LAST COOKING SCHOOL CLASS IS HELD TODAY

Women Arrive At Masonic Temple Early In Order To Get Seats—List of Grand Prize Winners Tomorrow.

More than two hours before the final session of the fourth annual Herald Cooking School was scheduled to get underway today, women began to arrive at the Masonic Temple and when Mrs. Edna Riggs Crabtree, lecturer, stepped to the platform to begin her demonstration, the Temple was packed with the largest crowd in attendance since the school opened. Every available inch of seating and standing room was taken long before 1:30 o'clock and as The Herald went to press attempts were being made to handle the overflow.

It was exactly 1:15 o'clock when the first group of women arrived. The sessions have been scheduled for 2 o'clock each day but due to the early arrival of the crowd, they have been started at 1:30 o'clock, as was the case this afternoon. Capacity audiences have attended every session of the school and today's crowd was a record breaker, further proof of the tremendous popularity of this home making event.

Biggest Day

Today's session brings to a close the most successful Cooking School ever sponsored by The Herald. It also marks the high point in the four sessions held this week as, besides the usual prizes given away each day, the grand prizes will be distributed to the fortunate holders of the winning tickets.

Contrary to the usual procedure, all of the grand prizes will not be awarded at the Cooking School. Some of them will be given away at the stores participating in this outstanding event, and the drawings will be held tomorrow morning. At each session of the school, coupons were distributed to the women with instructions to deposit the stubs at the various co-operating stores. This was done and the results have been most gratifying to local merchants.

Businessmen Pleased

The business men of Manchester have given their whole-hearted support to the Cooking School and are highly pleased over the big increase in business noticed this week. Numerous reports have come to The Herald office that persons who entered the stores to deposit ticket stubs remained to look over the merchandise offered and in many instances made purchases.

Deposit Stub

Last night, being a regular shopping night, townpeople were out in great numbers to deposit ticket stubs, merchants reporting that from several hundred a thousand had been deposited in their stores.

Winners of Eggs

The following women were winners of the 25 bags of merchandise at the Thursday Cooking School. Mrs. Sherwood Fish, 14 West Center street. Mrs. J. W. Ferrell, 16 Birch street.

50 PERSONS DIE IN TRAIN CRASH

Seventy Others Injured In Manchurian Wreck—Passenger and Freight Hit.

Mukden, Manchuria, March 17.—(AP)—Fifty passengers were killed and more than 70 others injured last night when a freight train crashed into the rear end of a passenger train between Changchiatun and Sipingling.

The passenger train had been delayed by a partial derailment. A majority of the victims were Chinese. The train was eastbound from Changchiatun, or Liaoyuan, which is less than 100 miles east of the northern Jehol border and about the same distance north of here. The passenger train, which had been headed in the same direction, had stopped.

Since the Japanese military occupation of Manchuria, there have been numerous cases of alleged depredations on the railroad lines blamed on the roving Chinese bands which refuse allegiance to the State of Manchukuo.

INCOME TAXES INCREASE BY OVER MILLION

Treasury Also Reports Collections So Far This Month Two Millions Over the Same Period Last Year.

Washington, March 17.—(AP)—Income tax collections for March 15 exceeded the amount collected on March 15 a year ago by approximately $1,011,000.

Higher Rates

The increase in tax is due to higher income tax rates. The Treasury statement for March 15 which showed the collections also showed that Secretary Woodin had accepted $898,789,500 of the subscriptions for five and nine month certificates which bore 4 and 4-1/4 per cent interest.

Its Deficit

On that day the Treasury had a deficit of $1,416,681,879 as compared with $1,876,468,843 for the same period of the previous year. Since July 1 it had collected from all sources $1,231,999,185 and had expended $2,788,684,065.

WALL ST. FORESEES SOVIET BOND SALES

If New Administration Recognizes Russia Campaign Will Start.

New York, March 17.—(AP)—The attitude of the administration in Washington toward the Russian Soviet government is being watched closely and rather impatiently by some organizations that are hoping to see bonds of the Communist nation to United States investors.

FLOOD AT WHEELING CAUSES GREAT LOSS

Wheeling, W. Va., March 17.—The Ohio river is receding today after reaching the highest stage in 20 years and causing damage estimated by police at $100,000.

So far as the sale of Soviet bonds in the United States is concerned, the State Department has ruled that it will not lend its approval, although it has not directly prohibited their flotation. In the event that the Roosevelt government might decide on some form of official or semi-official commercial relations with Moscow, even if flat recognition is not granted, Soviet representatives here hope that Secretary Hull may at least not oppose the proposed bond offerings.

Several million dollars of the old Czarist government bonds are outstanding in America, and the Communist rulers have declined to pay any part of them. These bonds occasionally are quoted at extremely low figures on the Curb Market and sales are reported now and then. The buyers apparently speculate on the possibility of the Stalin regime offering some compromise on these issues if Russia is granted recognition.

AS SENATE COMMITTEE ADDED WINE TO BEER BILL

Wine and fruit juices became companions of beer in the 3.3 per cent beer bill as it went before the senate with the stamp of approval of the senate finance committee. From left to right: Dr. James M. Dornan, Commissioner of Industrial Alcohol; members of the committee are, seated left to right, Senators Pat Harrison, of Mississippi, chairman; Walter George of Georgia, and David L. Walsh of Massachusetts.

Exiled Russian Leader In Interview Believes Crisis Will Only Make America Stronger In Money Markets.

By PRISCILLA RING (Copyright 1933 by AP)

Istanbul, Turkey, March 17.—The United States will emerge from the present crisis more than master of world capital than ever, believes Leon Trotsky, exiled Russian revolutionary leader, but he foresees no happy world for the "winner" to come.

SOVIET-BRITISH BREAK POSSIBLE

Arrest In Moscow of Six British Subjects May Cause the Recall of Ambassador.

London, March 17.—(AP)—A break in diplomatic relations between Great Britain and Soviet Russia is expected today in both business and political circles.

Leaders Predict Disagreement With Senate Will Be Speedily Adjusted and Measure Ready For President's Signature By Monday—This Will Assure Sale of the Brew By April 4.

Washington, March 17.—(AP)—Determined to get the beer legislation to the President for signature by Monday, House Democratic leaders forced quick consideration today of the amendments tacked onto the bill by the Senate, with a view to getting an adjustment of the differences in conference with the other branch.

By a voice vote, the House adopted a stringent rule restricting debate. Proponents of the 3.2 per cent alcoholic content insisted that should be maintained, as against the 3.05 agreed upon in the Senate.

DISCUSS DIFFERENCES

Washington, March 17.—(AP)—House Democratic leaders decided today to send the beer legislation to conference with the Senate to adjust differences between the two branches on the alcoholic content, the House bill having allowed 3.2 per cent and the Senate bill limiting it to 3.05.

REC BOXING CLASS TO ENTERTAIN I. O. F.

Bouts Arranged For King David Lodge Tonight By Director Busch—To Continue Dances.

The Recreation Center junior boxing class under the direction of its organizer, Frank C. Busch, will entertain members of King David Lodge, No. 31, I. O. F., tonight after the lodge's regular weekly meeting in Odd Fellows Hall. Charles Lathrop heads the committee in charge of arranging the program and he anticipates a very large attendance.

It was also announced that the lodge will continue the regular weekly dances, held every Saturday evening at the hall. Jill and his orchestra furnish the music for modern and old fashioned dancing. These affairs are proving very popular and increased attendance has been noticed since the start.

On Friday evening, March 31, Chief of Police Samuel Gorton of the Manchester police department will be the guest speaker before King David Lodge.

gates at large must carry 500 signatures.

The delegates are to be classed on the ballots according to their stand on ratification and voters may vote either wet or dry or for individuals. The delegates are to receive no compensation except travel pay at the same rate granted members of the Legislature.

A tie vote in any district will mean that the district will not be represented in the convention.

Committee Reports

The House accepted unfavorable committee reports and turned down two bills providing for a tax of cigarettes and tobacco. One measure would have given the money derived from such a tax to the state forester for work in fire fighting and reforestation, while the other bill provided for the tax as a relief measure.

Acting under suspension of the rules, the House passed a bill creating a board of finance in Stonington. It was explained that this board will co-operate with the finance committee of the assembly in acting on the town's request for permission to issue bonds.

A favorable report was received on a bill dividing Hamden into five voting districts.

Among the bills reached in the regular order of business and passed were measures providing for amending the charter of the Waterbury fire district; alteration of school districts; establishing a town court in Newington, and defining the qualifications of public accountants.

wine provision in the beer bill "does no harm and does no good and is an impossible thing."

"There is nothing to it, because you can't make 3.05 percent wine," he said.

He had no objection to the Borah amendment, but Cullen insisted the question of sale to minors should be left to the states.

"It would be virtually impossible to enforce the Borah amendment," Cullen said. He pointed out that a man could not give his son a glass of wine without being subject to prosecution.

"Some brewers were in here this morning," Rainey said, "and said that they always made beer a little less than the maximum; 3.05 beer will mean that we'll get about three per cent beer."

"They said if 3.2 percent was authorized, their beer would run about 3.05 per cent."

When the House met, Cullen asked unanimous consent to disagree to the Senate amendments and send the bill to conference.

Representative Tarver (D., Ga.), objected.

Cullen sought to have Tarver withdraw his objection, but the Georgian insisted.

Unless Cullen could get a rule under which to send the bill to conference the bill would have to lay over until tomorrow.

ATTEMPTS SUICIDE.

New Britain, March 17.—(AP)—John Howard, 35, out of work and threatened with a nervous breakdown tried to end his own life this morning by taking poison at a rooming house on Hillside place. He is a jeweler by trade. Other persons in the house heard him groaning and called a physician who had him removed to New Britain general hospital. He is expected to recover.

IRISH SENATORS OBSERVE THE DAY

Stage a Little Fun At State Capitol After the Business Session Ends.

Hartford, March 17.—(AP)—Senators of Irish extraction green carnations in their buttonholes, smiled proudly today as one of their number, Raymond J. Devlin, was congratulated on his appointment to the New Haven City Court bench, in a service combined with a St. Patrick's observance. Senator Devlin presided in the absence of Lt. Governor Wilcox. As the regular business ended, Senators throughout the chamber turned their desks lamps towards the chair, so that they gleamed like a circular row of spotlights.

Senator Blackall of Hartford, who said he spoke as a "Galway man" who always got along with the Devil in Ireland because they "live too far away" for trouble, extolled the few Haven member. Senator Costello, Cooney, Alcorn and Cramer each rose to claim ancestors from the Emerald Isle.

The carnations were placed on each Senator's desk by Senator Bradley of Derby.

CHAMBER MEETING POSTPONED A WEEK

Members To Gather At Trade School, March 28—Entertainment Is Planned.

The monthly all-membership meeting of the Chamber of Commerce was today postponed from Tuesday night until Tuesday, May 16, for the rally and appointed the following committee chairman: Mrs. Ethel Cowles, general chairman of the rally day committee; Mrs. Grace Lathrop, president of Mystic Review, to head the supper committee; Mrs. Julia Rawson, reception committee; Mrs. Thomas D. Smith, publicity; Mrs. Thora Stoehr, entertainment; Mrs. Ruth Waddell, ritualistic work. The above chairmen have the privilege of choosing their own assistants.

The supper will be open to members and their friends at a moderate cover charge. There will be a class initiation of candidates from reviews from all over the state, and it is expected a supreme officer from the headquarters at Port Huron, Michigan, will be a guest.

HOOPER VISITS CHICAGO

Chicago, March 17.—(AP)—Herbert Hoover and his secretary, Lawrence Richey, arrived from New York for a brief visit today.

The former President was met by Arch McShaw, publisher and economist, and the party immediately was driven to the Shaw home in Winnetka where Hoover was to be a guest today and tomorrow. He smilingly declined to discuss economic questions.

Shaw is an old friend of the former President, having been chairman of the conservation division of the War Industries Board, and president of the Hoover economic survey commission in 1931.

CHILD BADLY BURNED

Winsted, March 17.—(AP)—Gilbert Marshall, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Marshall, is in Litchfield county hospital with burns received from a flare up of burning oil. He touched a lighted match to fuel oil which he had thrown on an exploding fire.

Three years ago, almost to a day, a sister two years old, was burned to death in their home yard.

NO CAUSE FOR FEAR FOR WAR VETERANS

Major McCook Says Suspension of Bureau Activities In State Is Only Temporary.

Hartford, March 17.—(AP)—Assuring veterans whose disabilities resulted from war service that there is no cause for fear or discouragement, Major McCook, chairman of the committee on rehabilitation of the Connecticut Department of the American Legion today stated that the present suspension of veteran bureau activities is only temporary.

Major McCook made the following statement:

"This suspension of veterans bureau activities appears to be similar to the recent banking holiday. After telephoning Washington I am confirmed in my opinion that its purpose is to bridge the gap between old regulations which have been abolished and new regulations which will presently be issued. There is no reason for any deserving case to lose heart. Let all be patient, as the public was two weeks ago.

"President Roosevelt would be one of the last to do away with care or compensation for any veteran whose disabilities originated in his or her war service. Meanwhile the Legion rehabilitation work in Connecticut will go right on. Our liaison department is more needed and more useful than ever. We in Connecticut have done our work along sound lines which have won public confidence. We shall continue along these lines."

OBITUARY DEATHS

Wallace D. Dexter, died March 16 at Providence, R. I., after a prolonged illness. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Wallace D. Dexter of this town; three sons, Wallace D. Dexter, Jr., of Milton, Mass., Allan L. Dexter, Franklin C. Dexter and Robert G. Dexter, all of this town and one daughter, Mrs. Titus Crony of New York City.

Burial will be in Boston, Mass., tomorrow.

Joseph McCreery

The funeral of Joseph McCreery, who died in Paterson, N. J., General hospital Wednesday, was held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from Watkins Brothers.

The survivors are three sisters, Mrs. Ruth M. Trotter, Mrs. Abigail M. Knowles and Miss Elizabeth McCreery, also four brothers, Thomas, William, George and Edward McCreery, all of this town.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. Stuart Nell of St. Mary's Episcopal church. The bearers were Edward McCreery, Benjamin Crehore, John Robb and Ralph Norton. Burial was in the family plot in East cemetery.

FUNERALS

Mrs. Mary Griffin

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary W. Griffin were held this morning, at her late home, 443 East Middle Turnpike at 8:30, and at 1 o'clock at St. Bridget's church. Rev. C. T. McCann celebrated the requiem high mass and Mrs. Margaret Smith Shea sang "Ave Maria" at the offertory, for the waiting hymn, "Lead, Kindly Light" and at the close of the mass, "Some Sweet Day."

The bearers were John Jensen, Elwood Walker, Oliver M. Mallon and Roy Griswold. Burial was in St. James' cemetery.

W. B. A. STATE RALLY TO BE HELD IN TOWN

Mrs. Grace Best Seis May 16 As Date For Event—Names Special Committees.

Mystic Review, Women's Benefit association, will be hostess to the state rally this spring, with an all-day meeting and banquet in Odd Fellows hall. Mrs. Grace Best of Hartford, the present state field director and a member of Mystic Review, has set the date of Tuesday, May 16, for the rally and appointed the following committee chairman: Mrs. Ethel Cowles, general chairman of the rally day committee; Mrs. Grace Lathrop, president of Mystic Review, to head the supper committee; Mrs. Julia Rawson, reception committee; Mrs. Thomas D. Smith, publicity; Mrs. Thora Stoehr, entertainment; Mrs. Ruth Waddell, ritualistic work. The above chairmen have the privilege of choosing their own assistants.

CONTINUE TRADE SCHOOL EXHIBIT

Rare Textile Fabrics To Be Shown Through Tuesday; Valued At Over $1,000.

Director J. G. Ehmalian, of the State Trade school, announced today that because of many requests he has decided to keep the present exhibit of rare textile fabrics on display until after the monthly all-membership meeting of the Chamber of Commerce meeting to be held next Tuesday evening.

Already an estimated total of 1,200 persons have viewed the exhibit and many more are doing so today. The display may be seen from 8 to 5 tomorrow, Monday and Tuesday. The exhibit includes silks from Cheney Brothers and the American Federation of Art as well as rugs from the Bigelow-Sanford Company of Thompsonville and Jacquard cards from Case Brothers of Highland Park.

The exhibit has been valued at more than a thousand dollars. Included are also some old colonial reproductions of coverlets manufactured by Trade school students.

GIRL SCOUTS PARTY GIVEN MISS DAVIS

Affair Held At Home of Mrs. Arthur Shorts Last Night—Guest To Wed In Spring.

Miss Myrtle D. Davis of 295 Main street was the guest of honor at a surprise miscellaneous shower and St. Patrick's party given last night at the home of Mrs. Arthur Shorts of Benton street. The guests were fifteen of the members of the senior troop of Girl Scouts of which Miss Davis is captain.

Mrs. Shorts had tastefully decorated her home in keeping with the occasion, and the favors and refreshments were significant of St. Patrick's day. The girls who are about 15 to 17 played their favorite Scout games and sang Scout songs, one or two gave humorous readings and played on the ukulele. They showed their leader with gifts of dainty linens, cut glass, and silver.

Miss Davis is to be married late this spring to Albert Crook of New Bedford, Mass. Since coming here from that city four years ago to engage in public health nursing she has made many friends throughout the town, and has taken an active part in Girl Scout work.

THE MANCHESTER ELECTRIC CO.

Statement

During the present bank emergency the Manchester Electric Company will, as a matter of convenience to the public, be pleased to cash checks in reasonable amounts, drawn on out of town banks.

We are also pleased to announce that individuals or merchants who hold checks drawn on the Manchester Electric Company, upon the Manchester Trust Company, may present these at our office and that we shall be glad to cash these if in small amounts or issue a new check drawn upon our Hartford banks.

What About Your Electric Bill? Do you get your moneys worth?

Perhaps you are trying to make the old radio do, but think—it costs just as much and sometimes more, to run the old radio as it does a new one. On the same electricity or less, a new radio will provide better, clearer tone; separate stations cleanly and get more of them; has more volume and practically no fading—in other words—gives you more for your money.

10,000 SLOT MACHINES OPERATING IN STATE

New Haven, March 17.—(AP)—A bill adopted in State Senate yesterday aimed to drive out slot machines which have provided what had been called "a million dollar racket" may, if enacted, stop upward of ten thousand machines in the state. In this city the number is placed as high as 850.

Ralph E. White, secretary of the fact finding committee in a crusade against various forms of vice, has testified the average harvest for a machine each week is $100, ranging from a few dollars in a small store to more than $500 in places where many people gather.

Coin machine operators met here last night to discuss the situation and afterward it was indicated a public statement would be issued. The headquarters of one coin slot machine concern which covers the New England field is here.

SHOPPING NEWS

Crocuses Up
We saw that first crocus that we have been waiting for yesterday. There was quite a group of them, in full bloom along the front of a house on Myrtle street.

By all means see "42nd Street", spectacular musical picture that is drawing enormous crowds everywhere and will be at the State Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. It's a grand show.

Safe Wrapping
Ripe cheese, when tightly wrapped in cellophane, can be safely stored in the refrigerator. Lettuce remains crisp when wrapped in cellophane.

The easiest way to lighten housework in one fell swoop is to dispose of that dreaded weekly wash. Send it to the New Model Laundry. Rates are now so low that it is not necessary for any woman to do this work herself. Phone 8072, ask about rates.

Light Colors Enlarge
There are a few points to remember when you start to do spring painting about the house. Painting the woodwork the same shade as the walls makes the room look larger. Light colored paint is better for small rooms or for those that are not well lighted. By using these rooms may be painted or papered in darker colors.

TO DISCUSS POULTRY AUCTIONS NEXT WEEK

Two Mass Meetings On Market Idea To Be Held—First In Hartford Monday.

Hartford, March 17.—Connecticut poultrymen, live poultry dealers and others interested will hold two mass meetings on Monday and Tuesday of next week to determine whether one or more live poultry auction markets will be started in the state.

The first of these meetings will be held Monday night at 7:30 o'clock in the Hartford County Building, Hartford, and will be open to all interested parties from Hartford, Middletown, Litchfield, Windham, Tolland and New London counties.

The second meeting will be held Tuesday night at 8:00 o'clock in the Cheshire Grange Hall, Cheshire, for the convenience of residents of New Haven, Middletown, Litchfield and Fairfield counties.

These meetings are the results of several months of investigational work in an effort to improve the market for poultry meat and are sponsored by the Hartford and New Haven County Farm Bureaus, assisted by the Marketing Committee of the Connecticut Poultry Association, the Extension Department of the Connecticut State College and the State Department of Agriculture.

County Agent Charles D. Lewis, assisted by a special committee, has arranged the meeting for the Hartford market area. Those on the committee are: Leo Grouten, Farmington; Marshall Collins, Hazardville; V. A. Slater, Berlin; Ernest W. Hart, Burlington; Alvin Russell, Manchester; Charles D. Clark, Granby; and Theodore Waters, Rocky Hill.

Raymond K. Clapp, New Haven County agent, is responsible for the meeting in the New Haven market area. He has been working with a committee consisting of Charles Peasall, West Cheshire; W. W. Ham, Branford; Emerson Clark, Milford; Sherman Sanford, Oxford; A. B. Hall, Wallingford; and M. Ernest Jones, Cheshire.

The investigations of the committee show that the selling of live

BANANA COOKERY INTERESTS WOMEN

Mrs. Crabtree At Herald School Tells How Fruit May Be Used in Dishes.

To another capacity audience of 1100 Manchester women this afternoon in the Temple, Mrs. Edna R. Crabtree, Herald Cooking School lecturer, gave some additional suggestions on the use of bananas in the daily diet. All this week Mrs. Crabtree has been delighting her audiences with recipes featuring the new-found food value of this delicious tropical fruit, stressing its economy, high vitamin content and tastiness.

Among the many new dishes demonstrated is the one which caught the fancy of today's audience, bananas broiled with bacon. This is a tasty dish combining the rich, fruity flavor of the banana with the spicy zest of a strip of bacon. Judging by the chorus of delighted mmms which greeted this recipe, the men folks of Manchester are going to eat bananas broiled in bacon—ad infinitum!

And the above recipe is only one of the many valuable hints about banana dishes given to the Herald cooking school audiences this week. Baked bananas, fried bananas, banana tarts, pulped bananas whipped into mayonnaise, banana layer cake,—all these dishes have combined to open the eyes of Manchester women to some new uses for this all-purpose, all-year-round food fruit. It has really been a demonstration of the new deal of the year as it applies to the kitchen and the menu-harassed housewife, and the "way in which the audience has taken to these new banana dishes is ample proof of the popularity of The Herald cooking schools in finding tasty additions to the usual daily menus.

Mrs. Crabtree is a real authority on the subject of foods and food value, and she has been bringing her audiences some valuable information on the place which the banana in the menus of the American housewife. This delicious fruit may also be used as a vegetable and, when broiled or baked, is a delightful addition to the meal where it is used as a side with meat or as a substitute for a vegetable. It is best cooked when the tips are green, according to Mrs. Crabtree, and should be eaten when the skin is yellow way to the tip and soaked with brown spots. Then, and only then, are the starches in the banana entirely converted to natural sugars.

The natural sugar content of the banana is another reason for the increased popularity of this food fruit among the specialists in baby care. When fully ripe the banana is so easy to digest, and so full of vitamins and minerals, that it is being prescribed in the diet of infants as early as three to four months of age. Nature has provided the banana with a sanitary, germ-proof package which increases its desirability as a food for children.

Mrs. Crabtree has also been giving a few hints on the best method of keeping the banana in its original tasty condition of ripeness. They should never be subjected to a temperature lower than 50 degrees, and keep best at ordinary room temperatures. From the time the banana leaves its home in the tropics until it reaches the table of your home, this matter of temperature control is one of the things most closely watched. All of the tremendous resources of the United Fruit Company and its subsidiary, The Fruit Dispatch Company, are used to insure the proper growth, transportation, handling and ripening of the banana so that it will reach the American home with that delicious flavor which makes it so popular.

FAMOUS MOVIE DOG TO BE AT HALE'S STORE

"Buddy" Appearing At State Theater Tomorrow To Also Be Self-Serve Grocery Guest.

"Buddy", the Lone Eagle dog movie and radio star, will make a "personal" appearance at Hale's "Self-Serve" Grocery Department Saturday afternoon. The exact time for his appearance in this department could not be stated, at this writing, but it is thought to be about mid-afternoon.

Through the courtesy of William Alexander, vice-president in charge of sales for Miner, Reed and Tullock, New Britain, Connecticut, sole distributors for Man-Kind Dog Food in Connecticut, which Buddy endorses and eats, Hale's are able to bring this remarkable "dog-wonder" to their store.

Although "Buddy" will do his complete vaudeville act at the State theater Saturday afternoon, Ben Cohen, manager of the State theater, assures us that through the cooperation of John Rich, owner and trainer of "Buddy", this remarkable animal wonder will appear about mid-afternoon at Hale's grocery department. Buddy is making two personal appearances at the State theater Saturday afternoon and evening, and while the management has requested it, it will be entirely impossible for "Buddy" to do any of his stage tricks at the Hale store. But Hale's customers and friends will have a splendid opportunity to see this remarkable dog canine movie star in the flesh.

Many Manchester folks, no doubt, saw "Buddy" this week in Hartford. He has made an afternoon and evening appearance daily at the Hartford Times Exposition held at the State Armory in Hartford every day this week.

"Buddy" eats Man-Kind Dog Food. Hale's "Self-Serve" was the first store in Manchester to introduce Man-Kind Dog Food and its sale now exceeds that of any other dog food carried in this food department. Man-Kind is a hundred per cent quality meat product and it is advertised as being fit for human consumption. "Buddy's" picture appears on the label of each can. The extreme beauty and human-like intelligence of this dog marvel testifies to the nutritious value of Man-Kind Dog Food. Hale's is sure that if "Buddy" had a human voice he would give Man-Kind vocal praise but as it is he can only bark his approval.

Hale's "Self-Serve" extends to all its friends and customers in Manchester and surrounding towns an invitation to see "Buddy" at their Grocery Department Saturday about mid-afternoon.

GETS TWO YEARS

Middletown, March 17.—(AP)—Paul V. Hodges of Waterbury, who previously had pleaded guilty to nine counts of breaking and entering, was sentenced today to state prison for 2 to 7 years on four counts by Judge Ernest A. Inglis in Superior Court.

Hodges was sentenced to 2 to 4 years on one count and one year on three additional counts, sentences not running concurrently.

Hodges was arrested with two other Waterbury men last month. After pleading guilty sentence was deferred until today.

RENT an ELECTRIC RANGE for 30c a week

The Last Word in Cooking

This plan has had an amazing reception.

First of all, it enables the homes who want and need electric cooking to have it NOW.

Also, it gives our customers the opportunity to try electric cooking—to make sure it is as marvelous as their friends say it is—and then to buy the range of their choice.

If the house is unwired the company pays a large part of the installation cost. The customer's moderate share is payable at a dollar a month.

This Range has been on display all week at the Herald Cooking School and thoroughly demonstrated by Mrs. Edna R. Crabtree, Home Economics Cooking School Lecturer.

FRONT-LINE BANKS
 Numerous proposals have been heard from various quarters for inclusion in the banking system of the country, when permanent bank legislation is adopted, of what are termed "front-line banks." These would be purely banks of exchange operated solely for the convenience of general business—for, in an easily understood interpretation, the carrying of checking accounts. Such institutions would earn their way and any possible profits through the making of service charges. Such charges, which necessarily would be small if the system were to succeed, would be compensated by the complete security that could be set up against either sporadic or epidemic banking troubles.

The "front-line" bank would deal in credits of any kind. It would make no loans. Its business would consist solely in receiving deposits and in clearing and honoring drafts against them. It could never have any frozen assets. It could not fail or suspend for any reason other than downright theft; and even that could be and would be made substantially impossible.

Such a bank would not have to be heavily capitalized. It would have only to do business enough to meet its expenses in order to remain 100 per cent liquid under all circumstances, and if it failed to do that it could be wound up at any time without loss to its depositors.

These banks would not, of course, displace the banks whose business is dealing in credits and lending money. They would merely provide facilities for those individuals and concerns whose capital is too small to warrant the taking of normal banking risks when they can be avoided by paying for a 100 per cent safe service. Those who desired to keep their balances at work could carry their deposits in credit banks, receiving such rates of interest for them as might be warranted by the profits of those institutions.

The experiences of the small depositors during the depression have certainly been such as to make a system of banks of exchange peculiarly acceptable to the people of America. The inclusion of provision for such a system in the new banking laws, when they are adopted, would be eagerly welcomed.

There is no such call upon Congress to adopt this measure in desperate haste as there has been for the passage of the very serious emergency legislation that has preceded it.

REPEAL CONVENTION
 The plan for a Constitutional convention to pass upon the ratification of prohibition repeal decided on by the Judiciary Committee of the General Assembly is an excellent one. It provides for fifty delegates, fifteen of whom are to be elected at large and one by each of the thirty-five senatorial districts, to be chosen during the coming summer.

There will be, if this plan is adopted, ample opportunity for every citizen in the state to record his will as to the repeal or continuance of the Eighteenth amendment. Every candidate for the position of delegate to the convention will be required to file nomination petitions and must declare whether he is for or against repeal. His attitude will be shown on the ticket. The voter will vote for the candidates who represent his views—each voting for fifteen delegates-at-large and one standing for his senatorial district, sixteen names altogether.

Fifty delegates thus elected cannot fail to reflect pretty closely the sentiment of the state. At the same time the election of a large majority by senatorial districts is generous to the rural communities where dry sentiment is supposed to be at its greatest.

A convention made up in this way will not, of course, give to the cities and larger towns the voting power in the convention to which they are entitled. It will, however, be reasonably fair. If it does not produce a preponderance of opinion favoring repeal then there will be little ground for complaint on the part of the wets. If it does there will be none at all on the part of the drys.

AS TO EDUCATION
 Lincoln Steffens, old-time muck-raker and disillusioned reporter, is a candidate for school trustee in his home town of Carmel, Calif., and his informally-announced platform indicates that he would make a school trustee of a strange and refreshing newness.

"My principal purpose," he says, "would be to develop the schools to the point where they could really educate. By that I mean that I would work to see that our children are not a repetition of ourselves, but a needed improvement on us."

not like any number of things about Englishmen, and that Englishmen do not like an equal number of things about Americans. Those things being admitted, there would be room for the two nations to get together on a firm basis.

In these remarks the novelist seems to have touched on the one great obstacle in the way of international friendship. It is failure to understand the nature of this obstacle, or even to recognize its existence, that brings a sour note into so many international adventures.

When two nations become allied in any great cause—and generally that means an alliance in war—they start out with a great chorus of cheers, many fine speeches and a fine glow of friendliness.

Then, presently, they discover that things aren't going to be quite as harmonious as they had expected. Each side finds that the other has its little peculiarities—and, for that matter, its big ones, too. The sentimentality gives way to disillusionment. Generally an active dislike follows.

There are records of American mobs having stoned French troops during our war for independence. Any veteran of the A. E. F. can testify that by the time the World War ended the A. E. F. and the French were muttering out of the corners of their mouths at one another. Sailors from the American and British fleets fought one another with vengeful enthusiasm whenever the occasion offered.

That is the way such things usually work out. Mr. Lewis' idea is to take the unpleasantness in advance and not to expect too much. It would open the way for much sounder international friendships.

 Attorney General Patrick H. O'Brien of Michigan wants to see a bill put through the legislature which would empower the governor to take over idle manufacturing plants and lease them to communities as a means of unemployment relief.

Behind the Scenes in WASHINGTON

By RODNEY DUTCHER
 NEA Service Writer
 Washington, March 18.—It was several days before members of the new administration could be sure of getting into their offices in the morning. Everyone was being stopped for awhile.

John Roosevelt, the President's son, drove up to the White House and was ordered to drive on. Gus Gernerich, the presidential bodyguard, had trouble crashing the front entrance. Secretary of the Treasury William H. Woodin had to argue himself into the White House for an important conference.

Senator Carter Glass, who used to be a Secretary of the Treasury himself, had to identify himself at Woodin's office. Charles Michelson, the big Democratic publicity boss, spent several minutes talking himself past a Capitol cop as he headed for the press gallery with copies of the inaugural address.

The vice-presidency, as everyone anticipated, is proving the ruination of Jack Garner. His pants have been pressed and his shoes shined ever since inauguration. Hardly anyone recognized him.

Hoover's Farewell
 Someone counted the members of Congress who said goodbye to Herbert Hoover at the Capitol on inauguration day and reports that there were only two, including one Democrat. The same source has it that two or three tears came into the retiring President's eyes as he shook hands.

Postmaster General Farley, Secretary of Labor Francis Perkins and others imported from New York by Roosevelt still call him "the governor."

"Talking to that fellow" condescended a very important Republican leader (assuming any Republican leaders are important now) after a conference with Roosevelt. "Is like drinking a highball after years of near beer."

Speakers here did a larger rather than a smaller trade during the bank holiday, although general business suffered. Proprietors explained that the public had to have some place to go with its worries. But the movements were engaged in a mass movement back to job, giving up other drinks which are more expensive.

Rich Man, Poor Man
 Huey Long kept popping up here and there in the interim between the two sessions of Congress. At a pre-inaugural reception and ball he grabbed the baton from the bandmaster to conduct and croon "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" to the best of his memory.

Gus Gernerich, the bodyguard, had to take a physical examination to be inducted into the secret service. He passed.

Speaker Henry T. Rainey, commander of the largest House majority any party ever had thus far preserves a 100 per cent record of prophecy. Referring in advance to the election of officers and committee chairmen in the House he predicted dryly: "I expect they'll be Democrats."

Your correspondent has a curious letter from a couple of New York detectives who came down here inauguration day to "crash the show" and had a swell time. They stood four hours at the White House, 20 feet from the President, having volunteered their services. "chasing back important guys who wanted to pass in front of the president's stand with tickets for the grandstand seats to the right. There was a laugh when we chased back a U. S. Senator and his lady. We got sore and said if you men were Washingtonians you would know how I am. We went on our own, a fat and skinny team, and got away clean. Gee, we would like to know who some of the important guys were who we chased back. . . . We think there should be a few more tough guys not far from the President at all times."

BOILS AND CARBUNCLES INDICATE LOWERED RESISTANCE
 The spring crop of boils will soon be here. Already I have been receiving quite a number of letters asking for information on how to prevent boils and carbuncles. Two conditions must be present for the ordinary boil to develop. The first one is a rundown condition of the bloodstream, which means that your resistance to infection is low. Any factor which induces enervation may be responsible, among them, rich food, lack of sleep and insufficient outdoor exercise.

The second condition necessary is a breaking of the skin which allows the infective bacteria, which are almost ever-present on the skin, to enter the body tissues. The opening scratch may be too small to be visible. It often results from the chafing of clothing, such as rubbing the back of the neck by a starched collar. When the kind of bacteria capable of producing a boil enter the broken skin and finds the resistance lowered, an active inflammation is set up, usually centering around a hair follicle. Occasionally a prize fighter will develop many boils, as is also to have occurred with Campbell, before an important fight. Their appearance at this time is probably due to a rich diet and to the frequent injury of the skin surface, which is abraded by boxing gloves during practice blows.

When boils come in series, one attacks after another there is likely to be some systemic weakness as might be caused from some disease such as diabetes. The first appearance of a boil is a swelling which is an angry red, resembling a small volcano, that pains, burns and itches. In a few days before the top develops a grayish or yellowish tip which opens and lets the pus escape. There may be a sore of hard material in the center of the boil containing principally of dead tissue. Care should be taken lest pus gets under the fingernails and be rubbed into another part of the skin by scratching. A carbuncle very much resembles a large boil with several heads or openings. Severe ones sometimes attack as much skin as a large boil. The treatment for either a boil or carbuncle consists in keeping the open surface clean by a protective covering. It is usually best to allow the skin to break and the boil to discharge without hastening the process by cutting into the boil. Blood poisoning has frequently resulted in people who opened boils with improperly sterilized instruments before the boil was ripe. If one wishes to open such abscesses and must continually take purgatives.

Answer: The only way you could contract, eat, or from a friend is improper eating that your friend have practiced in order to have developed carbuncle. You have practically answered your own question when you tell me you are constipated. Get rid of your constipation through proper dieting and your carbuncle and bad breath will disappear at once.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS (Sweating Hands)
 Question: H. F. writes "I am troubled with excessive sweating in the palms of my hands. Is there any way to overcome this?"
 Answer: Excessive sweating of the hands is generally an indication of some nervous disorder. . . . If you will search out the cause of your trouble, you will no doubt find that your nervousness originates from dietetic errors and lack of exercise. . . . If you will get up a good sweat over your entire body every day, this will help materially in throwing out irritating impurities which may be causing your nervousness.

(Boils Indicate Eliminated Process)
 Question: Mr. George R. writes: "Why is it that some people who are eating the right foods and combining them correctly are troubled with boils?"
 Answer: Persistent and patient adherence to proper food combinations will eventually purify the blood so that the body will not find it necessary to eliminate toxins through the skin in the form of boils. Boils are usually an indication of an eliminative process. If you will write to me again, sending me a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope, I will send you my article on this subject, which will give you more detailed information than I can in this column.

(Mushrooms)
 Question: Mrs. Anita J. asks: "What food value have fresh or dried mushrooms? What part of a chicken is easier to digest the light or dark meat?"
 Answer: Dried or fresh mushrooms have only a small amount of food value, but are delicious additions to the diet when one is attempting to use a large variety of non-starchy vegetables. The white meat of fowl is usually more tender and digests in a shorter time than the dark meat.

(Normal Temperature Rarely Maintained)
 Question: Mr. George writes: "Why is it that at times my temperature will be 97.5 and then at different hours of the day it will range between this point and 98.5? Is this anything to worry about?"
 Answer: Although normal temperature is 98.6, very few people maintain this temperature all the time, or during the entire day. Even the healthiest person, if he were to stop to take his temperature at different times, would find that it varies. The variance in your temperature is nothing to worry about.

(Vinegar)
 Question: Martin J. F. asks: "Do you consider the use of either sour flavoring to good effect vinegar (with food which requires it to make them palatable) to be injurious to a person having rheumatism?"
 Answer: I do not recommend vinegar, lemon juice or other sour flavorings to be used with meals. However, one of the best ways to get rid of rheumatism is to live for several weeks on an acid fruit diet, taking an orange or tomato fast and then when returning to the normal diet, eliminating all acid foods from your regular meals.

NOTRE DAME COUNTS ITS IRISH NOSES

Kidded So Much, Survey Is Made—Majority of Students Are Really Irish.

South Bend, Ind., March 17.—(AP)—The "Fighting Irish" of Notre Dame still are Irish—even though they may sneer from the sidelines while the Sheekatskis, the Schwartzes and the Carideses fight their football battles for them.

So said officials of the local university today on the basis of a student survey to determine just how many Irishmen were enrolled.

Results, said the announcement, were most gratifying—showing that 899 sons of Erin were roaming the campus today. And it was St. Patrick's Day, too.

While they faunted their shamrocks and bits of green today their supremacy, however, was a one day affair only. Extractions of other nationalities have invaded this campus in increasing numbers.

For instance, the survey showed 567 with German blood, and, furthermore, 280 who trace their ancestry back to England, live and eat daily—and in perfect harmony, too—with their Irish fellow students.

The survey was conducted by a committee under the direction of the university's Daily Religious Bulletin, of which the Rev. John O'Hara, prefect of religion, is the editor.

Have Been Kidded "We have been kidded so much by the newspapers about the name they gave us some years ago, 'The Fighting Irish,'" he explained "that we analyzed the student directory according to national origins of family names."

With the exception of about 200 names, including the always uncertain Smiths, Martins, Browns and the Johnsons, the work has been finished, he said.

Father O'Hara admitted that Irishmen might be prone to admit national kinship to some of the sons bearing names that could not be connected with Ireland.

However, sons of Irish mothers were counted as Irishmen regardless of the home land of their fathers. The Irish never were inclined to confine themselves to the shores of Ireland—attested by the fact that there are more Irish to wear the green in America today than in Ireland.

Other nationalities at Notre Dame, Father O'Hara said, include 199 Slavs, 145 Italians, 84 Frenchmen, 56 Scotchmen, 39 Jews (mostly German), 15 Spaniards, six Scandinavians, six Syrians and five Greeks.

As for Hungarians, Dutchmen and Belgians—there may even be a few of them, and others too, to show up on next year's football team.

YOUNG FAIRBANKS SUED ON ALIENATION CHARGE

$60,000 Damage Asked — Film Star Claims It Is a Frame-Up.

Los Angeles, March 17.—(AP)—A vigorous denial of a charge of alienation of affections and false imprisonment was made today by Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., screen actor, who yesterday was sued for $60,000 damages by Jorgen Dietz, chemical engineer.

Two actions were filed by Dietz. In the first he accuses the actor of stealing the love and affection, comfort and assistance of his wife, Mrs. Solveig Dietz.

In his second suit, the engineer charges Fairbanks, Michael Lev, Fairbanks' manager, and others coerced and threatened him with imprisonment to compel him to desist from making any claim against the film actor.

Dietz charges that Levee, Fairbanks and others compelled him to go to the district attorney's office, where he was restrained from his library for two hours. Later, he alleges, he was forced to go to a room at a downtown hotel where he again was imprisoned for four hours.

Filing of the suit brought to light an investigation involving Fairbanks, Dietz and a screen actress, Lucy Dornine, conducted by District Attorney Byron Fitts last December. The investigation, Fitts said, was requested by Fairbanks, Jr.

At that time, Fitts said, Dornine and Dietz were questioned by him at his office after, he said, Miss Dornine attempted to sell young Fairbanks a necklace. Fitts said the investigation disclosed the pair had threatened the alienation suit against Fairbanks if he failed to buy the necklace. They said, Fitts declared, they wanted the money in order they might marry.

"I am not going to dodge the issue this time," said Fairbanks. "My wife, Joan Crawford, understands the whole thing and has known about it all along. At first we laughed and now we are mad—not between ourselves but at the whole situation."

Dietz' suit alleges the alienation of affections of his wife took place over a period of a year, beginning in February, 1931. Mrs. Dietz is now reported to be in Copenhagen, Denmark, her home.

PRISONER KILLS SELF

Burlington, Vt., March 17.—(AP)—Warren MacLaren, 26, of Boston, a Federal prisoner in the Chittenden county jail, committed suicide tonight by hanging in his cell. Gauze bandages were used by MacLaren.

Jail officials said he attempted suicide March 3 by cutting an artery in his arm with a razor. He was a native of Prince Edward Island and was serving a sentence for entering the United States unlawfully. His parents live in Boston.

Queer Twists In Day's News

Paris—Jean Chiappe, police chief, is trying to cut down noise in Paris streets, but he admits he gets nervous when the city is too quiet.

"I am constantly seeking for a reasonable equilibrium; but in my warfare against noise, I must remember that a noisy city is a healthy city. Cities are like children, and experts become anxious when the child is silent and the city is mute."

No less than 2,216 persons have been prosecuted in six months for unnecessary noise.

Evansville, Ill.—Evansville policemen are indulging in long looks at the candidates for queen of their coming ball. In addition to taking their fingers, advertising meanwhile that the winner will be the one with the most impressive prints.

Crime experts scoffed at the idea. "There's little difference between the print of a charwoman and a sculptress," one of them said.

"You couldn't even distinguish sex. The queen might turn out to be a king."

Philadelphia—Acceptance of the "King's Sovereign" has received a record on Broadway for the length of a run, ending exactly one night. After reading the reviews the producer closed the show with the query: "Why throw good money after bad?"

Some of the news was tragic, but that is how it goes.

Out on Bath avenue in Brooklyn, Carmelo Lauricella was very angry because there wasn't enough heat in his room. Mr. Lauricella being a man who likes to lounge about in a comfortable atmosphere. He took the matter up rather heatedly with his landlord, Ralph De Guard, and at the end of the argument De Guard had been shot dead and Lauricella had been locked up.

Queer Fish There were no fish legged calves but there were fish legs in from South Africa that swim upside down and make believe they are leaves.

Karl Grien, who sailed up the Amazon collecting all manner of fish, came in with them to the delight of New York fish dealers who are always keen to see something new piscatorially.

Mr. Grien had five leaf fish and the resultant hysteria among the dealers was worth going two or three feet to see. This leaf fish is an out-and-out mature faking. He floats upside down acting like a leaf, with a protuberance from his mouth serving as the leaf stem. Unsuspecting smaller creatures cruise up, whereupon the leaf fish opens its mouth—an aperture of amazing dimensions—and the smaller creature disappears therein.

Such Is Life. Such is life in New York today—funny fish, murder done because a room was cold, cinema stars talking with the press, and a trackwalker named Patrick Henafin being killed to start a city's death roll on St. Patrick's day.

The best authorities say that St. Patrick's English name was Suetat; and the city directory shows no one by that name living in New York. That is hardly a matter of grave concern, but the new styles in bar-rooms which are planned for the beer days have created a bit of a stir.

The management of one leading hotel announces that beer drinking will not be by any means a stag affair. The hotel will install a cafe-lounge where men and women may foregather and consume beer, doing away entirely with the men-only idea which prevailed before prohibition.

The New York Chapter of the American Institute of Banking organizes a dramatic club, and that is about all except Gerald Gregg of Mangum, Okla., who created a disturbance in a Federal courtroom because he objected to having a lawyer appointed to defend him against a charge of attempting to pass a bogus bill.

"I don't need a professional liar to defend me," he shouted.

"I will assign a professional truth-teller to defend you," the court snapped back.

Overnight A. P. News Norton, Mass.—State police seize 4,000 cases of assorted liquors with an estimated value of $180,000. The liquor was stored in farm buildings.

NEWS OF WORLD IS NORMAL AGAIN

Bank Holidays, Earthquakes, Jap "War" Being Regulated To the Background.

New York, March 17.—(AP)—News, which has been at flood stage for the past few days with the President, the Congress, the banks, the earthquake and Babe Ruth writing black headlines, got back into its channel today. A channel bounded roughly by prominent clubman seeks divorce, Japs capture another town, farmer tells of five-legged cow, and strange fish swim backward and eat hay.

So it went today. Gloria Swanson was back from Europe predicting she would probably remain in the cinema until 1943.

Norma Shearer notified the movie writers that she would be delighted to have them take tea with her late this afternoon.

A show called "Marilyn's Affairs" set a new and probably all-time record on Broadway for the length of a run, ending exactly one night. After reading the reviews the producer closed the show with the query: "Why throw good money after bad?"

Roosevelts Celebrate Wedding Anniversary

President and First Lady Hold Family Party With Just a Few Old Friends.

Washington, March 17.—(AP)—A family party with just a few old friends was the program with which the President and First Lady today marked their twenty-eighth wedding anniversary.

The Franklin Delano Roosevelts had no intention of throwing aside even for this occasion the simplicity and informality they took to the White House. Few were the guests invited to a dinner tonight. And among these were several who took part in that New York wedding 28 years ago.

Besides Mrs. James Roosevelt, the President's mother; Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Dall, the Roosevelt's son-in-law and daughter; Mrs. David Gray of Aiken, South Carolina, an aunt, and Mr. Roosevelt's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Frederic A. Delano, there were included Mr. and Mrs. Henry Farish, in whose home the wedding was held, and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Delano Robbins, an usher in the wedding, a cousin of the President and White House social arbiter for the Hoovers.

Chances are that there were many reminders to the new White House family, because of the surroundings if nothing else, for it was President Theodore Roosevelt who on March 17, 1905, gave his niece, Anna Eleanor, in marriage to her distant cousin, Franklin.

COLLEGE BUILDINGS BURN

Sackville, N. D., March 17.—(AP)—Fire, believed to have been caused by incendiaries, started simultaneously in two buildings of Mount Allison University early today, causing loss estimated at $130,000.

The flames were discovered first in the old Science building and a few minutes later were noticed breaking from Centennial Hall, some distance away.

"Epe" Eschies, well known hockey player, was overcome by smoke as he attempted to save some furnishings in Centennial Hall. Students groping through the building stumbled over his body and carried him out.

On March 7, Mount Allison Academy was burned with loss of $75,000.

15 KILLED BY BLAST

Colombo, Ceylon, March 17.—(AP)—Fifteen persons were killed Tuesday night in an explosion and fire aboard the Norwegian steamship Hinny. The vessel sank in the Indian ocean 300 miles from here, survivors reported today.

The ship was abandoned by 13 survivors, five of whom were seriously injured. They were picked up by the Japanese ship Naples Maru. The Hinny was out of Antwerp for China.

TOLLAND

Word has been received in Tolland of the death of Bert F. Homan age 25 years, of Riverside, California at the County Hospital, Arlington. Mr. Homan was well known in town as his early boyhood and manhood was spent here, the son of Mrs. Edward Meacham. Besides his wife, Mrs. nds (Holden) Homan, he leaves a son Edwin Earl Homan of Hartford, his mother, Mrs. Edward Meacham, a sister Alice Meacham, two brothers, James and Raymond Meacham, his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Urain, and several uncles, aunts and cousins all of Tolland.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Wilcox of Harrow were guests of friends here Thursday afternoon and evening.

The Tolland Grange whist was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Hayden Thursday evening when twenty-five were present to enjoy the festivities. After the game refreshments and coffee were served.

The Chesterfield FORMULA—what is it?

Advertisement for Chesterfield cigarettes featuring a man in a suit smoking a cigarette. Text includes: 'The formulas and processes which make Chesterfield a milder and better-tasting cigarette are secret—to prevent others from copying them. If every person knew the method and processes of tanning leather, it would be of interest; but what people want to know is: Is it a good shoe? Is it comfortable? Will it wear longer? Is the price right? So it is with Chesterfield Cigarettes. If smokers, men and women, knew all of the formulas and processes of manufacture, it would be of interest to them; but what smokers really want is the result. Everything that goes into Chesterfield Cigarettes is as good as money can buy. Every process has in it all that science knows about cigarette manufacture. The formulas are secret to prevent others from copying them. The mildness and the better taste you may prove for yourself. May we ask you to try Chesterfield? Wherever you buy Chesterfields, you get them just as fresh as if you came by our factory door. They Satisfy—people know it'

BEGIN HERE TODAY
JANET HILL breaks her engagement with ROLF CARLYLE after learning he had been going out with BETTY KENDALL, a society girl. Janet is secretary to BRUCE HAMILTON, advertising manager of Every Home Magazine, and Rolf is employed in an advertising office.

She still loves Rolf and can not forget him. On a stormy March evening when she feels lonely and unhappy Janet leaves the office and walks down a familiar street. She hears a little girl crying, talks to her and later buys her a hot meal. The little girl is ROSIE SILVANI. She has been trying to sell candy and lost her money.

Janet starts out to take Rosie home. A holdup man grabs Janet's purse and Rosie screams. JEFFREY GRANT, a young engineer who lives at the same rooming house as Janet, suddenly appears and the holdup man runs. Jeffrey takes Janet and Rosie to the Silvani home in his car. They talk to PAT SILVANI, the father, who has been out of work for two years and to TOMMY, Rosie's crippled brother. The family is almost destitute and Janet and Jeffrey decide to "adopt" them.

They send food and clothing and, with the aid of her employer, Janet finds a steady job for Pat. Later she and Jeffrey take the children to a circus.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XX

When Jeff spoke the words were not in the least what Janet had expected. He said, "You know I almost joined up with a circus once. I was 16 and they were going to give me a job with the tent crew. Lord, but I wanted to go! I told my uncle about it and he said if I'd stay at home and finish high school he'd see that I got a job in a circus then—providing I still wanted it. So I finally agreed. I can still remember how I felt, though, when the circus train pulled out of town. Talk about disappointments!"

Janet said, "It must have been hard?"
"Hard? Say—nothing's ever struck me harder. I have a theory that the disappointments a kid gets about some trivial matter are just as serious for him as the way a grown-up feels about something really important."

He went on to tell Janet about his childhood in the little town where his uncle owned a hardware store. Both his parents had died while he was still too small to remember them. He had lived with his uncle and aunt until he was graduated from high school. Then, instead of joining another circus, he had decided to go to college to study engineering. He had borrowed the rest and paid it back. For the last year now he had been strictly "on his own."

Paulina Longworth Rides in Show

Paulina Longworth, daughter of the late Speaker Nicholas Longworth and Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth, is already an equestrienne. Here she is during a Washington horse show. Her mother, called "Princess Alice" in the days when her father, Theodore Roosevelt, was president, holds the pony's bridle.

at a deeper interest he was sure to follow it with some casual remark.

He was as different from Rolf Carlyle as night from day. Rolf had paid her pretty compliments the second time he met her, had given her to understand that he was in love with her the third.

Jeff Frank, on the contrary, talked about steel mills, the news on the sport page and funny things that happened at the office.

Thinking about it afterward Janet shrugged. What difference did it make what Mrs. Silvani thought so long as Jeff Grant understood? There were no sentimental notions in Jeff Grant's mind. He wasn't that kind.

He had stopped at the door to talk to her once or twice but he had never entered the apartment. Now he came inside. Janet dropped into a chair and motioned him toward one.

"There's something I thought maybe you'd help me with," Grant said hesitantly.

candy box maybe or a piece of pottery. Maybe she'd like a handbag. I saw some beauties in Marsh's window today. They were on sale at $5. Really lovely ones—!"

Janet smiled again. "Well, of course I don't know. I'd like one of them myself though."

"I think that's a good bunch," Janes announced. "Would you be willing to go with me to buy it? I'm pretty dumb at things like that. I'd probably pick out the worst in the bunch."

She agreed to meet him at Marsh's department store next day at 12:15. They could buy the purse and then have a sandwich somewhere together. He stayed a little longer and then departed. "Twelve-fifteen," he called over his shoulder as he closed the door. "Don't forget!"

At exactly 12 minutes past 12 o'clock the next day Janet entered the main door of Marsh's department store—Jeff Grant was there before her.

"Hello," he grinned. "I was wondering what in the world I'd do if you didn't show up. These days give me the willies. Too many women around!"

YOUR CHILDREN

By Olive Roberts Barton
© 1933 NEA SERVICE, INC.

We live on a windy street and as luck has it, on the side that is a natural depository for all the odds and ends of paper the wind plays with. What causes this I do not know. The other side is free from rubbish, but we on our side operate a pick-up, sweep-up, chase-after brigade from morning until night.

But no sooner are our backs turned than the gutter, the terrace, the hedge and the steps seem to wave new welcome to mud-stained newspapers, advertisements and school papers and chewing wrappers.

A Careless Public
The real offender is not the wind, nor the suction caused by passing cars. The blame must be placed where it belongs, to a careless, disorderly and offensive public that has adopted for its slogan "After us the deluge—of dirt. Let someone else clean it up!"

Every day our city spends many dollars in street cleaning. Each day thousands of housewife's backs are strained cleaning up the crap thrown deliberately and viciously on the streets. Watch the cart of a white-wing. What does it contain? Papers, wrappers, cellophane, cigar containers, match boxes, liver paper, old candy and gum envelopes, banana and orange skins, cigar and cigarette stubs, trash!

Now, say you, this is what the white-wings are for, and what those big tank suction-sweepers are for. Also what the city fire hoses are for. Wait, certainly it is the cause of their being and also the cause of their expense. They give men work and so on.

Must Learn Order
But there is one bald fact that takes any argument for that side all together out of it. Each day labor, expense and all the rest of it, no cleaning system can possibly keep up with the filthy habits of the public. For every half hour of immaculate streets there are twenty-three and a half hours of muck.

Four blame it on the children. Don't try that. They tear up school papers and toss them to the elements, and throw about candy wrappers, but the grown-up children are the worst. Out of automobile windows come the flossam and jetsam of the riding public. No! all of it, but in the arm. Moreover, he takes and throws anything on the street they haven't any use for, and it offends the eyes of everyone who sees it. The collective result is appalling.

It takes early training and persistence to plant in the child's mind and therefore the adults, that order and neatness on the streets is not only right but lawful, that any rubbish thrown there is criminal and should be punishable. It is so in many other countries. Throw down an envelope or a paper or an empty cigarette box and a policeman taps you on the arm. Moreover, he takes you to a square and you pay a fine. I wish they would start it here. Our street cleaning department would pay its own expense.

Man broke his leg in Litchfield, Ill., in a fall. The presumption is that he succeeded in chasing the wolf away from his door, anyway.

SUPPER'S COLD—ON SUNDAY! But It's Becoming the Favorite Meal of the Week.

Sunday night suppers are getting to be America's favorite meal. You can get everything ready in advance, serve it all buffet style, with everybody helping himself in informal style and a good time will be had by all, particularly by the hostess.

Cold cuts can give a wide range in taste by including cold chicken, ham, tongue and pepper beef sliced thin and tempting and served on a platter with pickles or pickled tomatoes garnishing it.

Veal Least Economical
If your pocketbook is thin, make a veal loaf or a beef and pork loaf on Saturday and slice it, instead of all these cold cuts. By using eggs and cracker crumbs, a pound of beef and a pound of pork or two pounds of veal with one-quarter pound of pork, all ground up by the butcher while you look on, you can get a large-sized loaf that will feed from eight to twelve.

With cold cuts you need salads. Give your guests a choice so they can have one or both. Potato salad, garnished with egg slices and cucumbers is a favorite with men. Women are more likely to prefer a vegetable-in-tomato aspic, garnished with sliced lemons.

Salads in Gelatin
You use diced carrots, peas, beans or even some corn you have in your ice box in this. Or you can use grated red cabbage, or almost any vegetable you have left over.

Monday your guests could either in one large or several small moulds. The smaller moulds go farther as each slice gives a person a smaller helping. Get your gelatin salad made Saturday and on ice. Cook your potatoes for the other salad on Saturday too and boil your eggs.

A Complete For Dessert
Dicing things will take only a short time Sunday and you can have your platters all ready to drag out of the mechanical refrigerator and place on the serving table.

With this you need only a fruit compote for dessert, unless you are feeling lavish. Then serve individual cupcakes or sliced cake with a good compote is made of pears, figs, prunes, apricots and sliced pineapple. In a pinch, you can open cans of these various ingredients and mix them ready for serving. Serve icy cold.

Here you have the perfect spring Sunday supper by adding a hot drink. If you are really hospitable, you can either mix up a batch of hot biscuits, make hot corn bread or heat baker's rolls.

Hints on How to Keep Well by World Famed Authority

SPIDER BITE MAY CAUSE ILLNESS AND EVEN DEATH

Cramp-like Sensations Follow the Bite Of the "Black Widow," One Of The Most Serious Offenders; See Stings Trivial.

By DR. MORRIS FISHER, Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine.

Snake bites and lizard bites do not affect any considerable number of people in this country, although such cases do occur, particularly in the southwest. On the other hand, not a few people are occasionally bitten by spiders or scorpions or stung by bees, wasps or hornets.

Most spider bites in the United States are due to the spider called the "shoe-button" spider, the "hour-glass" spider or the "black widow." The insect is called shoe-button spider because the body is black and button-like. It is called black widow because of the peculiar habits of this insect. The female frequently eats the male after it has served its purpose.

When a person is bitten by the black widow, he has sudden, severe pain at the spot where bitten, and, associated with this, cramp-like sensations in the muscles near the spot. There may also be sensations of heat and cold, called hot flashes; perspiration; severe sweating; restlessness, and, sometimes, in most serious cases, actual disturbance of the action of the bowels and kidneys.

In exceptional instances, in something less than 10 per cent, there may be progress of the condition to the point of death. Because the insect is small, the bite is small, usually a red spot about as large as the head of a pin.

Scorpions, in contrast to spiders, are frequent, and their bites are rather rare. When a person is bitten by a scorpion, it is customary for the doctor to inject anesthetic solutions around the bite, including also some adrenalin solution to constrict the blood vessels and prevent absorption.

The sting of the bee, wasp or hornet produces pain and swelling, but serious illness only when a considerable number of insects have stung one person at the same time, or when the person stung is especially sensitive to the poison of the insect. A bee sting is usually less poisonous than that of a hornet.

The pain of a sting from a bee or wasp may be alleviated by the use of lotions or ointments containing menthol or carbolic acid. It is well to make sure that the wound is kept clean. Sometimes, to prevent absorption of the poison, it is well to have a physician prescribe a suitable cathartic. Obviously a person who is extremely nervous or who suffers with extreme pain should have sedatives for relief.

GLORIFYING YOURSELF

By Alicia Hart
© 1933 NEA SERVICE, INC.

RESPECT YOURSELF AND OTHERS WITH GOOD GROOMING IS IMPERATIVE.

Good grooming means a lot more than just keeping yourself clean. You have to have your hair in place, your tie tied just right, your shoes, purse and gloves looking spick and span, your make-up on right and staying put.

Most of all, you must know yourself that your underthings that don't show at all are in perfect condition. Even if you have only one set of underthings and one pair of stockings, you can keep them immaculate! It is no trick to rinse out your hose and gloves of an evening. Of course most everybody does have a change and that facilitates things a lot.

But don't be satisfied just to rinse things out any way. Wash your undies carefully, from them well, have the shoulder straps smooth, the lace edges looking de luxe. Keep your lingerie tucked, or if it is white, keep it pure white. And don't begrudge the time it takes to have fresh underwear and hosiery every day. Nothing sets a woman up more than to start out immaculate. Things worn twice can't possibly give her this assurance.

Be careful about such small things as your shoe heels. You can have heels straightened for a few cents now. No lady wears runover heels. Press your silk shoe laces, keep them looking new and self-respecting.

Gloves are an item of expense to the business woman. It is much better to wear fabric gloves, washed daily, than to keep wearing a pair of expensive leather gloves that are out of shape and shabby looking.

Your own good taste should be your standard in this matter of good grooming. Respect yourself for your fresh appearance and others will, too.

A BOOK A DAY

BY BRUCE CATTON
A BEAUTY—OR JUST A BORE?
This Novel About Marriage Can Be Viewed Both Ways.

"Marriage in Heaven," by Ronald Fraser, will seem to many readers a book of rare delicacy, beauty and insight. To others—to a larger number, perhaps—it will seem like a great many words about practically nothing.

It is the story of a love affair, un-complicated and simple, on the surface. A young artist falls in love with a girl, marries her, has a series of petty quarrels with her, leaves her, finds that he can't live without her, and comes back to her; and the book closes with the implicit assurance that they all lived happily ever after.

That in bare outline, is the story. As a matter of fact, it's a lot of stories—about half of all the English novels that have been published in the past decade. But Mr. Fraser's work is a cut above the average.

His hero and heroine are tormented by a vision of the ideal. The first moments of their love were utterly rapturous; so the slow pace of days-day living brought them, inevitably, down out of the Elysian fields into the ordinary workaday world. So they fought over nothing; at times they almost hated each other for being unable to sustain the high pitch of those first hours. The story is really the description of how they found a way to preserve the splendor of their vision.

Mr. Fraser does get his feet a long way off the ground. Some will find his book rarely beautiful. Others, I fear, will be bored by it.

Published by Scribners, the book retails at $2.

FIST FIGHT AGAIN MARKS ICE TUSSLE IN NATIONAL LOOP

Battles Between Players Continue As Season Nears End; Closeness of Race Given As Cause.

New York, March 17. (AP)—The National Hockey League season for 1932-33 appears to be one which will be remembered for the battling at the finish, if for no other reason.

Following close behind the battle at Boston Tuesday which resulted in a forfeited game, the Detroit Red Wings and Toronto Maple Leafs staged an imbroglio last night that even brought a penalty to a goal tender, the rarest of all banishments and the first this season.

Again In Front Detroit's triumph put the Wings back into first place in the American division a point ahead of the Boston Bruins, who preserved their string of eight games without a defeat but slipped back to second place.

The draw was somewhat harder on the Americans who finished three points behind the Montreal Canadiens in their race for third place in the International division as the flying Frenchmen took a 2-1 decision from the New York Rangers.

There is to be no discredit placed on the shoulders of the local girls for losing last night's match and a grand chance to "cop" the title. They did not "choke up" but fought hard to win and it was only through bad breaks and an unexpected off night that is to blame for their defeat.

By their three-game victory last night the Maple Girls practically clinch the title as they have only one more series to bowl and that with the Palace Girls of New Britain which is considered a weak team.

EARNINGS OF LATE JOCKEY RIVAL BABE RUTH'S BIG SALARY

Idol of Buenos Aires Race Track Has Earned Huge Sums In Ten Years of Riding Winning Mounts. Buenos Aires, March 17. (AP)—On any list of professional athletes who have made their prowess pay them big money, the name of the jockey Ireneo Leguismo, idol of the Buenos Aires racetrack, belongs one-two-three.

In ten years of riding at the Jockey Club Leguismo has collected $385,000 in commissions on winnings of the mounts he has ridden. That represents five per cent of the prize money plus another five per cent invariably paid to the jockey by the owner of a winning horse. It does not include generous gifts from the owners of race winners, which probably amount to another $100,000 or more.

Leguismo is a Uruguayan who started riding on the Buenos Aires track in 1922. Since then he has ridden 2,850 horses, of which 887, or 29.7 per cent, won. His biggest year was 1930, when horses he rode won $527,600 in stakes and when he twice set world records—one day by leading in a single race to shoot and but by inches leaving the match still tied. It was the up to the two anchors of the teams to do or die. Both Mrs. Frisk and Mrs. Schubert got spurs to work on, but Mrs. Frisk being more confident with two victories already under her belt calmly chalked up the mark while "Jennie" missed amid the groans of the large gallery. Mrs. Frisk filled in with five plus to take the last and final game.

There is to be no discredit placed on the shoulders of the local girls for losing last night's match and a grand chance to "cop" the title. They did not "choke up" but fought hard to win and it was only through bad breaks and an unexpected off night that is to blame for their defeat.

FEW WITHDRAWALS AT ROCKVILLE BANK

Deposits Above Normal — Financial Situation Hasn't Affected Rockville People.

Rockville, March 17.—The actual cash withdrawals at the Rockville National Bank during the first two days under the new license following the re-opening on Wednesday morning, have been exceedingly small. Such is the statement made yesterday afternoon by Assistant Cashier Charles M. Squires who was in charge. Unusual interest is shown in the statement that the deposits were twice as heavy were reported as above normal and were also reported as being between $50,000 and $70,000. Close to $50,000 was paid in the local factories within the past week in wages and salaries. The financial situation in other cities seems but a myth in Rockville for cash payments have been made for all through the crisis of the past ten days.

Well over $10,000 has been received in gold deposits during the past week and starting today the Rockville National Bank will keep a list for the government of all persons depositing gold coinage or gold certificates. Originally this was to start on Monday, March 13, and during the day over $5,000 was brought to the bank in gold and exchanged. The Rockville Building and Loan Association which has the rating of a savings bank, opened for business on Wednesday evening.

Bowling Banquet
A delicious turkey dinner was served last evening at the annual banquet of the Maple Grove Bowling League in celebration of the closing of a successful season. Close to ninety members and guests were present at the banquet which was served by John Bonan, host, of the Rockville Diner. The menu included chicken soup with noodles, roast turkey, stuffing, green peas, cranberry sauce, French rolls and coffee.

Shortly after 9 o'clock the post prandial exercises opened with Lewis H. Chapman, Exalted Ruler of Rockville Lodge, No. 1359, B. P. O. Elks, as the toastmaster. Mr. Chapman who has filled the chair as toastmaster on several occasions during recent months was highly complimented for his ability last evening. "Hookie" Yost was in charge of the evening's entertainment and presented a number of professional entertainers who entertained with dancing and singing. A feature of the evening's program was the awarding of the season's prizes to the high string team and the high string bowler.

Much credit is due the committee in charge which consisted of a group headed by Julius Genovese as chairman. The late hours of the evening were spent in several bowling contests which proved of unusual interest.

Celebrates 79th Birthday.
The dean of Rockville physicians and well-known throughout New England as a physician and surgeon, Dr. Thomas F. Rockwell, is celebrating his 79th birthday at his home on Park street, Rockville. While Dr. Rockwell has been in poor health for several months he has received the greetings of many of his friends today at his home. For several weeks he has been confined to his bed. He is one of the few doctors in New England who has given medical aid to three generations in some families and on March 1st, 1931, he celebrated his golden anniversary in the medical profession. The saving of human life was Dr. Rockwell's object as a physician and surgeon rather than securing financial compensation and today many people are alive due to the care of this well known physician-surgeon.

Dr. Thomas F. Rockwell is a member of the American Medical Association, the Connecticut State Medical Society and the Tolland County Medical Association. He has held many offices as a member of the latter association. From the time he left college, Dr. Rockwell has taken an active interest in military affairs and is a member of the Society of Military and Naval Surgeons of the United States. He was also one of the earliest health officers in Connecticut.

The career of Dr. Thomas F. Rockwell as a military medical surgeon dates back to the early nineties. He was long identified with the old First Regiment, Connecticut National Guard, at which time he began his military career, back in 1890, and this career continued for over a score of years.

During the Spanish-American war Dr. Thomas F. Rockwell served as a major on the state military staff. During the World War he was surgeon of the Rockville Draft Board and cared for hundreds of sick people during the influenza epidemic. Not alone was Dr. Rockwell prominent in medical and military circles but he was also prominent fraternally and socially.

He is a member of James W. Milne Camp, United Spanish War Veterans; Rising Star Lodge, Improved Order of Odd Fellows; Court Hearts of Oak, Foresters of America; and the Ancient Order of United Workmen.

Father and Son Banquet.
The annual Father and Son banquet of St. John's Episcopal church was held last evening in the church social rooms at which a large number were present. Mrs. Franklin Harlow was in charge of the turkey dinner which was served to the large group. The speaker of the evening was J. M. Thwing, of the Connecticut State College at Storrs who spoke on the topic "The Boy and the Man," which proved very interesting. The toastmaster for the evening was Rev. Henry B. Olmstead, rector of St. John's church. Interesting short talks were given during the evening by Franklin Harlow, leader of the boys group, and "Buddy" Heints who spoke on behalf of the sons.

Rev. William F. Tyler, Tolland County Young Men's Christian Association secretary, also addressed the meeting and brought the greetings of the county and state organizations. The banquet was considered a big success.

Deny Closing Rumors.
Rumors that the Peerless Silk Co., whose plant is located on West Main street, was to close down, has been denied by the officials of this company. Notwithstanding the fact that the factory has been closed this week, it was simply for the rearrangement of machinery and alterations. Plans are under consideration for the re-opening of the plant, where rayon silk is manufactured, on Monday next.

"Hi-Hats" Banquet
"The Hi-Hats" a professional bridge club of High street, celebrated their first annual banquet at the Rockville House last evening at which time a turkey dinner was served by the hostess, Mrs. Ellen Chapdelaine. The private dining room was tastefully decorated for the occasion, the predominant colors being green, white and gold. The event was in celebration of the successful bridge season and also in celebration of "St. Patrick's Night." Three leaf shamrocks were used to decorate the table.

Among those present at the banquet last evening were the following: Mr. and Mrs. Russell J. Finley, Mr. and Mrs. James Sheehan, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Steppe, Joseph Steppe and Miss Della Martin.

Notes
The Every Mothers Club of the Rockville Baptist church are holding a meeting this afternoon at the church social rooms with Mrs. Ora Darcey, president, in charge.

Rockville will be represented on Saturday at the meeting of the Connecticut Branch of the Second Division Association, A. E. F. which will be held at the Connecticut Yacht and Canoe club in East Hartford.

Sub-Chief Ranger Louis F. Brandy of Waterbury, of the Foresters of America, made his official visit to Court Foresters' Pride, the Juvenile Court of Foresters, last evening. He was accompanied by Past Grand Chief Ranger Walter McGowan. Following the usual inspection an invitation of a class of candidates was held.

The Sophomore class of the Rockville High school was visited yesterday by a group of salesmen, nine in number, who were entering competitive bids for the furnishing of the class rings.

The annual St. Patrick's Night Minstrel for the benefit of St. Bernard's Catholic church will be held in the town hall tonight.
The Past Chiefs of Kiowa Council, Degree of Pocomonts, will be entertained tonight at the home of Mrs. Bertha Weber of Windemere avenue.
A large number of people attended the whist party last evening held at the Home Club rooms on Elm street under the auspices of the Loyal Order of Moose.
Rev. Dr. Elmer J. Cook of Somerville occupied the pulpit at the union Lenten service at the Rockville Methodist Episcopal church which was held jointly by the Baptist, Congregationalist and Methodist churches.
Victory Assembly, Catholic Ladies of Columbus, held a meeting last evening at their rooms in the Prescott block. Following the business meeting a "St. Patrick's Social" was held.
Vulture No. 1007, of the 40 and 8, Veterans of Foreign Wars, held a meeting last evening at the Springs House in Stafford Springs. Rockville president and a large number of Rockville veterans attended. The speakers of the evening included Dr. Howard Cohen of Ansonia, grand chef de gare; Harry C. Jackson of New Britain, grand chef de train; and Emil C. Schall of New Britain, chef de gare passe.
Rev. George Scrivener, district superintendent of the Methodist church held a meeting with the members of the Tolland Federated church last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Steele of Tolland. This was the fourth quarterly conference.
The bus service of the Connecticut Company was interrupted for a short period yesterday by fire trouble. The bus due in Rockville at 12 o'clock had a blow-out on the way to Rockville and another bus had to be sent from Hartford to replace it, necessitating the missing of the 12:20 p. m. trip from Rockville to Hartford.
A business meeting of the Church Council of the First Lutheran church, of which Rev. K. Otto Klette is the pastor, was held last evening at the church social rooms at 8 o'clock.
No settlement has been made in the $10,000 suit of Mrs. Emma Lisk of Main street against the city of Rockville as previously reported. The claims committee state that no official figure as to the amount of the proposed settlement has been received from Judge John E. Fisk, corporation counsel.

LAST DAY TO RETURN ALL HOARDED GOLD

Names of Persons Who Drew Out Large Amounts Will Be Forwarded to Washington.
Washington, March 17.—(AP)—Gold hoarders who took millions of dollars out of banks to hide away in safety deposit vaults during the period before March 6, today came to the end of the period set for them to return the metal to the banks or have their names sent to Washington as violators of the anti-hoarding act.
The Federal Reserve boards instructions to Federal Reserve banks were that the names of all persons who drew out large amounts of gold and had not returned it to the banks by the close of business at 3 p. m. today must be forwarded to Washington.
The list will contain the names of those who withdrew gold during the two years period prior to March 6 if the banks feel that withdrawing during that time indicate hoarding.

BEBE DANIELS' GOWN TO BE MODELED HERE

One of Those To Be Shown In Connection With “42d Street” At State Theater.
A black velvet gown worn by Bebe Daniels in the spectacular talking picture, “42d Street,” will be one of the Hollywood creations modeled by employees of Cheney Brothers on the State Theater stage Monday night. The velvet for this gown, as well as all other silks used in “42d Street,” was made by Cheney Brothers. The following legend appears on the screen at the start of the picture, “Silks by Cheney Brothers.” Manchester townpeople will be particularly interested to watch for this announcement when they see the picture at the State Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.
Since Cheney Brothers played this important part in the production of “42d Street,” arrangements have been made to show some of the actual gowns worn by stars in the picture and to have these modeled by a group of Cheney Brothers' employees at the Monday night performance.
It is gratifying to note that “42d Street,” although only recently released, is already showing record popularity wherever it is shown. The picture is being held over in cities chosen for previews and is attracting enormous crowds.

MOTHER ASKS ADVICE

Be friendly to your stomach.
Cook with CRISCO, the vegetable fat... it digests quicker.
Don't deny yourself the flaky pies and fluffy biscuits and crispy fried foods you can make with Crisco. Crisco is a wholesome and pure vegetable fat—it digests quicker. It doesn't over-tax your digestion!
A year's research by a noted biologist has proved Crisco's superiority. After testing Crisco and other fats, this biologist said, “Crisco digests quicker.”
Think this over. Avoid greasy-soaked fried foods and heavy greasy pastry. Cook with Crisco, the sweet-tasting shortening that makes food look good, taste good—and be good for you!
CRISCO digests quicker
At the Herald Cooking School conducted this week in the Masonic Temple, Mrs. Edna Riggs Crabbree uses and recommends CRISCO, the modern, quicker-digesting shortening.

U. S. TO EMERGE MASTER OF FINANCE—TROTSKY

The organism weakens from lack of nourishment, all its faults and sickness come to the surface. Obsolete System "When America's economic organism weakened under the world crisis influence, the obsolete character of its banking system, was sharply revealed. The result of the two bank crises will undoubtedly be a grandiose centralization of the banking system ultimately, merely reinforcing United States financial hegemony. "On the contrary, France, for instance, with the franc reduced one-fifth, will more than ever learn the difficulty of preserving its provincial system from the torments of world economy. I do not wish to intimate that a calm and regular development is assured the United States after surmounting the actual dollar crisis, the second bank crisis and even the whole present industrial crisis. No. If it is difficult to depend on several thousand unstable political and economic organizations of Europe, South America and Asia. "American hegemony's future inevitable growth will signify nothing but this—the penetration of all our planet's contradictions and diseases into American capital foundations. "It is sufficient to cite two facts: First, Japanese banditry's attack on China, which inaugurates a whole series of Far-Eastern wars; second, Hitler's arrival of power which promises a year's civil war and inevitable international shocks. "But this perspective is beyond the limits of your question."

ASKS DICTATORS FOR INDUSTRIES

corn, oats or flax acreage. He'll be glad to do it if his neighbors do likewise. Coal And Steel Trade "The same is true of coal and steel. I've talked to scores of manufacturers and not one of them would object to steel being pegged at $1.70 if his competitors couldn't buy it at $1.65. "As for coal, I'd be glad to see production limited and the price advanced 20 per cent. I'd pay it willingly in order to give the producers money to buy my company's products. "Torrance's plan of 'enforcing common sense on the producers' would mean broadening the anti-trust laws, he said. "I wouldn't advocate abandoning them," Torrance said, "but I believe the regulations could be tailored to fit present conditions. "The management of bituminous coal mines could form a trade association representing 75 per cent of the industry and work things out to their own good—and the good of their employes and of the public—with the supervision of the Federal Trade Commission. Nobody would be hurt by it, and a lot of people would prosper."

WALL ST. FORESEES SOVIET BOND SALES

government here point out that the U. S. S. R. has funds to meet short-term credits amounting to some $400,000,000 this year; that the new nation has never defaulted and will not default in any of its obligations. While the country's income has been greatly depleted recently owing to the low prices prevailing for commodities with which foreign exchange is obtained abroad, it is contended that the nation still is able to pay its debts or effect extensions where it is necessary. Many Protests It is understood that holders of the defaulted Czarist bonds already have written letters to Washington protesting against recognizing the Soviet government, and especially against the sale of U. S. S. R. bonds in America. As to the actual value of the Soviet obligations, an important commissioner at Moscow, some time ago said: "Of course our bonds are good. We have never defaulted and could not afford to default. It would ruin us. And if the capitalist nations come in and overthrow Communism, everybody knows that the capitalists always pay the debts of the country they take over."

When rising from a dining table, it is regarded as being in better form to allow the chair to remain where it is instead of pushing it back into place.

are to be subjected to a sensational trial similar to that in which several Germans were involved several years ago.

The Russian ambassador was notified to impress his government with the serious view taken here. Great Britain has received no satisfactory explanation of the arrest, according to latest information in Downing street.

Advice from Sir Edmond indicated that he had not yet obtained satisfaction regarding details of the charges against those arrested but that they will be accused under Article 58 of the criminal code. This article deals with sabotage. It was understood in official quarters that the representations now being made by the ambassador call for a complete withdrawal of the charges against the British subjects.

Anglo-Russian trade negotiations have not been fully suspended, but the incident has caused another check.

JOBLESS BUREAU CLOSED

New Haven, March 17—(AP)—With little prospect of being able to furnish more money to provide jobs for the unemployed, the office of the citizens committee for relief of the unemployment has been closed and the staff discharged. It had functioned since Nov. 1930, and had provided work for several thousand persons and expended probably close to $1,500,000.

SCHOONER SAFE
Machias, Maine, March 17.—(AP)—The three masted schooner Lucy Evelyn, unreported since it sailed from South West Harbor more than three weeks ago, is safe in the harbor of San Juan, Puerto Rico, according to word received here today by owners.

FRENCH PLEASED
Paris, March 17.—(AP)—The appointment of Norman H. Davis as chairman of the American delegation to the world disarmament conference with the rank of ambassador pleased French official circles.

A government spokesman praised his tact and understanding of European affairs and expressed satisfaction with the activity on world questions of President Roosevelt.

STONINGTON BILL
Hartford, March 17.—(AP)—A bill providing a board of finance for Stonington was adopted in both

House of the Legislature today under suspension of the rules. Senator Fitzgerald said the bill was drawn by Tax Commissioner Budget as a preliminary to consideration of a bond issue of $150,000 asked by the town.

SENSE AND NONSENSE

There is some doubt as to where Saint Patrick was born but none about the fervor with which March 17 is celebrated.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY
A blackthorn I'm twirlin' around in me fist,
A shamrock me coat is adornin'.
The reason, ye ask? Me Colleen now whist—
'Tis St. Patrick's Day in the mornin'.

A woman is positively defeated. She spent most of an evening trying to put a jigsaw puzzle together, and not quite finishing the job, left it as it was in the living room on a card table. The next morning the well-meaning Negro maid, ever wishing the house to look nice, cleaned up the mess and put it back in its box.

A LOT OF FELLOWS FAIL TO "SHOW UP" WHEN IT COMES TO THE "SHOW DOWN."

Nervy Young Man (entering barber shop)—Say, is my credit good for a shave?
Barber—No, if you can't raise a quarter keep on raising whiskers.

The farmer works hard and as soon as he can he moves to the city. As soon as a city man can afford it he builds himself a home in the country.

Young Hubby—What under the sun do you girls do at afternoon teas?
Young Wifey—Giggie, gabble, gobble and git.

In Youngstown, Ohio, Miss Mildred Bailey has plighted her troth to Mr. William J. Barnum, but the chances are that they will have the conventional one-ring ceremony.

Asked by her Sunday school teacher to give the Bible verse for that day's lesson, a little girl replied: "Go ye into all the world and spread the gospel to all the people."

THE CORNER AROUND WHICH WE BELIEVE PROSPERITY IS LOTTERING MUST BE ONE OF THOSE "FOUR CORNERS OF THE EARTH" WHICH GLOBE-TROTTERS HAVE SO OFTEN VISITED.

The Mayor had just laid the foundation stone of a new hospital. One of the Trustees—And now, we will hear His Honor's dedication speech.

The Mayor (suddenly turning to his wife with beads of perspiration on his brow. Whispering)—Good Heavens, Mary! What will I do? I laid the stone on top of my speech!

The bigger they are the harder they fall, observes the good editor of this paper, as he drops bulky unsigned letters into the wastepaper basket.

A lot of people who do not pay much attention to a church would move if they lived in a place where one did not exist.

Windy Wolf—Do you remember when a girl was proud of having a wasp-like waist?
Reason Tatters—I ought to remember it; that was when I got stung.

Just when a boy thinks his life is a total wreck, along comes a new love, who tows him off to the preacher's.

Mistress—So your matrimonial life was very unhappy? What was the trouble? December wedded to May?

Chlo Johnson—Lan' sakes, no, mum! It was Labor Day wedded to do Day of Rest.

Candidates for postmaster appointments must send in their photographs on their applications. A man, who isn't so good looking, sent in a picture of Robert Montgomery, movie star, on his card.

Mr. Smith (to his neighbor)—Mrs. Brown, have you spoken to your son about mimicking me?

Mrs. Brown—Yes, I have. I've told him he's not to act like a fool.

The man who cannot stay at any one job or stick in any particular place, may not become a tramp. But just the same he has the chief characteristics that go to make a tramp.

GIVE BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR HERMAN KJELLQUIST

A surprise birthday party in honor of Herman Kjellquist of 90 Ridge street was held at his home last night in celebration of his 78th birthday. More than thirty friends and relatives were present from this town, Bloomfield, West Hartford and Wethersfield and Mr. Kjellquist received numerous gifts.

Recreation Center Items of Interest

Dave Burrows' WDRG broadcasting orchestra will furnish the music for the regular weekly community dance to be held at the school street Recreation Center this evening. This band will broadcast at 7:15 before coming to Manchester. The attendance at the Recreation Center has been amazingly high ever since Director F. C. Busch inaugurated the idea and this has been due to two things, the small price of admission and the high grade orchestras which have been secured.

"SAINTS" OUTDOOR MOLAY IN REC COMPETITIONS

St. Mary's Young Men Club Wins At Everything But Basketball On Sports Night.

Nichols of the DeMolay defeated Freeman and Mason of the "Saints," 50 to 38; Chambers and Lutz of the "Saints" defeated Smith and Fisher of the DeMolay, 50 to 28, and in the final Chambers and Lutz won from Anderson and Nichols 50 to 41. At volleyball, the St. Mary's won the best two out of three games by scores of 15-8, 12-15 and 15-9. The "Saints" used Fox, Rogers, Thornton, Phillips, Turkington and Anderson while the DeMolay had Ruddell, Cole, Murphy, Howland, Bjorkman and Cuddeback.

This was the first time these two organizations had united to use the Recreation facilities and the members were so well satisfied with the program outlined by Director Frank C. Busch of the Recreation Center that tentative plans have already been laid to renew the affair next year. A dip in the swimming pool followed by a serving of sandwiches, coffee and doughnuts furnished by both organizations, concluded the evening's activities.

ABOUT TOWN

Friday, March 24, is the date of the mid-year conference of the Hartford County Council of Religious Education at the Asylum Hill Congregational church, Hartford. Reservations for the supper at 6 o'clock should be made before Tuesday to Henry D. Gray, 814 Asylum Avenue, Hartford.

Royal Matron Mrs. Anna Robb urges all Amaranth members and officers to be present so that the meeting this evening in the Masonic Temple may begin promptly at 7:45. A St. Patrick's bridge will follow in the banquet hall in charge of the permanent entertainment committee, of which Mrs. Ethel Wickes is chairman. Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Robb and Mrs. Maud Dauchy. All players will be welcome to attend.

The regular meeting of the Taxpayers' League will be held this evening at 8 o'clock in Tinker hall. President S. G. Bowers has been trying to secure a speaker to discuss the unemployment insurance problem now confronting the General Assembly. In the event that no out of town speakers can be secured, a general discussion of problems of interest to local taxpayers will be held.

Ernest Hodges, Henry Smith and Treat's orchestra will present modern and old fashion dances at Jarvis Grove every Saturday starting tomorrow night. The dances conducted by them throughout the winter have steadily gained in popularity and it is expected Jarvis Grove will attract many of those who enjoy this type of dancing.

A number of the members of Chapman Court, Order of Amaranth attended the second birthday party of Fidelity Court of East Hartford last night.

Ray Pillsbury will be the leader of the Lenten Institute service Sunday evening in the parish hall of the Center Congregational church. The supper at 6 o'clock will be provided by the Professional Vitis club and the speakers will be Secretary E. J. Simonds of the Y. M. C. A. and Mrs. Simonds, who will speak on Mexico, where they lived for several years. They will also display a choice collection of Mexican pottery, weaving and art work.

Group No. 3 of the Memorial Hospital auxiliary, Mrs. R. P. Knapp, leader, will meet Monday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A.

"Forget-me-not circle of Junior Kings Daughters will meet at the home of Jeanette and Lois Buchanan, 175 Woodland street, tomorrow afternoon at 2:30. Janet Tracy and Beatrice Juul will have charge of the program.

At the Emanuel Lutheran church this evening at 8 o'clock a Lenten service will be held, preceding the regular monthly business meeting and social of the Luther League. Not only young people but all others interested will be welcome to attend this Lenten service. The theme of the sermon by Rev. K. E. Erickson will be "The Savior in the Hands of His Enemies." Mrs. Elsie Berggren Gustafson and Miss Beatrice Johnson will sing.

Girls of Manchester Assembly, Order of Rainbow, and Boys of John Mather Chapter, Order of DeMolay will attend the morning service at St. Mary's Episcopal church, Sunday morning at 10:45.

The annual Boy Scout, father-and-son supper is scheduled for Monday evening at 6:15 at the Second Congregational church.

Mrs. Max Bengt of Pitkin street is a member of the committee in charge of the bridge and fashion show to be held Saturday afternoon at 2:30 in the ballroom of the Hotel Bond, Hartford, by the Hartford Chapter, Trinity college alumni of Washington, D. C. Mrs. Bengt is treasurer of the chapter. Manchester women who have already reserved tables for bridge include Mrs. E. C. Higgins, Miss Marguerite Bengt, Mrs. Charles Trebbe and Mrs. Samuel Kemp, Jr.

Thomas W. Carter, Patrol No. 2 Mexican Border Veterans Association of Hartford, has invited all Mexican Border Veterans and their wives to attend a smoker to be held in the Squad drill room, Hartford Armory, Monday night, March 20. Refreshments will be served by the committee and Commissioner Thomas Donohue has given the necessary permit to have a number of boxing exhibitions.

The Degree of Pocahontas will sponsor a public card party, this evening at 8:15 at the home of Mrs. Myra Fitzgerald, 111 Holl street, which will be open to all. There will be prizes for the winners, refreshments and a social time.

The Manchester Green Community club will hold its regular Friday evening card party tonight in the Green school hall and follow with general dancing. Progressive whist will be played instead of set-back.

The degree team of Washington L. O. L., No. 117, will hold a rehearsal at Orange Hall tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in preparation for the visit of the Supreme Grand Master on April 15.

Abram Matchett of 60 Oakland street attained his eighty-third birthday yesterday. Mr. Matchett has not been enjoying the best of health for several months and no general celebration was planned. Members of his family and friends called during the day and evening to felicitate with him, and to present remembrances of the birthday.

NEW DIRECTORY IS ISSUED TODAY

"Johnsons" Lead List With 183 of That Name; Somewhat Smaller.

The 1933 issue of the Manchester directory, published by the Price & Lee Company of New Haven, made its appearance in town today. The directory is practically the same size as last year, except for a noticeable decrease in the advertising pages.

KIWANIANS TO HEAR REV. KNUT ERICKSON

Pastor of Emanuel Lutheran Church To Be Guest Speaker At Monday's Meeting.

Rev. Knut E. Erickson, pastor of the Emanuel Lutheran church will be the guest speaker at the weekly meeting of the Manchester Kiwanis Club Monday noon at the Hotel Sheridan. Rev. Mr. Erickson came here from Chicago last summer to assume the leadership of the local church and during this time he has made many friends in town and his services as a speaker have been in considerable demand. This will be his first appearance before the Kiwanians and every member is urged to be on hand to get acquainted and listen to his message.

Y. M. C. A. Notes

The Glastonbury boys were here yesterday evening from seven to eight o'clock for a game with the Orford and went away with only one basket to their credit. The game was good and fast and a score of 22 to 20 shows that they were watching each other good and plenty.

The Crescents otherwise known as the Intermediates will go to Storrs for the State finals tomorrow afternoon. Hugh Green was over last night with Jimmie Spillane in a good long workout with them in preparation for the big day. We will not object at all if they bring the honors back to Manchester. We have three cars promised for tomorrow to take the boys but could use a couple more of them if any one cares to go.

The North Ends and Joe's Fillers took another opportunity to try out their basketball wings last night when fighting each other. This is one of the few times that these two teams have combatted and while Joe's men are a lot older the boys from the North End made them step along good and lively all the way through. The score, 39-30 proves it.

There will be two good games tonight when the New Haven teams come up at eight o'clock. Their Intermediates and an older group will both be here. Everybody is invited. The New Haven boys are from the Trinity Parish which is under Sam Massey's direction.

All Volley Ball enthusiasts should be here tomorrow afternoon from three to six if you want to see some good games in the Hartford Y. M. C. A. finals. Volley ball is a much faster game than a great many give it credit for being and we are hoping that all the teams now so enthusiastic over basketball will turn their forces towards the Volley ball as soon as the basketball season ends.

Tonight at 8:00 Mrs. Lewis Rose will give the next lecture in the Current Events series. There will be one more lecture after this one. Mrs. Rose attended the inaugural in Washington and will tell something to her audience about it.
