BATTLE OVER MONEY RENEWED AT PARLEY; FRANCE IS STILL FIRM

Britain's Delegates Insist That Old Program Should Not Be Reduced—French Admit Campaign to Gain Britain's Support for Gold Standard, Has Failed.

By Associated Press
Today at the conference: The fight over inclusion of monetary questions in the renewed agenda of the world economic conference was renewed today with the British delegation insisting that the old program should not be reduced.

The French, expressing surprise at this opposition in view of what they said was yesterday's decision in the steering committee to eliminate monetary topics, demanded that stabilization and kindred subjects should no longer be dealt with.

At the same time the French were said to be admitting that their campaign to gain Great Britain's support for gold currencies had failed and they foresaw the eventual division of the world into two monetary groups, one based on the dollar-sterling combination while the other sought to maintain itself on the yellow metal.

Supporting the French forecast, the British pound joined the dollar in a sharp slump on the Paris market, which British quarters said was a warning that their government would not support sterling always at the recent level in ratio to gold currencies.

At the same time a proposal for an international agreement to reduce the hours of work and to raise wage levels was being prepared in the American delegation for submission to the parley.

BATTLE RENEWED
London, July 7.—(AP)—Franco-American controversy broke out anew today in the private session of the committee on monetary policy of the world economic conference which decided by an 8 to 7 vote that tariffs and quotas could not be dealt with by the parley.

Although beaten on this point temporarily the American delegation was hopeful of reversing the decision in the bureau or steering committee of the conference to which the committee report will be submitted.

The gold bloc countries, led by France, flatly refused to discuss tariffs, arguing that this subject involved monetary questions which were taboo because of President Roosevelt's stand against currency stabilization.

The monetary commission's subcommittee of immediate measures for financial reconstruction continued its battle this afternoon over what part of its agenda it could

AVIATORS SHOWER FLOWERS ON GRAVE

Planes Dip in Salute as Body or Russell Boardman Is Laid to Rest.

Middletown, Conn., July 7.—(AP)—While planes overhead dipped in salute and flew, drifted softly down, the body of Russell Boardman was lowered into its last resting place in the family burial plot at Westfield late yesterday.

Boardman, whose flight to Turkey in 1931 with John Polanco of Lynn, Mass., thrilled the world, was fatally injured Saturday at Indianapolis in the Bendix trophy race from New York to Los Angeles.

His plane crashed as he took off to continue his flight. He died early Monday in the Indianapolis City hospital.

Polanco was among the mourners at the graveside, while other airmen who knew the flier, flew over the quiet country cemetery.

They scattered flowers from their planes, as they dipped twice over the grave.

Earlier services were held in the Third Congregational church in the Westfield district of Middletown.

The Rev. David Lewis Yale, pastor of the church, officiated. He was assisted by the Rev. Dr. Seiden R. McCurdy of Providence, R. I., a relative of the flier.

Mrs. Boardman, the flier's widow and East G. Boardman, of Mattapoisett, Mass., his brother sat in the first pew, while behind them were Boardman's three sisters. On the other side of the church, were Polanco and other air companions of Boardman.

Throughout the services, the subdued grim of three National Guard planes and three United States Army planes could be heard as they circled over the church.

ROBINSON SLATED FOR CHAIRMANSHIP

Wets Support Hartford Lawyer to Direct State Convention Next Tuesday.

Hartford, July 7.—(AP)—Another candidate was advanced today for the permanent chairmanship of the state convention which meets next Tuesday at the State Capitol to place Connecticut formally in the list of states favoring repeal of the 18th Amendment.

The latest name mentioned was that of Lucius F. Robinson, Sr., Hartford lawyer and a director of the Association against the Eighteenth Amendment.

Former Gov. John H. Trumbull also has been suggested for the chairmanship.

Before the convention adjourns, its fifty delegates pledged to ratify the 21st amendment, which provides for repeal will be addressed by Gov. Wilbur L. Cross. Officially, the governor will not participate in the convention. It is proposed, however, to have a committee inform him of the action taken on prohibition by the 50 delegates and invite him to transmit any message he may have.

Luncheon guests have been invited by the Governor to be his luncheon guests at the Hartford Club after adjournment.

The convention will be called to order by Secretary of State John A. Danaher. Formal action on repeal will be taken after the delegates have been accredited and sworn in by Chief Justice William M. Malloy.

Vacation Ended, President Faces a World of Problems

Back at the capitol after his two-week vacation cruise, President Roosevelt was prepared to take the helm of his Recovery Act forces and order: "Pull speed ahead." Tanned and robust, he is pictured at the White House as he held his first press conference since returning.

Atlanta, Ga., July 7.—(AP)—A young high school boy, who helped kidnap John K. Ottley, 65-year-old banker and sportsman, said today he did it so he could gain the victim's gratitude by helping him escape.

Offering aid in the hunt for a companion in the abduction, the youth told officers he was James Pryor Bowen, 17, son of a Lavonia, Ga., farmer. He said an older man

ALASKA FLIERS NEVER WORRIED OVER MATTERN

Disappearances All in the Day's Work; They Usually Show Up After a While Is the Nome Idea.

Nome, Alaska, July 7.—(AP)—The reported finding of Jimmy Mattern in a little Siberian trading village southeast of Nome on the other side of the Bering Sea, conforms to the tradition of Alaskan flying, where lost aviators usually turn up some time.

Scarcity of settlements in the frozen northlands and the even greater rarity of wireless or telegraph stations often delay word of the safe landing of a missing flier for days or weeks.

With a cracked-up plane that can't be repaired, an aviator may find safety in an Indian village or trading settlement, but usually the only way he can let the waiting world know of his safety is by a long, slow, trek by dog sled over seldom used trails.

A landing in even more sparsely settled northeastern Siberia would complicate this problem so familiar to Alaskan aviators.

Was Forced Down
Belief was common here after the Texas airman failed to complete the flight from Fairbanks that he had been forced down by low hanging clouds and fog. With a ceiling of 1,900 feet and temperature close to freezing, Mattern either had to land or fly into the clouds with the probability of ice forming on his wings, and a consequent forced landing or crashup.

Similar conditions delayed search for him in the Aleutians, southwest of Anadir, by two Navy airmen, one of whom, Ensign William A. Moffett, Jr., is the son of the late rear admiral.

Nome aviators man repeatedly expressing confidence in Mattern's pilot skills over Alaska and Siberia, having flown over the area for weeks in preparation for and during the attempted non-stop refueling flight of Reg Robbins from Seattle to Tokyo. They said the Texas pilot probably flew close to the shore line or flew into the interior rather than over the open sea.

SAFE IN SIBERIA

By Associated Press
Jimmy Mattern, world flier given up for dead by all but a trusting few, is safe in Siberia.

From the little trading post of Anadir, brief word came today that the aviator who disappeared June 14, while making the first solo flight around the world in aviation history, was safe.

The good news was dispatched by the flier himself, relayed across the wastes of Siberia to Moscow and sent on from there to his homeland.

"Safe, Anadir, Chukotka, Siberia," the message read, and it signed "Jimmy Mattern."

Mattern's wife on the west coast had never lost her faith that he was still alive. Nor had his mother in Freeport, Ill., or his backers in Chicago.

"I was confident all the while," said the mother. "I knew he was safe all the time," said the wife. "We always had confidence," said the backers.

Search Continued
The unwavering hope of this little band of persons was shared by the United States Coast Guard in Washington (Anadir) that ever since the flier disappeared while on the way from Siberia to Alaska the Coast Guard cutter Northland had been searching Alaskan water for him.

And today, word was sent to the Northland of Mattern's safety and Coast Guard officials expected the cutter to be in touch with the flier some time today.

Only one message was received from Mattern, and that had taken two days to be relayed to civilization, so that no details were known. It was not known whether he crashed or was merely forced down or how he had had travel to reach the little trading post from which he sent out his message to the world.

MOSCOW REPORT

Moscow, July 7.—(AP)—James Mattern, American flier, is safe at Anadir in the Chukotka peninsula of Siberia, according to a telegraph message received direct from Mattern himself.

"Safe at Anadir, Chukotka, Siberia," the message read from the town of Bocharova at 11 p. m. July 5 and was received here in midnight today.

The American flier's message gave no details of his situation and of force and official quarters here were without any information of him.

Russians Happy
News of the American, who had been unreported since he left Khabarovsk, Siberia, June 15, was received with jubilation in Soviet aviation circles where it has been believed that if the aviator had been forced down on land he had a good chance of escaping alive despite the fact that it would take him a long time to communicate with the outside world.

The fact that so much time elapsed between his descent and dispatch of the message indicated that he may have come down at some distance from any habitable spot making it necessary for him to make his way laboriously to the nearest village.

That section of Siberia is very sparsely settled.

AMERICANS TIED FOR GOLF TITLE

St. Andrews, Scotland, July 7.—(AP)—Two youthful American professionals, Densmore Shute of Philadelphia and Craig Wood of Deal, New Jersey, today tied for the British open golf championship with totals of 293 each for the 72 holes in one of the most spectacular finishes in the tournament's history.

Shute and Wood will play off at 36 holes tomorrow for the title lost by Gene Sarazen by a single stroke. This is the first playoff in the British open since 1921 when Jock Hutchings beat Roger Wetherhead.

Syd Easterbrook, last hope of the British homebreds, failed in the final challenge to the leaders after a day of startling disaster to some of the greatest shotmakers in golf.

Easterbrook took a 77 for his last round and fell just a stroke short of tying Wood and Shute. His total of 293 put the Briton in a deadlock for third place with Gene Sarazen and Leo Diegel as the American homebreds took four of the first five places in a riotous finishing drive.

A seven on No. 14—The day's final hole for many favorites—cost Easterbrook his chance for at least a tie, just as an eight for Sarazen

TO CELEBRATE ZION CHURCH'S 40 YEARS

Special Services Sunday As Members Observe the Anniversary.

Sunday, July 9 the Evangelical Lutheran Zion church at 112 Cooper street, will celebrate the fortieth year of its organization as the first German church in town. The German service in the morning will be as usual and conducted by the pastor, Rev. H. F. R. Steinhilber. In the afternoon at 3 o'clock a special service will be held in English. The guest preacher will be a former pastor for several years, Rev. F. A. Oltmann of Ridgefield, N. J. There will be selections by a quartet and other special music by the choir. Following the meeting, Mrs. Charles Lashinsky, president, and her associates in the Ladies Aid society of the church will serve refreshments. This little church was instituted when immigration was at its high tide. As it well known the Irish and English were the first to immigrate in large numbers to Manchester. The Germans and Swedes followed and naturally these nationalities were anxious to establish churches where the older members particularly might listen to sermons delivered in their native tongue. The Lutheran Concordia church at Winter and Garden streets, which recently held a confirmation reunion, was an offshoot of the Zion church, and built three years after the parent church to care for the increasing German population.

Encouraged by the success of his robot pilot in a test flight over New York, Wiley Post, above, was prepared to take off next week in his Winnie Mae on an attempt to lower his own globe-circling record of 8 days, 15 hours, 51 minutes made with Harold Gatty in 1931. He was depending on the automatic control to relieve him of much of the strain on the flight.

BATTLE OVER MONEY RENEWED AT PARLEY

continue to discuss in view of the gold bloc's insistence that all monetary subjects be barred.
Cousens Demands
After Senator James Cousens of Michigan had demanded that the conference be continued along these lines which would assure that 20,000,000 of unemployed be put back to work and prices be raised, he found strong support in Sir Henry Strakosch of India, who declared he thought monetary matters should be discussed.
Strakosch Said
Sir Strakosch said he doubted whether there would have been any need for the world economic conference if wide divergences on monetary policies had not existed. The monetary factor is a dominant one, he asserted, adding that he therefore think it essential that discussions of monetary problems be allowed but these must be in private.
Fau Rosny, of the Swiss National bank, supported his gold bloc colleagues in demanding that all monetary questions be barred.
Dr. Richard Schuller, of Austria, also fell in line with the gold group, as did H. R. F. L. of Belgium, Poland, Germany and Yugoslavia.

PRICE RAISING PLANS London, July 7.—(AP)— A world-wide price raising program irrespective of wishes of gold-standard countries, one which probably will be sought to the bitter end by the British, appeared on the horizon of the world economic conference today as an aftermath of an American victory in keeping the Congress alive.

Force with which British Dominion came to the aid of Secretary of State Cordell Hull in the Conference Bureau meeting yesterday when an adjournment or recess was argued, surprised the entire attending committee.
It was later understood, however, in conference quarters that this support represented the Dominion's decision that their economic salvation lies in the future of the dollar rather than in the fate of the gold-standard.
Great Britain is understood in some quarters to have been pulled finally by the Dominion's attitude towards the dollar away from the French currency. A close steering of the dollar has been consistently expected in the American camp today.
Victors in one battle yesterday, the Americans re-entered the fray today in fights along ten or twelve smaller fronts to insure that the conference would carry on.
France is Beaten
The gold bloc countries, led by France, were beaten in powerful efforts to force adjournment—holding that nothing can be accomplished without currency stabilization first—but were confident that as various subcommittees convened again it could easily be demonstrated that they were unable to go forward with their plans and that they would have to report back to the bureau on Monday.
The American plan, however, was to fight such sentiment in each committee and keep as many of them as possible from voting on the plan.
In the auditing situation there was the strong possibility that a price raising program will find such support that the gold bloc nations will either have to participate in the conversations in order to help or else fulfill their threat and go home.
Delegates Hopeful
Although delegates were hopeful the gold-standard representatives will see fit to continue and co-operate in view of the increasing support for the American camp many half their departure from the conference would not necessarily be catastrophic.
Considerable momentum has been given activities not connected with the consideration of the gold standard by what Sir Roosevelt program is accomplishing in America, and to quote one highly placed American, "they hold up their hands and say it won't last, but we answered that that's very good men think it will last."
A large group of nations already out of gold at first were said to have viewed the American experiment sympathetically, then with interest, and now with approval.
While there was still much pessimism as to what the conference can accomplish with conditions of tension and apprehension what they are, it was fully admitted that yesterday's battle over adjournment may have been a turning point from which the conference will go on to real accomplishment.

SHORTER WORK DAY. London, July 7.—(AP)—World-wide action for shorter hours for labor and increased wages and agricultural prices is called for in a resolution drafted in American headquarters today for presentation to the world economic conference.

While the whole United States delegation had not formally approved the proposal this morning, it was quickly accepted by several members and its sponsors expected to introduce it without great delay.
Pointing to widespread distress and unemployment in all countries, the resolution declared for "at least an hour of labor and a steadily rising scale of wages and agricultural prices."
Exactly paralleling important features of President Roosevelt's American program for recovery and prosperity, the proposal was advanced at a moment when conference action on monetary and tariff matters was blocked by the refusal of European gold bloc representatives to discuss them.
Accordingly, the Americans believed the way open for early consideration of their ambitious plan for shortening hours and boosting wages and prices.
The resolution does not specify the hours of labor to be sought, but James A. Wilson, an American Federation of Labor representative with the American delegation, has been advocating a thirty-hour week.
HULL'S VICTORY
London, July 7.—(AP)—Prolongation of the world economic conference in many ways was a single-handed victory for Secretary of State Cordell Hull, whose mildness and native politeness have not always created an impression of forcefulness among European diplomats since he has been here.
In the story told today of how he held out against great odds while others clamored that the stabilization fund could not be broken, Mr. Hull was described as nervous and down-hearted when he went to the meeting to carry out his chief's wishes, that the parley continue.
His delegation, almost to a man, was for recess, but Hull made an attempt to carry on, and his powerful persuasiveness, showed delegates from gold standard countries how much work could be done without discussing stabilization and monetary matters.
Invited to Lunch
Ten days ago, he had invited members of the steering committee and others to luncheon and at four p. m., after hours of wrangling, Mr. Hull reminded them of the engagement.
In view of the developments, such a luncheon seemed rather an unattended impertinence. Their wishes were set and grim as the delegates left the conference hall.
But over good food and drink, and with a few jokes and friendly conversation, the whole atmosphere changed.
When they went back to the conference room, the problem was tackled with new life, and a resolution was adopted which may turn the next few days into complete victory for the Americans.
Mr. Hull, although fully cognizant of the hard road that lies ahead, was a happy man.

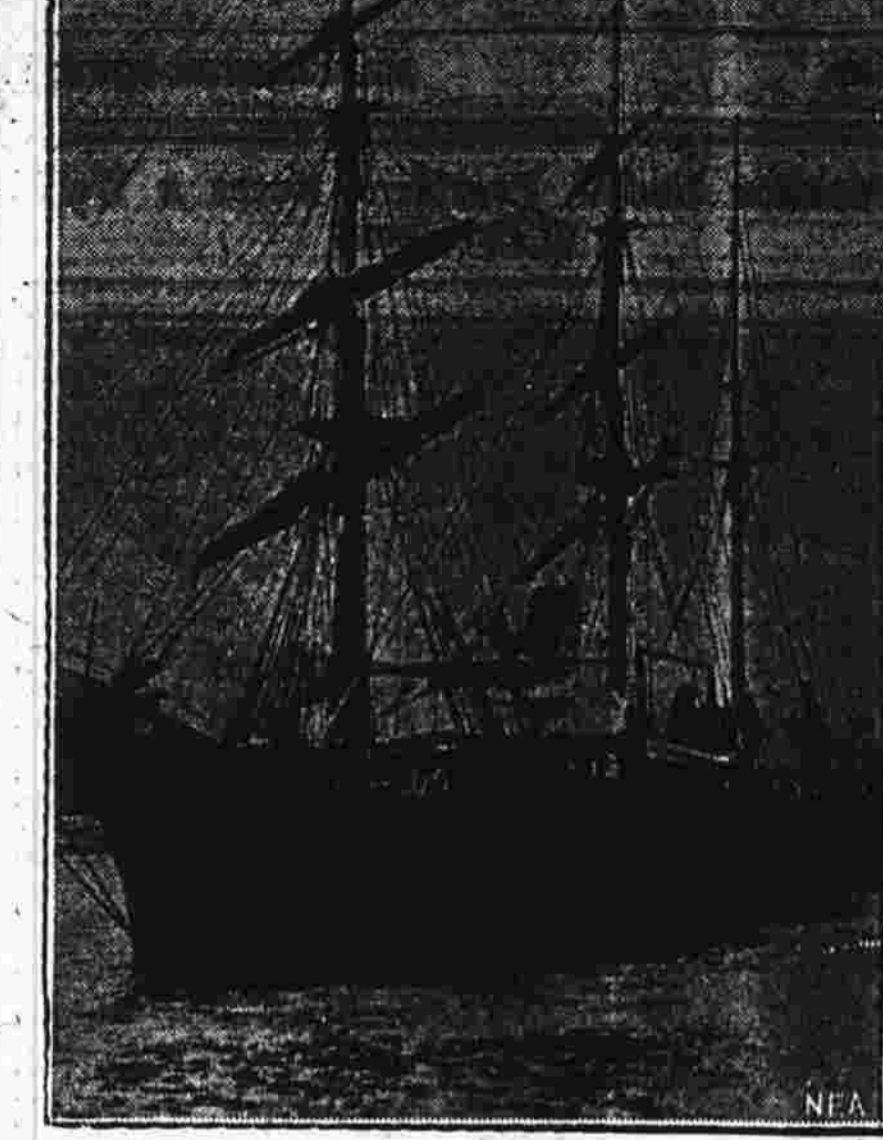

PUT MEN TO WORK PARLEY'S BUSINESS

Senator Couzens Tells Delegates in London That Is the Main Object.

Washington, July 7.—(AP)—Senator James Cousens of Michigan in a straight-from-the-shoulder speech before the world economic conference today afternoon, urged the assembly to continue working along lines which will insure that thirty million of unemployed persons will be put back to work and prices will be raised to remunerative levels.
Senator Cousens' speech was understood to be intended as an answer to Georges Bonnet, French finance minister, who said in an address today it was impossible for the conference to consider any more matters pending stabilization of currencies.
Cousens said finding employment for the jobless would solve many problems.
Made No Complaint
Recalling that America maintained the gold standard for a time while other countries abandoned it, he said "we found no fault with others nor uttered any complaints."
At another point the American Senator said dramatically: "President Roosevelt with the support of the people started out to raise prices levels. From this purpose he has not deviated."
"And there is no reason to believe we can't work this out together."
Cousens' speech was delivered in the sub-committee on the monetary situation which was trying to decide what agenda to pursue in the face of the gold bloc's demand that all monetary questions be barred.
The prime function of the conference, he said, is to put to work 30 million people now unemployed, adding "this will solve most of the problems, if not all."

ROOSEVELT REPEAL ALLUSION ANOTHER CAPITAL SENSATION

Washington — Again it appears President Roosevelt has made the politically minded in Washington blink their eyes at another maneuver—this time in regard to the proposal to repeal the eighteenth amendment.

This question, so important in the nominating and election campaign last year, has received scant public attention from the White House since March 4. Apart from the statement authorized on the day that congress voted to submit prohibition repeal, that he was "pleased," Roosevelt has been silent about that.
And efforts have been made to have him say something, too. At his bi-weekly press conferences, several times he has been asked to comment. Each time he has smilingly shunted the suggestion.
A Lure
Now he comes forward with his bill seeking industrial recovery which carries with it a tax increase. And he adds that provision should be made for the reduction or elimination of these new levies "when ever the repeal of the eighteenth amendment... shall have been ratified and the repeal of the Volstead act effected."
Political observers here think no more subtle or astute approach could have been made to the question of repeal than this. He has thrown out a lure, they say, that will be hard to resist.
What's Next?
At any rate, the President seems to have given new thought to the question, even if it is by implication.
Reports in some quarters have it that he may go further while his industrial recovery bill is being considered by congress, urge the variety of bills to quicken their efforts to set up the necessary machinery for disposal of the question. Others insist that he will wait until congress adjourns before further action.

CHINESE WARSHIPS, REBELS, SEEK PORT

The ships as compensation for the loss of the cruiser the Chinese vessel Chongshan at Nanking last year. But fears of financial and other consequences which might result from provoking the Nanking government are understood to be operating in Canton circles.
It was alleged that the mutineers offered to join the Cantonese Nineteenth Route Army at Amoy, but that the army refused them, since it is financially dependent upon Nanking.
Mitigation of Canton's animosity toward Nanking is indicated in the Southern Government's refusal to receive the surrender of the three warships.
The friction between Nanking and Canton had become intense as a result of Cantonese charges that Nanking had not earnestly resisted the Japanese invasion and Nanking's refusal that Canton had refused to take its share in the campaign against the Communists.
Nanking has adopted a passive attitude in its efforts at reconciliation. It permitted the mutinous warships to sail past the mouth of the Yangtze River without interference rather than increase factional bitterness by seizing them.
COMBATS STICIDE
Bridgeport, July 7.—(AP)—John Mikuokus, 38, was found dead in the kitchen of his home today by members of his family. The jets on the kitchen stove were open.
Dr. H. D. Luce, medical examiner, returned a verdict of suicide by illuminating gas poisoning. Mikuokus leaves his widow and seven children.

Wall Street Briefs

New York, July 7.—A rise of $77,000,000 in currency circulation during the week ended July 7 was below the normal advance for the period embracing the Fourth of July. Currency demands for this holiday are usually among the year's largest and a big gain invariably occurs. It was the second increase since the country's banking holiday, the other having occurred in the last week of May.
The American Telephone and Telegraph Co. reports to the Interstate Commerce Commission that operating income of $931,881 compared with $853,888 in May, 1932. The figures cover operating activities only, excluding dividends, interest and other revenues.
Export orders received by Curtiss-Wright Corp. in the first six months of this year approximated $2,500,000, says Thomas A. Morgan, president. This is equal to the company's entire export business for all of 1932.

ANOTHER FINE COFFEE ADDED TO HALE'S LINE

"Supreme Blend" Is Result of Several Years Experiment—Price In Very Moderate.

Coffee lovers of Manchester will be delighted to know that Hale's Self-Serve grocery department has added a new brand of coffee under their own label which completes a family of three blends.
The new coffee which has been labeled "Hale's Supreme Blend" is a high quality coffee that is equal to the best on the market. It is packed in convenient one-pound cans. For over a year Gordon Thornton, manager of the "Self-Serve" and his coffee broker have been trying to get just the right coffee for substantially high in quality to warrant being placed under the Hale label. Gordon Thornton guarantees this coffee to be of the best and he states it will sell the most critical.
About two years ago "Red Bag" coffee was first introduced to "Self-Serve" Grocery customers. This is an inexpensive coffee, specially prepared for budget-minded customers who appreciate and want quality coffee at a small price.
As far back as thirteen years ago when the "Self-Serve" first opened, Hale's Grocery department was first offered for sale under the Hale label. This coffee has won worldwide attention for its fine flavor. This is intermediate priced and it roasted and blended especially for the Hale store. Millions of cups of this popular coffee are brewed in Manchester each year.
It is not the aim of Hale's to replace this popular seller with this new blend, but rather to offer an extremely moderate price a fine tasting coffee equal to the higher priced, nationally advertised brands. The Hale store is offering, during its 25th Anniversary Sale, now in progress a special inducement to their customers to try this new coffee as listed in the "Self-Serve" advertisement on the back page of this issue of The Herald.

SANDWICH SHOP STARTS SCRIBE SPELLING BILLY

Somewhere Said He Should Be The Scribes: Several Billys Starting So.

Simple Simon's Sandwich Shop's spelling surprising success as many several staff "Simonites" smilingly serving sustenance soup, savory sandwiches, seasonal cookies, sweet specialties—that's an "S" in concentration on the use of the most crooked letter in the alphabet on a hot July day.
A small band of local church women conceived the idea of transforming the abandoned Colman's oil-house into a refectory to fill the gap between the smoky tea room and the gasoline station refreshment stand. They began their venture in May, with a test for the school, board which rented the oil-house for the purpose and since then have catered to a number of local and out-of-town parties and tourists, incidentally making quite a bit of money for their church.
Manchester people have loyally supported the little shop, and people who travel regularly over the busy highway on which it is situated, have stopped again and again for the home-cooked dishes they serve there. Every one expresses interest in the project and a willingness to accord their patronage.
Woman and young girls of the church give unflinchingly of their time. Many of them take turns in serving as hostess, working in the kitchen or waiting on tables. Many a generous dish of baked beans, gingerbread or something else, baked in the early morning hours in their homes, finds its way to the shop and is sold at a good profit.
The blue flame of stove has provided entirely inadequately and an up-to-date electric range has been added to the kitchen equipment, which also boasts a fine electric refrigerator.

Do Women "Scratch"

A woman wrote this, but she put it in the mouth of one of her male characters: "When women lack the stimulus of the other sex... when they are alone together, they do not converse, they scratch." Lucky for "Virginia Woolf" that she didn't write this as an author's comment; woman readers would have felt like "scratching" her.

Bakeless Fruit Cake

So many asked for the recipe of the dessert served by Ever Ready Circle of Kings Daughters at the June dinner—it was liked by everybody—that we have been requested to print it for the benefit of all our women readers. This fruit cake may be made in any ice box and should not be frozen in the unit of an electric refrigerator. It will keep indefinitely, but no doubt will not be allowed to do so by the average family. It calls for the following ingredients:

- 1-2 pound Graham crackers, rolled fine
 - 1-2 pound marshmallows, cut fine
 - 1-2 pound dates, cut fine
 - 1-2 cup nut meats
 - 1-2 cup thin cream
 - 1 small bottle maraschino cherries
- Mix thoroughly and pack into a pan lined with waxed paper and press firmly. Let stand in ice box over night or longer. Serve in slices with whipped cream.

Backbone

Notice how belts and sashes usually become limp and "slimpy" and wrinkle around the waist. Why manufacturers don't put stiffening in them, we don't know. But since the makers don't do it, we may as well do it ourselves. A method that works is to take a piece of grosgrain ribbon, a trifle narrower than the belt and sew it on the inside. Use ribbon of the same color as the dress if you can get it; otherwise, white will do for light shades, black for dark ones.

ROCKVILLE SCHOOL PUPILS DRINK 13,000 BOTTLES OF MILK

Nurse's Report Commends Groups Who Aided in Free Distribution of Fluid.

Rockville school children consumed over 13,000 bottles of milk during the past school year, in addition to what they drank at home according to the annual report of Miss Margaret E. Dornheim, school nurse. Free distribution of milk to under-nourished children with the cooperation of the milk dealers, has been very beneficial to the children; also to the dealers by taking surplus milk off their hands.

Following is the report of Miss Dornheim, for the period from September, 1933 to June 1934, made to the mayor and common council this week: "During the school year from September, 1933 to June, 1934, there were 1385 children weighed, measured and examined. Of this number 150 were found to be ten per cent or more below normal weight and 190 were ten per cent or more over normal weight. There were 3786 children inspected in class rooms, 59 notes sent for defective tonsils and 53 for pediculic, also 424 notices were sent for cases of permanent teeth. Of this number 10 received some care, 97 have completed treatment and twenty are under treatment."

The Vernon Parent Teachers Association sponsored dental clinics for the care of their children, 14 clinics being held with Dr. E. J. Brennan in charge. A large number took advantage of this opportunity and there were 195 baby teeth extracted, 50 permanent teeth extracted and 197 fillings which means that many of our children have more healthy mouths than they would have had if not for these clinics. "The eyes of 1410 children were tested, 105 proved defective and of this number 70 parents were notified and asked to have corrections made. There were 27 of these who obtained glasses, 15 had their lenses changed three had lenses adjusted and four are now under treatment. The Rockville Lions Club helped very generously in this work, obtaining glasses for seven and changing the lenses of one.

"First aid was given 496 for minor injuries, 95 health talks were given, 51 calls made and 597 excluded, for various reasons. "The eyes of 1410 children were tested, 105 proved defective and of this number 70 parents were notified and asked to have corrections made. There were 27 of these who obtained glasses, 15 had their lenses changed three had lenses adjusted and four are now under treatment. The Rockville Lions Club helped very generously in this work, obtaining glasses for seven and changing the lenses of one. "May Install Oil Burner The question of installing an oil burner in the George Sykes Memorial school where the Rockville High school is now located, has come to the attention of the school authorities. There has been a necessity of the elimination of soft coal for several years and the School Board is much pleased with the trustees of the Sykes school considering the matter. "At the meeting on Wednesday night the Building Committee of the School Board reported as having been in consultation with a representative of an oil burner concern and a representative of the Sykes school trustees. The School Board has agreed that if the Sykes school trustees install the system it will furnish the fuel as it previously agreed to do.

Superintendent of Schools Herbert O. Clough had investigated the use of the same system in the Sanford, Maine High school and found that the school authorities there are very much pleased with the system which they have used for several years.

The Vernon Town School Committee will omit its August meeting and has authorized the treasurer to pay the necessary bills. It has also authorized the treasurer to determine the budget for the fiscal year of 1934-35 which will be presented at the September meeting. The meeting also authorized the chairman of the Board to pass on the report of Superintendent Clough for printing in the annual town report. The next meeting will be held on September 6.

Scientists Are Canning Starlight From Arcturus

Chicago, July 7.—(AP)—Scientists are figuring on "canning" some of the energy of the star Arcturus as they'll have some of it to help light a Century of Progress lamp after September 21, when Arcturus drops from sight over the horizon. This was revealed by George E. Simpson of the staff of an electrical concern at the World Fair. Light impulses from the star, greatly magnified by a photo-electric cell arrangement, have been used as the motive power for turning on the lights at the fair. An observatory at Elgin, Ill., has been assigned the job.

"On clear nights," Simpson said, "Elgin will pick up the star light and send impulses to Chicago and will use part of the energy to charge a battery for use on nights when clouds will obscure the sky, it is probable too, that enough energy can be stored so that when Arcturus drops below the horizon about September 21, the Arcturus ceremony can be carried on." Arcturus is used because its light is a connecting link with the Columbian Exposition, having left Arcturus at the time that fair was in progress—forty years ago.

FILES AN APPEAL

Bridgeport, July 7.—(AP)—Michael Mockovak of Danbury filed an appeal today in the Superior Court from the finding of Compensation Commissioner E. T. Buckingham, who denied application for compensation for enforced idleness due to mercurial poisoning last year. The record shows that in May, 1932, when in the employ of the H. McLahan Hat Company, the claimant was taken ill with mercurial poisoning, but returned to work the following October. Compensation was denied because it was ruled Mockovak failed to file written notice of his illness within the prescribed time.

GERMAN PRESS BOWS TO NAZI LEADER

Hitler Forces Communist and Socialist Papers to Forsake Liberal Policies.

London.—When the powers that be in the Nazi regime in Germany explained that their conception of the German press was that it was to be like a piano on which the tunes to be played would be those the Nazis liked and no other, they meant just exactly that, as even the Deutsches Allgemeine Zeitung has just found out to its sorrow.

This paper, popularly known in Germany as the D. A. Z., thought it was immune from too close regulation. It was not only a great Nationalist organ, but was supposed to have the backing of the railways, the steamship companies and other German "big business."

The Communist and Socialist press was squelched by the Nazis, great Liberal newspapers were taken over by the Brown shirts and turned overnight into Nazi organs, but the D. A. Z. and its editor, Dr. Fritz Klein, went right on. Dr. Klein often vigorously supported Adolf Hitler, but occasionally indulged in mild criticism.

But the other day he got caught. There is a sharp conflict between the German and Austrian governments. Hitler, a native of Austria, is very eager to see a Nazi regime in his former country. This is being vigorously fought by Austria's four-foot-five-inch Iron Chancellor, Dr. Dollfuss. When members of Hitler's cabinet came to Austria to make Nazi speeches, Dollfuss called them unwelcome guests and took steps to cut short their stay. When Nazis tried demonstrations in the Austrian mountain districts, Dollfuss was delighted when the Heimwehr, the Austrian Fascist, fought the men of the German swastika. Then Hitler's government announced that anybody, wishing to go from Germany to Austria on a vacation trip, would have to pay $50 for the visa. This was a deadly blow at Austria's tourist trade.

to one's mind was that of deep distress that things had not been handled more diplomatically. Chancellor Hitler, himself of Austrian origin, Dr. Klein said, would never have determined such a course had it not been that the battle against his movement by Dollfuss had hurt him in his innermost heart. The editor said he hoped some way might be found to smooth things over.

For this very mild criticism Hitler's political police seized that issue of the paper and also issued a decree forbidding publication for three months.

MARRIAGES, DIVORCES DECREASE IN STATE

Washington, July 7.—(AP)—A decline in the number of marriages and divorces in Connecticut for 1933 has been reported by the Bureau of Census. Preliminary figures show that marriages in the state dropped from 10,090 in 1931 to 9,190 in 1932. Divorces fell from 1,351 to 1,140. A decrease of 7.5 per cent in the number of weddings was reported for the entire country. The percentage of decrease for Connecticut was 8.8. The drop of 15.6 per cent in divorces for the state compared with a decrease of 12.7 per cent for the country. The number of Connecticut wedding per one thousand of the population was 5.6 in 1932 against 6.2 in 1931. On the same basis the number of divorces last year was .70 against .68 in 1931. Fourteen marriages were annulled in the state, a decrease of one from the 1931 figures.

FRIDAY, JULY 7.

"CONSTITUTIONALITY."

It would have been an amazing phenomenon indeed if the operation of the Industrial Recovery Act...

The monopolistic industries which, habituated to immense power and to anarchistic immunity...

In the first place the Constitution never created the Supreme Court guardian of the Constitution itself...

Would it be honest criticism or would it show a malicious purpose to misrepresent him...

In any serious conflict between the legislative and executive departments of this government...

pretty clear understanding of the fact that that court is not given to pettiness or hair splitting...

FISH, FRESH AND SPOILED. This is a Republican newspaper. It has never even labeled itself as "Independent - Republican..."

For this reason it is extremely difficult for us to have the slightest sympathy with that kind of partisanship which seeks, even in such a critical national crisis...

About the only typically Democratic figure in the administration is Postmaster-General Farley. Mr. Roosevelt himself was a rated Democrat...

So it appears to us to be singularly idiotic to play narrow partisanship at this time in such a way as to unsettle the faith of the people...

What we are particularly hitting at at this moment is the chorus of criticism aimed at the President's attitude toward the gold bloc's stabilization scheme...

Let us consider that Father has decided that the family's well being requires a dinner of fish. He says, "We must have some fish..."

Determination of the administration to make the commodity price level of 1924-5 the objective of its price pegging campaign...

which "money really was some good." The restoration of the price-level of that period is a vastly different thing from bringing back the bonanza prices of four years ago...

CRAZY-HATS. Associated Press correspondence from Milan, Italy, describes hats with handles, hats with bumpers, hats with square brims...

HEALTH AND DIET Advice By Dr. Frank McCoy. REMODELING HOMES FOR HEALTH SAKE. The science of architecture has progressed enormously in its use of materials and methods...

Let us look ahead into the future to try to find out what kind of a home your grandchildren will live in. It seems likely that many of the houses will be built of glass and steel...

So here, too, superstitions meet and blend, until now you'll find a man from Haiti carrying the foot of a rabbit which once scampered across an Alabama graveyard at midnight...

The houses will be made with many new materials, new lighting effects, new designs in ornamentation to make them as attractive, healthful and easily cared for as possible.

Would it be honest criticism or would it show a malicious purpose to misrepresent him if one of the children were to tell the others: "Father said we must have fish and we want fish and when the market man offered him fish he wouldn't take it and now we have no fish!"

Mr. Roosevelt did tell the nations that permanent stabilization of currencies is essential to the restoration of world prosperity. But he didn't tell them that all they had to do was to invent some scheme of stabilization that would work to the exclusive advantage of a few gold-controlled countries...

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS (School Children Should Eat Breakfast) Question: Mrs. Wm. A. S. asks: "Is it all right to let the high school girl and boy go to school without any breakfast? They say they are not hungry. Shouldn't they have orange juice or fruit of some kind?" Answer: School children often run away from breakfast because they get up too late to eat breakfast and get to school on time. Sometimes they get up too late to eat breakfast and get to school on time. Sometimes they are not hungry because of eating too much at the evening meal the night before. Any one who is not hungry for breakfast should fast a few days until real hunger returns. If there is any time in the day when one can be expected to be hungry, it is in the morning, after not having had anything to eat for approximately twelve hours. The thing to do is to re-arrange the children's diet so that they will not overeat at the other meals and will be hungry for breakfast.

IN NEW YORK

By PAUL HARRISON. New York, July 7.—In sprawling, lawdy Harlem there are more night clubs than there are in Montmartre, more speakeasies than in Manhattan's fabulous Fifties, more fried chicken than there is in Maryland, more jazz music than in Bedlam, and more Negroes than in any other city in the world.

(Numbness Creeps Over Body) Question: Mrs. Florence O. writes: "On three occasions during the past year I have been awakened from sleep with a numbness creeping over me. Have tried to call for help but could not move my lips, neither could I raise my hand or any part of my body for what seemed like a minute. I would appreciate it if you would inform me of the cause, and if there is danger of paralysis. I am thirty years old and weight 130 pounds."

PETROLLE COMING BACK FOR SHOT AT McLARNIN'S TITLE. Duluth, Minn.—(AP)—The Fargo Express is getting steamed up again for another trip along the fictitious track. Confident of his ability to present another of those sizzling, vicious fights for which he is known, Billy Petrolle is training faithfully for his forthcoming New York match, with an eye on a return fight with Jimmy McLarnin, new welterweight champ.

Powder, Sprinkling Powder, Black Cat Ankle Dust, Love Me Quick Powder, Boss Fix Powder, Sprinkling Powder No. 2 (male and female), Go Away Powder, Commander Oil Green, Ruling Hand Bone, Buzzard Wishbone Powder — and so on and on. An ounce of Keep 'Em Powder, designed to hold a wavering lover, costs $5. Adam and Eve Powder, scattered around the house, keeps away thieves, lightning, fire, sickness, insects and perhaps unwelcome in-laws. Boss Fix Powder will keep a boy from losing his job; and Boss Fix No. 2 (double strength) may be counted on to win a raise in wages.

Should Billy get a chance at McLarnin, it will be the third meeting of the pair. Petrolle won the first battle, but McLarnin pasted Billy all over the ring in his second encounter.

Behind the Scenes in WASHINGTON

$10 MINIMUM TEXTILE WAGE SEED TOO LOW. First Fair Trade Code to Win Government Approval Causes Trouble. JOHNSON Explains. Washington, July 7.—The Commerce Building, headquarters of the industrial recovery act, is being called "the new capitol of the United States." Latest indications are that it may be the scene of a continuous cat-and-dog fight, although there's no reason why that fact should seriously hamper achievement of the administration's aims.

Johnson explains that a 40-hour maximum week is necessary in the textile industry if the employers are to have enough workers to operate their mills. He had been told that by manufacturers and also by amiable Tom McMahon, president of the United Textile Workers, who had okayed the code. But labor's other representatives in Washington, as well as members of the administration's own labor advisory board, couldn't go along with McMahon. They immediately went into huddles and decided to fight the hour and wage provisions of the code at the hearing beginning June 27.

TAKE ADVANTAGE OF HALE BARGAINS

Big Crowds All Day Yesterday for 36th Anniversary Sale.

Manchester folks are certainly taking advantage of the low prices before the advances as shown by the way they were shopping in Hale's yesterday, Thursday being the first day of the Hale Company's 36th Anniversary Sale.

The first day of the sale was a great success and Elmer Weden, manager, and Herbert House, president of Hale store, are more than pleased with the day's business. Last evening the store was filled to capacity and extra sales people were called from the office and marking room.

Mr. Weden stated this morning that never before in this generation did the public of Manchester have better values on quality, nationally advertised brands than during this great store-wide 36th Anniversary Sale. As far back as two and three months ago, the buyers of this store and their New York resident buying office were scouting the wholesale markets for outstanding values. Since these orders were placed prices have advanced materially and these sale items cannot be replaced at the present low prices.

For example the Lady Pepperell sheets which were offered in the full bed sizes, 81 x 99 inches at 89c will be at least $1.25 on the next order.

Manchester women certainly took advantage of this last chance to buy this well known brand of sheets as the supply was exhausted at two-thirds yesterday afternoon. No more can be had at this low price.

Those who have not already taken advantage of the values offered will do well to shop tomorrow. An example of the unusual "buys" can be found in the full page advertisement of the Hale Company on pages 5, 13 and 16.

MURPHY APPEALS FOR ROAD FUNDS

New Haven Mayor Wants Part of Federal Loan for the Elm City.

New Haven, July 7.—(AP)—Appeals to Governor Willbur L. Cross and U. S. Senator Augustine Lonergan for a part of obtaining part of the Federal highway grant for New Haven, were made today by Mayor John W. Murphy.

In letters to the two officials, the Elm City mayor quoted John Macdonald, state highway commissioner, as saying he did not intend to spend any of the $2,864,740 allotted to Connecticut on New Haven projects.

The mayor said it was his "understanding that not less than 25 per cent of each state's allotment of the $400,000,000 appropriated to the states under the National Industrial Recovery Act is to be spent on eligible municipal highway projects."

Mayor Murphy asked Governor Cross to "urge Commissioner Macdonald or whoever may be appointed Federal administrator for Connecticut to arrange to spend some of the Federal money for New Haven projects."

greater the more we strengthen our economic foundations. The high officeholders are responsible to the chancellor for preventing local party organizations from arrogating the government functions to themselves.

The last vestiges of democracy must be removed, Chancellor Hitler observed, now that political parties are definitely a thing of the past.

"We must especially abandon the principle of majority votes in communes, economic organizations and executive committees," he added, "and instead make individual personalities responsible."

MATTERN, LOST FLIER, IS ALIVE IN SIBERIA

Wiley Post and Harold Gatty of 8 days, 15 hours and 31 minutes.

ADVENTUROUS CAREER
New York, July 7.—(AP)—James Joseph Mattern, who is "Smiling Jimmie" to all who know him, has had an adventurous career in his 28 years of life.

The globe trotting flier, who was found today after being missing for three weeks, would rather fly than do anything else; but flying is not the only thing he can do.

He was once the leader of a jazz orchestra on a Pacific liner. His specialty was trap drumming. He was a movie stunt man, doubling for numerous stars in a number of aviation pictures. He is at home with anything mechanical. He likes to tinker with his automobile, or the family clock, or anything with works in it.

He also plays some golf. Mattern was born in Freeport, Ill., on March 8, 1905. He attended Freeport High school and played basketball and baseball. He left school to join the Army and got his first lessons in flying in the Aviation Corps. He got his wings as an Army pilot in Honolulu.

He resigned from the Army in 1924 and became an orchestra leader, but his heart was in aviation and he turned from jazz to the rhythm of an airplane engine. Commercial Pilot

As a commercial pilot he traveled in many parts of the country. At one time he flew cargoes of fish from Brownsville, Texas, to Mexico, D. F. He was line pilot for a number of commercial firms in Texas. He went to Hollywood to appear in pictures.

When Reg. L. Robbins was planning a Seattle-Tokyo flight last year, he asked Mattern to pilot his refueling ship because of Jimmie's knowledge of the north. Mattern piloted a tri-motored plane over the rugged Alaskan country on the two attempts. Robbins and H. B. Jones made it in their unsuccessful venture.

Then Mattern got the idea of flying around the world. With Bennett Griffin he worked quietly on plans for the flight and on July 5 last year the pair flew away from Floyd Bennett Field on the first stage of a flight that was to end in failure when their plane cracked up in Russia.

Out to break the record of Wiley Post and Harold Gatty for a world flight, Mattern and Griffin were more than 13 hours ahead of the record when they left Berlin on the hop on which they were forced down. They returned to New York and went home, dubious about making another attempt at the record. Then in March of this year Mattern announced he would try again to circle the globe faster than Post and Gatty had done.

Mattern was married in 1926 to Miss Della Huxley of Los Angeles, whom he met in Seattle. CHICAGO GETS WORD

Chicago, July 7.—(AP)—The Chicago sponsors of Jimmy Mattern's attempted "round-the-world flight today received a cablegram which they believed to be direct from him.

The message, slightly garbled, was interpreted to read: "Safe, Anadir, Chukotka, Siberia (Signed) Jimmie Mattern."

The message was delivered to S. J. Sackett, one of the backers of the flight. Sackett said the message might have been sent by an official near the town of Anadir, but that he believed it was from Mattern himself.

Both Sackett and H. K. Jameson, another backer of the flight, expressed delight when informed of Mattern's safety by an earlier dispatch from Moscow. "We always had confidence in Jimmy," Jameson said. "He has demonstrated at all times that he's a cool, heady flier."

Mattern's wife was reported to be in Walla Walla, Wash. Sackett and Jameson said they would be glad to finance another flight by Mattern or assist him in completing the present one. Hayden R. Mills, the other backer, was watching on Lake Michigan and could not be reached.

MOTHER WEEPS.
Freeport, Ill. July 7.—(AP)—Mrs. Caroline Mattern exclaimed "Thank God for that!" and then wept today when told that her son, Jimmy, had been found alive in Siberia. But she said she had been sure he would be found.

"I was confident all the while," Mrs. Mattern said, "that Jimmy would turn up in some remote place. He is too resourceful not to be able to battle the elements safely. Now I'm the happiest woman in the world!"

In her moment of rejoicing she remembered the rescue expeditions starting out from the North Pacific coast. "Couldn't we stop those boys from going out to rescue Jimmy?" Mrs. Mattern asked. "We must stop them before they go into any danger."

She is staying at the home of a relative here, Mrs. Martha Van Ord. WIFE IS HAPPY

Walla Walla, Wash., July 7.—(AP)—"That's the news I've been waiting for! Isn't it just wonderful! I knew he was safe all the time." Mrs. James Mattern thus greeted news from the Associated Press that her flying husband had been reported found in northeastern Siberia today.

TOWN'S FEDERAL GRANT IS $17,000

Manchester to Get About One-Third of Sum Originally Asked For.

Manchester's share in the Federal relief plan of emergency employment is expected to be approximately $17,000 it was learned today. Town Charity Superintendent G. H. Waddell is in receipt of a communication from the State Bureau invested with the duty of allotting the Federal grants to the towns and cities, and the estimate is based on an approximate one-third allotment of the $52,000 asked for by Mr. Waddell in the original application for relief funds two weeks ago.

In the event that the town receives the allotment of $17,000 it is expected that the fund will be dispensed under the direction of the Manchester Emergency Employment Association. Without assistance from other sources, the activity of the bureau would terminate within a few weeks, the funds being nearly expended.

The local allotment will be forwarded when the state organization has completed its check of the entire state. The total allotment for the state of Connecticut is $85,000.

Shute had four 78's, even par all the day, for his aggregate of 292 when he shot 71-79-89-78. Their tie assured the visit of the British open trophy to the U. S. A., for the tenth straight year.

GETS NINE MONTHS
New Haven, July 7.—(AP)—John Callahan, 21, of Hamden, who police said used the name of H. Montgomery Vanderpool, was convicted of obtaining goods by false representation and given a nine month sentence and $150 fine by Judge Joseph Weiner in City Court today. Callahan was arrested June 24, as he sought to borrow polo mallets from a New Haven sports shop. The clerk of another store, who was in the shop, identified Callahan as the man who bought a set of clothes from him a year ago, and neglected to pay for it.

BARGAIN BRIDE

By KATHARINE HAYLAND-TAYLOR

BARRETT COLVIN, back in New York after years abroad, falls in love with ELINOR STAFFORD. He is 35 and she is 20. Elinor returns his affection but her jealous, scheming mother, LIDA STAFFORD, breaks up the romance by convincing Barrett that Elinor was only flirting with him.

Rich MISS ELLA SEKTON, Elinor's aunt, dies and, to the despair of the relatives, leaves her entire fortune to Barrett. Lida Stafford has been flirting with VANCE CARTER. When Vance learns she will not divorce her husband, BENTWELL STAFFORD, he shoots Bentwell. It is uncertain whether the wounded man will live or die.

Barrett does not want Miss Ella's money but can not give it back to the rightful inheritors because of their pride. Suddenly a plan comes to him. He tells Elinor that if she will marry him and live as a guest in his home for a year he will give her the entire sum to divide between her relatives.

Knowing the money may save her father's life, Elinor agrees. They decide to have the ceremony next day.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXIII

Elinor's voice came over the wire a trifle unsteady. "Yes, Barrett," she said.

"Dearest, Art Palmer—I mean Doctor Palmer—" he corrected himself mockingly, "wants to know whether you want to be spoiled—I think he said—in his church?"

Her voice trembled even more. It was the way he had said "Dearest."

"I'd like it very much if you would."

"I'd like it very much and—where," he assured her. He added, "Is everything going along as it should?" He could not deny the tenderness he felt for her. After all, the situation she was facing would be difficult for any girl.

"Oh, yes!" she assured him. "Quite certain?"

"May I drop in this evening? There are a few things I want to talk about."

"Please do."

"Then—this evening, dearest," he said a bit too loudly. He heard her half-whispered, "Good-by—"

Arthur Palmer was studying a paper knife which he twisted in his hands. He had known Barrett Colvin for many years and now he was worried. Barrett's tone had sounded artificial and forced. Arthur Palmer wanted this marriage to be a success. They both deserved that it should be. But marriage hadn't much chance when honesty, he had learned from hearing the troubles of the married, as he did almost every day.

It snowed during the night as Elinor lay awake, but when she awoke her eyes fell asleep, to open her eyes at nine on a day that was clear, cold and bright. Celeste was standing at her bedside, smiling tenderly. For a moment Elinor wondered at Celeste's presence and at her smile. Then it came back to her—the truth which was not a dream. And with the truth came full consciousness of the ordeal before her.

"It is a beautiful day, this day of your marriage!" Celeste ventured, Celeste was happy about the wedding. Only the French can blend emotion and calculation without a cheapening of either!

Elinor sat up, nuzzling her knees and staring at the glittering world she would go to the church at 12 to meet Barrett Colvin. This would be married. Then she would go with him to his house and thus would start the pretense that must endure for a year. Her father would have everything he needed; her cousin, Philip, his rightful share; her aunt and uncle, an almost forgotten peace, and their sons, the chance they so deserved. The Tropes would accept a share of the money from her, Elinor was certain.

Celeste was running her bath. An almost overpoweringly sweet scent floated to Elinor from the room that was always warm. Celeste had evidently borrowed boldly from one of the many Venetian glass bottles standing on the peacock blue shelves of her mother's dressing room.

"Something odd and something new, something borrowed and something blue," chanted Celeste, returning.

Elinor laughed. "But I haven't anything that isn't old, Celeste!" she admitted.

Celeste had considered that, she confessed, nodding. She had slipped out to buy a handkerchief and if Mademoiselle would deign to carry that it would be new.

Celeste then reached into a pocket of her pet, small apron. Elinor took the offering, a pretty bit of cob-web linen, broad-hemmed and embroidered with a bold "E. S."

"It was sweet of you, Celeste!" exclaimed Elinor. Her mother had had no thought of her. She had been thinking only of how much Barrett would do now to make up for his "treachery" about the will.

"Last night I added the letters," said Celeste. "Ah, and with love. I thought of you—thinking of your sweetheart!"

Elinor flushed. True, she had thought of the one Celeste called "her sweetheart" most of the night but not as Celeste had dreamed.

"I shall keep the handkerchief always, Celeste," she said. "I am

Youth Will Speak Out On Unemployment, Marriage and "Dwindling Opportunity."

Here are some of Youth's spokesmen who will be heard at the Chicago congress. Left to right, top row—Viola Hims, editor of "Modern Youth"; Marjorie Spiegel, Smith College; Alice Kelly, Connecticut College. Bottom row—Jean McNary, Northwestern University; Jeannette Shambaugh, Radcliffe College; Margaret Huth and Laura Louise Smith, Northwestern.

Chicago, July 7.—Young America is going to have a chance to speak out—and with the assurance that it will be heard!

Thursday, July 20, is going to be "Youth Day" at the international congress, which will be held here July 16-20, under the auspices of the National Council of Women.

A representation of American youth life will be represented. Girl delegates from large mid-western universities, like Chicago, Northwestern, Michigan, delegates from small colleges like Berea and Mills, girls from advanced colleges like Antioch, from conservative old places like Wellesley, from big women's colleges like Smith, Vassar and Radcliffe—these will hold an open forum to tell the world just what they consider is wrong with America, life in general, and the depression in particular.

The broad subject of the International Congress is to be "Our Common Cause—Civilization." The National Council of Women felt that part of their program should be run by Youth. So they organized this open forum.

To Discuss Live Topics

There will be no sheerly academic discussions. The young women delegates represent the flower of their respective campuses, the all-around girls who have been foremost in hockey, tennis, in gym clubs and drama groups, have been reporters for their college papers, class officers, heads of large student organizations. In short, the girls who have been thinking and actively taking part in life while in college.

Alice Kelly, of Connecticut College, is going armed with a speech in favor of "Defeat Nationalism." She believes that a too-ardent nationalism has been the cause of fascism in Italy, militarism in Japan and Hitlerism in Germany, and she will advance a plea for more internationalism in our schools and colleges. Marjorie Spiegel will be there, fresh from the triumphs of engineering the Junior Prom at Smith. Jean Moore, who is majoring in social studies at Bennington College, and studying art and poetry as a sideline will weigh in with the relative merits of late and early marriage, while Jeannette Shambaugh, chairman of the Board of Hall Presidents at Radcliffe, will sell into adult America on their wrong use of leisure and offer some solution to the problems of how best to employ it—an important subject to mechanical America.

Unemployment to Be Discussed

Evelyn Chambers, president of the Political Association of Vassar; Ann Steinbrecker, this year's graduate of Wellesley; Marion Holcomb of Berea; Evelyn Jaffray of Mills, and students from Chicago and Northwestern all will present their individual formulas for making the world more to the liking of Youth. Miss Jaffray, particularly, will set forth her valid arguments why the world owes young folks jobs, along with their diplomas.

However, the entire discussion will not be one-sided college forum. Tillie Plecanek, Polish milliner; Helen Greible, a colored girl who has just returned from the International School for Workers in Denmark; Matilda Belsman, of Bryn Mawr Summer School, and members from the Women's Trade Union League will be present to set forth the viewpoint of Young Americans who must work instead of going to college. Foreign students will tell of the Youth Movements abroad.

Girl Editor on Program

As a finale, Viola Hims, 23-year-old editor and publisher of "Modern Youth," will sum up the attitude of college students about world peace. When Miss Hims isn't making speeches, she is engaged in seeking talent—under 30 years old—for her magazine. A brief career in the advertising field, a stint at department store advertising, a season on the stage and two trips to Europe preceded her venture in the publishing field. One thousand dollars apiece, advanced by three wealthy women she knew, provided Miss Hims with the capital to launch her youth magazine. Her publication now has a circulation of 15,000, pays its printer every month, and its editor is free to make speeches about the problems of the youth.

"And there ARE problems!" Miss Hims states emphatically. "Lack of opportunity to invest their energy and talents in some form of productive effort after they get out of school is fomenting a mighty unrest in Young America. If the economic situation doesn't clear up, there is the prospect to face of a youth revolution within the next two years. So you'd better give Youth something to do!"

YOUR CHILDREN

IT'S BETTER TO SOOZE THAN BELITTLE

Janie worked with her tongue out. The scissors snipped over the lines her mother had drawn on the pink muslin, although here and there they described an arc where no arc was intended and bit out a V where a straight line should have been.

She did her very best and it was a good best.

After a lot of effort the doll dress was cut out. And then her mother showed her how to sew the seams together. The stitches were an inch long and crooked of course. But one could tell by her tongue and fingers that every nerve of her little mind and body was concentrating on production.

Earnest Application

In an hour the dress was finished to all intents and purposes. It looked something like a hal-loween mask crossed with a salt sack, but it was a dress. It was more than that. It was the best dress Janie could make. No Parisian couturier could turn out a creation with more earnestness, application and ingenuity.

She cut off the thread without fastening it and of course some stitches pulled out. That wasn't her fault. No one had ever showed her about fastening the thread.

Something was wrong. She looked at the dress, then over at the blue taffeta one on Greta's bedside.

Silently she rolled the pink one into a ball and stuck it under a sofa pillow. Then she went outside.

At lunch her mother said, "Where's the little dress, Janie?"

"I threw it away. It wasn't any good."

"I'm sure it was. Let me see it."

"No."

"Why Janie! Please do. I don't expect it to be perfect. I have a reason for wanting to see it."

"Meb will make fun of it."

Rewarding Hard Work

Her mother sent Bob a message with her eyes. "Very well. If he does I'll go and get the can of paint he thinned with water to paint the steps with and show it to somebody."

Bob squirmed.

Janie thought a minute, and then got the dress, spread it out on the tablecloth and stood silent.

She was in an agony of humility. It wasn't just a dress, it was a beautiful bit of hard work done by a little girl who stuck to something and finished it. No one could do a thing right just at first. "Not even the tenth time."

"Come out here, you twer!" She went to the kitchen. "I have made this same cake dozens of times. Today I forgot something and it fell. I'm not ashamed. If I felt everything had to be perfect I should never work at all."

Her mother rather than you two children concocted about what you can do than to belittle everything you try."

A PAGE FROM MOVIELAND'S ALBUM

SOMEBODY in Hollywood went to all the trouble to dig out these childhood pictures of movie stars from family albums—and can you recognize them? The athletic young gentleman at the upper left is Joe E. Brown. In his circus days when he was being tossed about by fellow acrobats. The be-ribboned young lady beside him is Betty Davis. Below, we have Barbara Stanwyck in her go-cart, and Richard Barthelmess appearing very proud in his new straw hat.

Another of the exhibits is a patient with elephantiasis of the legs. This condition occurs principally in tropical countries.

An unusual parasite gets into the channels which drain the lymph from the body and causes a thickening of the tissues due to lack of drainage of this material. The patient at the exhibit is called "the man with the elephant legs," and should be recognized as a case of disease, rather than an extraordinarily abnormal human being.

Another of the strange cases exhibited is a woman whose lips have developed so that they are exceedingly thickened, giving her face a somewhat horse-like appearance.

Especially interesting is a case of vitiligo, in which pigment disappears from the skin irregularly giving the person who suffers from this disorder a leopard-like appearance.

The fantastic vocabulary of the side show labels such curiosities as "leopard-men," "tiger-women," "dog-faced-boys" or "mule-faced-women," realizing that such designations taken from the diseases exhibited some of both the horror and pity which they are usually viewed.

In every collection of this character, whether in side shows or circuses or in freak exhibits generally, the physician finds much of interest because practically all of the persons exhibited represent cases of unusual disease or monstrosities at birth.

ODDITIES IN DISEASES OF SKIN EXPLAIN MANY SIDESHOW FREAKS

"India Rubber Man" Suffers From Malady Which Permits Flesh to Stretch; "Human Fish" Has Ichthyosis

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEBIN

Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

One of the exhibits at the Century of Progress Exposition in Chicago is a concession in which the exhibitors have collected a remarkable series of cases of skin disease. One of these exhibits includes two cases of what skin specialists call cutis elastica. It is a condition in which the connective tissue of the skin has disappeared due to a constitutional disorder, allowing the skin to be exceedingly elastic so that the victim may easily be called an "India rubber man." It is possible, in these cases, to stretch the skin eight or ten inches and then to let it go so that it slips back. In the cases shown, however, the skin has already been stretched so often that it hangs down in long folds.

There is also a case of ichthyosis, or so-called "fish skin" disease. The man exhibited has a skin which ap-

WEAR GLOVES FOR NAIL PROTECTION

If you want your fingers to look fresh and clean to complement your light summer dress, you'll have to give them a little added attention.

Nails become more brittle in the summer time. This is due, of course, to the fact that you are apt to go without gloves more often. But wear gloves as much as you can. Cotton, washable ones, aren't really so uncomfortable once you get into the habit of wearing them. Cuticle which has a tendency to get hard and rough should be rubbed with olive oil or cocoa butter each night before you go to bed. Leave it on all night. You'll be surprised at the results of this simple treatment.

Your hands need washing often in summer. And do use a good brush. It will go far toward removing grime and dirt which doesn't come easily with soap and water. Be sure and push back the cuticle when you dry your hands.

If you are an ardent beach bather, remember that salt water and beach sands will raise havoc with your nails if you don't take a few precautions. It is an excellent idea to carry a small orange stick in the pocket of your beach pajamas. Use it often to keep your hands looking neat.

Keep your nails shorter if you are vacationing in a camp or near a beach. The chances are ten to one that you'll break long ones. Anyway, shorter nails are easier to keep clean.

Neutral colorless polish is best with delicate summer clothes. Leave the harsh pinks and reds until winter when your gowns are more sophisticated.

Summer heat has a way of destroying your cosmetics. The best way to keep your face looking as though it has been freshly made up is to get cosmetics which stay on in spite of the heat.

There is a new cream rouge which has about the same consistency as whipped cream. It goes on easily and evenly and stays on all day. It even resists clear water. Soap suds, or a cleansing cream, must be used to take it off. The rule for all other cream rouges applies to this one too. You simply have to use a foundation cream on your skin before you put on cream rouge. Dry rouge can be applied after you have powdered your face.

When your face has been cleaned, smooth on a "tiny little bit of foundation cream. Now, take a small amount of the foamy cream rouge and make a dot in the center of each cheek. Then it spreads outward, with your forefingers, according to the shape of your face. When it is all smooth and even, pat on your powder with a piece of clean cotton.

New lipsticks are designed to stay on a long time too. They are soft and creamy, blending easily. It is an excellent idea to get your rouge and lipstick at the same time, from the same place. In that way, the beautician can tell just what shades of each you require. Also, you'll be sure that they harmonize.

Dull finish powders are new and are highly recommended for summer. They take away all shiny effects and they do stay on a long time.

A Thought

God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble.—Psalm 46:1.

Thou art never at any time nearer to God than when under tribulation; which He permits for the purification and beautifying of thy soul.—Miguel Molinos.

DO YOU KNOW THAT—

Scientist claims people in the city are more intelligent than those in the country. Must be true. A million of them have moved to the country in the last three years.

Handsome Adolph is as Handsome Adolph does.

Boston dispatch says 15,000 motorists were held up there by a defective swing bridge. Euh! Nothing at all! Almost that many held up every day in Chicago by bandits.

Now that physicians are permitted to prescribe as much liquor as they see fit, you might say that hilarity is just around the corner.

Dr. Brennan first called Ireland the Emerald Isle. He lived from 1754 to 1830 and used that name for the island in a poem entitled "Eire." This country uses over 18 billion watt hours of electricity per year for every man, woman and child; Germany uses five and Denmark only a fraction of one.

YALE, WASHINGTON EM BEST CREWS

Experts Believe They Will Have Little Difficulty in Qualifying for the Finals.

Long Beach, Cal., July 7.—(AP)—Six frail shells skim over the placid waters of the Olympic two thousand meter course today in quest of the right to compete tomorrow for the National Intercollegiate sprint rowing championship.

For the three eastern crews, it will be the first time they have ever competed in western waters. For the Pacific coast it will be its first National rowing championship.

Advance indications were that Yale and Washington would fight it out for the title and that their superiority over the other four contenders would be such they would qualify easily today.

Washington, Pacific Coast champion, will meet Harvard, with its revamped eight and the University of California, at Los Angeles in one heat. In the other Yale will draw two stubborn challengers in Cornell and California.

With the third boat lead in each race eliminated and the others earning the right to continue into the finals Saturday, Cornell and California are expected to put on the closest finish of the day.

There was still a possibility that in the spirit of their own race for second place, either the Ithacans or the Bears might pass up the highly touted sons of Eli, but it was not considered likely both of them could push Yale out of the running.

Trial times showed both Yale and Washington well under the course record of six minutes 28.2 seconds, set by Italy in the Olympic games here last summer, and California close to it.

BAER HAS CARNER IN OWN FAMILY

Jake Baer, 18 Year Old Brother of Schmeling's Conqueror Mate for Mountain.

Oakland, Calif.—Max Baer, the Pacific coast's outstanding challenger for the world heavyweight championship, is a big fellow. He towered above Max Schmeling, literally overpowering him in their recent battle at Yankee Stadium. But you ought to see his big brother!

The big brother is Jacob Baer, Jr., and he answers to the name of Buddy. The boy recently passed his 18th birthday at the home of his parents here on St. James drive. He is at least a half head taller than Max and weighs around 252 pounds.

Tim McGrath, the veteran San Francisco fight man, has dubbed him the Carnera of the Coast. And Buddy looks the part.

Young Jacob intends to follow his older brother into the professional ring. He was asked the other day what he would do if Max were champion and he stood out as the logical challenger.

"I would say," replied Buddy after some thought, "keep it brother. I think Max is a cinch to stay at the top of the ladder just about as long as Jack Dempsey did."

It was hard work that gave Max his splendid physique, and Buddy is following the same plan. The other day when a reporter came to interview Max Baer, Buddy was in the back yard sawing down eucalyptus trees. His mother remarked:

"That's too big a job for you, Bud."

"Aw, I don't want to be a softie," was the reply. "Max was doing harder work than this when he was only 14 years old. It will harden me up."

Buddy planned his professional debut in Oakland recently, but has postponed it until he hears from Jack Dempsey. The old Mauler believes Bud will be a great sparring partner for Max and make the two of them on a tour.

Max Baer has seen a lot of country since his birth 24 years ago in Omaha. His mother insists his birthday is Feb. 10, not Feb. 11, as the boxing books show.

When the heavyweight challenger was six months old, the family moved to Denver. When he was two years old his father bought him an Indian suit and Max was so proud of it that he slept in it.

When Max was three the Baers moved to Kohler, N. M., where the Paps Baer took charge of a packing house. They moved back to Denver when Max was six. About that time Buddy was born.

It was in 1918 when the family moved to California. After he had finished the eighth grade, his father became ill and Max left school to help him in the slaughter and packing business at Russell City, and delivering meals to such neighboring towns as San Leandro, Livermore and San Lorenzo.

In business with Max's dad was L. Santucci of Livermore, who married Max's sister. Max is the proud uncle of twin girls born to the Santuccis.

It was a dance hall fight that Max won by a knockout after a dispute over some wine (which Max never cared to drink, by the way), that gave him the idea he might succeed as a fighter. The young challenger went to work in a gravel pit near Livermore, where the family then resided at the Twin Oaks ranch. He toiled 14 hours a day so he could buy boxing and gymnasium equipment.

Max knocked out the partition in a shack on the ranch property, erected a ring and bleachers and invited the countryside to come and watch him train and box.

Faps Baer finally became interested and took the boy to Oakland, where the veteran Ray Pelkey became interested in him.

MAXIE'S BIG BROTHER

Max Baer's big brother Buddy makes the six-foot Maxie look like a little boy. . . . Maxie's big, but as the picture shows, the younger of the Baer boys has the edge in height and reach. . . . and Buddy weighs 252 pounds.

CRUZ RIDES TWO AQUEDUCT WINNERS

Apprentice Jockey Scores First on Croon and Then on Young John.

New York, July 7.—Henry Cruz, a little apprentice, came into his own at Aqueduct yesterday by riding two winners with all the manner of a Hank Mills. He had to ride with whip, heel and spur on each occasion to get his mounts in front.

Cruz won the opening dash of five furlongs with Mrs. Kathleen Jesberger's filly Croon, two-year-old daughter of Stimulus—Melodia. He won the fifth and a similar, even longer, outside chance. Young Cruz's triumph with Young John was one of the emphatic accomplishments of the meeting. He had to ride with everything he had.

In the first race Croon was one of many good things. Young Cruz broke her and he came galloping home in front by a length over Bobby Robertson and the E.B. Stable's Arson.

Young John, properly shod for a killing, broke smartly from his rail position. One and all they took a crack at him. Robinson Crusoe finally hooked up with Young John at the top of the stretch. Down the two came with whip and heel and spur. And almost always little H. Cruz was in front with Young John. Twice inside that sixteenth pole Robinson Crusoe apparently had Young John headed, but the apprentice rose to the occasion.

OLD TIMERS PLAY GREEN TONIGHT

Athletics Hope to Duplicate Former Win Over Hubbard's Men—East Hartford to Play Green Sunday.

The game this evening at Jarvis Grove between Manchester Green and the Athletics, stars of a decade ago, is exciting a lot of interest among Manchester fans, as it is generally conceded that there is not a great deal to choose between the two teams. Thus a close and interesting contest should be staged.

Manager Hubbard has decided that Johnny Spillane will do the hurrying for the Green, and Segar will receive. With Burkhardt and Lamprecht performing in like manner for the Athletics, the batters of each team will have their work cut out for them. Hits may be conspicuous by their absence if both batteries produce the stuff their respective admirers believe them to have. Play is to be called at 6 p. m.

The East Hartford Red Sox will provide the opposition for the Green in the game to be played at Jarvis Grove on Sunday. The Red Sox are rated as a fast, hard-hitting crew that may be depended upon to make things interesting, and this will be their first visit to Manchester this season.

BROUILLARD HANDS WALKER A LACING

Toy Bulldog's Best Fighting Days Are Behind Him, Experts Think.

Boston, July 7.—(AP)—Either Mickey Walker's best fighting days are behind him, or he can't battle a foeman smaller than himself.

The Ramson bull-dog engaged the rugged Lou Brouillard of Worcester last night in the Boston Garden's ten round feature bout and took a terrific lacing.

Although he was nine pounds heavier at 170 and two inches taller than Brouillard, Mickey was on the defensive during all but two rounds.

Brouillard rushed Walker for the first four rounds, then he eased up. Walker however, was unwilling to become the aggressor, although he managed to strike Brouillard during the fourth and fifth exchanges in the fourth and sixth sessions.

Brouillard went into high gear again in the sixth and gave Mickey a battering until the final bell.

A left to the body staggered Walker in the sixth and a similar blow threatened to put him down in the ninth. The veteran's courage and experience saved him from complete humiliation.

Chicago, July 7.—(AP)—Babe Ruth's dream game has been played and the story thereof is largely another tale about the man who made the home run famous—George Herman Ruth.

Thirteen hand-picked stars from American League teams defeated 17 selected National League stars yesterday at Comiskey Park, before a capacity attendance of 49,000 fans and it was one of old Mr. Ruth's copyrighted blasts that accounted for the two big runs.

The typical Ruthian gesture came in the third inning with Charlie Gehring of the Detroit Tigers, on first base, Wild Bill Hallahan of the St. Louis Cardinals, who was Wild Bill at his wildest while he was in there, was the victim. With the count "one ball and a strike, Hallahan served the next one up about knee high and outside.

A mighty swing by the 32 year old Ruth and the ball sailed on a line into the lower deck of the right field stands. There were other thrills. In the eighth Ruth leaped against the wall to haul down a drive by Chick Hafey, and end the National's last rally.

Gross Receipts
Gross receipts were $52,000, of which $45,000 was turned over to the Association of Professional Baseball Players of America to be used for relief of needy and disabled players and umpires.

Hallahan contributed heavily to the scoring of the first run in the second inning. With one out the Cardinal southpaw walked Jimmy Dykes and Joe Cronin. Rick Farrell flew out, but Vernon Gomez of the Yankees, the American starting hurler, slapped a single to left field, scoring Dykes.

In Comes Ruth
Gehring walked in the third, and then came Ruth!

The fourth run came in the sixth. Cronin singled over shortstop, and went to second on a sacrifice by Rick Farrell. Earl Averill of Cleveland, batted for Alvin Crowder, who had replaced Gomez on the mound, and singled, scoring Cronin.

The Nationals scoring was accomplished in the first half of the sixth. With one out, Lou Warneké, Cub right-hander who followed Hallahan, tripled to Ruth's territory, and scored as Dykes threw out Pepper Martin of the Cardinals. Then, Frisch caught one of Crowder's pitches and hammered it into almost the same spot as Ruth's homer landed.

FREAKS AND FAKERS AT CHICAGO FAIR

All the Dazzle and Lure of International Midways on Chicago's Lake Front.

Chicago.—Even a low-brow may have a high old time at Chicago's Century of Progress Exposition.

No matter if its publicized purpose is to show man's progress in science and industry during the past century, it offers plenty of that which classifies neither as education nor advertising for visitors wanting to be amused.

Thrill rides line the Midway, that ear-piercing plianence of pleasure which unbinds between walls of brilliant lights.

There are dance ships and snake farms, alligator wrestling matches, Indians, cowboys, a '4er camp, a midget village, freaks, fakirs and a couple of war shows for older boys and girls.

For granddads and mothers whose ideas of fun may not include a midnight stroll down the Streets of Paris or a screen test in Hollywood there is the Belgian village. Or, the Chinese theater. Or, the showboat where they may see re-enacted the mellow dramas of their youth.

Even baby is guaranteed a good time at Chicago's second World's Fair. The Enchanted Island, a five-acre kingdom of make-believe that lies across a circular bridge on Northernly Island, provides the mellow dramas for the youngest generation.

And La Belle Fatima As Of Old The thundering spels of the barkers, booming their alluring invitations to inspect the thousand and one wonders of Chicago's current Gay White Way awaken memories of the fabled Midway of its other Fair.

On it, old-timers still recall with a blush, La Belle Fatima danced her shocking dance du ventre in a Haidelberg beer garden, a Mexican cantina, a Montmartre cellar—they are but a few of the foreign food ports to be visited.

And For the Children But the thrills are not exclusively grown-ups. The Enchanted Island is the answer to a child's prayer. There, the young may embark on exciting make-believe journeys aboard a miniature railroad a half mile long, with switches and tunnels and uniformed conductors.

There, too, they may climb a magic mountain to the fairy castle at the top, then slide down its precipitous side; pilot a bantam automobile in a midget motordrome; attend a children's theater or marionette show; visit a house of marbles and a mechanical zoo.

Nor are all the enchantments of this toyland for children. One of its most popular attractions is a model nursery where, for a quarter, parents may check their offspring with attendants.

Young or old, fun-loving or high-brow, one cannot help but find that which they seek at Chicago's Century of Progress. For, as someone has said, it is Harvard, Broadway and Coney Island rolled into one.

Not the least of the things one may do there is to hit a target with a baseball, and compel a sleeping beauty, clad like an artist's model, to fall into a tank of water.

And there are those who would put a legal end to all this. They include Dr. Philip Yarrow, white-haired president of the Illinois Vigilance Association, and Miss Mary Belle Spencer, an attorney.

There Are Those Who Protest Not only is Miss Spencer seeking an injunction to close Paris, but she has protested to Washington. Reminding that soldiers are quartered at Camp John Whistler inside the grounds and that a submarine is tied up nearby, she is demanding enforcement of a Federal law which provides that no lewd exhibition shall be given within half a mile of a military reservation.

To be sure, the submarine is no longer in service. Formerly the S-49, it has been privately owned since the government, in accordance with the disarmament conference, scrapped it three years ago. But Miss Spencer defends her action on the grounds that the four wind-bronzed men, explaining the mysteries of its escape hatches and torpedo tubes, were members of its war-time crew.

Gray heads who have attended both of Chicago's Fairs still talk of the Ferris Wheel of '93. But A Century of Progress has its 80-miles-an-hour cyclone coaster, Flying Turns, Lindy Loop, Hey Day and Bono. There are 21 of them altogether. And that does not include the two dirigibles, the captive balloon, or the Sky Ride.

There are thrills galore along the Midway. Magic portals open into a Lilliputian village where 60 midget men, women and children dwell in a model village built to their own proportions.

There is a gorilla town where Jibbs, the best-dressed chimpanzee in the world, struts his stuff, sartorially speaking.

Within the boundaries of this carnival city one may watch Seminole Indians wrestle with alligators from the Everglades, see Capt. Jack Kelly do his death-defying dive, marvel at the rubber man who swallows his nose.

The Side Show Goes Dignified Most popular of the Midway's side-show features is a Odditorium, a carnival freak show in modern dress and dignified manner. Its chief attraction is a four-legged, three-armed Negro girl. There are 25 small stages, each with a freak. Attendees are uniformed, lecturers are Harvard-accented. Showmen revel in the "freaks."

On the Midway is the Pantheon, the largest historical painting in the world, reproducing battle scenes of the World War. Within a few steps is a cyclorama of the battle of Gettysburg. And not far away is log-cabin Fort Dearborn.

The weathered replica of Chicago's first fort adjoins the Lincoln Group: the Kentucky birthplace of the Great Emancipator; his Indi-

Now They're Boy Scouts—and Nazis

As part of Chancellor Hitler's move to make Germany a "One Party State," Boy Scout headquarters throughout the Reich were seized and scouts forced to enlist in Nazi youth organizations. ana home; the general tore in Sassen where he sold calico and studied law; Rutledge Tav. ra, scene of his tragic romance with Ann Rutledge, and the Wigwam in which he was nominated for the presidency.

Of course, there are people who prefer to take their good times, sated. And for them there are rides on the moonlit lagoon in gondolas, poled by singing gondoliers, or trips by ricksha from the Belgian village with its picturesque pigeon tower and dog-drawn milk carts to Kiegl-lighted Hollywood.

Those inclined to find fun in food may sit and sip their way around the world—without taking a step. A Vienna cafe where the former chef of the late Emperor, Franz Joseph greets lovers of Viennese food, a Tokio tea house, an old Haidelberg beer garden, a Mexican cantina, a Montmartre cellar—they are but a few of the foreign food ports to be visited.

Two British flying officers recently broke the world's nonstop flight record, flying from Canwell, England, to Walvis Bay, Southwest Africa, a distance of 5341 miles.

LATEST STOCKS

New York, July 7.—(AP)—Stocks and staples took off for the stratosphere today, as the dollar leaped overboard without a parachute, but profit taking disturbances in the upper zone interfered with the flight.

With the British pound showing a gain of around 15 cents at about $4.75, against its former gold parity of about 70 cents in terms of European gold exchanges, the stampede for equities in the early hours swamped the machinery of the Stock Exchange and sent prices hurtling for gains of 1 to 4 or more points. The ticker tape lagged nearly half an hour behind floor transactions which, in the first hour, moved at the rate of a 11,000,000-share day. Realizing, in large volume, cut down the gains as well as the speed and, as the session grew older, the list became spotted with irregularities. All gains made new highs before easing. Bonds were moderately irregular.

Allied Chemical, after being up 4, dropped back for a gain of 1. Others that transformed advances of 1 to 3 or more points into minor losses or gains of about a point, included U. S. Steel, American Tobacco B, Bethlehem Steel, Anaconda, Drug, New York Central, Delaware & Hudson, Pennsylvania, Baltimore & Ohio, Dupont, National Distillers, U. S. Industrial Alcohol, Consolidated Gas, International Harvester, Case, Goodyear, Santa Fe and Union Pacific. Markets were particularly inter-

Higher Prices—But for What?

While inflationary psychology was given the major credit for the resumption of the forward drive in stocks, more conservative traders were basing much of their optimism on the surprisingly substantial business gains which are being reported daily from all parts of the country.

As one of the week-end trade reviews commented, "It is no longer an opinion that business is on the up-grade—it is a fact."

The rush to transfer dollars into goods, it is pointed out, is showing no abatement with the buying wave reaching such proportions that it has swept aside most of the doubts and suspicions prevailing only a few months ago. Not only was the goods shortage in wholesale and retail lines found to be far greater than had been imagined, but the steady participation of the consuming public has tended to confirm the advance judgment of merchants who started some weeks ago filling their warehouses to the brim.

Although unemployment apparently is being reduced at an encouraging rate, some analysts recall that of the approximately 12,000,000 idle in the Nation, governmental authorities do not expect to get more than about 3,000,000 back to work by fall. Hopes are expressed, however, that many of the remainder will have jobs before the turn of the year.

Western farmers who for a decade have been pleading for higher grain prices are getting little pleasure out of the market boost, for most of them have lost a high percentage of crops in the intense early summer heat wave. George Dale is shown here on his farm near Dawson, Minn., blowing under his crop of oats, so badly burned that it was not worth cutting as hay.

RIDING THE AIR WITH ZEP PILOTS

Apprentice Dirigible Skippers Learn of Air Tricks in "Free" Balloons.

Lorain, Ohio — Five potential officers of America's future air merchant marine have gained some intimate knowledge of the caprices of the upper air.

The flight ended in a quick forced landing, slant against the side of a garage, the balloon envelope draped over an electric line.

And as Frank A. Trotter, former navy ensign and expert balloon and airship pilot, unperturbed himself from a tangle of student arms and legs in the balloon basket, he said:

"I'm kind of glad we fetched up this way in a spill. These boys have learned some things about the trickiness of the air ocean that they couldn't learn in any other way.

Now they'll always have a great respect for what the air can do with you and to you. That's the first thing an airship pilot ought to have."

Preparing for Flight It was pitch dark when a truck rolled into the plant of the National Tube Company here, and the dozen student pilots spread the great gas bag on the ground and started filling it with coke gas.

The balloon, Goodyear VIII, veteran winner of the Gordon-Bennett trophy, slowly mushroomed up from the ground, the net covering the bag weighed down by 35-pound sandbags hooked in its meshes.

As the bag filled, daylight came, and a great globe, 54 feet across, rose from the ground, step by step, supervised by Trotter and Commander Lange, head of the school.

WORLD'S FAIR OFFERS NEW KIND OF THRILLS

Midway of Exposition Varied Enough to Pleased the Bored Americana.

Chicago — What's the biggest thrill at the World's Fair? The answer depends pretty much on yourself and the things you are interested in.

If your curiosity leans toward the scientific, you'll get a big thrill out of the Hall of Sciences, where you can see technical processes under way, and get a liberal education.

The thrill may come from the ultra-modern architecture, and gaily painted buildings, or the life-size moving reproductions of prehistoric beasts.

And of course, if sheer amusement thrills you, there's the Midway, its Streets of Paris, its mile-a-minute rides.

The present Fair is keyed to the present and future. Old-timers who attended the Columbia Fair here in 1893 and the present one find it difficult to compare them.

Architectural Changes The Columbian Exposition had for its purpose the celebration of the 400th anniversary of the discovery of America by Columbus.

A Century of Progress is dedicated to portraying Chicago's achievements and growth during the first hundred years of her municipal existence.

In 1893, when Chicago's first exposition was getting under way, airplanes, submarines, talking pictures and radios were unheard of.

Yet, at a Century of Progress a relatively small diorama, unfolding the life drama of a tree, tells you more about California redwoods and their growth and use than the reality of four decades ago.

Magnitude, however, plays a minor role at Chicago's second exposition. Most of the exhibits are in the manner of "the House of Magic" in the Electrical Building, a scientific chaos of unimpressive-looking objects.

Visitors to the Fair '93 gazed with awe upon a 125-carat diamond. But those to a Century of Progress may not only look upon large diamonds, but see how they are mined and cut.

THE FOURTH IN THE COUNTRY

Editor, Herald:

I thought I would write and tell you how we spent the Fourth. You city chaps seem to think country Jakes can't have any fun. When it comes to having a good time, it is a gang of pumpkin busters. As long as they're so what's the odds. One thing about a country Fourth you ain't dead the next day. I well remember when I lived down your way I laid in a small supply of your city stuff. I went to my bunk the night of the third and the next thing I remember was some one shaking me. I looked up. It was the boss. "When are you coming to work?" he asked. I told him I didn't know they worked on the Fourth. Then the air got blue. "You — fool, this is the 5th," he shouted. I think there were 23 present. If I had counted them in the morning I could tell you for sure, but as I didn't count them till almost night I may have counted some of 'em twice. We mostly have three new ones for the Fourth, but one of the family renegeed this year so we had only two. Among those present were Murruck the carpenter and Thomas Blevens. I really think these two guys could smell clamchowder and watermelon a mile away.

I would like to come and spend a week down there but those beer signs I hear you have up, would make me sick. I think by the way things are moving by Easter you will see the old Billy goat standing on his hind legs with the welcome sign "Book Beer on Draught." Then I will come and stay a month. I don't know if my hand has lost its cunning living in the country so long or not, but I used to be pretty good at borrowing a quarter, and the ones I failed to pay back, which was all of them, I suppose, must have forgotten them by this time. The Hermit.

VARSITY BAND RETURNS TO RAU'S TOMORROW

A few weeks ago Viv Vaast and his Varsity Band scored a tremendous hit with the dancers at Rau's, Crystal Lake. Many requests have been received for the re-engagement of this collegiate orchestra. Viv Vaast and his Varsity Band played ten weeks in RKO Vaudeville in 1931. Since that time they have been playing for fraternity dances, country club dances and the better ballrooms throughout the New England States. Coming from South Norwalk, they are one Connecticut dance orchestra that has gone out and made good.

The following Saturday, July 15, Harry Brinkens will bring his Society Orchestra to Rau's.

SOUTH FARM, HARTFORD Rodeo

A real Texas Ranch Rodeo Show is now playing at South Park, formerly Capitol Park, in Hartford, and thousands of grown ups and children have been thrilled by the spectacle presented by Burrell & Tucker in their Congress of Rough Riders now appearing in the big open air arena twice daily, afternoon and night. The admission to the park and the show is free, with a small charge for bleacher seats. Cowboys and cowgirls, bucking bronchos, wild steers and many exciting spills and thrills present a vivid and spectacular picture to those attending.

Seven horses, two steers, cowboys and cowgirls make up the performers, with trick riding, fancy roping of horses and plenty of clowning and entertainment make up the program. Bob Link, Wild West Clown rides a wild steer backwards. Viola Brown, World's Champion Whip Cracker appears in her specialty whip act. Riding Silms Tucker, expert in trick riding and roping, and Jerry Burrell, known as the 20th Century Cowboy are some of the performers to appear.

A special children's matinee will be given on Saturday, July 8th, with all seats free to children. At this matinee a selection of boys from the audience will compete at rope throwing for a prize of a real cowboy rawhide lariat. The final performances of the Texas Rodeo will be given Sunday afternoon and Sunday night. The many times the mammoth swimming pool has been very well patronized over the July 4th period and every amusement will be in full swing every day and night during the rodeo.

AT THE STATE Two Big Features

One of the best double feature programs of the movie season starts today at the State. Lonel Barrymore comes to Manchester in "Looking Forward" with Lewis Stone, Benita Hume and Phillips Holmes and the co-feature is Warner Brothers' successor to "I Am a Fugitive From a Chain Gang"—James Cagney in "The Mayor of Hell" with Madge Evans, Frankie Darrow and 500 juvenile stars. Starting Sunday for five glorious days, comes "Gold Diggers of 1933."

ANDOVER

The topic for Rev. Wallace I. Woodin's sermon Sunday morning will be "Spiritual Beauty." There will not be any more Sunday school lessons until the Sunday after Labor Day.

Rev. and Mrs. Wallace I. Woodin entertained their two daughters and son-in-law and eight grandchildren on the Fourth. They were Mr. and Mrs. Amos Bridge, David, Wallace, Peter and John Bridge, and Miss Betty Winship, all of Hazardville.

Edward Brown and William Sypher of Willimantic were guests of Ellsworth-Mitten Monday night. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Palmer and five children of Manchester spent the Fourth with Mr. Palmer's father, William Palmer.

The first recorded experiment in electricity took place 60 years before the birth of Christ, when the Greek, Thales, of Miletus, rubbed pieces of amber and observed they would attract light objects.

ANDOVER

The topic for Rev. Wallace I. Woodin's sermon Sunday morning will be "Spiritual Beauty." There will not be any more Sunday school lessons until the Sunday after Labor Day.

Rev. and Mrs. Wallace I. Woodin entertained their two daughters and son-in-law and eight grandchildren on the Fourth. They were Mr. and Mrs. Amos Bridge, David, Wallace, Peter and John Bridge, and Miss Betty Winship, all of Hazardville.

Edward Brown and William Sypher of Willimantic were guests of Ellsworth-Mitten Monday night. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Palmer and five children of Manchester spent the Fourth with Mr. Palmer's father, William Palmer.

The first recorded experiment in electricity took place 60 years before the birth of Christ, when the Greek, Thales, of Miletus, rubbed pieces of amber and observed they would attract light objects.

Gandhi's Son Weds Out of Caste

A ceremony hailed in India as "revolutionary" was the wedding in Poona of Devadas Gandhi, son of Mahatma Gandhi, and Miss Luxmi Rajm Gopal Achariar, both of whom are pictured above after the rites. The bride is a Brahmin, highest of the four castes; her husband, a Vaishya, of a lower caste.

Fights Rackets In Senate Post

And when it is considered that there were so many new members to come in with the Seventy-third Congress, men whose political futures perhaps hinged on what kind of a record they made on their first trip to Washington, the situation seemed all the more serious to them.

Of course, the leader-like Representative Joe Byrnes among the Democrats, Bertrand Snell, the Republican floor leader, and Senator Robinson, the Democratic leader in the Senate, consumed many pages of the post-session Record in giving resumes of the special session.

Thus we see Representative Lundeen, Farmer-Labor of Minnesota, exhorting his party to action

Johnny had a little flask
He carried on his hip,
And every time he met a friend
He took a little nip.

One day, while promenading the streets
Too many he befriended,
They led him home and stretched him out
And now his story's ended.

If President Roosevelt handles the present situation satisfactorily, we'll give him a try-out as a back-

said to the drunk in the gutter:
"No, I can't pick you up, but move over and I'll lay down beside you."

The burglar's wife was in the witness box and the prosecuting counsel was conducting a very vigorous cross-examination:
Prosecutor—Madam, you are the wife of this man?
Witness—Yes.
Prosecutor—You knew he was a burglar when you married him?
Witness—Yes.
Prosecutor—How did you come to contact a matrimonial alliance with such a man?
Witness—Well, I was getting old and had to choose between a lawyer and a burglar.
The cross-examination ended.

RAMBLING THOUGHTS: One trouble with the country seems to be that too many of the sinking funds have already sunk. . . . It is not what you want to do, but what you do, that really counts. . . . So long as the women do not have to should at least be willing to bait their own hooks. . . . Half the peothat make the other half miserable.

. . . It would be much more fun if everyone played the business game according to the rules. . . . Easy divorce is the result of too easy put an end to a great many bac-

Nowadays, it's the blind pig that

4 ENCAMPMENTS TO GATHER HERE

Odd Fellows Lodges to Install Officers at Local Gathering Monday.

Monday evening, District Deputy Grand Patriarch Charles H. Fuller of Norwich and suite will install the officers of four Encampments, comprising District No. 11, at Odd Fellows Hall at Main and Center streets. The Midian Encampment of Hartford, G. Fred Barnes Encampment of East Hartford, Enfield Encampment of Enfield and Shepherd Encampment of Manchester, all of whom have elected officers for the coming term will be installed at this time. It is expected that several high officials of the Grand Encampment will also be present.

Chief Patriarch Volmer Thornfalt of Shepherd Encampment is in charge of the entertainment and refreshments and each of the other Encampments in this District, No. 11, will aid in the preparations for installing the visitors a fine time. This is the first time that a joint installation of this sort, between two Districts, has been attempted in recent years.

On Thursday evening, July 27, District Deputy Grand Patriarch James Goodwin of Enfield Encampment and his suite will return the compliment at Norwich at which time his staff will hold a joint installation of the officers elect of that District, No. 10.

Every member of Shepherd Encampment is asked to be on hand early next Monday evening. The incoming Chief Patriarch, George Dodson, of Shepherd Encampment, is about to begin his second term as Chief Patriarch, a distinction that rarely falls to a member of this organization. The meeting Monday evening will start at 7:45 o'clock sharp with refreshments to follow the installation.

TO DISCUSS WATER PURCHASE JULY 14

Selectmen Call Mass Meeting for Discussion Only—To Explain Proposition.

A mass meeting of townspeople will be called by the Board of Selectmen for Friday evening, July 14, at 8 p. m., d. s. t., in High school hall to discuss the Cheney Brothers utility purchase, now pending between the town officials and the directors of the silk firm.

The meeting will be for discussion only and the town officials hope to have a representative gathering of townspeople in attendance at the meeting so that all phases of the purchase may be explained.

At the last meeting of the Cheney Brothers directors and the Selectmen, the firm outlined the price set on the South Manchester Water Company and the South Manchester Sanitary and Sewer District which was $1,150,000, the town to pay $850,000 cash and to assume the $300,000 of outstanding bonds of the companies.

Directors of the firm have applied to the Public Service Commission for authority to sell, and the town to purchase the utilities. It is expected that the Selectmen will call a special town meeting for a vote on the purchase within a week after the open meeting for discussion of the plan.

MINER DRUG STORE TO CHANGE HANDS

New Company to Take Over Well Known Place of Business as of July 15.

The Francis E. Miner Drug Company, which has been doing business in the Weldon block under the management of Francis E. Miner, is to change hands tomorrow night. The next firm will be succeeded by a corporation to be known as the Weldon Drug Company with Sander Brothers of New Britain as the largest stockholders and managers. The store was owned by Dr. T. H. Weldon and for years was conducted under the name of T. Weldon and son, but full ownership passed to Dr. T. H. Weldon on the death of his father, Thomas Weldon. The store was operated under the same name until turned over to Mr. Miner, a son-in-law of Dr. and Mrs. T. H. Weldon, a few years ago. Dr. T. H. Weldon transferred all of his property to his wife, Mrs. Annie Carter Weldon, which included the fixtures of the drug store.

A lease has now been given on the store and the fixtures to Sander Brothers, dating from July 15 at a monthly rental of $75. Instead of conducting the store under their own name or some trade name it has been decided to operate it as a corporation with Dr. T. H. Weldon one of the stockholders and the corporation will be known as the Weldon Drug Company, in this way retaining the name which was long connected with the store, the oldest drug store in one location in South Manchester.

It was not intended to have the transfer made until a week from today, but Mr. Miner yesterday decided to make the change at once and the present employees in the store were notified that the new owners would take possession at the close of business tomorrow night. A new clerical force will assume charge of the store on Sunday. Mr. Miner said this morning that he had no particular place to go to work, but was considering one of two propositions.
