

MORGAN'S PARTNERS TO GO UNDER PROBE

After Long Conference Senate Probers Are Given Authority to Ask About Income Taxes.

Washington, June 6.—(AP)—Senate investigator, J. P. Morgan and Company set out today to blast any doubt of their authority to examine stock transactions of the bank's partners affecting their income tax payments.

Keeping the inquiry for the present on Morgan affiliations with the Van Sweringen railroad ventures, the banking committee voted almost two to one in a two hour closed session to seek answers, if necessary, to go into stock deals of Thomas S. Lamont, William Ewing, Harold Stanley and other partners.

John W. Davis, as counsel for Morgan, had challenged its authority in the matter.

Upon getting a decision on its course after two hours argument, the investigating group returned to questioning of O. P. Van Sweringen on how he and his brother, M. J., knit together their wide interests and the part taken by the Morgan bank in the Senate, meanwhile, the Republican Robinson—of Indiana—demanded that the investigation be pushed "full steam ahead and bring out all the rotteness in the international banks."

Attempts are being made to "hamstring" it, he said, and was told shortly about the resolution that had been adopted by the committee to look into income tax returns. It "would satisfy" Robinson, said Walcott (R., Conn.).

Wood Oust Woodin Robinson demanded that Secretary Woodin be impeached if he does not resign or is not removed by the President.

His attack was in connection with Woodin's name being on several of the Morgan selected customer lists for bargain purchases of stock in 1929, before Woodin was in public life.

At the hearing, Van Sweringen again proved a slow witness, pleading forgetfulness as he did yesterday.

A air of listlessness apparently pervaded the crowded audience, J. P. Morgan and his associates included.

COMMITTEE SPLIT Washington, June 6.—(AP)—The involved narrative of how the Van Sweringens erected their railroad stronghold with borrowed funds through aid of J. P. Morgan and Company was suspended today as the Senate investigating committee sought to decide whether to inquire into the income taxes of Morgan partners.

With the committee sharply split its effort to reach a decision in executive session delayed resumption of the public hearing in which

PRESIDENT SIGNS GOLD CLAUSE BILL

All Promises to Pay in Gold are Voided—New Financing Now Necessary.

Washington, June 6.—(AP)—On the Federal law books today is a declaration that all promises to pay with gold may be legally settled with paper money.

President Roosevelt last night signed the resolution voiding the "gold clause" written in billions of government securities and more billions of private bonds and mortgages. It had been adopted by the House and Senate within a scant ten days of the time it was submitted to them, unheralded by previous announcement.

Since gold has been unavailable since March for any payments, public or private, the new law makes no change in the existing situation, merely ratifying it. It does, however, relieve the Treasury of having to promise gold payment in new bond issues, as well as serving formal notice that liberty and all other bonds which may fall due or be called will be settled in legal tender.

New Financing Extensive new financing is due in the immediate future. Meanwhile the campaign against gold hoarders is in full swing, with Department of Justice agents beginning their calls on 1,000 persons named on a Treasury list, as suspected of holding more than $100 in gold each. All are being asked to turn it in unless they already have done so, and warned of the punishment prescribed if they fail. The total believed now being hoarded amounts to $600,000,000.

HOUSE TO ACCEPT VETS' AMENDMENT

Connally Bill Would Not Allow a Cut of More Than 25 Per Cent.

Washington, June 6.—(AP)—After an executive meeting of the Democratic steering committee, Speaker Rainey told reporters today the House would accept the Connally 25 per cent veterans amendment to the independent offices bill or a substitute proposition to be offered by President Roosevelt.

The House leadership, Rainey said, would delay action on the independent offices appropriation bill to give President Roosevelt enough time to submit his alternative proposal.

Meanwhile, President Roosevelt speeded up plans for modifying the veterans regulations, calling in Lewis Douglas, the budget director, and Frank T. Hines, the veterans administrator, for an extended conference on how to make less severe the cuts ordered in former soldiers' allowances.

The Connally amendment, adopted by the Senate, provides that allowances for service-connected disabilities shall not be cut more than 25 per cent.

President Roosevelt has served notice that if this increased expenditure is left in the bill additional taxes will have to be levied in order that the budget may be balanced.

The absence of any agreement with President Roosevelt, I am of the opinion," Speaker Rainey said.

LAWLER IS NAMED FOR STATE POST

Waterbury Senator to Head Athletic Commission; Dimock Also is Appointed.

State Capitol, Hartford, June 6.—(AP)—Governor Wilbur L. Cross today named Senator Joseph H. Lawler of Waterbury state athletic commissioner, and Senator Edwin R. Dimock of Mansfield as state commissioner of domestic animals.

The appointments are direct and do not require Senatorial confirmation.

The athletic commissioner carries an annual salary of $5,500 while the second post pays an annual salary of $4,500. Both salaries will be subject to the general pay cut authorized recently by the General Assembly.

Completes List Today's appointments completed the list of major commissions which the governor was required to fill. The other two posts also went to the Legislature. William H. Hackett of New Haven having been named state tax commissioner and former Senator Michael A. Connor of Hartford state motor vehicle commissioner.

Senator Lawler, 54 year old veteran legislator, has served continuously in the Senate since 1925. Dimock, 49 year old veterinarian is serving his first term, although he was a member of the House in 1913.

Thomas E. Donohue, who will retire as state athletic commissioner, was the state's first officially appointed guardian of the state's interests in sports, more particularly boxing. In fact the title of the office almost is a misnomer as to mention it brings to mind only boxing and wrestling.

Donohue was widely known in the state at the time of his appointment in 1925 by Governor Trumbull. He has since been president of the National Boxing Association and chairman of the championship committee which at regular intervals rates the outstanding boxers.

JEWES IN UPPER SILESIA WILL REGAIN POSITIONS

Germany Pledges to Give Them Back Their Rights; Question Brought Up Before League of Nations.

Geneva, June 6.—(AP)—A representative of Chancellor Hitler's government pledged his word before a public League of Nations council meeting today that Germany will give back to Jews the positions they recently lost in German upper Silesia.

The question of Germany's treatment of the Jews in Upper Silesia was brought before the League Council on May 20 when Franz Bernheim, a German Jew, presented a petition charging that the barring of German Jews from professions in that area contravened a Polish-German convention guaranteeing certain rights regardless of race or religion.

Caustic words passed between Friedrich Von Koller, German representative, Stephan Ousksky of Czechoslovakia, and the Norwegian representative Christian L. Lange at the meeting today.

Von Koller's Charge Herr von Koller charged Lange having challenged the good word of Germany when the Norwegian referred to the necessity of preventing local officials from misunderstanding the purport of general laws and insisted that Ousksky went beyond the agenda when he hinted that the entire problem of minorities should be handled by the League Assembly.

ILLINOIS IS WET BY FOUR TO ONE

Ninth State to Vote for Repeal of 18th Amendment; Indiana Votes Today.

Chicago, June 6.—(AP)—Illinois has rejected an emphatic "no" on the question of retaining the 18th Amendment.

Its voters rolled up a 100,000 vote victory against the amendment in yesterday's state-wide election, the voters' sweeping to victory over their opponent by an overwhelming vote of approximately four to one.

When 5502 of the state's 7000 precincts had reported the vote stood: For repeal—958,827. Against repeal—237,525.

Thus Illinois joined with Michigan, Wisconsin, Rhode Island, Delaware, New Jersey, New York, Nevada and Wyoming in expressing disapproval of the amendment.

The result was variously received, according to the shade of wet or dry opinion. The national headquarters of the W. C. T. U., at Evanston said the vote was "a step backward" while the wets hailed it with joy, particularly, they said, because of the effect they expect it will have on the outcome in Indiana, which votes on the same question today.

Both the Democratic and the Republican parties backed the state of 50 "wet" candidates for delegates to the state's repeal convention at Springfield, July 10.

The "wet-dry" fight was waged on a non-partisan basis, but in the state's judicial election the two major parties fought it out in three contested Supreme Court districts with the Democrats scoring a sweeping victory. One of the victors, Paul Farthing, 46, of Belleville, Ill., is blind.

SENATE SPURNS PLEA BY CROSS TO CHANGE LAW

Cross Asks Liquor Amendment to Permit Sale Without Meals in Hotels and Restaurants.

State Capitol, Hartford, June 6.—(AP)—The Senate refused today to suspend its rules to receive from Governor Wilbur L. Cross a bill amending the state liquor control act to permit the sale of beer and wine in restaurants and hotels with or without meals.

With a two-thirds vote required, 18 Democrats voted to suspend the rules and 17 Republicans voted against the proposal.

The amendment was sent by the governor with a special message explaining his stand on the suggested change.

While the Senate agreed to receive the message with virtually no comment, it debated for more than an hour the question as to whether the governor's bill should be received.

To Renew Battle Immediately after defeat of the motion to suspend the rules, the Senate recessed until 2 p. m., with prospects that the renewed battle over liquor control would be continued when the Senate resumed its deliberations.

Submission by the governor of a special bill was assailed by Republicans as contrary to precedent.

The minority also termed the amendment discriminatory on the ground that it did not relieve other groups.

Democrats, led by Senator Frank S. Bergin, argued that the amendment was intended to make the liquor act more workable and to relieve hotels and restaurants from a hardship imposed through what the governor termed an "oversight."

The Senate, its chamber packed with a large crowd, devoted nearly the entire morning session to the fight over the governor's bill.

Public Work Bill NEARING PASSAGE Measure Revised So as to Restore President's Authority in Licensing Plants

Washington, June 6.—(AP)—Swift Senate passage of the administration's industrial control-public works measure was predicted today by leaders following the finance committee's action in restoring authority to the President to license recalcitrant manufacturing establishments.

This power, which had been eliminated by the bill previously by the Senate committee, was restored late yesterday. It is intended to compel concerns that refuse to follow the majority of their industry to fall in line.

Meanwhile, the formal report by Chairman Harrison (D., Miss.), disclosed today that a modification of the licensing provision was approved to make it effective only if the President "finds that destructive or polluting cutting" is being done in any geographical area or subdivision of a trade or industry.

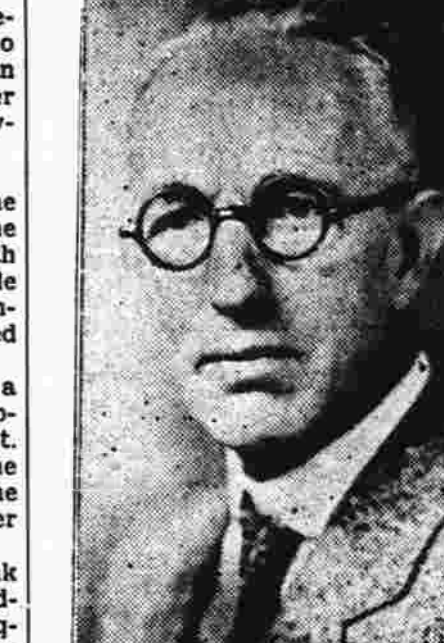

Further Revision The bill, to be taken up by the Senate tomorrow, was further revised to provide that no employee should be regarded as a condition to employment to refrain from organizing or assisting a labor organization of his own choosing. The House bill is limited to refraining from "joining" a labor organization of his own choosing.

To avoid any conflicts in administering the industrial program and the agricultural adjustment act, the committee authorized the President in his discretion to delegate any of his functions and powers to the secretary of agriculture regarding trades or industries engaged in handling farm products.

URGES COMPLETE CHARITIES SURVEY Selectman Keith Says Charter Revision Is Vital to Town's Welfare.

George E. Keith, Selectman and a member of the Charity committee of the Board for six years, presented the charity situation confronting the town of Manchester in detailed form at a meeting of the Manchester Improvement Association last night in the Morton Y. M. C. A. The meeting was the last of October 1, according to the vote taken to suspend meetings during the summer.

Selectman G. E. Keith

Old Almshouses "Charity is less a disgrace than it ever was, and less an inconvenience," asserted Mr. Keith. The speaker reviewed the old Alms-house days when the institution was located at Highland Park—a rambling old structure where the poor of the town were housed and kept at a cost per week of from $1.10 to $1.50.

During the summer, the speaker said, water was taken from a brook near the alms-house, and the institution was ill-fitted for the care of the town's needy cases. However, it survived for 40 years, until the town's reservoirs were built and was then torn down and a new almshouse built in 1912 on East Middle Turnpike.

The town has been very fortunate in having capable caretakers of the Alms-house during the years since 1912, Mr. Keith stated. Mr. and Mrs. (Continued on Page Ten)

FRANCE TO SIGN MUSSOLINI PACT

Principal Obstacle to Four Power Peace Plan Has Now Been Removed.

Rome, June 6.—(AP)—Henry De Juvenel, the French ambassador, received instructions today from Paris to initial the latest text of the Mussolini four-power peace pact, and thus the principal obstacle in the way of execution of the agreement was removed.

Simultaneously the British ambassador, Sir Ronald Graham, received similar instructions from London, the Italian government is ready to sign, and the German ambassador, Ulrich Von Hassell, is awaiting authorization from Berlin.

The ambassadors forwarded to their governments last night the final text of the pact, which was agreed upon after long discussions in the last few days.

Arms Equality These discussions centered principally on Article Three, which refers to disarmament and to the arms equality of Germany.

In the event Ambassador Von Hassell received favorable instructions in time, it was possible that the pact would be signed soon enough to give Premier Mussolini an opportunity to make a speech before the Senate, which was scheduled to discuss the foreign affairs budget late this afternoon.

The general purpose of the Mussolini pact is to associate Great Britain, Italy, France and Germany in common policies for the preservation of peace. When it was originally presented last March France raised objections on the grounds that the rights of the smaller European powers might be jeopardized and that the operation of the pact should be brought within the framework of the League of Nations.

MATTERN'S LOG By Associated Press (Time is Eastern Standard) Here is James Matern's schedule of stops to date on his flight around the world: Saturday, June 3: 4:20 a. m.—Left New York. Sunday, June 4: 4:15 a. m.—Arrived Jomfruland, Norway. 9:00 p. m.—Left Jomfruland. 10:00 p. m.—Arrived Oslo. Monday, June 5: 12:40 a. m.—Left Oslo. 7:57 a. m.—Left Moscow. Tuesday, June 6: 5:35 a. m.—Arrived Omsk, Siberia.

Omsk, Siberia, June 6.—(AP)—James Matern, landed here at 1:35 p. m. today (Moscow time, 5:35 a. m., e. s. t.) from Moscow.

Matern thus required 12 hours and 21 minutes to fly from Moscow to Omsk, a distance of about 1400 miles which he negotiated without stopping, averaging almost 120 miles an hour.

Head winds were strong between Moscow and Omsk, slowing up his normal speed, but he knew about them before he left the Soviet capital. He started out knowing that he was running into generally unsettled and cloudy weather, complicated by winds.

Beyond Omsk he will have very slight head winds, clear weather and good visibility, according to the weather bureau forecast.

Omsk, a modern city of about 115,000 population, is situated in the midst of a treeless steppe, on the right bank of the Irtysh river. In that territory there often are strong winds. Snow six feet deep is not uncommon in the winter; in the summer there frequently are sandstorms, borne on by the winds.

The city, a center for meat and dairy industries, has a municipal electricity, water and bus service. Its altitude is 285 feet. It is the first important city east of the Ural mountains, the dividing line between Europe and Asia. It is on the Trans-Siberian railway; five leaders reach it from the north and south, and caravans from the Central Asiatic republic visit it.

In history, Omsk is important in that Admiral Kolchak declared himself dictator of Siberia after the war in the city. Finally the city was captured by the Bolshevik army.

Omsk is 1,450 miles from Moscow. The American round-the-world flier left the Soviet capital at 1:14 a. m. (5:14 p. m., Monday, e. s. t.). His time for this leg of his journey was 12 hours, 21 minutes, averaging therefore about 120 miles an hour.

AHEAD OF SCHEDULE Moscow, June 6.—(AP)—More than five hours ahead of the record is seeking to better on his solo flight around the world, James Matern early today was streaking into the heart of Siberia.

Fifty-one hours and 37 minutes after his take-off from New York the smiling Texan arrived here amid a cheering welcome and ate, bathed, and snatched two hours of sleep, changing his necessary plane repairs kept him here nine hours and 17 minutes.

But he was off again in the red white-and-blue Century of Progress at 1:14 a. m. (5:14 p. m., Monday, e. s. t.), flying over established routes to Omsk, Siberia.

Despite the delay occasioned by the necessity of repairing two tears apparently resulting from ice that formed during the trans-Atlantic leg, Matern was five hours 15 minutes up on the norm established in 1931 by two other intrepid Americans, Wiley Post and Harold Gatty.

Upon his arrival from Oslo, Norway, yesterday, he was told by Soviet officials that over the shortest route he had planned to follow to Alaska via Yakutsk he would encounter unfavorable conditions, as he decided on the regular air route to Omsk, 1,450 miles east of Moscow. "I fooled them, didn't I?" Matern commented when told of the anxiety felt when he was apparently (Continued on Page Two)

PLAN 3RD FLIGHT TO STRATOSPHERE

Within a Month Either One of the Piccard Brothers Will Start from Chicago.

Chicago, June 6.—(AP)—Sometime within a month a third Piccard flight will take two men ten miles into the sky in a balloon, perhaps higher than human beings ever have gone.

Either Auguste Piccard, the Belgian, veteran of two such adventures, or his brother, Jean, and a companion will make the trip. Thousands will crowd upon their gondola in Soldier Field before its moorings are cut. The whole world will wait for news of these men who risk their lives.

But step into the recesses of the scientist's laboratory if you wish to know what these explorers seek. Here, in the making is another epic of man's search for the truths of the universe in which he lives.

The stratosphere where these explorers will cruise is the latest front in science's far-flung attack upon secrets of the cosmic rays, which many believe are the key to an explanation of the universe.

Prepare For Trip In his University, of Chicago laboratory, Prof. Arthur H. Compton, a Nobel prize winner in physics, and a generalissimo in this cosmic ray study, is directing the assembling of scientific instruments which the gondola will carry.

Compton, has set his instruments to work before on high mountains in seeking out scraps of knowledge of the cosmic ray. But he recognizes the daring of those who are willing to fly into rarefied atmosphere and breath man-made air because he knows this is the best way to observe the cosmic ray in its purest state.

He explained today why he is so interested in this work. "Cosmic ray studies," he said, "may throw light on the problem of how the nucleus of the atom is built, and this may help to solve the problem of how atomic energy can be released for human use."

"Can you imagine that it might be possible to harness the energy of the cosmic ray or at least learn from the study how to create similar so widely recognized that almost all important American communities do sooner or later own their own water supplies.

Manchester failed to establish its own town-owned system while it was still a small place.

In this it is fortunate. And it is entirely possible that, should we fail to take advantage of this opportunity, we might never get another like it.

No question of increased taxation enters into this business.

And that is on the basis of the present depression.

The Judas Tree. "The Judas Tree" by Neil Swanson is a romantic-adventure novel of the old school.

At the beginning his face was quizzical and his manner one of glib, unexpected amusement.

He didn't forget himself to the point of making any bad slips.

He has a slight touch of British accent, which may have come from eight years of living in England.

What makes the book unusual is the seat with which it was written.

While one with hardening of the arteries is able to bring about much improvement this will be accomplished if he will make a study of foods and their combination so that he can successfully eat those foods.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN Washington

DUTCHER GIVES VIVID PICTURE OF J. P. MORGAN. Banker Friends, Afloat As He Faces Senators in Investigation.

Washington, June 6.—Mr. J. P. Morgan, who is commonly regarded as the chief power behind the American scene and who doesn't pay any income tax, was just a jolly, gruff old "Papa Bear" out of a fairy tale look.

His 19 partners call him "Jack"—except for the younger ones.

He towers when he stands and must weigh nearly 250 pounds.

He looks like one of our fellows.

New York.—The attention enjoyed by a successful Broadway play seems tame compared to the hullabaloo the New York public raises over the same play after a Hollywood triumph.

Then she went to Hollywood and, as you know, played in "Ragtime" and the "Empress" with the Barrymores, and triumphed as Jane Murray in "Cavalcade."

On her way back to England she spent a day in New York. Stepping from the train, she was besieged by autograph hunters.

She said she didn't know quite what to make of it all, though frankly she was flattered. When she was beginning to think that everybody in town must know about her hit in "Cavalcade," it took a taxi driver to set her back a little.

She wasn't sure about the local situation.

THE MANCHESTER ELECTRIC CO. 773 MAIN STREET, MANCHESTER, CONN. June 6, 1933. Again we ask, as one citizen to another, Why waste more of your money—as well as ours—in further rate cases? How can we hope to reduce rates voluntarily when we have to spend money defending rate cases? Before the rate case last year we published for the benefit of our customers the official tabulation of electric prices in the State which showed that rates in Manchester were lower than in almost any similar Connecticut city. We said that increased use would result in still lower prices. Nevertheless, a rate case was started which cost its sponsors real money and cost the Company $50,000 for a detailed appraisal and legal expenses. The verdict was that earnings were reasonable and existing rates should stand. Since then earnings have decreased so that they do not now meet dividend and interest requirements. Yet, you are asked to spend more of your money, and to force us to spend more of ours, on another rate case. How can we hope to reduce rates? It is your money that will be spent—investigate first,—get the facts, and then cast your vote on June 12th in accordance with your own judgment. S. Ferguson, President. *The Manchester Electric Company is a citizen, too, paying in 1933 $10,851 in taxes and spending about $100,000 in the city on payroll and supplies.

State Capitol, Hartford, June 6.—(AP)—Governor Wilbur L. Cross recommended to the General Assembly today that the state liquor control act be amended to permit the sale of beer and wine in hotels and restaurants with or without meals. With the General Assembly required to end its deliberations tomorrow, the governor made an eleventh hour plea for liberalization of the liquor act in a brief, special message. To the communication he attached a bill making the suggested changes in the control act. Governor Cross expressed himself as "disappointed" that the Legislature had not taken action on "certain amendments generally recognized as necessary to make the so-called liquor control act more nearly perfect and workable."

Rope Pull Through Mud Features Costume Day

"Steady, heave, pull, and away we go." "They're weakening! Look out—splash!" "This side's winning. No they're losing. Oh, boy they've won!" And with they did, in the most thrilling episode of the "holiday" M. H. S. yesterday, the rope-pull, Bob McCormick and his Blue Bloods, Red Devils Ernest Neill and his Red Devils through the muddest of muddy water at Globe Hollow.

Each Wins Once The crowd yelled with delight the first time the whistle was blown for the signal to start—and the rope broke! Each side thought they'd won until Coach Clarke, acting as referee, gave the verdict. An audience of over a thousand, including students and townspeople witnessed the splashing and pulling of about one-half hour and saw each team win once making the first "pull" necessary. Girls with their hair-ribbons waved dolls and dogs and the rest of the menagerie above their heads when both sides splashed through the water aiming for Mr. Quimby and the banana. However, Mr. Bailey and Mr. Wright already placed the huge stalk of fruit on the other side of the shore and then there was a scramble? James Toman dressed up in a manner demanding a "New Deal" rolled in his barrel to the opposite shore and was among the first to grab while Ernest Neill dressed up as Santa Claus, Tony O'Bright, dressed in a burlesque followed by Vic Davis as the baby of the party holding onto one of Hal Stiles' swallow tails were not far behind.

Many Costumes Art Brown in a checkered suit with specks and a derby hat, marched around with Faylie Burnham, in a typical young girl's costume, a good part of the time and together with the aid of Geno Enrico saw that things were started in the way of baseball at Mt. Pleasant Farm, where suits ripped considerably, paraded up and down all afternoon long, slapping Eddie Stum's back upon which a butterfly was painted, and grabbing dolls and lollypops. Mary Hitt had distributed wintergreen lollypops as big as people's heads and pictures were taken of Doris Mahoney's, Barbara Hyde's and Lena Wylie's pig-tails and ribbons. Neatness in hair grooming disappeared when hair was set down to wave about on shoulders and the quietest forgot their dignity in the ambition to make "Costume Day" at Manchester High school a huge success. Chain lines were formed and marched through rooms and halls while the old favorite cheer of "Manchester the long way" was not forgotten. It was a day long to be remembered by every Senior and the reminder that Senior high school days were very nearly over.

Following are the names of the Blue Bloods, coached by Mr. Ken'y who pulled the Red Devils twice through the water as was the verdict of Coach Clarke and even the losing coach Mr. Robinson: Robert McCormick, Capt.; Robert Alexander, Fred Baker, Henry Bay, James Bayless, Hugo Benson, William Braithwaite, John Brannick, James Britton, John Brown, Raymond Brown, Beaton Case, Maynard Clough, Fred England, Geno Enrico, Arthur Fallon, Chester Ferris, George Fischer, Gordon Grant, Waldo Gudjunis, Raymond Heritage, Clyde Johnson, Stuart Joseph, Stanley Katsyaveck, Stewart Kennedy, Robert Lane, Norman Mahoney, William Mack, Francis Lashinaka, William Mack, John Latchett, Thomas McPartland, Fred Mildren, Sherwood Nymann, Anthony O'Bright, Andrew Renn, Kenneth Rogers, Harold Schuets, Arthur Soranton, Winston Smil, Edward Staum, Russell Stevenson, Samuel Stevenson, Hallett Stiles, Harold Tedford, Wells Tolson, Clifford Treat, Alfred Vennard, James Williams, Theodore Wright and Walter Wright.

MITCHELL FORTUNE HAS DISAPPEARED

Former Millionaire Tells Court All He Has Now is Worthless Securities. New York, June 6.—(AP)—Charles E. Mitchell, former chairman of the National City bank whose financial position was so strong that he could borrow millions from the Morgans, testified today at his income tax evasion trial that two years later his strong box held only a few worthless odds and ends.

Today he told of giving more and more of his securities to the Morgan firm to keep up the amount of his collateral. "In October, 1931, do you recall whether you had delivered to J. P. Morgan and Co. as collateral all the stocks you had?" his lawyer asked today. "I wouldn't say all," Mitchell replied. "I still had some odds and ends in my box—stock that wasn't worth putting up."

Mitchell testified today both as to a sale of stock to his wife in 1929 and to W. D. Thomson, a copper company executive in 1930, sales by which he avoided income tax payments in both those years, sales which the government charges were shams. Knew Few Details. Under questioning by his own counsel he said that many of the details of the Thomson transaction were unknown to him at the time, the whole thing having been arranged by his friend, John D. Ryan, chairman of Anaconda copper. His lawyer then asked him why transfer tax stamps had not been placed on the shares he sold his wife in 1929, stock he later bought back at the same price he sold it. "I forgot them," Mitchell replied. "I just didn't think of it."

TO REDUCE PAY

Bridgeport, June 6.—(AP)—The board of apportionment and taxation moved last night to reduce the cost of holding the special election of delegates to a convention to vote on repeal of the 18th amendment by cutting the pay of election workers. The board proposed to the Common Council an ordinance which it estimated would save $3,500 by reducing the pay schedule of the 325 election day workers by one third.

Lawlor, who had substantial support for the place, was ineligible as he lives in Forestville.

DARLING FOOL

BEGIN HERE TODAY
MONNIE O'DARE, who has long been in love with DAN GARDIGAN, arrives home from Europe to find he has been seriously injured in a motor accident.

used when he spoke Kay's name. Well, that was all right. Charles and Kay would be a wonderful couple. Monnie had a cinema flash of herself, the maiden aunt, hovering over Kay's rosy children.

Now GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XLIII
One day in late February, a day of premature spring, Monnie was walking along High street on her way home. Suddenly it seemed to her that the thud had come to her heart as well as to all the brooks and rivulets.

Next day, Dr. Waterman, black bag in hand, charged into the office where Monnie, fresh and crisp in a new white blouse and dark blue jumper, sat typing case records.

The high clouds, scudding across a piercing blue sky, matched her mood. How strange, she thought a little sadly, Charles was these days. Before he had been her friend, always there, a very lower of strength to lean on.

"No, sir?"
"Ah, there he comes now!" Dr. Waterman struggled to his feet, his great bulk blocking her view of the window.

As if in answer to her thoughts, his tall figure swung into view just as she turned the corner of her own street. Monnie's pulse quickened at sight of him.

"How are you?" He stood, staring down at her, his frown giving way to a smile.
"Hello."
"Hello."
"Hello."
"Hello."

"Did you stop at the house?" she inquired a moment later, for want of something better to say. A half constrained smile had fallen between them.

OTHER DOGS
Editor of the Herald:
The dogs of the north end are not only dogs but mischief. There are two dogs on Charter Oak street where there is a mass of home gardens, with potatoes and vegetables of every nature. These dogs are let off the strap in the evening to have a race to themselves. I witnessed them on two occasions. Those two dogs started off through the home gardens at as great a speed as the Boston express makes through the north end. Being this, I did not feel so good. I was not prepared at that time to deal with them the same as the man did with the flower dog. It is an unpleasant thing to have to take the law into one's own hand.

FLEEING CONVICTS

KIDNAP THREE MEN

took him and the two other captives drove them to a wooded spot about three miles from Riscon where they met another car in which three or four men armed with sawed-off shot guns sat. Leaving the captive trio under the guard of one man, the five or six other members of the gang piled into two automobiles and headed back to Riscon. In about half an hour or more, Fore said they returned, their looting plans evidently thwarted by the presence of the armed guard.

Fore and his companions were ordered into one of the cars which contained, Fore said, a collection of safe-cracking tools. Each car then headed toward Pine Bluff. As the cars reached a point about five miles south of that city they passed the automobile in which Pine Bluff officers were responding to an alarm sent out by Sheriff Fore since the gang was headed north toward Pine Bluff.

The gang stopped for a moment, and released Fore and his companions with an apology for having taken Fore so far from his post. Turning around, the Pine Bluff officers picked up Fore and the others and made a futile attempt to overhaul the fleeing gang, but were soon outdistanced.

M. H. S. Routs East Hartford In Season's Finale

Red and White Completes Schedule With Six Wins and Six Losses to Take Third Place in League; May Tie for Second; Mahoney, Lashinske and R. Smith Feature.

In twelve games this year, Manchester split even, winning six and losing six. In league competition the locals broke even with Meriden, Middletown and West Hartford, losing twice to Bristol and beating East Hartford twice for an average of .500. Meriden, with five victories and four defeats has a chance to clinch second place with a triumph over Middletown in the remaining league contest, scheduled for this week. A Middletown victory will cause a tie for runner-up honors between Manchester and Meriden.

Locals Tally Early.

East Hartford furnished little opposition to the local nine in yesterday's game. Manchester scored four runs on five well bunched hits in the first, added another run on one hit in the second and tallied twice on two hits in the third to end their scoring for the afternoon. Manchester threatened again in the sixth but the runners died on second and third.

Bonadies of East Hartford was driven from the mound under the opening frame barrage and replaced by Hendricks, who lasted until the fourth, when he gave way to Chopus, who hurled the remainder of the game.

Bob Smith and Norm Lashinske handled the pitching assignment for Manchester, Smith hurling the first four innings. He allowed only two hits, a double and a single, got four strikeouts and issued one walk.

With the game well in hand, Lashinske took up the burden, pitching his last game for Manchester High.

Hurlers Shine at Bat.

He pitched himself into trouble in the fifth, when East Hartford collected three singles and scored its only two runs of the game. After that Lashinske settled down and hurled fine ball. He was reached for only five hits, got five strikeouts and walked three batters.

Manchester's two pitchers also stepped into the starring roles at the plate. Bob Smith rapped out three singles in four trips to the place and Lashinske connected for two hits in four times at bat, a triple and a single, driving home one run and scoring twice himself.

Not a Strike Out.

East Hartford's trio of pitchers allowed eleven hits in all, walked four batters and failed to chalk up a single putout via the strike out route. After earning seven runs, Manchester was content to digt along on its wide lead and Coach Tom Kelley sent in a number of his second string men.

It was the last high school game Grove.

HARNESS RACING ENJOYS GREATEST REVIVAL IN YEARS

Officials Plan for Biggest Season in Recent Times, Despite Sharp Curtailment in Other Sports.

New York, June 6.—(AP)—With 10,000 horses in training for races over the country's 800 mile and half-mile tracks, high harness racing is seeing a revival of old times, when the trotters and pacers held sway in almost every city and hamlet.

Where sharp curtailments have been made in other sports, officials of the trotting and pacing game have gone ahead with plans for the biggest season in recent years.

On the Grand Circuit alone, nearly a half-million dollars will be distributed to the fittest of the country's harness horses, while it is estimated that purses on smaller circuits and at the hundreds of county fairs will total close to a million dollars.

Topped by the $50,000 Hambletonian, which will be trotted at Gothen, N. Y., Aug. 19, the majority of the stakes on the Grand Circuit have retained their high values in face of hard times.

Syracuse Back In Field

The championship Stallion Stake, valued at $12,000, will be held at Cleveland, as will the $8,000 Matron Stakes. The Lexington, Ky., meeting again will be topped by the $14,000 Futurity, while Syracuse, with its $6,000 Western Horsemen Stake and the equally rich Fox Pacing Stake, has returned to the light harness field after experimenting with running for two years.

With many of the rich stakes, including the Hambletonian, limited to three-year-old trotters, there is much interest in which colts, sires or geldings will displace the Marchioness as the champion and leading money winner of the year.

Forty speedy trotters are eligible for the blue ribbon event of the sport. Between now and post time the field may dwindle to a dozen or less as preparatory races show the class of the division.

In Calumet Dawson, E. Roland Hartman, president of the Grand Circuit, has a promising bay gelding which has shown a swift turn of speed over the Joshua mile track. William Mack, sponsor of the Hambletonian, has in his Good Time stable a son of Laurel Hall, King Ben, he is pointing to repeat the feat of his Walter Dear, winner of the 1929 running.

Calumet Dick, which cost $13,500 as the Old Glory sale, did not start as a two-year-old, but is commanding much respect in his early trials. He is owned by William Lee.

'Col. Bill' Gets Chevrons For Thirty Years' Service

Eugene, Ore., June 6.—They have given William L. "Colonel Bill" Hayward a University of Oregon sweater with 30 stripes on it—one for each year of his service as athletic coach and trainer at the school.

"It's only fitting that they should, for Bill is one of the best known trainers in the world, and his work at Oregon has turned out some track men who have gained world renown.

The old trainer once was in the camp of Gentleman Jim Corbett, before that late master of the boxing ring and won the world heavyweight title from John L. Sullivan. Before that fight Jim and Bill made a vaudeville tour together, in which Jim did the acting and Bill twisted Indian clubs.

It was that, Bill was quite a track man himself. He tells of one meet in which he competed in 22 events, winning them all. It lasted from 9 o'clock in the morning until it was too dark to do any more.

Hayward was drawn into the international picture in 1912, when he was named on the U. S. Olympic coaching staff. Since then he has been a member of the staff five times, including the last Olympic meet at Los Angeles.

One of the greatest track stars turned out by Bill was Ralph Hill. This boy was Hayward's pet. He developed him carefully until he defeated Stute Klier of Washington in a dual meet, running the mile in 4:12.4, a national intercollegiate record that still stands. That same Hill placed second in the 5000-meter run of the 1932 Olympics.

Some of the other stars developed by Hayward were Dan Kelly, his first protege, who set a mark of 3:58 seconds in the 100-yard dash that stood until Charley Faddock broke it; Ken Bartlett, discus champion who competed in the 1920 Olympics; and Ralph Spearow, pole vaulter who once held the national intercollegiate record, and who competed for Uncle Sam in the 1924 Olympics.

"Colonel Bill" Hayward 30 year a college trainer.

MAXES REST WHILE PROMOTER DEMPSEY WORKS ON DETAILS

To Install Seats in Yankee Stadium Today for Estimated Crowd of 60,000; Schmeing Still Favored.

New York, June 6.—(AP)—Trained to the minute, Max Baer and Max Schmeling can afford to take things easy until they square off for their 15-round heavyweight duel in the Yankee Stadium Thursday night but there was no rest immediately in sight for Promoter Jack Dempsey.

There's no doubt Jack has worked harder the last couple of months in his new role than he ever did when he was getting ready to defend his heavyweight championship a few years ago and the end had not yet come today.

Financially there seemed certain success but there were a thousand and one details to be worked out before Dempsey could breathe a sigh of relief and let the show go on.

The major task confronting him was the converting of the stadium into a fight arena. As soon as the New York Yankees completed their double-header with Boston today, Dempsey planned to move in a small army of workmen to set up the ring and arrange the seats. Once that's done to his satisfaction, all he'll need to worry about is the weather.

Tentatively at least Dempsey has been promised fine weather. James H. Bear, head of the New York weather bureau, says Thursday "probably will be fair." If it is, indications were a crowd of close to 60,000 would pour into the stadium for the match.

Dempsey said yesterday he had $100,000 cash in hand and another $50,000 in reservations. The expected last-minute rush for tickets was expected to send the receipts to $300,000.

Setting on the bout has been very light with Schmeling a steady 2 to 1 choice. Despite the rather general opinion that the big Californian will be quite a handful, the experts still are disposed in the German's favor.

Besides Schmeling has developed the winning habit in this country. He's fought eight times since he first came to these shores and is only one defeat came as a disputed decision Jack Sharkey gained over him last summer. It was a costly defeat, too, for with it Schmeling lost his world championship.

Aside from the German has been a consistent winner, beating Sharkey previously on a foul, knocking out Johnny Risko and Pietro Corti, and beating Joe Sekyra and Paulino Uzcudun.

As a matter of fact Baer also is in the midst of a long winning streak. The California youngster has won eight since Paulino out-pointed him in a 20-round bout at Reno, July 4, 1931. Since then he's beaten King Levinsky twice, also the late Ernie Schaaf, Tom Heeney, Jody Griffiths, Walter Cobb, Paul Swiderski, Joe Sarno, Jack Van Noy, Les Kennedy and Arthur Dekub.

Three Captains May Swing Husky Oars In Coast Race

Seattle, June 6.—(AP)—The idea saying that "too many cooks spoil the broth" doesn't worry Coach Al Ubrichson of the University of Washington as he prepares to seat three captains—past, present and future—in the Husky boat which will race in the intercollegiate rowing regatta at Long Beach, Calif., July 7 and 8.

If the young Husky mentor goes through with his plan and elects the 1934 varsity crew leader before school closes the middle of June, one-third of the Washington lineup will be made up of commanders.

All Have Regular Seats

Gordon Parrott was the leader last year and Ed Argarstinger the boss this year, while Ed Argarstinger is the leading candidate for the captaincy next season—and all three have regular seats in the 1933 Pacific Coast championship shell.

Parrott—"Polly to his teammates—tried so hard last year he rowed himself right out of the varsity boat. He paddled through the season in the jaycee shell.

With the leadership responsibility transferred to the shoulders of Mjorud this year, Parrott quickly regained his place and again pulls a powerful oar in the varsity.

Hold Coast Championship

As in the past, Ubrichson intends to elect next season's leader before school closes, which will mean that he will have a third commander in sprint titles on the Pacific Coast.

Argarstinger, a veteran stroke, appears to be the likely choice for the 1934 captaincy. He is a likable chap with big grin and nothing, except an accident, can keep him out of the Husky shell next year.

Parrott, the No. 5 oarsman, and Mjorud, the No. 3 sweeper, will be graduated.

BLACK BUDDY IS HAILED AS GREAT TWO-YEAR OLD

Colt Has All Earmarks of Champion; Is Owned by Mrs. Payne Whitney; Mr. Khayyam Trains for the Dwyer Stakes; Gold Cup Purse Same as Usual.

New York, June 6.—(AP)—Mrs. Payne Whitney, who races one of the largest stables in the country under the name of "Greentree" has in her barn an outstanding challenger for the two-year-old championship in Black Buddy, a big strapping black son of Bud Lerner and Siren.

Black Buddy was so impressive in his juvenile stakes that he was named Park last Saturday that Trainer Bill Brennan and many other horsemen predicted great things for the speedy colt. The colt has all the earmarks of a great horse. He is a rapid breaker, possesses a wonderful turn of early speed, can handle weight and appears able to run all day.

The five-furlong test Saturday was the longest he has run but he did not even take a long breath in outstepping his rivals. He wanted to win since Paulino out-pointed him in a 20-round bout at Reno, July 4, 1931. Since then he's beaten King Levinsky twice, also the late Ernie Schaaf, Tom Heeney, Jody Griffiths, Walter Cobb, Paul Swiderski, Joe Sarno, Jack Van Noy, Les Kennedy and Arthur Dekub.

Chicago, June 6.—(AP)—There will be no reduction in the purse for the Hawthorne Gold Cup, feature of the Hawthorne race meeting, but the $25,000 in added money will be split up among five horses instead of four.

Joseph A. Murphy, acting president and general manager of the Chicago Business Men's Racing Association, has announced that $5,000 of the added money will go to the second horse; $3,000 for third, $1,500 for fourth and $500 for fifth.

With second and third money worth more than the total purse of other fixtures, it is expected that the Gold Cup will attract an exceptional field.

Dates for the Gold Cup, and the Illinois Owners' Handicap, which will carry $7,500 in added money, will be announced later. The Hawthorne meeting will open July 31, running to September 2.

Behind the fine pitching of Viot, Manchester Green played heads-up ball defeating Hebron 5 to 1. The Green took advantage of the Hebron misplays coupled with timely hits to score their markers. Patricia and Cummings, both clean-up men, connected safely twice. Viot struck out 13 men while German for Hebron fanned nine.

Next Sunday the Green will take on Hose Co. No. 4 and with the strengthening of the club the Green will give the fans a fast ball game.

HIGHLAND PARK WINS

Highland Park easily won over the North End Community Club in the opening game of the Y. M. C. A. League with the score 17 to 8. Sunday, Bolton defeated Highland Park in a closely fought battle. In the first game Bolton was defeated 6-3.

Tonight Highland Park will play the Sub-Alpines at Charter Oak field at 6:15. Wednesday night Highland Park will travel to Kenney Park to play the second league game against the North End colored team.

WEST SIDERS LOSE TO JAFFE'S GEMS

Jaffe's Gems defeated the West Side Barber Shop at the Four Acres last night in a slugfest that ended in the seventh inning with the score 15-11. A total of twenty eight hits echoed through the West Side ball park as the Gems shelled Hedlund and Armstrong for eighteen while Schnell and Falkoski combined efforts to hold the Barbers to ten. Billy Schnell received credit for the Gems victory, although it was necessary for Falkoski to relieve him in the sixth after he was picked for three hits in succession and his teammates started tossing the ball all over the lot. The Barbers put in a stiff bid for victory in this inning but their rally fell short by four runs.

Pitt, Quinn, Falkoski and Holland did exceptionally well with Chopus, who led the Gems, connecting for thirteen of their teams hits, and Armstrong and Burkhardt received similar honors for the West Side Barber Shop.

Tomorrow night at 6 o'clock Cleary's Lunch meets the Rec Nine. Jaffe's Gems.

SENSE and NONSENSE

By the way, how many of the states that "borrowed" relief funds from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation have thus far made provision for a sinking fund to retire the loan?

Head of Bond Selling House— Couldn't you unload some of this paper on that rich uncle of yours? Salesman—I could, but he has named me beneficiary in his will.

A former Congressman died recently. The cause, it was reported, being hardening of the arteries. The autopsy showed it was hardening of the brain.

Wife—Of course women are as capable as men. Why, I know a girl of 23 who gets the salary of a salesman in a big business house. Husband—I don't doubt it, my dear. When did she marry him?

A MAN CAN SPEND TWENTY-FIVE YEARS GETTING HIS NAME ON THE GLASS DOOR—AND THE JANITOR CAN SCRAPE IT OFF IN FIVE MINUTES.

One man took all the comfortable chairs out of his office, and installed church pews, and the loafers have taken up but little of his time since.

There are times, when you just can't say it with flowers, moses a local man. For instance, when the roof springs a leak, the stove pipe stops up, or the plumbing gets out of order and makes a mess.

Building Contractor—Don't you see that sign: "No Work Today"? Negro Applicant—Yassah, boss, dat's why Ah applied.

SHORT THOUGHTS . . . Fifty years ago everybody felt sorry for children; now we feel sorry for parents. . . . A saxophone duet reminds us that it is well to kill two birds with one stone. . . . A large vocabulary and a large bank account have one thing in common. They may be acquired or just married. . . . It is all right to kiss the bride, if one does not wait too long after the ceremony. . . . A reputation for absolute honesty has pulled thousands of men through tough spots in life. . . . Among the things we have in too great abundance are legal ways to steal. . . . Money talks, but not when bound and gagged and thrown into a vault. . . . A job you like that pays a living is the most precious of all possessions. . . . You can't balance a budget in a depression on just by eating cheaper cuts of beef. . . . In the minds of men the future already exists. . . . Great expectations often lead to great disappointments. . . . The troubles of others are interesting because we like to compare them with our own.

A GOOD MANY FELLOWS WHO "FALL INTO MONEY" HAVE GONE RIGHT ON THRU.

Man—You haven't spoken to your wife in six months? Neighbor—I don't like to interrupt.

THERE ARE BIGGER FISH IN THE SEA THAN HAS EVER BEEN CAUGHT, BUT WHAT GOOD IS THAT TO A GIRL WHO HAS USED UP ALL HER BAIT?

When you buy a bill of groceries from the home town grocery man and he gives each of your children a stick of candy like they used to do thirty years ago, then the depression will be over.

Masie—Gee! I wish prosperity would get back. My dates have been without lately. Daisy—Mine too. My boy friend has spent all the money I had saved up for a fall coat to finance them.

The biggest blow to a boy's egotism, suggests gayful Gladys, is finding out that the girl he has been making love to as a pastime, has only been kidding him along.

Man—Does your wife play bridge for money? Neighbor—No, but her opponents do.
