Italian was shot down by the Chinese as he was passing the Sino-Japanese battlefield southwest of here.

The Italian government was expected to demand satisfaction from the Chinese government at Nanking.

Japanese military authorities, meanwhile, feared they may have acted too late in attempting to block the passage of the Great Wall of China and thus facilitate the annexation of Jehol province to Manchuria.

Chinese troops were reported as overhauling the Japanese. Bands driven out of northwestern Manchuria by the

PLANNING A PROBE OF STATE POLICE

Former Fall River City Officials and a Business Man Involved in Controversy.

Fall River, Mass., Jan. 16.—(AP)—Two former city officials and a Fall River business man today had entered the controversy concerning charges of irregularities in the administration of state police affairs.

Joseph M. Donovan, Fall River Legionnaire who brought the charges which resulted in the investigation of the police, had been described by Captain Charles T. Beupre, state police head, as a "straw" man whose charges were "trumped up and silly."

Walter E. O'Hara, business man; former Mayor W. Harry Monks and John F. Doyle, former city councilor, offered to appear before a proper tribunal to tell what they knew of state police affairs.

O'Hara said: "Captain Charles T. Beupre named me as the man behind the probe of irregularities in the State police. He furthermore charges that Joseph M. Donovan who preferred the charges was the 'straw' man for me."

Doyle said he was ready to appear before a tribunal and give all the facts in his possession regarding the raid at Westport.

PAPAL BULL SETS ASIDE HOLY YEAR

Pope Pius Has Document Read in the Principal Churches in Rome.

Vatican City, Jan. 16.—(AP)—A papal bull today set aside the 12 months beginning April 2 as a holy year of prayer, penance and pilgrimage to Rome and Palestine.

Pope Pius XI said it should lead to "social, political and international peace."

An "extraordinary holy year" and "a general and highest jubilee" was to mark what the Pontiff believed to be the 19th centenary of the "Passion of Jesus Christ."

The document was read yesterday in St. Peter's, and readings were set later in St. John Lateran, mother church of Rome; Mary Major and St. Paul's, outside the walls.

The Pope's recent protests against church restrictions in Spain, Mexico and Russia were recalled in this passage: "Oh, may the most merciful Lord bring about that the holy year which we shall shortly inaugurate will bring peace to souls, to the church that liberty everywhere due her x x x."

He called upon the world to turn its mind "from earthly and decaying things" x x x he urged prayer and penance, not only for those of the church, but for "all mankind led astray by so many disorders and hostility, laboring under so many miseries and fearful of so many dangers."

The Pope asserted that "the precise year" of the death and crucifixion of Jesus Christ "has not been historically ascertained, nevertheless the fact in itself x x x is of such gravity and importance that it is a duty for us to let them pass in silence."

"To all the faithful of both sexes who during the holy year, have confessed and communicated, either on the day or in different days and whatsoever order, visit the Roman Catholic church, come from the Latin for 'bubble,' because the old leaven seeds used resembled bubbles."

The name "bull" for the historic and most important documents of traveling in the Catholic church comes from the Latin for "bubble," because the old leaven seeds used resembled bubbles.

THREE ARE KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Car Crashes Through Rail On Bridge and Sinks In 30 Feet of Water.

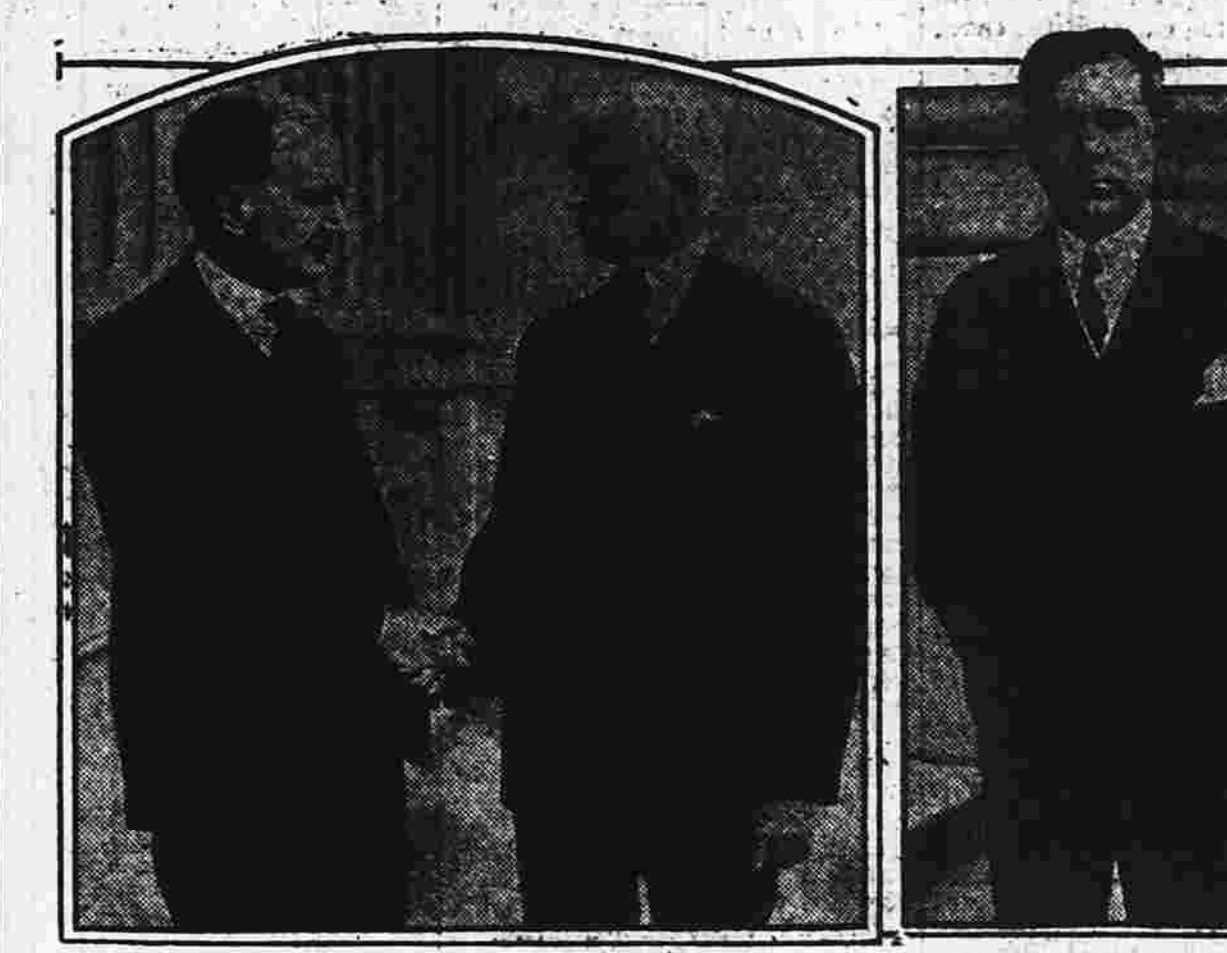

Quincy, Mass., Jan. 16.—(AP)—Efforts were made today to raise from the channel under Fore River Bridge an automobile which was believed to contain the bodies of three persons who perished last night when the car ripped through the railing of the bridge.

The dead were Joseph H. Mahoney, undertaker and his wife Gertrude, and Miss Mary Frawley of Lowell, a Boston school teacher.

The house, original was the home of Mr. and Mrs. Black, the latter a sister of John Seaman of New Haven who had owned and managed the hotel. The Blacks were widely known in Litchfield county. Tourists frequently stopped at their home.

Seaman built a cottage for his sister and took over the house which he converted into a hotel by building an addition. The outlay of about $100,000 made it one of the chief hotels in this section, and it had all the facilities of a city hotel.

Washington, Jan. 16.—(AP)—A week's delay for the Collier-Blaine bill to legalize 3.05 beer and wine was forced today when the Senate judiciary committee failed to reach agreement on the measure.

The committee spent two hours discussing the favorable subcommittee report on the bill to modify the Volstead Act, but reached no final vote on the measure.

Chairman Norris said it probably would be approved next Monday, when the committee holds its next regular meeting.

Several minor amendments were approved, but most of the time was spent discussing the proposed alcoholic content of 3.05 per cent.

DAMAGE OF $100,000 WHEN HOTEL BURNS

Knickerbocker At Canaan Burns To Ground—No Guests In House At Time.

Canaan, Conn., Jan. 16.—(AP)—The Knickerbocker hotel, valued at $100,000, burned to the ground early today when fire starting in the basement swept the structure.

When the fire apparatus arrived, the two-story wooden building was so engulfed in flames that the firemen's efforts to save the hotel were futile.

The cause of the fire was undetermined but it was believed to have started in the boiler room. Fire companies from Norfolk and Falls Village assisted the local fire department.

Hotel Knickerbocker was closed Friday night by order of C. L. Johnson, New Haven, appointed receiver last spring, and the 13 employees were discharged Saturday night.

PREDICT FIGHT OVER CONTROL OF THE G. O. P.

Spirited Contest Expected Between Old Guard and Followers of President; Report Sanders Will Quit.

Washington, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Rumblings among Republican forces forecast a stirring contest soon between the Old Guard and followers of President Hoover for control of the party organization.

Already a move has been started to resist any effort by Mr. Hoover's friends to have him return the titular chieftainship of the party after he retires from the presidency.

Indications are that the struggle, now being waged behind the scenes, will break into the open after March 1.

That Mr. Hoover desires to continue as the dominating factor in the organization with a view either of seeking the presidential nomination in 1936, or dictating the nominees, is the belief generally held by Republicans on Capitol Hill.

Old Guard Slighted. But members of the old guard, who considered themselves slighted during the Hoover administration are talking about having the present party setup "cleaned out from top to bottom."

They want to take over party control early in the spring to prepare for the Congressional campaign in 1934.

With much preliminary maneuvering is going on, the battle lines are not yet definitely drawn. They are, however, to center about the chairmanship of the Republican National committee, now held by Everet Sanders, secretary to the late Calvin Coolidge when he was President.

Not To Resign. Talk among the Republicans is that Sanders desires to relinquish the post within a few months at the latest, although he has said he has no present intention of resigning.

The recent death of Mr. Culligan set the anti-Hooverites back in their plans. Although Mr. Coolidge was plainly indicated he would not re-enter politics, they felt he was a potential candidate to thwart possible further political ambitions of Mr. Hoover.

Charles Hillis of New York, Republican committee man, J. Henry Roraback of Hartford, Conn., vice chairman of the National committee, Henry P. Fletcher, of Green Castle, Pa., W. Franklin Knox, Chicago newspaper publisher, and Senator James E. Watson of Indiana, are being discussed as possibilities for Sanders post by old guardmen.

On the Hoover side, the names of Ogden L. Mills, Lawrence Richey, secretary to Mr. Hoover, and Walter F. Brown, the postmaster general have been heard.

GIBSON CRITICIZES G. O. P. LEADERSHIP

Vermont Congressman Says Party Should Be Reorganized; New Leaders Needed

Washington, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Representative Gibson, (R., Vt.), said in a statement today that the next Republican candidate for President should come from the "common folk" and that a reorganization of the party should be initiated by Republican members of the next House.

Gibson criticized the Republican leadership of the present House as a "close corporation" which he said shut out able men to the background.

"The party must be organized into a fighting unit to represent the common people of the country," he said. "It has been an effective criticism that it has failed in this purpose during the last few years and for that reason the voters have turned to the leader and another party who promises to accomplish what they believe for their good."

"Coolidge Type" Gibson said the party needed a leader of "the Coolidge type" and "must give direction to the hopes and aspirations of the common folk if it is to get away from the high reputation of serving big business only."

"It is a well known fact" Gibson said, "that the Republican Party policy and strategy of the House has been shaped and directed by a few members joined into a close corporation. Many able men have been left in the background and given no opportunity to develop in leadership."

"The Democrats have followed the opposite policy since taking control and every man is given his opportunity. The result is plainly apparent. That party is united, and never before. Strong leaders have been developed. The Republicans must follow the same course if they stand any show of getting back to power in a generation."

"This criticism is not that of a rebel, but of one who is united, conservative and who desires nothing in the way of political preferment. It is a statement of the plain common sense of the situation."

"The next presidential candidate of the party must come from the ranks of the average citizen who has the best traditions of the founders of the nation back of him. He must be of the Coolidge type and able to understand the common needs of the people. The Republican Party must henceforth give direction to the hopes and aspirations of the common folk. It must serve them if it is to get away from the blight of the reputation of serving big business only."

"There is a growing resentment for the failure of this Congress to do anything to relieve the present economic situation. There is a widespread disgust at our inability to stop our growing deficit. People are becoming restless. Fuel is being added to the flame every day. Members of both parties must guard against a development into a spirit of vengeance. The Republican Party should be organized to do its part to protect and preserve our institutions."

MYSTERY SHROUDS FREIGHTER'S FATE

Soviet Ship Has 250 Persons Aboard—Is Either Afire Or Icebound.

Dutch Harbor, Alaska, Jan. 16.—(AP)—The plight of the Soviet freighter and passenger steamer, Sibakh, after two days ago with upwards of 250 persons aboard in the sea of Okhotsk off the Siberian coast remained veiled in mystery today.

In a brief message relayed by the steamer Golden Tide and intercepted by the government station here on Wednesday night, a spectacular event aboard the vessel was reported. The last SOS message was sent out on Thursday.

The fire was not overcome until the ship's deckhouse and hold had been destroyed. The message said half of the crew was reported as having left the vessel. In addition, aid was asked from Soviet authorities at Vladivostok. The vessel was being taken to the port of Vladivostok.

MRS. SAYRE IS DEAD; WILSON'S DAUGHTER

Was White House Bride; Death Follows Operation In Cambridge.

Cambridge, Mass., Jan. 16.—(AP)—Mrs. Jessie Wilson Sayre, daughter of President Woodrow Wilson, and life-long worker in social service and the cause of world peace, died late last night. She was 46.

Mrs. Sayre, wife of Prof. Francis S. Sayre, newly appointed state commissioner of correction and set the anti-Hooverites back in their plans.

Of late years, Mrs. Sayre who was married in the White House in 1913 during her father's first term as President, had been active in Democratic National and state politics. She campaigned for Alfred E. Smith in Massachusetts in 1928 and was herself boomed for U. S. Senator in 1930 until she withdrew because of her devotion to her husband and children.

She was vice chairman of the Democratic state committee during the recent campaign. Roosevelt's Friend. A personal friend as well as an ardent supporter of President-elect Roosevelt, she had been an overnight guest of the President-elect on several occasions. It was she who filed this state's electoral vote for Roosevelt and Garner.

Mrs. Sayre was born in Galneville, Ga. Much of her girlhood was spent in Princeton, N. J., where her father was then president of the university. She was graduated from Goucher College in Baltimore in 1908 and spent the next three years in intensive social service work among textile workers in the Kensington Section of Baltimore. It was here she began her active interest in the Young Women's Christian Association, of which she was later a member of the National executive board.

White House Wedding. The Wilson-Sayre wedding was held in the White House since Miss Alice Roosevelt married Representative Nicholas Longworth. Miss Wilson was the 13th White House bride.

Author of Al Smith's Song On New York's 'Sidewalks'

New York, Jan. 16.—(AP)—The irony that is somewhat of a pun on the "Sidewalks of New York" is immortalized.

Hardly more than four years ago a great political party rallied to the song in a campaign to elect a President a man who had risen to high places from those same "sidewalks." Long before that Lottie Gilson had introduced it from a Bowery stage, and it swept the land.

All around the town. James W. Blake who wrote those words, spent his last penny yesterday, and turned (where else was there for him) to the sidewalks of his song.

"To sing 'ring around roses, London bridge is falling down, Well they die when Jimmy Blake, shoe clerk, set down his lyrics, his passion to payments. There's not so much 'ring around roses' now, somehow the kids like 'cops and robbers' better. And they do not sing as they used to."

Blake and his wife, Mabel, are in New York.

A. & P. STORES GIVE NEW ENGLAND BOOST

Last Week's Promotion Proves To Be Great Success—Spent $72,000,000 in 1932.

Coming at a time when general interest is centered on the question of better business for New England, The New England Week observed last week in the stores of the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company attracted wide attention, not only because the Tea Company particularly featured New England products but more because this special event focused attention upon the truly staggering sum which A & P spends in New England every year.

The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company spent more than $72,000,000 in New England in 1932, a sum which indicates the extent to which its business influences the prosperity of this section of the country and one which officials of the company hope will be exceeded by a substantial amount in 1933.

Because the public's contacts with the company have largely been confined to doing business in its individual stores, few persons realize that the company's purchases of New England products amount to more than $140 a minute, every hour of the day, every day of the week during the last year.

Naturally, A & P buys vast quantities of merchandise in other parts of the country for sale in its New England stores. Such items as flour, oranges, canned fruits and other items not produced in New England must be purchased in outside points, by A & P as well as by any other grocery organization.

Important among the activities of A & P in New England is the fish warehouse which the company maintains at the waterfront close to the Boston Fish Pier.

The lower Mississippi river states petitioned for modification of the celebrated lake diversion case decree. They wished the court to leave the door open for taking additional water out of Lake Michigan besides that allowed to Chicago by the court for sewage disposal.

Shuler was finally denied relief from the radio commission order of November, 1931, barring his radio station KGMF from the air. He was charged with broadcasting attacks on certain public officials, churches and others.

UNEMPLOYMENT PROBLEM

Geneva, Jan. 16.—(AP)—The disarmament problem cannot be solved until the unemployment question has been solved. An international conference on unemployment which is considering a forty-hour week was told today by Ernst Lemmer, the German workers' delegate.

The delegate of the Polish government announced that Poland was ready to support the move for a forty-hour agreement but that the agreement must not be mentioned as he believed it impossible to secure.

ROCKVILLE

DICKINSON DEATH CAUSES 2 VACANCIES

Council Must Fill Offices of Fire Alarms Superintendent and City Sheriff.

In the death of the late Arthur T. Dickinson, there are two city vacancies to be filled, superintendent of fire alarms and city sheriff. At a meeting of the City Council to be held on Tuesday evening of this week it is expected the fire committee will recommend Edward Finney for the position of fire alarm superintendent.

Although no official information has been received it is believed that William Flaherty, lieutenant of the company, will be promoted to the captaincy. This will be one of the important business matters to come before the Council Tuesday.

Several local men have been mentioned for the office of city sheriff and it is expected this vacancy will be filled for the remainder of the term, at the City Council meeting.

Inspect Houses On Sunday afternoon the City Fire Committee visited the four engine houses and inspected the fire apparatus. The Rockville Fire Department is well equipped and was found in excellent condition.

The apparatus consists of motorized Hook and Ladder, two pumps, a hose wagon and two engines. The houses are also in fine shape and each is well equipped.

Fire Department Banquet County Detective E. J. Hickey of Hartford spoke before a gathering of firemen and city officials on Saturday evening at the Rockville House when the annual banquet of the Rockville Fire Department was held.

Mayor as Best Man Hartford, Jan. 16.—(AP)—With Mayor William J. Rankin acting as best man, Roland L. Stratford of New York City, and Miss Helen L. Moore, of Cleveland, Ohio, were married at noon today in the luncheon room of the Municipal building.

International agreement on this point. Shorter hours will increase unemployment instead of reduce it, Cort Vanderlinden, a Dutch employer said, adding that it is impossible to maintain wages if hours are reduced.

was killed. Another was the tracing of robbers who held up a Southington gasoline station proprietor. He stated that murders are committed and fires started to hide the crime. He told of one instance where a man was unable to meet payment on a mortgage and because of the refusal of the holder of the mortgage to give more time for payment, the latter was killed and the house set on fire.

These were but a few of the illustrations given by Detective Hickey, and it is believed to have been the most interesting address ever heard in this city.

Chief George B. Milne, chairman of the banquet committee opened the program of the evening with a few remarks, introducing former Mayor John P. Cameron as toastmaster.

He introduced County Detective Hickey, speaker of the evening, and the following other guests: Former Mayor Frederick G. Hartenstein, Chief Albert Foy of the Manchester Fire Department, Chief Emil Von Deck and Chief Clyde Cordstein of the Tolland and Ellington Fire Departments, R. J. Murphy, chairman of the Fire Committee, former Senator and City Treasurer Parley B. Leonard, and Mayor A. E. Waite.

Address By James Pascoe The Rainbow club of this city, newly organized for high school graduates and pupils who are interested in music and dramatic art, will meet in the Athletic rooms on East Main street on Wednesday evening.

The members will have the pleasure of hearing an address by James Pascoe of Manchester. The latter is an authority on interior decorating and he will no doubt have something most interesting to tell the group.

BETTER TO ENJOY YOUR HOME

Make it cheerful with Adequate Lighting

"Good Home Lighting" is necessary

Children must be made to protect their eyes so their vision will be clear and steady. Grownups, too, during the hours of rest and relaxation need the pleasant soothing glow from the favorite reading lamp.

Use plenty of light — it's cheaper

One Cheap Necessity

Where could you buy more for 1c than 4 hours of good lighting? That's about what it adds to your electric bill on the 4c meter rate to use a 60 watt light for 4 hours. Could any necessity be cheaper?

There is nothing so inviting as a well lighted home, and practical, too.

Good Lighting means Good Health

Much physical discomfort is directly traced to eye strain. With electricity as cheap as it is today, there should not be any excuse for inadequate lighting — your health and comfort demand this modern necessity, and your home will be more enjoyable to all.

A Cheap Protection

A light over each entrance is like a burglary alarm — Noiseless and very effective. Night prowlers are not interested in a well lighted home. You can afford this protection because good lighting is cheap today.

ALL-ELECTRIC

HOMES ENJOY GOOD LIGHTING, TOO! Besides Electric cooking, refrigeration, hot water, and many smaller appliances, plenty of good lighting in All-Electric Homes is a matter of course.

COMMISSIONER STOECKEL

This newspaper has frequently criticized the policy of Motor Ven-dices Commissioner Robbins E.
 Stoekel toward the operation of automobiles. It has regarded as slightly absurd his theory that the objective to be aimed at is the maintenance of safety and high speed successfully bracketed together. It has been rather persistent in ridi-culing Mr. Stoekel's persistence in the hope of trying to "educate" a million-run of automobile drivers into being skillful and careful and quick witted on an equality of the most expert. It has, for years, poked fun at his preachments and his faith in moral suasion as a substitute for stern and uncompromising statutory regulation.

But The Herald is as far as possible from desiring to see Mr. Stoekel displaced as commissioner of motor vehicles unless his successor is to be a person of very high attainments who, in addition to holding more practical views on the question of operation control, reasonably approaches the present commissioner in the latter's very great ability as an executive and in the still more important element of character.
 And such men, available for such an office, are scarce.

The powers reposed in the commissioner of motor vehicles by the laws of this state are tremendous.
 They are far greater than the General Assembly should ever have delegated to any office which at any time was likely to become a political football. The people have never been reminded of them because the commissioner has been administered by Mr. Stoekel with a degree of probity and intelligent restraint that the people would have no right to expect in the average political appointee—which, as a matter of fact, they had no right to expect even from the present commissioner but have, fortunately, received.

If, merely because Mr. Stoekel is a Republican, he should be displaced by some other appointee merely because the latter is a Democrat, it would be entirely possible for the state to suffer a very real, very serious injury. Mr. Stoekel has so delighted in publicizing himself as an apostle of the gospel of driver education that he has, himself, diverted public attention from his extremely able administration of the great department over which he presides.

Under some lesser man that department, as the laws are, might easily be converted into a pesthole of favoritism, inefficiency, political tyranny and outright graft. There has been nothing to indicate whether Governor Cross intends to put some "deserving Democrat" in Mr. Stoekel's place. If he does he will be well advised to see to it that his nominee is a person of far more than ordinary capacity and a good deal more than ordinary rectitude. Otherwise the reaction upon the people of the state will be ruinous to the credit of his administration.

If there is no such available nominee the governor would be using the best kind of good sense if he left Mr.
 Stoekel on the job. With all his fail for preachment and his exasperating insistence on moral suasion in the repression of mad motor driving, he is a splendid commissioner of motor vehicles, an administrator of extraordinary ability.

PHILIPPINES BILL
 The Philippines independence bill, to which President Hoover is so antagonistic that he has resorted to unusual tactics of publicity in support of his veto, is, in all probability, neither understood nor likely to be understood by a very great majority of the American people. The average citizen doesn't, as a matter of fact, care a hoot about the Philippines. So when it became the opinion of a good many agriculturalists that they would be better off if the Philippines became, for tariff purposes, a foreign country there was no substantial body of public opinion to oppose the scheme. There was, however, a quite considerable general impression available for its support—a rather formless but widespread suspicion, of very long standing, that we never had any business taking over the islands in the first place.

Never before or since has the United States allowed itself to be so pulled around by the nose by a sheerly accidental series of events
 as in the case of the Philippines islands. We had no more to do with those islands than with the man in the moon until Dewey was sent to Manila Bay to fight the Spanish fleet as part of the war with Spain. Then, having had to hold the country as a military measure until the war was over, sheer lack of initiative in getting out again kept us there. Assuming the "White Man's Burden," we became involved in the job of housing an archipelago containing seven or eight million hybrid people whom we didn't in the least understand and who lived half around the world from us. For more than thirty years we have been spending our money and our efforts on that job without in the least knowing why or what, really, we were trying to do. And all the time the Filipinos, anxious to try the job of bearing themselves, have been resentful and displaying an uncomfortable disposition to demand that we make good on certain vague promises, made many years ago, that we would get out as soon as we decided they were "fit for self government."

There hasn't been a minute of this time that a very great many people in this country haven't felt that our relations with the Philippines were futile, foolish and unethical. They may not have been greatly concerned—they may not have regarded the matter as of major importance, either way—but they have experienced the sensation of being in a false position and an uncomfortable
 one. And today they are immensely less interested in the kind of a Philippines independence bill that is passed than in passing one of some sort and getting, as speedily as possible, out of a mess.

It isn't possible to get this country to concentrate its thoughts on the fine points of this Philippines bill or any other Philippines proposal.
 And at a quick and fleeting glance popular opinion sees in any sort of independence bill something to grab at.

RECEIVERS FOR CITIES
 The proposal of State Senator John F. Lynch of West Haven that the state of Connecticut establish a system of receiverships for municipalities that get into financial difficulties is heroic stuff, to be sure,
 but that should not condemn it;
 there are plenty of diseases that require heroic treatment, and a good part of our trouble has been caused by the fear of strong economic medicine.

Certainly when a city or a town has made manifest its own inability to keep out of trouble by adjusting its expenditures to its income there should be some authority, somewhere, to take over the management of its affairs until they have been straightened out. Where is such authority to be found if not in the organized power of the commonwealth? As Mr. Lynch points out, the whole structure of chartered cities and towns is created by state legislation. The municipality being a creature of the state, the state should have not only the power but the responsibility to take it in charge if and when its proceedings show that it cannot take care of itself.

And if the state must take charge of a delinquent municipality's affairs certainly the most effective way to do it is through the creation of a re-ceivership; also it has been demonstrated pretty conclusively that the most effective kind of a receivership, in any fiscal contingency, is a single headed one.

Mr. Lynch does well to cite the experience of Fall River, where, he says, a receiver with practically dictatorial powers has been able to cut away all the hampering wreckage of partisan and personal politics and actually run the city as a sheer business proposition. Fall River had defaulted in ten million dollars worth of obligations. Under its re-ceivership it is paying off the defaulted obligation at the rate of a million a year—which shows what can be done.

MARVELOUS MANHATTAN
 by WILLIAM GAINES

New York—Raymond M. Hood, who speaks with such pronounced views on architecture these days (he is one of the Rockefeller Center designers), was one of the most resistant and timid young men.
 He had a tough financial problem at the beginning of his career, and sometimes it seemed as though his inability to speak his mind would hold him down.

One of his early jobs was to design a home for a New Yorker up in Westchester, for which he received only $300. Then, it appeared to Hood, the contractor was going to botch the building unless they had architectural supervision until it was completed.

A friend asked Hood why he himself didn't seek the supervisory job.

"That would be worth an extra $150," was the young architect's mournful reply, "and I'm afraid to ask for any more money."

The friend told Hood right then and there that he would have to get over that timidity if he ever was going to amount to anything, and finally bolstered his courage—to a certain extent.

Hood suggested the need of supervision to his patron and meekly added that he would take the assignment for $150.

"Of course," was the immediate response. "I'm glad you brought that up."

 Without further ado, Hood marched out of the office. But once the door was slammed behind him, he began to have queer qualms as to whether he had been too abruptly business-like. There ought to be more warmth in such negotiations, he feared; yet he knew his patron
 only in a business way.

Vaguely decided about what he should do, he popped his head into the office again and asked:
 "By the way, how's your wife?"

"Why, she's very well—thanks,"
 the startled fellow replied.
 "Fine," said Hood, who closed the door and beat an awkward retreat.

Wonder Horse
 Sam H. HARRIS, the producer with a passion for horses, tells about a nag he bought at a sale for $1,000.
 A little while after the purchase,
 a man who had missed the sale came along and offered $4,000 for the horse. Harris turned him down.
 The next time the pony started in a race, Harris sank his roll on him.

Now here's where the story happens to be a little different from most of those of the track:
 The horse won and Harris collected $15,000!

You should know the Truth about the cigarette you smoke

A great deal of confusion has been caused by certain representations made in cigarette advertising. A clamor of competitive claims has bewildered the public. We have received hundreds of letters asking us the truth about the conflicting claims of various brands. Because Camel first popularized cigarette smoking, because Camel has sold more billions of cigarettes than any other brand, we were the natural people to write to. And we are the natural people to tell the facts about cigarettes. We have always offered an honest cigarette, honestly advertised.

1. Question: What is the mildest cigarette?

Answer: The fact that a cigarette is insipid and tasteless does not mean that it is mild. The fact that it has been artificially flavored or scented does not mean it is mild. Mildness means that a cigarette is so made that it is gentle and non-irritating without sacrifice of flavor. This is almost entirely a question of the quality of the tobaccos and the skill in their blending. Practically all of today's popular cigarettes are manufactured and rolled in much the same way. The difference comes in the tobaccos that are used. While the irritating effects of cheap, raw tobaccos can be removed to some extent by intensive treatment, nothing can take the place of the more expensive, naturally fine tobaccos. The mildest cigarette is the cigarette that is made of the best tobaccos. It's the tobacco that counts.

2. Question: What cigarette has the best flavor?

Answer: There are just three factors that control the flavor of a cigarette. The addition of artificial flavoring. The blending of various tobaccos. And the quality of the tobaccos themselves. Quality is by far the most important. Cheap, raw tobacco can be disguised in part by artificial flavoring. But it can never equal the goodness of mild, ripe, costly tobaccos. Adding a number of poor things together will not make a good thing. And when you consider that domestic cigarette tobaccos vary in price from 5¢ a pound up to 40¢ a pound, and imported tobaccos from 50¢ to $1.15, the difference in cigarette flavors is readily apparent. Tobacco men long ago learned to choose, for flavor, the cigarette blended from the costlier tobaccos. It's the tobacco that counts.

3. Question: What cigarette is easiest on the throat?

Answer: The easiest cigarette on your throat is the cigarette that is made from the choicest ripe tobaccos. Cheap grades of tobacco are, as you would naturally expect, harsh in their effects upon the throat. And there is a peppery dust occurring to some extent in all tobaccos. Finding its way into many cigarettes, this dust has a decidedly irritating effect. A special vacuum cleaning process has been developed that removes all trace of dust. The absolute rejection of inferior tobaccos and elimination of this dust represent the highest standards ever attained in cigarette manufacture. The cigarette that is blended from the most expensive tobaccos under these modern conditions is as non-irritating as any smoke can possibly be. It's the tobacco that counts.

4. Question: What about heat treating?

Answer: This is one of the real superstitions of the tobacco business. All cigarette manufacturers use the heat-treating process. But harsh, raw, inferior tobaccos require considerably more intensive treatment than choice ripe tobaccos. High temperatures conceal, to some extent, the harsh effects of low-cost tobacco, although this parching process may produce a rather flat and lifeless flavor. But neither the heat treatment nor any other treatment can take the place of good tobacco. Heat can never make cheap, inferior tobaccos good. It's the tobacco that counts.

5. Question: What cigarette is coolest?

Answer: Many myths have been woven around "coolness." The facts are simple: Coolness is determined by the speed of burning. Fresh cigarettes, containing as they do 12% moisture, burn more slowly than parched, dry cigarettes. That is why they smoke cooler. This makes the method of wrapping very important. Improperly wrapped cigarettes begin to dry out as soon as packed. They smoke hot and dry. The Humidor Pack, although more expensive, gives protection ordinary cellophane cannot equal. It is made of 3-ply, MOISTURE-PROOF cellophane, tailored snugly to the package, and WELDED into a seamless envelope. Air cannot get in. Freshness cannot get out. The cigarettes are always in prime condition. An illusion of coolness can be achieved by adding certain chemicals to tobacco. But even chemicals cannot do more than mask the heat of quick-burning, dry tobaccos. The coolest cigarette is the freshest cigarette—the least irritating, the one that has the costliest tobacco. A cigarette blended from expensive tobaccos tastes cooler than one that is harsh and acrid. It's the tobacco that counts.

6. Question: What is the purest cigarette?

Answer: All popular cigarettes are made under sanitary conditions unsurpassed even in the packing of foods. All cigarettes are made with practically identical modern machinery. Uniformly fine cigarette paper is used. If any single manufacturer should claim superior purity it could only be interpreted as a confession of weakness unless he pinned his claim exclusively on the tobacco he used. Purity in a cigarette lies in the tobacco used. Choice grades of tobacco, from which even the fine dust of the tobacco itself has been removed, are less irritating, therefore "purer" than inferior tobaccos. It's the tobacco that counts.

7. Question: What about blending?

Answer: Even if other manufacturers should in the future use the finer, more expensive tobaccos which go into Camels, they would still be unable to duplicate Camel's matchless blending. Tobaccos are blended to give a cigarette its own distinctive individuality. The characteristic delicacy and flavor of the Camel blend have won not only the esteem of the American public, but the sincere admiration of other cigarette manufacturers, who have spent hundreds of thousands of dollars and years of effort trying to discover how the costly tobaccos in Camels are blended. But in vain. Camel's matchless blend is a priceless asset. Yet its fine full flavor is made possible because Camels use more expensive tobacco. It's the tobacco that counts.

It is a Fact, well known by leaf tobacco experts, that Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand. We actually pay MILLIONS MORE every year to insure your enjoyment.

TRACK RECORDS TO FALL WITH CHANGE TO METRIC SYSTEM

McCluskey Among Those Expected To Enjoy Good Season; No Accepted Marks Under New Measurement.

By JIMMY DONAHUE
NEA Service Sports Writer

During the coming indoor track season American spectators are going to see more new track records set than in any other year in the sport's history. This is because the Amateur Athletic Union recently abandoned yardage measurements and switched to metric distances used in foreign countries.

for this measurement in American indoor meets, which have been held on the yardage basis in the past. Consequently, you'll see new marks set in many meets.

The runners will have a hard time adjusting themselves. For instance, the 100-meter dash is more than nine yards longer than the 100-yard sprint. Sprinters used to the shorter distance will find the 100-meter dash a more severe test on their stamina. They will have to hold back a little something for those last four or five strides for a whirlwind finish.

The distance runners, too, will find the going different. Mel Sheppard, old Olympic star of the Milrose A. A., sums up the situation nicely. "It's too bad that the metric mile is not 1600 meters instead of 1500," he says. "The last 120 yards of the mile mean more than they would seem. The milers in the United States will have to change their finisher's gear to take the new distance, which is considerably shorter than a mile. It will mean they'll have to start faster and keep up a faster pace than they did in the old mile."

Under the direction of coaches who know what it's all about, indoor performers are getting ready for the usual array of meets, which include the indoor national championships in New York. Feb. 25, the Metropolitan indoor track and field, New England senior indoor track and field, the L. C. A. meet, Central Association games, Western Association events, Western Conference indoor meeting, and other sectional gatherings.

In New York recently, Ed Siegel, former schoolboy sensation, broke the world's record for the 60-meter dash, doing the distance in 7 seconds. Siegel, New York metropolitan junior and senior 100-meter champion last year, faded out of the picture after tendon injuries interrupted his career. He was labeled as a "flash in the pan" and forgotten. His record in the 60-meter event proves that he's on the comeback road.

Other stars who are figured to have a good season with the new records are Gene Venke, schoolboy dash of last year who is now freshman at Pennsylvania; Joe McCluskey, Fordham University's cross-country and steeplechase title holder; Frank Crowley, Manhattan's Olympic 1500-meter runner; Paul deBruyn, German marathoner; Bill Steiner, national twenty-mile champ; George Weinstein, national intercollegiate spring champion of New York University; Bill Carr, Penn. runner and Olympic winner, and Leo Sexton, Olympic weight event-winner.

PETROLLE FIGHTS FRIDAY

New York, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Eyes now definitely fixed on the welterweight championship, Billy Petrolle returned to the ring this week against Bob Van Klaveren, youthful 157-pounder from Holland. They will fight ten rounds in Madison Square Garden Friday night with Petrolle a heavy favorite.

The Manchester National Guards lost their fourth basketball game of a season that has already produced eleven victories—Saturday night when they were defeated six points by the Brooklyn A. C. in the Phoenix Arena at Waterbury. The score was 42 to 36.

The outcome of the game had attracted widespread interest both here and in Waterbury due to a previous game won by the Guards here, 45 to 42, when a Manchester referee did not call a single foul on the home team. The Waterbury team had promised to give the Guards a real kicking when they came to Waterbury but in this point, they failed totally.

Waterbury won but not by a margin which revealed any decided superiority. They did lead practically all of the game, and by a substantial margin at times, but midway in the final quarter Manchester held a 35 to 34 advantage, the only time that it led in the entire contest. The officiating was highly satisfactory.

Good Referee. The referee was "Helnie" Carrington, well known basketball veteran who is still one of the smartest players in the game today. Not for a moment did either team take any advantage of Carrington. He was the master of the situation at all times and there were few fouls he did not detect. In all he called 25 personal fouls, 13 on Waterbury and 12 on Manchester. None of his decisions were questioned.

Waterbury presented a lineup that was two players stronger than the one which appeared in Manchester. Joe Swasey, regular center, and Johnny Dunn, regular forward, were in the lineup of Manager "Skiddo" Dumschott's contingent, but the Guards were successful in their attempt to stave off the predicted annihilation. In fact, they came unaccountably close to winning.

Locals Falter At Last. In their previous two games, the Guards overcame approximate 15 point halftime handicaps to win by narrow margins. Saturday was almost the same except that the Brooktoms were a shade too strong, or the Guards a trifle too exhausted, for their heavy week's schedule. After the Guards had strained Waterbury's ten point intermission lead and forged ahead by a single point, they were unable to continue the good work during the exciting last five minutes of play.

CUE ARTISTS OPEN TOURNAMENT TODAY

Angie Kieckhefer Defends World's Three-Cushion Billiards Title.

Chicago, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Ten masters of the cue and ivory today opened the annual battle for the world three-cushion billiards championship and the more substantial top prize of $5,000 and a share of the gate receipts.

The defending champion, left-handed Angie Kieckhefer of Chicago, will make his first appearance in the tournament tonight against Clarence Jackson of Detroit. Before that, however, two other matches were listed. In the opener, Otto Reisetel, of Philadelphia, who finished second to Kieckhefer last year, was matched with another veteran, Tiff Denton of Kansas City, and Arthur Thurnblad of Chicago, and J. N. Bosteman Jr., of Vallejo, Calif., were down for the other afternoon contest.

Welker Cochran of Hollywood, Calif., one of the greatest of ball-line players, will make his first effort in a world three-cushion tournament against Allen Hall of Chicago.

Johnny Layton of Sedalia, Mo., like Kieckhefer, has won the title ten times, and Frank Scoville of Buffalo, N. Y., the other entrant, will get into action tomorrow.

The tournament will extend over 19 playing days with each aspirant engaging in 45 matches at 50 points.

McCLUSKEY WINS TWO MILE EVENT Takes Lead Late In Race To Overcome Field At Paterson, N. J. Meet.

Joe McCluskey, Olympic steeplechaser and Fordham University runner, captured the two-mile handicap of the Paterson Evening News Golden Shoe track meet at the Paterson, N. J., Army Saturday night. McCluskey trailed the pack until the twenty-second lap of a 24-lap race, when he spurred into the lead and breathed the tape ahead of the field.

McCluskey started fifty yards behind scratch. It was his second victory in as many starts this year. His first win was the 5,000 meters in the recent Kacey meet in New York.

Jack High, 1933 Threat, 'Also Ran' Only 3 Times

Two notable exceptions to the old saw, "they never come back," are C. V. Whitney's Equipoise, and George D. Widener's Jack High. Equipoise's comeback after being temporarily retired due to a leg ailment was nothing short of heroic. The speedy campaigner went through the year to finish the leading handicap horse of the year.

The Widener horse has had thirty-four races, winning sixteen, running second nine times and third six times.

This speedy son of John P. Geter set a record of 1:20 for the mile at Belmont Park which stood until Equipoise cracked it fractionally at Arlington last season. Some idea of the consistency of the record can be had from the fact that during his career on the track he has failed to lead in the money only three times. And he performed against crack races during his entire racing life.

CUBS, REDS SHARE HONORS IN LEAGUE

Boston and Providence Hockey Teams Tied For Lead In American.

Boston, Jan. 16.—(AP)—The Boston Cubs today shared the Canadian-American hockey league leadership with their rival team, the Providence Reds. The latter outfit, last year's champions, got off to slow start this season but they gained the top last night by sharing a bruising 3-3 overtime draw with the New Haven Eagles. Before starting that contest, the Reds were tied with the Philadelphia Arrows for second place in the five-club circuit.

The Cubs' high scores were led by Alex Cook, the Cubs' injured center, with a total of 24 points. Two of his teammates were pressing him closely, Lloyd Klein with 23 points and Ted Saunders with 22. Saunders is the league's best goal-maker, for he has registered 19 of the 66 tallies the Cubs have made to date.

"Hago" Harrington, Providence, was fourth on the list with 20 points and three others were tied for fifth place with 17 points, Rivers of Providence, and Eddie Burke and Paul Runge of the Arrows.

Ellis Pringle, New Haven, continued as the league's highest point carrier with 23 minors and a major sentence. Peter of Philadelphia, followed with 23 minors and a major, and there was a third place tie, Bill Hegan, New Haven, and Joe Jerwa, Boston, each having 21 minors and a major.

COLLEGE GAMES THIS WEEK
New York, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Pennsylvania's Quakers, pace setters in the eastern intercollegiate basketball league, will be idle this week, but a four game schedule has every other team into action at least once.

The opening shot of the week will be fired in New Haven tonight when the Yale Bulldogs make their first league start against Dartmouth. On Saturday Princeton will play Dartmouth at Hanover and Cornell will invade New York to face Columbia.

COURT GAME PAYS FOR OTHER SPORTS

Basketball Continues To Show Profits, Also Increase In Attendance.

(Written for Associated Press)
Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Basketball in 1933 continues as a healthy and profitable sport. Changing financial conditions have been met by a widespread reduction in admission prices, resulting—along with other influences—in increased attendance.

Basketball, in most colleges, is the only sport besides football that pays its own way. In secondary schools, the game does even better and in many cases it goes a long way toward supporting the athletic program. In a great many states, the public school athletic associations are almost exclusively supported by the income from basketball tournaments. This condition will continue nationally as long as the game holds the present measure of spectator and player interest.

A leading factor in the extensive interest shown in the game this year is found in the new rules. A. increase in "stalling" tactics and more prevalent than this, a great increase in deliberate and gross fouls to lessen interest in the game. It was asked of the new rules that they speed up offensive play and, if possible, reduce stalling. This the new rules have done. Contrary to fears expressed by many persons, there has been no increase in whistle blowing; in fact the tendency has been toward less interference on the part of officials.

I believe that basketball is the ideal indoor sport for schools, and colleges. It is a fast game, filled with action.

SLAUGHTER IN BOUT TONIGHT

Boston, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Sammy Slaughter, highly touted, negro middleweight contender from Havana, will make his bow to the Boston boxing public tonight when he engages Norman Conrad, Wilton, N. H., youngster, in the 10-round feature of the Argonne A. A.'s first 1933 show at the Arena.

Bud Taylor, former bantamweight champion, has piled up 24 knockouts in 39 starts and was due to start as a top-heavy favorite over the New Hampshire boy, Leo Larive of Waterbury, Conn., former New England middleweight titlist, and Dutch Leonard, Waltham, will provide the eight-round semi-final. The preliminary card included five four-rounders.

Knight and Slaughter May Fill Vacant Fight Thrones

New York, Jan. 16.—One of the tasks confronting the National Boxing Commission at the start of 1933 is the filling of two vacant thrones in the light game.

Knight, a 25-year-old soccer, has beaten both George Nichols, former N. B. A. titleholder, and Maxie Rosenthal, champion in the eyes of the New York Boxing Commission. In addition to Maxie and George, Joe has taken Bob Odwin, George Courtney, Yale Oudin, Mattie Brown and a bunch of other boys into camp. Such a record should give Joe the inside track.

HEIGHTS, HERALD, SONS OF ITALY WIN IN SENIOR LEAGUE

Independents, Celtics and Dills Are Defeated In Close, Hard Fought Games Saturday night.

Before a good sized audience at the East Side Rec on Saturday night, the Heights, Herald Newboys and the Sons of Italy were returned victorious in a schedule of games in the Rec Senior Basketball League. In the first game of the evening the league leading Heights had little difficulty keeping their record clean defeating the strong Independents 32-24.

The Heights held the upper hand throughout the game which was more interesting than the score would indicate. "Bingo" Swenson played the stellar role for the league leader, while Anderson, Kerr and Larson worked hard for the Independents.

The second and best game of the night brought together the Celtics and the Herald Newboys, the latter winning out by the narrow margin of two points after a five-minute overtime session had been played. The young Herald team surprised the older Celtics with their team play and the Newcarriers showed again that their team will be up near the top after several more games.

In the final game the Sons of Italy staged a second half rally to defeat the much improved Dill team by the score of 28-25, trailing at halftime the Italian led by Opizzi and Farr, soon overcame the lead of the Dills team never to be seriously threatened again. The losers played a hard game and committed many fouls in an attempt to stop the scoring of the winners. The reliable Courtney at right forward as usual shouldered the bulk of the scoring for the Dills.

On next Saturday night the schedule brings together the league leading Heights and the fast coming Herald Newboys team. The second game finds the Celtics battling the Dills. Five points in the last game brings the Sons of Italy and Independents together.

The Rec Five will play its twentieth game of the season against the East Providence Town Team tomorrow night and will attempt to break a two-game losing streak.

This will be the first time that Col. C. E. Condon will appear in an additional role on the squad, and together on a local court and it is expected that this combination will provide the Recs with the strength necessary to gain a victory.

The interest of local fandom will undoubtedly be centered on the Guards-All-Burnsides clash Wednesday night in view of the high caliber of both teams and the fact that the Guards gained a hard fought triumph at East Hartford recently 41-30. The Burnsidess claim that several of their players were ill and in top form have been and team alike are confident that the outcome will be just the reverse on the Armory floor.

Because of the illness of Mert Ballag, the Burnsidess have added Jim Cotter to their lineup which includes the Thayer brothers, Eddie Nicols and Van Powell. This combination defeated the Knights of Lithuania last Friday, mainly through the unsteady basket shooting of Eddie and Bill Thayer.

Guards Are Confident
The winning spirit of the three games which began with the victory over the All-Burnsides was on short Saturday night when the Guards led before the Brooklyn A. C., previously beaten here, and the Guards are determined that their record of losses shall extend to five games. The Burnsidess have played three games, winning eight and losing five.

Now that Manchester Trade has halted a three-game losing streak by routing Torrington, here last Friday, 41-28, the Mechanics will attempt to continue on the right side of the ledger by turning back Meriden Trade Friday afternoon.

Meriden edged the locals by one-point in Meriden recently winning 17-16, but Coach Walter Schuber's charges are confident of evening the score on their home floor. The Trades have won five out of nine games played so far this season.

Los Angeles, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Tourament golfers of the nation came back to the United States today after their stand at Agua Caliente, Mex., for the last bit of western money before taking the southern route east. Heading the pack was Craig Wood, leading money winner by virtue of three victories and a tie for third, followed by Paul Runyan, newly crowned Agua Caliente open champion.

Wood, playing the most spectacular game of his career, had earned $3,971.89 for less than two months of effort on the Pacific coast. This was scarcely a third of what he would have won in more prosperous times when the prize money in the California amounted to $51,000 and about half what George Ver. Blin won in 1931 as the leading collector of cash.

An amateur-pro tourney of one day duration, with $500 and gate receipts as the incentive, will be held at Long Beach tomorrow to top off the winter season in the far west. A $1,000 tourney opens at Phoenix, Ariz., Friday.

Wood missed by three strokes, winning all of the West's big tournaments in one of the most remarkable displays of consistent play ever known to the winter season. Wood picked up $151.35 as winner of the San Francisco open, added $1,000 more by taking the Pasadena championship and collected $1,029.26 when he became Los Angeles open champion. His tie for third place behind at Agua Caliente Saturday added $780 more.

Runyan was second with $1,477.60 as his share, the most of which was collected in winning the fourth Annual Agua Caliente test with 287 strokes, one under par.

Third high winner for the winter season was Willie Hunter. He failed to win a tournament, but finished sufficiently well up in all of them for $1,570 profit. Leo Diegel was fourth with $1,269.70 and Horton Smith, Oak Park, Ill., once the big money winner of the money events, finished fifth with $1,070.

Fred Morrison who headed the ledger a year ago by winning the Agua Caliente open, was runner-up at $5,746.66, was tenth on the list this season, gathering only $715.99. He failed to collect even caddy fees in the defense of his title at Agua Caliente. Olin Dutra earned $627.75.

SENSE AND NONSENSE

When the car stopped out on the highway and an investigation disclosed that there was no gasoline, the "backseat driver" said: "Well, why stop here? Why don't you drive on to a filling station?"

About the only "blessed event" the young couples of today look forward to, is the day when the last installment on the car is paid.

Too many modern girls, are more interested in having a car of their own, than they are a husband of their own.

Ikey—Ohhhh! vat you tink? I vas arrested for speedink today.
Able—Vat, you? Vy, you have no car, half you?
Ikey—No, not dat. Speedink on de sidewalk.

Some men buy cars they can't pay for, some build homes they can't keep up, — others simply marry the type of girl they can't afford.

Warning To Drivers

It is an easy matter to lose control of your car — Especially if you are behind on the payments.

Getting married, is like driving a car with silent gears. Women can now shift from first to second and third husbands, without a clash.

After some young men enter an engagement they act like a motorist who has entered a one-way street. The first thing they think of is to back out.

The man who rocks the boat is the same fellow who never slows up for a grade crossing.

His Boss—Judson, I found this long blonde hair on the back seat of my limousine. My wife's hair is black.
Chauffeur—I'll give you an explanation, sir.
Boss—Explanation nothing. What I want is an introduction.

You can always tell when you get on the wrong road; there are no detour signs.

The best means of accident prevention would be a delicate contrivance to lock the steering wheel when it smells hootch or booze.

On Back Seat Driving

A man was driving a car, hoping to reach a certain destination at a certain time. From the back seat his wife said: "Don't turn there, jive on three blocks." He did, losing the way altogether. Finally, turned back, going into the street he started to enter in the first place. He reached his destination too late to keep his appointment, and, of course, was mad. Here's a rule for backseat drivers, who are married: When your husband is driving the car have confidence in him. Trust him as a driver. If you can't do that, get out of the car and stay out.

Everybody is for lowering the automobile license fees. It means that much more money for gasoline.

A Girl Says: "Boys are like a fiver, easy to get started, but you never know just how far they will go."

Ragson Tatters—I have an attachment on my Ford.
Friend—What's it for?
Ragson—For debt, of course.

Finally all highways will be widened and then two cars can start around you and meet two more and tangle six at once.

HARD TO ENTER

El Paso, Tex.—Anastacia Vega found that it is almost as hard to enter Federal Prison as it is to get out. Several weeks ago Vega was fined $100 for violation of the prohibition law. He pleaded with the judge to let him have a month to pay the fine because his wife was going to have a baby. The judge agreed. When Vega reported at the federal detention farm to serve 30 days in default of the fine he had to plead with the doorman, who thought he was joking, to let him in.

"PRACTICAL SLAVERY" EXISTS IN THE SOUTH

Preacher Here Yesterday Tells of Work Being Done Among Negroes and Poor Whites.

An interesting description of the welfare work among the negroes and mountain white people of the South was given by Dr. Mark E. Dauber, superintendent of the Bureau of Home Missions of the Methodist Episcopal church at the evening meeting of the South Methodist church yesterday. Dr. Dauber also spoke at the morning service in Vernon Sunday.

During his years of work in the rural districts, Dr. Dauber admitted finding "that a virtual state of 'peonage' exists in the South. Dr. Dauber called this condition one of 'practical slavery'." The speaker described one touching case in which a negro youth had been fined $5,000 for a minor offense. Investigation disclosed that the boy had been working over two years to work out his fine and when the case was investigated had not completed the amount of work necessary to complete the payment of the fine. When asked how it had happened before, the officials replied that "he hadn't worked it out."

The speaker described the home conditions in the South in the mountainous districts and in the farming sections. During his labors in the South he was assigned to the small towns.

YOUNG CYCLIST STRUCK BY AUTO

Kenneth Bieu, 10 Years Old, Badly Hurt - Hit By Hartford Doctor.

Kenneth Bieu, 10, of 396 Hartford Road, was struck and critically injured by an automobile driven by Dr. Robert M. Yergason of 50 Farmington avenue, Hartford, opposite 250 West Center street at 5:15 yesterday afternoon. The boy was standing on the rear axle of his tricycle which was being pushed along the highway, four feet in from the shoulder of the road when struck. Dr. Yergason took the boy to the Manchester Memorial hospital and reduced a fracture of the left leg above the ankle and placed the leg in a cast.

Blinded by Lights. Dr. Yergason reported to the police that he was driving west on West Center street upon approaching the scene of the accident, passed four or five cars. The headlights of which blinded him. He said he reduced his speed to 20 miles per hour in passing, and suddenly felt an impact and saw a waving in front of the bumper. At the same instant he saw the head of another boy, off the road to the right of his car. When the car was stopped, he extricated the boy from beneath the bumper and rushed him to the hospital and set the fractured leg.

Officer Herman Muske investigated the accident and reported that marks in the street indicated that the boy had been dragged 20 feet, the automobile having stopped within that distance after the impact. The car was traveling at an estimated speed of from 20 to 25 miles per hour, the report stated. Leroy Bieu, a brother of the injured boy, who was accompanying him at the time, and Everett Peterson of 167 Palm street, were witnesses to the accident.

Has Concussion of Brain. The only mark on the Yergason car was a twisted right headlight. The accident occurred 40 feet west of a street light. Besides the fractured leg above the ankle, Kenneth had a concussion of the brain. He lost a front tooth, and sustained abrasions on both legs and a split lip. Dr. Yergason is a bone specialist and has performed many operations in this town. He was not held responsible today to be on the danger list at the Manchester Memorial hospital.
