SILK ROBBERIES ARE ON DECREASE

Silk Men So Well Organized Now That Thefts Are Becoming Difficult.

Paterson, N. J., Feb. 1.—(AP)—There still are silk thieves daring enough to hijack a truck load of silk in mid-town New York, but their racket is growing increasingly less profitable. The silk industry, taxed by highway robberies too long, is fighting back with success, according to statistics.

The industry's organization, which works with police, swung into action immediately when four bandits hijacked a $10,000 truck load of silk in the heart of Manhattan yesterday.

For the industry, the robbery was just another skirmish in the battle that began in 1922 when silk truck hold-ups cost silk manufacturers more than $2 million.

In 1933 the hold-up loot had shrunk to $68,000, of which $40,000 worth was eventually recovered. Studying the narrative of the fight is a record of convictions of silk thieves, "fences" and crooked silk dealers.

A large number of silk manufacturers, banded together in the Silk Association of America, met the threat of holdups by careful organization of their trucking fleets.

As a further precaution all the trucks are equipped with clock-like devices which register on a small chart the hour and length of time a truck is in motion, or halted.

When a holdup occurs, it is now possible with the aid of this device to retrace the route of the hijacked truck, determine whether the stolen silk was unloaded at a "drop," and to learn other facts that facilitate investigation.

In addition to this the truck is never left alone, and stops for gasoline or meals are made only at designated places.

Queer Twists In Day's News

Louisville—An elaborate cafeteria, fully equipped with range, refrigerators, pots and pans and with facilities to serve 1,200 persons, but no cooks or grocers, stands idle in Louisville's new Federal building.

Under government regulations, employees are the only ones eligible to operate it. James P. Thomas, custodian, says no employee has shown a disposition to start. Postmaster G. Carney Gross says he hopes no one does, because he believes it would be unnecessary.

Gross says final disposal of the shiny new equipment is a problem for the Treasury Department.

Gary, Ind.—Gary's Board of Works is puzzled by George Filgutt's thoroughness as a mover. He moved his family and furniture to Chicago. Then his four room cottage was jacked up and crumpled down the street.

Chicago—The budget problem, is no longer a worry to the Rev. W. E. Hillson, pastor of the Hibion, La., Community Methodist church. He takes part of his salary in farm products, including hogs and music lessons.

Osage City, Kas.—A hog with a desire to scratch its back—chose a loaded rifle which leaned against a fence post. The porker rubbed against the trigger and the bullet went through the thigh of Will Regardt, who owned both the rifle and the hog.

Dallas—A jail cell was preferred to cold night air by a burglar suspect, who, clad only in underwear, leaped from the second story window of his hotel room as detectives came down and waited. Presently the telephone rang.

"I'm ready, come and get me," the suspect begged. They did. Alton, Ill.—Don't talk diet to Robert Wadlow, for he'll hear none of it.

Robert, who will be 15 years old Feb. 22, tips the scales at 340 pounds, but wishes to gain a little. His height is seven feet eight and one half inches.

The youth, who is in his second year in high school, spends part of his time taking care of his five months old brother, but he doesn't wish the baby to be as large as he is when he grows up.

He finds his size a bit of a handicap in play with other boys.

Akron, O.—When Sheriff Ray Potts started wearing bright yellow gloves an agent, his deputies said plenty to one another.

CHECKERED SHOES TODAY'S FASHION

Printed Crepe Gloves Matching the Frocks Are Shown At Paris Exhibit Today.

Paris, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Checked shoes and printed crepe gloves matching the frocks with which they were worn were featured in today's fashion shows indicating that the coming season will be one in which accessories will be matters of first importance.

A suit of Navy crinkled crepe with printed white flowers and having a white crepe blouse with printed blue flowers was worn with printed gauntlet gloves matching blouse. A navy and white checked linen frock having a big white organdy bow on the left neckline was accompanied by shoes with toes of blue kid and back quarters of blue and white checked linen and gloves cuffed with the same check.

There were wool frocks everywhere in soft pliable weaves and colors of beige, grey, chartreuse, cherry red and navy. They were designed on slender silhouettes with natural waistlines and skirts 12 inches from the ground.

Brighter colored frocks often were accompanied by matching above-length capes and neutral-toned dresses were worn with brief leopard capes. There also were many frocks of black and white plaid wool woven in a pattern called the chicken's foot trimmed with white pique touches and worn with nap-crowned straw salonn.

Hats generally were flat, pent straw salonn untrimmed except for a ribbon band and were worn at an exaggerated tilt over the right eye.

BURGLAR IS CAUGHT

Binghamton, N. Y., Feb. 1.—(AP)—Finally brought down by a flying tackle and an officer's gun butt after dodging a fusillade of detectives' bullets in a crowded street, Marvin Russell, 35, of Pittsfield, Mass., was under arrest today on a burglary charge.

Russell, arrested during an investigation into a house burglary, broke away from two detectives, bringing him into police headquarters and ran dodging in and out of traffic as bullets sprayed the streets. A tackle made by an unidentified man and a detective's gun butt ended the chase.

LEADERS OPTIMISTIC OVER THE OUTLOOK

See Many Elements of Promise—What Some of Them Have To Say.

Chicago, Feb. 1.—(AP)—A dozen leaders of the arts, industry and the social sciences admitted today they are optimists.

Asked to look beyond the present, each professed to see many elements of promise.

Not all were sanguine of swift, immediate progress in their fields of education, religion, commerce, human welfare—but, emphatically, each visioned in the developments of today the foundation for steady growth and better human society in the future.

Here's what some of them had to say: Dr. Walter Dill Scott, president Northwestern University—The educational institutions that survive this period of depression will come out with a clear realization of their true functions and with a better program to carry them out.

The Rt. Rev. George Craig Stewart, Episcopal bishop of Chicago—In my judgment we are now feeling the sting of a hurricane whose force is spent. If only our political leaders will stop debating which ladder to put up and which window to open while the house continues to burn down, if only every man and woman

SPANISH WAR RELICS TO BE EXHIBITED

To Have Cabinet Built and Placed in Municipal Building—Includes Rowland Collection.

Civil and Spanish War relics have been collected from various parts of the town for assembly in the Municipal building in a suitable cabinet to be constructed for display purposes.

The relics are stored in the Municipal building and measurements for a cabinet to be constructed for display purposes will be taken. Wilbur Loveland is chairman of the committee selected by the Permanent Memorial Day committee, to make arrangements for this display.

It is expected that the cabinet will be so constructed that sections may be added for the display of World War relics, of which there are many private collections. No definite spot has been selected for the cabinet but it is expected that it will be placed either in the second floor corridor of the Municipal building or the hearing room.

The collection will consist of old muskets, sabers, bayonets, flags, cartridge boxes, and many other kinds of mementos of Civil War days and flags, and a miscellany of relics of the Spanish-American War. Included in the collection will be contributed by the Ward Cheney Camp, United Spanish War Veterans, in the private collection of the late James Rowland.

STUDENTS ON STRIKE

Cambridge, Mass., Feb. 1.—(AP)—More than 100 young women students at Sargent School of Boston University are on a "hunger strike."

They refused to eat dinner at the dormitory last night, trooping to the restaurants in Harvard Square for a more informal meal.

Dissatisfaction with the food was said to have caused the strike, which Lucy Franklin, dean of women at Boston University, attributed to "the psychology of the dormitory."

The strike was begun when a mysterious note appeared in the small box of each suite in the Lenox Hall dormitory. The note read: "Do not go to dinner tonight."

TOMORROW GROUND HOG DAY

Chicago, Feb. 1.—(AP)—A lot of folk are going to be afraid of their own shadow tomorrow, and, if they are, they have a good chance of being fooled. C. A. Downs, chief of the Chicago Weather Bureau, said today.

For tomorrow is Ground Hog Day and so far as the Weather Bureau is concerned it isn't going to make any difference if the woodchuck sees his shadow or doesn't. "We'll keep right on having varieties of weather for the next six weeks regardless of whether Feb. 2 is fair or cloudy," Downs declared. He added that the probability was that winter days would continue to alternate with rainy and March were winter months.

BOLIVIANS LOST 925 IN BATTLE

Paraguayan Report Believed To Be Exaggerated; Says
German Leads Enemies.

Asuncion, Paraguay, Feb. 1.—(AP)—A Paraguayan communique today said that the bodies of 929 Bolivian soldiers had been found yesterday on the Gran Chaco battlefields in the vicinity of Forts Herrera, Corrales and Mapawa (Ayala). It was believed, however, that the figure might be exaggerated. Colonel Jose Estigarribia, commander in the Chaco region, reported: "In the Herrera sector were counted the bodies of 215 enemy soldiers and 14 officers, including Lieutenant Leoncio Altunape and Teofilo Salvatierra. Two hundred bodies were counted at Corrales, while more than 500 remained at Mapawa." He added, "the mountains of bodies piled in front of our positions showed the indifference with which soldiers of fortune are gaining control of the Bolivian army and are making the Chaco a slaughterhouse for the execution of Bolivians." The communique added that a German was commanding the Eighth Bolivian Division at Herrera.

POULTRYMEN CONSIDER AUCTION MARKETING

Study New Jersey Plan — Reduces Cost of Handling and Gets Greater Net Returns.

Hartford, Feb. 1.—Connecticut poultrymen may turn to auction marketing if they take seriously the information coming from New Jersey that the producers in that state turned to this method of merchandising in order to reduce expense of handling and thus secure the greatest possible net return for their products.

Alban E. Jones, Supervisor of Poultry Products Marketing for the New Jersey Department of Agriculture, has been engaged for the annual meeting of the Connecticut Poultry Association in Hartford on February 19, 20 and 21 to discuss the auction market situation in New Jersey. He will also assist with the judging of the egg and baby chick shows held at the same time.

Mr. Jones is expected to center his remarks around the three live poultry auction markets which are operating so successfully in this state. During his experience he has found that auction markets set up to fill a real need and adopting a definite policy return satisfaction to those whom they serve.

The largest auction market in New Jersey is at Flemington where the live poultry department was set up as a separate branch of the Flemington egg auction. This was started primarily as a service to the members who were selling eggs and has since resulted in many producers going in for meat production instead of eggs as a major product.

The second live poultry auction in New Jersey was established in the heart of the capon and heavy roasting section where the population has followed this line of production for more than a century. The demand for greater concentration of supply to bring about more competition among buyers has developed the auction market which is meeting with real success.

A third auction was established last year and Mr. Jones finds that while each of the three New Jersey auctions has had a different method of approach all have resulted in payment based on actual quality and more satisfactory returns to both producers and buyers.

MRS. DODGE CHOSEN DOG SHOW JUDGE

Niece of John D. Rockefeller To Pick the Best Dog In America.

New York, Feb. 1.—(AP)—To Geraldine Rockefeller Dodge, who has a habit of picking up stray mongrels in Central Park and taking them home to live with her pedigree pets in her house on Fifth avenue, has been assigned this year the job of picking the best show dog in America.

Mrs. Dodge, daughter of the late William Rockefeller and a niece of John D. Rockefeller, Sr., will select on Feb. 18 the best dog of all breeds at the Westminster Kennel Club show in Madison Square Garden, and it will be the first time a woman has picked the grand champion at that show.

Since the Westminster show is the largest in this country—about 2,300 dogs are entered this year—the winner becomes, in theory at least, the best dog in America.

One of Mrs. Dodge's qualifications for her job is that she has probably raised and shown in the last 15 years as many varieties of dog as any breeder in the country.

Owens 100 Dogs At present on her estate of between 7,000 and 8,000 acres at Madison, N. J., Mrs. Dodge has about 100 dogs—shepherds, pointers, beagles, bloodhounds, and English setters.

Mrs. Dodge's favorite is the German shepherd. Five of them live with her winters in her town house on Fifth avenue. One of the five is Teuthilde von Hagenschless—famously known as "Tillie"—28 times a champion.

And living in the same house with "Tillie" is "Louie," picked up by Mrs. Dodge in Central Park two years ago. "Louie" is apparently part spaniel, part Pomeranian, part collie, with several other strains thrown in.

WORCESTER PASTOR TO BE LUTHER GUEST

Rev. Martin L. Cornell To Be Speaker At League Banquet
On February 17.

Rev. Martin L. Cornell, pastor of the Greendale Lutheran church of Worcester, Mass., will be the principal speaker at the annual banquet of the Lutheran League of the Emmanuel Lutheran church, to be held Friday evening, February 17, it was announced today. The banquet is being arranged by the membership committee, Miss Mitzel Berggren, chairman, and the library committee, Miss Ruth Johnson, chairman.

Rev. Cornell is well known to local League members and is regarded as one of the best speakers in the New England Conference. His subject will be "Speak Up." Herman Johnson, president of the League, will act as toastmaster. A roast lamb dinner will be served. Members should make their reservations immediately with either of the chairmen in charge.

Friday night of this week, the League will hold its annual Valentine Auction, in charge of Miss Viola Larson and her tower committee. A short business meeting will precede the program and refreshments will be served.

Last night the League traveled to Meriden and presented a program there, consisting of motion pictures shown by Leonard Johnson, piano solos by Fred Lavey and a brief address by Rev. K. E. Erickson. Nearly fifty members made the trip in private cars.

RUTH HAS NO THOUGHT OF QUITTING BASEBALL

The Babe Says He's Good For Two Or Three More Years As He Starts Training For 20th Season In American League; Talks On Game.

By ALAN GOULD Associated Press Sports Editor New York, Feb. 1.—(AP)—There was a time when Babe Ruth thought he would be happy to round out two full decades in major league baseball and then retire to the bench or grandstand, occupying a sort of "emeritus" chair in the national game.

For the time being, at least, Ruth has cast aside any thought of managing a big-league club as a sideline. He would like to do with himself as he wishes, playing regularly at least two or three years more, maybe longer.

Ruth does not think Jimmy Fox will break the Babe's home run record of 60, though the Athletics' first sacker came within two of equalling the mark last year.

LAST NIGHT'S DEATH

One of the most thrilling chapters in the unending battle for land speed honors was the rivalry between the two great British drivers, Sir Malcolm Campbell (left) and Major Henry Segrave. It was terminated by Segrave's death in a crash of his speedboat, "Miss England," below, Campbell is seen engrossed in a quiet game of checkers while awaiting favorable beach conditions.

This is the fifth of a series of six stories on the career of Sir Malcolm Campbell, world's champion racing driver.

By TED GILL Daytona Beach, Fla., Feb. 1.—(AP)—Buried in a mass of recent automobile racing records is chronicled the story of a long, determined struggle between two of England's premier drivers for possession of land speed honors.

It is an engaging narrative of how the 48-year old driver dominated the roaring road, only to be dethroned repeatedly by the late Sir Henry Segrave, and how Campbell still is carrying on after his rival's death.

After blazing the pages of history with a succession of record smashing performances for more than a decade, Campbell touched off the spark of competition with Segrave in 1925 by hanging up a new mark of 150 miles an hour at Pendine, Eng.

Some shifts to Daytona entering the racing duel with Campbell the following year, Segrave, who already had made a name for himself in the racing world, captured the record with an attachment of motor.

Realizing even greater speeds could be attained here, Campbell rebuilt his old machine and came over in 1928 to again dethrone Segrave by dashing over the mile at a clip of 206.

With the record pushed well beyond the 200 mile an hour mark, the Segrave-Campbell racing rivalry became intense. Lying no time, Segrave built a new machine and returning to the beach in 1929, again regained the straightway championship by skimming over the sands at a 221 clip.

Death then stepped in to end the rivalry. Segrave, who had turned to motorboat racing, was killed in a water smash-up in England shortly after establishing a new world water mark of 98 miles an hour.

But for Campbell, the drive for racing honors was not ended. He came back in 1931 and increased the land speed to 246. Still not satisfied, he returned last year and boosted the mark to 253.

McCLUSKEY FACES STIFFEST TEST TO DATE ON SATURDAY

Brooksmith, Western Star, Expected To Provide Much Opposition In 3,000 Meter Event.

With four victories to his credit in as many starts, Izzy Joseph P. McCluskey, better known as "Bumping Joe," whose winning progress has brought him a wide assortment of titles, will face the stiffest competition of the current indoor season when he seeks his next triumph in the 3,000 meter run at the annual Madison Square Garden Saturday night.

So far this season, McCluskey has had things pretty much his own way in winning meets at the 3,000 meter, 5,000 meter and two-mile distances and he will be a heavy favorite to repeat Saturday.

CAMPBELL ARRIVES FOR SPEED TRIAL

Is Confident of Breaking Own Record; May Make Test February 10.

New York, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Sir Malcolm Campbell headed for the south and a new world's automobile speed record today. Stopping in New York only long enough to voice his confidence that he would capture his own mark of 253.98 miles per hour, Sir Malcolm boarded a train late last night for Daytona Beach.

He foresaw, ultimately, the possibility of a speed of 300 miles an hour, with a four-wheel drive car of greater power than his Bluebird.

WRESTLING

MIXED MATCH TONIGHT

A team of five girls and five men from Southington will bow against the Charter Oak ten at Farr's alleys tonight.

Local Quintet Opens Campaign To Regain Lost Prestige At East Hartford Tonight; Are One Up In Series But Home Team Is Hopeful of Treming Count.

The National Guards open their campaign to regain their lost prestige tonight, invading East Hartford to battle the St. Mary's on their home floor at the St. Mary's hall in the second of a three-game series to decide which quintet is superior in the basketball field.

The Guards will probably be in top form, not having indulged in basketball since last Saturday night, when the Phantom's of New Britain smacked the Guards for the second time to the tune of 34-23.

Bowling

In the E. of F. League last night at Murphy's alley, Team No. 1 took three points from Team No. 4. Team No. 2 won four points from Team No. 3.

It is expected that Wandy Waterman will also see plenty of service, providing a bull has healed sufficiently to allow the use of his services.

Tomorrow night, the Guards face one of the outstanding basketball attractions in the country—Olson's Terribles Swedes, who claim the championship of the world.

SENSE AND NONSENSE

KEEP SMILING!

If the way is dark and dreary,
Just light it with a smile;
If your spirit's tired and weary,
Just smile another mile;
For the sun soon may be shining,
In its rays for you a place,
If you stop for sad repining,
You may truly lose the race;
Just smile and whistle along,
If you falter in the morning,
You may win before the night;
If the sun is dark at dawn,
The sunset may be bright;
Just smile and whistle along.

YOU CAN'T THROW MUD WITHOUT GETTING YOUR HANDS DIRTY.

If a woman makes her husband a necktie out of an old dress, that is thrift. But if she should make herself a dress out of one of his old neckties . . . that would be news.

Gray—Did you fish with flies?
Returning—Camped—Fish with them? No. I fished with a net, camped with them, ate with them and slept with them.

FEBRUARY SHORTS: After a fellow has had a fountain pen about a week there isn't anything left in it but periods. . . . A Scotchman who spent $40 for accident insurance complains that he hasn't been in a single wreck. . . . That all men are created equal is one of those things everybody says and nobody believes. . . . We used to worry about getting into a rut. Now we only hope to get out of the hole. . . .
The best place of all to put your troubles is in your pocket—especially if you select a pocket with a hole in it. . . . The people that complain that they never have a show are generally waiting for free passes.
Users of safety razors don't talk themselves into having a message, shampoo, singe and hair tonic.
The person who used to say:
"I'll drop by sometime" now are shouting: "I'll be seeing you!"

Diner (to waiter)—What's the name of that selection the orchestra is playing?
Waiter—Go Feather Your Nest.
Diner—Go jump in the lake. I asked you a civil question.

THE PUBLIC GOOD THE PAPERS
ANNOUNCE THAT HE'S ACCEPTED A JUICY APPOINTMENT.

A young lady who said she was going to marry a doctor so she could be well for nothing, was advised to marry a preacher so she could be good for nothing.

A gold digger is a girl who isn't so interested in being loved from the bottom of a boy's heart, as much as she is from the bottom of his pocket.

A flapper said: "I can't get along with my boy friend lately. He ignores me, and if there's anything that makes me hopping mad it's ignorance."

Rev. Barrow was once called upon to officiate at the funeral of a married woman well known in church work. Meeting the husband of the lady a few weeks afterward on a very hot day, the minister said:

Minister—Awful hot day, isn't it?
How does your wife endure the heat?
He had forgotten all about the funeral!

YOUNG MEN TODAY CONSIDER
THEY ARE "BROKE" AT A POINT WHERE THEIR FATHERS
WOULD HAVE THOUGHT THEM-SELVES RICH.

All formal affairs call for the male to wear a coat and for the female to go attired in just as little as is absolutely necessary. Some of these times the men are going on a strike and shock a few people with some of their own ideas as to what constitutes comfortable attire.

Why argue? If you are right you learn nothing. And being wrong makes you so mad you don't want to learn.

He (annoyed)—You kept me waiting for over an hour.
She—Yes, but just think, I might not have come at all.

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS:

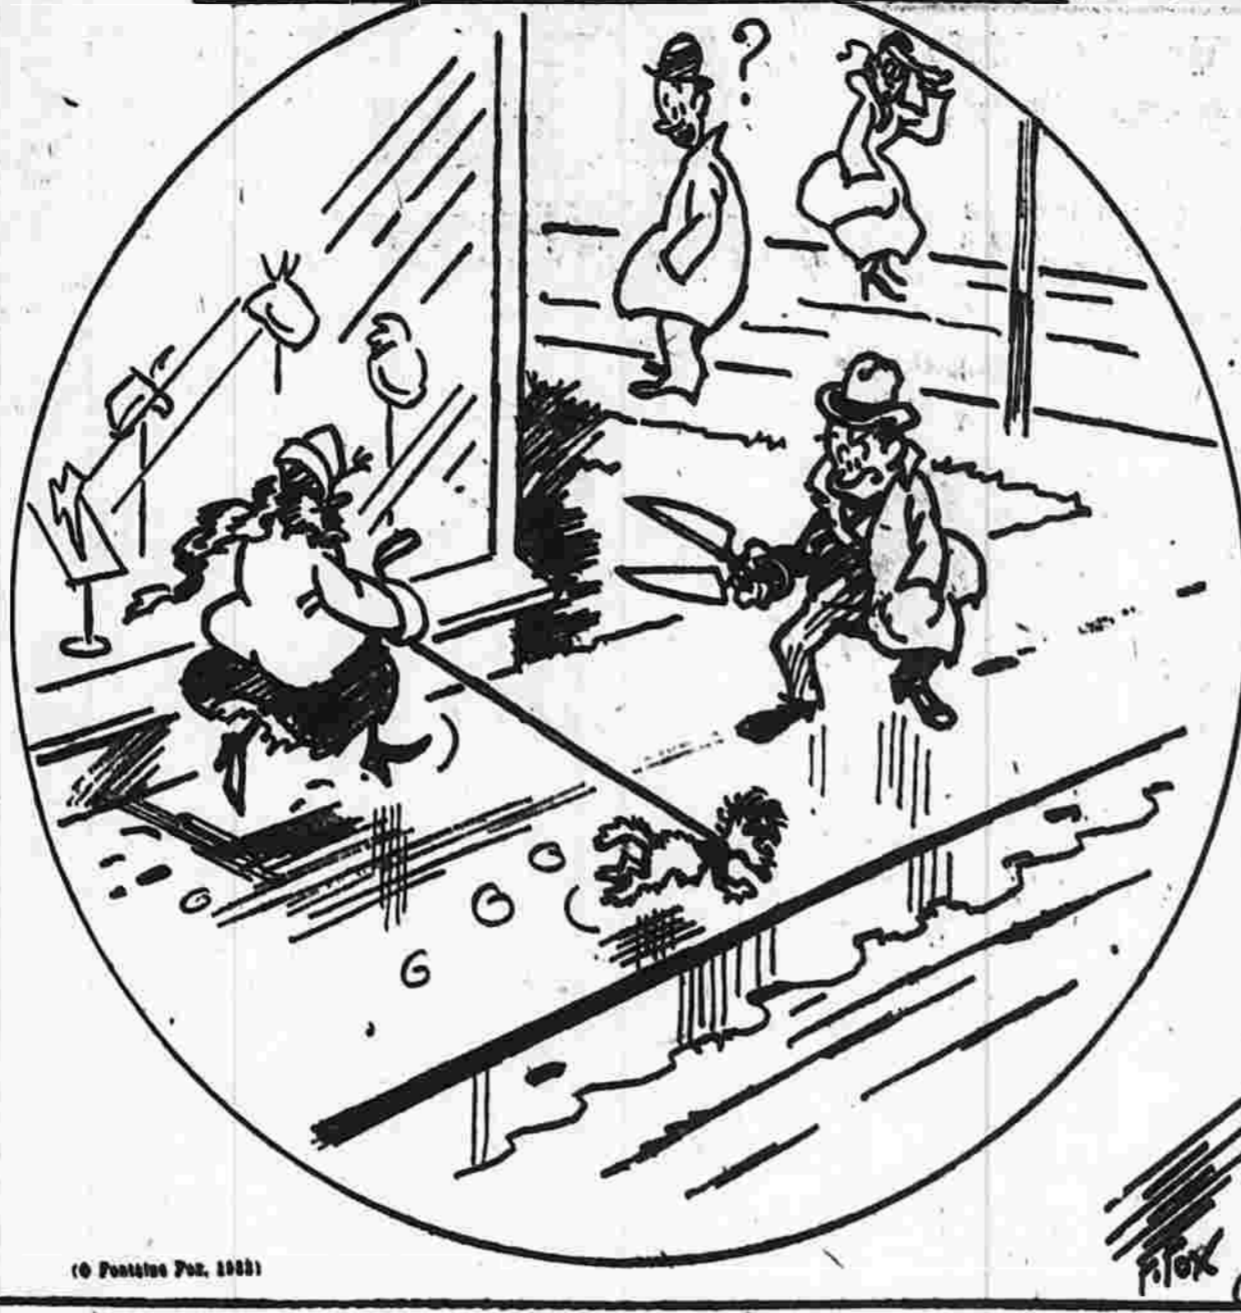

A girl can't always figure a man
out even when she has his number.
