World Flier With New Propeller, Starts from Flat, Alaska—To Refuel at Fairbanks, Then Continue.

Flat, Alaska, July 21.—(AP)—Wiley Post, Oklahoman flier, resumed his aerial jaunt around the world today at 7:28 a. m. Fairbanks time, (12:28 p. m., eastern standard time.) Joe Crosson, Alaskan pilot, who brought a new propeller for Post's plane from Fairbanks, circled over the field here at 7:25 a. m., and three minutes later Post joined him in the air. Both planes headed east for Fairbanks where Post will refuel for his flight to Edmonton, Alberta. The weather was good.

Post was due in Fairbanks in less than three hours as it is only 370 miles away. If all goes well, he still can set a new globe-girdling record, eclipsing that of eight days, 15 hours and 51 minutes which he and Harold Gatty set in 1931.

Post was exhausted and extremely nervous when he nosed his plane over in a cross wind and damaged its landing gear and propeller yesterday afternoon after a 3,000 mile flight from Chabarovsk, Siberia. He had become lost in the fog over interior Alaska and had been forced to land on a river and then another in a brave battle against the clouds to reach Fairbanks. His plane was repaired during the night and Post obtained some rest in the United States Army Signal Corps nation. The operators took the flier in charge and put him to bed.

When Post passed over Nome at 8:30 a. m., Fairbanks time (1:30 p. m., e. s. t.) yesterday he had a lead of more than 30 hours on the time to that point set two years ago. Although he lost some time here, he was still ahead of the old record.

Easy Flying. The flight to Edmonton is over mountainous country, but Post considers it "like going home" as he is quite familiar with the route and weather conditions are likely to be better.

At Fairbanks preparations had been made for a quick refueling of the Winnie Mae and Post was expected to be soon speeding on his way to Edmonton, 1,450 miles away. The Edmonton-New York leg, the final one of his charted route, is 2,200 miles.

Post was on his seventh day out of New York and elapsed time was 152 hours and 28 minutes when he took off here. Allowing three hours for the flight to Fairbanks, he would be 11 hours and 11 minutes ahead of the Post-Gatty record at that point.

With a quick refueling at Fairbanks he would gain a further advantage as he and Gatty remained there five hours and 54 minutes on the flight two years ago.

LOST SEVEN HOURS. Flat, Alaska, July 21.—(AP)—Refreshed by between five and six hours of sleep, Wiley Post, world girdling flier, was back at the airfield at midnight to watch repairs being made on the damaged Winnie Mae, and said that if possible, he wanted to get away by 1:30 a. m., Fairbanks time (6:30 a. m., eastern standard time).

When that hour arrived, however, Post had returned to a cot in the hangar and was catching a few

TENNESSEE IS WET BY SMALL MARGIN

Latest Returns Show Majority of But 9,677 for Repealists—Wets Satisfied.

Nashville, Tenn., July 21.—(AP)—Tennessee, nineteenth state to vote on prohibition, today became the nineteenth to approve repeal on the face of nearly complete returns from yesterday's referendum—but by the narrowest margin yet recorded.

Tabulation of the unofficial vote in 1,935 of the state's 2,232 precincts, showed: For repeal 121,877; against repeal 112,200.

The returns showed a majority of 9,677 for the repealer. The 297 unreported precincts were scattered over the state and were mostly small ones. It was estimated they did not contain enough votes to over-ride the repeal majority.

Wets Satisfied. W. E. Norvell, Jr., secretary of the Repeal Association said "We're well satisfied, especially in view of the fact that so many of the Republicans lined up against us in the First and Second Districts."

Tennessee voted to elect 63 delegates from the state at large to a convention to be held August 11. The state has been dry since 1909. A bond law enacted eight years after that date only recently was modified to permit sale of 3.2 per cent beer.

VINES IS BEATEN BY BUNNY AUSTIN

U. S. Ace Victim of Stunning Upset; Loses in Three Straight Sets.

Roland Garos Stadium, Auteuil, France, July 21.—(AP)—Henry W. (Bunny) Austin, 26 year old, American Davis Cup forces a terrific jolt today by trouncing Ellsworth Vines, United States champion, in straight sets in the first singles match of the Davis Cup interstate competition. The scores were 6-1, 6-1, 6-4.

Austin, the second ranking player of the English team and considered the "weak" link in the singles, outplayed Vines from start to finish in one of the biggest tennis upsets of recent years. He pounded the American's backhand to pieces in the first two sets, during which he broke through Vines' service five out of seven times, and had sufficient rest to beat back his rival's last, desperate attempt to stem the tide in the third set.

Vines never looked like a champion after winning the first game of the first set. He was wild, he double-faulted frequently and seemed altogether baffled by the Briton's splendid control and keen tactics. Once he found Vines uncertain, Austin never relaxed the pressure.

Americans Stunned. The outcome stunned the Americans as well as a near-capacity crowd, which saw the British gain an unexpected lead before their No. 1 ace, Fred Perry, tackled Wilmer Allison in the second singles match. Austin played almost flawless tennis in handling Vines one of the worst defeats of his entire career. The young American looked like an untrained youngster against the slight-built, blond British youngster who affects tennis "shorts" and has a Shingles were torn away, and a hole was torn in the Congregational church tower.

Two large silos and a dairy barn on the farm of Tony Skuto in Colchester were destroyed by fire started by lightning. Damage there was estimated at $4,000.

Another bolt struck a shed in Bristol, killing a horse and stunning five men who had sought shelter from the storm. A half hour delay was caused in New Haven trolley service as lightning struck high tension cables and all power was shut off. The Southern New England Telephone Company reported fifty per cent of its rural telephones cut off temporarily. Hail stones were reported in the vicinity of Waterbury, but the rain was light, reaching only .25 inches at New Haven.

GEN. FENG DEFIES JAP ARMY CHIEFS

Says He Will Fight to Recover Manchuria As Long As He Is Alive.

Peking, China, July 21.—(AP)—Gen. Feng Yu-Hsiang again defied the central government today in a telegram saying he would fight for the recovery of Manchuria "as long as one breath is left in my body."

General Feng "China's Christian General" whose independent campaign in North China led the Nanjing regime to send 65,000 troops against him and caused apprehensions for a Sino-Japanese truce, sent the message to Chiang Kai-Shek, central government generalissimo.

"I command 100,000 soldiers, and as long as there is one breath left in my body I won't alter my determination to lead these hungry, weary soldiers into battle for the recovery of Manchuria," his telegram said.

Feng's drive to "regain China's lost provinces" of Jehol and Manchuria, in which the Japanese-Managed government of Manchukuo was set up, started in March, and on July 14 he captured Tolunoorh, Chahar province, Inner Mongolia.

FLOW OF ORDERS HELPS BUSINESS

Mercantile Review Reports Retail Sales in Nation Continue to Increase.

New York, July 21.—(AP)—Dun & Bradstreet, in its weekly review of trade today, says that substantial additions still are being made to employment and that the flow of orders and inquiries is quickening, rather than diminishing, with buyers being pressed to action by the broadening sweep of rising markets.

Many of the latter," the review says, "have been provided an additional element of strength by the adoption of the industrial code, thus excluding the possibility of any weakening of the firm position held. The technical reaction in commodity and security markets is viewed as a temporary relaxation of speculative enthusiasm, which merely has paused to gather strength for a fresh revival.

"While reports from all sections of the country revealed an extension of manufacturing activity; there was less uniformity as to the increase in wholesale buying, which, on the other hand, have continued steadily upward, with new records for the current season being made in agricultural districts, where early crops have been marketed. In fact, buyers appear to be increasing more rapidly than decreased during some stages of the period of economic readjustment.

In some districts, retail sales are making the best comparative showing in three years."

TREASURY BALANCE
Washington, July 21.—(AP)—Treasury receipts for July 19 were: $80,015,473.18; expenditures, $98,516,542.95; balance, $938,644,205.74. Customs duties for 19 days of July were $12,635,558.54.

COUNTRY-WIDE DRIVE FOR JOBS LAUNCHED

Throng Cheers Balbo In New York Parade

New York, July 21.—(AP)—Thousands of cheering and enthusiastic throngs described by police as the greatest since the welcome to Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh six years ago, New York City today gave its official reception to General Italo Balbo and his 96 gallant Italian fliers.

The reception began shortly after noon with a parade up Lower Broadway from Battery Park and was climaxed at City Hall with an address by Mayor O'Brien. Police estimated that at least 60,000 jammed the famous street and City Hall park crying "Viva Balbo!" and "Viva Italia!" as the colorful procession wound its way uptown.

Ticker tape, confetti and torn leaves from telephone books fell like rain as workers in the tall buildings along the route rushed to windows and at times it seemed the vision of the drivers of the dozens of automobiles in which the fliers rode might be impeded.

The procession was led by an escort of honor headed by Colonel Joseph A. Marmon, regimental commander of the 16th U. S. Infantry. General Balbo's automobile was next and behind him for several blocks stretched the conveyances in which rode the others in his party.

General Balbo greeted the cheers of the thousands with a broad smile and a quiet salute and appeared to be thoroughly enjoying the continuous ovation. More than 1,500 uniformed police and detectives lined City Hall park and the line of procession, but there were no disturbances. At City Hall the fliers alighted from their automobiles and made their way through a straining lane to the steps of the municipal building where they were greeted by Mayor O'Brien and his aides.

The mayor's address was several thousand words in length and welcomed the Italians to what he described as "the largest Italian city in the world."

"Your flight was gigantic in conception and magnificent in accomplishment," he said. "It seems to me that your success was made possible chiefly because you had the will to do."

He then presented a medal to each of the fliers. That to General Balbo was inscribed: "Presented by the Honorable John P. O'Brien, mayor of the city of New York, to General Italo Balbo, Italian minister of aeronautics, July 21, 1933."

On its front were winged hands clasped and beneath the inscription, "Italia and U. S. A." After the City Hall ceremony, Balbo, surrounded by his senior officers, was whisked through noon-day traffic to the Hotel Pennsylvania, where he was the city's guest at a luncheon.

A crowd of nearly 1,000 persons jammed the reception room at City Hall during the ceremonies, and re-

Recovery Administrator Johnson Sets in Motion Campaign to Swing Every Employer Into Wage Raising Movement—Local Committees to Co-Operate

Washington, July 21.—(AP)—Hugh S. Johnson, recovery administrator, set swiftly in motion today the nation-wide campaign to swing every employer into the wage-raising movement.

He telegraphed to Chamber of Commerce presidents in all cities of over ten thousand, asking them to create local committees which will run the community end of the re-employment drive.

While Johnson acted, President Roosevelt kept close watch on the movement, alert for public reaction to the program to which he had given his official approval only last night.

Meanwhile, deputies pushed ahead hearings on four separate industries which have stepped forward with fair competition codes for self-regulation and labor betterment. These were the shipbuilding, lumber, electric power, manufacturing and the women's cloak and suit industries.

Labor's demands for better wage and hour terms than offered by the employers dominating the proceedings.

Simultaneously the presses at the government printing office were roaring away on production of millions of copies of the emergency President's reemployment agreements, which employers, beginning the middle of next week, will be asked to sign.

Mail carriers were instructed to deliver the blanks to every business establishment employing more than two persons.

Jobs on Request. Johnson asked the presidents of chambers to get on the local committee their mayor and official heads of the clearing house, Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions clubs, retail merchants' associations, Federation of Labor, advertising clubs, federations of women's clubs, welfare societies, ministerial associations, real estate associations and other important units.

Further instructions as to conduct of the campaign were promised later. The campaign in general will be under supervision of Charles F. Horner, Kansas City, wartime head of the Liberty Loan Drive Speakers' Bureau.

Frank R. Wilson of Sioux City, Louis J. Alber of Cleveland and Labert St. Clair of New York, all specialists in the Liberty Loan movement, have been assigned key positions in the new setup.

At a press conference, Johnson said he expects the publicity campaign to get fully under way before August, timed to coincide with the delivery of blank agreements to business establishments.

Asked how women were to be affected under the blanket proposal, he explained that those in offices and stores were included in the "white collar" class provisions. He objected to use of the word "boycott" in connection with the campaign to be waged to get consumers to patronize cooperating establishments. They will not specifically be asked, he said, not to deal with non-cooperating establishments.

For Full 40 Hours. Asked whether new employees who are taken on to round out the time now worked by persons on more than the 40 hour limit, he said that the minimum wage of $12 to $15 was for the full 40 hour week and was not applicable to part time workers.

No regional regulatory committees will be established to see that prices are kept within bounds, Johnson reiterating that no authority will be delegated outside of Washington to pass on essentials of the recovery movement.

He replied to questioners that among the industries which he understood soon would submit codes of fair competition, for wage and hour limitations, were rubber manufacturers, being aided by Newton D. Baker, furniture manufacturers and coal.

He repeated that as soon as one of the agreements now in the making covering a substantial proportion of the industry is presented, he will immediately call in the rest of a joint hearing.

Asked whether the present re-employment drive meant abandonment of the recovery law's provision for licensing industries he said "I have consistently said that will be the last thing I'll ever try."

OREGON EXPECTED TO FAVOR REPEAL

Is Voting Today on Dry Law—Wet Leaders Predict a Two to One Vote.

Portland, Ore., July 21.—(AP)—Oregon, which taboed liquor in 1915, votes on proposed repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment today.

Wet leaders predicted a two to one vote for repeal. Dry organizations said they believed they had "a fighting chance."

The polls open at 8 a. m. for a popular vote on the 18th Amendment and the remaining state constitutional prohibition statutes.

November's Vote. Last November by a vote of 206,619 to 138,775, the enforcing acts of state prohibition were repealed. This, in fact, nullified the Constitutional provisions which remained.

Voters will elect 116 delegates to a constitutional convention on repeal of the 18th Amendment.

Farley's Message. James A. Farley, chairman of the National Democratic committee, telegraphed the Democratic headquarters: "It is highly essential that Oregon votes in favor of repeal this week."

Some responsible prohibition sources, while mentioning for publication that they believed there still was a fighting chance that the wets would be vanquished, admitted privately that if Oregon today gave repeal a majority no greater than it did last November, they would consider they had won a "victory."

BUT LOCAL FORECAST. Hartford, July 21.—(AP)—No local weather observations of any kind, other than a local forecast to be issued each day at 10 p. m., will be provided by the Hartford Weather Bureau after July 31, according to instructions received today from Washington. Lewellyn Raple, meteorologist in charge of the local station, will be the only observer employed at the station.

Burlington, Iowa, July 21.—(AP)—Elliott Roosevelt, son of the President, and Miss Ruth Googins of Connecticut reckoned its damage today from an electrical storm, accompanied by thunder, hail and light rain-fall, which swept last night over the western section of the state.

The steeples of two New Haven churches—the Westville Congregational and Westville Methodist Episcopal, were damaged by lightning bolts. Shingles were torn away, and a hole was torn in the Congregational church tower.

Two large silos and a dairy barn on the farm of Tony Skuto in Colchester were destroyed by fire started by lightning. Damage there was estimated at $4,000.

Another bolt struck a shed in Bristol, killing a horse and stunning five men who had sought shelter from the storm.

A half hour delay was caused in New Haven trolley service as lightning struck high tension cables and all power was shut off. The Southern New England Telephone Company reported fifty per cent of its rural telephones out of temporarily.

Hail stones were reported in the vicinity of Waterbury, but the rain was light, reaching only 25 inches at New Haven.

GEN. FENG DEFIES JAP ARMY CHIEFS

Says He Will Fight to Recover Manchuria As Long As He Is Alive.

Peking, China, July 21.—(AP)—Gen. Feng Yu-Hsiang again defied the central government today in a telegram saying he would fight for the recovery of Manchuria "as long as one breath is left in my body."

General Feng "China's Christian General" whose independent campaign in North China led the Nanjing regime to send 65,000 troops against him and caused apprehensions for a Sino-Japanese truce, sent the message to Chiang Kai-Shek, central government generalissimo.

"I command 100,000 soldiers, and as long as there is one breath left in my body I won't alter my determination to lead these hungry, weary soldiers into battle for the recovery of Manchuria," his telegram said.

Feng's drive to "regain China's lost provinces" of Jehol and Manchuria, in which the Japanese-Manchurian government of Manchukuo was set up, started in March, and on July 14 he captured Tolunoorh, Chahar province, Inner Mongolia.

To suppress Feng Marshal Chiang was in Kuling to (Continued On Page Fourteen)

WOMAN IS KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Auto Crashes Into Big Truck Near Darien—Victim Was Prominent Socially.

Darien, July 21.—(AP)—Mrs. Helen B. Hoyt, 42, of Betwoods road, Norwalk, and said to have been prominent socially was instantly killed here at 1:30 this morning, when an automobile in which she was riding, collided with a ten ton truck loaded with brass pipe on the Post Road at Brookside avenue.

Douglas Nash, 43, of Nash Island, Noroton, and brother of Mayor Harold Nash of Norwalk, the driver of the automobile was slightly injured. He is under arrest in Norwalk hospital pending inquest into the death of Mrs. Hoyt. Her neck was broken, her skull fractured and she was otherwise injured. At Norwalk hospital, where she was brought, it was said death was instantaneous.

Patrick O'Neill, of 80 Loudsbury street, Waterbury, driver of the truck was also arrested on a technical charge of manslaughter. He was released in bail of $2,500.

While reports from all sections of the country revealed an extension of manufacturing activity, there was less uniformity in the increase in wholesale buying. Retail sales, on the other hand, have continued steadily upward, with new records for the current season being made in agricultural districts, where early crops have been marketed. In fact, buying appears to be increasing more rapidly than it decreased during some stages of the period of economic readjustment.

In some districts, retail sales are making the best comparative showing in three years.

OREGON EXPECTED TO FAVOR REPEAL

Is Voting Today on Dry Law—Wet Leaders Predict a Two to One Vote.

Portland, Ore., July 21.—(AP)—Oregon, which taboed liquor in 1915, votes on proposed repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment today.

Wet leaders predicted a two to one vote for repeal. Dry organizations said they believed they had "a fighting chance."

The polls open at 8 a. m., for a popular vote on the 18th Amendment and the remaining state constitutional prohibition statutes.

Last November by a vote of 206,619 to 138,775, the enforcing acts of the prohibition were repealed. This, in fact, nullified the Constitutional provisions which remained.

Voters will elect 118 delegates to a constitutional convention on repeal of the 18th Amendment.

Farley's Message
James A. Farley, chairman of the National Democratic committee, telegraphed the Democratic headquarters: "It is highly essential that Oregon votes in favor of repeal this November."

Some responsible prohibition sources while mentioning for publication that they believed there still was a fighting chance that the wets would be vanquished, admitted privately that if Oregon today gave repeal a majority no greater than it did last November, they would consider they had won a "victory."

Flow of Orders Helps Business
Mercantile Review Reports Retail Sales in Nation Continue to Increase.

New York, July 21.—(AP)—Dun & Bradstreet, in its weekly review of trade today, says that substantial additions still are being made to employment and payrolls, and the flow of orders and inquiries is quickening, rather than diminishing, with buyers being pressed to action by the broadening sweep of rising markets.

"Many of the latter," the review says, "have been provided an additional element of strength by the adoption of the industrial code, thus excluding the possibility of any weakening of the firm position held."

"The technical reaction in commodity and security markets is viewed as a temporary relaxation of speculative enthusiasm, which merely has paused to gather strength for a fresh revival."

COUNTRY-WIDE DRIVE FOR JOBS LAUNCHED

Throngs Cheer Balbo In New York Parade

New York, July 21.—(AP)—To the cheers of an enthusiastic throng described by police as the greatest since the welcome to Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh six years ago, New York City today gave its official reception to General Italo Balbo and his 98 gallant Italian fliers.

The reception began shortly after noon with a parade up Lower Broadway from Battery Park and was climaxed at City Hall with an address by Mayor O'Brien.

Police estimated that at least 60,000 jammed the famous street and City Hall park crying "Viva Balbo!" and "Viva Italia!" as the colorful procession wound its way uptown.

Ticker tape, confetti and torn leaves from telephone books fell like rain as workers in the tall buildings along the route rushed to windows and at times it seemed as if the drivers of the dozens of automobiles in which the fliers rode might be impeded.

The procession was led by an escort of honor headed by Colonel Joseph A. Marmon, regimental commander of the 16th U. S. Infantry. General Balbo's automobile was next and behind him for several blocks stretched the conveyances in which the others in his party, which rode to the city hall, were of the thousands with a cheer and a quick salute and appeared to be thoroughly enjoying the continuous ovation.

More than 1,500 uniformed police and detectives lined City Hall park and the line of procession, but there were no disturbances.

At City Hall the fliers alighted from their automobiles and made their way through a straining line to the steps of the municipal building where they were greeted by Mayor O'Brien and his aides.

The mayor's address was several thousand words in length and welcomed the Italians to what he described as "the largest Italian city in the world."

"Your flight was gigantic in conception and magnificent in accomplishment," he said. "It seems to me that your success was made possible chiefly because you had the will to do it."

He then presented a medal to each of the fliers. That to General Balbo was inscribed: "Honorable John P. O'Brien, mayor of the city of New York, to General Italo Balbo, Italian minister of aeronautics, July 21, 1933."

On its front were winged hands clasped and beneath the inscription, "Italia and U. S."

After the City Hall ceremony, Balbo, surrounded by his senior officers, was whisked through noon-day traffic to the Hotel Pennsylvania, where he was the city's guest at a luncheon.

Recovery Administrator Johnson Sets in Motion Campaign to Swing Every Employer Into Wage Raising Movement—Local Committees to Co-Operate

Washington, July 21.—(AP)—Hugh S. Johnson, recovery administrator, set swiftly in motion today the nation-wide campaign to swing every employer into the wage-raising movement.

He telegraphed to Chamber of Commerce presidents in all cities of over ten thousand, asking them to create local committees which will run the community end of the re-employment drive.

While Johnson acted, President Roosevelt kept close watch on the movement, alert for public reaction to the program to which he gave his official approval only last night.

Meanwhile, deputies pushed ahead hearings on four separate industries which have stepped forward with fair competition codes for self-regulation and labor betterment.

These were the shipbuilding, lumber, electrical manufacturing and the women's cloak and suit industries.

Labor's demands for better wage and hour terms than offered by the employers dominating the proceedings.

Simultaneously the presses at the government printing office were roaring away on production of millions of copies of the emergency President's reemployment agreements, which employers, beginning the middle of next week, will be asked to sign.

Mail carriers were instructed to deliver the blanks to every business establishment employing more than two persons.

Jobs On Request
Johnson asked the presidents of chambers to get on the local committee their mayor and official heads of the clearing houses, Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions clubs, retail merchants' associations, Federation of Labor, advertising clubs, federations of women's clubs, welfare societies, ministerial associations, real estate associations and other important units.

Further instructions as to conduct of the campaign were promised later.

The campaign in general will be under supervision of Charles F. Horner, Kansas City, wartime head of the Liberty Loan Drive Speaker's Bureau.

Frank R. Wilson of Sioux City, Louis J. Alber of Cleveland and Albert St. Clair of New York, all specialists in the Liberty Loan movement, have been assigned key positions in the new setup.

At a press conference, Johnson said he expects the publicity campaign to get fully under way before August, timed to coincide with the delivery of blank agreements to business establishments. They will not specifically be asked, he said, not to deal with non-cooperators.

For Full 40 Hours
Asked whether new employees who are taken on to round out the time now worked by persons on more than the 40 hour limit, he said that the minimum wage of $12 to $15 was for the full 40 hour week and was not applicable to part time workers.

No regional regulatory committees will be established to see that prices are kept within bounds, Johnson reiterating that no authority will be delegated outside of Washington to pass on essentials of the recovery movement.

He replied to questions that among the industries which he understood soon would submit codes of fair competition, for wage and hour limitations, were rubber manufacturers, being aided by Newton D. Baker, furniture manufacturers and coal.

He repeated that as soon as one of the agreements now in the making covering a substantial proportion of the industry is presented, he will immediately call in the rest of a joint hearing.

Asked whether the present re-employment drive meant abandonment of the recovery law's provision for licensing industries he said "I have consistently said that will be the last thing I'll ever try."

Fort Worth, Texas, will be married tomorrow under present arrangements, the Associated Press learned from an unimpeachable source today.

Asked how women were to be affected under the blanket proposal, he explained that those in offices and stores were included in the "white collar" class provision.

He objected to use of the word "boycott" in connection with the campaign to be waged to get consumers to patronize cooperating establishments. They will not specifically be asked, he said, not to deal with non-cooperators.

WHEELS WITHIN WHEELS AT CAPITAL

No Other President Ever Surrounded Himself With Such a Machine.

There are so many wheels within wheels in the Roosevelt administration, and they all are revolving so rapidly, that it is no wonder visitors to official Washington often go away completely bewildered. No other President ever surrounded himself with so complicated a set-up. When you speak of the "inner circle" nowadays you have to designate which inner circle you mean.

There is the regular cabinet. There is the circle of administrators and co-ordinators, some more powerful than any cabinet member. There is the "brain trust," composed of 20 college professors, officials. There is the political inner circle, which includes Postmaster General Farley and Secretary Howe.

Every one of these groups has a special claim to the confidence of the President. Not one seems certain what any other is doing. Many crossed wires are inevitable. Washington is as full of rumors as the army was in wartime — which is saying a great deal.

The Welter of Rumors
Treasury Secretary Woodin's continued absence — he went away June 15 — has inspired reports that the way is being prepared for his retirement.

His stay in New York is attributed to illness. Stories he disapproves with Mr. Roosevelt's financial policies (many of which originated with the "brain trust") are officially denied, but they persist.

There are many guesses as to what State Secretary Hull will do when he returns from London economic conference. Private reports of what happened there during the visit of Assistant Secretary Raymond Moley are beginning to reach the White House, and, sooner or later, Washington is expecting developments in the situation between the secretary and the "brain trust" dean who technically is his subordinate.

He has the sensitive pulse of official speculation failed to respond to such developments as the extraordinary role assumed recently by Bernard M. Baruch, or the designation of Frank Walker as a sort of co-ordinator of co-ordinators, highly called by some "assistant President."

The Inside Track
The general impression around the capital is that if anybody really has the inside track it is the professors.

That impression has been deepened by the President's failure to consult officers with party wheel-horses, most of whom don't show much liking for the professors.

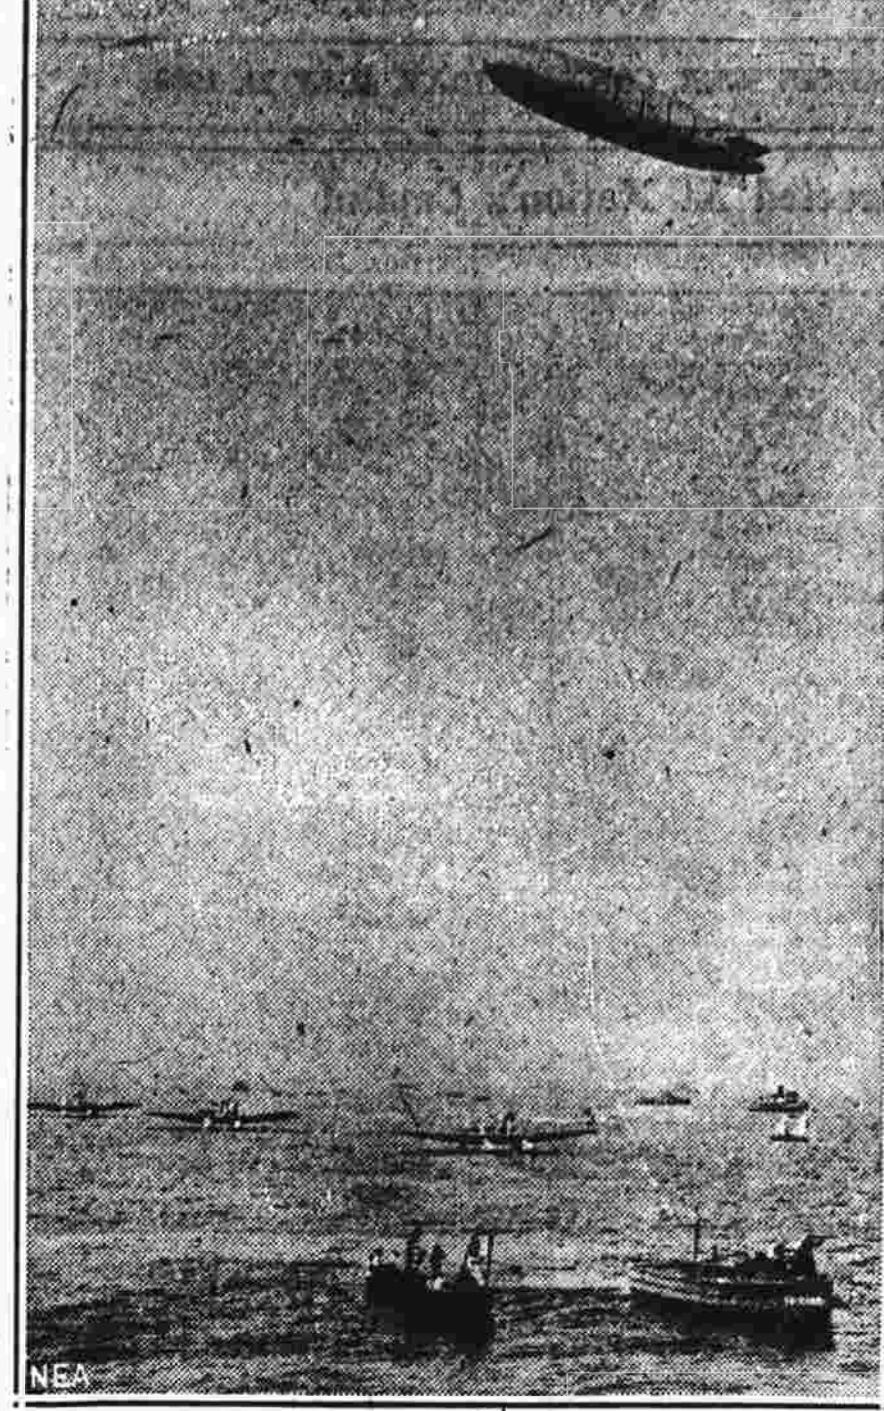

It was many weeks after election before Albert C. Ritchie heard a word from the President-elect. Since that night Mr. Roosevelt has had no communication with Alfred E. Smith, unless it has taken place very recently.

Yet the presidential veto of Professor Moley's London stabilization scheme demonstrates that the President by no means thinks the brain trust infallible. Accumulating evidence indicates he reserves the right to make his own decisions.

It is an old trait of Mr. Roosevelt to keep people guessing. He made a game of it when he selected his cabinet, not only with the newspaper reporters but with those immediately involved. Even Farley has told friends he was not invited into the cabinet until just before inauguration.

So there can be little doubt that the present guessing game is something more than mere accident; or that the President is enjoying it immensely.

FORD USES ALUMINUM FOR CYLINDER HEADS

Has Made Wide Study of Light Alloys and Improves Use in Engines.

That the Ford Motor Company has long been an advocate of incorporating the finest materials and metals in their product, regardless of cost, is a fact well known to the entire industry. One of the first to use expensive, long lasting steels and fine alloys, it was but natural for Ford to watch and study the advanced developments of light alloys in the aluminum field.

The fact that aluminum costs considerably more than iron is not the point with us," explained one Ford executive. "If the newer light alloy has advantages which will benefit the motorist, that is the only factor to which Ford gives consideration. Today the Ford organization is one of the largest users of aluminum in the industry and that is because aluminum has such marked advantages.

In the matter of pistons for example, for several years now Ford has used aluminum pistons. Yes—they cost more than iron—much more—but aluminum pistons improve the all around performance of the modern car. Much of the speed, get-away and chain lightning which one finds in the new Ford is traceable to aluminum pistons.

Then Ford reasoned as follows: Inasmuch as aluminum pistons have made possible such a high degree of efficiency in the bottom half of the combustion chamber, it seems reasonable to assume that if the cylinder head was made of aluminum, the Ford engine would possess many marked operating advantages.

So today the new Ford comes equipped with aluminum alloy cylinder heads. All conceivable experimental and laboratory tests, as well as the most grilling road tests, have demonstrated that the new Ford greatly aids in effecting new economy—better efficiency and improved all around performance. The definite advantages of aluminum cylinder heads, to the motorist are manifold. To begin with, aluminum weighs much less than iron. That reduces the weight of the car. Dead weight is eliminated.

"As aluminum cools three times as rapidly as does iron, the engine temperatures are more perfectly controlled. Hot spots are eliminated. This means more heat units are turned into usable power. Less escape through the exhaust, and escape of this character is a splendid example of one's money going up in smoke. The motorist gets more power advantage from every drop of gasoline. Also the motorist does not have to buy premium or high priced fuels.

Some of the additional advantages of the aluminum cylinder head are as follows: improved performance—higher engine output with lower fuel consumption — night-r compression—slower and lighter accumulation of carbon deposits — another operation — increased valve life — lower oil temperatures — elimination of "ping"—reduction of weight. In addition to aluminum pistons and aluminum cylinder heads, incorporated in the new Ford is an aluminum valve chamber cover and aluminum distributor bracket, a die cast aluminum carburetor and many other aluminum items of equal importance."

Losses Range from $3 to $12 in Wildest Market Since 1929.

New York, July 21.—(AP)—Stocks crashed downward today in the wildest market since 1929. Extreme losses generally ranged from $3 to more than $12 a share for shares of the country's largest corporations.

Trading in many issues was demoralized due to the absence of supporting orders. Pools liquidated stocks in enormous volume and there was tremendous selling from speculative margin accounts that had collapsed.

Reports that the New York Stock Exchange planned to close were denied by the Exchange, which also said that dealings had not been suspended in any issue, despite the chaotic condition of the market. The tape at one time fell half an hour behind floor transactions.

By 2:55 o'clock the market had rallied from the lows. The rebound for some leaders was substantial. American Telephone snapping back to $119 from $114, reducing its loss by half. United States Steel Common, which had collapsed under $50 for a loss of about $8, veered back to above $52, while New York Central after losing $11 cut its decline by $5.

Indications were that the turnover would exceed 9,000,000 shares. At 3 o'clock, the usual closing hour, the tape was half an hour later.

Not since the frenzied early stages of the decline four years ago had the market witnessed such a drastic deflation of values as occurred this afternoon. Stocks were offered for what they would bring and buyers, for a time, were scarce at any price.

The upswing that started shortly before 3 o'clock appeared due to heavy short covering as well as purchases by traders who were trying for "a turn" on the theory that a rebound was due.

The break coincided with a tumble of $6 a bale in cotton. The market was still climbing from its lows after 3 o'clock and by 3:10 losses had been roughly cut in half. American Telephone at that time was off $3.75 at $120, while U. S. Steel was down $4.50 at $53.

FEDERAL JUDGE RULES IN "NIGHTINGALE" CASE

Rum Boat Returned to Government Had Many of Its Parts Missing.

Hartford, July 20.—(AP)—A boat seized by the government and later released on bonds cannot be returned to the government after a judgment is rendered, but the judgment shall be against the bond, according to a memorandum of decision handed down today by Federal Judge Carroll Chittick. The decision discharged a rule to show cause, brought against the District Attorney and fought by Assistant District Attorney George H. Cohen.

In the case before Judge Chittick, the gas screw "Nightingale" owned by Carl Schaeffer, was seized February 6, 1931, by the Coast Guard with a large quantity of intoxicating liquor on board, and was held for violation of customs and liquor laws. In order to bring about the release of the boat, it was appraised at $6,000 and a bond to that amount, with the Greater City Surety and Indemnity Corporation of New York as surety, was filed.

The "Nightingale" was released on May 12, 1932, judgment of condemnation and forfeiture was filed by Judge Edwin S. Thomas of the Federal court. The boat was remanded, and in July it was returned to New London by the owner or his representatives. It was found, however, that many parts of the engine and much necessary equipment had been stripped before delivery, and Mr. Cohen refused to accept the boat and applied for the bond. The bond was ordered forfeited in December, 1932, and the

TOWNS IN STATE URGED TO SEND IN FIGURES

Applications for Federal Funds Must Be Submitted During Next Week.

Hartford, July 21.—(AP)—The state emergency relief commission today was notified by National Administrator Harry L. Hopkins in Washington that Connecticut's application for relief funds for April and May, must be submitted next week.

In order to expedite returns from communities in the state, therefore, Miss Eleanor H. Little, executive secretary said today, a message was sent out last night to the fifty-six towns which had not yet replied to questionnaires.

The message read: "Your report of relief for April, May and June not received. If no relief was given, write. If you need help, all respond so that Connecticut can get the Federal grant to which the state is entitled and which is not to be repaid. The money for the first quarter is here and applications are due for the second quarter."

Miss Little said the reports for June must be submitted to Washington by the end of this month.

Government To Stop Manipulation of Stock

Washington, July 21.—(AP)—The Roosevelt administration is ready to take whatever action it can command, if that becomes necessary, to stop manipulation of stock and commodity markets by operators seeking profit only for themselves.

This was evident today as Secretary Wallace moved to develop a definite program to halt, if possible, widespread shifts in grain prices. Wallace gave his approval to suspension of futures trading for a day at Chicago and other points.

President Roosevelt concentrated on his industrial recovery program, continued, his advisers believe, this would accomplish more to restore better times than changes in quoted prices on the exchanges. Nevertheless, those close to him believe if price fluctuations endanger his recovery plans, the President will act and act quickly.

At the direction of President Roosevelt, Wallace restored the requirement—suspended last October—that the Agriculture Department be informed daily of the names of operators who have traded heavily in the grain market.

This was preliminary, Wallace said, to developing a definite plan to stop violent shifts in grain prices.

At three o'clock this afternoon a total of 1,085 votes had been cast in the special town meeting on the Cheney utilities purchase. The women's machines showed 250 votes and the men's machines 835. Workers on both sides of the question have made plans to get out a large vote later this afternoon and evening.

The suitness of the day, kept many at home who had planned to vote earlier in the day. The vote this evening is expected to be about 1,000 when the Hartford workers return. A large number of Cheney workers will vote after five o'clock.

Iona, Mich., farmer narrowly escaped being hit by a falling meteor on the day the farm relief bill became effective. We always predicted that the heavens would fall if something was done for the farmer.

Labor Troubles Bring Tears

Pennsylvania's widespread labor troubles took a serious turn at Lansdale when Sheriff's deputies spread tear gas on hoister strikers and brought from Governor Gifford Pinchot a demand for an investigation by state police. ### CLASH OF SERVICE TEAMS ON TONIGHT

Legion Nine Battles V. F. W. Champs at Charter Oak Street Field at 6.15.

In an effort to regain their lost prestige as sandlot stars, members of the American Legion team will tackle the V. F. W. team, town service champions, tonight at the Charter Oak street grounds, weather permitting at 6:15 o'clock. Still smarting under the defeat the Vets handed them in two straight games last year, Earl Wright and his 1933 crew of muscle-bound Old Timers will try to pin a defeat on the boys still centering around under the Cross of Malta.

Since last year many of the Vets have taken up that good old barnyard game—golf—and after several months on the greens and fairways it is rumored that a few of the more active members of last year's team have broken 120 on a certain East Hartford course. Just what they will do in the game tonight after several weeks on the greens and fairways is still in doubt, but the Legion expects to show the Vets that golf and baseball do not mix—at least not as far as hitting is concerned.

The Vets, on the other hand, pin their hopes on Miller, their new moundman. Miller, an ex-New York State League hurler, is going great guns this season and takes his regular turn in the box for Camp Roosevelt. Killingsworth, a few weeks ago he yesterday hard-hitting New Haven Colored Giants down with one hit, the Camp winning by a close score.

It is expected that the Vets will use Bentie, an old-time catcher, battery mate for Miller. Bentie has been playing regularly this season and is a dangerous hitter as the Legion will remember from last year's games. At first the Vets will have Kilpatrick, of the All-Atlantic Marine team, champions of the Far East, farther back than most of the World War boys can remember. Bill Fortin will center around the pivot sack and Harry Mathison, player-manager of the Vets will hold down shortstop. The old reliable "C" Peterson, starting with the Old Time Athletics this season will hold down the hot corner. The Vets will have about a dozen good men to use in the outfield, including last year's sensation, Harry Roth who decorated the score book with several singles and doubles in previous engagements. "Kid" Smith will be on hand to take over the mask and protector if the going gets too heavy for Bentie. George Tedford will toss them for the Legion with Billy Stevenson behind the plate. The Legion infield will be composed of John Eshelman at the hot corner, Harry Russell at short, George Kennedy at second, Russell Pflanz at first. The other players ready to assist Manager Earl Wright are: Ed Quish, Don Hemingway, Frank Zimmerman, Frank Anderson, Frank Cervini and Jack Jenney.

A large crowd of rooters from the Auxiliaries of both outfits will be on hand to cheer their respective stars on to victory.

SEVEN ARE BOUND OVER FOR STEALING LIQUOR

Legal Beverages Were Taken from Cellar While Owner Was in Europe.

Sharon, July 21.—(AP)—Seven men accused of stealing high quality liquors, some of old vintage, were bound over to Litchfield county Superior Court by Justice Markes late yesterday after several hours hearing. The liquors were taken from the house on the estate of Sally Cobbs Jones during the absence of the owner in Europe.

Fred Bouton and Everett French of Millerton, N. Y., pleaded guilty, but Frank Heno, Eugene Hunt, Thomas Goff, Henry Wojcik and Conrad Wojcik, all of Danbury, pleaded not guilty. Probable cause was found in their cases, and all were bound over for trial.

Bouton gave the most testimony, he telling of the plan to obtain the liquor and the means taken to steal it from the house. It was in a wine cellar, once used by the army under General Washington in which to hold prisoners.

State officers told of recovery of some of the liquors, and Lieutenant Leo Carroll related the fight with the Wojicks, and the taking of a gun from Conrad who he said threatened to kill him.

The Wojicks and Hunt and Goff furnished bonds. The others went to the Litchfield jail for safekeeping.

Edgar J. Brown, postmaster at Waterville whose term would have expired Dec. 18, 1933, was asked to resign immediately, department officials said, for "service reasons." At the same time it was denied that the department that any change would be made in the policy of retaining Republican postmasters so long as they administered their offices efficiently.

Poulin will receive a salary of $3,300 per year.

Wheat, rye, oats and rice — America's most important crops, excepting corn — all came from Europe.

Recreation Center Items of Interest

One of the largest crowds that ever witnessed an all sports program was seen at the West Side playground last Wednesday, when the main attraction was a ball game between the Rec Girls and Wassuc Girls of Glastonbury the game going to the Rec girls with the score of 17 to 11. Another feature was the horseshoe pitching by the locals and the Lithuanian team, when the latter team won most of the games.

The Fall Cedars Band gave a splendid concert. The Rec feels as though it made a success of the day and in the future another affair of that kind will be held.

The next attraction that the Rec will have will be the water carnival which will be held at Globe Hollow, and we feel that thousands of kiddies and juniors and parents will attend this carnival. The pool attendance so far this year has broken all records and that will make attendance run into thousands.

Another reason for the attraction will be that over 2,000 kiddies will be treated to free ice cream and candy as well as many other kinds of sweets. Everything will be free to the kiddies, and then there will be races, stunts and fancy diving by the juniors and seniors of the Globe Hollow Swimming team.

One of the biggest features of the day will be the diving of a 5 year old girl from the five foot diving board and then swim 25 yards. This young girl will be a Manchester swimmer and all who care to see this will be more than surprised to see how small a person she is. Everyone is welcome.

On Sunday morning the Sub-Alpines and Manchester Green will start their ball game which has been the talk of the town as well as in the newspaper.

TRADE SCHOOL NOTES

The State Trade school will close for its annual summer vacation on Saturday, August 12, re-opening on Tuesday, September 5. The office will be open September 5 to receive the applications of new students.

William Kean, janitor of the school, will take his vacation from July 31 to August 12. Members of the drafting department of the school are planning to visit various plants in this vicinity during the coming week, some of the plants being the Chance-Vought Corporation, Pratt & Whitney Aircraft Company, Colt's Patent Fire Arms Mfg. Company, Underwood-Elliott Fisher Company, Whitney Mfg. Company, Hartford Machine Screw and New Departure Mfg. Company.

A group of students, accompanied by Instructor Walter Schober, today visited the Hartford Trade School on a tour of inspection.

A total of forty-five persons are now enrolled for the summer courses given each year at the Trade school. Seventy-three of the regular Trade students are out on vacation or working during the summer.

Due to the success of a party held last week at the cottage of Inspector Howard Fisher at Lake Haywood, the school faculty plans another similar affair at Coventry Lake in the near future.

The faculty has also organized a golf team, consisting of Alec T. McBride, Ernest Paniers, Frank Crowley and J. G. Eckman.

The Meriden Trade school at Meriden on Saturday, July 29. The creation of the textile code with its increase of interest in the textile industry has brought a flood of requests to the school for training in the textile course. Many young men and women seek special training in certain branches of textiles and the school is taking care of as many applications as possible.

Last year, 73 persons were trained in this manner.

Now that the huge public works bill has finally passed, it looks like President Roosevelt is getting ready to give unemployment the works.

A Couple of Men From Mars

The Piccard twins, Auguste and Jean, are shown here as they inspected the metal ball in which Jean hopes to come closer to Mars than did Auguste, who has been closer than any other human. The view is through a porthole of the gondola, now being completed at Midland, Mich. Jean Piccard faces the camera.

Anti-Kidnaping Drive Meeting With Success

A concerted anti-kidnaping drive was producing results in various sections of the country, officials asserted today.

Captain Daniel Gilbert, chief investigator for the Cook county state's attorney's office in Chicago, said he had reliable information that three of four members of the gang of Roger Tuohy of Chicago, arrested in Elkhorn, Wis., were involved in the recent abduction of John Factor, speculator.

The police at Elkhorn said the prisoners were identified as Tuohy, Willie Sharkey, "Gloomy Gus" Schaefer and Ed McFadden. They said Schaefer had $1,200 in $10 bills in his possession. Reports at the time Factor was released were that his ransom, reputed to be from $50,000 to $200,000 was paid in $10 and $20 bills.

The suspects were returned to Chicago, where they are to be questioned about Factor's abduction and the kidnaping of William Hamm, Jr., wealthy St. Paul brewer.

At the same time progress was claimed by officials in their investigation of the abduction and subsequent release of August Luer, Alton, Ill., banker, with the announcement that one of five suspects—Fercy Michael Fitzgerald—had confessed participation in the crime.

Almost simultaneously with these developments came announcement from Senator Louis Murphy of Iowa that the Federal government was investigating all forms of racketeering, and especially kidnaping, with the idea of strengthening laws to cope with the situation.

Meanwhile, kidnapers still held young John J. O'Connell, Jr., who was snatched by abductors in Albany, N. Y.

MATTERN AWAITS NEW YORK MESSAGE

World Flier Reaches Nome, Alaska, in a Big Soviet Seaplane.

Nome, Alaska, July 21.—(AP)—Greeted by his relief expedition Jimmie Matern, round-the-world flier, today awaited further word from his New York backers about his future activities, at the same time seeking further news of the progress of his rival, Wiley Post.

In a big Soviet seaplane flown by Pilot Levonovsky, a Russian flier, Matern made the 600-mile flight here yesterday from Anadyr, Siberia, near where he crashed on June 14 on his globe-gridding flight. The plane arrived at 1:10 p. m. (7:10 p. m., e. s. t.) yesterday.

Within six miles of Nome, they reported, they ran out of gas and were compelled to land, before resuming their flight.

Another pilot, two mechanics and a navigator made up the remainder of the seaplane's crew. They planned to remain here until tonight or tomorrow, before returning to Siberia.

Matern still wishes to complete his globe-circling flight to New York, he said, but his plans are not definite. The plane in which he left New York on June 13 is a wreck 50 miles from Anadyr.

The seaplane was dispatched to Matern's aid by the Soviet government. Matern offered to aid his Oklahoma round-the-world rival when he heard Post had disabled his plane in landing at Flat.

"I'm sure I'll be able to hear he suffered such a misfortune," Matern said. "If there's anything I can do, I'll put forth every effort to help him get going again, so that he can break the round-the-world record."

TO PEOPLE WHO WANT SOMETHING FOR NOTHING

There are some things we refuse to do to sell a car. We like sales, but fair-dealing and the confidence of our customers are desirable, too. For one thing, we refuse to poison anyone's mind against another make of car. We know what our car is and what it will do, and we are ready to tell you about that. But to imply defects in another car is not our business. We have done our utmost to encourage intelligent buying of motor cars by showing purchasers how to protect their own interests. All that a good producer asks is a customer who knows quality when he sees it. An intelligent purchaser will speedily conclude that only a bad product requires bad sales methods. We refuse, also, to adopt the role of tricky trader—that is, pretending to offer you a larger trade-in allowance, and taking it away from you in some other way. Ford trade-in values are high, but we do not make fictitious allowances in order to get a sale which may be otherwise disadvantageous to the buyer. Our dealers take used cars upon a system of values, not by haggling or barter. In this world no one gets something for nothing, although there are many ways of making people think that they do. The sure way to get value for value is, first, by being yourself willing to deal on that basis, and second, by dealing with a concern that has no other policy. We refuse to keep dinning in your ears that the Ford V-8 is the best, most economical, lowest-priced car. That is claimed for several cars. Obviously it cannot be true of all. There comes a point where claims and adjectives and all advertising hysteria disappears in its own fog. Personally, I prefer facts. We say the new Ford V-8 is the best car we have made. We say that our 8-cylinder car is as economical to operate as any lower number of cylinders. We say that we have always been known as the makers of good cars and that the many good, well-balanced qualities of our present car places it at the head of our line to date. Anyone wishing to do business with us on these principles will find our word and the quality of our product to be A-1. What we say about economy, operation and durability will stand good anywhere.

KEN STRONG AWARDED $75,000 FOR INJURIES

Noted Athlete Claimed Surgeon Removed Wrong Bone from Wrist During Operation.

Detroit, July 21.—(AP)—Ken Strong, star football and baseball player, today was awarded $75,000 by a Federal Court Jury in his suit against Dr. Alfred L. La Ferte of Detroit, who he charged removed the wrong bone from his wrist, in an operation. He asked $250,000.

Strong charged the operation left his athletic ability impaired, and caused him loss of income as a major league baseball player and pro-football star. He once was a member of the Detroit Tigers baseball team, and played with the Stapleton professional football team.

Dr. La Ferte's testimony was based principally on the charge that the operation, following an injury to Strong's wrist in Buffalo several years ago, had caused improvement in the athlete's wrist. He asserted that an unnatural fibrous condition of the bone made it impossible to distinguish it from other wrist bones. His attorney said he would ask for a new trial.

Prominent athletes, including Bobby Veach, former major league baseball star, testified for Strong, while medical men appeared for Dr. La Ferte.

Strong was a college athletic star during his three years with the New York University eleven.

ASK 5 CENTS TOLL CALL TO HARTFORD

Petition Being Circulated in Town Quietly—Rate Now 10 Cents.

A petition asking that a five-cent rate be established on toll calls to Hartford has been circulated in Manchester for the past two weeks, it was learned today, and will be presented to the local office of the Southern New England Telephone Company in the near future, when it is felt that the number of signers is large enough to bear weight with company officials.

Work quietly

An attempt was made today to learn the names of the persons who started the movement for a lower rate but known signers of the petition, when questioned, were non-committal, pointing out that they preferred to work with as little publicity on the matter as possible for the time being.

Manager William B. Halsted of the local telephone office is aware that the petition is in circulation but it has not been presented to him as yet. It has been pointed out that the toll rate from Glastonbury, and also from Windsor to Hartford is only five cents, while the cost from Manchester is ten cents.

It is understood that a large number of local influential business men have signed the petition.

Captain Endres and Captain Magyar flew from Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, to a point 25 miles from Budapest, Hungary, and never saw the Atlantic ocean, because of fog.

MCLAUGHLIN SCORES CLASSIFICATION LISTS

Head of Meriden School for Boys Says It Is Unjust to Employees.

Hartford, July 21.—(AP)—Roy L. McLaughlin, superintendent of the Connecticut School for Boys at Meriden, sees serious flaws in the classification lists submitted by the State Board of Finance and Control for the ninety employees at the reform school.

If the present program of salary schedules is carried out, he said, many of his employes will get drastic cuts up to 30 per cent, while four others will actually win an increase in salary out of proportion to the value of their services.

Mr. McLaughlin has pointed out this situation and other discrepancies in the plan in a letter to the State Board of Finance and Control, and though he anticipates a willingness on the part of the board to rectify injustices wherever possible, he indicated that the entire classification scheme presents numerous unsatisfactory features outweighing the benefits claimed by its sponsors. The board will formally confer with Mr. McLaughlin on the whole problem before the classification is permanently applied to his institution.

Bridgeport, July 21.—(AP)—Seventy-six out of 111 pieces of limestone on the new Federal building here were marked for replacement today in an inspection of allegedly defective limestone made by C. Wellington Walker, supervising architect, and William E. Brown, contractor.

Treasury Department construction engineer on the job.

The stone marked for replacement will be reported to Washington as falling to come up to specifications. The Treasury Department has already ruled that the stone condemned by the inspectors must be torn out and replaced by the contractor.

FARMERS WILL NOT LOSE IF TOBACCO ADVANCES

Government Will Not Use the Option It Holds Over Future Crops.

Hartford, July 21.—(AP)—Congressman Herman P. Koppelman today assured tobacco farmers that if the industry shows stable advance and a sufficiently high market is reached, the government will not exercise the option it holds for the seasons of 1934 and 1935 under the acreage reduction contracts now being signed in the valley.

Mr. Koppelman, in dall, touch with the adjustment administration and J. E. Hutson, acting chief of the tobacco section, is positive on this point, which has disturbed some growers who have not yet signed and who misunderstand the administration plan to co-operate only so long as relief is necessary.

"Naturally," he said in his Hartford office, "the government does not intend spending money on future reductions if a change in market conditions makes it unnecessary." Yesterday he communicated with Mr. Hutson and urged that rulings in the administration of the plan be made "favorable to farmers."

HELD FOR TRIAL

East Hartford, July 21.—(AP)—Martin Resnik of 405 East 182 street, New York, and Harold Zimmerman of Durham, are held in bonds of $3,500 and $1,000 respectively for trial in East Hartford Town Court on July 27, on charges involving the sale of stolen automobiles and giving false information to the commissioner of motor vehicles.

State Policeman Joseph N. Saksa and William Keegan of the insurance underwriters, who conducted the investigations, which led to the arrests, have recovered five automobiles which are claimed to have been stolen in New York, the numbers changed, and sold in Connecticut.

IMMUNIZATION

Editor, Manchester Evening Herald:

On page 12 of the Herald of Wednesday, July 19, there are some interesting paragraphs headed "Pre-School Children Must Be Immunized." On reading them carefully, one, unacquainted with the usual methods of Health Departments would get the idea that the vaccination and diphtheria immunization treatments given by the Board of Health are compulsory for the pre-school children of those on the charity and unemployed lists.

There is no law in this state compelling vaccination or immunization of pre-school children.

Presumably, the truth of the matter is that the children specified who have been registered before August 14 with the Board of Health may receive these treatments. Compulsion is not legal. Naturally, the more parents there are who can be scared into believing that the treatments are compulsory, the more children there will be to receive these questionable treatments.

It would be interesting, also, to hear the opinions of those taxpayers whose money pays for these treatments of which many highly disapprove.

New York, July 21.—The Analyst's preliminary index of business activity for June is 76 as compared with 68.8 for May, 87.4 for April and 82.9 for March. The figure is now the highest since July, 1931. Last month's widest gain on a weighted basis was in cotton consumption, but freight car loadings, steel ingot production and electric power output contributed heavily to the rise.

World zinc production, says the American Bureau of Metal Statistics, was 85,575 short tons in June compared with 85,693 in May and 89,206 in June, 1932. Output in the United States was 24,207 tons compared with 21,790 for May.

TEAM NOW TRAILS LEADERS BY LESS THAN THREE GAMES

Giants Lose to Pirates, 6-5; Buccs Are Half Game Behind Chicago; Yanks, Senators Drop Tough Contests.

By HUGH S. FULLETON, JR., Associated Press Sports Writer

A prodigious burst of hitting by Babe Herman, benched only last Saturday for hitting too hard, again has pointed out that the Chicago Cubs may be the team the other four National League pennant contenders will have to beat to win the flag.

Herman got his chance yesterday because Biggs Stephenson was laid up with a cold, and wallpopped three home runs and a single to drive in eight runs in a 10 to 1 triumph over the Phillies.

Thirteen Leaders

The Cubs have won 17 of their 23 contests since June 25 and today are only 2 1/2 games behind the New York Giants, who dropped a 6-5 decision to the Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday. Pittsburgh maintained only a half game behind Chicago.

The Boston Braves drew up to a spot only a game and a half behind the fourth place St. Louis club by beating the Cardinals 7 to 2.

The American League duel between the New York Yankees and Washington Senators remained in status quo when both leaders dropped tough games to second division clubs.

Mel Harder of Cleveland limited the Yankees to three hits to give the Indians a 3-1 triumph and Tommy Bridges of Detroit bested Alvin Crowder of Washington in a 1-0 slugging duel as each team got only four hits. Cincinnati defeated the Brooklyn Dodgers 1 to 0.

George Pipgras limited the Chicago White Sox to five blows while the Boston Red Sox won, 5-0. The Athletics beat St. Louis 6 to 5 in 10 innings.

ONE THING LACKING

Editor, Sports Forum, Manchester Herald.

Dear Sir:

Attached hereto is a copy of the agreement under which the Manchester Green and Sub-Alpines baseball teams are to settle by a series, the question as to which team got better. We must admit that no such question exists in our minds, and it is difficult for us to understand how it could exist in anyone else's. However, we have agreed to play it out, and play it out we will. We know the best team will win, and have the fifty just about spent.

The only thing lacking, at this writing, is the stake from the Sub-Alpine camp. On Tuesday last, and on yesterday, we met with representatives of the Sub-Alpines, tendered our $25.00 and asked to see the color of their money. But it seems the Sub-Alpines' backers are a bit backward about coming forward, and so far have failed to cover us. We are confident though that the Sub-Alpines will succeed in persuading some one to save their face, and put up the money, as we feel sure that the Sub-Alpines can hardly afford to crawl at this late day.

Yours sincerely,
J. HUBERD,
Manager, Manchester Green Baseball Club.

EDITOR'S NOTE: The agreement is too long to print in its entirety. It states simply that the first game shall be played next Sunday morning at Mt. Nebo at 10:15 o'clock, the second game at Jarvis Grove on Sunday, July 20, at 10:15 o'clock, and the third game, if necessary, at Mt. Nebo on Sunday, August 6, at 10:15 o'clock.

It also carries the eligible players of each team, twenty for the Green and twenty for the Alpines, and states also that Umpire O'Leary will officiate at all games of this series, that the gate receipts of the entire series shall be divided 70 per cent to the winner and 30 per cent to the loser, after all expenses are deducted; that each team shall place $25 in the hands of the stakeholder and the total of $50 will be turned over to the team winning two out of three games, and finally, that the umpire shall be the sole and final authority to decide any and all disputes that may arise during the progress of the games.

PIRATES START BUSY SLATE HERE TONIGHT

Tonight the Pirates will play the Bolton team at 10:15 o'clock, and on Monday will come to Mt. Nebo tomorrow afternoon to meet the locals in a return game, the Pirates having lost the first encounter by a score of 14-7. Then on Sunday the Pirates will journey to Warehouse Point to meet the town team of that place. All players are requested to meet at the Old Golf Lots at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

PUBLIC LINKS PLAYERS GO WEST NEXT WEEK

Play for National Title to Open at Portland, Oregon, August 1; R. L. Miller, Florida Youth, Defends Crown He Won Last Year.

Portland, Ore., July 21.—When seekers of the National Public Links championship tee off Aug. 1 on the municipal Eastmoreland course here, they will find a stiff test of golfing skill awaiting them.

Long-distance driving is necessary and not only that, but the course is a water hazard, with three lakes and several other natural hazards.

The 16th hole looks like a cinch with its 144 yards, but few make the par three. This is a water hole that requires an accurate tee shot. Six of the holes are dangerous because of dog legs. Four of the holes test the best of drivers. The sixth is 570 yards, par five; the ninth is 505, par five; the 10th is 492, par five; the 12th is 475, par five. The total yardage is 6577, an average of 365 a hole. Par for each nine is 36.

Competition will begin with a qualifying round of 18 holes. The second qualifying round of 18 holes follows on the succeeding day. More than 200 golfers are expected to compete. Lowest 32 aggregate scores of the two days will form the championship division.

The Warren C. Harding cup will be awarded to the four representatives of the city having the lowest aggregate score for the 36 holes of qualification. The Harding trophy was captured last year by Louisville, Ky., the host city.

First round of match play is scheduled Aug. 3, with 15 holes for the morning round and the second round in the afternoon. There also will be consolation matches for non-qualifiers. Third round is listed Aug. 4, with the semi-finals scheduled for that afternoon. The 36-hole final will be played Aug. 5. A banquet has been arranged for trophy presentations that evening.

R. L. Miller of Jacksonville, Fla., will defend his 1932 title. The Games D. Standish, Jr. cup is awarded each year to the individual champion, who also is given a gold medal. A silver medal goes to the runner-up, bronze medals to the semi-finalists and a special prize to the low scorer in the qualifying round. Each member of the winning Harding cup team will be given a medal.

Each city may enter not more than six players, returned in local medal play competition of not less than 36 holes, with authority given local U. S. G. A. representatives to select players from the lowest 20 gross scores. The record of 20 contestants in 1932 probably will be surpassed this year. Thirty-two cities were represented in 1932.

Following is a list of individual champions since the tournament began in 1922: Eddie Held, St. Louis, 1922; Richard Walsh, Washington, 1924; Joe Coble, Dayton, O., 1925; R. J. McCauliffe, Buffalo, N. Y., 1926; Lester Bolstad, St. Paul, Minn., 1927; 28-29; Carl Kaufman, Philadelphia, 1930; R. E. Wingate, Jacksonville, Fla., 1931; Charles Ferrera, San Francisco, 1932; R. L. Miller, Jacksonville, Fla., 1933.

CATTLE CAR SPEEDS GOODMAN ON WAY TO GOLF LAURELS

(This is the second of a series of two intimate personality sketches on Johnny Goodman, open golf champion, as his home-town of Omaha knows him.)

Omaha, Neb. (AP)—Johnny Goodman, the young Omaha insurance man who wears the crown of American Open golf champion, is a once a well known and a little known star in the sports sky.

Stories by the hundreds have been written about the sturdy young golfer, but they have skinned the surface, and much of the real Goodman still remains hidden behind a curtain of reserve that is never fully drawn aside.

"But I'd rather play golf," he responds briefly when invited to make speeches.

Goodman is not a spectacular type. Lacking "Jabe Ruth" gift of gab, his golf is of a steady, t. enfor-granted type, and his mental attitude is such that his inner feelings are not exposed to the public gaze.

If a shot goes terribly wrong and Goodman literally "burns up" inside, it will not be apparent to the spectators. Good shots, of course, give him a proud feeling, but he does not exult over his success.

RYDER CUP TEAM GETS ULTIMATUM

Must Either Play in Tournament or the Guarantees Will Be Dropped.

Milwaukee, July 21.—(AP)—The most recent flareup in the ranks of the Professional Golfers Association, occasioned by the outspoken refusal by several members of the Ryder Cup squad to play in the annual trophy tournament at Elms Mount unless a charter in dates is made, had reached the conference stage today.

Gene Sarazen, Walter Hagen, Denny Shute, the new British open champion, Craig Wood and Joe Kirkwood, started it by saying they would not play unless the tournament was shifted from August 8-13, to September.

C. B. Johnson, chairman of the Milwaukee committee, which has arranged for a guarantee to underwrite prize money and expenses, yesterday countered by announcing the guarantee would be withdrawn, unless the Ryder Cup starts accept leaving the pros with the alternative of playing for shares of whatever might be taken in the game.

Johnson and Albert R. Gates, business manager of the P. G. A. and R. W. Trease, secretary of the organization, planned to confer today on what to do about the situation.

With Sarazen as its spokesman, the Ryder Cup "group" has made it plain that previous business arrangements, tours and exhibitions, made before the tourney dates were made, must be fulfilled regardless of the championship tourney.

Behind two-hit pitching by "Yank" Jones, the Aces defeated Hosi Co. No. 2 by the score of 3 to 0. The game was interesting and fast. Cliff Massey's single with bases full drove in two runs in the fifth for what made the game safe. Besides collecting a single and double, Jones struck out nine. "Patsy" Vince was the individual gem of the fire attack. The Aces would like games with the Pirates, Green and North Ends. For games call 5927, 5-6 p. m.

Those who have seen him in action can testify his methodical play does not appear to be work.

Giants Of Gridiron To Clash At Chicago

Chicago, July 21.—Joe Kurth vs. Ernie Smith—Lawrence, Ely vs. Stan Williamson—Harry Newman vs. Morley Drury—Roy Horstman vs. Frank Christensen—Pug Rentner vs. Bill Beasley!

What a football game it will be when those stars—and a lot more—meet Aug. 24 in the Century of Progress football game between the mid-west and west coast. And with Howard Jones directing the western squad, and Dick Hanley piloting the mid-west, all the tricks in the bag will be pulled.

The roster of each team will shine with All-America stars of the past year, and Jones has even gone so far as to resurrect Morley Drury, that great quarterback of his 1927 Trojan squad.

With both lineups announced, it is a hard to vision a line that can stand up before either of the backfields, or a backfield that can penetrate either of the lines.

The western squad's line will boast of Arbelbide and Spraling, of Southern California, Nesbit, Washington, and Slivich, Santa Clara, ends; Tay Bryson and Ernie Smith, Southern California; Dick Toser, California; Paul Schwieger, Washington, and Johnson, Utah, tackles; Johnny Baker and Tipton, Southern California; Pete Heiser, Stanford; O'Brien, Washington, and Gill, California; guards and Stan Williamson, Southern California, center.

The backs will be Morley Drury, Max Krause, Gonzaga, Gaus Shav-

McCLUSKEY BEATEN BY SWEDISH STARS

Former Fordham Ace Is Fourth in 3,000 Meter Event at Stockholm Meet; Cunningham and Metcalfe Create New Records.

Stockholm, Sweden, July 21.—(AP)—Continuing their international test against the picked athletes of 11 nations America's touring track and field stars won four of six events yesterday as Glenn Cunningham of Kansas and Ralph Metcalfe of Marquette hung up new Swedish records.

Cunningham, who narrowly failed to equal the world's 1,000 meter record Wednesday, smashed the Swedish record for 800 meters yesterday as he decisively defeated Erik Ny, Swedish ace. Cunningham was clocked in 1:50.6 as compared with the 1:52.3 Swedish mark of 1:52.3. Ny, in second place, was caught in 1:52.3.

Metcalfe clipped seven-tenths of a second off the Swedish standard for 200 meters as he defeated Ivan Fuqua, Indiana quarter-mile, in 21.2 seconds. Kivitis of Lithuania was third.

McCluskey, former Fordham ace, trailed three Swedes, N. Eklof and E. and A. Pettersson, in the 3,000 meters run.

A meeting of these two millers is likely projected for Berlin next month. The theory is that man is not unlike a race horse which tapers off somewhat after top form is reached. Lovelock is likely to find the Kansas Cyclone a handful of trouble.

Lovelock could have run that mile faster, he says, if he had been pressing during part of the race in which he was just loafing along. The New Zealander did not turn on full steam in the backstretch.

Over in France we have a young man from Kansas named Glenn Cunningham who is touring the boulevards and burning up the cinder strips. On the strength of this lad's 4:09.8 mile, he ought to furnish just the kind of competition that Lovelock needs.

WETHERSFIELD GOLF TEAM HERE SUNDAY

Home and Home Match to Be Played in Morning and Afternoon; Expect Thomson to Meet Bobby Grant; Caddies Qualify.

A golf team representing the Manchester Country club will play a home-and-home match with the team representing the Wethersfield Country club Sunday morning and afternoon. A group of 32 golfers will come here Sunday morning from the Wethersfield club to engage the local players. Manchester will go to Wethersfield in the afternoon for a return match.

The players will be teamed in two-omes playing best ball matches. The low handicap players in both clubs will head the lists. Alex Thomson and Harry Benson of the local club will be teamed to play Bobby Grant and Ted Schorer of Wethersfield. Thomson's match with Grant should be a corker. The local amateur is playing good golf and ought to trim Grant on the local course. Benson also is familiar with the Wethersfield course and should give the New England champion something to worry about on his home course.

The matches start at the local club at nine o'clock Sunday morning. Galleries will be welcome free of charge and there should be a good sized turnout to see Grant play. How They're Teamed.

The teams representing the Manchester club are as follows: Alex Thomson and Harry Benson; Frank Ballester and Joe Barr; Charles Willett and Charles Johnson; M. J. Turkington and Arthur Knoff; Dave Brown and Andy Brown; Earl Ballester and George Havens; Joe Handley and Bill Vasey; Frank D'Amico and F. J. Benda; Martin Alvord and George Brown; Bill Kronholm and Morgan Alvord; John Echmalin and Ray Chapin; Charles O'Dowd and Miles Freeman; Fred Eliah, Jr., and Clarence Thornton; Chris McCormick and Warren Keith; Joe Motyka and Oswald Johnson. Earl Martin and Ricky Anderson, local pros will play Booth and Girard, the Wethersfield pros.

Qualifying Rounds

This week the qualifying rounds in the caddies tournament have been held. The caddies at the local club are planning matches with caddy teams at Sunset Ridge, Wethersfield, Indian Hill and Wampagan. Harold Civello, captain of the High school team will captain the local caddies. In his two qualifying rounds he turned in fine scores getting a 75 and a 74. His brother, Danny Civello was second with an 80-81. Elmore Hultine had an 80-84 for the third place and Bill Weter an 86-87 for fourth. Leonard Giglio placed fifth hitting a 92-89. For sixth place Mike Reardon and Francis McVeigh are tied with a 90-92.

FRANCE IS DESTINED TO LOSE CUP—WILLS

New York, July 21.—(AP)—Whether the United States or England wins the Davis cup finals starting at Auteuil today, Helen Wills Moody thinks France is doomed to lose the International tennis trophy in the challenge round next week.

"Fred Perry is playing splendid tennis and will give both Ellsworth Tanner and Wilmer Allison hard matches," the woman's champion said on her arrival from England yesterday, "but unless Jean Borotra plays France, which he may do, France scarcely seems able to hold the cup. Jimmy Connors is the only one who can beat him."

The Davis cup challenge round will be played at Auteuil, France, on Sunday, July 23. The United States team consists of Ellsworth Tanner, Wilmer Allison and James D. McHugh. The French team consists of Jean Borotra, Jacques Brugnon and Henri Cochet.

PLAY SOCCER FINALE AT STAMFORD SUNDAY

After last Sunday's thrilling encounter in the Soccer game between East Hartford and the local club, the final for the Protective Cup which ended all square, there should be a record crowd to witness the grand game of grace. This game has to be fought to a finish, extra time if again all square at the end of 90 minutes.

Referee Miller will be in charge of the game. Come and see the game of the season, the last grand finale of Soccer until the fall. Clear out Manchester and all trek to Stamford on Sunday, July 23. Bus leaves South Green, Hartford, at 10 a. m. Sunday. Tickets can be had at Chance Vought Employment office or from any of the committees.

BARGAIN BRIDE

By KATHARINE HAYLAND-TAYLOR

BEGIN HERE TODAY

ELINOR STAFFORD, 26, falls in love with 35-year-old BARRETT COLVIN who has made a name for himself as an archeologist. He is about to ask her to marry him when her jealous, scheming mother, LIDA STAFFORD interferences and succeeds in breaking up the romance.

When Elinor's same wealthy MISS ELLA SEXTON, dies she leaves her entire fortune to Barrett. Then drunken ANCE CARTER shoots BENTWELL STAFFORD, Elinor's father. Barrett, who does not want the fortune, tells Elinor that if she will marry him and live as a guest in his home for a year he will give the entire sum to her to divide among the relatives. Knowing the money may save her father's life, Elinor agrees.

The marriage takes place next day. Barrett and himself more in love with Elinor than ever. Then one day he sees her with BOB TELFAIR and his suspicions that she is a heartless flirt are renewed.

The doctor orders a change of climate for Elinor's father and she goes to Alken with him.

Years before Barrett shielded his half-sister, MARCIA, when a youthful romance ended disastrously. Marcia had a son whom Barrett adopted. Barrett has promised Marcia never to tell anyone the truth about the boy.

Lida Stafford asks Barrett for $30,000. When he refuses she sets detectives on his trail and learns about his ward, GERALD MOORE. Lida concludes the boy is Barrett's son.

Barrett goes to Alken without telling Elinor he is coming. He finds Bob Telfair there.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXXV

Bob rose. "Time for me to be getting on," he said. "I'm a fifth wheel—always have been and I've always known it."

Would that tell Colvin anything, Bob wondered. He didn't want him making Elinor unhappy.

"Why, you're one of the best friends I've ever had!" Elinor protested warmly.

For a moment Barrett wondered. Her voice seemed sincere. Then he recalled, remembering Lida's art. The child was as clever an actress as her mother. That was all.

He rose, bowing stiffly, as Bob Telfair said his farewells. "See you again, perhaps," said Bob. "If you're going to be down here for a time?"

"Perhaps," said Barrett. Driving his low, open car toward the inn, Bob decided that he'd better be off and give Elinor her full chance. Surely a man who was with her each day should know her! He couldn't believe Barrett Colvin was such a fool.

It was rather awkward, too, to try to advise another man his wife's good qualities. Bob didn't see how he could do that. Lord, wouldn't Colvin freeze him if he should try such a thing? He could almost feel the congealing air. Nevertheless, Bob decided he would talk Colvin all he knew of Elinor if Colvin were hurting her by misunderstanding their friendship.

He'd knock Colvin down, sit on his chest and all that, if he had to. He'd give them a month, then nose around a bit and find out how things stood. Maybe Bessie Thrope could help him out if help were needed.

Bessie was a peach and she did the most astute tinkering with human maladjustments while cleverer souls who would have botched the job spoke of her with affectionate amusement as "dear, good, bungling Bessie."

After dinner and some telephoning to arrange northbound reservations Bob did the worst thing he could have done. He left for New York. His own honesty made him see this as the best thing for all concerned. He did not want to imagine that Barrett Colvin would convert his departure into a confession of guilt.

Bob paid his hotel bill, left instructions for shipping his car and boarded a hot airship sleeping car. He lay awake most of the night, arguing out the situation with himself.

He could not forget the menace of Colvin's attitude because it menace to Elinor. She was a peach and she had had a rotten hard break. She had always been surrounded by the sort of life she loathed. Damn it, if he had to he would have it out with Colvin. He'd square deal or—

He planned on in the naive blunt manner of a young man who knows more of blue ribbon mares, long distance swimming or golf trophies than of diplomacy.

Miss Hemmingway, the nurse, came to the terrace after Bobby had gone.

Miss Hemmingway was a compound of starchy starched, rustling linen, smooth hair, pert, small cap and steady smile that told nothing with scientific reserve. Her smile the last few days had been as artificial as the stiffness of her raiment. She had been nursing for 12 years, but she still felt the oppression that comes from losing a patient. She always felt it more when she had had the patient for a long while and she'd been on this case several months.

She had pitied Bentwell Stafford, at first, knowing him through Lida. Now, pity being skin to love, she really cared for him as a poor, broken human being who had led a horrible life with "that woman," and who had not enough reserve strength to make the fight to get well. Elinor she worshipped. And Elinor, she

BAKED FISH—THE HOT DISH FOR HOT WEATHER

Serve It With Creamed Corn, Potatoes and Tomatoes

Everybody had gotten up on the wrong side of the bed this morning. Mrs. Smith said that as one by one the family straggled downstairs and ate breakfast in grumpy silence.

It had begun with her husband who couldn't find his pet tie. Bob knew he had to cut the grass and the prospect saddened him. Louise had hidden a box of candy but Eddie had found it and eaten all the cocoanuts. The discovery made of life one long dreary prospect of outwitting small brothers. Eddie himself was scrub because he liked to be sour.

An Irritable Household

Mrs. Smith shooed the flies out the kitchen door with her apron. It was hot and she had a headache. Wouldn't this summer never end with its cooking and its dishes and a family and husband that acted as though a home were pure poison?

In the dining room all three of the children were quarreling. Bob and Louise were fighting over who had the best piece of cantaloupe.

"Oh, dear!" said Mrs. Smith. "Oh, dear! I think I'll just go crazy. I wish school would start."

She was a silent woman usually who took her work and her family seriously. She got things done, but usually with a planning look in her eye and a rather strained line about her mouth.

Suddenly—she could not have told why for the life of her—she began to hum a little tune. Perhaps it was desperation, or perhaps she had picked up an idea somewhere. It was something or other she had heard at a movie. She hummed on, as she washed the double boiler. She hummed more loudly and then she sang.

The racket in the dining room stopped.

Presently Bob came out whistling. Louise called, "Mom, you've got to hurry one place. It goes like this," and she started in. Eddie came out and said, "Mom, sit down." He pushed her onto a chair and climbed up in her lap.

"I like to be nursed," he said.

Mrs. Smith saw she had started something. Evidently she said, "I know what we can do today."

"What?" came the expectant chorus.

"Have a picnic!" Her heart sank as she said it. A picnic was no circus to get and there was the ironing to finish.

But once committed to the accompaniment of whoops and yells of delight, she bravely went on. "I'll have to have a little help."

"I'll get the grass cut in ten minutes," shouted Bob.

"It was a fairly decent house they left. They had no car but they took a street car to the end of the line and soon found a creek and a cool spot where willows grew. Mrs. Smith lay on the ground after lunch and went to sleep while the children waded.

They all came home tired. Mr. Smith came home tired and cross. Mrs. Smith began to hum. Mr. Smith's spirits improved. Instead of saying he was disgusted with his job, he began to talk hopefully of the future.

Mrs. Smith said to herself that night, "It's a hard world for women. But," she added whimsically, "in booting the rest, I guess you boost yourself too. It's been a right pleasant day."

Here's the way to stuff, bake and serve a fish for four people:

You need a two and one-half pound fish, 1-4 loaf of stale white bread, 1 small onion, thyme, salt and pepper to taste, 1 corn on the cob, 2 large tomatoes, 4 small new potatoes, 1 pound string beans, 4 patty shells, 1 cup milk or 1-2 cup cream, 1 tablespoonful of butter and a few anchovies.

You may use bluefish, mackerel, sea bass or any other fresh fish in stock.

Clean the fish, slit carefully and remove the backbone without disturbing the meat. Make a bread filling out of the soaked stale bread, chopped onion, thyme and seasoning. Stuff the fish with the filling.

Place in an oven and allow to bake 30 or 40 minutes. While the fish is baking, prepare the vegetables as follows: Boil or steam the corn on the cob. When it is quite tender, cut in a saucepan and add butter, milk or cream, salt and pepper. Stir the mixture while you are heating it. Do not put the creamed corn in the patty shells until just before you are ready to take the platter of fish to the table.

Halve the tomatoes and bake them in a saucepan to which has been added enough water and butter to keep them from burning. In the patty shells, place a few anchovies. Garnish the baked fish with anchovies.

BUTTONS ON YOUR BELT

With linen so chic, and satin rapidly becoming ever so popular, a combination of the two makes one of the smartest ensembles of the season. A sleek navy blue satin dress and a yellow linen jacket, with full shoulders, is an ideal summer tailor.

The buttons on the shoulders of the jacket and on the novelty belt add the required note of fantasy. The ensemble is topped with a suave velvet linen hat, banded in navy.

Hints on How to Keep Well by World Famed Authority

HOW TO REVIVE DROWNING PERSON IS TOLD BY DR. FISHBEN

Here Are Simple Directions for Restoration of Breathing Which May Enable You to Save a Life.

Editors Note: This is the fourth article in a series on first aid.

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEN, Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine.

Among the most serious of emergencies that demand first-aid is resuscitation after asphyxiation which may result from drowning, from electric shock or from exhaust gas poison. Occasionally, there may be asphyxiation from other sources, such as gas escaping from electric refrigerators.

It has been estimated that 26 per cent of men and boys past 12 years of age do not know how to swim, and there are few women who would be capable of swimming long enough or far enough to save themselves in an emergency.

When a person has been under water long enough to become unconscious—about four or five minutes—first-aid measures are of greatest importance to save life.

Resuscitation by the manual method is important because it is the quickest and most readily available. There are numerous devices for artificial resuscitation but usually it is not well to wait until these come.

Lay the patient on his stomach. Extend one arm directly over his head. Bend the other arm at the elbow and rest the patient's cheek on his hand, to keep the nose and mouth off the ground and free for breathing.

Knelt facing forward, straddling the patient's legs above the knees. Place the palms of the hand on each side of his back, just above the belt line and about four inches apart, thumbs and fingers together, the little fingers over and following the line of the ribs and the tips of fingers just out of sight.

With arms straight, lean gradually forward, pressing downward and forward and counting slowly one, two, three. Snap your hands sideways on the patient's back. Swing your body back, counting slowly four, five. Repeat the pressure.

To assist in timing the three movements of the straight-arm pressure, quickly release the swing back (about 12 per minute), repeat during the period of pressure. "Out goes the bad air"; snap off your hands and repeat, during the period of release, "In comes the good."

Keep working steadily until breathing begins and continues naturally.

NEXT: Treatment of bruises.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
(Is Childbirth Difficult at 40?)
Question: Mrs. Crystal S. asks: "Will you please write an article giving your views on childbirth (first child) at the age of 39 as compared with the woman of 25? Is it exceedingly risky for a woman to bear her first child after the age of 35? Please also state if you think a poor or thin lady has a sedentary life is taking a greater chance than the woman who has led a more active life."

Answer: Theoretically, it should be more difficult to bear a child at the age of 39 than at the age of 25. In actual observation I have found that the woman at the older age has almost a painless childbirth if she will diet and exercise properly during pregnancy. Some of the easiest births I have observed have been with women over 40 who have trained properly for this important event in their lives.

(Erysipelas)
Question: T. T. F. asks: "Is erysipelas a poor or a skin disease? What is the cause and cure of this disease?"

Answer: I consider the true cause of erysipelas to be an acidosis produced through the use of wrong food. It is true there is a particular bacterium associated with this disease, but this micro-organism cannot live in a body free from acidosis. Please write for further personal advice, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped large envelope.

(Has Ache in Foot)
Question: Mrs. Adele D. D. inquires: "Will you kindly state in column what causes an ache in a toothache in the middle of one's foot?"

Answer: Sometimes one of the bones in the arch of the foot becomes slightly misplaced. This can usually be corrected by a chiropractor or an osteopath who understands the construction of the foot.

GLORIFYING YOURSELF

By Alicia Hart

TECHNIQUE OF SHRINKING LARGE PORES

Don't treat enlarged pores lightly! Consider them in the same category with any other blemish which mars your beauty.

If you already have enlarged pores, you should take steps immediately to remedy them. If you don't have a single pore, which is even slightly enlarged, remember that prevention is always worth while.

It's much easier to prevent skin troubles than it is to cure them.

There are various excellent pore creams on the market today. Used conscientiously, they tend to shrink enlarged pores and produce the much desired satiny texture.

When your face has been thoroughly cleaned and steamed, press out all the blackheads which come out easily. Be very careful not to bruise the skin.

Then apply a pore cream. Plan to leave it on for at least two hours. It is an excellent idea to use it just before you go to bed. That way, the cream remains on all night and you get full benefit from it.

Pore creams are greaseless preparations. They have an astringent quality—that's why your pores shrink if pore cream is used frequently.

For the woman whose pores are enlarged, pore cream can be used every night for a couple of months and then twice a week.

Even if you don't have a single pore which shows under your makeup, it is advisable to use pore cream, once a week. Dust and dirt, makeup and inactive cells which cause blackheads and other blemishes may eventually cause pores to become enlarged.

SHIFT OF GIBSON TO RIO POSSIBLY HAS TRADE ANGLE

By HERBERT FLUMMER

Washington—When Hugh Gibson, generally rated one of the most experienced career diplomats in the government, was shifted from Brussels to Brazil by President Roosevelt rather early in his administration, it struck some Washington observers as a bit odd.

Gibson's long years of experience with the problems of disarmament, at a time when it seemed that the Roosevelt administration was setting out with high hopes to get somewhere in the disarmament field, appeared indispensable.

Ever since President Harding called the world disarmament conference in Washington back in 1921, Hugh Gibson has been looking up as a sort of walking textbook on this subject.

The Thick of Things
He laid the groundwork for the three-power conference during the Coolidge administration. And it was through Gibson, speaking at the League of Nations disarmament gathering at Geneva, that President Hoover made the gesture which resulted in the London naval arms conference.

Friends of Gibson, however, say that he was not surprised at his shift from Europe. For one thing, he was such a republican slantist—he is an intimate friend of his fellow Californian, Herbert Hoover—that he hardly could have expected preferment under a democratic administration.

And then, too, President Roosevelt's appointment of Norman H. Davis as ambassador-at-large in all European countries, the commission carrying with it many of the duties Gibson had hitherto assumed, left him short of certain points of his accustomed portfolio.

But there's another angle to Gibson's transfer from the capitals of Europe to South America.

A Trade Move
Diplomatic and trade circles in Washington are now looking upon Gibson's appointment to Rio de Janeiro as a significant move in the Roosevelt administration's intention to do all possible in recapturing for the United States' export trade the once lucrative markets of South America.

Since he is well schooled in the statecraft and trade practices of this country's commercial rivals, the possibility of concluding with Brazil an agreement for reciprocal trade favors to build up commerce between the two great national entities of North and South America may be Gibson's mission at Rio.

AMUSEMENTS

At Rau's Crystal Lake
This coming Saturday night Bill Dehey and his Merry Makers from Pittsfield, Mass., will furnish the music for dancing at Rau's, Crystal Lake. Soulful saxophones and pulsating rhythms touched off by a horn trio will again keep the dancers on their toes. The Merry Makers will also offer a new program of entertaining novelties. Bill Dehey and his Merry Makers are heard frequently from radio station WGY in Schenectady. They have played at fraternity dances, hotels, country clubs and the better class ballrooms all over the New England states. Their music and clever entertaining novelties have won for them a host of admirers at Rau's, Crystal Lake.

The following Saturday night those two master showmen, McCormack and Barry will present the sweet singing dance maestro, Julian Woodworth, and his Clintonians at Rau's. This famous dance band has been heard regularly over the air for the past year from the Palais d'Or Restaurant in New York City. For two years before that they played in the ball room of the Hotel Governor Clinton in New York City. Julian Woodworth is also a prominent song writer, and a few of his own compositions will be rendered. The song "When You Press Your Lips to Mine" was written by this popular dance maestro.

AT SANDY BEACH, CRYSTAL LAKE
Three unusually fine dance attractions are scheduled for the coming week-end period at the Sandy Beach Ballroom, Crystal Lake. On Friday night, July 21, "Joe" Bernet and his Troubadours will provide an enjoyable evening of old-fashioned and modern dance music. The Troubadours are specialists in both types. Their program will contain a sprinkling of quadrilles, lancers, fox trots and waltzes, and will prove to be a real delight to dance lovers in this section.

Henry Brigode and his "New Yorkers" fill their second engagement at Sandy Beach on Saturday night, July 22. In his first appearance a month or so ago, Henry Brigode scored a decided hit with Sandy Beach patrons. They liked the "New Yorkers" so well, the management offered them a return date. However, a crowded schedule prevented them from accepting it. Only now could they be secured again. Henry Brigode and his crack band of ten "New Yorkers" are on their first tour through New England. They have been cordially welcomed wherever they have played. Their music is modern in every sense of the word, and the program they have arranged for their return engagement promises to be completely delightful.

Direct from the Arcadia Dance Palace in New York City, Helen Compton and her 42nd Street Girls beautify the ballroom on Sunday night, July 23. A combination of the Vincent Lopez Debutantes and the former Brick Tops, this orchestra is acknowledged to be the finest girls band in the country. They play at Sandy Beach as a part of their first New England tour. They have been starred in radio and vaudeville and ballrooms; nearly all the leading cities. Under the direction of Helen Compton, twelve lovely girls form the orchestra. Besides being talented musicians, they are versatile entertainers, and the most enjoyable of musical treats is in store in their Sunday night engagement.

Attend all of these dance affairs. Come with the crowd to Sandy Beach. Several headline attractions in the class with George Olsen, Blanche Calloway and Tasker Crosson are being planned for the near future. Watch for the announcements of these super features, which will be made at a later date.

Free Candy
Every boy and girl that attends Sandy Beach, Crystal Lake's popular resort, on Saturday will be given free candy. The candy is to be given through the courtesy of the Curtiss Candy Company, makers of the well-known Baby Ruth products. A large number are planning to attend and Manager George J. J. has made arrangements to care for nearly five hundred children.

Members of the president's cabinet receive salaries, but no allowances for expenses.

GETS JAIL TERM FOR CONTEMPT

Henry Leidholdt, Arrested for Drunkenness, Berates Court Officials.

Henry Leidholdt of 48 Maple street was this morning sent to jail for 10 days by Judge Raymond A. Johnson for contempt of court. Leidholdt was arrested early this morning at his home on complaint of his neighbors and charged with intoxication and breach of the peace. When the judge imposed a fine of $15 for intoxication and $25 for breach of peace Leidholdt lost his head completely and began shouting, using vulgar language and berating the officials and the witnesses in the case.

Ralph Aprilie and wife, Ida Aprilie who live upstairs in the house with Leidholdt, and Marie Franconi, sister of Mrs. Aprilie, of

New Haven were the witnesses. Leidholdt, according to the witnesses, was drunk and caused a disturbance early in the evening and kept it up until nearly two o'clock in the morning, when Mr. Aprilie returned from work and complained to the police. Officer John Cavanaugh went to the home and placed Leidholdt under arrest.

REPORT SMALL PROFIT SELLING LEGAL BEER

On Four Barrels Only $4.53 Can Be Made, Tavern Keepers Announce.

New Haven, July 21.—(AP)—It has been figured by the Beer, Wine and Labor Merchants Association of Connecticut, that 3.2 per cent beer is not a fluid which will yield much profit to the tavern-keeper under the law of averages. A sample ledger sheet is offered to show income and outgo on four barrels of beer. The net weekly profit is $4.53. The income would be $156.40 weekly on four barrels at 10 cents a glass of 10 ounces. The beer cost $16 a barrel to start. Two men in the tavern would receive $50. Now for other overhead: Lights, $2; pretzels, $4; broken glasses, $1; rent, $14; state tax at 4 per cent, $14; gas for hot water, $1; telephone, $1.50; state tavern license and bond fee, $1.75; bringing total expense to $151.87.

HULL TO OUTLINE AMERICANS' STAND

Secretary to Present to London Parley Details of Policy on Tariffs.

London, July 21.—(AP)—Secretary of State Cordell Hull, after an extensive exchange of communications with Washington, today was completing a detailed statement of President Roosevelt's tariff policy in the hope it would be ready for presentation at the final session of the world economic conference economic commission late today.

The statement was expected to form the basis for continuance of the Roosevelt tariff policy and for study of general problems of trade restrictions by experts during the recess of the conference beginning next Thursday.

The tariff armistice presented a difficult problem, with several nations understood to be in favor of letting it lapse in view of the failure to achieve de facto currency stabilization.

Special Reservations Included will be special reservations by the United States in connection with the Farm and Industrial Recovery Acts.

Several conference leaders were inclined to regard the truce as largely nullified by the reservations, but the Americans were insistent that the general principle of holding economic warfare in check should not be dropped.

Any of the two score nations which have approved the truce may withdraw from it on one month's notice after July 31.

Secretary Hull, chief of the American delegation, was hopeful that the situation would be such that there would be few if any withdrawals.

The conference, meanwhile, completed its formal committee work yesterday and prepared final reports for the monetary and economic commissions, with the more important problems left for future consideration. These included tariffs, import quotas, currency stabilization, and market control.

DR. THOMAS MARRIES MISS DOROTHY GRAVES

New York, July 21.—(AP)—Miss Dorothy Boyd Graves of Dobbs Ferry, N. Y., was married yesterday to Dr. George Thomas, instructor of philosophy at Dartmouth college, at St. John's Episcopal church in Yonkers.

The couple leave tonight on the liner Europe for a month's travel in England. Upon their return, they will make their home at Hanover, New Hampshire.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Oliver S. Mewell, and attended by a large party of friends.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. Rose Boyd Graves, had as matron of honor Mrs. John Marple of Rahway, N. J.

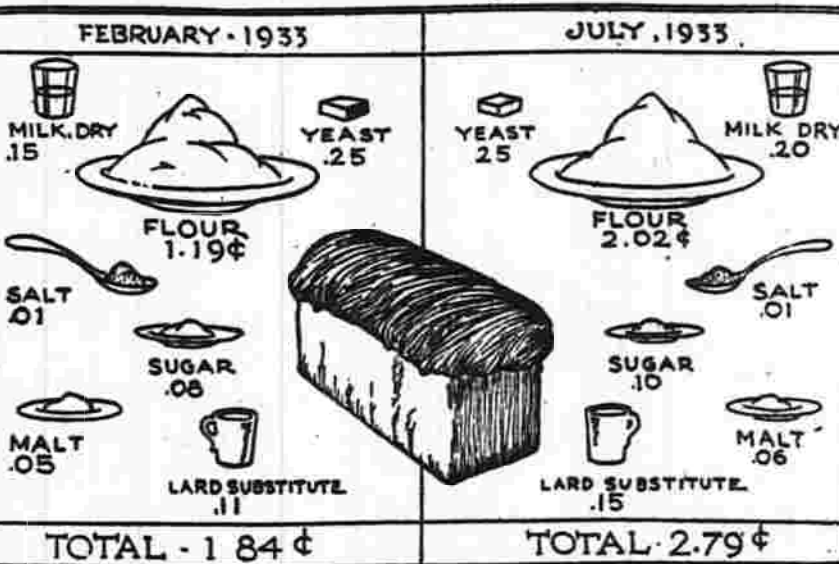

Dr. Thomas, the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Thomas of Dallas, Texas, was attended by Douglas Speere of Haverford, Pa.

Thomas is a graduate of Southern Methodist University and Harvard and was a Rhodes scholar, attending Queen college, Oxford, before becoming a member of the Dartmouth faculty. He taught at Swarthmore college.

THREE FLIERS HURT.
Chicago, July 21.—(AP)—Three Marine Corps aviators were injured today when their amphibian crashed 50 feet to a field south of the Municipal Airport, whence they had just taken off for Los Angeles.

The injured were: Lieut. Theodore Millard, pilot, of Great Barrington, Mass., stationed at Quantico, Va.; Capt. C. T. Brooks, Connecticut avenue, Washington, D. C.; Chief Gunner's Mate Michael Wodarzysk.

How Cost of Bread Ingredients Rose

How prices of ingredients used in making a typical one pound loaf of white bread have changed from February to July of this year, is graphically illustrated in this chart based on statistics compiled by the U. S. Department of Agriculture before the processing tax on wheat went into effect. It is estimated the wheat tax will increase the cost of flour to bakers by less than one-half a cent per pound loaf.

ENGLAND SHATTERS CHANCES OF U. S.

Sweeps to Decisive Victory in First Two Single Matches for Davis Cup.

Roland Garros Stadium, Auteuil, France, July 21.—(AP)—The British Davis Cup tennis forces but their American rivals to route today in the inter-zone finals with two spectacular straight-set singles victories.

Fred Perry, British No. 1, conquered Wilmer Allison, 6-1, 7-5, 6-4, after Henry W. (Bunny) Austin, second ranking Englishman, sprang a sensational upset by trouncing Ellsworth Vines, the American champion, 6-1, 6-1, 6-4.

The double setback came as a shocking blow to the American team, virtually crushing their high hopes of forcing into the challenge round against France next week.

With the doubles match scheduled tomorrow and two concluding singles matches Sunday, the British need only one more victory to gain the challenge round, whereas the United States now needs three straight to capture the series.

Austin duplicated his "giant-killing" hole of 1931 by taking Vines into camp with such "ridiculous ease" that the American camp was stunned. Allison put up much stouter resistance, with the burden put squarely upon him, but he was outplayed at the critical moments by Perry, especially in the last two sets.

The Americans had entered the inter-zone finals as 6-5 favorites, supposedly tuned to concert pitch, but they quickly became the victims of a startling upset and saw their Davis Cup chances crash with a reverberating echo in the boiling hot stadium.

LATEST STOCKS

New York, July 21.—(AP)—The wild and hysterical Stock Market, after racing madly in the first hours today, took a sedative and calmed down to such an extent that the financial doctors expressed hopes of a peaceful convalescence.

The opening was fast, with large blocks of shares changing hands at small gains or losses. Short covering, reinforced by "bargain hunters" soon brought an upturn of 1 to 3 more points in many of the recently depressed leaders and some of the alcohols got back as much as 8 before retracing their steps.

The tape sped merrily for a while and then there was a slowing down. While the grain markets were closed at Chicago, to enable commission houses dig out from under a mountain of work, Winnipeg wheat opened higher. It dropped back a little later but held fairly steady. Cotton improved. The dollar reacted sharply on foreign exchange markets, then rallied. Bonds were a trifle heavy.

Stocks that recovered 1 to around 5 or more points included National Distillers, U. S. Industrial Alcohol, American Commercial Alcohol, Standard Brands, Crown Cork, Liggett & Myers B. Western Union, Union Pacific, N. Y. Central, Consolidated Gas, Chrysler, American Smelting, Canada Dry, Cerro de Pasco, U. S. Smelting and United Aircraft, General Motors, U. S. Steel, American Telephone and other pivotal issues followed a rather narrow range.

There was a moderate let-down in some wholesale markets, one trade survey found, but considerable improvement was seen in retail operations. In some lines the flow of orders was said to be quickening instead of diminishing, with buyers being pressed to action by the broadening sweep of generally advancing prices.

The early recovery in some of the tobacco issues was attributed partly to publication of the figures on cigarette production for June. The output for this month totaled 12,462,969,787 against 10,860,212,000 in the same month last year. Cigar production increased about 18,000,000 while manufactured tobacco was up more than 1,000,000 pounds.

The smallest amount of annual precipitation in the United States is in the southeastern portion of California and the western portion of Arizona.

MANY CHANGES EXPECTED IN MOTOR DEPARTMENT

Hartford, July 21.—(AP)—Representative Francis Hogan of Torrington has been appointed assistant chief clerk of the State Motor Vehicles Department to succeed Francis V. Kelleher of East Hartford, it was learned today. Commissioner M. A. Connor was not in his office today to verify the appointment but it was learned that Mr. Kelleher has been notified of the contemplated change which is expected to become effective on August 1.

Many additional changes are expected in the motor vehicles department within a few days. James W. Dodd of Norfolk, Rudolph Friedman of Hartford and Roger Wiley of New Haven, in the inspection section, have been notified their services will be no longer required after August 1. So too, a group of girls on the so-called "spare employment list," and numbering about 38, are to be dismissed. This last group is not included in the regular employees but rather as extra help engaged during a stress of business in some branches and possibly transferred from section to section as necessity might require.

The earliest mechanical time measure was a water clock, containing water which was allowed to escape through a small hole, marks on the side indicating the lapse of time.

WALL ST. EXPERTS DESCRIBE SLUMP

Extracts from Various New York Newspapers—Had Been Expected.

New York, July 21.—(AP)—Here is how New York financial writers explain the slump of stock and commodity prices.

New York Herald-Tribune: "Three days ago banks tightened the lines on speculative credit, giving a push to the pyramided price structure. Distilling stocks, a favorite with 1883 speculators, were the first to respond by moving downward."

"The vulnerable technical position of all the markets, honeycombed with weak speculative accounts, accelerated the slump in value."

"The foreign factor of - great psychological influence on the side of the decline was the sudden great strength of the dollar against sterling, brought about by the British conversion of the pound into 4.85 per cent dollar bonds issued here in 1917. A great section of Wall street looked upon this offer as an adroit maneuver by Great Britain to bring sterling rates down in terms of dollars, the recent advance in sterling having become a sore point with British exporters."

Warning Issued

"Sentiment was treated to another cold dash of water in the form of a warning issued by General Hugh S. Johnson, industrial recovery administrator, that a domestic crisis: impends within 60 days unless wages are quickly boosted throughout industry to bring purchasing power up to the level of presently elevated prices. Wall street also took notice of the fact that labor circles are getting restless in the face of advance price levels and that numerous small strikers are being called x x x."

The New York American: "The plain fact is that the public had engaged in a wild gambling spree which weeks ago had exceeded reasonable limits. The whiskey collapse produced a major shock to the markets, since it undoubtedly disturbed not only sentiment but actually weakened many speculative accounts."

Public Gambling

"In commodities the situation had become as dangerous as in stocks, for the public was engaging in a mad gambling orgy which was bound sooner or later to bring violent repercussions. "The public losses in the markets are probably colossal."

The New York Times: "Whatever may have been the immediate cause of the 'shake-out' it was agreed yesterday, that the reaction was long overdue. The reason commonly assigned was that a pyramided speculative structure that was weak at the base had been built up over a period of three or four months and that a series of 'margin calls' had frightened timid traders. At any rate, the first crack in the market uncovered a great many stop-loss orders. There was the familiar progression from there on. The usual penalty for speculative over-extension had to be paid."

The Times also said, "Most brokers believed last night that the decline had corrected the over-ought condition which had prevailed for more than a week and were inclined to look for more normal trading."

"Trader" in the Daily News: "Unrestrained speculation was dealt another body blow."

"While the primary reason for the break was the crash in wet stocks which undermined sentiment, Wall street considered the attitude of the administration on the future of business as more important. Admission of an impending crisis unless wages were raised to meet the upturn in commodities, was considered extremely bad news. There was also considerable uneasiness over suggestions made in Washington that price swings in securities and grains be limited during a single session."

STORMS HIT BOSTON; BOLT KILLS WOMAN

Boston, July 21.—(AP)—A series of unusually sharp lightning storms ceased crackling early today after causing one death.

Mrs. Marion Fallow of New Bedford was killed as a bolt struck her beach umbrella at Mattapoisett. Two friends were momentarily stunned.

Although little damage was reported after the storms swept past Boston late last night, scores of streets were deluged by the heavy rain, which left an inch of water in less than 45 minutes.

The outdoor performance of the opera Aida, being presented at Braves Field, was terminated near the close of the third act. The grandstand at the field was closely packed with the crowd seeking shelter and the animals were led off the field by attendants.

The thunder and lightning provided a stirring background for the "Star Spangled Banner" at the close of the esplanade concert.

Several downtown buildings were struck but little damage was reported.

U. S. IN THE RACE FOR SOVIET TRADE

If Credit Can Be Arranged There Will Be a Billion at Stake.

Washington, July 21.—(AP)—A three-nation contest for up to a billion dollars worth of sales to Soviet Russia finds the United States attempting today to finish the necessary negotiations before Great Britain or France.

The problem is, primarily, one of credit. It is said here that the winner in the contest will be the nation that offers the best terms.

Russia wants immediately to buy around $100,000,000 worth of cotton, sugar and metals other than iron. She must, however, arrange credit; if she can get enough, her purchases may reach a billion dollars.

Details Discussed

The negotiations here are being carried on in various quarters, among them the agricultural adjustment administration, which handles the exportation of farm surpluses. It was said at that administration that "possibly" some Russian deals were being discussed but none could be disclosed yet.

Soviet representatives, through their trading agency, Amtorg, are keeping in close touch with the Reconstruction Corporation, which supplied the $5,000,000 already being used to sell cotton to Russia on credit. If term, are agreed upon, the corporation will be asked to supply the new funds.

Burlingame, Calif.—R e s u l t s count, Robert E. McCaughan and Chief of Police John Harper in applying for a license for their "Secret, Secret Detective Company."

Without even using their disguises or scientific laboratory, the eight-year-old sleuths explained they had tracked down a missing lost dog. Chief Harper swore them in as regular officers and assigned them to the "lost dog" detail.

New York—Edward Pinto, two years old, skipped for joy when his mother gave him a strawberry lollipop. Running down a flight of stairs, he tripped and the sweet was jammed down his throat. When they got him to a hospital, he was dead of strangulation.

Columbus, Ohio—The man who robbed Eugene Cody of $30 could not let him go home broke. Cody said the robber stopped him as he walked toward home shortly after the holdup.

"How much money you got?" he asked. "None, now," Cody replied. "Well," the robber said, "I never let a man go broke. Here's $2."

Atlanta, Ga.—Reversing the order of other days, an Atlanta restaurant today offered free beer with lunch instead of the old time free lunch with beer.

New York—Manhattan's first toyey—run on the same basis as a lending library, is proving a success. More than 150 underprivileged children of the lower east side are registered for the privilege of borrowing toys. The demand exceeds the supply.

Milwaukee—An albino purple martin, one of the rarest specimens in the entire bird kingdom, was being mounted at the public museum.

A message from the donor, Miss Ramona Freed, Calvary, Wis., said the bird was raised in one of her parrot houses and was literally mobbed by other martins. For several days, they chased it. Miss Freed found it with a broken wing. It died two days later.

FAMOUS NOVELIST JOKES OVER DEATH

Carolyn Wells Had Her Shroud Picked Out and Made Her Will.

New York, July 21.—(AP)—Carolyn Wells isn't going to die after all—not at once, anyway—and now she can put the rhinestones back on her shroud.
Once given but two years to live, the noted author has confounded her doctor, reversed her field and settled down again to the literary career she started back in 1900.

FEDERAL APPOINTMENT

Bridgeport, July 21.—(AP)—The Times Star is advised that Peter Kennedy of Derby has been appointed state administrator in Connecticut under the home mortgage, or Home Owners Loan Corporation Act. He was agreed upon by National committee man McNeil, Senator Lonergan and Dr. Dolan. It is understood James E. Lawler of Bridgeport, who was McNeil's candidate, will be assistant to Kennedy. The administrator will have his headquarters in New Haven.

Chicago Tough In Police Net

Arrest of James (Fur) Sammons, one of Chicago's most notorious plug-uglies, in Kansas City, was a byproduct of the search for machine-gun gangsters who murdered four peace officers before any part in the massacre, but a 30-year criminal record gave police several unsatisfied charges on which to hold him.

STOCK MARKET RALLIES

AFTER DROP IN PRICES

$124.75; Consolidated Gas $1.50 to $37.50; Union Pacific $4.50 to $119.50; New York Central $2 to $47.87; Dupont $2.75 to $76.25; General Motors $0.25 to $22.95; U. S. Steel $1 to $58.50; Western Union $2.50 to $63; McIntire Porcupine $7 to $33.

The opening saw many blocks of 1,000 to 5,000 shares change hands at prices but generally narrow overnight changes. The largest initial transfer was 35,000 shares of Radio at $8.12, off 50 cents.

The market quickly met better support, partly from covering shorts, but mostly from higher, especially when the whiskey and distillery shares improved.

Wall Street continued to view the swift and sweeping decline of the week as a logical adjustment of a top-heavy bull market. The spring and summer advance, it was pointed out, had been violent and uninterrupted and the appearance of a crack was hardly surprising to many traders.

There was a disposition to consider this break in the light of what had gone before—advance followed by a strong reaction.

Big Trading Days.

Clerical operations in brokerage houses were badly jammed as a result of the big markets of Wednesday and Thursday, especially yesterday when 8,122,500 shares changed hands, the largest volume since May 5, 1930.

Whether the tangle would prove severe, but it needed if volume was not evident, but it was suggested in some quarters that a respite, such as was being given today in the Chicago and Kansas City grain markets, might be needed if volume continued heavy. During the violent swings of late 1929 the stock exchange took several holidays, either halting operations completely or reducing the number of trading hours.

Banking circles here have felt that a market break was long overdue and have pointed out that a readjustment was inevitable. They have shared the reported view of some Washington officials that a spanking of speculators would do no harm provided a decline did not get out of hand.

Many banks early this week began to tighten their collateral loan requirements as a means of controlling the speculative mania which had assumed 1929 proportions. So far as is known, there has been no action by the Federal Reserve system toward curtailing market requirements as a means of controlling the speculative mania which had assumed 1929 proportions.

Agreement on the part of a Morgan partner looks at things. Mr. Davison, in fact, almost gets lost. Reading it, one gathers the impression that the Morgan firm was composed of unselfish and altruistic philanthropists, who never thought of profits but whose great hearts broke every time an investor lost a dime. Did the Morgans control the nation's finance and industry? Ridiculous, says Mr. Lamont. Did they try to get the U. S. into the World War on account of their Allied loans? Absurd.

GIBBIES WINS AGAIN

Gibbies Soda Shop took the Old-Timers into camp last night at Ford's field. The score was 9-4. There were plenty of errors on both sides. The West Side Buds were backed out of the game, which was to be played Sunday because they believe their tender feet could not endure the short walk up to Ford's field. Gibbies Soda Shop will play the Hillbillies. This game will be a playoff of a tie game. The game will start at 2:30.

VINES IS BEATEN

well-rounded even if sometimes fragile game.

Today Austin looked more like a champion than at any time in his career since he was England's "Boy Wonder" eight years ago. He attacked Vines' backhand from the outside and, when the American retaliated, he soon took command. It looked almost as though Vines was playing completely into Austin's hands by such tactics.

After finding he could not penetrate Austin's backhand, Vines' confidence appeared shattered and his whole game fell off. When he applied the full power of his strokes, he lacked control and his backhand in his game, the results were equally ineffective. On top of this, Vines' usually dominating service proved his weakest point. It was broken seven out of 12 times in the three sets by Austin.

THREE WHEELED CAR GETS FIRST TRIAL

Over 3,000 in Bridgeport See Auto Travel 70 Miles an Hour—Not Full Power.

Bridgeport, July 21.—(AP)—Three thousand spectators, including many prominent men in the speed boat and aviation world, witnessed the first test of a three wheeled car, the latest thing in automobile development, today.

Over 3,000 in Bridgeport See Auto Travel 70 Miles an Hour—Not Full Power.

The car, built on the stream-line principal of fast boats, shot along at 70 miles an hour in its first trial with Buckminster Fuller, its inventor, at the wheel. It was estimated later that in traveling at that speed the car attained only 20 per cent of its power against wind.

Starling Burgess who built the "Enterprise" for Sir Thomas Lipton and who has been associated with Fuller in the creation of the car, explained the principals of its manufacture.

Among Spectators Among those witnessing the trial were Charles Lawrence, inventor of the whirlwind airplane motor used by Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh on his flight; Major General Benjamin D. Falols, chief of the United States Air Service, with his assistant Brigadier General Oscar Westover; George Cormack, secretary of the New Yacht Club; Walter E. Meyers of Bolton, manager of the New England Broadcasting Company; Charles Burgess, brother of the designer and one of the co-designers of the airship Macon; L. Francis Hershoff, yacht designer, attorney Harry Grant Kimball, patent lawyer of Bolton; Paul Hammond, yacht designer of New York and George and Ernest Ratsky of College Point, builders of cup defender Enterprise.

Fuller is a son-in-law of James Monroe Hewlett, president of the American Academy in Rome and during the war was attached to the air ministry office in Washington.

POSTAL CLERK ARRESTED FOR ROBBING THE MAILS

New Haven, July 21.—(AP)—George V. Minter, clerk at the New Haven postoffice, was arrested by postal inspectors today on charges of theft and riddling of the first class mail.

Arrested immediately before United States Commissioner Robert H. Alcorn, he was bound over to United States District Court under $2,000 bond. It is alleged that he was detected stealing a letter sent through the mails containing $250.

All of a sudden Shrimpy cried, "Hey, why not let the whole bunch ride? There's room enough for six of you inside that carriage shell."

"All right," said Scooty. "I don't mind. I know that Goldy, too, is kind. As long as every one of us can ride we may as well."

"Then Shrimpy loudly shouted, 'When! Stand still, now, and don't dare to go until the Tinies climb aboard. Then I will lead the way.'"

"I'm thinking of a place right now that we can all get up some how. I'll furnish all the Tinymites some real nice fun today."

As soon as everyone was in, we Dotty shouted, with a grin, "We're ready. Let's be on our way, but please don't go too fast."

LUTHERANS TAKE UP NEW CHURCH PROGRAM

Plan to Meet Present Day Problems—Educational Work to Be Stressed.

Chicago, July 21.—(AP)—A new program designed to meet better present day church problems was adopted today by the 41st international Weather League convention.

All activities of the league will be placed in two new departments, a Department of Christian Knowledge and the Department of Christian Service, with one executive secretary in charge of the program.

For the cultural development of the Lutheran church, a program was outlined which will eventually eliminate "shallow, vacuous socials, bunco parties and 'what have you' programs, and offer instead an extended and intensified program of definite cultural value for the necessary and proper use of the ever increasing leisure of this era."

The convention adopted a resolution to convert hospice homes, which in the past have served the needs of young Lutheran travelers and rural folks coming to the cities to work, into social welfare centers.

This change was prompted, it was reported, because rural people are again going back to the country, eliminating the necessity for the hospices.

After adopting a budget of $25,000 for 1933-34, the convention ended.

GEN. FENG DEFIES JAP ARMY CHIEFS

day considering measures to be taken for the suppression of General Feng.

The situation in North China was rapidly approaching a crisis, because of Feng's refusal to make peace on any but his own terms and the possibility that the Japanese will send troops stationed in Jehol to retake Tolunosh and subdue Feng.

Such a course might reopen the Sino-Japanese differences that ended with the signing of a truce in Tientsin, China, late in May. The armistice provided for the establishment, under Chinese police supervision, of a demilitarized zone south of the Great Chinese Wall, Jehol's southern boundary.

Adding to the seriousness of the situation was the support the southwestern Chinese government at Canton gave General Feng.

Leaders of the Canton regime telegraphed to Nanjing government, denouncing the resumption of civil war and indicating support for Feng's stand against the Japanese.

TO CHANGE BEACON FOR NEW AIR ROUTE

Present One at North End to Be Discontinued; New One on Birch Mountain.

The Chambers Hill air beacon, for several years a fixture at the north end, marking the direct air route to Boston from New York may be removed to the new air route being planned. The beacon may be placed atop Birch Mountain to light the "loop" from Willimantic to the Hartford field. At the present time the air mail and commercial route marked by the Colonial Airways and later taken over by the U. S. Department of Commerce is across Greenwich, Stamford, Wilson, Easton, Naugatuck, Southington, New Britain to Hartford and thence from Hartford east to Manchester, Tolland, Stafford Springs, Webster, West Upton, Hopkinton, Framingham, Wellesley and Boston. The new route will skirt the short line from New York, and the straight-line route through Connecticut will be over the towns of Stamford, Westport, Shelton, West Rock Ridge, Reed's Gap, East Hampton, Columbia, Willimantic, Abington, Pomfret, and Putnam. Pilots flying south from Boston and wishing to veer off from the regular air route to New York will turn northwest at Willimantic, passing over the new beacon which is expected to be located on Birch Mountain. At this point the lights of the Hartford fields can easily be seen in clear weather. From Hartford the pilot will fly southwestward over the new beacon to be located at Cromwell, to the new light at Reed's Gap and thence along the direct route to New York. Pilots flying from New York to Boston by way of Hartford will veer northeasterly from the new light at Reed's Gap, across the Cromwell beacon to Hartford then across the new light on Birch Mountain to the new route at Willimantic, and the straight line to Boston. The new lights along the straight route from New York to Boston will be adjusted to the aerial code beams, designating the Department of Commerce Aerial route. Pilots leaving the direct route for either Providence or Hartford will be without the designating code beams and will fly by the beacon lights only. As Willimantic will be the division point, so to speak, for pilots wishing to fly to Hartford along the new airway, a four-way arrow and electric code beacon in addition to the standard beacon will be placed in the latter city. The new Manchester signal will be a 36-inch type on a 51-foot tower and will throw approximately 1,500,000 candlepower beacon rays. All of the new lights in Connecticut save the lights at Putnam and Manchester will be operated by purchased commercial electric power. The Putnam beacon and the one here will develop their own power. The decision to change the air route has been in the works for the past three years and was only approved during the past few months. At the present time the Manchester beacon is of approximately 2,000,000 candlepower, and is equal in power to any of the beacons on the present New York to Boston airway.
