DR. ATKINS DIES

Danbury, June 27.—(AP)—Word was received here today of the death at Boston today of Dr. Richard Travis Atkins, widely known medical specialist of New York City.

KUHN, LOEB ASSESS OVER 66 MILLIONS

Buttenschwiler, Percy Stewart, syndicate manager, and Carl de Geradorf, counsel.

Kahn told newspapermen he would not have prepared the statement as did J. P. Morgan.

"I am here to answer questions with complete frankness and to the best of my ability," he said with a smile. "Beyond that there is not a thing I can tell you."

The big marble-lined room already was uncomfortably hot and many coats were peeled off promptly.

Because of the poor acoustics of the room, a loud speaker system was set up.

The first Senator to arrive was Townsend (R., Del.), dressed in a cool looking white linen suit.

Chairman Fletcher, also in white linen, arrived on the dot of 10, standing with his hands on his hips.

Only the first two rows of spectators were occupied.

Kahn took a seat about the middle of the long committee table next to Senator Costigan (D., Colo.).

Ferdinand Pecora, committee counsel, sat at the head of the table next to Chairman Fletcher, with Julius Silver, associate counsel, just back of him.

Senator Barkley (D., Ky.), took a seat on the other side of Kahn, as he was sworn by Fletcher.

There are ten other partners. His business, he said, is the buying and selling of securities.

"But we are not engaged in the business of accepting deposits from the general public," he added.

Quintoned by Pecora, Kahn said that the majority of corporations with which his firm did business were railroads.

The witness, a native of Germany, testified with a distinct accent. He sat in his chair sideways with his feet facing Pecora.

Senator Stewler came in a few minutes after the session opened, leaving Glass the only absentee.

Kahn said his firm obtained clients "precisely by the same method as the lawyer goes to a client," but when Pecora asked a lawyer is not supposed to go to a client, he added:

"I'm coming to that. He gets his clients by sound advice; so does a lawyer, so does an architect; not by chasing after them, but by establishing a reputation."

After contact is made with a railroad client seeking financing aid, Kahn said, "we give advice as to the best kind of security and our opinion as to a fair price to the railroad and the public. If there is not a fair price, we are able to lose the good will of either or both. We have no show window, our only attractiveness is our good name and our reputation for sound advice and integrity."

TOBACCO CONTROL TO PUSH UP PRICE

Expect 6 Cent Cigar Will Result from Government Price Fixing Plan.

Tobacco growers, cigar and cigarette manufacturers, jobbers and retailers must put their houses in order and do it quickly, according to information received by tobacco men in this vicinity from Washington. It is a plan that will do away with price cutting, fixing the cost at which they can be retailed in accordance with the price paid by the jobber to the manufacturer.

The return of the 6 cent cigar may result. The wage paid to the makers must be at a minimum rate and any cigar that is sold must be disposed of to the wholesaler so they may make 12 per cent profit and the retailer 25 per cent profit.

There was a meeting of cigar dealers held in New York a week ago Sunday when the special commission appointed by President Roosevelt gave a detailed report. The change in the commission said, must be made as of July 1. In this plan the grower is affected by the request that the amount of tobacco grown be cut down so as not to cause a surplus that cannot be used and result in lower prices. The government will reimburse the growers, in part, for what they cut down on the acreage.

The price that the manufacturer pays will probably be in the vicinity of 30 cents a pound on the best grades and the cigar that is manufactured from the tobacco so made, that sells at wholesale price of more than $38 for the 1,000 must be sold for 6 cents. To keep the price at 5 cents there must be a price fixed that will allow the manufacturer to sell to the wholesaler so he can make 12 per cent and the price to the retailer must be such as to allow them to make 25 per cent on the purchase price.

Because the wage scale has not as yet been announced the cigar manufacturers are considerably "up in the air" about the matter and if there is a greater change to be made for the tobacco grower and sold to the manufacturer than now it is likely to bring an increase in the cost of cigarettes up to 15 cents a package of 20 cigarettes. Buyers of all kinds of tobacco are awaiting the final word, but are adjusting conditions to meet any change that will take place.

GREENE PLANS TO OPEN PACKAGE STORE HERE

Leases Place in Johnson Block—Will Continue His Matt Business.

Gustave F. Greene, who has conducted a mail store on Bissell street, yesterday secured a bond, signed an application and has leased from Aaron Johnson the store at No. 695 Main street, where he will open a package store for the sale of beer.

Although Mr. Greene has had this plan in mind for several weeks, he was refrained from making the step until he was assured of securing the local distribution of the beer sold by a New York brewery, who decided not to put their product on the market until July 1. Painters are now at work at the store repainting the interior and getting the place in proper condition for the opening within a few days.

THEATER MANAGER HERE WINS PRIZE

Ben Cohen Gets Award as Local House Shows Increase in Business.

Ben M. Cohen, manager of Warner Brothers State Theater here, yesterday received a check for $60 which was second prize in the Theater Managers' contest conducted by Warner Brothers throughout the country in a drive for better business during the past nine weeks. The Strand, Hartford, won first prize $100.00 in the Class "A" Theater group while a former resident of Manchester Jack Sanner, manager of the Roger Sherman in New Haven, took third prize, $40. Other prizes went to the managers of the following cities: New London, Danbury, Newburyport, Willimantic and Norwich.

The improvement in local theater attendance may be seen as an encouraging signal for the return of better times in Manchester, since the theater is a barometer of economic conditions and if people have more money to spend in the movies as they have proved in Manchester during the past nine weeks then certainly this community is on the up-grade at a greater speed than most of the other cities in New England.

Mr. Cohen has announced that he will throw a backstage party for the State Theater employees in celebration of the victory. The local theater manager also wishes to thank everybody in Manchester who helped the State win second place in this national contest.

Contrary to the mistaken opinion that summer time brings poor pictures, the State will present the year's biggest pictures during the next two months. "International House," "Gold Diggers of 1933," "When Ladies Meet" and "Looking Forward" with Lionel Barrymore are a few of the pictures that will be seen in Manchester in the near future.

Extensive repairs have been made at the State during the past week which makes the theater positively the coolest spot in town on a hot day. The carpets and theater chairs have been repaired and replaced.

GREET NEW PASTOR AT EPWORTH OUTING

League Members Go to Coventry Lake for Party—Sports Program the Feature.

About 40 of the members of the Epworth League of the South Methodist church enjoyed an outing last evening at the cottage of Miss Pauline Beebe at Coventry Lake. Swimming, boating and other water sports were indulged in by most of the young people on arrival at the lake. Another group had a baseball game with the new pastor, Rev. Leonard C. Harris acting as umpire. Following the sports program a "dog roast" was held around an outdoor fireplace, with marshmallows to top off the feast. Campfire songs were sung and later Rev. Harris said a few words of greeting to the leaguers. He said he always depended a great deal on the young people of his church to help him, and expected good things would be accomplished in his relationship with the young people of the South Methodist church.

The outing was arranged by James Lewis, fourth vice president of the league and his committee, and in the opinion of many present it was one of the most successful the league has had.

SEVEN FLIERS ENTERED IN COAST TO COAST RACE

Five Men and Two Women to Start Saturday from New York With Los Angeles as Goal.

New York, June 27.—(AP)—The race in which five men and two women will fly from New York to Los Angeles Saturday, marks the coming age of speed flying from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

It was just 21 years ago that the first such flight was made, in 1912 when Robert C. Fowler flew from Jacksonville, Fla., to San Francisco. It took him 151 days.

The present record, made by Roscoe Turner from New York to Los Angeles last year, is 12 hours and 38 minutes.

Turner is the only one of this year's racers who has held the Atlantic to Pacific speed record. He has had it twice.

The others who will take part in this year's race, a regular feature of the National air races which are being held in Los Angeles, are Russell Thaw, Lee Gehlbach, James Wedell, probably James Haislip, Amelia Earhart Putnam and Ruth Nichols. If Haislip does not participate some one will take his place.

It is the first time women have been admitted to the race. Because they are flying slower ships than the men they will be started off five hours in advance.

Tokyo, June 27.—(AP)—The Soviet government's proposal to sell the "North Manchuria" railway was made with full appreciation of the new state of affairs in the Far East and with the avowed purpose of furthering peaceful relations between Japan and Manchukuo.

Foreign Minister Count Uchiwa declared today in a welcoming address opening the Soviet-Manchukuo party at the foreign office.

The purpose of the party is to arrange for the sale by the Moscow government of the Chinese Eastern Railway, originally a joint enterprise of the Czarist and Chinese empires. The Japanese now own the railway as the "North Manchuria" railway.

Count Uchiwa expressed the hope that the delegates of Russia and Manchukuo would make it possible for a speedy transfer of the Chinese Eastern to be effected. He described this as a "great task" in his hearing on peace in the Far East.

Although the formal purpose of the negotiations is to arrange the sale of the railroad, their significance goes much deeper. Japan hopes that they will bring about the elimination of the last vestiges of Soviet influence in Manchuria and will terminate Russia's position as a strategic factor on the shores of the Pacific, thereby completing the process started by the Russo-Japanese war thirty years ago.

Count Uchiwa defined Japan's attitude as one of willingness "to exercise further good offices" whenever the development of the negotiations makes that necessary.

Replies to his speech by Konstantin Yurenev, Soviet ambassador at Tokyo, and General Ting Shin-Yuan, Manchukuo minister to Japan, ended the preliminary formalities. Subsequently the Manchukuo and Russian representatives discussed procedure with minor Japanese officials and observers.

Proceeding to negotiate transfer of the road the delegates are ignoring both the claims and the protests of the Chinese Republic, whose authority in Manchuria was terminated by the Japanese army.

GOOD PRICES SECURED ON GARDEN PRODUCE

Strawberries Bring as High as $6.45 a Crate—Peas, Blueberries Appear.

A total of $3,855.62 was secured for the strawberries, peas and eight quarts of blueberries, the first to appear in the local auction market, yesterday when high prices were secured on all the produce offered.

There were fifty loads of strawberries. Of this number there were 229 crates of thirty-two quarts each that sold for an average of $4.50 with a high bid of $5.45 for one crate and the low price for a crate was $2. In addition to this there were 656 crates that contained twenty-four quarts that sold at an average of $4.23 a crate with a high bid of $5.60 and the lowest sold for $2.20. The total sales averaged $4.30 a crate figured as 32 quarts to the crate.

There was some lively bidding for eight quarts of blueberries and they were knocked down for $2.40, or 30 cents a quart. Thirty-two bushels of peas brought $45, bringing the total for all to $3,855.62. The total sales on Sunday were $3,091.15 or $6,936.77 for the two days.

"Mr. Sharkey and his brother," as they are known to the strawberry growers and to a few of the buyers, were in Manchester yesterday and it was their bid that ran prices so high. When the sale was over and the farmers backed up their trucks and loaded them upon the truck that had been hired from another wholesaler to bring them to New York, they started to pay the growers with checks. The financial standing was not known to the growers and they wanted to get real money instead of checks.

There was a conference over the matter and one grocer who had accepted the bid made on his berries, but who had not loaded the crates onto the truck, refused to do so until he was paid cash. Not getting the cash he would not load. This added further to trouble until it was agreed that a representative of the local association accompany the truck to New York with the amount of the bill that each farmer had and collect the money for them in New York. This resulted in calls for volunteers to go to New York and Louis Varney of Glastonbury, former president of the Glastonbury association, started off on the trip.

BOY KILLED IN CRASH

North Attleboro, Mass., June 27.—(AP)—An automobile accident early today claimed the life of Howard Fuller, 18, and brought critical injury to four youthful companions.

Kansas convicts made a wild dash for liberty while watching baseball game. It's a wonder that fans in the Philadelphia National League park wouldn't be tempted to do likewise.

Reach for a Luckie

for always Luckies

My husband introduced me to Luckies

He had no objection to my brand of cigarettes. But one day he asked me to try his. Well, I did—and I've been saying "Luckies Please" ever since. And it's not merely because Luckies taste fine and are ever so mild. Let me tell you the real reason.

My cigarette is a personal, intimate thing with me. After all, it touches my lips—and I do take pride in my sense of distinction. Naturally, "Toasting" means to me even more than it does to a man—for surely it's something so precious to a fashionable woman.

TUESDAY, JUNE 27.

JACK THE GIANT KILLER.
 Clarence Venner died at his home on Park Avenue, New York, on Saturday, perhaps the least known man who ever held a membership in the New York Stock Exchange. He was 77 and for a great many years he had specialized in litigation. Nobody knows whether he made it pay, but he was still an investment broker when he died—and no man who has been ruined by lawsuits can keep on living very long on Park avenue.

Venner's private life was a sealed book, but he was forever in the courts, a thorn in the side of "high finance." He probably did more than any other human being in America to throw obstacles in the way of the creation of the huge system of interlocking directorates, trust mergers, holding companies, subsidiaries, voting pools and general fiscal hokus-pokus which has enmeshed corporate business in this country in most of its present troubles.

Venner didn't care a hoot how big they came—the bigger the better. He'd sue anybody. He did sue the United States Steel Corporation, the Interborough Rapid Transit Company, Amalgamated Copper, the New York Life Insurance Company, the New Haven Railroad, and literally scores of other huge corporations, almost always as a minority stockholder opposing some one of those dubious reorganizations or combinations which have rendered the economic life of this nation the plaything of a little group of financial autocrats who could be numbered on one's fingers and toes.

This man almost never talked about himself. But he is quoted as having once said: "I venture to assert that I have blocked the execution of more fraudulent and iniquitous schemes than any man alive."

That may very well be true. Because, when we come to think over the events of the last thirty years in this country, it seems as though this secretive broker must have been almost the only person in the whole United States who at all interested himself in using the law of the land to protect the nation from the aggressions of the financial giants who were eating up business, industry, transportation and even agriculture as fast as they could gobble them. Having no rivals in his field he could not well help excelling in it.

able. Nevertheless the raid was enough to scare the daylight out of the whole Reich.

And whoever would guess that night away, on top of this sinister piece of intelligence, the Hitler press of Germany should with one accord hit upon the happy thought of pointing out to the powers the absolute necessity of Germany's being permitted to maintain armed planes to protect her airways from such invasions in the future? Not more than exactly one hundred per cent of those who are familiar with the German mode of thought and the German theory that everybody not a German is a spy and a nit-wit.

Of all the shallow fakes yet undertaken in Germany's campaign for rearmament this one of the "foreign" propaganda plains is the shallowest. It is just about worthy of the village idiot if he is not more than eleven. The sixteen year old idiot who couldn't think up a better one than that ought to be drowned forthwith.

DOLLAR WHEAT!
 Dollar wheat! Ten carloads sold at Fort Worth yesterday; ten carloads of actual grain that you could see, run through your fingers, eat raw if you wanted to; not Chicago pit paper wheat, but the living commodity itself; brought a fraction of a cent above the dollar.

Three months ago it would have taken forty carloads to bring the same amount of money that was paid for those ten.

Never in the history of this country has there been such a combination of dollar wheat and hard times. The best and healthiest prosperity the land has ever known, were based on wheat at a dollar or closely thereabout.

Dollar wheat means profit and well being in the Western farm lands. It need not—has no business to—imply too high prices for food.

So far the "new deal" scheme seems to be clicking. Now the question is going to be, Will the government forces which have brought about dollar wheat be able to keep wheat from going too high—say above a dollar and a half? They will if the administration has the courage to apply the brakes as well as the accelerator.

And it would seem as though it were getting close to the time when the farmers were given to understand that, in the interest of stability, the prices of their products must have a maximum as well as a minimum limit—and what the maximum figures should be. Otherwise there will be the usual loud wails when government price support is withdrawn before grain is held at such war time figures as two-sixty.

Dollar wheat is the hall mark of American prosperity. Two-sixty wheat means wild speculation, reckless straining of credit, the ride, for a fall. Thirty cent wheat means bankruptcy, misery, the farmer out of the commodity market, depression.

With the arrival of dollar wheat there is assurance that we have not only started the uphill climb but that are already an appreciable distance from the bottom and will surely gain speed and strength at every step.

MOLEY CARRIES THE BALL.
 The sudden departure of Assistant Secretary Raymond Moley for the London conference, after a dramatic last-minute conference with President Roosevelt at the Massachusetts capes, is the sort of event that ought to appeal deeply to the football fan.

It all looks, somehow, very much like that tense moment in which the coach sends in his star quarterback to save the game.

The team seems to have been getting a bit. They have been wobbling their signals mixed, over at London; they have been missing tackles, and fumbling, and showing other signs of disorganization.

AL SMITH'S HARVARD DEGREE.
 There is something about this business of Al Smith getting an LL. D. degree from Harvard—Harvard, of all places—that is likely to tickle the average American's sense of the fitness of things.

New York's former governor went a long way in the world without the advantages of a formal education. He used to remark that his only degree was the F. F. M. derived from his youthful servitude in the aromatic aisles of the Fulton Fish Market.

Between him and Harvard there seemed to be a great gulf fixed—of which a great many Harvard men were highly conscious.

Doctor Smith now, if you please, the graduate of the Fulton Fish Market holds his degree from the president of all American universities. And most Americans will undoubtedly agree that he has fully earned it.

JUVENILE COURT RACKET.
 It is suggested that the next time Hartford is trying to get up a really big parade it start off by using as a nucleus one entire division made up of the officials and attaches of the Juvenile Court. Even if the preparations never went beyond that it would make a pretty good parade all by itself.

This thought intrudes itself as one reads the announcement that Michael D. Fox, lately ousted superintendent of the Washington School District, has been appointed deputy chief probation officer of the Juvenile Court, that six other members of the court's staff have just been replaced by new appointees and that several more retain their jobs.

This Hartford case is the finest possible example of the extent to which the juvenile court racket, fostered by earnest but misguided idealists who can see only one facet of a many sided subject, has developed in a comparatively short period.

IN NEW YORK
 By JULIA BLANCKARD
 New York, June 27.—New York's medal for the most reliable and omnipresent squire certainly should go to Daniel Frohman. He goes everywhere and always squires a handsome woman but seldom takes the same one out twice in succession. . . . Though 80 years old this summer, Frohman is one dancer who never sits out a single one. . . . In Europe, where the patient sees Frohman and Fanny Ward, the Perennial Flapper, dancing together at the Ritz, Fanny twirling Frohman because their combined ages came so near 180 years.

At the opening of Francine Larimore's new play, "Shooting Star" are feeling in Jeanne's lift, Frohman and Fannie Hurst made a striking couple, in the fourth row. Frohman, always faultlessly dressed, wore a red carnation boutonniere, in honor of the special occasion. Fannie, who has dieted so successfully that she now is no more than a size 24, looked magnificent in a startling, high-necked, backless, long-sleeved red gown.

Foto Players, Too!
 Photo-playing millionaires apparently are feeling in Dealing in Diamonds. On the bulletin board at Roosevelt Field recently appeared this message: "Winston Guest: Please pay up that $500. T. Hitchcock."

Dwight Morrow, Jr.
 Recently, when asked if he should accompany at Amherst got into trouble over having buried (as they say "accidentally") an American flag which fell into a celebration bonfire they had lighted, it was young Dwight Morrow who fell out. Dwight isn't the least bit radical. But he is very fair-minded. Apparently he does not inherit the fair of his father, the late Dwight Morrow, for business. Graduating from Amherst this June, he will go back next year as assistant to the president of the college.

Part-time Matrimony
 Olga Petrova, famous star a few years back, is one of America's most successful part-time wives. Married for many years, Dr. John Stewart, well-known Park Avenue physician, Petrova lives on the Riviera, the doctor here. However, once a year, each spring, she comes over here for a month to visit him. Then he takes his vacation and they go for a month's trip to the Black Sea. . . . She says they really see more of each other now than they did when she was on the stage. . . . When she is in New York her limousine is always driven by the chauffeur she has over from when she was in the play, "The White Peacock." Dr. Stewart hired him then.

Living Lycoplene
 New York's most feted visitor this June is petite, cosmopolitan Lycoplene, noted Paris dressmaker, accomplished musician, ex-Russian noblewoman.

Another way to use cherries is to eat them late at night, just before retiring, when the stomach has emptied itself of the evening meal. You will find that the mild fruit acids leave the mouth feeling clean and refreshed. In spite of their containing fruit acids, cherries are truly an alkaline forming food, since the mineral ash which they leave in the body is an alkaline ash. For this reason, they have an extra benefit for those seeking to overcome acidosis, and might be compared with oranges in this respect, which are also alkaline forming for over-acid stomachs and making the blood more alkaline.

Thomas Gainsworth passed his famous "Blue Boy" and "Eugene" theory that blue can be a primary color, as a result of his color experiments.

HEALTH-DIET ADVICE
 BY DR. FRANK MCCOY
 Questions in regard to Health and Diet will be answered by Dr. McCoy who can be addressed in care of this paper. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, for reply.

TRY THE "CHERRY CURE"
 I recommend cherries to readers who are looking for a food that will build up the blood. In order to secure the best results it would be well to use the straight cherry diet for a few days using nothing else but cherries. The way you are to do it is to eat the fresh, ripe cherries, simply taking as many as desired every time you feel hungry. This cherry diet is really not a strict fast, and the patients find that the cherries keep them full enough so that they do not miss other food. As a general rule, they enjoy the "cherry cure" which might be compared to the famous "grape cure" in Europe; where the patient eats nothing else but grapes and is benefited. Once the average person gets started on the cherry diet he develops a craving for the fruit which is satisfied in no other way.

In eating such a large quantity of cherries the patient secures a sufficient amount to improve the quality of the blood. The "cherry cure" also cleanses the blood stream to a remarkable degree. Cherries build up the blood by rest of the food minerals which they contain, among which are the following: iron, calcium, phosphorus, potassium, sodium, magnesium, silicon, etc. They also contain about 20 per cent fruit sugar and malic acid. The tart taste is derived from the fruit acids but the minerals which do so much good are not tasted. The only way they have of knowing for yourself that they are getting the benefit of the cherry diet is to eat a cherry and feel better. Especially fine blood-builders and of all the fruits, the cherry is one of the best.

A good rule for you to follow when you eat cherries is to mix a meal of them, taking no other food. For example, you may make the meal entirely of cherries for a week or two, if you do not feel that you need the fruit fast. Only one other food can only come from the cherries, and that is milk. I know this will seem unusual to many of you who have been taught never to use cherries and milk together, but I assure you that they harmonize perfectly as long as no starchy food is added to this otherwise good combination. Just as soon as a starch is eaten with a cherry meal there is likely to be fermentation, caused by the inharmonious combination.

Another way to use cherries is to eat them late at night, just before retiring, when the stomach has emptied itself of the evening meal. You will find that the mild fruit acids leave the mouth feeling clean and refreshed. In spite of their containing fruit acids, cherries are truly an alkaline forming food, since the mineral ash which they leave in the body is an alkaline ash. For this reason, they have an extra benefit for those seeking to overcome acidosis, and might be compared with oranges in this respect, which are also alkaline forming for over-acid stomachs and making the blood more alkaline.

Cherries should not be combined with starches and for that reason dairy food or cherry tarts are not good. Do not add anything to them to give them a new flavor, but find that they do their cleaning, purifying, blood-building work best when they are eaten alone or with milk.

The cherry season closes during the first week of July. I would suggest that now is the best time to try the cherry diet.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
HOW DO BACTERIA PRODUCE DISEASE
 Question: Mr. Fulton J. writes: "Will you please explain how bacteria can produce disease if the fault is really, as you say, caused by our bad habits of living?"
 Answer: Bacteria are microscopic growths and are really of vegetable origin. They grow in much the same way as the yeast cells or mold. They increase in numbers by dividing so that they actually "multiply by dividing." Bacteria cannot grow except in suitable soil, and the person with bad habits provides this soil, usually on some of the mucous membranes, such as in the nose and throat. Bacteria grow rapidly and often produce poisons of their own, some being more violent than others. There are good bacteria and bad ones, but each must have suitable soil for growth. Bad habits cultivate the growth of the injurious bacteria, while good habits promote the growth of the friendly bacteria.

Feppy Oil
 Question: O. D. asks: "Is there an oil made from poppy seeds that may be used as a salad oil, and is it good for food?"
 Answer: Poppy oil, extracted from the poppy seed, is popular in parts of Europe as a table oil. It is of a pale yellow color, practically odorless, and has a very pleasing flavor. The interior grades are used in soap, hair oils, etc. products. As far as its food value is concerned, it has no special merit.

(Liver Spots Will Disappear)
 Question: Mrs. Edith K. asks: "Is there any way of getting rid of liver spots on the face? I have had them since before my baby was born, that is, about six or seven months."
 Answer: The liver spots you speak of will usually disappear if you will be careful about your diet and see to it that your liver is not overburdened with an excessive amount of work.

THEATERS AT THE STATE
 "I Cover The Waterfront" with Claudette Colbert and Ben Lyon will be shown at the State for the last time tonight. For Wednesday and Thursday the State will offer Ruth Chatterton's successor "Frisco Jenny" a lady known as "Lilly Turner." Also on the program will be Ruth Etting in "Along Came Ruth" and the Taxi Boys in a comedy plus an animated cartoon.

As Lilly Turner, the "Cooch" dancer and come-on girl for a carnival, Ruth Chatterton has in this picture more clandestine love affairs than most actresses portray in a lifetime. She fits from one love to another with a wild abandon inspired by cruel mistreatment at the hands of her first lover. It is not until she finally awakens to real love that ghosts of her many sweethearts rise up to haunt her.

The picture, based on the stage success by Phillip Dunning and George Abbott, reveals the life behind the scenes of the players in the tawdry medicine tent shows and the glamorous carnivals. Gone is the stately Miss Chatterton, of the society drawing room; in "Lilly Turner" is Chatterton, cooch dancer who wiggles her hips and jiggles her chest muscles to fascinate and lure the male; the poseur in tight pants and filmy, transparent costumes.

Never, it is said, has she given such a powerful characterization as that of Lilly Turner, the girl who taunts her charms to devastate the heart to the male; whose life is one of butterfly gaily on the surface and bitter heartaches beneath.

"Lilly Turner" is a vivid, realistic story with frivolity and pathos and real dramatic power; George Brent plays the leading masculine role opposite Miss Chatterton, the first time the two have been teamed together since their marriage last Fall. Others in the cast include Frank McHugh, Ruth Donnelly and Guy Kibbee.

The direction was in the hands of William A. Wellman who directed Miss Chatterton in "Frisco Jenny."

"Bombers"

The commencement issue of "Bombers" distributed the last day of school was dedicated to Edson M. Bailey, a friend and advisor to the members of the Class of 1933 throughout the four years of high school. The dedication follows: "Four years ago he transplanted us to this school. Since then he has cultivated us from tiny sprouts into strong saplings. He has trimmed and pruned our wayward branches, straightened each bent twig, nurtured us according to our individual needs."

"Now he transplants us again—some to the sheltered greenhouses of higher learning—others to the harsh outdoor earth. 'It is interesting 'wherever we take root, let us not disappoint our gardener. Let us blossom and bear fruit.'"

TO PUBLISH NAMES OF GOLD-HOARDERS

Att. Gen. Cummings Gives Last Warning Before He Starts to Prosecute.

Washington, June 27.—(AP)—Names of gold hoarders who refuse to return the metal in compliance with President Roosevelt's order soon will be published by the Department of Commerce.

Attorney General Cummings said today prosecution would follow the publication of the names and the only thing that was causing delay was that the department desired to have all its evidence completed before presenting a case to court.

"Most sympathetically there will be prosecution of gold hoarders," Cummings told newspapermen, "the data against what you might call deliberate offenders is being assembled and they will be prosecuted. Before we reach the prosecution stage, however, I intend to publish the names of those persons known to be holding gold in defiance of the President's orders."

Most Gold Returned

The attorney general said the campaign by the department to get hoarders to turn in gold had resulted in $23,000,000 being restored to the banks. He added that he wished the present persuasive campaign to be carried out to give everybody the fullest chance to "do his duty to the government and if they do not then pressure will be put on them."

Cummings said on June 24, 185 persons holding $1,341,819 of gold had defied the government by refusing to return it. It is this list he plans to publish.

The attorney general said he might decide to publish first the names of the largest hoarders of gold and follow that with those holding lesser amounts.

Ninety per cent of the 1,750,000 insurance persons in the county of London, England, are at work.

Chicago, June 27.—(AP)—Henry Berger, 41, general organizer for the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, ventured out from his home for the first time in several weeks without his police guard and as a result both he and his wife were in a hospital today with bullet wounds.

Berger was shot in the head and paralysis that developed today led physicians to describe his condition as critical. His wife was wounded in both legs when two gunmen drove along side their automobile last night and opened fire in what police said was the answer of an "outlaw" to Berger's refusal to join the union.

WORTH TWO MILLIONS

Witness Makes This Estimate of Poll Houses—First Mortgages Total 13 Millions.

Hartford, June 27.—(AP)—Federal Judge Edwin S. Thomas ordered counsel for the bondholders trustees and attorneys for the receivers to file briefs after hearing testimony on the first mortgage holders petition to foreclose the mortgage on the Fox-New England Theaters Inc., operators of 16 properties in New England.

Simon H. Fabian of Paterson, N. J., operator of a theater chain, who at one time examined the theaters with a view to purchasing them, testified a fair price for them would be $2,300,000 to $2,400,000.

He gave this figure although first mortgage bonds of approximately $13,500,000 are outstanding. He based his estimate on what he said was the present earning power of the former Fox chain. He placed this at $300,000 a year.

S. Z. Poll of New Haven, who sold the theaters to the Fox Corporation, holds 76 per cent of the bonds, the court was told.

NATIONAL RECOVERY ACT NOW READY TO OPERATE

Leaders of Textile Industry First to Hold Conference With Director Johnson at Washington Today.

Recovery, the prodigal for whom the Nation has kept the light burning in the window for three years, appeared today out of the gloom and waved a greeting.

He wore a new suit, cut with bold shears by the President and stitched hurriedly by the Congress. It was the National Recovery Act. In his pockets were cards of identification—dollar wheat, ten cent cotton, encased in the reports. He advanced (none too briskly, for he was not staid after his long absence) to the music of dancing stock tickers.

At Washington today he hoped to make his presence definitely felt. Gathered there in his honor and for his encouragement were representatives of the textile industry. General Hugh S. Johnson, cast as a Moses to lead a people from a weary wilderness, presided and was some to take today's meeting in Washington will bring major American history. Others who did not say so hoped so.

The cotton textile operators have prepared a code of fair competition. More than two thirds of them have approved it. Labor—and labor represents the human element, the element with which recovery is primarily concerned—has not endorsed the code. At the Washington conference its spokesmen expect to voice their views, probably in opposition to the minimum wage provisions which (in the south) are $10 for a 40-hour week.

Child labor and the inevitable machine enter, too, into the problem. It is the conference's job to adjust differences on all moot matters, strike an acceptable mean, and finally get behind the final code. Trained to its code, the purpose of the Washington conference is to provide a vehicle in which recovery can start its long-awaited ride across the country.

Recovery smiled impartially on north and south alike. Wheat and cotton prices climbed; but scorching sun that already has done great damage to growing grain in some sections wilted to some extent the agrarian optimism.

Through the south cotton growers were signing the pledges the government has asked in its program of farm relief. The plan aims at price stimulation by crop curtailment. A reduction of four million bales is desired, the growers being reimbursed by the government for the acreage abandoned.

The industrial renaissance program, which has been called the most ambitious emergency measures ever undertaken by government, aims at the revival of industry through higher wages, wider distribution of work, higher and better products and elimination of unfair competition. General Johnson, to whom President Roosevelt has delegated the chore of putting American industry back to normalcy, is concentrating on the textile operators' code so that it may serve as the basis for the other codes.

Working On Codes Most of the national merchandising, producing and manufacturing organizations have worked out, or are working on, codes. At Atlantic City the National Wholesaler Grocers' Association, in convention, had before it today what it designated as the "X plan." It provides that no distributor shall sell merchandise below purchase price plus a minimum distribution charge, the charge being rated as "X" because it would vary in different sections.

GUARDSMEN TO GO TO CAMP SATURDAY

Everything Ready for Two Weeks at Niantic—Both Are Below Strength.

Company G and the Howitzer Company, 169th Infantry, C. N. G., will leave for Camp Cross, Niantic, Saturday at 8:55 a. m. for a two weeks' tour of training. The two companies will assemble at the armory and will march to the depot and will board the train which will arrive in Niantic shortly after 11 o'clock.

Not at Full Quota Both local companies will be below the average strength for camp this year, due to the drain on the personnel by the Forestry Corps appointments. Several of the members of the company now with the forestry units are still carried on the rolls of the local National Guard units, their enlistments reverting to reserve status.

The decision of the War Department to provide summer training for the various State National Guard regiments was received by the Adjutant General of this state last week. Previously, it was doubtful whether the training schedule for the summer would be completed, due to cuts in the Militia Bureau appropriation. It is expected that pay for drills during the first quarter, upon return from camp, will be omitted, although every effort to reimburse the men for the six monthly drills during the summer months will be made.

Details Completed Company G, with command of Captain James H. McVeigh and the Howitzer company under command of Captain Russell B. Hathaway during camp maneuvers. During the past few weeks preparations for camp have been indicated by both companies and everything will be in readiness for entraining Saturday morning. Details from each company will leave for Niantic Friday in order to set up the company kitchens for the arrival of the units at noon Saturday.

PLAYGROUNDS BUSY AS SEASON OPENS

Tournaments Organized for Season—More Boys Are Wanted for Ball Games.

Yesterday was opening day at the Recreation System playgrounds, East side, West Side and Globe Hollow swimming pool. Supervisors had a busy day of it getting the various activities organized. The attendance of youngsters was large despite the uncertain weather.

Besides the organization work there was plenty doing, as the boys and girls lost no time in getting right down to business. The first swimming class found no less than a hundred of them eager for the water and for swimming instructions, and at the same time in the afternoon at the West Side there were going on simultaneously a senior baseball game, girls' baseball, girls' volleyball, junior and senior volleyball ball, boys' elimination ball, and every swing and see-saw was going.

Many boys have signed up for the juvenile baseball league but more are needed and Director Busch urges the youngsters to get a move on and get things started.

A lot more activities are being planned. The first of the playground special days at the West Side will be Wednesday, July 5, when the annual pet show, with prizes, will be held.

Director Busch announces that another prize has been offered for the prize waits which is to be a feature of the forthcoming Block Dance—a $5 credit on merchandise donated by the Silbros clothing concern through the manager, Irving Posner; this is a man's prize and will be good any time. Contestants for the prize waits are asked to enter their names either at the East Side Recreation Center or at the Silbros store.

TOOK HIM FOR WALK BUT HE BODE BACK

Once in a while the intended victim of a school hazing "laugh" last week a member of the class of air was taken to the wilds of Glastonbury, led blindfolded into the woods and was left to his own volition under the dripping branches of the trees.

In the darkness he, quickly followed his abductors, raising on the sound of their laughter for direction. He hit the main highway just as a car was passing. The driver, his sympathy aroused, stopped and gave the lad a lift into town. Imagine the gang's surprise to see their victim back in town ahead of them.

The bride wore yellow flowered cotton fabric tulle. The groom wore a dark suit. The matron of honor wore a blue net with pink accessories. Mrs. Bonney wore grey chiffon and grey hat.

Rev. James Smith, of Collinsville, formerly of Rockville, was a visitor in this city yesterday attending the Eckles funeral.

The regular meeting of the Board of Selectmen will be held tonight in their rooms in the Memorial building.

LOCAL MAN BURNED AS GASOLINE IGNITES

James S. Hasset Hurt in Hartford While Working on Auto as Mechanic.

James G. Hasset of 214 Center street, was badly burned about the neck, right arm and chest at 10 o'clock last night while working at a parking station at Pearl and Trumbull streets, Hartford, where he is employed as a mechanic. At the time of the accident Mr. Hasset was cleaning off some wires on an automobile with gasoline, holding a container of gasoline in his hand. The two wires touched and there was a short circuit which caused the spark shooting out and Mr. Hasset made an attempt to straighten up the gasoline container it fell against his chest. The spark ignited the gasoline and before he could move further, there were flames about his body. He lost his shirt from his body. Other workmen saw the accident and hurried him to St. Francis hospital. After being given aid he was bandaged and advised to enter the hospital as a patient. This he refused to do. Securing his car he drove to Manchester, reaching here at 10:45 and not wishing to alarm his parents he drove to the home of Dr. T. H. Weldon where he was again treated.

A squad of fifteen players was selected to represent Dillworth-Cornell Post, No. 102, of the American Legion in the Connecticut State League competition, following the final game of the local league last night between the Hawks and the Pelicans, which was won by the Pelicans, 10 to 6.

First Game Tomorrow The first game in state competition will be played at Stafford Springs tomorrow night and a double-header will be played at Waterbury Saturday of this week. Four teams took part in the local circuit, which operated for a week, and the players that will represent the local Post were selected from the four lineups.

Here's the Squad The squad will consist of the following: Otto L. Cooke, Arlington LaCoss, Walter Bentley, Henry Heafs, Jack Bellamy, George May, Edward Haraburda, Richard Cobb, Earle Judd, Ernest Gardner, Michael L. Swilla, Harold Geer, Bruno Eycholski, Jack May and John Sullivan.

Frank Rossi, who was champion, was paired with N. Pierson of Goodwin Park, whose card yesterday was 155. Ross was third with a score of 148.

5-MILE-A-MINUTE PLANES TUNED FOR NEW RECORD TRIES

Mark-Shattering Speed Is Foreseen in National Air Races at Los Angeles, to Begin This Saturday.

By ERSKINE JOHNSON. Los Angeles, June 27—Major James Doolittle's land plane speed record of 294 miles an hour and 17 other world air speed marks will be in danger when the nation's crack men and women pilots converge here for the 1933 National Air Races, July 1 to 4. Tremendous improvements in body and engine designs since last year's races, it is said, insure the appearance in Los Angeles of more than one airplane capable of attaining a speed in excess of 300 miles per hour.

Approximately 50 racing pilots and their daredevil machines of all shapes, representing both sexes and every section of the country, will risk their necks during the program for $50,000 in cash prizes and numerous coveted trophies. The races will be held at Municipal Airport, scene of the 1928 National Air Races.

$10,000 for Cross-Country Dash Five perennially popular races again will take the spotlight. They are: a 100-mile speed dash for men open to men and women pilots with a total purse of $10,000; a speed dash for women pilots with a 175-mile-an-hour qualifying speed offering a total purse of $2,000; a 225-mile-an-hour qualifying speed with a purse of $2,500; a 100-mile closed course race for women with a purse of $3,000 and the Cleveland Aerial Trophy, and the Charles E. Thompson Trophy race for men and women pilots over a 200-mile closed course offering a total purse of $7,000.

Women Will Show Frowns America's most prominent women pilots will dash back and forth twice in each direction over a three kilometer course in their first event even July 1 with $3,000 at stake. Women pilots who qualify at a speed of 175 miles per hour or more in this dash against time will compete the second day of the races in the great international free-for-all classic for the Cleveland Aerial trophy and the $3,000 in cash.

Front rank women flyers who will participate include Mrs. Hazel Halzlip, wife of the transcontinental record flyer, Jimmie Halzlip, of St. Louis, and Mrs. Gladys O'Donnell, air school owner of Long Beach, Cal. Mrs. Halzlip will try to break the world speed record for women of 255.5 miles an hour. Mrs. O'Donnell, winner of the women's classic at Cleveland last year, the Aerial trophy race with a purse of $3,000, isn't saying whether she'll attempt it, but the men are counting on her for plenty of competition.

SHARKEY IN TOP SHAPE FOR HIS TITLE DEFENSE

Champ in Better Condition Physically and Mentally Than He Was a Year Ago, Says Doctor; Carnera Easy to Hit But Hard to Hurt; Bout Is Thursday.

New York, June 27—(AP)—Primo Carnera may expect to catch Jack Sharkey out of condition when they step into the ring of Madison Square Garden's Long Island City box Thursday night, but if he does, he'll run into an unpleasant surprise.

Sharkey is in better shape physically and mentally. Dr. Nardello said, "than he was when I examined him a year ago for his fight with Charles G. Jones. His disposition is greatly improved. He was too much on edge last year, too nervous. Nervous exhaustion is more tiring than any amount of physical effort. I would say Sharkey is every bit as ready as Carnera."

RAMBLERS TO OPPOSE FIRE EATERS TONIGHT

Tonight at 8 o'clock "Pete" Hapenny and his band of "smoke eaters" from Home Co. No. 3 will invade the east Side of the town for a battle with the Ramblers baseball team. Last week the Sub-Alpine had two lucky innings and managed to defeat the Ramblers but the West Sides have added a little more strength by boxing in three rounds with Harold Mays and against Arthur Huttick. Both found the huge Italian easy to hit but hard to hurt. The betting odds continued to favor Sharkey at 6-5.

SENSE and NONSENSE

THE TEST

Life? And worth living?
 Yes, with each part of us—
 Hurt of us, help of us, hope of us,
 heart of us,
 Life is worth living.
 Ah, with the whole of us,
 Will of us, brain of us, senses and soul of us.
 Is life worth living?
 Aye, with the best of us,
 Heights of us, depths of us—
 Life is the test of us!

Business Man (to applicant)— I am inclined to give you the position if you are positive that you thoroughly understand double-entry bookkeeping.
 Applicant—I do indeed! At my last place I had to do a triple-double-entry—a set for the active partner, showing the real profits, a set for the sleeping partner, showing very small profits, and a set for the Income Tax officials, showing no profits.

"There's a scandal in our kitchen indeed its most distressing. A man peeped through the transom and saw the salad dressing."

Mary—Bob has asked me to marry him . . . What shall I do?
 Mother—Consult Bradstreet's, your lawyer . . . and your heart.

If you have a good many responsibilities, don't complain. It's a sign you amount to something.

Movie Director—Now here's where you jump over the cliff!
 Nervous Actor—But suppose I'm killed or seriously injured?
 Movie Director—Oh, that won't matter. This is the last scene in the picture, you know, and it will not be necessary to remake scenes.

Doctors say the material human body is worth only 97 cents. Then why do they bill us from $50 up for repairs on the old human machine?

Strange but true: The closer money is, the harder it is to get.

Joe—So you took that pipkin home from the movie last night?
 Sam—Sure thing.
 Joe—How far does she live from the theater?

Sam—Oh, three soda fountains, one barbecue stand and a candy store.

There is no insect or animal that makes more noise for its size than the Katydid. And, none that can cause more uneasiness than chig-gers.

Violet—So the girl you are engaged to is a twin? How on earth do you tell the difference between her and her sister?
 Jasper—It's a very nice family,
 and I don't bother much about it.

Said a mother to her daughter:
 "If that young fellow you are so sweet on cannot make enough money to keep going, then I should tell him to quit coming."

Scotchman—Give me a penny's worth of poison.
 Druggist—I can't put up that small a package.
 Scotchman—Then I guess I had rather live.

HASH . . . The secret of success appears to be still a secret to most of us these days. . . . Speaking of wages, those paid for sin are holding up fairly well. . . . We figure that for every man knocked senseless at least a hundred are born that way . . . Wise men get a lot of free instruction from fools. . . . As a rule the less you use your temper the better it becomes. . . . Empty heads, like empty trucks, make more noise. . . .

Every once in a while someone reads a paragraph in this column and wonders if we are taking a crack at him. Such people take themselves entirely too seriously.

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS:

Even a light-headed girl may have quite a weigh about her.
