1,500 HOMELESS; FLAMES SWEEP CITY IN MAINE

Over 200 Buildings Destroyed in Second Large Fire in State in Little More Than a Week.

Auburn, Maine, May 15.—(AP)—Sunrise today found New Auburn, suburban section of this city, a smoldering ruin, devastated by fire which in less than five hours consumed more than 200 buildings and made 1,500 or more persons homeless.

It was Maine's second conflagration in a little more than a week. A large part of the city of Ellsworth was destroyed a week ago Sunday night by a $2,000,000 fire of incendiary origin.

Officials scouted reports that Auburn's calamitous blaze which broke out yesterday, was the work of a fire bug. City Manager Frederick W. Ford spoke of reports of an explosion preceding the outbreak of flames and said he believed an oil or gasoline blast in the garage where the fire originated was responsible for the conflagration.

Checking the Loss

Through the night city assessors and fire underwriters worked in the glare of still flaming ruins to check the extent of the loss. Manager Ford said 281 buildings of all kinds had been destroyed. The number of homeless he placed at more than 1,500.

Starting in a Tenement District

Close by the bank of the Androscoggin river, the fire was spread with tremendous rapidity by a northeast wind of 30 to 40 mile velocity.

Strong enough to whip white caps

along the river surface, the highest temperature of blazing material over an area roughly two miles long and a half mile wide.

School Children Flee

A public school, the Wilson school, remote from the center where the fire raged, escaped, although many into flames. Its pupils had been dismissed 20 minutes earlier.

Gravestone, Oak Hill cemetery,

provided the final barrier against the progress of the fire.

Relief agencies moved speedily on the scene, inhabited principally by families of French extraction.

Four companies of the National Guard

surrounded the devastated section and patrolled its streets.

Red Cross stations sprang up before the flames had had half their course. Food and shelter havens were set up in the armory, churches, the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A.

Red Cross officials who had been at

Ellsworth directing relief work in that stricken city, rushed here to take charge of the new emergency.

Relief directors said slightly more than one quarter of the estimated fire victims had registered at relief headquarters. The rest was assumed to have found shelter with friends and relatives.

Possibilities of Compromise South of Great Wall by Forces Fighting There.

By ASSOCIATED PRESS.

The possibility of a cessation of Japanese hostilities south of the Great Wall in China, as the result of a Chinese-Japanese compromise is seen at Tientsin following a change in political conditions.

Arrival in the north of General Hwang Fu, representative of the National government at Nanking, in conjunction with a statement Monday of Field Marshal Nobuyoshi Muto, Japanese military head in Manchuria, is interpreted as evidence of the compromise.

The Japanese will withdraw, Marshal Muto said, as soon as Chinese troops leave the Great Wall.

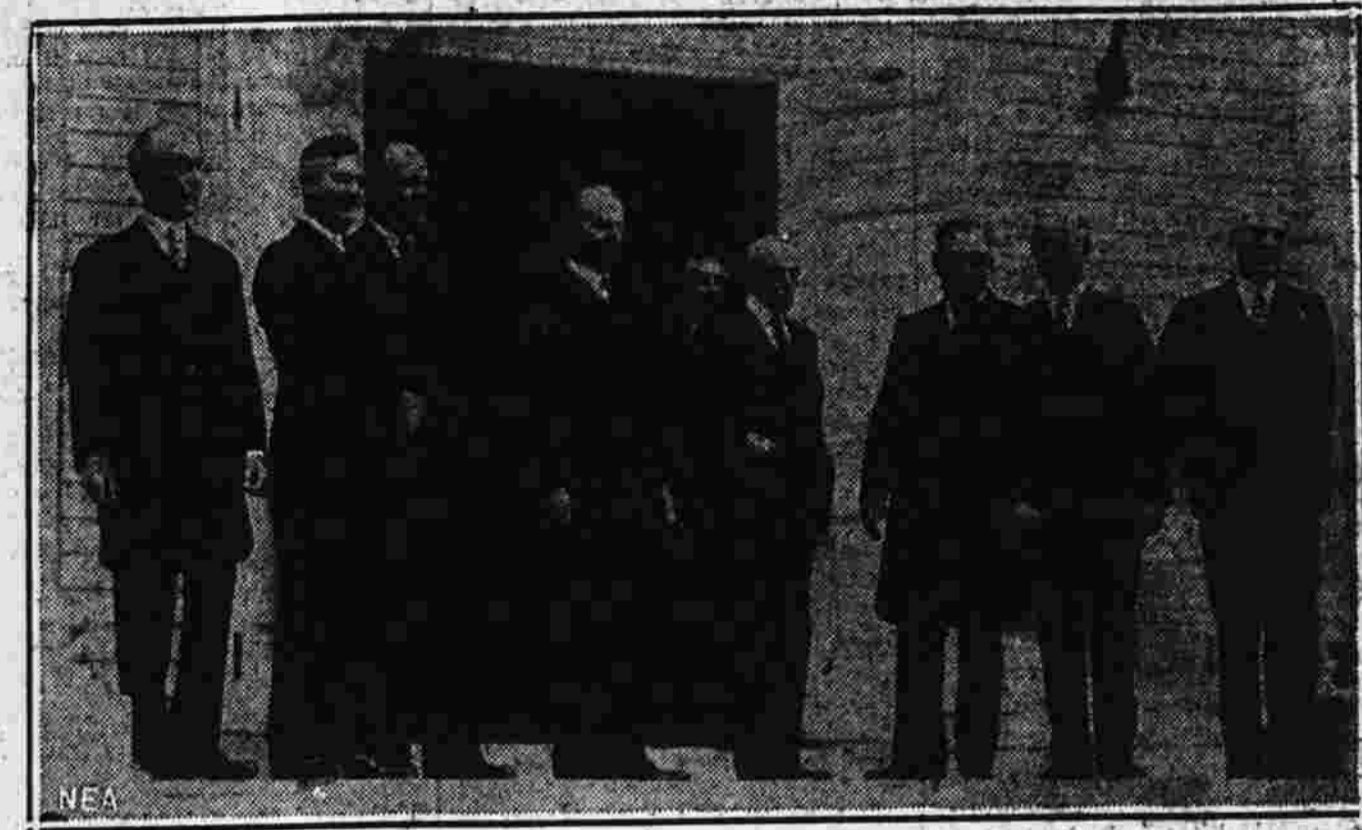

Hwang, believed friendly toward Japan, ostensibly is slated as Nanking minister to North China.

More than 70 American children are evacuating the North China American school at Tientsin, conducted by the American Board of Missions. The United States Legation advised evacuation of the town, 15 miles east of Peking, after rumors the Japanese intend to occupy it.

Rango (Japanese) News Agency

reports that of the occupation of Tientsin by the 14th Infantry Brigade of Major General Hajiro Hirono, who continues westward, meeting of resistance.

MITCHELL TRIAL STARTS AS THE JURY IS CHOSEN

Former National City Bank Official is Charged With Defrauding Government Out of $850,000 in Taxes.

New York, May 15.—(AP)—Charles E. Mitchell, former chairman of the National City Bank, was charged in Federal Court today with having defrauded the government of $850,000, based on an income of more than $4,000,000 by spurious sales of securities.

In his opening address to the jury Mitchell admitted that he had proposed a world, non-aggression pact "because it has become increasingly evident that the assurance of world political and economic peace and stability is threatened by selfish and shortsighted policies, actions and threats of nations."

Notifying an enthusiastic Congress of his direct message that had gone to 64 world leaders early in the morning, the President declared the overwhelming majority of the nations "faced the danger of recalcitrant obstruction by a very small minority."

"It is high time for us and for every other nation," he said, "to understand the simple facts that the invasion of any nation, or the destruction of a national sovereignty, can be prevented only by the complete elimination of the weapons that make such a course possible today."

FRISCO AWAKENED BY EARTHQUAKES

Two Shocks Felt But No Serious Damage — Many Rush to the Streets.

San Francisco, May 15.—(AP)—A strong earthquake shook San Francisco at 3:45 o'clock this morning.

There were two shocks, one immediately succeeding the other and being about three times as strong as the first. No damage was immediately reported.

The quake awakened residents throughout the San Francisco Bay area. Many people in the Sunset district of San Francisco deserted their homes for the streets.

In San Francisco, Stockton, 75 miles to the east, and towns down the San Francisco peninsula furniture was shaken sleepers were awakened to the sound of the rattle of the quakes, creating drawers and rattling windows.

Street lights in Santa Rosa, 50 miles north of San Francisco, were extinguished by the shock.

F. A. Ryer, associate professor of seismology of the University of California at Berkeley, termed the shock a "minor one" and said he felt certain its center was some distance from San Francisco. He had not looked at the seismograph record.

In Oakland the shock was described by old residents as "the worst in years."

A few windows were broken in San Francisco.

The quake precipitated a flood of telephone calls from every corner of the bay area.

ROOSEVELT CALLS ON WORLD TO UNITE ON PEACE PROGRAM

Here Is The Full Text Of Roosevelt Message

Washington, May 15.—(AP)—The text of President Roosevelt's message to the heads of the nations participating in the world economic and disarmament conference follows:

"A profound hope of the people of my country impels me, as the head of their government, to address you and, through you, the people of your nation. This hope is that peace may be assured through practical measures of disarmament and that all of us may carry to victory our common struggle against economic chaos.

"To these ends the nations have called two great world conferences. The happiness, the prosperity, and the very lives of the men, women and children who inhabit the whole world are bound up in the decisions which their governments will make in the near future. The improvement of social conditions, the preservation of peace, the well-being of the world are bound up in the decisions which their governments will make in the near future. ## U. S. STATESMEN HOPE FOR PARLEY'S SUCCESS

All Eyes Turned Toward London Where Three Score Nations Will Talk on Economic Subjects.

Washington, May 15.—(AP)—Hopes mingled with, but outweighed by fears today as Washington surveyed the prospects of success at the gathering of spokesmen from three score nations just 28 days hence under the common roof of the London economic conference.

The best wishes of the people of the world as a whole literally will be directed that day toward a bright new building erected on the heights of London.

The report as submitted today states that the bill "but did contain a substantial number of state departments and institutions. The method has been to classify positions from information obtained from the heads of these departments, subject the classifications to the department heads for their approval. Today's report to the finance board is understood to be all those which have been so treated and are practically ready for final approval. The classification of the remaining departments is proceeding rapidly, it is stated. In connection with the salary reduction question, the attorney general today was expected to submit an opinion as to whether, under the provisions of the salary reduction bill, the State Board of Finance and Control will have the power, when business conditions improve, to restore salaries to their original status.

It is reported that the attorney general is in accord with some members of the Board of Finance and Control, holding that reductions in salaries, by the provisions of the bill, are not for the period of the economic depression, as has been originally planned, and the board has no power to effect a change when business conditions improve.

Plan Another Bill
Two weeks ago this situation was discussed at a board meeting and the attorney general was asked for an opinion which was today presented, and the outcome is expected to be the submission of another bill tending to give force to the temporary arrangements originally planned.

Also included in the questions propounded to the attorney general.

RIVERS IN SOUTH AGAIN AT FLOOD

New Torrent of Water Sweeps Banks Leaving 17 Dead in Its Wake.

Memphis, Tenn., May 15.—(AP)—A new torrent of water swept southward today, leaving at least 17 dead and heavy property damage in the upper reaches of my watershed and new anxiety along tributary streams in Mississippi, Arkansas, Tennessee and southeast Missouri.

Two deaths were reported in Missouri yesterday. Fifteen other deaths were reported to floods in the upper Ohio river basin.

As practically all streams continued their rapid rise today, Missouri National Guardsmen patrolled levees on the Black and St. Francis rivers and farmers and engineers in Mississippi and Arkansas continued their battles to keep tributary levees intact.

Meanwhile the Mississippi river rose steadily and Meteorologist F. W. Best expressed little doubt the big stream would go above flood stage for the second time at Memphis.

FRANK ASSERTIONS FEATURE MESSAGE

President Urges Foreign Potentates to Abandon Offensive Weapons and Forget Petty National Aims—Message Causes Diplomatic Sensation—Interpreted as Plain Speaking to Germany and Reference to Invasion Believed Aimed at Japan—"If Any Strong Nation Refuses to Join" in Efforts to Make Peace "Civilized" World Will Know Where Responsibility for Failure Lies," He Writes.

Washington, May 15.—(AP)—President Roosevelt asked the world today to give up offensive weapons of war and unite for peace and economic recovery.

In a message immediately interpreted on Capitol Hill as constituting particularly plain speaking to Germany, the President admonished all foreign potentates to give up "petty" national aims, or the civilized world would know where to place the blame.

Dispatched unannounced to 54 foreign potentates just over the eve of Adolf Hitler's expected pronouncement of German policy, the message was a diplomatic sensation of first magnitude.

It proposed that no armed forces whatsoever, should be maintained except for the purpose of maintaining peace, and that no nation should be permitted to possess offensive weapons.

The message was interpreted as a direct appeal to the nations to give up their arms and unite for peace and economic recovery.

It laid down the doctrine of non-invasion as broadly as to preclude by implication further United States Marine incursions into Latin America.

It called specifically for success of the Geneva arms conference, and proposed a later conference to carry further the work begun there.

A copy of the message was prepared for its submission to Congress for its information and administration Congressional leaders at once hailed it as an epochal step of leadership for peace.

PRESIDENT'S APPEAL

Washington, May 15.—(AP)—President Roosevelt appealed to the rulers of the nations today to reduce armaments, eliminate the weapons of aggression, refrain from sending any armed forces whatsoever beyond their own borders, forget "petty" national aims, and join sincerely to assure peace and economic recovery.

In a plain-speaking message, without diplomatic precedent, the President asked for specific steps by American, British and other nations to reduce armaments, the civilized world would "know where the responsibility for failure lies."

He mentioned no nation by name but his words rang through the diplomatic world with dramatic significance at a moment when certain leaders in Germany are seeking for greater armaments, when Japanese troops are marching deeper into the territory of China, and when other peoples are suspected of harboring aspirations to acquire new territory by force.

For the United States, the plain words of the declaration point to abstention from further incursions by American troops into any Latin American country. They hint at a status quo with respect to the American forces now stationed by treaty in portions of China.

An immediate goal, the President asked success for the Geneva arms conference and the economic conference soon to meet in London.

A specific aim to reduce the armaments of France, stabilize those of Germany, and set up a committee to promote peace.

Agreement upon the time and place of a later conference to carry these steps still further.

An agreement meantime that no nation shall increase its armaments.

As a promise by all nations, the President said, that no nation shall increase its armaments.

As a promise by all nations, the President said, that no nation shall increase its armaments.

HEART OF MESSAGE SENT BY PRESIDENT

Washington, May 15.—(AP)—The heart of the Roosevelt message to the world proposed:

"That all the nations of the world should enter into a solemn and definite pact of non-aggression."

"That they should solemnly reaffirm the obligations they have assumed to limit and reduce their armaments, and, provided these obligations are faithfully executed by all signatory powers, individually agree that they will send no armed force of whatsoever nature across their frontiers."

250 ATTEND STATE MEETING OF W. B. A.

Local Review is Hostess to Organization of, for and by Women.

Upwards of 250 delegates and members of the Woman's Benefit Association of the state gathered this forenoon in Odd Fellows hall, with Mystic Review, No. 2, of this town, one of the first organized in the state, as hostess. Managing Deputy Mrs. Ethel Cowen, a past president of the local review, presided at the session and introduced President Edward J. Murphy of the Manchester Chamber of Commerce, who expressed his pleasure at being selected to assist the welfare of the town. He feelingly spoke of the enjoyment his mother, the late Mrs. John Murphy, derived from her years of membership in the fraternity. It was practically the only outside interest she had in addition to her family and her home.

He lauded the progress that had been made through the years by this women's organization for women, and managed solely by women, and attributed its success largely to the extraordinary executive ability of the woman who instituted it, Mrs. Elna M. West Miller, one of the outstanding women of the country in business and politics. Mr. Murphy extended his good wishes for the future prosperity of the order.

Other noted guests at the morning session were Mrs. Grace Oliver Best of Hartford, formerly of this town, state field director, and Mrs. Lottie Jordan, a managing deputy from Maine. Mrs. Best was formally escorted into the lodge hall by five little Juniors, under the leadership of Eleanor Vincek who carried a basket of flowers and presented them to Mrs. Best in behalf of the review. The other children, all attired in crepe paper dresses in pastel shades, resembled flowers, and preceded the field director, straggling flowers in her pathway.

The other four little flower girls were Vivian Stecher, Ethel Meacham, Mary Elyand and Shirley Fahay. Both halls were thrown into one and profusely decorated with palms, lilies and other spring flowers, and crepe streamers in pastel shades.

Ascending Reviews Reviews represented up to noon included Harriet Beecher Stowe No. 1, first in the state; Emily Morgan, also of Hartford. Other towns sending smaller delegations included New Haven, Waterbury, Torrington.

"RED" RECOGNITION BROUGHT TO FRONT

Washington Wonders What Effect President's Note to Soviet Will Have.

Washington, May 16.—(AP)—Amidst increasing controversy over President Roosevelt's having included Soviet Russia among the nations to which he addressed today's arms message, Senator Robinson—the Democratic leader—has issued a statement that the act may have the effect of recognizing the Soviet government.

Commenting on the fact that the Executive's message was addressed to Russia, as well as other leading nations of the world, Robinson said: "Whether it is the intention of our Chief Executive in sending the message to the head of the Russian government to recognize the existence of that government does not appear on the face of the document; but the action of the President in sending the communication to President Kalinin, particularly in view of implied acknowledgment of conversational relations, it appears to me, may have that effect."

The attitude in official quarters was in effect that communicating with Russia in this case not only did not constitute recognition but also was not to be considered a step toward recognition.

The cablegram is not the first communication to pass between Washington and Moscow under the Soviet.

President Wilson sent a message to Jacob Sverdloff, Kalinin's predecessor, in 1918 concerning the negotiations which Soviet Russia was making at Brest-Litovsk for separate peace with Germany.

In 1921 and 1923 letters were sent to Presidents Harding and Coolidge by the Soviet foreign minister concerning American recognition.

Replies were made through public statements delivered to Soviet representatives at Reval, Estonia.

PRESIDENT URGES NEW WORLD TREATY

Congress I am sending herewith a message I have addressed this morning to the sovereigns and presidents of those nations participating in the disarmament conference and the world monetary and economic conference.

I am impelled by this action because it has become increasingly evident that the assurance of world political and economic peace and stability is threatened by selfish and shortsighted policies, actions and threats of actions.

"The sincere wish for this assurance of an overwhelming majority of the nations faces the danger of recalcitrant obstruction by a very small minority, just as in the domestic field the good purposes of a majority in business, labor or in other co-operative efforts are often frustrated by a selfish few."

"The deep rooted desire of Americans for better living conditions and for the avoidance of war is shared by mass humanity in every country."

"As a means to this end, I have in the message to the various nations, stressed the practical necessity of reducing armaments."

"It is high time for us and for every other nation to understand the simple fact that the invasion of any nation, or the destruction of a national sovereignty, can be prevented only by the complete elimination of the weapons that make such a course possible today."

"Such an elimination will make the little nation relatively more secure against the great nation."

"Furthermore, permanent defenses are a non-recurring charge against governmental budgets while large armies, continually re-armed with improved offensive weapons, constitute a recurring charge. This more than any other factor today is responsible for governmental deficits and threatened bankruptcy."

"The way to disarm is to disarm. The way to prevent invasion is to make it impossible."

"I have asked for an agreement

TOWN IS THREATENED BY BIG FOREST FIRE

Tremont, Maine, May 16.—(AP)—The town of a little less than eight thousand population was threatened by fire today as a forest fire broke through and set off the Congregational church and an unoccupied residence.

Flames from Bar Harbor, Southwest Harbor aided by sporadic volunteers were unable to stop the flames as the wind veered shortly after noon.

Twenty other dwellings were in the danger zone.

It was low tide and the flames were able to lay but one line of logs in their battle to halt the fire.

Tremont is 25 miles south of Southwest Harbor where the flames broke through the forest.

Yesterday the flames were kept under control by water pumped from the coast, but the low tide forced abandonment of all but the one line this noon.

WYOMING VOTES WET

Cheyenne, Wyo., May 16.—(AP)—Mounting totals pointed today to overwhelming sentiment for repeal of the 18th amendment in the Wyoming precinct convention held yesterday.

The results appeared to have small minority, just as in the domestic field the good purposes of a majority in business, labor or in other co-operative efforts are often frustrated by a selfish few.

"The deep rooted desire of Americans for better living conditions and for the avoidance of war is shared by mass humanity in every country."

"As a means to this end, I have in the message to the various nations, stressed the practical necessity of reducing armaments."

"It is high time for us and for every other nation to understand the simple fact that the invasion of any nation, or the destruction of a national sovereignty, can be prevented only by the complete elimination of the weapons that make such a course possible today."

"Such an elimination will make the little nation relatively more secure against the great nation."

"Furthermore, permanent defenses are a non-recurring charge against governmental budgets while large armies, continually re-armed with improved offensive weapons, constitute a recurring charge. This more than any other factor today is responsible for governmental deficits and threatened bankruptcy."

GOVERNOR CROSS ANNOUNCES

Assembly Leaders to Parley This Afternoon.

Hartford, May 16.—(AP)—Governor W. L. Cross called legislative leaders and state officials for a second conference today to consider what steps Connecticut should take to bring relief to financially distressed communities and their unemployed citizens.

The appointment of a receiver for the unemployment commission would also be included in the group of measures.

The relief problem, one of the major issues before the General Assembly was discussed last week by the Governor with a group of officials.

No talking was given as to what program will be recommended to the Legislature. It has been proposed in some quarters that the General Assembly enact a law authorizing towns to borrow beyond the present limit of five per cent of their grand list for relief purposes.

This plan also proposes to give some designated state officials the power to seek for the appointment of a receiver for towns which appear unable to meet their financial duties.

The receiver would be given broad powers to effect economies.

In lieu of such a program, Legislators pointed out the state would be required to abandon its pay-as-you-go policy by issuing relief bonds, or impose new taxes to augment revenues.

FOREST RECRUITS OF STATE CALLED

Unexpected Orders from Washington Calls Out Balance of the Quota.

New Haven, May 16.—(AP)—The entire balance of Connecticut's forestation quota has just been authorized by Federal authorities, according to James W. Hook, state director of enrollment, who received orders from Washington, today to have all forest recruits report to Fort H. G. Wright, before June 1, with the first quota of 641 already enrolled, this leaves a total of 2,609 young men yet to be enrolled in Connecticut communities and sent to Fort Wright.

Further orders have been received that every man of the state quota be at work in the forest camps by July 1, while all applicants for the work must be certified by the State unemployment commission by June 1. This latter work is already well along toward completion, with very few young men yet to be informed of their eligibility.

The first effect of these orders will be the calling of scores of young men to army recruiting stations here and in Hartford early tomorrow. It is understood the New Haven recruiting station is ready to handle about 100 recruits a day; the Hartford office slightly less, while some recruits will be sent to New London for registration.

State Forester Austin F. Hawes yesterday went over the ground of his camps with army officers and that all 12 of his proposed campsites it is indicated, were officially approved. While it is not known definitely when and where the first camp will be set up, it is known that a special unit of about 70 forest recruits is being held at Fort Wright, for the specific purpose of building camps. The camp which Hawes hopes to begin first is to be known as Camp Roosevelt and will be on the Cockaponset forest near Killingworth.

The order authorizing the entire balance of the state's C. C. C. quota was unexpected here. It may force personnel at Fort Wright to work over time for the next month. On the last quota one morning train and two afternoon trains were used in getting boys from New Haven to New London. This arrangement resulted in getting boys to Fort Wright so late that examinations could often not be concluded until midnight. It is therefore expected that the boys will be sent in the forenoon and early afternoon.

There is a call for shipment of 16 trained foresters a day, an order State officers expect to have some difficulty in filling.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

Older Girls' Conference A group of fourteen girls from Manchester high school attended the fourteenth annual High School girls conference held in West Hartford at the First Church of Christ on Friday and Saturday.

A banquet in the evening was unique in that each speaker spoke on the hobby which particularly interested her. Miss Eleanor Huebner of Manchester was among the speakers and talked on her hobby "Airliners." Miss Huebner has an interesting collection of model planes many of which were on exhibition at the conference. Miss Barbara Quimby, a freshman in Manchester High, was elected secretary for next year's conference. A two-day conference is planned for next May with a one day reunion at the Y. M. C. A. in Hartford during the coming winter if it can be arranged.

Group Pictures Yesterday morning and afternoon the photographers were kept pretty busy taking group photos for the busy Supt. Year Book which will be issued the last week of school in June. Sports were taken in the morning and organizations in the afternoon. The senior class total of 222, crowded over the steps onto the lawn and several boys had to sit in the windows in order that the student group could appear compact enough. Girls' athletics will occupy a larger space than usual in the year book this year, several new organizations having been formed.

Principal Quimby today received a card from Harvard University which announced that Theodore Arthur Lippin, former graduate of M. H. S. and a junior in college, was awarded his "H" for junior varsity football.

Anthony Obrigt played a xylophone solo at the Middletown C. C. L. L. musical show this afternoon.

WARSHIPS AT HALIFAX

Halifax, N. S., May 16.—(AP)—Four Italian naval vessels were saluted in Halifax harbor today as they arrived to refuel before proceeding northward to act as convoys for 20 Fascist airplanes that will cross the Atlantic late this month or early in June enroute to Chicago.

Two submarines and two sloops which left Boston on Sunday entered Halifax harbor shortly after noon today. Their next port of call will be St. John's, Nfld., where three Italian airplanes now are awaiting favorable weather to fly to Cartwright, Labrador, to establish a supply base for the air armada.

Leaving Orbetello, 60 miles from Rome, May 24, the Fascist planes will cross the Atlantic by the northern route and proceed to the World's Fair at Chicago.

ASK EXTENSION

Washington, May 16.—(AP)—Comfortably lodged in the government camp at Fort Hunt, Virginia, a delegation representing the nearly 2,000 veterans, visited the White House today to ask an extension of time for their convention, which is to end Thursday.

George Brady, leader of the delegation, said many of the representatives due at the meeting, which is to urge payment of the bonus, had been unable to reach the encampment and additional time should be given them. He talked with Louis M. Howe, the President's secretary, and was to see him again, no decision having been reached at his preliminary talk with Howe.

GANDHI SLEEPS WELL

Poona, India, May 16.—(AP)—After eight days of his three weeks fast in protest of "untouchability" the Mahatma Gandhi today was pronounced in excellent condition. He is sleeping well and his pulse was strong. He now weighs 91½ pounds, having lost a pound and half daily since he began the ordeal.

CLEAN TAVERNS

New Haven, May 16.—(AP)—The advent of 3.2 per cent beer as a beverage obtainable in restaurants, taverns, and many other places has brought responsibilities to the dispensers.

Health department inspectors are calling attention to city ordinances which require sterilization of cups, glasses and other utensils, which will be brought into use with service of beer. Attention also must be given to cleanliness in serving of food with beer.

NEW SALES TAXES CAUSE DEBATES

Stormy Fights Seen in Congress When Public Works Bill Comes Up.

Washington, May 16.—(AP)—A stormy fight in Congress over new taxes to finance the government's $3,800,000 public building program was indicated today.

Powerful opposition already shaped against proposals for a general sales tax led to the belief that such a levy would meet with almost certain defeat.

However, the problem is one for Congress to settle. President Roosevelt will send up his message on public works-industrial control tomorrow. It will suggest several methods of taxation, but he will not recommend any particular one.

After White House conference, one Democratic leader said: "The House will not pass a sales tax and from the attitude taken by leaders of the ways and means committee, there is little likelihood that the committee will recommend such a levy."

The House decisively rejected the sales tax two years ago. The committee of Congressional and industrial chiefs which drafted the measure, suggested a "re-employment tax" of one to two per cent on all sales of industry. The new taxes are needed to raise $200,000,000 annually to finance interest and amortization charges on the $3,800,000,000 bond issue. Some of the alternative taxes which are to be advanced include an increase in the present one-cent Federal gasoline tax; a sales levy on coffee, tea, bananas, peppers and salt; a tax on stock dividends; and a reduction in the income tax exemptions from the present $2500 allowed married and the $1,000 allowed single persons.

Mr. Roosevelt was represented as determined to press the measure to enactment at this session. It will be introduced in the House first. Wrens often change mates between broods.

BELIEVE CHICAGO THUG KILLED IN NIGHT CLUB

Police Find Bloodstains and Belcastro's Hat in One Place Visited.

Chicago, May 16.—(AP)—Police looked into two night clubs, seized eight suspects and today said they were on the trail of the solution of the slaying of Rocco Belcastro, 28-year-old hoodlum, identified as the killer of Francis Holbrook, division circulation manager of a newspaper.

A theory that Belcastro's death at the hands of a bootlegging pal, Charles Kunowaki, one of the suspects held, was developed by Assistant Chief of Detectives William Blau, but later police said 10 witnesses failed to identify Kunowaki. While touring night clubs known to have been frequented by the slain man, police said they found blood stains in front of the Oakley Cafe and that inside a hat was identified as Belcastro's. They said a physician admitted having been called to the place early yesterday to attend a man, but denied it was Belcastro.

LATEST STOCKS

New York, May 16.—(AP)—The Stock Market threw off its reaction any tendency today, and pushed ahead, once more, at the expense of shorts who had sold in anticipation of a sharp reaction.

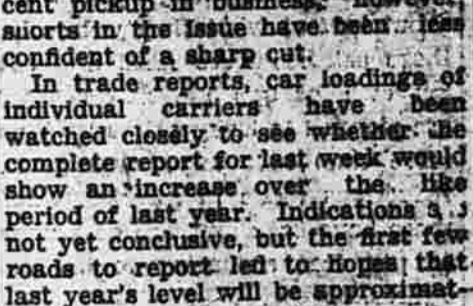

American Telephone was a leader, as shorts covered in advance of tomorrow's dividend meeting, and non-ferrous metals, sugars and miscellaneous industrials made substantial progress, with several advances of 1 to 4 points. Commodities were somewhat reactionary early but wheat stiffened after a sag of about a cent, and cotton fully recovered a moderate early setback.

Issues up about 2 to 4 points included American Smelting, American Sugar, American Telephone, Allied Chemical, U. S. Smelting, Union Pacific, National Distillers, and a few others.

PLAN NEW INDUSTRY

Their names were not divulged for business reasons, but the offer is considered a bona fide one and was favorably acted upon.

The people of this state know that although the much power has been assigned to the state board of education, that under the present cost of the public schools and advanced again and again out of all proportion to the improvement in educational results. They would be most anxious to create what may be called a state board of education, and still more extensive educational authority without the usual opportunity to examine the plan and to suggest all the possibilities.

If the General Assembly has the interests of the state at heart it will not allow any such measure as the bill to be introduced through as an element of its program. If the advocates can prove that it is a thing that will be for the benefit of the state as a whole, it is not certain that it is not time to do it.

Senator Hamilton F. Kimball of New Jersey objects to the provision in the pending federal securities bill which would require directors of companies to sign statements concerning the affairs of their corporations and which would make them civilly liable for losses by stockholders.

Nobody, the senator argued, would want to be a director if he were not to lose his shirt because some company about whose inner affairs he knew very little should go into a collapse.

That may be true; and the result might well be that directors would be extremely cautious to know just what their companies were doing, which would be a very fine thing indeed. We have had enough of dummy directors in the last few years; if the new law would induce directors really to direct, we should all be better off.

Queer Twists In Day's News

Omaha, Neb.—Dr. C. O. Simpson says he laments the social decline of the toothpick.

Dr. Simpson, professor of radiology at Washington U., St. Louis, spoke at the Nebraska State Dental Society convention.

"Hardy pioneers poked their teeth with bowie knives. The elite of the '80's carried gold toothpicks, and within the last 20 years toothpicks were quite generally served in homes and at public eating places."

"Now they are confined to primitive rural communities, restaurants and dining cars," he said.

The proper manipulation of a toothpick, he said, can be extremely beneficial.

THEATERS

ALL THE SHOWS

Managers of the State Theater on Wednesday evening show Ramon Novarro riding a steaming locomotive in "The Barbarian" with Myrtle Loy and Kenneth Denny.

Leading attractions tonight are "A Bedtime Story" and "The Troop." "The Barbarian" is the type of picture that made Novarro a big name in the picture business.

On the stage Wednesday night the State will offer another great "Professional" variety show.

For several weeks these variety shows have been down hill and each week the performance has improved. Last week a splendid dinner show had won the top dancing championship of the world in Madison Square Garden appeared as an act and the audience didn't let him get off until he had done six dozen dances.

There will be four or five acts with a master of ceremonies and Fred Warner will be at the piano.

The Novarro picture follows all the best traditions of desert drama its story making the most of several melodramatic and romantic incidents. It differs however in its decidedly different and comic central situation which introduces a character new to pictures, a phylandering young Egyptian guide.

This racial side that his good looks pay exceedingly well as he takes impressive women for a view of the Pyramids.

"The Barbarian" was directed by Sam Wood who has permeated it with the same fresh humor which made his Marie Dressler talkies so popular.

MANCHESTER PARLEY

Hartford, May 16.—(AP)—The London of foreign financiers and the standard committee have been invited by the Reichsbank to a conference here May 28 to discuss the transfer (foreign exchange) problem.

Germany aims at obtaining a foreign exchange surplus from the conference, a survey of financial experts says. The nation also expects to assist that program by the world economic conference by not burdening the London negotiations with tangled currency problems.

The gold and foreign exchange backing of the Reichsbank, which dropped to $20,000,000 months ago, is being replenished by calling the conference in order to decide with foreign private creditors on some form of transfer revision. The Reichsbank is determined to persuade these creditors to accept repayments only partially in gold or foreign exchange.

Financial circles seem confident of finding the creditors willing to reduce high interest obligations, which are described as seriously hindering the German importation business.

FAVORABLE REPORT ON BRANCH BANKS

Bill Before Senate Would Enable Certain Banks to Have Branches.

Hartford, May 16.—(AP)—A bill permitting branch banking in the state, one of the major pieces of proposed legislation before the General Assembly, was reported favorably today to the Senate.

The measure, approved by the committee on banks, authorizes a state bank or trust company having combined surplus and capital of $1,000,000 to establish one or more branches in the cities in which it is controlled or in towns in which it has without banking facilities.

Under the measure, a bank can only establish branches with the approval of the state bank commissioner. Banks from other states would be permitted to establish branches in Connecticut.

Five other bills were reported favorably during a quiet session of the Senate that resulted in the rejection of the anti-vaccination measure.

Defeated by the House last week by a close vote, the vaccination measure was turned over by the Senate without a record vote after a brief debate. The bill sought to exempt conscientious objectors from the provisions of the present compulsory vaccination law which empowers towns to require vaccinations of all school children.

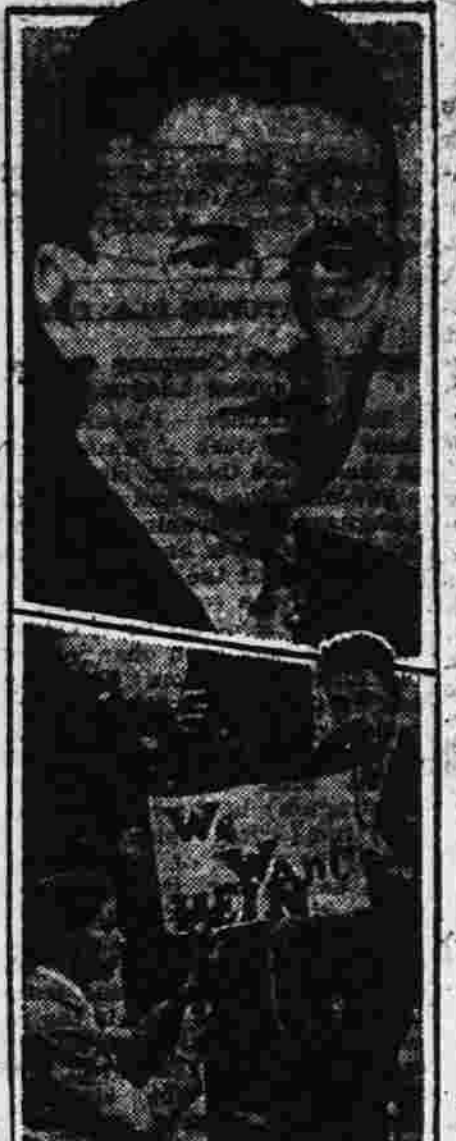

Two of the bills reported favorably would strengthen the statutes dealing with the sale of securities, one of these measures would require a license for the sale of such stocks.

Another bill reported favorably would permit mutual savings banks or savings departments of state banks and trust companies to purchase mortgage loans from the receiver of any closed bank.

A favorable report was also received on a bill permitting trustees under mortgages or deeds of trust to refuse to accept conveyance of property in satisfaction of the debt rather than being compelled to obtain title foreclosure.

Only trustees which are under the supervision of the bank commissioner would be affected by the act.

MARVELOUS MANHATTAN

By WILLIAM GAINES

New York.—Many of New York's eminent sons and daughters are amateur musicians of such skill that they might well turn a hobby into a means of livelihood—that is, in times when professional musicians in general are able to make a living.

The list of individuals in various of the arts and businesses who are accomplished pianists on the side, as to speak, must include Neysa Wolfelt, the artist, who has composed an opera with complete piano and vocal scores; Vladimir Karapetoff, electrical engineer; Fannie Hurst, novelist; Henry A. Ueberhart, physicist; Daniel Frohman, retired producer; Casey Jones, aviator; Richard Glass, writer; Richard Simon, publisher; Judge Newman Levy; Sam Shipman, playwright; Alfred Lent, actor, also peaks away at his piano.

Music Scorer's Sagas. Many sagas of big business scotch their harassed souls with their own music. Charles H. Mackay, for instance, plays several instruments with considerable skill and has conducted symphony orchestras. Otto H. Kahn is a first rate violinist and cellist, and Charles M. Schwab is excellent at violin or piano, and plays at the great organ in his home.

Even John D. Rockefeller, Jr., plays his violin at private parties. Kenneth Murphree, architect, composed the score for the Beaux Arts balls and can lead the orchestra himself. Hendrik Willem Van Loon, author, is an accomplished violinist and Henry L. Munk, who edits his magazine here, plays the piano in an orchestra of musical inclined savants in Baltimore.

DARLING FOOL

by MABEL McELLIOTT

BEGIN HERE TODAY

MONICA O'DARE helps to support her mother, younger brother and sister by working in a drug store in the small town of Belvedere. Her older brother, BILL, plans to marry ANGIE GILLES as soon as Angie divorces her husband. Monica is in love with DAN GARDIGAN whose wealthy parents do not approve of her. SANDRA LAWRENCE, pretending to be Monica's friend, tries to win Dan from her.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXV

"Sandra's voice, in spite of her desperate efforts to keep it cool, had a note of hysteria. 'Where are you hiding me now?'"

"You keep your mouth shut!" The woman in the heavy veil, the one who had joined her captor a moment before, spoke hoarsely. Sandra had a fleeting impression she had heard that voice before and that its owner was attempting to disguise it. She shrank from the glare of eyes behind the heavy drapery of gauze. There was something wildly intimidating about that stare.

They conferred for a few minutes outside the closed door while the girl on the couch, her feet still bound, allowed her captor to scrutinize her about the room, seeking some means of escape. There seemed to be none. The window was locked and barred—she could see that. Even if her shackles were loosed it would take some superb tactics to get out of this fatal room.

"Come along, you!" he said, not unkindly. "We're steppin' out of here."

Sandra brushed against the woman in the passage as she followed. Again she had a sense of imminent menace, of an almost tangible threat.

The veiled woman clambered into the back seat and Sandra felt those boring eyes upon her. They rode, bumping and swaying, for what seemed to the girl hours although when she glanced at the dial of her watch she saw it was only 11 o'clock. Curious they didn't trouble to blindfold her! She knew this road—it was the Embury Turnpike. Wouldn't it be the simplest thing she thought, to scream—

To attract the attention of some passing motorist? For all she knew alarms might have been broadcast already regarding her disappearance.

As if reading her thoughts, a rasping voice from the rear said harshly, "No funny business now. I've got a gun!"

They turned left into a lane lined with poplars. The moon was rising and the landscape lay cool and sharply etched before them, like a black drop in a theater. Black against the sky rose a clumsy house, sprouting half a dozen chimneys. Dark. Sinister.

"Wait here," the man commanded. He jumped out and went about the back of the house, returning presently in disgruntled mood.

burning glance of hate had eaten into her very flesh. Recovering her composure completely, Sandra swung herself over the side of the car. "Would anybody," she inquired coolly, "tell me what this is all about?"

James turned. The habit of respect was strong but even Sandra could catch the note of dislike. Grudgingly he muttered, "You threw us out without jobs. You wouldn't give us even a recommendation. It wasn't our fault."

Sandra flushed. "She was impudent. She didn't deserve it."

James put a restraining hand on Hetty, whose lungs forward boded no good to Sandra. The man, her original captor, had by this time disappeared, drifted into the darkness somewhere.

"You better not talk that way," James said defensively to Sandra. "You better be glad I come along in time to save you. When she let her hooks into you and when she couldn't, she gave us both the air."

James intervened. "You know as well as I do, Miss Lawrence, we can't get jobs without we have a recommendation."

"They didn't want that—they wanted money," Sandra informed him lily. "They've sent a note to my father demanding $50,000."

There was danger in the atmosphere.

So many love a scarf effect, yet find its adjustment difficult. It has to be arranged at each wearing and must be carefully pinned into place. Today's youthful model caters for a scarf effect which will "stay put." Indeed, it is stitched into and is part of the dress. It is charmingly carried out as illustrated in blue and white printed crepe silk. Plain crepe silk, chiffon cotton voile prints, pastel washing silks, tweedy linen, etc., are other nice mediums.

Discipline, Is First. It happens, that I am one who does not believe in interesting too much in a child's life. I have for years advocated giving the child his natural chance to develop and grow without too many orders.

Such children are fine and sweet tempered when everything is going their way, but cross when and out of impudence, the rages, the sulks, or some sort of devilishness that the spoiled mind seems to find such delight in.

These things are all "compensations" for the thwarted will. "They will be no thwarted will if parents begin in babyhood to make it understood they are the captains of the family. To get love, respect, and trust they must be humane and loving captains, of course, but they must make it clearly understood that there will be no nonsense.

How different it is to merge the two things, love and control. It is strange that love depends so much upon the one in control, but such is the case.

When a child is impudent there is something terribly wrong. Either he is over-indulged or over-contrived. Discipline, in turn, causes impudence from sheer defense. An impudent child, however, is telling a sad story of mismanagement.

At last she heard the purr of a motor going in the same direction. She was frightened rather than relieved, hearing men's shouts. What new horrors did this nightmare hold for her? Sandra! She heard her father's joyous shout just before she lost consciousness.

YOUR CHILDREN

By Olive Roberts Barton

OVER-COOLING BREMIS. IMPROVED, STIMULATIVE FOR A HAPPY MEDIUM. A talk on children recently included these words. The indulged, over-cooled child is usually an impatient child. It is true. All we have to do is to look about us observe the parents who cannot say "no" and listen to the way their children receive an order.

I warn all parents that if they are buying a child's love now through sheer indulgence and weakness they will buy it still more later on, if they can get it at all.

A BOOK A DAY

HANGED BY A BELL ROPE. Movie Actress Is Victim in Swell New Murder Year. By BRUCE CATTON

The mystery story fan gets pretty fed up with the same old, same old, same old. In a while he does get a break; and one of his bits of good fortune this month is contained in "Death Toils the Bell" by Paul McGuire (Covard-McCann: 33). Here is the variety, a good detective story which is both ingenious, suitably scary and written so that a literate adult can bear to read it.

As to people saying a few idle words about us, we must not mind that to any more than the old church steeples mind the rocks caving about it.—George Elliot.

HERE'S A TIP FROM ENGLAND FOR COMBINING FRUITS, VEGETABLES

Here's a plan for a flower-fringed kitchen garden, suggested by Hilda Loines (inset), famed authority on the subject. Figures in the top row of circles indicate the flowers and vegetables with corresponding numbers in the box at the top. In the lower row of circles appear the number of inches required between the various rows.

HOW MANY WILL A POUND SERVE?

These Answers Will Prove Handy. The custom of selling fruits and vegetables by the pound is becoming nation-wide. For some time the Western States have found this "method of marketing" to be most practical and now throughout the country the housewife buys her vegetables and fruits by the pound.

Red and White Joan's Choice For Dancing

Hollywood—Linen, having taken a place in the sun this year, walks right into the ballroom too. Joan Crawford has a stunning red and white polka dotted linen evening dress, with long gloves to match, that has this, that and the other, on Joan. Hand-made scallops of stripe of white linen finish its edges and fasten down the front, looking a little like old-fashioned rickrack braid, only more de luxe. Lynn Andre, bicycling with Buster Crabbe the other day, wore white linen shorts and a white linen short-sleeved blouse, with stripes of blue linen running up the sides of the shorts.

Daily Health Service

More Bodily Ailments Under Surgical Control. By DR. MORRIS FISHER. Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, Health Magazine. The rise of aseptic (surgical cleanliness) and of anesthesia gave to modern surgery a tremendous impetus. It saves the sight of an eye threatened with glaucoma. It saves life in the presence of tumors of the brain and of the spinal cord, and of new growths elsewhere in the body. It restores tissues that have been destroyed by accidents or by warfare, or even unsightly appearances associated with the accidents of birth.

Formerly surgery in conditions affecting the chest was wall of inevitability fatal. Today the surgery of the chest has become a specialty within a specialty, one in which a society of considerable numbers, known as the Association of Intrathoracic Surgeons, makes special investigations. Operations are performed in such conditions as tuberculosis, in abscesses of the lungs, in infections of various types, in the presence of foreign bodies in the lung, and similar conditions.

Operations have been performed for the control of repeated ulcers of the stomach and of the intestine, and in many cases one-half to two-thirds of the stomach may be removed with complete recovery of the patient.

One pound of fresh spinach, three persons. One pound of peas in the pod (about one quart) yields about one cup, shelled. Allow two pounds for four persons. One pound of mushrooms will serve six persons if the mushrooms are served on toast. Three or four potatoes weighs one pound. One peck of potatoes weighs fifteen pounds.

M. H. S. HAS HEAVY ATHLETIC PROGRAM SLATED THIS WEEK

Seven Events are Scheduled in Baseball, Track, Golf and Tennis; Traders Meet Springfield Today.

Manchester High's sport organizations will engage in extensive action this week, with no less than seven activities scheduled. Manchester Trade's baseball team has only one game scheduled, that with Springfield Trade here.

The Red and White baseball team, beaten in two out of three league starts, will face League opposition twice. Tomorrow afternoon Coach Tom Kelly's nine travels to Middletown to oppose Middletown High and Friday afternoon East Hartford will be host to the locals. Middletown has been defeated in three league starts this season and East Hartford has bowed in two.

This afternoon the high school golf team, unbeaten in four matches, plays a return match with West Hartford at the West Hartford Golf Club. The local team beat West Hartford, 18 1/2 to 4 1/4 in the first match. Friday afternoon the team meets Glastonbury in another return match.

Coach Fete Wigren's track squad, fresh from its impressive triumph in the out of state meet at Rhode Island, engages in a dual meet with Hartford Public High School on the latter's field Saturday morning, the third dual meet of the season.

The tennis team, having played Hartford High yesterday, return to action against West Britain here tomorrow afternoon and against Willimantic Friday afternoon.

OLD JYXX FOLLOWS BRADLEY'S RACERS

Had Good Luck With Derby Runners But They Fail Afterward.

New York, May 16. (AP)—E. R. Bradley has won more than his share of Kentucky derbies, but his luck with his derby runners in recent years has been no more so good after their races at Churchill Downs.

His last two derby winners, Burgo King and Broker's Tip, were thrown out of training after running in the Freehold derby, but the former won but in which Broker's Tip finished last. Burgo King has not raced since the 1932 Kentucky and Broker's Tip is not expected to face the barrier again until fall.

Blue Larkspur, fourth in the 1929 derby, went on to win the three-year-old championship but was on the verge of breaking down twice and finally was retired after winning the Arlington Cup and the Stars and Stripes Handicap at Arlington Park in 1930.

Another Joe, more highly regarded than Burgo King prior to the 1932 derby, never raced again last year after finishing last. Breeding Thru and Boys Howdy, Col. Bradley's leading candidates in 1930 and 1931, respectively, ran in claiming races last year while Buckley Post, which accompanied Breeding Thru to the post, has not raced since with the exception of one start two years ago.

The smaller dirt tracks, particularly at Langhorne, Pa., got Bill Cummings his start as an auto race driver. Bill, above, a former grocery delivery boy in Indianapolis, has entered in this year's 60-mile Memorial Day race, and he is figured to be one of the foremost contenders.

MAPLE LEAFS FALL BEFORE BEARS, 7-4

Like Boone's Heavy Hitting Fails to Save Toronto from Loss to Newark.

By Associated Press
The Toronto Maple Leafs fell to get anywhere this International League season, it quite evidently won't be the fault of Big Ike Boone, hard-hitting outfielder.

The former Brooklyn Dodger fly-chaser, always noted as a strong batsman, had hit safely in 23 consecutive games today and piled up a healthy average of .490. Boone's collection of 46 hits includes nine doubles and three home runs and has driven in twenty runs.

But even a double and a single off his bat yesterday failed to save the Leafs from a 7-4 beating from the Champion Newark Bears. Toronto clouted Charley Devens for 11 hits and finally drove him to cover with one down in the ninth. Johnny Murphy came in to find the bases filled. After Billy Lawrence had singled to drive in one run, Murphy struck out Wilbur Brubaker and Johnny Heving on six pitched balls and the game was over. Ralph Birkofer, former Pittsburgh Pirate southpaw, pitched shutout ball for four innings but was nicked for one run in the fifth and then shelled from the mound in the sixth when the champions put up a five-run, Jimmy Ripple's fourth hit, a single in the 12th, enabled the Montreal Royals to down the Albany Senators, 5-3, in a thriller. It was a tough break for Whitely Campbell who traveled the route for Albany and allowed only eight hits. Joe Genevich gave five hits in the first seven innings but had to retire on account of a sore hand. Art Smith's men hit the right elbow only once but was a home run by Gordon Phelps that tied the score and sent the game into extra innings. Other clubs had an open date.

GOLF

KEEP THE RIGHT ELBOW CLOSE IN IRON PLAY
"Iron play is the core of the golf game," says El Epstein. "To get the best results keep the right elbow close to the side while making the backswing and a very firm left arm, permitting no club play or loosening the left hand. This will keep one steady and prevent overswinging."

Devote much time to iron practice. Even with a grooved swing or certain iron. There must be harmonious action and free muscular movement to avoid tightening up, which causes more bad shots than bad form.

Chicago, May 15. (AP)—Lester Dye, successful rider on half mile tracks, has been ruled off the turf by the stewards at Sportsman's Park.

Dye drew the dramatic penalty late yesterday after admitting he had "pulled" his mount, Merle Simmons' Semster, in the fifth race at the half mile wheel. The stewards also notified anyone they would not accept entries of horses owned or trained by him.

WHO WILL BEAT M'CLUSKEY?

'SHUFFLIN' JOE MAY CRACK WORLD MARK

By JIMMY DONAHUE
NEA Service Sports Writer

One of the greatest two-milers ever developed in the United States, and a steeplechaser who never has suffered defeat by an American, will make his last try, for a new record at the I. C. 4-A, games to be held at Harvard Stadium May 26-27.

Here's a long, slender son of Erin, born in Connecticut, and christened Joseph P. Mccluskey.

"Shufflin' Joe," now the Fordham flash, was known as "Little Joe" among his new-boy competitors when he peddled the pedals in Manchester. The lad looked far from being a champion then; his fond Irish parents despaired the fact that he was blessed with only 5 feet 8 inches of height and 93 pounds.

But Joe went out to high school, and there his track coach, Charley Wigren, saw the promise of a fine runner, and that was the start of the boy's career.

It's hard to realize, after watching Joe's stride, that here is the champion steeplechaser of the country. He runs contrary to the style taught by most coaches. His feet seem to dangle at the end of his legs, and they hang down, heels first, on the cinders. His awkward form has won the nickname of "Shufflin' Joe."

Contrary to the form of other runners, Joe never seems to use his arms. They hang loosely and

LUCKIES TROUNCED BY SPUDS, 12 TO 2

Billy Hand Limits Losers to Three Hits as Mates Pound McCann, McConkey.

The Spuds experienced little or no trouble in disposing of the Luckies in the West Side Rec baseball league at the playgrounds last night by a score of 12 to 2. Billy Hand was breaking them across the platter for the Spuds and limited the Luckies to two hits, two of them being credited to "Randy" Coles and Dave McConkey got the other one. While Hand was putting the damper on the Luckies his mates went to work on the slants of "Hank" McCann and with Weddell, Wilkinson and Chapman leading the attack, the Spuds soon piled up a seven-run lead, that drove McCann to cover in favor of McConkey.

However, the change proved absolutely fruitless as the heavy cannoning kept up relentlessly and the Spuds scored five more runs in the final innings to bring their total to one dozen. Although the Spuds rapped out twelve hits they found the opposing infield decidedly off color and took advantage of every break. In this department Gustafson and Angelo took the honors, each booking three spines.

Wednesday night the Camels and the Old Girls will meet at 6:15 p. m. All players are requested to wear uniforms.

STEEPLECHASE CHAMP RUNS ON HIS HEELS

seem to be no part of his moving body. But there's a lightning heart in him, and a pair of lungs which carry him over the long, two or three-mile grind.

An interesting anecdote of Joe's first race as a college freshman is told. Joe was late, arriving just as the starter was ready to fire. Young McCloskey ran to the field, pulling off his clothes as he went, dashed into the dressing room to don his trunk, and appeared just as the gun cracked, and the field dashed away.

Far in the rear, Joe pounded away and finished ahead of the pack to top the cross-country championship.

Since then Joe has done a lot of running, winning the A. A. U. indoor two-mile steeplechase in record time last year, and winning all but one indoor steeplechase this year.

Joe was junior two-mile champion before he left high school, holds the American outdoor record for the two-mile, and has come close to the world's mark of 8:58.

His skill in the steeplechase is probably due to his ability to take the hurdles. There are about 24 of these jumps in the ordinary 3000-meter chase.

BETTER TO PLAY SAFE THAN TO TAKE CHANCES

Sarazen Cautious Against "Shooting the Works", Sixes and Sevens Can't Win Golf Tourneys, Says Champion in Series on Game.

This is the sixth of a series in which Gene Sarazen, British and American Open champion, tells the average player how to cut strokes off his score.

No matter whether it's in a national championship or a club tournament, you can't win with "sixes or sevens" on your golf card.

Right away you probably will remind me that Bobby Jones won the 1926 National Open championship despite a couple of sevens on his last round. That is quite true, but it is also true that Jones was lucky to win the title in a playoff. It's the exception that proves the rule.

Failed to "Finesse"
In that same tournament, if I had not taken several bad sixes, on comparatively easy holes, I would have been the winner.

That was one of the things that led me to study my cards. I found that my chances of winning four open championships had been "blown" within a period of six years, because I had sixes or sevens on my cards.

How did I take these sixes and sevens? I'll tell you. I failed to " finesse," and by that I mean the same thing that happens so often at the bridge table.

Former Smithy in Hoosier Classic

A FORMER BIRMINGHAM, whose goal is in Hartford, with auto wheels led to his entering the Indianapolis Speedway 500-mile race in 1930, is back again this year. He is Russell Snowberger, a bowler who finished eighth in 1932, fourth in 1931, and fifth last year.

OPEN DRAWS FIELD OF 151 GOLF ACES

Qualifiers for Chicago Grand Include 130 Professionals and 21 Amateurs in All.

New York, May 15. (AP)—The field which will set out in pursuit of the National Open golf championship at the Soldiers Field Club in Chicago, June 8, will consist of 150 professionals and 21 amateurs.

That much was determined yesterday when 99 professionals and 19 amateurs survived the annual sectional qualifying rounds held in Chicago. The survivors, who are automatically qualified for the Chicago grand by finishing among the first thirty and tied in the 1932 championship.

Play in yesterday's 36-hole qualifying event played in twenty districts, developed few surprises, although it showed well known figures failed to make the grade. Among these were Chick Evans, Jack Hutchinson, George Langhorne, Fred Penick, Alvin Karpis, Charles H. Hall and a scattering few young but formidable amateurs such as Gene Humans and Jack Westland.

On the other side of the picture, two former leaders, Johnny Farrell, Cyril Walker, successfully qualified as did a number of other leading professionals including Horace Smith, Al Watrous, Johnny Golden, Willie Klein, Tony Masato, Joe Tunnice, Al Robinson, John Revolta and Roland Hancock.

THE PIRATES SEEM TO BE IN—BRAUCHER

Pittsburgh Will Take National Pennant.

Like Washington in the American League, the Pirates were the suckers of the National League last year for anybody who happened to be a hand-picked thrower. It's all over now; they tell me. And just as Fred Schulte has made the Senators a threat against left-handers, Lindstrom has changed the Pirates into a headache for the wrong-flipped folk in what is called by us old-timers "the senior circuit."

A great many bright sparks as base runners, bunting, working for one run and all that prevail in the National League. Most of them dicked in the world series of 1931, which was won by a young ho-devil named Pepper Martin. They didn't go over to hot in the 1932 live rubber classic between the Cubs and Yanks—because the Bambino was there to blast that Bermuda out of the park.

But the idea of each team in the National League, I am confidently advised, is to win by a run or two in the final game of the season, and that the Pirates seem to have the repertory required. Hans Wagner was one of the slickest tricksters on the bases and at the bat that ever donned those spiked oxfords, and he is one of the few stars able to impact on others the stunts of the trade.

Wagner and Gibson! Both are patient instructors and they have brought up the Pirate club in the way it should go. Wagner can tell even a pitcher what to do, and Gibson is one of the old-school coaches who is a sleep night better than a green hand at that top.

Gibby Street, who says that the Pirates will be the team to beat in the pitching hold-up, the club has everything else—the hitters, young inspiration and lots of chewing tobacco.

UPSET PRE-SEASON DOPE BY BREAKING EVEN AGAINST EAST

National League Strength Lies in West, as Expected; Indians Compile Best Record; Yanks Do Poorly.

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
With the first round of the inter-sectional clashes in both leagues complete and the second scheduled to start today, a review of the results show the strength of the National League to be in the western half circuit, as expected; but contrary to pre-season predictions the western clubs of the American league virtually held their own against the powerful eastern outfits.

In the National, the western clubs won 24 and tied one of the 42 games played on the Atlantic seaboard. The invasion of the west by the Yanks, Senators, A's and Red Sox in the American league netted only 13 victories however, as compared with 37 defeats.

The N. Y. Giants were the only team in the eastern half of the Heydler circuit, able to match the power of the Pirates, Reds, Cubs and Cards. They won seven and lost four while the Braves dropped nine of their games. The Phillies were defeated six times out of nine starts.

The Cards and Reds made the best showing of the western clubs, the former winning eight of their eleven contests and the latter 16 counting for six of their ten starts. The league leading Pirates and Cubs broke even in ten games each.

The Cleveland Indians compiled far the best record, however, by climbing to top of the junior circuit. They won seven games and dropped only two of the White Sox broke even in eight contests, the Browns won four out of nine, and the Tigers finished with the high score in three of their nine contests.

The Phillies in the National and the Indians in the American led the advances into foreign territory in the only games played in both leagues yesterday and both lost. The Pirates took the measure by the Phillies 5 to 4 to climb back into the National league leadership with a half game advantage over the high Giants, while the A's trimmed the Indians 1 to 0 in a pitching duel between Merritt Sugar and Willie Hudlin. Although defeated, the Indians retained a half game advantage over the Yanks.

Save America First!
In the past, America's problems Bothered us little, if at all; We were out to save the world, Nor dear to any call.

To every troubled nation Our aid was swift, unflinching; And so we failed to notice That the U. S. A. was ailing.

It took a great depression To teach that we needed worst To stay in our own back yard And Save America First.

Percy—Oh, hello, Margaret! I wonder where all the pretty girls are today, huh?
Margaret—Oh, away somewhere with all the handsome men, I suppose.

We expected to pay the fiddler after our economic spree, but why do they stick the bill for the whole blooming orchestra on us?

Kisses are the soothing syrup with which a boy puts his conscience to sleep.

Father—I won't have you standing at the door with that young man of yours.
Daughter—But Daddy dear, I only stayed for a second.
Father—Nonsense! I distinctly heard the third, fourth and fifth.

A boy may be a rough diamond and yet have a smooth line.

Father (impressively)—My son, suppose I should be taken away suddenly, what would become of you?
Son (irreverently)—Why, I'd stay here. The question is, what would become of you.

Today is the tomorrow you worried about yesterday.

The teacher was having hot trials and finally wrote the mother: "Your son is the brightest boy in my class, but he is also the most mischievous. What shall I do?"
The reply came duly: "Do as you please. I am having my own troubles with his father."

There is probably no other place where as much free advice is offered as at a small town fire.

Let us not forget the definition of a depression: A period in which we are forced to eliminate some of the luxuries our forefathers never had.

Johnny—No, not much, mother. I have to go back tomorrow.

POLICE COURT
George H. Liebman, 28, of 194
Hindale avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., was fined $10 and costs on each count for speeding and driving a motor vehicle with defective brakes in town court before Judge Raymond A. Johnson this morning.

Liebman was arrested at 7:15 last night as he was driving west on Center street, near Adams street, by Officer Joseph Pratico. Officer
Pratico told the court that Liebman was driving between 50 and 60 miles per hour and when he finally stopped at the officer's command he had passed six or seven telephone poles.

Thomas Kyproos of East Hartford was fined $15 and costs for peddling in the town of Manchester without a permit. He was arrested yesterday afternoon on Edmunds street by Officer Herman Muske when the officer saw him selling popcorn and ice cream house to house.

In court it developed that Kyproos held a permit issued to John Hagel of East Hartford, a veteran, who appeared in court and told Judge Johnson that he had transferred his business and automobile truck to Kyproos, the latter receiving 20 per cent of all money obtained, a part of which was to be applied as payment for the automobile.

Kyproos admitted having peddled his goods on the streets of Manchester on Hagel's year-old permit over the week end. Fines and costs were paid by Kyproos.
