Naval Committee Listens To Their Accounts of Crash; Two Congressmen Dispute Over Investigation.

Washington, April 7.—(AP)—The House Naval committee listened to the stories of the three survivors of the Akron today while a protest was being put before the House committee that some other committee should investigate the fatal crash of the airship.

Herbert V. Wiley, executive officer of the ship, Richard E. Deal, boatwain's mate, and Moody E. Erwin, metal smith, recounted to the committee their version of what occurred in the storm off the New Jersey coast last Monday night.

Before the rules committee, Representative McClintic, (D. Okla.), demanded that either a special House committee or a joint Congressional committee make the investigation.

His assertion that Chairman Vinson of the Naval committee would not let the sub-committee which McClintic headed last year make a fair and impartial investigation of the Akron crash "will be whitewashed like the committee whitewashed the Shenandoah disaster."

Wiley, executive officer of the Akron, Richard E. Deal, boatwain's mate, and Moody E. Erwin, metal smith, were called to repeat portions of the reports submitted to the committee in secret session yesterday by Wiley.

330 PERSONS SLAIN IN GERMAN REVOLT

Berlin, April 7.—(AP)—Chancellor Hitler has placed the price of Germany's "rebirth" at 330 persons slain, 40,000 wounded and 100,000 driven from commercial life, Hitler says.

He declared outright to an audience of Cabinet members, diplomats and newspapermen last night that these were the figures of the long, incipient revolution which led to his rise to power.

The German press hitherto marched behind him, but today it marched ahead of the times. No government can destroy a press which prints the truth, he declared.

A virtual Nazi dictatorship will be established in the federation of German industries with the election of a Nazi controlled executive board, Jewish Religion.

Nazi Christians in the meanwhile, have acted to wipe out all traces of Jewish religion in Christian teachings and a government culture tax was seen today as a further move toward nationalization of the Protestant church.

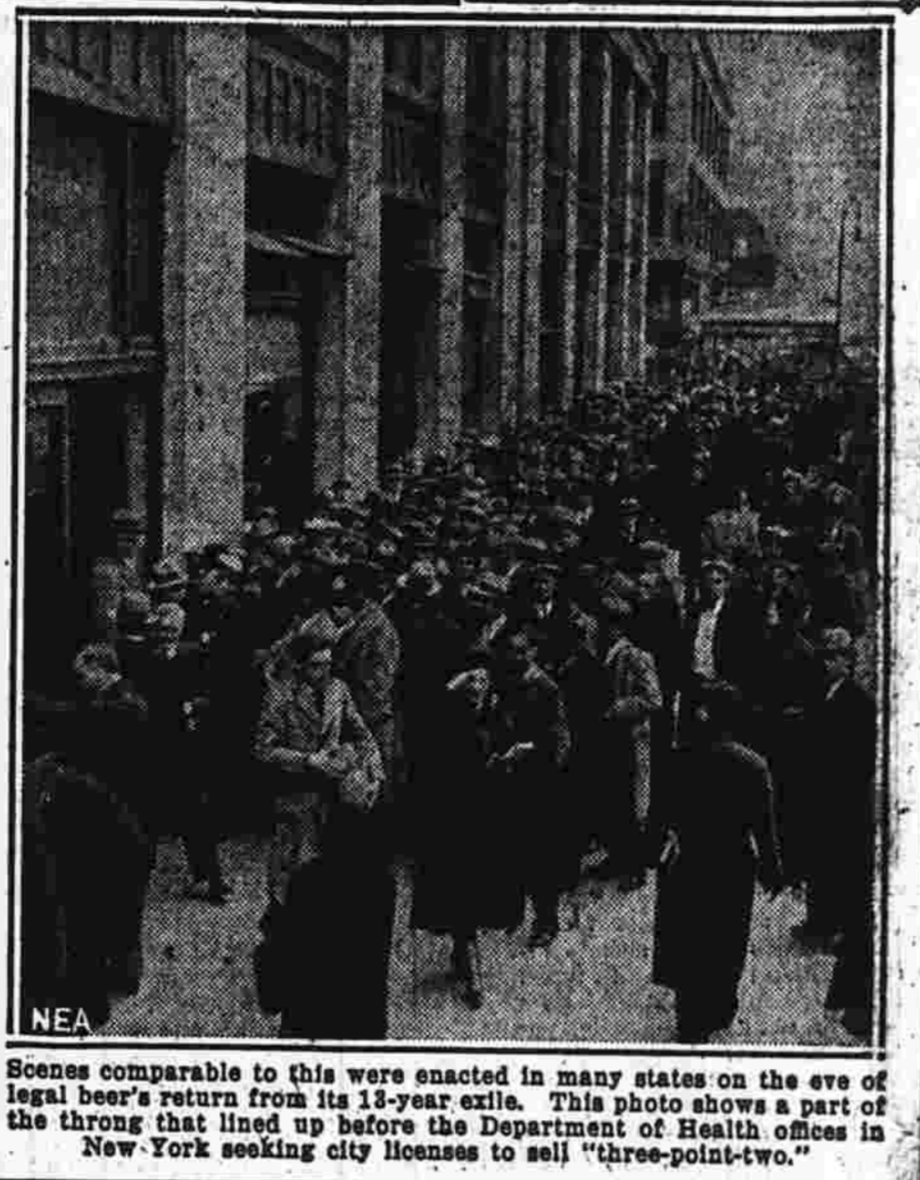

What course the government will take in regard to the Catholic church may be disclosed after a talk, this week and between the Pope and Vice-Chancellor Franz von Papen in Rome. (A Rome Associated Press dispatch last night said von Papen and Captain Hermann Goering of the Hitler cabinet, will visit the Pope over the Catholic situation in Germany.)

They're Lined Up Solidly For Beer

CROSS READY TO SIGN SALARY REDUCTION BILL

But Not Because He Approves of Eliminating Salaries of T. R. Commission, He Declares.

Hartford, April 7.—(AP)—Governor Cross issued a statement today that he would sign the salary cut bill, but "not because I approve of the elimination of the moderate salaries of the tuberculosis commission."

The bill, long held up through disagreement between the two Houses over an amendment, supported by the Democrats, voting adopted by the commission, was signed by the Governor Tuesday when Senator Joseph F. Cooney, Democrat, voted with the Republicans.

Senator Cooney explained his action by saying he was "going along with the governor," who he said, approved the salary cut when he signed the budget report of the Board of Finance and Control.

"Statements are being made," the governor's statement said, "in and out of the Legislature, that my signature to the budget submitted by the Board of Finance and Control means that I approve of the salary scale and all other items in the budget. This is not the proper inference."

He said "my idea of a budget is quite different from the one now before the appropriations committee," and declared he would have preferred to have authority to merge departments under bills he has suggested to the last two Legislatures.

He would, he said, "eliminate from the payroll a rather large number of office holders who are receiving comfortable salaries for little or no service to the state, particularly those who are on the payroll of two departments. These office-holders are in the main provided for in the present budget."

STRANGLES TWO, SMOTHERS ONE, TRIES SUICIDE

School Principal, Spurned By Woman, Murders Three; 'I Guess I Went Mad' He Tells Authorities.

Grand Rapids, Mich., April 7.—(AP)—Lying on a hospital cot, a 48-year-old school principal, Henry E. Bedford, today admitted to officials that he strangled to death Mattie Sue Bengert, 28, and her son, Carl, 8, placed her 8-month-old son in a gas-filled oven where he died, and then attempted to end his own life by inhaling gas.

"I guess I was mad," Prosecutor Bartel Jonkman said Bedford told him. Bodies of Mrs. Bengert and the two children were found yesterday by her husband, Carl, as he returned to the home hoping to effect a reconciliation with his wife.

He said he had left the house Tuesday after a quarrel brought about by Bedford's presence in the home. He also found Bedford, unconscious, in the gas-filled kitchen. Revived in a hospital, Bedford at first said he believed he had been poisoned while eating lunch and that he supposed the poisoner took the lives of the three Bengerts.

Today, however, Prosecutor Jonkman said Bedford confessed that he had made Mrs. Bengert, to whom he had made love, told him, "I'll never live with you and I won't go back to my husband."

"I got a piece of cord," the prosecutor quoted Bedford as saying, "and wound it around her neck until she was dead. Then I came downstairs and found Carl. I took him into the garage and strangled him too, with another piece of cord. When I came back I found the baby lying on the table, and placed him in the oven of the gas stove in the kitchen. I turned on the gas and my wife and son died in front of me. Bedford was taken into Superior Court today, before noon, and pleaded guilty to a charge of murder. He was ordered to jail to await a second court appearance for hearing on the degree of murder.

Prior to his arraignment he was taken to the prosecutor's office but refused to sign a confession or to give any additional details of the crime. "Why go into gruesome details?" he asked. "I killed them; I told you I killed them and I will plead guilty."

MEN MOBILIZING FOR FOREST CAMPS

Everything To Be Provided For Recruits—Not To Wear Army Uniforms.

Washington, April 7.—(AP)—Everything from hats to tooth paste will be furnished members of President Roosevelt's Forestry Conservation Corps which began mobilization today.

Any clothing will be issued while they are in conditioning camps. Each recruit will receive an olive drab jacket and slacks, work suits of denim, socks, shoes, a work hat, other clothing and two blankets. Army uniforms will not be worn. Those who want to use their own clothing may do so, providing it is suitable for work in forests.

LEGAL BEER RETURNS BUT MANY GO THIRSTY

Beer at a Glance

By ASSOCIATED PRESS. Beer was on sale today in the District of Columbia and these 19 states: Arizona, California, Colorado, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Maryland, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nevada, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Washington, and Wyoming.

Dates have been set for the sale in the following seven states: Louisiana April 15; Maine, June 30; North Carolina, May 1; North Dakota, July 1; Vermont, May 1; West Virginia, June 8; Wyoming, May 18.

No action has been taken in these four states: Kansas, Mississippi, Utah and Virginia. Sales subject to referendum in 1934 in this state: South Dakota.

GOVERNOR AGAINST COUNTY COMMISSION

State's Executive Says He Will Veto Control Bill If This Is Attempted.

Hartford, April 7.—(AP)—Governor Cross said today he will veto a liquor control bill placing in the hands of county commissioners the power to issue licenses.

With Senator John F. Lynch, Republican, aggressively working to vest the power in the county commissioners and with the New Haven county Republicans in the Legislature unanimously in favor of favoring their system, Legislature observers regarded the move as one which might become a party issue. The Judiciary committee, however, is studying the proposal.

"I most certainly will," Governor Cross replied when asked if he would veto such a measure. Senator Frank H. Bergin, majority leader and chairman of the Judiciary committee, has expressed himself in favor of the state three men commission as recommended by the study group.

STRANGE MALADY PUZZLES DOCTORS

One Calls It Epidemic Caused By Polluted Water—Other Denies Report.

Truro, N. S., April 7.—(AP)—Truro medical men were lined up in opposite camps of opinion today regarding both source and seriousness of a strange malady which has struck in epidemic proportions among residents of this town. Experts estimated the number of stricken persons at anywhere from 100 to 3,000.

Dr. W. R. Dunbar, town health officer asserted yesterday that only about 100 persons were affected by the disease. Dr. W. L. McKinnon challenged the statement last night to give as his "honest opinion" that from 2,000 to 3,000 cases had developed.

Dr. Dunbar claimed the infection was merely an outbreak of camp fever, which confined its victims to bed for two days and left them with no after effects.

Dr. McKinnon declared emphatically it was due to infection from a polluted town water supply. The health officer replied to his assertion with the declaration that pathological analysis had shown the water supply free from harmful germs. And Dr. McKinnon's rejoinder to this was the statement that the presence of colon bacilli shown in the government analysis of water samples was proof of pollution from animal and other sources.

Dr. McKinnon charged the town authorities with laxity in the protection of the reservoir from contamination, asserting it to be no more than a "cesspool." Final determination of the purity of the reservoir water is expected in reports from the provincial pathologist on new samples of water sent to him for analysis this week.

Prices Vary. The price varied in New York, a much quoted figure was $2 a case of 24 bottles. The price for a glass was often 10 cents; sometimes a nickel for a small glass, but in hotels and some restaurants, it was in many cases 15 cents a glass and sometimes as high as 35 cents a bottle.

Four hundred thousand barrels of beer began rolling away from brewery loading platforms in New York, but from there and from other sections came word that the demand leaped ahead of the supply.

In many places the brewers held fast to the plan to hold deliveries until after dawn. In California, the hour was set for six a. m., and in Oregon for 8 a. m.

Milwaukee, home of famous brews, welcomed beer with German bands tooting "Ach Du Lieber Augustus" and some 3,000 "soft drink" places selling the new beverage for 10 cents a glass or 15 cents a bottle. Airplanes augmented trucks in deliveries to distant points.

A carnival spirit reigned in St. Louis at midnight, as waiters stood and 35,000 persons crowded

GARDENS FOR IDLE AGAIN THIS YEAR

Cities and Towns of State Take Up Schemes To Raise Vegetables.

New Haven, April 7.—(AP)—Community gardening, or even farming on a large scale, will be started in several Connecticut cities this spring as soon as planting time comes.

In present garden clubs, or relief agencies are seeking land, if they did not have the use of acreage last year, for allotment to unemployed persons who might be able to eke out meagre resources by raising vegetables.

Community gardening last season was not extensive, but it was carried through in nearly every instance with success. Many persons who had garden plots through the efforts of organizations which borrowed use of land are among applicants for lots this spring.

The Stamford community clubs have 12 go tracts totaling 25 acres which have been rededicated by owners this year. After allotment is made the town authorities supply seeds, fertilizer and necessary equipment.

In Derby. The Derby Garden club is planning community gardens on the lines of those titled last year.

CROSS SIGNS BILL THAT DELAYS BEER

Prohibits Sale of New Brew Until April 25—Ban May Be Lifted Earlier.

Hartford, April 7.—(AP)—Although one of two states that never ratified the 18th amendment, Connecticut appeared today as one of the legally dry spots on the national prohibition map in the face of the Federal law legalizing the sale of 3.2 per cent beer and wine.

In 19 states of the union, 3.2 per cent beer became legal at 12:01 m. today under the Federal Act, but as far as Connecticut was concerned this brew remained illegal because of a state statute enacted by the General Assembly Wednesday and signed by Governor Cross late yesterday.

The state prohibitory measure was passed pending consideration by the Legislature of the liquor control bill. It prohibits the sale of 3.2 per cent beer until April 26 unless the regulatory legislation is enacted prior to that date.

Delayed Signing Bill. Governor Cross delayed signing the beer measure for several hours in order to confer with a number of persons, including some who had favored sale of 3.2 per cent brew without state restriction.

The regulatory measure, reported last week to the General Assembly by the liquor control study committee, is now in the Judiciary committee. It creates a three man state commission to supervise the sale and making of liquor and empowers the governor to declare by proclamation when its provisions shall become effective.

Bill Criticized. The Judiciary committee has given no indication as to when it will report the control bill. During a hearing Tuesday many provisions in the measure were criticized. It is generally believed that the provisions creating a three man commission to be appointed by the governor will prove the most contentious section of the bill. Already Republican Legislators from New Haven county have gone on record as favoring restoration of the county commission.

Chicago, April 7.—(AP)—Frank Nitti, former Capone Gangster, was in the odd position today of being the accuser of the police officer who accused him. And the charge was the same—assault with intent to kill.

As the charges were switched from the one to the other insinuations were made by Attorney Daniel Covelli, representing the police, Detective Harry Lang that if pressed "we'll wreck the Democratic Party." The Grand Jury was reported to have indicted Lang. Covelli made his dramatic statement when Lang was subpoenaed to appear before the jurors shortly after Nitti had walked jauntily out of a court room acquitted on a dis-rected verdict of a charge of attempting to kill the detective during a raid in a Loop office building last winter.

Gangster Becomes Accuser Of Cop Who Accused Him

Nitti's vindication came with the collapse of the state's case against him after Lang refused to identify him from the witness stand as the man who shot him in the arm during the raid. Nitti was seriously wounded by Lang during the raid.

Lang's failure to establish the identification led to his being placed under arrest and released on $2,000 bond on a charge of perjury. But the court room got another thrill when Police Sergeant Chris Callahan, a member of the raiding party, took the stand and testified that as Nitti had no gun, Lang must have shot himself in the arm.

INTENTIONAL DUPE

Washington, April 7.—(AP)—After a visit by the Italian ambassador, Augusto Rosso, to the State Department today, it was learned that the American government has expressed its desire to have Italy represented by a high official in the next few weeks to plan cooperative international economic action.

Rosso, conferred with Undersecretary William Phillips. A formal invitation may go forward soon to Italy as well as France.

Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain already has accepted President Roosevelt's invitation and will sail April 15.

What Italian official would come to the United States has not yet been determined.

Anglo-American economic discussions were resumed meanwhile at the State Department between Sir Ronald Lindsay, British ambassador, and Secretary Cordell Hull.

Following the lines of the earlier conversations they went over matters on the program of the coming world economic conference in London with a view to finding possible contributions by their governments to the success of the meeting.

TREASURY BALANCE

Washington, April 7.—(AP)—Treasury receipts for April 5 were $108,230,055.16; expenditures $15,043,851.49; balance $558,597,571.52. Customs duties for 5 days of April were $2,819,727.71.

around one brewery alone to cheer as special trains and big trucks rumbled the shipments away. Hotels, night clubs and restaurants did a "gold rush" business.

ago fulfilled a campaign pledge by signing the 3.2 beer bill, and members of his family had retired. He had promised the beer to the newspapermen stationed at the White House.

A Marine rode on the truck from the Abner Drury Brewery. As soon as the vehicle had passed men on the truck began passing out bottles to those jammed around it.

On the truck was this sign: "Here's to you—President Roosevelt. The Nation's first real beer in years."

OBITUARY

DEATHS MICHAEL SCHUETZ DIES; FOUND ILL AT HOME

Michael Schuetz, who was found seriously ill at his home, 127 Prospect street, more than a week ago, died at the Memorial hospital at 7:20 last night.

Schuetz, who for 26 years worked as a velvet weaver at Cheney Brothers, was found to be suffering from pneumonia complicated by a tubercular condition when removed to the hospital on March 28.

He had not worked since December of 1931 and lived alone in his home. His wife died several years ago. A daughter, Katherine, and a son, Martin, reside in Hartford. Schuetz was a native of Austria having been born there 47 years ago.

THREE CARS MIXED UP IN "SQUEEZE" CRASH

Little Damage Done, However, in Accident on Main Street This Morning.

An unusual accident, involving two automobiles and a truck, occurred at 10:45 o'clock this morning on Main street, opposite the South Methodist church. The total damage to the machines was slight, amounting to around $35. Officer Rudolph Wirtzka investigated but made no arrests.

An oil truck, owned by Ernest Beatty, and driven by Edward W. Burrell of 1009 Highland Turnpike, was turning into the driveway, an Oakland sedan, driven by Charles Saglio of Glastonbury was right behind the truck and when the latter machine turned to the right the sedan was caught between the truck and a Chevrolet coupe, owned by George Huntington Byles, acting organist at the church, which was parked at the curb. The sedan slid over into the coupe and all three vehicles were jammed together. The sedan was damaged and was being towed out of alignment.

A humorous episode was added to the mishap when a man, slightly the worse for intoxicating drink, rode up on a bicycle soon after the position of the bike precarious and he tumbled off into the road. He was not injured.

THOUGHT IRISH BONDS N. G. BUT THEY'RE O. K.

Residents Who Bought Free State Paper Get Notice They'll Get Dividend.

Holders of bonds of the Irish Free State, which were issued in 1921-22 and purchased by a number of Irish born residents of Manchester, are not the worthless piece of paper that many thought, feeling at the time that the purchase was an outright gift instead of an investment. Recently a dividend of 50 cents on the dollar was declared and holders of such bonds now report that they have received notice through Senator Joseph Connolly, minister of lands and fishery, that there is under consideration a plan to repay the remainder and in addition to this to pay 25 cents on the dollar as a bonus for the use of the funds that were raised through the sale of the bonds.

P. O. BOX KEYS A CHORE TO THOSE USED TO DIAL

Holders Often Leave Them In Locks; Bill Collecting Master Lock a Puzzle, Too.

For a great many years Post Office boxholders in Manchester have been used to the combination lock type of box. Those in the new post office at the Center lock with keys. All you had to do to lock the old type box was to slam it shut. Habit is strong and plenty of holders are of boxes at the new post office have followed custom, slammed the box shut and walked off—leaving the key in the lock. A considerable number have left their keys in the boxes twice and one citizen holds a record of three times, though the office has only been open a few weeks.

Box rents are due April 1, July 1, October 1 and January 1, strictly in advance. Since the first of the present month a considerable number of box holders have found some inexplicable difficulty in opening their boxes; for some reason the keys wouldn't work. Whenever one of these complaints to one of the post office attaches he encounters the question, "Have you paid your box rent?"

There is a little gadget at the reverse side of the box which, at a touch, becomes a master lock; when that is set your key is useless—and it's set right straight off if the rent isn't paid when due. Uncle Sam is a hard boiled collector. Spouter if you want to—and see if he cares.

"NATIONWIDE" STORES START ADV. CAMPAIGN

Five Members of Country's Largest Voluntary Chain Offer Cash Specials Today.

Five Manchester independent grocers, members of the Nationwide chain, a voluntary organization, are today starting an advertising campaign through the columns of the Herald. The attention of all Manchester's thrifty housewives is called to the unusual special cash items carried in the Nationwide advertisement today on page eleven.

The Manchester members of the Nationwide chain who are co-operating in this campaign are George England, Spruce and Elbridge streets; A Kittel, 18 Bissell street; Burack Brothers, 470 Hartford Road; Pasquale Smacchetti, 99 Summer street; and W. Harry England, Manchester Green. The familiar red, white and blue Nationwide sign is prominently displayed over every store in the membership.

The Nationwide is the largest voluntary chain of grocery stores in the country. There are now over 6,500 members in the United States. It is the third largest chain of its kind in New England. Through co-operative buying the members are enabled to compete with any of the other grocery groups throughout the country.

LOCAL FOLK ATTEND MEETING FOR DEFENSE

A large representation of the local war veterans organizations attended the National defense meeting in Hartford last evening and listened to speeches by Governor Cross, State Treasurer Roy Wilcox, Congressman Goss, Major Bennett A. Mohr, E. Gilbert Martino, representing Mr. Rankin of Hartford who was unable to be present, Major General Benjamin D. Foulis and others.

Of particular interest to the Brogan and Rylander families who were present was the address of General Foulis, and after the meeting they had the pleasure of greeting their fellow-townsmen from Washington, Conn., and reminiscing with him. Reference was made to the fact that the boy who has risen to be chief of the army air service, twice ran away from the little village in the Litchfield hills, the second time on a bicycle his father had just given him.

WILEY DELIVERS OFFICIAL REPORT

Says Sudden Gust of Wind Started the Trouble That Resulted in Crash.

Washington, April 7 — (AP)—A sudden and "very sharp gust of wind," more severe than any he had ever experienced, was given by Lieutenant-Commander H. V. Wiley of the Akron yesterday—in an official report to the Navy—as the apparent cause of the disaster to the airship.

In a statement to Secretary Swanson in which the two other survivors, R. E. Real and M. E. Erwin, enlisted men, collaborated, Wiley said the sharp gust struck off the Jersey coast at 12:30 a. m., Tuesday.

"A very sharp gust struck the ship," the report declared. "I noted immediately that the lower rudder control rope had carried away and reported it to the captain."

Deal reported that as he lay in his bunk on the right side of the ship he saw two girders above the corridor of the ship bend and buckle, and noted as he ran forward that the control lines in that vicinity of the ship appeared slack but not broken.

"It is difficult to synchronize accurately these observations in the keel by Deal," Wiley said, "with my own observations in the control car but apparently the damage to the girders occurred after the very severe gust struck the ship and after the ship had begun its last descent, practically out of control and which terminated by the ship striking the water with consequent major structural damage."

Just before the ship struck the water, Deal said, he glanced toward the back and saw it still intact as far as his vision could carry, with the lights going out a moment before the crash.

Wiley said that after he had been submerged in the control car by water coming in the window he was standing beside, and then carried out another window, he sought to reach the airship by swimming as it was silhouetted in lightning flashes.

"The airship, however, was drifting away from me rapidly," he added, "and at about 500 yards distance I could see the ship entirely on the water, broken in two or three places, submerged about one third of her diameter with the bow for a length of about 200 feet inclined in the air at an angle of about 30 degrees," he said. "I gave up trying to reach the ship and looking around sighted lights of what I took to be a surface vessel and a lighthouse."

"I saw several men in the water and heard their cries. None was close to me."

Wiley recounted how he had clung to a board and how he was hauled aboard the German tanker Phoebus after being in the water between a half hour and an hour.

He described how upon recovering his strength he found R. W. Cope land, the chief radioman, unconscious.

He said he believed he died about 2:30 a. m., but that they made fruitless efforts to revive him until 5:30.

BAY STATE MAN DIES AS RESULT OF FALL

Was Stopping in Albany Hotel; No Motive For Suicide, His Friends Declare.

Albany, N. Y., April 7.—(AP)—John E. O'Connell, 39, Everett street, Lowell, Mass., a former member of the Board of Aldermen of that city, was fatally injured in a fall from a fourth floor window of the Capital hotel today. He died shortly after being taken to a hospital. His skull was fractured.

Three companions who accompanied O'Connell here from Lowell last night were detained by police for questioning. They are: Frank E. McNulty, G. Douglas Sullivan and Walter Mulvey. Sullivan, who shared the room with O'Connell, said that he and O'Connell went out for a walk late last night and returned to the hotel, at the corner of Green and Beaver streets, at 1 a. m. They retired immediately, he said. He told police he was asleep when a bell boy awakened him and told him that O'Connell's body had been found in Beaver street.

Police investigation developed that O'Connell was in good health, that he left no note indicating suicidal intent, and that, so far as known, there was no motive for him to end his life.

O'Connell was 35 years old. He was an unsuccessful candidate for election to the Massachusetts State Senate last fall, according to his companions.

TWENTY MEN LOST
Aberdeen, Wash., April 7.—(AP)—The fishermen of the Grays Harbor salmon trolling fleet, safely within the harbor at last, today counted the loss from Wednesday's disastrous spring storm as at least 12 boats and the lives of 20 men. With moderating weather last night, after riding out the storm, the remainder of the fleet safely crossed the treacherous bar, while the Coast Guard cutter Snohomish and the cutter Red Wing patrolled the seas outside for any more disabled craft.

Local Woman Bemoans Fate But Policeman Comes To Rescue and Finds It.

Grief and joy reigned successively yesterday on Main street when a Manchester woman, caught in the shopping jam in front of Marlow's store, dropped $3.50 in the packed throng. The woman started to cry, having reached the "front line" of the shopping area only to find that she had dropped her money—which she had held in her hand—just at the door.

"I've lost my money," the woman wailed as the crowd looked on sympathizingly. Officer Lester Behrend, on duty at the door, cast his eyes downward and caught sight of a crumpled bill under the feet of the crowd. He picked it up and forced the crowd back and reaching down picked up two other $1 bills before the puzzled gaze of the pack of shoppers. He tottered the $3 to the now smiling woman and she continued her shopping—minus the 50 cents.

Both young men have received their diplomas at the New York school and each has also taken the state board examination for undertaking practice. The results have not yet been announced. The training at the McAllister school was of both a theoretical and practical nature. Prior to going to New York Tierney and McHale were studying the profession with Watkins Brothers and Hollorans, respectively.

ON VISIT TO POPE

Vatican City, April 7.—(AP)—Archbishop Edward Mooney, apostolic delegate to Japan, arrived in Rome this morning from Tokyo. He will be received by Pope Pius in the near future.

Vatican prelates say the Pope desires to talk with the archbishop because opposition has been expressed in some circles in Japan due to the fact that he is an American. The archbishop, who has been the apostolic delegate to Japan since March 30, 1931, is a native of the Mount Savage Diocese of Baltimore.

About all of the fixtures that were sold at the auction sale in the State Soda Shop were removed by truck last evening, going to Tullin Store Fixture Company in Hartford. What was left behind were articles purchased by Fred Woodhouse of Spruce and Bissell street, who is to occupy the store by April 15. Painters will be put to work at once by the owners of the building making changes in the interior and it is the intention of Mr. Woodhouse to arrange his store so it will not depend entirely on confections. He will add several lines that have not been handled in the store in the past. He is making preparations at his store on Spruce street to move to the new location and get started there soon after his lease expires in that building on April 15.

Miss Bernice Juul of the Weldon Beauty Salon, Hotel Sheridan, never accepts a new method or a new device for her salon until it has proven its worth. Miss Juul has been attending demonstrations of permanent waving methods in Hartford, Springfield and in her own Salon. She has had several demonstrations of different type permanents and has decided on a Croquignole method which she considers superior in every way.

It is things like this which keep Miss Juul's shop a favorite with the discriminating trade; they know they can trust her to get results and appreciate her years of experience in handling hair. If your hair is not in a good condition for a permanent wave, she will tell you. Call there for advice regarding the type of wave which will be most suitable.

Their new Croquignole machine is the very latest method for acquiring ringlet ends. Miss Juul finds real inspiration in the fact that satisfied clients are bringing new customers and a very noted woman from London, England, now living in Hartford, called at the Weldon Salon for a permanent and upon leaving expressed great satisfaction regarding her wave and the comfort of the hair.

FAMOUS LECTURERS TO SPEAK AT FAIR

Chicago Woman's Club Invites Well Known Speakers To Big Exposition.

Chicago, April 7.—(AP)—The strides women have made in various fields in the last hundred years will be outlined in a series of weekly lectures during a Century of Progress Exposition by nationally and internationally distinguished women.

The Chicago Woman's Club, the oldest and one of the outstanding organizations of its kind in the Nation, announced today that it would sponsor a series of weekly lectures to be given at the Fair Grounds by prominent women in all walks of life.

Tentatively set at 21 the series would begin June 2, the announcement said, with a talk on radio by Judith Waller of Chicago. Two speakers are yet to be chosen, one to tell of woman in the home and another to describe her in the field of aviation.

Other speakers here are the others and their general topics in the order of their scheduled appearances: Mary R. Beard, New Milford, Conn., history; Mrs. Hannah Solomon, Chicago, growth of women's organizations; Dr. Marion Talbot, former dean of Chicago, education; Dr. Sarah Hobson, Chicago and New Ipswich, N. H., medicine;

Mrs. Charles W. Gilkey, Chicago, religion; Ruth Bryan Owen, Cocunut Grove, Fla., government; Jane Addams, Chicago, international peace; Judge Mary Bartelme, Chicago, law; Amalie Hofer Jerome, National recreation movement; Katherine Peabody Girling, literature; Mrs. Martin Schutze, Chicago, art; Lena Madson Phillips, New York, business.

Grace Abbott, Washington, D. C., child welfare; Genevieve Forbes Herick, Washington, journalism; Edith Abbott, Chicago, social service; Annie Cannon, Harvard University, science; Sophonisba Breckenridge, Chicago, ideals for a new world order; Mrs. Alice Winters, Los Angeles, motion pictures.

WAPPING

East Central Pomona Grange No. 8 held their evening meeting at East Windsor Grange last Wednesday evening with 200 members present. There were six state officers present, and every Pomona officer was there. A class of seventeen patrons was initiated in the fifth degree.

Rev. Charles A. Downs gave the address of the evening. His subject was "The Church and Grange as Safeguards for the Moral Standards of the Community."

The Waggon Girls club held their meeting and social time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter N. Foster last Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Wellman R. Burnham and daughter Betty Joyce moved from Smith street, Wapping to the house recently vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Francis Burnham, in Pleasant Valley last Tuesday. They have purchased the home there.

The Wapping Parent-Teacher Association held their monthly meeting on Monday afternoon, instead of next week Monday on account of the school vacation at that time. There will be no meeting next Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Burnham have moved their family to Maine, recently. Mrs. Burnham will finish the year as teacher of the Pleasant Valley school, and then she will teach in a Junior High school next year.

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Backus moved their family from the Woodland tobacco plantation tenement house next to M. D. Sullivan's to the Mrs. Robert L. Sada tenement house, which was recently vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Hare.

There were about twenty people from Wapping and Manchester who motored to New Haven in Raymond W. Belcher's bus, where they attended a meeting of the Ancient Order of United Workmen, where they witnessed a class of new members initiated into the order, after which they enjoyed a luncheon and dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds of East Hartford have moved recently into the new house which was built on the site of the former Backus house which was destroyed by fire.

WALKER'S MARRIAGE

Nice, France, April 7.—(AP)—Friends expect former Mayor James J. Walker of New York and Betty Compton to be married at the Cannes City Hall the morning of April 13, with Michael Arlen and Norma Shearer mentioned as likely witnesses.

Mr. Arlen's villa is near that of Miss Compton and Miss Shearer is now visiting Cap Antibes.

Mr. Walker has not revealed his plans, but his friends point out that unless he is married April 13 he will be unable to do so before April 18 on account of the Easter holidays.

TROUT STREAMS READY FOR SEASON'S OPENING

Tagged Beauties To Win Prizes—State Board Seeks Data On Stocking Methods.

Hartford, April 7.—Thirty-two state-leased trout streams, stocked with approximately 120,000 adult trout, 12,000 of which bear tags, will be ready for Connecticut anglers when the trout fishing season opens April 15, according to a bulletin of the State Board of Fisheries and Game today.

Chatfield Hollow Brook, Killingworth, and Branford River, North Branford, the latter reserved for women fly-fishers, are two new additions to the list of streams, which now total over 200 miles of state-controlled fishing waters.

Over 100,000 more adult trout, 4,000 of which will also be tagged, are being held in reserve at the Board's rearing stations for stocking streams later in the season.

The tagged trout have been placed in the streams as a means of securing accurate state-wide data on which to base improvements in methods of stream stocking, according to Superintendent Arthur L. Clark. The tags are of red celluloid, have numbers on one side and the words "Return to State Board of Fisheries and Game" on the other.

Anglers will find the tags in the internal body cavities where they have been placed without harming the fish. The new method of tagging eliminates the possibility of tags becoming detached. It also modifies the danger of creating wounds where destructive infections may become established—a not common occurrence when metal tags are fastened to fish externally, the bulletin states.

State Board of Fisheries and Game urges anglers to cooperate by mailing tags to the office of the Board at Hartford within one week after they are found with the following data: (1) Name and address of angler, (2) name of stream, (3) date fish was caught, (4) species of trout and tag number, (5) location in stream fish was caught (above or below leased area, upper or lower portion of leased area), (6) location in relation to landmarks.

To encourage return of the tags with full data on all six items, prizes will be awarded after close of the trout fishing season on July 15. The prize winners will be decided by drawings from all tags received with complete information requested. Sporting goods manufacturers and fish culturists have offered to supply prizes. A Rhode Island commercial fish hatchery will send some lucky angler 100 live half-pound trout. Over 100 other prizes, including rods, lines, reels, clothing, rubber boots, etc., will be awarded. Special prizes have been offered for tags secured from the women's stream.

A additional information desired on the tagged fish, but entirely optional, will be of interest to all anglers when compiled. This is: Kind of weather, time of day, water height and type of lure used when the fish was caught.

RAISE QUESTION HERE ON BEER BAN VALIDITY

Pending advice from some higher authority, Prosecuting Attorney John B. Thomas stated late yesterday afternoon that he doubted what action would be taken in the Rockville City Court relative to prosecution should be sold in Rockville in violation of the recent legislative act.

Mr. Thomas stated that as yet he has received no official copy of the Federal law permitting the sale of beer and knows only what he has read in newspapers that it is permissible to be sold after today. A discussion took place yesterday afternoon in the office of Mr. Thomas at which time the statutes were searched for laws prohibiting the sale of beer. The act concerning the sale of beer and wine, enacted in the Legislature this week, is viewed by some here as unconstitutional. Arguments were advanced against enforcing the law in Rockville as the act refers to Section No. 2712 of the General Statutes, which imposes penalties for the sale of intoxicating liquors of which beer was once classed.

Section No. 2712, referred to in the special act prohibiting the sale of beer before April 25, specifies "intoxicating liquors." The discussion led to one of the party in the town clerk's office discussing pointing to the definitions contained in Section No. 2709, defining "spirits and intoxicating liquors." This act mentions beer only in the following terms: "All beer manufactured from hops and malt or from hops and barley, which are declared by the laws of the United States to be intoxicating liquors."

Plans are under way to form a protective association here of the parties selling beer under a Federal license with a hope of eliminating the bootleggers. The purpose of the proposed "Good Beer League of Rockville" is to protect its members from either unfair competition or undue prosecution due to a misinterpretation of the state law.

Postpone Trip
The annual New York-Washington trip of the Class of 1933 of the Rockville High school has been postponed because of the closing of the school due to the cases of scarlet fever. It is hoped to make a trip to Washington at a later day, although it is now impossible to leave Rockville on May 1 as was originally planned. Plans are under consideration for a five-day trip in consideration for a seven-day trip, which would mean the elimination of the boat trip to Virginia.

Professor Philip M. Howe has been conferring with Superintendent of Schools Herbert O. Clough and the school board in an effort to secure a few days vacation for the senior class the latter part of May. The regular May vacation has been eliminated by the closing of the school for two weeks at this time.

The party will now probably leave Rockville on Friday, May 26, for New York and arrive in Washington on Saturday, May 27. Under this plan the party will return to Rockville on Wednesday, May 31. Details are being worked out and will be announced in a few days. After raising funds over a period of four years, the class was reluctant to abandon the trip to the National capital.

Lions Club Nominations
Dr. Clarence E. Peterson, well known Rockville dentist, has been nominated for president of the Rockville Lions Club. The annual election of the officers will not take place until Wednesday, April 19, which is the next meeting of the club. Dr. Peterson will succeed Alfred Rosenberg, who has held the chair for the past year.

The following other nominations have been made: First vice-president, Dr. Martin V. B. Metcalf; second vice-president, Ralph Gibson; secretary, Robert Beatty; treasurer, William F. Partridge; chaplain, Rev. George S. Brookes.

The board of directors will be named on the night of the election, which will be the next regular meeting of the club, to be held at the Rockville House.

Elks Club Installation
Past Exalted Ruler John J. Mack of Hartford Lodge, B. P. O. Elks, who is also a past district deputy as well as a deputy for Connecticut, will be the installing officer for Rockville Lodge, No. 1359, B. P. O. Elks on Thursday evening, April 13.

Announcement was made yesterday morning that Mr. Mack would be the installing officer, accompanied by his entire staff. He has also consented to address the lodge meeting.

Lewis H. Chapman will be installed as Exalted Ruler, succeeding Edward L. Newmarker.

Plans are still under consideration for the entertainment and social to be held on next Thursday evening. A concert will be furnished during the roast beef dinner which will be served during the evening.

Wardens Stock Woods
The woods of Tolland county were stocked yesterday with pheasants by County Game Warden Ernest Wright and Henry Meyer. The game has been widely distributed so that it may breed during the summer months. A good part of the stock of birds distributed yesterday were brought from Pennsylvania.

Prize Waltz on Saturday
Due to the success of the Pajama Dance at the Vernon Grange being a big success on last Saturday evening, which was arranged because of popular demand, another feature dance has been arranged for tomorrow evening.

The feature this week will be a Prize Waltz with first, second and third prizes being offered for the best dancers.

The music for the evening will be furnished by Buckmaster's orchestra. Both modern and old-fashioned dances will be enjoyed.

Foresters' Delegates
Rockville's two Foresters Courts are to be represented at the state convention of the Foresters of America to be held at Hotel Stratfield, Bridgeport, on Saturday, May 13. Delegates have been elected by both Court Hearts of Oak and Court Snipale of Rockville.

Court Hearts of Oak have named the following delegation: Chief Ranger Raymond Spielman, Louis Legge and Ewald Fritsche; alternate, former Mayor Joseph Grist, Bruno Doss and George H. Weber. Court Snipale have named the following delegation: Fred Berger as delegate and Roger J. Murphy as alternate. Michael J. Mantak of Rockville, State Junior Forester Supervisor, who has been active in junior work this year, will also attend.

Notes
The Rockville group of the Epworth League are to be represented tonight at the meeting of the Nutmeg Trail of the Epworth League to be held at Burrville.

The Arrows Baseball Club of Rockville will play its first game of the season at Henry Park on Sunday, April 9, being matched with the Brooklyn street Cubs.

Union Lenten services were held at the chapel of the Union Congregational church on Thursday evening. The speaker was Captain Williams of the Manchester branch of the Salvation Army. Percy L. Cooley rendered several vocal selections during the evening.

The annual tests of the Rockville Fire Department will be held next week at which time all apparatus and hose on the different fire trucks will be given a thorough test. This is the yearly inspection which will eliminate any worthless hose.

Adoniram Chapter, No. 18, R. A. M., held its annual convocation last evening in Masonic Hall. Officers were elected and the regular business transacted. The newly elected officers will be formally installed at the meeting on Thursday evening, April 20 at which time the appointive officers will be announced.

The April meeting of the Rockville Emblem Club will be held on next Wednesday afternoon at the Elks Club. The plans for the installation of officers, which is to take place on Wednesday, May 3, will be completed at that time. It is expected that the supreme officers will be present on that occasion.

The Supreme Court of Errors in Hartford, the highest court in Connecticut, heard arguments today in the case of the Savings Bank of Rockville vs. Roy C. Wilcox, state treasurer. This is an appeal from the Board of Equalization.

Harold F. Schilppack, aged 32, and Miss Vita D. Genovese, aged 22, both of Rockville, will be married during the Easter season.

Alden Skinner Camp, Sons of Veterans Auxiliary, will hold its regular meeting tonight in the G. A. R. hall, Memorial Building. Plans will be made at this time for the annual inspection by the state officers.

The town of East Windsor announced yesterday that all buses used in bringing the students from Broad Brook to Rockville were to be disinfected due to the scarlet fever epidemic in Rockville. The schools in Broad Brook have been closed since Wednesday because of the sickness.

Victory Assembly, Catholic Ladies of Columbus, held their regular meeting last evening in their rooms in the Prescott block. Following the regular business meeting a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments served.

Mrs. Gertrude Clifford Brady of Hartford, a niece of Mrs. Ellen Chapdelaine of the "Rockville House" has been re-engaged as soprano soloist for the Center church, Hartford.

Mrs. Gladys Bowers of Chestnut street is substituting for Miss Mary Keeler in the seventh grade in the East school.

C. William Weir of Vernon avenue has entered the Hartford hospital for treatment, being bothered with a carbuncle.

A special town meeting has been called by the town of Tolland for Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock to take action relative to changing their vote of March 3 relative to town roads.

DEBT MORATORIUM
London, April 7.—(AP)—Possibility of a war debt moratorium when the next payment to the United States becomes due in June was stated by several British newspapers today.

Delegates for a moratorium were re-elected in reports of President Roosevelt's invitation to visit Washington and the latter's acceptance. Mr. MacDonald is expected to leave April 16.

"The result of the visit cannot be otherwise than good," commented the Daily Mail.

Representative Tinkham of Massachusetts, a Republican, is the only member of Congress who wears a beard, says a Washington correspondent. Doubtless all those other Republicans won by a close shave.

SOCIAL WORKERS TO HOLD MEETING IN WATUBURY

Acute Problems To Be Discussed In Convention In Brass City May 5, 6 and 7.

(Special to Manchester Herald)

Waterbury, April 7.—The Connecticut Conference of Social Workers, meeting here in its annual convention May 5, 6 and 7, is expected to develop discussions of special application to the acute problems of the moment, as the general program is to concern itself principally with "A Community Program for Unemployment Relief." Noted authorities on social problems will present their contributions to this subject, and the majority of those who are engaged in social work in Connecticut are expected to discuss these opinions in round-table conferences. It is the belief of the conference officers that a direct effect on Connecticut relief practices will in some measure result from this statewide meeting.

Among the speakers will be Dr. George A. Vincent, former head of the Rockefeller Institute of New York City; James L. Feiser, vice-chairman of the American Red Cross, Washington, D. C.; Rev. Dr.

John A. Ryan, professor of sociology at the Catholic University, Washington, D. C.; Richard A. Lester of the Department of economics and social institutions, Princeton University; Allen T. Burns, director of Community Chests of America; Rev. Dr. Henry A. Crane of Elm Park church, Scranton, Penn.; Edward C. Lindeman of the New York School of Social Work; Walter A. Davidson, assistant manager of the eastern area of the American Red Cross; and Rev. Dr. James Gordon Gilkey of South Congregational church, Springfield, Mass.

POPE AS PILGRIM
Vatican City, April 7.—(AP)—Like an ordinary pilgrim, Pope Pius entered St. Peter's Cathedral through the holy door this morning and knelt before the altar of the confessional begging indulgences for the Holy Year.

He was attended by the carinals and prelates of the Papal Court. Religious students were present, but the cathedral was closed to the public.

What's the Value of a TRADE-MARK?

TODAY the Chesterfield trade-mark is very valuable. Back of it is the good will of thousands—perhaps hundreds of thousands—of smokers. Chesterfield cigarettes were first manufactured more than twenty-five years ago. At the start, they were sold at a loss, but the quantity sold increased steadily from year to year, until now Chesterfields are sold in great volume at a very small percentage of profit. The Chesterfield trade-mark, as indicated above, is registered in the United States Patent Office. This means that the United States Government says that only Chesterfield may use this trade-mark for cigarettes. This is not only for our protection, but for yours as well, because what the Chesterfield trade-mark really means is that you and all Chesterfield smokers will get Chesterfields manufactured under the same formula, by the same people, and in all respects absolutely the same, in every package you buy, year in and year out. Wherever you buy them, in this or in any other country, you can depend upon the Chesterfield trade-mark.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

JANET HILL breaks her engagement to ROLF CARLYLE when she learns he has been paying attentions to BETTY KENDALL, wealthy society girl. Janet says she secretly is in love with ROLF CARLYLE, advertising manager of Every Home Magazine. She still loves Rolf.

JEFF GRANT, young engineer, saves her purse from a holdup man and she and Jeff become friends. When she learns Rolf has eloped with Betty she tells Jeff about her broken engagement and says she can never care for anyone else.

Hamilton leaves the magazine and secures a job for Janet as social secretary to his sister, MRS. CURTIS. It is several days before Janet learns Mrs. Curtis is Betty Kendall's mother.

Rolf and Betty return from their honeymoon. Janet feels she should go away but circumstances prevent. The young couple move into their own apartment and, after one encounter, Janet seldom sees Rolf.

Mrs. Curtis decides to go to Silver Bay, a lake resort, and takes Janet with her. They stay a month. Several days after their return Janet meets Rolf on the street. He takes her arm and says, "You're coming with me."

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXXVIII

Janet stood still. "But where are you going?" she asked.

"It doesn't matter," Rolf told her. "Anywhere I just want to talk to you that's all. I heard you were back and I've been wanting to see you."

"But Rolf—"

"Are you going to say you won't talk to me? Well, I hadn't expected that. Of course if you feel that way—"

She glanced at him, then looked away quickly. "But we can't," she said. "I mean—what did you want to talk about?"

"I can't very well tell you standing in the middle of the sidewalk, can I? Come on. We'll drop in at Stanley's."

Stanley's restaurant in the next block was one of the most fashionable in Lancaster. Betty Carlyle and her friends often lunched there. Janet knew she couldn't go there with Rolf.

She said, "I'm sorry but really I can't. Mrs. Curtis is expecting me."

His eyes met hers directly. "That's an excuse, isn't it?" he said. "There's some reason why you don't want to come. The same reason, I suppose, why you've been avoiding me for so long. I thought it was agreed between us that we were going to be friends."

Janet felt conspicuous standing there on the street. She said, "Let's walk along. I'm on my way to take a bus."

"That's not an answer," Rolf objected as they moved along, side by side.

She refused to meet his eyes. "Of course we're friends," she told him in a voice that was not as steady as it should have been. "At least I want to be."

He laughed rather unpleasantly. "Only you'd rather never see me, is that it?"

"You know that's not so, Rolf. It's just that—well, I think it's better for us not to see each other. You remember what Betty thought that night she came to the house? I don't want to cause any trouble!"

"So this is the way you want to do it, is it? There was a pause and then Rolf went on more seriously. "But I really do want to talk to you, Janet. It's important! I've got to talk to you. Listen, will you meet me this evening—"

"I can't do that!" Janet interrupted quickly.

The man went on as though he had not heard her. "Will you meet me at nine o'clock?" he asked. "I'll come to the oak tree back of the house."

"But you mustn't ask me to do that, Rolf. I can't!"

"At nine o'clock tonight," he repeated. "At the oak tree."

The yellow bus appeared at the corner a block away. Janet saw it with a wave of thankfulness. "I won't be there," she told him firmly. "There's no use of your coming!"

He said, "I'll be waiting for you," and touched his hat as the bus came to a halt.

Janet stepped into the vehicle and found a seat. She knew that her cheeks were flushed and her heart was pounding furiously. "But I won't go!" she told herself over and over again. "If he comes I won't be there!"

Well, that was settled and settled in the right way. Rolf should know that it would never do for them to meet secretly. She wondered what he wanted to talk to her about. Not that it would make any difference. She reviewed the conversation, assured herself that her attitude had been the right one. But what was Rolf so anxious to talk to her about?

A dozen times during the afternoon that same question arose. Once back in the big brick house she felt secure again. There was no use denying that seeing Rolf had been a temptation but she had risen above it. It was a comfortable feeling to know that she had been able to master the situation.

She could be very calm about the whole affair now. If Rolf came he would simply find that he had been foolish. Janet knew that she would spend the evening with Mrs. Curtis, either reading to her or possibly playing cards. There was a new name Mrs. Curtis had learned at Silver Bay of which she was very fond. Even if Janet had not decid-

Choose Your Easter Suit First—Then Assemble Your Accessories

Three handsome Easter choices, any one of which might well suit you to a "T". The Gibson Girl blue suit (left) with wide shoulders and a pert peplum. It is topped by the latest go-to-fez hat. Softly dressmaker, is this chartreuse green and gray striped woolen suit (center) with short sleeves. Very new is this black tulle suit (right), with diminutive fitted jacket with great pointed revers, faced with the red, black and white printed silk of the blouse.

By JULIA BLANSHARD

New York, April 7.—Easter suits carry youthful zest into the fashion parade this year.

You can be man-tailored, you can wear a soft dressmaker suit or you can have some of the mannish suit-ables that combine clear-cut lines with the latest wide-shouldered silhouettes.

Suits are more or less inconspicuous. It's the jackets that count for individuality. You can go in for having that so-called "coat-hanger" look to you and be a knock-out. You can have a coat that is practically a bolero, one that fits your figure just below the waist in a funny, chic manner; you can have a box coat that just hangs, or a fitted coat or one that is a little mess jacket.

Eye-Catching Blouse With Every Suit

The woollens that go into these suits are handsomely woven. Some of the fabrics that look like wool—better go right along, I suppose. Goodbye, Janet—"

They were off in a whirl of chiffon and lilac perfume and the heavy scent of Mr. Thornton's cigar. Janet stood for a moment and watched the car drive away. Then she went back to the living room and turned on the radio.

A dance orchestra, playing one of the tunes she had heard often at Silver Bay, came on the air. Listening, Janet felt irritated and snapped off the switch. The song died in the midst of a plaintive tenor chorus.

Janet picked up a magazine and tried to read. The words paraded before her eyes were meaningless. She could not keep her attention on them. The house seemed quiet. So quiet she could hear the tick of the clock across the room. Janet glanced at it. Twenty minutes past nine.

In 20 minutes more Rolf would be there. Janet tried again to read. She wouldn't think about Rolf. She wouldn't go to meet him, of course. That was out of the question.

She looked at the printed page and thought, "I didn't try to make things happen the way they have. It's not my fault."

But it would be her fault if she went out the side door and down the sagstone walk to the oak tree. There would be no one else to take the blame for that.

It was 18 minutes now. And now 17. How fearfully quiet the house was! Not a sound except the clock. Not a sound except the ticking of the clock across the room. Janet's heart. She could feel it drumming away so noisily that if anyone else had been in the room they must surely have heard it, too. The clock and the steadily pounding heart kept up a sort of duet.

Janet rose and moved about the room restlessly. She thought, "He said it was important. I wonder what he wants. Perhaps it really is important."

And then quickly, "But it can't make any difference! I told him I couldn't see him!"

Impulsively she turned to the radio again, tuned in a noisy orchestra and let the brassy notes fill the room. It was hideous but it was better than the silence. The sound seemed to steady her. No, she would not go to meet Rolf.

It was 10 minutes after nine when she stepped out of the house. A few more nights and the moon would be a complete golden circle. It shone down brightly on a crooked patch of the lawn. The rest was shadowed by trees and the hedge at one side of the house.

Janet closed the door behind her and waited. There was no one in sight. The oak tree on the right was a mass of shadows. No, Rolf had not come. He had taken her at her word.

She hesitated a moment, staring at the patch of moonlight and the darkness beyond. All at once she saw the figure moving, slowly coming toward her. She heard a voice call softly, "Janet!" and knew it was Rolf.

"I can only stay a moment," she said when she was beside him. "What is it you want?"

There was barely light enough for ### wool suit flaunts a pert peplum, and has the new Gibson Girl silhouette. Its shoulders are padded and puffed to exaggerate their width, with the express purpose, of course, of minimizing your hips and making your limbs look slender and tapering. It has wide, flaring lapels and buttons right down the front, with a very narrow leather belt around a high waistline, to emphasize the peplum. The skirt has little godets in front to repeat the peplum's flare.

Gigolo Suit Is Chic and Unusual

With this the new Maria Guy go-to-fez hat is done in white, with a little stand-offish ribbon fancy at one side, the color of the suit. White gloves, blue pumps with stitched stripings, a blue purse and a tie, white satin blouse with a tie collar complete the smart Easter picture.

Very original is a black gigolo suit, neat, smart, unusual. Its diminutive jacket is fitted, has very wide shoulders and light, straight sleeves. The trim skirt fits up to a high waistline and buttons down the side with the buttonholes outlined in the novelty red, white and black printed silk that fashions the blouse and the great pointed revers of the coat. This print also lines the coat.

With this is worn the new Maria Guy coachman hat that is such a furore. If a girl is the kind who can wear it, it is smart as no other hat is smart this year. Oxford, of trim, tailored cut, with the new punchwork holes for decoration, makes a suitable addition to this suit's appearance.

Dressmaker Suit Is Easy to Wear

Much easier to wear than either of these suits is a chartreuse green and gray striped woolen dressmaker suit. It has a simple skirt, and its silk blouse is the chartreuse. The coat is an easy, surplice cut, with the new short sleeves that let the blouse show for cuffs. It features a single button on the wrist.

The hat is the new forward-movement beret, made with a bandeau across the back to pitch it forward more than ever. It has a quill that accents this movement, giving it a dashing look.

ably written in their minds and they will carry with them a perfect mine of treasure. Not only this, but every basic bit of knowledge we have of history, literature or even everyday facts makes a bed-rock on which to build other knowledge later on. And you can't learn later on!

No, I should never discount memory feats as lost time in school.

To memorize Longfellow's "Evangeline" or "Hiawatha" could not be well done at forty or even less by the majority of people. To memorize them at fifteen is only a matter of a few hours, comparatively. Not all of Hiawatha, perhaps, but enough of it to get the poetic spirit of Indian life.

Bryant's "Thanatopsis" bears youth extremely. Yet it is priceless. Sombre indeed but a ritual of life and death.

"The Chambered Nautilus" is the greatest inspiration, the highest star, the loveliest sentiment I know of to guide a life. It may mean little to the child who learns it. Its perfection and nobility will reach him later.

Mental Agility Aided

Aside from benefits to life and the actuality of living, a child's mind should be stored with other things also. This will not interfere with that part of his mind used for reasoning. Most lessons today contribute to mental agility.

Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Brown make a mistake in fussing about the "foolish nonsense" of the school. They should say instead, "Young ladies sit right down and learn those things. Some day you will be very glad to have them. Later on you won't remember from one day to the next."

Memory is developed by training. It is not altogether a matter of instinct. The more we memorize the more we remember.

And then in walk their two daughters from school protesting indignantly that they have to memorize another silly poem, or part of the Constitution of Declaration of Independence. And their mothers look at each other and declare that of all the foolish nonsense they teach in schools—well it simply takes the cake!

I wish there were more "silly nonsense" of this kind. Not because I think it is erudite to know all these things, which of course it is, but because some day these children now learning like parrots and reciting gib words that mean nothing or little to them, will begin to ponder over their meaning. They will have the words indelher to make out his face. "Perhaps to see if you would come!" he said. "Then I'll have to go!"

His hand was on her arm. "No, Janet—please! You can't go now. I really do want to talk to you!"

"Well, then?"

"The hand on her arm tightened. "Janet!" the man repeated the name softly. "You're looking very sweet, do you know it?" At once his arm was around her. She had no will to stop him, even if she could have. Rolf caught her to him and his lips found hers.

GLORIFYING YOURSELF

By Alicia Hart

IT'S NOT EVERY WOMAN WHO CAN WEAR A VEIL WELL

If you have a round, merry, chubby face, don't don a veil. It breaks your face in half and makes it look round and bubbly but not merrier.

If you wear glasses, try the veil before you buy it. Most women with glasses look infinitely better without veils.

If you have dark skin, go easy on veils. They cast shadows and perhaps you don't happen to need any shadows at all about your eyes.

If you are feminine and like little dressy hats, then perhaps you are the original veiled lady. They do have an allure. They do add a speck of intriguing mystery to the right hat and the right woman. But it must be the right hat.

Sporty things are terrible with veils on them. So are many of these flat, straight, brimmed sailors that have veils tagging from their brims. Berets, little tricorns, and other tip-titled bits of hatgear often look irresistible with little veils.

But be sure the hat is for you and then that the veil does something both to you and to the hat. Usually a milliner attaches a veil when a hat specifically calls for one. Adding your own is sometimes the worst thing you can do.

So be very, very sure that a veil is a good move and a right one, before you step out behind it.

Hints on How to Keep Well by World Famous Authority

OUTER EAR SUBJECT TO NUMEROUS DISTURBANCES

Cysts and Small Tumors May Have to Be Removed; Almost Any Infection Likely to Involve Canal; "Tin Ear" Is Common.

By DR. MORRIS FISHER, Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine.

The outer ear differs but little from other external portions of the body in the things which may disturb it. It may be the subject of small tumors which, of course, must be removed if they show the slightest tendency to growth or irritation. Sometimes cysts form which are non-malignant tumors, but which continue to swell or grow as long as the opening is blocked. These should be opened and the wall of the cyst removed if there is not to be a recurrence.

In otitis media, the ear will swell to tremendous size. Obviously it must be protected to prevent breaking down and open the tissue due to the swelling and irritation.

One of the most common forms of injury to the ear is what is commonly called "tin ear" of the pugilist. Repeated blows on the ear result in the pouring out of blood between the cartilage of the tissue and its surrounding membranes. At first such swellings are bluish red; they feel like dough, and they are opaque so that light will not pass through.

In some instances, it may be advisable for the surgeon to open the tissue and to remove the clot of blood, and, in that way, to prevent permanent thickening and swelling. It is sometimes necessary to plan the use of bandages which mould the ear and hold its shape while such surgical treatment is being undertaken.

In addition to the diseases that may disturb the outer ear, there are disturbances which affect the canal up to the point of the eardrum. Almost any infection may invade the outer canal of the ear. Under such circumstances, it is necessary to remove the infection and to prevent its recurrence by the use of proper antiseptics which a physician can supply and which should only be used after he has given proper instructions.

There is a good rule in medicine; namely, never put anything in the external ear any smaller than the elbow. The tissues are most delicate and may be seriously harmed by the use of wires, toothpicks, earplugs or similar irregular or unsterilized devices. A scratch of the lining of the canal may result in the formation of a boil, which is exceedingly painful and which is difficult to handle in such an inaccessible part of the body.

MAJOR LOOP MAKES NUMEROUS CHANGES IN TEAM PERSONNEL

Only Five Teams Carry Same Infield As Last Year; Other Clubs Show At Least One Shift.

New York, April 7.—(AP)—Major league baseball clubs will resume business at the old stands next Wednesday but they'll hardly look the same. The off season setup, a new all time exchange and with the usual quota of freshmen breaking into the lineups, some of the clubs will be all but unrecognizable to home town fans.

All the returns are not yet in but a survey of the situation today makes it appear that only five of the 16 clubs will open the new season with the same infields which carried on in the closing days of the 1932 season—the New York Yankees, Washington Senators, and St. Louis Browns of the American League, and the Pittsburgh Pirates and Chicago Cubs of the National.

BASKETBALL COACHES DISCUSS POST PLAY

Teachers of Game To Suggest Change In What Is Sometimes Called Pivot Play.

New York, April 7.—(AP)—The "post" or "pivot" play in basketball was expected to get a thorough going-over today at a meeting of the rules committee of the National Association of Basketball Coaches in which the teachers of the game were to settle on what changes in the rules, if any, they would recommend to the joint rules committee later this week.

Most of the suggestions for full changes were to do with the "post" play in that section of the court within the free throw area. Present rules say a guard may not come within three feet of the pivot man in that section of the court. The coaches contend this favors the offense over the defense, at least in some sections of the country. The question came up in an informal discussion at the meeting of the board of directors yesterday and it was pointed out that in the west fouls are generally called against the guard while in the east the man with the ball usually is penalized if he bumps the guard.

A morning session in which members and guest coaches were to hear committee reports and discussion of "free throwing" by W. S. Chandler of Marquette University; and an afternoon session with reports on basketball conditions in various states also were scheduled for today.

CINCINNATI'S HOME

Cincinnati, April 7.—(AP)—Home again, Cincinnati's Reds waited today for the sun to dry their sodden ball park so they could practice for the exhibition series with the Cleveland Indians, opening tomorrow. Because of the field's condition, the game today with the New York Yankees was called off. President Sidney Hill said, however, that barring more rain the grounds would be "in better condition than ever" for the contest with the Indians.

LOUGHRAN MAKES OFFER

Chicago, April 7.—(AP)—Up stepped Tommy Loughran, Philadelphia boxing manager, with an offer today to fight Izzy Gassanaga, Spanish heavyweight, at the Chicago Stadium, April 21, after King Lesinsky, Charley Reitzel and Otto von Forst refused to trade punches with the Spaniard. Loughran's terms were considered so fair by officials of the stadium operating company that the bout will no doubt be signed, along with supporting heavyweight contests.

ANNUAL BASEBALL RACE STARTS OFF NEXT WEEK

Opening Day Brings Joy To Real Fan But Magnates Watch the Turnstiles; 1933 Comes Close To Being "Make Or Break" Year.

By GAYLE TALBOT (Associated Press Sports Writer)

New York, April 7.—(AP)—Opening Day, customarily the high spot of the American sports program, this year brings mixed emotions to the baseball fan and the baseball magnate.

The real fan, to whom the national game is a source of entertainment and a surcease from all financial and domestic cares, as usual greets the first roar of "play ball" with unalloyed delight.

From now until October his chief worry will be whether the great Lafayette Groves is pitching with his accustomed éclat, and whether the rugged Jimmie Fox's stand a chance of cracking Babe Ruth's record of 60 home runs.

But for the harried club-owners, this Opening Day is something else again. They have more on their mind this spring than any one set of men should be asked to carry. This, they agree, comes pretty close to being the "make or break" year for baseball.

The "showdown" between the owners and the players has been trimmed to its bare bones, and now all they can do is sit back and wait for the blow. If the baseball baroque comes through safely this time, there need never again be any minglings.

The first couple of weeks should tell pretty accurately whether the customers are going to rally around in sufficient numbers to keep the game too deeply out of the red. That's all the magnates even hope for. None expects to make money. No club in either league paid real dividends last season and most of them lost heavily.

The great number of trades and "showdowns" during the winter should prove a stimulant to early attendance. The Chicago White Sox, or one club, figure to attract possibly more fans for the first few weeks than in any one period a year ago. But whether they will keep coming after the "new" wears off is a different question.

No Reduction in Prices. It generally is agreed that the bleacher fan, the man who plunks down his dollar bill day after day and has come to be known affectionately as the "insectoid" of the grand old game, does not have anything like as many loose dollar bills as he used to have. Further, there is a faint possibility that the same fan has not taken kindly to the club owners' failure to cut prices.

If things get too rough, it is not, as plainly apparent, that there is no enough "spending" money floating around to support the vast baseball structure. It would not be surprising to see a special meeting of both big leagues and an ensuing reduction in the cost of all seats, from the boxes to bleachers.

Can't Replace The Babe. There has been a conscious effort to groom Jimmie Fox of the A's to all the Babe's shoes, but even if Jimmie swats 60 home runs this season and proves himself the greatest distance hitter of all time,

DERBY IS AN OPEN RACE, EXPERTS SAY AS CLASSIC NEARS

All Horses Will Have a Chance in Annual Event; Favorites Have Won 28 Times and Lost 30 In Derby History; Tradition May Be Upset.

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third of a series of five articles on horse racing which has grown into America's biggest sport.

By BILL BRAUCHER NEA Service Sports Editor

New York, April 7.—They are saying the Kentucky Derby this year will be an "open" race, meaning that all the horses will have a chance.

Outside of Ladyman, Kerry Patch, Swivel and Caterwall, leading candidates were pretty closely grouped as to two-year-old class. Ladyman last year led the list with $111,438 won, making him favorite in the winning book. Kerry Patch won the Futurity and $98,440. Swivel won four out of 14 starts and $71,756. Caterwall won three out of 10 starts and $66,897.

The others range downward from winning $81,500 for The Duke to nothing at all for some of the nominees.

But horsemen tell you that two-year-old form is no gauge of three-year-old ability, and that there appear to be many more in the Derby class this year. After the race there may be a different story.

No horse that won the Futurity ever has won the Derby. General Sully's Aley in the Futurity, ran second in the Derby in 1928, ran second to Anita Peabody in the Futurity. The great Zev couldn't catch Sully's Aley in the Futurity. Big Barton ran second in the Futurity to a horse named Dunboyne.

Yet Gallant Fox, Reign Count, Zev and Sir Barton went on to some of the brightest deeds recorded in American and international turfdom.

Two of them were favorites to win the Derby—Gallant Fox, 6 to 5, and Reign Count, 3 to 1, but Zev paid 16 to 1 that day 10 years ago when Earl Sande booted him in, and Sir Barton was 13 to 5.

After all the Derby is the first big test of three-year-old ability. Twenty-eight post-time favorites have won the Derby, but only 30 that have won it in the 88 Derbies that have been run. It is bound to be an "open" race.

Kerry Patch, winner of the Futurity that year, may upset the tradition and win the Derby. Trainer

Colonel Bradley thought more of Bagenbaggage than he did of Bubbling Over—before the Derby in 1926 when the Bubbler beat his stablemate to the wire in a thrilling duel. The Crimson was slated for the course of the 1932-33 basketball season, namely, to win four consecutive games.

The Guards have played thirty games to date, winning twenty-one and losing nine. Four times they extended their winning streak to three games, only to lose the next scheduled encounter. They face this situation tonight, having defeated the Rec Five twice and the Rhymers once.

To Use College Star. To make the task more difficult the All-Burnsides have acquired the services of George Stangle, captain of the Dartmouth basketball team this past season and hailed as one of the outstanding players in the eastern collegiate circle. The rest of the Burnsides regulars will also be in uniform, the spectacular Thayer brothers at forward, Ballard at center and Powell at guard, with Nichols and Anderson in reserve.

It was originally planned to have a one-act play at the Armory last night, but the play was cancelled. The Burnsides Girls will play a team from Colts instead.

Much interest has been taken in tonight's encounter and the small St. Mary's gym will undoubtedly be packed with fans. The Guards have beaten the shooting circle twice this season, taking the All-Burnsides at the tune of 41 to 30 on their home floor and 28 to 26 at the Armory here.

The decisive manner in which the soldiers went about defeating the Rhymers Wednesday night seems to indicate that the team will be in top form tonight. It's not too impossible to predict the outcome of a game in which the All-Burnsides are involved. If the circus sharpshooters are clicking the Guards will have to use superhuman efforts to bring about a victory but if the Burnsides are off on a good percentage of their shots the Guards should come through.

Philadelphia, April 7.—(AP)—Joe McCluskey of Fordham University, winner of the 3,000-meter steeplechase at the University of Pennsylvania relay carnival for the last two years, is going to make his first attempt at victory in the event this year.

His entry was received yesterday and gave preparations for the 39th anniversary of the games much impetus. McCluskey's great race last year was one of the features of the carnival. In spite of catching a spike in a hurdle and falling, he regained his lead and held it successfully. He overcame a similar handicap the previous year.

GUARDS MAY SNAP JINX IN CAGE GAME TONIGHT

Face All-Burnsides At East Hartford; Locals Have Failed Four Times To Win Four Games In Row; Have Won Three Straight.

When the National Guards travel to East Hartford tonight to face the All-Burnsides in St. Mary's hall, the town champions will attempt a feat which they have failed to accomplish no less than four times during the course of the 1932-33 basketball season, namely, to win four consecutive games.

The Guards have played thirty games to date, winning twenty-one and losing nine. Four times they extended their winning streak to three games, only to lose the next scheduled encounter. They face this situation tonight, having defeated the Rec Five twice and the Rhymers once.

To Use College Star. To make the task more difficult the All-Burnsides have acquired the services of George Stangle, captain of the Dartmouth basketball team this past season and hailed as one of the outstanding players in the eastern collegiate circle. Local Sport Chatter

Definite decision has been made to cancel the remainder of the Guards-Rhymers basketball series, due to the small attendance at the first game Wednesday night. The Rhymers have also cancelled the series with the Phantoms of New Britain. Arrangements are being made to hold a benefit game between the Rhymers and Guards next week.

The spell of rainy weather that hit Manchester this week has forced the high school baseball team to mark time. The players hibernated up at the West Side yesterday afternoon but bad weather was an obstacle to a stiff workout, and Coach Kelley hopes to hold it today. The high school mentor is seeking a capable pitcher and first baseman to insure reserve strength.

Plans are going forward to have a semi-pro baseball team represent Manchester in the league now being formed at Hartford. Local persons interested claim they have the necessary financial backing. At a meeting last night, it was signified that New Britain, Thompsonville, West Hartford, Winsted and two teams from Hartford would also be included in the circuit.

Charles Willett defeated Aldo Jatti in the Rec ping pong tournament, 21-9, 21-8 and 21-10, in a three round match. The players of the following two matches are requested to get in touch with their opponents: James Gorman vs. Chubby Clark and Mike Swilka vs. Earl Bissell.

BEER FORBIDDEN BY COACHES FOR COLLEGE TEAMS

New Brew Has No Effect On Ban—Some Trainers May Prescribe It On Occasions.

New York, April 7.—(AP)—So far as college athletes are concerned, the ban of beer remains. Almost to a man, authorities at representative colleges and universities informed the Associated Press they would continue to forbid beer to their athletes except under special circumstances.

Legalization of the beverage, in the opinion of most of these leaders, will create no problem at all for the colleges simply because training rules will be just as rigorous as ever.

Lawson Robertson, head coach of the last three American Olympic track and field teams; William J. Bingham, Harvard's athletic director; Jim Crowley, Fordham's new head football coach; Harvey Harman and Glenn as (Pop) Warner, football coach at Penn and Temple respectively, all indicated strong opposition to any beer drinking at all by the youngsters under their charge. John F. (Chick) Meahan of Manhattan, and Little of Columbia, agreed, with modifications.

For Over-Trained. Meahan said he would have no hesitation at all in "prescribing" a bottle or two of ale for an athlete who is over-trained or stale, and Little qualified his opposition by saying he thought a "glass or two of beer, occasionally, is all right for athletes if they have been accustomed to it."

Whatever rigid restrictions as applied to the amateur professional athletes will be asked simply not to over-indulge.

John A. Heydler, president of the National League, put it this way: "There is no harm in a player having a bottle or two of beer, especially after a particularly hard game or series. It often has a tonic effect. But the player who does not know enough not to drink too much will not last long. Competition is too keen nowadays for athletes in any sport so highly skilled as Big League baseball to over-indulge and keep their place."

Basketball CRESCENTS DEFEAT CELTICS

Wednesday night at the East Side Rec the Crescents avenged a previous defeat with a 39-27 victory over the Celtics. The Crescents held a scant lead almost all the way through and were ahead 17-16 at halftime. The Celtics committed eighteen personal fouls trying to check their opponents closely while the Crescents were guilty of nine.

Wednesday's victory was a three game losing streak for the Crescents, who intend to end their season with a game with the Herald next week. The summary:

AKRON'S SURVIVORS BEFORE THE HOUSE

roll more it would fill with water and sink.

"I think the swimming kept me warm, otherwise I would have frozen."

"Just after the ship hit the water, while we were hanging on the gas tank, a couple of fares went off. The fares that we drop on the water to measure drift and speed. The salt water hit them and set them off."

"I think they were what the ship saw that rescued us."

"Just before we were picked up, I saw a ring buoy on the water. I swam over to that and hung my arm through it and passed out. When I came to, I was in the air on the ship (the tanker Phoenix) and they had me wrapped up and covered with hot water bottles."

Details of how he got back to New York concluded Erwin's statement. He said that he would prefer not to say anything further today, but "write out a statement and give it to you later."

Meanwhile, Representative McClintic (D., Okla.), a former member of the House Naval committee, went before the rules committee to demand that the inquiry be made by either a select House committee or a joint Congressional committee "that will not whitewash the Navy."

McClintic headed a subcommittee that investigated the Akron a year ago. He declared that Chairman Vinson of the Naval committee would not let him conduct a "fair and impartial" inquiry.

Resonant Remarks
Vinson said he "resented" the remarks of McClintic, who he said, had filed the report of the subcommittee last year.

Each charged the other with making "misstatements" as to the facts of the previous investigation.

"The public will not have any faith in an investigation by a committee that is influenced or directly interested in naval affairs," McClintic said. He said that if the Naval committee "it will be white-washed just like the committee white-washed the Shenandoah disaster."

McClintic said that while he was chairman of the subcommittee that investigated the overweight report and reports of sabotage of the Akron, "Mr. Vinson conducted the investigation through a set of questions and did not let me have the gavel."

"He was the chairman of the subcommittee that made the report," Vinson said.

Before the rules committee, McClintic said it was a grave question whether the government should continue its policy of constructing rigid airships.

"We ought to make an investigation to show the public forever whether this type of airship should be constructed as an arm of National defense. We ought to get outside people to testify," he said.

Talks of Whitewashing
"The Naval committee was severely criticized for its attitude in white-washing the Shenandoah disaster. The subcommittee did not have an opportunity last year to get information. A committee ought to be appointed that will be willing to go to the bottom of this."

McClintic said he did not believe that "this type of airship is successful" but that he thought "the blimp type can perform service in war time."

Vinson said he was "embarrassed" by McClintic's move and looking at the Oklahoman, added:

"I have no desire for self aggrandizement like some others. This talk about being influenced by the Navy viewpoint with regard to lighter-than-air craft, is foolish."

"One of the things that have disturbed me for twenty years is the divided sentiment in the Navy on rigid airships. Some of the high ranking officers have been strongly opposed to them while others have been ardent advocates. A great many in the Navy are opposed to them. The records of the general board contain volumes full of divided sentiment."

Vinson said his committee was going to conduct a thorough investigation with a view to recommending for a future policy on rigid airships as to their "military and commercial value." The Georgian said: "I will call Mr. McClintic before the committee so the committee can receive his expert testimony."

CROSS READY TO SIGN SALARY REDUCTION BILL

This year to authorize me to proceed in this way. The authority in both instances was denied me.

Would Reduce Offices
"It is equally well known that I would eliminate from the payroll a rather large number of political office holders who are receiving comfortable salaries for little or no service to the state, particularly those who are on the payroll of two departments. These office holders are in the main provided for in the present budget."

"It is also well known that I am strongly in favor of small salaries to the members of the tuberculosis commission. This commission differs from trustees or directors connected with our hospitals in that the members, according to statute must make at least two visits a year to each of the five sanatoria; that is, fifty visits in all. They also find it necessary to hold weekly meetings besides. On the average, they devote two days a week to co-ordinating the work of the five sanatoria for tubercular patients. It needs no argument to say that they should receive proper remuneration."

To Sign the Bill
"I intend to sign the salary bill submitted to me not because I approve of the elimination of the moderate salaries of the tuberculosis commission, and of all other details, but because of the necessity of quick action in providing a salary scale which will contribute to a balanced budget."

"Further, it is illogical to curtail the services of all other departments of the state and not to curtail the road building of the highway department. A situation has developed which will compel the state to share to a larger degree than it has ever done before in the care of the destitute and the unemployed. Within the last decade, I am informed, the highway department has drawn upon the general fund to an amount not less than $13,000,000. During the emergency which is now upon us, the highway department may be reasonably expected to reciprocate these favors, so that the towns and municipalities may be assisted in the care of the unemployed without further taxation or the issue of bonds by the state for this purpose."

ALLEN GETS REBATE
Washington, April 7—(AP)—An abatement of $160,651 to the estate of Robert J. Allen of Hartford, Conn., for over-assessment of estate tax was announced today by the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

The bureau said the over-assessment was caused by the allowance of a credit representing the amount of state inheritance taxes paid subsequently to the filing of the Federal estate tax return.

The beer bill signed by Governor Cross yesterday reads:

"Section 1—Any persons, firm or corporation which shall sell or offer for sale any beer or wine with an alcoholic content of more than one half of one per cent before April 25, 1933, unless prior to said time, an act regulating the sale thereof shall be in effect shall be subject to the penalties prescribed in Section 2712 of the general statutes.

committee continually reports judgeship by simply asking suspension of the rules and passage of the resolution.

"I believe that at least 95 per cent of this House knows little about qualifications of these we are voting on," he said. "Just last week two judges were named for the Torrington Town Court and I did not know until I reached home and read the newspapers that there had been five aspirants for the jobs and that three were lawyers and the other two laymen. Nor did I know that the two laymen were the ones chosen by the judiciary committee."

Majority Leader Raymond E. Baldwin then gave a comprehensive survey of Calhoun's legal training.

Rep. Larash of Orange, remarked that he could not see what difference it made whether the judiciary committee reported on the qualifications of the candidates or not, as Gough always voted against the committee recommendations on the judges.

Minority leader John Markham and Rep. Francis Hogan of Torrington said that they intended to continue to vote against the judgeships recommended by the judiciary committee not because of personalities but because they are opposed to the methods used by the committee.

Report Accepted
The House also accepted a committee report naming J. Boardman deputy judge of the Fairfield court.

The Board of Estimate of Norwalk was given an extension of time until the fourth Monday in June to make up its appropriations concerning salaries under the provisions of a bill passed under suspension of the rules. The measure was adopted a short time later in the Senate.

on bills providing for posting of bonds to insure payment of business tax and cutting salaries of state officials 25 per cent.

The bond bill was designed to protect the state from merchants termed by members of the judiciary committee as fly-by-nights. Committee members said that the bill dealt with a vital subject but that the members of the committee felt that it was a matter which cannot be corrected through legislation.

Among the measures passed in the regular order of business were bills providing for issuance of $50,000 refunding bonds by Windsor Locks; giving Waterbury 15 days leeway in repaying temporary loans; extending the time for organization of the Danbury mortgage and title company to Jan. 1935; and making it unnecessary for a person rowing a boat for an angler to have a fishing license.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE

Hartford, April 7—(AP)—Senator Alcorn and Reps. Baldwin and John D. Thomas have been named as a special committee of the judiciary committee to draft a bill for control of liquor in the state, according to information secured today.

A special executive session of the judiciary committee held yesterday and it is said that the subcommittee was named at that time. The same committee prepared the bill providing for a convention to consider ratification of the 21st Amendment of repeal prohibition.

The assembly is expected to enact Control legislation before April 25, when the sale of beer and wines will become legal in this state.

ADVERTISEMENTS

SHOPPING NEWS

New Annual
Now that everybody's interested in planting, we are reminded that one of the new annuals which grows easily, requiring practically no care, is the Dwarf Morning Glory. It needs sunshine and will produce plenty of pink, blue and white flowers all summer. It's especially effective near stone benches or fountains.

"It's not a home until it's planted." This is the year to plant at the extremely low prices of Wilson guaranteed "Seal-Kraft" nursery stock sold at the Manchester Neckwear Factory, 130 Center street. At prices decidedly below last year's are their sturdy roses, shrubs, vines, fruit and shade trees, hedge plants, perennials, rock garden plants, evergreens. You won't find better values anywhere. Specials: 3 rose bushes for 42c; evergreens, 50c each.

First Aid for a Burn
When cake is scorched on top or bottom, go over it lightly with a nutmeg grater instead of a knife. This leaves a smoother surface for frosting.

You will find the rates for washing your blankets, quilts and curtains surprisingly inexpensive at the New Model Laundry, where they have every up-to-date facility to aid you with spring house-cleaning. The New Model handles every piece with care. Phone 8072 for rates.

All-silk $1.98 alpine that are superior to the grade usually found at this price are featured at Hale's. One style has a 9-inch hem; another is bias cut with the "shadow-proof" skirt. Both have either the straight or California lace top and adjustable straps. You'll need them for light colored dresses.

Liver Leaf
With the growing popularity of liver, new recipes for its preparation appear constantly. To make a loaf you need:

- 1 lb. liver.
- 1-4 lb. salt pork.
- 20 flake crackers, crumbled.
- 1-2 cups hot stock or water.
- 2 eggs, beaten.
- 1 tbs. onion, minced.
- 1 tsp. poultry seasoning.
- Salt and pepper.
- 1 tbs. butter.

Pan fry salt pork and remove from pan, add liver to fat and sear on both sides. Coarsely grind pork and liver together. Pour hot stock over crumbled crackers. Combine meat, crackers and beaten eggs and season. Shape into a loaf, and dot with butter. Bake in a hot oven (425 F.) 25-30 minutes. 6 portions.

Milkowski, The Florist, makes it possible for all of us to enjoy flowers over the week-end. Beautiful roses are 59c a dozen, two dozen for $1.00.

Just Lemon Drops
A little lemon juice added to pastry will remove the taste of lard and will also make the pastry more flaky.

Mantillas Hooe
A hostery novelty is made with a lace knit that reminds one of the "mantillas" and shawls worn by Spanish ladies. They are promoted for evening and afternoon wear.

BIG SCOUTS RALLY TOMORROW NIGHT
Seven Troops and Two Packs To Take Part in Contests At Armory.

The third annual rally of Manchester District, Boy Scouts of America, will be held in the State Armory here tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock with seven troops and two cub packs participating. The rally is open to the public and the District extends a cordial invitation to all to attend.

The program will open with assembly of all troops, during which the Scout Oath and Laws will be read and the Salute to the flag will be held. Cub Pack 4 will then present an exhibition of callisthenes followed by a game period by cub pack 2. First aid will be demonstrated by Troops 1 and 3. Troop 2 will contribute an act by clowns. A signaling exhibition will be given by Troop 4 and Troop 3 will display its skill at rope work. Troop 5 will also feature a number of clowns and Troop 6 and 7 will present a game period, after which there will be an intermission period. An aviation exhibit will be given by all troops and four troops will combine to give a pioneering display. Troop 1 will build a derrick, Troop 2 a bridge, Troop 4 a tower and Troop 6 a lean-to. Troops 3 and 5 will show a camping scene as the final number of the program. The Trade School orchestra will furnish music.

TO PLAN MEMORIAL DAY OBSERVANCE

Permanent Committee To Meet On April 12—Have $447.90 For Expenses.

The first meeting this year of the Permanent Memorial Day committee will be held in the Municipal building, Wednesday evening, April 12, Charles B. Warren, chairman of the committee announced today. The 1933 budget of Memorial Day expense will be made and committee assignments for the observance will be designated by the following committee chairman: Finance committee, Wilbur Loveland; music, Arthur Keating; transportation, Fred Maitz; dinner, Arthur Loomis; flags, Edward Quish; printing and advertising, E. L. G. Schmitt, Jr.; school children, Paul Dilworth.

PHONE RATES CUT

New Haven, April 7.—(AP)—The S. N. Telephone Company today announced it will reduce the rate for handset telephones from $3 to $1.80 a year. The reduction will be effective with the July bills. There are about 75,000 handsets in use in the state.

3 COMPANIES, BIG CROWD AS BOX 45 IS RUNG

Main and Bissell Streets Alarm Sounded When Automobile Takes Fire.

A bell alarm from Box 45, Main and Bissell street yesterday afternoon at 5:10 brought out three companies of Manchester's fire fighting apparatus for a fire under the hood of a coupe owned by Norman Hill of Bolton, which was parked in front of 11 Manchester Electric Company store. Before the first piece of equipment arrived, Thomas Maxwell, salesman of the Manchester Electric Company had extinguished the fire with a portable extinguisher taken from the store. A large crowd gathered at the scene, as always when a Main street box is rung in.

It's great to feel fit!

Everybody has days when every waking hour is packed with zest of living. Why not make every day like this? A frequent drawback to fitness is constipation. It may dull your energy, steal your appetite, lower your vitality. Yet it is so easy to overcome. Try eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Science shows this delicious cereal supplies "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to promote appetite, and tone the intestinal tract. The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of lettuce. How much easier than taking patent medicines—so often harmful. Two tablespoons daily will correct most types of constipation. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

ALL-BRAN has iron for the blood. At all grocers. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

ROYAL LUNCH

New England's favorite is OVEN-FRESH!

OUT OF THE oven they march. Row after row of Royal Lunch Crackers. Creamy, flaky, fresh! And right into the wax-wrapped packages they go. All their oven-freshness is sealed in. Is it any wonder they are so creamy, so flaky, so flavorful, so fresh when you buy them? Or that they are New England's favorite? Or that most women buy them in the thrifty 1-pound and 2-pound packages? Or that their hungry families call for "more"?

NEW RECIPES FREE! Printed on each package. Most useful. And a whole booklet free. Just write for the latest "Menu Magic." A penny postage will do. Address it to the National Biscuit Company, 449 West 14th Street, New York.

H. S. GRADUATION IN STATE THEATER

Innovation This Year—Exercises To Be Held Friday Morning, June 23.

Plans for the graduation week exercises of the class of 1933 were announced today and for the first time in the history of the school graduation exercises will be held outside of the building. Through the co-operation of Manager Ben Cohen of the State Theater, arrangements have been made to have the graduating program including the presentation of diplomas in the State Theater. This will allow each member of the large class to have at least five tickets, each representing a reserved seat in the auditorium. Otherwise the class members would have had only three tickets each if the exercises were to be held in High school hall. The class now numbers 221 and it is expected that about that number will receive diplomas. This is by far the largest class ever to graduate. Since the theater can only be secured at certain times it has been found necessary to change the time of graduation to Friday morning, June 23, at 10 o'clock. Plans are now being made to have school convene as usual in the morning of this last day and after closing exercises have been held in the High school building, rank cards given out, etc., a graduation parade will be held from the High school to the theater. This will be an interesting event as the class will be wearing the gray caps and gowns which classes for the past five years at the High school have adopted as official garb. The musical clubs and a few fortunate friends of individual seniors will be allowed to attend the exercises in the theater, otherwise undergraduates will have to be content to share in the class day exercises earlier in the week. Howell Cheney, chairman of the Board of Education, has accepted the invitation to present diplomas to the class, a commission which he has filled with much satisfaction to the graduates of many previous classes.

Class Day, which will consist of an outdoor program in the afternoon, will be held on Tuesday if the weather is fair. Otherwise the program will be held indoors on Wednesday afternoon, June 21. Barnard school graduation, similar in many respects to the successful program instituted last January, is planned for Wednesday, June 21, at 1 o'clock. On Tuesday evening the senior class will have the exercises to which only invited guests may attend when the class gifts and prophecies will be presented. Seniors were being measured today for caps and gowns. Photographs for the class book or annual have been called in and will be sent to the engraver on April 15. Mr. Bailey is having many conferences with seniors regarding next year's plans and is pointing out the large number of scholarships which are available for college work.

A number of seniors are getting interested in a proposed trip to New York City. Mr. Quincy has agreed that if ten or more wish to make the trip during the coming week of vacation he or some member of the faculty will accompany the party and arrange for sightseeing and entertainment over a three-day period, going on Monday and returning on Wednesday evening.

Sports Managers Chosen

A special meeting of the Student Council was called yesterday and the following students were elected manager or assistants manager of the respective sport: Manager of football, Francis Barrett; manager of basketball, Collin Johnson; manager of swimming, Ernest Berggren; assistant manager of baseball, Robert Carney; manager, William Brennan; manager of track, Clifford Treat; assistant managers of track, Harry Howroyd, Lennon and Breen.

Miss Blanche Feder, director of physical education for girls and Coach Wilfred J. Clarke, have been attending the sessions of the Eastern Association of Teachers of Physical Education convention in Springfield for the past three days. Mrs. Hugh Greer and Director Frank Busch of the Recreation Centers have been in charge of the gymnasium classes and swimming respectively.

A final dress rehearsal of the entire cast of the oratorio, "The Creation," will be held Sunday at 2 o'clock in High school hall. The assisting artists, Maurice Waller, tenor; Jarle Johnson, bass; Mrs. Elsie B. Gustafson, soprano; Helge Pearson, pianist, together with student pianist, M'Fred Sutherland, will be on hand for this rehearsal. The song the entire score through at a full rehearsal on Thursday at which time also the assisting musicians were present. Director Albert Pearson announced that he was much pleased with the way the rehearsal have been going and predicts an excellent performance next week both on Monday afternoon and Tuesday evening.

HOSPITAL NOTES

EXTENSIVE HOLY WEEK PROGRAM ANNOUNCED

South Methodist Church Series To Extend From Palm Sunday Morning.

An extensive program of services is planned at the South Methodist church for Holy Week. At 10:40 on Palm Sunday morning the pastor, Rev. R. A. Colpitts, will give a "Cross the Way" message; reception of members into full and preparatory membership in the church, and baptism will follow. Music for this service will include Chauvet's Prelude, "Procession"; two anthems, "Forever Worthy Thy Lamb" by Tschalkowsky, and "My King Rode In Through the City Gates" by Baumgartner, and hymns, "All Glory, Laud and Honor," "Dear Lord and Father of Mankind," and "Ride On in Majesty."

Rev. K. E. Erickson of the Epworth League will speak at the 6 o'clock on Sunday evening. At 7 o'clock services Rev. Stanley Helps of Thompsonville will present a series of one hundred pictures of the Passion Play at Oberammergau which he attended two years ago.

On Tuesday evening at 7:30, a Holy Week service for men will be held, at which the pastor will speak. Rev. Theron French will conduct the music and will also serve as soloist.

Mrs. Robert Olson is in charge of the music for the Holy Week services for women at 8 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon. A program of instrumental music and group singing and speakers is planned. The Manchester Young People's Federation will attend this service, and it is planned that the group will leave South church at 4:45 on Friday morning.

A Good Friday Service with Holy Communion will be held on Friday evening at 7:30. Mr. Colpitts will be assisted at this service by Rev. Watson Woodard and Rev. Marvin Stocking. There will also be special musical numbers by the choir under the direction of Mr. Byles. On Sunday, April 16th, at 10:40 at the Easter Day Service the pastor will preach, and the choir will render the appropriate anthems. In the evening at 7:30 the Cecilia club will present a Pageant of the Resurrection, "The Dawning," under the direction of Thomas Maxwell.

MAUNDER'S CANTATA TO BE SUNG AGAIN

Emanuel Lutheran Choir To Be Augmented For "Olivet Calvary" Rendition.

For the eighth consecutive year an augmented choir of the Emanuel Lutheran church will present Maunder's cantata "Olivet Calvary" next Sunday evening—Palm Sunday—at 7 o'clock. A choir of forty-five voices will sing the cantata, assisted by G. Albert Pearson, bass, and Samuel Smith, tenor.

This will be the first public appearance of Mr. Smith as a soloist. He is a member of the Beethoven Glee Club and has been studying under Mr. Pearson for some time. According to reports he is a tenor of promise who will be well received by local music lovers.

The cantata describes the sufferings of Christ from the time of his arrest in the grove of olives until his crucifixion on Calvary. It is a moving and inspiring story and it is expected that the church will be packed Sunday evening. Helge E. Pearson will direct the choir and Miss Eva M. Johnson will be the accompanist.

FINANCIAL NEWS

By AARON COOK

Questions may be submitted to this column. Those questions deemed of group interest shall be treated in articles; those deemed otherwise shall be treated individually. Dial 5961 with questions.

The stock market recorded a fairly good advance yesterday, although closing prices were under the high for the day. The closing was firm, and was very good demand for local stocks and many were considerable higher in price issues. Travelers has been strong with a closing price of 235 bid and 245 asked. Around 1,300,000 shares were traded on the New York Exchange. Commodity prices were moderately firm with wheat gaining 2 cents for September delivery. Spot wheat was the highest recorded since March, 1932. Cotton was also higher. Corn has been repeatedly said, inflationary machinery has been set up in Washington and the actual use of the psychology of having effect will have an effect upon the markets. Selling can come into the market for just so long and sooner or later there is an overvalued condition established, which calls for a turn-about in the market. What is most needed at the present time is an improvement in business due to spring buying. Loadings at present compare favorably with those of last year.

Aetna (Fire) Insurance Company Directors have voted a dividend of 40 cents a share payable April 15, 1933 to stock of record March 27, 1933. Previously the rate was 50 cents a quarter, payable April 1 but due to the lateness of the directors meeting the disbursement is held over to April 15, 1933.

Winthrop W. Aldrich, Chairman and President of the Chase National Bank has formulated a plan to divorce the bank from marketing securities. The plan as presented to the stockholders yesterday involves the liquidation of the Chase National Bank's securities department and the formation of a new Chase Securities Corporation. Aldrich also intends to confine Chase's investment banking to United States Government, Municipal and State obligations. Chase Bank's capital will be reduced to $7,400,000 from $87,000,000 through another reduction in par value from $5.00 to $1.00 per share. Good will will be eliminated from assets through this move. The board of directors shall be reduced also, in conformity with the national banking act.

Brokers believe that the stock market is in a considerably better position and will extend its gain in the near future. The cause being attributed to inflationary tendencies.

Uncle Sam faced a real problem during the financial holiday. Keeping both the banks and the speaking closed at the same time must have been a real job.

PRESIDENT RECEIVES BEER FROM BREWERIES

Two Cases Brought By Airplane From Milwaukee—Long Letter With the Gift.

Washington, April 7.—(AP)—Flown by an airplane, "The Spirit of 32," two cases of beer arrived at the White House today from Milwaukee.

The cases brought the product of seven Milwaukee breweries to President Roosevelt.

The airplane left the Wisconsin city at 11 o'clock this morning. A crowd of curious bystanders assembled at the White House executive offices and inspected the contents of the two cases. Then the brew was solemnly carried to the floors of the White House and turned over to attaches.

With the beer was a long resolution, signed by the brewery companies, the Wisconsin State Hotel Association, the Midwest Airways and several others.

It began "In gratitude to His Excellency, Franklin D. Roosevelt, President of the United States of America," and related "by this single act of expunging from our national statutes onerous restrictions that were contrary to the spirit of a free government, your administration has restored to useful employment thousands of worthy Americans."

The communication ended: "Good health, President Franklin D. Roosevelt. Long life, prosperity, Froost."

F. O. BUSINESS BOOM

Washington, April 7.—(AP)—Business boomed in the Washington post office last month as a result of the banking situation.

A 53.6 per cent increase in receipts over March, 1932, was attributed today by officials to mail shipments of money by the Treasury to supply banks with needed currency.

The capital led a list of 50 selected cities in the rate of gain. Richmond, Virginia, was next with 9.87 per cent.

Receipts here totaled $759,688 compared with $494,030 a year ago. Richmond reported $124,688 against $100,165.

The 50 cities aggregated $24,421,916 compared with $22,559,308 the previous month and $26,676,802 for March, 1932.

MacLELLAN IS BURIED WITH MILITARY HONORS

Officer of Ill-Fated Akron Rests Among Nation's Illustrious Dead in Arlington.

Washington, April 7.—(AP)—Lt. Commander Harold E. MacLellan of Westery, R. I., who lost his life when the Akron fell into the sea during the storm, was buried today among the nation's illustrious dead in Arlington National Cemetery.

High officers of the Army and Navy joined in a tribute to the officer whose body was the only one recovered after the disaster. Mrs. Ella MacLellan, the lieutenant's mother, came from Westery with relatives to attend the services.

It was at her request that her son was accorded a military funeral and buried in the cemetery overlooking the broad Potomac.

The simple ritual was conducted by Captain Sidney K. Evans, a Naval chaplain, after which taps were sounded and a firing squad fired three volleys.

Six fellow officers served as lieutenant's pallbearers. They were Lieutenants E. D. Gibb, M. C. Lewis, A. T. Meen, H. S. Kendall, M. R. Browning and J. W. Fowler.

RIVER IS RISING

Hartford, April 7.—(AP)—A flood warning was given out by the Weather Bureau at Hartford as the Connecticut river went over the so-called flood stage this morning. The reading at ten o'clock showed that the rising water had reached 16.1 feet, a one-foot flood level.

"A light rain and melting snow will cause a gradual rise of the Connecticut river during the next 24 hours, approaching flood stages at places in the lower valley," the warning read.

The river has risen 6 of a foot since yesterday, the official gauge showing 15.5 feet yesterday morning.

THE MIDGET MAN

Man. "Why not all come to my house? There is really room galore."

"I guess you will not mind at all that my own home is rather small, and that you 'Tymmites' will have to sleep upon the floor."

"Of course not," answered Copy. "Gee, most any place appeals to me, just so I get a dandy moose before another day."

"It drifted right off when stretched out flat. In fact, I like to sleep like that. We'll follow you right to your home, if you will lead the way."

So Mister Midget Man set out. The Tymmites trailed along. In about five minutes they had reached the house. It made the whole bunch grin. "Gee, it's a nice place."

Scouty cried, "Till bet it's nicer still inside." The Midget then opened up the door and said, "Walk in!"

(Some new midget animals appear in the next story.)

SENSE AND NONSENSE

A certain wholesaler who had a lot of trouble in getting a certain small-town retail client to pay his bills finally lost patience and wrote the merchant a threatening letter. He received the following reply: "Dear Sir: What do you mean by sending me a letter like that? Every month I place all my bills in a basket and then figure out how much money I have to pay on my accounts. Next, I blindfold my book-keeper and have her draw out as many bills from the basket as I have money to pay. If you don't like my way of doing business I won't even put your bills in the basket."

Some people are making such thorough preparations for rainy days that they aren't enjoying today's sunshine.

The watermelon is said to be a member of the cucurbit family. May not be true but occasionally one can be found that tastes that way.

A well-known writer visited a jail to take notes for an article on prison life. On returning home he described what he had seen, and his description made a deep impression on the mind of his little daughter. A week later the writer and his little girl were in a train which stopped at a station near a gloomy building. "What is that place?" asked a passenger. "The county jail," another answered promptly. Whereupon Mary embarrassed her father and aroused the suspicion of the other passengers by asking in a loud, shrill voice: "Is that the jail you were in, Daddy?"

Two small girls were playing together one afternoon at the home of one of the girls. "I wonder what time it is?" said one of them at last. "Well, it can't be 4 o'clock yet," replied the other with magnificent logic, "because my mother said I was to be home at 4—and I'm not."

Far too many persons have the unhappy faculty of finding out things that are none of their business.

The president of a certain gas company was making a stirring address before the community meeting.

"Think of the good the gas company has done," he cried. "If I were permitted a pun, should say 'Honor the Light Brigade.'" And a customer immediately shouted: "Oh, what a charge they made!"

Considering all the smart accountants and all the glass-eyed bankers in the world, it seems queer that nobody caught on to Ivar Krueger until he was in the Lole $225,000,000.

We just heard of a famous double-barreled "bull" made by a printer on The Brushville Bugle. The printer transposed a "battle-scarred veteran" into a "bottle-scarred veteran," and when called on by the frate colonel, next day, to correct it, made matters ten times worse by referring to the victim as a "bottle-scarred veteran."

A grammar school student was given a question in a math examination paper: "If 20 men reap a field in 8 hours, how long will it take 15 men to reap the same field?" The student thought long and carefully before writing the answer, and when he handed in his paper this is what his teacher read: "The field having been reaped by the 20 men could not be reaped by the 15!"

What this country needs is for no one to spend more than he can afford and then some kind of arrangement whereby everyone can afford a lot.

The prize bull-dog attacked a farmer who defended himself with a pitchfork and in doing so killed the dog. The owner of the dog was greatly distressed and approached the farmer.

Owner of the Dog—Why didn't you use the other end, and just beat him off without killing him?

Farmer—I would have, if he had come at me with the other end.

We dislike lecturers who conceal their manuscript, thus preventing us from knowing how much longer we'll have to keep quiet.
