

JAPANESE PLANES SCOUT OVER JEHOI

Reports Also State That Army Is Preparing For An Invasion — Several Vil- lages Bombed By Japs.

Shanghai, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Japanese airplanes were reported scouting today over Jehoi (Cheng-te), former summer residence of the Manchou Emperors and now the capital of Jehoi province, and Chao-Yang, near the Manchurian border. These are the two principal cities of Jehoi, about 140 miles apart. Chinese newspapers, which reported the sighting of the planes, also announced receipt of dispatches from Southern Jehoi and Manchuria stating that Japanese were engaged in feverish preparations for an invasion of Jehoi. Military leaders predicted sharp fighting if a Japanese expedition already in the province continued an advance toward Wangyuan, about 100 miles northeast of Jehoi City.

The Kuomintang (Government) News Agency stated that 35 trainloads of Japanese soldiers were sent from Mukden, Manchuria, for Chinchow, Japanese army base east of the Jehoi border, and for Tanushan and Kowpangte.

Army To Advance

The official agency also said that "the army will advance into Jehoi from the north."

Further Chinese advices stated Japanese aerial raids between Sutchung, 25 miles north of Shanhai-kwan in Manchuria, and Lingyuan, "wreaked considerable damage."

As the result of Chinwangdeu, the reported in Southern Jehoi was reported to be about 40 degrees below zero.

"Both Chinese and Japanese were principally engaged in trying to preserve life against the elements," Chinese dispatches stated. "The latest military activities another Chinese report said, but it added: 'Nevertheless, the Japanese are now within a few miles of the Chinese defenses east of Wangyuan, where the Chinese have dug in and will resist if the Japanese attempt to pass.'"

Villages Bombed

Chinese sources said Japanese planes bombed villages northward of Chinchenko, the pass in the great wall of China occupied by Japanese troops after severe fighting of the past two days.

Chang Hsiao-Liang's headquarters at Peiping and the Japanese Legation there both reported this evening that there had been no major activities in the vicinity of Shanhai-kwan for the past 48 hours. The situation was unchanged also at Chinchenko, a short distance north of that city. Apparently the Japanese still held the northern end of the pass, which is about two miles long, and the Chinese clung to the southern end.

Chinese Reinforcements

Both sides seemed satisfied to let this situation continue for the time being, although it was reported that Chinese reinforcements were still pushing up towards the Great Wall. Dispatches from Chinwangdeu, the customs station at Shanhai-kwan, seized when the Japanese occupied the city last Tuesday, was again under the control of the Chinese authorities. The Japanese were said to have surrendered the station in response to urgent protests from customs commissioners at Chinwangdeu, who also controls the Shanhai-kwan office.

The government at Nanking re-

(Continued on Page Seven)

JUDGES SUGGEST ECONOMY SCHEME

Would Revise Court Costs In State — Report Judges Will Cut Salaries.

Hartford, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Governor Cross will receive soon from Chief Justice William M. Maithe a report adopted Monday by the Superior and Supreme Court judges, recommending revisions in court costs in the state with a view to economy. Justice Maithe today declined to discuss the recommendations. It is understood the judges voted to cut their salaries from $9,000 per cent and to effect a saving of $40,000 per year. Justice Maithe said there was discussion of salary changes incidental to the proposed revision of entire court cost schedules, but declined to say whether salary cuts were adopted at the meeting.

He pointed out today that salaries are a small part of the entire court costs, and also that considerable revenue is derived by the Superior Courts through fines.

The survey was made by Judge Newell Jennings of the Superior Court at the request of the chief justice, and Judge Jennings today said the report is in the letter's hands.

BANKING EXPERT SCORES BROKERS

Tells Senators Investors Should Have Been Told About Substitutions.

Washington, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Dr. Max Winkler, a New York economist, told a Senate committee today he did not think Lee-Higginson and company, a New York investment house, had done its full duty to its customers in allowing inferior collateral to be substituted for that upon which Krueger and Toll bonds were issued.

"It is the duty of those who distribute bonds to the public to see that when substitutions are made the substituted collateral is as sound as that taken away," Winkler said in reply to questions in the Stock Market investigation.

"They should have made it their business to get the information of the substitution."

The substitution was described as one which cost American investors around $10,000,000 in decreased values of the bonds.

Winkler appeared as an expert witness as the committee pursued its inquiry into the financial empire that came tumbling down after the suicide of Ivar Krueger, the Swedish match magnate.

"SOUND INVESTMENT"

Washington, Jan. 12.—(AP)—A New York economist told the Senate Stock Market investigators today that the Krueger and Toll bond issue of $50,000,000 in 1929 was a "fundamentally sound investment" when it was sold to the public.

Dr. Max Winkler, associate professor of economics at the College of the City of New York and president of the American Council of Foreign Investors, said the bonds originally were secured by collateral of $60,000,000 in securities.

The committee was told yesterday that inferior collateral was substituted later and that the bonds were worth 14 cents on the dollar now.

Only a few members of the committee were present.

DOMESTIC QUARRELS END IN MURDER

Rich Matron Kills Her Husband In Luxurious New York Apartment.

New York, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Domestic quarrels that led to the slaying of Everett McCabe, well-to-do business man, in his luxurious apartment in Woodstock Tower, Manhattan, ended in murder today. Detectives said his wife, Gertrude, middle-aged and the mother of three children, admitted shooting him.

Two men who were overnight guests of the McCabes told police that before dawn today they heard loud quarreling in the McCabes' bedroom. McCabe started toward the bathroom. His wife followed him, flung open the bathroom door, she later told detectives, and shot him in the head.

Sobbing and screaming, she ran and pounded on the guest room door, crying:

"I've just shot my husband."

Between fits of hysteria she told police she had bought the revolver in Daytona Beach, Fla., when she went there to visit a son during the Christmas holidays.

McCabe was 45 and vice president of the United Parcel Service.

PLAN MEMORIAL TRIBUTE TO COOLIDGE

Planning memorial services to be held for the late President Coolidge, these ministers are pictured as they attended a meeting in Northampton, Mass. In the foreground are the Reverend Georges Cooke, left, and the Reverend Easton B. Freeman. In the background, left to right, are the Rev. M. Wahl; the Rev. Albert J. Penner, who officiated at the Coolidge funeral services in Northampton; the Rev. Thomas Bruce Butler; and the Rev. Basil Douglas Hall.

LAND FORCES OF U. S. NOW RANK SEVENTEENTH

General McArthur Tells House Committee That All Other Nations Are In- creasing Size of Armies.

Washington, Jan. 12.—(AP)—General Douglas MacArthur, chief of staff, ranks the United States seventeenth in military strength of land forces among the nations of the world.

Warning a House appropriations sub-committee that "we are living in a troublesome time," the Army leader said "practically all other nations are increasing their strength" while the United States has reduced its forces.

"World conditions are unsettled and provocative," McArthur said in testifying before the committee again the untrustworthiness of supply bills for the next fiscal year. "Many nations are passing through economic crises. The tense situation in the Far East which for some weeks during the past winter flamed into open hostilities, emphasized again the untrustworthiness of international peace."

The Geneva conference for nearly a year has been studying formulas for effecting universal reductions in land armaments. The results to date have been practically negligible.

Unique Example

McArthur said the United States "has accomplished a degree of reduction in its land forces that stands a unique example among world powers," he added.

"These reductions leave the United States now the seventeenth ranking nation in military strength in the world. As practically all other nations are increasing their strengths, it is quite possible that in the near future the United States will drop even further in the relative list."

"It is apparent," he said, "that the larger nations are increasing their outlays for military preparedness." He added he was "unhappily opposed" to sacrificing "trained man power" and declared:

"The Army can suffer in all other things and still carry out its main mission. Cut into its trained man power and you destroy the military framework which supports our system of National Defense."

"Demands of the budget for economy," he said, through limitations pro-

Manufacturers of Glasses Indifferent Over Repeal

Pittsburgh, Jan. 12.—An ancient trick of the saloon demoralized for the home bar—without the element of deception—is offered for 1933 by the glass and ceramics trade.

The old-time beer mug that looked like 16 ounces and actually was 12, is back—but the purpose is different.

"Drain it and 'slam' it back on the counter," said one manufacturer: "You can't break that. That is what the new 'sham' bottoms are for."

Other novelties show at the 63rd annual exhibit of the Associated Glass and Pottery Manufacturers include cocktail glasses with corresponding lapel buttons, so guests won't drink out of the other guests' glasses.

As to the possibility of legal beer,

ONLY MINOR FLURRIES DISTURB LEGISLATURE

YRIGOYEN RETURNS TO HIS OLD HOME

Ex-President of Argentine Is Allowed To Leave Exile Because of Poor Health.

Buenos Aires, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Hipolito Yrigoyen, 82-year-old ex-president of Argentine, was lodged again today in his apartment here after having returned from a second sojourn in exile because of his precarious health.

The aged bachelor, who was overthrown during his second term as president in the 1930 revolution, was kept under police guard. Although suffering from a complication of chronic infirmities, he ascended home stairs to his modest home over a toy shop after being brought to the city on a naval dispatch boat.

Yrigoyen was exiled for the second time to Marcia Garcia island at the mouth of the Uruguay river on December 15 due to an abortive uprising against the Augustin Justo government. He was accused of leading the plot to overthrow the government, which only ten months before had released him from his previous exile on the island.

Lived On Warships

Yrigoyen, who was president from 1916 to 1922 and already well past the traditional span of life when re-elected in 1928, spent many weeks on Argentine warships after his overthrow. At that time, his physician petitioned for Yrigoyen's removal ashore in the interest of his health and a Federal Court late in 1930 ordered a medical examination.

He was finally sent to Martin Garcia island where he was granted the freedom of a farmhouse and yard under military guard.

The government today still was reserving power of a state of siege, the recurrent occurrence of the December short-lived outbreak. Congress stood adjourned for the duration of the internal crisis.

U. S. NAVAL PLANES LEAD THE WORLD

Army Air Strength Alone Stands Fourth; Combined, Our Air Forces Are Third.

Washington, Jan. 12.—(AP)—An advance in the past year from fourth to third rank in the world's military air strength is asserted by the United States by F. Trues Davison, assistant secretary of war for aviation.

In testimony before the House appropriations sub-committee which drafted the War Department supply bill, Davison said:

"Our tactical position is very much better today than it was at the beginning of the five-year program, in spite of all the difficulties we have gone through, particularly in the last three or four years."

"That has reflected a change in our relative air strength as compared with other nations. This country stands far and away first, as far as naval air strength is concerned."

"When we combined the Army and the Navy together we stand third in the world today, whereas last year we stood fourth."

"When we take simply the army air strength alone, as compared with the land air strength of other nations, we stand first."

Blizzards Rage in West; Summer Weather in East

By Associated Press
Two widely separated states—Minnesota and California—today surveyed the results of death dealing weather in the form of a blizzard, sub-zero temperatures and gales.

While the north country was digging itself out of snow-blocked highways and recording at least three deaths which came with mercury readings as low as 17 degrees below zero, Southern California was counting the damage and loss of life it sustained from an 80-mile gale.

In way of contrast New York lolled in its warmest Jan. 11 in history yesterday with the thermometer at 37 degrees above zero. Chicago and the middle west had winter temperatures but no snow.

In California, reports said the wind, viciously blowing through orange groves and acres of oil well derricks, had claimed at least two lives and caused property damage approaching a million dollars.

NOTED SCIENTIST ARRIVES IN U. S.

Prof. Piccard Makes Re- porters Stop Smoking Be- fore Being Interviewed.

New York, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Auguste Piccard, Belgian stratosphere flier, arrived in America today and the first thing he did was to refuse to talk to newspapermen until they quit smoking.

"The next, as soon as the smoke was cleared from the room of the steamer champion, was to deny a report that he protect his children back home in Belgium he had extracted the teeth of a vicious dog which belonged to a neighbor. The denial was brought forth by a rising storm of protest wired to Piccard's lecture agents in New York from American dog lovers who threatened not to attend the lectures, if the dog story was true.

One telegram from Franklin L. Fisher of the National Geographic Society, Washington, where Piccard delivers his first lecture, said that two members of the society had threatened to resign provided the dog story was true and Piccard was permitted to lecture as scheduled on the Geographic Society platform.

Piccard explained that he had merely bent or pulled thorns off some rose bushes in his garden to protect his children from being scratched. He said this was probable.

"THRILL" MURDERER NOW A "PROFESSOR"

Richard Loeb At Head of Prison Correspondence School.

Joliet, Ill., Jan. 12.—(AP)—Richard Loeb, who with Nathan Leopold is serving a 99-year sentence for the "thrill" murder of little Bobby Frank's widow, today is referred to as "Professor" Loeb—registrar, director and instructor of Illinois' new correspondence school for convicts in its twin penitentiaries.

The school, offering an academic course to convicts who have had grammar school education, opened yesterday with 28 enrolled and with 64 others seeking entrance. Prisoners in both the old prison at Joliet and the newer one at Stateville, nearby, are eligible. None will be permitted to burden himself with more than three subjects at one time and none may come in contact with the professors. The questions are typed out and submitted to them.

At No Expense

Loeb, one of the originators of the plan, which is being carried on with great interest, is serving on a friendly controversy in Wall Street banking quarters.

There is a rift of opinion as to whether the present is a good time for such an operation or whether it should be delayed until after the government balances its budget.

"The Treasury should not overstep the market," said Wiggins, but some bankers feel there is little likelihood of such a possibility.

"Balance the budget," said one authority, "and the problem will solve itself."

Other Viewpoints
Wiggins's viewpoint, which apparently is shared by Secretary Ogden Mills who recently said he favored

(Continued on Page Three)

Quarrel Over Joint Committees Fails To Materialize; Legislature Lays Groundwork For Consideration of Program Recommended By Gov. Cross In Inaugural Address—Also Takes Steps For Acting On Prohibition In Case the Dry Law Is Modified Or Repealed — Com- mittees Appointed.

Hartford, Jan. 12.—(AP)—The groundwork for speedy consideration of the legislative program recommended by Governor Cross in his inaugural address, including steps for acting on prohibition in the event of modification or repeal was laid today as the General Assembly met to complete its organization.

In the Senate a bill was filed by Senator Bergin creating a commission to recommend such legislation as may be necessitated by repeal of the 18th Amendment or modification of the Volstead Act. This measure, recommended by the governor, also empowered the commission to recommend the manner in which a constitutional convention is to be called if a repeal amendment is submitted by Congress for action by state conventions. The commission also would recommend measures of handling liquor in the state.

The House received a bill setting up a dispensary system for distribution of liquor in the event of repeal or modification of the Volstead Act. Bills incorporating two other recommendations made by the governor were filed in the Senate. One provides for the creation of a commission to study the tax structure of the state with the view of relieving the state of some of its tax burden. The other called for a commission to study reorganization of state departments.

Many Bills

A large number of bills were filed in both Houses as the General Assembly completed its organization by announcement of joint committees. Only a mild protest was raised by House Democrats against what they termed inadequate representation given their party by Speaker Hanna.

Many of the measures filed were for the appointment of judges of the Court of Common Pleas and Town Courts. Governor Cross also sent to the Senate six appointments to the Supreme Court of Errors and the Superior Court.

One of the first measures adopted by the House was one directing the governor to proclaim October 11 as General Pulaski's Memorial Day in honor of the Polish patriot who fought in the Revolutionary War.

The General Assembly also set January 27 as the last day for introduction of bills and resolutions, made by Speaker Hanna as a result of the appointment of judges of the Court of Common Pleas and Town Courts. Governor Cross also sent to the Senate six appointments to the Supreme Court of Errors and the Superior Court.

One of the first measures adopted by the House was one directing the governor to proclaim October 11 as General Pulaski's Memorial Day in honor of the Polish patriot who fought in the Revolutionary War.

The General Assembly also set January 27 as the last day for introduction of bills and resolutions, made by Speaker Hanna as a result of the appointment of judges of the Court of Common Pleas and Town Courts. Governor Cross also sent to the Senate six appointments to the Supreme Court of Errors and the Superior Court.

IN THE HOUSE

Hartford, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Establishment of a state dispensary system to control the liquor traffic in the event of repeal of the 18th Amendment, a concerted drive to lower the interest rate on small loans the setting aside of October 11 as General Pulaski day and an effort to create a state bird department, occupied the attention of the House today.

Two Democratic Representatives, Oscar Danenberg of Bridgeport and Francis W. Hogan of Torrington, resumed committee posts. Both asserted they would not serve on what they considered were unimportant committees. Minority Leader John Markham of Hartford, protested all the appointments as unfair to his party.

The bill providing for the state handling of the liquor business under a dispensary system was filed by Rep. Peck of Bristol. Under the provisions of this bill the Chief Executive of the state would within 30 days of the repeal of the 18th Amendment, name a State Board of Liquor Control of seven members, to serve for four years and no four of more than one political faith. Each would receive $2,000 a year, with the exception of the chairman and secretary whose salary would be set by the board of control.

Power of Commission

The liquor commission would have power to purchase and contract for liquor to rent or buy storerooms and to name dispensary managers and assistants. The board is enjoined to make sure that the purchased liquor is of good quality, sufficiently aged and of proper strength. It is to be purchased in sealed containers of not less than one pint and not more than one gallon.

The bill provides for establishment of a liquor dispensary in each town of more than 5,000 people, which has not voted, against such a dispensary, and the dispensary manager may establish branch dispensaries wherever necessary. The manager will be subject to a fine of $2,000 or two years in jail or both if they do not abide by the rules, which includes a provision that no liquor must be opened or consumed on the dispensary premises.

Communications
Two communications were received by the House from Governor Cross. One notified the lawmakers of the resignation of Albert B. Gardella, as judge of the City Court of Ansonia. The other contained the list of the governor's recess appointments, which included Samuel Goetz as deputy judge of the Town Court of Plainville, John W. Gallup as deputy judge of the Town Court of Orange, Bancel La Farge of Hamden, as a member of the commission of sculpture, Abraham S. Boardman as deputy judge of the City Court of Hartford, John J. McGarry of Putnam as sheriff of Windham County, and Frederick J. Bielecki of Middletown-Portland bridge of Conn.

ONLY MINOR FLURRY
Hartford, Jan. 12.—(AP)—The threatened fight over appointment of joint committees failed to materialize in the General Assembly today except for a minor flurry in the House precipitated by Democrats.

Representative John Markham of Hartford, minority leader, termed the committee appointments as made by Speaker Hanna as unfair to his party.

Two Democratic Representatives, Hogan of Torrington and Danenberg of Bridgeport, declined to accept appointments on what they termed unimportant committees.

Democrats were given an average of two members on the House committees and were unrepresented on one committee, that on manual and roll.

The Senate personnel of the committees, appointed by Senator Goldstein, president pro tempore, consisted in each case of two Democrats and one Republican.

Judiciary Committee
Rep. Raymond Baldwin of Stratford was given the House chairmanship of the powerful judiciary committee, while Senator Bergin will serve as Senate chairman of this same committee. The two legislators automatically became majority leaders in their respective Houses as a result of their appointments to the chairmanship of this committee.

Rep. Markham and Thoms will represent the minority in the House and Senator Alcorn, minority leader, will represent Senator Republicans on the judiciary committee.

Asserting that they wanted to be assured that their party would be given adequate representation on committees, Democrats last week threatened to block adoption of the joint rules under which they are named. They acceded to adoption of the rules, however, when informed that Governor Cross was desirous of avoiding delay in the organization of the General Assembly.

COMMITTEES NAMED

Hartford, Jan. 12.—(AP)—The complete Senatorial personnel and House chairmen of all joint legislative committees appointed today and the complete House personnel of the more important committees followed:

(Unless otherwise designated the committee members are Republicans.)
The Senate chairman is listed first and the first listed Representative is House chairman.)

Judiciary—Senators Bergin, (d), Joseph Hackett, (d), and Alcorn; Representatives Baldwin, (r), and Thoms.

(Continued on Page Two)

TREASURY BALANCE

Washington, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Treasury receipts for January 1933 were $2,515,764.31; expenditures, $19,977,151.01; balance, $48,000,499.50. Customs duties for 10 days of January were $1,041,631.30.

This Farmer Is Strong For Gold Standard!

When He Decided to Go West He Simply Went Out and Dug Up His Wealth—$7,200 Of It.

Some of the leading nations of the world may have gone off the gold standard, but certainly one farmer in this vicinity hasn't. He proved it to the satisfaction of a Connecticut Company employee last night. Names are withheld for obvious reasons.

Wanted To Talk

The farmer boarded a Connecticut Company bus headed for Hartford carrying what seemed to the motorman as several different packages. The farmer chanced to be the lone passenger on the bus and he struck up a conversation with the driver. The passenger had evidently been imbibing and was in a talkative mood. He had paid his fare in coins and then said to the bus driver "I've got two more coins in my hand. What'll you pay me for them?" The bus driver made him an offer—anything to satisfy the man's desire for conversation.

"That's Nothing." The passenger just laughed and produced a couple of gold pieces.

When the driver showed real interest in the gold pieces the passenger said "That's nothing, look at this." Thereupon the farmer produced several bags each one filled with gold pieces. He told the driver that the whole sum totaled $7,200.

"Where did you get all that?" he was asked. "Oh, I dug it up around the farm. You see, whenever I got paper money I went to the bank and got gold. My wife and I had a scrap so I divided up our money, gave her the farm and I'm going to California," was the farmer's story.

Cops On Watch. The bus driver decided to tell a cop about it when they arrived in Hartford, but before he could locate a policeman in the city, the gold hoarding farmer had got off the bus at State and Front street and disappeared. Whether he finally got started for California or started spending his money in Hartford isn't yet known. At least the Hartford police have been informed and have their eyes open for him.

COLUMBIA

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Woodward went to Bridgeport Tuesday as delegates to the State Grange in season there for three days. Mr. Woodward is the Master-elect of the local Grange, and will be installed on January 25th into that office.

The annual meeting of the Sexton B. Little Free Library was held at the library building Monday evening. The following officers were elected—President, William H. Wolff; secretary, Clayton E. Hunt; treasurer, Edward F. Lyman; Henry B. Hutchins, trustee. Two members of the Library Committee for three years, Hubert P. Collins and Mrs. Howard A. Rice were re-appointed Librarians.

Mrs. Rice's report showed 95 local persons taking books during the past year, representing 54 families. In addition to this number, over 50 of the lake people were regular visitors to the library during the summer months, drawing out large numbers of books. The total attendance in the library during the year was 1985. There are over 3,000 volumes in the library about 100 being added during the past year. The books taken are classified as follows: Adult fiction 1660, non-fiction 1004, juvenile 547. In addition to this over 500 volumes were sent out to the schools. This branch of the work is growing rapidly. The teachers putting great effort into getting the list sent to the various schools, and reporting that the children are showing increased interest in reading. In all the total circulation for the year is the largest for many years, the juvenile books especially showing a marked increase yearly. There are also a dozen magazines subscribed for by the library. An increasing number of

WOMAN LOST 20 POUNDS IN 4 WEEKS

Mrs. Mae West of St. Louis, Mo., writes from Chicago that she had lost 20 lbs. while taking one box of your Kruschen Salt just a week ago. Now she weighs 135 lbs. and she has more energy and further more "I never had a hungry moment."

Fat folks should take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salt in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—it's the SAFE, harmless way to reduce as many thousands of men and women know.

For your health's sake ask for and get Kruschen at J. H. Quinn & Co., South Manchester—or any drug store—the cost for a bottle that lasts 4 weeks is but a trifle and it after the first bottle you are so joyfully satisfied with results—money back.—Adv.

Quality Groceries For Less

- Granulated Sugar, 10 lb. cloth sack 42c
- Jell-O, any flavor, 3 pkgs. 19c
- Astor Tea, Orange Pekoe, 1 lb. tin 33c
- Supersuds, 3 pkgs. 22c
- Big R Dog Food, 3 cans for 20c
- Star Naphtha Washing Powder, large pkg. 17c
- Sealtek Milk, 3 cans 17c
- Budweiser Malt, can 58c
- Italian Cooking Oil gallon can 56c
- Motor Oil 100% Pure Penna, 2 gallon can 84c

MAHIEU'S GROCERY

183 Spruce St.

OBITUARY

DEATHS

Michael F. McLaughlin, 65 years, died at his home, 18 Cumberland street, early today following a lingering illness. Mr. McLaughlin came to Manchester in 1908 when the late Miss Mary Hayes purchased the former Robert F. Bissell home on Oakland street. He was employed as a coachman and caretaker on the large estate. Upon the death of Miss Hayes, Mr. McLaughlin secured employment in the Oakland paper mill and remained at work there for seven or eight years. Mr. McLaughlin was born in New York City, February 3, 1867. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Agnes Prendergast McLaughlin; four sons, Francis M. McLaughlin, of Knighton street; Joseph E. McLaughlin, of 13 Cumberland street; William J. McLaughlin, of Union street; James T. McLaughlin, of 13 Cumberland street; one daughter, Miss Margaret A. McLaughlin, of 13 Cumberland street; five grandchildren; two brothers, John and Patrick McLaughlin, of New York City; and one sister, Miss Margaret McLaughlin, of New York City. The funeral will be held Saturday morning at 8:30 at his late home on Cumberland street and at 9 o'clock in St. Bridget's church. Burial will be in St. Bridget's cemetery.

Mrs. Maurice A. Ferris, Mrs. Ila E. Ferris, wife of Maurice A. Ferris, of 67 Glenwood street, died last night at the Memorial hospital after a brief illness with pneumonia. She was admitted to the hospital last Sunday.

In addition to her husband and four children there are two sisters, Mrs. William McNiff of Norwalk, Mrs. John Keller of Hartford; her mother, Mrs. Alice Soper of Lyme, N. H.

The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon at Watkins Brothers and burial will be in the East cemetery, Watkins Brothers will be open from 7 to 9 tomorrow night for friends of Mrs. Ferris.

Nils Ackerman, Nils Ackerman of Gilead died at the Memorial hospital at 2:30 this morning following a lingering illness due to a complication of troubles. He was admitted January 3 and was 63 years old. He leaves a brother, Carl Ackerman. Taylor and Moeckan of Hartford are in charge of the funeral arrangements.

FUNERALS

Mrs. Mary Knoskie The funeral of Mrs. Mary Knoskie of 43 Flower street was held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at her late home where the service was private and at 2:30 at the Zion Lutheran church on Cooper street where the service was public. Rev. E. F. Stenholm officiated. The bearers were Arthur and Charles Lashinski, Charles Szdrzninski, Oscar Schuelz, John Kamm and John Pallat. Burial was in the West cemetery.

Frank O. Stipits The funeral of Frank O. Stipits was held this morning at 8:30 at the home, 134 South Main street, and at 9 o'clock at St. James's church. At the elevation Mrs. Margaret Sullivan sang Weigand's O Salutaris and at the offertory Arthur Keating sang Kahn's Ave Maria. During the service he sang "Some Sweet Day."

The bearers were Stephen Pomgratz, Frank Bish, Louis Rosel, Reinhardt and Rudolph Lamprecht and Kurt Heilig, all from Freshkill Lodge, Sons of St. Herman. The body was placed in the receiving vault in St. James's cemetery.

Phillip Clark Funeral services for Phillip Clark who died at his home in Hamden Tuesday were held this afternoon at Watkins Brothers, 11 Oak street. Rev. Watson Woodruff, pastor of the Center Congregational church officiating. Mr. Clark had spent the greater portion of his life in Hamden and many old friends came to pay a last tribute to the memory of one they highly esteemed and respected. Among them was a delegation from Hose Company No. 1 of which Mr. Clark was a member while employed by the Robert Cheney and his brother, the late Henry Cheney. Burial was in the Buckland cemetery.

The bearers were H. S. Hutt of this town, J. F. McPhee, Philip H. Clark and C. M. Canedy of Springfield, Mass.

Pietro Aloisio The funeral of Pietro Aloisio, 82, of 200 Oak street, who died yesterday morning in Norwich, will be held at 9:30 tomorrow morning at Hawkins's undertaking parlors and at 10 o'clock at St. James's church. Burial will be in St. James's cemetery.

Mrs. Victor Gado The funeral of Mrs. Mary Gado, wife of Victor Gado, of 78 School street, will be held tomorrow morning at 8:30 at her late home, and at 9 o'clock from St. James's church. The body will be placed in the receiving vault at St. James's cemetery.

GETTING BETTER! "How is the patient's heart action this morning, nurse?" "Splendid, doctor. He's proposed to me twice already!"—The Bits.

VERY PLEASED OFFICER: Miss, you were doing sixty miles an hour. "SEE: Oh, isn't that splendid! I only learned to drive yesterday."—The Wheel.

The area of the Sahara Desert in northern Africa is said to be more than 3,800,000 square miles.

Vacant Crib Tells the Tragic Story of Baby Slaying

It was either the work of a madman, or a fiendish act of vengeance, police are agreed, that brought death to 4-month-old Frank Michael Connors as he lay in the crib pictured here. The baby was asleep on the second floor of his parents' home in New York when it was stabbed repeatedly with a hunting knife. An aunt, Theresa Cammarano, is shown where the slayer is believed to have stood. Police were without a single significant clue.

Wall Street Briefs

New York, Jan. 12.—A story is going the Wall street rounds, which informed quarters describe as interesting but hardly credible, to the effect that unemployed customers men and former partners of brokers are contemplating revival of the old open air Curb Market on Broad street, the idea is said to have been prompted by a two-fold plan of reducing unemployment in the financial district and supplying a market for securities which for one reason or another are not eligible for listing on the regular exchange. The open air Curb Market disbanded in 1921 with the establishment of the present Curb Exchange.

A plan for reorganizing the Atlantic Gas and Electric Corporation, submitted by the bondholders protective committee, provides for formation of a new company and an exchange of securities. The Amity Oil and Gas Corporation, largest holder of the Atlantic Co. bonds, will be the controlling interest in the new company, it is said.

Brokerage house employees seeking to widen their knowledge of business economics will be able to take "post-graduate" courses through the fourteen lectures arranged by the Stock Exchange. They will be given weekly at the Exchange by a group of well-known economists and other financial specialists.

Tenders of $45,500 of Mobile & Ohio Railroad general mortgage 5 per cent bonds of 1936 have been made to the City Bank Farmers Trust Company under an offer of redemption which expired Tuesday. The tenders were made at a flat price without interest and the average price paid under the offer was 76.515. It was reported. The purchases were made under a court order in connection with the receivers' plan to reduce interest charges.

The New York Cotton Exchange Service today estimates cotton consumption by domestic mills in December at 487,000 bales against the Census Bureau figures of 510,000 bales for November and 415,000 bales for December, 1931.

J. C. Penney Company is asking for offers of its preferred stock at $108 a share, the call price, to the extent of $7,800,000.

Do You Remember?

One Year Ago Today—MacDonald Smith's score of 281 won the $2,000 Los Angeles open. Bill Terry, New York Giant's star batsman, reduced a salary cut of $9,000, it was reported, and returned to his unsigned contract.

Five Years Ago Today—E. S. Barnard opened an American League service bureau to hand out information on players of the league. Henry P. Edwards, former sport writer, was selected as head of the bureau.

Ten Years Ago Today—Jack Dempsey was sent an offer of $250,000 to meet Joe Beckett, English heavyweight, in England on June 4. George McDonald, English promoter, ended the negotiations. The Detroit "Tigers" signed Arnold Grandall, a semi-pro southpaw pitcher from Los Angeles.

Ralph Cairney, former University of Washington basketball captain and All-Pacific Coast guard, is now playing with a strong independent quintet in Portland, Ore. The Lincoln high school basketball team in Seattle has a 6 foot 7 1/2 inch center who wears No. 17 shoes. He is Lloyd Bloom, sophomore, son of the University of Washington campus basketball.

LATEST STOCKS

New York, Jan. 12.—(AP)—The Stock Market encountered a severe test of profit taking in the early trading today, survived it nicely and quietly resumed the advance.

A number of shares showed gains of 1 to 2 points, but the majority contented themselves with fractional improvement. The rails were firm in response to additional November earnings statements which, while showing net figures mainly in the red, recorded a distinct improvement over the somber showing of the first half of last year. Tobacco stocks gained slightly, the annual report of the R. J. Reynolds Company being favorably received. This report showed 1932 earnings equivalent to $3.36 a share against $3.83 the year before. Drug, Inc., rallied on announcement of its sale of control of the Boots Pure Drug Co. of England.

Gains of a point or more were recorded by Allied Chemicals, Celanese, Drug, Goodyear, Union Pacific, American Tobacco B and Continental Can. Stocks which advanced 2 or more included Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit and Columbian Carbon. Substantial fractions were added to the prices of Dupont, Eastman, Pennsylvania and Santa Fe.

Ability of the market to push through theoretical resistance points without more than minor reactions was regarded in brokerage quarters as a bullish sign, although caution was still advised by many commentators. Developments in Washington were closely watched, with banking interest centering largely in the question of balancing the National budget.

The automobile show was reported to be drawing larger crowds, although the industry itself no longer bases its hopes for future sales on the size of such crowds so much as their willingness to back verbal enthusiasm over new models with actual purchases. Students' economic trends expressed considerable pleasure over increase of electric power production. After the year-end holidays, and indications of a better movement of freight traffic.

COUPLE FOUND SLAIN Topeka, Kas., Jan. 12.—(AP)—Dan C. Hammett, insurance company cashier, and his wife were found dead with bullet wounds in their heads today at their home in Westboro, fashionable suburb. The bodies were found by a maid who went to the couple's bedroom after she had been notified by business associates of Hammett that he had failed to appear at his office. There was no evidence of a struggle. No revolver was found in the early search of the room.

Hammett was cashier of the Actna Insurance Company, and had been connected with the company here for many years. The Hammetts had been married two years.

THE HUNTER "What is your occupation?" "It isn't an occupation, it's a pursuit. I'm a bill collector."—The Humorist.

A BREAK MARY: Did Henry tell you I rejected him? HENRY'S FLANCIER: Yes, he often tells me of the lucky incidents of his life.—Answers.

High school youths who get behind in their studies deserve sympathetic counseling by their parents. Maybe it's the embarrassment of having to ride to school in nothing better than a four-cylinder car.

Taxpayers' League

Regular Meeting, Thursday, Jan. 12

High School Hall, 8 P. M.

Speakers: James L. McGuire, President of the City Property Owners' Protective League of Hartford.

John C. Owers of Manchester and Mr. Beauregard of Springfield will discuss the problem of the Railroads vs. the Trucks.

The Public is Invited.

ABOUT TOWN

The Manchester Mothers Club will give a bridge at the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow evening, arrangements for which are in the hands of the following committee: Mrs. John F. Pickles, Mrs. H. E. Purinton, Miss Ella Washburn, Mrs. E. L. Knight, Mrs. Otto Vicker, Mrs. Charles Oliver, Mrs. C. W. Allen and Mrs. Louis Martz.

A change in managers took place in the local Grant store today. On Tuesday Harry Bangs, who has been in charge of the store, was notified that he was to be transferred on Wednesday to the store owned by the company in Ansonia and would report there Wednesday. In Ansonia he met Harry Laycock, who was the manager of the store in that place and after spending a day with Mr. Laycock left Ansonia and this morning took charge of the store in Manchester.

The entertainment at the assembly of the Manchester Green school this afternoon was furnished by the school orchestra and members of the eighth grade. The opening was by the orchestra and the program consisted of twelve different musical numbers coming to a close with a special selection by the orchestra. Many of the other pupils of the eighth grade were heard in special numbers.

Alexander Hall, of Mill street, observed his 92d birthday today. He was remembered on the occasion with gifts and cards of congratulation.

James Sheehey of the Beech street station was elected president of the Manchester Electric Employees club last night at the annual meeting of the club. Roy S. Warren was elected vice president, Florence Schilde, secretary, and Margaret Fitzgerald, treasurer. A chicken dinner was served by Osono and the members enjoyed games and bowling during the evening. The affair was held in Hose and Ladder Co. No. 1 quarters.

Four large oak trees were cut down by the park department today on Keany street. The trees were in dangerous condition due to dead limbs.

Although sessions of the Connecticut General Assembly have begun no schedule of the legislative train has been posted here. The train usually is made up in Putnam and carries members of the Legislature from Eastern Connecticut to Hartford. It has not made stops here in several years since none of the local Assemblymen ever took the train.

Charles A. Sweet, well known local man, went to Hartford today to undergo an operation on one foot. Several years ago a heavy packing case fell on the member and he has been bothered considerably with it. It has become aggravating lately and he decided to have corrective measures taken.

The condition of Joseph Grabowski, Andover farmer, continued to improve today at the Memorial hospital and although his name still appears on the danger list, hospital authorities said that the man is expected to recover from the injuries which he suffered when a corru-cuting machine broke while running at a high speed. Mrs. Grabowski is appearing at the home of her husband's brother on Kerry street and will remain here until her husband is at least out of danger.

COUPLE FOUND SLAIN Topeka, Kas., Jan. 12.—(AP)—Dan C. Hammett, insurance company cashier, and his wife were found dead with bullet wounds in their heads today at their home in Westboro, fashionable suburb.

The bodies were found by a maid who went to the couple's bedroom after she had been notified by business associates of Hammett that he had failed to appear at his office. There was no evidence of a struggle. No revolver was found in the early search of the room.

Hammett was cashier of the Actna Insurance Company, and had been connected with the company here for many years. The Hammetts had been married two years.

THE HUNTER "What is your occupation?" "It isn't an occupation, it's a pursuit. I'm a bill collector."—The Humorist.

A BREAK MARY: Did Henry tell you I rejected him? HENRY'S FLANCIER: Yes, he often tells me of the lucky incidents of his life.—Answers.

High school youths who get behind in their studies deserve sympathetic counseling by their parents. Maybe it's the embarrassment of having to ride to school in nothing better than a four-cylinder car.

ONLY MINOR FLURRIES DISTURB STATE ASSEMBLY

(Continued from Page One)

Baldwin, of Stratford, Peck of Bristol, Laramie, Orange, Dennis, of Scotland, Burkes of Saybrook, Rich of Bristol, Woodhouse of Wethersfield, Bal of Salisbury, Racford of Greenwich, Brennan of Stamford, McCarthy of Ansonia, MacKham of Hartford (d), Thoms of Waterbury (d).

Labor—Senators Stremiau, (d), Kane (d), and Wright, Bradley of Westport, Ford of Milford, Nichols of Fairfield, Stewart of New Canaan, Hayden of Chaplin, Reynolds of Branford, Carter of Guilford, Bugbee of Willington, Griswold of Goshen, Farrand of Washington, Badger, of Wolcott, Talsosa of Torrington (d), Combs of Enfield (d).

Agriculture—Senators Dimock (d), Fox (d), and Seely, Curtis, of Bridgewater, Dodd of New Milford, Crofts of North Stonington, Warren of Eastford, Lord of Marlborough, Carter of Guilford, Christensen of Windsor, Rowland of Oxford, Elison of East Haddam, Horton of Hebron, Johnson of Canton, Reynolds of Coventry (d), Holdridge of Ledyard, (d).

Appropriations—Senators William Hackett, (d), Lawlor, (d), and Osborne, Blakeless of North Haven, Scott of Watertown, Conside, of North Canaan, Bradley of East Haven, Crawford of Westport, Brown of Colchester, Grant of Mansfield, Rogers of Manchester, Goettler of East Windsor, Warnock of Wilson, Whitney of Thompson, Harwood of Chester, Molloy of Derby (d).

Aviation—Senators Eisenberg, (d), Hagearty (d) and Goodrich, Field of Milford.

Banks—Senators Fox (d), William Hacke (d), and Wadhams Spilo of Danbury, Thornhill of Brookfield, Stevens of Berlin, Tiffany of Winchester, Thompson of Shelton, Morton of Branford, Gurtanson of Haddam, Selden of Old Lyme, Smith of Mansfield, Mohr of East Windsor, Robbins of Wallingford, Usher of Willington (d), Pinney of Stratford (d).

Capitol furniture and grounds—Senators Fox (d), Stremiau (d) and Milne of Suffield.

Cities and Boroughs—Senators Fitzgerald (d), Kane (d) and Kaplan; Sparks of West Hartford, Bradley of Westport, Karlson of Haddam, Fuller of Preston, Gans of Norwalk, Chidsey of East Haven, Corfield of Prospect, White of Thomaston, Frman of Stonington, Sellow of East Hartford, Schmidt of Vernon, Mahaney of Waterbury (d), Tokkonow of Meriden (d).

COURT APPOINTMENTS Hartford, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Six appointments to the Supreme Court of Errors and to the Superior Court were sent to the Senate today by Governor Cross. The appointees are all incumbents.

The list follows: Supreme Court—Justices George E. Hinman and Frank D. Haines. Superior Court—Justice John Cornell, Alfred C. Baldwin, Edwin C. Dickenson and Ernest C. Simpson.

All of the appointments are for eight years. The first group of bills naming judges of the courts in Common Pleas and Town Courts were introduced in the Senate.

They included: Elbert B. Hamlin, Court of Common Pleas for Litchfield county; Abraham S. Borden, assistant judge of the Court of Common Pleas for Hartford county; Thomas J. Molloy, Court of Common Pleas of Hartford county; Charles V. James, Common Pleas judge for New London county; Samuel B. Googel, judge of Plainville town court; Clarence I. Tolles, judge of Naugatuck court; Harry H. Schofield, assistant judge of Naugatuck; Vincent P. Ringrow, deputy judge of Plainville; Stephen L. Redford, judge of Greenwich; J. Gerald Hannon, judge of Greenwich; H. Barton, judge of Greenwich.

"LEARNERS PERMITS" Boston, Jan. 12.—(AP)—State Representative Alfred M. Bassetto of New Bedford today filed a bill with the clerk of the House of Representatives providing for the issuance of "learners permits" to operate motor vehicles.

The measure provides that a person over 16 years of age desiring to learn to operate a motor vehicle must apply for a permit which would be effective for three weeks and which would require a licensed operator with the beginner.

IN THREE COURTS IN A HALF DAY

New Canaan Man Answers Charges of Assault, Drunken Driving and Non-Support.

New York, Jan. 12.—(AP)—William LaMontagne, 44, of West Norwalk Road, New Canaan, Conn., appeared in Morrisania Court, Bronx Traffic Court and Family Court in charges he faced were assault, driving while intoxicated and failure to support his wife, the former Beagle Reynolds.

The first two charges were the result of an automobile accident in the Bronx early in December. He was accused of assault in Connecticut with injuries suffered by Esther Koran, 44, of Coffey Island, who was struck by a traffic station on his automobile had knocked over. Magistrate George E. de Luca held LaMontagne in $1,000 bail in Morrisania Court for hearing Feb. 15 on the assault charge. Counsel for injured woman said he had begun a civil action against LaMontagne in her behalf. Taken to Bronx Traffic Court, the charge of driving while intoxicated was dismissed by Magistrate Charles Brandt; after an extended hearing LaMontagne was leaving a warrant officer in the Family Court arrested him on a warrant and took him to court. Mrs. LaMontagne was in court to identify her husband as the man called for in the warrant.

"PROGRESS" ON BEER

Washington, Jan. 12.—(AP)—The Senate Judiciary sub-committee considering changes in the House 32 per cent beer bill reported "progress" after a long session today and Chairman Blaine said it would be ready to vote on its revised measure tomorrow.

The committee, Blaine said, ordered another draft of some "legislative provisions" designed to remove all doubt as to the bill's constitutionality and all that remained to be set on was "one alternative proposition."

"It is merely a matter of being selective as to language and not any controversy in the committee," the Wisconsin Senator added.

A CONNECTICUT BIRD Hartford, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Connecticut will have an official bird if Representative Flannette B. Nichols of Fairfield, has her way. It will not be the militant eagle, nor the sturdy seagull.

Instead the gentle rose-breasted grosbeak has received the nomination. Miss Nichols introduced a bill in the House today calling for the naming of the official bird and it was, not too gravely, referred to the judiciary committee.

IT'S A LIE!

disregard all rumors to the contrary. "A FAREWELL TO ARMS" will be shown in its UNCENSORED FORM on the SCREEN with Helen Hayes and Gary Cooper

NO ADVANCE IN PRICES

BEGINS SUN.

AT 6:45 P. M.

WARNER BROS. STATE

STATE FRIDAY and SATURDAY

A ROMANCE OF AMERICA!

Star-spangled with the faith and courage of a great people! Romance, embedded deep in the soil we love, drama, wrenched from the tumult of an empire in creation. It's a tidal drama of America, deep as human passion!

THE CONQUERORS

With EDNA MAY OLIVER · GUY KIBBE

Men, women and children will glory in this American epic.

ON THE SAME PROGRAM! JACK OAKIE

"Uptown New York" Verna Delmar's sensational story of a woman who gives her life for a man who gets lost and forgets!

LAST TIMES TODAY! "Under-Cover Man" and "They Just Had To Get Married"

LONG KEEPS UP HIS FILIBUSTER

Senators Are Talking of Involving Drastic Cloture Rule To Stop Him.

Washington, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Talk of involving the drastic cloture rule limiting debate was heard in the Senate today as Senator Long, Democrat, La., entered the third day of his filibuster against the Glass banking reform bill, but indications were there was not enough support to apply the rule.

Senator Glass (D., Va.), author of the bill, already had served notice he would force a vote on the controversial branch banking provisions by holding a night session in an effort to wear down the opposition.

The cloture discussion had not reached the state where a petition is circulated, for the required 16 signatures in order to present such a motion. After such a petition, a two-thirds vote of the Senate is required to invoke cloture.

As he continued his filibuster against the bill Long turned his fire on Eugene Meyer, governor of the Federal Reserve board. He asserted that Meyer as chairman of the War Finance Corporation "handed $90,000,000 government bonds through the Eugene Meyer bond house in New York in the teeth of the law."

"He confessed under oath—that this man Eugene Meyer, head of the Federal Reserve Board that we are about to turn the country over to lock stock and barrel—that he sold through the Eugene Meyer bond house $90,000,000 worth of bonds of the United States government owned by the War Finance Corporation."

Long said "We have been out here hunting the boys with a pint of whiskey on their hip."

"It reminds me of an advertisement I saw in the paper. The First National Bank has been robbed, this time by outside parties."

SOUTH WINDSOR FACES LIMIT OF FINANCES

Town Has But $400 For Current Expenses and Committee On New Revenue Is Named.

With a total of $40,000 uncollected taxes as a handicap, the town of South Windsor is in financial difficulties, citizens are informed at a special town meeting held last night. The town has but $400 on hand and is unable to borrow money from banks for current expenses.

A committee was appointed at the meeting to seek a way out of the situation which the town is in. One suggestion was that an effort be made to have the State transfer funds intended for use in road construction, to help meet the cost of education in the public schools of the town. Olcott F. King, one of the town's officials, placed the town back on its feet again, said that South Windsor has hopes of getting some sort of aid from the State.

The committee named to work on the matter along with selectmen, town treasurer, school board and other town officials, consists of former Judge Leslie W. Newbury, Harry F. Farnham, former head of the finance board, Walter Skinner, Ernest Burnham, Donald Grant, Leslie King, Representative Ephraim Coles, John F. Richardson, Horace Church, Everett Bucklin, Bryon T. West and Olcott F. King. Mr. King declared that South Windsor is in no worse condition than many other small towns, all of which need help from new sources of income. The town has no outstanding bonds. Short term obligations have mounted since 1929 when the town had a favorable balance to about $50,000 at present. The budget has already been cut 25 per cent.

He pointed out that South Windsor, a tobacco farming community, has no means of raising money except through real estate taxes and that with the tobacco market the worst in years the farmers have found their taxes a burden too heavy to pay. The town's share of corporation stock taxes has dropped $20,000 and at the same time the cost of pauper care had risen $15,000 in the last few years.

DUPLICATE CONTRACT BRIDGE TOURNEY

At the Manchester Country club last night eight tables of players gathered for the third sitting in the duplicate contract bridge tourney. Mr. and Mrs. Clifford C. Varney, playing North and South made a score of 66, and three couples were tied for second place with scores of 63. They were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bligh, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Keeney.

In the East and West group Mr. and Mrs. Ray Pillsbury ran up a score of 72. Mr. and Mrs. Oswald Johnson, 67 1-2, and Mr. and Mrs. Arvid Gustafson, 64 1-2. The percentages have not yet been brought up to date. There will be two more sessions before the tournament is completed.

Light refreshments and a social time followed the games.

ASSISTANT ENGAGED
New Canaan, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Rev. M. Roy Barton of Livingston, N. J., has been engaged as assistant to Rev. Charles L. Adams of St. Mark's Episcopal church, who is ill. He will serve until January 1 next. He has been an assistant at St. Peter's church in Livingston.

BANKING EXPERT SCORES BROKERS

(Continued from Page One.)

mittes and a score of the spectators were on hand as Chairman Norbeck called the young, black haired economist before the bank committee.

John Marrinan, committee investigator, explained that Winkler was called as an expert and that he would be followed by officials of the New York Stock Exchange.

"I would have accorded the debentures the rating of an adequate investment on the basis of the prospectus," Winkler testified.

Under the debenture agreement, Winkler testified, the bonds of a "minor subdivision in China" could have been substituted for the sound collateral but that in any substitution the ratio of pay value would have had to be maintained.

"It is unusual to permit substitution on the basis of par rather than market value?" Senator Fletcher (D., Fla.), asked.

"It would have been except for the clause requiring maintenance of the ratio."

Purpose of Clause
Senator Couzens (R., Mich.), asked the purpose of the substitution clause.

"Kreuger and Toll were doing business in every part of the world," the economist explained, "and it might have been necessary for them to put other bonds in this portfolio."

"French bonds were withdrawn early in 1930," he said, "and an equal par value of Jugo-Slavian bonds were substituted."

"At that time French bonds were regarded as secure, while Jugo-Slavian bonds were regarded as distinctly inferior."

Couzens asked if there was no "legislative remedy" for such practices.

"At the moment, I don't think there is," Winkler replied. "I would not help to put the international bankers and accountants in jail who permit these things to go on?" Couzens asked.

Winkler replied that Congress might copy some of the better laws of foreign countries, suggesting the British Companies Act which makes companies liable for misrepresentation in a prospectus on securities.

Questioned again by Marrinan, Winkler testified that if the collateral back of the Kreuger bonds had not been substituted, they would be worth about $34,000,000 instead of about $7,000,000.

"Do you believe Lee-Higginson and Company (which marketed the bonds in this country) did their full duty to their customers in this case?" Couzens asked.

"After a lengthy pause, Winkler said 'I do not think so.'"

"Why?" the witness was asked.

"It is the duty of those who distribute bonds to the public to see that when substitutions are made the substituted collateral is as sound as that taken away," Winkler replied.

"They should have made it their business to get the information on the substitution."

Winkler testified if the substitution had not been made the income from the collateral would be $1,681,000 instead of $628,350 now netted, or equal to $35 to the bond. The bonds were sold at 5 per cent which would net $50 a year interest.

"If all the provisions of the agreement had been carried out," Winkler said, "the investors would have had all the protection they could possibly obtain because the applicant agreed to furnish the change the annual earnings, any action taken affecting the interest, or to notify the exchange of any changes."

"Whose job was it to see that this was done?"

"The company," Winkler replied, adding that the application was signed "Kreuger and Toll, by Donald Durant, director."

Durant, partner of Lee Higginson and Company, testified yesterday that the Kreuger securities were not being gathered in Sweden while America holds the liabilities.

"Kreuger and Toll securities, or rather insurances, were sold in the American market whereas the collateral was deposited in Sweden," Winkler replied.

He testified that a circular issued by Lee Higginson and Company in January, 1932, would clearly violate the British Company Act to which he had referred.

"It is a shrewdly and dishonestly drawn statement," Senator Couzens remarked.

The circular stated that Kreuger and Toll American certificates "are currently under-priced."

NEXT WITNESS
Frank Altschul, chairman of the stock list committee of the New York Stock Exchange, followed Winkler. After being sworn, he described his occupation as that of an international banker.

NAZARENE CHURCH PASTOR RECALLED

Rev. H. B. Anthony Invited To Return For Three Years—Unanimous Vote.

Rev. Harris B. Anthony, pastor of the Church of the Nazarenes for the past two years, was recalled for a period of three years at the annual meeting of the church last night. The meeting was largely attended and the vote was unanimous.

The vote was taken under a new ruling of the Nazarene Church, enacted at a recent meeting held in Wichita, Kansas, allowing church bodies to recall their pastors for one, two or three year periods.

In view of the vote taken by the local Nazarene congregation at last night's meeting, the recall of Rev. Anthony for the longer period, reflects the estimation in which he is held within the church circle.

Pastor Informed
After the vote was taken Rev. Anthony was called in and the entire congregation joined hands, according to an old custom, and told him of the action taken. Rev. Anthony thanked the assembly for their consideration and dedicated himself to further interests in behalf of the church during the ensuing years.

Rev. and Mrs. Harris B. Anthony were called to the local Nazarene church in October, 1930, from the New Haven Nazarene church. During his ministry here, many changes and improvements have been made, chief among which was the reconstruction of the church structure last year at a cost of $10,000.

The attendance and interest in the church activities and Sunday school have increased under his pastorate, and the membership has steadily gained. At a recent Sunday school rally 298 persons attended the morning services.

Earlier Catech
A native of Nova Scotia, Rev. Anthony went west and attended the Nazarene College in Nampa, Idaho, graduating with honors from that institution. Upon his graduation he became principal of the High school, a part of the college group. While teaching in the Nampa school, Rev. Anthony met his wife-to-be and they were later married and both entered the ministry. The couple are accomplished musicians and singers.

Bridgeport, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Thomas Herbert of Port Jefferson, N. Y., foot juggler and associate of many famous circus and stage stars, was found dead in his bed by the clerk at a local hotel here today.

He was in the San Francisco earthquake and is reputed to have appeared before the King of England.

SPECIAL OCCASION
TRAMP: Lady, do you happen to have some pie or cake that you could contribute for the benefit of a worthy cause?

HOUSEWIFE: I'm afraid not, but won't some bread and butter do?

TRAMP: As a general rule, madam, it would, but this is my birthday and I would like to celebrate a bit, you know.—Pathfinder.

Two of the latest aviation motors developed have one horsepower to 1.04 pounds of motor weight.

U. S. NAVAL PLANES LEAD THE WORLD

(Continued from Page One.)

powers alone, we stand fourth this year as against fifth last year.

"So far as our equipment is concerned, I am perfectly willing to make this statement and I believe it to be true, that so far as planes are concerned in performance and efficiency, we lead the world at present."

Major General E. D. Foulois, chief of the Air Corps, told the committee the army had 1,196 pilots for heavier-than-air planes and 74 ship pilots. He said there was a direct ratio between flying hours and fatalities.

Flying Hours.
"In the fiscal year 1932, he testified, 'the total flying hours of the regular army and organized reserves were 1/2 per cent less than the fiscal year 1931, and there was a 37 per cent increase in the total number of fatal accidents.'

"Statistical data of both the Army and Navy show a decreasing rate of total accidents per flying hour with an increase in the hours per pilot per year."

The plane procurement program presented to the committee by General Foulois was intended to reach a total of 1,689 by the end of the 1934 fiscal year, or a shortage of 131 under the 1,800 total airplane program.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sick and the world looks purple and yellow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxatives and cathartics and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and happy and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and no more movement doesn't get at the reason for your down-out feeling in your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your liver is a big, ugly, broken-out in lumps. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTERS' LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, powerful, scientific medicine, which cleanses when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

NOTED SCIENTIST ARRIVES IN U. S.

(Continued from Page One.)

bly the origin of the dog story. His biographer, Sylvester Dorian, said that Piccard had been worried some time ago by fears that his children might be attacked by a vicious dog belonging to a neighbor.

Brother Arrives
There were exclamations of wonder aboard ship when Piccard's identical twin brother, Jean, scientist and chemist of Wilmington, Del., came aboard. They were so nearly alike in appearance that on-lookers seemed unable to tell which was which when they were separated in the crowds. Even the lines on their faces had formed with the years in about the same places and same contours.

Piccard explained he had come to lecture to paid audiences and also to visit scientific laboratories and scientists and particularly to discuss his plans for having some one make a long balloon ascent to ten miles altitude in northern Canada near the magnetic pole, to further the study of the mystery of the origin of cosmic rays. His spokesman, Dorian, said that Piccard has evolved some theories that after man has used up all his coal, oil, and other power producing fuels, he may be able to use the cosmic rays as a source of energy.

The energy from three drops of water, for example, according to this Piccard theory, would be sufficient to light New York City for about 24 hours.

Piccard also talked about rocket planes flying through the stratosphere and estimated that six hours would be a reasonable length of time for a trip from Europe to America. He said that 30 years ago people who talked about flying in airplanes were considered "nuts."

"Today," he said, "the same thing applies to the rocket plane advocates, but they are not nuts" any more than were the airplane advocates of a previous generation.

Explaining his aversion to smoking, Professor Piccard said it made him ill. His official spokesman, Dorian, explained to the newspapermen further, saying:

"He considers smoking as not worthy of a hygienic loving people. Explaining his aversion to smoking, that, if he were head of the American government, he would have prohibited tobacco instead of alcohol."

NEW ZEALANDER ASKS LOCAL BAND'S PICTURE

Hears of Salvationists' Reputation and Writes For Photograph For His Collection.

The musical fame of the Manchester Salvation Army Band has reached far off New Zealand according to a letter received this week by David Wilson of Wellington Road, secretary of the local organization. The letter was sent by a resident of Auckland and requested a photograph of the Manchester Band.

The writer is also a member of the Salvation Army and has a past hobby of collecting photos of famous Salvation Army bands all over the world. The musical efficiency and high standard of the local band travelled to New Zealand and a request was made for a photograph, to add to the collection.

Mr. Wilson said that the local band is proud to put Manchester on the map and wherever it goes the band always upholds with pride the town from which it comes.

NOTED JUGGLER DIES

Bridgeport, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Thomas Herbert of Port Jefferson, N. Y., foot juggler and associate of many famous circus and stage stars, was found dead in his bed by the clerk at a local hotel here today.

He was in the San Francisco earthquake and is reputed to have appeared before the King of England.

STATE LEAGUE AGREES ON INTEREST RATES

Legislative Committee Favors 7 Per Cent For First Year For Delinquents.

Hartford, Jan. 12.—(AP)—The legislative committee of the Connecticut League of Municipalities meeting this morning in the Municipal building went on record as favoring an interest charge of 7 per cent on delinquent taxes for the first year that they are overdue, 8 per cent for the second and 9 per cent for the third year. This recommendation will be considered at a meeting of the league to be held in Hartford next week.

REPORTS ON SEEDS.

New Haven, Jan. 12.—(AP)—E. M. Stoddard, seed analyst of the state agricultural experiment station today in a report of his seed tests last year, said the unmixing agricultural seeds sold in the state tested high as to purity and germination.

FARMER KILLS SELF

Middletown, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Frank Flatenka, 38, a farmer of in his bedroom this noon, a moment after excusing himself to Mrs. Cermak, a neighbor, and his housekeeper, Bertha Jezek, who were in the living room. He used an automatic pistol.

Flatenka had been despondent since the death of his wife, a month ago, she having taken poison. Several times "he" had threatened to take his life. He had also been deprived of his auto license by the department because of his physical condition.

His two children are in the school age.

WEAK WOMEN

Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound
Have you ever felt that you were too weak to do anything... that you do not have the strength to do your work? Women who are weak and run-down should take a tonic such as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Headaches and backaches that are the result of a tired, run-down condition often yield to this marvelous medicine.

N. Y. Stocks Local Stocks

(Furnished by Putnam & Co., Central Bldg., Hartford, Conn.)

Table with columns for stock names and prices. Includes sections for Bank Stocks, Insurance Stocks, Public Utilities Stocks, and Manufacturing Stocks.

RECALL OF NAZARENE CHURCH PASTOR

Rev. Harris B. Anthony, pastor of the Church of the Nazarenes for the past two years, was recalled for a period of three years at the annual meeting of the church last night.

NOTED SCIENTIST ARRIVES IN U. S.

Picture of the scientist mentioned in the article.

STATE LEAGUE AGREES ON INTEREST RATES

Legislative Committee Favors 7 Per Cent For First Year For Delinquents.

REPORTS ON SEEDS.

New Haven, Jan. 12.—(AP)—E. M. Stoddard, seed analyst of the state agricultural experiment station today in a report of his seed tests last year, said the unmixing agricultural seeds sold in the state tested high as to purity and germination.

FARMER KILLS SELF

Middletown, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Frank Flatenka, 38, a farmer of in his bedroom this noon, a moment after excusing himself to Mrs. Cermak, a neighbor, and his housekeeper, Bertha Jezek, who were in the living room.

WEAK WOMEN

Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

Another G. Fox Service

Within the next few days a special factory representative from one of the largest sewing machine companies in the world will call at your home to inspect your present sewing machine.

This Service Is Free

Telephone 2-5151 for Special Attention. G. FOX & CO., HARTFORD

BANKERS OPPOSE FUNDING SCHEME

(Continued from Page One.)

funding part of the government debt, has already been published. The viewpoint of some leading bankers, who state that funding now, before the budget is balanced, would be placing the cart before the horse, stresses the following points:

In their opinion, the government's debt is not unwieldy although nearly one-third of it is in securities falling due within two years.

"If the budget is balanced," said one, "the Treasury Department might be glad to have sizeable maturities coming due at early dates. When revenues were exceeding expenditures in previous administrations, the Treasury eagerly grasped the opportunity to utilize its surpluses to pay off maturing short-term loans."

Would Aid Confidence.
Budget balancing, these leaders of finance contend, would stimulate financial confidence to such an extent that much capital, which is now seeking an outlet into prime short term loans, would readily seek employment in long term government securities.

Moreover, in shaping plans for new financing, say bankers who are in opposition to the Wiggins view, the government must do as any manufacturer or merchant might. It must offer to the investing public what it wants to buy. At the present, the major demand of investment capital is for short term gilt edged loans—a condition, which these banking authorities hold, will not be changed materially until the task of whitening government expenses below receipts is accomplished.

WEEKLY WOMEN

Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Have you ever felt that you were too weak to do anything... that you do not have the strength to do your work? Women who are weak and run-down should take a tonic such as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Headaches and backaches that are the result of a tired, run-down condition often yield to this marvelous medicine.

98 out of every 100 women who report to us say that they are benefited by this medicine. Buy a bottle from your drug store today... and watch the results.

SOCONY RANGE OIL

for oil ranges

CLEAN BURNING PROMPT DELIVERY

ECONOMICAL

STANDARD OIL COMPANY OF NEW YORK, INC.

Phone Manchester 3975

MILLER SUNLITES

Bring into your home summer sunshine—radiant—teeming with healthful ultra-violet rays.

Convenient for an entire family to enjoy winter and summer—day or night. An invaluable health-builder at a now moderate price. See these remarkable new Sunlites in our display rooms.

NOW ONLY $31.50

The Manchester Electric Co.

735 Main St. Tel. 5132

Advertisement for Miller Sunlites showing a woman and a lamp.

REYNOLDS' BABY IS DOING WELL

Mother Also Improving; Lawyers Prepare Suit For The Tobacco Millions.

Philadelphia, Jan. 12.—(AP)—A tiny bit of humanity, potential heir to millions, kicked his feet in the warmth of a modified incubator today, utterly oblivious to the stir his rather unexpected arrival created.

He is the three-and-one-half pound son of Mrs. Libby Holman Reynolds, former Broadway singer and widow of Smith Reynolds, heir to tobacco millions who was shot to death under mysterious circumstances last July on the Reynolds estate in Winston-Salem, N. C.

The infant was born Tuesday night in the Pennsylvania hospital, Dr. Norris W. Vaux, prominent obstetrician who attended Mrs. Reynolds, revealed the birth was premature and said the baby is being kept in what is professionally termed a "hot bed."

While interested parties speculated upon the disposition of Smith Reynolds' estate, estimated at between $15,000,000 and $20,000,000, Mrs. Reynolds' attorney in New York announced she is prepared to claim, on behalf of herself and child, not only the interest from the money, now in trust, but the trust fund itself.

And while others wondered about the baby's future, hospital and Federal authorities described as "rubbish" a report that Department of Justice agents had been assigned to guard the former Broadway actress and her child.

Overnight A. P. News

Concord, N. H.—A bill calling for a revision of the state liquor laws to permit sale of beverages with an alcoholic content of three and one-half per cent is filed. The leg, limit at present is one per cent.

Weymouth, Mass.—Freem F. Pitney, 86, a native of Bow, N. H., and for 27 years superintendent of schools at Gloucester, died.

Boston—Judge Field of the Massachusetts Supreme Court orders the Radio Corporation of America, defendant in a suit brought by the Raytheon Production Company and the Raytheon Manufacturing Company, to pay the plaintiff $42,250.25.

Hanover, N. H.—Harry R. Heneaga, supervisor of athletics at Dartmouth college, says Yale probably will be invited to rep. Cornell in the annual Harvard-Dartmouth-Cornell triangular track meet.

Boston—Boston Garden management announces Jim Maloney, Boston heavyweight, and Jose Santa, ponderous Portuguese, will meet at the Garden Jan. 20.

Cambridge, Mass.—Daniel J. Morrison, 23, testifies in Middlesex court he was forced into a career of a police informer by Sergeant Joseph B. Henry and Patrolman William Butler of the Malden police, who are on trial for subornation of perjury.

Greenwich, Conn.—The marriage of Irban Khan-Kaplanoff, who describes himself as a Russian nobleman and a former colonel in the Imperial army, to Vernon M. M. Siems of New York is revealed.

North Attleboro, Mass.—Willard H. Wheeler 90, who voted for every Republican presidential candidate from Lincoln to Hoover, dies.

U. S. TRAINING CAMPS ARE POPULAR IN STATE

Washington, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Attendance at citizens military training camps by New England youths has grown only slightly during the last six years, although in Connecticut it has more than doubled.

Queer Twists In Day's News

New York—Whether or not technocracy puzzles you, it's a puzzle for the puzzlers.

In other words, the Riddler's Club, chapter of the National Puzzlers League, made some statements out of technocracy—an anagram being a word or phrase made out of another word utilizing all the letters in the original word.

Is technocracy, for instance, "a chance to cry?" a person who entitles himself Oedipus, president of the riddlers, made this anagram. Or is it an aching concert? This one by a gentleman known to puzzlers as Diskellog. Another suggested that technocracy was an opportunity to catch one cry.

Oedipus, pressed for a statement admitted that "technocracy has puzzling possibilities." These possibilities will be further explored and progress reported to the convention of the National Puzzlers League in Paterson, N. J., Feb. 12.

Chicago—Insomnia victims should read about Joseph Bill. "Why," asked U. S. Commissioner Edwin Walker, "weren't you here this morning when your case was called?"

Minneapolis—Frank Corcoran, Jr., will be 13 years old Friday the 13th; his name contains 13 letters and he lives 13 blocks from school, one of his classrooms is 213 and he received 13 presents for Christmas.

Does that bother Frank? Now, he says, but an old black cat that sneaked around his back yard—and sometimes crosses in front of him in his way.

Bartlesville, Okla.—Because a robber was sentimental, Mrs. H. V. Nehr still wore her diamond engagement ring today.

Mrs. Nehr sobbed when the robber took her ring. He was touched. "What is this, an engagement ring?" he inquired.

Mrs. Nehr sobbed that it was. "Here, take it back," said the robber. "I make a practice never to take engagement rings."

Erie, Pa.—Father of five, idle for three years, who stole 18 loaves of bread to feed his family, was freed by police.

After the man, was arrested the store owner refused to prosecute. The father told officers he had not eaten in three days.

WAPPING

Francis Foster of Manchester, who is master of Wapping Grange is attending the forty-eighth annual session of the Connecticut State Grange, which is being held on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Jan. 10-12 at Bridgeport.

Most of the sessions are being held at the ballroom of the Stratford Hotel. Clarence W. Johnson is quite ill at his home in Wapping.

Wapping Grange P. of H. No. 30, held their twenty-fourth regular meeting at the school hall on Tuesday evening with a good attendance. It was Past Lecturers' Night and the chairman of the committee was Mrs. Hattie Lane. After the regular business meeting the following program was presented: "A New Year's Poem" was read by Miss Ellen J. Foster, a monologue by Mrs. Harold Turner (in costume) "Eli and I" a guitar solo by Robert Felt with an encore, reading by Mrs. Lane, announcing to the Grange that Franklin Roosevelt, president-elect and Mrs. Roosevelt are members of the Grange; a short sketch entitled "The New Baby"; a paper by Alfred Stone written by State Master Tolles. This was followed by the speaker of the evening, John C. Owers of Hartford who spoke of taxation and railroads.

The South Windsor Schools are all closed this afternoon as there was to be a teachers' meeting with the superintendent, Mr. Young, present.

COMMUNITY SCHEME ENDS HARD TIMES

71 Poverty Stricken Families Get Together To Work Land; All Are Happy Now.

Fertile Acres Settlement, Wash., Jan. 12.—(AP)—Seventy-one poverty stricken persons and Otto G. Hensel, owner of 650 acres of farming and timber land, got together and this settlement was founded.

The landowner offered the 71 persons the acreage, also in building their houses and a shingle mill with payments deferred for two years. They agreed to make it a "share farm" proposition—he told them to "go to it."

They did and now they produce in fertile acres almost everything they need. Most of them either are growing produce or cutting lumber for their shingle mill. Cash derived from these enterprises, with the aid of a hundred men and women from the specialists, forms the financial structure of the settlement.

Leon Durocher, appointed by Hensel to superintend the work of clearing land and building houses, in a letter to the shingle mill council, it reports "everybody is happy."

Nearly Self-Supporting "We expect to be entirely self-supporting within another year," said Durocher today. "In the meantime we are cutting shingle bolts and selling farm supplies for what cash we need. We produce shingles, vegetables, strawberries, chickens, fence posts and cordwood, or next year we will have more berries."

"The settlers are clearing their own land, to make individual homes possible more quickly. At our community store we have a gathering every few weeks, with dances and programs. There is good school bus service to Arlington, and our 'doctoring' is done there too, but the women seem to be handling in application of home remedies. We have some good mechanics for repair work, and clothing is made over in the homes."

"We have 22 farms being worked now and in the spring more settlers are coming. Eventually we will try for a plant to make rubber articles out of old automobile tires. The only outside aid we receive is a small amount of flour from the Red Cross."

HEBRON

The engagement of Miss Gladys Thompson, daughter of Mrs. Alice Thompson of Cambridge, formerly of this place, to Charles Miner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Miner, has just been announced.

A dog owned by Carlton Jones was run over and killed the other day by an automobile.

Word has been received of the death, December 16, of Adelbert McCarty, at his home in New Haven. Mr. McCarty was over eighty years of age and was a former resident of Hebron. Funeral services were held in New Haven the 19th, and interment in the family lot in Hartford. Mr. McCarty had been ill for nearly two months before his death. He leaves a daughter, Mrs. Helen Keister, a granddaughter, Mrs. John Cournoos and two great-grandchildren.

Robert Horton, son of Representative and Mrs. Edmund H. Horton is recovering from grip. Mrs. Robert F. Porter and son Milton are ill with the disease, as are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Smith. There are also other cases about the town too numerous to mention.

The Ladies' afternoon bridge club met at the home of Mrs. Edmund H. Horton Tuesday afternoon. Two tables were in play, all the members being present. Mrs. Irene Wright won first prize, Mrs. Mark Hills receiving consolation prize. Cake, sandwiches and coffee were served.

Maurice J. Keefe is reported as somewhat improved from a slight attack of pneumonia.

Local Sunday school teachers as well as all members of the Tri-County Union and of the East Hampton Endeavor society who are interested in Sunday school work are invited to attend a weekly Sunday school institute to take place Monday evening at the Marlborough parsonage, under the oversight of the Rev. Elmer Thielen. The first meeting was held Monday last.

An effort is being made to revive the local League of Women Voters, which has fallen into a neglected condition of late, and threatens to pass out of existence. Mrs. Ruth Wells of South Coventry will be present Tuesday afternoon at the Congregational Christian rooms at 2 p. m., and will do what she can to bring about a reorganization. All interested are invited to be present. Mr. Maurice J. Keefe and her infant son, Richard, have returned from Clark's hospital, Willimantic.

DEAN OF THEOLOGY TO BE "Y" SPEAKER

Professor Van Dusen of Union To Open Convention At Bridgeport Saturday.

Bridgeport, Jan. 11.—Professor Henry Pitney Van Dusen, Dean of Union Theological Seminary in New York, will be the headline-speaker at the opening business session of the 84th State Convention of the Y. M. C. A., to be held here January 14 and 15. Professor Van Dusen will address the convention on the subject: "Our Christian Life and the Next Steps in the Economic World."

The convention will open with luncheon at the Hotel Stratford, with Harley M. Hodges of New Haven presiding. H. Almon Chaffee, Bridgeport member of the executive committee, will convey this city's greetings to the assemblage.

It is expected that more than five hundred men and women from all parts of the state will be in attendance, representing the twenty-seven participating associations.

HEBRON

The engagement of Miss Gladys Thompson, daughter of Mrs. Alice Thompson of Cambridge, formerly of this place, to Charles Miner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Miner, has just been announced.

A dog owned by Carlton Jones was run over and killed the other day by an automobile.

Word has been received of the death, December 16, of Adelbert McCarty, at his home in New Haven. Mr. McCarty was over eighty years of age and was a former resident of Hebron. Funeral services were held in New Haven the 19th, and interment in the family lot in Hartford. Mr. McCarty had been ill for nearly two months before his death. He leaves a daughter, Mrs. Helen Keister, a granddaughter, Mrs. John Cournoos and two great-grandchildren.

Robert Horton, son of Representative and Mrs. Edmund H. Horton is recovering from grip. Mrs. Robert F. Porter and son Milton are ill with the disease, as are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Smith. There are also other cases about the town too numerous to mention.

The Ladies' afternoon bridge club met at the home of Mrs. Edmund H. Horton Tuesday afternoon. Two tables were in play, all the members being present. Mrs. Irene Wright won first prize, Mrs. Mark Hills receiving consolation prize. Cake, sandwiches and coffee were served.

Maurice J. Keefe is reported as somewhat improved from a slight attack of pneumonia.

Local Sunday school teachers as well as all members of the Tri-County Union and of the East Hampton Endeavor society who are interested in Sunday school work are invited to attend a weekly Sunday school institute to take place Monday evening at the Marlborough parsonage, under the oversight of the Rev. Elmer Thielen. The first meeting was held Monday last.

An effort is being made to revive the local League of Women Voters, which has fallen into a neglected condition of late, and threatens to pass out of existence. Mrs. Ruth Wells of South Coventry will be present Tuesday afternoon at the Congregational Christian rooms at 2 p. m., and will do what she can to bring about a reorganization. All interested are invited to be present. Mr. Maurice J. Keefe and her infant son, Richard, have returned from Clark's hospital, Willimantic.

HEBRON

The engagement of Miss Gladys Thompson, daughter of Mrs. Alice Thompson of Cambridge, formerly of this place, to Charles Miner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Miner, has just been announced.

A dog owned by Carlton Jones was run over and killed the other day by an automobile.

HOOKING ON TO AUTOS BY KIDS IS DEPLORED

Fraught With Danger, Says Commissioner of Motor Vehicles In Bulletin.

A situation so fraught with serious danger to a considerable number of Connecticut children that a special warning would seem appropriate, is that created by a practice in several sections of the state for youngsters to "hitch-hike" on automobiles with sleds, skates, scooters, skis and coasters, says the Department of Motor Vehicles in a bulletin today.

Narrow Escapes "Anything that takes pedestrians into the middle of the road in traffic is dangerous," Commissioner Robbins B. Stoessel said in connection with a recent complaint inspired by an act of this kind. A narrow escape for several children was the occasion for the letter asking the Commissioner's assistance in the matter.

The participation by motor vehicle operators in an event of this character is clearly a close approach to an exhibition of carelessness which could not have the approval of those interested in the safety of children.

In the old days when Old Dobbin trotted along in what amounted to practically undisputed possession of the highways, the motor vehicle having then not come upon the scene, at least not for operation in the winter snows, the habit of youngsters in hitching rides with sleds or carts behind wagons and sleighs was considerably less dangerous. They had their thrill in movement up and down hills and on level stretches without physical effort.

Danger Grows As conditions now are, however, with vehicles capable of more rapid passage and participating in traffic in greater numbers, the thrills are certainly increased but the dangers are expanded many-fold. A group of children may be enjoying a ride of this character, as was recently reported to have been the case in a southwestern Connecticut city, when the tow-rope breaks. Then they are left in the center of the road at the mercy of traffic from both directions.

There should be a discouragement of this "sport" by parents, teachers and police authorities before there are injuries or deaths to cause suffering and regret.

BIG STRIKE ON

Brussels, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Ten thousand miners and 4,000 metal workers in the Charleroi district started a 24-hour protest strike today against new taxes. The employers threatened to retaliate with a lockout.

14 FROZEN TO DEATH

Bucharest, Rumania, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Fourteen veterans, enroute to a polling place in a rural district in western Rumania, who lost their way in a blizzard, were found dead today. A number of others who are missing also were believed dead.

CHILDREN'S COLDS

Yield quicker to double action of VICKS VapoRub

STAINLESS now if you prefer

A Thought

But when Jesus saw it, He was much displeased, and said: 'unto them, suffer the little children to come unto Me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom of God.'—St. Mark 10:14.

There never was any heart truly great and generous that was not also tender and compassionate.—South.

Keep Watch for the "Feverish Cold"

If you are "run down" or out of condition, if sluggish bowels have allowed poisonous impurities to accumulate in your system, you are very liable to suffer from "feverish" colds.

Dr. True's Elixir Laxative Worm Expeller will ward off or lessen these attacks by giving relief from constipation.

Mrs. E. W. Stephan of 31 Kenberma Road, Dorchester, Mass., writes:—"It was recommended to me by a relative who had used it for years, and I in turn most sincerely recommend it, most of all for children, but also as a laxative for adults."

Successfully used for 81 years.

"I RESOLVE: This year to keep my whole house warmer"

3 EASY RULES for Using Koppers Connecticut Coke

1 Shake less—Because Koppers Connecticut Coke is all fuel, and burns down to fine ashes that drop through the grate with very little shaking. Once a day is enough—less often in mild weather.

2 Use less draft—Because Koppers Connecticut Coke is High Test Fuel it burns evenly without forcing the fire and wasting heat up the chimney. It responds at once to opening or closing of dampers.

3 Fill the fire pot heaping full—You can do this without danger of smothering the fire. Coke is lighter than coal, and burns most economically and effectively when you keep a deep fire.

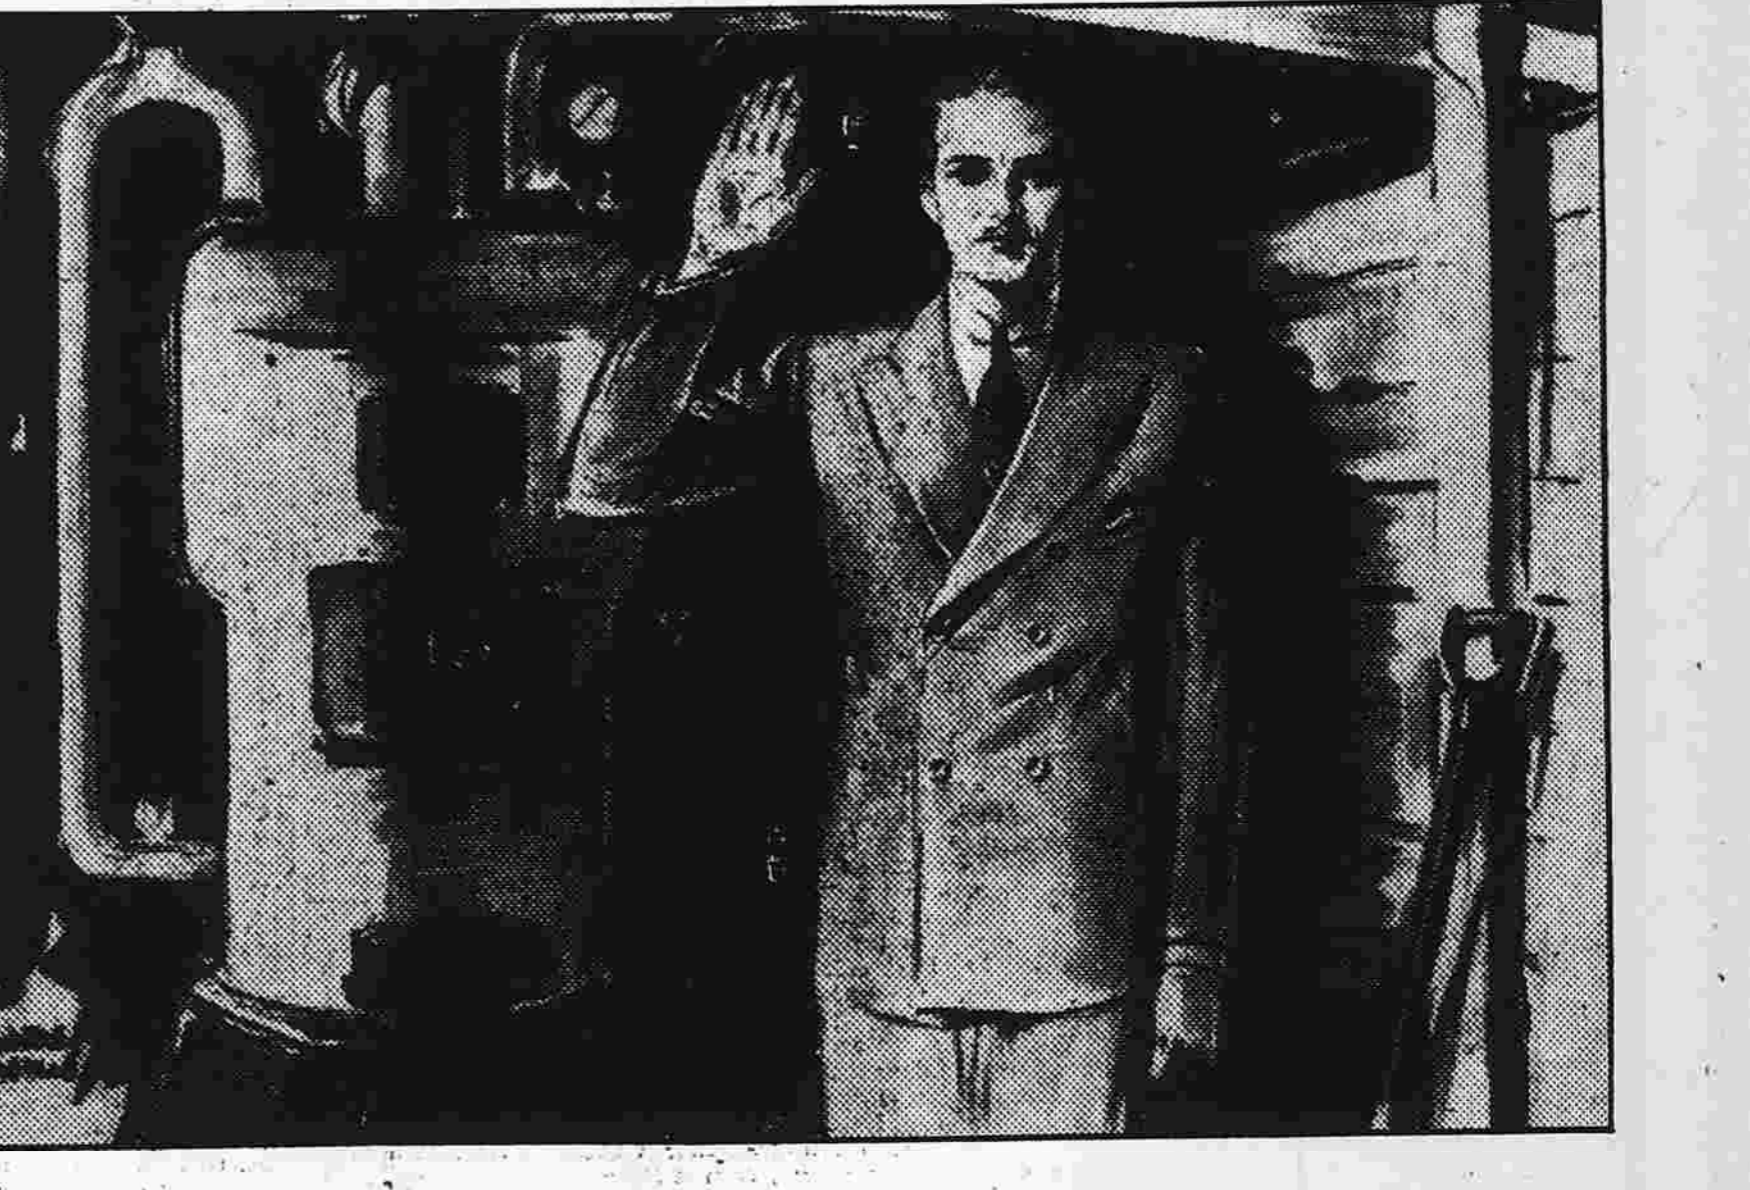

These 3 rules mean less work and less attention. Your Koppers Connecticut Coke fire requires less work in firing and in taking out ashes, banks perfectly and provides a steady warmth for less cost.

PRICE $12.75 LESS 50¢ FOR CASH -50 $12.25 PER NET TON CASE

FREE HELP to better heating

Wherever you live, whatever type of furnace you use, you can have the advice of a Koppers Service Man without cost or obligation. His help is certain to save you money and trouble in heating your home. Just phone us and ask to have a Service Man call.

FREE Phone ENTERPRISE 1450

EVERY year more and more people make furnaces tending much easier and have warmer, more comfortable homes, by changing to Koppers Connecticut Coke.

Right now, for example, five times more families are using Koppers Connecticut Coke than did only four years ago.

You will discover the same advantages in using it that they have. It makes the home warmer, because it is all high-carbon fuel. It brings the heat up faster these cold mornings, holds the fire all through the cold nights, and maintains even heat in every room throughout the day.

And you have less furnace tending and ash-handling to do, because it requires less shaking and burns to a light, fine ash. You can put the entire weekly ash output of the average furnace using Koppers Connecticut Coke into one little pail about a foot high.

Because it gives more heat per ton, Koppers Connecticut Coke reduces fuel bills. Its users get many a little treat paid for by their fuel-savings with Koppers Connecticut Coke.

Why not resolve, then, to free yourself and your family from heating troubles this year and every year to come? You can do it, easily, without any expense for extra equipment, simply by changing to this modern high-test fuel that fits the times. Phone us or your nearest Koppers Connecticut Coke dealer and order now.

Right now, for example, five times more families are using Koppers Connecticut Coke than did only four years ago.

You will discover the same advantages in using it that they have.

It makes the home warmer, because it is all high-carbon fuel. It brings the heat up faster these cold mornings, holds the fire all through the cold nights, and maintains even heat in every room throughout the day.

And you have less furnace tending and ash-handling to do, because it requires less shaking and burns to a light, fine ash. You can put the entire weekly ash output of the average furnace using Koppers Connecticut Coke into one little pail about a foot high.

Because it gives more heat per ton, Koppers Connecticut Coke reduces fuel bills. Its users get many a little treat paid for by their fuel-savings with Koppers Connecticut Coke.

Why not resolve, then, to free yourself and your family from heating troubles this year and every year to come? You can do it, easily, without any expense for extra equipment, simply by changing to this modern high-test fuel that fits the times. Phone us or your nearest Koppers Connecticut Coke dealer and order now.

TUNE IN KOPPERS CELLAR CLUB W.T.I.C. 9:30 p.m. Monday and Wednesday 9 p.m. Sunday

FOR FREE BOOK MAIL NAME ON ONE-CENT POST CARD Write your name and address on an ordinary one-cent U. S. Post Card. Mail to Dept. 60 Koppers Connecticut Coke Company, 23 Trumbull Street, Hartford. You will receive your copy of the free book "When you buy Heat." Act now. The facts in this book are important to you.

KOPPERS CONNECTICUT COKE

1-12-33

KOPPERS CONNECTICUT COKE IS A LOCAL PRODUCT AND ITS MANUFACTURE AND DISTRIBUTION FURNISH WORK FOR HUNDREDS OF LOCAL PEOPLE

HALE'S ANNOUNCES TIRE DEPARTMENT

Local Store To Handle Firestone Brand - To Be Serviced Free.

The J. W. Hale department store announces in today's Herald, the opening of their new Tire Department, featuring Firestone tires.

This is just another step forward in Hale's endeavor to serve their customers and the management gives every assurance that the best of service will be given in this new department.

Firestone tires were selected as those offering the most outstanding values in the tire industry, and were selected after long consideration.

CHARLES MORSE IS DEAD; WAS SHIPPING MAGNATE

III With Pneumonia For Week; Was Thought On Way To Recovery.

Bath, Me., Jan. 12. (AP)—Charles W. Morse, 77, financier and shipping magnate, died at his home here at 8 o'clock this morning.

COVENTRY

At the annual meeting of the Second Congregational church the following officers were elected: Clerk, Mrs. Emil J. Koehler; treasurer, Walter S. Haven; trustees for three years, Archie Shaw and Mrs. Byron Hall; deacon, Lester Hill; church committee, Mrs. Leon Austin; Sunday school supt., Mrs. A. J. Vinton; asst. S. S. supt., Lester Hill; secretary and treasurer, Miss Gertrude Anderson; asst. Secy-treas., Ernest Gowdy; usher, Russell Weigold; auditor, Byron W. Hall.

The funeral of Mrs. Acheson Robbins was held here at her late home Wednesday afternoon with Rev. Leon Austin officiating. The service was very largely attended and while Mr. Robbins was the only relative present, friends and neighbors manifested their love and high esteem for Mrs. Robbins in every way possible.

The committee in charge of the sausage and pancake supper to be served Jan. 25 are Mrs. John E. Kingsbury, Mrs. Arthur E. Porter, and Mrs. C. Irving Loomis. There is to be an entertainment after the supper. The committee in charge is Mrs. Leon Austin, Mrs. Emil J. Koehler and Mrs. Walter S. Haven.

The Girl Scout Council held its regular monthly meeting at Girl Scout Headquarters, Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Robert Hawley reported 701 pounds of Christmas candy sold at a profit of $73.83. Mrs. William Thornton was voted in as a new member. Members were reminded of Miss Sennet's course in camping to be given at headquarters February 20 and 21.

Our last meeting was held Friday at the Lincoln school. The formal opening was followed by patrol corners. Thirty minutes was devoted to classes. Mrs. Robert Hawley attended the meeting and presented a scout pencil to Ethel Donahue for selling the most candy in our troop.

SIEMS' MARRIAGE STIRS GREENWICH

Rich Society Woman Weds Russian Prince She Found Working As a Doorman.

New York, Jan. 12.—(AP)—A surprise wedding has united Mrs. Vernon Magoffin Siems, wealthy society woman, to a Russian prince while working in America to earn his living when the red flag was raised in victory over his native land.

WELLING ENOUGH

AGITATOR: You should give me half of all you have. I have left in rheumatism and toothache. Which one will you have?—Answers.

4TH DIVISION VETS TO MEET IN BOSTON

Reunion To Be Held January 21 At Hotel Kenmore - Major Gallagher To Be Present.

The fourth annual reunion and dinner of the Fourth Division Association of New England will be held on Saturday afternoon and evening January 21, at the Hotel Kenmore, Kenmore Square, Boston.

Major Charles W. Gallagher, U. S. A. President-Elect

The dinner will be held at 7 o'clock. Longly speeches will be made at the reunion and those attending will have plenty of opportunities to swap stories with their comrades of the Aime-Marne, St. Mihiel, Meuse Argonne and Champagne-Lorraine campaigns.

RUSSIAN STEAMER SENS SOS CALL

Some Confusion As To Name of Ship - Other Vessels Rush To Position.

Tokyo, Jan. 12.—(AP)—A Rengo (Japanese) News Agency dispatch said the Ochilishi wireless station today received distress calls from the Soviet steamer Sakhalin, 3,649 tons, which has 254 Russians aboard.

Sherwood—Elusive Bridegroom

By WILLIS THORNTON NEA Service Writer

When a man runs away, leaving home and affairs behind him, it is usually a tragedy. But the affair of Russell T. Sherwood is farce comedy. So hilarious a comedy, in fact, that Sherwood, though he has been missing for a year and a half while eagerly sought, has not yet even admitted that he is missing.

Russell T. Sherwood, the missing bridegroom.

The others in the play, debutant former Mayor James J. Walker of New York, and the beautiful movie actress, Betty Compton, party companion of the mayor, added to the atmosphere of farce. Today Sherwood still sits unseen in parts unknown, while Walker and Miss Compton frolic on the French Riviera, at golf, tennis and swimming, lavishly receiving a proposal to write their own version of the scenario.

It was in mid-August, 1931, that the curtain rose on the little farce that was to divert a nation. A committee of the New York state legislature, spurred on by grim Samuel Seabury, was busily engaged in an investigation of Walker's administration as mayor.

STATE ASSOCIATION ENCOURAGING BOYS

Awards Cash and Other Prizes To Get Youths Interested In Forestry.

New Haven, Jan. 12.—(AP)—The Connecticut Forest and Park Association is encouraging boys in the state in undertaking forestry work by making awards in recognition of what they have done.

FRISCO REPORT

San Francisco, Jan. 12.—(AP)—A confusion of radio messages early today told of the distress of the Russian steamer Sakhalin, 3,649 tons, which has 254 Russians aboard.

CURB QUOTATIONS

Table with 2 columns: Instrument, Price. Includes items like Asst Gas and Elec, Amer Sup Pow, Cent States Elec, etc.

BANDIT ESCAPES WITH $35,000 CASH

Companion Shot and Captured—Citizen, Unarmed, Battles Man With Gun.

Cleveland, Jan. 12.—(AP)—A robber escaped with $35,000 in cash in a holdup of the Commercial Savings and Loan Company, of Berea, a suburb, today after a gun fight in which his companion was shot and captured.

URGES A MERGER OF RAIL SYSTEMS

Canadian Official Also Asks For Cooperation In Newspaper Industry.

Montreal, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Unification of the two Canadian transcontinental railways was advocated today by Sir Herbert Holt at the annual meeting of shareholders of the Royal Bank of Canada. He also warned that if efforts to secure cooperation by the newspaper manufacturers industry are unsuccessful, provincial governments would have to take steps to conserve Canada's natural resources and prevent the collapse of the industry.

The reversal which had since taken place in the appointment of a cabinet caused in part by the uncertainty attending a presidential election and the war debt controversy.

EASY MONEY

They were standing outside the courtroom when the people filed out after the case. "See that young girl over there," said Hanson. "She's just got a few hundred pounds for a short love story."

Swift and Best Rheumatic Prescription 85 Cents

Just ask for Allenru—Within 24 hours after you start to take this safe yet powerful medicine excess uric acid poisons starts to leave your body.

Will a Cash Loan Help You Now?

If so, come in and let us show you how quickly we can arrange a loan for you.

Night Coughs

Piso's stop night coughing instantly, and effectively because it does the needed things. Swallowed slowly, it clings to the throat, soothes inflamed tissues, and loosens the mucus.

PERSONAL FINANCE CO.

753 MAIN STREET S. MANCHESTER, CONN.

URGES A MERGER OF RAIL SYSTEMS

Canadian Official Also Asks For Cooperation In Newspaper Industry.

Montreal, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Unification of the two Canadian transcontinental railways was advocated today by Sir Herbert Holt at the annual meeting of shareholders of the Royal Bank of Canada.

The reversal which had since taken place in the appointment of a cabinet caused in part by the uncertainty attending a presidential election and the war debt controversy.

EASY MONEY

They were standing outside the courtroom when the people filed out after the case. "See that young girl over there," said Hanson. "She's just got a few hundred pounds for a short love story."

Swift and Best Rheumatic Prescription 85 Cents

Just ask for Allenru—Within 24 hours after you start to take this safe yet powerful medicine excess uric acid poisons starts to leave your body.

Will a Cash Loan Help You Now?

If so, come in and let us show you how quickly we can arrange a loan for you.

Night Coughs

Piso's stop night coughing instantly, and effectively because it does the needed things. Swallowed slowly, it clings to the throat, soothes inflamed tissues, and loosens the mucus.

PERSONAL FINANCE CO.

753 MAIN STREET S. MANCHESTER, CONN.

Hotel Paramount

46th St., West of Broadway, New York

SPOTLIGHT

BY H.W. CORLEY
©1933 NEA SERVICE, INC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

SHELLA SHAYNE, whose parents were well known wandering entertainers, is in New York looking for a job. Shella is a dancer. After much discouragement she is hired to substitute for DAISY GLEASON, another dancer, who has sprained an ankle. While rehearsing at JOE PARIS' song shop Shella meets TREVOR LANE and DICK STANLEY, rich and socially prominent. Dick urges Lane to include Shella in the program of entertainment at a party he is giving. She refuses, knowing she will be too tired after a day of rehearsing. However, Dick comes to the theater later and persuades her to come. She finds herself becoming interested in Dick, though she is well aware that this is foolish.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER X

Shella and Blind Timmy took their places at the piano. There was an expectant hush over the room and then Timmy struck the opening chords of Joe Paris' most recent hit.

Shella sang a verse and then the chorus. There was a patter of applause as she finished. She sang a second song—this time one of Timmy's own, as she was careful to announce. She sang with real feeling now, half dancing as she swayed to the rhythm. Shella had an individual manner of singing, a manner all her own, so closely bound up with her dancing that the two were rarely separated.

Applause boomed out after the last note. Flushed with delight, the girl bowed and finally, although the applause continued, she took her place among the other guests. Dick moved to her side immediately.

"That was great!" he told her, beaming with pride. "Say, they were right when they said you could put over a song number. And how!"

"Thank you," Shella told him gratefully. She knew she could dance but about singing she wasn't certain. Shella called it "faked singing." Her voice, she felt, wasn't a good voice at all. She carried a song solely through personality.

Cliff Gunther, the latest radio hit, sang next, wearing congratulations away with an easy smile. Then the dancing resumed and Dick's arms Shella circled the room.

"Isn't Frances dancing?" she asked as a searching glance failed to find the other girl among the guests.

"Miss Barton?" Dick's voice was indistinct. "Oh, she's gone. She just came to perform. You know." His tone was easy, but it implied, "We didn't ask her to remain. Now you are different; you are our guest."

There followed a silence. Then Dick said, "See that chap over there? The one talking to the girl in white? That's Gordon Mandrake, the producer. I want you to meet him. It may do you some good sometime. Never can tell. And there's Tom Chance, the Polo player. Westbury, Long Island. He's a fine fellow. Scott Tracy, the playwright, is there beside him."

"I see Clayton Knight, too," remarked Shella demurely, not without mischief. Clayton Knight was the most popular leading man of the season.

"I'll say you do!" Dick's smile was wry. "What woman doesn't?"

Mona Deane arrived, trailing in almost as the party ended. Wasn't she playing in a Broadway show? Yes, of course. Mona had looked in on two parties since 11 o'clock, she announced gaily. She wouldn't say where. But she had "depended on Trev" for the real enjoyment of the evening, she told Mona. Mona was tiny, blond, sparkling. Shella could see that she and Trevor Lane were good friends—old friends, it seemed. They joked and teased each other and finally made a lunch engagement for the following day.

"That's a date," her host said warningly. "I'll expect you to keep it."

"That's a date," Mona agreed solemnly, eyes twinkling. It was explained to Shella that Mona never made a lunch date with anyone except Trevor Lane. No, they weren't engaged. Still, they were very friendly. There were rumors and no one would be greatly surprised to hear of an engagement. And there as Mona trailed her lovely, luxurious way out, Dick

OLD SORES

Wouldn't you be glad to learn how the pain and itching of old Sores, Ulcers and Itching Rash can be stopped and the Sores healed in a few days? An amazing ointment is now doing these very things, and here's an instance:

"For 7 years I suffered untold agony with a Varicose Ulcer on my ankle. The first application of FETTERSON'S OINTMENT took all pain away. In 4 weeks the ulcer healed up completely. I simply cannot say too much for your ointment."—Mrs. Fred R. Voight, 115 Telford St., Newark, N. J.

No wonder over 500,000 people to date have used FETTERSON'S OINTMENT to make their skin gloriously smooth, healthy and free from Sores. You can do the same for only 35c at any drug store in America.—Advt.

ADVENTURING

By HELEN WELSHIMER

THERE were flower vendors, Now and then a moon, Lazy, strolling minstrels Hunting for a tune.

YOU and I went roaming, Bound for anywhere— Did we have some pennies? Were our pockets bare?

DID we beg our dinner At somebody's inn? Did I tear my stockings? Were your soles worn thin?

OR have I been dreaming One time in the spring, We braved briars and brambles Going adventuring!

Copyright, 1932, by NEA Service, Inc. All reprint and song rights reserved.

once more sought out Shella. Half a dozen youths had been doing their best to entertain her. It was pleasant to see Dick's smiling face once more, still more pleasant to see the youthful swains dissolve as his approach as though they considered themselves interlopers.

Two girls looked after him in mock annoyance.

"Those are Trevors cousins—years younger than they look, if that is possible," Dick explained. "They are boarding school girls, but wouldn't you think them just out of the chorus? Though you never can tell these days—"

Instantly he bit his lip—stopped short and flushed painfully. "Oh, gosh, what a thing to say. I didn't mean that. Really—"

"I am not a chorus girl," Shella said coldly, her eyes half lowered. "Shella, please—"

The agony in his voice was obvious. If she had felt any hurt or any reticent desire to hurt, it faded.

"I know what you meant," she said, trying to laugh but flushing, too. "Those girls, of course, are from good families but they do look cheap and common in such low cut dresses. And they're wearing too much make-up."

"No chorus girls would attend a party looking like that," she went on, trying to hide her discomposure. "They wouldn't dare! Stage women—I'm a stage woman, Dick, in case you are interested as to how I manage myself—have to be so careful to live down the reputation that's been given to them. Whenever a newspaper prints any scandal, if the girl has ever been connected with the stage in any way the headlines shriek the words 'chorus girl' or 'actress.'"

"As a matter of fact many stage

SILK HAT SEASON

HOPE LAGGING LAST MONTHS OF WINTER WILL SEEM LESS DRAB IF YOU ARE WEARING A BRIGHT SILK BETWEEN-SEASON HAT.

RIGHT—A HAT AND SCARF SET OF GOLD COLORED TAFFETA. THE HAT HAS TWO BLACK LACQUERED QUILLS AT THE FRONT.

BELOW—A STITCHED NAVY TAFFETA SAILOR WITH A BLUE AND WHITE PLAID ORGANDIE BAND.

ABOVE—A BLACK SATIN VISOR CAP WITH A WHITE CREPE BAND. LEFT—A CAP OF STRING COLORED WAFFLE CREPE WITH TWO PADDED BALLS FOR DECORATION.

GLADYS PARKER

YOUR CHILDREN

By Olive Roberts Barton BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

PRaise is a cure FOR OBSTINACY. Why is it that we hear so many mothers say, "No one understands my boy." You can reach him through his mind and praise but he can't be driven. And why is it that this boy is usually of the type known in polite language as a "holy terror"?

If I have heard it once I have heard it two hundred times, this same dictum voiced by mothers of the unruly.

To get down to cases, just what makes boys, or girls either, "bad" as we call it? I wish we could find another word by the way, just for a change—it gets so tiresome. Bad, bad, bad. He is bad if he is lazy, bad if he is impulsive, bad if his curiosity gets the best of him (and here's hoping that it always does), bad if he dares to have an idea of his own, bad if he is bored by lessons and doesn't study, bad if he is generous enough to give away something we think he should keep.

How About Obstinacy? But the boy we are talking about here is usually the obstinate one. Now obstinacy is one of the "finest traits in the world, and the worst. Hanging onto an idea and working it out because one thinks it is right, in the face of punishment, opinion and disapproval is the thing that has made most of our world leaders. It gets you there.

The obstinacy that is sheer contrariness, and that won't submit to any suggestion, good or bad, is different.

When a child appears to be disobedient and obstinate for no reason on earth but to be that way, and will face the severest punishment to protect it, something is wrong. But as many mothers have discovered, coaxing, praising and sympathy will do wonders. Why is it so?

Because, would you believe it, of that old chestnut, inferiority complex. When a child is uncertain of himself, has no faith in his own ability and thinks no one else has either, the first thing he does is to set about camouflaging the whole business. He would die, almost, rather than admit even to himself that he is a weakling and therefore despicable. Of course, he won't but in babyhood somehow he got the idea.

Deceives Himself The way he goes about fooling people is to overdo the "will" act. Let people think him a big "fellow, one who isn't afraid of anything and does as he pleases. This will impress them, yes, indeed, and they'll find out like the young man in "Seventh Heaven" that he is a remarkable fellow.

But they don't think all this. They think he is a rowdy, a ne'er-do-well, and a nuisance. They scold him, hate him, whip him, and discard him. You see, he won't give in—he won't be driven, he won't let on for a second that his inner spirit is quaking and driven low despite his outward courage. He approves of this kind of attention, because it is attention—and better than none at all.

Praise him and he is your slave. For then, at last, is his self-respect saved. Coax him and he bounds up ten thousand per cent in his own estimation. Sympathize with him and he feels that he is understood. You can save such a boy or girl this way innumerable times when all other means fail.

the following 34" His tone was low, meaningful.

"I shall still be a stage woman."

"You needn't be—always." Shella's eyes narrowed slightly, but she shrugged her shoulders and smiled. "You work rather fast, don't you?"

"I have to. I'm not the only man in the world with excellent taste."

"Don't you mean perfect taste?" He bowed, amused. I mean that, of course.

"Will you be wearing a close. Trevor's cousin, wearing an amazing amount of ermine and with callow escorts, left giggling and gleeful. They were going to some club, she said.

"Timmy had disappeared. 'I'll take you home, of course,' Dick said as Shella looked about her. 'However, I've a few more duties as host. Can you wait?'"

Presently, the last of the laughing crowd had departed and Shella and Dick made their way to his car. "Think over what I've said," Dick told her as he drew the rodster up before her door. "You're going to let me see you some times, aren't you?"

"Of course." He waited until a tiny light in the hall was extinguished. Shella as the last one in (according to a sign hung on the chandelier) was to leave the hall in darkness. Dick Stanley smiled to himself. Then he said, "Oh, damn!" fumbled for a cigarette, lighted it and was off.

(To Be Continued)

GLORIFYING YOURSELF

By Alicia Hart

TIPS FOR KEEPING HANDS IN TRIM In Paris they are wearing bic-1 read fingernail enamel, clear to the tip of the nail.

Not so attractive, you may say. But certainly something different! There are new nail enamels that have platinum, gold or silver tones to them and make your fingers twinkle as you move them this way and that.

Whatever kind of enamel you use, and however you use it, be sure that your hands are scrupulously clean and stay that way. Nothing is worse than a much-manicured but slightly soiled hand.

SPARKLING IN STYLE

Brilliant Aid in Livening Stocks

If you want something very, very new and equally smart, the new Chanel costume jewelry will make you scintillate.

New dresses seem just made for the sparkling, original touch that it gives. Particularly the high front necklines that most of the latest evening things have.

And it is increasingly smart to be a bit brilliant in the evening. Some gowns are made with beads sparkling in set designs. The majority of the new things, however, depend on added jewelry to accent the mode.

This new Chanel necklace and bracelet has a fringe of sparkling round-cut brilliants. And, following the old adage, you hitch your fringe of sparklers to a star! This star happens to be a magnificent, shining one. Moreover, it is detachable and you can wear it alone as a decoration. The bracelet has the same fringe of stimulated diamonds, and innovation that intrigues smart women.

The gown is one of the pastel crepes, in lovely dusty pink, made with simple, high front neckline and wide shoulders. The belt ties in front and its long ends swing clear to the floor, making a very graceful line to the skirt.

The cut of this dress is particularly charming when jewelry is added. For the entire upper part of the bodice is unseamed and severe. There is a marked pointed effect below the bust and then the skirt is cut in the same severe lines about the hips, very cleverly done to fit superbly and yet very full at the bottom.

By Joan Savoy

BOLTON

Children who were perfect in attendance through the month of December at the Center school were: Josephine Massolini, Erma Massolini, William Fish, Fermilia Verrelli, Aldo Ansaldo, Le-Vie Siliano, Teresa Lee, Helen Wippert, Olive

Evening Herald Pattern

By HELEN WILLIAMS Illustrated Dressmaking Lesson Four. Of course young daughter must have a dress of Victorian influence like the smart grown-ups are wearing.

And here's a darling — and practical — one. Medium blue novelty woolen made the original. It had a vivid red leather belt and matching red bone buttons. The collar was white pique. Make it detachable so as to be readily changed to a darker color.

Other nice schemes would be rabbit-hair woolen in bright red or a soft green shade in wool crepe. Style No. 3354 is designed for sizes 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. Size 8 requires 2 1/2 yards of 35-inch material with 3/4 yard of 39-inch contrasting.

Price of Pattern 15 Cents Our Large Winter Fashion Magazine contains the most popular styles for the adult, miss and child. Street clothes, party dresses, coats, blouses, home wear, lingerie, etc. It addition there is a three-lesson Beauty Course covering the face and hands, hair and figure.

Manchester Herald Pattern Service For a Herald Pattern send 15c in stamps or coin directly to Fashion Bureau, Manchester Evening Herald, Fifth Avenue and 28th Street, New York City. Be sure to fill in number of pattern you desire.

Pattern No. Price 15 Cents Name Address Size

Daily Health Service

Hints on How to Keep Well by World Famed Authority

SCARLET FEVER USUALLY IS SPREAD BY CONTACT

Food Seldom Is To Blame For Contagion; Scales Not Carriers Unless Contaminated With Excretions From the Nose Or Throat.

This is the first of a series of four articles by Dr. Flahbein on the nature and treatment of scarlet fever.

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEN Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine.

Scarlet fever, no doubt, was known to the ancients, but it is only within the last ten years that it has actually been thoroughly elucidated. It is an acute infectious disease that comes on suddenly, with a very red rash which disappears gradually and which is followed by peeling of the skin.

For many years it was known that a germ called the streptococcus was associated with scarlet fever but it is only recently that the definite relationship of this germ to the cause of the disease has been established.

The proof is in the fact that the germ can be found in the throat, the blood and other tissues of people who have the disease, that the disease can be produced in human beings by putting the germs into their bodies and that there is a reaction in the skin of a human being who does not have the disease when the toxin or poison taken from the germs is inoculated into the skin.

Scarlet fever usually comes on in epidemics that are worse in the winter or fall. The chief factor in contact, usually of a child, with someone who has the disease. Most of the cases develop in children between five and twelve years of age.

There is probably something that the child gets in its food from the mother which prevents children below one year of age from catching the disease in most cases. Scarlet fever does not spread nearly so rapidly as measles; apparently only about one in ten people who come in contact with cases of the disease later develop it.

It is, of course, possible that people are infected with mild attacks of scarlet fever which are overlooked, and that as a result they are later protected against the disease. Scarlet fever is one of those diseases which happens once in a person's lifetime and then is not likely to happen again. In other words, one attack of the disease protects.

Occasionally scarlet fever is spread through milk or through the excretion or secretions of persons who are infected, but spread through food is far less frequent than the spread directly from person to person.

Most people are interested to know whether or not the scales or peeling of the skin after scarlet fever will transmit the disease. Apparently it will not do so unless it is contaminated with the secretions of the nose and throat, and then it may do so.

NEXT: How scarlet fever "be-haves."

QUOTATIONS

I believe that students should seek some higher social ideal than the night club.—Dr. Lee H. Ferguson, director of student health service, Western Reserve University, Cleveland, O.

Such evidence as we have clearly shows that by the age of 25 the average man is already on the decline in vitality as well as physically.—Dr. David Webster, psychiatrist, division, Bellevue Hospital, New York.

I think there is a deep and widespread feeling in this country that a partnership between our government—national, state or local—and the liquor business is offensive.—Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war.

The worst thing we can do is to try to restore price levels through further curtailment of production.—E. J. Working, senior agricultural economist of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

FORM AERO CLUB Paris—A new organization for the purpose of facilitating the passage of contemplated and pending legislation for the promotion of aeronautics has been formed here. The membership roster includes many leaders in aeronautics as well as members of the Parliament.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy cheeks—sparkling eyes—most women can have. Dr. F. M. Edwards for 20 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave his patients a substitute for calomel made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. Know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, causing a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system. If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—now and then to keep fit. 10c, 50c and $1.00.

Apply Unguentine. Ointment soothes the pain—prevents infection and dandruff. Ask your druggist for the red-and-yellow tube, 30c.

for BURNS Unguentine Relieves pain, hastens healing.

Guards Rally To Nose Out Meriden Knights, 48-44

M. H. S. MUST BEAT WEST HARTFORD TO REMAIN IN RUNNING

Victory Will Give Locals Tie For Third Place In League; Bristol Plays Middletown, East Hartford Meets Meriden Tomorrow.

LEAGUE STANDING

	W.	L.	Pct.
Bristol	3	0	1.000
East Hartford	2	1	.667
Meriden	2	1	.667
Manchester	1	2	.333
Middletown	1	2	.333
West Hartford	0	3	.000

When Manchester High school faces West Hartford High at the local Army tomorrow night, the Red and White must emerge with a victory to remain in the running for second place in the Central Connecticut Interscholastic League and the Clarkmen are practicing hard to attain this objective.

In the other two League encounters tomorrow night, Bristol High seeks its ninth successive triumph against Middletown at Bristol, while East Hartford goes to Meriden. Bristol is heavily favored to continue its string of victories and East Hartford has a slight edge over Meriden.

Three League Defeats
Manchester victory tomorrow night will give the local five a tie for third place with the winner of the East Hartford-Meriden tilt. West Hartford has yet to win its first league game, having been defeated by Middletown, 37 to 29; by Meriden, 34 to 28; and by Bristol, 55 to 17. Its lone victory was gained over Bulkeley High of Hartford, 29-23.

According to advance information, the guards are the greatest scoring threats on the team. In games this season, Brown and Haydash, both guards, have carried the burden of the scoring, besides contributing fine defensive performances. The team lineup includes Whaples, Campbell and Holcomb, forwards; Bissell and Montgomery, centers; Brown, Haydash and Havens, guards.

Coach Clarke will start the same lineup that met East Hartford, namely, Sendorowski and Johnston, forwards; Garrone, center; Mahoney and Neill, guards. Enrico, Smith, and Sartor will be in reserve. Sendorowski's fine play was all that kept Manchester in the running at East Hartford but Coach Clarke has hopes of whipping the team into the shape that brought victories over Rockville, Meriden and New Britain when the season opened.

Hockey

Canadian-American League: Philadelphia 4, Boston 1.
Tonight's Schedule
National:
New York Americans at Ottawa.
Chicago at Montreal Canadiens.
Montreal Maroons at Detroit.
Boston at New York Rangers.

CYCOLOGY SEIZ

WHEN PERSEVERANCE SHAKES HANDS WITH ENTHUSIASM SUCCESS IMMEDIATELY JOINS THE PARTY

Success is SURE to attend the gragsman who gets his motor replacement parts here! You're certain to get enthusiastic service... quality parts... and fair prices. We carry a COMPLETE stock, including anything to the line of repair parts that you may need. Up-to-date facilities for regrinding and re-boring of cylinders, too!

SCHIEBEL BROS
COR CENTER ST
& PROCTOR RD.
PHONE 6220

LOWER PRICES ARE NEEDED TO REVIVE INTEREST IN RING

President of Boxing Association Discusses Prospects of Sport During the Year, His Views.

By JAMES (BINGO) BROWN
(President, National Boxing Association)
(Written For Associated Press)

Lansing, Mich., Jan. 12.—(AP)—The year 1938 may bring boxing back out of the doldrums if certain things happen. First of all, people who are promoting boxing matches, fighters as well as managers, must realize that the day of the high priced gate has gone and that purses must come down if the sport is going to prosper and hold its own. A common working man loves a boxing contest as well as the banker, the lawyer or the doctor, but his earnings have been cut to such an extent that he no longer can pay the high prices demanded for tickets. The result is that attendance has fallen to a great degree.

I feel that a championship boxing match should have the same price scale as the fine football contest or world's championship baseball contest. If matchmakers are careful with their attractions, there is no reason why boxing shouldn't have a good year, but the public demands good attractions. This was illustrated by the fact that last April at the Yankee Stadium, the New York Americans and the Philadelphia Athletics broke the record for attendance at a single ball game. This past football season illustrates the fact that if attractions are worthwhile, the public is anxious to see them. I refer to the Notre Dame-Army game which drew eighty thousand spectators, and the Notre Dame-Southern California game which drew better than one hundred thousand.

The public also still loves the hero-worship type of fighter and perhaps we will have the hero emerge out of the Schmeling-Baer contest, that is to be promoted by that great American hero, Jack Dempsey. I feel that Dempsey has a fine attraction in the Schmeling-Baer contest and it will be a fight worth traveling miles to see, but Mr. Dempsey must realize that the day of the million dollar gate has disappeared and the public must have the opportunity to buy a ticket at a fair price because, after all, we cannot go very far without the patronage of good old John Public.

I feel that champions should defend their titles more often if we are going to keep the game alive. Every time a man wins a title he announces within twenty-four hours that he is going to be a fighting champion, but he almost always travels the path of his predecessors and goes into hiding with the result that interest lags because of lack of competitors. I feel that a boxer of the type of Kid Chocolate could box at least once a week against good stiff competition and never feel the effects of it. A fighter of the type of Tony Canzoneri is another champion who could come out of hiding and defend his title more often.

There has been a complaint from the other side, especially from England and France, that America has no right to call every champion, world's champion without realizing that the foreign countries also claim champions in their respective fields. At the present time, the National Boxing Association has a complaint from the British Boxing Board of Control, as to why we do not give more recognition to Seaman Watson, their great featherweight title holder. We have written the British Boxing Board of Control, informing them that we are more than anxious to give Seaman Watson a chance to defend his laurels against the best boys in America and are anxious that he prove his worth.

(Note: Watson is matched to fight Kid Chocolate in a title match in New York, Jan. 27.)
Perhaps we are a little hasty in calling our champions world titleholders, but if there is a fighter who is worth anything on the other side and has any kind of a reputation, he has the privilege of coming to America and presenting his wares to the American public.
Amateur boxing has made great strides in America and if handled correctly, it certainly has its place in the boxing world.
I feel that if these principles that I have mentioned above are followed, that boxing will come out of its doldrums and be on the upper swing in the year of 1938.

Roy Moe of Portland, brother of Don Moe, former Western Amateur golf champion, has left the Alderwood Golf Club, Portland, Ore., to become professional at the Spokane Country Club.

Here's the Fellow Sharkey Calls "a Bum"

When Champion Jack Sharkey learned that Jack Dempsey had grabbed a bout between Max Schmeling and Max Baer away from Madison Square Garden, the Boston squire became so angry he called Mister Dempsey "a bum" and said he'd never fight under his promotion. Here's the "bum," looking very much like a business man in his Broadway office.

MANASSA MAULER STEALS THE SHOW!

By JIMMY DONAHUE
NEA Service Sports Writer

New York, Jan. 12.—Mister Jack (William Harrison) Dempsey hasn't made such a bad start for a boy just breaking into the prize fight promotional racket in this man's town. The Old Mauler has bobbed right up in the middle of the picture and grabbed the juiciest morsel of the coming season right off the plate of Jimmy Johnston, the old Broadway Boy Bandit, who may be regarded as past master of every trick known to the treacherous trade.

In characteristic Dempsey fashion he has walked right in and let go a terrific left hook at the mid-section of Johnston and his allies by signing Max Schmeling to battle Max Baer, probably at the Yankee Stadium, in May.

And he has stirred up more big scale—and bitter—ballyhoo than has rent the local pugilistic clouds since that comeback battle he himself fought with Jack Sharkey.

He took advantage of a situation, of course, but that's why promoters were born. To begin with, there was the feud between Joe Jacobs, the great featherweight champion, and Jimmy Johnston, matchmaker of the Garden. Then there was the fact that Johnston had tried to lure Andy Hoffman's fighter, Max Baer, away from him.

Sharkey stepped in on his way to Bermuda for a vacation and helped the ballyhoo tremendously by branding Dempsey a bum and Schmeling a yellow rat. The whole setup bodes well for a sellout when the two Menacious Maxes meet in Maytime and the bout itself promises to be anything but a dance around the Maypole.

Promoting is not such a strange field for Jack. He has had a hand in several promotional schemes, and has done a good job.
Tex Rickard, master showman of them all, probably had a hand in shaping Jack's destiny. The Mauler reveals now that he and Rickard had planned to continue fight promotion as partners after Rickard finished the job of selling the Sharkey-Stribling fight in Miami. Tex was to sever his Garden relations, and the two were going to strike out for themselves.

But Rickard died before that match took place. The loss of his friend served to start Jack on his promotional ventures. The Garden obtained his services for the fight, and he did a good job of building it up.
Since then Mister Dempsey has promoted fights in Reno and way points, with more or less fortune. His recent coup in the crowning success of his career.
He announces that he's going out to please the people with small change by cutting the top price down to $10, and making sure that there are plenty of $2 seats within throwing distance of the ring. That's just what the country needs.

It's likely that the Baer-Schmeling fight will bring a lot more dough into the coffers than a Sharkey-Schmeling bout would.
In Best Dempsey signed a fighter with probably more color than any other in the ring. The Livermore, Calif., butcher boy is an impressive, grinning playboy, who mixes delightful pranks with savage onslaughts.
Schmeling is a cool, plodding, deliberate type, who grows more aggressive as the fight progresses, and who is very likely to slip under the Baer's while he's waving his right to the spectators, and belt him on the whiskers.

George Healey is serving his twenty-ninth year as instructor at the Detroit Racquet Club.

SOUNDS FISHY

Indian Girl Knocks Them Silly With Rocks

Chicago, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Here's a fish story, all the way from Honduras.
Karl P. Schmidt of Field Museum's zoological staff writes that fish in the Santa Ana river in Honduras escaped capture because they were so wily they hid under rocks at the slightest sound.

But a native Indian girl, Schmidt wrote, outsmarted the fish. She dropped large rocks on top of those under which the fish hid, and the fish, always resting at the top of the caverns with their heads next to the rocky roofs, were stunned.
Then the fishermen merely reached under the rocks and pulled out the unconscious fish!

Bowling

CHARTER OAK GIRLS WIN

The Charter Oak Girls with a substitute lineup due to illness defeated the Windsor Locks Girls at Windsor Locks by 45 pins. The bowling of Mae Sherman and Jennie Schubert was a feature. And considering the fact that she has done very little bowling this season, Clara Jackmore also showed up well. Mae Sherman had high single and three strings of 338. Tonight at the Charter Oak alleys the local girls meet the Capitol Girls of Hartford in a State League match, both teams are up in the standing. Florence Johnson of this town will be with the visitors.

Windsor Locks	Score	Windsor Locks	Score
Sherman	82	87	104-273
Luigine	77	101	72-265
Gatti	80	91	107-303
Hathaway	115	85	96-299
Miller	90	100	81-277
	459	484	488 1431
Charter Oak Girls
Sherman	101	110	127-338
Klein	108	90	72-265
Klein	80	91	83-266
Jackmore	94	104	97-295
Schubert	113	91	120-324
	491	486	501 1478

PAUL DEFENDS TITLE

Chicago, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Tommy Paul, the Buffalo chicken raiser who risks his National Boxing Association featherweight crown against Freddie Miller of Cincinnati at the Chicago Stadium tomorrow night, isn't so sure of the fruits of hard work after all. Paul wound up his drill for the battle yesterday by boxing six rounds with southpaws while Miller used up the day on the loafing ground. Betting odds shifted sharply from 8 to 5 in the champ's favor to even money. Many fans predicted that by ring time, the Cincinnati lefthander would be a slight favorite.

The champion's heavy drill two days before the fight convinced many that he wasn't in shape yet. Miller, however, seemed ready although he had a pound to knock off before making the featherweight limit.

REFUELING FLEET

Washington.—The Army Air Corps has a new fleet of airplane refueling units equipped to furnish airplanes with gasoline, oil, air and water. The power of the truck motor pumps the gasoline into the airplane tank. Capacity loads range from 400 to 1,000 gallons. The new trucks are expected to prove indispensable and will facilitate refueling with fire-fighting apparatus and lighting equipment for night operations.

M. H. S. SWIMMERS LOSE FIRST MEET TO AGGIE JAYVEES

Set New School Record In Medley Event, Though Beaten, 37-31; Relay Decides Close Contest.

Manchester High's swimming team, C. C. I. L. champs of 1932, opened its season against the Connecticut Aggie Junior Varsity yesterday afternoon at Storrs, losing by a score of 37 to 31. The local tankmen set a new Manchester High School record of one minute and 16 4-10 seconds for the medley event, in which Joelin, Treat and Cowles participated.

Manchester captured four first places, two seconds and two thirds. By winning the 160 yard relay, the Aggies won the meet, as this was the last of eight closely contested events.

The results were as follows:
The score: 160 yard relay, won by Connecticut, for Conn., Riley, Lally, Ritter and Weigold; for Manchester, H. Cowles, McConnel, McCormick and D. Cowles. Time: 2 min. 3 2-5 sec.

100 yard back stroke: won by Joelin (M); second, Tolls (C); third, Leary (M); time: 1:17 1-5.
Breast Stroke: won by Bacon (C); second, Treat (M); time: 2:1 3-5 sec.

100 yard free style: won by Weigold (C); Riley (C), second; Carney (M), third; time: 1 min. 4-5 sec.
220 yard free style: won by Joelin (M); second, Lally, (C); third, Leary (C); time: 2:51 2-5.

Medley relay: won by Manchester, D. for Manchester, Joelin, Treat and F. Cowles; for Connecticut, Bacon, Tolls and Ritter; time: 1 min. 16 4-5 sec.
Diving: Won by Connecticut; Piper, Buellich; for Manchester, McConnel, Stecholz.

REC FIVE, GUARDS IN GAMES TONIGHT

Both Teams Travel To Bay State For Return Tilts; Recs Sign Champion.

The Rec Five and the National Guards travel to Massachusetts tonight, the Recs headed for Housatonic to meet the Legion team there, while the Guards go to Pittsfield to meet the Pittsfield Eagles. Both local teams turned in victories over their respective opponents on Manchester floors and are hopeful of repeating in enemy territory.

Manager Ben Cluna of the Recs today announced that Johnnie Champion of the Hartford Mayors will join the local lineups tonight, along with Jim Cotter. Al Hewitt of New Britain will appear at the next home game of the Recs. The squad will leave the School street Rec at 5:30 o'clock. The Recs defeated the Legion team, 48 to 35, here and with the addition of Champion expect to make a clean sweep of the series.

The Guards, fresh from their hard earned win over the Meriden Knights last night, will attempt to break the home winning record of the Eagles. A last period rally gave the soldiers a 33 triumph on the Army court but the Eagles are known to function much better at home and the Guards seem due for an active evening.

Local Sport Chatter

In cold print the account of the National Guards game last night looks like a case of biased refereeing, but sports fans acquainted with Al Boggini know that such is not the case. "Horse" is one of the most efficient and impartial referees in this section of the state and handled the difficult contest in a commendable manner. It was regrettable that the Guards won as they did, but the Meriden Knights have no one but themselves to blame for the outcome.

The St. Mary's of East Hartford continued their winning streak last night by defeating the Rhymers by one point, 37 to 36. Accuracy on the foul line was responsible for the victory. St. Mary's tallying 13 points in this manner.

Pennsylvania scored an upset over Princeton in the eastern intercollegiate league last night, winning 28 to 21. The Tigers had won eight straight games and were highly favored. Geoffrey Helm, local boy, was held scoreless, playing a guard position instead of forward.

Fans planning to go to Waterbury Saturday night are reminded to notify William Anderson or Jimmy Neill of their intention in order that a bus may be hired. The Guards meet the Brooklyn A. C. in a return game.

BOUTS AT NEW HAVEN

New Haven, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Pancho Villa, New Bedford, lightweight, and Cocco Kid, formerly of Florida, meet at the Arena here tonight in a ten-round bout.

In the semi-final of eight rounds Chester Matan of New York meets Al Borosa of Bridgeport. They are heavyweights.

Two six-round bouts and a four-rounder complete the bill.

PERSONALS COSTLY TO VISITING TEAM IN FINAL QUARTER

Have Only Three Men On Floor In Closing Minutes, After Count Is Tied 44-44; Then Dowd Scores Twice; Soldiers Trail 15 Points At Half In Speedy, Exciting Tilt.

What A Finish!

National Guards (48)
P.	R.	F.	T.
2 Holland, rf, lg	4	3-5	11
3 Mattson, lf, c	6	1-1	13
0 Chapman, lf	0	0-0	0
1 Turkington, c	3	1-2	7
1 Gustafson, rg	1	1-4	3
0 Farr, rg	0	0-0	0
3 Dowd, lg, rf	5	4-7	14

Meriden Knights (44)
P.	R.	F.	T.
4 Koski, rf	5	1-5	11
2 Kocin, lf	7	0-0	14
0 S. Zajac, c	4	1-2	9
4 Zabroski, rg	0	0-1	0
0 B. Zajac, rg, lg	0	0-1	0
4 Tomkewicz, lg	5	0-0	10

Referee, Al Boggini. Time, ten minute quarters.

Ernie Dowd

a four-point margin when the game ended, after the count had been deadlocked twice more in the last four minutes of play. The final score was 8-4.

Personal fouls proved costly to the Knights, 1932 State League champs, who were forced to play the last three and one-half minutes of the game with four players and over one minute with only three players. The Knights brought only six players to town and used the extra man when Tomkewicz, former Meriden High star, went to the showers in the third period. After the score had been tied at 41-41, with four minutes left to play, Koski followed Tomkewicz and little more than two minutes later, when the count was again tied at 44-44, Zabroski was banished, leaving three Meriden players to the mercy of the Guards their tenth victory in thirteen starts.

The Knights outscored the Guards from the floor, 21 baskets to 16, but the local team made good as the teams battled nip and tuck and Koski went out via personals. The Knights fought desperately with four players and S. Zajac tied the score with a field goal and a foul. Then Zabroski was found guilty of his fourth personal and the Knights finished out the game with three men, who were unable to check the fast moving Guards, as Dowd scored twice in rapid succession.

The game grew gradually rougher as the teams battled nip and tuck and Koski went out via personals. The Knights fought desperately with four players and S. Zajac tied the score with a field goal and a foul. Then Zabroski was found guilty of his fourth personal and the Knights finished out the game with three men, who were unable to check the fast moving Guards, as Dowd scored twice in rapid succession.

Referee, Dowd. Halftime score 22-20 St. Mary's. 10 minute periods. 5 minutes overtime.

St. Mary's Girls (58)
P.	R.	F.	T.
1 Smith, lf	5	1-3	13
4 Whippert, rf	7	4-8	18
1 A. Brown, c	3	1-4	7
2 Vennart, lf	4	1-2	9
2 Madden, lg	2	1-1	6
1 Brown, lg	0	0-0	0
3 H. Brown, rg	0	0-0	0
	23	8-18	52

South Methodist Girls (48)
P.	R.	F.	T.
0 Brosowski, rf	5	1-5	12
1 Henry, lf	5	2-5	12
3 McAdam, c	1	0-1	2
3 Bissell, rg	3	4-5	10
3 Metcalf, lg	4	0-0	8
	18	7-14	43

St. James Girls (23)
P.	R.	F.	T.
0 Gresel, rf	2	0	6
0 Wierba, lf	0	0	0
0 Dwyer, c	1	0	2
0 Lupien, lg	0	0	0
0 Mitchell, lg	2	1	5
0 Squatrito, rg	4	0	8
	11	1	23

South Methodist Girls (14)
P.	R.	F.	T.
Chambers, rf	1	1	3
Duke, lf	2	3	7
Moorehouse, c	2	0	4
Newton, lg	0	0	0
Robbins, lf	0	0	0
Mason, lf	0	0	0
Smith, rg	0	0	0
Loomis, rg	0	0	0
	5	4	14

Halftime score 22-20 St. Mary's. Referee, C. Gustafson.

GUARANTEED!

No package contains genuine "BLUE BLADES" unless it carries the portrait of King C. Gillette.

The "BLUE BLADE," provided with a patented slot in the center, is guaranteed to give you shaving comfort you have never before experienced.

Read the Classified Rental Property Listing on this Page

Manchester Evening Herald

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Count six average words to a line. Initials, numbers and abbreviations each count as a word and compound words as two words. Minimum cost is price of three lines.

Line rates per day for transient ads.

Effective March 17, 1933

6 Consecutive Days	7 cts
13 Consecutive Days	11 cts
1 Day	11 cts

All orders for irregular insertions will be charged at the one time rate. Special rates for long term every day advertising given upon request. Ads ordered for three or six days and stopped before the third or fifth day will be charged only for the actual number of times the ad appeared, charging at the rate earned, but no allowance or refund on ads ordered on six days and stopped after the fifth day.

No "forfeited" display lines not sold.

The Herald will not be responsible for more than one insertion of any advertisement ordered for more than one time.

The inadvertent omission of incorrect publication of advertising will be returned only by association with charges made for the insertion.

All advertisements must conform in style, copy and typography with regulations ordered by the publishers and they reserve the right to edit, revise or reject any copy considered objectionable.

CLOSING HOURS—Classified ads to be published same day must be received by 12 o'clock noon; Saturdays 10:30 a. m.

TELEPHONE YOUR WANT ADS.

Ads are accepted over the telephone at the CHARGE RATE given above as a convenience. However, the CASH RATE will be accepted as FULL PAYMENT if paid at the booth day following the first insertion of each ad otherwise the CHARGE RATE will be collected. No responsibility for errors in telephoned ads will be assumed and their accuracy cannot be guaranteed.

INDEX OF CLASSIFICATIONS

Births	A
Engagements	B
Marriages	C
Auto Accidents	D
Deaths	E
Card of Thanks	F
In Memoriam	G
Lost and Found	H
Announcements	I
Personals	J

Automobiles for Sale 4
 Automobiles for Exchange 4
 Auto Accessories 4
 Auto Repairing—Painting 7-A
 Auto Schools 7-A
 Autos—Parts 7-A
 Autos—For Hire 7-A
 Garage—Service—Storage 10
 Motorcycles 10
 Wanted Autos—Motorcycles 12
 Business and Professional Services 12
 Business Services 12
 Household Services Offered 12-A Building—Contracting 14
 Painting—Painting 14
 Electrical—Plumbing—Roofing 14
 Heating—Plumbing—Roofing 14
 Insurance 14
 Millinery—Dressmaking 14
 Moving—Trucking—Storage 14
 Professional Services 14
 Repairing 14
 Tailoring—Dry Cleaning 14
 Toilet Goods and Service 14
 Wanted—Business Service 14
 Educational 27
 Private Instruction 27
 Dancing 27
 Musical—Dramatic 27
 Wanted—Instruction 27
 Financial 31
 Bonds—Stocks—Real Estate 31
 Business Opportunities 32
 Money to Loan 32
 Help and Writings 32
 Help Wanted—Male 32
 Help Wanted—Female 32
 Agents Wanted 37-A
 Situations Wanted—Male 38
 Situations Wanted—Female 38
 Employment Agencies 40
 Live Stock—Poultry—Vegetables 42
 Dogs—Birds—Poultry 42
 Liv. Stock—Vegetables 42
 Poultry and Supplies 42
 Wanted 42
 For Sale—Miscellaneous 42
 Articles for Sale 42
 Books and Accessories 42
 Building Materials 42
 Diamonds—Watches—Jewelry 42
 Electrical Appliances—Radio 42
 Fuel and Heat 42
 Garden—Farm—Dairy Products 42
 Household Goods 42
 Machinery and Tools 42
 Musical Instruments 42
 Office and Store Equipment 42
 Specials at the Store 42
 Wearing Apparel—Furs 42
 Wanted—To Buy 42
 Rooms—Boarding—Resorts 42
 Rooms Without Board 42
 Boarders Wanted 42
 Country Board—Resorts 42
 Hotels—Restaurants 42
 Wanted—Rooms—Board 42
 Real Estate For Rent 42
 Apartments, Flats, Tenements 42
 Business Locations for Rent 42
 Houses for Rent 42
 Suburban for Rent 42
 Summer Homes for Rent 42
 Wanted to Rent 42
 Real Estate For Sale 42
 Apartment Building for Sale 42
 Business Property for Sale 42
 Farms and Land for Sale 42
 Houses for Sale 42
 Real Estate For Rent 42
 Suburban for Sale 42
 Real Estate for Exchange 42
 Wanted—Real Estate 42
 Auction—Legal Notices 42
 Legal Notices 42

LOST AND FOUND

TUESDAY AND RIM Tuesday morning. Return to Bryant & Chapman Company, 49 Holl street. Reward.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

CENTER TRAVEL BUREAU—Our information service covers all branches of travel. Let us help you plan your next trip, via bus or steamship. I. O. C. F. Building at The Center. Dial 7007.

MOVING—TRUCKING—STORAGE

LOCAL AND LONG DISTANCE moving, general trucking, heavy service. Our affiliation with United Van Service means lower rates on furniture moving to distant points. Large modern trucks, experienced men, prompt service, all goods insured while in transit are features offered at no extra expense to you. Daily trips to New York, package delivered direct to steamship piers. For further information call 3063, 8860, 8864, Perrett & Glenney, Inc.

SILVER LANE BUS LINE offer the accommodation of their large DeLuxe bus for lodge, party or team trips at special rates. Phone 3063, 8860, 8864.

COURSES AND CLASSES

BEAUTY CULTURE—Earn while learning. Details free. Hartford Academy of Hairdressing 698 Main street, Hartford.

HELP WANTED—FEMALE

WANTED—A LADY SOLICITOR for Dry Cleaning Plant. One with personality—experience unnecessary. Write Box L, Herald.

HELP WANTED—MALE

MEN WANTED to establish and conduct Rawleigh Routes in cities of South Manchester, Windsor, Hartford and Middletown. Reliable hunter can start earning $25 weekly and increase rapidly. Write immediately. Rawleigh Co., Dept. CO-35-V, Albany, N. Y.

DRIVERS TO SELL

doughnuts and buns, for local bakery on 35 percent commission basis. Inquire 67 Fine street.

ARTICLES FOR SALE

BROWNING 199 automatic shotgun, used one season; also Colt new police 32 caliber revolver, $15. Telephone 3044, 299 Fern street.

FUEL AND FEED

FOR SALE—HARD WOOD also range and fuel oil. V. Phipps, 118 Wells street, telephone 6148.

SEASONED HARD WOOD, stove size, furnace chunks or fireplace lengths 87 cord, $4 load. Gray birch 36 cord. Chas. Heckler, telephone Rosedale 13-13.

WANTED—TO BUY

WANTED TO BUY or exchange 1913-1919 issues "Stars & Stripes." Write Box M, in care of Herald.

ROOMS WITHOUT BOARD

FOR RENT—FURNISHED ROOMS for light housekeeping, all improvements, steam heat, gas and sink in every room. Rent reasonable. 109 Foster street.—Grube.

FOR RENT—IN JOHNSON BLOCK, single rooms, two and three room suits, all modern conveniences. Apply Janitor, telephone 7835 or A. W. Harrison 6917.

BOARDERS WANTED

LARGE HEATED ROOM with board, home privileges, 63 Garden street. Telephone 6154.

ROOM AND BOARD at $11.00 per week. The Hotel Sheridan. Tel. 3673.

APARTMENTS, FLATS, TENEMENTS

FOR RENT—TWO, THREE and 4 room apartments, heat, janitor service, refrigerator furnished. Call Arthur A. Kucifka 5440 or 4131, 875 Main street.

FOR RENT—5 ROOM tenement, modern improvements, large enclosed porch, rent $20; also 4 room tenement $15, two room tenement $10. Phone 4466. Mrs. J. F. Sheehan, 90 Holl street.

APARTMENTS, FLATS, TENEMENTS

FOR RENT—LILLEY ST.—Near Center, modern five rooms, first floor, steam heat, garage. Inquire 21 Elro street. Call 5661.

126 WEST CENTER ST.—Five modern attractive rooms, first floor, steam heat, garage, large yard, reasonable. Telephone Hartford 2-5812.

FOR RENT—4 ROOM flat, Strickland street, all improvements, nice neighborhood. Chas. J. Strickland, 168 Main. Phone 7874.

FOR RENT—4 ROOM flat, all improvements, steam heat and garage. Inquire 187 Maple or phone 5960.

FOR RENT—3 ROOM Apartments, all newly renovated, new gas ranges, steam heat, hot water heater, garage if desired. Rent reasonable. Inquire 193 Foster St.—Grube.

FOR RENT—3 ROOM apartments, 36-38 Maple street; also four room tenement, 42 Maple street. Telephone 6517.

FOR RENT—4 ROOM tenement, 5 Ridgewood street; garage. Inquire L. Lentz, 178 Parker street. Phone 5623.

FOR RENT—THREE, five and six room tenements, with all modern improvements. Inquire at 147 East Center street or telephone 7894.

BUSINESS LOCATIONS FOR RENT

STORE FOR RENT, corner Bristol and Foster streets apartment if desired. Inquire on premises.

FOR RENT—IN THE OFFICE building at 895 Main street, a suite 5 offices, suitable for a doctor or kindred lines. Also a very desirable rent for ladies hair dressing establishment. Edward J. Hall. Telephone 4649.

SPORT SLANTS
 ASSOCIATED PRESS SPORTS EDITOR

Your old pal, Jack Dempsey, not only stepped into the metropolitan district to steal the best heavyweight slug of 1933 from under the collective noses of the ex-millionaires of Madison Square Garden, but he has turned on the ballyhoo more friskily than any individual since Tex Rickard's day.

Dempsey was brought up in the old Kearns-Rickard school. He has toured the country backward and forward, with the result the old mauler his a flock of friends and well-wishers. Consequently he has not found it difficult to obtain publicity or to get the boys talking in figures like $300,000, even though they all know there isn't that much money left these days.

While the ballyhoo is on, the offer is as good as another; in fact one more is always welcome so long as it goes to the sporting page. Photostatic copies of some of the famous certified checks of boom days may be put in circulation again, and most any day now J. E. Mulvihill of Danbury, Conn., may toss in a bid for the Battle of the Maxes.

Once the winter's garrulous gabbling is done with, the probabilities are that Max Schmeling and Max Baer will fight under Dempsey's banner in Chicago, that Sharkey will defend his title in a return bout with Primo Carniero in New York, and that the respective winners, Sharkey and Schmeling, will meet in a Gotham arena for the third time, in September.

The fight fans may take these propositions or leave them alone; but at that, they are probably the best that can be developed in the current heavyweight circumstances.

Bowdoin College, rugged school in Maine, has many claims to distinction, the latest of which is the election of a former All-America halfback's son, Henry E. Hubbard, to the 1933 football captaincy. Like his father, John H. Hubbard, the son is also a halfback and a good one.

The elder Hubbard starred at Amherst and was picked by Walter Camp for his first All-America team in 1905. At Torrington, Conn., the family home, he is still sufficiently inclined toward athletics to be a member of the Y. M. C. A. volleyball team in the winter and play a good game of golf in the summer.

SWEDES TURN BACK CENTRAL BAPTISTS

Defeat Hartford Five in Close Game, 35-31; Olson Scores 24 Points.

The Emanuel Lutherans defeated the Central Baptists of Hartford in a close game on the latter's court last night, Olson of the local team scoring a total of 24 points to give Manchester a 35-31 victory. The local Seconds lost to the Central Baptists Seconds, 30 to 16 in the preliminary.

The box scores:

Central Baptist Seconds (30)
Seedman, rf	5
Bagley, lf	3
Foster, c	4
Penfield, rg	1
Passmore, rg	1
Wade, lg	1
Total
	16

Emanuel Lutheran (18)
H. Johnson, rf	4
R. Anderson, c	2
E. Swanson, lg	0
H. Benson, c	0
Total
	6

Manchester Swedes (35)
Olson, rf	9
H. Larson, lf	6
Nelson, c	0
W. Johnson, rg	3
S. Anderson, lg	1
Total
	19

Central Baptist (31)
K. Scofield, rf	4
L. Scofield, lf	1
Hopwood, lf	0
Dickson, rg	4
Murice, lg	0
Swenson, lg	1
Total
	10

Barth on the other hand, has had a tough time of keeping the wolf away from his Cleveland door. The former taxicab driver was met by promoters after his Olympic victory and given the glad hand. But contracts for fights were few.

His only brawl in his home town saw him facing a middleweight who didn't know much about it. And the fight kept the fans away in droves.

Maybe, if Carmen could start all over again, he could gain a season from Eddie at that, he could learn the value of ballyhoo.

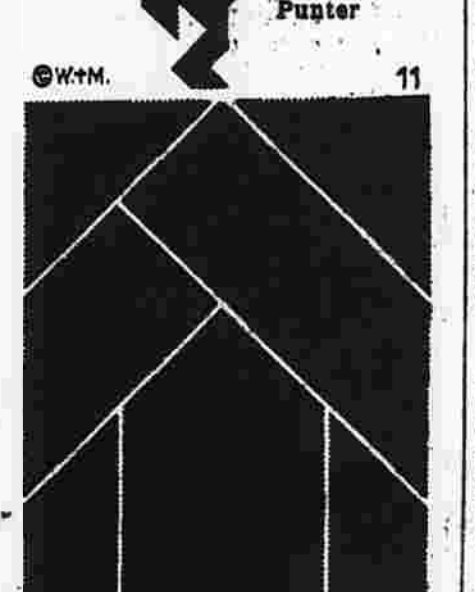

When the southern boy first broke into the ring, he was hailed as a sensation from Loyola College of New Orleans. Eddie engaged in 121 amateur fights without losing one, topping off his performance by winning the national amateur title.

WHAT PRICE SNOW?

Fort Worth, Tex.—An artificial snowstorm would have cost the Retail Merchants' Association $1,200 had they accepted the offer made by a group of "snow experts." The experts planned to swoop down over the downtown business district in airplanes and discharge the artificial flakes by air pressure. The offer was turned down, however, when a real snowstorm blanketed the city.

HIS HO

Trade Mark Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
HERE'S HIS HO—All-American paper, looking a long one. You can get him free for another kick if you cut out the seven puzzle pieces below and rearrange them properly. You may turn the pieces over in forming his silhouette.

How did the trained bear behave for you? Here's the way the seven puzzle pieces may be put together to form his silhouette.

Some Figures for You

Billy Evans, reformed umpire who now is general manager of the Cleveland Indians, offers some pertinent figures applying to

Fortune Follows Eddie Flynn; Eludes Barth

By JIMMY DONAHUE
 NEA Service Sports Writer

The experiences of Carmen Barth and Eddie Flynn serve to illustrate more forcefully than ever that those two old dames, Fame and Fortune, are as fickle as the modern co-ed with a voluminous date book.

Eddie and Carmen, it will be remembered, emerged from the Olympic brawls as world amateur champions of the welter and middleweight divisions, respectively. Both were good fighters, beating the class of the world in the amateur ranks. Each had the same chances.

But Eddie is getting all the breaks with the old gals. Carmen is waiting outside while Eddie gets all the fights and a lot of dough.

Flynn has been the most sought-after battler since the Italian Alp, Carnera, moved to America and ceased to be a curiosity. Since he won the Olympic title, Eddie has turned professional and many promoters have sought his services as a headline attraction.

His debut as a pro in New Orleans recently brought the fans flocking through the turnstiles, and increased his bank balance by a sizable sum.

Barth, on the other hand, has had a tough time of keeping the wolf away from his Cleveland door. The former taxicab driver was met by promoters after his Olympic victory and given the glad hand. But contracts for fights were few.

His only brawl in his home town saw him facing a middleweight who didn't know much about it. And the fight kept the fans away in droves.

Maybe, if Carmen could start all over again, he could gain a season from Eddie at that, he could learn the value of ballyhoo.

When the southern boy first broke into the ring, he was hailed as a sensation from Loyola College of New Orleans. Eddie engaged in 121 amateur fights without losing one, topping off his performance by winning the national amateur title.

HOOKS AND SLIDES

Babe Ruth is in line for a slash in pay, which the experts are guessing at all the way from $5,000 to $55,000. It just can't be otherwise.

Probably in the end, after der Colonel and the Bambino get together, the Babe's pay figure for 1933 will be adjusted at $60,000, a reduction of $15,000.

The Babe has gone back a whole lot, of course, even though he appeared to be every bit of his old self in the world series. Then, too, the profits of the Yankees are not what they used to be in the golden '20's of baseball. But that is not the real reason why the Babe is going to have to take it on the hip pocket.

The real reason lies with the 15 other club owners in the major leagues. How are these other magnates going to flatten their athletes' pay envelopes while the Babe still is drawing a princely sum? Especially in the light of his decay.

If you have any doubts that the 15 other magnates in the major leagues have informed Colonel Ruppert thoroughly in this angle of baseball's woeful situation, prepare to shed tears now. They have brought all kinds of pressure on the Yanks' paymaster.

It strikes me that the Babe may as well reconcile himself to a nice fat cut in the light of the serious situation faced by baseball in general. It is not a hopeful outlook at best, only two teams in the majors (the pennant winners) having made any money last year, and there being no assurance that things are not going to be just as bad in '33.

The Sphinx is the most ancient example of independent sculpture now extant.

By FRANK BECK

LANDS BIG SAILFISH ON 4-OUNCE ROD

Miami, Fla., Jan. 12.—A new world record for landing a sailfin with a 4-ounce rod was established here by Mrs. Oliver C. Grinnell, Bayshore, L. I., angler.

With a four-ounce fly rod and a four-thread linen line, Mrs. Grinnell caught and landed a 31-pound monster after he had made three runs, taken out 290 yards of line on the first, and showed his acrobatic nature by leaping out of the water several times.

The tackle Mrs. Grinnell used is no heavier than that fishermen use for two-pound bass.

MANGRUM IN LEAD AT AGUA CALIENTE

Field of 127 Golfers Start Second Round Today; The Best Scores.

Agua Caliente, Mexico, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Ray Mangrum, Texas, held a one-stroke lead as the field of 127 golfers turned into the second round of the Agua Caliente $7,500 open today. The 22-year-old youth carded to the front yesterday with the aid of a stiff wind which blew the favorites well back and sent the dark horses charging to the front. Mangrum shot a remarkable round of 35-34—69, three strokes under par.

In second place breezed Archie Hambrook, bespectacled youth from Zanesville, Ohio, who shot a steady 35-35—70. Third place was held by Horton Smith and John Rogers, Denver, with 71's, still a stroke better than standard figures for the 6,833 yard course.

Al Simpson was the only other player who could hold his steady. He went to the eighteenth with a chance for a 70, three-putted to go two strokes over, finishing with a 72. The outstanding favorites were clustered together with cards of 75's. These were Fred Morrison, defending champion, Craig Wood, Olin Dutra, MacDonald Smith, and George Von Elm. Willie Goggin, another of the young upstarts, from San Francisco, and Eddie Loos, were tied for sixth place with 73's, one over par.

In eighth place at 74 were Harry Cooper, Paul Runyon, Lester Bolstead, leading amateur, and Charles Sheppard, Oakland, Calif. Leo Diegel, home professional, had a 76, most of which consists of spring training, transportation and hotel expenses.

The home team suffers the principal extraction of 35 cents out of every dollar's worth of admission money, the league taking 5 cents and the visitors 30. Taking $1 as the average admission (which is high enough for an average) the home team may be figured to net 85 cents for each person. At that rate the home team must play to 600,000 people during the season to make a profit—that profit being represented by the road earnings.

It's Not So Easy
 Cleveland may be put down as a good baseball town, with a first division ball club. Last year, on the day when the Indians moved into their new stadium, they played to a record crowd of more than 80,000 paid admissions.

But in five years Cleveland never has hit an aggregate gate of 600,000 people. Last year, 80,000 crowd and all, the Indians' attendance was under 500,000. Each of the ball clubs unofficially set $100,000 as the amount that would have to be cut from expenses this year. A shorter spring training trip will save not more than $2,000 of that sum. Traveling and hotel expenses will be cheaper this year by perhaps $10,000.

That leaves $88,000 that must be whacked from the salaries, and that means that the players on each team must suffer a pecuniary amputation amounting to around $40,000.

The boys getting between $10,000 and $15,000 are going to be the lads heaviest hit by the slashes. And will they sing out! Are you asking me?

JUST CAREFUL

MOTHER: As soon as you're asleep the angels will come into your room to guard you.

SMALL SON: Oh, well, take my chocolates off the dressing table and put them under my pillow, please!—Passing Show.

THE TINY TITLES

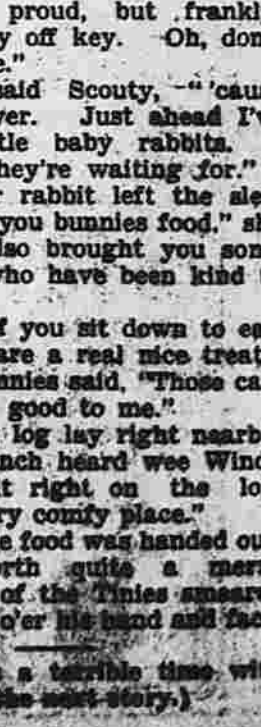

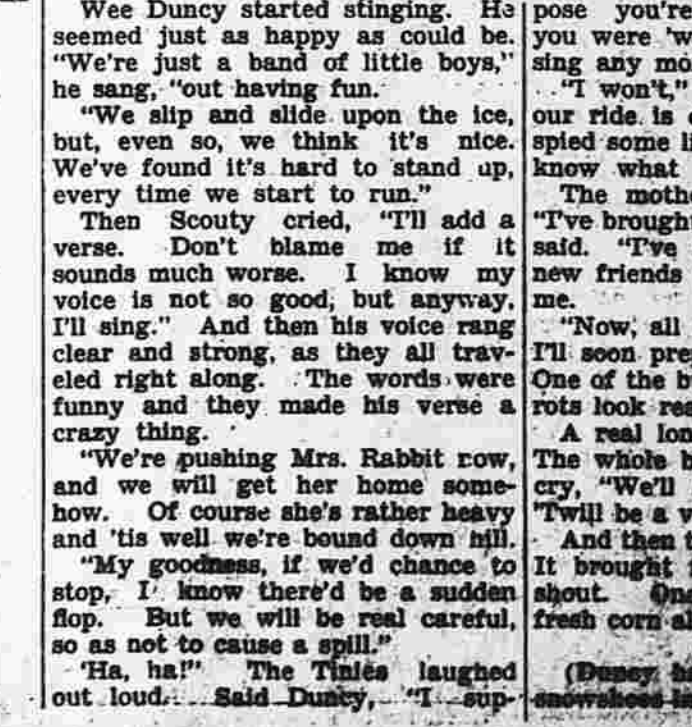

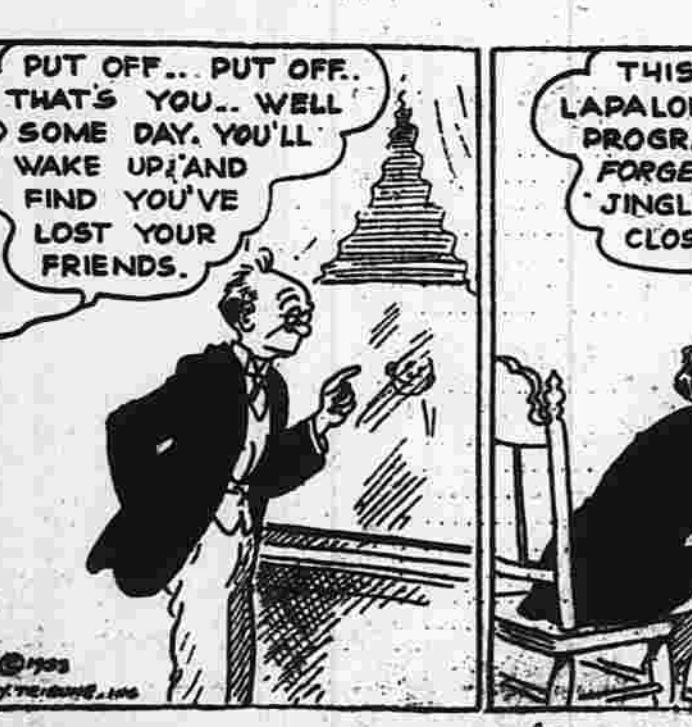

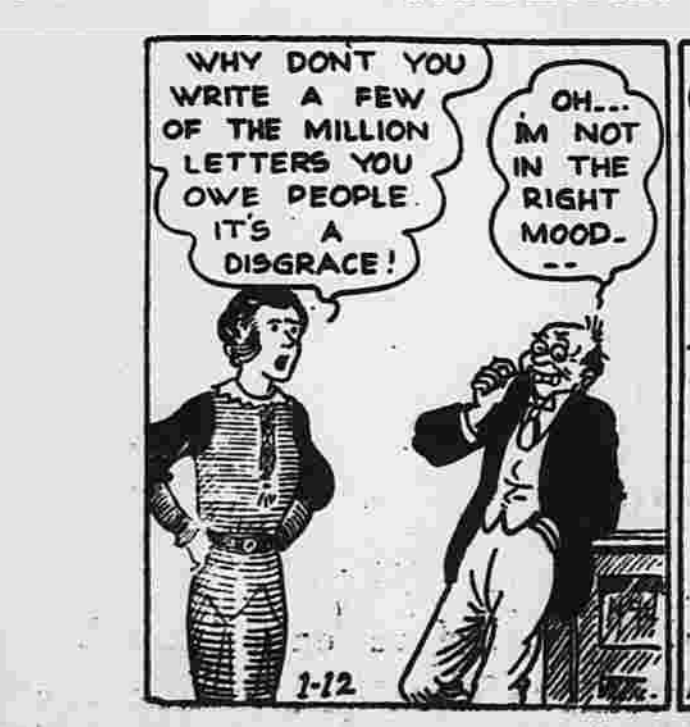

By MAL COCHRAN
 Directed by GEORGE SCARBO

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

Wee Duncy started stinging. He seemed just as happy as could be. "We're just a band of little boys," he sang, "out having fun."
 "We slip and slide upon the ice, but, even so, we think it nice. We've found it's hard to stand up, every time we start to run."
 Then Scouty cried, "I'll add a verse. Don't blame me if it sounds much worse. I know my voice is not so good, but anyway, I'll sing." And then his voice rang clear and strong, as they all traveled right along. The words were funny and they made his verse a crazy thing.
 "We're pushing Mrs. Rabbit now, and we will get her home somehow. Of course she's rather heavy and 'tis well we bound down hill. It brought forth such a merry shout. I know there'd be a sudden flop. But we will be real careful, so as not to cause a spill."
 "Ha, ha!" The Titties laughed out loud. Said Duncy, "I suppose you're proud, but frankly, you were 'way off key. Oh, don't sing any more."
 "I won't," said Scouty, "I cause our ride is over. Just ahead I've spied some little baby rabbits. I know what they're waiting for."
 The mother rabbit left the sled. "I've brought you bunnies food," she said. "I've also brought you some new friends who have been kind to me."
 "Now, all of you sit down to eat. I'll soon prepare a special treat. One of the bunnies said, 'Those carrots look real good to me.'"
 A real long log lay right nearby. The whole bunch heard we Windy cry, "We'll sit right on the log. 'Twill be a very comfy place."
 And then the food was handed out. It brought forth such a merry shout. One of the Titties sneezed, fresh corn all over his head and nose.
 (Duncy has a terrible time with snowballs in the next story.)

GAS BUGGIES—That's Different

SENSE AND NONSENSE

Nothing is so cheap as advice, but the kind that is given away seldom is worth following.

The Price of Success is Effort... Nothing can be accomplished without it... There is no such thing as something for nothing... There is no easier or quicker way to a desired goal than through effort.

Extra Girl—My brother just finished his course of swimming lessons.

Director—Did he get a diploma.
Extra Girl—No, but he would have if he hadn't drowned.

You mustn't tell Willie, but many of the big jobs are held by men who slept in their underwear until they left home.

A certain man is reported to have been at home reading the other evening when his wife entered the room and said:

Wife—George, what do you think? Mother wants to be cremated!

Husband (rising briskly, and putting down his paper)—Fine! Tell her to get her things on.

Every boy is a Romeo at heart, snickers a local man. A married man is merely one who tried to steal a few kisses and got caught.

Woman (well in years, entering drug store)—Have you any creams for restoring the complexion?

Druggist—Restoring? You mean preserving! And he then sold the woman $12 worth of complexion.

A golden-plate rule: Do nothing unto others if you would have them do nothing for you.

Patient—You remember when you cured my rheumatism a couple of years ago, Doc? And you told me I should avoid dampness?

Doctor (approvingly)—Yes, that's right.

Patient—Well, I've come to ask you if I can take a bath.

Hard Times!
Oh, no—I couldn't raise my pledge! Instead, I'll have to cut it down, with times so bad; You know, just everyone is in the red.

You wouldn't dream how few new clothes I've had. And then, my contract lessons cost so much, And facials, and my wave just will not stay—

I have one every week—and we go Dutch (Because of hard times) on Ladies' Day.

Of course, you know I love the church, I'm sure—

I'll try to help—but now, my dear, I'm poor.

Those who have recently found work after long idleness probably feel that the most enjoyable vacation is one from unemployment.

Wildman—Marjorie's no flapper. Wiseman—I'll say she ain't. She was having dates when the Four Horsemen were riding in goccarts.

Wise cracks and bits of humor even if they add nothing but a smile and are not made at the hurt of someone, are worth while, we believe.

Waiter—These are the best eggs we have had for years.
Diner—Well, bring me some you haven't had so long.

SPLASHES—Science has made fresh vegetables almost as commonplace as the well known bath. The wise man prepares for the worst while hoping for the best. No man is any bigger than the thing he is living for—it isn't so much that love is blind, as it is that so many girls love blindly. Nothing works to perfection except an adding machine. Give a man enough rope and sooner or later he'll get tangled up with some girl. You may duck your responsibilities, but you cannot dodge the consequences. As the world grows more civilized we keep right on improving padlocks. The doctors are quite right; spinach puts a lot of grit into a man. An operation's no good until a fellow gets well enough to become acquainted with his nurse. Better to fall down than to lay down.

Wife—George, what do you think? Mother wants to be cremated!

Husband (rising briskly, and putting down his paper)—Fine! Tell her to get her things on.

Every boy is a Romeo at heart, snickers a local man. A married man is merely one who tried to steal a few kisses and got caught.

Woman (well in years, entering drug store)—Have you any creams for restoring the complexion?

Druggist—Restoring? You mean preserving! And he then sold the woman $12 worth of complexion.

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS:

Nothing smoothes out the past like a present.

Tennerville Folks

By Fontaine Fox

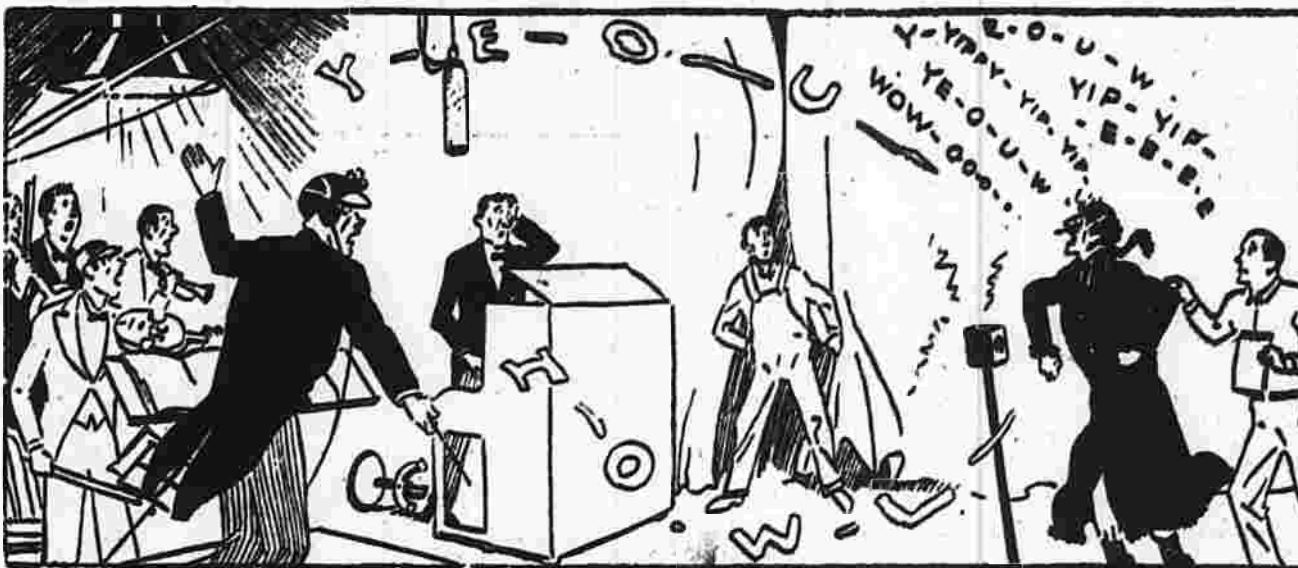

THE TERRIBLE TEMPERED MR. BANG'S OPPONENT AT CONTRACT CLAIMS A REVOKE AND SHOWS HIM THE NEW RULE.

SCORCHY SMITH

The Call of the Wild

By John C. Terry

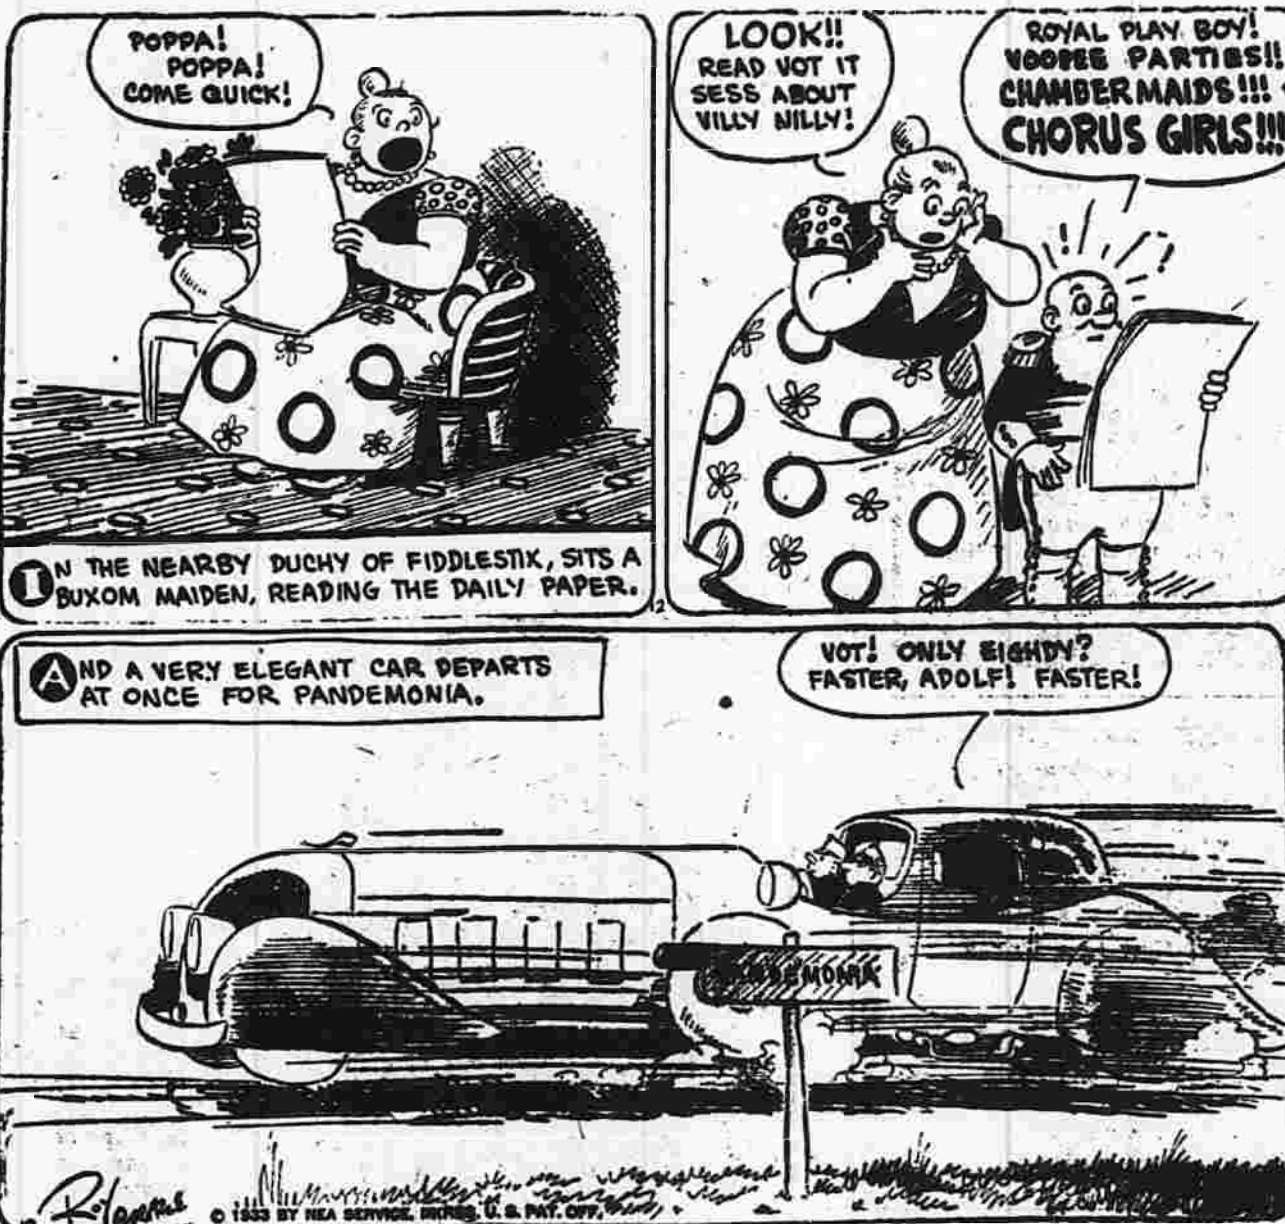

WASHINGTON TUBBS II

By Crane

OUT OUR WAY

By Williams

WRIGLEY'S JUICY FRUIT GUM

W-187 KEPT RIGHT IN CELLOPHANE

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

By Blosser

SALESMAN SAM

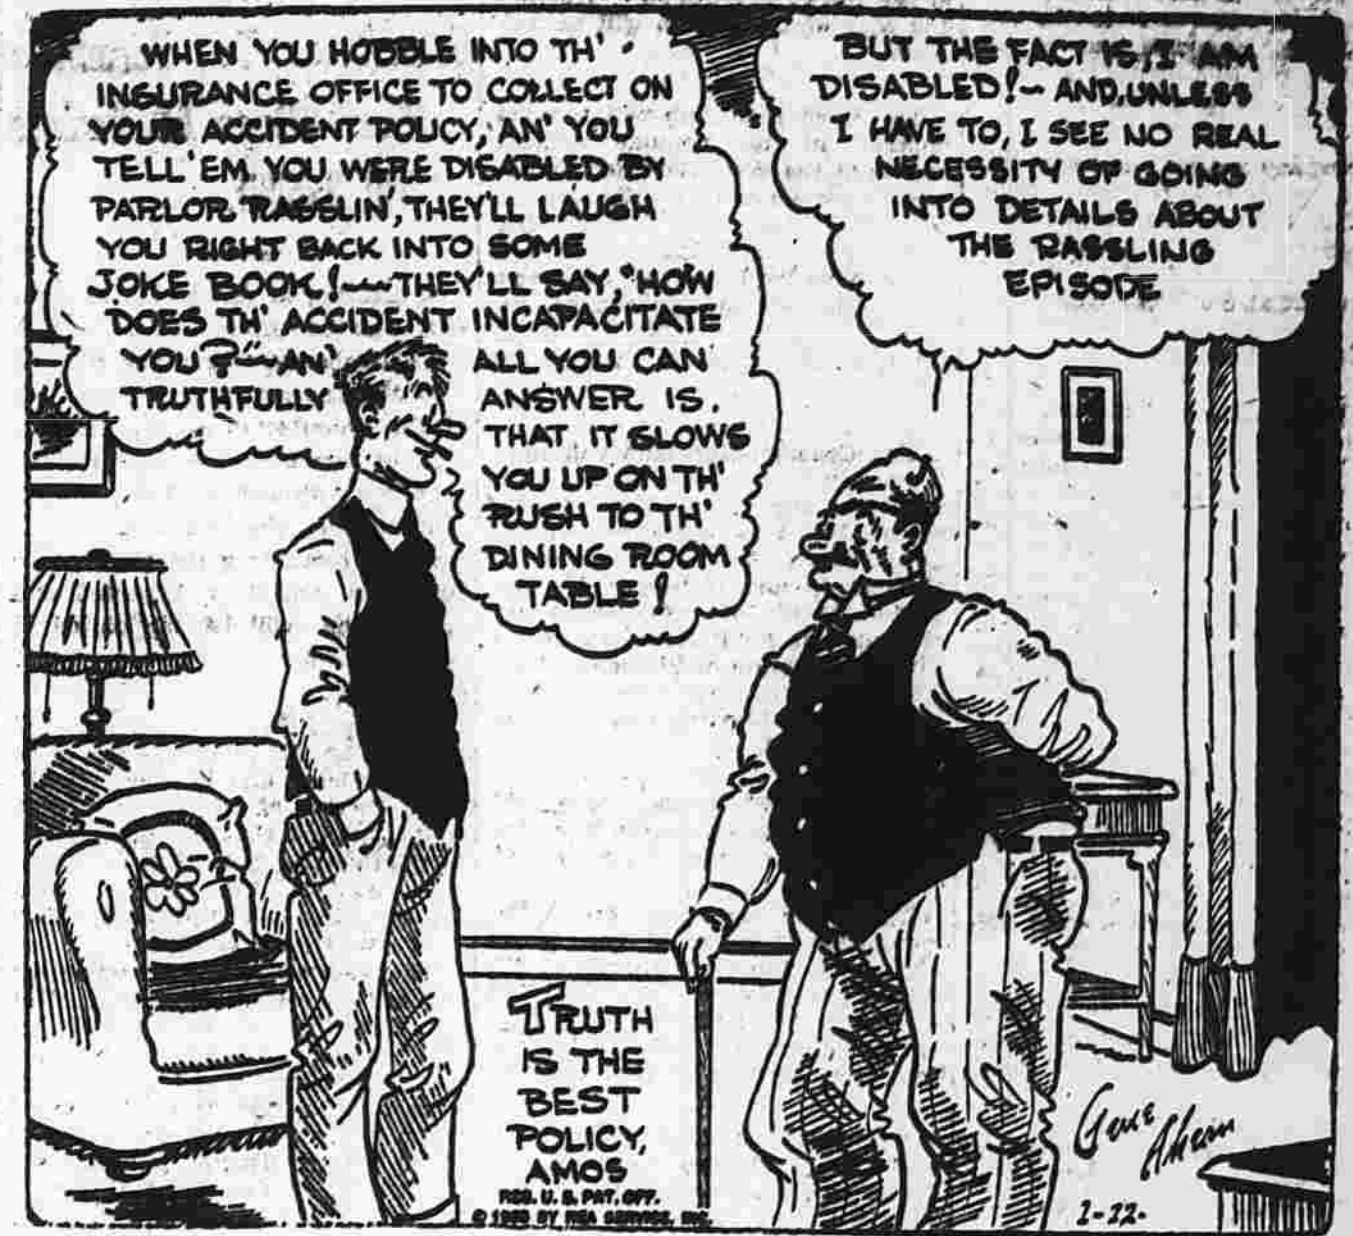

Sounds Reasonable!

By Small

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

By Gene Ahern

ABOUT TOWN

Mrs. John W. Kemp and Mrs. Margaret E. Hampson of 49 Washburn street, attended Sabra Trumbull D. A. R. whist in Rockville yesterday. Mrs. Hampson was on the committee for this month's meeting and took one of the prizes.

A company supper and social will be held by Hose and Ladder Company No. 1 South Manchester Fire Department in the company quarters, Pine and Hartford Road, Saturday night at 8 o'clock. The annual banquet date has not been set by the committee in charge.

Two automatic coal stokers have been installed in the boiler room of the Manchester Memorial hospital in the interest of economy. The first machine installed several weeks ago gave such good results that a second machine was installed in the auxiliary boiler. Due to the use of these automatic stokers, it was unnecessary to use the laundry boiler, sufficient steam being generated by the hospital boiler.

The winners at the setback party held last night at the West Side Recreation building were Jack Smith, score of 152; David Hadden, 151; Mrs. Edward Werner, 153; George Trueman, 142, with Mrs. M. Bissell taking consolation with 101. There were 15 tables playing.

The King's Herald and Home Guards will meet at the South Methodist church tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Miss Lillian Black of Cumberland street is confined to her home with an attack of grip.

The Manchester Green Community club will give another setback and dance in the present series tomorrow evening at 8:15 at the Green school assembly hall. Four cash prizes will be awarded the winners, and the usual jolly time is in store for all who attend.

The Norwich District Epworth League cabinet will meet Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the South Methodist church.

The Young People's Polish society affiliated with the Polish National church will run another of its popular dances at Turn hall, North street, Saturday evening. Music will be furnished by a five-piece out-of-town orchestra, "The Happy Five." More than 200 attended the recent dance given by this society.

Art McKay's orchestra will play at the Circle Dance Hall on Oak street tonight. No admission will be charged. Dancing will be from 9 until 12. John McConville will prompt for the old-fashioned numbers.

The Men's society of the Emanuel Lutheran church will meet Friday night at 7:30. The Benevolent group under the leadership of Algot Johnson will be in charge of the program, which will include an illustrated lecture on Home Missions in the Rocky Mountains. All men and boys of the church will be welcome.

The West Side club will conduct, another of its popular cabaret dances at the West Side Rec tomorrow night. More than fifty couples enjoyed the last affair, held on New Year's eve, and it is expected that many more will attend tomorrow night. The committee headed by Fritz Wilkinson intends to make this the best dance ever held at the Rec.

The Cosmopolitan club will meet tomorrow afternoon with Mrs. Herbert E. House of East Center street. The guest speaker will be Miss Mary F. Potter, chairman of Citizenship and Illiteracy of the State Board of Education, and chairman of Adult Education in the State Federation of Women's Clubs. Her subject will be "The Foreign Born in Our Evening Classes." Tea will be served.

The Friendly Bridge club will meet tomorrow afternoon with Mrs. Arthur E. Loomis of Keeney street.

Mrs. Peter McLagan heads the committee ladies of the North Methodist church in charge of the 6:30 o'clock supper at the first session of the Nutmeg Trail Epworth League Institute to be held tomorrow evening at that church.

Kenneth W. Graham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Graham, of Edgerton street, a senior student at Trinity College, will sing the anthem at the vesper services at the college Sunday afternoon at four o'clock.

The winners of prizes in the V. F. W. benefit card party held last night in the Y. M. C. A. were as follows: Ladies' first, setback, Mrs. Florence Peterson; second, Mrs. Robert Dougan; men, first, John Lovett; second, Fred Hope; Ladies' first, bridge, Miss Mary Hayes; second, Mrs. Raymond Fogarty; men's first, William Kearns; second, Raymond Johnson. There were sixteen tables in the series of games which were played in the new Y. M. C. A. banquet hall. The final sitting in the benefit series of games for the Purple Heart Fund will be played in the Y. M. C. A. Friday evening, Jan. 20.

Hose Company No. 1 was called out on a still alarm at 9:45 this morning to the home of John Hamill at 167 Cooper Hill street for a chimney fire. The house is owned by Cheney Brothers. There was no damage.

TO MEET MONDAY ON AUTO SHOW

Committee To Formulate Plans—Hope All Dealers Will Exhibit.

A meeting of the executive committee of the Automotive Division of the Chamber of Commerce will be held Monday morning at 10 o'clock at the Chamber office for the purpose of formulating plans for the proposed Automobile Show. At a recent meeting, the members voted in favor of presenting the show again this year and it is expected that committees will be appointed to handle the necessary arrangements on Monday.

Holding of the show this year will depend on the co-operation of all local dealers and in view of the great success of last year's exhibit, it is expected that the dealers will all participate. More than 5,000 people attended the Golden Opportunity Show last year and dealers reported 21 sales as a result.

This year's new line of models are revolutionary in design and it is believed that the townspeople will desire to see the development made in this field. Many new improvements have been added to nearly every make in the field and a tendency to adopt foreign designs is noticeable. As was the case last year, it is planned to have free admission to the show.

Y. M. C. A. Notes

The card party which was held yesterday afternoon for the benefit of the "Y" was a decided success. The bridge was in charge of Miss Florence Benson assisted by Miss Pauline Burbank and Mrs. Hugh Greer.

Due to an oversight, the omission was made in listing the dinner held here Monday night for the Y. M. C. A. boards in the county that the Park Hill Flower Shop contributed the table decorations. Their contribution was very much appreciated by the Y. M. C. A.

Starting next Tuesday afternoon at 2:00 p. m. Mrs. Ara Sutton Mixer will give the first of a series of cooking demonstrations in the banquet hall of the "Y." Plans are being made to hold a nursery for the children if there are any mothers who would like to come and have their children taken care of during the demonstration.

Junior basketball had four games last night in the Y leagues. The Ox-fords had a fine game with the new boys from Buckland but were able to continue their march in the top notch. They and the North Ends are now tied for first place. The second game between the Mars Fillers and the Cubs showed that the Cubs are making advancement but will have to go a lot yet to be sure that they are able to cope with the older fellows. The Cubs lost to the older boys but in a remarkably well played game. The Falcons kept up their good work of everlastingly trying but were unable to bring down the Wildcats. They have a good time anyway and that is two-thirds of the battle and the real joy in playing. The score was 33 to 12 in favor of the Wildcats.

The North Ends again won from the Tigers so this puts these boys and the Ox-fords in a tie up to date. The North Ends will play the East Side boys tonight at seven o'clock. Joe's team has the floor at nine. Tomorrow night our "A" team is requested to be at the East Side Rec at seven-thirty ready to play the House boys.

Bristol's fast Intermediate team will be here tomorrow night for a game with our boys in the County League.

RED MEN TO RAISE CHIEFS TOMORROW

Officers To Be Seated At Meeting Tomorrow Night—Tramps' Night Saturday.

Miantonomoh Tribe No. 58, Improved Order of Red Men, will observe the raising of chiefs tomorrow night at Tinker hall. District Deputy Louis Kreh of Rockville and his staff will be present to take charge of the ceremonies. The elective officers to be installed are Russell Gustafson, sachem, Louis Genovese, a senior sagamore, Cleveland Ellington as junior sagamore, James Foley as keeper of records, William J. Leggett as keeper of wampum and William C. Scheldge as collector of wampum. Refreshments will be served afterward at the club rooms on Bratnard place.

Saturday night will be tramps' night for Miantonomoh Hayloft No. 58 1/2 and a Dutch supper will be put on by Frank Diana and Michael Steiner. In addition to degree work there will be a visitation of state officers. Visitors are expected here from other Haylofts throughout the state.

4-H DAIRY CLUB HOLDS SESSION, OFFICERS PICKED

Franklin Lipp Heads Group of 16 Youths—Three New Members Are Admitted.

A meeting of the local 4-H Dairy club was held last night at the home of Franklin Lipp, at which three new members were admitted, making the total membership of the club the present time, sixteen. A program for the year was discussed and other routine business transacted, including the election of the following officers:

President, Franklin Lipp; vice president, John McHugh; secretary and treasurer, Richman Hagrenow; executive committee, Albin Stromberg, Edward Matushak and John McHugh. Thomas Hagenow was chosen reporter.

The business was followed by a social period, during which Mrs. Lipp served refreshments. The next meeting is scheduled for January 27 at the home of John McHugh.

RALPH F. KING 24 Moore St. South Manchester ALL KINDS OF AUTOMOBILE REPAIRING Phone 4763 Guaranteed work done on any type of car.

FUEL OIL of the better grade. Burns longer, gives more heat. More for your money. Phone 6800 Russell Pitkin 2 Sterling Place

New MAYTAG WASHER $79.50 Large Porcelain Tub Patented Wringer. Easy Terms. Free Home Demonstrations. KEMP'S, Inc.

BUY Your Norwalk TIRES—TUBES At New Low Prices from James M. Shearer BUICK AGENCY Cor. Middle Turnpike and Main St.

"Send Me Another Ton of That Old Company's Lehigh Coal" That's what the wise spenders are saying right now. It takes no figuring to realize that even-burning, dustless, clinkless Old Company's Lehigh Coal is the best value today. G. E. WILLIS & SON, Inc. Coal, Lumber, Masons' Supplies, Paint. 3 Main Street Tel. 5125 Manchester

COMMUNITY SETBACK RACE TIGHTENING

With but five more games remaining to be played in the Manchester Community Setback League Wapping No. 2 is in the lead, but the Veterans and Lynn Leather teams are close behind them. Each of the three teams have yet to punch and as the season nears close there is a stiff fight assured.

Table with 2 columns: Team Name and Score. Wapping, No. 2: 2,859; Lynn Leather: 2,773; Dalton's Radio: 2,772; Starkweather Street: 2,642; Hose No. 1: 2,626; Community Station: 2,589; Foley's Express: 2,564; Midway's: 2,563; Strong Street: 2,547; Dougherty's Barber: 2,482; K. of P.: 2,478; Railroaders: 2,460; Coughlin's Battery: 2,458; Valvoline: 2,422; Mers Barbers: 2,419; Mintz's: 2,385; Manchester Trust: 2,312.

MUNICIPAL OFFICERS STUDY LAW PROGRAM

Discuss Legislation That May Be Proposed in Coordination With Cities' Needs.

Town Treasurer George H. Wadell attended a meeting of the legislative committee of the League of Municipalities, in the Municipal building, Hartford at 10 o'clock this morning. A legislative program outlined by this committee will be presented to a League meeting which will be called next Thursday. The League of Municipalities is composed of town and city officials throughout the state, which has had under consideration revisions in town and city government ordinances for the more effective operation of municipalities under existing conditions.

TRANSPORTATION DENIED 3 CHAPONIS CHILDREN

Must Walk 1.8 Miles To School State Board Rules—Parents Transport Them In Bad Weather.

The State Board of Education has officially denied the petition of Charles Chaponis of Buckland for transportation for his school children from his home of 527 Burnham street to the Buckland school, a distance of 1.8 miles, according to a letter received today by Superintendent F. A. Verplank from George Sturges, agent for the state board.

The Chaponis family includes three children who attend the Buckland school. They are Annie, 12; Anastasia, 10, and Charles, Jr., 6. It is because of the boy that Mr. Chaponis sought transportation, claiming that especially in bad weather, it was asking too much to make a boy walk almost four miles a day to attend the first grade. Mrs. Chaponis was informed of the board's decision by The Herald this morning. She said that either she or her husband had been driving the children to school in bad weather and would probably continue to do so. The children were driven to school this morning.

In connection with this case it was brought out that many school children within both the 8th and 9th districts walk greater distances than the Chaponis children to go to school.

MOST ILLNESSES HERE AT PRESENT ARE MILD

Just Now Grip Colds and Some Pneumonia Are At Average; Few Contagious Diseases.

During the present unseasonable weather, the town is experiencing a mild epidemic of grip and hard colds with an average number of pneumonia cases. Local physicians have been kept busy night and day, owing to the increase in grip cases. Many of those cases reported, attending physicians state, are more severe than in past years, and are frequently requiring treatment at the outbreak of the attack.

SCOUTS HAVE REC TOMORROW NIGHT

Program Gives Seven Troops Plenty of Competition; Schedule For Swimming.

The first Boy Scouts night to be held at the School Street Recreation Center takes place tomorrow evening with general assembly in the main gymnasium called for 7 o'clock sharp. Director Frank C. Busch has arranged a program which he hopes will give the boys plenty of athletic competition. The program includes sprint relays in which each troop will be represented by its four fastest runners; ping pong with two players from each troop; bowling with two from each troop; volley ball with six boy teams from each troop; and basketball with each troop represented by five players.

GRANGE SEES REBEKAHS DRILL TEAM PERFORM

Sunset Lodge Squad Entertains Manchester Grangers At Their Meeting Last Night.

Seventy-five of the members of Manchester Grange attended the regular meeting last evening in One Fellows hall. Invited guests were Mrs. Emma Dowd, noble grand of Sunset Rebekah Lodge, Mrs. Minnie Krause, vice grand, Mrs. Jessie Wallace, junior past noble grand, and the drill team of Sunset Rebekah lodge.

Mrs. Walter Joyner and Miss Grace Sowter played a piano duet. An original travel story was written and read by Arthur Hutchinson. Miss Ruth Wickham played the violin and Walter Joyner gave a monologue. The grill by the Rebekah team was the one with which they won a prize at the Rebekah and Odd Fellows field day at Charter Oak Park. Sixteen young women dressed in red and white, with Miss Beatrice Dart as captain, went through the different formations in true military style in a 15-minute drill.

Master of the Grange Robert Martin led the procession to the banquet hall where the young men of the Grange served chicken a la king on biscuit, cup cakes and coffee. The Rebekahs were seated at a table decorated in the colors of their order, scarlet and white. The favors were in the Grange colors, pink and green.

SETBACK - DANCE

Friday, Jan. 13, 8:15 P. M. Manchester Green Community Club Cash Prizes—4 $0 cents.

It's Thrifty to Buy at PINEHURST! Steaming Clams Chowder Clams Stewing Oysters 29c pt. Boston Bluefish, Cod, Salmon, Halibut, Mackerel, Butterfish, Fillet of Haddock, Fillet of Sole, Smelts. Del Maiz Cream Style YELLOW CORN 2 cans 25c. Never have you tasted such delicious corn. BUDGET BAKERY SPECIALS Graham Wafers Milk Lunch Crackers Short Bread Cookies 15c lb. 2 lbs. 25c. Vanilla Wafers 17c lb., 2 lbs. 33c.

The Manchester Public Market Fine Flavored Sea Food Fancy Large Smelts 19c lb. Fresh Boston Bluefish to fry or to bake 15c lb., 2 lbs. 25c. Fancy Halibut Steak 29c lb. Fresh Cod to fry or to bake 15c lb., 2 lbs. 25c. Fresh Made Fillet of Sole 29c lb. Fancy Large Mackerel 12 1/2 c lb. Fresh Fillet of Haddock Fresh Fillet of Cod. Fresh Stewing Oysters 25c pt. Fresh large Oysters for frying from H. C. Rowe 35c pt. Round Clams for Chowder 15c qt. AT OUR BAKERY DEPT. Home Made Codfish Cakes 25c dozen Home Made Clam Chowder 25c qt. Home Baked Beans 15c qt. Home Made Potato Salad 15c lb. Delicious Home Made Brownies with nut meats 25c dozen Home Made Snowflakes 10c dozen Home Made Cinnamon Buns, Cpp Cakes, Crumb Buns and Home Made Crullers. Your choice at 19c dozen. Strictly Fresh Large Eggs from Coventry, special 38c dozen. Best Pure Lard in bulk 6c lb. FREE DELIVERY DIAL 5111

Announcing the OPENING of a NEW Firestone TIRE DEPARTMENT Two famous names...synonymous for quality ...now combine to save you money ...and serve you better Firestone TIRES OLD FIELD Each Per Pair 4.50-21 $6.10 $11.90 4.75-19 $6.97 $13.60 5.00-19 $7.39 $14.32 5.00-20 $7.48 $14.54 5.25-18 $8.35 $16.20 5.50-19 $9.40 $18.30 (Other Sizes Priced Accordingly) Firestone Tires Mounted Free of Charge SENTINEL Each Per Pair 4.50-20 $4.49 $8.78 4.50-21 $4.57 $8.94 4.75-19 $5.27 $10.24 Use our convenient budget plan. At HALE'S Tire Department—Babson. The J.W. Hale Company SOUTH MANCHESTER CONN