MINOR JUDGESHIPS ARE STILL IN DOUBT

General Assembly In Another Brief Session—Governor Cross Confers With Democrat Leader On Problem.

Hartford, Feb. 8.—(AP)—With the status of the minor judgeships still in doubt, the General Assembly met for a brief session today after Governor Cross had conferred with Senate Democratic leaders on the patronage problem and other legislative matters.

After the conference in the governor's office, Kenneth Wynne, executive secretary said the governor had again advised a committee of Senate Democrats against acting on the judgeship appointments before a showdown is obtained in the General Assembly on the District Court bill.

The House concurred with the Senate in confirming the reappointment of Edwy. L. Taylor of New Haven as a Public Utilities commissioner for a six year term.

Both Houses also rejected several bills, including measures to abolish the personal tax and the $1 penalty for non-payment of this levy.

House Democrats during a caucus decided to oppose any plan for reducing the salary of the governor. They also expressed opposition to a proposal that members of the tuberculosis commission serve without pay.

IN THE LEGISLATURE Hartford, Feb. 8.—(AP)—The House today confirmed the reappointment of Edwy. L. Taylor as a member of the Public Utilities commission.

Taylor whose appointment was confirmed by the Senate yesterday in 1931 by Governor Cross to fill the unexpired term of the late C. C. Elwell.

The House reported an unfavorable report from the cities and boroughs committee on the bill which would divide Preston into two voting districts. It was explained that the bill had been withdrawn in committee. The House rejected the bill.

An unfavorable report was also received on the House bill which

POLAND BOOSTS PADEREWSKI AS NEW PRESIDENT

If Strained Relations With Germany Become More Critical Famous Pianist Will Be Recalled.

Warsaw, Poland, Feb. 8.—(AP)—Should the strained relations with Germany become more critical as a result of Adolf Hitler's activities as German chancellor in the next few months, it was considered today that Ignaz Jan Paderewski, famous pianist and statesman, has a good chance of being favored as Poland's next president.

The election will be in June. Marshal Joseph Pilsudski, the Republic's constitutional dictator, was generally expected to favor the recall of Paderewski if Hitler's actions cause trouble. (Paderewski is now in Providence, R. I.)

A few days ago the Krakow newspaper Gnos Narodni, said Paderewski was the only man who has the sympathy of the entire nation.

While Prof. Ignaz Moscicki, who is most current relations with Marshal Pilsudski, political circles believe he will decline to run again because of a desire to return to his scientific career.

Dislikes a Dictator One of the points against Paderewski's return is the marshal's position as virtual dictator. Paderewski is considered too much an individual to serve merely as the marshal's creature but in view of the musician's popularity in Anglo-Saxon countries, Marshal Pilsudski might be moved to sponsor him.

With a pro-government majority in both the Upper and Lower Houses of Parliament, which join together in a National Assembly to elect a president by a simple majority vote.

Paderewski's election probably would be assured if he is endorsed by Marshal Pilsudski.

Nations Sentiments The feeling among the Nationalist opposition, however, is that the present Parliament does not represent the nation's sentiments. The National Democrats have been threatening to abstain from voting in the presidential election unless a Parliamentary election is held previously.

Thus far the tactful marshal has remained silent on the question of the presidency.

Paderewski, who is 72 years old, was active in the United States in the movement for the liberation of Poland during the World War and in 1916 he served as premier and foreign minister 11 months. He secured official recognition of Poland by various powers.

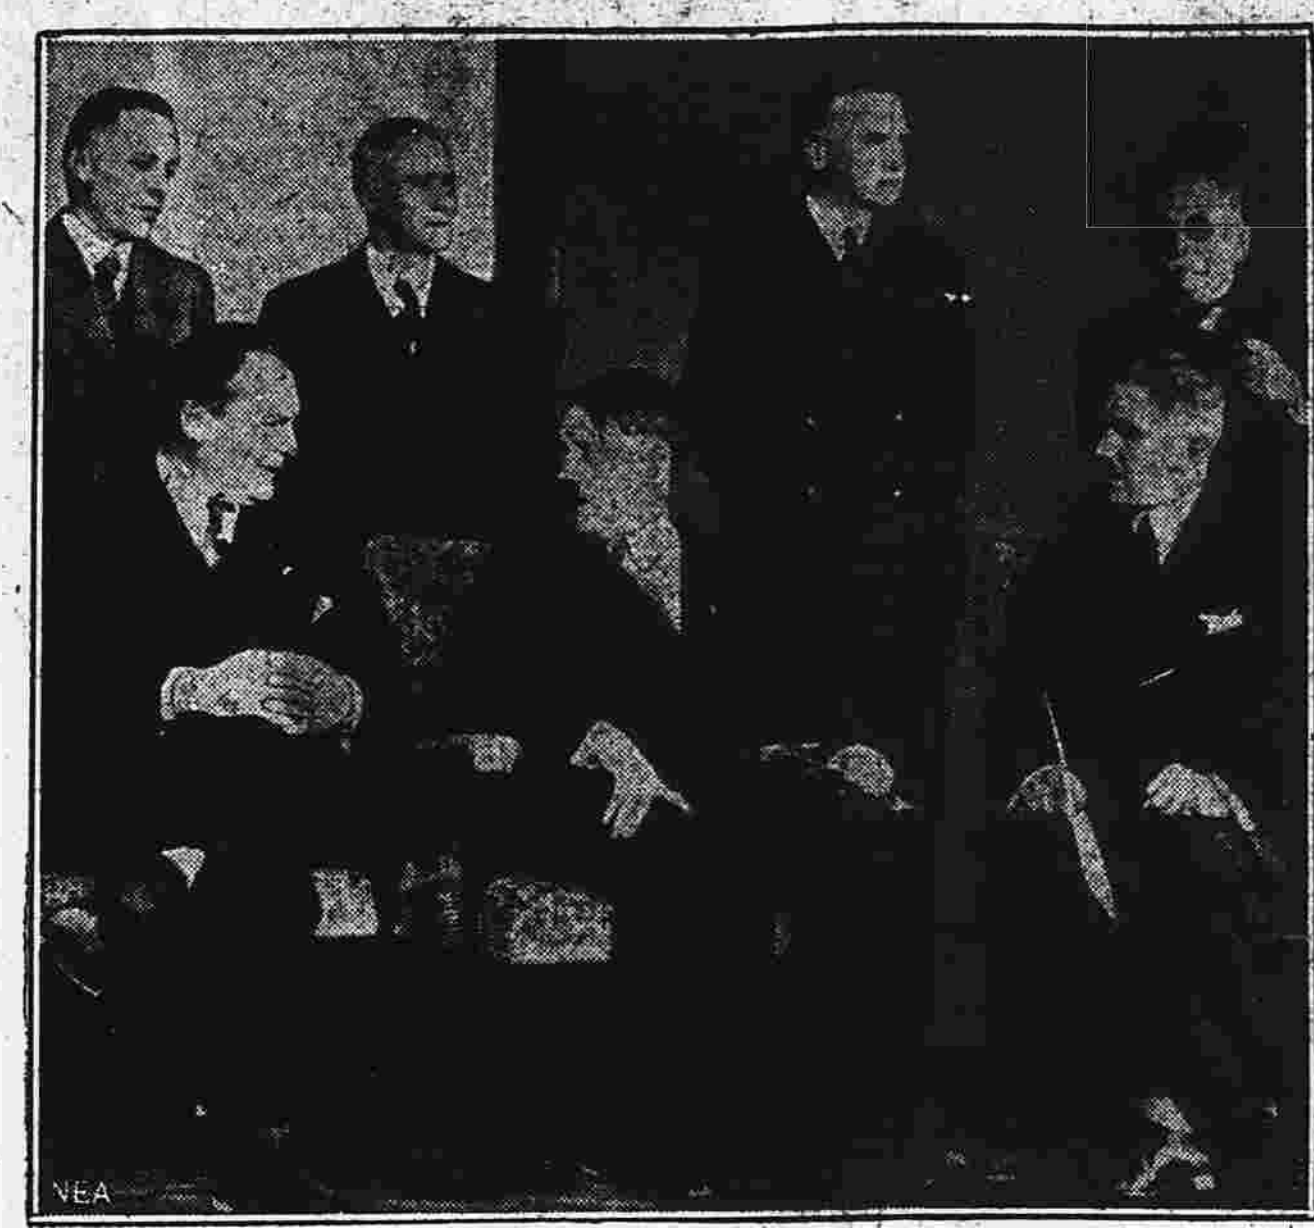

When he went to his native country after the war he was hailed as an independent and formed the first coalition cabinet. An attempt was made on his life, however, in 1918 by political foes.

Paderewski resigned because of opposition of military leaders and returned to his musical career.

ROOSEVELT TO INVITE GOVERNORS TO PARLEY

President-Elect Asks All of Nation's State Executives To Meet Him In the White House On March 6.

New York, Feb. 8.—(AP)—President-elect Roosevelt's invitation to the 48 governors to meet him March 6 at the White House in a conference extraordinary, was seen by his supporters today as a move to map a program in which the government would march in step in the drive to regain prosperity.

The subject Mr. Roosevelt outlined for discussion in the invitation made public here last night, were: taxes, Federal aid for unemployment relief, mortgage foreclosures, especially on farm lands; better land use by afforestation; elimination of marginal agricultural lands; flood prevention and other steps; and the reorganization and consolidation of local government to decrease tax costs.

Tax reform has been chosen for a prominent place in the discussion. The president-elect listed the subject of taxes first in his invitation, under the title "Conflicting Taxation by Federal and State Governments."

One aim of the conference is believed to be an attempt to draft a plan whereby State and Nation would confine their taxes to separate fields, so far as possible.

Besides the subjects listed, the discussion will be open for other problems in which the states and nation have a common vital interest, Mr. Roosevelt indicated.

"It is possible," his invitation said, "that other subjects will come to the governors or to me as being essential for discussion."

Direct Relief Although it was not officially disclosed whether the unemployment relief discussion would center around direct or indirect relief by the National government, it was believed likely direct relief would be talked of, as well as indirect.

Reorganization of local governments, like reforestation, is a subject in which Mr. Roosevelt long has been interested.

Mr. Roosevelt as President is expected to explain in detail to the governors his program for reforestation which, he holds would add to the Nation's wealth, aid in flood control and employ a large number of men.

Weather Man Predicts Eastern Seaboard Will Feel Effects of Storm Tonight.

Winter rode the full crest of its power today, with blizzards, sub-zero temperatures, transportation tie-ups, and suffering and even death in a wide section of the Nation.

From the far northwest to the Great Lakes regions, where the blizzards apparently was heading eastward, and from Canada to Texas, the storm raged with unabated fury. By nightfall the weather man said the eastern seaboard would be feeling the full effects of the disturbance.

MORE SPECULATION ON CABINET JOBS

Observers Say That Roosevelt is Looking For Young Blood, New Men For Posts.

Miami, Fla., Feb. 8.—(AP)—A merry-go-round of politics is going on down here with the leaders of Democracy trying to guess who President-elect Roosevelt, and James A. Farley are going to pick for the commanding offices of the new government.

The posts of Secretary of War and Navy are the principal offices agitating the party leaders just now but beneath the surface there is a whirl of speculation about who is going to be who in the "Little Cabinet" of the Roosevelt administration.

Conceding that the selection of a Cabinet is solely and entirely up to the President-elect, the Democratic chieftains are proceeding warily in their talk about names. It is known, however, that Henry L. Stevens, former commander of the American Legion, and O. Max Gardner, both of North Carolina; Senators Swanson of Virginia and Barlow of Kentucky; Governor Ritchie of Maryland; and George Denn, former governor of Utah, are in the eye of Mr. Roosevelt for these portfolios.

Meanwhile, the talk goes on about the other government offices to be filled. This brings up the names of Jesse H. Jones, of Texas, for chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation; Oscar L. Chapman of Colorado for commissioner of Indian Affairs; William B. Rivers of South Dakota for commissioner of Internal Revenue or another important post in the government; William T. Kemper of Kansas City for assistant secretary of commerce; and Mayor Frank Murphy of Detroit for assistant secretary of labor.

Patting Silence While all the speculation is going on there is not the slightest indication (Continued on Page Eleven)

SUGGESTS BRITISH PAY 339 MILLIONS AS DEBT

British Fliers Smash Long Distance Record

(By Associated Press) One British plane set a world's flying record, another cracked up in an attempt to beat a lesser mark, and a third was still apparently in the running today for another record.

The two-year-old mark for a straight line, non-stop hop, set by the Americans, Russell Boardman and John Flando, in a New York-England flight, fell as the British officers, O. B. Gayford and G. E. Nicoletti, neared the end of a 6,198 mile two-day Marathon from Cranwell, England, to Cape Town, South Africa. International regulations required that they exceed the Americans' mark of 5,012 by 6214 miles.

Capt. J. A. Mollison, the only aviator to span the North Atlantic alone from east to west, was last reported resting at Villa Cisneros, Spanish prison colony on the west coast of Africa, on his projected flight from near London to Natal, Brazil. He was planning to make the ocean jump from Thies, Senegal. He reached Villa Cisneros late yesterday.

DUTCH CRUISER IS STILL RUNNING LOOSE IN OCEAN

Minister of Defense Orders Crew To Surrender At Once—Other Warships Fail To Catch Mutineers.

Belavia, Java, Feb. 8.—(AP)—Army, Navy and aviation units were acting today to aid in the attempt to recapture the Dutch cruiser De Zeven Provinciën, still running loose in the Indian ocean with a mutinous crew of native Sumatrans and other Malays in charge.

Authorities were hopeful that the planes might bring the runaway crew to terms since the cruiser carries no anti-aircraft guns. (A dispatch from the Hague, Holland, said the minister of defense demanded that the cruiser surrender immediately and unconditionally and ordered all Dutch naval forces in the East Indies to bring the crew into subjection.)

Officers are Prisoners The crew, holding eight Dutch officers as prisoners, did not intend to surrender until a day before they reached Sourabaya naval base. The commander was informed he could come aboard a day before the arrival at Sourabaya and take command.

Continues Pursuit The Dutch commander of the Zeven, left stranded in a western bay when his crew ran away with the ship because they objected to a reduction in pay, was continuing pursuit of his ship in the government steamer Eridanus.

Wireless messages from the Zeven said none of the Dutch prisoners had been harmed and that the ship would be returned to authorities when near the Java naval base. The commander was informed he could come aboard a day before the arrival at Sourabaya and take command.

Member of House of Commons Proposes This As Lump Sum For Final Settlement With U. S.; Would Be Less Than 10 Per Cent of Original Amount—Congressional Leaders Strongly Oppose Program.

London, Feb. 8.—(AP)—Payment of £100,000,000, currently about $389,000,000 in a lump sum to the United States as full and final settlement of Great Britain's war debt was proposed in the House of Commons today by Geoffrey Mander, a Liberal.

A representative of Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, said in the chancellor's absence that Mr. Chamberlain was aware of various suggestions of that nature but that he would express no opinion upon them pending the debt negotiations at Washington next month.

Great Britain's debts to America now stands at approximately $4,499,520,000. The payment proposed by Mr. Mander, therefore, would effect final settlement on a basis of something less than ten per cent, approximately the scale on which the Lausanne conference settled the German reparations.

Mander raised the question of the lump sum debt payment while the chancellor and the other "Big Five" ministers were closeted with Sir Donald Lindsay, British ambassador to the United States, in the prime minister's room in the House of Commons. It was their third long session since the ambassador arrived from Washington.

Mander made the proposal as a private member of the Commons on his own responsibility.

BOBAY AGAINST PLAN Washington, Feb. 8.—(AP)—Chairman Joseph of the Senate foreign relations committee today threw his influence against a lump sum cash settlement of the European war debts or any other settlement that embraces no trade concessions for this country.

Commenting on dispatches from abroad that the British would propose in the coming negotiations with President-elect Roosevelt a cash settlement of between $1,200,000,000 and $2,000,000,000 of Europe's war obligations, the Idaho Senator in a statement said:

"I am not interested in any plan which deals with the debts that does not include the adjustment of the currency question and certain other problems which stand in the way of opening up world markets and restoring trade and commerce."

"A lump sum payment would do us any good of a permanent nature unless we can find markets and restore the purchasing power of the people."

On the House side of the Capitol, the Democratic leader—Rayne of Illinois—called the proposal to offer a lump sum settlement of about ten cents on a dollar "sheer nonsense."

"The American people won't stand for it," he insisted. "It is too bad that England and France can't understand that the United States borrowed the money from its Nationals to purchase their war bonds so they could continue to exist."

Asked his opinion whether England could float a bond issue in this country to pay toward the settlement of the lump sum, Rayne told interested viewers:

"The American investors won't buy the British bonds. They have been stung enough on foreign bonds here."

Of England's outstanding bonded indebtedness, he estimated only 2.5 per cent was owed the United States and that of France's bonded indebtedness there was but 3.7 per cent owed the United States.

"Why don't they try to get the holders of the other bonds to cancel their debts?" he asked. "You hear a lot of talk about the United States having borrowed some money from France for the Revolutionary War and that we have not paid it back." Rayne said. "It's not true. We paid every cent back, and besides, a lot of money stolen by the French revolutionaries was supposed to have been the money to the United States. It was all paid back about 1850."

FINANCING WATER PURCHASE A TASK

Selectmen Face Possibility Banks Would Not Endorse Further Borrowing.

The special committee of the Board of Selectmen which has had under consideration the proposed purchase of the South Manchester Water Company and the South Manchester Sanitary & Sewer District, for the past three weeks has not yet made its final report to the full board, although the committee has been in conference with Frank Cheney, Jr., and Howell Cheney, representing Cheney Brothers interests in the combined properties. It is expected that a complete report will be given the Selectmen at the next monthly meeting Tuesday evening.

Financing. Town Treasurer George H. Weddell has been directed to investigate the possibility of financing the purchase and in the event of a favorable report on the purchase will go to Boston and present the proposition to the banking interests for their study and decision.

The proposition follows closely the trend of events which have happened in the past few years in Manchester. The town is brought to the sudden realization that this is one more necessity which should have been built up gradually by the town as it was being developed. It is a particular hardship at the present time to undertake such a measure in one jump, when charity and unemployment appropriations claim such a large proportion of the taxpayers' dollars.

The engineers employed to appraise the properties of the combined companies find the present value to be $11,427,655 after depreciation was taken into consideration. The physical value was computed by taking the cost of reproduction of the companies' plant at present day prices and deducting from this value, depreciation on an expectancy of life of the different items. This is sound appraising as far as appraisal goes, but the Town of Manchester would not be justified in a purchase of any appraised properties without a consideration of whether the price is economically justified as regards the "going" or "book" value of the property, many of whom have studied the proposition believe.

The engineers in a tabulation of potential revenue, interest, and amortization show that taking the average of income operating expenses for the years 1929-32 inclusive and figuring in also a proposition made as regards to the Rogers situation which is that, after deducting the cost of the sewer pipes and trunk sewers, Cheney Brothers will share equally with the town in the expense of caring for Rogers sewage. Gross receipts of both companies are $127,647 and total expenses of both companies are $41,869. Subtracting the two figures a gross operating income of $85,778 from which an item of about $5,000 for Bolton and Glastonbury taxes should be deducted, which would leave a net operating income of $80,778. From the engineers' standpoint it is logical to assume, that roughly between $80,000 and $85,000 is the net operating income which the Town of Manchester would have to work with in order to carry the properties. The town has a bond issue of $500,000 outstanding at an interest rate of 5%. This obligation would entail a yearly interest charge of $25,000. It is believed in banking circles that unless the town were to amortize this $500,000 over the unexpired term of the bond issue or a period of 22 years. This would necessitate an average payment to a sinking fund of $14,050 at 4 1/2% compound interest. This brings the amount down to the items which offer the chance of variance—namely, the amount of new bonds which would be needed in order to purchase the properties.

Would Leave Deficit. In the event the purchase price were $1,333,000, the amortization of $883,000 new bonds compounded at 4 1/2% would necessitate an average payment of $10,221 and there would be interest charged on new bonds of $37,485. This would leave a deficit of $6,368 per year. If the price were $1,200,000 a profit would accrue of $1,219 per year. This would not set up a reserve for unforeseen contingencies or adequately take care of housing of equipment and office quarters which are most likely required at present at nominal values.

A favorable or unfavorable decision emanating from the four selectmen studying the purchase will possibly not alter the presenting of the situation to a town meeting. If carried there, legislative procedure will be provided and a referendum vote will be taken on the machines, somewhat similar to school consolidation.

The park department is taking advantage of the warm weather to continue the landscaping project on the town property bordering on Center Springs park in rear of the Municipal building. A large amount of grading material has been secured at low cost from the Broad street and Bowdoin street jobs, and with no frost in the ground or material being utilized.

Camille Andino

Thomas McCann and Camille Andino. Thomas Boland is assistant manager to Mr. Thornton.

Herbert B. House, manager of Hale's, told Mr. Thornton to obtain the best values possible as this is one way to show appreciation of the support of the townpeople. And Mr. Thornton has done just that. For this sale only, the following huge purchases have been made: 2 1/2 tons of Gold Medal flour, 5,000 pounds of butter, 1500 heads of lettuce, 1800 pounds of confectionery sugar, 300 tons of granulated sugar, 300 tons of 900 pounds of bacon, 125 dozen Sunshine crackers and 100 packages of cheese (Borden's). The company also received a shipment of 180 cases of canned vegetables from the New York Canners, packers of the famous Burt Olney canned vegetables.

Last year on the Saturday of the anniversary sale, the Self-Serve had 2,500 customers. The department almost resembles a storehouse, the floor space being stacked with rows on row of products to be sold at this sale.

Breaking Prices During the many years that Hale's has served Manchester the company has established a reputation as a price breaker. During the war, Hale's was the first to announce a reduction in sugar prices, in 1924 it came out with a low priced Hale's bread and last fall offered potatoes at a sharp reduction.

This year's retail prices are considerably lower than last year. Creamery butter that sold for 26 cents a pound is now 20 cents; flour that was 73 cents a bag is now 66 cents; fresh tomatoes at 19 cents a pound are now 12 cents; fresh lettuce that was nine cents a head is now six cents; fresh carrots that were nine cents a bunch are now sold two bunches for 11 cents; and pure radish that was seven cents is now five cents.

rights of nations in international law," adding, "I am opposed to saying to any nation that we recognize that 'You can't buy the arms you consider so necessary to your existence.'"

Borah said the only opposition he had heard of was from "munitions factories, which with their usual celerity moved to present any message and delayed its being sent."

Bingham summed up his opposition was not based on what "munitions factories in Connecticut" might say.

Borah replied he did not intend to intimate that the Senator from Connecticut, "opposed it for such reasons, explaining 'I did not assume he would be controlled by any such sordid motives.'"

Borah gives notice "I will give notice to get it up again within a few days."

Meanwhile Chairman McReynolds of the House foreign affairs committee asked Secretary Stimson to appear tomorrow to testify on the proposal.

Assistant Secretary of State Carr already has urged quick action on the legislation in view of conditions in South America.

McReynolds said Stimson would be heard in executive session.

Miss Jeannette Rankin, representing the National Committee for prevention of war, who as a member of the House from Montana voted against American entry into the world conflict, advocated passage of the measure at hearings today.

Senator Borah (R., Ind.) told the Senate that at the time the foreign relations committee considered the resolution, understood it related to the Gran Chaco controversy between Bolivia and Paraguay.

Since that time, he said, "There has been brought to my attention the fact that some complications against this resolution might arise on other grounds" such as the Sino-Japanese troubles.

"If the President were given this enormous power, he might draw us into such complications."

Borah said the Chaco matter was the only one before the committee at the time, but that he did not think this country would be involved.

ROCKVILLE

MRS. WELCH SUPPORTING SPURLING FOR P. O. JOB

Democratic National Committeewoman Expresses Herself On Rockville Position.

Mrs. Fannie Dixon Welch of Columbia, Democratic National Committeewoman, has endorsed Maurice L. Spurling of High street for the Rockville postmaster. This is expected to be a deciding feature in the selection of a postmaster for Rockville as there are some five candidates in the field. When questioned as to her preference, Mrs. Welch states that she is favorable to Mr. Spurling and has heard many people, both Republicans and Democrats, endorse him for the position. It is understood that Mrs. Welch is to secure the endorsement of the leaders of the State Democratic Central Committee and of Governor Cross. This endorsement is a close friend of Senator-elect Augustine Lonergan, who will name the candidate for the local postmaster.

Other candidates for the appointment are former Mayor Frederick G. Hartenstein, George Foster, John J. McKenna and George E. Dunn. George Foster, chairman of the Democratic Town Committee, states that if he cannot secure the appointment he will work for Mr. Spurling, who is a friend of his.

Rockville Judgeship Today

The appointment of the judge of the City Court of Rockville is to come up for a hearing before the Judiciary committee of the General Assembly this afternoon. The candidates in the field for appointment are both Democrats and Republicans. Both Democrats and Republicans are seeking appointments with both parties devoid of satisfactory candidates to be used in a compromise as has been suggested. One element objects to Judge John E. Fisk who has held office for over 30 years. Another element object to the Democratic candidate, Dr. Thomas F. O'Loughlin. These are the older candidates. The Young Guard of the Democrats have suggested Francis McCarin for judge of the City Court and John McKinstry for the associate judge, with the latter being endorsed by the latter.

A compromise has been suggested between the Republicans and Democrats and it is understood that the matter is to be taken to Governor Cross this afternoon by Mrs. Fannie Dixon Welch. The suggestion has been made to her, says Mrs. Welch, that she bring about the compromise of John E. Fisk, Republican, for the judgeship and Francis McCarin, Democrat, for the associate judgeship. Indications are that this would be satisfactory to both political parties.

With a split in Rockville in the Democratic ranks between the "Old Guard" and the "New Guard" an effort is being made during the winter months with another one about 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in the Morris Brown Block on Village street. The entire Rockville Fire Department was called out to answer an alarm from Box 63, corner of Manchester, Rockville and Stafford Springs are attending. The music is being furnished by a popular orchestra. A feature of the dances is the reduced price for the ladies which proved a big drawing card, some men bringing several ladies at the reduced price.

Another Fire Yesterday

Rockville seems to be having more than its share of fires during the winter months with another one about 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in the Morris Brown Block on Village street. The entire Rockville Fire Department was called out to answer an alarm from Box 63, corner of Manchester, Rockville and Stafford Springs are attending. The music is being furnished by a popular orchestra. A feature of the dances is the reduced price for the ladies which proved a big drawing card, some men bringing several ladies at the reduced price.

The fire was in the tenement occupied by Samuel Miller and was caused by an overturned kerosene lamp in the bath room. The great amount of smoke gave indications that it was a big fire, and an alarm was sounded.

Walter Backofen, proprietor of the Ward street market, proved the hero of the day and arrived with a portable fire extinguisher before the fire apparatus. He was able to put out the flames. The damage was reported at about $50 covered by insurance.

An investigation is being conducted of the fire on Monday evening when the barn on the Bamforth farm in Vernon was destroyed. In addition to the large stock barn, a smaller shed was destroyed. The cause of the fire is still undetermined but indications are that it may have been caused by tramps lighting a fire to keep warm. Several large barns have been burned in Rockville this winter including the large five acre tobacco shed on the Redens farm on West street.

Artists: Shipwreck; Arthur Byron and Paul Cavaraugh head the supporting cast. A Mickey Daniels comedy, the latest screen news, an adventure picture entitled, "An Oriental Cocktail" and a cartoon comedy complete the program. Another of the series of popular International Nights, observed as "American Night", will be presented as an added attraction tonight. PRICE COLLAPSE DEPRESSION CAUSE

Economist Also States That Technocracy Does Not Enter Into the Case At All

Geneva, N. Y., Feb. 6.—(AP)—Collapse in the price structure, due to a return of world demand for gold, was given today as the major cause of economic distress by G. F. Warren, professor of agricultural economics and farm management at Cornell University.

Professor Warren addressed the 60th annual convention of the New York State Grange on "ways out of the depression."

Little progress will be made in curbing the present crisis until the causes are quite generally known, said Professor Warren.

Technocracy is termed an "illusion of spectacular increases in efficiency" and said it did not enter into the cause of the depression.

Over-production, laziness and lack of confidence were not responsible, Professor Warren said.

Not Business Cycle The depression also is not a business cycle. It has no relationship to the business cycle than a tidal wave has to a tide. It is a collapse in the price structure from which there is no automatic recovery.

Professor Warren suggested two ways to correct conditions.

One is to raise the price level to the debt level. The other is to lower the debt level to the price level.

Our choice is between deflation and reflation. There is no alternative.

CRAWFORD DENIES CONFESSING CRIME

Negro Arrested in Boston Says He Was Not in Virginia At Time of Slaying

Boston, Feb. 8.—(AP)—George Crawford, negro, whom the senate of Virginia wants returned to face trial on a charge of murdering two women, today denied all allegations in an alleged confession that he was present when the crimes were committed.

Crawford's denial was made when he was called as a witness at a hearing on a request by Virginia for his extradition.

Assistant Attorney General Stephen D. Baicigalupo conducted the examination of Crawford at the Suffolk county jail where the latter has been held since his arrest here several weeks ago on a breaking and entering charge.

Facing John Galleher, Commonwealth attorney of Loudoun county, Va., to whom Crawford allegedly made his "confession," the prisoner contradicted statements after statements in a stenographic record and insisted he was in Boston at the time of the slaying, January 13, 1932.

His testimony as to his presence in Boston agreed with that of seven Boston negroes called as witnesses by Crawford's counsel yesterday.

Crawford's presence in Boston between the fall of 1931 and the end of that year and during 1932.

Story of the Crime The crime for which Crawford was sought was slaying of Mrs. Agnes Boeing Iisley, prominent sportswoman and former resident of Milwaukee, and her maid, Nina Buckner, at Middleburg, Va.

The alleged confession contained statements attributed to Crawford to the effect that he and a man called Charlie Johnson went to a cottage on the Iisley estate with intent to rob and that after entrance had been gained Crawford saw Mrs. Iisley lying apparently dead.

Changed His Name Crawford today said he came to Boston with another man's wife in the fall of 1931 and changed his name to escape detection and that he never had returned to Virginia.

YALE DIVINITY SCHOOL TO BE CO-EDUCATIONAL

Last Scholastic Unit On the Graduate Side To Remove Discrimination Between the Sexes.

New Haven, Feb. 8.—(AP)—Yale Divinity School is to become co-educational to a limited extent, it is disclosed in the annual report which has been submitted to the Fellows of the corporation.

The number of women admitted as students will be ten. They will live in the city as do other graduate school women students and not be given rooms in dormitory.

It was stated that opening the Divinity School to women, Yale is doing what other institutions have done but the change is technical in that for years women students have taken religious courses after registration in the graduate school.

The annual report provides for enrollment of ten women and these must show they are only qualified for the work.

CONGRESS HEARS ELECTION RESULT

Plauds Roosevelt and Garner Had Been Chosen President, Vice President

Washington, Feb. 8.—(AP)—Congress was called to joint session today to hear that Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York, was elected President and John N. Garner of Texas, Vice-President for the term beginning March 4.

The country has known it since the November 8 elections. It was assured of the results when the 48 units of the Electoral College met at state capitals January 4 and cast 472 ballots for the Roosevelt-Garner ticket and 98 for Hoover and Curtis.

But to carry out the ritual of solemnity embodied in the Constitution, the Senate and House was directed to assemble in joint session today in the historic Hooper chamber to count the electoral votes.

The official counting marked the first time that a Democratic Speaker of the House—Garner—has been elected Vice-President.

The ceremony called for Vice-President Curtis to preside with Speaker Garner at his left, while the official tellers, Senators Keam of New Jersey, and Glenn of Illinois, Republicans, and Representatives Jeffers of Alabama, Democrat, and Gifford of Massachusetts, Republican, counted the ballots.

Garner is the second Speaker to be elected Vice-President, the first having been Schuyler Dicks of Indiana, a Republican. But when Colfax at the rostrum in 1869 to hear himself elected Vice-President after U. S. Grant had been named President, he had only the president pro tempore of the Senate, Benjamin F. Wade of Ohio, with him.

It is the Twelfth Amendment to the Constitution, adopted in 1804, that provides for the indirect election of the President and Vice-President through electors.

After they cast their ballots on the first Wednesday in January every four years, and send them to Washington, the function of the electors is finished and all their power dies. Any contest that might RECORD IS BROKEN Cape Town, South Africa, Feb. 8.—(AP)—Squadron Leader G. E. Gayford and Flight Lieutenant G. E. Nicholls, of the British Royal Air Force, broke the world's non-stop long distance flying record today as they neared completion of a flight from England to South Africa.

The former record of 5,012 miles was set by the Americans, Russell Beardman and John Polando, in a flight from New York to Istanbul, Turkey.

The aviators took off from Cranwell at 5:15 p. m. (South African Time) Monday, and after 30 miles north of Widdish Bay, they said they probably would land at Lusitania or Port Nolloth at about 4:40 p. m. (South African Time).

HEARTS PAINTED ON GIRLS' FINGERS

Latest Fashion For St. Valentine's Day, Is Shown At Hairdressers' Meeting.

Chicago, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Instead of wearing her heart on her sleeve, here's a new manner of greeting St. Valentine's Day the modern girl has at hand—red hearts painted with nail-polish on her ten finger tips.

That's the latest fad introduced today by the Chicago and Illinois Hairdressers' Association at its semi-annual style revue.

The heart is painted on the nails with platinum polish. The moon at the base of the nail forms the white background for the top of the heart.

Finger nails lacquered in two colors to harmonize with the costume worn are expected to be popular this summer. Models exhibited jade green nails tipped with platinum. Jade green and bronze is another color combination. Various shades of red from flame to a deep purplish red were seen.

Wax eye-lashes will be worn this spring, according to predictions. The wax, resembling mascara, is applied with a small brush.

Two-tone enameled hair was shown for formal wear. In one instance, the enamel, which is a powder, was worked into the waves of the hair with the tips of the curls red.

A number of models demonstrated coiffures set off with fresh flowers, either a small bunch or a few larger blossoms, were placed back of the left ear.

In general the spring coiffure is dressed upward in back. The back hair is full, but the curls are arched and high. The trend is for hair when dressed, not to be below the hairline in back.

Three Alarm Fire Does $40,000 Damage—Cause of Fire Undetermined.

Boston, Feb. 8.—(AP)—Nearly 50 lightly-clad residents of an Allston apartment house were forced to the street during a three-alarm fire in the upper floors of Lincoln chambers.

50 PERSONS FLEE FLAMES IN BOSTON

Boston, Feb. 8.—(AP)—Nearly 50 lightly-clad residents of an Allston apartment house were forced to the street during a three-alarm fire in the upper floors of Lincoln chambers.

The fire began shortly before midnight and was brought under control early today.

I began on the top floor of the four-story brick structure, which is located at 56 Brighton avenue, in the Allston section, and worked down an air shaft to the basement.

Many occupants were unable to return to their apartments.

Flames shot from the center of the building for 15 minutes without a let up. The additional alarms were sounded when firemen were unable to locate immediately the heart of the fire and there seemed to be a danger of the blaze spreading.

George Abbott, who lives in a fourth-floor apartment, first discovered the fire, when flames shot through the wall of his apartment. He aroused his mother and father and all uncles and then awoke others living on that floor.

The remaining residents of the house were soon roused and all got to safety without aid. Those unable to return to their apartments were taken in for the remainder of the night by neighbors.

The cause of the fire was undetermined and the damage was estimated at $40,000.

FIRST WOMAN TRAINER

New York, Feb. 8.—(AP)—For the first time in history of the Jockey Club, a woman has applied for a license as trainer. She is Mary Hirsch, 30-year-old daughter of Max Hirsch, widely known as a trainer.

"I want to train only my own horse, or my own horses if I should get others," Miss Hirsch explained. "I now own Tulliboo, a two-year-old filly, Polymelina out of Tullia, and I would like to start her at Havre De Grace at the beginning of the eastern season."

Although she is an expert horse-woman, Miss Hirsch does not desire to take out a jockey's license. "I do not believe I would ride at all well in races and such an application does not appear to be appropriate, at least for me."

In the past, several women have applied unsuccessfully for jockey's licenses but none as trainer.

THINK KIDNAPERS ORGANIZED GANG

Daughter of Clergyman Tells Police Attempt Was Made To Abduct Her Also.

Los Angeles, Feb. 8.—(AP)—In the belief an organized gang of kidnapers was responsible for the abduction of Mrs. Mary B. Skeels, 66-year-old wife of the dean of the law school of the University of Southern California, police today were investigating the attempted abduction of Miss Isabel Smith, 28-year-old daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Maria N. Smith.

Dr. Smith is pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Pasadena, a member of the University of Southern California board of trustees and ranks high in educational and religious circles of California.

Miss Smith told authorities a man, representing himself to be a member of the church of which her father is pastor, called her by telephone, saying a surprise party was being planned at church for her father and that he would call for her.

On the night of last Jan. 27, the man arrived at the home, introducing himself as "Mr. Johnson." It was raining at the time, Miss Smith said, and on reading the automobile license in which they were to ride she noticed the number which the man gave was "false," it having slipped when possessed by the kidnappers.

Miss Smith said she fled to her home and "Mr. Johnson" and a woman companion drove away.

Miss Smith and Skeels' families are close friends. Police expressed the opinion the kidnapers may have singled out Mrs. Skeels after failing to kidnap Miss Smith. A previous police theory of the Skeels abduction was that it was the work of other persons.

Miss Skeels, a frail little woman scarcely more than five feet tall, was held prisoner by the kidnapers for 26 hours before she was released without payment of the $10,000 demanded.
