

ACT TO REAPPOINT PAPEN CHANCELLOR

Political Factions Cannot Agree On a Cabinet Formed By General Kurt von Schleicher.

Berlin, Nov. 23.—(AP)—The reappointment of Franz von Papen as chancellor of the Reich began to be regarded as a certainty in political circles today when word came from the Nazis that they would not support a cabinet formed by General Kurt von Schleicher.

Gregor Strasser, second in command of Hitler's forces, declined to come to Berlin from Munich at the request of General von Schleicher, it became known. Dr. Wilhelm Frick, another Hitler supporter, also refused to be named as minister that he, like von Papen, would encounter determined opposition from the Nazis.

Von Schleicher accepted the tentative task of trying to form a cabinet only on condition that he could avoid a clash with the Reichstag and his failure to win over the opposition was regarded as tantamount to his yielding to von Papen, who has been serving temporarily although he has resigned.

Von Schleicher has been working for three days to secure at least a political truce if not toleration and perhaps support from a majority of the Reichstag through the winter.

Even last night the general felt confident of success, until Hitler's instructions demanded his resignation. This meant the end of his political career.

It was generally understood Schleicher was being held in reserve as the erection of a military dictatorship in case of the direst emergency.

Some political quarters in Berlin are convinced that President von Hindenburg would insist on von Schleicher forming a cabinet despite the refusal from the Nazis.

Von Papen's resignation as chancellor is expected to make several cabinet members available for appointment to the Reichstag.

Von Papen must find some way of riding himself of the Reichstag, either by a third resignation or possibly by a special six months' adjournment as an emergency measure under Article 48 in the Constitution.

The chancellor, like von Schleicher, has said he would be willing to resign from all political positions and center his efforts solely on getting the nation through the economic and social dangers of the coming winter.

GOVERNOR PARDONS COL. ZACK MILLER

Owner of Famous 101 Ranch Released From Jail On Murray's Orders.

Marshall, Okla., Nov. 23.—(AP)—His cell unlocked by a threat of military force, Col. Zack Miller waved a plainman's thanks today to a governor who's got guts and took time out to "enjoy the open spaces" of his one time empire of the range, the 101 Ranch.

Miller marched jubilantly from the Key county jail at Newkirk yesterday at dusk, pardoned by Governor W. H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray from a contempt of court conviction and imprisonment which followed his failure to pay temporary alimony to his estranged wife, Mrs. Margaret Blevins-Miller. And more than that, the rancher said he thought the sweeping amnesty order "may eliminate me" from the effect of other orders of the court, some of which have concerned the receivership under which the ranch is operated.

"I must admit, Col. Miller told a crowd of nearly a hundred friends who met him as he started home to the ranch white house, "that the jail was too confining. From now on I am going to enjoy the open spaces."

Sunday a Long Day
"Sunday was the longest day I ever spent. I read all the papers I could get hold of. I was told the worst was over. I'm glad Oklahoma has a governor who's got guts."

The executive order, presented to District Judge Claude Duval, who sent Col. Miller to jail Saturday, was honored by Sheriff Joe McQuinn only after the two National Guard officers who brought it declared they were prepared "to use force" if necessary or the judge who the sheriff would recognize the governor's right to release a civil prisoner, but the sheriff finally capitulated "under protest," saying he did so to avoid bloodshed.

The order called for Col. Miller's release "on his own recognizance" and for his parole "any and all orders and decrees of the said Judge Duval or another court in said county."

On this last phrase, Col. Miller said he would appeal the order, but he would not appeal the order because the Oklahoma constitution prohibits a prisoner from appealing an order of a court.

SEEK TO REMOVE PROBE CHAIRMAN

Colleagues of Senator Hofstadter Submit Resolution As Hearing is Resumed.

New York, Nov. 23.—(AP)—Assemblymen Abbot Low Mott and Hamilton F. Potter, Republicans, demanded the removal of Senator Samuel H. Hofstadter as chairman today as the Hofstadter legislative committee went into session for the first time since last June. Senator Hofstadter ruled them out of order.

Since the committee last met Hofstadter, a Republican, was elected a Supreme Court justice with the support of both the Republican and Tammany organizations in New York city. He was widely criticized by both Democrats and Republicans for accepting the support of both organizations.

Hofstadter ruled today that a demand for a vote on a motion that he resign was a matter for executive session only and refused to accede to a request for an immediate executive session. He directed Samuel Seabury, counsel to the committee to proceed with his presentation of evidence, which Seabury did.

Resolution Offered
As the session opened, Assemblyman Mott offered the following resolution:

Whereas, Senator Samuel H. Hofstadter, while chairman of this committee, has accepted a nomination to the Supreme Court at the hands of the local Democratic organization whose improper relations with the government of the city of New York have been the subject of investigation and exposure by this committee; and

Whereas, Senator Hofstadter's action in accepting a nomination to the Supreme Court at the hands of the local Democratic organization is a violation of the public trust; and

PROGRESSIVES WILLING TO RELINQUISH POSTS

Republicans Who Helped Roosevelt in Campaign Worked Themselves Out of Jobs, Says Norris.

Washington, Nov. 23.—(AP)—Republican Progressives who supported Governor Roosevelt for President apparently are willing that the democrats should have complete control of the Senate or organization in the new Congress, including committee chairmanships.

This was indicated yesterday by Senator Norris of Nebraska, veteran Republican Independent, who announced that he would resign if the Democrats secured a majority in the Senate.

HOLD HARTFORD MEN AFTER BANK HOLD-UP

Takes His Bodyguard Into N. Y. Court Room

New York, Nov. 23.—(AP)—A defendant and two spectators caused a stir in Supreme Court today when, on learning they carried pistols, Supreme Court Justice Philip McCook made them turn their weapons over to the clerk.

The incident occurred in the trial of a suit brought by three members of the Moving Picture Operators Union, Local 108 against Sam Kaplan, president of the local.

Ernest Gieseman, one of the plaintiffs, testified Kaplan played out his bodyguard and paid them out of union funds. Asked by Mr. Bennett, the attorney whether he knew the bodyguards, Gieseman said he did and identified four men sitting in the courtroom row.

The four were requested by Justice McCook to stand and two of them admitted they were carrying weapons.

North Brookfield, Mass., Nov. 23.—(AP)—Three bandits held a janitor and a bank official prisoner today while they robbed the North Brookfield Savings Bank of $3,900. Within two hours after the crime, two Hartford, Conn., men were arrested at Stafford Springs, Conn., and Captain Charles T. Beaupre of the State Police said they would be returned to North Brookfield and charged with robbery with armed force.

Captain Beaupre, who directed the search for the bandits from his office at the State House in Boston, said the men arrested here, their names as Gordon Nease, 435 Madison street, and William Putnam, 400 Anne street, He said he was told that four men had been arrested by the Connecticut State Police at Stafford Springs but later learned that only two men were arrested there.

Beaupre said Putnam was found to have two new $10 bills on his person and he believed they were part of the loot taken from the bank.

To Bring Men Back
Beaupre ordered Lieutenant William V. Shinkins of the Holden barracks to go to Stafford Springs with George Brown, treasurer of the bank who was told a prisoner by the bandits and bring the men back to Massachusetts.

Police officials said a search was still being made for two other men who were seen by State Police Detective David E. Smith at North Brookfield after the robbery. The two men were seen in a car leaving the town and were away in another car, taking with them most of the loot. The car was a 1931 Buick.

Three of the bandits missed the boat by starting a motor launch to cross the Connecticut river. The entire crew of a boat, which was waiting in the bank and banked at Guro, the launch, arrived at 10:30 and after confronting him with pistols, they held him up and waited until Brown arrived at 11:30. When he told them that the bank was closed, they held him prisoner until 1:00 and then forced him to open the safe.

The loot that had in Brown's car a short time later. Beupre saw four men in a car leaving the bank and registration plates starting along the highway toward Stafford Springs. He became suspicious of them and notified his boys. Later Nease and Putnam were arrested at Stafford Springs in the car. Nease and Putnam were arrested at Stafford Springs in the car. LABOR DENOUNCES "LAME DUCK" TERM

Would Have President Inaugurated At Noon On Jan. 1, Following Election.

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 28.—(AP)—The American Federation of Labor convention advocated ratification of the proposed "lame duck" amendment to the Federal constitution today and urged state federations to campaign in its favor.

Thirteen states, said a resolution adopted by the convention, have ratified the amendment, which provides that the President of the United States be inaugurated at noon January 1, and that Congress convene January 3.

In another resolution, the convention expressed approval of the "exclusive state fund plan" in the operation of workmen's compensation systems, and went on record favoring excluding private insurance companies from this field.

The committee's report declared that in Ohio, with an exclusive state fund, the cost of administration was only one per cent of the amount paid to employers, while in some cases the cost of administration by insurance companies is as high as 25 per cent.

NEW LIBRARY LOCATION

Better Type Books Being Circulated Says Miss Smith, Head Librarian At South End.

More of the better type of literature is being read at the South Branches Public Library since the institution was removed from the Eldridge house on Main street into the School Street Recreation Center. This is because books which were formerly located upstairs are now on the first floor. Books on religion, philosophy, science, and arts are much more in circulation now than before.

Miss Jeannette M. Smith, head librarian, says that the net increase for the first three months of the fiscal year, namely, July, August and September, was almost 2,000. The figures would have been much higher were it not for the period during which the library was closed when being moved. Only 15 days were left to record in the month of September which therefore showed a decrease in circulation.

The mild weather which Manchester has had until the last few days also affected the circulation, especially in the juvenile class. Many children apparently have preferred play to reading but the cold and stormy weather has had a stimulating effect on the circulation. Many favorable comments have been voiced on the new location of the library with few complaints. Adult fiction and non-fiction reading in both the east and west side branches of the library have increased.

EDUCATION

A Series of Articles Discussing Modern Methods of Training the Youth of Our Country.

The program of studies in the list of all the subjects taught in the school, such as French II and English IV. This program of studies is being changed, a subject being dropped and a new one being added occasionally. The change is always made because the needs of the pupils can be better served by an adjustment. But this shifting of subjects is quite a new thing. Formerly the studies were fixed in the list and no other would get about the list. Today the list is dropped in that subject's possible contribution to the aims of the school. Educators used to accept whatever studies were set down to teach what they could with them. But now we work from the other end; instead of beginning with the program of studies we begin with our aims and purposes and select the subjects which will do most to reach our purposes. This is the modern high school program of studies.

High school subjects have direct and indirect value. The actual training received in one subject may be applicable to some real situation. Some subjects have great value for the few people but very limited value for the majority, chemistry being a good illustration of such a subject. Some subjects, like English, have considerable value for all even though studied by a little. Many subjects offer very little when carefully examined.

Today the world is divided into consumers and producers. Formerly we were all producers of a good many things. But we have to be careful and not forget that 99 per cent of the things we produce for this reason very few school subjects should be taught to any great extent; the engineer needs many years of mathematics and electricity but only a measure of training is required by the owner of a household electrical apparatus. All people want something about the nature of fabrics regarding the wearing qualities and appearance, yet most of us do not know the details of the textile industry or agriculture. There are today very few people who are able to go into very thoroughly. This is

BUREAU ACCEPTS "BROAD ST. PROJECT"

Emergency Association To Carry Out Recommendation of Selectmen.

The extension of Broad street, begun last year to link Center street with Hilliard street on the west side of Manchester to provide a through highway to the north end, was accepted as a project of the Manchester Emergency Employment Association, Inc., at a meeting of the Board of Directors late yesterday afternoon.

Continuation of the work begun last year was recommended by the Board of Selectmen. The road was cut as far as the Turnpike, starting from Center street. It is expected that the roadbed will be completed to Hilliard street this year, and a finishing surface will probably be applied next year. This road lies just south of Center Springs pond and provides a direct route to the north end west of the South Manchester railroad tracks.

Preliminary work on the road was begun yesterday by men in the employ of the Association, and with approval of the project it is expected that a larger force will be placed on the job to speed up the work. This is the only major project undertaken by the Association before the election of the new board.

Plans for the campaign were also discussed at the meeting. The division leaders and team captains have all been selected and the team workers are now being obtained. The complete organization will total nearly 600 workers.

A delegation of painting contractors attended the meeting and discussed the arrangement of a price scale on painting jobs that will be fair to all concerned. The Association does not desire to carry on unfair and unattractive competition against established business and the meeting was arranged to iron out difficulties. It is expected that a fair wage scale will be adopted as a result of the meeting.

When official requirements for first rank shall have been completed, Manchester Camp has been invited to participate in a Grand Council Fire to be given with the Rockville group in the Episcopal church vestry.

The parish is a charge of the Dominican order. Father Baxter was reelected six weeks ago by priests of the parish in recognition of his work and achievement. It was necessary to have the approval of the Congregation of Religious in Rome and now that it is given it is the first time probably that a prior will have a third term in the same parish.

GET LONG SENTENCES

New Haven, Nov. 29.—(AP)—William Hunt, 32, and John Kelch, 27, indicted for second degree murder following the death of Detective Joseph Sullivan in an automobile were sentenced to from 14 years and ten months to 25 years after pleading guilty today to charges of manslaughter in Superior Court.

Judge Arthur F. Ellis coupled with the sentence a recommendation to the board of pardons that both men be required to serve a minimum sentence of 24 years. Sullivan was fatally injured Oct. 28, when he attempted to stop an automobile occupied by Hunt and Kelch which police charged had been stolen. The detective leaped to the running board, but was thrown off when the car collided with another auto.

Hunt and Kelch recently pleaded not guilty to the second degree murder charge and chose trial by jury. Later they withdrew their plea.

VETERANS START SUIT

New Haven, Nov. 29.—(AP)—Trial of a suit in which O. Clyde Fowler of Groton, a World War veteran, seeks to collect payment on a war risk insurance policy and other damages from the Federal government was started in U. S. District Court today.

Two similar cases brought by Raymond Tracy of Meriden, an inmate of the Newington hospital, and Raymond Cone of Stafford Springs were postponed. Cone's case will be heard at Hartford and Tracy's was scheduled for Wednesday.

NOT TO APPOINT THIRD ASSESSOR

Selectmen Have No Rights and Vacancy Must Be Filled in Town Meeting.

The third member of the Board of Assessors to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Loren C. Clifford, Jr., will not be named until the next regular town meeting, it has been definitely decided. The statutes specifically state that a vacancy can be filled only at the next regular town meeting. This opinion is voiced not only by the Board of Selectmen but by Town Counsel William S. Hyde.

Many Applicants Several applicants have been seeking the appointment believing that whoever would be named by the Selectmen would have the best opportunity at the polls in the fall of securing the office for three years. However, today's decision definitely disposes of this question.

Clerical Assistance It is believed that the Selectmen will be asked to give the assessors additional clerical assistance. This will be but a temporary position and the Board of Selectmen will no doubt select someone from the unemployed list who has good clerical training and ability. Otto F. Nelson has been prominently mentioned for this temporary position and no doubt will receive the appointment.

testified to the fact of participating in a conference with Judge Tierney Jan. 12, 1928, in relation to the will of Mrs. Margaret McCarthy; that he accompanied Judge Tierney to the Greenwich Probate Court; that Dr. McCarthy was not present at the conference. Judge Lockwood also testified to the fact that on the following day he had a long conference with Judge Tierney, with Dr. James McCarthy and his brother George, at his home and that the conference lasted from 10:30 to 1 p. m. Outside of the conference, they were intending to go to Cleveland for the funeral of Mrs. McCarthy.

Judge Lockwood said that Mr. Cummings and two members of his firm took active part in conferences on matters pertaining to the admission of the will, and the agreement entered that prevented an appeal from the admission of the will.

FORFEITS $1,500 BOND

New Haven, Nov. 29.—(AP)—New Haven police were notified today that William Mirman, 28, wanted here in connection with an attempted holdup, had forfeited a $1,500 bond in First District Court at Brooklyn, N. Y.

Mirman, police said, was to have gone on trial in Brooklyn yesterday for alleged participation in a Brooklyn robbery last June and later was to have been turned over to New Haven police.

Officials charge him with attempting to rob Michael O'Byrne, manager of a Savin Rock restaurant five years ago.

James J. Walker and Sheriff Thomas M. Farley, Walker resigned while the hearing was in progress, and Governor Roosevelt removed Farley from office.

"The legislature recognized," said Seabury, "the obvious fact that, important as it is to expose conditions that exist, it is even more important that they should be corrected. The evidence which, as counsel, I have heretofore presented to this committee has been designed to show what the facts were in reference to the city government. I have no other evidence of that character which I now wish to present to the committee."

Assemblyman Louis Cuvillier, as the proceedings got under way, requested some evidence bearing on the question of the home rule provisions of the state constitution.

"In my opinion," he said in support of his argument, "the mayor of the City of New York is virtually a mere figurehead because of his lack of the power to veto. I mean others can absolutely vote him down. I think the mayor should be mayor, the same as the governor is governor, and that he should have veto powers."

DRIVE WORKERS TO MEET IN H. S.

All Gatherings of Campaign Organization To Be Held in Big Hall.

All four meetings of the campaign organization that will handle the drive for funds of the Manchester Emergency Employment Association, Inc., which opens Monday, December 5, and closes Monday, December 12, will be held at the High School auditorium, it was announced today, after arrangements had been completed with Superintendent of Schools F. A. Verplank.

The first meeting of the organization of nearly five hundred volunteer workers will be held Monday evening at 7 o'clock. The first report meeting will be held Wednesday evening, the second on Friday evening and the final meeting on the last day of the campaign. Each meeting will start at 7 o'clock and every worker in the campaign will be expected to attend.

Each of the 12 divisions will be seated in a separate section of the hall, with a row of seats for each team, in order to facilitate the work of distribution of the necessary literature on the opening night. The hall will be placarded to assist workers in finding their respective sections.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

Monday's Assembly A special assembly was called yesterday afternoon for the three upper classes in the High school to hear H. C. Jaquith, who is on the executive staff of the Near East Foundation, and who for seven years was managing director of the Near East Relief in the Constantinople-Athens area. The assembly opened as usual with the flag salute and Rev. Elmer Thielen led the assembly in devotion. President Elmore Hutline introduced the speaker who opened his speech with an appropriate story. In the theme of his speech he expressed the desire for all Americans to realize the debt which they owe to those in the Far East.

"It was there that civilization started and Christianity came into being. America has been giving and should continue to give the people of those countries the very best she has."

Mr. Jaquith brought out the changes which are taking place in the countries overseas. Things are changing not only in the manner of dress and customs but also in methods of education, languages, and writing. Foreign people are very much interested in modern inventions and regard the skyscrapers, subways, elevated cars as things which are almost unbelievable. Mr. Jaquith spoke of several interesting incidents which had occurred during his work across and explained many customs. He explained that there was no better way of learning to become straight and tall than to put a basket of clothes on the top of your head and walk a mile or two.

Students were especially interested in his talk as it was of an entirely different nature than anything that they had heard before. There will be no assembly on Thursday of this week. There was a meeting of the Student Council late afternoon to discuss things pertaining to fall and winter activities. The debating club will be held Thursday, during the summer period.

veit against President Hoover, would follow his lead. That his announcement was not to be taken as a cleavage with the President-elect was seen in his words:

"I think that the judiciary committee is the greatest committee of the Senate and that I helped to work myself out of a job in this campaign. However, I didn't go into this fight for any personal ambition. If I took away my job it is all right. I give it up cheerfully."

Senators Johnson of California, chairman of the commerce committee, and La Follette of Wisconsin, chairman of manufactures, also gave aid to Roosevelt.

Some Democratic leaders have indicated a willingness that these men should carry on. It also has become apparent that there is no general disposition among Republican leaders to retaliate against them by taking away their posts in the present Republican organization of the Senate.

MOVING COOKING SCHOOL TO HOLLESTER STREET

Town Truck and School Janitors Doing Job — Few Changes Found Necessary.

Using a town truck and janitors from the eighth and ninth school districts, the work of moving the cooking school which has been located in the Robertson school on North School street, was begun this morning, being moved to the basement of the Hollister street school. Only a few desks and desks will be taken from the Robertson school and erected in the Union and Hollister street schools, as most of this equipment will be moved from the Oakland school, which also has been closed.

In making these changes, the janitors from the various districts have been pressed into service to eliminate moving expense. Only four rooms are holding sessions in the Robertson school and when the few remaining details are completed, the pupils will be transferred to rooms in the Union school and Hollister street school, where there is ample room.

Closing of the Robertson school for the winter will result in an estimated saving of $600 in coal bills.

 TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 29.

European opinion on the debt subject to altogether too great an extent from the cartoonists and the five cent weeklies, which are much given to picturing our debtors as a lot of cheats and grafters interested only in chiseling the United States out of its just dues and given to laughing at us behind our backs whenever we yield a point. From such sources has been derived the common belief on this side of the water that if we are only firm enough we shall get our money and be just that much better off than if we let ourselves be wheedled out of it.
 It would be a good idea if our people were to hear more from the other side. Here is what the London News-Chronicle has to say editorially about the question of default:
 It is not to be supposed that such a decision (that the duty of the government on balance is to default) would undermine British credit generally or create great surprise outside the United States.
 It is argued that the effect would be to lead other countries to follow our example and we should lose heavily by an all-around default. But some defaults have already occurred and others are certain and there is no real reason to fear that the default would be much worse than would be in any case occur.
 There is developing in Britain a widespread belief that there will be no serious penalty if the payment is defaulted and no real reason why it should be made beyond the sentimental one of keeping Britain's reputation unstained—and the importance of that reason is becoming less obvious daily to a nation that is being asked to impair its own currency system in the interest of a creditor.
 Especially is this true because a good many very conservative Britons sincerely believe that the payment would not only injure their country but ours. On this point the London Times says:
 What does directly concern
 America is the inevitable effect upon exchange and upon international trade—especially American trade—the transfer of this amount of sterling into gold or dollars. The plain fact is that it only be followed by further depreciation of sterling in terms of gold and thus place still further difficulties in the way of American's diminishing export trade. The purchase of gold or dollars to pay the instalment must reduce the quantity of goods which Britain and other sterling countries can afford to buy.
 Anybody who can doubt, from the frequency of such comment as this in the London press, that Britain is rapidly getting into a mood where default of the December 15 instalment will be easy must be very hard to convince.

these analyses of various grades of proportion:

 cent; No. 2, 4.47; No. 3, 5.57. Light bitters and ales: No. 1, 4.15; No. 2,

 5.51. Pale and stout ales: No. 1, and porters: No. 1, 6.14; No. 2, 4.73;

 No. 3, 6.03; No. 4, 3.99.

 Munich beer, 4.53; Pilsener bottle,
 3.47; Pilsener draught, 3.25; Berlin
 dark, 3.83; Berlin light, 4.58; Berlin
 welschler, 2.64.
 American beers and ales—Bottom fermentation beers (lager type):
 No. 1, 3.48; No. 2, 3.56; No. 3, 4.12;
 No. 4, 3.68; No. 5, 3.42. Top fermentation ales (British type): No. 1, 5.66; No. 2, 6.46; No. 3, 5.50.
 From the most cursory study of these figures it will be readily seen that a beer of a 2.75 per cent alcoholic content, frequently mentioned as likely to be authorized by amendment of the Volstead act, is scarcely entitled to rate as a beer at all.
 It would be in the same class as the Berlin welschler of 2.64 and its American prototype of 2.68. These rated as temperance drinks in the old days. Nobody but teetotalers drank welschler in Germany and in this state the sale of welschler did not require a liquor license. Yet there is very little difference between its potency and that of the 2.75 ac-tuals it is proposed to validate.
 It is a reasonable safe prediction that if Congress does nothing more for the relief of the liquor situation than to legalize 2.75 beer the bootlegging, homebrewing and speakeasy problem will be very little affected and that, instead of the government getting $800,000,000 a year revenue from beer it will be lucky to get $9,000,000. A 4 per cent beer could be real beer. A 2.75 per cent beer could be and would be just a gesture.

Behind the Scenes in WASHINGTON
ROOSEVELT RISES AS POWER IN NEXT CONGRESS SESSION
 Washington — Governor Roosevelt's first term will be 46 days shorter than that of any other president, thanks to prospective ratifications of the lame duck amendment.
 Nevertheless, there is some compensation in the fact that he apparently will have an extra four months between election and inauguration
 in which he will wield more power than any previous president-elect.
 President Hoover's summons of Roosevelt to Washington for a conference on the war debts was a recognition of that power. It is true that Hoover was in a bad fix because against any more moratories or any more debt relief, and he needed all the help he could get to formulate an immediate policy. But other evidences of Roosevelt's power are more impressive than that.
 Both branches of Congress this winter will be the assembly of the next Congress with its huge Democratic majorities, will be pro-Roosevelt and anti-Hoover. The Democrats already have a small majority in the House and there is a Roosevelt Senate majority as soon as you count the Republican progressives who campaigned for him.
 The situation calls for Roosevelt's guidance and there is little doubt here that he will be the dominant power in the short session.
 The Democratic leadership is committed to bring about, in House and Senate, and the leaders will be more than glad to take their troubles to Uncle Frank. The progressive Republicans are an independent lot, but the most important members of the group are committed to the theory that they can't get anywhere now except by working with the next president, who they think will co-operate with them.
 Hoover will retain his constitutional veto power, which probably would mean that Roosevelt's sponsored measure could go

MARVELOUS MANHATTAN
 By WILLIAM GAINES
 New York — A few random facts about Rockefeller Center:
 When the 12 structures of the center are completed, 225 old buildings will have been removed to make way for them (don't you hate statistics?).
 The largest structure will have more than 3,000,000 square feet of commercial floor space. Hundreds of towns are accommodated in less room.
 That "nickname," Radio City, came from the fact that 20 per cent of the rentable area in the center will be occupied by a radio corporation — the biggest tenant. Which probably means there'll be just that many more crooners wandering around loose.
 The air that patrons breathe in the two theaters of the center will be "made to order" at all seasons
 of the year, with each consumer allowed 40 cubic feet of conditioned air per minute. Too bad apartment denizens won't be able to buy some of it and take it home in cans.
 Ventilating space in the outdoor will be sound-proofed by a device created by Hiram Percy Maxim, inventor of the silencer for firearms.
 Quieting guns, one might suppose,
 was a cinch to the problem Percy faced in keeping out the elevated railway tumbler.
 The main 70-story skyscraper will have the greatest concentration of shop space of any structure in the world, on three levels. The lower level is 17 feet below the street, and six huge escalators link the three floors. What fun for the women shoppers, escalating up and down!
 Enough water to float five steamers as large as the Leviathan will be used to produce 80,000,000 pounds of steam for the center each year. And more than 500 carloads of coal will be required.
 An electric power contract calls for 88,000 kilowatt hours a year for the annual supply sufficient for some towns of 50,000 population.
 Thirty thousand persons are expected to be employed in the center — expected to. Many times that number will come and go about their business, if there is any business.
 The cost of the whole works has been estimated at $250,000,000.
 Mister, can you spare a dime for a cup of coffee.

SILENT GLOW

GELATINE STOPS HEMORRHAGES
 Gelatine, which is so familiar to us
 all in various dishes and desserts, is a protein of a peculiar nature. It is not a complete protein food; that is, it cannot sustain life if used as the principal protein food. It will, however, supplement many other proteins, making them more useful to the body and it has a number of special uses which make it distinct from any other food, the most important of which is to increase the coagulability of the blood, making gelatine very useful in controlling hemorrhages or bleeding.
 Some doctors have advised the injection of sterilized gelatine solutions directly into the blood stream,
 but I do not believe this is as satisfactory an administering gelatine by way of the mouth. When gelatine reaches the stomach, it is converted by the stomach juices into a substance called gelatose which is readily absorbed by the mucous membranes of the small intestine and causes an increase of the fibrin ferment in the blood.
 Solutions of sterilized gelatine
 may be used directly as an application on hemorrhages; for instance,
 if bleeding from the nose is severe and not readily stopped by ordinary methods, one may spray into the nose a solution containing from 5 to 10 percent gelatine. If bleeding occurs from the colon, it may often be stopped by the injection of serum containing about 1 percent solution of gelatine. Hemorrhages from the stomach are sometimes best brought under control by the use of gelatine milk. Even excessive bleeding sometimes occurs in women is often readily brought under control by the use of gelatine. Excessive gastric acidity may be neutralized by gelatine. It should be used before going to the dentist for a tooth extraction,
 if one has a tendency to excessive bleeding.
 When taken internally, as much as three ounces of the dried gelatine
 may be taken in a day, using an ounce at a time, morning, noon and night. If one prefers, some of the prepared fruit-flavored gelatine desserts may be used instead, simply dissolving a package of the preparation in a cupful of warm water and drinking it down. For local applications to stop bleeding the plain gelatine is preferable; it should be used to sterilize it, then allowed to cool. Compresses or tampons dipped in this solution may be applied to bleeding regions.
 There is some evidence to lead to the belief that the use of a reasonable amount of gelatine tends to keep the tissues and bones more youthful and flexible. At any rate, it is a wholesome food and may be used frequently. Gelatine dishes are easily prepared and are liked by almost everyone. It may be used in dessert in many forms and also makes a palatable foundation for vegetable salads.

A BOOK A DAY

SWORDS JANGLE IN GAY ROMANCE OF OLD ENGLAND

Booth Tarkington's "Wants to Be Good" was of "romantic" Adventure Tale

Booth Tarkington will probably be remembered for such completely American books as "Penrod," "Seventeen" and "The Gentleman From Indiana"; but it is worth bearing in mind that the man, when he sets himself to it, write colorful, old-world novels of romantic adventure about as well as anyone alive, and his newest book, "Wants to Be Good," is a story of English gallantry in the reign of Charles II. There is an exiled Frenchman, a buffeted dandy from Versailles, one M. de Champvallon, who sets out to amuse himself in London and falls in with a pair of rosters who get him into such a jam that death on the gallows rises
 as an immediate probability.
 Then, to complicate matters, two Quakers and their protector, seeing from the wrath of a stern government, cross his path and not Jeffrey Farnol, John Buchan or the Baroness Orczy could have got more suspense, more tense action and more purely romantic enticement
 into the tale of the gay Frenchman's escape from danger than Mr. Tarkington provides.
 Most romantic novels are peopled
 by stuffed shirts; but Mr. Tarkington's drawing has not deserted him, and the people in "Wants to Be Good,"
 all fastidiously powdered wigs and "jangling" swords are as real and as recognizable as Penrod himself.
 "Wants to Be Good," is short, is fine entertainment. Published by Doubleday, Doran and Co., it retails at

FUMP THEM
 Perhaps not enough interest is taken in such demonstrations as the current "hunger march," a division of participants in which passed through Hartford yesterday on its way to Washington. The disposition of authorities everywhere is either to have nothing whatever to do with these people or, if they are permitted to talk to officials at all,
 to make the conferences as brief
 and as meaningless as possible. It never seems to occur to any mayor, governor or other responsible public officer that it might be worth while to try to find out exactly what is in the minds of such people as those who halted briefly at Hartford.
 These are the "Reds" who once upon a time frightened Mitch Palmer but of his boots and of whom the Daughters of the American Revolution even yet retain suspicions
 as a source of peril to the nation. It would probably surprise a good many of the more nervous conservatives to discover how utterly childish they are, and how abysmally ignorant.
 So far as can be learned the purpose of the "hunger marchers" is to demand $50 in cash for every unemployed person and an additional $10 for each dependent; this to be handed over to them without regard to any local relief measures. Then they would have Congress provide some sort of unemployment insurance—otherwise the dole. Beyond that, if any of them has an idea, he has kept it to himself.
 It would be interesting if some one in authority would sit in with the spokesman of one of these groups long enough to ask a few questions. Where, for example, these demonstrators expect the money
 to come from to support a quarter of the population in idleness? And if the answer is "from taxation of the rich" and the profits of business,
 then an inquiry as to how long there would be any rich to tax and how can the profits of business support a large part of the population in addition to those engaged in it when a terrific shrinkage in national wealth shows that there is no profit whatever in business as a whole?

ZERO MARK
 All of a sudden the thermometer becomes an interesting object. Here we have been experiencing the very unusual phenomenon of the mercury
 flirting with the zero mark in November. And out on Mt. McKinley, it has just been disclosed, mountain climbers some months ago found a self-registering thermometer left there nineteen years before by one of the earlier climbing parties and which showed a registration of 95
 below zero.
 Now how many of the good little boys and girls can tell Teacher what is meant by zero? How did that point in the Fahrenheit thermometer
 come to be established?
 Everybody knows that 32 degrees above zero, Fahrenheit, is the normal freezing point for water and that 212 above is the boiling point of water under normal sea level pressure. But how come the zero?
 Herr Fahrenheit, when he set about fixing a range for a thermometer scale, busied himself with experiments seeking, for his objective, the lowest possible temperature that can be developed by water under any conditions. He found it at least in the slush created by mixing snow and salt, and right at the point where the mercury in his tube stopped going down after being immersed in that mixture he placed his zero mark. It may seem incredible that salt-and-snow slush is thirty-two degrees colder than solid ice, but it's a fact just the same. If you don't believe it try getting some of it in your shoe.
 So that's the target that the mercury is shooting at when you find it meandering far below the freezing mark and you go down street and brag about its being two or three degrees lower by your thermometer
 than anybody else can report—though they gave you D. E. C.'s for that sort of vicarious achievement.
 All of which suggests the thought that it must have been real cold up on Mt. McKinley the day that glass registered its 95.

IN NEW YORK
 New York, Nov. 29.—The tap of the first night season at the Metropolitan Opera House, which brings out diamond dripping dowagers, blue bloods and the music world's aristocracy, also brings a cheer and a song from some 40 fellows who call a "hop house" their home.
 Now that winter seems to be vast distance from Park Avenue and a hop house both in social status and actual space, but without the hop house, the Blue Book folk would be ghested of some of the stage spectacle which invariably greets the eye.
 Nights of Glory
 About two weeks before a grand opera opening, the phone rings at a couple of wide street hostesses. The voice of Jules Judal sounds over the wire.
 "All right, boys, I can use about 25 of you—and keep coming, Ses-son's ready to start." And so forth.
 There is a stirring in well used chairs. The lead of illusion is about to open. The French fellows who can spend two weeks a night in a "hop" men are about to enter the palaces of kings; they are to become soldiers of ancient armies; they are to become pilgrims and monks in a Wagnerian saga; they are to wear
 armor and fight on silk and rags.
 When it's all over and the curtain has descended, they are to return to the hop houses.
 Opera Times Clock
 Jules Judal, they are the word of the hop supers. Some have come back year after year; practically all have had at least a season's experience. He has spent months getting them out of the awkward squad and teaching them their oldest art and entrance.
 Judal, by the way, is the Met's oldest employe. He has been there for 41 years. He has charge of rehearsals.
 Digging up character types, supers and such is but one phase of his interesting job.
 First of all comes the task of getting the stars to rehearsal on time.
 If Caruso, Martinielli, Jertiza, Pons, Gigli or Tibbett might have been wanted for rehearsal at a certain hour over a period of years, it has been up to Judal to produce them without benefit of sheriff, search warrant or subpoena. He has had to become acquainted with the waking, sleeping and eating habits of hundreds of the world's great singers.
 Newcomers have often objected to his insistence.
 "Mon dieu—" they have exclaimed. "Imagine having to be somewhere at exactly eighteen minutes after two. Why not two-thirty—three—or four—"
 But Judal always gets them there, somehow or other. Most have proved good natured and on time.
 Caruso and Jertiza usually came bounding in; Tibbett is generally on hand ahead of time.
 Ah—But Vine
 One of the worst pains encountered by this patient old fellow is keeping the supers away from his wine bottles. He cannot have his supers staggering over the stage and they must arrive on time. Yet many of them, having passed through a lean summer, collect their first salary and kit for a wine place.
 Yet, oddly enough, very few are Italian, although this nationality predominates in choirs. They are usually Americans, Germans, Hebrews, Poles.
 His discipline is rigid. Offenders are docked or fired.
 They are, for the most part, a docile, willing crew; with a bit of

ANDOVER
 The subject of the sermon at the Congregational church Sunday morning was "The Ever Present God." An anthem "Jesus the Very Thought of Thee," was rendered by the senior choir, and "Fair Lord Jesus" was sung by the junior choir.
 A duet, "Just for Today" was sung
 by Mr. and Mrs. Platt.
 The parish committee will hold a meeting at the parsonage Wednesday evening.
 Friday evening at the town hall
 the Calvary Baptist quartet of Will-mantic will entertain with a program of negro spirituals. Tickets will be sold for the entertainment,
 the sale of such tickets to be in charge of Mrs. Milburn. This is to be given under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society.
 A meeting of the Christmas committee of the Congregational church was held in the parsonage Sunday afternoon. The committee is composed of Mrs. Rachel H. Stanley, Miss Amy Randall, Mrs. East-
 Platt, H. A. Thompson and the Rev.
 Wallace I. Woodin. Plans were made for a Christmas program to be given the evening of Christmas Day in the church. This will take place of the usual Christian Endeavor meeting. There will be no meeting of the Sunday school on Christmas Day but a Christmas story for the children will be incorporated in the morning service of worship.
 Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Parish and children spent Thanksgiving with the hobo in hem, yet not of the nomadic breed. In summer they often get odd jobs at outdoor parks and in the city.

 Once a rehearsal has been held and the opera is ready—the troubles of Judal are over—until the next time.

READY FOR DEFAULT
 Those persons—and they appear to be numerous—who imagine that the British government dare not default the American debt payment of December 15 because of the certain loss of British credit that would result may be taking a little too much for granted. Possibly there might not be any such credit collapse, in such an event, as we are assuming in this country that there would be.
 Certainly there is no unanimity of opinion in Great Britain that it would be worse for that country to default than it would to pay; and if the growing volume of opinion in favor of default should become definitely majority opinion the effect, as to the act of payment, would be the same whether the opinion were mistaken or not. Britain simply would not pay up.
 We have been getting our ideas of

PARANAMA CANAL CLOSED
 Balboa, Canal Zone, Nov. 29.— (AP)—The Panama canal was closed to traffic early today as 13 of the Gatun dam spillway gates stood open to pass a torrent of flood water from the Chagres river.
 Officials said a crest had been reached at 4 p. m., yesterday, but there was a possibility of a greater rise because storm conditions on the Atlantic side were continuing.
 The canal hydrographic station up the Chagres was washed out and the coffer dam at Madden dam was flooded.
 Guards at the Gamboa bridge of the Panama railroad and the Gaillard cut reported no slides had occurred.
 At Madden dam the engineer said
 the flood was a calamity to contractors, whose work will not only be delayed for two weeks, but whose equipment was submerged.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
 (Legs Swell During Fast) Question: "I" writes: "Please tell me why orange juice makes my feet and legs swell and pain me so. I am much overweight, and took the orange juice for four or five days and soon found that my feet were swelling and painful. I had to stop on account of this swelling and pain." Answer: The orange juice fast is given to patients who have swollen hands and feet. You can rest assured that, if you had continued your fast by swallowing would have disappeared. The "orange" period frequently arises on the third to fifth day of the fast and often various symptoms are produced by the stirring up of the toxins in the blood stream, some of them being swellings or pain in those parts of the body where there have been large deposits of impurities. Try the fast again and keep on fasting
 until you pass this crisis period.
 (Chased by a Nightmare)
 Question: Mr. Fred O. writes:
 "Can you advise me as to what will get rid of frightful dreams? I am 78 years of age. I am no longer asleep that am chased by a mad bull or something of that nature, which wakes me up."
 Answer: Distressing dreams are usually caused by indigestion, and when you have a nightmare or are chased by a particularly vicious bull, try to remember what you had for dinner that night and you will usually find that fried onions, cooked cheese, or garlic in your soup may be among the things responsible for inducing the indigestion which produces the dream.
 (After Eating Fruit)
 Question: Mrs. Loretta I. asks:
 "What causes my gums to get sore from eating fruit? I can't chew for a few days afterward."
 Answer: It is possible that you have some infection of the gums
 that makes them sensitive to fruit acids. I would suggest that you consult a good dentist and get his opinion.

 He was a son of Nicholas De

 Lately he had served as president

TWO KILLED IN DUEL
 Columbus, Miss., Nov. 29.—(AP)— An unexplained pistol duel in the middle of a street cost the lives of a surgeon and a business man of prominent family connection here
 last night.
 Dr. W. C. Brewer, owner of the Columbus hospital, and one of Mississippi's foremost surgeons, died almost instantly, his body punctured
 by several bullets. Charles H. Jacob, the business man, was struck only once but died on the way to the hospital.
 No witnesses came forward immediately to tell just what had happened but officers said they understood the men encountered one another in the street as Dr. Brewer left his hospital.
 There was a fusillade and both men dropped where they stood. An investigation was launched to determine the cause of the shooting.
 Dr. Brewer was 56 and unmarried.
 Jacob was 48 and survived by his widow and three children.

RECORD OF HEALTH IN NATION LAUDED

Expert Says It Is One of the Few Bright Spots in Last Three Years.

New York, Nov. 29.—(AP)—The good health record of the American people stands out as "one of the few bright spots in the past three years," Dr. Thomas Parran, Jr., New York state commissioner of health, told the National committee on the cost of medical care here today.

Attributing the decline in the death rate to "mass movement" for public health, he declared that the nation could not "go on indefinitely drawing dividends upon past investments in individual and community health."

Dr. Parran read a telegram of welcome Governor Roosevelt had sent from Warm Springs, Ga., which said in part:

"Those of us who believe that the promotion and maintenance of the public health is a vital function of government have long been concerned with the relation of medical aid to mass health."

Important Matter "Because large groups of the population seemed unable to provide themselves with adequate medical services, the problem was of major importance five years ago, when you began your studies. It is of vastly more importance now, because of the changed economic situation."

"If you have been able to show us how adequate medical care may be made available for the entire population with its tragic differences in ability to pay a million dollars, as an American citizen, am honored in this occasion to thank you for it."

The committee, whose chairman is Secretary of the Interior Ray Lyman Wilbur, has spent five years and approximately a million dollars in a study of "the economic aspect of the prevention and care of sickness."

Dr. Parran, expressing appreciation of the facts already published by the committee, voiced the hope that whatever plan for medical care was finally recommended would not "drag American citizens through experiments which have already proven to be failures in other nations."

Speaking of the work being done by the New York state department of health, he described an inquiry now being made among several thousand destitute families to determine to what extent their "basic health capital" was being attenuated by present relief measures.

PONDS HERE COVERED WITH ICE COATING

Some Have Dared Skating On Sheltered Bodies of Water But None Are Safe Yet.

The present cold wave has already made both ice skating and fishing possible in a few places although the majority of the ponds and lakes have nothing more than a glaze of ice coating. A few more days of freezing weather, however, may make both possible throughout this section.

The small pond at Highland Park was thoroughly scarred with skate marks this morning showing that it has been used for this sport. The Bolton Notch pond was used yesterday for ice-fishing as attested by numerous holes at the eastern corner near the air-station. Fishing through the ice is legal until February 1.

The first of the three lakes stretching north from Heding had a thin layer of ice this morning as did the large Globe Hollow reservoir but neither would support the weight of a dog or cat in many places. Only the small and sheltered ponds such as the one at Highland Park have any ice to speak of so parents are warned not to let their children go skating.

The weather man had predicted warmer weather so it may be several days or a couple of weeks yet before the ponds will be safe for either skating or fishing. The fact that two of them have already been used for these sports should not be taken as an indication that ponds in general are safe. Even the Bolton Notch and Highland Park ponds look anything but safe in some places.

Manchester's chief interest from a skating standpoint centers about the pond in Center Springs Park. This was coated with ice this morning but it was very thin and dangerous. A few daredevils were sliding out onto the pond in front of the clubhouse this morning but they did not venture far and seemed to act as if they feared the ice might break at any moment.

100TH ANNIVERSARY OF FAMOUS AUTHOR

Louisa May Alcott, Who Wrote "Little Women", Remembered Today.

Concord, Mass., Nov. 29.—(AP)—An old fashioned brown house, beside a modern highway in the outskirts of historic Concord, was a gathering place today of childhood memories.

Here, to Orchard house, from whose doors Meg and Jo and Beth and Amy trooped freshly forth from the mind of their creator, Louisa May Alcott, 94 years ago, came a pilgrimage of men and children to pay tribute to the author of "Little Women" on the centenary of her birth.

One hundred years ago today, Louisa Alcott was born in Germantown, Pa. Little of her life was spent there, however. Her father, Bronson Alcott, impractical dreamer and visionary, brought his family to New England soon after Louisa's birth and thereafter much of her life was spent in Boston and Concord.

It was in the house here, bought by her father, which she lived until her death, that Louisa May found the means, with her pen, that provided a livelihood for the family. Here, at the behest of the publishers for whom she had been turning out many-to-popular stories, she sat down, not over enthusiastically, to write a book for girls.

"Little Women" Since that day millions in every civilized country have read the book and are reading it today. No one knows how many copies have been sold—more than a million and a half in this country. The copyright has expired but it is still printed and still read, as its publishers well know from the childish letters that still come to "Miss Alcott."

Orchard house stands today, much as it stood when old Bronson Alcott and his wife "Marmee" lived there with their four lively daughters. Behind it rises the hill on which grew the fruit trees that gave it its name. Nearby stands the building in which the father propounded his philosophy. A picket fence, by the roadside, shelters it from the stream of automobiles that rush by.

A few doors away stands "Wayside," where for a time the Alcotts lived only to sell it to their friend, Nathaniel Hawthorne. A little farther down the road, toward the village center, preserved within the walls of a modern colonial-type building, is the Spartan-like room once occupied by Thorpan and almost across the road stands "the square, white home of that other Concord philosopher, Ralph Waldo Emerson, whose writings, so different from Louisa May's, may be found with hers in odd corners of the world.

RECREATION CENTER ITEMS OF INTEREST

There were fifty girls in the regular Monday Gym class held from 7:15-8:30 p. m. at the East Side building. In the new apparatus class for girls and women that will be held Monday nights from 8:00-8:30 under the direction of Frank Holister there were 25 at the first class last night. The regular tap dancing class had ten attending. The plunge period was attended by 40 women.

The boys' boxing class that is held every Monday had ten at the session yesterday.

The senior boxing class now has an enrollment of 12 using the equipment and instruction every Monday and Thursday from 7-8 p. m. The regular Monday night Gym class had ten at last night's drill period.

There were 20 in the men's plunge conducted from 7-8 p. m.

The regular Tuesday evening gym and game class will hold a session this evening from 7-9 p. m. at the West Side building under the direction of William Brennan.

Another Badminton session will be held this afternoon from 5-7 p. m.

Community Dance Another of the popular Community Dances will again be held this Friday evening Dec. 2 with the music being furnished by Art McKay and his Troubadours. The demand for the continuance of these dances has been so great that it is intended to have one each week for the remainder of the season. This program of three hours dancing for ten cents furnishes a wonderful evening's entertainment, with the attendance since the opening night averaging 300 at each dance. It is hoped that the public will support this feature by their patronage.

NO MORE ROOKIES Washington, Nov. 29.—(AP)—The rookie has disappeared from the ranks of the regular army. Even the youngest buck private in the service today is more or less an old timer.

The absence of the "raw recruit" is due chiefly to employment conditions which Major General Charles H. Bridges in his annual report as adjutant general says, has resulted in selecting only men who have been previous service.

Since January, the report points out, army enlistments have been confined almost entirely to soldiers who applied for re-entry within three months from the date of their latest honorable discharge.

"Beer may be on the way back, but that still leaves us wondering if the brewers are going to bring back the old-fashioned brewery houses."

HEBRON

Clair Robinson has signed a contract giving the United States Government the right to place a beacon light on his twenty acre lot on Post Hill, close to the dividing line between Hebron and Columbia.

The government authorities wanted a pilgrimage of men and children to pay tribute to the author of "Little Women" on the centenary of her birth.

3 EASY RULES FOR USING KOPPERS CONNECTICUT COKE

1 Shake less—Because Koppers Connecticut Coke is all fuel, and burns down to fine ashes that drop through the grate with very little shaking. Once a day is often enough to shake—less frequently in mild weather.

2 Use less draft—Because Koppers Connecticut Coke is High Test Fuel, it burns evenly without forcing the fire and wasting heat up the chimney. It responds at once to closing as well as to opening of dampers.

3 Fill the fire pot heaping full—You can do this without danger of smothering the fire. Koppers Connecticut Coke is lighter than coal and burns most economically and effectively when you keep a deep fire.

These 3 rules mean less work and less attention. Your Koppers Connecticut Coke fire requires less work in firing and in taking out ashes, banks perfectly and provides a steady warmth for less cost.

CONGRESSMAN DIES

Washington, Nov. 29.—(AP)—Representative James C. McLaughlin of Michigan is dead at Marion, Va.

Word of the sudden death today reached his colleagues, Representative Ketcham.

McLaughlin was dean of his state's delegation in the House, where he had served 26 years as a Republican representative from the Ninth District.

Ketcham said he had been taking a motor trip through Virginia with friends and had recently complained of "not feeling well."

Detroit, Nov. 29.—(AP)—Rep. James C. McLaughlin, found dead today at Marion, Va., was the oldest member, in point of service, of the Michigan delegation in Congress, having been first elected to the House in 1907.

He met his first defeat November 3 in the Democratic wave that swept many of his fellow Republicans out of office.

Mr. McLaughlin, whose home was in Muskegon, came to Michigan in 1864 from Beardstown, Illinois, where he was born in 1838. He was a brother of Prof. Andrew McLaughlin, noted educator and writer and head of the history department of the University of Chicago.

BELIEVE STAR INSANE

Los Angeles, Nov. 29.—(AP)—Still possessing the beauty that made her known on Broadway as "The Gloriously Golden Girl," Helen Lee Worthing, 24, former Polka girl who sacrificed a theatrical career for the love of a negro physician whom she married, today faced an insanity hearing.

The former actress was taken to the psychopathic ward of the General hospital on an insanity complaint signed by Horace Anderson, a friend, who stated Miss Worthing had threatened suicide and suffered hallucinations.

A hearing of the insanity complaint against Miss Worthing will be held in conjunction with a hearing on the application of her former husband, Dr. Eugene C. Nelson, negro physician, that she be paroled to him that he might place her in a private sanitarium.

When she sued Dr. Nelson for divorce, Miss Worthing had charged her husband with keeping her in a comatose condition by drugs. She was granted the divorce and given $300 monthly alimony.

His weekly cigarettes are "on" the Furnace

THIS winter he took the advice of friends who had learned how to get rid of the worst part of furnace tending. He's using a fuel that requires almost no shaking, and that has almost no ashes because it's so packed full of heat that there isn't much room for waste.

This extra heat makes the whole house a pleasanter place to live in. And with these advantages he's saving at least the price of his cigarettes every week. It's Koppers Connecticut Coke that gives him such splendid results.

Your family, too, will be better off if you will try this extra warm fuel. They will enjoy the more even temperature of the house that will be theirs by simply changing fuels. You don't need any attachments or machinery to use Koppers Coke. It banks well and gives you better heat day or night because it is a fuel made for home heating, by refining coal so as to reduce the waste and increase the heat.

You'll soon see why five times more people use this fuel now than did four years ago. And the first order will convince you that you can have extra money for cigarettes, or candy or whatever little luxuries you please. Call us and order a supply of Koppers Connecticut Coke, or get it from your fuel dealer. You might just as well start to enjoy the advantages of Koppers Coke now.

ROGERS ADVOCATES WATERWAYS PLAN

Assistant Secretary of State Department Speaks In Favor of Treaty.

Washington, Nov. 29.—(AP)—Expressing confidence that the St. Lawrence waterway project would be carried through ultimately, Assistant Secretary Rogers of the State Department today told a Senate foreign relations sub-committee today that the $54,000,000 estimate of the cost was "conservative" and might yield savings.

Rogers, appearing as the first witness in support of the treaty signed last July with Canada, testified the allocation of costs in that pact was "fair and just to the United States." He denied charges by project opponents that the United States would be called upon to pay, without compensation, $40,000,000 toward the project in Canada. Questioned by Senator Walsh, (D. Mont.), about the desirability of this proposed deepwater connection between the Great Lakes and the sea from an economic standpoint, Rogers said "there is no doubt the project is going to be ultimately carried through."

How Manchester Aids Its Unemployed

(Note—This is the third of a series of articles written by E. J. McCabe, Secretary of the Emergency Employment Association, for the purpose of informing the people of Manchester more thoroughly as to the purposes, policies and aims of the Emergency Employment Association.)

It is our intention in this, the third article of a series on how the Manchester Emergency Employment Association operates, to describe the purposes and function of the Works Creation Committee. This Committee was appointed by the Board of Directors and consists of E. J. Holl as Chairman and the following four members: Messrs E. J. Murphy, Leberge H. Geer, James A. Irvine and Raymond W. Goales.

How It Operates
The name of this committee may indicate the purpose of the committee but it may be of interest to our readers to know how the Works Creation Committee operates and its relations to the association and also to the unemployed who are given employment largely through the functioning of this committee. It is the duty of the Works Creation Committee to receive suggestions from the town and to consider the same and to make a study of the proposed project to determine if possible how many men can be employed and for what length of time, arriving at an approximate amount of money that will be expended through payroll, and when they have completed their study which in all cases necessitates their going over the grounds with engineers and those especially trained to give expert advice, they then report to the Works Creation Committee to bring their report and recommendation to the Board of Directors of the association.

MIDDLEWEST CATTLE FINEST AT EXHIBIT

Chicago, Nov. 29.—(AP)—This was college day at the International Live Stock Show.

Entries of undergraduates from agricultural institutions particularly from those of the midwest swept aside all competition in the early judging of fat cattle.

In the swine division they continued to maintain their grip on major honors, as they have in previous exhibitions. They also broke into the championship division in steer competition. "California sportsman," entered by the University of California, was adjudged best of Aberdeen-Angus steers, in 150-875 pound class. Iowa state college was second in this event, and Oklahoma A. & M. third.

Penn state showed the first place Berkshire Barrow, weighed 220-280 pounds; Purdue captured second and third ribbons, and Iowa State and Oklahoma A. & M. followed in order.

Again, in the 220-280 pound division, pen of three Berkshires, Penn State challenged the west by winning a first. Oklahoma was second, Purdue, third, and Iowa State fourth.

SEES DELAY AHEAD FOR FARM RELIEF

Senator Norris Fears Any Measures Passed Now Will Be Vetoed.

Washington, Nov. 29.—(AP)—Senator Norris (R., Neb.), returning to the capital today, told newspapermen he felt "anything adequate" in the way of a farm relief program that might be put through the Congress opening Monday would be vetoed.

This opinion was based on votes dealt other farm relief legislation in recent years, notably the McNary-Haugen equalization law. Farm relief probably will come before a special session, Norris said, adding that he would prefer that such a session be started next September.

Unless the relief program was very "simple and quick like debentures," the Nebraskan said, there would be no point in pushing it through a special session in the spring because it would not be in time to help this year's crop. Norris said he had no detailed farm relief program.

Asked if he had talked with President-elect Roosevelt since the latter was elected, Norris said he had not. He said he thought Mr. Roosevelt was studying the farm situation thoroughly and now was seeking to formulate a clear-cut program.

DELICIOUS CEREAL OVERCOMES COMMON CONSTIPATION

ALL-BRAN Provides "Bulk," Vitamin B and Iron

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN meets a basic need of the American diet. It supplies "bulk"—so helpful in correcting common constipation. In eleven years, ALL-BRAN has won millions of satisfied users. New tests show added reasons for the success of ALL-BRAN. Laboratory experiments prove that, in addition to "bulk," it provides vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract. The headaches, loss of appetite and energy that so often result from constipation can be overcome by this pleasant cereal. How much better than using pills and drugs. ALL-BRAN is mild. Its "bulk" is much like that of lettuce. Within the body, it absorbs moisture and forms a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes. Two tablespoonfuls daily are sufficient to overcome most types of constipation. Chronic cases, with every meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor. Another benefit of ALL-BRAN is that it has twice as much blood-building iron as an equal amount by weight of beef liver. Serve as a cereal, or use in cooking. Tempting recipes on the red-and-green package. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

PATMAN TO KEEP UP BATTLE FOR BONUS

Washington, Nov. 29.—(AP)—Representative Patman, Democrat, Texas, who sponsored the bonus bill passed by the House last session, announced to newspapermen on his return to the capital today that he was prepared to carry on the fight for payment this session.

It is the only plan yet proposed to help in the present situation," he said. "I will do what I can to secure its approval." "I am opposed to any marches on Washington this winter. "I was opposed to the bonus army coming to the city last spring. While these people have a perfect right to come, they should understand it only hurts their cause. This is just as true of hunger marchers as of bonus marchers."

THREE BURNED TO DEATH

Cedar Key, Fla., Nov. 29.—(AP)—Three prisoners were burned to death today when flames said by authorities to have been started by the men in an effort to burn holes in the floor through which to escape destroyed the city jail here.

The man arrested last night on charges of drunkenness and disorderly conduct gave his names as George M. Georgan, Theodoros Seamark and Ster Jaelm. They were members of a sponge fishing fleet.

GOVERNOR BURNED

Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 29.—(AP)—Governor William G. Conley was burned on the face and arms before a fire broke out in the basement of the executive mansion blew up, hurling him more than a dozen feet.

The governor was in bed today also suffering from shock and bruises. Physicians say he will suffer no permanent ill effects.

LABOR EMPLOYED

It is the duty of the Works Creation Committee whose project has been authorized by the Board of Directors, to advise the Job Assignment Committee of the number of men that are needed and when the men should report for work. The Job Assignment Committee selects from the association's files of registered unemployed men, the number of those who are most needy of work, which is made possible through the work of the Classification Committee and those chosen report on the job and the work commences. Foremen, engineers and all types of help are furnished from the registered unemployed list.

It might be well to advise our readers that a scale of wages paid these laborers, working foremen, engineers and various types of workmen, is set by the Board of Directors of the Association. The wage scale is set low enough so as not to be an inducement to those working through the program of the Association to such a degree, that if they would refuse to accept a position elsewhere if one could be secured. The Association does not want its employees to remain in the employ of the Association if they can possibly find work elsewhere and with the low rate of pay such as has been established by the Board of Directors, the Association feels this situation is safe.

Supervise Work
It is the duty of the Works Creation Committee to give some supervision to the work being done in connection with the approved or authorized projects of the Association and report from time to time to the Board of Directors on the progress being made and whether satisfactory or not. Men employed by the Association on these various projects are expected to do an honest day's labor, at the same time the Association is mindful that very often the men they employ are men who have been accustomed to other types of employment than that which they are assigned to.

For instance, a man may have spent many years indoors at some type of factory work or he may have been an office-man and to place this man at work as a common laborer is quite some change to him and he may not be hardened to that type of work and cannot therefore carry on with his shoveling or using the pickaxe or other tools of a laborer, with the same uniform speed as one who is accustomed to that type of manual labor. The foremen in charge of a group of men are expected to report employees who are not satisfactory and especially those, if there are any on the job, who are not willing to do their best.

Mighty Hand Labor
The Association makes an earnest effort to adopt work that will insure hand labor and although certain jobs could be done more economically with modern equipment, such as trucks, the Association has determined that the Association's duty is to give employment even if it is not the most economical way of doing the job and therefore men are employed to shovel and use wheelbarrows. The Association has been fortunate through the efforts of the Works Creation Committee in the past, to secure the use of wheelbarrows and equipment without rental charge and where dump-carts are necessary, which are usually used in preference to manual labor.

The work of the Works Creation Committee is very important to the success of the Association's program for it is through the initiative of this committee that work is created and worthwhile projects are approved and carried on, although a great deal of money has been furnished through the co-operation of the Town's people in creating jobs which they can have done at a very low cost and which might be considered a very practical investment owing to the fact that it gives employment in the town when it is so much needed and at the same time those needing the work done can have it done so inexpensively.

MANY OFFICE SEEKERS

Washington, Nov. 29.—(AP)—The victorious Democrats are really learning about the unemployment problem. Decks of Senators and Representatives almost without exception are piled high with written appeals from those who gladly would step into good jobs under the new administration.

It has been twelve years since the thousand of Federal appointive offices have been in the hands of the Democrats and the party workers are making their claims early. The applications run from Cabinet offices to postmasterhips and minor administrative offices. Some applicants are willing to take anything.

President Roosevelt will have the final say on almost all appointments, but the influence of the Congressional Democratic leaders is sought on every hand.

EXONERATES DRIVER IN DEATH OF YOUTH

Coroner Yeomans Finds Leon Covelle's Death Not Due To Criminal Responsibility.

Coroner John H. Yeomans, in his decision following an inquest into the death of Leon Covelle, 11 years old Vernon Center youth, who was killed when struck by a truck driven by William Silverman, of Tolland, has found Silverman not criminally responsible and has therefore exonerated him. Coroner Yeomans' finding is as follows:

"Leon Covelle, age 11, late of Vernon Center, was killed by a truck owned and operated by William Silverman of Tolland at Vernon Center on November 17, 1932.

"An automobile driven by Frederick Cullen had run out of gasoline which Cullen attended. Cullen started his car coasting down the slight grade in front of the school. The deceased and Charles Kanter, age 7, ran out from the school yard and attempted to secure a ride on the rear of the Cullen car. Leon jumped on the left bumperette and Charles, who was unable to get on the moving car, followed it closely. Opposite the home of Rev. W. F. Tyler, Leon jumped off the car and ran directly in front of the truck driven by Silverman, which was proceeding in the opposite direction.

"There were four eye witnesses to the incident all of whom testified that the truck was being operated at a responsible rate of speed, and that it was impossible for Silverman to avoid Leon when the latter jumped in front of the truck.

"The coroner found that said death was not caused by the criminal act, omission or carelessness of William Silverman or any other person or persons.

"Dated at Andover, Connecticut, the 28th day of November, A. D., 1932.

DOCTORS DISAGREE ON MEDICAL COSTS

Care By Groups Advocated By Some—Will Destroy Private Practice.

Chicago, Nov. 29.—(AP)—The Journal of the American Medical Association in its next issue, December 5, will impute bias to the majority report of the committee on the costs of medical care, and urge support of the minority report which was signed by members of the American Medical Association on the committee.

The editorial in the Journal, made public simultaneously today with the presentation of the report of the committee in New York, will say that the majority and minority reports "represent the difference between incitement to revolution and a desire for gradual evolution based on analysis and study."

The majority report of the committee urged that medical practice be rendered largely by organized groups associated with hospitals. The chief minority report recommended the opposite, that is, "that corporate practice of medicine be vigorously and persistently opposed."

Not a Surprise "The recommendations of the majority will not come as a surprise to the thousands of physicians who have followed closely the trend of the studies as indicated by the reports published from time to time since 1927," the Journal will say. "The director of its work, Harry H. Moore, Ph. D., published a book called 'American Medicine and the People's Health,' which revealed his personal bias for insurance schemes and, indeed, for governmental practice."

"So definite was the trend of the committee's studies in this direction that one must view the expenditure of almost a million dollars by the committee and its final report with mingled amusement and regret. x x x "The rendering of all medical care by groups or guilds or medical societies has been one of the pet schemes of E. A. Flint, who probably was chiefly responsible for establishing the committee on the costs of medical care and in developing funds for its promotion. x x x

"The Journal has pointed out repeatedly that such practices will mean the destruction of private practice; that they represent exploitation of physicians for the gain of business; that they put medical schools into unfair competition with their own graduates and that they are, in a word, unethical. Knowing the composition of the committee on the costs of medical care, it is interesting to find the pet plans of many of its members so sweetly elaborated in the majority report."

The editorial will conclude: "The American Medical Association, through its board of trustees, supports the minority report. No doubt the house of delegates, at its session in Milwaukee next June, will urge every physician affiliated with the association to do likewise."

USE CAUCUS RULE IN VOLSTEAD VOTE

If Forced To Do It Democrats Need Only 80 Votes To Win Out.

Washington, Nov. 29.—(AP)—The iron rule of caucus may be invoked by the Democratic House leadership to bind wavering colleagues in line for outright repeal of prohibition when Congress meets Monday.

Several chiefs plan to make the suggestion to Speaker Garner, with Saturday in mind as the caucus date.

The vice president-elect who drafted the repeal resolution said yesterday he thought it unnecessary to resort to this means, but later several prohibitionists and some who favor outlawing the saloon, approached their leaders with the word that if bound by caucus rule they would vote repeal.

Should the Democrats bid their 230 members and wet Republicans cast eighty votes, the resolution would be adopted and sent to the Senate by a fair margin.

It requires a two-thirds majority to approve a resolution amending the constitution, or 280 if all of the 485 members are present and voting. There are four vacancies however, and the Speaker usually votes only in case of a tie. The Senate also must pass on the question before it is submitted to the states.

The House judiciary committee has been called by Chairman Sumners to report the repeal proposal Friday. Sumners says that no hearings are necessary and that the committee can act by Saturday.

Should the judiciary committee fail to report the measure favorably, Garner will ask Representative Rayner of Illinois, party floor leader, to move for its consideration under suspension of rules. Debate would be limited to 40 minutes.

Bingham in Favor Senate members generally have taken the position of waiting to see what the House does on both repeal and beer, but the speedy action sought by Garner on repeal was defended by Senator Bingham (R., Conn.).

"When the prohibition experiment was adopted," said Bingham today, "The Senate spent thirteen hours in debate and the House acted in a single day's session of seven hours. That was an entirely different proposition than confronts us today. Congress was embarking on the nation on a new and untried social experiment. We have studied National prohibition for thirteen years and we know it is a failure.

"I think Speaker Garner is justified in the course he is pursuing in the House. Let those who now complain recall their own tactics."

WOMAN IS REARRESTED Danbury, Nov. 29.—(AP)—After being found not guilty in the traffic court here last night in a trial which lasted two and a half hours on a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor on Oct. 14, Mrs. Frances Hunt, aged 43, who lives at 27 Judd street, Waterbury, was re-arrested as she stepped from the courtroom on a warrant charging her with driving while under the influence of liquor, reckless driving and evading responsibility in Monroe about a year ago. Mrs. Hunt was taken to the Danbury jail where she spent the night as her counsel, Attorney William K. Lawlor of Waterbury vainly tried to secure bail.

Police said that Mrs. Hunt had been arrested in Monroe a year ago and had been released without bail after which she moved from Brewster, N. Y., where she had been living at the time, and the police had been unable to locate her, until she was arrested here last month.

FINDS MONEY MACHINE SMASHED IN CEMETERY

Heavy Looter Thought Guilty of Theft in Order to Get Back Coins He Had Lost.

A dime jack-pot slot machine was found in the East cemetery near the toolhouse recently and police now have the machine which was turned over to them by Alexander Duncan, caretaker at the cemetery. The thief or thieves probably acted between 8:30 and 9:30 by their act.

Two stray dimes were still lodged in the machine when Mr. Duncan discovered it Friday morning. The break was undoubtedly made Thanksgiving night. It is taken for granted that the jack-pot was loaded, also the machine would not have been stolen. The jack-pot nets close to $30 and there might have been an overdraw sum of three or four dollars in dimes.

It is thought that the person responsible for taking the machine might have been someone who had lost considerable money in a vain attempt to hit the three-bar combination which releases the jack-pot and therefore decided to get his money and the jack-pot by smashing the machine. Such cases have been known to happen in the past. The chance of hitting the jack-pot combination is said to be one in more than a thousand.

The place from which the machine was stolen did not report the loss to the police.

Week-end MURDER

GABRIELLE E. FORBUSH

REGIN HERE TODAY

AMOS PEABODY, elderly cousin of LINDA AVERILL, falls to his death from the second floor balcony of the Averills' Long Island home. Linda reaches him just before he dies, in time to hear him gasp, "He pushed me—"

Linda, realizing her cousin had tried to tell her he was murdered, rushes upstairs to the balcony. Someone steps behind her, tries to strangle her and she falls in a faint. Her husband, TOM, sees her fall and rushes to her. There are four guests in the house and they all appear. The guests are: MR. STANTLANDER, business associate of Tom's; CAPTAIN DE VOS, handsome Belgian; MARVIN FRATT, former editor of Linda's; and LIAN SHAUGHNESSY, Irish writer. Each of them have quarreled with Cousin Amos.

DR. PARSONS takes charge. It is assumed Cousin Amos' death was accidental and that Linda fainted from shock. When she is finally able to tell Tom what happened she persuades him that they must keep the four guests with them until they discover who is the murderer. They are unexpectedly aided in the plan when DR. BOYLE, official medical examiner, sends word that everyone in the house must remain until he has questioned them. Boyle is on a fishing trip and cannot return for several hours.

Tom and Linda discuss the situation. Tom says Fratt is the only one against whom they have definite accusations. Linda says, "Oh yes, we have. Against one other man"

NEW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XVIII

Tom showed his surprise. "What do you mean?" he asked.

"Don't you remember what you told me about Mr. Shaughnessy?" Linda was deadly in earnest now. "Tom, why should he be up then, much less prowling around? An hour before you'd helped him up the stairs—drunk!"

"Well, no, I don't remember, Binks."

"Near enough! Did you see him start to undress?"

"No, I didn't need to stay. I was tired myself and he was able to navigate all right. Gosh, it seems a month ago instead of this very morning!"

"I was thinking— he'd been drinking, Tom, and he was quarrelsome, even the little I could see. Of course they all had trouble with Cousin Amos but Mr. Shaughnessy had been snubbed outrageously and he's proud as Lucifer. No matter how he hid it he'd never forgive the way Cousin Amos talked to him that night at dinner. He probably could have gotten into the house somehow."

Tom's frown of concentration stopped her. "You know, Linda, I can't remember locking that door last night."

"The front door when we came in? I didn't see—oh, of course, you came up later after you took him over."

"Yes, I was hot and tired and pretty well angled on to nerves by our delightful guests. Wanted to get my clothes off and get to bed."

"You don't usually forget."

"I may not have. Just can't remember doing it. One of the ordinary bits of routine that simply doesn't register either way."

"You said you didn't see him to bed."

"You mean he could have followed me?"

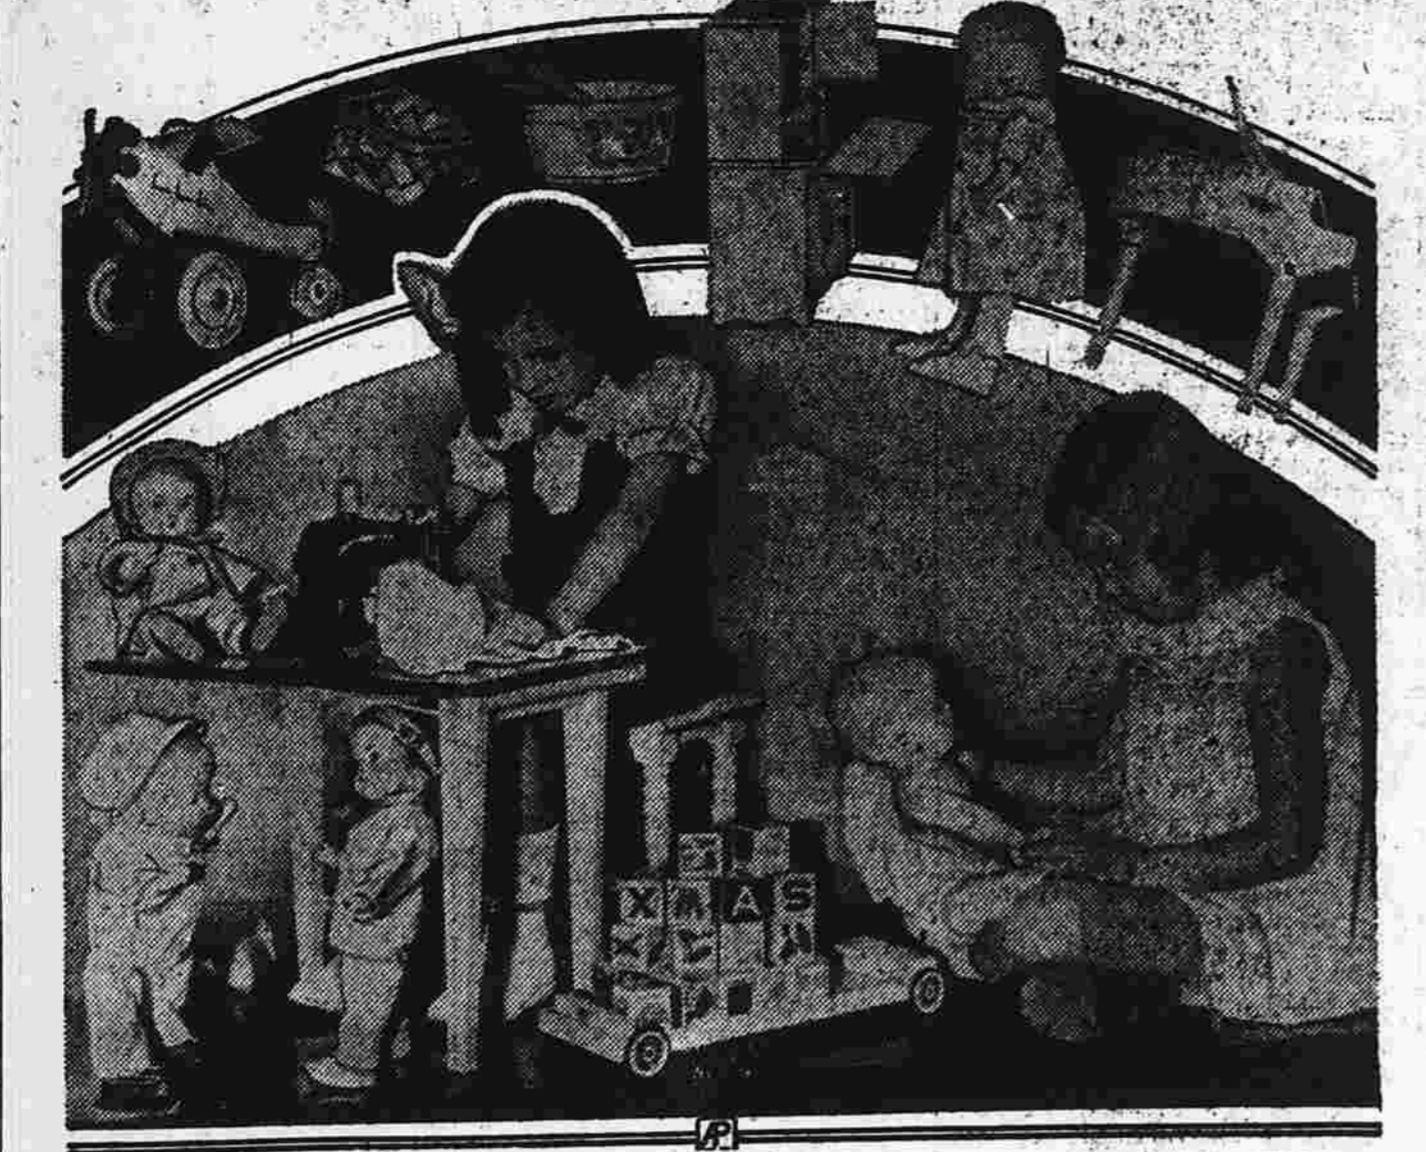

"No, not exactly. But I was thinking that he might have waited you from the window. He could have noticed that—if you'd just hurried in and left the door open."

Tom made a gesture of weariness and distance as he went into the house and threw the old man over the balcony, how could he choke you and then show up on the terrace as I came up?"

"He could—that's just what I was figuring." Her voice was excited, her eyes bright. "Look, Tom, you were climbing on the raft—you saw me wave and a man behind me—and you dove. While you were in the air or under water he could step over me, run across the little balcony and into the nursery. It's empty and the nursery eavesdrop opens at a touch. By the time you were swimming in—"

"I see what you mean. You think Pratt came across the hall

Christmas? Sure, Toys Are Ready; And They Do New Tricks This Year

Boys and girls will have plenty of playthings with which to pretend they're growups this Christmas, for that seems to be the idea of toy manufacturers. Such things as miniature sewing machines, kitchen cabinets, washing outfits, tiny baby grand pianos, and of course, a variety of dolls, took the eyes of grownups as well as children at a recent New York toy show.

New York (AP)—Christmas still is two months away, but Santa Claus has his pack of toys ready. And they're trickier than ever this year. Mechanical ingenuity has been stretched to such a point that the new playthings shown at a recent exhibit here not only amused the youngsters, but also made their elders marvel.

For instance, even such a scientific term as "remote control" has found a place in toy making. The very latest thing is a little truck which moves forward, reverses and dumps its load in response to a button 15 feet away. This electrical contraption may sound expensive. But the fact is, its price is relatively reasonable.

More complex grimcracks cost less this year than the less imaginative toys of a few seasons back. There is a miniature firehouse with a spring winding attachment. The alarm sounds, the doors fly open and the truck speeds out. There is a tiny telephone which says "hello" in a squeaky voice when the earpiece is taken from the hook.

For young sister there is an electric stove which really will bake mud pies (that is if young ladies like to play with mud pies), and there is a diminutive vacuum cleaner which actually cleans.

The toy trains are finer than ever and their systems of trackage so complicated that their fascination is irresistible to the adult. The autos are as elaborately equipped as the costly gasoline engines after which they're modeled. And the trains and autos likewise are cheaper.

Aviation does not inspire so many toys this year, but the ones on display are far superior. Dolls are more versatile and an interesting experiment is being made with rubber bodies. This makes them more life-like, the makers explain; also, it is claimed, they don't break. Doll wardrobes are as extensive as the 1932 debutantes.

PATIENT'S INABILITY TO SWALLOW DEMANDS DELICATE TREATMENT

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEN, Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

It is rarely that a paralysis attacks just the muscles of the tongue, the palate and the throat. Far more frequently such a paralysis is a part of a paralytic condition affecting other portions of the body. The physician determines the extent of the paralysis by studying the actions not only of the muscles of the tongue, the palate and the throat, but also of the muscular system generally.

There are certain conditions in which swallowing is extremely difficult, if not impossible, which do not represent actual changes in the nerves and muscles but which are probably due to mental stimuli.

There was a time when it was customary to treat such patients by passing increasingly larger probes or sounds down the throat. It is now realized that spasms of the muscles may be due to the actual changes in the tissues but that they are also due in some instances to mental stimuli.

People who suffer with difficulties in swallowing are likely to do without necessary foods. As a result they lose weight, become anemic and weak. Naturally they are without appetite, and what physicians call "a vicious circle" develops.

This means that the patient breaks down because unable to partake of satisfactory nourishment, and cannot partake of satisfactory nourishment because of conditions such as lack of appetite or weakness brought about by the breakdown.

The introduction of any sound, or stretching instrument, into the throat requires the most delicate technique and should never be undertaken by anyone except a physician especially competent in such a procedure.

In those cases in which there can be shown to be some mental reason for failure to swallow satisfactorily, the condition should be viewed from a psychological point of view. An attempt must be made to determine the underlying disturbance, in which case satisfactory explanation or understanding of the situation may bring about a cure.

On the other hand, when inability to swallow is due to some actual change in the tissues, bringing about narrowing, constriction or spasm of the muscles involved, treatment is directed to relief by dilating the constriction or by the use of preparations which act as sedatives, through the nervous system, and thereby prevent spasms of the muscles involved.

These conditions demand the utmost care and skill for diagnosis and treatment.

COULDN'T SAY NO

"How could you let the young Frenchman kiss you?"

"Well, he asked me in French, and I wanted to show him that I understood."—Answers.

OVER THEM ALL

"How are you getting on with your job, Bill?"

"Fine, I've got five men working under me now."

"Really?"

"Did you ever try tying a knot in your handkerchief?"—Tit-Bits.

"Don't Dress" Means Sunday Supper Frock

By JOAN SAVOY

Sunday night supper dresses are the darlings of this season's crop of clothes. You can wear them anywhere where your hostess says, "Don't dress" but doesn't mean it! They have a charming dignity yet informality about them that makes it a pleasure to don them.

There are three noticeable fashion facts they all have in common; no matter what color you pick, what fabric or what touches of trim.

They are all long, to ankle or floor. They all have some kind of attractive sleeves, more often short than long. They all have the high neckline in front, even when they drop away to a deep V in the back.

You can indulge your preference for red if you want to. Or you can have one of the new black dresses or a black and white combination or black with a metal cloth top. Of course there are greens and greens and blues and all kinds of other color combinations. I merely mention the ones that have the largest number of buyers.

If you do want red, a lovely ruby colored velvet dress (right) is out of princess lines, with puff sleeves trimmed with just that glittering gemstone things, ask, a band of twinkling rhinestones. It has a low-cut square back and a high-cut square front to its neckline. The little belt of the material fastens in the back in a flat bow.

If you prefer a black-white combination, black velvet joins a novelty white lace (left) to make a stunning Sunday night frock. The lace is a very large pattern, all outlined in silver so that it gives the effect of a rich brocade, from a distance. The lace has simple wide sleeves, and a demure round neck, fastening in the back with a green button, like the two on the peau d'ange belt.

GLORIFYING YOURSELF

Weariness May Be Psychological

If you are over 35, beware of that "tired feeling" that makes folks sorry for you.

Believe it or not, often it is such a psychological problem that beautifying is the answer, not medicine, not rest.

Every woman over 35 should redouble her efforts to appear well-groomed at all times. This has nothing to do with the newness of your attire. It has much to do with the condition you keep it in, however.

More than that, it means the way you fix your hair, keep your face clean and made-up, your hands well-manicured, your posture proud and lithe.

Instead of forgetting to make-up, the woman over 35 should do it often, though more secretly perhaps than the younger. It is a sad fact that older women seem more apt to get snuggled on their noses, stringy hair hanging down over their ears or at the back of the neck. Cultivate the habit of taking five minutes of every two hours to make sure you are still looking your very best.

Now, if it is real fatigue you feel, do something about it! I doubt if there is a soul living who would not re-arrange her life so that she gets more real rest. It may mean going to bed the second you have dinner. All right, it is worth it! Eat lightly and early and turn in.

It may mean giving up luncheon dates that fatigue you. Try eating alone in a quiet place, and resting for 15 minutes afterwards.

Women over 35 should lead a selective life. Don't be afraid to refuse invitations out. Don't pile if you do not get them. Your first duty is to feel your very best and look it. You can't, if fatigue lines show in your face.

YOUR CHILDREN

OLD-FASHIONED SPANNING SOMETIMES NEEDED

"Good morning, sir. Can I interest you in shirts?"

"I'm afraid not, although I've lost mine."

This brought no smile to the agent's face. "I won't insist but I'd like to tell you I am selling three for the price of one."

The man behind the desk looked hard at his interrupter. "Say, John, are you selling shirts or tombstones? Your face is a mile long. You won't sell anything in a thousand years with a face like that. Times are hard but buck up. Here I'll take three."

"May I sit down? I—I'm—"

He dropped into a chair but made no move to open his case.

"What is it? Are you sick?"

Martha Runs Around

"No, I'm all right. I'm in trouble. I did mean to worry you. Here, I'll show you the patterns and take your measure. Thank you very much, sir."

"Tell me. Never mind the shirts for a minute."

"Well—The man drew a deep breath. "I was arrested this morning. I'm out on bail. I have to go Friday for a hearing. You see it's my daughter. She's fourteen. I have five children and my wife's dead. I have been good to them, sent them to school and church and Sunday school and given them as good a time as I could, and although we haven't much to live on, I've managed to dress and feed them pretty well."

The rest are happy nice children and so was Martha until a year ago. Then she got to running around with a wild crowd of kids and staying out 'til all hours. I've worried myself sick. I've talked to her, and tried to get her to bring her friends home. But no, sir, she wouldn't! Just laughed at me and talked back."

Arrested for Spanking Her

"Then I found a note from—well, never mind. I told her she couldn't go out that night, but she said she had to. So I said, 'Very well, then. Nine o'clock. She went out and came home at two."

"I thought it all out. There was only one way I could see. When she came back I whipped her—hard—it was the only way I knew."

"She screamed like a, well, I guess people thought I was murdering her, she yelled that. I was. The neighbors came in. They sent for a policeman and arrested me. Me—a respectable man who was trying to save his child!"

He stopped, a tear trickled down his face. "What are the marks?"

No-go on. What happened?"

"They took Martha to some woman's house. They were all patting her and telling her never to mind that it was a shame. All that kind of talk. They think she's a martyr and I am a demon. I saw her today. She didn't look at me. They're not going to let me have her again, ever, they say. She was my little girl. I loved her—But I've got that note to show the judge and a lot of friends for character witnesses. I've worked hard and steady 'til I lost my job."

All for the Best

"Say—John, I beg your pardon—what is your name anyway—I'm interested in this case. I'm going to that hearing. I have some questions to ask. I'm much thinking on the subject that we need a few more fathers like you to put the fear of God into some of our young people today. If I get a chance I'll say so, too."

"Thank you! Thank you! I don't worry so much about the hearing as whether I did right or not, to whip my girl. I always loved her, even better than the rest. I was losing my mind worrying."

"I think," said the man behind the desk, "that you did right."

DEFLATED

"Many high-pressure salesmen are now modestly working for what little they can get."

"Ten" (representing the hearing) seems to have taken the air out of them.—Pathfinder.

QUALIFIED

BOSS: Do you think you are fit for the job?"

CLERK: (former convict) Well, maybe, I ought to be. Some of the best judges in the country seemed to think so quite often.—Answers.

SEE'S NO BARGAIN

"Do you know your wife is going about telling everybody you can't keep her in clothes?"

"That's nothing. I bought her a home, and I can't keep her in that, either."—Tit-Bits.

SHRILL HURRY BACK

"My wife is prolonging her visit. I need her at home, but it seems useless to write suggesting that she return."

"Get one of the neighbors to suggest it, old man."—Tit-Bits.

FARR'S ALPACAS OPPOSE REC FIVE HERE TONIGHT

Visitors Won New England A. A. U. Title Last Year and Fast Contest Is Expected; Church Teams In Preliminary At 7:45 P. M.

The Rec Five opposes the fast stepping Farr Alpaca team of Holyoke, Mass., tonight at the school street rec gym, the first of a series of basketball tilts between these two outfits, as the Recs travel to Holyoke on Friday night of this week for a return game.

Sherwood "Cap" Bissell will officiate and dancing will follow the games. Ben Clune, Rec pilot, stresses the point that he will have games started on scheduled time, a matter which should meet with the hearty approval of the fans.

Won Title Last Year The Farr-Alpaca team will send its strongest combination to town in an effort to halt the Rec Five. The season 1931-32 the Holyoke team won the championship of the New England A. A. U. and their present team is intact. They possess a world of speed and are fine shots, with a short passing attack. Their two outstanding players are "Chick" Mulligan at right forward and "Johnnie" Walker at left guard, said to be the best two players in western Massachusetts. Skypack at right forward, Moynihan at center and Perkowski at right guard round out the team which hopes to include the Silk Town boys on its list of victories. Thompson, Clune and Brookbank will be in reserve.

Team Pleases Clune Very much pleased with the showing of his team Saturday night in New Britain, played under unsatisfactory conditions, Clune will trot his men on the court with hope of returning to the top of the rec ladder. Holding New Britain without scoring a single point in the second half has convinced fans that they are capable of playing a fast brand of basketball, and undoubtedly will give fans an eyeful of its short snappy passing and speed. Tonight Clune will possibly start Sturgeon and Faulkner at forward, births, Widdell at center, with Dowd and Bycholski at guard. One of the most outstanding players on the Rec Five is "Whitey" Bycholski who is without a doubt one of the fastest boys on a basketball court in Manchester. In reserve will be Oplis, Falkowski, Salmonds and Campbell whom will see action before the game is over. With hopes of attaining speed Clune will make many changes in order to get the best combination.

DAVE HAMILTON HITS HIGH SINGLE OF 181

On Saturday evening, David Hamilton broke the alley record at the Y. M. C. A. with a score of 181, breaking the old record held by James Shearer by 13 pins. Mr. Shearer's mark was 168. It is understood that this record is also the highest score rolled in Manchester this year.

In the Merchants League tonight, the Professionals bowl against Watkins. The Hardware Stores bowl the A. and P. Stores and the First National Stores bow Keith's at the Charter Oak Alleys.

The Charter Oak Girls have entered the state league. The teams that finish 1st and 2nd will get a free entry fee into the National Tournament. The third team gets a half entry fee. High average receives a gold medal; high 3 string a silver, and high single a bronze medal. Teams represented: Hartford, 5 teams; New Britain, 2 teams; Middletown, Bristol and Manchester. They will enjoy a banquet at the finish. The Charter Oak Girls should make a good showing.

Y. M. C. A. League The Bon Ami made a clean sweep of Keller's Clareters at the Y alleys last night, taking all four points to gain a comfortable lead in the league. Shearer's Bulcks took three points from Mezz Barber's.

Table with columns for names and scores. Includes Bon Ami (4), Keller's (1), Hamilton (1), Mikolait (1), Elliot (1), Fike (1), Howard (1), McGuire (1), Kocofa (1), Willis (1), Miller (1), Mers (1), Hamilton (1), Mikolait (1), Elliot (1), Fike (1), Howard (1), McGuire (1), Kocofa (1), Willis (1), Miller (1).

"FREAK" HORSE IS GROOMED TO CARRY ON FOR PHAR LAP

"Ammon Ra" Is Pigeon-Toed and Bandy-Legged; Is Faster Than Other Australian Sensation.

By RUSSELL J. NEWLAND (Associated Press Sports Writer)

San Francisco (AP)—There may be nothing new under the sun but under the Southern Cross they're grooming a pigeon-toed, bandy-legged horse for an invasion of America as "another Phar Lap." Because the turf world is accustomed to things amazing in the realm of the thoroughbred, it probably will restrain the impulse to hoot at the idea of there being another such as the unforgettable "Wink O' the Sky" and that a horse with turned-in front feet could be the animal meriting association with that great memory.

They dubbed him a "freak," laughed at his awkwardness and expressed the opinion that a horse with crooked front feet and bow legs would never make a winner. The Name's Egyptian Ammon Ra turned four years old last August 1, the birthday of all thoroughbreds in his native land. In America he will be regarded as accept of another January 1, thus spanning a technical year in five months' time. That will impose an unwarranted handicap when matched with this country's horses in weight-for-age races.

Except for a white star on his forehead he is a perfect bay. He is the son of Limond-Hyades, by Hyettus. He stands sixteen hands three inches in height, two inches under the departed "Red Terror of the Antipodes"—Phar Lap. From the Egyptian language, Ammon Ra takes his name. It is a name of royalty, from the line of kings of which Tut-Ankh-Amen (King Tut) is the best known.

Better Than Phar Lap? While Ammon Ra's sponsors are not insistent on a "horse of destiny" they point out that at the same age he has won four more stakes and nearly $25,000 more than Phar Lap's record shows. At distances of a mile and less he is rated as faster than Phar Lap. Champion of New Zealand and Australia both as a two and a three-year old, Ammon Ra has never been out of the money in all his 21 starts and his amazing record includes 15 firsts, three seconds, one third and two fourths.

Volley Ball

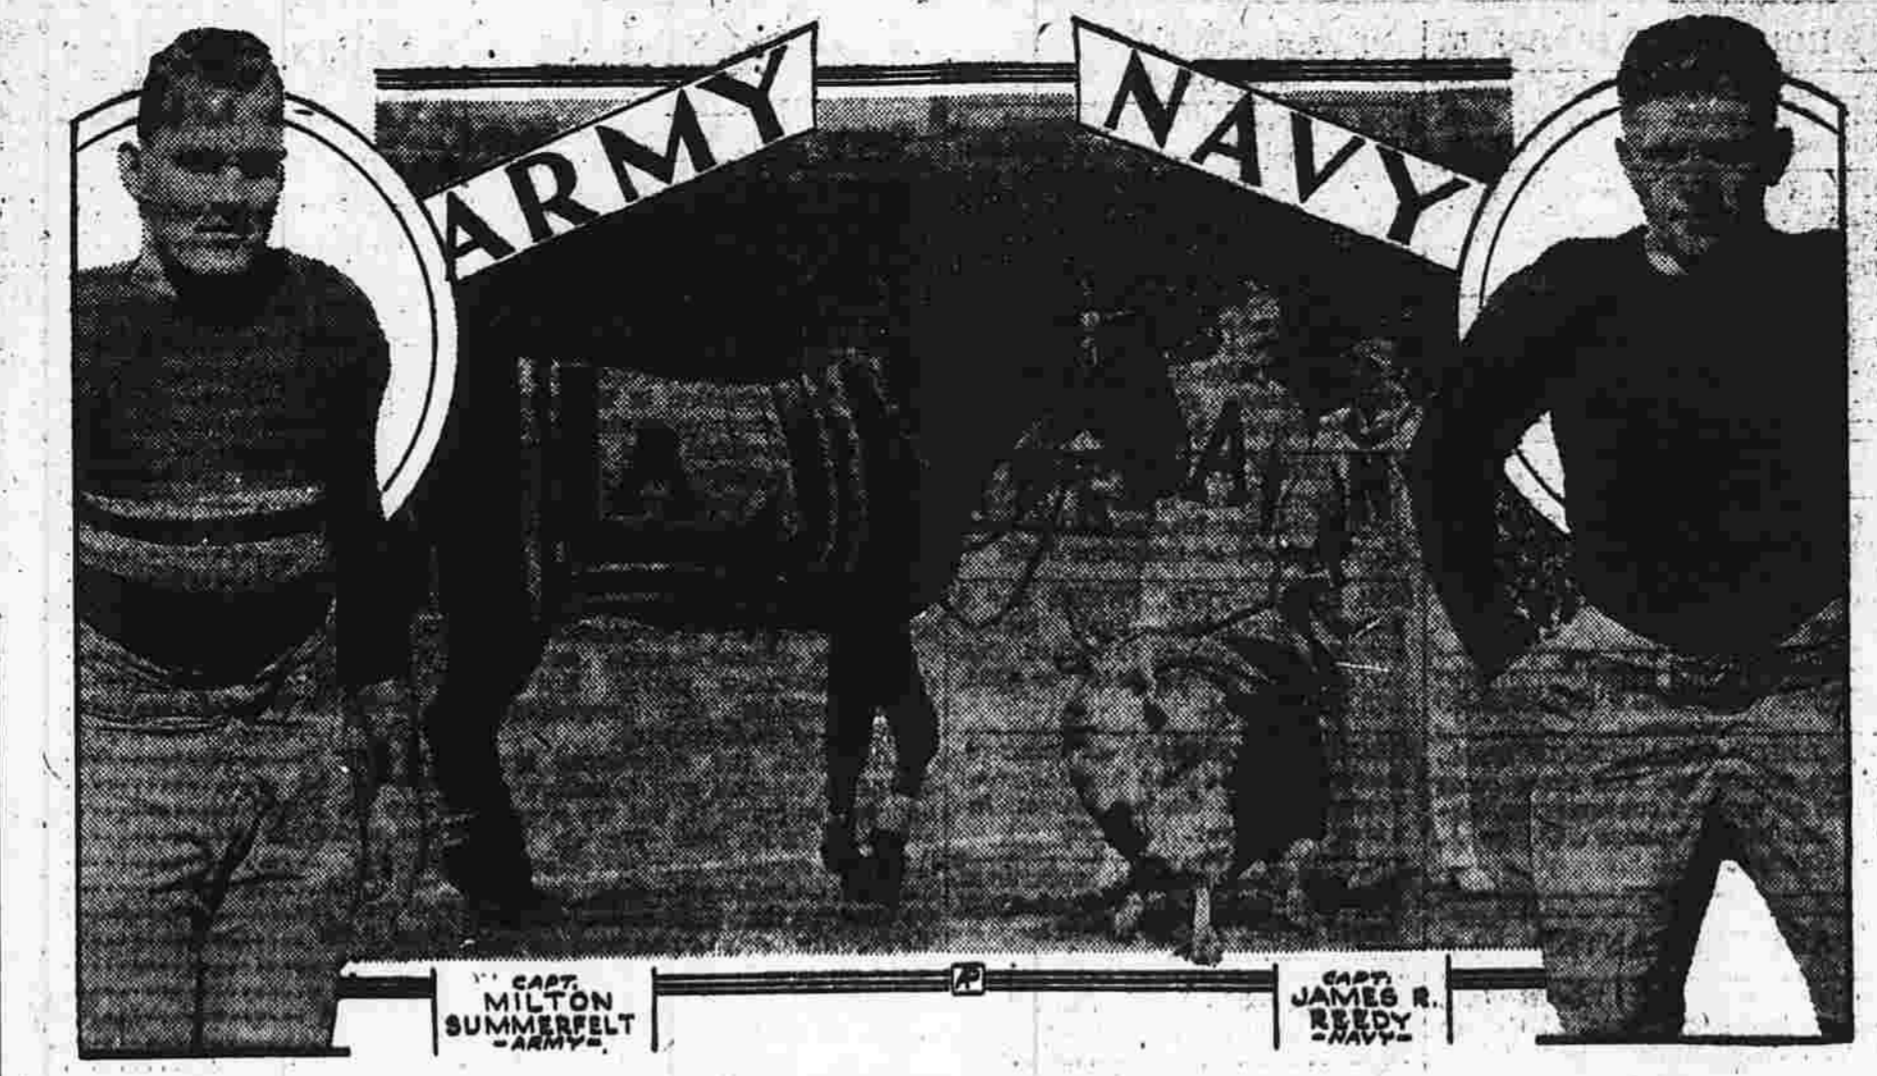

Last night's games at the West Side Rec completed the first round in the Rec Volley Ball League. The Lions hold undisputed possession of first place by virtue of a two-game victory over Captain Jack Falkowski's Leopards. The Leopards were favored to win over the Lions, but Benny Schubert guided the destinies of the Lions in Captain Hansen's absence and came under the wire with two victories to their credit. The Lions won the first two games 15-10, 15-5, but dropped the final game to their opponents, 15-8.

In the other game the Wildcats were somewhat weakened by the absence of their captain, Frank Waddell, and after winning the first game after a hectic struggle, lost the remaining two games to the Tigers. Nick Angelo did his best to pull the Wildcats through but the Metcalf, Mordowski, Chapman combination of the Tigers were a little bit too much for them to overcome. Scores: 10-12, 5-15, 10-15.

Lions: Schubert, Wiley, McConley, Maloney, Brown, Bissell, Hansen. Leopards: Smith, Gustafson, Ford, Seimann, Quinn, Woods, Falkowski. Wildcats: Anderson, Boyce, Breen, Mahoney, Hewitt, Russell. Tigers: Metcalf, Mordowski, Waddell, Corder, Chapman, Wilkinson.

Notes Next week the Lions and Tigers clash in the first game and Leopards and Wildcats in the second encounter. All the league officials are looking for now is a couple of good games. Could use Ray Hollis and George Gibbons or Gyp Gustafson or any other good men.

Army Mule Preparing To Take Another Kick At Ancient Rival, The Navy Goat

For the first time in a decade, Franklin Field at Philadelphia will be the site of this year's big blow-off between Uncle Sam's favorite service schools. They meet Dec. 3, with Army's crockerjack eleven expected to maintain its 10-year away over the Middies. But it's always a battle and a glamorous spectacle when they come together and both are doubly anxious to win their first tilt since resuming athletic relations.

SEVEN TEAMS PLACE BIG TEN ALL-STARS

Braucher Picks Four From Ohio State, Three From Michigan On First Team.

By WILLIAM BRAUCHER NEA Service Sports Editor

Players from seven teams in the Big Ten are named on the All-Star Western Conference eleven selected by the writer after conferences with coaches, sports writers and officials.

Four men from Ohio State are named on the first team. They are Gallus, guard; Rosequist, tackle; Gillman, end, and Hinchman, halfback.

Michigan, winner of the championship, is represented by three players. They are Wirtz, tackle; Bernard, center, and Newman, quarterback. Newman was the only unanimous choice of all those consulted in selection of the team.

The teams not represented on either the first or second team are Indiana, Chicago and Iowa. These three teams were overshadowed in most of their games, Iowa especially having an unfortunate year.

Two stars from one of the greatest of the teams the conference has seen in years were chosen. Moss, the end, was probably the best passer in the conference. Horstmann, the fullback, was the most consistent ground gainer in the conference, his play being reminiscent of the winning deeds of the great "Pete" Welch of other days.

Only one man was taken from Illinois, but he has proved himself to be man enough. In his third year on a mediocre eleven, Berry rivaled Newman in the accuracy of his passes and was one of the most sensational runners in the league.

To win All-America consideration when playing for a team whose record is as spotty as that of the Illinois this year is a great achievement. Berry will be named on many All-America teams.

Hinchman overcame injury and had luck to become one of the finest players in the Big Ten. About the only thing that didn't happen to him was to be dropped from an airplane. He suffered a back injury in an automobile collision; hurt his hip in the game with Ohio Wesleyan early in the season; battled with an attack of lumbago, and underwent the misfortune of having a dentist's drill run through his tongue.

NAVY IS GIVEN CHANCE TO DEFEAT ARMY AFTER NOTRE DAME DISASTER

Tars Held Ramblers To 12-0 Victory, While Cadets Lost 21-0; Series of Injuries Reported By Both Camps.

New York, Nov. 29.—(AP)—Franklin Field in Philadelphia may mark the spot where Navy beat Army at football for the first time since 1921. The 32nd renewal of tradition warfare between the two service academies, to be held Saturday, now promises much closer action than any critic previously could have anticipated. Army-Navy games generally are hard-fought affairs of course, but until Saturday the Cadets looked like certain odds-on favorites.

But the picture has changed with a vengeance. Their crack army bludgeoned into humiliating defeat by Notre Dame, Army's coaches now are faced with the Herculean task of building up the confidence the Cadets will need to whip a fast-improving outfit from Annapolis.

Comparative scores are notoriously misleading yet the fact that Navy held Notre Dame to a 12-0 score while the Ramblers routed Army, 21-0, cannot be totally disregarded. There is small reason to doubt that Notre Dame was holding plenty of tricks in reserve when playing Navy before Army's vigilant scouts yet even that hardly explains the almost incredible manner in which the Ramblers plowed through Army and made the Cadets' hitherto powerful attack look so futile.

Navy, at any rate, must have gained plenty of confidence as it watched the Army being smothered in the Yankee Stadium. Both camps have reported a series of injuries but those at West Point seem the more serious since they are the more recent. Jablonaky, Lincoln, Kopsack of the front line; and Fields, Vial and Kilday of the backfield all were badly battered in the Notre Dame disaster. At Annapolis, these half reports that Chung-Hoon, ace halfback, Campbell, Erick, Clark and Slack, all are more or less seriously hurt. Although Army has gained an edge of only 17 to 15 over the Navy in their long rivalry which began in 1890, the Tars have not succeeded in winning a game since they eked out a 7-0 decision in 1921. They have held the Cadets to two draws, in the meantime, however, including a scoreless deadlock in 1923 and the famous 21-21 stalemate of 1926. One other game, that of 1905, ended in a tie.

COMPANY G HOLDS OPPONENTS TO ONE POINT, SCORING 57

Local Team Opens Season With Amazing Victory Over Company K of Hartford; Tony Salmonds Stars

Company G of the local National Guard opened its basketball season last night at the State Armory by trouncing Company K of Hartford by the almost unbelievable score of 57 to 1, holding the visitors to a lone foul shot.

The local soldiers presented a remarkably strong defense, which the Company K players were unable to penetrate. Tony Salmonds of Company G was the high scorer of the game, totaling 11 points, while his brother, Sully, and Bycholski got 10 and 14 respectively.

The local team used only five players throughout the game and every man had a hand in the scoring. Clough of Hartford was outstanding for his team, getting the lone point accounted for by Company K.

383, 380, 380, 1093. Tom Hupke, Alabama's stocky guard, won third place when in East Chicago high school in the national interscholastic wrestling finals.

By EDWARD J. NEIL (Associated Press Sports Writer) New York, Nov. 29.—(AP)—Pittsburgh, Cornell, Army and Pennsylvania share top honors, each eleven contributing two men to the mythical all-eastern football team picked annually for the Associated Press today by sports writers.

Group honors for the second team went to Brown, with three nominees, but as a whole the choices for the reserve eleven were more widely scattered. Columbia placed two men on the second team, Army, Cornell, Pittsburgh, Fordham, Yale and Villanova one each.

Apparently the severe injury of Dick King, Army's great end, who suffered a broken leg in the Harvard game, alone kept the cadets from placing three men on the line. As it was King, rated almost unanimously by the experts as the greatest end in the country up to the time of his injury, trailed just far enough behind Joe Stalady, Pitt's burly wingman, and Joe Martinez-Sorilla, the Mexican jumping jack of Cornell, to slip to the second team along with Tony Matari, red-headed end on the Columbia eleven that lost but one game, and that to Brown by a single point.

The ballots of fifty sports writers chose a backfield that would delight the eyes of any coach in the nation. At quarterback the scribbles placed Cliff Montgomery, the lumber-hipped Columbia ball carrier who was the spark plug of Little's attack this year, a splendid passer, kicker and field general. He was the general first string choice over Bob Chase, Brown quarterback, and received more votes than any other back in the nation.

To run with Montgomery from the halfback positions, the experts chose Warren Heller, mainstay of the Pittsburgh offense, and volatile little "Pick" Vidal of Army, who ran wild all season, until stopped short by Notre Dame Saturday. There was little opposition to the choice of Captain Bart Viviano, of Cornell for fullback, a powerhouse back whose line plunging and tackling have been features of the Ithaca's play for three years.

"Howie" Colehower, a big, fast tackle, and Roy Engle, great defensive center, both Pennsylvania stalwarts, were far in front of all their Eastern rivals in the votes on the line position. Milton Sumner, of Army guard and Captain, also overshadowed his opposition. Walter Urdavinsky, Fordham tackle who was in every play, every minute of all his team's games, was the second stringer, paired with Colehower at tackle. Bob "Kewpie" Smith, Colgate captain and brilliant running guard, was picked to team with Sumner.

For the first time since the naming of all-eastern teams, two brothers, Captain Bill Gilbane, at fullback, and Tom Gilbane at center, both of Brown, made the second team, along with Bob Chase, the Bruins quarterback.

THE JUNIOR TITLE
Herald Sports Editor:

We, the members of "Cleary's Lunch" football team, sincerely thank Mr. Leo Cleary for the donation of football jerseys and heartily hope his expectations have been filled. Any man who will finance a team with jerseys and expect nothing in return except a little advertisement, has done much toward promotion of junior sports in town and deserves a lot of credit.

We thank you, Leo, and expect to be back next year with a more experienced team.

Now for a word about the statement of the Aces made as to claiming of the town junior championship. The Aces have as much nerve as a hobo asking Miss America to a dance. They have about as much claim to the town junior championship as this year's Boston Red Sox baseball club had to the American League.

The Aces were beaten by the Orioles twice, 14 to 9 and 9 to 0. They lost 14 to 0 in a return game. To the Pawnees they lost one game, 6 to 0, tied one, 0 to 0, and won one, 6 to 0. Cleary's lost to the Orioles, 6 to 0 and a return match, 9 to 7. Cleary's beat the Pawnees 18 to 0 and tied them 6 to 0, while the Orioles beat the Pawnees twice, 19 to 0 and 26 to 0. The records for the four teams in town games are as follows:

Orioles won five, lost one.
Cleary's won three, lost two, tied one.
Aces won two, lost four, tied one.
Pawnees won one, lost four, tied two.

In true sportsmanlike manner we must admit that the Orioles have the best claim to the town junior championship with Cleary's second best and the Aces third.

Thanking you for the space, we remain,
CLEARY'S LUNCH FOOTBALL TEAM.
Geno Emrico, Manager.

WYNNE AS TOASTMASTER
Hartford, Nov. 29.—(AP)—Kenneth Wynne, of New Haven, executive secretary to Governor Cross, will be toastmaster at the testimonial dinner for David A. Wilson, Democratic state chairman in the ballroom of the Hotel Bond tomorrow at 7 p. m.

More than 500 persons are expected from all parts of the state according to J. Francis Smith of Waterbury, secretary of the state committee and chairman of the dinner committee today.

JAPS' ARMS PLANS

Geneva, Switzerland, Nov. 29.—(AP)—Japan's naval disarmament plan, soon to be submitted to the disarmament conference, proposes abolition of aircraft carriers, reduction of capital ships to 25,000 tons and of their gun calibre to 14 inches, and retention of submarines.

Vice Admiral Osami Nagano disclosed these provisions today. He added that reduction in the size of cruisers and destroyers also is advocated but he would give no details.

Japan also will propose prohibition of decks and platforms on capital ships from which aircraft might take off.

"Our plan," he said, "aims to fulfill the principle, to which the disarmament conference is committed, of reducing defensive arms and reducing offensive power. But we must consider the geographical situation of each country."

"We think the submarine is a defensive weapon and therefore we oppose scrapping it, but we suggest reduction in its size. We do consider the aircraft carrier offensive, and after abolishing that weapon we suggest that it be made impossible for other ships to be used for the same purpose."

MONEY EXPANSION

Washington, Nov. 29.—(AP)—Bills designed to alleviate and end present hard times are ready for introduction in the opening days of Congress, among them being a measure by Representative Rankin for expansion of the currency.

Rankin said that the purchasing power of the dollar is 56 per cent above the average of the period from 1921 to 1929, the Mississippi Democrat's bill calls for the issuance of not interest bearing Treasury securities to be known as "Liberty Notes."

They would be issued in a minimum amount equal to four dollars per capita of the population of the country and would be used to pay the debt and current expenses of the government until the general commodity index of the country rises to 100, it now being about 64.

Some of the notes would be retired from circulation if the index rose above 100. The bill assigns the secretary of the Treasury Department the responsibility of maintaining the value of money at approximately the normal index of 100.

Rankin said there was a sufficient amount of gold in the Treasury to enable the expansion without endangering the gold standard.

SENSE AND NONSENSE

Doubtful—I've been getting threatening letters through the mail. Isn't there a law against that?

Post Office Official—Of course there is. It's a very serious offense to send a threatening letter. Have you any idea who's doing it?

Doubtful—Sure. The Woodcut Furniture Company.

A man came into a store with a very small dog under his arm. An Irishman was standing near and after a few moments of close observation he asked the stranger what breed his dog was. The man replied that he was a cross between an ape and an Irishman. "Faith then," replied Pat, "he is kin to both of us."

Rambling remarks... Everything that goes up must come down was not spoke of taxes... The best way to teach the children not to lie is not to lie to the children... One reason why girls like and make up is because the darn stuff rubs off... One way to become better off is to fall out with debt and never make up again... It's hard for a girl to tell whether her married life will be spent in patching up quarrels or in darning socks... Make way for the man who knows the way... When we try to get something for nothing, in the end we usually pay more for it... Every day something is being done that couldn't be done... Love, like hay fever, can't be hidden... Whether work is work or play is pretty much a matter of one's mental attitude... If you want to be remembered, borrow something... Love that can be stolen isn't worth stealing... If some girls are ashamed of the clothes they wear, they haven't much to be ashamed of... Quitters never win—winners never quit...

Daughter—And if he doesn't ask for it?

Maybe it is not possible to put old heads on young shoulders, but young heads have been known to nestle on somewhat older shoulders.

Glimet—Hello, old man, got your divorce yet?

Hammer—No, and I don't expect to get one, either.

Glimet—What's the reason? Did you make up?

Hammer—No, but my wife hasn't spoken to me in six months, and I don't know where I can get another like that.

Parents are queer. They spend considerable time learning babies to talk, then complain because they talk too much.

Teacher—who can give me a sentence containing the word "facinate"?

Willie—President Hoover says business seems facinate on his vest because he cannot facinate.

Caller—Doctor, I have come for my commission.

Doctor—What commission?

Caller—You had a man with a broken leg?

Doctor—Well, I dropped the banana skin that made him slip and fall.

The haggard-looking man got into conversation with the happy, care-free bachelor on their train journey to the North.

Haggard-Looking Man—Yes, "m the father of six daughters.

Bachelor—Then you and your wife have six mouths to feed?

Haggard-Looking Man—No; we have twelve. They are all married.

Young Wife (sobbing)—Oh, John, I had baked a lovely cake, and I put it on the back porch for the frosting to cook, and the d-d-dog a-d-ate it!

Hubby—Well, don't cry about it, sweetheart. I know a man who will give us another dog.

Commander John G. Mahoney and his brother officers of Dilworth-Cornell Post, American Legion, were installed last night at one of the most colorful installation ceremonies ever conducted by the local Legion post.

Harry Perkins of Hartford, state chairman of the National Revenue Committee, gave an interesting address to the members, outlining the proposals in bills now before Congress for reductions in appropriations to the National defense, and including the National Guard, Naval Reserve, Reserve Officers' Corps and Citizens' Military Training camp.

Dilworth-Cornell Post went on record aligning its members with the proper maintenance of the National defense and also passed a resolution opposing the activities of the National Legion in its efforts to attract veteran activities and appropriations.

The post voted to hold the January meeting in the Y. M. C. A. and also voted to co-operate with other veteran organizations in the "Veterans' Night" to be held in the future at the school street Rec.
