PASTOR STECHHOLZ ARGUES FOR REPEAL

that is ready to perish, and wine unto those that be of heavy heart." St. Paul advises Timothy (1, Tim. 5, 23): "Drink no longer water, but use a little wine for thy stomach's sake and thine often infirmities." The Good Samaritan poured oil and wine into the wounds of him who had fallen among thieves. But even when advising the use of wine as a medicine, St. Paul does not say: "Drink much," he says: "Use a little wine." In granting the use of wine as a beverage the Bible still warns us (1, Tim. 3, 8): "Not given to much wine," and (Eph. 5, 8): "Be not drunk with wine, and again (1, Cor. 10, 31): "Whether, therefore, ye eat, or drink, or whatever ye do, do all to the glory of God."

Against Drunkenness
The Bible contains many earnest warnings not against wine drinking in itself, but against the sin of drunkenness. "Wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging, and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise (Prov. 20, 1)." "Be not among wine-bibbers (Prov. 23, 30)." "Woe unto him that giveth his neighbor drink, that putteth thy bottle in his way, maketh him drunken also (Hab. 2, 15)." "Who hath we? who hath sorrow? who hath contentions? who hath babbling? who hath wounds without cause? who hath redness of eyes? They that tarry long at the wine, they that go to seek mixed wine. Look not thou upon the wine when it is red, when it giveth his color in the cup, when it moveth itself aright. At the last it biteth like a serpent and stingeth like an adder. Thine eyes shall behold strange women, and thine heart shall utter perverse things (Prov. 23, 29-33)."

In the New Testament, counting up the most prominent works of the flesh, God in Gal. 5, 19-21 also mentions drunkenness. And in 1, Cor. 6, 10 we are told: "Drunkards shall not inherit the kingdom of God." And now Christ not to be full of drunkenness lest the Day of Judgment come on us unawares! Who will dare say that all these and many other passages sound as though God prohibits wine drinking in itself, where iniquity is in the mind?

Blind Conscience
But some would bind the conscience of Christians to abstain wholly from all intoxicating drinks and bring Scripture to bear on the question. They quote Jer. 35, 6: "Ye shall drink no wine, neither ye, nor your sons forever." If people bring this as a command to abstain from drinking they must also abstain from building houses and sowing seed, and they must all their days dwell in tents, for all these commands are found there. That was a special command to the Jews to his sons and does not concern us any more than the command of God that Samson's hair should not be cut. Again people cite Col. 2, 21: "Touch not, taste not, handle not."

But these words are a boomerang for the quoter, for St. Paul calls them "doctrines of men" and bids the people not to be obedient to the same. Furthermore these people quote Prov. 23, 31: "Look not thou upon the wine when it is red etc." But it is very plain from the context that this passage is directed against the abuse of wine, against drunkenness, and in this light only may it be used.

So from the above we plainly see that a Christian's conscience cannot be bound by the Bible to total abstinence, and that those who try to do violence to God's Word and put the yoke of human doctrines on the shoulders of men as though they were the commandments of God. With all firmness, though also with all gentleness, we must resist all such false use of the Bible and defend such passages as Gal. 5, 1: "Stand fast therefore in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free, and be not entangled again with the yoke of bondage." And 1, Cor. 8, 8: "Meat commendeth us not to God, for neither, if we eat, are we the better; neither, if we eat not, are we the worse." Again Col. 2, 16: "Let no man, therefore, judge you in meat, or in drink." Furthermore Rom. 14, 3: "Let not him that eateth despise him that eateth not; and let not him which eateth not judge him that eateth." And what Paul says here of the eating of the meat sacrificed to idols will hold good in respect to the use of drinks, stronger than pure water. Another passage: 1, Tim. 4, 5: "Every creature of God is good and nothing to be refused, if it is sanctified by the Word of God and prayer." And finally Tit. 1, 16: "I know and am persuaded by the Lord Jesus, that there is nothing unclean of itself." If our Methodist and Baptist friends would only study such and similar passages, they would soon see, how wrong it is to inflict compulsory total abstinence upon such as know how to use drinks, stronger than water in the right way.

What Is Meaning
But in defending this liberty of the Gospel word by Christ we must not "use our liberty for a cloak of maliciousness (1, Pet. 2, 16)," we must "not put a stumbling block or an occasion to fall in our brother's way (Rom. 14, 13)." Paul says: "All things are lawful to me, but all things are not expedient," and again: "If thy brother be grieved with thy meat, now walkest thou not charitably. Destroy not him with thy meat, for whom Christ died. It is good neither to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor anything, whereby thy brother is offended, or stumbled, or is made weak (Rom. 14, 15, 21)."

What do these words mean? They mean, if my brother's salvation is endangered by my example, I am to abstain from eating or drinking a certain article or from anything else. Thereby I fulfill the law of Christian love, I bear with the brother weak in faith. I bring a cheerful self-denial, I show the spirit of the Gospel of Christ. If for this reason a man becomes a "teetotaler," his action is worthy of all honor and the highest praise. Although the Bible does not by precept or principle forbid the use of alcoholic drinks, still drunkenness is a sin, and Christ is the only physician able to effect a real cure; His medicine is the Gospel, the power of God unto salvation. But, since not all will permit themselves to be reached by the Gospel, some states, counties, towns and cities did forbid the trade in liquors in order to stem the tide of drunkenness. And now we have the Federal law. Whatever Christians may think of such laws as citizens we are bound to respect and obey them, as long as they stand. "Put them in mind to obey magistrates" Paul says to Titus (3, 1). "Submit yourself to every ordinance of man for the Lord's sake (1, Pet. 2, 13)." "Let every soul be subject unto the higher powers. For there is no power but of God. The powers that be are ordained of God. Whosoever therefore resisteth the power, resisteth the ordinance of God; and they that resist shall receive to themselves damnation. Wherefore ye must needs be subject, not only for wrath, but also for conscience sake (Rom. 13, 1, 2, 5)."

Get Something Better
A Christian must hinder drunkenness wherever he can, because it is a sin. But a Christian is also a citizen of the state. And this is a "government of the people, by the people, and for the people," as Lincoln well said at Gettysburg. We are the people; the government is our servant. Drunkenness is a great danger to our social well-being. As citizens seeking the welfare of the state, our conscience must compel us to do all in our power to hinder drunkenness. The Bible does not prescribe in what manner this should be done. Political experience must teach us the best measures for that purpose, whether it be prohibition as a police regulation, or local option, or high license, or whatever also statesmen may devise. Our former President Hoover in his speech of acceptance said: "If the people do not like a law it is their duty to discourage transgression of the law, but it is their right openly to work for its repeal." And that is what American citizens are now trying to bring about, since the present law has not worked out well, as every one with open eyes well knows. May our country bring about this repeal and may our statesmen then be given the necessary wisdom to substitute something better!"

REV. H. F. R. STECHHOLZ.

BANK LEGISLATION IN STATE LIBERAL

Important Bills Passed During Recent Session — Depositors Safeguarded.

Hartford, June 16.—(AP)—Connecticut, looked on by her sister states as one of the seats of conservatism, has placed a wealth of liberal banking legislation on her statute books to prove her boldness in emergencies.

Sitting during the trying period which brought temporary suspension of virtually all banking activities, the General Assembly handled the difficult bank problem first by providing the governor and the bank commissioner with unprecedented powers to deal with the problems born of the bank holiday and then proceeding to re-write large sections of the banking code.

Much of the burden of guiding the bank program through the legislature fell on Senator John M. Wadhams, member of the banks committee.

Reviews Situation

A Torrington banker, Senator Wadhams said today in reviewing the accomplishments of the General Assembly:

"Probably the most outstanding piece of banking legislation was the passage of substitute for Senate bill 457 permitting any state bank and trust company with a capital and surplus of not less than $1,000,000 to establish branches within the town in which it is located or to establish branches in any other town or towns within the state providing the town in which the branch is established is not already served by a commercial bank.

"When branches are established outside the town in which the parent bank is located, the parent bank is required to have capital and surplus of at least $200,000 in excess of the minimum of $1,000,000 for each branch established. If a branch were to be established in another city, with a population of more than fifty thousand inhabitants, the parent bank would be required to have a capital and surplus of $400,000 in excess of the said $1,000,000 minimum for each branch established. Savings banks are also given similar powers to establish branches.

Better Safeguarded

"The restrictions placed around other important accomplishments, legislation enacted during the banking holiday, a mass of laws pertaining to the general powers of all classes of banks and building and loan associations, the granting of permission to state supervised financial institutions to join the Federal Reserve system and the Federal Home Loan Bank system, bills dealing with the sale of securities and a measure reducing the interest rate on small loans from 42 to 36 per cent a year.

Outstanding Bill

Under one bill termed "outstanding" by Wadhams the time for paying back loans to building and loan associations is almost doubled.

"Under present law," Wadhams explained, "building and loan associations are permitted to issue shares of an accumulated value of $200 only. These shares usually mature in between 11 and 12 years; hence, a borrowing member of a building and loan association, is forced to pay his entire mortgage within this period. The amendments will permit building and loan associations, not only to issue shares of a mature value of $200 each, but also of $300 and $400 each. A member desirous of owning his home will, by subscribing to shares of $300 each be able to retire his mortgage in a period of 15 to 16 years, while if he subscribed in the $400 class, he will have from 19 to 20 years to pay his debt. In the event that a member desires to pay his loan in a shorter period, he may subscribe to shares of $100 which would provide for full payment in seven to eight years."

"Not only was the interest rate on small loans reduced, but regulations dealing with these companies were made more stringent."

"The annual license fee has been increased from $100 to $200," Wadhams said, "and any new applicant for a license must prove to the bank commissioner that he has a capital investment of not less than $25,000 which will be permanently employed in the place of business specified in the applications."

KILLED BY TRAIN

Peabody, Mass., June 16.—(AP)—The crushed body of John Doherty, 35, father of two small children, was found on the Lowell branch of the Boston and Maine railroad today at about 3:15 a. m. Members of the train crew who found the body on the tracks near Peabody Square, expressed the opinion that their train had struck Doherty when passing that spot about an hour earlier, enroute for Danvers.

Queer Twists In Day's News

Tulsa, Okla.—Lawrence Michaelis, 93, Civil War veteran, enjoyed bus riding with Mrs. Susie Knowles, 58, a widow, about Tulsa.

He telephoned his daughter, Mrs. Ellen Cleveland, who had reported him missing, from Sapulpa, 15 miles on the way to Mexico, and said:

"I bought a used car and we came here and got married. We're on our way south."

New York—Dr. Thomas Francis Fox, retiring today after being master at the New York School for the Deaf for 50 years, said:

"It's been a long time and I've learned a good deal. The deaf are proud. I never beggar, I never knew a deaf beggar. And they are a kindly lot of people."

Charleston, W. Va.—The left hind foot of a rabbit fell from a letter opened in the governor's office. It was sent by a convict in the penitentiary with his plea for a parole.

Chicago—As Patrick Nyhan, 66, explained it to the court he wasn't trying to drown himself when he jumped off a bridge.

"I saw," he said, "such a big fish swim by that I became excited and fell in."

Inasmuch as the police were put to some trouble taking him from the water, the judge put him under a peace bond.

Milwaukee, Wis.—Physicians have found a new job for vitamins—curing "smooth tongue" in which the surface of the tongue becomes smooth and shiny.

Doctors William S. Middleton and Adolph Hutter of Madison, Wis. told the American Medical Association about smooth tongue, which they described as a symptom of anemia and some digestive diseases and pellagra.

The doctors said they found that when rats were deprived of Vitamin B they developed smooth tongue.

New York—The "had boy" of the home of Old Israel is back, safe and contented. Sam Rothstein, who is only 99, disappeared yesterday. Eight hours later, while attendants were frantically searching for him, he strolled back, clad in bathrobe and black skull cap, explaining "he had felt like going places."

The attendants had got excited because a year ago Sam ran away, went swimming, and was almost drowned.

Chicago—The College Art Association was told by Harold Stark, lecturer, that art must have the stigma of effeminacy and "cheap Bohemianism" removed to find a useful place in the daily life of schools and colleges.

"Art, long the 'sissy' of the college galaxy of gods, must be elevated," he said.

Erie, Pa.—Edward Hiller, 44, former baseball player, has umpired his last game.

Two city teams were playing, "Strike!" Hiller called. Then he collapsed behind home plate and died.

Concord, N. C.—Hereafter when he makes an address, says Rev. Paul Hardin, Jr., Methodist minister, he is going to request there be no music.

His reasons: At the conclusion of a recent sermon a male quartet began singing "How Tenuous and Tasteless." When he finished a baccalaureate sermon to the high school graduates the Glee Club sang "Awake! Awake!"

Alton, Ill.—H. M. Johnson's cow "Rosie" is a mother again for the fifth time within a year. She gave birth to triplets last July. Now she is the mother of twins. The animal is eight years old.

New Philadelphia, O.—Charges that her husband, Clarence O. Cotten, had not taken a bath for five years and had limited her to the use of two matches a day were contained in the divorce petition filed by Mrs. Eunice O. Cotten, Dennison, O.

San Francisco—T. J. Kennedy, San Francisco director of R. O. T. C. and high school bands and for 32 years a Navy bandmaster, advised musically inclined young people to study the flute, guitar, trombone or almost anything but the saxophone. Its days of popularity are about over, he declared.

Bend, Ore.—"There's gold in them thar shirts," observed French Butler, local laundryman, as he examined freshly washed garments. Bend gets its water from the south fork of Tumalo Creek, scene of gold mining operations.

Fine flakes of gold were in the laundry water.

Made Defendant in Sum of $10,000 as Result of Accident on Spencer Street.

Morris Pasternack, driver of the automobile that struck and injured Eleanor LaChance on Spencer street, resulting in the little girl suffering a broken limb and being treated at the Manchester Memorial hospital, late last month, has been made defendant in a suit for $10,000 that has been brought against him by the girl, through her next of kin. Property owned by Mr. Pasternack on Earl street, Hartford, has been attached in the amount of $10,000. Mr. Pasternack did not have his car covered by insurance at the time of the accident.

MEXICAN BEAN BEETLE DISCOVERED IN COUNTY

Farm Bureau Warns About Pest—Spraying and Dusting Methods Explained.

The Mexican bean beetle has made its appearance in Hartford County gardens according to an announcement made by the Hartford County Farm Bureau. This insect is becoming so plentiful in Hartford County that there is danger of its completely destroying the bean crop unless effective spraying or dusting is carried on by the grower. Beans should not be allowed to remain too thick in the row because the dense foliage interferes with effective control.

The experiments at the New Haven Experiment Station last year showed that even on sprayed beans, the percentage of clean beans was 30 per cent greater where the beans were 4 inches apart in the row instead of two inches apart. Evidence at the experiment station last year indicated that beans planted before May 15 and between June 1 and 11 escaped most of the injury although the yield on these beans was materially improved by spraying and dusting.

The spray mixture recommended by the experiment station is three pounds of magnesium arsenate, 2 pounds of Cassia lime and 100 gallons of water. The dust mixture recommended are 1. Monohydrated copper sulfate-calcium arsenate dust (copper-calcium arsenate) 1 pound and hydrated lime 5 pounds.

Schedule of planting and spraying dates recommended by the station are as follows:

Planting date, before June 1; spraying dates, June 7 and 21; dusting dates, June 7 and 14.

Planting dates, June 1 to 15; spraying date, July 1; dusting dates, July 1 and 8.

Planting dates June 15 to July 5; spraying dates, July 29 and Aug. 9; dusting dates, July 23, 29 and Aug. 9.

Planting dates, July 5 to Aug. 4; spraying dates, Aug. 5 and 15; dusting dates, July 23, Aug. 1, 8 and 16.

Lima and pole beans, according to the station require applications about June 15 and 25, July 20 and 30 and August 9.

If further information is desired on the control of this pest, requests should be referred to the Farm

GULF ADDS 90 TRUCKS TO ITS EQUIPMENT

Announcement today that the Gulf Refining Company has added 90 more large tank trucks to its original record-breaking order increases the importance of this latest "business recovery" sign.

The complete order, totaling 242 tank trucks of the most modern "skirted" types, includes 60 White Tank Trucks, 152 Mack Tank Trucks, 20 Dodge Tank Trucks, and 10 G. M. C. Tank Trucks.

According to an official of the Gulf Refining Company, this huge purchase is a logical move on the part of his organization to anticipate better business conditions and to prepare Gulf in advance to meet the predicted demand for high quality gasolines and motor oils this summer. All signs point to more motor car traveling than ever before, he says. Fresh gasoline is dependent in part upon prompt deliveries from refineries to tank wagon stations and service stations. Hence this most recent insurance, despite the large expenditure, is fully justified.

WINE IN THE BIBLE. Religious people who have been taking it for granted that it was their duty, as Christians, to oppose the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, even though they have been assailed by doubts concerning the practicability of prohibition, are respectfully referred to the article appearing elsewhere in this newspaper dealing with Biblical authority on the subjects of alcoholic liquors and drunkenness, which has been painstakingly prepared by Rev. H. F. R. Stechholz, pastor of the Zion Lutheran Church.

IN NEW YORK. By PAUL HARRISON. New York, June 16.—Some of the elder gentry around the fringes of Broadway night life declare there's nothing new about the "tat" racket. It has been known, they say, ever since the days of Bowery music halls.

CONGRESS ADJOURNS.

Congress, yielding after a relatively short but desperately fought battle to the President's position in the matter of veteran benefits, has completed the work for which the special session was called and has adjourned, leaving the stupendous job of instituting business and economic recovery in the hands of an administration which has received every power for which it asked.

Never before in peace time—never, for that matter, at any time—has so vast a measure of responsibility rested upon the executive branch of the American government. To it has been delegated a degree of authority wholly without parallel in our history.

If complete or comparative failure to start the wheels of recovery—to set them moving, indeed, with a considerable degree of rapidity—should eventuate from the proceedings of the federal government in the next six months, Mr. Roosevelt and his associates will be without the slightest grounds for apology or for pleas in extenuation.

FEDERAL GANG HUNT. The San Francisco Chronicle is attempting to start a whooping movement throughout the United States with the end in view of so extending the police power of the federal government that it may bring its full force to bear in the suppression of the criminal gangs that infest almost every state.

We have a different idea of this question. It is our faith that in substantially every large city in the country which suffers from gang rule the police could and would destroy the gangs in forty-eight hours if they had anything like adequate support from the courts.

SILVER PAYMENT.

The tender by the British government of ten million dollars on account as an acknowledgment of its war debt installment obligation, and the virtual acceptance of the tender by this country without any claim of default, is just about what has been expected, in view of the tacit understanding that has existed for several weeks that the whole subject of debt revision was to be deferred until after the Economic Conference had had a chance to see what it could do.

Of considerable interest, however, is the fact that the payment is to be made by Britain in silver at 50 cents a fine ounce. That is, according to the same day's quotations, about 15 cents an ounce above the open market price.

TWO OFFICIALS. To the police, lawyers, newspapermen and those less frequent and perhaps less enthusiastic visitors at the local police court who would just as lief not be there, the withdrawal of Attorney Charles R. Hathaway from the post of town prosecutor will inevitably seem to be a dislocation of the natural order of affairs.

The chronic thunders along in quite admirable style through a description of the situation, portraying the ferocious assaults of the underworld upon society, upon business, upon the individual; its machine gun sorties and its fortified strongholds; it does very well with the feebleness and ineptness of the separate states to cope with the dire problem; but it becomes a little less forceful and clear sighted when it undertakes to show that the Constitution need not stand in the way of intervention, and eventually winds up with something very much like a suggestion that the least the federal government could do would be to co-operate.

It is impossible to refrain from reflecting, in sure anticipation of the manner in which police court prosecutions will be handled by such a prosecutor as Mr. Shea, on this town's good fortune in the failure of the district court scheme under which the troubles of its people DEMAND MADE FOR FACTS ON BIG SALARIES. Corporations Borrowing From U. S. Assailed for Size of Their Payrolls.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER. Washington, June 16.—The demand for publicity for salaries of officials of large corporations, especially those under some form of government regulation, has been intensified by recent revelations. Huge salaries are being paid to heads of corporations which borrow from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, which have led in the movement for wage reductions and whose officers frequently have been able to avoid taxes on hundreds of thousands of dollars of income by claiming deductions for stock market losses.

Resolution Far-Reaching. His resolution would require the Federal Reserve Board to report the salary schedule of officers and directors of Reserve System banks, the R. F. C. to report salaries of officials of other banks to which it has lent money, the Interstate Commerce Commission on the salaries of railroad officials, the Federal Power Commission the salaries of public utilities officials and the Federal Trade Commission on salaries of corporations engaged in interstate commerce and having capital or assets of more than $1,000,000, whose securities are listed on the New York exchanges.

HOW DEMOCRATS KEPT THEIR PARTY PLEDGES

A Brief Resume of Their Platform and the Measures Passed During the Session of Congress.

Washington, June 16.—(AP)—Here is a brief resume of the Democratic platform and the measures passed during the special session toward fulfillment of its promises.

Economy: A 25 per cent savings in government expenditures was advocated.

Under the Economy Act, the President was given power to reduce veterans compensation and government salaries at an estimated saving of over a half billion dollars. The administration estimates that the reductions made and those to come will be about $1,000,000,000.

Budget: Maintenance of the "national credit" through a balanced budget was urged.

Through the Economy Act and the revenue expected from beer, the latest administration figures are that the budget for the next fiscal year will lack only about $120,000,000 of meeting expenditures.

Currency: "A sound currency is to be preserved at all hazards," the platform said, and an international monetary conference to consider the rehabilitation of silver was advocated.

The administration took the country off the gold standard and Congress gave the President power to inflate the currency through open market operations, the issuance of greenbacks or reducing the gold content of the dollar. The gold payment clause in existing contracts was abrogated by law. The London economic conference is now considering currency stabilization and the renationalization of silver.

Tariffs: The platform urged a competitive tariff "for revenue," a fact finding tariff commission free from executive interference and reciprocal tariff agreements with other countries.

Congress did not take up the question of tariffs. Unemployment and relief: Grants to states for relief was approved in the platform; a public works program, including the "St. Lawrence-Great Lakes deep waters" and the spread of employment through the shorter work week were included.

The Congress voted $500,000,000 for direct relief grants to states; authorized a $3,300,000,000 public works program. The industries control measures provides the means for a reduction in working hours. The St. Lawrence-Great Lakes waterway pact with Canada was not ratified.

Agriculture: Refinancing of farm mortgages and comprehensive legislation to control surpluses and raise farm prices were promised by the platform.

The secretary of agriculture was given wide authority to employ any one or all of several relief plans to raise prices. A $2,000,000,000 bond issue for the refinancing of farm mortgages was voted. National Defense: The platform called for a Navy and Army "adequate for National defense," but a reduction if possible of an "expenditure fast approaching a billion dollars annually."

The administration, directed economies to reduce expenditures in both branches of the service but additional Naval building and Army airplane construction programs were authorized in the $3,300,000,000 public works measure.

Anti-trust laws and water power. A "strict and impartial enforcement of the anti-trust laws was urged as was development of "water power in the public interest."

The anti-trust laws were set aside in the farm, railroad and industries control bill to allow combinations under government supervision. Congress created a Tennessee valley authority providing for government ownership and operation of Muscle Shoals.

Prohibition: The platform advocated repeal of the 18th Amendment; state laws to prevent the return of the open saloon; protection for dry states from liquor shipments in the event of repeal and modification of the Volstead Act, pending repeal.

The last session of the 72nd Congress submitted the question of repeal to the states. The special session modified the Volstead Act to allow the sale of 3.2 beer and wine.

Securities holding company and exchange regulation: Protection to the investing public through full publicity for security issues was advocated. Regulation of holding companies selling securities in interstate commerce, for utilities operating across state lines and for the Stock and Grain Exchanges were urged.

The securities act directed full publicity on new issues and penalties for misrepresentation and fraud. Control of railroad holding companies was provided in the railroad measure.

Banking: Divorcement of securities affiliates from banks under government supervision, stricter regulation of National banks and prevention of speculation to the detriment of credit were called for.

All these are embodied in the Glass-Steagall banking reform bill which is directed toward a unified national banking system. In addition, the measure provides a limited deposit guarantee.

Veterans: A "full measure of justice and generosity" to veterans suffering disability and disease as the result of service and to their dependents was promised in the platform.

The Economy Act gave the President power to remove veterans with non-service disability from the comto the United States by foreign nations." The subject did not formally come before Congress.

Territories: Independence for the Philippines was urged, as was ultimate statehood for Puerto Rico.

The 72nd Congress voted Philippine independence, subject to ratification by the island Legislature. The platform also called for simplification of legal procedure, reorganization of the judicial system and strengthening of the election laws.

The subjects were not considered by Congress.

The eight-hour working day was inaugurated in Germany through regulations passed in 1918 and 1919.

War debts: The platform said: "We oppose the cancellation of the debts owing

HAY FEVER HERE; DEPT. OF HEALTH OFFERS LEAFLET

Describes Inoculation by Pollen Extracts as Means of Lessening or Curing Sneezes Season Suffering.

With the "season of sneezes" at hand, the State Department of Health today issued a bulletin offering without charge copies of its leaflet on hay fever. The bulletin also said that some measure of relief from hay fever, if not actual cure, may be sought by skin tests by physicians to determine which pollen or pollens are the offending agents, followed by inoculation with extracts of the pollen found to be the cause. Such treatments to be of benefit should be started several weeks in advance of the time when a person usually develops "the sneezes."

About one percent of the population each year is afflicted with hay fever or will be when the late season is on from August until the frost begins. Many people escape either because they are immune to hay fever or do not frequent the places where the hay fever plants abound. The plants causing hay fever at this time are orchard grass, red top, meadow fescue, timothy and prairie. Ragweed pollen causes most of the later suffering. The pollen from these plants may be carried long distances by the wind, so that even people in the thickly populated districts are afflicted. Usually, however, these plants with inconspicuous blossoms grow unnoticed in the backyard or the vacant lot next door. Their pollens are easily blown about, so that hay fever victims suffer most when it is windy but have some relief after a rain when there is less pollen in the air.

The bulletin suggests that it would be profitable for local scouts or city fathers to promote a campaign to keep vacant areas well cut and thus to eliminate the offending plants.

MIAMI PLANS BIG SLATE OF SPORTS FOR NEXT WINTER

Florida Playground to Have Huge Athletic Campaign; May Also Have Title Fight; All Optimistic.

Miami, Fla., June 15.—(AP)—Still chuckling over its success the past season, Miami is busy this summer drawing plans for a bigger and better sports campaign next winter.

Topping the program of activities will be the $10,000 Miami Biltmore open golf tournament, in which the auto may be raised, and the $10,000 added Florida derby that will close the racing season at Hialeah.

Along with these will be offered the Miami open and the classic international four-ball team tournament, the racing season at Tropical Park, greyhound racing at three tracks, the Pan-American tennis tournament, the international Miami Beach Biscayne Bay regatta, a host of golf tournaments for amateurs and women and a wide selection of minor sports.

Talk of Title Fight Plans are under discussion for a prize fight, possibly of title significance. A large arena is available here, the open air bowl in which Jack Sharkey, present heavyweight champion, fought Phil Scott of England and Young Stribling of Georgia, and where Primo Carnera battled Jimmy Maloney of Boston.

Leading resort hotels are making plans to open their doors earlier than they did last season. The first probably will be ready for guests October 1, and others will follow closely.

CADDIE TO KING. By Laufer

Lack of Money Keeps Him Out Of British Matches

Omaha, Neb., June 15.—The new holder of the National Open title is a Lithuanian youth from "across the tracks." His rise from a caddie boy to Open honors is a story that rivals the most fanciful "rise and shine" yarn ever printed.

Johnny Goodman is the boy. At 24, after a battle that started with the death of his mother, which left five smaller children on his hands, Goodman, a poor boy playing the rich man's game, has climbed golf's pinnacle and refuses to cash in on his feat and turn professional. The act would probably net him $45,000 in the next year.

After the death of his mother, Johnny had the choice of either working in a meat packing house with the rest of the 12-year-olds in his neighborhood or becoming a golf caddie. He took the latter job and started his long climb to fame.

The money he earned was so small from those days, with five brothers and sisters to help support. He had no extra money to buy equipment. He had to content himself with an occasional old club that came his way. With this miscellaneous outfit he picked up his golf.

In no time the boy from across the railroad tracks in South Omaha had beaten his way to golf champion of the caddies. The city and state pros began to notice him, and gave him pointers now and then.

With a set of borrowed clubs, Johnny entered the Omaha city tournament in 1925 and won the championship at the age of 16. His career as a caddie had ended and that as a golfer had started.

Then followed a series of state tournaments and finally the Trans-Mississippi tournament at St. Louis in 1928. He bumped his way to the tournament with two friends and shot good enough golf to win through to the semi-finals. In 1927, Johnny and his two friends hopped a freight train to play in the Trans-Mississippi again, this time as a caddie on the train.

Coach Foley has the boys out working hard so as to break into the win column this Saturday.

BUDDIES NOSE OUT TORCH CLUB, 2-1

County Y League Tilt Is Marred by 13 Errors; Win Game in Last Frame.

In a closely fought game, marred by thirteen errors, seven for the Torch Club and five for the West Side Buddies, the latter team won its second County Y league game at the West Side field last night by a score of 2 to 1.

The Buddies opened the scoring in the third when Vennart scored on Cobb's error. Lacos was safe on a misplay by Frisney, on which Vennart reached third on a throw to the next pitch. Lacos went to third on a sacrifice by Ford and scored on a wild pitch.

The scoring remained thus until the seventh, when the Torch Club scored one run on a three bagger by Berger. The latter scoring on an error by Chapman. The next three batters were retired in order. The Buddies won the game in the last of the seventh, when with one out on the Torch Club's pitcher, Chapman, on an error by Geo. Angelo, stole second and scored on Ford's hit to Deyorlo.

The West Side Buddies will practice at the West Side tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. All members must be on hand.

GREEN NINE IS UPSET BY ALL-STARS BY 9-8

The Center Spring's All-Stars sprang a surprising upset last night by edging Manchester Green, 9 to 8, after the Green nine had piled up a four-run margin by the fourth inning. The All-Stars came through with three runs in the fourth, added six more in the fifth and staged off a rally in the next frame to gain the victory.

The Green will play the Baldwin Varsity tonight at the Grove at 8 o'clock. The Green will meet the Pioneers Sunday, also at the Grove at 2:15 o'clock. This will be the second game between the Pioneers and the Green, the latter having won the first, 5 to 4, in 11 innings.

Whitney and Lee Now with Braves

Philadelphia, June 16.—(AP)—Arthur (Pinkey) Whitney, the Phillies' captain and third baseman, and Left Fielder Hal Lee will play in the Philadelphia National League baseball park today—but with the Boston Braves.

Gerald P. Nugent, club president, announced last night the trade of the two players to the Braves in exchange for outfielder Wesley Schulmerich, infielder Fritz Knoche and an unspecified amount of cash.

Nugent declared that the cash was the primary consideration in hatching the deal just a few hours before the bars went up in the baseball market place last midnight.

Knoche has been playing third base for the Braves, and Schulmerich in the outfield. They are expected to play the same positions with the Phils.

Deal Explained "The deal was only made after the greatest consideration," said Nugent. "Several other trades were suggested, but we feel that in mixing one we are giving the team the most strength, and at the same time gaining the most cash."

Whitney came to the Phils in 1929 from New Orleans in a draft deal. Lee formerly played with the Brooklyn Dodgers, and came to Philadelphia along with Pitchers Jumbo Elliott and Clyde Dudley in a swap that sent Lefty O'Doul and France Thompson to Brooklyn.

Schulmerich and Knoche are graduates of the Pacific Coast League.

RED SOX WIN 4TH STRAIGHT FROM WORLD CHAMPS, 8 TO 5

Paris, June 15.—(AP)—Peggy, the English girl who traveled at the expense of the British lawn tennis association—Betty Nuthall and Mary Healey, ranked No. 1 in England.

Peggy Shows Net Moguls A Thing Or Two Or Three

Among her conquests were two of the chosen few who traveled at the expense of the British lawn tennis association—Betty Nuthall and Mary Healey, ranked No. 1 in England.

She played her final match against Madame Rene Mathieu, France's No. 1, with an almost foolhardy confidence and won, 6-2, 4-6, 6-4.

Extremely cool under fire, she resisted the experienced Frenchwoman's tactics shot for shot and thought for thought until she found her desired opening and then whizzed one past for victory.

Went Mixed Doubles Peggy was unknown to French fans. She appeared last winter on covered courts, but she came and went without applause.

She won two titles at Antwerp, the singles and the mixed doubles with Jack Crawford, the Australian who beat Henri Cochet for the men's title in straight sets.

Peggy went home certain she would appear among the first ten players when England's next list comes out.

YALE, HARVARD CREWS SET FOR FOUR MILE RACE OVER THAMES TONIGHT

Yale by 25 Leader, the former Washington star. Heavyweight Class Race Despite the two straight setbacks they have experienced, the Elis do not regard Cassidy's crew as invincible. Yale concedes nine pounds a man to Harvard's heavyweights, who average 187, but the Elis has speed as well as resources for the long pull. Underfated as a "sprint" combination, this year, Yale has shown enough stuff in practice over the full route to warrant the expectation of a close race and a chance for victory.

The Harvard-Yale boat races today over the picturesque Thames river, and opposite shores marked with the historic of Revolutionary war days, furnished the climax for another year of a century competition between America's oldest college athletic rivals.

Yale's followers had the first chance to cheer, as a result of a three length victory for the "Blue" combination crew of substitutes over a similar Harvard eight last evening, rowed over a two-mile course, but crimson adherents refused to accept this as any criterion of the outcome of today's main struggles for Freshman, "Jayvee" and Varsity supremacy.

A Riot of Color Overnight the broad downstream expanse of the river, between the old whaling port and the grass green heights of Fort Grailwood, bustling with the naval pageantry which makes this regatta a riot of color and conditions otherwise may change the picture. Its richness of tradition knows no definition.

There were hundreds of small craft and dozens of the biggest seagoing yachts afloat, bringing back for a day old grandiose who's who of business and social aristocracy. Crimson and Blue banners flew against the soft green background of the hills as boats anchored along both sides of the winding four-mile course from Bartlett's Cove to the railroad bridge. In contrasting dull gray, destroyers moved slowly into strategic positions, while Coast Guard launches chugged busily about, directing water traffic.

Two Races in Morning Upstream, crew quarters at Red Trench and Gales Ferry buzzed with last minute preparations for the two morning races, the first at 9 a. m., Eastern Standard time, for freshmen eights, and the second at 9:30 for the junior varsities, both over the upper two-mile course, from the cove to the submarine base.

These preliminaries served mainly as appetizers for the big race, the four-mile varsity pull down the river, bringing the regatta to its grand climax this evening, starting at 6:45 p. m., for upwards of 40,000 spectators.

Harvard Favored Harvard ruled a slight favorite to capture the main event for the third successive year with a heavier and more experienced eight, stroked by a young giant, "Gerry" Cassidy, who has paced three successive crews to triumph over the Elis on the Thames. First as a freshman command and twice as a veteran crew-mates think they have the "Indian Sign" on their rivals and the betting favored them at 5 to 4.

Not since the Crimson's last big winning streak, from 1908 to 1912, inclusive, has Harvard won as many as three varsity races in a row. Until Cassidy came along with a batch of broad shouldered boys, coached by Charley Whitfield, and took control of the avaral situation here, Harvard offered relatively little resistance to the smooth working eights produced at

RISE FROM CELLAR TO 7TH PLACE AS YANKS LOSE AGAIN

Cubs Blank Pirates, 5-0, On 4-Hit Pitching; Braves Drub Giants, 7-4, Cutting Lead to Half Game.

Cubs Blank Pirates, 5-0, On 4-Hit Pitching; Braves Drub Giants, 7-4, Cutting Lead to Half Game.

The Boston Red Sox, cellar dwellers of the American League almost since time immemorial have climbed out of their usual position to the dizzy heights of seventh place. The humble tail-enders picked on the New York Yankees, world champions, and league leaders, as the instrument of their rise and won four straight games. An to 5 triumph yesterday, finally lifted them above the idle St. Louis Browns by the slim margin of a half game.

The Yankee-Red Sox tilt was the only one played in the junior circuit as Cleveland and Detroit were rained out, and the other clubs had an open date.

The continued progress of the Chicago Cubs who heaped further indignities on the Pittsburgh Pirates furnished the main interest in the national league.

The Cubs walloped the Pirates 5 to 0, behind Lyle Tinning's four hit pitching and out the distance between fourth place and third to one game. Tinning was wild but effective in the pitcher's box.

The Boston Braves finally turned on the New York Giants and batted out a 7-4 victory scoring all but one of their runs in the fourth inning. With St. Louis and Cleveland enjoying a day of idleness, New York remained in first place a half game ahead of the Cardinals.

The Brooklyn Dodgers out loose with some of their heaviest hitting of the season, piling up 21 safeties to defeat the Phillies 5-3.

BASEBALL

Chicago, June 17.—(AP)—The faces of George Gibson, Grover Hartley and Pletcher Hal Smith of the Pittsburgh Pirates were still red today—because of an experience with the old hidden ball trick. Smith was the victim in yesterday's game with the Chicago Cubs, while Gibson, who lodged an official protest, and Hartley, felt responsibility as they were on the coaching lines.

Smith opened the fifth with a double and after Lloyd Waner had fired out, his brother Paul lined one at Babe Herman. Herman came in fast, merrid the ball and tossed it to Bill Jurgens. Umpire Pfirman ruled Herman had tripped the ball, however.

The Cubs rallied around to argue Herman had caught the ball, and of course, lost the argument. Gibson and Hartley resumed their coaching positions and Smith led off second. Jurgens smashed over and tagged him out. Home. Wagner thundered out and claimed that Pletcher Bud Tinning had toed the rubber, but the Pirates lost that argument, and the hidden ball trick had worked again.

Senior League Vote Chicago, June 16.—(AP)—How the fans are voting today to select a national league team to meet the American league best at Comiskey park July 8.

First base—Terry, New York. Second base—Fritch, St. Louis. Third base—Traynor, Pittsburgh. Shortstop—Bartel, Philadelphia. Outfielders—Kiel, Phillies, Paul Waner, Pirates and O'Doul, Dodgers. Catcher—Hartnett, Cubs. Pitchers—Hubbell, Giants, Warner, Chicago and Lucas, Cincinnati.

For Cookies Jar
A delightful recipe for chocolate cookies is this one:

1-2 teaspoon soda.
1-2 cup butter or other shortening.
1 cup sugar.

Night Cottons
Cottons have gone in for night life. Chanel uses a great deal of organdie. Most diaphanous of fabrics is the very fine cotton chiffon voile, which several couturiers love to experiment with. Little wonder! It is so graceful, so youthful. Molyneux has made lovely afternoon and evening gowns of it in gray and pink tones.

In later years it is a matter of regret if a portrait is not included in the wedding plans. Only in a photograph can you always see "just how the bride looked." When planning your wedding, give thought to the picture that will commemorate the event. The Palot Studio, 472 Main street, takes pictures of lasting merit. Phone 5808 or drop in.

Cover Them
When cooking cabbage, turnips and other strongly-flavored vegetables, remember to use enough water to cover them completely. And the pot should be left uncovered.

The hue and cry now is for washable silks, and Cheney Hall Sales-room has quantities of them in prints, pastels and darker shades for summer dresses, jacket suits and lingerie. These tubable silks come out of the laundry fresh-colored, are easily ironed. Prices range from 75c to $1.25 per yard. At these low prices, you can make a number of washable summer frocks for very little, and save on cleaning bills.

VOTE TO COMBINE

Bolton and Glastonbury Farmers to Conduct Sale at Main-Charter Oak Sts.

The Eastern Connecticut Fruit and Vegetable Grower's Association was created last night, when the Bolton and Glastonbury Producer's Associations agreed to combine into a single unit, having decided that it was impractical to maintain two wholesale markets in proximity to each other. The change is effective immediately and the new Association's market will be located here at the corner of Main and Charter Oak streets.

The decision to combine efforts of the Glastonbury and Bolton farmers marks the end of a long disagreement between the two organizations, both of which were determined to carry on business independent of the other. As a result, the Bolton organization established a market locally and the Glastonbury organization opened a market at the Four Corners in Buckingham.

During the early part of this week it was found that the individual markets suffered in both prices and the Board of Control of the

LOCAL FORESTERS GO TO PORTLAND

30 in Last Two Detachments Only 20 Miles from Their Own Homes.

Although no definite word has been received from Fort H. G. Wright concerning company designation, it is believed here that the 80 Manchester men forming the last two detachments sent to the Forestry Corps have been transferred to the Meshomasic State Forest in the town of Portland.

Connecticut young men reached Great Hill within the confines of the State Forest and set up their tents before nightfall. Captain Frank Sherman who was in command of the Manchester men at Fort Wright during the past two weeks will be in charge of the new camp. Captain Sherman yesterday directed the mobilization of the new forest unit, and after the boat ride from Fisher's Island to New London, the men were brought by train to Middletown where they boarded buses for camp. The site of the new forest camp is not far from the summer colony of Great Hill pond. Work in the forest will not start until all camp arrangements have been completed. Barracks may be constructed to house the men later on. Three regular army officers are assisting Captain Sherman at the camp. The distance of the new forest camp from Manchester is about 20 miles by way of Glastonbury and Route 15 to Middletown.

MRS. MILLS GETS DIVORCE

Bridgeport, June 15.—(AP)—A divorce from a husband whose drunken brawls ultimately led to the killing of one of his best friends was granted Margaret M. Mills of Greenwich by Judge Newell Jennings in Superior Court here today. The husband, Walter Mills, of parts unknown, is now a fugitive from justice. He "jumped" a $2,500 bond posted after he was held criminally responsible by Coroner J. J. Phelan for the death on August 3, 1931, of Augustus Simmons, also of Greenwich.

POPULARITY CONTEST FOR H. S. GRADUATES

State Theater and Jaffe's Jewelry Store to Combine for Gift for Boy and Girl.

The Louis Jaffe jewelry store will give a valuable pen and pencil set to the boy and girl elected as the most popular seniors in the Manchester High school popularity contest sponsored by the State Theater in connection with School Day at the State Theater next Friday afternoon. This newspaper will publish coupon votes on Monday and Tuesday with only one vote allowed each voter. The double feature program next Friday includes Marion Davies in "Fog O' My Heart" and "Hold Me Tight" with Jimmy Dunn and Sally Eilers. The Baer-Schmeling fight pictures will also be shown on the afternoon that the presentation will be made to the most popular boy and girl high school graduates. Another feature of School Day will be the selection of a group of popular boys and girls from the schools to run the State Theater for the afternoon. A manager, treasurer, usher and other department employees will be chosen next week from amongst the popular children of the schools, and this group will be in charge of the State Theater next Friday afternoon. P. S. The new manager will be limited in his passing activities.

further by ordering the creation of party "productive cells" in every collective farm to be composed of Communists or candidates for membership in the party. These will be answerable directly to the political sections. The calls will be even closer to the peasantry than the political sections. They will be expected to keep collective farmers imbued with the idea of socialized agriculture, thus spurring production. The present collectivized area of Russia embraces about 30 per cent of the land and 40 to 70 per cent of the peasantry. The present number of party members functioning in political sections is 10,139, and have probably will be tripled or quadrupled when the productive cells are organized.

The Chicago Air Race Corporation will stage an international air race meet on the afternoons of July 1-4, and plans to hold the 1933 international. Gordon Bennett Cup balloon races during the same period.

SENSE and NONSENSE

IT DOESN'T TAKE A YOUNG MAN LONG TO REALIZE THAT A GIRL'S COMPLEXION DOES NOT TASTE NEAR AS GOOD AS IT LOOKS.

Youth—Will you give us ten cents to help the old ladies' home?
Business Man—What! Are they out again?

YOU CAN TELL AN ABLE BUSINESS EXECUTIVE TODAY BY THE COMPANY HE KEEPS.

Woman is a born gambler. She seems to spend most of her time winning men and losing weight.

ASK ME ANOTHER: What are the most common forms of holdups?
Answer: A man's suspenders and a woman's garters.

Girlie—Oh, dear, I've lost my little pink bow!
Boy Friend—How perfectly awful! What did he look like?

General Sherman said that was "hell." Wouldn't you like to hear his description of an economic depression?

HOME SHOULD BE A PLACE WHERE JOY IS DOUBLED BY COMPANIONSHIP AND TROUBLE HALVED BY SYMPATHY.

Jones (mowing his lawn, hot and tired)—Hullo! Your father wants to borrow something as usual, I suppose?

Neighbor's Boy—Yes, please, Mr. Jones. He says could you 'blige him with the loan of a corkscrew?
Jones (enthusiastically)—A corkscrew? Certainly! You run along, Bobby—I'll bring it right over myself.

A BOY GOES AROUND GIVING THE COMBINATION TO HIS HEART TO EVERY GIRL HE MEETS, YET HE ALWAYS ACTS SURPRISED WHEN SOME GIRL STEALS IT.

Football Coach (running up to injured player)—Migosh, man! Are you double-jointed?
Player—No.
Coach—Well, then, you have broken a leg.

A news story tells about a man and his six sons, each of whom is more than six feet and a half tall. We'll bet a thin dime its one of these fellows who always takes a seat in front of us in the show.

Man—I found a four-leaf clover on my lawn today.
Neighbor—I suppose you think that's lucky?
Man—I do. I'm lucky to find anything in that lawn except dandelions and weeds.

Some of those who called themselves suckers, two years ago, are back in the stock markets again.

Man—My brother never met with a disappointment in his life.
Neighbor—How's that?
Man—He never looks for anything but trouble.

Things go by opposites. For instance, when a man clerk takes a vacation he just sits around on a river bank and feels sorry for the people who have to work. When a woman clerk gets a vacation she cleans the house, paints the floors, cans fruit and vegetables, polishes the floors and weeds the flowers. The man goes back to the store all worn out. The woman goes back with a smile on her face.

Man—What cured Fred Hymes of arguing with his wife?
Neighbor—Arguing with his wife.

The right kind of fight news would be to read that a lot more fellows are taking daily punches at the time clock.

He—People living together get to look alike.
She—Here's your ring. I dare not risk it.

What has become of all the men we used to know as "Captains of Industry"? . . . And what has become of industry?

GREAT HORNED OWL

KILLS 96 CHICKENS

Big Bird Caught at Joseph Novelli's Farm in Glastonbury Taken by Warden.

A great horned owl, rare to settled parts of communities, entered a chicken coop on the farm of Joseph Novelli near the Glastonbury line on South Main street Wednesday night and killed 96 chickens. A State Game warden was notified and the large bird was captured alive and taken to Hartford. The warden estimated that the bird was 70 years old and it had a wing-spread of 40 inches and stood two feet high. The great horned owl is seldom seen except by hunters in the remote parts of forests or far from habitations.

LAWN PARTY YESTERDAY FOR U. S. W. V. AUXILIARY

Affair Held at Mrs. Rose Murphy's Home on South Main St.—Flag Day Program.

Mary Bushnell Cheney auxiliary, U. S. W. V., members enjoyed a lawn party Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Rose Murphy on South Main street, the old home-stead of the Gould family. Exercises in celebration of Flag Day were in charge of President Mrs. Nelson L'Heureux, Patriotic Instructor Mrs. Gertrude Buchanan, and Chaplain Mrs. Rose Converse. Games followed, prizes being won by Mrs. Buchanan and Mrs. Jessie Kerr. A surprise luncheon was served by the hostesses assisted by several of the members. It consisted of dainty sandwiches, strawberry shortcake with whipped cream and other home made cakes, hot and cold beverages. A group picture was taken for insertion in the national magazine of the auxiliary.

STRAWBERRIES UP AS DEMAND GROWS

Highest Price Offered Yesterday Is $3.80 a Crate—Big Sale Today.

With Old Man "Supply and Demand" playing a prominent part and the cold weather holding back the ripening of strawberries the Manchester fruit and vegetable dealers market saw prices go higher in yesterday afternoon's buying. New highs were registered. The highest bid of all was hung up when one lot of berries brought a price of $3.80 a crate. The buyers were larger in number and at the outset there was evidence that more berries would be shown with less trouble than on any other day. A representative of the First National Stores was on hand to bid and others were there to bid and carry away the crates that were purchased. Nicholas Pepe of New York, who was one of the large buyers the day before was back yesterday for more. The Bridgeport merchants as well as those from Springfield, Hartford and New Haven seeing the number of crates that were to be offered decided to get their allotment here and in less than an hour and a half after the bidding had been started the day's work was over and the 500 crates offered were all sold. The prices were well above $3 in most cases, but when a poorer grade was offered the price lagged under the $3 mark and one lot went for a low price when it was shown that the grower had offered his berries with good fruit on top and poorer quality below. The buyer presented his objection to the officers of the association and they stood behind him, calling off the sale at the price that was first sold for and when they came back for another bid they sold for $1 less a crate. Not only did the buyers object to this but also the officers, and it was made plain to all that another such happening would bring down a fine upon the producer that did not present the proper kind of basket. This resulted in considerable excitement between buyers and sellers, but coming at the end of the sale, it did not hold up the selling, as might have been the case had there been such an attempt to deceive early in the auction. Because Glastonbury growers have not been producing enough berries at their market the buyers are now coming to Manchester. Glastonbury's market at Buckingham was not largely attended yesterday and the number of crates brought in was soon disposed of and the buyers moved on to Manchester. It was the first visit to the Manchester market by some of the buyers and they expressed themselves as being more satisfied with the location, the space where they could park and the roads that they could travel over in getting away with their loads after buying. Of the 500 crates offered yesterday day 300 were purchased by the First National Stores and 150 by Nicholas Pepe of New York, the largest buyers, although there was a demand for berries by the Bridgeport buyer, who took away the largest number on Wednesday. In view of the results that have been accomplished at the Manchester market it is likely that a number of those who have not been here will have berries at the market today.

All of the growers were getting ready for a heavy picking today and the largest number of berries yet to be offered was expected at today's market as there will be no auction tomorrow.

POLICE COURT

Fred N. Cook, 31, of 33 Catherine street, Hartford, was arrested by Policeman Cassells at 2:30 this morning and brought to the police station for examination by Dr. LeVerne Holmes who pronounced him as being intoxicated. Cook was driving an automobile at the time and was booked on the charge of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor. He was kept at the police station during the remainder of the morning. In court he asked for a continuance of his hearing in order to get in touch with an attorney. Judge Johnson continued the case until next Wednesday morning under a bond of $100.

Charles Underwood, a colored gentleman, who gave his residence as 8 Donald street, Hartford, was arrested by Officer Raymond Griffin for driving without license. Underwood did not show up when the court opened. Later when the session was over he arrived at the station. He said his car broke down on the way out from the city. He will be given a hearing tomorrow morning. Alfred Albas, Rockville, R. F.

D. paid a fine of $10 and costs for driving with defective brakes. The car he was driving collided with another on East Middle Turnpike yesterday and when Officer Griffin investigated he found the brakes in poor condition. Albas claimed he never had any trouble with the brakes before and supposed they were all right. The accident was not a serious one. The car he was driving was a 1921 Model T Ford.

Mrs. Ethel McKay of 52 Arch street would like all who have ticket returns to make for the supper last night at St. Mary's parish house, to do as soon as possible.
