The secretary, formerly chief executive of Utah, addressed the governors in the assembly chambers of the California State Legislature.

"For effective economic planning, such as we are embarking upon for the first time," Secretary Dern said, "state borders must to an extent be disregarded and the United States must be taken as one economic area."

WOOL MEN DEBATE PLAN TO CONTROL PRICES OF GRAINS

Public Hearing Being Held to Attempt to Reach Agreement Today.

Washington, July 24.—(AP)—Public hearings on a proposed code of fair competition for the wool textile industry opened today with labor and manufacturer's differing sharply on minimum wages and working hours.

The code, as submitted by the manufacturers, provides for a 40-hour week and minimum wages of $13 weekly in the south and $14 in the north.

Some Opposition He said the code represented the judgment of a majority of the members of the association, but that there were some who were wholly or partially opposed to the proposed limitation on the hours of machinery operation to 80 a week.

With regard to this opposition, he said: "This industry has had to deal with a decreased demand for its product even before the beginning of the present emergency, due principally to a change in the fashion of women's wear."

The wool textile industry has, therefore, a special reason for taking preliminary steps to control production and to attempt to keep it within the bounds of demand, so as to avoid the evils from which the industry, and those dependent upon it, have been suffering.

Deputy Administrator A. D. Whiteside of the National Industrial Recovery Administration, presided at the hearing.

PARLEY COMMITTEE TO BE PERMANENT

Americans in London Feel That Conference Is Far from Being Dead.

London, July 24.—(AP)—Far from dead, the world economic conference may live many years as a result of today's decision by the steering committee to remain in permanent session here although the conference will take a recess on Thursday.

Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald insisted that this action be taken. Behind him was the full support of Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

Mr. Hull looks upon the conference not as having failed but as a series of conferences of which the London parley only the starter. Today's decision calls for the original members of the steering committee to attend meetings, and James M. Cox will be able to represent the United States as he will stay here several weeks after the recess starts.

The nations whose delegates on the steering committee will not be in London will be represented by their ambassadors here.

U. S. NET METHODS CAUSE CRITICISM

Experts Point Out That Vines and Allison Were Badly Over-Trained.

Paris, July 24.—(AP)—Sharp criticism of American methods, which it was asserted sent Ellisworth Vines and Wilmer Allison into the Davis Cup matches with England "over-trained", developed today in the sporting columns of the Paris newspapers.

"The principal American adversary was their own captain, Bernon Prentice," charged Jean Augustin in the Paris Midi. "How can any country condone its sporting interests in a man who presented two players of great value, Vines and Allison, resembling cadavers instead of athletes?"

The collapse of Vines in his final match with Fred Perry, as the result of a twisted ankle, proved "super-abundantly," said Didier Poulain of L'Auto, that the Americans were badly prepared for the inter-zone matches. This writer added: "Allison passed the summit of his form before the matches. Vines was bandaged like a mummy but still was permitted to practice Friday. This is a curious procedure."

Under Estimated British Vines was praised by several writers for his gameness, as were the British for a performance which in the opinion of most observers was the result of high-grade coaching and training.

The American under-estimated the British," remarked one writer. "They appeared to have had the idea that the elimination of Australia and Jack Crawford made their path to the challenge round easier. They should have known better, especially as Austin and Perry two years ago upset them."

Captain Prentice revealed that Vines was advised to default when he aggravated his ankle injury in the sixth game of the fourth set but that the American champion refused to leave the court, despite obvious distress. Prentice said H. Roper Barrett, the British captain, also felt it was a mistake for Vines to continue and said so.

Prentice called the United States Lawn Tennis Association today as follows: "Both captains repeatedly urged Vines to discontinue play after his ankle injury. His game effort in severe heat caused exhaustion from which he seems fully recovered, with no ill effects."

Vines was attended last night by a physician. The American team sails Wednesday on the Olympic for home.

Gasoline stations in all parts of the town did an extra business yesterday by automobiles that had tires or could run in any way were put into commission. This resulted in an upturn in the number of gallons of gasoline sold and also later in the day resulted in an increased number of sales of automobile tires as many were weak in spots and the hot weather helped the air to find these spots and many tires were changed.

It may have been the heat, or maybe it was a 2.2 beer but what ever it was, there's one less bird in the sky today. Autolists on Main street yesterday were astonished to see a young sparrow zoom over the Cheney block, hit a trolley wire and plunge to the pavement. It appeared to have been dead before hitting the trolley wire.

Where Mollisons Crashed After Sea Flight

In this tangled mass of wreckage, in a swamp near Bridgeport, Conn., ended the trans-Atlantic flight of James Mollison and his wife, Amy Johnson. NEW COAL RATES

Washington, July 24.—(AP)—Reductions of freight rates on anthracite coal from Pennsylvania to New England, Long Island and Westchester county, New York, were approved today by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The reductions go into effect on August 1. They range from 28 cents to $1.24 per gross ton. The proposed rate to Boston, for instance, is $3.65 against the present rate of $4.28.

FRISCH TO PILOT. ST. LOUIS CARDS

St. Louis, July 24.—(AP)—President Sam Breadon of the St. Louis Cardinals today announced Frankie Frisch, second baseman, had been named manager of the team for the remainder of this season and for 1934, succeeding Gabby Street.

Breadon said the change was made because "we want to win the pennant."

"I talked things over with Frisch and Street this morning," Breadon said. "Street has been loyal and has won two pennants and a world championship as leader of the Cardinals. But we decided that possibly a change might be for the best and Gabby is stepping down and Frisch has agreed to take over management of the team. He is a great player, his baseball is sound and we hope that under his leadership the Cardinals will shake off their slump and make this a winning year after all."

The choice of Frisch was a logical one, when I decided that it was advisable to make a change. He has been the spark plug of the team ever since we obtained him from New York, and it has become a byword that as Frisch goes, so go the Cardinals. I did not even consider anybody else. He is a standout on the team and a standout in the league. We could not bring in anybody and put him over Frisch."

YOUNG BILL HALSTED SWIMS COVENTRY LAKE

Makes Three Mile Distance in Little Over an Hour and a Half.

An outstanding aquatic feat was accomplished Saturday afternoon by William B. Halsted, Jr., 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Halsted of 52 Laurel Place, when the youngster swam the length of Coventry Lake in the fast time of one hour and 38 minutes. It was his first attempt at the three-mile distance, during which he was accompanied by his father in a rowboat. His sister, Aileen, who is ten years younger, acted as pace maker for her brother, swimming with him for 15 or 20 minutes at a time and then resting in the boat. Young William was taught to swim about four years ago by Frank Busch, Recreation Centers director, and he has progressed rapidly since then. The longest distance he has attempted previous to Saturday was a half mile. Whatever the youngster lacks in form and style he more than makes up for in stamina and endurance, ably proven by his achievement Saturday.

His father is manager of the Manchester branch of the Southern New England Telephone Company.

50 P. C. WAGE RAISE

Gastonia, N. C., July 24.—(AP)—A 50 per cent wage increase for all employees of Gastonia Weaving Company, clothing label manufacturers, was announced here today effective immediately.

The company's clerical force also received a wage increase but it was not as large as that given to the operatives. This figure was not announced.

Weekly wages for workers at the plant heretofore have been $14.50. The announcement did not say whether the increase was a restoration of previous reductions.

Harry Musard, manager of the mill, said the company would come under the silk code, an industry which has not yet completed its code of fair competition.

KIWANIANS TOLD OF CONVENTION

Hartford Delegate Gives Local Club First Hand Story of Sessions.

A detailed account of the annual convention of Kiwanis International, held last month at Los Angeles, Cal., was given the Manchester Kiwanis club at its regular noon-day meeting at the Country Club today, the speaker being L. W. Wheelock of Hartford.

Mr. Wheelock's report proved most interesting. He outlined the procedure of the convention and told of its outstanding accomplishments. He praised the hospitality of the Californians and spoke of the beauties of Los Angeles as a city. He said that a total of 2,800 delegates were in attendance from this country and Canada.

The Rev. W. F. Taylor, pastor of the North Methodist church here twenty-one years ago, who has returned for a brief visit, was a guest of the club today. He expressed himself as highly pleased at the remarkable progress Manchester has made in the period of his absence and said that many towns in his knowledge had not done near as well in advancement.

The attendance prize, donated by E. J. Simonds, was won by Dr. D. C. Y. Moore. C. Elmore Watkins, chairman of the camp committee, reported that forty girls were taken to the Kiddies Camp at Hebron this morning, where they will stay until next Monday. An outing at E. J. Holl's cottage on Bolton Lake is planned for the girls on Wednesday afternoon.

JOYRIDING YOUNGSTERS

TAKEN IN TOW HERE

State Policeman Spots Pair Wanted in Ellington—Freight Train Stops Them.

State Policeman Donald Crossen of the Stafford Springs barracks, on his way to Hartford Saturday afternoon noticed an automobile ahead of him coming towards Manchester. The automobile he recalled seemed familiar and he remembered that there had been a complaint from Ellington about two boys being given the use of an automobile for a day or two and then had not returned it. The police were asked to be on the lookout for them. The policeman stepped on it trying to stop them and they in turn did the same.

The chase continued down through Talcottville and into Toland Turnpike, where the youngsters turned into Parker street with the state policeman still after them. They reached the railroad crossing at Talcottville and found the road blocked by a freight car and were compelled to stop. Before they could get out of the car the state policeman had overtaken them and loaded both into the state car, left the car that they were riding in along side of the road and brought the two of them to Manchester where they were kept while the state policeman continued on to Hartford. He disposed of the business he had there and returned to Manchester, picked them up and returned to Ellington. The names were not booked at the Manchester police station and as both are young their cases will probably be held in chambers. The owner of the car that was missing came to Parkerville during the afternoon and drove it away.

TALCOTTVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. James McNally and Donald Wetherell spent Sunday at Branford Beach.
Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Champlin of Windsor were Saturday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Blankenburg.
Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Taylor of Williamantic spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John Monaghan.
Miss Alice Duggart entertained her Sunday school class at Lake Wamgumba on Saturday afternoon. Bathing, boating and games were enjoyed during the afternoon. James Duggart was the winner of the treasure hunt. In the early evening a "dog" roast and watermelon were enjoyed. Those attending were John Beebe, James Duggart, Ralph Smith, June Warren and William Thrall.

ASKS MORE TIME

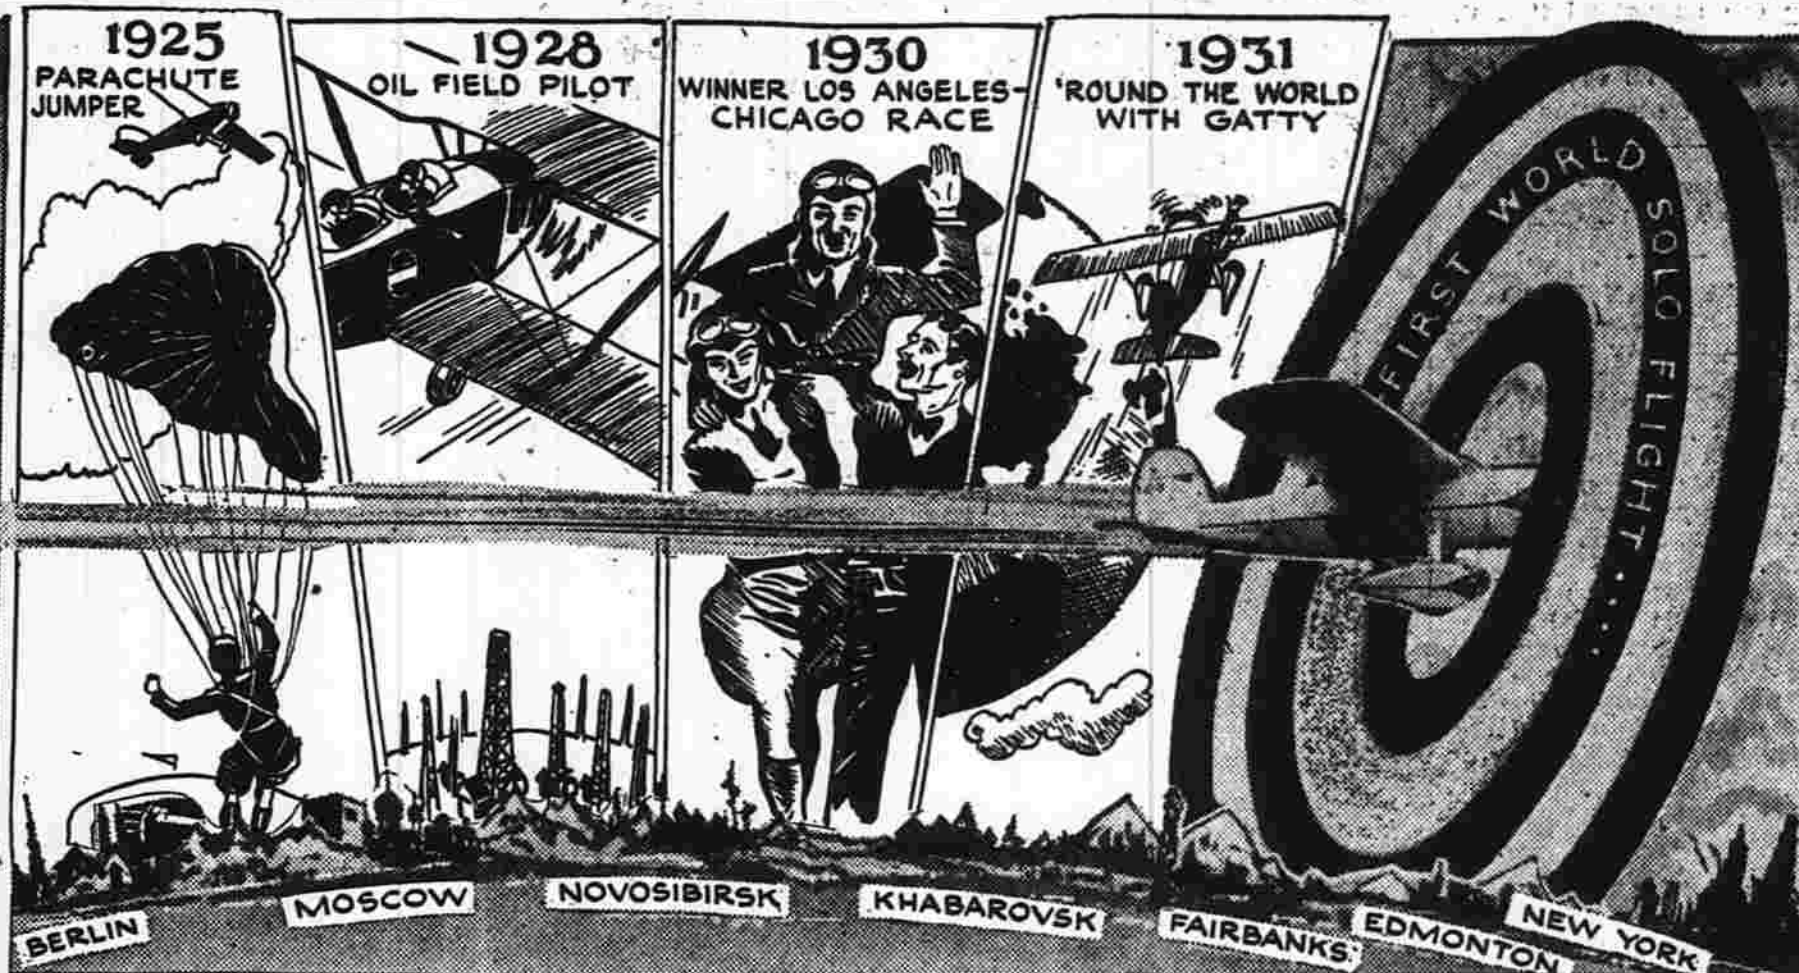

Bridgeport, July 24.—(AP)—Joseph J. Daragan, Danbury shoe merchant, appeared before bankruptcy referee John Keogh today asking for an extension of time to meet claims against him. An extension may be granted under an amendment to the bankruptcy act, if the majority of creditors agree to it, in the same way as the acceptance of a composition offer. However, Mr. Daragan is the first to ask for the extension. His application is continued for a week to allow the applicant to secure the necessary signatures.

ANOTHER TRUNK MYSTERY.

Gary, Ind., July 24.—(AP)—Police officers were called in by Indiana authorities in an effort to identify the body of a man, 28 years old, almost cremated in a blazing trunk but the mystery remained un-solved today.
Saturated with oil, the trunk bearing the body, was found Saturday by Frank Kohnscheen on his farm five miles south of Cook, Indiana. It was ablaze and the fire spread to wheat stack.

'That Guy Post---He Just Ain't Human'

Daring World Flier's Solo Record Climaxes Career Started As Oil Town 'Chute Jumper

The flying courage last sent Willey Post and his plane hurtling through to success in the first solo flight around the world was born when the Oklahoma oil driller turned parachute jumper and embarked on a thrilling career in the air. Soon he was flying planes over the oil country and later his tested prowess gave him the $7,500 prize in a dash from Los Angeles to Chicago. Then came the epochal flight with Harold Gatty around the world, and now is own solo, eclipsing all his previous exploits.

and written a mere decade ago, might have considered fanciful. With colossal confidence in himself, Post decided he could wing his way around the globe alone in a week—perhaps a little less. Certainly, he said, he could do it in less time than the eight days, 15 hours and 51 minutes that his flight with Gatty consumed.

So this man of iron nerve set for himself a target that would have seemed a ridiculous conceit not so many years ago. And he took to the air in his Winnie Mae and steered it straight for his target. Before his take-off Post said: "I could stake awake the whole way around the world, without a single stop for rest, if necessary." Today the world admires his demonstration of human endurance which seems superhuman.

Just Ain't Human' In fact, Lee Trenholm, Post's manager, was talking with some pilots about Post the other day, and one of them said: "Why, that guy Post—he just ain't human." The flier, who seems phlegmatic to casual acquaintances, is one of those restless, daring people who are not happy in the commonplace of existence. His real beginning in the air business was as a parachute jumper.

However, he became a pilot in August, 1925. After an hour and 40 minutes of instruction he made his first solo. Continuing as a barnstormer, he eventually became "air chauffeur" for F. C. Hall, Oklahoma oil man, who backed his record flight with 'Gatty and from whom he bought the Winnie Mae. One of Post's jobs was piloting Hall on inspection tours of the oil territory. Post has been a test pilot for a plane factory at Burbank, Calif., a mail and passenger pilot for lines into Mexico and distinguished himself by winning the race from Los Angeles to the National air meet in Chicago in 1930.

By WILLIAM GAINES

New York (AP)—A small-town, oil-stained barnstormer, spurred by the reckless dream of flying glory, has conquered the world as no one man ever has conquered it before. It's no accident that he has triumphed—but accident has helped to shape Willey Post's flying career. For Post—born in the little town of Grand Saline, Texas, manual laborer in the oil fields of Oklahoma—bought his first plane with insurance money collected for the loss of an eye while working on an oil rig.

Circles Earth Twice Now this same doctory flier, who barely got beyond his grade school geography classes in his quest for learning, has wrapped the wings of a plane around the earth. Twice he has done it with the same ship—the stalwart Winnie Mae. He is the co-holder of one and sole holder of the other of two greatest records in aviation history. No sooner had he returned from his world flight with Harold Gatty in 1931 than he set for himself a goal that Jules Verne, had he lived

LATEST STOCKS

New York, July 24.—(AP)—Financial markets started into today to get back some of the heavy losses suffered during last week's selling cyclone.

With the delayed opening at noon, a large volume of buying orders had piled up since Saturday on the theory that an interim rally, at least, was almost a certainty. While many traders were quick to seize profits on early advances of 1 to 6 or more points, realizing apparently was fairly well absorbed. While grain trading was restricted in Chicago, prices were steady to firm. Wheat was about 1 1/2 cents above the average price of Thursday. Cotton got up around $1 a bale and other commodities were firm. The dollar sagged in foreign exchange markets. Bonds improved.

While shares were inclined to lose some of their early buoyancy after the first hour, gains of around 5 or more points were shown by National Distillers, Homestake Mining, Celanese, Auburn and U. S. Smelting. Gainers of 1 to 2 or more included U. S. Steel, General Motors, Westinghouse, Dupont, Commercial Solvents, Standard Brands, N. Y. Central, Sears Roebuck, U. S. Industrial Alcohol, American Telephone, American Commercial Alcohol, Union Pacific, Baltimore & Ohio and Western Union. Case was a contradictory mover, dropping some 7 points under liquidation reported to be from Chicago. Deere was also off around 3.

Traders generally exhibited considerable more cheerfulness, although most of them were far from jubilant after their "house-cleaning." A number of stocks were rather spotty owing to special influences and, while the margin situation seemingly had eased appreciably, various wire houses found it necessary to close out a number of accounts of customers who were unable to advance further funds.

W. winning the first encounter, 7-4 on the Charter Oak field last Friday night.

BROOKS BACK IN JAIL

Hartford, July 24.—(AP)—A Gilbert Sargent, 55, known here as John E. Brooks, was arraigned before Judge William M. Harney in Police Court today on charges of obtaining under false pretenses $10,000 worth of American Telephone and Telegraph Company 5 per cent bonds from the local brokerage house of Francis R. Cooley and Company. The accused waived examination in the lower court and he was bound over to the September term of the Superior Criminal Court. On recommendation of prosecuting attorney Daniel C. Flynn bail was fixed at $15,000. Unable to furnish the amount of bail ordered by the court, the prisoner was remanded to jail.

It had been expected the loan would be floated immediately. The hitch causing the delay was not explained.

HOLLYWOOD STRIKE

Hollywood, July 24.—(AP)—Determined to avoid a threatened tie up of the entire movie industry, "if humanly possible," 11 studios advertised today for men to replace 665 sound technicians who went on strike Saturday midnight.

Because sound has come to be practically the essence of movie production, the strike would affect a large portion of the 27,000 workers in the industry.

The sound men are seeking a contract embodying uniform wages and hours.

MONDAY, JULY 24.

THE NEW CODES.

One after another the industrial codes are brought to Washington and slipped into place, and as the framework of a new society is thus being erected, piece by piece, we who stand on the sidelines can only pray that the thing is going to work smoothly when it is finished.

Back of all the negotiations, arguments and maneuverings which are producing these codes there looms one great fact—

Our economic system can survive in recognizable form only if the whole population of the country is kept pretty steadily at work at a living wage.

It is recognition of this fact that has led an essentially conservative community to embark on an experiment which would have seemed, to most people, the height of radical folly as recently as a year ago.

And it is only by keeping this fact constantly before our eyes that we shall be able to make a go of the program now being attempted.

All of our fine talk about economics, co-operation, price levels and all of the rest comes down to that, in the end. People have got to have jobs, and the jobs have got to pay them enough so that they can buy the things that they produce. Unless we find some way of accomplishing that, our eventual collapse seems certain.

Viewed in this light, the administration's program is clearly the very essence of conservation. Nothing less than what is now being tried could have been attempted. The old system must be modified at least as greatly as the "new deal" modifies it if it is to survive at all.

A good many years ago Abraham Lincoln warned that the nation could not continue to exist half slave and half free. Both the compromisers and the die-hard tried to find a way of getting around that unpleasant truth, and the disaster of the Civil War was the result.

Today we are facing the fact that the nation cannot continue to exist half prosperous and half destitute. There is one way out and only one; to provide jobs at decent wages, and to keep purchasing power level with production.

If we let ourselves get frightened by the experiment we are making, or if we let rising prices fool us into the belief that times are going to correct themselves without our help, we shall be riding for a fall just as cataclysmic as the one the nation took in 1861.

STATE HIGHWAYS.

By this time in the season of good weather the autolot has learned where the good and bad roads are within a radius of 50 to 60 miles depending upon how much traveling he does out of town. Naturally by following the bulletins issued by the State Highway department the driver can learn readily where construction is under way. It is difficult nowadays for the Manchester autolot to go in any direction and encounter bad roads. The highways, particularly the trunk-line roads, in all four directions from this town are in excellent condition.

Just recently the highway from Marlborough in the direction of East Hampton has been completed. It shortens the drive to Lake Pocontopus considerably. The drive to the various shore resorts at and beyond New London was shortened a year ago by the highway through Columbia and Lebanon, the so-called Jonathan Trumbull highway. On all sides of the town there are evidences of the good work the State Highway commission is doing.

But within the town's borders we have an example of the efficiency and good judgment of the highway department. At Buckland where the state road out in under the rails of the New Haven road there existed for years a) hazard that existed to that undesired eminence as well, your nerves are naturally put under something of a strain. And when you are married to a lady like Almee, who lands on the front pages with such spectacular regularity, the whole business can easily become downright irksome.

These of us who dwell in blissful obscurity can understand that the bright light of publicity does not make the best of all environments for a happy and contented marriage.

IN NEW YORK

By JULIA BLANSHARD
New York, July 24.—As a rather humorous commentary on modern husbands: George Palmer Putnam, busy in New York while his wife, Amelia Earhart, was flying to the coast and based in connection with the National Air Races, was mistaken about the particular midnight on which she was to take off on her return trip.

The minute he woke up the next morning, he picked up the bedside phone and called the United Press to see if they could tell him how she had made out and where she was at the time he was speaking. They told him she would take off the next night at midnight. . . . Downstairs he found a wire from her, corroborating the newspaper information.

A month ago Miss Earhart made an unofficial flight which was important to her, however. A cousin of hers in Cleveland raised blooded Irish setters and offered her one if she would come and collect. So Amelia stepped into the family "bus", flew out and brought him back. They christened him "Der-ry" after Londonderry, Ireland, where she landed on her solo flight across the Atlantic.

They have one other pet, a canary, "Warren." When Putnam left the publishing firm of Brewer and Warren, the partners gave him and Miss Earhart a pair of canaries for a wedding present. They named the canaries for their donors. In time, however, "Brewer" laid an egg and thus became "Mrs. Brewer." The egg was a dud and finally "Mrs. Brewer" went to her eternal reward.

Editor Turns Artist
Ray Long, noted editor and publisher, out in Tahiti since last summer, is amulating Gauguin and taking up all painting in a big way. Last week Leon Gordon, distinguished artist who did the series of paintings of the "twelve greatest American women," and who is an old friend of Long's, shipped a huge box of supplies to the editor-artist in Tahiti.

Dinner-Skupper
Count Ferdinand Kabus, popular Polish member of New York's society, is one famous gourmet who never lowers himself to ordinary food. He "shops around" before giving a dinner. Not for price, however. He shops for "imagination in food. He sits down, writes a note to all the maître-d'hôtels of the places he likes best, stating how many guests he will have and how much he will pay for the dinner. They all submit their ideas of the best means he could have. He goes over all the answers carefully and picks his place.

All-embracing Names
In the New York telephone directory, there is one Huger (he's a doctor!); one Pether (leader, fur); and four Neckers (two are undertakers and two are builders and decorators for churches.)

Queer Twists In Day's News

Chicago.—Police men whose lives were complicated by a monkey's antics learned that the animal was the subject of psychological experimentation, having undergone a brain operation at a university clinic.

It escaped the dog pound after running away from the clinic, but ran into an electric wire and was knocked out. Later it was returned to the clinic. Scientists feared the shock would be fatal.

Philadelphia.—The brewers are now hitting the bullseyes. Analysis of the "new" beer here soon after its introduction last April showed none of it contained more than 2 per cent of alcohol. The latest checkup shows 11 brands of beer actually 3.2 beer.

Wilkesbarre, Pa.—Some one wanted some coal and as a result 78 houses in Pittston were damaged, gas and water mains severed. Officials of the Pittston Coal Company, who investigated "aqueous" in the Ewan mine, said some one had been piling coal from the pillars, which support the mine roof. A collapse was the result.

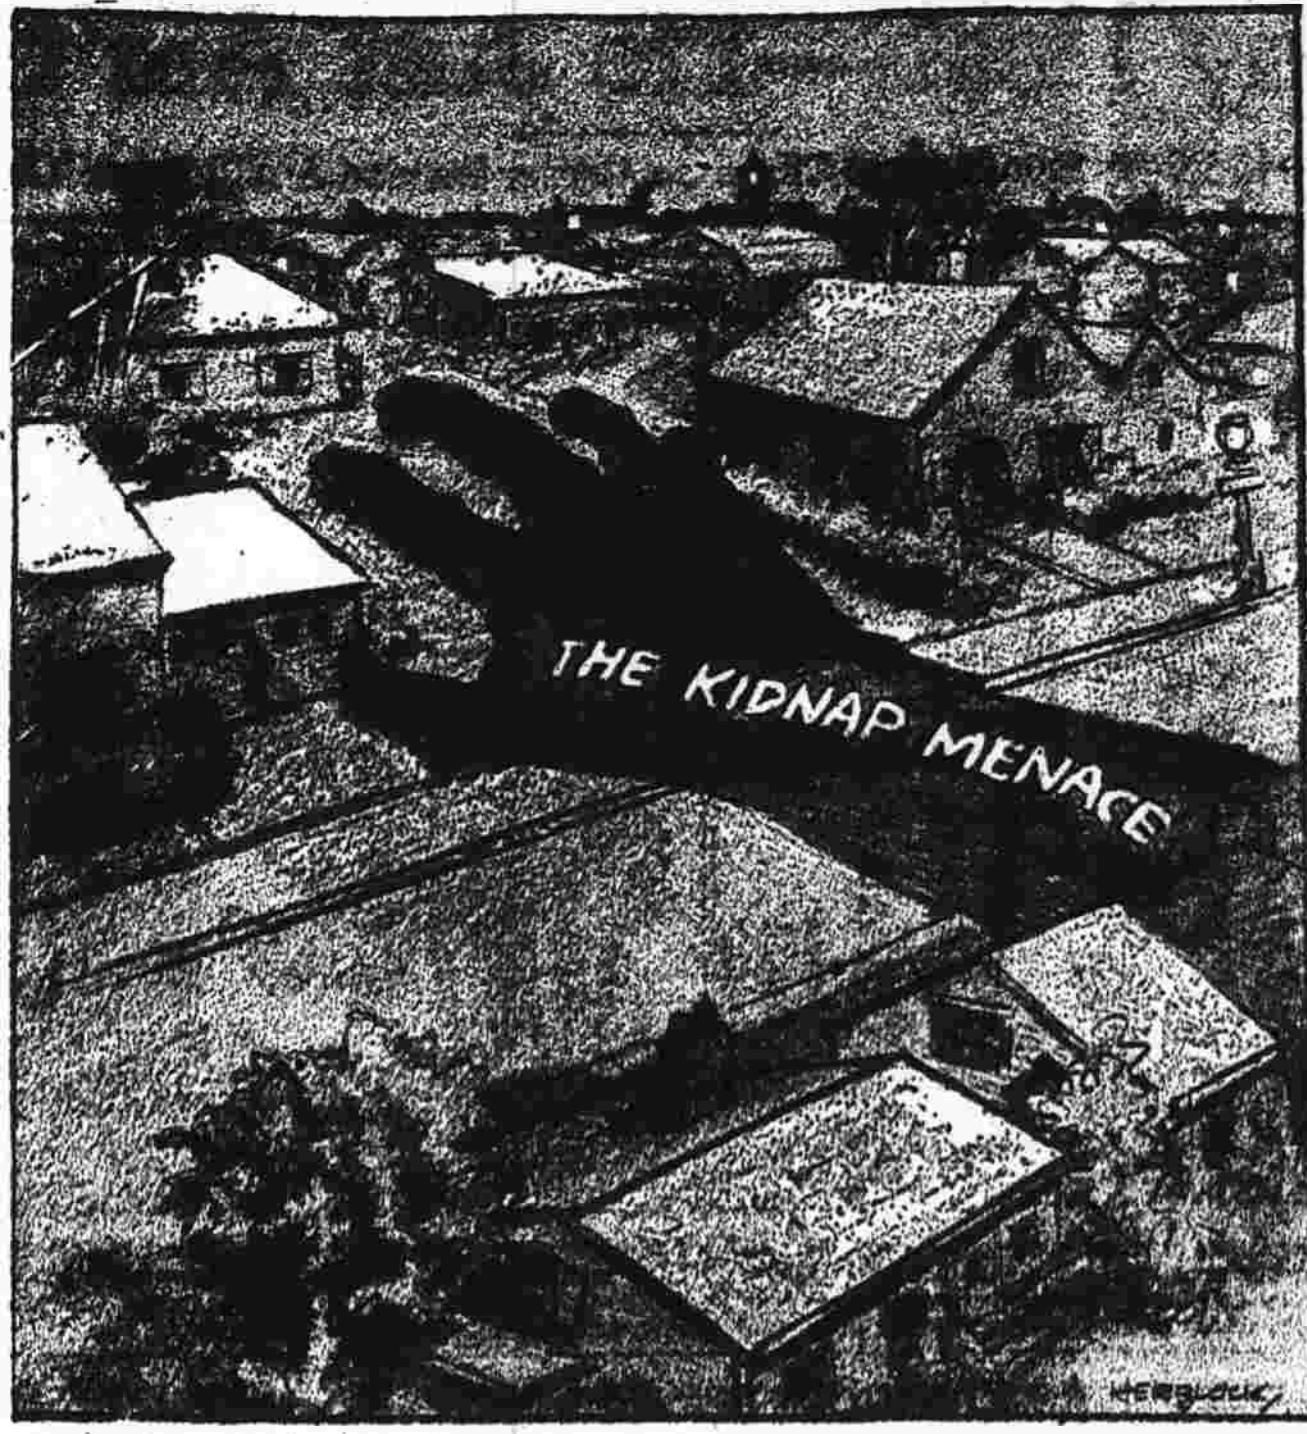

Milwaukee.—Mrs. Mari Ja Bajuk, 55, today was on her way back to her native Jugo Slavia. She asked that she be deported because she felt she was a burden to her son, who is receiving county aid.

Chicago.—A gray-haired man walked into a shooting gallery, laid 15 cents on the counter, selected a pistol and while the attendant's back was turned, shot himself to death.

He was identified as Malcolm Patterson, 60, of Chicago.

Los Angeles.—There are at least 60 self-sacrificing men in Los Angeles. Little Annabelle Wallace lay gravely ill. Doctors, in an O. B. to the police department, said blood was needed. Sixty-six policemen volunteered for the transfusion. Lieutenant Robert Berry was chosen, and now physicians say the girl will live.

USING PLEASURE AND PAIN AS HEALTH INDICATORS.

Mankind instinctively seeks for those things and pursuits which bring happiness just as objects and situations that inflict pain are avoided. In the true sense, both pleasure and pain play highly important parts in the lives of every person, for they serve us as guides toward the mass of experiences we encounter in life. They are wrong who believe that pain is a necessary evil or that pleasure is undesirable. When we understand the true purposes of pain and enjoyment, we will have more time and energy for seeking out the things which bring the most lasting happiness.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

(Trouble May Be Sober).
Question: Mr. Herbert S. writes: "Can you inform me as to what can be used to destroy a skin parasite like this? It leaves for its pathway a reddened patch of thickened skin due largely to rubbing and scratching. It spreads out from this patch apparently in concentric circles; but closer observation shows that it spreads in tiny pinpoint pimples, sometimes forming small circular patches and sometimes lines one half to an inch and a half in length."
Answer: I am not able to determine definitely the type of skin parasite from the description. The spreading in circles sounds like ringworm; on the other hand, the tiny pinpoint pimples and small lines sound as though it might be scabies, especially if the reddened patch is due to rubbing or scratching. Scabies generally attacks the thin skin between the fingers at the wrist and the inside of the elbow. Ringworm often selects the tougher, outer skin, or the skin of the neck and chest. Scabies can be overcome through the application of sulphur ointment morning and night for several days. There are a great many types of ringworm some of which respond to an antiseptic solution better than another. Some of the most satisfactory are iodine, silver nitrate, Hexylresorcinol and Thymol.

Don't Use Cereals With Fresh Fruit
Question: Miss Marjorie J. asks: "Are cereals with sliced fresh fruit a good combination?"
Answer: Cereals should never be combined with acid fruits. However, a glass of orange juice taken about an hour before a cereal breakfast is all right, as this fruit leaves the stomach almost entirely within that time.

Behind the Scenes in WASHINGTON

By RODNEY DUCHER
The Evening Herald Washington Correspondent

Washington, July 25.—Roosevelt believed the French bluff could be called at the London economic conference. And he proved to be right. The President's serene confidence that the conference would go on—manifested at a moment when the whole world seemed to believe it was as good as adjourned—amazed most of us.

But he was betting on the belief that France wouldn't dare force a breakup. A rather prevalent private attitude among our officials is that the French can be depended on to agree to anything which gives them the big end of the deal and to disagree with us on almost anything else.

French leader and keystone of the gold bloc, wanted the dollar pegged in order to avoid inflation of the franc, expansion of American commerce at the expense of gold countries and loss of French prestige through possible failure to stay on the gold basis.

World Sympathy With U. S.
Obviously, the French position after Roosevelt declared against their brand of stabilization was either a bluff or meant they would quit. Roosevelt and his advisers decided it was a bluff, after asking themselves what France could gain by walking out arm in arm with the rest of the gold bloc.

She would be lining up economically with the small nations of Europe—probably plus Germany and Italy, her two political enemies. The British empire—with England unready to stabilize the pound and unwilling to lose her large American trade, as well as dominant sympathy with the American policy—would be with us. So would most of the rest of the world outside continental Europe.

That may yet happen; the conference may yet collapse. But the fact remains that France has taken her first licking from us at a post-war international conference. No wonder M. Andre Tardieu refers to us in effect, as "impudent upstarts."

Saw U. S. Being "Jobbed"
The most logical explanation of Roosevelt's so-called about-face against currency stabilization to come from any informed source is that the President came to the conclusion that this country was about to be "jobbed."

had refused to do. That didn't encourage Roosevelt's hopes, but he still looked toward an agreement based on current price levels and domestic purchasing powers of nations plus other economic agreements.

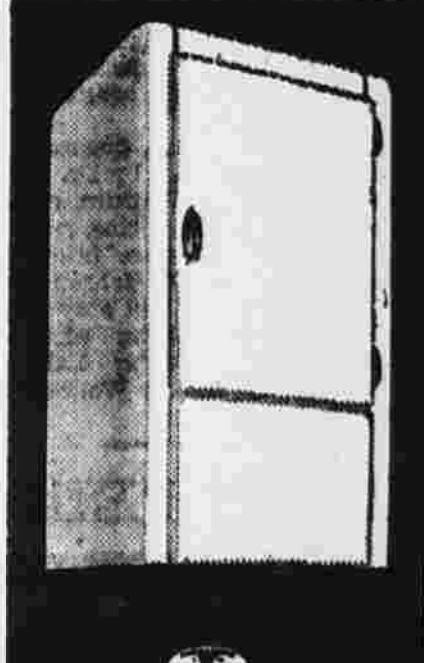

When he realized that France and other nations were insistent on a type of stabilization sure to react against our own rising prices he quickly called the turn.

Import Quota Fight Due
If the conference gets that far, you can expect a hot and extremely complicated fight over import quotas.

When a country erects that type of a trade barrier it theoretically limits imports from each competing country to an identical percentage of previous import volume.

But there are innumerable tricks used to discriminate against an individual exporting nation—often the United States—and we want to end those practices.

"Eat grape-fruit to combat the heat," advises a woman's page writer. Yes, it's often as good as a shower's bath.

ACCIDENT VICTIMS RETURN TO HOMES

Miss Selma Schoen Under $5,000 Bond, Goes to Her Home in New York.

The victims of the fatal automobile accident on the Rockville-Crystal Lake road near Dimock's crossing have returned to their homes in New York after several days of worry in Rockville. Miss Selma Schoen, aged 24, of 15 West 81st street, New York City, returned to her home under a bond of $5,000 furnished by a Hartford surety company.

She is charged with criminal negligence and with driving an automobile in violation of the rules of the road. She is critically injured and for that reason no objection was raised to her being transferred to New York City to be cared for by a Dental Surgeon in an effort to save her jaw which was badly broken. The upper section of her mouth was so badly crushed by the impact with the steering wheel that her teeth were knocked out and the jaw bone crushed inward.

The body of Mrs. William J. Fitzgerald, wife of Lieutenant-Commander William J. Fitzgerald of the Boston Navy Yard, was removed to Boston for burial. Mr. Fitzgerald is still at the Johnson Memorial hospital in Stafford with serious injuries. The Navy Department at Washington has inquired as to his condition on several occasions. County Coroner John H. Yeomans has postponed the inquest for a month for further investigation and to give the patients time to recover sufficiently.

Fined Fifty Dollars
Clement Povolosky, aged 22 years, was fined $50 and costs by Justice of Peace Theodore A. Palmer on Saturday night as the result of charges preferred against him on Friday by the state police. He was charged with taking an automobile owned by Steve Kostovich of Ellington without permission and driving to Manchester with the car on Friday. He was accompanied by his brother Michael Povolosky who was also presented in court.

State Policeman Thomas H. Hunt arrested the pair in Manchester on Friday night and State Policeman Donald A. Crossman investigated the case and presented it in court. After hearing the testimony, the charges against Michael Povolosky were nolleed by Justice Palmer.

The automobile was first reported as being stolen but after investigation it was found that the young men took the automobile more out of devilry and planned to return it after they made the trip to Manchester.

Several cases of parties taking automobiles without the permission of the owners have come to the attention of the state police during the past few months but the parties

To Visit Crystal Lake
The Connecticut Editorial Association will hold their annual summer meeting on Saturday afternoon at the Crystal Lake Hotel. More than 100 are expected to attend this meeting on Saturday. The day's program will open with a dinner at 2 o'clock followed by a business meeting and program of sport.

President A. C. Worley, editor and publisher of the New Milford Times, will preside at the business meeting. A general discussion of the Industrial Code will be held relative to how it will affect the newspapers. Interesting facts are expected to be brought out as to how the new industrial code will affect the publishers and owners who also have a position in the printing plant of their papers.

Boating and bathing will also be enjoyed during the evening. The members of the editorial association have been invited to attend the Sandy Beach Ballroom as the guests of George Bokis, owner and manager.

This meeting, which is one of the quarterly meetings, will be of considerable importance. Much credit is due to Harold W. Bruce, publisher of the Stafford Springs Press, senior vice-president for bringing them to Crystal Lake for their outing. It is the first meeting of the Connecticut Editorial Association to be held in Tolland County.

Celebrate Golden Anniversary
Mr. and Mrs. Julius Petschke of Vernon avenue, observed their silver wedding anniversary at their home on Saturday. They were married on July 22, 1908 in Rockville by Rev. Charles E. McKinley, pastor of the Union Congregational church at that time. Mrs. Petschke was the former Miss Bertha Hartmann before her marriage.

The couple have three children, Nelson Petschke, Harold and Lawrence Petschke, all of Rockville.

Mr. and Mrs. Petschke conduct a grocery business on Vernon avenue. They were complimented by their many friends and neighbors during the day.

Membership Drive Successful
Adjutant George N. Brigham of Stanley Dobbos Post, No. 14, American Legion, is being highly complimented for his success in the conducting of the American Legion membership drive during the past week. The quota for 1933 was set at 260 and the drive resulted in the name of 232 being added to the lists. Before the state convention of the American Legion to be held at New London on August 24, it is expected that the full quota will be raised.

Notes
Burpee Post, Woman's Relief Corps, celebrated their golden anniversary on Sunday morning. The anniversary was observed by the members attending the service at St. John's Episcopal church in a body at 10 o'clock. Rev. Henry B. Olmstead, rector, delivered an interesting sermon. The members gathered at 8:45 o'clock in the G. A. R. Hall to go to the church. Delegations from other patriotic bodies were also in attendance.

Rev. George T. Sinnott, pastor of St. Bernard's Catholic church, has returned from a month's vacation, spent at Chicago with relatives.

The annual encampment of the Busy Bee Society of the First Lutheran church came to a close on Saturday at Crystal Lake. They were at the Dowling cottage for a week with Mrs. Gertrude Genovesi as chaperone.

Damon Temple, Pythian Sisters, will hold their regular meeting tonight in Foresters Hall. The regular meeting of the Board of Selectmen will be held on Tuesday evening with First Selectman Francis J. Prichard in charge. Considerable routine business is to be acted upon. The members of the Vulture 40 & Thursday evening in the Legion 8, are to hold a county meeting on rooms at Stafford Springs. Chief De Gars Omer Schook of Rockville, will be in charge. A social and smoker will follow the meeting. The annual outing of the Men's Union of the Union Congregational church, which was to have been held on last Saturday, was indefinitely postponed.

AMUSEMENTS

STATE THEATRE

"Hold Your Man"
Jean Harlow and Clark Gable scored a tremendous hit with the Manchester movie patrons who saw this famous team reunited in "Hold Your Man" at the State Theatre. On Wednesday "Reunion in Vienna" plus "Circus Queen Murder" comes to the State to replace "Hold Your Man." "What Price Innocence" now playing to great crowds in Hartford was announced as coming to Manchester very soon.

As the cheap little drifter who goes to prison for the man she loves, Miss Harlow endows her characterization with a wistful sympathy and humor. Particularly in the incident in which she awakens to approaching motherhood is she effective. Gable banter his way through the early part of the picture with delightful nonchalance which sharply contrasts his important work in the climactic sequences when he risks arrest on a murder charge to give a name to the unborn child.

Stuart Erwin is excellent in the first serious role we have seen him play. Dorothy Burgess also comes in for her share of plaudits and the cast is rounded out by such splendid players as Muriel Kirkland, Garry

Owen, Barbara Barondess, Paul Hurst, Elizabeth Patterson, Theresa Harris, Blanche Friderici and George Reed.

There also is a song hit "Hold Your Man," by Nacio Herb Brown and Arthur Freed.

New York, July 24.—Moisture conditions in the cotton belt have not been normal so far this year," says the New York Cotton Exchange service. "Winter rainfall in the west, on which the Texas and Oklahoma crops depend to such a large extent for sub-soil accumulation, was deficient. May rainfall was slightly excessive while June rainfall was very light."

The National Lumber Manufacturers Association reports that lumber orders at the mills in the week ended July 15 fell below production for the first time in a year. Output was the heaviest since July, 1931. The drop in orders, the association said, "may signify decline in speculative buying."

AIRPLANE STOLEN

Waterbury, July 24.—(AP)—Police teletype wires carried the information today that an airplane had been "stolen" yesterday from the airport at Bethany. A message said that a Travelair biplane, owned by Joseph Malcarne of Higganum, had been taken up at 3 p. m. by a man, who had been working around the field and who is known only as Bill and that the plane has not been heard of since. Bill, the message added, told somebody at the field that he was going to fly to Bedford, R. I. The plane is numbered NC-8263.

May Be Hawaii's Next Governor

Retention of Maj. Gen. Brian Wells, above, as head of the Hawaiian department of the U. S. army for another year lends weight to rumors that General Wells may be the next governor of Hawaii. The officer's term was to have expired this year. It is thought he is being held over to establish the three-year residence required for appointment as governor.

ANCIENT TRADITION FAILS TO SILENCE ALL NEW SENATORS

By HERBERT PLUMMER

Washington.—Most of the new senators who came in with the "new deal" observed the traditional silence of first-termers during the special session, but one or two of them figured in outbursts that will cause them to bear watching in the future.

One was Young Bennett Champ Clark, son of the former speaker of the house, junior senator from Missouri. Senator Clark gave every evidence from the start that he would not be content to sit idly by until he had learned the ropes. At that, he enjoyed seniority over the first-termers, for Senator Hawes resigned his seat in the seventy-second congress so Clark might get preference in committee assignments.

Young Clark had been in the senate but a short while when he made his bow. It was on the side of Huey Long. Clark came to the "kingfish's" support in his political troubles down to Louisiana.

He has bobbed up frequently in senate debates. He was quite active when the economy bill was up for consideration and was one of the senators who led the fight for confirmation of Guy T. Helvering of Kansas for commissioner of internal revenue.

Nevada's new senator, the plump, white-haired Pat McCarran, is another first-termer who struck out rather boldly in the special session. It was McCarran who sought to stop progress of the administration's economy plan through the senate by a parliamentary move. He tried to get the bill sent to the judiciary committee, but was snowed under by a three-to-one vote. Defeat didn't down him, however. A few minutes after the roll call he was in a squabble with Senator Glass of Virginia. Glass had made a scarcely audible remark which McCarran caught and jumped to his feet to claim the floor on personal privilege.

He Tackled Glass
He warned Glass that he wanted "to put a stop to such remarks" and declared that if they weren't stopped he would "invoke the rule of the senate."

There are few senators, even among the old-timers, who care to get into an argument with Glass, but the reputation of the Virginian did not stop McCarran.

He is a product of the southern Nevada mining boom days. Formerly a district attorney in the center of the Tonopah boom, he has gone far in the judiciary of Nevada, but retains many characteristics born of gold rush times.

MAYOR DROWNED

Hudson, N. Y., July 24.—(AP)—This old whaling city today mourned the death of its sportsman-mayor, Archland B. West, 49, who was flung to his death from an outboard motorboat in the Hudson river yesterday.

West, an ardent motorboat racer, fell face-first out of the stern of his boat when the motor suddenly started. Canoeists not far away had seen him standing up in the light racer, trying to start the motor, which had stalled.

Leaving its driver struggling in the middle of the Hudson river, which is about a half mile wide, the boat sped on down the river, to run head-on into a mud bank.

I've got to keep my eyes on the field and a steady hand on the telegraph key every second. No wonder I am a steady smoker! But I do not worry about my nerves. I have smoked Camels for years. They are mild, and never disturb my nerves. I like them better."

MOLLISSONS ABANDON LONG DISTANCE HOP

I think that when one is so very, very tired, fatigue is the same as a drug...

"My head and hair were soaking wet, I thought that my hair was soaked in petrol and I was terrified. But it was only ice water."

"We knew approximately how far we were from New York but because of our low petrol supply we feared it would be necessary to make a forced landing over New York City and we decided to land here."

"I shared the controls with the captain on the flight over, and I shall be very glad to get in the air again."

"If our flight had been successful," he added, "we had planned it as a climax to our flying career. I can't say now whether we will again fly long distance."

"But you know," he said, "all the way over I kept thinking how sorry I felt for those Lithuanians—after they had put up such a great show."

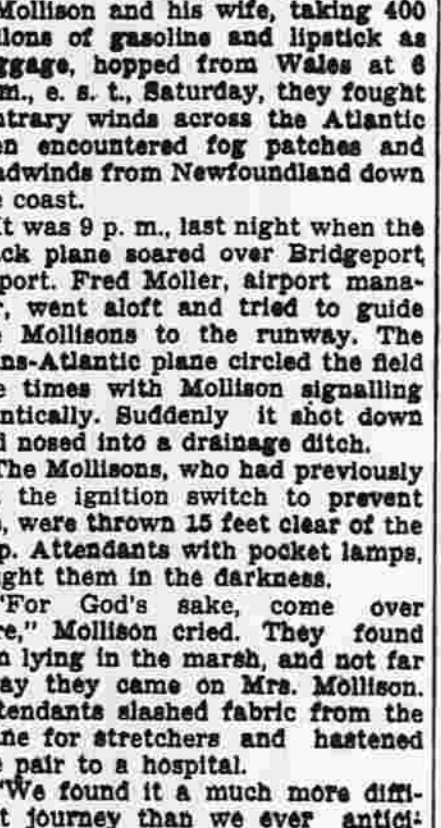

"I shall telephone them during the flight," he added, "but not until they have had a good sleep."

"Why I just found myself in the ditch. Perhaps Amy can tell you about that. I guess I went through the windshield."

"It was determined not to come to your country by boat," he said. "My ambition is to see America by air."

"I was so tired I didn't know where I was headed," Mollisson whispered as mechanics carried him and his wife away on stretchers made from fabric torn from the Seafarer.

Ill-Fated Seafarer Over New England Coast

Buffeted by an arduous Atlantic crossing, but with ultimate triumph apparently assured, James and Amy Mollisson and their plane, the Seafarer, were having plain and easy sailing when this picture was taken from another ship along the coastline near Boston. Note the unusually low altitude at which the famous couple were flying. A short time later, however, an emergency landing was made at Bridgeport, Conn., and the attempted non-stop hop to New York ended in a crash.

nized in White Plains and other places he passed through on the way to Bridgeport.

At Bridgeport, Conn., the Mollissons' breakfast was served in the dining room of the hotel. The couple, who had been flying since the crash of the Seafarer, were having a meal at the hotel.

Dr. Isaac L. Harnsberger, who treated the couple, said: "Mollisson attributed the crash to his fatigue and to the fact that he was trying to land on a strange field. He had been at the controls for about 37 hours."

Last year Mollisson flew from England to New York, with an intermediate stop near St. John, N. B.

LONDON, July 24.—(AP)—Amy Johnson Mollisson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Johnson, spent an anxious night waiting for news of a flight she and her husband, Captain James A. Mollisson, made to the United States.

After the parents' relief with the first reports that the Seafarer was safely over the American continent came the tidings of the crash at Bridgeport, Conn., and the quest uncertainty as to whether either their daughter or son-in-law had been seriously hurt.

At dawn they received news that the injuries of both were superficial. William Courtenay, Mollisson's manager, was disappointed over the crash, but thankful it was no worse. He said he was seriously considering going to the United States to look after Amy and Jim.

"I shall telephone them during the flight," he added, "but not until they have had a good sleep."

While Jimmy Mollisson piloted the plane "Seafarer" against stiff headwinds, his wife and companion, Amy, wrote the story of their flight from Pendine, Wales, to Bridgeport.

The typewritten copy of the story, piloted from the plane when it crashed last night on the salt marsh adjoining the Bridgeport airport, was found by George F. Egirt, and returned this morning to the Mollissons. Egirt, who is employed at the airport canal, was the first person to reach the Mollissons' side last night after the crash and the first person, except intimate friends, who was admitted to their suite this morning.

He said the Mollissons were grateful to him for returning the mud-soaked manuscript and promised to give him an autographed copy of the story of their flight.

Egirt said Amy's narrative told how they waited day after day for favorable weather for the take-off. Recounting their fight against strong headwinds after their last sight of land, the story told of catnaps taken by Jim while Amy handled the controls during the night. Egirt quoted Amy's tale of their delight at sighting the North American continent.

He said the story carried only as far as the passage over Labrador. It was a regular log of almost the whole flight, Egirt said, and closely typed.

MAYOR ON VISIT. Bridgeport, July 24.—(AP)—Superintendent Oliver Bartine of the Bridgeport hospital announced that Mayor Edward T. Buckingham and Lieutenant Governor Roy C. Wilcox, who is acting-governor in the absence of Gov. Wilbur L. Cross will visit the Mollissons this afternoon at the Bridgeport hospital, and extend to them the formal greetings to the city and state.

PLAN TO CONTROL PRICES OF GRAINS

trading below the closing prices of last Thursday, the last trading day, as Chicago and other markets were closed to futures trading Friday and Saturday.

The Chicago board, meanwhile, said that fluctuations would be limited to eight cents and the market there was in operation on this basis today.

Whether Wallace would insist on this being reduced to five cents in line with his announcement of the board's proposed action as reported to him, was undetermined.

The manner in which the fluctuation rule is to operate was explained in this way by a farm administrator:

In the case of a grain of a given type and grade, which closed Thursday at 90 cents, trading today at prices from 90 cents up to the fluctuation limit would be permitted.

In case the grain closes today at the top of the limit, which would be 98 cents under the manner in which the rule is being applied, on Tuesday transfers at prices not more than eight cents either up or down from 98 cents would be permitted.

If the grain closed at the top on Tuesday, or $1.06, on Wednesday fluctuations from a maximum of $1.14 down to 98 cents would be permitted.

Presents Big Drop. The rule is aimed directly at preventing sharp up or down movements, and for a purpose distinct from that of the minimum price rule which was ordered into effect by the board at Wallace's suggestion to prevent a further sharp drop in prices which characterized trading last Wednesday and Thursday.

An intensive investigation will be undertaken by administrators to determine the extent of recent operations by traders with large "long" and "short" accounts.

Wallace disclosed over the weekend that it was ascertained that one operator was 15,000,000 bushels "long" on grain and several million bushels "long" on other grains, and that 17 brokers retained by this operator would have been forced to "sell him out" today.

Wallace believed that this would have led to a sharp reduction in grain quotations. He said that many other operators had large futures accounts.

Upon reading the statement of Elyria, Ohio, bank tellers that 75 per cent of woman depositors carry their money in their stockings, one naturally reaches a conclusion. The conclusion is that Elyria bank tellers should pay more attention to banking.

THREE LIVES LOST IN SEVERE SQUALL

Strong Wind Smashes or Sinks Half of Yacht Club's Boats.

Penn Yan, N. Y., July 24.—(AP)—Yachtsmen began dragging early today for the bodies of three of their companions believed drowned when a blinding southwest squall smashed or sank half the fleet of the Keuka Lake Yacht Club yesterday.

A dozen other amateur sailors were blown bodily from their boats or thrown into the water when their boats overturned and sank. The yachtsmen believed drowned were: Dr. Donald I. Gleason, 47, Hammondsport dentist, who clung to the bottom of the overturned sloop Privateer until blown off by the wind.

BARGAIN BRIDE

BEGIN HERE TODAY
ELINOR STAFFORD falls in love with BARRETT COOLVIN. She is 20 and he is 35. LIDA STAFFORD, Elinor's jealous, scheming mother, breaks up the romance by convincing Barrett that Elinor is a heartless flirt.
 When Elinor's aunt, wealthy MISS ELLA SEXTON, dies she leaves her fortune to Barrett. Then VANCE CABLER, Elinor's beau, is killed in an airplane crash. Barrett tells Elinor that if she will marry him and live as a guest in his house for a year he will give her the entire Sexton fortune to divide among her relatives, the rightful inheritors. Knowing the money may save her father's life, Elinor agrees.
 The marriage takes place. Barrett, still believing the lies Lida has told him, finds himself more in love with Elinor than ever. The doctor orders a change of climate for Elinor's father and she goes to Aiken with him.
 Years before Barrett shielded his half-sister, MARCIA RADNOR, when a youthful romance and a disastrotously. Marcia had a son whom Barrett adopted. He has promised Marcia never to reveal the boy's story. Lida Stafford learns about the boy's existence and concludes he is Barrett's son.
 Barrett makes an unannounced trip to Aiken. He finds BOB TELFARE there and suspects Elinor of carrying on a flirtation with Bob. In an angry scene he tells her scornfully that he knows all about her affairs.

YOUR CHILDREN

 Dear Children:
 Did you ever hear about the little gnome who was called "So Sorry?"
 That was because every time he got into mischief he would say "So sorry!" When people are polite we never get very angry and almost always forgive them.
 He had learned that he could get into the farmer's cream crocks, or tickle the baby and wake it up, or do almost anything, as long as he would tip his little pointed cap and bow and say "Oh, I'm so sorry!" And he would look sorry too. And so the cross old farmer, or the baby's mother would say, "Well, it's all right this time, but never let it happen again."
 That is, when he was caught. But mostly he wasn't caught.
Stinging Experience
 So he went on having a perfectly lovely time. And when Mrs. Brown missed all the apples from her pansies - Mrs. Jones found the cat's whiskers snipped off, they guessed who had done it, but they couldn't be sure.
 One day a little fellow thought he would like to have some honey. The beehive belonged to the farmer whose cream crocks he had been robbing. But he wasn't afraid the farmer any more, because when he had said he was "so sorry" it had worked so well.
 So he sneaked inside the dark hive. But no sooner had he entered than a bee stung him on the finger. "Oh, I'm SO sorry," he stammered and started to back out of the hive.
 He said it over and over but all his politeness didn't do any good. A dozen bees stung him all over, and he had to run for his life. But not before the big white Queen Bee had time to say, "It's best to be sorry first and not afterwards."
Mother Knows Best
 He limped home and made some poultices and plastered the bites. After they stopped burning he began to think that maybe the old bee is right. He muttered to himself, "I'm going to behave." And he did.
 That is the way it is about behaving.
 We are likely to say to ourselves, "I can easily think up a good excuse. Or I can coax. Or I can say I'm sorry. It will be all right this time."
 But sometimes it won't work. And know when it isn't going to.
 Mother says, "You are not allowed in the street, children." But we think we'll take a chance. What are the cars going to do? They don't care about excuses made afterwards. They come right along and hurt you in the way we are likely to be hurt. Or she says "Don't touch those green apples." Stomachs don't stop aching just because we say, "Oh, I'm so sorry." You can't apologize to a stomach.
 The best way to do as we are told and mind mother. She knows best.

President's Son Takes Bride in Iowa

With only members of their families present, Elliott Roosevelt, second son of the President, and Ruth Goggles, Fort Worth, Tex., society girl, were married in a simple ceremony on the estate of the bride's father in Burlington, Ia. The couple are shown above in the picturesque rock garden of the estate, where the ceremony was performed.

NORWEGIAN GIRL FALLS INTO YARDS TREES OR FENCES

Eris Daniels, 24 Year Old Nurse Has Made Over 100 Successful Jumps.

By HELEN WELSHIMER
 New York. — Selling thrills. That is Eris Daniels' job. Jumping out of an airplane, turning a somersault—sometimes half a dozen of them—pulling a ripcord, and landing in a treetop or somebody's poultry yard is all in the day's work to her.
 The 24-year-old Norwegian girl, who soon will have performed over one hundred and tenth jump, ranks as the champion among women parachute jumpers. She refuses to be frightened, although she has had plenty of occasions when she needed courage.
 "I started to jump two years ago," she says. "I was a dentist's assistant and nurse at the time. Somebody introduced me to Billy Momar and told me he was looking for a girl to train to do parachute jumps. I got the job. He had an advertisement in the paper which I immediately removed. Three hundred girls applied, though. Three weeks later I went up. (It was just the second time I had been in an airplane). When I thought we were high enough I jumped."
 But that she smiled at Bomar (a first exhibition flyer) who told her they had taken sufficient ceiling.
 "Thanks for the buggy ride," she called.
 She turned three somersaults in the air. Her manager held his breath. He wondered if she would ever pull the ripcord. She did, and landed easily.
 "I could hardly wait to go up again. It was glorious," she remembers. "But there was nothing at all frightening about it."
 There have been times since, however, when she, as well as her audience, got an extra thrill for the admittance fee.
 "I came down over a field of bulls that a cowboy had been teasing to make them lose their tempers at a rodeo," she says. "I happened to land in such a way that I was unconscious and the pilot came back again and again, almost touching the ground with his wings, to scare the cattle away, until help came."
 "Another time I landed in an old lady's backyard. The chickens and turkeys and dog were so frightened they broke through the kitchen screen to get into the house. One chicken went down the well. I just managed to clear the roof that time by drawing my feet up under me."
 There is the time, too, that she drifted straight across the airport for two and one-half miles before coming down 2,000 feet, as a storm broke and the wind seized her. She did it all in less than one and one-half minutes. At Houston, Tex., another time, the pilot misjudged the distance. He was to have carried Miss Daniels 3,800 feet. He gave her the signal at 2,000 feet. She was so close to the water below, when she realized the danger, that she would have been killed if she had let her body make one more somersault. As it was she had to swing her parachute around to open it so she wouldn't land on it. But such things don't frighten her, she insists. They're exciting. Still, the elm tree which caught her at Middlebury, Vt., has feet

GLORIFYING YOURSELF

By Alicia Hart
 © 1933 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.
 There is something new under the sun. It's makeup for your eyelashes and eyebrows!
 It's a big mistake to try to change the color of your lashes and brows. In doing so, you defeat the true purpose of cosmetics. Cosmetics are to enhance the beauty that is already there. Completely change the color of your eyelashes and eyebrows and you throw them out of the line of harmony which causes them to blend with your complexion and hair.
 There is a new cosmetic (it's liquid) and has a bluish transparency which is to be used on both eyelashes and brows. You apply it with the little dropper which comes in the bottle and then brush your eyelids upward with the same kind of a brush ordinarily sold with mascara.
 It does not change the natural shade. It only darkens it. It is not creamy and will not rub off, nor wash off. You have to use cleansing cream to remove it.
 In other words, it is a dye. The same color is suitable for every complexion.
 If a blonde, with light skin and hair, uses dark brown mascara and eyebrow pencil, she makes herself look unnatural. With the new transparent dye, she retains her blonde type but at the same time, increases the prominence of her eyes and lashes.
 Don't outline your eyes with your eyebrow pencil. I'll wager you never saw a woman who had that line on her eyes unless she herself put it there. Be natural! Wray!

DOISE

By HELEN WELSHIMER
 TODAY there is so much of blatant noise...
 God, grant me peace, and give me inward poise.
 Help me to keep a haven deep inside,
 Untroubled by terrors, unseized by worthless pride.
 Make it as calm as small towns are at dusk,
 Make it as sweet as dreams kept long in musk.
 TEACH me to know that even as the hills
 Stand tall, serene, although the bright air fills
 With chaos or brief fanfare, so may I
 Be unmoved, too, and quiet—if I try,
 My root sunk too deep for outer touch,
 Then nothing, God, can hurt me—overmuch.

Hints on How to Keep Well by World Famed Authority
COLD WATER WILL Ease PAIN DUE TO SLIGHT BURNS AND SCALDS
 Vaseline Aids Healing, but Never Dress a Burn With Loose Cotton as it is Difficult to Remove (Editor's Note: This is the last article in a series on first-aid.)
 By DR. MORRIS FISHEIN
 Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine
 Burns of the skin may be produced by many different methods, including the heat from a flame or hot iron, the heat from scalding water or steam and by electricity. Burns which involve more than one-half of the surface of the body are usually fatal.
 When a person has been severely burned he may suffer from shock. This demands immediate attention in order to save life. He should, of course, be put at rest and the burn suitably covered to prevent continued irritation.
 Almost everyone now knows that when a person's clothing is actually burning it is well to smother the flames by the use of a blanket, a rug or any other heavy material that is handy.
 When slight burns or scalds occur it is preferable to cover the burned portion immediately with cold water which will check the effect of the heat and stop the pain.
 If the foot or hand has been burned by spilling hot water, soup or coffee over it, it is well to put the part burned immediately under water and to keep it submerged until the first effects of the injury have passed. Thereafter it may be covered with sterile vaseline or petrolatum.
 Loose cotton should not be put on a burn nor should wide pieces of gauze be applied. It is practically impossible to remove such materials without great injury to the tissues. The gauze should be applied in narrow strips.
 Modern methods of treating burns include application of liquid petrolatum, or the application of melted petrolatum which then hardens and covers the burn. A more recent method involves the use of especially prepared tannic acid which produces a crust under which healing takes place.
 Burns from acids are serious, particularly nitric and sulphuric acids. The first treatment is to wash off the acid as quickly as possible with a solution of bicarbonate of soda and to leave the wound in the soda solution for some time. People who work in acids regularly should wear gloves.
 Electric burns are usually deep and severe. They should be treated as are other burns.

A BOOK A DAY

BY BRUCE CATTON
 NEW ESSAY BY LAWRENCE
 A Distillation of His Philosophy in This Little Book
 By BRUCE CATTON
 That strange, tortured genius that was D. H. Lawrence was surely unique in this generation. To an age grown deeply cynical about love, he cried that love was the holiest fact in life; to a materialistic era he unceasingly proclaimed the overwhelming importance of the spiritual. The natural result is that many people would not read his books at any price, while many others consider him the greatest writer of the century.
 A thin and fragrant distillation of his philosophy—of his "message," as some of his devotees would put it—is contained in "We Need One Another." This little booklet contains two essays, given magazine publication shortly before his death. They are among the last of his writings, and they seem to sum up his viewpoint admirably.
 Lawrence says here, as he said in many other places, that the man who lives by and for himself alone is incomplete. Love needs to be interpreted in the widest sense possible. Our whole society, which perverts and blocks the necessity for spiritual communication, needs re-creating. A larger and freer life awaits us, but we can't get it with our present set of values. Instead, we willfully shut ourselves out from it—and we pay the price in mental and spiritual suffering.
 This little book contains four black-and-white illustrations, and is a fine example of the book-maker's art from the standpoint of typography and format. Published by the Equinox Press, it retails at $2.

Yanks Win Twice, Return To League Leadership

5 MATCHES PLAYED OVER WEEK-END IN TOWN NET TOURNNEY

Carl Johnson, Seeded No. 5, Advances to Second Round; Britton Tops Della Fera; 3 Prelims Run Off.

Five matches were played in the town tennis tournament over the week-end, including three of the six preliminary round matches that were made necessary because of the odd number of players entered. The most important match brought Carl Johnson, seeded No. 5, a straight set victory over Sam Goodtime, 6-1 and 9-7. Johnson will face the winner of the Humphries-Hedlund match in the second round.

WETHERSFIELD TRIMS MANCHESTER GOLFERS

Local Club's Low Handicap Men Fail to Play Strange Course and Beating Results.

The Manchester Country club's golf team found that Sunday afternoon golfing isn't popular with a large number of its members and as a result lost to the Wethersfield team yesterday in a home and home match. Practically all of the local club's low handicap men played against Wethersfield here in the morning and the local club won 90% to 35%. But when it came time to tee off in Wethersfield a large number of the local players were among the missing. On the strange course the local players lost points with persistent regularity. Wethersfield getting 107 to Manchester's 87 in the afternoon. The final score was Wethersfield 160 1/2 to Manchester 127 1/2.

The most interesting matches of the day were those that brought Ricky Martin, local pro, his assistant Ricky Anderson and Bobby Grant and Clarence Booth together. Booth played against Martin and Grant against Anderson. In the morning Anderson made the local course Anderson made the local course Anderson made the local course...

GREEN CAPTURES FIRST TILT OF SERIES, 14 TO 7

Game Turns Into Comedy of Errors With Total of 19 Boots; Sub-Alpines Open Scoring But Fail to Halt Late Rally That Breaks Tie in Seventh.

The first of the three-game series to determine the supremacy between the Manchester Green and Sub-Alpines teams was played Sunday morning at Mt. Nebo, the Green winning by the lopsided score of 14 to 7. The game was a farce of errors, the Green committing six and the Alpines erring 13 times.

Cooney started in the box for the Green but was shelved from the mound in the second, when the Subs counted five times. It looked like it was curtains for the Green then, but what a surprise was in store for Enrico and his crew after "Tuffy" Viot took over the pitching assignment. Score tied in 5th. The Green came back with some solid cracks in the third to come within one of tying the Sub-Alpines. And they did the game up in the fifth as a result of a comedy of errors and good clotting. But the score was not long at 5 all, for the Alpines came back in their half of the fifth to score their final two runs. After that it was Green all the way and the boys from Middle Turnpike hit the old apple at will and often.

Hose Company No. 3 Humbles German Lutherans, 17-6; Collect 18 Hits.

Hose Co. No. 3 scored an easy victory over the German Lutherans yesterday afternoon at the Bluefield diamond, 17 to 6. The boys from headquarters pounded two Lutheran pitchers for 18 hits. Vesco and Raynor led their mates, getting three hits apiece. Vines allowed the German seven hits but kept them well scattered. The game only went seven innings on account of a late start.

Helen hung out the unmistakable sign of vulnerability at Wimbledon. Not only did Dorothy Round of the Empire knock out a whole great big set from Mrs. Poker Pae but she set the Queen of the Courts to scurry around at such an unseemly pace that the big British gallery forgot who Helen was and began to notice that there were two players in the act.

BLUEFIELDS WHALE SAM MASSEY'S NINE

Locals Pile Up Lead in First Five Innings, Top Trinity Parish, 11-5.

Saturday afternoon the Bluefields traveled to New Haven where they met and defeated the Trinity Parish team of that city by the score of 11-5. This team had previously dumped the Bluefields, the score being 10-5.

The Bluefields started their assault in the first inning when Brennan, the Bluefields leadoff man, went to first on a single to left, advanced to second on Chucky Smith's sacrifice, hit and scored on Rautenberg's single to center. Bob Smith reached first on a fielder's choice but Rautenberg was put out at second. Bob Smith went to third on E. Raguskus' single. It was then that Andy Raguskus, the Bluefields stellar third baseman came to bat and smashed the pill clear out of the lot for a homer, scoring both men on base. Katkavek then struck out to end the Bluefields onslaught.

Luckless Alpines Lose to Miller's

Take Second Trouncing of Week - End Yesterday Afternoon, 9 to 1.

After dropping a loosely-played game to the Manchester Green team in the morning yesterday, the Sub-Alpines took another shellacking in the afternoon when they took a 9-1 beating from the R. G. Millers at Mt. Nebo under a blazing sun. With all due credit to the Alpines, the latter team went down to defeat to a much better team.

GIANTS MARGIN IS CUT TO TWO GAMES IN NATIONAL LOOP

World Champs Are Full Game Ahead of Senators in American; Detroit Goes From 6th to 4th Place.

The two New York clubs, again bracketed together as leaders of the major leagues, once more were the centers of baseball interest today as the Yankees forced ahead in their duel with Washington for first place in the American League and the Giants found their lead in the National dwindling before the onslaughts of the Chicago Cubs in spite of a remarkable effort to hold their own.

DETROIT MOVES UP

The Yankees picked just the right time yesterday to hand a pair of 8-1 lacerations to the Cleveland Indians. Washington's Senators cracked up at the same time and dropped a 12-8 decision to the Detroit Tigers. And as a result, the Yankees took the lead by a full game.

DETROIT MOVES UP

The Cincinnati Reds checked Pittsburgh's threat to the National League leadership and picked up a notch to sixth place by defeating the Pirates twice, 6-1 and 6-4.

INDIAN WRESTLER MAT CARD FEATURE

Clinkstock Faces Williams on All-Star Program at Hartford Tonight.

Hartford, July 24.—A card featuring new faces, old favorites and all stars, will be seen here tonight when Wrestling Promoter Jim Downing presents his first mat program before the local sports public at South Park at 8:30. In the main best two falls in three events, Big Jim Clinkstock, Ossage Indian, is slated to wrestle Cy Williams, Florida hurricane.

Promoter Downing is the man who accomplished the seemingly impossible when he revived the long-dead mat game in New Haven two years ago, and Jim expects to make many friends here with the exciting brand of wrestling shows he intends to put on for the fans. Downing is going to considerable expense to provide the maximum in action for his mat shows and feels that the public will reciprocate by attending them.
