TOWN TO PURCHASE CHENEYS' UTILITIES

Votes Yesterday to Buy Water and Sewer Properties 1,525 to 1,088 — Appropriates Fund for Deal by 1,330 to 1,127.

The Town of Manchester by a majority of 437 votes cast yesterday in the special town meeting, voted to purchase the Cheney Brothers Utilities, the South Manchester Water Company and the South Manchester Sanitary & Sewer District, and by a majority of 263 votes appropriated $650,000 for bonds to be issued to pay for the two companies. The vote on question No. 1 to purchase the properties was 1,525 Yes and 1,088 No. On the question to appropriate the $650,000, the vote was 1,330 Yes to 1,127 No.

A total of 2,858 votes were cast in the town meeting yesterday, of which an even 2,000 were men and 858 were women. On none of the machines yesterday did the opponents of the purchase gain a majority.

Clear-Cut Victory
The proponents of the purchase of the Cheney properties won a clear-cut victory yesterday in the face of an organized attempt to throw the work done by the Board of Selectmen, engineers, working in conjunction with the directors of the silk firm to give the town of Manchester its first public-owned utility company. The vote on the three men's machines was 1,084 Yes to 782 No and on the women's machines was 481 Yes to 308 No.

The year-long deliberation by the Board of Selectmen in the utilities matter reached its climax yesterday when opponents of the plan, led by Selectmen Bowers and Cook, and Charles Ray, president and treasurer of the Rogers Paper Company conducted a vigorous campaign in the days immediately preceding the town meeting to swing the vote negatively, basing their contentions on the fact that sufficient information had not been given regarding the properties in question and that the price of $1,150,000 was too high.

NO INTERFERENCE WITH STOCK DEALS
President Takes Little Interest in Drop in Prices on the Exchanges.

Washington, July 22.—(AP)—People who are in the stock market figure that the price swings are causing President Roosevelt no particular concern. The administration approves the temporary closing of commodity exchanges, because speculation there affects tangibles. But it was made very clear at the White House that there will be, under present plans, no interference with the Stock Exchange.

It was made equally clear that the administration does not especially want a drop in stock prices, nor do Mr. Roosevelt and his assistants desire another speculative boom that might be followed by a slump.

ECONOMY PROGRAM TO SAVE SCHOOLS
Chicago Board of Education Stands Pat on Plan to Cut Expenses.

Chicago, July 22.—(AP)—Criticized by both parents and educators who crowded their way into the huge Chicago Stadium in a meeting of protest, the Board of Education continued to stand pat today on its $5,000,000 economy program designed as a means of getting the Chicago public schools out of the red.

DESPONDENT AT LACK OF WORK, TAKES HIS LIFE

Charles H. Reimer, of 47 Benton St., Shoots Self Yesterday Afternoon — Dies at Hospital.

Out of work for the past six months, making it necessary for him to break up his home and remove to Manchester to live with his father-in-law, Charles M. Reimer, 35, committed suicide at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon at his parents' home, 47 Benton street, by shooting himself and died at the Manchester Memorial hospital at 5:35 p. m., from the self-inflicted wound.

With his wife of three years, Reimer, who was last employed as a traveling salesman for a paper and cordage firm, came to Manchester when he lost his work. He formerly lived in Kew Gardens, L. I.

Rushed to Hospital
Although it is understood that members of the family failed to notice anything strange yesterday in Mr. Reimer's condition, Mrs. Eric Weiman heard a shot fired in the upper part of the house shortly after 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon and rushed to the attic to find Reimer lying across a couch with blood streaming from both sides of his head. A call was sent for a doctor and after some confusion Holman's ambulance was called and took the seriously injured man to the hospital, where he died without regaining consciousness at 5:35. The body was held at the hospital until the necessary examination was made by Medical Examiner W. R. Tinker, who pronounced the case one of suicide.

MARRIED THREE YEARS
Reimer married on February 21, 1930, Miss Jeannette C. Weiman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Weiman of 47 Benton street, who have long been Manchester residents. His wife at that time was employed as a teacher in the Odd Fellows block. Reimer was previously married and divorced.

He was born in Fallsado township, N. J., the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. H. Reimer of that place, but after his marriage to Miss Weiman of that town removed to Kew Gardens, L. I.

Besides his wife he is survived by one sister, Mrs. David Kennedy, of New York, and one brother, Herbert Wood Hayes, of Long Island City, N. Y.

Funeral Private
The funeral which will be private will be held from Watkins Brothers, 11 Oak street, tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. A service will be held in Woodlawn Cemetery Chapel, Woodlawn, N. Y., where burial will take place Monday afternoon at 2:30.

POST REACHES EDMONTON TEN HOURS IN LEAD

World Flier Plans to Complete Journey to New York in One Hop; Greeted by 5,000 As He Alights.

Edmonton, July 22.—(AP)—Wiley Post, Oklahoma round-the-world flier, hopped off for New York on the last leg of his trip at 9:41 a. m., E. S. T., today. He had stayed in Edmonton only one hour and thirty-four minutes to refuel his ship, the Winnie Mae, and to get a brief rest after flying overnight from Fairbanks, Alaska.

Edmonton, July 22.—(AP)—Wiley Post, nearing home on his round the world flight, arrived at Edmonton today at 8:07, a. s. t. He had flown the 1,490 miles from Fairbanks, Alaska, in 9 hours and 22 minutes.

A crowd of 5,000 which had been waiting at the airport much of the night, greeted Post with cheers as he climbed from the Winnie Mae. His time was nearly an hour faster than when he and Harold Gatty, on their world flight two years ago, also flew from Fairbanks to Edmonton. They covered the distance in ten hours, 11 minutes.

Driving Rain
The Oklahoma flier brought his plane, the Winnie Mae, down at Blatchford Field in a driving rain. He was suffering from a severe headache but said he did not wish medical attention.

When the Oklahoma flier reached Edmonton he was met by 45 minutes ahead of the round-the-world record set by him and Harold Gatty in 1931.

CONNELLY BARRED BY RUSSIAN HEADS

American Playwright Will Not Be Allowed to Enter Their Country.

Stockholm, Sweden, July 22.—(AP)—Marc Connelly, American playwright and Pulitzer prize winner, has been barred from entering Russia by the Soviet authorities for a reason that has not been explained.

Chicago, July 22.—(AP)—Federal authorities and police were non-committal today after John Factor, millionaire speculator, had viewed the four Touhy gangsters suspected as being his kidnapers, and refused to say whether he had been able to identify them. The showup, resembling an amateur theatrical, took place in the office of Chief of Detectives William Schoemaker with the unwilling cast consisting of Roger Touhy, Gustave "Gloomy Gus" Schaefer, Willie Sharkey and Ed McFadden.

Factor Views Suspects Of Kidnaping In Mirror
On the other side of a wall and watching the gesture of the quartet in a mirror and listening intently to their voices as they spoke in shouts and whispers as commanded by heavily armed police, was Factor. With him were his son, Jerome, himself a kidnap victim a few months ago, Mrs. Factor, At-

Famous Flying Couple Hope to Cross Atlantic Twice and Then Continue to Baghdad—Bad Weather Faces Them at Start of Daring Adventure.

Edmonton, July 22.—(AP)—The plane in which Jim and Amy Mollison took off for the United States passed between Fastnet Rock and the Cork mainland at 1:20 p. m., G. M. T. today (8:30 a. m., E. S. T.). The ship was flying low, disappeared towards the Atlantic.

Edmonton, July 22.—(AP)—The famous flying Mollisons, Jim and Amy, took off this morning for New York on an ambitious adventure in which they hoped to fly to Baghdad after crossing the Atlantic twice.

In contrast to stormy weather that caused their plans, the two-motored Seafarer, to crash on the first take-off attempt June 8, the weather was acceptable as the plane took the air at 11 a. m., Greenwich time (8 a. m., E. S. T.). They planned to reach New York Sunday night and after a short rest to cross the ocean once more, seeking a distance non-stop record.

Famous Flier
Captain James A. Mollison, who made the first solo east-to-west flight over the Atlantic last August, watched the final arrangements being made and saw to it that everything was shipshape.

"Now for the greatest adventure of my life," she exclaimed. There was very little wind as Mollison, who was at the guiding console, opened the throttle and began the run along the beach for the take-off.

BEFORE THE TAKE-OFF
Penciling, Carmarthen, Wales, July 22.—(AP)—Jim and Amy Mollison arrived here today (4 p. m., E. S. T.) with the expectation of taking off within two hours for the United States, the first leg of an ambitious aerial adventure of 12,000 miles.

They plan to fly to Baghdad and then back to England.

While the famous aviators awaited detailed weather reports, and their plane was being fueled, they went to a hotel for a brief rest.

CONCORDIA CHURCH GREETED NEW PASTOR Reception Given Rev. and Mrs. Karl Richter Here Last Evening.

The auditorium of the Concordia Lutheran church was filled last night for the reception to the new pastor and his wife, Rev. Karl Richter and Mrs. Richter, who arrived this week from Buffalo, N. Y. More than 300 were present to welcome the new church leaders to the pastorate and to Manchester. The floral decorations were beautiful and were the work of the Anderson Greenhouses.

Rev. Karl Richter

The informal program opened with an address by John Lerch, chairman of the committee for the reception. This was followed by the welcome by John Winsler, chairman of the official board of the church. Prayer for the prosperity and usefulness of the church in the community and the new pastor, was by Rev. K. O. Klette of the German church in Rockville, who since the death of the late Rev. H. O. Weber, has frequently occupied the pulpit.

VISITS POLICE STATION TO GET SOME LIQUOR

Nerves Shattered Man Comes Into Station to Find Out Where He Can Get Drink.

It was a quiet night at the police station when a nervous man came in to find out where he could get a drink. Captain Schendel was on the desk and acknowledged his identity. The visitor said that he had just left Sergeant Moriarty of the Hartford police force and had been advised to look up Captain Schendel. The purpose of the visit was to find a place where a little spirituous liquor could be purchased. The visitor told a story at having seen a gruesome sight. He had helped to care for a man who was covered with blood and it had upset him so he needed a drink. He said the Hartford policeman had sent him to Manchester to get the drink and had suggested that he visit Captain Schendel.

The whole thing looked "fishy" to the local police captain and upon investigation he found that the inebriated visitor had car accident with a young man driving. The driver was questioned and told to take the drunk passenger home. When the visitor left the station and got into the automobile the driver came back into the police station.

STATE LABOR COMMISSIONER SAYS PRESIDENT'S STATEMENT IS NOT AN ORDER YET.

CHOIR BOY IS SHOT BY ANOTHER YOUTH

Boy on Horseback Resents Action When Campers Throw Apples at Horses.

Torrington, July 22—(AP)—As the result of the shooting of Frederick Davis, 14, a Danbury choir boy from Camp Washington, near Benton lake last night, Paul Wiggins, 13, of Litchfield, whose father is a New Haven attorney, will be arraigned in Morris tomorrow next week, it was stated today at the state police barracks in Canaan. Davis with a group of other campers was walking along the highway. Ahead of them were Wiggins and a girl on horseback. One of the campers it is alleged, threw an apple at the horses and the shooting resulted. The two riders galloped away immediately after the shooting, but they were traced by state policemen after a canvass of riding stables in the vicinity of the lake. Davis was not seriously injured.

FIVE PERSONS KILLED IN JERSEY ACCIDENT

Seaside Heights, N. J., July 22—(AP)—Five persons were believed killed early today when their automobile plunged off an open drawbridge into Barnegat bay. Three bodies were recovered. The recovered bodies were those of Marcus Matthews, Mary Burns, and Mary Altken, all of Forked River. Coast Guard boats were still grappling for the bodies of Joseph Darrow and Leonard Mason, also of Forked River, who were with the party when it was last seen before starting across Bay Bridge to the mainland from Seaside Park. Police also considered the possibility that Franklin Matthews, of Ocean avenue, Seabright, owner of the car and brother of Marcus Matthews, may have been in the machine.

MATTER IS AWAITING WORD FROM BACKERS

Nome, Alaska, July 22—(AP)—While the Soviet fliers who flew from the Bering Sea in Southern Russia to go to the aid of Jimmie Mattern were resting and being entertained here today, Mattern awaited a "council of war" to decide whether he should complete his world flight alone. No final advice had been received from the Texan's backers in New York and Chicago. They will decide whether he should return to Anadyr, Siberia, in the rescue expedition's plane, and from there fly on to New York, which he left last June. He crashed near Anadyr June 14. A flight to Fairbanks with William Alexander, head of the relief expedition, to carry on better wireless communication with his backers, was planned.

DEATHS LAST NIGHT

Cincinnati—Mrs. Julia Bundy Forsaker, 86, widow of Joseph Benson Forsaker, former governor of and Senator from Ohio. Montreal—John T. Johnson of Clarksville, W. Va., would attend the state convention of the American Legion which is to be held here August 23 to 26. Commander Johnson has notified the committee that he will fly up from Clarksville to be present at the opening of the session. John Elden of Cleveland, grand chief de gare of the Forty and Eight, also accepted an invitation to address the conventions. Others who have sent in similar acceptances are Governor Wilbur L. Cross, U. S. Senators Frederic C. Wallace and Augustine Lonergan, former U. S. Senator Hiram Bingham and Congressman William L. Higgins of the Second Connecticut District.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Dorothy Germaine, 8, of 105 Benton street and Mrs. David Stiles of Talcottville were discharged yesterday. Charles W. Reimer, 35, of 47 Benton street, died at 5:35 p. m. yesterday afternoon. He was admitted at 4:50 p. m. after being found in the attic at 47 Benton street with a revolver in his hand and a wound in his head, said to have been self-inflicted by Dr. W. B. Tinker, medical examiner for Manchester. Joan Aceto of 195 Spruce street was admitted today.

GEN. BALBO PLOTS HOMEWARD FLIGHT

He and His Companions Cheered by 700,000 in New York Parade.

New York, July 22—(AP)—While many a New Yorker nursed a raw larynx today, Gen. Italo Balbo turned to the work of plotting the course his 24 seaplanes will follow back to Italy. A night's rest brought quick recovery from the fatigue of a parade, two mass meetings, a luncheon and two dinners that comprised the big town's official welcome to the Roman eagles who flew the Atlantic.

Isaiah Denounces Drunkards And Other Social Sins

Text: Isaiah 5:1-13, 18-24. The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for July 23.

By WM. E. GILROY, D.D. Editor of The Congregationalist.

The wording of our topic for special groups is interesting. It is in some measure a sad indication of the slowness of real progress in the world that a denunciation of evil in society made several centuries before Christ is so necessary and forceful in relation to our modern society even in 1933.

Isaiah attacks first of all the problem of the inequality of wealth and opportunity, and the selfishness with which certain strong or privileged people have grasped more than their share of what is needed for the common good.

Can anyone who surveys our modern society contend that Isaiah's sermon does not apply to our time? Evil ambitions and evil habits go hand in hand.

Drunkness is only one of the social sins, and we have never quite adequately considered it in relation to other social sins and unsavory social conditions.

WILLIAMS TO DESCRIBE BALBO'S ARRIVAL

With all America trilling over the daring achievement of General Italo Balbo and his Italian air armada, Captain Al Williams and Ted Husing will collaborate in giving Sunday's radio listeners a vivid description of the arrival in New York City, over the Columbia Broadcasting System.

The American flyer is particularly competent to offer his version of the sensational event since he officially welcomed the Mussolini ski fleet in his famous Curtiss Hawk over Manhattan Island.

This program will be a sustaining fifteen minutes over a national network. Ted Husing will ask questions and Captain Al Williams will answer.

The program will be a follow-up of the 15 minutes devoted by the Columbia Broadcasting System to the arrival of Italy's trans-Atlantic air fleet of twenty-four seaplanes, last Wednesday.

The Strength Of A Nation

International Sunday School Lesson Text, July 23rd.

"Righteousness exalteth a nation; but sin is a reproach to any people." —Proverbs 14:34.

The argument that America is responsible for the prolongation of the Great War, its ruinous costs, and wide devastations because she did not enter into the conflict at the beginning, is wholly imaginative and superficial.

Among the lessons taught by the Great War is this, namely, that the strength of a nation is not in its armament, but in righteousness.

FISHERMEN ANGLE FOR A NEW DEAL

New Englanders Seek Aid from Fellow Fisherman Roosevelt.

New Bedford, Mass.—Members of another pioneer industry—the weather-beaten, grim fishermen of New England—hopefully await the magic of the New Deal.

The little fishing craft still discharge their freight at the wharf in New Bedford, at the piers of Atlantic Avenue in Boston, at the docks of Gloucester way, or at the Fulton Market in New York.

That is why, some weeks ago, representative fishermen from all along the coast boarded the Gertrude L. Thebaud in Gloucester and sailed to Washington to tell their plight to a fellow fisherman and lover of the sea—President Roosevelt.

Fishermen and the Machine Age. There are still just as many fish in the sea as ever, despite what one hears along the waterfront in Gloucester, Nantucket, Provincetown, William D. Emmons, state inspector of fishing, reports that in 1932 there was actually an increase of one-eighth of a million pounds of fish marketed in Boston as compared with 1931.

But prices tell a vastly different story. Swedish herring declined 25 to 40 per cent in value; the price of mackerel has dropped disastrously; even founders, the best of the lot, have declined.

Then, too, the life of a fishing schooner is seldom more than ten or twelve years. Loss of life is high. Operating expenses have increased, with the annual cost of sailing the average $35,000 schooner ranging between $10,000 and $25,000.

The machine age has taken its toll. In the past, the little fisherman used to sail his sloop out from Cape Cod or from the coves of the bay, and the fish he caught were sold to the market.

There is competition from abroad. Nearly 100,000 tons of fish were sent to the United States from Japan in 1931. Nova Scotia contributed a million pounds and even Mexico exported a small allotment.

SATURDAY, JULY 22.

WE BUY THE WATER WORKS.

The victory yesterday of the forces favoring the purchase of the Cheney owned water company and sewer district is all the more satisfying to the winners when it is considered that the proponents were unorganized to get out a vote while the opposition had a hard working group well organized and well trained to solicit support.

Now that the purchase of the water and sewer utilities has been sanctioned by the voters we don't believe that even the most ardent antagonist feels that a mistake has been made. There was no question at any time as to the advisability of obtaining the water company property.

Judging from the opinions of workers at the polls Cheney Brothers should feel elated that there was such a good turnout of the voters living in the South Manchester area, the great majority of whom are employed by the firm.

It is unfortunate that a group of voters residing at the north end of Manchester took an opposite stand on a question of vital interest to those in South Manchester. This north end group was appealed to yesterday to kill the proposed deal.

However, the question has been settled and it is up to the Selectmen now to see that municipal ownership of the water and sewer plants is started right. The success of the project depends to a considerable degree on the way in which it begins.

It's difficult to enthuse over any subject that would require the expenditure of town funds, but a crying need that comes to mind right now doesn't call for such a great outlay of money, at least not as great an expenditure in proportion as it is in importance to the town.

WHAT IS THIS GOLF? These are days for outings, vacations, sun back suits and golf. And of all these sins none is sinned against more than golf. It is played and played at. Some are hitting and some are backers. If your swing isn't smooth you're in the rough and if your game isn't good your language is bad.

Someone asked us the other day, "What is there about that game that gets you?" That's a hard question to answer especially after you've just about made up your mind to throw the clubs away.

Golf is a form of work made expensive enough for a man to enjoy it. It is physical and mental exertion made attractive by the fact that you have to dress for it in a $200,000 clubhouse.

The game is played on carefully selected grass with little white balls and as many clubs as the player can afford. These little balls cost from seventy-five cents to $25, and it is possible to support a family of ten people (all adults) for five months on the money represented by the balls lost by some golfers in a single afternoon.

The ball must not be thrown, pushed or carried. It must be propelled by about $200 worth of curious looking implements, especially designed to provoke the owner. Each implement has a specific purpose and ultimately some golfers get to know what that purpose is. They are the exceptions. After each hole has been completed the golfer counts his strokes.

After the final or eighteenth hole, the golfer adds up his score and stops when he has reached eighty-seven. He then takes a shower, a pint of gin, sings "Shuffle Off to Buffalo" with six or eight other lars and calls it the end of a perfect day.

the application of some preparation to lay the dust. East Center street residents, those who live in the vicinity of the cemetery, are objecting strenuously to the conditions of the roadway at the cemetery entrance.

If occasion calls for a visit to cemeteries in other towns of Manchester's size it will be noted that their roadways are in far better condition than are those in the three cemeteries here. Perhaps an inspection tour by the cemetery or park committees would achieve some results.

MR. LEVITT'S POLITICS.

The appointment of Professor Albert Levitt, of Redding, as a special assistant in the Department of Justice by the Democratic Attorney General Homer Cummings, endorsed by Democratic U. S. Senator Augustine Lonergan and other Democratic leaders, bears out exactly what has been contended in these columns many, many times.

It was Professor Levitt's insincerity that was his downfall in his own home town of Redding where he was repudiated each time he asked public trust. His home town folks knew he was not honest in his party affiliation.

The Levitt objective was the Republican party organization in Connecticut. His Republican party enrollment naturally aided him somewhat in cities in which he was not known. He succeeded in gaining quite a bit of support here in Manchester where he posed as a dyed-in-the-wool Republican out to save his beloved party.

IN NEW YORK By JULIA BLANSHARD New York, July 22.—Headlines on the Douglas Fairbanks-Mary Pickford divorce brings back vivid memories of war days of 1917-18 when they, with Charlie Chaplin, were selling Liberty Bonds in New York.

Italian-Americans have been given two big opportunities to celebrate the triumphs of men from their homeland recently. First Carnera took the heavyweight prize-fight title away from Jack Sharkey and now the scintillating General Balbo has led his 24 airplanes in a victorious flight from Italy to America.

Chaplin Turns the Tables Next day, the three again appeared, this time on a platform built up in front of the Treasury Building in Wall Street. Fairbanks did his stuff and Miss Pickford came forward to smile and wave and urge everyone to "Buy Bonds."

It's difficult to enthuse over any subject that would require the expenditure of town funds, but a crying need that comes to mind right now doesn't call for such a great outlay of money, at least not as great an expenditure in proportion as it is in importance to the town.

we are hungry for the vitamins or for the minerals. Usually, however, one feels unsatisfied, and the feeling arises that there is some deficiency in the diet. We do not realize just what this deficiency is and may transfer the call into a yearning for candy, pickles, soda or waffles, and children generally fall back on cruder substances such as lead pencils, dirt or plaster from the wall, in fact, almost anything.

Most people limit their intake in such a way that they get too much starch and not enough protein. This method gives rise to a feeling of being a little hungry all the time, but the sensation is gone if a meal of meat, eggs or other proteins is taken.

contain acid? If it contains acid, does cooking destroy it? I would like to eat fruits but cannot if they contain acid, so I am very desirous of knowing which fruits do not contain acid, either cooked or uncooked.

Answer: Fruit acids are changed somewhat by cooking. Also, dried fruits have less acid than when fresh. Many people are afraid of using fruit because of the acid, but could do so if they understood how to use the fruits properly. It is better to use only the starchy fruits with meals and take fresh fruits by themselves, making an entire meal of one kind of fruit.

Behind the Scenes in WASHINGTON

By RODNEY DUTCHER The Evening Herald Washington Correspondent.

Washington, July 25.—Industrial recovery will not come fast enough to save any of the $500,000,000 appropriated for unemployment relief.

Four million families—about 18,000,000 persons—are estimated to have been "on relief" at the peak point in March. Federal Emergency Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins estimates that perhaps 10 per cent are now "off relief" as a result of seasonal factors and the recent pickup in employment.

Relief needs normally begin to increase in October and rise through the winter, beginning to decline again in March. No one knows how far these two factors will go to offset the effects of business improvement, as affects the half billion dollar fund.

States Rely On U. S. The problem of making the states provide a fair share of relief before receiving federal funds has been one of Hopkins' chief worries. Distress relief goes through various stages of progression—relatives, neighbors and localities, communities, counties, states and federal aid—but it was found that state governments had refused to use their taxing power for state relief.

All But Three Benefit Half the $500,000,000 is to be distributed on the basis of one-third the amount raised for relief by the recipient state government. The rest is to be granted at discretion. Hopkins has been successful in causing some of the largest states to raise or promise to raise proper amounts, but he finds that some states are dead broke and must be financed 100 per cent for relief.

He has the task of determining just how large a share various others are able to raise and just which states are "stalling." Thus far nearly $85,000,000 has been sent to 45 states—all but Wisconsin, New Hampshire and Delaware.

Rolls Examined Relief rolls are being purged over the country, but there is also some tendency to raise relief standards which have often been inadequate.

The administration here does not want to set up any permanent relief organization which would continue for years, and it is going to make studies of the various other methods proposed for meeting the unemployment problem. Hopkins is a strong believer in unemployment insurance and he will make a survey of its possibilities, with subsequent recommendations.

Health and Diet Advice

By Dr. Frank McCoy

DO YOU KNOW WHEN YOU'RE HUNGRY?

If you have seen a bunch of farmhands or lumberjacks rush into a dining room and consume all of the available food, you may smile when you see the difficulties the fashionables have in selecting food that is tempting enough to eat, even in a first class restaurant where the chef considers himself a culinary artist.

When you have a poor appetite, you should not attempt to stuff yourself with the appetizing foods which are usually the least healthful, but you should make your appetite come back by taking an orange or grapefruit for a few days. To a person who starts out again after such a fast, food not only tastes as good as mother used to make, but in many cases it tastes a wee bit better.

Many people would enjoy food more if they would only give their stomachs a chance to register hunger by not eating between meals. If you think you are hungry between meals, it is better just to take a large drink of water or fruit juice. False hunger is largely a matter of habit. If one is accustomed to eating regular meals, the habit of being hungry occurs at that certain time.

You'd like the ROBINSONS

THEY'RE the kind of people it's nice to have as neighbors. They always seem to have such a good time together. Their home isn't large, but it's furnished in excellent taste; everything fits perfectly, as though it had been made especially for the very space it occupies.

And their dinners are charming. Not expensive, but different... new and interesting dishes that other people haven't heard of yet. Mrs. Robinson dresses beautifully, too. Her clothes have that air of coming straight from Paris, yet she doesn't spend much on them.

If you should ask her how it is she manages things so well, Mrs. Robinson would smile and say, "It's really very simple. WE BUDGET OUR INCOME. That tells us how much money we have to spend. AND WE READ THE ADVERTISEMENTS. That tells us how to spend our money wisely."

ROCKVILLE

CORONER YEOMANS FINDS SCHUSTER RESPONSIBLE

Guilty of Criminal Act That Caused Death of Walter Koczynski on July 2.

In rendering his decision on the death of Walter Koczynski, aged 54, whose mangled body was found on the Rockville and Springfield road, County Coroner John H. Yeomans of Andover says in part:

"I find that the said death was caused by the criminal act and carelessness of Fred Schuster, as aforesaid, and that at the time of said accident, Mr. Schuster was operating his car while under the influence of liquor."

Fred Schuster is now at the Tolland County jail in default of bonds of $5,000, held on a technical charge of manslaughter as the result of this death. The trial will be held in Rockville early in September.

The report of County Coroner Yeomans, which was announced this morning at which time a copy was handed to the state police, is as follows:

"Walter Koczynski, late of Windsor, Conn., was found dead on the east shoulder of the Rockville-Somers highway near the home of Rudolph Mosher about 12:30, d. s. on July 2, 1933. "An examination of the body indicated that Koczynski had been struck by an automobile while walking near the side of the road. Nearby were found fragments of a Leadlight lens, also the pieces of a bolt. These were identified as having come from a Model 'A' Ford.

"Officers Donald A. Crossman and Thomas Hunt, attached to the Stafford barracks of the State Police Department, immediately began an examination of all Ford cars in the vicinity.

"On Friday, July 3, upon examining the car of Fred Schuster, of Ellington, the officers found that a bolt, such as had been found at the scene of the accident, had been recently replaced. Upon questioning, Schuster told the officers that his car had struck Koczynski and that he was operating the car at the time. Schuster further stated that he was somewhat under the influence of liquor at the time.

"Officers Crossman and Hunt are to be commended for their fine work in apprehending the driver of the car which killed Mr. Koczynski and credit is also due Constable John DeCarli of Ellington for the securing of the bolt and glass which were found near the body.

"I find that the said death was caused by the criminal act and carelessness of Fred Schuster, as aforesaid, and that at the time of said accident, Mr. Schuster was operating his car while under the influence of liquor.

"Dated at Andover, July 21st, 1933.

Signed,
JOHN H. YEOMANS,
County Coroner.
Walter Koczynski, who had only gone to work as a weaver in the Minterburn Mill of the Hocklum Mills Company two nights before his death, was walking eight miles to his wife and four children in his home in Somersville.

Technical Charge Preferred
Miss Selma Schoen, aged 24, of 15 West, 81st street, New York City, whose father, Joseph Schoen, aged 55, was fatally injured in the automobile accident of the Rockville and Crystal Lake section of the Boston-New York road on Thursday afternoon, is held on technical charges pending an investigation.

State Policeman Donald A. Crossman served papers on Miss Schoen at the Rockville City hospital yesterday afternoon, charging her with two charges, namely, operating a motor vehicle in violation of the rules of the road and with criminal negligence. Bonds of $5,000 were requested by County Coroner John H. Yeomans, of Andover, who held a preliminary hearing yesterday afternoon. The bonds were furnished by a bonding company through their Hartford office. The inquest will be held within a month.

The body of Joseph Schoen, aged 55, who died within an hour after reaching the Rockville City hospital on Thursday afternoon, was shipped to New York yesterday on the 2:58 p. m. train from Hartford, arriving in New York at 6 o'clock.

Removed to Stafford
In anticipation of being at the bedside of his wife, Lieutenant William J. Fitzgerald of the Boston Navy Yard, was transferred to the Johnson Memorial hospital at Stafford Springs at 10 o'clock yesterday morning.

He was injured in the above mentioned accident. Before Mr. Fitzgerald had been taken from the Rockville City hospital word had been received that Mrs. Fitzgerald had died, her death having occurred at 7:50 a. m., daylight time. Death was caused by internal injuries. Mrs. Fitzgerald drove the Dodge sedan which collided with the Pontiac driven by Miss Schoen.

Crash Victims' Condition
At the Rockville City hospital yesterday morning, Lieutenant Commander Fitzgerald, a victim of the car crash Thursday, had been examined by Dr. R. C. Ferguson, chief. He was suffering from a fracture of the thigh and a compound fracture of the right knee, in addition to body bruises. At a late hour Friday night at the Johnson Memorial hospital, Lieutenant Commander Fitzgerald was reported as resting comfortably and out of danger.

Needed Improvement Considered
Due to the fact that St. Bernard's Terrace is now practically used as a public road and also due to the fact that taxes are being collected by both the town and city for property located on this short stretch of road, an effort is now being made to rebuild this three hundred feet of road.

While the public works department of the city of Rockville has no funds available for such work, several prominent citizens of different creeds, have made suggestions as to how the road can be rebuilt at little or no cost to either St. Bernard's Parish or the city of Rockville.

It has been suggested that as long as private citizens are willing to raise the funds to lay an asphalt pavement, that the equipment of the public works department might be loaned to do the preliminary work of tearing up the old tar road and laying a bed foundation.

Secure Bone Specialist
Miss Selma Schoen, driver of the Pontiac sedan in which her father was killed, was examined by Dr. Paul Sweet of Hartford, well-known bone specialist, early yesterday morning. It was found that she is suffering a fracture of the upper portion of her jaw, where the teeth were knocked out, making it necessary to undergo a serious operation.

Dr. Sweet recommended the securing of a dental surgeon to resect the jaw which he reported as needing to be tied together with wire. Miss Schoen is also suffering a laceration of the right knee and body bruises. Members of the families of the injured people arrived in Rockville yesterday and are making their home at the Rockville House.

Rinkeydinks Social
The Rinkeydinks Athletic Club are to hold a social and dance at the Cherrio Ballroom in Rockville on next Thursday evening, July 27. Both modern and old fashioned dancing will be enjoyed. The entire receipts will be used to help defray the expense of purchasing new equipment including baseball uniforms.

Tobacco Acreage Signed
Close to 160 acres of tobacco land has been leased to the United States Government at an annual rental of $75 in an effort to decrease the crop for 1933. The local committee acting for Tolland County, are to hold daily meetings until next Wednesday night in the office of Ernest E. Tucker, agent of the Tolland County Farm Bureau.

Barrett tells Elinor that if she will marry him and live in his home as a guest for a year he will give her the entire Stafford fortune to divide among her relatives. Knowing the money may save her father's life, Elinor agrees.
 The marriage takes place. Barrett, in spite of the lies Lida has told him, finds himself more in love with Elinor than ever. He has a ward, MINNIE GERRIT, ALD MOORE, who is the son of his half-sister, MARCIA RENNOR. Barrett has promised Marcia never to reveal the boy's true story.
 The doctor orders a change of climate for Elinor's father and she goes with him to Aiken. Lida asks Barrett for $30,000. When he refuses she puts detectives on his trail and learns ably on his ward. Lida concludes the boy is Barrett's son.
 Barrett pays an unannounced visit to Aiken. He finds BOB TELEARE there and suspects Elinor of carrying on a flirtation with Bob.
NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXXVI
 "What attractive cups," Barrett commented, glancing at the tray.
 Elinor nodded. "Everything here is strictly first class. The owners haven't much money but they certainly have excellent taste. It's a darling house. I love it!"
 "It's for sale, Elinor. Just as it is—furnished. May I buy it for you?" Barrett asked earnestly.
 She looked startled, raising her eyes to his.
 "I'd like to leave something with you that will make you remember me," he said wistfully.
 "I should think you could let me do that— if you leave me. Let me get it any way and you will decide later about keeping it. Will you, dear?"
 He had said, "If you leave me—" The thought churned in Elinor's heart and set her pulse racing. Then he had thought he might not leave her.
 "You're very kind—" she whispered.
 "Not a bit of it!" He drew a hand away, moistened his lips and set back away from her. He was going soft again, he warned himself. Nevertheless he could not stifle the mood or help restraining out a hand to rest lightly on hers. He wanted to cry out, "I'm mad about you, darling."
 He said instead, "Very good coffee, Elinor."
 "Yes, isn't it? The cook must have caught a glimpse of you and decided to show you her skill. She can be a genius when she wants to be. At other times she's a rarer careless. We've never had a better dinner than the one tonight."
 "It was first rate," he agreed, trying to say an arresting hand upon her arm. She turned toward him, head still high. "By God," he whispered, staring down at him.
 "How about the house?" she questioned after a silence as she set her cup on the tray.
 "I'm tempted," she admitted.
 "They even have the books I like on the shelves. Could you buy the books too?" she finished eagerly.
 "I should think so. I understand the house is offered just as it is."
 It was offered as the result of another domestic tragedy, he knew, but he didn't want Elinor to know that. It might change her feeling for the place.
 Later she played for him softly, so that the piano could not be heard in the wing where Bentwell Stafford slept. Finally, resolving to "get it over," Barrett suggested that they go to the terrace. He laid a light wrap about her shoulders, remonstrated that it wouldn't keep her warm. She answered, as women always do, that it was warm and they stepped across the window-sill into the night.
 Rain was coming and big, billowing clouds beyond the moon. Now the terrace was bathed in silver; now black. The lights of the village pricked the ebon curtain to the north. The soft stir was in the air that comes before a tempestuous southern downpour. Leaves trembled, and somewhere a shutter swung. From the nearest house, a half acre away, came the husked strains of the latest, sentimentally appealing waltz. Some blondes proclaimed themselves as the fact that the moon had been not by losing a heavy, sweet odor.
 Barrett wanted to be beyond reach of the house, beyond a point where a keenly listening ear could catch even so much as a chance phrase. Drawing her arm through his, he led her to a balustrade that guarded a terrace from a dramatically beautiful drop. "This is a charming place," he murmured a trifle thickly as she withdrew her arm.
 "Yes."
 He leaned against the balustrade against which she had been leaning. He found it difficult to begin.
 "Cigaret?" he asked.
 "No, thank you."
 She watched his face as he held a lighter with a wind guard to his cigarette. Something had made him rather nervous, she saw. Long lines were pulled at the sides of his lips, which were stiff, yet uneasy.
 "How long can you stay?" she asked.
 "As long as you wish me to,"

A "LIBRARY" WHERE CHILDREN TAKE OUT TOYS! "Toys" Helps Solve Many Juvenile Problems

A little girl made happy by playing "house" at her own home with toys borrowed from New York's unique free lending toy library.

New York, July 22.—"I'll take an electric train, please."
 A ragged little boy stood wide-eyed before a counter piled high with toys and games. He gave his order. The clerk in charge did not laugh at him or mention price. She simply wrote his name, address and school grade. She explained the wonderful possibilities of the toy train. With trembling hands, the little boy worked the switch like a real engineer. The train was wrapped up and he took it home.
 That wasn't just the dream of a little ragamuffin, who eyes longingly the fascinating store displays of toys for little boys whose parents can afford to buy most of them.
 That painful wish-dream of underprivileged childhood has come true at the "toyery," a free lending library for toys and games, just opened by the New York University Community Center.
The Hunger For Play
 Just such a toy center has long been the dream of Mrs. Ida Cash, Brooklyn probation officer and originator of the "Toyery."
 "For years I have seen little because they had stolen dolls and doll carriages—a craving that was as natural and as necessary to their development as the desire to eat," explained Mrs. Cash.
 "Little boys learned their first taste of conflict with law because they stole carpentry tools, wagons, building blocks or perhaps a bicycle or a boat to sail. They were hungry for constructive play."
 For years Mrs. Cash has tried to alleviate this hunger from her own resources. She found out, a long time ago, that a few toys went far toward keeping children from forming street gangs.
 At last, she has succeeded in making others see her viewpoint.

USE JUDGMENT IN METING PUNISHMENT

Mrs. Smith finished the living room. She stacked the sweeper, the polish cans and the dusters in the hall and pulled down the shades.
 "Come on, Billy, no more muss now! We're going out to the kitchen."
 Two-year-old Billy trotted along. He was just two.
 "The living room was his playground. It had more space and it was cool. As a usual thing his mother did not care if he got the checkers and the dominos and made little houses on the chairs and floor."
 But it was all cleaned up now and she wanted it kept that way. She expected some visitors in the afternoon.
Mischief Afoot
 Mrs. Smith went about her work. Billy trotted about. He got into the pantry and hauled out the chopping bowl. Into it he piled all the things he could find, an empty cereal box, some spoons, twists of paper out of the waste paper basket and some egg shells. He was very busy.
 So was his mother. She was now baking a cake.
 Billy went into the pantry again. He climbed up on a chair. He got another box and put it into the bowl.
 "Two cups of flour, sift twice," Mrs. Smith counted. Billy was very busy.
 "He's so good today," thought Mrs. Smith subconsciously. "Beat the whites of four eggs stiff and fold in."
 The cake was in the oven at last and Billy's mother decided to have a look-see. Probably he was in the living room again. Well, a few papers would be easy to pick up.
 She went in.
 On each chair was a mound of puffed rice. On the floor was a perfect sea-shore of puffed rice. And if you don't know, try stepping on it and see what happens. Billy's small feet had ground it into powder all over the place.
Discipline With Reason
 In short, the living room was quite a sight. So was Billy's face. He was simply delighted. "See!" he exclaimed proudly, pointing with his spoon. "See!"
 Mrs. Smith's first impulse was to jerk away the spoon and spank her child, and who could blame her. But a decent little thought nudged her. No, it wasn't "He's just a baby," either.
 It went something like this: "I allow him to put all kinds of little things on the chairs and floor. I allow him to play with empty boxes, and to fill them up and empty them. He doesn't know the difference between checkers and rice, and he doesn't know the difference between ethical differences, that is. And he doesn't know anything about order for company and how much work it is to clean up."
 She got the dustpan and broom and went to work again.
 Now when Billy is older, and gets an order to keep out, and disobey, and knows he is doing so, that is a different story.
 Like Mrs. Smith we should reason, "Can a child be fairly expected to know all things and behave accordingly?" To us our good judgment in meting out punishment is a very good plan.

girls and boys have made possible this fairland for the hungry-eyed children. On the day that New York University opened its "toyery," dozens of poor children from the lower west side of New York flocked to it.
 They stood aghast. Here was an almost unbelievable array of lovely dolls, a sled with wheels, and all sorts of engines, boats, building blocks and the like. Yet it wasn't Christmas! On the contrary, a blazing July sun shone on the city. But the children needed no July sun to warm their little hearts. They were quivering with excitement at the very sight of the toys.
Combats Delinquency
 There is practically no "red tape" involved for the child who wishes to take advantage of this thrilling enterprise. Children, living in the vicinity, are required to bring one of their parents and register there. From then on, everything is conducted along the lines on which library books are loaned. There is no charge, once the child is registered.
 Nor are any lines drawn regarding the type of home to which the expensive toys is to be taken. As long as the age of the child is suited to the type of plaything, he gets it and no further questions are asked.
 Aside from the obvious amount of joy the "toyery" will bring to hundreds in the eye, ear, nose, throat or esophagus. Regardless of how careful mothers may be, children occasionally push foreign substances into various body cavities.
 When a child chokes there is no time to call a doctor. The mother should remember that the attempt to remove any object in the throat by rough methods may do more harm than good. If the baby is small it should be put face downward, or head downward, and given opportunity to cough the object out. A very large object can, of course, be pulled out with the finger.
 A physician removes objects from the throat by the use of special devices developed for this purpose.

DON'T PUT BEEFSTEAK ON BLACK EYE; HOT COMPRESSES ARE BEST.
 Most Bruises Yield to Simple Treatment; Choking Infant Should Be Held Head Downward and Made to Cough.
 Editor's Note: This is the fifth article in a series on first-aid.
BY DR. MORRIS FISHBELIN
 Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine.
 Whenever the tissues of the body are struck with sufficient force there is likely to be bruising. This may come from a blow or from a fall.
 The first symptom of a bruise is pain; usually this is followed by redness and swelling. Later, due to the blood that has poured out from the blood vessels into the skin, the tissues become black and blue. As the blood is gradually absorbed this changes from brown to yellow and gradually disappears.
 For most bruises little immediate treatment is necessary. The application of pads wrung out of ice water will lessen pain.
 A black eye is a form of bruise especially unsightly and likely to arouse liabilities. Application of ice compresses to the eye will stop the pain and, perhaps, to some extent, prevent discoloration. After the blackness appears, the application of hot compresses, kept on for half an hour three times a day, will hasten the disappearance of the swelling and discoloration.
 Among things that are not to be done to a black eye are the application of a slice of raw beefsteak, pressure with the handle of a knife or the application of any kind of strong medicinal lotion or solution.
 The danger of injury to the eyeball is far more serious than either the mental or physical pain associated with the ordinary black eye. It is well to have the eye examined promptly to make certain that the eyeball has not been injured.
 Among the emergencies demanding first-aid is the presence of foreign bodies in the eye, ear, nose, throat or esophagus. Regardless of how careful mothers may be, children occasionally push foreign substances into various body cavities.
 When a child chokes there is no time to call a doctor. The mother should remember that the attempt to remove any object in the throat by rough methods may do more harm than good. GLORIFYING YOURSELF
 By Alicia Hart
 You'll see your beauty eye to eye if you invest in some of the newest eye cosmetics.
 A famous French manufacturer of cosmetics rises up to assert that American women treat their eyes with not enough consideration. He says that they make bigger mistakes when they choose eye cosmetics than they do choosing all other cosmetics put together.
 In the first place, your eyes are the most important part of your face. Portrait painters and artists of all time have said that a woman with beautiful eyes could be handsome even if the rest of her features were not so good looking.
 In view of that, you should be given at once to take proper care of your eyes and use eye cosmetics which are suited to them.
 Eye shadow is exactly what the name implies! You don't use it merely to add a touch of green, blue, brown or black to your face. Eye shadow should be the shade of the natural color of the shadow over your eyes. Get a hand mirror and study the shade of the skin above your eyes. Your eye shadow should match it exactly. If it is a grayish brown color, (that's the most common shade of women's eyelids), don't get blue or plain brown eye shadow. Get one which is grayish brown! And use it sparingly!
 Don't blend eye shadow out on your cheeks unless the natural shadow extends that far. Always stick to the natural! You can't make over your face and its shadows anyway. The best you can do is to make the natural shadows show up to advantage.
 France sends a new governor to its penal colony at Devil's Island with orders to reform it! Only giving the devil his due.

BUILDING PROGRAM FOR NATION READY

Washington, July 22.—(AP)—A big program for constructing Federal buildings throughout the country, of which about $35,000,000 worth already have been approved, probably will be forwarded to President Roosevelt by his Cabinet board in charge of public works within a few days.
 The size of the total program depends upon future action of the board, and may run to nearly $100,000,000.
 The projects are being selected on the basis of a report submitted by the Budget Bureau on the huge estimates submitted by the Treasury Department.
 The Budget Bureau divided the projects into six groups depending upon their desirability. Its recommendation of projects involving a total cost of about $35,000,000 was tentatively approved by the board at its last meeting.

AMUSEMENTS

STATE THEATRE Two Features Today Charlie Ruggles in 'Melody Cruise' and 'Fast Workers' with John Gilbert, Robert Armstrong and Mae Clarke.

Ever since the smashing success of their romantic teamwork in 'Red Dust', it was inevitable that Miss Harlow and Gable should play a romantic comedy.

Whatever it takes to put romance on the screen, Harlow and Gable have it. More dramatic than most stories on this order, the new picture nevertheless packs warm interludes bound to keep the matinee seats full so long as the film shows.

Even if for no other reason than its palpitating romance, 'Hold Your Man' is a cinch at the box office.

But it is replete, by way of further interest, with a stimulating story that has as its climatic background the interior of a women's reform school.

Strike in Hollywood MAY CLOSE UP STUDIOS Hollywood, Calif., July 22.—(AP)—Every major Hollywood motion picture studio may be dark at midnight tonight in response to a strike call issued by officials of the Sound Technicians' Union.

Studios affected by the scheduled walkout, described by Harold Smith, business representative of the union, as being occasioned by disagreement over salary and hours, will be Universal, Warner Brothers, Fox, Paramount, R.K.O. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, Educational, Hal Roach, Harold Lloyd, United Artists, Columbia, Samuel Goldwyn and Bryan-Foy.

Smith said union members sought a maximum working time of 12 hours a day and a 6-day week, with an attendant uniform scale of wages.

Under present conditions, he said, sound men often were called upon to work 14 and 16 hours daily.

The strike call was similar in effect to the one which closed the Columbia studio last week.

All crafts at that plant walked out in sympathy with the strike of the sound men.

Subsequently executives of the studio cancelled all contracts of actors and closed the plant for an indefinite period.

JOLSON BEATS UP WALTER WINCHELL because he resented things Winchell put in a movie scenario reflecting disparagingly on Jolson.

Jolson said he would attempt to halt production of the Winchell picture.

He said he would lay the matter before Will Hays, czar of moviedom, today.

Evidently the fight, in spite of the knock-downs, was a draw.

Winchell received nods from friends and Jolson got an ovation as he left the stadium.

Winchell, jaunty and little the worse for the assault outside the ropes, said: 'Swell publicity for the picture I wrote, eh?'

ALL MILK DEALERS UNDER BOARD RULE

Even the Smallest Retailer Is Effected—Must Maintain Prices.

As a result of a regulation made by the State Board of Milk Control on Friday, July 21, all persons selling milk in the state must maintain prices as set by the board.

This sets a precedent since up to the time of the ruling, the necessity of maintaining prices applied only to those dealers licensed by the board.

This ruling reaches every small seller—those selling less than a daily average of ten quarts—since those dealers selling more than ten quarts are already required, under state law, to be licensed.

The ruling is the result of evidence brought out at a public hearing held Thursday by the board in Hartford.

At this hearing, dealers from all parts of the state presented evidence to show the fact that the small producer-dealers were not held to the scheduled prices worked serious injustices to the licensed dealers and proved to be a disruptive factor in the orderly marketing of milk.

In the ruling made Friday, the board states that unless the less-than-ten-quart dealers sell their milk for the scheduled prices, the board will drop the licensing limit from ten quarts to one quart and will require any person selling that lower amount of milk to pay the five dollar license fee.

The ruling follows: 'Now, therefore, until further notice the board hereby sets the minimum prices for milk.

'And the board announces that if it finds that these prices are not maintained and that the markets are further demoralized by the persons selling less than ten quarts of milk per day, the board proposes to reduce the minimum heretofore set as a license base, from ten quarts or over daily, to cover every sale whether of one quart or more, as necessary.'

'Read the story, then color the picture.'

The schoolroom was a real-life scene. Said Scouty, 'These fish seem keen to see you. Why, most schools are out there. Why is this open now?'

'To all the fish, schoolwork is joy. They even come on Saturday,' replied the kindly teacher.

'Minding school we don't allow. It's always in real thrilling when they come upon new sights.'

'You fish all know how I can rave if I get mad. You'd best behave. Get out your singing books now and we'll have a little song.'

'Which one? Oh, teacher, it will be real fun to sing the welcome song and let our voices ring out strong.'

'All right,' replied the teacher. 'Sing the welcome song.'

'That was swell!'

'That was swell!'

While many a kid is still too young to be trusted on the street as a pedestrian, his parents put him behind the steering wheel of a motor car.

ACCESSORIES—The old warning was to not blow out the gas. Now the order is not to step on it. Most of the hiking today is done from the parking place to the place where you are going. What we seem to need is an automobile that is afraid of trains. Many motorists who save seconds by wild dashes here and there are at a loss to know what to do with the extra time. Pedestrians who are prone to carelessness are very apt to be left prone. Marriage is like an auto—neither one seems to run quite as smoothly after it has been in a smash-up. Gasoline users are grateful that beer has come along to give lawmakers something else to tax. Another way to test the strength of telephone poles is to hug the driver. When he commits an offense the drunken driver has no defense. Why not place detour signs at railroad crossings? Even speeders would stop long enough to cuss and be saved. If there must be windshield stickers, why not produce one to read: "Don't Hug the Driver."

Henry Wilson and Griswold Chappell, were elected as delegates to the Grand Council, K. of P. meeting to be held in Torrington in October and David Armstrong and Myron Peckham were elected as alternates. The delegates will work for the election of Milton G. Cox as a member of the grand lodge.

The Young People's society of the Polish National church on Golway street is in charge of the Sunday picnic tomorrow afternoon from 3 o'clock on at the Happyland Pavilion on Oakland street. If the weather should be stormy the celebration will be next Sunday. A number of attractions are planned and a good time is in store for all who attend. Miss Mary Kucienki, Miss Bertha Wincek and Chester Kosak compose the committee of arrangements.

The Luther League of the Emanuel Lutheran church held a most enjoyable outing at Columbia Lake last night, more than sixty members attending. Following baseball and swimming a hot dog roast was held and also a lake and shore sing. The outing was in charge of the music committee. Eva Johnson, chairman, and the mission committee, Albin Johnson, chairman.

Miss Arline Becker and her brother Henry, of New York City are spending the week-end with their grandmother, Mrs. Nellie Connors of Oakland street.

Miss Dorothy Anderson, Miss Isabelle Armstrong, Miss Antonette De Simone, Miss Shirley Richmond and Miss Marjorie Wilson have returned after spending the past week at Niantic, Conn.

Mrs. Emeline Chamberlain of Apol Place reached her eighty-first birthday yesterday. Her relatives, neighbors and friends determined the anniversary should not go unnoticed, and in the afternoon they gave her a surprise birthday party, the first of the kind she had ever been honored with. Relatives were present from as far distant places as Lowell, Mass. The time was pleasantly spent in the usual way. The guests brought all the essentials for an appetizing repast, as well as numerous gifts of personal articles and flowers for Mrs. Chamberlain. She is the widow of John Chamberlain and has lived practically all her life in Manchester.

A meeting of the Junior Daughters of Italy will be held Monday evening at 7:45 o'clock at the regular meeting place on Main street. All members are urged to be present.

Meetings at the Swedish Congregational church will be omitted during the session of the Young People's conference in Cromwell, which begins today and continues through July 30.

About ten boys have been camping for the past week on the shores of the South Coventry lake on land owned by Thomas E. Raby. For the past week they have been enjoying real camp life. Most of them are "business men" who have paper routes to look after and while they can engage a substitute to do their peddling they find it necessary to be on the job when collection and pay day comes around. So they were back this morning ready to go to work peddling and collecting, but they are trying to make it snappy as the majority are to start back to Coventry for another week or so when they finish up their business matters in town.

VACATION SCHOOL ENDS AT CHURCH IN VERNON

Closing Exercises Held Last Night—Rev. M. S. Stocking in Charge.

Closing exercises for the Vernon Vacation school were held last evening at the Vernon Methodist church. The school in that place is conducted for only two weeks each summer. While at the north end churches it continues for three weeks, closing Friday, July 28. Rev. Marvin E. Stocking of the North Methodist church, who is also pastor of the church at Vernon, was master of ceremonies and introduced the entertainers, also the superintendents of the various departments.

A vocal solo was rendered by Mrs. Raymond Blinn, accompanied by her daughter Ruth. Miss Catherine Costello also sang accompanied by Miss Pauline Kahan, who played a piano solo during the program. Demonstrations of work done by the primary department, led by Miss Winifred Bromley, and the intermediate department by Ernest Bromley were most interesting. Their assistants were Miss Mary Wilson and Miss Dorothy McAdams. During the evening cookies, cake, ice cream and fruit punch were served and a sale of the handwork of the children was held. Fifty children were enrolled in the school and the average daily attendance was 35.

firm of Bennett and Terry, engineers and appraisers were to conduct a detailed examination and survey of the two properties, which was done. The report was given the committee for study and was printed in part and later in its entirety in The Herald.

Valued at $1,427,652 According to the Bennett and Terry report the reproduction value of the S. M. Water Company was $1,397,302 and the present day value $1,024,456. The reproduction value of the South Manchester Sanitary & Sewer District was $489,857 and the present day value $383,196 or a total value of $1,427,652 placed on the two properties.

The original price asked by Cheney Brothers was $1,200,000 which was reduced after several conferences to $650,000 based on the $1,150,000 purchase price at 4 1/2 per cent, provided that the town could find no other purchaser. This offer has not been withdrawn.

Next Procedure It is expected that the Board of Selectmen will set up a division within the Board to have charge of the new acquisition when the bonds for the purchase have been sold. In addition to the $650,000 of low 40-year bonds, the town assumes the $500,000 of bonds at present outstanding against the properties.

HEBRON CAMPERS TRIM KIWANIANS AT BASEBALL

Club Members Visit Boys Last Night—Girls Go to Camp Monday Morning.

A group of Kiwanians motored out to the Kiddies Camp last night and took on the camp youngsters in a ball game, the Kiddies winning by a score of 26-26. The boys were in fine spirits when visited and only wished that it was their lot to stay another week.

On Monday a group of approximately 44 girls will be selected by the Kiwanis club to spend the second week at the Hebron camp as guests of Helge Pearson, the ever-popular camp director. The girls contacted admit they have been planning for many months for the outing and expect to beat the boys in orderliness, camp behavior, etc., which it is doubtful they will do, for Director Pearson says the boys have been model campers.

Kiwanis members are asked to see that sufficient prizes are contributed so that the girls may be rewarded for the usual camp awards, good camper, and other prizes. Also, members are invited to join during week to furnish the girls with fresh fruit, ice cream and other dainties.

Now it costs but a few cents a day to have the finest hot water service that there is, ELECTRIC HOT WATER SERVICE TIME TRIED AND TESTED IN HUNDREDS OF HOMES The Electric Water Heater has been designed to give a perfected hot water service, at a cost within reach of all pocketbooks. There is no flame or burning, no rust or corrosion. Since there are no moving parts and everything is made of copper and brass, there is little to wear out. Parts that might have to be renewed, after many years of service, are inexpensive and easily replaceable. This electric heater is as permanent as the house in which it is used—really a lifetime investment. For those who do not wish to make a permanent investment of any kind now the Company offers a rental plan with payments as low as $2.50 a month, according to size of equipment. On this plan the Company installs, maintains, and moves the heater. The customer has no expense other than the rental and current used, except where special piping or wiring is required. There is no contract, although the customer is expected to use the equipment for at least a year. In addition, rental payments may be applied towards the purchase of the heater at any time within two years from date of installation. Your regular plumber can give you this new Electric Service. If you cannot reach your plumber call this Company. The Manchester Electric Company 773 Main St. Phone 5181
