

JAPANESE ADVANCE; TAKE ANOTHER CITY

Push On Into Jehol—Bombing Planes in Action—Another Force Moving From the North Today.

(By Associated Press) Pushing on into Jehol, Japanese troops are reported to have captured the city of Yungangpao in a brief battle which brought cavalry, infantry and bombing planes into action.

The British ambassador at Tokyo called on the foreign minister there directing attention to threats to British interests in North China as a result of the renewed hostilities, but there was no official statement.

At Geneva Dr. W. W. Yen, head of the Chinese delegation to the League of Nations, denied a report that the Nanking government had appointed a representative to negotiate for a settlement of the Shan-hai-kwan incident.

QUICK VICTORY Chinchow, Manchuria, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Japanese forces were reported today in control of another strategic town in southeast Jehol as they pushed their lines farther into the ancient Chinese province.

Japanese land and air forces attacked Yungangpao, about 150 miles southwest of here, yesterday, and claimed a swift and decisive victory against a large force of Chinese.

Advancing Northward, The Japanese army, which began activities in that section with the day ago, was carrying its advance northward from there along the Jehol-Manchuria border.

Meanwhile Japanese forces in the north and east of Jehol continued movements in the direction of Tungliaso. Freezing weather was hampering activities in that region but the Japanese were bent on anticipating what they described as "winter" plans by the Chinese on railroad centers.

Japanese estimated there were 130,000 Chinese troops in Jehol. About 10,000 got through the passes at Chiumenok, sent north under orders of Marshal Chang Hsiang-shan, before the Japanese, who have a large part of the Chinese force in the province was under Tang Yu-Lin, head of the special Chinese administrative regime in the province.

Stiff Chinese resistance was predicted for a Japanese force advancing toward Jehol, about 100 miles north of the city of Jehol, the provincial capital.

DAUGHTER IS BORN TO KING BORIS III All Bulgaria Rejoices; Mother Is Queen Joanna, Daughter of Italy's King.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Jan. 13.—(AP)—All Bulgaria was celebrating the birth of a princess this morning—the first child of King Boris III and Queen Joanna, daughter of the King and Queen of Italy. The mother and baby were reported in excellent health.

Although Bulgaria's constitution prescribes direct succession by the male line, the little princess was welcomed with a warmth of affection reminiscent of that accorded Queen Joanna when her royal husband brought her here from her home in Italy two years ago.

The event naturally renewed speculation as to the religion in which any children of Boris and Joanna shall be brought up. The law required that the ruler of Bulgaria must be an Orthodox Christian and special permission of the Pope was necessary before Boris married the Italian princess.

In official circles, it was pointed out, no promises to the effect that the child should be brought up as a Catholic were made.

COOLIDGE'S WILL HAS BUT 75 WORDS

Only 23 Used To Leave All of His Estate To His Widow; The Will.

Northampton, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Calvin Coolidge, in leaving all his worldly possessions to his widow, used words sparingly in his will as had been his habit in his everyday conversation in life.

The testament, in Mr. Coolidge's own handwriting on a folded sheet of White House stationery, contains only 75 words and only 23 were used to bequeath "all my estate both real and personal, to my wife, Grace Coolidge."

The will was filed by Ralph W. Hemenway, a former law partner of Mr. Coolidge, in Hampshire Probate Court yesterday. It was dated Dec. 20, 1923.

Hemenway, now is attorney for Mrs. Coolidge. The document will come up for authentication before Judge Henry P. Field, on Feb. 7. Mr. Coolidge first studied, law in the firm of Hammond and Field, of which Judge Field was a partner.

The will read: "I give all my estate, both real and personal to my wife, Grace Coolidge, in fee simple." "Drawn at Washington, District of Columbia this twentieth day of December, A. D. Nineteen Hundred and Twenty Three. (Signed) CALVIN COOLIDGE"

The reference to John Coolidge, only surviving son of the former president, was taken to mean by Mr. Coolidge's friends that he already had in mind a trust fund which he later established for him.

The fund was arranged when John Coolidge, married Florence Trumbull, in 1912.

AMERICAN PAPERS KEPT OUT OF CUBA Rigid Censorship On Because of Attack On Government Made In U. S. Congress.

Havana, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Rigid censorship on all United States newspapers and magazines today prevented appearance of reports of the attack yesterday in the United States Congress on the Havana government.

But this did not prevent news spreading quickly on the resolution charging Cuba has been governed by a dictatorship of fear, force and violence, introduced in Congress by Representative Fish.

Censorship continued on Cuban publications. Persons sympathetic with opposition to the government of President Machado were pleased by the Washington action and in some quarters a connection was seen between the resolution and President-elect Roosevelt's conference this week with Secretary of State Stimson.

Others saw a connection between the resolution and United States Ambassador Guggenheim's unofficial action last week when he asked for guarantees for Angel Alvarez, a student arrested on a charge of terrorism. Alvarez was shot and killed a few hours after the ambassador acted. Police said he was shot when he attempted to escape.

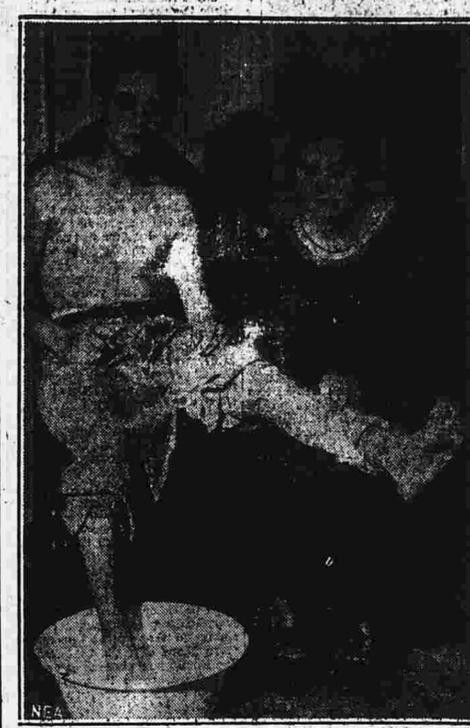

Jobless Man, Lead Nickel And Tragedy Is Result

New York, Jan. 13.—(AP)—All day long he had sought work, this old man, Oscar Winheld. Night came. He was far from home. He lacked subway fare. To a man standing nearby he told his story. The man slipped a coin into his hand.

Oscar Winheld, 65 years old, grooved toward the turnstile. He could not see well. He had lost his glasses. He dropped the coin in the slot and pushed through. A hand fell upon his shoulder.

"What's the idea?" a voice said. Oscar Winheld turned, blinking, to look at the special officer who had addressed him. "I'm afraid I do not understand," the old man said. "Take a look," the officer said, pointing to the cubox. The coin lay in plain view. "I still do not understand," said

NOTHING WRONG FOUND IN GOVERNMENT LOANS

Senate Committee Reports It Has No Criticism To Make of Relief Organization's Conduct.

Washington, Jan. 13.—(AP)—The special committee created by the Senate to investigate loans by the Reconstruction corporation reported today that it had no "criticism" of the relief organization's conduct, but asserted the committee's inquiry had been "limited" because of lack of funds.

The formal report submitted to the Senate today by Chairman Coughens, was signed by all members of the investigating committee. Combing its report to the loans that have not been made public, the committee said:

"From the data at hand your committee is unable to make any criticism. The loans all seem to have been made in accordance with the law, except that we have not been able to determine whether loans were made as required, by Section 5, of the law, namely to aid agriculture, industry and commerce."

"Your committee does not recommend that the loans be made public in view of the fact that when the loans were made the act did not require that they be made public."

"Loans investigated. Among the loans investigated by the committee was the reported $90,000,000 advance to the Dawes bank of Chicago, which was criticized in Congress and during the recent political campaign."

"The report said securities back of the loans had not been examined by the committee because 'with the limited opportunity presented to us...'" the man. "You see, I have lost my glasses. My sight is very poor without them."

"It's a slug," the officer snapped. "A phony. Lead. You'll have to come with me to the police station." Winheld went along willingly enough. He couldn't see the slug. He had hardly been able to make out the features of the man who had given it to him.

At the station he told his story. The desk sergeant was kind enough, but he had to hold Winheld until police could check the story that he was a jobless bricklayer who lived in a rooming house several miles away.

"There was some delay before the story was finally substantiated. An officer went back to Winheld's cell to release him. A man's belt hung over a top bar. It was drawn tight. Because of a lead nickel, Oscar Winheld had killed himself."

FARM BILL NOW UP IN SENATE; HOUSE O. K.'s IT

Committee To Take Up Emergency Measure, Simplify It and Then Try To Rush Its Passage.

Washington, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Support for the Democratic farm bill "if we can simplify it, make it practicable and bring it within the Constitution" was promised today by Chairman McNary (R., Ore.) of the Senate Agriculture committee.

His comment was in an informal statement for newspapermen after the bill had been referred to meet Monday to consider the bill. "I would guess," he said, "that with some simplification of language and description of fair exchange values and the possible inclusion of all agricultural commodities, subject to the jurisdiction of the Department of Agriculture with respect to which amendments the bill shall operate on, the bill would be reported out favorably by the committee."

"I am going to support it if we can simplify it, make it practicable and bring it within the Constitution, because in theory the quickest economic recovery the country could make would be through increasing the purchasing power of agriculture."

McNary said he personally did not think further hearings on the bill were necessary, but this was a question for the committee to determine.

A belief that the allotment bill "can not hope to get out of the agriculture committee without a lot of hearings and new suggestions" was expressed in an interview by Senator Dickinson (R., Iowa).

"It will probably be given a very thorough going over by the committee," he said, "and I think there are enough cross currents to stymie the whole program for this session."

Dickinson added he would not be "anxious" to see the committee report on the bill before the House measure the three-way farm relief bill passed by the Senate last session and later recalled.

That measure provided that the Farm Board might employ what it deemed appropriate, consultation for export debenture plans of helping the farmer.

Many Objections. "There are many objections to the House bill in its present form," said Dickinson.

"The matter is in such a shape that successful operation under the bill would be impossible and to be workable it needs many helpful amendments."

The first thing the Senate did after convening was to receive formally the House farm bill.

The measure then was referred to the agriculture committee. McNary, Senate and House Democratic leaders conferred on the bill.

It was understood the purpose was to form the party's ranks in the Senate in support of the measure. Aiding was Speaker Cannon, Representative Jones of Tennessee; Fletcher, Florida; Wagner, New York, and Barkley, Kentucky.

No statement followed the conference.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—(AP)—A $300,000 damage suit pending against eight naval officers including Captain Charles M. Oman, a native of Pennsylvania just appointed by President Hoover to be surgeon general of the navy, is to be used in the Senate against confirmation of the nomination. Oman now is commandant of the Naval Hospital at Annapolis, Md.

Attorney Francis Scott Key Smith, counsel for Lieutenant Commander Connie E. Wins, commandant of the New York Naval hospital, who is plaintiff in the suit, said today a copy of the action would be given to the Naval affairs committee.

The charges on which damage are sought is that Oman and the others conspired to prevent Wins' selection for promotion. The cause underlying the conspiracy, the suit alleges, is that when Oman, Wins and Captain George F. Freeman, now medical officer at the Portsmouth, N. H., navy yard, were stationed at West Point, N. Y., in 1918, Wins became acquainted with a woman named...

VETO ON PHILIPPINES OVERRIDDEN BY HOUSE

Committee in Senate Lowers 'Kick' in Beer

Washington, Jan. 13.—(AP)—A new proposal, to limit penalties to beverage above 3.05 per cent, following the National Prohibition Act as amended and supplemented shall apply to any of the following, or to any set or failure to act in respect of any of the following containing more than 3.05 per cent of alcohol by weight: beer, ale, porter, wine, similar fermented malt or vinous liquor, or fruit juices."

The subcommittee left untouched the clause of the House bill, taxing beer at $5 a barrel, and it will apply to all the liquors permitted under the bill.

Chairman Blaine, announcing the subcommittee's action, said the new draft would be submitted to the full judiciary committee at its regular meeting next Monday.

Blaine's subcommittee is the one which recently drafted the prohibition repeal resolution now pending before the Senate.

Blaine intends to make an effort to bring that resolution up within the next few days.

SCRAMBLE NOW ON FOR FEDERAL JOBS

New England Democrats in the Next Congress Are Having Their Worries.

Washington, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Even political parties are sometimes sour and the New England Democrats in the next Congress are having many a headache over the problem of patronage.

As Representative William N. Rogers of New Hampshire puts it: "I never realized there were so many postoffices in the little state of New Hampshire."

Each mail brings floods of applications from the faithful Democrats at home who did their bit for the party and now seek their reward.

An amusing sidelight on the scramble for Federal jobs is the deluge of requests received by Republican Congressmen from Democratic back home, asking copies of the official register—the book which lists the important jobs in the service of Uncle Sam.

Among the most coveted posts and posts which must be filled are those of customs collector, internal revenue collector, U. S. Attorney and U. S. Marshal in the various districts, to say nothing of postmasterships and lesser positions.

There's another side of the picture, too—the daily list of Republican appointments accumulating out the Senate files. Postmasters in all sections of New England are being nominated, approved by the White House and sent to the Senate with not the slightest hope of confirmation.

Blame Your Ancestors For 'Unlucky Thirteen'

Ann Arbor, Mich., Jan. 13.—(AP)—If you fear some ill fortune today because it is Friday, the 13th, you can blame the bad arithmetic of your early ancestors, some of whom could not count above three.

Primitive man liked the number 13 because he could parcel 12 objects into groups of three. But 13, what could be done with that? Dr. Eugene S. McCartney, University of Michigan class, who has studied ancient and modern superstitions, believes that the opportunity of 13 undoubtedly began before there were any written records, probably before our early European ancestors migrated out of Asia.

The earliest mention of unlucky 13 in Greek literature dates back to 480 B. C. when Herodotus in the Histories published a bulletin advising against sailing out on the "unlucky" day of the wedding.

By Vote of 274 To 94 House Passes Philippine Independence Bill — Senate Has Yet To Act — President In Veto Said Bill Would Cause "Grave Dangers of Foreign Invasion and War."

Washington, Jan. 13.—(AP)—The House today passed the Philippine independence bill over the veto of President Hoover. The Senate has yet to act, however.

The vote was 274 to 94. A two-thirds majority was necessary. Senate prospects are uncertain, but, in at least some informed administration quarters there is a fear that the Senate will likewise vote against the President's position as recorded in a stinging veto message that had been read to the House but an hour or so before it voted.

Friends of the legislation castigated his contention that the bill would do untold harm to the islands with "grave dangers of foreign invasion and war" either into the reckoning.

The belief in Republican quarters of the House as to the likelihood of the Senate overriding the veto found no counterpart in the ranks of the Senate, who have been following the legislation most closely.

Chairman Bingham (R., Conn.), of the Senate territories committee, and some of the other leaders, were understood to be convinced that the veto could be overridden in the Senate.

WOULD RELINQUISH REYNOLDS FORTUNE

Lobby Holman Asks But a Modest Sum To Support Herself and Child.

Washington, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Alfred Holman, father of Labor Holman Reynolds, is asking today that his daughter be willing to relinquish except for a comparatively modest sum her right to a part of Smith Reynolds' estate.

Mr. Holman, who is at the daughter's temporary home near New York, issued the following statement addressed to the press:

"I to the press of the country: 'Since you feel obligated to print something about $20,000,000 said to be the size of the deceased, Smith Reynolds' (my daughter's late husband) patrimony, you may as well print the following:

"Mrs. Reynolds has offered to relinquish her claim to right to the inheritance as far as she is legally able, and her own share as widow, save a comparatively modest sum in each case, (and these because she is now deprived of her earning power) hoping the remainder may be devoted to public uses through an endowment of some kind."

"It is believed that the others interested will subscribe to such a program. 'It only remains to be suggested that while charity is a poor substitute for justice since there is social injustice in our communal organization, a subscriber cannot but rejoice, as do Mrs. Reynolds' devoted brother that she has availed herself of the great privilege of trying to help her fellow, trapped in a labyrinth of economic disorder, feasible though that help by and large, must be seen to be.

"Feeling, ALFRED HOLMAN, Cincinnati, O. 'Owls Nest Road, Wilmington, Del. 1-13-23."

TREASURY BALANCE Washington, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Treasury receipts for January 11 were $30,038,572.71; expenditures $30,034,903.97; balance $448,857,239.84. Customs duties for 11 days of January were $5,860,836.86.

No Protest. American agriculture would be given "no protection of any kind" during the first two years, and during the following five would have "no effective protection."

The civil authority of the United States in the islands would be brought "to a point of practical impotence," but with the islands still still flying would be "subject to the likelihood of having to employ military measures to maintain order."

With the non-Christian population opposed to the un-Christian practices of the total population, the islands would be "subject to the likelihood of having to employ military measures to maintain order."

"Many persons" says Dr. McCartney, "decant superstitions just for amusement while not actually believing in them. If one were to believe all of them, every day is unlucky."

CLAIM POLICEMEN AIDED KIDNAPERS

Ex-Convict in Group Who Held New Jersey Man Prisoner For Days.

New York, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Five men, including two policemen, were arrested today charged with kidnaping Ernest Schoenig of Pleasantville, N. J., from the Brooklyn Federal building on Dec. 27, and holding him prisoner for 15 days.

The arrests were announced by detectives at the daily lineup at police headquarters.

Schoenig was said to have gone to the Federal building in Brooklyn in connection with a liquor case and the kidnaping was carried out, police said, in broad daylight by the two patrolmen, an ex-convict with a long record, and two other men.

Schoenig was taken by his kidnapers to Manhattan and held there.

Detectives at the lineup were told that the kidnapers demanded $100,000 ransom but when negotiations failed to produce results they released their prisoner.

The patrolmen under arrest are John Nevin and Arthur B. Graft, who have been in the police department five and 11 years, respectively.

The other prisoners described themselves as Frank Miller, clerk living on Riverside Drive, Max Geller, a seaman, and Leonard Gawelczyk, a chauffeur.

Miller is the ex-convict. He has a record of some 20 arrests and has served a term in Sing Sing prison.

CHIEF PROVISIONS OF THE FARM BILL

Washington, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Chief provisions of the emergency farm bill passed by the House and sent to the Senate are:

Establishes minimum prices for wheat, cotton, tobacco, hogs, rice, dairy products and peanuts. Levies a processing tax to make up the difference between this level and actual farm prices, distributing the proceeds to farmers on their percentage of the domestic consumption.

Requires beneficiaries to reduce acreage and production, or, in the case of dairymen, not to increase their output.

Increases tariffs by the amount of the processing taxes. Levies the amount of the cotton tax on silk and rayon.

Provides for administration by the secretary of agriculture and continues for a second year only by presidential proclamation.

SENATE NEWCOMER RISES RAPIDLY IN DEMOCRATIC RANKS

Washington, Jan. 13.—Quietly, and without show, in the short space of a year, a newcomer to the Senate has forged ahead to such a place of prominence among the Democratic leadership "on the hill" that nearly everybody is watching him and speculating.

He is James Francis Byrnes of South Carolina, the short, slender, and very earnest man who sits in the seat formerly occupied by "Coley" Bliss.

While Byrnes is a newcomer to the Senate, he is not new in Congress, for he had served 14 years as a member of the House.

Senator Byrnes' feet were solidly on legislative ground before he began his Senate duties in December, 1931. A place was found for him immediately on the appropriations committee, because he had served on that committee as a member of the House.

Last session during the hectic battle in Congress over salary cuts for Federal employes, Byrnes was out in front carrying the brunt of the fight for the Democrats.

He impressed the Senate, particularly the members of his own party. They came to see him as an expert in effecting compromises on legislation, and recognized his ability to bring warring factions into line.

When the short session began political observers began to note that Byrnes was always around when important bills were being discussed and procedure was being discussed by the Democrats. They noticed that when Joe Robinson, the Democratic leader, gave a conference to newspapermen he was there sitting alongside Robinson.

They heard rumors that when the Democrats held their caucus early in the session, Byrnes sat at the head of the table with Robinson.

They saw Governor Roosevelt's adviser, Professor Moley, seek him out when the President-elect's train stopped here en route to Albany from New York Springs and confer with him for a long time. And they remembered that Byrnes himself had been to Roosevelt's Georgia retreat to confer with the governor.

Whether the Senator is being groomed for a large place in the Democratic scheme of things "on the hill" and the future remains to be seen.

Some are inclined to believe that Robinson may rely on Byrnes "easily" from now on; that while he will remain titular head of the party in the Senate much of the actual work will be shifted to the South Carolinian.

The Republicans have an arrangement like that now. Jim Watson is the floor leader, but Charles McNary of Oregon is the man to whom many turn for the "low-down" on what is going on. Watson leaves the greater part of the detail of procedure to the Oregonian.

Motor Hints

Timely Suggestions on the Care of the Car by the Automobile Club of Hartford.

Lifters May Bind Valves

When a motor behaves as if the valves were sticking, and it is discovered that the valves themselves are clean and free in their guides, there is no reason to abandon the idea that the valves may be involved. Consider the other parts affiliated with valve action.

Perhaps the most likely explanation of the trouble will be found in the valve springs. These parts may have lost some of their tension. One of the valve springs may be broken.

A less common cause of valve misbehavior is found in certain tappet conditions. In one case several valve lifters were found to be binding. They were pushed up by the cam but refused to drop down, thus forcing the valves to hang up. Such a condition can result when certain kinds of anti-freeze get into the crankcase and mix with the oil.

Force Oil Past Rings

Occasionally a motorist learns through experience that he has taken his car too seriously and borrowed a lot of trouble. The classic example is the owner who rebuilds the motor because oil pumped up past the rings. He did not know that the oil worked up because the spark plugs were loose.

Not so frequently, but likely to happen any time, is the sort of situation where an owner has new rings installed because he thinks they are causing the leakage of oil into the cylinders. Before jumping to conclusions it is important to take a look at the breaker tube or the oil filler pipe. It sometimes happens that the breaker tube or the pressure will build up in the crankcase and force oil into the cylinders.

A clogged screen will cause this condition. Remedy it by replacing the screen.

New Ideas About Plugs

Automotive engineers seem to be rather generally agreed that spark plugs cannot accurately be tested by any device that checks them while they are out of the motor. The pressure test for instance, will not show such a condition as results from cracked porcelain.

The pressure test aims to duplicate the situation when the plugs are working in a high compression atmosphere in the motor. If the plugs do not fire during this test, or occasional skip, the usual remedy is to reduce the gap at the points. This gives no hint as to the possible behavior of the plugs under the varying temperature and ignition conditions.

One of the newest developments in plugs is the belief that owners should buy matched sets and not replace one plug at a time. Such sets are synchronized for the more efficient firing of multi-cylinder engines.

Before You Alter Brakes

It does not seem to be generally recognized that the proportion of front to rear braking should be

HOUSE OVERRIDES VETO OF FREE ISLANDS BILL

ing-Oriental countries the Philippines offer large areas of undeveloped resources, and the "pressures of those immense neighbor populations or peaceful infiltration or forcible entry into this area are most potent."

The President pointed out that while the present bill would give the United States an option on controlling its military and naval bases in the islands after the two-year period, it would give no promise of maintaining independence against outside pressure except an offer to attempt "neutrality."

Foreign Engagement

"Other officials are unlikely to become parties to neutralization or to continue, such bases," he added, "and neutralization is a feeble assurance of independence in any event unless we guarantee it. That again is the perpetual engagement of the United States in their affairs."

"But with the Philippines and these ideas in the bill convey it is likely that the Philippine people would vote in two years in the belief that independence is thereby attained and with the more or less general belief that we will indefinitely engage our power against the future welfare in the altruistic mission of preserving their independence from international forces against which they are incapable of defending themselves."

Therefore, before any plebiscite is held we should honestly and plainly declare our intentions. This bill does not do this. In discharge of the moral responsibilities of our country we have no right to force an irrevocable decision of their part to be taken two years hence at a moment in history when the outlook in the world and the surroundings is at best unfavorable to their permanent independence."

The President advocated that steps be taken immediately, however, looking to ultimate freedom. He urged that more powers be given to the President to restrict immigration should there be a gradual reduction of free imports to the United States.

He suggested that there be fixed "a mutual preference in trade-similar and on a wider scale than that with Cuba," and that the United States declare definitely before any plebiscite whether all its military forces would be withdrawn, or under what conditions protection would be continued.

DEBATE BEGINS

Washington, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Debating under a sharp time limitation, the House swept toward a quick decision today upon whether it would override President Hoover's veto of the Philippine independence bill.

Scarcely had the reading clerk finished intoning the presidential veto message before members were tilting verbally over whether the House should sustain the position taken by Mr. Hoover, that the measure was one that would lead to the economic downfall of the islands.

Under the House rules, only an hour of debate was permissible before a roll call begins. A two-thirds vote is necessary to override the objections of the Chief Executive.

A quorum call had summoned the members to the floor and most of them were there to sit in quiet attention while the clerk read the message reciting the provisions of the bill and the objections of President Hoover.

In the message, Mr. Hoover said the measure invited "grave dangers of foreign invasion and was responsibility without authority for maintaining order in a degenerating social and economic situation."

He said there should be no immediate limitation of American power in the islands and that the plebiscite on freedom should be taken 15 or 20 years hence.

Much Comment

The message, which set off the flare of debate in the House, excited an immediate stream of comment. Manuel Roxas, Speaker of the Philippine House of Representatives, said the action of President Hoover was disappointing and that the arguments presented by the Chief Executive had been debated before the bill was passed.

Roxas said all the objections raised in the veto message were proposed by Secretaries Hurley and Stimson and explored exhaustively by both Houses.

"The message apparently was compiled from written and spoken views of the secretaries of the war and state departments," Roxas said after hearing the reading from a seat in the House gallery.

After the necessary formalities had been cleared away, the first call for the House to override the veto was sounded by a Republican—Thurston of Iowa.

"For one-third of a century," Thurston said, "the United States has endeavored to care for the Philippine people. At first, including their tariff advantages, I cost us about $50,000,000 a year."

"But each year for the last 10 years, the Philippine islands have had a $60,000,000 to $80,000,000 favorable trade balance against this country."

"Now in this time of terrific dislocation we should consider these aspects of the situation."

"These islands are 6,000 miles away and under the War'ngton treaty they are not fortified and can not be fortified. Our capital ships are limited by treaty and it is unlikely that we ever will have any considerable portion of our fleet or land forces over there."

"Our people do not care to take a chance on becoming involved in a war on the other side of the globe."

"Calling upon the Congress to nullify your promise to give independence to the Philippines," Representative Dyer, (R., Mo.), said.

"The President of the United States says he should not be induced by selfish interests in giving the islands freedom. When the war came that brought about a control of the islands, President McKinley said we had not taken over the islands in business but to permit them to establish a government."

"I have visited the island and studied the situation and I have found that the only selfish interests are the Americans in the Philippine islands in business and the interests here in this country that control that business."

"They do not want independence in fifteen years. They do not want it ever."

HOSPITALITY FOR THE UNEMPLOYED

Editor, The Herald: While we have many hundreds of our citizens unemployed, during this industrial upheaval that is shaking every corner of the globe, and the winter weather is heavy upon us, probably no town in the country is better equipped per capita with comfortable lodge halls, clubs, parish rooms, recreation and "Y" buildings. These are all comfortably heated and lighted and many are equipped with games and reading rooms, some with gymnasiums and all give opportunities for sociability and friendship and diversion from worries. This economic pressure that is no fault of their own has probably forced many men to resign their membership just when the use of these clubs should be of the most benefit to them. While such tremendous adjustments are being made to get through this depression crisis, are these institutions in Manchester serving people as widely and as nearly to capacity as they can reach?

FUNERALS

Mrs. Mary Gado

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Gado, of 78 School street, was held from the late home this morning at 8:30 and from St. James' church at 9 o'clock. A requiem high mass was celebrated by Rev. William F. Reilly. At the offertory Mrs. John Buckley sang "Ave Maria" and at the elevation Mrs. Margaret Sullivan sang "De Profundis." At the close of the service Mrs. Margaret Sullivan sang "Softly and Tenderly, Jesus is Calling." The funeral was largely attended.

The body was placed in the vault in St. James' cemetery. At the cemetery Peter Borelli, president of the Christopher Columbus society, delivered a eulogy in Italian.

The bearers were Alfonso Pianalata, Joseph Fattali, Christopher Falletti, Primo Anselmi, Charles Reymaender and Samuel Amedo.

Pietro Aloisio

The funeral of Pietro Aloisio was held this morning at 9:30 at Holy-Rose's funeral home and at 10 o'clock at St. James' church. Rev. F. F. Kilien officiated. The bearers were Antonio Innocenti, Angelo Gatti, Giuseppe Antonio, Tommaso Sapiano, Antonio Catalano and Michael Della Fera. Burial was in St. James' cemetery.

AIMEE McPHERSON REPORTED IN COMA

Evangelist Said To Be In a Serious Condition — Had Planned a World Trip.

Los Angeles, Jan. 13.—(AP)—More than two years, Aimee Semple McPherson Hutton, evangelist, was reported today by her physician to be in a coma.

The physician, Dr. L. C. Audrain, described her condition as serious. He declined to discuss the nature of her ailment.

The evangelist was said to be confined to her bed in the parsonage of Angelus Temple, of which she is pastor.

Mrs. Hutton has been reported seriously ill on numerous occasions during the last two years. Her illness began with a nervous breakdown. Later, while on a honeymoon trip to Central America with her husband, David L. Hutton, Jr., she contracted a tropical illness.

Several months ago when her husband lost a breach of promise suit to Myrtle St. Pierre, a nurse, the evangelist fainted when told the news, fell to a concrete floor of her home and, it was reported, suffered a skull fracture.

Two weeks ago Mrs. Hutton announced she would leave on a world tour to visit her missions, with only her mother-in-law as a companion.

At that time she denied there had been any trouble between herself and her husband. Last week she left her parsonage to obtain a passport for the trip.

During services at Angelus Temple on recent nights, aides of the evangelist have made efforts to obtain money to "send Sister (as Mrs. Hutton is known to her followers) away on a vacation tour before it is too late." Temple attaches announced more than $2,000 had been collected.

PROF. PICCARD TALKS WITH PRESIDENT HOOVER

Makes No Comment On Conversation But Explains About Rocket Planes.

Washington, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Professor Auguste Piccard said today that men may fly to other planets in rocket planes in the future but they will not be able to come back.

It would take 2 Otons of explosives to shoot a one-ton rocket plane away from the "pull" of the earth's gravitation and get it well started on its way to another planet, and ten more tons would be needed to act as a braking force when the rocket returned to earth.

Carrying so much weight would be impracticable for rocket planes, he said.

Study of the cosmic rays for which Professor Piccard made his two famous balloon flights into the stratosphere, may help unlock tremendous energy in atoms, however, he explained, and use of this energy might overcome the difficulties of sending rocket planes on "round trips" to other planets.

There is no limit to the heights which rocket planes may reach above the earth, Professor Piccard said, but predicted balloons and airplanes will not rise much further than the ten-mile height he reached last summer, owing to practical difficulties of construction.

Professor Piccard and his brother talked for nearly ten minutes with President Hoover shortly after noon, but neither would comment upon their conference. An aide of the Swiss legation explained that the professor was tired and wished to return to his rooms and rest as quickly as possible.

Sunday—Breakfast—Baked eggs; Melba toast; Stewed figs.
Lunch—Asparagus; String beans; Salad of watercress and lettuce.
Dinner—Broiled Chicken; Baked eggplant; Spinach; Celery and ripe olives; Carrot pudding.

Monday—Breakfast—Broiled bacon; Crisp waffle with maple syrup.
Lunch—Potato soup; Buttered okra; Salad of shredded spinach and cabbage.
Dinner—Boiled fresh beef tongue; Baked squash; Combination salad of cooked carrots and peas; Celery; Pear sauce.

Tuesday—Breakfast—Coddled egg; Toasted shredded wheat biscuit; Stewed raisins.
Lunch—Cooked lettuce; Buttered beets; Salad of grated carrots.
Dinner—Tomato Jelly, served in cubes; Broiled lamb chops; Creamed cucumbers; String beans; ripe olives; Pineapple whp.

Wednesday—Breakfast—Cottage cheese; Baked apple.
Lunch—Buttered Macaroni; Spinach; Salad of head lettuce.
Dinner—Vegetable soup; Roast beef; Tomatoes; Escalloped celery; Salad of grated raw beets; Minced prunes in Gelatin; Whipped cream.

Thursday—Breakfast—Coddled eggs; Whole-wheat muffins; Stewed raisins.
Lunch—Raw Apples as desired with handful of pecans.
Dinner—Mutton chops; Parsnips; Cooked lettuce; String bean salad; Stewed apricots.

Friday—Breakfast—Glass of fruit juice before breakfast; Toasted dry cereals with cream (no sugar).
Lunch—Rice en casserole; Asparagus; Salad of shredded lettuce.
Dinner—Tomato and celery soup; Baked white fish; Spinach; Stuffed tomatoes; Jelly or Jelly-Well.

Saturday—Breakfast—Poached egg on Melba toast; Stewed peaches.
Lunch—Generous dish of junket.
Dinner—Lettuce soup; Sautee steak; Buttered beets; Avocado salad; Apple whp.

LETTUCE SOUP: Shred two medium-sized heads of lettuce and put into a large kettle over a low fire with three or four cups of water. Let simmer for an hour and strain off the liquid, mashing as much as desired of the cooked lettuce through the colander. If liquid does not equal three cupsful, add hot water. Next, add a tablespoonful of chopped parsley and three cups of whole milk. Return to the stove and heat to almost boiling point, seasoning with a little salt. When ready to serve, add a generous sprinkling of chopped parsley and a teaspoonful of whipped cream to each serving. Thin strips of Melba toast may be used if desired.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

(Multiple Sclerosis Arrested by Diet)

Question: Mark J. writes: "I am a world war victim and my trouble has been diagnosed as multiple sclerosis, so I am writing you in hopes that you may be able to suggest a cure or at least something to stop the progressiveness of the disease I have. Since 1927 a lack of co-ordination and improper function of the sensory functions has progressed from my right hand and arms to my left hand and both legs until today I am confined to a wheel chair and have difficulty in using my hands. Blood and spinal fluid tests are negative. What can I do?"

Answer: Multiple sclerosis is a disease in which patches of damaged tissue occur in the brain or spinal chord, apparently from some toxic agent which may be of effective origin. There is a marked weakness in co-ordinating the muscles and sometimes strong jerking movements of the arms and legs. It is not ordinarily considered curable, although the patient may live for a very long time without the disease becoming appreciably worse. I have, however, seen some cases where the fasting and dieting regimen proved beneficial in stopping the progress of the disease and even brought about some improvement. This is probably because of the elimination of toxic elements. I would suggest a citrus fruit or a tomato juice fast for about ten days followed by a balanced diet. This may then be followed by periods of short five-day fasts at intervals of about one month apart. Massage treatments, osteopathic or chiropractic treatments and physiotherapy treatments are also helpful in aiding the circulation.

TWO BANDITS STEAL $50,000 IN JEWELRY

Rob Penthouse Apartment—Kin of Owner Robbed of $300,000 a Year Ago.

New York, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Police headquarters received a report today that Isaac Keller was robbed of $50,000 in jewelry by two men in his penthouse apartment at 40 West 72nd street last night. Keller's wife is the mother of Harry Glemby, wealthy hairgoods manufacturer, whose apartment was robbed of more than $300,000 in jewels a year ago.

The report said the robbers operated in much the same manner as the two who robbed the Glemby apartment.

The men, both well dressed, told employees of the building that they had a small parcel to deliver to Keller. They were taken to the roof and then apparently entered the penthouse apartment with a key.

The robbers surprised Keller in the reception room of the apartment, produced revolvers, confined him in a small room and took eight pieces of jewelry which recently had been taken from a safe deposit vault to be cleaned. Mrs. Keller had planned to wear the jewelry on a trip to Florida.

LABOR LEADERS FIGHT OVER FIVE DAY WEEK

Federation of Labor Calls the Other a Communist and the Trouble Begins.

Washington, Jan. 13.—(AP)—A new altercation before a Senate committee between an alleged Communist and a representative of the American Federation of Labor today brought a request from Senator Black (D., Ala.), for the presence of a sergeant-at-arms at future hearings on his five-day week bill.

W. C. Hushing, legislative agent of the Federation, and Bill Dunn, representing the Trade Union Unity League of New York, were the principals.

Hushing reiterated a statement he made yesterday that Dunn was a Communist representing Soviet Russia, and that his organization was using Senate committees as "sounding boards" to poison the minds of the workers.

When Hushing finished after repeated warnings from Chairman Norris to stick to the subject of the hearing, Dunn jumped up and over the protest of Norris proceeded to enter categorical denials of Hushing's charges.

A similar incident took place yesterday between the two men.

"I request the right to enter a formal denial of these charges," Dunn shouted.

"No, not here," Norris began. "I don't think—"

"I can't help that," Dunn went on. "I've been charged with being a representative of Soviet Russia and as favoring the overthrow of government, which is tantamount to treason."

FOUR ARE KILLED IN TRAIN WRECK

28 Passengers Injured; Trains Collide and Fire Follows—Many Rescues.

Knoxville, Iowa, Jan. 13.—(AP)—The head-on crash of two Burlington gas-electric railroad trains on a wooden bridge near here resulted in deaths to four trainmen and injuries to 28 passengers.

The collision occurred last night and was followed by a fire which destroyed the bridge and left one victim buried in the wreckage.

George MacIntosh of Knoxville was one of the heroes of the wreck. He battered down a baggage room door and led hysterical women to safety after they had attempted to jump through windows into a pool of blazing gasoline.

Cut off by fire, helpless witnesses watched veteran engineer Charles D. Hayes, 65, struggle vainly to free himself from between engine and tender.

Workmen searched for the body of J. L. Warren of Ottumwa, engine driver of the other train. The other dead are H. C. Hallberg of Burlington, Iowa, baggageman, and J. A. Baker, of Ottumwa, conductor.

TWO FIREMEN KILLED

Omaha, Jan. 13.—(AP)—A battalion fire chief and another unidentified fireman were reported lost in a fire that raged through the three-story Browning-King and Company clothing store today, threatening its destruction.

Battalion Chief Homer S. Howes was trapped in the basement of the building and at 9:30 a. m., fire and police officials despaired of rescuing him. Repeated attempts of firemen, equipped with gas masks, to enter the inferno were repulsed.

The fire began about 8 a. m.

30 DAYS IN JAIL FOR LOCAL THEFT

Ringleaders Must Serve Time, Others Suspended; Charges Changed.

With their charges changed from robbery with violence to theft, five Manchester young men escaped possible state's prison sentences yesterday when their cases were presented in criminal superior court session before Judge Newell Jennings at Hartford.

Get Thirty Days

Knute Anderson, 29, of 140 Center street and Joseph Luback, 22, of 32 Cottage street, said to be ringleaders, were sentenced to serve 30 days in jail at the other three, James Metcalf, 30, of 115 Oak street, Albert Henneguin, 32, of 28 Cottage street and Albert Duncan, 24, of 35 Autumn street, were given thirty day sentences, execution of which was suspended.

The Case

The five young men, all of whom are unemployed, were accused of participating in a holdup at the home of Christian D. Wisner who for the past forty years has made his home alone in a three room house on Hillstown road. They went to the Wisner home to purchase cider and the holdup was made with the man's own gun which was lying on a table.

Here Is Full Text of President's Veto

Washington, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Following is the full text of President Hoover's message vetoing the Philippine Independence Bill:

To the House of Representatives: I return, herewith, without my approval, H. R. 7283, entitled "An Act to Enable the People of the Philippine Islands to Adopt a Constitution and Form a Government for the Philippine Islands, and to Provide for the Independence of the Same, and for Other Purposes."

The Philippine people have today as great a substance of ordered liberty and human freedom as any people in the world. They lack the form of separate national life which is indeed a rightful spiritual aspiration. They have been encouraged in this aspiration by every President of the United States during the years of our association with the Philippines and by declarations of the Congress.

It is in securing this spiritual boon to the 13,000,000 people in these islands the United States has a triple responsibility. That is responsibility to the Philippine people, responsibility to the American people, and responsibility to the world at large. The responsibility to the Philippine people is that in finding a method by which we consummate their aspiration we do not project them into economic and social chaos, with the probability of a breakdown in government and its consequent degradation of a rising liberty which has been so carefully nurtured by the United States at the cost of thousands of American lives and hundreds of millions of money. Our responsibility to the American people is that we shall see to it that the Philippine people are not imperiled by our actions in the Philippines. Our responsibility to the world is that we shall see to it that the Philippine people are not imperiled by our actions in the Philippines. Our responsibility to the world is that we shall see to it that the Philippine people are not imperiled by our actions in the Philippines.

Summary of Bill The bill provides for a Constitution of a specified character to be framed by a Philippine convention, for the submission to the Filipino people, and for the incidental determination as to whether or not they desire independence, and after probably about two years, an intermediate government of the Philippine Islands is established, the office of governor general is abolished, and all important civil authority of the United States is transferred to certain cases, certain powers which are vested in a high commissioner. The United States retains also during the approximately 10-year period of intermediate government, the powers of limited control over legislation (by the President) of judicial review in certain cases, of the United States Supreme Court, of supervision of foreign affairs, and of military or immigration. Immigration is regulated and during the same period certain duty-free imports into the United States are curtailed to specified quantities. The intermediate government is to levy export taxes, to increase from an initial charge of 5 per cent in the sixth year of that government to 25 per cent in the tenth year. Complete independence is automatically established in the eleventh year after the inauguration of the intermediate government; and all free trade between the Philippine Islands and the United States is then terminated, unless some other understanding is arrived at by a trade conference. The United States retains, after the establishment of independence, the right to maintain military and naval stations in the Philippine Islands; and the bill calls for an effort on the part of the United States to safeguard the future of the islands by securing international neutralization.

I am returning this bill because I consider that it is subject to the most serious objections. In the statement which follows, I do not enter upon many secondary criticisms, but confine myself to the broader aspects of the subject, which, in any event, must dictate conclusions as to its proper action. Economic Consequences During the period of intermediate government prior to complete independence, not alone the internal and external political relations of the Philippine people must be adjusted, but they must adjust their economic life to the complete abrogation of the present free-trade association with the United States. The period for such adjustment in this act is too short, too violent. These adjustments will not be confined to the period after independence. On the contrary, these reactions will begin much before that, for people do not wait to adjust their affairs until after a known certainty. They discount and prepare in advance. To grasp these implications, we must consider what is proposed at the end of the 10-year period. The free entry of Philippine products into the United States, that is 80 per cent of their foreign market, is to cease at that time, or at least be subject to an indefinite negotiation. Unfortunately for these people their economic life today, and for many years to come, is absolutely dependent upon their favored trade with the United States. Many of their industries can not compete with the lower standards of living and costs of these tropical and subtropical products, except by virtue of their favored entrance to our markets. Lands now employed in these products must be abandoned or otherwise tively all real wages and standards of living and all land values must be reduced to the level of other competing countries. Consequently, capital invested in large industries and the security for mortgages held by their banks, their insurance companies, their other institutions, must be greatly reduced. The economic system of the islands endangered, a flight of capital must ensue, the ability of the people to pay taxes undermined, the government revenues diminished, and its ability to maintain public order will be weakened. The government already has difficulty balancing its budget and this difficulty will be thus intensified. Under these circumstances they must inevitably and soon greatly diminish a large part of their generous support to schools, health, and roads. The American government will be faced after projection of these events with years of military and economic and social life, with all its governmental difficulties.

A large part of the motivation for this passage of this bill is presumed relief to certain American agricultural industries from competition by Philippine products. We are trustees for these people and we must not let our selfish interests project them into economic and social chaos, with the probability of a breakdown in government and its consequent degradation of a rising liberty which has been so carefully nurtured by the United States at the cost of thousands of American lives and hundreds of millions of money. Our responsibility to the American people is that we shall see to it that the Philippine people are not imperiled by our actions in the Philippines. Our responsibility to the world is that we shall see to it that the Philippine people are not imperiled by our actions in the Philippines. Our responsibility to the world is that we shall see to it that the Philippine people are not imperiled by our actions in the Philippines.

Our Responsibility The bill weakens our civil authority during a period of intermediate government to a point of practical impotence. The powers which the high commissioner can exercise on his own initiative are unimportant, and those which can be delegated to him by the President are indirect. During the period, however, the American flag will be flying and our Army will be in occupation. Our government with inadequate civil means for exercising its sovereignty, but with continued moral responsibility to maintain stable government, will be faced, during those years, by the likelihood of having to employ military measures to maintain order in a degenerating and anarchy, or alternatively to expend large sums from our taxpayers in supporting a constantly enfeebled government. Not alone do these difficulties arise from the intermediate situation we create, but the non-Christian population who are as yet bitterly opposed to the controlling group, constituted at the last Philippine census a majority of the combined population of nine provinces, occupying about 40 per cent of the total land area of the Philippine Islands, and the maintenance of order in this considerable element has presented many difficulties to us in the past and it is not reasonable to assume that the intermediate government will be as well qualified to handle the situation as a long time. Moreover, without real civil authority we can have no assurance that the intermediate government may not find itself in difficulties with citizens of other nationalities which may involve the United States. Such an occasion there would be a full impress upon the Filipinos of the consequences of their act instead of its confusion as a side issue to the substitution of another intermediate form of self-government offering no vital improvement in their liberties to that they now possess. They should then have freedom to form their own constitution and government, both in the light of experience and the forces moving at that time.

Government Income The income of the Philippine government has never in the past been sufficient to meet, in addition to other expenditures, the cost of supporting even the Philippine Scouts, much less to an Army or Navy. The United States expends today upon the native and American military forces for the protection and assurance of internal order and for the maintenance of the minimum requirements of external defense an amount amounting to approximately 28 per cent of the entire revenues of the Philippine government. If the naval expenditures of the United States in the Philippine Islands are included, this figure is increased to 38 per cent; and must be remarked that both figures relate to the expenses of the forces actually in the islands and do not include the very pertinent potential protection afforded by the entire military and naval powers of the United States. It can scarcely be expected that the Philippine Islands will be able to increase their revenues by 38 or even 28 per cent to provide the force necessary for maintaining internal order and the minimum external defense, even were no internal economic degeneration anticipated. They could only do so at a sacrifice of a large part of their educational and public improvements. External Dangers The Philippines include, in terms of geographical position, large areas of undeveloped resources. The pressures of these immense neighbor populations for peaceful infiltration or forcible entry into this area are most potent. Many of these races are more devoted to commercial activities than the population of the islands; the infiltration is constant and fraught with friction. Nor is the spirit of imperialism and the exploitation of peoples by other races dispelled from the earth. After the establishment of independence the Philippine people alone will be held to prevent such infiltration or invasion. Their problem is infinitely different from that of Cuba or other nations in the western hemisphere. Moreover, the political dangers of the situation are greatly increased by the present political instability in the Orient. The impact of western ideas upon Oriental systems of culture and government has created a profound ferment among this half of the population of the world, our own future and the future of the Philippine people, in maintenance of peace and the development of our own economic life and trade, are deeply involved.

Today the picture is chaotic. It is impossible to see what the next two decades may bring. It is a certainty that at the end of such a period we shall see more clearly the Philippine people can set more clearly the forces which are formulating. It would be the part of common caution upon their own behalf and their generosity and caution in our own part that final determination as to the nature of our relations should be deferred and that both of us should take this momentous decision after a much longer period than two years. When the Philippine people vote within two years upon a constitution they take the irrevocable step of final independence. By maintenance of our military occupation and our National Guardianship of the United States, must and will give protection against external pressure during the period of intermediate government. The bill makes no effective provision for the maintenance of their independence thereafter from outside pressures, except a promise of effort on our part toward neutralization. We have the option to continue the maintenance of military and naval bases. Other nations are unlikely to become parties to neutralization if we continue such bases and neutralization is a feeble assurance of independence in any event unless we guarantee it. That again is the perpetual engagement of the United States in their affairs. Even with the language of this bill the Philippine people would vote in two years in the belief that independence is thereby attained and with the more or less general belief that we will indefinitely engage our power and our own future welfare in the altruistic mission of preserving their independence from international forces which are incapable of defeating themselves. Therefore, before any plebiscite is held we should honestly and plainly declare our intentions. This bill does not do this. In discharge of the moral responsibilities of our country we have no right to force an irrevocable decision on their part to be taken two years hence at a moment in history when the outlook in the world and of their surroundings is at best unfavorable to their permanent independence.

Conclusions If the American people consider that they have discharged their responsibilities to the Philippine people, have carried out the altruistic mission which we undertook, if we have no further national stake in the islands, if the Philippine people are now prepared for self-government, if they can maintain order and their institutions, if they can now defend their independence, we should say so frankly on both sides. I hold that this is not the case. Informed persons on neither side have made such declarations without reservations. Nor can these conditions be solved by the evasions and proposals of this bill without National dishonor. In my view we must undertake further steps toward the liberation of the Philippine Islands, but they should be based upon a plebiscite to be taken 15 or 20 years hence. On such an occasion there would be a full impress upon the Filipinos of the consequences of their act instead of its confusion as a side issue to the substitution of another intermediate form of self-government offering no vital improvement in their liberties to that they now possess. They should then have freedom to form their own constitution and government, both in the light of experience and the forces moving at that time.

Summary of Bill The bill provides for a Constitution of a specified character to be framed by a Philippine convention, for the submission to the Filipino people, and for the incidental determination as to whether or not they desire independence, and after probably about two years, an intermediate government of the Philippine Islands is established, the office of governor general is abolished, and all important civil authority of the United States is transferred to certain cases, certain powers which are vested in a high commissioner. The United States retains also during the approximately 10-year period of intermediate government, the powers of limited control over legislation (by the President) of judicial review in certain cases, of the United States Supreme Court, of supervision of foreign affairs, and of military or immigration. Immigration is regulated and during the same period certain duty-free imports into the United States are curtailed to specified quantities. The intermediate government is to levy export taxes, to increase from an initial charge of 5 per cent in the sixth year of that government to 25 per cent in the tenth year. Complete independence is automatically established in the eleventh year after the inauguration of the intermediate government; and all free trade between the Philippine Islands and the United States is then terminated, unless some other understanding is arrived at by a trade conference. The United States retains, after the establishment of independence, the right to maintain military and naval stations in the Philippine Islands; and the bill calls for an effort on the part of the United States to safeguard the future of the islands by securing international neutralization.

in the meantime we should develop steadily through an expansion of the organs and a larger importance to their own officials by extension of authority to Cabinet government, with a full reserve of powers to our representatives. Immigration should be restricted at once. We should cooperate with them to bring about their economic independence before the plebiscite by very gradual reduction of their free imports. We should, prior to such plebiscite, or any sooner date, make the Philippine people propose, fix a mutual preference in trade similar to and on a wider scale than that with Cuba. The United States should plainly announce prior to the time of this plebiscite whether (a) it will make absolute and complete withdrawal from all military and naval bases, and from every moral or other commitment to maintain their independence, or (b) the conditions as to authority and rights within the islands under which we will continue that protection.

These final steps can not be properly determined now by either the Philippine people or ourselves. We are here dealing with one of the most precious rights of man—the National independence interpreted as separate nationality. It is the National independence of thirteen million human beings. We have here a specific duty. The ideals under which we undertook this responsibility, our own national instincts and our institutions which we have implanted on these islands, breathe with these desires. It is a goal not to be reached by yielding to selfish interests, to resentments, or to abstractions and all the forces which would destroy the boon we seek to confer and the dangers to our own freedom from entanglements which our successors nor history will discharge us of responsibility for actions which diminish the liberty we seek to confer nor for dangers which we create for ourselves as a consequence of our acts. This legislation puts both our people and the Philippine people not on the road to liberty and safety, which we desire, but on the path leading to new and enlarged dangers to liberty and freedom itself.

Common Colds Origin of Most Pneumonia Comparing the common cold to a detonation cap which is very apt to fire the high explosive known as pneumonia, William C. Welling, director of the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the State Department of Health, declared that more than 1,200 persons died of pneumonia in Connecticut during 1931 and that most of these deaths could have been averted if the original cold had been respected with ordinary care. There are thirty-two recognized types of pneumonia, the statistics of bureau chief stated and all of them may be started by the common cold. Some types are more dangerous than others; for at least one there is a good serum if the ailment is recognized at once and the serum given early in the disease; any of the thirty-two types may result fatally, he said.

The best way to avoid all types of this treacherous disease is to treat a common cold with respect. "Stay at home and rest. Stay in bed. Don't be generous in giving your cold to others. Avoid wet clothing and wet feet. In the first place, wet garments are not comfortable and in the second place they upset the heat regulating mechanism of the body by calling for heat at those portions of the body where a valiant effort is being made to supply warmth and evaporate the wetness." There are three types of colds—detonation caps which if properly cared for will make a "dud" of the high explosive, pneumonia. There is the common cold, which is disagreeable, but less dangerous than the other two; the second type is the grippe cold, more dangerous and more severe; and the third type is the influenza cold, the detonator which most frequently explodes pneumonia. "The mild cold may turn into an influenza cold, so don't neglect any type," is Mr. Welling's advice.

"Y" HEAD TO SOUND WORK PROGRAM KEYNOTE

Dr. John R. Mott To Deliver Theme Address At Convention In Bridgeport Tomorrow.

Dr. John R. Mott, president of the World's Alliance of Young Men's Christian Associations, with headquarters at Geneva, Switzerland, will make the theme address at the Sixty-Sixth Annual Convention of the Connecticut State Y. M. C. A. on Saturday evening, January 14, his topic being "The Christ Program of Life With the Youth of Today." Dr. Mott's address will be delivered at the annual banquet of the convention which commences with a luncheon at the Hotel Stratfield on Saturday noon.

Dr. Mott was formerly general secretary of the National Council of the Y. M. C. A., general secretary of the International Committee, and is now president of the World's Alliance. He was also for more than thirty years Chairman of the World's Student Christian Federation, and has since its founding in Edinburgh in 1910 been chairman of the International Missionary Council.

On two occasions Dr. Mott was offered the ambassadorship to China by President Wilson but he declined on the basis of the larger service he was rendering to young men as the representative of the Y. M. C. A.

Other speakers who will take part in this convention are Professor Henry P. Van Dusen, Dean of Union Theological Seminary of New York, Wilbert B. Smith, formerly secretary of the Y. M. C. A. for Egypt and Palestine, and John Manley of Pittsburgh, general secretary of the National Council of the Y. M. C. A.

More than five hundred men and women representing the twenty-seven associations in the State of Connecticut are expected to be in attendance at the sessions.

ROCKVILLE ELLINGTON YOUTH BEATS STEP-MOTHER

Steals $10 and Starts Out To See the World—Picked Up By Police In Springfield.

Walter Greer of the Connecticut Humane Society, together with Grant Juror Gustave Barr of Ellington, are investigating the case of a fifteen-year-old Ellington boy who tied his stepmother up, beat her, and stole ten dollars from her. This took place on Tuesday night at the family home in Ellington. The woman was able to free herself and she went to neighbor for help and they in turn called in the authorities. A search was made about Ellington during the night. About 6 a. m. Wednesday detectives in Springfield noticed the youth with his dress suitcase and they questioned him. They at once notified the Ellington authorities and a constable went to Springfield for him. The boy claims he wanted to see the world and had taken the ten dollars to aid him in his travels. The boy was picked up in Hartford last year on suspicion and at that time had a revolver on him. The name of the boy is being withheld because of his age.

Funeral of Arthur Dickinson The funeral of Arthur T. Dickinson, faithful sexton of Union Congregational church and superintendent of fire alarms for many years, was held on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with about four hundred people in attendance. The city officials, entire department, several police officers and members of various fraternal organizations were among the attendants.

Rev. George S. Brookes, pastor of Union church spoke most feelingly, paying splendid tribute to the beloved man, whom everyone here knew as Arthur "Dick". He told of the happy hours spent with the deceased during the past six years and the splendid character of the man. There were many beautiful floral pieces.

During the service Mrs. A. C. Waite, contralto soloist, sang "Rock of Ages" and "In the Sweet By and By." The members of the fire department and police, led as escorts to Grove Hill cemetery where the body was laid at rest.

Auto Accident Chauncey Bixby, 55, operator of a gasoline station opposite E. J. Fair Grounds, was struck by an automobile truck near the station on Wednesday night while he was walking along the highway. The truck was driven by George H. Brown, 64, of 124 Burnside avenue, Hartford. Dr. Francis Burke was called and attended the injured man at the Rockville City hospital. He had numerous abrasions and bruises on the head and face, and will be at the hospital for several days. An investigation is being made by the local police.

R. F. D. State Convention Here The annual state convention of the Rural Letter Carriers will be held in Rockville, Wednesday, Feb. 22. It is expected there will be about 50 members here on that day. This is the first time that such a convention has been held in this city and much interest being taken by the postal workers. Edward H. Backhaus, an R. F. D. carrier, is president of the organization. There will be a dinner program, with a banquet, speakers and other features. Prominent men from about the state will be among the speakers.

PRESIDENT'S SCHOOL TO BE CONTINUED

State To Take Over School Established By Mr. Hoover Near His Summit Camp.

Washington, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Established as an important center of community life, the school which President Hoover built in the Virginia mountains three years ago will continue to bring the light of "boon lands" to Dark Hollow. The President included the tract on which the school now stands in his Rapidan camp gift to the Commonwealth of Virginia for eventual inclusion in the promised Shenandoah National park. The plan is for the school to continue under state supervision as it has while being maintained by Mr. Hoover. Lawrence Richey, one of his secretaries disclosing the fact today, said also that Christine Vest, the specially trained teacher who has taught the young mountaineers an amazing amount in the three years, probably will stay on the job.

So questioned had been the life of the Blue Ridge mountaineers before the President came to camp here, they scarcely knew the world beyond the general area of Criglers. The twenty children, ranging in age from six to 14 who came as pupils the first day had to start at the beginning.

TOLLAND Mrs. Marion A. Baker who has been ill with an attack of grip is now able to be around again. Mrs. Samuel Simpson was taken ill in Hartford last week is still unable to be brought home but at this writing is much improved and is expected home in a few days. Mr. and Mrs. L. Ernest Hall called on relatives in East Hartford and South Manchester Wednesday. L. Elden Jewett is confined to his home with an attack of grip. Dr. Metcalf of Rockville has been his physician.

Charles C. Talcott returned from several weeks as guest of relatives in Oradell, N. J., and friends in Montclair, N. J. Mr. and Mrs. Simeon Lührsen who have been ill are now able to be about again. Mrs. Martha Waldo who has spent the summer at her home in Skunkaugum has gone to Willington to remain for the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Spicer. Mrs. Charles Bude was a recent guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Edwards of South Willington. Word has been received from Rev. and Mrs. James A. Deason that they are pleasantly situated at Lakeland, Fla. They arrived there last week. Mrs. Dorothy Overman Walker of New York City spent a few days in town this week and called on several of her friends, returning to her home Wednesday. The Ladies Aid Society of the Federated church will see their regular monthly supper this evening. Miss Lucile Agard, Mrs. William L. Ayers and Mrs. George Billings are the supper committee.

Nearly 400 different types of cheeses are now produced in the United States.

Notes John Kuhnly is able to be out again after his recent illness. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Chapin of Manchester attended the funeral of Arthur T. Dickinson of this city on Thursday. Mrs. Alice Medlicott of Union street is ill at her home.

STORM WARNING Washington, Jan. 13.—(AP)—The Weather Bureau today issued the following storm warning: Advisory 10:30 a. m.—Northeast storm warnings ordered Atlantic City to Cape Hatteras, and small craft warnings south of Hatteras to Savannah. Disturbance central over Florida moving northeastward. Before criticizing Mrs. James J. Walker, wife of the former New York mayor, for extravagance in buying $274 worth of shoes in one day, perhaps one should reflect that she had two pairs of mules retined for $12—no inconsiderable saving, since new mules cost $35 a pair.

TWO OVERTIME PERIODS GIVE GUARDS EDGE AT PITTSFIELD

Like Out 40-38 Triumph After Game Is Tied At 34-All, Then 36-All; Trail 14 Points At Half But Rally In Third Period; Holland Leads Attack.

With the score deadlocked at 34-all at the end of the regular playing time, two overtime periods brought the National Guards a two-point victory over the Pittsfield Eagles at Pittsfield, Mass., last night in one of the most exciting games ever played in that section of the Bay State. Both teams scored a lone basket in the first overtime and in the second the Guards held their opponents to a twin pointer and scored twice. The final score was 40-38.

The game went along in much the same manner that characterized the Guards' battle against the Meriden Knights here Wednesday night. The Eagles started like a whirlwind to lead the Guards 12 to 3 at the end of the first period and 26 to 12 at halftime. Then came the Guards rally in the third period, a spurt that netted the locals six points, while Pittsfield accounted for only six to have their lead cut down to four points, 32-28.

In the final quarter, the Guards sank three baskets to tie the score, the tying basket being made by Ty Holland, who ended the game as high scorer although he did not make a single point in his first half. In the first overtime, McNorton put the Eagles ahead but Holland again came through to tie the count.

In the second overtime, Holland and Mattson got a basket apiece and Bruno added one to the Eagles total to give the Guards their second close victory this week. With two games under their belts, the Guards travel to Waterbury tomorrow night to meet the Brooklyn C. in what looks like the stiffest encounter of all three.

Both teams scored an equal number of field goals, 17 each, but the Guards made good on six out of 11 tries from the free throw line while the Eagles made four out of ten.

Holland and Davis were outstanding for the Guards and McNorton and Bruno featured for the Eagles. It was the Guards' third successive win since their defeat by the Knights of Lithuania and the 11th victory in fourteen starts.

TO FIGHT AGAINST DOPING SWIMMERS

College Coach Says That Japanese Were Given Stimulant At Olympics.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Jan. 13.—(AP)—Matt Mann, coach of University of Michigan's national college swimming team, today announced a "war against doping" of amateur swimmers, such as he said, "was done by the Japanese in the 1928 Olympic games."

Mann said it is established that "oxygen or some stimulant" was given to Japanese swimmers within ten minutes of the time they entered the water for finals of the races at Los Angeles last summer.

Robert Kipphut of Yale, coach of the United States Olympic swimming team, and Coach Mann are of the opinion that the National Collegiate Athletic Association swimming committee to report on alleged "doping" at the Committee's next meeting March 24, and 25 at New Haven, Conn.

Mann said swimming coaches already have ruled against administering oxygen to swimmers. "To forestall the danger of the practice spreading in this country," a similar rule will be sought in the N. C. A. A. he said.

University of Michigan medical men said administering oxygen just before a race would not produce greater speed "except possibly by the effects on the minds of the athletes," that any physical effect "would last only for a breath or two, if at all."

Dr. Louis H. Newburgh, professor of Clinical Investigation in Internal Medicine, said administering oxygen "would do no good and might harm the athlete."

Coach Mann said giving oxygen "or any dope" should be prevented, because it is unethical, regardless of harmful effects.

SQUASH TOURNAMENT

Boston, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Play in the Massachusetts women's squash racquets championship tournament at the Harvard Club has been on the cut-and-dried order for the first four seeded players have qualified for today's semi-final matches.

Mrs. William F. Howe, Jr., the top-seeded national titleist, was booked to clash with Eleanor Sears and Mrs. George W. Wightman had Helen Morton in her path to the final round.

Joe Corbett, pitcher on the famed old time Baltimore Orioles and a brother of James J. Corbett, former heavyweight boxing champion, is employed by an oil company in San Francisco.

NET NOTABLES GO SOUTH THIS MONTH

Tennis Stars Crowd Heels of Golfers As Tourneys Draw Near.

Miami, Fla., Jan. 13.—Summer sports of the north are the winter sports of the south, so we find the tennis stars of the nation crowding the heels of the golfers who have been cashing in on winter tournaments.

The first big tennis tournament to draw the big names to the south is the Miami Biltmore all-outh championship, singles and doubles, to be staged here Jan. 23-29.

Among the boys who will take their cuts at the ball will be George Lott, Gregory Mangin, Clifford Sutter, Berkeley Bell and Marco Rainville, in addition to numerous stars of the south.

Lott, Chicago court flash of a couple of years back, is a well-known Davis cup player. Mangin, former college player from Georgetown, who holds the national indoor title, is expected to play abroad this year, is figured to be a hard fellow to beat in the singles. Sutter is former national intercollegiate titleholder.

Berkeley Bell, the young Texan, has been in the top ten of tennis for the last few seasons, and Rainville is one of the best players Canada has turned out, having taken part in the Canadian Davis cup matches.

Other well-known names to take part in this tournament will be Carroll Turner and Gus Fuer, winner and runner-up in the Florida state championship match last year; Jarvis Adams, national veterans' doubles winner with Henry Bassford, and Searles Barnett, middle western veterans' champion.

After the Miami tournament, it is expected that the racquetsters will tour the south and far west following the trail of the golf carnival.

Local Sport Chatter

Games scheduled in the Junior Basketball League at the West Side Waterbury tomorrow afternoon are as follows: 2 o'clock, Orioles vs. East Sides; 3 o'clock, West Side Buddies vs. Gus Hicks Jrs.; 4 o'clock, Herald Newboys vs. Collegians. This will be the start of the second round.

This department is informed that Manager Ben Clune did not precipitate the melee at the Rec Five-St. Mary's game Tuesday night, but, on the other hand, sought to avert a free-for-all. Having always believed Mr. Clune to be a gentleman as well as a capable manager, we are happy to present this viewpoint on the matter in question.

The All-Burnsides will attempt to end a two-game losing streak against the Knights of Lithuania at St. Mary's hall tonight. The Burnside are handicapped by the serious illness of their star center, Mert Ballard and Nichols has been shifted to the jump position.

The Meriden Knights, defeated by the National Guards here Wednesday, lost another close decision to the Kevin Barry at Hartford last night by the score of 41 to 36. Earl Bissell again played an important part in the Kevin Barry victory.

Basketball fans are reminded that reservations for the bus trip to Waterbury tomorrow night for the game between the National Guards and the Brooklyn A. C. must be made not later than tonight. Call William Anderson or Jimmy Neill.

De Molay Losses

The local DeMolay five lost a dingdong game to the Hascos of Hartford in the preliminary to the Guards-Meriden Knights game Wednesday night. The score was 36-35, the local team leading 23 to 20 at halftime. Walt Snow and Captain Davis started for the Guards and Levy and Austin were best for the Hascos.

ROWING CLASSIC ELIMINATED BY THE DEPRESSION

Poughkeepsie Regatta Has Been Wiped Off the 1933 Sports Calendar—Finances the Reason.

New York, Jan. 13.—The depression has erased the Poughkeepsie regatta, college rowing's classic competition from the 1933 sports picture. Confronted by dwindling receipts from other sports and unbalanced athletic budgets, stewards of the Intercollegiate Rowing Association have decided that the regatta, an annual fixture since 1895, with the exception of the war years of 1917-18-19, should be abandoned this year.

Beaten in his fight to have the regatta held as usual this year, Maxwell Stevenson, of Columbia, chairman of the board of stewards, did swing representatives of Navy, Cornell, Syracuse and Penn into an agreement to resume the championship, without qualification, in 1934.

Was Forecast

Abandonment of the regatta was forecast several weeks ago and became a virtual certainty when Cornell, on Tuesday, cancelled all her winter and spring sports schedules except basketball. Syracuse took similar action last night. Columbia, Navy and Penn all are expected to maintain crews schedules although on a smaller, less expensive scale.

All of the schools annually invited to compete with members of the regatta at Poughkeepsie previously had indicated economic conditions would prevent their participation this year. In this group was California, varsity winner last year.

There was some suggestion that the cost of the regatta might be covered by alumni or other outside sources, but the stewards finally decided any attempt to raise athletic funds at a time when so much human distress exists, would be bad policy.

North Ends Win Sixth Straight

The North Ends won their sixth straight game by defeating the Tigers at the West Wednesday night by a score of 25 to 15. The North Ends were leading throughout the game. The Tigers were held scoreless in the first quarter but came to life in the second period. Both teams displayed some good footwork and the passing attack was good also. Rykowski, North Ends center hit six strikes and scored six field goals. Hines and Comber also played well for the North Ends. Moriarty's floorwork was exceptionally good and was a close second to Comber in scoring.

MANGRUM STILL LEADS AGUA CALIENTE OPEN

Agua Caliente, Jan. 13.—(AP)—The youngsters who take their chances for birdies in disdain of par, continued to lead the field in the Agua Caliente 72 hole, $7,500 open golf tournament today. Roy Mangrum, 22 year old sharpshooter of Waco, Texas, stood alone today in first place. His par 72 yesterday on top of the dazzling 69 Wednesday increased his lead to two strokes with a 141.

Paul Runyon, White Plains, N. Y., moved along in second place with a 143. Archie Hambrick, young Zanesville, Ohio pro was third with 144. The nearest veterans to the trio of youngsters were Leo Diegel, Craig Wood, and Tony Manouré each 146.

WRESTLING

Newark, N. J.—Bruno Gorasino, Italy, threw George Vassell, Greece.

Camden, N. J.—Stanley Pinto, Ravenna, Neb., threw Wong Bok Cheung, Chicago.

JEBY IS FAVORED

New York, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Ben Jesty, New York, and Frankie Battaglia, Canada, meet in a 15-round bout in Madison Square Garden tonight for the state recognition as lightweight champion. Jesty, although knocked out in one round by Battaglia a few months ago, rules a 7 to 5 favorite. The betting fraternity figures Ben was the victim of a lucky punch.

TILDEN RANKS PRO

New York, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Big Bill Tilden ranks Martin La of France as the number one professional tennis player of the world. Big Bill ranks himself as No. 2, Hans Suselein of Germany, No. 3, and Karl Kowalek, Czechoslovakia, No. 4.

Florida Attracts Nine Big League Clubs for Training

Tampa, Fla., Jan. 13.—Eyes of the baseball world are turned to Florida as the annual spring training season for big league players approaches.

This spring will find nine of the 16 major league clubs, including the world's champion New York Yankees, in this state—most of them on the west coast within 100 miles of Tampa.

The baseball invasion of Florida begins in January and by March 1 it is expected that 350 players will be working daily to get the kinks out of their muscles in preparation for the long pennant races of the summer.

Of the National League clubs, the Cincinnati Reds will train at Tampa; the St. Louis Cardinals at Bradenton; the Boston Braves at St. Petersburg; the Philadelphia Phillies at Winter Haven; and the Brooklyn Dodgers at Miami, Brooklyn.

Four American League clubs will be in Florida, with the New York Yankees at St. Petersburg; the Philadelphia Athletics at Fort Myers; the St. Louis Browns at West Palm Beach and the Boston Red Sox at Sarasota. The Red Sox are at Sarasota, Fla., last spring.

These nine clubs will play more than 80 exhibition games during their stay in the south between March 7 and April 1. Residents of Florida and winter visitors in the state will have an opportunity of getting an inside line on the big league pennant races and of seeing the stars they have read about.

Babe Ruth always is among the early arrivals and usually devotes a month to playing golf at St. Petersburg before the training grind begins. It also is at St. Petersburg where the Boston and Col. John Ruppert, the Yankee owner, hold their dramatic salary confab.

HOUSATONIC LEGION DEFEATS REC FIVE BY SCORE OF 40 35

Campion Leads Local Attack With 18 Points; Small Playing Surface Proves Handicap In Hard Fought But Clean Game.

New York, Jan. 13.—This may be the year when Law Fonseca foils somebody.

During his first year as manager of the wobbling White Sox, the old Portuguese first baseman won for himself a lot of laughs his trades, some criticism for his ideas and a dignified rebuke from "Gray Will Harridge following that memorable battle with Umpire George Moriarty at Cleveland.

Fonseca, however, has kept right on fighting—trying to lift a hapless ball club into the first division, and having no ball players to help him.

Miss Fonseca, you may remember, is the same person the Phils sent to Newark in 1926 as a bit of cracked-up baseball ivory—and who came back three years later to lead the American League in batting.

This year not only some fight may be expected from Fonseca, but some ball playing by his club. Now he has the playing and without players Joe McCarthy, Connie Mack or any other big shot of baseball can go nowhere in nothing flat.

One of the important facts about the White Sox this year, is that Mister Fonseca is going to do something for himself. At 33 he still ought to be able to hit ten times his age. He hit .369 for the Indians in 1929, and he hasn't gone very far back, despite his year sitting down.

Another bit of interesting data is that Fonseca is going to provide a lot of entertainment for the South Siders.

As the team shapes up now, Simmons, Haas and fast little Evar Swanson, who was rescued from Columbus, will patrol the outfield. Leading from left to right the infield will be Dykes, Hal, Egan, Hayes or Appling and Fonseca. The catcher is Grube. And on opening day when Ted Lyons wheels for the first pitch, the Sox won't look so bad.

The club could use another capable pitcher, but the Sox right now isn't so needy. Besides Lyons, the Sox have three fingers whose average runs are under four per game. These are the veteran Red Faber, Ed Durham, obtained from Boston, and Mill Gaston. Sad Sam Jones is right back in the lineup, too, and, though Sam will be 41 before the season ends, he still can win games from the tough clubs.

Of the new flock of pitchers, two stand out as most likely to be of help. One is Clarence Fieber, from Lew Home town, Oskosh, Wis., a 30-year-old pitcher who was able to win eight games for Oakland last year after being farmed. The other is Joe Heving, who made a remarkable comeback at Indianapolis after being released by the Giants.

There are some uncertain quantities on the Sox roster, and the chief of these is Red Kress, At St. Louis the redhead earned the reputation of being one of the best infielders in the league and had the appearance of being assigned to hit more or less regular in the lineup. He slumped into a dead year after being traded to the White Sox. The rejuvenating influence of having such ball players around him as Simmons, Haas and Dykes may restore Kress to his erstwhile grace and power.

Another factor of this sort is T. J. Alfelder, Lulu's plugging. Such judges of ivory as Joe McCarthy have gone on record as being willing to trade something besides old shoes for him. Appling, too, has impressed steadily since being assigned to a more or less regular job with the Sox. He must be written down as a young man with a very good chance.

Willie Ritchie, former world's heavyweight boxing champion, will referee tonight in San Francisco and referee rights on the side.

M. H. S. FACES WEST HARTFORD IN IMPORTANT TILT TONIGHT

Charlotte, N. C., Jan. 13.—(AP)—Mrs. H. J. Dunsavant, the only woman in the world to build and operate an 18-hole golf course, literally has followed a fairway to fame in her career.

Less than three years ago, widowed, she found herself with a 200-acre farm, crossed by a stream without a single building in any part of repair.

Today she is sole owner and proprietor of the only public championship golf course within 70 miles of this city, a beautiful, rolling layout of verdant greens, thick woods and smooth fairways.

She is financially independent, has never operated in the "red," a day since the course was thrown open to an impatient public in September of 1931. From her clubhouse, a rambling log structure put together by day labor from material at hand, she sends forth as many as 200 golfers a day.

"I was pretty well discouraged," she recalled, as she sat in front of the big stone fireplace during a good roasting ear of corn.

"It happened about a championship golf course in their community—somewhere in Texas, I believe.

"Call it inspiration if you like, but it flashed over me right then that I might convert my seemingly worthless farm into such a course.

"I saw the arid fields, the endless rubbish, the washes as deep as a house, and it looked pretty hopeless. But I looked again and saw a rolling hillside, a beautiful creek bed and a background of towering hills. I made up my mind."

The first thing Mrs. Dunsavant did was send for Donald J. Ross, a renowned golf architect. He came, saw and marvelled. It was, he said, a natural layout, except that it was just a little too arid.

The next day Mrs. Dunsavant bought an adjoining 20 acres from a startled neighbor. He questioned her sanity, perhaps, but he took her money before she could change her mind.

From there on it was just hard work, a job that may be appreciated only by one who has built a golf course. The land had to be cleared, an enormous task, and everything that possibly could be of use salvaged. Although scrap iron was found to be wrought into all the hardware needed.

A well was dug, plumbing installed, the creek dammed to form a lake and 12,500 feet of pipe laid to supply water for the greens and fairways. A mile of road was dug to connect the clubhouse and highway. Countless tons of fertilizer were worked into the poor land.

Keeps 15 persons busy

Exactly a year after Mrs. Dunsavant launched her adventure, the 6,228-yard course was opened to the public. Its 18 beautiful greens, designed by Ross, in perfect condition and the fairways coated with grass. Mrs. Dunsavant's only son left college to help her get the enterprise under way, and has not gone back.

Today, in addition to him, the Carolina Golf Club regularly employs a caddy, a golf professional, greenskeeper, caddy master, eight helpers and a maid, with Mrs. Dunsavant ever vigilant to see that her course is conducted efficiently.

Though she is not a golfer herself, Mrs. Dunsavant is keenly aware to her job. She recently engaged Walter Hagen and Joe Kirkwood, noted professionals, for an exhibition match over the course, and social interest has been stimulated by a series of "Ladies' Days," when a professional in contract bridge gave free lessons in the clubhouse.

PREDICTS INCREASE IN AMATEUR SPORTS

Enforced Leisure Has Brought Great Need For Athletics, Says Ferris.

New York, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Amateur sports, and particularly those over which the Amateur Athletic Union has jurisdiction, are expected to increase in more extensive participation during the current year.

Enforced leisure time, brought about through part time employment and unemployment means the Amateur Athletic Union and collateral organizations must accede to their efforts to provide leisure programs for the countless thousands who suddenly find themselves with many more hours of leisure time on their hands.

This already large group will be augmented from time to time by the high school graduates who cannot find employment, and cannot find employment. Most of these young men are athletic-minded, but if they are not encouraged along proper lines and furnished with athletic competitions which serve as safety valves on their surplus energies many will drift to the dangerous places of crime and delinquency.

Such sports as track and field, swimming, boxing, handball and wrestling probably are the most inexpensive sports to engage in. They are within reach of each state in a fine opportunity for each state in a fine opportunity to do something for these young men.

If every state would order all of its national guard units to throw open their armories on at least one night a week for informal athletic activities and on another night provide a sport program including contests in all of the sports for which they have facilities, then the major problem of finding suitable places for recreational and athletic activities during the winter months would be solved.

Outdoors, similar activities can be carried on in all parks and municipal playgrounds with the existence of city recreation commissions, municipal park boards and similar agencies.

DEFENSES TIGHT TONIGHT

Chicago, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Tommy Paul, Buffalo, will pitch his work in the featherweight championship tonight against the Chicago champion tonight against a southpaw, Freddie Miller of Cincinnati, and the old "Friday the 13th" superstitious.

Notwithstanding the assumed punch that Friday, the 1934 is supposed to be a lucky year for Miller. He is a six-foot-five, 170-pounder, and in the national boxing association, the best he has ever done.

Red and White Must Win Game At Local Armory To Remain In League Race; Team Has Practiced Hard and Reversal of Form Is Expected.

With a week of extensive practice behind them, Manchester High's basketball team will remain in the League race and the Clarkmen have been practicing hard in an effort to show a reversal of the form which brought defeat at East Hartford last week. On comparative records Manchester is favored to win, West Siders to remain in the League race and the Clarkmen have been practicing hard in an effort to show a reversal of the form which brought defeat at East Hartford last week.

Coach Clarke expects to start Sendorward and Johnston at forwards, Garrone at center and Mahoney and Captain Neill at guards. West Hartford will have Holcomb, center; and Brown and Haystack at guards. The preliminary game between the second team will start at 7:30 o'clock with the main attraction at 8:30 o'clock. Dancing will follow.

Basketball Problems

By NAT HOLMAN

Star Player, Coach and Author of "Winning Basketball"

Question—What is the best method of breaking up the center tap when you are being constantly out-jumped?

Answer—At the beginning of the game I would have both forwards drive in hard and high off the ground to break up side-tap balls.

One guard should be assigned to break up the back taps by cutting back behind the center as soon as the ball goes up. This will necessarily equal a switch between forward and guard.

The alternative solution to the problem is to have two forwards and two guards plant themselves at four strategic points on the court. In what is commonly known as the "unbalanced formation." One man is in front and another directly in back of the center, a third player at his left and a fourth at his right.

The player stationed behind the center is there to break up possible back-taps, while the one in front must be ready to intercept direct taps. The men on the sides move in whichever direction the ball is tapped.

If you opponents use a big forward to receive a fast side-tap, you must counteract the maneuver by placing your biggest man on that side of the court to compete for the ball.

GOVERNMENT COSTS CAUSE TAXES RISE

Taxpayers Told Municipal Expenses Drive Up Individual's Burden.

High taxes were attributed largely to unnecessarily high government expenses by James L. McGuire, president of the City Property Owners' Protective League of Hartford, in an address at a meeting of the taxpayers league of Manchester held in the high school assembly hall last night. Close to 300 persons were present. John C. Owers of Manchester and J. A. Beauregard of Springfield were other speakers on the evening's program.

Seek Assembly Aid

McGuire said a big part of the cost of government operation is not necessary and told of a plan which he had proposed and discussed with officials of large cities that will send delegations to a state gathering where the proposition can be prepared for a presentation to Legislature. He said that in 1912 the cost of management for each person was an item that needed attention and that it has become a racketeer business.

In 1912 for every $100 of tax money collected in Hartford, $25 was spent for government operation. In 1928 it increased to $34.50 and in 1932 it was $71.78. If this continues, McGuire said, the whole revenue will go towards government expenses and there will be nothing left for improving roads which Hartford has about cut out completely. McGuire proposes to have men who were interested in the tax question meet in a conference which is to be held in Hartford soon. If taxes are not to leave any one in danger of losing their homes through foreclosures.

Other Cities' Experiences

McGuire has visited such cities as Springfield, New Britain, Waterbury, Bridgeport and New Haven for information on the tax problem in each one of these places. He asked that Manchester taxpayers take like action and send delegates to the conference to present relief plans to the Legislature.

John C. Owers, representing the Railroad Employees and Taxpayers' Association, addressed the meeting on the railroads vs. buses problem. His talk, in part follows:

The Man Who Pays

"The last Bi-ennial Report of the Tax Commissioner of the State of Connecticut shows that the present per capita taxes in the State of Connecticut amounts to the sum of $95.20 annually.

"In other terms, this means that the cost of the Government of the Citizens of this State in 1930, amounted to $47.00 per family per annum. In 1932 the per capita State Tax had increased $5.00 over 1930, making a total tax of at least $50.00 per family per year. This is probably the highest amount per capita of taxation which has ever been assessed in the history of our State and it is a graphic indication of the present trend in Government expense.

How Split Up

"The Commissioner also states that of the total taxes collected in this State 53 per cent is used for Federal and State expenses, leaving 47 per cent for local Government. Because the major part of our taxes are being used by the State and Federal Government of which perhaps we have less intimate information, I propose in the time which is allotted to me very briefly to discuss certain items which stand out as of particular interest.

"In the fiscal year which has just ended the expenses of our State Government amounted to just under $42,000,000, whereas, in the year 1924 the expenses were slightly over $24,000,000, indicating an increase in the State Government expenses in the eight years of $18,000,000. In his inaugural address the Governor spoke of the need of securing additional funds and of broadening the base of taxation because certain forms of taxes were falling to yield the income which had been obtained in more prosperous times, it has become necessary to find additional sources of tax income, and as you will recall the State is now investigating the questions of old age pensions, unemployment insurance, and relief in other forms, costs of which will unquestionably increase the burden of State Government and must ultimately come out of the ordinary tax payer.

"In the year which has just ended one-third of the total expenses of the State were used for highway construction and maintenance—$14,071,000. We have in this State 2,385 miles of State or State aided highways, the cost of which at the present time must be upwards of $137,000,000. It is because of this tremendous outlay for highway construction that our present gasoline taxes have been assessed and last year yielded $4,882,000 as compared with less than $1,000,000 assessed in the year 1924, and also because the tax on the registration fees are maintained at a higher level than prevails in other States.

Not Enough Revenue

"The important fact, however, is that motor vehicle fees and gasoline taxes, high as they are, do not meet the annual cost of the highway work, consequently, it is necessary to secure additional funds from other sources to carry out the present construction program. The deficiency necessarily comes from general taxation and in the last year the State assessed a charge of $1,668,000 on the Towns as a general and military tax. It is, therefore, within reason to assume that if no other forms of additional taxation are found the present session of the Legislature will find it necessary to increase the assessment on Towns to 2 or 2 1/4 million dollars, which will come back upon each home owner and business man with a particularly unpleasant effect in these times when the tax burden is almost intolerable.

"It is with a view of avoiding anything of this kind or perhaps the imposition of a general income tax, such as exists in New York and Massachusetts, that we are bringing to the front the question of assessing an equitable tax on motor vehicles to correspond with the tax which is already assessed on motor coaches, Street Railways, Telephone and Telegraph Companies and Steam Railroads. That this proposal is no more than fair is demonstrated by the fact that so far as we are concerned every form of public service or even private industry doing business in the State of Connecticut is required to pay a proportion of their gross or net income to the State for the privilege of doing business or using the State highways and other facilities. The Street Railroads pay to the State Treasury 3 per cent of their gross receipts for the privilege they have of operating on and alongside of our highways.

"The Telephone Company pays 4 per cent of its net income amounting to $700,000 per year for the privilege of doing its business and having its poles alongside the public roads; Water Companies, Gas Companies, Express Companies, Electric Companies, all pay a fair proportion of their gross income to the State Treasury and the motor coaches carrying passengers over our highways also pay 3 per cent of their gross receipts to the State Treasury in addition to registration and gasoline taxes for the privilege of operating on the public roads. Just why it is that the concerns doing business as freight carriers are permitted to go free of tax is not clear, especially when it is considered that on account of the tremendous weight and high speeds of modern motor trucks it has become necessary to practically double the strength and very much increase the width of our highways to accommodate them and avoid the tremendous amount of damage which is done by their heavy loads on roads which would carry satisfactorily all the ordinary business of the private automobile owners.

Road Construction

"It is now necessary to construct highways of at least eight inches of surface depth to withstand the tremendous strain of carrying these heavy and often overloaded trucks and it is estimated that the State has spent upwards of $23,000,000 in highway construction for this additional strength which would not have been required if it had not been for the heavy motor trucks operating over them which broke down the service and badly damaged the ordinary type of roads. Not only has the State to undertake this enormous additional expense but by reason of the transportation of freight over our highways without taxation, the State has lost enormous sums of money, which would have been paid into the treasury if the freight had been transported over the Steam Railroads which pay a tax of 1-2 per cent of their gross income.

"At this time it is proposed again to improve the Connecticut River to stimulate traffic and presumably for the purpose of decreasing the cost of transportation. While at first sight this appears to be the result that it is only because the barge operators do not pay for the necessary improvements to make the rivers navigable.

"If, therefore, the Connecticut River improvements are made it may be expected that we shall have to pay in taxes as much to maintain the river as the shippers pay for their freight charges and in addition, our State Government will lose 3-1/2 per cent of the freight charges, which would go to the Treasury if the shipments were handled on the Railroad.

"In all early history it has been a fundamental principle in our State Government that Transportation Agencies should be self supporting. The first public systems of transportation which consisted of canals to pay for taxes on a toll basis and when the Railroads came they were required to build and maintain their own tracks and facilities, and in addition to pay generously for the privilege of doing business in the State. The Street Railways were organized in the same manner and subsequently all other forms of public service. The present tendency on the part of our State Government as well as the Federal Government to subsidize transportation on the highways or in the air or by water is a reversal of this old established policy and we believe it to be unjust and discriminatory to the taxpaying public and to the taxpaying corporations.

"We, therefore, feel justified in submitting the proposition that the use of the taxpayers' money for the purpose of providing free use of the highways for these large freight trucking carriers and at the same time diverting large sums of money from the public Treasury is particularly injurious to the farmers, home owners and industrial manufacturers of our State and is something that cries aloud for immediate remedy." January 11, 1933.

When bills payable were read during the business session it developed that the League was charged $5 for use of the High School hall. This is a new charge and it was stated that a charge would be made for all school buildings unless used by Parent-Teacher associations or the Educational club or like organizations raising funds for school purposes.

There was some objection raised but when it was explained that this was being done by the Board of Education in an effort to keep school costs down the bill was paid. It was announced that regular meetings of the League would not be continued. Rather meetings will be called through advertising notices placed in The Herald.

DON'T LET COMMON CONSTIPATION DULL THE JOY OF LIVING

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Brings Relief

Constipation takes the sunshine out of your days. It may bring headaches, loss of appetite and energy, sleeplessness, sallow skins, pimples. If neglected, it can seriously impair health.

Fortunately, you can avoid this condition by eating a delicious cereal. Laboratory tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides two things needed to overcome common constipation: "bulk" and vitamin B. ALL-BRAN is also a rich source of blood-building iron.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of leafy vegetables. Within the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently, it clears out the intestinal wastes.

How much better than dosing yourself with patent medicines. Two tablespoonfuls of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. With each meal in chronic cases. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

ROOSEVELT HOLDS NUMEROUS PARLEYS

Unemployment Relief and Other Domestic Problems Are Discussed Today.

New York, Jan. 13.—(AP)—A whirl of conferences today brought the unemployment relief problem and other domestic and international issues before President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Mayor James Curley, of Boston, always a staunch Roosevelt supporter and mentioned as a possible Cabinet member, called up the unemployment question in an attack on the "dole system in America."

Curley demanded a reduction in public welfare expenditures and jobs instead of "dole" for the unemployed.

Mr. Roosevelt turned to foreign affairs again with a conference with Senator Swanson, of Virginia, a member of the American arms delegation and the next chairman of the foreign relations committee. Senator Hull, of Tennessee, tariff expert, also was on the calling list.

The President-elect interrupted his long string of conferences to drop in at a birthday party for Louis Howe, his secretary, at the Biltmore Hotel at noon.

Needs Quick Action

Mayor Curley said that "Mr. Roosevelt recognizes that we have got to move pretty quickly" but he said no commitment was made by him.

"We discussed ways of ending the dole system in America and the whole unemployment problem in general," said Curley. "Our expenditures in Boston in 1932 for public welfare and social relief amounted to $12,500,000 with a population of 780,000. On the same ratio it is estimated that the total expenditures in the United States were about $2,000,000,000 for the unemployed. The largest sum ever spent by Great Britain in one year for the dole was never in excess of $200,000,000.

"We have got to get back to sound economic principles—job and wages. I think we could well study the tantom system for the unemployed and new reclamation work."

Mr. Roosevelt also called in today Harvey D. Gibson, chairman of the emergency unemployment relief committee in New York, for a brief conference.

LATEST STOCKS

SPANISH WAR VETERANS AND AUXILIARY INSTALL

New York, Jan. 13.—(AP)—The Stock Market today idly tested-tottered through a dull session in which prices generally ranged either fractionally below or above their previous closing quotations.

Considerable attention was paid passage by the House of Representatives of the Farm allotment bill, but here, as in many other matters of financial interest, judgment was largely withheld. The farm bill still faces the test of Senate action and, if passed there, the decision of the President. In view of this necessary delay before enactment can be made, there was no great rush on the part of Wall street to jump at conclusions. Farm equipment shares were fairly steady, while gold mining stocks, which theoretically would lose much of their present charm if commodity prices should advance, were lower.

Homestake broke 4 points, a performance which was at variance with the small fluctuations of stocks as a whole. Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit lost a point. Major fractions were surrendered by Allied Chemical, Chrysler, Consolidated Gas, Drug, Loew's, National Dairy, Lackawanna and Santa Fe. U. S. Steel, American Telephone and Union Pacific were slightly lower. Case dipped a fraction while Harbinger gained as much. The tobacco were firm, shares of the "Big Three" gaining as much as a point. Eastman and Columbia Carbon were fractionally higher.

Some long pull buying of motor shares was reported on the assumption that stronger units in the industry, with production costs out substantially below a year ago, might make a moderate profit even on reduced volume of business. Short covering also helped the tobacco shares, apparently induced by the recent favorable earnings statement of Reynolds Tobacco. Copper stocks were neglected, trade advice reporting some easing in foreign metal prices to 5-10 cents a pound while domestic business was light at the 5 cent level.

Dun's review found indications that business "is offering more resistance to adverse influences than was the case a year ago." "Bradstreet's Weekly" said the customary barometers were somewhat opaque because of holiday interferences, but noted that merchandising tactics were becoming more aggressive.

The 1933 aim, it explained, is to make prospective customers "obsolescence conscious" and it cited the automobile industry as an example. The industry, it explained, is seeking in its drive to sell new cars to "make owners more conscious of a new possession and by the same token their appearance will at once improve upon the older models the strong taint of obsolescence."

Thirty Guests From Out of Town Here For Ceremony—Preceded By Turkey Dinner.

Ward Cheney Camp, United Spanish War Veterans, and Mary Bushnell Cheney auxiliary held a joint installation at the State Armory last evening, with a large turnout of members and 30 guests from Hartford and Meriden, representing state officers and those of Burdette camp and auxiliary of Hartford and Charles Bowen camp and auxiliary of Meriden.

Department Commander Edward Hall installed the officers for the camp, with Alexander Berggren as the new commander. The officers of the auxiliary were seated by Department President Mary Mullen, the new president being Mrs. Julia L'Heureux. The visitors who were called on for remarks, responded with compliments for the local camp and commander solicited the officers of the auxiliary were seated by Department President Mary Mullen, the new president being Mrs. Julia L'Heureux. The joint ceremony was preceded by a banquet in the mess hall which was enjoyed by more than 100. A turkey dinner with all the fixings was prepared by Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence and assisted by Mrs. Joseph Behrend and other comrades and sisters. The table decorations were in red and yellow.

The retiring auxiliary president, Mrs. Edward Waterman, was presented with a past president's jewel and a $10 gold piece. The department president, Mrs. Mullen, received a gold piece for her services as installing officer. Mrs. Waterman presented gifts to Secretary Warren and Treasurer Johnson. The latter also won the embroidered table scarf and pillow top donated by Mrs. Waterman. The auxiliary will meet Wednesday evening of next week and the camp on January 26.

BRITISH-AMERICANS TO DINE TOMORROW

Annual Club Banquet To Be Held At Masonic Temple Starting At 6 P. M.

The 11th annual banquet of the British-American club will be held in the Masonic Temple tomorrow night starting at six o'clock. An attendance of 250 is expected. The banquet being given by the club to its members and their wives or lady friends and everything possible has been done to assure those who attend a royal time. N children will be in attendance.

The members and their guests will assemble in the main lodge room of the Temple not later than six o'clock and will march to the banquet hall where the first course of a splendid turkey dinner will be served at 6:30. Chef Urban Oseano will serve the dinner. The menu will consist of fruit cocktail, roast turkey, mashed potatoes, brown gravy, green peas, mashed turnips, celery, olives, tomatoes, pickles, rolls, butter, ginger bread and whipped cream and coffee. Cigars and cigarettes will be on the table for the men and ice cream will be served during the dancing intermission later in the evening.

Dancing will be enjoyed by music by Bill Munsie's orchestra and Griswold Chappell will prompt for the old fashion numbers that will be interspersed with the modern dancing. The banquet will be followed by an entertainment program. Tea acts will be presented some of them contributed by members of the British-American club, who possess considerable talent.

The committees in charge of the banquet and entertainment are as follows: James McCullough, general chairman; David Robinson, Joshua Fleming, banquet; David Torrance, Robert H. Corbin, entertainment; Arthur Holmes, Fred Baker, publicity; Ellis W. Calli, Thomas H. K. McFall, decorations; William Brennan, Harry Flavell, dance; Joshua Fleming, Wells W. Calli, Fred Baker and David Robinson, reception.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

MAY CANCEL PROM AT H. S. THIS YEAR

At Least Will Be Changed In Form According To Latest Plans At School.

Two assemblies were held yesterday afternoon at the high school. In the absence of Dwight E. Perry, Principal Quimby was the speaker at the Freshman assembly. Incidentally, in a later assembly, Mr. Perry will speak to students about his transcontinental trips.

"The Last of the Long Hunters" was the subject upon which Mr. Quimby spoke. It included a story of the exploits of Corporal Alvin C. York, the famous "one-man army" of the World War. He quoted Corporal York's famous credo: "If you might just as well be a wild hog, grubbing acorns on the mountain side."

At the assembly for the upper classes Mr. Quimby discussed several topics of interest to the school. He opened up the matter of school expenses, and showed that many schools were retrenching on their programs even to the point of cutting down athletics as, for example, Cornell University.

The annual Carnival and the Senior's trip to Washington were abandoned at M. H. S. last year, and now it is proposed that the formal Junior Prom shall either be changed in type or dispensed with for this year. Everywhere possible, activities which would cause expenditures or extra money have been curtailed. Mr. Quimby proposed that if the students were willing to have a "Depression Prom," he would withdraw his objection.

He stated that the policy of the school would be to avoid the added expense of buying or renting formal evening clothes for this occasion. He asked the students to bring notes from home indicating the parents wished the formal dance continued or, in the event that the formal dance is held, a note from all students who plan to attend promising that they will contract no additional expenses for formal attire. This means that the formal dress held that students must wear the clothes they have or such clothes that they would be using for other occasions and not plan an expensive purchase of formal clothes. It is thought that enough students will want to keep the custom and therefore agree to the compromise. Otherwise it is evident that there will be no Junior Prom in 1933.

Sketching Class

A new club has been organized at the high school, the members include students who are especially interested in the art of drawing "from life." Miss Harriet D. Dondan, art supervisor, has given the studio over to this class for the first two afternoon periods on Thursday. Two models were invited to pose, one for each period. Word was sent to graduates of the inauguration of this class and judging by the number who appeared, they are interested and eager to attend. Among those who came to the sketching class yesterday were: Miss Grace Hasset and Miss Esther Wells, graduates of the Hartford Art School, and Miss Ruth Stavnitsky and L. as Evelyn West, graduates from the high school in 1932.

Short, five-minute poses which are done in pencil on large sheets of paper occupy the major part of the time. Yesterday, several students attempted to group their figures, touch them up with crayon or water color, and use them for posters advertising "Little Women," a play to be given here in town in the near future.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN Washington

ANOTHER REORGANIZATION PLAN GOES UP IN SMOKE

Hoover's Proposal Is Doomed Because It Finched Too Many Tosses and Offered No Certainty of Cutting Down Expenses.

Washington. — Another ambitious program for government reorganization has gone blooey. Its failure may be traced to the usual reasons—and a few new ones.

President Hoover proposed the plan in December. It annulled or regrouped the bureau or other Federal agencies, many of them inconsequential. Opposition grew steadily as the plan was studied, until at length Chairman John J. Cochran of the House expenditures committee decided.

"Nobody appears to favor the consolidations as outlined." So Cochran introduced a resolution certain to pass, to disapprove the Hoover program, which without disapproval would have taken effect in 60 days after presentation. "Neither you nor I know whether the effect of this action is good or bad, for the many intricacies, merits and demerits in any such large scale plan are too much for one person to assimilate and assay."

It's easy to explain why the program fails. Here are the general reasons paralleling those which have killed ambitious reorganization schemes in the past:

1. The major changes each inspired a certain amount of opposition while the numerous minor shifts were those about which nobody cares.
2. The program succumbed beneath the combined pressure of all elements opposed to individual items. A half dozen congressmen protesting a single reallocation might get nowhere, but when nearly a dozen are found yelling at one phase or another a reorganization measure dies.
3. Government employees scurried to members of Congress, fearing for their jobs, for the future status or for the best interests and efficiency of their own bureau.

Cabinet members, whose early departure from office gave them no inspiration to oppose such rejiggering—as they usually do—or to support the President vigorously, took little part in the lobbying. But men and women who have spent their lives thus far in certain Federal agencies—and hope to spend the rest of them there—were quick on the job.

There were also these reasons, which helped doom the Hoover program:

1. Important folks connected with the administration either opposed it or saw no reason why it shouldn't die. Col. J. Clawson Roop, director of the budget, said he thought reorganization should be left to the next administration.
2. Congress is looking for quick, painless possibilities of economy. Mr. Hoover couldn't estimate what, if any, economies his plan would provide. Opponents even asserted it would increase government costs along with its other disadvantages.
3. The Roosevelt administration is imminent. Democratic House leaders preferred to let their administration receive any credit that may be forthcoming from successful reorganization and didn't care to do any wholesale rejiggering which would take effect during the confusing period that attends a change of party control and administration.

President-elect Roosevelt is expected to evolve a reorganization plan, for which his scouts here are now gathering facts and information. It is said that he seeks blanket authority and expects an overwhelmingly Democratic Congress to give him all the power he wants. Past experience and the tendency of Congress to reserve its powers to itself cloud his chances of success, but a drastic reorganization program tied up with a genuine economy program probably could be popularized.

committee, no further examination could have been made."

"No funds having been provided," it said, "an examination of the records of the corporation was not made nor the securities checked. To have done this would have required a substantial staff to not only check the records of the corporation, but to have gone to the 14 Federal Reserve banks to make an examination of the securities, the same having been deposited in those Federal Reserve banks for convenience."

"If the Senate desires to direct that a more exhaustive examination be made," the committee added, "it should do so after discussion as to the extent of the task, the expense which would be involved and the benefits which would be derived from that work."

CHURCH REPORTS GOOD DESPITE A POOR YEAR

Second Congregationalists Find Themselves Financially Healthy—Officers Elected.

Encouraging reports were given by officers and committee at the annual meeting of the Second Congregational church last night despite the fact that the year 1932 was without doubt the most difficult in the history of the church as far as raising funds for expenses was concerned. A. F. Howes was moderator of the meeting.

The report of the clerk, Mrs. W. J. Taylor, indicated a considerable increase in membership, and that of the treasurer, George F. Borst, showed that the business committee of which John Wolcott was chairman, had economized so that the finances at the beginning of the year 1933 were in a healthy condition. The report of the pastor, Rev. F. C. Allen gave a brief, inspirational talk, and J. M. Preston, administrator of the estate of the late Mrs. Sarah E. Slater, long a devoted worshipper at this church, announced that a portion of the interest on the legacy of three twelfths of a sum left in trust for the church and yet to be computed would shortly be available for church expenses. Frank V. Williams moved that the meeting accept this bequest with thanks.

Chairman Wolcott of the business committee submitted the budget for 1933 and considerable discussion followed. The report of the nominating committee, A. F. Howes, chairman, was unanimously accepted and the following officers and committees declared elected, following which the Women's League served refreshments:

Officers, Mrs. William J. Taylor; Treasurer, George F. Borst; Deacon, L. J. Tuttle; Business Committee, L. J. Tuttle, John W. Cott, Herbert L. Tenney; Religious Education Committee, Mrs. C. H. ## Health and Diet Advice

By Dr. Frank Meloy

PREJUDICE IS A RESULT OF LIMITED INVESTIGATION

When studying history we are often impressed with the fact that during any era the prevailing customs of that time appeared to be quite natural to the people growing up in those surroundings. This knowledge brings to our attention the fact that we are apt to be tolerant of the things with which we are familiar and prejudiced against the things with which we have but little acquaintance. Though human beings have in many respects advanced far beyond the uncultured days of the cave and tree dwellers, we still have far to go before we will be able to view facts in their true light without looking either through the rose-colored glasses of favoritism or the smoked glasses of prejudice.

An original thinker is seldom understood in his day although his ideas lead the way for those who follow. There is a great deal of a tendency today to allow our teachers, companions and authors to think for us; consequently, we are apt to regard some things as good and others as bad without seriously considering the facts of the case. The art of suggestion plays an important part in our daily mental processes. On every hand, from billboards, magazines, newspapers, the radio and even in our public schools we are constantly beset with suggestions of various kinds to induce us to think or act in certain ways.

Often these suggestions are beneficial but sometimes they are made with selfish motives and that is the reason why we should use our critical faculties to judge for ourselves. We are so trained to believe that some things are good and others bad that it is one of the hardest things to realize that the things we have thought bad may be good to others or under other conditions and that possibly, if we had a better understanding of them, they would seem to us good and true.

Health and Diet Advice

Every prejudice that you hold is a little devil inside of you which will not make you less willing to learn new truths but will actually slowly and surely undermine your health by creating poisons in your system as a result of emotions stirred up by intolerance. The one whose viewpoint is obscured by ten prejudices has ten times as much poison generated in his system as the one who harbors only one.

The only way to overcome the prejudice is to have a better understanding of the things upon which one has made a hasty judgment. One of the first steps is to recognize the fact that any one person cannot possibly know everything about every subject and the reason something seems wholly bad because one's knowledge of that subject is limited. The mental scientist who criticizes the surgeon has had but little experience in the operating room. The surgeon, who promiscuously removes tonsils, would surely not do so if he had the experience of the dietician who knows that enlarged tonsils can be cured by diet. The old-fashioned doctor who gives drugs and tonics for those who are suffering from a defective diet would, change his opinion of what is good and bad in medicine if he studied some of the newer discoveries regarding vitamins, mineral elements, and food combinations.

Whenever you find yourself stubbornly prejudiced on any one subject, look into it a little bit and you may find out that you have not discovered all of the truth about it. The truth is always very simple, but one of the main difficulties seems to be in brushing aside the past conceptions and ideas and boldly investigating the things which are not yet understood.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

(Whole Wheat to Alleviate Hunger)

Question: M. W. I. writes: "A part of my duty is to help solve unemployment food problems. For many years I have been familiar with your work and am now looking for menus that will give variety to a wheat diet as the chief basis of food for those fed by the public. I intend to give the poor a chance for wheat at absolute cost. About what proportion of a diet should whole wheat be? I shall deem it a favor to the hungry if you will give me some variations and suggested additions to the proposed wheat relief diet."

Answer: In order to supply enough protein from wheat for one day it would be necessary to use at least fourteen ounces of the dry grain per person. Wheat is decidedly acid forming and it is a wise policy to include some of the non-starchy vegetables in the diet to balance this defect. I would suggest that vegetable soups be used in addition to the basic wheat dishes. I think your idea of using wheat to satisfy the hunger is an excellent plan. Some time ago while lecturing, I suggested that the unemployed use regular house to house cans, vases selling the entire wheat and at least five methods of preparing it. Few people know that the entire unground grain makes a delicious dish if soaked overnight and boiled until the kernel breaks down. It can be served with canned cream and stewed fruit quite economically.

GASOLINE STATION WRECKED BY BLAST

Four through a populous area a few blocks north of the "cross roads of the world"—the Times Square theatrical section. The casualty list:

Glenn Cogood, 27, of Hempstead, L. I., father of two children, killed when the wreckage of the station burned him in an oiling pit. Patrolman William Butler, seriously injured when he ran to investigate a preliminary blast.

N. E. Hawley, a passerby, less seriously hurt. A fourth man, known only as "Red," was listed as missing. Like Cogood, he was an attendant at the gas station.

The blast, which shook tall apartment houses nearby as well as the John Golden theater, occurred at 58th street and Seventh avenue at 12:06 a. m. It was attributed to a seepage of vapors from a tank to an office where a coal stove ignited. Hundreds of persons, frightened, ran to the street. Extra police quickly sped to the spot, for an explosion in this crowded section always is a potential source of panic. For hours afterward, a special corps of street sweepers was busy cleaning up from the streets shattered glass from tall apartment houses and stores.

ROOSEVELT'S RULE TO BE INFORMAL Society To Get Jolts When New Tenants Occupy White House.

New York, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Staid old Washington is due for some surprises from the Roosevelt rule—political and socially. The complete informality which surrounds almost all the activities of the President-elect already is bringing gasps from some of the callers here from official life. In this same spirit Mr. Roosevelt is looking over the field of Cabinet material and here again some jolts appear due for the political prognosticators. He told newspapermen last night no offers had been extended on the Cabinet portfolios and none probably would be for some time, at least, until next month. Meanwhile on the second floor of the white stone front home on East 65th street, the President-elect is listening to endless lines of callers and studying National problems. A hearty laugh echoes down stairs from the open room above in which an artist sits painting the Roosevelt portrait through all conferences. But this occasional laughter is about all that gets to the outside world from these men. Mr. Roosevelt is making no commitments. Tonight Mr. Roosevelt motors to Hyde Park for the week-end. He will confer there Sunday night with William G. McAadoo, Senator-elect from California.

Overnight A. P. News

Newton, Mass.—Edward Collins, 6, ill from grip, is carried from a third floor apartment after fire had broken out in the floor below. Patrolman Allen J. Foley is the rescuer. Boston—Kenneth S. Farnham, former brokerage house clerk, is sentenced to 12 years in state prison. He pleaded guilty to forgery, uttering and carrying of forged checks. Newburyport, Mass.—Miss Anne Withington, 65, long prominently identified in the woman's suffrage movement, dies. Hanover, N. H.—The U. S. Eastern Amateur Ski Association School for Club Instructors in session despite a scarcity of snow. Newport, R. I.—Arthur Brown, 10, is accidentally shot and seriously wounded by his brother, Stanley, 15, as the elder youth displays a home-made pistol. South Hadley, Mass.—Mrs. Clara E. Lang, 89, a witness of the great Chicago fire in 1871, dies. She was born at Deerfield, N. H. Amherst, Mass.—A study by Dr. David Jozman, of Massachusetts State College, reveals that more of the 1893 tax dollar was spent on education than on any other individual purpose. Montpelier, Vt.—James Brown, state commissioner of fish and game, says he favors abolition of the bounty on bobcats because of recent "rackets" disclosed by the payments.

HEBRON

Fifteen members were present at the annual meeting of the Congregational Ladies' Aid Society at the Christian Endeavor rooms Wednesday afternoon. The meeting was in charge of the president, Mrs. Alphonse Wright. Officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Miss Anne Clark; vice-president, Miss Victoria Hilding; secretary, Miss Edna Latham; treasurer, Mrs. Edward A. Smith; board of directors, Mrs. Albert W. Hilding, Mrs. Della Porter Hills, Mrs. Joseph Griffing, Mrs. Elizabeth Ives, Mrs. Robert F. Porter, Mrs. Harry Wood, Miss Edna Latham, Mrs. Albert W. Hilding, Mrs. Roberts F. Porter, Miss Anne Clark. Quite a number of local bridge players attended the luncheon bridge given Wednesday at the house of Mrs. N. N. Hill in East Hampton. There were three tables from Hebron. Proceeds were for Colonel Henry Chapter, D. A. R. None of the Hebron players succeeded in carrying off any of the prizes, but Miss Marion Gott came close to it with a score of over 1800. The Ukrainian chorus of Colchester will present a unique program next Sunday evening, at the Lebanon, Congregational church, to which local Christian Endeavor Societies and all interested are invited. It will open at 7:30, and will be under the charge of the Rev. H. H. Thompkins. A number of residents of Colchester and adjacent neighborhoods have been preparing this program. All the participants are of Ukrainian parentage. The program consists of Ukrainian folk music and religious songs and will be given in the native Ukrainian style. Those who take part will wear the Ukrainian costume. This service is one of a series of monthly meetings sponsored by the Lebanon Congregational and Baptist churches and the Goshen and Franklin churches.

A DANGEROUS GAME

Evansville, Ind.—From now on Paul Griffin, 11, and Douglas Dale, 11, will confine their games to the back yard. While playing railroad the boys threw a switch causing a passenger train to crash into box cars on a siding. Paul Griffin, whose father is a brakeman, said that he had found the key to the switch at home. The boys were put on probation by Judge Williams, because, he said, they were too young to realize the seriousness of the act.

GILEAD

Nils Ackerman died at the Manchester Memorial hospital Wednesday night. Mr. Ackerman and his brother purchased the Saglio farm near the Glastonbury line about two years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hutchinson, Miss Evelyn Hutchinson, Mrs. E. E. Foote and Mrs. A. C. Foote attended a Grange meeting in Vernon last Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Albert Masterton, Miss Dorothea Masterton and Albert Green of Lincoln street, Middletown were visitors at Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Foote's Sunday evening. Mrs. Alfred H. Post, Mrs. Edward E. Foote, Mrs. Clarence J. Fogli and Mrs. Arnold C. Foote attended a bridge luncheon at the home of Mrs. N. N. Hill in East Hampton Wednesday. It was the January meeting of the Colonel Henry Chapter, D. A. R. of Colchester.

The Ladies Aid society will meet next week Wednesday with Mrs. Robert E. Foote. Mrs. Lovina Hutchinson and Mrs. J. Banks Jones will assist the hostess in serving. Mr. and Mrs. Myron Post of East Hartford and Harold House of Hartford were at Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Post's Monday.

Mrs. Charles Fish was a visitor in Hartford Wednesday. The Past Masters' installation team of Mrs. W. Hutchinson and Mrs. A. C. Foote are members, will install the officers of the Franklin Grange at Franklin Friday evening.

The Hebron Farmers Exchange

will hold a business meeting at Joseph Barrasso's Saturday evening.

There are many cases of grip in this community. The rural mail carrier has a real job to get over the roads this winter as the constant freezing and thawing make them almost impassable. Very little work is done on the back roads by the town which is always the home of contention at the town meetings.

E. W. Buell was a business caller in Salem Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Buell and Miss Marie Joyner visited relatives in Manchester Thursday. Miss Joyner remained for a few days. Mr. Dufr of Marlborough was a business caller here Wednesday.

ANDOVER

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Phelps and son John attended the theater in Manchester Monday evening and saw Eddie Cantor in "The Kid From Spain."

The Friendly Girls club will hold a bridge and whist party in the town hall Friday evening beginning at 8 o'clock. There will be both door and table prizes. Refreshments will be served. Tickets are being sold by the members.

Rev. Evan F. Kullgren of Wolcott Hill, Wethersfield, called on his daughter Miss Nancy Kullgren at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Helmer Sunday.

Several of the towns people attended the funeral of Henry Gradowski in Manchester Tuesday morning. Among those who attended were Miss Spicer, his school teacher and several of his school mates. The young boy was very well liked and will be greatly missed by his classmates.

Mrs. Howard Stanley is ill with the grip and her daughter, Jean has the chickenpox.

Miss Myrtle Mathewson's condition remains about the same. She seems to gain strength. Rev. Wallace I. Woodin attended the Willmarie Minister's meeting in Lebanon Monday. Mr. Woodin is secretary of the union.

Mrs. Wallace Woodin spent Wednesday and Thursday with Mrs. Winlow Russell in Hartford. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Tuttle are sick with the grip and their children have all got the chickenpox.

Mrs. Montague White is ill with the grip as are several others around town.

Mrs. Louis Whitcomb and son Alfred spent Thursday with Mr. Whitcomb's brother, Ernest Whitcomb, of Branford.

SLAYER EXECUTED
Joliet, Que., Jan. 13.—(AP)—Facing death with calm fortitude, Albert Freville mounted the scaffold in the jail yard here today and paid with his life for the murder of Mrs. Joseph Monder, in the little village of St. Damien, Jan. 18, 1932.

PROPOSE CHARTER REVISION IN NINTH

Ask Voters On Wednesday Night To Approve Merging of Various Committees

Consolidation of school districts in Manchester has eliminated the necessity for any school committee in the Ninth School District and next Wednesday evening there will be a special district meeting at High school hall to approve revision of the district charter.

necting, incorporating The Ninth School District of Manchester, as amended by a substitute of Senate Bill No. 114, being Special Law No. 380 of the Special Laws of 1913; and by House Bill 626, being Special Law No. 219 of the Special Laws of 1923; and by Senate Bill No. 78, being Special Law No. 110 of the Special Laws of 1925, is hereby further amended by striking out Sections Two, Three and Four of said Joint Resolution.

"2. Sections Three, Four, Five and Six of the amendment to the charter of The Ninth School District of Manchester, approved June 5th, 1913, as hereby amended to read as follows: Said District is hereby authorized and empowered to build, purchase, lease, equip and maintain libraries, gymnasiums, recreation grounds, baths, and open air swimming pools with all necessary buildings and paraphernalia, for the use of the inhabitants of said district, under such regulations as the Committee of said District, hereinafter provided for, shall designate. And said district is authorized to raise money by taxation for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this charter. Said District shall have all rights and powers for the acquisition of lands for any of the purposes of this act which school districts have for the acquisition of land for school purposes. Said libraries, recreation buildings and grounds shall be open for the use of the inhabitants of Manchester upon the conditions and under the same regulations as are imposed upon the inhabitants of The Ninth School District of Manchester.

"3. Said Libraries, Gymnasiums, Recreation Grounds and Swimming Pools and baths shall be under the supervision and control of a committee of seven residents of said district who shall be known as The Library and Recreation Committee of The Ninth School District of Manchester. At the annual meeting of said District held in July, 1933, said District shall elect two members of said committee to hold office for the term of one year from July 15th, 1933; three members to hold office for two years from July 15th, 1933; and two members to hold office for three years from July 15th, 1933. The terms of office of the present committee of the Ninth School District of Manchester and the Recreation Committee shall expire July 15th, 1933.

INADEQUATE AID HAS EVIL EFFECT

Bridgeport Official Tells Senate That It Does More Harm Than Good.

Washington, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Manfred Lilliefors, Jr., secretary of the Family Welfare Society at Bridgeport, Conn., told a Senate committee today that the effect of inadequate relief would be felt long after economic conditions had improved.

"Relief does not seem to hurt people if it is given intelligently and is adequate," he said. "Families that have been well cared for show a surprising independence after one or two years of aid."

PUBLIC HEALTH NURSE SERVICE GROWS
Reports of Hospital Workers Show Increase of 67 Per Cent In Their Calls.

Miss Sarah Addison, director of Public Health Nursing of the State Department of Health, and Miss Grace Clark, Connecticut, and representative of the national Red Cross attended the monthly meeting this week of the local public health nursing association, held in the clinic building of the Memorial hospital, and listened to reports showing that a total of 485 visits had been made by the two visiting nurses, with an increase of 67 per cent in the bedside nursing work over the previous month. This was due to the fact that a great many people have been ill at home with severe colds and grip.

TO ABANDON LIGHTHOUSE
Bridgeport, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Fayerweather Island Light, among the oldest along Long Island Sound, which from its white stone tower at the entrance to Black Rock Harbor has cast out its warning to seafarers for more than 125 years, is to be abandoned and two new lighthouses with modern automatic "blinking lights" are to supplant it.

MARRIED TWO HOURS
Bridgeport, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Alfred C. Appell and Bethel testified in Superior Court today that two hours after they were married his bride left him, saying: "I only married you to spite a boy friend. Goodbye."

HELENE COSTELLO MARRIES IN CUBA

Former Movie Star Becomes Bride of Prominent Cuban; Wedding Kept "Secret."

Havana, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Helene Costello, sister-in-law of John Barrymore, and Arthur Del Barrio, member of a prominent Cuban family, succeeded in keeping their court records today disclosed in marriage on January 6.

The "former" movie actress—the "former" is her own adjective—was married to Del Barrio by Notary Ricardo Bursan in the apartment of the bride's mother, Mrs. Cortez Del Barrio. Miss Costello has been visiting the mother since early in December.

Only members of the Del Barrio family were present. It had been intended not to announce the marriage for some time.

Members of the family said the two were once before engaged, the engagement coinciding with young Del Barrio's visit to Hollywood four years ago, but Miss Costello's version was slightly different.

"We were engaged before and after the war," she said.

Asked what interrupted those earlier plans, Miss Costello replied, with intentional irrelevancy, "extenuating circumstances." Her marriage to Lowell Sherman ended in divorce last fall.

As to whether Miss Costello continues in pictures, that will depend on her husband, she said.

She said she would remain in Cuba, "for this is my home now," until spring, when the two will sail to spend Holy Week in Italy.

The bride who appeared in the first all talking picture, gave her age as 24.

"I don't worry about my age any longer," she laughed, "because I'm no longer in pictures."

Del Barrio, who is 26, was educated in Havana schools and at Pettie Institute, Hightstown, N. J.

He has done some movie producing in Cuba and one of his pictures is now being shown in Europe.

THEATERS

AT THE STATE

"The Conquerors"

"Uptown New York"

Ann Harding and Richard Dix in "The Conquerors," and Jack Oakie in "Uptown New York," are the featured attractions at the State tonight and Saturday.

Embracing the historical highlights of our nation's growth during the last sixty years, "The Conquerors" is the first picture to reach the screen with an optimistic thought for the current economic problems. Not only does the picture tackle the current depression, but it goes back to the business slumps of 1873 and 1893 and graphically discloses the inevitable recovery that followed each one. Here is a production that should revive hope in a nation that has repeatedly weathered the economic storms to return in each instance a stronger and better nation than ever before.

Richard Dix, Ann Harding and William Wellman, the director, have employed every resource of the motion picture industry to make this picture equal to its inspiring theme.

Vina Delmar's story, "Uptown New York," starring Jack Oakie, is packed with romance, good comedy and a highly dramatic climax. Oakie delivers another dumb-but-smart characterization that is highly amusing. His only thoughts in life are for the writing slot machine business until he discovers that love is more important, and then things happen. The latest news events of the day complete the bill.

"A Farewell To Arms"

To the thousands who have read Erich Maria Remarque's novel, "A Farewell To Arms," the sensitive, intelligent film version, which will be seen at the State for three days starting Sunday night, cannot be other than a fulfillment because it has been screened just as it was written in the book. To those who have not read the novel, the story will be new, but the film will still be one of the most magnificent love romances the screen has yet produced.

Catherine Barkley and Frederick Henry, as portrayed by Helen Hayes and Gary Cooper, readily makes a place in the front ranks of screen lovers. It is infinitely to the credit of both of these talented players that they have been able to invest with such reality the fine story of Hemingway's American ambulance driver in the Italian Army and British nurse who loved so greatly against the tragedy of war. Adolphe Menjou and Mary Phillips also contribute excellent performances. The film is stark, and real and beautiful. It is something you cannot afford to miss.

THREE YOUNG SLAYERS MEET DEATH IN CHAIR

Ages Aggregate But 59 Years; One Goes To His Death Cursing.

Ossining, N. Y., Jan. 13.—(AP)—Three more murderers—youths whose ages aggregated only 59—have paid.

Swaggering and cursing, Peter Harris of Ossing, went to the electric chair last night. Only 21 years old, he fought a gun battle with policemen, and killed a bystander.

As soon as Harris was dead, Thomas Carpenter and Charles Bates, negro youths, each 19 years old, were executed for slaying a man in a Bronx holdup. They wept and had to be half-carried through the green door to the death chamber.

The triple execution required only 16 minutes. Harris was the only one to say anything. As he walked to the chair, he looked at a spectator, mistook a grimace of horror for a grin, and snarled: "What are you laughing at? This is no laughing matter."

WAPPING

The South Windsor Parent-Teacher Association held its meeting last Wednesday evening at the Wood Memorial library. There was a specialist from the Hartford County Farm Bureau, who spoke on "Contagious Diseases." Mrs. Jeremiah McGrath was hostess for the evening.

Miss Marjorie Stoughton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Stoughton, was taken to the Hartford hospital this week for treatment.

The Wapping Parent-Teacher Association held its meeting last Monday afternoon at the school hall with 20 present. After the regular business meeting they listened to an address by Miss Somers. Several of the members of the P. T. A. attended the meeting which was held at the Center church in Hartford.

Robert Bossen of Baltimore, Md., was a guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter E. Bossen, recently.

SENSE AND NONSENSE

Well, this is Friday, the 15th. It is the first of two Fridays that fall the 15th in 1933. The other Friday the 15th is in October. Just remember this, no matter what happens to you today, it might have been worse.

ONE OF THE FAVORITE PAST-TIMES OF PEOPLE WHO DON'T HAVE MONEY, IS TO TELL HOW THEY WOULD HAND OUT TEN DOLLAR BILLS IF THEY WERE RICH.

"You'd be surprised, how long a seasoned spell-binder can carry on after observing what more is there that need be said?"

Why write a book if all you've got to say can be expressed in an epigram?

Tailor—Why don't you like the pants? They fit like a glove.
Customer—I know . . . but I want them to fit like pants.

Some couples seem to think that pulling together means trying to pull the wool over each other's eyes.

The cashier of a small movie theater not far from town was selling tickets as a pal looked on. A customer bought a dime ticket, threw down a quarter and walked away, leaving his change.

Cashier's Friend—Does this happen very often?
Ticket Seller—Yes.

Cashier's Friend—What do you do in a case like that?
Ticket Seller—Oh, I always rap on the window with the eraser end of my pencil.

Love is like colds in the head—some are more susceptible to them, and if let go, either one is very apt to turn into something serious, like double-pneumonia or marriage.

Balancing a budget isn't a juggling act. It's good common sense.

Warden—You're a big expense to the state. It will cost two hundred and fifty dollars to electrocute you.
Inmate—Don't do it. Give me ten feet-dollars and I'll do it myself.

BABY FEET
I'm loathe to dust my floor today. For I do not want to wipe away that dear design, that pattern sweet—Dozens of prints of wee bare feet. Oh well, I'll mop it now, and then tomorrow they'll be there again; But I dread the day—for come it must—With no baby's footprints in the dust.

The old-fashioned mother who used to hide her purse in her stocking now has a daughter who can't vanity's all in vain.

George—And were you seasick?
Harvey—Say, I was so seasick that after three days in bed, I staggered across the room and threw up the window.

YOU WILL NEVER MAKE MUCH OF A HIT BY SIMPLY HOLDING YOUR BAT OUT, HOPING THE PITCHER WILL HIT IT. YOU HAVE TO DRAW BACK AND SWING AT IT.

Kind Lady—What's the matter with your little boy?
Father (holding onto strap in street car)—Nothing—he always yells when he sees me with a strap.

"What has become of the old-fashioned mother who began to worry at nine o'clock in the evening if son and daughter had not returned home?" That's easy, she herself gets in so late that she comes in quietly for fear of waking the children from their beauty sleep.

YOU CAN'T TELL IF MONEY MAKES FOOLS OR IF FOOLS MAKE MONEY.

Some business mergers could be spelled "submergers."

Roosevelt soon will be the new man of a thousand faces. Just watch the headlines: Roosevelt faces debt crisis. Roosevelt faces farm aid clash. Roosevelt faces split over beer. Roosevelt faces etc., etc., etc.

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS:

The way some girls dress, their vanity's all in vain.
