

PARLEY TO CONTINUE DESPITE BANK VETO

Cox Injects New Life Into Drowsy London Conference With Demand That Delegates Keep Working.

London, July 13.—(AP)—New life was injected into the drowsy world economic conference today by James M. Cox of Ohio who convinced his colleagues of the steering committee that the parley could usefully continue despite refusal of the Federal Reserve Board to consider cooperation of Central banks.

In a fighting speech which one delegate said "curled the hair" of the leaders of the conference, Mr. Cox gave a clear exposition of American difficulties and induced the committee to agree to keep working at the problems of silver and commercial indebtedness.

Prominent gold bloc delegates had taken the position that the Federal Reserve board's veto on discussion of Central bank cooperation had effectively put an end to all discussion of monetary matters.

Indeed there was an expectation today that Central bank cooperation might after all be dealt with by eliminating features of the resolution which were objectionable to the Federal Reserve authorities.

Washington Consulted. It was understood that this possibility was being taken up with Washington.

The Federal Reserve was reported yesterday to consider such discussion premature, but it developed today that the board really considered that agreement at this time on Central bank cooperation was premature.

Continuing their drive to rejuvenate the parley, the American delegation presented a resolution to the economic commission calling for shorter hours of work and increases in wages in proportion to the rise in prices.

This proposal, submitted by Sam D. McReynolds of Tennessee, asserted that unemployment is "one of the gravest problems the governments are confronted with at this time."

Urging on his efforts to restore the world price of silver, Senator Key Pittman of Nevada submitted a substitute resolution designed to prevent debasement of silver coinage of dumping of the white metal on the market.

This new measure, which did not affect the gold provisions of the original Pittman resolution was laid before the sub-committee on silver (Continued On Page Eight)

SIX LIVES SAVED BY ARMY AVIATOR

Drops Life Preserver Into Sound After Blast Wrecks Private Yacht.

Fishers Island, N. Y., July 13.—(AP)—Army officers at Fort Wright reported today the rescue of Colonel Thomas Guggenheim, two other men and three women who were forced to leap into the waters of Block Island Sound yesterday when the Guggenheim yacht was swept by a storm.

The six persons, one of them seriously burned, was kept afloat by life preservers tossed to them from an Army plane, and were taken aboard an Army tug. As the tug turned back to Fishers Island, the blazing yacht was destroyed by an explosion.

They were: Colonel Thomas Guggenheim, Mrs. Thomas Guggenheim, Thomas Guggenheim, Jr., Miss Helen Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Thomas.

Colonel William H. Wilson, commanding officer at Fort Wright, said the Guggenheim yacht was seen in distress about 3 p. m., yesterday by Captain William C. Reator of the air corps, who was flying over the Sound, observing target practice from the fort.

As the six persons plunged into the water to escape the flames, Captain Reator flew low and dropped preservers which they grasped and held.

Meanwhile target practice from the fort was halted and the tug which had been towing the target was ordered to the location of the burning yacht.

ACT TO PROTECT 9TH'S RIGHTS IN SCHOOL MERGER

Voters Want to Be Sure of Fair Break in Equalization Assessment; Fluke in Vote Changes Committee.

The Ninth District Committee was instructed by last night's district meeting, held at High School Hall and attended by about 70 voters, to take whatever action might be necessary to protect the district's interest in the drawing of the tax equalization plan now being figured out and resulting from school consolidation.

This action was taken because the meeting got the impression that somehow the district might not get an even break in the expected reduction of school property valuations in the working out of the equalization plan.

Rev. Woodruff Loss. By what appeared to be an unexpected fluke Rev. Watson Woodruff was displaced as member of the district committee in the election which formed a major item of the meeting's business, Clarence Martin, who is closely identified with the Army and Navy Club, being elected.

The meeting was a long one, lasting an hour and three quarters, a considerable part of which was devoted to repeated explanations from the rest of the voters to the redoubtable Jacob Lauffer of what it was all about.

Mr. Lauffer objected to there being any meeting at all and said nobody had any right to call a meeting of the Ninth District. He didn't believe there was any Ninth district, now that the schools were consolidated.

He wasn't any too strongly impressed when the Consolidation act was read to him, showing the continued legal existence of the district and certain of its functions. It took a long time to tire Mr. Lauffer out and let the business proceed. Howell Cheney presided.

What may have been behind the Lauffer filibuster came out in a due course of events when it was disclosed that a district tax of one and one-half mills would be required to carry on the library and recreation work of the district for the year.

This will raise $48,000 and will cover appropriations of $12,000 for recreation, $10,000 for library purposes, $2,500 miscellaneous, besides payments of $8,000 on bonds, $4,000 interest and $13,000 on short-term notes. It developed that $6,000 of the district's funds are frozen in the defunct Manchester Trust and Safe Deposit Co., and the appropriation (Continued On Page Eight)

SEEKING A MOTIVE FOR QUEER ATTACK

Two Doctors Kidnaped; Gang Attempts to Force One to Mutilate the Other.

St. Paul, July 13.—(AP)—A belief that one member of a gang which attacked two St. Paul doctors was familiar with the practice of medicine today heightened mystery surrounding the case as police sought a motive for the crime.

The two victims, Dr. E. J. Engberg, prominent physician, and Dr. W. H. Hedberg, president of the Minnesota Chiropractors' Association, were recovering in a hospital.

Although it was established that Dr. Engberg was kidnaped in an attempt to force him to mutilate Dr. Hedberg, police said Dr. Hedberg continued to insist he did not know any idea who perpetrated the attack or what motive inspired it.

New Medicine. However, Dr. Joel C. Hultkrans and Dr. Robert Earl who are treating Engberg, said they were of the opinion that a hypodermic and anesthetic given their patient were administered by a man more or less familiar with the practice of medicine.

If such were the case, it was pointed out, it would be difficult to explain why the operation could not have been performed by this man rather than calling on Dr. Engberg.

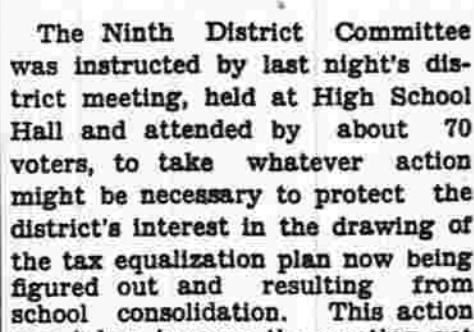

Doctors' Stories. Both Dr. Engberg and Dr. Hedberg told police they had been summoned from their homes Tuesday night to make calls which proved to be tricks.

Dr. Hedberg said three men jumped on the running board of his car, when he arrived at the address given him. He was given an anesthetic. He was found lying beside a road early yesterday after his automobile, containing Dr. Engberg, had been kidnapped by a train at a nearby crossing.

Dr. Engberg, who is secretary of the Minnesota State Board of Medical Examiners, and Dr. Hedberg are expected to be out of the hospital in a day or two.

Miss Mary Fahey, above, daughter of an Albany, N. Y., policeman, is said to have been the last person to see John J. O'Connell, Jr., before he was kidnaped from in front of his home in Albany. The night before his abduction she accompanied him to a theater.

ITALIAN FLIERS, BUCKING WINDS, ARE NEAR GOAL

Gen. Balbo's Armada of 24 Airplanes, on Way to Chicago, Is Heading for Shediac, New Brunswick.

New York, July 13.—(AP)—The Mackay radio announces that the Italian air squadron, bucking a strong head wind, was shaping its course on the Magdalen islands in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, 1 p. m., eastern standard time.

The radio company learned that at 1:10 p. m., the seaplanes were over the Magdalen islands.

START FOR SHEDIAC. Cartwright, Labrador, July 13.—(AP)—Italy's colorful air armada too' off from Cartwright harbor this morning and roared down the Labrador coast on its 800-mile flight to Shediac, N. B., its next halting place on the journey from Orbetello to Chicago.

The seaplane piloted by General Italo Balbo, youthful, bearded leader of the expedition, was one of the first group to rise from the water at 8:20 a. m., e. s. t.

Other groups followed in perfect formation until at 8:55 a. m. the entire fleet of 24 ships was in the air.

General Balbo expected to reach Shediac in about five hours. How long the armada would remain at Shediac would depend on weather conditions, he said, but his men would certainly stay long enough to attend the receptions which have been prepared for them there.

Having completed the most hazardous leg of their journey yesterday by their safe arrival from Iceland, the Italian aviators were full of enthusiasm and optimism today as they went aboard for the short hop to the New Brunswick city.

RECEPTION PLANNED. Chicago, July 13.—(AP)—A spectacular reception is being planned to honor General Italo Balbo and his Italian trans-Atlantic air armada on their arrival at their journey's end—a Century of Progress International Exposition—possibly Saturday.

Officials of the World War announced today their intention of making it one of the greatest welcomes ever staged in America. It is anticipated the aviators, now safely across the Atlantic ocean, will be greeted here by a crowd of half a million.

Whatever day the Italians bring their ships to rest on Lake Michigan will be Italo Balbo day at the fair—everything else giving way.

The Italian air armada will be met at Michigan City, Indiana, by a squadron of U. S. Army planes and escorted to a mooring near Navy Pier. It is hoped the arrival, barring mishaps and bad weather, can be timed between noon and 1:30 p. m.

While the army squadron goes through several demonstrations along the lake front, the Italian fliers will be transferred to the U. S. Wilmette, where they will be greeted informally by members of the reception committee.

The aviators will set foot on United States soil close to the Italian pavilion, flying the red, white and green flag of Italy. Their country's official building at the fair is styled like a huge air plane.

U. S. TO TIGHTEN TRADE RELATIONS. Sec. Hull and Colleagues Working With This Aim at London Conference.

London, July 13.—(AP)—With the world economic conference apparently drawing to an inconclusive close, the United States is inaugurating efforts to tighten trade bonds with individual nations, particularly neighbors in the western hemisphere.

It was learned authoritatively today that behind the scenes of the conference quiet diplomacy is opening the way for negotiating a series of trade agreements when Secretary of state Cordell Hull and his colleagues return to Washington.

The first of these, is expected to be with Argentina, Canada, Mexico and various Latin American nations and probably follow. Japanese delegates also have approached Mr. Hull on the subject.

One of the features of the parley has been the close and friendly cooperation of countries of North and South America. This friendship may be continued with the sending of a high government official to Montevideo, Uruguay, for a commercial conference in December.

As the United States administration failed to put a tariff bargaining bill through the last Congress, the treaties would require submission to Congress before they could become effective, unless changes could be made under the flexible tariff provision of the present law.

HE DROPS DEAD ON HONEYMOON

One Hour After Marriage, Waterbury Man Is Stricken Fatally At Steering Wheel of Auto.

Homer N. Y., July 13.—(AP)—One hour after Arden Brown of Waterbury, Conn., and Miss Marie Gordelle of Homer, a teacher in a Summit, N. J., school were married here by the Rev. George E. Merriam, pastor of the Congregational church, late yesterday, Brown dropped dead at the steering wheel of the automobile, in which they were starting on their honeymoon.

He and Mrs. Brown had gone to a tea room immediately after the ceremony for dinner, then Mr. Brown went to his wife's room for their luggage and loaded it on the car. She had just taken her seat in the car and he sat down at the wheel. She turned to see him slump over it. When medical aid arrived, he was dead.

MOLEY, BACK HOME, DODGES QUESTIONS

Assistant Secretary of State Will Give Information Only to the President.

New York, July 13.—(AP)—Professor Raymond Moley, assistant secretary of state, returned from the London economic conference today and reserved whatever he had to say for the President.

Accompanying him on the liner Manhattan were Herbert Bayard Swope, his personal adviser, Oliver S. W. Sprague, economic adviser to the American delegation, and Edmund Day, technical adviser.

After the liner reached Quarantine Professor Moley shut himself up in his cabin and typed out a 50-word statement, which he distributed by publication.

His stenographic efforts were captioned "Statement of Raymond Moley, assistant secretary of state, July 13, 1933," and said:

"I have been on the water for a week, together with my associate, Herbert Bayard Swope, who accompanied me at the President's request, and our knowledge of the recent developments in London is (Continued On Page Eight)

TO BRING SUIT IN COURT OVER BOY'S HOMELESS PET

Chicago, July 13.—(AP)—For the sake of "Spotty" and his 12-year-old master, Mrs. Irene Castle McLaughlin has gone to court seeking to compel city officials to surrender a dog without payment of 75 cents "raansom."

Spotty, half fox terrier and half Boston bull, was given to the boy, Arthur Koestner, by Mrs. McLaughlin, the former dancer, from among the homeless dogs she provides a haven for at her shelter, "Orphans of the Storm."

The other day the dog was picked up by the city dog catchers and the law provides that unless 75 cents is paid for its release within five days it will be turned over to a medical institution for vivisection purposes.

In her suit filed in the Superior Court of Judge Robert E. Gentzel, Mrs. McLaughlin asks that Mayor Edward J. Kelly and Commissioner of Police James F. Allman be restrained from ordering destruction of Spotty.

"Regardless of law or ordinance," he said, "there is nothing more sacred to boyhood than companionship with a dog. The police have taken Arthur's dog from him, ruthlessly and in an unguarded moment."

NO CONTACTS MADE IN O'CONNELL CASE, FAMILY ANNOUNCES

Factor Released By His Captors Chicago Market Speculator Held by Kidnapers for 12 Days, Freed.

Chicago, July 13.—(AP)—Threatened with death by kidnapers who held him prisoner for 12 days, John Factor, the market speculator was back home with his family today, but was in a serious condition, suffering from a nervous breakdown.

Released just before midnight last night in suburban LaGrange, the usually debonair Factor, who is reputed to have made "big money" in the markets, told a story of mistreatment by his captors, but denied, as did members of his family that any ransom had been paid.

There were reports, however, that anywhere from $75,000 to $200,000 had been paid to effect his release. Captain Dan Gilbert of the state attorney's police frankly said he believed a large ransom was paid, and Traffic Policeman Eugene Cortesi of La Grange said "factor himself had admitted there had been a payment, but did not disclose the exact amount. Factor denied any payment had been made.

Approaches Police. Unshaven, and ill-appearing in other respects, the man who is wanted by the British government for an alleged $7,000,000 swindle in England, approached Policeman Cortesi and Policeman Gerard A. He was taken to the police station and later was brought to his Chicago (Continued On Page Two)

LECTURER DEFENDS MANCHURIA ACTION

Visiting Japanese Declares Time Will Justify Policy; Nation Not Imperialistic.

University, Va., July 13.—(AP)—Time alone can and will justify Japan's policy in Manchuria, Roy H. Akagi, visiting lecturer on Japanese affairs in Columbia University, today said the Far Eastern relations round table of the University of Virginia's Institute of Public Affairs.

Takashi Komatsu, representative of the Japan Economic Federation and the Chamber of Commerce and Industry of Japan at the Chicago Exposition, indicated the same question group of the belief that the people of Manchukuo are now living under happier circumstances than ever before and that their condition will be bettered as the building of the new state makes its progress.

"China had the crowd rooting for her all the time, but lost the ball game," said Dr. Akagi in presenting the balance sheet of Japan in the Manchurian crisis "China had carried the world, largely through the work of 'meritocracy' but refusing to negotiate she lost Manchuria in the heart of the conflict, probably for good.

Better Off Now. "Manchurians are better off today under the new regime of Manchukuo than before 1931 under the Chang war-lordism and tyranny. For this Japan is largely responsible, and is proud of it; it will continue to sacrifice her permanent position on the League Council. Peace for Manchuria near here is far more valuable to her than an empty name a thousand miles away.

Dr. Komatsu began by stating that his trip from his business in Tokyo to the United States was in an effort to build up more cordial business relations between Japan and America.

Trade Relations. "Trade relations between Japan and America are complementary, and there is no element of competition. America is the biggest market for Japanese goods and the biggest buyer, without exception, of America's raw cotton for Japan takes one-fifth of the total cotton production of this country.

"In connection with Manchuria, Japan has been criticized as imperialistic. As a Japanese business man I want to make it clear that there is no thought of waging a war of conquest upon the Asiatic continent or in any other part of the world. We are concerned, as are other countries, with providing peace and security for our people (Continued On Page Two)

KEEP HANDS OFF UNDER ORDERS FROM UNCLES OF YOUTH WHO WAS ABDUCTED—STATE POLICE GUARDING ROADS.

Albany, N. Y., July 13.—(AP)—With city and county authorities virtually stymied by order of the politically powerful O'Connell brothers, state police officers alone were reported today to be making vigorous efforts to track down the kidnapers of the Democratic leaders' nephew, John J. O'Connell, Jr., strapping soldier and athlete, who was snatched six days ago.

Brothers Ed and Dan O'Connell, and John J. (Solly) O'Connell, the 24 year old, six footer's father, clung to their preference to deal personally with the young man's abductors, while the gray clad troopers maintained a watch on the highways in Greene county, which adjoins Albany county.

Ordered Into Action. Ordered into action by Gov. Lehman, whose nomination of a fall was opposed by the O'Connell clan, the state troopers kept an all-night lookout on the widely traveled motor lanes for an automobile resembling "The green car" which police said young O'Connell was believed to have been whisked away by his captors.

The search here for the heir to the O'Connell political domain was slowed up to a walk because anticipated contacts with the youth's abductors, who demanded $250,000 ransom, failed to materialize. A report reported the O'Connells were ready to recover the hostage with ransom variously estimated at between $20,000 and $100,000.

Relatives Waiting. Simultaneous with the collapse of the negotiations with the kidnapers, Dan O'Connell and John J. O'Connell, patiently and none too hopefully waited at the uncle's attractive summer home at Lake Thompson, 20 miles from the State Capitol, for some word from the snatchers.

By some agreement between city and county authorities, a search reported the O'Connells, no information was obtainable from either police headquarters or the office of District Attorney John Delaney.

It was learned on high authority that the county officials have turned up a lead in contacting a gang of underworld characters believed to emanate from New York City.

POLICE WITHDRAW FROM LUER CASE

Believe Agents of Family Are Now in Contact With Kidnaping Ring.

Alton, Ill., July 13.—(AP)—Two agents of the family of August Luer, wealthy kidnaped Alton banker, joined police today in complete silence regarding rumored negotiations for a ransom payment.

As the hours passed without the appearance of the aged semi-invalid victim of two men and woman who seized him in his own home Monday night, sources close to his family had guarded indication that contact had been established with the abductors.

Contact Men Silent. Lawrence Keeler, Jr., an officer of a bank of which Luer was president and Orville S. Catt, manager of a Luer-owned meat packing plant, the designated "contact" men, declined to comment on their activities.

They were named by the sons of the missing banker to treat with the kidnapers after police withdrew from the case at the request of the family.

Carl Luer, son of the kidnap victim, and other relatives, have explained that the delicate condition of the man's health aroused grave fears for his safety. He is suffering from heart disease and recently had experienced as many as six attacks a day.

TREASURY BALANCE. Washington, July 13.—(AP)—Treasury receipts for July 11 were $7,563,876.98; expenditures $6,055,178.60; balance $1,508,698.38. Custom duties for seven days were $6,540,516.72.

WEATHER DELAYS LINDBERGH AGAIN

Colonel Decides Not to Leave St. John's Until the Fogs Clear Up.

St. John's, N. F., July 13.—(AP)—Unfavorable flying weather along the Newfoundland coast prevented Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh from leaving here for Cartwright, Labrador, today on their aerial mapping expedition.

It was cold, wet and foggy when the colonel arose and he said he would not take off in his monoplane until the weather clears.

The famous flying couple had looked forward to meeting the Italian air fleet at Cartwright, but General Italo Balbo led his 24 seaplanes southward from that port today for Shediac, N. B.

The Lindberghs arrived here yesterday evening after a flight of 5 1/2 hours from Halifax.

Warm Welcome Newfoundland welcomed Colonel Lindbergh as an old friend, for her inhabitants saw his monoplane, Paris-bound, speed eastward one May day six years ago.

At a reception in their honor he remarked that "when I first saw Newfoundland in 1927, I decided to visit it again." They were guests last night at the home of Colonel L. C. Outerbridge.

The steamer Jelling, with supplies and scientific apparatus for the survey of northern routes, is now at Cartwright.

MORE WAGE INCREASES

Waterbury, July 13.—(AP)—Three local major industrial plants here today announced wage increases to employees averaging eight per cent, effective next week.

The plants are the American Brass and Sheet Co., Chase Manufacturing Company, and the Sewell Manufacturing Company. Ten thousand workers are involved, with total weekly increase estimated at $20,000.

PUTS AN END TO BUNION PAINS

No Need to Suffer Another Day There is one simple yet inexpensive way to reduce inflammation of swollen toe joints and help get them down to normal and that is to apply Moore's Emerald Oil night and morning.

Ask J. W. Hale Co. Drug Dept. or any first class druggist for an original two-ounce bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil (full strength) and refuse to accept anything in its place. It is such a highly concentrated preparation that two ounces lasts a long time and furthermore if one bottle of Emerald Oil does not give you complete satisfaction you can have your money refunded.

Special note: People who want to reduce swollen or varicose veins should get a bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil at once. Applied night and morning as directed they will quickly notice an improvement which will continue until the veins and bunches are reduced to normal.

SEVEN TOWNS IN STATE ARE UNDER QUARANTINE

Rabies Prevalent in Lower Section of the State, Official Announces.

Hartford, July 13.—(AP)—Seven towns in Connecticut are under quarantine, either whole or in part, as a result of the prevalence of rabies, it was made known today at the state department of domestic animals. While the number of cases was not stated, Chief Special Deputy H. W. Schriver said "there are plenty," and the number is constantly increasing.

For the most part, rabies is prevalent in the lower section of the state, Bridgeport, Fairfield, Stratford, Monroe and Madison being quarantined. A section of the city of Waterbury had been quarantined but the discovery of additional cases made it necessary to include the entire city in the quarantine, and the Elmwood section of West Hartford has also been placed under the ban.

MACKENZIE'S NEW POST

Hartford, July 13.—(AP)—Harry E. Mackenzie of Bethel, former state commissioner of labor and factory inspection, and more recently Federal labor commissioner for the state, will assume his new duties in the state insurance department on Monday. Mr. Mackenzie has just returned from two weeks' vacation in New Hampshire. His new position will be supervisor of agents and agencies, a work consisting of a check-up of those engaged in selling insurance to insure compliance with state laws as to licenses and other features.

The 20th meridian west of Greenwich is generally used as the official dividing line between the eastern and western hemispheres.

MEET TOMORROW ON WATER PROJECT

To Discuss Proposal That Town Purchase Cheney Owned System.

Manchester citizens are to be given first hand information as to the value of the South Manchester Water Company and Sewer District which is being offered to the town at a special meeting to be held tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock, p. m., d. s. t., in High school hall. Representatives of the Water Company will present a full account of the value that is placed upon its different properties and the South Manchester Sanitary and Sewer District, which is also offered for sale with the water company.

The particular section of the town charter under which this meeting is to be held makes it possible for all concerned to meet, iron out any question that may be in doubt and may better understand it when casting their votes at a later meeting. Attention is called to the complete engineers' appraisal of the two plants in today's Herald, pages six and seven.

FACTOR RELEASED BY HIS CAPTORS

go hotel, where he told Captain Gilbert and Police Lieut. William Bialut that his abductors had demanded $500,000 ransom and had threatened him with machine guns and a pair of scissors when he told them he could not raise the money.

A farm house, northeast of Chicago overrun with cockroaches was believed by Factor to have been his place of imprisonment, but he was not certain because during the entire period of his captivity he was blindfolded with tape.

He was driven to La Grange in an automobile with three men. Other members of the gang were in two other cars, one preceding and one following the machine in which Factor rode.

Factor, whose 19 year old son Jerome, was also a kidnap victim a few months ago, said there were ten or 15 hoodlums in the gang that held him captive.

Taken To Absement Following his abduction shortly after he left an outlying roadhouse the night of July 1, he said he was taken to a basement, alive with peddles, and as a result was unable to sleep. After one night there he was removed to the farm house, where he was held until last night.

Factor's release wrote fits to a search that extended to almost all corners of the United States. The British government charged his abductors with a hoax, arranged to prevent his extradition to England.

Captain Gilbert, who was among investigators who theorized that the Roger gang abducted Factor, said he expected Mayor John Kelley to order out 200 men to search for the house, where Factor was held.

The girl was brought to Waterbury hospital. Mr. Stevens said he was forced off the highway by another car.

Kidnaping Records Show 43 of Them Are in Jail

New York, July 13.—(AP)—The slow majesty of the law, perplexed at times by the speed of the crime, moves surely to crush the activities of kidnapers.

Records of recent kidnapings show decisive action by police authorities and heavy punishments by courts. To the kidnapers' threat, "money or death," the law retorts, "dead or alive."

Records of 18 notorious kidnap cases during the last three years show 43 persons jailed for terms ranging from two years to life—mostly life—three kidnapers dead, and about ten suspects awaiting trial.

Kenneth Buck, who kidnaped Peggy McMath, got the maximum Massachusetts could give, 25 years. Martin Deputy and William Werner, kidnapers of Nell Donnelly in Kansas City, are in Missouri penitentiary for life, and Charles Mele, an accomplice, is in for 35 years.

Confessed kidnapers of Mary McTroy of the same city are awaiting trial. Because they kidnaped Benjamin B. Bower in Colorado, A. M. Taylor, George Reed and Joe Pannell are in jail for seven years, the maximum state penalty at the time. Carl Pierce and Arthur Youngborg, who kidnaped Charles Boecher, II, in Denver, are serving 26 and 32 years respectively. Their sentence was imposed by a Federal Court.

Dowell Hargraves and John Demarco were sent to jail for life because they kidnaped James de Jute, Jr., 12, of Niles, Ohio. Two Suspects Killed Three kidnapers in St. Paul, those of Morris Rutman, Leon Glickman and Haskell Bohm, sent six persons to jail for one to 40-year sentences. Two suspects were killed by enemies, one prisoner died in prison, one is serving 25 years, and three suspects are still hunted.

Leon U. Mason was sentenced to three years in jail last week for trying to kidnap June Collier, two, in Washington, D. C. For kidnaping Mr. and Mrs. E. L. (Zeke) Carraz at Los Angeles, Joseph L. Baillie was sentenced to life; Raymond Wagner, 22 years to life, and Ralph Sheldon and Jesse Orattli, 10 years to life.

Aransas, Arkansas, sent Cornelius Lettuss and Jake Sims to jail for 20 and 15 years respectively yesterday because they held up a bank and kidnaped the cashier at Foreman, Ark.

Five To Twenty-five The five men who kidnaped Ernest Schoening in New York last year are in Sing Sing penitentiary for periods of five to 25 years. In Chicago, John Pingera and William Thomas were sent to the penitentiary for life for kidnaping Dr. and Mrs. Max Gocht for $2,000.

The kidnaping of Fred Dellipoli, Spring Valley, Ill. merchant, sent Mike Talarico, Joe Versalona and Frank Debono to jail for 42, and Wesley E. Pritchett for 20 years, besides fines of $5,000 each and jailed Carlo Debolono and Victor Cieselski for two years.

In two notorious cases the kidnapers escaped, Scott free. Police seek six men as the abductors of William Hamm, of St. Paul. Hamm was returned unharmed for ransom. Earlier Means got 15 years for a ransom conspiracy.

The death of the Lindbergh baby placed kidnaping in the Federal law books and provided heavy jail terms and fines for interstate kidnapers. The Lindbergh kidnapers, as well as some others, have escaped—so far—but there is no statute of limitations on their crime.

The man-hunt, however, goes on quietly, relentlessly. Some day those kidnapers-killers may be brought to justice.

Another Trading Rush ON THE STOCK MARKET New York, July 13.—(AP)—Stocks swirled upward in an enormous volume of trading today.

By the beginning of the last market hour leading issues were showing gains of $1 to around $5, with a few up more extensively. Several alcohol issues rallied spectacularly in the forenoon, but later utilities came forward with a rush. Rails were quiet.

Grams moved rather narrowly, while cotton eased under profit-taking. Silver advanced to new highs since 1930.

At 2 o'clock on the Stock Exchange floor American telephone was selling around $134, up more than $4; U. S. Steel just over $66, up $1.50; Consolidated Gas $63, up $2; United Aircraft $42.35, up $4; Commercial Solvents, $41, up $5; and Santa Fe $77, up $2.

American Commercial Alcohol, after rising more than $16 to $80.50, reduced its gain to about $12. National Distillers quartered an extreme gain of $4 which had put the price to $119. U. S. Industrial Alcohol lost a third of a $6 jump. American Power & Light and American and Foreign Power gained $1 to $2.

TO BENEFIT NAVIGATION. Washington, July 13.—(AP)—Changes to benefit navigation were authorized today by the War Department in plans of the metropolitan district commission of Massachusetts for a bridge across Mystic river at Medford.

The alterations involving changing the bridge from an arch to a plate girder type and the draw span from a rolling lift to the trussion bascule type and reducing the width of the piers.

"The proposed modifications," the department said, "will not affect the horizontal clearance but will increase the vertical clearance."

FRENCH FLYERS SEEK NON-STOP RECORD

By flying over the Atlantic in a straight line from New York, the French flyers, Maurice Rossi, left, and Paul Codos hope to set a new record for a non-stop long distance flight from the United States to Europe. They are shown at Floyd Bennett airport, New York, where they are testing their cabin monoplane, "Joseph Le Brix," pictured below.

MRS. HURD VICTOR OVER MISS QUIER

Neither of the Former Champions in Top Form in the Match Today.

Eastern Point, July 13.—(AP)—Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, of Philadelphia today defeated Miss Edith Quier of Reading, Pa., one up, in a semi-final match of the Griswold cup golf tournament and assumed a commanding position in her drive to gain permanent possession of the trophy she has twice previously won.

In achieving her triumph, Mrs. Hurd eliminated the one other contestant who also had two legs on the Griswold cup.

Neither of the two time champions played-up to their best golf. Mrs. Hurd needed 85 strokes for the 18 holes and Miss Quier carded 87.

Mrs. Hurd took the lead at the fifth hole with a birdie four, lost the sixth and won the seventh to go up at the turn. On the way out Mrs. Hurd had a 40 and Miss Quier had 41, each taking a six at the long seventh.

Strain Begins To Tell The strain of the tight match began to tell as they started the homeward march and Mrs. Hurd took a six at the tenth, losing the hole and the match was even. She went out front again at the 11th and increased her lead at the long 13th where Miss Quier ran into all kinds of trouble and needed seven. Miss Quier won the 14th but lost the 18th and Mrs. Hurd was dornie two. Miss Quier won the 17th but Mrs. Hurd halved the last hole to win.

The cards for the inward nine: Mrs. Hurd in 655 683 595—45—83 Miss Quier in 555 735 655—46—87 Miss Jane Brooks of Sparkill, N. Y., won the right to meet Mrs. Hurd in the final tomorrow by defeating Miss Kathryn Bryagov of Montclair, N. J., one up in a match that was extended to 21 holes.

After Miss Brooks had gained a lead of one hole on the first nine they halved eight in a row and on the 18th Miss Bryagov got her par four to win the hole and square the match.

Halving two extra holes in five on each, Miss Brooks got her par four on the 21st hole but Miss Bryagov missed a six foot putt for a five.

Each had $1 for the first 18 holes. The cards for the inward nine: Miss Bryagov in 545 553 544—40—81 Miss Brooks in 545 553 545—41—81 Extra holes: Miss Bryagov 555; Miss Brooks 554.

LATEST STOCKS

New York, July 13.—(AP)—Stocks climbed aboard the "wet" express today.

With members of the distilling group spurring 5 to 16 points at one time, other categories followed with gains of 1 to 4 around $5. The group of buyers swayed the machinery of the stock exchange and the ticker tape was minutes late throughout the greater part of the session.

Commodities generally related their enthusiastic advance, although most of them were fairly firm. The dollar dropped a couple of cents to the British pound, but steadied in terms of gold currencies. Silver futures edged up to new highs for the year.

Bonds improved. American Commercial Alcohol was the big mover in stocks. After getting up to a 16-point gain, however, it dropped back moderately under profit taking. Other shares in the division with advances of 3 to 5 included U. S. Industrial Alcohol, Crown Cork and National Distillers. Gains of 2 to 4 were recorded by American Can, United Aircraft, U. S. Rubber, Goodrich, Goodyear, American Sugar Refining, Great Western Sugar, Cane, Western Union, American Telephone, DuPont, International Silver, U. S. Smelting, Cerro de Pasco and Westinghouse. Numerous stocks were up 1 or more points.

While market followers were watching closely for reports of profiteering in foods and other necessities as a result of the recent upswing in commodity prices, much interest was expressed in a statement issued by the Bureau of Labor statistics at Washington to the effect that the cost of living in June, this year, was actually 2.9 per cent below that in December, 1932 and 24.6 per cent under that of the peak level in 1923.

EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGE

New Haven, July 13.—(AP)—James C. Brown, New Haven contractor, was arraigned before Judge Joseph Wetner in City Court today, charged with embezzlement of $4,898 from the estate of Mrs. Emily Griswold Peckman, for which he was administrator, until he was removed last year by Judge John L. Gilson in Probate Court.

The hearing was continued until July 29, and Brown was released under a $1,000 bond. He was arrested yesterday on complaint of Edward L. Reynolds, who replaced him as administrator of the estate.

SAVES TWO LIVES

Bridgeport, July 13.—(AP)—Hurled with two companions into Long Island Sound today when their 18-foot fishing launch was crushed by a scow in tow of two oyster boats, Lloy Peck, 19, made his way aboard the scow and succeeded in dragging Charles Warren, 50, and Frank Blase, 62, aboard the scow.

Blase was wedged against the side of the scow and received a laceration to his left arm and shoulder. The fishing boat which had been smashed by the scow, started to drift and ship water. It later was salvaged.

SEES SOLUTION NEAR OF BANKING PROBLEM

Edgel Ford Says That Washington Is Going to Take Care of Detroit Banks.

Detroit, July 13.—(AP)—A sudden adjournment of Detroit's bank jury, coupled with the unexpected announcement that "a solution to the banking situation here is pending in Washington," today brought into the limelight the figure of Edgel Ford as a possible arbitrator in difficulties that have kept two national banks here closed since Michigan's bank holiday Feb. 14.

Judge Harry B. Keldan, who for nearly five weeks has been conducting public hearings into the closings of the banks, announced the adjournment a few minutes after he had conferred with Ford, Clifford B. Longley, Ford attorney and former president of the Union Guardian Trust Co., and Emory Clark, active in banking affairs.

"We thought it would be better to hold things as they are for the time being," said Ford, when questioned as to the reason for requesting an adjournment of the Grand Jury. "Negotiations are in progress in Washington, and we do not desire that anything be done locally which would endanger them." He declined to explain the nature of the reported solution, saying "we are awaiting the government's decision."

Judge Keldan and other jury officials also declined to say what plan is being considered.

Witnesses before the jury for the past five weeks generally have placed the blame for failure of the banks—the First National Bank—Detroit and the Guardian National Bank of Commerce—to reopen, in the lap of the government. The First National, the sixth largest bank in the country, had resources of nearly half a billion dollars when it closed Feb. 14. The Guardian National, in which Ford was heavily interested, listed resources of nearly $200,000,000. Payments of 40 per cent have been made to the 800,000 depositors in the two banks by Federal receivers appointed shortly after the State holiday.

Edgel Ford, former president of the Guardian National Bank of Commerce, is now in Washington, D. C., where he is awaiting the government's decision.

ABOUT TOWN

Mr. and Mrs. James B. Hutchinson of Hamlin street have returned after a few days' visit with their daughter, Miss Jessie Hutchinson, who is working at Star Lake Camp, Butler, N. J., this summer.

Miss Florence Robertson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lafayette J. Robertson of 943 East Middle Turnpike, is enjoying a cruise on the Great Lakes. Miss Robertson is employed at the Hartford Public Library.

Samuel G. Gordon, chief of the Manchester police department, was elected as an auditor at the annual convention of the State Policemen's Association held yesterday in New Haven. He has held this office for several years. All of the officers were re-elected. The association is to be a much larger one this year than before as members of the state police are hereafter allowed to become members.

The regular published statement of the Manchester Trust Company appears in today's issue of "The Herald." It shows the new institution to be 90 per cent liquid, with United States Government securities and cash totalling $412,000, against deposits of $464,000.

Wesley Warnock of 559 Main street, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Warnock was operated upon this morning at the Manchester Memorial hospital for an acute attack of appendicitis. Warnock is a sophomore at William and Mary College and has been a member of the swimming and track team there. The operation was a success and it is expected that he will make a rapid recovery.

MALTBIE ATTACKS JUDICIAL SET-UP

State's Chief Justice Says Minor Court Appointment System Is Wrong.

Hartford, July 13.—(AP)—Connecticut's minor court appointment system was attacked today as the greatest defect in the state judicial set-up by Chief Justice William M. Maltbie in an address before the civic and government classes at the Hartford public high school this morning.

"The system is logically wrong," Judge Maltbie stated, "since these judges have jurisdiction only in one particular town or borough and yet are selected by over three hundred members of the Legislature, only a few of whom have any real connections with the smaller courts."

As a remedy for the situation, Judge Maltbie presented the plan for District Court systems recommended by the judicial council to the Legislature during two successive sessions.

Judge Maltbie referred to the recent judgeship deal in which, he said, "judgeships were paroled out by political leaders to parties or factions, showing the system to be vicious even though some very good appointments may have been made. Such a show of favoritism undoubtedly lowers the tone of the courts."

The system of electing several justices of the peace was also condemned by the Chief Justice, since it allows a man to choose his own justice.

"The system is especially unfair," he said, "in regard to criminal cases for in the acceptance of fees, we may say we desire on the part of many officers to obtain large fees rather than to administer justice."

SHOOTS WIFE, DAUGHTER THEN COMMITS SUICIDE

Norwalk Man, Crazed by Jealousy, Draws Revolver Following a Family Fight.

Norwalk, July 13.—(AP)—Harry Farrington, 51, crazed by jealousy, according to the police, shot his wife and daughter and then committed suicide in their home in School street this morning. The shooting climaxed an argument which started last night when the mother and daughter, returned home after being at a friend's house since early afternoon.

The argument resumed this morning and the husband, who has not worked for three years, pulled out a revolver, shot his wife and daughter and then committed suicide in their home in School street this morning. ACCIDENTALLY SHOOTS SELF

North Haven, Me., July 13.—(AP)—James McKee, 15, of Greenwich, Conn., accidentally shot himself today when he tripped while running with a pistol in his hand. The pistol, loaded with shot, was discharged, wounding the boy in the arm and abdomen.

McKee managed to reach a near-by house, where arrangements were made to carry him to the Knox county hospital at Rockland by airplane. The youth had been living alone in a cottage here.

PLAN MIDSUMMER "ICE" CARNIVAL IN COVENTRY

Women of North Coventry to Have Novel Type of Fair Next Wednesday.

Ice carnivals in midsummer are somewhat unusual. However, the women of the Coventry Fragment society have a way of making a success of any project they undertake, and that is the name given to their second annual summer sale, supper and entertainment, Wednesday, July 19, at the Second Congregational church, North Coventry, with which the society is affiliated.

The festivity will begin at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, daylight time, and from that time until dark there will be something to interest and entertain the guests from this and surrounding towns.

Attractive booths will be decorated with artificial snow, icicles and cotton just as they are at Christmas sales. A huge snowball will provide grabs for the children. Gift articles of fancy work, home made candy, hot Frankfurt sandwiches, and cold drinks will be sold over the counter at these various stands on the lawn at the church.

At 2 p. m. and again at 7:30, the rural drama, "Old Acre Folk," will be presented under the direction of Mrs. Floyd Stardish. Those who will play the parts in this two-act comedy include Ernest Gowdy, Mrs. A. B. Porter, Roy Burnham, Miss Cora Kingsbury, George Vinton, Miss June Loomis, Mrs. C. I. Loomis, William Edmondson, William Blackburn and Lester Hill. The Coventry Community orchestra, of which Jack Crawford of this town is director, will play during the afternoon and evening.

In the afternoon at 3:30 a "Pageant of the Seasons" will be put on and a silver collection taken. The pageant has been written and arranged by Mrs. Byron W. Hall and Miss Eva Koehler, and will be presented outdoors. Those who arrive early in the afternoon and desire supper before leaving will be accommodated from 4:30 on. Mrs. A. L. Reed is chairman of the supper committee and her assistants are Mrs. Henry Barnes and Mrs. Newell Hills. They will serve cold ham with potatoes O'Brien, green salad, rolls, coffee and prune delight with whipped cream. More than 125 at a time may be seated in Grange hall nearby where the supper will be prepared and served as late as 7:30.

Leon Raimault who is spending the summer in Coventry will give an exhibition of light and heavy balancing at 5 and again at 6 o'clock.

OFFICIAL'S CAR WRECKED

Danbury, July 13.—(AP)—The automobile of State Police Commissioner Anthony Sunderland was almost completely wrecked this morning, when the driver, State Policeman Arthur Mayer, in endeavoring to avoid a truck which entered the highway from a driveway on his left, struck a tree. The commissioner was not in the car at the time. Officer Mayer escaped with minor injuries. The truck driver, Charles Nichols of Danbury, was arrested on a charge of reckless driving.

WATER CO. IS LAYING NEW MAIN PIPE LINES

Improvements in System Being Installed in Central Area of the City.

The Rockville Water and Acqueduct Company is making numerous improvements in its water mains. Work was started yesterday at the rear of the Doane Block on Main street, where a new main is to be laid from Market street. A six-inch pipe is being laid in this section to supply this group of buildings.

During the past week the Water Company laid a pipe line from the Main street main to the plant of T. F. Eady & Co., where a new sprinkler system is to be installed. Improvements are also being made on Prospect street where the Public Works Department is making improvements. Due to the fact that the street line is being changed permanent improvements are to be made in the water mains in that section.

Vacation School in Progress
A group of twenty-nine are attending the Vernon vacation school at the Vernon Methodist church which has just been started. There are two departments in charge of Ernest Bromley and Miss Winifred Bromley of Myrtle, Mass. The topics include hypnology, Bible, hand work, recreation and other interesting undertakings.

This vacation school has been very popular for several years and a large group attends these classes. Sincerely Ill
Captain Richard Shea was called from his duty patrolling the streets of Rockville yesterday to the bedside of his wife at the Hartford hospital where her condition was deemed critical. Mrs. Shea has been a patient at the hospital for several weeks and recently underwent an operation. Her condition was recently reported as much improved but took a turn for the worse this week.

Patrolman Arthur Frey took over the work of Captain Shea.
To Plan Flower Show
The Rockville Community Garden Club will make its plans this evening for the annual fall flower show to be held during September.

The members of the club will meet at the home of James Galivan in Tolland this afternoon between 5 and 6 o'clock and will enjoy a basket lunch. They will visit the Galivan gardens which are reported as being unusually attractive.

The activities of the Rockville Community Garden Club have attracted the attention of visitors from all parts of Connecticut. Large gardens have been planted by members and valuable prizes have been won by the members of the club for their exhibition work.

Postal Curtailment
The curtailment of the postal delivery service of the Rockville Post Office became effective yesterday with the elimination of the afternoon delivery on Wednesdays. This will reduce the number of working hours of the letter carriers.

A curtailment of the hours of the post office clerks also became effective this week with the closing of the post office lobby at 7 o'clock in place of 7:30 o'clock.

JACK DEMPSEY TO WED HANNAH WILLIAMS SOON

Ex-Boxing Champion Admits He Will Marry Broadway Star.

Kansas City, July 13.—(AP)—There was talk of wedding bells among friends of Jack Dempsey, the former heavyweight boxing champion, and Hannah Williams, actress, as the two headed west today. Dempsey, who has admitted his interest in the Broadway star, was reported to have told friends here he and Miss Williams will be married in Reno, Nevada, soon.

He left here by motor car last night for Salt Lake City to referee a bout involving his protégé, Max Baer. Miss Williams was believed to be on her way to Hollywood by train.

The Kansas City Star says Dempsey disclosed plans here to go from Salt Lake City to Reno to marry Miss Williams.

Reno was the scene of divorces of both Dempsey and Miss Williams. Dempsey formerly was married to Estelle Taylor, film star. Miss Williams is the former wife of Roger Wolfe Kahn.

Asked on his arrival here by plane from Fort Worth, Tex., yesterday of reports of a pending marriage, Dempsey said:
"Well, there might be some truth in it. But I'm not going to get married right away."

AMUSEMENTS
STATE THEATRE
"Gold Diggers of 1933"
"Gold Diggers of 1933" will be shown at the State for the last time tonight. Starting Friday the State will offer a giant double feature program that will bloom with picture stars very popular with all members of the family.

James Dunn comes in "The Girl in 419" with Gloria Stuart, "David Manners, Jack La Rue and Shirley Grey, while Jack Holt will appear as an African desert oil well engineer in "The Woman I Stole" from the Hergesheimer novel with Fay Wray, Noah Beery and Raquel Torres.

On Sunday, Manchester will see "College Humors" while Wednesday will bring another double feature show comprising Sylvia Sydney in "Jennie Gerhardt" and John Wayne in "The Man from Monterey."

Film audiences have grown to expect a good lecture whenever Jack Holt is starred, and "The Woman I Stole," Columbia's newest film featuring this popular actor, is no exception. There are powerful situations without number, a rapid-fire plot, and a splendid cast.

The strength of the picture lies not only in the unusual love story, but in the dramatic punches and realistic oil-field atmosphere. The locale is an isolated oil-pit on the edge of a desert, and there men struggle bare-handed to achieve personal success. They employ fair means and foul, for the desert wilderness permits only the survival of the fittest.

MILITARY ORDERS

Washington, July 13.—(AP)—Arthur Dewitt Brittingham of 890 Wilcox avenue, Bridgeport, has been promoted to first lieutenant in the Ordnance Department Reserve of the Army.

Eleven Connecticut men have been appointed second lieutenants in the Field Artillery Reserve. They are: Richard C. Adams, George T. French Samuel S. Gray, Jr., William H. McKleroy, Harrison Pease, James A. Warren and Stiles E. Tuttle of New Haven; Stanley R. Cullen, Greenwich; Nathan L. Hartenberg, West Hartford; Carl Keil, New Canaan and Paul P. Sunderland, Jr., Danbury.

RACING BOAT SAFE IN DELAWARE BAY

Highland Belle, With Six Students Aboard, Towed in by Coast Guard Cutter.

Lewes, Del., July 13.—(AP)—The racing sloop Highland Belle, picked up in distress off the Delaware Capes, was riding safely at anchor at the mouth of Delaware Bay today.

Standing by was the Coast Guard Cutter Icarus which towed the sloop here after responding to a call from the racing vessel.

A Coast Guard crew from the Lewes station went out to the Highland Belle early today and upon their return reported all well aboard the sloop.

It was the last of 42 entries in the New London-Gibson Island race to make port at Gibson Island, near Annapolis, Md. Her compass is said to have become disarranged on the return run up the coast and the sloop lost her bearings.

The skipper of the Highland Belle is Graydon Abbott, 23, of Providence, R. I. There are five other young men in the crew.

U. S. OFFICERS DECORATED

Quito, Ecuador, July 13.—(AP)—For service to the country the government has awarded the Star of the Order of Abdon Calderon to seven United States Army and Navy officers now stationed in the Canal Zone.

They are Generals Preston Brown and Thomas Darrah, Colonel Russell Teeder, Major Enrique Benitez, Admirals Noble Irwin and Clark Woodward, and Captain Matthias Manly.

INTOXICATED, DROWNED

New London, July 13.—(AP)—Michael F. Barrett, 57, formerly of Fall River, Mass., was drowned shortly before midnight after falling into the Thames river from the state pier. The body was recovered about an hour later.

Barrett had been a resident of this city for five years and in that time had been arrested 21 times, principally for intoxication. Police said he was intoxicated when he fell overboard. Efforts are being made to locate his relatives.

QUAKE WRECKS TOWN

Istanbul, Turkey, July 13.—(AP)—An earthquake at Changiri, near Ankara, yesterday, left no house in the town undamaged and threw the inhabitants into a panic, but nobody was hurt.

The dome of the celebrated Ulu mosque was damaged considerably. Ankara, the capital of Turkey, felt the shock but there were no property losses.

VETERANS MOBILIZED IN VERMONT CAMPS

Large Contingent Already at Work on Flood Protection Along Winooski River.

Complete mobilization of the special contingent of New England war veterans, enrolled in the President's Conservation Corps, at work camps along the Winooski River in Vermont, two days ahead of the date set by the War Department for their enrollment at five Army posts, was reported here today by Major General Fox Conner, Commanding the First Corps Area.

The New England veterans, recruited in each of the six states, were organized in eight companies of the Conservation Corps at Fort Devens where they underwent conditioning training. Four hundred of the veterans concentrated in Vermont already have begun work at East Barre under U. S. Army Engineers.

The general project has as its purpose the protection of the Winooski Valley from destructive floods similar to that in 1927 which took a toll of 55 lives and caused property damage of $14,000,000. The work will consist of the construction of storage basins along tributaries of the Winooski.

These "harnessed" streams will be utilized in the generation of electric light and power. Two additional companies of war veterans, enrolled in the Third Corps

SENATE TO INVESTIGATE RECEIVERSHIP RACKETEERS

Santa Barbara, Calif., July 13.—(AP)—United States Senator William G. McAdoo announced today that he has selected as counsel for the United States Senate special committee to probe bankruptcy and receivership racketeering in the Federal courts.

Neblett, a law partner of McAdoo, will give his services without compensation, the Senator said. "Formal hearing will begin in Los Angeles in the early fall," McAdoo said, adding:

"Wherever racketeering exists it will be exposed. It is expected the investigation will supply the information necessary for such changes in Federal law as will end forever a disgraceful condition, with racketeers preying upon business concerns that find themselves in difficulties."

GETS A POSTPONEMENT OF BAD BRAKE CASE

Arthur G. Sessen, arrested Tuesday night for operating a motor vehicle with defective brakes, was not in Police Court this morning.

He telephoned from his home in Middletown, R. L., last night that he could not make the trip in time for court this morning and asked to have his case put over until Saturday, which was done.

Sessen was driving a truck along East Center street Tuesday night with one light out. He was stopped by Policeman Prentice and an examination showed that his brakes were no good, being strapped up with wires. He was on his way to New York with a load of fish when stopped. He engaged a local truckman to carry the load to New York. To fix up the brakes so he might continue with his own truck was not possible in the short time he could give. He went to New York with the local truck, leaving his own vehicle here.

TELLS HOW SHE LOST 15 LBS. OF FAT

Rheumatism Gone Too.

Here is a woman who was rapidly putting on weight and who was troubled with rheumatism too. Read her letter:

"I started taking Kruschen Salts because of the good it had done for a friend of mine who had been crippled with rheumatism. At the end of the second bottle I was weighed and found I am now only 148 pounds (original weight 163 lbs.) at which I am so pleased. But I have also felt my rheumatism much less which has been so troublesome in my knees. I must say I think Kruschen a splendid weight reducer." (Miss E. L. P.)

Overweight and rheumatic poisoning often go together. The six salts in Kruschen assist the internal organs to perform their functions properly—little by little that ugly fat goes; slowly, yet—surely. You feel wonderfully healthy, youthful and energetic—more so than ever before in your life!

Kruschen Salts is obtainable at J. W. Hale Drug Dept., Manchester—a jar lasts four weeks and costs not more than 85c.

Men smile at my simple reasoning

Whenever the subject of cigarettes comes up, I sit back quietly and let the men explain about the "Toasting" process. Then, if they ask my opinion, I'm pretty frank and tell them why "Luckies please"—at least. After all, there's an intimate relationship between a cigarette and my lips—and I'm very sensitive about my personal daintiness. Certainly I enjoy Luckies' delicious tobaccos and their mellow-mildness—but the comforting purity of "Toasting" is what I prize almost above everything else. And that is a woman's reason for saying "Luckies Please!"

because 'It's toasted'

FEDERAL JOBS.
 President Roosevelt's order placing all postmasterships in the United States under Civil Service rules, while it carries with it no assurance that Republican postmasters will not be displaced by Democrats, does appear to hold promise that totally unfit political hacks will not be put in positions of responsibility merely because they have the backing of local party organizations.
 The Civil Service requirements relating to fourth-class postmasters have never been air-tight and have not by any means removed appointments in that field from the realm of practical politics, but they have at least brought an improvement as compared with the old days when there was an occasional rural postmaster that had difficulty in reading his own name in large sized print. Mr. Roosevelt's order bringing the higher class offices under the same rule is not in the least likely to prevent postmasterships from going to the party in power; but it is likely to improve the average fitness of the new postmasters for their positions.
 To our mind there is more of importance in the other move made yesterday by the President relative to the giving out of public jobs; which is the effect that preference shall be given, in the employment of persons in the various new activities for national rehabilitation, to former public servants who have lost their jobs through government economizing in the routine services of the country.
 There is no question about the justice or reasonableness of this decision. It will insure the presence in these numerous new emergency organizations of helpers who have at least some familiarity with government office work and who possess some measure of fitness for the job; whereas if the filling of the places had been allowed to become a mere matter of patronage the scramble would have been certain to fill the recovery administration offices with a mob of misfits.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN Washington

JOHNSON GIVEN ADVISORY HELP TO QUIET FEARS
 Capital and Labor Pointed Out Enormous Power Given to Single Individual
 By RODNEY DUTCHER
 Washington, July 12.—Roosevelt's sudden appointment of a special industrial recovery board followed urgent representations from elements of both capital and labor that alarmingly enormous power over the national destiny was being left in the hands of Administrator Hugh S. Johnson.
 The President was going off on a vacation at the critical time when the Industrial Recovery Act set-up was to be organized. So he conceded the point, naming five Cabinet members, the budget director and General Johnson to the board—which is to co-operate with Johnson, rather than supervise him.
 Furious under-cover activity involving key posts in the new recovery administration had been in progress many days before the signing of the act.
Wire-Pulling Jobs
 Although organization charts call for equal and fair representation of the general and labor groups, especially those of deputy administrators who must rule on controversies—are the objects of widespread wire-pulling and intrigue.
 Labor and the President also misgave the presence of Donald R. Richberg, Chicago lawyer and labor racketeer, who was in Chicago and still unable to decide whether he could conscientiously leave the railroad unions to handle their wage fight and come to work with Johnson.
 There's no lack of confidence in the general. The willingness of both capital and labor to accept him and to recognize his impartiality and good faith has been amazing. But as the folks most concerned began to comprehend the vast one-man power he would have over industry some of them began to get the jitters.
Worried Over Future
 The contractors, who only did a $1,500,000,000 business last year, are naturally excited over the prospective expenditure of $3,800,000,000 for public works within two years.
 But many of them are also worried over probable price rises, wondering how safely they can make advance commitments at a time when there's little disposition to sell far ahead on the basis of existing prices.
Roosevelt's Responsibility
 Certain Senators strongly urged Roosevelt to appoint a congressional advisory committee which would stay on the job during the next six vital months of the recovery program.
 They argued that his responsibility was too great for any single living man, that Congress should be allowed to help work the program out, that the White House should be kept advised of the sentiment of Congress while it was scattered over the country, and that such a committee could reduce chances of serious clashes between the executive and the legislature later on.
 But Roosevelt and his advisers were unimpressed.
Lobbyists On Job
 The lobbyists will stay on the job, their numbers greatly increased by the many new relations which the Federal government has with industry and agriculture. One result is to stiffen local purchasing power.
 One of the assistant lobbyists in the unsuccessful "power trust" battle to keep the three per cent electricity tax from being shifted from consumer to producer was receiving $50 a day plus liberal expenses.

STOP-GAP ALTERNATIVE.

While it never was the intention of the authors of the National Industrial Recovery Act to set up a general standard of minimum wages and maximum hours of employment in the manifold industries of the country, even as an emergency measure, it would not be greatly surprising if for a brief period such a standard would have to be established, possibly in the very near future, if the full effect of re-employment is to be attained without serious loss of time.
 It is, at all events, quite certain that the creation of such a code in industry as a temporary expedient is being very seriously considered at Washington. It is even stated that the standard would be—$14 for a thirty-five hour week for unskilled labor and $15 for a forty-four hour week for "white collar" employees in both industrial and distributive enterprises.
 The reason for the present consideration of such a scale is the failure of hundreds of industries to comply with the urgent request of the government that they get their codes formulated, at least far as hours and wages are concerned, and submit them for hearing and approval.
 It is probable that only in a minority of cases is this delay intentional, but the various trades seem to be obsessed by the notion that they must consider and decide on every last meticulous detail of their trade agreements before agreeing to any part of them. Extreme fussiness could, conceivably, cause this code making to occupy the next year or even more, if the government would stand for it. It will not, however, stand for it.
 Unless there is a marked acceleration in the making of codes among the major industries there need be no astonishment if a sweeping order should issue somewhat along the lines indicated above—and within a very short time. Then what a scrambling there would be to get the permanent codes approved.

"MAKING" NEWS.

Washington, no more than the police districts of our big cities, is free from the tabloid system of journalism—and not all of the tabloid type of work appears in the tabloids. There is a type of Washington correspondent—not by any means ranking in the first class—who feels any day lost in which there is no revelation of "inside" stories.
 Some of these, in recent days, discovered that there was something doing in the way of further organization of the administration's machinery for putting into effect the complex reconstruction measures. Unable to get facts before there were facts to get, they proceeded to imagine things. The result was a crop of rumors about "clipping the wings" of Recovery Administrator Johnson, about lack of sympathy between Johnson and Secretary Ickes and various other jarring notes, the deduction from which was that things were more or less in a mess and that a scramble for authority was on.
 Now it develops that all these guesses had their foundation in the fact that, in due order, the President has created an executive council very similar to the War-time Council of National Defense, to be made up of all the cabinet members and the key men of the recovery program for the closer co-ordination of the efforts of the numerous bodies engaged in factuating that program. The Council is to hold periodic meetings and there is created a co-ordinating and liaison official, who is to be its secretary.
 This is merely the logical outgrowth of the situation and conforms to the experience of practiced

 In any event it would be safer for operators of exempt vehicles to give the law, rather than their own vehicles, the benefit of the doubt.

ASTONISHING OKLAHOMA.
 Oklahoma, which had been a boner prohibition state from the moment of its admission into the Union, in a peculiarly significant election on Tuesday took its place alongside the thirteen states that have so far ratified repeal. Oklahoma did not vote on repeal, for its governor, the erratic Alfalfa Bill Murray, had vetoed the bill providing for a constitutional convention; but it did vote on legalizing S. 2 beer. And the result was a smashing majority against the continuance of the old order of things.
 On the basis of that vote even the very Gibraltar of prohibition can be depended on, in the course of time, to record its vote for ratification of the repeal amendment, though by the time it does get around to taking action on the question the state's support will not, in any probability, be necessary.

THE MOHAMMEDANS HAVE NOTHING ON US

New York, July 14.—Curious people, New Yorkers. So curious, in fact, that they flocked traffic on one side of Broadway the other evening by clustering around a young man who, apparently unthinking of them, was fiddling with a gadget that looked like a stereopticon, and from which wires led into a suitcase he was carrying. No and then he would hold it up to his face and call excitedly: "Hello, Bill! I see you now, Bill. . . . I can see you smoking a cigar. . . . Do you see me all right; and can you hear me OK?"
 It works, Bill, it works. . . . Suddenly seeming to be a crowd, he opened the suitcase and began selling, as souvenirs of this great scientific triumph, a marvelous little device known as "television-scope," only 25 cents. These turned out to be tiny cardboard boxes containing squares of mirror and with full directions for using them to look around corners. The salesman, however, was around a couple of corners by that time.

Health and Diet Advice

BERRIES HEALTHFUL WHEN RIGHTLY USED
 By Dr. Frank McCoy
 Berries are among the most wholesome foods when properly served though some of the dishes commonly made with berries may be quite unwholesome. A berry must be considered as a small juicy fruit containing water, natural fruit sugar, fruit coloring and flavoring, organic acids and also minerals. Among the more wholesome berries may be found strawberries, blackberries, raspberries, blueberries, loganberries, dewberries, raspberries, serviceberries and whortleberries. Strawberries contain a large amount of iron, sodium and silicon; blackberries contain a goodly amount of magnesium; raspberries are rich in calcium and sulphur; raspberries lead in chlorine and huckleberries in potassium and phosphorus. All of these berries also contain a varying amount of other mineral elements.
 It is better to use the fully ripened berries of the type requiring no sugar to make them palatable. The berries which are very sour, such as cranberries, and do not taste palatable without sugar are not quite so valuable from the dietetic standpoint. The most flavorful berry from the average person's point of view is the strawberry, but the loganberry and blackberry favors are prime favorites of many. Recently in breakfasting on a train, I found that a large dish of fresh raspberries and cream was very satisfying. This reminded me that I remembered reading about a famous chef who served as a novelty a specialty light blue raspberries instead of the red ones which are so familiar to us all.
 Fresh berries are delicious eaten by themselves or they may be added to ice cream, sherbet, fruit chips, or they may be pressed out to flavor cooling drinks. The fruit flavorings may be added to gelatin desserts to make them more enticing. It is always better to use the fresh fruit rather than the artificial flavoring in preparing foods. We are apt to underestimate the food value of berries and forget that bears are able to put on layers of fat while eating large amounts of berries with their other foods.
 Strawberries and other berries, though acid fruits, do not cause acidosis; in fact, they are so alkaline forming as to be a valuable remedy. Those individuals who break out after eating strawberries suffer from a toxic condition, and it seems that the strawberries actually speed up elimination through the skin to such an extent as to cause itching or inflammation. To get the greatest benefit from berries it is well to remember their classification as an acid fruit and, therefore, not use them with starchy foods but preferably alone or with milk, cream, non-starchy vegetables or protein foods.
 I do not advise the average strawberry shortcake; however, I had such a clamor for some method of making a healthful shortcake that I advised one which will appear in my menus in the newspapers in a short time. Watch for the recipe. Berry pies and shortcakes, while exceedingly palatable, are unwholesome when prepared in the ordinary manner.
 Below I am giving an excellent recipe for making berry ice cream. One may vary the flavor at different times by using different kinds of berries; for example, strawberries could be used one time, loganberries the next, etc.
Berry Ice Cream
 Measure into a dish half the contents of an envelope of unflavored gelatin and add just enough water to soften. In a separate dish crush the desired amount of any kind of berries about one or two hours or packed berries. Mix them thoroughly with half a pint of cream. In another bowl put a pint of whole milk and thoroughly mix it with a cupful of honey, then add to the berries. Next add the gelatin after dissolving it over hot water. Stir the mixture thoroughly and pour into a freezer and freeze to the desired consistency. This amount makes about a quart depending upon the quantity of berries used. The amount of honey will vary according to the acidity of the berry.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
 (Silhouettes)
 Question: Paul F. writes: "I work in a mine, and I though I have no consumption, I am troubled with shortness of breath. The air cells of the lungs are filled with silica rock dust. This causes my trouble."
 Answer: If you breathe too large a quantity of rock dust, it could lead to a coating of the lungs which is termed "silicosis," but usually such dust must be breathed before this occurs. Various occupations where dust is breathed may lead to a bronchitis of the lungs. Those who absorb too much silica or stone dust may be incapacitated in from two to eight years. Coal miners or dwellers in cities where there is dust and soot may gradually have the lungs carbonized. The first symptoms are those of coughing and falling health, and, if this begins to occur, it would be well for you to change your occupation. Much of the dust will gradually be eliminated through expectoration.

 L. J. Merritt had the misfortune to lose his barn by fire Monday afternoon. They had run a truck load of hay in the barn and went to the house for a drink of water. When they went out the barn was in flames. Mr. Merritt had about half of his hay in the barn besides some old hay. There was no chance to save the building. All they could do was to keep the house from burning. Some men working for the telephone company did good work in saving the house. The barn was insured, but the truck, which belonged to Edward Merritt had no insurance on it and was a total loss. Several farming tools were also lost. It is thought the fire must have in some way been set by the truck.

APPRAISAL OF THE SOUTH MANCHESTER

ENGINEERS' ESTIMATE OF PLANT CONDITION, VALUE, AND PRESENT AND POSSIBLE NEEDS

Report of Alfred H. Terry and Charles J. Bennett to Board of Selectmen of Manchester With Reference to Possibility of Purchase of the Plant.

Gentlemen:— Consideration of the opportunity presented for the purchase of the South Manchester Water Company and the South Manchester Sanitary and Sewer District by the Town of Manchester involves investigation as to the physical value of the combined property, its design both in relation to present needs and future requirements, the condition of its structures, its value as a commercial enterprise and in general the question of the advisability of the Town owning and operating its sewer and water utilities.

Reproduction Value In arriving at the physical value, we have taken as a basis the cost of reproduction of the various facilities at present day prices, deducting from this value depreciation calculated on due percentages of the probable life of the different kinds of structures.

In general the method adopted has been to figure the actual cost of reproduction and add thereto 15 per cent to cover overhead (including such items as insurance, tenderness and use of plant) and profit. We have checked our figures in many cases by consultation with contractors and builders accustomed to doing the kind of work in question. In arriving at the real estate value we have talked with local authorities and have taken the valuation of a local real estate operator for the lands in Manchester and Bolton.

You will note that we have given as a separate figure the item of replacement of road surfaces. This expense is a necessary accompaniment of reproduction at the present time.

Depreciation on the Roaring Brook Dam is based on the consideration that its useful life will cease at such time as it becomes necessary to add to the available storage through the construction of a new dam lower down the stream.

The life of the wood stave pipe leading from Roaring Brook Reservoir to Line Street Filter Plant is assumed to be from 20 to 25 years and depreciation is based on this length of life.

The water diversion rights of the Sewer Company are not included as an asset in the Sewer Company's valuation. The item of $37,000, included as sewer assets in Cheney Brothers' proposition to the Town, covers the cost of securing release of water rights from the junction of Porter Brook and White Brook to the Sewage Disposal Plant. Inclusion of this item is based on the theory that the Sewer Company is responsible to the owners of these water rights for the diversion of water carried in the sewers. It is estimated that this water is placed in the sewers by others we cannot see that the Sewer Company has any responsibility for the diversion and, that, where there is no liability, payment for release of liability is not justified.

The documents conveying those water diversion rights, moreover, contain two clauses placing Cheney Brothers in the position of obligor as to the Sewer Company's sewage disposal. We understand that Cheney Brothers stands ready to rectify the situation created by these two clauses.

The following items, included in Cheney Brothers' proposition, are not included in our valuations:

- Cash
- Accounts Receivable and Accounts Payable
- Sewage filter beds (except as land)
- Sewage water diversion rights
- Sewer rights, 8th District
- Supplies
- Stable and shop equipment

We find the present value of the combined companies to be after depreciation $1,427,655. Detailed estimates will be found at the end of the report.

Design—Water Company The South Manchester Water Company has made use of the most available sources of supply. There seems to be no other source of supply economically available.

The design of the Water Company is affected by small early needs. Growth in population has been met by logical development. Nevertheless this has resulted in the present system of three reservoirs which gives a high cost of storage. This is coupled with far sighted provisions for future needs in securing the necessary rights for Roaring Brook development.

The present storage capacity of the three reservoirs is approximately 280,000,000 gallons. A storage of approximately 660,000,000 gallons could be obtained by a dam constructed on Roaring Brook at a point about 2,500 feet north of Gomez Street. This would give a spillway elevation of 446'. The Porter spillway elevation is 392.5'. The Roaring Brook scheme would, therefore, have an advantage of 47.5 feet head. This advantage, of course, would be somewhat offset by great frictional loss from Roaring Brook than from the Porter location. To make this head available, it would be necessary to build a filter plant at Roaring Brook and scrap the Line Street plant.

The present supply should be sufficient for the needs of South Manchester for from 20 to 25 years, at the end of which time additional supply will probably be required. This can readily be obtained at Roaring Brook as above indicated but it is to be noted that the construction of the new dam will render the present Roaring Brook dam of no value.

In estimating the population for which the present storage is adequate, the problem is complicated by the fact that the exact influence of the leakage at Roaring Brook on the storage capacity of the reservoir is unknown.

We have, however, conditions in the year 1931 as a guide. This year, according to the Water Company records, was the lowest in total rainfall since 1897. The condition of the three reservoirs, therefore, in 1931 is as much as they are in 1933.

After giving due weight to the somewhat low quantity of water leakage at Roaring Brook, the conditions indicate that the present supply could have cared for a population of about 66 per cent in excess of the 1931 population.

The population at Manchester has increased since 1931 at the rate of 28 per cent every 10 years. This increase, is based on compounding the increase at each census. It seems likely that the rate of growth is somewhat less than this. While the design of the present system is safe to say that the supply is sufficient for at least 20 years.

The design of the Roaring Brook dam is open to some criticism in that the sheeting driven to cut off the leakage at Roaring Brook has been surrounded with impervious material which is designed to give the necessary protection against leakage, but it is not sure a method of securing this result as would have been the method of surrounding the sheeting with concrete.

There is considerable percolation through the soil underneath and around the dam amounting to about 400 gallons per minute with the pond at spillway elevation. Diagram C shows the leakage in relations to pond elevations for the years 1929 to 1932 inclusive. It will appear from the diagram that the main leakage comes from the storage area, but that a portion of the leakage, perhaps considerable in amount, comes from other sources.

We do not think that this leakage is an indication of the stability of the dam. The dam has been in existence for about seven years, careful record of that amount of leakage has been kept for the last six years. There is about four times as much leakage as there is at the present time. It is impossible to determine from available information whether this leakage is concentrated or distributed throughout the length of the dam. If it is distributed, it would amount to only one gallon per minute per lineal foot of dam for the condition of 400 gallons per minute with the pond at spillway elevation.

In stating that it is our opinion that the leakage is not a menace to the stability of the dam, we recognize that the responsibility for damage, in case of failure, would rest upon the designer of the property at the time of such failure.

The leakage at Roaring Brook dam, in our opinion, while not a menace to the stability of the dam, does decrease the available water supply and makes the useful life of the dam less than would otherwise be the case. This fact is given weight in applying depreciation to this particular structure.

There is about four miles of wood stave pipe laid from the Roaring Brook dam to the filter plant at Line Street. In as much as the probable life of wood stave pipe is from 20 to 25 years it is evident that the design of this pipe will have to be replaced about 1950.

This makes the date for replacing the wood stave pipe approximately the same as that when additional storage will be required. About this time also is the present bond issue of $500,000 due for retirement. The Roaring Brook supply is filtered at Line Street. This plant is good for approximately twice its capacity for this plant is not to be anticipated for some time to come. The Porter Howard supply is not at present filtered although it is sterilized. The upper part of the Porter water shed is swampy. Normally the water from this portion of the shed is bypassed and not used. If used, under the present conditions, it is serated to some extent. The possibility of the State Board of Health requiring filtration at some time in the future must be recognized.

We have talked with the State Board of Health and the State Water Commission officials in regard to both Sewer and Water Companies. Their attitude toward the water supply being that it is satisfactory, while calling attention to the situation at Porter just above mentioned.

The distribution system is, in the main, well designed. There are, of course, some lines of small pipe which some day will require larger sizes. There are dead end lines which, in the extension of the system, should be given added supply at the dead end. We have given no value to existing lines less than 4" in diameter. While at the present time the entire water supply is by gravity, the development of some of the higher portions of the town will some day require pumping, presumably to a stand pipe storage. Present conditions seem to require no immediate construction of expensive water mains.

Water pressure now obtainable at various points indicates adequate fire protection over the larger part of the built-up section of South Manchester.

Pressure is low at the following points:— Middle Turnpike and Summit Street

Upper end of Princeton Street Middle Turnpike and Vernon Street

At the west end of the 4" line on West Center Street.

Design Sewer Company The South Manchester Sanitary and Sewer District has shown somewhat unusual forethought in designing its sewers from its inception on a separate system basis.

The situation is, therefore, not complicated by the various troubles incident to early combined design.

The present system appears to be designed for sewers running full. It is our opinion that future design should be based on sewer running half full. This ordinarily adds little to the cost of construction in comparison with the factor of safety secured in the design.

The present system is well designed and well constructed. The territory tributary to the present sewers is divided into thirty collection areas as shown on diagram G at the back of the report. The capacities required at present for the sewerage system are within the capacities of the sewers serving them as shown in table page A18 at the back of the report.

Commenting on these different areas we find the following:— No. 1 and 2. Sewers good for twice the present population.

No. 3. Has to take No. 1 and 2 and is good for a 50 per cent increase in population.

No. 4, 5 and 6. In these areas the sewers are old and we have no data for calculating their capacities. However, there is no reason to suppose that they will not serve their purpose for some years to come.

No. 7. Sewer has to take Nos. 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 and 7. Sewer is not good for materially increased population.

No. 8, 9, 10 and 11. We know very little about these sewers which are mostly on private property; however, there is no reason to suppose that they will not serve their purpose for some years to come.

No. 12. The present sewer will care for about 2,000 population. The design of the sewer is adequate for the present population. It will be necessary to replace some of the flat portion with a larger pipe some day.

No. 15, 16 and 17. There is little information available from which to calculate the capacities of these but they should be adequate.

No. 18 and 19. When this section develops, a line should be laid in Main Street from the bridge at Gould's pond to Sumner Street.

No. 20 and 22. O. K.

No. 21 and 23. As this section develops there will come a time when the present line should be rebuilt with a larger pipe. This, however, does not seem likely in the near future.

No. 24, 25 and 26. O. K. for the territory assumed tributary. No. 27, 28, 29 and 30. Not yet sewered.

There are two points that should be mentioned: First, in Section 3 from Summit Street to Branford Street the present 8" sewer will suffice for an increase of four miles of sewer per cent of its present population. A greater development in this area would probably require reconstruction of this portion of the sewer.

Second, the old sewer, running from just West of the Railroad crossing of Center Street mainly across lots to the Trunk at Hartford Road, is at present no more than adequate. Reconstruction for greater capacity will be needed when the area tributary develops to any considerable extent.

The design on full flow basis makes no allowance for infiltration. The present infiltration of every low being, according to the Sewer Company's records, about 10,000 gallons per mile per day. Metcalf and Eddy give from 5,000 to 10,000 gallons per mile per day infiltration as the best obtainable under favorable circumstances. A sanitary system is no place for roof water. We understand there is some roof water in the Manchester sanitary system. This should be eliminated. Roof water in amounts many times that of the sanitary waste. Its entrance into the system means increased cost both for sewers and for disposal. Roof water requires no treatment and to allow it to enter the sanitary system is pure waste of money.

The method of disposal achieves results at present satisfactory to the State Board of Health and the State Water Commission. Both Boards, however, call attention to the fact that at some future time a secondary treatment may be necessary. The plant, in its location and in the topography of its surroundings, lends itself to such treatment which it becomes necessary.

The present method of disposing of sludge through giving it to the farmer for fertilizer is satisfactory, but in all probability, some other method of disposal will be found necessary at some future date. While the disposal plant is adequate for present conditions of unemployment, if Cheney Brothers and Rogers were running at full capacity, the additional disposal unit would be required.

The figures used for calculation of sewer requirements are based on peak flow at the disposal plant which proves to be 60 per cent of average flow for domestic and 180 per cent of the average for Cheney Brothers.

Condition Inspection of structures and plant, both of the Water and Sewer Companies, show all in excellent condition.

While it was, of course, impossible to examine underground structures except at manholes; inspection of a number of manholes, carefully selected to give index of condition of sewers of various ages, showed excellent workmanship and condition.

At almost all places examined we found sewers running full. In some cases, however, we found a condition of dirt in the sewers. Only in the Green Acres section did we find any dirt in the sewers. This is to be explained by the fact that where dirt was found the streets were unsealed through amount of dirt in the sewers could easily have sifted through the manholes.

The low infiltration value is due to the excellent workmanship and to the fact that the sewers have been over-designed and are especially well designed in the main arteries. A lateral sewer affects only a small area. Its requirements are usually definite and easily ascertained. Interceptors, traps, trunks, however, are of the nature of a change in conditions to serve areas not contemplated in the original design and a factor of safety is essential.

The system as a whole is well designed and well constructed. The territory tributary to the present sewers is divided into thirty collection areas as shown on diagram G at the back of the report. The capacities required at present for the sewerage system are within the capacities of the sewers serving them as shown in table page A18 at the back of the report.

No. 20 and 22. O. K.

No. 21 and 23. As this section develops there will come a time when the present line should be rebuilt with a larger pipe. This, however, does not seem likely in the near future.

No. 24, 25 and 26. O. K. for the territory assumed tributary. No. 27, 28, 29 and 30. Not yet sewered.

There are two points that should be mentioned: First, in Section 3 from Summit Street to Branford Street the present 8" sewer will suffice for an increase of four miles of sewer per cent of its present population. A greater development in this area would probably require reconstruction of this portion of the sewer.

Second, the old sewer, running from just West of the Railroad crossing of Center Street mainly across lots to the Trunk at Hartford Road, is at present no more than adequate. Reconstruction for greater capacity will be needed when the area tributary develops to any considerable extent.

The design on full flow basis makes no allowance for infiltration. The present infiltration of every low being, according to the Sewer Company's records, about 10,000 gallons per mile per day. Metcalf and Eddy give from 5,000 to 10,000 gallons per mile per day infiltration as the best not share in the cost of disposing of Roger Company's sewage. If this were a new proposition, however, the town would have to care for the Rogers waste; the only difference being; that, if it were a new proposition, the Rogers Company might be required to treat their waste to some extent before discharging it into the town sewers and that, in the absence of any agreement, Rogers would be charged a sewer rental like anyone else.

The elimination of the cost of the trunk lines from the proposition would appear to compensate for this.

Below you will find tabulation of potential revenue, interest and amortization under Town ownership. Taking the average for the year 1929-32 inclusive and applying Cheney Brothers' proposition as above to the 1932 use of sewers by Cheney Brothers gives:—

Total receipts from Water Company	$ 91,692
Total receipts from Sewer Company	35,856
Total receipts from both Companies	$127,547
Operating Expenses Water Company	12,415
Operating Expenses Sewer Company	41,369
Operating Revenue	$ 86,178
Glastonbury and Bolton Taxes	5,000
Net Operating Revenue	$ 81,178
Net Operating Revenue (carried forward)	$ 25,000
Interest on 500,000 Bonds outstanding 5%	25,000
Miscellaneous Non-operating Expense Water Co.	820
Amortization 500,000 Bonds issue (22 years) 4 1/2%	14,050
Interest on 700,000 Bonds new @ 4 1/2%	31,500
Amortization 700,000 Bonds new @ 4 1/2% (35 yrs.)	5,859
Total	$ 79,959

Taking the averages for the years 1929-32 inclusive and applying Cheney Brothers' proposition to these averages gives:—

Total Receipts from Water Company	$ 91,692
Total Receipts from Sewer Company	42,250
Deducting Operating Expense, including Glastonbury and Bolton taxes	46,389
Net Operating Revenue	$ 87,573
Other Deductions	87,576
Total	$ 3

In the above figures, depreciation is covered by amortization. Hydrants, rentals and taxes balance each other and are not considered. For income tabulation see pages A13 and A22-24.

Increase in population should give increased revenue to both Companies.

The above figures cover maintenance and operations but not extensions. Extensions will have to be financed through taxes.

While the revenue, as shown above, will cover amortization and interest, it is not likely that they will provide funds as needed for the retirement of serial bonds.

It should be noted that normal employment conditions will probably necessitate two new units at the sewage disposal plant, probable cost, $85,000.

It will be necessary, therefore, to provide funds for:— Extensions Retirement of Serial Bonds Two new units at Sewage Disposal Plant.

General Paragraph 2 in the Cheney Brothers offer imposes conditions as to assessment. These should be re-assessed in their application to such sewers as are conveyed by this purchase.

In the same paragraph the obligation of the Rogers situation should be limited to such obligation as exists.

Paragraph 4 of Cheney Brothers offer states the general terms on which sewer rentals shall be charged Cheney Brothers. Cheney Brothers, of course, should be on the same basis, as to rates, as the rest of the public. We understand that they have written a letter to the Selectmen in explanation of this paragraph which places them on this basis.

The problem arising from part of the town being on an assessment basis and part on a rental basis as to sewage, is to be considered. It can probably be handled by dividing the town into two sewer districts.

The water rates are low in relation to the cost of furnishing water. Town ownership, involving no consideration of profit, could be expected to insure their remaining as low as conditions permit.

In our opinion, need be no higher than under Cheney Brothers direction. In both cases there is an existing organization by which the Water and Sewer Companies can be handled as a public utility. Experience, however, indicates that municipal operation of utilities is apt to be somewhat higher in cost than private operation.

In considering the proposition, the town should regard the possibility of other borrowing needs especially in the near future.

The two companies, on the basis of reproduction value, are unquestionably worth the price asked. The public is generally better satisfied under municipal ownership even if the cost of operation is somewhat more than would be the case under private ownership.

The transfer, should, of course, eliminate the stock of the two companies and should not be complicated by consideration of cash, accounts receivable and payable.

We understand that the town considers that the purchase of these properties is possible only if revenue, potential under present conditions, can be expected to pay interest on the purchase price and amortize the debt within a reasonable period of time.

We believe that under these circumstances, income cannot be expected to pay for extensions; while it must necessarily provide for all

SOUTH MANCHESTER SEWER & SANITARY DISTRICT 1932 Valuation AGREEMENTS, ETC. C. B. Griffith to the Sewer Company, its heirs and assigns, December 31, 1937, conveys right to use Griffith's process.

Rogers agreement June 13, 1928 "The said South Manchester Water Company covenants and agrees that the said Rogers shall have the right to discharge the waters of his upper mill, including the waste, wash and sewage waters into Hop Brook, as he has been accustomed to discharge such waters, until such time as the said South Manchester Sanitary & Sewer District, or the said South Manchester Water Company shall build or furnish or shall cause to be built or furnished, a sufficient sewer to receive such waters."

"The said Rogers for himself, his heirs and assigns, hereby agreeing and covenanting to discharge all such waters into said sewer when the same shall be built and furnished, without expense to t's said Rogers, and will so continue to discharge the same into said sewer."

Agreement with 8th School District gives the Sewer Company the right to connect with Town sewer trunk on payment of 8-86 of cost of construction, up-keep and development chargeable to Sewer Company territory and gives School District right to assess on specified territory, Cheney Brothers convey to S. S. District under date of September 30, 1912 recorded in Manchester Volume 48 Page 472, rights in waters of Hop Brook and its tributaries and Sewer Company agrees not to return any pointed waters to Hop Brook and to save C. B. harmless from all damage for which it would otherwise be liable due to discharge into said Hop Brook or tributaries of its pointed waters and sewage until said Sewer Company shall furnish C. B. other lawful means for disposing of said pointed waters and sewage.

Similar rights and obligations are conveyed by deed from C. B. dated September 30, 1912 recorded Manchester Volume 48 Page 38. These last two documents convey the much discussed water diversion rights and embody obligations on the part of the Sewer Company which should be released by C. B. if the Town purchases the properties.

The Sewer Company to Hartford Electric Light Company dated February 1, 1918 conveys perpetual right of way for pole transmission line.

Agreement with J. W. Hale, September 22, 1920, gives Hale rights in roadway over Dry Brook for which Hale pays $10,000; Sewer Company agreeing to refund such part of this as it may collect from the Town within twenty-five years.

J. W. Wright, Jr., and family is exempt from obligation to pay sewer rentals by virtue of deed dated December 31, 1931 and recorded Manchester Volume 108 Page 56.

By agreement with Manchester Construction Company dated July 11, 1929 the Construction Company agrees to pay rental but no assessment.

Under the charter as amended, unpaid sewer rentals constitute a lien on the property served, proper notice being filed.

Sewer capacities required for the different areas are based on six families per acre, five in family, for full development of area. Each area is weighted in proportion to its present development. Domestic sewage is assumed to have a peak flow of 180% of the average on the basis of an 8 hour day. Industrial sewage has a peak flow of 150% of the average on the basis of an 8 hour day. Both water consumption and sewage flow at Disposal Plant were taken into consideration in arriving at sewage quantities.

GET TOBACCO BENEFITS ON HALF BASE ACREAGE

Can Be Collected Even If No Tobacco Is Being Grown This Year — Farm Bureau Answers Questions On New Act.

Benefit payments under the Agricultural Adjustment Act may be collected by tobacco farmers throughout the Connecticut Valley on half the base acreage on each farm even if tobacco is not being grown in 1935, according to an announcement made by the Hartford County Farm Bureau.

The average outdoor tobacco farmer in the Connecticut Valley, according to Farm Bureau officials, grew twelve or fifteen acres of tobacco in 1931, ten acres in 1932 and has set seven acres this year. This grower can qualify for benefit payments on five acres of tobacco land by destroying the tobacco on two acres.

Example If the average market value of the tobacco he grows in 1933 is $150 an acre, he would be paid $107 an acre, or $535 on the five acres. While this grower gets paid on five acres of land and is required by the Secretary to leave two and one-half acres idle and to set aside one acre for each two and one-half acres, he really has to destroy only two acres of tobacco in order to receive the benefit payments.

Certainly no outdoor tobacco grower would raise an offer from the Secretary of Agriculture which would mean that he would receive $267.50 an acre for destroying two acres of tobacco.

Questions and Answers There are a great many questions that have come to the attention of the Farm Bureau officials and a few of these questions with their answers are listed below.

1. In case a farmer rents land from another in 1933 are the benefit payments made to the owner or the person renting the land?

Ans. Officials in Washington state that the check for benefit payments will be drawn jointly in favor of the owner and renter and the renter will have to endorse the check before it can be cashed. This means that the owner and renter will have to agree among themselves about the distribution of benefits.

2. If a man rented land from another in 1932 and tobacco, but did not rent the same land in 1933, who is eligible for the benefit payments?

Ans. The owner of the land in this case would be eligible for the benefit payments because it is the intention of the act that the payments should operate to keep land out of production and in case the land is rented in 1933 it is apparently assumed that the land owner has received payment for the land while in case it is not rented in 1933 no such assumption can be made and the payments go direct to the owner.

3. If a farmer is raising silage, hay or vegetables for his own use on land taken out of tobacco by the Secretary of Agriculture is he eligible for benefits?

Ans. In order to qualify for benefits a man must not be harvested from more than fifty per cent of his base acreage this year.

b. That nothing is harvested from half of the land from which he receives benefit payments.

c. That nothing is harvested from the other half of the land on which he receives benefits.

This means that a man must leave half of the acreage on which he is paid fallow or seeded to a crop which would be plowed down, and the other half can be used for hay, corn for a food, silage, or vegetables for home use.

4. If a man is growing no tobacco in 1933 what crops can he grow on the half of his base acreage which would ordinarily be in tobacco?

Ans. The Secretary of Agriculture is not making any restriction on the half of the base acreage which would ordinarily be in tobacco, nor is he interested in what is grown on any of the rest of the farm except that as stated above only half of the base acreage can be planted to tobacco and the part the Secretary pays rent on, that is, the other half of the base acreage, must comply with his requirements as stated above.

5. Should a farmer measure his acreage or wait until an inspector sent to take measurements?

Ans. Farmers are urged to measure accurately the land on which tobacco was grown in 1931, 1932 and the land on which tobacco is planted this year.

6. There is a report that a farmer growing no tobacco in 1933 will receive only the minimum payment of $75.20 while the farmer growing tobacco may receive as high as $47 an acre, is this true?

Ans. The tobacco administrator, Mr. Hutson, authorized Mr. Boyd to announce in his reply to this question that it will not be to the advantage of any farmer who is not growing tobacco in 1933 to plant any tobacco. In this answer, I believe Mr. Hutson has assured us that the man who is cooperating to the extent of growing any tobacco in 1933 will be paid in a way that will make his payments comparable to those who are growing.

7. Should a farmer destroy any crops at the present time in order to which adjourned until tomorrow without taking any action on it.

WHEAT SITUATION

By Associated Press

A long-considered international venture in balancing the production and consumption of wheat may be one of the fruits of the world economic conference and a landmark in the history of concerted action among a group often called rugged individualists.

More progress towards such an idea has been made in the last week than in the last few years, with the United States, Canada, Argentina, and Australia having provisionally agreed to restrict production and systematize exports.

The next step is to obtain the cooperation of the smaller producers, including the Danubian countries and Poland, and after that the larger importing countries would be asked to agree to help by raising consumption and lowering import barriers.

Among the latter the United Kingdom and Italy have indicated acquiescence, and France and Germany have been asked to cooperate. These countries have embarked on various plans of their own recently to protect wheat growers.

America's Position

For American and Canadian farmers the project has lost some of its significance because of a current cut in predicted production, due to such factors as drought, but in many quarters it is hailed as an effort, looking mostly to the future, to prevent a recurrence of what to many wheat growers was a tragedy.

Wheat pools in western Canadian provinces, which have favored acreage reduction schemes for eliminating large world carryovers, are turning their attention to a wheat export quota plan, based on an international agreement, with the establishment of national marketing boards in each of the principal exporting countries.

Said George W. Robertson, secretary of the Saskatchewan wheat pool: "The wheat pool has conferred with President Mitchell of the Civil Service Commission.

The new order will require applicants to answer a questionnaire prepared by the Civil Service Commission, and the commission will require substantially written tests now required of candidates for third class offices.

Rated in Washington. The questionnaires will be rated in Washington by the commission, which will verify a list of eligibles to the postmaster general.

The postmaster general in turn will submit to the President the name of one of the highest three for appointment. The commission, however, has the authority to reject "the name of any person or persons so certified if he shall find that such person or persons is disqualified, in which event the commission shall upon request of the postmaster general complete the certificate of three names."

This clause in the executive order gives Parley virtually blanket authority to reject any of those certified by the commission.

Appointments are expected to be made just as soon as examinations can be held and ratings given various candidates.

This probably will be within the next few weeks.

INTRODUCING MELROSE CIGAR IN MANCHESTER

The Instate Cigar Company of Rockville is introducing their new Melrose cigar into Manchester. The Melrose is a popular priced cigar and its quality is held in the slogan "Thirty Minutes of Smokers Delight." The cigar is hand made by expert cigar makers with imported Havana filler and Connecticut grown wrappers and binders.

The tobacco used is all fine quality and to insure proper curing is aged at least four years. Many of the leading cigar stands in Manchester have already found the Melrose to be a new favorite.

Under the new charter provisions of the Ninth district consequent on consolidation a new district committee of seven members takes the place of the former committee dealing with the affairs of schools, recreation and library. The new committee will manage recreational and library affairs only. The members elected at last night's meeting were: One, Edward J. Lowrey, and John H. Hyde, both members of the old committee; two, Miss Emily Cheney, Edward F. Taylor and Philip Cheney, Miss Cheney being a new member; three, Mrs. Miss Mary Cheney and Clarence Martin, the latter a new comer.

Miss Cheney Named

Mr. Martin and Rev. Mr. Woodruff had been nominated when it was observed by some of the voters that the name of Miss Mary Cheney had not been proposed. Miss Cheney was named in the Ninth district committee work for many years. It appears that some sort of understanding had been arrived at, at her request, whereby she would retire from actual membership in the committee and devote her entire supervisory activities connected with the library would be delegated to her. This, however, was not understood by the voters and Miss Cheney was placed in nomination for the three year term. This necessitated the defeat of one of the nominees. On the poll Miss Cheney received 45 votes, Mr. Martin 34 and Mr. Woodruff 25, resulting in the latter's displacement. Mr. Woodruff has been an active member of the old committee for a long time.

Other Officers

Charles R. Hathaway, who has long been treasurer and clerk of the district was re-elected without opposition to both offices. James J. Seaman were chosen as auditors. The district tax collector is now appointed by the committee and J. Leo Fay is slated to be retained in that capacity. His report for the last year shows a 93 per cent collection of district taxes.

Recreation Report

The report of recreation activities showed an increase in membership of the district from 1,900 in the year ending to economies effected by the committee, including a slight reduction in salaries.

ARMY BUILDINGS NEXT ON PROGRAM

Washington, July 13.—(AP)—With about $66,000,000 already definitely allocated to Federal construction out of the $330,000,000 public works fund, the Cabinet Board in charge of the program turned today its consideration of War Department estimates of more than a half billion dollars for Army construction and river and harbor improvements.

Allocation of the $66,000,000 which was approved yesterday by President Roosevelt will be released for publication tomorrow afternoon, but the detailed projects will not be announced because they are subject to revision by the departments concerned.

More than $40,000,000 of the $66,000,000 is for Boulder Dam and other reclamation projects. Most of the balance is for Agriculture Department improvements.

The announcement tomorrow also will include a list of projects for which about $1,000,000 is to be advanced to municipalities for water works and sewer improvements. The allocation of $90,000 in road funds between National parks, National forests and Indian reservations also will be given.

Cover Every State

Officials of the public works administration said the projects authorized cover every state and territory.

The Cabinet Board also sought today to speed up organization of regional administrators and advisors to handle advances to states and local governmental units for non federal public works.

Colonel H. M. Waite, assistant public works administrator, was directed to draw up a plan for dividing the nation into 10 or 12 regions for each of which a regional administrator will be appointed by President Roosevelt. Each state will have an advisory board of three members to recommend projects to the regional administrator.

The bulk of local projects, expected to be financed out of the public works fund, must await organization of this regional system. The municipal projects approved by the board yesterday were not required to wait upon this organization because they already had been approved by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Heads of Various State Departments Say That Classifications Are Unfair.

Hartford, July 13.—(AP)—The office of the state comptroller when the state board of finance and control holds its weekly meetings today was not much unlike the annual meeting of state executives. Heads of various departments and commissions were at the office long before the meeting was scheduled to begin, the purpose of their visit being to protest at what they considered flagrant inequalities in the classification of positions within the state government, recently completed.

A roll had been called among those who would have responded before the three members of the Public Utilities Commission, Richard T. Higgins, chairman; Joseph W. Alsop and Edwin L. Taylor; of the Welfare Commission, and Secretary W. H. P. Squires of that commission; Commissioner of Motor Vehicles M. A. Connor, Commissioner of Child Welfare Kenneth B. Mason; Dr. E. L. Leek, superintendent of the Connecticut state hospital at Middletown; Roy L. McLaughlin, superintendent of the Connecticut School for Boys at Meriden; Quartermaster Robert P. Gadd, and others. In addition, a communication was received from Miss Caroline De F. Penniman, superintendent of the Long Lane Farm at Middletown.

Ricky Anderson, assistant pro at the Manchester Country Club, toured the local golf course yesterday afternoon in 67, three strokes under par breaking the course record this year and setting a score that will be difficult to beat now that the new long holes are open for play.

Fine Putting Ricky's putter was working magic all the way around the course. With a lost ball on the dog-leg sixth he came in with his par four just the same, dropping a putt from 25 feet back.

Anderson was playing in a threesome, the other players being Earl Ballester and Ray Bowers. His hole-by-hole scores follow:

CHICAGOS CLIMB INTO 2ND PLACE IN THE NATIONAL

Cubs Stretch Winning Streak to Seven Straight by Victory Over the Dodgers.

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR., A. P. Sports Writer

The champion Chicago Cubs who haven't been attracting a great deal of attention this season, have unaccountably climbed into second place in the National League.

The Cubs extended their current winning streak to seven straight yesterday with a 5-3 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers, who haven't won a game at Wrigley Field since last year.

The Giants meanwhile shook off their streak of bad fielding as Hal Schumacher presented them another six hit pitching performance and they defeated St. Louis 6-0 in their own ballpark and to shove the Cardinals down into third place.

Regular Sluggers The Pittsburgh Pirates interrupted Boston's winning ways by taking a ten inning slugfest, 9-8 on Wednesday after the Braves had slugged out all their runs in the ninth inning.

The Cincinnati Reds after a day in the National League cellar, climbed out again by defeating the Phillies 4-1 behind Larry Benton's seventh hit fling.

Washington's Senators held their place two games ahead of the New York Yankees in the American League race when good pitching netted each team a victory.

The Boston Red Sox moved a step nearer the top of the second division by outpointing the Detroit Tigers 1-0 in 11 innings.

Mrs. Hurd, Edith Quiet To Clash in Semi-Final

Eastern Point, Conn., July 13. —Ketrick of Deal, N. J., won only one hole and was defeated by a 4 and 3 count. Miss Quet, on the other hand, fairly burned up the course.

Both Misses Bragaw and Miss Brooks had hard matches in the quarter finals but the former played impressively in eliminating Jane Broadwell of Springfield, Mass., the medalist, 4 and 3, and Helen Waterhouse of Providence, young Rhode Island state champion, 3 and 1 in yesterday's two matches.

Mrs. Hurd, still playing below her best form, went through the quarter finals without much trouble yesterday despite a 42 on the first nine. Her opponent, Mrs. Herbert

THE GREEN ANSWERS Sports Editor, Manchester Herald, Dear Sir—

The Manchester Green Baseball Club would very much appreciate your publication of certain statements made by us, and protested in your columns by Mr. Enrico of the Sub-Alpines.

The statements referred to are, that the Sub-Alpines were defeated by the East Hartford Red Sox, and that the Green never let a team defeat them twice in succession. We plead guilty to having made the first statement, we made it in good faith, and without malice, merely repeating what had been stated to us by Mr. Flanagan, manager of the East Hartford team, when he solicited the game played last Sunday. If Mr. Flanagan was in error, we are sorry indeed to have repeated his statement. The other statement, relative to the Green team refusing to permit a team to defeat them twice in succession, appears to have been slightly misconstrued by Mr. Enrico. It is true that Manager Hublard did declare that the "Green just can't be licked twice by the same team", and he meant it, but this statement was made several weeks ago. If Mr. Enrico will note the trouble we stated and true to Manager Hublard's declaration, no team has defeated the Green even once since, and no team, including the Sub-Alpines, is going to defeat them if clean, hard work on the Green's part can prevent it. If Mr. Enrico thirats for information, may we remind him that the Green have this season twice defeated the Pioneers, who handed the Sub-Alpines a beautiful trimming a few weeks ago.

However, a most satisfactory settlement of any differences of opinion that may exist, would be by way of a game between the Green and the Sub-Alpines, and to that end, Manager Hublard would be glad indeed to pit the Green against the Sub-Alpines, any place, any time, for money, marbles or chalk.

Sincerely yours, JOSEPH HUBLARD, JR. Ass't. Manager, Manchester Green Baseball Club.

SENSE and NONSENSE

Men only know you by what you DO, never by what you can do.

Young Girl—Yes! I feel an intense longing to do something for others.

Friend—Just whom do you mean by others?

Young Girl—Well, I suppose almost anybody outside of my immediate family.

New Washerwoman—How many are there in your family, Missus?

Mrs. Newday—Oh, I have six children, but they are all girls and grown up, so the wash will be very light.

Most attractive permanent doughnuts can be made of old curtain rings. Cover with brown plush and sprinkle each morning with talcum powder to resemble sugar. Now ain't that sumphin'?

There were two Browns in the village, both fishermen. One lost his wife, and the other his boat about the same time. The new minister's wife called, as she supposed, upon the widower, but really upon the Brown whose boat had broken down.

Minister's Wife—I'm sorry to hear of your loss.

Brown—Oh, it ain't much matter, she was never up to much.

Minister's Wife—Indeed!

Brown—Yes, she was a richety old thing. I offered her to my mate, but he wouldn't have her. I've had my eye on another for some time. And then the horrified woman fed.

Wife—It shows courage for a woman to wear one of these new evening gowns.

Husband—Yeah? And that ain't all it shows, either.

Judy—Bob says our engagement must be a secret.

Elizabeth—And when do you get the ring?

Judy—That also seems to be a secret.

The man who doesn't vote, finds the most fault and talks the loudest after the votes are counted.

Mrs. Higgins—My old man hasn't done a day's work for years.

Mrs. Higgins—Ain't this unemployment dreadful?

Mrs. Higgins—Who said he was unemployed? He's a night watchman.

You may lose your money and in some way find some to take its place. You may even lose the shirt from your back and earn another, but when you lose confidence in an individual or an organization, you have lost something that can never be returned to you.

Ralph—Poor David; he has just joined the "silent majority." Peter—What do you mean? He hasn't died, has he?

Ralph—No, but he's just got married.

A comedian is a person who goes through a radio hour on other people's jokes.

Late at night the landlord of some flats was awakened by a tenant. Tenant—Can the landlord interfere when a woman in the third floor flat quarrels with her husband and disturbs the neighbors at night? Landlord—You are the neighbor? Tenant—No, I am the husband.

CLOSING REMARKS—Temptation is the balance in which character is weighed. The best way to convince a girl that man are not angels is to let her marry one. It would seem from recent news accounts that the country is preparing to emerge from the emergency. Garters are back at 'hair old job of holding up stockings instead of traffic. SEEKS OTHER'S WAGES, STARTS FIST FIGHT

William Leone of This Town Commits Assault in Bolton and Is Arrested, Fined.

William A. Leone, 17, of 165 Birch street, Manchester, was fined $5 and costs by Justice of the Peace Lewis D. Eaton of Bolton this morning on the charge of assault. According to the complaint the assault was made upon Emilio Brochetto of Bolton yesterday morning and reported to Constable Myron Lee of Bolton later in the day. The constable came to Manchester at 7:30 and asked that Leone be picked up and arrested.

At that time the constable had no warrant and was advised by Sergeant John McGinn to first secure one and he would then be given assistance. Constable Lee returned to Bolton, secured a warrant signed by Grand Juror James Connors and Justice of the Peace Eaton and came back to Manchester two hours later when Leone was placed under arrest. His father furnished a bond for his appearance in the Bolton Justice Court this morning.

The evidence as produced in the court by Grand Juror Connors was to the effect that Leone went to Bolton yesterday morning and called upon Mr. Brochetto and asked that he pay due another boy for picking strawberries be turned over to him so that he might bring the money to the boy. There were words and Mr. Brochetto promised to bring the pay to the boy or the boy's father. It was then, the court was told, that Leone struck the blow for which the arrest was made.

VEHICLE SHOW ATTRACTS CROWD

Several Hundred See Youngsters Exhibit Their Cleverest Ideas.

Several hundred persons witnessed the vehicle show held at the East Side Playground last night. This is the first event to be held on the East Side this season and by the number that turned out for it, there will be several more. The prizes were given to the winners of the contest to Kenneth Chadwick for the funniest vehicle with a well decorated beer wagon. The prize for the most original went to Calvin Edwards, with a vehicle decorated to represent a taxi. The prize for the best decorated boy's vehicle, went to Howard Wilson, with a bicycle trimmed in green and white. The prettiest vehicle for girls went to little Barbara Hanson, with a doll carriage trimmed in pink and white. The judges of this event were: Miss Elizabeth Washewich, James O'Leary, and Peter Hapenny.

Much credit was given to the two directors, Miss Dorothy Hanson and Walter Holland for the success of the affair. The next weekly event will be held next Wednesday night at the West Side in the form of Rockville night and a band concert.

MEMBERS OF ORCHESTRA HONOR TRUMAN COWLES

Recent High School Graduate Given Party by "Squat's Melodiers" Yesterday.

Truman Cowles, son of Mrs. Ethel Cowles of Woodland street, was tendered a pleasant surprise yesterday afternoon by his associate players in Squat's Melodiers, a musical organization of 15 young folks organized about a year ago by former director Lewis Lloyd of the Recreation Center. Since Mr. Lloyd left town Miss Margie Squatrito has assumed the management, and was the promoter of the party yesterday which was held at Columbus lake.

Truman is spending several weeks with friends in Lebanon and his mother who was there for the day, suggested they motor over to the lake. The youth was considerably surprised to find the party was in his honor, and expressed his pleasure when later Miss Squatrito in behalf of his friends presented him with a pen and pencil set. Swimming, boating and a hot dog roast passed a happy afternoon for all hands.

Truman Cowles was graduated from Manchester High school in June and won a scholarship to Northeastern University, Boston, which he plans to enter in September.

MILKMEN MEET NEXT THURSDAY

Incorrect Date Carried in News Item of The Herald Yesterday Afternoon.

The meeting of the Milk Control Board to consider several problems before the industry will be held in the Hall of the House at the State Capitol next week Thursday and not today as was wrongly stated in a news item in The Herald yesterday. The copy of publicity sent to The Herald was blurred and it was difficult to read the date. As a result the wrong date was mentioned. The correct time for the meeting is two o'clock next Thursday afternoon at the State Capitol.

Miss Marie Scrivens of Hilltown Road left yesterday for a few days visit with friends in East Haven.

TO GIVE BOLTON'S NEW PASTOR A RECEPTION

Party at Quarryville Methodist Church Tomorrow Evening—Informal Program.

Rev. John W. Carter, the new pastor of the Quarryville Methodist church, near Bolton Lake, and Mrs. Carter, will be tendered a reception by the congregation tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. An informal program of vocal and instrumental music and speeches by ministers from the surrounding churches will be given, and refreshments served by the Ladies Aid society of the church.

Rev. Carter at the Southern New England conference of the Methodist Episcopal church last month was appointed to have charge of the Methodist church in East Hartford and the one at Quarryville. He conducts services each Sunday morning at the latter church at 9:30 and East Hartford at 11 o'clock. Dr. David Carter pastor of the Federated church at Wapping is a son. The last pastorate of Rev. John W. Carter was at Jewett City where he was stationed for ten years. This is the charge to which Rev. L. Theron French formerly of the North Methodist church was recently transferred by the conference. The senior Carters make their home at 46 Clmated street, East Hartford.

SONS OF ITALY HALL AVAILABLE FOR PARTIES

Has Large Fine Floor for Dancing—Is Within Town and Has Beautiful Location.

Giuseppe Mazzini Lodge No. 907, Sons of Italy, announce elsewhere in today's Herald that their hall, built less than two years ago will be available for outings or picnic parties, on application to the house committee, of which Michael Benvenuto is chairman.

The hall is built on a hill on of Blackmatta street. It has an excellent floor for dancing, accommodating 150 or more, with tables to seat a like number, kitchen facilities for making coffee or lemonade, tables and benches under the shade of the trees. Keeney street is high, with a fine view of the surrounding country. The run out there takes but a short time: by automobile and clubs and organizations frequently desire a change of location for their outings.

The recently organized societies of Junior Sons and Daughters of Italy have had their institution ceremonies at this hall, and several dancing parties. The house committee will have a meeting tomorrow night at 8 o'clock at the hall.

Here's Something to Think About! The public buys more Goodyear Tires than any other kind—this is the eighteenth successive year . . . The public wouldn't buy more Goodyear Tires if Goodyears did not offer greater value . . . But they do offer greater value, hence they enjoy greater sales . . . Are you wondering what tire to buy? Just ask yourself this simple question: "Why should I buy any tire but a Goodyear when a Goodyear costs no more?" . . . We think you'll decide it by coming right down to see us.

ARE YOU WONDERING WHAT TIRE IS BEST ?

GOOD YEAR THE CENTER of the tread right where it contacts the road—big bulky blocks of rubber—keen-edged, deep-slotted—to dig in, grip tight, hold fast!
