DEFER GIVING COURT JOBS, CROSS URGES

Would Put Off Naming Judges Until Action Has Been Taken On Proposal To Erect District Courts.

Hartford, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Governor Wilbur L. Cross urged Senate Democrats today to defer consideration of the minor judgeship appointments "until definite action has been taken one way or the other on the matter of the District Court."

The governor in a statement sent to a caucus held by the 18 men of the party who control the Senate, said: "To proceed at this time to the selection of minor court judges, so far as this requires the cooperation of the Democratic Senators in whole or in part, is an unequivocal repudiation of the party's pledge in regard to District Courts, as it is absurd to suppose that, having elected one or more minor judges, the General Assembly would then proceed to act favorably upon the program for a District Court system."

Following the caucus, which lasted more than an hour, Senate Democratic leaders declined to say what, if any, action had been taken on the judgeship appointments and the governor's program.

Governor's Statement
The governor's statement follows: "Party success in the future will depend upon the party's accomplishments during this session. To make any progress whatever requires unity of action between the executive and the legislative branches. A test of accomplishment in carrying out the party's pre-election pledges. "While a number of factors undoubtedly entered into the election of a Democratic governor and a Democratic Senate, there is little room for doubt that the people of the state had in mind the beneficial results which would flow from the enactment of the several elements in the party's platform."

"Among the pledges made by the party at its convention in New London and repeatedly emphasized by me during the last two years was the establishment of a so-called 'district court system' or something analogous thereto. To repudiate this time to the selection of minor court judges, so far as this requires the cooperation of the Democratic Senators in whole or in part, is an unequivocal repudiation of the party's pledge in regard to District Courts, as it is absurd to suppose that, having elected one or more minor court judges, the General Assembly would then proceed to act favorably upon the program for a District Court system."

"As the governor of this state, elected on our Democratic platform I earnestly solicit my fellow party workers in the Senate to unite with me in carrying out the pledge and to refuse to consent to the matter of minor judgeships until definite action has been taken one way or the other on the matter of the District Court and analogous bills. If these bills fall, then to repudiate this action, but certainly the members of the Democratic Party in the Senate cannot be a party to it."

A public hearing on the District Court bill will be held before the judiciary committee on Friday of next week.

BRITAIN TO DEPORT OSCAR M. HARTZELL

American Claimed To Have Swindled Hundreds In U. S. While Living In London.

London, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Washington authorities are showing a decided interest in Oscar M. Hartzell, who is being deported to America tomorrow as an undesirable alien, allegedly having perpetrated a fraud on persons in the United States while he resided in England.

The British, which resulted in his deportation were connected with the prosecution of claims to the so-called Sir Francis Drake estate. The State Department at Washington has inquired of the consulate here which ship he will sail on and when he will arrive in New York.

He is leaving behind a life which aroused the envy of many of his acquaintances who thought him fortunate in his fine apartment, his car and chauffeur and his ability to dine in London's best restaurants. The consulate has been working for years, mainly through Consul N. P. Davis and Vice Consul Guy W. Ray. It was on information provided by the consulate that the British authorities acted.

The consulate is giving its version of the situation in a letter addressed, among others, to American Chambers of Commerce and to many individuals throughout the United States who have been inquiring about the alleged Drake estate.

KIDNAPERS RETURN PROFESSOR'S WIFE
Old Woman Held For Ransom Brought Home At Hour Marked For Death.

Los Angeles, Feb. 7.—(AP)—At the hour marked for her death, Mrs. Mary B. Skeels, 65, wife of Dean Walker P. Skeels of the College of Music of the University of Southern California, was returned to her home tonight by a gang which had held her captive for a night and a day.

Splitting her away at 8 o'clock last night, the gang left a long note stating she would die at the end of 24 hours. As the hands of the clock in the Skeels home, tensely watched by her family and friends, struck almost exactly at that hour tonight, the frail little woman came feebly up the walk.

She was crying hysterically. Her face was covered with scratches and bruises, and her graying hair was in disarray. She was incoherent when her husband ran down the walk and took her in his arms.

FIRE AGAIN CAUSES DAMAGE AT CONEY ISLAND

For the third time within a year, fire broke out at Coney Island—New York's famous playground—bringing a loss of about $250,000. The fire started in a flimsy structure known as "Nights in Venice" and spread rapidly to adjoining property. Firemen were handicapped by the bitter cold which froze water on the structure. Above may be seen firemen pouring water onto a flaming building.

BRITAIN TO SETTLE DEBT WITH A SINGLE PAYMENT

Report From London Says U. S. Will Be Offered One Third of Sum Planned To Be Paid In Next 50 Years.

London, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Reliable sources had put their stamp of authority today on reports that Great Britain would seek to settle the American war debt immediately with a single payment. The new British debt commission was expected to offer that payment of about one-third of the sum now allocated for settlement in the next 50 years.

The plan, frequently suggested in the past, appeared to have emerged from the field of speculation simultaneously with the arrival of Sir Ronald Lindsay, British ambassador to Pittsburgh, and from Corpus Christi to Duluth showed an almost solid area of snow and rain. In that great expanse only a tiny oasis recently on plans for the forthcoming debt conference in Washington.

A new development today was the information that Sir Ronald would not return to Washington for three weeks. It has been thought he would hurry back to Washington at the end of this week, and his failure to do so revived the possibility that Sir Ronald would be a member of the British commission.

NEW YORK TO SUE STOCKHOLDERS
State Seeks To Recover $25 A Share Levied To Protect 40,000 Depositors.

New York, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Suit against more than 16,000 stockholders of the Bank of United States to recover an assessment of $25 a share levied by the state superintendent of banks was filed in Supreme Court today.

First announcement that the suit has been filed was made at the office of Joseph A. Broderick, the superintendent of banks. Broderick said that proceedings to enforce the assessment has also been instituted against stockholders of the bank living in Massachusetts, Connecticut, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and numerous other states.

SUBS, PLANES ARE PURSUING DUTCH CRUISER

Native Mutineers In Control of Warship Radio That They Plan No Violence and Will Return Stolen Craft.

Batavia, Java, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Chased by warships, submarines and flying boats, the fugitive Dutch cruiser De Zeven Provinciën, with native mutineers in control, was west of Nias island today, making for the Java naval base at Sourabaya.

The ship, on which the natives, mostly Sumatrans, kidnaped eight of their Dutch officers after a dispute over pay, was proceeding at a speed of seven knots, apparently to complete his 3,000-mile oar leg tomorrow, hopping off from French Senegal. He stopped to refuel last night at Barcelona, Spain, and was headed for Villa Cisneros, Spanish African coast town, today.

Other Fliers
The British Royal Air Force fliers, Squadron Leader, O. R. Gifford and Flight Lieut. G. E. Nicholson, shooting for a new long distance world record, were across the Sahara Desert and flying strong in their dash to Cape Town from Cranwell, England. Their goal is 5,198 miles; the present record of 5,012 miles was set in the New York-Turkey flight by Russell Boardman and John Polando, Americans.

Present Distance
They gave their distance as 2,770 miles, at 3:35 a. m. Eastern Standard Time today and their position over the northern boundary of Nigeria. A message to the London Air Ministry an hour and a half later was too faint to be deciphered.

Victor Smith, young South African star, at 2:30 a. m. (Eastern Standard Time) today from Southampton, England, as an effort to beat Army Johnnie Mollison's record of four days, six hours, 55 minutes for the flight to Cape Town. If the British Air Force fliers reach there, Smith's and Mrs. Mollison's flight by stages will be out of the record class altogether.

TO BROADEN PLAN TO HELP JOBLESS
Democrats In Congress To Ask For 300 Millions For Direct Loans To States.

Washington, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Strong Democratic support today was behind a new program for broadening the government's aid to the unemployed.

The program, providing among other things for an additional $300,000,000 direct relief loans to states, was regarded in many quarters as having a fair chance of passage in this crowded short session.

SENATE COMMITTEE SUGGESTS REMOVAL OF DAVID S. BARRY

BRITISH FLIERS SEEKING RECORDS

Mollison To Attempt Flight To Brazil—Two Others After Long Distance Mark.

Washington, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Immediate removal of David S. Barry as Senate sergeant-at-arms for sitting in a magazine article that some members of Congress accept bribes was recommended today by the Senate judiciary committee.

The case comes up in the Senate automatically in his afternoon for final determination. It was generally conceded the committee's recommendation would be adopted; Barry already being under suspension.

A motion by Senator Robinson (R., Ind.), to recommend permitting the 73 year old officer to resign was rejected by a vote of 11 to 4.

Immediately prior to the drastic committee action, Professor William C. Johnston, of George Washington University here, had denied reports that he had taught his political science students that corruption among the National Legislators.

Before Johnston was called, the committee questioned William Cheatham, 23 year old clerk in Barry's office and student in the professor's classes, whom the student body officer had quoted as saying the teacher taught that Congress was corrupt.

HAS ORIGINAL COPY
Washington, Feb. 7.—(AP)—David S. Barry, Senate sergeant-at-arms, presented the Senate judiciary committee today with the original copy of his article in which he said some members of Congress set their votes.

Veritably "on trial" before the committee on account of the article published in the New Outlook, he supplied the original copy of the only change that had been made in his manuscript in editorial revision by the magazine's editor, which he said was the substitution of the word "man" for "men" in the title.

He sat near the head of the committee table with his derby on the table in front. Only a few committees were on hand as the hearing opened, but the room was filled with spectators.

DEPARTMENT HEADS SALE AT PINEHURST

Mid Week Specials Offer Some Unusually Fine Values At Local Store.

Each department manager in the Pinehurst Grocery is offering unusually low prices in foods, groceries and meats in the mid-week special sale initiated by Pinehurst last week. The plan was so attractive to the manufacturers that the Pinehurst management has been assured of the co-operation and facilities of the wholesale dealers in continuing and making this weekly event as popular as possible among the increasingly large number of Pinehurst shoppers. This week the specials are better than ever. Sun-O-Mat is shipped some of the finest tiny green lima beans which will be sold tomorrow and Thursday at a very low price and one of the largest cans in California has shipped in 50 cases of new-pack peaches, both sliced and halves which will go on sale as long as they last, at $1.00 for eight cans or two for 25c. John Chanda of the meat department is giving one of the season's best prices on ground beef, 1 1/2 pounds for 25c and a very low price on bacon. There are many other special items in this sale which are listed in the Pinehurst advertisement in today's Herald. Since the first of January several of the nationally advertised items have been cut in price, and Pinehurst is passing these cuts right along to the customer, as may be noted in the Proctor and Gamble items advertised today in Pinehurst's two advertisements. Manchester shoppers have responded heartily to the mid-week special, resulting in extra savings in staple groceries and meats.

MONSTER HOG

Killingworth, Conn., Feb. 7.—(AP)—Farmers here have been casting envious glances on an immense porker which roamed the pen of John Heft, in Parker Hill road. The hog has been butchered. Dressed, the carcass tipped the scales at 708 pounds. Heft contended it was the largest hog ever butchered in Middlesex county. It was two years old, measured 8 feet, nine inches from snout to tail and was four feet tall when standing on all fours.

STATE OFFICERS VISIT LEGION'S AUXILIARY

Mrs. Frances Krause Guest Here Last Night—To Join Post For Next Meeting.

The American Legion auxiliary held an important meeting last evening at the State Armory, with guests from the different patriotic associations in town, together with state officers.

During the business session announcement was made that the second February meeting would be held at the auxiliary building to be met with the Legion Post the last Monday in the month. The president, Mrs. Ida Woodhouse, reporting for the Ways and Means committee, gave notice of the card party to be held at the Masonic Temple Friday evening and urged all members to attend.

Following the business Mrs. Grace Pitkin, Americanization chairman, presented the juniors in a short program. Betty Carrington played piano solo, Marjorie Inman gave readings and Evelyn Hoar, secretary, sang two solos. A talk on the national defense followed by the state president, Mrs. Frances Krause. East President Mrs. Mary Brozman, who attended the conference in Washington last week also gave a report on the proceedings. She stated that 38 patriotic organizations were represented among the 510 delegates from all parts of the U. S., Alaska and Panama. Of these delegates 311 were from American Legion auxiliaries. All sessions were held in the ballroom of the Mayflower Hotel. Mrs. Albert Blackburn, national president of the American Legion auxiliaries presided. At each session the pledge to the flag was led by the "Flag Lady," Mrs. Reuben Ross Holloway.

Mrs. Brozman gave a comprehensive account of the proceedings and the prominent women on the various committees. Nineteen resolutions were passed and these were read by Mrs. Brozman. The conference went on record as declaring in favor of a full strength army, National Guard and reserve forces, and reiterated its belief in the National Defense Act of 1920. Mrs. Brozman stated that stirring music was furnished at all sessions by the U. S. Marine band.

At the close of the program the hostesses served fruit salad in Swedish pastry cases, topped with whipped cream, and coffee. The table decorations were miniature trees with vari-colored gum drops.

DEFER GIVING COURT JOBS, CROSS ORDERS

Legislators continued to watch for some definite break in the threatened deadlock over the appointment of minor judges.

The Senate during a very brief session unanimously confirmed the reappointment of Charles L. Morris of Newtown as aviation commissioner for a four year term and of Edw. Taylor of New Haven as Public Utility Commissioner for a six-year term.

The House is not required to act on the Morris appointment but it must take action on that of Taylor. Under suspension of the rules the Taylor appointment was immediately sent to the House.

Following adjournment, Senate Democrats, reported as troubled by discussion in their ranks, were scheduled to hold a caucus to discuss their policy on the judgeships and other legislative matters.

Plans Bill Rejected

Concurring with the House, the Senators rejected a bill appropriating $8,500 for the purchase of an auto-gyro for the forestry department. A Senate bill making a deficiency appropriation of $65,000 to Uncas on Thames at Norwich was also rejected.

House Meeting

The first favorable report of the session from the appropriations committee was received in the House during a four minute meeting.

The committee reported favorably on the request for $50,000 for the care of soldiers at the Fitch's Home in Noroton. The appropriation is designed to care for soldiers not provided for in the 1931 Appropriations.

Senator Hackett of New Haven requested all committee chairmen to have ready for the appropriations committee by March 1 all measures calling for money grants.

A bill validating the acts of the Community Holding Company of Suffield was reported favorably to the Senate by the judiciary committee. The measure was tabled for printing on the calendar.

Following adjournment a busy April meeting of meetings and public hearings faced the Legislators. Chief interest was centered on public hearings before the judiciary committee on a long list of judgeships resolutions.

County Parleys

New Haven county Legislators were called together to act on its county budget for the next biennium.

A caucus of Republican Legislators of New London county was also scheduled.

The finance committee had on its program public hearings on several measures dealing with personal taxes.

The New Haven county Legislators were expected to defer action on the budget until next April. A legislative committee named to confer with the county commissioners favors, it is understood, that at the April meeting appropriations for only three months be authorized. Under the plan appropriations for the balance of the biennium, it was pointed out, would be authorized next September in the light of economic conditions then existing.

The budget as now prepared is understood to be $100,000 greater than that of the present biennium.

SENATE COMMITTEE SUGGESTS REMOVAL OF DAVID S. BARRY

ed Barry to cite anything in the letter charging a Senator had sold his vote.

Barry said the letter asserted Senator Davis (R., Pa.) had received money.

Placed on Record

Norris directed printing of the letter in the Record.

Walsh, a member of the lobby committee, said it found "there was absolutely no foundation" for the charge that money was paid to Davis.

"Do you still say you have read nothing more than Senator Nye?" he asked of Barry and was told "yes."

"Do you mean that Senator Nye charged Senators sold votes?"

"He said something like it, I said nothing worse."

Norris said the Nye letter made no charge impugning the integrity of the Senate, but merely called attention to reports for investigation by another committee.

Members of the committee quickly gathered as the hearing proceeded.

Appears Cool

Barry, as on former occasions, appeared cool, eyes peering sharply at his inquisitors from under raised eyebrows.

Senator Black (D., Ala.) said the appearance of the typewriting of the original article presented by Barry varied on the part that he said he was eliminated by the editors.

Barry rejoined he did not remember whether he had used more than one typewriter in writing the manuscript.

Questioned by Norris, Barry named William C. Cheatham, a 23 year old clerk in his office, as the student he said was taught in a local university that Congress was corrupt.

Cheatham, Barry said, typed his magazine article.

Turning to Senator Borah (R., Idaho), who denied yesterday the fiction he had written, Barry called attention to Cheatham's statement.

Testimony Unfolded

Norris interjected that he had talked to Cheatham and he was ready to testify that Barry's testimony was unconvincing.

Barry then presented to the committee a letter from a man signing his name as Charles John Meyers, of Neoga, Illinois, commanding his article.

Buckland Community Group Votes Money—Accept Picture To Be Hung in School.

The Buckland Community Club held its regular business meeting last night at the Buckland hall. It was voted by the club to provide milk for a group of undernourished school children, also to purchase needed equipment for basketball or other recreation. During the evening Mrs. Charles I. Balch presented to the club, to be turned over to the school a fine colored picture of Betty Ross and the Nation's flag, accepted by resolution of Congress June 16, 1917, as the national standard. The picture represents the committee, Robert Morris, Hon. George Ross and George Washington, who called upon Mrs. Ross at her home, 228 Arch street, Philadelphia, and with her suggestions produced a beautiful emblem of liberty.

The picture was presented to the late Charles I. Balch of this town by the American Flag House and Betty Ross Association for aiding in the preservation of the birthplace of our Nation's flag. Cards and a social time followed. The winners were Miss Stephanie Tamsky, Edward Stein, Joseph Demerhuth and Mrs. Cora Medley. Doughnuts and coffee were served.

MUSICAL SHOW

"World's All Right" Is Presented—To Be Repeated Tonight.

A large number of Manchester people put cares away yesterday and for more than two hours, at both matinee and evening performances in High school hall, laughed almost continuously at the radio broadcast by local amateurs in "The World's All Right." The different groups have been rehearsing diligently under the direction of Miss Mary Cavan of the Universal Producing Company of Fair-ield, Iowa, for less than two weeks and gave a smooth, finished performance. The show will be repeated tonight.

Harry White Announcer Harry White's voice was well suited to his task as announcer, and Miss Carol Waterbury, as studio pianist, was busy almost every moment. Practically her only resting period came during the delightful Old Fashioned Garden scene when Miss Arlyne Moriarty sang a group of songs in her charming voice, attired in an old-fashioned gown, as were the girls in this scene, with Fred Werner at the piano.

Little Gertrude Gardner drew forth much applause with her graceful solo dances in one of which she appeared as a colored mammy in the mirthful Dixie Cotton Pickers scene by members of the High School Glee club. The Tiny Tot parade, a group of little folks in night attire, with their leader, Miss Grace Tourtellotte, made a special appeal, particularly when one of the little lads from nursery land rolled out from beneath the curtain. The vested choir which proceeded from the rear of the hall to the stage, with its sacred numbers, contrasted effectively with the gaiety of the other scenes, which were enhanced by special lighting effects arranged by Harold Germain.

Costuming The costumes worn by the chorus girls in every scene were unusually attractive and colorful. It would be difficult to pick out which group excelled in either appearance or performance. The act calling forth the greatest merriment was undoubtedly that of the Hill-Bills, with its array of the best known comedians in town.

Included in the Hill-Billy scene were Jake Greenberg, Thomas Conran, Mark Clayton and Leon Holmes, Andy Anderson, Warren Gerrick and Carl Borst. Thomas Moore played the fiddle for the old fashioned dance. The Hill-Billy men were dressed to represent women in the sets. The high spot in this act was the pantomiming of the old-time melodrama, "Frankie and Johnnie," Jake, Tom Conran as Nellie Ely and Mark as the City Slicker brought down the house. Warren Gerrick and Raymond Campbell were among the dancers in this screaming comedy. Miss Elizabeth James and Andy Anderson, the former as Gerie Green, the vamp of New Orleans and Andy as "Lovin' Sam, the Sheik of Alabama," received a big hand from the appreciative audience.

The Stars and Stripes review is the grand finale. Many of the actors assemble on the stage for this scene. A. F. Howes as the soldier of the War of the Revolution, soldiers of the Civil and World War, Red Cross nurse, Uncle Sam and Columbus, with a chorus of eight High School girls in Uncle Sam outfits, making this one of the most spectacular numbers in the whole entertainment. "The World's All Right" is sure a cure for the blues, and those who have not seen it already are urged to do so as soon as possible.

The committee from the Booster club of the North Methodist church which is sponsoring the project includes Mrs. Thomas D. Smith, Mark Holmes, Melvin Cox and Mrs. John J. Flavel.

Needs Publicity "For many years this consulate general has been honored to receive persons in the United States from contributing funds for prosecution of claims to the Sir Francis Drake estate and other alleged old estates in Great Britain and it therefore earnestly hopes that this latest development in the Drake case may give the fullest possible publicity with the object of preventing other trusting people from being duped as hundreds have been duped already by this and similar frauds.

V. F. W. HAVE NEW PLAN
OF LIFE INSURANCE

"Family Group" Certificates Make Immediate Relief Funds Available To Veterans' Beneficiaries.

Commander Clarence Peterson of Anderson-Shea Post received a notice this week from National Headquarters at Washington, D. C., to the effect that members of the V. F. W. in good standing are eligible for insurance protection under a new plan of "family group" insurance that has been devised exclusively for distribution to members of the organization and their relatives.

According to details given Commander Peterson, the plan involves a death benefit insurance certificate that possesses a face value of $800 available immediately upon the death of the insured, a benefit draft being attached to each certificate upon issuance.

The V. F. W. policy carries no restrictions or conditions in regard to travel or occupation and requires no medical examination. It was designed to fill the needs of thousands of veterans who were forced to drop their war risk insurance and have been financially unable to provide some form of protection for their dependents in the event of sudden death.

Commander-in-Chief Admiral Robert E. Coontz, speaking in relation to the new insurance of V. F. W. members, said: "We regard the creation of this insurance division in our organization as a remarkably progressive step—one that will contribute still further to the welfare of our members and their loved ones."

"Moreover, the proceeds from this insurance plan which accrue to the organization will be used exclusively for the continued development and maintenance of the V. F. W. home at Eaton Rapids, Mich. By providing this protection for our individual members, we are also contributing to the health and happiness of the widows and orphans of our deceased comrades. We have every reason to believe that this insurance plan will be recognized as one of the greatest protection measures ever adopted by any veteran fraternity in the interest of those who compose its ranks."

Details of the plan will be discussed at the bi-monthly meeting of Anderson-Shea Post at the armory this evening.

Dr. Morley, professor in the department of mathematics at Worcester Polytechnic Institute, was a guest at the school yesterday afternoon.

Director Harold Turkington is looking forward with much anticipation to additions to the High school orchestra from the class of 1937-A. The first concert will be played at the Barnard school graduation banquet was composed mostly of this group.

It was announced by Principal Quimby, coach of the Debating Club, that try-outs for debating will be held in the assembly hall during the third and fourth periods on Thursday, noon 'ing of three-minute speeches on the subject of the election of the President by direct vote of the people.

Inter-class basketball for the boys of the school started last Thursday. Part of the practice session was held at the Army. Competition is for the American Legion cup donated by Dilworth-Corbin Post. This contest annually brings out 50 or 60 boys. These inter-class groups, together with a large freshmen team and the girls who are participating in "Blue and White" games, brings to nearly 400 the total of students who are playing basketball in actual competition during winter months.

A number of High school students are taking part in "The World's All Right" which is being given by the Booster Club.

Some of the students who are not taking swimming during the winter months "have been permitted to bowl" at the Recreation Center. This has been such a fact that several teams have been formed. The Girl Reserves have organized several such teams and have set aside certain nights for practice. Olga Weber, '33, is in charge.

BRITAIN TO SETTLE DEBT
WITH A SINGLE PAYMENT

Blue with the declaration of Neville Chamberlain, British chancellor of the Exchequer, who asserted that an agreement reached with the United States must be final.

A flat payment could be financed by flotation of British government bonds in the United States, thereby avoiding the immediate transfer of a large sum from the United States to the United Kingdom.

The financial editor of the London Herald said it was almost certain that the loan in the United States would be made to make one final payment. The proceeds, under the plan, would be handed over to the United States, with Great Britain being responsible for interest and sinking fund payments.

Deciding the United States already has more gold than she needs what to do with, Mr. Chamberlain said any further shipments of gold from here were out of the question.

While it was generally considered that Mr. Chamberlain spoke the views of Premier Ramsay MacDonald and the Cabinet, it was said today that the arrival of Sir Ronald Lindsay, the chancellor's outspoken debt discussant, began Parleys.

The "Big Five" of the Cabinet were beginning their conversations with the ambassador in London today, but he has not yet joined in the "Big-Five" conversations. If he is needed to transmit French views on the debt question he will be called to the attention of the Franco-British group apparently fell through with the French default of its December payment to the United States.

Some of the members of the "Big Five" may return to Washington with Sir Ronald or go there shortly after as members of the debt commission. They are the Premier, Mr. Chamberlain, Stanley Baldwin, president of the council, Walter Runciman, president of the Board of Trade, and Sir John Simon, foreign secretary.

WASHINGTON INTERESTED
Washington, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Widespread interest was created here today by dispatches from London describing a prospective British war debts settlement plan on a lump sum basis, involving amounts from $1,250,000,000 to $2,000,000,000.

For some time reports have been current that Great Britain would make some lump sum offer for a final settlement, but usually the sums mentioned have been under $1,000,000,000 or more in line with the Lausanne reparations agreement.

In each case, however, official Washington maintained a strict silence and that was true today. The present administration is concerned with the Lausanne reparations agreement.

Crop experts in Nebraska expressed fear of damage to wheat by the high wind, with little protection from snow. Trains in Iowa were as much as four hours late due to drifts. Fire trucks were hampered in reaching a blazing mill at Morristown, Minn., and it was destroyed at a loss estimated variously from $100,000 to $250,000.

now only with arranging the preliminaries for President-elect Roosevelt's forthcoming discussions with the debtor nations. Mr. Roosevelt has kept his own counsel, but the general impression is that he intends to exact trade concessions in exchange for any revision.

Congress In Doubt
A sum of $2,000,000,000 would represent a settlement of slightly less than 50 per cent on the total amount now due. Whether Congress could be induced to accept such an arrangement with or without tariff concessions is a question. The opposition against cancellation or reduction as expressed more than a year ago certainly has yielded little, if any.

Observers today were inclined to stress the fact that reports of the new British offer came at the same time as Sir Ronald Lindsay, ambassador to Washington, went into conference with Prime Minister MacDonald and other members of the British Cabinet. He supposedly had with him a vast amount of information direct from Mr. Roosevelt himself, gathered at a personal meeting with the incoming President at Warm Springs, Georgia.

Another question in the informal discussions here today was whether the reported British plan would have any bearing on what other nations might propose in their debts talks. The British have said that they were happy to talk debts here in March, but could not make binding agreements on economic subjects to be taken up at the world economic conference until all nations to be there have been consulted.

The German reparations payments were scaled down 90 per cent by the Lausanne agreement, leaving a payment of $750,000,000. This agreement, however, was condition on a gentlemen's agreement that an adjustment should be worked out with the United States on war debts.

To the millions who use a mouthwash or gargle for halitosis (bad breath), oral hygiene, and other antiseptic uses—here is news, indeed, of unusual savings. The makers of Vicks VapoRub have produced a quality oral antiseptic—Vicks Vortone Antiseptic—at actually less than half prevailing prices! The regular size, large 10-ounce bottle—usual 75c value—is only 35c.

The answer to the public's problem of antiseptic costs is made possible by the record low prices of raw materials combined with Vicks facilities for mass production. Born in a depression year and priced accordingly, Vicks Vortone Antiseptic brings a new revelation of economy in an article widely accepted as a modern household necessity.

Quality in keeping with the Vicks name and reputation is, of course, maintained in this new product. It is the best oral antiseptic Vicks Chemists could produce... and they were aided in their research by the chemists, bacteriologists and pharmacologists of their 16 allied organizations, both here and abroad.

Vicks Vortone is a balanced antiseptic. Mild enough for daily use without risk to delicate membranes. Strong enough to do everything an oral antiseptic can and should do. It is designed for all usual uses—in the customary way.

Unusual Trial Offer.
Of course, the only real proof of its quality—and its economy—is in actual use. To furnish such proof the makers have supplied drugstores with five million bottles of a special trial size at less than cost of manufacture. Each bottle contains 2 1/2 ounces—25c value. The price—while the supply lasts—is only 10c.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 7.

HUMANE MOVE BLOCKED

On two occasions recently this newspaper has urged, editorially, the necessity of providing one or more gathering places for unemployed men where, in inclement weather, they could find refuge from the barren loneliness of their bachelor rooms or get out from under the feet of harassed wives and fidgeting children as the case might be. We asked for suggestions as to how the establishment of such places could be brought about; what their plan and scope should be; what provision could be made for diverting the minds of the jobless from their plight—whether it would be possible to somehow or other provide them with some light occupation for their hands as well as their minds.

Frankly, we expected those editorials to arouse some interest. There are in Manchester many humane people, many who are intelligent enough to appreciate the lot of the man who must spend his time staring out of a window at nothing—the danger of demoralization that lies in the lack of any place to go. So it was a bit puzzling to us when the proposal fell flat.

Now we have learned an amazing, almost incredible, thing. We have just been informed by a citizen, who has long been active in the public affairs of Manchester that there is little chance of promoting such a work as the one suggested here, because the very people who would naturally take the lead in any such movement "are opposed to the idea of having the unemployed men get together and talk over their ill luck and nurse mutual grievances." The matter had already been proposed and the proposal squelched before The Herald took it up, our informant told us.

It is a rather shocking revelation that leadership in this town is so far out of touch with the actualities as to imagine that any good end is to be served by making the lot of the unemployed more miserable than it need be. It would be understandable if nothing were done to make it better because no one had enough initiative or clarity of vision to do anything. But to know what to do and how to do it, and then to refuse to do it because of some nervous apprehension of what the jobless might talk about if permitted to foregather—there is something so petty and so altogether unworthy about such a state of mind that it is difficult to classify it.

History is full of the effects of that kind of bourgeoisism; never yet have they been pleasant to contemplate.

GLASS AND GOLD

It is understood that protests have been made to President-elect Roosevelt against his reported intention of appointing to the cabinet four members of the Senate, none of them lame ducks and all supporters of the incoming President. The reported objection to these appointments is based on the ground that the removal of these four senators from the upper house of Congress would needlessly reduce the strength of the Roosevelt backing in that body and might possibly have an injurious effect on the power of the administration party there after March 3.

There appears to be a good many Democrats who believe that it would especially be a tactical error for Mr. Roosevelt to take Carter Glass out of the Senate and put him at the head of the Treasury Department. Perhaps these Democrats have not looked as far or as clearly into the future as the President-elect.

Senator Glass is a brilliant specialist in banking law. He has a rapier-like readiness in debate. He is one of the most powerful forces in the Senate. And he is an idolater in his devotion to the gold standard.

How one-sided is his mind in this relation was beautifully shown up in a Senate debate the other day by another senator of his own party, Mr. Connally of Texas, who is nowhere the equal of Mr. Glass when the latter has a bare tooth to stand on.

Connally and Glass were engaged in a colloquy concerning the former's proposal to reduce the gold content of the dollar. "I utterly disagree," said the Virginian, "with the quantitative theory of money." He denied that the Connally proposal would put up prices.

"Then do you contend that 16 grains of gold will buy as much of any commodity as 22 1-2 grains of the same gold?" And the fluent Virginian spoke no word.

Now it is entirely possible for a person to make a perfectly splendid secretary of the treasury irrespective of whether or not he believes 16 grains of gold will buy as much as 22 1-2 grains. That is a question with which the secretary of the treasury has nothing to do. The coinage of money and the regulation of its value are something for Congress to attend to. It is none of the treasury secretary's business.

Nothing can be more certain than that some sort of basic currency reform will be the principle issue before the next Congress. Mr. Roosevelt is for "sound money." The Democratic platform declared for "sound money." But there may be more than one kind of sound money—and it is very much to be suspected that Mr. Roosevelt will not be found, when he takes over the Presidency, stiffly championing the single gold standard. Not with a runaway inflationist Congress on his hands. Our guess is that the new President will be found to be quite broad in his definition of "sound money."

In which case, if it becomes part of the Roosevelt administration's policy to expand the currency, it would probably be much pleasanter all around if Mr. Glass were safely buried in the Treasury Department than if he were to be on the Senate floor, fighting his own President and his own party as the St. George of his gold. And he would certainly do just that. Nobody can hope to convert Carter Glass to or from anything—not, particularly, at 70-odd.

The currency question won't be half so big a problem for Mr. Roosevelt and the Democratic Congress with Glass out of the Senate. If they can get him to get out and take the cabinet job. Which isn't so certain.

HITLER

Herr Hitler's accomplishments as a practical politician are such "as should stir the envious admiration of some of our own. He prepares for the coming election and its campaign by controlling the government radio—there is no other—and thus giving his party the monopoly of argument over the air, and by gagging the press of the country. No newspaper can now circulate in Germany, domestic or foreign, which dares to criticize Hitler.

That, according to conventional political dope, ought to put the election in the bag. It will be interesting to see whether it does or not. It is rather doubtful whether even the simplest of German voters will fail to understand the reason of the silence of the Centrist, Socialist and Communist parties. It is equally doubtful whether such high-handed methods will not be tremendously resented. He seems to have gone just far enough to create adverse reaction.

There has been for some time considerable doubt as to the degree of the Hitler courage. It would seem that those suspicious receive considerable support from the new chancellor's campaign policy. If he had the stuff in him, the courage of his convictions, why should he resort to such roundabout outrages as these in the coercion of the people? Why not give notice that nobody would be allowed to vote but Nazis, and put his "storm" troops at the polls to see that nobody did?

Hitler has the will to be a complete dictator. It is extremely doubtful if he has the backbone, the stark nerve for the job. Lacking that he lacks all. We are still of the opinion that Hitler will last but briefly. He has gone up like a rocket and is likely to come down like the stick.

YOUNG DIPTERA PARTY?

Dr. E. G. Dolan, speaking at Rockville, put his endorsement on the complete wreck of the Democratic party in this state when he adopted Governor Cross' stigmatization of Old Guard insurgents within that party as "maggots."

They are on the outside of the hickberry, but when they're on the inside it's extremely difficult to deal with them; that was the burden of the governor's illustration. Which was, perhaps, another way of saying that he was prepared to fight opposition from without his own party but when it came to handling disloyalty within it he threw up his hands. "Maggots be maggots," the governor concluded, with more resignation and philosophy, perhaps, than political genius.

Dr. Dolan, in his Rockville speech, appears to have adopted the same spirit of bitterly disappointed resignation to the inevitable. In other words, as he sees it, the Democratic party in Connecticut is to be bereft of honor, the glory of victory, and all those jobs over which it has been amassing anticipatory lips. Nobody is to get anything, after all, but the Old Guard and these unconscionable and wicked Republicans with whom the Old Guard is, by Cross-Dolan implication—convicted of playing around. It's all very sad. Particularly sad because the New Guard muffed such an excellent chance to play around with the "Republicans themselves. All they had to do in order to lay away the Old Guard and Mr. Spillaway for good was to be just a little bit reasonable about the state patronage, play half-way fair with the G. O. P.—which after all is the majority party in Connecticut—and not let themselves go completely crazy over a majority of one (now likely to prove a mirage) in the state Senate. Instead they permitted themselves to become victims of delusions of grandeur, deliberately shutting their eyes to the fact that part of their army was inherently "maggoty" in character.

Still and all, we shouldn't think that either the governor or leaders like Dr. Dolan would be quite so frank in expressing their opinion of their intra-party insurgents. There is another election coming in 1934. How many of the state's independent voters will be anxious, then, to identify themselves with the self-styled "Party of the Maggots?"

A KNOWLEDGE OF WATER CURE IS VALUABLE

An old Greek story tells of Tantalus who was punished by being placed in water which covered his shoulders, but when he tried to get any to drink it always ran away from him. This is one of the most ancient legends about a person being treated with water, but the tale does not tell of how long the treatment lasted nor if it did Tantalus any physical or moral good. If he had only been able to use a fruit which was fast at the same time he might have benefited, but the story goes on that the fruits which hung over his head were wafted away by the winds whenever he tried to grasp them.

In modern medicine there have been numerous cases where patients were kept continuously in tepid or warm baths for several weeks. These were patients with burns and who ordinarily would have died, while with the hydrotherapy baths good results were achieved in most cases. They differed from the punishment of Tantalus, however, in that they were "sloved plenty of water to drink."

Until very recent years the only reference to hydrotherapy or the treatment of disease by water applications in medical-literature were found on the yellowed pages of the old "Nature Cure" books, but at the present time the value of water in the treatment of disease is being recognized by medical men, and the newer medical encyclopedias contain detailed reports on the subject. It is a good thing to know the correct use of water in treating various conditions. Such treatments may often be used at home and, if correctly applied, are simple, easy, cheap and effective. The value of water lies in its readiness to absorb heat and cold and in its solvent powers. It may be used as hot or cold water, as ice, as steam, or as vapor. Rightly used, water may relieve pain, promote discharge from wounds, lower fevers or produce circulation, overcome sleeplessness, soothe tired nerves, stimulate heart action etc., or it may be used as a cleanser both internally and externally.

Most people are at a loss to know whether to use hot or cold applications to relieve pain or banish congestion. If you will remember that there are just two principal uses of heat or cold as applied to the body it will be simpler for you to select the right treatment. Heat applied to the tissues will always relax muscular tension if applied to any spot where the heat can penetrate to the muscular fibres. On the other hand, cold will have the opposite effect of contracting the muscles while it is being applied. It is easy to see that, inasmuch as disease and pain are usually accompanied by contraction of muscular tissue, the most relief when pain exists can be accomplished by application of heat to the congested tissues. On the other hand, cold is valuable when one wishes to produce either a tonic reaction of the tissues or to prevent too rapid contraction.

Those who are attempting to cure themselves of any disease will do well to use two or three quarts of

LONG'S INFLUENCE MOUNTS WITH PROGRESSIVE CAUSE
By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

Washington, Feb. 6 — Senator Huey Long's relationship with the progressive group in the Senate is something which has not received adequate attention and will become of increasing interest in succeeding months.

The progressives, because of their general tendency to affiliate with Roosevelt, their augmented strength in the next Congress and their sponsorship of various measures which are receiving a favorable hearing in these days of economic stress, may reach a new height of influence.

The journalist's point during the great Huey Long filibuster was to isolate Huey and hold him up to lonely scorn as the infamous fellow who single-handedly was holding up the progress of a great nation. Some of the scorn was diverted to Thomas of Oklahoma and Wheeler of Montana, as if they must also be put beyond the pale for associating with the filibuster.

That picture was inaccurate because the progressives as a group, Republican and Democrat, were giving Huey their moral and active support. Their emotions were mixed indeed. Huey's tactics were concerned, but they were in general opposition to the branch banking provisions of the Glass bill which he so vigorously attacked. And they allowed him to lead the fight without hindrance, most of them admitting privately that he was making a really effective speech.

The cream of the progressives—Norris, Borah, Costigan, LaFollette and Cutting—voted against the clause which would have shut down on Huey. The fact that some of the most consistently standpat lame duck Republicans—Moses, Watson and Smith—had given comfort to Huey and also voted against closure for partisan or other reasons did not alter the relative solidarity of the liberals.

The most highly respected progressives, including some of the most valuable men in Congress, do not regard Huey, as an unmitigated blessing to their cause, but privately they give him his due. They regard him as shrewd, fearless, fast-thinking and ruthless, a believer in much of their fundamental program but not in their methods.

They admire his energy, many of his apparent motives, his wide knowledge of history, his seeming ability to remember everything he ever read and things like that. But they do not condone his rough stuff or his tactics reminiscent of the most unscrupulous reactionary or the hardest-boiled ward boss.

How close will be Huey's future relationships with the other progressives can only be guessed. The progressive need a leader, but it won't be Huey— even though he may dominate a small radical group whose nucleus would be the faithful Mrs. Caraway and his new hand-picked Louisiana senator, Mr. Overton.

Yet he may often take a leading part in their fights, since they couldn't stop him, even if they would. His association may let them in for some otherwise avoidable animosity, but he may also be a lot of help—especially if he develops a popular following among the "masses."

Huey's attack on branch banking was victorious, but he unquestionably overrates his part in that. He couldn't have gotten away with that filibuster if both progressive branch banking foes and conservative opponents of the Glass plan to divert big banks of investment affiliates hadn't been willing to let him go on, with the apparent aid of the Republican lame duck standpaters who were glad to see the Democrats embarrassed.

Branch banking wasn't just a Huey Long issue; it produced a fight between those primarily interested in strengthening the national banking system and those desirous of preventing increased banking monopoly by the "money trust."

SUGGEST SALARY CUTS

New Haven, Feb. 7 (AP) — New Haven County Commissioners are expected to present a budget showing an increase of approximately $100,000 over that of the present biennium to the county's legislative delegation tomorrow.

The budget it is understood will provide for salary cuts to some county employees.

IN NEW YORK

Swank Charity. New York, Feb. 7.—Charity's latest donation to the jobless actors has been an exchange where well-worn, trim-looking old clothes are handed out.

Keep Up the Front. There was almost as much truth in all caricature to those vintage cartoons of barnstorming players: the ham heavy, with his mouth-eaten fur collar; the frizz-haired ingenuus with "her air"—and all the rest.

Back to Broadway. Among current Broadway paragon: Ethel Barrymore's recent illness and her participation in a beauty queen contest will not interrupt her playing, as some rumors have had it. . . . Miss Barrymore has found a new British play, "Old Folks at Home" to be liking. . . . So the "royal family" goes on using ranks of the headline. An Actors' Dinner Club takes care of the stomach; but it's a studio floor watch brings the old "front" back and swallow-tails, broadway-wise and most double-breasted waiting inspection.

And reports from this place show that "front" has made a difference. To be sure, one actor who walked out in a "tux" is temporarily playing the role of a waiter in a hotel. Another, abandoned of his steady attire, has landed a stage role within a few hours of his material change.

New Banking Boom. Whatever else may have been whammed over the head by these tricky times, the key bank industry has made incredible strides. Scarcely, millions of parents are presenting their youngsters with piggy coin containers of all types and patterns. This thrift move in the home has resulted in some 4,500,000 baby banks being sold up to the spot of the year. With the demand growing and the increase being something like fifty per cent over other years.

Real Aid. Larger balloons have burst since then. The "two-bit" hallooing boys have been replaced by the less amusing ranks of the headline. An Actors' Dinner Club takes care of the stomach; but it's a studio floor watch brings the old "front" back

GAMBLERS ARE ROBBED

Boston, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Six men, armed with pistols, held up 10 men, allegedly playing cards in a Dorchester apartment house, early today and got away with $300, passing up a $500 diamond ring and $140 one of the victims held in his sleeve.

Police said they believed the men were playing cards and that news of the game leaked out. The victims told officers the robbers were of foreign extraction and had boasted they "came all the way from Worcester to get the money."

The victims told police they had been in the apartment for some time when a knock was heard at the door. Jack Ackerman, occupant of the apartment, answered. The caller pointed a pistol at him, forced him back into the apartment and five other men crowded in.

Two lined the alleged card players up along a wall while four others searched them, victims told police. The victims said the robbers got away with $300 but passed up a $500 diamond ring and $150 in cash that one of the men held up his sleeve.

Queer Twists In Day's News

Chicago—Piece by piece, the police said, one of the city's streets was disappearing. As rapidly as the city laid paving blocks they disappeared. They arrested Frank Valencic, a negro, as he pushed a wheelbarrow, loaded with wooden paving bricks.

"I use 'em for fuel," he told a judge. "The city is supposed to furnish relief, isn't it?"

He was fined.
Cincinnati—Diogenes would have sniffed out his lantern had he met Edwin Connors.
Connors, a car barn employee, recently filed a petition in bankruptcy, $474.04 liabilities and no assets.

Today he asked to withdraw the petition. He explained relatives he had been supporting had moved elsewhere, and he now could pay debts.
Kansas City—A few miles from complex city life lives Thomas A. Kincaid, 73-year-old hermit, who has built himself a concrete and stone home in the northeastern Jackson county hills. He scores all modern conveniences but one—insurance.

Having invested his life savings of $26,000 in an annuity policy, he spends much of his time writing poems on the value of such provision for old age.

Okanoma City—Mrs. Zora Schrigley wants a divorce from J. E. Schrigley, she set forth in a district court petition, because he "sits around the house to talk puppy love all the time."

Aberdeen, Wash.—Despite the fact 1932 was the wettest year in Aberdeen's history with a rainfall of 111 inches, this city's largest hardware store reports it sold more garden hose last year than ever before.

Phoenix, Ariz.—Robert Harrison's pleasant smile revealed four glittering front teeth of gold. Today he is sorrowful and pained because a robber, disgruntled over obtaining only $5 from his filling station, noticed his victim's gleaming bling work.

Grabbing a pair of pliers the intruder pulled the teeth.
Joliet, Ill.—Convict students at Richard Loeb's new correspondence course in the Illinois State Penitentiary are studying Spanish, English, Latin, Italian and mathematics.

"These studies will give them a chance," Loeb was quoted as saying. "They at least will be able to write a letter asking for a job, and if they study hard enough they will have sufficient credits to admit them to college."

Loeb is serving a life term for the "thrill slaying" of Bobby Franks.
Green Bay, Wis.—The chap who stole the ledgers from a local company figured the concern couldn't collect accounts due, but he failed to consider how many honest persons there are.

Since the theft, many customers have voluntarily appeared to pay their bills, while others produced their statements to show how much they owe.

The thief left a note reading: "Now collect," signed, "Avenger."

LINDSAY IS SILENT ON WAR DEBT TALK

London, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Sir Ronald Lindsay, British ambassador to the United States, arrived at 3:50 p. m., today in Downing street for a conference.

He entered the side door of the foreign office and posed for photographers but declined to give an interview.
Sir John Simon, the foreign secretary, who had visited Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald at No. 10 Downing street, crossed to the foreign office bareheaded a few minutes before Lindsay's car arrived.

The ambassador entered No. 10 Downing street with Sir John Simon at 4:30 p. m.
The prime minister greeted him and he went into conference immediately with the "Big Five" of the Cabinet, including Mr. MacDonald, Sir John, Neville Chamberlain, Stanley Baldwin and Walter Runciman.

The meeting lasted for an hour and three-quarters and a communique was issued announcing that there would be another discussion tomorrow.

CHAIN STORE TAX

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 7.—(AP)—A tax on chain stores is proposed in a bill before the New York Senate today.

A measure introduced last night by Senator John T. McCall, New York Democrat, defines a chain as consisting of five or more stores. The bill would put a tax of $3 on each store in a five-store chain. The tax would be graduated up to $100 for each unit in a chain of more than 30 stores.

Forest Park, Ill.—Forest Park residents will be able to keep tabs on police paydays by watching the policemen's walkers.

Five of the 13 members of the force, unpaid since September 15, decided to let their mustaches grow without trimming or other care until they draw another pay check.

Minneapolis—Whatever her weapon, Mrs. Margaret Mosher protects her cash box from burglars. Sunday night she drove a would-be bandit from her barbecue shop with a near-beer bottle. Two years ago she routed one with a shotgun. She might have shot him, she said, but she was tender hearted.

FORD PLANTS RESUME WORK

Detroit, Feb. 7.—(AP)—A number of Ford Motor Company branch assembly plants were back in production today and company officials predicted that normal production will be resumed sometime this week in the Dearborn plant.

A general Ford shut-down was ordered ten days ago when a strike in the Briggs Manufacturing Co. plant cut off the supply of automobile bodies. Some men already have been called back to the Dearborn plant since the Briggs company resumed operations with newly hired workers.

Ford officials said that all assembly plants that had been in production before the shut-down were ordered to resume yesterday.

TOWN HALL BURNS

Leicester, Mass., Feb. 7.—(AP)—Fire swept Leicester Town Hall early today. The loss was estimated by fire officials at $50,000.

Departments from Worcester, Cherry valley and Rochdale aided in fighting the blaze and preventing it from spreading to the high school and the Unitarian and Congregational churches, all in the same group of buildings overlooking Leicester common.

Ballots used in last night's town meeting, marked by a number of exceptionally close contests, were saved. The fire is believed to have started in the office of the town clerk.

Vital town records were in a fire-proof vault in his office, and are believed safe. Town Hall is on a high hill overlooking miles of country and hundreds were attracted. Traffic on the main Worcester-Springfield highway was choked for a time.

POLICEMAN ON TRIAL ON KIDNAPING CHARGE

Three Others To Be Heard For Keeping Jersey Man Prisoner and Demanding a Ransom.

New York, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Two suspended policemen and three other men went on trial today before County Judge Algernon I. Nova, in Brooklyn, on charges of kidnaping Ernest Schoenig, 48, of Pleasantville, N. J.

The indictments against the five men charged kidnaping and second degree assault. The defendants are Patrolman John Nevins, 28; Patrolman Arthur B. Graef, 37, both of Queens; Frank Miller, 35; Max Geller, 22, and Leonard Gawelczyk, 22, all of Manhattan. A special panel of 150 was on hand from which to select a jury.

Schoenig was kidnaped from the Brooklyn Federal building, where he had gone in connection with a prohibition case, on Dec. 27, last. Three men approached him in the corridor on the fifth floor of the building, showed badges and told him he was wanted in another case.

He was taken in an automobile to a garage in Brooklyn and later taken to an apartment in Manhattan, where he was held until January 10.

During the time he was held prisoner he charged that he was forced to write three letters to his wife asking her to arrange for $100,000 ransom for his release.

"Now rooms warm all over the house—and we're saving money too."

THAT'S the story of better heat in thousands of homes.

People say, "I thought I'd have to get a new furnace or buy some kind of attachments, but Koppers Coke is giving me perfect results in the old heater, and it's saving me a lot of work and money too."

That's natural.

Koppers Connecticut Coke is concentrated fuel for every furnace, old or new. It is so nearly all heat-giving, burnable carbon that it burns down to a fine ash. And there's so little of this waste that a whole week's ashes will go into a little pail about a foot high.

This rich carbon burns evenly and steadily, night or day, and makes a reliable fire that comes up quickly, or banks down quietly, as you please.

Use Koppers Coke and be free from handling heavy ash cans. You'll find shaking cut down to a little jiggle of the grates once a day, but you'll find your house is warmer and more comfortable than ever before. Of course you won't need as many tons, and each ton costs less.

Your regular fuel dealer can tell you all the advantages of Koppers Connecticut Coke. He knows how it is pleasing his customers, saving them money. Order from him as soon as your bin gets low—or phone us.

The balance sheet of the Company on December 31, 1932, showed assets totaling $31,453,764.65, of which the major items are land and buildings worth $10,166,306.64 and other telephone plant and equipment valued at $65,900,968.78.

In spite of the large net station loss, 35,959 new telephones were installed, most of which required additional plant or equipment. Continuing, Mr. Knight said:

"The extent to which we applied the principle of industrial rehabilitation is indicated by the fact that while our gross expenditures for plant were $5,224,000 the net additions amounted to only $379,000, the difference representing the retirement of plant and equipment generally, but it has at least afforded us no work that could not be economically justified. Conversely, we have not consciously withheld from undertaking any sound project that would serve directly or indirectly to maintain employment.

"The reduced volume of business and the smaller construction program necessarily introduced a serious employment problem. Full time work for all became impossible and we were faced with a choice between lay-offs to the number of those not required or the sharing of available work by all. While the latter course was difficult of adoption, by reason of the varying requirements in our several departments, we felt that it should be pursued as far as practicable and proceeded accordingly. This course has resulted in reduced pay to both office and employees generally, but it has at least afforded all of our regular personnel some measure of employment. Part time scheduling in the most appropriate way to meet the work requirements without hazard to the quality of service.

"Our policies with regard to construction during these unusual times have resulted in a highly efficient plant which is capable of rendering better service than ever before; in providing employment for our stable construction forces; and

New York, Feb. 7.—(AP)—S. Howard Cohen, president of the board of elections, forwarded a request to Mayor O'Brien today for an appropriation of $5,000 to defray the expense of retabulating every vote cast in New York City in the 1932 election.

Dozens of election workers have been indicted by county and Federal Grand Jurors as a result of investigation of the election reports and many discrepancies have been disclosed between reported figures and those showing on the election machines.

Cohen himself was sentenced for contempt of court shortly after the election because he refused to produce voting machines and other evidence but he finally purged himself by making all records available to the investigators.

HURT WHILE COASTING Stamford, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Russell Northrop, 11, received two broken legs and a fractured skull here this morning in a coasting accident. He was taking one more slide before going to school when he slid under a car operated by Frank W. McClellan. McClellan took him to the Stamford hospital where little hope is held for his recovery.

"Believe me, I want a Car that's Safe!" SAYS POLICE LT. AMOS ANDERSON, DARIEN, CONN.

"I gave them all the 'third degree'... and then picked Plymouth" WERE all thinking of safety these days. As Lieutenant Anderson says: "It's a nice feeling to have a safety-steady body between you and the other fellow's carelessness."

But safety's just one feature you get in a Plymouth... so let's pass over hydraulic brakes and the rigid-X frame.

In Plymouth you get a big, full-sized car... solidly built! You get a 70-horsepower engine... a "performance" foot on the road, yet mighty easy on your purse.

SAVES MUCH MONEY FOR U. S. FARMERS

Campaign Against Rats Started By Congressman Rogers Is Successful.

Washington, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Because Representative Edith Nourse Rogers of Massachusetts is a woman, and because all women loathe rats, 150,000 American farmers have been saved many thousands of dollars.

When the housewives of Westford, Mass., lamented three years ago that they couldn't drive the rats from their pastures and poultry sheds, Mrs. Rogers decided that here was a situation that needed attention. So she gave it her own.

She went direct to the Bureau of Biological Survey of the Department of Agriculture, and in the interests of some 90 families in the little town of Westford launched a campaign that since 1929 has spread through 15 states.

"Rats are the most destructive pest in the world," Mrs. Rogers will tell you, with a grimace. "They destroy vast quantities of food, kill chickens, spread disease and even bite children. Scientists declare that every rat killed will save at least two dollars worth of food and property each year. Farmer has estimated their annual loss from rats at $40 a year so you can see these campaigns have saved farmers many thousands of dollars."

Need Cooperation The secret of the government's war on rats was cooperation. In Westford 90 persons made their war at once, and the rats had no escape. Using a newly discovered bait, deadly to rats but harmless to all other animals, the rat killers were triumphant and peace returned to Westford.

The work of extermination, however, went on. The Bureau of Biological Survey cooperation with the local state and county extension service, and through a revolving fund maintained at the Massachusetts State College ingredients for the bait was supplied on credit.

The war was carried into 15 states, including state-wide campaigns over Connecticut, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Rhode Island and Vermont. Thirty-two counties in New York state waged a campaign on a single day.

And all, it seems, because a Congressman simply detested rats.

HITLER PREPARES FOR HIS CAMPAIGN

Real Beginning of Election Drive By Nazi Legions Tonight—His Program.

Berlin, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Chancellor Adolf Hitler's return today from Munich was the signal for the real beginning of the election drive of his Nazi legions.

Any possible indiscreet activities by his opposition has been forestalled apparently by the most drastic limitations on freedom of speech and assembly in the Republic's history. How effective will be the muzzling decrees approved by President von Hindenburg remains to be seen.

Now it remains for the Rightist combination of National Socialists and Nationalists to try to capture undisputed control of the National Diet. The National Diet, or Reichstag, is one of the biggest rallying spurs of modern times.

In three weeks about 600 new members of the Reichstag, or National Parliament, are to be elected. Presently the National Diet, or Reichstag, is one of the biggest rallying spurs of modern times.

FIRST NATIONAL BUYS HOME-GROWN PRODUCE

Increase Connecticut Purchases Considerably During Past Year—Must Maintain Standard.

Purchases of Connecticut-grown produce by First National Stores, Inc. for distribution through its stores and markets in Connecticut were increased substantially in 1932 over 1931, according to a statement today from the company's headquarters. Over 300 per cent more potatoes were bought by First National from Connecticut growers, and a total of over five million pounds, and paid no brokerage fees.

The other Connecticut-raised produce included 225,000 bushels of apples, 47 per cent more than in 1931; 420,000 dozen carrots, or 13 per cent more; 308,000 dozen beets, a 9 per cent increase; 534,000 bushels of cabbage, a 4 per cent increase; 470,000 bags of cabbage or 15 per cent more; 47,000 bushels turnips, 40 per cent more; and 140,000 bushels of onions, a 10 per cent increase over the previous year.

"The local products," states First National, "must maintain a standard which from the viewpoint of the consumer will equal products from other areas and this is being achieved more and more by Connecticut producers. The economies and savings which result from distribution of home-raised products at home are proving of real benefit to farmer and consumer."

The date of the Diet elections will not be definitely set until tonight, but it was a foregone conclusion that Hitler's decision to have them held on the same day that the Reichstag voting takes place will prevail.

Present Hans Kerri of the Diet, a Hitlerite, will meet with a Diet committee tonight to set the date.

On the crest of the wild enthusiasm of his followers due to his elevation to the chancellorship, Hitler hopes to win a clear Nazi majority in both the National and Prussian governments. He still may need the support of the Nationalists, who made possible his present status as head of a coalition Cabinet.

Hartford, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Congressman-elect Herman P. Koppelman of Hartford asserted today that the 18th Amendment "has militated against the promotion of true temperance," in a letter to the Women's Christian Temperance Union of New Britain.

Koppelman's letter, sent in reply to a protest from the New Britain group against repeal, said: "I regret very much that the 18th Amendment should be retained. I do not use nor have I ever used any alcohol, yet I feel the 18th Amendment has militated against the promotion of true temperance."

The letter was addressed to Mrs. Edward P. Carter, corresponding secretary of the New Britain W. C. T. U.

3,000 MEN ON STRIKE IN HUDSON CO. PLANT

Employees in Body Factory Quit After Demanding 20 Per Cent Wage Raise.

Detroit, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Officials of the Hudson Motor Car Co. announced today that 3,000 employees of the Hudson body plant went on strike today, demanding a 20 per cent wage increase and time and a half for overtime.

The body plant reopened Monday after a week's shutdown. The officials said they had a considerable stock of bodies on hand which would keep the assembly plants in operation for several days, but reported they would be forced to close the entire plant if the strike continued more than a day or two.

Insisting the walkout, which occurred shortly after 10 a. m. today, was due to Communist agitation, the officials said they hoped to "have the men back at work in a day or two—as soon as we can get in communication with them."

Members of the strike committee, the officials reported, presented them with a list of demands shortly after the walkout occurred.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

SEELLA SHAWNE, dancer, in discharged from a new play because MARILYN RAY is so star, is work and finally secures a part in a musical show soon to go on tour. DICK STANLEY, rich and socially prominent, asks her to marry him but Sheila refuses. Her idea of marriage is a home in a little town far from Broadway.

The company departs on the tour and in a little midwestern city Sheila meets JERRY WYMAN. He seems to be hard working young man with little money. Sheila is not aware that Jerry's father owns the factory where he works. Jerry is attentive and Sheila falls in love with him. After she leaves, however, Jerry's affection seems to cool. He writes infrequently and this makes Sheila unhappy.

Back in New York again, she gets a job in a night club. Weeks pass and then one night while dancing she sees Jerry sitting at a table. He comes to speak to her but does not introduce her to the others in his party. Jerry tells Sheila he has tried to call her. She does not believe this and refuses to make an engagement with him.

Sheila is hired as the featured principal in another road company. After several months the company plays Jerry Wyman's home town. Each day Sheila is hopeful but no word comes from Jerry. Finally desperate, she telephones to him.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXII

For several moments there was no reply. Sheila, waiting tremulously, wished suddenly that she had not telephoned. But perhaps Jerry was not at home. That would be better. She glanced at her watch and saw that it was not yet 12 o'clock. If Jerry was not at home she could leave a message and he could call her later.

Yes, that would be better. Then all at once the wire became alive again. It thrilled with that exaggerated, yet padded sound of footsteps approaching the instrument at the other end of the connection.

Would it be the man she had just talked to or Jerry himself? Sure, at this hour Jerry would be at the factory.

But it was not the butler's voice that reached her. It did not seem to be Jerry's voice either. A man's voice, but a stranger's. He said, "Sheila? Well, how do you do?"

"Jerry!" It was not a stranger, after all. It was Jerry himself. He spoke again but there was no cordiality in his tone. They were casual words. Meaningless.

"It's—it's Sheila," she repeated absurdly. How could she be so insane? Of course he knew who she was speaking. He had called her by name.

"Yes?" The same tone, noncommittal, impersonal. "I'm playing at the Raymond Theater, Jerry." She laughed shyly. "I'd like to see you."

"Yes?" It was a question this time, not merely a rising inflection. "Yes, I'm in 'Fine Feathers'."

"I believe I did notice an advertisement the other day." But could this really be Jerry speaking? Why Jerry loved her! He had told her so. He had practically asked her to marry him. He hadn't actually said those words, Sheila admitted to herself, but she had been sure that he meant them.

She could not understand this change. Neither could she reproach him. Sheila sat there looking foolishly into the telephone transmitter. There was nothing more to be said, apparently. What should she do? She was completely miserable. She had given Jerry an opportunity to talk to call and he chose to ignore it. There was nothing now to be said.

And yet Sheila heard her own voice. "Jerry," she was saying, "we are leaving at midnight tonight. I'd like to see you before I go."

A long pause, throbbing. Then the reply came. "Oh, I see! Yes, that would be nice." The words were coolly courteous. "Where are you dining?"

Sheila told him in a voice that shook in spite of herself. Was Jerry going to invite her to dinner? The show closed at a quarter of 11 and the train left at midnight. There would scarcely be time for her to see him, she could have only a few hastily exchanged words at the stage door.

Usually Sheila dined in her hotel room but tonight she would change her plans. She said, "Here at the Grandmore, in the grill."

There was another pause and then Jerry said, "I'll see if I can't drop around."

"Can you call me later at the hotel?" she asked. All pride had fled. Sheila was a woman in love, pleading.

"I'll try to." She hung up the receiver with conflicting emotions. Jerry had not been cordial. Nevertheless she realized that he might not have been alone. Perhaps he had used that cool tone and manner because he knew someone was listening. At any rate she was to see him again. She was to see Jerry with his tall, straight body, his laughing hair, crisp hair, gold where it touched his skin, his flashing smile. She would see him and bask in the sunshine of his admiration. She was lovelier to look at than she had been a year ago. Her salary was better and her clothes were more expensive, more becoming. Jerry would certainly find her more attractive.

All afternoon her heart sang gaily. She longed for Jappy, when she sat in her dressing room at the theater, crumpling her face with swift, practiced hands. She longed for someone to whom she might unburden her heart, someone who would understand.

A chorus man, strolling by her door, circulated the report that Miss Shawne's voice was improving. He heard her singing a love song, "as if she meant it, by Jove!"

The matinee went well though to Sheila it seemed interminable. Eagerly she scanned the audience. The usual school girl crowd was on hand, Jerry always came on Saturdays. Sheila liked to dance for such audiences. Wistfully she envied those girls their homes, their security, their friends and their parties. She knew that they envied her too and smiled a little bitterly. Well, life was like that.

After the finale she remained in her dressing room, almost afraid to leave. She was certain that Jerry would be there at the stage door waiting, yet could not face the disappointment if he should not be.

She took a long time dressing, lingering at each simple act so that she was among the last to leave the theater. If Jerry was there he would wait for her. He was; not there what was the use of knowing it sooner than necessary?

She hoped so terribly that he would be there.

At last she was ready to go. Her hat, trim and neat with its unmistakable Fifth Avenue air, was pulled down sideways over her head. Each curve of the dark hair was as it should be. Her tailored frock and fur piece were becoming. Her gloves fresh, her purse new and her pumps irreproachable.

John, the stage doorman, sat with his chair tilted back against the wall, waiting. Her hat and gloves, her straightened and Sheila passed, hair rose and touched his hat.

"That was a fine show this afternoon, Miss Shawne," he said. "We hate to see you leaving Spencer."

"Thanks, John. Sorry we have to go."

She felt suddenly warm and glowing as she stepped into the alley leading from the stage door to the street. A moment more now and she would know.

It took courage for Sheila to turn that corner. She straightened her shoulders slightly, moved forward. There was no one in sight.

Of course she had not really expected Jerry would come. Why had she even hoped that he would? What reason had she to feel that way? Sheila stormed at herself, scolding, yet knowing that the scolding was useless. Of course Jerry couldn't treat her this way if he really cared for her! Of course she was even making a fool of herself. She had forgotten pride and dignity when she had telephoned. Oh, yes, she deserved this humiliation. Every bit of it. She would never, never do such a thing again.

She suddenly felt her heart quicken. Hope, warm and comforting, returned. Perhaps Jerry would telephone her at the hotel. Perhaps he had called there already.

She walked on swiftly, head held high, her eyes bright with unshed tears. At a corner, startled, she heard her name!

"Oh, Sheila!" It was the teasing voice she knew so well. Yes, it was Jerry Wyman suddenly beside her, his hat in one hand, his eyes shining, lips bowed in a bright smile.

"Sheila, were you running away from me?" he asked Jerry, had fallen into step beside her. The same Jerry she had known a year ago.

"Oh!" Sheila shrank said softly. And suddenly the world was a bright and very wonderful place. She raised her eyes to meet his. "Oh, Jerry!"

DAINTY VALENTINES ARE BACK AGAIN

MODERN TOUCH TO VICTORIAN SENTIMENT THIS YEAR

Depression Jokes, puns and simple, friendly messages are most frequently found among the 1933 valentines.

By JULIA BLANSHARD

New York, Feb. 7.—The old world is getting kinder and more sentimental, if we can judge it by its 1933 valentines.

Comics are fewer and laugh with a person rather than at him or her. Friendship cards, rather than those that insist on perfect love or nothing, abound and make much of the genuine beauty of friendship.

The heart, the perennial symbol of the Saint's Day, is revived this year by the fan design, traditional emblem of the coquette who has long been missing from matter-of-fact America.

If you don't get a valentine this year, you should register a kick. For there are alleged to be 120,000,000 on the American 1933 market, totalling more than $3,000,000.

Fabric Valentines
Valentines with parts that move, such as hands that can be spun to point to this or that sentiment, dogs with tails that sway, dolls that can wave their arms and legs, cater to our American trait of liking things that can be worked into our hands.

Brand new are the valentines that go completely realistic, using real fabrics for the ladies' gowns and the gentlemen's costumes, "bees' knees, or even whole valentines of fabric.

There is an educational trend noted, too. It used to be hard for a woman to get a valentine for somebody she may be attracted to lightly, or even to a greater extent. This year the diversion of cards seems to be about 50-50 for men and women.

Delicate Designs
You can be as delicate in your taste as you please, for some of the new Victorian-designs-gone body's work to pieces while he's not listening, but become his sycophants as soon as they catch his ear.

Also those who invent decorative stunts about the celebrity who finds a large audience here—more's the pity!

Not Russian, Either
The funeral gravity of big diners, where so many people don't know one another and are not sure of their neighbors.

The motley swarm on Broadway in the afternoon.
The "I dare you to start out of here without buying something" attitude of some of the shopkeepers.

Those insolent check room attendants who do everything but blackjack patrons to get their hats and coats when they enter theaters. Invitations to "breakfast"—in New York, of all places, where the nights are long and morning tempers are short.

Why don't I go back to Russia? Well, I've always found more things to dislike about any other place I've been.

CHERBOURG, France, Feb. 7.—(AP)—The Tribunal of Commerce today, after hearing experts who condemned the burned liner Atlantic and declared it in a state of unavailability, ordered the ship turned over to its insurers.

The Atlanticque burned in the English Channel early in January. The possibility existed that an appeal of the decision might be taken to the Tribunal of the Seine.

The total insurance on the Atlanticque was 170,000,000 francs, mostly held in England, with 15,000,000 held by various companies in New York. The names of the latter companies were not announced.

Those people that some home warriors because their jotters "appear" them from bankers' tables in the middle warrent the daily are shocked. Heavy charges, doubtless, were set in the grandstands.

Hints on How to Keep Well by World Famed Authority

DEFECTIVE SPEECH IS NOT A JOKING MATTER
This is the first of two articles by Dr. Fishbein on defective speech.

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

A man who stuttered and stammered went once to a bird store to buy a parrot. In his typical stuttering speech he asked the bird fancier, "C-c-c-an h-h-h-na t-t-t-talk?"

The bird fancier replied, "If he couldn't talk better than you do I'd want his neck."

The anecdote, while cruel, represents well the general attitude toward a person with a defect of speech. Somehow it never is seen as seriously as it should be.

The National Society for the Study of Speech Disorders recently has classified seven different forms of speech disorder, with a view to indicating proper approach to correction.

The first, called dysarthria, includes defects that are due to troubles in the nervous system. Such people may express themselves fluently in writing and understand everything they hear or see but are apparently unable to say the things they want to say.

The difficulty is one of tenaciousness and it is the aim of the instructor to prolong the period of relaxation before speech so as to permit voluntary control. People who utter from this type of defect cannot usually be understood because their speech is labored, difficult and even disorganized.

The second form is called dyslalia. In this condition some part of the speech mechanism does not function effectively. Perhaps the tongue, the teeth, the jaws or the difficulty lies in the lips, the hard or soft palate. There are cases of cleft palate, or harelip, in which a surgical operation is necessary before the person can speak satisfactorily.

The work of the educator begins after the work of the doctor is ended. In some cases the difficulty is due to failure to get a concentrated and constant stream of breath through the mouth. Breathing exercises, such as the blowing of soap bubbles, gargling, and blowing of horns will aid this weakness of function.

Another form of speech disorder is called dyslogia, from the word logos, to speak. In this form there is difficulty in expressing ideas by speech caused by some mental disturbance. This may take the form of incoherent speech, absence of ideas, slow speech, a constant stream of words to which the term logorrhea is applied, irrelevant speech and constant repetition of the same phrases.

Here, the difficulty being primarily mental, it is necessary to determine the nature of the mental disturbance and to fit the patient to some kind of task, play, or other endeavor for which they are suited.

NEXT: Other speech disorders.

GLORIFYING YOURSELF

By Alicia Hart

A Frenchman once commented on American women: "They are beautifully dressed, have lovely figure, but so many of them have such petulant, spoiled mouths."

Those mouths really come from devoting too many hours to considering one's self.

Absolute concentration on yourself does beget a droopy, spoiled mouth-line.

Discipline yourself a little bit mentally. Certainly you should take time and thought enough to look your best. But these days no one should be completely self-centered. Try reading a little, particularly about conditions in the world, and see there may not be some contribution to your family, your neighbors or your city that you can make.

The best way to start reforming is to map out your day and get on schedule. That is the beginning of self-discipline. Plan your day at night and 15 minutes in the morning for your beauty exercises, facials and hair combing. Allow another 15 minutes at noon.

That will take care of your beauty, if you stay on schedule. Then forget about how you look. Start out trying to think of other people. Perhaps it is only to help about the house or the office. Perhaps it is to concern yourself with some friend who needs a job or at least encouragement.

Your mouth's line will change eventually. It will develop a certain sweetness that comes from a sense of changed values. A beauty that counts for anything is more than just appearance. It exudes an inner quality that is called charm.

MARVELOUS MANHATTAN

By WILLIAM GAINES

New York—If there are more gapers anywhere than clutter up the sidewalks of New York, I have not discovered it.
A day or so ago I went to pay a light bill on Forty-second street. The entrance to the electric company was blocked by a crowd seeking to push its way up to a window display—and what do you suppose it was?
A small electrical mixing device, of the sort housewives use in their kitchens, was stirring dough in a bowl. That was all upon my word, and you would have thought the shouting of "Kiss Solomow" was being repeated in that window.
Was the mob principally composed of women shoppers? It was not. For every woman held by this simple mechanical exhibition, there were seven men. Men of all shapes, sizes, complexions, and, apparently, of all walks of life.
Most of them were the typical gawky gapers that stand by the hour, watching anything from a steam shovel to a curb magician selling what-nots.
What did they expect—some Frankenstein's monster to hatch out of the dough? Probably they expected nothing, not even biscuits.
Long practices at sidewalk gapping reconciled the mob to nothing ever happening. It's just an old New York custom.
Anybody who stops on the corner long enough to tie his shoelaces will find a crowd around him. Those Forto Junction rubbernecks haven't a thing on these New York sidewalk gapers.
Gawdies Of Gotham
In this caviling mood, I might as well keep on. For instance, I don't like:
Those plectyvalued pseudo-intellectuals encountered at literary teas and other such demagogic events, who loudly aim their scurrilous-headed criticism at any one-headed author who writes so he can be understood, or criticizes the technique of his own work as he is trying to point.
And sometimes who are some-

BOOTH'S ALL-STARS FACE GUARDS HERE TOMORROW

Visitors' Lineup Includes Many Former College Cage and Grid Stars; Guards Out To Halt Losing Streak; Game At 9 P. M.

That Albie Booth's All-Stars is not a miscorner for the quintet that will meet the National Guards at the State Armory tomorrow night is proven by the lineup of the aggregation that has defeated many of the leading teams in this state, including the All-Burseries, the Stamford University Club and others.

The squad consists of eleven players, headed by Albie Booth, Yale's famous grid star, who captained the Yale's basketball team last year and was rated as one of the best floor workers in the intercollegiate league.

King, formerly a forward at Fordham University and quarterback on the football team; Leo Davis, captain of his high school team last year; All-State guard and leading scorer in the Industrial League; Leary, formerly of the Boys' Club and a member of the All-State football team.

Witty, assistant coach at Hopkins Prep school; Donnelly, Chattanooga, All Conference tackle for three years; Florac, ex-Boys' Club star, and St. Bonaventure guard for two years; H. Lehman, New Haven, one of the best players in the Jersey City All Star team; and Kagan, former Atlas forward.

The game will start about 9 o'clock. The contest will provide a baseball team with plenty of opposition in an effort to halt their losing streak at two games, the locals having been defeated twice in a row by Olcott's Terrible Swedes and the Meriden North Ends.

BABE RUTH REACHES 39TH BIRTHDAY TODAY

New York, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Babe Ruth reaches his 39th birthday today in excellent physical trim but no closer to a solution of his salary differences with the New York Yankees. The home-run king, although busily engaged getting organized for his annual jaunt to Florida tomorrow, said he'd find time for a small party.

"I'm going to have a cake too," he added.

Ruth said he would have no chance to see Col. Jacob Ruppert, Yankees owner, before his departure for the south, and that any conferences over the salary question would have to be held in Florida. The Yankees have offered the Babe $50,000 for 1933, compared with the $75,000 he drew last season.

HOCKEY TIES TONIGHT

New York, Feb. 7.—(AP)—The Montreal Maroons and New York Rangers, the two most powerful scoring teams in the National Hockey League, invade New York tonight to give battle to the Americans with their grip on second place in the Canadian section in serious danger. The standings today showed the Maroons trailing the pace-setting Toronto Maple Leafs by eight points and Chicago, Ottawa and place Americans by only one point.

The rebuilt Maroons have been winning hockey games this season by the simple expedient of going out and getting just as many goals as they can. Right now they're in the midst of a winning streak that has carried them through six games without defeat. In two games and getting into the cellar of the Canadian section, the Maroons won one decision, 4-1, and dropped the other at 5-3.

Sharing interest with this battle will be the clashes of the New York Rangers and Boston Bruins at Boston, and the Toronto Maple Leafs and Canadiens in Montreal. The Rangers, now tied with Detroit for first place in the American section, probably will start in the favorite's role against the Bruins, who have been making heavy going in their last few games. What's more Boston has failed to beat the Rangers on this season, bowing twice to the Blue-shirts by 3-1 counts and again by 6-4.

The Canadians likewise have absorbed three setbacks, including from Toronto, 2-0, 2-1 and 4-2, and have small hopes of stopping the flying Leafs tonight. The Canadiens have fallen off badly this season and are lodged in the cellar of the Canadian section, three points behind fourth place Ottawa.

Goodwin had a 78.

LOTT COMES BACK, UPSETS NET WORLD

Seems Certain Choice For Davis Cup Team After Recent Trimmings.

BY JIMMY DONAHUE
NEA Service Sports Writer

You can bet your last dollar, if any, that one of the first four men to be named to the United States 1933 Davis Cup tennis team will be the fellow who ranks eleventh in the listings of the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association. That is George Lott of Chicago.

George is a veteran of Davis Cup competition. For four years he was a member of the American team, dropping out of the matches last year because of business reasons.

When the 1932 rankings of the governing body of tennis were announced early this year, Lott's name in eleventh position caused a lot of comment. George is a much better player than his ranking indicates, and a host of his followers raised a great hue and cry.

In 1931 the Chicago player was ranked in the No. 3 spot, right below Billsworth Vines, the California youth. George, from the looks of his play in winter tournaments in Florida, is all riled up about that drop in ranking, and it is out to play tennis that will cause the ranks to blush with shame.

Lott showed up in Florida with a determined look and his sweat shirt set in a "win or die" expression. In perfect condition, the veteran sat about restifying what, in his mind, is a mistake by the ranking committee.

Lott entered the All South tennis championship matches staged at Miami. The Chicagoan, displaying all the racket skill that won him international fame, captured the finals against Clifford Butler, New Orleans flash and intercollegiate champion from Tulsa University.

Now Sutter is no mean tennis player. He defeated George last year in the national championships at Forest Hills. The U. S. Lawn Tennis Association ranks him third, behind Billsworth Vines and Wilmer Allison players.

One is Lester R. Stiefen, Los Angeles youth who was ranked fifth in the 1931 list, and who was placed sixth in the 1932 roster. Another is David N. Jones, Columbia University product who ranked eighteenth in 1931 and who was boosted up to tenth place last year. The third is Frankie Parker, sensational Milwaukee boy, who, although unranked outside the juvenile lists heretofore, jumped into twelfth position, one behind Lott, in the last selections.

These three, although not the seasonal players some of the first ten are, have the courage, speed and stamina of youth. They'll give some of the veterans a great battle in the Davis Cup selections.

LEOPARDS-WILDCATS WIN AT VOLLEY BALL

Defeat Tigers and Lions Respectively In Close, Exciting Games.

The Leopards took two of the three games played against the Tigers last night at the West Side Rec Gym. The Leopards won the first game 15-11, the second 15-11 and then lost the last game 15-12.

In the second match the Lions fished some rare form in taking the league leading Wildcats into camp in the first game but apparently this reversal of form was only a flash as the Wildcats came back to take the next two games. They completely smothered their opponents under in the second game beating them out 15-3. In the third game the Lions came back fighting with all power and forced the Wildcats to play superlative ball in order to win by two points 15-13.

Lions—Leopards, Waddell, Falkowski, Mahoney, Schubert, and Hansen; Tigers, Chapman, Smith, Breen, Wiley, Kerr, Mordavski; Lions, Hansen, Siemsen, Kerr, McConkey, Quinn, Smith; Wildcats, Zilkens, Gustafson, Bessell, Woods, Anderson and Ford.

Baseball
Thursday night the Endeas will play the Dixies in the first game and the Kacays will meet the Emeralds in the second game. All players are requested to be on hand in order that the games may start on time.

Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 7.—(AP)—Mrs. Opal S. Hill of Kansas City stepped into a customary role of tournament favorite in the annual LaGorce club's championship for women today after having captured medal honors by a three-stroke margin.

A round of 41-40-81 gave Mrs. Hill, who has been consistently in the forefront in women's tournaments, the leadership. She was followed, however, by another consistent performer, Miss Bea Gottlieb of New York, runner-up with 43-41-84.

Others of the 70 women competing had scores ranging as high as 125 in the qualifying round. Leading qualifiers included: Mrs. W. M. Funt of Decatur, Ill.; Mrs. Marjorie Engelheim of New York; Mrs. Kathryn Bragg, w. of East Orange, N. J.; Mrs. E. F. Cowan of Manhattan, N. Y.; and Mrs. L. G. Riley of Pittsburgh, Pa.

CLEVELAND SEEKS FIFTH WIN IN ROW

Play Buffalo, International Leaders, In Hockey Tilt Tonight.

New York, Feb. 7.—(AP)—The rejuvenated Cleveland Indians bid for their fifth successive International Hockey League victory tonight and a share with the Detroit Olympics in fifth place. The Indians, who have won more games in the last two weeks than they could in all the earlier weeks of the campaign, attack up against the Buffalo Bisons at Buffalo.

Trailing Detroit now by only two points, the Indians, if they can whip the Bisons, can gain a tie with the Olympics if the latter fall before the Windsor Bulldogs at Windsor in the other league fixture tonight.

Cleveland won only three of its first 25 games and seemed hopelessly lodged in the cellar. Now they have gone undefeated in five games, tying one and winning the next four.

The Indians have played Buffalo six times this season and have succeeded in winning only one game and tying another, but now, riding on the crest of a winning streak, they hope to stop the Bisons again. Buffalo, however, will be out to win in order to gain undisturbed possession of first place. The Bisons, London, Toronto and Syracuse Stars now are a tie for the top rung.

Windsor has beaten Detroit four times in seven games, the other three going to the Olympics. The Bulldogs will play under the direction of Jack Armour, named coach last night when Manager Herb Mitchell resigned.

YALE IS FAVORITE TO BEAT COLUMBIA TO IMPROVE SHOWING

Meet Tonight At New Haven In League Battle; Elis Hold First Place.

New York, Feb. 7.—(AP)—The Columbia Lions travel to New Haven tonight to meet Yale with the embattled Elis seeking to consolidate their hold on first place in the Eastern Intercollegiate basketball league race. Since dropping its first league start to Dartmouth, Yale has chalked up three successive victories, beating Penn twice and Cornell once. In view of their excellent play against these league rivals, the Elis probably will rule slight favorites over Columbia.

All told this season, Yale won 10 games and dropped two—one to Dartmouth and one to Fordham. Columbia has won seven games and lost three to Princeton, Navy and New York University.

West Virginia's mountaineers sank into undisturbed possession of the Eastern Intercollegiate Conference cellar last night when they got a 42-25 trouncing from Georgetown at Washington. It was Georgetown's first victory in four conference starts and West Virginia's fourth setback in a row.

GRANDLAND RICE MEDALIST

Palm Beach, Fla., Feb. 7.—(AP)—Artists and golfers competing in their annual golf tournament here are going right ahead, unshaken even if their scores aren't exactly the kind that win the British Open. Grandland Rice was medalist yesterday with an 83 but others ranged up to Rube Goldberg's 118 and beyond and many didn't even turn in cards.

Several were "qualified" anyway, however.

Rex Beach, defending champion, had an 82 and other scores included: Ray McCarthy, 84; Fontaine Fox, 87; Richard J. Wren, 87; Francis W. Wynn, 88; Jeff Machin, 88; Tom Webb, 90; Arthur Somers Roche, 91; Charles McAdam, 91; Merle Thorp, 92; Duncan Stewart, 93; Dave Roberts, 94; Billy Debeck, 95 and Frank Crowninshield, 97.

Local Sport Chatter

Manager Jimmy Nell of the National Guards—who arranged the clash between the Philly Colored Giants and the House of David, to be held here next week Wednesday—has booked the Sport Centers of Hartford to meet the Guards in the preliminary. This team made its debut into the big time against the All-Burseries last week, losing 32-29 in a thrilling battle. Mattson of the Guards, however, played with the Sport Centers and was second high scorer.

The Nettleton's of New Britain, who hold a detour over the Guards, established themselves as one of the best quintets in the state Saturday by beating Olcott's Terrible Swedes, a high class outfit if there ever was one. The score was 30 to 20.

The All-Burseries let over-confidence get the best of them against St. Peter's of Torrington Sunday and lost 37-29, after sporting a 22 to 9 lead at halftime. Powell and Cotter were missing from the Burside lineup.

SEEK REVENGE FOR RECENT DEFEAT BY NEW LONDON SQUAD

Locals Will Be At Full Strength For Clash At School Street Rec At 8:45; Rangers In Preliminary.

The Rec Five expects to be at full strength tonight when the local quintet clashes with the Coast Guard Bears of New London at the School Street Rec in an attempt to avenge a previous defeat at the hands of the visitors, 44-28. The Recs lineup will include the out-of-town trio, Cotter, Campion and Hewitt, three players of first-class calibre.

In the preliminary, the Rangers, leaders of the County Y Senior B division, will meet the St. Mary's Juniors of East Hartford, starting at 7:45. The Rangers have a fast scrappy offense and play a speedy game, using a deceptive passing attack to work the ball down the floor. This team has beaten the Center church, Hamarville, Glastonbury High, Rockville Collegians and Norwich Free Academy.

The Coast Guard Bears have one of the strongest teams in the state and are capable of providing fans with plenty of first-class basketball. The Bears lost a close game to the local Guards, 44-37, at the Armory recently. The Bears lineup will include Cawley and Hiltcock, forwards; Michalski, center; Murphy, and Shonts, guard; with Smith and Owens in reserve.

The Rec Five has played some fine basketball in its last two games, losing by the closest of margins. With its regular lineup intact, the Recs are hopeful of turning in a victory tonight and the game should be a hard-fought tussle all the way. Al Boggiat will officiate both games. Buddy Borst's orchestra will furnish music for dancing.

SENSE AND NONSENSE

The height reached at the expense of another's downfall can never be permanent. Think it over.

Suitar—Sir, I would like to marry your daughter.
Old Man—No, young fellow. You are too young. You are only 20 years old, and she is 28. Wait ten years. Then you will be 30 and she will still be 28.

Up in the dentist's office is one place where folks discover gas prior to the drilling.

She—What was the name of our Fulman sleeper?
Him—Can't say exactly. The sign on one end read 'MEN' and the other 'WOMEN.'

We met two men on the street the other day.... One had just lost $150.... The other had a ball on his neck.... The man who had a ball on his neck was the more cranky of the two.

Miss 1933—You must never kiss me in front of my parents.
Slowgo—But I have never kissed you.
Miss 1933—I know, but just in case you do.

You can never tell.... Some of those flappers may eventually make better wives and mothers than they do scenery.

She—Just think—you used to catch me in your arms every night!
He—Yes, my dear, and now to think I catch you in my pockets every night.

A young woman may marry without parental consent if she is 18, but she can't vote until she is 21. Indicating that it takes more brains to vote than it does to manage a home and children.

One thing about chemistry has always puzzled us—why do those remedies that cure baldness in one application come in such large bottles?

Wife—How do you like me in my new gown? I got it for a ridiculous price.
Husband (looking her over carefully)—You mean you got it for an absurd figure.

Revising an old proverb for the modern girl: "A ring on the finger is worth two in the jewellers."

Teacher—What is the great difference we notice when water changes to ice?
Pupil—The difference in price.

One conception of the millenium is a period when there shall be no mortgage on the home and no installment of any kind to pay.

If one of the children breaks out with rash on his face, Mother is off for the Doctor, but Daddy can break out all over and its nothing to worry about.

Maybe, We Never Tried: Devil's Lake, Michigan, is holding an ice-cutting bee, and while that's not our idea of fun, it must be more pleasant than holding an ordinary bee.—Detroit News.

"Letting well enough alone" is all right if you have good men looking after your interests.

Also a Use For Wedding Presents: "There are two things bride has taught women, concentration and self-control," says a writer. Not to mention the art of opening cans and how to pick up a meal at the delicatessen.

Harold—If I had known that tunnel was so long, I would have kissed you!
Edith—Heavens, wasn't it you?
