

PUBLIC WORK BODY FOR STATE CHOSEN

Archibald McNeil, John J. Pelley and Harvey L. Thompson Ordered to Pick Out Projects.

Washington, July 27.—(AP)—To the Connecticut public works advisory board and to the boards of the 47 other states went instructions today from Secretary Ickes, Federal public works administrator, to act swiftly in recommending sound and useful projects, providing the maximum employment.

Washington, July 27.—(AP)—The Bank of International Settlements was upheld by James M. Cox of Ohio, in a final address at the plenary session of the World Economic Conference today as providing a valuable means of dealing with the problem of international indebtedness and future extension of international credits.

Speaking as the president of the conference monetary commission, the former Ohio governor said that "We can easily foresee an entirely new order created by the Bank for International Settlements," which is to be based in Basel, Switzerland.

Regarding a possible time for re-assembling the congress, which adjourns today, Cox said: "I do not know, but it patiently awaits upon the time for an inevitable hour of service. Gentlemen, you will be back in your seats, or others of your countrymen will be."

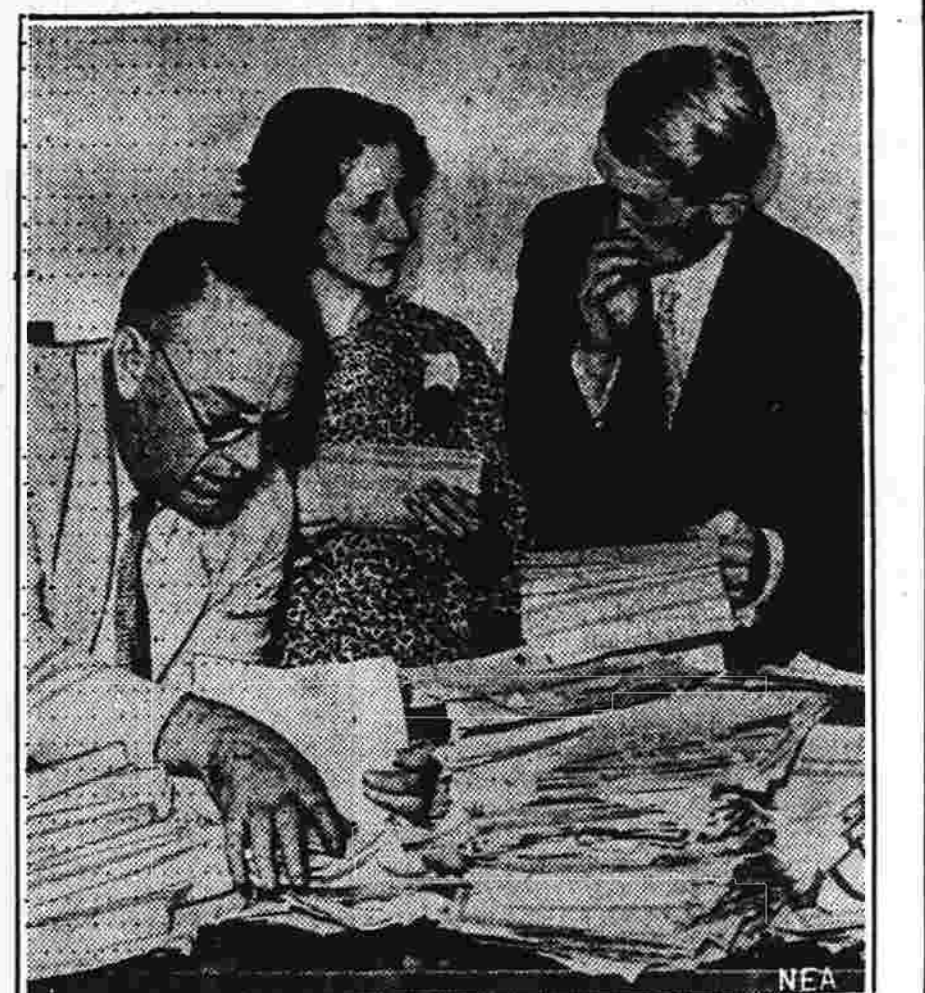

Cox said that as the work of the parley progressed it became apparent that economic forces of the world are gripping and the situation could not be cured in sixty days. He pointed out the World War cost 165 billions of dollars, whereas if based on present prices it would have been 65 billions.

Madrid, July 27.—(AP)—The Spanish president and cabinet decided today to extend recognition to Soviet Russia, and there were reports that Leon Trotsky, Communist leader now in exile, might make his peace with Moscow and become the Soviet ambassador here.

Norwalk, July 27.—(AP)—Erban Loudon, 19-year-old pilot of the airplane which crashed earlier last night near the Norwalk airport, and brought death to its two passengers, Jonathan Wadsworth, 16, and William Waters, 23, remained on the danger list at the Norwalk hospital this morning.

Wadsworth was the son of a socially prominent family here and his father, Dr. Alvin D. Wadsworth, is the owner of the airport. Waters was the owner of a local grocery store.

"We Will Do Our Part"

Here's pictorial evidence of the support American business is giving President Roosevelt's plea for adherence to the blanket code. After burrowing through these thousands of telegrams pledging support, General Hugh S. Johnson (left), Industrial Recovery Administrator, declared, "Nothing can stop the President's program!"

Washington, July 27.—(AP)—American businessmen today began recording official, definite pledges to do their part in President Roosevelt's mighty re-employment effort.

The first of the agreement blanks which are to go to 5,000,000 employers for signature were being distributed, along with addressed envelopes that will take back to Washington the individual promises to increase purchasing power by boosting pay and providing more jobs through shorter hours for those now employed.

Working on Codes. Coincidentally with this work on the emergency drive, Johnson and his officials began hammering into shape codes on which no suitable agreement was reached in open hearing, and making arrangements for a steady succession of public sessions on more of these lasting aspects of industry.

Chicago, July 27.—(AP)—Aroused by what they considered a distinct challenge to their new drive on gunmen, police today began an intensive search for three who put "Angel Face" Willie Carr to death.

KANSAS CITY KIDNAPER IS SENTENCED TO DEATH

Jury Deliberates Three and Three-Quarters Hours in McElroy Case — First Death Sentence of Its Kind

Kansas City, July 27.—(AP)—Walter McGee was sentenced to death today by a Criminal Court jury which convicted him of kidnaping Miss Mary McElroy, daughter of the city manager of Kansas City.

The case was the first in which the extreme penalty has been assessed in the nation's crusade against kidnapers.

It is one of the few in history to bring the death sentence where the victim of the kidnaping was unharmed.

The jury deliberated three and three-quarters hours last night and reached the verdict soon after resuming deliberations this morning.

The former Oregon convict retained his composure as he heard the jury announce he had been condemned to the gallows.

No members of the McElroy family were in the court room.

Branding weapons, two kidnapers, alleged by the state to have been Walter McGee and Clarence Stevens, the latter a fugitive, forced their way into the McElroy home May 27 as Miss McElroy was taking a bath.

Kidnapers' Orders. "Come out of there or I'll shoot through the door," one of the men commanded.

"Get a dress on, you're going with us," he said as the young woman opened the door.

Pessimism Among Delegates to World Economic Parley Relieved by Roosevelt Message Which Declared Conference Was Not a Failure.

(By Associated Press) The world economic conference which convened at London June 12 with high hopes for solving some of the outstanding business and financial problems, adjourned for an indefinite period today.

The prevailing pessimism of delegates was relieved by a message from President Roosevelt who declared that he did not regard the parley as a failure.

"We in the United States," the head of the American government assured the chairman of the conference, "understand the problems of other nations better today than before the conference met, and we trust that other nations will in the same spirit of good will view our American policies which are aimed to overcome our unprecedented economic situation at home."

Some pessimism was made in the final session by Ramsay MacDonald, British prime minister, and president of the Congress, who asserted that the discontinuance of the meetings was a setback and not an adjournment.

"We do not believe we are defeated, but because we are discouraged, but because a longer time is needed to attain results," the veteran statesman announced.

Mr. Hull in his farewell remarks pleaded for reduction of economic armament, urging governments to study his proposal for continuation of the tariff truce.

"Will Not Quit" The American secretary told the parley. "We will not quit. We have begun and we will go on."

James M. Cox of Ohio joined with his chief in challenging the nations to keep hammering at economic and financial problems and predicted that sooner or later the conference would reassemble in an effort to serve humanity.

Finance Ministers Bonnet of France and Jung of Italy while acknowledging that the conference had not accomplished what it professed hope in future efforts based on what had been learned in the meetings just ended.

From the beginning of the conference discussions arose over the question of currency stabilization. The European gold countries insisted that nothing could be accomplished until the American dollar was given a fixed value, but the United States government maintained that such a move was impracticable at present.

PHILADELPHIA MESSAGE London, July 27.—(AP)—After receiving a dramatic message of encouragement from President Roosevelt, the world economic conference was adjourned late this afternoon to meet again after a recess and make a new attempt to restore world prosperity.

SPAIN RECOGNIZES COMMUNIST RUSSIA

Reports Say Leon Trotsky May Become Ambassador There in Near Future.

Madrid, July 27.—(AP)—The Spanish president and cabinet decided today to extend recognition to Soviet Russia, and there were reports that Leon Trotsky, Communist leader now in exile, might make his peace with Moscow and become the Soviet ambassador here.

Newspapers published reports from France that Trotsky, in the event he becomes the Soviet envoy may later be named ambassador to the United States if the Washington government extends recognition to Moscow. The dispatches said that Trotsky already had conferred with Foreign Commissioner Maxim Litvinov at Rovat, France.

Some politicians had expected the Cabinet to be disrupted by internal dissension, and there even had been talk of a ministerial crisis, but Premier Manuel Azana averted the difficulties.

BALBO TO CROSS OCEAN ON FRIDAY

Plans to Land in Ireland — His Fliers Are Taking a Rest Today.

Shoal Harbor, N. F., July 27.—(AP)—General Italo Balbo's force of Italian seaplane aviators rested today in anticipation of a 1,800-mile overseas hop on the homeward-bound from America.

The air minister said they would take off Friday for Ireland, by the northern route, the longest two-way passage between the continents.

All but one of the 24 seaplanes came down here yesterday after flying the 500 miles from Shediac, N. B., in about 4 hours.

The other ship was forced by a faulty water pump to descend at Victoria Harbor, Prince Edward Island. A new pump was installed and the plane was expected to join the fleet today.

Vice Admiral R. A. R. Plunkett Ernerle Drax, commandant of the British squadron in North American and West Indian waters, flew from St. John's to meet the Italians.

YOUNGSTER DARTS INTO DOCTOR'S CAR

Three Year Old Visiting Here from New Hampshire Narrowly Escapes Death.

Margaret Walsh, three-year-old granddaughter of Mrs. Viola J. Sturtevant of 19 Russell street, sustained minor injuries today, when she was struck by an automobile driven by Dr. David M. Caldwell, well known local surgeon as the latter proceeded along Haynes street on his way to the Memorial hospital.

According to the police report of the accident the child came from behind a car parked opposite 12 Haynes street and started across the north side of the street directly in front of Dr. Caldwell's car. She was struck by the bumper and knocked down. The car passed over the girl as she lay prostrate but she was not touched by the wheels and escaped with abrasions of both knees and both elbows and a cut on her mouth.

TOBACCO GROWERS REDUCE ACREAGE

Though the work of the town committees was concluded, except in Suffield, last night at midnight, the office in Suffield will be kept open today until 8 o'clock and on Friday and Saturday from 12 noon to 8 p. m. Contracts may be executed at the office of the Hartford County Farm Bureau from 8:30 a. m. to 5 p. m. Friday and Saturday and next week from 8:30 to 5, except Saturday, and then 8:30 to noon.

A total of 771 signers in Connecticut was reported today, including 72 in Litchfield county, whose base acreage is not yet reported. The base acreage signed by the other 699 growers totals 5,137 acres. Of this 5,137 base acreage, one-half, 2,568, will be leased to the Federal government.

THOUSANDS ATTEND WATER CARNIVAL

Globe Pool's Banks Thronged as Annual Fun Fest for Swimmers Is Staged.

Globe Hollow was the mecca for several thousands of children and adults from early morning until late evening yesterday, the occasion being the most successful annual Water Carnival and Picnic ever sponsored by the Recreation Centers.

Fall In For Eats

When the word was given that the children would have to form in line for the distribution of free eats, the first line extended from the bath house to Spring street, making it necessary to start another line that also reached as far as the street. It was also found necessary to call on volunteers to handle the huge throng, said to have been the largest to attend the Water Carnival since it was inaugurated.

All the kiddies saw to it that they had plenty to eat and some 3,000 of them were given free ice cream, peanuts and candies of all kinds.

When the word was given they then departed for the pool and what was considered the largest number to attend the affair was noted when hardly any room was left for standing. After the crowd became somewhat orderly the races were held and proved highly interesting to a large number of spectators. At the close of each of the races the crowd gave each of the winners in the race heavy applause. The afternoon races began when junior girls started with a dog race, which was won by Dot Loomis. The next event was the egg race by the boys which was won by Enrico Ruffini. The third was a balloon race and that also was won by Enrico Ruffini. The fourth contest was an egg race which was won by Ruth McCollum. The fifth was a dog race and that was won by Albert Stachuski. And the last for the juniors was the balloon race for the girls and that was won by Dot Loomis. Several thousand watched these races and enjoyed the swimming while others sat under the trees with their families. The picnic grounds also enjoyed the fun when they used the grounds on the east end of the pool.

Evening Events

The evening events perhaps brought out even greater pleasure for the spectators than the afternoon, for the applause was so great at times that Frank Busch the starter for the races, had a difficult time in keeping the youngsters from drowning out his voice. Perhaps at no other water carnival was there ever better exhibition of diving than there was yesterday, when some of Manchester's best swimmers participated in the event. Among those who have shown their skill at diving and other comics from the water plank, were, Edward Litwinski last year's best all-around swimmer and diver, while Anne Arson took away the honors for the girls for the best diving form and exhibition. Others who took part in this event were also well received for their exhibition and loud applause came after each of the dives. The following were mentioned with this year's best in the exhibit: Michael and Harold Orfitelli, Frank Soberai, Raymond Mozzer, Ewald Stechholz, Claire Olson.

One of the best events was the fine ability at diving and swimming of five-year-old Evelyn Pogrove, who is less than three feet in height and weighs about forty pounds. She dove off the five foot diving plank with such wonderful pose and accuracy that she was compelled to come forward for another dive and that was off the 10 foot diving plank. The crowd gave her hearty applause for her courage. The spectators were shown that even the smallest child after swimming instruction can take an active part in these events and develop into an expert swimmer in the future years.

The evening events were shortly underway after 6:30 and the following won their races: Blindfold race was won by Orlando Orfitelli. Egg race was won by Mildred Arson. Banana race was won by Adrien Groot. The watermelon race was won by Elizabeth Kravotka. The covering of the pie plates was won by Ewald Stechholz who recovered three of the 10 pie plates. The blindfold race was won by Mildred Arson. The egg race was won by Mike Orfitelli. The banana race was won by Viola Buccini. The watermelon race was won by George Frost. The soda drinking contest was won by Muriel Durkee. The ice race was won by Geo. Frost. The last of the events was perhaps the best for it drew more laughter than any other event and that was the duck race. The first duck was let into the water and some 25 swimmers went after it. Some were so tired that they gave up but after swimming the entire pool, Edward Litwinski caught the bird and it was quickly taken into a box for home where it will be given the duck race. The second duck was caught by Albert Stachuski. He had to swim only about twenty-five yards.

The watermelon fight was another very interesting affair to watch. The watermelon was greased with lard and was thrown into the water where the boys had to battle for the possession of it and take it to the shore, but the boys had such a time over it that they were compelled to give up and take it back to the raft. Many of the boys were held under water for a long time and it was decidated after five minutes that the melon would have to come back.

Real Success

The carnival and picnic was a real success and the Recreation Centers feel that another event of that kind will be held again. The Rac wishes to thank all those who offered their help and assistance and to the boys and girls who made it such a success, and also want to thank those who so kindly offered prizes that were awarded the winners and also those concerns and individuals who participated in the giving of the free sweets for the kiddies. The following gave candies and peanuts as well as free soda. The peanuts were donated by the Planet Peanut Co., of Brooklyn, New York. The soda was donated by the Manchester Bottling Co., the ice cream by the Royal Ice Cream Co. The ice was donated by L. T. Wood Ice Co., the cookies were donated by the Mohr's Bakeries. Cookies were also donated by Kitt's Market. The watermelons were also contributed by Kitt's. The Bubble Gum was donated by the Capitol Candy Co., of Hartford. Balloons were donated by Williams Extract Co., of East Hartford. Perhaps the largest donation was by the Curtis Candy Co., who gave practically all of the candy, through its advertising manager, Maurice Schnering, president of the Curtis Candy Co., who had taken such an active interest in the event. The Curtis Candy Co. are the makers of the popular brand of candy that has made a big hit with the boys and that is the Babe Ruth candy and others. Ben Cohn, manager of the State Theater gave many passes which were awarded for prizes to the winners of the races.

GIRL IS MISSING

New Haven, July 27. — (AP)—Police were asked today to search for Grace Morris, 12 years old, of West Haven, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin J. Morris, reported that she disappeared yesterday after a shopping trip.

Mrs. Morris said she and Grace had been shopping yesterday afternoon in preparation for the departure of her daughter tomorrow for a girls' camp. She said the child left her to go to a picnic, and did not return to her home.

After searching in New Haven and neighboring communities, throughout the night, Mr. and Mrs. Morris asked police aid this morning.

The child was wearing a red dress, white blouse, and a red raincoat and hat.

POULTRY DEALERS REQUIRE LICENSES

Applications Mailed But Permits Must Be Secured from Commissioner.

Hartford, July 27.—Poultry dealers are being notified by Commissioner of Agriculture Olcott F. King that Chapter 305 of the Public Acts is now in effect requiring them to have a license in order to conduct their business. Application blanks are being mailed to a large number of poultry dealers but the commissioner warns all dealers and transporters of poultry that even though they should not receive an application blank, they are not exempt from the law.

The law gives the Commissioner of Agriculture the authority to license dealers, supervise the movement of live poultry within the state and to make such rules and regulations as may seem necessary. In addition to requiring a license the law places special emphasis upon the shipment of live poultry upon any public highway between 9:00 p. m. and 5:00 a. m. and requires that every shipment of poultry between such hours shall be accompanied by a permit issued by the commissioner.

The only exceptions to the law where a license is not needed are in the cases of shipments of dressed poultry; shipments of poultry originating outside the state for destination within the state or passing through the state, provided a bill of sale accompanies each shipment; transportation of poultry by common carriers, defined as one who transports persons or property indiscriminately for hire; and to farmers who transport poultry entirely of their own raising.

The commissioner believes that the proper enforcement of the law by the Department of Agriculture, together with the cooperation of the State Police Department and the various town and city police officials, should result in a decided improvement in the live poultry business. It will make it possible to apprehend and bring to justice poultry thieves and those country buyers engaged in fraudulent practices. At the same time live poultry dealers engaged in doing a legitimate business will be given a certain prestige or standing that they have not always enjoyed in the past,

ARTHUR RICHARD SMITH DIES ABOARD STEAMER

Southampton, England, July 27.—(AP)—Arthur Richard Smith, former commissioner of New York docks and chairman of a mineral spring company, died today aboard the liner Majestic, three hours after the vessel arrived here from New York.

Smith was coming to England for a holiday accompanied by Mrs. Smith and their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Day. When the Majestic was two days out of New York he had a stroke, but could not be moved to the ship's hospital because of his serious condition.

The ship's surgeon and nursing staff attended him in his stateroom. When the Majestic met the Olympic outward bound in Cherbourg yesterday it was hoped it might be possible to transfer the patient, but he was still too ill to be moved and was brought to Southampton.

On the arrival of the liner a specialist boarded her but his efforts were unavailing.

The body will be returned to New

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks pink, don't swallow a lot of mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine. For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your low-down-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Can't blame up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blotches. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't look for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the same Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Beware of imitations. See at drug stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

I'm strong for sunshine — so I'm strong for "Toasting"

I've always found that really good reasons are the simplest reasons. For instance, I know that sunshine mellows and heat purifies. "Toasting" is therefore very easy for me to understand. And very easy for me to appreciate — because — my sense of the fastidious is so very exacting. You see, I'm always aware of the fact that my cigarette comes in such intimate contact with my lips. Quite naturally, it's the purity of "Toasting" that I single out for special praise. It's just my own personal feminine reason for saying "Luckies Please!"

THURSDAY, JULY 27.

NEW DEAL STANDARDS.

If the new deal is to accomplish all it should, it must bring with it changes in our ideas and our standards of individual conduct.

One of the changes we need to make is in relation to our attitude toward debt. It might be a very helpful thing for us to regain the point of view which our grandfathers had in regard to it.

In the old days people had, if not a horror of it, at least a very real distaste for going into debt. The proudest boast of the solvent, successful man was that he owed no man a farthing.

No one needs to be told that we haven't got that viewpoint any more. In the last decade or so the hallmark of the successful man has not been his ability to keep out of debt but his ability to get into it.

Not only did business firms borrow to expand their plants; rich men borrowed to speculate in stocks, poor men borrowed to buy automobiles, furniture and what-not; and while many of the results of this were very good, the way in which it made us willing to mortgage our futures to satisfy present wants was, all in all, anything but wholesome.

It led, furthermore, to a stultifying of our conception of the morals involved in the use of other people's money. Many an American town can tell a tale precisely like the following:

A bank has folded up in a large manufacturing town. High officers of the bank have been revealed as heavy borrowers from it. Their debts have not been paid, and because they are not paid the depositors are holding the sack.

Just what difference is there, essentially, between the bank president who borrows from his own bank to "invest" in stocks, hoping that his profits will enable him to repay the loan, and the little shoe shop cashier who takes money from the till to play the races?

If a too-ready acceptance of debt had not blunted our concepts of right and wrong, we would not have had a society in which such things would have happened.

CELEBRATION COSTS. The ancient town of Windsor will observe the 300th anniversary of its founding on September 26 of this year.

Manchesters staged a wonderful spectacle in 1923 when it observed its Centennial but if it had not been for the generosity of its well-to-do citizens it could not have afforded to produce the program that was offered here. There is little or no income from an affair of this type.

Perhaps when this state's Tercentenary celebrations are being planned money will be more easily obtained. But it would be wise if those towns or cities planning extensive programs started thinking now about the source of money to pay the costs.

Puzzling Prices. Current price policies are puzzling. Government and business have been working to raise prices, as the prime purpose of controlled inflation. This stimulates business activity because new buying is induced by rising prices—people buy because they believe prices are going higher.

On the other hand, the administration, with general approval, is trying to get industry to raise wages before prices, and more rapidly than prices. How can we both raise prices and not raise them?

Much of the contradiction comes from failing to distinguish between wholesale and retail prices. Statisticians and economists, when they speak of commodity price levels, usually refer to wholesale prices, because these are standard and definite.

It is rather hard on industry, to be expected to pay more for raw materials and not charge more for the finished product. This difficulty may be overcome by production costs falling with the increased output made possible by increased consuming power.

PROGRESS OF REPEAL. Tennessee's vote to repeal the 18th amendment, following similar decisions in Alabama and Arkansas, supports the claim of wet leaders that nothing now can block abandonment of the national prohibition experiment.

Prohibitionists had centered their hope of checking the ever-rising score in favor of repeal on these states, which had long been strongholds of dry sentiment. Dry forces concentrated their efforts and used their most persuasive arguments without effect.

Twenty states now have voted for repeal. Four more will vote on the question in August, six in September, one in October, and four in November. This is a total of 35. If the states in which elections are scheduled decide as did the first 20, only one more state will be needed for the two-thirds majority of 36 necessary to make repeal effective.

THE RAMPANT FAN. Baseball fans are a strange tribe and a law unto themselves, and are usually tolerated even in their excesses of partisanship. Therefore the aggression of a bellowing rooster in an American League game at Cleveland may pass for patriotism, while the player-worm who turned suffers punishment.

THE SCOTCH IS COMING! Look out for a heavy influx of Scotch whisky, to compete with America's own rye. The coast guard defenses against foreign rum fleets have been so weakened under the economy program and Rum Row already is flourishing again, according to reports here.

THREE BOYS KILLED. Martinsville, Va., July 27.—(AP)—James Hammond, Howard Hammond, and Arch Purdy, boys ranging in age from 12 to 15 years, were instantly killed at 2 a. m. today, and Archer Dillon was severely injured when the four boys, lying asleep at the edge of the Martinsville-Stuart highway near Spencer, were run over by an unknown driver.

ter a good stiff punch where it would do the most good. Fans, in self-defense, may side with the rooster. But not if they're really sporting. Surely a persecuted player has a moral right to hit back at his tormentors occasionally, even if it is against the rules.

YOUTH AND LIQUOR. Six young men have just been sentenced to the Ohio penitentiary for life; and in their story there is an apt object lesson for a nation which seems determined to do away with its prohibition law.

These lads, all in their late teens or thereabouts, spent an evening in a speakeasy. They got drunk, met a young girl there, followed her when she left. In a dark part of a city park they attacked her. She was killed. Now the boys are going to prison for the rest of their lives.

Whatever system we finally decide upon for the control of the liquor traffic, it has got to be one which will keep liquor out of the hands of youngsters in their teens. Open saloon, speakeasy or whatever the liquor-dispensing agency of the future may be, it must be conducted under a much stricter supervision than has ever been the case in America in the past.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN Washington

WOMEN CLAIM DISCRIMINATION IN 'NEW DEAL'

Ask Removal of Restrictions Against Sex, and Better Representation. By RODNEY DUTCHER, Herald Washington Correspondent. Washington, July 27.—'New Deal' or 'Raw Deal'?

Several groups of women want to know. Hundreds of married women have been released from government service under a provision which forces either a husband or wife to leave when both are federal employees and the economy axe hits a bureau in which one or the other women have offered heavily during wholesale dismissals of clerks.

The National Women's Party insists the sex is being discriminated against everywhere; that women are being pushed from trades and professions back to destitution or a state of "unlovely dependence" on men and that they "still count for almost nothing in deciding the policies of the country." It's worldwide, they say, pointing to Hitler's Germany as the worst offender.

Women Democrats, usually prominent in the Roosevelt campaign, are untiring to demand more and better jobs for themselves. They want a number of "little cabinet" jobs and aren't content with appointment of Secretary of Labor Perkins or Ruth Owen as minister to Denmark and Nellie Ross as director of the mint.

Mrs. Roosevelt's Views. Mrs. Roosevelt broke into an old and bitter dispute when she declared for legal restrictions on women's employment. The Woman's Party hotly opposes special legislation for women and its proposed "equal rights" amendment to the Constitution would prevent it. Other groups of women and labor groups take Mrs. Roosevelt's position.

General Hugh Johnson put his foot into this dispute during the cotton textile code hearings before the recovery administration—and gracefully withdrew it. After Maud Younger had presented the Woman's Party position he lavished flowery praise upon her exposition, assuming she spoke for all women. But when she was followed by another woman, representing a larger organization, who developed the opposite view, his praise of the second speech was equally unstinted.

"New Deal" Crowds Capital. The ordinary government employee can't call his office his own as the new organizations created under the emergency program continue to crowd in on federal buildings. A large section of the Commerce building has been upset lately, with the assignment of a whole floor to the recovery administration. The halls have been full of furniture and moving crates.

HEALTH-DIET ADVICE

BY DR. FRANK MCCOY. Questions in regard to Health and Diet will be answered by Dr. McCoy who can be addressed in care of this paper. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, for reply.

AFTER TREATMENT OF STOMACH ULCERS

The treatment described for stomach ulcers in yesterday's article should be continued until all soreness and tenderness has left the stomach. The patient usually does better by remaining in bed for at least the first few days while taking this diet. Hot applications over the region of the stomach applied several times daily are beneficial. A large deep therapy lamp is best suited for this purpose, but, if you do not have one of these, use an electric heater, directing the force of the rays in the direction of the skin. This brings a larger supply of blood to the region of the stomach and assist in relieving soreness. Massage treatment should be used if it is obtainable and some exercises should be taken in bed by tensing the muscles of the arms and legs, but it is better to move around and go about until the stomachic region, rather keep the abdominal muscles relaxed until the healing has a good start. Remain in bed as much as possible if the case is severe, although it is all right to walk some distance if one does not become fatigued. Because of the lack of bulk in the diet, an enema of one quart of plain water should be used daily.

Most patients may be allowed to move around and go about their ordinary occupations, but it is advisable to remain on the milk diet for some length of time. It may take from three to four months of the milk diet to completely overcome any tendency for the ulcer returning, though in most cases such a long milk diet is not necessary. Most patients make their mistake in returning to solid food at too early a date before the ulcer has been healed over entirely. Unless they know better, they follow the milk diet for a week or two and, when they notice the improvement which is brought about in practically every case, they return right away to solid meals. Since the average person is perfectly satisfied on a full milk diet and is adequately nourished by it, the best plan is to use it for too long a time rather than take any chances of an insufficient healing.

When the stomach once more feels normal in every way, the return to three meals a day must be made very carefully and the diet should be watched and carefully arranged for a long period afterward. One medical authority has stated that the after-cure of ulcers is important for two years after the cure has taken place. This is a very important precaution as the one who has learned to eat for two years in such a way bends the ulcers do not return probably knows enough about diet by that time so as to live carefully to prevent any return of the trouble during his lifetime.

The permanent cure is more certain if the patient undertakes regular physical exercises each day. The exercises should be started as soon as the soreness has been overcome by the milk diet, at first only exercising moderately and later taking more strenuous varieties. The exercise is important not only for improving digestion and the blood circulation, but also to increase the strength of the abdominal muscles, thereby aiding in maintaining the digestive organs in their normal positions, where they function most efficiently.

IN NEW YORK

By Paul Harrison. New York.—The gyp gentry are bidding for a new source of revenue. They have taken up contract bridge. But it isn't a new deal the sure-thing boys are giving the suckers. It's a new steal, aided by some of the oldest tricks in the card-sharper's trade. True, the bridge gamblers' returns are not always large, but they're steady and considered fairly safe, especially when a woman of apparent refinement can be recruited for a crooked bridge team. Such pairs are haunting city hotels and seaside and mountain resorts. Seldom are they especially skillful at contract, but elaborate systems of signals serve to give them an edge over any opponents. Even the way a cigar is held may say quite plainly: "I have a long string of hearts partner, but little outside strength."

Something Up the Sleeve. All manner of dishonest gaming devices are advertised in circulars which are passed around among the sure-thing boys of Broadway. There's a "cooler" which is a gadget which holds a stack of "cold" deck of cards. It costs $25, which includes installation in the lining of the operator's coat. And it can be used as many times as its owner can leave the room to reload it. Stacked decks, by the way, usually are not arranged to give the crooked team a slam hand, but to provide freak distribution on which the innocent opponents will bid high and suffer tremendous doubled-and-vulnerable penalties.

When you're planning your vacation tour

... the easiest, quickest and most satisfactory way to arrange all the details is the modern way ... by telephone. And, while you're en route, telephone ahead each day for overnight accommodations to avoid the tiresome hunt for lodgings at the end of the day's run.

Out-of-town telephone calls are surprisingly low in cost. After 8:30 every evening rates for number calls to points more than 50 miles away are reduced to nearly one-half the daytime rates ... you can call as far as 100 miles for as little as thirty-five cents. The cost is small, wherever you call.

HERE IS COMPLETE TEXT OF SEC. HULL'S ADDRESS

Makes Vigorous Plea at London Parley for a Continuance of Conference—Leadership Is Needed.

Washington, July 27—(AP)—Following is the text of Secretary Hull's speech before the world economic conference today at London, as given out by the State Department:

The conference is now entering the recess stage. The progress of its work has corresponded with the difficulties of the task. Human ingenuity could scarcely have devised a more complete jumble and chaos of business and general economic conditions than those facing the nations and the conference when it convened and the multiplicity of other circumstances has further impeded the progress of the conference such as the lack of an international public opinion, the malignant opposition of those who blindly or selfishly oppose all international economic cooperation and the engrossment of many nations with the more or less temporary phases of their domestic programs for the emergency treatment of panic conditions and unemployment.

It is inevitable in the light of these extremely complicated conditions that the conference having reached a few important agreements and concluded a thorough appraisal and understanding of the problems presented would find it necessary to recess. Time must be afforded for some of these difficulties to be ironed out and for the nations further to broaden their economic plans and policies so as to coordinate them on a gradually increasing scale with the program of international cooperation which this conference is undertaking to promulgate.

Confidence Needed. The conditions which defied solution by individual nations and which imperatively called for international treatment offered the compelling reason for this conference. Every rational person knows that since there were international causes of the depression there must be international remedies.

For those either pessimistically or wantonly inclined to attempt further to handicap the conference in its particular efforts to go forward is virtually to indict and discredit all forms of international cooperation however necessary to deal with international problems which vitally affect the welfare of peoples alike in every part of the world.

It is easy to say that this or that incident or complication or condition has caused a partial failure of the conference. This has been the experience of past conferences when struggling against many obstacles to solve complicated problems involving human life and human welfare.

The very purpose of international cooperation is to overcome aggressively to override these and all other impediments to the fulfillment of its high mission. To impute failure is to impute the bankruptcy of world statesmanship in the face of unparalleled and universal economic distress and suffering.

Trade Dislocated. Business and economic conditions in every part of the world remain dislocated and disorganized. At the beginning of the conference the delegates had no adequate conception of the complicated conditions in distant countries and of each other's varying viewpoints. Understanding is the chief basis of all international relationships; and its importance can scarcely be overestimated. Manifestly, valuable seed has been sown here already in that we have come to a deeper and more sympathetic comprehension of our common problems.

There are after only two ways of reaching international agreement. One is by imposing one's will by force—by war. The other is by persuasion—by conference. Even by the violent means of war—which we have at present—no one would expect agreement in six weeks. How can it then be said that the conference—this method which has killed no man—has already failed? Many actual wars of the past growing out of bitter trade controversies have been averted had there been more peace time conferences.

My judgment is that just now the world's statesmen cannot sit in conference too often or too long in earnest and patient consideration of all questions calculated to disturb friendly relations and clear understanding between nations and in determined effort to bring about their fair and peaceful adjustment.

Secure Critics. Many of those not delegates here who criticize the conference for not going forward more expeditiously represent the economic leadership in numerous countries which have already failed in repeated attempts since 1929 to cure panic conditions. This group of critics includes the selfish but abridged beneficiaries of governmental favoritism and those mock critics whose constant propaganda would make international finance and commerce almost criminal. These forces are potent in many parts of the world today. They will be very slow to lower a single excessive trade barrier until human distress becomes unbearable. It matters not to them that there ought to be forty billion dollars of additional commerce on the high seas this year thereby affording employment for labor and markets for surplus.

In the past there have been spectacular races by nations in military armaments. Their widest rivalry, however, scarcely exceeds in danger the present race between most nations to promote economic armaments which inflict colossal injuries in the masses of people everywhere. At this moment the world is engaged in wild competition in economic armaments which constantly menace both peace and commerce.

Nations must make up their minds to pursue less extreme economic policies; they must discard artificial expedients to project industries that are notoriously inefficient or are not justifiable on any practical economic or business grounds. When some nations undertake to produce every commodity, whatsoever the cost, for purposes of either peace or war other nations are driven to turn to the adoption of similar policies of unjustifiable production with the result that, as in the case of military armaments, the economic race neutralizes itself to the injury of all who are engaged in it.

I appeal to this conference and through it to peoples everywhere to demand an end to the ruinous races by nations in either military or economic armaments. It is the duty of statesmanship everywhere to lead the world away from these twin evils of this modern age. Much has been said about the order in which the subjects of the agenda should be considered. I believe that the membership of the conference frankly recognizes that both the financial and economic difficulties as listed in the agenda must be visualized as one unified network of interlocking impediments to international finance and commerce and attacked and dealt with as a whole. It would get nowhere to lower trade barriers without development of stable monetary systems on the other hand. Commerce move with the aid of complete monetary stabilization if existing insurmountable trade obstacles still continued intact. Substantial progress in dealing with either group depends on corresponding action dealing with the other.

conference resolutely to go forward to the solution of each vital problem listed on the agenda. No nation has ever been able to live unto itself and not become backward and decadent. No people in the past have long remained highly civilized without the continuing benefits of the customs learning and culture of other parts of the world and these are only within the reach of trading nations.

International commerce conducted on a fair basis, as our agenda proposes, is the greatest peace maker in the experience of the human race. The promotion and preservation of the high ideals and high purposes of economic peace brought this great conference together and its failure would be their failure. No governments within my time have faced a graver economic crisis or come together with a higher mission. I want to take this opportunity to express to all who have contributed to the work of this assembly—to His Majesty the King who graciously opened the conference, to the prime minister who has so ably presided over this great gathering, and to my other fellow delegates—my own deep satisfaction in the helpful spirit of cooperation which has resulted from our labors so far. We came here beset by our individual problems compelled by the necessities of special circumstances arising from widely differing conditions in our various countries. We have come to a much clearer understanding of each other's viewpoints and special problems. We are unitedly resolved to move forward together in a common cause. It cannot fail to be gratifying to all who wish lasting success in this conference that greater good-will and mutual helpfulness, deeper comprehension and renewed determination have come from our deliberations.

The duty and responsibility of the conference are well known to us as they are to every intelligent citizen on the planet. I pray that each of us may be given the lightly clearly we have jointly to understand. We cannot falter. We will not quit. We have begun and we will go on.

Half Trade Strife. The object of this conference is to substitute prosperity and good will for panic and trade strife. To tax our efforts in the face of the need and by pressing upon us would show an amazing indifference to human welfare. The average citizen must by this time be convinced that those who have opposed international cooperation have proven to be false prophets. Do the thirty millions of unemployed wage earners or the many millions of impoverished farmers and producers of raw materials need additional proof of the failure of such leadership? May I again remind you that the domestic economy of more than thirty important countries is primarily dependent upon international finance and commerce with direct repercussions upon the entire world. The practice of a too narrow policy has choked the entire trade of the world with disastrous effects upon home production and home prices and markets everywhere.

The processes of exchange and distribution have broken down and the restoration of the normal world problem. Disastrous experience teaches the necessity for a broader economic social and political policy. Every country today should first have a comprehensive program calculated most effectively to deal with the existing depression. The United States has launched a constructive program to this end. Indispensable and all important as domestic programs are they cannot by themselves restore the normal world economy to permanent recovery. A program of international cooperation is necessary for purposes of a broad basis on which to build the domestic economic structure, to give it stability and to make possible a substantial greater measure of sound and lasting business prosperity.

Let me say with reference to my own and other countries striving by every available domestic method, to extricate themselves from panic conditions that there is no logic in the theory that such domestic policies are irreconcilable with international cooperation. Each country undoubtedly should invoke every emergency method that would increase commodity prices so that they may gradually be coordinated with international economic action for the common purpose of business recovery. The development of both programs can be proceeded with on a substantial scale from the outset and to an increasing extent as emergency treatment of panic conditions diminishes.

Reduce Barriers. In harmony with these views I have presented to the conference a proposal for an agreement among the nations to reduce trade barriers gradually over a period of time to make the economic form of the favored nation doctrine with a reasonable exception in favor of broad international efforts for reduction of trade barriers, the universal basis of commercial policy and to extend the life of the tariff twice to a reasonable period beyond the final adjustment of the conference. This proposal offers a basis upon which a world program might be developed during the course of the recess and the meeting of the conference to follow.

The American government therefore hopes that every nation that may not have done so will launch a full domestic program of both ordinary and extraordinary methods and remedies calculated to raise prices, to increase employment, and to improve the business situation. We must all agree that business conditions in most countries are still at or near a panic level and that their restoration imperatively calls for a program of fundamental policies and methods as outlined in the agenda of this conference. We know that these conditions have not greatly improved and that the basic features of the conference agenda remain virtually untouched and unacted upon. We know too that the greatest single step the conference can take is one that would inspire confidence; and step can only be taken by a determination of this conference resolutely to go forward to the solution of each vital problem listed on the agenda. No nation has ever been able to live unto itself and not become backward and decadent. No people in the past have long remained highly civilized without the continuing benefits of the customs learning and culture of other parts of the world and these are only within the reach of trading nations.

TWO CHURCH SUPPERS TOMORROW EVENING

Quarryville and South Coventry Societies to Serve Suppers from 6 to 8 p. m.

Local people who enjoy motoring out to the neighboring towns for a church supper, will have choice of two places tomorrow evening. From 6 to 8 o'clock the Ladies Aid society of the Quarryville Methodist church, which is situated a short distance from Bolton Lake, will serve one of their popular suppers, and at the same time the Missionary society of the First Congregational church at South Coventry will serve a supper, with choice of two menus.

The Quarryville Aid society, if the weather is pleasant, will have tables outdoors on the church grounds. The menu they have decided upon includes Boston Baked Beans with brown and white bread, salads, pickles, apple and huckleberry pie. The meal will be served family style.

This society has also set the date of August 19 for its big social and financial venture of the summer, "Old Home" day. An effort is being made to take this opportunity to express to all who have contributed to the work of this assembly—to His Majesty the King who graciously opened the conference, to the prime minister who has so ably presided over this great gathering, and to my other fellow delegates—my own deep satisfaction in the helpful spirit of cooperation which has resulted from our labors so far. RETAILERS EXPECT BUSINESS PICK-UP

Temporary Condition. A cross section of available reports shows that thus far retail trade was not kept pace with the recovery in industrial activity. However, the enthusiastic response of the country to the administration's industrial recovery program leads retail specialists to view this condition as temporary.

A feature of the trade in July has been the continued expansion of sales—largely representing goods in the lower price ranges—to industrial wage earners and generally throughout agricultural districts.

In the grocery field, sales of the outstanding distributors have been increased by rising prices, and in many other lines sales are approaching last year's level. Actual sales volume has likewise gained, but on a more modest scale.

NOTABLE GATHERING AT ENGLISH WEDDING. Phyllis Nancy Astor Marries Lord Willoughby de Eresby—Bishop Performs Ceremony.

Taplow, Buckinghamshire, England, July 27.—(AP)—Princesses, ambassadors, Cabinet ministers and others high in the social scale, filled the village church of St. Nicholas today for the wedding of the Honorable Phyllis Nancy Astor and Lord Willoughby de Eresby.

The bride is the only daughter of Viscount and Viscountess Astor. The bridegroom is the son and heir of the Earl of Lancaster. The mothers of both were American women, Viscountess Astor being the former Nancy Langhorne of Virginia, and the Countess of Lancaster being the former Elsie Bress of New York.

When the engagement was announced Lady Astor said: "Phyllis and her young man want to have a quiet wedding at a village church."

Nevertheless, Mayfair seemed to have moved to the country for the event. The guests included Princess Ingrid of Sweden and Lady Patricia Ramsay.

The bride wore a white satin gown with tulle veil and carried a bouquet of white lilies and was attended by six child bridesmaids wearing white organdie with blue sashes and carrying baskets of mixed flowers.

The bishop of Exeter performed the ceremony and was assisted by the vicar of Taplow, the Rev. R. S. Demais.

HEAT IN CALIFORNIA CAUSES FOUR DEATHS. Los Angeles, July 27.—(AP)—Four deaths in Southern California yesterday were ascribed to extreme heat.

Riverside, 60 miles east of Los Angeles, report an unofficial reading of 114 degrees that figured the mercury readings ranged downward to 93 here.

San Diego, right on the ocean, was an exception to the rule of high temperatures with a high of "only" 78.

The most deaths were those of John J. Van de Putter, Fullerton, Calif., orange grower; John R. Cootes, 55, Seattle, chief engineer for a construction company at Indio, and two unidentified laborers at Zita.

In Phoenix, Ariz., the mercury reached 113 degrees for the hottest July 26 in western bureau's history.

WATKINS COTTAGE NEWLY DECORATED

Modernistic Treatment of Empire Period Influence Features Furnishings.

One of the outstanding furniture exhibits of the season is the newly decorated and "remodeled" cottage at Watkins Brothers store. Main street. It is one of the boldest and most startling bits of decoration yet seen in the popular cottage.

Entered the doorway the visitor is greeted by a modernistic design of huge Calla lilies on a background of black, outlined in lemon with large green leaves for subtle relief. The wallpaper interprets the Empire period of floral relief and is very striking in detail.

Upon a background of black, white and lemon, the black and white tile linoleum corresponds in like effect, and the Venetian blinds in yellow, with an Empire hand drapery in white, complete the foyer decorations.

This smart, modernistic entrance forms a background for the old white, yellow and mahogany pieces of the 18th and 19th centuries, which have been used to complete the ensemble. A pair of Empire chairs in mahogany, with seats of white, flank a beautiful tier table in old white, gold and black decorated. An arm chair of Louis XV influence, in old white lacquer and covering of oyster leather, and a nest of tables, 18th century, and an antique white decorated lamp of alabaster, silk-shaded, form an interesting and balanced group.

A wall table and mirror modern in design, but of Empire influence, completes the design—a group for foyer or smart entrance hallway.

The den has also been arranged in pine paneling with a love seat in green homespun. Occasional pieces—a sofa's bench and whatnot in pegged maple and a quaint lantern lamp and one in pewter with green gingham shade—completes the den—truly quaint, informal and livable.

For those that are interested in the informal and beautiful setting reminiscent of other days, a visit to the newly decorated Watkins "cottage" should be made this week.

RUMOR OF R. R. MERGER IS SCOUTED AT CAPITAL. Washington, July 27.—(AP)—Advocacy by certain railroad interests of the Prince consolidation plan today was credited in transportation and financial circles here with starting a report that tentative negotiations were under way for consolidation of the great Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio railroad systems.

The likelihood of any such plan being broached, at least at an early date, was scouted.

The carriers first would have to obtain the consent of the Interstate Commerce Commission to another change in its eastern consolidation plan. This, of course, is not impossible if attainment of the desired competition requirements of the Transportation Act, for the law merely states that competition shall be maintained "insofar as practicable" and the commission has once before changed its eastern plan.

The Prince plan, a rearrangement of railroads suggested by Frederick Prince, of Boston, during the working out of the Emergency Transportation Act by the last Congress, contemplates regional consolidations with carriers in each territory merged into two strong systems. In the east the suggestion was for two large systems, one centering around the Pennsylvania and the other around the New York Central. The Interstate Commerce Commission's plan contemplates four systems—the Pennsylvania, the Baltimore and Ohio, the New York Central and the Chesapeake and Ohio.

AMUSEMENTS STATE THEATER

Fine Program Tomorrow "Reunion in Vienna" with John Barrymore and Diana Wynyard, and "The Circus Queen Murder" with Adolphe Menjou will be shown for the last time tonight at the State. Lew Ayres and Ginger Rogers in "Don't Bet On Love" and Zane Grey's "Sunset Pass" are the two features for Friday and Saturday while "When Ladies Meet" with Ann Harding and Robert Montgomery comes to the State on Sunday.

Laid largely in the exciting atmosphere of the horse racing centers, "Don't Bet On Love," tells the human story of a young gambling "phenom" who knows more about horses than he does women. Ayres, starred in the role, skyrocketed to the top as a betting sensation, but loses out in his romance with the more serious minded Ginger. After a hectic career in which he determines to oppose, with crooked methods, the biggest gambler at the tracks, Ayres stakes his entire fortune on the "big race" and the suspense built up for this thrilling sequence is admirable.

All the breathlessness, excitement and thrills that Zane Grey can pack into a story are crammed into "Sunset Pass," latest of his stories to reach the screen. A large cast, headed by Randolph Scott, Tom Keene, Kathleen Burke, Noah Berry, Harry Carey and Kent Taylor, is featured in the film.

"Sunset Pass" is the twenty-eighth of the stories by the famous Western novelist, which have appeared in movie form. It was directed by Henry Hathaway, who, after directing half-a-dozen other Zane Grey films, is by way of becoming an expert on them.

HIJACKER KILLED BY GANGSTER FOES (Continued From Page One)

1930 as a suspect in the theft of $18,000 in money and jewelry from Mrs. William Hale Thompson, wife of Chicago's former Mayor, but was later released.

Meanwhile, the Grand Jury was unofficially reported preparing to return an indictment today, charging 24 individuals with conspiracy in a sweeping three month's investigation of Chicago's trade racket.

The indictment, it was reported, contained 23 counts, including bombing, slugging, acid throwing, malicious mischief and extortion. The law holds each defendant liable for the acts of all the others.

TO HOLD ART CLASSES IN HIGH SCHOOL ROOM

Miss Josephine Piescik to Teach Group in Room 17—Interviews Students Monday.

Superintendent F. A. Verplanck has granted the use of Room 17 in the High school building to Miss Josephine Piescik of School Street who plans to conduct a special course of art lessons there during August. Miss Piescik, it will be recalled, is a graduate of Manchester High school and the Hartford Art school and returned this month after a year's study at Warsaw Academy, Warsaw, Poland.

Miss Piescik was successful in organizing a sketching class last summer, and will be glad to meet her former pupils, and prospective students, and their mothers, Monday afternoon of next week at 3 o'clock at Room 17 of the High school building, for the purpose of presenting the program and cost of tuition which is to be given afterwards. The course will consist of decorative lessons, compositions in filling a given space, a square, circle or rectangle. This method is used in any kind of art work and is the most practical. An exhibition of the artist's work was arranged this spring in the State Trade school, and was the subject of much favorable comment.

BOUGHT FROM SHERIFF SALE. Here's One Good Way To END AGONY OF NEURITIS. Newark Man Knows How and Loses 10 Pounds. "Gentlemen: I used Kruschen Salts to try and get rid of Neuritis from which I had suffered for one year in my left shoulder and arm. I took a little of the salts in the morning, sometimes in my coffee, other times in water. I would also occasionally take a dose at night before retiring. For 3 months I used the salts and while I lost 10 pounds in weight, the pain in my shoulder HAS ENTIRELY DISAPPEARED. During the time I was taking the salts I received no other medical treatment as I am fully convinced the Kruschen Salts did the trick." C. K. Murray, Newark, N. J. FOREIGN FIGHTERS WILT UNDER BODY PUNCHES, PETROLLE

Fargo Express Says They Can't Take It "Downstairs"; Has Had Much Success Against Imported Boxers.

Duluth, Minn., July 27.—(AP)—Foreign boxers avers Billy Petrolle, the "Fargo Express," can't take it in the body.

Billy, who has outgrown the lightweight division and is now battling welterweights, should know whereof he speaks for he has had considerable success against imported fighters, his latest victim being Pep Van Kleverin, the Hollander.

Other foreigners who have lost to Petrolle include Justo Suarez, Argentine; Jackie Kid Berg, England; Hilario Martinez, Spain; Stanislaus Loeyza, Chile; Les Murray, Australia; Armando Shackles, Belgium; Eddy Han, Poland, and Billy Townsend of Canada.

"Those foreign fighters don't like punches 'downstairs,'" Petrolle says. "I belted each of them out with body punches. Body belts may not get immediate results, but the use of them is the safer and surer method."

JAFFE GEMS DUMP REC TEAM 11 TO 9

League Leaders Bow in Startling Upset After 4-Run Outburst in 6th.

In one of the most startling upsets of the West Side league, the Jaffe Gems outscored the league leading Recs last night, 11 to 9. Both teams played very erratic baseball which tended to leave the outcome a question until the sixth inning when Jaffe's Gems managed to push over four tallies.

Quinn, Hadden, Billy Skoog and John Falcocki starred with the willow, especially Rec's Hadden who lifted himself out of a sprawling hitting slump to crash out a triple and a tremendous home run, the homer coming in the last inning in the midst of a four run rally which just fell short of tying the game.

Francis Mahoney made a spectacular bare hand stop of a sizzling drive and when off balance threw perfectly to get his man. Collins Driggs, local organist, was drafted into the game in the seventh as a pinch hitter when he was being kidded by Bill Schnell, relative, to not being able to hit a balloon, and Collins told Schnell (who was the winning pitcher again tonight) to throw one and duck, which Schnell didn't have time to do as Collins drove a line drive through the box that scored two runs and was Bill's fate?

These games are really worth seeing as there is plenty of fun and good baseball and also a lot of humorous incidents, such as this one which would make Ripley turn pale. Wait Aitken (dubbed Hot Foot) for his blinding speed on the bases, got a base on balls and went all the way to first base and when he arrived there, was very much shocked to find the ball inside his shirt which was open down the front. Neither Walt or anyone else knew where it was until it was produced at first base.

On Monday July 31st the Jaffe Gems took on Pagan's West Side Barber Shop who through rain and vacations have been idle for two weeks, and it is urgently requested by the league officials that all players signed on these two teams put in appearance. The Recs defeated tonight makes the league very close and in fairness to the merchants who made the forming of this league possible by their cooperation in donating baseballs, the league schedule must be completed. Failure of the players to report from now on will necessitate their being replaced by the players who want to play and there are many on the list.

Gardner Allows One Hit As Legion Blanks Uncas

Behind the stellar twirling of E. Gardner the American Legion team gave the Uncas a white washing last night on Spencer's Field. Only three Wapping players got on base, two on passes and one by a hit. The Manchester players took to the offerings of Jones and blasted over 14 hits in the 6 innings. LaCoss and G. May each got three hits, LaCoss getting two singles and a double and May three singles. This game even the series between the two teams the Uncas winning the first game 5-3. The final game of the series will be played next week, the place to be announced later. The next Legion game will be with Gibbs Soda Shop team on next Monday night.

BLUEFIELDS OPPOSE REC GIRLS TONIGHT

Ramblers Cancel Game So Exhibition Tilt Is Arranged for Nebo at 6.30.

The Rec Girls will play an exhibition game against the Bluefields at the Mt. Nebo diamond tonight at 6:30 instead of the Ramblers as previously announced. The management of the Ramblers cancelled their game for tonight with the Rec Girls because of the illness of their star pitcher and first baseman. This fact combined with the absence of two players on vacation left them without strong enough substitutes to warrant them tackling a team of the calibre of the Rec Girls. They however assured the Manchester team that they will positively play here as soon as they are able to again assemble their team to its full strength. Which should be within the next two weeks.

In playing the Bluefields the Rec Girls are tackling one of the best teams in town and what a great many fans consider the outstanding team for the town title. Composed of the present and former high school stars they have compiled an enviable record on the diamond this season.

This game will give the fans a chance to see how the girls can clout a fast ball and field some real hot grounders. The visitors too will doubt have ample opportunity to show their ability tonight. The lineup will be:

A CHALLENGE.

Sports Forum:

In the Manchester Evening Herald Tuesday, July 25, the Aces claim that they defeated the Center Springs All Stars. I wish to make a slight correction, namely that the Center Springs All Stars, to our knowledge have never played the Aces. If the Aces think they are so good we are willing to play them any time, anywhere for anything they wish to put up. We have a record to boast about having defeated Highland Park, Manchester Green and the Pirates while the Aces have not as yet been "even" able to get a game with any one of these teams.

If by any chance the "Aces" think they can furnish more opposition than anyone of the aforementioned teams we will be willing to play them and let them name their own stakes.

Hoping to hear from Manager Bronks as soon as possible as to whether or not they are willing to play us.

Yours in sports,
Manager C. S. A. S.

Demaree Got It Bawling Out Sports Writer

Chicago, July 27.—(AP)—Mrs. Frank Demaree, wife of the youthful Cub centerfielder, has a unique explanation of how Frank happened to bat his way into the big leagues.

It was when Frank was playing with Sacramento, Mrs. Demaree relates. One day after the game he started to drive away from the park and had a collision with another auto.

After berating the other driver at considerable length, the young slugger finally ascertained the identity of his rival as one Hickey, "sports editor of the Bee."

"He was so afraid the writer would razz him, after that," Mrs. Demaree relates, "that he began to hit the ball until he was second in the league standing. Then he came up to the Cubs."

HELEN OF HEWLETT GIVES NOTICE SHE WANTS CROWN BACK

Miss Hicks Seeks National Women's Golf Title, Which She Won in 1931; Did Not Qualify Last Year.

By GAYLE TALBOT (Associated Press Sports Writer)

New York, July 27.—(AP)—Helen Hicks, the laughing Long Island girl who won the national women's golf title in 1931 and then failed last year even to qualify for defense of her crown, has served notice she is on the road back.

In sweeping to victory in the recent New York state women's tournament over the long, trap and wood golf, the former champion shot four days of the most sensational golf of her career. Perhaps hers was the greatest series of rounds ever shot by a woman.

Her game at razor edge, Helen completely outclassed a field that included some of the sport's finest shotmakers. Her 72 in the qualifying round was even par for the layout, within a stroke of the men's record and eight strokes lower than her closest rival, Mrs. Leo Federman of New York.

In succeeding rounds she shot brilliant golf, once doing the last five holes one under par to defeat Mrs. Marion Turple Lake, but it was not until the final round that Helen really got hot.

With the present national champion, Virginia "Big Girl" of Chicago, looking on, Helen of Hewlett blazed around the first 18 holes in 70 strokes, with only one five-foot putt conceded. She was out in a miraculous 33, despite the fact she missed three short putts. As a result, she was almost on her opponent, Mrs. Federman, at the lunch period and then coasted to a 7 and 5 victory.

Winter Rules In Force

The records disclose only one better round than Helen's ever shot by a woman in this country. That was the 68 turned in by Mrs. Glenna Collett Vare last October in a tournament at Huntington, Pa. Joyce Wethered, England's great star, has been many times in the low seventies, but a 71 was her lowest figure in the history of her sport.

The only thing to detract from Miss Hicks' sensational play was the fact that winter rules were in force. This enabled her to improve an occasional bad lie on the fairway by expressing the belief it made a difference of no more than one or two strokes in her score.

She's Serious Now

The girl who will try to "come back" in the national meet at Chicago, starting August 25, apparently owes much to the present superb form to a change of disposition. Two years ago, when she first reached the heights, she did it despite a happy-go-lucky, carefree attitude that at times was the despair of her admirers. But when fortune deserted her, she completely lost her seriousness and became a very serious, determined girl.

As a result, she has yet to meet defeat this summer, and if she continues to bang that ball as she did at Philadelphia it is a little difficult to imagine anyone beating her at Chicago.

CAST-OFF HURLER PROVING JINX TO SENATORS' HOPES

Walter Miller of White Sox Has Indian Sign on Former Mates; Humbles Nats With Three Victories.

Chicago, July 27.—(AP)—One of the most clearly-marked cases of the "Indian sign" is recent big league history is that of Walter Miller, elderly White Sox southpaw and his former club, the Washington Senators.

Miller, in the ranks of the unemployed this spring in Florida and offering his services to sundry big-league clubs, finally was hired by the Sox boss, Lew Parsons, who was badly in need of a southpaw starter.

He was just another member of the flinging staff until, on May 21, the sky-rocketer landed in the headlines with a two-hit shutout of his old pals in Griffith stadium.

Tossed back at the Nats twice during the team's July visit to the capital, Miller came through with high-grade hurling each time to score two or more victories over his ex-mates, one of them a shutout.

Hit and run totals for the three games show 15 hits and three runs by the first-place Griffmen in 27 innings of batting against a suppressed bullpen.

What is possibly more important, Sox players say, is that Miller's jinx had the Senators pretty well tightened up. "Miller may have done something to the Senators' poise that will hurt them in their pennant aspirations," one Chicago player said.

ROSS EASILY WHIPS FARR, KEEPS TITLE

Kansas City, July 27.—(AP)—Barney Ross of Chicago, world's lightweight champion, needed to go only half the way in his 12-round bout with Johnny Farr of Cleveland here last night to retain his other and less celebrated crown, the junior welterweight title. Ripping Farr with rights and lefts from bell to bell, the Chicagoan gained a technical knockout in the sixth round when a physician for the Missouri Boxing Commission ordered the fight stopped. Punishment the light weight champion had inflicted included a broken nose and a closed eye. Ross had amassed a wide margin in each of the six frames. Among the spectators was Tony Cannoneri, from whom Ross won the lightweight title, and who will meet the champion in a 15-round go-round next September in New York. Al Simmons makes up a patent "loopy" grip for his bat handles, using honey, rosin, Jeewax, carbon tetrachloride and other substances.

Family Excels In Sports Calling For Iron Nerves

Knockville, Tenn., July 27.—(AP)—The roar of a racing car, the rattat-tat of a gun, the swish of a golf ball—Sweet music they are to 58-year-old J. A. Kreis and his two sons, who excel individually in the three sports.

The father, gray-haired, 200-pound railroad contractor and dairyman, holds the Southern and Tennessee trapshooting doubles championships.

Peter Kreis, 33, is a widely known automobile racer, participating annually in the 500-mile Indianapolis race and winning the Grand Prix of Europe in 1925.

Another son, Harmon Kreis, 36, of Knoxville and Sanford, Fla., is a crack golfer, stacking up with the best in his home cities.

Four Titles This Year

This year the father has hung four championships under his belt. He won the Southern doubles at Atlanta, breaking 96 out of 100 targets; and the doubles and all-around champions in the Tennessee meet, as well as shoots at Punta Gorda and Eustis, Fla. He has won the Tennessee doubles title four times. He has a large collection of trophies won in the Grand American at Vandalia, O., and other meets.

Mr. Kreis shoots from 3,000 to 5,000 registered targets a year. His best doubles record is 98 out of 100. He has shot several straight hundreds in the singles.

Equally impressive is the record of his son, Pete. Before the war he won 14, Pete used to go to Indianapolis and thrill to the roar and whine of the cars on the big track. He'd watch Ralph DePalma with particular delight and "wish I could drive like that."

More Thrills Than Flying

Ten years later Pete raced against DePalma at Culver City, Calif. It was his first race. "I got behind DePalma and stayed there 150 miles," Pete said. "Then I blew a tire and overshot the pit. I took a slow lap on a flat tire but at that I came out fifth in the race."

In 1925 Kreis finished eighth in the Indianapolis race. That fall he won the Grand Prix of Europe at Monza, Italy, breaking the 10-kilometer course record.

He crashed over the wall at Indianapolis in 1925, breaking his shoulder and six ribs. He is one of the few auto racers who pilots a plane.

"But there's more thrills in one lap of auto racing than in all the airplanes put together," Pete declared.

TO MEET SENATORS TODAY AFTER EVEN BREAK AT BOSTON

Red Sox Keep Champs from Tying Leaders; Giants Win Twice, Increase Lead to Four Games in National.

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR. (Association Press Sports Writer)

The Boston Red Sox, who came out on the short end of the score the first nine times they played the New York Yankees this season, appear to have developed into a particular thorn in the collective sides of the World's champions.

Sox Win Nightcap

For the second time the Sox have proved troublesome to the Yanks, a time when they need every victory they can get. The New Yorkers played a doubleheader in Boston yesterday with a chance to tie Washington for the American League lead before going into a "crucial" series with the Senators, but they came out still a game behind after an even break.

Early in June the Red Sox did a similar stunt, taking four in a row from the Yankees and starting them off on a losing streak that sent them so far into second place they haven't been able to get out to stay out.

New York won the opener yesterday 2-0 in a mound duel between Vernon Gomez and Bob Weiland. Boston came back and smashed Walter Brown off the hill in the fourth inning, scoring five runs to win the second game 9 to 4.

Washington was rained out at Philadelphia.

Giants Increase Lead

The fourth-place Tigers slugged it out with the St. Louis Browns, winning 9-7. Willis Hudlin's six hit flinging was an important factor in Cleveland's 7-1 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

In the National League the pace-setting New York Giants took advantage of the rain that kept the leading rivals, Chicago and Pittsburgh from playing, and increased their lead to four games over the Cubs by winning a twin-bill from the Brooklyn Dodgers, 5-3 and 4-3.

The St. Louis Cardinals climbed back into fourth place past the Boston Braves by turning back the Cincinnati Reds 3-2. The Braves and Philadelphia Phillies had an open date.

TOWN SERIES TILT LOOMS AS NATURAL

Trails Cunningham and Ny at Short Distance Event in Swedish Meet; U. S. Stars Find Competition Light and Make Clean Sweep.

Stockholm, Sweden, July 27.—(AP)—Facing light competition from a group of Swedish athletes the touring track and field stars from the United States made a clean sweep of six events in a meet at the St. Eric's stadium here today. Only Eric Ny, Swedish middle distance ace, who competed in the 1932 Olympics at Los Angeles, was able to give the Americans a contest, finishing second in both the 400-meter and 200-meter events. There were no outstanding performances in the meet.

Ralph Matocic, the Marquette University sprinter, took the 100-meter dash in the slow time of 11 seconds flat, winning easily from Holmgren, who was clocked in 12.3.

Ivan Fuqua, Indiana quarter-miler, took the other sprint covering the 200 meters in 23.4, to beat Ny by 1/2 second. Johnny Morris, of Louisiana, whose specialty is hurdling, was third, in 24.5.

George Spitts, of N. Y. U., took the high jump with an easy leap of 6 feet 11 inches, while Gustafson could do no better than 5 feet 4 3/8 for second place. Henri Laborde, of Stanford, and John Anderson, of New York, finished one, two in the discus throw, the former tossing the platina 147 feet 7 1/2 inches and the latter making 146 feet 3/4 inch.

Glenn Cunningham, middle distance star from Kansas, took the 400-meter run in 54.6 seconds, with Ny second and Joe McCluskey, former Fordham distance runner, third. The Swedish star was timed in 55 seconds and McCluskey in 55.4.

The Americans won the 400-meter relay from the Surahammur Athletic Club with a time of 49.4 seconds to 50.0 for the losers.

Fans of the town will have to wait until August to see whether heavy hitting or smart defensive team play can win this "Little World Series."

PHILLIPS LEADING PIRATE STICK MEN

Hits at .384 Clip to Head List; Five Others on Team Bat Over .300 Mark.

The following are the individual batting averages of the Pirates to date. Phillips is leading the stickers with a lustrous average of .384 for 19 games but 5 other regulars are also hitting well over the .300 mark. The rest of the players have also been hitting regularly which is evidenced by the fact that the team's batting average is .276.

Thus far the Pirates have a record of 11 games won, 12 lost, and 1 tied. In compiling this record, the local team has won up 167 runs to its opponents 180. On Saturday and Sunday the Pirates will meet Warehouse Point and the East Berlin Mohawks here. Both of these teams already hold victories over the locals, but with Managga, Kisman or Woodbridge doing the hurling, the Pirates hope to take both visiting teams into camp.

HIGHLAND PARK FACES A STRENUOUS WEEK-END

The Highland Park baseball team travels to Wapping tonight to engage that team in a "Y" League baseball game—the championship of this league might be settled tonight if Highland Park wins as they have only the Windsor town team to meet after tonight. While Wapping has two or three more games, Highland Park will play the Athletics tomorrow evening at Mt. Nebo. The A's trounced the Hilltoppers the last time but Highland Park expects to reverse it. Sunday Highland Park will open the Manchester American League with the Baldwin A's at Charter Oak grounds. They will probably play Saturday afternoon at their home grounds against an opponent yet unnamed.

Family Excels In Sports Calling For Iron Nerves

Knockville, Tenn., July 27.—(AP)—The roar of a racing car, the rattat-tat of a gun, the swish of a golf ball—Sweet music they are to 58-year-old J. A. Kreis and his two sons, who excel individually in the three sports.

The father, gray-haired, 200-pound railroad contractor and dairyman, holds the Southern and Tennessee trapshooting doubles championships.

Peter Kreis, 33, is a widely known automobile racer, participating annually in the 500-mile Indianapolis race and winning the Grand Prix of Europe in 1925.

Another son, Harmon Kreis, 36, of Knoxville and Sanford, Fla., is a crack golfer, stacking up with the best in his home cities.

Four Titles This Year

This year the father has hung four championships under his belt. He won the Southern doubles at Atlanta, breaking 96 out of 100 targets; and the doubles and all-around champions in the Tennessee meet, as well as shoots at Punta Gorda and Eustis, Fla. He has won the Tennessee doubles title four times. He has a large collection of trophies won in the Grand American at Vandalia, O., and other meets.

Mr. Kreis shoots from 3,000 to 5,000 registered targets a year. His best doubles record is 98 out of 100. He has shot several straight hundreds in the singles.

Equally impressive is the record of his son, Pete. Before the war he won 14, Pete used to go to Indianapolis and thrill to the roar and whine of the cars on the big track. He'd watch Ralph DePalma with particular delight and "wish I could drive like that."

More Thrills Than Flying

Ten years later Pete raced against DePalma at Culver City, Calif. It was his first race. "I got behind DePalma and stayed there 150 miles," Pete said. "Then I blew a tire and overshot the pit. I took a slow lap on a flat tire but at that I came out fifth in the race."

In 1925 Kreis finished eighth in the Indianapolis race. That fall he won the Grand Prix of Europe at Monza, Italy, breaking the 10-kilometer course record.

He crashed over the wall at Indianapolis in 1925, breaking his shoulder and six ribs. He is one of the few auto racers who pilots a plane.

"But there's more thrills in one lap of auto racing than in all the airplanes put together," Pete declared.

Trails Cunningham and Ny at Short Distance Event in Swedish Meet; U. S. Stars Find Competition Light and Make Clean Sweep.

Stockholm, Sweden, July 27.—(AP)—Facing light competition from a group of Swedish athletes the touring track and field stars from the United States made a clean sweep of six events in a meet at the St. Eric's stadium here today. Only Eric Ny, Swedish middle distance ace, who competed in the 1932 Olympics at Los Angeles, was able to give the Americans a contest, finishing second in both the 400-meter and 200-meter events. There were no outstanding performances in the meet.

Ralph Matocic, the Marquette University sprinter, took the 100-meter dash in the slow time of 11 seconds flat, winning easily from Holmgren, who was clocked in 12.3.

Ivan Fuqua, Indiana quarter-miler, took the other sprint covering the 200 meters in 23.4, to beat Ny by 1/2 second. Johnny Morris, of Louisiana, whose specialty is hurdling, was third, in 24.5.

George Spitts, of N. Y. U., took the high jump with an easy leap of 6 feet 11 inches, while Gustafson could do no better than 5 feet 4 3/8 for second place. Henri Laborde, of Stanford, and John Anderson, of New York, finished one, two in the discus throw, the former tossing the platina 147 feet 7 1/2 inches and the latter making 146 feet 3/4 inch.

Glenn Cunningham, middle distance star from Kansas, took the 400-meter run in 54.6 seconds, with Ny second and Joe McCluskey, former Fordham distance runner, third. The Swedish star was timed in 55 seconds and McCluskey in 55.4.

The Americans won the 400-meter relay from the Surahammur Athletic Club with a time of 49.4 seconds to 50.0 for the losers.

Fans of the town will have to wait until August to see whether heavy hitting or smart defensive team play can win this "Little World Series."

PHILLIPS LEADING PIRATE STICK MEN

Hits at .384 Clip to Head List; Five Others on Team Bat Over .300 Mark.

The following are the individual batting averages of the Pirates to date. Phillips is leading the stickers with a lustrous average of .384 for 19 games but 5 other regulars are also hitting well over the .300 mark. The rest of the players have also been hitting regularly which is evidenced by the fact that the team's batting average is .276.

Thus far the Pirates have a record of 11 games won, 12 lost, and 1 tied. In compiling this record, the local team has won up 167 runs to its opponents 180. On Saturday and Sunday the Pirates will meet Warehouse Point and the East Berlin Mohawks here. Both of these teams already hold victories over the locals, but with Managga, Kisman or Woodbridge doing the hurling, the Pirates hope to take both visiting teams into camp.

SENSE and NONSENSE

The common spelling is S-u-n-s-e-n-s-e!

Daylight saving merely makes people tired an hour earlier.

Little Sandy—Hey, pa, let's go to the Century of Progress Exposition. It only costs 50 cents to get in. Candy—Next time, laddie, we'll go to the next one.

The man who loaned his new son-in-law several hundred dollars, complained because all he ever got back was his daughter.

Girl—Have you heard the last thing about Rudy Vallee? Boy Friend—I hope so.

Old Timer—Make hay while the sun shines, my boy! The Kid—Who the deuce wants to make hay?

In the old days barbers practiced medicine and surgery; now, however, most of them confine themselves to surgery.

Brad—I see where the doctors in Paris are vaccinating girls on the arms again, rather than the legs. Hal—No doubt vaccinations were becoming too noticeable.

PUT TWO AND TWO TOGETHER AND THE RESULT IS ALWAYS THE SAME: BRIDGE.

"Our home is like a modern hotel," says a well-known man, "we have a radio in every room, and it's all because the walls aren't sound-proof."

Man (at ball game)—Come on home, you darn fool! Wife—Why John, we only just got here.

THUNDER-STORM—Our idea of a man truly going down in defeat is one with falling arches. Some people are born with black eyes. Others have black eyes thrust upon them. If some rich men ever take a rest it will be because that is all there is left to take. False teeth, too, should be seen and not heard. Then, again, some of the brave deserve the air. Dentists don't beat their wives; they just crown them. There are somebody's shoes we're glad we are not in, and they belong to the modern girl. It doesn't follow that a thing cannot be done simply because you can't do it.

Barbers—I can't understand why you married Jack. Why, he has only one arm.

Judith—That's just it—I admire him because he's fought his way single handed.

What we are trying to remember to tell the next person who urges us to "use a little horse sense" is that it doesn't seem to have done very much for the horse.

She (to husband after argument)—All right, have it my way!

Bishop of New York (who had just missed a train on account of the inaccuracy of his watch)—I have faith in this watch! Bishop of Chicago—Yes, but what is faith without good works?

Man—What are you doing to my daughter, young man?

Suitor—I'm hugging her, sir.

Man—What do you mean by taking such liberties?

Suitor—Oh, ahem, I'm a reporter.

Man—What's that got to do with it?

Suitor—Well, you see, I have a press pass.

ABOUT TOWN

Samuel Hand of High street has returned from Pleasant View, where he spent two weeks with his niece, Mrs. Lillian White, of West Hartford.

The Justamere and Friendly Bridge clubs held an outing yesterday at Misquanicut, spending the day with Mrs. Robert Johnston of Woodbridge street who has a cottage there for July, "The Outlook" on Atlantic avenue. More than 20 made the trip and enjoyed the day on the beach and in the water. The members provided their own basket lunches, and Mrs. Johnston prepared a generous kettle of clam chowder, coffee and a supper before the start for home was made at 6 o'clock.

The milk situation was discussed from all angles last evening during the lecturers' program at the meeting of Manchester Grange, the Grangers, as was to be expected, taking sides with the farmers or milk producers. Walter Joyner read an interesting paper on glass and members responded to the roll-call by giving an item of interesting information.

A meeting of all girls who wish to join the Glee Club of the Junior Daughters of Italy will be held tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock at the home of Joe Squatrito, 166 Oak street.

Mrs. W. A. Lessor of South Coventry is chairman of the piano and supper which the Ladies Missionary society of the First Congregational church in that place will serve in the vestry tomorrow evening.

Manchester Grange has been invited to attend the meeting of the Grange in Rocky Hill, August 16, when neighbors' night will be observed.

Miss Betty Breen will leave for her home in Fairfield tomorrow afternoon spending three weeks with her uncle, John Humphries of Lilley street.

The Sunday school teachers of the Emanuel Lutheran church will meet tomorrow night at the church at 7:30 sharp. All teachers are urged to attend as final plans for the Sunday school picnic will be discussed. The picnic will be held on Saturday afternoon at Columbia lake.

Miantonomoh Tribe No. 58, I. O. R. M. will hold its regular meeting in Tinker hall tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock sharp.

The regular monthly meeting of District No. 1 Dept. of Conn. D. A. V. of W. W. will be held in the Armory, Friday July 28, 1933 at 8:30 p. m. sharp. A large attendance of Manchester chapter is requested by District Comm. Schreck who will preside. Refreshments will be served after the meeting by the Manchester chapter.

Miss Henrietta C. Devon of Main street, who has been spending some time at the Century of Progress Exposition in Chicago, and visiting the family of her sister in Wisconsin, is expected home today, accompanied by her niece.

DR. C. M. PARKER DENTIST Telephone 6-3492 54 Pratt Street Hartford, Ct. Dentistry that will please you, at a price you can afford to pay.

69 GIRL SCOUTS TOOK VACATION AT CAMP

Committee Reports On Activities of Local Organization—Many Gifts.

The Girl Scout camp committee has made a report of the activities at Camp Norton, Manchester Green, which has been conducted again this year with Miss Emily Smith in charge. During the two weeks 69 girls availed themselves of the privileges of the camp, each scout remaining for two days and two nights. Three small tents were loaned for the period to accommodate the large numbers attending at different times. A United States flag for camp use, and a copy of the flag code was the gift of Orford Parish Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. During the fortnight mothers and friends of the girls contributed cakes and pies, fruits and vegetables. Hale's Self Serve kindly delivered groceries, and Mrs. Mabel Frost that department assisted in suggestions for careful buying of food staples. One night the thrill that comes but one in a lifetime was given by setting the alarm clock for 12 midnight, a forbidden hour at home, getting up and building a campfire, roasting marshmallows and getting back to bed at once. During their stay the Scouts constructed a bridge of white birch boughs, also a clever table and bench. The camp has been made possible by the generosity of a number of men and women interested in the work, after E. J. Hill granted the use of his land, wood and water for the camp site. The camp committee is grateful to all who assisted by transporting supplies, setting up tents or helped in any way to make the camp so successful this season.

Mrs. W. E. Hibbard and daughter, Miss Leora Hibbard, are visiting Mrs. William M. Smith of Hackensack, N. J., formerly of Manchester.

PLANTS HERE AWAIT CODE INFORMATION

Expect to Have All Data by Next Monday—All in Accord With Idea.

Local employers of labor questioned today by The Herald are in complete accord with President Roosevelt's National Recovery Act and are only waiting until the receipt of instructions from Washington to start changing over the schedules to conform to the specifications of the act. In the case of Cheney Brothers the Silk and Rayon Code will not be known before August 19. The Manchester Electric Company, one of the largest employers of labor of any local utilities company is waiting to receive word from the larger Connecticut Utilities companies and will conform, insofar as it applies locally, to the codes established within the state, by the larger concerns. It was stated by James Turbull, assistant treasurer today that the Manchester Electric Company has staggered work among its employees during the past three years that there will be little change in the number of employees engaged or the hours of work under any code to be followed under the act. The F. T. Bligh Hardware Company will conform to whatever code is established by the Director of the NRA, but has asked for a 52 hour schedule-work weekly. By next Monday or Tuesday it is expected that all specifications of the new codes will have been received. A meeting of the Executive committee of the Merchants Division of the Chamber of Commerce has been called for this afternoon to discuss all phases of the NRA as it may apply in this town.

Among those who spoke were Rev. M. S. Stocking, the present pastor of the North Methodist church, W. E. Hibbard, Mark Holmes, William Rush, Thomas Ferguson, Charles Hale, F. B. Clarke, E. A. Lydall and Dr. LeVerne Holmes, who was leader of the Knights of King Arthur. The hostesses committee of the Simple Simon Sandwich Shop served cream of tomato soup, boiled ham, creamed potatoes, string beans, cabbage salad, pickled beets, apple pie with ice cream and coffee. Tables were arranged in the form of a hollow square and tastefully decorated with seasonal garden flowers.

Special Meeting Called for Tomorrow Night at Chamber of Commerce Offices. A special meeting of the Automotive Division of the Chamber of Commerce has been called for tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock at the Chamber office by Chairman Elmore Hohenthal for the purpose of discussing recent legislation affecting the automotive field. All persons interested in this line are invited to attend the meeting. Carl R. Lane of the state automotive dealers' association, will be present and will explain the new statutes concerning the licensing of garages and the necessity of signal devices on motor vehicles. The proposed automotive code will also be discussed and it is expected that a delegate will be elected to attend the state meeting at Hartford on Monday. At this meeting delegates will be elected from the state to attend a meeting at Washington to draw up a national code.

NORTH-END CHURCH MEN GIVE MINISTER A PARTY

Thirty Friends of Rev. W. F. Taylor Surprise Him at Sandwich Shop Last Night.

Rev. W. F. Taylor of Trona, California, who is spending the week in town, was the guest of honor at a supper and get-together last evening at the Simple Simon Sandwich Shop in Oakland. More than twenty years ago Rev. Taylor was pastor of the North Methodist church and instrumental in organizing groups among the men and boys, in the days before Manchester had any Community Clubs, Recreation Centers, a Y. M. C. A. or a daily newspaper. (The Herald at that time was a semi-weekly). The adult organization, or "Taylor Brotherhood," attracted a majority of the men of the church, and the boys joined the "Knights of King Arthur." Through the efforts of Mark Holmes, 30 or more of the Brotherhood, and King Arthur boys who are now men, gathered to "surprise" their former leader. As he entered the Sandwich Shop the men arose and sang "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." Mr. Taylor apologized for being late and it was evident that some one had "spilled the beans." During the speech-making he gave expression to his gratitude at the thoughtful kindness of the men, and his former parishioners in general for the warmth of the welcome extended to him during this visit with them. Fred Briggs of Hartford, who was a prominent member of the Taylor Brotherhood, was toastmaster last night, and as he called on each of the speakers he had a joke or a witty speech in regard to each of them. One or two other songs such as "Smiles," "There's a Long Long Trail" were sung with a will, and good fellowship, good stories or reminiscences made the party one long to be remembered.

Among those who spoke were Rev. M. S. Stocking, the present pastor of the North Methodist church, W. E. Hibbard, Mark Holmes, William Rush, Thomas Ferguson, Charles Hale, F. B. Clarke, E. A. Lydall and Dr. LeVerne Holmes, who was leader of the Knights of King Arthur. The hostesses committee of the Simple Simon Sandwich Shop served cream of tomato soup, boiled ham, creamed potatoes, string beans, cabbage salad, pickled beets, apple pie with ice cream and coffee. Tables were arranged in the form of a hollow square and tastefully decorated with seasonal garden flowers.

ARMY WELCOMES NEW OFFICERS

Adjutant and Mrs. Reginald Martin Given Reception Last Night.

Adjutant and Mrs. Reginald Martin, the new commanding officers of the Manchester Salvation Army Corps were welcomed to their new post last night in the presence of 800 adult members of the local Corps. Adjutant and Mrs. Martin were introduced to the Corps by Sergeant Major William Atkinson and in their response to the Corps said that they intended to carry out the traditions of the Salvation Army in this town and were happy to again be in this section, where they formerly served. Harold Turkington spoke for the Young People's Society, of which group he is the leader. David Addy, bandmaster introduced the members of the band, one of the best in New England. Rebecca Wright, who perhaps has known as many other commanding officers here than any other person now living here, spoke for the Corps. Other speakers were Mrs. Lissie Wilson for the Financial committee; Fred Clough for the Songsters Brigade; and Mrs. Edward Atkinson for the Home League. Adjutant and Mrs. Martin are the 83rd commanding officers of the Salvation Army here, which was organized in 1886 and first held meetings in the home of the members. Later a hall was built on Spruce street and removed to the new site in 1908 which was constructed during the administration of Adjutant William Blackman. The Manchester Corps is known throughout the United States and abroad, having enlisted members for Corps work, the band and the various Young People's societies from families that had served in the Army in Great Britain, and had emigrated to this town to work in the mills.

POLICE COURT

Samuel Howard, age 40, and Masie Coleman, who gave the same age, 51, April Place, were before the court this morning charged with adultery. They were arrested at one o'clock this morning by Sergeant John J. McGilgan and Officer David Galligan, who made a surprise visit to the place. Attorney Israel Libby of Hartford, appeared for the couple and asked for a continuance of the case until next Tuesday, August 1. A real estate bond of $500 in each case was furnished by Max Savitt. Howard is employed by Mr. Savitt in the tobacco warehouse.
