Silk and Rayon Industry Operates Under Cotton Textile Code Until August 19—Works Council Told of Changes Late This Afternoon.

Cheney Brothers late this afternoon announced to the Works Council that effective today the hourly rate of all employees on the payroll will be increased 10 cents per hour and the minimum guarantee earnings on any operative will not be less than $3.25 per hour except as exempted by the Cotton Textile Industry code...

Cheney Brothers further announced that full rate of gain over task will be paid to bonus operatives with a limited gain for certain operations. The bonus will be reduced to 10 per cent for all operations except weaving.

All operatives in the Cheney plant will be limited to 40 hours per week with the exception of operatives in the Velvet, Dyeing, Printing, Finishing and Cravat departments, in which departments hours will soon be established by supplementary codes.

The undersigned divisions of the Silk Association of America, Inc., engaged in the silk and rayon industry pending the approval of the code of fair competition for the industry hereby agree among themselves and with the President of the United States pursuant to section four of the National Industrial Recovery Act...

On and after the effective date, the minimum wage that shall be paid by employers in the silk and rayon industry to any of their employees—except learners during a six weeks' apprenticeship, cleaners and outside employees—shall be at the rate of $12 per week when employed in the southern section of the industry and at the rate of $13 (Continued On Page Two)

TEXTILE WORKERS ON 40 HOUR WEEK

Nearly Million Men and Women Get Wages Lifted to Level of 1929.

Washington, July 17.—(AP)—For nearly a million men and women the depression is as good as ended today, their wages suddenly lifted back to the purchasing level of better days by voluntary co-operation of industry with government.

Textile workers all over the north and south went back to their mills this morning on a 40-hour work-week schedule at rates of pay intended to give them the purchasing power of 1929.

Real Living Wage In steel mills, labor today is earning 15 per cent more than last week, a boost back to the level of 1929. In other industries which have submitted or soon will present their codes of fair competition, the promise of a real living wage to workers is near realization.

This is the fruit of work by Hugh S. Johnson and his aides told of by President Roosevelt to administer the industrial control plan of the National Recovery Law, main spring of his program for restoring prosperity.

The new quick step of business showed into the background a plan of Johnson's for issuing a call to all business to raise wages and create jobs by cutting hours of employees. It was discussed yesterday on the Presidential yacht Sequoia by the President and his administrators, but the ultimate decision was put off.

300 EMPLOYEES ADDED AT SILK MILLS IN 30 DAYS

Business Trend Steadily Upward—Cheney Plant Now Has 2,500 Workers On Job Steadily.

An increase of 300 employees within the past 30 days was reported by Cheney Brothers today. The business trend which has been maintained steadily upward during the past two months has had the gratifying effect of placing approximately seven per cent more employees at work throughout practically all departments of the local silk industry. There are at present 2,500 employees at work in the Cheney plant.

TALK OF CLOSING PARLEY FOR GOOD

Such Little Enthusiasm Displayed That London Meeting May Not Be Revived.

London, July 17.—(AP)—The leaders of the world economic conference have decided after a long and solemn consideration that too many cooks spoil the broth. Unless they change this view the conference, which will take a recess July 27, will not be reconvened in its entirety.

There is a growing feeling, in which at least some of the American delegates are taking part, that the conference as now constituted is so unwieldy it blocks its own progress. If and when it is brought into being again—in Washington, London, Geneva or elsewhere—its numbers will be whittled down so that it will not take a census expert to keep track of the sub-committees of sub-committees of committees appointed by the sub-commissions of the commissions.

The Next Parley Thus far none of the conference heads has ventured an opinion on when or where the parley can be re-assembled. The matter was discussed in the steering committee and Mr. MacDonald, president of the conference, also talked it over with the British Cabinet.

It is understood that the British do not intend to try to give any new lead which would protect the semblance beyond the date set for the recess.

Little Enthusiasm Many of those attached to the conference are so apathetic about it that even the British government hospitality committee cannot arouse enthusiasm for free excursions and other functions.

Last Saturday this committee arranged to take a large number of delegates and experts to see the ancient university city of Oxford. There had been many acceptances for this trip and the committee chartered a special train. Fifteen people finally turned up to visit the seat of learning—about two for each passenger coach.

A similar thing happened in connection with an excursion to the royal agricultural show at Drize, which is one of England's prize exhibitions.

THREE ARE KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Car, After Collision, Drops 75 Feet from Top of Cliff—Other Accidents.

By ASSOCIATED PRESS Five persons lost their lives in accidents in Connecticut over the week-end. Three of them were killed yesterday as the automobile they were in toppled over the edge of a cliff to the ground 75 feet below, while the others died from injuries received in accidents Saturday.

Those killed in the automobile accident were Frances Bares, 12, her father, Salvatore Bares and Carmine Diglio, all of New Haven. Nine persons were injured in the same accident and another which followed it as some of the injured were being removed to a hospital in New Haven.

John Gabinski, 50, of Waterbury, died from a fractured skull he received as he fell against the side of his bed in his home, while James Conrad, Jr., 20, of New London, was fatally injured as a 400 pound stone fell against him in a quarry along the Thames river.

Cars Collide The New Haveners were killed on the eight mile hill at Northford late Sunday afternoon, as the automobile they were in and one operated by Alfred Steiner of North Bergen, N. J., collided.

The Bares car which contained seven persons, four of them children, plunged through a guard fence and fell to the bottom of the cliff. The automobile landed on its top. Bares who was at the wheel, was killed instantly as his neck was broken. Diglio, who sat beside him, died as he was being taken to the New Haven hospital with a fractured skull, fractured pelvis and internal injuries, while the girl, Frances, died a few minutes after she was admitted to the Grace hospital. Her chest was crushed.

The others, although they were in the car, as it fell, escaped with minor injuries, with the exception of Anna Matti, 8, who has internal injuries.

Windsor, Ont., July 17.—(AP)—Mrs. Annie Brookbanks, 43, set fire under the beds of her three sleeping children early today, Windsor authorities said, and then soaked her clothing in kerosene and ignited it. She was critically burned.

The children were uninjured. They are Hilda, 13, and Billie and Duncan, 10-year-old twins. Investigators asserted the children were awakened by the smell of smoke. They declared the mother shut herself in the kitchen and there set fire to her clothes. Then she ran screaming from the house, disabling the wireless, so aid could not be summoned. What caused the fire has not been determined.

Other Man Killed The only other fatality was George R. Binniger of Indianapolis, Ind., a welder, who was trapped by a bursting steam pipe and killed. Survivors were brought here yesterday by the ship which picked them up—the Tanker Gulf Gem and the Steamer Trimountain.

LITHUANIAN FLIERS DIE IN CRASH IN GERMANY

Gas Tank Empty They Mistake Treetops for Meadow During Storm—Bodies Badly Mangled.

Soldin, Pomerania, Germany, July 17.—(AP)—The airplane Lithuanians, in which Stephen Darus and Stanley Girens were attempting a non-stop flight from New York to Lithuania, crashed early today near Kuldamm and both fliers were killed.

Kuldamm is five miles south of Soldin. The plane was discovered in a forest. The bodies of the airmen were found by a local farmer who heard the crash about seven o'clock this morning but the actual discovery of the ship was not made until a few hours later.

A party of aviators and police officials left immediately from Berlin for Soldin.

Soldin is situated on a lake of the same name near the border line of the two Prussian provinces of Neumark and Pomerania. Police surmised that the aviators in attempt to land on the water (Continued On Page Six)

CREW OF TANKER IS BACK IN PORT

36 Survivors of the Cities Service Petrol Give Details of Sea Tragedy.

Charleston, S. C., July 17.—(AP)—Survivors of a stirring drama of the seas, 36 members of the crew of the Cities Service Petrol, were back in port today.

Arrangements were being made to send home 34 of the men, who were aboard the tanker which caught fire off the North Carolina coast Friday and sank 14 hours later. Two other members of the crew, William J. Emsley, of Somerset, Mass., second assistant engineer, and Messman John J. Sandow, of Newark, N. J., who were badly injured, are receiving hospital treatment.

Survivors explained how Captain F. L. Sears, of Dennis, Mass., who was reported to have refused to leave the ship, lost his life. He stayed aboard as long as he thought there was a possibility the ship would remain afloat, they said, and arranged to flash a light when he left.

A light was seen as the tanker was sinking, presumably his signal, but efforts to find the officer failed. Members of the crew said he went down with $8,000 in cash, money belonging to the ship and to men aboard.

Other Man Killed The only other fatality was George R. Binniger of Indianapolis, Ind., a welder, who was trapped by a bursting steam pipe and killed.

Survivors were brought here yesterday by the ship which picked them up—the Tanker Gulf Gem and the Steamer Trimountain.

A terrific explosion, first made August 4, Harlan said, was the first notice of the fire and the shock disabled the wireless, so aid could not be summoned. What caused the fire has not been determined.

Captain Sears refused to leave the vessel, although he told all others to "take their clothes," Harlan said. The burning oil could be seen for miles and that night the Gulf Gem and the Trimountain picked up the men in boats and nine men who had remained aboard the Cities Service Petrol.

San Diego, Calif., July 17.—(AP)—Vigilance and secrecy prevailed today at the home of Pascual Ortiz Rubio, former Mexican president, who informed police Saturday he had received two telephone messages since July 7 demanding $50,000 on the threat of kidnaping.

There will be no kidnaping," Police Chief Harry Raymond said. "We have detailed me to the case, and we are taking every precaution. There are no known gangsters in the city and none can get in."

Two men were added to Ortiz Rubio's private guard and the house in an exclusive district, is surrounded day and night by armed men and police dogs.

Ortiz Rubio, his wife and three children returned to their home yesterday after spending a day following the receipt of the second threat, in seclusion elsewhere.

Ortiz Rubio came here last September after relinquishing the Mexican presidency to Abelardo Rodriguez because of poor health.

Is 13 Hours and Two Minutes Ahead of Record on Round World Trip—Two Lithuanian Fliers Killed in Crash in Pomerania, Germany, 400 Miles from Their Goal.

By ASSOCIATED PRESS Wiley Post, making a solo flight around the world, left Moscow for Siberia today 13 hours and two minutes ahead of the time he and Harold Gatty made to that point two years ago.

On that flight, which established a record which still stands, Post and Gatty stayed 50 hours and 30 minutes in Moscow. Today Post stayed there only two hours and 50 minutes, taking off for Novo-Sibirsk at 9:12 a. m. e. s. t.

When he left Moscow he was 53 hours and two minutes out of New York, which he left Saturday. When Post and Gatty left Moscow they were 66 hours and four minutes out of New York.

As Post was pushing on around the world from his last stop in Germany Stephen Darus and Stanley Girens, who left New York Saturday on a projected non-stop flight to Lithuania, crashed in Pomerania and were killed.

Post landed at Moscow at 6:20 a. m. e. s. t. today, 50 hours and 10 minutes after leaving New York. Two years ago it took him and Harold Gatty 84 hours and 4 minutes to reach Moscow on the flight which established the world record which still stands.

General Italo Balbo and his 24 Italian seaplanes which crossed from Italy to Chicago, received a roaring reception yesterday and are resting today.

OFF FOR SIBERIA Moscow, July 17.—(AP)—Wiley Post, American round-the-world solo flier, landed here from Koenigsberg, Germany, this afternoon, and a few hours later soared eastward on the 1,818-mile journey to Novo-Sibirsk in Siberia.

The most perfect possible weather conditions prevailed from Moscow as far as the Ural mountains. Local weather officials, who gave the airmen full meteorological information before he left, said it was probable that the present cloudiness between the Urals and Novo-Sibirsk would clear up before he reached that area.

Post refused a chance to snob a few minutes' sleep at the Moscow Airport that he might speed up mechanics working on his plane.

It was 5:12 p. m. (9:12 a. m. e. s. t.) when the American flier started the Novo-Sibirsk leg of his journey. He had been in Moscow 2 hours and 52 minutes.

Gets a Shave When he sped away from the Soviet capital a more than 48-hour growth of beard had accumulated from his face, as he spent fifteen minutes of his short stay here in the airport barber shop.

Post said that he experienced great difficulty with his mechanical pilot from the beginning of his flight from New York and he was therefore compelled to drive his ship manually the entire distance.

Difficulties with the robot were blamed for forcing the American flier a hundred miles off his course between Koenigsberg and Moscow and they were also said to be the chief reason why he landed at the East Prussian capital last night.

Post's Big Breaks The robot trouble combined with a break in the oil feed induced Post to land at Moscow, he said. He hoped he had put everything in excellent order here before he departed.

Russian officials were concerned at Post's small appetite and urged more food on him but the American declined, saying: "I eat only enough to keep from weakening myself. I purposely stay hungry so I can keep awake."

The American aviator had his two thermos bottles filled with boiled water just before taking off for Siberia.

The Oklahoma man will make the remainder of his globe circling flight without a change of clothing, having forgotten and left behind at Koenigsberg his suitcase, his only piece of baggage. Airport officials at Koenigsberg telephoned that the suitcase would be forwarded to Moscow by the regular commercial air service but Post replied, "I can't wait for it. Just have it sent home for me," and soared away without a clean shirt.

ARRIVES AT MOSCOW Moscow, July 17.—(AP)—Wiley Post, American aviator, landed here at 2:30 p. m. Moscow time (6:30 a. m. e. s. t.) today.

ITALIAN FLIERS ARE RESTING NOW

Have Strenuous Sunday—To Visit Mayor of Chicago This Afternoon.

Chicago, July 17.—(AP)—Weary from a continuous round of festivities, General Italo Balbo and his 24 Italian seaplanes faced a curtailed program today.

Completing the last leg of their 6,100-mile flight from Italy in a hop from Montreal that ended Saturday evening when they set their seaplanes down on Lake Michigan, the airmen instantly became the heroes of the Nation's second largest city and were treated as such.

It was early yesterday morning before they were privileged to retire to the privacy of the rooms reserved for them in the Drake hotel for a much needed sleep and rest.

And then they were up again in a few hours for another day of activities that began with a two-hour thanksgiving mass, during the whole of which they stood at attention, in Holy Name Cathedral, and ended with a banquet that extended far into the night last night.

President's Message As the banquet opened a message of congratulation from President Roosevelt was read by Chairman John A. Starbuck.

"Please express to General Balbo and his intrepid companions of his fight my great admiration for their achievement, and my warmest congratulations on the success of their exploit," the President wired.

Their accomplishment, characterized by careful preparation and scientific skill, marks an important step in the progress of the conquest of the air. They are most welcome visitors.

As finally arranged, the men were given this morning to rest in their hotel, to appear later for a visit to the office of Mayor Edward J. Kelly in the City Hall. Their plans also called for an inspection of the new Columbus statue in Grant Park, and a call at the Indian village at a Century of Progress to witness General Balbo's induction into the Sioux Tribe as a chief and a blood brother to Chief Blackhorn.

TO VISIT PRESIDENT Chicago, July 17.—(AP)—General Italo Balbo accepted today an invitation to visit President Roosevelt at the White House late this week.

Postmaster General James A. Farley presented the President's invitation while the Italian air minister was paying an official call at the City Hall.

The capital city, however, probably will be the last stop on the trip.

Other Man Killed The only other fatality was George R. Binniger of Indianapolis, Ind., a welder, who was trapped by a bursting steam pipe and killed.

POST LEAVES MOSCOW ON FLIGHT TO SIBERIA

Weather reports indicated that after he passed the rain storm he braved at the time of his departure he had fair flying conditions the rest of the way.

Post and Gatty had an elapsed time of 54 hours and 34 minutes when they reached Moscow.

Post made the trip from Koenigsberg to Moscow in 5 hours and 30 minutes and had therefore an elapsed time of 50 hours and 10 minutes on his arrival in the Soviet capital.

He was behind the schedule he had arranged for himself, but was 4 hours and 24 minutes ahead of the speed he made with Gatty.

Post climbed out stiffly as his plane taxied to a halt. He swayed from exhaustion after his feet touched the ground.

He explained his landing in Koenigsberg by saying that his automatic pilot and other instruments were functioning unsatisfactorily and he feared he might lose his way.

PORTUGAL ACCEPTS INVITATION OF U. S.

To Enter Trade Agreement Together With Sweden, Columbia and Brazil.

Washington, July 17.—(17)—Portugal today accepted the invitation to enter into negotiations with the United States for a trade agreement.

This completed the list of five powers invited to open negotiations for reciprocal trade betterment relations. The others are Argentina, Sweden, Colombia and Brazil.

None has fixed a definite date for the opening discussions. These will probably begin within two or three weeks.

These invitations extended by the United States are in conformity with President Roosevelt's determination to extend American trade through bilateral agreements.

Members of the American delegation at the London conference as well as State Department officials here in Washington have been conferring with representatives of various foreign powers paying the way.

Ambassador Welles at Havana has been working on a trade agreement with Cuba for some time and Warren Delano Robbins, the new minister to Canada who will leave for his post at Ottawa late this week, will begin informal discussions with the Canadian government.

The undersigned represent a major part of the combined capacity of all plants engaged in the rayon industry of the United States.

These plants have authorized the execution thereof together with the provisions of Seven A of the National Industrial Recovery Act, as follows:

"Every code of fair competition, agreement, and license approved, prescribed, or issued under this title shall contain the following conditions:

"That employees shall have the right to organize and bargain collectively through representatives of their own choosing, and shall be free from interference, restraint, or coercion of employers of labor, or their agents, in the designation of such representatives or in self-organization or in other concerted activities for the purpose of collective bargaining or other mutual aid or protection; that no employee shall be required as a condition of employment to join any company union or to refrain from joining, organizing, or assisting a labor organization of his own choosing; that no employer shall discriminate in hiring, tenure of employment, or other conditions of employment, approved or prescribed by the President.

"All mills operating three shifts on broad and narrow fabrics at the present time shall be required to operate on a four shift basis by July 17, 1933.

"FIVE OTHER MILLS. New Haven, July 17.—(AP)—Two elastic webbing plants, two in Connecticut started operations today under the cotton textile code adopted to conform to the National Industrial Recovery act.

Officers of the American mills association are working on their elastic webbing factory at Allington will be doubled, bringing the number of operatives to about 200.

Two shifts of 40 hours a week each started work at the minimum wage rate of 32-1 cent an hour.

J. M. McErmott, general manager of the Montgomery company, specialty mills in Windsor Locks, said he had been unable to determine if adoption of the code would result in increased employment here.

With a view of keeping the President informed as to the observance or non-observance of this code of fair competition, and as to whether the silk and rayon industry is taking appropriate steps to effectuate the declared policy of the National Industrial Recovery Act, each person engaged in the silk and rayon industry will furnish duly certified reports in substance as follows and in such form as may hereafter be provided:

Wages and Hours of Labor. Returns every four weeks showing actual hours worked by the various occupational groups of employees and minimum weekly rates of wages.

In the case of mills having no spinning spindles, returns every four weeks showing the number of looms actually operated each week, the number of shifts and the total number of loom hours each week.

In the case of mills that have spinning spindles and looms, returns every four weeks showing the number of spinning spindles and looms in place, the number of spinning spindles and looms actually operated each week, the number of shifts and the total number of spindle hours and loom hours each week.

Reports of Production, Stocks and Orders. Returns showing production in terms of the commonly used unit, i. e., linear yards, or pounds or pieces; stocks on hand both sold and unsold stated also in the same terms; and unfilled orders stated also in the same terms. These returns are to be confined to staple and broad divisions of silk and rayon textiles.

The Silk Association of America, Inc., 468 Fourth Avenue, New York City, is constituted the agency to collect and receive such reports.

The following provisions of the President's order approving the Cotton Textile Code:

LIQUOR RUNNERS ARE BUSY AGAIN

Coast Guard Considerably Crippled Because of Cut in Expenditures.

New London, July 17.—(AP)—With the Coast Guard crippled considerably by the decommissioning of small patrol vessels and destroyers in the interest of economy, rumrunners have increased their activity in waters patrolled by vessels from the Coast Guard bases here and to the eastward, it was learned today.

Particularly are the operations heavy to the eastward, about the Sakonnet river in Rhode Island, Martha's Vineyard, New Bedford and Newport.

When many of the Coast Guard's law enforcement feet was laid up recently, it was predicted that the higher ups in the rum industry would throw larger forces into action to bring liquor of high alcoholic content ashore and Coast Guard patrols have confirmed the prediction.

A number of supply vessels, with liquor from St. Pierre are now reported off shore and the recognized contact speedboats have been busy of late.

It was reported today that a Coast Guard patrol boat picked up the speed boat Arctis of Newport at Manhusset Bay, L. I., after a chase which began in the face of Long Island Sound. The point of seizure was at the westerly end of the Sound.

The Coast Guard reported when the Arctis was sighted, with appearance like those containing bottled liquor were piled on the deck, but none was found when the boat was seized and the Coast Guard, said the sacks evidently had been thrown overboard. She was brought into New York to answer charges of failing to stop when signaled and resisting arrest.

SMALL DAIRY FARMERS IN STATE, PROTESTING

Say They Are Getting Less for Their Milk Now Than Ever Before.

New Haven, July 17.—(AP)—Tobias Horner, Short Beach dairy farmer charged today that small dairy farmers are worse off now than they were a year ago.

Horner issued a statement that instead of receiving six cents a quart, the price set by the control commission, he was receiving only three cents a quart.

"The small milk producers are worse off today than they were two months ago," he said. "Since we were told we received a higher price for our milk from the dealers, the cost of grain has doubled, yet we are getting just the same for milk now as we did then."

Horner indicated that an indignation meeting of 14 milk producers in this section was held recently, and that they are considering naming a committee to carry their grievances to the state milk control commission.

EX-POSTMASTER FACES EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGE

Woodmont, July 17.—(AP)—Charles F. Farren, real-estate dealer and former postmaster at Woodmont, was arrested today on a bench warrant charging him with embezzlement of $8,000 in funds from the estate of the late Charles M. Holton of Woodmont of which he was administrator.

Farren was arraigned in New Haven Superior Court and released $5,000 bond for a hearing in the September term of Superior Court. He was arrested on complaint of the widow, Mrs. Holton, and Peter W. Gillett of Milford, present administrator of the estate.

It is alleged that Farren refused to turn over assets of the estate to Gillett and the Probate Court in Milford after he had been removed as administrator at Mrs. Holton's request.

EMERGENCY PAYROLL

The payroll of the M. E. E. A. for last week's labor as reported by the employment manager today will be $286,111, representing 129 checks. The total payroll of the past 33 weeks of the association is $7,593,16, which is approximately $1,500 less than was spent one year ago at the same time. The payroll now being made by the association consists of park department projects, north end playground and miscellaneous jobs.

MUST CONTROL SURPLUS

Hartford, July 17.—(AP)—Control of the milk surplus, so that milk producers may receive a reasonable profit when the product is sold at a reasonable price, is the chief problem before the recently organized milk board, said Olcott F. King, state commissioner of agriculture, in a speech here today. Conservation must be the farmers' motto until overproduction is checked. Commissioner King said that the plight of the farmer is largely due to the loans and credit given the farmers by political parties. "There must be a radical change in the manner in which the credit system is handled," the commissioner declared.

DIMOCK TAKES POST

Hartford, July 17.—(AP)—Senator Edwin R. Dimock of Merrow, the new Democratic commissioner of domestic affairs by virtue of appointment by Governor Cross, was at his desk today for the first time. A basket of roses adorned the commissioner's desk, the gift of friends in Tolland county. Commissioner Dimock came into state prominence at the last election when he carried the strongly Republican district for the Democrats and thus gave the party a margin of one vote in the State Senate and the majority.

JOSEPH HARRIMAN AGAIN DISAPPEARS

Banker Under Indictment Leaves Nursing Home - Alarm Sent Out by Police.

New York, July 17.—(AP)—(AP)—Joseph H. Harriman, under indictment for alleged alteration of the books of the Harriman National Bank and Trust Company, which is now in the hands of the Federal Reserve Board, was reported to have left the Regent Nursing Home today.

The aged banker took a taxicab to the Liberty street ferryhouse, and was seen by the driver of the car to enter the building, presumably to take a boat to the New Jersey side of the Hudson river.

Harriman disappeared from the nursing home, where he has been under treatment for months, by a service entrance a few minutes later, his absence was noticed by his nurse. The police immediately gave an alarm and the nursing home communicated with Col. William J. Donovan, Harriman's chief counsel, who in turn notified police and Federal authorities.

An alarm was broadcast for the taxicab, the number of which was noted by pedestrians and reported to police. Meanwhile Federal authorities notified guards to be on the lookout for the banker at all points in this city and along the Canadian border.

Police learned of the banker's trip to the ferryhouse through Walter Dunbar, driver of the taxicab, who was informed that he returned from his trip that an alarm had been broadcast for his cab.

Reporting immediately to Police, Dunbar said Harriman engaged his cab at 61st street and Lexington avenue, half a block from the nursing home, and ordered him to drive to the ferryhouse, stating he wanted to catch a train.

Appeared Normal. Dunbar said the banker appeared normal during the ride downtown, but had very little to say. Harriman gave Dunbar a 10-cent tip when he dismissed the cab. The driver waited only long enough to see the banker disappear into the ferryhouse, and then drove away.

Today's disappearance was Harriman's second from the nursing home. He first "slipped away" from the home May 19 last, and a few minutes after he was found the following day he stabbed himself over the heart.

Harriman's disappearance, however, was not serious, and he was able to return to the nursing home a short time later.

The indictment, returned by Federal Grand Jury, charged Harriman with making fourteen false entries in the books of the bank, involving more than $1,500,000. A subsequent indictment, in addition to charging falsification of the books of the bank, alleged Harriman has misappropriated funds of the institution.

An inquiry to determine the banker's mental fitness to stand trial has been under way in Federal Court for more than a week and was scheduled to be resumed today.

FARM-HOME WEEK BEGINS ON SUNDAY

Thousands of Connecticut Rural Folk to Gather at Storrs for Parleys.

The six-day annual Connecticut Farm and Home Week program, beginning Sunday, July 23 and terminating Friday, July 28, will bring together at Storrs thousands of Connecticut rural men and women who will take advantage of this opportunity to discuss problems of agriculture, home-making, and rural life...

Although the general session does not get under way until Monday morning, more than 100 women attending the Homemakers' Program will arrive at Storrs Sunday, and will participate in a special program that evening in the Community House.

The poultry program will also get off to a start on Monday morning, when the discussions will center around the problem of vaccinating against infectious bronchitis. This disease is considered by Connecticut poultrymen as one of the most severe and difficult to control.

The dairy and agronomy program will be conducted on Tuesday and Wednesday. In arranging these sessions emphasis has been placed on under diseases, current economic problems, and pasture and home-grown crops.

The Wednesday rural taxation and credit conferences will provide for discussion by rural citizens and tax authorities of the significant problems in this important department of public business.

The forestry program will be held Wednesday and will stage one of the most popular features of Farm and Home Week, the adult and junior state championship wood chopping contests.

One of the fullest days on the entire Farm and Home Week program will be Thursday, July 27, when the Honorary Recognition Awards will be presented to the rural leaders nominated for this honor; the beekeepers' and fruit growers' programs will be conducted; the Rural Church Conference will begin; and the program will be presented celebrating the 20th annual anniversary of 4-H Club work in Connecticut.

The agricultural engineering demonstrations will be carried on from Monday through Thursday, and the livestock program will be held on Friday.

Throughout the week there will be special exhibits of hooked and braided rugs, play equipment, rural school accomplishments, septic tanks, milk tanks, and cobblestone walls, livestock, and bee equipment. The evening programs for the week will be chiefly in the nature of recreation.

60,000 LUTHERANS MEET AT LUTHER CONVENTION

International Convention of Waltham League Is Being Held in Chicago.

Chicago, July 17.—(AP)—Sessions of the 41st international convention of the Waltham League got under way today following a Sabbath celebration at which 60,000 Lutherans gathered at Soldier Field to observe the 450th birthday of Martin Luther in song and spoken word.

At yesterday's services hymns were sung by a massed chorus of 3,000 children and 5,000 choristers representing 168 Lutheran churches and addresses were delivered by the Rev. Erwin Umbach, executive secretary of the Waltham League, and the Rev. J. W. Behnken, Houston, Tex.

The Rev. Mr. Umbach pleaded for an inclusion of God in the plans and remedies suggested for the "unparalleled situation in which the world finds itself today."

"Man's plans," he said, "are boastful, aggressive, revolutionary; but with God left out, there cannot be a church without a creed. The Rev. Mr. Behnken said that it must contain positive and determined doctrines. Without it, he said, a church would have nothing upon which to stand before the tribunal of public opinion."

"A spineless church," he said, "is most impulsive and abominable." Speakers listed for today's session included Governor Henry Honner of Illinois and Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago, in addresses of welcome followed by the response by H. L. Klein, Springfield, Ill.

The shipping magnate's income was estimated at $1,000,000 ($4,780,000) yearly, yet he lived in one house in Mayfair and sold his Scottish castle three years ago.

Of his big income Sir John spent only five per cent and reinvested the remainder, giving large sums to charity and much to the Red Cross.

A DISSERVICE.
 The worst disservice that can possibly be done to the people of this country would be to make them believe, as a few very reckless and very badly disposed individuals, corporations and newspapers are trying to do, that the revival of business now in progress is the result of "natural" processes, that the course of government has little if anything to do with it and that the sooner things are permitted to resume their "natural" course the better for everybody.

If the majority or even any large proportion of the people were to accept this view it would do an immense harm and very well might eventually undo all the good that has been done, landing us back on the rocks.

Those who become skeptical as to the operation of the recovery program in general are sure to become balky over submitting to its exactions in particular; especially when, as must inevitably be the occasional case, the workings of the program operate to the inconvenience of the individual.

It is nonsense to predict that, under the expected operation of the hours and wages code, everybody is going to be immediately better off. There will be some who, for a time at least, will not be so well off as they are now. Take the case of the factory worker who, through the workings of some special set of conditions, finds himself regularly employed not only at full time but with overtime every week. There are still instances of such employment. The employment of such a person will have to be reduced, under any code; and probably any increase in wages per hour will not compensate fully for the lost hours of work. The worker in this case will be easily convinced that the government has done him an injury—unless he appreciates that it is very much more important, that the nation's well being is more important than that he should enjoy a special kind of prosperity while his neighbors are starving or maintained by charity.

The wage and hour system of the country's industries cannot possibly be revolutionized without some individuals being hit. But relatively their numbers will be very small, while the numbers of those who will benefit will extend far into the millions; and those who suffer will lose only from a margin of advantage which they have been enjoying at the expense of their less fortunate fellows.

The restoration of the country is not being brought about by magic. It must be and will be accompanied by considerable sacrifice—but it is the kind of sacrifice that should be cheerfully made because it is required by the finest kind of patriotism.

BENEFICENT CRAFTINESS.
 That byproduct of newspaper experience, the instinctive mental search for "the story behind the story," leads to a sharply drawn surmise that not quite all the strategy of the National Recovery Administration has been blueprinted and published to the world in advance of the actual maneuvering.

Apparently a situation considerably different from the one publicly announced, with relation to the establishment of codes, is being developed. It is gradually being eased into the consciousness of the country that the drawing of codes for several hundred industries, hearing them and bringing them to the point of government approval, must necessarily be a job requiring more time than can be given to it before the matter of maximum hours and minimum wages must be decided. Thus the mind of industry as a whole, and of the public, is being prepared for an early announcement of a temporary code covering these two basic factors and applying to substantially all productive and service industries alike.

It is highly improbable that the Recovery Administration ever really expected to bring about the short week and minimum wage-fixing by any other device than what amounts to an edict. But a couple of months ago the nation was by no means ready for any such drastic procedure. Even in the first days of the organized recovery administration, if General Johnson had announced that the government was getting ready to limit hours and pay wages by executive order, it is highly probable that the National Manufacturers Association would have gone in to a panic, and the rest of the business world along with it.

Now, on the contrary, the National Manufacturers Association is expressing its approval of a nationwide formula to be established by the government, to be operative pending the more leisurely formation of completed codes—and is cooperating in the most friendly manner with both the Recovery Administration and the great labor organizations in the big job of figuring out this wholesale if rudimentary code.

Surveyed from this angle it looks as though the proceedings of the Recovery Administration in the last few weeks had been conducted with uncommon psychological skill.

REGRETS.

When The Herald last Friday commented on the situation in the Shellfish Commission, where Chairman William P. London, a Democratic appointee of Governor Cross, is trying to have the Finance Board restore the $800 salaries of the three commissioners after having fired, "for economy," the one practical official of the Commission, an $1,800 a year clerk, it was quite unaware of a certain fact. If the Herald had only known then that our esteemed fellow townsman, Dr. E. G. Dolan, was slated as the principal speaker at a big Democratic dinner at Fairfield this week, given, if you please, in honor of this same William P. London, never in the world would it have so much as peeped about Mr. London and his yen for five hundred bucks. Not for anything would we have made Dr. Dolan appear, in the eyes of his fellow citizens, as a but-terer of the London variety of official, an adulator of the half-peanut politician, so to speak.

Actually, it is extremely probable that the arrangements for the Fairfield dinner had all been made, Dr. Dolan and Fannie Dixon Welch scheduled for the addresses, his Serene Highness the Dean himself invited and most of the Fairfield County bigwigs pledged to attend, before Mr. London, with the finesse of a bull in a china closet, picked the worst of all possible times to let in the light on his picaresque views of public service. Otherwise it is practically inconceivable that Dr. Dolan would not have said gracefully out of any commitment to do high honor to Mr. London. Anybody would.

The good dean himself must carry a rabbit's foot. It had been invited but he had not yet accepted. Will he be there? What do you think? Anyhow, we wish to again assure our good friend Dr. Dolan that we would never have said a word about this London if we had known the first living thing about that unlucky dinner.

SALT WATER TROUT.

The close of the trout season on Friday last brought an announcement from the State Board of Fisheries and Game that "a few brown trout, a species related to the salmon, have been taken from the brackish waters of streams tributary to Long Island Sound."

A good many anglers will be a bit puzzled to get the intended significance of this, inasmuch as all the various trouts generally recognized as such belong to the salmon family, our own native brook trout, the rainbow, cutthroat and steelhead at least as completely as the brown. While the discovery that trout frequent the tide waters of coastal streams can hardly be new to the State Board since it is well known to a good many anglers, and was known before there ever was a brown trout in Connecticut.

The true brook trout, living in streams that find their way to salt water, not infrequently move down into tidal estuaries and remain there for weeks at a time. And there is one fact in connection with this which the State Board may or may not know: The brook trout, on these sojourns in the sea water, grows very much faster than he ever does in the streams themselves. This may be due to the plenitude of feed, or an improved appetite, for he devours large quantities of "killies" or salt water minnows.

At all events, the presence of native trout in the brackish reaches of sea-going streams, and even in actual seawater at the mouth of such a watercourse, is nothing either new or strange.

THE NEW YORK WAY.

An old-fashioned friend of ours once said that you can tell more about the character of a man by the way he wears his hat than by what he says in prayer meeting.

Controller Charles W. Berry has been known to admonish the city of New York severely on its extravagance. On Thursday General Berry and his wife sailed on the Olympic for Europe, "to study new sources of taxation for the city of New York." The regular price of his Deck A suite on the crack liner is $563. The city is paying for the trip, General Berry having only to draw an expense voucher, which he did—for $2,500.

If he had decided to go to Mars and make the expense voucher a million it might have been all the same.

There doesn't seem to be, really, any sincerity whatever about New York officialdom—nor even a passing thought that it is a shameful and wicked thing to squander the revenues of a town that can't meet even its most urgent bills.

IN NEW YORK

By PAUL HARRISON

New York, July 17.—Broadway never knew much about the dancing. Astaire, Fred and Adele. A couple of nice kids from somewhere in the middle west who made good in the big city. Kind of high-hat, though, as for instance when the girl married Lord Charles Cavendish, no less, the second of the Duke of Devonshire.

And Fred; a good guy, said Broadway, but with a strange ill-Broadwayish modesty and a peculiar aversion to the marriage-and-divorce routine followed by most of his professional associates. Never has married, in fact, until now, at 34, he's believed about to take the bridal path with pretty Mrs. Phyllis Baker Potter, who is a divorcee herself.

Well, his name isn't Astaire at all, but Fred Austerlitz; and he and Adele were born in Omaha, Neb., and their father was Fred Austerlitz, Sr., a brewer. The family had enough money, so the youngsters were sent to a dancing school. By the time they were 9 and 8 respectively (Adele is a year older than Fred) the Omaha papers were saying they surely were destined for a stage career. Mrs. Austerlitz believed this and packed them off to New York to go through their paces for the famous Ned Wayburn. Wayburn believed it too.

Fred and Adele danced in vaudeville until the Gerry Society objected; then they dropped out and studied for a few years. When they returned to New York they were on the same bill with a man named Douglas Fairbanks. He was a hit, but the kids were fired. They kept plugging though, and scored a real triumph in a revue called "Over the Top." After this he was easy sailing. When Adele married, Fred went it alone with other partners.

He figures he'll be able to retire after another season; wants to raise horses. Meanwhile Mrs. Austerlitz has been staying around New York looking out for her boy. Right now, though, she's on a flying trip to see Adele, having heard that there's going to be a new heir to the Cavendish title.

TWO HURT IN CRASH

Norwalk, July 17.—(AP)—Mrs. Charles E. Brush, 59, and Miss Mildred Brush, 29, both of 59 Washington avenue, Danbury, are confined to the Norwalk hospital today with injuries suffered yesterday, when the automobile driven by John R. Brush, 23, of the same address, was involved in a collision with a machine operated by Vernon A. Fesburg of the submarine base in New London. The police blamed Fesburg for the crash and arrested him on a charge of reckless driving. Mrs. Brush has injuries to her left shoulder, while her daughter is suffering from abrasions about the head. Neither is seriously hurt. The police report says that Fesburg's automobile shot across Winfield street, and crashed into the Brush machine.

GUARDSMEN BACK FROM CAMP DETAIL

Company G and Howitzer Return from Niantic—Given Pay Yesterday.

Bronzed with two weeks of training under varying weather conditions, Company G and the Howitzer Company arrived in town at 12:50 Saturday and were given one-half of their pay at the state armory. Officers and men of the Manchester units report a busy two weeks of training at the Cross Niantic this year, more than during any of the past encampments.

The only casualty this year in camp was Hugh L. Crane of Company G who sprained the ligaments in his leg while engaged on a company field problem. His leg was thought to be fractured at first but x-ray examination disclosed a bad sprain. He was incapacitated for duty for one week, but returned to town with the company Saturday.

ALABAMA, ARKANSAS TO VOTE TOMORROW

Wets and Dries to Watch Results of Vote in South With Great Interest.

Memphis, Tenn., July 17.—(AP)—Three states of the deep south vote on repeal this week in elections which both friends and foes of prohibition recognize as a crucial test in the National campaign. Alabama and Arkansas hold their elections tomorrow while Tennessee votes Thursday. Leaders on both sides in all three states, claim victory.

The 16 states which already have voted have favored repeal. The realists believe if they can swing the south into line, their battle is virtually won.

Postmaster General Farley capped the repeal campaign here this week-end, calling upon Alabama, Arkansas and Tennessee to "keep the covenant" with President Roosevelt by voting to repeal the 18th Amendment.

Repealists have raised the issues of party loyalty and of state's rights. Anti-repeal campaigners have called attention to the south's dry traditions and warned of danger of return of the saloon. Repealists generally were in control of state organizations.

Lehman mildly admonished New York City for its financial troubles, pointing out that "intelligent planning, complete frankness and accuracy" and constructive cooperation between the city and its creditors "would maintain municipal Colorful Parade Wins Commendation—Celebrate Boyne Anniversary.

Despite threatening weather, over 250 members of Orange Lodges and Auxiliary orders attended the annual parade and field day sponsored by the Orange Lodges of this town in commemoration of the Battle of the Boyne, which occurred July 12, 1690 in which William of Orange defeated King James 2nd on the banks of the Ulster County river.

Members of lodges in Massachusetts, Rhode Island, and this state participated in the parade which formed on East Center street shortly after 1 o'clock. The route of the parade was down Main street to Maple street, along Maple to Spruce and along Spruce street to the Old Golf lots off East Center street where a program of speaking, and sports were held.

Along the route of march the paraders received commendation for the manner in which the parade was conducted. The men in bright orange sashes and the women in new white satin dresses and purple caps presented a colorful background against the Manchester Pipe Band and the Center Flute Band as they marched the two miles from Orange Hall to Maple street and back to the natural amphitheater at the old Golf lots where the ceremonies of the day were held. The parade was led by a squad of policemen under command of Lieut. William Barron.

Those Marching Units in the line of march were: Hope Lodge, L. O. L. No. 233 of Providence, R. I.; followed by the Daughters of Honor, L. O. L. No. 223 of Pawtucket, E. J. No. 90, Chicopee, Mass.; and Diamond True Blues, L. O. L. No. 85, Gilbertville, Mass.

Following these lodges in line of march were the members of Manchester L. O. L. No. 99, Devotion Lodge, L. O. L. No. 146 of Hartford and Bridgeport Chosen Few, L. O. L. No. 255. Next came the Center Flute Band followed by the local lodge delegations.

On reaching the golf grounds, the chair was taken by Rev. J. Stuart Neill. The exercises were opened by singing one verse of "America" followed by Prayer by Adjutant George L. Williams of the Salvation Army. Chairman Neill introduced Selectman Wells A. Strickland who gave a short address of welcome to the visiting members. Worthy Master David Morrison, of Washington lodge, in behalf of the Orange men and women of Manchester, welcomed the visitors to this town.

Main Address Rev. William H. Snow of Revere, Mass., Past Supreme Grand Master of the Orange Institution gave the keynote address and his voice carried to the principles of the early Christian founders of this Nation, to uphold and defend them even unto death. The Past National Officer of the Orange Institution gave a stirring address and his voice carried to all persons on the sloping hillside. He was given resounding applause at the conclusion of his address.

Other Speakers Other speakers on the afternoon program were: Past State Grand Master James Jaynes of Massachusetts; Past State Grand Master William McCartney of Massachusetts; Past Master Benjamin Bowring of Boston; L. O. L. of Massachusetts. The concluding speaker was Past Supreme Grand Mistress, Mrs. E. R. Caverly of Manchester. LITHUANIAN FLIERS DIE IN CRASH IN GERMANY (Continued from Page One) tempting to land mistook tree tops for a meadow.

Time of Crash There was some doubt about the exact time of the crash. Investigations showed the bodies indicated the crash occurred sometime between 3:00 and 5:00 a. m.

Women out gathering berries said they heard a machine about five o'clock and that the noise suddenly ceased. Later a cyclist discovered the plane, with the fliers buried beneath and the wings hanging from trees.

A rural policeman found a route map, copies of Chicago newspapers and a pouch with letters on which were the names of Carter and Girenas and also of Victor Vesgalistes of Wilkes-Barre, Pa. (who served as the mechanic for the aviators).

Police found the gasoline tank of the Lithuanian empty. Hence they believed that the pilot came down intentionally but, because of the fog, was unable to see the tree tops.

The bodies were badly mangled. Several trees snapped under the weight of the plane. Near the spot American cigarettes and candies were found.

HAD NO PASSPORTS New York, July 17.—(AP)—Stephen Darius and Stanley Girenas, Lithuanian-American fliers who crashed to their death in Pomerania today, started their attempt to fly non-stop to London without the knowledge or approval of the government.

They had waited here since May 7 to begin the flight to their native land, but never had secured permission to fly over or land in other countries. This failure was due to the fact that they would not or could not pay the $100 or so cable tolls asking permission.

They were just going up for some tests, the officials at Floyd Bennett Field at 5:24 a. m. e. a. t. last Saturday.

A minute later their heavily-laden craft was headed for Europe.

The start of the non-stop flight to their native soil was the realization of an ambition long fostered by the two immigrant boys. As transport pilots in Chicago both had saved their funds over a period of years and had had the small donations of their fellow countrymen here in order to purchase the big orange monoplane.

Long Preparations Transatlantic flying was new to them. They had no start of the 4,900 mile project they had spent months studying their charts and grooming their plane.

They carried 779 gallons of gasoline, 25 gallons of oil. For their own consumption they carried a couple dozen oranges, half as many apples, a quart of coffee and a chicken.

"We'll catch up with our eating when we get to Lithuania," they said.

Both fliers were 37 and both were unmarried.

Darius was born in Taurage, Lithuania, and was brought to this country at the age of 10. His mother, Mrs. Augustine Degutis, lives in Chicago.

Darius was tutored in Lithuania, then attended grade school in New Jersey, Junior High school in Chicago and Harrison Junior College, also in Chicago.

In World War He enlisted in the First Illinois Artillery 25 days after the United States entered the world war and received a regimental citation for "habitual bravery under fire." He was wounded by a shell at the Second battle of the Marne and received veteran's compensation and further education at the University of Chicago after the war.

In 1921 he went to Lithuania and rose to a captaincy in the Air Corps but returned to this country in 1928 and started an aviation school in South Bend, Ind.

BRANCH BANKING FIRST NATIONAL SYSTEM STEP

ject of dispute since early days of the Republic.

It reaches to whether a country-wide chain system has more to offer in the public and National good than banking only by independent units.

Some banking authorities believe this law is the first step toward a National system such as in Canada and England, where there are a few big chains instead of innumerable individual banks.

Opponents of branch banking have contended it would centralize the nation's banking power and drive individual small bankers out of business.

Friends of the proposal argue that it would strengthen the banking system to have small rural banks tied up to big city institutions, benefiting from their broader experience, greater resources and wider interests.

Branch banking beyond state lines is not permitted, however, in the Glass-Steagall law. What effect such branch banking will have on the average depositor or borrower is a matter of dispute. Some hold it will be more difficult to obtain credit, because the business man will deal with a branch manager responsible to a big out of town bank.

Friends of branch banking say it will provide greater safety for the depositors. They contend a bank in trouble will be supported temporarily by associates in other sections.

National banks will be permitted to have branches in about a dozen states. Which these will be is a matter of interpreting the law and must be finally determined by the comptroller of the currency.

FORMER LOCAL GIRL KILLED IN NEW YORK

Mrs. Ellen Powers Melton and Her Husband Die as Car Skid-Crashes.

Mrs. Ellen Powers Melton, 26, daughter of Mrs. Henry Ingraham, of 610 West Center street, and her husband, Jay M. Melton, both residents of Mount Vernon, N. Y., were badly injured in an automobile crash in New York yesterday morning and died on their way to the Fordham hospital, where they were being taken following the accident.

The first information of the accident came to Mrs. Ingraham from the hospital at 11 o'clock yesterday morning and in simple terms said, "Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Melton killed. Is she your daughter?"

At the time the message reached the Ingraham home there were present an aunt and three nephews. The first information of the accident came to Mrs. Melton, a brother of Mrs. Melton, was visiting in Manchester. He was notified of the accident and with his mother, father-in-law and his wife started at once for New York.

It was learned that the accident, which occurred in the Bronx, had been the result of a head-on collision between the car driven by Mr. Melton and one driven by Albert Nabollintane, of New York City. The police, after an investigation did not hold Nabollintane as being responsible.

Mrs. Melton was a graduate of the Manchester High School in 1926 and after her graduation was for a time employed in a clerical position with the Travelers Insurance Company. It was while at work in Hartford that she met Mr. Melton and they were married three years ago, moving to Mount Vernon where they have since made their home. She is survived by her husband, her mother and one brother, John Powers, a teacher in the Windsor schools.

WEST SIDES TURN BACK NEW BRITAIN NINE, 5-2

Stavitsky and Burkhardt Feature as Locals Defeat West Ends; Falkowski Allows Only Seven Scattered Hits — Score Three in the Fifth.

Yesterday at the West Side, the West Sides defeated the strong West Ends of New Britain 5 to 2. Falkowski pitched masterful ball, allowing only 7 hits which he managed to keep well scattered.

The West Sides went into an early lead getting one run in the first inning when Dowd walked. Holland sacrificed him to second and "Big George" Stavitsky came through with a double to score Dowd with the first run. In the third inning they scored another run when Dowd drew his second pass, went to second on Holland's sacrifice bunt and scored when Stavitsky got his second hit of the day.

The fifth inning was the big inning for the West Sides when Holland the first man to bat popped a fly to Higgins who dropped it, then Hewitt sacrificed him to second and was safe at first on a wild throw by the pitcher. Stavitsky, who had two hits out of two trips to the plate, was purposely walked and then Burkhardt drove a line drive into centerfield that looked like a certain hit but Gill made a beautiful running catch of it and caught Hewitt at second. Holland scoring on the catch. With two outs and Stavitsky on first, Mikkan, a new player with the local club, reached first when Merline picked up a slow roller and tried to make a double play but missed both men. Mikkan reaching first on a fielder's choice. McConkey reached first when Chadwick booted a fast ball at shortstop letting both Mikkan and Stavitsky advance a base. Stavitsky, the sacker with two out, will win the next man to come to bat hit the first pitched ball into centerfield for a clean single scoring both Stavitsky and Mikkan and set the scoring for the West Sides.

The West Ends tallied once in the sixth and once in the ninth. In the sixth Lipman got a single, stole second and went to third on a fielder's choice. Then on a fly to left field he scored after the fly had been caught.

In the ninth A. Memier did the same thing getting a clean hit, stealing second and reaching third on a fielder's choice, scoring on Gill's long fly to left field. Lipman was the big gun for New Britain getting two out of two while Stavitsky and Burkhardt were the best stickers for the West Sides getting 3 out of 4 and 2 out of 3 respectively.

BLUEFIELDS CHALK UP 5TH STRAIGHT

City Service Nine of Hartford Bows to Locals, 8-2, After Early Lead.

Saturday afternoon at the West Side the Bluefields won their fifth straight game at the expense of the City Service team of Hartford by the score of 8 to 2. The City Service warriors scored the first run of the game in the second inning when Purtek scored on Nolan's single.

The Bluefields started their spree in the fourth inning. Led by E. Ragunus and Jack Hewitt the Bluefields pushed two runs across the plate before they were retired. They also scored three runs in the fifth and three in the eighth.

Hewitt who was on the mound for the Bluefields pitched fine ball. He allowed but eight scattered hits and fanned six. "Chucky" Smith and "Stewie" Kennedy, members of the Bluefields invincible infield, played heads up ball. Kennedy playing under the handicap of an injured finger made a splendid one-hand catch of a batted ball which could have been a hit in any league. Smith duplicated the feat a few innings later. Smith also handled three chances without a fumble.

Taylor and Purtek played best for the losers. Purtek pitched good ball, and it was Nolan and Taylor's hits that kept the City Service in the running.

The game with the Orioles which was to be played Sunday was called off because of wet grounds.

Lo Cilla just about had all of the work to himself in the seventh and eighth inning of the second game when six batters hit to him in succession which gave him 2 put-outs and 4 assists. The work of coach behind the bat for Manchester was the best. His throwing to bases and counting for these put outs in stealing attempts. Favorable comment was heard on all sides of the writer about this boy's work. By losing these two games the D. C. team is eliminated from the state league competition, the winners of the first round being the Hartford and New Britain. The D. C. team will continue to play throughout the season and will bring to Manchester the New Britain and Hartford Springs Legion teams as well as other teams in their class.

LEGION FAILS TO HIT, LOSES 2 CLOSE GAMES

D-C Nine Drops Twin Bill at Waterbury, 2-0, and 1-0; Result Eliminates Locals from State League Race; Team to Continue to Play.

Failure to hit at opportune times caused the D.-C. Legion nine to lose two games at Waterbury, Saturday, 2-0 and 1-0. In the first game J. May held the Waterbury team to three hits but his teammates fared only slightly better in their efforts to hit Kosen and could not push across the necessary runs. Gardner and Benson pitched up in a pitching duel in the second game with Benson having the edge of the battle. Both teams were in scoring positions, at times in each game, but good fielding and lack of punch prevented scores.

Waterbury scored in the first game on an error in the seventh and put on another in the eighth in two doubles. The single run of the second game was scored on two clear singles through second base. The defensive play of both teams was exceptional, Judd having 13 chances and only 1 error this being on a hard hit ball. Colt pulled off a one-handed circus catch which brought forth a round of applause from the spectators.

Lo Cilla just about had all of the work to himself in the seventh and eighth inning of the second game when six batters hit to him in succession which gave him 2 put-outs and 4 assists. PIRATES SPLIT 2 WEEK-END BATTLES

Lose at Willimantic, 9-7, Then Edge Jefferson Club Here by 16 to 14.

The Pirates managed to break even in their games over the week end. After dropping a close game to the Sacred Heart Club of Willimantic in that city Saturday, they won back to back at the Windy City Club of Rockville on Mt. Nebo, Sunday afternoon in a free-hitting contest which was anybody's game up until the last inning.

Against the Willimantic aggregation, Ray Woodbridge pitched a steady game and deserved to win, but the breaks were against him. Varrick had a big 'av at bat with a single, double and two triples. Woodbridge also pitched two timely hits. Woodbridge also fielded in position well. Hazel and Pelesar were the batting stars of the Sacred Heart.

Sunday's rain failed to dampen the ardor or betting eyes of the locals for they proceeded to pile up eight runs in the first three innings. However, the Jefferson Club got to Wogman for six runs in the fifth before he was removed in favor of Varrick who pitched the Windy City team in check during the rest of the game. The Pirates drove Olesek and Holmes from the box and in so doing amassed eight runs in the sixth and seventh innings to sew up the ball game. The Pirates played lethargically behind both twirlers which slowed up the game considerably. Zapata and Bycholski each collected three hits but Nielsen's long trip to the left field foul line was the best hit of the game. Five of the visitors, Welch narrowly missed having a perfect day at bat by grounding out during his last time at bat and Armstrong and A. Kulick played beautiful games at their respective positions.

GREEN TALLIES IN EVERY FRAME, TOPS BURNSIDES BY 14-8

Visitors Unable to Halt Scoring Spree as Hublardites Run Wild; Segar Clouts Homer in 7th.

Registering at least one run in each time at bat, Manchester Green yesterday defeated the All-Burnsides by a score of 14 to 8, in a game at Jarvis Grove that well repaid those fans who braved a threat of rain to witness it.

The All-Burnsides took the lead in the opening frame, putting two runs across the pan before ralloquishing the sticks to the Green boys, who promptly commenced the methodic procession of scores that was maintained throughout the contest. Never scoring more than three, nor less than one run in each game, the Green had the score tied at 3 up when the fourth opened. In this session the All-Burnsides jumped out in front again by virtue of Melor's triple scoring Jarman and Connelly, and a double into the plate on Pottinger's single.

But the "Good Old Green Just Rumbled Right Along" and in their half of this hectic inning added three tallies of their own to the count, again tying the score. The fifth and sixth were featured only by the continuance of the Green parade, adding one and two runs respectively to the Hublardite's score, but the seventh was real exciting. Segar made just the right connection with one of Pottinger's fast ones, and to an accompaniment of auto horns operated by enthusiastic spectators, trotted around the bags for a home run.

Thus encouraged, Lippencott bled out a double, scored, Ecabert, and a few moments later crossed the plate himself on Vio's single. The All-Burnsides made a valiant effort to retaliate in the eighth, Melor and Bengston scoring, but the rally was unproductive of only two runs.

In the Green's last time at bat, Pinney crashed one to deep center that had all the earmarks of a homer, but in obedience to "Coach" the laney first-sacker pulled up on third. However, Lippencott and Segar scored again in this frame, and the game was just about on ice. Cooney pitched a masterful game for the Green throughout, in difficulty several times he managed to register strikeouts when they were just what the doctor ordered, and so staved off what might otherwise have been calamities.

The slump which strikes nearly every good ball club at least once a season, has hit the Washington Senators just when they seemed to have first place in the American league packed away in moth-balls. A week ago, Washington, with 23 victories in 26 games, had pulled away to a 4 1/2 game lead over the New York Yankees. Then, as the Yanks started a streak, the Senators went wrong and today the clubs again were tied for the lead.

The Senators took a 7-0 whitewashing from the St. Louis Browns yesterday, their fifth defeat in eight games.

Irving "Bump" Hadley gave the Senators only four hits, three of them by Heinie Manush, while Earl Whitehill went up in the air in a nicked up to give the last place club six runs.

The only other American league saw Cleveland defeat the Boston Red Sox 2-1 in 14 innings. When Frank Bylak and William Kamm Ricked Bob Wieland for singles and the former scored after Bill Knickerbocker's fly, Willis Hudlin held the Sox to five hits, only one of which came in the first nine innings.

The Giants National League leaders, continued their career as "hitless wonders", dividing a pair of 1-0 decisions with the last place Cincinnati Reds, although they got only 10 hits in 24 innings.

The Reds won the opener, a 15-inning dual between Red Lucas and Bud Parmelee when Rollie Hemaley knocked George Grantham home. Manager Bill Terry's double and Johnny Ferguson's single produced the Giant tally of Paul Derringer in the fourth inning of the nightcap.

Two of the Giant's principal rivals, the Chicago Cubs and St. Louis Cardinals, also split doubleheaders while Pittsburgh was kept idle by rain at Brooklyn.

COWBOYS WIN
The Shepherders came out Friday evening seeking revenge for their loss to their last defeat. But the Cowboys still turned them down and still rule the Northern Rangers. The score ran up very high being 21 to 19 in favor of the Cowboys. The Shepherders had the Cowboys 18 to 9 in the first three innings but at the last of the fifth inning the Cowboys came out on top of their slump to tie them. In the last inning it was anybody's game until the last ball was pitched as Manager Arkeyev stated. Art Freeman starred for the Cowboys collecting two triples and a double and Willy Williams also starred getting a triple and two singles. Petronis was the only batter who could hit the ball for the Shepherders.

REC GIRLS OPPOSE WASSUC NINE HERE

Game Between Feminine Athletes to Feature Program Wednesday Night.

The Rec Girls, claimants to the State title will meet the Wassuc Girls A. C. leading contenders, on the West Side diamond, Wednesday at 8:15 as one of the features of an extensive program that will be offered to the public there on that evening. The other features will include a game between the Rec team and the Wassuc team from Hartford, men and women of both teams competing, volleyball and horseshoe team competition to be topped off by a band concert rendered by the new Tall Cedars band.

The Rec Girls have already defeated the Wassuc A. C. twice this season but for this occasion they are bringing to Manchester, according to reports, an entirely revamped team. Several of their new players are being former members of the strong B. Jones, 2b 2 3 5 3 0 year. The Rec Girls, however, feel that they can take Wassuc into camp at any time or any other girls' team in the state. Therefore they welcome the opportunity to prove their ability against this revamped aggregation or any other they might care to assemble at any future date.

The fans are assured a real battle on Wednesday for the rivalry between these two girls' teams dates back to a year or two ago when the Wassuc girls were nearly ended in a free for all hair pulling contest. In fact the attitude of the two teams might well be compared to the old Rockville-Manchester feud on the diamond. The Rec Girls will be expected to win and no quarter will be given. The present attitude of the team being best Wassuc ever in our less every other game year. So the other shapes and sizes vs. contenders for the state title.

NOTED X-RAY EXPERT DIES IN HIS SLEEP

Dr. F. H. Baetjer Had Lost All of His Fingers and An Eye Following His Work.

Baltimore, July 17.—(AP) — Dr. Frederick Henry Baetjer, pioneer X-ray specialist of the Johns Hopkins Medical school, died today at his home in suburban Catonsville. He was 58 years old.

The noted physician apparently died in his sleep. A member of the household going to the bedside, discovered his death.

Dr. Baetjer suffered, severe burns from his experiments with the Roentgen ray, burns that necessitated amputation of all his fingers and caused the loss of an eye.

Despite these burns he continued his work. The injury to the eye caused him to retire as professor of clinical Roentgenology at Hopkins a year ago but he maintained an office in the city. His last visit there was on Friday of last week.

He is survived by his widow, and two children, Mrs. Thomas Jefferson Dubose, of South Carolina, and a son, Harold Hayward Baetjer, who is now in England with a boat crew of the Kent school.

POLICE FEAR LYING OF PRISONER IN JERSEY

Alleged Shoplifter Killed One Man and Wounded Another While Fleeing.

Ocean City, N. J., July 17.—(AP)—Accused of slaying one man and critically wounding another, an alleged shoplifter who identified himself as John Smith was held in the Cape May county jail at Cape May Court House today to protect him from possible violence.

Lawrence P. Imbeel, 26, one of two postal employees Smith is alleged to have shot Saturday while attempting to escape from police, died at Somers Point hospital yesterday.

Morris L. Johnson, 26, is in a critical condition in the same hospital. He has a bullet wound below his heart.

Smith was captured only after he had emptied his pistol at his pursuers and they had wounded him in the left arm with one of a dozen shots.

Policeman Matthew Pangborn said he detected Smith taking food from a store and meant to feed him if he was hungry. The suspect, however, drew his pistol, fired a wild shot at Pangborn and fled.

The postal employees were killed as they ran from the post office to join the chase.

ON NEW SCHEDULE Windsor Locks, July 17.—(AP)—The Montgomery Company, specialty mills which employ about 300, went on the new code, the code when the plant opened this morning, but because of incomplete information from Washington, officials were unable to appraise the effect of the ruling on their business.

M. McDermott, general manager, said that the workmen scheduled to be reduced from 48 to 40 hours per week effective immediately, but he could not say whether or not this would result in increased employment.

According to the minimum wage is $13 a week, but Mr. McDermott declared the Montgomery firm had so few employees at this wage that the increase in the payroll would be negligible.

4-H CLUBS PLANNING 20TH ANNIVERSARY

Review of Two Decades of Work to Feature Program at Storrs July 27.

Announcement of the completed plans for the observance of the 20th anniversary of 4-H Club work in Connecticut, which will be held at the Connecticut State College on Thursday, July 27, and which will be an accomplishment in the state during the past two decades were given out here recently by A. J. Brundage, State Club Leader.

The 4-H program, in which more than 200 persons are expected to participate, will be held in Hawley Armory on the morning of Honorary Recognition Day which will feature the annual Connecticut Farm and Home West Program.

The speaking program will include a discussion of 4-H Club work in the United States, by Miss Gertrude Warren, of the United States Department of Agriculture; a discussion of the same subject in relation to Connecticut, by A. J. Brundage; a description of the place of club work in the Extension Service program, by A. W. Manchester, Assistant Director of Extension, and will conclude with four minute talks by former club members, local leaders, and parents.

The morning program will be introduced by 4-H Club orchestras and in the afternoon the Recognition exercises will be preceded by group singing of the club members under the direction of G. Loring Burwell, choral director of Waterbury.

Since its inception in 1915 the 4-H organization has included more than 100,000 rural boys and girls. Until 1918 it was designated as Boys' and Girls' Club work, although the representative four H's had been the official emblem for some time. Mr. Brundage stated, "I must remind you, that I told you several weeks ago I would not have you indulging in flirtations."

"Why, Barrett?" she stammered. "You were with Bobby Telfare all afternoon he stated."

"But I wasn't!" she was stung by the injustice.

"Did you have a pleasant time with Beattie?" he asked.

"I had a lovely afternoon," she answered, not quite evenly. She would have gone on to tell him that she had gone elsewhere but he looked at his watch, murmured an excuse and left the room.

Alone, she stood with tears brimming in her eyes and teeth set on her lower lip. Such a reputation—after the morning she had drunk her tea so gallantly as she could, hoping to hide her emotions from the keen eyes of Higgins. Then she went to her room and let the tears come.

Higgins tapped on her door at six to say that Mr. Barrett was dining out. Would she like her dinner served on a little table near the library? He saw her swallow convulsively before she responded.

"I think that would be very nice," she said, lifting her head.

Obviously, she decided when the door was closed on Higgins and she was alone again, Barrett regretted his softening toward her that morning. She regretted it, too. The moment of tenderness had given her such high hopes.

She laughed bitterly at the thought. What a fool she had been to think a kiss from him could mean anything, when once before he had shown how lightly he considered such a career.

At the end of the stipulated year she would work. She would not take a cent from him! She wished she could be working now. Then she would have less time to think, to imagine what life might have been for her if she had had the power to make him love her and to hold that love.

She did her best to eat. She didn't want the servants to know how utterly Barrett's chill, disapproving eyes had crushed her. In spite of determination she could do no more than dally with her food. It choked and sickened her.

Having eaten, she went to the drawing room, sat down at the piano and played the gayest tunes. Higgins, hearing her, guessed something of her mood. "Poor young thing!" he thought. "Another quarrel and her heart is breaking from it."

But Higgins was not worried. The couple had quarreled before and made up that quarrel almost immediately. "Tomorrow," he decided, putting silver away in his canteen flannel bag, "they'll be thick as thieves, calling each other 'heart's desire' and the like."

On the morrow the butler concluded the quarrel had been worse than he thought. Barrett and Elinor scarcely spoke at all.

The evening meal was the only one they ate together. Elinor looked pitifully unhappy and Barrett's expression was grimly blank. He left the house almost immediately after the meal and she made no attempt to entertain herself. Instead she sat in her dimly lit sleeping room, starting and sobbing as she had been a fool again and that she could show the way to agony.

"Never again!" she vowed to herself. "Never again!"

Toward the close of a cold and dismal April Doctor Moran ordered Elinor's father to a milder climate. Alken was chosen and Eastwell Stafford with two nurses and Elinor departed.

With her when he found she could not give him the wealth he had supposed was hers. Lon had died before Elinor's and Barrett's father left them his fortune.

Elinor was aware that Alken was a very pleasant place. The sunshine was warming and the air soft the hills and valleys green and dew from the house they had taken, charming.

Her father was carried to the terrace and sat there for long afternoons. Elinor sat beside him, smiling at him when they passed to chat, wondering what Barrett was doing and whether he missed her at all. She tried to seem normal and light-hearted, hoping the letters Barrett directed to her—effect—would hold some suggestion that his coldness was thawing.

The never did. "It's a beautiful here," said Bentwell one afternoon. "I don't know when I've been so contented—so at peace!"

He was still too weak to think about others or he would have seen his daughter's misery. He was so slow to get well Elinor thought with deep anxiety. And when she spoke of it to either of the nurses they agreed, avoiding her eyes and murmuring something about "time." Science knows when human batteries are low and wanting but science does not always talk. (To Be Continued)

BARGAIN BRIDIE by KATHARINE HAVLAND-TAYLOR

BEGIN HERE TODAY ELINOR STAFFORD, 20, falls in love with 25-year-old BARRETT COLVIN, returned to New York after years abroad. Barrett has made a name for himself as an archeologist. He is about to ask Elinor to marry him when he is jealous, scheming mother, LIDA STAFFORD, interferes and succeeds in breaking up the romance.

When Elinor's aunt, wealthy MISS ELLA SEXTON, dies he leaves her Elinor's fortune to Barrett. Then drunk VANCE BOETZ shoots BENWELL STAFFORD, Elinor's father. Barrett, who does not want the Sexton fortune, tells Elinor that if she will marry him and live in his home as a guest for a year he will give her the fortune. She is to divide among the relatives. Elinor agrees, knowing the money may save her father's life.

The marriage takes place next day, Barrett finds himself falling in love with Elinor over again. Then he sees her with BOETZ Telfare and believes she has gone to meet Telfare secretly. His suspicions of her are renewed.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXXI Coidly Barrett asked, "Why didn't you keep Hutton?"

Elinor flushed; her eyes wavered. She had sent the chauffeur home because she didn't want anyone to know about her going to see Philip. She had murmured something about uncertainty of plans and dismissed Hutton.

"I had some shopping to do," she murmured, "and you know how difficult it is to park cars near—"

"I fear I quite understand," he responded levelly, crisply. She raised surprised eyes and, as she saw his face, her color receded.

"I must remind you," Barrett went on inflexibly, "that I told you several weeks ago I would not have you indulging in flirtations."

"Why, Barrett?" she stammered. "You were with Bobby Telfare all afternoon he stated."

"But I wasn't!" she was stung by the injustice.

"Did you have a pleasant time with Beattie?" he asked.

KIWANIANS OPEN CAMP FOR KIDDIES

Autos Transport 44 Boys to Hebron for Week's Stay; Girls Go Next Week.

Despite the handicap of reduced finances which has placed a limit of two weeks on the operating scale of the Kiddies Camp at Hebron, sponsored by the Manchester Kiwanis Club, a total of forty-four local boys were taken to the camp this morning for a one week's vacation, after which a similar number of girls will be sent to the camp for a like period. C. Elmore Watkins is camp committee chairman this year.

The manner in which the boys cheered and shouted on the trip to camp this morning gave indications that they were prepared to enjoy this week to the full. A more enthusiastic and peppy group would have been hard to find. And the Kiwanians have done their part. For the past few days, the camp staff headed by Helge E. Pearson as director, has been at Hebron and working hard to have everything in ship-shape condition for the official opening today. Mr. Pearson is assisted by Mrs. Selma Erickson as chef. Mrs. Erickson has enjoyed great popularity with the campers in past years, due to the tempting variety of food she has cooked and virtually every one of the children have gained weight during their stay in camp. Mr. Pearson will also be assisted by Gunnar Johnson, Ralph Johnson, Fred Johansson and Louis Jones.

In past years the Kiwanis Kiddies Camp has been operated for a period of one month, two weeks being devoted to boys and two to girls. This year, however, economic conditions made it impossible to raise the amount required for this ambitious program but rather than abandon the camp altogether it was decided to operate for two weeks in order that as many as possible of Manchester's underprivileged children may obtain the benefits of a week's vacation. The Kiwanians who furnished transportation this morning were: Dr. LeVerne Holmes, James Turnbull, Thomas Ferguson, James Nichols, Dr. E. C. Y. Moore, C. R. Burr, and E. J. Simonds.
