

ROOSEVELT ASSERTS HE WILL COOPERATE

Expresses Surprise That President Gave That Impression - Wanted Hoover To Name Commission.

Washington, Dec. 23.—(AP)—An exchange of views between President Hoover and Governor Roosevelt on action to meet international problems found them standing far apart today, not only as to methods but on the question of co-operation as well.

Within a few hours after Mr. Hoover had said that his successor "considers that it is undesirable for him to assent to my suggestions for co-operative action" the Governor in Albany expressed regret and surprise at the statement and asserted he had made a definite suggestion which he termed a definite offer of co-operation.

His Statement Mr. Roosevelt's statement last night said: "I am rather surprised at the White House statement issued this afternoon. It is a pity not only for this country but for the solution of world problems that any statement or intimation should be given that I consider it undesirable to assent to co-operative action on foreign problems."

"I have made to the President the definite suggestion that he select his representatives to make preliminary studies. I have asked to be kept advised as to the progress of those preliminaries. I have offered to consult with the President freely between now and March 4."

"I hope that this practical program and definite offer of co-operation will be accepted."

In making public the exchange of telegrams between the President and Governor Roosevelt, Mr. Hoover had announced his plan for appointing a commission to study war debts, disarmament and economic problems. White House attaches also released this statement by the President:

"Governor Roosevelt considers that it is undesirable for him to assent to my suggestion for co-operative action on the foreign problems outlined in my recent message to Congress. I will respect his wishes."

"Situations will no doubt develop and will be dealt with by the administration as they arise, but of course no commitments will be made for the next administration."

Roosevelt Explains In the communications Roosevelt indicated his desire to avoid fixed policies in any preliminary examinations made in the international field, leaving him a free hand to proceed in his own manner after his inauguration. He said he could not accept "an apparent joint re-

TRADE REVIEWS ARE OPTIMISTIC Journal Says Situation More Hopeful Than It Has Been For Weeks.

New York, Dec. 23.—(AP)—The weekly trade review today contained a strong note of optimism, one agency declaring that the situation "is more hopeful than it has been for many weeks."

A balance sheet of the business situation at the present time, Bradstreet's said reveals a distinct preponderance of constructive factors. The significance of the improving trend, it was stated, has been obscured by the public attention given to such unfavorable factors as the weakness in the stock market, low rate of output of the steel industry and uncertainties of the international debt problem.

BURGLARS BREAK INTO GAS STATION

Get $46 In Cash and Cigarette Vending Machine At Center and Adams Streets.

The Rackliffe Oil Company filling station located at 658 Center street at the corner of Adams street was broken into during the night and cash amounting to $46 was stolen from a drawer in a desk in the station and a cigarette vending machine recently filled with 100 packages of cigarettes was also taken from the building.

Jimmy Window Entrance to the station was gained by jimmying a large window on the west end of the building. The thieves, unable to pry open the drawer in the desk, jimmied the top of the desk, and lifted the cigarette vending machine, a small penny-operated machine, which was placed on the desk, and took it outside the building but was unopened. A small amount of pennies were in the machine. The total in value taken was about $100.

The Center street station of the Rackliffe Oil Company is operated by Francis Schiebel of 45 St. John street, and Walton Welles of 237 Center street. The station was closed last night at 10:20 and Welles discovered the burglary when he opened the station for business at 7 o'clock this morning. The papers and other material in the desk were scattered over the floor and the desk was tipped over where the thieves tried to gain entrance into the money drawer.

After ripping the top off the desk, the cigarette vending machine was taken from its stand near the floor and was made through the building, but remained in the room on the east end of the building led to the rear of the property.

Nothing Else Taken Manager Francis Schiebel and assistant Walton Welles could advance no information this morning regarding the break, other than to say that

FIND GIRL'S BODY STUFFED IN BAG

Police Puzzled Over Case; Killed On Way To Keep Appointment.

Moline, Ill., Dec. 23.—(AP)—Who killed Miss Rose Gendler, 23, department store clerk, and why, puzzled investigators today as they hunted for the body of the girl, whose death in the hope of solving the mystery. Miss Gendler's body, stuffed in a burlap bag, was found yesterday beneath a river bridge. Her skull had been crushed.

Investigators knew she had telephoned her dressmaker Wednesday night from the store where she worked about a Christmas dress. She also talked to an unidentified man with whom she made an appointment. Whether she kept the engagement remained unknown, but investigators did know she never kept an appointment with the dressmaker. The Christmas dress she ordered will be her shroud.

Police said they were convinced ransom was not the motive for the slaying although a note demanding $2,000 was found by her parents, almost at the same time the body was discovered.

One theory was that the girl was slain when she repulsed advances of kidnapers.

Preachers Kill Little Girl Trying 'to Drive Out Devil'

Linden, Tex., Dec. 23.—(AP)—Despite a purported confession, officers today continued an investigation of the death of a 5-year-old girl, allegedly at the hands of two itinerant preachers who sought to "drive out the devil" they believed responsible for her partial paralysis. Murder charges were filed against the two—Paul Oakes and his brother, Coy Oakes—and preachers were taken to prevent possible mob vengeance. Sheriff Nat Curtright said the two accused men, described by him as of the Apostolic faith, admitted they had choked the child to death in an attempt to cure her.

Marry Again After 24 Years

Twenty-four years ago Charles Likes and his wife decided they couldn't get along together. Divorced, each married again. Now, their second mates dead, Likes and his first bride decided they can't get along without each other. Here they are, in their Kansas City home, after their remarriage.

STATE'S JOBLESS PLAN MARCH TO HARTFORD

Council With Headquarters In New Haven Gives Out Details of Demonstration On January 3.

New Haven, Dec. 23.—(AP) A statement from the Unemployed Council of Connecticut whose headquarters are in this city outlined today a "Connecticut march" to the State Capitol at Hartford, Jan. 3.

A demand for "adequate relief for the unemployed and their families" will be presented to the Legislature, which the statement said opens the day. (The General Assembly meets on the fourth).

The statement said in part: "The march is a continuation of the struggle begun by the workers through the National hunger march. It is a protest against the Legislature, which the Legislature must provide adequate relief, and since budgets will be under discussion, the unemployed councils are undertaking to bring conditions to the attention of the General Assembly in the most peaceful manner at their command."

In Three Columns The statement said the "march" will be in three columns, one for workers from Greenwich, Stamford, Norwalk, Bridgeport, Stratford, New Haven and Wallingford; another for those in Danbury, Waterbury, Ansonia, Shelton, Thomaston, Bristol, New Britain and Hartford; and the third for workers in Pawtucket, New London, Plainfield, Jewett City, Norwich, Willimantic, Mansfield and Meriden.

Mobilization of the first two columns will be at Berlin and these will join the third column at Hartford. The statement said the demands will be specifically: Immediate winter relief; no evictions; no sales tax; unemployment insurance at the expense of the state and the employers.

ACTRESS DIVORCED Bridgeport, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Rita Curley of East Norwalk, former actress who played in the musical comedy "Katinsky" in the stage name of Rita Dane, was granted a divorce today in Superior Court from Harry C. Curley of New Orleans, La. She charged desertion and non-support. The couple was married in 1921.

Breaks Down This contradiction broke Calabrese down and won for Detective Foley, who was brought into the case for the first time yesterday. The credit of making the original story of the truck driver suspect.

The "tip" made is possible for almost a dozen additional witnesses to be brought before Governor John Monsani last night. Prior to yesterday the investigators were virtually without any witnesses to test the credibility of Calabrese.

Most important discovery of Detective Foley yesterday was that John E. Dabiel, a mechanic, had known of Mrs. Leach's death since Monday night, and in fact, had been taken by Calabrese to see the body in the sanitarium. Dabiel had been advised Calabrese to give himself up to police since his story of two men leaving from him on the only morning Calabrese had allowed to see the body and Dabiel's explanation for doing so failed to convince what he knew until detectives went for him last night.

PREMIER MAKES FIRST MOVE TO DISCUSS DEBTS

Paul-Boncour Personally Calls On American Ambassador and Talks Over the Situation.

Paris, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Premier Paul-Boncour suddenly and dramatically virtually launched debt negotiations with America today by personally calling on United States Ambassador Edge at the embassy.

He asked that Mr. Edge take the matter up with Washington. France may help in reaching a solution of the debt question.

Mr. Edge had let it be known to M. Paul-Boncour that he would be pleased if the premier could receive him so that he, Edge, might convey his respects to the new premier and foreign minister.

The foreign office sent no reply to this request during the day. Suddenly and without giving any notice before hand M. Paul-Boncour accompanied by Pierre de Foulquier, director of protocol, arrived at the Embassy chancellery in the Rue Chatelet and asked to see Mr. Edge.

For half an hour M. Paul-Boncour and Mr. Edge thrashed out the entire debt problem. Asks Assistance Information from American sources indicated that M. Paul-Boncour frankly expressed a desire to receive any assistance possible from the Embassy and the Washington government which would enable him to take up the debt solution of the question as soon as possible.

It is stated there was no mincing of words throughout the conference which was characterized throughout by the finest spirit of good will on both sides, and that the conversations did a great deal to clear the atmosphere.

APPROXIMATELY M. Paul-Boncour refrained from making any suggestions as to when the Chamber might alter its attitude concerning postponement of the December interest payment.

However, it was understood he did intimate to Mr. Edge his fervent hope that Mr. Edge would take the matter up with the Washington government so that negotiations might be continued uninterrupted.

Makes Other Calls M. Paul-Boncour's call was the first of a series of calls he made to the chiefs of diplomatic missions. It was the first concrete step of the new government in fulfillment of its policy announced yesterday in the Chamber of Deputies to continue negotiations with the United States, although it has taken its position necessary in view of the complexity of the American political situation due to the forthcoming change of presidents.

American circles think it would be optimistic to draw too many conclusions from M. Paul-Boncour's visit for example that the debt question will be dormant.

It was understood that M. Paul-Boncour will confer with Henry Berenger in the latter's capacity of chairman of the foreign affairs committee of the Senate and negotiator of the 1926 Washington debt settlement.

JOBLESS WAITER SHOOT TWO MEN

Then Steps On Stage Before 500 Men and Tells Them What He Had Done.

New York, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Benny Glaz, a waiter out of a job, believes that in real life—as well as in Greek tragedies—the violent action should take place offstage.

Five hundred members of Waiters Union, Local No. 1, gathered last night at Beethoven hall to nominate officers. Glaz stepped up on a stage, and mounted the stage.

"Could I see you outside a moment?" he whispered to Business Agents Jack Kasper and Mark Turkal.

SENATE VOTES DOWN BINGHAM BEER MOVE

Million Dollar Blaze; Two Burned to Death

Chicago, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Two men were burned to death and several others were injured today as a six-story elevator crammed with men was destroyed by flames.

The blaze ruined the elevator and probably a million bushels of wheat and other grains at a loss estimated at $1,000,000.

A dust explosion in the cupola atop the structure apparently touched off the granary and it became a flaming torch.

In less than an hour the blaze had swept from top to bottom, menacing nearby structures. One man was carried, fatally burned, from the elevator and another's body was thrown to a dock on the nearby Chicago river by an explosion.

Five tugs and motor apparatus brought by a half dozen special forces poured a tremendous volume of water into the burning building.

The dead were Walter Braas, a laborer, and an unidentified man. Witnesses said they believed Charles Duval, another worker in the elevator had been killed.

Braas was believed to have been standing at a window or entrance high up in the elevator. His body was tossed to the river dock by the blast.

There were 34 men in the elevator and warehouse building when the explosion occurred. At least six were injured.

Police feared several bodies might have been buried in the flaming structure.

Damage was estimated at a minimum of $1,000,000. Firemen fought for hours to control the fire from spreading to an adjacent granary which also contained about a million bushels of wheat.

Washington, Dec. 23.—(AP)—The Senate refused to take up beer legislation today.

It rejected a move by Senator Bingham (R., Conn.), aimed to get immediate consideration for the S. 3 beer bill passed by the House.

The vote was 48 against; 23 in favor of taking up the bill.

The Democratic organization opposed Bingham's attempt to call his beer bill for immediate consideration on the ground that regular procedure of study by committee was desired.

The vote was decisively against the bill. Connecticut opponent of the prohibition law, although but a few minutes before he had declared that if the measure went to the judiciary and finance committee for study and hearings, "it will just drag along."

He is now back here by the middle of February we'll be lucky," he said, adding that he felt the bill "couldn't be got through before March 4."

Enough Evidence With the remark "I see nothing to be gained by having hearings," Bingham's attempt to call his beer bill for immediate consideration on the ground that regular procedure of study by committee was desired.

The vote was not considered by Senate leaders as a test on the beer issue, because it was a narrow vote on both sides of the aisle insisting the beer bill should take the normal course of committee action.

The roll call on the Bingham motion to take up the beer bill follows: Republicans—Bingham, Norris, Fetterman, Bingham, Blaine, Davis, Grammer, Johnson, LaFollette, Moses, Oddie, Schell, Sherridge, and Watson—11.

Democrats for: Buckley, Coolidge, Copeland, Dill, Hays, Lewis, Reynolds, Trammell, Tydings, Warren, Wheeler of Massachusetts, and Wheeler—12.

Total for 23.

Those Against Republicans against: Austin, Borah, Capper, Carey, Cousins, Dale, Dickinson, Foss, Harbo, Norris, Nye, Patterson, Robinson of Indiana, Smoot, Thomas of Idaho, Vandenberg and White—31.

Democrats against: Albritton, Bailey, Bankhead, Barkeley, Black, Butler, Byrnes, Caraway, Coker, Curtis, Cullinan, Clegg, Gore, Harrison, Hays, Hull, Hiram, King, Logan, McMillin, McMillen, Robinson of Arkansas, Snapp, Smith, Thomas of Oklahoma, and Walsh of Montana—29.

Farmer Labor against: Shupert, Minnesota—1.

Total 45.

As the vote was announced Senator Robinson of Arkansas, asked if it was possible to send the Bingham bill to committee.

Senator Foss (R., Ohio), temporarily presiding, ruled this could not be done.

Changing Bingham with attempting to take "partisan advantage," Robinson denied the Democrats were delaying the beer legislation.

DEMOCRATS OPPOSED Washington, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Senate Democrats decided in conference to oppose the move today by Senator Bingham (R., Conn.) for immediate consideration of the House S. 3 per cent beer bill.

Following a hurriedly called meeting, Senator Robinson of Arkansas, Democratic leader, said it was the unanimous opinion of the Senate minority that the beer bill "can't be taken up now."

Robinson added that if Bingham persisted in his move to call for immediate consideration, he would recommend the bill to committee.

Bingham had announced he would ask the Senate to take up the beer question at once to prevent the usual committee study.

The Bingham bill has been introduced in the Senate already and committee and conference reports have been made. It is now in the Judiciary Committee.

It is expected that the bill will be reported to the Senate by the Judiciary Committee in the next few days.

SALOON LICENSE SOUGHT IN TOWN

Two Men Make Bid At Town Clerk's Office, But Don't Get It.

The first application for a saloon for Manchester was made to Town Clerk Samuel J. Turkington today. Two men appeared at the town clerk's office and asked if that was the place to make application to operate a saloon. The town clerk advised them that the prospects for opening a saloon in Manchester at present were not promising, and they went out puzzled that their request was not granted.

HOOVER APPOINTMENT

Washington, Dec. 23.—(AP)—President Hoover today named Leo O. Colbert, of Boston, to the Mississippi river commission. The commission, with headquarters at Vicksburg, Miss., supervises all improvements on the river in connection with navigation, flood control and correlated work from Capt. Guardreau, Mo., to the Head of Passes in Louisiana. Mr. Colbert was appointed as the Coast and Geodetic Survey member of the commission to fill the place of Robert L. Farris, who died last October. While Colbert's legal residence is given as Boston, he has been in the Coast Geodetic Survey since 1907, except during the period of the war when he was navigating officer of the transport Great Northern. At present he commands the Survey's vessel Oceanographer which is doing survey work on the Georges bank, off the Massachusetts coast. He is expected in Washington shortly from that duty.

The Escorial, royal palace of the kingdom of Spain, near Madrid, is the largest palace in Europe. It is so large it requires four days to go through.

EXPLOSION CAUSED LOSS OF STEAMER

Sank With Twelve Men Aboard; Had Explosives—Three Bodies Recovered.

St. John's, N. F., Dec. 23.—(AP)—The wrecking steamer Sandbeach, lost at sea early in December, was destroyed by an explosion, according to the findings of an inquiry held before Magistrate A. J. O'Reilly, at St. George's. Bringing down his conclusions today, the magistrate pointed to the fact that shattered wreckage had been found along the shore, the broken parts of a wheel, pieces of decking and parts of the cabin. The Sandbeach, which sailed from Cornerbrook for North Sydney on Dec. 3 under Captain B. M. Moody of St. Stephen, N. E., had a quantity of gun cotton and other explosive on board, left over from her salvage operations on the hull of the cruiser Raleigh at Point Amour. She carried 12 men. Further evidence that the ship had been blown up was seen in the fact that the bodies of three men out of the five seamen which were cast up on the beach in Bay St. George's, bore marks of scalding by steam.

ROAD STILL FLOODED

Caratunk, Me., Dec. 23.—(AP)—The Kennebec river continued to pour over a large stretch of the highway to Jackman and Quebec today while state highway engineers wait for awaiting a lowering of the water level. Little hope was held out for immediate relief from present conditions which prevent any passage over the road. The water and ice is 12 feet deep at points of the highway and efforts to construct a detour have so far failed. Comparatively few hunters cut off from their homes were left above the blockade today. Reports from the forks, just north of the first ice jam, said the number held up by the ice and water had never exceeded 25 to 50 at one time. Gloves have been manufactured in Czechoslovakia for more than 150 years.

GET DR. PHILLIPS FOR JOINT SERVICE

Hartford Minister To Be Speaker At Union Service At North End.

Rev. John M. Phillips, pastor of the Center Congregational church of Hartford, will be the guest preacher at the special joint New Year service of the Second Congregational and North Methodist churches, at the latter building. These services have been held monthly under the direction of the pastors and young people's societies, on the first Sunday of each month at 7 o'clock. Music is provided by the combined choirs.

Dr. Phillips is in great demand as a speaker at men's gatherings and various conferences, and the committee is highly gratified that he has accepted the invitation to come to Manchester on this occasion. His message will be appropriate to the New Year and well worth hearing. It is the desire that not only the congregations of both North Main street churches attend this service, but that people from all parts of Manchester will avail themselves of the opportunity to hear this outstanding Hartford minister.

OBITUARY

DEATHS

Donald J. McLaughlin, ten months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. McLaughlin of Woodland street, died yesterday afternoon at 4:15, after an illness of 13 days with bronchial pneumonia. The baby was the second child and only son of Mr. and Mrs. McLaughlin. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at the home, 45 Woodland street, and burial will be in the East cemetery.

Mrs. Wesley Coombs. Relatives in town have received news of the death of Mrs. Wesley Coombs which occurred yesterday in an operation at Paterson, N. J. Mrs. Coombs was stricken with an acute kidney trouble a few days ago and she was removed to the hospital. Besides her husband she leaves six children and one sister, Margaret. Before her marriage she was Miss Lucy Warnock, and the family lived on Spruce street before removing to Paterson, N. J. She was a niece of the late Thomas Hopper.

Mrs. Sarah Cohn. Mrs. Sarah Cohn of East Springfield, Mass., formerly of this town, died last night following a two weeks illness. Her son, Elyman Cohn, who conducts a men's furnishings store in the Johnson block left early today for Springfield, and details of the death are not available. Mrs. Cohn's husband, Simon Cohn, was associated with his son in business here and with his daughter, Miss Mildred Cohn and Miss Ruth Cohn, who formerly conducted the Smart Shop here.

SUICIDE VERDICT

Bridgeport, Dec. 23.—(AP)—A verdict of suicide was filed by Coroner J. Phelan this morning following his inquest into the death of Albert Natale, 20, who shot himself in the head last Friday in the home of his grandparents. The hearing was conducted by Coroner Phelan in the police barracks Wednesday. The finding shows that the youth had made a disturbing discovery from town records of Derby, concerning his parentage just prior to his death. That fact preyed on his mind which is believed might invalidate his claim to property left him under an insurance policy.

INCOME TAXES

Hartford, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Income tax return forms for the taxable year 1932 will be released from the Connecticut internal revenue headquarters here Tuesday, Jan. 3, Colonel Robert O. Eaton, collector, said today. The forms are now ready and waiting for the release date before being turned over to the postal service for delivery in all parts of the state. About 100,000 forms are being sent out to residents of Connecticut, corporations, partnerships and fiduciaries, Colonel Eaton revealed.

GIRL BURGLAR

Medford, Mass., Dec. 23.—(AP)—Police learned today they had a girl burglar to contend with. Garfield Euckland saw an attractive young woman leaving his home as he was entering. He asked what she wanted and she explained she was looking for a friend but had picked the wrong house. The girl hurried on. Euckland found his place had been ransacked and two other apartments nearby also had been looted.

ABOUT TOWN

Mrs. James H. McVeigh of Oxford street who has been suffering from quinsy sore throat for the past ten days is much improved but will be confined to her home for some time yet.

Mrs. Aristide Jobert of Maple street who has been undergoing treatment for the past four weeks at the Hartford hospital, fails to make the progress hoped for. Yesterday her son, Maurice, gave a pint of his blood for a transfusion operation.

The Kiwanis club of Manchester will entertain with a Christmas party, the 85 boys and girls who were their guests at the Hebron camp last summer for a two weeks vacation each. The party will take place Tuesday evening 12:30 in the parish hall of the Center Congregational church. R. K. Anderson will furnish the attendance price.

Nearly 400 crowded Jacob Lauter's store annex last night for the auction of men's and young men's furnishings conducted by Auctioneer George Grassadio. Considerable merchandise was sold and Auctioneer Grassadio kept the crowd laughing with his witticisms.

SPARKY VAIL TAKES PART IN A FIGHT

Boston, Dec. 23.—(AP)—The Providence Reds, last year's champions in the Canadian-American Hockey League, today are on the upward grade. The Rhode Islanders, who lost to the Bruins in a victory, turned back the New Haven Eagles last night to go into a third-place deadlock with the Springfield Indians. That tie, however, will probably be removed in the Reds' favor today when the Can-Am governors meet in New York to take action on Springfield's withdrawal from the circuit. With the Indians counted out, the Reds will be given the third rung on the circuit's ladder, a game behind the Philadelphia Arrows and two in back of the leading Boston Cubs.

The Reds' victory over the Eagles was their first of the season and their improved play was evidenced by the statistics displayed by Sparky Vail and Harold Pickens. Vail, who is usually a penalty man, was out for a roughing. It is likely that the league officials will revise the league's schedule for operation on a five-club basis during today's meeting, during which Art Ross, representing the Boston Cubs, will report that the members of that club have agreed to carry on for the remainder of the season on the co-operative plan.

GREENLEAF HAS WON 20 MATCHES IN A ROW

New York, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Undeatable in 20 consecutive championship games over a span of two years, Ralph Greenleaf of New York stood today the unchallenged king of the national pocket billiard players. Greenleaf defeated Edwin Rudolph of Cleveland, 125 to 22 last night to finish the 1932 championship tournament with nine successive victories and to retain the title he won last year with a clean sweep of 11 games. Rudolph's defeat dropped the Clevelander into a tie for second place with Young Jimmy Cras of Wilmington, Del., and Andrew Ponzzi of Philadelphia. This trio was to play off for that position today.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Mrs. Emma Wilkinson of North Coventry was admitted and Mrs. Edward Williams and infant daughter of 142 Elwell street was discharged yesterday.

PRISONER RELEASED

Atlanta, Dec. 23.—(AP)—George McCarthy of Vermont, was released from the Federal penitentiary here today on a writ of habeas corpus signed by Federal Judge Marvin Underwood. McCarthy was serving under two sentences and Judge Underwood ruled there was no provision to either sentence that the terms should not run concurrently. He also held the prisoner had completed both sentences. McCarthy was sentenced to four years in 1929 on a charge of smuggling liquor.

NOT PINNED DOWN

London.—Pins mean little to Jockey Bernard Canale. He just puts them in his mouth and swallows them—at least he did one. And it didn't prevent his riding soon after. Canale was holding a pin in his mouth while weighing out after winning a race recently. In answering a remark from the clerk the pin slipped and lodged in his throat. A doctor removed the pin and Canale rode in the next race.

MASONS TO INSTALL OFFICERS TUESDAY

Clinton G. Nichols, of Hartford, To Be In Charge, Assisted By Albert T. Dewey.

Manchester lodge of Masons at its regular communication Tuesday will install its recently elected officers. Clinton G. Nichols, of Hartford, deputy state highway commissioner, will be the installing officer.

Clinton G. Nichols and his marshal will be Albert T. Dewey, of this town. Mr. Nichols and Mr. Dewey have performed the ceremonies of installation here previously and their work is always commendable.

The communication Tuesday night opens at 7:30 and the following officers will be seated: Worshipful master, Charles H.

Bunzel, senior warden, Ernest L. Kjelson; junior warden, John McLoughlin; treasurer, Harold C. Alford; secretary, Harry R. Trotter; trustee for five years, Fred A. Verplanck; senior deacon, C. Leroy Norrey; junior deacon, Dr. Charles W. Strant; senior steward, Harold W. Walsh; junior steward, Robert McLoughlin; marshal, Robert H. Boyce; chaplain, Rev. Watson Woodruff; custodian of the work, William Walsh; Tyler, William C. Bray; organist, Sidney F. MacAlpine.

WRITES 40,000 WORDS ON SINGLE POSTCARD

New York Man Writes When He Reads About Woman Writing 701 Words.

New York, Dec. 23.—(AP)—The man who set the record for the smallest handwriting in the world way back in 1898 literally "blew up" today. Abraham L. Gancher, now 57, read of a woman who recently wrote 701 legible words on a single postcard to set what she considered a world record. "Why, that's nothing," exclaimed Gancher. "Absolutely nothing. Say, I have written at the rate of 40,000 words on a postcard. I could copy 57 of that writer's postcards on one of mine and still have space enough left to write and tell Mister Roosevelt how to end the depression." Gancher's flare for small writing started many years ago, while he was in the leather business in Waterbury, Ms. He read that a Canadian, of Detroit had written 17,000 words on a card. "So," recalled Gancher today, "I sat down and beat that record." He inscribed the toll of the battleship Maine's tragic toll of the Spanish American war on a paper one and one half by three inches. "Waterbury sportsmen offered a $25,000 challenge to any one who could beat me," Gancher said, "but that challenge never was taken up." Now, he hopes it will. "701 words—the ideal," he said. "My day, but she was just downright clumsy, that's all I can say!"

The job, in their opinion, was the work of experts. Nothing except the cash in the desk drawer, and the cigarette machine was taken, and the stock in the station was ransacked. The thieves were in the station building but a short time, it was indicated by the condition of the interior. A paystation telephone and candy vending machine in the station was not touched. Police were notified of the break and an investigation is being conducted.

Break Into E. R. Station

The South Manchester railroad station was broken into sometime during the night, but nothing was taken from the building. Entrance was gained by jimmying a window in the waiting room. Once inside the waiting room, the burglars found themselves shut off from the ticket office and they started to jimmy the door leading from the waiting room to the office compartment.

Falling in this way they removed the ticket window and entered the office. Nothing in the office was disturbed, although there was a large safe in the room that appears to have been the safe of the Chesney Brothers ticket office was similar to that of the Rockville filling station break on Center street.

MRS. HOOVER BIDS CHILDREN GOOD-BYE

Washington, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Mrs. Herbert Hoover today told a group of mothers at Central Union Mission that she was sorry not to join in their children's Christmas party this year, but that she was needed more by a President.

"One member of my family has worked so hard and so long, 'e really needs a little attention from me at Christmas time more than anyone else," she said. "Our children are out in California, three thousand miles away. Only one member of my family is here. He needs to get away from desks and work for a few days."

Mrs. Hoover told the mothers of the mission children that while they were enjoying their annual party, she would be "away out on the Atlantic ocean or on a little island where it is warm, and the sea, I hope, a little smooth."

While in the White House, Mrs. Hoover has been patron of the mission, and annually has appeared right after Santa Claus to help hand out the gifts.

Not to disappoint the children too much, Mrs. Hoover distributed to them a few Christmas baskets while an orchestra played "Jingle Bells" and pictures were taken.

CHILD MARCHERS

Trenton, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Eight state troopers carrying night sticks and city and capital police were stationed about the state house to prevent entrance of "child marchers" reported on the way to Trenton.

The marchers were reported planning to present relief legislation demands to Governor Moore. The governor, however, is at his Jersey City office.

QUICK CLEAN UP OF HOLD-UP CASE

Hartford Man With Stolen Auto Wrecks It In Southington And Is Arrested.

Southington, Dec. 23.—(AP)—A telephone call to the Southington police this morning at 5 o'clock that a man was trying to break into the home of Mrs. Winifred Leatham of Queen street, the arrest of a man on suspicion when he was found, apparently drunk, staggering along the road bleeding from the head and hands, and a wrecked car which had crashed through a highway fence and catapulted down a 50-foot embankment near the Oak Hill cemetery, has cleared up a hold-up and theft of an automobile reported to the West Hartford police.

Eugene Gallagher of 111 Bonner street, Hartford, arrived at the West Hartford police headquarters at 6:40 a. m. to report that at 3:40 a. m. on a lonely stretch of road between West Hartford and Farmington he had been held up by two men who ejected him from his automobile and then sped away with the machine.

Learning of the report upon their return to headquarters in Southington the Southington police found that the wrecked car was the one reported stolen by Gallagher and upon questioning of the prisoner they learned that he was Chester Ganetski of 53 Belmont street, Hartford. At first Ganetski claimed that he was from Providence, R. I.

Gallagher, in company with Captain Sullivan of the West Hartford police, visited Southington and Gallagher identified Ganetski as one of the two men who had held him up and taken his car. Ganetski's companion has not been located.

SAVE INSANE WOMAN

Chicago, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Dangling from the roof of the Psychopathic hospital for 30 minutes, a woman patient gave a crowd of spectators a thrill and gave attendants a furious battle as they tried to rescue her today.

The woman, Mrs. Mary Miller, 44, had tied to the roof and dashed to the edge, attendants in pursuit. They grasped her wrist as she leaped, and held her determinedly despite her efforts to break free. She bit and slashed the hands of the attendants.

WOULD BUY ASSETS

Hartford, Dec. 23.—(AP)—An offer to purchase the assets of Falloti, Andretta and Company, Inc., from the receiver for $41,000 was presented to Judge P. E. O'Sullivan in the Superior Court this afternoon by Attorney Abraham S. Borden, representing the Hartford Realization Corporation, a corporation formed within the past few days by 70 per cent of the depositors in the Falloti-Andretta bank.

HEADS MACHINE CO.

Torrington, Dec. 23.—(AP)—David Ayr, of Hartford, for many years with the Fract and Whitney Company, has been elected president of the Heads Machine Co., of Torrington at a meeting here today. Mr. Ayr succeeds John A. Coe of Waterbury who was elected chairman of the board.

ADVERTISEMENTS

SHOPPING NEWS

The Day Before
Tomorrow will be a profitable day to shop, with specials being offered in all the stores. Don't miss your share of the bargains!

Women always need compact... you can choose a lovely one from the wide assortment at Magnell's Drug Store. There are all kinds, for both loose and cake powder. A box of powder is also a welcome gift.

The Times Say Clocks
Look about you and see how many women are favoring clocked hose. A department store checked the number of customers wearing clocked hose, and found that one out of every four chose the clocks. Another tendency is a preference for hose with a gray cast, no matter what the color. This cast has a tendency to neutralize the hose, so that they blend with many costume colors.

Late shoppers will find a wide assortment of cravats at Cheney Hall Salesroom, priced from 45c to $1.25 each. Ribbonz and Tinsel Braid sold at the Hall come in packages of unusually long yardage for 5c, 10c and 15c.

Two-Way
This two-way stretch elastic that has proved so sensational a success for girdles is now being used in knitted dresses, the advantage being that they won't sag and bag. This elastic also helps the dress to fit the figure most accurately!

Foods that are difficult to get may always be found at Garonne's Market, 1089 Main street. For your holiday menus, they have strawberries, avocados, hot-house grapes, tangerines, and hot-house cucumbers and tomatoes. Your Christmas table will be unusual if you utilize these fruits and vegetables... all most reasonable in price.

Boat Salad
The appearance of a "Cucumber Boat Salad" compensates you for preparing it. The ingredients are 3 cucumbers, 2 tomatoes, 1-2 cup chopped celery, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-3 teaspoon pepper, 1 tablespoon chopped onion, cucumbers and tomatoes. Peel cucumbers and cut in halves lengthwise. Remove pulp from centers. Peel tomatoes, cut in cubes and drain off juice. Mix cucumber pulp, tomatoes, celery, salt, pepper and onion, and mix thoroughly. Fill cucumbers with mixture, arrange on crisp lettuce leaves. Garnish each portion with a sprig of parsley and serve with mayonnaise dressing.

If you haven't "her" gift yet, make it one of the exquisite Yardley cosmetics or toilet preparations, a full line of which is carried by Pinehurst Soda Shoppe. Here you'll also find Christmas tree novelties.

With Bolero
A tea rose silk "rightie, just to be different, has a bolero of all-over lace bordered with ruffling. The bodice of the gown has a deep yoke of the lace.

For fresh assortments of grand-looking Christmas packages of chocolates... visit Quin's Pharmacy. Every box is absolutely fresh.

Cider Cakes
Going to have a jug of cider around for the holiday? Then try some "Cider Tea Cakes," made with 2 cups cake flour, 2 teaspoons combination baking powder, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1-3 cup butter or other shortening, 3-4 cup brown sugar firmly packed, 2 egg yolks, unbeaten, 3-4 cup cider.

Candy for Christmas
At the Arthur Drug Store, Rubino Building, one sees a beautiful selection of popular brands of candies... Christmas wrapped packages of every description at prices ranging from 29c to $5.00.

Problem
Something we're going to find out sometime is what stores do with left-over Christmas cards. Now, if they held sales on them right after Christmas, we wonder if people would buy them for the next year.

Quin's Pharmacy has all popular brands of cigars, cigarettes and tobaccos in fresh Christmas packages... a large supply for retail shopping.

Brushes
A stiff bristle brush is best for the hair. It should be washed after every brushing; otherwise you simply brush lint back into the hair. When selecting a brush, notice the finish. You'll need a finish that won't flake off with frequent washings.

Specials tonight and tomorrow
At the Tea Room, 883 Main street, are assorted high grade nuts (no walnuts and no peanuts) at 59c lb.; salted pecans, 49c lb.; salted Cashews, 49c lb. Their fancy packages of chocolates make welcome gifts.

Window Lighting
A few families like still to use real candles in their windows on Christmas Eve. While the electric bulbs are probably more safe, there is little danger from the lighted candles if they are set on sturdy bases, and if the curtains are securely pinned out of the way, but they're never to be used when there are children in the house.

Doing one's own washing is a thankless job, as every woman knows. So why do it, when you can have the dependable service of the New Model Laundry for an almost ridiculously small amount per week? Make it a New Year's resolution to "let the New Model do it" by phoning 8072.

A Merry Christmas!

SO. M. E. CANDLE LIGHT CAROL SERVICE SUNDAY

Impressive Christmas Ceremony at Local Church Sunday Evening At 7:30.

The annual candle-light carol service will be given at the South Methodist church on Sunday evening at 7:30. In keeping with the custom of former years the choir will sing "Silent Night, Holy Night" from the lower followed by the Processional "O Come All Ye Faithful" each member of the choir bearing a lighted candle in the Processional. The program this year is devoted to carols of medieval times in which continental melody is so characteristically portrayed, and in many instances these carols have not received notation until recent years. Several numbers on the program have only recently been published and are being sung here for the first time. Most of the carols are from the folk-lore of the French, Polish and Czech-Slovakian nations, and in their extreme simplicity and tenderness are radiant with beauty. Belonging to the 17th and 18th century, they have many of them been arranged by David Stanley Smith and Edward Reed Bliss of Yale University. The translations of Professor Bliss have been most skillfully done as are the arrangements of the music by Dean Smith. In addition to these ancient types of carols have been added a few of more modern types which are always accepted as favorites whenever presented. The following are features of all the numbers are their beauties of harmony coupled with most beautiful examples of early European vocal music. G. Huntington Byles, organist and director, will play two organ numbers which are seasonal at this time, the "Pastorale" by Malein-grean, and "Noel" by Amiel.

CONGRESSMAN ILL

Washington, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Members of the office force of Representative Robert R. Butler, who is critically ill with pneumonia, said today there had been little apparent change in his condition during the night.

MAINTAIN STATE ROAD FORCE DESPITE SEASON

Number Drops Only 4 P. C. in December—Is Even Higher Than In October.

Although little highway construction work takes place normally at this season of the year because of weather conditions, the number of men employed by contractors handling projects of the Connecticut Highway Department in December has decreased only about four percent as compared with November, Highway Commissioner John A. Macdonald announced today. Entirely exclusive of the engineering, office and maintenance forces of the Highway Department, the number of men employed by contractors on state road work on December 10 was 2,307 as against 2,496 on November 10, a decrease of sixty-nine. The December figure appears particularly high for this period of the year when it is compared with 2,053 men employed on the highways during October, a month in which the fall peaks of operations is usually reached. During the period from November 10 to December 10, the number of contracts in force on highway projects increased from 196 to 210. Commissioner Macdonald stated, although the amount of money involved dropped from $2,318,907 to $2,294,384. Every attempt has been made by the Highway Department to rush operations ahead as far as available funds would permit. Winter weather will make it impossible to continue with most of the jobs, however, grading operations being about the only type of highway work that can be successfully accomplished in cold weather. This will naturally limit the employment of men by contractors during the next few months.

POST OFFICES OPEN TOMORROW AFTERNOON

Usual Half Day Closing Not To Be Observed To Care For Christmas Business.

Post offices throughout the country will keep open tomorrow afternoon to take care of the Christmas mail as thoroughly as possible. Usually post offices are closed Saturday afternoon. The local offices will close their windows at 8:00 Saturday night and their lobbies at 7:30. Mail will be dispatched Sunday night and Monday morning and special delivery letters will be delivered. Otherwise there will be no service until Tuesday morning. A spray gun has been perfected for applying ink to worn-out typewriter ribbons.

FINAL HIGHWAY JOBS FOR 1932 ARE ANNOUNCED

Bids On Six New Projects To Be Received By Department On Last Day of Year.

Highway Commissioner John A. Macdonald today announced the State Highway Department's final contract letting for the year of 1932, sealed bids upon which will be received at the department's offices in the State Office Building, Hartford, on Saturday, December 31, until 11:00 a. m. The letting will involve six new projects by which more than twelve miles of road will be improved.

The two largest jobs included in this final letting are Federal Aid Emergency Projects. The larger of them calls for nearly four miles of bituminous macadam pavement on Route No. 80 in the towns of Killingworth and Saybrook, while the other involves about two and one half miles of grading on the Sharon-Cornwall Bridge Road. One of the two trunkline jobs calls for more than two miles of bituminous macadam on Route No. 119, the Waterbury-Bristol Road. All work on the Federal Aid Projects must be completed before July 1, 1933.

The six projects were announced by Commissioner Macdonald today as follows:

Federal Aid Emergency Projects
Town of Killingworth and Saybrook: About 20,450 feet of 2 1/2 inch trap rock bituminous macadam on 5 1/2 inch trap rock base on the Killingworth-Deep River Road, Route No. 80.

Town of Sharon: About 13,514 feet of grading on the Sharon-Cornwall Bridge Road, Route No. 4.

Town of Bristol: About 11,198 feet of 2 1/2 inch bituminous macadam on 5 1/2 inch trap rock base on the Waterbury-Bristol Road, Route No. 119.

Town of Woodstock: About 8,935 feet of 2 1/2 inch bituminous macadam on 5 1/2 inch trap rock base on the North Woodstock-East Woodstock road.

THEATERS

AT THE STATE
Joel McCrea and Marian Marsh in "The Sports Parade," and Charles Ruggles in "Evenings For Sale," make up the double feature bill at the State today and Saturday. "The Sports Parade" is a thrill packed, heart-tugging drama that turns the sport racket inside out. You will enjoy this excellent story that exposes the real crookedness that is attached to some of our so-called sports. Joel McCrea as the ex-college champ, has a role that fits him perfectly. Charles Ruggles is ably assisted in making merry in the entertaining comedy drama, "Evenings For Sale," by Herbert Marshall and Sari Maritza, the new screen find. Two excellent Lionel Electric trains will be given away to some lucky boy or girl at the Saturday matinee. Wallace Beery in his latest screen production, "Flash," will be shown at the State for three days starting Sunday night.

AT THE CIRCLE
Lewis Stone, Karen Morley and Boris Karloff in "The Mask of Fu Manchu," and Stuart Erwin in "He Learned About Women," will be shown at the Circle on Sunday and Monday. The Circle will not be open on Saturday of this week, but will operate on Sunday and Monday of next week. This arrangement will permit the Circle being open on the Christmas holiday. "The Mask Of Fu Manchu" is a story of the sinister underworlds of London and the far East, filled with weird thrills in a maelstrom of Oriental intrigue. "He Learned About Women" is a fast romantic comedy with Stuart at his funniest. He was just a rich sap, the only facts of life of which he knew came out of books—but he learned about women—and it didn't come out of books either. Allison Sidgworth and Susan Fleming have the sharing roles.

DISTRIBUTING TOYS MADE BY FIREMEN

Over 1,000 Reclaimed Articles Start On Journey To Homes of Youngsters.

Over a thousand toys, reclaimed for new use by children in Manchester homes, began the happy journey back to new found friends today. The toys, the accumulation and result of many hours of willing work by the members of the South Manchester Fire Department, Hose Company No. 3, and other friends of Manchester kids, filled the assembly hall of the Hose house before the motor corps under the direction of Mrs. William C. Cheney began the task of distribution.

Here's only part of the 1,000 or more toys which firemen at Hose Company No. 3 headquarters reclaimed and which were distributed to poor children here. Firemen are getting widespread applause for their work.

A group of the firemen conceived the idea of collecting, repairing and reusing toys for the Manchester youngsters, in view of the present conditions, and the idea found instant approval in the ranks of the company. A house to house canvass was started, and the work begun. The toys began coming in by the hundreds, and the firemen received donations of paint, woodwork and other materials, paint brushes, and the services of a blacksmith to assist in the project.

Today over 1,000 toys are in homes, where a cart, drum or tricycle will bring added joys next Monday morning. Credit is due Mrs. Carlos Holcomb of Scarborough Road for her efforts in dressing over 80 dolls and other work in connection with the preparation of the large list of toys, and to Mrs. William Cheney and her assistants for the use of automobiles and personal service in their distribution. Over 40 firemen assisted in the work during the past three weeks.

A partial list of the toys follows: Aeroplanes, 17; large autos, 8; small autos, 5; books, 115; blackboards, 3; bean bag game, 1; buses, 5; combination chair, 2; doll carriages, 32; doll beds, 15; doll swing, 1; desks, 3; dirigibles, 6; sets, 7; dump trucks, 15; drums, 3; games, 133; fire trucks, 7; ice skates, 18; kiddie kars, 13; jumping rope, 1; ink pad sets, 45; large trains, 3; strollers, 3; rockers, 8; wheelbarrows, 5; large wagons, 5; sleds, 21; tricycles, 8; scooters, 4; doll chairs, 27; large tables, 2; trolley cars, sand diggers, table and chairs, 4; typewriters, 3; toy wagons, 25; stools, 12; racks, skis, 2 each; dolls, 80.

In addition to the above list of toys there were contributed nearly 500 miscellaneous articles, 2,000 popcorn balls, for which the corn was popped in the balls made in the station kitchen.

A surprise luncheon consisting of home made doughnuts, sandwiches and coffee was served the firemen last night at the Hose house while they were at work putting the finishing touches to the remaining toys. The lunch was brought to the station by Miss Elizabeth M. Bennett, principal of the Ninth district grammar schools. The firemen were appreciative of Miss Bennett's thoughtfulness and generosity.

OPEN FORUM

THANKFUL YOUNGSTER
Dear Mr. Editor:
My mama says that I can thank the firemen of Spruce street by putting a little piece in the paper. My sister and I want to thank them for the tricycle and books and the games that were left at our house. We did not expect to have very many toys this Christmas as daddy has not worked for a long, long time. We want to thank them for their kindness.

CHARLIE.

MOTHER GRATEFUL
Editor, Herald:
Will you permit a grateful mother's card of thanks for the assistance given my little band at this Christmas season, first for a bountiful remembrance in food and groceries and secondly for the gift of several bundles of toys for my children, which I am informed, is to be credited to the Manchester firemen and welfare groups.

May each one who has helped others as they have helped us, receive their reward in the form of added benefits gained through the coming year.

MERRITT RESIGNS POST
Stamford, Dec. 23—(AP)—Representative-elect Merritt today resigned as chairman of the board of directors of the Yale and Town Mfg. Co., of this city.

Mr. Merritt is succeeded by Colonel Walter R. Allen who resigns as president.

W. Gibson Cary, Jr., has been elected president of the company. Mr. Merritt who remains a director has been an official of the company for more than 54 years. Mr. Allen worked his way up from apprentice to the presidency and was president for 17 years.

Mr. Cary has been vice president and treasurer of the company for several years.

Joseph A. Horns continues as vice president in charge of manufacture in the company's nine plants.

COMMUNIST RIOTS
Wuppertal, Germany, Dec. 23—(AP)—The municipal Christmas tree in the public square went up in flames today when in the course of serious Communist rioting angry demonstrators defied police bullets, poured kerosene on the lower branches and set it afire.

Three men were seriously wounded by gunfire. Windows were broken and street lamps torn up.

Y. M. C. A. Notes

The Wheel Club of Rockville played Joe's Service Station basketball team at the Y. M. C. A. last night. It was a fine contest for the first half when the score stood 11 all. In the second stanza Joe's team put on more steam and forged ahead winning the game 29 to 19.

Tonight the "A" team of the Y goes to Simsbury to play a County League team in that place.

The Church League will play two games at the Y gymnasium this evening. The first game will get started at 6 o'clock and the second at 8 o'clock.

The regular schedule will be maintained at the Y tomorrow, but will be closed all day Monday.

The Volley Ball class which has been meeting on Monday, will meet on Tuesday for the next two weeks.

LEGS AMPUTATED

Wilmington, Mass., Dec. 23—(AP)—Thomas Gaskell, 34, of Lawrence, smoked cigarettes while a doctor, by the light of a railroad engine amputated Gaskell's crushed legs as he lay on the railroad track.

Gaskell told police he had stolen a ride on a freight train going from Lawrence to Boston and had fallen between the cars. Several cars passed over his legs near the hips. For an hour Gaskell, fully conscious lay on the tracks unable to move. Then he was seen by the engineer of an approaching train.

While Gaskell smoked one cigarette after another, a doctor amputated his legs. Gaskell later was taken in an infirmary.

LIQUOR SEIZURES

Halifax, N. S., Dec. 23—(AP)—Royal Canadian mounted police today had seized $1,000 worth of Yuletide rum and were out after more.

In a Dartmouth barn they unearthed contraband valued at $500.

In a Halifax residence they dug up $400 worth of rum contained in a wooden box buried in a cellar. The box, equipped with a steel door, had a combination lock. A smaller seizure was made in another Halifax residence, and Layne Payne pleaded guilty and paid a fine of $150.

FIRE IN SHELTON

Shelton, Dec. 23—(AP)—The big four story brick factory building formerly occupied by Humington Piano Company was gutted in a $75,000 fire early today. Starting from unknown cause it was fought by the combined fire departments of Shelton and Derby for several hours. The Dolly Dress shop in which the fire is said to have started at 2:30 a. m. and William E. Shesby, Jr. store were among those sustaining losses. Two hundred and fifty bags of Red Cross flour stored in the building was endangered but only 25 bags were lost, the remainder being removed.

KILLED BY A JOKE

Van Buren, Me., Dec. 23—(AP)—Pierre Labrie, 18, working with his two brothers in a woods camp at Notre Dame du Lac on the Brunswick side of the border took too much time for a noon day siesta, they thought. Deciding to wake him up so he would stay awake, the brothers set off a charge of dynamite just outside the door. It was more powerful than they thought, wrecking the camp and injuring Pierre so badly that he died a few hours later. This was brought out by an investigation concluded here today. No action has yet been taken against the brothers.

DIES FROM BURNS

Lawrence, Mass., Dec. 23—(AP)—Mrs. Rita Solubos, 26, died today in a hospital for the sake of her three children.

She suffered burns last Sunday as she assisted the children, the youngest of which was three weeks old, from her burning home in Dracut after a kitchen range had exploded.

Customers of Watkins Brothers who visited the local store this afternoon between 3:30 and 4:30 were entertained with a splendid organ concert presented by L. Burdette Hawley. Mr. Hawley will again offer the same program tonight between 7:30 and 8:30 o'clock, the numbers to be rendered being as follows: Festival March by Reed, Prayer from Loehring by Wagner, Gloria from 12th Mass by Mozart, Largo by Handel, Intermezzo by Rogers, Toccatina by Rogers, Gesù Bambino by Yon, three traditional Christmas carols—God Rest You Merry Gentlemen, Good King Wenceslas, and What Child This, and the concluding number, March in F. Major by Steane.

JUDGE CALKINS DEAD

New London, Dec. 23—(AP)—Judge Arthur B. Calkins, 65, former judge of Probate and a member of the New London County Bar Association for 45 years died last night after a long illness. He was born in East Lyme in April 1867, the son of Dr. and Mrs. Daniel Calkins, Jr. The family is one of the oldest in eastern Connecticut.

John Calkins, a direct ancestor was one of the founders of the Connecticut colony. Other members of the family fought in the French and Indian and the Revolutionary wars.

Judge Calkins studied law in the local offices of the late A. C. Lippitt and was admitted to the bar in 1889 at the age of 22 years. He served ten years as town clerk in East Lyme and represented that town in three sessions of the general assembly, in 1898 and 1901 and in each session was a member of the Judiciary committee. In 1905 the Democratic Party drafted him as its candidate for the Senate but it was a Republican year and the Democratic ticket was defeated.

Judge Calkins moved to this city upon after his defeat for state office and in 1910 was elected judge of probate, serving continuously until Jan. 1, 1929 when he voluntarily retired to devote his full attention to his legal practice. Upon his retirement from public office he formed a partnership with Colonel Thomas E. Troland, the city's legal director.

GHOSTS DISCUSSED

Washington, Dec. 23—(AP)—Senate debate got switched over to a discussion of ghosts.

Senator Ashurst, Dem., Ariz., advocating a constitutional amendment to prevent the issuance of tax exempt bonds "comparable to the fear a boy has of ghosts."

Ashurst confessed to the Senate that when he was a boy he had "a morbid, dreadful fear of ghosts."

Senator Gore, Dem., Okla., asked Ashurst if his amendment would authorize tax on ghosts.

"I am not familiar enough with the life beyond this to see how it could be collected," Ashurst replied.

"It would raise abundant revenue," Gore replied. "We engaged last session in placing phantom taxes on phantom incomes and phantom revenues resulted."

GOOD TOBACCO MARKET

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 23—(AP)—It's a merry Christmas for burley tobacco growers, more than $10,000,000 in cash has been paid central Kentucky tobacco farmers during the three weeks before the holidays.

At Lexington's huge market alone $5,818,256.80 has been paid out in tobacco auctions. More than a score of smaller burley markets throughout the state have brought in enough cash to make up the estimated $10,000,000.

With burley selling more than fifty per cent higher than last year, the auctions have had a stimulating effect on business, reports James M. Todd, president of the Kentucky retail merchants association.

TWO MINERS KILLED

Scranton, Pa., Dec. 23—(AP)—Rescue gangs today removed the bodies of two men from workings of the Lackawanna mine, a branch of the Coalbrook colliery, at Simpson, where a cave in occurred last night. A third man was seriously hurt and three other miners escaped. The men killed were Walter Neymois, 46, and Andrew Dragwa, 34.

STUDENTS INTERPRET CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

One Act Play Feature of Program In Assembly Hall Yesterday Afternoon.

The spirit of Christmas was given a beautiful interpretation at the annual Christmas assembly which was held at the High school yesterday afternoon. The program, which was presented twice before the lower and upper assemblies respectively was in the hands of the glee clubs and Freshman-Sophomore Dramatic club.

"Why the Chimes Rang," a one-act play interspersed with various kinds of Christmas music, was the feature of the afternoon. This fantasy was built around the story of some boys who were planning to go with their uncle to watch the church service, hear the cathedral choir, see the King, and in the presence of a vision of the Christ child, listen for the cathedral chimes.

One boy disregarded the presence of a nearly frozen old woman in his haste to be off to the cathedral. The remaining boy, Holger, a party ably taken by Franklin Dexter, tarried to administer aid. While he was alone with the old woman; a difficult part well done by Priscilla Pillsbury, the vision of the Madonna and the Child came to them. Accompanying the vision was a costumed choir which sang old Christmas carols while pilgrims from the holy station in life to the King himself, came to kneel and bring their gifts.

Yet the chimes did not ring, even though the King gave his cherished crown. It was only when little Holger took the two coins, all he had in the world, and gave them to the priest that the miracle of the chimes occurred.

All of the parts were well done. Richard Pond as the Uncle had a voice which could be heard all over the hall and he put much emphasis into his well-prepared speeches. Richard Reimer played well the part of Steen, a care-free, active boy.

The characters were all appropriately gowned and the cathedral vision scene was most effectively carried out. Much of the success of the play was accomplished by the actors in pantomime who participated in the cathedral vision scenes. These characters included: Woman, Katherine Fike; King, Richard Carpenter; Old Man, Thomas Dan-naher; Young Girl, Lillian Klank-hammer; Angel, Helen Hyde; Court-ier, Jack Bellamy; Rich Man, William Gess.

The play was coached by Miss Helen Page and she was assisted by the following committees: scenery, A. Pratt, E. Baldwin, W. Gess; lighting, H. McIntosh, G. Peterson, G. Weir, E. Hyson; properties, M. Quirk, E. Trouton, J. Squarito, M. Martina; costumes, R. Hansen, E. Pietrowski, E. Irwin, W. Olfaris; music, F. Owens, B. Gess.

Attendants said there was every indication he would recover.

WINS NEW TRIAL

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 23—(AP)—Russell McWilliams, 17 year old Rockford slayer, twice sentenced to die in the electric chair, today won a new trial as the Supreme Court reversed his case, and ordered a change of venue to another court for a third trial.

POLICE COURT

Walter Peterson of Garden street who was before the court recently charged with assault upon his father was placed on probation for six months when his case was presented this morning. Young Peterson was given a medical examination and was judged not to be mentally deficient to the extent of being confined in a state institution.

Kenophon Peperis who was recently before the court charged with non support and assault upon his wife was found guilty of non-support and his assault case was nolle. He was given a 90 days jail sentence which was suspended upon condition that he pay his wife $6 a week. This he guaranteed to do and a bond of $300 was furnished by Mrs. Lena Goodstone.

STORY TOLD IN COURT

BRINGS FINE OF $100

After Auto Accident He Tells Police He Was Not Driver of the Car.

Greenwich, Dec. 23—(AP)—Elliott Donlon, 22, of Fort Chester had proven in court that his memory was as good as his story he might have escaped a fine of $100 and costs for operating a car while under the influence of liquor. Donlon claimed he was not the driver.

Two officers on Put's Hill at 2:45 a. m., saw a car strike one belonging to Tony Ancillo of Revere, Mass. They told the court no man was with Donlon and they were certain "the other man" whom Donlon insisted had driven him from White Plains did not escape.

Donlon could not explain possession of the car which was reported stolen in White Plains at 2 a. m. He said he had visited at the home of a man of prominence in White Plains and missed the bus to Port Chester. A man picked him up. The next thing he knew he was in Greenwich. Prosecutor White told the court Donlon was intoxicated when he took the car and his condition was such that he did not know what he did.

ALBANY PREPARING FOR THE INAUGURAL

Military Display Will Be Missing This Year In the Interest of Economy.

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 23—(AP)—Carpenter's hammers were ringing to the wall of the high-ceilinged State Assembly chamber today as preparations got under way for the ceremony January 1 at which both Franklin D. Roosevelt and Alfred E. Smith will witness the inauguration of their mutual friend, Herbert H. Lehman, as governor of New York.

Minus the military display of former years, the inauguration plans have been simplified in the interests of economy. The uniformed units that formerly came from many sections of the state to march in honor of each new governor will be missing. Only Governor Roosevelt's present military guard, which is being retained by Governor-elect Lehman, will escort him to the capitol.

Lehman, Roosevelt and former Governor Smith will speak. A guard of 100 uniformed state police will be stationed about the capitol building during the ceremony. No persons without tickets to the inaugural will be permitted in the capitol.

HENRY LANE WILSON, DIPLOMAT, IS DEAD

Former U. S. Minister To Chile and Belgium and Ambassador to Mexico, Passes Away.

Indianapolis, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Henry Lane Wilson, former United States minister to Chile and Belgium and ambassador to Mexico prior to his retirement in 1914, is dead.
 In poor health for several years, the 76-year-old diplomat died at his home here late yesterday, after an illness of five days with pneumonia.
 Appointed by President McKinley in 1897 to the post in Chile, Mr. Wilson's diplomatic service was continuous through the next 17 years. During that period, he aided in bettering relations between the United States and Chile, and was in charge of the Embassy in Mexico through the administrations of McKinley, Roosevelt and Taft. He resigned in 1914 because he differed with the Democratic administration of Woodrow Wilson as to the policy toward Mexico.
 After his retirement, and prior to a collapse in health in 1928, Mr. Wilson was active as a lecturer and in magazine and literary work. In 1927 he published a book entitled "Diplomatic Episodes."
 His father, James Wilson, died in 1887 while serving as minister to Venezuela. A son, Warden McKee Wilson, now is with the American Legation at Caracas, Venezuela.
 Two other sons also survive. Mr. Wilson was born in Crawfordville, Ind., Nov. 3, 1854.

ELEVEN WORLD RECORDS MADE DURING OLYMPIC GAMES OF 1932

Fourteen Olympic Marks Also Bettered In International Track and Field Meet At Los Angeles Which Features Review of Sport For Year.

Track and field competition in the United States during 1932 centered around the Olympic games, staged in Los Angeles, in which track stars of the United States set 11 world records, 14 new Olympic records, and tied two world marks. These records are destined to stand for some time, as a few of those broken have stood for many years.

There were, however, some notable exhibitions before the Olympic got under way. Among them were Gene Venzke's new world record for the indoor mile—4 min. 10.5 sec.; a new high jump record of 6 feet 8 1/2 inches set by George Spitz, New York University sophomore; Gene Eastman's breaking of Ted Meredith's 19-year-old 440 record by one second—46.48.; Don Bennett's cracking of the world record for the 200 in 20.5s. and his equaling of the 9.5s. time for the century; and Ralph Metcalfe's official new record for the 220 in the same time as Bennett.

So to the Olympics.

Out of those games came the names of Leo Sexton, Babe Didrikson, Eddie Tolan, Lillian Copeland, George Salting, John Anderson, Bill Miller, Bill Carr, Jean Shiley, James Beusch and E. L. Gordon to put the United States far in front at the finish.

The Texas Babe was the big noise in the women's events. She outshone Stella Walsh who, up until Olympic time, had run under United States colors and who, at the last minute, switched to the colors of her native land, Ireland.

The Babe set two new world records in female competition—javelin throw, 143 feet 4 inches, and the 80m. hurdles, 11 7/10s.

Eddie Tolan, dusky Michigan flash, was the other two-time winner in the track and field events for the United States. The bespectacled, bandaged Eddie, running two of the greatest races of his brilliant career, flashed across the wire in nearly a dead heat with his countryman, Ralph Metcalfe, Marquette University sprinter, in the 100-meter dash. Eddie set a new Olympic record and tied the world record in this event, doing the distance in 10 3/10s.

Eddie's other win came in the 200-meter dash. In this the negro flash sped across the tape in a new world and Olympic record of 21 2/10s.

Leo Sexton and John Anderson were the United States' best bet in the weight events. Big Leo headed the shot for a new Olympic mark of 53 feet 8 1/2 inches. Big John grabbed himself a discus and hurled it to a new Olympic record of 162 feet 4 7/8 inches.

George Salting, of Iowa, held up Uncle Sam's end in the hurdles. Pitted against the class of the world, George tied the world record for the 110-meter hurdles with a mark of 14 4/10s.

E. L. Gordon bested the field in the broad jump. He flashed down the narrow runway, hit the board and hurled himself a distance of 25 feet 3/4 of an inch and won the event. This was one of the few events in which a world or Olympic record was not broken.

Two Bills, Carr and Miller, added several points to the United States total when they finished first in the 400-meter run and the pole vault respectively. Carr, University of Pennsylvania runner, set a new world mark in the 400-meter event, flashing across the tape in 49.10s. Miller also set a new world record in his event, going up and over at a height of 14 feet 1 7/8 inches.

Jim Bausel, former University of Kansas football and track star, grabbed a big share of the spotlight when he won the Olympic decathlon with a world record number of points—2492.

Two pals of Babe Didrikson who flashed to Olympic glory were Lillian Copeland and Jean Shiley. The former won the women's discus throw, with a world record toss of 133 feet 2 inches, and Jean copped the high jump, beating Babe Didrikson on a jumpoff at a height of 5 feet 5 1/4 inches, a new world record.

The United States won three other track events—the 1600-meter relay for men, the 400-meter men's relay, and the women's 400-meter relay.

The American quartet in the 1600-meter run was composed of Bill Carr, University of Pennsylvania; Ivan Fogue, Indiana University; Ed Abowich, Southern California, and Karl Warner, Yale. These boys set a new world mark of 5 min. 2.10s. in this event.

The 400-meter crew was composed of Bob Kiesel, Emmett Topolino, Hector Dyer and Frank Wykes. They also set a world record—30 seconds flat.

The women's quartet, not to be outdone by the men, relay teams, also stepped out and set a new record in the 400-meter relay. The team of Mary Carver, Evelyn Purbeck, Annette Rogers and Wilhel-

Connie Mack Completes Fifty Years in Baseball

Philadelphia, Dec. 23.—(AP)—consider getting into the back-ground.

Connie Mack thinks the experience he has gained in the first 70 years of his life ought to help him win more pennant winners in the future.

Seventy years old today, in baseball for 50 years, a manager for 39 and pilot of the Philadelphia Athletics for 21, the tall, thin leader scoffs at the idea of retirement.

"Where work is entirely the exercise of judgment," Mack said, "each year adds new experience and makes a man better fitted for the next one. I'll have more experience on which to base decisions next year than I had this year."

The boys on the bench, Connie said, will decide when he is to retire.

"When you handle a team of 25 players," he declared, "you can't fool them. When my players begin to whimper among themselves that Mack is not what he used to be, I'm going to hear those whimpers. Then I'll know that it's time for me to consider getting into the back-ground."

It was in 1882 that Cornelius McGillicuddy best Santa Claus to East Brookfield, Mass., by two days.

He planned to spend his birthday anniversary quietly, making his customary daily trip to the office in Elbys Park tower where he read through a mountainous pile of birthday and Christmas greetings cards, telegrams and letters.

Philadelphia, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Connie Mack, hailed by many baseball observers as the diamond's greatest tactician, spent part of his 70th birthday today selecting some "greatest" of his own. They are:

Greatest player—Ty Cobb.
Greatest pitcher—Christy Mathewson.
Greatest managers, up to 1900—Ned Hanlon of the Baltimore Orioles; after 1900, John McGraw.
Greatest teams—Baltimore Orioles of the 90's; Chicago Cubs, 1906 to 1909; Athletics, 1910 to 1914.

GOLF SURVIVED ECONOMIC SLUMP

Ranks Third Best in A. P. Survey; College Football, Baseball Lead.

New York, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Although intercollegiate football and professional baseball generally are credited by the country's sports experts with most successful recovery from the economic slump today is the testimony to strides made by two sports which have nothing in common—golf and professional wrestling.

"Golf seems to have survived the economic slump better than any other sport in the southwest," observes one critic, whose view is echoed in the east, middle west and far west by those who see the royal and ancient game now brought down to the level of the "ordinary sportsbook."

Sports editors of the east and middle west, while some contend it is a racket, nevertheless assert wrestling has survived conditions and continued to profit while boxing has slipped backward.

In the east, wrestling is ranked next to college football as the sport which has best reacted to conditions of the last year.

Baseball tops the list only in the middle west. College football leads in the far west, and south as well as east. Golf runs second to football in the south and far west where it is more of a year around sport.

The rating of the sports best surviving or reacting to the depression based on votes in the Associated Press poll.

College football, 65; baseball, 48; golf, 36; professional wrestling, 34; tennis and professional hockey, 14 each; boxing, 12; basketball and horse racing, 11 each; professional football, 10.

ARMY'S TEN GAMES FOR 1933 NAMED

West Point, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Ten states, Georgia, Virginia, Delaware, Illinois, Connecticut, Iowa, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Maryland, and Indiana, are represented in the opposition Army's 1933 football team will be called on to face.

The schedule of ten games, released by Major P. D. Fleming, graduate manager of athletics yesterday, is one of the hardest in cadet grid history with major games against Illinois, Yale, Harvard, Navy and Notre Dame.

The schedule: Sept. 30 Macon of Georgia; Oct. 7, Virginia Military Institute; Oct. 14 Delaware; 21, Illinois at Cleveland; 28, Yale at New Haven; Nov. 4, Iowa; 11, Harvard at Cambridge; 18, Pennsylvania Military College; 25, Navy (site not selected); Dec. 2, Notre Dame at New York.

mina von Bremen ran the distance in 47 seconds.

Other world records established during the Olympics were: T. Hampton, Great Britain, 800-meter run in 1 min. 49 8/10s.; Stella Walsh, Poland, 100-meter run in 11 8/10s.; and C. Nambu, Japan, hcp. step, jump for distance of 51 feet 7 inches.

As an aftermath of the Olympics, the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States is adopting the metric plan of measurement in all track meets. By this decision yards and miles are replaced by meter and kilometer measurements, which will help to bring about a universal measurement for track and field events.

Dempsey Signs Baer To Fight Schmeling

New York, Dec. 23.—(AP)—The association with Tim Mara, he will have his choice either of the Polo Grounds or the Yankee Stadium should he decide to stage the fight here.

Chicago, it was understood, is generally anxious to stage the fight as a world's fair attraction, and probably will have some persuasive arguments for Dempsey's ear.

The Garden, in the meantime, finds itself in a position where it has the heavyweight champion, Jack Sharkey, safely under contract, but no outstanding rival for him to meet. Under the terms of the contract the Garden is obligated to find some one for Sharkey to fight by June 30. With Schmeling and Baer both unavailable, the Garden will be forced to look elsewhere, possibly in the general direction of Primo Carnera.

William Harrison Dempsey announced yesterday he had signed Max Schmeling and Max Baer for a 15 round bout sometime in June.

The site was not announced but Dempsey said it would be either here or Chicago.

Other promoters have sought to "buck" the Garden in the past, but most had two strikes on them before they went to the plate either because the Garden had the best locations of the best fighters, or both, tied up with air tight contracts.

Not so with Dempsey. Jack has his fighters—and they are good ones—safely signed and through his as-

HARTFORD TEAM PLAYS ROUGHER, LOSES 46 TO 34

Each Team Scores 16 Field Goals But Guards Profit By Clean Play.

The National Guards scored another basketball victory last night when they defeated the Kevin Barry team of Hartford at the Lawrence street Lyceum in that city by a 46 to 34 score.

Once again it was the ability to play clean basketball that enabled the Manchester team to gain its triumph.

Each team registered 16 field goals but the Kevin Barry committed twice as many personal fouls and lost three players for that reason. None of the Guards were ejected for this violation. Al Boggs, of Manchester officiated. He called 18 fouls on the Kevin Barry and eight against the Guards.

Manchester also won because it had the better team-play. Its pass-work was smoother and its shooting more accurate. McCann, Dowd, McKernin, Boland and Turkington were prominent scorers for Manchester while "Red" Wiseman topped the Kevin attack. The Guards had a two point lead at halftime.

The third period was close but in the final, Manchester outpointed the Kevin Barry 14 to 5 to win a deserved victory. Earl Bissell of Manchester played with the losers but went out on personal fouls.

NEW, RICH STAKES IN HARNESS RACES

January 1 Deadline For Entries in American and National $5,000 Contests.

Cosmos, N. Y., Dec. 23.—(Special)—Only a few days remain for harness horse breeders to enter their favorite three-year-old trotters in the two new and rich stakes being sponsored in the 1933 Grand Circuit by the Trotting Horse Club of America. Will Gagahan, secretary of the Club, declares that entries will be accepted up to January 1, 1933.

The new harness horse events are sure to delight the hearts of the rapidly growing army of fans are known as the American and the National. Foals of 1930 are eligible for these two fast trots, according to Mr. Gagahan, who points out that the best horses will not be required to stretch their legs in these particular events until after next July 15.

The American and the National are expected to draw at least 50 entries apiece for the $5,000 stakes offered in each race. Just where the new events will be inaugurated is not yet decided, but decisions on the 1933 race meetings, including the premier Hambletonian, will be made sometime in January, according to Mr. Gagahan.

The new events are replacing the trotting race known as the Horse Review which was last held at Springfield, Ill., in 1931; and the American Horse Breeder contest which was last seen in the Grand Circuit at Hartford, Conn., in 1931.

Edward "Red" Kovis has been elected captain of the State Trade school basketball team and Eugene Hoesel appointed assistant captain. Kovis is playing with the Trade and also with the Red Five. His position is center.

The Baldwin hockey team will practice Saturday morning, meeting at the Baldwin club at 8:45. Games are wanted with other junior teams in town.

A week from tonight can't come any too soon for that is the date on which Manchester and Bristol High schools clash in the first of their annual pair of basketball games at the armory here.

No more games are scheduled for the local town teams until next Monday when the Guards play the Hartford E. of L. at the local armory.

The status of Babe Didrikson, Texas' famous girl athlete, has been splashing around and around like a top. Yesterday morning she announced she was turning professional. Yesterday afternoon came word that the A. A. U. had reinstated her after examination of the automobile advertising endorsement. The next step is up to the Babe. She now has her choice.

DEFENDS FRENCH TENNIS CONDUCT

New York, Dec. 23.—(AP)—The French conduct of the Davis Cup tennis challenge round between France and the U. S. last summer is defended by Pierre Gillo, president of the French cup committee, in his annual report to the French Tennis Federation, published today in American Lawn Tennis.

Gillou recognizes there was considerable criticism of the way the matches were conducted, especially the deciding encounter between Jean Borotra and Wilmer Allison, where the American was the victim, but holds that the criticism generally was unjustified.

Manchester High's Alumni basketball team will present a lineup tonight against the school team which is almost identical to the M. H. The only missing link will be the great Domenick Squatrito who lost his life in an automobile accident last May.

The Alumni will present Johnny Tierney and Jimmy O'Leary as forwards, Howard Turkington at center with Johnny Hedlund and Johnny Lerch as guards. Lerch was captain of the team last season. In reserve he will have "Buddy" Kerr, "Chick" Fraser, "Huck" McHale, Al Smith, Dick McCormick and Eddie Warner. All will probably be used at some time or other during the four periods.

Week-end MURDER

BEGIN HERE TODAY

LINDA AVERILL believes her elderly cousin, AMOS PEABODY, was murdered when he fell from the second story balcony of the Averills' Long Island home, because of a few words he gasped before his death. Linda rushes upstairs. Someone tries to strangle her and she faints.

There are four guests in the house—all suspects of the crime. They are: MR. STANTLANDER, business associate of TOM AVERILL; CAPTAIN DE VOS, handsome Belgian; MARVIN PRATT, former suitor of Linda's; and LIAN SHAUGHNESSY, Irish writer. Since there is no evidence on which to base an arrest, Linda and Tom, her husband, set themselves to solve the crime. They are aided when DR. BOYLE, medical examiner, sends word that everyone must remain until he has questioned them. Boyle is on a dining trip and Linda can not return for several hours.

Linda finds the towel with which the attempt was made to strangle her—identified by a smear of stambur ointment. She learns that BOSE, the maid, has laundered a shirt for Shaughnessy, and Tom searches for the shirt. Shaughnessy sends this out. To set matters right Linda tells him the whole story and asks him to help untangle the mystery of her cousin's death.

Pretty FLEETING invites Devoes to a dinner party next evening. Tom still has business to discuss with Stantlander and it is agreed all the guests shall stay over until Monday morning.

Linda suggests to Stantlander that his room be changed to the nursery which is cooler. He asks if instead he can have the room Cousin Amos occupied. The room has been locked and Stantlander shows great eagerness to get into it.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXXIX

"Marvin wants to go to church," announced Tom Avertill, "and I should have asked the others. You'll drive him down?"

"He's started by now—wanted to walk. Stantlander voted out, although he took pains to make me understand that he always went at home. Devoes and Shaughnessy both preferred to stay here. Incidentally, Stantlander did rise, as I thought he would, when I said that 'Valeska' was disappointed that we didn't have you ready to go into the locked room, Linda? That's the next step."

A leisurely breakfast was over and the morning newspapers liberally distributed over the ground floor. Linda took her wheelchair from the bedroom window could see Mr. Stantlander inspecting the work— if he would call it that—of the much-disapproved garden. She wondered if she had been even applied. Shaughnessy was not in sight.

"Do you think we can stay upstairs long enough to go through it together?"

"That was my idea, Binks, but if you think one of us should be on deck one could go in and not the other."

"I'm crazy to talk to you. Did you get anything out of Marvin before breakfast?"

"Yes, to both. I didn't get any reason for his trying to get in that room but I think I know what caused the final explosion yesterday morning."

"Oh what? It seemed so queer—one of them going in deliberately, at that hour, just to quarrel!"

"You remember when we were starting for the dance asking Cousin Amos not to open the window on the balcony?"

"And we heard him proceed to do it the moment our backs were turned!"

"Well, in the night—that is, what was left of it after we came back from the club and before we started for the water—I remember hearing that door creaking. I couldn't quite place the sound at the time but it vaguely annoyed me."

"Oh! A light seemed to break on Linda. 'Our door was closed but the others might not have been. It was the sort of thing that drives a nervous person frantic.'"

"Would you call any of these men nervous?"

"Not exactly," she pondered. "Marvin would be most apt to fit the word. He is rather nervous, I think, but he's so controlled and sort of held in that you might think it."

"But, Tom—suddenly her mind flashed back to the morning before. 'I heard it too—and wait a moment—'"

She closed her eyes. "Yes, yes, now it comes back—I think this is what happened. You went ahead. I was looking for my cap. It was so hot, I just sort of stopped to get energy enough to go on. Our room door was ajar. I heard someone walking—down the hall—very quietly. I heard a click—like turning a door-knob—and then that noise, Tom, Louder. You know—like this—" She seemed to imitate, softly, the raucous croak of a crow on a branch. "Rork-rork-rork! Sort of jerky—you couldn't count on it happening every distance apart. It'd had me wild in the daytime. It would drive anyone crazy at night."

"A hot night," Tom mopped his face. "Hot as it was today, that morning had been worse. The very memory steamed him up."

Linda thought again. "Then—I stopped paying attention. I'd been standing still, you see, and all these little noises came perfectly clearly at that time in the morning. I'm sure there wasn't any other sort of noise or I'd have noticed it. I did hear the creaking of the door-knob—"

Their eyes met.

"Then he says he heard the click of a door knob and then the creaking of a door—once or twice."

"How can he say he heard all that and not the voices—or the scuffle when Cousin Amos was thrown over—and then admit he heard me fall inside the room only a few minutes later?"

"Says he went off to sleep. On again, off again, just like that. He acts as if he controlled it like turning a water faucet. He heard the creaking door—then he slept. He woke to hear a step, a door, a click and the door again. Then, he says, 'I'll trade you'—and off to sleep again. Little later, a thump. Up springs Marvin, grabs his pants, and dashes off to your rescue."

"Don't forget the underwear," said Linda.

"Oh, yes. Off pajamas—or perhaps he wore night shirt—then he wears on pants—enough for modesty, yet done in a trice. I believe that is the correct expression."

"It does sound phoney," Linda seemed thinking aloud. "But you said yourself Marvin was a quick man."

"I did and he is. But Binks—you said he was very reluctant to talk about it yesterday. Today, while he didn't bubble over, he was ready enough with his information. Strikes me he's had time to think about it. He may be a quick mover, but as you pointed out, he's a slow thinker, and sees he's got to talk about it perfectly openly and naturally—and to have a good clear story, too."

"Well, how do you think he did it?" demanded Linda.

"How's this for—what did Shaughnessy call it?—reconstruction? Pratt didn't undress completely or go to bed. He has a hot little room and a small one. Well, after we get back he sits up, hot and broad, door open—and hears that internal case ment going 'rork-rork,' as you call it. He stands it just so long. Then he goes more or less berserk and starts out to stop it or know the reason why."

"Perhaps he knocks on the door. Perhaps he thinks Cousin Amos is asleep and he can simply pull the window to and tiptoed out. Probably he doesn't think anything about it—just goes. Cousin Amos bobs up in bed and gives him hell for forcible entry. Marvin explains his purpose."

I never have heard an author—well, a success—say "one" any more. It's all "two" now.

FILM ACTORS DON BIZARRE OUTFITS SEEKING COMFORT

Hollywood—And what has become of the "tailor-made man" in Hollywood?

It begins to look seriously as though he is giving way to the tailor-made woman. For generally speaking Hollywood's off-screen sartorial standards are being knocked into a conventional tail silk hat which can be placed, as far as many are concerned, high up on a shelf to rust.

Not that there aren't high hats in Hollywood—figurative and real—and nobody's saying that a host who spee'ds 'tills in his dinner party invitations will be embarrassed by art-rivals in overalls.

But around the town and the lots, few seem to care what they or any body else wears, and comfort is lord. The result, sometimes, is a scream.

Surprise

For instance, that well-dressed writer who was chatting the other day with a fellow on the set, wearing a "prop-boy," judging by his careless attire, only to learn that the "prop-boy" was author of the current screen hit and a white-haired lad of the lot.

And then there was that green extra who asked the cheap sitting beside him on the set, wearing a funny old sweater, how things were going and how many days' work he'd had lately, to discover later that the funny old sweater belonged to a star who had come over to look on.

The male urge to comfort means just that, and isn't as flashy as some of the feminine stars' eccentricities. Clark Gable took for his own the turtle-necked sweater. Jack Oakie the sweat-shirt, Robert Montgomery prefers scarfs to neckties, Frederic March in an old blue sport jacket.

Trougers For Mariene

The woman? Mariene Dietrich patronizes Garbo's tailor, goes shopping in a trim tailored sports suit of gray with pleated wide trousers; Sari Maritza is among those favoring knickerbockers; Joan Blondell is a zealant devotee; so was Tallulah Bankhead, who liked them tailored. One, however, approaches Katharine Hepburn's overalls for bizarre garb.

A BOOK A DAY

Book of Aerial Photographs is A Work of Dazzling Appeal To the Eye

"Whoever has once experienced the wonder of nature in the air knows that there is nothing to compare with it on earth."

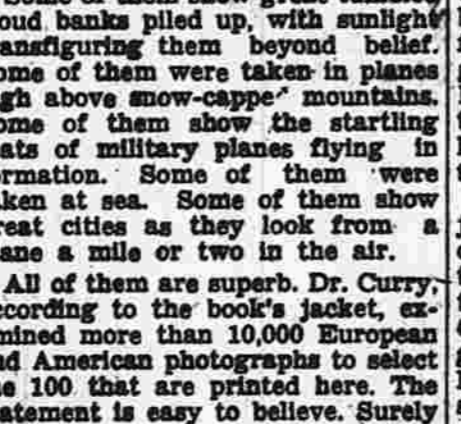

With this remark Manfred Curry prefaces his book, "Beauty of Flight"; and he follows it with 100 photographs to prove that he knows what he is talking about. The result is a book of rare, exciting beauty—a book that is utterly unique, a book that fairly takes your breath away with its dazzling appeal to the eye.

It is simply a collection of photographs of airplanes and cloudland—but what pictures they are!

Some of them show great tumbling cloud banks piled up, with sunlight transfiguring them beyond belief. Some of them were taken in planes high above snow-capped mountains. Some of them show the starting feats of military planes flying in formation. Some of them were taken at sea. Some of them show great cities as they look from a plane a mile or two in the air.

All of them are superb. Dr. Curry, according to the book's jacket, examined more than 10,000 European and American photographs to select the 100 that are printed here. This statement is easy to believe. Surely this is the finest collection of its kind yet printed.

"Beauty of Flight" is printed by the John Day Co. and sells at $5.

SYMPTOMS OF MEASLES TARDY IN SHOWING UP

This is the third of six special articles by Dr. Fishbein on the nature and treatment of measles and precautions to curb its spread.

By DR. MORRIS FISHBELN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

From the time when the child first comes in contact with a case of measles, and thereby develops the likelihood of catching the disease, until the disease appears is usually 13 or 14 days. This is known as the incubation period.

Authorities give the shortest incubation period as eight days and the longest as 17 days. During this period the patient does not have symptoms. However, he does develop early three definite signs which permit a physician to diagnose the disease in its earliest stages. These signs include fever, running nose and watering of the eyes, and an eruption of the mouth.

The inflammation of the eyes differentiates measles from other infectious diseases in which this symptom is not common. The child avoids the light and, as has been mentioned, the eyes are moist and full of tears.

Particularly interesting are the little spots which appear on the sides of the mouth and on the palate and which resemble the rash that is later to appear on the skin. These little bluish white spots, surrounded with an area of red inflammation, were described by a New York physician named Koplik and are commonly called Koplik's spots.

Three or four days after the running nose and the slight fever appear, comes the rash. The child breaks out on the face, the mouth and chin, and then over the trunk, arms, thighs and legs with red spots, which enlarge and join together. The color is purplish red.

During this period the child is likely to be sicker than any other time in the course of the disease. He may have lack of appetite, a coated tongue, even looseness of the bowels; there may be a slight cough and other disturbances related to the lungs.

The child with measles should be placed in a room alone and not permitted to come in contact with other children. Particular attention must be given to the prevention of chilling because this is especially harmful in measles.

The secondary complications affecting the lungs are far more serious than the disease itself. The room should be well ventilated, but care must be taken to avoid drafts by placing screens properly before open windows. This does not mean that the room is to be kept stuffy or hot. It is the draft that should be avoided.

YOUR CHILDREN

By Olive Roberts Barton

"Hello, there, bud boy!" cried Uncle Charlie joyfully.

"Hello, Uncle Charlie! Gee, I'm glad you came over."

"What have you been doing, kid?"

"Oh, everything."

"Well! Hurt any more people today?"

Ben flushed. "I couldn't help that time," he said. "I told you that lady stepped out of her car just as my sled went by. And anyway, she wasn't hurt much. I went around to her house the next day after and told her I was sorry and she was fine. She said not to mind—that it was her own fault."

"Don't be so serious. Can't you take a little kidding? I've got these new tubes in the radio right, will you, Uncle Charlie?"

"Did you start monkeying with that radio? You don't know anything about radios."

"I do so know. Buck Shearer and I took an old one apart and fixed it up like new."

More Criticism

"Buck Shearer! Well—if he's anything like his dad I wouldn't give a counterfeit penny for him. Nosey bunch. Think they know it all and the truth is they're dumb."

"I like Buck. He's smart. I think."

"Hello, there! Something mixed. You'll catch it when your dad comes home. Listen!"

"That's just because the people next door changed their aerial and their wire crossed ours. And it's higher. Tomorrow I'm going out and change our line from the garage to the pear tree. I'm going to put it at the very top."

By yourself. Take your time to it. Read a little and relax.

Don't sit through your lunch hour, gawping and smoking. Eat your lunch and then get out into the open, if only to walk about the block. Walk in spirited manner, head high, chest out, feet reaching down, your frosty winter air. You'll find it blows the cobwebs off your brain and the smoke out of your lungs!

Above all, don't sleep during lunch hour. There's probably no indoor sport in all the world so fatiguing as shopping. You return from such a bout with your nerves tense, your spirits lagging, perhaps even your morale shot because you see so many things you want and can't have.

One more little "Don't." This probably is as important as all the rest. Don't worry about your work during your lunch hour. It is a wise woman who does all the extra work working. Then forget it. Worrying just gets you all pretty, inhibits you, frustrates you. Forget your work the minute you leave for lunch and come back to it fresh, so you can concentrate.

A FISH WITH CREATORS

San Francisco—Among the many specimens of queer and rare fish and birds brought back from the islands of the coast of Mexico and Central America, by the Templeton Crocker Expedition, was a fish with four eyes. This fish, which inhabits the shallow rivers of Honduras, swims close to the surface. One pair of eyes watch the bottom for food while the other pair watch the surface of the river for more food.

WHERE'LL HE GET IT?

Urbana, Ill.—Work hard between the ages of 17 and 45, says Dr. A. Bachem, professor of biophysics at the University of Illinois. The scientist figures that most professional people under 45 get too little physical work, and therefore tend more outside exercise than a laborer does. After 45 a man should stand on a bit and figure on retiring, he contends.

NEW TYPE SURFACE

London—A new type aircraft runway surface is being tried out at Malakal Airport, in the Sudan. It consists of mixing cottonseed meal with asphalt. It is said to produce a substance which, when quickly rolled out smooth again, it will withstand the weight of heavy aircraft.

ness agents. One was wounded in the groin and the other in the thigh. Steps on Stage Fiercely now, Glast stalked back on to the stage, the smoking gun in his hand.
"I gave it to 'em," he announced, before the 500. "I took them outside so you fellows wouldn't get into trouble. I'll make the sacrifice for you men."
There were a few scattered cries from the audience.
"Scram!" someone shouted. "Run for it before the cops get here."
Police appear
At the back of the hall a policeman appeared.
"Drop that gun," he commanded, "or I will kill you."
"Come on," I said Glast, laying down the gun. "I won't run away."
At a police station, he said:
"I haven't had a job for two years. My wife is starving, my daughter Sylvia has to live with her grandmother in Chicago. I pleaded with Leaser and Turkel six years ago to get something for me. They said they couldn't help it, they couldn't do it."
The next day, he asserted, a man who identified himself as a "go-between" visited him and said he could get him a job if he gave him several hundred dollars. That infuriated him.
Police were told two factions in

GOVERNMENT RULE ON ALIEN LABOR

the Treasury a few days ago asked if this could not be applied to all buildings along the border.
McCarl replied saying there was nothing in any law to prohibit the employment of aliens on public buildings but that he felt that the Treasury could properly require in its specifications that only American citizens or aliens with first papers could be employed as mechanics or laborers on public buildings in proximity of a border where the added employment was likely to bring about an influx of alien labor.
McCarl set the distance at 154.7 from the border because Portland, Maine, is that distance from the Canadian border and he held that the rule should not be applied further away without special permission.
The comptroller general said that at places near the border where public buildings were being constructed it was administratively desirable that the contractor employ only Americans or aliens with their first papers.
While the Treasury has not taken up the question of buildings on the Mexican border it was pointed out that the decision could be applied to that border if the Treasury deemed necessary.

HOOVER IS READY FOR FISHING TRIP

arranged as far as Savannah, with arrival there scheduled for 8:30 a. m., Saturday after a 12-hour run. It is planned to place the President and Mrs. Hoover and members of their party aboard a virtual armada of seagoing craft now lying there, and to set sail almost immediately for fishing grounds to the southward. The itinerary will take them wherever the fish are biting best.
The "fleet's" flagship will be the 116-foot Department of Commerce boat "Sequoia." Mr. Hoover used the boat on a fishing trip down the Chesapeake Bay last summer.
Another Commerce Department boat of almost equal size, the "Kilkenny," will carry other members of the President's immediate party. Two 75-foot Coast Guard boats of shallow draft will transport the Secret Service guard and a 100-footer will carry additional Secret Service men and representatives of the press and photographic services. Still another craft, slightly larger than any other in the "fleet," may be added to the party.
Fish Running Well
Word has come to him that the sea trout are running well not far from Savannah, and his tentative plan is to cast a line within three hours after leaving the Georgia seaport.
All invitations for Christmas eve at some spot ashore have been declined so Mr. Hoover may feel free to fish as long as he likes and quit when he chooses. A Christmas party on shore was not definitely eliminated however.
On Christmas day it is planned to turn southward a brief distance toward St. Catherine's Island, where Secretary Chapin of the Commerce Department has a home.
It appeared probable that the party would spend most of the time aboard the boats.

GILEAD

Mrs. C. R. Parry and her son, Laurence, spent the week-end with her sister, Miss Mildred Stone, in Hartford.
The program for the Lecturer's hour in the Grange Tuesday evening was in part as follows: Discussion, "Do the rich or poor give most to charity?" sketch, "Lila's Cycle," in charge of Mrs. Carroll Hutchinson; March of the Fruits, Stella Spak. Gifts to donate to charitable purposes were brought. Mrs. Annie Vey and Walter Vey were admitted for membership, having been members of the Lebanon Grange. A quartet, Miss Rena Williams, Miss Olive Warner, Kenneth Ellis and William Warner, sang "Noel." Gifts from the Christmas basket completed the program. L. Ellsworth Stoughton, Deputy for East Central Fomona Grange, of Windsor Locks, was present and made remarks for the good of the order.
Mrs. Howard Tryon of Glastonbury visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Buell, Tuesday and accompanied by her mother called on their aunt, Hattie Ellis, in Hebron, and on Mrs. Elizabeth Hills and Mrs. E. E. Foot.

WAPPING

Next Friday evening at the Federated church, there is to be a Christmas play given by the members of the Sunday school, which will be followed by a Christmas party and Christmas tree with a visit from Old Santa Claus.
On Saturday evening the Junior Christian Endeavor society will have their Christmas tree in the Primary rooms of the Federated church at 5 o'clock.
The Wagisun Girls club held their regular meeting at the home of the Misses Dorothea and Elsie Nevers last Tuesday evening. Refreshments were served.
Robert and William Watrous attended the birthday party of their little four-year-old cousin, Jeanne Loraine Carrier, of New Britain, last Saturday afternoon at her home.
At the Federated church next Sunday at 7:30 there is to be a pageant presented, entitled "The Pageant of the King." This is to be presented by the members of the Young People's society of Christian Endeavor.
The ancient Romans thought of silk as a sort of wool that grew on trees.

MAYOR HAYES HONORED

Waterbury, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Mayor Frank Hayes was presented today with a most distinguished service citation for his personal efforts and assistance to the state convention of the Connecticut department of the American Legion here in August.
Department Commander Joseph A. Treadwell of Danbury made the presentation at the City hall in the presence of executive committee and he said the mayor's cooperation was gratifying in view of the misrepresentation and propaganda to which the American Legion is being subjected today.
Commander Treadwell said the mayor would also receive a citation from the National Department.

WOULD REDUCE PENALTY

Hartford, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Further reduction of the penalty rate on unpaid taxes will be urged by Senator Joseph P. Cooney at the forthcoming session of the General Assembly. The Senator said today he would initiate legislation seeking to lower the present 9 per cent rate to 7 or 8 per cent. At the last session largely through Senator Cooney's leadership in the finance committee and on the Senate floor, the penalty rate was cut from 12 per cent to the present 9 per cent.

"PRINCE ROMANOFF" IS BACK IN U. S.

Man Who Rides Back and Forth On Ocean As Stowaway, Says He Fears Officials.

New York, Dec. 23.—(AP)—"Prince" Romanoff, who is Harry P. Gerguson and somewhat of a nuisance to immigration authorities, turned up in his former New York haunts last night and the local newspapers said that he came across the ocean on the Europa.

The newspaper quoted the "prince" as saying that he stowed away on the liner and walked off behind Marilyn Miller, being, of course, little noticed.

His last trip Americaward was on the Ile de France, as a stowaway, last April. Immigration authorities had considerable difficulty holding him at Ellis island but they finally deported him back to France—despite some intimation that he originated in Peoria.

France gave him six months in jail and then invited him to stay as far away from France as possible. He is fresh from that experience.

Reporters who found him in a night club last night related that he was nervous about the immigration authorities because he dreaded the prospect of being sent to a German prison for stowing away on a German boat.

He said he was thinking about going to Canada.

EDMOND W. FOOTE WILL ADMITTED TO PROBATE

Hearing in Probate Court Yesterday — Was Prominent Business Man.

The will of the late Edmond W. Foote, late of Elm street, this city, was admitted to probate at the Probate office on Thursday. Attorney Edward J. Loneragan of this city was present representing Mrs. Grace Wilcox and Mrs. Mary A. Fitzsimmons of 69 Elm street. Attorney John E. Flak represented the Rockville National Bank, executor of the estate.

Following are the bequests: Noble C. Fenn, $6,000; Mrs. Grace Halpin, $6,000; A. W. Phillip, $5,000, these being first cousins; Mrs. L. W. Lord, second cousin, $2,000; Union Congregational church, $3,000; Rockville library, $2,000; Miss Ida Batchelder, $2,000; Mrs. Anne Carroll Scholl, $2,000; John Porter and Eva Porter, $500; Elmer Osborne, $1,000; Mrs. Severance, $1,000; Gertrude Clough, $500; Stella Amidon, $1,000; Mrs. Grace Wilcox, $3,000; Mrs. Mary Fitzsimmons, $1,000.

One half of the residue of the estate will be given Mrs. Grace Halpin and Mrs. Grace Wilcox each.

Mr. Foote was dean of the newspaper here and conducted a shoe and jewelry business here on Union street for many years.

JAPANESE OFFICIALS HONOR MRS. ROOSEVELT

Widow of Late President Visits Tokyo On Her Way to the Philippines.

Tokyo, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Japanese leaders took occasion when Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, Sr., visited Tokyo today on the way to Manila, to stress Japan's veneration for the late President and its gratitude for his efforts toward Japanese-American friendship and his understanding of Japan's problems.

The nation's spokesman to this effect was General Sadao Araki, minister of war, who was guest at a luncheon Ambassador and Mrs. Joseph C. Grew gave at the Embassy in honor of the President's widow.

The premier, Viscount Makoto Saito, the foreign minister, Count Yasuya Uchida, and the naval minister, Admiral Katsukata Okada, also were present.

The war minister, in a long conversation with Mrs. Roosevelt, lauded her late husband and referred feelingly to the soldier's death of her son, Quentin, in France.

After spending the day in Tokyo, Mrs. Roosevelt returned to Yokohama, re-embarked on the S. S. President Madison and continued her voyage to Manila to join her son, Governor-General Theodore Roosevelt of the Philippines.

QUEER TWISTS In Day's News

Chicago—What the country really needs, in the opinion of Giuseppe Martino Rossi, baritone of the Philadelphia Opera company, is more melodious railroad whistles.

Arriving here after a railroad trip, he said:

"If only the locomotive whistles were a soothing middle C, rather than the rasping of a basso, off key, the entire country would benefit."

"Citizens' dispositions would be milder; cows might give sweeter milk."

"The possibilities are endless."

Unlabeled, Pa.—Wanted: A code expert.

Burgess Davis H. Russell of Dawson, reported one of his leghorn hens laid an egg with a shell bearing this inscription:

"One-E-one."

Pittsburgh—A car, carrying three men, drove into Chester James' filling station. James, wearing a well filled money belt, compiled with the order to "fill or up" but, as he drew the hose out of the rear tank, he "got to thinking" and called a attendant.

"Collect from those guys," said James, "I'm going."

The assistant, going to the front of the car, found himself looking into a revolver barrel. He had no money so the man, disgusted, drove away.

"Bandit," philosophized James, "shouldn't look like bandits."

Newark, N. J.—An alarm turned in for a trivial fire started something indeed. A fire engine trying to pass through a maze of push-carts, rammings, trucks, and other things, struck a parked car. An auto struck the fire truck from behind then bounced into another machine. Pushcart peddlers scurried out of the way. A small boy was slightly hurt. A 20 gallon still was found by firemen at the scene of the fire.

TOLLAND

Miss Rose Zeman has returned to New York City after several weeks spent at the home of Mrs. Howard Crandall.

The regular meeting of Tolland Grange was held Tuesday evening in the Federated church social rooms with a good attendance; after the business meeting all turned into the real Christmas spirit with a tree electrically lighted and bearing many gifts to make joyous the many children present and lighten the hearts of the older members. Refreshments of cake, sandwiches and cocoa completed the social and pleasant evening.

Sunday morning last, Chief Von Deck of the Tolland Fire Department with members of the Tolland Street company responded to a still alarm at the home of the West brothers at Snipsic Lake which proved to be a stubborn chimney fire and necessitated building a new chimney as it is now pronounced unsafe for further use.

Mrs. Margaret Aborn and family at Brown's Bridge have had as their guest Mrs. Lillie Lydike of Flushing, Long Island.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Rose Peck on Saturday last at the Rockville City Hospital. Mrs. Peck was formerly Miss Elizabeth Reed, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Reed of Cedar Swamp district.

John and Henry Aborn have returned from a week-end visit with friends at Flushing, L. I., New York.

The funeral of Frank D. Elderkin who died Monday, age 69 years, was held from the Burke Undertaking parlors, Wednesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. Mr. Elderkin was born in Nova Scotia. He was one of the first to leave the country for the prospecting for gold along Alaska rivers and then traveled through Canada and every state in the United States. He leaves two brothers, Charles and William Elderkin.

The Welfare Committee and a committee from the Ladies Aid society will meet Thursday evening at the church social rooms to lay plans for the distribution of the Christmas baskets to be sent out.

Mrs. Emma Crandall returned Tuesday evening from a week-end visit with friends in New York City.

Mrs. Martha Morton Hall is a guest of her brother, George Morton and sister Miss Carrie Morton.

The school of the town will close Friday for the holiday recess.

Alice E. Hall a teacher of Home Economics at the Seymour High School is spending the holiday vacation with her parents.

Dr. Harris Price with his mother, Mrs. Agnes Linton of West Newton, Mass., called on friends in town Wednesday, while passing on their way to Florida, to spend the winter.

The welfare committee with the committee from the Ladies Aid Society will meet Friday in the church social rooms and all Christmas baskets to be distributed to those in need.

The Hicks Memorial School will hold its annual Christmas exercises and tree this evening at 7:45 o'clock. Every one in the community is welcome.

MARRIAGE MIX-UP

Baltimore, Dec. 23.—(AP)—A double wedding occurred here last night, and today friends are wondering just how many relationships each of the principals has to the other.

Samuel I. Anderson met Miss Mary C. Pattison and later the two became engaged.

Samuel's father, Absalom Anderson, visited his son's intended wife, and met Mary's mother, Mrs. Clara V. Anderson. They became engaged.

Last night the two couples were married in a double wedding.

Whispering, young Mrs. Anderson becomes the elder Mr. Anderson's daughter-in-law and stepdaughter in one, just as young Anderson becomes the elder Mrs. Anderson's son-in-law and stepson in one.

This results in the young Anderson's becoming stepbrother and stepnephew.

To go further, however, the elder Anderson becomes his son's stepfather-in-law, and the elder Mrs. Anderson, likewise, becomes her daughter's stepmother-in-law.

MRS. ROOSEVELT TO SPEAK

Chicago, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, wife of the President-elect, has accepted an invitation to address the Illinois and Cook County League of Women Voters here on January 21, the League revealed today.

The announcement said Mrs. Roosevelt was expected to fly here and would discuss some phase of public welfare in government.

ARMISTICE DECLARED

Vatican City, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Pope Pius XI obtained today a pledge of a Christmas 24-hour armistice on the Gran Chaco battlefield from the governments of Bolivia and Paraguay.

Both agreed to Vatican proposals that hostilities cease from 10 p. m. tomorrow until 10 p. m. Sunday, in compliance with the Pope's desire that there be no fighting on Christmas.

The Pope thanked the governments and expressed the hope that the armistice would lead to peace.

A foreign ministry announcement at La Paz, Bolivia, declared the truce would be from midnight to midnight Christmas Day.

SCREEN STAR BACK

New York, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Marilyn Miller, back from a European trip that she took as an involuntary stowaway, says she'll marry Don Alvarado, screen actor, but she doesn't know when.

Don Alvarado came back with her. He had the blond actress wearing sunglasses to hide her eyes from the news cameras. She boarded the liner Bremen Nov. 20 when, before they knew it, the Bremen upped anchor and sailed away to Europe with them.

WHITE HOUSE MUM

Washington, Dec. 23.—(AP)—At the White House a strict silence was maintained today upon the discussions between President Hoover and President-elect Roosevelt as to war debts procedure and the statement last night by the latter expressing surprise at Mr. Hoover's statement that he had declined to co-operate.

Secretary Stimson entered a conference with the President shortly before the start of the customary Friday Cabinet session.

Walking quickly through the lobby of the executive offices, the secretary of state also declined comment upon the discussions between Mr. Hoover and the President-elect.

SENATE VOTES DOWN
BINGHAM BEER MOVE

his own bill to legalize beer in order to use it as a vehicle for consideration of the bill passed by the House.

Bishop James Cannon, Jr., and other dry leaders were in the Senate galleries as the tall Connecticut Senator stated his wish.

Senator Robinson of Arkansas, Democratic leader, immediately demanded that the beer question be given the usual committee study.

Vice President Curtis ruled that the Bingham motion was not debatable but unanimous consent was given to Robinson, to make a statement.

Robinson's Stand

Robinson said he would vote against Bingham's motion, but if it carried he would then move to send the measure to the judiciary committee.

The Democratic leader was following instructions given him at the party conference.

Robinson asked Bingham if he expected to have the bill disposed of now, and Bingham replied "my optimism is great, but I have heard that it wouldn't be disposed of."

The Democratic leader then began a brief statement with the remark "just a day or so ago, the House of Representatives passed a beer bill, taxing and increasing the alcoholic content of beer."

"That bill," he continued, "has been referred to the judiciary committee and it is expected that the committee will make a prompt report to the Senate."

Robinson said he had no desire "to delay unduly" consideration of a beer bill, but that as there were legal and constitutional questions involved, he felt it should go to committee.

He said he "believed that no wholesome end will be accomplished by taking up the bill of the Senator from Connecticut" under the circumstances.

Bingham explained he made his motion in order to speed action, fearing prolonged delay if the beer legislation had to take the usual committee course.

Wanted Quick Action

Replying to Robinson, Bingham said he made his motion in the belief that if the measure went first to committee it would be impossible to obtain action at the short session.

He said he did not wish to make any "derogatory" remarks about the judiciary committee, but that bills to modify the Volstead Act and to repeal the 18th Amendment had been pending before it for months and none had been reported.

He said he asked Chairman Norris of the judiciary committee for early consideration of his repeal amendment December 17, 1931, but hearings were not held by a sub-committee until four months later.

He cited this as an example of the delay he said would result if the beer bill were now taken up by the committee first.

When Bingham said it would not be necessary to send his bill to the finance committee because it contained no tax provision Senator Robinson assailed the Bingham statement for what he termed his "poor strategy" and attempt to embarrass someone.

Important Part

Robinson contended the revenue feature of the legislation was perhaps the "most important" part of it.

Robinson said everyone realized that more tax legislation might be found necessary later but said for Senator Bingham to eliminate the taxation angle of the bill and "try to embarrass" some one or make it appear someone was not loyal to his party platform was "poor strategy."

Bingham replied that even with the tax angle eliminated the beer legislation would bring in revenue because provision for taxing beer already is on the statute books.

"It is perfectly apparent what the Senator from Connecticut is trying to do," Robinson began. "He is still trying to gain some sort of partisan advantage by attempting to bring up a beer bill under conditions when every Senator knows it can't be promptly disposed of."

"There is not any disposition on this side of the chamber to unfairly delay this kind of legislation. We are interested in obtaining a report from the judiciary committee, because an opinion by the committee on manufacturers doesn't carry the legal weight of a finding by the committee on the judiciary, which is the legal committee of the Senate."

Constitutional Phases
He explained that he referred to the constitutional phases of beer bills, on which extensive hearings were held last session by the manufacturers committee.

Robinson announced if there were indications of a filibuster against the bill in committee, he would move later in the session to discharge it. He agreed to this course of action in response to a suggestion from Senator Walsh, (D., Mass.).

Robinson said the Democrats not only had an obligation to their party platform, but an obligation to uphold the Constitution.

For that reason, he said the legislation should go to the committee for study.

"I feel warranted in declaring that prompt consideration will be given to the subject by that committee and action will be given in a reasonable time," he said.

BINGHAM APPLAUDED

Washington, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Senator Bingham, lost his motion for immediate consideration of beer today but he won applause from the gallery.

Asserting after the vote that the senate's action meant no beer by Christmas, Bingham was applauded. Vice President Curtis rapped the gavel sharply for order.

"We will be lucky if we have beer by next Christmas," Bingham said.

U. S. MILLIONAIRES HIT BY DEPRESSION

1930 found that their incomes had declined below the point requiring them to report. More than half of those filing reports showed incomes too low to be taxable. The number paying tax was 1,455,007.

Individual tax payers reported net incomes of $13,231,352,042, a drop of almost four billion dollars below the preceding year. Corporation net incomes were $3,110,542,583, a decrease of two and a half billion dollars.

The tax paid by both individuals and corporations dropped almost fifty percent, 49.06 percent for individuals and 48.44 for corporations. Net losses reported by corporations declined sharply in comparison with 1930, $116,406,978 in 1931 and $618,246,431 in 1930. Individuals recorded their losses from the sale of real estate, stocks, and bonds, and similar transactions, at $1,043,625,622.

Contributions to charitable organizations gained deductions of $120,000,000 for persons with incomes of less than $5,000, half that amount for persons with incomes between $5,000 and $10,000, and a little more than ten million dollars for persons in the million dollar income class.

GRAIN REACHES
ALL-TIME LOWS;
OUTLOOK IS BETTER

Chicago.—(AP)—Hope of a "new deal" for agriculture, with belief in better days ahead for the grain trade, enlivens the 1933 outlook in LaSalle street.

Bank and file members of the Chicago Board of Trade, no less than their official spokesmen, express themselves as desirous as the farmer for the return of a scale of prices which will represent to grain producers a fair profit above costs.

An authoritative summing-up of LaSalle street's 1933 program is as follows: "When sound legislation is passed to correct the present agricultural situation, the grain trade will be found cooperating to make it a success."

Prices Touch Bottom
In 1932 wheat, oats and rye at Chicago joined in reaching all-time low price records, while corn went down along the same path.

Board of trade reports show the 1932 gross income of farmers officially estimated at less than half the 1929 returns. Traders point out that general commodity prices today are at about 80 per cent of the 1929-1931 level, but if wheat were selling at 80 per cent of the 1929-1931 level it would be bringing 84 cents a bushel—instead of less than 45.

Wheat in Low Mark
In brief, 1933 board of trade history is that future delivery wheat fell to its lowest depth November 25, touching 41 1/2 cents a bushel for December contracts, against 51 1/2 cents a year previous. Immediate delivery wheat reached its lowest price—44 1/2 cents—November 1.

Oats went through their previous lows December 3, when December contracts brought only 13 1/2 cents. They had sold more than 10 cents higher at the corresponding time in 1931.

December rye brought as low as 26 1/2 cents November 1 after selling at 44 1/2 the previous year.

How's She Hittin'!
"Passenger cars are subject to much more wear in the four coldest months of winter than in the other eight months of the year. Engines are heated from near zero or below zero temperatures at starting to as much as 180-degree a half an hour."

The above statement, made by an oil engineer, gives ample reason for the motorist to see that his car is properly lubricated for winter driving.

One can readily see that the crankshaft and pistons receive considerable more wear in winter than in summer due to the fact that they plow through stiffened oil and, before thinning it to a consistency suitable for driving, the heated to a high temperature.

Instantly after it happened when cars, driving with heavy summer oil in winter, have had the pistons "freeze" and refuse to budge in the block until the car was stopped and cooled off. This condition arises from the fact that the oil, being too thick, fails to lubricate and cool the pistons.

If the car is driven fast without a slow "warming up," the pistons expand too fast for the cylinder walls, which are kept cooler by the temperature of the engine block, and become too large for the boys and stick.

Winter oil must be thinner than the heavy lubricant used in summer driving—but it can and does get too thin. Excessive churning in starting the engine will cause a lot of unburned gasoline to find its way down past the pistons and into the crankcase.

This type of dilution of the oil is more common in winter. The remedy is to have the oil renewed more often if it is necessary to start the car with frequent chocking.

The engine lubricant is not the only one that needs attention during winter. The lubrication mediums of the transmission and differential needs careful attention. Both require thinner lubricants than those used in summer. If the same heavy grease and oil used in summer is left in for winter driving, the gears will mesh and work without any lubricant until the car has gone far enough to warm up the congealed oil and stiff grease to a flowing consistency.

But while this warming up process is going on, the gears are without any anti-friction medium. The result is that there is considerable wear. Tiny bits of metal break off and these wear down the gears much faster than they ordinarily would wear under proper lubrication.

Better give the old car a good going over at the hands of a reliable garageman who will take in the whole car in a greasing operation. He'll take care of the quality of lubricant and, in addition, will go over the chassis greases points and make the old bus run a lot easier in winter, when driving is anything but pleasant unless your car is in A-1 condition.

CONNECTICUT EXPORTS

Washington, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Representative Lonergan (D., Conn.) was informed by the Commerce Department today that during the last five years Connecticut manufacturers and merchants had exported products valued at $215,000,000.

The value of the 1931 exports, the department said, was $24,067,876, compared to $39,141,314 in 1930. In 1929 the exports were valued at $53,317,912, the largest amount during the five year period.

"It is perfectly apparent what the Senator from Connecticut is trying to do," Robinson began. "He is still trying to gain some sort of partisan advantage by attempting to bring up a beer bill under conditions when every Senator knows it can't be promptly disposed of."

"There is not a disposition on this side of the chamber to unfairly delay this kind of legislation. We are interested in obtaining a report from the judiciary committee, because an opinion by the committee on manufacturers doesn't carry the legal weight of a finding by the committee on the judiciary, which is the legal committee of the Senate."

Constitutional Phases

He explained that he referred to the constitutional phases of beer bills, on which extensive hearings were held last session by the manufacturers committee.

Robinson announced if there were indications of a filibuster against the bill in committee, he would move later in the session to discharge it.

He agreed to this course of action in response to a suggestion from Senator Walsh, (D., Mass.).

Robinson said the Democrats not only had an obligation to their party platform, but an obligation to uphold the Constitution.

For that reason, he said the legislation should go to the committee for study.

"I feel warranted in declaring that prompt consideration will be given to the subject by that committee and action will be given in a reasonable time," he said.

BINGHAM APPLAUDS

Washington, Dec. 23. (AP) — Senator Bingham, lost his motion for immediate consideration of beer today but he won applause from the gallery.

Asserting after the vote that the senate's action meant no beer by Christmas, Bingham was applauded. Vice President Curtis rapped the gavel sharply for order.

"We will be lucky if we have beer by next Christmas," Bingham said.

U. S. MILLIONAIRES HIT BY DEPRESSION

1930 found that their incomes had declined below the point requiring them to report. More than half of those filing reports showed incomes too low to be taxable. The number paying tax was 1,455,007.

Individual tax payers reported net incomes of $13,231,852,042, a drop of almost four billion dollars below the preceding year. Corporation net incomes were $3,110,642,568, a decrease of two and a half billion dollars.

The tax paid by both individuals and corporations dropped almost fifty percent, 49.06 percent for individuals and 48.44 for corporations.

Net losses reported by corporations declined sharply in comparison with 1930, $116,406,978 in 1931 and $618,246,431 in 1930. Individuals recorded their losses from the sale of real estate, stocks, and bonds, and similar transactions, at $1,043,625,622.

Contributions to charitable organizations gained deductions of $120,000,000 for persons with incomes of less than $5,000, half that amount for persons with incomes between $5,000 and $10,000, and a little more than ten million dollars for persons in the million dollar income class.

GRAIN REACHES ALL-TIME LOWS; OUTLOOK IS BETTER

Chicago. (AP)—Hope of a "new deal" for agriculture with belief in better days ahead for the grain trade, enlivens the 1933 outlook in LaSalle street.

Rank and file members of the Chicago Board of Trade, no less than their official spokesmen, express themselves as desirous as the farmer for the return of a scale of prices which will represent to grain producers a fair profit above costs.

An authoritative summary-up of LaSalle street's 1933 program is as follows:

"When sound legislation is passed to correct the present agricultural situation, the grain trade will be found cooperating to make it a success."

Prices Touch Bottom

In 1932 wheat, oats and rye at Chicago joined in reaching all-time low price records, while corn went far along the same path.

Board of trade reports show the 1932 gross income of farmers officially estimated at less than half the 1929 returns. Traders point out that general commodity prices today are at about 80 per cent of the 1929-32 level, but if wheat were selling at 80 per cent of the 1909-12 level it would be bringing 84 cents a bushel—instead of less than 45.

Wheat's Low Mark

In brief, 1932 board of trade history is that future delivery wheat fell to its lowest depth November 25, touching 41½ cents a bushel for December contracts, against 51½ cents a year previous. Immediate deliveries, which reached its lowest price—44½ cents—November 1.

Oats went through their previous lows December 3, when December contracts brought only 13½ cents. They had sold more than 10 cents higher at the corresponding time in 1931.

December rye brought as low as 26½ cents November 1 after selling at 44½ the previous year.

HOW'S SHE HITTING?

"Passenger cars are subject to more wear in the four coldest months of winter than in the other eight months of the year. Engines are heated from near zero or below zero temperatures at starting to as much as 190-degree a half an hour."

The above statement, made by an oil engineer, gives ample reason for the motorist to see that his car is properly lubricated for winter driving.

One can readily see that the crankshaft and pistons receive considerable more wear in winter than in summer due to the fact that they flow through stiffened oil and, before thinning it to a consistency suitable for driving, the heated to a high temperature.

Instances have happened when cars, driving with heavy summer oil in winter, have had the pistons "freeze" and refuse to budge in the block until the car was stopped and the engine warmed up.

This condition arises from the fact that the oil, being too thick, fails to lubricate and cool the pistons.

If the car is driven fast without a slow "warming up," the pistons expand too fast for the cylinder walls, which are kept cooler by the temperature of the engine block, and become too large for the boys and stick.

Winter oil must be thinner than the heavy lubricant used in summer driving—but it can and does get too thin. Excessive churning in starting, the engine will cause a lot of unburned gasoline to find its way down past the pistons and into the crankcase.

This type of dilution of the oil is more common in winter. The remedy is to have the oil renewed more often, if it is necessary to start the car with frequent churning.

The engine lubricant is not the only one that needs attention during winter. The lubrication mediums of the transmission and differential needs careful attention. Both require thinner lubricants than those used in summer. If the same heavy grease and oil used in summer is left in for winter driving, the gears will mesh and work without any lubricant until the car has gone far enough to warm up the congested oil and stir grease to a driving consistency.

But while this warming up process is going on, the gears are without any anti-friction medium. The result is that there is considerable wear. Tiny bits of metal break off and these wear down the gears much faster than they ordinarily would wear under proper lubrication.

Better give the old car a good going over at the hands of a reliable garage man who will take in the whole car in a greasing operation. He'll take care of the quality of lubricant, and, in addition, will go over the chassis grease points and make the old bus run a lot easier in winter, when driving is anything but pleasant unless your car is in A-1 condition.

Washington, Dec. 23. (AP) — Representative Lonergan (D., Conn.) was informed by the Commerce Department today that during the last five years Connecticut manufacturers and merchants had exported products valued at $215,000,000.

The value of the 1931 exports, the department said, was $24,067,376, compared to $39,141,314 in 1930.

In 1929 the exports were valued at $33,317,523, the largest amount during the five year period.

FINANCIAL NEWS

By AARON COOK

More constructive news in railroads has come out in the past few days than destructive but yesterday the rails took the leadership in a downward market.

The general market yesterday was weak and selling seemed to follow the market down with a good sized turnover. The extension of the 10 per cent wage reduction of railroad employees and the passage of the beer bill by the House had little effect.

The curb market showed weakness with pressure on Electric Bond and Share.

The New York Bank and Insurance Stock Market and The Local Market sagged somewhat in conformity with the New York Stock Exchange.

The Board of Directors of The First National Bank yesterday declared a quarterly dividend of $2 per share payable January 3, 1933 to stock of record December 24, 1932.

The situation in Washington does not look at this time very promising. The two Houses will most likely pull in opposite directions and should they come together, the presidential veto is always to be considered.

LATEST STOCKS

New York, Dec. 23.—(AP)—The Stock Market again lapsed into a state of quiescence today, after yesterday's selling flurry.

A little more selling drifted through the list here and there, but there was no repetition of yesterday's pounding down of prices. On the whole, today's market held about steady, in listless, pre-holiday trading.

The bottling stocks attracted some attention, Crown Cork dropping 4 points, then recovering partially. Owens Illinois Glass sagged more than a point. Case lost a point, and substantial fractional losses appeared in Allied Chemical, Santa Fe, Johns Manville in a few others.

The moderately cheerful tone of the weekly mercantile reviews attracted some attention, but Wall Street is now most interested in the prospects for 1933, and finds the outlook rather obscure.

The action of the bottling stocks was variously explained, but seemed to reflect withdrawal of professional support, as the probable course of the beer bill in the Senate seemed highly conjectural.

NEED MORE COTTON

Washington, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Immediate action on a bill to authorize turning over 50,000 additional bales of Farm Board cotton to the Red Cross for distribution to the needy was prevented in the Senate today by several Senators who requested time to study the measure.

The House passed such a bill last session and another in a slightly different form is now before the Senate.

Senator Bingham said the 500,000 bales given to the Red Cross last season has already been distributed and he still under pressing need for the additional cotton.

COMMITTEE SUICIDE

Lynn, Mass., Dec. 23.—(AP)—Apparently grief-stricken by memories aroused by the addressing of Christmas cards, Edmund J. Kelly, 48, shot and killed himself yesterday. A laundress found his body in his apartment today.

AUTO VICTIM DIES

New Haven, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Claude Grisold, 42, a World War veteran, on furlough from the Fitch home at Noroton, died today in Grace hospital of injuries suffered when struck by a trolley car.

The accident occurred last night near the Race Brook road in Orange. Harold Schwesiger of 184 Howe street, Shelton, was the motorman on the Derby-New Haven car which struck the veteran.

Wall Street Briefs

New York, Dec. 23.—The proposed reorganization of the Kellogg Hayes Wheel Corp., involving the formation of a new company to acquire the assets of the present company is assured, it is reported, by the amount of stock already deposited in support of the plan.

Alaska Juneau Gold Mining Co. directors have declared a quarterly dividend of 15 cents, payable February 1 to stock of record January 10. By this action the annual rate is increased from 50 cents to 60 cents.

The fact that more than 80 per cent of the Baltimore and Ohio convertible 4 1/8s of 1933 have accepted the road's refunding plan is interpreted in Wall Street as promising successful consummation of the plan. The amount of bonds involved is $68,250,000 making it one of the largest of the 1933 rail maturities.

STOLE LAWYERS' COATS

Hartford, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Operating in too close proximity to the agents of the law, two Hartford youths were sent to jail for thirty days here today. Albert Kent, 56 Haysville avenue and John Kimel, 56 Wellington street, both 19, were presented before Judge Frederick M. Peasley in Superior Court by State's Attorney Alcorn, on bench warrants charging them with stealing overcoats belonging to two lawyers, from the cloakroom of the county courthouse yesterday.

COME AWAY FROM THAT CLOSET, YOUNG LADY. YOU'LL GET A CHANCE TO SEE THOSE THINGS WHEN SANTA BRINGS YOUR CHRISTMAS TREE

By FRANK BECK

The reindeer seemed just full of pep and Scouty said, "How they can step! I'll bet that overcoming him has made them feel just right. "Now that that little task is done, we're ready for some more real fun. We're going to load old Santa's sleigh. It must be packed up tight. "Well, come, lets get it. Copy cried. And then the whole bunch ran inside the barn and took hold of the sleigh so they could pull it out. "It wasn't very hard to do. The next thing that the Times knew, a lot of wee elves gathered 'round and let out quite a shout. "One of them cried, "The toys are in the toy shop now. We all have been real busy getting them all set to load upon the sleigh. "We'll bring them out. You do pack up best. It means that everyone will have to work real hard today. "Santa called when he came up and said, "I think I'll flop down on my bed. A long lie is ahead of me, to north, east and west. "I'm going to leave the packing task to you kind kids and all I ask is that you'll be careful now and do your very best. "Then Santa disappeared from sight and Scouty loudly cried, "All right! Bring on the toys and pile them here! Then in the sleigh they go. "The elves proved they were very strong. It didn't take them very long. Wee Duncy tried to help them, but the lad worked much too slow. "Brave Scouty jumped into the sleigh and shouted, "Head them up this way. I'll tuck them every place I can I guess they'll all fit. "Remember," little Windy cried, "that good old Santa has to ride. Be sure, while packing, that you leave a place for him to sit. "Santa calls when he comes up and said, "The reindeer seemed just full of pep and Scouty said, "How they can step! I'll bet that overcoming him has made them feel just right. # SENSE AND NONSENSE

Because each of us pauses at this season to renew his expression of cheer and goodwill, all Christendom puts aside its work to do homage to the Spirit of Christmas. Cease the exchange of merry greetings and much of the charm and potency of Christmas is destroyed.

And so it is fitting, we believe, that this Column convey to you our wishes for a very Merry Christmas and a Happy and prosperous New Year.

CHRISTMAS
This Christmas Day let's lay away the burdens of the year, with gladness about let's go about a spreading of good cheer. May we this on this Blessed Christmas be filled with joy and mirth. And our hearts re-echo the anthem, Peace, and good will on earth.

When a literary man gets so much a word for his writings, he spreads them around as thickly as confetti on a returning hero.

Grandmother—When I was a girl we used to keep our money in our stockings tops.
Granddaughter—Awfully risky now-a-days, grandma, to put it where it can be seen so easily.

RANDOM REMARKS... People who take their money out of the banks are often looking for a good place to lose it... The same money that talks so loud walks out on you on its tiptoes... As long as ten thousand people will cross the continent to attend a fraternal convention, the country is sound... Human nature is man's excuse for a lot of his ornery actions... When a woman has a suspicion she is always willing to share it with others... Perhaps the greatest optical delusion in trade is the price tag which says $2.98... Strange, isn't it, that so many critics remain only critics?... Too many people are like the sea—they never can dry up... Some successes are made from the fine art of profiting by early mistakes... It must be awful to have the band fold up in which you have all the money you saved by neglecting your teeth... It's as natural for a boy to want a dog as it is for a girl to desire a doll... The good fellow may be all right but we wouldn't want him as our banker... We heard a sheik say that a flapper's complexion doesn't always taste as good as it looks... Jobs have a habit of seeming easier when done now, rather than tomorrow... A husband is nothing but a live wire bachelor who has had his power turned off... During an intense love scene in one of the movie houses recently, when the hero was doing his stuff, wife nudged hubby and said:

Wife—Why is it that you never make love to me like that?
Hubby—Say, do you know what salary that guy gets for doing that?

Landlady—You'll have to pay your bill or leave.
Lodger—Thanks awfully. My last landlady made me do both.

ABOUT TOWN

Starting tomorrow the employees of the State Highway Department road force will begin a new work schedule. They will be employed every other week in order to spread employment.

Charles Saunders, of Bolton, employed on the state road force, is recovering from an accident he suffered when a pick-axe hit him in the foot. He has been confined to his home for 10 days.

A Christmas party for the patients at the Newington Veterans' Hospital will be held tonight at the Newington institution. Anderson-Shea Post will be represented at the party by Mrs. Christina Glensie, chairman; Mrs. Elizabeth Phelan, Mrs. Anna Barron and Mrs. Alice Wetherell.

No arrests are to be made as a result of the two accidents in Bolton yesterday morning when a truck slid off the road against the ledge and a sedan turned upside down. The investigation was made by Constable Saunders and assistance was given by Chief of Police Gordon in getting the names of the owners of the cars involved. This information was turned over to the state police to check further. They learned that the accidents had been caused by slippery roads rather than by reckless driving and concluded that no arrests should be made.

The annual Christmas exercises of the Salvation Army will be held tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock. A program of recitations and songs will be given by the young people of the company meeting, and presentation of gifts will follow the meeting.

Mrs. Georgina Walker of Woodbridge street, and her daughter, Miss Mary E. Weir, left today for Brooklyn, N. Y. where they will spend the week-end and Christmas with friends.

Miss Elsie Harrison who is working for her master's degree at the Boston University School of Religious Education, has arrived home for the Christmas vacation.

The kindergarten department of St. Mary's church school will have its annual Christmas party in the parish house tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. There will be a program of games in charge of the teachers. The children will receive their oranges and candy, and Santa Claus will no doubt drop in at the party.

Miss Anna French of Oak street will spend the week-end and holiday with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Earl T. French of Haverhill, Mass., formerly of this town.

The members of the Manchester Green Community club are reminding of the important business meeting in the Green school hall this evening at 7:30, preceding the regular weekly setback and dance at 8:15.

The South Manchester Free Public Library will close at noon on Saturday and re-open Tuesday after the holiday.

Cradle Roll children were given a Christmas party yesterday afternoon at the Second Congregational church. More than 85 tots and their mothers attended. Games were played, refreshments served and gifts from a brightly ornamented tree distributed. The committee in charge included Mrs. P. C. Allen, Mrs. E. F. Walton, Mrs. William A. Knofs, Mrs. S. G. Bowers and Mrs. Meredith Stevenson.

Miss Jessamine Smith of Chestnut street will spend the week-end and holiday with relatives in Rutland, Vermont.

William George, son of Captain and Mrs. W. S. George of 808 Main street, arrived home yesterday for the holidays, from the Virginia Military Institute at Lexington, Va. V. M. I. is often referred to as the "West Point of the South."

Miss Margaret Hyde of the nursing staff of the Brooklyn Naval hospital is expected tomorrow to spend a few days with her sister, Mrs. James Harrison of Russell street, and other relatives in town.

Sunday school teachers of Emanuel Lutheran church will meet this evening at 8 o'clock.

James A. Altken, of Philadelphia is spending the holiday vacation with his sister, Mrs. Alex Rogers of Chestnut street.

Miss Grace C. Hood of Elm Terrace, who recently returned from a tour of the British Isles, is now employed as secretary to Dr. C. C. Burlingame at the Hartford Retreat.

Recreation Center Items of Interest

The winners at the setback party held last night in the West Side Recreation building were: Mrs. D. Gribben with 167, Mrs. Mary Donahue with 158, Mrs. E. Judd with 153 and Mrs. E. Euland who had 148. Consolation was won by D. Foster with a low score of 82.

The whist card party that is held on Saturday evening at the west side will not be held this Saturday evening because of Xmas Eve. Another of the modern and old fashioned dances will be held tomorrow night at the West Side Recreation building with dancing from 8 to 12. An added feature will be free presents to all who attend. "Chuckie" Burke and his Corn Huskers will again furnish the music with Carl Wiganoske doing the prompting.

Forty girls enjoyed a Christmas Party at the Rec Wednesday afternoon. It was a group from dancing and swimming classes and games were played in the ladies room and each girl received a gift and box of candy. Upstairs refreshments were served and Christmas songs were sung.

EMANUEL LUTHERAN PAGEANT ON MONDAY

Mrs. K. E. Erickson Directing Program of Swedish Church For Next Monday Night.

Mrs. K. E. Erickson, wife of the pastor of the Emanuel Lutheran church is directing the pageant, "Christmas Customs of Many Lands," to be presented by the Sunday school Monday evening at 7:30. The Christmas carols and other songs in the pageant will be sung by the whole Sunday school, with the assistance of several of the members of the Children's choir and Girls' Bible class.

The pageant opens with angels bringing the good tidings of the birth of Christ to the shepherds at Bethlehem. The scene following depicts the nativity, with Mary at the manger and the wise men and young children bringing their gifts to the infant Jesus. The last part of the pageant illustrates how Christmas is celebrated in many different lands throughout the world. Teachers in the primary department have co-operated and have rehearsed the children in songs and recitations. The final rehearsal for the entire program will be held on Monday morning at 10 o'clock sharp, and it is important that all children taking part in the pageant be present.

Miss Marion Packard and Miss Olive Little, commercial teachers in the High school at Turner's Falls, Mass., have arrived home for the Christmas vacation.

ST. MARY'S CHRISTMAS PARTY THIS EVENING

Junior Department Entertainment in Parish House Starting At 7 O'Clock.

The annual Christmas party and entertainment of the Junior Department of St. Mary's Sunday school will be held this evening at the parish house. The following program will be presented at seven o'clock: Recitation, Christmas Is Coming, Harriet Jones; solo, Shine Out O Blessed Star, Winifred Pentland; piano solo, Aery-Fairy, Coris Stratton; tap dance by Phyllis Dwyer; quartet, "Silent Night, Holy Night," Dorothy Dwyer, Harriet Jones, Winifred Pentland, Arlene McCaughey, Barbara Tedford; recitation, While Shepherds Watched Their Flocks by Night, Cyril McGrath; solo, Jolly Old Santa Claus, Arlene McCaughey; recitation, Under the Stars, Dorothy Dwyer; recitation, Away in a Manger, Arlene Stevenson; recitation, Happy Christmas, Dorothy Douglas; solo, "O Little Town of Bethlehem," all children in program; Christmas greeting by pupils of Barbara Hyde's class.

At the close of the entertainment the Christmas tree will be held downstairs. The parents of the children are invited to attend this party.

Group 4 of the Memorial Hospital Linen auxiliary, of which Miss Mary Hutchinson is leader, will omit its meeting on Monday, Christmas day.
