes be subdued. The North Enders had a hard task to do this but finally came out on top and have a Tiger skin to add to their collection which will be marred with a score of 22 to 19. The Wildcats lived up to their name and defeated the Falcons to the tune of 24 to 13.

Tonight there will be two County League games held here at the Y. The first game at seven o'clock will be between the Y. M. C. A. Rangers and Center church. The second game will be between the Y. M. C. A. "A" team and the C. E. House team. A new team from Talcottville has enrolled in the Y this week known as Flats Filling Station. These boys played here Wednesday evening against the Community Filling Station and took the honors away from the local team with a 28 to 15 score.

There will be no meeting of the "Live Wires" tonight. Meetings will be resumed next week Friday and after the gym class at 7:30 the girls will work on their leather pocket-books which they are tooling.

The regular meeting of the members of the Women's Division of the Y. M. C. A. will be held next Wednesday evening at 8 p. m. Each member is urged to be present and to bring a guest.

The enrollment for the dancing class for boys and girls four and five years of age is steadily increasing. This class is not invitation affair and any mothers who are interested in enrolling their children for the class are asked to come next Monday afternoon at 3:00 p. m.

Thomas Bentley will be the speaker at the next meeting of the Homemakers' Group which will be next Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 p. m. The women's bowling group is steadily increasing and bowled each Wednesday afternoon at 2:00 p. m. This sport is good exercise and easily learned. More women are urged to come out and give it a try.

The Junior basketball league, sponsored by the Recreation Centers, under the direction of Frank Busch, will start tomorrow. The West Side Buddies will play the Gun Hick's, Jr., at the West Side Rec at 1:15 o'clock in the open.

At 3 o'clock, the East Side A. C. will play the Orioles A. C. and at 5 o'clock the Collegians will meet the Herald newboys.

Managers of teams entered in the league must submit a list, not to exceed 10 players, of team members 16 years of age or under. Only these men will be allowed to play in league games, unless special arrangements have been made with Director Busch.

Four Boys
With noses pressed against store windows exhibiting the first Christmas toys, a little gang of four boys expressed their Christmas wishes and hopes on Main street this morning. They were full of excitement. One of the four pointed at a doll. "That's what I want," he said giggling. The others guffawed. Then they entered the store and ran excitedly up and down the aisles, taking in that wonderful array of toys.

Women who do their own laundry seldom realize for how small a sum they can relieve themselves of this labor. Phone the New Model Laundry (Dial 8072), and they will be glad to estimate the cost of doing your washing.

Parisian
A Parisian model wears a black broadcloth suit with three-quarter coat, topped with a short cape lined in green. With this she wears a black velvet hat—a tiny thing on one side of her hair.

To be ready for Christmas dances and parties have your evening gowns cleaned by Hale's Hygeonic Dry Cleaning Department. The charge is $1.50. Afternoon gowns are cleaned for $1.00. The most delicate garments are carefully handled. Phone 4123.

OPEN FORUM
YOUTH AND POLITICS

Editor, The Herald:
Should our youth leap into the dangerous arena of politics? Would there be more graft and corruption in our government than there is at present? That is the question. "Why, the younger generation is going to the dogs. We cannot expect anything from them," asserted a so-called intelligent man.

We wonder how accurate this assertion could be. Was this man justified in his irrational remark? First, let us recall some historical facts before we continue further. Mazzini, the Italian, and originator of the "Young Peoples' Movement," aroused the younger generation of his time to revolt against autocracy. His theories spread over Europe like a devastating plague. Also the liberty-loving, younger element of France was the main instigator of the French Revolution for democracy. They were inspired by the able and active leadership of Voltaire and Rousseau, who turned the raging tide into a smooth, motionless ocean.

Let us now go a step farther. What is the great Irish patriot, DeValera, doing for his native land? Why, he is trying to shake the shackles of British supremacy to gain complete independence. Yes, and youth is a very influential factor in his plan. The United States can be piloted likewise to the safe shore instead of being demolished by the tempest on the unseen reef. Youth is ready, all it needs is encouragement and efficient leadership. I say again, if we want reform both financial and political rely on the younger generation. Do not keep them tied down. We should know by this time the older generation is dead-wood and nil in initiative. Let us annihilate the old selfish politicians. We want a purer and more legitimate democracy. Youth will be our savior. That is the solution.

DENMARK IS WARNED
Copenhagen, Denmark, Nov. 25—(AP)—The newspaper Social Demo-

kraten said today the Soviet government had informed the Danish Minister at Moscow that Russia would consider it an unfriendly action if Leon Trotsky, the exiled Bolshevik, were allowed to make his permanent residence in Denmark.

Trotsky arrived recently from his residence of exile on Prinkipo Island in the Sea of Marmora. He accepted an invitation to lecture on the history of the October Revolution in Russia.

40 PIES ARE BAKED IN WATKINS WINDOW

Demonstration of Silent Glow Burner Continues Through Tomorrow Evening.

Forty pies were baked in Watkins Brothers show window Wednesday on two Silent Glow equipped ranges, and distributed by local charity organizations with baskets of Thanksgiving foods for the needy. In addition, Watkins demonstrators baked twenty dozen of brownies and a large loaf of corn meal bread, most of which were also given to the needy.

The baking demonstration continued today and will be brought to a close tomorrow evening, with all the food baked, with the exception of the sample cookies which are given to visitors to the demonstration, distributed to the needy through Miss Jesse Reynolds, social service nurse, Brunner's Market of Oakland street, Manchester, is supplying all the groceries for the demonstration, including Gold Medal Cake and Bread flour, Williams Extracts and Royal Baking Powder, while the West Side Dairy is furnishing the milk used.

Electrolysis
Men as well as women are interested in the removal of superfluous hair and many have shaggy eyebrows straightened permanently by the Klee Electrolysis Method at Mary Elizabeth's Beauty Nook (Rubinow Building). This work is done in a private studio entirely separate from the Beauty parlors. Phone 8011.

Eggs With Cheese
To make Creamed Eggs on Toast you need as many hard-cooked eggs as you wish to serve, buttered toast, 1-4 cup milk, 1 package pimento cheese, salt, pepper, cayenne. Cut the eggs in half lengthwise and place two halves on each slice of toast. Make a sauce of the milk, cheese and seasonings to taste, cook slowly in a double boiler until the cheese is melted. Pour a generous spoonful of hot sauce over each portion of egg and toast, and garnish with finely chopped parsley.

"Christmas isn't Christmas unless I get a doll," thinks every little girl. Well, she can have her doll. Maclow's has an enormous selection of dolls a little girl will adore, from 29c up. To go with dolly, here are wicker doll carriages from $1.95. Marlow's Toyland has everything a youngster could dream of—at prices Mama and Papa will like.

International
It is said that the clothes worn by Greta Garbo are such that she would appear equally smart in them in any country in the world—they are the "international" type which does not classify the wearer. She never adopts fads or purely local styles.

Visit the luncheon department of the new Arthur Day Store, Rubinow Building, where they serve tasty sandwiches at all hours. A wonderful three-course light lunch is served daily for only 25c. It is a pleasure to be served at the neat modernistic booths.

Amusement
Quilt making from either silk or cotton bits has undreamed of possibilities. The work is really not tedious at all, but quite exciting when it comes to such important matters as selecting design, combining colors, and running a kind of one-man race to see how quickly a quilt can be made. We are partial to a star pattern (the star begins as eight diamonds) because you can use a sewing machine on this design.

was visiting his uncle when the middle-aged man was slain. After Guafre denied knowledge of the whereabouts of Marcelino's money, the killer said nothing for a while. "Not one word," Bayona related. "But he had that funny look. All of a sudden he pulled out his knife and stabbed my uncle to death."

The sight of blood, the nephew said, apparently caused Marcelino to lose his head. He slashed Bayona in the shoulder lunged at another man who came into the room and dashed from the hotel on his mission of death.

As he ran in and out among pedestrians or into shops, he struck here and there with deadly accuracy. All of his victims were stabbed in or above the heart.

Most of his victims had been taken to hospitals or the morgue before a policeman saw him. The policeman shot at him but missed. Attracted by the shot, another policeman off duty and returning from a football game, leaped for the killer. Marcelino lashed at him with a knife, ripping the cloth from the policeman's sleeve.

With the aid of another policeman the officers finally cornered and captured the maniac in a grocery store, where Morris one of the victims, lay dead on the floor.

JAPANESE BUDGET UNUSUALLY LARGE

tion was 184,000,000 yen ($36,800,000); and the Navy 221,000,000 yen ($44,200,000).

The Army and Navy estimates were trimmed to their present size only after a prolonged struggle between Finance Minister Takahashi on the one hand and General Araki and Admiral Katsuko Okada, minister of the Navy, on the other.

The combined Army and Navy appropriations include 185,000,000 yen ($37,000,000) to defray another year's occupation of Manchuria, as well as 237,000,000 yen ($47,400,000) for "replenishment of arms" of the fighting services. A considerable portion of this latter item is to be devoted to the expansion of the air forces.

Typical of frequent articles in the vernacular press viewing with alarm the prospect for national finances the Osaka-Asahi commented:

"It is a shocking condition when the combined military appropriations are 320,000,000 yen ($64,000,000), and the total proceeds of taxation only 692,000,000 yen ($138,400,000)."

The majority of the remainder of the government's income is derived from tobacco and other monopolies.

NOTORIOUS CROOK HELD IN LONDON

complishing the rare feat that made his name a legend. He escaped to the mainland in a canoe, and fled to London.

There he met, not only Chicago Mayor, but Charles Smith, an American. The two men fought over the woman and Guarin was wounded. Smith was sent to prison.

France demanded Guarin then, but he successfully claimed British citizenship and laughed with impunity followed often he was in the limelight. Once he was even suspected of taking the Mona Lisa out of the Louvre, but that proved baseless.

Now he is in jail again, a tearful old man, who begged the judge in vain to let him off because he never "had a chance" and because his wife and four children were ill.

That dispatch from Warm Springs, Ga., about the hill on which motor cars appear to coast upward might be explained. Perhaps it's the Roosevelt influence.

LABORATORY TESTS CHECK EFFICACY OF KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN

Show Why This Delicious Cereal Overcomes Common Constipation

There are scientific reasons for the success of ALL-BRAN in preventing and relieving common constipation. Laboratory investigations show that it supplies "bulk" to exercise the intestines; and vitamin B to promote appetite, and help tone the intestinal tract.

These two important food elements aid regular habits, and help do away with the headaches, loss of appetite and energy, so often the result of constipation.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is mild in action—much like that of lettuce, inside the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently cleans the intestines of wastes.

Isn't this pleasant "natural way" far more healthful than using pills and drugs—so often habit-forming!

Just eat two tablespoonsful of Kellogg's daily—enough for most types of constipation. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Besides, ALL-BRAN brings your body twice as much blood-building iron as an equal amount by weight of best liver.

Special cooking processes make ALL-BRAN first, better, more palatable. Really, it's a cereal, as used in cooking. Recipes on the red-and-green package. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

SENSE AND NONSENSE

Two Overheads Get Together

First Overhead—Did you hear about my operation? I . . . . .

Second Overhead—Your operation! Let me tell you about my operation! I had a whole department taken out at one time . . . . .

First Overhead—That's nothing. I had two vice presidents and a sales manager removed at one time, and that was only a month after I had lost eight of my clerks and a half a dozen stenographers . . . . .

Second Overhead—You don't say! Well, I have been on the table three times during the last year. The doctor made pretty deep incisions every time, too. Th . . . say that I may have to have another operation soon; there is a swollen condition in one department that ought to be reduced.

First Overhead—Isn't it sickening? Now, when I had three of my salesmen taken out, I thought I'd never get over it, but I feel fine now. It is a dreadful nuisance, but I guess it's all for the best.

Second Overhead—I suppose so. Did I ever tell you about the time they cut off my branch office? . . . . .

Glory Be!

How blessed is he who beauty sees
In clouded skies and leaf-capped trees
And foaming wave and laxy stream
And berry pie and home-made ice cream.

Three fellows—a doctor, an architect and a bols'vist—were talking together, and each claimed that his kind was the oldest and most important.

The Doctor—When Adam's side was opened to take out a rib to make a woman—that was the first surgical operation.

The Architect—Yes, but when the earth was made of chaos, before Adam's time, there had to be building plans—and an architect had to make them.

The Bolshevist—You are right, but who supplied the chaos?

Joseph—I envy that fat woman when she laughs.

Harold—Why?

Joseph—There seems to be so much of her that is having a good time.

The ideal wife is one who doesn't treat her husband as though she thought he was personally responsible for the depression.

Doormat Domesticity . . . . . When a woman takes in washing for two dollars a week, that's labor. When she does it for nothing, that's love!

Herbert—You are the most beautiful woman in the world.

Janice—Oh! How quick you are at noticing things.

BACKFIRE . . . . .

One thing you can say about a bicycle is that you don't have to crank it, and the thing rarely backfires . . . . .

The biggest money problem confronting women these days is how to extract it from their husbands . . . . .

Another good mental test is to figure out what becomes of the money you save since living costs became cheaper.

Judge—How did you come to cause all this disturbance?

Woman on Trial—Well, it was like this. John and I was sitting at the fire. John was reading his newspaper and I was thinking. Then I turned to him and said: 'John, sleep are awful stupid, aren't they?' And John said: 'Yes, my lamb.'

Emotion on Ice—A sign over the Rockingham Theater in Reidsville, North Carolina read:

Emil Jennings in "Passion" Cooled by Refrigeration.

Bride—I tried a cooking idea of my own, and my husband said I'd better try it on the dog first. Wasn't that cruel?

Friend—Very! And I thought your husband was very fond of dogs.
